Joann VanAken Becomes Bride of William Taft in Afternoon Rites

At a lovely three o'clock ceremony on June 27, in the Salem Federated church, Salem, Michigan, Joann N. VanAken became the bride of William D. Taft.

Joann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. VanAken of South Salem road and William's parents are the Gerald F. Tafts of Eight Mile road, Northville.

The Reverend Cora M. Pennell officiated at the ceremony assisted by the Reverend Douglas R. Couch. Mrs. George Brown sang "Because" and "I Love Thee" preceding the ceremony. She was accompanied by Mrs. Morris Givens.

Joann wore a full length gown of white satin and nylon lace featuring a net yoke and long lace sleeves. Her fingertip length veil fell from a band of white satin and seedpearls and she carried a white Bible centered with white rosebuds, stephanotis and ivy. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Carole VanAken was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Keith Simons and Miss Tulane German, both of Northville. All the attendants wore identical waltz length gowns of pale yellow and carried cascade bouquets of daisies and ivy.

Keith Simons of Northville was William's best man and the ushers were Sidney Junod of Northville and Richard Newman of Traverse City.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony for about 125 guests, who came from Detroit, Royal Oak, St. Clair, Ann Arbor, Plymouth, Northville, South Lyon, Grand Rapids and Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Also present were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Newman of Traverse City. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. John Lorang, Mrs. Charles Fisher and Miss Elaine Rich.

The young couple have just returned from a honeymoon which took them through the New England states.

For a few minutes at Seventh and Broadway the other afternoon, traffic was at a standstill while Beauty and Beast fought it out.

"My goodness," exclaimed Beauty, "it was all your fault, I've been driving carefully, and I've had two years' experience."

"Yes," growled the Beast as he picked himself out of the gutter, "but don't forget that I've always walked carefully and I've had 68 years' experience."

Gardiner Doubts Women, Liquor Being Smuggled Into De-Ho-Co Named in Inmate Narcotics Ring

The Detroit House of Correction—ordinarily the end-of-the-line for those on a junket of crime, was the scene of a tightly organized narcotics ring until Monday when it was smashed with the arrest of two Detroit suppliers. Four inmates implicated were put into solitary confinement.

Following quickly on the heels of this disclosure was a hint Tuesday from Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien that there was a possibility of nocturnal visits of women, being smuggled into the "model" prison along with dregs of liquor.

"There is a rumor, that's all I know about it," Edward B. Gardiner, superintendent of the institution, said yesterday.

Opium derivatives were allegedly smuggled into the sprawling, 1,000-acre farm at the institution during visiting hours.

Two Detroit brothers of Inmate Peter Nawrocki were seized on the outside. They are William, and Stephen.

Inspector Russell McCarty, of the Detroit Police Department's Narcotics Bureau, said arresting officers found narcotics on inmate Nawrocki, allegedly taken in a drug store burglary in Detroit last March 8.

William and Stephen were held for investigation of breaking and entering and the possession of narcotics. Keys taken from William after the arrests unlocked a strongbox in the attic of the Nawrocki home, disclosing 39 bottles of varying narcotics. Police said they were mostly opium derivatives.

Credited with breaking up the ring was a Detroit patrolman, Henry Marzette, of the Narcotics Bureau. He and a police informant were planted in DeHoCo—sentenced as "drunks" to make their detention appear authentic.

The refined dope was said to have been distributed by the inmates when fellow prisoners displayed the initials "A. F.", signifying their taste for the narcotics.

The entire investigation was triggered-off when Gardiner received a letter from one member of the narcotics ring, Eugene Crowley, in and out of trouble with midwest police for 34 years. Inmates involved other than Crowley who were placed in special detention are Robert B. Richie, Peter Nawrocki, and Richard Schmidt.

It is uncertain whether O'Brien will order a probe into reported accounts of smuggling of women and liquor into the institution, located just four miles northwest of Plymouth.

O'Brien reportedly told The Detroit Free Press that he had learned of the possibilities from inmates, statements taken in the dope case by Ralph Garber, his

THE FOURTH CELEBRATION was more than a success as far as these Chamber of Commerce officials were concerned. Proceeds raised by ticket sales on the new car given away under the direction of Robert Willoughby, third from left, paid off all of the deficit on last year's Christmas street lighting program and provided the Chamber with a surplus to again string the gaily colored lights this year. Skeptical banker Jack Taylor surprisedly receives the check in payment of the Chamber note from Willoughby, as Chamber president Ralph Lorenz and Secretary Nar Sibböld smilingly approve. Lorenz, second from left, stated that he felt the raising of this sum was one of the Chamber's outstanding accomplishments this year.

Forrest Gorton

Plymouth's first city mail carrier, Forrest Warren Gorton, passed away, Tuesday, July 7, in Tawas City, Michigan after a brief illness. A life-time resident of Plymouth, Mr. Gorton served with the Post Office department for 36 years. He entered the postal service when the free carrier service was initiated in Plymouth on October 1, 1917.

Mr. Gorton and Ezra Rotnour, the other original carrier, were the exclusive mailmen for the city until 1927, when a third was added. In a Plymouth Mail article in 1948, honoring Gorton on his 31 years service, he is quoted as saying that through the years he saw "a great change in faces as the city grew." Truly, the mail carrier continually has his finger on the pulse of a city.

Mr. Gorton was active in community affairs, being a member of the Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47 F. & A. M. and a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth.

Mr. Gorton was born in Plymouth township in 1889. He was graduated from Plymouth public schools in 1910, and on August 7, 1911 married Miss Frances Ford in Windsor, Ontario. He lived with his wife and family at 679 Forest avenue.

Surviving Mr. Gorton are his wife, Frances; three daughters and one son, Mrs. Carrie Stevens of Pontiac, Owen Gorton of Plymouth, Mrs. JoAnn Levitt of Ann Arbor and Miss Kay Jean Gorton of Plymouth. Also surviving are his brother, Walter Gorton of Redwood City, California, four grandchildren and other relatives. Masonic services will be held Friday, July 10, at 1 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home. Reverend Frank Field of Mt. Clemens will officiate. Honorary pallbearers will be Ezra Rotnour, Maxwell MacDonald, Earl Foster and Martin Jones. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

"In view of the above, I am of the opinion that a supervisor of the city may be issued a liquor license upon approval of the proper authorities."

Supervisor Marquis, who was in attendance at the commission meeting June 15, stated that if he were to receive a license he would serve only beer and wine to those patrons of his establishment who were there to dine. He said he would have no bar.

At the session Monday night Demel asked for and got a postponement until July 20 of any decision as to just whom commissioners will award the tavern license.

Plymouth is authorized by the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission to issue four tavern licenses. So far two such licenses have been issued.

Detroit, Ypsi Youth Injured in Three-Car Crash

A Detroit and an 18-year-old youth from Ypsilanti were crash victims Tuesday in a three-car collision at Main street and Joy road that involved a Plymouthite who escaped injuries.

Injured were Albert J. Smith, 55, of Detroit and Clifford R. Barker from Ypsilanti. Both were removed to Wayne County General hospital suffering from lacerations of the forehead and shock. Smith also received treatment for a badly lacerated tongue.

The crash occurred at 12:45 p.m. when a car driven by De-coursey Roberts, 19, of Ypsilanti, collided broadside with a vehicle driven by Mrs. Thelma Parrish, of 2105 Marie, Plymouth, who was negotiating a left turn onto Joy from Main street.

The Parrish car then veered out of control and rammed into Smith's vehicle parked just east of the Joy-Main intersection.

Barker was a passenger in the Roberts' car.

Polio Precautions Outlined By Medic at U-M Hospital

Although a few simple precautions are suggested to keep children safe from polio, parents are urged not to become hysterical and thus overly restrict their youngsters' activities.

Danger is greatest if there is a lot of polio in the community, says Dr. David G. Dickinson, medical director of the Respirator Center at University hospital. No month or time of day is most dangerous, because the disease does not follow a pattern of this kind, he states.

Three measures for avoiding polio are recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

(1) Don't let children become exhausted, and make sure that they get plenty of rest.

(2) Severe chilling, such as bluebun from swimming for a long period of time, should be prevented.

(3) Public places like wading pools and carnivals should be avoided. "It is not a good idea to expose children to new playmates every day," Dr. Dickinson said, "but it is foolish to keep them away from their own circle of friends."

The early signs of polio are non-specific, and it is often impossible to diagnose the disease definitely in its early stages, he declared.

Sore throat, fever, headache and sick stomach are all part of the symptoms of patients later found to have polio. These are also the symptoms of many other diseases, he pointed out, and the only really useful thing to do is put a child to bed for any kind of sickness and call a doctor.

Kenneth E. Way Named to City Assessor Post

Kenneth E. Way, acting city assessor here since December, 1952, was last Monday elevated to city assessor.

Way's new position on city rosters was earlier combined as city engineer-assessor, a job title that was dissolved in Way's favor. Way has been a city employee since October, 1951. Until his appointment as acting city assessor seven months ago he was an engineering clerk.

Way, who is the father of two children, William, 5, and Olivia, 4, recently completed a city assessor's course at the University of Michigan. He resides at 302 North Holbrook.

The Mission Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday, July 15, at the home of Mrs. Timothy Sullivan at White Lake. A potluck dinner will be served at noon. All ladies of the church are invited to attend.

Arlen

cause of a 3½-hour long vocal bout with a hearing ordinance being read for the first time. "That was an arduous and unpleasant task," Mrs. Hammond declared.

Arlen himself made an indictment against the commissioners when he charged the ouster action was "Not in order with the charter and state law."

Arlen entered a request that his name be placed on the roll call just after official proceedings got underway. His full statement is reprinted below:

"I request my name be called. Since the action is not in order with the charter and state law, I consider it illegal and not an action at all. And therefore, I consider myself a commissioner elected for the full term of office."

Daane said "I must of necessity deny the request." However, Daane instructed the city clerk to enter it into the record "for your (Arlen's) protection."

Oddly enough, in post-commission meeting statements to The Mail Daane and Arlen spoke nearly identical words. Said Arlen: "The burden of proof lies with the commission." Said Daane: "The burden of proof is not with us."

This would seem to support Daane's earlier statement that the commission would be happy to abide by any court decision declaring Arlen a legal resident, and thereby a member of the commission. "A vacancy exists under the city charter and state law because of the sale of his (Arlen's) home and not having a full-time residence here." Thus the commission took a "closed book" attitude.

Arlen said that he did not believe the city attorney had given a decision on the question of what constituted residency and that their attitude of what he described as "any action of the commission is final" was not justified.

A Slow Count at Mutuel Windows

To the Editor: The Merle Oliver article exposing the "carnie gyms" in the June 21 News was very interesting, but why not expose the gyms in licensed gambling, or is it too hot to handle? As a person experienced, I've noticed quite a few tricks at the various race tracks which mulct the bettors out of quite a tidy sum each year. Being a "mark" for the horses, I still resent being a "mark" for the mutuel clerks. Though I was only stung once, I've seen it happen to quite a few people. Here are a few of the favorite tricks used which should be corrected by the track management.

