

Movie Star Visits Here

Movie star Robert Cummings and his lovely wife, Mary, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stokes of 12731 Beck road at dinner at the Mayflower hotel Monday evening. Mrs. Stokes is the sister of Mrs. Cummings, the former Mary Daniels, MGM starlet.

In commenting on the dinner, Cummings stated that it was one of the most wonderful meals he had ever eaten. Following the feast, the Cummings went to Willow Run airport for the return trip to California.

Elect Ed Campbell Head Of Kiwanis

Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday evening elected Edward Campbell as new president of the local organization for 1954. Campbell, head of the Campbell Electric company, succeeds Dean Saxton as leader of the service club.

AAA One-way Street Proposal Brings Protests by Residents

Six hundred and fifty Plymouth residents filed their protest with the city commission Monday night to a plan to make one-way thoroughfares of Blanche and Farmer streets. The evening's busy session also included a discussion on bids for a sewer cleaning outfit, approval to resurface a street and the scheduling of a special meeting for November 23 to hear final complaints on the proposed zoning ordinance.

The plan to make one-way thoroughfares of the two streets was recommended by the AAA in its traffic survey made of the city to relieve traffic congestion at the lowest cost. The recommendation first drew fire from residents of the northwest section of the city at the September 28 meeting who argued against the thoroughfares and warned that "the whole neighborhood will be up here" if the commission should decide to enact the plan.

Not waiting for commission action about 15 residents of the area were present at the Monday night meeting carrying the letter signed by 650 residents who object to the one-way street idea. Martin Beaver, 398 Auburn, was spokesman for the group. He read the letter (not a petition) which first praised the AAA report for its many constructive recommendations, but added:

"However, we would be poor citizens if we did not condemn,

Old Public Square Idea Fades In Favor of New Fire Station

The wishes of a man and wife to have a northside property they transferred to the village of Plymouth 100 years ago to be used as a public square vanished last Monday night when the city commission voted to use the property as a site for the proposed new fire station.

It was in 1851 when the village was handed the deed to property at Holbrook and Spring streets by William and Debra Bradner with the clause that "it is to be held for a public square and for no other purpose."

The years have passed and Plymouth failed to center itself around the north section of the city called "Lower Town." The large tract of land, located across the street from Starkweather Elementary school, has been used as a park known as Bradner park.

So as a city commission committee looked over city-owned property for possible sites for the northside fire station, they found the Bradner park site as the most desirable. But if they could legally use the park for anything besides a public square was a question needing answer. They turned the matter over to the city attorney, Harry Deyo.

Attorney Deyo reported at Monday night's meeting that the city could legally use the park. His lengthy report cited several Michigan law cases where similar circumstances prevailed and courts have ruled in favor of city usage. It was also believed that the site had been used at one time for a fire station.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister submitted preliminary drawings of a fire station. It would be a

Fire in Taxi Office Started by Cigarette

A cigarette tossed aside by a passer-by started a minor fire in the basement of the Plymouth Taxi Service, 786 Penniman, last Friday afternoon.

Firemen received a call at 5:20 p.m. to fight a blaze which was getting underway in the ceiling beams in the basement. Fire Chief Robert McAllister believed that a cigarette fell onto a wooden window casing which is at sidewalk level in front of the taxi office.

The building is owned by the First Federal Savings and Loan association.

Community Fund Half-Way Total Tops $10,000 Mark

With the half-way point in the Plymouth Community Fund drive reached campaign officials were optimistic today of "going over the top" of the goal of $19,000.

Drive Treasurer George Mayhew reported that to date $10,600 has been collected or pledged. He pointed out that this amount represents those donations which have been processed and then tabulated indicating that some monies are on hand that have not been counted. "The people of Plymouth are reacting as expected—their donations are most generous," Mayhew commented.

With less than half of the industrial solicitation completed and about the same amount of commercial solicitations to be made it would appear that the fund goal would be a certainty.

George Witkowski, chairman of the business committee, turned in $1306 in cash this Tuesday. He said that his phase of the campaign was not even half completed.

Cash contributions of more than $10 already reported are as follows: (Continued on Page 8)

Six Junior Achievement Companies Formed as Program Gets Underway

Doors to six Junior Achievement companies opened on South Main street here this week, enabling 90 high school juniors and seniors to learn about American business by practicing it.

Thirteen Plymouth industries, business and individuals have contributed money to support this new program for youth which began Monday with the meeting of two companies. Two other companies were organized Tuesday night and the remaining two on Wednesday night.

Up to 15 boys and girls are needed to form each company. During the next six months they will elect their own officers, sell stock in their company, decide what product they want to manufacture or service they want to offer, purchase necessary supplies, manufacture the product or render the service they have chosen, sell their product or service at a profit, pay wages to members of their company, keep a set of books, pay dividends to stockholders and prepare and distribute an annual report to stockholders.

The Junior Achievement room is located at the former Bar-O-Sweets location. A partition divides the room so that two companies can meet at one time. Yet to be installed is a table saw, band saw, drill press and sanding machine. With these tools and other smaller ones the companies will make their products. Making contributions toward the Junior Achievement program were Barnes-Gibson - Raymond, Dunn Steel Products company, Evans Products company, Michigan Bell Telephone company, S. S. Kresge company, Universal Stamping and Machine company, Burroughs Corporation, Daisy Manufacturing company, Plymouth Mail, Charles U. Harvey, Plymouth Plating Works, National Bank of Detroit and Century Metal Products.

Five concerns have offered to furnish personnel to advise the six companies. Monday night's sponsors are Evans Products and Michigan Bell. Evans advisors are Dean Wilson, Harvey Cooper, Tom Abbott and Sam Hudson. Michigan Bell advisors are Miss Koriki Schwass, Herbert Wyatt and Robert Walters.

Burroughs is sponsoring the two Tuesday night companies. One advisory group consists of Frank Hodson, Fred Larid, Billy Wilcox and John Walasky and the other is composed of Robert Paskey, Clarence O'Brian, Howard Marburger and Dean Scott.

Daisy and Barnes-Gibson, Raymond are sponsoring the Wednesday night groups. Daisy advisors are Russell Daane, Robert Wesley and Lee Gaeke. Barnes-Gibson-Raymond personnel are J. A. Arden, Stanford Knapp and J. H. Diener.

Electrical work in the Junior Achievement headquarters was donated by Cameron Lodge, Jr., and Marvin Sackett of the Plymouth Electrical Contracting company.

No meeting will be held tonight, Thursday, but students asked to come that night may come to either the Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday night meetings.

Plans Ban of Overnight Parking on City Streets

Capacity Crowd Expected At Chamber Dinner

A capacity audience of 250 people is expected next Wednesday when the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce holds its annual dinner meeting at the Bird Elementary school.

Final program plans have been made. Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold states, with the feature speaker of the evening being James F. Gheen, New York City, public relations councillor and humorist.

Frank Henderson, local industrialist will be chairman of the evening's program which starts at 7 o'clock. The Plymouth high school band under the direction of Larry Livingston will play the national anthem to open the program. The Reverend David T. Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, will deliver the invocation preceding the dinner.

An introduction of guests will be followed by a short business session conducted by Jack Taylor, director of the Chamber. The Chamber president, Ralph G. Lorenz will then present the president's message. Vocal numbers will be presented by the Plymouth high school choir directed by Fred Nelson before Robert Marsden, former official with the local Burroughs plant and recently transferred to Detroit, introduces the principal speaker.

Sibbold states that it appears that the 250 ticket limit will be easily reached. Those attending the meeting will receive first copies of the Plymouth Chamber's annual report which lists all the achievements of the group during the year.

Believe Vandals Started Fires In Two Garages

Fires which mysteriously broke out last week in two garages 25 minutes apart appears to be the work of vandals, Fire Chief Robert McAllister concluded following an investigation of the charred structures.

Only 25 minutes after firemen received a call at 11:40 p.m. Thursday to fight a blaze at the home of George Kokesch, 409 Ann Arbor trail, another alarm was sounded and one of the two trucks on the scene sped to 499 Sunset where the garage at the Dick Neale home was burning. Both garages were two-car structures detached from the homes.

Workers at the Champion Corrugated Container company on Haggerty road saw the fire at the Neale home and they rushed into the garage to push the car to safety. The Kokesch car, however, was heavily damaged with the exterior burned and blistered. Kokesch said that he had driven into the garage only 20 minutes before the fire was discovered by a neighbor.

Chief McAllister estimated that damage to each garage would be at least $250. An examination, McAllister says, shows that the fires did not start from the car, by faulty wiring or from any combustible material such as oily rags. He then offered his opinion that they were both started by vandals.

The incident was the first in many years in which the fire department was kept busy with two fires at one time.

Lions Schedule Film on Missiles

A discussion and film on guided missiles will highlight the meeting of the Plymouth Lions club tonight, November 5, at 6:30 p.m. in the Hotel Mayflower. The program was arranged by Bruce Leonard.

The talk will be given by Dimitri Theofil of the Product Engineering department of the Ford Motor company, parts and equipment division. His film, "Guided Missiles," will help illustrate the technical discussion.

Ordinance Gets Initial Reading by Commission

City commissioners gave first reading Monday night to a new ordinance which would prohibit all-night parking on any of the city's streets in order that snow removal and street cleaning jobs can be speeded up.

An unestimated number of cars now parked on the city's streets because of the lack of other off-street parking facilities will be forced to find new locations between the hours of

Goodfellows Plan Annual Paper Sale

The local Goodfellows organization has begun plans for the annual Old Newsboys sale of newspapers on December 12. The group held a meeting on October 28 to get the ball rolling for the benefit sale.

President Fred Hadley has urged all members to be present at the next meeting, scheduled for November 18 at the Township Hall. He added that full cooperation is essential to turn in another successful drive this year.

Proceeds from the newspaper sale go to the Goodfellows' welfare work of helping the needy persons of the area. Scheduled annually as a Christmas event, the sale helps to provide the poor with a happier Yuletide season.

100 Maple Trees Planted Along Streets of City

More work to beautify Plymouth, the "city of homes," was completed this week as the department of public works planted 100 more trees along the city's streets.

The 100 sugar maple trees were planted free of charge to homeowners along streets where new housing has been erected in recent years but where there are no trees within 40 feet, according to City Manager Albert Glassford. The trees are planted between the sidewalk and the street.

Each year the city commission sets aside funds for the purchase of trees for the city. Glassford estimates that about 100 more trees next year will complete the job since there will not be much more new housing going up in Plymouth in future years.

Maple trees, secured from Petoskey forest, were purchased this year instead of elm trees because of the danger of dutch elm disease which has moved into this area. A check made last summer revealed that no elm trees in Plymouth have been struck by the blight but that other cities have had to remove many elm trees suffering the disease.

Probation Given Boys Involved in Thefts

Four Plymouth area teenage boys who were arrested last month as they siphoned gasoline into their stolen car were placed on probation by Wayne county juvenile authorities in a hearing last week in Livonia. The four had been involved in numerous thefts of gasoline from the McLaren Transit Mix company.

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee reports that two of the boys had already been on probation when arrested. One of the quartet lives in Plymouth and the other three live on the outskirts.

Building Code Stops Work At Garling Homes

Sounds of hammering and sawing were abruptly halted at the new Garling subdivision Monday afternoon when the city issued a "stop work" order because of non-compliance with the building code.

City Manager Al Glassford said that he had to issue the order to stop work because the construction company was using a composition board sheathing of improper thickness. The building code requires the sheathing to be at least three-quarters of an inch thick. A load of half-inch sheathing had been delivered to the subdivision and carpenters had begun to nail it on.

By posting a red sign with the "stop work" order on the entrances of the structures, work was halted on four homes until Tuesday morning when company officials contacted the city manager and promised that the three-quarters inch sheathing would be used hereafter.

The city manager stated that the city is considering the adoption of the county building code which would not limit construction according to dimensions.

Post Office to Close For Armistice Day

Postmaster George Timpona announced that the Plymouth branch of the United States post office will be closed all day Wednesday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

Nancy Griswold Becomes Bride of Willard Corwin

At an impressive candlelight ceremony in the Salem Federated church on Saturday, October 24, Miss Nancy Griswold became the bride of Willard Corwin. Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Griswold of Salem road and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Corwin of Ridge road are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Cora Pennell assisted by the Reverend Couch officiated at the 8 o'clock double ring ceremony. Mrs. Hamilton Scarfoss presided at the organ. Miss Mary Lou Hartwick the soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Large baskets of white gladioli and mums and lighted tapers formed a soft background for the rites.

Nancy wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. The lace bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a deep pleum of the lace fell over the very bouffant skirt. She wore a lace bonnet from which fell her fingertip length veil of illusion. She carried a spray of white carnations tied with satin streamers.

Bertha Griswold was her sister's maid of honor. Her nylon net gown was of a deep turquoise in waltz length and she wore matching flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of deep red roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mable Hester wore yellow nylon net fashioned like the maid of honor and she carried deep pink roses.

Willard asked his brother, John, to serve him as best man and seating the guests were Melvin Griswold, brother of the bride, and Richard Houk.

Mrs. Griswold chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue sheer dress. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. Mrs. Corwin wore iridescent striped taffeta with pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 200 guests was held in the Salem Town Hall.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth high school. They will reside on Salem road.

Future Good For Burroughs Says Rotary Speaker

William A. Durbin, director of public relations for the Burroughs Corporation was the guest speaker at Rotary last Friday. He took as his subject the Burroughs Corporation and traced its development from its founding in St. Louis in 1886 to its present day operation.

The speaker pointed out that during the last eight years there has been a tremendous increase in the demands for office machines due to ever increasing governmental requirements. He stated that the future for the industry looked good since there was no reason to believe anything would be done to make business less complicated.

Mr. Durbin said Burroughs was devoting much of its present day energy to the development of electronics and magnetics and that many new and startling developments in this line were on their way.

"Since 1946 the company has expanded its facilities from five plants to 15 which are now in operation. The sales and service branches total 139 with 2,000 retail outlets. Plymouth has about one fifth of all of the Burroughs' employees in the world," he said, "with 3,800 people now being employed in the Plymouth plant."

The major operation of the local plant is the production of the sensimatic machine. He further stated that all of Burroughs' defense work is done in this city with 45 per cent of the local employees working on this part of their operation which is all of a continuing nature.

One has a great advantage in this life if his ancestors were of good stock—or own plenty of it.

15-Minute Loan Of Car Runs Into Two Weeks

This business of friendship can be carried a wee bit too far sometimes—that is the opinion today of Ivan Ford, 353 Roe street, who loaned his car to an acquaintance "just for 15 minutes" and failed to see it again for two weeks.

And as an extra friendly gesture, the "friend" abandoned the car in Lorain, Ohio after selling the car radio, a spare tire and over $100 worth of mechanic tools.

The friend, Harold Butler, 27, of 1034 West Ann Arbor trail, is being held today in the Findlay, Ohio jail after being arrested there Tuesday, according to Plymouth police. He had recently been released from the Ionia penitentiary where he served a term for larceny. By driving a stolen car over a state line he may be punished under the Dyer act.

Ford, a part-time worker at the Hawker Service station, told police that Butler asked to borrow his car for 15 minutes to go downtown. Failing to return, Ford reported the theft to police who sent out a message to all police. It was not learned here how Butler came to be arrested in Findlay. Ford returned yesterday morning from Lorain where he picked up his car.

Youth Arrested After Service Station Theft

Livonia police made a surprise catch yesterday morning when they overtook a "hot-rodding" car only to find that the young motorist was driving a stolen car and had just burglarized a Plymouth service station.

Eugene Duffy, of 3778 Fourteenth street, Detroit, is being held in the Livonia jail today after admitting taking the car and breaking into the Charles MacKay Service station, 406 North Main street, Plymouth.

A Livonia patrol car hailed Duffy over to the curb at 1:20 a.m. yesterday when they found him speeding through Livonia streets. He failed to show ownership of the car and finally admitted that he had stolen it and then drove to Plymouth where he broke into the service station. He smashed a window to enter the station and then broke into a cigarette machine and a Coca-Cola machine where an undetermined amount of money was taken.

Most excuses are merely lies wrapped in cellophane.

Local Wholesale Company to Move Into New Building

Harry Draper, owner of the Plymouth Wholesale company on Main Street made a two-fold announcement this week—that a new building is being erected to house the business and that he has taken on a partner, Theodore Terzian of Detroit.

Because of the rapid expansion of the company, Draper said, the new building with excellent parking space and room to expand is being constructed at 888 Sheldon road, next to the Champion Corrugated Paper company. The building nearly completed, was built by local contractor Robert Widmaier to conform with the colonial design emphasized in Plymouth.

Terzian, the new partner, has considerable experience in the wholesale business. Plymouth Wholesale deals in candies, paper goods and restaurant supplies. Terzian, who is married and has one child, hopes to move to Plymouth in the near future.

OBITUARY

Knut Angerson
Funeral services will be held Friday, November 6, for Knut Anderson, who passed away Wednesday, November 4 at the age of 62 years. Mr. Anderson resided at 322 Pacific.

Surviving are his wife, Anna; one sister, Mrs. Sigrid Palmgren; and two brothers, Ruben and Emil Anderson. The brothers and sister all live in Sweden.

The Reverend Henry J. Walsh, D.D. will officiate at the 2:30 p.m. services from the Schrader Funeral home. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

Sp Shutter VIEWS

By Les Wilson

Although infrared photography is certainly nothing new, it offers a pictorial effectiveness that has yet to be fully explored. It's true that the use of infrared has gotten a big play in criminal and medical research and aerial survey, but the ability of this medium to create striking pictures of commonplace vistas is worth the attention of the snapshotter.

Strong, stark contrasts are a trademark of infrared which sees through haze with a range and clarity far beyond that of the human eye. Strangely, leaves of deciduous trees and sun-splashed grass appear white, as though snow-covered, because chlorophyll tends to reflect rather than absorb. For an interesting change of pace, folks, why not experiment with the sparkling crispness of this type of photography. In addition to your camera, a red filter and a roll of infrared, will open a new world of picture taking.

Whether you're starting from scratch and require the CAMERA, FILTER and FILM, or whether you just need some helpful hints, THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER is the place to go. We have a complete stock of photographic equipment—including world famous KODAK products—and cater to amateurs as well as professional photographers . . . so stop in TODAY. Remember, we repair cameras too!

Our new Christmas merchandise is still arriving. Come in and select a beautiful Christmas gift camera set for your special "photo fan" TODAY—Priced from $10.00 up . . . use our convenient CHRISTMAS LAYAWAY PLAN with EXTENDED PAYMENTS from now until Christmas. We'll be glad to tell you about it.

Halloween Vandalism Relatively Light Says Police Chief Greenlee

Halloween 1953 proved to be a comparatively calm event, it was declared this week by Chief of Police Carl Greenlee as he surveyed the reports from persons filing complaints with the police department.

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church will meet on Wednesday, November 11 for lunch at 12:30 p.m. The program will consist of two one-act plays directed by Mrs. David Gates.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bairas and daughter, Thalia attended the Michigan-Penn game at Ann Arbor last Saturday.

Miss Mary Lou Hartwick of Alma college will spend the week end with her parents on Northville road.

The Women's circle of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will meet tonight, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the home of Dee Packer.

The Canton Township Good-fellows will hold their annual frolic, modern and old time dances at the Plymouth Masonic temple on Saturday, November 7 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Russell-Magraw, president announces tickets will be on sale at the door.

Every good citizen should support the church of his choice; civilization owes much to organized religion.

Persons employed in the various branches of the telephone industry had average weekly earnings of $63.68 in 1952 compared with $60.84 in 1951. The industry was employing 682,500 persons at the end of the year, 34,700 more than at the end of 1951. Rate increases granted and put into effect last year raised revenues by 170 million dollars.

There was one outstanding example of vandalism, however, the reports showed. Two large plate glass windows at the new Allison Chevrolet garage on North Main street were pierced by air rifle shot along with windshield of three cars on the Allison used car lot.

Also proving to be wide-spread was the act of letting air out of automobile tires. There were many of these cases, the chief reported. Some homeowners also had the unpleasant task of cleaning garbage from their porch or heads of cabbage and pumpkins.

