Grandma Sees That Even Food Has Changed A Lot in 50 Years

Bottled milk is just something you take for granted now. You just put an empty bottle on your porch at night and in the morning there it is — full. But back in 1900 things weren't that way. E. S. Cook advertised in the Plymouth Mail that "Cook's bottled milk is the handiest, cleanest way to handle milk." It was a new-fangled idea then.

Food is something that we don't expect to change much through time. But if you will look at the labors of the housewife and the meals she used to prepare you'll see there have been some great changes.

The Ladies' Home Journal of 50 years ago advised its readers that "roast pig, chicken pie, roast turkey, mashed potatoes, turnips, squash, onions, baked beans, brown bread, mince and pumpkin pies" are essential to a Yuletide feast. Why would you ever think of putting such a meal on the table — it would take forever to prepare. But then, women were slaves to their kitchens in 1900.

Just as meals were larger in those days prices were a lot smaller. The A. J. Lapham Company in Plymouth offered 17 pounds of granulated sugar for one dollar. And imagine buying coffee for 14 cents a pound. Peas were ten cents a can, and Mr. Lapham would sell you three cans of tomatoes for 25 cents. And picture yourself arguing with your butcher over paying nine cents a pound for pork. Such prices present a good reason for calling them the "good old days."

But there were lots of things women couldn't buy in the stores — at any price. Now you think of buying rolls in a half baked form — ready to put in your oven so they taste like homemade ones. In 1900 they were home-made. Women not only baked their own rolls, but their bread, cakes, and everything else — all in a wood-burning stove.

Robert Richards Guest Speaker at Welsh Banquet

Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church will be the principal speaker at the Welsh National Day banquet in New York, Saturday, and at Pottsville, Pennsylvania, on March 2.

"March 1 is the National day of Wales, known as St. David's day," remarked the pastor who lived in Wales until 22 years ago, "when all the Welsh people, or those of Welsh descent gather to honor the patron saint of Wales, St. David."

"Naturally," he continued, "most of the entertainment will be singing of the old Welsh hymns and folk songs."

Other persons participating in the program will be Lowell Thomas and Governor Thomas Dewey, both of Welsh descent.

Captain William Roberts of the Salvation Army will preach during the absence of Reverend Richards.

Chorus Slates Second Practice

The turn out for the Community Chorus was not as large as in previous years. Only 31 were present at the rehearsal Monday evening. A second rehearsal will be held on Monday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The chorus is preparing to present "Die Fledermaus" as a part of the Creative Arts Festival, April 12. Fred Nelson, director of the chorus, urges anyone interested in exercising his vocal talents to come to the next rehearsal.

Judge Jay Payne Gives Address to Optimist Club

An inspirational message was given the Optimist club Monday night by Judge Jay Payne, of Ann Arbor. Judge Payne is lieutenant governor of the 17th District of Optimists, which covers the metropolitan Detroit area.

His talk, entitled "How Much Do You Really Care," was greeted with much enthusiasm by the members. He reminded them of what a great country America is, and that things are not always as dark as they appear on the surface.

Judge Payne also praised the Plymouth Optimist club for having the seventh highest rating of clubs in the state of Michigan. This rating is achieved by points earned by the clubs through work accomplished, membership, etc.

The next meeting, Monday, March 2, will be the monthly business meeting.

Dwarf Maple Is Really Tall Tree

Dwarf Maple 1952 National Wildlife Federation

The common name of dwarf maple might imply that this tree was really small. As a matter of fact it may reach a height of 30 feet and have a trunk diameter up to 1 foot. The branches are relatively small and upright. They are pale green to brown at first but by the end of the first half year have become a brilliant reddish brown. They may be somewhat angled and are smooth. Sometimes the tree appears as a many branched shrub if a tree can be definition be a shrub. It is probably because of this habit that we have the name dwarf maple.

The dwarf maple ranges from Montana to the Black Hills of South Dakota down to Nebraska through Colorado, Utah, Nevada to northern Arizona and New Mexico. It is found in the Siskiyou into Kern County, California, and within its ranges is found up to altitudes of 6000 feet in the northern part of its range and of 9000 feet in the southern part. It is commonly found along the banks of water courses in the Rocky Mountain area.

Like other maples, the dwarf maple has opposite leaves. They may be deeply 3-lobed or even 5-lobed but in some the lobing is shallow. They are to 5 inches in diameter, a bright dark green above considerably lighter beneath. They may be up to 6 inches long with a long or a short petiole. Sometimes they may take on a brilliant red color. The twigs form a reasonably popular browse for mule deer and mountain sheep and white-tailed deer have been known to eat them.

Some of the plants bear rather conspicuous fruits while others seem to bear none. This is because the pollen is usually produced on plants different from those bearing the fruits. This is the usual thing in this tree but not always the case.

The fruits are much like those of other maples, consisting of two-winged parts with the wings extending in directions opposite to each other. The wings of the fruit may be almost an inch long, and may be rose colored in the summer and red in the autumn. The fruits mature in late autumn and if collected for planting will be found to run as high as 20,000 to a pound. Fruits are sometimes harvested to start new plantings where soil erosion is to be kept under control and where the browse may have value to wildlife. Under the name of "Rocky Mountain maple" it is sometimes raised in nurseries for sale as an ornamental.

The wood of the dwarf maple is heavy, hard, close-grained. The heartwood is light brown to white and the thick sapwood is usually lighter colored than the heartwood.

