Armed Pair Escape At Deering Branch

In a daring mid-morning robbery Wednesday two masked men entered the Plymouth road - Deering street branch of the National Bank of Detroit in Livonia and escaped with an estimated $20,000.

Victim of the hold-up was Everett W. Adams, branch manager, who, along with three women and two men employees, was told "this is a stick-up" by a 200-pound, six-foot man holding a revolver in one hand and a paper-wrapped crow bar in the other.

Shettleroes Have New Tavern Site In License Bid

A new place of business for the proposed tavern to be operated by George and Gerald Shettleroe was announced at Monday night's city commission meeting—thus keeping the father and son in the race for one tavern license being sought by two petitioners.

Attorney J. Demel, a co-petitioner with the Shettleroes, told the commission that previous objections to the Shettleroes petition should now be eliminated because of the change in site.

Norman W. Marquis, owner of Marquis Fine Food and the other petitioner for the tavern license, urged the commission to wait no longer in deciding in his favor. He reminded the commissioners that he had met all requirements and that it is only "procrastination to delay the matter any longer."

Attorney Demel, however, pleaded with the commission to delay a decision since he was sure that in one week's time, the Shettleroes could satisfy the police department and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission when they examine the newly proposed location.

inside the door warning all employees not to move. Meanwhile the stick-up man whisked the bank tills clean. As the two men left, they ordered all employees into a rest room where, according to Adams, a Mrs. Ellen Johnson, teller, pushed the burglar alarm.

Heading the investigation was Detroit FBI director Fred H. McIntire. In a statement to The Mail McIntire gave the description of the men as follows: the "inside" man was about six feet tall, weighed 200 pounds, wore a dirty tan hunting cap with green glasses pulled down; he wore a red handkerchief over his lower face, had a two-day beard growth and ruddy complexion; he wore blue trousers, a brown jacket and was stoop shouldered; he was between 35 and 40 years of age.

The second man was described as about 30 years old, 5'8" tall, pale complexion and weighing about 130 pounds. He wore a similar hunting cap, blue sport coat and grey trousers.

McIntire urged anyone finding discarded clothing on the highway to call the Detroit FBI. According to McIntire, one customer—a man—entered the bank during the hold-up and was told by the smaller hold-up man at the door to stand still.

According to Livonia police, the hold-up car was parked next to an auto occupied by George Ross of 6405 Lindsdale in front of the bank. Ross described the bandits' car as a grey 1952 Chrysler two-door. Branch Manager Adams stated that the heavy-set hold-up man put the money into a cloth sack.

Ironically, there were some 20 workmen employed to build a permanent bank structure adjoining the temporary office who had just quit working because of the rain and taken shelter in an unfinished vault. Reportedly, they were playing cards throughout the hold-up and were not aware it was taking place.

The Deering street branch of the National Bank of Detroit has been in operation in Livonia since November 1, 1952.

Carolyn Smith and Derald McKinley Wed in Recent Candlelight Ceremony

Six attendants gowned in pastel shades preceded Carolyn Smith down the aisle of the First Presbyterian church on Saturday evening, July 18, when she became the bride of Derald D. McKinley. Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ailey Smith of Eastside drive and the Arthur McKinleys of North Harvey street are the bridegroom's parents.

Softly glowing candelabra, palms and large baskets of white gladioli formed the setting for the impressive eight o'clock ceremony which was read by the Reverend Henry Welch, D. D. Fred C. Nelson presided at the organ and Miss Betty Salmon sang "Through The Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer". Carolyn, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The bodice was strapless and she wore a matching lace jacket with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a wide band of white velvet leaves and petals centered with seedpearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white rosebuds tied with long satin streamers.

Dneise Ebersole, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a waltz length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta with a matching stole and clip in her hair. The three bridesmaids, Elaine Leitz, Joyce Forsee and Joyce Grieve were gowned in blue and two junior bridesmaids, Gail Smith, sister of the bride, and Theodora Ann Schnarr, cousin of the bride, wore yellow. All the attendants gowns were identical in fashion and each wore a matching stole with a matching clip in their hair. Their bouquets were cascades of white carnations.

Derald asked Keith Ebersole, his brother-in-law, to serve him as best man and the ushers were

James Brinks, Billy Duty, uncle of the bride, and Bernard Peterson.

Mrs. Smith selected a navy blue sheer dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McKinley wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds and white accessories with her orchid nylon dress.

A reception for 135 was held in the church dining room following the ceremony. Guests came from Tonawanda, New York; Walnut Ridge, Arkansas; Ft. Wayne, Indiana; Cass City, Farmington, Northville, Flint, Detroit, Dearborn and Plymouth. Included in the guest list were Carolyn's two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Laura Pierce of Tonawanda, New York and Mrs. Ada Snow of Plymouth.

The young couple are honeymooning in northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore an aqua suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth High school. Derald is with the Airborne Paratroopers at Fort Benning, Georgia, where they will make their home.

Busy Evening For City Commissioners Includes Adoption of Heating Ordinance

No opposition was voiced Monday night as the city commission conducted a hearing and approved the Cherry street sanitary sewer which is to service five homes and the Dunn Steel Products company.

To be awarded the contract after submitting the low bid of $3,415 is the A. Arcari Construction company of Detroit, a concern now installing catch basins in the city. City Manager Al Glassford told the commission that it would cost property owners $2.07 per foot and that the payments would be made in five installments over a period of four years.

Commissioners also raced through the final two readings of the heating ordinance voting unanimously for its adoption. August 10 was set as the date for the ordinance to go into effect.

Other business conducted by the commission included the permission of the Garling Construction company and the C. A. Kandt Lumber company to erect signs on a temporary basis at the entrances of their subdivision building projects. The commission will be able to renew or cancel the sign permits at the end of 90 days, according to the resolution. The provisions also demand the signs be placed at least 60 feet from the street and that deposits be made by the two companies to show good faith.

Commissioners heard letters from the Wayne County Road commissioners, one informing the city that the county has taken over Park drive, an access road to Hines boulevard. The other letter said that the county would be unable to pave the part of Lilley road previously as petitioned for, because of the backlog of work scheduled for this year.

In calling for citizens' suggestions, commissioners heard only one—that of Charles Wolfe, 1074 Roosevelt, who reported that ever since the city installed the sewer on Edison and adjoining streets, he has had his basement flooded numerous times. Commissioner Marvin Terry, attending his first meeting since his appointment to the commission after the unseating of Frank Arlen, stated that his basement had also been flooded since installation of the new sewer. City Engineer Stan Besse said that he expects to have the situation corrected shortly.

Commissioners voted to send Engineer Besse to the 59th annual session of the Public Works Congress to be held in New Orleans from October 28 to 29. The engineer is being allowed up to $200 for expenses and a leave of absence to include travel time.

"Foot in the door" action was taken by the commissioners in an offer by the city of Los Angeles to sell Plymouth any number of voting machines it needs. Los Angeles is disposing of 200 voting machines because its county ballot is too big for the machine. Plymouth commissioners decided to send a letter to Los Angeles stating that the city is interested in two or three of the machines. City Manager Glassford pointed out that two more machines are included in the city's Ten-Year Plan.

As the city fathers and spectators perspired during Monday's meeting, a means of cooling off the commission room was presented by the city manager. He was able to present two offers which had been made to install a

Police Business Slower in June

Business in the Plymouth police department slowed down during June, according to a monthly report submitted by Chief of Police Carl Greenlee to city commissioners Monday night. The June ledger showed a total of 936 "transactions" during the 30-day period.

The department handled 1,268 items of business during May. Other statistics showed that business was "better" than a year ago June when 871 separate transactions were handled.

Issuing of traffic tickets continued to be the biggest job of the force with 188 being written in June. There were 186 operators licenses granted by the department in June. Other items on the report included:

- Reckless driving 2, drunk driving 1, improper parking 40, over-time parking 60, speeding 16, stop street and red light violations 9, miscellaneous tickets 13, traffic accidents 16, auto thefts 1, larceny 10, prowler calls 1.
- Doors found open 33, chauffeur licenses issued 19, beginners licenses issued 8, changes of address recorded 64, dogs killed 7, dog complaints 37 and miscellaneous complaints 225.
- Total number of transactions during the first six months of this year is 5,668 as compared with 6,073 during the same period a year ago.

Average Speed Of Cars Higher

The average speed at which cars are being driven in Michigan is increasing along with accidents and casualties, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, who is also a member of the State Safety Commission, reports.

Recent figures reveal it is more important than ever to heed the appeal of the commission's summer "Check Your Speed" campaign, now at the half way mark, he said.

"A check made this month by the State Highway Department at 21 selected locations showed that 18.4 per cent of all passenger cars were being driven in excess of 60 miles per hour," Childs said. "This was a gain of 2.2 over 16.2 per cent a similar check disclosed a year ago. Gains also were clocked in the speed ranges just below this mark.

"Cars are not only being driven faster, but there are more of them and more drivers. For the first five months of this year 67,000,000 miles were driven each day in Michigan as compared to less than 66,000,000 last year. During these summer months it is estimated the figure has jumped to at least 70,000,000. All of this means the hazards are multiplied."

Pointing out that a new all-time high monthly traffic casualty toll was recorded in May, Childs said that 48 per cent of the violations reported in traffic deaths were for speeding or driving too fast for conditions.

During May, the latest month for which figures are available, 5,433 persons were killed or injured in 16,092 accidents, also a new high.

"Keep your speed under control," said Childs. "Don't rush to death."

Members Receive Attendance Pins

Rotarians again awarded several of their members with perfect attendance pins for their attendance at meetings of the local club.

Walter Rensel was given a one-year pin; Lawrence Lyons, a six-year pin; Walter Hammond, a six-year pin; Harold Curtice, a nine-year pin; Edward Gardner, a 12-year pin; Russell Daafe, an 18-year pin; and Robert Willoughby, a pin for 24 years of perfect attendance.

Census Bureau Reports Less Unemployment, More Women Employed

Jobs apparently are not top scarce, since the Census Bureau reports that the unemployment in the United States last year reached its lowest point since World War II. Average unemployment was only 1,700,000.

The number of working wives in the nation has also topped the peak of any World War II year by almost 2,000,000. In April 10,400,000 women were employed.

A colored boy was strolling through a cemetery (in the daytime, of course) reading the inscriptions on the tombstones. He came to one which read: "Not dead, but sleeping." Scratching his head, he remarked "He sure ain't foolin' nobody but hisself."

City Manager Glassford pointed out that two more machines are included in the city's Ten-Year Plan.

As the city fathers and spectators perspired during Monday's meeting, a means of cooling off the commission room was presented by the city manager. He was able to present two offers which had been made to install a ceiling exhaust fan. One company's estimate for a 24-inch fan installed was $250, while another company estimated $302 for a 24-inch fan and $348 for a 36-inch fan.

Police Business Slower in June

Business in the Plymouth police department slowed down during June, according to a monthly report submitted by Chief of Police Carl Greenlee to city commissioners Monday night. The June ledger showed a total of 936 "transactions" during the 30-day period.

The department handled 1,268 items of business during May. Other statistics showed that business was "better" than a year ago June when 871 separate transactions were handled.

Issuing of traffic tickets continued to be the biggest job of the force with 188 being written in June. There were 188 operators licenses granted by the department in June. Other items on the report included:

Reckless driving 2, drunk driving 1, improper parking 40, overtime parking 60, speeding 16, stop street and red light violations 9, miscellaneous tickets 13, traffic accidents 16, auto thefts 1, larceny 10, prowler calls 1.

Doors found open 33, chauffeur licenses issued 19, beginners licenses issued 8, changes of address recorded 64, dogs killed 7, dog complaints 37 and miscellaneous complaints 225.

Total number of transactions during the first six months of this year is 5,668 as compared with 6,073 during the same period a year ago.

Average Speed Of Cars Higher

The average speed at which cars are being driven in Michigan is increasing along with accidents and casualties, State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, who is also a member of the State Safety Commission, reports.

Recent figures reveal it is more important than ever to heed the appeal of the commission's summer "Check Your Speed" campaign, now at the half way mark, he said.

"A check made this month by the State Highway Department at 21 selected locations showed that 16.4 per cent of all passenger cars were being driven in excess of 60 miles per hour," Childs said. "This was a gain of 2.2 over 16.2 per cent a similar check disclosed a year ago. Gains also were clocked in the speed ranges just below this mark.

"Cars are not only being driven faster, but there are more of them and more drivers. For the first five months of this year 87,000,000 miles were driven each day in Michigan as compared to less than 66,000,000 last year. During these summer months it is estimated the figure has jumped to at least 70,000,000. All of this means the hazards are multiplied."

Pointing out that a new all-time high monthly traffic casualty toll was recorded in May, Childs said that 48 per cent of the violations reported in traffic deaths were for speeding or driving too fast for conditions.

During May, the latest month for which figures are available, 5,433 persons were killed or injured in 16,092 accidents, also a new high.

"Keep your speed under control," said Childs. "Don't rush to death."

Members Receive Attendance Pins

Rotarians again awarded several of their members with perfect attendance pins for their attendance at meetings of the local club.

Walter Rensel was given a one-year pin; Lawrence Lyons, a six-year pin; Walter Hammond, a six-year pin; Harold Curtice, a nine-year pin; Edward Gardner, a 12-year pin; Russell Daarfe, an 18-year pin; and Robert Willoughby, a pin for 24 years of perfect attendance.

Census Bureau Reports Less Unemployment, More Women Employed

Jobs apparently are not too scarce, since the Census Bureau reports that the unemployment in the United States last year reached its lowest point since World War II. Average unemployment was only 1,700,000.

The number of working wives in the nation has also topped the peak of any World War II year by almost 2,000,000. In April 10,400,000 women were employed.

A colored boy was strolling through a cemetery (in the daytime, of course) reading the inscriptions on the tombstones. He came to one which read: "Not dead, but sleeping." Scratching his head, he remarked "He sure ain't foolin' nobody but himself."

Most any auto driver will tell you that sometimes the biggest nut holds the steering wheel. Girls who begin painting at 12 usually need "whitewashing" at 20. We may be personally defeated, but our principles never. —William Lloyd Garrison

Local Sales

Receive Speedy Public Response

The thrifty Plymouth shopper was treated to a galaxy of sales last week by local merchants—and the response was tremendous. Every merchant, whose sale message was carried in The Mail, declared that the results were far beyond expectations.

A forecast of things to come was indicated by the lines in front of several stores last Thursday. One merchant stated that "it was the largest weekend sale event we've ever experienced." In most cases the clearance sales are being continued this week and, as an added feature, more sales may be found in the pages of this week's Mail.

