Make Futile Effort To Unseat Arlen

"Where do you reside?" That was the question City Commissioner Frank Arlen faced Monday night as a commission-sponsored move to challenge his seat failed before it even reached a vote.

Two commissioners, Mayor Russell M. Daane and Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, acting as spokesmen, led the move that failed to prove that Arlen was not a legal resident of the city.

The commission challenged Arlen's legal right to keep his commission seat asserting that he was no longer a bona-fide resident of the city since selling his Burroughs street home.

Arlen denied that his residency here was in default.

In a prepared statement read by the commission secretary Arlen said "I have met the provisions and qualifications spelled out by our city charter concerning the office of city commissioner." Also, he asserted, "I am a taxpayer maintaining residence in the city and intend doing so." He declared that "I intend to vote at the next city election."

"Any suggestions that I resign must be rejected since it would serve no useful purpose," Arlen told the commission body.

After the statement was read,

Daane, who is chairman of the commission body, repeated his question for the third time: "Are you or are you not a resident of the city?"

"Yes," Arlen said, "I am a resident. I'm living at the Mayflower hotel."

Commissioner Hammond, who first challenged Arlen and touched off the move to unseat him, charged Arlen with what she called "subterfuge."

"I object," Mrs. Hammond declared, "to what I call subterfuge in renting a room to establish residency."

She said that Arlen "in a bantering mood" had earlier told her that "nothing would be changed" in his switch of residences.

The proceedings against Arlen lasted for an hour and five minutes and were heard by some 20 solemn onlookers who saw Arlen kick the props from under the ouster move with this statement: "My intent is to maintain continuous residence, and perhaps purchase other property (house) within the city. Consideration of the sale of my house on Sheldon road has already been made. It is in the hands of three real estate people. Anyone who wants to buy it is welcome."

At no time did Arlen or his leading opponents lose judicious control over the proceedings. The gavel wasn't even used once. One almost got the impression that the proceeding was a normal, routine legislative-business affair.

At no time did a vote to unseat Arlen appear imminent. Most of the commissioners were adamant. Here is what they said.

Henry Fisher: "If Mr. Arlen is not a legal member then he should be removed."

George T. Bauer: "I think the matter should be dropped. We can't go farther. We don't have proof that Mr. Arlen is not a resident."

Ernest Henry: "I am still not fully satisfied that Mr. Arlen is

Davis & Lent To Celebrate 10th Birthday

A birthday party slated to last three days will begin this Thursday as Davis & Lent's men's store salutes 10 years of business in Plymouth. According to Owner Wendell Lent, a host of gifts and prizes await all visitors—men, women, and children—on all three floors of the store.

Lent stressed the fact that in celebrating 10 years of local business he, his associate Charles Beagle, and the employees wished to show their appreciation for the rapid and continual growth of their business. "We feel we owe our success to the fine patronage of all our Plymouth area customers and we know that without their support we could not have attained the three-floor facilities we now have," he added.

Highlighting the parade of gifts will be 350 matinee theater tickets to be given to boys and girls who visit the boys' department Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. There'll also be aprons and potholders for the women, ashtrays, golf tees and tee clips for men and young men, miniature Lee Riders for the children plus many other prizes and gifts.

Located at 336 South Main street, Davis & Lent moved to its present spot last fall from its Pennington avenue site. Its three floors now offer complete sporting goods, men's wear and children's wear.

Rotarians Hear Robert Richards

Reverend Robert Richards of Newburg was the guest speaker at Rotary club last Friday noon. His subject was "It Pays to Advertise." He was brought to the club by Frank Henderson who also introduced him and told some of the interesting experiences the two of them have had at various meetings around the state where they have appeared on programs together.

The talk of an entertaining nature provided members in attendance with a most interesting half hour which ended with an appeal for greater understanding and greater appreciation of the great country in which we live.

Glassford Lauds Industries' Move to Get Detroit Water Outside City

Four industries located just outside the city limits last week petitioned the Wayne County Road Commission to head up construction of a six-mile-long, $780,000 water main that would put Detroit water right at Plymouth's front door.

The companies in a meeting with A. J. Kunze, of the WCRC, outlined their plea for more water in a statement that "in the near future we will consume up to 2,000,000 gallons a day." That consumption figure is nearly half again as much as the city's daily output.

But as far as the city switching over to Detroit water is concerned, it is just sometime in the distant, uncertain future.

In briefing commissioners, city manager Glassford said "that because of the requirements of the four factories, the city of Plymouth and any new industries and developments along Plymouth road, a storage stand of 10 million gallons probably should be constructed sometime within the next 10 years." This would indicate that with water lines laid within a half mile of the city limits that the city could one day tap in.

Construction of the water main, however, may be headed for defeat and the companies' pleas left unheard if a 10,000,000-gallon daily consumption rate is not guaranteed.

Glassford said that bond buyers may insist upon a 10,000,000-gallon-a-day guarantee, some 8,000,000 gallons more than the industries themselves could use.

It means that water users in the city, Plymouth township, Livonia and others along the main's right-of-way would most likely become metered users if the project is to see the light of day.

Glassford pointed out that if only the four companies, Burroughs Adding Machine, Barnes, Gibson and Raymond, Evans Products and Whitman and Barnes, participated that it would cost them $40 per 1,000,000 gallons not consumed up to the 10 million gallon mark. This would make the water three times more expensive than the standard costs.

Glassford lauded construction of the main right up to the city's front door as a double-barreled piece of luck for Plymouth.

If the city's water supplies dwindled (that isn't too likely), it would be just a matter of hooking in. "It's a nice feeling to have that added security," Glassford said, noting that it would hasten the development of areas north of the city.

Then, too, he observed, the city

A LABOR FORCE OF 8,000 will be employed at Chevrolet Motor division's $45,000,000 spring and bumper plant when it starts production about June, 1954. Construction work on the huge installation gets underway sometime next month at the 130-acre Eckles-Amrhein site, just 1 1/2 miles east of the city.

T. F. Kuckleman of Belleville, Carl Johnson, president of Northville Rotary, Dr. Leslie Haeffe, president of Garden City Rotary and Mr. Arlen. Seven Rotary clubs in this area participated in the forum which drew over a hundred Rotarians to the banquet held at the hotel. The forum, the first ever held in this area, proved to be one of the most outstanding events ever sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary club.

Frank E. Rambo Succumbs at 77

Frank E. Rambo

Death ended the career of one of Plymouth's best known and well liked citizens Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor.

Frank E. Rambo, 77, succumbed at 2 p.m. following an illness of about three weeks. Director of the Michigan State License Bureau office here, Rambo is survived by his wife, Alice; two sons, William of Plymouth and Stuart of Eau Claire, Wisconsin; and five grandchildren.

Known as an ardent hunter and fisherman, Rambo came to Plymouth from Flint 42 years ago and opened what is believed to have been the only meat market in Plymouth at the time. The market was located at the site of the Penniman office of the National Bank of Detroit. He was for 35 years a real estate broker and served as head of the license bureau for the past 16 years.

Active in public life, Rambo was formerly secretary of the chamber of commerce, a charter member of the Plymouth Rotary club, one of the first directors of the First National Bank and a charter member of the Western Wayne County Conservation club. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, also a member of the suburban Shrine club.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Schrader Funeral home, in Plymouth Saturday, 1 p.m. Entombment will be at Riverside Mausoleum.

Glassford Calls for City-Wide Re-Assessment of Real Property

City Manager Glassford, in a budgetary message included in the 1953-1954 fiscal budget report submitted recently to commissioners, called for consideration of city-wide re-assessment of all real property.

"It is recommended that serious consideration be given to re-assessment of all real properties," he advised commissioners.

In effect, this order would cover every residence and affect every homeowner, business and industrial plant. Some would benefit with lower assessments resulting, others would see their tax bills reflecting an increase for which cold, hard cash is the only medium of payment.

Glassford, in a personal interview, declared that "houses built after 1941 should be given depreciation consideration." He pointed out that comparable homes built in 1941 have the same assessed evaluation as those constructed in 1952, adding that no depreciation has been allowed by the city for the 1941 structures even though there has been an allowable 24 per cent depreciation.

On the other hand, he said he was favorable towards recapturing evaluation on older dwellings that were assessed downward in 1947 for a depreciation loss that never took place because of high market values.

Should commissioners put their stamp of approval on city-wide re-assessment, the Bureau of Taxation would make a survey of the city. The bureau was quoted as having said that the city would suffer "no loss in assessments."

Glassford emphasized that city-wide re-assessing was intended to spread the cost of operating municipal government more fairly among taxpayers according to "fair" real property values set up by impartial survey.

He said it is doubtful that the city would gain additional taxes through an increased total evaluation that now stands at $13,731,000.

"More tax revenue is not the object of re-assessment," Glassford said in an interview. "I recommend only that evaluations of real property be reflected in tax bills according to a more realistic and accurate assay of their real worth."

Since the re-assessment issue is still pending, there are no exact details of percentage increases or decreases in taxes that would be passed on to homeowners.

Hulsing to Quit School Board Post He Held For Six Years

Kenneth Hulsing, now secretary and a member of the board of education for six years, declared Monday night that he would not seek re-election.

"I feel I've served quite a stint," Hulsing said, "I feel other persons should be given a chance to serve."

Hulsing's decision to quit the board comes on the eve of the annual school election held here on June 8.

A second board member, trustee Wallace Laury, whose office comes before the electorate this year, said that "I am going to run again."

Laury, a teacher at Cody High school in Detroit, is completing his first three-year term as a school board trustee here. Since ascending to that position in 1950, he has seen a $650,000 bond issue approved for construction of a 13-room elementary school, creation of the School Community Planning group, appointment of a new superintendent of schools and an expanded, growing school system.

Laury said that the Plymouth school district population "is constantly outgrowing equipment and facilities." He indicated that the Junior High school will be the next "critical point" stating that additional classrooms and facilities there and in the high school are the present concern of the school board.

Petitions naming qualified electors within the school district as candidates on the June 8 non-partisan school board ticket must be filed with the secretary of the board of education not later than 4 p.m. on May 9.

To be eligible for a seat on the school board a person must:

- 1) Be a resident qualified elector.
- 2) Have filed a petition signed by not less than 50 nor more than 75 qualified voters within the school district.
- 3) Have filed the petition with the secretary of the board of education not later than 4 p.m. on May 9.

The two board offices that will be polled on at Plymouth High school only, run for a term of three years, until July 1, 1956.

GMC to Build Nearby Plant

General Motors Corporation is coming to Plymouth—at least within a mile and a half of our city limits.

In an announcement made public today, T. H. Keating, general manager, revealed that the Chevrolet Motor Division will construct a multi-million dollar spring and bumper plant on a 130-acre site at Eckles and Amrhein roads.

The huge installation, estimated to cost $45,000,000 will employ a labor force of some 8,000. A company spokesman said that 2,000 additional workers will be needed, presumably to be recruited from local and metropolitan Detroit labor pools.

Profit Sharers Meet in Capitol

Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, was the keynote speaker at a joint meeting of the Council of Profit Sharing Industries board and representatives of the government in Washington last Friday.

Over 300 representatives of industry, government, union and the clergy were in attendance at the meeting which was held as one of the regular quarterly sessions in which the benefits of profit sharing are discussed.

Mr. Hough pointed out that this was the first meeting of the Council in Washington because up to this time the Truman and Roosevelt administrations had not looked favorably upon the program. Since the election of Dwight Eisenhower, who mentioned the value of such a plan in his campaign, and with Harold Stassen, who also used profit sharing as a plank in his campaign, in a high government position, the council felt government representatives would be interested in hearing of their progress.

In attendance at the meeting were both of Michigan's senators and a large delegation of Congressmen as well as George Meany, president of the A. F. of L., and many other nationally known figures.

The program was also a commemoration for former Michigan Senator Arthur Vandenberg who in 1939 wrote a lengthy report in which he stated that profit sharing, if adopted on a uniform national scale, would be of the utmost benefit to employer and employee alike.

Speakers on the program other than council chairman Hough were H. S. Johnson, president of the Johnson Wax company, Tom Pike, oil well driller from Los Angeles, Lucas Miel, president of Commercial Steel Treating of Detroit, Walter Wheeler, president of Pitney-Bowes and Missouri Senator Stuart Symington.

Actual construction work on the manufacturing and office building, more than a block long, will get underway sometime next month, the GMC spokesman revealed. He said that the plant, containing 750,000 square feet, is scheduled to start production about June, 1954.

The official announcement ends weeks of rumor and speculation that earlier named GMC as the purchaser of the Eckles road site, some 89 acres of which belonged to Marvin Schmidt of 38507 Plymouth road.

The low-slung, modernistic factory will be located on the eastern limits of Plymouth township, just inside the city limits of Livonia.

The company spokesman said that present plans call for the 2,000 new employees to be divided equally on two work shifts. He said the new plant is a move to expand and step up Chevrolet's production output of automotive springs and bumpers.

It will be the 27th major installation of Chevrolet, its other assembly and manufacturing plants spread throughout the country.

A 2,000 car parking lot and cafeteria facilities that will serve up to 750 persons at one time are incorporated into architectural plans.

The R. C. Mahon company of Detroit was awarded the contract for structural steel.

Catholic Group to Hear Dr. Regan

"A Doctor Looks at Birth Control and Other Family Problems" will be the subject of Dr. Timothy J. Regan, of Detroit, when he addresses The Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel church at its meeting on Wednesday, May 6, at 8:15 p.m. in the church hall, corner of William and Arthur streets.

Dr. Regan did his undergraduate work at Boston College and took his medical degree at Boston University. During World War II, he served with the United States armed forces in the European theatre. He has had a broad experience in Catholic lay activities.

Because of widespread interest in the subject, the Holy Name Society is inviting all of the women of the parish to this particular meeting. The Holy Father and high authorities of the church throughout the world have been urging increased participation by the laity in the defense of the Christian home against the attacks of communism and the insidious influence of modern paganistic movements.

A social hour, at which refreshments will be served, will follow the address.

Blood Typing Program Meeting with Big Success in Plymouth

The blood typing operations in the schools began Monday with an air of both gaiety and efficiency. The first blood typing program in Plymouth is meeting with great success particularly among the school children, said Mrs. Mary Strasen, who is supervising the blood sampling of the youngsters. The typing program is provided through the office of civil defense, with Ernest Henry as director.

