

MERCHANTS VOICE OBJECTIONS TO OFF-STREET PARKING DEMANDS IN PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE

Thirteen Plymouth merchants and other citizens voiced strong protests to several sections of the city's proposed zoning ordinance at a meeting of the city commission Tuesday night, and voicing a strong defense was the chairman of the city planning commission, Sidney Strong. For an hour the merchants arose and denounced two of the ordinance's provisions — one dealing with the off-street parking section requiring merchants to provide parking spaces under certain circumstances, and the other requiring persons who will build to submit plans for approval of the city planning commission. With Mayor Russell Daane and Commissioner Eleanor Hammond both on their vacations, the commission decided to take no action on the zoning ordinance or map, but did decide to have the mayor appoint a "study committee" to work with the Chamber of Commerce to examine the disputed sections.

Chief spokesmen for the merchants group were James Houk of Fishers and Roderick Cassidy of Cassads. The discussion opened when Chamber of Commerce Secretary Nat Sibbold presented the commission a letter from the Retail Merchants association in which it was unanimously agreed that the commission should reconsider the two sections.

The merchants contend that they would be financially unable to provide parking space near their stores should they decide to enlarge their floor space. They also claimed that should they submit their plans to the planning commission, an unscrupulous commission could hold up building of certain individuals because there is no time limit which the plans must be approved and no appeal should the planners reject the plans.

The law will "blight the downtown area and not improve it," Houk told commissioners. He told of the "cooperative" parking effort of the merchants in which businessmen have and are contributing to central parking lots.

Cassidy asked the commission to consider the "little fellow" who may have enough money after years in business to expand his business a little. But if he should be made to provide parking space (depending upon the added floor space and type of business), chances are that he would be unable to finance the purchase of costly nearby properties. "The local situation is solving itself with these cooperative parking lots," Cassidy asserted. "They know they will be penalized if they don't provide parking." He then added that "this ordinance is going to stop an orderly and progressive growth of downtown business."

"We have no intent to hurt business," Chairman Strong replied. "We recognize that the business center is hemmed in by an unusual pattern of streets." However, Strong was unmoved by statements of the merchants and argued that the off-street regulations were provided for the "good of the city-at-large" and that "everybody can't be pleased with such a law."

The planning commission chairman stated that he believed that merchants need not worry about the character of any future member of the planning group. In the past 15 years of the planning commission, he noted, the character of the group has gone unchanged.

Roy Pursell of Pursell Office Supply was also a frequent speaker. He charged that the ordinance is unjust and he added, "If law is to be respected, it should first be respectable." Mr. Speyer of Detroit, owner of several downtown properties in Plymouth, compared the Detroit zoning ordinance with Plymouth's proposed ordinance and he noted the larger number of off-street parking spaces required for a business place in Plymouth than in Detroit.

Other merchants attending the meeting were Wendell Lent, A. Gerald Pease, Austin Whipple, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Rayner Tisch, Alfred West, A. L. Lance, James Taylor, Pat Finlan and Dean Saxton.

Another zoning argument arose at the conclusion of the evening's meeting. It concerned the zoning map and the petition of residents of South Main street from Ann Arbor trail to Ann Arbor road. They had asked to have the street zoned commercial-2. Speaking in behalf of himself and others on the street was Dr. G. K. Ashtor who told commissioners of his two and one-half year bout with the planning commission to have his lot changed to commercial so that he could build a clinic.

Chairman Strong stated that the planning group had not allowed the C-2 change because land owners on the street had no definite plans in purpose for developing the land to commercial use, but that the commission feels that it would be changed when some definite plans were forthcoming.

In other action taken by the city commission, a public hearing was held on the Simpson street water main. It is to run from Harvey to Lincoln streets. No objections were heard so assessment rolls will be prepared. The commission also sent its formal endorsement of Norman W.

Marquis to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. He is to receive the tavern license approved last month by the city commission.

City commissioners also accepted (Continued on page 8)

JAMES HOUK: "We cannot depend upon future zoning commissions to hold your same interpretation."

RODERICK CASSADY: "It will stop an orderly and progressive development of downtown business."

CAUTIONED BY POLICE TO STOP parking their bicycles on the sidewalks, these Plymouth boys attempted to comply by using parking meter stalls on Main street for their bicycles last Tuesday. Each stall in front of Kellogg park was occupied by one bike and in each case a penny had been placed in each meter. This, too, was frowned upon by police as it left no parking spaces for autos. Among the boys shown above are: Lee Marzolf, Larry Strope, Roy Prothwell, Jim Singleton, David Cowen, Dean Finney, David Vanlerbergh, Carl Berry and Paul Emsley.

Bicycle Riders Now Have Parking Problems

Plymouth has been having its share of parking problems for automobiles, as every good citizen knows—but Tuesday was a day of trial and tribulation for some of the town's young bicycle riders who found that parking their bikes on downtown sidewalks isn't exactly the thing to do.

While most folks can successfully weave their way around bicycles parked on downtown sidewalks, Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo has not been so lucky. On several occasions the blind judge has tripped over the sprawling bicycles. Police learned again Tuesday that Judge Perlongo had fallen over a bicycle so a patrolman escorted some of the bicycles down to the city hall.

Law specifies that nothing can obstruct sidewalks, the boys were told when they came to claim their bicycles. By afternoon, the boys decided to prove a point, that there is no other place to park except for one bicycle rack in the downtown park. They parked their bicycles in nine vacant parking places on Main street in front of the park and put money in the meters.

However, the defiant boys learned that they couldn't do that either. They were ordered by police to remove the bicycles from the parking spots.

"Where are we supposed to park our bikes when there's only one rack in town," one boy asked when interviewed by The Mail. "Yeah," asserted another, "and I want my money back that I put in the meter."

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee today appealed to parents to tell their children not to park their bicycles on downtown sidewalks. To aid the situation, three new bicycle racks have been ordered. One more will be placed in the park and two in the central parking lot.

"If a boy is delivering papers or telegrams downtown, he could park on the sidewalk without hazard to the public," the Chief said. But everyone knows that the situation sometimes found on the sidewalks can be very dangerous. He also reminded bicycle riders that law provides that there be no bicycle riding on downtown sidewalks, but he urged riders to use sidewalks in residential areas.

About the parking meter incident, Chief Greenlee stated that parking spaces are provided for vehicles with motors only.

A Direct Hit

We direct our readers to the Roger Babson column appearing in its usual position in The Mail this week. Probably at no time has his subject material been so timely in regards to Plymouth as it is this week.

We sincerely urge every reader to take time to read the entire column and we strongly urge local business people to study its content because it deals with a subject which is as vitally important to them as it is to the community.

Merchants Don't Favor Opening Another Night

There will be no opening of stores two nights a week in Plymouth, according to a telephone poll taken last week by the Chamber of Commerce among the city's retail merchants.

A proposal to open stores a second night of the week—perhaps Monday or Thursday—was made at the August 31 dinner meeting of the Retail Merchants association. With a few merchants yet to be polled, Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold reported this week that it appears that the majority of store owners are not in favor of a second night.

Hold Services For Dow Swope

Funeral services were held Tuesday, September 8, for Dow J. Swope who passed away Saturday, September 5. Mr. Swope was well-known to Plymouth residents since he came here 12 years ago. He resided at 1395 Park place.

Mr. Swope was employed on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad for 39 years, and at the time of his retirement, was the superintendent of transportation. Upon retiring from the railroad he became assistant traffic manager of Long Transportation in Detroit.

Mr. Swope was a life member of the Pere Marquette Veteran Employees association, and held membership on the Detroit Board of Commerce, the Motor City Traffic club and the Traffic Club of Detroit. He was also active in Optimists, International of Plymouth.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy L.; children Judy and Dow, Jr.; a sister, Mrs. Ina S. Chapin of Syracuse, New York; and a brother, Ray J. Swope of Highland Park.

Services were held from the Schrader funeral home at 1 p.m., with Reverend Henry Walsh, D.D. officiating. Pallbearers were Joseph Mitton, John LaFrance, Del Bennett, L. Laurie, Joseph Haddock and Thomas Godbold. Interment was in Grandlawn cemetery.

$20,000 Blaze Hits Training School Barn

Fire swept through a large barn at the Wayne County Training school northwest of here Sunday afternoon, killing 15 head of cattle and causing an estimated loss of $20,000.

Fire departments from Plymouth, Plymouth township, Northville, Salem, the Detroit House of Correction and the training school were called in to fight the blaze, but flames spread rapidly through stored hay and straw bedding and the structure burned to the ground.

The 60 by 110-foot barn was built two years ago and was used as a "relaxing" barn for cattle. The 15 head of cattle in the barn killed by the fire were young stock.

It's Back-to-School Day For Plymouth Students

It was back to school today for some 3,200 Plymouth township boys and girls.

Though the exact number of students will not be tallied until early next week, it was certain that it was a record number of children who made the trek to the township's schools today.

And awaiting the students were 127 teachers and supervising personnel. For school officials and janitors, it meant the end of a long, hot summer of preparation.

School custodians spent Tuesday and Wednesday giving rooms and corridors a last-minute polish. Clean blackboards and a fresh supply of chalk awaited nine new months of usage.

Teachers themselves spent Tuesday afternoon and all-day Wednesday getting acquainted with their rooms. They found that janitors had worked hard through the summer getting the desks, floors and other equipment back into almost-new shape. Teachers spent Tuesday morning at Smith Elementary school where they were welcomed by School Superintendent Russell Isbister and other officials. They also heard a talk by Dr. Earl Kelley, Wayne university professor. This was followed by a luncheon.

Teaching in the Plymouth school system is a new experience for 27 men and women. Most of that number have never taught before. The new teachers (Continued on page 8)

Monday Deadline For Golf Entries

A final rush of entries in the Plymouth City Golf tournament was expected this weekend as the Monday, September 14 evening deadline drew near. It seemed doubtful that the hoped-for entry of 100 players would be reached although nearly 50 have now signed up.

George Todd and Harper Stephens stated that they will make up the pairings for the qualifying round on Monday evening and that all players must be entered and have their $5 entry fee paid by that time to be assigned a starting time. The pairings will be published in the September 17 edition of The Mail.

Entry blanks may be found at Davis & Lent, The Plymouth Mail, AAA Office, Todd's Grocery, Chamber of Commerce and Carl Caplin's. A blank may also be found on the sports' page of today's Mail which can be filled-out and sent, along with entry fee, to any of the above named businesses. Tournament Chairman L. B. Rice stated that the entry fee covers all charges including greens fees. The 18-hole qualifying round Saturday, September 19 will be followed by 36 holes Sunday in the championship flight and 18 holes of medal play in all other flights.

The Bob O' Link course, site of the tourney, has had its share of Plymouth players lately sharpening their game for the test. Bill Benjamin and Elton and Jim McAllister toured the layout last week with the latter two scoring 74's and Benjamin a 77. Ty Caplin turned in a 75. Three-time Champion Tom Lock, who this week said he was "out to stop Stephens' hold on the Plymouth Mail trophy," played 27 holes last weekend at Bob O' Link and was four under par. Lock showed his game was in tune by scoring an ace at Burroughs Farms last Sunday. He hit the hole-in-one on the par 3 No. 5 hole using a nine iron for the 140-yard shot. It was Lock's first hole-in-one in 27 years of golf.

Defending Champion Stephens said this week that he had played at Bob O' Link but had not scor-

Roberts to Head Community Chest Drive for 1953

Plymouth Community Fund President Tom Kent announced this week that Harry Roberts had accepted appointment as general chairman of the 1953 Plymouth Community Chest drive. Roberts will head-up a committee bent on collecting $21,800 for 1954 expenses.

Scheduled to start October 20 and extend until November 12, the Community Chest drive will include for the first time this year collections for the Red Cross. Kent stated that the Red Cross had agreed to solicit door-to-door only in its drive next March thereby making contributions of business and industry to the Community Chest cover the Red Cross.

Among other agencies covered by the Community Chest are the well-baby clinic, the Plymouth dental fund for children, the Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and the United Foundation.

The $21,800 goal represents the highest ever set here and was approved by budget committee members Lewis Goddard, chairman, Harry Larsen and George Mayhew.

Postpone Allen School Opening By Eleven Days

Edna M. Allen Elementary school failed to open its doors today for some 400 children despite a desperate effort by the building contractor to get classrooms ready for the first day of school.

Not until Tuesday morning when school administrators met with the contractor was it decided to forestall the school opening. A tentative opening date of Monday, September 21 has been set. This date is set depending wholly upon transportation concerns which have materials in transit to the school.

"It is with the greatest reluctance and with some disappointment that this statement is made," Superintendent Russell Isbister said. The superintendent, Principal Donald Rank and school board members made the decision after traveling to the school and finding it unsuitable for opening today.

The enthusiasm and cooperation of the general contractor and sub-contractors has been noted in a statement by Superintendent Isbister. He added, "Without the cooperation of these workmen the opening date of the school would have been delayed many weeks. At this very time they are straining every resource to have the building completed in the classroom sections by the end of the next work week."

Principal Rank and his staff are at the present time planning the arrangement of furniture and equipment. They also were responsible for informing parents of the postponement. By calling a few parents in every block in the school district, they delegated them to inform other parents in the block.

Floor coverings for the classrooms are on hand, but have not yet been installed, school officials found. They also found that plumbing and lighting fixtures had not been installed. Most all equipment such as desks is on hand.

Though start of school for the Allen school children will be delayed at least a week and two days, it will not mean an extension of the school year for them, the superintendent pointed out.

TOM LOCK SIGNS UP for the Plymouth City Golf tournament as Bob Wesley, right, tourney committee member, catches him at work. A three-time winner of the city golf championship, Lock said he would like to regain the title won last year by Harper Stephens. Deadline for players to enter the tourney scheduled for September 19 and 20 at Bob O' Link is Monday, September 14.