Begin To Cut Food Costs In Kitchen

Cutting food expenditures can begin right in your kitchen. One step toward economy is getting the most from the food you buy, and that starts with proper care of it from the time purchased until served.

Take meat, for instance. For best keeping qualities, fresh meat should be unwrapped as soon as possible after it is purchased. With the heavy wrappings removed, store it uncovered or lightly topped with waxed paper in the meat keeper or other cold section of your refrigerator. This allows for a desirable slight drying-out of the meat surface.

Cooked meats are cared for in just the opposite way. Further drying after cooking is not desirable, so meat that is cooked should be closely wrapped with waxed paper, aluminum foil or placed in a covered dish before storing in the refrigerator. Canned meats may be left on your kitchen shelf with the exception of canned hams. These should be placed under refrigeration.

Merchants View Dollar Days As Quite Successful

Dollar Days in Plymouth last weekend on the whole were successful in spite of the bad weather. Particularly on Friday when it rained most of the day, more traffic was noted than has been seen in Plymouth in a long time. The number of cars on the streets even outdid the heavy traffic of the Christmas rush.

The volume of sales for the weekend ranked high among the years average sales for a single weekend. Although some stores did not realize as many customers as were expected, most stores were very well satisfied. Three or four of the larger stores cited this year's Dollar Days as one of the biggest events their stores had ever had.

Many special items were brought in by merchants to sell at the special sale price always associated with Plymouth Dollar Days. These in general sold well. Likewise many drivers took advantage of the free parking which was an added attraction this year. The Chamber of Commerce retail merchants division met the cost of putting the paper sacks over the meters for the weekend.

Customers who patronize the Dollar Day values found that Dollar Days are truly the time to find many items at bargain prices.

Phone Operator Aids in Arrest of Safe Cracker

The quick thinking of a phone operator was instrumental in capturing a safe cracker in a Farmington school.

Just 11 minutes from the time the operator saw a light flash on her switchboard the burglar was picked up in the school by police.

Ruth Wilkinson, night operator in Farmington, saw the flash on her board at 4:05 a. m. last Thursday. Though the light only flashed for a moment she recognized that it was from one of the schools. Somebody had apparently juggled the phone. She quickly checked the number and informed the police that a phone signal had come from the high school at that unlikely hour.

While the police were going to the high school Miss Wilkinson discovered that she had made an error, and that the signal had come from the elementary school instead. She gave this information to police and at 4:16 a. m. they apprehended a safe cracker in the school.

Dear A. Sipson, district manager of Michigan Bell Telephone company, said that this was but one example of the alertness of Michigan Bell operators.

To see a thing and tell it in plain words is the greatest thing a soul can do. —Ruskin

"He'll be sent up for ten days," remarked the skunk pensively as the police led off his victim.

A SIMILAR PRESENTATION to the one above was also made by the Republican club in memory of Elton R. Eaton, former publisher of The Plymouth Mail. Shown admiring the book held by Mrs. Henderson are Elton R. Eaton II and Mrs. Elton R. Eaton, who both attended the memorial services held by that organization at the Veterans' Memorial Foundation home.

Inter-Community

ford, who is wam to the whole idea, feels that the added savings would be realized by streamlining collection methods, eliminating some duplicate collections and far-flung treks of collectors to individual garbage cans.

Statistics show that on an average each person throws away about 200 pounds of garbage and 200 pounds of rubbish annually. This means that for Plymouth, some 1,837 tons of the (ugh) stuff is collected by the city each year. At the incineration cost the total burning price would be $5,439. Annually the city spends about $29,000 for collection of garbage and rubbish, the major portions of which go toward defraying collection costs.

Meeting in the near future to study the garbage-rubbish problem head on are representatives from each of the communities showing interest in the project. They will study real costs and other aspects of incineration that Rathbun concluded, offer the only permanent solution to the mounting refuse disposal problem.

Whatever feeling is evolved there, this much is known: Garbage cans here and in many other communities throughout the area will overflow if the legislature clamps down the lid on feeding raw or cooked garbage to swine.

The problem here could reach serious proportions in view of the fact that a Plymouth township ordinance prohibits the establishment of a sanitary fill where trenches are gouged out for mass burial of refuse and then bulldozed over.

Leadership Days To Be March 3-5

To acquaint Madonna college students with the qualities necessary for leadership, the Student Association is sponsoring Leadership Days on March 3 and 5. The theme chosen for those days is, "Madonna college, where young women learn to lead in accordance with Christian principles."

These Leadership Days, as provided for by the Student Association Constitution, are scheduled to precede Student Association elections. Primaries will be held on March 13 and the finals on March 20. In connection with these elections the program has been so planned, that students may become informed on the qualifications most desirable in future leaders.

Miss Alice Sturgeski, Student Association president, will open the first days program with an address in which she will emphasize that potential leaders must have the personalities of leaders. They must not shun the necessary natural and supernatural aids that will help them in their undertakings. Leaders must develop their personalities to become truly Christlike. Miss Sturgeski will point that both extremes must be avoided, as overrating the value of natural effort or the over-exaggeration of the supernatural.

Following the speech, students will be shown two films entitled, "Developing Responsibility" and "Development of Leadership". Miss Patricia Maciejewski, Student Association vice-president, will act as chairman for the evening.

Highlighting the second day's program will be an address by Harry O. Johnson, Superintendent of the Livonia public school system.

