Hearing on Zoning Law Set For June

The city's proposed new Zoning Ordinance will go before the general public at special hearings to be held next month.

Prior to the hearings The Plymouth Mail in coming weeks will publish as a public service a detailed zoning map that may be used as a convenient guide to residents.

In the making for more than a year, the ordinance is the "nurtured baby" of nine planning commissioners. It has been completely overhauled. Different nomenclatures have been added as part of the general recodification of all the city's outmoded ordinances.

Two new area designations called PR-1 (Professional-Residential) and R-1A (Two Family Commercial) have been tagged to some city expanses. And other areas as well have been completely rezoned.

City planners generally agree that the new zoning law will have a far reaching economic and social effect upon the entire city. Concurrently, the proposed zoning law has brought forward the question of the proper exercise of "police" power, protection of the city's economic life while defending homeowners against property deflation and exploitation.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has been active during Planning Commission meetings in past months urging an eight-point adoption of recommendations made by their Zoning Committee.

The Chamber in a May 15 monthly Newsletter said "The Chamber's Zoning Committee has disagreed with the City Planning Commission on a number of issues. They feel that the growth of the city is being stymied under the proposed zoning plans.

"The Chamber feels", the Newsletter explained, "that every effort should be made to fully explain to the residents of this community what these changes are."

"We have consistently sought the support of groups who have had suggestions to improve the ordinance," Sidney D. Strong,

Three Officials Get Certificates

Three of the city's top administrators were recently awarded "diploma" certificates by the International City Managers' association for extension course-work completed under the ICMA's Institute for Training in Municipal Administration.

Both City Manager Albert F. Glassford and Superintendent of Public Works Stanford L. Besse received certificates for having completed a 15-week course on Technique of Municipal Administration. The course was offered at Wayne.

Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister received his "degree" for completing an extension course on Municipal Fire Administration. Given at Birmingham, it was also a 15-week course.

The certificates were formally presented to the administrators last Monday night by Mayor Russell M. Daane.

The "back to school" drive is being backed by officials.

City Manager Glassford said in his budget report "training in all departments of the city is emphasized."

Currently the acting assessor is getting additional training in accounting and rookie patrolmen here are afforded police training under the sponsorship of the Southeastern Police Chief's association.

Riggs Dairy Bar Sold to Laurence Smith

Riggs Dairy Bar has recently been purchased by Laurence Smith, formerly of Detroit and now living on Ann Arbor road. Smith purchased the store at 289 South Main from Mrs. Ida Riggs. The name has been changed to Smith Dairy Bar and Grill.

Smith was previously in the dairy bar business and also worked as head housekeeper at Children's hospital in Detroit.

chairman of the Planning commission, said last Friday.

Strong said that some of the recommendations were accepted while others were discarded as being impractical.

"We solicit a lobbying group's help," he declared. "But when it comes right down to it we have a mandate from the people—we've got to stand on our own two feet. We can't forget we're working for everyone."

Added as a new classification, PR-1 is being included as a transition and buffer zone, Strong said. He indicated that it would add more value to older-type properties and tend to bring about reconstruction of depreciated properties. Main street on both sides south from Wing to Ann Arbor road has been completely designated as PR-1.

Strong added that there has been a "tightening up" of R-1 (Residential-one dwelling) districts throughout the city to prevent property exploitation and preserve present values. The outmoded zoning law now in effect permits multiple dwelling units to be constructed alongside one unit dwellings. This would be prohibited under the new law, restricting housing to similar unit types.

Under the new law multiple dwelling units will be permitted only in R-1A and R-2 districts. Only two-family income property would be constructed in R-1A while R-2 (Two-Family Dwelling) would permit privately owned multiple units.

"We have been plagued a little bit more than other cities by the topographical layout of Plymouth," Strong said. He noted that "we have been limited in zoning some sections by the primary grid of streets and such properties as, found along the C & O Railway right of way."

He indicated that proper zoning would make the "best possible usage of land."

In-city areas along the C & O Railway's right-of-way have been zoned M-2 (General Industrial). Other areas along Lilley road between Ann Arbor trail and Ann Arbor road have been zoned M-1 (Light Industrial) with some areas given over to M-2 on the east side of the road.

Strong said that slightly more land had been designated for industrial purposes.

In general, it is between industrial-commercial and residential areas where PR-1 and R-1A and R-2 have been inserted for what Strong called natural transition or buffer areas.

After its rounds of public hearings held at the city hall on June 11 at 7:30 p.m. and on June 13 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., the proposed law will go back to the Planning Commission for discussion.

Strong emphasized at this point, that notes would be taken of recommendations made by interested persons appearing before the board. He said each citizen proposal would be thoroughly discussed and ruled on by a board motion.

When reported out, it will be referred to the city commission for adoption following three readings at separate commission meetings.

Warn Against Double Parking

City police aimed their law enforcement "guns" this week at double parkers and issued advance warning that "we're going to ticket them."

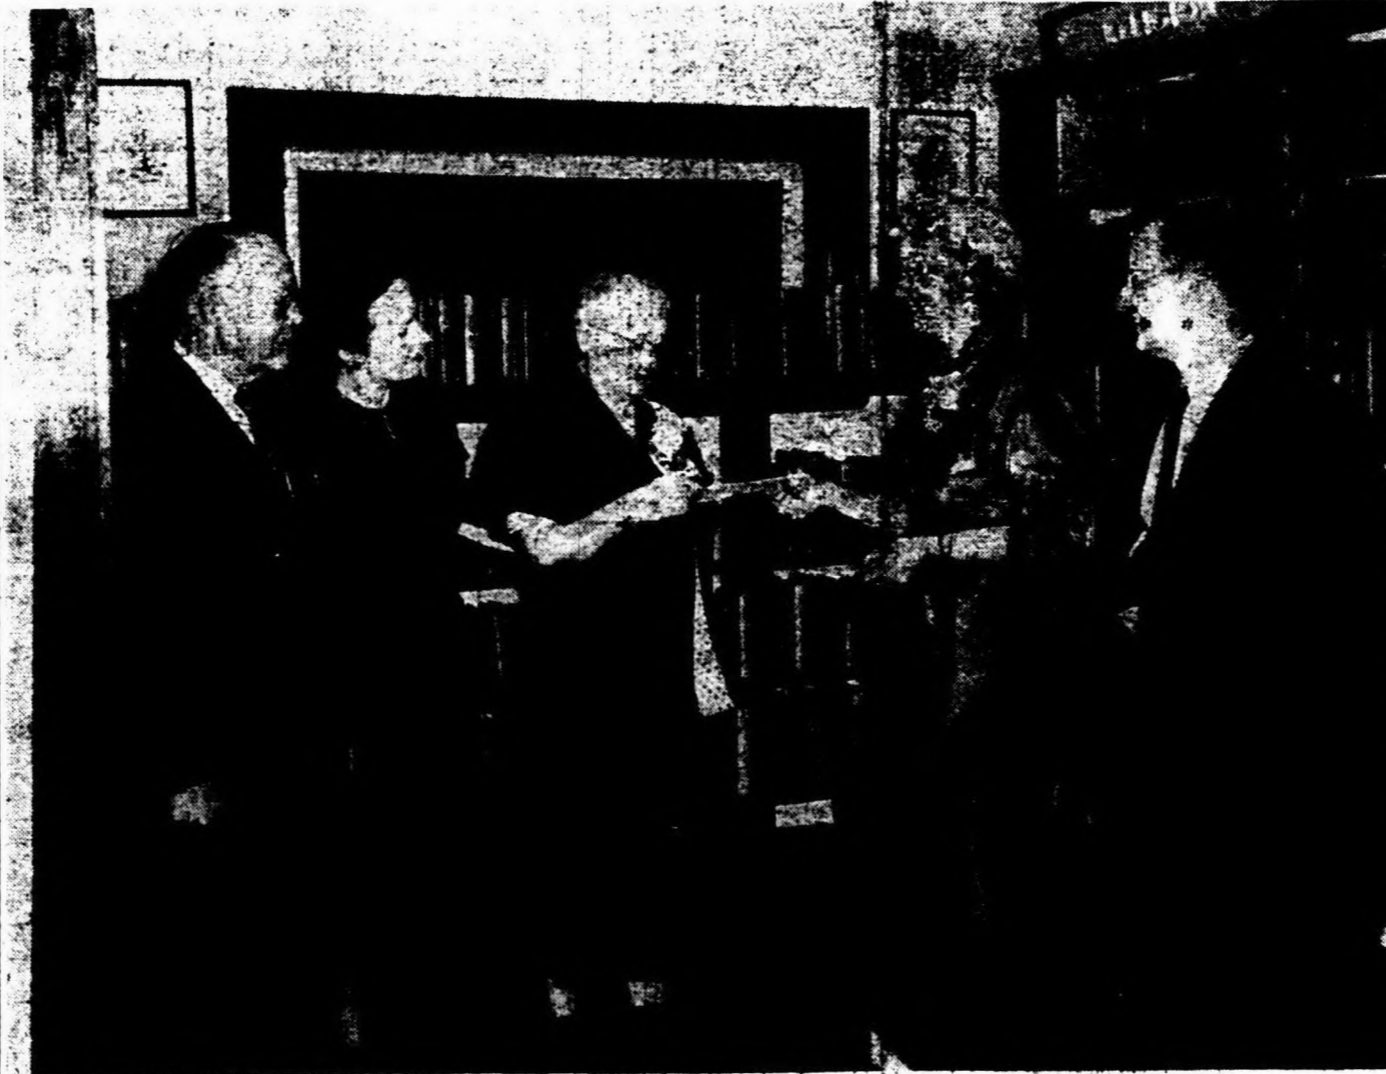

Pulling the plug in an all-out effort to cut down violations Police Chief Carl Greenlee said Tuesday "double parking has got to stop. It's endangering other motorists and causing needless traffic congestion."

Greenlee advised truckers to use alleyways for unloading. The advance warning came several weeks after police here ticketed 107 motorists for parking on the wrong side of the street in less than one 24-hour period.

Plymouth Kiwanis Club Meets with Redford

More than 25 Plymouth Kiwanians journeyed to Redford for an inter-club meeting with the Kiwanis club of that city. A discussion concerning the parking problems of Detroit and its suburbs was led by the director of the Detroit committee for off-street parking.

The Soroptomist Club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Melczek, 11410 Auburndale avenue, Livonia at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 27.

Get "Adequate Pollution Control" Or No More Sewers, City Warned

Plymouth from now on must unconditionally guarantee that raw sewage from new sanitary sewer construction will have "adequate pollution control" by January, 1955.

This is the substance of a 'get tough' order handed down recently by the Michigan Department of Health to all communities along the right-of-way of the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor.

To most of the cities affected it means that the $3,500,000 interceptor must be in operation by January, 1955, to guarantee adequate sewage disposal before the MDH will issue a sewer building permit. It's either that or constructing a sewage disposal plant. Officials here say that cost would be prohibitive.

City Manager Albert F. Glassford told commissioners Monday that "we have an agreement with the Wayne County Road commission in which they have agreed to accept our sewage." Glassford said if it becomes necessary to obtain a permit, "I believe we may be able to use the agreement to our advantage." Plymouth presumably would hook into the county sewer that runs from the

Plymouth - OCD Agree to Buy New Fire Truck

Purchase of a new $11,000 to $14,000 pumper-type fire truck got the official "go ahead" here last Monday night.

It came on the heels of an offer by the Office of Civil Defense in Washington, D. C. to give the city $5,500 toward buying the fire truck and an added $1,000 to buy related fire-fighting equipment.

The OCD has designated Plymouth as a "critical target area" in its civilian defense setup.

In addition to the 750 to 1,000 gallon pumper, the city and the OCD will share equally to buy a mobile radio receiver, a 1/2 horsepower siren and coats, boots and helmets to outfit 25 OCD firefighters here.

Commissioners approved matching the OCD grant of some $6,500 following the recommendation of the city's civilian defense director, Ernest Henry, and Fire Chief, Robert McAllister.

The new equipment will be used by the civilian defense organization here for emergencies and by the fire department answering city fire alarms.

Plymouth is one of a number of cities throughout the nation to be declared in a critical target area. The OCD offer goes to other cities similarly designated.

The money grant was hailed by officials here. The new equipment will be the first to be purchased since 1937. It will bolster the firefighting "arm" of the department whose antiquated equipment was last year declared "totally inadequate" by a University of Michigan firefighting expert.

Estimate 300 Will Face Dog Law Violations Here

Police authorities estimated some 300 of 500 remaining dog owners who have failed to have their dogs vaccinated and licensed will face a violation summons after May 31.

Dog owners have until that time to procure 1953 dog tags which will not be issued until their pets have been inoculated against rabies.

Authorities advise that an anti-rabies dog clinic will be held at the city hall for the last time from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. next Saturday. Pet owners by having their dogs vaccinated at the clinic will realize a savings, police reported. They said dog licenses will be issued at the clinic.

Hold Memorial Services Sunday

Memorial Day will be observed this year by Plymouth veterans and citizens with the church service on Sunday, May 24, and the annual parade on Saturday, May 30.

Actual observance of the day will begin on Saturday, May 23, when the Veterans of Foreign Wars will place flags on the graves of all Plymouth veterans. The V.F.W. urged families to contact them if any graves are missed. This may be done by calling Burley Service, 9130.

Church services this year will be held from the First Methodist church, with Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson preaching the special Memorial Day sermon. The V.F.W. and the American Legion have asked all veterans, regardless of denomination, to assemble with them at the Methodist church on May 24, at 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium. Services will begin at 11 a.m. as usual.

Details of the parade will be announced in next week's issue.

7,916 Employed in Local Area

Increased employment and the hiring of women workers to offset help shortages marked a Chamber of Commerce announcement that placed employment levels here at 7,916 in April. This was a gain of 194 over March levels.

The Chamber, in its May Newsletter, cited the "Labor Market Letter," a publication of the Michigan Employment Security Commission for the Detroit area, that stated "current employment records may be shattered by mid-May."

With unemployment at a record low, the MESC pointed out that "employers are hiring more women workers because of the shortage in the labor market."

The former Sarah Wiley group of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Heloise Campbell, 45110 Joy road, on Tuesday May 26 at 8 p. m.

Wear a POPPY MADE BY VETERANS IN MEMORIAM HONOR THE DEAD AID THE DISABLED

Veterans to Sell Buddy Poppies Here Friday

Buddy Poppies will go on sale Friday, May 22, for the purpose of helping disabled veterans and their families. The sale is co-sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars post 6695 and auxiliary and the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion and auxiliary.

Sale of poppies will be handled by the veterans organizations today, May 21, in the factories in the Plymouth area. Street sales will be carried on all day Friday.

The V. F. W. and American Legion urge all citizens to remember that somewhere in Korea men are being wounded and killed. Somewhere in America veterans of World Wars I and II are lying in pain. By buying the poppies made by these disabled veterans the citizen shows he hasn't forgotten them.

The sponsors of the poppy sale suggest that the poppy be pinned over the heart. "The flame color of the poppy keeps memory bright."

Denhoff & Failing Sell Out to Jones

The sale of the Denhoff and Failing service station to James Jones was announced early this week. The Gulf station at 231 Plymouth road will be called Jim's Service.

Jones was formerly the owner of a service station across from the Mayflower hotel, before moving to northern Michigan. He and his family will again establish residence in Plymouth.

George E. Bowles to be Guest on TV Program

Chairman of the State Labor Mediation board, George E. Bowles, will be featured guest on the Meet the Press program Saturday, May 23. Bowles lives at 884 Palmer street.

The program will be on WXYZ-TV, channel 7 at 4:30 p. m. Brewster Campbell, city editor of the Detroit Free Press, will act as moderator as three newspapermen quiz Bowles. The discussion will center around labor-management relations.

The VFW Auxiliary card party will be held tonight, Thursday, at 8 p. m. in the Veteran's Memorial Center.

Runs Into Path of Car, Youth Suffers Injuries

A six-year-old local youth who reportedly broke away from his guide while crossing South Main street near Simpson was last Thursday struck down by an automobile.

Suffering head, arm and shoulder injuries was Thomas Todd of 936 Simpson.

He was struck by a car driven by John P. Dawson, of 120 Hix road, Wayne. Police said Dawson told them he had just pulled away from the curb and was going south on South Main at 15 miles an hour when the Todd youth ran in front of the vehicle.

Todd was removed to Sessions hospital in Northville by his father, Warren Todd, and a passing motorist. His condition, pending X-rays, was reported as "fair."

The youth was returning to his home, being guided across the street by his playmate's mother, when he broke away and ran into the path of the oncoming car.

Merchants to Close Memorial Day

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Nat Sibbold announced this week that Plymouth retail stores will close Saturday, May 30, Memorial Day. No changes in store hours will be made during the preceding week inasmuch as the stores remain open until 6:00 p.m. on Fridays anyway, Sibbold said.

Five From PHS Awarded Regents Scholarships

The Regents-Alumni Honor Awards at the University of Michigan have been presented to 736 graduating seniors in Michigan high schools. Plymouth High school is represented by five senior girls.

Entering the College of Literature, science and the arts will be Annette Jean Brandt of Brookville road; Terry Eleanor Carney, South Main street; Jacqueline Jean Langmaid, Koppernick road; Marian Helen Miller, Hix road and Joyce Roberta Nagel of Godfredson road.

Eligibility for the awards are based on the following factors: (1) the record made in high school; (2) information provided by University alumni and other citizens of the community; (3) recommendations of the high school principal and teachers; and (4) results of the scholastic aptitude test taken by the candidates.

Amend Ordinance to Make License Number Evidence

An amendment to the city's Traffic Ordinance that indicates the "owner of such motor vehicle was the person who parked or placed such motor vehicle at the point where the violation occurred" passed its first reading Monday night.

The amendment introduces the license number as evidence that the motor vehicle is owned by the violator.

The addition to the ordinance is one more step toward tightening up and recodifying city ordinances. It would preclude any test cases where the defendant would demand that the court prove he was the person who caused an alleged parking violation, as an example.

The amendment will become effective 21 days after passing its third and final hearing before commissioners.

Firms to Sponsor Youth Program

Plans are currently underway to make an effective Junior Achievement program a reality for the young people of Plymouth High school. The firm backing of at least four major Plymouth industrial companies is assured so far, with more due to offer their support in the near future.

Included among the four are, Burrough's Corp., Daisy Manufacturing company, Consumers Power company, and Barnes-Gibson-Raymond.

A committee of local industrial leaders is now being formed to enlist the cooperation and financial support of Plymouth area businesses and industries in launching the business educational and development program for young people. The full program, which has received the endorsement and valuable assistance of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, was outlined in a previous edition of The Plymouth Mail.

