Ralph G. Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower hotel, has been re-elected president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce by the Chamber board of directors this week.

Also elected to office were George Mayhew, manager of the Consumers Power company, who will serve as vice-president, and Harry Larsen, assistant vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit, who will be treasurer.

Death Follows Stroke At Football Game

Funeral services will be held today for Arthur J. McKinley, 57, who died at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor last Saturday noon after suffering a stroke while attending the Plymouth-Allen Park football game here the evening before.

Mr. McKinley had been a guard at the Detroit House of Correction for the past 12 years. He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Judge John Faust Post 113 of the American Legion.

Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D., will officiate at the services held from the Schrader Funeral home at 1 p.m., followed by interment in Riverside cemetery. Hymns will be played on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Pallbearers are Edward Gollinger, William Stinson, Leo Goss, William Guldner, William Fann and A. V. Smith.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret McKinley; two daughters; Mrs. Dneyse Ebersole of Ypsilanti and Miss Donna McKinley of Plymouth; two sons, Sergeant Richard McKinley stationed in Alaska and Corporal Derald McKinley stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia; one sister, Mrs. Rose Albers of Hornell, New York, and other relatives and many friends.

Meanwhile, City Manager Albert F. Glassford is conducting an inquiry into mounting stories that the police department mistreated the stroke victim at the Friday night game.

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee said that with the removal of the parking meters on Main street, no more parking or standing of vehicles will be allowed in that area.

Next action on the city commission agenda may be some regulation of the traffic light in front of city hall which the AAA recommends be turned off except during school hours to make a smoother flow of traffic.

Mrs. McKinley and her daughter arrived at the game late and had not yet found Mr. McKinley when the loudspeaker summoned (Continued on page 7)

Start Removal of Parking Meters

The first concrete action on the AAA traffic survey became evident yesterday when city employees began the removal of parking meters on Main street north of Penniman avenue and when a state line-painting truck moved into the city.

Six meters on the west side of the street are being removed to make way for two lanes of southbound traffic, one lane for left turns onto Penniman and the other for straight-ahead or right turn traffic.

Plans also call for the removal of three meters on the east side of the street from the Fluelling gas station building to Penniman. Purpose of this removal is to avoid congestion when cars leave or park at these meters.

The line-painting truck began work shortly before noon yesterday and will paint centerlines on all of the city's main arteries. A lane for left turns will also be painted for traffic turning left from North Main street onto Starkweather avenue.

Posts Reward to Identify Antagonist in Night-time

Mysterious poundings on doors, ringing of doorbells and tappings on windows during the night have prompted a North Harvey street couple to proclaim an all-out war on their unknown antagonist. The acts began 15 years ago!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConnell, 170 North Harvey, told The Mail today that they are willing to pay a reward to anyone knowing the identity of the person or persons who began 15 years ago to antagonize them. They report that anytime during the night they may hear poundings on the door or the ringing of their doorbell. Often a stick or some other object is used to tap on the screens or windows.

About five years ago the mysterious annoyances stopped—but it started again a week ago. Only once has Mrs. McConnell caught a glimpse of a person leaving their front porch. The disturbance occurs at various times of the night and skips several nights.

"I don't know why anyone would want to bother us," Mrs. McConnell said. "We're peace-abiding citizens who have tried to remain friendly with everyone." Mr. McConnell is a barber here.

The township board made the appointment at its last meeting. Mrs. Rathburn was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Roy Lindsay who was named supervisor after Mr. Rathburn died.

The board of review meets several days each March to hear complaints on tax assessments. The other member of the board is Walter Scott.

Local Community Fund Drive Sets Sights on $19,000 Goal

Symphony To Feature Local Tenor

When Wayne Dunlap, director of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, raises his baton for the first concert October 25 a new sight may greet the eyes of those attending. Because of the size of the orchestra this year, over 90 musicians, Dunlap said that the audience may sit on the stage of the high school auditorium with the orchestra itself on the main floor.

But even though the arrangement of the auditorium may be changed, Dunlap added that the music will be of the same high calibre as presented in the previous seven years of the orchestra's existence.

Soloist for the first concert is a man familiar to most residents, Fred Kendall, tenor. Kendall will sing the "Shylock Suite" by Faure, "La Donna Mobile" from "Rigoletto" by Verdi, and "Old American Songs" by Copland for the Sunday afternoon concert.

Kendall started his singing career as a boy soprano in Niagara Falls, New York. He appeared on the radio in Buffalo as a soprano soloist until his voice changed, and he became a tenor.

Kendall received a summer Julliard extension scholarship at the Chataqua Summer Music center in 1939. At that time he was a tenor soloist with a large Buffalo church. While at the summer music center Kendall also sang tenor roles with the Chataqua Opera company.

The following year he was granted a music scholarship to North Texas State Teachers college. Majoring in voice, he was soloist with the school's touring a capella choir. He also appeared with the Houston and Dallas Symphony orchestras.

Kendall entered the army in 1942, and while stationed in Hawaii, he joined the special service unit of Maurice Evans, famous Shakespearean actor. He toured the Hawaiian islands with the troupe's musical shows.

Stationed in Japan, Kendall married Plymouth girl Evelyn Ambler who was serving with the Red Cross. It was this that prompted Kendall to make Plymouth his home.

Capture of Four Youths Clears Mystery of Thefts

Four teen-age boys apprehended by Plymouth police as they siphoned gasoline into their stolen car, have admitted their guilt in a long-standing series of thefts and have implicated four other boys in other burglaries and larcenies which have taken place in the Plymouth and Livonia area.

Because of the age of the four, police are withholding their names, but all four have been in trouble with law enforcement agencies before, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee stated.

It was a Karmada street neighbor who looked out of her bedroom window one night last week and saw some boys around a truck at the McLaren Transit Mix company. Calling police, three patrolmen moved in on the youths.

Questioning divulged that the boys, two of them 15 years old and the other two 16, had taken a car a short time before at Rose Auto Inc., 684 Ann Arbor road, and had driven it to the nearby McLaren property to get gasoline so that they could drive to Texas. One of the boys was from Plymouth and the other three were from nearby residential areas.

The quartet admitted taking gasoline from the McLaren trucks and cranes on previous occasions, even though the premises is floodlighted.

Their admissions also cleared up the theft of an automobile and burglaries at two local schools on October 4. They named two companions who on that date took a car belonging to Karl Beard, 9251 Brookline, only a few blocks from Smith school, where $41.65 was taken. Nothing was missing at Bird Elementary school where entrance was also gained.

Chief Greenlee states that he has received reports from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Kentucky and Indiana authorities reporting that the pair of teen-age boys drove the Beard car to Goshen, Indiana where they left the car, took another one and drove it to Kentucky where it was involved in a collision. One of the youths is in the hospital, and another one is in jail under $1,000 bond.

The Beards had their car returned to them Monday by their insurance company. The car had a damaged muffler and a blanket was taken.

Two brothers were also named by the four as being involved in numerous thefts around the city. They claim that the brothers had taken hub caps, raised cars at the Champion Corrugated Box company, taken items at the Wolverine Scrap Metal company and that one of the brothers had bragged he had taken nine cars from parking lots in the vicinity of Plymouth and Livonia.

Charges of auto larceny and the theft of gasoline have been made against the four boys. They are to appear before juvenile authorities in Detroit this week.

Solicitations To Begin On Tuesday

With its sights set on a goal of $19,000 the committee for the 1953-54 Community Fund campaign held its well-organized machine in readiness for opening day, Tuesday, October 20. Under the direction of Harry Roberts, general chairman of the Plymouth drive, the committee hoped for donations "at least as generous as last year."

A "kick-off" breakfast scheduled for next Tuesday at the Mayflower hotel at 7:30 a.m. will start the campaign rolling after which downtown solicitations will begin. At 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday the high school band will parade down Main street while girls from the high school distribute posters to merchants. The Boy Scouts will also do their part to help the drive with a special demonstration at Kellogg park on Saturday, October 24. The campaign is scheduled to continue until November 12.

So that contributors may know what use their money is being put, Tom Kent, president of the Community Fund board of directors, stated that there are ten agencies being aided by the fund. They are: Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse association, Recreation Commission, Veterans Memorial Foundation, Will-Baby Clinic, Plymouth Dental Fund, and the United Foundation Services. The Red Cross has agreed not to solicit industry in the Plymouth area and accept a sum from the local fund drive in lieu of the collection annually made by them.

Firm Hired to Make Township Zoning Survey

First steps to re-zone Plymouth township came at the last meeting of the Plymouth township board when a Birmingham firm was hired to make a new zoning survey of the township.

The firm of Wilcox & Laird, industrial architects, has been hired to make the new survey.

According to Supervisor Roy Lindsay, "the township must look into the future and not only the present." Though the township already has a zoning ordinance, growth in recent years has prompted township officials to make the new survey. It will be many months before the survey is complete and ready for study by the board, Lindsay stated.

Unusual Cactus Plant in Bloom

Beautiful fall weather brings the best out of everything, and one of the happiest residents of Plymouth is Mrs. Fred Jackson of 160 Union street. A cactus, given her as a gift three years ago by Mrs. Isabelle Taylor, for the first time has blossomed forth with three buds, two of which are beautiful blooms, star shaped and measuring eleven inches across.

Although the plant itself is only eight inches high one shoot has dropped from the container and from it the three blooms have developed. Mrs. Jackson doesn't know the name of the cactus, but she has written the Detroit Cactus Society for identification and invites any local resident to see the unusual bloom while it is in bloom in the next two or three days.

I'm Wired For Sound Again!

CARL PETERSON

Someone You Know, Knows Me!

I believe that the worth of cabbages and men depends on how they "head up." That's why I put my noggin in the newspaper to show you the pride of the old Peterson family. My wife says, "Carl, if you must be seen, for heaven's sake don't be heard." She thinks that if she can keep me silent she'll keep me dumb because I had a head start that way. So every time I start to sound off about my store and good-neighbor policy she yanks the bell-cord. Maybe I am a little daffy but I have an idea or two where my brain ought to be. I'm after the biggest drug business in town—and I'll get it because I have great faith in Plymouth—and in Peterson.

PHARMACY IS THE HEART OF THIS STORE Prescriptions Filled With Care & Conscience

THE SUBJECT IS SOUP. And I'm in the soup up to my neck unless I can get some of my soup under your belt. My good store cook makes it by the cauldron. And, brother, this is rich-vitamin packed vegetable soup loaded with fresh garden varieties. The price is two-bits a bowl with crackers and a bib. Just use good manners and breathe when you eat so you won't gargle and disturb my other customers.

Why Not Drop In Today?

ANTIQUE BELLS FOR POSTERITY. You'll find a lot of them in my store. I bought them from an importer. I think they ring in Hindu but friend husband will answer a dinner call in any language. They're very novel in antique brass with a colorful cord which you pull to jingle the bells. Some of your loved ones yet unborn will appreciate these bells as a family heirloom. That's after you become an ancestor, of course. Personally, I don't think much of my ancestors. I figure they're a lot like a potato—the best part of it is under the ground. By the way, the bells are only $2.50 per set, up to $15.00 per set.

IT'S HERE new! instant neutralizing Lilt with exclusive new wave conditioner to beautify your hair

MAN, YOU DON'T LOOK WELL! You look like you're just hanging by your thumbs. But nix on giving up the ghost at your age. You've got a long stretch ahead if you let me fix you up with wonderful Parke-Davis Vitamins. I can pull you out of the hole in a hurry and save you money. If you don't think you need vitamins, drop in anyway and I'll tell you what to do for your mother-in-law's rheumatism.

I'M NO GIMMICK GUY. Fellow came into my store yesterday with a gimmick to put in my safe. He said if burglars broke in it would make them sick. I told him I had a better idea. I only leave a dime in my safe. That will make them twice as sick.

MY CUSTOMERS ARE MY BOARD OF DIRECTORS Mister, It's a Great Way To Run a Business!

between Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail. It is also suggested that a white picket fence be placed around the tree and wreaths be hung at the four sides. Christmas packages could be placed under this tree.

The committee recommends that smaller trees be placed at each corner of Kellogg park, using the same type of picket fence. Another tree would be erected in the park at Liberty and Starkweather and still another in the park at Starkweather and Mill streets.

Further recommendations call for an "early American" type sign post at all entrances to the city saying "Welcome to Plymouth." The sign would be permanent and illuminated. Roping and special greeting could be an added feature at Christmas time.

The present strings of lights could be used for trees with the exception of the large plastic bells which could be joined six to eight to a string with one string across Penniman near the post office, Forest near Ann Arbor trail, South Main street south of Ann Arbor trail, Main street near Liberty and Starkweather street near Liberty.

The costly permanent electrical installations would be footed by the Detroit Edison company at no cost, the committee reported. The entire project would cost an estimated $3,100 of which $1,700 would be paid from the Chamber's special Christmas lighting fund. The city has set aside $600 in their budget for the program, leaving $800 to be raised.

Nat Sibbold, Chamber executive secretary, points out that once the program is put into effect, it will cost much less in subsequent years to use similar themes. On the committee with Sibbold are George Witkowski, chairman, Harry Roberts, Russell Stoniker of the Detroit Edison, Robert Wesley, and City Manager Albert F. Glassford.

a doctor. Mrs. McKinley said that she then saw them carrying her husband on a stretcher in front of the stands and that she had to argue with police to call an ambulance—that the police wanted to take him home.

The widow also said that witnesses have told her that the two policemen "tried to make him walk" when they took him from the stands. Mrs. McKinley has threatened to take legal action.

Chief Greenlee told The Mail this week that the stories have no truth in them whatsoever. "I knew that he wasn't drinking because I had talked with him only 10 minutes before the game. We were good friends. I have known Art McKinley 20 years and I knew that he hadn't been able to even take a drink for the past two years because of his heart. He was a policeman and so am I, so why would I ever mistreat him. I've never mistreated people who actually were drunk."

The chief then told that it was his intent and that of Patrolman Westfall to get McKinley off the stands for there was danger of him falling through. "We saw immediately that he was paralyzed and needed a doctor," the chief added. In their attempt to get the ailing man off the stands, the two police department men found it an awkward job and many on-lookers may have thought it an attempt to get him to walk down, the chief stated.

"We called the ambulance as soon as we got to the patrol car," Greenlee said. It took some time for the ambulance to arrive, he added. A doctor traveling with the Allen Park team examined McKinley and diagnosed his condition as a stroke.