Miss Diane Arscott and Kenneth Thompson Are Wed in Recent Candelight Ceremony

Mrs. Kenneth Thompson

At an impressive candelight ceremony at eight o'clock Saturday evening, September 5 in the First Presbyterian church, Plymouth, Miss Diane Arscott and Kenneth Thompson repeated their marriage vows to the Reverend Henry Walch, D.D. Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arscott of Maple avenue and Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson of Newburg road, Livonia. The bride, in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace with a pleated nylon tulle front and portrait neckline, approached the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a Juliet cap adorned with seedpearls and rhinestones from which fell her fingertip length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Diane chose, as her maid of honor, her cousin, Patricia Arscott of Rochester, Michigan. She wore a floor length gown of blue tulle over taffeta and she carried a bouquet of burnt orange mums. Bridesmaids were Elaine Kay Dobbs of Plymouth and Marilyn Lloyd of Adrian. They were dressed like the maid of honor and carried yellow baby mums tied with yellow streamers. The little flower girls, Martha Ellen Fore-

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adler of North Holbrook avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Richard James, weighing five pounds four ounces, born at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor on August 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hurtik of Hartsough avenue are the proud parents of a six pound, three ounce son born at Beyer Memorial hospital, Ypsilanti on September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eby announce the arrival of a seven pound three ounce son, Dean Gordon born on August 31 at Coldwater hospital. Mrs. Eby is the former Lois Vetal.

Mrs. Ferris Mathias, Jr. and infant daughter returned to Plymouth on Thursday evening from their home in California. Ferris has now been shipped overseas and Mrs. Mathias and baby will remain in Plymouth for the time being. Sally Mathias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Mathias, Sr. who has been visiting in California for the past few weeks returned to Plymouth with her.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Edna O'Conner has returned to her home on Palmer avenue after spending eight days at Green Lake, Wisconsin, where she attended a Church Musicians conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage of Clemons drive spent a most pleasant weekend at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel in Detroit as guests of manager, Neal Lange. The occasion was the Gage's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They were two of the most surprised people in the world when they were ushered to the Presidential Suite on the twenty-fifth floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shear have returned to their home on South Main street after spending the summer months at their cottage on Base lake.

Returning to Stephens college this fall to attend the annual Campus Leaders Conference on September 10, is Miss Catherine Ann Peristy of Blackburn avenue, Rosedale Gardens. Miss Peristy is social chairman for Columbia Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Draper and daughter, Diane accompanied by Miss Norma Bloomhuff have just returned from a holiday weekend stay at the Breaker's hotel on Lake Huron, Southampton, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ninemaker of Royal Oak were dinner guests Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hesse.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Julien of Northville road are spending this week at the Frank Pierce cottage near East Tawas.

Mrs. Joseph Schraufnagel and daughter, Betty of Cherry Hill road spent the Labor Day weekend in St. Louis, Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Champe spent the holiday weekend at their cabin near Mio, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott returned to their home on West Maple avenue on Tuesday after vacationing for three weeks in northern Michigan.

Evelyn Woods Groschke and her husband, Carl accompanied by their dance orchestra, have just returned from a Labor Day cruise aboard the S.S. South American. The band entertained the passengers with dance and cocktail music en route to Mackinac Island, where they participated in a special show in the ballroom of the Grand Hotel. The show featured crew members of both the South American and the North American ships.

Canton Township Treasurer Dies

Canton township treasurer, Mrs. Ina Woolger, died in her home at 43127 Michigan, Monday. Treasurer of the township for 14 years, Mrs. Woolger was 78 years of age. She had been ailing for some time.

A life-long resident of Canton township, Mrs. Woolger has long been prominent in civic affairs. She was a member of the Sheldon Methodist church and the Ladies Aid society.

Only survivors of Mrs. Woolger are nieces and nephews. Her husband preceded her in death several years ago.

Funeral services will be held from the Sheldon Methodist church, Geddes and Michigan, Friday at 2:30 p.m. Reverend Nevin will officiate. Mrs. Woolger will lie in state at her home until noon Friday. Interment will be in Denton cemetery.

Daughters of America are sponsoring a rummage and bake sale and bazaar at the Grange hall on September 18 and 19.

Mrs. Paul Wiedman will be hostess to the members of the Plymouth Branch of the National Farm and Garden club on Monday afternoon, September 14 in her home on North Territorial road.

Reports Students Not Interested in Driver Training

Driver training classes will not be held in Plymouth High school this year although such a course was recommended by the AAA in a traffic survey made recently in the city.

Lack of interest caused suspension of the course five years ago, school officials recalled. The course was first offered about eight years ago and interest dwindled until it was no longer practical to offer the course.

Three years ago students were given an opportunity to list new courses that they would like to have in the high school. Only four listed driver training, Principal Carvel Bentley said.

The AAA report rated driver training in high school as "the most valuable addition to Plymouth High school curriculum that could be added this year." The report claimed that if all young people could have driver training in schools, 50 per cent of all traffic deaths could be eliminated. There are 416 schools in Michigan offering the course.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair Taylor said last week that many schools are dropping specialized courses such as driver training because of the teacher shortage.

The School Community Planning group discussed driver training for Plymouth at a session last year but no action was taken. Superintendent Russell Isbister said that the group may discuss the course again this year due to the AAA recommendation.

Can Camp at Most Fishing Sites North of Bay City

Camping is permitted on any public fishing site in Michigan that is not posted against use of the site for that purpose, the conservation department notes.

In general, fishing sites below the Muskegon-Bay City line are posted against camping while those north of that line are not.

A number of camper inquiries have been received in department offices recently.

Lists noting locations of sites and general information concerning the public access program may be obtained free upon request from the department's fish division here.

You Can Blame This on the Heat

There is only one excuse Plymouth Mail photo experts can use for the sad accident that occurred to about a dozen of their prize pictures which were to have appeared this week and that is the heat.

Although Bob Bullard and Jerry Hosier, two of our dark room experts, were extremely sorry for the unfortunate accident which ruined the film, the most disappointed person was advertising manager Sam Stephens. It seems Mr. Stephens spent a whole Sunday at Base Lake where some 12 Plymouth families posed in informal pictures for his camera while he recorded them enjoying the "cool" breezes at their summer homes.

When the films went into the dark room 12 of them were placed in the developing tank for later processing by Mr. Bullard. When an hour later Mr. Hosier opened the tank, not knowing the films were already in the holder without fluid, there went most of the efforts of Mr. Stephens and although it was a pleasant Sunday, his labors evaporated in the bright daylight.

However the four or five films which were not exposed to light appear elsewhere in this issue.

Drivers Bruised In Truck-Car Collision Here

While hundreds of motorists were either killed or injured on the nation's highways over the Labor day weekend, Plymouth drivers escaped with the exception of a few scratched fenders, according to police reports. However, two local men were slightly injured Tuesday morning when their vehicles collided at Junction and Arthur streets.

Leon Walker, 390 Sunset and Samuel H. Robertson, 137 South Main street, were both bruised when a Consumers Power company truck driven by Walker crashed into the side of Robertson's car. Walker was driving east on Junction and Robertson was traveling north on Arthur.

Walker swung his truck to the left in an attempt to avoid the collision. He slid across the front seat and out the right hand door and fell to the pavement. "I kept on rolling, hoping that the truck wouldn't come on top of me," he recalled. The Robertson car came to a stop in a vacant lot.

Both men were taken to a doctor, examined and treated for bruises.

The fastest way to get action is to use Plymouth Mail classifieds.

Glassford Leaves For West Coast

City Manager Albert Glassford and his family left for Los Angeles Wednesday, where Mr. Glassford will attend the annual conference of the International City Managers association. The city manager, his wife and two children, will drive to the west coast and will return in about three weeks. He expects to combine his annual vacation with the convention. Held in the Hotel Statler, the conference will attract about 700 city managers from across the nation. Problem sessions will be divided according to the size of the cities. The city manager, along with Mayor Russell Daane, Engineer

Stanford Besse and Assessor Kenneth Way returned this weekend from Mackinac Island where they attended the annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League. The city officials went on record as favoring a uniform traffic code, extending social security benefits and the St. Lawrence seaway project. During the absence of the city manager, Mr. Besse will serve as acting city manager. Mr. and Mrs. James Latture of Harding avenue have as their houseguest, Mrs. Latture's sister, Mrs. Della Cribbens of Sacramento, California.

City Employees

Seeing Movies But No Marilyn Monroe

A citizen looking for a city employee on a Wednesday afternoon for the next three months may get a surprise answer—"He's at the picture show."

But before the visitor begins publicly gossiping about Plymouth city employees who spend their afternoons in air conditioned theatres, he will probably get a good explanation.

There's no Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell in 3-D technicolor. Instead, a series of 14 films supplied by the National Safety Council are being shown many of the city's employees in the commission chambers each Wednesday afternoon at 1 p.m. Each of the sound films deals with a phase of safety.

Especially urged to see the films are members of the police and fire departments, public works and cemetery employees. The projector, operated by Fire Chief Robert McAllister, is also furnished by the Safety Council. Films are scheduled for each Wednesday afternoon until November 25.

Times Editorial Congratulates City Styling Plan

A pat on the back for Plymouth in its program to "colonialize" was given last week on the editorial page of the Detroit Times which several Sundays ago ran a page of story and pictures on the city. Under the heading of "Modern Merchandising," the editorial reads:

"Plymouth is to be congratulated upon its new styling—its drive to 'Colonialize,' as Pat Dennis, Detroit Times real estate editor, has dubbed it.

"By its architecture and street names, among other ways, Plymouth will identify itself with its namesake colony of 1620, perpetuating the names and places of a great period in American history.

"That's good styling—a part of modern merchandising, those producing automobiles or washing machines or packaging food or almost anything else, first make sure their merchandise is good. Then they make their product attractive to the customer.

"This same principle is applicable to cities and progressive municipalities are finding it out. Plymouth has always been a pleasant place to live—good merchandise in terms of the home-seeking public.

Shirley Lightfoot has returned to Plymouth after visiting friends in New York City.

Some movie camera fans have asked what is the most satisfactory method of splicing film. If you have a splicer, fresh cement, scraping tool and items such as emery boards, film cleaner and cheap cotton gloves (to avoid smudges and fingerprints on film) at hand, we'll take a look at the chore. To cut the ends, wipe with cleaner, polish dry and place them emulsion side up in the splicer. Make cut after aligning them on guide pins. The scraping is most important in that every trace of emulsion of one film end and the film undercoating on the other be removed. Scrape equal areas on both film ends to avoid flashes on screen during projection. When applying the cement, don't allow any excess to run under the film. The two film ends should be joined immediately and clamped in the splicer under moderate pressure. When well set, the splicer guide pins may be used to clean sprocket holes of excess cement, and the emery boards will give you smooth film edges.

Whether you are an advanced movie camera fiend, or one of the many shutterbugs who take good pictures with a box camera, THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER can help you with exposure problems, printing questions—in fact anything pertaining to America's No. 1 hobby. Come to 821 West Ann Arbor Trail today and you'll be glad you did!

We've a new employee we think you will enjoy meeting and getting to know . . . he's Jim Cooper, and believe me, Jim really knows photography! He has had many years of experience and has a wide familiarity with the technical aspects of picture-taking. So bring your photographic problems and questions to Jim—he'll be happy to help you!

Television Star Slated to Appear at Fashion Show

Pat Tobin, one of the stars of television's "Pat and Johnny" team, will be one of the featured guests at the fashion show sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary and Retail Merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The announcement was made recently by the publicity chairman, Mrs. Marie Norman. She added that Johnny, the other member of the famous team, will be unable to appear. The show, slated for Wednesday, October 21, will be held in the Central school gymnasium. The auxiliary put on a similar show last year with great success, Mrs. Norman said. Further plans for the show will be discussed at a meeting of the group later this week.

To Hear Youth on Delinquency Charge

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor will be heard this week by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo against Jack White, 22-year-old Plymouth youth.

White was arrested last week after a warrant was filed for his arrest. He allegedly bought wine and beer and gave it to a 13-year-old boy on August 28 while the two were behind an Ann Arbor road shop. The boy was taken to a physician who pronounced him intoxicated.

After recovering the next day, the boy named White as the person who gave him a half bottle of wine and a bottle of beer.

White posted a $300 bond following his arrest. Maximum penalty for White's alleged offense is a 90 days imprisonment, a $100 fine or both.

The Past Counselors club of the Daughters of America will meet on September 21 with Pauline Carlson in Wayne.

Most people use floor coverings in their kitchens that will not show the dirt. The Mayflower's galley is tiled in white so that just in case a speck of dirt is so unfortunate as to land there it will show. And when that happens the whole crew swarms around to eradicate it.

School days effect the Mayflower, too. The Hotel's dining room staff is losing Ann Waldecker to her studies at Western State College, and Wilma Latture to Michigan State. Wally Rush, who anticipates taking a hotel course later will return to High School after serving a summer of apprenticeship here. Also returning to school at P.H.S. is Jerry Trahan, apprentice baker, also Charles... who is of the same school.

And speaking of school, Sarah Lickly of the Plymouth High School teaching staff just arrived back from an extended trip through France, Spain and a side journey into North Africa. She's one of our very favorite teachers, and when not driving a little Renault around some foreign land is a permanent guest at The Mayflower.

We though the dining rooms of the hotel were about as busy as any could be. But it seems there's always room for a few more. Witness the fact that the recent national publicity in The Ford Times has brought even more diners to Plymouth's famous hotel. Such recognition not only brings new connoisseurs of food to the hostelry, but also confirms the opinions of local guests that the food is of the finest.

Arrivals: Earl Schlax, the Croydon Golf Equipment man. He's a regular guest from Cleveland, always here when working in the Detroit area. Calls on Chris Burghardt at Hilltop and Casey Partridge at Plymouth Country Club among others. He's listed in the 15 year class of the Mayflower's guests, along with other well-known men of the golf world who stop here.

