Plymouth High Clinches 6-B Track Conference Title For Second Year

Plymouth High clinched the Suburban Six-B Conference track and field title here for the second straight year, successfully defending it last Friday while piling up a total of 90 points. Well trained bodies and cat-like muscular coordination put the Rocks out in front while their nearest runner-up, Allen Park, trailed with a final tally of 45. Trenton got 28, Belleville 27, while Bentley and Redford both lagged with tied scores of 25. Two records were broken, one by Jerry Kelly in the 220 yard dash, and the other by Earl Glenn of Belleville in the shot put—Ron Nyhus also broke the (Continued on page 8)

S. H. Rathburn, Jr. Claimed by Death

Charles H. Rathburn, Jr., a top Republican political figure here for more than a quarter of a century, died at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Harper hospital in Detroit. He was 69. Supervisor of Plymouth township continuously since 1925, Mr. Rathburn steered the township through a series of political and economic crises that marked the early 1930's. A friend to business, industry and homeowners alike, his top leadership saw the township grow in two decades from a value of less than one million dollars to an evaluation in 1953 of over $23 million. Friends and associates Wednesday were shocked to learn of his death. One person said "his death is a distinct loss to the entire community. To replace him in his official capacity will be a problem that will not be readily solved." The scope of Mr. Rathburn's interest in Wayne county public affairs led to county officials' statements that "he was a wheel horse," a pivotal figure in county legislation. He served on the powerful Ways and Means committee for a total of 11 years proposing and getting adopted legislation that overlapped into every department of county government. He held the enviable record of being the second oldest county supervisor in terms of years of service that totaled more than 26. One of Mr. Rathburn's outstanding contributions to dwellers in Western Wayne out-county is a legislative proposal he made in 1937 that set up the Sewage Disposal Commission that worked as a liaison in helping get the Middle Rouge interceptor into the planning and construction stage. The $3,500,000 project just last week became certain. Mr. Rathburn served on every major committee of county government. For 13 years he was chairman of the Sewer and Water supply commission and served as a coordinator on zoning for unincorporated areas. One county official said "there is hardly some committee that hasn't felt his influence" that extended over into veterans affairs, airport authority, roads and bridges, reorganization of county government, civil service and hospital study commission. He was born in Wayne on May 23, 1884, the son of Benjamin and Evaline Rathburn. He married Flora Whitbeck on July 4, 1910. Spending the last 35 years in his home at 11570 Haggerty highway, Mr. Rathburn launched his early political life as treasurer of the then village of Plymouth. As township supervisor he received virtually no opposition during his 26 years of tenure. He was a member, till his death, of the Masons, Plymouth Rock Lodge 47, F & AM, and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star here as well as a former Kiwanian. He served as a member of the Board of Directors for the Plymouth United Savings Bank and later in an advisory capacity when the firm was merged into the National Bank of Detroit. Funeral services will be held from the Schrader Funeral home at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. Melbourne I. Johnson of the First Methodist church will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Flora; a daughter, Mrs. Coraline Stringer of Birmingham; and a sister, Mrs. Bertha Bloss of West Branch.

SUPERVISOR CHARLES H. RATHBURN, Jr. passed away at Harper Hospital in Detroit Tuesday at 8 p. m. The death of this well known resident comes as a shock to the community and will prove a distinct loss to Plymouth Township which he has served so faithfully during the last 30 years. The above picture taken by The Plymouth Mail only a few weeks ago was the last taken of Mr. Rathburn at his desk in Plymouth Township Hall.

City to Buy Mid-Town Parking Lot; Will Boost Off-Street Stalls to 330

Acquisition of additional parking lot space was practically assured when city commissioners last Monday officially authorized the purchase of a 25 by 122 foot strip of mid-block property just south of Dodge street. The city will buy the land from the Knights of Columbus at an estimated cost of $2,000. When opened to the public the lot will accommodate some 50 cars, boosting to 330 the number of parking stalls owned by the city. The acquisition comes on the heels of repeated recommendations and urging by the Off-Street Parking committee of the Chamber of Commerce. In its May Newsletter the Chamber asked this question: "What realistic steps and plans are being taken to insure the future growth of our shopping area?" And then it answered the question with "not enough!" The Chamber warned that shoppers are looking for what it called "convenient shopping centers that offer unlimited parking." And it added that "businesses are moving out of the center" (Continued on page 8)

Formal Opening Of Pilgrim Room

Formal opening of the Hotel Mayflower's new Pilgrim Room will take place this Saturday and Sunday and continue through Sunday, June 14. Hotel Manager Ralph G. Lorenz revealed that in continuing his program of decorating the hotel in the style of the original Plymouth in the early colonial days, the new Pilgrim Room would be unique indeed. One whole wall will be lined with attractive murals pictorially telling the Story of Johnny Billington. This colonial youth is typical of the mischievous boy of today who wanders away from home with his dog Trojan. Falling into the hands of the Indians, Johnny's return played a large part in bringing about trading relations between settlers and Indians. Another feature of the new Pilgrim Room will be miniature, life-like replicas of early American settlers which will line the Main street entrance-way to the room. Located at 1308 South Main street the Bob Johnston Agency handles all types of general insurance. Johnston stated that Parkes' policy holders may contact him for any service or renewals that may be required. A lifelong resident of Plymouth, Johnston has been in the insurance business for the past seven years.

Baccalaureate Event Leads Off Graduation Week

One of the highlights of graduation week events will be the Baccalaureate services to be held at the High school Sunday, June 14, at 8 p. m. The graduating seniors will take part in this most solemn of commencement activities. The program will begin with the prelude played by Eric Eklund. The processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," will bring the seniors marching into the auditorium. The invocation will be given by the Reverend David L. Rieder, and "O Rejoice, Ye Christians, Loudly" will be sung by the Plymouth High school choir directed by Fred C. Nelson. Organ music will be provided by Jon Brake. The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson will deliver the sermon for the Baccalaureate service. The audience and students will join in the hymn "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name." After the benediction by Reverend E. T. Hadwin, Eric Eklund will play the recessional. Ushers and decorations will be provided by the Class of 1955.

Goddard is New Rotary President

The board of directors of Rotary elevated Lewis Goddard to the presidency of the club at a special meeting held last Friday. The resignation of Captain William Roberts from the club caused the change since Captain Roberts was president, elect and Goddard was vice-president elect. At the same time Patrick McGuire was named vice-president and David Galin was appointed to the board of directors. The new officers will assume their duties on July first.

New Proposed Zoning Map Published In This Edition

The Plymouth Mail this week publishes on page 3 of the first section of the city's proposed Zoning Map. Printed as a public service, it gives readers detailed information on the zoning categories into which their property and adjacent areas fall. Individual designations are marked off on the map with heavy dash-dot lines. Huge areas of the city are to be completely re-zoned under the pending zoning ordinance. A PR-1 district and R-1A and R-2 have been added as new designations. They are referred to by city planners as "buffer" type areas between R-1 and commercial and industrial areas. Before the package Zoning Ordinance, along with the map, becomes law, the Planning Commission will hold public hearings on June 11, starting at 7:30 p. m., and again on June 13, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sidney D. Strong, chairman of the Planning Commission, recently emphasized that city planners will record all recommendations for changes in the proposed law. Each citizen proposal will be discussed and ruled before being accepted or rejected, Strong said. The ordinance will then be reported out to city commissioners where it will be read three times at separate sessions before becoming law.

Parkes Agency To Bob Johnston

According to an announcement this week by Insurance Agent Bob Johnston of Plymouth, the insurance business of Duane Parkes has been purchased by the Johnston agency. Parkes moved this week to Fremont where he will take over an insurance position in nearby Muskegon. Located at 1308 South Main street the Bob Johnston Agency handles all types of general insurance. Johnston stated that Parkes' policy holders may contact him for any service or renewals that may be required. A lifelong resident of Plymouth, Johnston has been in the insurance business for the past seven years.

Hospitalize Greenlee

Plymouth's 50-year-old chief of police, Carl Greenlee, was Monday admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor for observation and X-ray diagnosis. His condition late Tuesday was described as "good" by hospital authorities. Greenlee was removed to the hospital Monday morning shortly after reporting for work. He was said to be in "extreme pain."

Firemen late last week were called to a dwelling occupied by Ozzie Hinote of 540 South Mill street. A gas line to a hot water heater was accidentally broken by an occupant. There was no fire.

New Concern Plans $75,000 Factory Here

A new industry has come to Plymouth. James H. Hinckley, president and treasurer of the recently incorporated Superior Heat Treat company, said last Friday his firm expects to start production here "within the next 60 days." Construction work on the first division of a $75,000 all metal, mill-type factory building that will house the firm got underway early last week. When four similar 75 by 20 feet divisions of the plant are completed the structure will occupy more than 400,000 square feet on a two-acre site at 350 Mill street. Hinckley said the manufacturing operations of his firm to start will total between $250,000 to $500,000 a year. It will employ a labor force of upwards to 10 increasing that figure to some 50 employees as production swings into high gear on "round the clock" operations. Hinckley, who is also president and treasurer of the Superior Furnace and Manufacturing company here, said the new corporation sees a "huge demand in this area" for heat treating. The firm anticipates extensive contracts with automotive companies in the Detroit area. Heat treating is one process whereby varying types of metals are made harder, more malleable or stress relieved through subjecting them to temperatures ranging from 1,300 to 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit. "Heat treating is becoming recognized as an increasingly specialized and important step in manufacturing," Hinckley said. He observed that his firm will specialize on "hot roll and alloy bars, treating to customers' specifications."

City Pays Tribute to Its War Dead

Plymouth Saturday bowed its head in reverence and in memory—a tribute to the city's and the country's war dead. Some 25 veterans organizations, fraternal and service groups and youth units joined in the Memorial Day parade forming a line of march from North Main at Mill and jogging south to Kellogg park. It was at the park that Boy Scouts laid the wreath in memorial to servicemen who died in the service of their country. A volley of rifle shots and taps signaled the end to official ceremonies. The invocation was given by Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist church, with Captain William Roberts of the Salvation Army giving the benediction in tribute to war dead. Ray Gardner, commander of the Passage Gayde post of the American Legion was Grand Marshal while Mayor Russell M. Daane was the master of ceremonies. Memorial services were touched off at 10 a. m. when members of the Navy Mothers club cast a flowered wreath from the bridge in memory of the city's Navy dead from all wars. When the parade stepped off at about 10:15 a. m. city officials, veterans organization officers and the local Gold Star chapter reviewed the line of march as it proceeded south to the park.

Floyd Tibbitts In Auto Accident

City Commissioner Floyd Tibbitts and three other Plymouth residents were injured Memorial Day in an accident from which the driver of the other vehicle fled. Tibbitts, his wife, Florence, and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryder were all removed to Sessions hospital, Northville, as a result of the crash. All were traveling in Tibbitts' car. The accident occurred the evening of Saturday, May 30, at Novi and Ten Mile roads, Novi township. Tibbitts said he was driving south on Novi road when a car crossed the yellow line and headed straight down the road toward him. Tibbitts said, it was as if the other driver were playing "chicken." After the crash occurred the driver of the other car fled the scene of the accident leaving the damaged 1939 Plymouth. There were no indications that he had been injured. Novi police constable Vern Loeffler, who was called to the scene, said the Plymouth is owned by Chester Spencer of Walled Lake. Spencer, on being questioned, stated that his car had been either borrowed or stolen several hours before the accident occurred. Loeffler has warned Spencer that he will be held responsible for the crash if the name of the driver is not revealed. Tibbitts said he thought he was going about 35 miles an hour when the crash occurred, and estimated that the other vehicle was traveling at about the same speed. He has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of the driver for leaving the scene of an accident. Tibbitts suffered an injured nose and several fractured ribs in the crash. Mrs. Tibbitts received general lacerations and a severely lacerated leg. Ryder suffered a lacerated forehead and chin, while his wife, Rita, sustained a fractured ankle. All are expected to be released from the hospital sometime this week.

Approve Added Street Lights For Downtown Area

Additional street lighting to "put our merchants in a position to better cope with the competition presented in other areas" got official approval early this week.

The added lighting will be placed on Main street, Ann Arbor trail and Penniman. It will increase the city's $9,800 annual street lighting bill by an estimated $750.

Main street between Maple and Fralick; Penniman from Ann Arbor trail to near Harvey; and Ann Arbor trail between Penniman and Forest have been recommended as sites for added night illumination.

In other official action the city agreed to pave without charge a 132 foot strip of sidewalk abutting property owned by James Tidwell. Tidwell agreed to give the city a four-foot strip of his property that will permit the widening of the south side of Spring street to 50 feet.

At this same time commissioners passed into law an amendment to the Traffic Ordinance that states the "owner of such motor vehicle was the person who parked or placed such motor vehicle at the point where the violation occurred. The amendment passed its third reading and will become effective on June 22.