To conclude the program members of the executive council will present an original skit entitled, "Before and After". The skit will portray how participation in NFCCS (National Federation of Catholic College Students) activities helps to develop future leaders.

The Leadership Program was first introduced by the Student Association three years ago. Since then it has developed into one of the major activities on campus, aiming to show students how to become good "Catholic leaders."

Plymouth Girl Loses Clothes in Dorm Fire

Norma Van Dyke, of 9585 Joy road, was lucky enough to be outside when her dormitory at Antioch college caught fire Sunday night. All the girls escaped safely, but many lost their clothes and personal belongings in the blaze.

Norma's room was not directly damaged by the fire, but she expects that her belongings were ruined by the smoke and water.

Firemen believe the fire started in the attic of North Hall dormitory. The 100-year-old building was badly damaged and it is estimated that $500,000 will be needed to replace the girls' residence. Only $118,000 of that amount will be supplied by the insurance that covered the building.

Norma and the other girls who live in the dormitory will reside in barracks for the remainder of the school year.

UNCORKING THE NEWS

By Carl Peterson

There are many ways to make an honest dollar, but a cotton farmer in New Mexico has beaten all of us for ingenuity. He is turning flocks of geese loose in his cotton patches . . . to eat all the weeds between the rows that are such a problem to the cotton grower. The farmer used to have to import crews of Mexican laborers to hoe the rows . . . but the "honkers" do it for free, and get fat at the same time.

So now he's raising cotton and geese at the same time and he doesn't have to feed the geese. His flock is getting so large he's lending geese to his neighbors as weed eaters. He'll sell dressed geese to markets, and geese-down to pillow factories. Who was it that said there wasn't any opportunity for new business ideas any more? But, as one fellow said, suppose his flock wants to go where the wild geese goes . . .

After reading the newspaper list of the nation's ten Best Dressed Women, the local philosopher says, "I'd sure hate to be living with the eleventh best!" For purity of ingredients and accuracy of preparation, depend on Peterson, trusted 500 times a month by those who want the certainty of accurate prescriptions. Calvary Baptist Starts WPAG Radio Broadcasts From Church on March 8

The Calvary Baptist church of 496 West Ann Arbor trail, starting March 8, will be the scene of Sunday afternoon remote control broadcasts originating with radio station WPAG (1050) in Ann Arbor.

Arrangements for the 4 p.m. broadcasts were completed Friday, announced the Reverend Patrick J. Clifford, pastor of the church.

It marks the first time that the Baptist ministry here has taken to the air waves, along with his pastorate, as a permanent project of the church.

Reverend Clifford said that following an eight-week trial period the broadcasts will become a permanent part of the church's program.

A format for the remote-casts has tentatively been set up. Five minutes will be devoted to a children's Bible story, five minutes for Reverend Clifford's message and some 20 minutes to solo and group hymnals.

A 32-voice choir from The London Bible Institute and Theological Seminary will present a special program during the March 22 broadcast. Reverend Clifford said, with the president of the seminary delivering a special message. He noted that a 11 a.m. broadcast has been scheduled for just one Sunday, on April 12.

"We're looking at the broadcasts from a missionary standpoint," Reverend Clifford said, stating that the program in part will be designed to appeal to shut-ins or persons confined for hospital treatment.

That Christ Jesus came to show man his true relationship to God as Father, is brought out in this Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, March 1. The Golden Text is from John (3:17): "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved." Among the Bible citations is this passage. (John 5:19): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do; for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature. The name is synonymous with Messiah, and alludes to the spirituality which is taught, illustrated, and demonstrated in the life of which Christ Jesus was the embodiment." (P. 333)

Solid Choice of Solid Citizens!

In its distinctive beauty, its size and comfort, its interior luxury and its all-around performance, Pontiac ranks high among America's quality cars—yet it's priced just above the lowest!

Thus Pontiac has an almost irresistible appeal to people who find it wise to keep their automobile investment at a minimum—without sacrificing quality. It is this unique combination of goodness and price which makes Pontiac the solid choice of those solid citizens who are money wise and quality conscious.

The reasons for this preference were never more obvious than in the 1953 Pontiac. But more important, it carries on Pontiac's tradition of long life and carefree, economical dependability.

Come in and see how this great new car offers wonderful proof that "Dollar for Dollar You Can't Beat a Pontiac."

No Shortage or Errors in 18 Years as Treasurer is Tribute Paid Spicer

Of the estimated six to eight million dollars Plymouth Township Treasurer Samuel W. Spicer has collected in his 18 years in office, he has never made an accounting error or been short so much as one penny.

This was the tribute that Supervisor Charles Rathbun last Friday paid to the outgoing 76-active retirement Spicer said of his office "I've had it long enough."

He is now free to devote leisure hours to two of his favorite sports - hunting and fishing. He said he recently bought a piece of property in the northern part of the state for this express purpose.

Spicer, who has been township treasurer continuously since 1936, was first appointed to the elective office in 1932, when Plymouth first took up the reins of home rule.

bought the homestead from his father, making it his permanent residence since 1924.

Spicer first started his work-a-day life, that has spanned 54 years, as a rural teacher following graduation from Plymouth High school in 1896. For two years he taught grade one through eight at a one-room schoolhouse at Middlebelt and Ann Arbor trail. "I earned $23 a month in those days," he said, recalling that "some of Plymouth's grandmothers were among the 56 pupils I had each semester."