You buy a $5 ticket and tender $20 in paying. The clerk will reach down and put a $5 bill as change with the right hand, then reach down with the other hand for the $10. By that time a "mark" may have picked up the $5 and left in his excitement.

Another way: When you cash a winning ticket for, say, $13.40, the clerk puts out the bills first, then, almost as an afterthought, he may put out the small change. I've seen it happen quite a few times in one day.

This amounts to quite a sum during a race meet. An honest clerk always puts out the small change first.

There are other milking devices used. One day, for instance, five people—including me—returned to one window for a $5 shortage on a pay off of $55. We got only $50—all in $5 bills. Accident?

INSIDER

In several recent articles on racing which we published in Detroit and outstate papers, we have referred to:

- I. The Public Interest
- II. The Employees' Interest
- III. Our Union's Interest

When MICHIGAN RACE TRACK OWNERS, under the guise of neutrality, agree to submit to the dictates of TEAMSTER BOSS HOFFA, BUFFALINO'S JUKE BOX LOCAL #85 and McFETRIDGE of BUILDING SERVICE A. F. of L. in their attempt to grab our UNION, its members and its contracts they destroy in a great measure the CONFIDENCE, RELIABILITY and SECURITY of their EMPLOYEES.

When the EMPLOYEES in any business are suddenly deprived of their JOB RIGHTS, their SENIORITY and the PROPER EXPECTANCY for Promotion to better paying jobs as a fair and just reward for services well performed, the normal reaction may well be a let-down in efficiency.

In many cases NEWCOMERS just brought into the business thru political or other influence bring with them a substitution of day-to-day quick expediency instead of reliable performance on a normal continuing employment basis.

OUR UNION, since 1949, has provided by agreement for the continuing right of an EFFICIENT WORKER to return to his or her job each season. We have established SENIORITY and PROMOTION based on LENGTH OF SERVICE and ABILITY.

OUR UNION has established hospital and life insurance benefits for the protection of the MEMBERS and their FAMILIES. We have at considerable legal effort and expense established UNEMPLOYMENT benefit coverage for MEMBERS when they are out of work.

WHAT LEGITIMATE reason can there be for the RACE TRACK OPERATORS failing to join with this UNION in our PETITION for a STATE LABOR MEDIATION BOARD conducted ELECTION to determine the legal BARGAINING AGENCY the EMPLOYEES of the Racing Industry wish to represent them?

PLYMOUTH'S HAPPIEST residents on the Fourth were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore who reside at 506 Maple street. It was their good fortune to secure the new Oldsmobile given away by the Chamber of Commerce to raise funds for their street lighting project. Mr. Moore has been an employee of Barnes, Gibson & Raymond for the last 23 years and a resident of Plymouth for the last two years. Plans for his immediate future, he says, call for a nice long vacation in their new car. They were sitting quietly at home when friends notified them that the car was theirs.

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Mildred White and Mrs. Louise Rouelson are on a two weeks motor trip to Denver, Colorado, Salt Lake City, Utah and other mid-west points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gutherie and family of Newburg road attended the annual fireworks display at the George McIntyre home on 10 Mile road on the evening of July Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Saner and daughter, Shirley have been vacationing near Grayling for the past week.

May Traffic Toll Sets State Record

A new high monthly traffic casualty toll was recorded in Michigan when 5,433 persons were killed and injured during May, according to the State Police monthly statistical report.

There were 129 persons killed and 5,304 injured in 16,092 accidents. The new toll smashed the previous high of 5,303 recorded in December last year when 171 were killed and 5,132 injured.

The State Police report pointed out that although May deaths were 15, or ten per cent, under the 144 for the same month in 1952, the injury total was up 1,193, or 29 per cent, over 4,111. This likewise was a new high monthly injury record. The previous high was recorded last December.

Accidents in May exceeded all previous totals for that month, and increased 3,398, or 27 per cent, over 12,694 a year ago. The previous high for May was 15,335 in 1951.

On a comparative basis, May is not generally regarded as one of the high accident months. June, July and August with heavy volumes of vacation traffic are usually worse. This causes traffic officials to fear a continued upward trend.

Michigan's traffic record for the first five months of 1953 shows 641 deaths, 21,268 injuries and 72,528 accidents. Deaths were up 76, or 13 per cent, over 565 for the same period in 1952. Injuries increased 3,663, or 21 per cent, over 17,600 and accidents gained 7,586, or 12 per cent, over 64,942.

Estimated travel for the first four months of this year, the latest information available, totaled 7.3 billion miles, an increase of seven per cent over 7.3 billion in the same period last year. The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was 6.6, an increase of 14 per cent over 5.8 for the same period in 1952.

Good News For Rabbit Hunters

Woodchuck populations this year are "satisfactory," conservation department game men note. This is important news to rabbit hunters; rabbits use woodchuck burrows during the winter as places of refuge and a slump in woodchuck numbers would eventually present wintering problems for some portion of Michigan's cottontail population.

The game division has asked the conservation commission to make no change in current woodchuck regulations. These provide for limited hunting in the lower peninsula, the state's cottontail habitat. In the upper peninsula, hunters may take woodchucks at any time.

Property owners in the lower peninsula are protected from woodchuck damage, however, by being allowed to remove the rodents from their land at any time.

Note Little Change in Hunting Laws

Only a few changes from last year have been recommended for most of this year's hunting and trapping laws, the conservation department reports.

The conservation commission will consider the recommendations of department game men in its meeting at Higgins lake training school, July 8-9.

A few items, such as regulations for the coming deer season, will be set aside until the August meeting. Also, waterfowl regulations cannot be set until the federal government sets season limits.

Game men did suggest, however, that the commission consider asking the legislature to open the season on black squirrels. Since blacks are only a color phase of the gray squirrel, with both often occurring in the same litter, there is no apparent biological reason for protecting the blacks. At present, black squirrel populations are high and a limited season has been suggested; no action could be taken on this, however, until next year.

Also, a season limit increase from three to four birds is recommended for the Menominee county pheasant season.

Other than these two shifts, however, only minor local changes have been suggested.

Sandwich Has Interesting History

While picnics have been going on for hundreds of years, we must not forget the most important part of any picnic—SANDWICHES. For no picnic would be complete without sandwiches made of cheese, cold meats, and various kinds of filling to suit the individual taste. Garnished with lettuce, tomatoes, pickles, mustard, olives, relishes and other condiments, they are delectable eating and will satisfy the most ravenous boy or girl.

Many stories have been told about the origin of the sandwich. Yet, today, people are still in the dark as to how our present day sandwich came into being.

Theories have been advanced by writers who say that sandwiches are older than bread itself and were inspired by the first man or woman who placed a slice of meat or other filling between two slabs of bread. Still others say that sandwiches were nothing new to the Babylonians and that the Greeks and Romans enjoyed this food combination at their banquet tables.

More stories were told with the supposition that priests of the pre-Christian era invented the sandwich because they dined upon sacred wafers spread with honey. Again, another school of thought leans to the belief that the birth of the sandwich occurred in the year 50 A.D. and was used as part of the Passover Observance by a Jewish teacher, Rabbi Hillel.

Perhaps the most fascinating story to be told about the origin of the sandwich is the tale of the Fourth Earl of Sandwich. Back in the latter part of the 18th century, the Earl was one of the most prominent figures in British politics having twice served as First Lord of the Admiralty.

But his heart was not in the affairs of state, gambling being his first love. For twenty-four hours at a time, the Earl would sit at the gaming table and become so absorbed in the contest that he would refuse to stop and eat.

It was during one particular card game that had been in progress for sometime that the Earl of Sandwich became quite hungry. Not wanting to throw in his cards and lose the pot, he directed his servants to prepare his meal in the form of meat between two layers of bread. This way he could play his hand and eat at the same time without interfering with the game.

Other gamblers were intrigued by this novel method of eating which served a dual purpose and it became quite common for them to order the "same as Sandwich."

Thus, the sandwich gained in popularity with every class of society and its use spread throughout the world. All because of one man's love for gambling.

Today the sandwich still retains its popularity and has become an important part of the diet of the average American. Just as the principle motive for Lord Sandwich preferring bread and meat to a three-course meal that would take him away from his game, the sandwich now serves as a time saver for thousands of office workers, laborers, homemakers and school children. In addition, it is wholesome and nourishing.

Sandwiches may be simple or elaborate, and the range in variety is limited only to the imagination of the sandwich maker. They exist all the way from the plain waferlike bread and butter sandwich of the afternoon tea to the 10-layer sandwich which is the perennial favorite of Dagwood Bumstead, great American folk hero of Chic Young's comic strip, "Blondie."

Ranking foremost among the favorites of today are the hamburger and hot dog between buns and rolls which are a "must" in every picnic basket. However, many other types of sandwiches such as peanut butter and jelly, cheese, cold meats, etc., are popular with the young and old alike.

But no matter what the filling, sandwiches are the life of any picnic whether they are held in parks, backyards, beaches or forest preserves. So, let all go on a picnic and have lots of fun.

Deadline is Tuesday at noon.

Danger exists that Veteran Trust Fund monies will be misused if the Legislature keeps casting envious eyes on cash surpluses earned by prudent administration.

This is the warning voiced by D. Hale Brake, State Treasurer. The risk of loose spending, he said, will be more severe if local committeemen, who grant individual benefits, act on the theory that any of their allocation they do not spend in one year will be taken away.

Fifty million dollars were set aside for a trust fund in 1946. At that time the state had accumulated more money than it could spend under war-time restrictions. There was a general feeling everywhere that returning veterans were entitled to all possible help in adjusting to civil life.

Idea was that the $50,000,000 was to be invested, the income used to meet emergency needs of veterans, their wives or dependents. Legislators who designed the fund were not short-sighted. They knew that conditions would change; that the large nestegg would be in constant danger of appropriation by every agency needing money.

So several strings were attached to the methods of handling the $50,000,000. The principal may not be spent. Only the income can be used. In this way, veterans are guaranteed an amount of money every year. Income amounts to a little over $1,100,000 each year.

"Two important decisions were made at the time the fund was established," explained Treasurer Brake. One he listed as the granting of benefits at local rather than state level; the second was that money allocated to counties would be cumulative.

"In other words," Mr. Brake said, "we said to those local people: If you find that you don't need this year all of your share of the trust fund income, it will be credited to you and you can use it next year or five years from now—it will not be taken from you."

Other trust fund machinery has worked as planned. Local committees of veterans examine applications from other veterans who face financial emergency. If the case seems worthy, a grant is made.

In only one year, 1949, was more money allocated to veterans than the fund earned. "Local committeemen," said the state treasurer, "have been very conservative in the use of trust fund income." Grants allowed veterans since 1946 total $4,494,000. The following figures give a year by year accounting of money used for veteran emergency needs from the trust fund. This does not include expense of administration.

