Class A Regional Tournament to be Held in Plymouth

For the first time in the history of Plymouth, sporting fans will be able to witness a state Class A regional basketball tournament on a local court. In a communication from State Athletic Director Charles Forsythe to High School Athletic Director John Sandmann it was announced that Plymouth had been awarded the higher class tournament, which will be held beginning Wednesday, March 11 and ending with the finals on Saturday, March 14.

These games will attract hundreds of fans from Dearborn and the Detroit area as teams from those cities will compete here. The high school will benefit also as a certain percentage of the receipts remain with the local school, the remainder going into the state athletic treasury.

The main reason for this tournament, one of eight such Class A regional tournaments in the state, being awarded to Plymouth was the large, new and modern gymnasium that Plymouth recently opened. It is considered one of the most modern recreational plants in the state of Michigan.

Athletic Director Sandmann says that six teams will be entered, namely: Plymouth, Dearborn, Fordson, Lincoln Park, Detroit Catholic Central and Detroit St. Joseph. This will be the first time a Plymouth team has ever competed in a Class A basketball tournament.

Coch Sandmann, who has been designated as tournament manager, states that officials for these tournaments are selected by the state athletic department, and that further details will be forthcoming at a later date.

Minor Blaze at Gas Station Put Out by Firefighters, Monday

A flashback or spark was blamed for a fire Monday at the Hawker Standard Service Station, 906 South Main street.

Firefighters who answered the 3:50 p.m. blaze said that fuel oil overflowing from a tank was set afire, possibly from a flashback from the furnace or a spark.

No property loss was reported.

Local Theaters Dedicate $4,200 For Plymouth Off-Street Parking

A $4,200 gift made to substantially reimburse the city for the purchase of the Cassidy property in the East Central Parking Lot was accepted Monday night by City Commissioners.

Given to the city by the owners of the Penn and Penniman-Allen Theaters, Harry and Charlotte Lush, the $4,200 contribution has been earmarked by city officials for further development of the East Central lot.

It came as the city put finishing touches on its newest off-street facility, located between Main and Union streets, just behind the Penn Theater. When open to

Hillside Inn Gets AAA Approval

The AAA seal (Automobile Association of America) of approval was awarded last week to the Hillside Inn, its management said today.

The coveted seal came for excellence in cuisine and general dining facilities.

The Hillside Inn is located at 41661 Plymouth road.

Lady Candidate Seeks Treasurer Post in Township

Plymouth township's first lady candidate, Mrs. Florence Greenlaw Neal, today announced her candidacy for nomination as treasurer.

A Republican, Mrs. Neal, the fifth candidate to file a petition for the township office, said that "I hope to do as efficient a job as the present treasurer."

"I feel one who is familiar with Plymouth township and has grown up here has his roots and interest imbedded in the progressive welfare and growth of the township area," Mrs. Neal said.

With five nominees currently seeking the lone $4,000 a year treasurer's office, a lively primary held February 16 is predicted. The other four candidates are Harper Stevens, Ernest Rosso, Walter Postiff and Zach Holmes.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Neal, who lives at 42512 Parkhurst, said this was the first time she has actively sought a public office.

A native of Livonia, Mrs. Neal graduated from Plymouth High school in 1920. She attended The Business Institute in Detroit for one year graduating with a secretarial degree.

She has worked as a secretary for the Detroit Board of Education, Wayne County Training School, State Highway Department and Daisy Air Rifle Company.

A widow and mother of four daughters, two of them married, Mrs. Neal is currently employed as secretary to the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

When completed, the school will house 425 elementary students from kindergarten through the sixth grade. School officials say a reshuffling within the school district will take place

Hi-Twelvians Elect New Officers for Coming Year

The Plymouth Hi-12 Club last week held its annual election. Put into year-long offices were Harry Brooks, president; Floyd Tibbits, vice-president; Lon Brocklehurst, 2nd vice-president; Rox Hoffman, secretary; Henry Grimm, treasurer; Russell Kirkpatrick, international representative.

The new Board of Directors is Ed Ayres, Bob Durte, Ernest Allison, Jack Weed, with President Harry Brooks acting as fifth member.

Following its final meeting last night for the 1952 year, Hi-Twelvians will install their new officers January 14.

City Manager Points Need for New City Hall

The city hall is beginning to strain at its joints. Statistically, it has just a few remaining years of life expectancy.

This is the opinion of City Manager Albert F. Glassford who says that a quickening surge in the complexities of administering the local government threatens to burst the seams and pop the bricks out of already crumbling mortar of the "ancient" structure.

Not only this, but Glassford indicates there is a growing need for more clerical help as well as a rounded out bookkeeping staff.

But this is just the beginning of the troubles of the top administrator. Right now he is faced with pulling the city's "pint-sized" redecorating out of the basement and relocating it in what is now the DPW garage attached to the rear and part of the city hall.

To compensate for moving the DPW and its equipment out, he is authorizing the purchase of two railroad bunk houses for something like $40 a piece. These he intends to place adjacent to the city garage for the men and equipment.

Robbing Peter to make Paul operational and happy, the piecemeal relocating has the hair-tearing affect of putting a jig saw puzzle together with half the pieces missing.

Glassford is cautious about breathing too hard on the whole subject of where to put the myriads of equipment needed to operate the city and how to locate his staff making city government easy and efficient to operate.

$425,000 Elementary School Pegs Surge in Student Population Here

Plymouth school district's Board of Education meets here in a special session tonight to award bids for construction of the $425,000 Plymouth elementary school.

To be located on Hagerty highway between Ann Arbor trail and Ann Arbor road, the ultra-modern structure will contain 13 classrooms, an all purpose room, library, health clinic, kitchen and other instructional-office facilities.

February, 1954, has been set as the tentative completion date with actual construction work expected to be underway sometime after the first of the year.

When completed, the school will house 425 elementary students from kindergarten through the sixth grade. School officials say a reshuffling within the school district will take place

Membership Soars to 290 as Elks Initiate 40 Here

Plymouth Elks last week initiated 40 new members into its lodge here for a record membership of 290.

Among the initiates was a father and two sons combination. It was the first time Elks officials said, that three members of any one family had been initiated here at the same time. They are Jack Miller of 41956 Ann Arbor trail and his sons, Paul, of 16116 Riverside, and Douglas, 647 Maple.

Culminating their year's activities, the Elks will hold a New Year's Eve party at their lodge on Ann Arbor road.

Mail to Carry Season's Greetings

Editions of The Plymouth Mail during Christmas and New Year's weeks will, as has been the custom for many years, carry the yuletide greetings and wishes for a prosperous New Year from the city's merchants to their customers. We urge all merchants and individuals desiring to run these greetings to notify The Plymouth Mail advertising department at once. A large selection of Christmas and New Year's greetings is available for your choice.

For one thing money isn't appropriated to do any rejuvenating, though it "has been earmarked." (What this means is that someone thoughtfully jotted down a few figures on a scrap of paper.) as bleak and unbusinesslike as the pantry people store preserves in. As you look over the center hallway the mausoleum affect, the poorly lighted anteroom—the initial gathering place of official city visitors—has the cheerfulness of a Rip Van Winkle in a 20-year sleep.

Off to the right there is the caged in office of the city treasurer and water department. Stuffed nearly to the limit of its floor space are desks, tables and adding machine equipment so efficiently floor-planned that it takes a cruel, torturous 10-foot of dodging and elbow boxing to reach any one objective.

Upstairs is the city clerk's office buried in an eight by 10 foot boxed-in plywood office. It is dimly lighted and air-conditioned by three 1 1/2 by two foot windows.

In Kellogg Park at Two

Santa Claus, loaded with bags of candy for all the kiddies, will make his annual pre-Christmas visit to Kellogg park Saturday, December 20, from 2 until 5 p.m. The visit was arranged by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce under the direction of D. W. Vander Voort.

Santa will arrive in Plymouth at approximately 1 p.m. in an open car and will drive around the downtown district until 2 p.m. At 2 o'clock, he will set up headquarters in the park and greet all of the children who come down to see him and tell him what they would like for Christmas.

Each year, just before Christmas, the Jaycees arrange to have Santa distribute candy and greet all of the children of Plymouth and vicinity. They help this busy man by filling the candy bags which are given to the children who come to the park.

This year they will fill the sacks at the home of John Pint. Cooperating with Santa and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are Robert Willoughby, the S. S. Kresge company, the D & C store, and Stop and Shop.

Santa's visit has been a big event in the city during the past several years and last year thousands of bags of goodies were given away to kiddies from throughout this entire area.

Members of the Junior Chamber are planning a program along with Santa's visit to make the affair one of the outstanding Christmas events in the city.

Name Winners in Kresge Contest

After what was termed as "an extremely difficult job" of judging, the winners in the annual Kresge Christmas Coloring Contest were announced this week by Marshall Kirkpatrick, manager of the local Kresge store.

Emerging on top of some 500 entries was the drawing of Bruce D. Johnson, nine years old, of 370 Maple avenue. Bruce's winning effort was worth a $25 gift certificate.

Second prize, a $10 gift certificate, went to Larry Wall, age eight, of 46141 Warren road. Honoring Johansson of 49151 Joy road submitted the third best drawing and wins a $5 gift certificate. Honning is seven years old.

Honorable mention gift certificates of $2 each were awarded to: Susan Lockwood, five, of 9717 Newburg road; Barbara Ann Clickner, six, of 14620 Northville road; Ronnie L. Peck, eight, of 357 Irvin street; Sharon Kay Knapp, six, route one Monroe, Michigan; Randy Sharland, five, of 48121 N. Territorial; and Ted Roberts, nine, of 9275 McClumpha road.

The entry of Thelma Thomas of 44126 Ford road, although not chosen as a winner, contained a note to Santa Claus which showed concern for Santa, his reindeer and even the children in Korea.

Manager Kirkpatrick stated that the winning entries would be displayed in the Kresge store and urged winners to call for their prizes as soon as possible.

George Mayhew, director of the recent Community Fund drive, reports that a check for $50 has been received from the Plymouth Benevolent and Protective order of Elks.

Besides making dozens of trips down the stairs adding up to lost labor, the city clerk is in frequent conference with the city manager to whom—for efficient operation—he should be strategically located.

Perhaps the crowning blow keynotes the location of like facilities is the upstairs meeting room. Located in the next room to the meeting place of the municipal court, city commission and planning commission are the sleeping quarters of the lone firefighter on night duty.

Perhaps if it wasn't for the thick walls one might hear snores or at least a chorus from TV's Milton Berle show jammed in-between judicious decisions affecting some 7,300 Plymouthites.

If local historians are correct, the city hall was well used by the turn of the 1900's. Since then it has been chopped apart, rejuvenated and remodified until the

WANT-AD WONDERS
 Troy Announced its Naming By Want Ad Notice

To the Public.
 THIS evening the Freeholders of the place lately known by VAN DYKE HEDGECOCK or ASHLEY'S FERRY, situate on the east bank of Hudson's river, about seven miles above Albany, met for the purpose of establishing a name for the said place; when, by a majority of voices, it was determined, that in future, it should be called and known by the name of TROY.

After the city of Troy had received its name at a meeting of freeholders on January 5, 1789, a Want Ad was placed in a newspaper to announce the decision and publicize the new name of the thriving young Hudson River settlement.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Lucetta C. Mills, Martinsville, Ill.: When summer came we would put large scaffolds of apples and peaches out to dry by the hot sunshine. I remember when bananas were first put on sale in this locality. I have seen my mother bake corn pone in the dutch oven heated by the hot ashes and coals from the fire brought out on the stone hearth in front.

From H. Floyd Craig, Mt. Gilead, Ohio: I remember when the sugar house was in the middle of the big sugar maple woods. The neighbors gathered for a get-together and "sugaring-off" at the sugar house. They brought out the flat-top wagon and all piled on but it took two teams of big farm horses to pull us through the March roads.

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when an evening's recreation was sewing carpet rags and winding them on balls.

From Mrs. Bertha Williams, Ft. Recovery, Ohio: I remember tramping fleeces in the washtubs until they were white as cotton. Then they were carded, spun, dyed and knit.