So intent on becoming a member of The Mayflower's "Clean Plate Club" was one little youngster that he sent in his name and entry from far-away Marion, Ohio. This isn't so unusual as is the fact that it appears to be his first attempt at letter writing. The envelope is covered with a childish scrawl in printing saying only "Johnny Billington, Plymouth, Michigan." Members of the "Clean Plate Club" will all be eligible to win prizes being given away by the hotel. All that's necessary to have a chance on the prizes is for a youngster to eat all the food cleanly from his plate while dining with his parents in either The Mayflower Room or The Pilgrim Room.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Alexander were aboard The Mayflower this week-end after a three and one half month sojourn in Europe. They find the Mayflower's room arrangements somewhat more conventional and convenient, if not quite so picturesque as an hotel in Antwerp, Belgium. The bathtub in their room there was given a place of prominence right in the center of the floor of their otherwise good quarters. Mr. Alexander has been a supplier of meats to the Mayflower for many years.

Tuesday morning 27 new teachers in the Plymouth school system met for breakfast and a get-acquainted session with their principals. Lovely breakfast, lovelier teachers, — and the best atmosphere in the world for getting a good impression of Plymouth. The staff of The Mayflower wishes them a pleasant year of teaching in our community.

Area Firemen Hear Talk on GM Disaster

Fire Chief Calvin Roberts of Livonia addressed 59 members of the Mutual Aid Firemen's association when the group met last Thursday night at the Plymouth city hall.

Chief Roberts spoke to the group about the General Motors Transmission company fire and the part firemen had in its control. His outstanding address was aided by blueprints of the factory to show where the fire started and how it spread. He also showed photographs of the disaster.

A movie on the Flint tornado disaster was also shown. It was seen by 58 persons at the high school the evening before with Fire Chief Calvin Johnson of Flint on hand to tell of work performed by the fire department and civil defense workers.

Attending the fire association meeting besides firemen were safety directors from Harvey Container, Burroughs, Whitman & Barnes, Barnes-Gibson-Raymond and Evans Products companies.

A lunch was served, furnished by Stop and Shop, Terry's Bakery and A & P.

Twelve of the 15 departments in the Mutual Aid Firemen's association were represented at the meeting. The next meeting will be November 5 at The Plymouth Township hall.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet on Tuesday, September 15 at the Newburg church hall with a pot-luck dinner at 12:30 p.m. Colorful slides of Bishop Marshall Reed's trip to India will be shown. Everyone is welcome.

ed an invitation from the city of Livonia to attend dedication ceremonies this Sunday of the new Livonia city hall. Several city officials plan to attend.

City Manager Albert Glassford read a letter from the Garling Construction company in which they offered to trade six lots they own on the northeast corner of Wing and Harold streets for six city-owned lots on Jener street. Since the city lots have improvements such as streets and sidewalks and the Garling lots do not, Garling proposes to pay the city for these improvements. The city manager was instructed to negotiate with Garling.

Stopped-up sewers and flooded basements were also discussion topics which ended without a decision. Hiring an outside firm to clean out sewers proved to be too costly, the city manager reported. He will find out how much buying a sewer cleaning rig will cost. City Engineer Stan Besse stated that sewer cleaning will be a good winter job.

Commissioner Ernest Henry served as mayor pro tem at the meeting due to the absence of Mayor Daane.

until December 1, according to the building contract. However, the general contractor told school officials that he expected the classrooms to be completed by today. School officials remained optimistic and made plans to send Allen school students to other schools until their school was completed. But because of the nearness of the completion date, it was believed that the children could make up lost time if they could start at the tentative date of September 21.

Further announcements concerning the progress being made at Plymouth's newest school will appear in The Plymouth Mail.

CHECKING OVER THE BOOKS at the Dunning branch of the Wayne County library are Miss Nancy Brannan, new assistant librarian, left, and Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian. Miss Brannan, a local girl, began her new job at the library two weeks ago. She received her bachelor's degree from Western Michigan college and her Masters of Science degree from the University of Illinois.

Local Men Return From National Legion Centab Group Plans Autumn Meetings

Two prominent American Legion officers from Plymouth, Lisle Alexander, adjutant of the State of Michigan, and Elton Knapp, 18th District commander, have returned from the American Legion national convention held last week in St. Louis.

Over 100,000 Legionnaires attended the convention which was held in the famous Keil Auditorium. "It was hot," the two Legion officers reported, but probably not as hot as it was here in Plymouth last week. They were both happy to find that nearly all buildings in St. Louis are air conditioned.

Adjutant Alexander and Commander Knapp attended most of the sessions of the busy convention. Prominent speakers including Secretary of State John Foster Dulles addressed the convention.

Delegates elected Art Cannell of Connecticut as national commander until the next convention which will take place in Washington, D.C.

Wives of the two Plymouth delegates also attended the convention. Alexander lives at 210 North Mill street and Knapp at 798 Pacific.

The V.F.W. Auxiliary are holding a mother-daughter banquet on September 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schroeder of South Main street with Douglas Porter and his fiancée, Sadia Verutis attended the Toronto Exposition over the holiday week end. They also visited friends in Toronto.

The Mission Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon, September 16 beginning at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Maurice Garchow, 15620 Bradner road. This will be the annual election of officers.

OBITUARIES

Stella Stark McGill
Mrs. Stella Stark McGill, who formerly resided at the Van Dyke apartments in Detroit, passed away Thursday, September 3. She was 85 years of age.

Mrs. McGill is survived by her niece, Mrs. Julia Watkins of Cass Lake and her nephews, Dean Saxton of Plymouth and John Ray Saxton of Detroit; other relatives and many friends. She was preceded in death by her husband, Charles C. McGill.

Mrs. McGill was a member of the Second Church of Christ Scientist of Detroit.

Christian Science funeral services were read Sunday September 5 at the Schrader Funeral home by Mr. Charles Welsby. Cremation took place in Woodmere crematorium.

Flora M. Tefft

Mrs. Flora M. Tefft, who resided at 1238 Penniman, passed away very suddenly at her home on September 2. She was born in Atchison, Kansas on March 10, 1887 and had been a resident of Plymouth for the past 35 years. Mrs. Tefft was a member of the Plymouth Methodist church and a life member of the Order of the Eastern Star, St. Charles, Michigan.

Surviving are her husband, Luther; one son, Robert of Plymouth; one daughter, Mrs. Marion Freeman of Detroit; five grandchildren; other relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday, September 5 from the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson officiating. Organ music was rendered by Fred Nelson. Active pallbearers were Robert Tefft, Frank Tefft, Bernard Curtis, Marlin Strong, Frank Freeman, and Clyde Smith. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

CHRISTMAS DOLLARS on the ceiling will bring joy to dozens of Plymouth boys and girls when the BPO Elks use the money for a Christmas party for the underprivileged youths. Members began two weeks ago to pin the money on the ceiling and by Christmas time, it is hoped that there will be enough money for the party plus a surplus for the work of the Goodfellows. Pictured is Ty Theisen, of near Milford, employee at the Elks lodge home.

SOCIAL NOTES

D. of A. News

At our regular meeting September 4 we were sorry to hear that Sister Ella Holmes was again in Harper hospital and had undergone a major operation but glad to report at this time she is much better. Also our Councilor Sister Victoria Cogswell of Wayne is on the sick list. We were glad to hear Sister Wilma Diedrick is able to be out again.

Our next meeting will be September 18. On the evening of September 18 and all day Saturday, September 19 we are holding a bazaar bake and rummage sale at the Grange hall and hope for the support of all our members.

The Past Councilors club will start their meetings again September 21 at the home of Pauline Carlson in Wayne.

The Canasta club will meet September 22 with Sister Doris Marshall, on Union street.

Members, if you dont come out to our regular meetings you are missing a good time.

O.E.S. NEWS

Plymouth Chapter No 115 Order Eastern Star will hold an advanced officers night September 15 at 7:45 p.m. Come on out and give your officers your support. A social hour and refreshments will follow the meeting.

There will be a practice on Sunday September 13 at 2:30 p.m. for all the officers.

Grange Cleanings

Our first meeting of the year was not as well attended as it might have been had it been a cooler night. However there were about 40 who sat down to supper. A rather peculiar feature was that there was no member present who had a birthday in September so one of the guests became the honoree for the occasion. There was a fine birthday cake, too.

For the program we had the pleasure of having Evered Jolliffe, Harold Jolliffe, Elmore and Austin Whipple with us and they sang several numbers accompanied by Mrs. Grace Jolliffe. There was a short discussion about taxation by Mr. Hartom, Sam Spicer and Norman Miller.

A special meeting has been called for this evening to talk over some important matters. Try and be there as it is quite necessary. He is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ehrensberger and Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk were Sunday callers at Ray Fattetal's at their home near Pontiac. They found that Ray is in Pontiac Hospital, had a serious emergency operation last week.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA Church of the Nazarene

A $500,000 EDUCATIONAL unit is the first part of a $125,000 church center being built by the Church of the Nazarene on Ann Arbor trail near Gold Arbor. Reverend Hadwin, pictured in front of the construction, states that a $75,000 sanctuary will be added at some later date. In the meantime, church services will be held in the educational unit. At left is the present Nazarene church building located on Holbrook at Pearl street.

Nazarenes Build Second Church Here in 20 Years

Twenty years in Plymouth has seen the rise of the Church of the Nazarene from a handful of parishioners who met in various halls in the city to a mature congregation which this Sunday will lay the cornerstone of the first unit of a new church center.

In the depression year of 1933 the Church of the Nazarene came to Plymouth. With Reverend Robert North as pastor, the group out-grew its meeting hall homes and a church was built at North Holbrook and Pearl streets, the present location of the congregation. Unusual growth later prompted the building an addition to the original structure.

In 1951, Sunday school attendance reached 211 per Sunday and it was apparent that another building step had to be taken. Three acres were purchased on East Ann Arbor trail near Gold Arbor street where the cornerstone laying ceremony will take place this Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The new unit will seat 375 people and plans call for the construction of a second unit within the next three years. It will be the main sanctuary and the present new structure will become the educational building, used for Sunday school work.

Reverend North remained with the Church from its founding until 1945. He was succeeded by Reverend William O. Welton, who resigned last October. The present pastor, Reverend E. T.

Hadwin, has served the congregation since November.

Equal in its outstanding growth has been the entire Nazarene denomination. It came into being during the early years of the century with the uniting of several small "holiness" groups. Full organization came in 1908.

Today, 45 years later, the Church of the Nazarene has 250,000 members in 3,800 churches. There are 6,603 ministers and evangelists and the extensive foreign work has 250 missionaries with 35,000 mission members.

Sunday school membership of the denomination now numbers a half-million with an average Sunday attendance of 350,000. Value of all church property stands at 90 million dollars with a total of yearly "giving" to the church totaling about 30 million dollars.

Kansas City, Missouri is the home of the Nazarene church. District superintendents are named to head each of the nation's 69 districts. There are also five general superintendents to provide direction and guidance from their offices in Kansas City.

The church has maintained an intense interest in the education of its ministers and young people and today supports its own colleges: Bethany-Peniel college, Bethany, Oklahoma; Eastern Nazarene college, Wellston Massachusetts; Northwest Nazarene college, Nampa, Idaho; Olivet Nazarene college, Kanakakee, Illinois; Pasadena college, Pasadena, California; Trevecca Nazarene college, Nashville, Tennessee; Canadian Nazarene college, Red Deer, Alberta; Hurlet Nazarene college, Glasgow, Scotland; Nazarene Bible Institute (colored), West Virginia; and Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City.

The Church of the Nazarene has a Wesleyan doctrinal background. This stems from the denomination's chief founder, Dr. P. F. Breese, a product of the Methodist church. A brief statement of belief is:

Nazarenes believe that "there is one God—Father, Son and Holy Spirit; that the Old and New Testament scriptures, given by plenary inspiration, contains all truth necessary to faith and Christian living; that man is born with a fallen nature, and is therefore inclined to evil continually; that the finally impenitent are hopelessly and eternally lost."

They also believe that "the atonement through Jesus Christ is for the whole human race and that whosoever repents and believes on the Lord is justified and regenerated and saved from the dominion of sin; that believers are to be sanctified wholly subsequent to regeneration, through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; that the Holy Spirit bears witness to the new birth and also to the entire sanctification of believers; and that our Lord will return, the dead will be raised and the final judgment will take place."

Reverend Hadwin served in Detroit, Lansing, Cadillac, and Eaton Rapids before coming to Plymouth. He is married and has four sons.

The pastors' home is at 472 Holbrook.

Adventist Church Names Reverend Henry As Leader

The Reverend Merton Henry of Plymouth has been appointed the new district leader of the Plymouth, Belleville, and Northville Seventh-day Adventist churches. Reverend and Mrs. Henry reside at 425 West Ann Arbor trail. He has been pastor at the Urbandale, Michigan church and an assistant pastor of the Battle Creek Tabernacle since 1952.

Reverend Henry is a native of Ephrata, Pennsylvania and was employed in the textile work in the eastern part of the state before entering Emmanuel Springs, Michigan, where he began his theological course. He graduated in June 1951.

He is a World War II veteran. He spent three years in service, two of which were in India.

Reverend Henry succeeds Reverend M. S. Krietzke of Belleville who has been transferred to Munising, Michigan to take charge of work there and to assist Mrs. Krietzke R. N. and dietician in maintaining a convalescent home in that city.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH Melbourne Irvin Johnson, minister. Sanford P. Burr—Youth director. James Sands Darling—Organist and choir director. 9:45 a.m. Sunday school. Robert E. Ingram—superintendent. 11 a.m. Divine worship. Sermon theme—"A religion of crisis." The children's sermon will be given by Sanford Burr. Our senior M.Y.F. will be host to the Ann Arbor District Methodist Youth Fellowship fall Rally. Between three and four hundred young people usually attend these rallies. It will be a great inspiration to our young people to share in the enthusiasm of this splendid group of young people. All those who plan to participate in our local M.Y.F. are urged to attend and help share in the entertainment of our guests.

