

Gratitude for God's Gifts

By the Rev. Patrick J. Clifford of Calvary Baptist Church

Are you really thankful? Gratitude is defined as thankfulness, or a kindly feeling toward the benefactor. We know that the benefactor in this case is God. Is our gratitude expressed only in empty words or does it come from a heart that feels the goodness of God and must say with the psalmist, "Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless His holy name." Ps. 103:1.

As a people we have seen the good hand of God provide abundantly for our material need, and then we enjoy the glorious privilege of hearing the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and in believing this gospel we are assured of countless blessing. For, "He that spared not his own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?" Rom. 8:32. We are admonished by Paul to trust in the living God who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.

We have Thanksgiving Day in the United States because a group of God-fearing, Bible-believing, Christ-honoring people, known to us as the Pilgrims, set aside a day in 1621 to thank God for their harvest. These people were willing to undergo suffering and privation of many material blessings that they might enjoy the liberty to worship the true and the living God in spirit and in truth. It was in these kind of hearts that our Thanksgiving day was born.

America has built her national superstructure on the true foundation of God's Word; today we are shifting from this foundation. The problem is how can we stand and continue to enjoy such blessing as we have if we continue to move in the present direction?

I fear our gratitude has been only for the material blessing and we have forgotten that the sure foundation is God's Word and His Son Jesus Christ. "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." I Cor. 3:11. If we recognize this fact and believe in our hearts this truth as the Pilgrims did, then we will continue to enjoy "the all things" which God so freely gives with Him.

God's foundation becomes a fountain of all blessings, spiritual and material; we have come to a time when we need to re-emphasize that spiritual things come first and, as we enjoy these gifts, then the material benefits will mean much more to us. Jesus stated this truth when he said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Matt. 6:33. The "all things" which were to be added unto those who seek first his kingdom were the material blessing of food and raiment.

Let us consider some of the gifts that pertain to the kingdom of God and that go beyond the creature comfort, but at the same time will give us heart gratitude for both temporal and eternal blessings. The apostle Paul in his letter to the Romans says, "the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Rom. 14:17.

Righteousness is a gift of God through Jesus Christ our Lord, and we are told that those who receive "the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ." Rom. 5:17. This righteousness comes by faith. "Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference." Rom. 3:22. This gift is given to all without respect of persons, and brings us into our right relationship to the giver of every good and perfect gift.

Coming into our right relationship to God naturally brings peace into our life. "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Rom. 5:1. This peace is another glorious gift given to us through the Saviour. "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." John 14:27. What a grand experience to receive this gift and to enjoy this peace in the midst of a troubled and confused world.

Peace naturally results in joy. Many of us recall the great joy that came to our land when word came that the world war of 1914-18 was over and again when the second world war ceased. The joy of the Lord is a gift that comes to those who by faith build upon God's sure foundation Jesus Christ. These gifts are enjoyed daily and made real in the life by another gift and that the gift of the Holy Ghost which God gives to all who believe in His Son Jesus Christ. "This He spake of the Spirit that they which believe on Him should receive." John 7:39. The gift of God's spirit will make these other gifts real and living in your innermost being day by day and you will, with heart-felt gratitude, and a kindly feeling toward God the great giver, offer Thanksgiving to Him for every spiritual and material blessing.

Let us, the citizens of Plymouth, Michigan, humbly bow in the same manner as the first citizens of Plymouth, Massachusetts, and show our gratitude to God for His manifold gifts to us. And with the words of the Swedish song writer, August L. Storm say,

Thanks to God for my Redeemer,
Thanks for all thou dost provide!
Thanks for times now but a memory,
Thanks for Jesus by my side!

Thanks for pleasant, balmy springtime,
Thanks for dark and dreary fall!
Thanks for tears by now forgotten,
Thanks for peace within my soul!

Thanks for prayers that Thou hast answered,
Thanks for what Thou dost deny!
Thanks for storms that I have weathered,
Thanks for all Thou dost supply!

Thanks for joy and thanks for sorrow,
Thanks for heavenly peace with Thee!
Thanks for hope in the tomorrow,
Thanks thro' all eternity!

Turkey Looks Good Enough to Eat

The least thankful fellow on Thanksgiving is Tom Turkey even though he really comes into his own on that day. Actually he's the most popular guy in town—everyone wants to have him for dinner. But in spite of it all, his wattle droop and his voice takes on a mournful note. Perhaps the reason is that our gloomy gobbler has caught sight of the axe being held by Mrs. William Bauman of 1069 Starkweather and her three youngsters, left to right, Bruce, Beth Ann and Jack. Submitting Mr. Turkey to the inspection is George Flammer of the Flammer Turkey farm on Ann Arbor road.

Orchestra to Present Next Concert Sunday

The second concert of the current symphony season will feature dance music almost entirely, announced Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the 85-piece Plymouth Symphony orchestra. The program will begin at 4 p.m. Sunday, November 29, in the Plymouth high school auditorium. The local orchestra includes players from the Detroit Symphony orchestra and the faculty of the University of Michigan, as well as talented local residents.

Soloist for this concert is Douglas Marsh, cellist with the Detroit Symphony orchestra. Marsh has made many previous appearances in the solo capacity with the Plymouth organization. Marsh will play Boccherini's "Concerto for Cello and Orchestra in B Flat." Boccherini was a contemporary and admirer of Haydn, who lived during the latter half of the 18th century. The Boccherini Concerto, Dunlap said, is one of the best known and most beautiful of all the works in the cello repertory.

Among the dance selections is "The Capriol Suite" by Peter Warlock. The work is a collection of 16th century dance tunes turned out in modern dress. Warlock himself is a near contemporary English composer, having died in 1930 at the age of 36.

The suite from the ballet "Billy the Kid" depicts incidents from the life of America's fabulous Billy the Kid. It was written for the American Ballet Caravan by Aaron Copland, contemporary American composer. Portrayed through the music is the story of Billy's escapades, beginning and ending on the open prairie. The audience will hear musical descriptions of the death of Billy's mother in a gun battle, the beginning of Billy's career as an outlaw, his capture by a posse and escape from jail, and eventual recapture on the prairie.

Completing the program is Ravel's "Bolero," which was written for the famous dancer Ida Rubenstein. The work has gained popularity through the hypnotic effect of its incessantly repeated slow, rhythmic melody and its quarter-of-an-hour crescendo, continuing from the first measure to the last.

Dunlap pointed out that anyone desiring a choice seat at this concert should come early. A capacity audience filled the auditorium at the first concert. Concerts are open to the public without charge.

Eight Retail Stores Plan Early Opening

Eight Plymouth stores announced this week that they will "jump the gun" on night opening for Christmas shopping this year by remaining open until 9:00 p.m. each evening beginning Friday, December 4 until Christmas.

An earlier vote by the retail merchants of the Chamber of Commerce called for night openings to begin Wednesday, December 9.

The eight stores opening nights beginning December 4 are: Capitol Shirt Shops, D & C Fashion Shoes, Graham's, Kresge's, Minerva's, Pape's and Plymouth Men's Wear.

The Chamber of Commerce announced this week that local stores had voted down a proposal to close on Saturday, December 26 and Saturday, January 2, 1954.

Annual Benefit Sale Announced By Rotary Anns

Mrs. L. H. Goddard announced today that the Plymouth Rotary Anns will sponsor the fifth annual sale of merchandise made by home bound handicapped children and adults. The sale will be held at the Stop and Shop December 1 through December 5. The Rotary Anns, with Mrs. George Mayhew, chairman, and Mrs. Frank Arlen, assisting, will be on hand to act as the salesladies. This sale is a part of their community service program.

The proceeds from the sale will be returned to the individual handicapped persons. Each of the articles for sale bears the name of the person who made the article. When a sale is made, the name and the price are recorded on the sales slip to facilitate the proper person getting the credit. Money from this sale constitutes a very important contribution to the income of these persons.

Articles for sale will include aprons, candles, Christmas stockings, handwoven rugs and place mats, baby clothes, embroidered pillow cases, ceramics, leather goods, and many other hand made items.

The instruction and supervision of the making of these articles is a part of the homebound Occupational Therapy program maintained by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, an Easter Seal Agency.

Practice for Pilgrim White Shrine will be held at the Masonic Temple on Sunday, November 29, 1:45 p.m. All officers must be present.

Thanksgiving Services Set By Churches

The Plymouth, England, from where the Pilgrim fathers embarked in September 16, 1620 and the Plymouth, Massachusetts, where they settled three months later were a far cry from looking like the city of today called Plymouth, Michigan but citizens of the Michigan community will follow the custom of these early settlers by giving thanks for their blessings.

Most churches of Plymouth are observing Thanksgiving this week with services either Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

A Union Thanksgiving Eve service will take place Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian church. All Protestant churches affiliated with the Plymouth Ministerial association will participate in these services. They include the Assembly of God, Salvation Army, Church of the Nazarene, First Baptist, St. John's Episcopal, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Calvary Baptist.

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church will have two identical Thanksgiving day services at the church. One will be at 8:45 and the other at 10 a.m. A children's choir will participate in the service. The adult choir will sing in the late service and each service will be 45 minutes in length.

At Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church, The Reverend Francis C. Byrne will conduct a Thanksgiving Mass at 8 a.m.

A service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at First Church of Christ Scientist. A Harvest Home Festival will be conducted at the Riverside Park Church of God on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Newburg Methodist church will unite with other churches in that community for Thanksgiving services. It will take place in St. Paul's Presbyterian church at Five Mile road and Arcola in Livonia.

For further information on church services, see The Mail church page.

