Former Resident Finds Love at 94

You're never too old to find love. That is the philosophy of Warren C. Hull, former Plymouth resident, who recently took out a marriage license at the age of 94.

Hull will marry Mrs. Anna Wilson, whom he described as a "sweet young thing," this week in Lansing. He said that it was lonely living in a rooming house all alone so "since Anna and I were both alone, we decided to get married."

When asked if he was too old for marriage, the spry gentleman replied, "It doesn't make any difference how old you are. Love is still the reason."

Hull lived in Plymouth with his brother-in-law, George McGill, 356 Harvey, from 1945 to 1949. During that time he organized the Plymouth Historical Society.

Financing Said to be Crux of City's Present Coolness To $487,000 Street Project

Chances grew dimmer this week that residents here would see the light of day yet this year on a projected $487,000 street improvement program.

The issue which allegedly was to have come before city commissioners on March 2 was not placed on the agenda for official discussion and or decision.

Much of the city's coolness toward the major project is said to revolve around the uncertainty of whether or not local economic conditions within the next 10 years will be sufficiently guaranteed to liquidate the total costs involved.

At least one city official led this school of thought advocating a "pay as you go" plan for street construction that would prevent the city being caught in the throes of an economic upheaval should the nation experience a depression that characterized the early 1930's.

Special assessments are among the first items found to be hard to collect during lean times.

With financing the crux of the present standoff, voters at a future election date may be called to the polls to vote on a bonding issue to cover some $390,000 of the tentative $487,000 construction program. One of three alternatives, general or special assessment bonding or paving from general funds, loom as courses to be chosen by the city commission or a majority of the voters polling.

The program would include the widening and blacktopping of Main street from Penniman north to Mill.

Others portions, the majority of them special assessment projects, were to have included nearly two miles of street paving, 10 miles of curb and gutter, 1,500 feet of sanitary sewers, 1,150 feet of water mains and 1 1/2 miles of storm sewers.

The city's share of the project would be approximately $162,000 with homeowners paying some $325,000 in special assessments over a 10-year period.

Benefits from the major do-it-all-at-once program were cited as having these advantages to homeowners:

1) Scaled down special assessment construction costs where a sound economy was being practiced.

2) Heavy saving on bonding interest rates.

3) Increased property evaluation coming with the advent of paved streets, storm sewers and curbs and gutters.

4) Greater civic pride coming from a well-kept appearance especially in front of residences.

5) Easier traffic control on Main street, widened to permit the flow of shopper-motorists coming from outside the city.

Mayor Russell M. Duane, however, in a speech before Rotarians nearly a month ago said that "the time is now here when we must accept the fact that if we are to get the improvements we need in streets, sewers, curb and gutter and water, and so on, we must face the problem head on and get the job done, issuing bonds to cover the cost."

The city is rapidly being backed up against the wall where it will have to take positive steps to prevent further deterioration and high piecemeal repair costs to some of its major streets.

Engineers, as an example, warn that if Main street is not repaved soon water seeping beneath the bricks will destroy the roadbed making an additional foundation necessary at a cost that will run into thousands of dollars.

The city, under its old charter mandate, suffered heavily under a ruling that prohibited special assessment projects exceeding 25 percent of the evaluation on a single piece of property. This one law has been responsible for leaving half of the city's streets unpaved and pock-marked with potholes and roadbeds consisting of a slimy mire-filled at times with stagnant, unhealthful "water."

Whether or not the issue is placed before city commissioners later during the month is not known at the present time. City Manager Albert F. Glassofrid declined to speculate on the prospects of the near half-million dollar program. It was approved a month ago by the 10-Year Plan committee made up of three city commissioners and members of the Planning Commission.

A $120,000 special assessment project that is expected to get underway sometime in April has so far been approved by commission action. It was originally on the pending $487,000 program.

Ford Foundation Scholar Lauds Plymouth Schools for Good Instruction, Curriculum; Has Praises For Community Planning Group

Plymouth schools recently were observed to have "some of the finest features of modern education" among elementary and secondary institutions in the nation.

This observation was made by Norman H. Naas, a high school English instructor from Pacific Grove, California, currently on a tour of 400 of the country's schools as part of a scholarship sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

Naas had special praises for the School Community Planning committee here.

He was quoted in the Monterey Peninsula Herald as making this statement:

"They (Plymouth) have an outstanding school-community planning committee, which makes recommendations on everything from playground conditions to the school construction program; an extensive vocational training program where students attend school part time and work in industry or business part time; and instructional committees which function to improve the curriculum and instruction in the schools."

Naas said he observed "some of the finest features of modern education" while on his tour here.

On the other side of the ledger, Naas wrote a disgruntled commentary on what he called the "poorest plant" (educational) at Farmington, Mich. "I have yet seen."

"I traveled to Farmington, and found a lack of continuity between courses and a lack of coordination in the English program," Naas wrote. He continued with "I saw some fine teaching and some very poor teaching—a situation hardly unique in Farmington."

It was at this point that Naas declared that "their school is in the poorest plant I have yet seen." He noted, however, that "they will move into a new building this fall."

Naas also put under fire the "basic communication" course at Wayne (Mich.) that received a great deal of criticism from local residents there.

A basic course in communicating between groups, Naas said he thought the program failed because of: (1) "poor public relations and a failure to enlist community support; (2) lack of planning and lack of cooperation between staff members; (3) poorly qualified personnel."

Naas categorized point three as meaning "teachers (who) had not been trained to teach in a core situation." Naas meant by "core," a basic pivotal course teaching the fundamentals of group interaction and communication through acknowledgement of common goals.

Naas' sight-seeing tour of some of the nation's schools and universities comes from an educational research grant made by the Ford Foundation to further educational techniques throughout the country.

Foolish questions sometimes provoke foolish replies. One Sunday forenoon the primary teacher was not present at Sunday school. A substitute, not trained to primary methods, agreed reluctantly to teach the class. Many of his questions, of course, were too complex for his youthful audience.

"What is life?" he asked the one interested child in the class. "I don't know what it is," replied Bobby, "but when you haven't got no more of it you're dead."

The only objection some husbands have to the vacuum sweeper is they can't get a straw out of it to clean their pipes.

Adult Education Recreation Surges
Director Outlines Summer Program

Some 985 persons who racked up an estimated 15,000 participant hours during February were listed this week as sharing in the school's adult education-recreation program.

This and an advance notice of summer recreational and activities programs were announced by Herbert Woolweaver, director of recreation and adult education.

The February report showed that of the 985, some 600 were adults who participated in activities ranging from the Theater Guild to the Over Fifty Club, from ceramics to Swedish gymnastics and from Americanization to square dancing.

They, along with 385 school children, made up 5,500 to 6,000 unit participants, persons who were counted as sharing in each activity.

Broken down, adult recreation appealed to 386 while another 214 shared in adult education classes.

On the basis of current monthly figures, Director Woolweaver indicated that the local programs were high in the favor of residents here, in Livonia, Northville, and as far away as Detroit.

He said last Friday that current estimates place unit participation hours between 5,000 and 8,000 in excess of total figures listed for last year when recreation and adult education were under city sponsorship.

At this same time in releasing his report, Woolweaver gave advance notice to persons wishing to participate in a coming spring course on golf instruction.

The course, open to all, begins on May 7 and runs for a six-week period. An estimated number of 80 will be able to participate in the combined beginners-advanced course to be held each Thursday at the Lilac Bros. driving range, Schoolcraft and Telegraph roads.

It will be taught with professional instructors from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. at a standard cost of $5 for the six-week period. Each class is limited to 3 participants.

Woolweaver also announced that planning for organized summer play ground activities at each of five summer playgrounds is currently underway.

Mrs. Dolores Caldwell has been appointed supervisor of playgrounds and girls' activities, replacing Mrs. Jennie E. Donnelly who earlier resigned to accept a position as youth director for the First Presbyterian church here.

Activities starting June 22 will consist of games, hobbies and crafts at Bird, Smith, Starkweather, Central and Green Meadows playgrounds. Woolweaver said.

Xmas Seal Total Revised
Upward to $200,000 With 105,600 Contributing

Revised figures of Christmas seal sales that now total $200,000 were made public last Friday by the Tuberculosis and Health society in Detroit.

Some 105,600 persons throughout the county made contributions that increased the drive totals by 33 per cent over 1951.

In a letter made public the society thanked all participants.

"Mrs. Wayne Smith of Plymouth (Mrs. Smith headed the drive here) and many other volunteers throughout the county have made this our best seal sale, with a 33 per cent increase noted," the society wrote.

The Plymouth Mail in its February 19 issue reported county sales at $175,000 with 53,000 contributing. The latest figures submitted are a final tally.

According to the National Shoe Institute, the teen-age girl is the most difficult customer a shoe salesman has, because she wants to wear adult shoes although her feet are still in the formative stage.

Employment Surges .03 Per Cent in February

In keeping with the "unofficial" forecast of "good times" during 1953 and 1954, the Chamber of Commerce, in its newsletter Wednesday, reported that employment here in February jumped slightly over .03 per cent.

The monthly survey was taken among 20 major industries and smaller businesses. It showed February employment levels climbed to 7,594, an increase of 181 over the January figure of 7,413.

In 1875 the only important thing about fit of men's shoes was, "Is the size BIG enough?" Now, men's shoes can be fitted in sizes from 5 to 18, in widths AA to EEE.

The first exclusive retail shoe store in the U.S. was founded in 1794 at 133 Broad Street, Boston, Mass., by Quincy and Harvey Reed. This first retail shoe store was open for business only on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

In 1890 it took one man 2 days to produce a pair of men's shoes. Today the average per pair is .93 hours for a pair of men's shoes.

Most any Plymouth man will loan you $10 to tide you over if he had any assurance that you'd come in with the tide.

FISHER'S NEWLY REMODELED shoe store celebrates its formal opening this week and among its most modern additions is the new children's department, shown above. For more details of the Fisher opening see section five of today's Mail.

Official Proceedings of The Board of Education

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Township School District was held in the high school building on February 9, 1953.

Present: Mr. Gallimore, Mr. Hulsing, Mr. Laury, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Willoughby and Superintendent Isbister.

Guests: Mr. Glen Truesdell, Mrs. White, Mrs. Harrison and Mr. Brake.

Mr. Glen Truesdell, speaking in behalf of the Truesdell School District (Canton Twp. No. 6), presented a request for annexation to the Plymouth Township School District. Questions and issues raised by the Board members had to do with boundary lines and what disposition, if any, would be made with the remaining primary districts in Canton Township.

No action was taken on this request pending further study.

Minutes of the last regular meeting of December and January were read and approved as read.

30 From PHS to See United Nations in Action on New York Vacation

The intervening time till the beginning of spring vacation on April 3 is dragging by too slowly for at least 30 of some 3,000 Plymouth area students winning a 10 day rest from the year-long study grind.

The 30 are all members of Plymouth High school's Hi-Y club vacation-bound just three weeks from tomorrow on a five-day adventurous and educational tour of New York City.

The group of 16 girls and 14 boys, all high school juniors and sophomores, will be chaperoned by four instructors on a varied sight-seeing tour of things native to the "big city".

Highlight of the trip will be a tour of the United Nations building with the group attending UN committee and general assembly meetings (if still in session) throughout the one day. On the agenda is also a tour of Radio City museums, Hedyn Plantarium, the Broadway strip—the Great White Way—and a tour of Greenwich Village with a play currently showing on the legitimate stage thrown in for good measure.

The trip is under the sponsorship of Harry Reeves and Walter Goodwin, both of whom will accompany the youths on the tour along with chaperones, Miss Virginia Olmstead and Mrs. Pauline Morgan. The tour are high school instructors.

Goodwin said Monday that he thought the tour would not only serve to point out facts of American society that in this case were peculiar to New York City, but would also benefit the youths in the study of the United Nations in actual operation.

The group will entrain at Ann Arbor on April 5 returning here on April 11. The trip will cost each person about $60.

Active as the only youth service club in the high school, the Hi-Y has made valuable contributions locally. The recently successful March of Dimes drive was due in part, Goodwin said, to the solicitations of the member youths. The Dimes drive was oversubscribed by more than 100 per cent.

The club boasts a membership of 50 boys and about 100 girls who belong to two chapters of the club called "blue" and "white" teams.

"When I looked out of the window Johnny, I was glad to see you playing marbles with little Eddie."

"We wuzn't playing marbles, Ma. We just had a fight and I was helpin' him pick up his teeth."

Ever, stop to think what an awful life a moth leads? It spends the summer in a fur coat and the winter in a bathing suit.

We overheard a Plymouth man say yesterday that about the only thing he could get on his television was dust.

Textile Painting is Useful Hobby That Anyone Can Do

Textile painting is a popular hobby which provides the do-it-yourself touch which is the vogue these days. No great amount of skill is necessary to produce beautiful textiles which can be done in many ways.

With the Creative Arts Festival just approaching Plymouth residents have become more hobby-conscious than ever. The Festival to be held April 19 through 22 will feature displays of the hobbies of Plymouthites.

Among these exhibits will be examples of textile painting. Mrs. Bernice Law is chairman of this exhibit.

Mrs. Law says the average person who is looking for a hobby can have lots of fun painting their own textiles. She will find it's one of the easiest and cheapest hobbies. These hand-painted materials can be used in aprons, tablecloths, handkerchiefs, bridge sets, and so on. All these things make wonderful gifts, she said, for they have that hand-made touch so valued by the recipients.

Textile painting can be done with free hand, with stencils, or by cutting your own stencils. Mrs. Law said that beginners are generally most successful when using a stencil.

In brief these are the steps she recommends one to follow in textile painting: Use a smooth fabric. Wash the material first. Lay it on a board with a blotter or newspaper underneath. Stretch the stencil to the fabric.

Next, paint it with textile paints, which can be purchased here in Plymouth, working the brush in well. Let the paint dry 24 hours. Then press the material with a flat iron to set the paint. A cloth must be used in pressing and the hot iron must not touch the paint. The textile may be washed without fear of fading the paint.

Examples of what can be done with textile paints will be on display at the Creative Arts Festival in room 21 of Plymouth High school. The exhibit will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. April 10, from 12 to 4:30 and 7 to 10 p.m. April 11, and from 2 to 4 p.m. April 12.

