UNCORKING THE NEWS

By Carl Peterson

They tell us that Washington, D.C., is jumping like a cricket on a hot hearth in preparation for the big inaugural doings. Sounds like it's going to be the biggest thing since bubble gum. Seats were sold out months ago, and about all a fellow can get now is standing room — on somebody else's shoulders — and even that takes connections.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kolin of North Territorial road announce the birth of a son, Louis Jeffrey on Christmas Day, December 25. He was born at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor and weighed eight pounds, eight ounces at birth. Mrs. Kolin is the former Ladema Johnson.

Record 175,000 Babies Born in 1952; Death Rate Stays at Nine to 1,000

The people of Michigan had a healthy year in 1952. The death rate remained at the all-time low of 9 per 1,000 population for the fourth consecutive year. More babies were born than during any other year in the state's history—approximately 175,000—topping the previous high of 1951 by about 3,000.

The tuberculosis death rate dropped to a new low—from 17.9 per 100,000 population in 1951 to less than 13 per 100,000 in 1952. There has been little change, however, in the number of reported cases of tuberculosis in recent years. It is expected that when the 1953 figures are tabulated there will be a slight increase over last year's 6,100 reported cases.

Except for Southeastern Michigan, including Wayne county, the immediate needs of new and replacement sanatorium beds are well on the way toward being met. An additional 879 beds are expected to be made available within the next 18 months.

It appears there will be a slight increase in the number of reported cases of syphilis in 1952, the first increase since the peak year of 1946 when 19,951 cases were reported. Approximately 7,000 cases were reported this year, a seven per cent increase over 1951.

Most of the other communicable diseases continued downward trends, with the exception of polio which is the only serious communicable disease that was epidemic during the year. Approximately 3,700 cases were reported, the highest number since records have been kept by the state health department.

Heart disease, cancer and apoplexy continued to lead as causes of death accounting for over half the total deaths in the state. Accidents were in fourth place, followed by pneumonia, diabetes, arteriosclerosis, immaturity at birth, tuberculosis and nephritis. The only change in the alignment of the ten major causes of death was in tuberculosis which dropped to ninth place and immaturity at birth which moved up into eighth place.

A case of smallpox was reported in Michigan for the first time since 1943. The patient was a transient laborer. The disease was recovered, the patient isolated and other workers in the labor camp vaccinated in time to prevent any possibility of its spreading.

Diphtheria and typhoid fever were at an all-time low in 1952 and whooping cough was at its lowest point of the past three years. Another year was completed without a case of typhoid fever being traced to a public water supply, extending the record to 13 years.

It was safer than ever to have a baby in Michigan in 1952 as maternal and infant death rates continued their downward trends. In 1951, the maternal mortality rate was 0.5 as compared to 12.3 fifty years ago. The infant mortality rate was 26.1 in 1951 as compared to 146.2 in 1901. Final rates haven't been determined for 1952, but the trend is downward.

The fluoridation of public water supplies for the prevention of tooth decay gained in popularity during the year, with the number of cities adding fluoride to their water supplies increasing from 15 at the beginning of the year to 27, serving a population of nearly a million.

The state health department laboratories performed over 1,300,000 diagnostic tests, highest in their history. Over 3,600,000 doses of serums and vaccines were distributed during the year to physicians for the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of disease.

4 PHS Students in All-State Band

Four Plymouth High school students will be among the 650 members of all-state band and chorus to perform at the Midwest Music Conference at the University of Michigan, January 9 and 10.

Elen Daane, 530 Garfield avenue, will sing alto in the chorus as will Judith Richwine, 9424 Corrine street and Terry Carney, 238 South Main street, Ann Hammond, 302 Sunset street, will play the alto clarinet in the all state band.

Chosen by their own music instructors to be members of the all-state groups, there are 192 students in the chorus, 163 in the high school band, 160 in the intermediate band, and 123 in the orchestra. They will hold a reunion dinner Friday and present a series of informal concerts on Saturday.

The event has been sponsored for eight years by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra, Vocal and Music Educators association and the University School of Music and Extension service.

Apartment Building on Mill Nears Completion; Nine Units Occupied

An 18-apartment "E" shaped structure, under construction since last October, is nearing completion at its 300 North Mill street location, it was announced today. Modern in every detail, the apartments, all rental, are one-bedroom units with a living room, kitchenette and tiled bathrooms with vari-colored fixtures.