The elementary school children sang to the playing of a ukulele while waiting their turn to have their blood sampled. The children were most co-operative, Mrs. Strasen said, "and really were quite excited about the whole thing. They seemed more interested in the procedure than anything."

Mrs. Strasen added that the response had been wonderful, with 520 children being typed at the Starkweather school and 510 at the Smith school. Participation in blood typing programs usually is above 90 per cent in schools.

Adults likewise are turning out well to have blood typed, clerk Elizabeth McInerney said. Some 70 persons had blood samples taken Monday evening in spite of inclement weather. Better participation is expected the next few evenings.

Schedule for the remainder of the program is Thursday, April 23, Plymouth High school; Friday, April 24, Bartlett and Hough schools; Friday 3:30 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8:30 p.m. Bird school; Monday, April 27, Plymouth Junior High school; Tuesday and Wednesday, April 28 and 29, at Evans Products.

Typing of school children is done from 8:30 to 3:30 p.m., and adults can have blood sampled on the above dates from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

The typing is done by a team from the civil defense headquarters in Detroit, consisting of a technician, an aide and two clerks. Members of the local V.F.W. auxiliary are assisting. Blood samples are sent to Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit, and from there to various hospital laboratories. The plastic tag bearing the blood type will be sent to the individual from Lansing, and will take from six to eight weeks to arrive.

Adults are urged to participate in the program because knowledge of blood type may often save lives. It is a civil defense measure since such information is valuable in the event of atom bombing or other disaster. It only takes a few seconds to take the blood sample, and the small amount taken is replaced in the body within three hours.

Norma Hopper, technician, said the testing for blood type and Rh factor would cost $15 if done individually. The mass typing offered through the office of civil defense is free since the state is meeting all costs.

The annual Mother-Daughter banquet of the Newburg Methodist church will be held on Friday evening, May 1 at 6:30 p.m. Reservations must be made before Tuesday, April 28, with Mrs. William Schmidt phone Plymouth 570-M11.

Glassford Lauds

has become increasingly hard put to provide adequate water supplies to a growing list of industrial and out-city users. Water table levels in the Beck road well field have dropped about one foot, leading to some alarm that the five wells are becoming more overworked as new hook-ins are made.

The city two weeks ago authorized construction of $15,000 worth of collecting pipes to help recuperate one 20-foot well by 750 gallons a minute. Even this wouldn't permit the companies to buy their daily requirements from the city. "We would have to look for another source of water," Glassford said. "And it would cost us $150,000 to establish just the facilities." He indicated that cost was prohibitive.

If the project is taken out of the "dream" stage, the 36-inch main would hook in at Middlebelt and "beeline" down Plymouth or jog off onto Chicago boulevard. The WCRC already has the 36-inch main under construction. It will intersect Middlebelt and Plymouth roads in less than another two months.

A FREE TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D. C. was awarded to Tom Simmons, safety patrol captain of the Smith Elementary school. Principal Ruth Eriksson reads the letter from the Automobile Club of Michigan telling that Tom was selected to represent Plymouth at the National Safety Patrol assembly in Washington, May 8 and 9. The club selected 100 Michigan safety patrol captains who rated highest in school safety patrol activity. Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simmons of 560 Edison.

Make Effort

not a resident. We haven't got the facts."

Floyd A. Tibbitts: "I make a motion that we drop the whole matter."

In the surprise move of the whole proceeding, Arlen's leading opponent, Mrs. Hammond, reversed her stand and made Tibbitts' motion into a matter of record.

This came as Arlen made a statement that broke the commission room tenseness and led to seemingly good-natured bantering among the whole body.

Mayor Daane emphasized at one point that "Frank, as commissioners we have nothing against you."

"But the charter clearly provides," he said, "that a vacancy exists (under Sec. 4.8) when upon the occurrence of any event or the doing of any act specified by state law to create a vacancy."

Daane was referring to state law (it takes precedence over provisions in a city charter) that asserts a vacancy exists if the person holding office ceases to be an inhabitant of the State, the city, or the township in which he holds office.

Daane declared "everyone around this table has an obligation to uphold the charter to the people and the state. In effect," he asserted, "you are removing yourself from eligibility by moving outside the city."

Arlen retaliated with the statement that "the situation is no different today than before." "I can't understand how so many persons knew of my intent before I did. If it's the wish of the people on the whole, then I'll gladly resign."

He charged the commission body with being "undemocratic," calling for the union of opinion to uphold what he declared was his obligation "to the people to follow through."

The issue of residency is perhaps one of the broadest questions of law. There have been rulings handed down by the attorney general that make a person eligible to vote in the area in which he works and owns a business. The generally accepted version of residency defined is "that place at which a person sleeps and has lodging." One attorney onlooker later declared that residency is "just where a man says it is plus his intent."

Betty Sittman Honored At Party

Miss Betty Sittman was the guest of honor at a lovely miscellaneous bridal shower given by Miss Beverly Bartel on April 17 in her home on Plymouth road. Twenty guests from Detroit, Ypsilanti and Plymouth were present. Following a social evening and the opening of the daily wrapped gifts, the hostess served a dainty lunch. Betty will become the bride of G. W. Swick, Jr., of Wayne on May 9.

With the summer season coming on faster than you can figure the family budget, the gypsy blood is sizzling in families all over the nation. Besides the half-million or so Americans heading for Europe, thousands more will dash off to Hawaii, Canada, Mexico and South America. That will still leave millions to hit the highways and byways of the U.S.A. . . . and it's a big country, with lots of places to go and things to see.

Vacations come in three parts . . . looking forward, going places, and looking back. And it's a funny thing, no matter how the vacation itself turns out, the first and third parts are always good. Looking ahead and planning is half the fun . . . and looking back nostalgically and talking about "the big one" you almost caught is just about as good. So let's bring out the map, and away we go!

Enjoy some of Helen's home-made donuts at our fountain at 8:00 a.m. every morning. They're so delicious and fresh every day!

A doctor at the University of California is trying to figure out how to cure warts by psychiatry. What are they . . . worry warts? We don't have a psychiatrist on our payroll . . . but a registered pharmacist is always in attendance in our prescription department, ready to fill all your prescription needs promptly and accurately, at PETERSON DRUG, 840 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Phone 2080.

"Shooting Stars" to be Presented by Optimist Club

"Shooting Stars", a musical variety show, will be presented by the Plymouth Optimist club at the Plymouth High school auditorium Monday and Tuesday, May 4 and 5, instead of April 27 and 28 as was previously announced. Curtain time will remain at 8:13 p.m., and the show will feature local talent exclusively.

The production is under the direction of Miss Ruth Catron of Detroit, and proceeds will be turned into the Plymouth Optimist club Boys Work Fund. "Shooting Stars" is a humorous musical and variety show, the theme centering around well-known television personalities including Milton Berle, Jimmy Durante, Eddie Cantor, Eleanor Roosevelt, Faye Emerson, Dagmar, Kate Smith, Fred Waring, Joanne Wheatley, and Roy Acuff. The "Queen for a Day" radio show will be recreated by members of the cast, and a shower of gifts will be awarded the woman who receives the greatest number of votes according to audience applause.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", a special feature for children, will be portrayed by grammar school pupils and chorus routines by local girls will be a colorful feature of the show.

The amateur contest announced last week has been cancelled and will not be held. The Optimists are sponsoring a Tiny Tot Popularity Contest in connection with the show and photographs of babies entered in the contest will be on display in Kresge's window where standings of each contestant will be posted daily. Votes are one cent each. The contest is open to all children in the Plymouth area under six years of age, but they must be entered no later than Monday, April 27. Votes may be cast in the Tiny Tot Popularity Contest until 4 p.m., May 5.

A special coronation ceremony will be held on the stage of the high school auditorium, May 5 and a king and queen, prince and princess, and duke and duchess of the popularity contest will be crowned. The winners will receive gold loving cups plus a certificate for an 8 x 10 photograph. An arrangement has been made by the Optimist club with the John B. Gaffield Studio to provide the portraits. Each child on stage will receive a certificate, so that every child entered will be a winner.

For further information contact Mrs. Helen Fortney, 2380-J. Rehearsals are now underway and persons having special talents and who wish to participate in the show should contact Miss Catron, 2023-J. The full local cast will be announced next week.

$1,404,220 and added revenues amounting to $21,060.

The slight evaluation gain this year was due heavily to the loss of two industries, one of which moved into the township, the other to Detroit.

With costs of municipal government increasing, the city has been hard put in its quest for additional funds to get sorely needed street improvements underway. Then there is the whole issue of a modern, efficient city hall facility that would be a welcome adjunct to put Plymouth on a "looking ahead" basis.

To the friends of the Netherlands . . .

Next to our solemn thanks to the Almighty, who did not forsake us in that fatal night, we wish to express our deep-felt thanks to our friends all over the world who hastened to our rescue with their sympathy, their material aid and their personal help to enable us to loosen the grip of the water on the inundated areas of the Netherlands.

Our country had hardly recovered from the damage caused by the war when, one cold night, the waters suddenly swept over our south-western districts in a rush of terror, suffering and death.

You came to us in prompt assistance and support in overwhelming abundance, continued for many weeks, in answer to the appeal: inundation in the Netherlands!

The waters have not yet receded from the devastated areas but the first results of the repair work are already visible. Rescue workers of many nationalities are starting shoulder to shoulder and, together with our men and women, they plug the gaps in sea and river walls. We have learned the truth of the proverb: a friend in need is a friend indeed — and we have many friends!

As President of the National Disaster Fund I must convey to you the heart-felt thanks of the Netherlands people for your friendship, it has deeply touched the whole nation.

Henry

Graham Movie Will Show in City

Newest film released by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, "Oil Town U.S.A." will be shown in Plymouth on May 20 and 21 in one of the first premiere showings. Plymouth is one of the first cities of its size in the United States to be included in the premiere showings. Local arrangements are in charge of Pastor P. J. Clifford, of Calvary Baptist church which has been chosen for the place of the showing.

Evangelist Graham last year amazed the entertainment and religious world with the world's first Christian western film, "Mr. Texas." More than 3,000,000 persons saw the film in its first year of showings, and the Graham organization reported that 85,000 persons made "decisions for Christ" through the ministry of the picture.

"Oil Town U.S.A." was filmed during Graham's crusade in Houston, Texas, and features the young evangelist and his team in their meetings in Rice Stadium where the attendance was as high as 60,000 for a single service, the largest evangelistic meeting on record.

Featured in the 90 minute, full color film, are Colleen Townsend Evans, Paul Power, Robert Clarke, Georgia Lee, Ralph Hoopes, and the stars of "Mr. Texas," Redd Harper and Cindy Walker. There will be no admission charge.

Selover Delivers Talk on Christian Science Healing

Dominion over evil of every description—over sickness, lack, accidents and fear—is available to all through understanding the divine law of healing, John J. Selover of Long Beach, California, told a large audience Sunday, April 19.

For thousands of years spiritually-minded individuals have healed people by spiritual means, he said, and the divine power they utilized—the law and Truth they knew—today can be understood and applied in a systematic and scientific way.

A Christian Science lecturer, Mr. Selover spoke under auspices of the Church of Christ Scientist of Plymouth in Northville. His subject was "Christian Science: The Power of the Word."

Saying Christ Jesus' mission was "to explain and illustrate the practical value of the Christ, Truth, in everyday activities," Mr. Selover pointed out that the healing achievements of Jesus and his followers have many precedents in the Old Testament.

He said that the Church of Christ, Scientist, established by Mrs. Eddy, has been preaching and practicing Christian healing for over 70 years, "carrying out with increasing success the Scriptural commands, 'Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons.' By way of illustration, he told of a woman who was healed of poor eyesight many years ago and who, at the age of more than 100, still enjoyed good vision.

Pointing out that many people have been healed through the spiritual understanding they gained by reading the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mrs. Eddy, "One woman related that an oculist who examined her before the turn of the century had found her eyes to be in a dreadful condition and she was told that she would always need to wear glasses. She was healed of that trouble while reading Science and Health. I had the opportunity of visiting this woman about two years ago, when she was reputedly over 100 years of age. As I entered her home she was seated in her favorite chair with a small copy of Science and Health in her lap. She had been reading to herself. I noted that she wore no glasses. She read to me from the volume without aid or assistance of any kind."

The solution to mankind's problems, he continued, is "a new view of man, a true, spiritual view." When man is understood as the spiritual image and likeness of the one infinite God, good, "evil thoughts, fear, ignorance, sin, fade and the inharmonious disappears."

Dealing further with the frequently asked question, "How does Christian Science heal?" Mr. Selover said: "The power of God, or influence of Truth, which Jesus used and which Christian Scientists employ today is the Christ. The redemptive, regenerative power of the Christ, when accepted and applied, wipes out of human consciousness the fear, the ignorance, and the sin which tend to disable the body."

Prayer in Christian Science," he said, "is neither emotional nor intellectual. It is spiritual." The power of God, he added, "is available in every home, in every office, in every nation."

Mr. Selover told how the discovery of Christian Science came about, through years of searching the Scriptures on the part of Mary Baker Eddy. At a time when she was near death from an accident in 1866, with friends gathered in the parlor awaiting her demise, she read the account in Matthew of Jesus' healing of the palsied man. This led to her own healing.

"The law of God, the law of good as contained in the Bible, had raised her up to health and useful activity," said the lecturer. Mr. Selover is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship and is now on extended lecture tour.

Did you ever stop to think that maybe the other fellow's faults you see so plainly are only reflections of your own?

Sermon: "A PROMISE FOR EVERY DAY"

"A Friendly Church for Friendly People!"

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST. Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age. Is there a "hereafter" and how may one prepare for it, if there is? That question has puzzled many. The answer will be found in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 28, under the subject "Probation After Death." The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (6:14): "God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Luke 20:38): "For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include "The universal belief in death is of no advantage. It cannot make Life or Truth apparent. Death will be found at length to be a mortal dream, which comes in darkness and disappears with the light." (p. 42)

the permanent grasses are slowly developing. Most commonly used is perennial rye grass. However, it is good for only a few years, until the permanent grasses take over. If the slope is high and a large quantity of water rushes down, half the seed should be common oats or rye.