While many have sympathized with Mrs. McKinley in the controversial affair, a guard at the House of Correction who was a co-worker with Mr. McKinley stopped at city hall Tuesday and complimented the chief on his handling of the situation Friday night.

The Ladies Mission Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday, October 21 at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. William Sakcriska, 39908 Kopernick road. All ladies of the church are invited to attend.

Symphony

Kendall became a tenor soloist on the station and now appears on "Guest House" at 7 p.m. daily. He has also done several guest appearances with Betty Clooney on her television show.

In 1949 Kendall won on the Arthur Godfrey talent show. He has also appeared with the Detroit Civic Light Opera company in its productions. His appearance without the Plymouth Symphony orchestra is nothing new, for he has sung several times with that orchestra as well as the Detroit Symphony.

South Lyon Cow Completes Test

With 18,926 pounds of milk and 682 pounds of butterfat to her credit, Worden Marathon Starlight Bess, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by De Forest B. Thompson of South Lyon has completed a 365-day production test in official Herd Improvement Registry.

She was milked two times daily, and was three years, six months of age when she began her testing period.

Her record averages approximately 24 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Testing was supervised by Michigan State college, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The date of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet for 1953 is November 11 instead of November 1 as reported in last week's Mail. The banquet will be held at the Bird school.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church in Livonia has asked the ladies of St. Peter's Lutheran church, Plymouth to be their guests at a fall luncheon on Wednesday, October 28. Anyone wishing to go kindly make reservations with Mrs. Kenneth Norris phone 2365-XM before October 22.

The only way coffee will break down your health is losing sleep in trying to find a decent cup of it.

WHAT TO DO WITH LEAVES is the question nearly every Plymouth homeowner is faced with every autumn, but the photo above shows what not to do with leaves. Go ahead and burn them, city officials urge, but don't do it in the street. Fire can seriously damage concrete and blacktop although it may not appear immediately. This "do not" photograph was posed for The Mail by Mrs. Donald Ward, 711 Burroughs. Before touching a match to a leaf pile, call up the fire department and tell them where you are burning the leaves.

Newspaper Ads Total $6 Millions In '52 for Kroger

More than six million dollars was spent for newspaper advertising by the Kroger company last year, it has been reported by William J. Sanning, director of advertising for the retail food firm.

That amount represents a steady increase during the past fifty years, Sanning said, pointing out that his company has been a major buyer of newspaper space since before the turn of the century.

Ads for early Kroger sales were tiny notices about B. H. Kroger's "fine coffees, teas, and spices," appearing in only one or two papers. In contrast today, the company plans to use more than twenty million lines to advertise its 71st annual fall sales event, now in progress. Translated into everyday terms, that would add up to a super-size newspaper of approximately 10,000 pages, if all the ads were in one issue.

Kroger ads appear regularly in more than 1,100 daily and weekly papers, Sanning explained, pointing out that the company has spent more than $22,000,000 for newspaper space in the past five years alone.

"Our sales last year topped a billion dollars for the first time in our history," he said, "and I feel certain our extensive use of newspaper advertising was a major factor in making that record possible."

Sanning also praised the part played by newspaper food price advertising in holding down the cost of living. "By providing guidance on market trends, seasonal products, and special items, advertising allows homemakers to take advantage of current values," he continued. "At the same time, it helps to move available merchandise from producers to consumers at minimum cost," he added.

Theatre Guild To Discuss Plans For Next Play

The new season of the Plymouth Theatre Guild is about to start with the production of a three-act play "Lo and Behold." Plans for the annual fall play will be discussed at the next regular meeting to be held Monday evening, October 19 at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial building on Main street.

Members who will guide the activities of the Guild the coming year are the following, who comprise the Board of Governors: president, Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller; vice president, Ruth Popovich; secretary, Mrs. John Gaffield; C. V. Sparks; corr. secretary, J. H. Wilcox; members at large, Mrs. Wallace Laury, Mrs. Effie Kuisel, Mrs. H. Philip Barney and Douglas Havershaw.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild is a civic organization under the sponsorship of the Adult Recreation program and is open to anyone interested in any phase of theatre work.

Optimists Resume Teen-Age Dances

The Plymouth Optimist club announced this week that it would again sponsor a series of teen-age dances during the current school year. Matthew Fortney, president of the club, said the first dance is scheduled for Saturday, October 17, and that no change had been made in admission prices.

All dances will be held in the Plymouth high school auditorium, from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m., and will feature the dance music of Vern Diederick and his orchestra. Dances will be held approximately every other Saturday. Actual dates will be announced in the public schools of Plymouth and Northville several days in advance of each dance.

President Fortney stated that the dances had been successful during past years, and he expects they would be well received again this year by the youth of the community.

Grange Gleanings

Tonight is Grange night again and it is hoped there will be a good crowd. The bazaar is a matter of importance, and there are many details to be talked over. There will be a couple of films shown that will please you.

The dance is scheduled for Saturday night, October 31 and should be well attended. Mr. and Mrs. Carson will furnish the music and calling. Doughnuts and cider will be on sale for a nominal sum. Members may invite guests so let's have a nice crowd. Make this dance a success.

The Lily club held the first fall meeting on Monday night with a very poor attendance. Why? Those who come always have a good time.

Mrs. Ara Ferlig is in the St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor with pneumonia and is very ill.

The next meeting is November 5 with the usual pot luck supper. There is a fine large class of candidates who will receive the first and second degrees.

DOWN PAYMENT on his $1,000 gift to the St. Mary's hospital building fund campaign is being given by Frank Henderson (left) to James J. Gallimore, associate campaign chairman. Mr. Henderson, partner in the Plymouth Plating Works, lives at 401 Sunset. Mr. Henderson stated as he made the presentation this week, "I am making my donation because I recognize the need for a hospital in this area, and I believe that everyone should be behind St. Mary's 100 percent."

Passage-Gayde Auxiliary Reports Recent Activities

Marie Thompson, new president of the Passage-Gayde American Legion Auxiliary attended the "Fall Conference" at Lansing, as Delegate, Virginia Fann, Adah Langmaid and Dorothy Knapp also attended.

The Girl's State representative, Luree Merillat, reported at the business meeting October 8, on her attendance at the University of Michigan summer camp. It was a very interesting and informative report.

The 17th district convention was held at Myron-Bears American Legion home. Our Delegate, Marie Thompson attended. Also Adah Langmaid, Maxine Kunz, and Virginia Fann. Department of Michigan President Fern McCauley and Department of Michigan Secretary Bertha Probstel were guests.

The social meeting on October will be opened to the public. We are having a guest speaker from the St. Mary's Hospital Building Fund Campaign. All interested persons are invited to attend. It will be held at the Veterans Memorial building at 8 p.m.

Our rehabilitation chairman, Mildred Hewer, has reported sending nine birthday cards with a dollar in each to the veterans at Maybury and Eastlawn who had birthdays in September. The nine dollars came from the Poppy Fund, which is donated on Poppy Day by the citizens of Plymouth.

The trip to the hospitals with service baskets will be announced at a later date.

As a rule a fellow who can turn his hand to most anything, seldom does.

The human affections need to be changed from self to benevolence and love for God and man; changed to having but one God and loving Him supremely, and helping our brother man.—Mary Baker Eddy.

We know that Doctor Ralph Snoke is a hard-working dentist when in his office down in The Professional Building, but just found out that his mind works just as fast while having lunch at The Mayflower, too. He's inquiring for the correct spelling of "cerendipathy" which means "chance favors those who are prepared." Well, "Doc," if we had a vocabulary that included such words as that we wouldn't be peddling rags. Maybe the word-pusher up at "The Mail" can help with that one. We'll stick to our old Boy Scout version—a simple "Be Prepared!"

Most unusual and intriguing gismo we've seen for some time is an hors d'oeuvres hand-server made of solid mahogany. It's available in The Wine Shop, and would make an excellent gift for the discerning person who "has everything."

To prove that we live in a topsy-turvy world here's a quote overheard in the lobby: "My dear, the 'permanent' in your permanent-wave is shorter than the 'temporary' in temporary-taxes."

Our nomination for "calmest-man-in-town": Dr. William Herbold. No matter how exhausting his work, or how turbulent the world about him, he remains unruffled. Some of his serenity rubs off on the folks around him at noon-time lunches in the Pilgrim Room.

"Maggi is here". So states a sign in the windows of The Wine Shop. Maggi is a bottled condiment or seasoning that is now on sale to the general public. The Ford Times mentioned it in its national magazine several weeks ago with one of The Mayflower's famous recipes. Now it can be bought by the general public, locally in The Wine Shop and by mail to any part of the country.

Attorney Russ Cutler has a movie on the subject of "Living Under Law" that is so interesting and informative that it will be shown to at least two clubs meeting in The Mayflower this week. First to The Suburban Bar Association on Wednesday and then to The Lions Club on Thursday.

Those even-three hand-some young fellows at dinner on Saturday were from Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo. They comprise the school's track squad, and although having just been defeated by Wayne University, seemed in very high spirits. The jubilation of youth is not to be denied by a mere athletic set-back,—nor did it dampen their enthusiasm for the Mayflower's steaks.

We have found a double example of what Robert Louis Stevenson meant when he said,—"A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note". The double-example being Mr. and Mrs. Fred McOsker.—He of the Nash-Kelvinator concert in Detroit. The staff of the Mayflower is delighted with the sunshine of their smiles,—those very contagious smiles.

Garden Club Sees Slides of Europe

"Through Europe with Slides" provided members of the Plymouth Branch of the National Farm and Garden association with a most enjoyable afternoon at the regular meeting last Monday. The program, which was presented by Mrs. Henry Walch who was assisted by Mrs. Margaret Hough, afforded members and guests with a visual trip across the continent.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Chester Teasel on Warren road, and tea was served by a committee headed by Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum and Mrs. Peter Miller. Mrs. Russell Isbister and Mrs. Byron Becker.

The date for the club's annual greens sale was set as December 11 and 12, and will be held again this year at West Brother's Appliance store on Forest avenue. Proceeds of this sale go to aid some student in college.

Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum will be hostess at the next meeting which will feature Christmas wrapping as displayed by Mrs. Frazer Carmichael on November 9.

Captain Resigns

Captain Ira Rush of the Salvation Army has resigned his position here to accept an appointment as Methodist minister in Gwinn, Michigan. The resignation will be effective on October 27 when he will leave Plymouth to take up his new assignment in northern Michigan.

In making the decision to relinquish his position with the Salvation Army, Captain Rush stated that for many years it had been his desire to be a Methodist minister, and when the opportunity presented itself he couldn't turn it down, especially in view of the fact that the call came from a town in the vicinity where he spent his boyhood.

He has been in Plymouth for the last four months, coming from Adrian to take the position vacated here by the transfer of Captain William Roberts to Detroit.

West Bros. Nash Among Winners in Sales Contest

Alfred West, Wilbert West and Roy Hecox of West Bros. Nash, Inc., were among the dealers honored at the Grosse Ile country club Tuesday by Nash Motors. The Plymouth trio attended the banquet as winners in a three-months Nash sales contest.

Rehearsals Begin For Civic Chorus

The Plymouth Civic Chorus will next week join other local groups in resuming work after the summer holiday. Director, Fred C. Nelson has asked all former and prospective members to come to the rehearsal Monday evening, October 19, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., in the high school.

The music which will set the chorus to rehearsing will be "Music for Christmas" by Jan Meyerowitz. The score includes chorus, orchestra and two soloists. Nelson said the new music should prove a stimulating change of musical diet from the traditional "Messiah" sung each year. One chorus from that oratorio will be included in the program, "The Hallelujah Chorus."

The chorus will perform at the third concert of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, on Sunday, December 13. Wayne Dunlap will direct.

Anyone interested in singing in the Civic Chorus is welcome to participate, Nelson said.

Members of Plymouth Lions club will see a movie presented by the Michigan Bar association at their meeting at the Mayflower hotel tonight. The program has been arranged by president J. Rusing Cutler.

Donald Kinghorn - Lillian Pelley Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kinghorn

Miss Lillian Edith Pelley and Private E2 Donald Allen Kinghorn repeated their nuptial vows on Saturday, October 3 before the Reverend Melbourne Johnson in an eight o'clock candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist church. Lillian is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Burleson of Ross street and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark of Henry street, Detroit are the bridegroom's parents.

Candelabra, palms and bouquets of white glads adorned the altar. Miss Phyllis Mitchell was the soloist. She sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Lillian wore a floorlength gown of white satin with Chantilly lace and nylon net. The basque bodice was of the Chantilly lace over satin with stand-up collar and long lace sleeves. The lace extended into a peplum falling into a deep point at the back of the skirt which was of nylon net with Chantilly lace hemline. Her fingertip length veil was of illusion and she carried a white satin covered Bible centered with a white orchid, stephanotis and satin streamers.

Mrs. Norma Malcomson, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of powder blue nylon net over taffeta, fashioned like that of the bride. She carried yellow baby mums and rosebuds in a colonial bouquet. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Geraldine Hassen of Wayne, Mrs. Sally Puckett of Plymouth. They wore orchid gowns fashioned like the honor matron. They carried colonial bouquets of bronze baby mums and rosebuds. Kathy Miller of Plymouth was the flower girl. She wore a floor-length yellow taffeta gown and carried a small bouquet in colonial design.

Donald asked Ronald Pelley, brother of the bride to assist him as best man and seating the guests were Clyde Jaynes and Aaron Drew.

Mrs. Burleson, mother of the bride, wore navy blue and white with navy accessories and Mrs. Clark chose charcoal grey with black accessories. Both mothers completed their ensembles with corsages of pink baby mums.

Following the ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held in the church dining room. Guests came from Wayne, Marine City, Ohio, Northville, Durand, Mt. Clemens, Canada, New York and Plymouth. The bride's great grandparents attended the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon through Indiana and Ohio the couple returned to Plymouth where the bride will reside with her parents while her husband is with the army. Mrs. Kinghorn is a senior at Plymouth high school and her husband reported at Camp Kilmer on October 10 after finishing his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. For traveling Mrs. Kinghorn chose a powder blue dress with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

MOST OF THE CITY'S YOUNG FOLKS got a close-up view of the fire equipment which may someday save their lives when the Plymouth fire department toured schools during Fire Prevention Week. Firemen pointed out the uses of all the equipment on the trucks following a brief talk by Chief Robert J. McAllister. Pictured here are several classes of children at Starkweather school listening to Lamont C. BeGole, volunteer fireman.