From Mrs. Anna Barry, Van Wert, Ohio: I remember when my mother would make bread—always a large dishpan full when it raised. It was usually enough to last about four days for a family of eight. About 10 loaves.

Goodwin Heads Dimes Campaign

The appointment of Walter Goodwin, Plymouth High instructor, as chairman for the 1953 March of Dimes in Plymouth was announced by William R. Bernard, Wayne County campaign chairman.

"In 1952 not only our county but Michigan and the entire nation suffered the worst polio epidemic in history. Here in Wayne County $424,610.00 was required from January 1 through November 30 to pay for patient care," Goodwin said. Of this amount $213,945.90 was received from the National Epidemic Aid Fund, money raised in other parts of the country, because our chapter's treasury was exhausted," he said.

Total number of new polio cases in Wayne County for 1952 so far is 1,090 and more are being reported, the records show. Four out of five receive financial assistance from the March of Dimes and every one of them has been helped in some way through services made possible by your contributions to the March of Dimes. In addition, the chapter must continue to help hundreds of victims of previous years.

One point was emphasized by the area chairman: No family is EVER asked to repay the money spent for care or for the braces, crutches, wheelchairs and other aids required.

"More than ever before we need the help of all residents in our area," Goodwin said. "We need volunteers and we need money to do battle, because, for years to come, thousands of men, women and children will require all the skills that money and modern knowledge can muster to help restore them to useful lives, the chairman concluded.

After talking with Goodwin it's easy to see why the campaign in Plymouth raised $1200 in January 1952. In addition to teaching 11th and 12th grade mathematics, Goodwin also sponsors the Hi-Y Club. The boys in the club became imbued with Goodwin's enthusiasm and they not only distributed canisters throughout the town but also took over the Mothers' March on Polio.

A popular teacher at the school, Goodwin, who is single, holds a degree from Columbia University. He took over the job of conducting the 1952 campaign to

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Ada Wilson, Warrington, Fla.: I remember quite a controversy when the "younger generation" wanted to buy an organ for the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. And as for a fiddle, dear me, no—it was the devil's instrument.

From Mrs. Addie De Long, Murfreesville, W. Va.: I remember when folks cut sour kraut with a straight blade. I've stood beside mother and watched as she would quarter the cabbage and throw in a barrel. Father and the boys would take turns chopping until the barrel was full.

From Mrs. Lillie Hamilton, Welchburg, Ky.: I remember when my folks made what was called an ash hopper with a trough under it. They filled it with wood ashes from an open fireplace and poured water on the ashes. Then lye would run from the trough into jars. From this they made soap. There was a trough inside of the smoke house made from a log to hold the soap.

From Mrs. C. O. Neiswander, Sanford, Fla.: I remember when my mother would open for family use a jar, known as a glass can, that had been filled with fruit or vegetables the previous season. After washing and rinsing the jar, she would turn it upside down on the old picket fence to purify for the next year's canning. They made perfect targets for boys with sling shots.

Pedestrian Dies Instantly After Being Flung Into Path of Second Motorist

An 82-year-old pedestrian apparently standing in the center of Plymouth road at Stark waiting for an oncoming motorist to pass was struck and killed instantly last Monday.

Dead is Joseph Gendron of 10478 Stark road in Livonia. Livonia police report Gendron was struck down after dark by a westbound motorist, Earl Reuter, 28, of 38120 Joy road.

Gendron, who was returning to his home carrying a sack of groceries, was flung into the path of an eastbound motorist, John Vaughn, 44, of Livonia, and struck a second time.

Reuter told police in a statement that he did not see the aged pedestrian until after his car struck him. Both he and Vaughn were exonerated by the prosecutor's office.

Gendron was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital.

Funeral services for the dead man, arranged by Schrader's Funeral home, will be held Friday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Michael's Church in Rosedale Gardens. Rosary will be held tonight at 9 p.m. at Gendron's residence in Livonia. He will be buried in the Holy Sepulchre on 10 Mile road.

Survivors are his wife, Mary Ann, two sons, David, and Robert, and four daughters, Sylvia, Mrs. Eleanor Stooks, Mrs. Doris Dodendorf, and Mrs. Margaret Rodenborn, all children of Gendron's first marriage. Stepchildren, whose names are not known, also survive him from a second marriage.

Slight Job Decrease Recorded in Report

A Chamber of Commerce monthly survey revealed this week that employment here remained steady during November with a drop of just 19 recorded over the previous month.

The report showed the .002 per cent job decrease in major and small industries here from an earlier October figure of 7,560 to 7,541 at the end of November.

Also listed in its monthly report was a warning to businessmen and shoppers to "beware of shoplifters."

A shoplifting wave generally occurs during the Christmas buying season, the report cautioned, stating that two merchants here were victims of light fingered thieves.

Official police records here, however, do not reveal these thefts or any other since the start of pre-Christmas buying.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn attended the Grange meeting at Flat Rock on Friday evening of last week.

Miss Jean Tetzlaff of Gotfredson road arrived home last Thursday from Michigan State College in Lansing to spend Christmas vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bell of Ann Arbor were the Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road.

 present structure is a "patch-quilt" — a shell of the original structure.
 True or not, the fact still remains (collaborated by some city officials) that the present structure is outdated, inefficient for a growing municipality that, perhaps, in three to five years will have completely outstripped available facilities.
 The question now is: What is being done or going to be done? Currently, nothing!
 A new city hall is not included in the 10-Year-Plan. Though surplus money (if there ever is any) has been earmarked, no funds so far have even been appropriated for relocating the city jail as earlier ordered by the State Correction Department, who threatened to put a permanent padlock on the unhealthful firetrap.
 Some discussion on a "central" municipal center has taken place but nothing has ever come of it on the east side of Main street (city hall side) as far as the city is concerned. On the west side the central municipal center has long been with us. It consists of the Church street mall bordered by the high school, and the Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

 One city hall official said that ideally some $300,000 should be spent to provide adequate city hall facilities. The intent then was to negotiate for the corner lot property owned by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, adjacent to the city hall, and expand the municipal building over that property.
 A tentative offer was unofficially circulated offering to move the church to a designated property now owned by the city. Negotiations were never opened on this subject with church officials. The offer was made to a church member who said he would poll the Board of Directors on the city's tentative offer.
 But progressive thinking frustrated by (1) lack of interest, (2) lack of money, (3) lack of planning (4) and lack of support is like an "A" type blood put into the arteries of a "B" type patient — it means almost certain death, if nothing more than to progressive ideas.
 And Glassford admits that he doesn't want to be caught that way.
 The top administrator briefly suggests that a resolution on the February or April voting ballot authorizing a study group to be created to look into city hall needs could be put before the people.

 Thinking wistfully in an informal parley (Glassford is currently poring over the budget) last week he added to his laments.
 "We have more work assignment here," he said, "than the present staff can handle."
 Glassford said he needed one more police officer, a bookkeeper-stenographer, a city engineer and assessor and additional DPW workers, money for whom, with the exception of the engineer, is not available, not to think of the legislation needed to authorize them and/or a new city hall.

Flash Fire in Car Laid to Overflowing Alcohol

Overflowing alcohol was last week blamed by firefighters for a fire that flashed momentarily beneath the hood of a car owned by Harry A. Lee of 1132 Ross street. The 1:15 p.m. fire was out when firemen arrived. No damage was reported.

PLYMOUTH'S CITY HALL

"FINGER TYPE" ARCHITECTURE will mark the unique construction of Plymouth Elementary School designed by the Eberle Smith Assoc., Inc., of Detroit. To cost an estimated $425,000, the 13-classroom building will house 425 students when completed early in 1954. Bids for the structure are being awarded tonight in a special session of the Board of Education. Construction is expected to be underway soon at the Haggerty highway site.

 sidered so far, says one school official.
 Architects of the new school, Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., of Detroit, keynote the advanced finger-type construction of the "hall of learning" as being "one of the first of its kind in the country."
 "Each classroom will be a self-contained unit," explains Architect Peter Taratata, "completely flexible with an economy not to be found in more conventional designs."
 The front portion of the new structure will be 256 feet long with three attached "fingers" running at right angles to a depth of 145 feet. Each finger will contain four classrooms.
 "We believe," Taratata says, "that this type of construction will make it as homelike as possible — aiding the child in the transition from home to school."
 Each of the 13 classrooms will contain its own rest rooms, drinking fountain and storage closets. Natural lighting will be emphasized with extensive glassed in areas shunting outdoor light bidirectionally into each classroom. None of the three wings will contain hallways. Doors on either side of each of the twelve 29 by 36 foot classrooms will open directly onto play areas. The elimination of corridors, now incorporated, as part of the classrooms provides greater utility, architects say.

The unique three-finger type of design makes it possible to make additions to the building, Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister notes.
 He says extensive planning with the school board working closely with principals, teachers and customers resulted in the functional design marked with innovations.
 "We systematically tried to incorporate as many of the ideas as we could with the amount of funds available," Isbister explains.
 The school's top administrator now is just marking time. With the elementary school's completion date set ahead to 1954, the schools next September will be more crowded than ever.
 Since 1945 enrollment has jumped from slightly over 2,000 to 3,043 in September, 1952, which saw the student population jump then by 44. This is just an indication that by September, 1953, the schools may be bursting at

Fire Chief Seeks Legislation to Halt "Indiscriminate" Use of Flashers

Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister last week criticized what he called the "indiscriminate use of red flasher lights on tow trucks, plumbers' vehicles and on some emergency vehicles was "confusing drivers to what is or is not an emergency vehicle."
 A conference with the director of safety, Traffic Division of the Michigan State Police, McAllister said, bore fruit in that a joint meeting of the state's fire and police chiefs will now discuss the problem sometime in January.
 He said he hoped well-defined regulations governing the use of red flasher emergency signals would come out of the meetings.

 Earlier, McAllister charged that the indiscriminate use of red flasher lights on tow trucks, plumbers' vehicles and on some emergency vehicles was "confusing drivers to what is or is not an emergency vehicle."
 State law, he pointed out, demands that motorists give the right of way to emergency vehicles such as fire trucks and ambulances. "But I'm afraid that if owners of non-emergency vehicles using flashers continue using them indiscriminately, the time will come when drivers pay no attention to them," he declared.
 The point is, he said, "when people see an emergency vehicle with a red flasher blinking, we want them to know it is an emergency where life or property is endangered."
 McAllister, who has been fire chief here for six years, is currently president of the South-eastern Fire Chief's Association. He has also been active in forming the Mutual Aid Firemen's Association, set up to provide adequate fire protection throughout this entire area.

Making possible the new elementary school was a $650,000 bond issue voted into effect in 1951 with a millage increase of $4.10 per $1,000 of assessed evaluation.
 Some $425,000 has been contained for the new structure to be bid on tonight by 28 contractors seeking contracts for general and mechanical construction and electrical, glass and kitchen installations.
 The "secret" bids will be opened at 8 p.m. at Plymouth High school.

 service to the community," Mr. and Mrs. Lush wrote. Currently, they are residing at Rancho Santa Fe, making periodic trips back to Plymouth.
 The resolution accepting the $4,200 check was offered by Commissioner Henry Fisher, supported by Commissioner Floyd Tibbitts and accepted unanimously by the main body of the commission.
 This latest gift is the third such contribution received by the city and dedicated to off-street parking. Last summer merchants here gave the city $15,000. It was followed just three weeks ago by a $580 checked contribution jointly by Charles H. Bennett and Edward C. Hough.

Chamber Starts Events Calendar

The newly proposed "calendar of events" program to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce has gained momentum and should be in full swing by the first of the year, states Nat Sibbold, chamber secretary.
 The program calls for a month by month listing of all important activities and club meetings to provide a clearing house and avoid possible conflicts. According to Sibbold, the response by organizations to record their events with the chamber has been good. It is now planned to carry a weekly events' calendar in The Plymouth Mail beginning the first week in January. Organizations wishing to have their activities listed should contact the chamber.

Cites 17 Tips to Help Cut Fuel Bill Costs

Home owners are already experiencing the first shivers of the new heating season and are primarily concerned with getting the most out of their heating dollars this winter.