For every three girl members of the U.S.A., there is an adult member. More than 490,000 men and women volunteers who serve as troop leaders, committee and room leaders, advisers and in many other capacities.

O.E.S. NEWS

Plymouth chapter No. 115 O.E.S. will hold a special meeting on March 17 at 7:45 p.m. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the meeting. Hope you will all be there and give your officers your support.

April 14 will be here before we know it, so do not forget your luncheon and card party and your donations for the bake sale, fund work booth and surprise package table. Contact either Violet Willard, 1311, or Alice Alsborg, 1543, Ann Durie, our associate matron, has tickets for the luncheon and anyone wishing tickets may call her at 1086-J. We would also like to have returns from the tickets that are not sold.

Friday night was Friends' night at Orient chapter, Northville, and some of our officers participated in the initiatory work. Those who took part were Robert Durie, our associate patron, who gave the response to the welcome, and Violet Willard filled the station of Electa, Clara Todd as secretary, and Edith Blake, the Christian flag bearer.

Others attending were Gertrude Thorpe, our worthy matron, Ann Durie, associate matron, Elsa Gerst, Alice Alsborg, Kenneth Thorpe, Frank Willard and Helen Ingram.

Why is it that a man will pay no attention to 90 bills that he owes and then yell his head off if he finds one he doesn't owe.

College to Hold Press Bake Sale

A bake sale, sponsored by the Madonna College Press club, Livonia, will be held Saturday, March 14, at Kresg's in Plymouth. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. and continue into the early afternoon.

The affair is being sponsored to provide funds for the payment of the last issues of this year's Herald.

At the opening of the school year, it was approximated that $12,000 would be needed for Herald expenses. A drive for subscriptions, patrons and advertising came through with $700 for the cause. However, in order to balance for the year, the press club journal calls for an additional $300.

Once a month, for eight consecutive months, the Madonna Herald makes its appearance. Eight times a school year there is also issued a bill ranging from $120 to $150. The bake sale is expected to meet these bills.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

By Leonard E. Wood
State Representative

The time has arrived for the blunt truth. Conditions in Lansing are in a dismal state, due to the bill advancing date of payment of corporation franchise tax. All corporations favor the bill. One man is rendering good government impossible. Not only in the past has he vetoed sound legislation that would add to the General Fund and protect the State of Michigan against bankruptcy, he is now haunting the school system (our future).

I have always believed Legislators were representatives of the people of their district. This week, I found out differently. Our 32 minority Legislators are controlled, bossed, and told what to say by G. Mennen Williams. The voice may be theirs, but the words belong to an opportunist who desires to be U. S. Senator and who cannot handle emergencies or make honest decisions.

Yesterday the Governor, in his conference with the Tax Committee of the Legislature, did a right-about face and reversed his position of a year ago on the "Job Peter to pay Paul" policy. A year ago he severely criticized my thought of such idea. But this week (despite his message to the Legislature of January 15, wherein he not only recognized the existing emergency but stressed the imperative need for immediate action) in support of his new position he called upon his Comptroller to furnish figures to the effect that no emergency existed and $28 million dollars was on hand. The letter was prepared, as directed by the Governor. However, when pressed for explanation, the Comptroller admitted that a large sum was due the schools for January, the installments for the soldiers bonus bonds, old age assistance and various other payments would have to be paid as required by the Constitution. Obviously, the Governor has taken this new position solely for the purpose of bolstering his own pet theories and is attempting to hide the true facts. The truth of the matter is there are $3 million dollars available to cover $21,700,000.00 of vouchers which will be submitted by Mr. Thurston, Superintendent of Schools.

In one breath he denies the need for the March payment, the next breath he proudly proclaims they would vote for the advanced payment of the franchise tax if it were accompanied by a package tax program to meet the over-all needs of the state. The Democrats express fear that if the advanced payment of the franchise tax for the schools was enacted, it would make it legally impossible to increase or change the tax on corporations this year. They maintain their position even though Frank Millard's opinion among Supreme Court decisions refute the claims. The bill to advance payment of the franchise tax came to a vote this week and was passed strictly on party lines. An effort to give it immediate effect, without which the bill is useless, failed. Any bill not having immediate effect does not go into effect until 90 days after final adjournment of the Legislature. This would be September 15. The bill, without immediate effect, would defeat its own purpose because the payment is due, as of now, on August 15. The vote here again was strictly on party lines, with each Democrat voting against it as a team. This bill will be brought to a vote again next week. At least one Democrat House member will have to have a change of heart and be willing, for the good of the State and for the sake of honest government, to quit playing politics and go along in giving it immediate effect. This bill is of vital importance. Every effort should be put forth to pass it.

I will do everything I can to secure the necessary 23 vote for our schools, but the inescapable fact remains that at least one Democrat will have to vote for the passage of the bill. If we cannot get that one vote and the schools go without money and the teachers unpaid, the responsibility will rest squarely on the shoulders of our Governor.

Write cards or letters to the Democratic members of the House. Let them know what you think.

Call 1600 for classified ads. Deadline is Tuesday at noon.

Russell Foster
Serving aboard the fast fleet oiler USS Manatee is Russell J. Foster, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Foster of 1396 West Ann Arbor trail, Plymouth.

Foster entered the Naval service in March 1952 and received training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, California.

The Manatee was at anchor in San Pedro harbor when the recruit draft reported aboard for duty and sailed soon after for the Far East.

Marine Private Daniel G. Bonga, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bonga, of 592 N. Harvey, Plymouth, Michigan is now undergoing training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

Private Bonga enlisted in the Marine Corps at Detroit recently. The nine-week "boot camp" instructs recruits in such basic military subjects as precision drill, first aid, Marine Corps history and mission, and field tactics.

Three weeks of the training is spent at the Camp Matthews Rifle Range, situated 15 miles north of San Diego. While there, the recruit fires the 30 caliber Garand rifle, .45 caliber pistol, carbine and Browning Automatic Rifle.

Upon completion of recruit training each man will be granted a 10-day leave and, if he maintained a good record, he will be promoted to Private First Class.

After four-weeks of individual combat training at Camp Pendleton, which is about 40 miles north of San Diego, Private Bonga will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine Corps School for advanced training.

Leonard Ratkos, aviation machinist's mate apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ratkos, 1351 Marlow, Plymouth, Mich., has reported for duty at the Naval Air Station, Hutchinson, Kansas; home of the Navy's "Privateer" training squadron.

Ratkos entered the Navy in 1952. Prior to his transfer to Hutchinson, he completed Aviation Machinist's Mate School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Norman, Okla.

He has been assigned to Advanced Training Unit 600 at Hutchinson.

Ratkos is a graduate of Plymouth High School.

Girl Scout News

Were you ever a Girl Scout? If you were, now is your chance to repay the favor someone did for you. Mrs. Earl West, training chairman, is working on plans for a spring training course for leaders and assistant leaders. Volunteers are also needed to serve as program consultants. Mrs. West will be glad to give further details to anyone who is interested.

The Juliette Low Fund Rally will be held March 20 at 7 p.m. in the High school gym. At present all troops are engaged in working on their share of the program for the rally. This year, to celebrate the 41st anniversary of Girl Scouting, the party will have an international theme. Dances, costumes and costumes typical of the many countries where Girl Scouts and Girl Guides are found will be presented by the troops. The costumes are being made by the girls and authentic dances of various countries are being taught by local residents who have studied them. The rally is under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Lodge, deputy commissioner, who is chairman of the Juliette Low Fund. Mrs. Norman Atchinson, who is assisting Mrs. Lodge, states that birthday cake will be served to all attending and invites all parents and friends of Scouts to come.

The members of Brownie Troop 18, of which Mrs. Thomas Adams and Mrs. William Congdon, are leaders, have completed a group of pictures which they have mounted and are sending to Maybury sanatorium for use by the nursery age children.

Mrs. Eber Readman and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing attended the meeting of the Huron Valley Study Group on March 3 in Ypsilanti. This group is continuing its study of the advisability of forming an area council composed of the troops in this locality. This would include Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Wayne, Northville, Plymouth, Belleville, Milan, Brighton and Chelsea. In this arrangement the resources of all participating communities would be available to all members of the area council. The National Girl Scout organization feels that such a set-up will enable professional workers to reach more leaders and other adult workers thereby improving training methods and program planning. At the next meeting of the study group in Ypsilanti March 17 the discussion will be focused on the problems of financing the proposed merger.

The members of Brownie Troop 17 have been very busy the past month. They made Valentines for the children at Heiman Keiter hospital. They visited the library, and Mrs. Pauline talked about Nature books, and the girls took some home to read. The girls enjoyed a lovely Valentine party at the home of Mrs. Terry and daughter, Sue.

The leaders are Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Rubey.

State to Realize $1,100,000 Saving on Geriatrics Unit

Construction of a $2,675,000 psycho-geriatrics unit at Northville State hospital is scheduled to get underway soon.

Bids for the 520 bed four-story buildings total $2,285,348 for general construction, mechanical and electrical work and kitchen equipment. Furnishings and other items will bring the aggregate cost to about $2,675,000.

"The bids were close together and amazingly low," said A. N. Langius, state building director, at his Lansing office. Langius noted that similar projects at Northville cost $10,000 and $11,000 a bed, whereas the current structures will be built at a unit bed cost of $4,600.

The "exceptional bids" received by the state place the cost of the geriatrics unit some $1,100,000 under the $3,400,000 legislative appropriation made earlier.

Some society of hairdressers wrote to the Lady in the White House to complain about her "Mamie bangs." They admitted the forehead fringe looked fine on Mrs. Eisenhower... but they're worried that thousands of other women will want to try the same effect... maybe with disastrous results. If it isn't one thing it's another. Last year women were trying to look like horses... with "pony tails" as a hair-do... and then there was the rapid rise in popularity of the French peedle, which started a rash of "blood-cuts." Next year, who knows? But before you men start chastising the little woman for following the fashion, we ought to point out that, ever since the inauguration when President Eisenhower refused to wear a top hat, Homburgs have been popping up on male heads all over the country. So let the bangs come if they must, men... just grin and bear it... and straighten out that Homburg!

Library Honors Poet's Death

A special anniversary commemoration of the death of writer, George Kemyeny will be held at the Detroit Public Library March 17 at 8 p.m. Kemyeny was the father of Mrs. Andrew Vartha, 11420 Gold Arbor road.

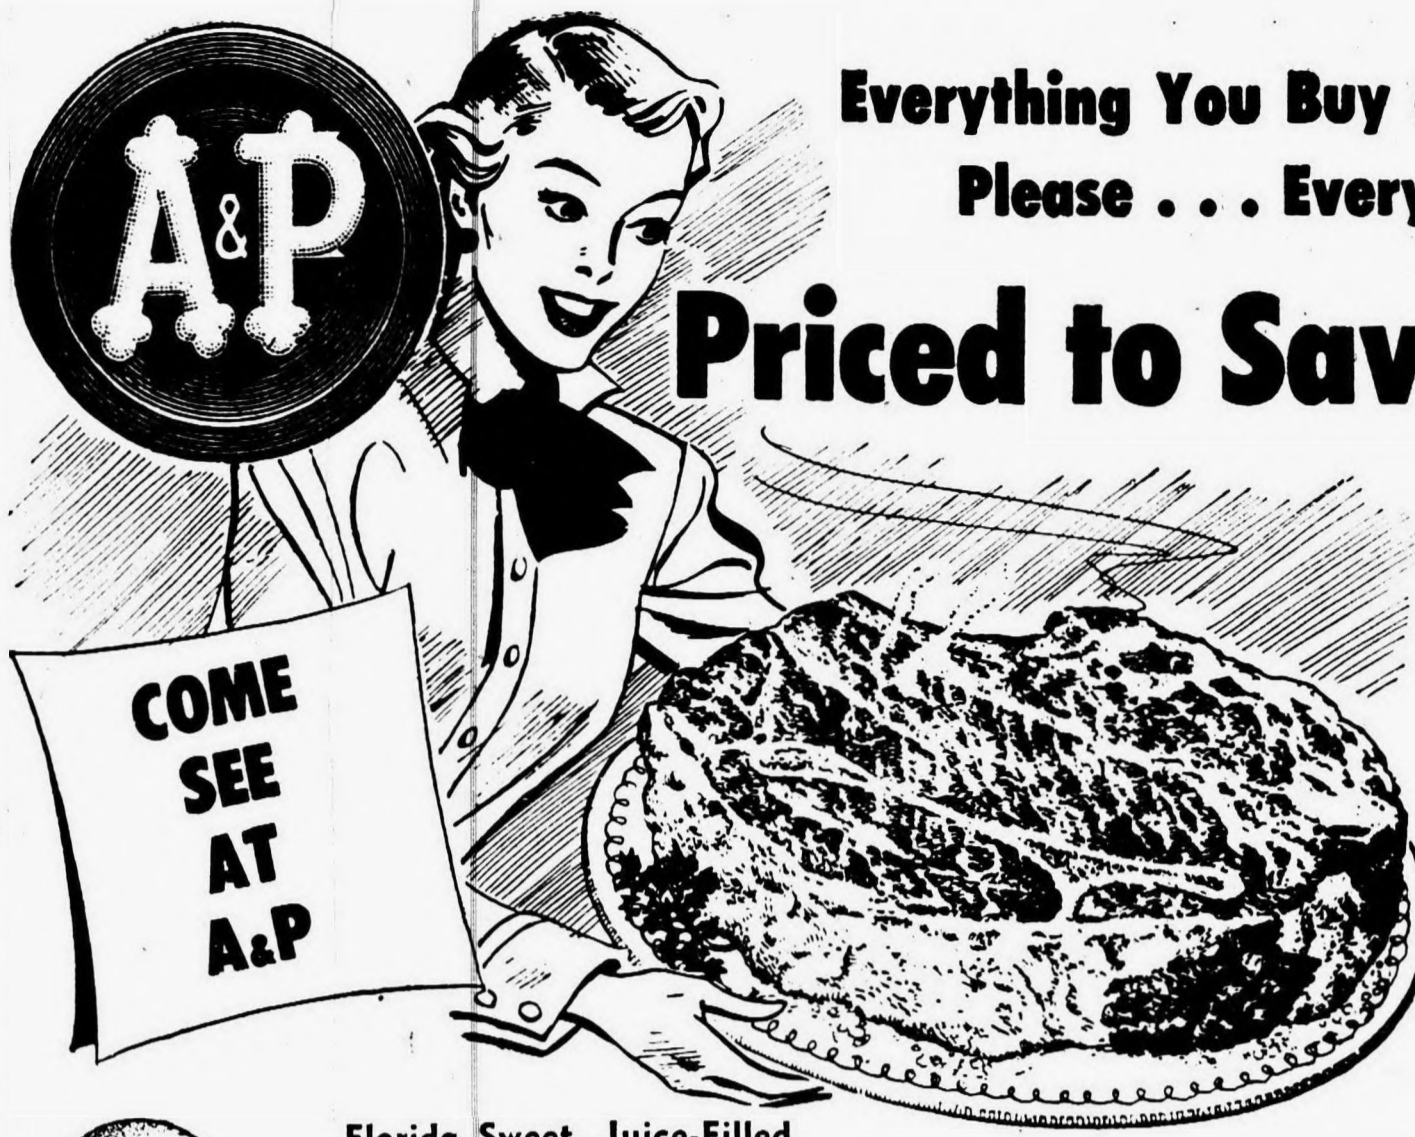

Kemyeny was the poet laureate of Hungary from 1929 until his death last year and was considered the greatest epic poet in the last several hundred years.