Representatives of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, Inc., will present the full program in detail to the 10th and 11th grades of Plymouth High school on Monday, May 25. A movie will be shown in the assembly hall to both classes at 8:35 a.m., May 25, and the program will be explained in greater detail to small groups of students in study hall periods during the day.

First Federal Savings & Loan association of Detroit will temporarily locate its Plymouth branch office in the Huston building at 843 Penniman.

The announcement was made yesterday by Walter Gehrke, president of First Federal, through Perry W. Richwine who will be appointed vice president and closing attorney of the local branch. It will open offices here on October first.

The announcement recalled that Plymouth Federal Savings & Loan, now located at 865 South Main street, was merged with First Federal to bring to Plymouth area homebuyers more than $5,000,000 in mortgage money "immediately available."

In disclosing First Federal's branch location here, Richwine emphasized that the Penniman office building that will be remodeled at a cost of $20,000 is just a "temporary home." He said "First Federal may build an entirely new bank-type office structure—something of which the city will be genuinely proud."

Remodeling of the Huston building is expected to be underway by July first, Richwine said. The firm will occupy the space now being used by Loren J. Goodale, grocer. Second floor offices will be vacated during the remodeling.

Richwine said he has already turned over architectural plans on the Huston remodeling to First Federal's consultants. One of four types now being considered calls for a colonial-type facade.

The surprise merger that becomes effective on July first ends the 34-year career of Plymouth Federal. It opened its doors in 1919 with just $3,550 in corporate assets. In 1952 its total worth stood at $1,317,175.

Combined assets of the merged firms now stand at more than $100,000,000. First Federal has $5,000,000 in surplus capital some of which may be earmarked for its new branch building here.

Richwine said First Federal's services will include saving account, safe deposit boxes and GI and FHA (Federal Housing Administration) mortgage loan facilities.

Death Car Driver Gets 90-Days While Out on Bond

Edward L. Duty, 23, of 1344 Sheldon road, was last Friday sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

Duty pleaded guilty when arraigned before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo to driving a vehicle without a licensed, competent driver beside him.

Most readers will recall that Duty was the driver of one of the death cars that collided at Ann Arbor and Haggerty roads some six weeks ago causing the deaths of four persons. He was formally charged with manslaughter after allegedly failing to stop at the intersection and was freed on a $2,000 bond pending his circuit court trial.

In his latest arrest some two weeks ago Duty was charged with operating a vehicle with two driving companions lay asleep in the front seat.

State troopers from Redford said they observed Duty zig-zagging along Northville road at about 3 a.m.

Detective bureau authorities from Wayne county said Wednesday that Duty's $2,000 bond would automatically be cancelled, and he would be held in custody until his trial date after completing his 90-day jail term.

Ohio Lodge to Visit in City

Members of Plymouth Rock Lodge F. & A. M. will entertain about 150 members of McMillan Lodge number 141 of Cincinnati, Ohio in the local Masonic Temple on Saturday, May 30. The visitors will be entertained at dinner and in the evening will conduct a Master Mason degree under Ohio ritual.

A party of nearly 300 Masons and their wives will arrive in Detroit Saturday afternoon for the excursion. The wives will remain in Detroit while the lodge travels to Plymouth. Tickets for the dinner will be available at the door according to Plymouth lodge secretary Leslie Evans.

Mr. And Mrs. Fred Krause Honeymooning In Canada

At a lovely candlelight ceremony on Saturday evening, May 9, in the First Methodist church, Miss Grace Lucille McDonald became the bride of Frederick Krause. Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McDonald of Northern street and Mrs. Ada Krause of Cherry Hill road is the mother of the bridegroom.

The eight o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Melbourn Johnson before an altar adorned with candelabra and baskets of white flowers. Miss Margery Thomas sang "At Dawning," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, Grace approached the altar in a gown of white lace over satin. A wide accordion pleated inset of satin extended down the front of the skirt. The fitted bodice was complimented by a Queen Elizabeth collar and long pointed sleeves. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of lace and pearls and she carried a white Pearl centered with a large white orchid.

Bernice McDonald was her father's maid of honor. She wore a gown with powder blue lace bodice and skirt of handkerchief tulle. A lace crown adorned with seed pearls was in her hair and she carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. The bridesmaids, Pat Wassenaar, Ellen Doust and Janet Stiers were matching gowns fashioned like the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of pink carnations. Jo Bergery, the flower girl, wore a pink tulle dress and carried pink flowers. Larry McDonald was the ring bearer.

Thomas Streeter served Fred as best man and seating the guests were Richard Hessler, Ronald Finney and Charles Merryfield.

Mrs. McDonald selected a powder blue street length dress with navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Krause was in navy blue with blue and white accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Grange hall with over 200 guests present from Northville, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Pennsylvania and New York.

The young couple left immediately for a honeymoon to Canada and Niagara Falls. For traveling Mrs. Krause wore an aqua suit with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Both young people attended Plymouth High School. Upon returning to Plymouth they will make their home on Cherry Hill road in Wayne.

Shoe Retailers Hold State Meet at Mayflower

The Board of Directors of the Michigan Shoe Retailers association met Wednesday in the Mayflower hotel. The dinner meeting was attended by representatives from all over the state.

Representing Plymouth at the meeting was Jim Houk, president of the association. Jack Willoughby, of Ypsilanti, past president and chairman of the board, and Ray Krausman, assistant managing director of the Michigan Retailers association, spoke to the assembled group.

Krausman discussed the problems facing members and other associations of this type. Legislative problems were dealt with as well as the recent freight raises and what can be done to help retailers.

Mrs. Fred Palmer of Beck road remains critically ill in University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Lapham 4-H Club Holds Second Meeting

A new 4-H club, called the Lapham group, was organized last month with 11 members. Officers of the group are James Clinansmith, president; David Hawker, vice-president; Judy Nagy, secretary-treasurer; Berva Adams, recreation leader; and John Conant, news reporter.

The members are going to make vegetable gardening their project. Lessons thus far have shown them how to lay out a garden and what tools and fertilizers to use.

Adult leaders of the group are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Conant and Marion Compton. Members are James Davis, Nevin Compton, Ronald Compton, Lyle Clinansmith, Jean Nagy and Donald Hawker.

Hobbs: I understand you are living next to the cemetery out your way. How do you like it?

Dobbs: First rate. Good neighbors. Quiet and peaceful. And they haven't borrowed a thing from us yet.

Day Camp for Crippled Children to be Extended to Five Weeks

Summer day camp for handicapped children will be held for five weeks this year, announced the Easter Seal advisory committee recently. Previously the camp at the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin was held for only four weeks.

The program was discussed at a meeting last Thursday evening, when it was decided to include a young adult group of children 14 years of age and older in the camping series, as well as the younger children.

This is the second year that the Wayne Out-County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults has provided a day camp for handicapped youngsters. The sessions will begin June 22 and continue through July 24. The camp is designed to bring social, recreational and educational activity to orthopedically handicapped children who are mostly homebound individuals.

Miss Eleanor Pence, special education teacher for the Taylor

Township Board of Education, will again serve as camp supervisor for children 4 to 13 years, attending Monday through Thursday.

Fridays of each week will be devoted to the young adult group and will be directed by Miss Millah Graves, occupational therapist for the Michigan Society for Crippled Children.

Nineteen children a day attended the camp last year. Mrs. Hurma Taylor, R. N., of Plymouth and executive secretary of the local Easter Seal society explained, "Some 90 volunteer workers assisted the camp supervisor with daily handicraft, play time and lunches that were furnished by the Easter Seal chapter. Twenty-four different acts of entertainment brought an abundance of joy to our children," she said.

Transportation of the children to and from the camp is provided by the society. The camp is free to all area crippled children.

Plymouth residents who participated in the recent meeting were Girl Scout commissioner Mrs. E. J. Readman, Superintendent and Mrs. Russell Isbister of the Plymouth school district, and Les Taylor, chairman of the underprivileged children committee of the Plymouth Kiwanis club.

Advisory members from the Wayne County Health Department were the Misses Georgina Reid, R. N., Ruth Sprague, P. T., Jean Hankin, nutrition consultant, and Esther Hart, P. T. from the Michigan Crippled Children commission.

Timpona Announces Sale of New Stamp

The 50th anniversary of powered flight commemorative six-cent stamp will be placed on sale at the post office on Saturday, May 30, announced Dr. George Timpona, postmaster.

The central design of the new red stamp is a facsimile of the emblem created of powered flight, showing in silhouette the first plane and a modern plane in powered flight. The words "progress and security" in dark modified gothic appear on the outside edge of the emblem.

CAR Members Hear Discussion of Congress

The senior group of the Plymouth Corners Society of the Children of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. Robert Willoughby of West Ann Arbor trail on Wednesday, May 20, for a supper meeting.

Randy Eaton and Robert Willoughby Jr. narrated their experiences as representatives at the Continental Congress which was held recently in Washington D.C.

Two Residents Receive Michigan Tech Degrees

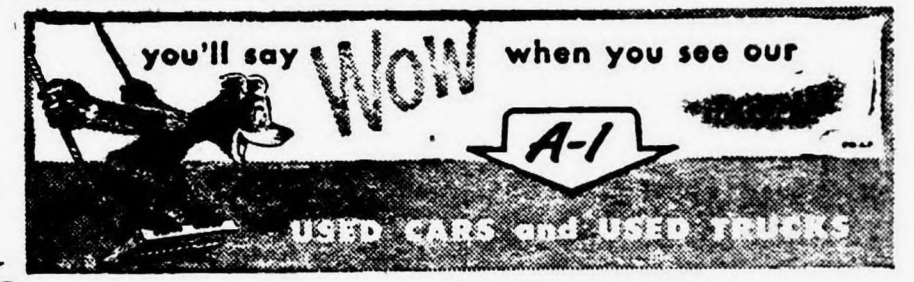

Gerald L. Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Grover of 161 North Mill street; and Richard C. Weinert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Weinert of 9909 Auburndale avenue, will graduate from the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at the commencement exercises Saturday, May 30.

Michigan Tech will confer 282 bachelors' and advanced degrees in 18 fields of technology at the ceremonies. It is the first class since World War II in which veterans are not predominant. John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower and personnel, and president of Michigan State college, will deliver the commencement address.

Shannon will receive the B. S. degree in chemical engineering. He is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society; was general chairman of the 1953 Engineering Show; and is listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges", October, 1952.

Weinert will graduate with the B. S. degree in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the Sigma Rho fraternity.

German Mother Sends Thanks to Local Resident

The gratitude of the German people for packages sent to them by Americans was proved to Mrs. John L. Allen, 16595 Homer, recently.

Mrs. Allen's son Bobby, a seventh grader in Northville, wanted to take part in the class project of sending a package to someone in need in Germany. So his mother donated a little suit and cap which Bobby had outgrown. She placed her name and address in the pocket of the suit and sent it to school with Bobby.

Then last week Mrs. Allen received a letter from Cologne, Germany in the French zone. It was written by a German mother to express her thanks for the package, and what it contained. The letter was written in German but Mrs. Allen found someone to translate it for her. It illustrates how happy the German people are with the simple things Americans take for granted.

The letter read: "We found your address in the children's clothes and that's why it is possible for me to thank you for the wonderful package. My little one is so very happy after she could wear the clothes on Sunday. Your package was a big help to us. Coffee and cocoa is something we are never able to buy because it is so very expensive. Our seven-year-old girl asked if it were Christmas when I made some coffee and cocoa on Sunday.

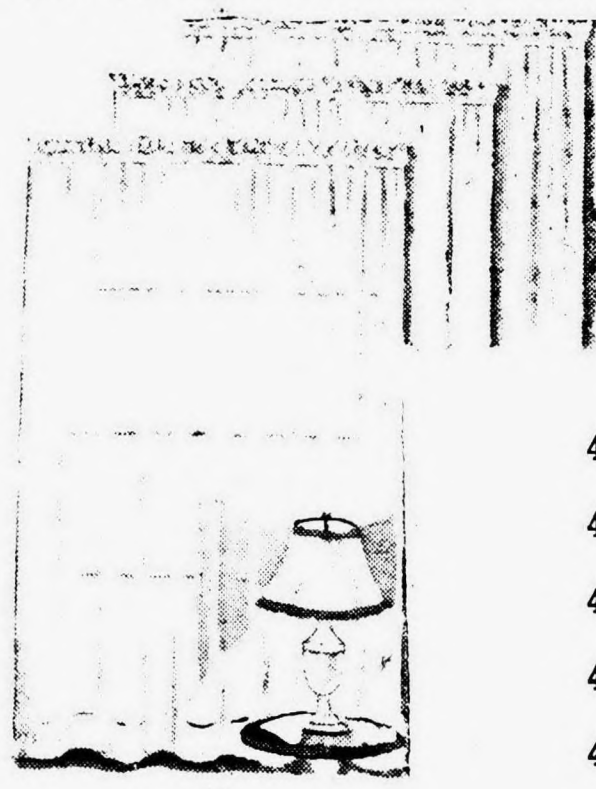

"My husband was wounded during the war and he lost his right arm. He is very sorry not to be able to write himself and thank you for the wonderful package." The letter continues expressing again the gratitude of the German people for American generosity.

Bird PTA to Meet for Picnic in Park

A potluck picnic in the park will highlight the meeting of the Bird school Parent-Teacher association Tuesday, May 26, at 6:30 p.m. At that time officers will be installed.

The meeting will be conducted by the fathers. All Bird school families and friends are invited to attend. Chairman for the event is Athol Packer.

Top County Educator Favors 25-Mill Tax Limitation on State Law Books

Dr. Fred C. Fisher, Wayne county school commissioner, Tuesday in a telephone interview called the 15 mill state-wide tax limitation "outmoded."

Dr. Fisher called for a re-evaluation of state tax laws and urged rescinding the 15 mill limit on counties for "perhaps a 25-mill limitation."

An amendment to the state Constitution backed by majority voter support would be necessary to make a 25-mill limitation a matter of law.

The top county educator said he foresaw such an attempt being made "within the next year or two."

He stated that if all the counties throughout the state got behind such a move, supported it and publicized the need for adequate revenues, voter support would rally.

"I think it would be a good thing," he declared.

Dr. Fisher made it known that the county is operating under delimiting tax structures "that were all-right in the 1930's".

He derided the annual parade of governmental agencies going before the Tax Allocation Board to come away partially empty handed, with insufficient revenues earmarked to barely meet their needs.

"The 15-mill tax levy in the 1930's was sufficient but today in the face of rising costs it's totally inadequate," he asserted.

As head of the Tax Allocation Board, Dr. Fisher called for a popular vote on an additional one mill county-wide operational levy. He threw his support to a compromise ruling giving the county 6.05, the schools 7.95 and townships one mill each providing his recommendation be carried before the Board of Supervisors.

Should supervisors concur with the added operational levy they would order it placed on the county ballot.

Dr. Fisher indicated this was just a stop-gap measure in the face of rising costs.

Red Wing Head to Speak Here Monday Evening

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wing Hockey team, and Al Nagler, radio sportscaster of the Red Wing games, will make a personal appearance before Goddard & Goddard, 12280 Burt road, Plymouth, on Monday, May 25 at 7:30 p.m.

The program will include film highlights of the 1953 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup Playoff games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey by each of the two personalities present.

Jim Meyers, of Goddard & Goddard, is chairman in charge of the arrangements for the special sports program.

The MOMS of America will entertain with a silver tea at the Veterans' Memorial Center on Monday, May 25 at 8 o'clock. All mothers who have boys in service are welcome also new and past members are urged to attend.

Schools Here Regain $2,000 Lost by Earlier Tax Board Decision

The Wayne County Tax Allocation board in a surprise reversal last Monday voted to return to the schools half of a .1 mill they earlier gave to the county.

For Plymouth Public Schools it means some $2,000 more in sorely needed revenues during the 1953-1954 fiscal year.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister indicated Tuesday that he will still have to do some cutting to balance the new $895,695 budget against a projected revenue of $866,200.

Isbister said he thought a fourth quarter state-aid payment of $27,000 due now but payable until later this year would close the gap between costs and revenues to $2,495. He said the $2,495 figure would have to be trimmed from buildings, grounds and equipment accounts. "If necessary," he said, "we'll have to go without added books and instructional equipment."

Representatives from school districts 8 days ago rose in bitter protest to the .1 mill cut earlier taken away from the school and awarded to the county.

At the public hearing some school officials lambasted the board with charges of "innuendo," "hokus-pokus", "double talk" and assertions the board had made up its mind to give the county an added $640,000 in pre-meeting discussions.

The charged session was conducted with the six-man board flanked on both sides by angry school officials from some 15 districts and other civic and Parent-Teacher association groups. Each

Evergreens Need Spraying Now

Tree insects are beginning to make their unwelcome appearances around the state these spring days, conservation department foresters report.

The most bothersome problem in the north is the forest tent caterpillar, already becoming busy in the eastern upper and northern lower peninsulas. The crawlers will continue eating leaves and other foliage until about mid-June.

Farther south, Christmas tree raisers are pestered by European pine shoot moths, European pine sawflies and white pine weevils. Shoot moths are probably the most troublesome of this group, causing considerable damage by distorting the growth of prospective Christmas trees.

Others that like to nibble green things include the large case bearer, a tamarack chewer of the northland; the pine spittle bug that lives throughout the pine regions of the state and the spruce gall aphid, a resident of the spruce regions.

Control of all these bugs is generally done by spraying at various stages of their life cycle. At present, the European pine sawfly and the forest tent caterpillar are the two most openly vulnerable to spraying.

The Library Book club will meet with Mrs. Charles McConnell, 170 North Harvey street on Tuesday, May 26 for a luncheon meeting beginning at 12:30 p. m.

A District Youth Fellowship dance will be held in the Newburg Hall on Saturday, May 23 from 8 to 12 p. m. This will be semi-formal.

SATURDAY, MAY 23, will be a big day for Foster Brown, 15-year-old Plymouth high school sophomore. Foster is shown above, center, checking the final draft of the speech he will deliver at the 17th District Optimist Oratorical contest to be held in Grand Haven, Michigan on that date. Also shown are left, Herbert Woolweaver, and right, Matthew Fortney, of the Plymouth Optimist club who will accompany Foster to Grand Haven. Foster will compete with 12 boys from other Michigan Optimist Districts. His subject will be, "Optimism, the Faith that Leads to Achievement." The winner of the 17th District contest will be sent to the international contest with all expenses paid during the Optimist International Convention in Washington, D.C., June 17 to 26.