It permits the license number of a motor vehicle to be introduced as evidence that the automobile is owned by the violator. Commissioners also heard of a tentative Hotel Mayflower dinner-business meet with local and Detroit area Automobile Association of America officials.

City officials and others will hear the AAA's written report of its traffic survey of Plymouth along with its recommendations.

The survey, headed by Arthur Knoske, Detroit traffic engineer, covered a six weeks' period.

Would Handle Fund Drives If Red Cross OK's

When its drive for funds starts here early in 1934, the American Red Cross may seek funds from just clubs and residents, dropping aside business and industrial solicitations.

This announcement was made Tuesday by Tom Kent, president of the Plymouth Community Fund.

Kent said negotiations are continuing with Red Cross officials to accept from the Community

Fund a budget allocation of $2,500 in exchange for an agreement to drop businesses and industries from local collection lists.

Kent reported a field representative as having said the Wayne County Chapter might go along. The agreement would be one of the first of its kind. It must still be officially approved.

Kent started the move to eliminate fund drive duplications some seven months ago.

If final agreements are reached the Red Cross would still reserve the right to make fraternal club and door-to-door collections.

Up to this time the Red Cross as a matter of national policy has refused to permit its fund drives to be absorbed and funds allocated to it through Red Feather agencies.

Plymouth School district faces for the next several years will pose many problems."

He said "I hope to be able to meet these problems with full consideration for the well-being and good education which our youth so richly deserve, and at the same time have an ever watchful eye for the costs involved."

Mrs. Esther Bertha Franklin: "Generally speaking, our first objective should be to maintain our present high standards and to seek improvement whenever and wherever it becomes possible. But we must not lose sight of the fact that it is the responsibility of each school board member to make certain that every tax dollar allotted for this purpose is spent judiciously."

Mrs. Franklin said that as a parent "I have always been interested in promoting good education." She said that her interest had been intensified, in the past two years, "by my work with the school - Community Planning group." She observed the public schools here "enjoy an excellent reputation."

Mrs. Kathryn Huber: "In the past 10 years, since my three sons have been in school, most of my interest has centered around school activities, P.T.A., School Community Planning group and band activity. I shall try in every way possible to promote the fine educational system of our community to the best possible advantage of our children."

Mrs. Huber said that she felt "the voice of the electorate should be sought and considered in matters pertaining to financial undertakings and major changes within the school district."

Mrs. Huber taught in the public schools for two years after graduating from the State Teachers college in Buffalo, New York.

Robert J. McAllister: "I am interested in the Plymouth school system and desire to maintain the steady progress we have had. I have two children attending school here and believe parents should take an active part in af-airs of the school. I shall try to have the interests of everyone at heart."

McAllister has been fire chief in Plymouth since 1945. Last year he was the president of the Michigan State Fire Chiefs association. He attended Kalamazoo College in 1940.

Mrs. Alice V. Strong: "I think there is no question that building of new schools has to continue to keep abreast of future development of the school district."

Mrs. Strong is a former president and secretary of the Board of Education here. She was elected to three consecutive terms, and served from 1930 to 1948.

She received her A. B. degree from Kalamazoo College and an M. A. degree from the University of Chicago. She taught briefly in the Kalamazoo Public Schools.

"My interest in education has never abated," Mrs. Strong said. "While I have no child in school I do have enough grandchildren to keep me well posted."

Mrs. Strong declared that "one has to work with the school board to realize what their needs are before making broad statements on policy making."

Stephen E. Tallian, Sr.: Tallian, is currently employed here as a special tool machinist at Whitman & Barnes. He is a former member of the Plymouth police department and auxiliary police officer.

Born in Pennsylvania Tallian attended the Pittsburgh Academy there and attended the University of Pittsburgh from 1918 to 1922.

He has resided here since 1940 during which time he was employed by the National Twist Drill & Tool company and the Daisy Air Rifle company here as a war production instructor.

Tallian is currently enrolled in time study engineering with the Michigan Time Study School.

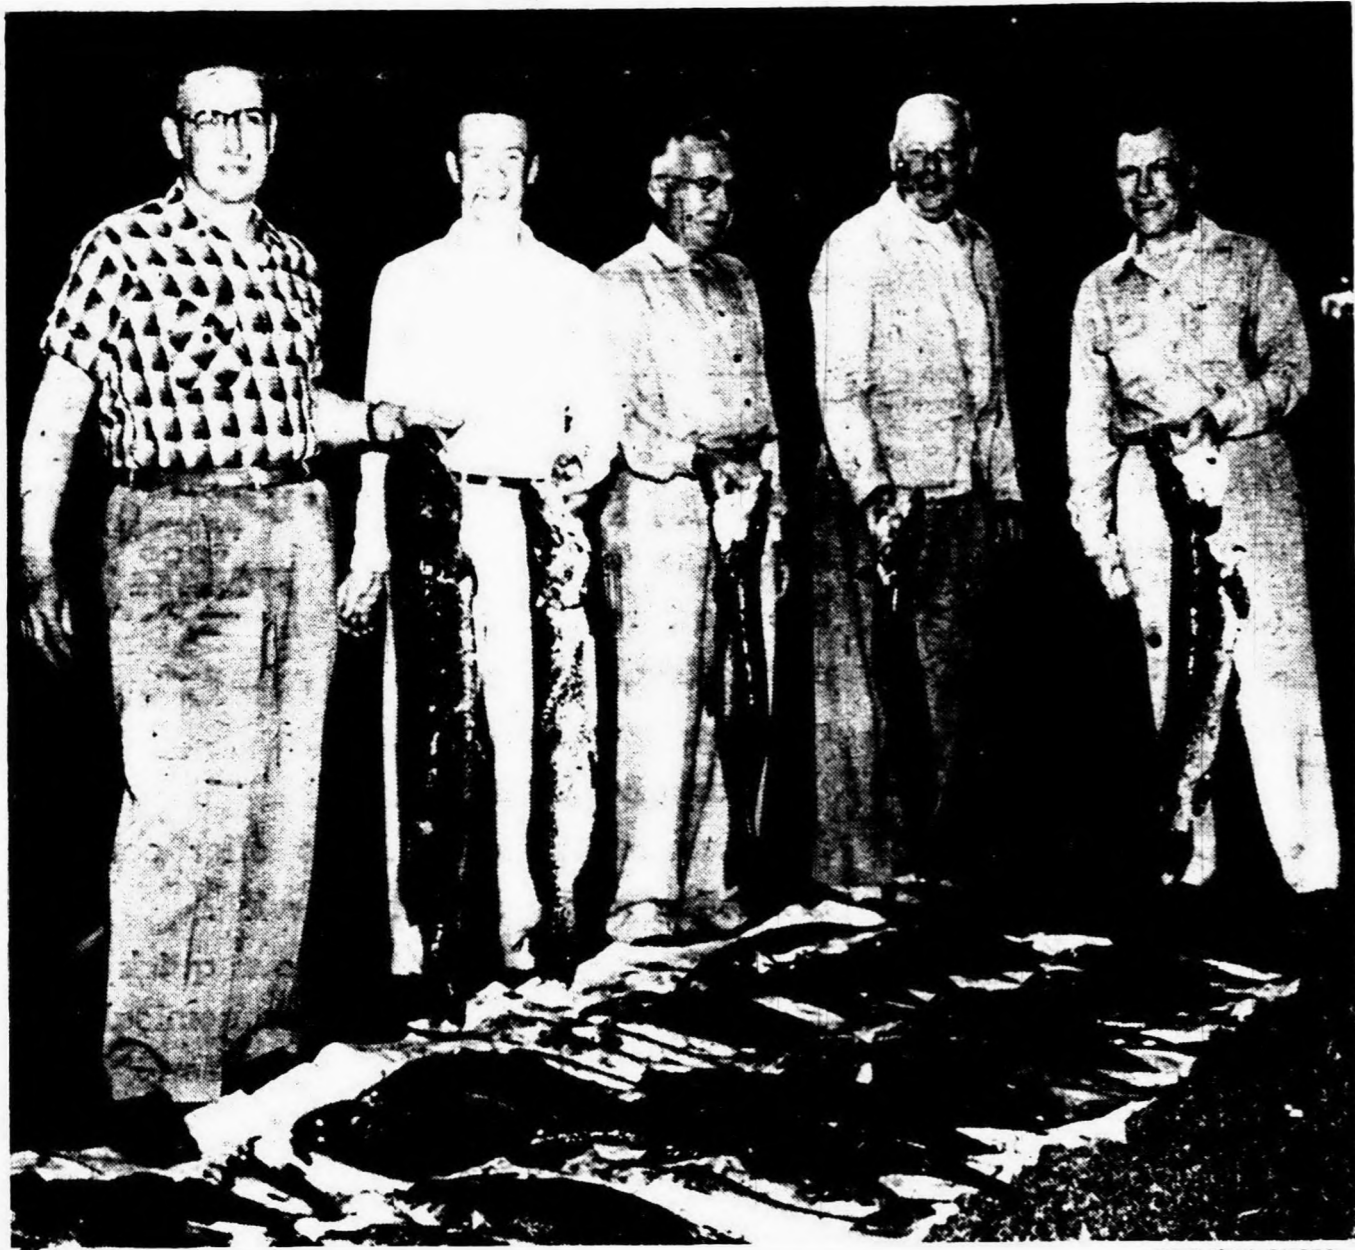

He is the father of three boys, two of whom are attending schools here.

School Board Candidates Reveal Views On Eve of Biggest Expected Election

Future problems of the public schools here, maintaining high standards and parental interest were generally cited by 10 school board candidates, eight of whom present their views in this article.

Statements from each of the 10, two of whom will be elected to two trustee openings next Monday, were requested by The Plymouth Mail.

The statements received, by mail are listed (by alphabetical order).

Harold J. Belch: "I am interested in the efficient operation of our schools. Money wisely spent is our investment in the future; it should not be wasted. Careful consideration of expenditures is as important in our schools as it is in any business, so that we may obtain the best for our children without waste."

Belch continues with "Plymouth is expanding and more children from the rural areas are coming into the system. I feel that there should be representation on the school board from this area. As a resident of the township I can recognize first hand some of the problems of this group."

"I feel that the welfare and happiness of our children is the

"After having served for one year on the Community School Planning committee, I became very interested in the school problems and feel that I would like to further participate in school-community work," Booth declared.

He noted that he has resided here for seven years during which time he has had an active interest in the Parent-Teachers associations at Bird and Central schools and the Parent-Teacher-Student association at Central. Booth is the District Representative for the American Thread company.

Carl Caplin: "I anticipate no radical departures from the course already set by the present board and administration of the school system. I am in accord with the acts that have brought the Plymouth schools to a standard of high esteem in the state. It is my feeling that I will be joining an already efficient and highly successful team."

Caplin pointed out that "the rapid population growth that the

Just as a personal wardrobe is designed for change and variety for the owner, a table setting wardrobe will give new personalities to your tables. One doesn't wear the same costume every day or even the same colors or combinations of colors. We have costumes for dress-up— for casual— for street wear, and for the most informal occasions. We have costumes in colors to express our moods, to complement our own coloring, to satisfy a variety of needs and occasions.

What do we have in our table setting wardrobe? . . . linens, glassware centerpieces, flowers and accessories. In these items we have the opportunity for variety, for injecting a dress-up or casual "personality" into our tables. A change of color, of texture, of degree of informality or formality in these items is the means for creating tables with different and exciting airs.

The most important feature of a table wardrobe is the dinnerware service. Whether you have one, two or three sets of dinnerware, or a mixture of several more—it remains fairly constant for many years. It may be compared to the "basic" dress in the personal wardrobe; the staple item whose texture, quality, colors and design inspire a gamut of costumes when accessories are added for variety. Our basic dress then serves us from a morning in the office to the special dinner date; an afternoon shopping trip to evening activities.

Your dinnerware likewise serves you through the day-but at the same time is the inspiration for changes in your table settings. Its patterns will suggest numerous themes for the table; and its colors, a variety in your linens and flowers.

Such a table setting wardrobe need not be costly or time consuming. For a variety in linens there are very nice and reasonable cloths on the market which come in a wide selection of colors. Or select your favorite shade in a yard goods department and make your own cloths and mats. Pastel sheets, feminine lacy dresser scarves, tailored and textured towels will amaze you with their adaptability. Organically will dress up an otherwise casual cloth.

For your centerpiece, just look about the house - and you will discover many items which can be used for this purpose - - - the antique tea caddy, your china glass or silver serving pieces, a roll basket, and even incidental ash trays, which can serve for low floral arrangements at each place setting. There are numerous items you have about the house which will help to give your table a different look, a different air.