Mrs. Vartha said that she is particularly proud that the library is honoring her father with an anniversary commemoration since they do not often do this.

The event will be highlighted by an address by Dr. Tibor Pyzo, of the University of Detroit political science department, on "George Kemyeny, the Man and Poet". The second floor display cases at the library will deal with the life of Kemyeny, including photos, manuscripts, and copies of books and newspapers he edited.

The friends of the library will present several rare books to the library in Kemyeny's honor.

The newest Girl Scout badge is the My Government Badge which will be officially introduced today on the Girl Scouts' 41st birthday. It is designed to increase the knowledge of teen-age girls about their local, state and federal government.

Spring Arrives in Plymouth Stores

Merchants Set Plans For Big Easter Season

Even though Spring is not obvious in Plymouth as yet, spring clothes are putting in their appearance in the stores in abundance.

To help Plymouthites choose their new Easter and spring outfits The Plymouth Mail is highlighting what's new in the fashion line in this issue. Articles and advertisements will point out what the Plymouth stores will show for the spring season.

Merchants report that they have already received a large stock of these new styles. Their show windows bear this out, for the window shopper will find light suits, spring coats, and shoes prominently displayed.

The men are not neglected in this run down on what will be popular in the Easter Parade, for articles on men's wear are also included. And the women will be able to find what colors are to be popular as well as what the fashion experts decree are the most attractive styles for this spring of 1953.

Homemakers too will find articles and suggestions from merchants on new colors and styles in home-decoration for spring. Ways of giving a home a new, fresh look both outside and inside will be the keynote of the articles. This is in keeping with the idea that spring is a time for change, in home-decorating as well as in clothes.

These articles will be distributed throughout this week's Plymouth Mail.

The average pair of men's shoes requires a yard of welt. If all the welting used annually was placed in a single ribbon around the equator, it would circle the earth nearly three times, or a total of nearly seventy-one thousand miles.

House Dress Has New Style Touch

The newest home fashions offer every woman of the house a smart all-day wardrobe that does duty as hostess frock, shopping and streetwear outfit, and comfortable working garb as well. And in them this year are seen all the important fashion news including neckline interest, gay prints and princess styles.

Embossed cottons are seen in a variety of patterns, including diamond, honeycomb, blister and chevron types. They may be all one shade, or in a two-tone combination, giving a sculptured look to the fabric. Pastels and white, often with dark trim, look gay and Spring-like in these textures.

Glazed cottons, in small prints such as the calico type, are sparkling-fresh for Spring, and waffle pique prints in bold effects add dramatic interest, especially with brilliant colors on clear white backgrounds.

Especially suited to warmer weather are the cotton piques. This practical fabric now takes pretty prints and eyelet trimming, retaining all the while its easy-washing and no-ironing virtues.

Details that make news in high fashion dresses, such as the Empire waistline, full skirts with oversize pockets, and pretty necklines, take over in the dress department, attractively ready for streetwear at any time.

IN SWEATERS — Novelty stitches, bright colors, new designs are the news, as knitwear makers blend their stylings to meet "textured-look" in fabrics — button front and turtle neck models and favored pull-overs share spotlight. . . novelty fibers such as alpaca and camel's hair, share the spotlight.

THE TEXTURED LOOK, the slim look—all add up to the smart look for Spring. Texture is often achieved through subtle blending of interesting fabrics, cut without bulk in flattering slender lines. The pair above is Seaville "Jers-a-lin," a blend of wool and Irish linen, one example of the slim look in one and two-piece fashions. They look hand-cranked.

Proper Clothing Care Insures Service and Neat Appearance

Almost every major item which the consumer buys today is accompanied by an instruction booklet giving him full details on "how to use" and "how to care for" his new investment.

No such useful instructions reach him, however, when he purchases a suit, topcoat, sports jacket or other outerwear.

The "care of clothes" begins even before a man buys the apparel. In making his purchase, he should make it a practice to find out from the salesman, or through tags exactly what he is buying.

If the clothing he is buying contains wool, he should find that he is protected by a federal law, secured by the manufacturers of quality wool clothing in the consumer's interest.

Under this law — the Wool Products Labeling Act — labels must specify not only the proportions of virgin wool (the finest quality of wool, re-used wool and re-processed wool, but also the content of other fibers used to dilute the pure wool.

The shopper should make certain that the clothing he buys can be safely dry-cleaned. During the past year, an association representing some 2,000 dry cleaning establishments across the country reported that its members were having difficulty in cleaning properly some of the many new blended fabrics recently introduced.

The group reported that glazing and over-milting of fabrics resulted when cleaners pressed, through established pressing methods, garments made from these thermolabile fabrics.

new fibers. Thus, it was necessary for the industry and the retailer to resort to the rather unusual practice of "over-sizing" their garments, so that the shopper would never be faced with the problem of having to bear unsightly needle holes when a "let-out" was necessary.

To assist the consumer in getting the most for his money, the following instructions are available guides:

Brush your clothing regularly — Dirt in your garments makes them wear out sooner.

Treat stains promptly — They may attack the fiber or dye. For best results, take the garment to a reliable cleaner. If you clean it yourself, use only cleaning agents which are good for the specific stain.

Hang suits properly — Use a hanger that fits so the garment will keep its shape.

Let them breathe — Hang them up in an airy place after removal. Wool needs air to help it spring back to shape.

Give them a rest — A 24-hour closet-rest adds life and looks to a wool garment, rids it of wrinkles.

Empty pockets when not in use — Heavy articles may pull the fabric out of shape.

Dry wool clothes away from direct heat — It dries out the fibers, makes them brittle.

Pressing, cleaning — have your clothing cleaned periodically by a reliable cleaner to preserve its life and beauty.

Before storing — clean wool clothes spotlessly. The tiniest spot is an invitation to moths.

4-H Clubs Hold Square Dance Saturday Night

The Wayne County 4-H Fair board and the 4-H Service club are jointly sponsoring a square dance Saturday, March 14, from 8:30 to 12:30 p.m. The dance will be held in the Plymouth Masonic Temple.

Cliff Busha and his orchestra will provide the music and the square dance calling.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

BIGGEST NEWS IN FABRICS is the widespread use of raised balls of wool yarn, called "nubs," and of streaks of yarn of varying thickness, called "slubs," in both woolsens and worsteds for Spring. These sport jackets typify the trend — on the left, a creamy white, open weave tropical worsted with an overplaid of vertical and horizontal black clubs; on the right, a lightweight gray all-wool tweed with over-all nubbing of black and white. Gray worsted (left) and navy blue gabardine slacks (right) are worn with the jackets.

Glove News For Spring

The novelty theme in gloves means fresh excitement this Spring, with straw and straw cloth-decorated styles receiving fashion acclaim. Styled to tie in with Spring and Summer wear, they are of course washable, and delightfully new.

Patent leathers, too, are created to match the many plastic prints and patent accessories featured this year. Plastic patent cloth or new pliable-patent leathers give sharp accent to Spring costumes.

CONTRASTING STYLES give a man the same variety in his day-to-day choice of shirts which he enjoys in selecting his suits. Top: the bandless "comfort collar" in a blue-on-white polka-dot model with medium collar points; left: the button-down model with rounded collar points in white oxford cloth; bottom: the "neat look" in a blue and gray striped shirt with short collar points and a medium collar spread.

If you have a social item or any other local news, phone 1600. Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Men's Styles in Summary

IN HATS — the narrow brim and tapered crown still distinguish most hat styles... center crease models are the principal favorites for business wear... Tyrolean hats and wool tweed caps in plaids and checks are the sport style leaders... new model of the year: the Matterhorn, a Tyrolean-type, with sharply tapered crown, coming to a virtual point.

IN TOPCOATS — Widely-accepted all-wool gabardine coat with notched collar and inset sleeves challenged for favor by woolen fabrics in raglan-sleeve, balmacaan collar models... soft woolen and worsted fabrics, treated for water-repellency biggest news in rainwear, as topcoat styles dominate that field... "nubby" look widely seen in topcoat fabrics.

IN SHIRTS — For business wear, white is still the predominant color, with broadcloth, oxford cloth and madras all widely accepted fabrics... rounded collar points are fastest-growing style... for sportswear: striking patterns, novel weave effects and light-toned solid colors prevail... soft, absorbent all-wool or cotton jersey, either in solid colors or with contrasting patterns at collar or pockets on solid-colored shirts.

IN FOOTWEAR — Brogue, medallion and wing-tip models still are favored for business... amber tone, lighter shade with golden and red undertones, is the "color of the year"... slip-ons in variety of leathers, nylon mesh-ups, and moccasin styles with tassels share casual-wear favor... IN SOCKS — The all-wool acrylic and cotton-rib, often with clock effect, are Spring's style leaders.

While we of Fisher's are extremely proud of our newly remodeled store, we consider it a tribute to our loyal customers who have made this modernization possible.

It is in recognition of this patronage that we have undertaken to improve our service facilities. In no way have we changed our lines of merchandise. You will recognize the same famous names in footwear that have gained for us the reputation as being "Plymouth's Family Shoe Store."

We cordially invite everyone to visit us during our formal opening event and take advantage of the several tokens of our appreciation that we have to give you.

Fisher's Plan 3-Day Formal Opening Event

Gifts Await All Visitors To Remodeled Store

Fisher's Shoes, one of Plymouth's most modern shoe stores, will celebrate its gala opening March 12 through 14. After many months of planning and construction the newly decorated store combines comfort, utility and modernistic beauty.

It was almost 12 years ago that Fisher's first opened its doors to Plymouth shoppers. The store was situated in the same place it is now, but it looked entirely different then. Where it was previously only 18 feet wide, now you find a spacious interior, beautifully outfitted.

But only the store's outward appearance has changed. The owners are still following the policy they have followed throughout their 12 years in business here—that of bringing the very best in shoes and service to their customers.

The present store came into existence when Blake Fisher decided to combine shoe sales with his shoe repair business. He asked James Houk to become his partner and handle the retailing end of the business. In six years the retailing of shoes became such a large part of the business that Fisher gave up the shoe repair to combine his skill with that of Houk in selling shoes.

A festive atmosphere will mark the grand opening of the new store. Floral bouquets will be distributed throughout the store. In fact, the first 250 women who enter the store on Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings will receive a lovely flower. The children are not to be neglected in the festivities, for Buster Brown will be on hand to give them his comic books and paddle balls.

Fisher's is not only backed by their own reputation, but by the reputation of the shoes they sell as well. They carry the foremost brands—all nationally advertised.

The store will feature Buster Brown shoes for boys and girls. Air Step and Life Stride shoes for women are also offered. Both men and women will find Florsheim shoes to suit them at Fisher's.

Look For the Sign

The word "Florsheim," spelled out in attractive, lighted letters on the front of Fisher's beautiful new shoe store, brings with it a large measure of prestige based on quality shoes and dependable service.

Known throughout the land as the hallmark of quality in footwear, the Florsheim brand name is as much a leading symbol in the quality shoe business as the name Stetson is in the hat industry.

For men they are stocking a complete line of Roblee shoes. Teen Age shoes for high school and college students should appeal to the fashion-conscious younger set. Fisher's will also handle official Boy Scout and Girl Scout shoes.

In the slipper line Fisher's offers Daniel Green slippers for women and Evans slippers for men. Clinic Nurses shoes will also be sold in the modernistic store.

Who's Who At Fisher's

The retail sales force of Fisher's Shoes is well-known to Plymouth residents. Most of them have been active in the retail shoe line for many years, and they have served the community in many civic capacities as well.

Blake Fisher

Thirty-eight years of serving Plymouth shoppers can be claimed by Blake W. Fisher, co-owner of Fisher's Shoes. He entered business here in 1915 when he purchased the Jim Adams Shoe Repair shop on Penniman avenue. Continuously since that time he has been active in Plymouth business circles.

It was at his father's shoe store in Brown City that Mr. Fisher received his first selling experience. On moving to Plymouth 38 years ago, he owned a succession of shops located in downtown Plymouth. When he went into partnership with Jim Houk, he devoted his full time to the improvement of the store.

He has seen it grow from a small shop to the impressive store it is today. This growth has been chiefly through his efforts to bring to Plymouth the best possible in the retail shoe line.

Mr. Fisher is very active in the Church of the Nazarene, and has held several offices in the church. Civic leadership and leadership in retail shoe sales have been analogous in the successful career of businessman, James Houk, manager and part-owner of Fisher's Shoes.

Mr. Houk's name is familiar to most Plymouthites for his act-

Grinnell's to Entertain With Organ Music

Visitors to Fisher's during the Grand Opening days on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the 12th to 14th will have the added pleasure afforded by the Hammond Spinnet Organ. Dick King of Grinnell's, Ypsilanti will be in attendance to play favorite selections for all customers on those days. While tuning the new store of Plymouth's progressive shopping center customers will thrill to the delightful background music of this "prince of musical instruments." The enchanting music of The Hammond in the pleasant surroundings of the new Fisher store will be a treat indeed. Old friends and new are invited by the personnel of the shop and by Mr. King to enjoy this added attraction at the Formal Opening.