Now that the commencement oratory is over, the young graduate can begin to learn the facts about earning a living.

In Memory 28

In loving memory of our father, husband and grandfather, who passed away three years ago July 25.
 His smiling way and pleasant face
 Are a pleasure to recall;
 He had a kindly word for each,
 And died beloved by all.
 Some day we hope to meet him,
 Some day we know not when
 To clasp his hand in a better land,
 Never to part again.

Detroit Lions to Begin Ticket Sale For Opening Tilt

Here it is mid-summer and they are already preparing for football. The Detroit Lions began practice sessions today in preparation for the annual Professional Champions-All-Star game at Soldiers Field in Chicago on August 14. The champion Lions are training at Michigan State Normal in Ypsilanti.
 Detroit's appearance in this game is the second in the 20 years it has been conducted. In 1937 they played a 7-7 tie with the collegians. All practice sessions before this game will be secret affairs—after the game the Lions will return to Ypsilanti to prepare for the opening of the pro football season.
 There will be one pre-season game at Briggs Stadium on Friday night, September 4, and the opponent will be the Cleveland Browns, a team they beat once during the regular season last year, and then in the championship playoff for the title. Tickets went on sale last week, and a sellout is most certain, so anyone desiring to get these ducats should do so immediately.
 The box office is at 1491 Michigan avenue and will be open weekdays from 9 to 5 and on Saturdays from 9 until noon. Tickets are scaled this year from $4, $3, to $2, the latter going on sale the day of the game. Mail orders will be accepted if accompanied by a certified or a cashier's check.

Ban Reservations Of Camp Sites

Prospective visitors to parks are reminded by the conservation department that picnic tables and camping sites may not be reserved.
 Managers of the parks note that they must often disappoint persons who write or phone asking for picnic or campsite reservations at the various parks.
 Only when a school, church or other large group must make long range plans can a group camp site be reserved.
 "I don't see much hope," said the prisoner's counsel.
 "Oh, I dunno," replied the prisoner. "I'm a member of the labor union, you know."
 "Well, I thought maybe we might get the jury to go out on a sympathetic strike."
 One thing about the radio, it never broadcasts family troubles. The party-line telephone still looks after that.

Planning Commission Postpones
Adoption of New Zoning Proposal

Two hours of debate without any decisions was the sum total of action at a regular session of the City Planning Commission last Thursday night. The commission had hoped to adopt its revised zoning ordinance proposal at the meeting.

Instead, commissioners heard more objections to their zoning proposal from several citizens and adjourned the meeting with the promise to study the objections.

Most of the discussion was stimulated by a few residents of the 700 block of South Main street who complained that several homes in their block were zoned commercial and others were residential. They demanded that the commission zone their block either one way or another, but not to divide the classification in the middle of the block.

Two other opinions about zoning were heard during the evening. One was offered by G. K.

Ashton, 861 Penniman, local chiropractor, who took exception to Article 14 of the proposed ordinance which allows the planning commission to review building plans. He termed the plan as "vicious" since some future planning commission may use their power for personal gain. He also doubted that a planning commissioner would be qualified to interpret plans.

Commission Chairman Sidney Strong answered by saying that in such a small town it would be difficult for a commissioner to take advantage of the power of his office and that commission members are carefully selected. He also added that the commission would check only to see if plans conformed with zoning restrictions, while any technical examination would be done by the city engineer.

R. R. Pursell, 639 South Main street, suggested that the commission drop Article 20 of the proposed ordinance. This article is the "teeth" of the ordinance which lists penalties for violators. Pursell opined that too many "musts" and "must nots" are dangerous and he pointed to a transit merchants' tax of 20 years ago as an example of too much government.

Merchants Team
In Inter-County
Playoffs Here

The Plymouth Merchants team of the Inter-County league made the playoffs this week without having to play a rained-out game. This was made possible when Wyandotte elected not to play in the top playoff bracket for teams with 500 percentage or more. Wyandotte is already assured a place in the district ABC tourney as leader of the ABC league in their home town.

Winner of the Inter-County league playoffs will go to another ABC district tourney at Ypsilanti beginning on August 29. The playoffs will be a two-game knockout affair.

This year there are two sections, one the major playoffs for teams of 500 percent or more, and a minor playoff for those below 500 percent, the latter winners do not have a chance to advance to ABC play, but there are some funds that will go to the winner. Wyandotte will play in this latter playoff.

The first round of both playoffs begins this Sunday with the following games: Grandale against Wayne; Farris at Plymouth in a game at Riverside park beginning at 3:30; Food Fair at Teamsters at Cass Benton beginning at 1 p.m.; River Rouge against Northville at Cass Benton at 3:30; Auto Club drew the first round bye.

The following Sunday the winners of the above games will draw to play each other along with Auto Club, with Northville getting the bye; the losers of the above games will also have a drawing to play each other.

In the lower playoffs we find Walled Lake playing Lions, Wyandotte going against the Cubs, and Livonia Bodker drawing the bye.

There are 16 ABC district tournament sites throughout Michigan. The winners from these tournaments will meet in a state tourney to see which team represents Michigan at the National American Baseball Congress tourney in Akron, Ohio later in the summer.

Wiedman Offers New Plan to Used Car Buyers

A new policy has been initiated by the Paul J. Wiedman Ford dealership giving used car and truck buyers a warranty of six months or 6,000 miles. The new warranty offer is in connection with a nation-wide policy change by all Ford dealers.

Applying to all makes and models of cars and trucks, Wiedman said the new plan is part of his company's policy of bringing Plymouth customers the finest in buying assistance and service.

Stop Accidents
With Stricter
Law Enforcement

Every effort will be made to provide residents of Plymouth maximum protection against injury or property loss from automobile accidents by the stricter enforcing of traffic laws.

Joe Merritt, chairman of the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that safety experts can show that an effective way to reduce accidents is to make every driver conscious of his responsibility on public highways.

If drivers realize they face arrest and stiff sentences when they violate the law, they become more careful; a sharp decline in the number of accidents occurs, say experts.

Local police officials were directed by the head of their department to be particularly vigilant for speeding and recklessness.

Police, prosecutors and judges in other localities are also expected to deal more firmly with violators as part of a state wide campaign to reduce the tragically high toll of life and property on Michigan highways.

Finds Paradise For Fishermen

Taking his first real vacation jaunt since selling his Buick agency, Carl Shear and son, Frederick, of Ann Arbor, spent last week fishing at Chaffe's Locks in Canada. They found bass fishing at its best and while there had their limit each day by noon.

According to Mr. Shear senior, Canadian guides took them to the fishing grounds and each day prepared a shore dinner of the fish they desired, which provided one of the most delicious gastronomic treats he had ever experienced. Full information on availability of these fishing grounds to other local residents is readily available from either of the Shears.

Ethel's big sister has an ardent admirer who is a college athlete, a big, broad-shouldered chap. Ethel overheard her sister say that he was well knit. The next evening, when the young man called, Ethel went into the parlor to entertain him.

"Do you know what sister says about you?" demanded Ethel.
"No. Something nice, I hope," said the young man.
"Oh yes, it's very nice," replied Ethel. "She says you are beautifully crocheted."

There is a need in this country for a park where speakers expound on soap boxes, as they do in London. But our Congressmen probably wouldn't use it.

There is one thing that you can wear and never worry about it being out of style and that is a smile.

National Council States Rules For Farm Safety

National Farm Safety Week has been proclaimed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower from July 19 to 25.

The reason for this is that more persons are killed in accidents while farming than in any other major industry.

The tragic outlook during 1953 is for 4,000 deaths and a million and a quarter injuries from farm accidents.

This is not just another "week". Whether we work and live on a farm or somewhere else, we should take the time to think about our own safety habits.

More specifically, the National Safety Council has listed 10 commandments for farm safety. These rules should be heeded, according to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra R. Benson, so that those who "Farm to Live" will continue to "Live to Farm."

Briefly the rules are:

1. Keep machines in good repair. Be sure your equipment is in safe working condition. Keep guards and safety devices in place.
2. Operate tractors safely, starting smoothly, turning corners slowly, and avoiding ditches, banks and soft ground.
3. Know and obey all traffic laws. Be a safe careful driver and drive a safe car.
4. Be fire-sighted: Don't smoke around the barn. Don't start fires with kerosene. Be careful with matches.

5. Speak to animals when approaching them. Animals may "bolt" if startled, so calmly assure them of your presence when approaching.

6. Be a good housekeeper. Keep things systematic in your home and on your farm. Have a place for everything and everything in its place.

7. Watch your step to prevent falls. Keep ladders in good repair. Make sure barn floors have no treacherous holes. Watch your step!

8. Follow safety instructions. Printed instructions can save your life. Read and heed them whether they are "No Smoking" signs in the barn, or labels on machinery.

9. Know and obey water safety rules. Don't swim alone. Know the depth of the water before diving in. Sit still in small boats.

10. Apply first aid promptly. Keep first aid kits in the home, in the barn and on the tractor. Seconds count when infection may set in.

Other safety recommendations include shutting off farm machinery when oiling, cleaning or adjusting them; shutting off the tractor or car engine when you leave it; keeping children from riding farm machines; and avoiding wearing loose or torn clothing and gloves around harvesting or grinding machines.

Remember to destroy oily rags and paint cans, and keep cisterns and open wells covered. Unload the gun before climbing through or over a fence.

It is always wise to take the time to lead bulls with a staff.

Store matches and medicine away from children. Don't forget to stop your car or tractor before entering an intersection or crossing railroad tracks.

Have you had your electrical wiring checked lately? Keep a fire extinguisher or water barrel handy to fight a fire.

A little time and effort spent now can save untold lives, misery and money later.

Safety is everybody's job. Some fellows love to brag about what they have got but they never brag to the tax assessor.

Heat Is Busting Out All Over

Heat may be shattering records across the nation this week, but in Plymouth it is believed to have been the force which shattered the rear window of a car into thousands of pieces.

Harold Shettleroe, 47910 Gryde road, was sitting in his home Monday afternoon when he heard an explosion come from his car. He found a hole had been blown outward in the rear window and as he watched, the remainder of the glass slowly began to crumble and fall onto the rear window ledge.

The mystified motorist reports that the car was parked in the sun, but that the two front windows were open, eliminating the theory that some pressure may have built up within the car.

Shettleroe

(Continued from Page 1) basement of the Shettleroe home on South Main street and in an area where there are already two taverns. Neighbors had also objected to the site.

Demel told commissioners that it "borders closely on discrimination" when they issue a stop order for more licenses, then allow one more and close it up again.

Mayor Russell M. Daane questioned if the Shettleroes haven't now lost their priority to the license because they will have to file a petition for their new location. Attorney Demel answered that licenses are granted to individuals and not to locations. The Shettleroes had first filed their petition in 1952 and in July of that year, it was denied when the police authorities submitted an unfavorable report.

The attorney hinted that should the commission grant the license to Marquis now, legal action might follow.

Discussion ended when the commission voted 6-1 to postpone action until the next meeting and to allow time for City Attorney Harry N. Deyo to check legal aspects of liquor licensing.

Commissioner George Bauer was the lone dissenter.

Arlen

Four exhibits entered by the city attempt to show that Arlen did not reside at the hotel during certain periods. Commission minutes were also included as exhibits.

In his petition, Arlen points out that he has not caused the occurrence of any act specified by state law to create a vacancy; that he has not been removed from office by the governor; that he has not been absent from the city for more than 60 continuous days; that he has not been absent from four consecutive regular meetings of the commission or 25 per cent of the meetings in a fiscal year; and that he has not assumed any office incompatible with the commissioner's office.

Arlen's petition adds that he has always maintained his residence in Plymouth and that it is his intention to be a resident. The former commissioner summarizes his petition by asking the court to declare null and void the city commission's resolution concerning his vacancy of his office, and that the city clerk be directed to record his presence when he attends commission meetings.

The city's lengthy answer to Arlen's petition first points out that Arlen did vote by absentee ballot in the regular city election on April 6 as Arlen claimed, but that he did not reside at 735 Burroughs as shown by the certification on his ballot and his permanent voter's registration record. He had moved from that address on about February 26, the answer alleges.

Denial that Arlen was "removed from office" was made in the defendant's answer. The city claims that Arlen "vacated" his office by ceasing to be an inhabitant of the city when he and his family moved to a Northville township home. The answer also states that the commission did not declare the vacancy because of the city charter's provision dealing with absence from the city for more than 60 days, but on the fact that the plaintiff had ceased to be an inhabitant of the city.

The city also answered Arlen's claim that he remained a resident by living at the Hotel Mayflower. They state that Arlen was not checked in at the hotel from May 11 through June 15, as he purports to show. The defendants also allege that "mere registration... is not residing there," and that they believe that Arlen actually stayed at the hotel a limited number of nights. Hotel records are attached to the city's answer as exhibits.

A recounting of the Arlen case before the city commission is included in the city's answer. It recalls that Arlen's right to office was first challenged at the April 20 meeting and that Arlen admitted he had sold his Plymouth home and had a new home in Northville township.

At the June 15 meeting of the commission, the answer states that a resolution was made to declare Arlen's chair vacant, but that Arlen then orally announced his resignation. Since resignations are required in writing, Arlen met with the city clerk during a recess to draft the resignation, but that Arlen returned to the meeting and refused to tender his written resignation. The commission's resolution was then offered once again and adopted with the unanimous vote of six commissioners.

During roll call at the July 6

AUSSIE BOXER... Five-month old "Winnie", Australian kangaroo, dons boxing gloves to rehearse for his part in movie being made in New York city.

commission meeting, Arlen's name was omitted. He told the group that he considered himself still a member of the commission. However, Mayor Daane pointed out that the June 15 resolution declared Arlen's office vacant and that he could not be included in the roll call. Two days later, Marvin E. Terry was appointed to the commission to fill Arlen's unexpired term.

Twin Products Company Begins Twelfth Year in Local Business

The industriousness, which has made America the home of the greatest producers in the world, is very evident at the busy Twin Products Company, Incorporated. On Tuesday, July 21, Glenn J. Smith and his twin brother Lynn J. Smith, celebrated the eleventh anniversary of the beginning of their business.

The location of their company, which had its start as Glenn Smith's hobby shop, is at its original location, 1812 Canton Center road.

The company was incorporated as of July 1, with Glenn J. Smith as president; Charles Dawes of Detroit and the Dawes Paint company as vice-president; and head of the board of directors, and Lynn J. Smith as secretary-treasurer.