Galin Celebrates 26 Years Here

The concern which grew from a meat market to an appliance store is celebrating its 26th anniversary this week. It was way back in October 1927 that Dave Galin first opened to business in Plymouth. For Galin 1953 brings another big event, for he is also observing his 40th year since he came to the United States from Russia.

When the store first opened on the corner where the D. & C. store is now located it dealt exclusively in meats. But in 1937 Galin moved to the present location at 849 Penniman avenue, which was the home of the Plymouth Mail. The building was remodeled and a grocery was added, making Galin's a complete food market.

He started eliminating food and adding appliances to the store's products in 1945, until finally the store handled appliances exclusively. Galin said, however, that it was only last year that he gave up supplying the Eastlawn sanatorium with meats. He carried the account for 20 years.

In speaking of his 26 years in business here, Galin said that he is proud of the fact that many youngsters who started working for him have achieved success as business people. He added that he has achieved the ambition of equipping the new Home Economics section of the high school with his products.

As part of the anniversary event, children accompanying their parents to the store this weekend will receive tickets to the Saturday matinee at the Penniman-Allen theatre.

Madonna Junior Publishes Article

A feature article, written by Rose Wolak, junior of Madonna college, appeared in the July, 1953 issue of the "Franciscan Message."

The article, entitled "Growing with Christ," was written as an assignment for last semester's feature writing class.

The sub-title, "How mothers can instill Christ in the hearts of pre-school age children," gives the theme of the article. By presenting instances from life, Miss Wolak shows ways in which a mother can help her pre-school children to know and grow up with Christ as their companion from the moment they rise till bedtime. Throughout the article, she shows how the children can be brought up in an atmosphere similar to that of the family of Nazareth.

Knights Templar Host Church Service Here

Northville Commandery No. 39 of the Knights Templar will be hosts to other commanderies in the annual Hospitaler Sunday service to be held at the First Presbyterian church here. Commander Alexander Wood and his officers join Dr. Henry Walch and the members of the church in welcoming all to this service on October 18.

The Knights Templar will meet at the Plymouth Masonic Temple at 10:15 a.m. to assemble to march to the 11 o'clock church service. All Knights who may be visiting are invited to attend.

Most-liked low-priced car

... among people who want more for their money when they buy ... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

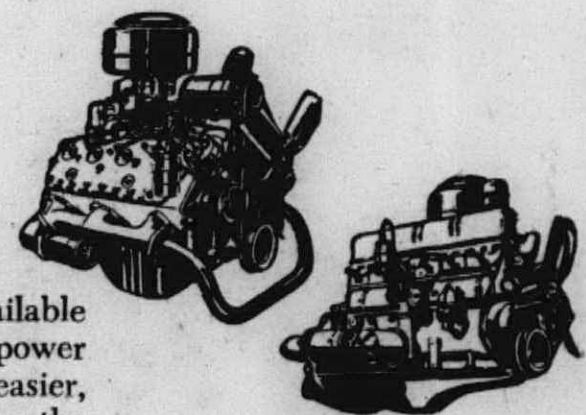

... more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its hultight Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering ... makes turning up to 75% easier, yet retains the natural feel of the wheel on the straightaway.

See ... Value Check ... Test Drive the Ford of your choice at your Ford Dealer's. Find out why Ford is America's "Worth More" car.

Ford's V-8 is the same type of engine powering America's finest (and costliest) cars. And Ford's Mileage Maker Six is the most modern Six in the industry.

Reverend Henry Walch Writes Article for Architect Magazine

One of the least-likely places you would expect to find an article written by the Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D. is in an architects' magazine. But the local Presbyterian minister really gets around for his article "Reflections on a Journey to the Old World" was published in the September issue of the "Michigan Architect and Engineer."

This is the way it came about. Dr. Walch spoke at a meeting of the Kiwanis club in Detroit, also attended by the editor of the magazine. He so enjoyed Dr. Walch's address that he asked him to contribute to his magazine. The article follows:

"He who travels far, learns much. So said the Pope early this summer to a large public audience of which your writer was one. It would be better phrased if it were, 'He who travels far, may learn much.' To travel abroad just to see the scenery is worthwhile, for the Alps, the drive along the French and Italian Riviera, the isles of Greece, the pyramids of Egypt, the blue of the Mediterranean Sea, the purple of the hills of Moab rising up beyond the Dead Sea, the loveliness of the pastoral scenery of Southeastern France; all this, and much more, is worth the seeing. But to go to Europe and the Near East, particularly the Holy Land, without some background of history, philosophy and art is to miss the meaning of much that meets the eye.

"The Old World is a place with a long history. From the rain soaked roads of the British Isles to the sun baked journey from 'Jerusalem down to Jericho, the route of the Good Samaritan, one is conscious of the fact that people lived here for centuries before America was even discovered. When a monk in the church of Santa Croce in Florence hurries you by a large painting with the comment, 'It is of no consequence; only eighteenth century,' to take you to one of the earliest paintings by Giotto, you become aware of the difference in time and history between the Old World and America. This sense of an historical perspective can help a great deal in understanding so much of what one sees in Europe and the Near East, as well, no doubt, as the rest of the ancient world. Because America is so new by the standards of that world, the average American tourist may well miss the meaning of his or her journey, either by measuring all things with an American yardstick, or being overawed into believing that everything one sees is good simply because it is 'cultural.'"

"But the crux of meaning for the traveller is the ability to understand why things are as they are and the conditions which make the people of those countries think and act as they do. It is all too easy for the average American to say, 'Why don't they do it the way we do it in America?' How can one understand the serious and hard struggle of the British people in the face of an economic situation which demands the maximum of them in sacrifice and self-denial until one stands in the ruins surrounding St. Paul's Cathedral in London and realized that for many months these people had to take a pounding which we can scarcely imagine. No country can take that kind of loss without serious and lasting consequences to its economy. When one sees the ruin they must make over into wholeness again, one becomes truly aware of the bravery of these people.

"Or how can one understand the nervousness of the people of Egypt until one sees that ancient country of the Nile, struggling with the birth of a new nation, fearful of a coup d'etat by Farouk, and apprehensive of any interference which may send it back to the corruption of a decadent ruler. One gets the impression from the average Egyptian that General Naguib will become for them the George Washington of their new country and independent nation.

"One cannot judge the situation in the Holy land where Jew and Arab view each other over a narrow strip of land called 'No Mans Land' with open hostility and an uneasy peace. Talking to the Arabs, one hears a tale of a dispossessed people, bitterly angry because their land was taken from them. Against that one must put the story of Israel, a vigorous and hard-working people who claim that the Arabs were paid many millions of dollars in indemnity by the United Nations which money never passed down to the common people in Palestine. It is hard to make an adequate judgment of these varying claims, each contradictory to the other without further knowledge of what the situation was and truly is. People are human beings no matter where they live, and it is quite unreasonable to ask the Arab and the Jew to act like saints in the face of their problems when Democrats and Republicans in America, with far less to quarrel about, can vituperate each other as bitterly as they do. People in the rest of the world have as much right to their percentage of error as do Americans. Their anger will not solve their problems any more than our anger solves ours but we have no causes to judge them harshly because they cannot come to an understanding when we cannot do the same here. The sense of history, if it does nothing else, can keep the tourists from hasty and snap judgments of any people and their problems and teach us patience with human error. Too much is said by too many who in ignorance berate a people without trying to understand them.

"But no one can see ancient Greece, Athens, or Corinth with any real appreciation of what they see unless they know the past of that country. High up on the Acropolis, the ancient hill of Athenian splendor, one passes the Propylaea, passes the temple of Athena Nike, sees the wonder, even in ruin, of the Parthenon, the Erechtheum, with the Porch of the Maidens, the famous Charyatids, and stops to marvel at the minds which could create it all. Looking down from the Acropolis one sees the theatre of Dionysus, the Aesculepiad, the first hospital of Europe, the Agora where the ancient life of Greece flowed up and down, the Pryx, where Pericles and Socrates still read today, and the Areopagus, or Mars Hill where St. Paul delivered his famous speech, 'for God hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell together on the face of the earth,' the whole of which is inscribed in a bronze plaque placed in the face of part of the hill. One cannot see the ruins of ancient Corinth, with the oldest temple in Greece, the Temple of Apollo, from whose steps Paul spoke to the ancient Corinthians, the Acro-Corinth or ancient citadel high up on the mountain above the old town, all lying quiet and still in the sunshine of the warm afternoon beside the blue sea without wondering about the people who built so much beauty in so short a time and then passed from the scene. But not until they gave us the plays of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripedes, the comedies of Aristophanes, the wisdom of Plato, and the logic of Aristotle, without which the course of the history of all western civilization would have been markedly different. One feels their presence even in the broken stones marking the place where they once lived and moved.

"With the imagination of the informed mind, no ruin is dead, no shattered city is a mere heap of rubble, for the mute and eloquent witness of their quiet splendor speaks to us of the long pilgrimage of man from darkness to light, from barbarism to civilization, from ignorance to knowledge, and bids us keep the march upward in our day lest all they lived for and died for be thrown away by a heedless heritage indifferent to that which was won through glory and through pain."

program chairman; Jan Nulty, corresponding secretary; Luree Merillat, president; Joan Donnelly, vice president; and Thalia Bairas, secretary. The club is making plans for a "Scarves Around the World" project.

Y-Teen Club Observes Roll Call Ceremony

As a part of "Roll Call Week," October 9-13, was a busy time for the new Y-Teen members Kay Ingram, Kathy Bernash, Nancy Brown, Laura Hatch, LoAnn Jensen, Darlene Adams, Shirley Stacy, Sally Ford and Dorothy Thomas who were initiated during this week.

"This year we initiated a new type of ceremony, which proved to be very modern," Luree Merillat, this year's Y-Teens president, remarked after new members were told the functions of the Y-Teens club and had been received into the group.

The ceremony included talks by Thalia Bairas, Sally Morgan and Dorrane Wilton, senior members of the club. A specialty of the program was the speaking choir, which interpreted the meaning of Y-Teen membership.

The new members were also given a membership ribbon to wear for one week, with the inscription, "I Will Belong," to represent one phase of Y-Teen initiations. A penalty will be assigned to new members each time they fail to wear the emblem.

Recognition services were held Tuesday evening, October 13, in the auditorium, with all Y-Teens members, new and old, attending.

Student Council Completes Homecoming Plans

Plans have been completed by the Student Council for the Plymouth Homecoming game to be held October 16 with Belleville.

Similar to last year the following clubs will handle these jobs: F.H.A., reception; Y-Teens, invitations; cheerleaders, goalposts and painting the sidewalks; Varsity club, fathers' numbers; Huskers; and are department, publicity. The cheerleaders will also have the dance, a sock hop, and the junior class will have the concessions.

Appointed chairman of the Red Feather drive this year is Ross Willet. He has picked as his committee Nancy Morrison, twelfth grade; Tom Sawyer, eleventh grade; Dick Morrison, tenth grade; and Roberta Lidgard, ninth grade. They will sponsor an assembly Tuesday, October 13, with a talk and a movie on the Red Feather drive. However, publicity on the drive has already begun. This year, as last year, money will be collected by homerooms with a contest between homerooms for the best collection.

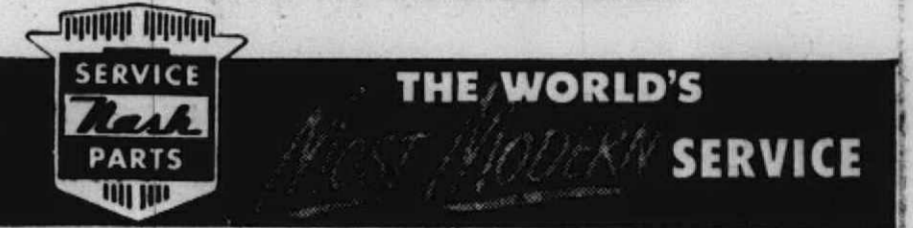

The Student Council has picked with the rest of the board to discuss problems of the school and community.

The Student Council elected at their last meeting Jane Nulty as corresponding secretary and also dropped its membership with the National Association of Student Councils. Chuck McKenna and his committee have filled the information desk positions.

Eight From Plymouth High School Attend State Press Conference

A press conference, sponsored by the Journalism department of Michigan State college will again claim the attention of the Pilgrim Prints and Plythean staff, when they travel to East Lansing on October 21, to attend.

Heading the morning session will be registration, welcome, and announcements in the auditorium. From 10:10 to 10:55 N. C. Ruple managing editor of the Midland Daily News, will lecture on the news story. A discussion of sports writing will be given by George S. Alderton, Sports Editor of the Lansing State Journal.

Varsity Club Members Hold Informal Initiation

The first meeting of the Varsity club was held on Tuesday, September 25. Gary Gothard presided as president. The other officers are Ken Ksabeth, secretary; Bob Middleton, secretary; Ron Raven treasurer; Fred Benson, sergeant-at-arms. John Sandmann, athletic director, is the advisor of this club.

Selling popcorn at football games, concessions, and a dance are some of the activities of the year. During this week new members are being initiated informally. The new members received their varsity letters in a spring sport.

Cheerleaders Play Host To 6-B League Clinic

Plymouth cheerleaders were hosts to the Six-B League Cheerleading Clinic at the Plymouth High school gymnasium Monday, October 5, from 2:30 to 6 p.m.

Cheerleaders participated from Allen Park, Belleville, Trenton, Redford Union, Bentley, and Plymouth. Some squads brought their freshmen cheerleaders with them.

Plymouth High cheerleaders gave a "Hello" to the group and then each squad did two cheers. Panel discussions were held on how to improve cheerleading in general. Louise Cigle, cheerleading advisor, introduced four Michigan State Normal college cheerleaders who taught the group a Normal cheer. Everyone went swimming with refreshments served after.

Student Panel Planned To Discuss Problems

As an outgrowth of a panel held last year at Allen Park, the social studies classes of Plymouth High plan to have a similar group of boys and girls discuss the problems of high school students.

The first session of the panel was held October 13, fifth hour, in the high school auditorium. The audience consisted of students having a social studies class that hour.