The dulcet tones of the new Hammond Spinnet which will be used for this gala event are produced electronically from a double keyboard. The full bodied base notes are brought forth from twelve foot pedals, -- delicately tapped, of course, by a pair of Fisher's best shoes.

In Mr. James Houk's own words, "we are proud to have our customers entertained by the best music in the land; just as we bring them the best in footwear." His statement continues, "Make it a three-way date! Fisher's The Hammond, and YOU!"

Jim Houk

native of Fort Wayne, Indiana, he entered the field of retail shoe selling with Mack and Company, Ann Arbor.

After working in several other shoe stores, he assumed management of the new shoe department Blake Fisher was adding to his store. That was almost 12 years ago. He has held this position ever since.

Houk's considerable experience in the shoe business qualifies him to serve Plymouth customers well.

Helen Farwell

Though she has only been working at Fisher's for a few months, Mrs. Helen Farwell is already an integral part of the organization. In the new store, she will be found behind the accessory bar, waiting to help customers choose hose, hand bags and children's hose.

Mrs. Farwell, who has been a Plymouth resident for 28 years, has only recently resumed working after many years as a housewife and mother.

Edward W. Houghtaling is assistant manager of Fisher's Shoes, a position he has held for about a year. He will assume the merchandizing of women's and children's shoes for the store.

Ed, who is from Durand, Michigan, started work at Fisher's six years ago after his discharge from the Army. Last year he worked himself up to the position of assistant manager.

He was a charter member of the Plymouth Optimist club, and served as president of the club in 1952.

Craftsmanship Helps Footwear Makers Produce New Styles

Each year the American shoe industry creates and introduces the fantastic number of 250,000 new shoe styles—more than all the other countries of the world combined. Moreover, the industry repeats this performance year after year. In a mere four years, it created 1,000,000 new shoe fashions.

This is a tribute to the creative genius and ingenuity of the industry's shoe designers. It is also an indication of why the U. S.

shoe industry is the world leader in shoe fashions. Although we "import" shoe fashion ideas from all over the world, most are born right here. For example, such styles as the baby doll last and the wedge heel came out of New York; open toe shoes out of Miami; casual footwear out of California.

Every new shoe style is carefully planned much in advance of each season, sometimes by as much as a year or more. The shoe designer puts together a rare combination of artistry, craftsmanship and fashion analysis.

It is not enough that the shoe be created as a beautiful work of art in its design. It must also fit into practical shoemaking needs; that is, the shoe must fit the foot, and is practical to make from the manufacturer's standpoint. And lastly, it must be adapted to forthcoming fashion trends.

A careful advance study is made of clothing fashion trends—of clothing textures, patterns, colors, materials, surface finishes and over-all styles (lines and contours, etc.). Shoe designers work closely with all branches of the clothing and accessory industries.

But still other factors are carefully considered. Something called "public mood," for example. Is the public ready to accept a certain style? The designer also keeps an eye on sociological changes. For example, trends to casual or outdoor living mean changes in clothing and shoe fashions. Increased travel or resort activities mean an increased demand for adaptable shoe fashions.

But the creation of a new shoe style is only the beginning. Once the designer or "styleman" has created the shoe it passes before the experienced analytical eye of the shoe manufacturer and his staff. Out of every 10 such creations, they may accept only three or four. Then sample or model shoes are made of these selected designs.

These samples then go before another critical board—the shoe retailer and his staff. Out of the three or four only one goes into production, and a full run of sizes heel heights and colors in that shoe is delivered to the retailer before the season's opening, along with numerous other styles he has selected.

Keep in mind that up to this point, all these new fashions have passed through a gauntlet comprised of the most fashion-conscious people in the industry. The selected new styles chosen from an original group of hundreds.

But the final and most severe test of all has yet to be faced: acceptance or rejection by the public. It is also a test of the judgment of the shoe retailer, manufacturer and styleman or designer.

The fact that the great majority of new styles that reach the shoe store are well received by the public is a tribute to the judgment and experience of those in the industry who create and develop new fashions.

A woman has just bought a new spring suit of a certain color, pattern, texture and lines. She's pleasantly surprised to see in the store windows just the perfect "go-with" shoe to coordinate with her new costume.

Of course, as you can now see, this perfect harmony of shoes with costume was no accident or coincidence. All was meticulously planned and tested many months before.

Women wishing to purchase shoes will find the carpeted section to the right of the door set aside for them particularly. It is arranged thus so that all the women's shoe stock will be quickly available.

The men's department is the front section to the left of the door. Here men will find comfortable chairs, and the wide range of shoe designs for which Fisher's is famous.

The section in back of the men's department is arranged for the children. It is easily recognizable by the gaily striped candy poles extending from the ceiling to a ledge.

The owners emphasize that everyone is invited to the new store to help them celebrate their grand opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. "Just come in and look around," says Jim Houk. "We'd like to have you see the improvements we've made."

Gift certificates for shoes being sold in the store will be given to about 40 visitors. These may be redeemed at any time by the recipients.

Completion of the remodeling of Fisher's Shoes marks but another step in the trend toward bringing the most shopping facilities to the people of Plymouth.

Straws Start New Vogue

Real straw, synthetic straws, straw cloths—straws in white, in natural, in high shades and multicolors—these are being made up in new shoe designs for all sorts of occasions and at all sorts of prices.

It's even started a vogue in leathers—suedes, calf and kid-skin dyed in pale straw tints. A smooth leather called Panama, in that shade, is quite a sensation.

Straw may be only a touch of braiding on a vamp or outlining the throat of a shoe. It may be a whole shoe, or cleverly combined with suede, smooth leathers, linen, shantung or mesh.

Some of the smartest casual shoes have very high triple spool wedges made of raffia or other straw weaves, with bands of the straw to hold the shoe in place or serve as decoration on a high throated vamp of fabric or leather.

Because of the rage for beige and natural tones in spring and summer costumes, the natural straw is most in demand—particularly effective when combined with white. Strong reds, blues and yellows are very smart in the rugged raffia weaves in shoes for casual wear or with separates for informal warm weather cocktail and dinner wear.

Clusters of gay little straw flowers appear on white or pale linen shoes or on natural straw cloth. Very pretty too on black, white or navy mesh to wear with the wonderful new embossed dark cotton party dresses.

One of the most spectacular of the new straw shoes is a very GLEAMING PATENT STRAP SHOES for her and classic brown calf oxfords for him, will give their new spring outfits a handsome base. Both his and her new spring outfits are of grey and white checked celanese and acetate suiting jackets. Her skirt of oxford grey flannel as are his shorts.

NEW IN STRAPS FOR GIRLS run the gamut as pictured above. Single straps are expected to be most popular this spring. But The New in Shoes for her also offers double straps and straps in combinations of colors and materials. There is smooth, suede, reptile, patent with suede, and mesh with patent or smooth leathers.

high-heeled pump, cut low in the vamp, of white straw cloth embroidered with jewel-eyed flying birds in black or navy. It's very high style—and the kind of shoe that makes a costume. At the other extreme, but equally smart is the casual shoe on a high cork wedge sole. The upper part of the shoe consists of five strips of vivid multicolor straw across the vamp, and one twisted around the ankle. A patio shoe fashion to catch and hold the eye.

Straw linings in white, natural, pastels, stripes or woven checks give a crisp fresh look to many of the nude sandals in white, beige or pale colors.

Incidentally some of the most spectacular fabrics of the season are handwoven cottons and woolsens patterned with straw which are being made in Italy and will shortly appear in shoes in this country.

The straw appears in smart relief designs such as white scrolls on black, bright or neutral backgrounds, and in hairlines and dashes which give the effect of reflections in water. Very new, very different, shortly to appear in late spring and summer shoe fashions.

SOOE THE LITTLE FEET
Children's feet should be bathed every day, and the toenails brushed. A little baking soda in the water will loosen the dirt and soothe the feet.

Ever follow a four-year-old around for a day? The National Shoe Institute estimates that a child takes an average of 30,000 steps a day.

When buying shoes—keep in mind what they will be worn with, when and where they will be worn.

Single Strap Rated High For Wear by Little Girls

Never have shoes for little girls been prettier. Mothers will welcome the return to popularity of the one strap slipper in new versions of the beloved Mary Jane.

There are still patterns with two and three straps but emphasis is on the narrow single strap, buttoned or buckled, which is delicate and flattering to a little foot.

All the emphasis is on the new light look which is so important in grown-up shoe fashions this year. For play and school there are still some mudguard treatments, which were so popular this fall. Mothers like them for their practical features, but for dress-up shoes the smooth vamp is the thing and the strapped shell pump is the most in demand.

Adding to the light look are cutout treatments and insertions of nylon mesh. Nylon mesh was introduced last spring in children's shoes. This season it is handled more delicately to give lace effects which are charming. Typical is a little black suede slipper with eyelet perforations backed by black nylon mesh to make a little spray design. Or, the vamp of a kidskin slipper has a heart shaped mesh insert in lace pattern.

In shoes for slightly older girls, the newest thing is the sabot strap, shaped across the instep. In polished calf these shoes look smart indeed with that first suit which is such an important event in the life of sub-debs from six to twelve.

Patent leather is running away with the Easter show as far as children are concerned. And, again taking a leaf from mother's fashion book, many of these little patent leather shoes have smart touches of white — perhaps a black and white cord around the top of the shoe, a little white scallop on the vamp, or a design picked out with tiny opaque white beads. With spanking white cotton gloves, white hat and navy coat she's going to be very well turned out this spring.

Next in importance to patent is red—bright red polished calf or kidskin. Mothers have discovered that the little red shoe goes with everything and children love them. Red with navy, red with grey, red with tan or with black and white check. Give her a little box handbag to match and she really will go to town.

After red comes navy blue, not the very dark navy, but a slightly lighter shade which is also important in spring costumes. It's spring and an old Easter tradition—the blue costume with matching accessories—and it will still hold good for '53 even though it doesn't walk away with the whole show.

Tan of course will be important in school and play shoes, and it is also being made in some pretty dress designs but in the latter category it doesn't rank with the big three — patent, red and navy blue.

Buster Brown, Tige At Fisher's Saturday

Buster Brown will step out from behind the television camera to make a personal appearance at Fisher's Shoes Saturday morning. And with Buster Brown will be his inseparable companion, Tige, the big boxer dog.

Most children will associate Buster Brown with the little poem he always recites on television:

I'm Buster Brown,
I live in a shoe.
This is my dog, Tige.
Look for him there, too.

That's what Buster says every Saturday morning when he appears on the Smiling Ed McConnell show at 11:30 channel 2. Buster is always there with his dog Tige sitting patiently beside him. Buster's wink as he says the rhyme is as much his trade mark as his sailor hat and neck bow.

Back in the early part of the century Buster Brown was just a character in a comic strip. The little bob-haired boy was a mischievous imp who was always getting into trouble. In fact it was this comic strip which inspired the Buster Brown haircut so despised by little boys.

His name was purchased from the artist for $200 in 1904 and has been the trade mark for Buster Brown shoes ever since. Incidentally this was the very first line of branded children's shoes.

Buster and Tige will be on hand Saturday to meet the children and distribute souvenirs. He will come loaded down with comic books and paddle balls to give to all the kids who come to the grand opening. The children will also have the opportunity of registering in the Buster Brown Gang. They will receive their Buster Brown pins when they join.

Footwear for Junior Gets Tricky New Treatments

There's a shoe classic that never goes out, but it's showing up with a lot of new tricks this season. Even the men are falling for the idea of mesh in their shoes.

They think it looks cooler, lighter, smarter, and the small boy is going to be very favorably impressed with a four-eyelet oxford of brown calf with a U shaped insert of natural or matching nylon mesh on the vamp.

More important to him will be the cushion or sponge rubber sole which enables him to bounce along on hot pavements with the greatest of ease. If his friends are wearing cushion soles—and ten to one they are—be sure he must have them too.

The oxford goes well for school and dress too. In the casual field, very small boys go for tan, bright red or blue barefoot sandals with open or closed toes.

Bigger boys love their moccasins, particularly the new slipper types with stitched vamp and shaped band across the instep.

Brown is the leading color, but these casual shoes may also be found in navy, deep red or some of the very smart new woody tan aniline shades of polished leather.

For dancing school and party wear, the classic black patent leather pump with that grosgrain bow has been revived as an important fashion. There are even twin patent leather pumps for men, women, boys and girls.

At the other extreme are sturdy denim and canvas oxfords with cushion or sponge rubber soles, plain or with leather trim, for all around hack wear.

Florsheim Pioneered in Early Days For "One Brand, One Price" Policy

The establishment of a brand name was a matter of prime importance even very early in the development of the Florsheim Shoe Company, which was founded in November, 1892, in Chicago by Milton S. Florsheim. Prior to starting his own firm, Milton S. Florsheim worked for his father Sigmund Florsheim.

The elder Florsheim had been a junior partner of Greenfield & Rosenthal which later became Greensfelder, Florsheim Co., Jobbers. It was largely through the early perseverance of Sigmund Florsheim that the firm earned a place in the front rank of the shoe business in the olden days. The firm had a very large trade in the lumber and mining districts of Wisconsin and Minnesota. It was from this early shoe association that Milton Florsheim branched out into his own organization.

In the first few years of production, shoes were made under various company and store names as well as some under the Florsheim name. In order to establish a fair basis of resale, since there was a continuous battle on for "A Price." Mr. Florsheim made up his mind in 1896 to put his own name on his product and established a policy of one brand and one price to all. Because of this new policy, the company at first lost business, but the rightness of the plan proved itself.

In reviewing the early history of the company Milton Florsheim had said, "From its inception the business was moderately successful with a daily production of one hundred and fifty pairs. We can well remember 1894 when our net earning approximated $2,500 -- our organization was elated.

"During the year 1896 we began to realize that even tho our product was satisfactory, we were unknown to the public -- we had no brand or mark of identification -- no way to create a demand or favorable reputation.

"We were concerned over our lack of progress and changed our policy. If we made a good product we wanted credit for it -- we declined to make any shoes without our trademark -- The Florsheim Shoe -- heavily stamped in the sole and placed on the inside. Some of our dealers resented this action but that was our policy and we have firmly adhered to it every since."