1946-47	$ 415,000
1947-48	799,000
1948-49	873,000
1949-50	1,193,000
1950-51	613,000
1951-52	599,000

"Diversion of trust fund income," says D. Hale Brake, "has been growing to a point where it absorbs more than half of the income." To prove his point, the treasurer quotes figures starting in 1947 when the Legislature took $120,000 for a veteran's association bill. In that year $50,000 was needed for administration expense. Each year the Legislature diverted more money until 1953 finds more than $638,000, including $120,335 for administration subtracted from the fund.

The state official was careful not to question on the value of the projects where the money was spent. His objections centered on appropriation of money from the trust fund for any purpose other than emergency use.

Although no permanent harm is done, Treasurer Brake is concerned with the effect upon local committeemen by the Legislature's actions. "One can hear among county committeemen the expression of the thought that they might just as well use the complete allotment, because otherwise the Legislature will take the money from them," the treasurer warned. "That is not desirable thinking and the practice that promotes it should be discontinued."

Understanding was shown by the state treasurer for the plight of the Legislature when he said: "We must recognize that the Legislature has been in a very difficult position. Keeping essential services going in the face of a steadily mounting deficit has not been easy. Perhaps it's safe to say that they reached for more of the trust fund income in desperation and not with the intent to make the practice permanent."

Praise is due to county committeemen, the treasurer added. He said they have been doing a wonderful job and that their decisions have been on the conservative rather than the liberal side.

"There is a distinct advantage in having the real authority in the administration close to the people who are to receive the benefits," he said. Mr. Brake conceded local committeemen might have made errors but attributed them to difficulties in starting the program. He pointed out that "experience has shown that errors will be more frequent with centralized administration than with local administration."

What is the best guarantee that the fund will continue to function as originally conceived by the Legislature? Here is Mr. Brake's recommendation:

All who have responsibility in connection with the administration of the trust fund—the local committeemen, state trustees, and those who wait upon the Legislature—should keep steadfastly in mind the primary purpose of the trust fund, namely to furnish emergency help to veterans so that they need not go to welfare in case of unexpected difficulty. Anything tending to prevent the accomplishment of that original purpose should be insistently avoided.

Urge Employers To Record Data With Accuracy

"Employers will save time, work, and money if they carefully record each worker's name and number as they appear on the social security card," Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office advised today. This should be done when the employee is hired.

Four times a year the employer has to file a tax report on the wages of his employees. The tax return must show the worker's name, social security number and the amount of wages paid. All of this information is required and it is important that it is shown correctly on the return. The worker then gets proper credit for his wages. The employer who has copied the worker's name and number exactly as shown on the social security card will be able to file correct and complete returns.

When proper returns are filed, no calls or letters from the social security office to get correct information are necessary. The employer doesn't have to locate former employees or recheck records and social security cards. This means a saving in time, effort, and money to employers. For the worker it means that the wages he earns can be promptly credited to his social security account.

For information concerning social security or getting a social security card, contact the Detroit-Northwest office at 14600 Grand River avenue.

Baby Sitters Heed Precautions, Safety Rules

"Baby sitters have a great responsibility and should take steps to prepare for emergencies," states Emma DuBord, Wayne county home demonstration agent.

- Six concrete rules for baby sitters to follow are:
1. Know where parents can be reached in case of emergency.
 2. Secure the name and location of a neighbor or friend who could be called in case of emergency.
 3. Know telephone numbers of police and fire departments.
 4. Check the location of the fire extinguisher and know how to operate it.
 5. Check the location of first aid supplies.
 6. Obtain a list of danger spots in the house and in the yard.
- "Baby sitting is a real privilege because a sitter is a 'second mother' while on duty, and she should feel a great responsibility for the safety of the children as well as for their comfort and happiness," states Mrs. DuBord.

TCP, a Shell discovered additive, now blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, puts an end to greatest cause of power loss. Actually boosts power up to 15%, spark plug life up to 150%, by counteracting the deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers.

Though you may not realize it, the chances are that your engine is delivering far less than its original horsepower.

This is because, in the average engine, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. These deposits actually "short-circuit" your spark plugs causing them to misfire. They may also cause pre-ignition of the combustion mixture—resulting in severe knock. This is especially true when accelerating, climbing hills, or driving on the open highway.

This condition exists in the majority of cars on the road today.

To overcome this condition, Shell Research discovered a fuel additive, TCP. Blended into Shell Premium

*Excess applied for Gasoline, TCP stops the short-circuiting effects of the deposits on spark plugs and controls pre-ignition of the combustion mixture. This means, for the average motorist, a power boost of up to 15%, an increase in spark plug life of up to 150%, plus an increase in gasoline mileage!

Shell Premium with TCP is the most important advance in gasoline since the discovery of tetraethyl lead in 1922.

New and old engines benefit

If you have a new car, particularly one with a high-compression engine, Shell Premium with TCP is essential if you want it to keep on delivering its original power for the normal life of the spark plugs. But high-compression or not, Shell Premium with TCP

Keeps your engine working like new.

Owners of older cars also benefit. Even if your car has gone 30,000 miles or more, your engine can get back much of its original power by the use of Shell Premium with TCP.

Shell Premium with TCP quick to act

So rapidly does Shell Premium with TCP counteract the deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers that you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up before you've finished the second tankful. You enjoy that new car pep again.

NOW IN YOUR TOWN

but only at your Shell Dealer's

TCP (a Shell Trademark) was originally developed by Shell Research for aviation fuels and until now has been largely restricted to military aircraft.

Today, Shell Premium with TCP is available in this area, but only at Shell Dealer Stations.

Editor, Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Sir:

I stood at the corner of Maple and Main streets Saturday, the Fourth of July, to watch the parade go by. As the little group of Boy Scouts at the head of the procession proudly carried by 'Old Glory' it grieved me to see not one man in the crowd near me keep me company in taking off his hat in salute to The Flag. I saw many keep their hats on instead.

Isn't it small enough tribute to pay to that flag for whom the boys, our home-town boys included, are at this moment risking, yes giving, their lives on the battle fields of Korea?

I thought of that stirring poem, 'Hats off! The Flag is Marching By.' Too bad the indifference of today cannot bring out that same acclaim.

Many a time in the football stadium at Ann Arbor, the Alma Mater song, 'The Yellow and the Blue,' has been sung, and with others I have bared my head as a tribute to the college for which it stands. And many I have seen been forcibly caused to bare their heads because they had been unaware of its significance, being strangers. But no man who is a citizen of our land could possibly not know of the significance of our flag.

I pledge allegiance to The Flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

So help me, God.

Marine Reserve To Hold 2 Week Summer Camp

Prospective citizen Marines in the greater Detroit area have until August 1 to sign up for the two weeks summer camp with Dearborn's 15th Special Infantry Company of the Marine Corps Reserve.

Major Morris B. Stanley, company commander, has announced that new recruits enlisting within one day of the unit's August 1st departure for Little Creek, Virginia, will be eligible for the tour of active duty.

Ordinary recruit training for the late comers will be undertaken simultaneously with such standard summer camp activities as the firing range, weapons study and tactical problems in the field, according to Major Stanley.

Site of the company's summer training this year will be the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Virginia, Major Stanley said. The unit will depart by train and return by Marine airlift.

Emphasis in this year's training will be placed on new weapons, techniques and equipment and the ship-to-shore phases of amphibious warfare.

More than 50 men from the greater Detroit area, including Wayne, Wyandotte, Allen Park, Lincoln Park and Dearborn are already scheduled to make this encampment.

Persons interested in enlisting in time to qualify for the summer training period should report to the 15th Special Infantry Company at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, 13021 Osborn, Dearborn, or telephone LU-2-4636 for information.

Local Boy Scouts to Match Strokes in Swim Contest

Boy Scouts of District VII, comprised of the area outside Metropolitan Detroit, will join in an aquatic meet "For Fun Only" this Saturday at the Plymouth High school pool. The meet will start at 10 a.m. and will last for two hours.

Troop P-1 will be host to the district troops for the event. The meet will not require any special swimming skill or ability, so most troops and explorer posts should enter teams in all events.

These events include the 25-yard free-style, 25-yard back stroke, 25-yard breast stroke, 200-yard relay, and the 25-yard stroke tow. The fun numbers will include the apple balance relay, trouser emergency relay and a quick change relay.

This is the second year that the popular aquatic meet has been scheduled for Scouts of the area. Following the district preliminaries, which will be held in each of the nine districts, winners will compete in the Council finals at the Patton pool in Detroit, Wednesday evening, July 29. Outstanding sports celebrities will attend the July 29 finals, it has been announced.

Pansies and Violas Grow Well from Seed Sown Now

Pansies have faces.

Violas have none.

two inches apart each way; but they do not insist upon this. Let them alone if you wish, and when freezing weather comes the flat will be crowded with vigorous plants. Place in a cold frame, or in a protected corner near the house foundation, where there is enough sun to keep down mildew, and cover the flat with dry leaves. Inspect it occasionally to be sure it is not too dry, but let the snow cover it without worrying.

In the spring your pansy plants should look much as they did in the fall, with dark green leaves unfaded beneath the blanket of leaves. In a cold frame they can be flowered by tulip time, but a longer garden display will be obtained if the plants are kept in the open, and transplanted to the chosen place as soon as the soil is workable.

In well drained soil with only a few hours sun pansies will bloom all summer. The more blossoms you cut for indoor use, the more the plants will bear. If in midsummer the flowers become fewer, cut back the top growth severely and a new crop will follow.

Violas are treated just like the pansies, the difference between them being chiefly a matter of size, and color markings. Violas have the tufted growth of violets, and no color blotches, or "faces."

When violas are given a protective mulch they will often live for several years, but the best practice is to start a flat of new seedlings every summer. It is remarkable how little time it takes, and how undemanding are the pansy and viola plants.

In selecting strains for the garden, many named varieties of both pansies and violas are available, as well as mixtures which provide all colors in the remarkable range which these flowers possess. Beds of a single color are beautiful, but most amateurs will find a mixture of colors most interesting.

Lack of Interest Ends Local Band Concerts

The passing of an era may have been marked this week with the announcement of the cancellation of the summer band concerts by Herbert E. Woolweaver, director of adult education and recreation.

The reason given for discontinuing the concerts, which have been held each week during the summers for many years, are lack of interest on the part of the school and community musicians and poor community attendance.

"Interest in the program has been lagging for the past five or six years," said Woolweaver.

He said that it is the belief of the local recreation commission that the introduction of television is a chief factor in the declining interest in the program, since many more people are staying at home now instead of seeking entertainment outside.

"The whole secret to the success of a summer band program is the musicians," Woolweaver said. "If there are not enough competent musicians willing to come out and play the type of music the public enjoys, then the attendance certainly will be low."

The major difficulty seems to be that so many of Plymouth's youth leave for summer cottages and thus are not available to play in the band.

Laurence Livingston, director of the summer concert band in past years, said that only 20 or 25 members out of the 70-piece high school band came out to put in the practice session one night each week, plus the night for the concert.