Bob Middleton, Larry Wilhelm, Gary Gothard, James Weeks, Dean Palmer, Dick Root, Brian Kidston, Inez Enterline, Sara Leet, and Nancy Morrison represented each of the classes on the panel, which lasted 10 to 15 minutes.

In a meeting held Friday, October 2, the following problems were listed by the group as highly important phases of student life: home, school, church, dress, dates, and use of family car.

Every man in Plymouth knows some good use to which he could put the other fellow's money if he had it.

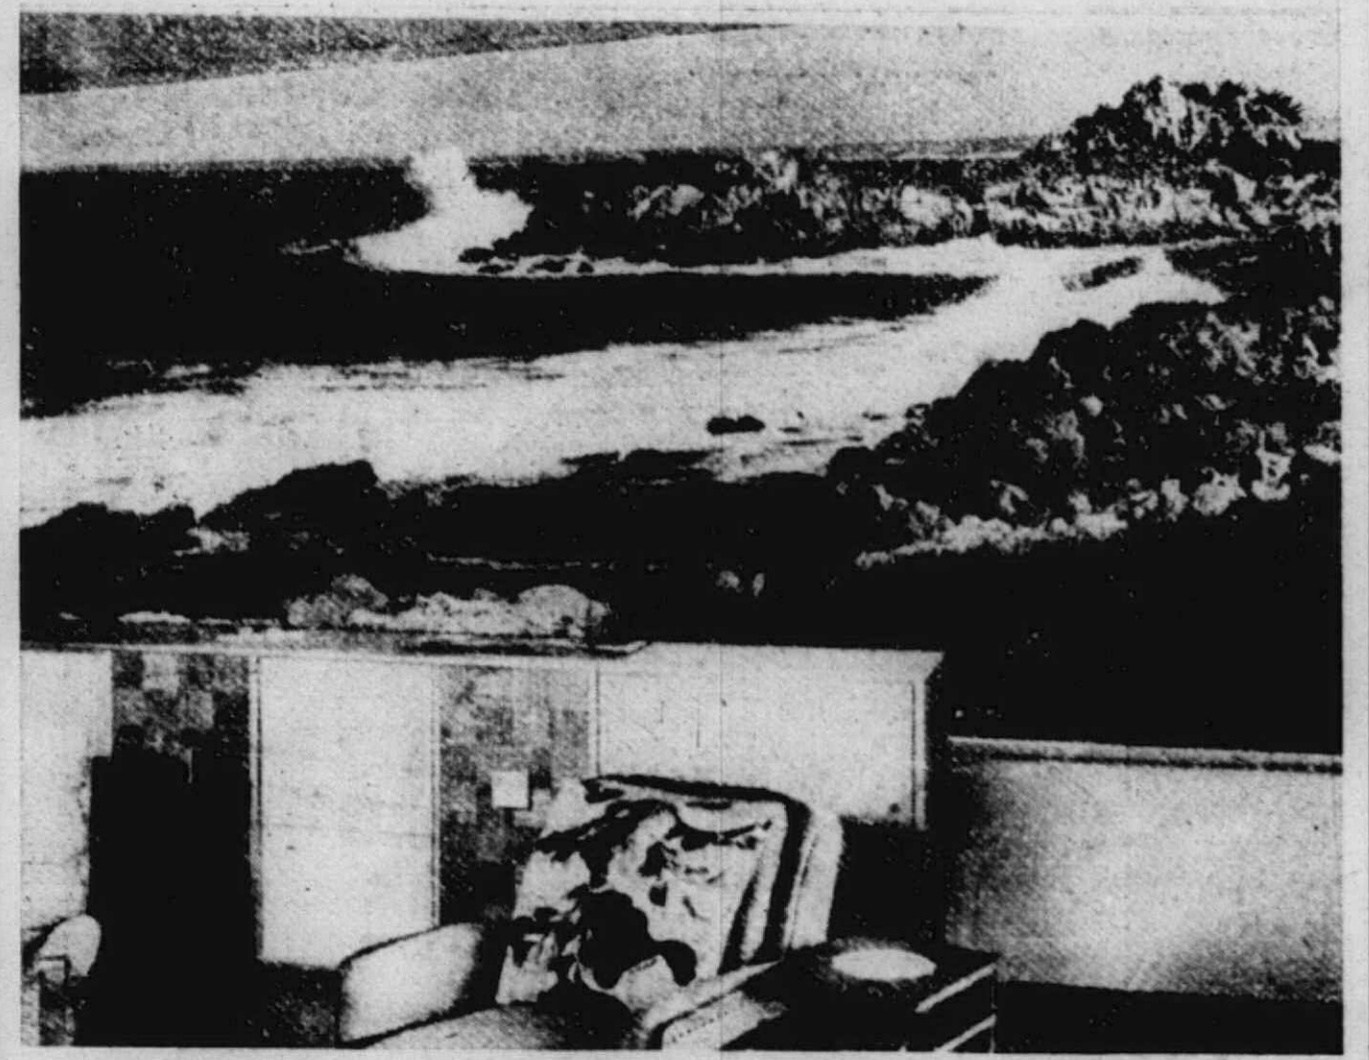

Teachers Club Holds First Meet

The first Teachers Club meeting held in the high school auditorium on October 6 was called to order by Loren Grieves. James Gallimore spoke concerning the St. Mary's hospital drive, encouraging the club to give assistance. The club endorsed the project when a motion was carried.

Harry Reeves explained the work planned for the Professional Problems committee. Walter Goodwin made some announcements concerning the E. A. meeting to be held on October 29 and 30.

Program chairman Marguerite Bromley then introduced Sarah Lickly, mathematics instructor, who showed slides taken in France, Spain, Africa, and Portugal when she visited these countries during the past summer.

The next meeting of the club will be held November 3.

Mr. Evan G. Watkins, general chairman, announced that the Welsh songfest will be under the direction of Mrs. Ann Davies Thomas accomplished musician and widely known choral director.

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Next to hand shaking, nothing is as much overworked as a woman's promise that she is going to start dieting.

Circuit Riding Pastors Broke Ground for Methodist Congregation

It was 1810—a year after James Madison became president of the struggling new republic of the United States—that a circuit riding Methodist pastor first broke through the wilderness west of Detroit to preach in the scattered settlements, thus breaking ground for a congregation which today is one of Plymouth's largest and belongs to the largest single Protestant denomination in the nation.

Should John Wesley, the father of Methodism, or any of the Plymouth pioneer Methodists reappear today they would stand aghast at the church's progress. Wesley would find that in the United States alone there are 9,065,727 Methodists in 39,906 churches valued at one and a third billion dollars; 24,905 Methodist ministers and 6,922,013 Sunday school members in 38,071 Sunday schools.

He would find 70 colleges and universities operated by the church across the nation; 70 church-operated hospitals, 54 homes for the aged and 60 homes for children. There are 29,916 Women's Societies of Christian Service with a membership of 1,660,066 working for the church. In Plymouth, a pioneer member would find a modern brick edifice replacing the humble frame building of the past century. The First Methodist church membership roll stands today at 879 with 534 in the church school and 289 members belonging to the W.S.C.S.

By 1834 the band of Plymouth Methodists numbered 411 souls, but it was not until 1848 that they built their first church. The "audience room" for the First Methodist church was built on the site of the present building on Church street. Land was purchased for but $75 from E. J. Penniman, prominent among Plymouth pioneers. The first extensive remodeling and the addition of a tower took place in 1874, church records show.

It was 1914 when remodeling was again undertaken, but only two years later a fire swept through the building leaving it in ashes. A new church of brick construction was built, during which the congregation worshipped in a local tabernacle and the village hall. The new church was dedicated in 1917, and by 1924 the Community House was added to meet the social, recreational and educational needs of the church.

Thirty-seven men have preceded Dr. Melbourne Irvin Johnson as pastor of First Methodist. The Ontario-born pastor graduated in arts and theology from Victoria college in Ontario and spent the first six years of his ministry as a missionary in Alberta, Canada. His pastorates in the United States began in 1927, serving three years with a Mechanicsburg, Illinois congregation, followed by four years at Carrollton, Illinois, five years at Kankakee, Illinois and 11 years at Roseville, Michigan before arriving in Plymouth in June 1950.

Besides his work as a minister, Dr. Johnson has authored several booklets and for several years his writings were syndicated in newspapers. Many of his sayings found in his book "Plain Bread and Butter" are found each week on church bulletin boards throughout the United States and Canada.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson have two sons, one a senior at the University of Michigan and the other a senior in Plymouth high school.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Johnson, also born in Ontario, is a direct descendant of the Charles Wesley family. Charles Wesley, author of many beloved hymns, was a brother of the Methodist church founder.

John Wesley, born in 1703, had trained at Oxford university for the ministry of the Church of England. He became his father's assistant in the ministry for a while, then a university instructor. While traveling to Georgia, vainly hoping to convert the Indians, he came in contact with the Moravian Brethren, an earnest and unique religious group. Wesley's outlook of religious faith strengthened by the time he returned to England and he converted his brother Charles and a famous preacher, George Whitefield. These gifted men preached their inspired doctrine through England.

When barred from churches, the men preached in the fields or in the streets to tens of thousands of eager listeners and multitudes of people were converted. The first "Methodist Society" was organized at Bristol, England in 1739. Societies multiplied and Methodism spread to Ireland, Scotland, Wales and then to America. It is thought that the word "Methodist" was selected due to the exact and "methodical" manner in which these early preachers performed various engagements which a sense of Christian duty induced them to undertake.

Beliefs of Methodists rank second to a "vital Christian experience," Methodists explain. His religion must "work" or it is unacceptable, of little value. Not that doctrines are unimportant, they add, but they are means and not ends.

Methodists first of all believe that the Christian believes in the Bible as the chief religious source book. Second, the Christian believes that man is a sinner, that alone, with his unaided powers, he is not able to arrive at perfection or realize his own highest capacity. They also profess that all Christians believe in Jesus, in God and the kingdom of God and that this is a friendly universe—still God's world.

A wise person, if he knows that he will be called upon to face a serious situation or crisis, will do what he can to prepare himself so that he may have some hope. Each one of us will have to face such a test and crisis at some time or another, be it the present threat of mass destruction through the atom or hydrogen bomb, or be it our unknown hour or death. We will all have to face our Maker. Since He has also revealed Himself in the Holy Bible as our Savior, would it not be a part of wisdom to search and inquire into that revelation for a way of escape and a way of hope and life? Come, we are happy to help you to find that Way, that Hope and Life as it is revealed in Jesus Christ, the Son of God and our loving Savior! You need not live in dread of uncertainty, nor need you fall a victim of stupid stoicism or even despair. There is life in His Heaven for you after death. Come, hear, and live eternally and happily!

Plymouth Postmaster Timpona Urges Senders To Bring Armed Services Overseas Addresses Up-To-Date Before Christmas Mailing Deadline To Assure Delivery

Postmaster George Timpona today compared October in the Post Office to what Spring training is to a baseball team. "We are getting ready for the Christmas rush hours. People planning to send gifts and Christmas cards should be bringing their address books up-to-date," he said.

"Especially those of us with loved ones in the armed forces overseas. Too many people dilly-dally until the eleventh hour," the Postmaster warned. Parcel post for armed service personnel in Korea, Japan and the Pacific Islands should be mailed by November 1. Articles addressed to Europe or American possessions will be delivered by Christmas if posted before November 15. Christmas cards are the bright spot in overseas mailing. They may be sent by air mail as late as December 1. However all overseas Christmas cards bearing three-cent stamps should be mailed by November 15.

The Postmaster also pointed out: 1) Air parcels for overseas are limited to two pounds. At regular parcel post rates, the weight limit is 70 pounds. Packages may not exceed 100 inches in combined length and girth. 2) Foodstuffs such as fruit-cakes, cookies and candy seem to be the most popular gifts for servicemen. Don't mail perishable items. Matches and lighter fluid are forbidden. Expensive gifts should be sent by registered mail. 3) Select a durable mailing carton of wood, metal or fiber-board. Line it with newspapers to cushion any shock. Use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord to prevent parcels breaking open. "It's particularly important," the Postmaster continued, "that an overseas address be correct and easy to read. Servicemen are on the move so much that any additional delay may mean delivery after Christmas."

To avoid any such disappointments, Postmaster George Timpona recommends that you hand-print the full name, rank, service number, branch of service, organization and the army or navy post office through which the mail is to be routed. Labels frequently fall off when exposed to moisture so print directly on the wrapping paper. Include your return address. Repeat them both inside on the mailing carton. It's also a good idea to enclose a list of contents. "Do not open until Christmas" stickers may be attached. Place them where they won't obscure the address.

Ask Hunters to Consider Farmers When Seeking Elusive Pheasant

Thousands of pheasant hunters will take to the fields next Tuesday in search of the elusive bird as the pheasant season opens that day. The outlook is for more plentiful birds this season, but the area in which one may hunt may not be as large as heretofore.

A few townships have banned hunting that allowed it last year, and many farmers have become exasperated with the inconsiderate hunter who destroys property and have posted no-hunting signs on their land. If the record army of hunters, who are expected to roam the fields this year would only "play the game fair" with the farmer, a much more cooperative feeling would be realized.

First a hunter should get permission from the owner to hunt on his land; in fact, the law says that this must be done. Many think that if a farm is not posted that anyone can enter the premises anywhere without permission—that is a false impression. The law states that a hunter must get consent from the owner or lessee before he can go on the land. If one doesn't and the owner takes him to court, the penalty is not less than 10 dollars, not more than 50 dollars. Most farmers will gladly let you hunt on their farms if you abide by all the sportsmanship rules. One should ask him if there are some fields he does not want hunting in—not just roam over freshly seeded land, and open gates and leave them open so his livestock can get out.

Finding a place to hunt each year can be solved only by friendly relations with the farmer. The hunter who rips down fences, leaves gates open, kills poultry and livestock, is a poor sport and makes it hard for the many hunters who try to play the game right.

About the only place one can hunt this year in Livonia is the area bounded by Southfield, Schoolcraft and Eckles roads. Plymouth township is open as are most of the counties to the south and west. More birds are predicted for this year as many have reported a large number in various sections of the state.

Lay something aside for a rainy day and you can be pretty sure of fair weather.