Carriers Hold Drive For Muscular Dystrophy

Seven local mail carriers are conducting a drive for the muscular dystrophy campaign currently being held throughout the nation. Last week envelopes were passed out to all local residents, and Earl Foster, chairman, stated that already returns are coming in.

He has requested that residents leave their porch lights on Friday evening, November 27, if they wish to contribute to the drive. Persons on rural routes should put their donations in the mail boxes with the flag up.

Goodfellows Notice

President Fred Hadley has asked all Old Newsboys to mark the date, December 12, on their calendars for the sale of papers. He also reminded all shoppers to be out on that date to buy the papers so that the slogan "No Kiddie without a Christmas" can be carried out by the Goodfellows.

New Zoning Ordinance Given Okay

Students Get 2-Day Holiday This Week

There's hardly any need to remind the kids, but the parents may like to know officially that there is no school next Thursday or Friday. It's the annual Thanksgiving holiday, you know.

Unlike the schools, business will resume as usual in Plymouth Friday morning. The boys and girls will begin their next vacation on Wednesday, December 23 and the Christmas holiday will end Monday, January 4.

Plymouth will have a new zoning ordinance 21 days from now—the result of two years of work by the city planning commission and several months of consideration by the city commission.

Approval of the second and last reading of the ordinance was made at a special meeting of the city commission last night. First item on the agenda was a public hearing on the ordinance, one of several scores of hearings at which citizens were given a chance to present their objections and opinions of the ordinance.

Because of the nearly three hours needed to read the 49-page document (single spaced), commissioners decided two weeks ago to meet last night solely for the purpose of holding the hearing and reading the ordinance.

First reading of the zoning law took place at the August 17 meeting. The entire ordinance was read through again last night as the second reading while the third reading which followed immediately was by title only. The title of the ordinance is:

"An ordinance to provide for the establishment of districts or zones within which the use of land and structures, the height, the area, the size and location of buildings may be regulated, and to establish regulations within these districts for the light and ventilation of such buildings and to regulate the density of population within these districts or zones; to provide a method of administration and to prescribe penalties for the violation of its provisions."

Approval of the ordinance last night does not make it law yet. A waiting period of 21 days must first be observed during which the ordinance will be publically posted.

It was two years ago when the planning commission took on the work of drafting a new zoning law to take the place of an out-moded ordinance. Hundreds of protests have been heard by the planners, with two of the most vigorous coming from the city's merchants and from a group of South Main street homeowners. The merchants, through the Chamber of Commerce, strongly objected to the section requiring new business establishments or businesses making additions to provide a certain number of off-street parking stalls. Purchasing such off-street facilities would be "prohibitive," retailers argued.

This disagreement ended, however, when Mayor Russell Daane appointed an off-street parking committee consisting of two city commissioners, a planning commissioner and two Chamber of Commerce officials. Result of their study showed that the ordinance is the same or more lenient than other cities having zoning laws.

Merchants and some other citizens also disagreed with the section giving the planning commission power to approve or disapprove building plans before a building permit is issued. City commissioners also took exception to this section and requested that the planners eliminate it entirely. The planning commission conformed with the request "with regret," planning commission chairman Sidney Strong told the city fathers.

The planners also were requested by the city commission to change the proposed zoning of South Main street between Wing street and Ann Arbor road from local business and RI-A to commercial 2 classification.

Railroad Objects To Residential Zoning of Land

What appears to be the last major argument over the proposed zoning ordinance took place at the planning commission meeting last Thursday with the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad objecting to the zoning of 11 of their properties.

Thomas Loftus, industrial engineer for the C & O, strongly protested the residential zoning of lots north of Junction street adjacent to the railroad. The proposed zoning law placed these properties in the residential-2 classification. The railroad believes they should be zoned industrial.

The railroad spokesman said that the Harvey Container company has become a possible lessor of the properties. It was argued that the property was purchased on April 6, 1929 for railroad purposes and that homes subsequently built there have been put there with the knowledge of that fact.

It was also pointed out that property north of the railroad has been zoned industry by Plymouth township and that this is the only railroad property now vacant in the city.

The planning commission advised the railroad to submit a petition so that the planners can set a hearing for neighbors.

A Bully of a Story

"I know public notices are not very interesting, but they aren't this bad!" exclaimed City Clerk Lee BeGole as he arrived at the city's bulletin board in Kellogg park to post a notice last Friday.

With lipstick, someone had crossed the letters "etins" from the "Official Bulletins" lettering. It left the terse message: "Official Bull."

"I'm going to grab the bull by the horns and find out who did this," BeGole added.

No Action Taken By Draft Board

Colonel W. J. Myers, deputy state director of civil service stated to The Mail Monday that an immediate effort would be made by his department to find a suitable replacement on local board 102 for Mowry Arnold, who resigned last week.

The state office further pointed out that there were two vacancies on the local board and they were particularly interested in securing the services of some one from Plymouth and another member from Wayne.

No official meeting of the board has been held in Plymouth since the resignation was made public last week and the state director's office feels the matter was a clash of personalities. Colonel Myers will visit the city some time during the week of December first at which time consideration will be given the new appointments, he stated. He added, however, that there is a legal board now functioning with the three members consisting of chairman, Judge John Mokersky, Leonard Brokay and George Rose.

Floyd Burgett and William Michael returned to Plymouth on Saturday after hunting for a week in northern Michigan.

Samuel K. Stephens Weds Massachusetts Girl

Miss Diane Canham of Foxboro, Massachusetts was wed to Samuel Kingsley Stephens of Northville in a two o'clock double ring ceremony in the Bethany Congregational church in Foxboro on Saturday, November 7. The Reverend Martin Van Buren Sargent performed the afternoon rites.

Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Canham of East Dennis, Massachusetts, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha L. Stephens of Liberty, Tennessee.

Two large baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the church at the service when Mr. Canham gave his daughter in marriage. Music was provided by Miss Carolyn White whose selections included "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me."

The bride's gown was fashioned with a white satin bodice and skirt of nylon net over white satin which extended in a train. A satin band adorned with seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a white orchid centered on a white Bible.

Attending her as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice M. Canham of East Dennis, Massachusetts. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Barradas of Taunton, Massachusetts, Miss

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stephens

F. J. Reiman, Sr., Harold Behler and George Kaiser, all of Plymouth and Russell Reiman of Detroit are hunting in the Wolverine area. News received thus far reveals that three bucks have been shot.

A quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bakke, all of Robinson subdivision are still trekking through the woods near Rapid River in search of deer.

Local Hunters Record Lowest Deer Kill Because of Weather

Plymouth hunters for the most part had poor luck during the hunting season. Summer temperatures spoiled the season for most local parties and the absence of snow in the woods made hunting very difficult. So far as is known local nimrods, at this writing, have made the smallest kill ever recorded by Plymouth hunters.

Additional names of local residents securing deer hunting licenses are listed here. Three local stores had already sent their license books to Lansing so it is impossible to list all the 500 local residents that stalked the elusive deer.

Plan Organization of Air Reserve Unit

The initial organizational meeting of a Volunteer Air Reserve Training Flight will be held at the Chamber of Commerce building, 3747 South Wayne Road, Wayne, Michigan at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, December 2 according to Lieutenant Colonel James M. Cooper who commands Southern Michigan's 9127th Air Reserve Group.

Colonel Cooper stated that such a unit would serve to fill a longfelt need in the rapidly expanding Wayne metropolitan area. It will provide a convenient method of presenting training for air reserve activities. In addition, hundreds of air reserve officers and enlisted men in this area who have recently received notices from Tenth Air Force headquarters that their reserve status was endangered by reason of their failure to participate to the extent required by regulations may have another year in which to meet these requirements by affiliating themselves with this new unit.

He explained that the Volunteer Air Reserve is scaled to present training in such a manner as to create a minimum of inconvenience to reserve officers and airmen with heavy civilian commitments. The training is of a general nature and uniforms are not worn.

Attendance at this first meeting on December 2 will be the determining factor in deciding whether a Wayne air reserve unit will be organized, and all reservists who are interested make a special effort to be present.

Sunny Customers Never Crowd A Shady Store

No unholy inference is intended here. Just calling attention to my modern fluorescent lighting and the brightest drug store in Plymouth. You don't have to strike a match to pick out your holiday greeting cards here. The only dark corridors you'll find at Peterson's are in my head. How about stationery for Christmas? I just unpacked a beautiful new assortment of the loveliest stuff in Plymouth. Prices start at 79¢ for a really smart gift package!

Sound Off For Peterson

Maybe I do blow my own horn occasionally but I'm not staying at the thin end. The way my business is growing I may have to plow up more ground or add a second story. This idea is more than a whimsy because you just can't keep a big frog in a little pond. Drop in tomorrow, if you have to wait in line, don't get impatient. Remember it took a good line to encourage you to come in just to change a quarter.

I may get shaved or crowned before the old Plymouth Mail reaches your diggings. This morning she said to me, "Carl, you don't need whiskers to make a fool out of yourself—just act natural." That sure put a crimp in my Santa Claus caper just when it's beginning to pay off. Now I'm in the middle between the moths and a tempest in the family tepee. It puts me in a spin with no way out like a lunatic caught in a revolving door. Better bring me your gift list fast or you may be too late to meet the real Santa Claus. I'll be looking for you early tomorrow!

Give Dad An Even Break

Just because you're on the receiving end doesn't mean you should grab the last potato in the sack. What would you eat without the old breadwinner? So just move one decimal point to the right and tote home a Schick or Remington Electric Shaver for the old boy this Christmas.