Harvest Festival—Sunday morning September 20 we will witness another sparkling display of fruit, vegetables and flowers about our chancel. Those who have seen this beautiful sight will want to attend and bring a friend. It will greatly help those in charge if donors will please bring their gifts of any of the above items not earlier than Friday evening September 18 and not later than Saturday noon September 19. The artistic arrangement of these items is most important and takes considerable time. If you have some articles of the above you would like to offer but find it impossible to bring yourself, please call the church office and someone will call. Let us all help make this an exceptionally fine display. On Monday September 21 at 6:30 p.m. a pot-luck supper will be held and in as much as the Harvest Festival is sponsored by the W.S.C.S. our members will be seated in the Unit divisions of the W.S.C.S. FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age. That real substance is Spirit and not matter is shown in the Lesson—Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 13. The Golden Text is from Psalms (119:89,90): "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations; thou hast established the earth, and it abideth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (1 Cor. 2:9): "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter." (p. 301)

Plymouth Church Begins Classes In Sunday School

The First Presbyterian church has announced the opening of a church school on September 13. Students will enroll at 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. Youngsters enrolling on this day will have their choice of either the 9:30 or 11:00 a.m. classes.

Classes are scheduled as follows: nursery, babies up to 2 years, 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.; beginners, 2 years through kindergarten, 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.; primary, 1st grade through 3rd grade, 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.; junior, 4th grade through 6th grade, 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.; senior, 7th grade through 12th grade, 9:30 a.m. only; adults will meet with Dr. Henry Walch at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor, beginning September 27.

The Christian Education Committee of the church stresses that all Sunday School students should attend the same class each week.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D. minister. Beginning Sunday, September 13, there will again be two church services, one at 9:30 and the other at 11:00, with Dr. Walch preaching at both services. The church school will also meet in two sessions to relieve the over-crowded condition. There will be registration for classes both at 9:30 and at 11:00.

ONE OF PLYMOUTH'S MOST IMPORTANT civic questions was the topic for discussion of the officers of the Plymouth Lions club, shown above, at the club's first meeting of the fall season last Thursday. Thorough consideration was given by the club to the St. Mary's hospital fund campaign and President Russ Cutler announced that the Lions fully endorse the fund campaign moral-

BPO Elks Plan Home Dedication Anniversary

A first anniversary celebration of the dedication of the Plymouth BPO Elks home will take place this Saturday night with a group of professional entertainers being brought to the city for the festivities.

Philip Barney, head of the organization, said today that the affair has been limited to 150 couples. Furnishing the dance music will be George Prima and his trio. Prima was formerly pianist for the Henry Bussey band.

One of the country's leading solo harmonica artists, Dick Koepfgen, will also be featured along with Betty Gray, talented xylophone player.

Master of ceremonies will be Tony Martin, who has been MC at leading theaters in London and New York and is now at a Chicago night club. He is widely known as a private party entertainer, having been featured at many of Edsel Ford's private parties.

Fishing Season For Some Trout Ends On Sunday

Plymouthites who want to go trout fishing this season will have to do so before September 13, for at that time brook and brown trout angling ends for the year.

However, trout fishermen will still be able to take advantage of the special rainbow season after that date.

Most of the state's waters directly connected with the Great Lakes will be opened until November 30 in the extended fall season.

The list of waters to remain open during the season may be obtained from the department's fish division in Lansing.

Local Children Attend Adventist School in Detroit

School bells rang early for John E. and James E. Johnson, Carl Carey, Barbara Sylvaria, Dennis and Barbara Gibbs, Plymouth children attending the Seventh-day Adventist Youth Center. The 10 grade parochial school, which is located on Southfield and Fenkel avenues in Detroit, opened its doors for the 1953-54 school year on Monday, August 31.

The modern and well-equipped school is one of a chain of 4,438 Adventist schools around the world and has a staff of conscientious teachers who, with the church, recognize the fine contributions being made by the public schools to the community, but as a Christian denomination feel that their own services are being served better by maintaining a decidedly Christian environment for their children during their early school life.

Goodwill Trucks to Come Here on September 17

Edith Sorenson, local telephone representative for the Goodwill Industries of Detroit, announces that the Goodwill pick-up trucks will visit Plymouth and Northville on Thursday, September 17, to collect usable household discards for its rehabilitation program. Pick-up arrangements may be made by phoning Miss Sorenson at Northville 571.

Miss Sorenson reports that employment at Goodwill Industries is at its highest level in history. To maintain this record employment, it is necessary that discards keep flowing into the Goodwill workshops at their present volume.

Here's what's behind the big swing to FORD

FORD GIVES YOU EVERYTHING YOU WANT AND NEED AT A PRICE YOU WANT TO PAY!

AMERICA'S COSTLIEST CARS ARE SWINGING TO V-8 ENGINES, but Ford's had one for years. (Ford's built more V-8's than all other makers combined!)

IF IT'S A SIX YOU WANT, Ford has the most modern in the industry. Ford's Mileage Maker Six with Overdrive beat all other cars in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run!

DOES ANY OTHER CAR offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engine — or a choice of three great drives? How about foam-rubber in all seats in all models, extra trunk space, smooth ride — does any other car measure up to Ford feature for feature? You know the answer — that some cars do offer most of these features. But the only ones that do are costlier cars! Not a single one of them is in Ford's price field! And Ford offers you these "fine car" features, at half the fine car cost! No wonder the swing's to Ford!

YOU DON'T NEED A HEAVY LIMOUSINE FOR A SMOOTH RIDE. Ford's new rubber compression bumpers and more responsive spring and shock absorber action reduce front end road shock alone up to 80%. Takes you over bumps and ruts smooth as silk. Try a Test Drive!

FORDOMATIC DOES MORE THINGS FOR YOU AUTOMATICALLY — over a wider range — than any drive in the low-price field. It does all the shifting for you — better than you can do it! And Fordomatic combines smooth power flow with lots of "get-up-and-go!"

NO WORRY ABOUT "BLIND SPOTS" IN FORD! With a huge one-piece windshield . . . car-wide rear window, Ford has more "look out" area than any car in its field! It's truly Full-Circle Visibility. Fords are built with your safety — and your family's safety — in mind.

FORD'S MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING is the newest and finest in America — and it's the lowest-priced power steering in Ford's field! Unlike many systems, Ford Master-Guide gives help only when you need it . . . retains the natural "feel" of the wheel on straightaways.

CHECK THE USED CAR LOTS and you'll find that last year's Ford returns more of its original cost than any other car! No doubt about it, Ford's worth more when you buy it and when you sell it!

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT . . .

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT!

SHOWN ABOVE IS THE RECENTLY completed press box at the Plymouth High school athletic field. Work began on this a year ago and it is now complete with the exception of a few minor details. A new coat of paint was put on a few days ago. The spacious press box will be ready for use this coming football season, and will be a welcome addition to the splendid athletic plant at the high school.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

That Detroit Lion - Cleveland Browns football game was a thriller wasn't it? The Lions were clearly out-played and should have lost the game, but they tied it and nearly won it in the last few seconds. Three star linemen were missing, but that shouldn't serve as an excuse even though they are the three best in the league. The Browns were just "up" for this one, and nearly pulled the upset of the pre-season drills. I wouldn't be surprised if these two teams come together again in the playoffs as they did last year for the professional championship. I'll take the Lions to repeat as champions.

Coach Charles Ketterer was slightly perturbed last week concerning his football charges at the high school. It seems that a few of the lads who designated a desire to come out for football this year when they signed up last spring failed to show up, and a few others left after the first few practices when the work got harder. I guess that happens in the best of high schools though. Some of the boys stayed on their vacation instead of reporting for pre-season practice—he is leaving it up to the team whether they want them to come out when school starts or not. Anyway he says he has 36 boys he can count on so far who really want to play football, and that is the kind of lads he wants to work with. A fellow must have the will to want to do something and strive for it with all he has in order to get anywhere in football or in life.

Many people judge a person by the first impression made, or by impressions made without even knowing the person. I have found that is a poor policy to follow, for in most cases one could easily see a wrong slant—too, I think that most persons look for critical characteristics in the other fellow at the outset. If we could only try to understand human nature a little better, and be more patient in our judgments it would be a much happier world in which to live.

Parents should be seriously concerned about all the little things their children do. It's too easy to think that a lot of these things don't matter, simply because the children are little. The little tots notice and study their parents, and want someone who understands them, and in whom they can confide. Much of the trouble children get into in later life is a direct result of lack of understanding, love, affection and care in earlier life. No matter what your business is, or how busy you may be, take time out each day to listen to that little tot who craves companionship, love and understanding. It will pay rich dividends.

Because a few of our leading citizens refused to see Plymouth go without its annual golf tournament one will be held a week from this coming weekend. These solid local men got the ball rolling when it seemed as though a tourney was out for this season. Many valuable prizes will be awarded in all flights with the Elton Eaton trophy going to the first flight winner.

The tournament this year will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, which under the able guidance of Nat Sibbold is becoming one of the best in the state. Qualifying rounds will be played Saturday, September 19. Anyone wishing to enter can secure an entry blank at the Chamber of Commerce office, or the Plymouth Mail.

"Young" Joe Thibedeau really pitched his heart out in that iron-man stunt last week as he hurled two shutouts in the same night to bring the Inter-City All-Star crown to Plymouth. When the chips were down, Joe really let go, and allowed only one hit in each game. Of course he had some great defensive help, and some clutch slugging by his mates to bring the trophy to Plymouth. It was really a team victory, but one high-lighted by Joe's aging hurling arm. The two wins were thrilling ones to watch to the local fans who accompanied the team over to Ypsilanti. Yes, Joe is one of the great clutch pitchers in this state.

I watched the high school teams scrimmage the other night—they didn't look too bad for the first time. However, they can't compare to the team that played against Wayne last year—yet anyway. This green team may develop into quite an aggregation before the season starts—one must remember that most of these players saw little action last year, and there are only seven lettermen back from the championship team of a year ago. If they have it in them to win ball games, the capable staff of coaches will bring it out. It will be an interesting season to watch.

Ted Williams is back from the wars and is belting balls out of the parks the way he did before he left for Korea as a jet pilot. He has socked eight already in 40 times at bat, and is hitting at

PLANS BROWNS' SHIFT . . . Bill Veck, owner of St. Louis Browns baseball club, considers offer of Los Angeles group to move the team to their city. Permission of other American League owners would be necessary.

Football Squad Plays Northville There Next Week

There will be no junior varsity football squad this year states varsity coach Charles Ketterer for the simple reason that there are not enough boys left to field two squads. The 36 boys who really want to play football will be carried on the varsity, squad this year.

These men have been working out twice a day for the past couple weeks and are gradually working into shape for the opening game against Northville a week from tomorrow night. The morale was a little low during the extremely hot spell of last week, but it has been much improved since the cooler weather came along. Practice sessions are held after school and there will be one this coming Saturday morning.

Coach Ketterer says the staff hopes to take movies of all the games this year. This will help in correcting faulty play and detecting flaws in the offense and defense.

The starting lineup is undecided as yet, but will be determined by the attitude, spirit and work thus far displayed, and that shown before the opening game next Friday.

An inter-squad game was held under the lights Monday night between two teams picked as equally as possible. Regular game conditions prevailed and much spirit and enthusiasm was shown by each outfit.

The teams were evenly matched and at the end of the first half the Blues were one point ahead of the Reds—the score being 7 to 6. The Reds counted in the first play of the game on a surprise 60 yard pass play—a plunge for the extra point failed. The Blues counted later on a line buck, and then ratted the ball over for the extra point.

a 435 clip. I hope he has a few real good years remaining before he has to hang up his spikes. He deserves the best. Any man who has served in two wars, left a job that meant hundreds of thousands of dollars to him to serve his country deserves the best. Personally I would like to see him crack the homer mark next year—it would be a fitting climax to a brilliant career as an athlete and a hero.

THE FIVE CAPABLE FOOTBALL coaches above constitute the staff of the Plymouth High school football teams. They have been working daily trying to get their charges in shape for the opening of the season next week Friday night. Last year this group brought the 6-B League championship and an undefeated season to Plymouth High. They are l. to r. Frank Sullivan, junior high coach and team scout; Bill Harding, assistant football coach and team scout; Charles Ketterer, head football coach; John McFall, freshman coach and trainer; and John Sandmann, athletic director and assistant football coach. The first game is with Northville there on Friday evening, September 18. The first home game is with Trenton here the following Friday evening.

Madonna Frosh Begin Orientation Next Monday

Freshmen at Madonna college will begin their orientation next Monday, September 14. Resident freshmen will arrive Sunday before 8 p.m. and day students will be on campus Monday morning before 9.

Extending from September 14 to 6, the freshmen days aim to give new students an initial orientation before the opening of fall classes.

Under the guidance of upper classmen, particularly their big sisters, freshmen will be conducted through the campus, to view the buildings and grounds—with a visit to the chapel, the administrative offices, the study hall, the dining room and the snack bar.

Preliminary inventories of occupational interests and several tests will be administered to the students as an effective aid to counselling during the school year. The dean and registrar will acquaint the freshmen with the ideals and organization of the college and the coming semester's program.

Included on the three-day program prepared by the student association are lighter moments—such as the wiener roast, a sports capade, a hike, and the student-faculty tea.

Wednesday, September 16, will begin with Mass in honor of the Holy Spirit at 9 a.m. All students will attend and will participate in the Missa Recitata (Dialogue Mass). Upperclass resident students are asked to arrive the preceding day, Tuesday, before 8 p.m. and day students on Wednesday morning in time for Mass. Registration and the purchase of books that day will conclude the freshmen days. Classes will begin the following morning, Thursday, September 17.

The orientation program for freshmen will continue throughout the first semester by means of weekly lectures at which attendance is compulsory. Collaborating in this program will be faculty members and upper classmen. They will explain to the freshmen such topics as the use of the library, methods of study, student government on campus, college objectives and curriculum - requirements, the guidance program, co-curricular activities, personality improvement. Special lectures on good health habits will be presented by the resident nurse. Phone news items to 1600.