Following a one-year teaching stint at the Rough and Ready school on Stark road, Spicer left teaching behind to work as a car inspector on Pere Marquette for three years.

Following his marriage to the former Alma Murray in December, 1901, Spicer, who with his wife this year celebrates 52 years of married life, did general farming for some 31 years.

Not entirely divorced from township government, Spicer will sit this year on the township Board of Trustees following his nomination to that post during the February 16 primary.

In addition, just to keep himself occupied, Spicer said he intends to continue selling real estate, working part-time for Giles Real Estate. He said he specializes in farming property.

On Saturday, February 28 they will attend the Barbara Ann Scott ice show at Olympia. They will be accompanied by their leaders Mrs. Edward Dobbs and Mrs. O. H. Williams and the troop committee chairman, Mrs. Byron Champion.

Troop 1 entertained Troop 9 at their last regular meeting February 16 at the Veterans' Memorial building. The two troops started work on their part of the program for the Birthday Rally which will be held March 29. Martha Davis was awarded her Second Class Badge.

Mrs. Harold Shirey, swimming instructor, reports that 6 girls passed their tests on Saturday, February 21 at the afternoon swim. The girls passing the Girl Scout Swimmer's Badge are: Ann Taylor and Mary Ellen Taylor, Winners of the Red Cross Beginner's Certificate are: Gay Shirey, Jean Russell, and Madolyn Johnson. The members of Troop 4 entertained their mothers at a talent show and tea at their regular meeting on February 23. Mrs. Warren Worth and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing are leaders of the troop.

The training committee met on February 23 at the home of Mrs. Earl West, chairman. Plans were made for a course in troop leadership training to be held in the spring.

There is a waiting list of over 30 children who would like to become Brownie Scouts in the fall. Leaders are needed for them as well as for some of the established troops. Women who are interested in working with girls and helping them to become better citizens through Scouting are urged to call Mrs. Samuel Dibble Jr., at 1589 for further details.

The Plymouth Council would be happy to have newcomers to Plymouth who may have been active in other communities affiliate themselves with the local group.

In addition to the training of new leaders, the committee wishes to be of continuing service to the present leaders. Mrs. West requests that they contact her with suggestions as to ways in which her committee can be of assistance.

At the council meeting held February 17, Mrs. Eber Readman, Commissioner, reported on the meeting of the Huron Valley Study Group held in Milan. This group has been meeting for the past several months to make a survey and to determine the advisability of forming a large Area Council for carrying out the Girl Scout program. Some of the communities participating in the study are Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Wayne, Northville, Brighton, Chelsea, Milan, Belleville and Plymouth. The survey should be completed by early spring and plans now are to have the matter ready for voting upon in May.

Mrs. Readman, Mrs. J. H. Lodge and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing represented the Plymouth Council at the meeting.

No Pressure—They Disconnect from Water Main, Dig Own Wells

City water in mains at a point on Beck road crumpled over the crown of a steep hill and then just lazily flow down the other side.

Ordinarily this wouldn't even flick the eyelid of a frog, but last week it caused a furor among several homeowners here who hooked into the water main and didn't even get a "pfsst" or a squirt of water from the faucet.

The disappointment of the week adds up to what is ordinarily called a phenomenon, inasmuch as it involves water that wouldn't run downhill with pressure. And that's just the case as told by a city official who explained that when the water breaks over the crown of that Beck road hill, the pressure just disappears.

Compensating, perhaps, for that gush of faucet water that never came, city commissioners last week applied a "no water, no pay" edict and returned water fees to the homeowners, who must now revert to well digging.

Maybe the reason some people don't practice what they preach is because if they did they'd have to work overtime.

City Gets Public Domain Land at Cost of Just $1

The city acquired a 1 1/2 by 120 foot strip of land near Edison and Coolidge avenues last week at a cost of just one dollar.

The land parcel is one of several irregular pieces of land owned by the State Department of Conservation and offered to the city before being auctioned off as part of the public domain.

Approved by the commission of the 1 1/2 by 120 foot strip was given by city commissioners last week. It will be used to widen Coolidge avenue from its 50 foot width to 64 feet.

Two other land parcels offered by the State have not so far been accepted by the city. One parcel is a 4 1/2 by 120 foot strip located near the Champlain Contracted Container company. A second strip, 15 by 120 feet wide, is located on Pearl street, the first lot behind State weather.

If the city does not accept these two lots, the parcels will be auctioned by the State or held in the public domain.

The new Garling homes were erected this winter and already are occupied, yet the road is a mire which is unusable to the people on the street. ### LETTER BOX

Dear Editor:
Last week I received 100 calls from persons wanting to rent my home.

May I enter a plea to other landlords for the other 99.

You say you don't want children yet you say you are a Christian. That because some children aren't good that all children can't rent your house.

Suppose you are the only Christian in your family and the rest are not and Christ would say you could not enter the Kingdom.

Although you had lead a good life Christ says "Suffer little children to come unto me" and someday we cannot escape meeting Christ face to face.

Will you be among the Landlords he will turn away. Treasures of good deeds and not money will win a crown in Heaven.

Sincerely,
Doris Wick

NEW?

Too frequently when individuals, families, businesses and corporations face a financial problem NEW to them—they conclude it is wholly new and there is no previous successful experience to guide them.