I Often Take An Insult For A Civil Answer

Like when I asked the old lady if she would like a cushion for her false teeth, she flew right off the handle. Says she to me, "Peterson, your tongue is too long to be in your mouth, you ought to put it in your shoe." I was only trying to sell the lady some denture powder to keep her teeth from rattling. My goodness it's so hard to please some people.

Remember You've Got Relatives On Two Sides

Even your distant relatives get close to you at Christmas time and your near relatives bear down on you on four sides like chickens closing in on a mess of cracked corn. Last year I remembered everybody except my mother-in-law and I didn't get out on bail until January. Better revise your gift list again and don't forget poor old Peterson when you start out to buy the loot.

One Thoughtless Customer Let Me Down Yesterday

I can tell by the total on the till that somebody who started didn't get here. Seems to me I missed the fourteenth doll sale. Weren't you going to buy a doll for your little niece, Lulu, yesterday? Lady, if you're the missing customer, better get in here pronto. I've got dolls galore—baby dolls and dolls as big as baby sitters—talking dolls, walking dolls, mama dolls and nursing dolls — bisque dolls and plastic dolls — all at money-saving prices. Don't let my whiskers frighten you. I'm really as gentle as a toothless cocker spaniel.

Couple Dedicate Themselves To Translate Bible for Indians

"THAT'S WHERE WE'RE GOING TO LIVE," said Dean Saxton, Jr., indicating the Papago Indian reservation in Arizona. Both Dr. and Mrs. Saxton will move to the reservation the first of December where they will learn the Papago speech and then translate the New Testament into the Indians' language. Dr. Saxton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton of West Ann Arbor Tr.

A return to the primitive may describe the life of Dr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton, Jr. have selected for themselves. The young couple have dedicated themselves to bringing the Word of God to the Papago Indians of southern Arizona.

The Saxtons are planning the trek to the southwest around the first of December. With Sells, Arizona, the site of the agency for the Papago reservation, as their base, they will select the tribe with which they will live. The Papago erect two-room adobe houses, Mrs. Saxton said, so they will find one they deem suitable and rent it from the Indians. They hope to find a tribe which has electrical conveniences.

The Papago language, Dr. Saxton explained, has never been written down. Using phonetics, he will first make up primers with symbols for letters. This should take about two years, Dr. Saxton surmised, and then he can start on actual translation of the Bible. Dr. Saxton graduated in veterinary medicine from Michigan State college and attended the Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena. His training in scientific linguistics came through the Wycliffe Bible Translators. His wife, Lucille, graduated as a nurse from Cooper hospital and received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Hebrew and Greek from Shelton college. They met each other at the summer institute of linguistics sponsored by the Wycliff group and married in October, 1952.

Their training with the Wycliffe Translators included spending time in the "jungle", an area in Southern Mexico where the people learn to live with the minimum of equipment. The Saxtons became handy-men at making their own house and furniture, raising and finding food-in short, all the ways of living in a primitive civilization.

The Papago, with whom the Saxtons will live, are quite prosperous as Indian groups go. They make their living through cattle raising, though the excessive droughts that invade the area make the living rather poor. Since Dr. Saxton is a veterinarian, he felt he would be able to make friends easily with the Indians—in return for his professional advice. The area, he said, gets only from 5 to 20 inches of rain per year.

Translators working through the Wycliff organization receive their funds through pledges from churches and individuals. No appeal is made for these funds, as people voluntarily make the gifts. Pledges have come locally through the Calvary Baptist church.

The collection from the union Thanksgiving service planned for Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church will be given to Dr. Saxton to help him buy a new car for his trip to Arizona. Since they will be living right on the reservation a good car will be almost essential to the couple if they are to move around to any great extent.

As for their future, the work on the Papago reservation is but a prelude to the work they hope to accomplish among the South American Indians. Both have dedicated their lives to the task of spreading the Word of the Bible to the indigenous peoples who lack its learning.

St. John's Church To Hold Annual Women's Bazaar

The "White Christmas Bazaar" sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church promises to have all the sparkle and glitter of an old-fashioned white Christmas.

December 4 and 5 are the days chosen for the sale. It will be open at 2 a.m. until 10 on Friday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. The parish hall is located at Maple and Harvey streets.

Eight attractively decorated booths are planned for the customers so they may shop for holiday gifts.

In the "Country store" they will find shelves packed with jams, jellies, pickles and preserves, Chinese tea, pecans and farm produce.

The "Green's Shop" will feature plants, candles, Christmas greens and decorations.

A "Tea Shop" will provide a spot for refreshments for the convenience of the shopper.

A large well stocked baked goods booth will sell fruit cakes, plum puddings, decorated Christmas cookies and many other delicious items.

Three separate booths will hold the needlework of the church women. One will be a "Tot Shop," with children's clothing and toys. Another will feature quilts, household articles and miscellaneous gifts. In the third, aprons for all occasions, will be sold from the sheerest cocktail aprons to the denim "cobbler."

A novel fish pond will help the small fry purchase a surprise with their money, and in "Frosty the Showman's House" they can buy homemade candies of all kinds. Another bright spot will be the corner jewelry shoppe glittering with earrings, pins crosses and bone china tea cups and saucers.

A preview of some of the articles being offered for sale will be shown in down town store windows. Mrs. James Hardimon is general chairman of the affair.

Grange Gleanings

The Grange meeting of November 19 was a nice meeting. There was an average attendance, but a really congenial crowd and everyone seemed to be having a good time. Thirteen of the new members were present which is very good.

On December 10 we are planning and hoping that we may be able to take all our members to Tecumseh Grange for their third and fourth degrees. They have a fine degree team there, so let us hope for good weather.

Of course, you are all coming to the Grange dance on Saturday night, November 28. Bring your friends and neighbors. You will have a good time. If you do not care to dance you may play cards downstairs. Sandwiches and coffee will be for sale.

Provide Special Instruction To Improve Reading

Special equipment and an instructor are available this year at Plymouth high to students who wish to improve their reading habits.

Last year's high school Remedial Reading class has been entirely revised putting reading help entirely on a voluntary basis, thus making possible the limiting of the number of students in each class and individual instruction. "Many pupils", stated Barton Rogers, teacher in charge of the classes, "are able to improve their reading sufficiently in less than a semester and may discontinue the special instruction. Thus vacancies are created which may be filled by other pupils in need of help."

The equipment used for the development of reading skills includes material for practices and exercises which help students to learn meanings of new words, increase their vocabulary, choose the main ideas from each sentence or paragraph and note the method used in organizing sentences. An instrument which is known as the reading accelerator is employed for speeding up reading.

Plymouth elementary schools also operate the same type of a program with Marquerite Bromley as instructor. Thus aid in reading is available for pupils in all grades.

Sport Glances

Basketball will make its appearance for the first time this season on Friday, December 4, when the local cagers tangle with the Northville Mustangs here on that evening. Coach John Sandmann has three regulars back from last year's team, and will carry 15 men on the varsity squad this year. At this date he does not know what will constitute his starting lineup as most of the boys out are of equal caliber. Kenny Kisabeth, high-scoring forward who broke the school scoring record last season, will be back for the first semester only as he is a mid-year graduate.

The squad is a fairly tall one considering all the players as they average in the vicinity of 6 feet — Ron Pagenkopf stretches upwards the highest at 6 feet 4 inches, while Danny Clifford has the distinction of being the shortest at 5 feet 9 inches.

Most of the present squad played on the junior varsity last year as there are only four lettermen returning from the previous season. One thing you can be sure of is that Coach Sandmann will present a lineup that will provide as many thrills as that of the past few seasons.

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Many sports fans in this community have asked from time to time something concerning the background of the coaches at the high school. To provide this we are going to present articles throughout the year regarding the coaches, their work, background, etc.

A few older letter-winners and some more recent ones met the other night to discuss the possibility of forming an athletic alumni association. All present were most favorable toward such an organization and much enthusiasm was in evidence that night during the discussion. A meeting was planned for Sunday, December 6 to formulate plans and to organize. A more detailed report will be forthcoming in an article in next week's issue of this paper.

How about that 22 second football game the other day? For you fans who didn't hear about it—Vermontville and Bellevue played out a game that most thought had ended two weeks previous. Due to a referee's faulty judgment (they do make mistakes after all) the game was ordered played over from 22 seconds before the end of the contest. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of Bellevue with Vermontville having a first down on the Bellevue one yard line. Most would have bet that they would have cooked up a couple of tricky scoring plays to win the game, but they bucked the line twice and the defenders held to sustain the win they thought they had earned earlier. Just another screwy game this season.

I hope the Chamber of Commerce and the City Fathers come up with some gala decorations that will lend a more appropriate atmosphere to the best of all holidays—the Christmas season. Anyone who travels about in Michigan will see many small towns all decked out for this holiday occasion weeks before Christmas; they will have hundreds of boughs, small Christmas trees, carols being played constantly, colored lights strung across the streets and around light posts—all blended into one festive spirit. It does something to one. Other towns will have a few suggestive actions where the inhabitants find that Christmas is there before they know it.

The atmosphere gets people in the right spirit, and people in the right spirit buy more than otherwise. It just seems to me that it is good business to go all out for an appropriate holiday season.

Anyway there are 27 more shopping days until Christmas as this is being written.

Brides and horses both require grooms.

All Girls Party Event Scheduled For Today

The All Girls Party, one of the big events of the year, will be held Tuesday, November 24 in the high school auditorium. This annual teacher-student get-together is being sponsored by the Y-Teens.

