SENATOR HOMER FERGUSON and Representative Charles Oakman were visitors in Plymouth Tuesday afternoon, making stops at the Plymouth Mail and Marquis Toll House. Both congressmen were impressed with the colonial styling of The Mail's new front. At the latter stop, they greeted the city's Republican leaders and other citizens while sipping coffee. The senator delivered an address before the Northville Rotary club Tuesday noon. He will be in Plymouth sometime in November to speak to Chamber of Commerce members on federal aid to small business and industry. Pictured above, in front of The Mail office (left to right) are Representative Oakman, Mayor Russell Daane and Senator Ferguson.

Symphony Season Opens With Concert This Sunday

Music written over a span of 130 years will fill the Plymouth high school auditorium this Sunday, October 25, when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presents the season's opening concert. Wayne Dunlap's baton will give the downbeat to the 85-piece orchestra's eighth season at 4 p.m.

The musical program will range from Overture to "Euryanthe," of 1822 vintage, to "Old American Songs" by Copland, which is a 1953 offering. The program will also include incidental music to "Shylock" by Faure, "La donna e mobile" from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and "Symphony No. 5" by Tchaikowsky.

None of the music has ever been performed before in Plymouth, Dunlap said, even though the Tchaikowsky Fifth Symphony is probably the most popular symphony in the repertoire. He added that the second movement was the inspiration for the popular song "Moon Love."

If the Fifth Symphony is one of the most played symphonic works, Dunlap continued, the incidental music to "Shylock" is the most neglected. It was written by one of the greatest of the French masters, Gabriel Faure, in 1895. The work has had only three or four performances in this country, he added. Since two movements of the work require tenor voice,

Fred Kendall, well-known Plymouth soloist, will sing. Kendall will also include "La donna e mobile" and "Old American Songs" in his appearance with the Symphony. "Old American Songs" are adaptations of some early American songs by Aaron Copland, who may be considered the dean of American composers, Dunlap said. Included under the title "Old American Songs" are: "The Boatmen's Dance," a minstrel song; "The Dodger," a campaign song; "Long Time Ago"; "Simple Gifts;" and "I Bought Me a Cat," which is a song for children. The concert itself is the first of seven to be presented this season by the local symphonic group. The full season will be filled out with a Christmas concert, and family concert besides the season's regular presentations.

Art Students Will Paint The Town for Halloween

The eerie look will be the rage in Plymouth store windows next week. Again this year art classes at Plymouth high school are forming painting groups as a safe Halloween project. The painting is sponsored by the Recreation department and the Chamber of Commerce.

On Tuesday, October 27, the 95 students will grab paint buckets and tackle the job of painting up 134 local store windows. This is about one-half the number decorated last year in the two-day project. Since students have only been given one day this year, Herbert Woolweaver, director of recreation, stated that many merchants have had to be passed up.

The project does not entail just slapping paint around. Woolweaver added. The students have been working on scale drawings in preparation for their bigger art project on the store windows. The only colors used will be black, orange and white. Judging will take place between 2 and 4 p.m. Ribbons will be presented by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club.

Grade school parades will be held on October 28 in the immediate area of each school, with individual Parent-Teacher associations serving refreshments. An Optimist-sponsored Halloween dance for teenagers on Saturday, October 31, in the high school will climax the local activities.

Richard Gets Help

Life has been made a little brighter for Richard Fulton, nine-year-old muscular dystrophy victim. Last week Richard's picture ran in The Mail with the story of how he was unable to attend school this year. As a matter of fact, Richard is unable to move about unless carried. His need for a wheel chair was pointed out—and the response was immediate.

Former Starkweather schoolmates raised $2.07 from their allowances; Karl Sonderegger, local mortician, and Kenneth Fisher of the VFW both offered wheel chairs which proved to be too large for Richard; and finally, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph West of 225 North Mill street were able to lend Richard a small wheel chair. The West's are unable to give the chair away, however, as it does not belong to them.

Anyway, Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Fulton of Division, are as happy as Richard that he can now get about their small home and go outside by himself. The ideal chair, of course, would be the small folding type that could be carried in the car. And who knows, maybe Richard will have that soon? A drive for funds to help find a cure for muscular dystrophy will get underway in Plymouth in late November. Mrs. H. Phillip Barney will be local chairman.

Appoint Traffic Committee

A seven-member traffic safety committee was appointed by the city commission Monday night in a busy session which also saw the hiring of a new police officer, authorization to take bids on a sewer cleaning unit, action on Christmas lighting and discussion on an ordinance to prohibit early morning parking on city streets.

Appointment of the traffic safety committee was the result of a recommendation made in the traffic survey conducted in Plymouth by the American Automobile Association. The survey recommended a six-member committee to handle all requests, petitions, or complaints regarding the safe and orderly movement of traffic and pedestrians and to make recommendations regarding traffic to the city commission.

Named to the committee were: Marvin Terry, representing the city commission; Albert Glassford, city manager; Carl Greenlee, chief of police; Robert McAllister, fire chief; Harry Larsen, representing the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. A. E. Vallier, representing the School Community Planning Group; and Thomas Rossette, 551 Evergreen, an "interested citizen."

Terms of the committee members will expire May 1, 1955. This will allow the next mayor time to appoint his own committee.

The commission decided to follow another recommendation of the AAA by giving the city manager permission to order a new controller device for the traffic signal in front of the city hall. The AAA claimed that the signal obstructed the traffic flow and should be in operation only during the periods of the day when school children are going and coming from school. The present controller is obsolete. Glassford reported that it will cost between $200 and $300 to have it replaced.

Commissioners also approved the hiring of another man for the police force as another means of coping with traffic problems. A letter from Chief of Police Greenlee stated that Officer Louis Westfall is not able to devote his full time to parking meters because of the lack of additional help. The commission, after lengthy discussion, approved the suggestion, although it was necessary to provide for the new officer from unappropriated funds.

Approval was also granted the police department to allow permanent erection of stop signs on Holbrook at Spring street. The signs were erected to slow speeding traffic near Starkweather elementary school.

A decision to go along with the Chamber of Commerce's Christmas lighting program was made by the commission. Appearing before the group to present their plan were George Witkowski, (Continued on Page 3)

COMMISSION APPROVES NORTHSIDE FIRE STATION

Will House New Truck Purchased at $18,200

A decision to purchase a new fire engine costing $18,200 and to construct a new northside fire station was reached by the city commission at a special meeting Tuesday night.

After examining specifications and bids from five fire engine builders and narrowing the field down to three, the commission selected a pumper built by the American LaFrance company of Elmira, New York. Bids from other companies were: Seagrave company, $17,983; Pirch corporation, $17,901; Firemaster company, $15,525; and Howe company, $15,572.

Commissioners called the Tuesday night special meeting at their Monday night meeting because of the importance of the decisions. It took almost two hours to reach a decision on the truck purchase and the remainder of the time until 10 o'clock was spent in a discussion of the fire station which must be built to house the new truck.

Homeowners and industry on the north side of the city have long wanted a fire station in that section since trains sometimes block railroad crossings. City commissioners decided at the Tuesday meeting to allow an architect's drawing and estimates for a stationhouse. In the meantime, a site for the station will be investigated. The city owns several possible sites in that section of the city.

Tentative plans call for a two-door fire house, Fire Chief Robert McAllister reports. Such a structure may cost around $20,000. The commission will then be faced with the problem of hiring manpower for the station.

Both the Howe and Firemaster engines were eliminated early in the commission discussion Tuesday night. These two companies build engines using parts produced by other truck manufacturers and are the three leading fire engine builders in the nation.

Chief McAllister explained in detail the advantages and disadvantages of each of the trucks to the commissioners. The LaFrance purchased has a delivery date set at 200 days. Commissioners hope to have the fire station built by February.

The American LaFrance has a pumping capacity of 750 gallons per minute with its triple combination pumper. It contains a 300 gallon booster tank, two hose reels with 1,200 feet of two and a half-inch hose and 600 feet of one and a half-inch hose. It has a 215 horsepower V-12 engine. It also includes a deluge gun which is a nozzle which collects the power of three hoses. The model selected has no cab.

The Civil Defense department will donate $5,500 toward the new engine. The department has participated in the purchase of 12 trucks in Michigan, including one in Livonia.

On the committee to make recommendations for the new fire house are Commissioners Floyd Tibbitts, Henry Fisher and George T. Bauer.

Fall from Bicycle Injures Boy 10

Ten-year-old David Edward Pinion is reported to be improving in University hospital, Ann Arbor, after suffering a concussion in a fall from his bicycle Monday morning. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pinion, 686 Herald.

The youth was riding his bicycle to school on Brush street when he fell from the bicycle and struck his head on the pavement. It has not been learned how the mishap occurred.

The fire department rescue car was called and they rushed David to a local physician. Still unconscious, the boy was taken by ambulance to University hospital. Mrs. Pinion reports that her son, a student at Smith school, is rapidly improving.

Knights to Sell Gasoline to Help Boysville Home

Again this year Joe's Service will designate all Capacity Day proceeds to Boysville, the home and school for homeless boys of Michigan. Saturday October 24, will be the big day for the service station at Starkweather and Pearl streets when the Plymouth Council of the Knights of Columbus in cooperation with the Sinclair Refining company stage the Capacity Day sale of gasoline. Local Boysville chairman Roland Francis pointed out that this event furnishes an opportunity for all who are interested in helping youth to lend support to this project. The fully equipped school prepares these young men for living by means of a spiritual and moral training.

Boysville's operating expenses are met by donations and the help of the Knights of Columbus of the State of Michigan. Each council is assessed a quota each year which can be met in any way they see fit. Francis stated that Capacity Day has been chosen by Plymouth Council again this year as one of the ways by which funds can be raised for Boysville.

A similar day was held last year and the council hopes to surpass the mark set last year when Joe's Service won the Capacity Day competition in this district.

Capacity Day is an annual one-day competition put on by Sinclair dealers. Joe Spaniaer, owner of the station, has agreed to turn over his entire profit from the sale to Boysville. In addition to regular attendants, local Knights will also be on hand to sell the gasoline.

Commissioners Make Changes in Zoning Sections

A section of the proposed zoning ordinance giving the planning commission power to check over building plans before a permit is issued has met its death.

Both the planning commission and city commission have given their approval to the elimination of Section 15.02 which stated that "no building permit or structure shall be issued in a PR-1, C-1, C-2, M-1, M-2 district until such plans have been proved by the city planning commission as to their compliance with the provisions of this ordinance."

Also changed was a Section 13.05 which stated that when a case is to go before the Board of Appeals, they shall "fix a reasonable time for the hearing of appeal." The section has been changed to require the board to hold a hearing within 30 days after application for a hearing is made.

The changes were made after objections came from citizens, some of the city commissioners and a recommendation from Waring and Johnson, planning consultants.

Club to Entertain Crippled Children

Spooks will invade the Kiwanis Girl Scout Cabin this Friday when members of the local Kiwanis club entertain 24 crippled children with a Halloween party. Chairman Les Taylor announced that the club is working in cooperation with the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The children attending the Kiwanis-sponsored masquerade party will be of the young adult group. The club will furnish drivers to transport the children to and from the party and refreshments.

"PLENTY OF BIRDS this year," claims this pair of hunters who bagged their first pheasant in a trip through a cornfield as the season opened Tuesday morning. Pictured are Bill Phalen, 220 Ann street (left), whose German pointer is getting its first experience at hunting. The other hunter is M. L. Kerchhoff, Territorial road, on whose farm they downed the pheasant.

Pheasant Bag is Poor On Opening

Local hunters had varied opinions about the increase of pheasants in this area after tramping the farms in this area on Tuesday. For the most part they agreed with the Conservation department that there actually were more birds this year than there had been in a long time.

However, because of the drought, dogs were handicapped in the field and birds chose to run rather than fly. This made the first day kill probably even lighter in this area than last year.

Most of the good hunting lands around Plymouth are posted and farmers for the most part had little complaint at least on opening day. No hunting accidents were reported and no livestock had been shot.

Conservation officer, Charles Voss said his department found few violations and as a general rule the hunters were all obeying state conservation laws.

Few hunters bagged their limit of two birds and many of the members of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association failed to score at all on the opening day. No major fires were reported in this area as hunters apparently did use extreme care in the crackling dry fields.

Polio Strikes Local Infant, 21 Months

Twenty-one-month old Verna Spayth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spayth, 1121 Brush street, has become Plymouth's first reported polio victim this year. She is confined to University hospital in Ann Arbor where she was taken last Sunday after a local physician diagnosed her ailment.

Mrs. Spayth reports that her daughter's arms and legs are paralyzed. "It's still too soon to tell how serious it is," her physician reports.

There will be a family potluck supper at the Parish Hall of St. John's Episcopal church on Friday evening, October 23 beginning at 6:30 p.m. Bring your own table service and a meatless dish to pass. The speaker for the evening will be Sister Louise of the Community of the Transfiguration, Glendale, Ohio.

Young Politician's Plan Gets Okay Of City Commission

Wholehearted approval with a smile was given by the city commission Monday night to a plan presented by one of the youngest citizens ever to appear before the legislative body.

When his place on the agenda arrived, 11-year-old Arthur Helm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Helm, 435 Starkweather, arose and presented the plan of his sixth grade classmates at Starkweather school to paint house numbers on the curbsings in front of homes.

Without a quiver in his voice, young Arthur explained that one crew of workers would go from house to house and paint black squares on the curb while another crew would later stencil on the numbers with white paint. Profit from the 25 cents-per-house fee will go into a fund to send the sixth grade on a trip to Niagara Falls.

After answering a few more questions about the project, Arthur got the unanimous consent of the commission for the project. Politely, he thanked the commission for their decision and he departed. It was 10 o'clock and bedtime for the young citizen.

Tickets Selling For Chamber's Annual Meeting

With a limit of 250 reservations, Chamber of Commerce captains are continuing their selling of tickets for the Chamber's annual meeting set for Wednesday, November 11.

The annual meeting will feature James F. Gheen, New York City public relations councillor, as the principal speaker. Bird Elementary school will be the scene of the dinner meeting this year with wives of the members and guests also invited.

Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold said that tickets will be sold to members through October 31. If the 250 limit has not been reached, fraternal and civic organizations will be asked to send representatives.

Already receiving invitations to attend are members of the city commission, planning commission, Plymouth township board and the Plymouth board of education.

Firemen Keeping Busy as Blazes

A rash of grass fires has kept the Plymouth fire department busy during the past week—and probably will continue to do so. Dry weather appears to remain on the weather menu for the area, making all fields of weeds and grass potential tinderboxes. Even the burning of leaves has gotten out of control in several instances and the fire department has been called in to take over.

"Be careful where you burn those leaves," Fire Chief Robert McAllister warns. Permission to burn leaves should first be received from the fire department. Care must be taken not to allow unranked leaves to lie near the pile to be burned.

Major to Direct Army Affairs

Announcement of the appointment of Senior-Major Harliff Nicholls to the position of director of affairs for the local Salvation Army was made early this week by the Detroit Corps headquarters.

Major Nicholls' appointment marks a new era for the local organization bringing to the city the highest ranking Salvation Army officer ever to serve in the Plymouth area.

Major Nicholls is at present stationed at the Weirsmith Air Base at Oscoda, Michigan where he has been director of the Red Shield club. Most of his work has been done in Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE EXTENDED by State vice president Mrs. Betty Crozer Penzien to seven of the 11 charter members of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club. The occasion was the 25th anniversary of the founding of the local club, celebrated with

Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club Celebrates Silver Anniversary with Hotel Banquet

Members of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club celebrated their 25th anniversary with a dinner and program at the Mayflower Hotel on Monday evening, October 19 at 7 p.m.

Eighty-five member and guests were present. Of the 11 charter members who are living in Plymouth and other communities, seven attended the meeting. The six charter members who are still active in the club and who were especially honored with a silver gift were Norma Cassidy, Hildur Carlson, Ruth Whipple, Sarah Gayde, Rose Hawthorne and Helen Beals.

A large bouquet of white chrysanthemums, a gift of the Livonia Business and Professional Women's club, centered the speaker's table. The addition of other white and silver floral arrangements together with an attractive silver and white anniversary cake and silver candelabra gave a festive air to the table.

Following an enjoyable dinner during which Richard King played several selections on the Hammond chord organ, Mrs. Bernice Crisp, president of the Plymouth club welcomed Business and Professional women's club visitors from Belleville, Livonia, Milan, Mt. Clemens, Northville, Wayne and Ypsilanti.