He said that it had been his hope that other local musicians would take this opportunity to add their talents to the band, however, "the people just are not interested."

"The recreation commission has not discontinued the concerts permanently, but decided it might be a wise move to do without them this year and see if they were missed enough that the people would show more interest in them in the future," said director Woolweaver.

Former C. F. Smith Manager Found Guilty on Short Weight Charge

John Rougin, former manager of the C. F. Smith company store at 820 Penniman was last Monday found guilty by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo on a short weight charge.

Rougin, who on June 15 pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing and released on $200 bond, was fined $100.

He was named in a complaint of having "in his possession a false weighing device . . . a meat scale . . . which was set one-half ounce fast at zero." The complaint was signed by Inspector Kenneth Dilloway of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Davis died Friday, June 19, at the Richmond hospital, Richmond, California, following a brief illness. The services were held from the Wilson and Kratzer downtown chapel. Committal services were private.

A native of Michigan, Davis formerly resided on Ann Arbor trail. He had resided in Plymouth for 25 years when he left for the west coast in 1944. He was employed at Wiedman's, Inc. here.

A member of McKinley Lodge F. & A. M. of Richmond, Davis also belonged to the Auto Mechanics union of Oakland, California. He had lived at 1835 Ralston avenue, San Pablo, for six years.

Survivors are his widow, Marjorie; two sons, Donald Davis, of Plymouth, and Lyle Davis, Jr. of Hayward, California; seven sisters and two brothers in Michigan; and one grandson.

Another advocate of perennials as a basis for a beautiful garden is Mrs. Chester C. Teasel of 9000 West Warren road. Mrs. Teasel is shown above with some of the lovely roses which she has growing along the fence surrounding her property.

Because of their beauty and the fact that they require little care, perennials form a border around Mrs. Teasel's yard. Among these are peonies, a considerable number and variety of iris, tulips and daffodils. Phlox also add a brightening note to the perennial border.

Besides the roses along the split rail fence, Mrs. Teasel also grows trumpet vines.

In back of the Teasel residence is a hollow which slopes back to a small grove of trees. Planted here are naturalized daffodils. These provide Mrs. Teasel with her first show of spring flowers. Wild violets and also phlox are planted in the hollow.

On the side of the house Mrs. Teasel has planted a rock garden, which is also one of the lovely highlights to her yard. Flowers in the rock garden include phlox, columbine and some geraniums. For ground cover Mrs. Teasel uses sedum.

With perennials Mrs. Teasel manages to have some flower in bloom throughout the late spring and summer season. This point as well as the advantage of requiring so little care, make perennials the favorite of Mrs. Chester Teasel. And her lovely yard makes it evident that her idea is a good one.

Mrs. Charles Bingham of Five Mile road is spending three weeks in Ludington as the guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Martin. She will be with the Martin children while their parents are vacationing in Prince Albert, Canada.

Hot Weather Canapes

Canapes, attractively arranged on a large plate or tray, are designed to delight the eye and whet the appetite. In hot weather, appetizers made with sardines, anchovies and other salty foods, besides being perfect accompaniments to long, cooling drinks, have the added advantage of replenishing the salt lost in the body. Here are some suggestions for simple, but delicious, hot weather canapes. For the base, use toasted bread squares, crackers or small rye slices.

- ANCHOVIES: Cut around a radish, a stuffed olive or a ball of cream cheese. ANCHOVY PASTE: Blend with cream cheese, season with chopped pickled onion, soften with sour cream and top with chopped parsley.
- SARDINES: Place under thinly sliced cucumbers; garnish with an olive. Hold fast with a toothpick.
- GUACAMOLE: Hit of any summer party when Avocado pears are reasonable. Four Avocado pears, peeled and mashed; add a peeled and chopped tomato. Add a teaspoon onion juice, dash of cayenne, salt and pepper and beat smooth with one tablespoon oil and one tablespoon vinegar. (To keep from darkening when made in advance, bury two pits in mixture.)
- HERRING: Marinated. Chop, mix smooth and dilute with marinating sauce if necessary. Decorate with parsley.
- Hard boiled halves of eggs, radish roses, scalloped lemon halves and bits of parsley add color to your canape tray.
- The ideal refreshing beverage mates for these would be: GINGER JACK: Combine 1/4 cup apple juice; slice of lime; two tablespoons simple syrup over ice in tall glass. Fill with pale dry ginger ale.
- COOLER: In a tall glass place 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 dashes angostura, and ice. Fill with club soda. Garnish with a slice of lemon or lime.
- LIMEADE: Squeeze juice of 1 lime in a tall glass; sweeten to taste. Add cracked ice and water. Stir well; garnish with lime slice.

Pestproofing Woolens Easy With EQ-53

A new mothproofing liquid, EQ-53, now on the market, makes it possible to mothproof your blankets, socks, sweaters or other washable woolens as you wash them. This is not just for use when you store woolens in the spring. It can be used all summer long to protect woolens in closets or in darker places of storage. Woolens treated with EQ-53 and stored should be safe from the feeding of larvae of moths or carpet beetles for more than a year. Wearable woolens are protected for one year unless they are washed or dry cleaned. Dry cleaning takes out the DDT in this new mothproofing liquid which is a solution of 25 per cent DDT with other chemicals. Washing does not remove all of it but may reduce it so it is no longer effective.

Follow the directions on the bottle exactly. This is a strong concentration of DDT so use only one tablespoon for each pound of dry woolens. Wash in the usual way then pour EQ-53 into the rinse water at the rate of one tablespoon for each pound of woolens. Soak woolens in this rinse for a few minutes then stir three to five minutes with a paddle or by hand. Follow with normal rinsing and drying. Your result is mothproofed woolens free from any odor of EQ-53.

You may mothproof clean woolens. Just omit the washing. Use no soap or synthetic detergent but merely rinse the woolens in the mothproofing solution. Warning is given about mothproofing baby's clothes. Do not use this EQ-53 treatment on infant's woolens being worn all the time. Use it only on infants garments to be stored—then dry clean the garments before they touch the baby's tender skin.

Sagging cottons can be revived with a gelatin solution bath. Dissolve a tablespoon of plain gelatin in a little cold water and then add a gallon of hot water to make the solution.

GOOD NEWS FOR Homemakers

Anna Marshall

KEEPING COOL IN THE KITCHEN is a neat trick on a summer day. There's a magic key to keeping cool as you cook. The key is to use easy-fix foods. Like SOUPS AND SANDWICHES. Have your cupboard stocked with condensed soups. Might be tomato chicken noodle, vegetable and cream of mushroom soups. Each is a wonderful main course for the meal.

Then reach to your shelf of sandwich fixings for the rest of the meal. Peanut butter, sliced cheese, cold sliced meats or canned meats. Bread, lettuce, butter or margarine.

Another happy, easy-fix twosome is hot soup and a cool refreshing salad. Soup goes so well with a big tuna salad or a combination salad of fresh fruits and cottage cheese.

- Hearty Vegetable-Noodle Soup
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed vegetable soup
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed beef noodle or chicken noodle soup
1 1/2 cup cans water
Combine soups and water. Simmer about 5 minutes. Serve soup with a green salad and deviled eggs.
- Quick Mushroom-Corn Chowder
2 bacon slices
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 soup can (1 1/2 cups) whole milk
1 cup cream style corn
Crisp bacon in saucepan. remove bacon and break into 1-inch pieces. Cook onions until soft in bacon drippings. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 5 minutes. Garnish soup with bacon bits. 4 servings. Serve this soup with ham-on-rye sandwiches.

When considering make-over clothing for youngsters, use light weight, firm, closely woven fabrics of suitable bright color. It would be impractical to use worn-out, harsh material for children's clothing.

Warn Children Of Danger of Electric Lines

Children should have explained to them the danger of flying kites near electric wires, trying to pull down anything from these lines, or touching lines that have broken and are on the ground or hanging loose from poles.

If kites or their strings tangle with power lines, the result may be fatal to the child flying the kite. A wet or damp kite string, or the wire sometimes used on kites, is an excellent conductor of electricity. Thus, if the kite hits a power line, the child holding the cord may be on the receiving end of a fatal charge of electricity. Children should be warned against trying to rescue a kite that gets away and blows onto power lines. They should leave the kite and parents should report it promptly to the power company or rural electric cooperative so a lineman can remove it.

Parents also should caution young folks against trying to remove anything in contact with electric lines. Never, under any circumstance, should they touch broken lines on the ground or hanging from poles.

Make Hamburgers With A Spicy Sauce

Hamburgers are tops on many persons' lists. And here's a trick to add even more appeal to your next beef patty serving. The patties are cooked and served with a spicy sauce made of catchup, prepared mustard and a hint of cloves.

- BEEF PATTIES—SPICY SAUCE
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup catchup
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- Combine meat, salt and pepper and shape into 4 patties, 3/4 to 1 inch thick. Brown patties on both sides in frying-pan. Mix catchup, mustard and cloves. Pour mixture over patties and cook about 8 to 10 minutes, turning occasionally. Serve sauce over patties. 4 servings.

Do Not Skimp on Proteins to Serve Light Summer Meals

Have you made or heard the remark that lighter meals are more desirable in summer? If by lighter meals is meant skimping on the protein foods such as meat, fish, poultry, milk and milk products then the practice is a fallacy. The complete protein foods are just as important in summer, since you exercise more, as in winter because their duty is to build and repair tissues, muscles and cells in the body. This building and repair work goes on all year long, and without protein it is impossible to sustain life. Food that supplies the many different vitamins and minerals needed, together with protein, make combination teams that keep the body running efficiently.

- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
- Soften gelatin in cold milk in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Combine egg yolks, salt, mustard, and paprika; beat slightly. Gradually add small amount of the hot milk slowly stirring rapidly. Return to double boiler and cook over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in lemon juice and salmon. Turn into a 3-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold; garnish with tomato wedges and sliced cucumbers. Yield: 6 servings.
- In caring for nylon garments use washing machine or automatic washer. Remember, however, that nylon tends to pick up dyes from other fabrics.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

HERE'S PROOF that a kitchen can be given a sparkling new personality and new time and space-saving conveniences to aid the housewife. Shown above is the newly remodeled and redecorated kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Spence, 15185 Northville road. The room is tastefully decorated in lime-tone green with a rose ceiling, as recommended by Pease Paint & Wallpaper company. All cupboard shelves are of the sliding type, thereby providing unusually easy access to utensils at the rear of cupboards. Other special features include a folding built-in drawer for sink cleaning materials, a built-in cutting board and knife holder, and a retractable elevator for the mixer.

Old Home May Offer Many Advantages, But Check It Carefully Before You Buy

Families in the market for a home will find much to be said in favor of the house that's been around awhile, according to a leading home modernization publication.

The older home usually offers more space for less money. The neighborhood is established, its character known; utilities are in and paid for; the lot is landscaped, and the garage, drive and other expensive extras are included in the package.

Schools, churches, transportation and other facilities are established—not just contemplated, as in newer areas.