Just any type of grass will not do for your lawn. You will need to consider any slopes present as well as conditions of sun and shade.

For a level or gently sloping lawn in open sun, Kentucky blue grass is recommended. For sandy soil with a slightly acid condition, the usual lawn is made up of a combination of native red top and New Zealand red fescue.

However, there are so many grasses and so many different mixtures that it would be desirable to get some advice from your local seed dealer as to which best suits your special conditions.

If your soil is poorly drained, some of the meadow grasses like red top meadow fescue and the like would be very useful. If your lawn is dry and overly drained, you might use the New Zealand red fescue or some of the creeping bent grasses. For a lawn partly in shade, the usual base consists of either meadow fescue grass or Cheating's New Zealand red fescue grass.

On a sloping bank, it is best to use special grasses which bind the soil and prevent erosion. Several kinds of creeping bent grass might be desirable here.

One of the principal problems in seeding on a slope is to keep the slope from washing away while the seed is starting. You can use a temporary, rapidly germinating grass which will grow fast and hold the soil while Weeds are bound to appear. There is only one thing to do—pull them up! Do not use weed sprays on tender young seedlings. When the grass is well established, anti-weed sprays can be used.

For purposes of economy in dealing with a large area, you can have two kinds of lawn. First, there is the garden lawn, or the area near the house. To ensure rich, heavy grass, use the normal amount of grass seed and employ intensive soil preparation.

Second, there is the meadow lawn, farther from the house. This will require less expensive preparation. You may use about half the quantity of seed and cheaper grass, thus saving from one-half to two-thirds of the ma-

County Group Holds Monthly Meet at Smith

The out-county chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children held a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the Smith school. Each month the society of visiting teachers and speech teachers meets in a different community in the county. The organization is affiliated with the National Education association.

Mrs. Vera Todd, president, presided at the meeting. Ruth Erikson, principal of the Smith school, gave the welcome, and Russell Isbister, superintendent of schools, also extended greetings to the group. A report was given on the national convention held in Boston this month.

Musical performances provided entertainment for the evening. A flute solo was presented by Jill Clarke, a fifth grader at the Smith school. Mary Lou Hartwick sang several musical selections.

The general chairman for the meeting was Miss Mildred Field.

Al's Heating Gets G.E. Franchise

Al's Heating, at 1150 Carol, has recently been awarded a franchise to handle General Electric heating and air conditioning equipment in this area.

Al Holcomb, proprietor of the firm, said that the company will service all type units. Employees are now attending a General Electric school to train in the installation of these appliances. Al's Heating was established in Plymouth several months ago. The company received the General Electric franchise as a part of their program of providing Plymouth residents with the best in heating appliances.

Shading is good practice when plants are succulent, when soil and air are dry and when sun is hot. But good plants can usually be set successfully without shade, especially if water or starter solution is used or if good contact between soil and root is established otherwise.

Studies made on sample areas confirm the evidence of kill records that mature oak-hickory woodland is the best habitat for fox squirrels in Michigan.

Community Fund Names Committee

A new budget committee was appointed at the last meeting of the Plymouth Community Fund. Named to the new committee are Louis Goddard, chairman, Harry Roberts and George Mayhew.

Reports were made at the meeting by representatives from the Veterans' Memorial foundation and Salvation Army. Roy A. Fisher, treasurer of the Veterans' Memorial foundation, explained the budget of the group. He also pointed out the uses of the Veterans' Memorial building. Fisher said it was for the residents of Plymouth with veterans groups getting first priority.

Captain William Roberts of the Salvation Army explained his organization's budget. He pointed out that the Army specializes in youth work, saying "If we can save youth, we will not have to spend so much time working in the prisons."

The typical beaver colony consists of an individual family, including two parents, yearlings born the previous year and kits of the current year.

Timpona Cites Costs of Improper Package Wrapping

To save both the post office and the individual a lot of trouble, Dr. George Timpona, postmaster, urged that packages be wrapped and addressed correctly. He said that damaged parcel post runs into millions of dollars a year throughout the country.

"The Plymouth post office turns down packages when they are not securely wrapped," Dr. Timpona explained. This makes it necessary for the person to take the package home again and rewrap it, he added. "It would be so much simpler for everyone if a good job were done in the first place," he said.

The postmaster advised that the state name be spelled out in the address. If the address is typed, the name of the state should be in capital letters. The city name should be on a separate line with the zone number, should there be one, after it.

"The more complete the address, the faster the mail is dispatched," Dr. Timpona said. He explained that postal employees read from below upwards when sorting mail.

• Packages should be wrapped and tied securely. Dr. Timpona pointed out, using large easy-to-read labels. The return address must appear in the left hand corner of the package. Special deliveries, special handling and C.O.D. should be marked with a large, red rubber stamp when possible, he said.

Dr. Timpona had some advice for people and companies who do a large volume of mailing. He urged that stamped and metered mail be kept separate. In large volumes cities and states should be separated as well.

Clerks in a mailing department should learn the dispatch schedule and allow sufficient time to get the mail to the post office. In this way, Dr. Timpona said, post office employees can tie and dispatch the mail the same day.

Large mail users can speed up their mail service by the use of metered machines. This type mail does not require post office cancellation. The point of destination, he added, should be marked with large facing slips whenever possible.

Dr. Timpona said he would be glad to help anyone in planning a mailing routine. Through his direction the individual can be assured the fastest delivery possible of all his parcel post and other mail.

Mrs. B. E. Giles of Blunk street will entertain the members of her Mayflower bridge club Tuesday afternoon in her home.

Miss Sue Kenitz of West Ann Arbor trail attended the Builder's Show in Detroit last Friday evening.

Here's Good News for Onion Eaters

Home gardeners can harvest onions from early spring until Christmas, if they avail themselves of the perennial and annual types. Egyptian onions planted with top sets in the fall are ready for harvest as soon as the ground thaws out the next spring.

Bottom sets, which are drafted onion bulbs stored over winter, will produce a harvest of green onions in three weeks after they are planted; and since they ignore frosts they can be started as soon as the soil is prepared.

Onion seed can be sown at the same time, and between sets and seeds a continuous harvest may be reaped, concluding with big Spanish type sweet onions in late summer, and winter onions in the fall.

From 15 to 20 pounds of large onions can be grown from a pound of onion sets which do not average over three-quarters of an inch in diameter. To grow large onions, use the smallest sets, planted an inch deep. To grow spring onions, select the larger sets and place them two or three inches deep. The smaller sets do not make seed stalks, but devote their energy to maturing a bulb, which will keep well in storage, even in a warm basement.

Consolidation Slated for Two Desperate Schools

Board of education officials from Wayne and Belleville in surprise moves last week officially voted to annex Canton township's Truesdell and Palmer districts. Neither of them have high schools.

The annexation move, that must now be voted on by the districts themselves, is seen as the outgrowth of an agreement that the Plymouth board of education approve annexation of Canton Center and Cherry Hill districts. Of the three school boards, Plymouth is the only one not taking official action so far.

Nor has the school board here or officials elsewhere ruled to accept Nankin township's Patchen and Cooper districts.

These four, whose tuition students come to Plymouth in heavy numbers, are still on the outside looking in—without high schools that guarantee a "free" pre-college education. And for these liberal doses of knowledge, the townships are paying cold, hard cash to the tune of $173.15 per year for every one of their tuition students.

On top of this there is the ever current fear that school board officials may hand down shutout decrees that would prohibit future tuition students from even opening the high school's doors to get their pre-college degree.

For tuition students in Nankin three and one fractional districts it's no laughing matter. Wayne officials shut both of the districts out. So did Livonia and Garden City. And Plymouth has already turned away new tuition students from one fractional, permitting just those from the Patchen district to attend.

It's no secret that co-educational knowledge and skills for the Nankin district students is being periled. The only high school those from one fractional can attend is in Northville—some 12 miles distant. If Northville shuts them out due to overcrowding and Plymouth hands down its shut-out decree on the 75 from district three attending, there will be no educational plant within a 20-mile radius they can attend.

One educator deeply concerned with the education of rural youths believes that the only way to solve the issue of school district annexation is to place "moral obligations" before the dollar sign. The statement came in answer to school board excuses that the rural districts were "too poor" to pay their own way under district-wide taxation.

"The situation in Nankin township is critical," Charles Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne county schools, said Monday.

He said that the suggestion that Plymouth annex Canton Center "is a step in the right direction. I'm sure it is only a matter of time," he surmised.

Whether or not Cherry Hill will be annexed to Plymouth is still uncertain at this time. Informed sources indicate that there has been an "unofficial" request to head up annexation of that district. Of the 12 known tuition students from Cherry Hill, 10 of them attend Plymouth High school while just two go to Ypsilanti High. Brake said the preponderance attending PHS "would indicate that that district should be incorporated into the Plymouth system."

Up to this time the Plymouth school board has cold shouldered the annexation plea from residents in Nankin's Patchen district. Some 75 students from there go to PHS.

Brake said that agreements may be sought to divide Patchen, the area north of Ford road being incorporated into the Plymouth system, the other half going to Livonia. He said that Livonia board officials may agree to annex Nankin's one fraction (Cooper) district. Current negotiations are said to be pending before that board.

Wayne county educators have steadily been chopping down the multiplicity of "patch-quilt" districts. An original number have been consolidated into 50.

"Our ultimate goal is 30 districts, each one with a complete elementary and high school facility," Brake revealed. He observed that his department was in some instances confronted with area resistance to consolidation.

Consolidation of districts without high schools into those who have the facility, carry these benefits:

- 1) No shut-out decrees; education to all rural students under a system of district-wide taxation with an equitable distribution of costs.
- 2) Transportation to and from school rooms.
- 3) Responsibility for annexation rests first with school officials then with residents. A guidepost to incorporation, Brake said, revolves around a survey that shows a rural district allies itself to an urban community by working there or buying commodities or satisfying their needs through patronizing local businessmen.

GOOD NEWS ABOUT TB

by Science Features

Approximately one American in every 150 is infected with the tiny germ which causes tuberculosis. Statistics show that 400,000 persons in the U.S. have the disease in an active form, while twice that many harbor the inactive germs.

TB is one of the most dread diseases of man. It strikes young and old alike and strikes most viciously among those who are most defenseless—the impoverished, the hungry, the weak. In America some 31,000 died of it in 1951. The world's TB death toll ranges from five to six million each year.

The standard treatment for tuberculosis used to be bed rest, good food and, occasionally, surgery or injection of air to collapse a lung. Nature still is the healer—with a big helping hand from science. But today there is good news about TB—four powerful drugs that attack the tuberculosis germ, and promise longer lives and even cures for its victims.

These four drugs are streptomycin, viomycin, PAS (paraminosalicylic acid) and isoniazid. The first two are antibiotics, earth-mold drugs. PAS is a cousin of the common aspirin, and isoniazid is related to the B vitamin family.

None of the four drugs is a cure for tuberculosis. None even combats it successfully for long when given alone. For the tuberculosis germ, which has plagued man since history began, has the ability to fight back against the weapons science devises against it.

Some TB germs in every generation seem to be unaffected by streptomycin when it is given over a period of time. And this same development of resistance is also true of isoniazid. Overdoses of streptomycin, the drug most used against TB, may sometimes damage the patient's hearing although the drug's effect on TB far outweighs this disadvantage.

Scientists, however, are getting around these and other drawbacks by combining streptomycin with isoniazid, and these with viomycin and PAS. At long last there is hope of victory in mankind's war against TB.

TELEVISION WORKSHOP for Plymouth High school this week was a future promise held out with a $5,500 Ford Foundation scholarship awarded to PHS speech instructor, Carl W. Kranish. Kranish (left) was granted a year's leave of absence to study educational television at Michigan State college and Wayne University. He will bring his added skills back to PHS to pioneer in a TV workshop here. Shown above, he is being congratulated by Principal Carvel M. Bentley following official notification that he was one of 400 high school teachers throughout the nation to receive the coveted award.

A Television Workshop course may be incorporated as part of the curricula at Plymouth High school. This was in the offing following an announcement Monday that PHS Speech Instructor Carl W. Kranish has been awarded a $5,500 Ford Foundation scholarship and a year's leave of absence to study educational television. Kranish in an interview said that prospects looked good for establishing a Television Workshop at PHS that will serve as an "educational and training media for future television embryos."

"Although it's too early to make definite plans, we may affiliate with the Detroit Education Television Foundation," Kranish said.

The DETF has allocated to it Ultra High Frequency (UHF) Channel 56. A channel set aside for educational TV, it will be used by public schools, colleges and universities. It is not known at this time when the transmitter station will be constructed and allied equipment made available. Current information indicates funds from national organizations are currently being sought by DETF.

Kranish is one of 400 high school teachers throughout the country to be named this year to the scholarship administered by The Fund For the Advancement of Education. He was selected by a local committee from the high school and approved by the national association on April 15. His award comes as the first of its type to be given a PHS instructor. Kranish said he would take his

Study Osteopaths' Plea to Endorse Hospital Plan

A plea for "moral support and endorsement" made by incorporation members who will build the Livonia General Osteopathic Hospital was last week referred to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce hospital committee.

The plea was made as 22 osteopaths and Livonia backers founded a non-profit group to receive area and local funds to help pay the cost of the 100 bed, $1,500,000 medical unit.

Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold said that the board "felt they were not in a position to judge" the varying technical and financing details of the hospital's construction.

Sibbold stated that the corporation's request has been placed in the hands of the Chamber's hospital committee for "consideration and study."

He indicated that if the Chamber endorsed the hospital corporation it would act as one of its local agents in setting up and carrying out campaign strategy for subscriptions.

"We are taking a middle road policy at the present time," Sibbold revealed. He said the hospital committee would make its recommendations at a meeting of the board of directors on May 12.

During the past three years the hospital committee has worked jointly with committee groups from Northville and Livonia in heading up a move to get under construction a $2,000,000 hospital containing 100 beds. Their work and investigations played an active role in heading up a move by the Order of the Felician Sisters to take over construction and support of the medical unit the Chamber had in the planning stage during this time.

Sister Mary Paula of the Felician Order's Villa St. Vieux two months ago announced that St. Mary's hospital had been incorporated last January. It will serve the tri-city areas of Plymouth, Northville and Livonia when constructed within the next two-year period announced by Sister Paula.