One U. S. heating fuel producer lists 17 valuable tips for cutting your fuel bills. Not one of the following steps involves spending any money.

1. Close house doors promptly to keep all heat inside.
2. Keep temperature moderate enough so windows won't have to be opened.
3. Turn off heat in rooms being ventilated.
4. Turn off heat and close doors of rooms not in use.
5. Close fireplace dampers when not in use. If dampers are missing and fireplace isn't used, close chimney opening.
6. Lower the thermostat setting at night. Setting it back 10 degrees for eight hours may save 10 per cent or more, depending on the fuel used.
7. Lower the thermostat setting to 55 degrees when going away for a day or longer.
8. Check radiator enclosures to be sure they are not trapping heat.

9. Remove rugs and furniture from places where they block radiators or registers.
Check Valves
10. Check steam radiator valves for proper function. Drain air or water, if present, from steam radiators to allow them to heat up fully.

11. If your garage is heated, keep doors closed and temperature low.
12. Keep water in heating boiler clean for faster, more efficient operation.

13. Watch steam-boiler water level. A boiler usually operates best if level is at center of gauge.
14. Avoid overheating the furnace. It wastes fuel.

15. Drain a pail of water to take sediment from bottom of domestic hot-water tank monthly to insure efficiency.
Repair Leaky Faucets

16. Check and repair leaky hot water faucets. (A leak of only one drop per second means a loss of 700 gallons a year.)

17. Clean soot out of boiler. A mere one-eighth-inch soot deposit increases fuel consumption as much as 10 per cent.

There are additional steps to be taken that call for the outlay of money, but are well worth the expense.

For instance, a home owner should insulate his attic floor, or, if that is not possible, the roof. Attic floor insulation may save up to 20 per cent of fuel.

See that hot-water or steam pipes of warm air ducts are well insulated if they are located near outside walls. Also, storm windows, storm doors and weather stripping can save 10 to 20 per cent.

Have the furnace draft control checked to keep too much heat from escaping up the chimney. Stop air leaks around the furnace with asbestos cement.

See that radiators or heating ducts are in balance. Avoid too much heat here, too little there.

Let us express thanksgiving to the Father for His loving-kindness to all assumption that there has been any special providence watching over us and not over others. That is the better thanksgiving. —Rev. Dr. Willis Goldsmith

$25,000,000 Glance Into Future Pegs State's Winter Sports as "King"

Plymouth's winter sports enthusiasts have an active and entertaining season ahead if the prediction of the Michigan Tourist Council holds true.

That prediction made last week is that winter sportsmen will spend $25,000,000 in Michigan before the spring thaw begins "providing we have favorable weather."

"All reports indicate it'll be a record winter for resort owners in the northern part of the state and for the winter sports business in general," Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the council said.

A record number of special winter events are being planned by tourist and resort associations. The tourists council said 33 special winter sports programs have been set so far. They are:

Jan. 4-9, annual bobcat hunt, Lewiston; Jan. 10, winter queen selection ball, West Branch; Jan. 10, queen election ball, Lewiston; Jan. 11, Michigan open ski jumping championship, Muskegon; Jan. 17, Pioneer Hills queen selection ball, Roscommon; Jan. 17-18, Alcona county winter sports round-up, Harrisville; Jan. 24, Au Sable Ski Club races, Tawas-Oscoda; Jan. 24-25, winter carnival and ski races, Lewiston; Jan. 31-Feb. 1, Pioneer Hills winter carnival, Roscommon; Feb. 1, Detroit News Hikers' outing, West Branch; Feb.

6-8, winter sports carnival, Ontonagon; Feb. 7-8, four-event ski championship, Traverse City; Feb. 7-8, annual Caberfae inter-club ski meet, Cadillac; Feb. 7-9, Thunder Bay winter carnival, Alpena; Feb. 7-8, winter fishing festival, Houghton Lake; Feb. 7, Au Sable ski bowl open races, Tawas-Oscoda; Feb. 1-8, Michigan Tech winter carnival, Houghton-Hancock.

Other events include: Feb. 13-14, Caberfae inter-club ski meet, Cadillac; Feb. 13-15, winter carnival, Clare-Harrison; Feb. 13-15, selection and crowning Michigan winter sports queen, Grayling; Feb. 15, Gogebic Range ski-jumping tourney, Ironwood; Feb. 18-21, Sno Week, Ironwood; Feb. 18-21, winter carnival, Ishpeming; Feb. 19-22, ski ice revue, Escanaba; Feb. 18-23, winter sports festival, Petoskey; Feb. 21, 66th annual ski-jumping tournament, Ishpeming; Feb. 19-22, ski carnival, Ishpeming; Feb. 28, ski-jumping tournament, Iron Mountain; Feb. 28-March 1, skyline open ski races, Grayling; March 1, central junior jumping championships, Iron Mountain; March 1-6, ice revue, Sault Ste. Marie; March 1-6, Pharis trophy race, Boyne Mountain; March 21-29, outdoor and travel show, Detroit.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Find Out What Worries You

TWO YEARS AGO Roy H. Jackson, Beaumont, Texas, found himself with a severe case of indigestion, which continued without relief for a period of six or eight months. He consulted one doctor who could find nothing wrong, then he went to another who, after extensive tests, said he was on the verge of ulcers, adding that this condition was caused by worry and lack of relaxation. The only thing that would clear up this condition would be to relax more and stop worrying.

Loy immediately cut down on his working hours and figured out just what he was worrying about; was it his financial condition? True enough he owed money but his payments were arranged so that he could meet them without strain, and he was living within his means, so he really had no financial worries.

Was it fear of losing his job, and what would happen if he did? He prided himself on being able to hold down his job, and even if he should lose it he felt sure that he could get another one. Anyway, very few people have ever starved to death because they could not find some kind of work, so that particular worry and fear was out.

Was he in love with some one else and afraid of being found out? Certainly not for he knew that he had the most wonderful wife in the world and his home life was as happy as he could wish.

After this self analysis he found that he really had nothing to worry about, so he stopped worrying. Immediately a great load had been taken off his chest, and since that time he has felt wonderful. His suggestion to any of you readers who may be worrying is: If you are worrying, find out what your worries are and a way to stop them; you will be healthier and happier.

MESC Sends Urgent Appeal to Job Seekers to Register for Employment

For the first time since post-war-peak production, the Michigan Employment Security Commission is beating the bushes to find workers to fill jobs. A "Quickie" survey of the area to find out who the unemployed workers are is under way through the branch offices.

Thousands of jobs with no workers to fill them are listed in the books of the M.E.S.C. said Clarence Jetter, manager of the Plymouth branch at 535 W. Ann Arbor trail. Failure of workers to call at the Commission office is indicative of a shortage of manpower which is becoming more and more severe, daily, Mr. Jetter said.

Employment in the State and in the city is at an all-time high, with 2,500,000 at work in the State and 1,415,000 in the Detroit area, he said. This is caused by the imposition of a new, enlarged defense program upon an already climbing civilian economy, he added. As a result there are more jobs available than workers to fill them.

This is in marked contrast to the circumstances of a year ago when unemployment soared to approximately 17,000 in the State and 118,000 in the city.

"We feel," Mr. Jetter declared, "that there are many unemployed men in the area who have skills which may well be put to use. Of course, many of the job openings are in the highly skilled and professional categories, and in the skilled clerical, and stenographic trades.

There are, however, many open as break-ins in factory work to which most young men and many older men are attracted.

"One of the most insistent shortages, right this moment, lies in the clerical and sales field. Thousands of trained, experienced women could be placed in retail sales work in Detroit, almost overnight," he said.

The "survey" ordered by Max M. Horton, Director of the Commission, is designed to supply the Commission with pertinent information about jobless people in the area, Jetter said.

People seeking work are asked to mail a postal card to the Commission's office at 535 W. Ann Arbor trail. On the card, the job seeker is invited to list his or her name, age, address, sex, type of work previously done or wanted, and whether part time or full time work is wanted.

The Commission's branch office personnel will attempt to match up the skills of the applicant with the requirements of the jobs available, and the applicant will be called in for referral if a suitable job is found.

Of course, Mr. Jetter added, if the applicant is able to come into the branch office, he will be exposed to any of the jobs in his category now open. If none are readily available which fit him the applicant will be counseled and if well qualified, a job may be "developed" for him.

Who overcomes by force hath overcome but half his foe. —Milton

Growth, Development Tied to Each Child's Needs, Says Educator

A unique design for growing characterizes every child in its physical development. That is, each has special requirements for food, water, sleep, exercise and parental attention, says Dean Wilard C. Olson of the University of Michigan School of Education. Dean Olson discounts the published national averages for certain age groups, urging parents not to worry if their child's needs vary from rate-of-development charts.

He points out that the growth pattern is largely determined by heredity, adding that there is a "wisdom of the body" by which each child controls his wants. He cites sleep as an example.

"No one knows how much each child should sleep," the educator declares. "Problems will arise if you insist on an early bedtime and a late rising hour, when the child actually does not need so much rest."

He believes that behavior problems can result from requiring pre-set bedtime hours that establish more hours of sleep than the child actually requires.

Helping children over "irrational fears," Olson says that parents should give matter-of-fact answers to such perplexing problems of the growing child as "death," "the difference between boys and girls," and "where babies come from."

Child-like fears of "three-year-olds and on may often develop if a child feels he is not being loved enough," Olson believes. He says that children beyond this age may awaken at night to scream or sob at times. The fears, he informs, are sometimes caused by a disturbing new piece of knowledge—about himself or his relationship to his family or to the world—which is completely misunderstood by the child.

Though often unexplainable, Olson asserts that such night-time behavior "may result when a child feels that he is not loved or wanted."

"The radio, the movies or play-mates' ghost stories may supply the basis for the child's immature concept of reality. And sometimes this is even helped along by parents' threats to send for the bogeyman as punishment for certain kinds of behavior."

"To a child's inexperienced mind it is not outlandish to think of being eaten by a bogey," he says.

Explaining other child-like characteristics, the Dean points out that a time might come when children favor their friends' ideas, discarding the parents' opinions.

Such a stage is normal, the educator says. Parents should not fret or worry.

He believes that a lessening parental importance in child-growth-roles is only a sign that the offspring is learning to adapt himself to some difficult transitions. If parents realize this, they will help the child over some "tough hurdles of adjustment," Olson says.

Denial of parental and teacher authority, he concludes, have the fear the child may take up extremes in behavior and dress.

The world turns aside to let a man pass, who knows where he is going. —David Starr Jordan

Symphony Notes

By Dr. Henry J. Walch

A trained musician might well comment on the musical merits of the seventh annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the Plymouth Civic Chorus and Symphony Orchestra last Sunday from the point of view of critical standards of musical excellence. The writer is not qualified to do so.

He can only comment on his reaction as a listener to music—one who enjoys it—and feels the meaning of what the music says. In other words, he is an amateur in the field of musical criticism.

Yet he is sure that he had much company in his reaction to the music. He liked what he heard. He enjoyed the presentation im-ensely. The singing of the solo voices and those of the chorus and the playing of the orchestra were meaningful and good to those who listened.

And the listener is half of the concert—professional critics to the contrary.

The audience came to listen to good music, and heard it. But more than listening was evident. The music of Handel grows on one.

The Messiah is a long work, taking some two hours or more to present. But it carries an audience with it. It is a religious work, and one cannot escape the deep conviction of the composer as to the profound meaning of the coming of Christ in our world.

Anyone who listens with any seriousness is carried into some deep feeling of real religious experience. To say that the Messiah can be judged apart from its great religious power is to say that an orchestra can be judged merely on the basis of sounding notes apart from the basic character of any of the music it may play. Handel's "Messiah" is always a true religious experience. But for the people of Plymouth there is an added meaning to the Messiah.

Here is a fine presentation of a great work done by a musical organization recruited in the main from local talent. Many communities have local talent doing various things for their town or city, but the important fact about this performance of the Messiah is that it was an excellent one, and yet it was produced by people whom we know and can call by their first names.