Among the local members introduced to the assemblage was one of the club's past presidents, Mrs. Agnes Pauline, who is now chairman of District Federation. A group of tenth grade girls who call themselves, The Chorlettes, sang three numbers. The pleasing harmony and sweet voices were thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard them.

Mrs. Betty Crozer Penzien, vice president of the State Federation, brought greetings from the State Board. She also spoke briefly on the friendships formed through associations with a club like the Plymouth organization. After Mrs. Penzien's message, Mrs. Norma Cassidy was asked to take the listeners back through the years to the early days of the club. She told a number of amusing anecdotes but also in a more serious vein, stressed the importance of women working together for the benefit of all. Mrs. Cassidy paid a special tribute to Alice Safford, first president of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club. It was largely through the tireless efforts of Miss Safford that the Plymouth club came into existence.

Hildur Carlson, another active charter member, read the minutes of the very first meeting of the club which was held on September 26, 1928. She was secretary at that time of the local club and later was appointed secretary of the State Federation. In her talk she touched on the highlights of club activities during the intervening years. Many humorous incidents were recalled as Miss

Carlson reminisced about happenings in the past years.

Following roll call, messages of congratulations were read by Dorothy Ritchie, corresponding secretary. One of the messages came from the State Federation president, Dr. Fannie Kenyon, who because of another commitment, was unable to be present.

Kiwanis Plans Annual Party

Final plans were made Tuesday evening by the special projects committee of the Plymouth Kiwanis club for its annual Knite Klub party. To be held next Tuesday evening at the Hawthorne Valley country club, the dinner dance will be attended by 100 Kiwanians, wives and guests.

Program for the weekly meeting at the Mayflower hotel was conducted by William Sempliner, president of the Wayne County Suburban Bar Association. A film entitled "Living Under the Law" depicted the services performed by a lawyer in his everyday routine.

Attending the meeting was Norm Fitter, lieutenant governor for this Kiwanis district, who introduced his successor, Bill Lambert of the Detroit Strathmore club. An appeal was also made during the meeting by James Gallimore for support of the St. Mary's hospital drive. He emphasized the need for a hospital in this area and pointed out that it was the duty of every civic-minded businessman to help the project in every possible way.

Name Burroughs Plant Manager to Chamber Board

Robert Neimi, plant manager of the Plymouth plant of the Burroughs corporation, has been named as the newest member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors to fill the vacancy left by a resigned member.

Neimi replaces Robert Marsden, former Burroughs official who was transferred to the Detroit office. Other members on the 11-member board of directors are:

Ralph Lorenz, Jack Taylor, James Houk, Dean Saxton, Harry Roberts, Dr. Walter Hammond, Harry Larsen, George Mayhew, Robert Waldecker and Nat Sibbold.

There will be a card party and bazaar sponsored by the MOMS club on Monday evening, October 26 in the Veterans' Memorial center on north Main street.

College Paper Wins Top Award

The Madonna Herald, publication of Madonna college, Livonia, Michigan, has received the All-Catholic Award for its 1952-1953 issues from the Catholic School Press Association. The Herald has also been awarded First Class Honors by the Associated Collegiate Press. This marks the second consecutive year that these ratings have been bestowed on the Herald.

The CSPA based its selection on the Herald's general excellence in spreading Catholic thought and ideals, physical appearance, layout and design, and its consistency in style. Other features rated as good were content of editorials, news and features, headline construction, and accuracy.

Specially commended by the ACP were the Herald's "excellent variety of features," its "newsy leads, crisp and specific," "good editorials, thoughtful and logical" and a "fine selection of special feature columns." This year's score of 955 points represented an increase of 50 points over last year's total.

Editor's note: The Herald is produced in the printing department of The Plymouth Mail.

School Planners Begin Third Year Of Meetings with 41 Attending

A turn-out of 41 persons filled the high school library last Wednesday night to begin the third year of meetings of the School Community Planning Group—an extra-legal organization formed by the Plymouth Township Board of Education to obtain the thinking on school problems of parents, teachers and administrators.

Questions of what to do about future crowded schools and how to eliminate the hazard of the polluted creek which runs through the playground at Smith and Bird Elementary schools were summarized by chairmen of the committee handling the questions. The evening also included the nominations for offices of president and secretary, but the election will not take place until next month's meeting.

Miss Ruth Eriksson, principal of Smith school and president of the planning group during the past year, introduced Superintendent Russell Isbister who welcomed the group and explained the place of the organization in the school administration structure.

Earl West, chairman of the building and site committee, opened the door to some discussion on what type of class arrangement must be used when thinking of more future building. It was noted that much more high school space will be needed as the years go by. The committee is examining several possibilities such as the building of a new junior high elsewhere and utilizing the present junior high building for high school space; or building additions onto the present elementary buildings for seventh and eighth grade pupils.

What the committee desires to learn is the educational advantages and disadvantages of the 6-2-4 plan (elementary, junior high and senior high units) the 6-6 plan elementary and grades 7 through 12 units) or the 8-4 system (grades 1 through 8 and high school units). The committee plans to meet and report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Esther Franklin, chairman of a committee examining playground problems at Smith and Bird schools, told that her committee is still awaiting word from the County Drain Commission on cost estimates of two means of eliminating the Toniquish creek hazard. The commission figured that it would cost $350,000 to tile the entire creek. They have suggested two alternatives—cleaning out the creek and tiling just the 420 feet which crosses Smith playground, or a complete cleanout and rerouting of the creek around the playground.

It was also suggested that a fence be placed in front of the creek. It was noted that by tiling the creek, two and a half acres would be added to the Smith playground. It was voted to continue this committee.

The next meeting of the group will be Wednesday, November 4 at the Allen school. The group includes the principal and a teacher and two parents from each school. Also attending the meeting was the school board, several students, the superintendent, and guest parents.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church is sponsoring a bake sale to be held at Dunning's on Forest avenue beginning at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, October 30.

The Library Book club will meet at the home of Mrs. George Cramer on North Harvey on Tuesday, October 27. Miss Nancy Brannen will give the review.

Someone You Know, Knows Me!

Now somebody is jealous of me. One of the reporters on the Plymouth Mail called me last week and accused me of polluting the news at its source by pouring my drivel into the main stream on page two. I told him I had a bigger following than the queen bee in an apiary. He called me an egocentric ninkapoop with a grandiloquent complex. The man is wrong because I have the highest intelligence quotient in Plymouth. I know because I have to measure my I.Q. with a yardstick. Looks like another case of professional jealousy that should be referred to the editor. I may file a protest tomorrow.

An inebriated gentleman dropped in yesterday to compliment me on my advertising. He was so unsteady on his feet that he needed handles. His status was about 18.7 on the police balloon. That's the saturation point after the decimal. He said he had been caught in a maelstrom of birthday hospitality and couldn't resist a little elixir. I sat him down to a big bowl of home-made vegetable soup, some dunking doughnuts, and a cup of that good Peterson coffee. I sent him home with enough improvement to bypass all the grog shops.

On My Toes, Never On Yours!

SICKROOM SUPPLIES! I don't like to see anybody sick because I'm mentally sick myself. The doctor calls it "non compos mentis." He tells me I may have a fungus growth on the cerebellum. Says I don't need a sickroom. I need a cage or a psychiatrist with a leash.

SOCIAL SECURITY—I've got it! I just installed peanut vending machines in every room in my home. I figure it's against another depression. Maybe I can make a little profit off those machines, come hard times. It's another good idea of mine!

WHAT'S GOOD FOR A COLD? I'm glad you asked that question because I can see you've got a bad case of the sniffles. Better get busy and zone that running nose against your throat before you develop a deep-down bark. If you want a good cold remedy just run your nose down the list below!

WE GIVE

TWO-FACE BEAUTY COUNSEL. Young gals want to look older and old gals want to look younger. But the trouble with most beauty troubles is that too many women are taking their troubles to beauty experts instead of running straight to Peterson. I can make you look like what you ain't because I carry all the beauty aids the experts use—the finest and most complete lines of toiletries in Michigan. No trouble to help you—glad to be of service anytime!

I'm Waiting For You!

New Suits Bring Victory to Team

Resplendent in their brand new, bright and shiny, green and gold uniforms, members of our Lady of Good Counsel, 7th and 8th grade football team beat Northville by a score of 7 to 6 last Sunday afternoon.

Although Our Lady of Victory team of the neighboring city had been favored in the contest, which was played on Ford field in Northville, the local lads upset favorites in front of a surprisingly large crowd.

chairman of the lighting committee, Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold and Russell Stonker of the Detroit Edison company. Commissioners decided to give their $800 set aside in the budget for Christmas lighting to the Chamber plan.

It is estimated by the lighting committee that the program will cost $3,100. The plan calls for erection of illuminated Christmas trees in several parts of the city (see last week's Chamber story in The Mail for detailed plans.).

City Manager Glassford was ordered to advertise for bids for a sewer cleaning device which may cost up to $2,800. Clogged sewers which cause water to back up into basements have been a frequent complaint of homeowners in many parts of the city. The city commission heard the city manager tell of the sewer cleaner which Redford is using. By hiring the work done, it costs about $1.50 a foot to clean a sewer. By purchasing a machine and using city employees, cost would drop to less than 20 cents a foot.

Action was deferred Monday night on a traffic ordinance amendment which would prohibit the parking of motor vehicles on any of the city's streets from 2 a.m. until 6 a.m. Purpose of such an ordinance would give the city freedom to clean the streets and plow snow without moving around parked cars.

However, commissioners did not seem to be in accord with the amendment. The proposal was first suggested a year ago and it was pointed out then and Monday night that there may be many hardship cases in residential areas such as Auburn avenue where lots are too narrow for driveways and the alleys are in poor condition. Some commissioners expressed their desire to approve an ordinance prohibiting parking on all main roads and downtown streets. The discussion was tabled until another meeting.

Chris Mulle, county drain commissioner appeared before the commission to ask for a resolution to allow the drain commission jurisdiction in the Plymouth drainage area. The resolution was necessary, Mulle explained, in order that bonds can be floated for the Middle Rouge Interceptor Sewer, although the drain commission has no intention of taking over any property. The interceptor sewer does not enter Plymouth. The city attorney, Harry Deyo, was instructed to draw up a resolution giving the jurisdiction, but which will contain phraseology denying the drain commission any right to use property here.

In other business at the meeting, the commission established the fee for inspecting gas space heaters at $3. They also gave the St. Mary's hospital building fund committee permission to place a banner across South Main street. They turned down a request from the Lundblad Construction company to place strings of lights across Byron street for advertising purposes. The Community Fund committee was given permission to direct the Boy Scouts in building a fire in Kellogg park in connection with the fund campaign.

Monday night's session was adjourned at 11 p.m.

F Clever Bald Speaks to Society On Local History

"Romance of Michigan History" was the subject selected by F. Clever Bald, when he addressed the members of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at their last meeting held at the home of Mrs. Robert Willoughby on Monday, October 19.

Mr. Bald, who is affiliated with the Michigan Historical Collections in the Rackham building in Ann Arbor, told members that four flags, Spanish, French, British and American had flown over the town of Niles, Michigan.

The speaker further stated that in 1796 all the present state of Michigan, Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio vicinity and the surrounding territories of Milwaukee, Wisconsin and Chicago, Illinois area, composed Wayne county. The county was named after Anthony Wayne.

Daniel Boone, was at one time a prisoner in Detroit. The Indians captured him in Kentucky and later took him to Detroit for imprisonment.

Madame Cadillac has been selected as the first pioneer Mother of Michigan.

Mr. Bald, gave the members a historical account of Tonquish Creek, which is well known to many Plymouth residents.

Reports from the various chapter committees were heard and the society will again sponsor a history contest for students registered in the Plymouth and Northville schools. Anyone enrolled in grades five through eight may submit their entries.

Further details of the contest will be found in The Plymouth Mail at a later date.

Mrs. Harry Deyo and Mrs. Maude Cooper presided at the tea table.

The society is urging anyone who has any old dairies, account books, old clippings or any other historical research, which they no longer have use for, to either call Mr. Bald at the Rackham Building in Ann Arbor or to send the articles to him. All these sources aid the historians in compiling their facts.

BLONDE ONETTA THORPE, a former Plymouth girl, was chosen "Miss Ypsilanti Industry" from among 12 other bathing beauties. Miss Thorpe is secretary to Kaiser Motors president, Edgar F. Kaiser. She received awards from Ypsilanti merchants, a trip to New York and a course at John Robert Powers School in Detroit.

Teachers Going To Higgins Lake For Conference

A caravan of Plymouth township school teachers, along with their husbands or wives, will travel northward Friday night to Higgins lake near Roscommon for a weekend conference sponsored by the Michigan conservation department.

The annual conference, held at various times in the summer and fall for teacher groups throughout the state, is designed to acquaint teachers with conservation practices and effective means of teaching them.

A late snack will be served the group when they arrive at about 10 o'clock Friday night. Following breakfast Saturday morning, a talk on "Animal Ecology" will be given by Ed Ray, superintendent of the conservation training school. At 10 a.m., a discussion on "Game Birds" will be presented by Walt VanDien, conservation education director. A lunch will be served on the beach, weather permitting.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, a field trip will be taken to show game animals and bird ecology, led by VanDien and Ray. A 6 p.m. dinner will be followed by a talk by Helen Martin, research geologist, on "Fuels." Recreation period will follow.

"Effective techniques in Teaching Conservation" will be the subject of a panel discussion at 9 a.m. Sunday. On the panel will be Helen Martin, R. D. Burroughs, Ed Ray, Kathryn Bock, sixth grade teacher at Bird, Marjorie Mackie, first grade teacher at Bird, and Donald Rank, principal of Allen school.

Paul Barrett, land use specialist at Michigan State college, will lead a discussion on "The Land Around Us" at 10:15. The teachers and guests will leave for home following a noon luncheon.

Participation in the conference is voluntary.

Knights Honor Edward C Hough

Members of the Masonic order of Knight Templar presented Edward C. Hough with a scroll last Sunday on the event of his having membership in that order for 50 years. Knights of the Commandry of Northville to which Mr. Hough belonged pointed out that this particular presentation was most unusual in that either age or years of service seldom offer the opportunity for such a presentation.

In receiving the scroll Mr. Hough stated that he had become a Master Mason shortly after his 21st birthday and as soon as he had completed that work he immediately joined the Northville chapter and then the Commandry.

He further related an incident that amused him immensely shortly after he had become a member of the Commandry. "One afternoon I had received my full dress uniform, sword and plumed hat I dressed at my home then proceeded to walk down town in Plymouth to a deceased Templar's funeral. Two small boys on Ann Arbor trail were amazed at my regalia and had me stop and explain why the big feathers and sword. This I did and believe it or not those same two boys are now full grown residents of Plymouth. I wonder if they can recall the incident as well as I can?"

Members of the Commandry from the southeastern district previous to the presentation attended the Presbyterian church in Plymouth in observance of Hospitaler Sunday.

SOCIAL NOTES

Sixty two relatives, friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kalmbach gave them a farewell dinner at the Pen-Mar Cafe on Monday evening.

April Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corey of Ann Arbor road had the misfortune to fall from the horse she was riding last Sunday suffering a slight concussion and minor bruises. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor where she was under observation until Tuesday when she was brought to her home where she is convalescing nicely.

Miss Rosamond Bairas, a freshman at Western Michigan college in Kalamazoo, spent last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bairas of Clemons drive.

Mrs. Floyd Burgett and children, Jack and Judy, Mrs. Otto Beyer and Miss Amelia Gayde were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sullivan of White lake.

University Group Hears Discussion On Social Work

The October 15 meeting of the American Association of University Women was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Nulty, 1385 Park place. Miss Ruth Butts and Mrs. Hugh Harsha assisted Mrs. Nulty as co-hostesses.

The program was planned under the auspices of the social studies group, and Mrs. Warren Worth, the chairman of the group, introduced Miss Jean Haring, psychiatric social work supervisor at the Northville State hospital, who was the speaker for the evening. Miss Haring discussed mental health and sickness and their numerous ramifications and showed interesting color slides of the Northville State hospital.

Mrs. Henry J. Walch poured the tea and coffee and delicious cookies were served by the hostesses.

Aboard the Good Ship MAYFLOWER

The crew of The Good Ship Mayflower is delighted that its skipper is enjoying a vacation in the east. We say "enjoy" with reservations because he's sure to make it somewhat of a busman's holiday. On his agenda are such things as an International Hotel Convention at Montreal; several stops at places that are listed as famous for good eating along with The Mayflower; and an hegira to Plymouth, Massachusetts for some research about things pertaining to the folklore of Plymouth.