Twin Products Company, Inc. manufactures mainly screw machine parts, gauges and does general machine work. Recently, high precision checking equipment was added. The company is a prime contractor for several arsenals in the Detroit area, and a large part of their work comes from different automobile concerns. In 1942 when the two Smiths started their business, their equipment was appraised at about $500. Now, with 15 people in their employ, their equipment is valued at $150,000 plus approximately $25,000 of new equipment.

Though their business began as a tool, fixture and dye concern, their manufacture has been abandoned in favor of general machine work.

During World War II, the business was at its peak. At one time they had 23 people in their employ.

A patent was granted to Glenn J. Smith in 1941 on the design of a pump. However, because of the high cost of material and their other work, they are not producing the pump now.

Both of the Smith twins have lived in the Plymouth area for about 20 years. Glenn Smith married Miss Thelma Tegg of Canton Center road and is the father of two girls and one boy. Lynn J. Smith and his wife, who hails from Kingsley, Kansas, are the parents of two boys.

Tangers Vacation In Bermuda

ENJOYING THE NATURAL BEAUTIES found on the island of Bermuda are Plymouthites Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanager of 444 Irving street.

The lore of a sub-tropical island lives up to its expectations and provides more too, according to word from Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanager, of Irving street who are vacationing in Bermuda.

Illustrating the beauty of the islands, are the pictures above, which were taken in the sunken gardens at "The Bermudiana Hotel," where the Tangers are staying.

Mrs. Tanager, principal of Bird Elementary school, mentions that there is always a cool ocean breeze on the island. "It certainly is a welcome change from the hot, humid weather we have had in Plymouth," she says.

The Tangers arrived on the luxurious "Queen of Bermuda" and have spent their time touring the 'show places' of the islands.

Scouts to Leave On Camping Trip

The Boy Scouts of P-3 and Explorers of P-3 will begin a week's camping trip on Saturday, July 25. They will leave at 7 a.m. for Silver Lake State park near Ludington, by Lake Michigan.

Transportation will be furnished by Henry Penhale and Charles Bennett, of the Rotary club.

Three leaders and 28 Scouts are expected to go on the trip.

The leaders, Price Clear, John Snider and Scoutmaster Ferris J.

Mathias, will be in charge of the group.

First and second class ranks will be one of the objectives, along with swimming and baseball, fishing and horse shoes. An all day hike and cookout through the sand dunes will be held one day. Also, rides will be available on dune scooters. Campfires and the Royal Court of Siam will be held.

The boys will sleep in tents and help cook their own meals.

The next dance with Vern Diederick's orchestra providing the music will be announced at a later date.

Thursday Night Dances Postponed for Summer

The teen-age dances which were scheduled for every Thursday evening have been postponed for the remainder of the summer, the Recreation department reports. The cancellation of the dances is attributed to lack of interest on the part of the young people.

Mrs. Edith Lute with her son and daughter-in-law of Elkhart, Indiana, have been visiting in the Wyman Bartlett home on Blunk street.

Ernest Forbings Return From Northern Michigan Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Forbing

On Saturday morning, June 27, in a ceremony in Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Geraldine Lynn Card became the bride of Ernest Albert Forbing, Geraldine is the daughter of Mrs. Frances Zwick of California and Brodie Card of North Mill street, Plymouth. Ernest is the son of Mrs. William Forbing and the late Mr. Forbing of Holbrook avenue, Plymouth.

The Reverend Father Francis Byrne read the ten-o'clock Mass before the altar which was graced with bouquets of white gladioli. Mrs. Felix Cylk presided at the organ and sang, "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

Geraldine, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. Her gown was strapless and featured a bolero jacket of lace with a Peter Pan collar and long fitted sleeves. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a sweet-heart cap and was bordered with lace. Her flowers of white carnations were arranged in a colonial bouquet.

Marilyn Card was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow nylon tulle over yellow taffeta. She wore a band of matching tulle in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations. The bridesmaid, Virginia Gray, a niece of the bridegroom, wore blue tulle over taffeta, fashioned like that of the maid of honor. She wore a matching headband and carried a bouquet of blue carnations in colonial design.

Otis Forbing served his brother as best man and Richard Lee Gray seated the guests. Mrs. Zwick chose for her daughter's wedding, a pink nylon street length dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Forbing wore a pink carnation corsage with her navy dress and black accessories. Two hundred guests coming from California, New York, Indiana, Bad Axe, Northville and Plymouth attended the reception which was held at the Western Wayne County Conservation clubhouse. The young couple have returned from a honeymoon in northern Michigan and are now at home on Holbrook avenue in Plymouth. For traveling Mrs. Forbing wore a grey and white dress with white accessories. Preceding the wedding two showers were given honoring Geraldine. The first was on June 6 when Mrs. Lawrence Dyer and Mrs. Aubrey Dyer entertained for her. On June 16, Mrs. Thurman Rodman, aunt of the bride, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower honoring Geraldine.

Clements Library Display Shows Historic Change in Literary Taste

When you sit down at night with your copy of "My Cousin Rachel" or some other best-selling novel you are exemplifying the reading habits of this generation. Each generation it seems has its own reading matter, whether it be for historical novels or spiritual sayings. These changes in America's literary taste are currently being exhibited at the Clements library of the University of Michigan. One exhibit, open until August 14, displays the reading matter of Revolutionary days. The other which will close August 1, shows the reading of the last 50 years. Just what were they reading in old New England? In those early days, most New Englanders showed a strong liking for poetry, providing that it had a strong dose of theology. Michael Wigglesworth's "The Day of Doom" probably would have brought top money on the Book of the Month club list, had there been one.

More emotional and sentimental writers came into their own when women were added to the reading public. "The Complaint, or Night Thoughts on Life, Death and Immortality" was a great favorite with the fairer sex.

By 1790 satirical and Gothic (terror) novels were a standard item in the New Englander's bookcase. Samuel Richardson's "The History of Pamela, or Virtue Rewarded" was the rage.

About this time the first of America's schoolbooks was put out—"The New England Primer." It was soon followed by Webster's "Speller" and the well-known McGuffey's "Reader." The trials of the schoolboy had begun.

Also on display are old newspapers, which devoted their first few pages to advertising. In fact a paper of April 27, 1775 carries the first account of the battle of Lexington and Concord on page three.

The other exhibit carries the reader from Mary Johnson's popular "To Have and To Hold" in the early twentieth century to "The Egyptian" by Mika Waltari, best-seller of 1949.

Along the way we find "The Pit" by Frank Norris, dealing with a business and financial theme, Ely Culbertson's "Contract Bridge Blue Book" popular during the depression, and Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse," a historical novel.

Today the trend again seems to be with the historical novel, but through the years the diversity of America's literary taste is readily apparent.

Summer Months Mean More Care in Burning Trash

In the warm dry summer months the danger of grass fires is greatly increased. If you have a vacant lot next door to you that has grown up with weeds, every precaution should be taken to avoid a damaging fire.

Though no permit is necessary in Plymouth for burning small amounts of rubbish in trash containers, Fire Chief Robert McAlister pointed out that tree trimmings and other excessive amounts of rubbish to be burned make it necessary for the owner to obtain a permit.

To obtain one of these permits the owner must call the Fire department. Firemen will come to the site and check if the fire can endanger any property. After the inspection has been made the Fire department will not answer any fire calls except from the owner himself. This protects the department from answering any unnecessary calls.

Should your burning develop into a grass fire, a garden hose and a broom can be of great assistance in controlling it until the Fire department can arrive, if you need them. Have a charged hose handy and in place, with the water shut off at the nozzle, prior to starting a fire. Then, if necessary, you can bring it quickly into play.

God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it.—Daniel Webster.

SUNDAY SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper
Growing in Christ.
Lesson for July 26: Ephesians 4: 4-6, 11-16.
Golden Text: Ephesians 4: 15.

There is an old story about a pastor who talked with a very sick man about his spiritual condition. The man told him his conversion twenty years before had been so remarkable that he had asked his wife to write a record of it. "Wife," he said, "bring my experience and show it to the pastor." She rummaged down into an old chest and brought out all that was left of his experience. The rats had made a nest of it. So we are not to depend upon an experience of ten or twenty years ago. Christians must grow in grace. Thus Paul brought the Ephesians to "walk worthy of the calling" in Christ Jesus.

"With all diligence and meekness, with long suffering, forbearing one another in love" they were to give "diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." There is to be unity in diversity among Christians. Some were given to be apostles, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, all working for the perfecting of the saints, for the labor of "ministering unto the building up of the body of Christ. And this is to attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of God."

Then, as "fullgrown men," Christians can achieve a unity which is not dependent upon a great ecclesiastical organization, but upon true faith that is manifested by love toward others.

Foreign Students Learn Slang At Michigan State

Basic training in handling "English as a foreign language" is offered to foreign students at Michigan State college. American social customs, slang and the menu from the corner cafe are being unscrambled for the students in this course.

Scores of students during the past seven years have been instructed in how to read the newspaper, how to use the telephone and what an American means by "It's in the bag" or "What's cooking?"

Formal English schooling has usually been received by the students in their native lands, but few have had experience with American expressions and everyday conversation.

Dr. A. T. Cordray, director of the non-credit course, explains that the students in the classes are in two general classifications, those who have come to America for schooling and plan to return to their native countries when they graduate, and those who are Displaced Persons or immigrants who want to become American citizens.

"We don't attempt to 'Americanize' the students in the training," Dr. Cordray points out. "We do attempt to help him in adjusting to the American way of doing and saying things to make his life more comfortable and to increase his chances for success in school."

Railroads To Use Lighter Coaches

The New York Central and the Chesapeake and Ohio in an announcement today said their companies had entered into a joint arrangement looking forward to the building of passenger carrying cars of lighter weight and lower cost for operation on their respective railroads.

Continuing heavy deficits from the operation of passenger trains remain a major industry problem, according to William White, president of the New York Central, and Walter J. Tuohy, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio. Last year the industry lost over a half billion dollars on the hauling of passenger, mail, baggage and express.

Today a passenger coach costs over $2,000 per seat against $350 per seat in 1926 and this huge increase in cost makes imperative a less costly car that will meet public acceptance and necessary standards of safety.

Both carriers regard this program of pooled research on equipment design as one of the important approaches to the solution of the passenger traffic problem. Both presidents believe that this is also an important approach in the solution of the problem of winning back travel markets which continue to be lost to competing forms of transportation.

The arrangement calls for conducting the project on an equal partnership basis, taking full advantage of the engineering skill and experience available not only in the two railroads but also among the leading manufacturers of railway passenger equipment.

Ward, a graduate of Wilmington college, was a charter member and first president of the Detroit Systems and Procedures association. He resides at 711 Burroughs.

Mrs. Van Dyke Reports to Group

The board of directors of the Character Research Group of Plymouth met Tuesday, July 14, at the home of its chairman, Austin Pino. A report was made by Mrs. Fred Van Dyke who represented the group at the annual summer workshop of the Character Research Project of the Department of Psychology, Union college, Schenectady, New York. Mrs. Van Dyke was part of a workshop group who studied ways in which parents can make better reports on how they carried on the church school lessons throughout the week at home. Most Character Research Project groups are individual churches of Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist or other denominations. The Plymouth group is one of seven non-sectarian parent groups. The parent reports are used by the Character Research Project staff at Union college to improve the teaching materials.

Mrs. Van Dyke reported that a highlight of this year's workshop was the report of Miss Helen Spaulding to the National Council of Churches which she represented at last year's workshop in Schenectady. One of Miss Spaulding's conclusions about the character research project was that: "it is a fact we cannot ignore that more research money and brain power are going into this project than into any other research program in Christian education. Out of work extending over a period of more than 15 years, there are certainly lessons to be learned and contributions to be made to Christian education."

Miss Norma Van Dyke, also of Plymouth, was at the workshop with her mother. She attended the nursery school study group since it supplemented the child development courses which are her major course of study at Antioch college.

"They say he's awfully sick," a woman was heard to remark to her companion while walking down Washington street. "Is that so? What's the matter with him?" asked the other. "I believe they call it the intestinal flu." "What's that?" "I don't know. This new disease I suppose."

Norman Waid

Corporal Norman L. Waid, Airman Second Class, has returned to Cheyenne, Wyoming after a 15 day furlough at his home on Godfredson road. Norman recently graduated from the Engine Specialty school with honors and at the head of his class. As a result of this achievement he was chosen for the Norberg Diesel school in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he will take an eight week's training course starting July 27. He enlisted in service in September 1952. Norman received a letter of recognition from the Colonel of the Air Force.

Bessie was lunching with her mother in a restaurant.

Mother (helping herself to sauce)-You won't like this dear. It's parsley sauce.

Bessie-Oh let me have some. I know I should like it.

"Why, dear, you haven't tasted it."

"No, but I've read about it in the Bible."

"Where?"

"I've been reading about the man who was 'sick of the parsley' and I want to try it."

Library Adds Many New Novels; Initiates New Policy on Books

This week saw a huge collection of new adult novels added to the Dunning Library, announced Librarian Agnes Pauline. With the arrival of the new books, the library is initiating a new system. The books will be on display for one week at the front desk, giving interested persons the opportunity of looking them over and expressing their preferences. At the end of the week, those on the reserve list will be notified in order and can come in to get their books. Included among the stock of new books is "The Dark Angel" by Mika Waltari, author of "The Egyptian." The novel is set in Constantinople when it fell to the Turks 500 years ago. John Angelos is a strange man who is suspected by some of being a spy for the Sultan. Amid the decadent splendors of the Court of Emperor Constantine XI he must choose between his growing love for the blond daughter of the mighty Megadux and his loyalty to beliefs of Christianity. But through her he is drawn into the intrigues of her father with Mohammed II, so that John becomes personally involved in almost every aspect of the siege. For lovers of mystery and intrigue the library offers "The Big Water" by Mark Derby. With the most vivid and memorable array of characters that he has ever created, Mark Derby returns to Malaya, the scene of his successful, first novel "Afraid in the Dark." This long and thrilling story of treason, mystery and terror moves from the city of Penang to the heart of the vast, vicious jungle of Borneo.

Among other new novels are "Taw Jameson" by May Davies Martenet, "Battle Cry" by Leon Uris, "Kingfishers Catch Fire" by Rumer Godden, "The Babylonians" by Nathaniel Norsesen Weinreb, "Heather Mary" by J. M. Scott, "Rogues Yarn" by John Jennings and "Team Bells Woke Me" by H. L. Davis.

The list continues with "Fog of Doubt" by Christiana Brand, "Ride Out the Storm" by Roger Verdel, "The Sparks Fly Upward" by James Ronald, "The Echoing Grove" by Rosamond Lehmann, "The Florentine" by Carl Spinatelli, "The Restless Border" by Dick Pearce, "The Light in the Forest" by Conrad Richter, and many more.