This is a most costly, sometimes ruinous misconception—particularly in a period such as this when quick decisions must be made.

TRIAL AND ERROR TOO COSTLY...

As a general rule, there are few financial problems which are altogether new and there is no need to pay the exorbitant costs of the trial and error method when successful experience is available to guide you.

Progressive Banking...

We have initiated and developed many significant improvements in banking services to meet special conditions and these have been of invaluable help to our customers.

We have not only kept pace with their needs, but have assisted in the development of their plans along sound financial lines.

BE PREPARED...

The best advice is to build your banking relationship with the National Bank of Detroit, to establish your contacts and your credit before the need arises.

New to You...

But if you face a financial problem which is NEW to you, which you did not anticipate—do not immediately consider it new.

The probability is that we have helped others solve virtually the same problem or helped them to avoid it altogether.

March Weather Will Bring Colds

March is going to bring with it one of the peak seasons for the common cold, according to the state health department.

There are three such seasons in the year: one in the fall, one in mid-winter, and one in March. This winter colds have been particularly prevalent, the health department said, since there have been extreme fluctuations in the weather.

What is most important is taking all possible precautions to avoid colds and taking good care of oneself after the cold is contracted. Persons weakened by the common cold are susceptible to many other infections. These include mastoid, sinus, ear or throat infections, and pneumonia.

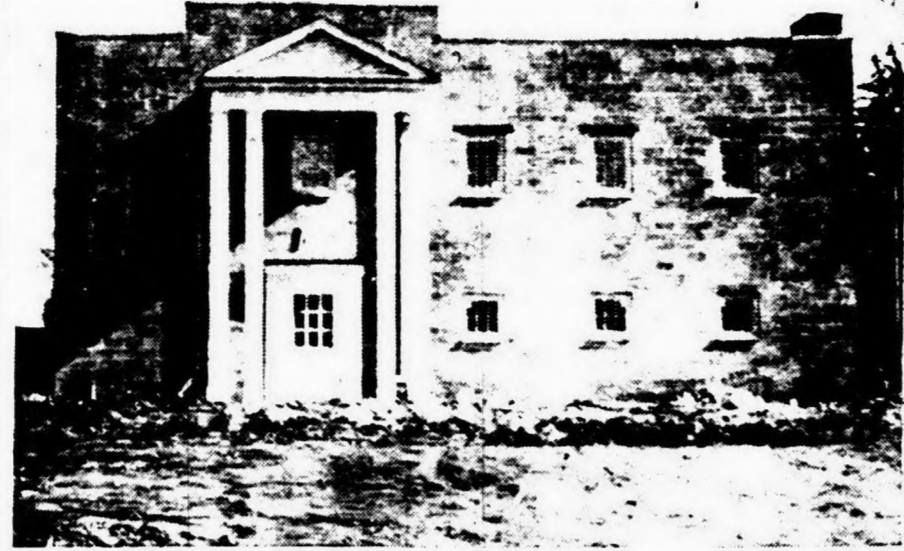

About 75 per cent of all cases of lobar pneumonia have a history of a cold directly preceding the pneumonia, with March colds the chief offenders. Pneumonia is the fifth leading cause of death from disease in Michigan.

If a common cold lasts more than four days it usually means there is some secondary infection involved. In any case the best advice is to go to bed at the first sign and call a physician.

The health department advises six precautions for avoiding colds: 1) Stay away from people having colds, 2) Get plenty of rest, 3) Eat well-balanced meals, 4) Wash hands before handling food, 5) Avoid getting chilled, 6) Dress according to the weather and according to the temperature in which you must work, 7) Keep your living quarters well ventilated and reasonably humid.

LEGISLATURE NEWS LETTER

By Leonard E. Wood
State Representative

Contrary to expectations that this would be a short week, the Legislature met each day, commencing with Monday night's session, and will meet again Friday morning. However, due to the fact that the Republican State Convention is being held in the city of Detroit on Friday and Saturday, the 20th and 21st, the meeting hour has been advanced Friday morning to permit an adjournment before noon so those who must be in Detroit early can attend the session and still reach Detroit in time for their meetings.

For the first time in over a quarter of a century the Legislature toured the University of Michigan and learned at first hand the progress that has been made, and the use to which the tax dollars appropriated to it by the Legislature, have been put. Naturally, members of the appropriating committees of House and Senate are familiar with the picture, but to many other members who have had no opportunity to visit and inspect the University, this was a golden opportunity. The visit was the result of an invitation from the University, through its president and the trip was so planned that the members would return to Lansing in time for a night session.

H. B. 23, repealing a measure enacted into law in 1891 which banned the use of butter substitutes in state institutions, came in for hot debate this week. Since 1943 oleo has been used in the Detroit school lunch programs, but in the last month or so, the State Department of Agriculture, claiming the schools were state institutions, ordered the Detroit Board of Education to cease using oleo. Pending the result of legislative action on this bill, the Agriculture Department has withheld action. In the debate, opponents pointed out that Agriculture, of which the dairy industry is an important part, is one of the big industries of this State and that to curtail the butter market with the passage of this bill, would cause milk surpluses for a time, eventually leading to curtailment of the dairy herd, resulting ultimately in possible milk shortages and higher prices. They also pointed out that none of the vegetable oils used in oleo are grown in this State, and that it resolved itself into a case of supporting a State industry, a vital factor in our economy, or an out of state industry. Proponents of the bill claimed the bill is permissive legislation and that the institutions could use butter or oleo as they wished; also that it is an economy measure and a saving of some $265,000 annually could be had if butter substitutes could be used in the school lunches in Detroit. Proponents also stated that if butter must be used in the school lunches in Detroit, it would increase the cost of the school lunch program and between 2 and 3,000 children would have to drop off the lunch program. Unable to muster up sufficient support to kill the bill on General Orders, it was advanced to Third Reading, and today, after more heated debate, it was finally killed.