Memorial Day Emphasizes History of American Flag

With Memorial Day only a little over a week away, some emphasis should be placed on the flag of the United States. The veteran's organizations will be placing these flags on the graves of Plymouth veterans this weekend, symbolizing appreciation of what they have done.

The flag is really very important to Americans though they don't often know its historical background. Everybody knows what it looks like, but when asked about its history merely associate it vaguely with Betsy Ross.

The history of the Stars and Stripes is the history of our nation, for it symbolizes not only the ideals and traditions of the Republic, but the territorial expansion and development as well. The design, with 13 stripes, representing the 13 original colonies and a star for each state, dates from June 14, 1777, making it among the oldest flags in national existence.

There were numerous flags in the United States which were forerunners of the present flag seen high on flag staffs. Perhaps the most familiar of these was the South Carolina rattlesnake flag with the words "Don't Tread on Me."

On New Years Day in 1776 a flag with thirteen alternate red and white stripes and a canton bearing the combine crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, signifying the Mother country, was raised before Washington's Army on Prospect's Hill, Massachusetts. This flag has been called "The Union Flag," "The Great Union Flag," and the "Congress Colors."

Some confusion exists as to when the flag was first displayed. But we do know that "The Great Union Flag" was the predecessor of the present flag and that it symbolized the union of the 13 colonies.

Almost a year after the signing of the Declaration of Independence the American Congress adopted the following resolution: "Resolved: That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." That was on June 14, 1777. This flag, with the stars arranged in a circle was the national banner until May 1, 1795.

The crosses of St. Andrew and St. George were removed to indicate the separation from Great Britain. The Betsy Ross story, though a part of our tradition, is not now accepted by all historians. It is true, however, that Mrs. Ross made flags and that she lived in Philadelphia at the time the flag was adopted.

On August 3, 1777, the new national emblem went under fire for the first time on land at Fort Mifflin, which stood at the present site of Rome, New York. The story goes that the flag was made from the shirts of soldiers for the white stripes and stars; a red petticoat made the red stripes; and the blue cloak of Captain Abraham Swartwout supplied the material for the blue field.

The flag was changed in 1795 to one containing 15 stripes and 15 stars, signifying that two new states, Vermont and Kentucky, had entered the union. This flag inspired Francis Scott Key to write the "Star Spangled Banner" in 1814. The flag is displayed in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

With the addition of more and more states to the union it became apparent that the flag would reach monstrous proportions if new stripes must be added for each new state. In 1818 a law was passed that the flag would return to 13 stripes signifying the original colonies and that additional stars would be added for new states. These additions would take effect on the Fourth of July succeeding the admission of the state.

Each state is represented by a certain star. Starting with the upper left-hand corner, reading left to right, the stars appear in order of the states ratification of the constitution and admission to the Union. Michigan's star appears as the second star in the fourth row, showing that it was the 26th state to join the Union. Changes in the flag have not appeared in recent years since the total continental area has gained statehood. But with the proposed addition of Hawaii and Alaska pending, a new flag may soon grace the nation's flag poles.

The true meaning of the flag to Americans was expressed by George Washington: "We take the star from Heaven, the red from our Mother Country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Little Eva: I will now read to you from Milton's sublime epic, "Paradise Lost."

Uncle Tom: Huh! Ah knows all about dat pair o'dice los'. Ah done los' dem bones mahse'f.

C & O Railway Receives Award

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, with an employee safety record 40 per cent better than the average for all Class I railroads, today was named winner among the largest United States railroads of the National Safety Council's Railroad Employees National Safety Award.

Announcement of the award was made by the National Safety Council headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

The C&O won first place among railroads whose employees worked more than 30,000,000 man hours. Its total accident rate in 1952 was 4.44 per 1,000,000 man hours worked, as compared with an average of 6.47 for all railroads in this group and 7.31 for Class I railroads as a whole.

With Our Churches

ST. PETER'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, 261 Spring St. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Early service 9:30 a.m. Late service 11:00 a.m. Sunday school 9:30.

The third of the three great festivals of the Christian church year, the Day of Pentecost, is next Sunday, May 24. Christmas is the Day of God the Father, who sent His Son into the world, that whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life; Easter is the Day of God the Son, who was delivered for our offenses and raised again for our justification; Pentecost is the Day of God the Holy Spirit, who would call us into faith by the Gospel, enlighten us with His gifts of faith, hope and love, and would sanctify and keep us in a godly life in Jesus Christ to Eternal Life.

The sermon, based on Ezekiel 36:26-28, will consider the wonderful promise of God to every sinner: "I will give you a new heart for your old one!" As the miracle of Pentecost transforms the disciples at Jerusalem into lions and heroes for Christ, according to Jesus' promise, even so the Word still has the promise and the power to do the same for us today! Come, and experience this miracle of being reborn again into a new creature by the Grace of God, or, having already been reborn, come, and have your faith confirmed by the miracle-working Word! You are always welcome in our hour of worship, and we are happy to receive you and yours into our Christian fellowship!

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age. The true relationship of "Soul and Body" is explained in the Lesson-Sermon under this title to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 24. The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (3:18): "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Isa. 43:10): "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know I have believed in you, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter." (p. 335).

First Methodist Reports Record Membership Year; 130 Here Join

The pastorate of the First Methodist church here has increased by 130 in one year, 60 by transfer from other churches and 70 by confession of faith. This was disclosed in a 1952-1953 Annual Report being submitted tonight at a Fourth Quarterly Conference at the church presided over by Dr. Frank L. Fitch, superintendent of the Ann Arbor district.

It is at the Fourth Quarterly Conference that annual church reports are submitted covering departmental activities for the fiscal year ending May 31. Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, pastor of First Methodist, said "more persons have been taken in as members this past year than any previous one. It is a record for us."

Reverend Johnson's report noted that in the past year four persons were removed from his pastorate by death, two by written request and 19 by transfer. Of the 19 the report shows 14 persons moved to other Michigan cities or out of state, leaving five in-city transfers.

PENTECOSTAL GOSPEL TABERNACLE at 990 Sutherland st., Reverend J. R. Bailey, pastor. Sunday school, 11 a.m.; Sunday evening Evangelistic Service, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday prayer meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Bible study, 7:30 p.m.

Young People's Service, 6:30, and Evening Service at 7:30 p.m. Mid-week service on Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. Reverend Ronald Reid of Ireland will be the special speaker at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services on Pentecost Sunday, May 24.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, 9451 S. Main street, Robert Hampton, 40651 Five Mile road, phone 2321-M. Sunday School, 10 a.m. Morning Worship, 11 a.m. Evening Services, 7:30 p.m. Midweek service, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

In addition the report disclosed that 36 infants, nine children and 19 adults, for a total of 64, received the sacrament of Baptism. Dr. Johnson said that "plans for expansion of the sanctuary are currently being talked about." He observed that current membership is "taxing attendance facilities." First Methodist has an average Sunday attendance between 350 to 400 during the winter months. Its total membership is 874.

Story of Johnny Billington Creates Settings for New Pilgrim Room

Latest Mayflower Addition Displays Adventure In Murals

By Elizabeth Coatsworth
Published with permission of
The MacMillan Company,
New York, New York

This story of a lost little boy found by the Indians is the first adventure recorded of a white child in New England. John Billington, with his father, mother, and brother, came from London. They were not Pilgrims, but (like Captain Miles Standish, John Alden, and many others) they were "strangers" and rather unruly "strangers" at that.

There is some doubt as to John's age at this time, but I have followed the authority of the recent book, Saints and Strangers, in making John about seven years old. Neither Governor Bradford in his History of the Plymouth Plantation, nor Edward Winslow in Mourt's Relations, tells John's age, though they both give an account of the adventure.

The spaniel was one of two dogs—the other a mastiff—brought to the New World by Mr. Goodman, who died during the first winter. I have named him "Trojan" and assumed that, as boys and dogs have a natural way of getting together, John and the spaniel may well have shared this expedition. But history is silent on this point, also.

LOST
It was late on a July afternoon in 1621, and a little boy named Johnny was sitting at the very edge of the great cornfield at Plymouth. Although he was not yet seven years old, he was supposed to be weeding. The cornfield belonged to everybody in the settlement, and everybody, young and old, had to work in it. No one wanted another winter like the last, when there hadn't been enough food and half the people had died. But Squanto, the Indian who lived with them, had taught the settlers how to sow the blue and red and yellow corn which they had found buried in a basket, across the bay, on the cape where they had first landed last fall.

Johnny sat out of sight of the other people at work and slapped mosquitoes and looked around him. He was small for his age, with brown hair and grey eyes which were seldom still for a minute. His nose was turned up, and he had lost his two front teeth, but the new ones were coming. He could feel their edges already with his finger. Soon now they would begin to show.

From where Johnny sat, he could look straight into the woods through the trunks of the pine trees. It looked cool under the trees, and Johnny sighed. He was not supposed to go into the woods alone. None of the children were. There were bears and wolves and wildcats in the woods, and strange Indians with painted faces. These Indians were not like Squanto, who wore breeches and a shirt and shoes and stockings, and talked English and went to meetings like anyone else.

And just then Trojan, Mr. Goodman's little spaniel, came by. He didn't pay any attention to Johnny, for his nose was to the ground. He was following the scent of a rabbit, maybe, and he was making whimpering noises of excitement, and his tail was wagging as he went along, nose to the ground.

A rope, fastened to his collar, had been gnawed through. Trojan wasn't supposed to go into the woods any more than Johnny was. But there he was going. And although Johnny called to him and whistled, too—as well as he could with his front teeth gone—Trojan paid no attention.

Johnny felt his heart beat faster. Now he had a good excuse for going into the forest. A strange Indian might carry Trojan away. Or a bear might eat him. Or a wildcat. Or wolves. He jumped to his bare feet and ran away after the dog. No one looked up from weeding to notice him running into the woods.

Johnny didn't run very fast. He trotted along over the cool pine needles which felt so good underfoot. Trojan heard him coming and turned his head to look back at him. The spaniel's eyes were shining with pleasure. He was glad to have company, especially Johnny whom he liked.

Then he settled back to the rabbit smell, whining, and running on ahead, but not so fast as to get out of sight. He seemed to know how fast a boy could trot. Then when Johnny was getting tired, they came to a place where the woods had been burned. Among the black stumps of trees raspberry bushes were growing, and Johnny stopped to pick berries.

"This must be where Master Hopkins went with his two serving men the other day," he explained to his companion. "They came back with a whole basket of berries and we all had some. Taste." And he gave Trojan a berry, but Trojan wrinkled back his lips and spat it out. Johnny held out another, but Johnny shouted until he couldn't shout any more. So he stood there, with Trojan beside him, and listened for another musket shot.

But the sound which broke the listening silence was not a musket shot. It was the howl of a wolf.

Johnny knew all about wolves, and what he knew was not good. He looked for a tree with branches which he could climb. But then he felt Trojan close against his knees. Trojan couldn't climb, and although he wasn't a big dog he was too big for Johnny to take up into a tree.

The wolf howled again, and the howl seemed a little nearer. Johnny stood perfectly still. He was not quite seven years old, and Governor Bradford and some of the other settlers thought that his whole family didn't amount to much, but would Governor Bradford have done what Johnny did? He sat down on the ground at the foot of the tree, and Trojan crawled into his lap. Johnny put his arms around him hard. Trojan was shivering now with excitement. Sometimes he gave a little low growl in his throat, and then he shivered some more.

Johnny patted him and laid his cheek against the top of his head. "Don't be afraid, Trojan. I'll take care of you," he said.

Perhaps the Wolf remembered that the smell of man was often connected with the bang-bang of muskets, or perhaps he didn't even know that a little boy and a little dog were lost in his woods. Anyway, he never came any nearer, and Johnny didn't hear the musket fired again, either.

He was tired and hungry, and Trojan felt heavy on his legs, but after a while they both fell asleep. If the owls returned to their hooting, they never knew it.

THE SMOKE
Early next morning at dawn, it grew cold, and Trojan began to stir. Johnny, of course, woke up, too. He was stiff and hungry, but he felt fine. It was fun to wake up in the woods with his back against a pine tree. A bird was twittering overhead. What a story of his adventures he would tell his brother, Francis! How his mother would stare! His father might box his ears for going off into the woods against orders, but he'd want to hear everything, too. He'd smoke his pipe and listen. Johnny was sure that now morning had come, he could find his way home. But first he wanted a drink of water and something to eat.

He looked about him and saw the shiny green leaves and unripe berries of the little wintergreen plants which Squanto had once pointed out. He began to chew the leaves. And later he found some late blueberries, which made him less thirsty, and there were twigs, too, which he chewed. At last they came to a little pond, a very small one with cattails around it. By now it was getting hot. They hadn't heard any more shots. And they hadn't heard any more wolves.

They wandered a long time: Johnny's clothes were very torn now on twigs and briars. His mother was not a neat woman—she didn't care for sewing or mending. Johnny's family had come on the Mayflower with the settlers, but they were not interested in religion, like the Pilgrims whose children looked down on him. Several times Governor Bradford had reproved his mother for her sons' untidy appearance. She would be in a temper when she saw Johnny's shirt and breeches! But it couldn't be helped. Then they came to a low place, with a shallow stream in it, and they could hear the sea. The water was salt, and there were clams along the flats. Johnny had often helped to gather clams, so he dug in the mud wherever he saw a little round hole, and that was a game Trojan liked, too. Of course, Trojan dug anywhere at all, his front feet flying and the mud shooting out between his hind legs. But sometimes it happened that he dug up clams. Johnny liked his clams best in a broth, but he had eaten them raw, and now he was glad to have them, raw or cooked. But still Trojan wrinkled back his lips and wouldn't eat.

When Johnny had swallowed all he wished of the clams, the two followed the water down to a beach. After the dark closed-in woods, the world seemed very bright and wide, and the waves rolled in, one after the other, and broke and slid up along the sands. There were no footsteps of men anywhere. Small white and gray birds with long legs were running in and out along the curled edges of the water, making sad little cries. They were not at all afraid, but when Trojan chased them, they flew off all together and landed again nearby.

Johnny looked up the beach and down the beach, but he could see nothing familiar. He didn't know which way to go. "Trojan! Go home!" he shouted. But again the dog only looked at him and waited.

Johnny turned to his right, and of course Trojan went, too. The sand was heavy and hard to walk in. He grew hot and tired. Then he came to some rocks. There were dark mussels growing on them, and he broke some off and ate them. But he didn't eat many, for he knew that too many would make him sick.

The rocks went right out into the sea, so he had to go back to the woods to get by them, and soon he was lost again.

But it was a cheerful day. All day Johnny and Trojan walked on cheerfully, and when the darkness came they went to sleep, curled up together in the shelter of a rock. They were not afraid that night. They were used to sleeping in the woods now.

The third day there was a thunderstorm, and the lightning seemed very close and the thunder very loud. The trees sheltered them a good deal from the rain, but they got wet in the end. That was the day they came on a dead deer. The wolves or bears or wildcats had eaten most of it, but there was still a little meat on the bones, and at last Trojan had something to eat. Johnny took one bite of the old raw meat, but he wasn't that hungry. All that day they climbed.

There was a fine bright sunset, and when night came there were stars. They slept among ferns that night, and something came near and looked at them and went off noisily.

The fourth day they came to the height of the land, and between the trunks of two trees they could look out for many miles over blue sea and blue-green woodlands. "Plymouth must be down there," said Johnny. His feet were sore and his head felt dizzy. "Maybe we'll never get home," he thought to himself. But he didn't say that to Trojan. He had to take care of Trojan.

There weren't many things to eat on this ridge, but luckily the walking was downhill. In the afternoon Johnny slept in the sun, with Trojan curled up beside him. They both had bad dreams. Trojan whined in his sleep, and Johnny dreamed that Governor Bradford came and obeyed my orders and went into the woods. Now you'll never get home, again. And it serves you right.

On the fifth day, Johnny didn't walk very straight. Trojan was limping, too. They met a porcupine that morning. It looked at them and they looked at it, Johnny holding Trojan's collar. Then Johnny pulled Trojan away. He knew all about porcupines. The spaniel whined. He was very hungry, but Johnny wouldn't let him go.

They slept for a while that morning beside a rotten log. Johnny found some fungus, but eating it made him feel queerer than ever. They lay down again. After that for a while, the boy crawled downhill on his hands and knees, but then he found a stick and used it to lean on. "Come along, Trojan. There'll be water at the bottom, maybe." His voice sounded queer. Trojan looked at him and wagged his tail. The spaniel's coat was matted with burrs, and he never barked any more, and his eyes seemed dull. But he still wagged his tail whenever Johnny spoke to him.

They had almost reached the bottom of the hill, when Johnny saw the smoke. He stopped and stared. Then it seemed as though there were no smoke. The sky seemed blue and clear. But then he saw the smoke again, rising in a thin pillar against the sky. He began to hurry, stumbling and hobbling, and Trojan hurried after him.

To be continued next week.

They were used to sleeping in the woods now.

The third day there was a thunderstorm, and the lightning seemed very close and the thunder very loud. The trees sheltered them a good deal from the rain, but they got wet in the end. That was the day they came on a dead deer. The wolves or bears or wildcats had eaten most of it, but there was still a little meat on the bones, and at last Trojan had something to eat. Johnny took one bite of the old raw meat, but he wasn't that hungry. All that day they climbed.

There was a fine bright sunset, and when night came there were stars. They slept among ferns that night, and something came near and looked at them and went off noisily.

The fourth day they came to the height of the land, and between the trunks of two trees they could look out for many miles over blue sea and blue-green woodlands. "Plymouth must be down there," said Johnny. His feet were sore and his head felt dizzy. "Maybe we'll never get home," he thought to himself. But he didn't say that to Trojan. He had to take care of Trojan.

Rosie the Rabbit Captured Again

Rosie, that fabled cottontail rabbit, is back in her old haunts at Rose Lake Wildlife station northeast of here, the conservation department reports.

The wild rabbit's exploits have become legend around Michigan wildlife circles since she was first captured in June 1950.

During the last two-week trapping period, which ended at the station last week, Rosie was captured twice, bringing her total tangles with live traps to 45, more by far than any other rabbit on station records.

The last time captured, however, Rosie gave one of the station workers quite a tussle and left several claw marks before she gave up the fight to wildlife science.

The station reports, dryly enough, that when last captured, Rosie weighed four pounds, five ounces and, as usual, was expecting.

Rosie's base of operations is in a patch of pines and shrubs, planted experimentally to provide wildlife food and cover. She has never been captured very far from this patch of plantings.

Evans Develops Vehicle Shelter

A new kind of maintenance shelter for military vehicles, highly portable and extremely light weight, has been developed for the Quartermaster Research & Development Division by the Evans Products Company, Plymouth.