No soloist can bluff the music of the Messiah, nor can any chorus; the music is exacting and demands skill and training in its performers. We heard just that on Sunday—our own people, from the conductor to the soloists, to the chorus, to the orchestra, all from our midst, with some exceptions, and yet presenting a first class musical work with real power and beauty.

Any community which can provide this kind of musical ability from within its own ranks may well be proud of itself.

Handel's "Messiah" is no little ditty; it has musical rank of the highest type. That our community could match the demands of this work with the professional skill is something of which to be proud and for which to be profoundly grateful.

It is the hope of the writer that we shall have further opportunity to hear this combination of orchestra and chorus in another work of equal merit.

And congratulations are in order to Fred Nelson, the soloists, chorus and orchestra, for a very fine concert.

Chairman Explains Where TB Dollars Go

Do you know what you buy when you buy double-barred cross Christmas Seals? "You are buying ammunition for the war against the No. 1 killer among contagious diseases—tuberculosis. You are buying a share in the fight against one of the most deadly diseases known to man," explains Mrs. Wayne Smith, local sales chairman. "With your money the TB and Health Society carries on your fight all year around. The Society is one of 3,000 associations belonging to the National Tuberculosis Association which are carrying forward the crusade against TB. "With your money you are buying knowledge. Learning the facts about tuberculosis can help defeat it. Through the health education program of the Society which works both with school children and adults, people are learning how to avoid TB and what can be done to control it, to prevent it and to cure it. "Your money is buying case-finding," Mrs. Smith reveals. "In cooperation with the Detroit Health Department and the Wayne County Department, the

TB and Health Society, promotes chest X-ray programs which search out the people who have TB without knowing it. A person can have the disease without feeling sick. A chest X-ray is the sure way to find out. "Your money is buying medical research. The National TB Association, which receives 6 per cent of the money collected in Wayne County, finances national research projects into new medicines in hopes of finding a positive cure and a preventative as sure as that which we know for small pox, for instance. "And your money is going to help those patients who have contracted the disease and need a helping hand back to a productive life. The TB and Health Society maintains a staff in both Herman Keifer Hospital and Maybury Sanatorium which aids patients in vocational rehabilitation. It also helps them with their problems of employment after their release. "Each red and green double-barred cross Christmas Seal is a symbol of your fight against tuberculosis. Join the fight and buy Christmas Seals."

CANTON TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR ROBERT WALDECKER proudly helps his son-in-law, Russell Magraw, and grandson, 10-year-old James Magraw, ready the young man's prize steer for the 4-H club show held in Detroit last week. The steer, weighing 1,000 pounds brought a third prize to the young farmer and was sold at the show to the Detroit Stock Yards at a price of 40½ cents per pound. According to Jimmy, another steer, already being groomed on the farm for next year's show, will bring a blue ribbon to this well known Canton family.

Grange Gleanings

Of course everybody is coming to the Christmas party tonight at the Grange hall, at least we hope so.

There will be a tree and exchange of 50c gifts.

The Blue Cross cards will be there so you may pay your B. C. assessments at this time also your Grange dues.

Seventeen members from Plymouth Grange went over to Pittsfield Grange last week Wednesday evening to see the degree team from Tecumseh Grange center the first and second degrees on a class of eight, they were all young people and did their work beautifully.

Mrs. Fred Eberts is at home now from St. Joseph's hospital and callers will be welcome. Drop in and see her.

Fred Pinnow is also at home now from Sessions Hospital, he was a very sick man for a week or so but is much better now and able to receive visitors.

Mrs. Vealey entertained the Just Sew club at her home on Tuesday, December 9, a fine pot luck luncheon was followed by the usual exchange of Christmas gifts and the afternoon was spent in visiting, the following ladies were present, Jennie Cramer, Violet Hauk, Florence Gallimore, Clara Huebler, Altona Potter, Mary Starkweather and Lulu Monteith. Mrs. Starkweather's mother Mrs. Figely was also a guest.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Lunn were guests last week of the former's mother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn. The Frank Lunn's are from Payne, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn went to Flat Rock Grange last Friday evening to a fine turkey dinner, there were about 20 members present at the home of Mrs. Edith Wagner who has been a prominent Grange worker for many years. Mrs. Lunn gave her report of the State Grange meeting.

Sidelights Show Varied Deer Hunting Statistics

Conservation department personnel delivered 149 emergency messages to hunters during the November 15-30 deer season.

And six elk were shot, 338 illegal deer recovered and 1,273 arrests made for conservation law violations.

The message service is set up each year in cooperation with the state police department. Hunters in the northern wilds are contacted in event of emergency at home.

Other sidelights to the deer season include Straits traffic; by evening of the season's final day, hunters carried 8,369 deer, 393 bear, 59 coyotes, five wolves, 27 bobcats and 17 foxes southward on Straits ferries. And 25 deer were taken northward over the Straits during the northern lower peninsula's "any deer" season.

It is a proof that one is very impatient indeed when one is so impatient with the imperfections of others. —Fenelon

Local Adventists to Write to Men Now in Service

Hundreds of servicemen in Korea and other parts of the world will receive a special letter of Christmas cheer as a result of letters written by members of the Plymouth Seventh Day Adventist church and the other Adventist churches in the state of Michigan.

During the regular Saturday morning church services, December 13, Pastor A. J. Lock of the local church, appealed to each member to write at least one special Christmas letter to some relative or friend in the service of his country.

Pastor Lock emphasized that, "On December 25, we will be drawing warmth and friendship from our own family fireside circle while they have access only to the cold comfort offered by the flame of battle. We will thrill to the strains of old and familiar Christmas carols while they are exposed to the song of death carried by the wail and whine of hostile shell fragments. We will be able to worship our Creator in the environs of attractive churches while they kneel amidst the icy crags and rock strewn rubble of some battered Korean hillside."

"It is inspiring to learn that even on the front lines of combat, Advent soldiers remain loyal to God and country. Small groups of these men unite from week to week to conduct their own church services. However, these noble Christian youth are not immune to the tragic and grim toll of modern warfare," he said.

A typical front line Sabbath school met recently one Sabbath morning only to learn that their leader had been killed in action during the previous week; also, the song leader had died from wounds inflicted by enemy gunfire; another had lost a leg; yet another had lost an arm; and so the tragic tale continues.

"It seems that those of us able to enjoy the blessings of the Christmas season in the comfort of our homes should make doubly certain that we don't forget our sons, brothers, fathers, and friends who are sacrificing so much for the preservation of our happiness and the protection of our homes," said Pastor Lock.

He continued, "I, and many other ex-servicemen will recall how we used to listen at mail call to hear our name hoping that our good wife, sweetheart or the folks back home had written us just a few lines. Some how it builds you up and gives you a desire to fight to live, and plan for the future; it helps to keep your faith in God and man."

"As it is a recognized fact that the morale of fighting men parallels closely the quantity of mail from home; is it asking too much for us to take a few moments to send them all a special Christmas greeting of hope and cheer?"

In response, the entire congregation pledged unanimously to unite with the other Adventist churches of the state in the promotion of this project and endeavor to write at least one such letter during the forth coming week.

Adventist young men, who are conscientiously opposed to taking human life serve their country in the capacity of front line, unarmed medical corpsmen in Korea and in similar capacities in other portions of the world. The local church has one such Adventist man, Private First Class Fred Busch, 11665 Inkster road, Livonia last heard from in the occupied zone in Germany.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Services, 7:30 p.m., every fourth Sunday of the month. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age. What was the origin of man and the universe? That interesting question is discussed in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 21, under the subject "Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" The Golden Text is from Proverbs (3:19): "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 46:10): "Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The point for each one to decide is, whether it is mortal mind or immortal Mind that is causative. We should forsake the basis of matter for metaphysical Science and its divine Principle." (p. 195)

Maximum 25 Per Cent Income-Tax Limit Sought in Bids to States

A $16,000,000 saving that adds up to fewer taxes nation-wide is currently rumbling in a short-fused time bomb lighted by the Western Tax Council in Washington.

That organization is supporting a tax-limitation drive seeking a constitutional amendment to limit Federal income tax rates to a maximum 25 per cent. Explosion of the whole issue is expected in the coming Republican Administration. Advocates feel it is a sure antidote against heavy taxation of private capital originally invoked by the Democrats.

Backing up its demand for a constitutional tax limitation, the council is seeking endorsement from 20 state legislatures meeting in January. The council now claims 28 state endorsements.

Of these, Congressional sources say 13 are in dispute. The coming campaign of the Tax Council could, however, produce 10 to 15 state approvals.

Carrying out the constitutional procedure for limiting the Federal tax power (reported Monday in a Detroit Free Press article) will take time and possibly Supreme Court action. But the issue is coming to the front.

One way it could be forestalled would be through advance Congressional legislation or rulings. Previous demands for constitutional amendments have been successfully shelved this way.

Advocates attempting to sell the measure to individual states are armed with this five point sales talk:

1. Present rates ranging from

22.2 to 92 per cent of income prevent savings, destroy initiative and stop accumulation of new capital.

2. They claim that Federal tax burdens are so heavy that individual states cannot obtain adequate funds.

3. State that Federal tax cuts in the 1920's netted high dollar revenues from an expanded economy.

4. Claim that the Federal government in 1950 could have lived under tax limitation if it had followed economic suggestions of Hoover Commission and two Democrats, Senators Harry Byrd (Va.) and Paul Douglas (Ill.).

5. Claim their plan would provide an escalator "way out", permitting higher taxes in wartime.

Opponents deny that Federal adoption could absorb a $16 billion tax cut without (1) dangerously impairing national security, (2) or recklessly impairing the national debt.

They claim that in 1951 such a tax limitation law would have cut Federal revenues by $16,000,000,000, of which corporations would have saved $14,000,000,000 and individuals $2,000,000,000.

Opponents warn it would destroy the progressive nature of the present tax rates and handicap small business in its competition with large corporations.

Only one per cent of individual tax payers would benefit, they conclude: single persons earning more than $8,000 a year and unmarried persons with two children earning more than $20,000.

Asserts Advertising Spurs Improvements, Creates Good Economy

Advertising plays a large part in helping to maintain a sound national economy, declares a University of Michigan professor.

Besides this, says Prof. James D. Scott of the School of Business Administration, advertising has been largely responsible for the eras of television, automatic washing machines, automobiles and radios.

In newspapers, magazines and on radio and television it creates "the favorable climate" for our expanding economy, he asserts.

He explains that as the "potent voice of business" advertising indirectly encourages the introduction of new inventions and directly encourages the improvement of established media for better living.

A specific example of the washing machine was cited as a household "weapon" whose improvement in design and utility came as a result, Prof. Scott believes, of advertising media.

Before the era of automatic washers, he concluded, the standard washer was fixed in design and scope for many years.

What is Christmas?

Well, it's many things... Santa Claus with his bag of toys, tinsel, turkey, the voices of carol singers, evergreen trees decked out in lights and glitter, stockings hung by the fire-place, mistletoe and holly, the shining eyes of a delighted child and the sound of laughter.

It's a time when friends and families gather together to share the open-hearted pleasures of the season. It's a time of delightful secrets, and the anticipation of giving happiness to others. It is a time of worship, and of celebrating again the miracle of the manger in Bethlehem.

Yes, Christmas is many good things. For in the Christmas season we remember that it is more blessed to give than to receive. And we give in many ways... gifts, letters, cards, greetings, smiles and understanding. We are more considerate toward each other... and most of us contribute to some measure in order to help those who are not so fortunate. The other fellow takes on the importance he deserves. What a great thing it would be if only the spirit of Christmas could last through the year with all people!

May we wish you and yours the finest Christmas... and the happiest New Year.

Plan Party For State Hospital

The Cooties and Cootiettes of the West Side Hospital Committee are sponsoring a Christmas Party for the 400 patients at Northville State hospital on Saturday, December 20, 1952 at 2 p.m. Ray Dietz, Chairman of the West Side Hospital Committee appointed Mrs. Adeline Steiger as Chairman of this program. Mrs. Steiger's assistant is William Steiger, Secretary is Mrs. Loretta Martin, and Mrs. Jeanne Grier will be Mistress of Ceremonies and has recruited 26 acts for the party.