The entire police force plus the extra policemen were on duty both Friday and Saturday nights to help keep vandalism at a minimum.

Since three Livonia youths were apprehended last week for allegedly shooting holes in windows with B-B guns, several more reports of similar acts have been reported. Reports came from Mill street, Pacific avenue and Ann Arbor trail, telling of windows hit by pellets. Even a small window in the office of Chief Greenlee was a victim, it was discovered this weekend.

 munity already overburdened with such problems.
 "Would endanger the lives of our citizens residing in said district, particularly those of our children."
 "Would break faith with the thousands of persons who have moved into such district because of its proximity to schools and churches, most of which are either in the district or within easy walking distance thereof."
 "Would greatly reduce the desirability of the district as a place to live and hence depreciate the value of the property therein, thus causing serious loss to the owners of such property."
 City commissioners passed a motion to place the letter on file. Mayor Russell Daane commented that it may be a long time before the commission studies the recommendation but that the opinion of the residents in that area is appreciated. He also stated that when consideration is given the plan, the good of the entire community must be considered, not just one group.
 In other business of the evening, the second and third readings of the new zoning ordinance was on the agenda but following the advice of City Attorney Harry Deyo, the commission decided not to approve the ordinance Monday night but to publish a notice of public hearing on the ordinance and map in order to avoid any criticism that no warning was given before it was voted upon. Monday, November 21 was set as the date for the special hearing. It is expected that the second and third reading will take place immediately after the hearing.

 Commissioners put their stamp of approval on the paving of Hardenberg from Starkweather avenue to the newly-constructed Dunn Steel Products company. Looking over the plans and profile of the project, the commission okayed the paving with the cost to be absorbed by Dunn Steel.
 Over a half hour of the meeting was consumed by a discussion of bids received on sewer cleaning machines. Bids from two concerns were received and salesmen from both companies were present at the meeting to answer questions from commissioners. Bids were: Trojan Tool Equipment company, Chicago, $2,910.60, f.o.b. Plymouth; and Krueger Machinery company, Saginaw, Michigan, $2,398 f.o.b. Plymouth.
 Outcome of the lengthy discussion was a motion to defer action and to have commissioners travel to nearby towns to see each of the machines in action. The commission wants to buy a sewer cleaning machine to clean out the city's sewer system which has brought protests from many homeowners whose basements were flooded by water backed up in sewers.
 Commissioners also read a letter from the city health officer, Dr. R. R. Barber, who gave his opinion that the Middle Rouge interceptor sewer is necessary for the public health and welfare of the city.
 City Attorney Deyo told the commission that the circuit court has ruled in favor of the city in a suit filed against a group of Fralick avenue property owners who refused to pay assessments. Because of the length of the judge's ruling, the attorney did not go into detail.

Whenever you spot a vacant lot with youngsters practicing football, look out. Get your foot on your brake and prepare for an emergency stop.
 The future football star who dashes into the street to retrieve that long punt or pass may be too preoccupied to worry about traffic.
 If he suddenly backs in front of you it may be too late for a warning blast of your horn. Parked cars could limit your dodging. Whether you hit him or not may depend entirely on how quickly you stop.

Youth Fellowship Collects $210 In Halloween Event

The three youth fellowship groups at the First Presbyterian church turned in a successful Milk for Korea drive last Thursday with a collection of $210. The young people conducted the house-to-house solicitation as their annual old-fashioned Halloween observation of really "helping the poor."
 The three groups, approximately 75 young people, joined forces to canvass the neighborhood. This year's collection exceeded last year's figure by almost $100.
 For each one dollar sent to Korea for milk, the Korean government matches it with an equal amount. Thus the local collection has an actual value of $420 to the hungry Korean children. Broken down this is enough to buy 4,000 children an adequate amount of milk for one week.

Knights-Masons Unite for Annual Good-Will Dinner

The mutual goodwill of the residents of Plymouth will be visibly demonstrated here next Monday evening November 9 when two organizations of men will unite in the fourth renewal of their annual friendship dinner. The members of Plymouth Rock Lodge 47 of the F. & A. M. and the members of Plymouth Council 3292 of the Knights of Columbus will sit side by side in an expression of friendliness and sociability.
 The two participating organizations alternate each year in being the host. This year the K. of C. is in the role of entertaining the Masons. The goodwill existing between these groups is further pointed up by the generosity of the Masons in giving over their hall for the dinner in view of the limited facilities at the disposal of the K. of C. In addition the women of the Eastern Star have agreed to prepare and serve the meal. A spirit of cooperation prevails in Plymouth—a valuable lesson for many other communities.
 Chairman Henry Lorenz of the K. of C. and his counterpart representing the Plymouth Rock Lodge, W. J. Livingston, announce that an interesting program has been planned for the 200 men who will be in attendance. K. of C. Past District Deputy George Robel of Dearborn will serve as toastmaster. K. of C. District Deputy Eugene Shehan of Ann Arbor will extend a welcome to the guests. Reverend Henry J. Walch, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth will accept the greetings of the host on behalf of the members of the Masonic Order. The chief speaker of the program will be Frank Parker, President of the Michigan Brewers association and a former member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Aboard the Good Ship MAYFLOWER

Fire-Chief Bob McAllister is often seen about The Mayflower on his regular tours of the city. He gets a great deal of much deserved credit for his fire fighting work, but we wonder how many people are aware that he performs an even greater service by his fire PREVENTION program. Regular inspections, advice on proper equipment, safety features in buildings, all come under his ever watchful eyes. He puts out a lot of fires before they ever start, and for so doing has been voted the confidence of The Michigan Fire Chiefs' Association, heading that organization. It's always a pleasure to have the "Chief" aboard.

Forty states have legislation pending which would legalize all holidays on Mondays. Supporters of the legislation point out that this would permit longer and more uniform travel time during holiday seasons.

School Schedules Open House For Education Week

Parents will be given the opportunity to better acquaint themselves with the work at Plymouth high school during the open house event being held Tuesday, November 10 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The occasion is planned as part of the school's observance of American Education Week, November 9 to 13.
 The theme of the event is "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility". A panel of students from the social studies classes will discuss the meaning of this theme in a one-hour program in the auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m. The program will also include instrumental music and vocal selections by high school students.
 During the remaining time the parents will be free to visit classrooms and become better acquainted with the teachers. Should they desire, they can make an appointment with the teachers for a future date.
 Principal Carvel Bentley pointed out that this would be an excellent opportunity for parents to see the new homemaking section opened this week. He added that all interested persons are invited to attend.
 In spite of canned, frozen and dehydrated quick-to-fix foods, the average working wife still puts in an hour and a half a day preparing meals.

School Schedules Open House For Education Week

Parents will be given the opportunity to better acquaint themselves with the work at Plymouth high school during the open house event being held Tuesday, November 10 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The occasion is planned as part of the school's observance of American Education Week, November 9 to 13.
 The theme of the event is "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility". A panel of students from the social studies classes will discuss the meaning of this theme in a one-hour program in the auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m. The program will also include instrumental music and vocal selections by high school students.
 During the remaining time the parents will be free to visit classrooms and become better acquainted with the teachers. Should they desire, they can make an appointment with the teachers for a future date.
 Principal Carvel Bentley pointed out that this would be an excellent opportunity for parents to see the new homemaking section opened this week. He added that all interested persons are invited to attend.
 In spite of canned, frozen and dehydrated quick-to-fix foods, the average working wife still puts in an hour and a half a day preparing meals.

Whenever you spot a vacant lot with youngsters practicing football, look out. Get your foot on your brake and prepare for an emergency stop.
 The future football star who dashes into the street to retrieve that long punt or pass may be too preoccupied to worry about traffic.
 If he suddenly backs in front of you it may be too late for a warning blast of your horn. Parked cars could limit your dodging. Whether you hit him or not may depend entirely on how quickly you stop.
 Unless you have slowed down to under 20 you may be in real trouble. Even then you will go 22 feet while you react to the situation and slide another 30 feet before you stop.

Youth Fellowship Collects $210 In Halloween Event

The three youth fellowship groups at the First Presbyterian church turned in a successful Milk for Korea drive last Thursday with a collection of $210. The young people conducted the house-to-house solicitation as their annual old-fashioned Halloween observation of really "helping the poor."
 The three groups, approximately 75 young people, joined forces to canvass the neighborhood. This year's collection exceeded last year's figure by almost $100.
 For each one dollar sent to Korea for milk, the Korean government matches it with an equal amount. Thus the local collection has an actual value of $420 to the hungry Korean children. Broken down this is enough to buy 4,000 children an adequate amount of milk for one week.
 Autumn always brings a complete shift of emphasis from sun-baths to halfbacks.
 Why not eliminate committee meetings altogether.

Barbara Higgins and Donald Kennedy Wed in Garden City

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kennedy

The Garden City Presbyterian church was the scene on Saturday, October 17, of the wedding of Barbara Ann Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Higgins of Louise avenue, Livonia, and Donald Leroy Kennedy. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kennedy of Leucadia, California.

The Reverend R. R. Reeves officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony. Altar decorations were of white gladioli and mums. Mrs. Grace Kersetter was the organist and the soloist, Donald Berquist sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace over satin with a high neckline, long sleeves and scalloped hemline. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was caught to a headpiece of seedpearls. Her only ornament was a three strand necklace of pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations and baby mums.

Bridal attendants were Miss Shirley Brenner as maid of honor; Miss Jean Harrington and Barbara's sister, Miss Betty Higgins. Miss Brenner's gown was of petal pink taffeta and nylon net, fashioned after the bride's gown, with tiny rosebuds and nylon net for her head dress. She carried a colonial nosegay of yellow carnations. The bridesmaids were similarly gowned in robin egg blue and mint green and wore matching rosebuds in their hair. They carried colonial nosegays of yellow carnations.

Kenneth Roberts was the best man. Robert Ted and Bert Higgins, brothers of the bride, and Norman Roberts were the ushers. A reception for 250 guests was held at the Square Deal hall on Wayne road following the ceremony. Guests were present from Cleveland, Ohio; Richmond, Plymouth, Detroit, Dearborn, Livonia and Garden City.

Both young people attended Plymouth high school. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are "at home" at 8851 Tremont street, Livonia. Prenuptial events planned for Mrs. Kennedy included a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Lynn Bufford and a personal shower given by Miss Shirley Brenner.

Plymouth Represented At School Meeting

Three Plymouth people representing the School Community Planning Group traveled to Camp St. Mary's near Battle Creek last Tuesday where they and other people belonging to similar groups exchanged ideas.

Representing Plymouth at the two-day conference were Carvel Bentley, principal of the high school; Mrs. Vivian Thorson, Starkweather school teacher; and James Hardiman, parent representative.

Sixteen schools with similar advisory groups were invited to the conference. The camp is owned and operated by the Michigan Education Association.

Allen School Completion Set At Month's End

Edna M. Allen Elementary school, though opened for classroom use on September 21, will not be ready for full use until the end of this month, it was predicted this week by the contractor. The school has been operating without the use of its auditorium or kitchen facilities.

Installation of the kitchen equipment began Monday and will be completed next week. Superintendent Russell Isbister quoted the contractor as saying, "Some painting is required to complete the auditorium. Also expected for delivery this week are the coat cubicles which are portable lockers for the children to place their coats."

The superintendent states that formal dedication will probably take place sometime after the first of next year.

Doris Johnson Bride Of Samuel Brown

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Johnson of 1182 Roosevelt avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris Marie, to Samuel O. Brown, of Northville. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, October 31 in Augustana Evangelical Lutheran church, Detroit. The couple spoke their vows before the pastor Reuben E. Norling, in the presence of a few close relatives and friends.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harold McElroy of Northville. Doris wore a street length dress of aqua taffeta with ballerina length skirt and bolero jacket. She wore a close-fitting pink hat and carried pink rosebuds. Mrs. McElroy's dress was of wine crepe. Mrs. Johnson wore a navy blue crepe dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home on Cady street in Northville. Mrs. Brown will continue in her present position as nurse in the office of Dr. Walter Hammond of this city.

Local Democratic Club To Hold Card Party

The Democratic club of Plymouth is sponsoring a card party and social evening to be held at the grange hall on Union street, Saturday, November 14, at 8:15 p.m. There will be a variety of games and refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

Donald LaMay Weds Florida Girl in Recent Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Donald LaMay

Miss Marianne Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis X. Hughes of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, repeated her nuptial vows to Donald H. LaMay in a ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic church in Fort Lauderdale on Saturday, October 31, at ten o'clock in the morning.

The Right Reverend Monsignor Edward J. O'Looney read the nuptial Mass before the altar which was graced with bouquets of white gladioli. Sister Ellen Louise presided at the organ.

Marianne chose a white ballerina length gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace over white satin. Her fingertip length veil was from a Juliet cap of white velvet and she carried her white Prayer Book centered with a white orchid and a shower of satin ribbons and stephanotis.

Miss Joan Wells was Marianne's maid of honor. She wore a pink nylon net and Chantilly lace, ballerina length, gown. Her flowers were blue carnations with a shower of stephanotis.

Thomas P. Shiel of New York served Donald as best man.

Mrs. Hughes chose, for her daughter's wedding, a winter white lace dress with orchid accessories. Mrs. LaMay wore a royal gold cashmere dress with brown accessories. Both mothers complimented their ensembles with orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to 40 guests at the Governor's Club. Mr. and Mrs. LaMay are honeymooning at Vero Beach, Florida. The bride is a graduate of St. Anthony's high school and St. Vincent's School of Nursing in Jacksonville, Florida. Donald is stationed at Jacksonville where he is a Yeoman in the United States Navy.

Guests were present from Illinois, Michigan and New York.

Garden Club To Hear Speech On Gift Wrapping

Members of the Plymouth branch of the Michigan Division of Women's National Farm and Garden Association will meet at the home of Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum on West Maple street on Monday, November 9 at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Fraser Carmichael will speak on the subject of "Gift Wrappings and Holiday Table Settings" and will demonstrate same. Mrs. George Chute will be the tea chairman.

Plans will be formulated for the annual Christmas green sale and bake sale which will be held on December 11 and 12 at West Brothers on Forest avenue.

Members are reminded to bring white elephants to the November 9th meeting.

Historical Group To Hear Talk By R. A. Kirkpatrick

R. A. Kirkpatrick will discuss his early railroad souvenirs before members of the Plymouth Historical society on Thursday evening, November 12, at 7:45 p.m. in the Veterans' Memorial building. Kirkpatrick has collected souvenirs of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad for many years.

The 31 members who on Sunday, November 1, went by bus for a two-hour tour of the Detroit Historical museum, will be especially interested. Kirkpatrick's material will tie in very closely to the historic railroad exhibit which was on display in the museum. The society has also heard a factual paper on "Early Railroads of Plymouth" by Karl Starkweather at a past meeting.

Non-members who are interested in the society may call Mrs. Arthur Mills, 623-M, or Roderick A. Cassidy, 471-M for further information.

Betty Schomberger's Troth Is Announced

Miss Betty Schomberger

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schomberger of Ann Arbor trail announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann to James C. Wick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wick, Sr., of Fairbrook avenue, Northville.

An early summer wedding is being planned.

Soroptimist Club Tours Telephone Office Operations

The Soroptimist club of Plymouth met in the reception room of the Michigan Bell Telephone company on October 28. Miss Ethel Allen and Mrs. Clara Peace entertained the club with a tea and a tour of the operations division.

The guests for the evening from out of the city were Ann Bufton, member of the Dearborn Soroptimist club and a member of the federation assimilation committee, and Eileen Sawyer, a member of the Soroptimist club of Berkeley.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Helen Stevens on November 17 with Frances Stark as assistant hostess.

Most people, who wonder why people like to see their names in print, like to see their names in print.

Margaret Higgins To Wed in Detroit

Mrs. John Higgins, of Detroit, formerly of Plymouth, announces the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Ann to Arthur Walter Schmidt, of Kingston, Illinois.

The wedding will take place on November 28 at St. Stephens church in Detroit.

Architects are working out plans for an automobile with a home that folds into the door.

More than 27,000,000 Americans moved to new homes during 1952, according to a commercial survey.

State Police Plan Free Emergency Calls for Hunters

The Michigan State Police and the State Conservation department again will offer a free registration service for deer hunters who desire to be notified in event an emergency occurs at home.

A hunter desiring to avail himself of the service should register at the State Police post or Conservation headquarters nearest his camp. Before leaving home he should inform his family or office at which station he will register. Should there be an emergency, those at home need only call their nearest State Police post or Conservation headquarters and give the name of the station at which the hunter is registered. The message will then be radioed and delivered by either a State Police or conservation officer.

The service also operates in reverse. Should a hunter become lost or suffer an accident, his home or office can be promptly notified.

The service covers genuine emergencies only and is not offered where regular communication facilities can be used without delay.

Each member of a hunting party should register, giving an accurate description of the location of his camp. When hunters move from one camp to another during the season the station at which they are registered should be notified.

For the convenience of hunters, registration cards will be available on the state ferries at the Straits.

Pedestrian Safety Hints Start Today

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee today announced a series of 10 safety driving lessons dealing with pedestrian safety. These are being run by The Mail as a public service to assist in saving the lives of local residents while they are on foot in traffic.

"All motorists and pedestrians are urged to study the illustrations which will be shown in the series because they represent the most common types of difficulty which result from mixing the man on foot with the man on wheels in the traffic stream," the chief stated.

Scout Troop 298 Wins Performance Trophy

At a camporee on October 17 and 18, Troop 298 of Plymouth, which was organized in February 1952, won a first place trophy for excellent performance. The campout was held at the D-Bar-A Scout ranch in Metamora.

Participating were Fletcher Campbell, Scout master, and Scouts Wilbert Graham, Gordon Graham, Albert Runge, Danny Graham, Henry Naasko, Bill Pugh, Robert Bowman and Douglas Valek. Scout committee members who attended the Camporee were Leroy Rafferty, Robert Bowman, Howard Ward and William Russell.

Thanksgiving Offering to Benefit Dr. Dean Saxton

All the members of the Plymouth Ministerial association will participate again this year in the Thanksgiving services Wednesday evening, November 25. The annual offering will go to Dr. Dean Saxton, Jr., to help him purchase a new car.

The services at the First Presbyterian church are scheduled for the night before Thanksgiving to ensure a larger attendance. The church will take charge of the musical offerings, and the Reverend Patrick Clifford, of Calvary Baptist church, will give the Thanksgiving message.

Dr. Saxton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton of West Ann Arbor trail, is undertaking the translation of the Bible among the Papago Indians of Arizona. He and his wife will live with the people while he learns the language and completes the New Testament translation.

The Ministerial association decided to use the offering to aid Dr. Saxton in his work this year, rather than apply it to the association's work as in previous years.

Open Modern Homemaking Section To Classroom Work This Week

Plymouth high school students this week got their first opportunity to attend classes in the new homemaker section in the school. Though a few finishing touches must still be added to the three rooms, classes have begun to use the many new appliances featured in the department.

Termed by Principal Carvel Beatley as one of the most modern departments of its kind in Western Wayne county, the section was only the result of long-planning. The need for replacement of the antiquated facilities are first pointed out by the School-Community Planning group which observed that enrollment in home-economics classes was suffering as a result.

Originally the clothing laboratory was situated on the second floor of the building, while the foods department was on the first floor next to the cafeteria. The remodeling plan consisted of making the old gymnasium into an auditorium, which would double as a cafeteria, turning the cafeteria room into a clothing laboratory, and remodeling the old cafeteria kitchen. The upstairs clothing laboratory provided two much-needed classrooms. Work was begun first on the auditorium-cafeteria for this room was needed the most. The auditorium was finished in the spring of this year. With the recent conclusion of the homemaker section only work on the cafeteria kitchen remains. Russell Isbister, superintendent of schools, said that it is impossible at this time to estimate when this work will be finished.

As it stands now the homemaker section was remodeled at a cost of approximately $37,200. This is exclusive of the draperies and additional furniture yet to be added.

The foods laboratory is equipped with a six-unit kitchen, which will accommodate 24 girls. Each unit has a Youngstown Kitchen outfit with either an electric or gas range. Shelf tops are of green, yellow or gray formica with cutting boards at the ends. Two refrigerators will be installed, as well as a dinette table and chairs for each separate unit.