Life Is Brighter for Korean Boy Because of Local Sponsors' Help

The fact that Lym Tae Hyon, a Korean orphan, is alive to celebrate his 11th birthday tomorrow is a tribute to the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., and his local sponsors, the Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church. This group of young people, under the leadership of Mrs. Neal Bowen, pay $120 per year for Tae Hyon's support.

Lym Tae Hyon's story is a tragic one, like the story of all Korean orphans in that war-ravaged land, but it fortunately has a happy ending. The child, whose name means great sage, was left an orphan when his parents died some time ago. He was placed in an orphanage in Seoul, the Seoul Salvation Army Children's Home. But the fortunes of war later took Tae Hyon and the other children far away from Korea's capital city and the orphanage.

At the orphanage Lym Tae Hyon lived in a nice, substantial dormitory. There was a school and craft shops, and the children were happy under the Salvation Army leaders. The boys had a brass band and the girls had a chorus. In all, the home did much to make the children forget the tragedy that brought them there.

Their happy life was short-lived, however, for the communists swept down and quickly took over the city. The children were forced to remain in Seoul, which was an unpleasant experience, for the older boys and the prized brass band were all marched away. Food was scarce and the children suffered.

Soon the city was retaken by the United Nations forces, but just as reconstruction was beginning the communists approached Seoul again. This time the children got out of the city, going by any means they could find.

Big children carried the little ones, and the children, along with thousands of other refugees, had to scavenge for food. Tae Hyon was among the children who escaped ahead of the communists. He was later picked up by relief workers as he wandered about trying to help himself. His condition was described as "pathetic" and he was taken to the Christian Children's fund home for help.

Lym Tae Hyon

The home had since been rebuilt after the U. N. had again gained control of Seoul. Tae Hyon's health condition is now described as "good" and his progress as "very good." He is in the 5th grade, where his favorite subject is geography. The school is training him to be a farmer.

Small Blaze Quickly Brought Under Control

Sparks from an acetylene torch touched off a small fire Friday afternoon in the basement of Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., local Ford dealer.

Mechanics were using the torch to repair a car on a hydraulic lift on the main floor of the building when a spark fell through a small opening in the floor below the lift and onto a packaged quarter panel stored in the basement. Workers used fire extinguishers to put out the blaze before firemen arrived. Mr. Wiedman reported there was no damage.

Dr. Kelly Begins Dental Practice With Dr. Todd

Dr. Charles Kelly has recently gone into dental practice here with Dr. J. H. Todd at his office at 831 Penniman. Dr. Kelly arrived Monday to begin his first practice since he received his D.D.S. degree from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in June.

Dr. Kelly, previous to entering dental school, was graduated from the University of Michigan College of Literature, Science and the Arts. He is a native of Traverse City, Michigan.

Though presently residing in Ann Arbor with his wife, Dolores, and two-year-old son, Dr. Kelly hopes to move his family to Plymouth soon.

Slight Injuries In Auto Mishap

Two Ypsilanti men escaped serious injury early Friday morning when the car in which they were riding skidded into a field when it came to the end of Lilley road at its intersection with Joy road.

Taken by ambulance to the Wayne County General hospital, John Zauner, 8800 Tuttle Hill, Ypsilanti, a passenger in the car, was treated for a cut over the right eye. The driver, Howard Kelly, 217 Washington street, was examined but apparently suffered no injuries, according to the Sheriff's Road Patrol station at Wayne.

Kelly told officers that he was driving south on Lilley when the mishap occurred, but he could not say what happened. The car traveled 30 feet into a field, officers reported.

An authentic V mail letter written by a Tennessee lad read as follows:

"Dear Pa: I'm in a tight spot, cooped up here in this ship with guns and ammunition, submarines and bombers and Yankees all around me. Tell Ma not to worry."

Knights Install John Gilles Jr To Highest Post

John Gilles Jr., was installed as Grand Knight of Plymouth Council of the Knights of Columbus for the 1953-54 year. Officers for the year were installed at the council chambers last week by District Deputy Eugene Sheehan of Ann Arbor and his staff.

Grand Knight Gilles moved into the top position in the Council held last year by Henry Lorenz. In Past Grand Knight Lorenz's administration, Mr. Gilles served as Deputy Grand Knight. His experience in that post coupled with his deep interest in Plymouth Council make him well qualified for the duties of the highest office in the local unit of the Knights of Columbus. Grand Knight Gilles has been a resident of Plymouth all his life, is the father of three children and is a charter member of the Plymouth Council.

Other officers installed at the same meeting were Robert Lorenz, Deputy Grand Knight who was Chancellor last year; Foster Kisabeth, chancellor, who moved up from the position of inside guard; Marvin Criegee, recorder; Robert Sinecock, continuing as financial secretary; Gordon Nulty, serving his first full term as treasurer; Charles Nelson, lecturer; Sam Newingham, re-elected advocate; Clifford Caldwell, warden; Charles Batts, inside guard; Thomas Matthews, outside guard; and Ralph Lorenz, trustee.

The Council was honored at the meeting by the presence of the Reverend Father Francis Byrne, newly appointed pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel parish in Plymouth. Father Byrne is a member of Detroit Council number 305, and in a few remarks to the group expressed his pleasure at the existence of a Knights of Columbus council in Plymouth. He commended them for their progress in the post and encouraged even greater activity in the future. Grand Knight Gilles has promised to fulfill these lofty expectations.

Saucer Scare Caused by New Photo Flare

A powerful new flare used in night air photography was recently announced by the Air Force. The flare has been responsible for some of the reports of flying saucers in the past two years.

The Air Force statement said: "Police and field officials were besieged with phone calls reporting flying saucers or planes going down in flames" when a test was made of the 10 million candlepower flare in 1951 near Windsor Locks, Connecticut.

Excited observers also made numerous calls when a test was made near Detroit, the Air Force said.

The device, in essence, is a giant magnesium flare attached to the wing of a reconnaissance plane and controlled by the pilot.

Rembrandt Smith—"You must pay an awfully high rent for this big studio, old man."

Magistrate—"Witness says you neither slowed down nor tried to avoid the pedestrian."

Botticelli Jones—"My dear boy, in the bright lexicon of art there is no such word as 'must!'"

Motorist—"I took all precautions. I blew my horn and cursed him."

Surging Power with a Single Purpose

SAFETY!

When you choose a car for your family, you call on your good judgment to obtain every measure of safety.

One safety factor you should certainly consider is the magnificent reserve of power that Dodge provides in the 140-h.p. Red Ram V-8 engine.

This power is there when you need it: For passing, for turning into highway traffic, for crossing intersections.

Dodge Power-for-Safety deserves your careful thought in selecting a family car.

The cost of safety is very low: Dodge prices start below many models in the "lowest-priced" field.

Turning into traffic, you call on the surging reserve of acceleration, surely, confidently. You are safely sure because you command the Red Ram V-8 engine that set new official AAA performance records.

Powerful brakes, capable of developing more than 700-h.p. in stopping power, team up with the Red Ram V-Eight engine to bring you new mastery of every driving situation.

In Our Churches

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D., minister. The Presbyterian-Methodist Union Summer Services will continue through July 26 with the Reverend Melbourne Johnson preaching in the Presbyterian church. There will be a nursery at each church throughout the summer to take care of the pre-school children during the services. During the month of August, the combined congregations will meet in the Methodist church with Reverend Henry J. Walch as minister.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Harvey and Maple streets, Plymouth. Rev. David T. Davies, rector. Office phone 1730; Res. Phone 2308. Edward Rementer, Page Foundation worker, Jon Brake, Organist. 8:00 a.m. Holy Communion. 10 a.m. Holy Communion and sermon. Classes for smaller children. Due to the fact that the Rector will be away on vacation the next two Sundays, the Holy Communion will be celebrated on the last Sunday of July instead of the first Sunday in August. We are very pleased indeed with the attendance at worship this summer so far. Worshipping families are happy families; besides you can't afford to forget God who is the Author and Giver of all good things. Worship next Sunday and every Sunday in the church of your choice. If you have no church home, you are cordially invited to worship with us in this friendly church. Vacation Bible school will be held from August 17 to August 28. Plan to have your children attend.

WEST SALEM COUNTRY CHURCH, 7150 Angle Road, Salem Township. Patrick J. Clifford, Pastor. Bible School 1:30 p.m. Mr. Richards, Superintendent. Preaching service, 2:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend the old-fashioned country church where friendly people worship.

ST. PETER'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, 261 Spring St. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Early service-9:00. Late service-10:15 "Hidden Treasures", Moody Bible Institute film at the church on Monday, July 27, 8:00 p.m. Church picnic at The Willows in the park on Northville road just north of Six Mile road Wednesday, July 29, 8 p.m. Pot-luck supper at six. You bring a dish to pass, a desert and your own table service. We furnish coffee, milk, buns and winners Program and big prizes immediately after supper.

Next Sunday's sermon topic: "The Christian Fifth Column." Are you perhaps unwittingly aiding and abetting the cause and doctrine of Communism? Do you know that the Communists are winning greater victories during 'peace' from within their enemies' countries than they ever won in war? Do you realize that you are subscribing to the Marxist doctrine that 'religion is the opiate of the masses', when you profess Christianity and freedom of worship and then consistently neglect and despise the very thing you profess in your preoccupation with material things and pleasures without God? Ancient Rome fell because the populace had become prosperous and had gone 'soft' and 'dozy', like totten wood. What about our children? The heritage of faith which we have received as a blood-bought prize from our fathers, are we willing to hold it so lightly in our generation that we will leave our children no better spiritual dowry than the empty phrases and pious cant of so much of our present-day religion? This generation is ours, and with it all its opportunities and responsibilities. Each one of us will be asked to give an account of what we have done with the talent entrusted to us by our God and Savior the Lord Jesus Christ, when He comes to judge the quick and the dead!

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age. The knowledge of Truth brings true freedom. This is shown in the Lesson-Sermon under that subject to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 26. The Golden Text is from Psalms (43:23): "Thou are the God of my strength: . . . O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Jer. 31:34 to 2nd): "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them saith the Lord." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Christian Science brings to light Truth and its supremacy, universal harmony, the entireness of God, good, and the nothingness of evil."

Christian Science Services Held Through Summer

Sunday school and services at First Church of Christ, Scientist are continuing in full swing during the summer months, it was announced today.

"All the churches and societies of our denomination continue their services and other regular activities year round," said Mrs. R. A. Cassidy, Christian Science Assistant Committee on Publication for Plymouth. "Our Sunday School maintains classes for pupils up to the age of 20, and everyone is welcome to attend our Sunday services and Wednesday evening meetings."

The local church holds its Sunday services at 10:30 a.m. corner Main and Dodge streets. The Wednesday evening meeting is held at 8:00 p.m. The Sunday school convenes at 10:30 a.m.

Young people of today don't pay as much attention to older folks now as they once did because it's so hard to find anyone who will admit they're old.

Report One Polio Case in Plymouth Area

Only one case of polio has been reported in the Plymouth area this summer, according to Dr.

R. R. Barber, city health director. It was mid-August last year when polio cases in Plymouth reached their peak. The high school swimming pool was ordered closed at that time by Dr. Barber as a precautionary measure when the fifth person was stricken. None of last year's cases proved fatal.

Precautions to be taken by parents in behalf of their children have been issued in previous issues of The Plymouth Mail in hopes that the disease may be curbed before striking.

Small Game Hunting Regulations to Remain Same for This Winter

Most of Michigan's small game hunting regulations will be the same this fall and winter as they were last year, the conservation department reports.

The conservation commission, in its July meeting at Higgins Lake training school, authorized the 1953-54 seasons and bag limits on most small game species. Discussion of deer regulations was held over until the August 7-8 meeting.

Only a few changes were made in small game regulations. The season on ruffed and sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens in the upper peninsula will run October 1-November 1 inclusive, instead of October 1-November 10 as last year. In the lower peninsula, no change was made.

Also, no hunting will be permitted between 6 and 10 a.m. on October 20 in the lower peninsula; pheasant season opens that date and the brief shutdown in the middle of some game seasons already open will eliminate many law enforcement and hunting pressure problems.

Mink and muskrat trapping regulations will be the same except there will be no closed area in the northern lower peninsula.

as there was last year. About 1,500 acres near White Cloud, open to small game hunting this year as a result of commission action. The area has been set aside as a dog field trail area.

Pheasant season will be the same, with two exceptions; the season bag limit in southern Menominee county will be four birds instead of three as last year, and Emmet county in the northern lower peninsula will be closed for the season. The county was open last year, but has been closed in response to a request from a sportsmen's group attempting to provide food growths and shelter for the county's small pheasant population.

All other regulations remain the same as last year. The commission also heard a review of the lake and stream improvement program, discussed the gas and oil "checkerboarding" lease policy and approved a proposed allocation of $200,000 for capital improvements in nine state parks and recreation areas.

A number of resolutions were heard and considerable general land, timber and mineral business transacted.

PLY-MAIL PHOTO

TWO ATTORNEYS INSTEAD OF ONE in the Alandt family and son Michael seems to be pointing out to his parents that some changes will have to be made in the sign shown above. Mrs. Clarence Alandt has been a practicing Plymouth attorney with offices at the Alandt home, 45411 Ann Arbor road. A certified public accountant in the firm of Jennings & Rowe of Detroit. Mr. Alandt was last week sworn in after having taken his bar exams last April. He will practice law on a part time basis in addition to his accountant work.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

OLDEST MAILMAN... Martin O. Childers, 94, of Beloit, Kansas, begins his twentieth year delivering mail. He drives a 62-mile route daily.

Babson Park, Mass., We all greatly enjoy reading the columnists. They are constantly becoming a greater factor in connection with both World and National affairs. Unfortunately, we seldom read a column which talks of our own local troubles—that is, the affairs of our own city or town. Let me discuss these this week.

EVERYTHING COSTS MORE
The cost of all supplies (except perhaps electricity) which your city buys is higher today than ever before. Probably more is both demanded and wasted than ever before. Hence, the "city fathers" are raising local taxes. But higher tax rates may not be necessary if your city is proportionately growing in good population. Without increasing the rate of taxation, most growing cities should be able to raise enough taxes from the addition of new taxable property. Let the outlying sections which are profiting from the growth pay the increased costs.

Wages of city and town workers have increased. In view of the rise in living costs, this seems only fair. It is not fair to compare these wages with specific factory wages where production has increased almost correspondingly with wages. Not only have many "town employees" not increased their productivity, but many are perhaps loafing at their jobs. They could not possibly get work in any factory. Would you hire them?