The new shelter, resembling a Quonset hut in shape, is 66 feet long, 21 feet wide and 15 feet high at its center. It consists of arched magnesium alloy frame sections over which is permanently fastened the canvas covering, complete with plastic skylights and portholes. The new shelter consists of five sections and each section folds down into a package 4 ft. x 10 ft. x 15 inches deep. Total packaged weight, including insulating blankets for use in sub-zero areas, is 4,100 pounds.

The new shelter has several advantages over similar shelters of conventional design: (1) Extreme portability. Because of its comparatively light weight, compact construction and sectional assembly features, it can be easily moved by truck or plane from one field position to another. (2) Simplified construction. Where the conventional maintenance shelter, made of wood framework, requires longer to erect and also requires frequent repair and replacement of wooden frame members, the new magnesium-framed shelter requires the time of only eight men eight hours to erect and, once up, demands no further attention. (3) Light weight. It is only one-fourth the weight of the conventional shelter, yet provides 1,258 square feet of floor area. Without its insulating blanket, the shelter weighs only 2,620 pounds.

"Did he have any luck fishing?"

"Well, he caught a number of fish, many of which would weigh three pounds."

"Yes, I guess it would take a great many of the fish he caught to weigh three pounds."

Pease Paints Holds Successful Open House

A very successful Spring Open House was chalked up last week end by Pease Paint and Wallpaper company. The open house is an annual event at the store at 834 Penniman avenue.

A. Gerald Pease, proprietor, said that over 600 visitors participated in the 3rd annual open house, inspecting the wallpaper and color headquarters there.

Prizes were awarded to Mildred E. Collins, George Strayan, Mrs. Harry O. Draper, Myrtle Meyer, Elizabeth McKinley, Sam Shattuck, Lydia H. Geng, John D. Duke, Everett Irwin and Mrs. Charles Melow. Prizes were articles sold at Pease Paints.

Hear Address on Local History at Annual Dinner

Members of the Plymouth Historical society and their guests heard about the romantic history of Michigan at their annual dinner. The event was held Thursday evening, May 14, at the Presbyterian church. H. Clever Bald, assistant director of the University of Michigan Historical collections, was guest speaker.

New officers were elected for the year. Mrs. Austin Whipple was re-elected as president; Leonard Millross, first vice-president; Roderick Cassidy, second vice-president; Mrs. Hugh Means, recording secretary; Mrs. Roy Pursell, corresponding secretary; Kenneth Wilske, treasurer; and Mrs. Maude Cooper, curator.

Toastmaster for the event was Roderick Cassidy. Music for the evening was provided by the High school Triple Trio and solos by Joanne Pursell. Joan Ebersole accompanied at the piano.

Bald traced the history of Michigan from 1622, emphasizing that the first developments were made in the Upper Peninsula. He told how Niles, Michigan is the only city in Michigan which has been under four flags. The Spanish were in the city during the revolution. Other countries controlling the city were Britain, France and the United States.

He also told the story of Charles T. Harvey, the young man who was instrumental in the construction of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

The last part of the speech dealt with the history of Wayne county and Plymouth. Bald told members about Tonquish Creek and Chief Tonquish of the Potawatomi.

Committees for the annual dinner were: program, Mrs. Karl Starkweather and Mrs. Roy Pursell; tickets, Leonard Millross and Mrs. Karl Starkweather; and table decorations, Mrs. B. E. Giles, Mrs. Hattie White, and Mrs. Satie Draper.

VISITING THEIR SHUT-IN MEMBER is part of the regular activities of the girls of Girl Scout Troop 1. Their friend, Iris Cody of Wayne, has been confined to her bed since she was an infant. The girls go to her home to play games and discuss Scouting, and Iris in turn sings for them. The Scouts pictured with Iris are, from the left, Judy Bondi, Delores Maul, Christine Baker and Caroline Stoops. The leader, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, said that both the girls and Iris enjoy the monthly visits.

Weather Station at Willow Run to Close if Budget Cuts OK'd

The "low priority" U. S. Weather Station at Willow Run airport will be closed on June 30 if Congress approves a proposed slash in the Department of Commerce budget.

The House has already approved the budget cut that now awaits Senate action.

Ernest B. Williams, chief meteorologist at Willow Run said last Thursday that he had been informed of the budget cut but added that "nothing definite has been decided." Williams resides here at 597 Ann street.

Willow Run is one of 101 weather stations across the country classified as "low priority" which may be shut down by congressional economy slashes, Washington sources indicated.

With some $800,000 slashed from the U. S. Weather bureau's appropriation request by the Bureau of the Budget, 36 weather stations are faced with stopping operations by June 30. Another 65 stations, the bureau reports, will close if a second cut of $2,000,000 made by the House is approved.

Williams said that the job of servicing Willow Run airport would probably fall to the U. S. Weather station at the Detroit City airport. He indicated, however, that some provision would have to be made for on-the-scene observations at Willow Run.

Staffed with a crew of five, the Willow Run station has been in operation continuously since 1946. It was first opened in 1942 but closed down temporarily at the end of 1943 when weather observations were made by the Ford Motor company which operated the Willow Run Bombing plant at that time.

A certain preacher in a small town had a reputation for his long and "dry" sermons. One Sunday he was living well up to his standard and one by one his congregation left the church. Undismayed the preacher continued, until finally all had left but the faithful sexton. At last the old sexton came forward and, putting the keys on the pulpit, said: "Say, pastor, when you're through lock up, will ye?"

With "The Wedding March" leading the hit parade at this time of the year, we are interested in a report of a doctor of psychology who says that a married man should receive more pay than a bachelor doing the same job. At a quick glance this looks like a power play to stampede the foot-loose lads down the bridal path... just so they can make more money!

It's been said that two can live as cheaply as one... but only half as long. And when you add it up and have one to carry, the expenses accumulate like footprints on a new lawn. However, most employers are still more interested in getting a job done than increasing the domestic mortality rate of natural-born bachelors. We think the Doc has an idea all right... but we'll bet that's as far as it goes.

LETTER BOX

To The Editor:
 I would like to call attention to a very dangerous railroad crossing on Farmer street. Farmer is a thru street to Starkweather and traffic is heavy.

The railroad crossing is located on an incline and cars are on the tracks before one can see the trains. We were crossing those tracks at 2:45 a. m. Sunday morning. The freight trains were approaching going toward Toledo. No whistle signal! Mr. Blomberg had an accident at the same crossing. We nearly had one also! I wish before a tragedy happens something like a bell or flasher could be installed.

V.F.W. News

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Auxiliary sincerely hope for a commendable attendance at the First Methodist church for Memorial services on May 24. Services will start at 11:00 a. m. Veterans of all affiliations are being asked to meet in the auditorium at 10:30 a. m. Virginia Bartel, Auxiliary Chaplain, urges that we, as a military organization should make it a point to attend the Memorial services that are being held in honor of departed servicemen and service-women. The First Methodist church is located next to the High school. Let's make this the best attended Memorial service in the history of the VFW Post and Auxiliary.

Veterans' graves will be decorated Saturday, May 23. If any are missed, please phone Burley's Service, 9130. Flags and markers are available.

The Memorial Day Parade will assemble at approximately 9:30 a. m. at the corner of Mill and North Main streets. All Veterans are asked to participate in the parade, wearing their service uniform, if possible.

If anyone driving past the new home Sunday, May 17, had taken notice of the amount of cars parked around the Home, they might have thought a social activity was in progress, but upon entering the premises, one would have been very surprised. The wonderful turnout was due to the "eager beaver" Post. The boys, who are certainly to be commended, were there "in number" to work on the building, which incidentally, is progressing nicely. Have you been out at the home? Go and see. It is something that we, of the V. F. W. Post and Auxiliary should be mighty proud of.

Record Entry at Northville Show

A record entry is predicted by J. P. Malley, general chairman, for the Northville Junior Horse Show at Northville Downs Sunday, May 31. Entries are coming in from all over the State as well as from Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. The closing date for entries is Friday, May 22.

The show committee members, all residents of Northville, include: Dr. Waldo T. Johnson, tickets; Emmett Wirth, Harry Seeley and Dr. J. K. Eastland, program; Alex Lawrence and Al Wistert, concessions and refreshments; L. C. Stewart, grounds.

George Zerbal and Walter Cause, trophies; James Green, stabling Mrs. Franklin Beck is the show secretary, assisted by Mrs. Stanton Schaefer, assistant secretary.

Judges are: Western Horses and Western Equitation, Byron Good of Michigan State College, Saddle Horses and Horsemanship, Keith Smith of Michigan State College; Hunter Seat Equitation and Horsemanship, Captain A. R. "Bud" Kitts of Culver Military Academy; Working Hunters, John Wallace of Northville; and Jumper Classes and Dressage, Jack Callaghan Jr. of Northville.

Uncle Hiram, from Poduck, was taken by his nephew into a downtown hushery for lunch.

"I guess I'll have some coffee and sinkers," said the nephew, his eyes fell on a spaghetti eater, the old man.

"Well," said Uncle Hiram, as his eye fell on a spaghetti eater, "I reckon I'll have a mess of fishin' lines like that there feller is catin' out of a bowl!"

Bess - "Were you angry because he kissed you?"
 Nell - "No, but I was when he apologized for it later."

K-F Announces New Aircraft

Production of the nation's newest military assault-transport aircraft—the Chase C-123B—is progressing toward fall delivery to the Air Force at Willow Run, Kalamazoo, Mich. K-F Aircraft Corp. announced today.

K-F holds a contract with Chase Aircraft Company, Inc., West Trenton, New Jersey for manufacture of the Chase-developed planes at Willow Run. The Chase firm, which is supplying priming parts for the first Willow Run units, last month successfully demonstrated the first production model before Air Force and public observers at Trenton.

S. A. Girard, K-F vice president and general manager of the aircraft division, reported that the frames are already taking shape on an assembly line paralleling one now producing Fairchild C-119F "Flying Boxcars."

He said that the vast tooling job is nearing completion, with most of the 12,000 families of detail and assembly tools in place and tried out. Several thousand Willow Run parts and assemblies have been completed for incorporation into the first series of ships, he added.

Girard pointed out that as the sole production source of C-123's, Willow Run is being tooling for much higher output of the new plane than it was as a second source for the 119's. He said the Chase program would gradually absorb the entire aircraft production area at Willow Run coincident with the phasing out of 119 production.

The low-slung C-123 gets its designation "assault-transport" from its ability to operate from rough terrain and thus provide close-up front line support by landing men and / or material. Designed to accommodate 61 infantrymen with full combat equipment or 16,000 pounds of cargo, the assault transport can be readily converted from a cargo-carrier to a troop transport to a litter-carrier as the situation demands.

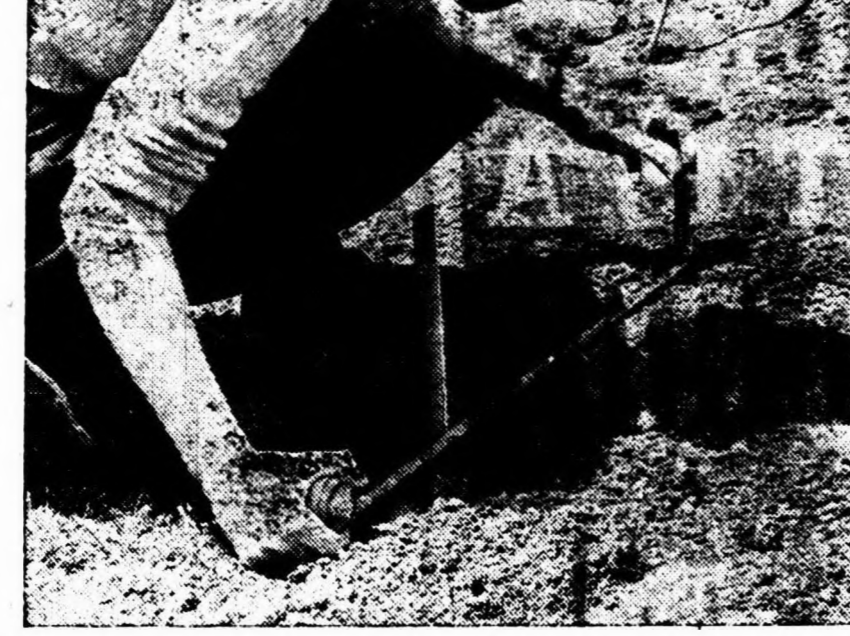

It has a wing span of 110 feet and its Pratt-Whitney R-2800 engines, developing 2500 horsepower at take off, range more than 2500 miles.

Straight Lines Make Best Design for Vegetable Plot

Garden Rows Should Be Straight & Parallel for Efficient Production

If you take pride in the appearance of your home grounds—and all gardeners should—then make your vegetable garden layout precise. The ideal shape is oblong with the short dimension running north and south, the way your rows should run for even distribution of the sunlight.

With short rows you are seldom tempted to sow more of a variety than you can use, just to empty the seed packet. They are easier to cultivate by hand, and facilitate the division of your land among many different crops.

Square up the corners of the boundary line and make the rows exactly parallel with the sides. An exception to the rule for straight rows may be made in hilly country, where the wash of soil may be checked by contour planting. Here rows should run at right angles to the slope, but they should still be parallel, though on rounded slopes they will be curved.

Serpentine, slanting or uneven rows will double the work of cultivation, and give an appearance of incompetence to the garden.

Rows are spaced with varying distances between them, depending on two factors: The needs of the crop, and the convenience of cultivation.

In rich soil vegetables may be spaced more closely than in poor; but when spaced too close together, it is difficult to cultivate between the rows.

For crops growing twelve inches tall or less, rows may be spaced 10 inches to a foot apart and cultivated with hand tools. For cultivation with a wheel hoe, eighteen inches is likely to be found a minimum distance, since it is necessary to avoid disturbing the roots of the vegetables, whatever tool is used.

Taller vegetables, and those that make vines, large bushes, or have a sprawling habit, must be given more distance between rows. In small gardens, 4 feet will usually be the maximum distance, given only for such crops as bush squash and cucumbers.

First, decide on the crops you will grow, which should be those that your family likes, or ought to like. Next, determine the quantity of each which you will try to produce, which should be the amount you will eat in the fresh state, plus what you will put up for next winter.

In the case of the short-harvest crops, plan for several plantings of each, spaced so that one harvest will follow another throughout the season.

Bet Your Life I'M PROUD OF THEM

Who could blame any dad for being proud of a boy like that—or of such a fine corn crop?

That's a field of Funk's G-Hybrid in back of them. More than 30 years have been spent to make it a corn that farmers can depend on—in good seasons and poor.

The result is Funk's Balanced 5-STAR PERFORMANCE

- ★ Fast Starting, even in a cold wet spring.
- ★ Drought Resistance, when other corns quit.
- ★ Insect Resistance, by quick repair of damages.
- ★ Disease Resistance, against rats, wilts and smut.
- ★ Standability, when other corns go down.

Plant Funk's G-Hybrid seed this spring, and you too, will be proud of your next corn crop.

Cadillac

The next time you find yourself alongside a new Cadillac at the traffic light—take a good look at the gentleman behind the wheel.

The odds are overwhelming that you'll see a man relaxed and at ease.

For serenity is part and parcel of the great experience of driving a 1953 Cadillac. In fact, owners frequently take to the highway just for the relaxation the car provides.

And well they might. For here, beyond all question, is one of the surest therapeutics for the tension of work-a-day life!

Just sitting there in the driver's seat is enough to put a man at ease. The cushions are deep and luxurious and restful . . . the wheel is perfectly positioned for the driver's hands . . . and beauty and comfort and spaciousness are in every direction.

And driving a Cadillac is as restful as sitting in a Cadillac.

That great, powerful engine responds as if by magic . . . carrying the car in and out of traffic almost as quickly and as easily as the driver makes his decision to do so. Steering is feather-light and effortless . . . and braking calls only for the slightest pressure from the daintiest foot.

Of course, if the driver has chosen a Cadillac Air Conditioner* for his car, he refreshes as he relaxes. With a simple adjustment of a single lever, he can lower the car's interior to any normal temperature he desires—even in the warmest weather.

Yes, it's little wonder that the man in the Cadillac always looks so comfortable and happy and relaxed. In plain fact—he is!

Wouldn't it be wonderful to find such satisfaction in your own motoring? Of course it would—and that's why we suggest that you come in for a personal demonstration.

We'll gladly put you behind the wheel—for the most relaxing hour you ever spent on the highway.

Catch More Trout Have More Fun!

It's easy to have "more fun fishing," especially for trout, according to University of Michigan Professor Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the U-M Department of Fisheries.

All it takes is a little "know how" in regard to trout characteristics, habitats and habits to enable fishermen to have bigger and better catches. Also, the state can better preserve its fish population and maintain its reputation as one of the greatest fishing areas in the country.

The "big game" fish among the trouts Dr. Lagler says, is the lake trout. Found in deep, cold lake water running from a depth of 50 to 250 feet, this variable, or mottled grey, species is the largest of the Great Lakes fish, excepting the sturgeon. Its average weight does not exceed 15 pounds, although some attain a weight of 125 pounds and a length of four feet.

Because of its large size, the lake trout customarily is caught by trolling at considerable depths with copper line, heavy rod and large spoon, Dr. Lagler explains. It will give any angler a big fight, he states, usually from beneath the surface and at great water depths.

Moving into cool streams and lakes with swift, clear water, the Michigan fisherman will find the exotic rainbow trout. Distinguishable from other trout by its rainbow hue and lack of red or reddish spots, this is the most migratory of Michigan stream trout, Professor Lagler claims.

One fish gaining most in popularity is the lake-run rainbow trout. These large spring fish are sensational fighters, jumping many times when hooked. Dr. Lagler says "it rises well to the fly when feeding on floating insects, but gives the same battle to worm fishermen." When caught, it often will weigh in between five and 12 pounds.

Cool, spring-fed streams, protected by overhanging banks or shade trees, are the favorite habitat of the eastern brook trout, the one trout species native to Michigan streams and lakes.

Although brook trout must have cool water in which to live, Professor Lagler points out that very cold water may seriously retard growth. The ideal location, he continues, is a stream with a moderate to fast current over a gravel bottom, richly endowed with pools and caves.

With dusky olive marbling on its back, back fins and tail, the brook trout's lower fins are edged in creamy white, with red spots on the sides of its body. Thus it differs from the lake trout and the introduced rainbow.

Bait fishermen in alder-covered streams or dry fly enthusiasts on larger, more open waters all will find the eastern brook trout of great sport, Dr. Lagler states.

Native to Europe and first introduced in Michigan about 1885, the brown trout usually is found in warmer water areas with sluggish, quiet sections, where there is both cover and food close at hand. This fish frequently is found under logs, overhanging banks, edges of deep holes and beside stumps or log jams.