Maybe repair bills wouldn't be so high if mechanics didn't feel they had to leave 50 cents of grease on the steering wheel.

Every notice that when a Plymouth citizen wins in a guessing contest of some kind that he goes around blowing about what good judgment he displayed?

Luker's 60-Yard Run Trips Allen Park in Late Minutes

Rocks Lose 20-0 Early Advantage But Rally to Win 6-B League Thriller

A thrilling 60-yard run by Denny Luker with but three minutes remaining in the game enabled an underdog Plymouth Rock football team to down a scrapping Allen Park squad 27 to 20 last Friday evening. This win kept the Rocks hopes alive for a share of the 6-B League title.

Plymouth won the toss of the coin and elected to receive at the south end of the field. Jerry Kelly took the kickoff and ran it back to the Rocks 41 yard line. On the first play Allen Park was offside, but the gain was nullified when Plymouth was offside on the second play from scrimmage. Denny Luker picked up 4 and 31 yards in two runs, Lee Juve plowed for 6 more and Captain Kelly added 2 more to place the ball on the Allen Park 20 yard line. On the next play Kelly skirted left end and crossed the end zone standing up for the first score. Dick Davidson missed the extra point attempt, and the score stood 6 to 0 after two minutes of play in favor of Plymouth.

Gary Gothard's kickoff was downed on the Parkers 27 yard line. They picked up a quick first down on a 33 yard pass play from Don Trimmer to Dick Smith. The Rocks held the Parkers on the next series of plays and forced them to kick. Plymouth picked up a first down, but was forced to punt when they failed to get the necessary yardage for a first down. A few plays later linebacker Dick Day fell on an Allen Park fumble on the Rocks 44 yard line. Kelly picked up 4 yards. On the next play Luker, on a handoff from Day, faded back and threw a pass to Jack Carter who scampered 52 yards un molested into the end zone. Dick Day ran the ball into the end zone for the extra point on a fake kick to give the Rocks a 13 to 0 edge as the gun sounded ending the first period.

The second quarter was scoreless with Allen Park picking up three first downs on two eleven yard pass plays and a run. Plymouth also picked up three first downs, one on a 25 yard run by Kelly. The halftime score stood at 13 to 0 in favor of a keyed up Plymouth.

At the start of the third period the Rocks kicked off to the Parkers. Allen Park picked up a first down on a 28 yard pass, Trimmer to Angello, and then an 11 yard run and another pass carried the ball to the Rocks 27 yard line. On the next play Day intercepted a Trimmer pass and carried the ball 41 yards which brought the ball into Allen Park territory. Midway thru the third stanza the Ketteranian eleven capitalized on the pass interception as Kelly crashed into the end zone and Davidson added the extra point to put the Rocks into the lead 20 to 0.

Gothard kicked off and the Rocks forced the Parkers to punt on the first series of downs. On the runback Day fumbled and Allen Park recovered on the Rock 27 yard line. With three minutes left in the third quarter Willard Roach scampered into the end zone and Gaylord Brunelle added the extra point.

The Rocks took the kickoff and three plays later Luker fumbled and Allen Park recovered and moved the ball to the Rock 33 yard line. At that point Bob Gobiell intercepted a pass but fumbled after being tackled. Allen Park carried the ball to the one yard line where Roach dove into the end zone for the score making it 20 to 13 in favor of Plymouth.

The Rocks received the kickoff to start the final quarter but couldn't get an offensive going and were forced to punt. Allen Park picked up two first downs and on a pass covered 35 more yards to score. This knotted the score at 20 for each team with 7 minutes left to play. Plymouth received the kickoff and was forced to punt after failing to get a first down. Three plays later Day intercepted a Parker pass, Luker picked up a first down and then slanted off tackle on a quick-opening play and scooted 60 yards for the clinching touchdown. With three and one-half minutes left Davidson put the Rocks out front 27 to 20 by adding the extra point.

Allen Park received the kickoff and picked up a first down on a 16 yard pass. On the next play Day fell on a Parker fumble and the Rocks held on to the ball to run the clock out.

Denny Luker carried the ball 17 times for a total of 135 yards and an 8 yard average. Lee Juve picked up 47 yards on 13 tries for 3 1/2 yard average. Captain Kelly had a 7 yard average on 76 yards in 11 tries. Day made 8 yards in 3 carries.

Luker completed one pass on one try for a touchdown and 53 yards. Kelly completed 1 out of 4 tries, but it went for a loss. Juve threw one pass which was incomplete.

Rams Test Lions In Pro Grid Tilt

EDITOR'S NOTE: In answer to numerous requests concerning information for obtaining Detroit Lion football tickets fans should address requests to The Detroit Lions, 1401 Michigan avenue, Detroit 16, Michigan. Upper deck seats are $4 each and lower deck $3. If you do not send your check until late in the week for a Sunday game, Publicity Director Bud Erickson stated that tickets will be held for you at the "will-call" window, Michigan at Trumbull.

Detroit's most rugged test of the 1953 season is in prospect this week as the high-powered Los Angeles Rams invade Briggs Stadium in their bid to climb in to a first place tie with the unbeaten Detroit Lions.

The Rams, rated the most explosive club in the National Football League, have victories over the New York Giants and Green Bay Packers, while the only blemish on their record is a 31-30 upset loss to the San Francisco 49ers. By downing the Lions, who have scored successive victories over Pittsburgh, Baltimore, and the 49ers, Los Angeles and Detroit would be deadlocked for the conference lead with identical 3-1 records, whereas, a Lion victory would vault the defending champions into a commanding lead in the Western Division race.

To stop the Rams, Coach Buddy Parker will rely on his great defensive unit that throttled the San Francisco attack, holding the 49ers to only 76 yards on the ground and a meager 96 yards in the air. The unit, composed of ends Blaine Eason and Jim Cain; tackles Thurman McGraw and Bob Miller; Les Bingham at the middle guard; linebackers Joe Schmidt and Lavern Torgerson; and halfback Jim David, Bob Smith, Yale Lary, and Jack Christiansen held firm against the onslaughts of the 49ers and a repeat performance against the talent-laden Rams will enhance the Lions' chances for another victory.

And then there was the time when all drivers, if they were worthy of the name, wore gauntlets, goggles and a linen duster.

Mothers who have made the poorest job of training their children are the ones who tell the school teachers how to do it.

Plymouth Tackles Belleville In Homecoming Tilt Friday

Plymouth's next grid opponent is Belleville High School in the annual Homecoming game under the arc lights tomorrow, Friday, October 16.

The Tigers have a squad ripe for victory after losing two straight. So far this season they have lost to Trenton 27-0, Romulus 20-13, Allen Park 18-0, while they downed Bentley 21-6. They are a fast team but don't have a great deal of weight. Plymouth still has championship fires burning and must cop their final two league games with Belleville and Bentley. In the Suburban 6B league Bentley won their first game by stunning Redford Union 20-12, while Trenton crushed Belleville 27 to 0.

Other area teams had fair going as Ann Arbor, the Class A powerhouse kept its bid for another state title going by smothering Lansing Sexton 27-12, while Clarkston got by Milford 21

Plymouth Frosh Down Redford 7-0

Winning their second game of the year, the Plymouth Rock freshman football team downed a strong Redford Union squad 7-0 on Redford Union's home field last Thursday.

Plymouth completely dominated the first quarter of the ball game. Late in the first stanza a Panther punt was blocked and the Rocks capitalized on it a few minutes later as Jerry King smashed into the end zone from the three-yard line. Quarterback Bob Jenkins ran the extra point to give the young Rocks a 7-0 lead which proved to be the final score.

Plymouth showed the same power which carried them to victory over Trenton on defense. Redford Union failed to get inside the Rock's 40 yard line. Thus far Trenton has bowed to the Rocks 13-0, picking up only one first down, and Redford Union 7-0. The outstanding defensive powers of the young Rocks is a line which averages 180 pounds per man.

The John McFall coached eleven, takes on Allen Park tonight at Allen Park at 4:00 p.m. in a bid for its third win.

Junior High Wins From Redford 11

Plymouth's junior high football team squeaked by Redford Union 7th and 8th grade football team 6-0, for its second win of the year, on the home field last Wednesday.

Late in the first stanza, on a sustained fifty yard drive, young Jim Dzurus skirted right end for the only tally of the contest. The Rocks threw up a strong defense not allowing Redford Union to get inside of its thirty yard line. The score at the half stood 6 to 0. In the final two quarters, the game was a see-saw battle around the fifty yard stripe.

Frank Sullivan's squad has beaten Trenton 13-6, and Redford Union 6-0. They played Allen Park on the Parkers' home field yesterday, but the results were too late to be published. Plymouth plays Northville at Northville next Wednesday under the arc lights at 7:00 p.m. The following Wednesday they tangle with Bentley High school, behind the local high school.

Woman Nearly Upsets Dopesters In "Pick-the-Winners" Contest

It nearly happened—but not quite!

Plymouth's male football fans were almost put to shame by a member of the fairer sex in this week's "Pick-the-Winners" football contest. Upholding the reign of the men as the best football prognosticators was Robert Kauffman of 42370 Schoolcraft. Kauffman picked all the winners and came the closest on the Detroit Lions-San Francisco 49'ers score.

Close behind and also selecting all the winners correctly, was Mrs. Rose M. Smith of 8354 Canton Center road. Mother of five children all of whom have been graduated from Plymouth high school, Mrs. Smith said she really wasn't a football fan but enjoyed making the selections. "I'm really surprised," she remarked when told of her $7 prize. Third prize of $3 was won by Joe George of 315 Evergreen, a sports enthusiast who participates actively as a golfer.

Three other contestants were able to pick all the winners in this week's contest but their Lions-49'ers score selections were not as close as the top three contestants. They are Foster Brown, Dick Davidson and Elton McAllister.

Biggest stumbling block for most of the contestants was the Plymouth high school-Allen Park game. Loyalty to the Detroit Lions was very evident, however, as only four entries picked the 49'ers to triumph.

Another week has arrived, and more selections are ready to be made on this page. Get out your pencil and hurry your choices to The Mail. You can enter every week—whether you win or not!

You've got to be in business with a man or in love with a woman to find out that you don't know them.

Sport Glances

Well, the Yankees won another world series. Yes, I'll take my place in the corner with the duce hat cocked jauntily on my head. It just goes to show that the champions just don't give a "hang" about the law of averages. I'll admit they are good, and one of the really great teams in baseball, but I don't think it too good for baseball to have one team dominate the sport so thoroughly. Too, I don't like their cockiness as was displayed by members of the team and Manager Stengel when they said they would make it six straight next year. There is a story of confidence and faith—a combination that is hard to beat in any walk in life. After picking the underdog two years in a row I'd probably be smart right now if I picked them to repeat as champions next year.

I'm beginning to think that our high school team is a good one even though they are all new this year. They have certainly improved tremendously the past few weeks, and I wouldn't be surprised if they went the remainder of the way undefeated. I know that Coach Ketterer is taking one game at a time, and has done a splendid job bringing these boys along. Inexperience accounted for the poor showing at Northville, and I know the team would like to play that one over again — also the Trenton contest, but those have gone into the record books, and the time for revenge will have to wait until next year. I'll take my hat off to this whole team, their coaches, the scouts, and the loyal fans who have supported them in such grand style.

Plymouth High School athletic teams lost a very loyal supporter when "Mac" McKinley was stricken with a heart attack while attending the game last Friday night and died a few hours later. "Mac" as he was known to young and old alike had followed the high school sports events for many years, and has had sons and daughters participating in athletics and as cheerleaders. He was one of the originators of the football pot-luck banquet for the players, coaches and parents which has become very popular each year. He thoroughly enjoyed these contests and was one of the loudest rooters at each game—we all will miss you, "Mac".

In the first weekly football contest 27 persons picked correctly all 8 winners. Over 200 mailed or brought entries into the office. The contest will be found on this page—try your skill at picking the winners—it costs nothing and provides a lot of fun.

What a nice world this would be if we had more sincere and honest thoughts. So many people are held back from doing something worthwhile, or something they would really like to do because they think they cannot do a good piece of work, or do it as well as someone else. They are held back because of self-consciousness or fear—self-consciousness is a form of pride, and a fear that something may happen. The impression you make on others does not depend so much on the kind of a job you do as on your sincerity and honesty of purpose. Are you holding back because you are afraid of not making a good impression? If so, try being sincere in your thoughts and actions, and people will admire you for those qualities more than anything else you may do.

This is one of the most beautiful periods of the year. The trees are splendid with their changing leaves of various colors. A drive from here to Ann Arbor is really a scenic route at this time of year. Nature is something to behold if we stop and think of the beauty that she provides for us mortals. As I have said so many times, most people take all this for granted—something that takes place each year—we really should appreciate these things more than we do. I think it is all wonderful. Take the family for a ride some evening or weekend and notice Nature at her best.

LEAHY MOANS "WE DON'T GET THE PLAYERS"

There's more fight than ever in the Fighting Irish. It Notre Dame regains the mythical national football championship this fall, that will be the reason, says The Championship section of The Sporting News.

Frank Leahy no longer has the manpower he could command in the "golden years" from 1946 through 1949.

The quantity is gone, so, to great extent is the quality.

Where are ends like Leon Hart and Bill Wightkin, the tackles like George Conner, Ziggy Czarowski and "Jungle Jim" Martin, the guards like Bill Fischer, John Mastrangelo and Marty Wendell, and the centers like George Strohmeier and Jerry Groom?

Where are the quarterbacks like John Lujack, George Ratterman and Bob Williams and ball carriers like Terry Brennan and Emil Sitko?

That's what Leahy would like to know.

"We don't seem to get lads like that at Notre Dame any more," says "The Man" in The Quarterback, with understandable sadness in his voice. "I don't know why, but they seem to go elsewhere."

As a result, a little band of "iron men" is carrying on a football tradition built by far bigger and perhaps more talented squads.

"We used to overpower people," explained one of Leahy's aides. "Now we have to outsmart them and out-fight them to win."

"We used to make winning football games look easy. Now we have to grind out every yard and really work for every touchdown."

Sure, some of the Irish "iron men" could have made the teams that rolled through 39 games without a defeat in the years immediately following World War II, says The Quarterback.

John Lattner and Neil (Bull) Worden, who have gained more than a mile and a half of yardage for the Irish the last two seasons, would have been valuable additions to the team Notre Dame ever had.