Entertainment will be provided by each grade putting on a short skit. Although their contents were to be top secret, some information was available on the skits.

The senior skit will be centered around a chorus line with piano and trombone accompaniment featuring "Harlem Nocturne." Not to be outdone by the seniors, the juniors have planned a program based on the Ed Sullivan television show. Next in line come the sophomores with another television feature, "This is Your Life." The girls are planning a broadcast of the life story of one of the faculty. The theme of the freshmen skit remains a mystery to be solved Tuesday evening.

Following the student's skits, the teachers will stage a skit directed by Mrs. Virginia Calligari. Games and refreshments will top off the evening.

General chairman of the party is Marilou Truesdell with Sally Ford as skit chairman. Heading the skit committees are Jackie O'Neill, 12 grade; Nancy West, 11; Pat Clifford, 10; and Judy Ash, ninth.

The purpose of this annual social gathering is to help the girls get better acquainted with one another.

Isbister Speaks To University Group

The November 19 meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women was held at the Veteran's Memorial building.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Leon Scharmen, chairman of the education committee, introduced Russell Isbister, superintendent of Plymouth schools who talked on "Our Schools in Our Growing Community." Isbister presented a chart showing the relationship of the Plymouth Township School District in comparison with other school districts of Wayne county and a chart pointing out the interaction between school and community in Plymouth. His explanation of these charts stimulated members into a discussion of the problem of the teacher shortage and the teacher's status in present day communities.

Miss Edna Allen presided at the tea table, decorated with a cornucopia of bitter-sweet. Hostesses serving tea cookies were the members of the education committee.

Guests for the evening were the executive board members of the local Parent-Teachers associations. Mrs. R. M. Bennett of Livonia was introduced as a new member of A. A. U. W.

CURTIS LANGDON, HOTEL MAYFLOWER CHEF for 17 years gives the secret of his famous Pilgrim stuffing to hotel manager, Ralph Lorenz to make public for local housewives in case they are searching for a new recipe this year. The recipe came to the hotel from an early Pilgrim cookbook and is known to be at least 315 years of age. Pilgrim stuffing for a 14 to 16 pound turkey is made as follows:

- 1 onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 qts. crumbled cornbread
- 2 c. chopped nuts (put black walnuts if possible)
- 1 c. chopped celery
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. sage
- 2 eggs beaten
- 1/2 c. melted fat
- Thin slices of salt pork
- 1 c. tomato juice

Fry the onions golden brown in the butter or margarine. Add cornbread, nuts, celery, seasonings and eggs. Mix well. Stuff turkey and place breast down in roaster containing melted fat. Cover the back of the bird with salt pork. Roast at 350 degrees for 3 1/2 hrs. Remove the pork strips and add tomato juice. Roast 30 minutes longer basting with tomato juice three times.

giving and Margaret Stremich watches chef Brit Crowthers put the finishing touches on one of his fine birds in preparation for the coming holiday. Chestnut dressing for a 10 to 12 pound turkey as made by chef Crowthers is done as follows:

Cover 1 pound of chestnuts with boiling beef stock, or, falling this, with equal parts of boiling water and Pique seasoning, and cook for 15 minutes, or until tender; drain, remove shells and inner brown skin with sharp pointed knife, then slice. Brown 1/3 cup of onions in 1/2 cup of bacon drippings over a gentle heat until just beginning to take on a light brown color, stirring frequently; then add 3 tablespoons each of finely chopped parsley, chives and green pepper, and season with 2 teaspoons of salt, 1 teaspoon of sage, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper, 1/2 teaspoon each of thyme, mace, nutmeg and marjoram. Remove from the fire, stir in 6 lightly packed cups of soft bread crumbs, and the sliced chestnuts. Mix thoroughly and cool before using.

Youth was served again this week in the season's final "Pick-the-winners" football contest as 10-year-old David Fehlig, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fehlig of 382 Adams, took away top honors, Minnesota-Wisconsin and Stanford-California. He picked the Detroit Lions to top the Bears 20 to 17, just one point off the final score of 20 to 16!

Several other contestants also submitted entries with only two wrong selections, but none did as well as Dave on picking the professional game score. Dave is an avid sports fan who, because of an illness which hospitalized him last summer, has had to forego playing but has kept up on all the sports news in the papers. He is a 6th grade student at Bird school.

Marbelle Finney of 9026 Butwell, Livonia, held up the feminine contestants by winning second prize of $7, while Herbert F. Swanson, Jr. of 875 Wing street took third place. It is the second time Swanson has been a winner in the contest.

Durando-Hayes Meet at Olympia

Ernie Durando, the Bayonne, New Jersey middleweight contender, puts his championship aspirations on the line against clever Norman Hayes in the next IBC headline bout at the Olympia Wednesday, December 2.

It is a scrap in which Durando has much to lose and little to gain. At the moment, the New Jersey kayo artist is one of the hottest middleweights on the globe as a consequence of his recent knockout triumph over Charles Humez in Paris. Humez was rated second among the middleweight challengers before Durando sent him down to the first kayo loss of his career.

Hayes has been inactive since he went into the Army last May, but he will be ready for Durando. He has been serving as a boxing instructor in the Army's Special Services. And he has been working out each afternoon in Washington with Holly Mims, a top flight middle who has beaten Johnny Bratton and Lester Felton, among others.

Coach Charles Ketterer awarded all 32 members of his co-champion football team varsity letters at the honor assembly held in the local high school on last Wednesday.

No junior varsity letters were given because of only a small number of candidates reporting for football. Only seven of these letters will be given to seniors which will give next year's varsity 25 returning lettermen and a squad with plenty of experience.

Lindy Mills.

Next on the program Larry Livingston, band director, presented Janet Mulholland, Jackie O'Neil, Janice Kowalcik and Dawn Huebler with awards for serving two years or more as varsity majorettes.

Konrad Moiso concluded the program by giving eight varsity cross-country letters. The only senior to receive a letter was Lynn Becker, while juniors Bob Danol, Tom Davis, Bob Middleton, Dave Daly, Wayne Smith, Russ Mecklenburg and sophomore Pete Schipper were also given letters. This will give Coach Moiso a very strong outfit next year.

With 35 men reporting to the first practice, John McFall's varsity swimming team opens its second year of existence.

Frank Sullivan will assist in the coaching duties of this year's swimming outfit.

More Maple Trees Planted by City

Seventy-seven more trees are being planted by the city in addition to the 100 planted several weeks ago, City Manager A. Glassford reported.

After the job of planting 100 trees was completed, the city decided to purchase 25 more. Then the Garling Construction company said that they would like 52 trees for their housing project. The trees will be sold to Garling for $10 apiece.

The new order of trees is again sugar maple, Glassford said. Elm trees had been planted in years past but threat of the Dutch Elm disease was lessened the desire for that species.

Industries Get Notice of Sewer Tax Assessment

Larger Plymouth and Plymouth township industrial firms are receiving notices from the Wayne county drain commission informing them of the company's tax share of the Middle Rouge will be able to pay their share in Interceptor sewer and that they advance to avoid costly interest.

Christopher Mulle, county drain commissioner, said that the large concerns were contacted about the tax and then followed up with letters informing them of the assessment. The first part of the assessment will be on the city or township tax roll on December 1 while part two of the plan calls for the total amount to be paid or held in escrow within the next year.

By payment of these large shares in advance, Mulle said, the companies will be able to escape the interest and also reduce interest payments for all taxpayers since the more of a bond issue that can be paid in advance, the less the interest payments will be.

Mulle said that such a plan could not be worked out for all individual tax payers since there are 75,000 of them and their average payment will be only a few dollars a year.

Commissioners Consider New Parking Lot

Another special meeting of the city commission has been called for tonight, this time to consider purchase of more off-street parking facilities.

It was at the November 16 meeting of the commission that they heard of the Chamber of Commerce plan to combine donations from merchants with city funds to purchase properties on the east side of Harvey street between Wing street and Ann Arbor trail for more parking space. Since options on the properties and the pledges and cash gifts were to expire December 1, the off-street parking committee headed by Edwin Schrader urged commission action before that date.

Commissioners argued, however, that they needed additional time to consider the expenditure. Since a special meeting was called for last night to discuss the zoning ordinance, commissioners did not want to get into the parking situation at that meeting. It was decided late last week to call the special meeting tonight.

With the cost of the project estimated at $33,480, cash and pledges from store and building owners now totals $10,200. Mrs. Dunning has offered to hold contracts from the city for $18,000, leaving $5,280 to be paid from the city's contingent fund. Revenue from meters is then expected to repay Mrs. Dunning and the contingent fund.

This is the fourth meeting of the commission this month. Two of the meetings were regular gatherings while two others were special meetings.

Enjoying a father and son hunting expedition are Clarence and Richard Thomas of Hart-sough avenue. The duet are hunting near Greenbush.

Boys Threaten Local Citizen

An 18-year-old Plymouth youth who allegedly threatened a Plymouth high school teacher with a wrench last Saturday night will appear before Municipal judge Nandino Perlongo this week.

The boy and three 16-year-old friends appeared at the teacher's home at 11:30 p.m. Saturday where one of the four accused the teacher of slapping his cousin. Though the wrench was not used, the teacher called police who apprehended the quartet and took them to police headquarters.

Clyde Southerland and Carron Williams of Starkweather avenue were recent Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Conn of Northville road.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road have returned from a week's vacation in Little Rock, Arkansas where they visited relatives.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. James Sexton adds the chili hot brown beans to her chili.