It never takes a Plymouth father and mother long to reach the conclusion that the meanest boy in the neighborhood doesn't belong to them.

The patient: "Doctor, I snore so loudly I wake myself up!"
The Doctor: "That is easy to overcome. Sleep in the next room."

Native Ability, Professional Leadership Marks Lady Insurance Agent's Success

In slightly over a year, Mrs. Florence Wood, owner of the William Wood Insurance agency, has not only grown rapidly in stature as a business woman but has seen the agency forge ahead under her professional leadership.

Mrs. Wood was recently named in The Emblem (February-March, 1953), a magazine publication of the Auto-Owners Insurance company, as a "capable woman . . . outstandingly successful in business."

She ascended to full agency ownership following her husband's tragic death on December 18, 1951. "It was a big undertaking," The Emblem declared. "She had many problems. . . . And one with less tenacity and less strength of character would have failed."

When named in The Emblem as a feature subject, Mrs. Wood said of the thumb nail sketch of her business life, "why, gosh, I'm just a business woman. Besides," she added, "I've got to eat." Despite being a little publicity shy, Mrs. Wood concluded "nevertheless, I am proud of the agency."

Backing up the career of the 49-year-old agency head is a native ability to convince her prospect in a charming yet straightforward-from-the-shoulder sales talk that tells the insurance story in cold hard facts.

Mrs. Wood was first exposed to the competitive "man's game" of selling insurance when her husband's health began failing and when the pressures of maintaining the family business left just one conclusion. After a family conference, she took over the business reins.

"I wasn't even acquainted with my husband's office and with the myriads of problems involved in the operation of an insurance agency," Mrs. Wood reflected. "As The Emblem pointed out, it was a family crisis and 'it wasn't easy.'"

The mother of two adult young

"WHY, GOSH, I'M JUST A BUSINESS WOMAN," declares Mrs. Florence Wood, owner of the William Wood Insurance agency. "Besides," she adds, "I've got to eat." Publicity shy, Mrs. Wood was named as a feature subject in the February-March issue of The Emblem, a bi-monthly insurance journal. She is shown above with the magazine that gives a thumb-nail sketch of her business-professional life.

persons, a daughter, Nancy, (now Mrs. Althouse of Manchester), and a son, James, she had been a homemaker and attentive wife forced by circumstance to take over the reins of the then 26-year-old agency. Since that time some four years ago, she attended insurance schools at Michigan State college, studying both office management and policy contracts and coverages. She also continued to take advantage of insurance conventions and clinics whenever possible. All these she brought back incorporated with her, and incorporated many of the techniques into the business.

Undoubtedly, the training helped, too. But courage and a looking-ahead basis have been ingredients that have helped boost business volume, kept her office modern and efficient—down to the homemakers touch, flowers, plants, even family portraits.

The portrait of her son, James, now, is just ahead of Mrs. Wood's secret ambition. She said she is awaiting the day when he can come home. James is an ensign in the United States Navy.

In the meantime, Mrs. Wood continues busily with office affairs, as president of the Livonia Business and Professional Women's club and a member of the Soroptimist here.

Graham Given Post with New York Life

His territory will include Plymouth, Livonia and Northville.

Public Hearing Set on Recap of Starkweather

City Commissioners recently formally accepted Wayne county's offer to recap Starkweather avenue from Main street to the city limits and share in the cost of the $17,110 improvement.

Under the present arrangement, the county has agreed to pave the center 20-foot width up and down the thoroughfare and foot an additional 50 per cent of the bill for recapping the remaining widths on either side of the street.

The cost of the two-inch asphalt paving to the city was set at $6,600. Some $5,400 of that amount will be footed by abutting property owners who will pay an assessment levy of $1.17 per foot. The levy will be spread over three annual payments.

Before actual construction work gets underway, a public hearing will be held on April 27 at which time Starkweather homeowners may discuss varying aspects of the project with city commissioners.

Once approved, the first of three payments will be due within 30 days of the confirmation date of the assessment role. A six per cent interest charge will be made annually on all installment payments pending after 30 days from the confirmation date.

PUBLIC LETTER BOX

Dear Mr. Eaton:
Knowing the Plymouth Mail is a "power" in weekly papers I'm asking a favor of you and the paper. As you know, the Straits bridge has been within our grasp this year. Now the investment companies that are ready to finance the bonds have asked the state to appropriate $500,000 per year for maintenance for the bridge. That is approximately $151,000 less than they are now spending for maintenance on the bridges, whose life span averages 12 years. To top it all off, we now lack ferry service between the two peninsulas because the Coast Guard demands two crews on each ferry carrying passengers. The state is trying to make the ferry stay on the ferries 16 hrs.—8 hrs. work and 8 hrs. "standby" with pay for only 8 hrs. I don't blame the men for walking off. If it comes to a show down, which I probably will, it's going to cost the state a great deal more for added crews.

Now doesn't it stand to reason that the cheapest solution to the whole thing is to pass this bill appropriating $500,000 per year for maintenance for the bridge, rather than spend the $650,000 they are now appropriating, plus the additional crew members they'll have to hire, plus the $16,000,000 they're talking of spending for a new ferry? The state will be repaid by tolls on the bridge.

This bridge has been a political football for too many years, now. I am not one of Gov. William's followers but he has endeared himself to all of us up here by backing this issue. If he can see the sense to it why can't others? It's time that people forgot party politics and did something good for the state as a whole.

The Upper Peninsula is together on this. Republican and Democrats working side by side. We have the telegraph systems so choked it'll take a couple of days to catch up, the post offices are over loaded with letters to Senator Elmer Porter and Senator William Ellsworth, and telephone lines into Lansing, from up here are choked. If necessary, and if the ferries are running they'll have a huge motorcade descend on Lansing. If we don't get Senate bill 1304 passed we are all ready and willing to secede to Wisconsin and "the heck with the state of Michigan!"

One of your dad's fondest dreams was to see the Straits bridge go up. He's talked with me about it several times. All I'm asking of you is to please urge the people of Plymouth and vicinity to write or wire their state Senators urging passage of Senate bill 1304. After all the taxes we've paid, that have gone to Lansing, I think that's little enough to ask of the people, especially when the state will save money by passing it!

Sincerely,
Carol Hammond Wieland

Dear Mr. Eaton:
A front page story in the Plymouth Mail of April 9 gives a news account of the election in Northville which voted on city incorporation and reports opinions on why this plan was defeated by the voters at the polls.

Since most of the story as printed consisted of "quotes" we wish to point out that you have apparently been mis-informed and are doing your readers a disservice as well as casting a slur on the voters of Northville if you fail to correct these mis-statements in your next issue. Many of the voters of Northville Township patronize Plymouth stores and theatres, worship in its churches and read its newspapers. Many of these voters of both Township and village are now wide awake to the fact that they must be alert to safeguard their rights as citizens and cannot afford to be "sleepy and easy going."

The news story quote in full is that: "Northville is going to remain just a sleepy, easy going village for at least another year and a half."

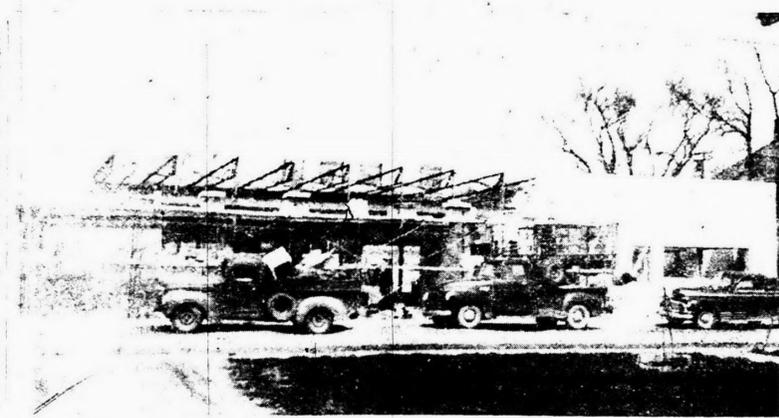

We do not believe that the voters of Northville will relish being called sleepy heads, but whether they are sleepy or not, is an opinion, and nothing more. In any event enough of these voters were wide enough awake to prevent invasion of their rights in spite of an election forced on them by a petition carrying invalid signatures.

Whereas your reporter in the subject news story makes free use of unsupported allegations, we offer you well authenticated facts which you are free to verify.

For example the opinion is freely expressed that the Northville Township Improvement Association defeated the plan by "well aimed propaganda blast" but also the Township was a party to the election. The Township figures were omitted in the vote summary in your story. In other words the votes were counted separately in the Townships of Northville and Novi respectively, as well as in the village of Northville, but your "observers" quoted only the village vote.

This information is inconclusive and tends to mislead your readers.

The vote summary should read as follows: Against the city: 618. For the city: 452. It will be seen from these totals

WORKMEN ARE MAKING FAST PROGRESS on the new Allison Chevrolet Garage now being constructed on the corner of Main and Amelia streets. Most of the steel is up and it is expected that the exterior brick work will be done in the next few weeks. Opening of the building is planned for August 1 which will also be the time that the firm will celebrate the 31st anniversary of Ernest J. Allison's association with the Chevrolet Motor Car company as Plymouth dealer.

per Britton bill was introduced in the legislature providing that villages as well as cities should receive the 20 per cent rebate revenue which Northville might have received as far back as the second year of racing. It is understood this bill passed the lower House. But under pressure the bill was withdrawn and it would appear on the basis of the figures published in the Northville Record that this was a costly deal for the village of Northville.

At no time since the City Incorporation plan became a campaign issue has the Northville Township Improvement Association opposed the 20 per cent kickback in race track revenue as distinct from the city package deal offered it as a whole.

These are some of the easily verified facts which appealed to the sound common sense of the Northville voters and which may explain why in part, why the fantastic City Incorporation plan was defeated.

We believe that as a newspaper man who values his reputation for fair and accurate reporting of news events that you have an obligation to your readers to acquaint them with these verified facts.

After you have satisfied yourself on these points, we believe you will reach the conclusion that the plan failed in the last analysis because not enough people voted for it!!!!!!!

Local Women Help Hospitalized

The Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden club whose president is Mrs. Austin Stecker, last week completed the first of their projects at Northville State hospital. Participating in the hospital's "Adopt A Ward Campaign", the Garden club committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. Whipple and Mrs. Bruno Schroeder, co-chairman, planted 8 flower boxes with several different kinds of flowering plants. Those members who came out to the hospital felt that a great many things could be done by other community groups. As seen in the photo above, Mrs. Roy Jacobus, left, and Mrs. A. Whipple, 2nd from left, are busily engaged in adding that little something to ward A7-2, and helping to bring the beauty of outside indoors. The club was also represented at the project by Mrs. Howard Fishbeck, Mrs. Mary Boyd, Mrs. Arnold Samuelson, Mrs. Albert Pitt, Mrs. M. J. Doham. Other contributing members were Mrs. W. Hartman, Mrs. Chester C. Teasel, Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, Mrs. Russell Isbister, and Mrs. Carl Shear. In the coming weeks another ward will be "adopted" by the club.

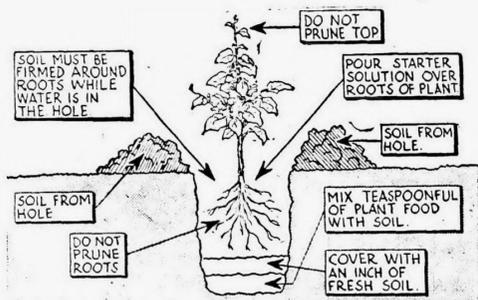

who visited Northville and took part in the project Mrs. Austin Whipple states, "All of the women who participated in the project and especially those who came out to the hospital are particularly enthusiastic about this project of planting the boxes, and are very eager in carrying on more activities with the adopted ward A7-2."

Since the hospital is a part of the community it serves, many opportunities present themselves wherein the citizens of Plymouth can in turn serve the hospital. Projects such as the one the Plymouth Garden club is sponsoring are part of the overall hospital program, which has been designed to give the maximum benefit to its patients. For information regarding what you as a citizen or a community group can do for your state hospital at Northville, call Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service, or Abraham Brickner, psychiatric social work supervisor at Northville 1290.

The mentally ill do get well and you can help them by becoming active in the Northville program.

Moved Plants Suffer Surgical Shock

Whenever the roots of a growing plant are disturbed, in transferring it from one location to another, surgical shock is suffered by the plant. While plants recover from operations more quickly than animals, it will pay the gardener to take certain precautions to lessen the shock, and speed recovery from it.

Research scientists have studied the procedure for many years, and the diagram above gives their recommendations in graphic form. Some of them may differ from the practices you have followed, notably the advice against pruning roots or top growth, in the case of green plants. Many tests have proved this advice to be sound, however.

If you grow your own plants, stir a handful of plant food in a bucket of water and pour it on the soil a week before you transplant them. They should be watered well the day before they are moved.

On the following day prepare a starter solution from a soluble plant food or by hanging 4 ounces of dry plant food in a cloth bag in a gallon of water over night. Take the plants and starter solution to the garden.

Make a hole for the plant large and deep enough to hold its roots without crowding. Mix with soil at the bottom a teaspoonful of plant food, and cover this with soil. Set the plant in place, then pour into the hole, over the plant roots, ½ pint of starter solution. While the solution is in the hole, draw in the loose soil and firm it around the plant. The solution not only supplies nutrients but puddles the soil about the roots, making very close contact between soil and root and making it easy for the plant to take up water.

Roots of plants should not be pruned. In removing plants from pots, flats or seed beds, care should be taken to avoid breaking the root system. Replacement of lost roots must take place before the plant can grow very much.

Tops of plants should not be pruned, as shown by research results. Pruning removes part of the "factory" which has to make the new plant material (carbohydrate) upon which growth depends. Pruning is likely to take off more foliage than necessary. Dead or partly dead tissue does no harm, though wholly dead leaves may be picked off.

The "where there's smoke, there's fire" axiom may hold true most of the time, but in the vicinity of the Evans Products company, Plymouth, it isn't necessarily so.

Observers in the area who may have wondered whether (1) the plant was going up in a cloud of white smoke or (2) why such a dense fog was localized along Eckles road may be relieved to know that neither is true. All that white smoke — mist, technically — comes from a new defensive weapon officially called the M-3 Pulse Jet Smoke Generator.