Lattner, the 190-pound senior right half from Chicago, may be the best double-duty back in the nation.

The Quarterback says there are some who can run faster than Lattner or pass better or punt farther. But who can do all three things as well as the quiet All-American and play a great defensive game, too?

Worden is small for a big time fullback. The stocky senior from Milwaukee weighs only 185, but he makes up for it with driving power and unexpected speed. He played no defense before this year, but the way he learned line-backing was a pleasant surprise to Irish coaches.

Lattner had no such problem. He went both ways even in the wide-open "two-platoon" era, making some All-America teams on offense and some on defense, points out The Quarterback.

But two top-flight backs don't make one great football team.

So, if Notre Dame returns to the top this fall, it will be because of a little band of "iron men" and Leahy's genius for improvisation.

BALTIMORE VOWS VENGEANCE ON YANKEES

The Sporting News reports the newest member to the major leagues, Baltimore, is already setting its sights on fourth or fifth place for '54—and—the town is waiting for the arrival of the Yankees.

It was Del Webb of the Yankees who led the fight against Baltimore at the recent American League meeting and everybody in Baltimore from the kindergarten up is well aware of the fact now and is rarin' for vengeance.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Hungarian Cabbage Rolls

With six married children and 21 grandchildren popping into the house all the time Mrs. William Erdelyi of 751 Forest avenue has quite a meal-preparation job. She also cooks for affairs at the Presbyterian church, so in all she spends a good deal of her time in her kitchen.

One of her favorite recipes, one of Hungarian origin, is for cabbage rolls. The recipe gives a yield of 24, but Mrs. Erdelyi says they keep well in jars stored in the refrigerator or can be easily frozen. Keeping them, she points out, seems to even improve the flavor. Though the recipe is large, therefore, it is still ideal for the working couple, for the rolls can be stored for future meals.

Hungarian Cabbage Rolls
2 pounds ground meat (1½ pound lean pork to ½ pound ground beef)
1 pound uncooked rice
1 medium onion minced
1 egg
Salt and pepper
Hint of garlic salt
Mix ingredients. Take a cabbage leaf and shave off the hard core in the back. Place the meat mixture on the cabbage leaf, fold one end in and roll. After it has been completely rolled tuck in the other end and the cabbage roll will stay without the aid of toothpicks. Simmer slowly for two hours.
Mrs. Erdelyi suggests that the cabbage rolls be served with salad, pickles and hard rolls. As a dessert she offers her recipe for apple cake, which she says is perfect for this time of year with the abundant apple crop.

Mrs. William Erdelyi prepares to remove the apple cake from her oven.

Apple Cake
3 cups flour
1 cup shortening (oleo or butter)
½ cup sour cream
3 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons lemon rind
Juice of ½ lemon
Pinch of salt
Blend the dry ingredients, after sifting flour thoroughly. Blend in shortening. Combine eggs, lemon juice and sour cream and add to other ingredients. The dough will resemble a soft cookie dough. Roll two-thirds of the dough to approximately one-fourth inch thickness and place in an 8 by 12 inch pan.
Peel six to eight medium apples and cut in ¼ inch slices lengthwise. Place the apples on the dough in the pan, and cover with the balance of the batter. Top with a mixture of 1/3 cup ground nuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 2 tablespoons sugar.
Bake in a moderate oven, about 350 degrees, from 45 to 50 minutes. To serve cut in squares and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Fillings of the cake can be varied, Mrs. Erdelyi said.

Kenneth Joys Having Florida Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Joy are honeymooning in Florida for two weeks following their marriage at the First Presbyterian church on Saturday, October 3.
Mrs. Joy is the former Kathryn Trinka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Trinka of Schoolcraft road, Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Joy of Fernwood avenue, Detroit are the bridegroom's parents.
The Reverend Henry Walch officiated at the seven-thirty o'clock candlelight ceremony before the altar which was graced with palms, bouquets of white gladioli and mums. Fred C. Nelson presided at the organ and Nat Sibbold, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love Thee."
Kathryn chose a white satin gown trimmed with Chantilly lace. The full skirt ended in a cathedral train. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline, long sleeves and tiny satin buttons which extended down from the neckline to the waist. Her fingertip length veil of net was trimmed with lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a white gold cross, gift of the bridegroom.
Shirley Kiger, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her strapless gown had a dark blue velvet bodice with bouffant skirt of light blue net. A tiny dark blue velvet jacket completed her ensemble. She wore a headband of yellow daisies and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses surrounded with yellow daisies.
Bridesmaids were Joyce Streling, cousin of the bride, Marjorie Horie and Marjorie Wolf. Joyce wore a gown of purple velvet and lavender net matching that of the matron of honor. Miss Horie wore green velvet and chartreuse net and Miss Wolf wore old rose velvet and pink net. They each wore a headband of rust colored daisies in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of rust daisies and rust roses.

Thanks from the Auxiliary and Post go to Lucinda Archer for donating kitchen towels. We surely needed them. Kay Coolman reports that a First Aid class is now formed. Anyone wishing to enroll has until October 16. Class will be held in Room 14 at the Plymouth High school, weekly, Thursday evenings, at 7 p.m. Those of you who missed the first meeting, be sure to attend the next meeting.
Charter member Clara Scribner Woods has offered to donate tickets for the annual Smorgasbord, November 7 at the Post. Much thanks, Clara.

Civil Defense chairman, Kay Coolman, arranged for two Civil Defense films to be shown after the October 6 meeting. The films were in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week, and one stressed the importance of alerting children on what to do in case of a atomic attack. Both were highly impressive. The latter film has been shown in the Smith school and Starkweather school. Every child should see these films. Tell your children to ask their teachers about the "Duck and Cover," civil defense film, released and approved by the National Department of Civil Defense.

The Chicken Dinner banquet at the Post Home will be held October 17 at 6:30 p.m. All you Post and Auxiliary members, try to sell more tickets!
The Rummage sale, according to chairman Eleanor Gust, was a huge success. It was held at the Post home. Hundreds of people traveled out to the Home to "rummage" and find bargains. It is a wonderful project completed.
An old fashioned Haloween membership party is being planned by Carolyn Darnell and her committee. See details in next week's column.

Hints for Plymouth Homemakers

Offer Guest Menu for Novice Cook

For the novice in the kitchen a company meal can be a big test. Does the dinner run smoothly? Are hot foods served hot, cold foods served cold? Does the hostess enjoy her guests rather than being tied to the kitchen at the moment she greets them at the door until dinner is on the table?

The clue to easy, gracious serving is planning. And for the inexperienced hostess it is, also, choosing a menu which requires a limited amount of last minute preparation. Last minute work can be the novice cook's downfall.

When having guests, take time out in advance and think your menu through from start to finish—from your grocery list on down to the platter and garnishes for your meat.

For example, here is a truly occasion menu that might seem complicated at first, but with

- thought and planning it can be mastered by the most inexperienced cook. And it's a menu to serve with pride.
- Tomato Juice Cocktail with Assorted Crackers
 - Rollad Rib Roast of Beef
 - Oven-Brown Potatoes
 - Frenched Green Beans with Toasted Almond Slivers
 - Fruit Salad
 - Hard Rolls
 - Butter or Margarine
 - Ice Cream Sundae
 - Cookies
 - Beverage

Starting at the beginning of this menu you have tomato juice. Chill it in advance, then serve in the living room. Pass a tray of assorted crisp crackers.

Roasting is perhaps the easiest of all meat cookery methods. For the finest results with the rolled rib (it is boneless, thus easy to carve) roast it on a rack in an open roasting pan. If your roasting pan is not fitted with a rack, a cake rack will keep the meat up out of its drippings.

A roast meat thermometer will be a constant aid when preparing any roast. Insert it into the center of the rolled roast, making sure it is not in fat. Place the roast in a preheated 300° F. oven and let it cook at this constant temperature until done.

Your roast meat thermometer will show when it has reached the degree of doneness you desire. However, you can estimate cooking time by allowing 32 minutes per pound for rare done beef; 39 for medium; 48 for well-done beef. Here's an important tip—let the roast "set" in a warm place for 15 to 20 minutes after it comes from the oven and before serving. This will make carving easier. Simply garnish with the oven-browned potatoes and sprigs of parsley.

To prepare the browned potatoes, pare and parboil them until nearly tender then drain and place them in the roasting pan with the meat and allow them to brown.

Gravy is a problem of many experienced cooks. Here are a couple of suggestions that will start you off on the right road. Measure the drippings in the roasting pan, then pour back in 2 tablespoons for each cup of gravy desired. To the drippings add an equal number of tablespoons of flour. Thoroughly combine, then add cold water (1 cup for each 2 tablespoons of fat and flour) and stir constantly until gravy is thickened and flour cooked—2 to 3 minutes boiling time.

Frozen french green beans take about 18 to 20 minutes total cooking time. Have the sliced almonds ready to saute in butter or margarine for a few minutes, then pour over the green beans in the serving dish. The gelatine fruit salad will be made in advance, ready to place on lettuce cups. With hard rolls the task of heating is eliminated. Ice cream topped with chocolate sauce or fruit makes an easy dessert. This may be served with dainty cookies and coffee.

Tricks With Tapioca Puddings

Autumn and winter days are busy ones for the homemaker—when she can be especially thankful for the variety of packaged foods that have done so much to lighten the burden of three meals a day.

Take packaged puddings, for example, and packaged tapioca puddings in particular. The modern woman can prepare a creamy, delicious tapioca pudding, in any one of three flavors, in a little more than five minutes. Here is the basic recipe, simple and easy to prepare:

Tapioca Cream
1 package prepared chocolate, vanilla or orange-coconut tapioca pudding
2 cups milk

Turn pudding mixture into saucepan. Add milk and mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Cool, stirring once after 15 or 20 minutes—mixture thickens as it cools. Turn into serving bowl or sherbet glasses. Chill. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

With this as a beginning there is no end to the lovely desserts that can be concocted. Walnuts or almonds, cut or stuffed dates, figs or prunes, available the year 'round, can be used as garnish, or stirred into the pudding itself. And these are just a few of the possible variations limited only by your imagination.

Law Requires That Rayons Bear Labels

Confused about the different types of rayon? Because these types vary so greatly, the Federal Trade Commission has recently ruled that all rayon made by the viscose process must be labeled "rayon" and that made by the acetate process labeled "acetate." Rayon made by the cuprammonium process is sold under the trade name of "Bemberg."

Many fabrics are blends of both rayon and acetate. If so, both names must be on the label.

How do they differ? Rayon and Bemberg dry slowly and are cool to wear. They do not melt under a hot iron and are not subject to gas-fading. However, white rayon and Bemberg will gradually turn to ivory over a period of time.

Acetate, on the other hand, will melt under a hot iron and is subject to gas-fading. However, it's more crease and soil-resistant and—white stays white.

"Chromspun" and "Celaperm" are trade names for made-in-color acetate yarns and staple fiber. Coloring agents are introduced in these at the solution stage, before the fiber is actually formed.

Manufacturers claim that fabrics colored by this method are lightweight, washable, dry-cleanable—and able to withstand perspiration, gas-fading, crocking and sea water.

Fish fillets are good to freeze since no waste is stored and the fish is ready to use when removed. Michigan State college foods specialists recommend freezing—together in one package—the number of fillets needed for one meal for the family.

The fact that fruits and vegetables must be specially treated with scalding water before freezing to destroy certain enzymes. These enzymes, if not destroyed, would cause changes in color, flavor and texture during storage.

The sugar you use for preserving or jelly-making can be either cane or beet sugar. These two sugars behave identically and can be used interchangeably in recipes calling for sugar.

Brushing molds with salad oil for any gelatin salads or desserts makes removing the molded food an easier job.

Zipper Cause Rust Spots On Wash Dresses

Many homemakers have had cause to complain about mysterious brown spots and holes that sometimes appear in cotton wash dresses when they are being ironed.

It has been found that chemical action producing an acid was set up when dampened fabrics were kept in contact with certain zippers for some time before ironing. The zippers that caused trouble were made of a combination of two metals, such as copper and aluminum.

The trouble seems to come from a combination of a zipper made of two metals, plus water, plus a substance to conduct electricity. This substance might be provided by the minerals in hard water, salt found in liquid starch, or some detergent not entirely removed by rinsing.

To protect wash dresses which have two-metal zippers against brown spots and holes, take these precautions:

One, avoid sprinkling and rolling up for ironing by drying the garment quickly and ironing it before it is completely dry.

Or two, if it must be dampened for ironing, fold the zipper outside, keep the fabric around the zipper dry and iron soon.

In carefully conducted folding tests, cotton fabrics were subjected to as many as 50,000 double folds with no loss of strength.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

SPEAKING OF KITCHENS... judicious, yet striking use of color, coupled with smart furnishings and convenient layout characterize the kitchen and dinette shown above, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gerald Pease, 1445 Penniman avenue. The kitchen floor is a mottled green and white liner pattern of Armstrong Strypelle linoleum. Counter tops and splash walls are covered with Floorever vinyl in a warm, nutmeg shade. The dinette floor is carpeted with Bigelow honey-beige, cut-pile, cotton carpeting. The linoleum, counter topping, and carpeting were supplied and laid by Blunk's, Inc., in Plymouth. Other harmonizing features of the kitchen are the cupboard cabinets, in a bittersweet shade; and the wallpapered kitchen ceiling, done in a grape leaf pattern of green, white, and bittersweet.

WINDOW SHOPPING

WITH SUE

I was out looking around the new home recently opened on the Birch Estates last week, and was particularly impressed with the kitchen. The birch woodwork is lovely and the arrangement is such that kitchen-work could be most efficient. There's a sort-of dinette off the kitchen which is very attractive too. You might stop in and look around yourself—see what the new subdivision is going to be like.

Anyway while I was looking around over there, Bill Cayo, the sales manager, showed me the Andersen Pressure-Seal windows they've put in. They're the kind that you can completely remove from the sash in order to wash them. In fact, I was so interested in them that I stopped over at Roe Lumber company to learn a little more about them. They're made so that the window locks into the sash and so is perfectly tight. Mr. Lee told me that he thinks they're one of the best windows on the market.