Nine of the apartments, renting for $95 a month, with all utilities included except electricity, are already occupied, said a member of the Plymouth Development company, contractors. The remaining nine will be completed and ready for occupancy about January 15.

Unique in the structure of the building is its brick-faced fingertype construction built in the form of an "E" with terraces on either side of the middle "finger". A common utility room with an automatic washer and dryer is available to all tenants.

The living rooms are 12 1/2 by 18 feet, the bedrooms 11 by 12 1/2.

Edward Gardiner to Head DeHoCo as Career Chief

Edward B. Gardiner, who has been deputy superintendent 14 years, will become superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction with the retirement next June of Blake Gillies, 68, who has headed the "model" prison for 16 years.

A career man, Gardiner, 64, has been in prison work ever since he was graduated from William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., in 1911. His first full-time job was as guard at the Kansas City, Mo. prison farm, where he worked until 1921.

Working briefly as a welfare officer when he came to DeHoCo in 1921, Gardiner was put in charge of the records department, a position he held there until appointed deputy superintendent in 1929.

Gardiner said he expected to run DeHoCo (the nation's No. 1 "model" penal institution) "just as it has been in the past." He has worked closely with Gillies and the House of Correction Commission.

"It has been a privilege working with such an outstanding man as the present superintendent," Gardiner was quoted as saying, praising Gillies' work that led to DeHoCo's top FBI rating.

Gardiner was described by Commissioner Harry Weinbaum as a "very loyal, conscientious and hard-working person." He expressed confidence that Gardiner would maintain policies.

A native of Scandia, Kansas, Gardiner was educated in Atlanta, Georgia and Liberty.

Apple Pie Champ Gives Recipe

You too can bake an apple pie — an apple pie that may well earn a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Harvey Rutherford, wife of a Decatur dairy farmer and mother of six children, was recently acclaimed Michigan's apple pie baking champion in a contest at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural Society in Grand Rapids.

Her entry topped 61 other pies entered by county winners from all parts of Michigan. It earned her $50 of top prize money furnished by the Michigan State Apple Commission. It was acclaimed by the judges as a "truly outstanding achievement in culinary art."

Now Mrs. Rutherford tells how she did it — gives out all her secrets so you too can bake a championship pie.

Here is her recipe:
Crust: 1 1/2 cups unsifted flour; one teaspoon baking powder; one-half cup lard; one teaspoon salt; six tablespoons cold milk. Cut lard into dry ingredients and add milk. Mix with serving knife. Divide for crusts and roll.

Filling: Enough thinly sliced Michigan Northern Spy apples to fill slightly more than level full a 9" pie dish; one cup sugar; one tablespoon flour; one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg; one-half teaspoon cinnamon; one tablespoon butter. Mix dry ingredients together, placing half on bottom crust. Place sliced apples on dry mixture and sprinkle remainder of mix on top. Dot top with butter. Moisten edge of crust with water; seal with pastry decorator; coat crust with cream. Bake at 425° for 10 to 15 minutes and 325° for 45 minutes.

Meant to Drop Locally, Advertising Balloons End Up in New York

Publicity-minded, one local businessman nearly a month ago had 20 or 40 business cards to that many helium-filled toy balloons and set them adrift in the air currents — and not without results.

A letter from Silver Creek, New York received by Kenneth G. Swain, owner of Swain Radio and Television, 630 Starkweather, some two weeks ago told of finding the balloons after they had plummeted to earth there.

Swain, who said the balloons were meant to drop locally to advertise his business, noted the balloons had got "all tangled up" as they were released, accounting perhaps for their airborne ride to Silver Creek.

Gun For Safety Club Organized by 4-H Leader

Plymouth's 4-H Club was today listed as the first group among its nation-wide membership to organize a gun club.

In existence some three months, the club boasts a membership of 27, notably urban youths from Plymouth High school, ranging from 10 to 17 years of age.

Organized under the direction of Mrs. Eva Reed, of 43790 Shearer drive, the group, officially called the 4-H Gun for Safety Club, meets the first Tuesday of each month at Hough school on Warren road and Haggerty highway.

Mrs. Reed said target practice sessions will be held for members following their sixth meeting. Furnished by club members, the guns to be used are of the 22-caliber variety.

Instruction in the safe handling of firearms is being emphasized by rifle instructors right now teaching youths how to handle guns not only on the rifle range but in the woods as well, Mrs. Reed said.