A "kick-off" breakfast for twenty-one members of the Industrial Solicitations Committee of The Plymouth Community Fund Drive was held in The Mayflower Room Tuesday morning. Chairman George Wikowski believes in sending his group off to an enthusiastic start.

And while we were banging out the above item The High School Band, doing its part in arousing more interest in The Red Feather Drive, sailed by and saluted The Mayflower. We overheard the following comment about the band and its bevy of pretty majorettes — "That music is as pleasant to see as it is to hear."

Through the efforts of a local doctor, who is alert to the more pleasant things in life, two members of The Plymouth High School Class of 1896 were brought together in the Mayflower's lobby last Friday. They were Rotary visitor George Lee and Township Treasurer Sam Spicer, the only two living members of that class. Also present for some fond reminiscing was another friend of many years, George Bentley, who has been honored recently by the naming of Bentley high school.

We were out in the "galley" yesterday to take a peek at those garbage disposal units. It's hard to believe, but those little machines do work that formerly required many hours of toil. Huge amounts of refuse which used to be handled manually are now swallowed pronto by these marvelous mechanized miles of the galley. Mighty sanitary, too. Each of you Plymouth ladies is invited to bring friend husband along for an inspection of the Mayflower's immaculate galley. The outcome, we'll wager our mizen-mast, will be that he'll take one look at those garbage disposal outfits, then go right out to one of the local appliance dealers and buy one for home use. And that's "Anchors Aweigh" for this trip.

Honor Alumni In Band Salute

1933, '43 and '53 alumni were honored at the Homecoming game Friday, October 16. The band formed the numbers 33, 43 and 53 as they played "Memories," "Hail, Hail," "As Time Goes By," "Alma Mater" and "Fight Song".

The band also formed a clock that stopped at the correct time while playing "Now is the Hour". As they played "Auld Lang Syne" the band formed a large letter P. Robert Willoughby was the narrator.

The week before, October 9, "Lights Out" was the theme. Forming a star, the band played "Stardust." A cornet solo by Bob Paulger was featured. "By the Light of the Silvery Moon" was played as the band formed a large moon. The moon went down and the sun came up with the finale "The World is Waiting for a Sunrise."

A salute to our good neighbors Canada, Mexico and Brazil will be featured on Friday, October 23. "Maple Leaf Forever" will be played by the band honoring Canada. As a salute to Mexico, a Mexican sombrero will be formed to the tune of the popular "Mexican Clapping Song." A coffee cup will honor our South American neighbors in Brazil.

Rose Celebrates 17th Anniversary In Business Here

Seventeen years of successful business will be celebrated next week by William Rose, owner of the Plymouth Hardware at 515 Forest avenue.

When Rose first opened to Plymouth business, his store was located at Liberty and Starkweather. Previous to entering the hardware business he was supervisor of accessories for Cadillac. Eight years after he opened the first store another was opened on Main street. During the war, however, Rose sold the Main street store.

In February of 1951 Rose held the grand opening for the modern store on Forest avenue. The seventeenth anniversary will be celebrated with special sales, Rose said.

The fastest way to get action is to use Plymouth Mail classifieds.

Adult Education Offers Course By Wayne Dunlap

A music appreciation class, taught by Plymouth Symphony orchestra director Wayne Dunlap, is the latest offering of the Adult Education department of Plymouth high school. The course will be organized to follow the concert program of the Plymouth Symphony in order that there might be direct and immediate application of the material presented in class.

The class will begin with a survey of the means of producing musical sounds, and how these principles apply to the various musical instruments. Extensive use of records will be a feature of the course.

The music appreciation course will last for 10 weeks, with the possibility of a 10-week extension. Registration fee is $5.00 for each 10-week period. Those wishing to enroll for this course should register at the adult education office in the high school not later than October 28. The first meeting of the class will be Tuesday, November 3 at 7 p.m.

It is planned to make the course available to the young people of the community as well as adults.

Public Speaking Activities Get Underway Here

By Thalia Bairas

Representing Plymouth high school in the Michigan High School Citizenship Conference which will meet in Ann Arbor, October 28, will be Laura Hatch, a senior.

As another phase of public speaking the subject of all tournament debates among high schools this year is "resolved that the President of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people." These debates will begin December 7 at Farmington, Michigan. The schools participating in the Inter-Lakes League as it is called will be Walled Lake, Pontiac, Waterford, Detroit Southfield, Plymouth, and Farmington.

Up to the present time two practice debates have been held, one, September 29, at Plymouth and the latest, October 13, in the Northville high school. In the near future Plymouth students will debate with those at Melvindale. Coached by Dorothy Midgley, pupils from the local high school participating in debates this year are: Jim Isbister, Tom Rowe, Dick Root, Tom Sawyer, George Ann Bauer, Celia Balfour, Bob Laible, Jim Van Wagoner, Lee Huber, and Wayne Huber.

Still another project for students interested in public speaking is one sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis association. Plymouthites competing in this event which is strictly on a voluntary basis are: Eugene Gulbrandsen, Bob Willoughby, Bea Robertson, John Pernicario, Jim Isbister, Roberta Lidgard and Marilyn Paul. Contestants will first give their speeches before a school group on one of the topics "Five Hundred a Month," "It's Your Sanitorium," or "Sing a Song of Health." Talks should run about four minutes in length.

In each school, the three talks considered best by the judges, one on each of the three topics are eligible for state judging after being delivered before a community group.

6B discussion group schools this year are Bentley, Belleville, Redford, Allen Park, and Trenton. The first two sessions between these schools will be held in November and the question discussed will be, "How should the President of the United States be elected?"

83 Enroll in Program Of Occupational Training

By Ruth Ann Perry

The occupational training program in Plymouth high school is designed for the student who wishes to enter into the business or industrial world upon graduation. It is a co-operative plan between the businessmen of the city, the trainee, and the school. The trainee is not only under the supervision of his employer but the school as well.

The hours spent at school are devoted to classes related to the occupation the student is learning and his required subjects also. The credits acquired in this course may be used for college entrance if the student so desires. While at his job the student gains the valuable experience that only the actual work could give him.

Age is an important factor in the selecting of a student to be used on the job-trainee because of the state laws governing the employment age of minors. A student must be between the ages of 15 and 18 before he is eligible to become a trainee. Any boy or girl who wishes to enroll in this course may do so at anytime while he or she is a student at Plymouth high.

A training program of this type has much to offer to a community. It not only helps promote good citizenship by letting the student work at something he is interested in, but also gives the student an opportunity to study subjects related to his chosen field of work. It lets the school use the community as a "laboratory" when the students can get on the job training under adult supervision.

The Plymouth occupational training program was started in 1936 by the late George A. Smith, superintendent, and Claude Dykehouse, principal, with Carvel Bentley as co-ordinator. This program has been improved upon greatly since its beginning 17 years ago. Melvin Blunk is the present co-ordinator and has 83 trainees under his supervision.

6B discussion group schools this year are Bentley, Belleville, Redford, Allen Park, and Trenton. The first two sessions between these schools will be held in November and the question discussed will be, "How should the President of the United States be elected?"

Groups to Paint Store Windows For Halloween

The art classes of Plymouth high school will paint Halloween pictures on some of the store windows in Plymouth on October 27. Meeting at the school at the regular time, prepared and dressed in suitable clothing 16 groups, each consisting of six members, will work all day.

Chairmen for the different groups are Mildred Redd, Theresa McCarthy, Jim Thorpe, Kay Ingram, Kathy Bernash, Donna Read, Phyllis Carr, Janet Mulholland, Janice Kowalcik, Marilyn Cash, Sara Wesley, Dick Rose, Dick Garchow, Connie Jewell, John Cell, and Shirley Zimmerman.

Only three colors will be used in the paintings orange, black, and white. Awards will be given to the group for certain characteristics such as the best Halloween atmosphere, best suited for the season, weirdest, and others to be decided later.

Students To Get Two Days Off

Two days off are assured all public school students of Plymouth on October 29 and 30, when the teachers will attend the Region 2 Conference of the Michigan Education association in Detroit.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday with a breakfast and a style show in the Fountain room of the Masonic Temple. Future Teachers of America will serve as pages.

Many issues will be brought before the teachers at the general session, such as Education in the Political Scene, A Layman Looks at Our Schools and Our United Profession. All these discussions will be given by prominent men and women, well known in their fields.

The highlights of this conference will be addresses by Governor G. Mennen Williams and Omar B. Ketchum. Both the teachers and pupils are looking forward to these days ahead.

School Sets $500 Goal For Community Fund

By Jan Ponto

Gustave Gorguze, assistant principal and chairman of the United Foundation Drive for Plymouth schools, has announced that Ross Willet will be chairman of this year's drive at Plymouth high school.

Heading the other committees are Nancy Morrison, twelfth grade representative, Tom Sawyer, eleventh grade representative with Dick Morrison, tenth grade representative, and Roberta Lidgard, ninth grade representative.

This year the contributions will again go to the Community Chest Fund, Red Cross, Crippled Children association, Tuberculosis society, March of Dimes, and Reserve.

The United Foundation Drive, with a goal of $500 will be held in all Plymouth schools the week of October 26-30. Last year the high school fell $45 short of its $500 goal. The sophomore class led with a total of $151.32, the freshmen came in second with $124.63, while the seniors placed third with $110.53, and the juniors took fourth place with $106.32.

Water Waves to Plan Annual Water Show

Water Waves and Junior Water Waves are meeting again on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday mornings with 67 girls altogether participating.

The Waves are again planning a water show, to take place May 14 and 15, but have not yet chosen a theme for the show. The Waves plan to make the costumes for the show.

Otherwise the activity is limited to the practicing of stunts and their swimming for the big event. A new addition has been added to the pool, in the form of speakers that are above the water as well as below for the spectators and swimmers alike. These are also installed so that the humidity will not ruin them.

The club is also planning to meet occasionally with the Dolphins for a "Splash Party" with refreshments following. The instructor is Mrs. Delores Caldwell.

Seniors to Begin Sale Of Christmas Cards

Co-chairmen of the Christmas card sales, Kay Ingram and Brian Kidston, announced that the cards arrived Monday in the second hour room 24 for seniors to start selling.

Students may sign up on teams of 10 from which captains will be chosen. The team selling the most boxes of cards by the end of the allotted time, will receive a cash reward of $10.

"I Love Lucy" Cast Selected

"Lucy" will be up to her old antics again when the senior class presents "I Love Lucy" on Friday, November 13, at 8 p.m., starring Joyce Cook and Jim Isbister in the leading roles.

Ethel Mertz, a gal with a casual, dry sense of humor, will be played by Kay Ingram. Fred, her husband; a big, hail-fellow well-met sort of man is Ferris Mills. Peggy Dawson, a starry-eyed teenager with a mad crush on Ricky, is Margaret Burr. Hugh Daly is Arthur Morton, a womanish high school boy who falls in love with Lucy.

Others in the cast are: Ann Sumner as Mrs. Littlefield, a pampered woman who rules the roost; Mr. Littlefield, stern owner of the Copabana, played by Ed Rossow; Miss Whiting, a brisk and business-like society reporter, by Betty Bowen, and Melvin Sawyer as the delivery man.

Chosen by the class executive board as co-chairmen for committees were Doranne Wilton and Howard Olford.

Various committees have been started and seniors are urged to sign up. Ticket committee has Lee Haines as chairman, properties committee is headed by co-chairmen Gayle Leitz and Walt Abate, make-up chairman is Susan Simmons, publicity chairman is Bud Garchow, entertainment chairman is Vern Diedrick, and usher chairman is Shirley Zimmerman.

The cast was selected by Louise Spence, play director, on September 29 and 30.

Seniors Schedule Class Activities

Many activities claim the attention of the seniors as they begin their long awaited senior year.

Bob Willoughby and Pat Lidgard have been chosen by the executive board to be co-chairmen of the senior mixer on October 29 from 7:30 to 9:30. Bob stated that plans are being made to have a backwards party.

Kay Ingram and Brian Kidston, co-chairmen of the Christmas card sales, announced that the project is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Powell from Powell studios in Detroit were here October 8 to collect the senior proofs and take final orders. The pictures are expected to be delivered sometime in December before Christmas.

Juniors Receive New Class Rings

Did you wonder why all the traffic was rushing into Agnew's Jewelry store? The juniors of Plymouth high school were getting their class rings. The rings ordered last May from the Terryberry company in Grand Rapids, through Agnew's Jewelry Store arrived at the store on October 10, and were distributed to students whose last names begin with the letters A-M on October 13; on October 14 rings were given to students whose last names begin with the letters N-Z.

The rings are 10 carat gold with the Plymouth emblem placed on a raised white gold background. The year 1955 is engraved in gold letters with a black background; also students initials are engraved on the inside of the ring.

In previous years the students had a selection of three or four rings from which to choose, but the junior class committee this year decided upon one ring for the whole class.

LOSE SOMETHING? FIND IT WITH OUR WANT ADS

Something really Special - in power, room, ride, price

WE picture here a car that keeps our order book pages turning quicker than quick. It is the 1953 Buick SPECIAL 4-Door Sedan—the bargain value that doesn't stay long on our showroom floor.

For this is the best-selling Buick in the land—snapped up by eager buyers who know something really special when they see it.

For your information, we present some SPECIAL facts.

It has a Fireball 8 Engine with the highest power and compression ratio ever placed in a Buick SPECIAL—plus, if you wish, the instant getaway response and utter smoothness of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.*

It has easy-sitting-room for six adults—as much room as you'll find in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

It has a ride unique among automobiles. The Buick Million Dollar Ride. The soft and steady and ever-level ride that comes of coil springs on all four wheels—a full-length torque-tube drive—a massive X-braced frame—a solid and substantial roadweight poised with meticulous balance on broadly spaced wheels.

But what makes the Buick SPECIAL so extra special is the low delivered price it carries.

It is a price just an easy step above the so-called "low-price three"—and a price that gives you more room and power and ride-comfort for your money than you get in any other car, except another Buick.

Wouldn't you like to see, sit in and drive one of these great-powered Buicks—look into its beauty, its luxury, its handling ease—and judge for yourself how small a price tag it wears? Phone us this week, or drop in. We'll be happy to arrange a demonstration.

Hospital Drive Gains Momentum

The St. Mary Hospital Building Fund Campaign picks up steam next week as the Memorial Gifts Committee, under Plymouth chairman Mrs. Walter K. Sumner, completes its training period and begins active solicitation of individuals in Plymouth.

The Professional Committee, under Plymouth chairman W. W. Hammond, Jr., M. D., and the Commerce and Industry committee under Plymouth chairman Patrick McGuire, have been soliciting prospects for the past two weeks under the memorial program.

A Memorial, as explained by Campaign Memorial Gifts Chairman, Herbert W. Hart of Farmington, is an item or a place in the hospital, which can be designated by means of a plaque, or other suitable recognition, as a living memorial to a loved one.

Recruiting of volunteers for the general phase of the campaign, involving door-to-door solicitation of all homes in the community is still being carried on, according to Community Appeal Chairman Grace Middlewood, and Mrs. Austin Stecker, Plymouth chairman. The workers will be asked to attend two training meetings before visiting their prospects. This phase of the campaign will take place from November 23 to December 10, when the campaign will be concluded.

The Friends and Benefactors Committee, under Al Wistert of Northville, and Ralph G. Lorenz, Plymouth chairman, meets tonight at Madonna College for the first time.

Library Receives More New Books

The most recent shipment of books into the Dunning library shows a non-fiction predominance. In this non-fiction line however, great variety exists, with books ranging from "how-to-do-it" types to autobiographies.

Readers will find "Call Me Lucky" in the latter category. In it Bing Crosby tells the story of his life with many amusing little anecdotes. Robert Ruark's book, "Horn of the Hunter," is also included. Ruark, well-known newspaper columnist, tells of his big game hunting in Africa.

The list continues with Gildard's "Human Senses," Paul Radin's "The World of Primitive Man," "The Hemingway Reader," "The Schirmer Inheritance" by Eric Ambler, "Lady with a Spear" by Eugene Clark and W. R. Burnett's "Adobe Walls."

Other books are Taubes' "The Technique of Oil Painting," "Wise Plumbing" by Wolf, Web-

Young Griddler Injured in Freak Scooter Accident

Young Loren Goodale Jr. will not be among the gridders of his freshman football team when they play this week. That, perhaps, is the crowning blow for the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Goodale of 196 Hamilton street. Loren is confined to bed afterwards, it appears his football hopes are crushed for the season.