However, the magazine warned, the advantages of the bargain may be more than offset by the money needed to bring the house up to date. Time may have added charm to the house, but its defects, too, have had time to ripen.

Assume the prospective homeowner has found a house he likes; the neighborhood is what he wants, and the price is not beyond him. His next move should be to determine if the house is really worth the price—by examining it to ascertain how much more it will cost to remedy all the defects.

The basement is the best place to observe the structure of the house. The basement should have a concrete floor, preferably with a drain. If it floods, there will be evidence—water marks on the walls, a rust level on the heating equipment. If the basement is excessively damp, the walls or joists overhead will show mold, rot or dampness.

Check the foundation. Cracks can be patched, but severe cracks may be a symptom of faulty construction. There should be a sill—a flat timber on which the joists supporting the first floor of the house rest—running around the top of the foundation. And there should be steel or wood girders or beams supporting the joists in all but the smallest houses.

Vertical wooden columns should rest on a concrete base above the floor (if imbedded in the floor, they have more chance to rot unseen). Joists should be 2x6 or larger, 16 inches apart. They should be braced with "bridging" if they span distances of more than eight or nine feet.

Look for rot, termites, cracking and sagging in all wooden members of the structure. Check the floor above, to see that it has a subfloor and building paper between the subfloor and the finish flooring.

Much of the heating, plumbing and wiring systems probably can be checked in the basement. For modern living, a house needs an automatic furnace or boiler and water heater. There should be a main switch of 60 to 100-ampere capacity to accommodate an electric range, dishwasher and other heavy electricity users, plus the lighting load.

There should be water outlets in the basement, particularly if that is where the laundry will be located. Basement sewer pipes should have clean-out plugs.

Look over the interior of the rest of the house—especially the main floor—to evaluate the layout. Will the living room bear the heavy traffic load? Is the kitchen too small or too large for greatest efficiency?

If it would be possible to improve the layout by removing walls, find out if the walls are "load bearing" (that is, do they help hold up the house), and whether they contain vital pipes, wires and ducts that may need rerouting.

For comfort and heating efficiency, ceilings should be 7½ to 8 feet high in rooms of average size. There should be ample closet space or space which can be converted to closets. Cross-ventilation in the various rooms is desirable.

If plaster walls are cracked, flaking or sagging, it may signal underlying dampness, shrinkage of wood in the frame or other defects which could require remedial treatment.

If doors won't close, the frame may be out of kilter, or the floor or ceiling may be sagging. Test the floor; jump on it to see if it gives. It should feel firm throughout.

Check framing in the attic as well as in the basement. The studs (2x4's) and rafters (at least 2x6's) should be 16 inches apart. If the roof is very steep, there should be collarbeams bracing them at about normal ceiling height. The lower ends of rafters rest on 2x4's or 2x6's laid horizontally around the outside—two of them for added strength. If the attic is insulated, it should be ventilated. Look for signs of water leaks in the roof.

Small Extras Can Make Kitchen More Efficient

Countless products now on the market will help the homemaker get more efficient use from her kitchen. The small items below were listed by Home Modernizing magazine as among the most helpful.

Sliding racks are available for cups, glasses, pots and pans; they increase accessibility.

Screw and bolt holder can be used as spice rack. Jars unscrew from caps fixed to revolving axis.

Home handymen who are caught without regular acid or resin flux in the middle of a soldering job, should raid the kitchen. Lemon juice squeezed directly on the area to be soldered cleans the surface by action of the citric acid.

Mixer shelf swings down into the cabinet when the mixer is not in use.

Built-in rack for kitchen towels gets them out of sight. Door provides ventilation.

THE ASHLAND is a basementless house consisting of living room, kitchen, utility room, bath and three bedrooms. A door from the front entrance hall into the front bedroom makes it available for other uses such as workroom, den, office, or the door can be omitted if preferred.

An insulated floor slab is laid over a cinder or gravel fill and may be covered with linoleum, asphalt tile or carpeting. The utility room houses the heating and laundry equipment and also has a closet and storage cabinet. Wardrobe closets, with double doors and overhead storage are provided for the bedrooms, and linen and coat closet in the hall.

Exterior finish includes asphalt shingles, plywood gable ends, face brick chimney and wide siding.

Overall area is 44 feet by 28 feet. Area is 1,124 square feet, while the cubage totals 13,290 cubic feet.

For further information about THE ASHLAND, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

HOME modernizing American Homes Aging, Bulging At Seams, Magazine's Survey Shows

How up to date are American homes? How well do they serve the needs of the families that live in them? Home Modernizing magazine conducted a survey among its readers recently, and came up with the following provocative conclusions:

One-third of the families have outgrown the space...

Almost half of the homes have three bedrooms... the families need four...

The average house in need of modernizing is 29 years old...

Merchants Win Two Games Over Fourth - Hand Northville First Loss

The Plymouth Merchants baseball team really had something to celebrate for over the Fourth of July weekend as they won two big ball games. After disposing of league-leading Northville on Saturday, the same team won easily over cellar-dwelling Lincoln Cubs Sunday 11 to 0.

An 18 hit onslaught combined with the four-hit twirling of southpaw Ed Hock enabled the Merchants to better their playoff chances — they may have enough now for the playoffs without making up a game, but one more victory would cinch a spot.

Plymouth scored as follows: 1 in the second, 1 in the fourth, 4 in the fifth, 2 in the seventh and the final three runs crossed the plate in the eighth inning. First-baseman McCumber led the attack with a triple and 3 singles in 5 times at bat. The other 14 hits were well distributed.

Young Hock allowed 4 hits, struck out 13 batters and walked only 2 men.

Next Sunday the Merchants play Grandale at Cass Benton Park in a game beginning at 3:30 p.m.

League-leading Northville in the Inter-County league suffered their first loss of the season Fourth of July as the local Plymouth Merchants nine handed them an 8 to 4 loss at Riverside Park. Some timely hitting and a few solid blows plus some good clutch pitching by southpaw Wally Dzurus accounted in great part for the win. Northville had beaten Plymouth earlier in the year by a 1 to 0 score.

The Merchants staked Dzurus to a three-run lead in the first inning on two hits, an error and a walk. Eddie Kubitsky opened with a walk, DeWulf sacrificed him to second, Williams was safe on an error, Shedd doubled home one run, and Moers singled home two more.

Dzurus got off to a shaky start but didn't allow a run until Zeppe opened the fourth inning with a triple and scored on a fly ball to the outfield. The next inning they counted another run to move within one of a tie as they scored on a single, two walks, and an error. In the bottom of the sixth inning the Merchants counted another two runs on singles by Shedd, Moers, Collura and an error.

Thibideau Hurls No-Hitter to Win

Another no-hit ball game was tossed in the city softball league last week — this time by Joe Thibideau of Cavalcade. Joe really had his strikeout ball working as he put 18 men down on strikes of the 21 outs made during the game. Six men reached first base, two on errors, two on walks, and two were hit by pitched balls.

"No-hit" Joe defeated Bathey 10 to 2. The winners scored in each inning but the third — Dudley had a double and a single for the winners. Schwartz was the losing hurler, allowing 9 hits, striking out 2, walking 4 and hitting one man.

Parkview Girls Lost to DeHoCo

Parkview girls lost their first softball game of the year last week when DeHoCo bested them 6 to 1 in the Inter-City Girls' softball league. The winners got to Barbara McIntosh for 10 hits, and scored once in the second, three times in the third and twice in the sixth innings. Heath hurled a splendid game for the winners allowing only one hit until the last inning when 3 hits produced the lone Plymouth run.

McIntosh had 2 hits, and Rich and Finnegan one each. Besides hurling a good game, Heath also had 3 hits in 3 times at bat, one of them a double.

Next Tuesday Parkview journeys to Ypsilanti for a game with the Silkworth team there.

New Swim Hours

Because of so many youngsters enrolled in the beginning free instruction classes in swimming the morning schedule had to be revised. Swimming supervisor John McFall issued the following notice last week. Boys and Girls, ages 6 and 7 will go for swimming lessons at 9:15 until 10; those of 8 years-old will go in at 10 until 10:30; nine year olds will be in the pool from 10:30 to 11 o'clock; ten year olds from 11 to 11:30, and 11 years old and up from 11:30 to 12 noon.

The afternoon and evening schedule remains the same as previously announced.

Annual Hearst Tourney Underway; District in Progress Here This Week

The Annual Hearst National Junior Baseball Tournament began this week with district tournaments being staged at 15 cities throughout Michigan. One of these tournaments is at present underway in Plymouth; it began Monday with six teams from this area participating — Plymouth Optimist, Livonia, Wayne St. Marys, Inkster Allen & Son, Inkster Spartans, and Wayne Dietrich. This tourney is for any team

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

One of the most patriotic gestures occurring during the recent all-out Fourth of July celebration was the presenting of small American flags to all children by the American Legion Post of Plymouth. These small tots are proud of these tiny flags and they should be all the more meaningful if the parents follow up with the meaning and purpose of the American flag — how it came to be and the struggle this young country had to gain its independence as a free nation, and to be always on the alert to help keep it that way.

It was a grand and gala affair, and much credit should be given the Chamber of Commerce and all those men and women who helped make this the success that it turned out to be. Even the weather was of the best. Let's hope that the old-fashioned Fourth of July is continued in Plymouth, and we have another just as good next year.

The Bathey softball team in the Industrial league has not won a game to date, but they have won a lot of admiration from umpires, coaches and fans for their sportsmanship on the field. This team in its initial fling into softball circles, is composed of youngsters who play hard and never squawk about a decision — true, they don't get many hits, but they have made a hit with the fans and officials by their hustle and competitive spirit. Another year they may be an entirely different outfit. Last year Cavalcade had a group of youngsters floundering around at the bottom of the standings, but this year that same team is providing plenty of opposition — a few new faces have been added.

I mentioned once before this year that Olds was the only Open entry in this combined league, but Cavalcade is also an open entry — all the others are industrial teams. Each division has a trophy, but the winner goes on to state play.

It must be astonishing for some of the long-time residents of this wonderful city to witness the tremendous change taking place in our community. From a quiet, peaceful, residential area, Plymouth is gradually transforming into an industrial suburb of Detroit.

When a community undergoes such a rapid transition there are many complicating problems confronting it. The police department is going to have to cope with more intricate problems than those which confront a peaceful community. Sewage disposal, water supply, fire protection, and parking facilities are a few of the major transformations that must be made adequate.

I have heard local citizens say that outsiders are "taking over" the city. With industry moving out this way from Detroit, it is to be expected that Plymouth's population will increase tremendously, but I think it is far better to adjust to the new Plymouth than try to criticize what is taking place. To cope with a changing community takes a lot of planning and foresight into the future with positive thinking for the well-being of the community for years to come. People who have lived here for years have a splendid opportunity to display their leadership ability and try to make the present, and the future, community a better place in which to live. We have many citizens possessing the necessary intelligence and remarkable qualities of leadership, and they together with some of the newer residents who display constructive ideas, should formulate plans to keep pace with the expanding city. Everyone has to work together and cooperate to have a harmonious community.