The smoke generator is about the size of a small truck, weighs only 125 pounds, can easily be carried by two men and is used in the field to lay a smoke screen to cover troop movements. Its portability and its smoke-laying powers make it a versatile combat adjunct. The unit can be parachuted to troop positions in the field and can be operated by one man. The combustion and vaporization mechanisms are contained within a tubular steel framework that also serves as a carrying handle. The generator uses gasoline and oil to spread its penetrating blanket of white mist from three nozzles at one end of the machine.

The Evans Products company's contract with the U. S. Army Chemical Corps calls for delivery of approximately 51,000,000 worth of the generators.

The unit is self-contained and can operate from available field sources of fuel. It is powered by batteries and goes into action instantly. It is impervious to weather or temperature changes.

V.F.W. News

The Plymouth Veterans of Foreign Wars Mayflower Post 6695 and the Ladies Auxiliary held a joint installation April 15 at the High school auditorium.

The new Auxiliary officers for the ensuing year are as follows: president, Gertrude Danol; senior vice president, Grace Burley; junior vice president, Bernice Kopenski; treasurer, Ann Smith; chaplain, Virginia Bartel; conductress, Marion Luttemoser; and guard, Marie Norman; three year trustee, Marion Warner; two year trustee, Kay Coolman; one year trustee, Eleanor Gust.

Appointed officers for the year are: secretary, Bea Walton; patriotic instructor, Gerry Olson; flag bearer, Sally Wagner; banner bearer, Viola Sparkman; color bearers, respectively in order, Betty Neale, Loretta Young, Norma Phillips, and Donna Dawson.

President Danol has announced the following appointed chairmanships: rehabilitation and service, Virginia Bartel; membership, Dee Olsaver; Americanism and essay, Loretta Young; home fund, Bernice Kopenski; hospital, Marion Dickey; legislative, Isabelle Lucke; delinquent, Carolyn Dainell; adult education, Jean Olson; publicity, Marie Norman; community welfare, Shirley Swadling; cancer, Alice Armstrong; youth activity, Vi Garrison; civilian defense, Kay Coolman; historian, Jane Allen; musician, Kay Coolman; poppy chairman, Eleanor Gust.

The V.F.W. Post and Auxiliary were fortunate in procuring installing officers, Past Grand Commander Ed "Goldie" Slater of Detroit and Sister Gagner, department senior vice president.

Past Commander and president pins were presented to Robert Van Meter and Virginia Bartel. Special citations were awarded to Robert Van Meter and Joe Elliott for meritorious service. Kay Coolman was pleasantly surprised by the Post's presentation to her of a life membership to the National Home. Kay had spent two months in a hospital due to an injury resulting from a fall received during the Mother's Police March. President Danol received a three-year secretary's pin for her faithful service as did Marion Dickey, who received an auxiliary jacket for three years of acting as conductress.

Special guests of honor at the installation were Cecil Liston, past fourth district president and fourth district treasurer, Neta Myers, Northville past president and "Goldie" Slater's wife, Charley.

Past commanders attending the installation were Lee Coolman, Ken Gust and Matt McLellan. Past presidents, Kay Coolman and Eleanor Gust.

Commander Dick Neale and President Gert Danol gave short speeches. Commander Neale brought back memories of the Post's early history by recalling various meeting places and how the Post has enlarged and now has its own Home, nearly completed. President Danol's speech consisted of "one hundred and one per cent" cooperation with the Post and pledged the Auxiliary to be an ever-helping group in assisting the Post in their every effort to make the VFW Mayflower Post 6695 one of the finest in the state. She said, "Our foremost duty is toward our Post, but service to our community is always important."

A luncheon followed the installation at the Memorial hall. The buffet-type luncheon was impressive with candles and flowers in the patriotic colors. Past President Virginia Bartel and President Gert Danol poured.

Girl Scout News

A scavenger hunt was the main event of the out-of-doors meeting of Troop 5 at its regular meeting on Monday, April 20. Mrs. Edward Dobbs and Mrs. O. H. Williams are the troop leaders.

The fly-ups in Troop 14, with leaders Mrs. Gerald Hostler and Miss Louise Spence, are hard at work fulfilling more of the requirements on the second-class badge. To earn this first badge in Girl Scouting the girls must have done one requirement from each of the 11 fields of Scouting. At present they are concentrating on the health field and the sports and games field. All the girls hope to earn the badge by the time school is out.

The past two meetings of Troop 2, whose leaders are Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. J. H.

Lodge, have been spent in making up work and checking up on badge requirements in preparation for a Court of Awards to be held in May. Of this group, several will be eligible for the First Class Scout Badge.

The members of troop 19 held a cook-out at the cabin on Saturday, April 18. The girls practiced making various types of fires and cooked their lunch over them. Fifteen Scouts with the leaders, Mrs. Henry Jensen and Mrs. Thomas Thorpe attended.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the Girl Scout cabin by the girls in Troop 4 and the members of the local P.E.O. Chapter which sponsors the troop. A potluck dinner was enjoyed by the 30 who attended followed by skits presented by the Scouts. Mrs. Warren Worth and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing are the leaders.

The opening session of the training course for new leaders was attended by 15 women interested in working in Girl Scouting. Those attending were from Plymouth and Belleville. The course, held at the Girl Scout cabin, on April 14 and April 21 was conducted by volunteer trainers, Mrs. B. H. Booth, Mrs. Edward Dobbs and Mrs. Robert Houston.

There are two remaining sessions in the course, April 28, Out-of-Doors, with instructors Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, May 5, registration and Girl Scout policies with instructor, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing. Present leaders wishing to attend the Out-of-Doors session should call Mrs. Earl West at 1534-W as reservations are necessary.

Member of Troop 1 visited the city hall last Monday in order to work on the "My Community Badge." Last Saturday three girls visited their little shut-in pal, Iris Cody. Girls traveling to Wayne were Georgette Graham, Sydnee Van Aken and Caroline Stroops. Iris passed two sections of her second class badge.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

By Leonard E. Wood
State Representative

A week of feverish activity was experienced as we prepared to meet our third deadline April 17—the date that all House Bills, except tax and appropriation bills, had to clear the House and go to the Senate or be automatically dead for this session. Starting the week with 100 bills on the calendar, most of which had to go through both general debate on General Orders and on Third Reading, we whittled the calendar down to the point that Friday's calendar contained 23 House Bills which had to beat the deadline, or die.

A vote on the major tax bill H. B. 309, known as the Emergency Business Tax based on payroll, was put over until Tuesday, the 21st, so that plenty of time could be given to its consideration when the calendar is not jammed. Although it is pretty well understood by the membership generally, it will unquestionably be scrutinized very carefully and debated at length before a final vote is taken. This is as it should be on any matter of such grave import as this and all other major tax proposals. In the meantime, Senate hearings on all tax proposals are being scheduled.

The gift tax and estate tax bills, H. 145 and 146, after being on the daily calendar for the past 3 weeks, and having survived rather heated and long discussions on the order of General Orders and advanced to Third Reading a few days ago, were sent back to committee for further study, when it was realized the bills in their present form do not accomplish what was intended to be done. It is expected these two bills, dead for this session, will be given a thorough study in the remaining months of this year with the idea of submitting them in correct form at the next regular session.

An important measure which passed the House is H.B. 213 providing for the removing from the Boys Vocational School any boy who is unable to profit from his training at the school because of being mentally or physically defective. Such boys would be committed to the Michigan Reformatory, probationary work camps and other facilities of the Corrections Department other than prisons, and although such boys would be subject to the same supervision and discipline as other prisoners, the boys would remain wards of the Boys Vocational School.

The House frowned on attempts to enact into law two bills termed "since benefits bills." The first one H.221 after a sharp exchange of words in rather heated debate, was killed. Strictly permissive legislation, the bill would permit Boards of Education to use the school district's general fund money to provide hospital and medical insurance for school employees in the district. The other bill, H.240 would allow township boards to provide hospitalization, health and accident insurance for its employees. It fared no better and automatically died when it was re-referred to the Retirement Committee for further study.

H. B. 225, adds a new section to an act regulating time and manner of payment of wages to employees, to provide three pay periods a month for railroad company employees, and with a further provision that the company shall not hold back over 9 days pay, passed after discussion.

H. B. 242, requiring that only physicians may perform autopsies, post-mortems and dissections, and then only after securing permission from the relative or person assuming responsibility for burial, was passed after being further amended to exclude medical schools so as not to hamper them. A further safeguard was added to provide that the provisions of this amendatory act are not to be construed to prevent coroners or county health officers from ordering autopsies.

HB 397 permitting the Board of Control of Ferris Institute to collect fees from students, said fees to be placed in a special fund and spent under direction of the Board for student activities, was also passed and sent to the Senate.

Of interest to all, was the passage of HB 408, amending the Michigan Communist Control Bill. The amendatory bill tightens up the act in conformity with suggestions from the Attorney General so it has a better chance of facing a court case successfully.

Following a little Hoover committee recommendation, we passed HB 385 creating an office of Legislative Auditor. Also passed was the curfew law, H. 427, regulating the hours which minors can be on the public streets.

The House turned down HB 287, amending the school code which would permit the Supt. of Public Instruction to remove from office school board members found guilty of wrong doing in office by an Attorney General's investigation. Attached as an unwarranted invasion of school trustees' right, by opponents, it was a tender of resignation as the only means by which Board members could be removed, regardless of what the member has done.

While the tax problem is the No. 1 problem for us to resolve, it is by no manner of means the only headache-producing problem confronting us. HB 419, re-appointment of the Legislature is as hot an issue as any. Facing the first day of the session, because of its controversial nature, this problem has been left until the 11th hour, and will be dealt upon before the windup of Friday's deadline session.

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

A Very Proud Car—At A Very Modest Price!

According to Webster, one of the important meanings of the word proud is this: "Worthy of admiration; deserving praise." Obviously, that definition fits the 1953 Pontiac like a glove. Pontiac's distinctive Silver-Streak beauty is certainly worthy of admiration—and gets plenty of it everywhere. Pontiac's big-car roominess, its luxurious Body by Fisher, its smooth, easy-going ride—certainly these, too, are deserving of the praise they get. And when you sit behind the wheel and feel the effortless surge from Pontiac's famous power plant you'll know that you're driving a mighty proud performer.

As a matter of fact, the only modest thing about a Pontiac is its price—for this wonderful car which gives you the engineering quality and the best features of the costliest cars is priced just above the very lowest!

And when you're figuring price, be sure to remember Pontiac's remarkable re-sale value—the sure test of long-lasting quality. Why not come in and see how easily you, too, can become the proud owner of a new Pontiac?

The Lady Maccabees had a little entertainment of their own at their hall last Thursday evening. It took so well that the performance will be given at the opera house at an early date with some elaboration. The ladies will appear as "colored folks", with coon songs, ad libitum.

A lusty boy weighing 14½ pounds, made his appearance at the home of Mr. Powell last Sunday.

The D. P. and N. work car was drawing brick to the Plymouth Food Company, on Saturday, and when coming back the flat car which they had ahead of them jumped the track at Jolliffe's corner causing the work car to jump also. They were put back on in about an hour.

George W. Richwine, the harnessmaker, has moved over to VandeCar's barber shop in the Gayde block.

Mrs. Charles Shattuck soon to remove to Albion, where her husband is employed on the Boland electric line.

Huston and Company sell the old reliable 1903 New Process gasoline stoves.

W. O. Allen has moved the band stand from his own lawn to the triangle park on upper Sutton street. It will be neatly painted and ornamented and the park set out with beautiful flower beds, making it one of the real beauty spots in Plymouth.

While the various committees of the council are making estimates on how much money they are going to spend, it would be wise to include some improvements on the public park. It certainly is in need of it. A public watering place is also sadly needed and could be had at little expense.

A musical will be given by the pupils of Miss Clara Moll at the Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening, May 9 assisted by the Girl's Glee club. Proceeds for the benefit of the M. E. Sunday school.

J. O. Eddy and C. C. Allen have formed a co-partnership in the lumber and coal business under the name of Eddy and Allen.

10 Years Ago

Ellis Brandt, who graduated from Plymouth High school in 1939, and is now a senior majoring in journalism at Michigan State college, has been chosen editorial director of the State News, the college paper which has become a daily within the past few months.

James Latture, Louise Powell, Marion Goodman, Edith Nolte, Dorothy Fisher and Patty Hudson were entertained at dinner Wednesday night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce honoring them for winning in a speech and essay writing contest recently sponsored by that group in conjunction with Americanism week.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Fisher attended the Capping exercises at Harper Nursing school in Detroit, Friday evening when the former's daughter, Lillian received her cap. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bakewell also attended witnessing their daughter, Olive May, receive her cap. Both young ladies spent the weekend with their parents here.

Leonard Davidson, 27-year-old truck driver for the Ramblin Acres dairy and his four-year-old daughter, Margie, burned to death Sunday night when their farm home at Lilley and Joy roads caught fire from an undetermined cause and was destroyed.

A Girl Scout leadership training course will be given in Plymouth under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Jenkins and Miss Olga Trucks. First meeting will be held in room 13 of the high school on Thursday evening.

Sergeant Robert Kisabeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kisabeth of 399 Ann street and husband of the former Betty Curtis, now employed as traffic clerk of the Plymouth telephone office, was seriously wounded in action in Tunisia on March 27, according to a telegram received this week by his parents from the war department in Washington.

Second Lieutenant David R. Gauntlett, a resident of Plymouth is now attending the Officer Training School of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command at Miami Beach, Florida. He is undergoing a six weeks course of military instruction and physical conditioning. The course will prepare him to take over executive duties directing vital administrative and supply operations of the rapidly expanding Army Air Forces, thus relieving trained pilots for full time flying duty.

The Plymouth Mail Presents....

A series of and about residents of Plymouth at home, at work or at play
This Week—Office Manager JEAN TROMBLEY

In March of 1946, Mrs. Jean Trombley first viewed what was to be her new home. It was at this time that the former nurse made her trip from England directly to Plymouth.

Putting the conditions at the time in her own words, Mrs. Trombley stated, "Was I English, then!" A change in her whole way of living was necessary. By all implications she has readily undergone the Americanization.