Chili Con Carne

Mrs. James Sexton of 1043 Penniman avenue has had a big family to feed, and topping the family's list is her recipe for chili con carne. She particularly finds it ideal when she intends going out of town, because she can just cook up a batch and leave it for her husband, Judge Sexton, or the children to warm up.

Chili is ideal, of course, for this time of year when something warm tastes good. What makes Mrs. Sexton's chili a little different from other chili recipes is the fact that she uses chili hot brown beans instead of the usual kidney beans. This eliminates some of the work of preparing chili.

- Chili Con Carne
- 1/2 pound bacon
 - 1 pound ground steak
 - 1 medium size onion
 - 3 sticks celery
 - 1 green pepper
 - 3 cans chili hot brown beans
- Dice the bacon and onion and brown together with the celery and green pepper. Then add the meat and continue to brown. Pour the three cans of beans in with the mixture and simmer until the meat is tender. This will take from approximately 15 to 20 minutes. Mrs. Sexton explained that the tomato puree is included in the cans of beans so none need be added. The recipe will serve six.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA

Riverside Church of God

ASSEMBLY OF GOD members hope to start work soon to plan the building of the sketch shown here. Reverend Jones is pictured with one of the famous lithographs of Christ which the Assembly of God distributes through its huge printing company.

Riverside Church of God Serves Three Communities

When one travels across the nation and observes a church labeled "Church of God," they may be seeing a church belonging to one of more than a half dozen denominations using that name. The Plymouth area's Riverside Church of God is a member of the largest and first Church of God groups.

Located at Plymouth and Newburg roads, Riverside Church of God draws its membership equally from Plymouth, Livonia and Wayne. It was started in 1933 by members of the North-western Church of God congregation located on Schaffer road. Members living in this area believing that their number was strong enough to start a church of their own, held their first meetings in the home of Grover Funck on Ford road.

Subsequently meetings were held in the Canton Center school and finally in their present church home which was built in 1949 while under the leadership of the Reverend R. M. McPherson.

With a church membership of about 100 and a Sunday school enrollment of nearly 150, the Riverside Church of God is about to launch plans for a new church. They recently purchased a parsonage costing $14,000 located at 292 Arthur street.

The national Church of God unit, with headquarters in Anderson, Indiana, has a membership of some 150,000 and a Sunday school enrollment of twice that number. The church is more concentrated in the Midwestern states of Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois as well as West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

It was the year 1880 when Daniel S. Warner and other ministers severed their connection with "humanly organized churches" and maintained that the scriptural, all-sufficient standard for Christians is membership in the body of Christ alone. On this account Brother Warner and his associates made an attempt to organize a church along denominational lines but contended that spiritual fellowship with Christ and each other and devotion to scriptural ideals constitute a sufficient bond for the followers of Christ.

It is the belief of members that since Christians should be united in this way, they have no objection to any congregation calling themselves a Church of God. They declared, "The church of God is an institution into which people are brought by the experience of regeneration. Church membership is by faith exactly the same as salvation is by faith. A congregation assembles voluntarily, but it must not create an organization nor a written creed barring any regenerated member of the body of Christ."

"We do not believe that any man can organize the church—membership in it is by faith," they claim. Nevertheless the activities of the church may be organized, especially the connectional, benevolent, missionary and educational work which must be done in the world at large and cannot be managed by any congregation alone.

The first of these "connectional" agencies was the publishing of a periodical by Warner called the "Gospel Trumpet" which he started to effect a medium of contact with others of like belief and conviction. The Gospel Trumpet Company of today is one of the prides of Church of God members. Located in Anderson, the large and modern plant turns out church books and literature on a huge scale. The movement also is responsible for the distribution of Solla's painting of Christ which is familiar to most people.

Other services performed jointly by members of the movement is the World Service program. Donations toward World Service have jumped from $109,000 in 1940 to one million dollars last year. The Missionary Board carries on mission work in a dozen foreign countries and has a co-operative relationship between congregations in nine European and South American countries. There are about 600 congregations and 60,000 adherents in countries outside North America.

The church also maintains a home mission program and an educational program. Three institutions supported by the church are the Anderson College and Theological Seminary, the Pacific Bible college and Alberta (Canada) Bible Institute. Other united work carried on by the church is a nationwide radio broadcast, the National Woman's Missionary society and the International Camp meeting.

Pastor of the Riverside Church of God is the Reverend E. B. Jones, a native of Charleston, West Virginia. He is a graduate of the Anderson Theological Seminary. He has served as pastor in North Carolina and Pennsylvania before coming to Plymouth in August. Reverend and Mrs. Jones have a son, six, and two girls, one and two years old.

Is hypnosis a true remedial agent? This important question is explained in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday November 29, under the title: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alis Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God."

Among the Bible citations in this passage, (Ps. 62:11): "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God."

Correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Evil is a negation, because it is the absence of truth. It is nothing, because it is the absence of something. It is unreal, because it presupposes the absence of God, the omnipotent and omnipresent. Every mortal must learn that there is neither power nor reality in evil." (p. 186)

Christian Science To Hold Services Thanksgiving

As is customary in all Christian Science churches, a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving Day in Plymouth in the First Church of Christ Scientist, corner of Main and Dodge streets at 10:30 a.m. Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for healings and other help which they have received during the past year.

The Golden Text from Revelation (7:12) is appropriate for the occasion and reads: "Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever."

The Bible citations include Psalms (103: 1, 2): "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits."

Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, (p. 3) will be the reading: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks."

Harvest Home Festival To Be Held At Church

Parishioners of the Riverside Park Church of God will have a harvest home festival prior to Thanksgiving. Members of the congregation will meet at the church on November 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Reverend Jones, pastor of the denomination will start the program with an opening prayer, which will be followed by choir singing, "God of Our Fathers." Appropriate hymns and readings will be presented throughout the service.

Various members of the congregation will assist the pastor in the service. Evelyn Freyman will recite a poem, Bill Pryor will lead the group in the responsive reading and Harold Smith will give the closing prayer.

The choir will render several anthems and soloists will be Arthur Freed and Wilma Majors. Reverend Jones will give the sermon.

Proceeds for the service will go to the Benevolence committee, who in turn will make up Thanksgiving baskets for the needy.

In Memoriam 28

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, who passed away one year ago November 26.

The moon and stars are shining on a cold and silent grave. Beneath it lies a dear one for whom we tried, but could not save.

Sadly missed by your wife Marion and Family.

THERE ARE 150 DOLLS shown here ready for the Goodfellows to distribute to underprivileged children in the area. The dolls were judged at Barnes-Gibson-Raymond last Friday by (left to right) Vi Sparkman, Bette Stohr and E. F. Faigle, all of the local Kresge company. Most of the tailor-made doll clothing was made by Barnes-Gibson-Raymond employees or their wives and Plymouth high school home economic students. First prize went to Irene Bonkowski of Detroit, who was last year's winner. Other winners from second to sixth were Irene Sparks of Detroit, Mrs. P. Welch of Detroit, Mary Reilly, Harper Woods, and Sophie Sales of Detroit. All are workers at Barnes-Gibson-Raymond. Isabel St. Louis and Lillian Paine, nurses at Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, were in charge of the collection.

CONGRATULATIONS on receiving his registered architect certificate are extended to Plymouthite Byron H. Becker, right, by L. Rossetti, of Giffels & Valet, Inc. (Becker, an employee of the firm) was given the certificate by the State Board of Examiners in the Rackham building, Saturday, November 14.

Becker Receives Chitect in Detroit As Registered Arctect in Detroit

Byron H. Becker of 1455 Pennington avenue received his registered architect certificate from the State Board of Examiners in Detroit's Rackham building, Saturday, November 14. Becker is a job captain with the firm of Giffels & Valet, Inc., L. Rossetti, architect.

Becker received his degree of Bachelor of Engineering in architecture from the Detroit Institute of Technology in 1933. His early work included plans for the Plymouth Mail building in conjunction with Thomas W. Moss, Becker, and a member of Giffels & Valet, Inc., also designed the Plymouth Branch of the Wayne County Library on Main street. His most recent commission is a firehouse at the corner of Spring and Holbrook for the Plymouth City Commission.

Rossetti, in commenting on Becker's work with Giffels & Valet, Inc. for the last 13 years said, "During that time he participated in jobs of considerable magnitude in various parts of the country, notably the Firestone Tire Plant in Pottstown, Pennsylvania, and schools, hospitals and various types of buildings."

He continued, "In the immediate area he has made important contributions to the design of plants for the Budd company, Chrysler Corporation, Ford Motor company, Kelsey-Hayes and King-Seeley."

The firm itself has designed many buildings in and around Plymouth. These include the plants for Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, Ford Motor company in Northville and Newburg, Lincoln-Mercury at Wayne, and Evans Products.

Becker is a native of Plymouth, is married and has three children. In civic activity he is a Kiwanis past-president. He drew the plans for the local Girl Scout cabin without fee and helped his fellow Kiwanians construct it.

NEWS

Future Homemakers Club to Make Service Basket for Needy Family

The Future Homemakers of America club of Plymouth high school has chosen Joan Redd, Mildred Redd & Lillian Graham to serve as a committee to supervise preparing a service basket for a needy family. The name of the recipient will be secured from Mary Strasen, school nurse. All club members are to bring items for the basket which will be donated for Thanksgiving.

In the home economics department a group of girls from Pauline Morgan and Jean Ross' classes volunteered to dress 19 dolls for the Whitman and Barnes company to give to underprivileged children for Christmas. Each of the girls used her own originality, creation, design and time for making the tailored outfits. Some of the dolls are dressed in corduroy, plaids, flannels, tweeds while others are in baby dresses and rompers and one in a hand crocheted dress.