Loren was traveling down Haggerty road near Kopernick when the wheels of his scooter hit loose gravel, flinging him 15 feet into the air. Arthur DeWuls of 7607 Haggerty was walking out of his driveway when the mishap occurred, and he summoned the Wayne County sheriff's office.

The boy sustained a laceration over the eye, bruises and general head injuries. The motor scooter was only scratched.

Screw your courage to the sticking place.—Shakespeare

OBITUARIES

Alvin E. Rutenbar
Funeral services will be held Thursday, October 22 at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Alvin E. Rutenbar who passed away early Tuesday morning, October 20 at the age of 53 years. His home was at 1699 Labrosse, Detroit.

Reverend Carl H. Schultz of Farmington will officiate. Hymns will be rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Interment will be made in Grand Lawn cemetery, Detroit.

On Saturday, October 10, Deborah Lynn Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price of Pacific avenue celebrated her third birthday by inviting 10 of her little playmates to her home for ice cream and cake.

Courage without conscience is a wild beast.—R. G. Ingersoll.

Parent-Teacher Group To Meet at Bird School

The October meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Bird school will be held on Tuesday, October 27, at 7:45 p.m.

Russell Isbister, superintendent of Plymouth schools, is the scheduled speaker for the meeting. The junior chorus will entertain the group with several selections.

Following the business meeting the parents will be taken on a tour of the school building. This will give the parents an opportunity to see where their children are taught and can meet the individual teachers. A social hour will follow.

All parents and friends interested in the Parent-Teacher association are invited to attend.

Auxiliary Plans Genuine Swedish Smorgasbord for November Event

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary has scheduled Sunday, November 8, for their annual smorgasbord dinner. The story of the smorgasbord is an interesting one. Stockholm, Sweden considers herself the capital and home town of smorgasbord, though her claims are sharply rejected by competitors. Any Dane will tell you that Copenhagen invented that particular style of serving food. As a matter of fact, all Baltic lands have been addicts of smorgasbord in times when food was plentiful.

Stockholm, nevertheless can really take the most credit for making it most well-known. There are a dozen character restaurants in the Swedish capital that normally advertise its varied wonders and the name which the world knows—smorgasbord is definitely Swedish, not Danish, not Russian, or Estonian.

The actual name smorgasbord means bread and butter. The Almant smorgasbord, which means general bread and butter table, of pre-war times is now seen in its full glory only in food-rich America, where its popularity increases year by year. The name is a misleading one, however, at least partly, since bread and butter are just an introduction to mountainous salads, sardines, anchovies, fish concoctions, egg dishes, cheeses, cold cuts, pickles, relishes, jellies, and the varied foods of the hot section.

Did you know that by present law in Sweden, no restaurant may serve more than six different dishes on its general table, instead of 30 or more, as in former times?

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will again serve the Swedish meat balls, among many other dishes, as they proved to be popular at last year's annual Smorgasbord.

Betty Marquis, general chairman, and co-chairman, Madolyn Hartford, have started making plans for the big event. Assistant co-chairman, Marie Norman has the following committees set up: kitchen, Corrine Clark; tickets, Marion Dickey; dining room, Loretta Young; finance, Delores Olsaver; decoration, Kay Coolman; prizes, Madolyn Hunt; publicity, Marie Norman, and clean-up, Marion Luttermoser.

The smorgasbord will itself be patterned after the truly realistic atmosphere and food of the Swedish peoples. An intensive study of Swedish style smorgasbord has been done by the Auxiliary.

Due to the many requests received, the Auxiliary is planning to have its annual smorgasbord on a Sunday. On these lovely autumn days, many people are driving through the countryside and many will want to eat "out". To get away from home cooking once in a while is the housewife's and mother's fondest wish.

The dinner being planned again this year will be of the highest quality, well prepared and yet reasonably priced.

Children are bound to have a hard time being perfect when they are trained to be just like their parents.

Rebekah News

The regular meeting of the lodge will be held on Friday October 23 at 8 p.m. All who can are urged to attend. Representatives attending the Rebekah assembly at Grand Rapids on October 19 through 21 were Imogene Robertson and Winifred Brooks.

At our last meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy was received as a new member by transfer from Canada. Margaret Drews was installed as new treasurer.

It has been rumored that maybe the reason they call it "alimony" is because it comes after a broken-down alibi.

The selfish wish to govern is often mistaken for a holy zeal in the cause of humanity.—Elbert Hubbard.

FIRST AAA TRAFFIC recommendation to be given attention by the city is the removal of eight parking meters on Main street south of Penniman avenue. Meters were removed to provide space for more lanes of traffic and avoid congestion due to cars going into and from the parking spaces. Digging the meter posts out of the concrete sidewalks, as shown above, and placing them on Fralick avenue was a job performed by city workmen under the supervision of the police department. From left to right are Patrolman Louis Westfall, Ernie Durbin and Louis Hosey, city workmen, and Chief of Police Carl Greenlee.

Theatre Guild To Choose Cast Tuesday Night

Almost everyone has imagined himself in front of the footlights at some time during his life. But now there is an opportunity to really be there — when the Theatre Guild stages try-outs for the next production, "Lo and Behold." Try-outs will be held Tuesday, October 27 at 8 p.m. in the Veterans' Memorial building.

William W. Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse will again direct the Theatre Guild's production. He has previously directed "I Like It Here" and last year's successful "January Thaw."

"Lo and Behold," a three-act comedy by John Patrick, has been given by many Little Theatre groups throughout the country and has been well received, stated Mrs. Peter Miller, president.

Two performances of the play will be given in the Plymouth high school auditorium on December 2 and 3. Student tickets will be made available at reduced prices.

Anyone interested in any phase of theatre work is invited to come to the try-out, Mrs. Miller added.

Paul J. McBride

Army Private Paul J. McBride, 22, whose wife, Amijane, lives at 11191 McCumpha, Plymouth, is now serving in Korea with the 3d Infantry division.

Known as the "Rock of the Marne" division since World War I, the 3d Infantry has participated in many battles of the Korean conflict. Outstanding among these were the fighting for "Outpost Harry," "Jackson Heights" and "Kelly Hill."

Private McBride entered the Army last February and arrived overseas in September after completing basic training at Camp Rucker, Alabama.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hayes, Union City, Tennessee, McBride was employed as a tool and die maker by the Ford Motor company in Plymouth during civilian life.

HOW FIRE INSURANCE makes school safer FOR YOUR CHILD

Your child is safer in school today — because of the fire-safe building code written by The National Board of Fire Underwriters. Over 500 cities and towns have adopted it. Several states are using it as a model. And thousands of copies are distributed, as a public service, to individuals and civic groups.

This is only one of the public services performed by capital stock fire insurance — a private enterprise — of which the insurance agent is an important part. His professional advice is yours for the asking. Phone me about your insurance — for, in these high-cost days, too little insurance protection for your home and belongings can be costly.

Memorial Gifts Phase of Hospital Drive Initiated

The Memorial Gifts phase of the St. Mary Hospital Building Fund campaign has been initiated under the chairmanship of Herbert W. Hart, of Farmington. A memorial, according to Mr. Hart, is a room or an item in the hospital which can be designated in memory of a loved one living or deceased.

The Professional committee under chairman W. W. Hammond, Jr., M.D., of Plymouth, has begun to solicit professional people in the community under the memorial program, just as the Commerce and Industry committee, under chairman Paul M. Frischkorn of Redford, has also begun to solicit business establishments in the community under this program.

Mr. Hart stated that his committee will begin its activity within the next few weeks, at which time individuals in all the communities will be offered the opportunity to designate a memorial. He cited operating rooms, waiting rooms, and corridors, as examples of memorial opportunities.

Mrs. Howard B. Middlewood of Livonia, Community Appeal Chairman, announced that Mrs. Austin Stecker, chairman of the Plymouth community appeal committee, has selected regional leaders, area leaders, and section leaders. In all five communities of Farmington, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Redford township, large numbers of telephone workers are engaged in the task of recruiting volunteer workers to serve on the Community Appeal committee, which will begin its door-to-door canvass of all the homes some time in November.

Al Wistert of Northville, former All-American tackle at the University of Michigan, is chairman of the Friends and Benefactors committee. His group will solicit local social, fraternal, and religious organizations, as well as philanthropic minded individuals outside the community. This committee will also begin solicitation about the middle of November.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA . . . Calvary Baptist Church

CALVARY BAPTIST church was built in two units, the basement unit was started in 1941, while the remainder of the church was completed 10 years later. Today's ever-crowded Sunday school requires use of the Odd-fellows hall beside the church. At right is Reverend Patrick Clifford, who came to the church four years ago. He is also preaching at the West Salem Country church.

Calvary Baptists Maintain City's Only Independent Church

Calvary Baptist church, the city's only independent church, has no imposing membership roll, but the work it is undertaking and the giving spirit of its members can be classified alongside churches several times its size.

"We don't pay much attention to membership rolls," Reverend Patrick Clifford explains. "We're more interested in attendance." There are about 175 people who are actually members today but this is not indicative of Sunday attendance. When Rally Day was observed two Sundays ago, there were 405 persons at the service. The church auditorium holds but 300 persons, so two Sunday school rooms at the rear of the sanctuary had to be opened and more chairs brought in.

There is an average Sunday school attendance of 250, making it necessary to use part of the Oddfellows hall beside the church.

With these attendance figures in mind, here is what the congregation is accomplishing:

Last year they gave $6,000 for foreign and home missions. Being an independent church, an outsider may conclude that there would be no mission work involved. Quite the contrary. From the congregation have come Reverend and Mrs. Roy Tillotson missionaries to Argentina; Jack Coekran, evangelist who has preached around the world; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Briggs and family, who in two weeks will sail for Venezuela where they will do missionary work; Reverend and Mrs. Ezra Brockway, now heading a church at North Reading, Michigan; and George Fields, associated with the Children's Bible Mission in Florida.

In addition, Calvary Baptist gives its support to the Detroit City Rescue Mission, Navajo Gospel Mission and the Rural Bible Mission of Michigan. They also plan to partially support the work of Dr. Dean Saxton, native of Plymouth who is entering Bible translation work.

Although members are "going out into the world" and establishing missions and churches, Calvary Baptist has no intention of establishing a new denomination, although it may be in the position to do just that. Calvary Baptist was founded to be independent and Democratic," Reverend Clifford explains, "and we have no plans to change it." "Nowhere in the Bible does it say that churches should be joined together in denominations," the pastor states.

Calvary Baptist had its birth in the spring of 1933 when a group of persons met in the home of John Hancock. They decided on the name of "Church of the Open Door" which they changed on November 18, 1934 to Calvary Baptist. With their first pastor, Reverend Richard Neale, the group met in a Main street home, then in the Oddfellows hall and later in a store room in the northern section of the city.

A church of their own was built in 1941. It was a basement unit of the present church. By April 4, 1951 the top of the unit was completed and the dedication held. Looking ahead to increasing attendance, Reverend Clifford, the church's fourth pastor, hopes someday to see the congregation build a similar building beside the present unit to be used for the church auditorium, while the present building would be devoted to the Sunday school. The Cliffords moved last month into a newly-purchased parsonage at 452 Maple street.

Reverend Clifford was born in Oakville, Ontario and attended the interdenominational Rockmount college in Denver, Colorado. He returned to Canada where he established a church at Blind River, Ontario. He later became pastor of a gospel tabernacle at North Adams, Michigan and the Three-Rivers Bible church at Three Rivers, Michigan. He has served as a director of the Child Evangelism association of Michigan and the Christian Service Center of Canada. He is now president of the Plymouth Ministerial association.

The Cliffords have a son, a junior in high school, and a daughter, a sophomore in high school.

"The object of Calvary Baptist church," stated Reverend Clifford, "is to preach the gospel of the grace of God, seek the salvation of the lost, to build up the saved in the most holy faith and to carry out the commission of our Lord Jesus Christ to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

Members also believe the Word of God to be the final authority in faith and practice; that salvation is by grace through faith and is the gift of God to all who come to God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Since all have sinned and come short of the glory of God, then all men must accept God's plan of salvation and be converted or born again before they can enter the kingdom of God. It is also believed that we are drawing near to the second coming of Christ.

Calvary Baptist church observes two ordinances of the church—the Lord's supper and water baptism by immersion. "We do not believe these are necessary to obtain salvation for the soul," the pastor points out, "but every true believer will observe these ordinances as a result of becoming a new creature in Christ Jesus."

Three years ago as Reverend Clifford was driving near Salem, he noticed an attractive well-kept country church. He was later surprised to learn that there had been no services in the church for 17 years.

Intrigued by the idea of establishing a new congregation, he received permission from the Methodist circuit to reopen the church. It is known today as the West Salem Country church.

The "county-style" atmosphere was preserved when the interior of the church was redecorated. The church maintains no membership roll. Services are held on Sunday afternoons.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST. Sunday Morning Services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School, 10:30 a.m., for pupils up to 20 years of age.

What is the state of man in the world to come is explained in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 25, under the subject "Probation After Death." The Golden Text is from Isaiah (9:2): "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." Among the Bible citations is this passage, (John 8:12): "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped for the immortal." (p. 296)

If the art of "conservation has been lost we would hate to play bridge with a survivor of the fray when it flourished.

Gentleness, Simplicity and a sincere regard for the rights of one's companions, are the distinguishing marks of a fine character.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scouts of Plymouth were represented by six delegates when the 32nd National Convention opened October 18 in Cincinnati, Ohio. More than 8000 Girl Scout leaders, Council members, senior Scouts and friends of Scouts attended.

Official delegates from Plymouth Council were Mrs. K. S. Hulsing, Mrs. Thomas Thorpe, Mrs. William Edgar, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, Mrs. Fred Berry, and Mrs. Wayne Rubey.

The sessions continued through October 21. Among the speakers were The Lady Baden-Powell, wife of the founder of the Scouting movement for both boys and girls, and Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, United States of America representative on the United Nation Commission on Human Rights.

The theme of the convention was "Girl Scouts—A Growing Force for Freedom."

More than 2,000,000 Girl Scouts will participate in the observance of National Girl Scout week October 25-31 in memory of the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, the late Juliette

Low, who was born October 31, 1860.

One of the highlights of this year's observance will be the publication of the tenth edition of the "Girl Scout Handbook."

According to Mrs. Eber Readman, local Girl Scout commissioner, this edition contains much new material in addition to the basic program that Juliette Low introduced to American girls 42 years ago.

Since its inception the handbook has undergone many changes in keeping with the ever-widening interests and achievements of women and girls.

Social items can be phoned to 1000.

MOMS NEWS

October 15, 16 and 17 found the MOMS of America in convention at the Hotel Bancroft in Saginaw. The Plymouth president Mrs. Orval Bloomhuff and Mrs. Hugh Gardner attended in the capacity of delegates. The unit members are waiting to hear what the other units in Michigan are doing.

Mrs. Laurence Gladstone, who served on the state board this past year as corresponding secretary and convention chairman, was elected to serve as third vice-president this coming year.

She is very proud to serve and thanks her unit for the endorsement to this office, as without it she could not serve.

The new V. A. hospital at Ann Arbor was dedicated on October 18. Those attending this dedication and open house from Plymouth unit were Mrs. Bloomhuff, Mrs. C. Anderson, Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. F. Anderson, Mrs. Warkup, Mrs. Hewer and Mrs. Gladstone.

There will be a card party and bazaar Monday evening October 26, at the Memorial home on Main street. Those wanting more information about this should call Mrs. Mathias, chairman, at 164-W. The public is invited.

GRANGE GLEANINGS

Three new candidates for membership were admitted into the Grange at the meeting on Thursday night, October 15.

Two very good films were shown by Henry Ehrensberger, one was especially interesting as it showed some colorful episodes in the life of an Indian boy in New Mexico.

Miss Anne Hulsing played several selections.

Our meeting on next Thursday night will be an important one as a fine class or group of 13 new members will receive their first and second degrees at that time. So be on hand to welcome them. Supper as usual about 6:30 and as the new candidates are our guests be sure to bring a generous dish of food.

And don't forget the dance on October 31. It depends on you whether we have a series of dances through the winter or only one. We must have a good crowd in order to make the dance a success. Mr. and Mrs. Carson will furnish the music and the calling, also a helping hand to any who are learning. Come and encourage nice clean fun. Cider and doughnuts will be sold.