With most of the foreign accent worn away, Mrs. Trombley admitted a leaning towards ceramic work and sewing. Anything that keeps her occupied is sufficient to be considered a hobby.

During the past World War, Mrs. Trombley volunteered as a nurse, giving her time and energy to British Red Cross activities. The years since her arrival in Plymouth have mostly been spent with one of her largest insurance agencies in the city. She has served the Wood Agency for six-and-a-half years. At present she is employed at the agency as office manager. Her experience in this type of work began in England where she spent two years in the insurance business.

The lady behind the desk is quick to smile and bubbling with enthusiasm and interest. With her husband and son, Mrs. Trombley resides on East Ann Arbor trail.

Northville Firm to Lay Well Field Collecting Pipes

The G. F. Taft company was recently named by city commissioners to construct additional collecting pipes to one of the city's 20-foot wells that supplies water users here.

The Taft firm was awarded the $15,000 construction job as the city moved to step up its hard-worked water supply.

The collecting pipes will radiate out into the well field to increase the well supply by an estimated 750 gallons a minute.

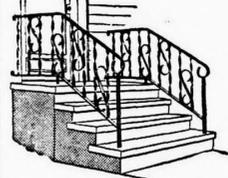

City Manager Glassford earlier outlined the urgent need in stepping up water supply quantities here in preparation for the coming summer months.

He first became alarmed months ago after a one-foot drop in well field water levels was detected.

Glassford reassured that there is no fear of a water shortage here. "There's plenty of water out there (at the well field), all we have to do is go out and get it," he said.

Local Gardeners Give "Green Thumb Hints"

Rose bushes will thrive as long as they are given a lot of attention and loving care. That's the secret of the lovely roses grown by Mrs. Elmer Reddeman, of 334 Arthur, shown above.

In the last 12 years Mrs. Reddeman has planted 60 rose bushes, and 53 of them are still growing strong. She still has the original rose bush which her husband purchased for her in 1941. It is a climber, Frau Karl Druski, which is a lovely white rose.

Mrs. Reddeman said that roses are very fond of a clay base soil. And they need sunshine about 75 per cent of the day. These two facts should be considered before planting.

In planting a rose bush she advised that the hole be dug allowing lots of room for the roots—enough so that the plant can be turned around without touching the sides of the hole.

If the plant is purchased bare-rooted, Mrs. Reddeman said it must be kept in a sprinkling can full of water until planted. The small fiber roots nourish the plant and when exposed for any length of time to the air they dry up. When this happens the plant starves to death.

She places a mound of top soil in the bottom of the hole in which the plant will rest. Mrs. Reddeman then fills the hole about two-thirds of the way up. Placing a tablespoon of Rapid-gro in a gallon of water, she pours the solution over the dirt to wet it down. This settles the dirt so there are no air pockets which might dry up the tiny feeder roots.

The next day she pours another pail of water on the dirt surrounding the plant. No Rapid-gro is added to this water for it has enough to carry it through the first blooming. She fertilizes then with one-half cup of balanced fertilizer.

Mrs. Reddeman sprays her bushes about every seven to ten days, and thus her plants have beautiful foliage. For this she generally uses a garden dust first thing in the morning.

As a mulch Mrs. Reddeman uses sawdust and shavings. This she applies in such a quantity that she can just scoop it up around the plants every fall. She advises a heavy feeding of fertilizer in the spring—something with quite a bit of nitrogen like cattle manure. The sawdust will take the nitrogen out but the manure will put it back.

"Using this mulch mixture is very successful," she said, for she only had to water her rose bushes once last year. The mulch helps to retain the natural moisture.

She didn't lose any plants this winter, because it was not particularly harsh. Mrs. Reddeman doesn't prune the bushes until spring when she cuts them down to about eight or 10 inches. She suggests leaving at least three good eyes (buds) when pruning a rose bush.

Mrs. Reddeman planned to remove the mulch from up around the plants this week. Some of the plants show a one to one-and-one-half inch growth already, she said. Her plans for this year include buying two or three new plants which she has had her eye on. She said she will just have to move some of the others over to make room for the newcomers.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Serve Chocolate Praline Cake And Coffee For a Good Snack

AS far back as you can remember, hasn't traditional fare for friends been coffee and cake? And when it's a Chocolate Praline Cake like this one, rich and satisfying, and the coffee is as steaming and fragrant as you can make it, the time-honored combination is hard to beat.

Home-made cake and coffee has a special place in our affections and is traditional fare for the feeding of friends. There's no need to remember, though—like the friends, should be chosen with care.

If your preference is for a cake that is rich but not cloying, sticky but not too sweet, pause for a moment and consider this Chocolate Praline Cake. It is a perfect taste foil for a hot, fragrant cup of coffee. Ingredients for cake, frosting and trimming were chosen on the basis of their affinity for one another and the result is simple, elegant, decorative. Whether you need a dessert that can be served with coffee and lingered over for a long time, or an impressive mid-afternoon snack, Chocolate Praline Cake is the delicious answer.

Chocolate Praline Cake

- 4 eggs
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup melted shortening
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 4 squares (4 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup milk

Beat eggs; add sugar; blend. Add melted shortening and vanilla extract. Melt chocolate over hot water; add. Mix and sift flour and baking soda; add alternately with milk to chocolate mixture. Bake in two greased and floured 9-inch layer cake pans in moderate oven, 350 F., 35 to 40 minutes.

Praline Frosting

- 1 cup sugar
  - 1 cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
  - 2 egg whites
  - 6 tablespoons water
  - 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- Put all ingredients except vanilla extract in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water seven minutes, beating constantly with rotary beater. At the end of this time, frosting should hold its shape. If it does not, continue cooking and beating a minute or two longer. Remove from heat; add vanilla extract. Spread between layers and on outside of cake. Garnish with pecan meats.

Better see Beglinger for better deal. New and used cars.

Seasoning and Salads Can Be Perked Up With Fresh Onions

Green onions, scallions, green shallots, leeks and chives—do you know how each of these fresh green "onions" best fits in your menu?

For homemakers left puzzled by this variety, here is some help. All of these spring vegetables are members of the onion family, but are different species.

Fully grown scallions have a thick stem or neck but a small bulb. When immature they resemble green onions. Green shallots can scarcely be distinguished from young tender onions, but have a more mellow flavor. Leeks are larger than shallots, do not have an onion-like bulb, and have flat leaves. Chives have fine grass-like tops and grow in dense clumps.

And here is how you might use them in your meals. They are the basis of many spring and summer salads, as well as for seasonings. Shallots, green onions, and scallions go well in potato salad, green salads, meat and many vegetable dishes. Shallots are slightly more mellow than onions or scallions, and are often preferred for green salads.

The leaves and bulbs of leeks are usually cooked and eaten with soups or cream sauce, or are used for seasoning. They are also good in stews and other meat dishes.

Chives tops, finely chopped, are excellent in green salads, cottage cheese, omelets and other dishes where a mild, delicate flavor accent is needed.

So there you have it. Experimenting with these "onions" can be interesting, but don't forget to keep them in air-tight containers or away from other foods.

Spring Blossom Tarts For Your Tea Tray

Spring Blossom Tarts for the tea tray seem like chef's creations, but the tarts are made with pastry mix and the filling consists of only two ingredients, semi-sweet chocolate morsels and evaporated milk. A bit of whipped cream and a morsel of semi-sweet chocolate complete the tarts in simplest style. Semi-sweet chocolate has a lighter, more delicate flavor that is perfect for spring desserts, and this chocolate is convenient to use whether whole or melted. Semi-sweet chocolate is most familiar to America in the famous Chocolate Crunch Cookies in which the morsels of chocolate stay whole during baking. But the delicious flavor is good in recipes that require melted chocolate, and semi-sweet chocolate morsels are efficient to use when a recipe requires melted chocolate since they are in small pieces that simplify the melting process.

Spring Blossom Tarts

- 1/2 package pie crust mix
- 1 package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
- 1/2 cup (1 small can) evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened

Follow directions on package for preparing pie crust. Fit pastry on back of small muffin pans, or fit into small tart pans. Prick with tines of fork. Bake in a hot oven (425°F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until delicately brown. To prepare filling reserve 1 tablespoon semi-sweet chocolate morsels to use as garnish; put remaining morsels and evaporated milk in saucepan over low heat. Cook slowly, stirring until mixture is blended. Bring to a boil, and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is slightly thickened, about 3 to 5 minutes. Fill pastry shells; garnish with whipped cream and a chocolate morsel.

YIELD: Filling for 16 small tarts.

Enlist Boy's Interest For Room Success

Top requisite for success in decorating a boy's room is to have the boy contribute his own ideas and express his preferences for colors and furnishings.

Another essential is to have the room boy-proof—fabrics should be sturdy, easily washable and fast color; furniture functional and simple in design. The floor must take any punishment a boy can hand out, and if rugs are used they should be small scatter rugs. Above all, the room must be thoroughly masculine.

Bunk beds or a double decker will delight a boy, especially if finished in the natural wood color. Either style of bed will enable him to have frequent overnight guests. If wall space permits, build a storage closet at each end of beds or bunks. In a narrow room, a single closet at one end is a good arrangement.

If two boys prefer the freedom of a movable bed, couch beds offer several advantages. With simple bedspreads and colorful cushions, they give a bright, casual effect to the room. They are flexible as to placement: at right angles in a corner; end to end; side by side; or on opposite walls. A chest of drawers is a convenience in many of these arrangements.

A simple desk and chair and a bookcase with storage space for collections and other treasures, plus books, lamps and accessories will fill the boy's needs and complete the list of musts, except for the decorative fabrics.

Let these fabrics give special personality and color to the room. They must be masculine in design, color and material. Stripes, plaids and many checks are excellent. Checks must be large, interesting and strong in color.

Thorp's homespun checked cottons, combining 2 principal colors in one-inch squares, is a fine fabric for bedspread and draperies. Color combinations such as red, white and blue; black, red and green, give ample way for choosing a secondary color. Cushions and chair slip-covers may be of such substantial fabrics as sailcloth, twill, whipcord or herringbone twill. These come in colors that match, harmonize or contrast with the homespun checks.

Plaids in deep, strong colors are also a good choice for a boy's room. A tailored treatment of bedspread and window curtains or draperies is preferable. Pomona plaids, largish as to size and with a stripe effect, are very adaptable. Colors run to cinnamon, strong coral, rich green and citron.

The boy who is deeply interested in transportation or history will like the colorful stage coach or general store scenic designs. These are printed on cotton which remains sturdy through repeated launderings.

Coloring of all of these fabrics ties them in well with natural finish walls. Or they can be harmonized with a painted wall in the fairly strong shade wanted for a boy's room.

Cuts of Lamb Ideal With Spring Foods

Although lamb is available the year around, many homemakers find it especially appealing in spring. The various cuts, more than a dozen, lend themselves to tempting combinations with spring foods. There are lamb cuts for every cooking method—for roasting, for broiling, braising and cooking in liquid.

One of the most famous of all lamb cuts is the leg of lamb. Served with parsleyed new potatoes and hot buttered asparagus, a tossed garden salad and mint jelly, your meal becomes an occasion.

A slightly smaller lamb roast is the shoulder. It contains bone which makes it difficult to carve, but this may be easily overcome. Your market man can bone and roll the roast or leave it flat, swinging around all but one edge. In the pocket that is formed may be placed a savory stuffing such as mint or orange. Then the open side may be sewed and the meat cooked uncovered, the same as any other roast.

In mentioning lamb chops, rib and loin chops are usually the first considered. But not to be overlooked are shoulder chops. These are tender enough to be broiled. Tomatoes, sliced in half and topped with grated sharp cheese, make an ideal accompaniment for the chops. Add the tomatoes to the broiler when the chops are turned.

For braising choose lamb riblets. The riblets are prepared from a lamb breast. These are grand prepared in a barbecue or tomato sauce. As for cooking in liquid, stews and pies are a perfect way of combining lamb and spring vegetables.

Advise Care Must Be Taken In Cleaning Copper Utensils

To clean or not to clean may well be the question in the case of your copper-bottom cooking utensils. There are times when you should leave the time and energy it takes to remove the tarnish.

There are several good reasons why you may want to leave the tarnish on. For one reason, it does no harm and may be good because the tarnish helps conduct heat on an electric stove. Another reason is that a thin film of copper is removed with each scouring.

On the other hand, if you have your copper-bottomed pans on display, you will want them bright and shiny. Here are suggestions for some cleaning recipes for them and for the ornamental copper and brass pieces that you surely want to keep shining.

An abrasive that is harsh enough to remove tarnish and soil, but make certain that it is gentle to avoid noticeable scratches. As examples of gentle abrasives, whiting or precipitated chalk available in drug or hardware stores might be used. With either of these powders you will get a fine luster, though the process will be somewhat time consuming.

Potterstone and paraffin oil, chalk available in drug or hardware stores, will give your copper and brass a satiny finish. Mix a tablespoon of the rottenstone with enough oil to make a thick paste before applying.

Vinegar and salt—just enough vinegar to barely dissolve the salt—applied to copper will give a quick, inexpensive cleaning. But unless the solution is rinsed off the reaction will continue.

For ornamental copper and brass pieces that are not used for food or beverages, cover with a clear lacquer for a permanent luster.

Offer Helpful Tips On Spring Cleaning

With the first budding of the trees, life seems to take on new energy. And a good thing, too, for this is when we need it—for spring housecleaning. Here are a few tips to help make your job easier.

Always wash walls from the bottom up. Washing solution dripping down on a soiled surface leaves stains.

Bulges and bubbles can be removed in wallpaper. Make a small slit in the paper, then insert a large needle to which paste has been applied. Flatten the spot, using a white blotter to prevent finger marks.

How To Give A Room A New Spring Dress With Fabric

Almost every household has a "black sheep" room, where all the out-of-date furniture and hand-me-downs find their way. With clever use of fabric, the ugliest duckling can be made a topic of conversation. For fabric hides age, camouflages shape and covers up any other nonconformity.

Choice of fabric will, of course, depend on the purpose for which the room will be used and the mood you wish to establish. Stripes are excellent in a den or a boy's room; a formal swag pattern for an elegant living-room; and nosegays, perennial favorites, especially for spring, make a girl's room fresh and dainty.