Mrs. Christine Soule, cooking instructor, said that the trend in homemaker departments is away from the laboratory type kitchens, an toward making them like the student would find in her own home. This is the reason, she added, that both gas and electric ranges have been installed—to give the girl experience on whatever kind she may eventually use. Two of the units resemble the apartment-size kitchen for the same reason.

One end of the foods section will be used for instruction, exclusive of actual food preparation. This end also holds the huge show window, looking out onto the hallway, which will display the work of homemaker students. The display window will be backed by gold and beige metallic cloth draperies with primrose lining.

The classroom area looks onto a demonstration room which can be closed off on two sides with multi-fold doors. The demonstration room is so placed that it can be used by either the foods or clothing laboratories. Cupboards in the demonstration area are of birch which, Mrs. W. I. Ross, sewing instructor states, can be easily cared for.

The clothing laboratory, like the foods section, was built to accommodate 24 girls at a time. There are eight sewing machines, set in tables, which were purchased by the school last year. Two magazine showcases lift up to expose book shelves, thus utilizing every bit of available space.

the wall to provide the students with visual aid instruction. A movie screen will be placed on one of the racks, Mrs. Ross said, so that movies can be shown right in the classroom.

Bentley stated that it is expected that enrollment in homemaker courses will increase with the completion of the new department. Parents will have an opportunity to view the remodeling at the open house Tuesday evening as part of the American Education Week observance.

V.F.W. News

The annual fall conference at Lansing, formerly known as the Pow Wow, was held October 24 and 25. Attending meetings at the conference were President Gert Danol and Chaplain Virginia Bartel, who is also a department chairman as well as a district officer.

Highlight of the conference was a country-fair type of exhibit showing the various department chairmen's activities. An exhibit that won much praise for its uniqueness was set up by Virginia Bartel, displaying her cancer work activity. She had arranged upon a table a miniature cancer dressing table with bits of gauze designating a cancer pad and chairs surrounded the tiny table. A small hospital bed with a patient and nurse was shown, also in small scale. It was considered one of the best educational panoramas of its type.

The civilian defense "work shop" was impressive and apropos to training the public in safety measures to be utilized in the home during times of bombing.

Outstanding speakers at the conference were Joseph Mann, past department commander, now department service officer, Brigadier General Lester J. Maitland, director of Michigan Civilian defense, and Charles Henry, manager of the national home at Easton Rapids, Michigan.

Girls' our Auxiliary will be inspected by the fourth district president, Leota Wolcott, November 17. Make arrangements for baby sitters—let's have a good showing in attendance upon inspection.

The Post juke box dance will be held November 14 at 9 p.m.

MOMS NEWS

November 9, is the date of the next regular meeting of MOMS of America Inc. at the Memorial home on Main street. We will hear the convention reports from the delegates. Friday, November 6, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. there will be an indoctrination course at the Dearborn V.A. Hospital. All volunteer workers should take this course.

Girl Scout News

Members of Troop 1 are busy making toys for the children's Christmas party which is being given by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary. The girls are also working towards a Good Grooming badge. The troop was visited by Ellen Smith of Ellen's Hair Shop, who spoke to the girls on the care of hair and styling.

On Saturday, October 31, Troop 1 held a Halloween party at the home of its shut-in member, Iris Cody. The costume party was completely planned and carried out by the Scouts themselves, with Christine Baker as chairman. Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell are the leaders.

The annual sale of Girl Scout calendars is now underway. This is the one money-making project undertaken by the local council. The proceeds are retained by the troops to further troop activities. These convenient memorandum calendars may be obtained from any Brownie or Girl Scout.

Three members of Troop 5 accompanied by Mrs. Pieter Schipper and Mrs. Joseph Witwer attended a Halloween party for patients in the Polio Ward of the University hospital on Friday, October 30. The Scouts, Jane Hardimon, Linda Box and Kerstie Schipper, assisted in the serving of refreshments. Troop 5 plans to help with these parties as part of its service activities this year.

Troop 2 held its opening meeting at the Veterans' Memorial building on Tuesday, November 3. Leading this Senior troop are two new leaders, Mrs. Lance Wright and Mrs. Fred Kendall. Any former members who may not have been contacted are asked to call either of the leaders if they wish to continue in Scouting.

TRAFFIC SAFETY in Plymouth will be the problem these three persons will be studying along with four other citizens who go-to make up the newly-appointed traffic safety committee. Pictured here looking over the new line painting project on Main street near Penniman are (left to right) Fire Chief Robert McAllister, Mrs. A. E. Valier, a representative of the Community School Planning Group, and Harry Larsen, representative of the Chamber of Commerce. Others on the committee are City Manager Al Glassford, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee, Commissioner Marvin Terry and Thomas Rossettie. The committee was named by the city commission to make recommendations in conjunction with the AAA traffic survey.

PERFORMING VISITATION WORK in Plymouth several months before leaving for Japan where they will begin missionary work are two young women pictured above showing a map of the Far East to members of the Calvary Baptist church. They are Pat Maxwell (left) of Pontiac, Michigan, and Rowena Kubo of Los Angeles, an American-born Japanese. They are being sent to Japan to become village workers by the Far Eastern Gospel Commission with headquarters in Minneapolis. Looking on (left to right) are Mrs. Patrick Clifford, wife of the Calvary Baptist pastor, and Mr. and Mrs. Silas G. Mattinson, 795 Forest avenue, charter members of the church.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell of Joy road held open house on last Sunday honoring their son, Airman Second Class Russell Maxwell, who is spending a 30 day furlough with his parents after serving for 2 years in Okinawa. Guests were present from Ohio, Saginaw, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Detroit, Stockbridge, and Plymouth. Russell will go to Columbus, Ohio, for further duty following his furlough.

Mrs. William Eger was pleasantly surprised on Wednesday of last week when 12 of her neighborhood friends honored her with dinner at Saratoga Farms at the invitation of Mrs. Robert Diekmann and Mrs. George Jackson. This was a farewell to Mrs. Eger, who with her family will leave soon to make her home in Indiana. She was presented with a corsage and a lovely gift from the group.

There will be a practice of the O.E.S. at 7 p.m. on Saturday, November 7 for all officers. Please be prompt.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. West of Kellogg street were hosts at dinner Monday evening at Arbor-Lill honoring Mr. West's mother, Mrs. Louisa West on her 83rd birthday. Mrs. Bernice Thomas, sister of Mr. West was also a guest.

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold their annual "Harvest dinner" on Thursday, November 12 in the Masonic Temple serving from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

Mrs. George Smith of Sheridan avenue has just returned to Plymouth after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dykehouse and family, former Plymouth residents, at their home in Carbondale, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Penney will leave this weekend for their annual winter sojourn in Englewood, Florida.

Appearing on the CBS TV network show "Wheel of Fortune" in New York last Friday morning was Edwin F. Trombley, left, Michigan Bell Telephone Company employee who lives in Plymouth. Spinning the wheel on Trombley's behalf was H. S. McFarland, center, director of industrial relations for General Motors' Detroit Transmission Division. Todd Russell, master of ceremonies on the show is on the right. Trombley's appearance on the show came about as a result of his heroism during the Livonia fire when he saved the lives of six General Motors telephone operators. McFarland's spin of the wheel turned out to be a lucky one for Trombley. He left the show with a complete water pumping and softening system, carpeting, an automatic oil burner, glass jalousies, and other valuable items for the new home he is building.

Detroit Newspaper Quotes Houk's Observation That Girls Feet Are Growing

James Houk of Fisher's Shoes told Detroiters this week that girls' feet are getting bigger. Houk, who is president of the Michigan Shoe Retailers association, was credited with this observation in a feature story written by Charles Manos, Free Press staff writer.

Houk went on to point out that in the last 10 years the average size for women's shoes has increased a full size, from 6½ to 7½. But he added that the manufacturers have kept up with the bigger feet, producing more shoes of the larger size. "We even have a highly attractive size 12," he added.

The credit (for he said that larger foot growth is a healthy sign) is given to the moccasins and loafers worn by the young people. He calls them "freedom shoes" since they eliminate confinement of the big toe and allow the feet to grow normally.

Houk made the observations at the opening of the three-day Shoe Fair at the Statler, and Sheraton-Cadillac hotels. The fair is sponsored by the Michigan Shoe Retailers Association and the Michigan Shoe Travelers club.

$156 Collected In Halloween Drive

Sixteen junior high young people of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church PLUS one hour each PLUS the generosity of the people in the community EQUALS a grand total of $156.17, or the total amount of money collected by the youth who participated in the "No Trick but a Treat for the World's Children" on Halloween.

The young people collected 63 one dollar bills, 28 fifty cent pieces, 203 quarters, 147 dimes, 160 nickels and 572 pennies. The money will go to the UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) to meet the needs of hungry and sick children of the world.

Because of the generosity of the people in the community and the persistence of the youth, 1,503 needy children will have one glass of milk a day for a week; or 470 will be vaccinated against diphtheria; or 1937 children will receive penicillin to cure a tropical disease.

Nab Boys With Beer In Their Possession

Two 17-year-old Plymouth boys will be turned over to juvenile authorities after they were apprehended with beer in their possession.

Police received a call Sunday afternoon from a resident who said that they saw two boys stop their car near the intersection of Blanche and Auburn and get something hidden in some bushes. The youths were located and questioned. Both were cited for possession of beer and the driver of the car was ticketed for not possessing an operator's license.

Our Sincere Congratulations . . .

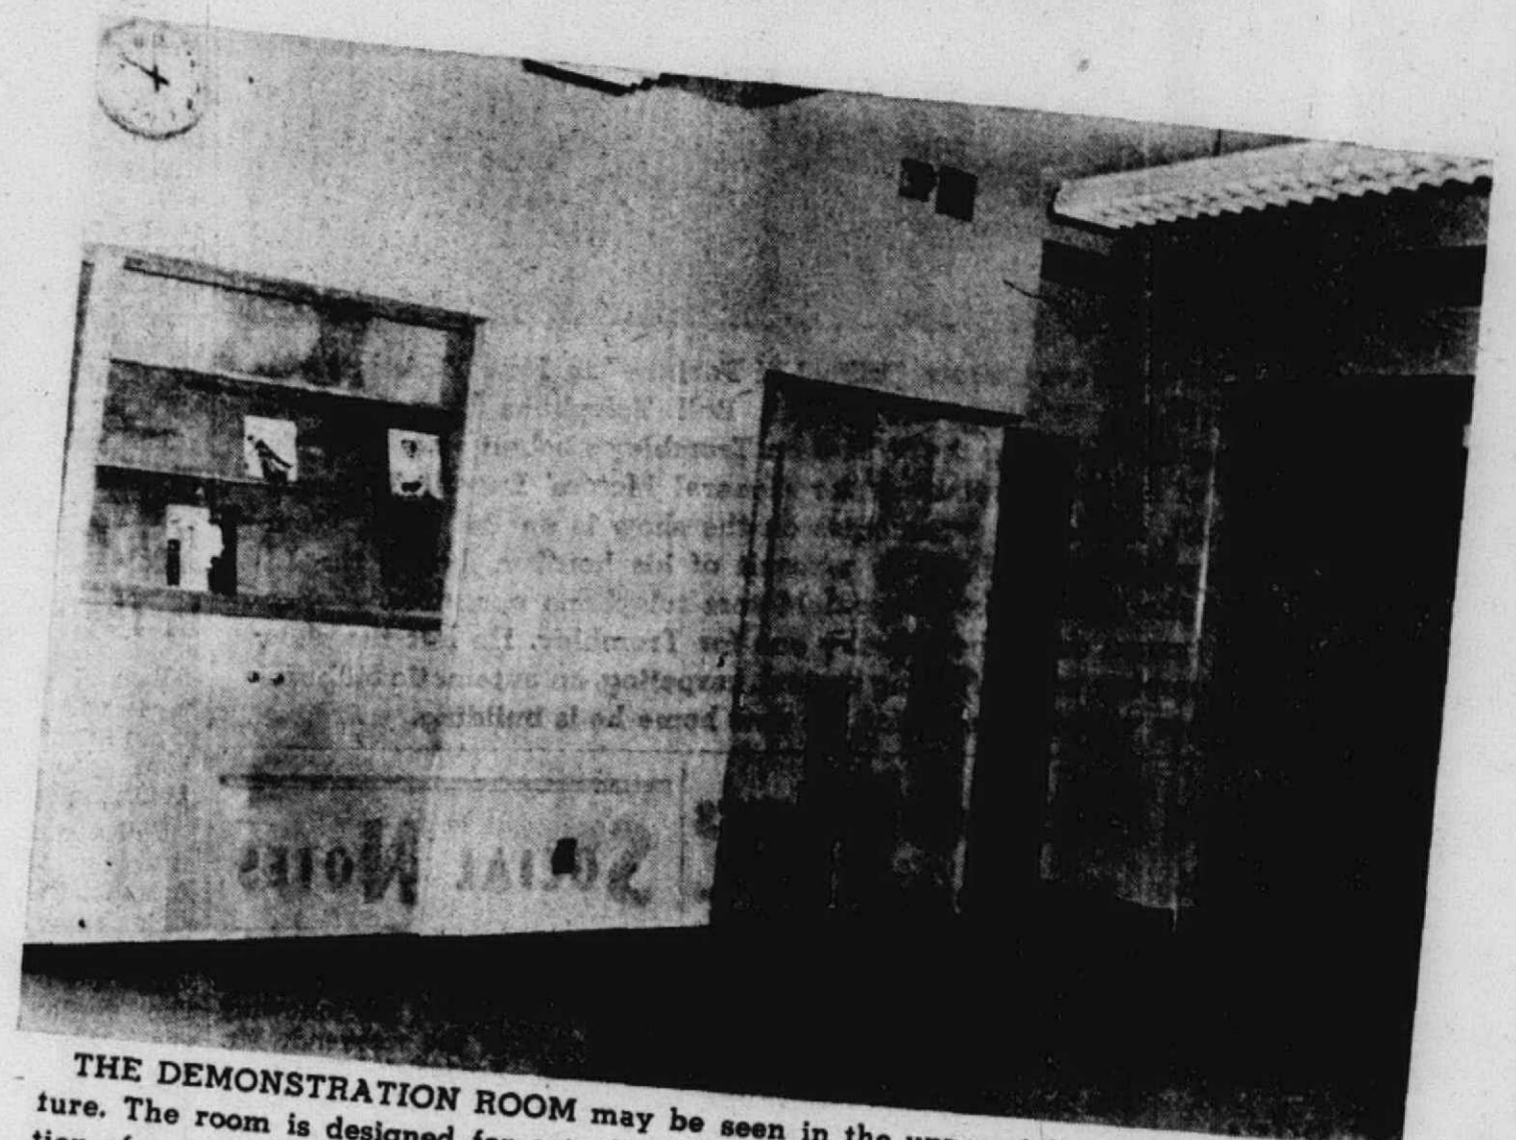

To The Plymouth Public Schools And The Citizens Of Plymouth And Plymouth Township On The Opening Of The Expanded, Newly-Remodeled Plymouth High School Home Making Department!

THESE NEW, MODERN, ENLARGED FACILITIES WILL MAKE YOUR PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL HOME MAKING DEPT. ONE OF THE MOST COMPLETE AND OUTSTANDING IN WESTERN WAYNE COUNTY!

WE, AS CONTRACTORS, ARE PROUD TO HAVE BEEN OF SERVICE IN ACCOMPLISHING THIS PROJECT IN COOPERATION WITH YOUR SCHOOL OFFICIALS, AND WE BELIEVE YOU, THE CITIZENS OF THIS AREA WILL ALSO BE JUSTLY PROUD OF THIS IMPROVEMENT IN YOUR PUBLIC SCHOOL FACILITIES.

Meet Your Symphony Players

The trombone section of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra is manned by Joe Skrynski, Joseph Moore and Russell Nahat, shown here left to right. Skrynski is entering his third year with the local orchestra and he has also been a member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra since its reorganization in 1951. A resident of Dearborn, he has been playing the trombone for 17 years. As his favorite selection Skrynski chooses Ravel's "Bolero" since he finds it the most challenging. Moore, a senior in the School of Music at the University of Michigan, has been playing with the Plymouth orchestra for two years. On graduation from the university next June, Moore will enter the Army and then assume a career as a music teacher. He is a Detroit resident. Last of the trio of trombone players, Russell Nahat, is also a Detroit resident. He entered the symphony in time for their last concert last season, so is a newcomer to the local orchestra. Nahat is a graduate of Wayne university where he majored in music education. He is currently attending the University of Michigan where he is studying education administration.

Dr. M. I. Johnson Tells Club About Missionary Life

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D. told members of the Hi-12 club of Plymouth about his vast experiences as a missionary in Western Canada at the club's meeting last night at the Arbor-Lill.

Dr. Johnson served as a missionary in Alberta about 30 years ago when life was a rugged existence. His first place of residence on arriving was a log shack with a sod roof. All transportation was on horseback, and with the temperature in the winter going as far down as 60 degrees below zero, he said it was rough going.

Highlight of last week's meeting was the showing of colored slides of a northern fishing trip by Don Lightfoot.

Plymouth Has New Crop-- Soy Beans

Plymouth apparently has itself a new crop—at least for this year — according to Joe Wickens of Specialty Feed Products. Wickens said that thus far they have shipped three carloads of soy beans out of this area, which has never commercially produced soy beans before. Three carloads is approximately 5,000 bushels.

The new crop is attributed by Wickens to the "week-end farmers," men who work in town and only have their weekends for farming activities. Soy beans are planted in early spring and require very little labor.

"Luck was with them all the way," Wickens said, because the late fall and lack of rain enabled them to bring in the money-crop. He added that under ordinary circumstances it would have been unlikely.

"The ground in the Plymouth area is not particularly suited to soy-bean raising," he added. The soy-bean area is ordinarily the Milan and Adrian district.

One thing speeders don't seem to realize is that when a car hits 85 it is likely to hit something else.

Mrs. Emma Froelich with her grandson, Edward Miller spent last week in Grayling where they attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Froelich's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoffman.

Mrs. Milo Corwin of Ridge road celebrated her birthday last Saturday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Ash and family of Dewey street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pursell of South Main street have just returned home after visiting their daughter, Joanne at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. They attended the Wittenberg-Denison football game on Saturday afternoon and the play "Fishermen's Delight" and visited friends in Columbus before returning to Plymouth.

Lisle H. Alexander has returned to his home on North Mill street after spending 10 days visiting American Legion Posts in the upper peninsula.

LAST OF ACTIVE CIDER PASSES IN the Plymouth area is this press on which Norman C. Miller, Ridge road, turned out its first cider 30 years ago. This 7-ton press produces an average of 100 gallons of cider an hour for markets in Plymouth, Ann Arbor and Detroit. Now pressing between 4,000 to 5,000 gallons during a season, Mr. Miller claims that 30 years ago there were at least 15 orchards in the Plymouth area which produced some cider. Mr. Miller is shown standing beside the press at right while his grandson, Jerry Miller, looks on.

Plymouth Driver Hurt in Accident

Ronald E. Huettner, 44703 Cherry Hill road, was admitted to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor Friday when the truck he was driving struck a tree and was demolished. Huettner received serious cuts and bruises and required six stitches in his lip. He was released from the hospital several days later. State police were summoned to the accident and they found Huettner under his truck. He regained consciousness at the receiving hospital. The driver was on his way home from Whitmore Lake when he lost control of the vehicle as he was approaching a curve.

NATIONALLY FAMOUS HOME APPLIANCES

THERE'S MORE THAN MEETS the eye in this picture of Dr. J. M. Robison, Plymouth dentist, and his arrow-shot deer. Hunting near Harrisonville with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lane of Livonia, Dr. Robison downed the deer with a single arrow. Leaving the apparently dead animal momentarily, Dr. Robison returned to find it gone. Luckily, he was able to track it into a swamp and, says Dr. Robison, "five arrows and many weary steps later," he bagged his prize.