PROBLEMS OF WELFARE AID
In states where the welfare rolls are public, the NET cost of honest old-age assistance and other charity work is not much of a factor. The Federal Government and the State reimburse your local treasurer for most of these expenditures. Furthermore, more of this money remains in the community. Even after paying the increased taxes for welfare work, most merchants, landlords, and retailers are better off as to net financial results. In addition to having the satisfaction of helping deserving people, they are making money from the expenditures of these people.

HIGHWAYS AND SCHOOLS
The states are continually taking over most of the highway expenses, while some cities which have efficient city managers have actually reduced highway expense. Not only does the use of roadbuilding and maintenance machinery reduce labor costs, but with the very low municipal interest rates, your road department can borrow money very cheaply.

Readers know my feelings on school costs. The fact is that we parents have turned our work of bringing up our children over to school teachers, television, and baby sitters. This is all wrong and we parents should be ashamed of ourselves but if we want this luxury, including school bands, school football games, and other school amusements, we should willingly pay the cost. Taxpayers should not blame the "city fathers" for this additional expense.

BEWARE OF DEBT
Even though municipal interest rates are still low, most cities have too much debt; moreover, the personal debts of our citizens, through installment purchases and otherwise, have increased to the stupendous sum of $25,000,000,000. Corruption, politics, and inefficiency have crept into many municipal governments, from which too many voters are secretly profiting. The real solution of our local tax problems is honest and efficient management with wise growth and assessment.

The moral effect on voters of getting unearned subsidies, unearned wages, unearned housing, and other unearned "benefits" through unjustified legislation or labor-leader monopolies, is bad. These dangerous practices are basically the reason for increased costs and increased taxes. This same spiritual decadence is also the basic reason for the fall of the stock market average from 293 in January to about 270 today—some 20 or more points. This is very significant.

ONE OF THE BEST WAYS of keeping cool was found by this father and son who grabbed the opportunity the other day to go for a dip in one of the Plymouth area lakes. Ernest Jones, and his son Bobby, of Garden City enjoyed themselves in the cooling water, while other local residents sweltered in last weekend's heat.

Firemen Deliver Clothing To Flint Tornado Victims

Plymouth residents recently cleaned out their closets to the tune of a truckload of clothing for Flint's tornado victims. Fire Chief Robert McAllister and the Plymouth Fire department used a truck donated by the city to make pickups from their own homes and the homes of other interested persons.

Monday of last week the fire department delivered the truckload of clothes to the Flint Fire department. In acknowledgment, McAllister received the following letter from Calvin P. F. Johnson, chief of the Flint Fire division:

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank you personally, and ask you to relay to all of the citizens of your community and members of your department, our appreciation for their generosity and unselfishness in donating so many of their own personal belongings to assist the small community near us in their recent disaster.

"I have talked with Chief Robert Campbell of the Beecher District Fire department to which this large contribution was directed for distribution to those in need, and he assured me that the people in the disaster district are indeed grateful to each and every person that contributed."

Sent to Court On Theft Charge

A Plymouth youth was this week bound over to the circuit court after pleading guilty to the theft of car accessories and parts from three cars in the parking lot of the Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors.

Frank VanCleave, of 1083 Holbrook, was arrested Wednesday, July 15 by Plymouth police after his car containing the stolen goods was found parked near Marcus Iron & Metal, 215 Ann Arbor road. A companion, Raymond Couch, also a resident of the Plymouth area, is believed to have fled to his hometown of Dalton, Georgia when hearing that VanCleave was arrested.

Livonia police report that the pair took such things as fender skirts, a battery, wrenches, flashlight and wheel discs from the three cars early Wednesday morning. Couch was left off at his home by VanCleave and while the latter stopped his car near the Marcus plant, he saw a Plymouth police cruiser approaching and he fled over a fence. Plymouth police examined the car and found the back seat loaded with the stolen goods.

Meanwhile, VanCleave made his way to a friend's home and had the friend drive him back to his car, but upon seeing it being investigated by police, he returned home and was arrested later after police checked his address through the license.

In an investigation before Justice of the Peace Leo O. Nye of Livonia, VanCleave pleaded guilty and was bound over to the circuit court.

Firemen Stop Sign Fire

A neon sign in front of Beglinger Oldsmobile, 705 South Main street, was partially destroyed by fire Saturday.

The Plymouth fire department was called to the garage to extinguish the blaze which was confined to the sign. Chief Robert McAllister reported that a short in the electrical wiring caused the tubing to burn and melt.

Perennials have been the favorites with a great number of the gardeners interviewed. Annual fans, however, are found in Allen Bernash and his young gardening daughter Martha. Mrs. Bernash and Martha are pictured here beside a cart full of lovely pink petunias. The family resides at 125 South Harvey.

Most people choose perennials because they remove the necessity of replanting every year. But it is this same reason that Bernash prefers annuals—because he loves gardening so much he welcomes the opportunity of planting new flowers each year. Besides working in his own yard, Bernash devotes most of his spare time to the care of the garden of C. H. Bennett.

To name the many varieties of annuals in the Bernash garden would be almost impossible, for with his love for flowers he tries to include many varieties. There are shasta daisies, petunias and zinnias to just mention a few.

Though annuals have a place of honor, it must not be construed that they are the only plants in Bernash's garden. Roses also take an important part. In a rose garden he has varieties of hybrid tea roses, floribundas and penochios. On a rose trellis are beautiful American Beauties and Lady Perkins.

Bernash puts peat moss on the roses, and also sprays them after every rain. The beautiful rose garden at Bennett's and his own lovely roses are proof that Bernash's way to care for them is a good one.

This, incidentally, is the first year that the Bernashes have had roses. They recently purchased a half-lot next door to their property on which they grow them. The annuals, with a few perennials to fill out, give the Bernash family a lovely yard all summer.

Often you have heard that there are no native Californians or New Yorkers, but that all the inhabitants are born somewhere else. A similar situation exists here in Plymouth.

Because of the inadequate hospital facilities here, the majority of Plymouth people go to out-of-town hospitals for the birth of their children, and when they are ill.

The birth rate for the city would seem to make Plymouth one of the lowest in ranking, compared to its size. Exactly 11 births have occurred within the city limits since January 1, according to the city manager's records.

True statistics on births to local residents are impossible to obtain because they occur in various neighboring hospitals. The birth records are recorded where the children are born, not where the families live.

The situation is much the same with the death rate. Most of the deaths occur outside of Plymouth in other hospitals.

Only 11 deaths are recorded as having occurred in Plymouth since January 1.

Local funeral directors believe that this low death rate is not representative. They think their business is about average for the size of the city.

The national average of deaths is figured at about 10 per 1,000 population. Since the population of Plymouth in 1950 was recorded at 6,650, the number of deaths should be upwards of 66.

In the first six months of this year one funeral home alone has handled more than 60 cases from Plymouth and the surrounding area. They estimate that by the end of the year they will handle 150 deaths.

When this is added to the cases handled by competing funeral homes and outside businesses, a far different picture appears.

Because of this peculiar situation, it is a rare person indeed who can claim that he was born, as well as bred, in Plymouth.

Groschkes Attend Conference of Music Merchants

Evelyn and Carl Groschke of 1051 North Mill street have just returned from a visit to the National Association of Music Merchants at Chicago's Palmer House.

They believe their visit was a most valuable experience which they hope to pass on to their customers in the Plymouth Music Center. They believe the fresh ideas which they acquired will be of benefit to both teachers and students of music.

Several days were spent in the Repair Clinic, studying new and detailed methods of repairing all types of musical instruments.

Postal System Is July Born-Bred

Because of the significant contributions made during July to the postal system, it could very well be called Postal Month.

In 1775, exactly 178 years ago, on July 26 the United States Postal System was established. Seventy years later, July 14, 1845, the first affixable United States postage stamp made its debut. Its "father" was a New York postmaster.

On July 7, 1929 air mail service from New York to California was first established.

Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.—II Cor. 3:17.

Victims of Heat Should Receive Quick Treatment

With the high temperatures now prevalent, the following summer health rules should be kept in mind.

The summer plagues of sunstroke and heat exhaustion are not to be trifled with. Dr DeWitt Hunt, a safety specialist of Oklahoma A and M college, says that both are serious and both call for quick diagnosis and treatment.

Reduction of temperature is the first step in emergency treatment of sunstroke. The patient should lie down with his head elevated. Cold cloths and ice packs should be applied to the head, first, then the victim should be cooled by wrapping him in a sheet and pouring cold water over him.

Also important is the rubbing of the limbs toward the heart. Treatment should be continued enroute if the patient is taken to a hospital.

A sunstroke victim can be recognized by the following symptoms: a very red face, hot and dry to the touch, with no evidence of sweating; a rapid and strong pulse; and a high temperature. The victim usually loses consciousness.

In contrast, a person suffering from heat exhaustion is pale of face. Profuse sweating occurs and the skin is moist and cool. The pulse is weak and the temperature is subnormal. The victim usually becomes faint, suffers from nausea and vomiting, but seldom loses consciousness.

Immediate treatment for shock should be given to the heat exhaustion victim. He should be removed to fresh air and lie down with his head lower than his feet. Aromatic spirits of ammonia may be given as a stimulant.

The body should be kept warm, using external heat if necessary. The patient should be given salt as soon as possible. As much as a teaspoonful of salt in a pint of water should be given.

As general precautions against heat illness, avoid over-eating and immoderate use of alcoholic beverages. Light clothing should be worn, and the head should be covered when exposed to the sun. Dr. Hunt reminds citizens that plenty of rest should be obtained.

Years ago the "full dinner pail" was a popular slogan in this country, but the present generation seems to favor the "full gas tank."

Heat wave coming? Muggy, sticky weather predicted? Sleep cool and live cool with a Fedders Room Air Conditioner. Fedders exclusive Built-In Weather Bureau makes you your own weatherman. Lift the top of this sleek, handsome unit, and select the weather you want! Just push a button!

Fedders Twin Filters Catch More Dirt! Over 600,000 people enjoy Fedders weather!

You get much more than cool, fresh air from the 1953 Fedders Room Air Conditioner! Exclusive double-size twin filters catch harmful, irritating dust, soot and pollens before they reach your lungs.

reach your lungs. You will realize the importance of this Fedders feature when you look at the pictures above. They show you the difference between the lungs of a farmer, who breathes relatively clean air and a city dweller, who breathes air filled with millions of particles of dirt and acids.

How to get your full money's worth of cooling and filtering power!

When you buy a room air conditioner, you're paying for cooling power. It's measured in tons. A 1-ton capacity unit is supposed to deliver enough cool air to freeze 1 ton of water in a 24-hour period. A ½-ton capacity unit would freeze ½ ton of water... and so on. Be sure you get full cooling power!

When you buy, follow the example of so many tough, wary buyers for hotels and motels who know how to get their full money's worth. These buyers often find that a Fedders ½-ton capacity unit out-performs a competitive 1-ton unit... that a Fedders ½-ton capacity unit often will deliver more cooling than other ½-ton models!

Fedders units on Easy Terms from $29.95. Available in Breeze Green or Ivory. Keep cool with Fedders for $3 a week!

You can have a Fedders Room Air Conditioner for as little as $3 a week! Installation is fast, simple. Fits in window without muss or fuss! Don't wait. Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Prepackaged Meats Save Many Minutes

Menu minute-savers take on a new importance when women hold full-time jobs outside the home. And a recent Department of Labor bulletin reports that half the working women in the United States are married. Other homemakers are demanding free time for gardening, community activities, or just playing with the children.

A new industry may have the answer to this time and work saving problem. It's prepackaging of perishables, a simple idea that pays off in fresher products and more leisure hours for homemakers.

Mrs. Consumer herself first gave the nod to prepackaged perishables.

Reasons for preferring prepackaged products vary from "convenience" (they praise the heavenly freedom of clean, trimmed products); to "cost" (they like to pay for what is actually used!); to "quality" (they believe prepackaging puts the responsibility for high quality merchandise more directly on the merchant.)

Here's one example of what the prepackaging revolution has accomplished:

When Grandma was a girl, chicken every Sunday was a full-time job. The flapping, cackling chicken, bought "on the hoof," had to be beheaded, defeathered, singed, eviscerated, and finally cut into frying-pan-size pieces.

By the time Mama was a bride, chickens were being sold "New York" style—feather-cleaned but not dressed. Homemakers still found that quality and freshness of chicken prepared this way left something to be desired.

The poultry industry rose to the challenge.

Today's homemaker, as a result, can buy prepackaged, pan-ready chicken of uniform quality, protected by semi-moisture-proof wrapping material. Shopping time has been cut in half; cleaning time eliminated.

Do they really like it? The answer is a rousing "yes!" Poultry sales of one company have risen approximately 350 per cent during the past five years.

Latest to feel the effect of prepackaging has been the produce department—fresh fruits and vegetables. Carrots are an example of how homemakers benefit from prepackaging of produce.

Until recently, carrots could be bought only by the bunch. Bulky tops drew moisture and food value from the carrots. But the customers' votes today are going to carrots packaged in pillofin bags, with tops removed. Prices are about the same, but homemakers find they have a better, fresher product, more easily stored.

In another field, self-service prepackaged meats, once a novelty, are now standard in modern food markets. But homemakers sometimes overlook one of the most "time-saving" features of prepackaged meats. Prepackaged fresh meat and poultry need not be unwrapped when it is put into the refrigerator. As a matter of fact, cellophane-wrapped meats will not dry out as quickly as they will if the wrapping is removed.

However, if meat is to be kept in the home freezer for several months, it should always be overwrapped with moisture-vapor-proof paper.

Fresh meats may be kept wrapped in the refrigerator for about three days before cooking. Ground beef and variety meats such as liver and heart should be used within 24 hours or frozen if kept longer.

Banana Grape Shakes Make Simple Drink

When folks are weary and wilted from the heat, the first thing they want is a cool drink. If the drink is something a little different, so much the better. There is nothing more diverting on a torrid day than originality in food and drink. Such originality is easy for the one who prepares hot weather refreshment when she has the recipe for banana fruit shakes.

Banana fruit shakes can be made with a variety of fruit juices, but our favorite is banana grape shake. It looks cool. It is refreshing with its original combination of a tropical and a northern fruit. And it's so easy to make. To achieve the delicious, fresh banana flavor, you just mash a fully ripe banana, flecked with brown, until it is creamy and blend it with the fruit juice. Top it off with a cluster of frosted grapes for garnish. Add ice cream if you want, to make the drink heartier and colder. Don't miss this delicious new summer beverage so easy to make at home.

Banana Grape Shake
1 fully ripe banana*
1 cup (8 ounces) cold grape juice

*Use fully ripe banana... peel well-flecked with brown.