When the new brand policy became an integral part of the organization, a distribution problem arose when the company was unable to secure satisfactory distribution in larger centers throughout the country. The net result was that the company launched on a policy of opening retail units wherever they did not have satisfactory distribution. The first cities that had company owned stores were Indianapolis and Dallas. The first store was opened at the turn of the 20th Century.

LACINGS, STITCHING AND CORDS on blucher type oxfords are prominent in The New in Shoes for boys this spring. Designed for wear and with a sturdy look, they are lighter and more supple than in the past. Smooth and grained leathers and leathers in combination are both popular. Bluchers with moccasin fronts are smart.

The policy of the company owned stores today is the same as at its inception. Harold Florsheim, President of the firm stated, "It is not our policy to operate retail stores other than to assist in the distribution of Florsheim Shoes where the firm feels it is not properly represented." Today, 33 retail stores are operated by the company and 4,500 dealers feature the line from coast to coast. The firm at one time enjoyed a sizable export trade shipping to Latin America, Australia, Africa and the Orient.

Considered the largest manufacturer of men's quality shoes, the company in 1931 added women's footwear to its production. Today the firm produces over 12,500 pairs of shoes a day, 20% to 25% of which is women's.

Plans for utilizing advertising were established early in the history of the company (1901). Milton Florsheim in his later years described the situation when he said, "Even with our business growing there was a further problem confronting us. The buying public -- the masses of people -- did not know us or the fine quality The Florsheim Shoe represented. To acquaint the public -- to introduce us to the multitudes, we decided, to advertise; we wanted everyone to know the merit of our product.

In 1865 widths of men's shoes were limited to E and EE. Today men's shoes are available in widths from AA through A, B, C, D, E, EE and EEE.

MOSTLY BROWN AND LIGHTER IN WEIGHT summarizes the style trend in men's shoes for this spring, with the wing tip blucher as pictured above destined for high popularity.

PATENTED COMFORT for formal wear this spring and summer comes in the increasingly popular slip-on moccasin style as pictured above.

FOR FOOT COMFORT and style too the slip-on custom styled alligator tasseled "loafer" model shown above is the height of luxury.

New Slip-Ons For Men

No more grunts and groans. No more bending down to tug at laces. No more "language" when the shoe string breaks. The newest, smartest men's shoes come with no strings attached. They're slip-on loafers, but a far cry from the easy going Sloppy Joes that first introduced the loafer fad.

These are shoes to wear to business, to wear to town, to wear with tweeds and, in fact, about anywhere the average man goes. They have all the style of the time-tested classics, plus the slip-on comfort of the loafers.

They are stylish in line with the whole new trend in American dressing which is making the American man at once the most distinctive and the most comfortable made on the face of the globe.

Here are some new ideas for both town wear and country weekends.

With a hair line worsted town suit, a midquart slip-on of polished brown-calf looks smart and suitable.

For the country, with his flannel slacks and shetland sports coat, he may well choose the new "tobacco pouch" slip-on of polished cordovan leather with high pleated and elasticized vamp.

For the new blue-grey herringbone suit for spring, nothing could be smarter than the wing tip medallion brogue in brown calf.

With a hounds-tooth check for town and country, wear another medallion tip perforated with V vamp of plain calf and high styled vamp in cordovan leather.

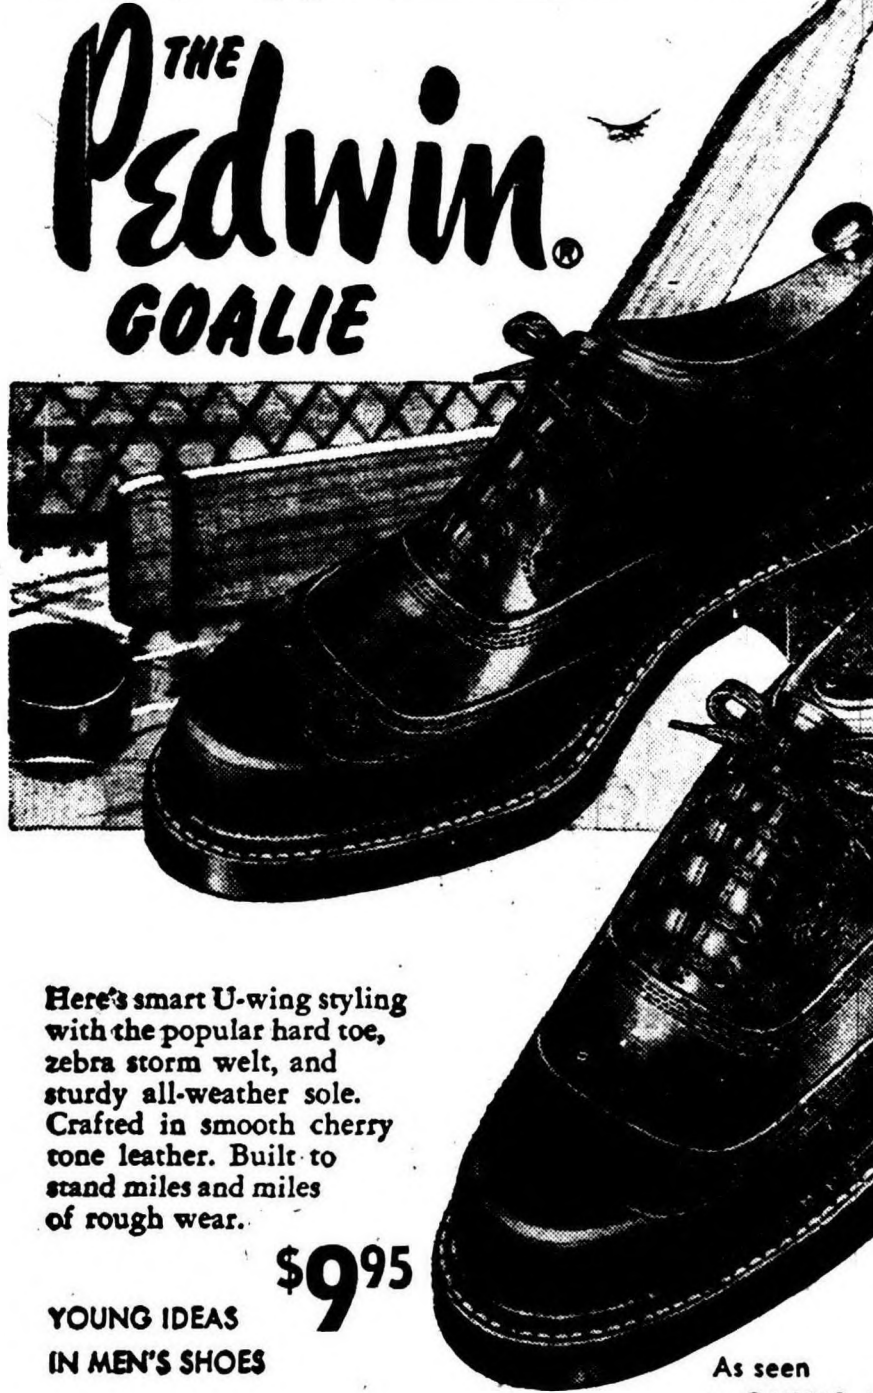

Very plain, very smart, newest looking of all for business wear is the straight tip slip-on of brown or black calf with instep sole to set off his striped worsted town suit.

Remember the scream that went up when the first man wore his sport shirt tails out? Well, eyebrows were well elevated at the first pair of loafers that appeared on a train bound for town. And rightly so, because the early loafers were just what the name implies.

Now they're sleek, slim and experts predict that 50 per cent of the men will wear them before the summer is over.

In 1772 wooden pegs were used to attach the sole to the uppers of shoes.

Tough, rugged, ready for action

Here's smart U-wing styling with the popular hard toe, zebra storm welt, and sturdy all-weather sole. Crafted in smooth cherry tone leather. Built to stand miles and miles of rough wear.

Fisher's Interior Styled with Eye to Comfort, Convenience

Modernistic Theme Throughout Designed for Easy Shopping

High styling and complete modernization are the keynotes in the new Fisher Shoe store. The interior was planned with an eye toward making shopping as comfortable and convenient as possible for the customer.

The walls are done in soft tones of blue gray, rose, and robin's egg blue, combined with wall paper with the blue background. The colors are restful to the eye, and yet give a feeling of life. A curved back-wall carries out the modernistic theme found throughout the store.

The display tables and accessory bar are of polished white oak. The comfortable chairs are fitted in leatherette to blend with the color schemes of the walls.

Perhaps the most elaborate section of the store is the children's department. Two red and white striped candy poles extend from the ceiling to a white oak ledge. Hobby horses are distributed throughout.

The accessory counter features a complete array of handbags, hose, shoe polish—all prepared to match the shoes sold in the store. These accessories are displayed on shelves backed by a mirror. Spotlights play on the area.

Distributed through the store will be display tables to show the styles available, and in the children's department is a special shoe selector for children's shoes.

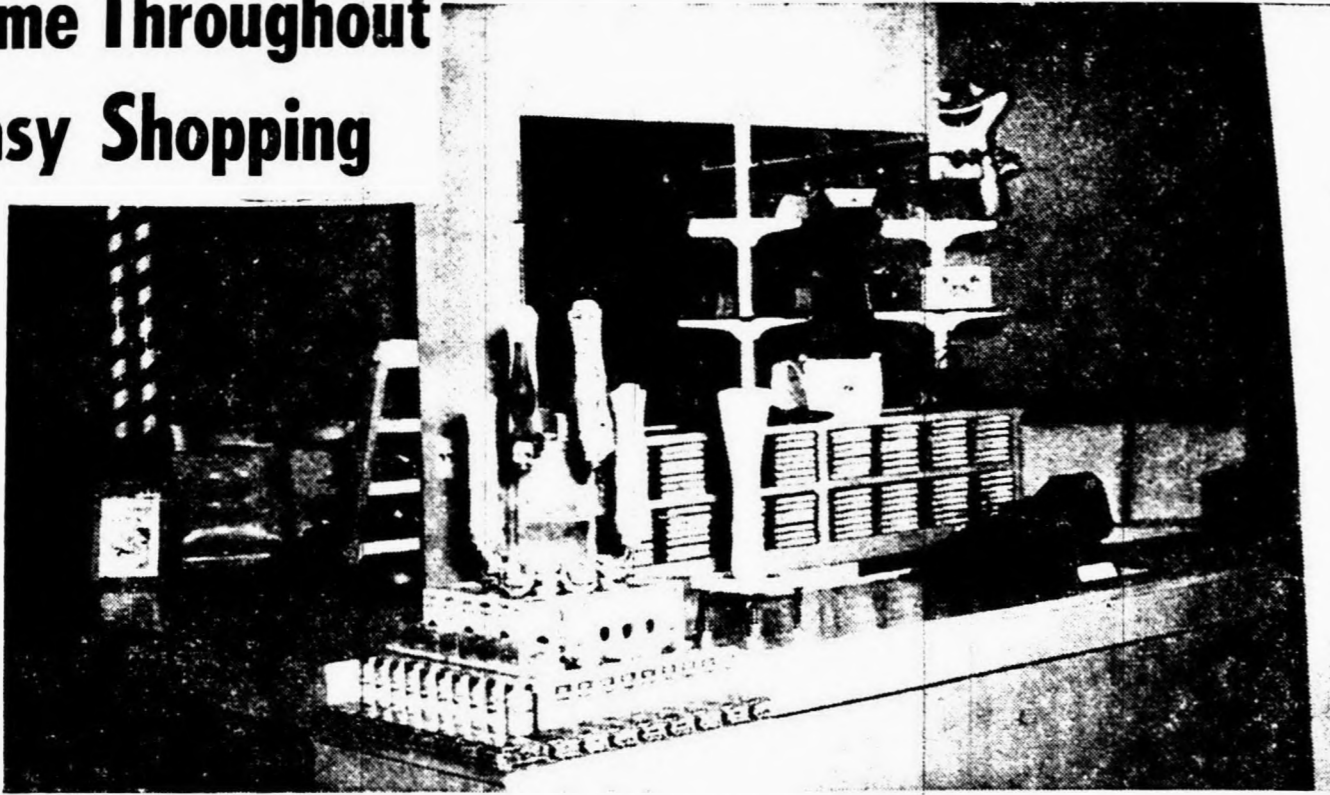

A unique element of the store is that the side walls have been developed into recessed stock rooms, making all the shoe stock quickly available to the various departments.

A modern air-conditioning unit has been installed to regulate the temperature at Fisher's, part of their program to bring the utmost in comfort to their customers. The latest in fluorescent lighting cuts down interior glare.

All the remodeling has been completed since November 1. The work was done entirely by local concerns and contractors.

About 900,000 pairs of men's and boys' lasts are made annually. Thirty-six pairs of rough blocks from which lasts are made can be taken from the average 16-foot maple log. 27,550 maple trees were axed and sawed in 1950 to supply the wood for lasts on which men's shoes were made in 1951. It takes six to 12 months to process a last.

The United States is the only country in the world that normally has an annual consumption of footwear in excess of three pairs per person.

WOMEN NOW HAVE their own department in the front of Fisher's newly remodeled store. Again comfort is the keynote and something new is added in the over-the-head hanging displays which hold a variety of women's shoes.

Spike Heel Returns to Style This Spring to Slim Her Foot

The heel may be low, but the fashion is high. This year there is more excitement in heels than in any other one feature of shoe design. "From water to stiletto to tower" is the way one enthusiastic designer describes the new heel for spring.

Women will walk again on slender spikes of Spanish type, which makes the foot look slimmer, smaller, more alluring. At the other extreme they will walk in infinite comfort on the pancake heel which is a new feature of flats.

In between there is the widest choice of fascinating new designs for the shoe that used to be the duller member of a woman's wardrobe—the sensible walking shoe. It's still sensible, easy to walk in but it manages to look as smart as the most frivolous dress shoe. And it's the new heels that make the difference.

The old built-up leather heel on stolid lines has given place, first to the baby French, and then a whole succession of new designs which give a flip. There's the keg heel, the spool heel, the heel in tiers, the rainbow heel, which is made up of layers of contrasting leathers. There are square heels, and rounded heels which follow the curve of the back of the shoe to a narrow tapered point.