Tips for Archers Given by Expert

Robin Hood, King Arthur, William Tell, archers all, were expert at a sport old before they started, one now past its 50,000th birthday.

Yes, the rapidly growing art of archery is no newcomer in sporting circles. In fact, it even helped the caveman to obtain his daily food supply, according to Glenn P. Bruneau, supervisor of the University of Michigan's Wood Technology Laboratory. The laboratory is part of the U-M School of Natural Resources, which currently is celebrating its 50th birthday.

Bruneau, an archery enthusiast, points out that ten years ago an archer in Michigan was a novelty. This year upwards of 30,000 hunters, men and women alike, will take to the north woods toting their bows and arrows in hopes of finding deer, rabbits, grouse, pheasants or bear.

In all phases of archery, Bruneau explains, "wood plays an important part, with its advantages over metal and synthetic counterparts being manifold." Wood permits ease of working and is relatively inexpensive, inherently beautiful and readily available, he says.

The woods naturally divide themselves into two categories: those for the bow and those for the arrow. Today's beginner's bow, Bruneau states, is usually one of two species—exotic Dage (Lemonwood) or Hickory. The archer with more training and skill usually picks Osage Orange or Yew to give a bow with more beauty and "life" in the limbs.

He advises archers to pick a composite or laminated bow using a variety of wood species, "each imparting its best qualities of strength and beauty." It has been found, he adds, that bows of one single species have a tendency to "take a set easily" or lack tensile or compressive strength.

Bruneau recommends combinations of Osage Orange, Yew, Maple, Hickory, Lemonwood, Greenheart, Bamboo or several tropical woods. For further compressive strength, synthetic resins sometimes are added to woods on the bows' face.

Ancient arrows were whittled out of any straight grained wood or fashioned from bamboo shoots, saplings or reeds. "At best, the majority were crudely made and inaccurate," Bruneau says.

Today's perfectly turned dowels of scientifically selected woods are a different story. Excellent arrow materials, he explains, are Sitka Spruce, Port Orford Cedar and Norway Pine. The Port Orford Cedar makes up the bulk of all wood arrow materials, he indicates, although it lacks compressive strength.

This shortcoming has been overcome somewhat by one manufacturer who produces arrows from the wood after it is densified under heat and pressure, creating an arrow of improved strength with a smaller diameter.

Here again, Bruneau concludes, it is, as with the choice of bow, strictly a matter of individual taste as to the best equipment for "bringing home the country's biggest buck."

Plan Smorgasbord

All is in readiness for the Auxiliary's annual smorgasbord dinner to be given in the Post Hall, corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley (Mill) roads, November 8, starting at 1:30 until 5 p.m. Tickets are going very fast. They will also be available at the door.

There will be a truly Swedish table, with all the food one can eat, heaped up high. The menu is wide in selection, cooked just right, and with the same wonderful Swedish meat balls that were so popular a year ago.

Work is often tiresome and boring but have you ever tried no work?

Local Cancer Unit Names Committee Chairmen

The complete list of members of the board of directors and committee chairmen has been released by the Plymouth unit of the American Cancer society. The group held a meeting last week to review the progress of the local unit.

Heading the organization is Norman Marquis, president; with Mrs. Harry Bartel, secretary; Mrs. Marie Norman, public relations; Mrs. Austin Stecker and Mrs. Gus Lundquist, cancer dressings; Mrs. Fred Korte, Jr. membership; Dr. W. W. Hammond, Jr., professional education; Dr. R. Barbour, medical chairman; George Mayhew, transportation; Miss Neva Lovewell, public education; Dr. A. E. VanOrnum, Mrs. Margaret Hough, Lamont BeGole, Mrs. Walter Nichol and Walter Goodwin, constitution and by-laws, board of directors. Mrs. E. Walton is dressing custodian.

Mrs. Gus Lundquist, reported that many organizations and churches have answered the call to help assist in the making of cancer dressings. The dressing service is one of the more important phases of community service that will be organized by the new unit. All who are interested are urged to contact Mrs. Lundquist, phone 587, after 6 p.m.

Although the local cancer unit has not solicited for funds or donations, various donations have been received. President Marquis acknowledged the donations and stated that organizational reaction to this cancer fighting unit has been gratifying. He said, "The need in this area for cancer dressing is great, and with the help of the local physicians, church organizations, servicemen organizations and auxiliaries, and sewing groups, it is positive that our community as well as nearby communities can completely meet the ever present demand for cancer dressings."

The Sunshine club was the first to send a donation. The club has been in existence for over 20 years. Mrs. Andy Johnson, president of the club, stated that they make over 200 dressings each month. Though their membership is only 25, they are very active. Mrs. Clayton Clair, vice president, Mrs. William Richie, secretary and a member for over 20 years, and Mrs. Glenn Smith, treasurer are the officers.

The group not only collects white goods, but they do much "shut in" work. Their motto, "to spread sunshine," is certainly apropos of this fine group. Anyone interested in helping the group, phone 818W.

Guests attending the Cancer unit's meeting were Mrs. Bob Adams, field coordinator of the Southeastern Michigan division of ACS, Miss Esther Kelley, and Howard Markin, who are trainees in the field relations department. The meeting adjourned with reports of the Leadership Training conference held in East Lansing. Mrs. Harry Bartel, secretary, and Mrs. William Norman, public relations, gave brief accounts of the two-day conference, which ended in a round table discussion with the entire board of directors commenting and discussing the cancer picture as it stands today.

Local Regent Attends Cass Chapter Event

Mrs. Harry Deyo, regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution attended a birthday party of the Elizabeth Cass chapter in Detroit on Monday, November 2. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Pond Wyeth and Miss Gretchen Wyeth on Boston Boulevard.

Mr. Woodford, an author who has written biographies about Lewis Cass and Judge Woodward, was the guest speaker for the occasion. He told the guests incidents and episodes about the lives of Judge Woodward and Lewis Cass.

Mrs. Deyo represented the Plymouth chapter at the party. Also present for the occasion was the state regent.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA Our Lady of Good Counsel

PLY-MAIL PHOTOS

LEADING THE LARGEST church membership in Plymouth is the Reverend Francis C. Byrne (left) who became pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel church last June. Above is the church which seats 500 persons, making it necessary to hold four Masses each Sunday. A larger and permanent edifice is to be built someday.

Our Lady of Good Counsel Started as Mission Here in 1915

While the Catholic church was founded by Jesus Christ in the year 29 A.D., its history in the New World dates back to the priests who accompanied Columbus on his second voyage. Its continuous history in the colonies began in 1634 at St. Mary's in Maryland and today it is the largest single group of Christians in the United States, with a membership of 30,253,427, and a world membership of 421,340,901.

The Catholic church professes four distinct marks: 1. It is one; 2. It is holy; 3. It is universal; 4. It is apostolic. "It is one especially in its beliefs and in its visible authority. It is holy not only because its founder, Jesus Christ, is holy, but also because of the hundreds of saints which it has produced in all ages. It is catholic, or universal, because it is established or at least generally known throughout the world. Lastly, it is apostolic because all of its doctrines are of apostolic origin and because its visible authority goes back to the time of the Apostles."

The Catholic church in Plymouth, otherwise known as Our Lady of Good Counsel parish, is relatively a newcomer, having been founded in 1915 as a mission of the church in Milford. For the next five years, Mass was celebrated here monthly by the Milford pastor, Father John Dowdle. In 1920, Father Frank C. Lefevre was appointed as first resident pastor. Soon an abandoned church had been purchased and prepared for Catholic services. Two buildings on the same site were successively occupied until after the acquisition under Father William P. Mooney of the beautiful estate, bounded by Church street, Penniman, Arthur and William avenues. It is graced by a stately old mansion that is regarded by experts as one of the best examples of early American architecture in the middle west.

Father Mooney, who served as pastor from 1942 to 1953, recognized the spiritual challenge presented by Plymouth's spectacular growth following World War II, and courageously met it by embarking on a building program that embraced the construction of the new eight-grade school with auditorium and parish hall of face brick and ledge rock stone exterior. The auditorium, with a seating capacity of 500, in which Mass was first celebrated on Palm Sunday, 1949, is being used for all church services, pending erection of a permanent church building.

The school, which opened in September 1949 under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph, provides Catholic education in all eight grades and is filled to capacity with 310 students. The school is used also for religion classes for public school children in both grade school and high school. These classes are held two afternoons a week after the regular school period and are conducted by the Sisters and 12 Seminarians from St. John's Theological Seminary.

The house on Penniman avenue serves as the rectory and a residence nearby, more recently acquired and extensively remodeled, is the convent of the Sisters.

In June of this year, Father Mooney was transferred to St. John church in Ypsilanti, and Father Francis C. Byrne was named as his successor at Plymouth. Father Byrne, who was formerly pastor at Imlay City and previously assistant pastor and administrator at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit, was born in the parish of which Plymouth was later a mission.

Our Lady of Good Counsel parish now numbers more than 2,000 souls. Currently four Masses on Sunday, at 6, 8 and 10 a.m. and 12 noon are necessary to accommodate the faithful, with three Masses on holy days and one on other weekdays.

Christian Science Church to Hold Public Lecture

The solving of individual and collective problems through the understanding and application of God's spiritual laws will be the topic of a public lecture on Christian Science to be delivered in Plymouth on November 10, by Grace Jane Noe of Chicago.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturers, Mrs. Noe will speak under auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist in the church edifice on the corner of Main and Dodge streets at 8 p.m. Her subject will be "Christian Science: Its Promise and Its Practice."

Mrs. Noe withdrew from business life in 1927 to devote herself to the practice of Christian Science healing. Prior to that time, she was head of a large food brokerage business in Chicago.

During her business career, she served as the first President of the Altruza club, an international organization of professional and executive business women.

Adventist Church Collects Offering For Temperance

"Americans are spending twice as much for alcoholic beverages as for gasoline and oil for automobiles," Pastor Merton Henry told his congregation Saturday in announcing a special temperance offering received October 31 in the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist church.

Another comparison, the pastor said, shows that Americans are spending three times as much for intoxicating beverages as for all the religious life of the nation.

"These statistics are appalling," he declared. "America should wake up and curb this menace which threatens to destroy all that is fine and good and noble."

"The most subtle trick of the liquor and beer industry is the suggestion that moderation is the answer. Every drunkard in Skid Row and elsewhere once was a moderate drinker. And most of those arrested in traffic accidents where liquor is involved are classified as moderate drinkers, alcoholism. Another part of the done any good, but they certainly have done enough evil."

The pastor said "the nation now has 4,000,000 alcoholics and more than 3,000,000 excessive drinkers. He said the alcoholic beverage industry is now spending $250,000,000 a year in "the most deceptive and glamorous advertising of liquor, wine and beer ever conceived by the mind of man."

Pastor Henry stated part of Saturday's offering will be used to help finance sociological and scientific research in problems of alcoholism. Another part of the offering will go toward educating youth on the dangers of alcohol.

Seventh-day Adventists are total abstainers from all alcoholic beverages.

Dorcas Society Achieves Much In Welfare Work

Nearly 2,000 years ago it was reported that Dorcas was "full of good works" among which was the making and distribution of clothing to the poor and needy.

Throughout the United States of America there are thousands of Dorcas Welfare Centers maintained and operated by the members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination for the sole purpose of carrying out Christ's admonition. "If thou see thy brother hungry—feed him, or in need of clothes—clothe him."

In the larger cities there is opportunity for several such centers in each city where hundreds of needy families are taken care of daily and supplied with food and clothing. Even places to live are provided. But smaller communities such as Plymouth are still not behind in this good work, for the members of the Dorcas society and the Seventh-day Adventist church of this city have clothed families whose homes have burned; recently the sufferers from tornados at Port Huron and Flint were supplied with bedding, etc.; many shipments of warm clothing went to the needy in Korea; 615 hours have been spent in Christian help work which covers visiting the sick and shut-ins and doing everything to make them comfortable and happy; reading to those with impaired sight; supplying transportation for the sick or others to get to hospitals or necessary appointments, and many other acts of kindness too numerous to mention here.

The Dorcas society of Plymouth hopes soon to establish a permanent Welfare center in the city.

Tither to Speak To Local Church

Walter O. Joachim, of Grosse Pointe Woods, prominent real estate man, will speak at both the 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock services in the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, next Sunday, November 8.

Mr. Joachim is a tither, and he will give his philosophy of giving. He is an Elder in the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church. The pastor, the Reverend Woodrow Wooley, will cut his sermon in half and Mr. Joachim will speak 10 minutes. The church is at Hubbard and West Chicago Boulevard.

Thomas A. Edison believed hit songs had such short periods of popularity because of fatigue of inner mechanisms of the human ear.

Planning to make money and getting into your bank account are two very different undertakings.

The true story of the creation of man is given in the Lesson-Sermon under the title "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 8.

The Golden Text is from Romans (5:18): "As by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Rom. 9:8): "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The parent of all human discord was the Adam dream, the deep sleep, in which originated the delusion that life and intelligence proceeded from and passed into matter." (p. 306)

WEST SALEM COUNTRY CHURCH, 7150 Angle Road, Salem Township. Patrick J. Clifford, Pastor. Mr. Richards, Superintendent. Bible School—1:30 p.m. Preaching Service—2:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend the old-fashioned country church where friendly people worship.

Variety of Scholarships Offered to Seniors

By Dorrane Wilton

To seniors who will be entering college next fall, many scholarships are available.

The Ford Motor company will award approximately 70 scholarships, covering four years, to sons and daughters of Ford employees who are in the upper third of their class. Winners may select any approved college or university in the United States. The award covers tuition and academic fees, room and board up to $700.00.

More than 300 young men in the United States will win scholarships to Harvard university next fall. These awards will be made on the basis of the applicant's record in school, scores in the College Board examination, recommendation of the principal and teachers, personality, character, and financial need.

Charemont Men's college in Claremont, California offers scholarships emphasizing accounting, business administration, economics, government and pre-legal, international affairs and history, and literature as careers.

Ten four-year George Westinghouse scholarships valued at $3170.00 each will be given to outstanding men to the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Any boy interested in this type of career who is in the upper quarter of his class is eligible to apply.

Offered to interested students by the New England Textile foundation are 10 $2000.00 four-year scholarships. Winners may attend any one of four institutes in New England. This is an excellent opportunity for young men and women interested in becoming textile executives.

Available to girls are 10 scholarships of $2000.00 each ($500.00 each year, at Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio. These awards will be made on the basis of academic records, character, purpose, health, and interest in Western college ideals.

Pennsylvania College for Women also offers a number of awards to girls with high academic records who contribute to the community and can use financial aid.

To students interested in science and engineering, Illinois Institute of Technology and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute offer scholarships.

In addition, to scholarships mentioned many others are also available. For related information students may contact Miss Ruth Butts, high school counselor.

Local Students Attend Meeting At University

The 25th annual Principal-Freshman and Junior College Conference was held yesterday and today at the University of Michigan.

Sponsored by the U-M registrar's office the theme of the meeting was how high schools, junior colleges, and the university can work together for the best preparation and orientation of college students.

Some 350 representatives from 176 high schools and nine junior colleges which have students new to the university this year attended. The deans, counselors and principals interviewed each of their former students to hear them evaluate their preparation for the university.

Informal round table discussions and question and answer periods were held by the high school representatives and members of the university staff to further the understanding and cooperation between the two levels of education.

Representatives of Plymouth high school were: Jon H. Brake; Annette J. Brandt; Terry E. Carney; Ann J. Hammond; Richard A. Huebler; Chester J. Kendzior; Jacqueline Langmaid; Peter A. Leemon; Marian H. Miller; Joyce R. Nagel; Richard H. Nagel; Helena H. Plummer; Ruth A. Richwine; Sara L. Truesdell; Susan J. Wesley and Elmer H. Whipple.

Home Economics Group Attends State Meeting

Future Homemakers of America members of Plymouth high school attended the state meeting of their organization in Mt. Clemens on October 31 leaving the high school at 7:30 a.m. by bus. The main purpose of the gathering was to elect the regional officers. Each of the schools represented then presented a skit pertaining to home economics. Mrs. Jean Ross, the club's adviser, accompanied the girls on the trip.

Plans to boost the treasury of the Plymouth branch of the F. H. A. have been made by its members. The group plans to sell pencils with the school basketball schedule printed on them for a nickel each. The sale will begin as soon as the pencils arrive.

Viviens To Hear Book Talk by Neva Lovewell

Miss Neva Lovewell, local high school teacher, will review Joseph Raleigh Nelson's book "Lady Unafraid" before the regular meeting of the Viviens. The group will meet on Thursday, November 5, at 8 p.m. in the Elks temple.

Chairman, Mrs. Cy Owens, has announced that the Viviens will hold a card party for the women and their husbands on Thursday, November 12 at 8:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

High School to Observe American Education Week

By John Small

"Good Schools are Your Responsibility" is this year's chosen theme for the annual openhouse program which will be held Tuesday evening during American Education Week, November 9 to 13. These programs are to promote better and more friendly relations between parents and teachers of the students.

This year's program, held in the large gymnasium of the high school, will consist of many varied activities. The music department will feature some of the choral groups which will entertain along with the school's band.

The planning group is attempting to secure a speaker for the occasion, also a panel of persons will discuss different problems facing the schools in the Plymouth area. One of the main topics of discussion will be "Your responsibilities for our good schools." Following this teachers, students and parents will gather for a short social meeting while refreshments are being served.

During one day of the Education Week students of the high school will take charge of the faculty duties.

Mayor Tyler Caplin, vice-mayor Chuck McKenna, secretary Elaine Rich and treasurer Jerry Kelly will fulfill the duties of the school administration. Other students will take over various other jobs.

In each class room one student will be elected to fulfill the duties of the teacher. This plan will be used in all classes with a possible exception of the health education periods.

American Education Week 1953, will set a goal for better relationships and understandings between parents, teachers and students in achieving better citizenship opportunities for the future generation.

Plymouth Student Leads Discussion For Conference

Laura Hatch, Plymouth high school student, was among the 1,200 high school students who attended the ninth annual Citizenship Conference at the University of Michigan last week. Miss Hatch was one of the discussion group chairmen.

Following a 10 a.m. general assembly in the Rackham Lecture hall, at which Jack Elzay, Ann Arbor superintendent of schools, was the speaker, a panel discussion will be held on "Promising Practices for Improving the Student Council."

Then various discussion groups were formed to consider various ways of improving high school student councils. These groups continued, following lunch at the Michigan League, until the 3 p.m. general assembly was held in the Rackham Lecture hall for a panel on "Conference Highlights."

Bentley Eleven Downs Plymouth Frosh 12 - 6

The Plymouth high school frosh closed out its season last week by absorbing a 12 to 6 defeat at the hands of neighboring Bentley high frosh. The loss left them with a season record of two wins and three losses—the wins being from Trenton and Redford Union, and the losses from Bentley, Northville and Allen Park.

The young Rocks scored first when Kenny Calhoun blocked a Bulldog punt on the Bentley 5-yard line, and Bob Grady grabbed it and made the touchdown. Late in the second quarter Bentley tied the score on a long 50 yard pass play.

Play see-sawed until midway through the final quarter when a Bulldog back ran 60-yards for the winning marker.

Aside from those two long scoring plays, Coach John McFall's charges played their opponents on even terms throughout the contest.

Tough Southfield Eleven Awaits Plymouth Team In Season Finale Friday

The Plymouth Rocks, who have made a remarkable comeback after losing the first two grid contests this year, will wind up the season tomorrow afternoon when they journey to Southfield for a contest which begins at 3:30 in the daytime. The reason for the afternoon tilt is that Southfield does not have a lighted field.

This game is expected to prove more of a contest than the last few as Southfield has had unusually good success this year. They have beaten some good teams, tied Farmington, and rolled over Belleville 53 to 12 last Friday—a much larger score than the Rocks were able to run up against the same foe.

Southfield is a twelve-grade school for the first time this year and these players have been playing together for the past three years, and as a result there is much team play and spirit in evidence at each contest.