Your table setting wardrobe need not require a great deal of cash - - what it will require is creative imagination. Try it - - you'll be amazed - - so will the family who always enjoy "something different."

"Judge, you know I ain't guilty; won't you give me another trial?" pleaded the frequent offender.

"Surely, I'll give you another if you get into this court again. Ten dollars and costs."

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLDTIMERS

From E. C. Wyatt, Elkins, Va.: I remember when a paper bag was called a poke; when a baby chick was called a biddy; and when the old timers use to go into the deep woods and get a large knot, shape it up, bore a hole through the center for a handle and use it to drive fence posts or wedges in logs and split them into fence rails. The wooden wedges were called "gluts." They were usually made from dogwood and well seasoned before using. They were usually made during the early winter months.

From Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Bell, California: I remember when I was a child my Dad had a cotton gin. My brother and I had to feed the sucker that took the cotton from the wagon to the press. One day my brother stuck his head in it and it sucked his hat up and got into the gin teeth. Dad had to stop the gin and it cost him a lot of valuable time.

From Mrs. Ellen Gustafson, Omaha, Neb.: I remember as a child when we use to carry in snow in winter time to melt for our baths which we took in the kitchen. Those were indeed happy days.

From Mrs. Clara Scheid, Ft. Recovery, Ohio: I remember when we bought crackers by the barrel, made 30 gallons of kraut for our family of four, and dug dandelions out of our yard for 10 cents a day.

(Address contributions for the column to The Old Timer, Community Press Service, Frankfort, Kentucky.)

Unknown Donors Give City $2300 For New Tractor

The city today is richer by a $2,500 tractor equipped with a front end rotary broom as the result of an outright cash gift accepted from anonymous donors.

Commissioners Monday unanimously agreed to accept the cash offer of some $2,300 which stipulated only that the city buy a rotary broom equipped tractor, presumably for dust and snow removal besides a variety of maintenance needs.

The offers were made through Perry W. Richwine, secretary and attorney of the Plymouth Federal Savings & Loan association.

Richwine declined to reveal the donors' names. He said, however, the account of which he is custodian is an "accumulation of gifts from local businessmen" earmarked for civic improvements. Interest payments alone were said to have more than doubled the account's total worth over a period of 20 years.

Plymouth High Clinches

(Continued from Page 1) school record in the latter event, but placed only second—he hurled the iron ball a distance of 50 feet 7 inches. Glenn broke the league record when he tossed it 52 feet 5½ inches. Kelly ran the 220 in 22.7 to break the league record by 3 tenths of a second.

The Plymouth Medley relay team also broke the league record by more than three seconds when they ran it in 2 minutes 38.6 seconds. This quartet was composed of Ed Grosjean, Ralph Wagenschutz, Bill Bush and Rod Juve, who ran a splendid last 440 leg to come from third to win by two feet.

In amassing the record total, the Rocks scored in each event. Gerry Swain started it off with a fifth in the high hurdles. The Rock medley relay team then broke the record in winning the event. Jerry Kelly won the 100 yard dash in 10.4 seconds, John Balogh ran his best mile race of the year, but was ripped at the tape by Middlewood of Bentley in the good time of 4:50.6. Tom Davis of Plymouth was third. Paul Hamlin ran a good 440 race to finish third with Lee Juve running in fourth place. Kelly then set his record in the 220 yard dash. Swain finished third and Wagenschutz fifth in the low hurdles. Lynn Becker finished third and Ralph Bakewell fourth in the half-mile.

Plymouth ran away from the field in the 880 yard relay, but couldn't quite smash the record—the quartet of Ralph Wagenschutz, Ed Grosjean, Bill Bush and Jerry Kelly ran it in 1:37.2.

Plymouth picked up 11 points in the broad jump when Mecklenberg outjumped the others to win with a leap of 19 feet 6½ inches. Jim Troutman was second and Rod Juve fifth. Troutman also tied for first in the pole vault at 10 feet, and Bob Gobiell tied for third. Ron Nyhus was second in the shot with Jerry Vettese third. Pagenkopf won the high jump at 5 feet 8 inches and Troutman tied for fourth.

Plymouth won another trophy for their case and also two batons for winning the relays. Kelly was high point man with 11¼ points. Troutman had 10 points. This concluded the track season for this year.

Redecorates Barber Shop

The barber shop of Orin Scrimger at 200 South Main street has been completely remodeled and air conditioned. According to Scrimger, the interior has been paneled with Idaho spruce.

Lineman Dies From Fall While Restoring Power Cut by Storm

Plymouth got socked last Saturday night with a severe electrical storm that ended with one man dead, parts of the city plunged into darkness and some users without telephone service.

Dead is James Weber, of Dearborn, a Detroit Edison line foreman from the Ann Arbor division. He was killed instantly here Saturday night following a headlong plunge from a utility pole while restoring a power failure at Edison's Farmer-Theodore streets sub-station.

It was at the sub-station that lightning struck an overhead line. The heavy charge "blew up" the interior of the station and charred an underground cable.

Weber was dead on arrival at Wayne County General hospital. An official coroner's report attributed the death to a severe skull fracture. A preliminary examination did not reveal burn marks that would indicate Weber was struck down by lightning or electrocuted.

His death came after north and east portions of the city were plunged into darkness for more than four hours following the power failure at 9 p. m.

Bell Telephone officials here said the local exchange operated on emergency battery power until 4 a. m. Sunday. Dean Sipson, branch manager, said some 60 telephone users here were without service upwards to eight hours when bolts of lightning ripped the insulation off some cables or an estimated three-quarters of an inch of pelting rain shorted out the lines.

Some 55 telephone repairmen worked throughout the night restoring broken or shorted lines. On Davis and Spring a two-block long section of cable was replaced. It had been struck by lightning in numerous places.

In other parts of the city there were reports of basements being flooded by the brief but heavy rainfall. And some storm sewers clogged by debris piled up water curbed high.

Margaret Wilson, manager of the Penn Theater, said some 200 disappointed movie goers were refunded their money or given return tickets after the sub-station failure cut electrical power that fed projector equipment.

Police report that they were forced to use power from a portable generator, kept for such emergencies, to keep radio communications from failing.

Detroit Edison called in an emergency crew of seven from Wayne and Ann Arbor to restore electrical service. According to reports of crewmen, Weber had ascended a utility pole to repair a line break when he presumably lost his balance and plunged to the ground.

Principles of Christian Stewardship.
Lesson for June 7: II Corinthians 9.
Golden Text: II Corinthians 9:7.

Before setting forth the principles of Christian stewardship, Paul commends the Corinthians for their generosity previously shown, and he urged them to continue in their giving. Paul was engaged in securing an offering from different churches for the poor saints in Jerusalem, and he was anxious that the Corinthians should have their full share in that work of generosity.

Christian stewardship depends upon the recognition of the fact that all men have come from God and that it is committed to them as a sacred trust. Stewardship is a higher law than that of the tithe. For it requires that men shall give all that they can to God's service. They are to give all they can—in money, time, and talents. And every gift should be accompanied by thanksgiving to God for his goodness.

Paul lays down what may be termed principles of Christian stewardship and they may well be followed today. First of all, men should give liberally, that they may reap bountifully. And they should be cheerful givers, not "grudgingly," for God loves a cheerful giver. So let us give in such way that we shall find joy in the giving. And what we give will then minister unto our happiness while it supplies the needs of others.

Well, Grandma did it again. A couple of Chicago doctors have been taking tests, and they find the old-fashioned way of treating the common cold is better than a barrage of modern drugs. The doctors studied 159 patients... which is a good-sized batch of sniffles. One group of patients received bed rest, fluids and aspirin. The other got all that, plus a liberal helping of sulfa. And what happened? The wonder drugs failed to score. The folks who were restricted to Grandma's old-fashioned remedies got well faster and had fewer after effects. Of course, if you've got more than a cold, the drugs can often work wonders. But if it's just a cold, these doctors say you might as well stick with Grandma... and come out a clear head ahead!

Kiwanis to Meet At Scout Cabin

A film, "Fishing in Alaska," was presented Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Kiwanis club at the Mayflower hotel. Depicting the thrills of "reeling in the big ones" in the beautiful setting of the northland, the film was shown by Program Chairman Ed Campbell. As an added feature preceding the film, Mary Lou Hartwick sang "I Believe" and "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes."

Next Tuesday evening the Plymouth Kiwanians will officially open the club's Girl Scout cabin for the season with a dinner meeting to be attended by members and their families.

Campbell, who is also in charge of arrangements for the dinner, stated that a large turnout is expected and pointed out that every Kiwanian should see the cabin which has brought so much joy to Wayne county crippled children as a summer day camp. He said members should bring their own service and one dish to pass.

Recreational activities on the grounds will be volley-ball, games, softball, box hockey, zell ball, horseshoes, checkers, story-telling and group singing.

Playground leaders who will take charge of the children are: Janice Valika, Mary L. Pipe, Sue Daniel, Sally Shuttleworth, Sally Truesdell, Betty Stanbursky, Margaret Penhale, Glenna Fraleigh, Barbara Packard, Barbara Nelson and Betty Gregory, life guard. The Tot-Lot personnel, though not complete, includes Joan Bassett, Deanna Wahn, Theresa Wilkins, and Joanne Donnelly.

AMONG THE many apparatus used at the Reading Clinic at Madonna College is the Reading Accelerator demonstrated in use by Robert Degenhardt, of 11716 Jarvis, Plymouth, one of the pupils. The moving shutter descends over a column of print at any desired speed from 30 to 2,400 words a minute, forcing the reader to follow the page at the set rate. Summer instructions at the Clinic will resume June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs have moved from Adams street and are now settled in their new home on Penniman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bullard of Maple avenue were the Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rotarius of Union street. Following an evening of cards, dainty refreshments were served by the hosts.

On Thursday evening, tonight, St. John's Episcopal church will sponsor a Smorgasbord dinner in the church hall from 5:30 to 8 p. m.

Mrs. William C. Smith and her sister, Elizabeth Sutherland are leaving this weekend for Leamington, Ontario, where they will spend the summer months.

The annual picnic of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's church will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Willoughby on West Ann Arbor trail on Wednesday June 17.

Little Judy Ann Burgett spent the weekend with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road.

Mrs. John Henderson was hostess to the members of her SYG club Wednesday evening in her home on Sunset avenue.

Mrs. Jack Dobbs of Kalamazoo with her houseguest Mrs. Arnold Thompson also of Kalamazoo spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Bassett and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs.

Sue Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry of Roosevelt avenue, will have as her weekend houseguest her cousin, Miss Carole Lee McLemore of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson returned to their home on Sunset avenue Monday evening after a three day visit in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

Handle With Care

Have you a baby in your home? What a joy... and what a problem, too! Of course, your particular problem is those diapers! There they are, and they've got to be done, because your chief aim is the baby's comfort. To make it easier for you, and to get the best results, here are a few rules to follow.

Scheduling is a must in caring for baby, and the diaper duty will fit right in, if you plan it as a daily chore. You'll find this best. Soiled diapers should be immediately dunked in the toilet bowl, holding them by one corner. Then, into a special soaking solution they go, in a 2-gallon enamel pail with a cover. Fill it half full of cold water and 2 tablespoons borax.

To wash them, use HOT water—the hotter the better. After wringing out the soaking solution, wash them in a good, sudsy water and add a half cup of head-bluing, and a good water conditioner, if necessary. Putting the detergent-base head-bluing right in the washing water is much better than the old fashioned way of putting it in the rinse water. There's no chance of over-bluing, and every bit of the soap and detergent is rinsed away. You'll find your washing machine your best friend for laundering baby's things. You need run the machine only 5 minutes if these instructions are followed.

After rinsing, shake them well and dry, then smooth and fold. Never iron. They'll be softer and more comfortable, and why work when you don't have to.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hare of Williamston and their son spent the holiday weekend with Mrs. Hare's mother, Mrs. Louise Hutton of West Ann Arbor trail.

The Kenyon Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Ira Hauk, 48708 Warren road on May 13. Lessons for the following year were discussed.

Nancy Ann Peck celebrated her fifth birthday on June 1 by having five of her little friends in for a party. Guests were Linda Baughman, Ray Christensen, Betty Moberg, Judy Moberg and Christine Deaner.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley St. Charles of Clinton, Illinois, and Mrs. Charles O. Lueke motored to Battle Creek Sunday and spent the day with Mr. Lueke.

Billy Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henry of West Ann Arbor trail, entertained ten of his playmates at a birthday party Wednesday evening in celebration of his eighth birthday.

He who is not introduced to folly in his youth too often weds her in his old age.

Madonna College Plans to Resume Reading Clinic

Madonna college will resume its remedial reading services for elementary school children Monday, June 22. A part of the Madonna College Educational Clinic this service aims to help children from grades three to eight to overcome reading difficulties and to reach their proper reading level.