And next comes that all important occasion, the Bazaar—be sure to mark that date on your calendar, November 13. All sorts of things will be for sale, aprons, fancy work, baked goods, etc. It starts at 10:30 a.m.

There were 14 Pomona members from Plymouth Grange that went up to Pittsfield Grange on Tuesday night, October 13. There was a very good attendance and a good program.

Mrs. George Lavendar read an original poem on Agriculture. There were three tableaux, living pictures illustrated the old songs, "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and "School Days". Very good, they were all dressed in old time costumes. The highlight of the evening was a fine talk by Howard Heath who is the farm editor of radio station, WPAG, Ann Arbor. He is a pleasant speaker. He said the chief problem before Congress in 1954 will be agriculture.

There was some spirited discussion regarding the proposed toll roads and a resolution was drafted to be sent to the State Convention at Grand Rapids next week declaring that the Grange is opposed to such roads.

Mrs. Ara Fehlig is still in St. Joseph's hospital seriously ill.

Pam makes a date with her future

"Say, Judy—my good-looking cousin from Canada is in town. Could you get a date for him? I told him some of the nicest girls in town work at the telephone office."

"That won't be hard! I know a wonderful girl who started as a telephone operator last summer, right after she graduated. Name is Pam. Smart, too—applied while she was still in school!"

"Great invention, Pam—the telephone! Look what it did for me!"
"All this and a wonderful job, too. Good pay. Regular raises. Work with swell people. How lucky can one girl be!"

"Why don't you make a date with your future? You need no experience. Starting pay is good, and increases come frequently. It's pleasant and friendly—and fun—with lots of chance to advance. Drop in and see us soon!"

Plymouth Gridders Blank Belleville To Capture Third Straight Victory

By Ty Caplin

Winning its third straight game the Plymouth Rock high school football team downed the Belleville Tigers 26-0 on the Rocks' home field under the flood lights last Friday to cap a successful Homecoming.

The Rocks won the toss of the coin and chose to receive. The opening kickoff hit a Plymouth lineman about 10 yards from the line of scrimmage and bounced away as a host of Tigers fell on the pigskin. On the first play from scrimmage Jerry Kelly intercepted a Belleville pass and was stopped in his tracks on the Plymouth 23 yard line. Dick Davidson then picked up two yards, faded back in the next play and threw a pass to Denny Luker which covered 35 yards. Lee Juve then rambled for 15 yards and on the next play rolled 25 yards to the end zone within three minutes gone in the first stanza. The attempt for the extra point was missed when a high hike from center forced Dick Day to run with the ball. The remainder of the first quarter saw the Rocks pick up three first downs, one on a pass from Day to John Agnew which covered 19 yards.

Plymouth was in control of the ball when the second period started but failed to get the necessary yardage for a first down and was forced to punt. Belleville picked up a first down but was forced to punt on the next series of plays. The Rocks picked a first down on four plays, then Juve crashed through the line for 44 yards and first down. On the next play Juve scampered 35 yards for his second touchdown of the game. Davidson booted the extra point with three minutes and 30 seconds left in the half. The score stood 13-0 as the half ended.

Belleville received the kickoff to start the second half. The Rocks forced the Tigers to punt out of trouble as they failed to pick up a first down. The Rocksman picked up two quick downs and Luker scampered 15 yards for another just before Kelly rambled 13 yards around end to hit pay dirt midway in the third stanza. Davidson added the extra point to put the Rocks out front 20-0.

Plymouth kicked off and again held Belleville. The Tigers punted out of bounds on their own 33 yard line. From here Plymouth picked up two quick first downs and Juve smashed through the center of three yards for his third touchdown of the evening as the gun sounded to end the quarter. Davidson's try for the extra point was wide and the Rocks led 26 to 0.

The final frame saw Belleville pick one first down on a pass play while Plymouth garnered three first downs. The Rocks had the ball on the Tigers 17 yard line as the game ended.

Lee Juve was the big gun in the Rocks attack as he scored three touchdowns and had 16.1 yards average per try for 11 times. Denny Luker picked up 60 yards on 10 tries for a 5.5 yard average while Jerry Kelly averaged 4.4 yards per try as he picked up 35 yards on 8 tries.

The starting lineups are as follows:
 Plymouth QB—Day HB—Luker HB—Kelly FB—Juve E—Petro E—Agnew T—Signorelli T—Whitmer G—Gothard C—Hubbell C—Reh
 Belleville QB—McArthur HB—Pavelka HB—Waite FB—Smith E—Fewsch E—Sobolewski T—Inman T—Raven G—Sala C—Kwofski C—Stoelton

Rocks Battle Tough Bentley For 2nd Place Here Friday

Plymouth moved into second place in the Suburban 6B League last Friday as they downed Belleville 26-0 and upset-minded Bentley stunned Allen Park 13-7.

The Bentley Bulldogs are the next opponents of the Rocks this coming Friday under the arc lights behind the local high school. Bentley is one of the keenest rivals of the Rocks and will be out for revenge of last year's 7-6 game. This promises to be a very fine game to witness. Thus far this season Bentley has beaten Allen Park 13-7 and Redford Union 20-12. They have lost to Trenton 39-12 and Belleville 25-6, while tying their opener 0-0 with Farmington. The other Suburban 6B League game saw Trenton clinch at least a share of the title by downing Redford Union 38-0 as Jim Saunders and Ray Driscoll each scored twice.

Other teams in the area fared well as Catholic Central downed a good Boys Town team at Briggs Stadium 21-0. Roosevelt stunned Garden City 20-0. Country Day beat Huron 19-12. Walled Lake tied Southfield 13 all. Romulus smothered Detroit Lutheran 47 to 0. Brighton upset Keego Harbor 6-0. Centerline smashed previously unbeaten Northville 19-0, class A powerhouse Ann Arbor ramblingly along over Battle Creek 33 to 12. Ann Arbor University High squeezed by Saline 19-14 and Milford beat Holly 6-0.

Sam Davis Wins Football Contest

For the first time since The Mail's "Pick-the-Winners" football contest started not a single contestant was able to select all the winning teams. Nine were able to come up with only two wrong selections, however, and it was from these that the three winning contestants were chosen.

Sam W. Davis of 11390 Southworth, a Plymouth high school senior, won the $10 first prize. Davis missed only the Alabama-Tennessee and Yale-Cornell games which both ended in ties. Davis was able to come closest to picking the correct Detroit-Los Angeles score to nose out Frank Sullivan of 336 West Ann Arbor trail and William Burton of 9024 Elmhurst who also missed only the tie games and finished second and third, respectively. Sullivan and Burton won prizes of $7 and $3.

Most missed game of the week was the Lions-Rams game which found the Rams winning 31 to 19. You'll find another contest on the opposite page for next week. Try again. Maybe next week will be your turn to win!

Bob Hitt Bowls Way Into World Match Tourney

Plymouth will be represented at the world match game singles tournament in Chicago next January. Bob Hitt, a member of the Detroit E & B team, saw to that as he finished sixth in a field of 12 finalists last weekend at the Palace Recreation in Detroit. The previous weekend bowlers from all over the state had a tourney to decide the final 12 for last weekend's state championship. In the finals Bob averaged a nifty 208 for the 24 games and came out ahead of such stars as Johnny Crimmins, Buzz Fazio, Hank Gavia, Jack Lang and Lou Slioff.

Tom Hennessey came in first with an average of 206, but won more games and therefore scored more points under the rating scale. Lee Jougard came in second followed by Pete Carter, Bob Briarton and George Young ahead of Hitt—only Jougard, Carter and Fazio scored more pins than Hitt—Jougard averaged 211 for the 24 games.

Bob has been a noted athlete for several years around Plymouth, having starred for the high school in all sports, has been state champion in pitching horseshoes and was formerly a star pitcher on the Merchants' team in the Inter-county league. He began bowling a few years ago and has rapidly moved to the top in the Detroit major bowling leagues.

Bob works for Twin Pines Dairy in Plymouth and resides with his family here.

Allen Park Ends Frosh, Junior Win Streaks

Plymouth's freshman football team lost its first game of the year as against two wins to a pass-crazy Allen Park squad 26-6 at Allen Park last Thursday.

Allen Park scored first midway in the first quarter on a sustained drive. In the first of the second period the Parkers pushed over another touchdown with an extra point. Jerry King smashed five yards for Plymouth's touchdown as the half ended, leaving the young Rocks on the short end of a 13-7 score. The Parkers scored once in each of the remaining stanzas and added an extra point in the final period while Plymouth failed to score, which left the score 26-6 in favor of Allen Park. Plymouth couldn't get rolling as it did in its first two games of the season.

The John McFall coached squad plays Northville tonight on the Rock's home field under the arc lights.

Davey-Andrews Meet At Olympia

Chuck Davey, the colorful portside puncher from Michigan State, will be battling for his fistic life when he clashes with able Al Andrews at the Olympia Wednesday, November 4.

This is a big one for Davey. If he wins, he will keep alive his chances of storming the heights of boxing once more. If he fails, his worth as a big-time ring attraction will be at an end. A stubborn and resolute man, Davey can be counted on to come up with the most determined effort of his career to prove that he is still a first-class fighting man.

Davey faces a formidable task as he undertakes to prove that his stunning loss to Andrews last month was just a temporary lapse. The underrated Chicagoan, a prohibitive underdog, whipped Davey decisively in their duel in Saginaw. If Davey can reverse that decision, fans will concede that the first setback may have stemmed from the fatal error of taking his opponent too lightly.

Andrews will have plenty of supporters in the return test. The slick-boxing Windy City mitt man has endeared himself to Michigan fans by his cool courage under fire, his readiness to take on any foe in spite of the odds, and his amazing habit of coming up just as high as he has to for any test.

His conquest of Davey wasn't the first time he has confounded the experts. He did that the first time when he whipped Pat Lowry, the ex-Marine kayo artist from Toledo. And it may be significant that in a return bout with Lowry he won just as impressively.

Then he continued his advance by defeating Pat Manzi, who had taken a close decision from him a couple of months earlier.

His brightest victory, however, was his one-sided triumph over Davey. Now he's confident he can do it again to prove that he is ready for all comers in the big leagues of ringdom.

Losing its first game of the year, the Plymouth high school junior high football team was smothered by Allen Park 20-7.

Allen Park scored in the first stanza on a 35 yard pass play and an extra point. They scored again in the second period to give the Parkers a 13-0 halftime lead. The Parkers came back quickly in the third quarter to score a touchdown and an extra point to put them out front 20-0. In the final frame Dave Walasky scampered 45 yards to score Plymouth's only touchdown. He also added the extra point.

Frank Sullivan's squad plays its next game with Bentley next Wednesday. Yesterday they met Northville under the flood lights. The game was played after this paper went to press and the score is unable to be printed.

Harriers Win Close One 27-28

Plymouth's varsity cross-country squad squeaked by a good Trenton team by the score of 27-28 on the local's home course in Riverside park last Friday.

Bob Burgor of Trenton set a new course record of 11 minutes flat. The old record was 11 minutes 1.2 seconds held by John Balogh who graduated last year. Bob Danol of Plymouth ran the course in 11 minutes 9 seconds for second place while Tom Davis ran the course in 11 minutes, 29 seconds for third place. Bob Middleton copped fifth place in the time of 11 minutes 41.5 seconds. Pete Schipper, a sophomore, placed eighth, a second ahead of Lynn Becker who ran the course in 12 minutes 4.5 seconds for Plymouth's 27 points. Trenton placed Bill Ohr 11 minutes 41 seconds fourth; Jim Sullivan sixth in the time of 11 minutes 57 seconds; Dick Cameron seventh, 11 minutes 57.7 seconds; and Bill Coyle tenth in the time of 12 minutes 4.5 seconds for Trenton's 28 points.

In the 6B League Bentley downed Redford Union and Belleville pushed by Allen Park. The time and places are as follows:

Starkweather 11 Leads Grade School League

Starkweather's grade school football team swept into first place by beating previously unbeaten Bird school 12-7 in the local grade school touch football league behind the high school on Thursday, October 15.

Starkweather was the first to hit pay dirt on a short run in the final seconds of the first quarter. Midway in the second period the Bird school squad scored its only touchdown on a run and pushed ahead on the extra point for a 7-6 lead at the halftime. Midway in the third stanza Starkweather barged in front on the deciding touchdown to give the Starkweather team a well earned 12-7 victory.

On Monday of the same week the Smith school squad beat the Allen school team 6 to 0 in a close game marked with good defense. Wayne Sparkman, the captain of the Smith team, scored the only touchdown of the game on a 40-yard run in the second frame behind good blocking.

Tonight Allen school faces the Bird school team while next week on Monday Our Lady of Good Counsel plays the Smith school team and on Thursday Allen school takes on unbeaten Starkweather. All of these games are played at 4:00 o'clock on the Plymouth high school football field.

The league standings are as follows:

	W	L	PF	PA
Starkweather	2	0	25	7
Bird	1	1	13	12
Good Counsel	1	1	9	6
Smith	1	1	6	13
Allen	0	2	0	19

"FIRST TIME I ENTERED the contest and I won!" That was the surprised statement of Sam Davis, seventeen-year-old Plymouth high school senior who is shown above at right receiving the $10 prize from Jim Houk of Fisher's Shoe store, one of the sponsoring firms. Davis can thank the Los Angeles Rams for his win as he was one of the few contestants to pick the Coast team to upset the Lions. He missed only the two tie games in his selection. A resident of 11390 Southworth, Davis said he intends to enter every week now and become the contest's first "double" winner.

Lions Go West To Meet 49er's

DETROIT — Deadlocked with San Francisco and Los Angeles atop the Western Division standings of the National Football League, the Detroit Lions swing west for their annual coast invasion Sunday with a meeting against the 49er's the No. 1 item on the agenda.

Detroit dropped a 31-19 decision to Los Angeles last week, while the 49ers came from behind to scuttle the Chicago Bears, 35-28, to move into a three way tie in the conference with 3-1 win-loss records.

The Lions downed the San Francisco club, 24-21, in Briggs Stadium on October 11 in a game which saw the 49ers lose the services of their top quarterback Y.A. Tittle with a fractured cheek. Tittle is still out of the lineup and is replaced in the backfield by Jim Powers.

Following the bruising Los Angeles contest, Coach Buddy Parker found that a number of his stalwarts required minor medical repairs. Halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer and linebacker

Joe Schmidt suffered bruised ribs; Bobby Layne was nursing a bruised hand; while several of the others are suffering from pulled muscles. Defensive tackle Thurman McGraw, who missed the Ram game because of a knee injury, is expected to be back in action against the 49ers, and his presence in the lineup will bolster the Lions' chances of stopping the 49ers' great running game.

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

You have read much this year about Michigan high school athletes accepting more than the amount specified by the rule governing awards to young athletes in high school. It seems that 10 prep athletes accepted articles of more value than the three dollars allowed by the MHSAA, and even though they returned these articles because they didn't know about the rule they are termed ineligible to compete in sports this year. A few political figures have now entered the picture and declared the rule suspended, and there is a move on to get the suspended athletes eligible at the earliest possible moment.

Personally I believe that both parties are a wee bit wrong, but may come up with something that will be permanent and of value to the thousands of amateur athletes in our high schools. Whether it was right for the politicians to enter this controversy or not is not for me to decide, but I would like to say a little bit about the rule itself. This strict rule was put in force about 30 years ago—at that time three dollars could buy a fairly good award. What can the same amount of money buy now—nothing comparable, but the amount has never wavered. Most of the boys don't know about this rule in the first place, and are victims of circumstances—there are those who say that ignorance is no excuse for breaking a law and possibly so. But I know that as strict as the Army is about rules they are also sometimes lenient on an offender of a minor nature if that person has not been read the Articles of War—I worked a short time as a reporter in one of those courts and I have seen cases dropped because of that lack of knowledge. I believe that if a boy doesn't know of any such rule in high school, and can prove it, at least part of the fault lies with the coach. Why don't the coaches make sure that they tell all the boys and have them sign a statement to that effect and then there wouldn't be any misunderstanding. I know that the football coaches in Plymouth read this rule and explained it at the annual football get-together between the parents, players and coaches this fall.

I have read where someone says that there are 22 states that have this same rule, or a similar one, and that if it works for them it is good enough for us, or words to that effect. I disagree because all those states may have had it on the books for as many years and have done nothing about revising it—just because someone else does something does not make it the best possible rule—progress would be at a standstill if we all thought that way.

Even though they raised the price value to 10 dollars the same problems would arise—someone would be accepting some article valued at 11 dollars. If they want it strictly amateur why have any prize award at all? Then we wouldn't have all this controversy—just say an athlete is through if he accepts anything more than a letter or medal given by the school.