Peel banana. Slice into a bowl and beat with a rotary egg beater or electric mixer until smooth and creamy. Add grape juice and mix well. Decorate rim of glass with a small cluster of frosted grapes, if desired. Serve immediately. Makes 1 large or 2 medium-sized drinks.

Important: For a colder drink, add about 2 tablespoons of crushed ice, and ice cream if desired, before mixing fruit shake.

To frost grapes, dip into beaten egg white, then roll in granulated sugar. Chill until dry.

It is better for a girl to have a fortune than a titled husband, because if she has one she can get the other with it if she insists on it.

Tastes As Good As It Looks

It's like looking through Alice in Wonderland's rose-colored glasses to see the fresh pears in this Raspberry Pear Mold—all thanks to raspberry-flavored gelatin. Entirely apart from the Alice in Wonderland touch, you will appreciate the make-it-ahead, all-in-one dish features that fruit-flavored gelatin gives this refreshing, economical dessert. And with fresh pears in season, the wise homemaker makes use of them in all their juicy, flavorful glory, in as many ways as possible.

Raspberry Pear Mold
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1/2 cup hot water
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 1/2 cups ginger ale
1 cup diced fresh pears

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add lemon juice and ginger ale gradually. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pears. Turn into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with green grapes, peas and green leaves, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For larger mold, double all ingredients.

Give Hints on Improvising Ice Chest for Your Picnic Foods

Picnics are everybody's fun. Foods cooking over the out-of-doors grill—the sizzling meat and fragrance of coffee brewing—become ambrosia for all. This year, July again is picnic month. Millions of Americans will pack their baskets and go to woods and groves, to parks and beaches, or will make their own backyards their favorite picnic spots.

Many motorists pack meals for eating at wayside picnic sites, many of which now provide fireplaces for out-of-doors cooking.

The continuing trend toward cooking over grills in home yards and gardens takes the wife from the kitchen range and offers the husband the star culinary role and lots of fun.

Motorists' meals and the all-day family picnic call for either cold salads, sandwiches, slaws, and ready-to-eat desserts, or the to-be-cooked items.

Portable ice boxes in which perishables may be carried to the outing site are now available or the ingenious homemaker can improvise one. In a large preserving kettle, place a fruit jar filled with ice. Arrange the perishable items around the jar; the meat to be grilled, the spreads for sandwiches in separate containers, and the salad items such as lettuce, tomatoes, or celery. Replace kettle lid, and pack in a corrugated box, crushing newspaper around kettle as insulation.

The increasing number of backyard grills and garden fireplaces is making entertaining

Fast and Easy Broiler Meals Top the List

Quick broiler meals are the homemaker's find during these summer days. You can prepare practically all of the main course of your dinner at one time. Simply place the meat on the broiler rack, cooked or canned dinner vegetables in the broiler pan immediately below the meat. With such a combination you need only add a salad, dessert and beverage to complete your meal.

The list of broiler meats is impressive—steak, lamb loin, rib and shoulder chops, ground beef patties, lamb patties, ham slices, Canadian-style bacon and bacon. In fact, all tender meats, with the exception of fresh pork and veal cuts may be broiled.

Here is one broiler combination that is easy to prepare. In the broiler pan place cooked green lima beans and whole kernel corn. On the rack over the vegetables arrange slices of Canadian-style bacon and pineapple rings.

With a slice of ham you might have cooked french green beans and small new potatoes. Let peach halves or apricot halves serve as the garnish, broiling them along with the meat.

Prepare ground beef patties in combination with tomato halves, peas and carrots. Broil lamb patties along with pineapple rings, green beans and small onions.

"Eye-Openers" Needed for Summer Morn

Take a critical look at your breakfasts. Are they as tempting and appealing as they might be? During these summer days it's highly important to have "eye-opener" breakfasts.

Bacon with berry muffins is one choice. Serve several strips of crisp bacon along with blueberry muffins. Have all the ingredients for your muffins, with the exception of egg and liquid, combined in advance. Add these in the morning and bake. Prepared in this manner, the muffins need not be reserved for a week-end breakfast.

To add a new touch to your early morning meal you might have grilled ham with fruit. Place peach or apricot halves, dotted with butter or margarine, on the broiler rack with the meat. Or if you like, have ham slices cut thinner and prepare by pan-broiling.

Another breakfast treat is chipped beef and scrambled eggs. Start your meal with melon quarters or with assorted fresh fruits. Serve the scrambled eggs and chipped beef with sweet rolls or toasted English muffins and coffee.

simpler both for the planned-in-advance meals and for the spur-of-the-moment "come over for dinner" invitation.

For the homemaker with a freezer, many of these picnic meals always can be ready. A quantity of sandwiches can be made at one time, and stored for future use. Many kinds of sandwiches can be frozen successfully for two weeks.

Sandwiches are the traditional picnic food. Prepare, pack and serve them carefully to protect their flavor, taste and freshness. July with its stress on picnics will give opportunities to enjoy outdoor meal in dozens of ways. Each to his own.

Pick your picnic, pack your foods, and be on your way!

Survey Shows Next Six Months To Be Favorable Time For Home Buyer

Recent market reports indicate that the next six months will provide a favorable time to buy a home, the National Association of Real Estate Boards said today in commenting on its 55th survey of the real estate market.

Predominant reports from real estate boards participating in the survey predict that with steady production costs, the price of new homes will remain stable during the second half of 1953.

Shortage factors have been generally eliminated from the market through private industry's giant production record of more than seven million new homes since the end of World War II. This is not only bringing stability in costs for newly constructed homes, but it is squeezing out inflationary prices for existing homes. Unrealistic high prices for existing homes have been disappearing during the last six months, according to market reports, NAREB said. Brokers uniformly report that owners must price these properties attractively for satisfactory movement in the market, and this situation will make the next six months an excellent time for home buying.

Two-thirds of the 264 responding boards report a stable price situation for new houses over the last six months and predict its continuation during the second half of the year.

Eighteen per cent of the boards expect some price increases, this prediction occurring with the greatest frequency in the Pacific, Middle Atlantic, and East North Central states. Seventy per cent of the real estate boards expect the present level of new single-family home production to continue or to go higher during the remainder of 1953.

Shortage of mortgage money in the early part of 1953 slowed the volume of transfers of existing homes in more than one-half of the communities reported on. This factor in the market, coupled with the sustained peak volume of new home production, led to a softening of high, shortage-era prices for existing homes in two-thirds of the communities, bringing about a favorable situation for families who buy homes in the second half of 1953.

Outlook for production of new rental housing in the latter half of 1953 is for a lower volume than was produced in the first half of the year in 52 per cent of the communities represented in the survey. Forty per cent of the boards think that current levels of production in this housing category will be maintained during the second half of the year, and 8 per cent expect the production volume to rise.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-271

DESIGN B-271. This plan combines the living and dining rooms into the shape of an ell, running through the house with windows front and rear. The garage is attached to the house and shelters the porch from the street. There is a full basement, two bedrooms, bathroom and large kitchen. The kitchen features an efficient cabinet arrangement and room enough for a dining table with space to walk around it. A linen closet is in the hall, coat closet in front vestibule, coat and supply closets in entry and wardrobes in the bedrooms. Exterior finish consists of wide siding, stone facing in front, asphalt shingles, planting area and projecting bay in living room. Floor area is 1,140 sq. ft. and 21,547 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN B-271, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

SLIDING DOORS FOR CLOSETS are becoming more and more popular in the modern home today. The principle reason, of course, is the space-saving feature as well as the ease of opening and closing. Above is shown a closet in a Plymouth home built by Stewart Oldford. Sliding doors are also being used in kitchens and other interior doorways.

Modern Family—4.2 Persons— Demands Two Baths, Survey Shows

The great national pastime these days is working around the home. What needs doing? Home Modernizing magazine recently conducted a survey among its readers, and came up with some statistics well calculated to keep the nation's 25 million homeowners busy. Here are some highlights of the study:

The average household is 4.3 persons . . .

Better lighting is needed in three-fifths of the homes . . .

In one-fifth of the homes the roof needs work—or replacement . . .

Families now want two bathrooms in their houses.

Explain A Few Ways To Cut High Costs Of A New Home

A small budget need not deprive the family of a new house.

Everyone wants a home as rich in "extras" as possible, but when good, sound housing is required with limited funds, there are ways to cut costs and still have a handsome, well-built house. Here are some of them:

1. Plan the home carefully at the blueprint stage in order to avoid costly changes once the building is under construction.
2. Use as many stock sizes in material as possible to eliminate expensive custom work. Some of the items which come in stock sizes are windows, durable clay tile for bathrooms and kitchens, lumber, plumbing, doors, brick, chimneys and storage walls.
3. The simple rectangle is the least expensive house design.

The more angles there are, the more costly the foundation is likely to be and the more materials required for the house itself.

4. Large sums in paint and labor can be saved if color is introduced through permanently tinted materials like clay tile, especially in the kitchen and bathroom. This same tile insures constant fireproofing.

5. Most builders agree that the basementless house is less expensive than one with a half or full cellar.

6. A house with few partitions costs less to build and provides more living space for the family.

7. Good design calls for dual use of plumbing lines, such as having the kitchen and bathroom facilities back to back.

8. Careful planning of the heating system provides both fuel savings and the cost of extra ducts. A simple duct layout costs least.

Attic Is Often The Answer To Home Space Problems

Unfinished attics are the answer to space problems in millions of older homes, according to Home Modernizing magazine. Transforming waste attic space into useful rooms is a job that the homeowner can do largely by himself.

Here are suggestions: Leave plumbing, wiring and heating changes to experts. Insulate, if that has not already been done, to cut down on heating difficulties. Consider what function the "new" space is to take over. The attic is a natural for added bedrooms, but it can just as well be a play area or den, a hobby room or studio, a bedroom-playroom for the children, even a complete apartment.

Make sure the area has adequate windows. Put them in end walls or install dormers.

Dead attic space (above) is brought to life (below). Finishing an attic can be done by the homeowner himself.

Doyle to Head Junior Achievement with Vollbrecht Chairman of Board

A Ford Motor company executive today became president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, succeeding retiring President John Haien.

J. A.'s 34 man Board of Directors voted J. C. "Larry" Doyle sales and advertising manager of Ford to the presidency by a unanimous vote during the annual board meeting at the Park Shelton hotel.

The vote followed shortly after Haien, a Chrysler corporation executive, issued a statement announcing his retirement from the presidency of J. A., a post to which he has been re-elected annually for the past four years.

Another change in the offices of the Board elevated F. A. Vollbrecht, president of the Industrial Wire Cloth Products corporation, from the vice presidency to chairman of the board, a newly created position. Vollbrecht is a resident of Plymouth.

Accepting the presidency, Doyle headed Junior Achievement as "the urban counterpart of 4-H, practical training ground for the future industrial leaders of America."

"What all of the firms interested in Junior Achievement want, is to help these young men and women see and find the opportunity that is waiting for them in business and industry. Too many people believe that opportunity is a thing of the past—the truth is, as these boys and girls in J. A. find out, there is even more opportunity in today's America than ever before. Only you have to work for it." Tribute was paid to Haien by John S. Coleman, president of Burroughs corporation and chairman of the advisory council of J. A.

Haien was lauded as "the guiding hand" of Junior Achievement for his work in establishing J. A. firmly in the Detroit area, "recruiting sponsors, gaining Junior Achievement financial support, helping to build it into a potent force among the youth in Southeastern Michigan."

Haien delivered the president's yearly report on J. A. to the board. Citing the tremendous growth made in the past four years, (J. A. ended last May's activities with 123 companies operated by 1,800 teen-agers), Haien predicted a new record growth of the organization and pointed to it as a "valuable training ground for young people to learn about business by actually engaging in business and thus becoming better equipped to go out into life."

Sense Can Lessen the 2,864 Drownings Predicted This Summer

Common sense is something that you should always take with you when you go boating. This is made more emphatic when you hear that a minimum of 2,864 drownings from boat accidents will be reported before September 1.

The warning was brought even closer to home recently when a Livonia youth met death in a boat accident. About 80 per cent of all drownings are brought about by boat accidents.

In order to make this a safe and sane summer a little common sense should be used when you are out in a boat. The Institute of Safer Living, who studied boating mishaps, found that one or more principles of common sense had been violated by the

- 1) If the boat belongs to you make sure it is kept watertight and in safe condition. Don't use one that isn't in safe condition.
- 2) Know how to handle your boat safely under all conditions. And be prepared for the unexpected.
- 3) Always take along life preservers—even in row-boats. Do not swim or dive from boats.
- 4) Learn the facts about unfamiliar waters such as depth, obstructions, current or tide conditions, and prevailing wind direction. Don't go far from shore in unfamiliar waters such as depth, obstructions, current or tide conditions, and prevailing wind direction. Don't go far from shore in unsettled weather. Heed all storm warnings, and remember that squalls often strike with little warning.
- 5) Be sure to respect the motor boats and larger craft that are operating in your vicinity. Learn the rules of "right of way" so you will know what is expected of you in water traffic. Cooperation may avoid a collision.
- 6) Don't stand up in rowboats or canoes.
- 7) Don't drink intoxicating beverages when out in the boat, particularly if you are the one responsible for the passengers' safety.
- 8) If you are landing a big one when fishing, don't become so intent you forget the safe-handling of the boat.
- 9) Small craft should not be overloaded. A good rule is not more than one person to a seat, with the gunwale of the small boat at least eight inches above the water. Canoes should be paddled from a kneeling position.
- 10) Getting panicky when the boat starts capsizing in deep water is bad business. Usually the boat will not sink, so hang onto it until help arrives. A capsized canoe can be overturned and hand-paddled to safety.
- 11) Should anyone fall overboard, don't try to get him back into the boat. Have him grasp the stern and tow him to safety.

Richard Huebler Attends Annual Speech Institute

Richard Huebler, 3945 Berry road, a student at the Plymouth High school, is attending the 5th annual Michigan State college Speech Institute for high school students at East Lansing.

The program is divided into three groups: forensics, debate, and dramatics. Public speaking, voice and diction, and general speech instruction are included in all three groups though the bulk of the work is concentrated on a specific phase.

The entire section attends a three and one-half hour practice session in the morning, and splits into respective groups for further practice in the afternoon.

In addition to the regular instruction received at the institute, a recreation schedule has been planned for the students' free time. The four-week institute ends with a speech banquet on July 24.

Huebler is attending the forensics section of the institute.