Girls who volunteered to make the dolls were Kerstie Schipper, Ruth Ann Kinsey, Brenda Jewell, Lee Waran, Janet Main, Pat Wil-

Girls Organize Teams For Volley Ball Meets

Over 60 girls came out to form six teams at the first meeting, November 10, held for volleyball practice and team organization. The teams are grouped together according to classes to stimulate competition.

At the second meeting team captains and clever names were chosen for the teams. Captains are: 12th grade, Volley Bums; Shirley Carter; 11th grade, Drag-onettes, Jean Rowe; 10th grade, Crazy Mixed Up Kids, Lidia Menhace; ninth grade, Jolly Volley, Carol Karnatz; eighth grade, Hepcats, Sally Gyde.

Mrs. Louise Cigile, gym director, supervises the game while Jean Rowe, student sports instructor, plans the schedule, takes roll call, and checks nets and balls. The girls plan to play until mid-December.

The toils of law, what dark insidious men
How cumbersome added to perplex the truth,
And lengthen simple justice into trade.

Teachers To See Films At Meeting Next Week

"For Teachers Only," a film poking fun at teachers will be shown at the program of the Teachers' club meeting. The movie should take from 15 to 20 minutes, showing such things as baby pictures.

The Teachers' club meeting will be held at the Starkweather elementary school Tuesday, December 1. The meeting will begin with refreshments served by teachers of the host school and will be followed by the usual business meeting at 3:45 p.m.

We get a few compliments from time to time, which are not deserved and probably not meant.

6-B League Schyol Advisors Plan To Hold Annual Dinner Meeting Here

By John Small

Advisors and their guests from the 6B League schools will have an opportunity to discuss common problems facing their respective districts at the annual Christmas dinner and meeting, held December 7, at the Mayflower hotel and Plymouth high school building.

Various faculty members and advisors will represent their specific departments of Plymouth high school in the matters brought to attention at the meeting after the dinner.

Carvel M. Bentley, principal of Plymouth high school and president of the group this year, will preside at the dinner program.

The following will represent Plymouth high school: The athletic department's advisors, Charles Ketterer, John McFall, John Sandmann, Gustave Gorguze, Konrad Moasio, Keith Baughman, William Harding, and Frank Sullivan will attend discussions on numerous sport activities. The girl's athletic department instructors will consist of Mrs. Louise Cigile and Mrs. Dolores Caldwell.

Miss Dorothy Midgley will represent the speech department, while Miss Irene Walldorf will be the Student Council representative.

Advisors Lawrence Livingston and Fred Nelson will represent the music department in problems and discussions brought to attention concerning the latest music group plans.

Representing the journalism departments will be Mrs. Nancy Coates, Plymouth staff supervisor and Miss Elizabeth McDonald, Pilgrim Prints advisor.

Observe Book Week At School

National Book Week was celebrated with a display of 100 books at the high school library arranged by the librarian, Patrick Butler. This is the 35th annual celebration of National Book Week, which is actually November 16-20 but was celebrated at Plymouth high school in conjunction with National Education Week, November 9-13.

Some of the more interesting books displayed were a two-volume set of "Life In America" by Marshall B. Davidson, which is a complete history of the country; "James Audubon's Animals" by John James Audubon, a book of pictures and paintings of all the animals of North America; "Look at America" by the editors of Look magazine, telling what people know and do not know about America.

A few outstanding autobiographies are "The Spirit of St. Louis" by Charles Lindbergh; "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover: The Cabinet and the Presidency;" and "Gilbert and Sullivan, Masters of Mirth and Melody" by Clark Purdy.

Humorous books out are "Family Reunion" by Ogden Nash and "The Peuple, Yes" by Carl Sandburg, both humorous verse type publications.

Roberta Lidgard Wins T.B. Oratory Contest

"Dreaming of a White Christmas," was the title of Roberta Lidgard's winning speech in the T. B. oratorical contest which was held on November 19 in room 25. Her essay will be entered in state competition which will be judged in Lansing.

This state-wide contest is being sponsored by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit. Miss Dorothy Midgley was the teacher-sponsor for the Plymouth high school contest.

Chips from the ROCK

Best story to come out of a hunting camp this year comes from the Robert Willoughby lodge at Lake Horicon. Members of the party included Dr. A. C. Williams and son, Robert Willoughby and son, Carl Peterson and son, Russell Holmes and son, Carl Wahl, Robert Marsden and Ricky Thompson. No bucks were accounted for by this group, but to get full benefit of the outing and enjoy the beautiful climate, several members of the party sunbathed and swam in the inviting waters of the lake. The air was a balmy 65 degrees and the water 42.

Golfing friends of Edwin Schrader are convinced he is a slow starter on the golf course, and the long summer season makes him a difficult man to beat. In a round with Nat Sibbold, L. B. Rice and Ralph Lorenz last weekend at Casey Partridge's sporty course he shot his best round of the year.

The same round was not so good for hotel manager Ralph Lorenz however, who used for the second time his new $35.00 caddie cart won in the city golf tournament a few weeks ago. With only one other person on the course except the foursome Lorenz thought it safe to leave his cart on a tee when the handle came off. After playing three more holes he went back to get the cart and found it had departed with the single golfer who took off for parts unknown.

Lorenz had luck didn't stop on the golf course however, because when he returned to the hotel he found his meat cutter had cut 22 beautiful steaks and delivered them to the chef for serving during the dinner hour. About 10 minutes after the meat was put in the kitchen where some 10 people were busy, the first order for steaks came from the dining room. The chef turned to his work table to pick up two steaks and the entire 22 were gone, and as far as is known at this writing they are back on the hoof somewhere between here and Texas.

Tip for travelers. A local resident (name withheld on request) and his wife in a party of four other friends were planning a cruise to Hong Kong early next spring. When telling Charles Wilson, Secretary of Defense, of his plans one day recently in Detroit Mr. Wilson said . . . Go no further west than Hawaii because travel beyond that point is not safe under present conditions.

We don't know at this writing what athletic director changed his vote to send Michigan State to the Rose Bowl but we do hope that from the beginning Ann Arbor's Fritz Crisler was voting for State and in case he wasn't that it was his vote which was switched to send the Spartans to California. It can't be overlooked that both schools are located in Michigan and each should always be ready to befriend the other.

Small world . . . last summer a grocer in Harrisville told my wife that there was a nice Plymouth family camped at the state park there. My better half wrote me the tip and on the weekend I took my camera north in the hopes of getting a good local picture. Saturday morning we dropped into a small antique shop near Harrisville and the proprietor knowing we were from Plymouth mentioned the same family and told us that one of the two boys from Plymouth had visited his store with his mother and became so infatuated with an old antique apple peeler that he wouldn't leave without it. Neither knew the family's name. We searched the sprawling camp grounds for two days but we never located the family to get our picture. At last Sunday's dinner, our son who had spent Saturday night at the Russell Isbister home, told us how nice, young Bob's room was and added . . . gee Dad, you should see the swell apple peeler that Bob bought up in Harrisville last summer.

DECEMBER ANGELS

The Michigan Farm Bureau, spokesman for nearly 60,000 farm families and the Michigan Grange, leader for some 30,000 members held their annual conventions recently. If you analyze their resolutions carefully, you'll be fully convinced that the two groups constitute collectively, in spirit at least, a "voice" representative of the thinking of Michigan farmers who are a sturdy and independent lot.

"Who shall speak for farmers?" asks a Farm Bureau resolution. It "deplores the attempts of federal government action agency groups to speak," stating, "Only farm organizations maintained through the initiative and voluntary membership of farm people themselves can adequately and truly represent farmers."

Hottest political stand is that supporting the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson. Farm Bureau members offer this support completely. Their resolution also charges that "unwarranted attacks are made upon his administration by the very individuals and interests that are chiefly responsible for creating the problems he inherited."

The Bureau also backs the controversial reorganization of the U. S. D. A., which somehow has become confused with lack of support by the administration for soil conservation. Carl Buskirk, Paw Paw, president of Michigan Farm Bureau, said soil conservation would be supplied more efficiently under the new plan. "What some people are really worried about is job conservation," he said.

"Everyone seems in favor of government economy until the loss of job situation arises" the president continued. "Then economy seems to take on an 'evil' aspect."

"We keenly resent this sinister trend." That's a quote from a Bureau resolution which refers to politics in the state department of Agriculture.

The Michigan State Grange makes itself equally clear on the same subject by charging that Gov. Williams violated the intent of the 1945 "bipartisanship" statute by "replacing members (of the agricultural commission) whose terms of office have expired regardless of their ability, qualifications or periods of efficient service."

Both groups were talking about the controversial firing this summer of Charles Figy, director of agriculture, and the subsequent replacing of commissioners who opposed the action.

The Grange also expressed fear that the state fair board will be subjected to even more pronounced political pressures. This they hoped to avert by proposing that control of fair be transferred from the board to the agricultural commission to solve the problem. It urges more study.

Most important and far-reaching Farm Bureau resolution in the opinion of its spokesmen, is the stand it takes on research and education.

Termining price supports and stabilization plans "temporary and economic pain killers at best," the resolution calls for study to find new uses for farm products and higher return from land under cultivation.

"Only through an accelerated program of research and education can the farmer receive a fair return for his investment and labor, and provide a dependable, adequate supply of food and fiber for the consumer," says Clark L. Brody, vice president of the Bureau.

"High price supports are hard on the integrity of a nation," he said. "It presents a difficult ethical problem to farmers when they are paid money for crops that they know are not put to efficient use."