A pale blue shoe may sport a navy heel, or a pale pink shoe one of bright red kidskin, with perhaps a touch of piping to match. Red heels on blackish shoes look wicked, and jeweled heels are eye-catchers on the dance floor.

Americans Best Shod Of All Folk

It may come as a surprise to most Americans to know that the fine shoes we take for granted are a fantastic luxury for most of the people of the world. Some three-fourths of the world's 2,500,000,000 people don't wear footwear, chiefly because they can't afford it.

Many of these people, who live in warm climates like Africa and India, go barefoot. Or they wear a cheap carpet slipper such as used in many South and Central American countries; or the cheap padded cotton slipper common to Chinese natives. Footwear made of grass, wood, hemp, paper, felt and other similar materials are found in various parts of the world.

Of the 1,300,000,000 pairs of leather shoes produced annually throughout the world, the U. S. makes and uses more than 40 per cent of the total. If these 1,300,000,000 pairs were equally distributed, it would provide about one-half a pair to each person in the world. The average American's share is over three pairs—the only nation in the world to enjoy this three-pairs-per-year luxury.

THE NEW CHILDREN'S department at Fisher's features comfort as well as pleasure for the tots. A rocking horse and large life-like cartoon figures will capture their attention. Handy, modern displays make choice of shoes easier.

Local Gardeners Give "Green Thumb" Hints

Spring has already invaded the home of Mrs. Albert Pint, 42445 Schoolcraft road. Mrs. Pint is shown above with some of the plants she has raised indoors, including the crocuses which are already in bloom.

One interesting plant Mrs. Pint raises is the matrimony plant, the smaller one shown in the picture. What makes it so different is that new little plants grow from the leaves of the old plant.

"I started raising these when the Garden club announced they would take flower boxes to the state hospital at Northville," she said. "I also intend putting grape ivy in mine."

Mrs. Pint has a lovely collection of house plants growing in one of her windows. Here she is raising such plants as shamrocks, violets, baby tears and Chinese evergreen.

The tulips and crocuses that are already blooming inside have been forced, Mrs. Pint said. She explained that she does this by placing the bulb in pots in the fall. In November she puts the pots about two feet down in the ground, with twigs underneath the pots and surrounding them. "In fact," she said, "I often place a board on top of them."

She takes them out of the ground around Christmas, and places them in the house. In a very short time the plants bloom. This year she had flowers blooming within two weeks of the time she brought them in from outdoors.

The bulbs can be placed in the ground next year, she added, but they bloom best their first year.

When asked if she used any special tricks on her house plants, Mrs. Pint said that she occasionally used New Plant Life, a commercial plant food. She also sometimes waters her plants with tea. In any event, she warned, never use cold water in moistening your plants.

Spring isn't only on the inside at the Pint house, however. Mrs. Pint said that her jonquils are pecking through the ground in her outdoor garden. She also noted that her mums and snapdragons have stayed green through the winter. She always heaps leaves around them to keep them from freezing. "The unusually mild winter," she said, "is probably the reason they're still green."

Mrs. Pint has already begun planting her garden, for she put in poppies last week. Poppies are always planted early, she said. As for the rest of her flowers, Mrs. Pint plants her annuals around the first of May. Annuals are plants such as the zinnia, aster, marigold and cosmos, which only come up for one year. She says she puts in other plants toward the end of May.

A surprise stork shower was given last Thursday evening honoring Mrs. Floyd Laycock. Mrs. Helen Jones, the hostess invited 21 guests to her home. Following a delightful social evening and the opening of the gaily wrapped gifts, Mrs. Jones served a delicious lunch.

SOCIAL NOTES

Marilyn received a gold achievement key for her painting "Tropical Sea Life". The painting will now go to the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where the National exhibits will be held. Marilyn is a senior at Plymouth High school. Her art teacher is Mrs. Overton.

Some Unusual Meat Dishes To Brighten Lenten Dinners

With Lenten regulations limiting families to meat once a day, this is the time of the year to try unusual and new meat dishes.

For serving veal with rich sauce, use the unusual festive hamburger casserole which contains mushrooms, cheese and mushrooms. Another good casserole is one made of chopped beef. For an expensive meal try hamburger and pone pie.

Rollups with mushroom sauce make unusual use of round steak. One and one half pounds of meat.

A delicate flavor makes it an excellent food for serving. Since veal is best cooked by slow cooking, making it simple to cook the meat with a sauce.

The meat combines well with a range of flavors. For instance, the veal steak (arm or loin), cutlet or chop (loin or kidney) is browned.

Seasoned tomato soup or cream of mushroom soup in place of the usual tomato soup. Sour cream or milk cooking liquid makes a rich sauce in which to cook the veal.

Use a rich sauce in which to cook the veal. Cream of celery or onion sauce or curried sauce are other possible cooking liquids.

When the liquid added, cover the meat tightly and let it cook slowly until tender. This will be about 45 minutes for round, depending upon the thickness of the meat.

For the Ham Casserole
1 pound sliced cooked ham
1 cup uncooked noodles
1/2 cup medium white sauce
2 cups mushrooms
2 cups mushrooms grated onion
1/2 cup finely sliced celery

Preheat oven to boiling, salted water. Prepare white sauce and pour it over low heat. Add mushrooms and browned ham in a little butter or margarine. Combine ham, noodles, mushrooms, onion, celery and sauce. Season to taste with salt and pepper and pour into a greased baking dish. Top with crumbs and bake at 375 F. for 30 minutes until well browned. 3 to 10 servings.

Chopped Beef Casserole
1/2 pounds chopped beef
1/2 cups butter or margarine
1/2 cups flour

Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour, add milk and cream, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add chopped beef, diced onion, sliced olives, grated cheese and cooked noodles. Pour into a casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 25 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Hamburger Corn-Pone Pie

Add kidney beans. Pour into a greased casserole. Top with corn bread batter and bake in a hot oven (425 F.) for 20 minutes. (When using packaged muffin mix, use recipe calls for 1 egg. ## Eggs, Lenten Favorites, Good Buy, Price Wise

The Lenten and Easter season is the best time to buy eggs. The price drop in the market means eggs are still a good buy, price wise.

The supply is a little short of the usual abundant supply and is expected about normal for the rest of the year.

Eggs are one of our valuable foods. They can be used as a meat substitute because the protein is complete—when means it contains all the amino acids necessary for building and repairing body tissues. Eggs also contain valuable minerals: iron and phosphorus, as well as Vitamins A, D, B1, B2 and thiamine. Two eggs contain the same amount of protein as an average serving of meat.

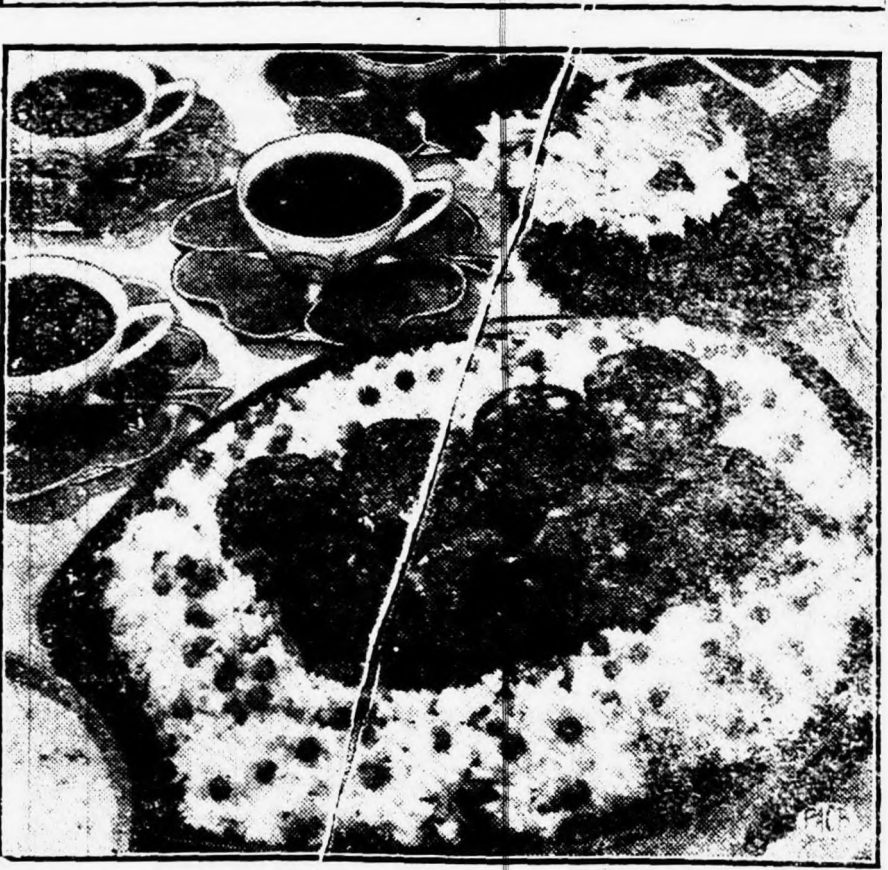

Egg dishes are easily and quickly prepared, alone or in combination with other foods. Moderate to low temperature cooking is used in cooking eggs. High temperatures and over-cooking toughens and shrivels eggs. Use eggs as a thickening agent in puddings and custards.

Eggs are a leavening agent in baking. They add color, flavor and richness to many different dishes. As garnishes for soups and the coating in breaded meats, eggs can add real value and color to the ordinary meal. As vegetable patties, baked in potato skins or combined with other ingredients, they can become the main dish of the menu. In baked goods, custards, puddings and pies they are excellent desserts and party refreshments.

Buy eggs from a refrigerated display at your grocer's. Eggs are very perishable and must be kept cool to retain the quality. They keep better in a covered container so that moisture is not removed from the egg. Keep them refrigerated at home and use only the eggs to be used.

Look for both the grade and the expiration date on your egg. Grade AA, Grade A or Grade B eggs can all be used for table eggs, but Grade B eggs probably should be used up fairly soon. Compare the price of different grades of the same grade. Eggs should sell for not more than seven cents above the price of medium eggs of the same grade of equal value.

A Gay Green Menu For St. Patrick's Day

Now is the time for all good people to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. A special day needs a special menu, and here's one that fits the occasion perfectly, from green appetizer to the fragrant coffee with its shamrock saucers.

HEAT-AND-EAT FISH
Boon to a busy homemaker is a new heat-and-eat fish. Lightly breaded and fried to a crusty lemon-gold minutes after it leaves the big fishing boats at the Gloucester docks, the fish is then quickly frozen for freshness. Take your choice of haddock, cod, ocean perch, or scallops.

To Serve
The fish needs to be thawed only enough to separate the pieces. Then place the fillets on a baking sheet in a hot oven (400° F.) for fifteen minutes.

Gloucester Sauce
Beat 4 tablespoons cream into 1/2 cup mayonnaise, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons chili sauce and a dash of paprika.

Yield: One cup of sauce.
Here is a tartare sauce that is especially good with the scallops.

Tartare Sauce
To 1/2 cup mayonnaise add 3 tablespoons chopped pickle, 2 tablespoons chopped olives, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped onion and 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish.

Yield: About one cup sauce.
Light and fluffy horseradish sauce made with whipped cream complements the mild fresh flavor of the French fried haddock.

Horseradish Sauce
Mix together 4 tablespoons prepared horseradish, 1/4 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, a few grains pepper and fold all into 1/2 cup whipped cream.

Yield: About one cup sauce.
To Store
Take a note from the grocer's book and store the fully cooked frozen fish in a freezing unit. This may be the ice cube compartment or frozen food section of the refrigerator, or the home freezer. Like other frozen foods, it should not be refrozen after it has been thawed.

Board Names "All-American" Award Winning Vegetables

Each year, a board of agricultural experts reviews the performance of newly introduced strains of vegetables and flowers. Known as the All-American Selection Board, their "All-American Award" citations establish the "bluebloods" among new varieties.

This year, none of the new vegetable introductions was deemed worthy of All-American recognition; instead the board of experts set up an all-time, All-American selection list. With seed catalog time at hand and vegetable garden planning not far away, you'll want to remember the following list of vegetables, a list of true royalty, chosen from a field of already outstanding performers.

Here they are:
Lima Bean, Fordhook 242
Squash, Early Prolific Straight-neck
Beet, Perfected Detroit
Carrot, Emperor
Rutabaga, Cherry Bell
Cucumber, Early Surecrop Hybrid
Spinach, America
Snap Bean, Topcrop
Tomato, Pritchard
Lettuce, Great Lakes
Sweet Corn, Iochief, Hybrid
Cabbage, Chieftain, Savoy

If these are included in your seed order, you are assured of growing the most prolific and best quality varieties that there are.

There are fashion-right clothes to suit every purse. The big thing to remember is that each part of the costume must fit in with every other part.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

Insulation "Pays Its Way" In Any Kind of Weather

Insulation of homes is a matter that many business disbands as something to be left to the husband to be, but it is a matter of great interest to the wife.

Some of the most inconspicuous but most important in a home has to do with the comfort of the family—and it makes a difference when it comes to the comfort of the family in any kind of weather.

Probably the reason so many homes are not insulated as they should is because of the false idea that insulation is a costly luxury. Highly technical subject. Actual facts of insulation of a home are as follows:

It is not difficult to get in heat in a home and to keep heat out. But it has been found that heat moves from the interior toward the exterior outside. In summer, heat moves outside heat is gained, but heat travels toward the exterior.

Heat moves from high to lower temperatures, so in the winter when we heat the interior, the heat moves from the interior toward the exterior outside. In summer, heat moves outside heat is gained, but heat travels toward the exterior.

When it comes to retaining heat in a home, most of the building materials used for walls, ceilings, floors and roofs have some insulating value, but modern science has developed special materials with very high insulating qualities.

One of the newest types is reflective insulation. The shiny surfaces of these reflect the heat rays, throwing them back in much the same way as a mirror reflects light. It has been used in railroad cars for many years and is now widely used in home building.

Besides helping to keep heat where we want it, insulation helps to keep all parts of a house more evenly heated. Since the amount of cool air moving down the inside walls is decreased, floor drafts are reduced.