At this writing it looks like 9 teams will be competing in the Inter-County baseball playoffs. There are 7 who are definitely in—Auto Club, River Rouge, Wayne, Northville, Teamsters, Food Fair and Farris Furniture. Grandale is almost certain to get in even though they lost Sunday as they have a makeup game against Walled Lake, a team that hasn't won a game this year. The ninth team will be either Plymouth or Wyandotte, or possibly both. Last Sunday Plymouth played Teamsters, and whether they lost or won, they will have to play Wyandotte in a rained out game if the latter lost to Auto Club, another club that has not tasted defeat this year. If Plymouth won Sunday from Teamsters they are definitely in the playoffs whether they lose to Wyandotte, but the latter has a chance to get in if they defeat Plymouth—making it 10 in the playoffs out of the 14 teams in the league. The reason so many teams are making the 500 percentage necessary this year is the fact that two teams have not won a game all year and have dropped a total of 22 contests. The playoffs begin this coming Sunday.

The big moment for the youngsters at the summer playgrounds will be around the first of August when the Kiddie Carnival takes place to provide funds for a trip to Bob-lo for the older children, and a trip to the Detroit Zoo for the younger tots. The summer playgrounds provide wholesome entertainment under excellent supervision for many of our youngsters. There is no reason why any child in this area can not have the program of swimming, playgrounds, and all sorts of hikes, games, handicraft work and trips provided by the Recreation Department. It is there if they want it.

You small fry fishermen and women better start practicing for that Fish Derby, which is annually sponsored by the Optimist club of Plymouth. It isn't for a few weeks yet, but the entries are now being taken in the office of Herbert Woolweaver at the high school.

This contest is unique in that it is for young boys and girls, and promotes fishing interest among the youngsters. Good sportsmanship and fishing techniques are taught. The boy and girl winners are presented with lovely prizes for the best catch. Tell your friends to enter now.

The Davis & Lent team in the Inter-city class E league is flying high in first place having won all their games, and what is more, they have won most of them by shut-outs. Dick Day, star southpaw hurler for the high school the past year, and Henry Bonga, who tossed for the reserves, form a formidable hurling corps. Some hefty hitting has enabled the team to overpower everything they have met. Some of these hitters who have starred at the plate are: John Agnew, Victor Pelchat, Jack Carter, Danny Clifford and Bob Middleton, the latter hit 500 for the championship high school team this year as a sophomore. Both Day and Middleton could have helped the Class D team in the Hearst District Tourney, but they elected to play in E ball as they are 16 or under. This above team should go quite a way this year.

I see where an all-star softball tourney is planned between four cities of this area. There are plenty of good softball players in and around Plymouth, and I'll wager the team from this community will come out on top, or give the winner a stiff battle. Some positions on that squad will be hard to pick as there has been some keen competition for hitting and fielding honors this summer, but I feel sure the managers and supervisors will do a good job and pick the players they think the best at each position.

Once in awhile you may find sports articles on various pages throughout the paper as last week when sports were on three different pages in two different sections. I have tried to keep all on one sports page, but at times when news is scarce as in summer, some has to be placed in advantageous spots in making up the paper. This may clear up some of the complaints that have come to my attention from last week that certain articles were not in the paper. They were!

$50,000 Michigan Mile Features Derby Winners

A record-smashing nomination list of 71 horses, including two former Kentucky Derby winners and many of the top-notch names among the nation's handicappers are expected to run in the $50,000 Michigan Mile to be run at the Detroit Race course this coming Saturday.

Never has a thoroughbred race in Michigan attracted so many crack horses, or so large a field. Even allowing for the normal shrinkage by scratches, the race appears certain to be run in two sections.

Calumet Farms Hill, Gail and J. J. Amie's Count Turf are the former Derby winners who have been put up for the race which has a purse twice as large as any offered in Michigan.

The conditions of the race make it for three-year-olds and upward at a distance of an even mile, with actual starters to be named tomorrow through the entry box. The nominating fee was $25, and starters will pay an additional $50. The purse will be worth approximately $35,000 to the winner.

High among the stars who paid the earlier nominating fee besides the two former Derby winners are: Tom Fool, Green-tree Stable's pride, who seems a good bet to become the nation's handicap champion of 1953; Crafty Admiral, Hall of Fame, Oil Capitol, Big Stretch, Royal Vale and Sparton Valor.

Three-year-olds, who must compete against older horses but who will receive a large compensation in the handicap weights, include such as Black Racer, Van Crosby, Money Broker, and Truly Fair II.

On the nominating roll is virtually every famous name in stables in the United States and the field is certain to bring to the Livonia track the cream of the nation's jockeys.

DTD Wins 4 to 3

Detroit Transmission eked out their second straight one-run decision as they edged LaFontaine 4 to 3 last week in the city league. The winners counted 3 runs in the first inning on a walk, a hit batsman, and two singles. In the fourth they scored the other run on a walk, an out and an error.

The losers scored once in the first on an error, two walks and a single, and twice in the fifth on a single, an error, and a two-base hit by Vaughn. Each team had 4 hits with Vaughn having two for the losers. Wellman was the losing hurler, with Cutsinger the winner.

Daisy Loses in F

The Daisy team in the Class F league dropped their second game of the season to Clarenceville last week when they dropped a 5 to 3 decision played on the home diamond.

Daisy collected a total of 4 hits, two by Thomas, and one each by Foreman and Norgrove. Carlton was the big gun for the winners with 3 of their 5 hits. Next Monday Livonia Center comes to Plymouth, and Daisy closes the season next Wednesday with a game between Rose-dale and the locals on the home diamond.

Business seldom expands by magic—it usually grows because somebody with brains is working.

Olds Team Still Remain Unbeaten

As of last weekend the Beglinger Olds team still leads the Men's City Softball league by a slender margin of one game over the Detroit Transmission outfit. Olds has not lost a contest yet this year, while DTD has only been beaten by Olds. The two met this past Monday night.

Tonight Evans meets LaFontaine at 6:15, DTD goes against Cavalcade at 7:30, and Olds plays Bathey at 8:45. Next Monday DTD meets W & B at 6:15, Olds plays LaFontaine at 7:30, and Bathey goes against Cavalcade at 8:45.

With the season more than three-fourths over, the standings are as follows:

	W	L
Beglinger Olds	11	0
Detroit Transmission	10	1
Cavalcade Inn	6	4
Whitman & Barnes	4	6
LaFontaine	4	7
Evans Products	2	9
Bathey Mfg. Co.	11	11

Olds Downs W & B

Olds turned back Whitman & Barnes last Thursday night 8 to 1 in a softball game by scoring 6 big runs in the second inning. Seven walks and two homeruns were responsible for all of the runs scored. In the big splurge in the second, four walks, a single and two homeruns by Wilkie and Egloff accounted for the scoring.

Maas hurled for Olds and allowed four hits, struck out six and walked three men. His opponent, Brindamore, allowed five hits, struck out one, and walked seven men.

The losers scored their lone run in the last inning on two walks and two singles.

DTD Nips Evans

Detroit Transmission continued its winning ways in the softball league by downing Evans 8 to 3 last week. The winners counted 6 of those runs in the first time at bat as six singles and an error enabled them to bat around.

The losers produced the longest hit of the game when Brophy propelled one out of the park for a homerun. Herber had a triple for the winners, and Jesky, Cutsinger and Baldwin two singles each. Paul had two hits for the losers.

Cutsinger was the winning hurler, struck out one and walked four in allowing six hits. Graczyk was the loser and allowed 11 hits in striking out three and walking one man.

Nine Teams Play In Inter-County League Playoffs

It is almost definite that there will be nine teams entered in the Inter-County League playoffs that begin this Sunday. Seven teams cinched a berth at the end of the regular season last Sunday, and two teams needing a win to make the 500 percentage necessary have to make up a rained out game—one makeup game is allowed each team if it is necessary to make the playoffs. Grandale has a 6 won and 7 lost record and will play Walled Lake, a team that has not won a contest all year, so it is fairly certain that Grandale will be in—the other team is Wyandotte with a 6 won and 7 lost record, and its rained out game was with Plymouth, who ended the regular season with a 6 won and 6 lost record. This game will surely knock either one out of the playoffs—the winner will get in. That game was supposed to have been played before today.

A meeting of the governing board met Monday night to determine the first round opponents for Sunday.

The results of last Sunday's play found Auto Club beating Wyandotte 4 to 2; Northville edging Grandale 3 to 1; Food Fair taking a close one from Bodker 5 to 4; Cubs winning their first game over Walled Lake 11 to 2; Wayne taking Farris 5 to 3; River Rouge trouncing Lions 20 to 4, and Teamsters beating Plymouth 6 to 3.

The final standings at the end of the regular season are as follows:

White Division
Northville	10	2
Teamsters	9	4
Food Fair	8	5
Farris	6	6
Plymouth	6	6
Grandale	6	7
Bodker	4	9
Walled Lake	0	13

Red Division
Auto Club	13	0
River Rouge	8	5
Wayne	8	5
Wyandotte	6	7
Lions	3	9
Cubs	1	10

LaFontaine Wins

LaFontaine handed Bathey their 11th straight loss last Thursday night as their star hurler, Wellman, tossed a one-hit ball game, that coming by Stout in the second inning to score the losers only run.

The winners counted two in the first, three more in the fifth and the last run in the seventh inning. They had only a total of four hits of Schwartz who seems to be getting tougher as the season gets along. One was a homerun by Kethum following two walks which accounted for the three runs in the fifth inning.

All-Star Softball Tourney Will be Held in August

The first annual All-Star Softball Tourney ever attempted in this area will take place during August with representatives from Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Wayne and Garden City. The tourney will be conducted on a two-game knockout affair on a home and home basis. First round drawings put Ypsilanti against Wayne, and Plymouth against Garden City. The second round will find the two winners playing each other and the two losers going against each other, and play will continue until a champion is determined.

The Plymouth All-Star aggregation will be picked from teams in the combined city league with the managers and supervisors each selecting a team—the players having the most votes will make up the team representing Plymouth—two pitchers and a manager will be carried by each team. Individual awards will be presented to the winners and runners-up.

This tourney will begin on August 24 and continue through August 27. This is after the state Class B tourney which ends on August 23.

It is hoped that this All-Star classic will become an annual affair each year for the better softball players of this area.

Daisy Rally Nips Contractors 8-7

The Daisy Old Timers rallied for two runs in the last inning to come from behind and hand Contractors an 8 to 7 defeat as the two local softball teams in the Plymouth-Livonia league faced each other.

Campbell laced a two-bagger off Curtis to score Wells from second with the winning run. Harold Williams had singled, Burk got a life on an error and Wells had singled to set up the winning run. Contractors had gone ahead in the top of the last inning on two runs as a result of a home run by B. Giles to score Curtis, who had singled, ahead of him.

The winners had 14 hits off Curtis, while the losers had 14 off Williams. Wells had a home-run, single and double to lead the attack with Williams having three singles. For the losers, Giles had a homerun, triple and single and Hayskar two doubles and a single.

Next Wednesday Daisy plays Wall Wire here, while the Contractors go over to Dutch Mill for a game.

Olds Wins Once More by Shutout

In the Men's City Softball league Beglinger Olds took another close game from Cavalcade by a 3 to 0 count last week to remain undefeated for the season. Olds scored once in the third inning as Don Huebler led off with a double, was sacrificed to third by Wilkie from where he scored on an outfield fly by Schultz. They counted twice more in the sixth inning when Schultz opened with a triple and came home on a homerun by Don Likeweds. The only other two hits made by the winners were singles by Egloff and Hunt in the first inning after two were out.

Cavalcade had four hits scattered in four different innings. They were made by Dave Travis, Finnegan, Thibadeau and Asher. Gabby Street chucked for Olds and struck out only two men and walked one. Thibadeau, the losing pitcher, struck out five and walked none.

It stands to reason... Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Big truck users, small truck users, all truck users buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. It stands to reason Chevrolet trucks must offer more of what you want.

When you stop to think about it, the best proof of outstanding value in any product is continued public preference. That's the way it is with Chevrolet trucks. They're the top selling trucks in America today... for the twelfth straight production year.

This is a mighty important fact to consider before you buy your next truck. You'll also want to consider that, while Chevrolet trucks give you more features you want, it's the lowest-priced truck line of all! Come in and talk it over with us.

This Week — HERB TREADWELL

It will be 10 years next January 10 since Herb Treadwell began working as a shoe repairman at Willoughby Brothers at 322 South Main.

Treadwell's job consists of the repairing, rebuilding, and dyeing of shoes, as well as correction of shoes and similar orthopedic work. He keeps the shoes of Willoughby customers well repaired and well fit.

Although born in Kalamazoo, Mr. Treadwell spent most of his life in Lansing. He worked his way through high school by holding a part-time job in a shoe repair shop. It is here that he began to acquire the skill he now possesses. He later attended the Acme Business school in Lansing where he took up business English and bookkeeping. Then came World War I, and Mr. Treadwell was drafted into the Army. He served his country for the next 14 years.

1931 to 1944 Mr. Treadwell spent with the State Highway department doing road construction work.

"In 1944 I saw a good opportunity of going into business for myself, so I moved to Plymouth," Mr. Treadwell explained. He was soon employed at Willoughby and has worked there ever since.

Mr. Treadwell resides at 679 Adams street. Four of his children, two boys and two girls, are married, and the youngest one, Norman, has recently left for Korea. Also 11 grandchildren are Mr. Treadwell's pride.

Among Mr. Treadwell's hobbies are bowling and golfing. He bowls with the Treadwell Shoe Repair League and the Veterans of Foreign Wars League. Fishing is an occasional pastime, and travelling usually consists of visits to Lansing where his grandchildren live.

Frank Toncray, who has pitched ball for the Plymouth team for the past three years, has accepted the same position on the Midland ball team, and leaves for that place today.

Mrs. C. H. Bennett gave a very enjoyable party Tuesday evening in honor of the Misses Edna Bennett and Ethel Day, of Toledo, some 30 guests being present. Military pedro furnished the amusement of the evening and the rooms and spacious porch of the house were handsomely decorated with flags, Chinese lanterns and flowers.

Harry C. Bennett and Jerry Houston, the deputies who have been in charge of the special jury sworn to try the Detroit & Toledo shore line condemnation proceedings for the past four months, were taken by surprise when the jury, just before being discharged, last Friday, called them into the jury room and presented them respectively with a handsome silver-tipped umbrella and a gold mounted deputy Sheriff's badge. The presentation was made by Jurymen Dakin.

Quite an excitement was caused last Wednesday morning by a mad dog going through this vicinity and biting several dogs.

Dolph Osborn arrived in Milford Thursday evening after his visit to Cuba. He landed at Havana and from there took various trips in different directions within a radius of 60 or 70 miles. He was not at all favorably impressed with that sort of island as a place of investment or residence for the average American.