Occasionally attaining lengths up to three feet and weights of 13 pounds, the brown trout has large brownish-black spots, with reddish ones on its sides.

Smartest of the three stream trouts and thus hardest to catch, the brown will give fishermen a vicious battle, Professor Lagler states, being especially sought by night fishermen using minnows or large, light-colored streamers resembling minnows. It also is readily taken sometimes in larger streams during heavy hatches of mayflies or caddisflies.

GOOD-DRIVERS DRIVE SAFE CARS... CHECK YOUR CAR

— OF RACING —

The citizens of this community have been reading for the past three weeks, in the Detroit papers, about a so-called labor dispute in the racing industry of Michigan.

Because Northville Downs and M.R.A. are located in this area and a third group, Wolverine Harness Raceway, conducts a fall trotting meet at M.R.A. this could affect us locally.

Approximately 200 residents of this area have established job rights, seniority and the right to return to this employment each season through orderly collective bargaining with the various tracks since 1949. From sixteen hundred to three thousand dollars in yearly earnings would be denied them in favor of outsiders.

Some of you may have surmised that perhaps union politics is involved in this so-called dispute. The answer to this is YES. First, since October, 1952, the Teamsters union through Juke-Box Drivers Local 985 have waged a campaign to attempt the transfer of our members from Building Service Employees' Union to the Teamsters' union. In this attempt but little progress was made. But a furtherance of this conspiracy is brought to light when we learn that a certain William L. McFetridge, General President of the Building Service Employees' International Union met with Dave Beck, President of the Teamsters' International union, attended by James Hoffa of Detroit Teamsters' Council No. 43 and others in Miami, Florida, in a deal which would in effect complete the transfer of these race track employees to the domination of the Teamsters' union of Detroit.

To accomplish this it became necessary for McFetridge to make an attempt to remove the officers and board members of the local Building Service Employees' Union, including Ray Carroll, who was the principal organizer of Building Service workers in Michigan and the International's representative for over 25 years. A series of false, trumped up charges and unmitigated lies had to be then channeled through the newspaper headlines as a grounds for McFetridge's actions. An attempt was made through headlines to have the public and our members believe that the basis of this dispute was a series of charges including one of mishandling some $40,000 of union funds. The falsity of this unscrupulous trick is readily exposed when the question is asked: "If such a charge were true, why would one rush to the newspaper headlines instead of to the Courts?" The truth is that for the 16 years of our existence in Michigan our books have been audited semi-annually by a certified public accountant. We have held regular monthly meetings. We have promptly paid our obligations and per capita taxes and our records have always been available to our members and to the International. The records incidentally will show that Carroll was absent from one meeting and late for another in 16 years.

This is an attempt to make Ray Carroll the pawn in this conspiracy because of his opposition since 1945 to a plan to set up a fat pension for International officers who were drawing salaries of $15,000.00 to $20,000.00 per year plus expense accounts of even greater amounts. He took this position because he did not then, and does not now, think it conscionable to provide pensions for the International Hierarchy when the rank and file members are not even covered by a hundred dollar death benefit by the International.

MORE IMPORTANT BY FAR IS WHAT DOES THIS MEAN TO OUR UNION AND ITS MEMBERS?

This means an attack upon our job rights as Race Track employees. Because of its anti-social nature it constitutes an attack upon the very integrity of the American Labor Movement.

Our Union takes the fundamental position that once an EMPLOYEE starts on a job and earns seniority he or she is entitled to continued employment each season at that particular track provided his or her services were satisfactory. This is desirable because it keeps the labor pool experienced and more constant, reduces turnover, and prevents racketeering by the selling of jobs each season under the guise of new members paying new initiation fees. Our Union will fight through every court in the land any attempt to hand us over as second class members to any organization. We will vigorously resist all attempts to deny us the right to choose our own Union and our own representatives. In this we feel the race track managements should stand with us.

Some 200 residents of this community have a vested interest of their own making in the job rights, seniority, wage scales, hospitalization and death benefits established by virtue of their membership in our Union and they do not intend to surrender them to any outside disruptionists. Many of these workers can remember the iniquitous past wages and working conditions in Michigan's racing industry before joining our Union.

Since our Union took jurisdiction of Race Track employees in 1949, we have:

1. Negotiated wage INCREASES (not take home pay) of $51.00 per week per person.
2. Our members have won group life insurance benefits of $2500 with $5000 payable in case of accidental death.
3. Our hospitalization plan provides for $12.00 per day for 31 days and a surgical schedule up to $200.00 with $120.00 for incidental expenses.
4. Through lengthy legal procedure we have provided unemployment compensation status for members who are not readily employed at the end of the racing season.

In the face of these facts how could anyone make the pretense or charge that we are guilty of bad administration of our Union affairs?

Our ranks have not been divided by these raids by outside disruptionists. We will continue to adhere to trade union principles. We will demand to keep our right to belong to a Union of our own choosing and to bargain through representatives of our own choice.

Our EMPLOYERS have the choice to make of doing business on a legitimate basis with a bona fide collective bargaining agent chosen by their employees, or living under the shadow of a PROTECTION RACKET. Should they fail to exercise the proper judgment promptly they may well realize too late that the future of racing in Michigan is suspended on a thin legislative life line.

Our members have established recognition and respect in and through our Union and we intend to continue that way. We have learned that modest Union dues of $32.00 per year are a more sound and legitimate business proposition than than assessments and contributions to keep one's job.

We feel that a good unionist is also a good citizen. We take pride in the fact that our members are a vital part of the respectable element of this community. They are property owners concerned with good wages and good working conditions and also concerned that the labor relations of the racing industry are properly handled upon a legitimate basis. This community is aware that bad labor relations can do to the RACING INDUSTRY of MICHIGAN what the LABOR PROTECTION RACKET has done to the NEW YORK DOCKS.

Our Union has in the past shouldered its share of responsibility by living under the orderly, legal processes of collective bargaining. We will accept no lesser standard for the future.

Red Cross to Hold Instructor School

An opportunity to increase aquatic and first aid skills will be offered this summer in a 10-day Red Cross National school to be held at Owasippe Scout Camps (Camp Beard.) Whitehall, Michigan, June 14-24.

This school is primarily for instructor and leadership training. Therefore, individuals who enroll should have definite plans to can Red Cross.

A specialty school in Small Craft Leadership training will be held from June 10 through 20 at Woodland Summer Camp, Eagle River, Wisconsin. It will cover the skilled use of rowboats, canoes, and small sailing craft, and will highlight the principles and methods of teaching and programming for camps, clubs and recreation departments.

Surveys have shown that a vast percentage of our population—almost 125,000,000 persons—are in, on, or near a sizeable body of water sometime within every year. National Safety Council figures indicate drowning to be the principal non-motor cause of accidental deaths among the active age group from 4 to 44 years. These deaths include not only swimming accidents, but also falls into water while working or playing near it, and accidents involving boats.

However, the death rate by drowning has decreased by almost two-thirds, from 11.2 to 4.2 out of every 100,000, since the inauguration of the Red Cross

Aquatic instruction program in 1914. These statistics indicate the value of the schools, not only to the individuals attending and to those they train, but to the community as a whole.

The cost of either school is $45, which covers board, lodging, and materials used in the courses. The schools may be attended at individual expense if sponsorship of a local Red Cross chapter or other organization is not available.

Complete enrollment information may be obtained from any

Red Cross chapter or from the Midwestern Red Cross Area Office, 4050 Lindell boulevard, St. Louis 8, Missouri.

Hough to Speak at Conference

Three Plymouth residents will play important parts in the Michigan Aeronautics Conference to be held at Michigan State College May 28 and 29. Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the Daisy Manufacturing company will address the group during the panel discussion the second day.

Those attending the conference will break up into various workshop groups to discuss problems of general interest to each group. Robert L. Nulty, president of Great Lakes Airmotive, Inc., and Robert J. Mettetal, manager of Mettetal Airport, both of Plymouth, will be recorders for two of these workshops.

The conference to be held at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education will commemorate the 50th anniversary of powered flight.

City 14th in Dime Drive in County

The 1953 March of Dimes, held in Wayne County in January, was the most successful ever conducted in the 15 years since the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was founded, it was announced today by William R. Bernard, campaign chairman. Plymouth contributions stood in 14th place in the county. The audited total reached $681,552 and of this amount $321,886 was raised in one hour by volunteers in the Mothers' March on Polio. The Wayne County Chapter owed more than $300,000 for patient care at the year's end. The National Foundation's Epidemic Aid Fund showed a deficit of seven million dollars at the end of 1952—worst year of all time both in the number of polio cases reported and severity of the disease.

Tremendous success of the March of Dimes throughout the nation as well as locally ensures that children and adults alike may continue to look with confidence to their National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis when polio strikes, Bernard said. Part of the money raised in Wayne County will be used to further scientific research which has made giant strides and now promises victory over poliomyelitis through the development of a vaccine. This vaccine is still in the testing stage and will not be available this year. Expressing gratitude to "every man, woman and child in Wayne County," Bernard described the 1953 March of Dimes as a true community project in neighborliness and kindness. More volunteers worked harder than ever before, newspapers, radio and TV stations gave generous cooperation and the public response was wholehearted and voluntary. Final returns from communities within the county, outside of Detroit, each of which conducted a March of Dimes under its own

May Revise Hunting Licenses

The new look may come to Michigan's hunting licenses this year, the conservation department reports.

Department workers are studying proposed changes in small game and deer license back tags and license stubs.

If adopted, the new back tags would be several inches smaller than the old, more bulky tags. Planned changes in the license stubs would reduce work for license dealers, be more compact for licensees and reduce department bookkeeping problems.

Social Welfare Office Moves to Inkster Site

The Department of Social Welfare office which serves Plymouth and the area has been moved from the location in Wayne to Inkster, Michigan. The present address of the office is 27236 Michigan avenue, phone Wayne 4600.

Supervisor of the Wayne office, Henry Jamroz, retains his position at the Inkster office.

Dr. Glenn Frye Completes Tour of South America

Dr. Glenn M. Frye, assistant to Bishop Marshall Reed returned home recently from a trip of inspection of the South American projects of Michigan Methodism. Dr. Frye and his wife toured the various countries for a total of two months.

The Saginaw Bay district of the Methodist church has been building several churches in Chile. It was the tour of these that took up about four weeks of Dr. Frye's trip. Methodist work is being done among the Indians of the southern part of Chile, as well as among the Chileans themselves.

Dr. Frye said that the church work is going along well, and the people are showing great desire to help themselves and the new churches.

Travelling down the east side of the South American continent, Dr. Frye stopped in Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina. He went down to the Straits of Magellan and on to Punta Arenas, Chile, the southernmost city in the world. The Fryes also toured Bolivia on their trip.

One of the highlights of the journey, was visiting the Inca ruins at Cuzco, Peru and the Lost city of the Incas, Machu Picchu. From there they went to Lima. The Fryes flew home, arriving in Plymouth Wednesday of last week.

A series of and about residents of Plymouth at home, at work or at play This Week—Pharmacist HAROLD SCHULTZ

A cordial individual, aiming to serve in his capacity, describes Harold Schultz, registered pharmacist.

For three years now, the Wayne University graduate has been employed at Dodge Drugs. The business is owned and operated by his father.

Previous to 1950, the years were full ones for Mr. Schultz. The 1945-46 period found the prospective druggist serving his country in the Coast Guard. After completing his pharmaceutical studies at Wayne university, a diploma was presented him in June of 1950.

Having been born and raised in Plymouth, the city and its inhabitants are fairly well-known to Harold Schultz. He has continued residence in Plymouth because he wanted to stay with "the friendly people," he said.

An all-around person with all-around interests, he finds time for everything. Sports of all types are appealing to and welcomed by Mr. Schultz. Time and weather permitting, he especially enjoys getting right into the game. Softball seems to hold a special place in his sports life.

The youthful pharmacist resides at 1360 Ross with his wife and two-year-old daughter.

Tourist Boom Predicted in State

Record-sized incomes and an unprecedented interest in Michigan's tourist attractions indicate a boom year for the state's third largest industry, according to a travel survey conducted by Automobile Club of Michigan.

One of every two Michigan residents plans to vacation in the Wolverine State, according to Auto Club Travel Director Harry N. Rogan, who conducted the survey. Half of the 5,000 persons polled recently stated they would spend at least two weeks enjoying the state's holiday facilities in 1953.

The survey showed the average family will spend from $200 to $300, with 88 per cent of the vacationers traveling by private automobile.

Incomes reaching new highs all over the United States give another harbinger of a tourist boom, said Rogan. "Of the total national tourist income of over 12 billion dollars, Michigan experts upwards of 500 million dollars in income from seven million tourists," Rogan asserted. "Florida and Canada are distant runners-up to Michigan as local favorites, the survey pointed out. Twenty per cent of those filling out questionnaires reported plans for visits to these points this year."

Asked, "Where would you go if you had the time and money?" Michiganders preferred Hawaii, California and France in that order. While the larger per centage showed Europe most popular, the individual European nations favored were varied, with France receiving the greatest number of votes.

Increased interest in Latin America was evident, with almost 20 per cent of the poll participants reporting a desire to travel in Mexico, Central and South America.

THE ONLY PROTECTION AGAINST WIND DAMAGE

AGAINST most of the common hazards of life we can at least exert some elementary precautions. But wind is a frightening foe. There is so little you can do to protect your property.

There are, in this country, an average of 140 destructive WINDSTORMS annually. No section of the country is immune. So you cannot be sure that YOUR buildings are on "the safe side." Even structures of wind-resistant construction, such as brick, concrete or steel, may suffer heavy damage when they are so unfortunate as to lie in the path of a violent tornado.

BUT—and this is important to remember—you need not meet a tornado, or even a cyclone, to sustain sizeable damage. There are lots of little winds that can throw you for a big loss.

SO, the only really safe course—the course that will give you a feeling of serene satisfaction—is to have ADEQUATE WINDSTORM PROTECTION. THE COST? So little it is sure to prove a pleasant surprise. Especially is that true when you pause to reflect on the possible cost of not having WIND PROTECTION.

BE SAFE, and insure with us; the oldest and largest company of its kind in Michigan, and the second largest of its kind in the World.

Wayne Plans Commencement

Swingout, Wayne University's traditional pre-graduation event, will be held at 10 a. m. in the Raekhan Memorial auditorium on May 27. Participating will be June degree candidates who will appear in their caps and gowns for the first time prior to commencement, several of whom are from Plymouth.

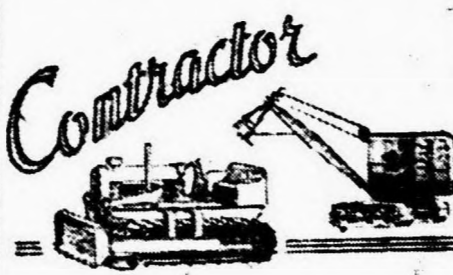

Dr. Winfred A. Harbison, associate dean of administration, will address the group on "Leadership in Time of Crisis." The Reverend Robert S. Moore, director of the Wesley Foundation on campus, will offer the invocation and benediction.

Highlight of the ceremonies will be the presentation of the Senior Memorial by Phillip Germaine, 12327 Flanders, class president. Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, acting president of Wayne, will accept the gift for the University.

For the first time, a distinguished faculty advisor's award will be made by Omicron Delta Kappa, national collegiate honorary fraternity.

Winners of the Howard Donnelly, Karytides, and Mackenzie Honor Society awards also will be announced. Music will be provided by the University Men's Glee Club under the direction of Harry Langford, assistant professor of music.

Name Winners in American Legion Poppy Poster Contest

WINNERS IN THE POPPY POSTER CONTEST sponsored by the Passage-Gayde auxiliary of the American Legion look at two of the winning posters. The contest was held to call attention to the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Buddy Poppy Day to be observed in Plymouth Friday, May 22. The posters emphasized that the poppies to be sold on the street are made to help disabled veterans and their families. At the left, Mrs. Frances Overton, art teacher at Plymouth High school, discusses a poppy poster with first prize winner, Marilyn J. Tefft, and Jim Thorpe, winner of second prize at the school. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Tefft of Penniman avenue. Jim's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorpe of Holbrook. Shown at the right is the Reverend Father William Mooney talks with winners from Our Lady of Good Counsel school. John Nolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nolan of East Ann Arbor trail, received a first prize award for his poster. Joan Salan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Salan of Arthur street, was second. The posters made by Marilyn Tefft and John Nolan have been entered in the 17th district contest of the American Legion. Winners will be announced later.

Committee Announces Program for Senior Farewell Banquet

Plans have been announced for the senior farewell program honoring the seniors which will be held Tuesday, June 9, first hour for grades 9-12. At that time those seniors winning scholarships and honor keys will receive them.

Those helping on this committee are Barbara Nelson, Ralph Wagenschutz, Terry Carney, Bob Manion, Pearl Kennitz, and Dick Nagel. Irene Walldorf is the adviser.

Plans are now in progress for the seniors farewell dinner which will be held Monday, June 15, for just the seniors.

A turkey dinner has been planned with Loren Goodale acting caterer. Following the dinner they will dance to the music of Bill Thomas's orchestra. The advisers of the senior class with their husbands and wives have been invited along with Carvel Bentley, principal, and Russell Isbister, superintendent. The time is 7 to 11 p. m. and the affair will be informal.

A 15-page booklet is being printed for the seniors consisting of a class will, prophecy, history, and a class song which they will receive along with their annuals.

Glenna Fuleigh and Barbara Nelson will act as co-chairmen for publishing the book. Jon Brake and Mary Lou Hartwick composed words and music for the song.

On Wednesday and Thursday,

May 20 and 21, the seniors and their parents were invited to come to the school to see movies of New York. The chaperones were present to explain rules of conduct for the trip. After the program refreshments were served.

Mrs. G. W. Swick, Jr. /

At a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, May 9, in the Newburg Methodist church, Betty Lou Sittman and G. W. Swick, Jr., repeated their nuptial vows before the Reverend R. D. Richards, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Betty Lou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Sittman of Jarvis road, Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Swick, Sr., of Wayne are the bridegroom's parents.

Bruce Graden of Dearborn was the organist accompanying Miss Evelyn Challis, who sang, "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer". Both are University of Michigan students.

Betty Lou, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white taffeta featuring a bouffant skirt and fitted bodice with illusion neckline edged with applied flowers centered with rhinestones. The long sleeves had lace points extending over the wrists.

and her fingertip length veil of illusion fell gracefully from a halo of lace. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and lily of the valley centered with white orchids and tied in satin streamers.