A state speed limit is backed by the Grange. They suggest a 60 mile an hour limit by day; 50 mph after dark. The Bureau, however, is not sure a speed limit will solve the problem. It urges more study.

Support for distributing money from sales tax on a current basis is forth coming from both groups. This matter is expected to be considered in the next session of the legislature under a bill proposed by Rep. Rollo C. Conlin, (R Lenawee). Under the present system there is a two year lag between the time sales tax money is collected and the time it is returned to local branches of government.

Township government, now under attack as unfair and inefficient, also gets backing of both groups. "We believe in home rule, but we also realize that we must be willing to do our part to make good government a reality in our local communities," reads a Farm Bureau resolution.

Other subjects advocated by the Grange include: no limits on earnings of people drawing social security benefits; hospital privileges for osteopathic physicians; uniform inter and intra state traffic laws.

Grange resolutions opposed: voting rights for 18 year olds; lifetime front and rear license plates; additional fortification of milk, which would be a move "to turn it into a patent medicine."

There was approval from the Farm Bureau for: improved state grading; uniform Sunday hunting regulations on a regional basis; promotion of the "Ask the Farmer First" campaign for hunters.

Bureau resolutions were against: changes in the state sales tax diversion plan; taxation on a state equalization plan; compulsory social security for farmers; a federal sales tax.

These policies were expressed only after much serious thinking and discussion. The responsibility for them was keenly felt. This is best demonstrated by a few lines in the foreword of the Farm Bureau list of resolutions. They read: "We cannot, as the spokesman for nearly 60,000 Michigan farm families, afford the luxury of unsound decisions.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

Babson Park, Massachusetts. Although I own a 12,000-acre ranch in Florida, I have never gone in for livestock raising; hence, I am by no means an expert on this branch of agriculture. What I have to say on the subject is purely from the layman's point of view.

HEADACHES IN THE CATTLE COUNTRY

The cattle business is an up-and-down affair, and is one in which the inexperienced operator can lose his shirt. For about a dozen war and postwar years the industry prospered. Everyone in it was making money, and as a consequence everyone wanted "to get into the act," with or without experience. The big operators also expanded, despite high prices for stockers and feeders. Cattle numbers increased rapidly, until the number on U. S. farms hit an all-time high of 93,696,000 head as of January 1, 1953. The number on feed on that date also stood at a record high of 5,836,000 head—16% above a year earlier. The cattle cycle trend cannot quickly be altered.

Attractive prices were the chief expansion lure. Weekly average cattle prices had soared to $37.35 a hundredweight by September, 1951. In April, 1951, prices of heavy steers at Chicago stood at $43.50. But trouble in the form of drought was brewing in the Southwest. Prolonged hot, dry weather scorched the Southwest and other areas in 1952 and 1953. Pastures virtually evaporated. Feed shortages mounted in the stricken areas. Many ranchers had no alternative but to rush their cattle to market. As a result, the bottom fell out. Cattle prices at Chicago recently averaged $25.40; heavy steer prices $29.75. Many cattle raisers today are in serious difficulty.

The Law of Action and Reaction applies as much to the cattle industry as it does to any other industry, or to the entire national economy. Over expansion in any direction inevitably leads to a readjustment, which often is painful. We appear to be at or near a cyclical peak in the number of cattle; the next broad move will be down. Even so, the number of cattle on farms next January may not differ materially from that of a year earlier. This means that slaughter and supplies of beef will continue large, seasonal factors considered. Bearish factors, however, now appear to be fairly well discounted, barring a further serious drought or a sharp business recession. Florida surely should do better.

Many cattle producers are asking for Government support; but many others want to stand on their own feet and see the thing through. I doubt that Uncle Sam will support cattle prices; but may extend aid to drought-stricken sections. Smart cattle men who tend their own cattle, with ample pasture and feed, should be able to make money in cattle next year. But it remains an uncertain enterprise for the inexperienced and those who do not ride the ranches themselves. It is fraught with risk, yet full of challenge for the man with livestock in his blood and know-how in his head.

ACTION AND REACTION

The Law of Action and Reaction applies as much to the cattle industry as it does to any other industry, or to the entire national economy. Over expansion in any direction inevitably leads to a readjustment, which often is painful. We appear to be at or near a cyclical peak in the number of cattle; the next broad move will be down. Even so, the number of cattle on farms next January may not differ materially from that of a year earlier. This means that slaughter and supplies of beef will continue large, seasonal factors considered. Bearish factors, however, now appear to be fairly well discounted, barring a further serious drought or a sharp business recession. Florida surely should do better.

Many cattle producers are asking for Government support; but many others want to stand on their own feet and see the thing through. I doubt that Uncle Sam will support cattle prices; but may extend aid to drought-stricken sections. Smart cattle men who tend their own cattle, with ample pasture and feed, should be able to make money in cattle next year. But it remains an uncertain enterprise for the inexperienced and those who do not ride the ranches themselves. It is fraught with risk, yet full of challenge for the man with livestock in his blood and know-how in his head.

HOG GROWERS DOING ALL RIGHT

The hog cycle is a short-term affair and is more closely under the control of the producer than is the case with cattle. The so-called hog-corn ratio is the determining factor. U. S. hog production hit a record high of 101,811,000 head in 1951. This year's indicated crop of some 84,000,000 head is a five-year low and prices have been correspondingly higher, in fact, than in any other years except 1947 and 1948.

What is the outlook for next year? With the hog-corn ratio currently around 15.0, compared with 11.9 a year ago, I forecast an increase in hog production. The 1954 spring pig crop may top that of a year earlier by 5% or more. These larger supplies will not come on the market until the second half of next year. Prices in the fall of 1945, as a result of increased marketings, may show more than the usual seasonal decline. Although hog prices currently are under mild seasonal pressure, they should be followed by a good recovery later.

WHAT ABOUT SHEEP I am not optimistic over the sheep outlook. The industry has been on the downgrade in the U. S. since 1942. Feeble attempts at expansion were made in 1951 and 1952, but were not sustained. Increased production costs, plus stiff competition from foreign wool and synthetic fibers, argue against any major upturn in domestic sheep numbers over the next few years.

Shutter NEWS

There is something of a running battle between photographers who prefer to work in the sunlight and those who favor shooting in the shade. To our way of thinking, both have certain advantages and drawbacks, so a choice boils down to satisfying your needs at a given time.

Sunlight, for example, has a satisfying constancy. Follow prescribed instructions and any camera owner can expose color or black-and-white with uniform result. Shade, on the other hand, must be constantly checked with an exposure meter, but it does provide pictures with delicate and natural modeling.

Sun flatters a girl's figure in a full length shot, but is tricky for closeups of the face, while shade, properly utilized, offers a richer, gentler treatment.

Whichever medium you choose demands rather strict observance of basic rules. Work with them and—sun or shade—the results will be satisfying.

And a visit to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER will also be satisfying, for we have the largest stock of photographic equipment in Plymouth . . . and we do CAMERA REPAIRING as well. Come to 821 West Ann Arbor Trail and let us show you how to make GOOD pictures even BETTER!

Advise Stout Women On How to Dress Well

How does the stout woman achieve the well dressed appearance she desires? She concentrates on choosing flattering textures, colors and lines.

In choosing textures, she will choose firm weaves in woolens rather than the loose spongy wools. She selects these with a dull and soft surface rather than a shiny one. Soft pliable textures suit her better than wiry ones.

Transparent materials such as chiffon act like a magnifying glass over fleshy arms and shoulders, so she resists them. Dainty materials like dotted Swiss or nets are out of key with the large person, too.

When selecting colors, she aims for figure flattery as well as for personal coloring flattery. She may wear black if it happens to be becoming to her, but does not feel limited to it. Harsh bright tones in any hue are not happy choices. She more likely chooses colors grayed enough to be subtle—whether light or dark.

She will avoid pronounced dark and light contrast in her ensemble.

Costumes are planned so that there is a feeling of "oneness." Jackets and skirts must match.

She may use a contrast near the face in collar or scarf or on the hat but she never scatters such accents over her costume. This would only emphasize the bulkiness of the figure.

In silhouettes the straight line is her happiest choice. Swagger cuts extend her size and closely fitted lines reveal over-rounded curves.

When choosing accessories—hat, purse and jewelry—the stout woman is advised to keep these parts of her ensemble in scale with herself.

Size is always a matter of comparison, accessory sizes should be chosen to flatter the entire figure.

The stout woman will avoid the dainty fragile accessories which tend to coarsen her contrast. Far better, for instance, that there be a certain boldness to the ring or clip or pin she chooses to wear.

Although purse and hat should be in scale, she should avoid a bulky, cumbersome effect.

Accessories should be simple, depending upon excellent line instead of trimming or decoration. Colored gloves and contrasting colored shoes are not for the stout woman, either.

The slightest suggestion of fussiness will destroy the smart becomingness of her costume, since above all else she must be neat and trim.

Freezing is a satisfactory method of preserving game. Consult your conservation official or your local locker operator for regulations regarding legal periods of storage for game. The same general methods of preparation for freezing are recommended as for other meats and poultry. Wrap carefully to prevent drying out and tainting of other things in storage.

Meal-In-One-Plate

Here's a combination that's sure to increase the popularity rating of any hostess. These melt-in-your-mouth finger sandwiches are designed for the bridge luncheon or evening refreshments.

Half moons of Boston Brown bread, spread with delicate-flavored cream cheese; deviled ham finger sandwiches garnished with parsley tips; home made date nut bread spread with butter and cut in squares; triangles of white bread with tuna or crab meat filling; and open face rounds of salt rye spread with nippy cheese and garnished with stuffed olives. This gives variety aplenty in shape, color and flavor.