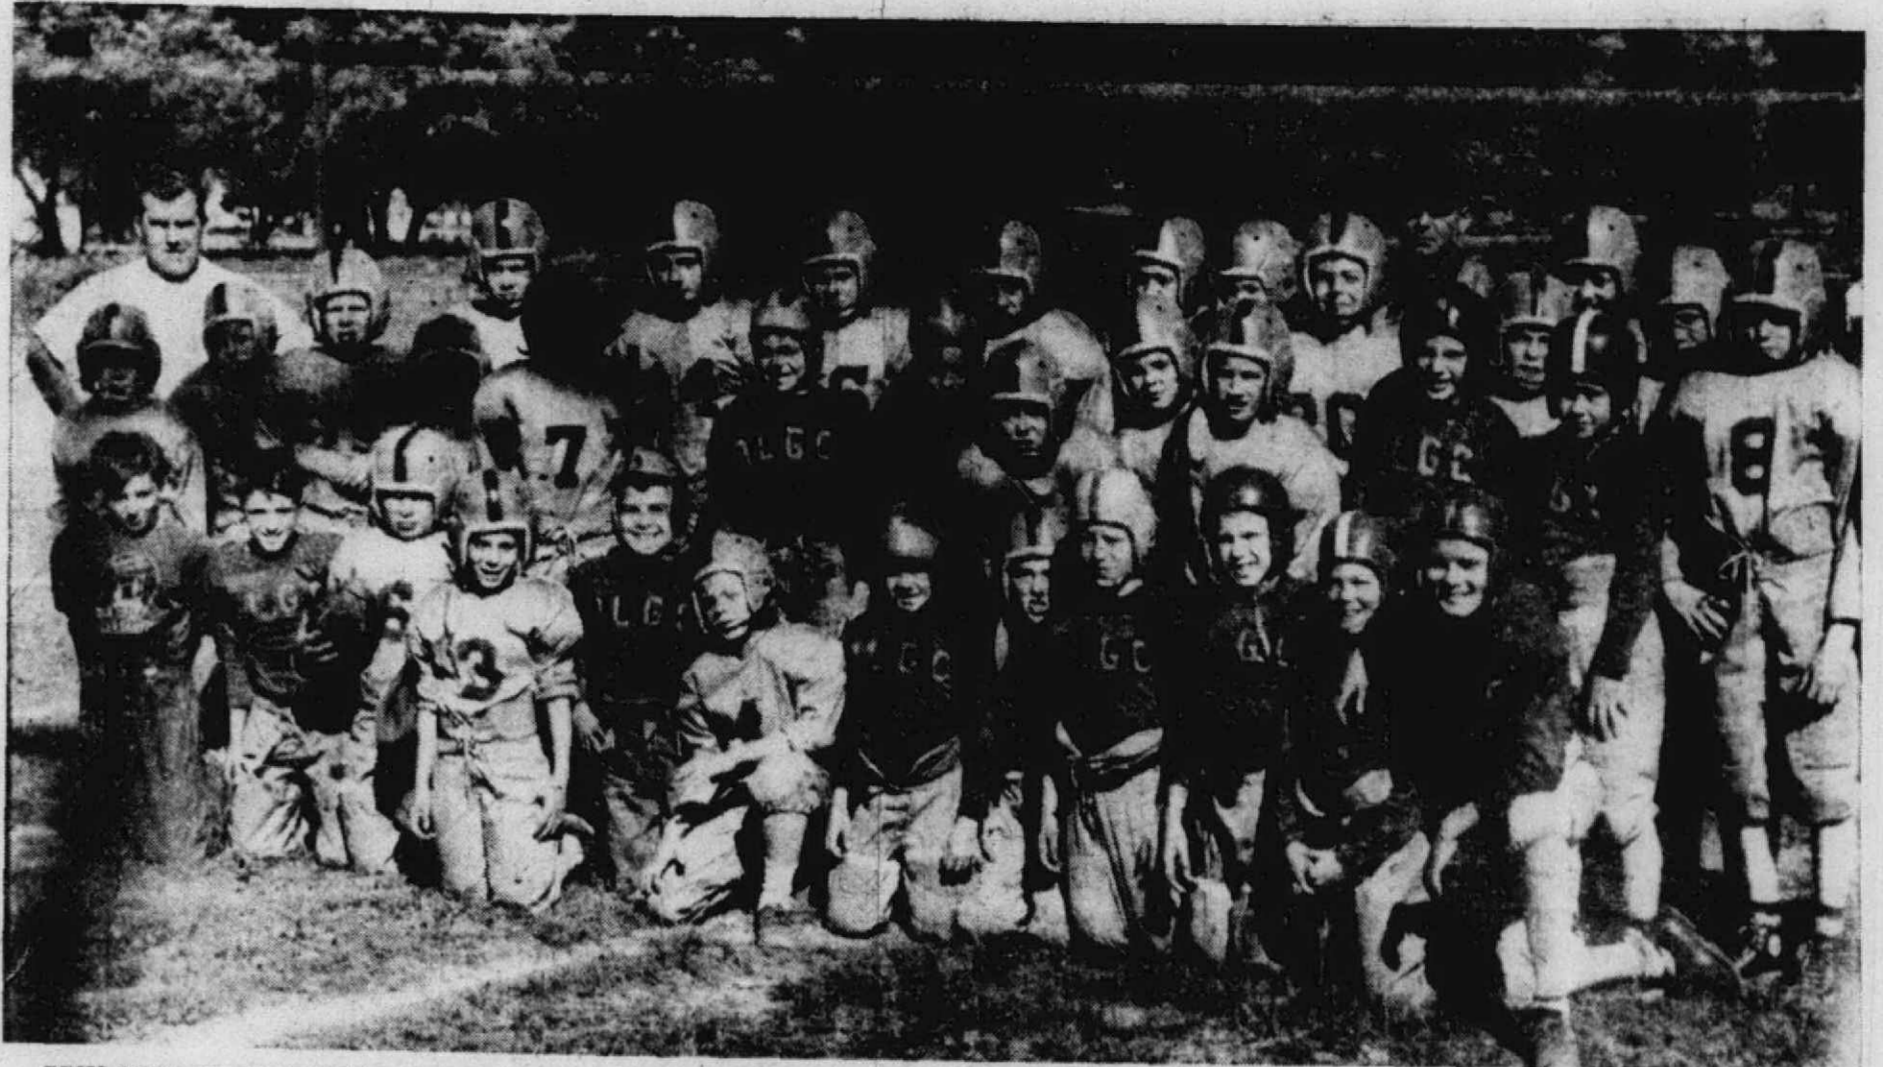

The Rocks started slowly with an inexperienced outfit, but have come along nicely with each game until at present they have a formidable working team. This contest should prove a very interesting, close one, and it will close out the season for the local gridders.

Lions Home for Colt Tilt

Bounced from their perch atop the Western Division of the National Football League, the Detroit Lions face the Baltimore Colts in Briggs Stadium, Saturday night, November 7, in a game the defending champions must win to stay in the running for conference honors.

Kickoff is 8:00 p.m.

Most people like to hear about a good buy; that's what advertising is for.

SMILING, IN SPITE OF ONE DEFEAT, are members of the Our Lady of Good Counsel football squad, which had been victorious until October 25, when the team encountered the Cherry Hill school and was defeated by a score of 43 to 0. Sunday the squad walked away with its fourth win. They were victorious over St. Michaels of Livonia with a score of 19 to 13. Michael Spitz and William Lenhehan, Sr., coach the youthful lads. Members of the team are: Dave Conrad, Jim Conrad, Bryan Gilles, Eddie Soleau, Mike Budnick, Mike Kisabeth, Larry Horvath, Jimmy Bennett, Dave Elliott, Ronald Soleau, Mike Todd, Dale Gulbrandsen, Larry Sexton and Dick Bennett. The roster continues with Dave Vanlerbergh, Eddie LaRoche, Larry Adams, Harry MacConnell, John Nolan, Dave Leherbergh, Art Lenhehan, Billy Lenhehan, Ronald Bondie, Bob Degenhardt, William Van Ata, Dennis Papo, Peter Lomonoco, Paul MacConnell, Bruce Horvath, Danny Stremick, Jack Hathaway and Keith Beaver. The list concludes with James Lockwood, James Gavigan, Ronald Anderson, Bill Signorelli, Robert Campbell, Tom Hinkley, Denny LaGraw, Jerry Baker, Kenney Moore, Roger Wilhemy (water boy) and Jack Gilles, Jr., (referee). Not all members were present for the picture.

Rocks Humble Garden City 34 - 0 To Gain Fourth Straight Grid Win

The Plymouth Rock gridders exploded for three touchdowns during the last seven minutes of the first half to continue their winning streak which has reached four games.

The locals disposed of Garden City 34 to 0 in rather easy fashion to end its home season Friday night.

After a slow start the Rocks began clicking after 10 minutes of play had elapsed and with Denny Luker, Lee Juve and Captain Jerry Kelly lugging the leather advanced down the field for the score. A pass from Dick Day to Jack Carter also clicked, and Kelly ran for 13 and 6 yards to score the first marker in the first period. Dick Davidson's try for the extra point was blocked to make the score at the end of the first period 6 to 0 in favor of Plymouth.

With five minutes gone of the second quarter, Garden City elected to run with the ball on fourth down and six yards to go, but was stopped on its own 24-yard line. Juve plunged for 2, Luker for 4, Kelly for 2. Two Garden City penalties put the ball on the 14 yard line from where Luker ran off tackle for a touchdown. Davidson kicked the extra point making the score 13 to 0.

Shortly after this Garden City was forced to punt and the kicker got off a poor boot to his own 49-yard line from which point Plymouth proceeded to roll to another score with Kelly going the last 9 yards around end. Davidson's successful kick ran the score up to 20 to 0. Plymouth kicked off to Garden City and Gotthard immediately intercepted a pass on the Garden City 39-yard line. Pelchat gained 10 and then Juve ambled 29 yards for the score. Davidson kicked the extra point just before the half ended to give Plymouth a 27 to 0 advantage at halftime.

Garden City came out strong after the intermission and ran the kickoff back to the Plymouth one foot line where a stout defense held for downs and Kelly intercepted a pass to end the threat. A 32-yard run highlighted this advance to the Rock goal line. Plymouth took over on its own twenty and with the reserves in the lineup went the length of the field for the last touchdown of the game. Juve, Pelchat, Mills, Davidson, McKenna and Day alternated in carrying the ball down the field with the score coming when Luker passed 18 yards to Petro in the end zone. Davidson connected on his fourth straight extra point effort to make the score 34 to 0. The reserves continued to play good ball the rest of the way but could not score again.

A well-balanced backfield featured the offense while the defense headed by Gotthard and Signorelli bottled up the opponents for the most part.

Plymouth gained 17 first downs to 7 for Garden City. The Rocks had 14 on rushing and 3 on passes. They gained 271 yards on the ground and 38 by passes for a total of 309. Garden City had 107 running and 36 passing for a

Rocks Qualify Two Harriers For State Meet

The Plymouth high school cross-country team came in 8th at the state regional meet held at Birmingham last Saturday morning. Seventeen teams competed for the right to advance to the state finals to be run on the Washtenaw Country club course in Ypsilanti next Saturday morning.

The first six teams finishing were eligible for the later meet, and the first fifteen runners also are eligible regardless of where their team finished. Even though the team failed to qualify, two members of the local harriers squad qualified. Terry Danol came in sixth and Tom Davis copped the last qualifying spot as he came in 15th.

Pontiac was first in this Class A meet with a total score of 78 points, followed by Birmingham with 108 and Dearborn with 115. Plymouth had 174 total points. A lad from Hazel Park won individual honors with a time of 10:14. Bob Middleton came in 44th, Pieter Schipper 50th and Lynn Becker 59th to round out the Plymouth score.

Plymouth beat out such Class A schools as Lincoln Park, Monroe, Highland Park, Hamtramck, Wyandotte, Port Huron and Detroit Catholic Central.

In Class B Trenton won the honors followed by Walled Lake, Milford, Belleville and Bentley—all these teams qualified for the state finals. A Milford lad won individual honors with a time of 10:21—Burger of Trenton was second and Middlewood of Bentley third.

Vettese Wins Praise For Wayne Play

Jerry Guy Vettese is one "guy" that Wayne coach Lou Zarza expects big things from in the future. A five-foot-ten-inch, 225 pound frosh guard, Vettese has won nothing but high praise from Tartar fans, especially since his yeoman performance in the Tartars 32-0 rout of Bradley University's Braves in the annual Tartar Homecoming game in Detroit.

A graduate of Plymouth High school where he won four letters (two in track), Vettese is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Vettese of 4234 Gottfredson road in Plymouth.

Lee Juve made 80 yards on 13 tries, Luker 58 on 8 carries, Kelly 45 on 9 carries and Davidson 49 on 10 tries to carry the burden for Plymouth. Captain Kelly scored 12 points, Petro, Juve and Luker 6 each with Davidson earning 4 on extra points.

Tomorrow Plymouth plays at Southfield in a game beginning at 3:30 in the afternoon.

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

UPSETS TAKING FORECASTERS TO THE HILLS

Football forecasters are "taking to the hills" in record-breaking numbers. The 1953 grid campaign likely will go into the books as the "Year of the Great Upsets," says The Sporting News.

A veteran midwest coach, who is one of the game's finest students of gridiron trends and developments, puts it this way.

"The basic reason for the frequent upsets," he claims, "is the return of one-platoon play with the limited substitution role. The change in the rule has reduced sharply the 'spread' in the playing potential of the major collegiate teams. No longer is extreme depth and a bench load of specialists a vital factor. Football now is back to a point where a squad of about 22 gridders carries the bulk of the playing load."

The result, points out The Sporting News has been a leveling off in the strength of the major teams, and no longer is it possible for a team to hammer its way through on sheer manpower.

Many schools can come up with 22 good football players. However, there were only a handful that were able to muster 44 top-notchers under the demands of two-platoon play. Consequently, this season the balance of strength is much greater than it has been for many seasons.

PIERSALL MAKES THIRD BASE COACHING EASY

Jimmy Piersall of the Red Sox has made third base coaching a soft touch, claims the hot corner signal waver of the Athletics, Tom Oliver.

The Sporting News quotes Tom as saying: "When you're playing the Red Sox, there's one thing that's automatic when you're coaching at third base. You just put up a red light for your base runners. You don't run on Piersall unless you want to catch an early train."

REFEREE LOOKS FOR RING AS WRESTLING CONTINUES

Sam Muchnick, promoter and president of the National Wrestling Alliance, recalls in The Sporting News an amusing incident that occurred in Memphis a few years ago when Charley Rentrop, well-known mid-western referee, was serving as the third man in the ring. At the height of the match, Rentrop waved his left arm wildly and his $5,000 diamond ring slipped from his finger and flew out into the audience, landing in the tray of a soda vendor. Rentrop leaped through the ropes, dashed into the aisle and grabbed the soda boy, shouting: "The ring! The ring!"

The startled vendor, who hadn't seen the sparkler land in his tray, thought Rentrop had blown a gasket and began to retreat, pointing to the wrestling ring as he shouted: "Up there, Mister. There's the ring—up where those wrestlers are strangling each other."

According to The Sporting News story, Rentrop clung to the fellow who, by this time was yelling for the cops. Eventually, still shouting: "The ring, the ring!" Rentrop was quieted when a bystander, who had seen the whole incident, retrieved the diamond ring and handed it to Charley, who rushed back into the wrestling

ONE TRY . . . AND ONE WIN! That is the record of last week's winner in The Plymouth Mail football contest. Herbert Woolweaver is shown above, right, receiving the $10.00 check for first prize from Howard Mackie, of Mackie Mercury, Inc., Plymouth, one of the eight co-sponsors of the contest, and was also the first time he had ever won a prize in a contest of this nature. He is Director of the Department of Recreation and Adult Education and is well known around Plymouth. He resides with his wife and four children at 11015 Auburndale, in Livonia.

Woolweaver Wins Grid Contest on First Try

Plymouth Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver turned up as the "Pick-the-Winners" best prognosticator last weekend to win the $10 first prize. Woolweaver missed only the Army-Tulane tie to gain top honors.

"I've been watching the contest each week, but this was the first time I entered," said Wool-weaver. It took a close call of the Rams-Lions game by the recreational director to edge-out runner-up Herbert Swanson of 875 Wing. Swanson has been a regular contestant but it was the first time the Livonia tank plant employee finished among the money winners.

Third place honors were divided between Mrs. Verne Steele of 13055 Dunn Court and Walter Yount of 32103 Plymouth road.

Another "Pick-the-Winners" contest appears on this page today, so sharpen your pencils and get your entry to The Mail office by 5 p.m. Friday.

Sport Glances . . .

Old King Football is about ready to bow out for the season for the high school lads. Basketball will start in earnest next week, and a few boys have been out the past few weeks sharpening their basket-shooting eyes for the coming cage season. Coach John Sandmann has a number of last year's team back again this year, and should have another better than average outfit. A lack of height may hinder his success somewhat, but fight and spirit can overcome height to a certain degree in high school basketball. It seems that Plymouth just doesn't grow tall boys, who are also adept as basketball players. I can recall very few real tall boys in the local high school who have made a mark in basketball, and no one who has been over six three. A coach's dream is to have a tall outfit with lots of ability and speed, one that can count lots of points on tip-ins, control the backboards, etc., but such an outfit comes along only once in a great while. Most schools have one or two real tall lads though, but not Plymouth—I'm still dreaming of the day when we really have a couple six foot six players who are whizzes.

I think that Michigan State defeated by Purdue may have been the best thing for them. They came into the Big Ten with a powerful team, and that was one reason that the athletic directors may have feared when they tried to keep them out—remember the presidents had to step in and push the thing to get State into the Big Ten. Now that they have been beaten, the opposition may have tempered down just a trifle. It seems as though people get to hate a consistent winner—take the Yankees in baseball—many were pulling for the Dodgers (including myself) just because the Yankees have been on top so long. State will have a few years of hard going to gain a respectful place in the Big Ten, but time heals all wounds and in a few years this will all be forgotten.

Each football season brings a few oddities—for instance, the team that had been penalized two successive times for offside; the referee paced off the five yards twice, and the other team demanded a measurement for the first down—you guessed it, it was short a foot. Last week two touchdowns were scored in the last two seconds of a schoolboy game—one team scored with two seconds to play, and then kicked off to the other team only to see the receiver take it the length of the field for a touchdown.

Last Sunday the Chicago Cardinals were playing the New York Giants with the score tied with 20 seconds to go. The Cardinals kicked a field goal and seemingly had the game won, but they kicked off to the Giants, and with one play to go the Giants got off a long pass for a touchdown and a win 23 to 20. Funny things do happen.

The hockey season is in full swing, but has been taking sort of a back seat to football so far. The Detroit Red Wings are currently in second place—a place that I predict they will end up in during the regular season. Montreal is loaded this year, and should win the title plus the playoffs. One bright light in the Wings play so far has been the play of the rookie Reibel, who is leading the league in scoring points. He is fitting in nicely between Howe and Lindsey to form one of the greatest front lines in hockey.

The Detroit Lions again fell before the Los Angeles Rams in the professional football race and as a result lost possession of first place to the west coast eleven. The Rams have been the only team to defeat the Lions this year, and they did it twice. The loss Sunday can be attributed to the offensive team as the defensive unit did yeoman work, particularly in the first half. The offensive line couldn't stop the Rams line from charging thru to another Layne on his attempted passes, and time after time he had to smother the ball. Then at times he was rushed and as a result many of his passes were intercepted at crucial points. Both teams were intercepting passes, and at one stage of the game three were intercepted in a row. A record crowd of over 93,000 fans witnessed this game—a record for a professional game in America. The pro game has come into its own the last few years.

The Rams should go on to the title in easy style now unless they are upset by some inferior opponent—they still have to play the 49'ers, a team that previously beat them.

Mrs. Rockell Smith prepares to change biscuits into doughnuts.

Easy-to-Make Doughnuts

The simplest recipe is often the most tasty. That is what you are likely to discover if you try the easy little trick used by Mrs. Rockwell Smith to make doughnuts. Quick preparation is essential to Mrs. Smith as she often works late in her beauty shop at 363 North Main street.

These short cuts used by Mrs. Smith make her home-making a little easier. She said she enjoys cooking for her husband and her two children, so it's almost necessary for her to find all the fast methods.