Insulation is also a money saver. Because it reduces heat loss, it also reduces the amount of fuel required to keep the home heated. Heating plants last longer, too, if not called upon for super service during severe winter months.

Family Handyman Questions And Answers

QUESTION: The home I just bought has a basement entrance from the rear lawn, and a dry well at the bottom of the entrance. After each heavy rain water enters the basement under the door as the dry well cannot carry off the excess water. Can you suggest what might be done for this?

ANSWER: Possible solutions are: deepen the dry well; run a pipe line from this dry well to another farther removed from the house, using tile pipe cemented at the joints; construct a covered entrance to prevent water from falling into the entrance area; divert surface water from flowing into this entrance area from the surrounding territory.

BEAUTY AS WELL AS practicability can be gained in usually cold basement rooms where for little cost, appearances can be changed to look like the room above in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley on McKinley street. Pecky cypress cupboards were built and hinged with barn hardware. A coat of soft green paint was applied then wiped off to give a mellow effect to the wood. Storage space is now available for sporting goods, games, books and other items to be saved that are usually piled in corners of the average basement.

Water Heaters Too Small Survey Shows

Exactly 75.4 per cent of the automatic water heaters in a typical city surveyed by Domestic Engineering, a trade paper, were found to be 30 gallon capacity or less.

No matter how efficient a heater of this size may be, it will be hard pressed to supply the hot water requirements of an average family with a bathroom, an automatic clothes washer, and a dishwasher.

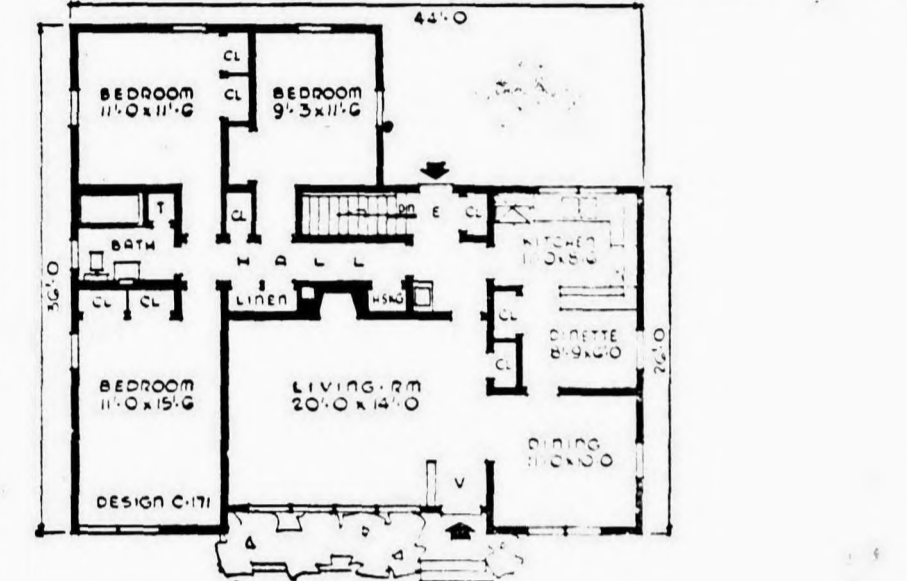

If new water consuming appliances, or an additional bathroom or powder room are added, the inadequacy of the water heater will become even more apparent, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out.

It has been estimated that each adult member of a household requires from 10 to 20 gallons of hot water daily. A small child needs about 24 gallons a day for bathing and for laundering.

Water heater dealers have charts prepared by manufacturers which enable them to advise householders on the correct size of water heaters for all requirements.

The Bureau cautions homeowners to select their water heater for quality and performance—not on the basis of price. An inadequate system will eventually cancel out whatever savings were made in the original investment.

It is always better to begin at the bottom of the ladder unless you are escaping from a fire.

THE COBB has closet space for every purpose, well distributed throughout. This three bedroom design also has convenient circulation.

A separate dining room is provided in front, and in addition, the snack bar in the kitchen forms a breakfast nook.

Wardrobe type closets are used in bedrooms and added storage space is found in the coat closets for both entrances, towel cabinet in the bathroom, two closets and linen cabinet in the hall and a convenient kitchen closet. A lavatory is placed in the rear entry.

Exterior finish is siding and asphalt shingle. There is a full basement with laundry and heating plant.

Overall dimensions are 44 feet by 33 feet. Floor area is 1,402 square feet. The cubage is 27,339 cubic feet.

Built-In Kitchen Ranges from SMALL HOMES GUIDE

Today an oven can be tucked into a wall of the kitchen and located at the height that is most convenient. Burner units can be as close to or as far away from the oven as the housewife desires. Built-in ranges, in either gas or electric models make this possible. They offer more flexible kitchen planning, allow the creation of the type of cooking center best suited to the individual's work habits.

The picture at left shows two electric ovens and a warming drawer located on one side of the kitchen. Opposite is the four burner and griddle surface unit. An important safety device is the controls on top of the unit and out of the youngsters' reach. Griddle top swings down when griddle is not in use.

Pictured here is a built-in oven and electric model burner unit placed side-by-side. Burners are built into a counter-top which means storage space close at hand. A split-burner arrangement affords in-between work space. Oven has anodized copper finish on the door. Also available in stainless steel or baked enamel.

Class A Regional Cage Tournament in Progress On High School Court

The biggest basketball spectacle ever to be presented to the Plymouth public is in progress in the new gymnasium at the high school. A State Class A Regional tournament began last evening and will continue tonight and Saturday night. Hundreds of local and Wayne County fans are expected to attend these games—undoubtedly, the gymnasium will be filled to the brim.

Last night's host team, Plymouth, opened Lincoln Park with the game of that name taking on Lincoln Park at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The other game tonight is between Dearborn and the winner of the Detroit Catholic Central-Joplin battle last night.

The winners tonight will advance to 3 p.m. Saturday night for the right to take home the Plymouth trophy—Catholic Central won last year at the regional. The winner also will look for a regional title in the playoffs.

And the Director John Sandmann, who is in charge of the tournament, said that tickets may be purchased at the door. Adults will be 25 cents and students 50 cents. The tickets will be open at 5:30 p.m. tonight, and at seven o'clock on Saturday night.

There is much room space at the new gymnasium and high school.

Each of the schools will have a section in the gymnasium. The seats will be plainly marked by the stars.

Members of the Michigan High School Athletic Association are following Andy Bertoni.

Head Official: Bill Oldair, J. L. Cooper and Charles Embling. Other tournament officials named by Director Sandmann are: Head Timer, Charles Ketterer; Head Scorer, Ed. Brown; alternates, Bill Lyons and Bill Harding.

The winner of this regional tournament will be presented the trophy on display in the trophy case in the new gymnasium. The winner will also advance to the state quarter-finals. The sites for these games will be announced Monday after the regional winners have been determined—a site is picked somewhere between the two competing schools. Whether or not this area is chosen for one of the games is uncertain now. The contests will be played next Thursday night, with the winners advancing to the semi-finals at East Lansing on Friday, and the finals on Saturday. The Class B and C finals will be at Jensen Field House on Saturday afternoon and the A and D finals that night.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

You folks who have not seen one of the games at the State Class A Regional tournament now being played at the high school gymnasium are missing some class basketball. All teams really give everything they have in this one-defeat and out tournament.

If Plymouth got by Lincoln Park last night, they will be playing one of the best quintets in the state tonight when they take on Dearborn Fordson. The Tractors have been the only team to hand last year's state champions, Highland Park, a defeat this year. I picked Fordson as my pre-tournament favorite to win this year. It should be Fordson against last year's defending regional champs, Catholic Central, this Saturday night—I'll still take Fordson.

It will seem grand to see and hear old "Diz" Trout back with the Detroit Tigers this year. He won't actually be with the Tigers, but will be broadcasting the games. It nearly broke his heart when he was traded to Boston last year after having spent his entire career with the Bengals. Thousands of fans were disappointed, too, but all's well that ends well, and it will be a welcome thrill to hear "Ole Diz" fogging that hard fast one through the air again—and he can do that just about as well with his mouth as he did with his arm. His heart will be in his announcing just as it was when he was pitching out on the mound.

One of the most unheard of baskets ever to occur in a game happened last Friday night in a district Class B tournament game at Adrian—and it won the game! Jim Wilson, playing for the Tecumseh team against Hillsdale, was so disgusted when Hillsdale made a basket with three seconds of the game remaining to go ahead by 2 points, that he threw the ball after receiving it from out-of-bounds, the complete length of the floor, and lo and behold, it banked perfectly through the meshes for the two tying points as the gun sounded ending the regulation game. What happened to disgusted Jim? He fainted on the spot and had to be revived before the overtime period began.

In overtime, Jim made two free throws, and those plus a basket made by a teammate, were the deciding points. Can you match this for winning a game?

I thought the days of laziness and inactivity were things of the past in most colleges, but Michigan State is sure getting "the works" from their Big Ten Brothers.

Some sports authorities think that the athletic directors and faculty representatives are excited because the university presidents put on pressure to have MSC admitted to the Western Conference.

As I see it MSC has done nothing more than other colleges have been doing for years, so who is kidding whom? Nothing will come of it, except the intended embarrassment of MSC, the rising athletic power in the nation for the past few years. It people know all the facts of this unfortunate incident it would be most interesting.

Some of you may have heard, or read about, the first Detroit Tiger exhibition baseball game last Saturday. If you did, you didn't recognize many old names among this year's crop of players. In fact, not a single player in the lineup was with the Tigers at Spring Training last year.

The Tigers won four in the Phillies 6 to 5 on two home runs by Owen Friend and one by Bob Neuman. Both these players were acquired from the Browns this winter. Friend is a supposedly weak hitter, but Neuman rattles the outer fences regularly.

The Tigers seem to have some prize rookies this year, and if John Bass scored 22 points in the Capitol Shirt win over The Lions Club, Camp Pursell had 16. Bud Lanphear had 18 points in a losing cause.

Four members of the first swimming team ever to represent Plymouth High school made good enough showings in meets this year to earn them the right to compete in the State Class A Swimming meet at East Lansing this coming Saturday.

David Beagle, who scored in every meet this year, and was the top Rocket scorer in total points, will compete in both the 50 and 100 yard free style. Charles McKenna will also participate in those events. Don Wallace made the grade in the 200 yard free style event. Tom Rutherford will compete in the low-board diving contest.

Coach John McFall does not expect his charges to copy any of the top prizes, but says it will provide valuable experience for these youngsters in their first competitive year of swimming.

This will officially close the swimming schedule for this school year.

Heinzmann Fifth

A former star Plymouth High School high jumper finished fifth in the Western Conference indoor meet at Champaign last Saturday. David Heinzmann, competitor for the University of Michigan, was the honor athlete. David graduated from the local high school in 1949, and is a junior at Michigan. He cleared 6 feet 1 1/2 inches for his fifth place.

THE FIRST PLYMOUTH HIGH school basketball team to ever compete in a Class A Tournament is shown above with Coach John Sandmann. Last night the Rockets played Lincoln Park, and if they won, will play a good Dearborn Fordson quintet tonight. The tournament is now in progress at the high school gymnasium. Pictured above in the bottom row, reading from l. to r. are: T. Caplin, B. Lightfoot, Co-captains C. Cavell and L. Lanphear, L. Wood, D. Finney. Middle row: H. Olson, R. Brown, R. Huebler, R. Johnson, R. Bogenschutz, Coach John Sandmann. Top row: Team manager F. Brown, J. Kelly, C. Wyse, R. Pagenkopf, P. Straub, G. Gothard and K. Kisabeth. Lanphear, Wood, Bogenschutz and Johnson are not playing in this tournament as they graduated in January.

Some new faces acquired from other clubs, the Tractors will definitely not finish in the cellar again this year.

State basketball tournament time is with us again, and once more there are a lot of top-notch teams in the state. I'd wager that no champion repeats from last year. St. Louis, defending champs in Class C went down to defeat before Edmore in the district tournament; St. Andrews in Class B won their district after a couple scores; Fowler won in Class D; Highland Park begins defense of its Class A laurels this week. I'll guess the new state champions will come from the following quintets: Class A—Lansing; Class B—Dearborn; Class C—St. Louis; Class D—Fowler; Class E—Highland Park.

Sixton, Flint Northern, Holland and Highland Park are my favorites also. Kalamazoo and Fordson have good teams. Class B—Holland Christian should win; other good teams are Petoskey, Ludington, Inkster, Three Rivers, Jaspig and Cass City. In Class C it should be between Muskegon, St. Mary and Edwardsburg; other good outfits are Remus, Bossier, Fulton and Brighton. Class D—Detroit All-Saints should come out on top of Muskegon St. Joseph; other contenders will be Gwinn, Fowler, Copekish, Tustin and Bridgeman.

After this week's regionals we will have a better picture of the top teams.

The Detroit Red Wings have nailed down their fifth straight hockey title. The past few years they have certainly won it. The Wings produced some of the best teams for Michigan in the past. They have been way above the other clubs, and even though they don't they break up the team, they will come up with good play in the following year. Former Wings are scattered all over the state, with about 75 percent of the league team being from Michigan.

Gordie Howe has broken the scoring record of 35 points in a season, and chances are he will break Maurice Richard's record of 50 goals in one season, and the 55 assist record, before the season is over.

Yes, the Red Wings are the New York Yankees of hockey.

Tail's Cleaners Win Men's Title

Tail's Cleaners have just about sealed the title in the Men's Recreational League for the second straight year. The playoff game was last week when they defeated Capitol Shirts in a thriller 39 to 55, and thereby won one game up in the series between these two stalwarts. They win gave Tail's a two game advantage with three games to play; one of them against the Six Men. An earlier forfeit game by Capitol Shirts really hurt their chances of winning—enough of their players didn't show up for a game with last-place Nat. Nat Bank and they had to forfeit—it seems there was a misunderstanding on the schedule date.

In the game the other night, Tail's were behind at the end of the first quarter 15 to 12, froged ahead 30 to 27 at the half, and as the last quarter began the score was tied at 42 all, but Tail's connected on about a straight foul shot at the beginning of the final quarter, and maintained that lead until the end.

Bill Pagenkopf led the winners with 20 points. Paul Bush had 11 and Keith Larson 9 points. Don Johnson had 20 points for the losers, and 11 for 13 points.