Another measure that came in for lengthy discussion where tempers flared, was the same bill that has been unsuccessfully before the Legislature in the past. This is a bill to make incurable insanity grounds for divorce. Introduced as a means to benefit a few where a great hardship was inflicted on the sane spouse of an insane person where small children were involved and remarriage to provide a parent for the children seemed desirable and necessary, opponents of the bill cited instances of a spouse being taken by death and the surviving spouse with children did not always remarry. Argument to the effect that the insane person was dangerous was answered that sick they were put away and constituted no threat. The opponents attacked the bill as an attempt to allow a person to relinquish a cross they have to bear, and stated should this bill be enacted, then it should be followed up with another bill freeing a person married to one who has become afflicted with polio, tuberculosis or cancer. Another opponent of the measure, having worked on the mental health program, felt it unwise in view of the progress being made by medical science in this field, to say within the short span of the next few years, any doctor would declare any mentally ill person to be incurably insane. Opponents also attacked the bill as setting a dangerous precedent, and finally it too was killed by a vote of 13 to 80.

On the heels of the receipt of the long awaited Citizens Tax Advisory Group's report, representing an intensive study over a period of a year by tax experts, of the critical fiscal condition of the State, the Conlin proposal mentioned in a previous letter, came up for House action. However, with the death in the Senate of the bill to allow 2 weeks additional time for legislative action on proposals to be submitted on the April ballot, it was useless to attempt to pass the resolution, and it was re-referred to committee after its purpose was explained. Both majority and minority members paid tribute to the conscientious work put on the measure.

Where Silence Is Eloquent!

Have you ever heard a 1953 Cadillac?

The odds are that you haven't—unless you've listened quite carefully.

For it is a literal fact that you must concentrate to detect the sound of a Cadillac car in motion... save, of course, for the soft song of the passing wind and the quiet hum of the tires on the pavement.

Even that great, powerful engine never raises its voice above a whisper!

But, oh, the wonderful, wonderful story this marvelous quiet tells.

It tells, for instance, of Cadillac's rigid adherence to the highest standards and ideals of automotive construction...

... of the superlative engineering that enables every part of the car to perform in perfect harmony

... of the magnificent styling and design that give the car its smooth, easy, steady, floating ride

... and of the flawless craftsmanship that keeps the car so unbelievably free from vibration.

And, of course, it speaks with equal clarity of the many things a Cadillac provides its owner.

It promises rest and relaxation... and a freedom from distraction that adds pleasure and safety to every journey.

It foretells mile after mile of extraordinary dependability and a minimum of upkeep expense.

And it prophesies longevity... and, hence, bespeaks the wisdom and soundness of its owner's investment.

Yes, the quiet of the Cadillac car tells a wonderful story all of its own. And it's one that we think you should "hear" for yourself.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour with a 1953 Cadillac?

We think you'll agree that silence was never more eloquent.

McAllister Pledges Disaster Aid in Reciprocal Agreement to Set Up Civil Defense Fire Network

Plans to train some 15 to 20 auxiliary police officers to serve during emergencies or disasters was announced this week by Ernest Henry, director of civilian defense.

The city already has 15 OCD (Officers of Civilian Defense) firemen who would man fire apparatus with other firefighters should the Plymouth or Detroit metropolitan area sustain attacks from the air.

The step-up pace to organize a tight network of OCD defenses is the result of a meeting of the Southeastern Fire Chiefs association recently that stressed close inter-community disaster aid.

The organization, headed by Plymouth's fire chief, Robert McAllister, is working jointly with the OCD in setting up protective firefighting network.

McAllister, along with some 40 other community representatives, pledged mutual aid in the event of an all-out bombing attack of a foreign power.

From a standpoint of civilian defenses, the city has some spade-work to do before a complete

OCD setup is realized locally.

Henry told the SEFCA that Plymouth's heaviest contribution in the event of an attack on the industrial Motor City would be handling heavy traffic and "refugees" making a mass exodus from Detroit.

He said he thought trained auxiliary police officers would help channel traffic properly and keep it moving. The auxiliary officers, who presumably would be local volunteer recruits, so far have not been chosen.

City equipment, other than its firefighting elements so far pledged to civilian defense, are its inter-city radio hookups with metropolitan police units and a portable electric generator. The city has $100 set aside in its 1952-1953 budget for civilian defense. Up to now that account remains intact.

It was noted at the meeting that Detroit was the only area that used four-inch hydrant connectors on pumps. All other member communities of the SEFCA use four and half inch connectors. Before hookups to Detroit hydrants can be made by pumper units from metropolitan area members, going there on disaster runs, adapters will have to be procured. A survey of the number of adapters need for both four and four and half-inch hoses was promised by the SEFCA, who said it would seek federal aid to purchase the necessary equipment.