For one thing, she said, she freezes a large quantity of her baked goods—cakes, pies, cup cakes, and so on. She does this by picking one day on which to get all of her baking out of the way, and then saves it, frozen, until it is needed.

As for her quick doughnuts—she came upon that method accidentally. She was preparing the fat in her automatic deep fryer to fry some fish, and she had a package of ready-to-heat biscuits waiting to be placed in the oven. Just as an experiment she dropped one into the deep fat and fried it like a doughnut. And to her surprise the biscuit came out puffed up and golden brown—and it tasted just like a doughnut. Since then Mrs. Smith has served them often to her family.

She advises that anyone trying the biscuit-doughnuts, should first allow the biscuits to rise for a few minutes before dropping them into the fat. She added that she often twists the dough before dropping it in the fat. When the doughnuts are brown she places them on a paper towel to drain. She then coats them with confectioners sugar, or inserts jelly into them by opening one end.

An easier doughnut recipe cannot be found, and they are inexpensive too. Why not try them?

Bentley Parent Teacher Group Holds Card Party

The annual card party given by the George N. Bentley Parent Teachers Association each year was given on Tuesday evening, November 3 at 8 p.m. in the Bentley High school cafeteria. Refreshments were served later in the evening by the seventh grade room teachers, with Mrs. F. Westfall as chairman. Other teachers who ably assisted her were Mrs. S. Durham, Mrs. K. Mutzelburg, Mrs. W. Wessman, Mrs. S. Hayes, Mrs. R. Coates, Mrs. G. Eadie, Mrs. E. Kreski and Mrs. N. Greig.

Proceeds realized from the party will go into the scholarship fund to help some deserving students to go to college.

Methodist Women Give Annual Bazaar-Fair

Members of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service will again hold their annual bazaar and fair on Thursday, December 3 at the church.

The ladies are featuring a "One Dollar Fair", whereby no single article can be sold for more than one dollar.

Among other items at the fair will be a snack bar and games. Dinner will be served by the various members of the organization and a "Tasting Tea" will be offered to the fair-goers at 2:30. Cup readings will also fascinate the visitors.

When ironing Dynel, use low iron setting (rayon) and always use a dry press cloth. Dry the fabrics before ironing. A steam iron should never be used.

WHY IS CANCER OF THE BREAST INCREASING?

A doctor was standing in the hall of the hospital when he saw one of his former patients being wheeled from the operating room. He immediately interviewed the surgeon and was told that it was an advanced case of cancer, which necessitated the removal of the breast and large portions of the contiguous tissues.

"Too bad," said the surgeon. "Neither surgery, radium, nor X-ray can save her now; it's too late. If I could have gotten her a year ago, she could have been cured."

"Let me see!" said the interrogating doctor. It has been about that long since she left my office determined not to take my advice about the lump in her breast. I told her that it would be a simple operation to take it out. If it proved cancerous after being examined, we would take the breast off and cure her. She set her judgment above mine and refused.

"Maybe you didn't insist enough," said the surgeon. "I said all that I could, and maybe I am somewhat to blame, but it is too late now for regrets. I'll try to scare the next one out of her wits, then maybe I'll have more success."

Many a conscientious doctor, after giving similar advice has seen the patient walk out of his office and go to a quack around the corner.

Breast cancers are increasing and no one knows why. Women have been warned repeatedly to seek medical advice as soon as they discover a lump or a sore about the body, particularly if the breast is involved. Strange to say, the majority of them conceal their condition hoping that it will pass off. As a rule, it doesn't. Not every lump in the breast is serious; most of them are enlarged milk glands which will probably never give any trouble at all. But suppose they are not?

A potential cancer or a cancer in the early stages appears quite as harmless. By saying nothing about it to your doctor, you are running a risk of a slow, lingering death.

Don't let fear cause you to procrastinate until it is too late. Remember that a cancer is curable in the early stages. It can be completely removed before it reached out its tentacles and invades, like an octopus, other parts of the body.

In trying to account for the increase in cancer, some writers explain that more people live to reach the cancer age. There is little to this for more young people now have cancer than formerly. However, the laity are better informed on the subject than they once were, and more of them are going to their physicians for an early diagnosis. This helps to swell the cancer statistics. Still, in spite of the efforts of science to combat it, the disease is increasing.

The problem of cancer is being studied throughout the world, but the mystery has never been solved. We do know that it can be removed and cured in the early stages by surgery, X-ray, or radium.

Let no one suffer in silence from fear, telling himself or herself that it is no use to go to a doctor when a suspicious sore appears.

Women must not conceal from the family physician lumps in the breast. It may make the difference between life and death.

Bentley School Holds Successful Fashion Show

Thursday evening, October 22, was the date for the fashion show which was held at the Bentley High school in Livonia and was sponsored by the Livonia Parent Teacher association. The show was well attended and the girls modeling did an excellent job. The clothes that were modeled were supplied by the J. L. Hudson Company. Mrs. Kennedy, who taught the girls the necessary elements for modeling, was very ably assisted by Bentley's own Hudson model, Carolyn Shefferly.

During the various intermissions, the audience was entertained by Starr Peterson and Bob Rue, who sang several selections. Bob Rue, Ben Foor, Henry Laughlin, Jim Zurich, Jim Buckhave and Les Painter pantomimed the record "Dragnet."

Throughout the whole program the background music was played by Sue Bowen and Marie Bolyard played for the solos.

Beyer Holds Annual Contest

Beyer Rexall Drugs annual Boys' and Girls' contest began yesterday and according to owner Robert Beyer, over $500 worth of valuable prizes is being offered to participating children.

Grand prizes are bicycles to both the winning boy and girl contestant. Other prizes include: a walking doll, table radio, racing car, camera, freight train, sewing machine, table tennis set, basket ball and many others.

Any child 16 years of age or under is eligible to enter the contest, said Beyer, and may obtain rules at either of the two Beyer stores. The contest ends Wednesday, December 23.

Theta Lambda Sigma Entertains Members

Members of the Plymouth, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor chapter of the Theta Lambda Sigma sorority were entertained at a social coffee hour by the active college chapter at McKenny Hall in Ypsilanti on Monday evening, October 26.

After refreshments were served, a short business meeting was held by the Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Plymouth chapter and articles for the Needlework Guild were given to Mrs. Clyde Budd, president of the chapter. The next meeting is scheduled for November 18.

Herbs Give Beef Extra Flavor

Herbs, spices and seasonings all lend a magic touch in giving flavor charm to good old-fashioned braised beef dishes. Because braising means long slow cooking, the flavor of the seasonings has plenty of time to mingle with the beef. Meats with shorter cooking time do not have quite this same opportunity.

Certain seasonings are best with beef such as summer savory, thyme, parsley, celery leaves or marjoram.

A good rule is to underseason rather than add too many herbs. Practice soon reveals the quantity your family likes. It's best to use a combination of two or three, but usually not more than this.

Warm Fresh Bread Will Make Your Family's Mouthes Water

Home-Made Bread and Coffee — A Team to Remember

If you have never made your own bread, you're missing a real culinary experience. Try your hand at this easy recipe, Casserole Poppy-Seed Bread. Eaten warm and fresh from the oven with butter, preserves and lots of piping hot coffee, it's something to remember—and repeat!

Do you sometimes find yourself yearning for a slice of honest-to-goodness warm new bread, glistening with butter, washed down with a cup of fresh hot coffee? If so, here's the perfect recipe for you—casserole poppy seed bread, a fine textured easy-to-bake loaf with a tasty crust.

If you have never made bread before, you will find this an easy recipe to learn on. There have

Moving's Easier This Way

To avoid the usual confusion, work and worry connected with moving day, take advantage of the new methods for simplifying your task. Actually, if you systematize, you can save yourself money, time and half the usual work.

The first step is to get in a supply of patched tags of various colors for identifying your packing. A "patched" tag is strengthened around the hole so the string won't tear through. You will also need corrugated board, heavy brown wrapping paper, old newspapers, tissue paper, masking tape, cord. Lay in your own supply of cartons and barrels if your moving firm does not supply them.

Long before moving day, closets should be weeded out. Send out soiled rugs, blankets, curtains and clothing to cleaners and have them delivered to the new home. Start your packing a week before the move, and do a small portion each day. Mark every piece of furniture with a patched tag of identifying color, keeping all the pieces of each room in the same color. If blue, for instance, is selected for the living-room, attach a blue tag in an easily-seen spot to each sofa, chest, table, packing carton, etc. If you have six rooms, you'll need tags in six colors. When the movers arrive at the new location, they can avoid excess handling of the pieces, and simply place pieces with the same color tags together in the room they're destined for. Moving companies charge for their time. Less handling of pieces means a saving for you in dollars and cents. It's easier to unpack, too, if all your belongings are together in the right room. Count the pieces tagged alike for each room, so you can check up the various colors on arrival to be sure everything is in place.

casserole. One hour after putting it in the oven you have a close-textured, spicy round loaf, an old-fashioned home-baked shape with that old-fashioned home-baked flavor.

If there are any menfolk within reach, they will gravitate magically to the kitchen once that unmistakable new bread smell starts wafting their way. That is why new bread rarely has a chance to grow staled. As soon as it is out of the oven you are apt to find yourself inveigled into brewing a pot of fresh coffee, bringing out the butter and preserves, and pitching in along with everybody else.

As a matter of fact, we can not think of a better excuse for a coffee-break than the immediate sampling of your very first home-baked loaf.

Casserole Poppy Seed Bread
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1½ tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)

2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
4½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 egg yolk
1 tablespoon poppy seed

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot water for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add flour; stir until well blended, about 2 minutes. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until tripled in bulk, about 40 minutes. Stir down. Beat vigorously, about ½ minute. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Brush top with egg yolk diluted with a little water; sprinkle with poppy seed. Bake in moderate oven, 375° F., about 1 hour.

Beef is one of the richest sources of the B vitamins, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin, all of which are necessary for growth and health, for normal functioning of the body organs, and for other valuable uses in the body. Beef liver also ranks high in Vitamin A.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Want to Fish for It?

Not too many generations ago, the minute amount of iodine needed by the body was hard to obtain. Man had to fish the deep seas and oceans to get his iodine, but now with the advent of iodized table salt, he just tips the salt shaker.

The relationship between eating products of the sea—such as seaweed and seafoods—and good health was known to our medieval ancestors. The why of it was not explained until the discovery of iodine, and seafoods as a source. This was more than a hundred years ago.

Iodine should be supplied by our food. The type of soil producing that food is important. Soils in many areas of the world, including the great plains and the northwest regions of this country are iodine poor, because, long ago, it was washed out of the land into the sea. As a result, plant and animal foods from these areas are low in this element.

All animal life, including man, requires a minute amount of iodine for health. This is stored in the thyroid gland which manufactures a hormone, composed largely of iodine, which regulates activity of the body cells. In those areas where iodine is lacking, the thyroid gland in man and also in animals increases in size to form a goiter.

To assure an adequate supply of this mineral for persons living in iodine-poor regions, iodized salt was developed. Since the early 1930's, salt manufacturers have voluntarily added iodine to table salt at levels recommended by the United States Public Health Service and the American Medical Association.

Salt to which iodine has been added—like bread and other cereal products enriched with thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron—has contributed materially to public health. Studies in Michigan, where soils are very low in iodine, have shown that use of iodized salt resulted in a 75 to 90 percent decrease in goiter within a ten-year period.

Despite the evidence of the value of iodized salt, only 50 percent of our table salt is iodized today. It is considered by many that the general use of iodized salt would practically eliminate goiter.

Set A Beautiful Table

There's new emphasis on luxury and elegance in home decorating this season.

This trend expresses itself in an abundance of subtle fabric colors, in the revival of Greek and Romanesque details of furniture carving, and in inlaid and other decoration. Elegance appears in the use of 18th-Century English and French styles in rosewood, fruitwood and their contemporary adaptations. Antique and modern Chinese and Japanese decorative pieces add a luxurious Oriental influence. Even country styles, such as the important French Provincial, take to the elegant rather than simpler versions. Modern designs, too, have been softened and enriched.

To keep your table settings in harmony with this new elegance, make sure your American handmade glassware and china fit into this general picture. Shapes, colors, patterns in china and glassware should complement each other, as well as harmonize with your fine linens and silverware. Remember that a little color, used excitingly, very good ornamentation used with restraint, and a lot of quiet quality in your tableware will give your table settings a beautiful and luxurious effect.

Here are some color plans for table settings that are easy to create, and will lend elegance and sparkle to any meal:

1. Place a sparkling amethyst glass bowl as centerpiece on a pale violet plisse or crinkled nylon table cloth. Pink dishes. Set glittering crystal water glasses of fine etched stemware at each place. Pink rosebuds or other delicate pink flowers will look lovely in the amethyst bowl.

2. Pick colors from your draperies for your table setting. Use dusty-rose and gray-blue tablecloth and napkins to match draperies in these tones. China repeats color of the cloth. Cobalt blue American handmade glass tumblers give accent. Centerpiece: Romanesque bronze figure.

There is a new type of nylon yarn called "Helanca." It has the ability to stretch and conform to almost any shape which it surrounds. It is being used in small socks that stretch to fit bigger feet yet do not bind the foot because of the stretchiness of the yarn. Gloves which stretch either horizontally or vertically are also being made of "Helanca."

Here's a practical shower gift for a bride-to-be: Give her a galvanized steel pail decorated with fancy paper or ribbon and containing small household gadgets.

Prospective Changes In Government Housing Policies Outlined By Association Director

New and far-reaching prospective changes in government housing finance and building policies were outlined by John Lundblad, president of the Lundblad Company.

Lundblad, co-director of the National Association of Home Builders of the United States, has recently returned from the association's annual Fall conference and director's meeting in New Orleans.

The Lundblad company of Dearborn is currently engaged in small home construction at the Birch Estates subdivision here.

Faced with an agenda loaded with serious policy decisions, the 350-man Board of Directors of the NAHB, following all-day committee sessions, laid down the principles which will govern officers and staff within the ensuing weeks and months. Board actions at this meeting were of unusual significance in view of the far-reaching changes in housing agency organization and basic government housing policy now in prospect.

A comprehensive blue-print for both the reorganization of government housing functions and the modification of existing housing legislation was adopted by the Board after thorough consideration and debate. It contemplates the revision and simplification of the FHA insurance operation to provide a stabilized mortgage pattern and the elimination of unnecessary and complicating "frills." Specific recommendations were made on methods for establishing a proper interest rate and a more realistic down payment pattern.

In general the proposed FHA down payment formula follows the one previously recommended by NAHB, with emphasis on the lower priced home. Special attention was given to modernization of rental housing provisions to encourage the maximum production of low income family shelter.

Emphasis was placed upon financing which will permit the wide-spread reconditioning of homes and the preservation of our housing inventory. More feasible tools for use in the "trade-in" program were included.

The policy called for a harmonizing of the HA and VA systems to prevent unnecessary duplication, without the combining of the two operations. It was recommended that the Loan Guaranty Service be given a status within VA commensurate with the importance of the multi-billion dollar home building industry which it vitally affects.

The Board recognized in its policy the necessity for a central mortgage reserve facility to improve the supply of mortgage money, especially in areas where rapid growth has outstripped the rate of capital accumulation. To this end, certain amendments and revisions of FNMA's operations were recommended. These include the power to issue debentures to eventually repay initial sums advanced by the Treasury.

The policy called for the abandonment of tax-subsidized public housing and the provision of an alternate method for assistance to needy families who otherwise cannot meet rental requirements for a reasonable minimum standard of housing.

The continuation of an overall government housing agency with coordinating and policy-making authority but no operating functions was recommended. Indications of a gradually improving mortgage money supply are becoming more noticeable, although discounts and restrictions on forward commitments are reported still to be prevalent. However, there is nothing to warrant the conclusion that money will be "easy." Certainly builders would be well advised to continue the policy of gearing production to firm, written commitments. This is not a time to launch a big housing program on the un-supported assumption that plenty of money will be available at the time of completion.

These conclusions were supported by comments of the panel of mortgage finance experts in New Orleans. HHFA Administrator Cole said that he saw "some straws in the wind" that there is a loosening of the mortgage market. He cautioned, however, "this does not mean that tomorrow you will be able to go out and borrow all the money you will need and build all the houses you want."

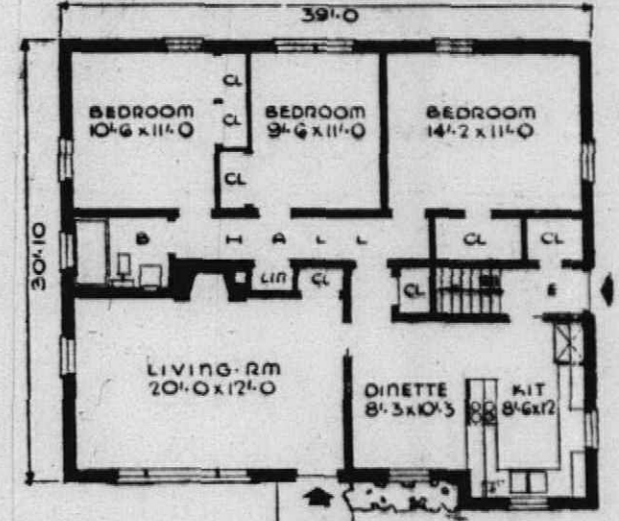

On the issue of whether or not the President should use his authority to lower FHA down payments. The view is that lower down payments will not attract more money for the construction of homes. It is felt restriction on starts next year would be caused by shortness of mortgage money and not the consumer market. Some builders expressed vigorous dissent, stressing that time for lower down payments had long since arrived.

The current easing in the money supply can be traced to three recent actions of the Federal Government. The first was in June when $1.1 billion of government securities were purchased by the Federal Reserve in the open market, thus building up bank reserves. The second, effective the first of July, was the reduction in the Federal Reserve member bank cash reserve requirement in expectation of the $5.9 billion of tax anticipation certificates. The third was the September action of the Federal Reserve in dumping excess funds into the money market through additional purchases of government securities.

These actions have resulted in lower interest rates for government obligations. The 3 1/4% long-term Treasury bonds recently moved to better than 103. The Treasury's most recent short-term bills brought an average rate of 1.6% as compared to nearly 2% in September and 2 1/2% in June. These developments

Window Shopping With SUE

You know, it's remarkable some of the little inexpensive things you can find at the building supply stores about town if you know where to look. For instance, lots of us just drift along for years pinning our clothes up to rope clothes lines, which get mighty dirty, or else worrying about our white things getting rust-stained as we place them on metal lines. But then, if you're like me, one day you happen to stop into Roberts Supply company, and all that's solved. I found some Nichols aluminum clothes line there, at only 98 cents for 50 feet. The aluminum will always stay bright and shiny with no rust worries. And for just a quarter, I found a little pencil-like outfit called

Plaster-Stik. By just working it back and forth over hair-line or small cracks in plaster, the crack will be filled in. You don't even have to wet the stick—just rub it on. After it dries you can just paint over it and your wall looks like new again. Finch Roberts also told me about some wonderful adjustable shelves for a kitchen. One is a mixer shelf designed to swing up out of a cabinet. It would be just at the right height for convenient working. Another handy device is an enamel flour and sugar dispenser on a unit which slides out of a cupboard when needed, and then slides back in for handy storage. A lever regulates the flow of sugar or flour. Well, I could go on and on about all the wonderful new gadgets they're putting out these days. I don't want to neglect the revolving corner shelves, which use all available space, and yet are operated so that everything is within easy reach. The shelves could do away completely with all that stooping and stretching to get into the corner cupboards. Home-builders would be particularly interested in a new product supplied by Eckles Coal and Supply. It's a patented liquid concrete hardener called Lapidolith. The diluted Lapidolith is flushed on the concrete just as you would water. Then just spread with a long-handled brush until the floor is evenly saturated. Trying to scratch the concrete afterwards will show you just how much the product can wear-proof concrete.

tend to improve the mortgage market. Administration leaders have repeatedly said that it is their policy to provide an ample supply of money to meet the needs of an expanding economy. NAHB for months has been saying that drastic action was necessary to give more than lip-service to this principle, particularly in the VA and FHA mortgage market.