You can even let the fabric texture and pattern set the mood, and then build around it. For a modern room, you might like "Kismet," a stunning clipper sailcloth print with its design drawn from the black and white of birch bark. A highly individualized 19th Century design is "Perivale," in the manner of an India print, in 7 color combinations. Any Provincial room would be made appealing with prints such as "Yarmouth," with its geometric star motif, or "Kennebunk" with its daisy. These double as curtain and upholstery fabrics, may be had by the yard, quilted or unquilted, or ready-made in draperies and bedspreads.

As to color, watch out for a clash with any adjoining room. Consider the colors of walls and floor so that they form a unified whole with the fabric. A most unusual treatment would be a solid color fabric the same color as the walls. This monochromatic or one-color scheme is equally successful in a large or a small room.

Probably the first use of fabric that comes to mind is to make draperies and to cover bed or studio couch, chairs and pillows. The style of these also helps determine the period of the room. Simple lines are modern; gathers, ruffles and draping denote earlier periods.

Pasting fabric is a quick and miraculous trick to revive a drab room. Try it on door panels, the panels and drawers of a commode, a bed headboard, on lampshades and picture frames, the top of an old card table. In covering any square object, miter the corners to eliminate bulk. In a matter of minutes an unsightly waste basket can be covered. Cover a bushel basket with fabric, winding the wire handles with sturdy clothesline for a practical and decorative touch. Use the basket to hold kindling wood, magazines or toys.

If ruffles are in order, use them as shelf or mantel edging as a delightful feminine touch. They are easily made with a sewing machine attachment. Use a narrow hemmer to finish edges, then pleat or gather with a ruffler.

Another interesting variation on a theme is to cut out the fabric motifs (leaf, shell, rose) and paste them on a painted wall or door or on a bureau front in geometrical or fanciful order.

Galvanized ware is made of steel coated with zinc to make it both rust and corrosion resistant.

BEAUTY PLUS PRACTICALITY were gained in the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pantoni of 967 Palmer when this corner section was decorated with attractive wallpaper thereby adding the atmosphere of a dining room, right in the kitchen! Built-in cabinets and kitchen appliances line the other two walls.

Enamel Is Colorful and Easy To Apply

Whether it's for new wood or the renewal of an old finish, a coat of colorful enamel makes a remarkable improvement in the appearance of a surface.

The new resins used in many enamels are tough and water-resistant. They flow out from the brush to a smoothly gleaming finish. One coat will cover most surfaces. New wood should first be given an enamel undercoat. When applying enamel, first brush it on with the grain, then cross-brush, finally lay off lightly with the grain.

Family Handyman Questions And Answers

QUESTION: My home is only two years old but I notice the cement between bricks of the chimney is poor and sandy. It can be removed with the fingers. What am I to do? Shall I make a rich cement mixture and sheath the present chimney?

ANSWER: Your idea is sound. Make the mixture 1 part cement 2 1/4 parts sand, wet the bricks thoroughly, and spread with a steel trowel. Once this has dried, apply a masonry sealer paint to prevent further water penetration. While you're about it, excavate down to the footing on which the chimney rests and treat this area also, as it would appear the mortar was at fault from the beginning.

More Than Scrubbing To Spring Cleaning - And Men Can Help

More than one housewife has said, "Men are more bother than help in spring housecleaning," but how wrong these words can be.

There are certain phases of a good spring cleanup that only the man of the house can do—and if he doesn't take over, they just don't get done. He ought, for instance, to:

- 1) Check attic, basement and garage for fire hazards. This means cleaning out rubbish, getting rid of oily rags and seeing that combustible liquids are in proper containers.
- 2) Have the heating plant cleaned and checked as soon as it is no longer used. If the job is postponed, details of its performance may be forgotten.
- 3) Improve storage space. Adding shelves in closets can do miracles in helping the homemaker avoid clutter and the inconvenience it causes.
- 4) Get garden tools into condition. A dull lawn mower and unsharpened spades and shovels make drudgery of what should be light work.
- 5) Check the condition of porch floors and steps.

Type of Lawn Seed Found Important

The secret of seeding a good lawn this spring lies, among other things, in the type of seed that is planted. James Tyson, soil scientist, and Buford Grigsby, botanist and plant pathologist, at Michigan State college, point out fescus or rough bluegrass are suited to Michigan climate. These varieties can be planted without a nurse grass such as redtop or domestic ryegrass, but the average lawn-grower will get better results with a nurse grass. A white clover mixture is also good.

A new co-operative extension service bulletin, EE-224, "Growing Beautiful Lawns," is available from your county agricultural agent or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college.

LOW LINES MATCHED BY LOW COST

Asbestos Boards Suit Contemporary Styling

Good contemporary architecture and cost-saving ideas are combined in this home, chosen as a house-of-the-month by American Builder. Low, sweeping lines dominate the exterior, which has asbestos-cement boards, an economical material noted for fire-safety and durability, as its siding. Battens over vertical joints add interesting shadows. The designer and builder, Donald Scholz of Toledo, O., reported wall installation savings of one-third as compared to ordinary methods. Working plans may be obtained from American Builder Home Plan Service, 30 Church Street, New York 7, N.Y.

Happy Is the Room-Divided!

The problem of housing a boy and a girl in the same room may be solved for a while by constructing a modern storage wall. This may be made of a panel material that combines economy, good looks and long wear—Masonite tempered hardboard. The youngsters in the room shown now have their own closets with sliding doors made of a new material, Presdply. Lumber dealers can supply the wood framing members, the tempered hardboard and the Presdply, as well as the hardware and paint. Any carpenter, professional or amateur, can build a storage wall like the one shown at reasonable cost in money and time.

Storage Wall Helps Solve Some Common Living Problems

Dividing a room is simpler than it used to be. That's because modern building materials, available in wide panels which are easy to handle and low in cost, make room transformations a cinch.

Consider a common problem in many families that have a boy and girl of nearly the same age. They have always shared the same room because of the family's crowded housing. Now they are growing up, and for a while they can continue occupying the same room if it's given a divider.

Nowadays a divider doesn't mean just a plain wall. No, it need not even be ceiling high, and actually it's a storage wall—useful, attractive and fulfilling its room-dividing function as well.

Many builders today and home craftsmen, too, are making storage walls with a panel material that combines economy, good looks and long wear. This panel is available at lumber yards in widths of four feet and convenient lengths to 12 feet. Nailed to a lumber framework, it forms an ideal storage wall in which the youngsters have ample room for their clothes—each on his own side of the room.

Persons who wonder how a material so smooth and hard can be nailed or sawed, are amazed at the ease with which a crosscut saw whips through it, and how easily it can be nailed to the lumber framework. Only ordinary tools are needed.

Either swinging or the modern sliding doors may be built to fit the storage wall divider. About the simplest method of getting either kind is to ask the lumber dealer for a product designed especially for such purposes.

The storage wall may be richly painted to match the room decor. As the youngsters continue growing, it may eventually be extended to furnish a separate room for the girl and a separate one for the boy.

Track Teams Gets First Victory

After the rain had forced postponement of the track meet with Trenton on Thursday, the two squads got together on Friday on the local cinder track behind the high school and Plymouth emerged the winner over the Trojans 59 1/2 to 49 1/2. The local thunders won 3 first places and tied for another to 4 firsts for Trenton.

Times and distances were not too good on account of the chill wind which swept the track causing the athletes to tighten up.

Jerry Kelly was high point man for Plymouth with 11 1/2 points to his credit on first in both dashes and an anchor leg on the relay team.

Today Allen Park is scheduled to come here for another meet on the local track.

Results of the first meet were as follows: Jerry Kelly won the 100 yard dash in 11 seconds; Kelly also took the 220 yard dash in the good time of 23.2— Rod Juve was third in this event; Gerald Swain won the 120 yard high hurdles in 1.91 with Ross Willett coming in third; John Balogh won a slow mile in 5:08.5 with Jim Blanton second and Tom Davis third; Ron Nyhus took the shot put with a toss of 46 feet 1 inch, Jerry Vettese was third; Paul Hamlin was third in the 440; Ralph Wagenschutz came in second in the 130 yard low hurdles; Lynn Becker won the half mile in 2:21 with Terry West coming in second; Russell Mecklenberg was second in the broad jump; Ronald Pagenkopf tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet four inches— Bob Gobel, Bill Bush and Rod Juve tied for third in this event; Plymouth took the medley relay in 2:48.3 with a team consisting of Ed Grosjean, Ralph Wagenschutz, Bill Bush and Bob Danol; a quartet of Ralph Wagenschutz, Bill Bush, Ed Grosjean and Jerry Kelly took the 880 yard relay in 1:40.1.

Trenton slammed the pole vault in winning at 8 feet 6 inches; a Trenton lad also finished first in the 440, broad jump and low hurdles.

We don't suppose there is a man in Plymouth who isn't sure he could become famous if he wasn't so busy trying to make a living.

At the left is Richard Huebler, who is the first string catcher on this year's nine, and in the center is Kenneth Kisabeth, the starting pitcher. ## HS Golfers Bow to Track Records Ann Arbor High Up to Date Now

The first golf meet of the year was postponed last Wednesday due to inclement weather. Plymouth was supposed to have met Northville. A match with Ann Arbor was held last Friday with the good Class A squad emerging an easy winner over Plymouth by 51 strokes.

Co-captain Benson led the local linksmen with a 90 and was closely followed by Co-captain Tyler Caplin with 94. Dick Partridge had a 106 and Wally Rush a 115 to complete the team scoring.

Jim Case led the winners and was medalist with a sparkling 81. Other Ann Arbor scores were an 87, 92 and 94.

Monday of this week Plymouth matched strokes with Dearborn and Wednesday with Allen Park. Next Monday a strong Bentley squad comes here for the first league meet, and next Wednesday Redford Union will be here.

A little research brought some interesting facts to light concerning track records at Plymouth High school. Most of the present records have been set since 1949, but there are still four records on the books that were set nearly 20 years ago.

Harold Wagenschutz holds three of these with star performances in the 120 yard high hurdles, high jump, and broad jump. D. Kinsey holds the other in the shot put. Wagenschutz set 4 regional records at the 1936 regional some of which he still holds.

A complete list of records will be duly recorded on a large bulletin board and placed on the wall, or in the trophy case, in the new gymnasium.

The school records are as follows:

100 yard dash, Paul Harding, 1950, 10.3 seconds; 220 yard dash, Paul Harding, 1950, 22.5 seconds; 120 yard high hurdles, Harold Wagenschutz, 1936, 15.2 seconds; 180 yard low hurdles, Jack Robinson, 1951, 22 seconds; 440 yard dash, Louis Vargha, 1950, 52.6 seconds; 880 yard run, Calvin Becker, 1949, 2:04.5; Mile run, John Balogh, 1952, 4:42.5; Medley Relay, 1950, 2:39 (Dan Green, Melvin Guthrie, Charles Todd and Bill Burger); 880 yard relay, 1950, 1:34.3. (Paul Harding, Bill Burger, Bob Anthony and Louis Vargha); High Jump, Harold Wagenschutz, 1936, 6 ft. 2 3/4 inches; Pole Vault, James Wagenschutz, 1949, 12 ft.; Shot Put, D. Kinsey, 1936, 49 ft. 6 1/2 inches; Broad Jump, Harold Wagenschutz, 1934, 22 ft. 4 inches.

Northville Easy for Tennis Team

Plymouth High school opened the tennis season with an easy 6 to 1 triumph over Northville last week.

Ronald Wendland, playing the number 1 singles, won his match; Dick Root suffered the lone defeat when he lost the number 2 singles match to a Northville netter; Brian Kidston won the third match and Jim Zukosky the fourth one.

In doubles, Bob Nulty and Bruce Green won easily, and the other two matches were won on forfeits— these being the two-somes of Elmer Whipple and Ed Rossow; and that of Bob Bateman and Larry VanOrsdale.

Another match was played with Ypsilanti Roosevelt on Monday, if the weather permitted, but too late for the edition of this page.

Next Thursday the first league match takes place when the squad travels to Belleville for a contest.

All local matches are played on the courts in Riverside Park.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

In this fast moving atomic age our young people are experiencing many things that we as youngsters did not dream about years ago. However, I can't help but think there were some things that we enjoyed in the long ago that would have fascinated our youngsters today.

I can remember getting into the old wagon with my dad and riding behind the horses for four miles to a blacksmith shop—a place that was found in every community where horses were shod, broken chains repaired and wagon tires mended. In every such shop the sound of the anvil could be heard from morning till night, for the owner was a hard working man and seldom had an idle moment. The place fascinated me as a young lad, and I can still remember the nice smell that prevailed there, and listening to the smithy argue politics or some such thing.

The blacksmith shop was peculiar in that it served the purpose of what in the city is called a club, the members met mostly on rainy days when work upon the farm was at a standstill. They talked about everything from politics to a choice bit of scandal that might be making its rounds at that time.

It is difficult to locate one of those shops at the present time. The old have gone and the new have come, whether for the welfare of mankind or not is a question not easy to answer. The smithy may be found at his old place but he has changed his occupation, by necessity, and is owner of a garage—one is led to wonder if he does not now and then long to hear the ring of the anvil or sense the odor of the forge.

After we had our horses shod, we would buy some groceries, to take home, and ourselves a bunch of bananas and some peanuts with the shucks on to eat on the long trip home—that is probably where I learned to love peanuts!

Yes, there were a lot of rich experiences in the past that probably wouldn't appeal to our young folks today as they did to us in the yesterdays. New inventions have a far reaching effect on life in general.

Spring sports at the high school got off to a good start last week despite the inclement weather. High school teams won in tennis and track, but dropped a decision to a fast Ann Arbor squad in golf. Baseball didn't get started until this week. Most of the squads are fairly well-balanced, but Coach John Sandmann is experimenting with his golf squad in order to present a formidable aggregation, and Coach Keith Baughman is trying to find a capable pole vaulter in track.

I see where the Chamber of Commerce and the City Commission are jointly going to greet new residents of this city with a letter of welcome. I think that is wonderful— there is nothing more satisfying for a new person than to feel that he is wanted and welcome. If all parents could do the same thing to a new born infant, and substitute in place of a letter some genuine love and affection, a few of our unstable youngsters would be much more happy and better adjusted to life.