Summer instructions will extend from June 22 to July 31. They will be given daily Monday through Friday for one hour to individual pupils or in groups of two at a time arranged previously by clinicians in conference with the parents. Seven full-time clinicians will be available this summer.

There are still a few openings for the summer reading clinic services. Parents who wish to enroll their children are asked to contact the registrar before June 18. Call Plymouth 528 or apply in person at Madonna college, 36800 Schoolcraft.

Preliminary test and screenings to determine the child's present reading level and his special reading difficulties will be administered June 18 and 19 beginning at 9 a.m. On the basis of this diagnosis, clinicians will devise a suitable program of remedial work for each child.

Madonna College Educational Clinic opened its Reading Service last summer and has carried on instruction every Saturday morning throughout the past year. A capacity number of children from the vicinity made use of this opportunity to improve their reading.

Occupying one floor of Loretto Hall, on the college campus, the Clinic is well equipped with modern diagnostic and remedial reading apparatus.

In addition to a number of tests and personal interviews, diagnosis of reading difficulties is further checked by the use of a telebinocular for visual screening, a recorder for reproducing reading, and an ophthalmograph for recording eye movements.

In the process of instruction, clinicians also use a number of modern devices to help pupils attain their proper reading level more rapidly. A reading accelerator, with a controlled moving slide, forces the pupil to increase his reading speed. The tachistoscope, which flashes words, phrases and sentences at a set rate, aids in quick recognition. A speedscope attachable to a projector is used for time-controlled projection of filmstrips and slides having reading matter.

Two to Receive Antioch Degrees

Two Plymouth High school graduates will receive degrees at the Commencement of the 100th Year of Antioch College, June 20. The event will mark the completion of their undergraduate educations under Antioch's program of combining on-campus study with full-time employment from coast to coast.

Owen Hedden, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hedden, 9805 Berwick, will receive a B. S. degree in engineering. Kathleen F. Blossom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Blossom, 328 Adams street, will be awarded a B. A. degree in education.

Under the study-plus-work program, Hedden has been employed by Detroit Edison company, first as a meter tester's helper and later as a student engineer. He also has had work experience with United Welding company, Babcock and Wilcox Research Center and Corn Products Refining company. Hedden has accepted a research assistantship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he will begin graduate study next year. After Commencement he will marry Miss Betty Goetz, of Yellow Springs, who also has been awarded an M.I.T. fellowship.

Miss Blossom has held jobs with the Chicago Sun-Times, Mutual Broadcasting System, Radio Reports, Inc., the Antioch

College Alumni Office and Crowley, Milner and company in Detroit. During her period of study, she has been active in the community newspaper, women's athletics, radio workshop and education club. She plans to teach languages in high school.

Commencement will be a prologue to the college's Centennial observance which begins next fall. The three-day program, including an address by Dr. Karl Compton chancellor of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be climaxed when Dr. Douglas McGregor, Antioch president, awards degrees to the 190 graduating seniors.

ONE OF THE MOST UNUSUAL house plants cultivated by Plymouth residents is the avocado tree of Mrs. Ernest Burden of 390 Adams street. The tree, which grows quite tall, has had to be trimmed to keep it from touching the ceiling. An avocado tree does not bear fruit, Mrs. Burden said, when it is grown inside away from others of the species.

Local Boy Finds Fun Raising Black Bear Named "Buster" as Pet

Having a big black bear for a pet is anything but normal, but for Jerry Vettese, senior at Plymouth High school, there's nothing unusual about it. His bear, whom he has named "Buster", makes his home in back of the Vettese house at 4234 Gotfredson road.

When Jerry first got Buster the bear was almost like a member of the family. He lived down in the basement then, but he was only about three weeks old when he was taken in by Jerry. One of Jerry's friends found three bear cubs in Northern Michigan and presented one of them to Jerry. When Buster got to be about one year old he was moved to a cage on the Vettese farm and has remained there ever since.

"Boy, how people used to stare at us," Jerry said, telling how he used to lead Buster around on a leash when he was a cub. He used to have fun with the bear in those days, he said. He recalled going down the basement to get Buster and discovering him missing. Buster later turned up curled up in a bed.

Now that Buster is "about 5 years old" Jerry doesn't know quite what to do with him. One thing is certain, he pointed out, and that is that he'll never make a dinner out of him. Buster's life in the cage has an O. K. from the State Conservation officers who come around to check on the care of wild animals. Buster has a house in his cage which allows him to crawl in out of the weather.

Jerry hasn't been into the cage with Buster for several years so doesn't know if he would be dangerous or not. In cleaning the cage, he just boards Buster up in his house until the job is done. "No sense in taking any chances," Jerry said.

Buster isn't hard to feed, for he likes bread and fruit. And contrary to appearances he doesn't eat very much. Particularly not in winter when all good bears are supposed to hibernate. Buster's a little different Jerry said, because he stays in the house for about a week and then comes out to see how life is outside. This generally goes on throughout the winter.

At any rate, life is not treating Buster too badly. His thick glossy coat shows that his life in the cage agrees with him.

BUSTER ENJOYS EATING the grass his owner, Jerry Vettese, holds up to the wires of his cage. Anyone can see that Buster is a good-sized bear, and as Jerry says, "I'd sure hate to meet him alone in the woods." But with Buster in the cage, however, they are the best of friends.

Board to Review Bids Tonight on PHS Remodeling

The Board of Education here last week at a special session deferred until tonight final decision on low bids of $52,303 for remodeling and relocating the high school's clothing and food laboratories and its cafeteria kitchen.

School board members tabled the bids for study after agreeing "they appeared too high."

Remodeling of the laboratory and kitchen facilities are part of a $180,000 rejuvenation throughout the entire building that will see other vocational and science laboratories reconstructed and newly equipped in coming months.

Included in the remodeling of the cafeteria will be a facility for refreshments and a "nook" where students may gather for friendly chats on after-school occasions.

Bids for general contracting that will be accepted or rejected outright at tonight's special board meeting were submitted by Killfoile-Wendeln Construction company, $43,420; and Smith and Andrews, $49,945.

Kitchen contractors submitting bids are Canton China, $9,995; Gold Star Products, $9,983; and Niagara China & Equipment company, $8,883.

Remodeling was set to begin after June 18 when school is adjourned for the summer months.

DeHoCo Escapee Gives Self Up to Deputies

James Newsom, 30, of Detroit, won an hour and a half of freedom Sunday after walking away from the Detroit House of Correction only to be recaptured by deputies from the Wayne County Road Patrol.

Newsom surrendered to police without a fight as they converged on him at a point adjacent to Schoolcraft and Merriman.

Edward Gardiner, superintendent of DeHoCo, joined deputies at the scene.

Newsom was sentenced March 13 to nine months in DeHoCo on an aggravated assault charge. DeHoCo authorities indicated Newsom would receive additional penalty on the escape charge.

Plymouth authorities and police from Livonia and Redford joined the manhunt.

It is not possible to found a lasting power upon injustice, jealousy, and treachery.

This Week—Bank Teller JOHN PINT

John Pint is familiar to many residents as one of the window tellers at the Plymouth branch of the National Bank of Detroit. Pint has been employed at the bank for four years—in fact, he is celebrating his anniversary at the bank this month.

On the job, Pint greets the bank's customers with a pleasant smile and a willingness to help. In general his job as teller consists of taking care of various transactions, handling the bulk of money and performing similar services. He enjoys his job particularly, he said, because it gives him an opportunity to meet a lot of people.

Pint moved to Plymouth with his parents about 13 years ago. As a young boy he lived in Detroit. After graduating from Plymouth High school in 1947 he attended the University of Michigan. Now at 23 he is married and lives with his wife, Barbara, at 4205 Nicol street.

As for leisure-time activities, Pint places an emphasis on hunting and fishing. Fishing, of course, is taking the top priority right now. What shows this better than the fact that he has just finished constructing a small boat for use on this summer's fishing trips. He hopes, with the addition of the new boat, to hook on to some of those big ones he's heard about.

Token Cut Set in College Student Draft Deferments

WASHINGTON—Science Service is quoted as recently having said it learned that a token cut in college draft deferments will shortly be authorized by President Eisenhower.

Only a small percentage of this year's freshman students and this year's seniors who want to go on to graduate school will be affected.

The guide to deferment will be the selective service college qualification test. Freshmen will have had to achieve a grade of 72 rather than 70 to continue in their sophomore year or to have stood in the upper one-third, rather than the upper one-half of his freshmen class.

College seniors setting their sights on graduate school will have had to score 80 rather than 70 or higher to continue their deferments.

The National Manpower Council of Columbia University made the recommendations for the changes to keep a continuous flow of students through the schools and colleges. A victory for the schools was seen from this point of view in the token nature of the cut in deferments.

The executive order to be signed by the President has already been agreed to by the Defense Department, the Department of Labor and by Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, and manpower officials in the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Science Service said that it is estimated that the higher standards for this year's freshmen will cut the number of deferred students graduating from college in 1957 by about 10 per cent. No estimate of the effect on graduate schools has been made.

Approximately 200,000 college students are now covered by draft deferment.

Discover Aspen Good Deer Food

Michigan's former "weed tree," the aspen, can provide a partial solution to the state's acute problem of food shortages for deer, a University of Michigan study reveals.

Conducted by Casey Westell Jr., research assistant in the U-M School of Natural Resources, as part of the Michigan Memorial-Phoenix Project, the study shows that each acre of aspen wooded area can provide 100 to 150 "deer days." These are the numbers of days' feed for one deer provided by each acre over a three-year period, Westell says.

Since a large part of the deer's diet consists of the stems and leaves of young aspen trees, Westell explains that the best feed areas are those recently cut-over or logged.

This cutting-over, he continues, permits the sun to reach areas where new trees' "suckers" rise through the ground from the parent tree's wandering lateral roots.

Over 500 aspen stands and cut-over areas in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula were sampled, he says. With a chart based on the amount of browsing or feeding found, wildlife managers can plan their forest cuttings so as to create a continuous supply of aspen shoots, thus helping solve the deer's acute food shortage, Westell points out.

Tomatoes On Fence Yield Most Food for Space Used

Remove all branches growing where leaves join the main stem of staked tomatoes

Tomatoes plants, pruned to a single stem and supported on stakes, picket fence or trellis can give a larger yield per square foot of space occupied than any other vegetable.

They deserve a gardener's best care, and this should begin by planting them properly after all danger of frost is over. Do not let high temperatures before frost has ended persuade you to take a chance, from which there is nothing to be gained and much to be lost.

Even a severe chill may set your plants back and delay the harvest.

Two varieties should always be grown, one early and one late. An early hybrid variety will give a heavy yield in midsummer for salad use. Heavier yields lasting until late fall are given by plants which take longer to mature.

Stocky plants are the best to buy, rather than older, taller and more spindly specimens. Plants grown to a single stem may be set 12 inches apart. The support to which they are tied must be stout and strongly anchored, to resist wind.

A single stem plant may be twisted around a stout cord, which is tied at top and bottom. In tying a plant to its support, use a strip of cloth, or a large, soft cord which will not cut, looped loosely around the stem.

Plants may be pruned with two stems, in which case set them 21 inches apart. Select one side branch starting 10 inches above the surface and allow it to grow as the second stem, pruning off all its side branches.

Pruning requires regular attention. The plant starts with a central stem or leader. When the first blossoms appear, at each joint made by a leaf with the stem, a branch begins to grow. To prune the plant these side shoots are removed before they are four inches long.

No other leaves should be pruned from tomato plants; and so-called determinate varieties should not be staked and pruned. Fruits need the shade furnished by leaves to avoid sunburn. To make the first blossoms set fruit, spray them with a hormone sold for that purpose.

Tomato roots spread widely just below the soil surface so cultivation should never be deep enough to disturb them. An abundant supply of water is required, and lack of it causes decayed spots on the fruit opposite the stem, called blossom-end rot. Moisture is conserved by applying a mulch of lawn clippings, six inches thick, all along the tomato row.

If you are a smoker, wash your hands thoroughly before handling tomato plants, and do not touch tobacco until your work with them is finished. Tobacco may have a disease which can be transmitted to the tomato plants. The same precautions should be taken whether fruit is picked, or any work is done with the tomatoes.

relatives, and not only share the same disease, but are attacked by the same kind of worm, a green horny monster, which fortunately is easily seen, and killed before he can do much damage.

It in doubt about a medicine a man tries it on his wife's dog.

Dr. Henry Walch Writes Home About Travels Through Europe

The most recent letter from Dr. and Mrs. Henry Walch, who are traveling through Europe and the Holy Land, was received recently at The Plymouth Mail. The Walches are still on the first lap of their journey, since the letter was written from Geneva, Switzerland on May 29. They have thus far traveled through England, France, Holland and Switzerland.