Harmonizing bedroom and bathroom color schemes is a pleasing practice that enhances visual pleasure when the two rooms are adjoining. In one household the project has been developed by using four tones of rose and red—with green as a complement. Beginning with the deep rosy tone of mahogany for the bedroom furniture and using a rich maroon wall-to-wall carpeting, the lighter tones of rose appear in the medium rose tone of the paint for the walls and two other blending rose tones that are used in the draperies and in the bedding. Pink and red towels hang in the bathroom where a rich rose-red semi gloss enamel brings beauty to the walls. White tiling in the bathroom and white enamel for the woodwork of the bedroom introduce a crisp note into each of the rooms. Green appears in various decorative accessories.

Extra Arm for One-Man Job

Putting up ceiling panels in a basement modernization can be a one-man job if the handyman uses a simple rake-like support like the one shown. Made of scrap pieces of 1 by 2-inch lumber, the prop here holds a 4-foot square of Masonite Presdwood, leaving both hands of the handyman free. He is using 4-penny casing nails to fasten the panel to furring strips placed crosswise against the joists. Edges of the hardboard panels have been filed slightly to form a V-joint. The walls in this recreation-room-to-be are 4-wide panels of Masonite Tempered Presdwood, three-sixteenths inch thick, nailed to studs placed 16 inches apart. Note the piece of wood on the floor which braces the prop securely against the ceiling panel.

Small Businesses Offer Opportunity

Owners of small businesses in Michigan and the nation "are the most important missionaries we have for continued operation of the private enterprise system," delegates to Michigan's fourth annual small business clinic were told at Michigan State college.

The statement was made by Don Weeks, director of the Michigan department of economic development. He urged the operators of small businesses to "take a bigger part in the business of their communities, in projects for the good of the community and in the solution of community problems."

Opportunities for small business operations are at a peak, according to George R. Petrie, executive assistant of the United States department of commerce, Detroit. "In my opinion, there are more opportunities now than ever before for the right kinds of small business, started properly by those competent to operate them," Petrie declared.

Forest Motors Earns Plaque

Forest Motors is displaying a new plaque in its service department today. It is an award, just announced by the Dodge division, Chrysler corporation, in Detroit, for the completion of an advanced "graduate" training program for mechanics.

Tom Notebaert, owner, sponsored the school, which has been conducted over the past two years in the firm's service department. It is known officially as the Chrysler Corporation Master Technicians' Service conference.

The training program is nationwide in scope. The plan involved use of modern instruction aids, including sound slide films, charts, handbooks, lesson plans and practical work.

Warn Residents That Chimneys Often Cause Fire

Plymouth residents are being warned that furnaces and chimneys are a frequent cause of dwelling fires. Proper installation, good maintenance, and careful use will prevent such fires, says Fire Chief Robert McAllister.

The following safety precautions are listed for residents who are using furnaces:

1. Insist on proper furnace installation. Safe mountings, clearances, connections to chimneys and vents, and rigid smokepipes are important fire prevention features.
2. Handle ashes safely. Safe containers for ashes are substantially built of metal, in good condition and provided with handles and covers.
3. Check your chimney. Cracking, settling, and loose mortar are symptoms of unsafe chimneys.
4. Keep chimneys clean. Fires in chimneys are due to accumulations of soot caused by imperfect combustion of fuel.

McAllister also lists the following three precautions for liquid fuel appliances:

1. Keep appliances level and clean.
2. Fill oil reservoirs with care and avoid spills. With appliances turned off and cool before filling, accidentally spilled fuel oil will not ignite.
3. Store fuel safely. The safest place for drums is outside, away from the building.

Evans Delivers 50 Box Cars

Fifty Southern Pacific Lines box cars, equipped with Evans DF Loaders at the Evans Products company plant in Plymouth have been delivered to the SP for active line service.

Completion of the current order brings to 369 the number of SP cars carrying the Evans loading, load-securing device and raises the total number of DF Loader-equipped box cars owned by the nation's Class 1 railroads, armed services and private industry to 8,757.

Alpha Sigma Phi Wins Homecoming Trophy

Dick Shirley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton P. Shirley of 845 Canton Center road, worked on the winning Homecoming display at the University of Michigan last weekend. His fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi, walked off with the first place trophy in the men's division.

The fraternity's winning display was a huge dragon which breathed smoke and swished his tail. A sign stretched across the front of the house read, "Michigan's Not Dragon—It's on Top."

Dick is a sophomore at the university. He is majoring in pre-medicine.

One Plymouthite Hears Draft Call

Only one Plymouth man will be called up by the November 5 induction call, announced Michigan Local Board No. 102. James D. Burris, Plymouth, will join Livonians Donald J. Britt and Don Brooks Bates in the November call.

A total of 30 men from Board No. 102 received induction notices.

UNITED Red Feather CAMPAIGN

Grange Gleanings

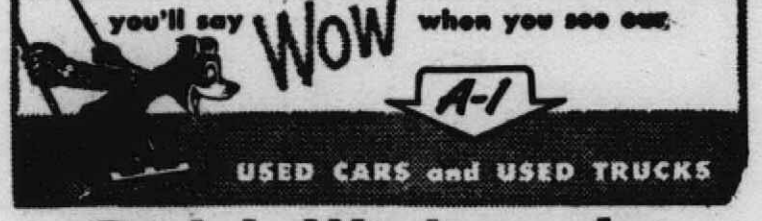

Our dance last Saturday evening was a very enjoyable affair, and a nice crowd had lots of fun. Those who did not come missed a good time. Those who cared to do so played cards downstairs; others went upstairs and danced. As this one turned out so well, there will be another one on November 28 at the hall so be on hand for that and have a good time.

Tonight is an important meeting as the first and second degrees are to be conferred on a large group of new members. Potluck supper, as usual, will be about 6:30 p.m.

We are happy to report that Amy Northrup is much better and is now at her daughter's home in Salem. Her daughter's name is Mrs. Knowles Buer, so one may send her cards or call there.

And next week, you know, is the bazaar or "county fair." Let us make it a success by coming and doing our part whatever it may be.

you'll say Wow when you see one.

Find Apple Blossoms On Plymouth Trees

It's apple blossom time again in Plymouth. Sounds crazy, but Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eckles of 14428 Haggerty highway will be willing to bet it's true. One of their Wagner apple trees is half full of blossoms while another is just starting to bud out.

The Eckles' were picking apples last week when they discovered the buds on one of the trees. That tree is now in bloom. Mrs. Eckles said that this is the first time her trees have forgotten what season it is.

The painting of the Streg house on Main street has improved its looks wonderfully. It is one of the oldest landmarks in town.
Mrs. Timmony of Detroit, commander of Detroit hive, L.O.T.M., was in Plymouth Tuesday to see Mrs. Frank Wilson, who is a member of that hive and who is very ill.
Henry Baker stated the other day that he had in contemplation the building of a double store on the site now occupied by the old Christian Science hall and the lot adjoining.

While operating a stamping press at the Daisy shops Friday, Jay Burr caught the index finger of the right hand in the machinery, smashing it so badly that it was found necessary by Dr. Adams to amputate the member just back of the first joint.

Nelson Schrader has received a certificate showing that he has passed a satisfactory examination as an embalmer of the dead.

The boys made no serious breaks, if it was Hallowe'en. About the only thing was the carrying of A. D. Prout's barber pole to Northville on the electric car.

Charles Holloway and Frank Beals are jurors in the circuit court for the November term.

The game of football last Saturday afternoon between Saline and Plymouth high schools was forfeited by the former at the beginning of the second half. The game stood 10 to 0 in favor of Plymouth. The Saline's had several men crippled and having no substitutes refused to go on with the game.

The village should set an example by painting its electric light poles and then requiring that every other pole in the village be similarly treated. It's a disgrace to the town to allow the many unsightly poles to remain as they are.

Miss Emma Bassett and Mrs. W. S. Levan were appointed delegates to the County Sunday-school Convention at Detroit, November 13 and 14.

Reverend Arnold H. Kehrl will preach at the Baptist church Thursday, November 15, Reverend Kehrl is well known to the people of Plymouth, since he was born and raised in this vicinity.
Arthur Tillotson's Ford sedan was stolen during the Eastern Star play Friday night, from Harvey street.

Last week Justice Phoebe Patterson was made honorary vice-president of the Ninth District of the W.C.T.U. in which she has served as Recording Secretary for 25 years. The Detroit District also elected Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd to fill her mother's place as corresponding secretary.

Arthur Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mayford Sioff, was Baptised at the Lutheran parsonage last Sunday evening. Mrs. Theodore Sioff and Louis Sioff acted as sponsors.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Sarah Armstrong and Miss Lina Durfee were hostesses at a family dinner party in honor of the eighty-third birthday of their aunt, Mrs. Hulda Everett.

Marian Beyer, who is attending the U. of M. visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Sunday.

According to reports received from the Business Institute, Raymond Levandowski just finished cost accounting in nine weeks, which requires ten weeks, thus gaining one week, but between times he has been doing odd jobs, such as for the Detroit News at the primary election along with 36 other fellows.

A three-act comedy will be presented at the Penniman Allen theatre Friday evening, November 16, by the Dramatic club of the Michigan State College Grange.

The many friends of F. D. Schrader, who is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, will be pleased to know that he is gaining steadily.

"I'm terribly crippled now. That's all I can tell you now. How long I will be here, I do not know," was the telephone message received late Tuesday evening by Mrs. William J. Squires of North Harvey street from Albert Drake, who was wounded last summer in jungle fighting on the island of New Guinea in the South Pacific.

Fred D. Schrader, president of the Mayflower Hotel company, stated yesterday that the directors at a meeting Tuesday night had decided that it would be impossible to add additional hours to the serving of food at the hotel.

A review of Red Cross work was made at the meeting of the Child Study Club held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Floyd Reddeman. Mrs. Richard Straub was program chairman for the evening.

Thirty-five members of the Townsend club sat down to a delicious pot luck dinner Monday evening in Grange hall when they met for their regular business meeting and program. After the dinner Police Chief Charles Thumme and assistants, Mrs. Evelyn Lord and Mrs. Dorothy Ray fingerprinted the members.

A summertime spent in raising a flock of nice chickens is going to the benefit of some thief rather than the man who has done all the work. Sylvester Pace, residing on Plymouth road near Newburg, has reported not only the theft of 30 chickens, but two full bags of feed that he had stored in the chicken house. No clue has been found.

Glenn C. Long Plumbing Opens Modern Building

Glenn C. Long Plumbing and Heating company will celebrate the opening of its modernistic new building with an opening event November 6 and 7. Long, who previously operated his business at 411 Baseline, Northville, has moved into the larger structure at 4330 Seven Mile.

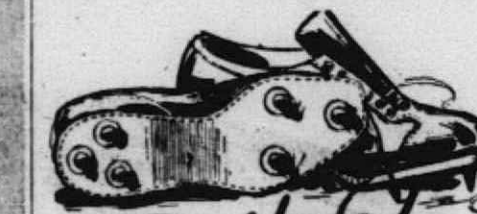

He has been in the plumbing and heating business independently for six years, serving his apprenticeship with a local plumber. His firm handles the Westinghouse dealership.

The building will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. this weekend for the opening event. One of the features will be free gifts for the children and refreshments. Gift cards will also win for visitors a choice of a gas incinerator or garbage disposal, a Westinghouse roaster and a Cook-N-Fry. The public is invited to attend.

Bennett Opens Animal Hospital

A new veterinary hospital is being opened by a former Plymouth resident in Northville. Dr. George Bennett graduated from Plymouth High school in 1939, and his mother, Mrs. Edith Bennett still lives at 540 Blunk. Bennett received his degree in veterinary medicine from Michigan State college. He has practiced for three years, closing his office in Woodburn, Indiana last spring.

The Northville Veterinary hospital is located at Seven Mile and Northville roads. The Bennetts and their three children are planning to move from Royal Oak to Northville.

Richard Huebler Joins Fraternity

Among the many University of Michigan fraternity pledges who are gathering step ladders and paint pails is Richard Huebler of Berry road, who has been accepted as a pledge to Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. The pledges of the various fraternities will journey out to the University's Fresh Air Camp for Underprivileged Boys for their project of their community services program.

For five days, from November 2 through November 7, the camp became a beehive of activity as the pledges cleaned up the grounds and painted the cabins to do their part in helping underprivileged children.

Another highlight in the fall schedule for the pledges will be a banquet to be held on November 12, which will honor 500 new pledges. A trophy honoring high scholarship will be awarded to last year's pledge class with the highest average.

Since 1845 fraternities have been on the University of Michigan campus. Today they number 43 houses with 2,000 active members.

Detroit Doctors Study Cancer On Television

Using the new medium of color television, Detroit area doctors are "going to school" to study the war against cancer in a series of 30 one-hour closed-circuit broadcasts sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The Teleclinic classes for local physicians are held at the Ford Motor Company Rotunda, 3000 Schaefer road, Dearborn, and at the Masonic Temple auditorium, Detroit. Large-size screens have been installed at both locations to receive the broadcasts direct from New York hospitals. The series began October 21 and successive programs will be held every other week until December 2 and weekly thereafter until early June.

New Books for All Ages Arrive At Dunning Library Recently

Recently another shipment of new books arrived at the Dunning Branch of the Wayne County Library. The books are displayed at the main desk for one week giving local readers a chance to reserve the book of their choice. The books are then let out in the order of reservations.

Heading the list is the new novel by James Hilton, "Time and Time Again", currently running third on the best-seller list. It is the story of Charles Anderson, a member of the British Foreign Service. The book is bright with wit and incident, full flavored by its background of embassy and legation life. It flows as smoothly as its title, mounting to a startling but completely credible climax.

Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian, stated that another new book, "Where to Retire and How" by Fessenden S. Blashard, should also receive good readership in Plymouth.

Including among the new offerings are "Labrador Nurse" by B. J. Banfill, "The Night the Old Nostalgia Burned Down" by Frank Sullivan, "The House of Moreys" by Phyllis Bentley, Janice Holt Giles' "The Kentuckians," "Love Is My Vocation" by Tom Clarkson, "The Narrows" by Ann Petry and "The Rolling Years" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull.

"Persian Adventure" by Anne Sinclair Mendeivi is the intimate, humorous and observant story of an American girl who married a Persian and traveled to an enchanted country half-way around the world.

The list continues with "The Wise Bamboo" by J. Malcolm Morris, "Design and Use of Cutting Tools" by Leo J. Sineclair, "Refinishing and Decorating Furniture" by R. G. Mould, Herbert E. Slover's revolutionary war novel, "The Eagle and the Wind" and "Pastimes for Two" by Albert A. Ostrow.

Teen-age books also came in for both boys and girls. For the girls the shipment includes "Lasso Your Heart" by Betty Cavanna, "Going Steady" by Anne Emery, "Spring in the Air" by Nancy Paschal, "Wait for Marcy" by Rosamond Du Jardin and "Look to the New Moon" by Frances Fullerton Neilson.

Boys will find "Whale Mountain" by Mavis Garey Moore, "Trapping" by Harold McCracken and Harry Van Cleve, "The Lions Paw" by Robb White, "Mountain Bobcat" by James Johnson and "Arabian Cow Horse" by John Richard Young.

TV Show Tells Story of Heroic Plymouth Worker

The heroic story of Edwin Trombley, 6970 Napier road, was told on a nationwide television show last Friday morning, resulting in an award of $400 in prizes.

H. S. McFarland of Detroit, industrial relations director of the Detroit Transmission division of General Motors, brought Trombley to the "Wheel of Fortune" TV show in New York to tell the story of how the Michigan Bell Telephone installer led six telephone operators to safety in the GM plant fire last August.

After Trombley told his story, McFarland spun the "wheel of fortune" which netted the hero $400 in prizes, including a set of automobile tires, a carpet, lever windows and a water pump and water softening system for his new home now under construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Trombley, their three children and Mrs. A. P. Johnson, Mrs. Trombley's mother, left by train Monday for New York City where they combined the television appearance with a vacation.

The Friday morning television show features four or five persons each week who have proved themselves heroes in various situations.

Movies of the fire were also shown during Trombley's appearance.

Official Proceedings of Your City Commission

Monday, October 5, 1953

A regular meeting of the city Commission was held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Monday, October 5, 1953 at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Comms. Bauer, Fisher, Hammond, Henry, Terry, Tibbitts and Mayor Daane.

Absent: None. Moved by Comm. Hammond and supported by Comm. Bauer that the minutes of the regular meeting of September 21 and the special meetings of September 28 and September 29, 1953 be approved as read by the Clerk.

Carried unanimously. Mr. Howard Mackie requested permission to erect a small frame sales office on his used car lot at 114 Plymouth Road, said location being within the Fire Limits. Mr. Mackie was referred to the Building Inspector.

The Clerk presented a communication from Mr. Robert O. Beyer requesting permission to replace the present sign on his drug store at 165 W. Liberty Street.

Moved by Comm. Tibbitts and supported by Comm. Henry that Mr. Robert O. Beyer be permitted to replace the present sign at 165 W. Liberty Street, under the supervision of the City Manager, the new sign to comply with the Building Code and extend not more than 18 inches beyond the property line.

Carried unanimously. The Clerk presented a communication from Mr. Thomas C. Kent, President of the Plymouth Community Fund, requesting permission to hold a parade and to display Red Feather Posters on the utility poles in the downtown area.

Moved by Comm. Hammond and supported by Comm. Fisher that the Plymouth Community Fund be granted permission to hold a parade, on October 20, 1953 from the intersection of Liberty and Mill Streets to Kellogg Park and also be permitted to stretch banners across downtown streets, but that permission to use utility poles for display of Red Feather Posters be denied in view of the existence of Ordinance No. 173 which specifically prohibits any such use.

Yes: Comms. Bauer, Fisher, Hammond, Terry, Tibbitts and Mayor Daane. No: Comm. Henry.

Moved by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Tibbitts that the Annual Audit Report of the City of Plymouth for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953, presented by Donald H. Sutherland, Certified Public Accountant, be accepted. Carried unanimously.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Fisher:

WHEREAS the Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan has reviewed the special assessment roll covering the improvement and given all interested parties an opportunity to be heard and has found the same to be correct, as follows:

ROLL NO. 197. IMPROVEMENT Simpson Street Water Main Lincoln to S. Harvey Streets. AMOUNT $3,668.00

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City Commission does hereby approve and confirm said special assessment roll.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City Treasurer be and he is hereby commanded to collect the various amounts shown on Special Assessment Roll No. 197 in ten equal installments, the first installment to be due upon confirmation hereby, and like installments due annually thereafter until the assessments are fully paid with interest on all installments from and after 30 days after this confirmation of the assessment roll at the rate of 6% per annum. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Hammond and supported by Comm. Bauer that the City Share of the cost of the Simpson Street water main, $700.50, be paid from the water fund. Carried unanimously.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Fisher and supported by Comm. Bauer:

WHEREAS, Act No. 173, Public Acts of Michigan, 1953, entitled "An act to provide for the regulation of garbage and the feeding of garbage to swine; to provide for the powers and duties of the Michigan Department of Agriculture with respect thereto; and to prescribe penalties for the violations of the provisions of this act" became effective October 2, 1953, and

WHEREAS, the City of Plymouth, Michigan, a municipal corporation, disposes of its garbage under a contract with one Clarence Sherwood and said garbage is fed to swine, and an exemption from the provisions of said act is necessary.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Plymouth hereby makes application to the Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture for exemption for one year from the provisions of said Act in accordance with Section 2 (c) thereof, declares that said exemption is necessary, and directs the City Clerk to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the said director. Carried unanimously.

The Clerk presented a communication from the Chamber of Commerce dated September 8, 1953 relative to Sections 13.0f and 15.02 of the Proposed Zoning Ordinance, also presented was a communication from the City Planning Consultants, Waring and Johnson, recommending revised form of these two sections.

Moved by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Fisher that the matter of the suggested revision of Articles 13, 14, and 15 of the Proposed Zoning Ordinance be referred to the City Planning Commission for consideration and recommendation. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Hammond and supported by Comm. Henry that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized to execute the necessary deed to convey a portion of Lot 163, Plymouth Assessor's Plat No. 7 of part of the S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 27, and part of S. Resting—After a Long, Hard Day!