It appears that the oleomargarine manufacturers are circumventing the law which was intended to prevent the oleo from being colored to resemble butter. The Michigan Supreme Court on Tuesday rendered a decision which will permit the use of crude cottonseed oil in making the oleo and this oil will give it the yellow color. The oleo men claim that the oil is used as a chief and necessary component of the oleo and if it makes the oleo yellow that is only an incident. The court holds the same opinion.

Mrs. Albert Porter, of Los Angeles, California, is visiting at the home of her brother, Louis Chambers, on Ball street. This is the first meeting of brother and sister in 20 years and quite naturally the occasion is a very happy one.

William Glympse, who is employed at the C. J. Hamilton & Son plant, had the misfortune Monday afternoon to have both of his hands caught in a press that he was operating, which necessitated amputation of one finger on the left hand and two on the right hand at the first joint. Dr. A. E. Patterson rendered the necessary surgical attention.

Dr. H. B. Brisbois has moved his office from the Conner building to a suite of offices on the second floor of the Woodworth building at 272 Main street. The doctor has a suite of very conveniently arranged offices in his new location.

J. H. Patterson & Son, general building contractors, have been awarded the contract to build a $70,000 office building for the Detroit Edison company of Northville.

John Philip Sousa and his band of 100 musicians and soloists will offer one of the most comprehensive musical programs in the history of the "March King's" musical tours, during the Michigan State Fair in Detroit during September 2 through September 8.

Mrs. Frank Westfall and son, Glenn Matevia, have returned from a western trip. They visited relatives at Waterloo and Nashua, Iowa, and also visited the Little Brown Church in the Vale and General Grant's old home. At Elgin and Chicago they took in all the points of interest. They stopped at St. Joseph and visited friends, saw the House of David at Benton Harbor and berries ever seen.

Poultry fan beware! An expert has gone back into the business—one of the kind of experts who knows how to step out and win top prizes in the poultry world. Yes indeed! Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke, busy wife of the pastor of the Lutheran church, who finds time to rear five energetic children, work eight busy hours as a nurse at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant and carry on the responsibilities of a popular minister's wife, has decided to devote the few extra minutes she has to raising a flock of a hundred or more white Jersey Giants to help relieve the nation's food shortage.

To step from civilian life into the great military organization of the country and in less than two years win promotion after promotion, reaching the rank of a major before becoming 25 years of age, is a most unusual thing. But nevertheless it has been accomplished by Norman Kincaide, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Kincaide of Plymouth road.

Corporal Alfred Cutler is now studying languages, majoring in Portuguese, at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia for the Army.

Attorney and Mrs. N. F. Perlongo have moved to the residence at 351 Maple street. They were former residents of Detroit. Attorney Perlongo is a member of the law firm of Dunbar Davis and Perlongo. Mrs. Perlongo is at present employed in the ordinance division of the war department in Detroit.

Richard Strong who is studying the meteorology course for the Army Air Corps at the University of Michigan, spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strong.

Mary Wilson is a Navy mother of which to be proud. In the past year she has donated her quota of six pints of blood for the boys in service. Last Monday at the Plymouth blood bank she started a new year, which makes seven times she has served her country in this way. She is also a diligent worker in the Red Cross.

Assessors Admit Kenneth E. Way To Association

Kenneth E. Way, City Assessor of Plymouth, has been admitted as a regular member to the National Association of Assessing Officers.

The National Association of Assessing Officers is a professional society of the United States and Canada. At the present time, it has nearly 2,000 members.

The principal objectives of the association are to improve the standards of assessment practice; to cooperate with public and private agencies in the improvement of tax administration; and to promote justice and equity in the distribution of the tax burden.

Some Plants Take Siestas During Midsummer Heat

Peonies and Iris have midsummer-dormancy period.

Many garden plants, like gardeners, like to take a vacation in midsummer. They will slow down growth and enjoy a siesta during the hot days, which normally are also dry.

For spring blooming perennials, such as peonies, iris, oriental poppies, this will be a period of dormancy during which they may be divided and transplanted to new locations, where they can have a long period of growth before winter to become established.

Delphiniums should be cut back to encourage fall flowering. As each spike finishes blooming, cut it off just above the foliage. Let the leaves grow until new growth appears at the base of the plant, then cut all early stems down to the ground. Stimulate growth by a dose of plant food, either stirred into the soil, or dissolved in water and poured on, using a tablespoonful for each plant.

Iris should be thinned out in the border during this rest period. The iris rhizomes which lie on the soil surface with roots extending into the ground, tend to grow in a circle with the oldest portion in the center. This can be pulled up and discarded without disturbing the newer growth around it.

Peonies do not need dividing, and should not be moved unless for a compelling reason. Oriental poppies have long tap roots and in midsummer their leaves disappear. If you wish to divide a plant, dig up the root and cut it into sections two or three inches in length each of which may be planted in a new location. Plants should remain undisturbed to develop their full beauty and should not be divided except to increase them.

Roses do not rest so completely, but they bear few blossoms and nothing should be done to force blooms, but encourage a good crop of healthy foliage, which will usually insure an excellent crop of flowers during the autumn. Water regularly and do not prune but spray whenever damp weather threatens an attack of black spot fungus.

Annuals are rarely affected by the prevalent laziness. So long as they are watered adequately they keep working at their job of producing seeds for next year's generation. You can delay this accomplishment by picking off faded flowers and cutting back aging stems and the plants will keep growing and flowering. The display of annual flowers reaches its peak in mid August, though many varieties improve in size and color brilliance in the cool fall weather.

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

James Davis
Private James L. Davis is now undergoing basic training at Camp Atterbury, Indiana with the 31st Infantry "Dixie" Division.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Davis, 5915 Lilley road, Plymouth.

He has been in the Army since June 16. Before entering the service he was employed by Wall Wire Products. He attended Woodland Mills High school.

His training unit is 200th Infantry, 31st Infantry Division.

Howard Ross
Pfc. Howard D. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Ross, 29070 Sunnydale, Livonia, is returning to the United States after serving in Korea with the 2d Infantry Division.

Ross, who joined the 2d in June 1952, was a rifleman in Company C of the 23d Regiment. He has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge and the UN and Korean Service Ribbons.

Private First Class Ross entered the Army in October 1951 and received basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The 2d Infantry Division is most noted for the capture of "Heartbreak Ridge" in October 1951 and for dislodging the Reds from "Old Baldy" last summer.

U. S. aid to Italy has been considerable since the 1948 elections; therefore the results of the 1953 elections, in which the Communists gained, are frustrating.

Chips from the ROCK

'Thar's B'ars in them woods!' At least four Plymouthites can swear to the truth of that statement. The Austin Watermans and the Charles Steinhebel, enjoying a fruitful fishing trip in the upper peninsula, had placed their boat back on the top of the Steinhebel car after a week's outing and gone to bed for an early start home the next morning. When they awoke they found a huge bear had attempted to scratch the boat off from its holder. He was attracted by the apparent fish smell it had. Damage to the car's paint job was terrific.

Margaret Hough, just back from a European cruise said one of the most beautiful sights she enjoyed on the entire trip was the Garden of Versailles, resplendent with colored lights at night. The people she thought most friendly, and most like the Americans in their thinking and habits were the Dutch.

From the rumor mill comes the news that National Bank officials now have plans underway for tearing down the former Davis and Lent building on Penniman avenue. This would be in conjunction with the remodeling of the old Plymouth United building which will have a second story added for bookkeeping purposes, vaults in the basement, an entrance on the central parking lot and tellers in the basement to care for customers needs on that floor.

Perry Richwine, doing a little statistical work on his own time, came up with the following information. Of his graduating class at Plymouth High school in 1923, 30 years ago, all members of the class are still living. There were 43 members of the class, and according to insurance statistical records, five should not be living. However, they are all hale and hearty. Some of the better known Plymouthites who were in the class were Donald Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, Martin Strassen, Doniel Patterson, Olivias Williams, Max Trucks, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Clifford Tait.

Plymouth Mail printer John Nelson, after 23 years here, last week purchased the Sunfield News at Sunfield, Michigan, and Monday of this week became a publisher in his own right.

Detroit Attorney Arthur Whipple, a former Plymouth High grad and relative of most of the Whipples in this area, reminisced the other night, while dining at Hillside, that when he was in school at Stark Station in 1904 Livonia had a population of 603 people. Now after 49 years the city boasts 37,000 inhabitants.

A new twist on summer storage of furs came to light when it was learned that for many years Mrs. Harold Brisbois had merely wrapped her furs in cellophane paper and placed them gently in the deep freeze.

A Detroit cab driver was laughing to the writer Thursday about his previous fare. It was a colored gentleman who asked to be driven to the welfare office on Jefferson. He asked the cabbie to wait and then drive him home out on Russell street. Total cab fare $2.70 and a most disgusted passenger because he didn't get his welfare check.

Not a Consideration

Prices are important, and must be considered carefully by the great majority. Price may or may not be an important consideration to any particular family we may serve, but regardless of this, EVERY family can select a service at a price suiting their needs and desires. The reason for this is that our services are available in every price range, from the very modest to the most impressive.

World's Best To Be Yours

THE ENVIOUS ANGLER

"Is it safe to eat?" That's a question Michigan people rarely ask themselves unless they are in faraway lands.

People in this country take for granted that food and drink offered for sale here is wholesome and can be consumed without danger of contracting a disease. It is natural that we should make this assumption for experience has shown us that such is the case.

This desirable condition didn't just happen. It is the result of the combined efforts of many governmental agencies. An important member of this group is the state Department of Agriculture.

The department's main function is to see that some 120 state laws and 75 regulations are complied with by everyone concerned with supplying food to the public. Seven separate bureaus divide this work and function under administration of the department's director, Charles Figy.

A wide range of activities are covered by these bureaus which include: laboratories, dairy and marketing and enforcement. Other bureaus control the growth of plants and trees, animal diseases, care of buildings and grounds. Such matters as public relations, livestock sales, farm coordination and many others are handled by the bureau of agricultural industry.

Constant investigation and check on every phase of food production goes on. Sanitary conditions of the farmer, wholesaler and retail grocer are continually under scrutiny. Much effort is made to guarantee the consumer that his purchases will be full weight, properly labeled and unadulterated.

Close watch is maintained for outbreaks of plant or animal disease, and should any develop, necessary measures are swiftly taken. The Department of Agriculture also provides a grading service to establish officially, the quality of a product introduced on the open market.

"About 95 per cent of the people are anxious to cooperate," says Director Figy, who believes that members of the food industry realize the value of the Department's operation. High standards maintained continually make it easier for wheels of the food industry to turn efficiently. This takes constant supervision.

Until 1921, when the Department of Agriculture was organized, Michigan State College was charged with many of the tasks now in the hands of the department. Alex Grosbeck was governor when the Legislature voted to set up the Department as a regulatory agency. This left to the college the tasks of disseminating information and engaging in agricultural research.

A commission of five members, appointed by the governor, sets the policy for the department. The director is responsible to them; employes are under civil service.

Much work is done "in the field." About 425 people make up the staff of the Department. Of these, only 80 remain in Lansing offices to do office and laboratory work. The balance are inspectors, checking various phases of food production throughout the state.

About 125 are inspectors who are employed on a temporary basis. They make up a rotating group of specialists who work with specific crops. When their work is through, they move to other areas and are replaced by experts in a new field demanding attention. Rotation of this type of inspector is coordinated by the federal government in cooperation with several other states.

Lives and money have been saved by some dramatic experience of the Department. Dreaded anthrax, a disease suddenly fatal to cows as well as humans, was reported in the U. S. last year. Quick work and strict precautions prevented the death of many people in Michigan. Records show that 111 cattle here died, but a preventative program stopped an epidemic in its tracks. Cause of the anthrax is believed to have been traced to bonemeal imported from another country.

Present battles include an attempt to prevent spread of a Dutch elm disease which made its appearance near Detroit in 1950. Oak wilt, a disease which threatens to kill any oak tree it infests, is being combated.

Sometimes new laws must be passed to give the Department control of a situation. That was true this year when hog vesicular exanthema, a disease contracted from feeding hogs raw garbage, appeared. Many interested parties wanted laws passed preventing such feed. The Department was consulted for advice and aided in the formulation of a law which was later passed.

Much power is held by the Department, but it is wielded only when necessary. Its agents can condemn livestock to death, but makes cash adjustment; can cut down orchards which constitute a disease threat to a crop area. No tree or plant can be legally moved without the Department's permission; no livestock can be transported without its sanction.

These are precautions that can be taken to protect public welfare and prevent great economic loss from disease. The Department has other responsibilities involving grading of products, conservation, drainage and local agricultural organizations.

Public's faith in the market's food products is the best testimony for the good job that is being performed daily by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Roadmen Paint 7,800 Miles With 107,000 Gallons

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced that the State Highway department has completed the painting of lanes and no-passing zone lines on the major and more-heavily travelled main routes of the state.

Since April, the painting work has been done on 7,800 miles of blacktop and concrete state trunkline highways in Michigan.

Painting on the rest of the hard-surfaced state trunklines is to be completed by early September, with the exception of new pavements or black-top roads on which construction is to be completed.

The Commissioner states that 107,000 gallons of paint will be used in the work.

Both white and yellow paint will be reflectorized through the use of tiny glass beads in the paint. This type of paint has been used for several years on state trunklines with very satisfactory results.

The beads make the painted lines look very bright under the glare of car and truck headlights at night.

If you want to spend an interesting evening of camera work, why not take a whirl at making family silhouettes? This is a much simpler project than it sounds. Place the subject in front of a white sheet that is stretched over a door opening with a pair of No. 2 photofloods in reflectors providing illumination from behind the sheet. You can pick up a trace of facial detail with a No. 1 flood diffused with a handkerchief.

Shoot with the camera on a tripod and keep the lens on a line with the approximate middle of the subject's face to avoid distortion. The prints should be enlarged on semi-matte or rough matte paper. Circular mounting plaques can be cut from soft half-inch insulation board. After cutting the profiles, mount them on the plaques with dry mounting tissue, and you should have highly interesting and inexpensive examples of your camera handiwork to hang on the wall.

Photography can really be fun. In fact, it's one of the most popular hobbies in America today! We have all the gadgets required to convert you into an enthusiastic camera fiend — and more inexpensively than you can imagine. One visit to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER will add you to the ever-growing ranks of Shutterbugs swarming the countryside today.

I personally attended the Kodak Retail Photographic Salesmen's training conference in Rochester, N. Y., last week. It was a very informative and interesting meeting, and it gave me the germ of an idea for starting a similar program of training in our own store in the near future.