Ice cream and cake will be served and Christmas cards for the patients to mail to their friends and relatives will be furnished. A real live Santa Claus, in the person of Edward Steele, pup tent No. 39, will distribute presents.

"Our motto is to keep them all smiling in their beds of white," Mrs. Steiger has told Miss Harriet Miller, Director of Occupational Therapy at Northville State hospital.

The sponsors of the party include Cootiette Pup Tents: 12 (Keego Harbor), 9, 13, 18, 22, 30, and 39; and Cootie Clubs: 89, 98, 99, 121, 152, 244, 318 and 504. Two groups outside of the official area have also contributed: The Mt. Clemons Cootiette Group 279, headed by Mrs. Edna Cottrell, Hospital Chairman and Battle Creek Cootiette Club 108, represented by Mrs. Bea Jorgenson, V. A. V. S. Hospital Chairman have also donated to the party.

Only those who have the patience to do simple things perfectly ever acquire the skill to do difficult things easily. —Schiller

Now that the rush of the Christmas season is upon us, there are a lot of things crowding into our thoughts. Including such things as gifts and wrappings and goodies to make, and the tree.

Particularly the tree and decorations; that's where one of our chief enemies, fire, can begin its destructive job. We should remind ourselves that Christmas trees and decorations are very inflammable... that this condition is heightened by the drying heat of the furnace or fireplace, which removes humidity from the air. A fire tree, full of resin and pitch, is one of the most combustible objects known. Once ignited, it burns so quickly that it's almost impossible to put the fire out.

The National Board of Underwriters suggests a number of safety rules to observe in order that fires may be prevented:

- 1—Choose a small tree, for it's less of a fire hazard.
- 2—Keep it away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces, open doors or stairways.
- 3—Use flame proof ornaments of glass or metal.
- 4—Decorate the tree with electric lights, with wires in good condition. New lighting sets should have an Underwriters label.
- 5—Put your lighting switch at some distance from the tree. That's safer than crawling under the tree to plug the cord in or out.
- 6—Do not leave tree lights burning when nobody's home.
- 7—Take your tree down as soon as the needles start to fall.
- 8—Dispose of all gift wrappings immediately after gifts are opened.
- 9—Do not allow smoking near your Christmas tree.
- 10—Be sure to buy flameproof decorations, if you use those made of paper.

LETTER BOX

The Editor,
Plymouth Mail,
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Sir:

All the residents of the City of Plymouth call themselves loyal Americans!

AMERICANS???? when they let their own families and friends down???? When they let their country down??? There are many other names for this type of person!

Out of the population of the City of Plymouth the Red Cross could not get enough people to volunteer one small pint of their blood to help their sons, nephews, brothers, and neighbors, who are fighting out in the cold fields of Korea, lying on the stark cold ground in pools of their own blood, calling to God to save them, to give them strength, while the so called red blooded Americans sit back in their comfortable warm houses, filled with all the comforts of home and good foods and warmth of the Christmas Season.

Surely one pint of blood, the best Christmas gift of all to a wounded soldier boy, the gift of Life, of coming home to his family instead of being buried out in some cold muddy field, in a hole dug by his pals, is not too much to ask.

What about all the housewives who do nothing but sit at home and gossip all day. The boys on the line in the plant, the girls in the office. Get together you Americans? and give your blood.

I have volunteered every time the unit has been booked to come to Plymouth but have never given in the city of Plymouth because of there "not being enough donors", with a result I have to give elsewhere.

Even in the little community of Whitmore Lake, everyone who could, turned out to give. Two hundred pints of blood were obtained but over 400 people were willing and had the tests but were unable to give for health reasons.

Come on Plymouth, leave your jobs for one hour and save a life, so that you can face the boys when they come home by knowing that you have done something, to help.

Very truly yours,
A willing Plymouthite

Tells Dangers of Christmas Trees

Every year in this country lives are lost and more than a million dollars' worth of property is destroyed by fires caused by Christmas trees. A freshly cut tree will not ignite readily, because of the moisture it contains. But once the foliage has been allowed to dry, it becomes a deadly menace. Then, careless smoking, improperly used or worn out electrical equipment, in fact, even a hot electric bulb touching the parched needles, may set off a conflagration.

A few common-sense precautions, rigidly observed, could remove most of the danger from the use of Christmas trees. If smoking is done in the room where the tree is set, don't light matches or smoke near the tree. Never place the tree near a fireplace that is in use. Replace frayed light cords to eliminate the possibility of short circuiting, and don't allow light bulbs to come in contact with foliage or metallic tinsel. Here are a few other "don'ts" worth remembering: Do not run electric tinsel under the tree, dispose of gift wrappings immediately, and don't forget to turn off the tree lights before leaving the house or going to bed. Have a fire extinguisher handily located, just in case.

One of the best ways to make a tree fire-resistant is to keep its foliage fresh by retaining as much moisture in the tree as possible. This can be easily accomplished by sawing off the base of the stem at an oblique angle and then immersing the cut end in a container of water. Provision should be made to replace the water as the tree uses it up. Water so absorbed will help to keep its foliage succulent and fire-resistant. Tree stands with a built-in water container are now available in some stores.

The addition of various chemicals to the water has been advocated by some authorities, but to date none has been conclusively demonstrated as being beneficial in helping to keep the tree from drying out. There are also numerous commercial products available for spraying the foliage of Christmas trees. Some do reduce the inflammability of evergreen trees but only if all the surfaces are completely and heavily coated. Furthermore, when the tree dries out, even the most fire-resistant coating will be of little value in preventing fire. To date, none of these sprays has received approval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. So the best advice still is—be careful with fire around the tree, set the tree in water if at all possible, and take it down by New Year's. A dry tree is a dangerous tree.

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.—Ecclesiastes

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Christmas Touch to Half Ham

Maraschino cherries decorate this shank half of ham, ideal for many holiday occasions. A constant low temperature (300°F.) is recommended for cooking ham. Slow roasting results not only in shrinkage, thus more meat to serve, but the ham is uniformly cooked and makes a more attractive appearance on your table.

Ham Perfect Answer for Christmas Dinner; Snacks Later

For Christmas day dinner, for a festive entertaining, for that wonderful find when refrigerator raiding—these are among the occasions when ham is your perfect answer. Be sure to make a reminder of ham on your holiday food list now. If a whole ham is more than you'll need, a half ham—shank or butt—may be similarly glazed and decorated for gay servings.

To have ham at its best follow these steps. First of all, place the ham fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. The rack keeps the meat up off the bottom of the pan and allows air to circulate around it for even cooking. If you have a roast meat thermometer you will eliminate guessing as to when the ham is cooked. Insert the thermometer into the thickest ham muscle, but not in fat or on bone. The ham is cooked when the thermometer reads 160°F. You can roughly estimate cooking time by allowing 20 to 22 minutes per pound. Roast in a slow oven (300°F.)

About 30 minutes before the scheduled end of cooking, take the ham from your oven and remove the rind. Score the ham if you wish, then cover the fat surface with a glaze paste. Return to the oven to finish cooking and to set the glaze.

Glazes: brown sugar-vinegar-flour-mustard; honey; apricot puree; crushed pineapple; orange marmalade or juice; cranberry jelly or sauce; cider; grape jelly.

Decorate the ham or ham platter with one of the following for a "Christmas-y" look.

Decorations: chopped or whole maraschino cherries, candied cherries, citron, pineapple rings or chunks, orange slices, candied orange or lemon peel, cranberry jelly topped orange cups, cranberry jelly designs, mince-meat stuffed baked apples, frosted grapes, pimiento, green pepper.

After Christmas Shoppers to Find Eggs Bargain

After-Christmas shoppers will find eggs a food bargain.

Eggs are plentiful now and after Christmas there will be a drop in price if all indications are accurate. That will make the increased use of eggs a real saving in the food budget.

Eggs are one of our most valuable foods. They can be used as a meat alternate because the protein is complete—which means it contains all the amino acids necessary for building and repairing body tissues. Eggs also contain valuable minerals, iron and phosphorus, as well as vitamins A, D, riboflavin and thiamine. Two large eggs give the same amount of protein as an average serving of meat.

Egg dishes are easily and quickly prepared, alone or in combination with other foods. Moderate temperatures should be used in cooking eggs. High temperatures and overcooking toughens and shrivels eggs. Use eggs as a thickening agent in puddings and custards and as a leavening agent in baking. They add color, flavor and richness to many different dishes. As salads, garnishes for soups and the coating in breaded meats, eggs can add food value and color to the ordinary meal. As omelets, souffles, baked in potato nests or combined with cheese, they can become the "main dish" of the menu. In baked goods, custards, puddings and pies they make excellent desserts and party refreshments.

Buy eggs from a refrigerated display at your grocer's. Eggs are very perishable and must be kept cool to retain the quality. They keep better in a covered container so that moisture is not removed from the egg. Keep them refrigerated at home and take out only the eggs to be used.

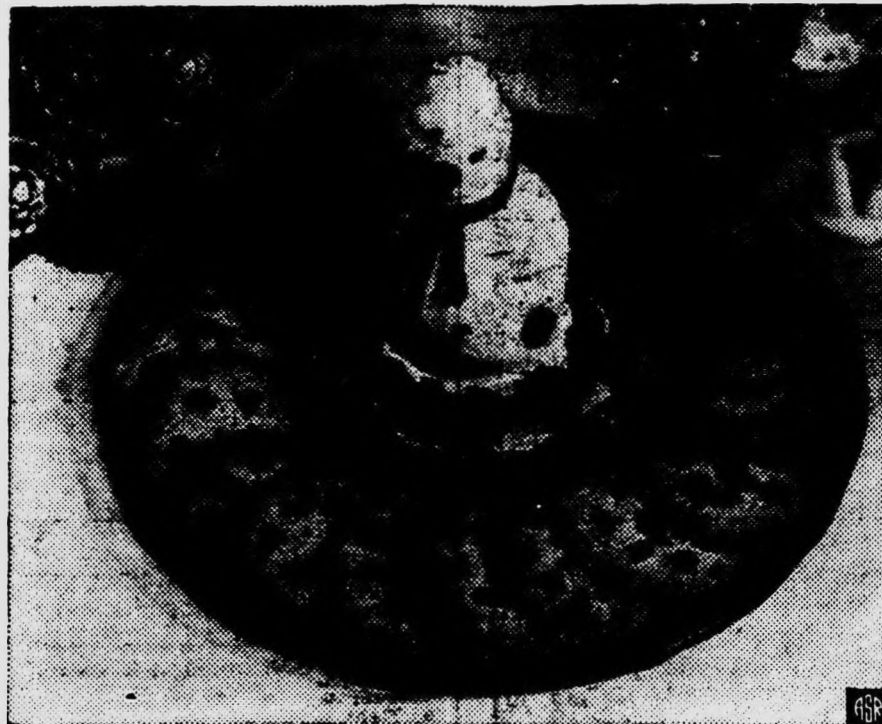

Look for both the grade and size in figuring how to get the greatest value for your egg money. Grade AA; Grade A or Grade B eggs can all be used for table eggs, but Grade B eggs probably should be used fairly soon. Compare the price of different sizes of eggs of the same grade for the best value.

Shop the easy way. Read our advertisements first, then you will know where to buy, at the price you want to pay.

Christmas Angel Wings

Christmas is the cookie season and an especially good Christmas cookie is Angel Wings. This rich oatmeal cookie has a delicate crispness and a flavor that is "oh so good." They're pretty to serve too, with their lacy edges and decoration of nuts, citron and candied fruit. Try Angel Wings with a frosty fruit punch for elegant holiday entertaining.

Angel Wings
Makes 4 dozen cookies

3/4 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening, soft
2 eggs

1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract (optional)
1 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked

Citron, candied cherries and chopped nuts

Sift together flour, sugar and salt into bowl. Add shortening, eggs and flavorings. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats. Drop from a teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet, allowing about 2 inches between cookies. Flatten with a knife dipped in cold water. Decorate with pieces of citron, candied cherries or nuts. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 10 to 12 minutes until cookies are golden brown around the edges. Remove from cookie sheet immediately.