The Plymouth Merchants can cinch a spot in the Inter-County league playoffs, which begin Sunday, July 26, if they win either of their next two games. They may have cinched one already providing the rained out game and the tie game do not have to be replayed as their 6 wins now would leave them with a .500 percentage — all that is necessary to gain the playoffs, providing the opponents concerned in those games do not have to have a victory to gain the playoffs. This year a team is allowed one makeup game after the regular season closes July 19, but that game has to be played before Thursday, July 23. If the makeup game was played and Plymouth lost, it of boys 18 years of age or younger, and is sponsored each year by the Detroit Times.

The three winners from Monday's games drew for a bye for the semi-final game last night. The final game will be played to-night at 6 p.m. on the high school diamond. Pre-tourney favorites were Plymouth and Livonia; each of these outfits present virtually the same teams that represented Plymouth and Bentley high schools in the suburban league.

These two teams were pitted against each other in the opening round by the draw.

This is the fourth year Plymouth has been selected for a district tourney. The state finals will be held in Ann Arbor on August 1. The winner there will play the Detroit champions at Briggs Stadium August 7 and 8.

A unique feature of this tourney is that the better baseball players advance even though their team is defeated. The winning team goes on as a unit, but better players are selected from the losing teams to form an all-star outfit. This all-star team will play all-star teams from other districts with the finals in Briggs Stadium also. Two players in the finals at Detroit will be chosen to represent Michigan in the national tourney at the Polo Grounds in New York on August 22. Two lads from our own class D league have been selected in the last few years to make this trip, and are now playing in the minors as farm-hands of a major league club.

All at these games many scouts from major league clubs are on hand to look over the talent. Here at Plymouth will be Pete Fox, former star Tiger outfielder.

All the games here and at Ann Arbor will be umpired by the suburban umpiring association of which Earl Gray is secretary and Ray Levandowski the president.

All results will be in next week's paper.

Evans Triumphs

Scoring 11 runs in 3 big innings enabled Evans Products to coast to an 11 to 3 victory over LaFountain last week in the city league. The victors opened with 4 runs in the top of the first inning and counted 5 more in the third with the final 2 coming in the fifth inning. The losers scored once in the first and twice in the fourth inning.

Stevens was touched for 5 hits, struck out 6, walked one and hit a batter for the winners, while the losing hurler, Wellman allowed 10 hits, struck out 6 and walked 3.

Besides being the winning hurler, Stevens also clouted a homerun to help his cause; Klatt and Marsh each had 2 hits. Carter and Vaughn each had 2 hits for the losers.

DTD Blanks Two In Double Win

Two Detroit Transmission pitchers allowed a total of 3 hits in 2 games last week as they won from Cavalcade 4 to 0 and from Whitman & Barnes 6 to 0. In the first game, ace hurler Hal Somers held Cavalcade to 2 hits in a well-played game. He struck out only 4 men and walked 8 men, but was tough in the clutches. His opponent, Thibideau, allowed 6 hits, struck out 7 men and walked no one. The winners four runs were scored in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth, 3 runs came across the plate after two were out on an error, a hit batsman, and two singles. Two singles, a hit batter and an error accounted for the final run in the fifth inning.

Somers also contributed two singles to the attack, with Kleist also getting two singles. One each was made by George Somers and Londeau. The losers two singles were made by Thibideau in the second and Asher in the third.

In the second game, Cutsinger hurled a 1-hit game for DTD. He had a no-hit game until two were out in the last inning, then a single deprived him of that honor. The winners scored 4 runs in the third inning, one in the fourth and one in the last inning. A three-base hit by Cutsinger was the big blow in the fourth inning. Cutsinger struck out only one man and walked one, but had them popping up all evening.

Many Adults Help Make Recreation Possible in City

Most observers will admit that the recreational program in Plymouth is one of the best of its kind. Most people go to a game, or some form of entertainment, and watch the participant perform. What most people little realize is the persons who make all this possible — the ones behind the teams paying the bills, coaching the players, and devoting much valuable time so that participants and spectators can enjoy themselves. At this time we are going to honor those behind the scenes people who make all this possible.

The following persons are volunteer workers for the recreation department, enjoying their work, and contributing much to the welfare of this community:

Jets Win Another

The highlight of the grade school softball league last week was the Starkweather win over Bird school by a score of 6 to 2. Judd was the winning pitcher, and Egloff was the batting star — he opened the first inning with a homerun and knocked a double in the second. Timcoe also had 2 hits, and Judd and Johnson one each. Turckett and Mynatt had the hits for the losers.

Next Tuesday, Starkweather plays the Jr. Optimist team, and Bird plays Smith.

In another game last week Smith won on a forfeit from the Jr. Optimist when the latter could not field a team.

Davis & Lent On Top in E League

The Davis & Lent team in the E League remained undefeated as they handed Redford Union their first defeat 6 to 1 last week, and slaughtered New Boston 29 to 4.

In the Redford win, Henry Bonga pitched and held the losers to 1 hit in a game limited to 4 innings by rain. During that time Bonga struck out 2 and walked one, a double accounting for the losers 2 runs in the second. Plymouth scored in every inning with 7 runners crossing the plate in the third.

Plymouth had 6 hits with Dick Day getting two of them, and Bonga, McKenna, Cummings and Wilhelm the others.

In the other win, Davis & Lent scored in every inning, counting 11 in the first and 15 in the third. They scored 29 runs on but 7 hits, numerous errors and walks accounting for the others. Jack Carter had 3 hits and Bob Middleton 2, with Wilhelm and Day having one each. Dick Day was the winning hurler as he allowed 2 hits.

The standings as of June 30 are as follows:

RED DIVISION		W	L

Optimists Win 4; Lose to Livonia in Western League

The Plymouth Optimist team in the Class D Western Wayne County league have won 2 games and lost 1 in games played to date in the league. They have defeated Inkster Allen & Sons 21 to 0, Inkster 4 to 1, and lost to Livonia 4 to 2. In two non-league games they shut out Ypsilanti twice by scores of 8 to 0 and 5 to 0. At present Livonia is in first place and Plymouth in second in the league. Play has been postponed until July 14 as all the teams in this league are participating in the Hearst District Tourney at Plymouth this week.

Herbert Olson pitched a three-hitter in the 21 to 0 win over Allen & Sons of Inkster. Dick Huebler and Russell Brown each had homeruns, both coming in the first inning when the locals scored 16 times. Plymouth committed no errors.

Kenny Kisabeth hurled a one-hitter in the other Inkster win, and Plymouth scored one run in the first, two in the third and one in the sixth innings. The locals had only 3 hits, but capitalized on their opponents errors. Jim Troutman got 2 hits and Ron Bender the other — all singles.

In the two non-league encounters against Ypsilanti, Dave Wilkins chucked a two-hitter in the first game and Herb Olson a no-hitter in the second. Huebler again hit a homer, and Bender had a perfect day at the plate with 4 hits. Olson pitched the no-hitter, and got help from Bender with 3 more hits, and Hix had a double and a triple.

Beglinger Olds continues to be the best team in the combined open and industrial league so far this summer. The perennial good Olds outfit won two more games last week to remain undefeated; Detroit Transmission is a notch behind with only one loss this year.

Olds Still First; DTD Challenges

The standings with the season approximately half over are as follows:

Team	W	L
Beglinger Olds	8	0
Detroit Transmission	7	1
Cavalcade Inn	4	3
LaFountain	3	4
Evans Products	2	5
Whitman & Barnes	1	5
Bathey Mfg. Co.	0	8

Tonight DTD goes against Bathey at 6:15; Evans plays Cavalcade at 7:30; and W & B plays LaFountain at 8:45.

Next Monday Olds plays Cavalcade at 6:15; DTD goes against LaFountain at 7:30, and Evans plays W & B at 8:45.

would knock them out of the playoffs, so it is better to be sure and win 7 games. Don't know what would happen if two teams lacked one game of making the playoffs, and Plymouth was the opponent in each game — each team is allowed one game, probably the rules cover this though in some way.

Summer Day Camp Provides Fun for Crippled Children

It makes one's heart feel good to see how children, though their little legs may be badly crippled, can still have all the fun, and laughter associated with normal, healthy youngsters. This recreation, at least in the group form, is being made possible by the Wayne Out-county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Specifically, the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin here in Plymouth is being used as a base for five weeks of activities for the orthopedically handicapped children who are mostly home-bound individuals.

On entering the cabin one is first struck by the happiness and exuberance of the children rather than by the many wheelchairs which are seen throughout the big room. That the children truly enjoy the time spent at the Easter Seal camp is readily apparent.

Perhaps to adults it is particularly amazing how a six-year old with her legs heavily encased in braces can giggle and laugh, enjoying life. But that it just what is seen everywhere one looks at the summer day camp.

The camp opened this year on June 22 and will extend through July 24. The set-up is such that children from Dearborn township, Ecorse, Hamtramck, Wayne, Lincoln Park, Plymouth, Redford, River Rouge and Wyandotte come to the camp on Mondays and Wednesdays. Tuesdays and Thursdays are taken up by children from Flat Rock, Garden City, Taylor township, Melvindale, Wayne and Romulus. On Fridays the young adult group, aged 14 and older, come to the camp. Incidentally, this is the first year that a young adult group has been included in the program. There are 20 persons in the group already.

Each morning drivers from these communities bring the children to the cabin, where they are met by teen-age volunteers and Boy Scouts, who help entertain and look after the children. Miss Eleanor Pence, special education teacher for the Taylor Township Board of Education, serves as camp supervisor for the children in the 4 to 13 age group. She is assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth McCreadie of Livonia, camp assistant. Mrs. Herma Taylor, R.N. of Plymouth and executive secretary of the Wayne Out-county chapter, is director of the camp. In charge of the young adult group is Miss Millah Graves, occupational therapist.

The children who come to the camp have a variety of disabilities, but all have the crippling effect in common. There is a little girl with two wooden legs; several children who have been crippled by polio; a boy with severe burns on his legs; twin boys with muscular dystrophy; a child with tuberculosis of the hip, and youngsters with cerebral palsy.

The problem of entertaining the children is not so difficult as it would first appear. Schedule for a typical day runs like this. First the Salute to the Flag followed by the morning prayer. Then the children form a circle and sing their camp songs, including the Easter Seal song. The next project includes home handicraft such as making autograph books, book marks, picture frames, etc.

After playing some games the children eat their lunches. Each brings his own sandwich while the rest of the lunch is provided by the Easter Seal society. A period of quiet and rest follows the lunch.

Each afternoon at the camp sees a different act of entertainment come to the cabin. Scheduled for this summer's session are the appearance of Aunty Dee, television star, magicians, Sergeant Frenelius and his dummy Jerry Mc-Safety, television's Pat and Johnny, the Arthur Murray dance group, a beauty counselor for the young adult group, and many more. All these personal appearances were arranged by Mrs. Taylor.