The letter received at The Mail office was the second letter to be received from the minister, the first being sent to the Presbyterian church. This one was from the Hotel du Printemps in Paris on May 19.

Dr. Walch described their airplane trip from New York as calm and uneventful. He did mention, however, the great change from the heat of New York City to the cold of Newfoundland, Ireland and England. He added that "Our English friends met us at the airport. They showed us a wonderful time, and contrary to American opinion we found our British friends cordial and most friendly."

Further describing their visit to England, Dr. Walch said that all the English people were very excited about the coronation, which had not as yet taken place. He also mentioned taking a boat ride on the Thames and the beautiful chapels and cathedrals—particularly St. George's Chapel at Windsor Castle.

They left London on May 19 and crossed over from Dover to Calais, France on the Channel beat. When they arrived in Paris they found a bus and transit strike in progress, and the streets were full of people and taxis were scarce.

In Holland they encountered more friendly people. "In fact, the friendliness of people wherever we have gone is the outstanding feature of our journey." The Walches visited the Hague where they met the minister of the church which the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth aided during the war.

Dr. and Mrs. Walch returned to Paris for the Rotary International convention "which as usual was wonderful." Dr. Walch said, "The election of a Uruguayan as the new president was timely; he is a fine man. A fête in the garden at Versailles, with music, ballet and fireworks around the Neptune fountain was beautiful beyond description."

Driving in Paris is quite a feat, according to Dr. Walch. He said the secret of the whole thing is to drive as if everyone else is crazy including the pedestrians—"for they are."

He continued: "We left Paris this morning (May 29) driving through the lovely and ancient south-eastern part of France. Beautiful is beyond words, and then we came to the mountains which are thrilling. Geneva is a beautiful city, and what we have seen of Switzerland so far makes us respect this little country. It is a contrast to France and England, but has somewhat the same atmosphere as Holland."

The members of Troop 2 held their Court of Awards and family picnic at the Cabin on May 25.

Forty-four were present to witness the Council Fire and the awarding of proficiency badges. The First Aid Badge and the Sports and Games Badge were earned by all members as a troop project in addition to many different badges earned individually. Brenda Lickfeldt was awarded her second class badge. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of their First Class badge to five girls. This next-to-highest award in Girl Scouting was presented to Emily Cutler, Sally Williams,

Fairie Sprague, Sharon Walsh and George Ann Bauer. Mrs. Henry Jensen was introduced as the leader of the troop for next year. Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. J. H. Lodge are the retiring leaders. Troop No. 19 will have an overnight meeting at the cabin on Friday, June 5. Sixteen girls and their leaders Mrs. Henry Jensen and Mrs. Thomas Thorpe are expected to attend. Troop 4 held its final meeting of the school year on Monday, June 1 at the Methodist church. The mothers of the members were invited to witness the Court of Awards. Tea was served by the girls following the presentation of their proficiency badges by the leaders, Mrs. Warren Worth and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing. Troop 1 had as its guests at the regular meeting on May 25 Superintendent of Schools, Russell Isbister and Recreation Director, Herbert Woolweaver.

Mr. Isbister told the Scouts how much money it costs to provide schooling for each child and how the money is obtained. Mr. Woolweaver spoke on the program of recreation that has been planned for children for this summer. The girls appreciated the time these two very busy men gave them in order that they might continue their work on the "My Community" badge. Miss Louise Spence and Mrs. Gerald Hosier took the members of Troop 14 on a cook-out Monday, June 1. The girls hiked to the Girl Scout Cabin where they cooked their dinner and were later returned to town by their parents. Phone news items to 1600.

Nine to Attend State Convention

Nine Plymouth women will attend the 25th annual convention of the Daughters of America to be held at the Olds hotel in Lansing, June 3 through 5. ### Summer Arrives at Noon, June 21

A "scorpion's" annual march across the heavens and summer's official debut are major items on June's stellar calendar, a University of Michigan astronomer reports.

On June 21, the northern hemisphere's summer, officially known as the Summer Solstice, will arrive at noon, Hazel M. Losh, U.M. associate professor of astronomy, states. That will be the longest day and shortest night of the year, for the sun will be at its highest point in the sky.

Even though winter is once again on its way, Professor Losh explains, the warmest days are yet to come. "As long as more heat is received during the day than is lost during the night," the astronomer points out, "the temperature will continue to rise, reaching the height of the summer's heat around August 1."

Around sunset on June 1, the constellation Scorpius will arise in the southeastern sky, she says.

Strongly resembling a giant scorpion, the constellation is said to have come from the earth at the command of Juno, Professor Losh points out. Incensed at Orion, Juno had the scorpion sting him, thus causing his death.

As a result, the professor continues, Orion and Scorpius never appear in the sky at the same time. As Scorpius rises in the East, Orion disappears in the West.

Antares, the "rival of Mars," is the center of attraction in the constellation Scorpius, the astronomer says, and can be detected by its bright red color and location in the heart of the scorpion. Light from the star Antares left it around 1700, Professor Losh claims.

Popularly known as "The Northern Cross," Cygnus, the Swan, also will appear in the northeastern heavens around June 1, Professor Losh states. Rising on its side, the group has the star Deneb at its head, she explains. At the foot of the cross, or beak of the swan, is "one of the finest doubles (stars) in the whole sky," the professor reports. Easily visible through a small telescope, it is outstanding for its rich blue and yellow colors.

Other stellar attractions, she points out, will be yellowish-colored Saturn, located in the southern sky about five and one-half degrees from the bright blue Spica.

While Venus will continue to be a bright morning planet, Mercury will be an evening one. Visible to the unaided eye throughout the month, it will best be seen in the last half. Mercury rises in the western sky and does not set until one and one-half hours after sunset.

MSC Economists Cite State Trade

East Lansing—Michigan is a leading state in producing goods for foreign markets but only a few individuals or industries in the state are making an effort to influence U. S. trade policies according to two economists at Michigan State college.

In a copyrighted article published by the Governmental Research Bureau at M.S.C., John M. Hunter and Donald A. Moore of the M. S. C. economics department point out that an estimated 900 firms in Michigan are exporting between $1.5 and $2 billions in merchandise and produce each year.

"We in Michigan are deeply involved in foreign commerce," Hunter and Moore said. "Michigan individuals and industries have the privilege, and a few exercise it, of directly or indirectly influencing Congress and the President by their interest in certain policies." They indicated interest could be directed through Michigan's 17 representatives and two senators in the U. S. Congress.

Cited as the most important state group in export trade was Michigan's "industrial plant" which produces manufactured goods. Other important groups are foundries and mills, agriculture and service organizations such as banks and steamship lines.

Michigan's trade amounts to 10 to 15 per cent of total U.S. exports with Canada and the biggest customer and South America next.

Without foreign trade, Michigan's standard of living would be much lower, the economists said.

Even though she works all day Mrs. Ralph Pantoni, of 967 Palmer street, finds time to work in her garden. The beautiful plants one can see there are evidence of the good use to which she puts her spare time. Mrs. Pantoni is employed during the day as a salesclerk at the Federal Department store.

The arrangement of her garden alone goes far toward making it lovely. Mrs. Pantoni has a trellis of red and yellow rose bushes, which though not as yet in bloom, will soon add a bright note of color to the yard. Tulips line one side of the garden, forming a border for the other flowers.

Elsewhere in Mrs. Pantoni's garden are California poppies, hydrangea, giant and baby zinnias and three varieties of marigolds. Her peony plants are now just ready to pop into bloom. Gladiolas, daisies, lilies, delphiniums and chrysanthemums round out the flower section of the garden at the Pantoni home. The mums come in yellow, pink and bronze shades.

Flowers however are not the only garden interest for Mrs. Pantoni. She hopes to be able to stock up on tomatoes, beans, peppers, cucumbers and cantaloupes. All of these have been planted with the special care Mrs. Pantoni gives all her plants.

The healthy thriving plants in Mrs. Pantoni's garden are merely the result of the well-spent time she can devote to them. She demonstrates the idea that the working woman need not sacrifice her garden to her work. It is very possible to have both, says Mrs. Pantoni.

"The man you see passing is a queer one. He makes only a bald pretense at earning a living."
"How is that?"

Smith Entertains Lab Assistants at Home Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith entertained the laboratory assistants Monday evening, May 25, at their home on 700 Pacific.

A dinner was served consisting of sweet potatoes, ham, and ice cream and cake. After dinner everyone participated in a card game.

Mr. Smith stated, that after a year of hard work by the largest group of assistants that he has been fortunate to have help him, he believed everyone benefited from it. These people did much to make the work of chemistry and physics for other students more worthwhile as well as saving hours of work by making up the solutions and checking the experiments.

The time spent by these students was very beneficial in that the majority are planning a science career and the experience will help them in their college work. No school credit was given these students. All have had two years of science in chemistry and physics and have maintained a high average.

The laboratory assistants are: Ronald Krump and James Blanton, prospective engineers entering Michigan Tech at Houghton; Terry Carney, Marion Whipple, Dick Nagel, and Elmer Whipple, who will continue their science at the University of Michigan; Bob Manion entering General Motors Institute; Tom Guthrie attending Albion college; and Leon Bernatas, considering short courses in agriculture at Michigan State.

WEDDING ETIQUETTE

"In many ways etiquette keeps changing, but the beautiful ceremony of marriage changes very slightly. The bride with good taste doesn't want her wedding to be startling for its innovations. She wants beauty, grace and dignity. This doesn't mean that she must spend a fortune her family cannot afford. Neither should she economize with pretentious substitutes. The better way is simplicity," says Woman's Home Companion.

Engraved Invitations are a must if the wedding is formal or unusually large and they should follow the traditional wording found in most etiquette books.

If the wedding is not formal in every degree, and if it is of average size, your proper choice should be Printed Invitations or hand written notes.

Cherry Cottage Cheese Salad Is Molded Shimmering Beauty

Cherry Cottage Cheese Salad is made with a creamy white cottage cheese layer and a ruby red sweet cherry layer in a shimmering mold. This salad is worthy of a place of honor for a family meal or the most elegant company spread. The creamy cottage cheese layer and the deep, jewel-like sweet cherries give dramatic contrast in color and flavor. Pacific Northwest sweet cherries, ranging in color from deep red to dark black red are sweet, juicy and snappy in flavor. Connoisseurs have long recognized the excellence of sweet cherries and have used them to add a touch of glamour and taste delight to many salads and desserts. They're high in food value too, supplying generous amounts of important vitamins and minerals. The sweet cherry season is brief so have your favorite recipes in readiness for the arrival of sweet cherry festival time. Cherries keep best in a cool dry place. If they're washed before being put in the refrigerator, drain and dry them thoroughly. They should be spread in a shallow pan rather than piled high in a deep container.

Bright Touches At Necklines Give Emphasis

The new collar and simply designed necklines call for pretty neckwear to add a feminine touch. And the boxy jackets, scooped necklines and open fronts can take countless variations with the new weskits, fill-ins and gilets.

Stoles are the biggest news, newly dramatic with coats, suits and dresses. Gossamer-sheer or functionally wrappable and cozy, they drift over evening gowns in airy chiffon, soften a dyed-to-match linen dress, or take the place of the little jacket for casual wear.