She urged more youths interested in joining to appear when the club ordinarily meets, stating that persons experienced in the use of firearms were also needed to instruct the growing membership.

The club was organized under the protective wing of 4-H Club urban agents from Wayne, Raymond O. Land and Miss Lois Flashland.

Its president is William Stockton, Jr.; vice president, Miss Rosemary Gaab; and secretary, Miss Ruth Hopper. Junior Leaders are Joe Mitchell, Charles Halton and William Ramp.

The club's fourth meeting will feature Dr. B. E. Champe as guest speaker.

Culling Flocks Cuts Feed Bill

Cull your laying flock now. There are two seasons of egg production. The season of scarce eggs at higher prices is passing and the season of more eggs at lower prices is starting. Your flock must be efficient to be profitable.

If a layer produces two eggs a week, it is doubtful if she pays for her board. If she is laying four eggs a week, she should give a profit.

No time should be wasted over birds that are not laying. Send them to market right away. Look for the hens with the small combs and wattles and the small snake-like heads. The place for these birds is in the stew pot for the low-priced egg season.

By culling out low-producing hens you cut your feed bill without cutting egg production. The good producers that are left will increase in efficiency.

This low-priced season lasts for six months. It is time to act on the culling job now. It is one New Year's resolution that will pay.

Grange Cleanings

Tonight is the birthday supper for January folks so come and take your place at the special birthday table. Potluck of course about 7 p.m. The usual business meeting and initiation of three candidates in the first and second degrees.

Grange dues are payable at the secretary's desk.

Mrs. Dorothy Fredericks, of Pittsfield Grange will be with us and speak on Pomona and other things relative to Grange work.

Mrs. Fred Eberts is at home again and is some what better.

Fred Pinnow is also at home and getting along fine.

On Tuesday, January 13 those who belong to Pomona are invited to attend the Pomona meeting at Stony Creek hall. As four of our members are officers in Pomona, there should be a good crowd go over from our Grange. Stony Creek is not far away.

On Wednesday, January 14, we are taking our candidates over to Pittsfield Grange where they will be given the third and fourth degrees by the Pittsfield degree team. We hope for a fine delegation of our members on that occasion.

Will Greer is better but is still in the hospital, he is allowed to have company now and will be glad to see his friends.

Experts Warn That Some 1952 Tax Returns Due By January 15

Breadwinners earning more than $4,500 each year, plus $600 for each exemption, had better take a quick, understanding tax look at federal laws pegging income tax if they don't want to get into a peck of trouble.

The warning comes from tax experts who note that January 15 is rapidly displacing March 15 as the big income tax day.

Many persons, the experts reported, are mistakenly filing tax returns on January 15 when they should have been making quarterly tax payments throughout the year.

Apparently, confusion reigns as to who must put up the tax payment for the 1952 year by January 15. Briefly, it affects these persons:

- One whose wages subject to withholding in excess of $4,500 plus $600 for each exemption—for example $5,100 in the case of a single person.
- One who gets income from all other sources in excess of $100, provided his total income is expected to amount to $600 or more.

This whole issue of who pays what and when revolves around a declaration of estimated income.

Mr. Taxpayer - In - A - Hurry wonders whether this talk about filing a declaration of estimated income tax concerns him. A declaration is a prediction by the taxpayer of his income for the ensuing year. A final return is a statement of what he actually made or lost in the previous year, accompanied by a payment to, or claim on, the government.

He obtains an instruction form (1040-ES).

He scans it and immediately sees Item 8, "Return in Place of Declaration."

It says: "If, on or before Jan. 15, 1953 (or, in the case of farmers, Jan. 31, 1953), you file your 1952 income tax return and pay in full the balance of tax due, you need not file a declaration or amended declaration which would otherwise be due."

He says: "Aha, all I have to do is file a return by Jan. 15 and I'm in. No nonsense about declarations, amended declarations, estimations for me."

Unfortunately, Mr. Taxpayer may be in for a jolt in the form of a penalty slapped on him by Uncle Sam.

For Item 8 doesn't mean that at all.

What it means can only be understood if Item 1, (Item 2, as to whom the law affects has already been mentioned) 4, and 6, in particular, are read and understood.

Item 1. The purpose of the declaration is to provide a basis for paying currently any income taxes due in excess of the tax withheld from wages, salaries and other payments for personal services.