Thibedeau's Two One-Hit Games Cinch Area All-Star Championship

Two superb hurling performances by Joe Thibedeau in the same evening enabled the Plymouth All-Star softball team to emerge victorious and grab the championship in the first All-Star Tourney sponsored by a group of newspapers in this area. Thibedeau's great feat resulted in shutting out Ypsilanti twice in a double-header last week Monday night to allow the local stars to come from behind in the final series and win by scores of 5 to 0 and 3 to 0. In each contest he allowed only one hit in proving what a great hurler he really is. Ypsilanti had gone ahead in the first game at Plymouth when they won a 10-inning contest 2 to 1 from Gabby Street and his mates. Then over at Ypsilanti, Thibedeau tossed a great first game to win 5 to 0 with Don Leichweis helping out with a tremendous homerun to spark the attack. After the first game had finished, a second was necessary, and Joe surprised everyone by again starting this contest. The slugging by his mates continued in this game with "Muggs" Hunt and Tom Fairbanks each socking a homerun. To reach the finals, Plymouth had defeated Garden City 3 to 0, and Wayne 4 to 1. Ypsilanti had beaten Wayne 2 to 1 and Garden City 10 to 2. With those two defeated teams out of the way, Plymouth and Ypsilanti went into their best out of three series, and after Plymouth had lost the first game, slight chance was given the locals of winning until Thibedeau uncorked his masterful iron-man stont.

The winning team received a trophy and each player took home an individual trophy. This concluded the softball season in Plymouth, and as this year's inaugural all-star tourney was such a huge success, it is planned that another such affair will take place next year.

Frosh Prepare For First Game

Hard at work for over a week now, Coach John McFall's freshman boys are busy learning the fundamentals of football. Thirty-one lads have been engaging in the daily workouts in preparation for their opening game of the season. Practices are held after school each day.

Coach McFall is being assisted by last year's Rock varsity captain, Ron Nyhus. The team plans on playing a six-game schedule this fall, four games are certain as of now, while two more are being arranged. The schedule will appear at a later date.

HOW FIRE INSURANCE puts the finger ON THE FIRE BUG

"Arson rings" once preyed upon America's big cities. Today, local authorities, aided by arson specialists, are making it too hot for these potential murderers. Incendiarism is now mostly the work of juveniles and mental defectives. This public service saves lives and keeps down the cost of fire insurance.

This is only one of the public services performed by capital stock fire insurance—a private enterprise—of which the insurance agent is an important part. His professional advice is yours for the asking. Phone me about your insurance—for, in these high-cost days, too little insurance protection for your home and belongings can be costly.

A lovely water garden is a rare sight around Plymouth, but Mrs. Thomas Gray of 1027 Dewey, has such a garden which is beautifully planned and executed. The garden, which is to the left of the house, is down a few steps from the normal ground level. The pool itself is made of cement in an unsymmetrical shape.

Most spectacular of the pond's flowers are the water lilies. Though they close up in the late afternoon, they provide a beautiful splash of color on the green pond. The water lilies are in colors of blue, red, pink and white. Growing up out of the water is a lovely lotus plant which has large round leaves and a beautiful blossom. Last year, Mrs. Gray said, the lotus had five blossoms at once.

Other flowers in the pool are water hyacinths, which bloom earlier in the season, and water poppies. The latter of small yellow blossoms. As plant food, Mrs. Gray uses regular water lily fertilizer.

The bottom of the pool is made of cement as are the sides. The roots on the lilies grow very long, and float freely in the water. Mrs. Gray said that it is necessary to thin out the plants occasionally to keep them from overcrowding the pool.

The pool is backed up by a display of rocks, from which water flows giving a waterfall effect. It forms a fitting backdrop for the lovely plants in the pool. Plant-life does not make up the whole of the garden, however, for Mrs. Gray has many gold fish in the pond as well. She need only wiggle her hand in the water at the pool's edge and the fish all swim up. With the goldfish are frogs and salamanders.

During the winter the pool is covered with pipes, tar paper and leaves. A window is left in the cover to provide a spot through which the fish can be fed, though Mrs. Gray said they require little food in the winter.

In the five years that the Gray's have had the water garden it has caused much comment by those who have visited it. It is truly an interesting sight among Plymouth gardens for it has an aura of peaceful simplicity.

What we need in the United States is a week-end that doesn't keep the undertakers busy the week following.

Close fitting clothes and beret shaped hats are being shown for fall wear. Hats are being designed to fit the new hair-do's. Some have a profile view and others feature soft curls from both sides or the back. Tight curls are out.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

NATURE'S LABORATORY

The greatest food factory in the world is the plant. It is the source of all nourishment. Meat is not necessary to man as a food. When he eats meat, he is only getting his vegetables and fruits second-hand, after the animals have digested them for their own use, and built them up into flesh, which is largely protein and fat.

The grass upon which the cattle feed is rich in minerals and vitamins, some of which they incorporate into their own tissues, and, in turn, impart to the flesh eaters.

Green fruits are unfit for food and if eaten are apt to cause sickness. The plant utilizes the carbon dioxide which is breathed out as a waste product by the animal kingdom and is in the air. It gets its water from the soil, and like all creation depends upon the sun's rays for the energy which enables it to carry the life-giving chlorophyll or green coloring matter. This is analogous to the red coloring matter in the blood which enables it to carry the life-giving oxygen to every part of the body. The carbon dioxide and water undergo a chemical change and form formaldehyde and acids.

The green fruit containing these substances is sour.

Wonder of wonders, if you permit the fruit to remain unmolested upon the trees, the sour, disagreeable formaldehyde begins to change into sugar. The process of ripening is a complicated affair. The sun carries on the chemical changes until starch is produced, then dextrin and finally malt sugar. The fruit is now ripe and quite digestible. The juices and sugar are nourishing and contain essential vitamins and minerals.

Vitamin C, which prevents scurvy and is healing to the mucous membranes is found abundantly in citrus fruits, tomatoes, fresh green cabbage and so on.

If the fruit is allowed to dry up, it changes again into tough indigestible cellulose, which is analogous to the bran of grains.

It is a fact that nature wastes nothing, even the residue of plants, fruits and vegetables, which is finally ejected, broken down by bacteria and undergoes chemical changes. Then it is again taken up by vegetable life, and goes on producing green leaves and fruits which once more sustain animal life. Thus we see the marvelous work of God throughout creation.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Check Your Cooking Technique

Roasting, broiling, panbroiling—these are dry heat cookery methods used for roasts, steaks and lamb chops. It is wise to frequently "brush up" on your cooking techniques.

The most important point to remember in meat cookery is using a low temperature. In roasting that means a 300° F. oven for beef, veal, smoked pork and lamb; 350° F. for fresh pork. A roast is more juicy and tender, and there is actually more meat to serve when it is cooked at a low rather than a high temperature.

In roasting, place the meat with the fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add liquid. If you have a roast meat thermometer by all means use it to eliminate any guessing as to when the meat is done. Insert it in the largest muscle, but not in fat or on bone. Do not cover the meat. Cook at the recommended low temperature until done as registered by the thermometer or for the minutes per pound recorded on a reliable time-table.

Broiling is one of the simplest of all meat cookery methods. The moderate temperature for broiling is obtained by placing the meat a certain distance from the heat. For instance, a 1-inch steak should be 2 inches from the heat, a 2-inch steak 3 inches from the heat. Timing is important in broiling. Follow your time-table closely to have chops or steaks cooked to the desired degree of doneness.

In broiling, place the meat on the rack and adjust the broiler pan so that the meat is the right distance from the heat. Broil until brown, season, then turn and finish cooking on the second side, season. Seasoning after broiling is suggested because salt tends to retard the broiling process.

Panbroiling is the range top method of dry heat cookery. This is suggested for steaks less than 1 inch thick, for ground beef patties and for thin ham slices, bacon, etc. Place the meat in a small amount of fat, then let it cook over low heat, turning frequently until done. Pour off excess fat as it accumulates in the pan. Do not cover or add liquid. Panbroiling requires about half the time required for broiling.

Strawberry Dressing
1 cup cream whipped
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1-2 cups crushed strawberries.
Fold the mayonnaise into the whipped cream. Add the crushed strawberries.

Deadly Killers
Apparently harmless items—cleaning fluids, washing powder, drain cleaner, kerosene, mothballs, antiseptics and disinfectants are responsible for hundreds of deaths. Most of these products give no warning of danger on the label, for they don't come under the federal caustic poisons act.

Cool Off With Canned Citrus

Dog days become doggone good days in the minds of youngsters, when Mother provides the wherewithal for nutritious homemade coolers that not only are better than any drink in town, but also taste better.

This time of year, it is especially important to be sure that a child's daily vitamin needs are met. Too many bottled beverages contain little in the way of food value, and they can't be relied on for actual refreshment. Young bodies need vitamins, minerals and proteins daily if they are to remain healthy.

Citrus drinks help supply their health needs, and they're easy to prepare, with convenient canned Florida citrus juices, chockful of the same vitamin C abundance found in the fresh juice.

Florida Float

Four canned Florida juice (orange, grapefruit, or blended grapefruit and orange) into freezing tray. Freeze to sherbet consistency, stirring once or twice during freezing. Fill glasses ¾ full with chilled juice, add a spoonful of the frozen citrus sherbet. Garnish with Florida lime slices and add a little Florida lime juice if desired.

Buy Large Sized Beef Roast If You Want Economy Meals

With beef on the abundant list you'll want to take advantage of the many cuts available. Today you will find there can be real economy when you buy a beef roast large enough for two to three meals—that is, if you make the most of your "encore" dishes.

Here are some suggestions. First of all, roast the meat at a constant low temperature. This insures a tender juicy roast and is the first secret to leftover beef goodness. Follow the regular roasting method, place it fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast at 300° F.

Storing the meat correctly is likewise quite important. When roast is cooled, wrap tightly with waxed paper, with aluminum foil or place in a closely covered dish and store in your refrigerator.

Suggestions for follow-up dishes should be merely a starter. Use your imagination to develop variations with the use of spices, herbs and seasonings, with sauces and with vegetables. For example, leftover beef becomes all the more special served with a tangy horseradish sauce. Make the sauce by simply adding 4 to 6 tablespoons of horseradish to a medium cream sauce.

Canned mushrooms may be added to cream sauce as another choice for cubed or sliced beef. Or you may heat chunky cubes of beef in a paprika sauce made by seasoning cream sauce with 1 tablespoon of paprika. All the more reason for planning leftovers is the famous barbecue sauce. Many will agree a Creole combination is grand with beef.

Still more uses of cooked beef include cubing the meat and combining it with vegetables in gravy for a meat pie, topped with a pastry or biscuit crust or with crushed potato chips. Or grind the meat and make it into meat muffins, a meat biscuit roll or use to stuff green pepper or tomato cases.

Vegetable Team
Cooked snap beans and cooked small whole onions make a good vegetable team. Season with salt, pepper and melted butter or margarine. Or serve the vegetables in a cream sauce to which paprika has been added.

The right thinker works; he gives little time to society manners or matters, and benefits society by his example and usefulness. —Mary Baker Eddy.

Needle Causes Most Troubles With Sewing

If your sewing machine is acting up these days, chances are it is the needle that is the villain. Eighty per cent of all sewing machine trouble is caused by the needle.

A needle that is too long, too short, bent, or incorrectly put into the machine can be the source of difficulties. There are 8,000 different kinds of sewing machines and only eight styles of needles that will fit any of those machines. The secret is to get the right needle for your machine. Buy machine needles by number or letter rather than by telling the make of machine. Look on your machine for needle specifications. Or if you are buying a new sewing machine, be sure to get manufacturers' instructions about the right needle size.

A blunt needle will pick up threads of the fabric and cause puckering. A needle that is too short prevents stitching at all. A too-long needle might mean skipped stitches. A bent needle generally has a groove the full length of the needle. This groove must go in the machine toward the side from which the machine is threaded. If the needle isn't properly installed in the machine the thread will break as the needle goes down thru the material. Keep your sewing machine clean. Use an oil that is made for sewing machines and avoid unnecessary residue when the oil evaporates.

ATTRACTIVE AND UP-TO-THE-MINUTE IN DESIGN, is this newly remodeled and redecorated bathroom of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Willoughby, 44661 West Ann Arbor trail, Plymouth. The walls are finished with solid gray Armstrong Monowall, a tempered hard-board base material with a permanent, durable plastic surface. Notice the recessed bath with cameo rose plastic wall tile. The floor, not visible in this picture, is finished with contrasting green Goodyear vinyl tile. Materials and creative designing of this modern bathroom were handled by Eger-Jackson, Inc., Plymouth.

Modern Sliding Doors Increase Space in Closet

Wise use of space is a mark of a good homemaker, but even the top-notch can be buffeted by a space-consuming swinging door on a closet. A two-fold problem is presented—cramped space in the room when the door is open and inaccessible space in the upper reaches of the closet at all times.

Today's architects and home builders are nearly unanimous in a solution to this dilemma. The majority are specifying and installing sliding doors. In many instances, they are ceiling height and therefore immediately make available for storage purposes the entire upper section of the closet which in old-style closets is wasted.

Of course, with sliding doors there never is the nuisance of a swinging door cutting off a corner of the bedroom or preventing the placement of furniture. There are other advantages too, and perhaps the most important is the modern appearance. In addition, sliding doors are readily installed, trouble-free in operation and inexpensive. There is a growing use of sliding doors for room dividers.

Beauty and efficient operation are assured when the manufacturers of sliding doors use modern materials which are selected for fundamental soundness and proper functioning. Leading producers panel their sliding doors with Masonite Tempered Preswood, a smooth, grainless hard-board which takes any applied finish and which is highly durable and resistant to bumps, abrasion and moisture.

A midwestern company has developed sliding doors which have such a smooth gliding action and rattle-free stability that they've become known as "Glide-All" sliding doors. Principally they are furnished in the natural brown color of the Tempered Preswood, which the contractor or owner finishes to blend with the surroundings—with paint, enamel, varnish, wax or even wallpaper.