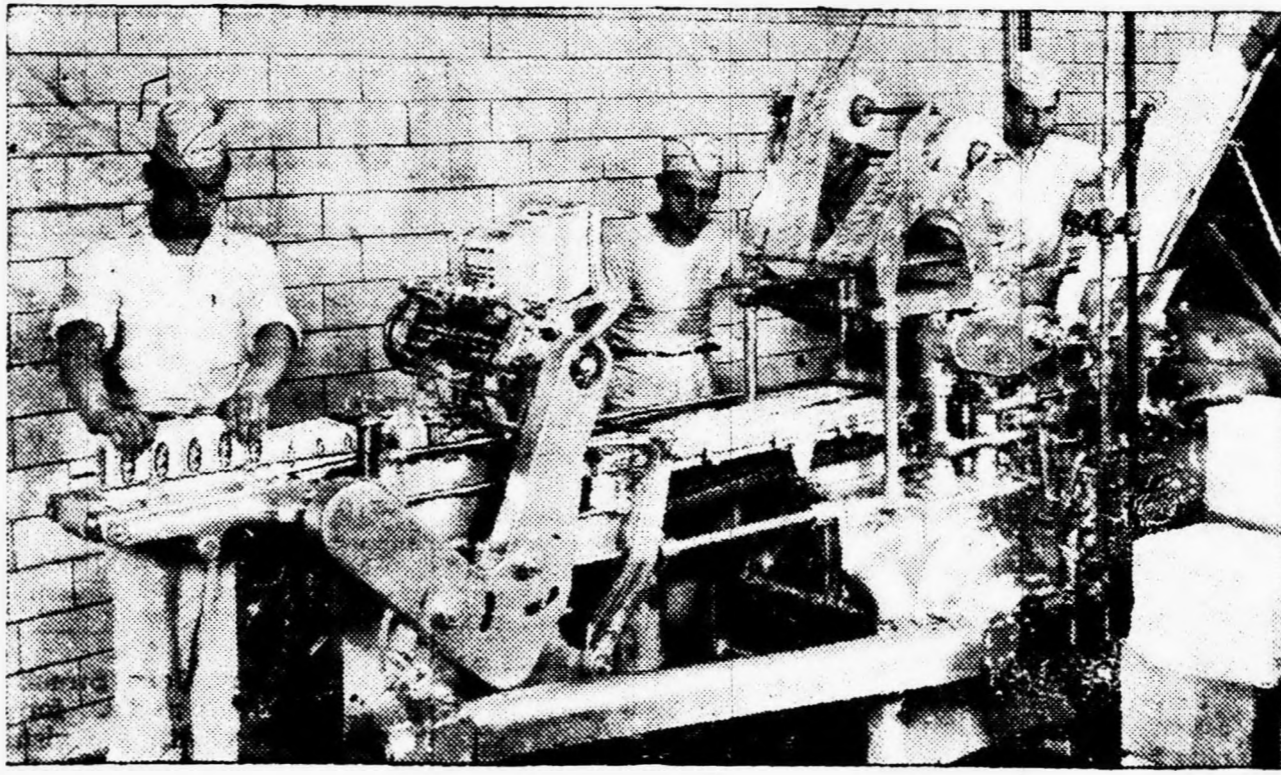

Scarves in brilliant shades or prints, "sissy collars" and bright lengths of ribbon are important as the little touches that "make" a costume, including narrow little ties, huge puffs of taffeta, pleated pull-through scarves and flower-edged ribbons.

White and pastel accents, becomingly placed at the neckline, spark the traditional navy ensembles of Spring, as well as the new lighter shades. Yellow pique is a strong color note for gilets and collars.

Dyed-to-match flowers are another "custom" touch seen often with costumes, and do much to soften the cardigan neckline.

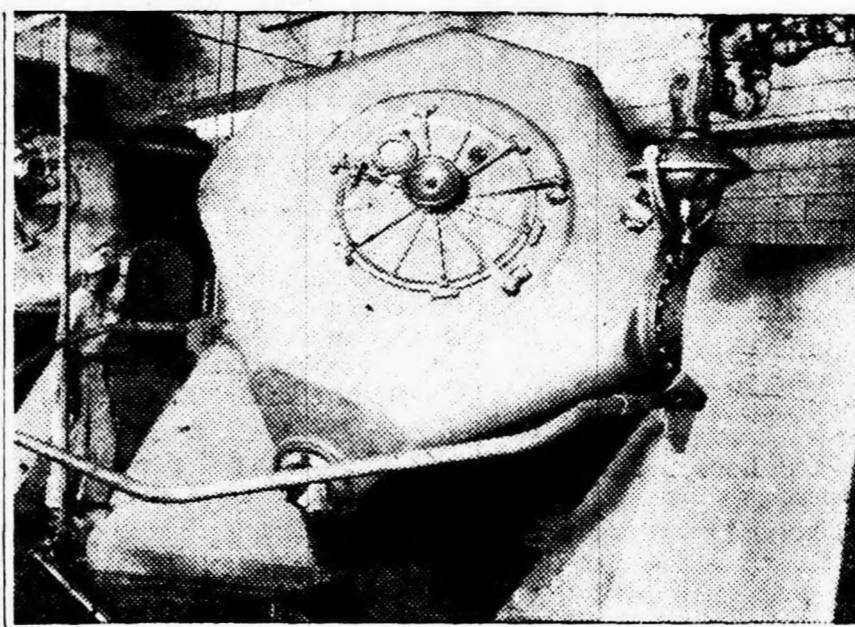

Weskits are the perfect match for open-front suits, in a beautiful range of decorative fabrics, including cotton, taffeta, and shimmering brocade in solids, stripes or floral patterns.

Modern Version of the June Butter Tradition

Although the ultra modern butter making and packaging shown here may seem a far cry from grandma's days when she toiled during the month of June with her old plunger churn and wooden laddles, still it is the same American thrifty custom of using today's surplus to care for the shortages of next winter. Pictured are the enormous all metal churns just installed by the Michigan Milk Producers Association in its Imlay City plant and the automatic packaging machine which cuts the butter in quarter pound sections, wraps each one in parchment paper, puts four of them in an attractive carton, seals the package and delivers it at the end of the line, ready for shipping.

The natural excess of milk in the Spring months, due to lush pastures and many cows freshening, provides a great amount of extra above normal demands. Grandpa was thrifty and looked ahead to the long winter months when milk would be scarce so he and grandma worked long hours to convert that extra cream into delicious, golden butter which could be put away in cellar or spring house to be brought out in the time of scarcity. Milk production is not so different today despite modern methods of breeding, feeding and care. There always is a flush season. But today by joining together in a cooperative organization, dairy farmers do their June butter task more easily. By installing modern machines, a better and more uniform grade of butter is produced from sweet cream than ever was made by using the soured cream which it was necessary to use because of lack of refrigeration. The Imlay City plant is capable of producing as high as 32,000 pounds of butter a day, each machine churning a ton every three hours. The packaging machine cuts and wraps 9,000 fourth pounds per hour, delivering 2250 packages of butter.

Homemakers Should Learn Facts About Nutricious Foods

Good nutrition is everyone's responsibility. But the big share falls on the one who buys the food and prepares the meals in your home.

If you are one of the 33 million home-makers of our land, you will be interested in how to give your family the best possible nutrition. Neither the large grocery bill, nor a good assortment of foods will, by any means, guarantee good nutrition. Then how can we know that we are feeding our families as we should?

First, we must know something about why we need different foods. Secondly, we must know how to prepare food so that it looks appetizing, tastes delicious, and yet contains as much possible of the material we need for health. A third point to be considered is how to provide tasty and nutritious meals with a minimum of damage to the family budget.

A listing of some of the more pertinent facts about the functions of different foods may be helpful.

1) Protein, which is found in meat and fish, eggs, milk and cheese, legumes and grain products, is used by the body for growth and maintenance of muscle and other tissues. The animal sources of protein are best, but the other proteins are useful, too. About 10 to 20 per cent of our food should be protein.

2) The carbohydrate foods are cereals, vegetables, fruits and sweets. They often furnish as high as 50 to 60 per cent of our total food. These foods are more nutritious when eaten in the unrefined form such as whole grain cereals.

3) Fats are derived from meat, butter, cream and cheese; vegetable oils and nuts. Fat usually makes up 20 to 40 per cent of our food. Carbohydrates and fat are the foods we need for fuel, the energy for work and keeping warm.

4) Then we need to know something about vitamins, found in nearly all foods. In order to get our daily requirements of vitamins, it is a good plan to include every day a green leafy or yellow vegetable, some butter or fortified margarine, a citrus fruit, tomatoes, or raw cabbage, whole grain bread or cereal, milk, meat or eggs.

5) Minerals are also needed for health. Milk is the best way to obtain minerals for bone building. Iron is a mineral needed for blood building. Some foods which furnish iron are liver, meat, eggs and greens.

In addition to knowing something about the composition, we need to know something about buying, storing and preparation of foods to avoid destroying or wasting the vitamins.

Notice New Markings On Federal Graded Meat Before Buying

Have you noticed the "new look" in the design of the grade stamp markings on Federal graded meats? The new grade markings became effective in February.

The new stamp is in the shape of a shield with two lines of print. The top line consists of the letters "USDA" to indicate that the U. S. Department of Agriculture establishes and administers the grade standards. The lower line identifies the grade—prime, choice, good, commercial or utility.

The new stamp is used on all Federal graded beef, veal, calf, lamb and mutton in a ribbon-like pattern on the meat carcasses. The former label gave the grade name with the letters "USDA" at intervals, but without the shield. In the case of veal, calf, yearling mutton and mutton, the kind of meat is also stamped on the carcass along with the grade. The grade stamping is made with a harmless purple vegetable preparation.

Federal grading of meat is available to slaughterers on a voluntary basis and is self-supporting through fees charged to users of the Federal grading service. The new stamp design is registered at the U. S. Patent Office and any unauthorized use of it is illegal. This protection was not provided for the former grade stamp.

Luggage Goes Light This Summer

The problem of how to pack and how much to pack is as old as the history of travel itself. In the days of inexpensive portage and plentiful skirts, leisurely trips by slow methods were the rule, but today's traveler wants to spend more time sightseeing than arranging her wardrobe which demands new fabrics, new luggage.

To answer the need are science's miracles in man-made fibres which wash and dry quickly, require no ironing, and pack without wrinkles. Stylists turn these fabrics into garments which may be "dressed down" or "dressed up" with simple accessories such as scarves, costume jewelry and flowers.

Fresh Garden Greens In Height of Season

May and June are the "height of season" months for Michigan spring greens—leaf lettuce, kale, endive, watercress, Swiss chard, mustard greens, tender beet and turnip tops. The kinds available will vary in different localities, but they are among our "good buys" in the leafy green group of vegetables at this season of the year.

When you're shopping for greens, look for those that are bright and crisp with few coarse stems or wilted leaves. Seed stems among the leaves indicates over-maturity and toughness for almost any green.

Spring greens are sold pre-packed in plastic bags as well as from bulk display. Prepackaged greens usually sell for a little more per pound, but there is a saving in waste and added convenience.

At home, all kinds of greens should be stored in air-tight containers in the refrigerator, and home economists suggest that they should not be washed until just before using.

The traveler is no longer confronted with a list of clothing to cover everything from a suit for the train to a dress for dinner, for often they are the same garment cleverly accessorized for each occasion.

Names on instruction tags now include such twisters as dynel, saran, dacron, orlon, nylon and blends of these and others with wool or cotton or rayon to provide the beauty of old favorites with the advantages of the new fibres.

To the traveler this means that she can go further unhampered by extra clothing to compensate for climatic changes, or the fear of not having something fresh and clean always at hand.

Luggage, too, has undergone many changes, for it took two men to lift one piece of baggage—even when it was unpacked! Cumbersome and awkward trunks have been replaced by streamlined and tapered cases and suiter bags, or the traveling garment bag for motor trips.

Heavy wood construction is out of the picture since light molded plywood and metal are used. Dreary monotones have made way for fashion colors in everything from leather to the new plastics and synthetics.

Concealed "bumper" edges ab-soorb shock, and hardware has been sealed down or recessed to guard against breaking. Interiors are waterproofed, and exteriors are washable with a damp cloth.

Asparagus Is Curtain Raiser

Asparagus is the "curtain raiser" that starts off the home-grown vegetable season in Michigan. May and June are the most plentiful supply months for asparagus, and thus it is one of our "good buys" among the leafy green vegetables at this time of year.

In buying, look for stalks that are green most of the way down the spear, that are fresh and crisp enough to stand upright and have no spreading tips. Spreading tips show that the asparagus is over-mature, and a large amount of white at the base of the stalk means considerable woody waste.

Asparagus is at its best when cooked, frozen or canned soon after it is bought. To protect the quality of the vegetable until it is cooked, cut off the stalk ends and stand them in a shallow pan of water or put them in a plastic bag and then into the refrigerator.

Asparagus is especially adapted to home freezing. The United States Department of Agriculture has a fine bulletin for those who would like such a reference on home freezing of fruits and vegetables. The title is "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables," Home and Garden Bulletin No. 10. Copies are sold by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at 15 cents each.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

Non-Veteran Housing May Get Long Awaited Break

Non-veterans who have been crowded out of the housing market since World War II may soon get a long-overdue "break" through a reduction in down payments on government-insured home mortgages, a top building industry spokesman predicted today.

Emanuel M. Spiegel, President of the National Association of Home Builders, expressed cautious optimism that the Federal Government will act promptly to relieve the plight of "forgotten families" who need housing but cannot qualify for the relative easy credit terms provided for veterans.

He told a news conference that the atmosphere in official Washington is "definitely more friendly" toward the Association's proposal for a general lowering of FHA down payment requirements as a step toward easier home ownership for non-veteran families with steady incomes but small bank accounts.

NAHB has recommended a sliding scale of the FHA down payments ranging from 5 to 50 per cent below the current requirements, with the biggest cuts on middle and lower priced homes.

The builders' proposed scale, for example, calls for down payments of $400 on an $8,000 FHA mortgage, $1,200 on $12,000 and $1,800 on $15,000. At present, FHA requires $650, $2,400 and $3,000, respectively, on loans of those amounts.

Spiegel emphasized, however, that lower down payments alone will not solve the non-veteran's housing problem, although they are an integral part of NAHB's proposed solution.