Film, Lecture on Cancer Detection to be Held at Penn Theater in March

Each year breast cancer causes the deaths of 20,000 women. But 90 per cent of this yearly toll could have been prevented had the victims known how to identify cancer symptoms. Cancer experts will tell you so. But they warn that the "cancer must be detected in time." If it spreads unchecked and undetected the cure rate drops from 90 to 42 per cent.

Valuable tips in the detection of a needless killer—breast cancer—will be the subject of an educational film and cancer lecture given here at the Penn theater on March 26, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Open to the public without charge the film, called "Breast Self-Examination," is being shown under the sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. A lecture given by Dr. H. M. Nelson, national president of the American Cancer society, will follow the showing of the film.

Mrs. Marie Norman, publicity chairman of the VFW Auxiliary, said the anti-cancer program has received "enthusiastic" support from all local women's clubs and has been endorsed by seven physicians here.

"What drives physicians to exasperation and despair is that breast cancer is so easily treated in early stages and yet is not detected in time," Mrs. Norman declared. "Detected early, cures run as high as 90 per cent," she said, but warning that if left untreated until the disease spreads to the lymph, the cure rate drops to just about half—42 per cent.

The breast cancer film was produced by the American Cancer society and the National Cancer Institute. Since it was issued a year and a half ago 1,500,000 women have viewed it. Cast in technicolor, the film was formerly shown only to medical men and women.

The management of the Penn theater is lending its facilities to the auxiliary for the showing. Tickets for the film-lecture may be secured without charge or donation at the box office just prior to the showing. Mrs. Norman said, noting that they are currently being distributed by Mrs. Corrine Clark, ticket chairman.

Last Thursday and Friday I was invited to attend a small conference of some Michigan Republicans in Grand Rapids previous to the convention in Detroit on Saturday. My principal interest in the affair was to see if I might line up some help for Livonia city attorney William Brashear who is out after the job of United States District Attorney in this section of Michigan. In the group attending the two day sessions I was amazed at just how small this state is and how well Plymouth and Plymouth folks are known.

One of the first people I became acquainted with was Edward Wier, manager of the Grand Rapids Furniture Guild and known as one of America's greatest furniture salesmen. The mention of Plymouth brought from him high praise for Abe Lantz and Blunk's Furniture store. He stated that we were fortunate here in having one of the finest stores of its kind in the country.

Another in attendance at the meeting was Sanford Briggs, one of Grand Rapids' nationally known interior decorators who remembered visiting Plymouth several times in 1946 while he was contributing some of his talent to the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wall on Beck road. Mr. Briggs says the unusual Voske carpet in the Wall's living room is one of the things he is most proud of.

Oilman Victor Wilson of Alma was aware of the present oil flurry going on west of Plymouth and said he was sure there was oil in this area. He further connected his knowledge of Plymouth to the fact that John Blyton and his son George are now operating a prosperous drapery store in Alma and he remembered that the Blytons were former Plymouth merchants.

After the Friday afternoon meeting I had the pleasure of driving two delegates to the Detroit convention to Plymouth where after a short visit in the city they boarded the streamliner. One was George Van Coevring, publisher of the Zeeland Record and the other C. J. Yntema, a Zeeland Funeral director. Van Coevring grew up with Mrs. Russell Daane in Zeeland, having gone all through school with her and her sister, Mrs. Willard Wichers. Of further coincidence was the fact that Mr. Yntema was also well acquainted with Mrs. Daane and other members of her family.

Dale Stafford, former editor of the Detroit Free Press and now publisher of the Greenville Daily News was also in attendance trying to round-up support of his Montcalm county delegation for certain of his friends on the Saturday slate. Dale and I graduated together from Lansing High school and twice in the last 15 years he has appeared as speaker here before our Rotary club.

Another interesting individual at the meeting who associated Plymouth in his mind with his early efforts as a youngster selling soap to get wrappers to earn a Daisy Air Rifle was William Lasher, representative of Street and Smith publications. I had always associated Street and Smith with such publications as Nick Carter, The Shadow and many other publications of this nature but was surprised to find out that they also publish Charm, Mademoiselle, and the new, popular Living, a magazine for young homemakers.

We further learned that tulip shoots were breaking through the ground on most of Holland's famous tulip fields. This was hard to believe but we were convinced when we took a look in our own garden here in Plymouth and found our spring bulbs already four inches above the soil. Have you looked at yours?

Saturday's mail brought a card from Cass Hough who is vacationing at Acapulco, Mexico. According to Cass the fishing is excellent and the fish are big. He further states the sun is hot and for his money that section of Mexico is an ideal place for a vacation.

Surgeon Walter Hammond has some very technical explanations of the broken blood vessel just under the beautiful shiner he has been displaying over the weekend. His wife has somewhat of a different version. At least her statement to mayor Russell Daane Saturday night was to the effect that in the future maybe Walter will listen to what she says.

Daisy president, Charles H. Bennett, and his niece, Pauline Peck, took advantage of Sunday's sunshine to visit the Mayflower dining room of the hotel where Mr. Bennett after being confined to his home the last two weeks with illness enjoyed his favorite dinner menu... Shad Roe with bacon.

"No new state taxes are needed to balance Michigan's budget. Just redistribute present state aid to local governments on a more equitable basis and require local governments to raise more taxes by a uniform state-wide equalization of property values."

That, in a nutshell, is the heart of the latest tax study before the Michigan legislature this week.

The recommendations were made by two tax experts from Princeton university, hired by the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Taxes. The experts themselves were prudent enough to term their plan "a long range solution" and hence fortified it with ways whereby emergency revenues might be obtained for immediate use.