Whether the home is new or old, sliding doors may be installed with a minimum of fuss. In older homes, for example, one side of a room may be devoted to a closet wall with sliding doors decorated to match the other walls, or a closet may be erected in a corner.

Sliding doors are expertly engineered so that their installation is quick and simple. They have rattle-free, smooth operation because of the firm, steady contact between rollers and tracks. These doors have oilless bearings which never require attention. The Tempered Preswood panels are resistant to scratches and bangs and will not split, splinter or crack.

Painting Fabric

It is just as easy to paint fabric-covered walls as plastered ones. On new fabric, be sure to apply a good priming coat. Follow with one or two coats of the finishing material you have selected. On fabric walls that have been painted before, a primer, naturally, is unnecessary.

GLIDING DOORS!

Ceiling-high gliding doors are the homemaker's answer to better use of closet space. They can be installed easily in apartments, new or old houses. Underneath the gay wallpaper in the doors shown are sturdy, steady and strong panels of Masonite Tempered Preswood. Instead of this decor, the homemaker may have them painted, enameled, lacquered or varnished. Gliding doors are the modern treatment for closets and storage walls.

THE BAFFIN features a combination living and dining alcove through the center of the house with two bedrooms and bath on one side, kitchen and garage on the other. The front vestibule leads into a vestibule with a coat closet. The rear goes to the garage and basement. Rear has closet, too. The kitchen is small and compact with cabinets on both walls. Sink is under the window, stove, next to chimney, and refrigerator on inside wall. Each bedroom has twin wardrobe type closets. Linen closet is in hall, towel cabinet in bath. The roof lines of the Baffin are low, featuring overhanging eaves and asphalt shingles. The exterior walls are planned to be finished with wide siding. Not counting the garage, the dimensions of the main house are 40 feet by 22 feet. The floor area totals 938 square feet, while the cubage contains 18,291 cubic feet. For further information about THE BAFFIN write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

brittle materials would be seriously damaged but interior walls of wood paneling would remain pretty much intact.

3. An average wood house located about two-thirds of a mile from ground zero would collapse but the rubble would be dispersed so that simple wooden lean-to shelters in the basement would protect occupants from bodily injury. The very nature of its construction, plus the resiliency of wood, would prevent the wood structure from crashing into the basement in a single heap.

4. A wood house painted white probably would not catch fire even when located as close as two-thirds of a mile from ground zero—provided the building was not exposed to fire from other sources. It's expected that any slight surface charring which might result from atomic heat waves would cease before the shock wave hit the building. In the Nevada test, there was no free flaming of either house for the shock wave to extinguish.

5. The exceptional ability of wood to withstand shock without fragmentation would cut down the danger of flying missiles. This danger would be increased by loose facings on the house and by the use of large amounts of glass and other fragile materials.

Be Spatter-Wise

When painting with quick-drying coatings, be careful to wipe up any spatters promptly. It's always wise, of course, to work with a drop cloth or old newspapers covering the floor.

When Re-Varnishing

If old varnish is in good condition, you can apply another coat after sanding it lightly.

Frame House May Survive Atomic Blast, Report Says

What are the chances of your house surviving an atomic blast?

Pretty good, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, if it's a wood house and if it's located away from the immediate target area. How far away it should be would depend on the size of the atomic blast, on how well the wood house was constructed, and on a number of other factors.

New information about the resistance of wood houses to an atomic blast is contained in a report just published by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. The report, written by NLMA's Technical Director Richard G. Kimbell and John Fies, NLMA's Pacific Coast building codes consultant, appraises the results of an atomic test conducted last March on two typical wood houses in the Nevada desert. Kimbell and Fies were present as observers at the test.

House No. 1 was located about two-thirds of a mile from ground zero—the point directly below a 500-foot tower from which the explosion was set off. House No. 2 was situated about a mile and a half from ground zero. The atomic blast was equal to some 15,000 tons of TNT—about 25 per cent less than the A-bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki during World War II.

The NLMA reports said the test indicated that under similar conditions the following could be expected:

1. A well-constructed wood house located about a mile and a half from ground zero would remain upright. Some structural damage would result but this could be easily repaired.

2. At the same distance, interior walls of plaster or other

"Blind" Application Of Roll Roofing Conceals All Nails

Asphalt roll roofing, often used for garages, farm service buildings, and other utility structures, can be applied so that all nail heads are concealed.

"Blind nailing" is an excellent method of application wherever roll roofing is used and is particularly recommended for use in windy areas. Where one strip of roofing laps another, the edge of the bottom sheet is nailed to the roof deck while the overlapping edge of the top sheet is cemented with quick-setting asphalt cement. Full instructions are included in packages of roofing material.

Paint Remover Works Like Magic

In these days of high costs, Mrs. Homemaker turns to practical ways and means to give her home furnishings new life. Worn and weary furniture can be rejuvenated, but this has always been a terrific job. Now, thanks to recent chemical discoveries, furniture that hides clean wood and good design beneath layers of marred paint or varnish shed the old faces and take on a new look—all in scant time.

The secret of the new-type paint removers is the chemical methylene chloride. Formulas which contain this product were developed during World War II, but, because of their quick-action value, were all scooped up by the military, and only now have become available for widespread civilian use. Unlike older type paint removers which merely dissolve the coating, methylene chloride actually "lifts" from the surface any number of coats. The layers then peel before easy strokes of a putty knife like pancakes from a griddle. In a matter of minutes, the smooth grain of the wood is laid bare.

Only three simple steps are required with methylene chloride formulas: (1) With an old paint brush, spread the formula thickly on the article; (2) Allow ten minutes or so for the paint to crinkle; (3) Peel off dead paint with light strokes of a putty knife. For remaining traces, a quick once-over with steel wool dipped in the solution adds the final vanishing touch. A fresh coat of paint or varnish can be applied immediately. Paint and hardware stores sell methylene chloride removers under various brand names. Ask for one containing this chemical. Because they are identified as "nonflammable," they are easy to recognize.

L-Hook Shelf In Cabinet For Saucers

Waste space between shelves in a kitchen cabinet may be utilized by the installation of simple hanging shelves on which small items such as cups and saucers, salt and pepper shakers and bric-a-brac may be stored.

Usually small in size due to space limitations, these shelves ordinarily are from six to eight inches wide and from twelve to twenty inches long. Make them from Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard.

Insert long L-shaped hooks through drilled holes in the hardboard and then screw them into the shelf above. The hooks should be near the edges and at the corners of a shelf which is not longer than one foot. Intermediate hooks inserted mid-way on the long sides of the rectangle should be used if the length is greater. Paint or enamel the shelves, as desired, using an undercoater and two finish coats.

The same principle of attachment may be used for other small shelves similarly located.

This Week—FLEDR A WOLFF

Being a manager at the Drapery Fair, 842 Penniman avenue, is the full-time job of young and attractive Mrs. Fledra Wolff. She has worked at this store since January, 1952. But before this time she acquired much valuable experience working elsewhere. She likes her present managerial position, even though her work seems to continue endlessly. A few routine items on her everyday list are answering the phone, putting in orders, trimming the windows, and keeping the books in order. She is also kept busy waiting on customers who come in search for their needs. Good salesmanship proves to be a valuable asset in this capacity. The Drapery Fair sells drapery and curtain material as well as small carpets. Mrs. Wolff and her husband have lived in Plymouth since 1945. Their home is at 503 North Harvey street. An active member of the community, Mrs. Wolff belongs to the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club and the Eastern Star. As a relaxation from all day's work, Mrs. Wolff likes to watch television in the evenings. She finds a variety of programs entertaining in those few leisurely hours each day.

Miss Merinda A. Pierson, teacher of piano, voice culture and sight singing, is ready to receive pupils. She has several years' successful experience in teaching music.

Agents from Chicago are in this locality working the farmers to buy new cooking ranges. It is a safe thing to let these propositions go by and purchase only from reliable dealers, who can and do guarantee the goods they sell.

Water Works Superintendent Conner is busy this week putting in iron water mains on the Ambler farm, west of Northville. Mr. Conner thinks as much water escaped through the leaks at this place as came down to the reservoir. There will be no danger now of a shortage.

Farmer Proctor of Canton, Tuesday undertook to drive a cow and used a stick to facilitate the animal's movements. The stick broke when he whacked her over the back with it, one end flying up and hitting him in the eye, cutting through the lid and injuring the eye-ball slightly. He came to the village and Dr. Patterson attended to his injury.

Harry Evans, teamster for the Daisy company had a narrow escape last Saturday. When loading a heavy steel girder at the freight house, his horse became frightened and made a sudden start, throwing Evans between the wagon and girder, and but for the quick stopping of the horse, he might have been crushed to death.

A cablegram received Saturday by Peter Gayde announced the safe arrival at Bremen, Germany, of Albert Gayde and Louis Reber.

Harry Williams, formerly of Plymouth, who is a fireman on the Pere Marquette, accidentally opened a steam valve while making some repairs to his engine at South Lyon Monday, badly scalding his face.

Reverend W. O. Stovall brought his bride to Plymouth last Friday and they are at present domiciled at the home of Frank Shuttuck, until the Baptist parsonage is vacated.

Allan Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong has been awarded one of the four $450 scholarships in John Hopkins university in gas engineering by the Central Public Corporation through the Michigan Federated Utilities, Wayne county division. These scholarships are given each year to deserving young men employed in the organization, with the idea of stimulating the interest of young men in taking up the work of gas engineering.

Mrs. Catherine H. Campbell, a member of the House of Correction commission for the last four years, commenced last Tuesday her new duties as assistant superintendent of the Woman's division at the House of Correction farm. She will be the first woman to have direct supervision of the more than 350 women prisoners.

George Merryweather was again successful with the white Swiss Mondane pigeons at the State fair. He was awarded eight awards, three firsts, two seconds, third, fourth and fifth prizes.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Iven Eklund, of Adams street, are safe in Poughkeepsie, New York, after having been isolated for two days because of the flood in that section of New York.

Teachers from Plymouth who returned to their work in Detroit Tuesday include Miss Ruth Shattuck, Miss Helen Roe, Miss Pauline Peck, Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple and Miss Helen Fish.

George W. Springer received a letter last week stating that his brother, Henry Springer, a former Plymouth resident, was seriously injured last Monday while cutting wheat on his farm near Tawas City. Mr. Springer had gotten off the binder to throw some bundles away from the front of the machine, when a bee stung one of the horses and caused the animal to rear and plunge, and Mr. Springer was knocked down and his head and neck were severely cut by the blades of the binder, requiring 64 stitches to close the wounds.

Word has been received here of the death of W. E. Smythe, a former resident of Plymouth, who passed away at the home of a daughter in Chicago, August 23.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl January spent the Labor Day vacation at Cedar Point and Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Crumbie were week-end visitors of Miss Helen Wells at her home near South Bend, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Correll Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hicks returned to Washington D. C. after spending a week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loomis on Ann Arbor street.

hospital in Ann Arbor, Miss Mary Daoust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daoust, of Starkweather avenue, has been graduated from Mercy hospital.

City Manager Clarence Elliott has reported to the state the death of a large number of fish in the Rouge river. He said that they had been sighted by a truck driver at Plymouth road, and he added that the fact that they were seen at Plymouth road is a clear indication that the pollution of the water which killed the fish did not come from the sewers of the city of Plymouth.

It is not often that a prospective husband is so thoughtful as Sergeant Arthur Dickie of Plymouth, who is stationed somewhere in the historical land of Persia. The other day Miss Marion Crumb received from her soldier fiance a bracelet and two hand carved pearl rings made in Persia. He also sent her a rug.

Jake Stremich, owner of the Hillside barbecue, reports that despite gasoline rationing, he is doing the biggest business in the history of the popular restaurant.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell of this city on August 22 at Sessions hospital in Northville. Both mother and babe are getting along nicely.

Second lieutenant John Christianson has been enjoying a six day furlough at the home of his parents on Maple street. He has been stationed at Deming, New Mexico where he has received his bombardier wings. He left Tuesday for further training at Tucson, Arizona. Robert Unger, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Unger of Main street arrived home a few days ago to visit with his parents. After his arrival in Plymouth it was his pleasure to receive from the commanding officer of the Quartermaster's Corps at Dodge City, Kansas, where he is located, news of his promotion from corporal to sergeant.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel
Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas
Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*
Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it
You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops
An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

It's heavier for better roadability
You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

You can see all around
You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

WATCH THE GENERAL MOTORS FOOTBALL GAME OF THE WEEK—NBC Television Network

And it's the lowest-priced line
A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

ideas from other editors

From the Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, New York: The state of Georgia has reduced its voting age minimum to 18 years, the first of the states to do so. President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are strongly in favor of reducing the voting age. Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee, reports. Sooner or later all the states will have to make a decision on this issue. In favor of 18-year-olds voting is the argument that anyone old enough to fight is old enough to vote, and entitled to a voice in a national policy which may send him overseas to fight. Also some feel that adding young voters to the rolls will bring in a youthful and idealistic group who may neutralize to some extent the conservatism of the mature voter. Take time to think out your stand on this issue, so that if and when it comes before you at some future election, you will know just where you stand.

From the Oconomowoc Enterprise, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin: A store is overstocked. It puts on a sale. It clears its shelves. It learns a lesson the hard way and becomes better for it. An industry over-produces. It collectively or separately puts on mass drives to sell the surplus. This is frequently done in over-production of perishable products. Under government operation the surplus is taken off the market or destroyed at the cost of the taxpayers. There is no incentive for initiative. It's cold loss figures in government, as against sound business practices of free enterprise. One road, free enterprise, is the road to a future, the other, government control or ownership—another name for socialism, is a road to dry rot.