Donna Westlund, the maid of honor, a University student, wore a violet net gown over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Neila Fleming of Detroit and Beverly Bartel of Livonia wore orchid colored gowns made like that of the maid of honor. All the attendants carried baskets of white daisies and wore bands of matching flowers in their hair. Mary Sittman of Miami, Florida, a niece of the bride wore violet net over white and carried a white taffeta basket of daisies.

Harold Swick served his brother as best man and the ushers were Gerald Walling of Wayne and Matthew Taylor of St. Clair Shores.

Mrs. Sittman selected for her daughter's wedding, a light blue street length dress with navy accessories. Mrs. Swick was in light orchid with which she wore violet accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 175 guests was held in the Newburg church hall. The young couple are honeymooning in the west. For traveling Mrs. Swick wore a powder blue suit with pink accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. They will make their home on Lilley road near Wayne.

Because of considerable shade perennials take precedence over annuals in the garden of Mrs. Austin Whipple of 939 Penniman avenue. The lovely perennials together with the many flowering bushes make the yard at the Whipple residence a riot of beautiful colors.

Mrs. Whipple's garden is such that from spring through fall there are continually flowers blooming. Thus far this spring she has had tulips, flowering almond, three varieties of magnolias, magnolia stellata, magnolia soulimgiana and magnolia negra, hyacinths, arabis, grape hyacinths and Russian forget-me-nots. Around a pool in her yard were forget-me-nots and pansies. Mrs. Whipple has also had some double daffodils in bloom.

Fast approaching the blooming stage are the iris. Of these flowers Mrs. Whipple has 65 named varieties. There will also be 75 peony plants blossoming in the near future. Already in bloom and filling the yard with their fragrance are the 25 varieties of lilacs.

Fall will bring Japanese anemones and chrysanthemums into the yard.

At present, a highlight of the flowering shrubs in the Whipple yard is a viburnum Burkwoodi and viburnum Carlesii. These are always a high point for viewers.

Mrs. Whipple still swears by Vigoro to help her plants along.

For her peonies and iris she chooses bone meal. These together with the care which Mrs.

Whipple gives to her plants result in a beautiful yard throughout the warmer weather.

Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels and George Burgett were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett of Northville road.

Dr. Walter Hammond is convalescing following surgery last week in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schultz of Forest avenue attended the confirmation of Mrs. Schultz's niece in Detroit last Sunday.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Glass entertained at dinner Sunday in their home on Holbrook avenue for their son A/2C and Mrs. Ronald Glass and son of Lorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Foust and daughter of Paulding, Ohio; Mrs. Josie Waldron of Van Wert, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee and children of Brookline street; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McTurner and son of Brookline street; Mr. and Mrs. Del Larrick and children of Elmhurst street. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glass and children joined them in the afternoon.

Miss Marilyn Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Walsh of South Main street, will appear with the Chorale of Mercy College in Detroit, in a series of religious, folk and light opera songs during their annual Arts Festival on Sunday, May 24 from 2 to 5 p. m.

Ethel Elden, Ida Morgan and Beulah Scott recently returned from a visit with friends and relatives in St. Louis, Missouri and Belleville, Illinois. Mrs. Elden and Mrs. Morgan also visited Mrs. Elden's brother, Edwin at Scott Air Force Base.

Weekend guests of Miss Elaine Lietz of Sheridan avenue were Gladys Pillis of Muskegon Heights and Mary Lou Dillemath of Flint. The girls are all students at Michigan State college in East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lockhart, Judy and Kenneth Jr. of Cowan road and Tyler Caplin of Joy road were the Sunday dinner guests of James Cooper and family in Toledo, Ohio.

Miss Carol Langmaid of Koppnick road was the overnight guest Saturday of Ellen Travis of Canton Center road.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchison have sold their home on Evergreen street and this weekend will move into their new home on North Harvey street at Farm-er.

Girl Scout News
The final afternoon swim was held last Saturday. Girls who earned the Girl Scout swimmer's badge were Ann Hulsing and Christine Baker. Edith Dibble, Ann Taylor and Brenda Lickfeldt were all awarded the Red Cross Intermediate certificate.
Mrs. Harold Shirey, instructor, states that girls who have written work left to do on the Girl Scout badge can still turn it in to her and receive the badge.
The swimming program has proved to be very popular. Nineteen girls have received the Swimmer's Badge. Twenty have passed the Red Cross Beginner's tests and 15 the Red Cross Intermediate. Five have completed the more complicated Red Cross Swimmer's and are starting work on the Junior Life Saving.
At this last meeting the girls thanked Mrs. Shirey and presented her with a gift from the Council.

The Day Camp poster contest was a success both in the number of posters submitted and in the quality of the work. First prize winner in the Brownie division was Mary Hulsing. In the Scout division Kerstie Schipper took top honors. Runners-up, each of whom received a box of Girl Scout soap, were Edith Dibble, Pat Gaeke, Janet George, Jill Atchinson, Judy Adams, Betsy Lou Edgar, Anne Thorpe, Judy St. Louis and Sharon Baker.

Mrs. Albert Hart of Shearer Drive spent last Friday in Lansing where she attended the State Roller Skating Championship competitions.

Fish Termed As Economical And Nutricious Dinner Serving

Whether you get your fish at the neighborhood market or "papa ketch 'em on the hook" you can be sure that when "mama fry 'em in the pan" the family is in for a nutritious and economical dinner. This popular food is generally a money saving protein buy throughout the year.

Fish and fish products are high in nutritive value—excellent sources of protein, minerals, vitamins and fats. They can be used like red meats and poultry in our diets on an interchangeable basis. Mineral elements found in fish include calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, iron, copper and iodine. Fat fishes like salmon and mackerel are especially rich in vitamins A and D. The proteins supplied by fish are a highly digestible type necessary for building and repair of body tissue.

How does Mrs. Michigan homemaker go about shopping for fish? First, she should become familiar with the kinds of fish available and forms in which they are sold. Does she want "salt water" fish, "fresh water" fish, or "shell fish", which may come from either salt or fresh water. Is the frozen or fresh form the best buy.

Lamb Brings Spring Menus Fresh Variety

Although lamb is available the year around, with the coming of spring it has a special spot in many menus. Lamb offers a great deal of variety—there's a cut for every cookery method and many may be prepared in a variety of ways. In fact, you could serve a different lamb dish every day for a month, points out meat expert Reba Staggs.

Among the lamb roasts, you're familiar with the handsome leg of lamb. But have you purchased a thrifty square cut shoulder? This cut may be boned and rolled or left flat for a cushion-style roast, ideal for stuffing.

For broiling there are popular lamb chops. Loin and rib chops are usually the greatest in demand; however, for a thrifty buy in lamb do not overlook shoulder cut arm and blade chops. These are frequently priced several cents per pound under rib or loin chops. Ground lamb patties wrapped with bacon are another broiler treat.

Lamb riblets are a thrifty choice for braising. These are cut from a lamb breast. Your meat dealer removes the breast bone, then cuts down between the ribs for uniform pieces—the riblets. They also may be prepared as a stew, the same as boneless lamb cubes.

Cottons Get Emphasis In World's Fashions

World wide emphasis is placed on cottons this year by every important designer in the fashion world. They are being spotlighted in French, Italian and our own American collections for Summer 1953. Styled with designer care, in intricate new ways, with that extra "plus" touch of fine finish, trimming, pleating and tucking.

Outstanding among these "morn-to-midnight" cotton fashions are the conversation-making companion pieces in "Striped Pebbletex" by one famed designer of sportswear separates. "Striped Pebbletex" is a woven striped seersucker, long a favorite fabric for practical, comfortable summer wear. The designer calls them "Pebbletex Pair-Offs."

Adaptable for town or country, these "Striped Pebbletex Pair-Offs" come in countless washable styles that require no ironing. They can be effectively coordinated to form an exciting versatile summer wardrobe.

Necklines range from the becoming halter, shawl collar, canisole, to a tailored convertible. Skirts flatter the slim or flared silhouette. Bodices are easy—sleeves are in the minority. Contrasting trim in "Koranit", a ribbed cotton, etches the sleek lines, as well as accents a turnabout blouse and separate cardigan. This "Koranit" trim gives them an interesting finishing contrast to the striped effect.

Change-about cottons are made for the American way of life. America lives in cottons that answer fashion needs and stay within budget requirements. These are the cottons for the "good old summer time". They're versatile, washable, easy to care for, easy to wear.

Take Stock of Family Nutrition Needs Now

Spring is a good time to take stock of the nutrition you put into the meals you serve the family. Your job of feeding the family is more than just cooking three meals a day. Healthy strong bodies must have the right foods every day. It is not difficult to build really good meals but it does take a bit of thought and planning.

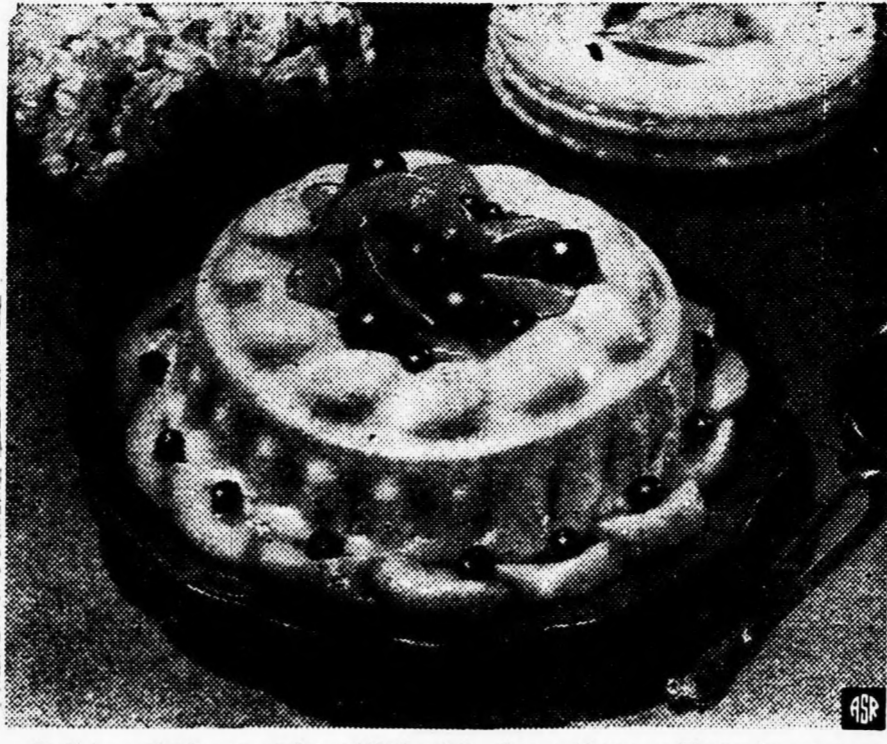

Foods are specialists—one does one thing; others another. For example, milk and other dairy products help build and maintain good bones and teeth; give you energy; and repair hurt and worn-out body tissue.

Meat, poultry, fish, eggs and cheese build healthy muscles and help to maintain good rich blood. Fruits and vegetables not only give you energy but help to maintain a good appetite and aid in the normal functioning of the body.

Every member of your family needs fats, sugars and sweets to provide energy for work and play. These foods might also be called fuel foods—for they keep the body warm. So be sure to include such foods as butter, margarine, fats, cereals, breads, potatoes and sugar.

Bavarian Cream Glorifies Fruits

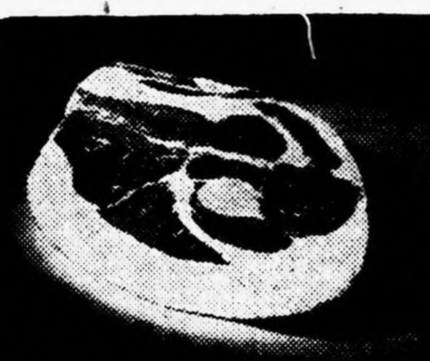

Let one of the most beautiful of food creations, a Bavarian cream, give sumptuousness to fruits at dessert time. This classic starts as a custard base into which whipped cream is folded. Then unflavored gelatine captures and molds the light, oh-so-smooth texture.

If you do not wish to use a fancy mold for the Bavarian, chill it in sherbet glasses which can go direct to the table. Or chill the dessert in a bowl, and spoon portions into individual serving dishes. The fruit garnish for this velvety custard can be fresh, canned or frozen. Sliced or crushed strawberries, a compote of fruit heightened with rum flavoring, a medley of citrus fruits... all gain glory with this gelatine delight.

Bavarian Fruit Dessert

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup sugar, divided
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/4 cups cold milk
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Fruits for garnish

Mix gelatine, 1/4 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler; gradually stir in cold milk. Place over boiling water and scald, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks slightly. Slowly pour small amount of the hot mixture over egg yolks. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Fold in gelatine mixture and whipped cream. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with fresh, frozen or canned fruits. YIELD: 8 servings.

MEAT CUT QUIZ

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. An arm pot-roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the beef chuck and has a round bone and cross section of 3 to 5 ribs. A small round muscle near the round bone is surrounded by connective tissue.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. The meat is browned in lard or drippings, 1/4 cup of water or other liquid added, the utensil closely covered and the meat allowed to cook until tender. A 3 to 5-pound pot-roast requires from 3 to 4 hours cooking time.

A delicate, soft meringue will be fluffy, tender, fine textured and it will stand in soft peaks that become golden brown when baked. The most satisfactory proportion of sugar to egg for such a meringue is two tablespoons of sugar per egg white.

Designers Use Cotton Fabrics For Young Set

For summer, outstanding designers have created an exciting crop of young fashions. Cottons styled for the young crowd will enable the young in heart to play in cotton, travel in cotton, vacation in cotton, date in cotton—in fabrics ranging from floral prints to vivid plains and flattering pastels.

There's a whole group of sundresses as well as separates styled in a variety of cottons, reports the National Cotton Council. Quite the newest idea is the reversible dress. This is a sun or a date dress with scoop and bowed neckline made of black broadcloth on one side, striped black and white cotton on the other. It's worn on either side to suit your mood.

Light quilts are cool and comfortable for summer wear, yet have a fine texture quality. They are shown in circular skirts combined with colorful cotton shirts and camisole tops. A strawberry-printed strapless sundress with a full skirt adds a matching cape in plain and print. The bloomer playsuit is shown in color-coordinated prints for the bodice and bloomers. For day and date wear, a matching skirt is added.

Youthful coats favor brilliant plaids in menswear cotton suitings with velveteen collars, or water-repellent cotton twill in straight-lined, mannish style.

Work Hair Beauty Into Your Daily Routine

When your hat comes off, and your hair is turned loose to bask in the warm, bright sunlight, it's important that your tresses be in top-notch condition for their Spring-time debut.

You say you have no time for hair glamour routine at a time when you're busy with a dozen housekeeping items like painting the closet, washing curtains and airing bedding. You can accomplish hair beauty while doing these other things if you use a system!

While you shampoo your locks or manicure your nails, think over the week's menus or shopping list. Then, while you do your other chores, a self-neutralizing home permanent can be processing.

Select a self-neutralizing permanent which will give you a type of lotion to match your particular hair. There's a very gentle one for the easy-to-wave hair, or the color-treated or naturally curly hair. There's a super one for tresses which are resistant to waving and a regular lotion for normal hair.

On the day you plan to achieve hair beauty, set the alarm clock a little earlier for yourself so you can have a head start on the family. Include a shampoo with your shower or plan to wash the hair in basin or sink.

Now, lay out the supply of pin curlers, hair net and contents of your kit. Read the directions thoroughly. Next, block off the hair in the regular home permanent wave blocking pattern.

While the hair is still damp, start rolling the curls. Saturate each strand with waving lotion, slip on end papers and curlers. Once wound, you can forget about the hair for 30 minutes and get breakfast for the family.

Half an hour later finds you rinsing the curls briefly with clear water and towel blotting to outlaw dripping. Slip a scarf on the head until your husband leaves, then substitute a hair net to hold the curls in place.

On the basis of a survey made in grocery stores and markets in a typical Michigan city, these observations were made:

- 1) If you want fresh unfrozen fish, you will likely have to go to a fresh fish market. The average grocery store no longer keeps up a fresh fish counter.
- 2) You'll likely find fresh frozen fish to be lower in price than the fresh unfrozen form.
- 3) Smelt, fresh frozen cod fillet, herring fillets, whiting, and white fish filets were all below 50 cents a pound. The only red meats in that price range were the organ meats such as calves' heart, pork heart and kidney.

For broiling there are popular lamb chops. Loin and rib chops are usually the greatest in demand; however, for a thrifty buy in lamb do not overlook shoulder cut arm and blade chops. These are frequently priced several cents per pound under rib or loin chops. Ground lamb patties wrapped with bacon are another broiler meat.

Lamb riblets are a thrifty choice for braising. These are cut from a lamb breast. Your meat dealer removes the breast bone, then cuts down between the ribs for uniform pieces—the riblets. They also may be prepared as a stew, the same as boneless lamb cubes.

Take Stock of Family Nutrition Needs Now

Spring is a good time to take stock of the nutrition you put into the meals you serve the family. Your job of feeding the family is more than just cooking three meals a day. Healthy strong bodies must have the right foods every day. It is not difficult to build really good meals but it does take a bit of thought and planning.

Foods are specialists—one does one thing; others another. For example, milk and other dairy products help build and maintain good bones and teeth; give you energy; and repair hurt and worn-out body tissue.

Meat, poultry, fish, eggs and cheese build healthy muscles and help to maintain good rich blood. Fruits and vegetables not only give you energy but help to maintain a good appetite and aid in the normal functioning of the body.

Every member of your family needs fats, sugars and sweets to provide energy for work and play. These foods might also be called fuel foods—for they keep the body warm. So be sure to include such foods as butter, margarine, fats, cereals, breads, potatoes and sugar.

Bavarian Cream Glorifies Fruits

Let one of the most beautiful of food creations, a Bavarian cream, give sumptuousness to fruits at dessert time. This classic starts as a custard base into which whipped cream is folded. Then unflavored gelatine captures and molds the light, oh-so-smooth texture.

If you do not wish to use a fancy mold for the Bavarian, chill it in sherbet glasses which can go direct to the table. Or chill the dessert in a bowl, and spoon portions into individual serving dishes. The fruit garnish for this velvety custard can be fresh, canned or frozen. Sliced or crushed strawberries, a compote of fruit heightened with rum flavoring, a medley of citrus fruits... all gain glory with this gelatine delight.