Average Person Eats 100 Pounds of Sugar Per Year

Everyone has a "sweet tooth", and especially during this holiday season Michigan people will be eating their share of sugars and sweets. In addition to candy, which is almost a pure form of sugar, they will be having cakes, pies, cookies, jams, jellies and many other foods which contain some form of sugar. The average American uses nearly 100 pounds of sugar, in various forms, every year. That accounts for about five cents out of each dollar we spend for food. The amount of sugar people use varies a great deal, depending on such conditions as where they live and family income.

As to food value, pure white sugar furnishes only calories, which give us quick food energy easily utilized by the body. Two tablespoons of sugar yields about 100 calories. But it has many taken-for-granted values other than providing energy and satisfying our sweet tooth. For example, it gives texture and flavor to many foods. It helps to make fruits firm, and acts as a preservative to help in food canning and freezing.

Brown sugar, less refined than the white variety, does contain some minerals in addition to the calorie content. Sugar is sugar, as far as the granulated variety is concerned. Homemakers who prefer cane sugar to beet, or vice versa, gain only if their favorite type is lower in price. Beet and cane sugar have the same chemical formula, purity, sweetness and appearance, and can be used interchangeably with equal results in any kind of cooking, home canning, candy or jelly making.

Keeping sugar properly simply calls for a dirt-free container in a dry place. Some saving can usually be made in buying white sugar in larger quantities of 25 to 100 pound bags, if there is adequate storage space.

Michigan, which usually ranks seventh among the sugar beet growing states, supplies about 134 to 309 million pounds of sugar a year. That amount is only one-fifth to one-half the amount of sugar Michigan families require yearly.

Creamed Ham, Eggs With Rice Ring Answer to Buffet Menu Problem

It is fun to entertain at Christmas time, but you may hesitate because of the expense. If that is your case, then here is a buffet menu that lets you entertain with a flair, without breaking your budget.

Creamed ham and eggs in a giant rice ring can be the answer to your entertaining needs. If you have a large round green platter use it. A red luncheon cloth will carry out the Christmas colors. Serve this main dish with broccoli, individual frozen fruit salads, hot parkerhouse rolls, coffee, tea or milk. Your dessert might be Christmas pudding or fruit cake.

To prepare the ham-egg rice ring, cut cooked ham into bite-size cubes. (This is a good way for using leftovers.) Combine them in a cream sauce with sliced hard-cooked eggs. Arrange within the fluffy-rice ring just before serving.

Try Eggs and Sausages at Christmas Breakfast

It is breakfast on that all important December 25. What to serve? Since dinner will probably be late in the day, breakfast takes on greater importance. Your menu must be substantial, but not one that will take a great deal of preparation since chances are you'll be busy in the kitchen.

Just right for this occasion is a tempting and hearty combination of sausage links and scrambled eggs. Plan on three or four sausages for each serving. For an unusual fruit course, serve a mixed dried fruit compote. Combine apricots, peaches and prunes for a flavorful serving. With the sausage course have hot biscuits, an assortment of jams and jellies or honey butter.

To prepare the sausages so they are plump and tempting place them in a frying-pan with 2 or 3 tablespoons of water. Then be sure to closely cover the pan and let them steam for about 10 minutes. Uncover and let the sausages brown evenly.

Meat Pie Ideal For Christmas Eve Dinner

In many homes Christmas Eve brings the family together. And amid the flurry of last minute shopping and gift wrapping, the pre-holiday dinner must be prepared. For this busy time it's wise to plan your menu in advance. One excellent choice for this occasion is a tempting and hearty meat pie. If you have a home freezer, this can be prepared several days in advance ready to finish cooking in your oven.

In any case, for cutting last minute preparations, cook the stew early in the day. Use lamb, veal, or beef cubes for the stew. Cook them completely covered with water, then add vegetables just long enough before the end of the meat cooking so they will be tender. When cooked, (2 1/2 hours for beef, 2 hours for veal, 1 1/2 hours for lamb) remove the meat and vegetables and thicken the liquid for gravy. Store them closely covered in your refrigerator until time to make up the meat pie.

For making the pie, place the stew in your favorite table casserole or in individual casseroles. The topping is what makes it a meat pie—pastry or biscuit. For a Christmas touch, cut the pastry or biscuit dough with cookie cutters into seasonal designs. For instance, you might have bells over the top of the meat stew, Christmas trees, wreaths. Return the casserole to the oven to heat through and to bake the crust. Just before serving use bright pimiento for further decorating. Serve the meat pies with a fruit salad, hot biscuits, ice cream sundaes and Christmas cookies.

Simple treatment curbs fence pole decay

Weather and insects can cause serious damage to the fence poles on your farm, especially if you use poles from your woodlot. These poles often are full of sapwood, which decays rapidly. According to the Forestry Department of Michigan State College, farmers can treat poles against decay, using a chemical you can buy in most hardware or drug stores. Several preservative products are available. One of the newest tested and found satisfactory is "Penta" (Pentachlorophenol), the researchers say. If possible, the poles to be treated should be air seasoned first for six months. For more information call your County Agricultural Agent.

Maybe with Santa at the switchboard... everybody's Christmas Long Distance call could go through at the same time. But without Santa's magic, some calls may be delayed, because more calls are made at Christmas than any other time. You can be sure we'll have operators at our busy switchboards to handle all the calls the lines can carry. Even so, if you plan to make a Holiday Long Distance call, we suggest you call before Christmas Eve or after Christmas to avoid delays. 23-Year-Old Widow, Children to Share in $40,000 Social Security Allotment Benefits derived from federal social security make a story with a universal appeal. Here is one such article of a San Rafael, California widow who with her children will share in federal-state benefits that may exceed $40,000.

Mrs. Dolores Plaa, 23, on December 4 became the 5-millionth person receiving monthly insurance payments under the social security law. Her children, Larry, 4, and Michele, 1, have joined 865,000 other youngsters receiving monthly survivors insurance payments.

Mrs. Plaa's husband, James P. Plaa, 30, a telephone line foreman, died November 17. His social security account includes credit for service in the Navy in World War II.

Christmas may not be quite as bleak as it would have been if Mr. Plaa had not been insured under the social security law.

The family will receive survi-

WIDOWED, $40,000 IN SOCIAL SECURITY benefits will provide Mrs. Dolores Plaa, 23, of San Rafael, Calif., and her children, Michele, 1, and Larry, 4, with security and happiness derived from state-federal social security allowances.

vers benefits of $168.90 each month from social security—$63.30 monthly for Mrs. Plaa and $52.80 for each child. Altogether, benefits paid the children alone are scheduled to total $20,038 by the time Michele, the youngest, reaches her 18th birthday. Depending on life expectancy, and whether she remarries, Mrs. Plaa herself may receive payments of from $12,000 to more than $20,000.

These social security payments, supplemented by insurance carried through Mr. Plaa's employer, and a private insurance policy, will enable the young widow to maintain their home and devote full time to being both mother and father to her small children.

Mr. Baltuck, manager of the field office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan, said that Mrs. Plaa consented to the publication of these facts.

Alert Plymouth Campers to New Site in North

A new camp site is being developed at popular Straits state park here, the conservation department reports.

The site is on land recently leased from the state highway department, and when completed may offer 30 individual camping locations.

Water, toilet and electrical facilities are planned for the site, though work may be only partially completed by next summer's season.

If you mean to act nobly and seek to know the best things God has put within reach of men, you must learn to fix your mind on that end and not on what will happen to you because of it. — George Eliot

Kelly is Captain; Lanphear Most Valuable Player

At a recent meeting of the high school varsity football team Jerry Kelly was selected to lead the Rocks as captain for the 1953 season. Kelly is a junior and has been on the varsity for two years, playing end in his sophomore year and a halfback this year. He is exceptionally fast, being a member of the varsity track team where he runs the dashes and relay. Kelly also is currently a member of the basketball team.

Besides being a stellar athlete, Kelly is prominent in scholastic and extra-curricular activities. An honor student, he has been a member of the student council and is at present president of his junior class. The football letter-winners also named Bud Lanphear as the most valuable player in the season just ended. Bud was a standout the past fall from his fullback spot on offense and as a line-backer on defense. He compiled one of the most remarkable records in recent years by carrying the ball some 140 times for over 300 yards rushing, or a 6 yard average per carry. Aside from his great work on the field, Bud was a member of the varsity basketball team and was quite adept at leading the ball out-of-bounds within the five yard line on many occasions.

He will be missed when another football season rolls around as he is a member of this year's graduation class.

Seniors Honored at Grid Banquet

The Senior members of this year's championship Plymouth High school football team were honored guests at a Senior Football banquet at the Hillside Inn last week Monday evening. The banquet was sponsored by the athletic department of the high school and all members of the varsity team, their dads, coaches and a few invited guests were present.

After a delicious steak dinner with all the trimmings, Roy Leemon, father of senior Peter Leemon, served as Master of Ceremonies, and introduced the guests present, and then the various speakers. Coach Charles Ketterer gave a brief talk and lauded the present coaching staff as one of the best and most cooperative in the state. He also said that the boys had been a great group to work with and that their spirit carried them to an undefeated season.

The boys then introduced their dads, and then Toastmaster Leemon introduced the player voted most valuable by his team mates, Lawrence "Bud" Lanphear, who in turn introduced another senior. Each senior made some remark about the next senior he introduced. Lastly this year's captain, Ron Nyhus, introduced next year's captain, Jerry Kelly, who said that the team next fall would be as good in one respect, that being that the boys have the same grand spirit, cooperation and team-work as that displayed this year, and they would be in there giving their all in all the games.

Around 65 enjoyed this inaugural Senior Banquet, which was concluded when Captain Nyhus presented gifts for Coach and Mrs. Ketterer and Coach and Mrs. Sandmann in appreciation of the splendid guidance and job they performed this year.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Two banquets held recently in honor of the championship football team were highly successful affairs. The athletic department gave one for the varsity and their dads in honor of the departing seniors, and the parents gave the other in honor of all the football teams and the cross-country squad. They were both well-attended and a great thing to foster the good relationship that exists between the school, parents and athletes. A spirit of friendliness, understanding and goodwill prevailed at both functions.

I liked the way the players introduced their dads, and the way the seniors introduced each other at the first banquet, held at the Hillside Inn. The family get-together for an evening of fun, food and entertainment was the nice thing about the second. I've always said that the family should do more things as a unit. It seems that athletics and sporting events bring them together more than other things, but the family can do many other things if started when the children are young. Both gatherings ought to become a tradition.

The splendid football team made two good selections recently when they elected the most valuable player for the year, and the 1953 captain, Bud Lanphear, who was a power on both offense and defense all year, was selected the most valuable by his mates, and he justly deserved it. There were others who did a tremendous job, and as Bud so aptly put it at the banquet, "The blocking and holes opened by my teammates made possible my gains, and they all deserve to share this award with me." It is a worthy statement. It was teamwork from all that counted and paid off.

Jerry Kelly was elected as captain for 1953, and will prove a capable leader. He has displayed leadership in school and athletic events since he entered high school. Yes, the above were two splendid choices!

The high school cagers aren't going to enjoy quite the successful season that the gridgers did, but as I said before we will see some interesting, close games this winter. So far they have won one game and dropped two. They will improve as the season moves along, and will end up by winning as many games as they lose.

This team lacks height, and not many teams can have a real good season without a couple of those lanky boys to get the tips and the rebounds. Control of the ball means so much in a basketball game, and also making those charity tosses from the foul line, and not committing personal fouls, can make a difference in a close game as it did in the Northville game.

The Detroit Lions won a share of the National Football League title and will play the Los Angeles Rams in a tie-breaker next Sunday in Detroit. The Lions have beaten the Rams twice this season, but the latter team is considerably stronger than when the two met earlier in the season. The Rams were won 8 straight since losing 3 of the first four games played. If the Lions win then they will play Cleveland for the professional championship the following Sunday. This could be the Lions year to win the pro championship that has eluded them the past two seasons.