Indirectly all high school athletes are playing for money—they don't get any, but the school athletic program is highly commercialized as schools take in thousands of dollars at athletic contests. Perhaps the entire system is wrong. The above are merely my thoughts on the controversy that has cropped up this year, but I do think that something fair and permanent can come out of this flairup if everyone cooperates.

This rating system employed by a few big city dailies is a farce as far as I am concerned—the same goes for the selecting of an all-state or all-American team. If a champion is to be selected in football why can't they run tournaments as they do in basketball. In Texas the state is divided into regions—each regional champion goes on to quarter-finals, semi and finals until eliminated. Why couldn't we cut our schedule short so as to handle these contests, and then on Thanksgiving have a championship game? During the regular season these region teams would play each other to determine the champion in that region—have the state divided into eight regions with the winners playing each other around the first of November, and then the two playing the championship could be going against each other on Thanksgiving. Maybe that would have its flaws but it would be an improvement on the system now used for determining champions. Very few are satisfied with it as it now exists. If you have noticed men for all-American and all-state are highly publicized before the season begins. The school's press agents see to it that a good man gets his share of publicity. How many all-Americans make good in professional football? How many have tried and failed? How many are now top pros that one never heard of because he was in some small college or one that didn't play an important schedule to put him on the preferred list?

Well I have got several things off my chest with this writing, and things that I have tried to look at from a common-sense angle. Perhaps I'm wrong, and then again perhaps I am partly right. Enough said.

Plymouth's Bob Hitt is really hitting the head pin while bowling in the Detroit major leagues this year. Bob came in sixth in the state match game singles bowling championships at Detroit this past weekend, and is now eligible to compete in the world's match game tourney to be held in Chicago in January. The story is in an article on another page.

Bob has been bowling for several years now and is getting better with each season. He averaged 208 for the 24 games and beat out such stars as J. Crimmins, Buzz Fazio, Hank Gavie, Jack Lang and Lou Siehoff.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

MARCIANO WAS "MADE" A CHAMPION

Charley Goldman, trainer of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, lets the public in on the ways of making a champion in The All-Sports section of The Sporting News.

Goldman states that in his fifty years around the fight game he never knew another fellow who started with as many things against him as Rocky Marciano. When Charley first saw him he was 23 years old. That alone ought to have been enough to give up on him.

What managers like to get is a fighter when he's 15. He'll be easier to teach, and you can keep him in the gym a long time before he has a fight.

But Goldman had reasons for not chasing Rocky, three good ones.

No. 1, he had the body of a fighter. No. 2, he'd had a lot of all-around athletic background. No. 3, he wanted to be a fighter.

Marciano, during a workout, was taking a beating in the belly, says The Sporting News story, and his trainer knew how stupid that was. But he didn't say so to Rocky. Goldman used a little psychology.

"Now referees don't give you points for standing up under somebody's punches. Whether you can take it or not, they don't look for that. They watch punches. The winner is the fellow who can hit the other most often and get his the least."

According to The Sporting News, Marciano had taken body punishment because his mother had been against boxing when he started. He didn't want to come home with a bruised eye or cut lip which would give him away. Nobody could hurt him in the body, so he just got the habit of taking it there.

But it did start Rocky to thinking.

One day he asked Goldman: "Charley, if I don't want to get hit, how do I get out of the way?"

So he started on defensive boxing, a little at a time.

"For all the things I changed in Rocky," says Goldman in The Sporting News, "there was one I never touched. And that was his way of throwing a right."

EVASHEVSKI ADDS SALES TAX TO OFFENSE

Coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa was asked what type of offense Michigan State would feature in a recent game, reports The Sporting News.

"It'll be 70 percent Michigan single wing, 15 percent Split-T and 13 percent Straight-S," Evashevski answered. "That's only 98 percent," it was pointed out to him, says The Sporting News. "What about the other two percent?"

"Sales tax," the Hawkeye coach said straight-faced.

HORNSBY ENDS FIGHT WITH ONE PUNCH

While Rogers Hornsby has been a standout for feuding and breaking with club owners, says The Sporting News as a part of the feature "The Strange Story of Rogers Hornsby," he figured in few brawls on the field during his long career.

One fight, remembered by St. Louis fans, was a one-punch affair.

The Cardinals were playing the Phillies in St. Louis and during the game, the Phillies' pitcher left the mound to get a dry uniform shirt.

Hornsby objected, The Sporting News story recalls, but in the argument among Hornsby, Art Fletcher, manager of the Phils, and the umpires, it seemed that the more articulate Fletcher was getting the verbal best of Hornsby. So, without ado, The Rajah landed a right on the button. Fletcher went down, most witnesses agree, and that was the end of the fight.

Apparently the umpires were lenient in those days, or thought Hornsby had grounds for retaliation. No punishment was meted for the one-punch fight.

Swedish Coffee Cake

"It's difficult to give someone a recipe when you never really have measured the exact ingredients," said Mrs. Fred Ballen as she sat down to figure out just how she does make her Swedish coffee cake. Mrs. Ballen, who lives at 694 Burroughs, told that she could remember how her mother used to make the same coffee cake for her when she was a child.

Whenever Mrs. Ballen makes the coffee cake, she always gives some away to her many friends. She says she never feels right about keeping it all to her self.

Swedish Coffee Cake

- 2 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup evaporated milk
- ½ cup water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 5 cardamon seeds
- Flour to thicken
- 1 cake yeast

Melt the butter in a sauce pan. To the butter add the one-half cup water mixed with the one-half cup evaporated milk. Warm over a low heat. Place one-cup of sugar in a mixing bowl, and add the warmed milk, allow to cool. Add a little flour and one cake of yeast, which has been allowed to raise in a little warm water, and beat in one egg.

Cardamon seed, which is a condiment, can be purchased at the drug store. Remove the seed from five of them and grind very fine with a mortar and pestle. Mrs. Ballen said she used a hammer before she acquired the mortar and pestle.

Add the fine cardamon seed and enough flour to thicken the dough so you can knead it on a bread board. When the dough is kneaded to a fine texture place it in a greased dish.

Topping

- 3 tablespoons butter
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 2 tablespoons flour
  - ¼ cup ground walnut meats
- Work the butter, sugar and flour together until it is crumbly.

Add more flour if necessary to form crumbs. Add the ground walnut meats to the crumbed mixture.

Knead the dough a little more, and place in pan.

Brush the cake with sugar and water so the crumbs will stick. Allow the cake to rise to double the amount. Place in an oven preheated to 375 degrees. Bake for 35 minutes.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

THE NERVOUS MODERN CHILD

If this restless jazz age does not soon come to an end, the world will be crowded with physical and mental wrecks.

Children were formerly kept comparatively quiet during infancy and childhood. They were also put to bed early at night. During the day they played with a few simple toys or romped in the gardens or under the trees.

Today their nurseries are fitted up with every kind of contraption intended to amuse and interest them. Ambitious mothers try to teach them to fit maps and puzzles together at a very tender age. As soon as they begin to toddle they play in the streets where life is a constant source of danger.

Poor little things dart back and forth on treacherous skates and scooters, escaping automobiles, looking and listening at every turn for the juggernauts of death that strike so swiftly, maiming or killing. They are tense and on the quiver every moment, for they cannot romp, skate and play where deadly machines dart back and forth without realizing that at any moment they may be crushed under a truck, automobile or motorcycle.

When they go to school, the work is of necessity, under our public school system, so arranged that a certain amount must be covered in a given time. They are still further stimulated by the offering of various rewards of distinction if they attain certain standards.

The results is that some children easily reach the coveted goal while others who may have tried equally as hard and failed, feel bitter and keen disappointment which is further aggravated into resentment against the teacher who was in no way to blame.

If you enter a moving picture theatre where there is a show of a character which is most exciting, filled with fighting and dangerous hair-breadth escapes, you will find the place packed with children of all ages, squealing, yelling, and otherwise giving vent to their excited pentup emotions.

Do you wonder that nervousness is increasing among children? It is a disease that is growing by leaps and bounds. The nervous child, unless placed in the proper environment and treated as he should be will grow up into a neurathenic, delinquent or psychoneurotic. He may ultimately land in an insane asylum. The latter institutions are becoming so overcrowded that at the present rate of increase in their population, in a few years the sane, normal people that are left will be unable to bear the burden of the unfit.

Marine Sergeant Mary Ellen Kearney Becomes Bride at Norfolk, Virginia

Sergeant Mary Ellen Kearney, formerly of Plymouth, stationed at the Marine base at Norfolk, Virginia and Sergeant Robert

Arthur Patterson also stationed at the base were married at the Fleet Chapel on Saturday, October 10, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The service was read by the Reverend Father Lane.

Sergeant Kearney is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Lada of East Main street, Northville, and Sergeant Patterson is the son of Alfred O. Patterson of South Bend, Indiana.

Mary Ellen chose a grey suit with pink accessories for her wedding. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Anna Rita Cook of Trenton, New Jersey was the maid of honor and Joseph Rabideau of Maico, New York served Robert as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Naval base for the young couple. Following their discharge from the U.S. Marine Corps in January, they will return to Plymouth to make their home.

Mrs. Otto Beyer, Miss Sarah Gayde and Miss Amelia Gayde have returned from a delightful vacation spent in New York state, Vermont and Massachusetts.

Prepare A Dollar Dinner for Four

To busy budget-jugglers, dinner for four for a dollar sounds like something from the dear, dim past, but it can be done. The secret lies in careful shopping with special attention to values offered each week.

In these days of high wages and high prices, we often forget how satisfying it can be to save pin money by putting together a meal that is colorful, tasty . . . and inexpensive.

Watch for the seasonal specials. For instance, cabbage, celery and apples are in good supply now, which means they are reasonably priced. Margarine and non-fat milk offer another way to help cut the budget but not the nutritional value.

In addition, the "new pack" canned foods such as tomatoes, corn, peas and fruit cocktail are in abundance. Most of the canned fruits and vegetables are available in the 303 size can (about two cups) which makes them especially well suited to serve a family of four without leftovers.

To further prove her point here are two sample dinners for four, each costing approximately one dollar, guaranteed to rate raves from your family.

They're good eating, too—well-balanced, attractive, and easily prepared in 30 minutes to one hour.

First of these economy-wise meals features Spanish rice with a new twist.

Spanish Rice with Bacon
Five-Minute Cabbage
Corn Bread

Fruit Cocktail Angel Food Cake
Non-fat Milk
Cook the Spanish rice in a double boiler—it requires next to no watching, just an occasional stirring, while you go on with some of the other work. Plan, too, to use a package of corn bread mix and a ready-made cake.

Spanish Rice with Bacon
2 slices bacon, chopped
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/3 cup washed uncooked rice
2 cups tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

Saute bacon, onion, and green pepper together until bacon is crisp. Place in top of double boiler, add remaining ingredients. Cook over boiling water for one hour, stirring occasionally.
Yield: Four servings.

Freshly frozen seafood fillets, completely cleaned and ready-to-cook, continue to be on the list of good buys this fall. Perch, whiting, haddock and cod are among the most economical.

Baked Fish
Baked Potatoes
Red 'n White Casserole*
Crisp Celery Sticks
Enriched White Bread
Butter or Margarine
Hot Tea

Pop potatoes into the oven first, followed by the fish and the Red 'n White Casserole. For added convenience, they all bake at the same temperature.

Red 'n White Casserole
1 medium size cauliflower
303 can (1 No.) tomatoes
1 medium size onion, finely minced

1 tbspn. chopped green pepper
1 tbspn. sugar
1 tspn. salt
1/4 tspn. pepper
3/4 cup buttered crumbs
Cook cauliflower flowerlets uncovered in boiling salted water ten minutes. Drain and place in baking dish. Cover with tomatoes, green pepper, onions, and seasoning. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350° F.) twenty to thirty minutes or until most of liquid has evaporated and crumbs are golden brown.
Yield: Four to six servings.

Try Doughnuts Made By Drop Technique

Doughnut making time may find the youngsters gathered round the range watching as each doughnut is carefully dropped in the fat and waiting for it to rise to the top. And a flavor that's long remembered is that of the still warm doughnut well coated with confectioners' sugar.

Doughnuts are easy to make. Make sure, however, that you keep the temperature at 360° F. Points out Reba Staggs, home economist, lard is a favorite fat for deep-fat frying because it gives the much desired rich flavor. Lard is economical too. Here is a recipe for a delicate orange doughnut.

Orange Drop Doughnuts
3 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons lard, melted
3/4 cup sugar
4 egg yolks
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

1 cup milk
Lard for deep-fat frying
Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Beat together thoroughly lard, sugar, egg yolks, vanilla and orange rind. Add milk. Stir in dry ingredients until thoroughly mixed. Drop batter by small teaspoonfuls into deep hot lard (360° F.). Fry until golden brown on both sides. Roll in sugar if desired. Yield: 3 dozen doughnuts.

HARVEST BREAKFAST
A buckwheat festival in Bruceton Mills, West Virginia, celebrates a good harvest.

It's a sign that cool fall weather is here. Now buckwheat cake batter made with yeast may be kept from day to day to be used as a starter.

Buckwheat Mix
The same mouth-watering combination can easily be served at your own breakfast table. The buckwheat pancake mix, ready-to-use as it comes from the store, is equally good and simpler to prepare.

For thin cakes, typical West Virginia style, add just a little more milk or water to the batter.

Pigs 'n Cakes
Place fresh pork sausage links in a pan and add enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Cover and simmer ten to fifteen minutes; remove the cover and allow to brown slightly.

Bake the pancakes on a lightly greased griddle. Roll two crispy browned sausages in each buckwheat cake. Serve two pancake rolls to each person along with the maple syrup and coffee.

Fresh Oranges
Fresh, juicy oranges cut in cubes or sliced are especially good with this rich breakfast menu.

Here's to better breakfasts!

Canopy Revival Makes Bed Central Point in Room Scheme

The revival of canopy fashions makes the bed the central point of interest in the decorative scheme of the bedroom. Through matching or co-ordinating canopy and bedspread, the bed takes on tremendous decorative importance. Canopies are extremely easy to make. Many tall four poster beds never laid aside their canopies and today are taking the lead in the fashion revival. However, modified or half-canopies now are being styled for other types of conventional beds as well—the colonial bed with short posts, the spool bed which also has short posts, the iron bed, and the Hollywood bed with quilted headboard.

The modern canopy for the four-poster usually consists of the top, which may be stretched snugly across its frame or full-gathered, and a valance on all sides. Valance may be box-pleated or gathered, depending on the decorative fabric used. If a sheer fabric is used, such as voile or organdy, or a solid-color glazed chintz, usually the edge is trimmed. Eyelet embroidery, rick-rack, ball fringe and even heavy lace are favorites. Valances of prints and heavier fabrics are usually hemmed.

The half-valance is attached to the wall above the headboard and extends the full width of the bed. In general, the same style is used for all types of headboard beds, and the valance treatment is identical with the canopy for a traditional four-poster bed.

Often with this half-canopy, the wall between canopy and headboard is draped in fabric to give the entire bed ensemble

School Lunch Can Feature Beef Mixtures

School days mean more lunches will be packed. If you're among this group, then you'll find it wise to purchase a large beef roast or a pot-roast so you will have leftovers ready for tempting and hearty sandwiches.

Remember, however, to carefully store leftover meat. When cool, tightly wrap with waxed paper or aluminum foil and place in the refrigerator.

Here are a few suggestions for beef sandwich making. Grind the meat and combine with pickle relish, chopped celery, chopped hard-cooked egg and salad dressing. Spread on vari-able breads such as rye, whole wheat, pumpernickel.

Ground cooked beef also may be sliced and spread with horse-radish. Or the beef may be ground and combined with minced green pepper and mayonnaise. For still another spread, combine the chopped beef with thinned cream cheese and a tablespoon of chutney.

If you want to include lettuce and tomatoes, wrap them separately in wax paper so they may be added to the sandwich at lunch time. To prevent spreads from soaking into the bread, spread a thin layer of butter or margarine on both slices of bread instead of buttering just one slice.

Slices of leftover roast lamb make a tasty serving when heated in a mint-pineapple sauce. To prepare the sauce, heat mint jelly in a double boiler, thinning with pineapple juice. Then pour the sauce over the meat, and pineapple chunks, and heat in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Ways To Increase Storage Space By Improved Home Storage Designs

The conventional door-in-the-wall closet enclosed by stud wall is a thing of the past in the eyes of the University of Illinois small Homes Council which has concluded a construction study on closets. From its research on materials and construction methods, the council has developed storage partitions made of thin studless walls which provide improved storage at less cost.