Bavarian Fruit Dessert

- | | |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine | 2 eggs, separated |
| 1/2 cup sugar, divided | 1/2 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 cup heavy cream, whipped |
| 1 1/4 cups cold milk | Fruits for garnish |
- Mix gelatine, 1/4 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler; gradually stir in cold milk. Place over boiling water and scald, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks slightly. Slowly pour small amount of the hot mixture over egg yolks. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Fold in gelatine mixture and whipped cream. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with fresh, frozen or canned fruits. YIELD: 8 servings.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. An arm pot-roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the beef chuck and has a round bone and cross section of 3 to 5 ribs. A small round muscle near the round bone is surrounded by connective tissue.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. The meat is browned in lard or drippings, 1/4 cup of water or other liquid added, the utensil closely covered and the meat allowed to cook until tender. A 3 to 5-pound pot-roast requires from 3 to 4 hours cooking time.

A delicate, soft meringue will be fluffy, tender, fine textured and it will stand in soft peaks that become golden brown when baked. The most satisfactory proportion of sugar to egg for such a meringue is two tablespoons of sugar per egg white.

Designers Use Cotton Fabrics For Young Set

For summer, outstanding designers have created an exciting crop of young fashions. Cottons styled for the young crowd will enable the young in heart to play in cotton, travel in cotton, vacation in cotton, date in cotton—in fabrics ranging from floral prints to vivid plains and flattering pastels.

There's a whole group of sundresses as well as separates styled in a variety of cottons, reports the National Cotton Council. Quite the newest idea is the reversible dress. This is a sun or a date dress with scoop and bow-neckline made of black broadcloth on one side, striped black and white cotton on the other. It's worn on either side to suit your mood.

Light quilts are cool and comfortable for summer wear, yet have a fine texture quality. They are shown in circular skirts combined with colorful cotton shirts and camisole tops. A strawberry-printed strapless sundress with a full skirt adds a matching cape in plain and print. The bloomer playsuit is shown in color-coordinated prints for the bodice and bloomers. For day and date wear, a matching skirt is added.

Youthful coats favor brilliant plaids in menswear cotton suitings with velveteen collars, or water-repellent cotton twill in straight-lined, mannish style.

Work Hair Beauty Into Your Daily Routine

When your hat comes off, and your hair is turned loose to bask in the warm, bright sunlight, it's important that your tresses be in top-notch condition for their Spring-time debut.

You say you have no time for hair glamour routine at a time when you're busy with a dozen housekeeping items like painting the closet, washing curtains and airing bedding. You can accomplish hair beauty while doing these other things if you use a system!

While you shampoo your locks or manicure your nails, think over the week's menus or shopping list. Then, while you do your other chores, a self-neutralizing home permanent can be processing.

Select a self-neutralizing permanent which will give you a type of lotion to match your particular hair. There's a very gentle one for the easy-to-wave hair, or the color-treated or naturally curly hair. There's a super one for tresses which are resistant to waving and a regular lotion for normal hair.

On the day you plan to achieve hair beauty, set the alarm clock a little earlier for yourself so you can have a head start on the family. Include a shampoo with your shower or plan to wash the hair in basin or sink.

Now, lay out the supply of pin curlers, hair net and contents of your kit. Read the directions thoroughly. Next, block off the hair in the regular home permanent wave blocking pattern.

While the hair is still damp, start rolling the curls. Saturate each strand with waving lotion, slip on end papers and curlers. Once wound, you can forget about the hair for 30 minutes and get breakfast for the family.

Half an hour later finds you rinsing the curls briefly with clear water and towel blotting to outlaw dripping. Slip a scarf on the head until your husband leaves, then substitute a hair net to hold the curls in place.

Fish Termed As Economical And Nutricious Dinner Serving

Whether you get your fish at the neighborhood market or "papa ketch 'em on the hook" you can be sure that when "mama fry 'em in the pan" the family is in for a nutritious and economical dinner. This popular food is generally a money saving protein buy throughout the year.

Fish and fish products are high in nutritive value—excellent sources of protein, minerals, vitamins and fats. They can be used like red meats and poultry in our diets on an interchangeable basis. Mineral elements found in fish include calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, iron, copper and iodine. Fat fishes like salmon and mackerel are especially rich in vitamins A and D. The proteins supplied by fish are a highly digestible type necessary for building and repair of body tissue.

How does Mrs. Michigan homemaker go about shopping for fish? First, she should become familiar with the kinds of fish available and forms in which they are sold. Does she want "salt water" fish, "fresh water" fish, or "shell fish," which may come from either salt or fresh water. Is the frozen or fresh form the best buy.

On the basis of a survey made in grocery stores and markets in a typical Michigan city, these observations were made:

- 1) If you want fresh unfrozen fish, you will likely have to go to a fresh fish market. The average grocery store no longer keeps up a fresh fish counter.
- 2) You'll likely find fresh frozen fish to be lower in price than the fresh unfrozen form.
- 3) Smelt, fresh frozen cod fillet, herring filets, whiting, and white fish filets were all below 50 cents a pound. The only red meats in that price range were the organ meats such as calves' heart, pork heart and kidney.

Cottons Get Emphasis In World's Fashions

World wide emphasis is placed on cottons this year by every important designer in the fashion world. They are being spotlighted in French, Italian and our own American collections for Summer 1953. Styled with designer care, in intricate new ways, with that extra "plus" touch of fine finish, trimming, pleating and tucking.

Outstanding among these "morn-to-midnight" cotton fashions are the conversation-making companion pieces in "Striped Pebbletex" by one famed designer of sportswear separates. "Striped Pebbletex" is a woven striped seersucker, long a favorite fabric for practical, comfortable summer wear. The designer calls them "Pebbletex Pair-Offs."

Adaptable for town or country, these "Striped Pebbletex Pair-Offs" come in countless washable styles that require no ironing. They can be effectively coordinated to form an exciting versatile summer wardrobe.

Necklines range from the becoming halter, shawl collar, camisole, to a tailored convertible. Skirts flatter the slim or flared silhouette. Bodices are easy—sleeves are in the minority. Contrasting trim in "Koranit", a ribbed cotton, etches the sleek lines, as well as accents a turnabout blouse and separate cardigan. This "Koranit" trim gives them an interesting finishing contrast to the striped effect.

Change-about cottons are made for the American way of life. America lives in cottons that answer fashion needs and stay within budget requirements. These are the cottons for the "good old summer time". They're versatile, washable, easy to care for, easy to wear.

Lamb Brings Spring Menus Fresh Variety

Although lamb is available the year around, with the coming of spring it has a special spot in many menus. Lamb offers a great deal of variety—there's a cut for every cooking method and many may be prepared in a variety of ways. In fact, you could serve a different lamb dish every day for a month, points out meat expert Reba Staggs.

Among the lamb roasts, you're familiar with the handsome leg of lamb. But have you purchased a thrifty square cut shoulder? This cut may be boned and rolled or left flat for a cushion-style roast, ideal for stuffing.

For broiling there are popular lamb chops. Loin and rib chops are usually the greatest in demand however, for a thrifty buy in lamb do not overlook shoulder cut arm and blade chops. These are frequently priced several cents per pound under rib or loin chops. Ground lamb patties wrapped with bacon are another broiler meat.

Lamb riblets are a thrifty choice for braising. These are cut from a lamb breast. Your meat dealer removes the breast bone, then cuts down between the ribs for uniform pieces—the riblets. They also may be prepared as a stew, the same as boneless lamb cubes.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

Annual Exposition Features New Home Building Ideas

The nation's home builders are stacked up on fresh ideas for the homes they'll build in 1953. Their source of supply will be the annual convention and exposition of the National Home Builders in Chicago where virtually every new and improved home product was displayed.

A tour of the gigantic exposition of building materials and home equipment uncovered an avalanche of ideas designed to satisfy every need, taste and pocket book of builders and prospective home buyers alike.

Here are just a few of the scores of interesting developments presented by the nearly 250 major manufacturers whose products are displayed:

Starting at the bottom — new floor coverings were much in evidence. One all-purpose tile, available in a variety of colors and patterns, can be installed without the use of adhesives or tools of any kind. An outstanding feature of this tile is that it can be taken up—moved from room to room or to another home, thus making it a permanent investment. Suitable for installation in any room of the home, it can even be used in below-grade areas where moisture is excessive.

For installation directly over subfloors, there is a new hard-wood oak floor which requires no membrane — waterproofing between the slab and floor. For added convenience, it is pre-finished at the factory.

A new plastic floor tile has a finish that stimulates natural oak parquet flooring.

For dressing up the outside of the home, there is an asbestos-cement material for exterior siding. It comes in large sheets with an attractive random-ribbed pattern in a variety of colors. For either interior or exterior application, there is a new plastic-faced plywood that is engineered for painting. The material can be bent.

For unusual decorating effects, a paint manufacturer offers the nearest thing to polka dot paint yet developed. A single coat, applied with a spray gun, can achieve a practically unlimited variety of multi-colored patterns on interior walls.

TV is in the picture, too, in the form of special lead-in flush sockets for use in new construction. The package includes flush socket, face plate, mating plug and hardware for mounting the socket in any type wall. A new weatherproof lead-in bushing is especially designed for UHF cable. Use of the special fixtures is said to improve TV reception.

A dozen prefabricated home manufacturers showed their latest home designs. The new designs represent a fresh approach to this type home and are indistinguishable from conventionally built homes. Prefab homes are available with a host of modern features including completely equipped kitchens and laundry rooms, picture windows, expandable rooms, and even air conditioning.

Paint preserves the possessions of the past for the present and makes them into the treasures of the future.

The front of the streamlined convactor-radiator rarely gets too hot to touch, a safety factor for homes where there are small children.

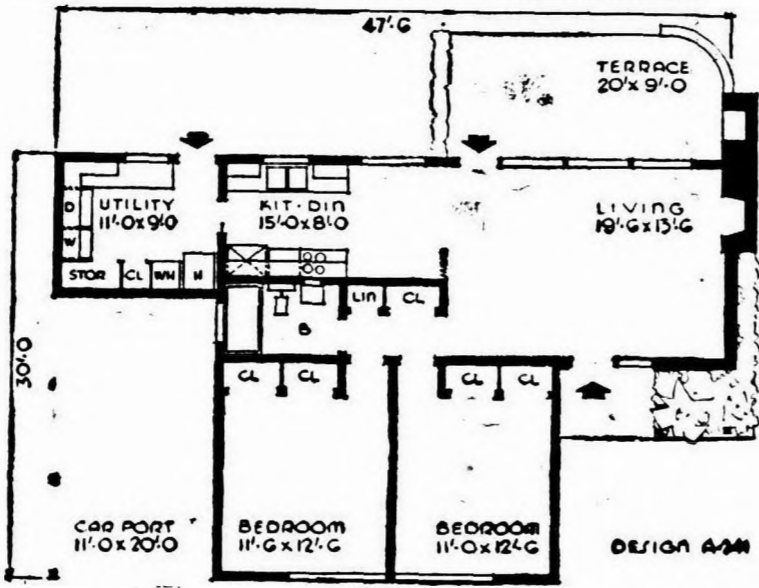

Give Hints On Painting Problems

Many kinds of paint will do the job. Some will do it with one coat, but it's better to have two or more. A paint job done with a good primer and one top coat is often effective. Sealing the wall with aluminum paint and following this with two decorative coats is another good practice. Many latex paints will give fine service. Casein paint and calcimine, however, function less effectively. It's important, naturally, to see that there are no cracks or apertures that will counteract your defensive measures. For this reason—before painting—make sure that all joints around window and door trim, baseboards and electric outlets are carefully sealed with caulking compound.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. A-241

DESIGN A-241. A simple open arrangement is the feature of this plan which consists of living room, kitchen-dinette, utility room, bath, two bedrooms and carport. Full length windows in the living room overlook the garden and terrace and the living room is separated from the dinette by a folding partition. Plumbing is concentrated in one area and the utility room is practically a continuation of the kitchen with a sliding door between. It houses heating and laundry equipment; coat closets, storage closet, supply cabinet and work counter. Other points of interest are the terrace, outdoor grill, wide entrance overhang, planting area, side siding, brick facing from chimney to entrance. Floor area is 1,009 sq. ft. with 10,335 cu. ft., not including the carport. For further information about DESIGN A-241, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

GOOD EXAMPLE of a home-made recreation room is the one shown above in the basement of the Roy Rew home, 1501 Harding. The tile floor, knotty pine paneling and cut stone fireplace were all installed by Rew in his spare time. He said the whole job took him about two weeks. Along the backbar are pictures of famous magicians, an occupation for which Rew is well known in this area.

VA Tells Of Changes In Applying For Loans

Washington — The Veterans Administration (VA) said yesterday all veterans who plan to seek GI loans should apply to VA regional offices in advance for certificates of eligibility.

In the past veterans have been advised to submit their discharge or separation papers to the private lending institution making the loan. The institution then submitted them to the VA on behalf of the veteran.

The change, VA said, will reduce delays in processing loan applications. It said it was necessary because under the Korean GI bill the VA must have information not previously needed to establish a veteran's eligibility.

Certificates of eligibility are proof for private lenders that VA will guarantee or insure a loan if the veteran meets other usual loan requirements. The change applies to veterans wanting home, farm or business loans.

Condensation Worse In Smaller Homes

Modern living conditions do more to cause harmful condensation of moisture in today's new homes than any other single thing.

In the days of high ceilings, deep basements and three-story houses with loosely-constructed walls, there was more air in the home to absorb moisture. Today's tightly built small home, with small rooms that are all on one floor—plus many labor-saving but moisture-producing devices—creates conditions that accent condensation.

Advice Provided On Heating Plant

What to do about the middle-aged heating plant?

The Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau offers suggestions for modernization and replacement that will bring the "old timers" in step with today's progress in every branch of the heating industry.

While some heating systems may need only the addition of controls to bring them up-to-date, others may require a thoroughgoing modernization including the replacement of the boiler.

When replacement of the boiler is indicated, the installation of one of the modern jacketed types designed for automatic firing may be advisable. There are special gas-design boilers, oil-design boilers and boilers made for stoker firing.

In addition, there are all-purpose boilers which are so engineered that they can be easily converted from one fuel to another.

Some hot-water heating systems still are of the gravity type. In such cases, conversion to forced circulation with the use of the boiler for the heating of the domestic hot water in the summer as well as the winter will usually be recommended by the heating contractor.

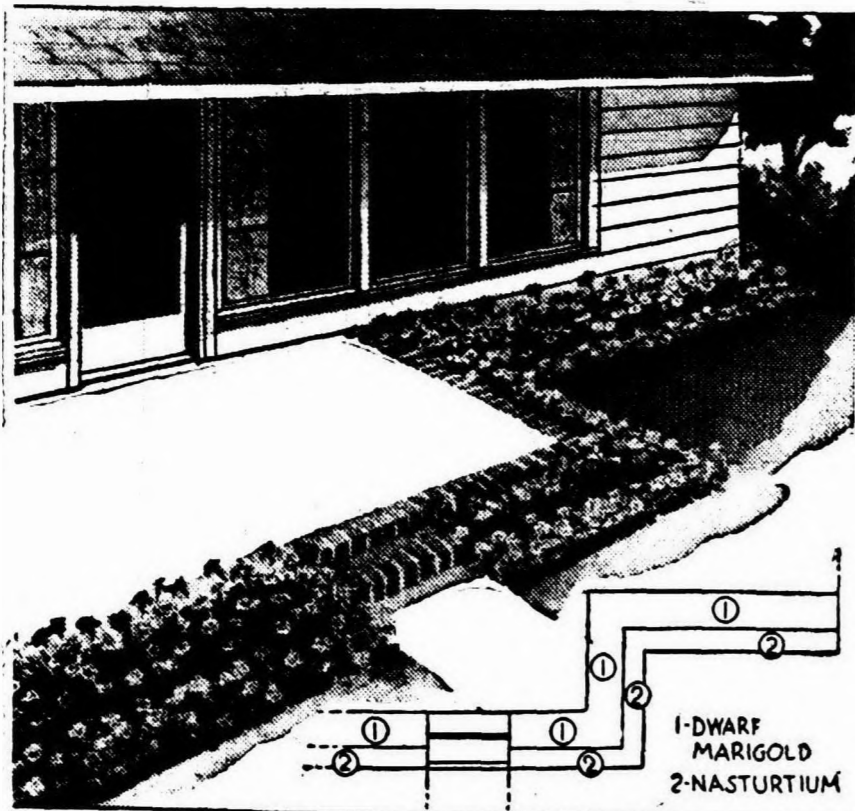

In all modernization work as well as new construction the advice and guidance of an experienced heating and piping contractor will be invaluable.

Questions And Answers

QUESTION: Can you help me to find a way to fill several knot holes of half-dollar size which have appeared in my finished basement? The knots have fallen inside the wall and I find it difficult and undesirable to retrieve them.

ANSWER: Such holes may be filled with plastic wood or putty.

Floral Frame Enhances Modern Home

Simple lines of modern houses call for a decorative setting.

Landscape planting about a house should be a decoration, carefully planned to enhance the beauty of the building, completing an attractive picture as it is viewed from the street.

When tall trees dwarf the house, and over-large shrubs and evergreens hide it, and prevent the occupants from seeing out of the windows, the planting has not achieved its purpose.

Examples of such failures are frequently given by modern one-story homes planted with tall shrubs and evergreens.

Only low growing plants should be planted in front of low homes; and the brightly colored annuals of dwarf habit are widely accepted as the most suitable plants for this purpose.

Their color gives a welcome touch, and they leave the view from windows unobstructed. Seed may be started early in seedboxes indoors, and grown to a size suitable for transplanting by the time the soil can be prepared.

There are many varieties which will grow quickly from seed sown directly in the border where the plants are to grow, and they will bloom until freezing weather comes in the fall. Besides providing a decoration for the house, many annuals are suitable for cutting to be used in the house.

Dwarf double French marigolds, for planting as shown in the illustration, come in tones of orange, yellow and maroon, with several two-tone blends of these colors.

Fragrant, dwarf nasturtiums, in various tones of red, orange and yellow, harmonize with the marigolds, and will make a striking frame of bright color to enhance the beauty of a ranch house of grey, blue, or brown.

Fine Knotty Pine paneling should be protected from moisture absorption when hauled to and stored at the job site.

Chimney Color Important

A chimney often seems to cut a house in parts. When this is the case, it's advisable to paint the chimney to match the body of the house. This will make it an integral part of the picture. A brick chimney may be painted with a regular house paint or with a cement-base paint.

The mounting volume of remodeling is attributed to the fact that older homes look out of date to their owners who have seen the newer home ideas.