Twenty minutes ago, the man you see in this picture came out of a long and harassing conference—tired, tense and with a bit of a headache.

And he said to himself—"I'll take the long way home tonight, and drive out by the waterfront, and let the Cadillac relax me!"

And that's just what he's doing.

If you own a 1953 Cadillac, you know exactly what's taking place. But if you don't—let's see what happens as he climbs into the driver's seat and lets his wonderful car begin its magic.

It's relaxing just to sit there—and look out over that long, beautiful hood into the beckoning distance.

The seat cushions hold him in buoyant comfort; the slender wheel fits naturally into his hands; great areas of glass surround him and let each glance reveal a panorama.

And, of course, he's proud—for it's an endless satisfaction to command such a respected possession.

And now comes the great life to his spirits: He touches the key, and hears that deep-throated response so characteristic of a Cadillac engine—and, in an instant, he's off for a wonderful, wonderful hour!

Steering is no more than a gesture... the lightest touch on the throttle gets immediate action—smooth, quick and positive... the brakes are easy and certain under his foot.

So he just sits back and rolls along—with the soft sound of the wind for a lullaby—and the beautiful view for a tonic—resting, relaxing, at peace with the world!

His wife will never suspect, as he wheels into the driveway, that he was a tired and tense and weary husband just one short hour ago.

That's one of the nicest things about a Cadillac. It's a proven therapeutic for a work-weary man!

Try it, soon, at the end of a long, hard day. We'll furnish the car. You name the time and place.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Better hunting conditions, fewer hunters, low success and a generally pleased group of hunters. That was the over-all picture of the first weekend of the southern Michigan small game hunting seasons as it developed at conservation department headquarters here this week. In bits and pieces, it looked like this: Better hunting conditions developed over most of the lower peninsula because of rain and cool weather. Hot, dry, dusty conditions earlier in the week discouraged hunters and dogs and kept kill success down. Fewer hunters, in general, showed up afield than were out opening day. In some places, however, hunter concentrations were heavy, as in southeast Michigan and in the Holland-Grand Rapids area. Poor success was noted in most areas. In southern Ottawa county, it was about one bird per three hunters and in southeastern Michigan, about one pheasant per four or five hunters.

HOW FIRE INSURANCE STOPS FIRES

before they can start

Industry is constantly doing research in new fields—in plastics, textiles, petroleum, atomic energy—where there are countless fire hazards. To discover these hazards before fires can break out fire insurance engineers carry on "pre-search." As a result of this public service, lives and property are saved, continuous production is maintained. This is only one of the public services performed by capital stock fire insurance—a private enterprise—of which the insurance agent is an important part. His professional advice is yours for the asking. Phone me about your insurance—for, in these high-cost days, too little insurance protection for your home and belongings can be costly.

Check That Driver's License Expiration
Know when your driver's license expires? If you do, you are among the minority. A reminder about the new law which changes the expiration date of most driver's licenses is being given by the Plymouth police department to prevent drivers from getting behind the wheel illegally. Looking at your driver's license, you will see a date in the upper left corner which is the expiration date. Don't believe it. The new law may give you some extra driving time with your present license. In place of the month and day of the month printed in the corner, substitute your birthday. If your birthday is July 19, your license will expire on that date in the year printed in the corner. Since the end of World War II there has been over 300 per cent increase in the use of paper containers for milk, so that now nearly 40 per cent of milk sold for beverage purposes comes in paperboard.

Rain and cool weather over most of Michigan squashed the fire hazard in woods and grasslands this week and for the moment at least gave promise of reduced losses. Some muck fires are still burning stubbornly, but for the most part fire fighters this week were able to relax their vigil somewhat and take a well-earned rest. Last week during the peak of the fire hazard, 101 fires burned about 730 acres, hiking the year's total to about 7100 acres damaged by fire. That compares favorably, however, to the 7500-acre total that had been damaged to the end of the same week last year.

Does, fawns and buck deer will be legal game for hunters north of route M-55 in the northern lower peninsula on December 1 this year, the conservation department notes. That special "any deer" season of one day follows the regular 16-day statewide deer season of November 15-30, inclusive, with both wedged between the October 1-November 5 archery season and the special Allegan county deer season, December 1-7. With all that shooting, it might seem there'll be nothing left of Michigan's deer herd by Christmastime. But game men pooh-pooh that notion strongly. They say the deer herd is definitely smaller this year because of the heavy kill last year, but this is as it should be for the future welfare of the herd. And they point out that hunting seasons this year are designed to keep the herd down in size without in any way damaging its future.

Information gathered at these checking stations has helped the department learn more about the state's deer herd. Last year, the animals checked showed some general improvement from 1951; they were bigger and heavier and had better antlers than the 1951 crop. This year, game men expect some additional improvement over the 1952 herd. The open winter last year, coupled with a reduced deer population because of the 1952 special season give game men hope that the deer situation in Michigan will continue to look better. No attempt is made at these stations to count the number of deer killed. The stations seek only biological facts; actual counts of deer will be made in other ways—through independent traffic survey, interviews and post card polls.

Nobody Is Safe From Poison Ivy

No person is completely immune to ivy poisoning and there is no section of Michigan where the three-leaved poison ivy plant cannot be found. Plymouth hunters and youngsters gathering walnuts and hickory nuts should be wary of the triple leaved plant. The Michigan Department of Health lists the following advice for care in avoiding the plant: Learn to recognize the plant and stay away from it. Ivy poisoning is always unpleasant and it can be serious, causing a month-long illness which may require hospitalization. The poison in the ivy plant is an oil which can be carried on smoke, soot, dust, on the fur of pets, garden tools, firewood or other items which have come in contact with the plant. A person may have a recurrence of ivy poisoning from wearing uncleaned clothes which were worn at the time of the original contact. First precaution is to learn to recognize the plant and avoid it. If you think you may have been exposed, wash thoroughly with a strong laundry soap, leaving the lather to dry, then rinse. If irritation occurs and blisters appear, see your doctor. Poison ivy can be eradicated by spraying the leaves with a 2, 4-D or "ammate" solution. Spraying should be repeated every year until plants no longer appear. In its program of approving resorts, the Department requires, that poison ivy or other noxious plants either be eradicated or controlled for the protection of the public. A machine for preparing checks protects, signs and dates them all in a single operation. Some modern coal preparation plants cost more than one million dollars.

Interesting observations gained by attendance at the annual national board of directors meeting of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation in New York City last Wednesday were: Arthritis is more prevalent in the lower income group; if sufferers could be assured of complete financial aid during the remainder of their life time they would show a 90 per cent improvement in their condition; there have been no new findings in all of the research carried on so far and at present there is no known specific treatment or cure; some cases respond to a change of climate, others don't; some drugs offer relief for some, do nothing for others; arthritics are the greatest "shoppers" known to the medical profession, etc.; on the brighter side however, it was revealed three years ago only $350,000 was spent in the arthritis field as against $10,000,000 which will be spent this year.

There are 10,000,000 arthritics in America and many in this area. The Detroit chapter has complete medical facilities and stands ready to do anything in its power to aid in any of their problems. Members of the Wayne County Visiting Nurses Association are trained in therapy and treatment and are available for homes in the Plymouth area at any time.

The health clinics recently held in Detroit drew tremendous crowds and the one covering arthritis drew 10 times as many people as any of the others including cancer and heart.

Attending the New York meeting with the writer, who is a director of the Michigan Foundation, were Dr. James Lightbody, medical director of the Michigan Foundation and H. J. McLaurin, president of the Michigan group. The latter is a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nulty of this city.

Two hours and seven minutes from Willow Run to La Guardia field in New York was astounding enough to this novice in affairs of this nature but more impressive was the Metropolitan Club in New York where the annual luncheon was held. Somewhat like Detroit's D.A.C. and Detroit Club it was much larger and far more awe-inspiring, supposedly from the importance of its members and the millions of dollars they control.

At our luncheon table was former world's boxing champion Gene Tunney, Sidney J. Weinberg, former president Harry Truman's National Production Authority, General Lucius Clay, Dorothy Shaver, head of Lord and Thomas and considered one of America's most capable business women and others. Of these mentioned Tunny is the only one afflicted with arthritis, having it in his elbows and knees.

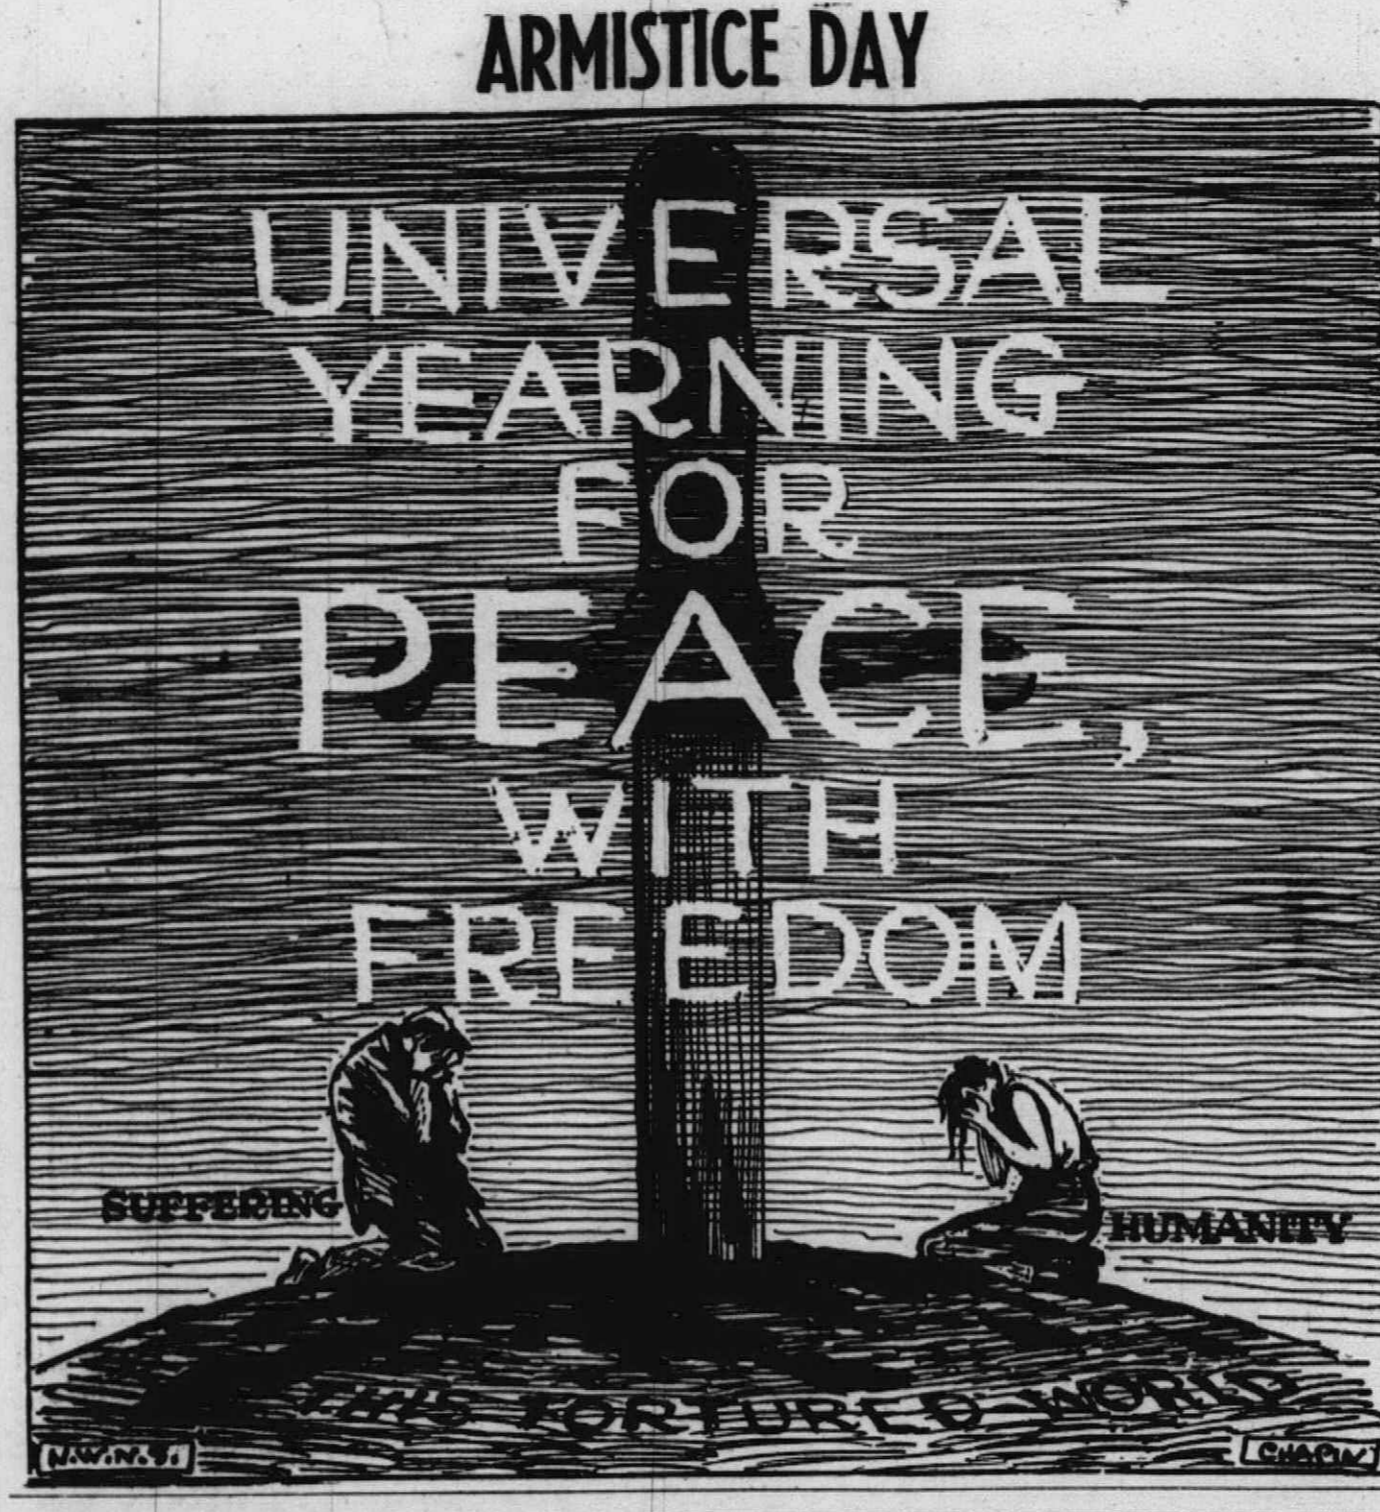

National president is General George Kenney, who will visit in Detroit in January. Chairman of the board of the foundation is millionaire Floyd Odum, who entertained the group that afternoon at cocktails in his plush apartment in Riverhouse on the East river.

Drive chairman of this year's campaign is Edward A. Pierce of the firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane of Wall street, who are referred to in that quarter as "We the people." Assisting him as co-chairmen are Actress Rosalind Russell and Aviatix Jacqueline Cochran.

Mr. Odum's apartment is unbelievably large and as president of the Atlas corporation he controls such businesses as the United Fruit company, Consolidated Vultee aircraft, Northeastern Air Lines, Indian Motorcycle, Barnsdahl Oil and many others. He is afflicted with arthritis and walks with the aid of two canes. Most of his time is spent on his fabulous desert ranch at Indio, California where he also maintains a complete office force.

His wife is famous Aviatix Jacqueline Cochran and the foyer to their apartment is lined on both sides with thousands of trophies and mementos she has won or been given during her flying years. Cocktails were served by the four regular staff butlers supplemented by two dozen caterers who furnished the 50 of us with delicacies out of this world. My careful scrutiny of the lavish apartment revealed the fact that there were no slip covers and no lamps with cellophane covers.

It was with no small thrill that I witnessed this affair when I realized that only four years ago, here in Plymouth at the home of Dr. Charley Smyth on Main street, the organization took birth. It was through the efforts of Dr. Smyth, Mr. McLaurin, Dr. Von Der Heide of Parke Davis, Dr. Earl Peterman of Detroit, and myself that the first steps were taken to formulate the foundation, and from our original steps, to organize a Detroit unit. The growth spread to New York where the first national incorporation papers were drawn from those we had prepared in Plymouth.

Roger Babson Says . . .

BABSON DISCUSSES "WILLS"
New Boston, New Hampshire. In view of my recent column on the importance of Trust Funds for children and others, I must today refer to the recent terrible kidnapping and murder of the six-year-old son of Robert C. Greenleaf of Kansas City.

WHAT CAUSED THE KIDNAPPING?
Apparently, Carl Hall, a son of a reputable citizen, was the cause of this frightful crime. Although Carl Hall's father knew that his boy was rather unstable, yet he left him $200,000 of property outright. If Carl had been a poor boy and trained to work, the crime might never have occurred. Or, if the father had left his boy, Carl, the money in Trust it probably never would have happened.

Unfortunately, money was left to the Hall boy outright, enabling him to live like a "drunken sailor" as long as it lasted; but when it was gone he was penniless, "left in the gutter." Young Hall could not readjust himself to these changed conditions. He sought to devise a plan to again get a fortune for nothing. This kidnapping was his "solution." Hence, the crime, murder, disgrace and grief which came with it. I repeat that if the money had been left in Trust so that the boy received a fair sum from the Bank each month, the crime might not have happened. So much for this.

HAVE YOU AN UP-TO-DATE WILL?

Now let me discuss WILLS, which must come before any Trust Funds can be provided. There are very important reasons for everyone to make and constantly revise a WILL. Perhaps your wife may die first, or you both get killed together in an automobile accident. Perhaps some relative of hers (whom you do not like) would get her share of your property. Your wife might cut off one of your children or all of the grandchildren if she married again.

If you have not made a WILL you should consult your lawyer tomorrow. First, find out to whom your property would go if you died now. (His answer will surprise you). Second, ask him what could happen to your life's earnings and savings if your wife should marry again. (Could she cut off your own children and relatives?). Third, could one of your own children marry and give or loan her part to her husband to lose in some business or investment? Fourth, are you absolutely protecting your grandchildren?

WHAT ABOUT TAXES?
Assume you may die tomorrow and leave, with or without a WILL, considerable property to your wife. Your estate might be liable for a heavy tax upon this. Then assume that in a few years your wife should die and your children inherit this money. This could result in a second tax. In fact, without a WILL the grandchildren might get very little.

You'd better leave your wife's share, at your death, to a Trust Company in trust for your children and grandchildren, with this provision: So long as your wife lives, she is to have the income. At her death, your children can have the income. When your grandchildren reach a certain age (say 26 years), after the death of your wife and their mother, they are to gradually get the principal, as well as the income.

REMEMBER RELATIVES' AND CHARITIES
Have you an aunt or cousin who was very good to you when you were young? These you can remember only by a WILL! On the other hand, without a WILL your estate could go to distant relatives whom you never knew. Remember you can easily remember these old relatives and friends by adding a simple codicil, which your lawyer can quickly draw. Do it now. Never sign any paper while in your last illness. Be sure the original of your WILL and ALL CODICILS are in the custody of a bank, with only copies in your home safe or your safety deposit box.

Why not give something to the Church which brought you up, or to some hospital or other charity? You would not live in a community without these.

More cars than ever before now drive on Michigan highways. Auto licenses reached an all-time record Oct. 15, says the Department of State. Total licenses issued that date were 2,977,665. This compares with 1952 when the number was 2,833,876. License plates for next year will be available in 200 branch offices Dec. 1. First applications for the 1954 blue and gold plates were put in the mail for car owners last week.

The birthplace of American industry has been located at a spot near Jamestown, Virginia. There, in 1608, a glass factory—the first factory of any sort in the U. S.—was set up.

Time may be money, but it's work that gives it exchange value.

Tip to motorists: Start sooner, drive slower—live longer.