The Detroit Tigers got off to a stumbling, fumbling start this year, and just about anything in the book can be expected to happen on this club. A couple games have been lost already on mental lapses, errors and not hustling or being over anxious. If they don't snap out of it pretty soon they are going to make the oddsmakers who quoted them as 100 to 1 shots look like they knew what they were doing. I can't say as I relish Fred Hutchinson's job these days, but he is trying to weld a conglomeration of players from other teams and youngsters into a workable outfit, and it may take time before they develop teamwork and the proper spirit. Young Harvey Kuenn looks like another Charley Gehring, and is hitting the ball at a merry clip for a youngster. The pitchers who were counted upon to carry the burden are not performing in anywhere near their average form.

There must have been some good track teams in the past at the high school considering the records that have withstood the years and are still held by a few individuals of long ago. In search through past meets, contacting Coaches Sandmann and Moiso, we have come up with all the school track records which you will find on this page.

Harold Wagenschutz must have been quite some athlete back in the mid-thirties as he is still the holder of four track records. Most of them were set in 1936, the same year that D. Kinsey set the present shot put record— Plymouth must have had quite a track team in 1936. These records will be put on a sheet in the new gymnasium as permanent until they are broken.

Early to bed and early to rise, and you miss seeing a great deal that doesn't go on in the daytime.

Coach Gustave Gorguze is the tutor, and reading from left to right are: Herbert Olson, Russell Brown, David Finney, Kenneth Kisabeth, Richard Huebler, Ronald Ritter with the bat, David Wilkin and Bill McKenna. The first game of the season was postponed Monday because of inclement weather, but another is scheduled for today over at Redford Union. Next Tuesday will be the first home game with Bentley as the opponent.

Keen Competition at Diving Finals

Close competition in the Michigan AAU Indoor Low Board Diving Championships provided many thrills for the many who saw the preliminaries and finals last Saturday in the high school pool.

Thirteen men were in the preliminaries in the afternoon and eight women. Six from each division entered the finals in the evening.

Joe Maracna, a veteran diver of 32, garnered the men's division by outpointing his younger rivals. Lila Gresly of Battle Creek won the women's division.

This was the first state championship swimming event to be held in the new pool and was well attended by local and out-state fans. The pool was in excellent condition and gratifying to the swimmers present.

A clinic for diving officials was also held in connection with this meet. This was sponsored by the Michigan Swimming Officials Society of which Wallace Laury of Plymouth is secretary.

The event was sponsored by the Department of Recreation with Herbert Woolweaver and John McFall in charge.

Results were as follows: In the women's division: Lila Gresly of Battle Creek took first place; Marie Harbourne of Lincoln Park copped second place; Gloria Rutz of Detroit was third; and Joyce Kelly of Battle Creek captured fourth place.

In the men's division, Joe Maracna of Detroit was first; John Harbourne of Lincoln Park was second; John Mason of Birmingham took third; and Bob Kavieff of Detroit fourth place.

Puts a Good Mark on a Man!

Regardless of where he drives, no man is wholly a stranger to the people about him—if he sits at the wheel of a 1953 Cadillac.

His name may be unknown—and also his occupation—and, likewise, the whereabouts of his home.

But he is not without standing. For his Cadillac marks him as a man of character and substance.

Let him arrive at the door of a distinguished hotel or a famous restaurant—or let him seek the ear of anyone for direction or information... and he has the courtesy that goes with respect. People assume that the man who owns a Cadillac has earned it through personal achievement.

And let it be said for Cadillac owners that, almost invariably, they respond in kind.

Indeed, the honor which Cadillac does to its owners is the fruit of the honor they have so long bestowed upon Cadillac. When so many wonderful people favor a particular make of car over such a long period of time—the car must inevitably become a mark of distinction.

All of this, of course, comes to its owner as an extra joy and satisfaction.

It comes in addition to the magnificent performance of Cadillac's 210 h.p. engine and improved Hydra-Matic Drive... the wonderful comfort of Cadillac's new Air Conditioner*... the car's soft, easy, relaxing ride... its marvelous balance and handling ease... its long life and dependability... and its truly amazing economy of upkeep and operation.

Put them all together and they spell the grandest satisfaction in all motordom—

—satisfaction so great that, once a person moves up to Cadillac, the odds are overwhelming that he will stay with Cadillac.

Have you seen and driven the 1953 version of the "Car of Cars"?

If not—we should be happy to see you at any time. Why not come in today?

Best quip of the week so far was made by three year old Arthur Daane, son of Mayor and Mrs. Russell Daane. One morning last week young Arthur was told by his mother after his breakfast that aunt Mamie arrived in Plymouth last night and was asleep in the back bedroom. Said Republican bred young Arthur . . . is Ike there too? Mamie in this case happened to be Mrs. Gil Daane of Grand Rapids.

Dave Galin says he is the most flattered grandfather in town because while sitting at Jack Taylor's desk in the bank a young woman stepped up to one of the windows and asked the cashier where she could find Mr. Taylor. The cashier pointed at Jack's desk where both men were seated and the woman asked, "do you mean the elderly gentleman on the left?" (Jack). No wonder Dave is full of smiles.

It would be interesting to know how many governmental dollars went into the Godfrey extravaganza at Miami Beach where his highly publicized water show was mainly Navy airforce propaganda.

For the first time the famous round table in the Mayflower Hotel's new dining room is going to be round. For many years the oblong table visited daily by local businessmen has been misnamed but thanks to Henry Penhale it will appear in proper shape next week.

Captain William Roberts arriving back from a short visit to Iowa thought Saturday morning on Plymouth's Main street was Sunday morning. It seems throughout Iowa Saturday is still the main shopping day as is Friday in this area.

Listening a half hour to Mrs. Robert Willoughby, my wife and Mrs. Harry Deyo trying to unravel the Daughters of American Revolution Program for the Washington convention this weekend makes me agree with Malcomb Bingay in that there certainly will be confusion unlimited in the Capitol City. It's a good thing I'll be on hand to interpret for the threesome or I'm afraid Plymouth Corners Society might not get complete representation at the multitude of activities planned for the event.

Jack Pickering of the Detroit Times printed a question from A. D. Ruedemann in the David Whitney building as to why some big air rifle manufacturing company of Plymouth didn't do something to help teach youngsters the safe way to handle guns. To both of their surprise Daisy's Robert Wesley presented each with a Daisy air rifle and a sheet of material showing Daisy had probably pioneered and done more on the instructional line than all of the rest of gun manufacturers in the world.

We think on a whole boys do better than grown-ups when it comes to handling guns. Figures released this week by the Conservation Department in Lansing show that there were 279 hunting accidents during the last season in the State and of that number 25 were deaths. Our guess is that it would be hard to find two dozen deaths in Michigan in a year such as Dr. Ruedemann asked about.

Marshall Kirkpatrick, manager of Kresge's says he didn't hire his assistant manager Fred Kester because he was fast on his feet but he was sure happy to see him outrun a teenaged boy on Main street Friday who had his pockets full of Kresge merchandise that by-passed the cashier.

The "advantages" of being in debt will soon be described by factions in government who take a long range view of the state's operating deficit. Arguments can be heard on the beneficial aspects of a "manageable deficit." And, surprisingly enough, there are some sound reasons why a government deficit is of less importance than one in your family finances.

For one thing, they say, the estimated $65 million deficit is really only a bookkeeping figure. For example, the state orders a building to be constructed at a cost of $5 million with completion in two years. That $5 million immediately shows as having been spent. Actually, it is not spent, is not due, and couldn't be paid because the service had not yet been performed.

A deficit, particularly of the "manageable" variety, is a great advantage, it is believed, in riding herd on a legislature which might otherwise be inclined to spend a surplus frivolously. Dr. William Miller, one of the two Princeton tax experts who analyzed Michigan's financial condition, remarked in a speech, "That Michigan could go on living quite nicely forever with a $40 million deficit of the type it now has."

Trick is to turn the deficit liability into an asset in an argument which will help hold off the present legislature from making new tax laws. The idea is that people, faced with the possibility of paying new taxes, can more easily be sold on changing the Constitution to remove many of the earmarking provisions in this way. Michigan will end up with what is generally considered a fairer, more efficient tax system.

If no tax action is taken this session, don't be surprised. Legislators might make signs like coming up with something, but many of them (unofficially) would like to wait until after June 1, the end of the state's fiscal year, to see what conditions look like with all the records compiled. While there exists some pressure to come up with a tax program, there exists terrific pressure from every direction to "tax the other guy." This leaves the legislator in middle, wondering whether to alienate one group severely by taxing, or leave a much larger group only a little annoyed that the problem has not been solved.

Most legislators agree privately that the Princeton report is sound economically. But politicians shake their heads at the political aspects which force many of them to support legislation which would reduce state spending in local areas where it is now being unfairly and unwisely distributed. If the problem can be solved by a referendum vote of the people changing diversion provisions all legislators would be taken off the hook.

Little support was forthcoming for a bill in the Senate designed to change the dates to Monday of all national holidays except Christmas and New Years and provide the public several more long week ends. The bill is back in committee and has little chance of passing this session. Its sponsor, Sen. Don Vander Werp, had the blessing of Labor and Industry and the active backing of the tourist associations in proposing the changes. Similar changes are being submitted to 42 state governments this year, part of a national plan to be consistent in holiday celebration.

Only reason Senator Vander Werp could see for the lack of interest among other Michigan senators is a sentimental one, or the tendency to "leave things as they are." If the proposal gets the backing he hopes to get from the common man in Michigan, he is confident that next time around, the bill will become law.

All Michigan drivers will be effected if a proposed bill becomes law. For one thing, it sets the date of each license expiration to coincide with the driver's birthday. This provision alone is expected to save the state $30,000 annually, for notices reminding drivers to renew their licenses will no longer be sent. They will be expected to remind themselves when their birthday anniversary arrives.

A more important provision of the new law will set up a department in the Secretary of State's office; require complete files showing histories of moving traffic violations and accidents. Rate structure for licenses will be changed. A new license will be $3 for three years and $1.50 for each subsequent renewal. Chauffeur's licenses will be $2; minor's restricted-licenses, $1.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON FORECASTS HIGHER INTEREST RATES

Last December on my way from Massachusetts to Florida I found almost all of my Wall Street friends were bullish on stocks.

WALL STREET CONFUSED
Today, owing to the Korean Peace outlook, the sentiment is now bearish. In fact, the bulls are confined to those who still believe War III is more likely than when Stalin lived. They hold "War Babies" which they fear would suffer by peace.

Impartial observers are very confused and uncertain as to the future. They are thankful that Eisenhower is President; and are glad for Stalin's death. Wall Street, however, believes that Malenkov is not Stalin's real successor and that we will see a change to someone else. They further feel some one of the satellites may kick over the traces and that China may be the one.

ALL AGREE ON INTEREST RATES

The only thing Wall Street now agrees upon is that money rates will stiffen. This will be due to the increase in the Government Bond rates and in installment buying, or the over-building of homes and other causes. Here is good news for small investors! You will soon be able to buy 3 1/4 per cent U. S. Government Bonds. This is the first time for 20 years that you have been able to do this. Loaners of money are also getting "choosier" about their loans. They are turning down many applications which they would have accepted a year ago. Banks are waiting to see what the future will bring forth. This hesitancy automatically increases interest rates.

The interest yield of bonds is also an important factor. When good bonds yield little, banks and trustees loan money more freely on mortgages; but today the yield of good bonds is increasing. Many of these bonds are non-taxable as to Federal Income, due to the vast amounts being issued for constructing super-highways. Although a bank will tell you that its rate has not increased, yet to you it has increased in terms of purchasing power. A manufacturer who now pays 3 1/2 per cent interest to buy machinery which runs only 40 hours a week is really paying more now than he was paying when the rate was 4 per cent and his machinery operated 48 hours per week. You are already paying more for mortgage money now than when building costs were much less than present costs because you must borrow money now to build a home. Those who now buy cars and merchandise on installments are today paying 8 per cent or more.

Any attempt to raise wage rates faster than the increase in hourly productivity is equivalent to an increase in interest rates. The most practical solution to present high prices is to abolish the 40 hour week. Otherwise, we must curtail spending which would result in unemployment. To refer again to interest rates, these must increase to check a return of inflation. "We cannot have our pie and eat it too!"

WHAT ABOUT COFFEE PRICES

This brings me to say another word about retail prices. Since the controls have been lifted, hundreds of complaining letters have come to me. Most of these refer to the price of coffee. Let me say that the price controls were taken off of coffee to help our "good neighbor policy" in Central and South America. Therefore, when you pay more for coffee, just remember you are truly helping millions of very poor people working on the coffee plantations.

If you don't want to help those poor South Americans by paying more for coffee you can reduce the cost by drinking less of it. We don't need to buy so much coffee. Just reduce one cup a day and you will more than offset the recent increase in price; while your health will be better and you will live longer. Coffee is not a food; it is only a temporary stimulant at best. The present growing habit of many office employees to demand a cup of coffee in the middle of the morning not only increases the price of coffee for everyone, but, by reducing efficiency, is helping to bring on a business depression.

There are 87 Long lakes, 58 Round lakes, 172 Mud lakes and 36 Pickerel lakes in Michigan. Other common names for lakes include Pine, Grass, Crooked and Clear. The confusion causes quite a problem if geography and steps are being taken to clarify the situation.

Praises Are High For Firefighters

What would have been a much more serious tragedy except for the masterful handling of the situation by the Plymouth Township Fire Department was most successfully kept under control when a heating boiler at the Barnes - Gibson - Raymond plant on Plymouth road burned out due to automatic control failure.

L. E. Hilts, Factory Manager stated, "this fire, which lasted for more than three hours and could have led to almost plant shutdown had it progressed further, was handled with the utmost calmness and cooperative control by the fire department of any fire handling he has seen." He is much impressed with the splendid organization and cooperative arrangement worked out among the various fire departments throughout this entire area.

The chief of the Plymouth Township Fire Department and his entire crew are to be complimented on their most sincere and organized effort," he stated.

The people of Michigan now own more than one million feet of frontage on lakes and streams in the state under the conservation departments fishing site program. Ownership includes 380 lake shore areas and 177 streamside sites.