Track Men Do Well in Class A Meet; Jerry Kelly Breaks 100-220 Records

Led by Jerry Kelly, who broke the Plymouth High school track record in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the first local team to ever compete in a Class A State Regional Meet performed in grand style as they came in fifth in a star-studded seven team meet. The regional held at Ann Arbor's Wines Field last Saturday, attracted the following track powers in the state: Flint Northern, Flint Central, Dearborn, Fordson, Ann Arbor, Jackson, and Plymouth. Flint Northern came out in front with a total of 62 1/2 points with Fordson second with 42 1/2 points; others came in as follows: Ann Arbor 34 1/2, Dearborn 26, Plymouth 17 1/2, Flint Central 14 and Jackson 13.

E and F Leagues All Set to Begin

The first games in the Class E and F boys leagues will be played the week of June 5, according to Herbert Woolweaver, recreational director. At a meeting Monday, May 11, Mr. Woolweaver was elected commissioner of these leagues with Frank Newell of Livonia as vice-commissioner, and Les Anders of Livonia as secretary-treasurer.

Games will be played in the E league on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the F league will play their games on Mondays and Wednesdays. Class E games will be played on the High school field, and F games on the Dausy diamond. A 18 game schedule has been set up for each league, each team meeting each other twice.

Dave Heinzmann Captures Second in U of M Meet

In a Big Ten track meet between the two Western Conference track powers, Michigan and Illinois at Ann Arbor last Saturday, David Heinzmann, a former Plymouth High school track star, came in second in the high jump. Dave leaped 6 feet 4 inches to place second behind his teammate Milt Mead, who won with a record-breaking leap of 6 feet 3 1/4 inches. Dave's jump was the highest he had ever done in meet competition. He is a junior at the university this year.

Tomorrow Michigan State college comes to Ann Arbor for a dual meet. Another former local high school star will appear with the Spartans, namely, Louis Vargha, who has distinguished himself in the 440 yard dash and the 220 dash.

These two former teammates will be going against each other in different events trying to win points for their respective teams.

Jr. Varsity Wins Another 4 to 2

Last Friday the Plymouth High school reserves won a closely fought baseball game from Bentley 4 to 2. The Rocks got their 4 runs on only 3 hits, while Bentley got their 2 runs on 6 hits.

All the scoring was done in the first two innings as Bentley scored one run on no hits in the first inning and Plymouth came back with two runs on no hits in the bottom half of the same inning. In the second Bentley scored another run on hits to complete their scoring for the day. Plymouth likewise scored their last runs when they counted twice on two hits.

Tennis Players Win 2 Matches

The high school tennis team won two matches last week when they downed Northville 6 to 1, and won on a forfeit from Belleville 7 to 0.

Monday of this week the Rock courtmen entertained Ypsilanti in a match with Roosevelt high school, and yesterday they engaged River Rouge away.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

I travelled over to neighboring Ann Arbor last Saturday to witness the state Class A regional track meet, and to see just how our local boys could do in their first Class A cinder meet. I'll tell you right now that they did right well by doing everything that was expected of them. They came home with 17 1/2 points and beat out Flint Central and Jackson in total points.

Ron Nyhus was second in the shot put, and but for a close foul on his first heave would have had an easy first. He put the iron ball over 47 feet to lose by 8 inches.

The Merchants team in the Inter-County league got off to a good start this year by winning their first two games. The game last Sunday was rained out. They have not lost a game and are currently tied for the lead.

The baseball game at the high school tomorrow afternoon may well settle the 6-B league title as Trenton and Plymouth are running neck and neck now and Trenton handed the Rocks their only defeat this year over at Trenton a while back. If you feel like seeing a well-played game come out tomorrow and root for the Rocks, they really have a good team this year and one fans can justly be proud of—a good defensive infield and outfield, good hitters and two good pitchers. I personally think they will avenge that one beating this year by beating Trenton tomorrow—we'll see.

Even though we have heard, and read, a lot concerning the dissension among certain factions in neighboring Livonia, one has to admire the citizens of that community for the way they go after things for their youth. A youth center will be a reality in a few years, reportedly costing 250,000 dollars, which will serve as a youth center and a community center for certain functions.

Day Shuts Out RU; Bentley Also Beaten by Rocks

Coach Gus Gorguz uncovered another hurler to help Kenneth Kisabeth in the stretch for the 6-B league title when Dick Day hurled a wonderful game in shutting out Redford Union last week 8 to 0. Young Day, a sophomore and a southpaw, set the Panther batters down with only 2 hits, struck out 11 and walked only 3 men.

The Rocks scored in the second, third, 3 in the fourth and 3 more in the fifth inning to wrap up the win. In the second Bob Middleton tripled and scored all the way on an outfield error. In the third Gary Gothard walked and scored as David Finney tripled. The big fourth found Middleton safe on an error, Brown sacrificing, Bender safe on an error, and Gothard singled. In the fifth Finney walked, Huebler also walked, Middleton singled, Brown walked and Bender walked and an error producing the runs.

Bob Middleton, who is rapidly developing into a power hitter, led the batters with 2 hits, a triple and a single; David Finney also had 2 hits, a triple and a single; Gary Gothard and Tom Rutherford each had a single.

Last Friday Plymouth won over Bentley 8 to 1 to strengthen its title bid. Tomorrow Trenton comes here for what may be the title game—Trenton handed the Rocks the only loss of the year over there 4 to 2 a few weeks ago. The Rocks must win this one if they expect to win the 6-B league crown. Both these teams are the only ones with a chance of winning the title.

PHS Thinclads Still Unbeaten

The Plymouth Rock thinclads continued their unbeaten string of victories in dual track meets with an impressive 79 1/2 to 29 1/2 win over Bentley last week on the local track. It has been a long time since the Rocks have been beaten on the cinder track in a dual meet, and as a result of their easy wins this year are highly favored to take the league crown in the league meet scheduled for here next Friday afternoon.

Sophomore Gerald Swain started things off by romping to an easy win in the high hurdles in 17.3 seconds; the Rock medley relay team won in 2:43.8; Jerry Kelly ran away from his rivals in the 100 and 200 yard dash to win in 10.8 and 22.8 respectively; Dick Nagel was third in each; Tom Davis came in second in the mile run with Jim Blanton third; Rod Juve won the 440 after a Bentley man was disqualified for cutting in on a turn, Paul Hamlin was second and Lee Juve third; Ron Pagenkopf took the high jump with Bob Gobiel and Jim Troutman tying for second and third; Swain again took the low hurdles with Wagenschutz.

Girl Racqueteers Open Tournament

The senior high girls intramural tennis tournament opened Monday, May 18, with 32 girls taking part.

Participating in the tournament are the following girls: Jane Carney, Ellen Duane, Kay Herriman, Sara Wesley, Janet Wickens, Marilee Watson, Sally Morgan, Joyce Slabaugh, Bev Goodale, Sara Leet, Jean Rowe, Carol Langmaid, Kay Zarn, Carol Stratton, Edna Gisher, Inez Entertine, Gayle Lietz, Martha Carley, Judy Swope, Norma Leslie, Sally Shuttleworth, Betty Gregory, Mary Ellen Sparks, Peggy Wingard, Rusty Crane, Nancy Lock, Jane Nulty, Celia Galford, Dorothy Keene, Susan Boudard, Janet Denhoff, and Betty Weber.

Sports managers for the tournament are Sally Morgan and Kay Herriman, of the Leaders club which sponsors the tourney.

Triple Play Aids Rocks in Win Over Bentley Bulldogs

The Plymouth Rock baseball nine hung up their seventh victory of the year, and their sixth in 6-B league competition, last Friday as they downed Bentley High 3 to 1 behind the two-hit pitching of southpaw Dick Day.

The Rocks collected a total of 10 hits to knock Jim Ford from the box and win their second game from the Bulldogs. They went to work right at the outset to score one run in the first inning as Casey Cavell singled, Gothard sacrificed, Finney singled and Huebler doubled.

Golfers Downed by RU; Place 3rd in League Meet

Last week Tuesday the Rock golfers dropped their second match of the year to a Redford Union foursome—this time by 2 1/2 strokes as the Panthers downed them 176 to 196. Tyler Caplin was low for the Rocks when he shot a 45 on the Redford Golf Course, Dick Partridge had a 47, Mike Reh a 50 and Fred Benson a 54. McCemel was medalist with a 43 to his credit, his teammates scores were 44, 44, 45—a well-balanced team.

In the 6-B league meet last week Wednesday, Redford Union came out on top with a total of 337 strokes to 352 for Bentley and 357 for Plymouth—Allen Park was way down the list with a 497 total. Jim Partain of Redford Union was medalist with a sparkling 74. Scores of the local participants were an 84 by Fred Benson, an 87 by Tyler Caplin, a 90 by Mike Reh and a 96 by Dick Partridge.

In the state regional at Battle Creek last Saturday Plymouth came in sixth with a total score of 389. Jackson won this Class A regional with a total score of 328. Other teams competing were Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Sexton and Lansing East.

The Rocks collected a total of 10 hits to knock Jim Ford from the box and win their second game from the Bulldogs. They went to work right at the outset to score one run in the first inning as Casey Cavell singled, Gothard sacrificed, Finney singled and Huebler doubled.

In the fourth, after Bentley had tied it up in the third on an error, Plymouth scored two more runs, without a hit, to go into the lead. Four more big runs came in in the fifth as Gothard singled, Finney singled, Huebler singled, Brown singled and an error allowed the runs to score.

Of the ten hits made by the Rocks, two came in made by Cavell, Gothard, Finney and Huebler, and one each by Brown and Bender.

Young Day, pitching his second game of the week, showed only 2 hits struck out and walked 4 men.

A unique feature was a triple play pulled by the Plymouth infield in the second inning. After the first two Bentley men had walked, the next batter attempted a bunt but popped to the catcher. Huebler, who whipped the ball to Cavell, who in turn relayed it to Gothard, catching both runners before they could get back to their bases.

The Rock play Trenton tomorrow here in an important game which could decide the league championships, each team has lost but one game, and Trenton handed the Rocks their only defeat of the season.

Chips from the ROCK

The death of Sarah Williams Talbot last week reminded Earl Mastick that it was because of the Williams family just 30 years ago that he came to Plymouth. Visiting the village at that time to deliver a new Ford to the Williams, for a Milford dealer, he had a couple of hours to kill while waiting for them to return home so he visited Paul J. Wiedman searching for a former mutual friend. The following week he moved to Plymouth as a salesman for Wiedman and has been here since.

Insurance man Chuck Finlan had one hesitancy about buying his father-in-law's (Don Carmody) home on Wilcox road and that was the large amount of grass he would have to mow. The deal went through however after Chuck purchased four goats to do the job. (After a similar experience we might point out that Chuck will soon learn that they will mow a lot more than grass when they get underway).

Giving advice to a harassed businessman Father Mooney was heard to say, "that it is far better to wear out than rust out."

Neighbors Blickenstaff, Houk and Shear report that it will be another year, according to present progress, before banker Jack Taylor launches his cruiser Clementine in the lake. Work started nearly a year ago is progressing so slowly that the many promised excursions this summer are still a long way off.

Margaret Norton, sister of Mrs. Maude Schrader was a visitor in Plymouth Sunday. The well known Michigan Republican worker of Rochester is already beating the drums for Attorney General Frank Millard to be the next candidate for Governor. We think she has a good idea and know of no one who could do a better job in the Governor's chair.

Postmaster George Timpona is supporting a broken wrist and three broken ribs the result of a fall from a ladder while putting up screens. Unusual thing about the accident is the fact it makes the fifth time he has broken the same ribs.

EDITORIAL

A Dangerous Condition

Elsewhere in this issue appears a letter from a local resident that tells of the close call they had with a train on the Farmer street crossing. During the last two weeks two other local residents have told us of similar experiences they had encountered on the Holbrook street crossing.

Both of these railroad crossings are unprotected and with the ever increasing amount of both auto and rail traffic now traveling our city they become a dangerous threat to the lives of our citizens.

Employees at Eckles Coal and Supply company say that less than ten per cent of all the cars that cross at Holbrook street ever stop at the crossing. Observers at Farmer street say the same thing is true there.

Both crossings are difficult to cross unless the motorist drives almost on the tracks before he can see if the way is clear. Something more than a plain railroad crossing sign is needed in both places and it seems logical that the time to place flashers, gates or a watchman at these crossings is now and not at some later date.

Too many times precautions are taken after a serious accident has occurred. We would like to think Plymouth had foresight enough to have its crossings protected before that accident occurs.

The ideal situation of course, would be the building of grade separations but while that is under consideration some action should be taken at once to alleviate the present danger.

Michigan Mirror
 INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Charges that the stubbornness of one man, the leader of one committee in the state Senate, is holding up a solution to Michigan's tax problems are being whispered, and none too quietly, in the Capitol.

The man is George N. Higgins, Republican from Ferndale. He holds a key position in the money raising machinery of the state as chairman of the Taxation Committee. While no attempt is made here to judge either the motives or the wisdom of Sen. Higgins' actions, there can be no doubt that his consistent refusal to consider any bills except those which his committee favors, has confused the taxation picture and aggravated many members in the Legislature—including several important Republicans.

Time will be the best judge of the correctness of the Senator's stand. Most recent maneuver of Sen. Higgins was an effort to sell a new tax plan to the Legislators. There is no indication that the proposals will garner enough support to become law. It is called a tax on "adjusted receipts" and was hurriedly put together for Legislative consideration. A press conference called to explain the tax measure, found those who tried to interpret it unsure of their facts and admitting that many adjustments would be required before the tax program would be practical and fair.

There are at least two sides to most arguments and this tax situation is no exception. On one hand are those who cry "politics". They claim that if Higgins would report out the Walter Mill corporate profits bill, it would stand a good chance of becoming law. But the corporate profits tax has been advocated for years by Governor Williams and its passage would be a feather in his political cap. The senator, who is able to stop the bill by virtue of his chairmanship of the Taxation Committee, has not been able to find another tax program popular with the Legislature.

This puts Republicans in the "hotseat" and provides much campaign ammunition for Democrats. They follow the Governor's lead on taxes. "If anyone has a sounder program than a corporation profits tax, let them come up with it." Some GOP Legislators are not happy about this unenviable position, particularly in the House.

Redistribution of present taxes is the real, long-range aim of Senator Higgins, say his advocates, who refer to the Princeton report on Michigan's tax situation. This report, published after many months of study by tax experts, claims that Michigan's basic problem is the Constitutional earmarking of tax monies. Many legislators agree that this is correct, but most observers also add that the problem of correcting the situation is impractical. The plan would require many local governments to raise taxes to a level equitable with the remainder of the state.

Since a referendum is required to change the tax diversion amendment, Sen. Higgins is reported as trying to set up a choice for voters. They would choose between repealing tax diversion or continuing a new tax. For this reason the Senator, considered by many to be among the most conscientious of Legislators, has consistently fought for a tax program that effects many voters and with a termination date in 1955.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES RESEARCH AND THE IMPORTANCE OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Inquiries constantly come to me asking for some way to prevent World War Wars. Instead of answering these letters personally, may I give my answer in this week's column?

MILITARY STRENGTH
 Ninety-five per cent of the politicians of every nation appear to believe that the only means of keeping their country out of war is to have a bigger army, a more powerful navy, a greater air force and the most atomic bombs. Of course, this is not the answer. It is like trying to cure an alcoholic by giving him more drink.

In fact, 2000 years ago Jesus stated "For all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." History shows this to have been 100 per cent correct. Any reader who doubts this need only read the lives of the greatest military leaders such as Alexander the Great, Cyrus, Caesar, Genghis Khan, Mohammed, Ivan the Terrible, Cromwell, Napoleon, Bismarck and Hitler.

WHAT JESUS TAUGHT 2000 YEARS AGO
 Thereupon the preachers tell us that pacifism and disarmament are the answer, failing to talk about the Old Testament which was the only Bible that Jesus knew or used. When Jesus preached about "disarmament," He assumed that justice, mercy and intelligence would be substituted therefor. The fact is that if we read the books of the Bible in the order in which they were written, we see that Jesus was talking about the Kingdom of God based upon righteousness and fairness to all people.

Today, I see a possibility of World Peace. This will not be brought about alone by the priests and preachers, however earnest and necessary they are. The foundation for the Kingdom of God is being built by the teachers, scientists and inventors. These include mathematicians, physicists, chemists, metallurgists, psychologists and all others working for humanity in the laboratories of every nation. These men and women are making discoveries which may assure the people of all nations health, intelligence, prosperity and happiness. They are the people whom Jesus would praise were He here today.

WHOM HAVE WE TO THANK?
 Strange to say, we have the big corporations—many of which

The U. S. Justice Department is persecuting— to thank for the recent great progress. Last year, over $3,500,000,000 was spent in the United States alone on research to make the world healthier, more intelligent and happier. Two-thirds of this amount was spent by corporations whose stocks are traded in so-called "Wicked Wall Street." The remaining third consisted mostly of Government appropriations for which we may praise or belittle Franklin D. Roosevelt and his kind-hearted wife. But the corporations themselves did not make the discoveries—it was some of the 250,000 individuals in their employ.

The electrical machinery and aircraft industries each spent over $400,000,000 on research. The chemical industry (which gave us the wonderful drugs that are blessing humanity today) and the motor vehicle industry each spent $200,000,000 on research. In addition, there are many private funds, such as the Rockefeller Foundation and the new Ford Foundation. Yale University has just set up a Fund of $6,000,000 for research in connection with the mental cases which are flooding our hospitals and which many believe are as unnecessary as small pox and cholera plagues.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SMALL BUSINESSES
 Above I mention only big corporations, but I find that some of our most important discoveries have been by small businesses employing only a few men. Furthermore, I find that many of their humble workers just stumble onto their discoveries while hunting for something else. Hence, in the last analysis, all our blessings have come from humble individuals, most of whom we have never heard of. Therefore, I use every opportunity to appeal for the praying individual, whatever his race or color, whether rich or poor. Far too much attention is given by "educators" to "Ph.D.'s and other degrees. In doing so, I believe they are retarding rather than advancing research.

Great changes are ahead. Whatever may happen during the next few years, I am a great optimist as to the future of our grandchildren. The atomic bomb is not going to destroy the world; it will free the world. It has already started a new line of thinking. We will enter a period when our newspapers will no longer fea-

World War, every nation lost. Yet we are now discussing World War III. Only Research and Religion can prevent World War III. If Communism had not denied God and Truth, it might now win; but having chosen the sword, it will surely die by the sword.

Our politicians foolishly talk about "Guns versus Butter". Instead, we should talk about "God and Truth, it might now win; but having chosen the sword, it will surely die by the sword."

For either of these to be useful, we are dependent upon humble individuals. Such people may be found in any community. We should encourage them, never laugh at them or ask them if they have a college degree!