You know, it's really amazing how many new things there are in the building line. Manufacturers are certainly making marvelous strides in making life a lot safer for people. For example while I was over at Roe's I saw a Dexter doorknob for a bathroom door. With this knob the door can be locked from the inside like any other bathroom door. The new innovation, however, is the fact that there's a little hole in the outfit through which a slim metal bar can be inserted from outside the door to unlock it. This would be wonderful if a child locked himself in the bathroom and refused to come out. Just insert the little bar, and the door unlocks. As simple as that.

When lawn grass is allowed to grow longer than the usual 3/4 to one inch length, growth of the root system is stimulated. The more vigorous the roots, the healthier the lawn.

Home Owners Are Burning Money In Fall Leaf Bonfires

Many Plymouth home owners have money to burn this fall season, and that's just what they're doing.

When setting fire to fallen autumn leaves, they might as well be igniting dollars, according to E. I. Kabel, field representative of The Davey Tree Expert Company.

For grounded leaves are valuable assets to lawns, trees and shrubbery.

And the smoke signals sent up from leaf piles throughout the nation spell out the warning word: "Waste."

Those home owners who turn over a new leaf and save their trees' discarded foliage gain one of the finest types of garden humus for nourishing the hungry soil.

Raked into a pile and developed as compost, the leaves produce a high-grade lawn and garden top-dressing and save their landlord the trouble of tending a bonfire.

If a compost heap is not desired, many leaves can be used as a mulch around evergreens or other plants that like some winter protection. And folks with power-driven leaf pulverizers may simply plow into the leaves and cut them up into tiny bits that soon add to the soil humus.

Bonfires, besides destroying potential soil humus have a way of broiling the branches of nearby or overhanging trees. A bright, hot fire may look fine in the autumn twilight, but it can result in trees that are badly damaged.

For Best Results

Good materials, proper methods of surface preparation and application have a great deal to do with the life of a paint job. They will insure the maximum satisfaction under the conditions to which the surfaces are subjected.

Stick 'Em Up!

Here's a new bathroom accessory that you can put up yourself without marring the tile or walls with nails or screws and without using tools of any kind. It's an attractive plastic towel bar and the secret of its easy application is two concealed, patented wood inserts, adhesive coated and molded into each end of the bar. Just moisten the adhesive thoroughly with water, work it quickly into a soft glue, and press the towel bar into position on the bathroom wall. That's all there is to it and you have an extra accessory to give added convenience to your bathroom. Convenient hooks, three-arm towel holders, toothbrush and tumbler holders, and other pieces, each with the same exclusive Selfix adhesive feature, also are included among the products.

Painting This Fall? Check Weather First

If you're still planning to paint this fall, be sure to take precautions that you won't have moisture trouble later on. That's advice from J. S. Boyd of Michigan State College's agricultural engineering department.

Just because the surface you intend to paint appears dry, that's no sign the wood is free of moisture, says Boyd. Check the weather of several days previous he suggests, and if it has been warm and dry, the possibility of moisture trouble is not too great. But if heavy dews or rains have fallen in the previous few days, the paint will trap moisture which will cause blisters and paint peeling.

There is enough marketable timber in Illinois forests to build 800,000 six-room homes. That's almost as many homes as will be built this year in the whole country.

Wise Practice

Do the sash, trim and doors first—when you're painting the outside of your house. Then you won't have to rest your ladder against your newly painted walls.

Owners Offer Ten Helpful Points On Home Evaluation And Buying

What owners like, and dislike, about their new homes can be your best guide in buying a house of your own.

Surveys of home owners' preferences show that these are 10

features most would insist on if they were buying again:

1. More storage space. Elimination of the basement in modern homes has made storage one of the most pressing of all problems.

2. Easily maintained materials. The homemaker who does her own work—and who doesn't—wants such easily cleaned and maintained materials as clay tile in her bathrooms and kitchen.

3. An entry hall. The front door that opens directly onto the living room rug creates a major problem in rainy and muddy weather.

4. A bath and a half or two baths. Even a $10,000 house should have a bath and a half, says one builder. Waterproof qualities make clay tile the favorite material.

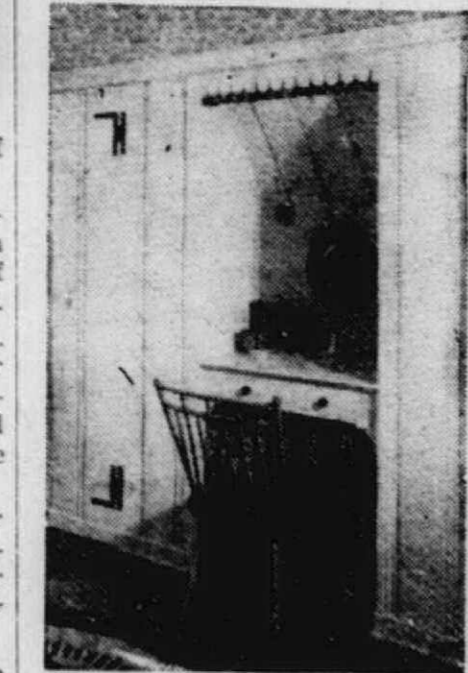

5. A large lot, but not too large. Small lots mean a sacrifice of privacy. Too large ones entail extra lawn and sidewalk maintenance.

6. Larger kitchen. The small ef-

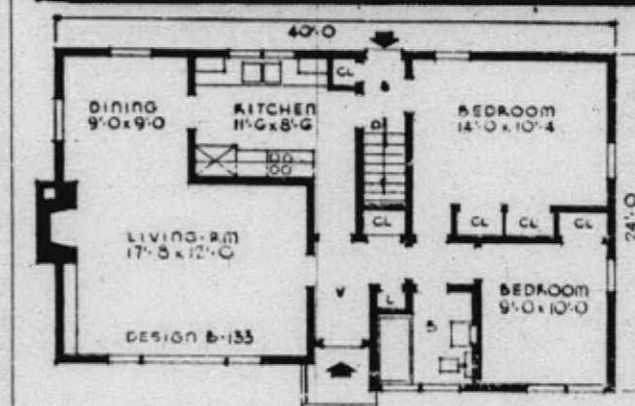

7. Recreation room, or bedroom or other room that can double as one. Families with children need some space other than the living room for recreation.

8. Built-in furniture. This saves part of the large outlay needed for furniture.

9. Better wiring. Owners find that television sets, automatic washers, drier and air conditioners require greater electrical capacity than houses of the past had.

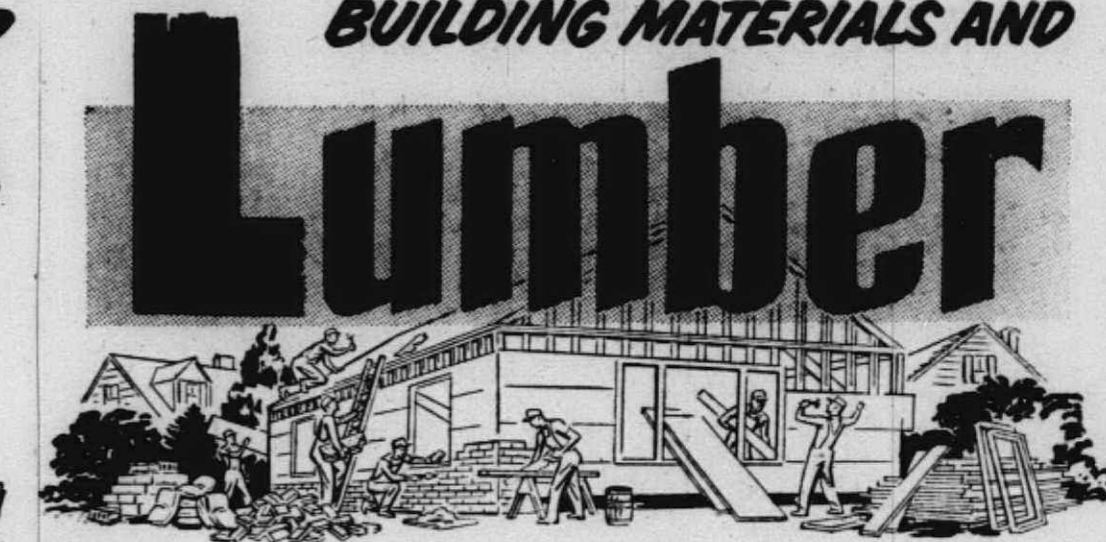

10. Good condition. Proximity to transportation, schools and shops plays a major role again, now that the "any house at any price" period is over.

THE BRIGHTON has a long but narrow floor plan that gives the house a larger appearance than actually exists. There are two bedrooms, bath, kitchen and combination living-dining room, with full basement. There is excellent circulation between rooms, all can be reached from the front hall without passing through any other room. Kitchen cabinets are on opposite walls with refrigerator and sink on outside wall and sink under windows. Living-dining room is L-shaped with cross-light. Living room has large picture window unit in front and fireplace on end wall. Bedrooms have wardrobe type closets. Entrances have coat closets and linen closet. Exterior has asphalt shingle roof and wide siding wall finish with a recessed entrance. Dimensions are 40 feet by 24. Area is 915 square feet, cubage 17,842. For further information about THE BRIGHTON, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

This Week—DORA MESSACAR

This week Plymouth Mail's friendly neighbor claims two enjoyable sides to her life. She is the wife of Donald Messacar and secretary to Plymouth's Superintendent of Schools, Russell Isbister.

There is probably no need to mention her work as housewife. However, not much is known of her job as secretary. Nine years ago Mrs. Messacar began her employment as general office clerk. Now she handles the General Child Accounting books and, as every secretary must do, keeps tabs on her employer's appointments.

Since the school provides bus transportation for its students Mrs. Messacar must also see that the buses are on schedule. According to Mrs. Messacar "when a bus breaks down the morning can become very hectic." The bus may be late, and children standing on the corner think it's wonderful.

But, Mrs. Messacar can think of better things to happen. Before she knows it, calls are coming from all over the city from mothers saying that their children were not picked up. The children go home and in the meantime the buses are repaired and on their way to pick up the students. However, when the buses arrive for Johnny, he's still home which means mother must rush him down to the corner in order to catch the bus. The children eventually get to school. But, probably not before Mrs. Messacar, several mothers and the bus driver grow a few gray hairs.

Mrs. Messacar is a member of the Business and Professional Women's club. For entertainment she enjoys square dancing and music—both light classical and popular. Her artistic abilities are brought out in the fact that she "loves to arrange flowers."

The Messacars have a new home at 540 Adams.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

TRENCH MOUTH

Trench mouth has been known for several thousand years. A military report was written in 410 B. C. by the general, Xenophon. He was a military leader as well as a historian. He described the condition of his soldiers. He said they suffered from extreme fatigue and illness. Their mouths were sore and their breaths foul.

During the first World War our soldiers were affected the same way. These men were the victims of a disease called trench mouth. Doubtless it was the same malady which was described by Xenophon 2300 years before.

Trench mouth is an infection of the throat and mouth. The germ was first described in 1894 by a French doctor Vincent. Hence it is called Vincent's angina. The disease is painful and contagious. The germs are found in a healthy mouth but when the gums are sound and the general health is good, the mouth does not become infected with the disease. But if poor hygiene is present and mouth care is neglected the gums may become infected, swollen, and painful. They bleed upon the least provocation. The taste is bad and the breath foul.

Though trench mouth was especially prevalent during the war it increased among the civilian population after the war. This was probably due to neglect of the disease and failure to recognize it in the early stages.

Trench mouth may be so serious as to ruin the health of individuals. Sometimes patients may run a high temperature and bleed profusely from the mouth.

It is important to remember that trench mouth is contagious. It is transmitted by using the same towels, silverware, glassware, and other table and toilet utensils used by those who have the disease. Sometimes people suffer from this disorder for a long time without realizing that the real source of the trouble is in the mouth. Often constitutional disorders such as headaches, fatigue, weakness, lassitude, a mental depression are symptoms of trench mouth.

It is necessary to practice the strictest hygiene and to take all necessary precautions to prevent spreading the infection. Under ordinary conditions each individual should use his own towels and all table utensils. Avoid contact such as kissing or close contact.

A dentist as well as a doctor should handle the treatment because it must be very thorough and applied with skill and care. Diet is always important. The protective foods are needed such as eggs, milk, fruits, and leafy vegetables. Fresh orange juice is especially helpful. Some dentists say that several glasses should be drunk daily. Go to your dentist at regular intervals under ordinary circumstances as a preventive.

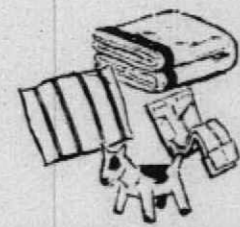

We know of two things that depend entirely upon faith and love for their success. One is democracy and the other is hash.

Not much actual business was done by the council Monday evening. The street committee asked and was granted further time to investigate the proposed cement walk on the north side of Ann Arbor street. There was some more "chewing" over the water works ordinance as pertaining to plumbers and it is probable that something may be done along that line later.

Parasites Combat Hessian Fly

Farmers get a big assist from nature each year in combating the Hessian fly in wheat, but nature needs all the cooperation it can get.

Entomologists at Michigan State college point out that more than half the battle has been carried by tiny wasp-like parasites that keep alive by killing Hessian flies.

Parasites in southern Michigan carry on about four-fifths of the battle, the entomologists figure.

Researchers have found that most of the wasp-like parasites do their good work by laying eggs in the bodies of maggots of Hessian flies. The eggs hatch into parasitic larvae and devour their hosts.

But in spite of this assist, plus farmers following cultural practices that interfere with the natural life cycle of the pest, Hessian flies manage to do as much as $30 million worth of damage a year to wheat in the United States.

That is why Michigan farmers should follow recommended practices and pay attention to the fly-free date for planting wheat, stress the entomologists.

Sympathy is what one Plymouth woman sometimes offers another woman in exchange for a little bit of gossip.

Sturdy Fabrics And Colors Can Interest Boy in His Room

It is not the amount of money, always, which makes a room an outstanding success in the eyes of young people, but a flair for interesting color effects, and provision for special interests.

The young boy wants sturdy fabrics and everyday colors. Subtle effects are completely lost on him. And he does not want a room in which he can play and hobby, such as boats, planes or motors, arrange space so he can devote time comfortably to them. Most boys like dark blues and reds for colors and take to stripes or plaids for design.

Make left-over space in the attic attractive for the boy, if there is no other room in the home suitable for this purpose. Pine walls are excellent; or you can cover walls in sheet rock or beaver board and paint a vivid color such as blue or kelly green.