Tail's also won another game last week, that being from Nat. Nat Bank by a 64 to 32 score. After a slow first half in which the winners only had an 18 to 15 lead, the boys hit their stride in the third quarter and kept on scoring.

Bill Wynn, Becker and Paul Bush each had 12 points for the winners. Roy Sanderson had 11 and Bob Doughman 9 points for the losers.

With one more week to go the standings in the league are as follows:

Team	W	L
Tail's Cleaners	13	2
Capitol Shirts	11	4
Nat. Nat Bank	4	11
Capitol Bank	2	13

Swim Decathlon Begins Next Week

Next Tuesday and Wednesday swimmers of junior and senior high school age will have the opportunity of participating in the annual swimming Decathlon, which is being presented at the modern pool at the high school for the first time. The girls will compete on Tuesday and the boys on Wednesday. Both days the preliminaries will begin at 3 p.m. with the finals scheduled for 7:30 in the evening.

John McFall, who is in charge of the meet, says there are many prizes to be awarded, and that the winner in each division will have his, or her name engraved on the splendid permanent trophy that remains in the trophy case at the high school.

To afford fair competition, the divisions have been designated as 7th and 8th graders; 9th and 10th graders and 11th and 12th graders. In that way children will be competing against swimmers of their own age group.

Each swimmer must compete in all events to qualify for the finals. Those with the five highest number of points will compete in the finals at night.

Membership in the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. is open to all girls and adults of every race, creed and national heritage group, who subscribe to its Promise and Laws.

Lutheran On Top in Grade League

The Lutheran Grade school won the Grade School basketball league title last week and thereby completed a successful season that saw them reverse the standing of last year when they finished in last place.

In their last two games they shutout Starkweather 7 to 0 and lost the last game to a rejuvenated Smith team by an 18 to 14 count. In the Starkweather win, there were only two baskets scored in the entire contest—both by Lutheran's Bogenschutz. The Smith team, which has won its last three games, and is now one of the best teams in the league, won over the champions when they outscored Lutheran in the second half.

In other games Catholic beat Bird 24 to 7 with LaRoache scoring 11 points. Smith walloped Bird 37 to 9 with Kenny Jacobus having 11 points and McLean 10. Smith also took Catholic 19 to 16—Jacobus again had 11 points. Starkweather downed Bird 33 to 6 as Judd and Hadwin each scored 14 points.

The final standings in this league with one game between Catholic and Starkweather missing are as follows:

Team	W	L
Lutheran	9	2
Catholic	8	3
Starkweather	7	4
Smith	5	7
Bird	0	12

Forty Track Men Working Out Now

Over 40 local track boys began working out last week for the summer season which will begin in earnest next month. A report that the track boys are getting the grass out of their muscles in the cooler of the new gymnasium, but Coach Keith Berman hopes to get his charges out on the emerald track as soon as the season begins.

Twenty left men are back this year. The Rockets should be fairly good in the dashes this year as three of the 12 are dashmen: Jerry Kelly, Bill Bush and Ralph Wagnerschultz. Three weight men, Ron Nyhus, Dick Naylor, and Jerry Vettese are also back. Nyhus and Nagel are members of the medley relay team. Steve and John Bealon is back for the last year, and he will try to set his own distance mark for the mile other distance men are Tom Dudley, Jim Blanton, Ralph Baswell, Ed Grosjean, and Leon Becker. Last year's high point man, Avler Ottensmum, an all-around track man, has not been out yet. His presence, along with the good material returning, and the new boys coming up, could give the Rockets a fairly well-balanced team and one that would win many meets.

This is Coach Berman's first year as track coach. He has been the football coach for the past few years, but moved over to the varsity this year when Leonard Moe gave up the sport because of physical reasons.

The first meet is with Trenton here on Thursday, April 16. The complete schedule is as follows:

Date	Location
14	Here
23	Here
30	Peabody Union
May	Here
7	Here
12	Here
16	Here
23	State Meet
30	League Meet

Bank Wins First; Lions Drop Two

The National Bank team in the Men's league won their first complete game last week as they downed the Lions Club 57 to 42. The Lions lost a second game to Capitol Shirts by a 73 to 46 count.

In the first game, the bank men went right to work and enjoyed a 27 to 14 lead at halftime, and they continued to maintain that lead until the game ended.

Roy Singleton had 20 points to lead his mates to victory and Bank had 15 points. Hank Layton had 12 points for the losers. Edison Whipple had 10 points, and Bud Lanphear 9.

Bank wins first; Lions drop two.

Four Swimmers Make State Meet

Four members of the first swimming team ever to represent Plymouth High school made good enough showings in meets this year to earn them the right to compete in the State Class A Swimming meet at East Lansing this coming Saturday.

David Beagle, who scored in every meet this year, and was the top Rocket scorer in total points, will compete in both the 50 and 100 yard free style. Charles McKenna will also participate in those events. Don Wallace made the grade in the 200 yard free style event. Tom Rutherford will compete in the low-board diving contest.

Coach John McFall does not expect his charges to copy any of the top prizes, but says it will provide valuable experience for these youngsters in their first competitive year of swimming.

This will officially close the swimming schedule for this school year.

Despite some of the recent winter weather formal baseball practice will begin within a week.

The first meeting for both returning lettermen and young hopefuls will be held Monday, March 16, when Coach Gustave Gougeon will get an estimate of the number of candidates for each position.

With time to spare travel by air... an old Daisy by-word which caught up with Floyd Reddeman, Daisy purchasing agent last Tuesday in Kansas City. Expecting to be home Tuesday afternoon from an Arizona vacation, bad weather forced him to the ground and on a train which got him home late Thursday p.m.

Word from Mrs. John Jacobs in Ft. Lauderdale saying husband John is getting along fine after the last flurry with a heart ailment. One set-back he had however, according to her note, was the fact that they had missed the last two issues of The Mail, which she says makes them both very unhappy.

The recent mention in this column of the V'soske rug in the Carl Wall home brought a note from Mrs. E. J. Wieland of Brimly, Michigan saying that she was Stanislaw V'soske's sister-in-law and that the correct spelling of his name is V'Soske. Please excuse our error in the spelling and we are also glad to know about the $25,000 rug he made for the White House.

Busy doctor Charles Westover says it is practically impossible for local physicians to keep up with the demands made for their services because to amply care for the needs of this community we should have at least three more practitioners.

One of the biggest thrills a college student gets, or even a college graduate for that matter, is to see their first big story make page one and carry a by-line. Mine as sports editor of Lansing High school for the Lansing State Journal staff passed unnoticed but I am impressed, with my Michigan State, sophomore daughter's first arrival, which was smeared all over page one of the State News last weekend in her coverage of State's biggest popularity contest.

Last week was bad for electrician Eddy Campbell who had one son confined to Session's Hospital in Northville with an operation where his wife was on 24 hour duty and another youngster home in bed with flu and a 102 degree temperature and several customers that had rush jobs that just couldn't wait.

Plymouth sportsmen are planning on visiting the big sports show in Detroit this week and while there they will watch Eddie Wood, one of the well known Northville Wood's brothers, with his rod and reel. Last year Eddie won the national championship award as best fly caster and he will give several demonstrations during the show.

Most commercial fishermen along Lake Huron's shores are hanging up their nets never to be used again. Some of the best in the Tawas City area told this writer Sunday that fishing had become so poor they no longer could make a living on the Lake. We were surprised to learn it isn't the lamprey eel they blame for the decline of trout and whitefish but the Smelt. They say the annual Smelt hoards invade the shoreline where trout and whitefish spawn and devour the eggs as fast as they are laid.

For many years we were probably listed among the loudest supporters of Michigan when it came to sports. For many years we annually bought great blocks of football tickets for our friends and it was unheard of for us to miss a game. However since all the flurry that has developed over Michigan State's entrance into the Big 10 we begin to wonder just what all the fuss is about. I have known many Michigan greats that received many generous favors at the nearby campus. In a way I think State's athletic director Ralph Young is to be commended for his attitude in holding his silence, and I might suggest to him that we would go on record as being in favor of State withdrawing from the Big 10 and scheduling its games from among the other leaders in the nation.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

New prison riots can be expected at Jackson unless the legislature acts immediately to appropriate $13,000,000 for new prison facilities.

This was the dramatic report voiced by Austin H. MacCormick, national penal authority, before the Michigan Legislature.

The compelling circumstances of the state deficit are already exerting terrific pressure on legislators to impose new taxes. Senator George N. Higgins suggested that public schools being sent against the state for some $50 million back payments. This state he hopes, would force Democrats to drop their insistence for corporate profits tax.

But the plight of state solons who have 78% of the budget automatically earmarked for various departments is neither pleasant nor simple when a report of the nature of Mr. MacCormick's come-along to threaten great expenses unless immediate expenditures are made. The only answer is more tax money—but the legislature remains who will pay it and how soon will the decision be made.

The situation of Jackson prison was bound to explode, said officials linked before they started, said Crime Expert MacCormick. He referred with great emphasis to the unbelievable nature of the types of inmates necessitated by overcrowding. Highest on his list of recommendations to bring prison situation under control is a new "intermediate" sized prison for 1,200 inmates. Suggested location for this is Ionia, completely separate from the mental institution there.

This will cost about $13 million today. It could have been built, he said, for $3 1/2 million in 1934 or $10 million in 1940. Without this new prison, or some other means of creating room at Jackson, the unrest which has existed among prisoners since last April might break out into rioting at any time.

On the day of the big riot about 5,000 prisoners were inside the walls. 1,200 is considered the top ideal number in one penal institution. All sections of the prison had been crowded for so long a period that segregation was impossible. This lack was considered the primary single reason for the riots. Criminal psychopaths were freely mixed with other inmates; sexual perverts could be found in every cell block, free to molest many of the younger prisoners.

Lifers and other hardened criminals were mixed with the state whose crimes were of such mild varieties as failure to pay alimony, unlawful use of automobiles, contempt of court, game law violators. The mixture of sane and insane, old and young, perverts and mild lawbreakers led Penologist MacCormick to describe the situation as the "worst mixture of prisoners I have ever seen."

Other important but lesser reasons listed were the excessive size of the prison. Its 57 acres are too big to be properly supervised by low grade personnel including guards, most of whom had no training and some of whom slept on duty was also considered. The prison parole system, according to the criminologist, left much to be desired.

Claiming that other conditions were so far overshadowed by the lack of segregation that they could wait, Mr. MacCormick said a new prison alone at the top of the list of things that must be corrected. All efforts should be expended to solve the problem and only if it is accomplished it would be proper to consider other solutions, like improving prison administration, raising the caliber of personnel and changing the parole system and methods.

A bill to control excessive speed of motor boats was unanimously approved by the state senate and little trouble is expected to prevent the measure from becoming law. Cottages and boats have been plagued for years with "wild-b" water which is coming too close to fishing boats, docks and shores. No one is to enforce careful conduct on the water, except local law enforcement. These were faced with a difficult problem. Some proposed bill gave control to local boards of supervisors, it will be much more simple to regulate and control speed boats.

Another bill introduced in the house of representatives would require that conservation prison camps be fenced and the lights lighted. Inmates at the camps would be required to wear special identifying stencils on their trousers. The sending of sex criminals to the camps could also be prohibited by judges, under the proposed law.

Construction will start this spring at Mackinac Island on a memorial to Dr. William Beaumont the physician who made great contributions to science by studying a patient with a hole in his stomach.

The project is financed by the Michigan State Medical Society, which has as its aim, a contribution from every medical doctor in the state. This fund already amounts $22,428.90 plus a grant of $10,000 by Parke Davis & Company, a Detroit pharmaceutical firm, and leaves a balance of $13,500 yet to be raised.

Michigan industries have added 157,000 workers to their payrolls since January 1952 says the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The marked employment rise, almost 15% in 12 months, resulted from increased defense production and increased consumer spending.

In its short term outlook, the agency said, Michigan manufacturing plants plan to hire 25,000 new workers by March 15 while other industries may let out about 2,000.

Unemployment in Michigan was listed at 60,000 with 25,000 of these workers in the Detroit area.

Avoid Trouble by Following Safety Theme

"You can't go wrong if you follow the advice given in the theme of the new national traffic safety campaign. Know and obey the traffic laws," according to Sergeant Henry P. Kozowicz, commander of the Detroit post of the Michigan State Police.

"That's the title selected by the National Safety Council and a slogan for the '53," said Sergeant Kozowicz. "And the campaign slogan fits right in. 'Don't learn traffic rules by accident!'"

In Michigan the campaign is sponsored by the State Safety Commission, with municipal, county and state police co-operating, as well as safety organizations and others.

"Just knowing the traffic rules isn't enough," Sergeant Kozowicz said. "You've got to obey them. Even the unintentional and thoughtless violation causes just as bad a mishap as does the deliberate, reckless driver. And seven out of every 10 fatal accidents are the result of violations on the part of one or more drivers."

Last year 43,000 persons were killed or injured on Michigan roads and highways. That's equal to the population of a good many cities. There were 165,990 accidents.

"The only sure way we have at present to reduce this terrible toll is by drivers themselves being more faithful in obeying the rules of the road. If every driver practiced courtesy, caution and common sense we wouldn't have these accidents. It should not only be your job, but keep his mind on doing it the right way. That is the best guarantee of staying out of trouble."

Adult Education Program Offers Piano Course

Hobbying at the Piano, a course in beginning piano techniques, will be offered again this year as a part of the adult education program of Plymouth High school, announced Herbert Woolweaver, director of recreation.

The course will be taught by two members of the staff of Grinnell's of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Margaret Hubbard and Art Smith.

Previously the 13-week course was presented by Mrs. Hugh Law. Since she was unable to continue the course this year, it was taken out of the program. With Grinnell's offer of assistance, the piano course has again been added to the curriculum.

Everyone who took the course from Mrs. Law was surprised at how easily they could play the piano after only 13 weeks, Woolweaver said.

A minimum of 15 members are necessary to hold the classes, Woolweaver added. They will meet every Wednesday at 8 p.m. starting March 25, in room 21 of the high school.

Anyone may enroll or get further information by calling the adult education office at the high school, Woolweaver said, or by coming to the class.

One out of every 10 girls in the United States between the ages of seven and 17 is a Girl Scout, or a total of 1,450,000 girl members.