He pointed out that a cut in down payments would be of no help unless interest rates on government-backed mortgages were permitted to rise to a level that would attract a substantial and steady flow of investment capital.

Those two moves to bring the Government's outmoded mortgage machinery up to date are part of a far-reaching program which NAHB has recommended to the Eisenhower Administration to help give families in the lower income groups a fair chance at home ownership.

Spiegel said the housing needs of those families cannot be met fully without more liberal, FHA-insured credit for the reconditioning and modernization of older homes, as well as the construction of new dwellings.

He said that as many as 250,000 existing houses can be put into new condition each year and given added years of useful life if satisfactory financing is made available for a housing trade-in program. A builder then could take an old house as a trade-in on a new one and put it back on the market in first-class condition.

Another 500,000 or more structurally-sound older homes can be modernized annually by their present occupants if credit is extended on terms they can afford, Spiegel said.

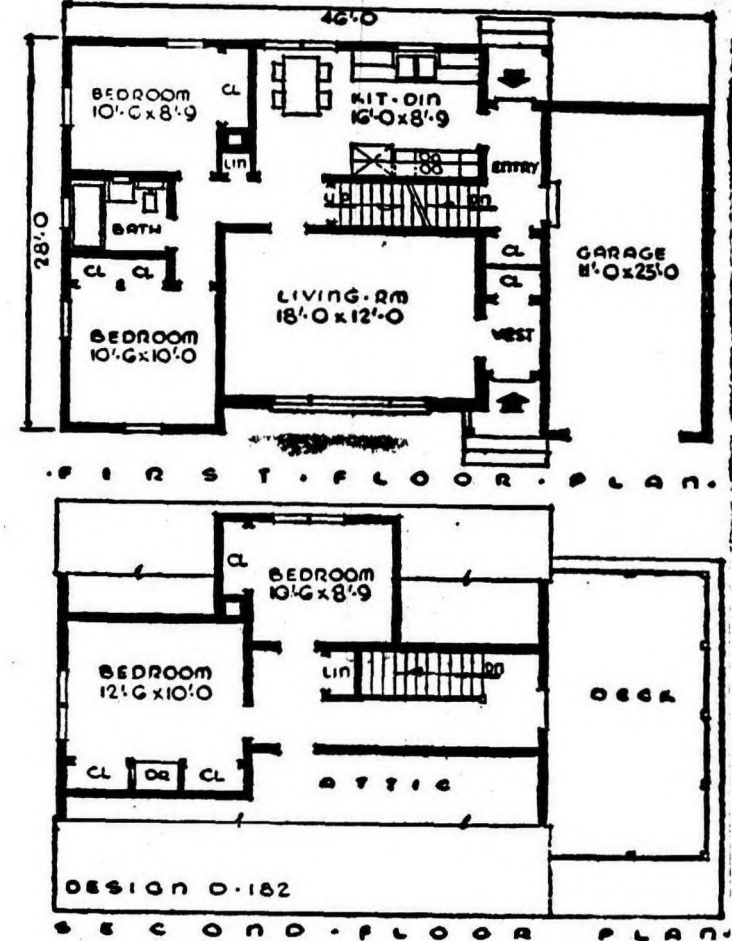

As a further step toward raising the national housing standards, the NAHB President said, builders throughout the United States are going all-out for a program of slum rehabilitation based upon the restoration of slum dwellings that can be salvaged and rebuilt into decent living quarters.

Spiegel said he is hopeful that Congress and the Eisenhower Administration will provide the Federal aids needed to support that program as a workable solution to the nation's housing problems.

Sandpaper of Curve Made Easier by Pipe

When sanding the edge of an inside curve or circle, the work goes much faster and easier if the sandpaper is wrapped around a piece of pipe about six inches long, the April issue of Popular Mechanics Magazine recommends.

The diameter of the pipe will depend on the radius of the curve to be sanded. Using the pipe also helps to keep the sandpaper square with the work.

THE DUNBAR has a first floor that consists of two bedrooms, bath, living room and combination kitchen-dinette. Future expansion is taken care of on the second floor where two additional bedrooms can be finished. There is a full basement and an attached, front drive-in, garage with a flat deck and wood rail.

Wardrobe closets are used in all bedrooms, linen cabinets on both floors and coat closets for each entrance.

The kitchen cabinets are arranged on opposite walls in one end of the kitchen. The range and the refrigerator are on the inside and the sink is placed under the window.

Plans for this house call for frame construction, siding, asphalt shingles, double glazed picture window, covered entrance in front and concrete steps.

Dimensions of the Dunbar are 46 feet by 28 feet. Floor area is 993 square feet. Cubage totals 20,093 cubic feet, not counting garage.

For further information about THE DUNBAR, write The Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Water-White Lacquer Hides Spots In Wood

When finishing bleached or other pale wood finishes, it is important, first, to prevent the surface discoloration which may occur when a wood filler is applied. To avoid this, a thin water-white lacquer is often applied after the bleached wood has been sanded. Not only does this sealer maintain the bleached effect of the wood, but it also stiffens the loose wood fibers. When the lacquered surface is sanded, the smooth surface is ready for the application of the filler.

Consider Materials, Patterns When Remodeling Your Attic

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four stories on how to remodel your attic.)

When you tackle the problem of walls and ceiling to get the desired rooms out of your attic space, you will find that there are several inexpensive boards on the market.

These materials come in regular textures and some are striated or simulate wood texture. The standard size is 4 x 8 feet; however, some come in large sizes, up to 8 x 14 feet. Sizes should not be too big to be carried into the attic.

It should be remembered that there is a relationship between the spacing of the studs and joists and the thickness of the wall board material used. Use thicker wall board to secure greater rigidity and to avoid "give" in the material. You may want to seek expert advice on this problem.

Treatment of joints will need some special consideration. You may want to cover them with wood stripping. Be sure to give thought to the pattern resulting from the layout of the joints.

Careful patterning can contribute a great deal to the color layout you employ.

Patterns resulting from the joints can be treated in a variety of ways. Why not be gay with one striped panel, or whimsical with a checkered one? And another thing: some boards commercially available are excellent for tacking in case you're after display space for the youngsters' artistic products.

Matching Screen

When painting a room that has a door leading to the outside world, remember to paint the inside of the screen door — even if it's still in the garage or basement while the painting is being done. Then, when summer comes, it will be ready to become a unified part of the newly painted room.

Porus surfaces soak up large amounts of ordinary paint. Sealers have the faculty of "bridging the pores" to reduce the suction. The process of using these coatings is spoken of as "sizing".

'OPEN AIR GARAGE' IS NEWEST TREND

Porch Doubles as Carport

—Photos by Practical Builder
Two modern trends in home building, each combining economy and good design, are illustrated in the houses pictured above. One is the inclusion under an extended roof line of a porch that is also a carport, an arrangement that eliminates the cost of a garage and adds spaciousness to the house. The other is the use of asbestos-cement siding shingles as the exterior sidewall finish. Increasingly popular for new home construction, asbestos siding is economical in cost, attractive in appearance and completely incombustible. It is rotproof and weathertight and will last the life of the house without requiring preservative aids. Asbestos siding now is made in many harmonious new colors. In the house in the lower picture colored siding is combined with white for added distinction. The houses, built to sell for around $11,000, are two of 850 in a new Denver, Colo., development.

QUESTION: What's the best method to attach a bookcase to a plaster wall without unsightly angle irons showing? How do I find the upright 2 x 4's in the wall? Can I run a piece across inside the wall?

ANSWER: You can locate the studs by checking nails which hold the baseboard to the studs, and by sounding the wall with light hammer taps. A hollow sound is produced between studs. Use finishing nails through the back of the bookcase, or provide special nailing strips across the back. Nail into studs, but if an expansion support is needed between studs, use bolts which open behind the plaster and spread the load over a wide area. You can't provide a cross brace inside the wall without removing a lot of plaster, nor is one necessary in this case.

Rocks Assured of 6B First Place

Plymouth High school was assured of at least a first place tie in the 6-B league baseball race when they defeated the Allen Park nine last week Tuesday by a close score of 6 to 5 over at Allen Park.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair all the way with Allen Park getting off to a two run advantage in the first inning when they scored 2 runs on 2 hits. Plymouth counted one run in the bottom half of the same inning on 2 hits, and went ahead with 2 more in the second on 3 hits. Allen Park tied it up in the top of the third with one run on 3 hits, and it remained that way until the last inning when the Rocks scored 3 times in the seventh inning. Allen Park nearly tied it up in their last turn at bat when they scored twice, but Ken Kisabeth came in to relieve Dick Day to put out the fire.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

The time is getting near when another class will graduate from the local high school. These young people will be going forth into the world to make a place for themselves. They have heard much of the meaning of success in life.

That is a very fascinating subject for there are so many kinds of success. Just to mention a few, one is the contented and comfortable feeling one has when he has performed a necessary duty, and another is the possession of a fat pay check at the end of each week.

I thoroughly understand that success which is measured entirely in dollars and cents is not to be termed high grade, but it seems to appeal to most young people seeking a job today. I think that is what success means to most people because it brings with it a possession of the necessities of life, the first requirement of every living being. Of course when one reaches that point he may learn that there is a lot of climbing to do to reach the topmost round of the ladder of success.

Some of these graduates must get a job immediately, which means that they must be able to do satisfactory work for someone who is willing to return a satisfactory remuneration, and that is true whether one is a day laborer, or has "accepted a position."

These young people will make mistakes on the first job, the person never lived whose slate was clean of errors and especially when entering some new and untried sphere of action, but that fact never served as an alibi— but above all, make no careless errors. There are a good many things we cannot be held responsible for—red hair, maybe—bowed legs, possibly—but carelessness is a product of our own manufacture, nobody ever brought it into the world with him.

Track coach Keith Baughman had a most successful season in his first year as head coach at the high school. His boys won all their dual meets this year, the 6-B league title, entered their first Class A state meet to cop 16th place out of a 48 team field. Yes, his leads did alright this year.

Everyone asks what is the matter with the Tigers these trying days. Some say that the pitching and hitting aren't synchronized—when they hit the pitching is bad, and when they get good hurling the hitting is bad. My diagnosis is this—they have final inningitis. If they could play a seven inning ball game as high schools do, they would be up in the first division.

Take the case of Ted Gray, who has lost all 6 games as of this writing. His mates have made a total of 10 runs in 6 games, or less than a two-run average per game for him. He has lost them all just because his mates didn't hit behind him. This is somewhat similar to the experience of Hal Newhauser a couple of years ago.

I still think that there is great potentiality for this present Tiger outfit, and that they definitely will not end up in the basement of the American League as they did last year.

I received a nice letter from Jack Daggett, a star football player on the Rock team last year, in which he sent a clipping concerning Coach Wayne Falan of Paw Paw High school. Coach Falan formerly taught at Plymouth and had some very good teams while here, and many of his athletes went on to higher achievements. Coach Falan had a particularly good track team this year, and has produced some good football teams in the last few years.

Jr. Varsity Has Successful Year

The Plymouth High School Junior Varsity won three games last week to complete their season with a record of nine wins against one defeat being at the hands of Allen Park in an overtime tilt, which the locals avenged this week by edging the Parkers in a well-played ball game 3 to 0. The reserves also dealt losses to Trenton by the overwhelming score of 21 to 6, and to Northville 13 to 3. Unofficially the junior varsity are the champions of the 6-B league.

In the Trenton game Plymouth scored 8 runs on but 2 hits in the first inning, 1 run on 2 hits in the second, 4 runs on 2 hits in the fourth, and 3 runs in the fifth and 4 in the seventh.

The Rocks made a total of 13 hits—Paul Cummings had 2, including a double. Mills had 2, McKenna had 2, Wilczewski had 3, and Grow and Church one each.

Ron Church started this game and hurled the first six innings. He allowed all 6 runs and 5 hits, struck out 5 and walked 7, he also hit 2 batsmen. Henry Bonga hurled the last inning and allowed no hits.

In the crucial Allen Park game, Henry Bonga pitched and allowed 3 hits while shutting out the Parkers. He struck out 5 men and walked only one man. He faced only 23 men in the seven innings, and his mates backed him up with two double plays—not an Allen Park man reached second base.

Plymouth scored all their runs in the first inning on 3 hits, a walk and an error. The 5 hits made by Plymouth were evenly divided—Jack Carter had one as did Larry Wilhelm, John Agnew, Walter Wilczewski and Paul Cummings.

In the Northville win, Ron Church hurled the first 4 innings and allowed 3 runs and the 1 hit; Henry Bonga chucked the last 3 innings and allowed no hits.

In the second inning 14 Rock batsmen went to the plate to score 9 runs on 4 hits. In the 5th inning they scored 3 more runs and the last run was scored in the 6th inning.

Walter Wilczewski had 2 hits, as did Larry Wilhelm; David Grow, Paul Cummings, John Agnew and Tom Rutherford each had 1 hit.