Because the solution would take away from some local governments a big slice of state aid funds, Michigan legislators have been openly cool.

Briefly, the experts' plan amounts to this:

1. No new permanent taxes are required to keep the state functioning once the deficit is liquidated.
2. A one-or-two year special tax program must be decided upon to liquidate the deficit.
3. Too high a proportion of state income is earmarked by law for specific purposes. The legislature must be left free to control monies which are now assigned automatically to prescribed funds. This creates large balances of unused money in special funds while the general fund is depleted.
4. Distribution of taxes where state money is divided among counties, cities, villages and townships, for schools and other purposes must be revised because gross inequities exist under the present system.

The tax study reported that $25 to $30 additional millions will be needed next year for financing. They expect to raise this money in two ways. One is the changing of the method of distributing state money already mentioned. The other is to force local governmental units to raise more of their own money. This, they say, can be accomplished by requiring all valuation be done according to state equalization figures instead of the present method of permitting each unit to arrange its own equalization values.

This would affect nearly every county except Wayne which is already fully equalized. It would raise the amount of money going to local units for schools and other services by $20,470,000, an increase of 22%. It is fair to assume it would also mean a real and personal property tax increase averaging 22% for outstate residents, money which would be paid directly to their own communities and lessen the need for similar amounts of state aid.

Dr. William Miller and Dr. John F. Sly, the Princeton experts, did not seem to think the matter of making up the $90 million deficit the difficult a problem. They recommended several methods, many of which have been previously considered and rejected by the legislature for one reason or another. Calling for "a one time solution to this one time problem," the tax team said the general requirements for the tax to meet the deficit should cover as many as possible different groups of people to increase its chances that it will be removed once the amount is raised. This automatically ruled out the corporate profits tax, dear to the heart of Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Revision of the distribution program will tend to ease the tax load of people in cities, while reducing the amount sent to villages and townships.

The Princeton men would distribute $40 million annually (the same amount spread this year from 1 1/2% of the sales tax) at a rate which would increase the cities' share from this year's $13.03 to $15 per capita; decrease the village share from $10.77 to $9.50; decrease the township share from $6.12 to $1.30.

Changes are suggested in the school program which would distribute the same amount of money per pupil ($152 per grade school student; $172 per high school student; a total of $156 million) to the school district of residence which in turn will pay a per pupil charge to the district where the child is attending school. At present districts which send all pupils to other districts receive $50 per student. Under the new plan, this payment will cease.

In the meanwhile, it is apparent that the legislature will seek some other solution of the state's financial mess than by redistributing present state aid to local governments—the "long range" solution advanced by the tax experts.

The Conlin plan would liquidate the veterans' trust fund and would revamp the sales tax diversion amendment to put state aid to schools on a current basis. Other major bills would levy a flat tax on federal income tax payments made by individuals and businesses; would impose a 5 per cent state income tax; would tax corporation profits.

Chances still are strong that some new tax may be levied rather than redistribute the state's $400,000,000 in tax monies going to local governments.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES A NEW INDUSTRY

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 26. The constantly increasing shorter hours, combined with higher prices, which are largely the result of shorter hours, are developing a new industry—namely, the "Do-It-Yourself" industry.

HOUSE DECORATIONS
 For a time the manufacturers of paint, wallpaper, etc., in order to protect the local painters and paperers, refused to advertise their products for the housewife to use herself. Now however, you will find large advertisements in leading magazines urging people to "short-circuit" the local artisan.

To further this "Do-It-Yourself" movement, manufacturers now sell wallpaper already to hang, with the blank margins cut off. They are selling paint rollers to take the place of brushes and a new paint with a rubber base for quick and perfect application. What Gillette did to the old-fashioned razor, this new movement is doing to brushes and paints.

HOMES AND FURNITURE
 For several years families have been able to buy unpainted and knocked-down furniture; but the prices were high on the latter. Today, however, one needs to buy only ply-board and certain metal clamps from a lumber dealer. For a small fee the lumber dealer will cut the pieces as needed for tables and chairs.

The big development has been in young people building their own homes. Two couples will buy adjoining lots, make joint contracts for the foundations, and then go ahead with different plans. These plans can be bought with complete details for ordering, cutting and erecting the house. For heavy work, when two men are needed, they help each other. The only outside help needed is a plumber. This may explain why a prominent columnist stated "The new President's Cabinet consists of eleven millionaires and one plumber!"

PRACTICAL HOBBIES
 Physicians are now prescribing hobbies instead of pills. In fact, hobbies are now so used that most drug stores sell Hobby Magazines. These magazines urge useful hobbies and show how furniture, toys and other things may be made at home. They are great boosters of the "Do-It-Yourself" industry.

Not only does the hobby industry benefit the nation's health, but by it parents set a fine example to their children. It not only is better for the kids to see their Dad working instead of playing golf—but it enables the father and boy to work together and become better acquainted. Hence, the social and educational advantages.

NEW STORES WILL OPEN
 I believe you will see "Do-It-Yourself" stores open. If I were a young chap and wanted to open a small specialty store, I would enter this field, combining some sporting goods with it. The same factors of shorter hours and higher costs are forcing many families to indulge in inexpensive and healthful sports.

Another suggestion is that you become a salesman on commission for some lumber dealer to sell "Build-It-Yourself"