The little things that thrill these children make the work so worth while—that's the feeling of the many volunteers. Just last week the children engaged in what was the first baseball game for many of them. For a bat they used a paddle-type piece of wood. As they hit the ball they would be wheeled around the bases, or would use their crutches, and would otherwise participate in a regular game. Some of the children were incapable of holding the paddle themselves so would have to be helped hit the softball. But at the end of the day the children went home full of tales of how they had actually played a game of baseball.

In its second year at the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin, the Wayne Out-county chapter is doing much to socialize and provide recreation for the crippled children of the area. The happy, smiling faces of the handicapped youngsters is an excellent reference for the good use to which Easter Seal money is put. Plymouth people can feel that they themselves have a part in the work being done at the summer day camp, for Plymouth leads the out-county area in donations to the crippled children fund.

A VISIT FROM THE PLYMOUTH FIRE ENGINE was one of the highlights of the summer day camp last week. Fireman Charles Groth is shown beside the truck, while many children and camp helpers look on. The appearance of the fire engine was part of the program to bring some special entertainment to the children each day.

This Week—MRS. BETTY ELLIOTT KEMNITZ

Mrs. Betty Elliott Kemnitz spends most of the hours of the day selling sweets at the Mrs. Steven's Candies which she and her husband own and operate. The store is located at 896 West Ann Arbor trail.

This business grew out of Mr. Kemnitz's hobby of making candy. Ever since November, 1951 when the store was opened, this business has become their way of earning a living.

The store was named after one of the brands of candy that they sell, the Mrs. Steven's Candies. Besides candy, dolls and other small novelties are also sold in the store.

Taking care of house plants used to be one of Mrs. Kemnitz's hobbies. Knitting and a bit of travelling fill up her unclaimed hours.

One of her most enjoyable trips, she said, was the one she made a few years ago to the West - Yellowstone National Park and Denver, Colorado. The trip she took on an ore boat on the Great Lakes proved to be the most exciting one she had ever experienced. Visits to New York and Washington, D. C. left many memories long to be cherished.

One time her husband owned a small plane in which they did some travelling. "I love to travel by any means of transportation," Mrs. Kemnitz said.

Originally from Detroit, Mrs. Kemnitz and her family, husband and son, now live at 8353 Ravine drive. Her son, Richard, is 10 years old and attends the fifth grade at Patchen school.

Sees Parental Guidance Needed to Offset "New" Kind of Juvenile Crime

A fast-paced society, overconfidence in the child and need for more parental guidance were scored as the cause and effect of a "new" kind of juvenile crime that has sprung up.

Detective - Lieutenant Gordon Traye, juvenile officer for the Wayne County Road Patrol, said last week "five years ago juveniles would steal cars to strip them, now they steal them just to go joy riding."

Traye indicates that teen-age crime and juvenile delinquency today falls more and more into the category of "white collar" crime.

"Delinquents are coming from above average families," Traye declares. "The parents are high school graduates and some have university or college degrees. And in the home," Traye describes, "there is a television set, a telephone, anything we can call luxuries, including a family car in the garage."

Model families with teen-age lawbreakers who steal for thrill, who get tough and raze or smash personal property, or who want and maliciously take to have more than "Billy" or "Sue" down the street are the scourge of law enforcement agencies. They are the paradox in this "new" type of crime confronting social and police agencies.

On an average 2,000 are recorded each year on the sheriff's blotter. But Traye reported that "you can multiply that figure by five, six or seven" the amount of "preventive" casework handled annually by his department.

"Ninety-nine per cent of juvenile police work is preventive. I don't refer even 35 cases a year to the juvenile court," he disclosed.

Traye takes a middle-of-the-road stand in making charges against any one force, against any segment of society for breeding juvenile lawbreakers. Instead he takes a positive approach to prevent "repeaters."

"Teen-age recreational centers—they're very advantageous," Traye asserts. He counsels that "it's necessary to burn the energy out of them," make a youth healthfully tired.

Plymouth has a school-sponsored recreational program. But it does not have a teen-age center, and it does not have an active Juvenile Advisory commission. The commission was authorized under the city's new charter but an ordinance needed to set it up as a liaison between the police, the courts, the school and recreational bodies has not been authorized.

One minister who requested anonymity declared he felt an active Advisory commission could be a major factor in integrating various club and school amusement and recreation, among them a teen-age center set up and operated on a valid basis.

Traye said he believes some delinquency could be avoided if parents guided their offspring firmly and checked carefully into their activities.

"Parents usually take a child at his word," he said. "But at times it wouldn't hurt a parent to check up on him. Following through on his whereabouts could decrease a lot of petty crime," Traye declared.

Parents in Wayne out-county are coming to depend on Traye's corrective influence.

In one incident last week recorded from a telephone conversation, Traye was confronted by a parent—a mother of nine children—who reported that "one of her boys" had burglarized a school. The mother who confided in the department will be counseled by Traye. The youth will be confronted and Traye may well ask, "why did you do it, sonny." "I think if we work under the theory, why does he get into trouble and how can he be helped, we've gone a long way toward solving the basic problem," Traye declared.

Traye works on a straight forward approach. His stock question, "why did you do it, sonny," is a tip off that the boy in trouble had better tell a straight story. Traye is tough on liars. He has recommended commitment in Juvenile Detention "for many, not because of the crime but because they've lied."

Of most juvenile delinquents Traye confided "all they want is someone to place confidence in them."

If anything is to be done with the streets of Plymouth this summer it is time some kind of beginning were made. The street commissioners ought to be kept at work every day now and not wait until next November.

D. W. H. Moreland, the ex-commissioner of public works, Detroit, returned from Mexico Wednesday afternoon and says he is ready to face any charges that may be brought against him, claiming his skirts are clear of any bribery.

Miss Emma Barrett, living with her parents on Charles Armstrong's farm, east and south of the village, met with a serious accident Monday. She was crossing a field, going to a neighbor's in which Mr. Armstrong was cutting hay with a mowing machine. The two met in a corner of the field and Mr. Armstrong motioned to her to stand still and he would drive around her. However, the young lady stepped in front of the machine and before Mr. Armstrong could stop his horses the knives of the machine had cut her leg above the ankle down to the bone. Mr. Armstrong took her back to the house and Dr. Patterson dressed the wound.

Harry Wheatly, a young man of 20, working for Neal Truesdell, in Canton, was kicked on the lower jaw last Monday, by a horse knocking out several teeth. An ordinance requiring saloons to remove all screens and curtains that obstruct the bar from street view was passed to take effect August 15.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Videau, son and daughters, Otto Beyer, Ira Weldon and Miss Mary Gayde, of Detroit spent Sunday at Peter Gayde's.

Postmaster B. E. Giles, and rural mail carriers Robert Walker and Arthur White, of this place, attended a district meeting and banquet of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association held at Tecumseh last Saturday evening. Congressman Earl C. Michener delivered the principal address of the evening.

"Wedding Bells" rang last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Parrott of South Main street, when their daughter, Mary Irene, was united in marriage to Perry W. Richwine, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Richwine, of this place. The Reverend Dr. Frederick A. Lendrum, pastor of the Plymouth M. E. church read the services in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties.

Miss Mary Hill, who is a deaconess in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, at their home on Penniman avenue road.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Thursday, July 26 at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. H. A. Spicer on Ann Arbor street. Roll call will be answered by giving "The Best Thing I Have Heard About Prohibition."

SPLITTING HEADACHES

Chips from the ROCK

A group of local businessmen were discussing the proposed zoning ordinance one day last weekend. It was evident none of them including the writer had read it or given it any serious study.

The thought was provoked however that in many other municipalities where articles such as this were considered for future law most areas had placed the ordinance before the people in its entirety for their study and consideration before actual passage took place.

Investigation at the city hall revealed that mimeographed copies of the ordinance are available to those residents who desire them and since the writer's thinking was on the subject one was secured and read over the weekend.

It is perfectly obvious that all of us couldn't agree in every detail on the restrictions in a manuscript of this size. But there were two items in its contents that I should like to mention for further consideration before the ordinance is finally passed.

The intent of this comment is to alert you, as residents of Plymouth, to the importance of the act, and hope that you will become sufficiently interested to go to the city hall and secure a copy of the same, so that you will know its import and, after digesting its content, if you have further criticism, constructive or otherwise, that you make your feelings known to proper city officials. If you are content with the act as it is now written it is assumed after its passage you shall have no reason for further future discredit of the same.

One portion of the ordinance I refer to specifically is on page 44 and covered in article XV in regards to the issuing of building permits. It reads as follows: "No building permit shall be issued for multiple dwelling in R-2 districts, or any building or structure in PR-1, C-1, C-2, M-1 or M-2 district until such plans have been approved by the City Planning Commission."

In other words this can be interpreted to mean that other than single family residence and two family income residence, both zoned in R-1 and R-1A, no buildings can be erected or altered in Plymouth without the approval of the City Planning Commission.

This section of the ordinance could become a complete stumbling block to the community in the future. In the first place the City Planning Commission is appointive by the Mayor and it gives this political body powers which might conceivably hold up construction indefinitely at great loss and expense to the property holder.

The issuance of permits today is done by the city engineer after plans and specifications have been checked for conformity with the city building code. Under the new ordinance a permit would now be granted only if the majority of the Planning Commission felt inclined to pass their approval, and it is possible that a group of this size might at some future time by indecision stall some building action to the financial embarrassment of a property owner.

Another section which at a later time might prove embarrassing to local businessmen and could also completely restrict the future improvement and enlargement of the present business area is the section devoted to parking areas.

There is no question but that one of the most serious situations we now face is the providing of more parking area throughout our business sections. Unified efforts of local business groups are constantly wrestling with this situation, and the zoning ordinance goes far to aid in more parking development for the city.

However, the required parking spaces, as enumerated in the ordinance are restrictive and in many cases are and would be impossible to provide. Because alterations, additions and other building projects may only be undertaken, under the new ordinance, by providing the approved amount of parking spaces, in many cases downtown improvement would be at a complete standstill in the years ahead.

There is always the question, in the future, as to how closely the city might adhere to the restrictions of the ordinance, and of course there will always be opportunity for hearings on any specific case, but should the letter of the law be held to, a situation such as this could well develop.

Assuming a downtown barber shop or beauty parlor is sold to a new owner. The new proprietor desires to improve the building by alteration and perhaps some enlargement for the purpose of more modern accommodations for his patrons and better appearance to the community. Under the new ordinance when he starts the remodeling job he must also provide parking space for two cars for each barber and/or each barber or beauty shop chair. If he has no available land for this purpose his building permit cannot be issued under the ordinance and the improvement cannot be made.

This is not only true of barber shops but each and every business in the community is listed in the ordinance. In the case of new buildings this is a most effective way of providing more parking area, but in the case of alterations as the ordinance specifically states it is most restrictive.