Just learned that Don Sutherland, a junior at Michigan State college and a graduate of Plymouth High school is the manager of the Michigan State basketball team.

Anyone attending the Tiger's games next summer will surely have to buy a program to see who is playing. So many changes have been made that only 10 players remain from a year ago. The way it looks now the only winner will be the program sellers, who really should reap a harvest come 1953.

The large new gymnasium is bringing state tournament play closer to Plymouth—it has just been announced that the state Class A regional tournament will be played in the local gym. This tournament, one of eight in the state, will bring 6 top-notch class A teams from the Detroit area into Plymouth the nights of March 11 to 14 with the winner advancing to the state quarter-finals. It also will bring many fans to the city from Dearborn and Detroit—Plymouth is one of the six teams entered in this tournament as they are competing in Class A this year. A story about this appears on the front page.

Varsity Won and Lost Last Week

The high school varsity basketball squad won a game and lost one last week. The win over Garden City 44 to 34, and the loss was to Redford Union in their first league start by a 55 to 43 score. This leaves the local entry with one win and two losses for the season, with no wins and one loss in league play.

In the Garden City encounter, the team had to come from behind in the last half to win. They were on the short end of a 23 to 18 score at the half, but a big 17 point third quarter enabled them to forge to the front to stay. Kenneth Kisabeth led this second half attack by scoring 17 points.

During the evening Kisabeth garnered a total of 19 points on 6 baskets and 7 free throws. Co-captains Casey Cavell and Bud Lanphear had 10 and 9 points respectively. The team made good on 14 of 25 charity tosses from the foul line. Lepak led Garden City with 14 points.

The first league game at Redford Union saw a questionable refereeing job which caused much confusion. It was a close contest until the final few minutes, with Plymouth being behind 24 to 22 at the half, and 33 to 30 at the beginning of the final quarter, but the Panthers made 22 points in that last quarter, with Ron Kelly making 13 of them, to build up a lead that the locals couldn't overcome.

Kenneth Kisabeth again had a good night with 9 baskets and 3 free throws good for 21 points. Casey Cavell contributed 10 points. The team made 7 out of 15 free throw attempts.

Kelly was high point man for the night when he scored 23 for Redford Union; Chute had 15. They made good on 13 out of 29 foul shots.

The next game is here tonight against Allen Park.

Reserves Garner Third Win in Row

The high school junior varsity have taken up where they left off last year and continue unbeaten after the first three games. Last week they copped their second and third wins of the young season by trouncing Garden City reserves 42 to 16 on Tuesday night at home, and then went over to Redford Union to defeat the Panthers 41 to 31 in a game last Friday night.

In the Garden City encounter, the locals started slowly and led only 6 to 2 at the end of the first quarter, but an 18 point spurge in the second quarter built up a 31 to 4 lead at the half. Substitutes played much of the second half.

Lee Juve led the attack with 14 points, and Pat Clifford had 9 and Forenci 8 points. Steller had 8 for the losers.

The locals made good on 6 out of 13 free throws, while Garden City could not make good on any of 10 attempts.

In the Redford Union game, the boys had to come from behind in the last quarter to conquer a stubborn Panther five. They were behind 13 to 12 at the half and 25 to 23 at the final quarter mark. Les Forenci then took over and scored 10 quick points to put the young Rocks ahead to stay.

Forenci scored a total of 19 for the evening on 9 baskets and one free throw. Larry Wilhelm had 7, John Agnew 6, Lee Juve 5 and Pat Clifford 4 points. The team made good on 9 free throw attempts out of 22 tries. Watson was high for Redford Union with 10 points, and the team made good on 7 out of 14 free throw tries.

The next game is here tonight against Allen Park.

Allen Park Here for Game Tonight

Basketball fans of this city will be treated to another pair of exciting games tonight at the local gymnasium when the Plymouth reserves and varsity go against teams from Allen Park. These will be the last games before the holiday vacation begins tomorrow. The first game will begin at 7 p.m. with the second starting at approximately 8:30.

The Rocks varsity will be seeking their first league win as will the Allen Park quintet. Allen Park has been defeated by Ecorse 43 to 31 and last Friday night bowed to Belleville 52 to 41.

The reserves have won all three of their games and will be gunning for their fourth straight win.

Frosh Score Win Over Redford U.

The high school freshmen opened their basketball season with a sound 41 to 26 win over Redford Union last Thursday afternoon in the local gymnasium. The young Rocks led all the way and were on top 21 to 13 at the half.

Dick Davidson and Jack Carter shared high scoring honors, each having 15 points on 7 baskets and 1 free throw. Peter Schipper scored 4 points, Tom Ferguson 5 and Linden Mills 2. Harma was high for the Redford Union frosh with 8 points.

The freshmen made good on 5 of 11 free throws while their opponents hit on 8 out of 16 charity tosses.

League Openers See Close Games

Redford Union, Bentley and Belleville were first round winners in 6-B league competition, and as a result share first place in league standings. Redford Union disposed of Plymouth 55 to 43. Bentley won over Trenton in a low scoring tilt 32 to 25. Belleville also showed some class by downing Allen Park 52 to 41.

In other games around this area Farmington defeated Berkley 44 to 39; Keego Harbor trounced Southfield 44 to 26; and Northville downed Milford 58 to 50.

The 6-B league standings with points scored for and against each team is as follows:

	W	L	PF	PA
Bentley	1	0	32	25
Redford Union	1	0	55	43
Belleville	1	0	52	41
Plymouth	0	1	43	55

Junior High Lose First Game 31-19

The Plymouth Junior High basketball team opened their season last Thursday afternoon by dropping a decision to the Junior High quintet from Redford Union by a 31 to 19 score. Considering this is the first time they have floored a team for competition, the young lads did fairly well until the final stages of the contest. The score at the half was 10 to 7 in favor of the winners.

Bob Jenkins was high for the locals with 10 points scored on 3 baskets and 4 foul shots. Jerry King had 8 points and Virgil Norgrove the other point. Hinkle was high for the Redford Union lads with 12 points.

The local lads hit on 9 of 18 free throw attempts, while their opponents made only 3 out of 14 attempts.

Coach Gorguze started Jerry King and Bob Jenkins at the forwards; Clifford Tait at center; Jack Carr and Virgil Norgrove at the guards.

Gets Bid to Join Engineering Society

Lawrence R. Mack, 20, of 1157 Penniman is one of three University of Michigan students initiated this fall into Tau Beta Pi, honorary Engineering society.

Mack is an Engineering major at the University in his junior year. His parents said his initiation into the Engineering society, that currently has a membership of 75, came as a result of high scholastic standing.

Training School Set to Give Annual Xmas Party

Youths from the Wayne County Training School Sunday present their 27th annual Christmas party.

In preparation for the festivities, cottages that house the youths are being decorated in an anticipated turnout of parents who may visit the institution on Christmas day from 2 to 4 p.m.

The program Sunday will start at 2:30 p.m. in the training school auditorium. The Nativity Story, a Christmas pageant, will be held augmented by a vested choir.

Officials said families will be permitted to visit the cottages following the program.

Medical superintendent for the institution is Dr. Robert H. Haskell. Members of the administrative board are Mrs. Fred R. Johnson, president; Malcolm G. Dade, vice-president; Joseph A. Murphy; Fred C. Fischer; Arthur Dondineau; John A. Dronk; Arthur A. Smeracki; James Fitzgerald, and John R. Lukas.

Student Council Purchases Tree

Lucy Barnes, Margaret Burr, Ronald Krump, Bill Moore and Carol Partridge are the student council members appointed to buy and decorate the Christmas tree which they will place in front of the trophy case on first floor where it will remain until school closes for Christmas vacation.

Tyler Caplin presented the following varsity club initiation plans at the recent student council meeting. Starting December 8, for two weeks the pledges are to wear a white ribbon tied about their waists. On December 9 they wear a black tie, white t-shirt, long underwear, overalls rolled 12 inches, and an appropriate sign.

Student Council pins arrived Monday, December 1, and were presented to Lucy Barnes, Tyler Caplin, Elaine Rich, Bob Fulton, Pearl Kemnitz, Bernard Papp, Larry Davis, Tom Davis, and Carol Partridge. The pins are to signify that the wearers of them are members of the student council.

The Council members also urged the setting up of weekly events on the bulletin board outside of Gustave Gorguze's office, a service which has not been given this year as in the past.

Junior High Party Held December 12

Santa Claus acted as master of ceremonies at the Holly Hop, the junior high Christmas party, held in the junior high gymnasium from 7-10 on December 12, 1952.

Admission to the dance was in the form of a donation of canned food, outgrown clothing, or toys which were turned over to the Goodfellows.

The activity committee with Lorraine Konke in charge of games and Edward Kennedy in charge of dancing engaged the help of John Wallace, parent of a junior high student, to call for square dancing. Mrs. Henry Jensen was the mother helping with the games.

Lending a hand to Ruthann Heny, chairman of the refreshment committee, were Mrs. Robert Lidgard, Mrs. Harry Wickens, and Mrs. Jim Henry.

The entertainment consisted of solos, ballet dancing, accordion music, pantomining, a Christmas reading, and group singing, all obtained by Wayne Huber, entertainment chairman.

The decoration committee was headed by Sally Kowalcik who was helped by Mrs. Charles Epps and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz.

Leading the other committees were Betty Langford, publicity; Franklin Lax, chairs; and Karla Herbold, check room.

In the planning and preparation of this party a Moms meeting was held November 14, 1952 Miss Ann Makel, sixth grade teacher, William Pruitt, eighth grade science teacher, and Mrs. Beatrice Besse, seventh grade English and math teacher, ten students from the three rooms, and three mothers from each room. Through the cooperation of the mothers chosen at the meeting to help their children before and during the evening, the party was made possible.

Mrs. Besse, general chairman, stated, "I wish to thank all those mothers who helped us out."

Vocal Department Presents Annual Concert

The annual Christmas concert, under the direction of Fred Nelson, was presented on Tuesday, December 16 at 8 p.m. in the new gym.

The freshman chorus began the concert by singing three selections. Judy Richwine and Mary Lou Hartwick will solo in two of the three.

Next on the program was the Girls' Glee club singing many carols from different countries. Jackie Pomeroy, Nancy Lock, and Pat Johnson will be soloists. The Twin Trio sang three songs, "Christmas Lullaby", "Jingle Bells", and "Sleigh Ride".

The high school choir concluded the concert by singing nine selections. Other songs included "The First Christmas", "Twas the Night Before Christmas", and "Hallelujah Chorus". Nancy Kropp soloed and the piano accompanist was Jon Brake.

PHS Art Department Decorates Windows; Paints Christmas Boxes

With the Christmas season close at hand, the art department of Plymouth High school has been painting Christmas scenes on the school windows. This year only the library windows were decorated.

Glenna Merrillat was chairman of this project with Susan Goddard, Sara Wesley, and Carol Wilkerson helping her. The main scene is a huge Christmas card greeting the public with lighted candles bordering it. Another scene is a small boy, peering through a stair banister, gazing at his Christmas stocking hung on the fireplace, which is filled to the brim with a small squirming kitten.

The other art students are busy with their class work. Art 1 pupils are working on color wheels while life art classes are drawing in charcoal. The advanced art class is painting Christmas boxes for gifts to be given to friends and relatives.

Seventh Grade Tops Honor Roll

Leading the Junior High Honor Roll for the second marking period are the seventh graders with 54 students with a "B" or better average. The eighth graders are trailing with 40 on the "B" or better honor roll.

Seventh graders receiving "B" or better are: Donald Alsbro, Bob Bauer, Laura Bell, Donna Bish, Ann Cooper, Sandra Davis, Robert Evans, Kay Fisher, Lois Frew, Pat Gaeke, Gale Griffiths, Jane Hardimon, D a n n y Hargrove, Karla Herbold, Ann Hulsing, Robert Isbister, Marianna Jensen, Brenda Jewell, James Jimerison, Nancy Kelly, Lorraine Konke, Betty Langford, Martha Langford, Staton Lorenz, Kenneth Luker, Janet Main, Doris Moran, Sandra Ortmann, Marilyn Outman, and Peggy Owens.