Item 4. Your estimated tax (if you qualify under either 2a or 2b) may be paid in full with the declaration (on or before March 15) or in equal installments on or before March 15, June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15.

Item 6. Even though your situation on March 15 is such that you are not required to file a declaration at that time, your situation may change (raise in pay, make money on the stock market, etc.) so that you will be required to file a declaration later. In such a case the time for filing is like this: June 15, if the change occurs after March 1 and before June 2; Sept. 15, if the change occurs after June 1 and before Sept. 2; Jan. 15, if the change occurs after Sept. 1. The estimated tax may be paid in equal installments on the remaining payment dates.

If, after you have filed a declaration, you find that your estimated tax is substantially increased or decreased, you should file an amended declaration on or before the next filing date—June 15, Sept. 15, or Jan. 15.

What this all adds up to is that Item 8 refers only to declarations and amended declarations arising from something that changed your situation after Sept. 1.

Only those persons who didn't meet the requirements until the fourth quarter (after Sept. 1) would be required to file a declaration by Jan. 15.

Because this would contain the same information that would be included in a final return, the Bureau of Internal Revenue cuts down duplication by allowing such a person to file a final return and not a declaration.

Also, in lieu of filing a regular quarterly payment due Jan. 15 by persons who have already paid on March 15, June 15 and Sept. 15, the Bureau will accept a final return. This would be the balance due on the estimated tax.

One other group is allowed to file a final return on Jan. 15. This includes persons who would otherwise file an amended declaration arising from changes in their income after Sept. 1. Here again, the Bureau cuts out duplication by incorporating that information in a final return.

Put in a nutshell, it stacks up this way:

If you are required to file a declaration some time during the year other than in the final quarter, filing a final return Jan. 15 isn't enough.

And if that's all you do, you may wind up in a peck of trouble with the federal government.

Local C & O Commuters Honor Retiring Conductor in Ceremony

ALMOST HALF A CENTURY OF RAILROADING ended on a high note December 29 when William L. Freyman, conductor on the Chesapeake & Ohio Grand Rapids-Detroit commuter run for 46 years was presented with a thermometer-barometer and cribbage board from a host of Plymouth commuters. Shown making the presentation to Freyman aboard his train is Detroit's probate judge, James H. Sexton, himself a resident here. Grouped around Freyman (from left to right) are Plymouthites Regina Polley, Harold Darling, Wilda Balch and Florence Griggs. Freyman, who says he will move to Florida following his retirement, is a former resident here, now residing in Grand Rapids.

Conductor William L. Freyman, who on December 31 ended nearly half a century of railroading, had the plaudits, the heartfelt thanks and gifts of grateful Plymouth commuters as he headed south for a Florida retirement.

Feted on the eve of his retirement, Freyman, 70, is retiring after 46 years as a conductor on the Chesapeake & Ohio Detroit-Grand Rapids run. He received a thermometer-barometer and cribbage board in trainboard ceremonies as commuters crowded around him. The presentations were made by Probate Judge James H. Sexton, himself a Plymouth resident.

A former Plymouthite, Freyman, who now lives in Grand Rapids, started railroading when oil lamps dripped in wood passenger cars and soot swirled through window crevices to set riders to fussing and fuming.

He recalls that he walked many miles getting away from peeved passengers by "moving on to the next car."

Marking railroading progress (and the decline of passenger peevess), Freyman says that double windows and electric lighting brought railroading out of its infancy, nothing that the

A girl doesn't mind chapped lips caused by the right fellow as much as she minds lips chapped by the wind.

A lot of Plymouth men think a dictionary is something you put in a chair and stand on while hanging a picture.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

You will notice that my all-state football team is on this page. It is a bit on the humorous side, and was meant to be that way, but, it is just about as sensible as those picked by the big city dailies.

I can see where a hundred or two hundred could be named to an honorary team and be fairly accurate, and more fair to the boys.

I saw many former high school athletes and students home for the holidays. Ran into Edson Whipple in the barber shop. Edson says Michigan won't be in the Big Ten basketball picture this year, but that the team is a decided improvement over those of the past few years.

Members Enjoy Badminton Club

Approximately 100 badminton fans attended the exhibition staged by four amateur champions of Detroit last week Monday evening in the high school gymnasium.

William Saxton says at the present time there are 35 badminton players enjoying themselves every Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the new gymnasium at the high school.

There is a slight charge for the use of the rackets, birds, etc., but there is no charge for children.