These are two items that should be changed in our mind and we hope after you have read these lines that you will secure a copy of the ordinance and find for yourself the effect its contents could conceivably have on you in the future. Its passage in its final corrected form is imperative. It is the best protection the City can offer its property holders but serious consideration should be given to those items which might be restrictive to the people who by earlier location have no method of conforming in the future.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES ENEMY NUMBER ONE

Enemy number one is not Communism or any other "ism." Enemy number one is WEIGHT. I don't refer to your weight or my weight. We all can control this by the simple method of eating less, and thus avoiding "second-helping-it." Instead, I am referring today to the cost of transportation, amounting to over 100 billion dollars a year, of which I estimate 80% is due to the WEIGHT of goods and not to the labor and other costs.

WHAT CAUSES WEIGHT?
 Whatever we eat, wear, or use as a home starts from the forests, mines or farms. At these points of origin the costs are very low. For instance, standing timber sells for $2.00 per cord; coal in the mine sells for $1.00 per ton; and a bushel of wheat on the farm for only about $2.00. We pay ten times these costs after they are transported to our home or breakfast table. If weight could be reduced 85% I believe the cost of living would tumble 70%.

This brings me to my hobby of Gravity which is the cause of this wasteful weight. This far no insulator, absorber, or reflector of Gravity has been discovered, but this will be accomplished someday. All other forces, such as light, sound, fire, odor, electricity, magnetism, x-rays and even atomic rays can be shut off. Metallurgists will soon discover a means of partially insulating or reflecting Gravity waves. This discovery will revolutionize manufacturing, transportation and distribution.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT
 Some people fear that if we interfere with Gravity they would rise to the ceiling of the room or, if out-of-doors, disappear in the skies. There is absolutely no danger of this. The same fears were expressed when our first ancestors discovered fire and later when Franklin tried to harness lightning. When a partial insulator or reflector of Gravity is discovered it can be controlled as well as fire or electricity or atomic rays. Furthermore, this can be accomplished safely whether Gravity waves come from the sky and push us down, or come from the earth and pull us down.

The Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, N. H., tells me that such an insulator would not reduce our weight if used for shoe soles or stair treads. In order to take advantage of such a partial insulator or reflector we must be wholly encased as if we were in a sealed coffin and this wouldn't do us much good! This is another reason why no one need fear the control of Gravity. We should rather fear the lack of control of our appetites! To us, starches may be more dangerous than Gravity.

HOW ANTI-GRAVITY ALLOYS WILL WORK

As indicated above, there is little hope for reducing the weight of automobiles, trucks or even freight cars. But there is real hope for reducing the weight of their contents. One of the early developments will be hermetically sealing truck trailers with an anti-gravity alloy. This same principle will be used to reduce the weight of trunks and suitcases. I believe that Russian scientists are now desperately at work to discover a Gravity reflector to very much lessen the weight of the packs which all soldiers carry on their backs. Think what this would mean to the nine million of our own boys. Readers will think of other illustrations but remember that only the enclosed contents can be de-weighted.

Of course the greatest boom would take place in connection with the airplane. Why the Government and airplane manufacturers do not give the subject more serious consideration is beyond my comprehension. The engineers answer me by saying they are "too busy with other things to bother about Gravity." My reply is that 40 years ago when the Goodyear Company was making lighter-than-air dirigibles and I asked why they did not help the Wright Brothers in making heavier-than-air airships, they gave the same reply: "We're too busy." All of which reminds me of what Thomas Edison said to me shortly before he died: "Babson, we don't yet know anything. The young people now graduating from schools and colleges have far greater opportunities than we ever had if they will only work, save and study."

Good Duck Crop Developing Now

A good crop of young ducks is at present developing on the northwestern Canadian nesting grounds the conservation department reports, and if all goes well, hunters may expect an outstanding season this fall. They emphasize, however, that with birds still in the delicate nesting phase, production could easily be wrecked by adverse weather conditions.

But department game mer, just returned from the annual Mississippi Flyway Council meeting in St. Louis, Missouri, say that in general representatives from Canada and the northern United States are optimistic about production possibilities. They note that nesting conditions have improved widely in the last month after a miserable spring beginning. Severe drought, then a mid-May snow storm disrupted most early nesting, but heavy rains since have brightened the picture considerably.

from Finland, Mayor Daane, Mrs. Miller Ross, Edward Anthony, of the English Language Institute, Reverend Melbourne Johnson, and George Luther, also of the Institute. The group of 90 students spent the day here, taking part in the many Fourth of July events.

90 Foreign Students Visit Here On 4th

Plymouth welcomed almost 90 foreign students studying at the University of Michigan to the Fourth of July festivities Saturday. The group came with some 15 staff members of the English Language Institute to observe the celebration of an American Independence Day.

On arriving in Plymouth at 9:15 a.m. the group went to the Bird school where they were greeted by principal Mrs. Nancy Tanger. Mrs. Tanger took them through the school, pointing out the various details in the educational planning of an American elementary school. Mrs. Miller Ross, chairman of the visit, said that the students particularly enjoyed the trip. "In fact," she added, "they are making tentative plans of returning to see the school in session."

At the park at 10 a.m. the foreign visitors were welcomed officially by the city, through Mayor Russell Daane, Robert Marsden, personnel manager of Burroughs, Inc., welcomed the group for the Chamber of Commerce. Bringing a greeting from the churches was the Reverend Melbourne Johnson. Speaking for the student group, Suwan Choke-Magmi of Thailand, thanked the city for inviting them to visit. Toivo Valtonnen of Finland spoke for the group of 14 foreign English teachers.

The group lunched at the Methodist church at noon, and then were free to do what they wished until 4 p.m. Many attended the swimming exhibition at the high school pool, others toured the Hotel Mayflower, the rest took part in other Fourth of July events.

Thirty hostesses from the community invited small groups of the students to dine with them in their homes that afternoon. Mrs. Ross said the reaction to this was very good, since most of the women requested to have some of the students in their homes again next year. After hearing the speech by Governor G. Mennen Williams, the group returned to Ann Arbor.

Coming from 23 foreign nations, most of which are Latin American, the students are at the University of Michigan taking an eight-week summer course in the English language.

Motor Transport A Top Industry

Motor transportation in Michigan has grown to be one of the top three industries in the state, a survey conducted by Michigan State college's Bureau of Business Research reveals.

The survey—which sizes up for the first time the motor transport industry in Michigan—discloses it now employs 290,000 persons with a whopping annual payroll of $1.5 billion. These factors make it the No. 2 industry in payroll size and No. 3 in employment.

Reporting in "Business Topics," a magazine published by the School of Business and Public Service at Michigan State college, Professors Frank H. Mossman and David J. Luck state that trucking fleets and smaller groups together operate a total of 340,000 vehicles—13 per cent of all vehicles in the state.

"It will come as no surprise to the Michigan motorist that the number of commercial vehicles on Michigan's highways is increasing rapidly, but the actual figures are surprising," the two transportation authorities said. In the number of employees, automobile manufacturing leads with 466,000. Retailing is second with 303,000. Close behind is the motor transport industry with 290,000.

"If we take the very conservative estimate of only five cents per mile average operating cost, excluding wages of the drivers, we get a figure of $450 millions a year that the motor transport industry pays into the economy of Michigan," Mossman and Luck wrote.

Escapes Lake Tragedy That Claimed Partner

A former Plymouth High school athlete narrowly escaped death on Lake Shebawan, near Port Arthur, Ontario, when his craft capsized in a sudden storm believed to have claimed the life of his camping partner, Arthur Rossi, 23, of Farmington.

En-route to his home at 35900 Five Mile road, Livonia, last Monday was James Wagenschultz, 22. In a telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Wagenschultz, he told that he and Rossi were pitched from their boat during a violent lake squall last Thursday.

Wagenschultz, who clung to the capsized craft until rescued, said Rossi was believed to have drowned. Rossi's body has not been recovered.

Both men were camping near Lake Shebawan and were crossing the lake to get supplies when the accident occurred.

Nankin Garden Club Hears How to Grow Mums

With a discussion of chrysanthemums as the keynote, the Nankin Garden club met at the home of Mrs. C. Engelhardt on Ford road for the June meeting. The meeting was conducted by the club's president, Mrs. Donald Granger.

Bicyclist Hurt;
Fourth Otherwise
Celebrated Safely

Glen A. Schultz, 11, of 48564 West Seven Mile road, Northville township, was last Saturday painfully injured after being struck down by a car while riding his bicycle near his home.

resident was injured during the Fourth of July week-end, celebrated here in comparative safety. Deputies from the Wayne County Road Patrol said the youth, struck by a car driven by Oscar J. Walker of Detroit, veered in front of the Walker vehicle. Force of the impact flung Schultz on top of the car's hood, smashing in a front window. Walker was ticketed for having defective brakes. The youth was removed to Atchison Memorial hospital in Northville suffering bruises and lacerations of the body and limbs. His condition was described as satisfactory. In another incident last Saturday a Plymouth man escaped injury when the car he was driving spun out of control on loose gravel at Northville road and Edward Hines drive and collided with a vehicle driven by Arthur Carmickle, Jr., of Northville. The Plymouth man, William R. McCant, of 814 York, told deputies his vehicle went out of control after striking loose gravel on the shoulder of the road. McCant said he was traveling about 30 miles an hour. No one was injured in the incident.

Rainy Spring
Favors Growth of Tree Fungus

Into each life some rain must fall, notably for trees. Spring rainfall is good for early growth. But too much early rain spells fungus trouble later in the growing season. That is the reason tree experts warn arboreal fungus ills are likely to be widespread on trees and shrubs this summer. This past wet spring set rainfall records in many places and near records in others. Since fungus growths thrive on prolonged dank weather, the home owner will have to keep a lookout for their attack. One of the chief malefactors in the fungus clan is anthracnose, which usually afflicts sycamore and white oaks more than other species. Anthracnose is a serious ailment. It has both immediate and cumulative effects. Badly in-fectured trees lose much foliage and seemingly have been scorched. The fungus first attacks the leaves, especially the younger ones. This is why anthracnose is apt to be severe in late spring and early summer. Entry is first made in the leaf veins. Small lesions are produced and block water passage. The rest of the leaf tissues dries beyond the lesions. To keep the malady from spreading, it is best to burn all fallen leaves and other debris in the fall. Protection against anthracnose itself is best afforded by repeated spraying during the early spring with a good fungicide, such as carbamate spray. The same treatment is advised for other fungus infections, such as leaf spot of maples and the various diseases affecting conifers.

A vacation trip is one time when you want your Ford in the pink. "Travelize" your Ford now! Travel-wise owners make sure by having their Fords "Travelized." And not at the last minute, either! A week or so before their trip, they get the all-round check-up which their Ford Dealer is so well equipped to perform. Then they know they're driving away in a car which has been given a real "travel-check" by Ford mechanics who have at their disposal the advantages of factory-approved methods and Genuine Ford Parts.

Try this "Travelizing" idea on your own Ford. Let your Ford Dealer go over it point by point, with special attention to the eight under-hood items displayed below. You'll say the peace of mind alone was worth the little time and money it cost you.

You're in good hands at your Ford Dealer's