These victories concluded the season for the junior varsity.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick told U. S. Senators telecasting and broadcasting major league baseball games are ruining the minors and will inevitably damage the majors... Frick figures: 16 million less fans attended minor league games in 1952 than in 1949; only 19 of 273 minor-league teams made money in 1952... The commissioner wants organized baseball to have the power it used to have before the Department of Justice threatened baseball with antitrust suits... Meanwhile figures compiled so far this season show a 24 per cent drop in attendance as compared with the same period of 1952... All this points to the fact that baseball may be a sick game and in a few more years may not be America's major sport. It takes big money to run a baseball club, and the money comes from the fans. No fans will mean no game!

Softball Opens Season Tonight

Seven teams are all set to start the softball season tonight in the combined Industrial and Open League. Evans Products opens the season at 6:15 when they tangle with LaFontaine. At 7:30 Detroit Transmission goes against Cavalcade, and at 8:45 Begliners play Bathey. Whitman and Barnes drew a first round bye.

Next Monday DTD and W & B play the first game, Begliners and LaFontaine the second, and Bathey and Cavalcade the third with Evans drawing the bye.

All games are played on the softball diamond at the rear of the high school. Begliners is the only team in the Open Division as all the others are Industrial outfits.

Only three teams were interested in forming an Old Timers' league, and unless more become interested this league will not operate this year.

Tennis Lads Bow To Bentley 4-3

Last week Tuesday the high school tennis team concluded the season when they dropped a 4 to 3 decision to Bentley High school. This loss made the season's record read 5 wins and 8 losses, and the local team placed third in the 6-B league tournament.

In the close loss to Bentley, Bob Nulty won his singles match, and the doubles teams of Elmer Whipple and Bruce Green won as did the team of Dick Root and Bob Bateman. Ronald Wendland, Brian Kidston and Dick Zukosky all lost their singles matches. The doubles combination of Larry VanOrsdale and Jerry Steele also lost their match.

Golfers Break Even This Year

By winning two golf matches last week, the high school golf team assured itself of breaking even for the season as they have won 6 and lost 5 so far with still a match with Southfield at this writing. The two wins were over Northville and Allen Park.

The Plymouth linksmen won by 7 strokes from Northville with a combined score of 185 to 192 for their opponents. Tyler Caplin was low with a 41, Fred Benson had a 43, Mike Reh a 49 and Richard Blomberg a 52.

In the easy Allen Park victory, which was taken by a total of 63 strokes, Fred Benson was low with a 40, and all the other members of the winning team had a 47—they were Mike Reh, Dick Blomberg and Wally Rush.

Last Monday the Rock golfers met Southfield, a team that won the Inter-Lakes league crown and placed high in the regionals. The results will be in next week's paper.

Deer Kill Totals 162,000 in State

LANSING.—Hunters in Michigan killed about 162,000 deer during last fall's firearm season, a preliminary report of the conservation department's post card poll shows.

The poll was started as soon as all license stubs became available in February. About 11,000 persons who purchased licenses were asked whether or not they hunted, where and when they hunted, if they were successful and the sex and age of any animals bagged. Successive post cards and finally letters were sent to those who failed to answer with the result that about 96 percent of the hunters returned answers to the questionnaires.

Set up statistically, the poll represents a 2 1/2 percent sample of all hunters.

Final checks are now being made, but enough of the poll is complete so that present information will not be changed very radically by additional data.

Hunters took about 52,000 of the total kill during the regular statewide firearm "buck season." Then, in the northern lower peninsula during the final three-day "any deer season," about 110,000 bucks, does and fawns were bagged.

A total of about 465,000 persons purchased hunting licenses last fall. About 456,000 of these licenses actually hunted. Of this total, 413,000 took part in the regular buck season. Then about 247,000 of the total army took part in the northern lower peninsula "any deer season."

The statewide hunter success, for the entire season, was slightly better than 35 percent. During the special season, 45 percent of the hunters were successful.

By regions, 19,000 deer were taken in the upper peninsula, 142,000 in the northern lower peninsula and 1,000 in the southern lower peninsula.

During the special season, hunters in Roscommon county probably took about 14,000 deer; in Lake county, 13,000 deer and in Montmorency county, about 10,000 deer. Kills of about 9,500 animals were made in each of Crawford, Ogemaw and Oscoda counties. Statisticians emphasize, however, that broken down in this way the kill figures lose much of their accuracy. The Roscommon county figure, for example, may be off 13 percent either way, they note.

But game men say these kill figures indicate a height to which herd populations had risen under the old buck law. The kill, they add, was undoubtedly necessary for proper herd management, though higher in some areas than can be maintained through the lengthy year to year process of keeping the herd in balance with its food supplies.

Local conditions must, of course, in future years determine where more or fewer deer must be taken.

During the special season, about 55,000 adult does were taken, 25,000 buck fawns, 23,000 doe fawns and 7,000 adult bucks.

Information gained from the poll will help game men and the conservation commission plan hunting regulations for continued herd management during the coming seasons.

Assured that its business receipts tax bill will become law, the Michigan Legislature returned to Lansing this week.

Final adjournment was on the legislators' schedule. In deciding he would permit the bill to become a law without his signature, Governor G. Mennen Williams raised a question of the measure's constitutionality. He declared the bill "is full of inequities and obscurities. Some of its language is positively ungrammatical and other sections may be unconstitutional."

A Supreme court test, if prolonged for months, would toss a monkey-wrench into prospects of immediate tax relief. The act becomes effective July 1.

Governor Williams' political barrage that the bill was "conceived in secrecy, drafted in haste, and adopted in ignorance" drew immediate answers from Republican legislative leaders.

Senator George N. Higgins, chairman of the Senate Taxation committee which sprung the bill at the 11th hour, said "it was the fairest tax bill presented to the Legislature." Senator Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo, Republican floor leader, and House Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg defended the bill staunchly and derided the governor's criticism.

Republicans did not defend the 11th hour methods employed to get the bill through the House. Suspension of rules, explanation of the bill by lobbyists on the floor, and application of gag restrictions. In fact Senator Higgins said that if changes in the law were needed, "I am sure the majority of the Legislature will stand ready to make needed corrections."

The active part played by representatives of the Ford Motor Company and General Motors Corporation in drafting the bill drew editorial criticism from the three Detroit daily newspapers. Ford and General Motors are Detroit-centered manufacturing companies.

The Detroit News charged: "It is not denied that representatives of two very large taxpayers played leading roles in the drafting, if not the conception of the measure. Indeed, when it reached the House, which up to then had not had the chance to examine a printed copy of it, these two were the only authorities deemed capable of explaining, in a closed session of the body, what the bill contained."

The Detroit Times commented: "The speed with which this bill was jammed through the House and Senate naturally leads to suspicion. Most legislators confess they don't understand it. They voted to pass the measure only because lobbyists for powerful manufacturers had approved it."

The action of the House in inviting these lobbyists to try and explain the confusing provisions on the floor of the chamber, and in preventing debate before the roll call, was an unforgivable exhibition of incompetence."

The Detroit Free Press declared the bill "was written by lobbyists representing some of the state's biggest corporate interests. It was rushed through both houses in three days without debate. So bewildered were the members that it was necessary to call two lobbyists onto the floor of the House, in secret session, to tell the legislators what they had adopted. This whole procedure has been without precedent in the history of this state."

The editorial criticisms indicate the legislators' methods presented more of a target than the bill itself. Unfortunately for the Republicans the facts about the tax blitz cannot be denied. The bill was drafted by automobile manufacturers engaged in interstate business. It was rushed through the legislature in a matter of days.

Like all other issues which become involved in politics, lines are formed along party lines. Republicans defend, Democrats criticize. If the Supreme court rules the law to be unconstitutional, Governor Williams will have another feather in his hat. And he will not be reluctant to display it with another election day already nearing in 1954.

There is a group of taxpayers in Michigan who feel that economy, not more taxes, should have been the solution to the state's deficit.

Here is editorial comment from the South Haven Daily Tribune: "The ways to achieve economy in state government are too numerous to mention. Savings on the payroll is one opportunity. Last year there were 43,068 on Michigan's state payroll—second highest number of the nine midwestern states. There is no business organization of 100 people where 90 can do the job if it's necessary. They do at vacation times."

And so it goes—a ready-made issue for the hot stove league next winter.

It is easy to criticize. It is not easy to criticize and also offer a constructive solution. Other than declare the legislature should economize, critics have been slow to suggest a practical alternate to the business receipts tax which will affect only 75,000 taxpayers.

A state income tax, paid by both business firms and individual taxpayers, would have revived the old arguments leading to four rejections at ballot referendums. Four times in the past the voters of Michigan have turned down a state income tax. It would have affected many, many more taxpayers than the business receipts bill. The legislators must be elected and re-elected to stay in office.

Athalie Hough Archibald Writes About Experiences in Africa

It's quite a switch from life in the United States to that of Africa, but Mrs. Athalie Hough Archibald, daughter of Edward C. Hough, seems to have made it with little difficulty. At least that's what is evident in her last letter to her father.

The Archibalds are in Durban, Natal Province, South Africa, where they will stay for about two years. Archibald is an official with the Standard-Vacuum oil company.

In her letter Mrs. Archibald told about arriving in Durban and finding many people at the dock waiting to greet them. They were royally entertained by the official families of the company. She said the friendliness of the South African people is amazing. "They welcome you, they will go to any amount of trouble to help you, and nothing is too much trouble."

They purchased a home which is situated on a hill overlooking the city and the ocean. The garden is terraced and contains many varieties of fruits, such as guavas, avacadopears, paw-paws, and many more. She added, "The poinsettias are just starting to bloom, and we have a thicket of them about 12 feet high."

The two children were registered in private schools. Louise entered the Maris Stella and Bill is attending the Marist Brothers school. She said, "I'm delighted with the English system of instruction and find both children are reacting well to it."

She pointed out that sports are rather overlooked in the African schools. "There is some tennis and hockey and rugby but no regular system of gymnastics such as we have."

Mrs. Archibald is learning the Zulu language in order to converse with her serving people. Of the Zulus themselves she said, "they are a happy race and very soft and quiet in their ways. They are respectful and considerate, and yet can be hilarious over a little joke."

About 500 invitations to attend a two-week conservation field trip this summer have been mailed to teachers throughout Michigan, the conservation department reports.

Michigan State College is sponsoring the trip but resource personnel from the conservation department will help with lectures and discussions.

Invitations were sent to grade and high school teachers who in the past have attended conservation scholarship schools, workshops and field trips. The trip will be limited to 25-30 persons, who will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. College credit will be granted for the trip.

Slated the first two weeks of August, the group will visit a number of areas in the upper peninsula, all chosen to illustrate some phase of conservation work.

Timber operations, wood processing, iron mining, copper mining, fisheries and geology will be studied and the Keweenaw and Garden peninsulas and the Porcupine mountains will be visited during the trip.

The group will camp out during the entire trip, with each teacher using his own camping equipment. Travel will be by private cars, and teachers will pay their own expenses.

City Oils 16 Miles of Unpaved Roads

Homeowners—if you live on one of the city's 16 miles of unpaved streets here is good news for you. Road oiling is currently underway to keep the dust clouds where they belong—right in the gutter.

A contract for 20,000 gallons of road oil at 10 cents a gallon was recently awarded to Philips Road Oiling Service in Wayne. Road oiling will continue until the 16 miles of thoroughfares have been "battered" down against swirling dust clouds that make a highly polished tabletop feel like an expanse of sandpaper.

"What became of Milly? She was a duck of a girl."
"Yes, and she married a quack."

"Good to see you, Ginny—did you have a nice trip? And how's that telephone job you wrote about?"

"Absolutely fascinating, Bob. I never thought I'd enjoy working so much, but then I've always liked dealing with people."

"As a Customer Representative I help my group of telephone customers with orders for service, directory listings, billing and payment arrangements. And I enjoy working in an attractive office—among friendly people."

"It's a perfect job for a girl with college or business experience. Good salary, frequent increases—and plenty of chance for promotion, too. You might be the girl we're looking for—and this might be the job for you—why not find out more about it?"

Can Replace Social Security Card

"Take good care of your social security card," Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security field office advises. There is not another one like it in the whole world. It is different from every other social security card in that a different number appears on each card. The social security number positively identifies each worker. It is the key to the record of the worker's earnings that is kept by the Social Security Administration.

It is important since social security payments are based on the wages recorded. Workers who lose their cards do not need a new number. By contacting the social security office they can have their lost card replaced. For information regarding social security cards or payments contact the local social security office at 14600 Grand River avenue, Detroit 27, Michigan. The telephone number is Broadway 3-1717.

A worker can make sure that his wages are credited to his record by showing his social security card to each employer. This