Other seventh graders are Carol Pace, Glenda Patterson, Barbara Pierce, Esther Puckett, Marjorie Reddeman, Kersten Schipper, Kay Sempliner, Alfred Spigarelli, Janet Stace, Carol Stadtmiller, Tom Stickney, Gordon Stout, Larry Strope, Wilma Talbot, Charlotte Thario, Kathleen Thompson, Louvinia Tidwell, David Walaskay, John Walder, Linda Warner, Sharalyn Watson, Karl Williams, and Elizabeth Worth.

Eighth grade students receiving "B" or better are: Mary Agnew, Judy Ash, Carl Bauer, George Ann Bauer, Thomas Carmichael, Carol Clark, Emily Cutler, Susan Daly, Janice Depki, Barbara Erdelyi David Farmer, Jim Farmer, Betty Finney, Marilyn Freyman, Marilyn Fry.

Ann Gollard, Kathleen Greenlee, John Gregory, Jerry Hearl, Fred Heidt, Patricia Houk, Jim Houk, Bill Huber, Bob Jenkins, Barbara Johnson, Elaine Keith, Bob Kemnitz, Eileen Kelly, Judith Kelly, Judy Laury are other eighth graders.

Roberta Lidgard, Faye Leitz, Sandra Penny, Joyce Sackett, Wesley Smith, Prescilla Strong, Seneth Thompson, Charles Westover, Sally Williams, and Judy Veresh complete the list.

Big New '53 FORD

THE NEW STANDARD OF THE AMERICAN ROAD!

With 41 "Worth More" features... It's worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it!

This '53 Ford sets an entirely new standard for the American Road. For in this big new Ford you'll find 41 "Worth More" features that give you more of the things you want... more of the things you need... than ever before in low-priced car history.

You'll find the "Go" you need to handle today's long-distance driving. You'll enjoy Ford's new Miracle Ride that brings you the smooth, quiet riding comfort you need for today's level parkways or rough, rutted byways... plus nearly effortless steering, braking, and parking. And you'll see beauty that belongs wherever you may drive.

When you see this new Ford at your Ford Dealer's, you'll understand why it is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it. You'll agree that here, indeed, is the New Standard of the American Road!

A few of the 41 "Worth More" features in the 1953 Ford

NEW MIRACLE RIDE—Not just more responsive spring and shock absorber action, not just foam rubber cushions, but a balanced ride that gives you a new concept of comfort.

SHIFT TO PORDOMATIC—and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever. And remember, Ford also offers the smooth and thrifty Overdrive.

POWER-PIVOT PEDALS—are suspended from above to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. They give more unobstructed floor space and provide easier pedal operation.

CENTER-FILL FUELING—prevents hose marks, and makes "filling up" easier from either side of gas pump. Shorter gas filler pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.

FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY—with huge, curved, one-piece windshield, a car-wide, one-piece rear window and big picture windows all around—gives you visibility unlimited.

If the city widens Main street or if his present office building is sold out from under him, insurance man Roy Fisher took steps last weekend to provide future office space for his busy agency. By purchasing the Professional Center on Ann Arbor Trail from Fletcher Campbell and Richard Widmaier he says he will always have available office space if the need arises.

Television and appliance dealer Earl West found his own television set out of order last Thursday night and turned his attention to the current copy of The Plymouth Mail. Stated Mr. West on Friday, "darned if I didn't read the whole thing, word for word, page by page, and stayed up an hour later than usual but found myself really enthused by all the doings of the people in town."

Two local fishermen asked that their names be added to Marvin Terry's Florida fishing list this week. Fire Chief Bob McAllister says he can be found anytime around Christmas and New Year's at the dock of the Lake Worth fishing fleet where he intends to spend his holiday vacation, and Steve Schultz, well known Hillside bartender, wants Marvin to know that he will be on the sands at Juno Beach fishing for Pompano for the next several weeks with the exception of New Year's Day. At that time he intends taking in the Orange Bowl game in Miami if he can get tickets.

Speaking of Florida fishing also reminds us that column readers have a real treat in store for the next three issues. Since your editor also takes an annual holiday vacation in Florida and for Marvin's benefit, can be found on the sands at Riviera Beach, three well known local residents have been prevailed upon to provide the material for this column. We can assure you of some superb reading ahead.

While local city planners dream of a possible future hospital for this area, aggressive Livonia Mayor Jesse Ziegler announced Saturday that Livonia is about ready to announce plans for a new hospital right after the first of the year. It seems plans are all set with the Felician Sisters on Schoolcraft road to have the hospital built on their property and operated by their very efficient order.

Says Donald Sutherland, well known local, public accountant, so many of my clients have left their problems in my hands previous to January 15, I might lessen the Florida population next year by doing a turn about and going south myself.

Heating contractor John Campbell says he is busy enough with his regular work but he can't sleep nights when he thinks about some 3,000 oil burners in this area he services and only has half a crew of oil burner mechanics to do the work. According to John, he is now devoting full time to the job of acquiring more service men to be ready should winter really set in.

Bob Kuzava, New York Yankee pitching star, showed up last Wednesday at the Mayflower hotel with Plymouth's Bob Gilles and was taken on a tour of the hotel by Manager Ralph Lorenz. Kuzava is employed in the off season by the Pfeiffer Brewing company.

Speaking of the Mayflower, Lorenz reports that he is still receiving letters of congratulations from persons throughout the country of the hotel's recent 25th anniversary. Lorenz sent 2500 extra copies of the Plymouth Mail hotel section to Mayflower guests everywhere.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Some 22 months ago a nervous and confused young father touched a match to a pile of maps and started the $4,500,000 state building fire.

Michigan's state government is just beginning to recover from the holocaust.

In the last few weeks the Insurance, Agriculture and Public Service departments have moved into the top floor of the building, and by January the top three floors will be occupied.

The young father is in Jackson State prison, divorced from his young wife and baby. It all began Feb. 8, 1951 on a cold, quiet afternoon. Richard C. Shay, a plump, smooth-faced minor employee of the state highway department was worried about his draft status. Shay, then 19 years old, had a pretty blond wife and a seven-months old daughter.

"I was afraid to go to war," he said afterwards. "I just didn't see any reason for spending two years in training."

He planned to start a small fire where he worked on the mezzanine floor and later confess to it. "I thought if I admitted it I'd be placed on probation and wouldn't have to go in the army," he told detectives.

The young man touched off a map in one of the storage bins of the highway department. Then he went to lunch.

Fifteen firemen were injured in the spectacular blaze and Shay's match set off a chain reaction that partially paralyzed state government.

Most of the 1,300 employees were at lunch when the fire began. They returned to pick up papers, typewriters and anything else they could lay hands on and retreat from the smoking building.

The fire didn't look like much at first, just a few spirals of smoke from the mezzanine floor—which actually was a floor between floors. Before it was over fire rages from Flint, Jackson, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids had answered emergency calls.

"We could smell the rubber burning on our coats," a fireman said. "We could stand the smoke but not the terrific heat."

Millions of gallons of water were poured into the building to cascade from the top floors to the basement causing untold damage ($250,000 alone to the state library on the ground floor). Two days later the fire was declared under control but for five days more firemen uncovered smoldering piles of rubbish.

Many departments of state government were in chaos. Before the fire was even out, the department of administration was renting, buying, borrowing and seizing quarters for the displaced employees. In three weeks offices were set up in all corners of Lansing and East Lansing in quarters that would make a rabbit warren look like the Taj Mahal.

State departments were operating out of vacant stores, a condemned Y.M.C.A. building, quonset huts at Michigan State college, an auditorium in which the ceiling had collapsed only a year before, an old bus station and the armory.

By spring the clean-up work at the building was largely done and it was that long before the legislature got around to approving bids for the reconstruction.

The rebuilding now is almost completed. Adrian N. Languis, director of the building division, was as good as his word, and despite the removal of the top two floors, the building will house as many workers as it previously did. This he accomplished by utilizing waste space in the basement, narrowing corridors and the like.

The new Stephens T. Mason building, now under construction is expected to provide quarters for an additional 1,500 workers when it is opened next July or August.

But the government will still have some 1,300 workers still in rented space throughout Lansing. The new building and the renovation of the old will take some of the pressure off Michigan's crowded agencies, but is not yet the complete answer to the problem.

What of Richard C. Shay? He currently is serving a 4-to-10 year sentence for arson. His wife has divorced him. The earliest he can be released is Feb. 8, 1954, third anniversary of the fire.

Incidentally, draft officials later said that Shay, as a married man and father, would have been exempt from service.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES COLLEGES' DIFFICULTIES

Babson Park, Mass., December 18. I believe that free colleges and universities, unencumbered by Government ties, are essential to our economy. I am sure General Eisenhower—due to his experiences with Columbia University—believes likewise. We both are disturbed by the weak financial condition of hundreds of our important colleges.

COSTS UP — CONTRIBUTIONS DOWN

Inflation has forced operating costs sky high, while taxation has kept gifts down low. This, of course, the result of shortsighted legislation of "soak the rich and excess tax business." We have reached the point where very few individuals believe they can afford to contribute large sums to educational institutions.

An indication of the end of this kind of policy is hinted at in a recent issue of the Harvard Business Review: Harvard's endowment stood at $139,000,000 in 1940, with total annual operating expenses of $11,000,000. By June, 1951, Harvard's endowment had reached over $200,000,000; but annual operating expenses had risen to over $32,000,000. In other words, during that period, while its endowment increased 46 per cent, its operating expenses zoomed 195 per cent! Probably close to half of our colleges are currently operating in the red.

COST OF EDUCATION TOO HIGH

To help relieve this financial stress, colleges have raised tuition costs, increased class size, trimmed facilities, and raised board and room rent. The result: the old, large colleges now cost parents $2,000 per year. Add to this clothing, transportation, and amusement, and Dad is lucky if he gets out of it for $2,500 per year. It is true that this cost can be reduced by enrolling your son in a College of Business Administration which combines four

Women Employees Hold 30th Dinner

The thirtieth annual dinner of the women employees and former employees of the Ford Motor company's Phoenix plant was held Friday, December 12, in the Mayflower room of the Mayflower hotel.

Approximately 115 persons, many of whom were present at the first meeting, November 6, 1922, attended.

The group which always meets sometime before Christmas first met in members' homes. It was not long before the membership increased and the annual meetings are now conducted in the hotel.

At the most recent dinner, entertainment was furnished by Mrs. Norman Goebel, a Ford employee, and Betty and Shirley Salmon.

years' work into three years; but this means your boy must work.

How many fathers can afford $2,500 per year for four years when the top 20 per cent of our population holds 93 per cent of our total net savings? This leaves the bottom 80 per cent with but 7 per cent of our national savings. Add to this the fact that the average earnings for all full-time employees in the United States are around $3,250 and you begin to think that the old colleges and universities may be pricing themselves out of the market.

Should present trends continue, I am afraid that Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and other famous institutions will be for only the privileged few who can afford their education, rather than for those who most deserve it. This, ordinarily, would be dangerous for a free society. Democracy needs the best character and brains of its citizenry, irrespective of their families' wealth. But I believe that today the smaller and more economical institutions are really developing better men.

GOVERNMENT AID GIVEN IN 1944-50

Even under present conditions, the Government has already been generous. At the height of G. I. education in 1947, the United States Government was paying 50 per cent of the colleges' operating costs. For the fiscal year ended in June, 1950, the Government contributed $3,617,518,287 for general educational purposes. It is this form of financial aid that has kept many colleges alive these last few years, although this is not a satisfactory educational practice.

Our colleges should have further substantial financial aid both for operating expenses and scholarships to worthy students. Corporations could easily contribute to philanthropies 3 per cent of the 5 per cent allowable net taxable income which the law permits them to give tax free. This 3 per cent would come to about $1.4 billion. If 25 per cent of this, or about $300 million, were tabbed for higher educational institutions, including business schools that do such a fine job with individuals, the problem might be solved. But will business respond before it is too late? What will your company do about this important issue?