SOCIAL NOTES

From the Newark Courier-Gazette, Newark, New York: Retailers "can't get along" without newspaper advertising and "they'd better not try." Those words didn't emanate from an advertising solicitor, but from a retailer, J. C. Penny, chairman of the board of the company that bears his name, and a man who knows how to sell merchandise. "We can't do business without newspaper advertising," said Mr. Penny. "The newspapers are our market place where we come to cry our wares." In thousands of communities the local newspapers reach millions of readers regularly with a visual record of news and advertising that is not matched by any other means of communication.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Clarke and family have just returned to their home on Burroughs avenue after being called to Bradford, Pennsylvania, by the death of Mrs. Clarke's mother, Mrs. A. L. Stover. Mrs. Stover, who has visited Plymouth many times in the past several years, passed away in Bradford on August 30.

Mrs. Edna O'Conner of Palmer avenue was the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick and daughter, Mary Lou of Northville road.

Mrs. Carl Shear of South Main street and her grandson, David of Ann Arbor have returned from a several days visit in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Jervis Wendland and daughter, Wendy were hosts on Labor Day at their home on Auburn avenue to Mrs. Ida Beyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wendland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanchett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keehl, Sr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keehl Jr. all of Plymouth; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Themm of Pontiac.

Reverend Melbourne Johnson of the First Methodist church spent Monday at Albion college where he attended a fall retreat for ministers of this district being held at the college all this week.

Miss Violet McCartney of Brush street has returned from a week's vacation spent at Houghton lake.

Mrs. Ada Murray has returned to her home on North Mill street after visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Starkweather and family in California. Mrs. Murray also attended the National But-ton Convention while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Schmemmen at their cottage on the St. Clair river near Algonac.

Eighth of Nation's Crops Grow on Irrigated Land

Economists calculate that one eighth of the nation's crop output is coming from a sixteenth of our total harvested cropland, due to irrigation. Practically no cropping would be possible in the Western States without artificial water supply.

For example, Nevada has all but 100,000 acres of its 620,000 in cropland under irrigation. Harvested crops in Nevada come from the 413,000 acres of irrigated cropland while the balance of 36,000 acres is devoted to irrigated pastures. The remaining 69,245,000 acres in Nevada produce the remaining one-tenth of all crops produced in the state. Better than four-fifths of the production of crops is on irrigated land in California, Colorado and Wyoming.

Similar cases of the importance of irrigation are found in Idaho, where three-fourths of the crops are grown from irrigated land; one-third in Oregon, Montana and Washington, and about one-sixth of all crops produced in Nebraska and Texas come from irrigated lands.

The expansion of farm land being brought under irrigation, with the exception of large projects such as the Grand Coulee in Washington, is small. Expansion on the remaining land in the nation, both suited to irrigation and with water available, is largely confined to marginal areas.

Although a better system of farming has resulted from irrigation in areas where it has been effected, it has been at a great cost to farmers. Farmers have extremely heavy investments in the development of wells, canals, ditches, land levelling, drainage and machinery, the economists point out.

Hast thou virtue? — acquire also the graces and beauties of virtue.—Benjamin Franklin.

Adlai Stevenson's Round-the-World-Tour...

When Stevenson started on his fact-finding tour of the world last March he believed he could travel like an ordinary citizen.

What he learned, and early during his tour, was that he was not just a man who had lost an important election, but rather a power in United States and world politics. Publications in the Far East forecast with complete confidence that he will be the next occupant of the White House.

Read how Stevenson was received in Japan, Malaya, India and other countries. Read, too, his keen observations on his intensive first-hand study of world affairs.

It's Happened Here Again... Tower Gets '54 Paint Job

There was something in the air last week which led folks to believe that school days were again approaching.

The "something" was a large "54" painted high on the city's water tower which rises above the landscape near the center of town.

Beside the freshly-painted "54" is a "53" painted in red letters, but now badly smeared with paint.

An infrequent visitor in the city may have remembered a "52" and "51" painted on the tank and assumed that this was the site of a company working its way up to be a H. J. Heinz plant with its 57 varieties. But local residents know better.

In the past they have known that some senior boy had climbed the water tower. But this newest piece of work leaves one wondering. Besides painting the "54" with sea green paint and then smearing the "53", a large "MSC" appears on the tank. The question remains if the artist was a member of Plymouth High school class of '54 or Michigan State college class of '54.

Everyone knows that the act isn't exactly the thing to do when it comes to law and order. A high cyclone fence around the base of the tower wasn't put there to keep the enclosed grass green—everyone knows that. And painting public property isn't quite kosher either.

But ever since 1951, some ambitious student has scaled the fence, climbed the tower and performed the precarious paint job. Police caught the pioneer of this "back to art" movement in 1951 and he was soundly reprimanded. It is believed that condensation of moisture on the outside of the tank done away with the '51 and '52 paintings.

Night-time climbing of the tower can be a dangerous business. Even day time ascent is bad enough, city officials tell, because there is no ladder. One just climbs the little crossbars which go into making the tank's four legs.

So who is the daredevil of '54? One might try finding a senior boy and then inspect his hands for smudges of sea green paint. Then again, one might as well forget it. It'll happen again next year.

Big Fish Story

Want to fish in "The World's Biggest Trout Pond"? For fifty cents you will be allowed 12 minutes to catch all the 10 inch to 20 inch wild trout you can pull in at the Michigan State Fair's trout pond, during its 10 day operation, September 4 through September 13.

With the blessings of the State Department of Conservation thousands of trout will be sent from Crystal Springs Trout Farms, Springport, Michigan, and will be placed in the 440 feet by 40 feet lagoon, used in former years as a decorative lake in the middle of the fairgrounds.

Visitors may keep all the trout they catch. As a matter of fact, the State Fair will supply deep freeze facilities where the fish may be kept until you leave the fairgrounds.

Proceeds realized from the fishing will go to the Y's Men Club of the Detroit Downtown YMCA which will use the funds for its summer camps and recreation programs.

Hotel Training Starts 26th Year

The hotel administration training program at Michigan State college, the second oldest in the nation, will begin its second quarter-century of service this fall. It will have the largest student enrollment in its history.

An expected 200 freshmen, almost twice the number who entered in the fall of 1952, will make up about one-half the entire student body of the Michigan State college division of hotel, restaurant and general institutional management.

Today, 600 graduates of the program, conducted in Michigan State's unique Kellogg Center, hold positions as managers of hotels, clubs, hospitals, restaurants, industrial food services and allied businesses.

Town Hall Ready For Fall Opening

Eighteen Wednesday morning programs will be offered during the gala Silver Anniversary season of Detroit Town Hall which opens October 14, at 11 a.m. in the Fisher Theatre. A gay troupe of entertainers from the high Tyrolean Alps will be the opening attraction.

Events under contract for the coming season, and the dates of their appearances at the forum are: October 21, Vicomtesse Antionette de Bellaigue, former tutor in the Royal, British household; October 28, "Singapore Joe" Fisher with colored movies of Africa; November 4, Dwight Cooke, noted radio commentator; November 11, Carlos Fallon, Latin-American expert and humorist; November 18, Doris Fleeson, dynamic Washington columnist; December 2, Columbus Boy choir.

For the period following the Christmas holidays, the following programs have been scheduled: January 6, Dr. You Chan Yang, Korean Ambassador to the United States; January 13, William F. Buckley, Jr., author of "God and Man at Yale;" January 20, Raymond Schindler, America's "Sherlock Holmes;" January 27, John Harvey Furbay, showing his color film of Ireland.

During February and March, Town Hall management has booked the World Affairs Council for February 3; Cecil Beaton, noted photographer and stage designer, February 10; Grant Johannesen, brilliant young pianist, February 17; Robert Shaw, TV script writer, February 24 and Kathryn Turney Gaeten, March 2. The speaker for the March 10 date will be announced later.

Season reservations are available at Detroit Town Hall Headquarters, Room 1613, Kales Building or by phoning Woodward 3-5617.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Frank T. Garland, Pittsfield, N. H.: I remember when many people baked in a stone oven and burned what was called a "witch" (a shallow dish with tallow and cloth string) for a light. I also remember when neighbors took turns in going to the store with an ox cart and a yoke of oxen to bring back supplies for the entire neighborhood.

From George W. Earp, Lamar, Missouri: I remember 80 years ago when I was nine years old living with my parents on a farm near Lamar, Missouri, the town where President Truman was born in 1884. My parents bought green coffee at the grocery store for five cents a pound. This green coffee was shipped to the grocery merchant in 100 pound bags. My mother would roast it in the biscuit pan in the oven of the kitchen stove (she called it parching) and it was my duty to grind this in a small coffee grinder for our daily meals.

ROADMASTER
CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

TO you who have yet to drive a 1953 Buick ROADMASTER, we have this to say:

There is waiting for you at the wheel of this car a tremendously satisfying experience—the most magnificent Buick motoring experience of the past half century.

We say this as a matter of straight and simple fact.

For in this automobile—the smoothest-riding, the most maneuverable, and the most instantly responsive ROADMASTER in history—is an engine unlike any other in the world, plus an automatic transmission of similar uniqueness.

Here, you command the first Fireball V8 Engine—the world's first V8 with vertical valves—the modern and advanced V8 with the highest horsepower ever placed in a Buick, and the highest compression on the American scene today.

Here, you command distance through the liquid grace of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—where getaway response is instant and quiet, and power build-up is infinitely, utterly smooth.

Here too, you take a new step forward in fine-car motoring—in the luxury of your ride, the luxury of your surroundings, the luxury of your control, with Power Steering standard equipment at no extra cost.

We can give you the details, the reasons, the facts.

But—wouldn't you rather learn the sum total of such things in a road sampling of the greatest ROADMASTER yet built?

We'll be happy to arrange matters. Why not visit us soon?

ONE OF THE ANNUAL HIGHLIGHTS of the Base Lake season is the annual cruise of the boat Mishap between Base Lake and Zukey Lake. The Mishap is owned by Alvin Collins of Plymouth and the cruise was started many years ago by Alfred Strassen and his orchestra who would serenade the residents of the two lakes in an all day cruise ceremony. Pictured ready to sail on this year's cruise are left to right, Alfred Collins, Edward Drews, Martin Strassen, Mel Nichols, Jack Taylor, Ted Strassen and Robert Todd.

College Launches Alcohol Research

An approach toward the problem of alcoholism which will emphasize the correct attitude of police officials will be taken during the coming year in research at Michigan State college.

Robert H. Scott, associate professor of police administration at Michigan State, says that no longer does the end of a policeman's responsibility to an alcoholic legal offender come with the click of a cell lock.

"At a time when alcoholism is generally considered to be a disease," he said, "we must remember that the offender can be arrested, but not the disease."

Scott was one of the recipients

this year of a scholarship from the State Board of Alcoholism to the Yale University Center for Alcoholic Studies, long considered the mecca for research on this subject.

With the aid of students, fellow Michigan State instructors and a $2,000 grant from the State Board of Alcoholism, Scott will conduct research into the problem.

Police estimate that, apart from traffic offenses, about 50 per cent of their cases stem from the drinking problem, Scott said. The troublemaker may be a chronic drinker, an otherwise good citizen who periodically gets drunk, or a "social drinker" who takes a little too much.

"Obviously these three types do not have the same problems," Scott said. "A police official must have a good working knowledge of alcoholism if he is to recommend treatment. Rarely is a police department in a position to treat the alcoholic, but they can refer him to agencies that can help him."

The reason some people don't stick to the truth is that such a policy would eliminate a lot of conversation.

Work Continues At Site Of New Dunn Steel Plant

Grading work is continuing at the site of the new Dunn Steel Products company plant on the city's north edge.

The half-million dollar building will replace the present plant and office of Dunn Steel Products at 377 Amelia street. Plans call for the new building to consist of offices at the front with production and warehouse facilities at the rear. Since the plot will permit a two-fold expansion in the future, two of the concrete block side walls are considered temporary.

The office portion of the building will be of concrete block construction with brick facing. It will be trimmed in aluminum paneling and will have its own heating and air conditioning systems.

F. R. Dickerson, president, said the decision to build the new plant was prompted by the automotive industry's continued acceptance of the company's products and by the necessity for enlarging facilities to handle customers' needs more adequately.

The new plant also will allow the Dunn Steel Division of the Townsend company to operate more efficiently on a multi-shift basis and provide additional storage space. The company will continue to employ about 100 persons.

January 1, 1954 has been set as the completion date for the plant. The one-story building with 41,000 square feet of floor space is to cost $353,000. Land, roadways, a paved street and equipment will boost the total cost to about $500,000. The new site is about a half-mile from the present plant.

Bicycle Etiquette Provides Safety

As Plymouth children step from beaches to books, and many of them mount their bicycles to pedal to school, it is well to remind them of safety precautions. A booklet entitled, "The ABC of Safe Bicycle Riding," is issued as a public service by the Bicycle Institute of America and contains many helpful suggestions on bicycle etiquette. The leaflet also includes a bicyclist's code for self-protection on the roads.

Plymouth children may benefit by taking the following "oath of allegiance" to careful cycling: "I pledge to observe the rules of safe riding whenever my bicycle is in operation."

"I pledge to ride my bicycle in an expert manner for my own safety and pleasure."

"I pledge to keep my bicycle in good operating and mechanical condition."

"I pledge to encourage my fellow-riders to follow all the rules of safe bicycling for our mutual welfare."

Traffic experts believe that most bicycle accidents are caused by violation of some simple traffic rule or failure to keep the bicycle in good operating condition.

Twelve safe-cycling rules which may keep children from joining the ranks of accident victims are as follows:

1. Observe all traffic regulations — red and green lights, one-way streets, stop signs.
2. Keep to the right and ride in a straight line. Always ride in single file.
3. Have a white light on the front and a danger signal on the rear of the bike for night riding.
4. Have a satisfactory signaling device to warn of approach.
5. Give pedestrians the right of way. Avoid sidewalks; otherwise, use extra care.
6. Look out for cars pulling out into traffic. Keep a sharp lookout for the sudden opening of auto doors.
7. Never hitch onto other vehicles, "stunt" or race in traffic.
8. Never carry other riders. Carry no packages that obstruct vision or prevent proper control of the cycle.
9. Be sure that brakes are operating efficiently and keep your bicycle in perfect running condition.
10. Slow down at all street intersections and look to the right and left before crossing.
11. Always use the proper hand signals for turning and stopping.
12. Don't weave in or out of traffic or swerve from side to side.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
 Courage for Christian Living
 Lesson for September 13: II Timothy 1: 3-14.
 Golden Text: II Timothy 1: 7.