New closet walls are now slimmed by using a studless panel made of 3/8-inch gypsum board bonded with linoleum paste to 1/2-inch hardboard. Such a half-inch wall, when properly supported, resists impact better than a conventional stud-and-plaster wall 5 inches thick and also saves floor space.

Floor, ceiling, and exterior or existing walls of a room become part of the storage partitions, thereby saving space, material, and cost.

fitted with shelves, rods, or drawers as needed, can accommodate almost any household item and also allow contents to be easily accessible. Such ceiling-height units fit well side-by-side or back-to-back.

Closets having full-front openings make household items stored within more accessible than the older type door-in-wall closets. Doors can be swinging, sliding, or folding or, in some cases omitted entirely, as in units for books or toys.

Equipped with folding doors, almost the entire width of a closet can be accessible at one time.

Folding doors operate on a ceiling track. When open, they project into the room only a few inches; hence, there is no problem of clearance in front of the closets. Since folding doors also extend a few inches inside the storage unit when they are opened, it is necessary to provide a space of 4 to 6 inches for the thickness of the doors when folded.

Operation is easy if the doors are pushed gently at the proper heights. Because small children find it awkward to reach up and push at the right place, handles on the doors are suggested. Clearances of one to two inches at the top and bottom of folding doors allow free air movement. Folding doors of fabric are sufficiently tight for all uses except sealed storage. Woven-wood splint doors are not dust-proof; however, the free movement of air which they allow is desirable in areas where mildew in closets is common.

Folding doors are delivered as a packaged item ready for installation. Stock-sized doors are available in heights of 6'-8" and 8'-0". Other heights are available on special order. Widths of stock-sized doors range from 2 to 6 feet. Due to the take-up in the folds, a closet of any width up to 12 feet can be enclosed with a stock-sized folding door or a pair of doors.

This is the easiest type of closet front to install. The ceiling track is cut to length and fastened; the guides or rollers on the top of the folding door are inserted; and the door is fastened to the side wall.

Homeowners can often install storage units in rooms, which have sufficient floor area, without a major remodeling job. Single copies of an eight page circular entitled "Storage Partitions" are available free from The Plymouth Mail until November 10, after which the circular will be 10 cents.

Protect The Floor
Before painting the walls and ceiling of a room in which the floor has not yet been finished, it's wise to cover the floor completely with building paper. This will protect it while paint is being applied to the upper surface.

Falling Leaves Cause "Leaks" In Roof

During the autumn months, the experienced home-owner inspects his roof gutters frequently to make sure that they aren't in danger of being clogged by falling leaves.

If runoff water stands in gutters when cold weather comes, it can freeze and the ice can act as a dam, backing water up under shingles tabs to leak through the roof deck.

Chances of a leak of this kind will be minimized if gutters are kept clean and if the roofing material has been properly applied. Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for houses, call for three extra layers of material—an "eaves flashing strip," a "metal drip edge," and a "starter course"—under the roofing at the eaves to give additional protection.

Never store ashes in cardboard or wooden boxes. Fire prevention officials recommend galvanized steel ash tubs, cans, or baskets which are fireproof and have convenient carrying handles.

Paint for Radiators

When determining the amount of paint you will need for the repainting of a radiator, multiply the width by the height, then multiply this figure by seven. This will give you the number of square feet you need to figure on covering.

To pity distress is but human, to relieve it is Godlike.—Horace Mann.

Window Shopping With SUE

I was interrupted last week while I was describing some of those wonderful doorknobs I discovered at the Roe Lumber company. The one I didn't get to tell you about was one of the most unique, in my opinion. It would be just perfect for people who don't like to carry a lot of bulky keys around in their purses or pockets. You see, the Kwikset people have solved the problem by making the same knob and lock for both the front and back doors. You just dress it up with a large brass handle for the front door. Then the same key fits both doors, and your key ring needs one less key.

Have you stopped around to Dave Galin's yet to congratulate him on his 26th anniversary of business in Plymouth? Dave's come a long way since he opened the Purity Market back in 1927, until now he has one of the finest appliance stores here in Plymouth. While I was looking around his place the other day, I was the most fascinated by the new electric ranges. They've certainly made a big improvement there.

If you have one of the older models like mine, you probably have trouble with the range getting either too hot or not quite hot enough. There never seems to be that half-way point which is exactly what you want. Well, the new Hot Point and Crosley ranges have made everything a lot simpler for the cook of the family besides putting out a beautiful looking appliance. On the Hot Point, for instance, there are different colored buttons for each burner standing for high, 2, 3, low, warm and off. With the various colors marking each button the stove is so simple "a child can operate it" as the saying goes. Then on the Crosley there are buttons which give the burners seven different grades of heat. Why, cooking is going to be so easy-one of these days even the cook will be eliminated. But until that happens, ranges like those at Galin's sure can do a lot for anyone's kitchen.

Knotty walnut is a new style not to watch. It shows signs of becoming as popular as knotty pine. Less attention is being given to pencil striped walnut veneers. More emphasis is being placed on the character marks of nature.

To Prepare Paint for Use

The secret of getting a uniform coat of paint is to see that the paint is mixed thoroughly. Many dealers now have equipment that shakes paint mechanically so that it's thoroughly mixed for you in the store. If you, yourself, are readying a can of paint for use, explore it with a paddle to see if much of the heavy pigment has settled to the bottom. If it has, pour off most of the liquid portion into another receptacle. Then stir what's left in the original container until it's thoroughly mixed with the remaining liquid. Return the liquid, a little at a time, stirring constantly. In this way, you can make sure that the liquids and solids are evenly mixed.

Bill Eger to Open Indiana Store

One of Plymouth's best-known retail merchants announced this week that he is leaving this area to open a business in his hometown of Rensselaer, Indiana. He is William Eger, partner with George Jackson in the firm of Eger-Jackson, Inc.

Eger came to Plymouth in 1941 and together with Jackson opened a floor tile store on Liberty street in 1946. They expanded their business to include paint and wallpaper and moved to their present location on West street Ann Arbor Trail in 1948.

Eger has been active in the Optimist club here and has always participated in local golfing events. He stated that he will leave Plymouth in late October and hopes to open a floor covering business immediately in a building currently under construction in Rensselaer. The move is one which Eger said he had considered for some time, and although he regrets leaving Plymouth and dissolving his long association with Jackson, the opportunity in Indiana was one he could not turn down.

"I wish to thank the many people who will have come to know so well as our customers and hope they will continue their business with my partner."

Jackson stated that he has no immediate plans for changing the name of the firm.

Seems You Ought to Know Him!

You see a man in a beautiful new Cadillac—and, almost instinctively, you take a second look.

It seems you ought to know him. Your judgment tells you that those who drive Cadillacs are likely to be people of importance—and are probably in the public eye.

It is small wonder that you feel this way about people who own and drive these distinguished cars.

For more than half a century, Cadillac has been a favorite car of the leading people in every community across the land. For Cadillac is the only car in America whose name has consistently been reserved for the finest motor cars it is practical to produce.

People who want the finest have learned to come to Cadillac—as the tide goes with the moon!

Of course, you don't have to be a prominent person in order to find a reason for coming to Cadillac.

There is every practical reason for owning a Cadillac—as well as every personal one. Listen closely to these three facts—and you will see what we mean:

Under normal driving conditions, the Cadillac car will run a full day on a single tankful of gasoline.

The lowest priced Cadillac costs less than twenty-two different models of other makes of automobiles built in America.

And a Cadillac, according to an authoritative study of national used car prices, will return a greater share of its owner's investment at the time of resale than any other motor car in the land.

So whether you are prominent or practical—Cadillac is your perfect choice!

Naturally, these two classifications include a great many people—and maybe they take in you.

If they do, come in and see us. Cadillac was never so fine and beautiful as it is today—and it was never more practical to own and enjoy.

We're at your service—any time you wish to call!

Plant Now to Have Spring Bulbs Flower Inside Home in February

Few plants are capable of supplying so much color and beauty in the home with so little effort as the hardy spring-flowering bulbs, according to Felix G. Gustafson, professor of botany at the University of Michigan.

It is possible to have a succession of beautiful blooms in your home beginning in early February, if you follow the procedure he suggests.

First, remember to adapt the container to the bulbs. Use three one-half to five inch pots for single bulbs, or you may plant three in a six-inch pot. As a general rule, space of one to one-half inches should be allowed between bulbs.

If a variety of bulbs is planted, it is necessary to label them so you will know what you are bringing in.

Planting of the bulbs can be done any time from early October to the middle of November, depending upon the rigor of the climate. Use ordinary garden soil to which some sand has been added to make it fairly porous. Bulbs should be planted so that when they are in position their noses are out of the soil, but about 1/2-inch below the rim of the pot. After the bulbs are planted give the soil a thorough watering.

Next, choose a well-drained location in the garden and dig a trench a foot deep to accommodate the pots. If the soil is heavy clay, place one or two inches of cinders or gravel in the bottom to provide drainage.

Place the pots on the drainage layer. It is advisable to place on top of the pots the tops of plants one obtains in cleaning up the garden in the fall, such as stems of phlox, zinnias and marigolds; or, you may use hay or straw. This will make it easier to separate the covering material from the pot soil when the pots are to be taken out of the trench.

Finally, heap the soil into a mound to prevent freezing of the roots. Remember to fill in the pit completely, leaving no holes, as mice may get in and eat the developing shoots. Before the pots are covered, drive a marking stick into the soil near the center of the pit. This will enable you to locate the pit even though covered with snow.

The pots are placed in the pit to enable the bulbs to root at a temperature which is too low for the shoots to develop. If the bulbs were placed in a building, the temperature would be too high and the tops would develop before the root system was large enough to maintain them.

In five to eight weeks the bulbs will have sufficient root growth so that you may bring them in. If you want early flowers, you may do this in December. By the time they are dug, the shoots will be about half an inch above the ground.

On digging, a few pots may be placed at once in a warm, light room, but it is well to place most of the pots in a cool basement (40 to 50 degrees). Then you may bring up a few pots at a time and place them in a warm room in the light. By this procedure you should have flowers in early February. If you bring the pots up from the basement at regular intervals and place them in a warm, light room, you will have flowers over a period of several months.

Tulips, daffodils, narcissi and hyacinths are especially successful in producing beautiful blooms for the house in the bleak, early months of the year. There are a number of fine forcing varieties of tulips. Among these are singles, Keizerkron (orange-red and yellow), and Couleur Cardinal (deep-red). Good doubles are Peach Blossom (rosy-pink), and Scarlet cardinal (orange-scarlet).

Daffodils, which may be successfully forced, are King Alfred (deep golden yellow, long-throated), Lord Wellington (deep yellow trumpet, slightly frilled), and President LeBrun (creamy yellow trumpet and white perianth).

A good narcissi is Dick Wellband, with brilliant flame-orange cup and white perianth. Hyacinths which can be relied on to flower beautifully are Delph Blue; Edelweiss (white); and Lady Derby (salmon-pink).

While the crocus is a little difficult to force because the young buds may dry out in a warm room before they open, it can be forced if kept at a lower temperature, or a higher humidity, while it is unfolding.

Many catalogs indicate which varieties can readily be forced.

Thinking her nose shines makes a woman feel as uncomfortable as a man can feel with a four week's growth of beard.

New C & O Ticket Is Smear-Proof

The Chesapeake and Ohio railway announced today a new book-type ticket to replace the old "yard-long" strip ticket and making first use of a feature of particular interest to women travelers — pressure-sensitive paper in place of carbon paper.

Tickets on pressure-sensitive paper can not stain or smear on hands, clothes or purse. Where pressure, as in writing, is applied to the paper, the special coating turns dark. Erasures or alterations are impossible. The paper, manufactured by Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company has been adapted for ticket use by Rand-McNally.

Use of the three-by-six inch book tickets will greatly reduce the passenger's wait while his ticket is being made out, and will simplify the railway's accounting, according to Hiram A. Askew, C&O passenger traffic manager.

Until now, pressure-sensitized paper has found its greatest use in scientific recording instruments, such as electrocardiograph machines and barometric pressure recorders.

Ever Want to be a Trapper in Alaska? Plymouth Visitor Claims It's Great

Ever had a hankerin' to take off for the north woods and live by yourself in a cabin through the winter—just hunting, trapping and fishing?

It seems like every man has had that longing sometime during his lifetime, and there was one young visitor in Plymouth last weekend who did just that. However, he went a little bit further than spending just a winter in the north woods of Michigan. He has spent three years in the trapping business in bitterly cold Alaska.

Bob Yipe, only 24 years old, has decided to make Alaska and the trapping business his future. He arrived in Plymouth Friday afternoon after stepping off a plane at Willow Run airport from the West coast and Alaska. In a stop-over at the Hotel Mayflower he told of his life in Alaska, first as a civilian construction worker, then as a trapper. His parents live at 8153 Rathbone in Detroit.

Bob went to Alaska with the construction company as a bulldozer operator in 1948. Living was expensive, he soon discovered. A breakfast of two eggs, bacon and coffee would cost between $3.50 and $4. Now it costs $6, he added. Bob and the rugged construction gang lived in barracks while they worked on an airstrip. Then Bob got word from Uncle Sam to enter the Army.

Returning to the states, Bob spent a year in the service but was discharged in a year because of a sinus condition. Back to Alaska and the construction company he went. Things were going fine until six months later when he got into an argument with the foreman. He found himself out of a job and practically out of money.

It was then that Bob met up with Sourdough Allen, an 80-year-old trapper who made his home some 75 miles northeast of Fairbanks. A sourdough is a common name given old-time prospectors in Alaska and Canada, so-called from a habit of carrying

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Paddle-footed quackers claimed the wildlife sport-light on October 1, the day that a number of Michigan hunting seasons opened, while other game species took something of a back seat in hunting popularity.

More hunters than on last year's opening day concentrated on waterfowl in the marshes and bays along Michigan's eastern shore, from Saginaw Bay to the Ohio border, and they had fair to good hunting success.

Upland game birds, meanwhile, enjoyed a certain immunity from lead poisoning by virtue of heavy foliage and noisy woodlands that kept hunting success down. Somewhat fewer to about the same number of hunters, in general, turned out to bother the ruffed and sharp-tailed grouse across the upper and northern lower peninsulas, but the so-called "bluebird" weather kept woodlands a bit too cheerful, crisp and noisy for good hunting.

But while grouse seemed to be holding their own against hunters, woodcock and snipe appeared to be doing even better. Reports of hunters seeing or bagging any of those wily and wary little bird types have been thin to the point of rarity. One confirmed cannoneer summed up his frustration by saying: "They're too small anyway, I wouldn't waste the shells."

Four hunting accidents were reported opening day, two at the Pte. Mouillee marshes, Monroe county and two in the upper peninsula. All were minor.

Violations appeared about normal. The highest number reported in any district of the state came, as expected, from the hunter-crowded duck marshes of southeastern Michigan, where officers made 52 arrests the first day.

Game men noticed some shifts this year in the types of ducks being shot. One Saginaw Bay, hunters were taking numbers of mallard and black ducks and blue-and-green-winged teal; last year, redheads and baldpates were high on the list, but this year were listed only as also-rans.

At Pte. Mouillee, where hunting is by permit and careful bag checks are kept, 300 hunters took 836 birds on opening day. Included in this aggregate bag were 262 black ducks, 210 blue-winged teal, 200 mallards and 87 coot. On opening day at the Pointe last year, hunters reported 261 blue-winged teal, 243 mallards, 214 black ducks and 121 coot in a total bag of 950 birds.

Hunters and license dealers alike have hailed Michigan's 1953 hunting license as more convenient and more compact than bulky licenses of the past. The new license is printed on light billfold-sized paper, instead of the post card size and weight of previous years.

The bulky Game Report Card has also been removed from the body of the license proper and while all hunters are still required to fill out and return the cards, they now need not be carried along with the license.

Bookkeeping is also made easier. Under the new system, the license dealer only fills out one triplicate form instead of two single forms, as in the past. The hunter keeps the original, the department gets copy No. 2 and the license dealer keeps the third copy for his files. It's also expected that license violators are going to have a tougher time getting past this system than they have in the past.

Hunters may paste the duck stamp on the reverse side of the new license; formerly, space was left on the face of the license for that stamp, but it was crowded to the reverse side under the new system. As usual, to be valid, the duck stamp must be properly signed, lest the hunter be open to law violation.