The floor should be practical so that it can be kept clean easily. The various rubber tiles and plastic floor coverings are both durable and good-looking. Choose plain solid colors, such as navy blue with red or white insets, for instance, if the walls are blue. Build bunks on each side of the room for himself and his favorite pal. Use such practical fabrics as blue whipcord and plain hermosa cloth for spreads. Curtains can match the spread and should be attractive, opaque and washable. A long table adequately lighted is vital, and must be at a convenient height for work and study. Ship lanterns are favorite lighting. A pair of comfortable chairs, covered in matching red or green hermosa cloth seats will appeal, also.

Do not forget that children of all ages have their own ideas about decorating their very own room, and with some guidance, of course, should be allowed to make their own choices. You'll find there's added pride in taking care of their possessions, and it's good training for them to become conscious of the important part home decoration can play in their lives.

Ripley Collection
To be Shown Here

Robert Ripley's personal collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities, being exhibited on national tour under the auspices of the Navy club of the United States of America will be presented in Plymouth on Thursday and Friday, October 22 and 23.

Believe It or Not cartoons have been appearing in newspapers throughout the world for years. On display in this exhibit will be some of the original drawings picturing facts which many found difficult to believe. The greater portion of the exhibit features part of Ripley's amazing collection of the authentic original subjects on which the cartoons are based. Every item is selected from the unusual assortment of strange things which Mr. Ripley spared no effort or expense to unearth during his endless explorations of all parts of the world.

The mobile exhibit is mounted on a special custom-built trailer, featuring a medieval torture device, the "Iron Maiden of Nuremberg". This inhuman killer of the dark ages is only one of many interesting articles with curiosity or oddity significance. There is a working model of an inventor's attempt to perfect perpetual motion, a knife that cuts cold steel, and an Indian necklace made from human bones, the trigger fingers of the men massacred at Custer's Last Stand.

Included in this exhibit are mysterious oddities and wonders of every age and every part of the world. There is a two-headed calf, a mummified hand with a curse that came true, a $50,000.00 shoe, the jawbone of a huge man-eating shark, a genuine murder poison ring, and many other items.

Location of the showing will be on Main street (front of Kregge's). Admission is free, and the exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Any funds raised through voluntary donations will be used by the National Headquarters and the Local Ships of Navy club of the USA to assist them in carrying on their services to veterans.

Supplement Helps
Cornfield Hogs

Does it pay to feed supplement when you're hogging down your cornfield?

Dr. J. A. Hoefer, livestock nutrition researcher at Michigan State college, contends that it does. And 3 corn belt feeding tests back up the assertion.

The tests show these results: Hogs in the cornfield that were fed supplement each gained one-half point more per day than those eating just what the cornfield afforded.

Each bushel of corn produced four and a half pounds more pork when supplement was fed.

Each pound of supplement saved 6.4 pounds of corn. And, says Dr. Hoefer, you can figure it another way. If corn were worth $1.25 a bushel, you can afford to pay as much as 12 cents a pound for supplement.

Prior to consideration of the items on the agenda, Mayor Daane read Articles V, VIII and IX of the Proposed Zoning Ordinance in order that all present might know the difference between the various types of zoning.

Mayor Daane then called for discussion of the proposed zoning of S. Main Street. The majority of those interested citizens present expressed themselves as being in favor of zoning both sides of S. Main Street from Brush to Ann Arbor Road as C-2.

Moved by Comm. Henry and supported by Comm. Tibbitts that the proposed zoning map show both sides of S. Main Street from Brush to Ann Arbor Road as C-2. Carried unanimously.

Mayor Daane then called for the discussion on the York Street zoning. All interested parties present voiced their opinions as being opposed to any change in zoning on York Street south of the C & O Railroad. Mr. George Raviler, who had requested the change, then stated that in view of the opposition, he would withdraw his request.

Moved by Comm. Henry and supported by Comm. Bauer that the meeting be adjourned. Carried unanimously.
Time of adjournment was 9:30 p.m.

Three year old Kathy Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Goddard, standing in line at the Hidden Valley Ski Club dining room last week, saw an opportunity for her and her mother to get a table and hungrily quipped, "follow me behind, we're in a fast hurry Mommy!"

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club really get around the country. Their weekly bulletin pointed out last week that makeups for members had arrived from Petosky, Northville, Garden City, Warren, Belleville, Holland, Berkley, Cass City, Stanton, Highland Park, Dearborn, Livonia, Westwood, Wayne, Detroit and Bay City, Michigan in addition to Hollandale, Florida, Miami, Florida, Seneca Falls, New York, Manato, Minnesota and Toledo, Ohio.

Prize funny of the week was the local housewife who called her husband and said two furnace service men are here at the house to clean the oil burner for winter, and they wondered if you would come home and shut off the furnace because they didn't know how.

Former Mail printer John Nelson now publisher of the Sunfield Sentinel at Sunfield ran the following ad last week for the Sunfield Farmer's Elevator company. "OUR CLOSING TIME. We close at 5:30 at night. Our men like to be all done and closed up at that time if possible. This makes them a good long day or 9-30 hours. Also the time when we can give good service the best is the first thing in the morning and from ONE to 4 in the afternoon. We see it almost every day people think that they will slip over just the last thing at night then when they get here 3 others have thought the same thing and first thing we know it is 6-30. Unless it is an emergency don't start to town to late."

So enthusiastic was Mrs. Robert Wesley about the coming fund raising campaign for St. Mary's Hospital that, leaning forward on elbows at a table, her folding chair on the newly polished floor at the Felician Sister's home on Schoolcraft road shot out from under her and left her hanging on elbows and chin until friends could help her to her feet. Said Mrs. Wesley, "it's chins up for St. Marys anyway you look at it."

Former Plymouthites Mr. and Mrs. Duane Parkes, now residents of Fremont, Michigan, were at the State-Texas Christian game in East Lansing last Saturday where they told us that as much as they liked their new home they still longed for Plymouth, their many friends and the Kiwanis club. Looking chipper as ever they were guests of Fremont publisher and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vidian Roe.

The Mail's football contest has proved a most popular feature and it is interesting to note that even the best informed football experts can't always pick the winners. Last week coach Charles Ketterer of the High School tied for third place and this week a woman, Rose M. Smith of 8354 Canton Center road, walked off with second honors which all goes to prove it's pretty difficult to outguess the pigskin toters.

We would like to compliment coach Ketterer however on the way he is bringing along his varsity squad knowing the terrific handicap under which he is working. In his own words he pointed out that there are only 32 men out for the varsity this year as against 65 in Northville and that there are probably two better teams than he has now walking the halls of the school, but they haven't time for football.

After enjoying the Detroit News music festival in Detroit last Friday night Mr. and Mrs. David Gates visited back stage with tenor Eugene Conley who has been a friend of Mrs. Gates and her family since 1937 when her father, as program director of radio station WWJ, hired Conley for his first radio job as staff vocalist. Mrs. Gate's father is famous radio executive Wynn Wright who at present is developing a national agricultural series for the air. Conley, incidentally, is the tenor who sang the Star Spangled Banner at President Eisenhower's inaugural.

Lower prices for gasoline soon were predicted by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) as he added finishing touches to a report to be submitted to the January session of the Legislature. Among reasons for this belief he lists the "tremendous" effect of Justice Department investigations; the large petroleum stock on hand; the present tendency of everyday motorists to reduce pleasure driving because of high car-operating costs.

"An oversupply of gasoline IS likely to result in a downward price revision," agreed William Palmer, executive secretary of the Oil and Gas Association of Michigan. "A price reduction, if it occurs, can be attributed to this fact, more than any other," he stated. Palmer added that petroleum production is high because facilities were rushed to completion as part of a national defense program. He pointed to the situation in Iran where the biggest refinery in the world may renew production at any time and increase world supply even more.

Conclusions of the committee investigation cannot be announced until the report is filed with the Legislature, but Broomfield indicated that several important questions about gas prices still need answers. "We are not saying at this time that prices are too high," said Chairman Broomfield, "we are attempting to be sure that increases are justified."

He referred to 13 separate increases since OPA ended in 1946, saying, "Michigan citizens are alarmed at ever increasing prices of gas."

Answers are sought for these questions. Why is gasoline higher priced in Michigan than other states when: Michigan gas taxes are lower than other states. Michigan has ideal pipe-line, tanker, rail, truck and natural production facilities. Michigan drivers consume more gas than most other states.

Other questions under consideration are: Why do gas prices of competing companies increase at the same time?

How are "fringe" companies, who sell for less than "name" brands, able to expand their businesses and at the same time undersell the name brands? Are unfair and illegal pressures used to force up the prices of "price cutting" retailers?

"It's wide open," said Palmer referring to the gasoline field. He pointed to the fact that "fringe" operators had prospered as profit that restraint does not exist.

He also made reference to his figures showing a cost of living increase of 87% as compared with a 66% increase in the cost of gas. He said further, that of the 13 increases, two in state and one in federal taxes had to be passed on to consumers. "There were also four price decreases since OPA," he added.

Investigations by the committee began the middle of June and included a trip to Washington to compare notes with a federal committee also checking gas pricing. "We felt that it would be a duplication of effort if we questioned all oil companies," Broomfield explained. "About 80% of the wholesale business in the state is involved in interstate commerce and the Justice Department has about 30% of its staff investigating this problem at a national level," he continued.

"Oil companies charge all that the traffic will bear," claimed Joseph P. Hadley during committee hearings. Hadley is general counsel and secretary of the Michigan Petroleum Association, an organization of 400 gasoline jobbers. He claimed this practice to be an established oil industry policy.

Palmer said that Hadley's statement could be stated a different way which would "have a more acceptable tone": Oil companies charge all competition will permit them to charge.

Another hearing highlight came when M. E. Greenspon, gas station owner in Dearborn, claimed that many kinds of pressures were directed at him when he reduced the retail price of gas to 28.9 cents per gallon when "name" brands were selling for 30 cents. Among these were closing off his local supply, which meant he had to haul gas more than 100 miles, and a city ordinance which prevented his station from operating 24 hours per day.

Big companies do less business now than previously, claims Palmer. He produced a statement by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana which read: "At the time of the dissolution of the Standard Oil Trust in 1911, Standard of Indiana was the only large oil company in the middle west, doing about 80% of the business. Over the years we have seen one company after another, both new and old, grow and prosper. Today 22 of the companies which compete in this area have assets of over $100,000,000, and Standard does less than 20% of the business."

"Tankwagon" prices will have to be reduced if retail prices are to drop said John W. Nerlinger Jr., secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Association of Detroit. He said dealers pay 16.8 cents per gallon, plus 5.3 in federal and state taxes. "Profit per gallon in Detroit ranges between 5.7 and 5.97 cents per gallon," the secretary stated.

Retail margin in Duluth, Minn., is 5.9; in Green Bay, Wis., it's 5 cents.

Cost of investigation proceedings was about $1,200 said Rep. Broomfield, who added that the committee was allowed $1,500.

"We are sure that this amount will be saved many, many times over by the people of Michigan in holding down unjustified price increases in the cost of gasoline as well as other commodities," the young Representative concluded.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

Babson Park, Massachusetts. It is strange how most people believe that stock and other markets go up "when there are more buyers than sellers, or go down when there are more sellers than buyers." Yet, this is nonsense. For every buyer there must be a seller, and vice versa.

ONLY ONE SAFE RULE
Market trends depend upon the relative impatience of buyers vs. sellers. Or, to speak more technically, when the number of shares of stock wanted, multiplied by the relative impatience of buyers, EXCEEDS the number of shares for sale, multiplied by the relative impatience of sellers, then prices rise. The reverse of this rule determines when prices decline.

Patience vs. Impatience determines profits and losses. In the case of very inactive unlisted stocks, this is determined by the relative patience of perhaps only two persons. In the case of a listed stock, the relative patience of all would-be sellers or buyers of that one stock must be considered. When endeavoring to forecast the trend of the stock market averages as a whole, the relative patience of all stockholders should be considered.

MEASURING PATIENCE
When measuring the relative patience of all stockholders, there are four factors to consider: (1) Amount of Free Cash or Credit Available; (2) Relation of Prices to Business Conditions; (3) Confidence in the Future; and (4) Political and Labor Interference. This last would not need to be added if the nation were on the Gold Standard, as during the years preceding the 1930's.

In determining the long-term trend of any industry, a constant watch should be kept for new discoveries, new inventions, and new products. These can either ruin or make very profitable the industries affected. Hence, the great importance of spending large sums on research; also of keeping informed of the secrets which the Patent Office can reveal to those willing to pay for constant watchfulness of what is going on there.

The above means that the desire to buy or sell stocks—"desire" being a synonym for "patience"—is determined, first, by the money or credit available with which to buy. This information is obtainable from Government reports of various kinds. Second, by actual business conditions, indicated weekly by hundreds of compilations covering 85% of all industries, divided by the stock averages.

A knowledge of the above two factors should determine the desires of investors based on present conditions, but without reference to the future. But the future should also be studied and considered. Hence, the importance of the third factor—namely, Confidence in the Future. This is a more difficult factor to measure; but we are constantly discovering more ways of doing so. When one considers that fully 95% of investors, consciously or unconsciously, fail to act upon the above rules (since only 5% have correct data to guide them) one can appreciate the great opportunities awaiting those few investors who do have and do use such data.

Some camera fans with a spark of ingenuity, lots of patience, and the proper equipment find it possible to snapshot history-making events without poking their noses out of the front door. How? By sport and human interest photographing top political, events appearing on their TV screens.

The ordinary box camera with its fixed-focus and shutter speed will fail to record an image on the negative. An f.3.5 aperture or larger is a must. Folks with small screen TVs will be wise to use a portrait attachment to avoid extreme enlargements later. There are many tricks to this type of shooting, but nothing that can't be licked with patience and the proper tools.

When to trip the shutter, shutter speeds and use of the most effective film are some of the pitfalls we haven't space to dwell on, but we are always happy to go into them more closely if you care to drop in for a first-hand explanation.

Whether your problem concerns Black and White or Color, Movie or Still, Flash or Daylight photography or Camera Repairing, THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER is well qualified to advise you. We have a COMPLETE stock of equipment and are anxious to share our "know-how" with all Fellow Photographers.