Marcus Aurelius, in his meditations, acknowledged his debt to his forbears, beginning with his grandfather. Paul, in writing to Timothy, reminded the young man of his debt to those who in a blessed succession of faith had led him to become a Christian and one fully prepared for high living and fine service.

And Timothy was urged to stir up the gift of God and to be busy in the work of the gospel, ready, if need be, to suffer hardship as a good soldier of Christ, as above all things remembering the Lord and all the Lord had done for him and for all who might believe on Him.

Courage should come to Timothy in the assurance that Christ had abolished death and "brought life and immortality to light through the gospel." Men are encouraged to go on with some great undertaking when they are assured that there will be time to complete it. So may we be encouraged in the work of the gospel as knowing that the limitations of earth and death itself will not deter them from winning the crown of righteousness, which the great Judge will give them in the eternal day.

Plymouth Group to Operate Booth at Hospital Fair

Volunteers and staff at Northville State hospital are planning the first Northville State hospital fair on September 17, in the hospital recreation area. It is to be a carnival with booths, prizes and contests, all of which are provided as a recreational activity for the 600 patients.

Among the volunteers who will be operating a booth is a group of Plymouth women, headed by Mrs. Byron Champion. This group also arranges monthly birthday parties for one particular ward they have "adopted." According to Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service at Northville State hospital, "This is one of our most faithful volunteer groups and we wish we had many more who are as active."

Any groups or individuals who wish to donate small prizes or snack food items are asked to contact Mrs. Champion at Plymouth 459. She will arrange through the hospital to have any donations picked up, and will furnish a list of requested items.

Serving on the publicity and volunteer committee is Mrs. Gladys Sutfin of Plymouth, who works in the hospital accounting office. She will be glad to discuss booths which groups may sponsor and may be reached at Plymouth 439 evenings.

Chips from the ROCK

Many people have asked us why we haven't printed something about our 19-year-old daughter, Cynthia, who has spent the summer in Europe vacationing on a college tour in company with seven other college girls, under the guidance of Miss Virginia Harrington, Dean of Women of Barnard college. Since we are on our way to New York at this time to meet the group on their arrival home we herewith present some brief observations she has told us in letters from the continent.

"Today we saw the Azores, the first land since we left New York. It was a glorious sight and the azure blue waters were crystal clear with the Azores seemingly looming out of nowhere. Beautiful pillowy white clouds seem to frame the entire picture."

"Our first stop was at Gibraltar where 'Bum-Boats' completely surrounded our ship. They were filled with Spaniards, selling all kinds of junk but we were told to ignore them because sometimes they peddled dope that way. None-the-less people did buy from them and they were fun to watch as they bartered.

"Today we are at Capri which is absolutely breathtaking in spots and very ordinary in others. The fantastic villas are a sight to see and Gracie Fields, who was on our boat, has a most gorgeous one. Here for the first time we encountered an area where we can't drink the water and must order boiled water sent to our rooms whenever we wish a drink.

"In Naples our hotel looks just like those you see so often in Foreign Assignment on television. Naples itself is not outstanding. You see trolleys and surreys and even Cadillacs. Communist political signs are everywhere as are also Coca-Cola and Chlorident signs.

"We visited St. Peter's church this morning where the eight of us, along with 5,000 other people, saw the Pope. Each nationality was jammed into their own special boxed area and when the Pope gave his special blessing to each group in their language they cheered loudly. We were the only Americans today except for a group of servicemen and we had been briefed in the USO not to whistle when cheering, because in Europe it means the exact opposite to what it does in America. Swiss guards in striped, colorful costumes guarded the Pope's throne, and he was carried into the church on a plush red chair on their shoulders so all could see him.

"Today we went through much of the 35 miles of the catacombs and also went through Vatican City which is beautiful. The ceilings themselves are fantastic in beauty and art but the statues and mosaic pictures make it almost unbelievable. The ceiling of the Sistine Chapel by Michelangelo of the Garden of Eden was perfectly gorgeous.

"Breakfasts in Italy are most uninteresting, hard rolls, jam and tea or miserable coffee, but lunches and dinners are wonderful—too good.

"We arrived in Venice after a hot and dirty train ride and here we had the first difficulty making our maid understand we wanted water for a bath. We finally got it however and couldn't wait to start touring Venice which is darling. You never could imagine it till you see it with all its quaint ways. There are even street lights in the waters, and riding in gondolas with singing boatmen is a fascinating experience.

"Switzerland is for me. Honestly it is absolutely beautiful—so clean with the sweet Swiss chalets and the darling outfits of the people. I'm having a horrible time keeping from buying one of the silly hats they wear.

"Tonight when I arrived at the hotel in Baden-Baden (Germany) Traudl was there waiting for me. (Traudl, for our readers information, was the German student brought here last year by the Rotary club to attend Plymouth High school and who lived at our home during the year.) She looks fine and was wearing the dress made for her by Mrs. Gardner. (Mrs. Hugh Gardner of 144 Pearl street, Plymouth.) She was most happy with the hose and lipsticks which I brought her and wanted to hear all about Plymouth. We also called and talked to Franz in Reichenhall where he is attending a hotel school. (Franz was another Rotary student who stayed in Plymouth with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader.)

"I talked to Dave and Judy Nichol on the phone this morning and they were so disappointed because I couldn't arrange to see them. (Dave Nichol is a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News and the son of Mrs. Walter Nichol of Plymouth and brother of Mrs. David Mather.) They are both fine and Dave wondered if the (Edwin) Schraders still had their cute little charcoal stove out in their back yard."

"The tour of Cologne was horrible. I never have felt so uneasy in my life. People stood and glared at you as you walked by and I never have seen so much hatred in people's eyes. As you passed you could hear them whispering about you, but as you saw all of the ruins from the last war you could understand why they had all of the hatred. Honestly the ruins were horrible. I never realized what a war could do to a city nor did I ever expect to see so many ruins at any one time.

"Holland, wonderful, wonderful Holland. So far this is my favorite. The people are great, so nice and so glad to see Americans. Yesterday we toured Amsterdam and Voldam and all of the people at Voldam were in native costume. We went through a cheese farm and a diamond cutting factory. Very interesting and no free samples.

"And now in Merry old England. Such tradition echoes through the streets that you really feel part of it. Men in their dark suits, derbys and umbrellas are great. We have already visited Buckingham palace where Changing of the Guard is a most impressive sight. It is thrilling to see London Bridge, the old Curiosity shop which Dickens immortalized, St. Paul's Cathedral and all the rest. Tomorrow we go to Stratford-on-Avon where we will stay over night and take in a Shakespearean play. Oh, we also visited the House of Parliament and saw the Crown Jewels. One diamond in the scepter is 530 carats... quite big, eh.

"This morning we leave for Paris and I have been quite worried about whether the strikes would prevent us from visiting in France. However, our plans haven't changed except we will fly across the Channel and from here on in you probably won't hear from me for the next three weeks because no mail is being delivered in or out of France at all. At any rate when the 'S.S. Constitution' leaves from Nice I'll be aboard and see you in good old New York."

Roger Babson Says:

BABSON DISCUSSES AUTOMOBILE PARKING

Gloucester, Massachusetts. Automobile parking will make or break many cities. The future of your community may depend upon the public parking facilities. Not only will the business of the merchants rise and fall according to the parking facilities, but these facilities will be a great factor in causing factories to locate in your community. Therefore, I strongly advise every reader to get excited about the parking situation where he lives. There's money for everyone in adequate parking.

SPECIAL PROFIT OPPORTUNITIES

The purchase of land for parking facilities by super markets, industrial plants and department stores is giving some old families huge profits. For instance, the "A & P" people—in a city near here—have said good-bye to the business center and have gone out a mile and bought a small farm. On this the "A & P" management is developing a super market. It is at the junction of two main highways and also adjoins the railroad. They have paid $50,000 for this farm which a few years ago could have been bought for $15,000.

Any reader of this column who has a level field of an acre or more within reasonable distance of the present business center should be very careful before selling. It may be worth ten times its assessed value for parking purposes. I forecast a real boom in acreage suitable for industrial plants, super markets and department stores. We are on the verge of a great revolution in the location of such stores and plants.

BUY ADJOINING LOTS

Driving about New England towns this summer I have seen many small stores and homes where an adjoining vacant lot is for sale. I strongly advise that the owner of the store or home purchase this adjoining lot immediately. In the future this lot will add considerable to the present value of your place, as well as serve as protection. The value of a building usually is constantly declining; but the value of the land is usually increasing. The time is coming when parking on all streets will be forbidden, especially at night. Fortunate those will be who have a place on their own land for parking and other purposes.

Another good speculation is vacant land near where a cross street intersects a Through-Way or a Turnpike, or even a heavily traveled road. The reason for this is that modern Through-Ways allow no exit from the adjoining property onto the main highway. Going along one of these new Turnpikes you see a beautiful knoll and think this would be a fine place to build a home. Upon inquiry, however, you learn that you must buy to the nearest crossroad in order to get in and out. Yet, there are many such junctions where there are now no buildings whatever. The land close to these intersections will be the first to build up and should now be excellent purchases or speculations.

MUNICIPAL PARKING PROGRAMS

When I was a boy here in Gloucester there was no municipal water plant, or sewerage system, either one of which could then have been installed for one-quarter of what they later cost. I believe that most cities, including the city from which I am writing this column, are very shortsighted today as to municipal parking facilities. Furthermore, the longer a city waits to tackle this problem in a big way the more it will cost. These parking expenditures may amount to a million or more and perhaps equal the cost of a water, gas or sewerage system; but they can be paid by self-liquidating bond issues.

These municipal parking systems can become very profitable to everyone. As an illustration let me refer to Quincy, Massachusetts. Here the city demolished the buildings at the rear of one side of the main business street at a cost of a million dollars. This provides parking for a thousand cars with a parking meter for each car. Not only have these parking meters given a fine income, but the business property on this side of the street has considerably increased in value. The merchants are opening a "second front" at their rear with new show windows. They also are developing their basements as additional floors. Some stores have almost doubled their business. Now the stores on the other side of the street are begging for another municipal parking area at the rear of their stores and want the city to invest another million dollars in more parking facilities.

Buck Passing on Bingo and other forms of "charitable" gambling is responsible for one of the dizziest political situations in years. Every government agency finds it wise or necessary to point its finger in another direction. Result: Any one trying to fix responsibility gets goggy running a circle from office to office.

Boiled down, the situation can be simply described. Banning of bingo depends on the prosecutor and sheriff in each county. These officials can order arrests. If they prove their cases, courts have little choice, must find defendants guilty. State law and legal precedence are plain. Bingo and raffles are unlawful according to Supreme Court interpretations.

"Ouis" exist for just about everyone. The Governor, whose office permits him to remove a local official not performing his duty, refuses to become involved. "It's strictly a local issue," he says. The Attorney General cannot yield to requests that he permit "charitable" bingo games. He explains, he "can only interpret the laws as they are written."

State Police have a long standing policy of taking part in local law enforcement only when requested by local officials or when ordered by the governor. It is natural that they should maintain this practice with bingo. And they do.

Ducking out from behind the eight ball are local police officials and prosecutors. Angered if they do and cussed if they don't, they face the dilemma of arresting part of the local population no matter what they do. Since they are elected officials, their job may depend on the keenness with which they analyze hometown sentiment. If sufficient pressure is brought to bear, local officials forbid such lotteries; otherwise, they tend to overlook them.

So lottery is permitted in one part of the state; forbidden in others. Detroit firemen, who hold an annual raffle of automobiles at a field day, were warned by Detroit Police Commissioner Donald Leonard that they would be arrested if they sold tickets this year. They countered by securing an injunction from a Detroit Circuit Judge preventing enforcement of the gambling law in their case. Copies of the injunction were served upon Detroit and State Police Commissioners, prosecutors and the Attorney General. Legal mills grind sufficiently slowly so that tickets were sold and the raffle held before anything could be done... if anyone had wanted to do anything!

Only solution, says the Attorney General's office, is for the Legislature to make new laws which would permit "charitable" gambling; make practical definitions about the other forms of lotteries and games of chance.

Feeling runs high on both sides of this argument. In the minds of some legislators, the harm done is more theoretical than practical. For these reasons, no one should be surprised if the Legislature is "too busy with more pressing matters" to consider the question at all.

About 70,000 More Children are starting school this year than last September, says Clair-L. Taylor, superintendent of Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Youngsters in school relieve mothers of worries during class hours, but the vastly increased number of them add up to a man-sized headache for school administrators in crowded areas. Most difficulties are encountered in lower grades of schools in metropolitan districts, those areas adjoining Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing and other cities.

Biggest educational problem is also an old one. Teachers and their salaries. Although pay in many areas is fair, average salary for all school teachers in Michigan is only $3,900 per year.

This, compared with $3,030 starting salary for untrained stenographers under state civil service, does not seem an amount to attract people into the teaching profession.

Financing schools will be more difficult, too. Mr. Taylor expects about $185 million to be available for school districts this year. That is one million less than last. Michigan's 1,250,000 school children need 45,000 teachers (2,000 more than 1952). Figured on a per student basis, schools must operate on $147 per year, a decrease of $10 as compared to last year.

Residents must be prepared to hear more and more about education problems. This year's increase of 70,000 students is largely made up of children born since the close of World War II. They mark the first part of an increase which is expected to swell each year. The meeting of this challenge is a primary consideration of leading educators. Even now they point out the inadequacies of schools at all levels from kindergarten to college.

A New Tax Form will soon be in the mail. It will be sent to companies and people taking in $20,000 or more a year.

It concerns the first payment of the Business Receipts Tax which was enacted mid the fuser of closing days of the last Legislative session. The form is simple. It asks for only four figures: How much was taken in? How much can be deducted? How much is the difference? How much is due?