Forthcoming fishing licenses will also be dressed in the "new look," and anglers will, after December 1, no longer be burdened with the old five-by-three inch license. As with the hunting license, the angler's permit will be printed on light paper of billfold size.

These fall days in Michigan woodlands that look so picturesque and that so easily capture the fancy of birds and bird-hunters alike are also loaded with the potential wallop of a chunk of dynamite.

Old foresters know that spring and autumn are the two times when woodlands come out in most colorful glory, but they also know these two seasons are the most critical periods for fire. renewed caution in blocking this menace.

Each fall, hunters are the most notorious foul balls as concerns fire, and in tinder dry woodlands single careless or thoughtless moments with campfires, tobacco or matches have often spelled long hours of choking, lung-searing labor for full crews of fire fighters.

Anyone who has ever fought a blaze in a forest knows from bitter experience that such a little thing as a cigarette butt can quickly become a flaming giant when flipped in a pile of dry oak leaves.

The conservation department reports at this writing that the fire hazard is high throughout both the heavily-wooded areas of the north and on southern farms and grasslands; already a rash of little blazes points to a potentially vicious fall fire season and state and local fire agencies are asking hunters for

You'll get more than you expect

In feature after feature, Ford matches the finest . . .

with fine car ride . . . fine-car build . . . and fine-car V-8 GO!

Check these fine car features that are yours when you buy a Ford, the one fine car in the low-price field. You get glass area galore . . . the most in Ford's field. You get more usable inside space than in any other low-priced car. Seats are foam-rubber-cushioned both front and rear. You get such Ford advances as convenient Center-Fill Fueling and suspended clutch and brake pedals. But here are the big reasons why Ford is worth more when you buy it and when you sell it, too!

Up to 80% less road shock

Ford has reduced front end road shock (the kind you notice most) up to 80%. And by a perfect teaming-up of rear springs, diagonally-mounted rear shock absorbers and tailored-to-weight front springs, Ford has proved that a car can ride smooth as silk without gas-eating extra weight.

Built like the finest

Ford's hull-tight body is sealed against water, dust and draft. Body panels are made of steel of the same quality and thickness as that used in the costliest cars. Ford's rugged box-section frame has five strong cross members including a special K-bar member which adds extra twist resistance . . . gives longer car life.

V-8 or Six power

Only Ford in its field offers you a fine-car high-compression V-8 engine . . . the result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined. And Ford's high-compression, low-friction Six is the most modern Six in the industry. Both engines have Ford's exclusive Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last drop of power out of every drop of gasoline.

Master-Guide power steering

Ford Master-Guide is the last word in power steering. It does up to 75% of the steering work for you when you need it . . . yet it leaves you with a natural feel of steering on the straight-away. And it helps you control the car on rough, rutted roads. Available on all V-8 models.

Fordomatic Drive

It's the finest, most versatile of all automatic drives . . . combines the smoothness of a fluid torque converter and the "Go" of automatic mechanical gears. Ford also offers you Overdrive and Conventional Drive.

Summary of Taft-Hartley Act Presented By George Bowles, Labor Mediation Chairman

Upon request of the Chamber of Commerce governmental affairs committee, George E. Bowles, chairman of the State Labor Mediation Board and a resident of Plymouth, has been asked to submit a summary of the highly controversial 19 amendments of the Taft-Hartley Act. The summary appeared this week in the Chamber of Commerce Newsletter and is printed by The Mail in full.

George E. Bowles

In accordance with your request, I am happy to state for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce the 19 proposed amendments to the Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947, popularly known as the Taft-Hartley Act, which have been the subject of much discussion in recent weeks. As I explained earlier, I am glad to do this as a courtesy and accommodation to you and your trade group, but a recital of the amendments does not imply either my support of or opposition to them.

Late in July it was reported that the White House was sending a Taft-Hartley message to Congress. On July 31 advance copies were sent to the Chairmen of the Senate and House Labor Committees, and it was anticipated that the message would be sent up in the regular manner later in the day. The Washington Evening Star carried a story in this regard on July 31. Before dawn on August 1, 1953, the White House staff indicated that the message would be sent up later that day. The tragic death of the late Senator Taft occurred on July 31, and the message was delayed. On August 3, the Wall Street Journal carried a story on the amendments, and subsequently former Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin and the Chairmen of the Senate and House Labor Committees, as well as the participants in the Joint Executive Department and Congressional Conferences have made statements which are in sharp conflict as to the existence of an agreement with the administration on the 19 points. (My source of information is the Labor Relations Reporter, a publication of the Bureau of National Affairs.)

A brief summary of the 19 amendments is as follows:

1. The remand of jurisdiction over smaller employers to the States;
2. Supervisors whose duties consist only of giving directions to employees or assigning work would no longer be deemed supervisors under the Act and exempted from the application of the Act;
3. Common law rules of agency would apply so that unions would not be held responsible for the acts of individual members who violated the Act without union authorization;
4. A study of N.L.R.B. administration would be undertaken;
5. Members might be expelled under union shop clauses, not only for non-payment of dues, but also for disclosure of confidential information on union affairs and proof of subversion;

6. Employers lawfully might notify unions of openings;

7. Managements and unions might contract in respect to the minimum training or experience qualifications required for employment, and the employee then would be admitted to the union on the same terms and conditions generally applicable;

8. Construction, amusement and maritime industries, because of casual, temporary and intermittent employment, would be excepted from ordinary rules as to the conduct of elections, and the act would legalize pre-hiring contracts and would provide that employees join under a union shop clause within seven (7) days, instead of thirty (30) days;

9. All contractors on a construction project would be deemed one contractor in reference to secondary boycotts;

10. An employee striking within the sixty (60) day period following notice of termination or modification of an Agreement would not lose all rights under the Act, and the Sixty (60) day notice would be reduced to thirty (30) days;

11. No election would be held within four (4) months of the occurrence of a strike, hence relieving from the provision that an employee on strike who is not entitled to mandatory reinstatement could not vote in a representation election;

12. Elimination of de-authorization elections on union shops;

13. Employers would be relieved of the obligation to bargain on subjects excluded from an Agreement during the term of the Agreement;

14. Elimination of the requirement of filing duplicating information as to union affairs;

15. Elimination of the Communist affidavit provision of the statute with the assurance of general legislation in this field;

16. The General Counsel would have discretion in seeking injunctive relief in respect to secondary boycotts; notice and hearing would be required of such proceedings, and priority would be given to such cases;

17. A general rule would be stated fixing the dividing line between Federal and State jurisdiction. This section read, "Such a rule should recognize the paramount authority of the Federal law in the interest of uniformity throughout the United States. It should also, however, save to the States the right to preserve order within their boundaries and also recognize the right of any State, in the absence of Federal action under the National Emergency provisions of the Act, to protect the health or safety of the State during any labor dispute which the Governor finds creates a state emergency."

18. Check-off authorizations would be valid until revoked;

Says Winter is Time to Enjoy Birds in Yards

Armehair bird-watchers have a much easier time in winter than in summer.

Many varieties of birds which scatter widely through forests in summer can, during winter food shortages, be lured into backyards with properly arranged feeding stations.

Unlike humans, birds do not migrate south to escape cold. Those species that leave their summer haunts do so because winter kills or covers most of the insects, berries and seed plants which are staples of bird diet. If regular supplies of the right food are provided, beginning in October or early November, many birds can be persuaded to remain throughout the winter.

Common visitors to most feeding stations are the black-capped chickadee, downy woodpecker, slate-colored junco, cardinal, blue jay, white-breasted nuthatch, and in some areas, the pheasant.

Foods especially popular with birds are suet, sunflower seeds, crushed raw peanuts and baby chick scratch mixture, according to naturalist Walter P. Nickell of Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

Aside from attracting a parade of living color to his yard, the station operator helps conserve native wildlife and sometimes has a chance to photograph such rare specimens as the purple finch, tufted titmouse, pine-skin, bronzed grackle and cedar waxwing.

Peace will never come into the world as long as husbands bring friends home to lunch without giving wives at least an hour to get their rouge on straight.

Good designs for home-made feeding stations are available in a small booklet published by Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The doll is the oldest toy known and is found among all nations and tribes, even of the most remote antiquity.

Moral courage is requisite to meet the wrong and to proclaim the right.—Mary Baker Eddy.

19. Employers may voluntarily waive participation in the administration of a union welfare fund.

I would wish that the proposed amendments might be stated in laymen's language but many of the terms are those of "legal art" and the most accurate way to speak of them is to rely on the language the statement itself used.

I want you to know that if there is any kindness or service that I can extend to you or your organization I would be most happy to do so.

Very truly yours,
George E. Bowles

Chips from the ROCK

Early Wednesday prior to departing for Chicago I sat in front of my barber shop waiting for my monthly trim when up drove vault maker John Jacobs to advise me that all local shops were closed on Wednesday. I should have known, I usually pick a Wednesday. He told me not to feel badly however about the barber's holiday because the day before he had stopped into his tonsorial headquarters and was asked by his trimmer . . . do you have an appointment?

Of interest to local barbers is the fact that I found all the shops on US 112 closed that same day until I reached Bronson where I managed to get trimmed and also enjoy a Rotary luncheon at the Bronson Congregational Church.

The Rotary meeting proved interesting because I learned my dad had been a speaker there a couple of times in the last 10 years and I met an old school mate of his who is a Rotarian and in the insurance business in that town. I was also asked to bring back greetings to Mrs. Sidney Strong from her old friend Warren Van Aken of Coldwater who was also a Rotary guest and greetings also to Cass S. Hough from Bronson publisher Sam Burgess. These two became friends through work on the State Aeronautical Commission.

The purpose of my weekend jaunt to the windy city was to attend the National Editorial Association convention where some 400 publishers from around the country convened to exchange ideas and discuss mutual problems of the day. The most interesting discussion was one led by Joe Cook of Mission, Texas based on "Combating Rising Costs and Sliding Profits." Scheduled for an hour discussion this one slid well into a half a day and it was evident all in attendance felt the pinch yet no conclusive solutions were offered.

It was interesting to note however that as a group all seemed to feel there were at least two more productive years ahead without any noticeable change in present business conditions. Rising prices will continue and today's inflation will keep pace with the constantly shifting markets. No one expects the pay-off to end in a depression like the one in 1929.

Parking was also a subject of concern to publishers from all over the country. Plymouth isn't alone with this major headache and the following commentary from one of the speeches hit this particular editor right between the eyes. "Without modern, enforced parking controls and off-street parking facilities, streets will more and more become outdoor day and night garages, narrowing and blocking traffic, throttling business and residence and eventually driving both out of town to the suburbs and open country. Some decentralization is inevitable and in a measure beneficial, but the dispersion which is forced by traffic strangulation and hardening and clogging of arteries and veins is always unhealthful and, if duly prolonged, fatal."

Friday's Chicago Daily News carried a picture of Girl Scout Theresa Miller of Germany now adopted by a Chicago family. The caption of the picture pointed out that she was able to come to America through the efforts of News foreign correspondent David Nichol, son of Mrs. Walter Nichol of Plymouth.

We saw "Rapid Robert," Chicago's police officer, in action so named by cab drivers who also call him the scourge of Randolph street because he can write more and faster traffic tickets than any cop on the force. He didn't ticket our driver who laughed heartily at one of his brother drivers sitting patiently getting a ticket.

HALLOWEEN SPOOK

Roger Babson Says . . .

New Boston, N. H. When William L. Douglas of Brockton, Mass., was the world's largest shoe manufacturer, he was a client of mine. Those were the days when everyone wore high shoes, and he was very much disturbed about the hooks which went on these shoes. At a sales convention he offered a prize of $10,000 to any salesman who would solve the problems of these dangerous hooks. One salesman answered: "Quit making high shoes, and eliminate the hooks altogether. If you will make a line of attractive low shoes, I will sell them or resign." Mr. Douglas accepted this radical wager and produced the line of low shoes, which this salesman quickly sold. Gradually, the whole industry turned to low shoes.

MOST OF US ARE DUMBELLS

I often visited Thomas A. Edison at his home in New Jersey. At that time his company was manufacturing the only phonograph "records," and these were waxed cylinders. He would say to me that some day flat records would be used; but he could not get any enthusiasm amongst the trade to sell flat records. He said: "Babson, I am only an inventor, and not a salesman. The salesman and advertising agencies will determine the future of America — not we inventors. There are enough inventions in the Patent Office now to make the United States, and, in fact, the whole world, prosperous for fifty years if there were enough men with 'guts' and vision to get these ideas working."

Edison reminded me that steam was used for power a hundred years before Watt developed a steam engine. It was discussed by university professors; but no one before had the persistence to sell the idea to the public. This was true of Whitney's invention of the cotton gin, and Fulton's building of the steamboat. I believe that these men were salesmen who saw opportunities, presented them to the public and were never discouraged by anyone saying "no."

LONG - PLAYING RECORDS AND ZIPPERS

My friend, Johnson, who founded the Victor Phonograph Company, was not an inventor, but a salesman. He believed that flat record idea had a future, but he was obliged to travel over the whole country to raise enough money to start the Victor Organization. He used to complain about how "dumb" people were, unwilling to risk even their time, enthusiasm and stick-to-itiveness. His wonderful success was due to the fact that he was a salesman who could not be discouraged and would never take "no" for an answer. He was much like Henry Ford.

Yet even Johnson did not visualize long-playing records. Victor's original records could have been "long playing." The fact that Victor for years sold the old-fashioned records also shows how "dumb" we all are. Another illustration is the zipper. When I was at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology fifty years ago an instructor outlined to me the idea of the zipper; but we continued to button up our trousers in the old-fashioned way for twenty-five years thereafter!

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SALESMEN

Sunday newspapers today carry many Help Wanted advertisements for "technicians—electronic engineers — mechanics." These are needed today in connection with new government orders. As a result, high school graduates are crowding the colleges for a technical education. To train now for "electronics" is much like buying stock when the market is at an all-time high. It is another illustration of our dumbness.

The real opportunities of the next decade will be in connection with selling the new ideas which are now on drawing boards and in test tubes. Hence, were I a young man today, I would take a course in Business Administration. Successful salesmanship, however, is a very difficult and tedious task. It requires great courage and tremendous persistence. There are no opportunities in Business Administration for the pencil pusher or the clock watcher. Success comes not from sitting in a chair dictating letters to a blonde secretary, but by ringing door bells and wearing out shoe leather. Salesmanship offers the greatest opportunities and richest rewards; but the road is long and rocky.

A mail carrier can be as honest as the day is long, but you can't make a woman believe he doesn't read all the postal cards he has to handle.

No quality is rarer than true benevolence; even those who imagine they possess it are generally merely of a weak or complaisant nature.—La Rochefoucauld.

Kaiser Retools For New Model

An agreement amending the labor contract between Kaiser Motors corporation and Local 142 UAW-CIO has been signed by both the company and the union. Those signing included representatives of the International union, the Local Bargaining committee, the company's Labor Relations department, Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW-CIO, and Edgar Kaiser, president of Kaiser Motors.

Kaiser announced that production at Willow Run is scheduled for October 26. The company started back automotive workers on October 19.

At the same time, Kaiser stated that tooling for 1954 models is nearing completion and that production of these models will be announced later in the year.

Members of the local union gave full approval to the new contract when they ratified it on October 4.

Let's talk this week about filters, the simple, inexpensive devices designed to help bridge the gap between the beginning and the professional photographer.

In black and white work certain filters will help impart more nearly accurate light-and-dark values to your pictures. In color work, a true and eye-pleasing effect can be more easily gained, once again, by the use of certain filters which will adapt the existing light condition to fit your film.

A color filter, for example, works by absorbing certain colors of light and skipping others. Thus, if shooting on a hazy day or under a clear blue sky when the light on your subject might lean too heavily to blue, the proper filter will soak up this excess of blue.

As we said, filters are inexpensive, and a selection to cover your normal needs will probably cost less than the price of F-bones for two at your favorite beanery. In fact, many camera accessories are comparatively cheap . . . especially when you consider that with proper care they can last indefinitely.

We'd be privileged to show you the latest ways to improve your pictures and still please your pocketbook. So, for ECONOMY'S sake, make 821 West Ann Arbor Trail your Photographic Headquarters. The Halloween goblins will soon be knocking on your door and the kids will be all dressed up for parties and begging! They're natural subjects for interesting, never-to-be-forgotten, pictures . . . so stock up on film and the other supplies you'll need. We'll give you the fastest possible service on your color film, too!