If you envy the hostess who has an extra pair of hands to make such attractive tidbits possible and still stay in the living room to greet and visit with her guests—fret no more—there is a way to have maid service niceties without the maid! Thanks to a new transparent, protective food wrapping material made of saran, you can prepare completely the sandwich plate or a delicate salad hours ahead of time and leave them in the refrigerator until the very minute you are ready to seat your guests and pour the coffee. Another feature of the new plastic wrap is its ability to cling to the plate so that no tape or string is necessary.

The tuna filling sandwich is the only one requiring a recipe:

Tuna or Crab Meat Sandwich Filling
(Makes 12 to 16 Sandwich Triangles)

Mix together with fork, in order given:

6 oz. (about 1 cup) tuna fish, minced	1 teaspoon finely diced green pepper
2 teaspoons lemon juice	1 teaspoon finely diced pimiento
1/4 cup finely chopped celery	1/2 cup boiled salad dressing or mayonnaise (enough to make good spreading consistency)
1 teaspoon finely minced mild onion

Use thinly sliced white bread. Spread with butter or mayonnaise and trim crusts. Spread evenly with filling. Cover with second slice of buttered bread. Cut into triangles or fingers.

It's an idea—use bits of leftover Thanksgiving turkey in this recipe in place of tuna fish, and omit the lemon. Or you can pinch pennies by using peanut butter instead of crab meat with equally satisfactory results.

If You Have A Home Freezer Learn to Make the Most of It

Are you making the most of your home freezer? It is wise to buy foods when you can take advantage of special prices. Today with plentiful supplies of beef coming to market, you will wisely add to your freezer a quantity of beef cuts.

When packing meat for freezing, have it cut the right size for your family meals or for guest meals. Clearly mark each package accordingly so you quickly choose it from the freezer.

It is highly important that you wrap meat so that air cannot reach the meat surface. A number of wrappings on the market may be used. If you purchase meat from self-service market unwrap it, then place in regular freezing wrappings before freezing.

Frozen meat may be defrosted before or during cooking. If before cooking, defrost either in the refrigerator or at room temperature. Of course defrosting time depends upon the temperature and the size. Chunky pieces take a longer period than thin cuts. Wrapped frozen meat, likewise, takes longer than unwrapped meat.

When preparing a frozen roast you can estimate cooking time by allowing approximately 1/3 to 1/2 again as long as those which have been defrosted. Steaks or chops to be coated with batter or with crumbs should be defrosted before cooking. Thick frozen steaks and chops must be broiled more slowly than defrosted steaks or chops in order that the meat will be cooked to the doneness desired without becoming too brown on the outside.

What size home freezer do you need? The answer differs for each family but most families will want to plan six cubic feet of space per person. If you plan to use the freezer merely to supplement storage of foods in a commercial freezer plant, then three cubic feet per family member is enough. But if you plan to store most of your food for the year and if there will be an overlapping of storage time—better allow 10 cubic feet per family member.

Here Is Efficient Way to Prepare Your Thanksgiving Turkey Dinner

Here is one of the best ways to prepare for that old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner. Write out your Thanksgiving menu. List separately all the foodstuffs needed to prepare it.

Buy a hen turkey if you want one of 8 to 15 lbs. Tom turkeys are better for an 18 to 25 lb. bird. Be sure it has a flexible, tipped breastbone. In buying your turkey allow 3-4 lb. of full-drawn turkey (minus head, feet or organs) per person.

After stuffing, truss the bird by shaping the wings akimbo. Next tie the drumstick ends together and tie securely to tail. Brush the salted and peppered bird thoroughly with melted fat; then place in refrigerator until time to roast. When ready to cook, place, breast side up, on wire rack in open roasting pan. Dip a piece of cheese cloth in melted fat; lay it over top of bird. Roast in an oven of 300 degrees as follows:

Drawn Weight and Approximate Roasting Time.

7 to 10 lbs., 30 min. per lb.
10 to 15 lbs., 20 min. per lb.
15 to 18 lbs., 18 minutes per lb.
18 to 20 lbs., 15 min. per lb.

Cook turkey giblets 4 hours. Simmer them tender the day before adding the liver the last 15 minutes of cooking. A stick of celery and a slice of onion may be added to the cooking water. After cooking, cool quickly by setting in a pan of cold water; store in refrigerator. Use chopped giblets in stuffing, gravy or a sandwich filling. Use giblet water in gravy.

First Course Fruits

10 balls honeydew melon
Orange juice
6 raspberries
1 sprig mint
1-4 section lime

Arrange honeydew balls, which have been allowed to stand in orange juice for 30 min. Add large raspberries. Garnish with sprig of mint and juice of lime. This is an individual serving.

Cream Nut Rolls

1 cup coffee cream
1 cake yeast
1 cup butter or margarine
5 egg yolks
3 cups flour
1-3 cup sugar
1 cup chopped fine blanched almonds.

Scald cream and cool to lukewarm, dissolve yeast in lukewarm cream. Cream butter thoroughly. Add yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour alternately with yeast mixture to creamed butter and egg yolks. Beat thoroughly. Chill dough in refrigerator over night. Mix sugar and nut meats. Sprinkle half of mixture on bread board. Divide dough in half. Roll out each portion on the sugar and nuts, until 1-8 inch thick. Roll up as for jelly roll. Cut in 1-2 inch slices. Place on greased baking sheet 1 1-2 inches apart. Let rise until light, (about 1 hour). Bake

PLYMOUTH COLONY SUBDIVISION is one of the newest and most beautiful residential areas being built up locally. Plastic House, Electronic Heating, Seeing Telephone Seen As Reality Within 10 Years

By 1963, homes may be made partly of plastic, will have electronically-controlled air conditioning and heating, probably will include a seeing telephone and may receive electricity from an atomic power plant, an authority of automatic controls predicted this week.

"We are entering an automatic world where electronics will do things for us we cannot now imagine," John E. Haines, vice president of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, told the Nebraska Chapter of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, at Omaha. Declaring that engineering and research would result in "tremendous technological advances in every direction," Haines predicted that within the next 10 years:

Atomic energy will be commonly used to create electrical power, drive ships, airplanes and submarines.

Residential air conditioning will become as commonplace as automatic heating is today, and will be controlled electronically.

Homes, commercial and industrial buildings will become more functional, yet better in appearance, and lower in cost. Plastics will replace metals and building materials, and complete buildings will be built of plastic materials.

Planes will fly non-stop around the world in less than 18 hours. Guided missiles or rockets will reach the moon.

Haines, who also is a vice president of the ASHVE, said that in the electronic world we are now entering "transmission of power and signals of all types will eliminate wires and cables, television-telephones will be in common use and transistors will soon be available to eliminate (vacuum) tubes.

"Many processes and even complete manufacturing plants will become almost completely automatic," he added. "During the next ten years, the engineer will really come into his own and be recognized as the leader in the growth and progress of our country."

All of these developments, he said, will result in continued improvement in our standard of living, our health and comfort.

Haines predicted that individual and two-family homes will increase during the next 10 years to more than 1,100,000 starts in 1963, with a few ups and downs on the way.

Similar expansion in the construction of commercial buildings, hospitals, schools and highways should keep the annual rate of spending for all construction at its present high levels and result in an increase of at least 20 per cent by 1963, he said. Construction has risen 300 per cent — to $33 1/3 billion — during the past decade.

In the home field, Haines said, the sale of automatic central heating units will reach 2 million annually by 1963. The total number in use by then should be about 25 million. Today there are about 14 million — an increase from 4,600,000 in 1943.

Central air conditioning in homes is just now getting a good start and should rise to more than half a million units by 1963. The air conditioning industry as a whole should reach a retail sales volume of $5 billion in 1936, as compared to $2 billion in 1953, he said.

DESIGN C-134-C. Exterior walls are concrete blocks with stucco finish, stripped on the inside for lath and plaster. There is a full basement and, on the first floor, three bedrooms at the rear, living room and combination kitchen-dining unit with large corner windows in the front. A small hall serves all rooms. Storage space consists of wardrobe closets in the bedrooms, two closets and linen closet in the hall, coat closets in the living room and side entry. Plans also show a covered entrance double glazed picture window, corrugated glass entrance partition and a fireplace. The floor area is 1150 sq. ft. and cube is 23,000 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN C-134-C, write The Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

CHOOSE GOOD LUMBER

Lumber used for scaffolding should be reasonably straight grained and free of large knots, cracks, dry rot, and wormholes. For best results in painting, a smooth, free-and-easy stroke should be cultivated by the home handyman. If brush strokes are too short and jerky, the finished paint job will have an uneven surface.

Masonite Presdwood is produced in two modern plants — Laurel, Miss., and Ukiah, Calif., in the heart of great forest areas.

No living room is complete without paintings to hang on the walls. Jerry Pease has come up with a dreamy idea of how to get the lovely paintings and maybe win yourself some money too. You see, Pease Paint and Wallpaper is sponsoring an art contest offering prizes of $75, $50 and $25. And you don't have to be real talented either, because you just paint by number. Anyway, you buy one of the Craftint sets—three canvases for

$3.95, paint them, and submit the best at the store by January 9. Who knows, if you win you'd have that much more money toward your pet redecorating project. Say, have you seen the Delfair plank flooring with the simulated wood pegs. They really give floors an atmosphere of picturesque charm, because they're so much like those made by the country's early craftsmen. I heard about this flooring when I stopped into Roberts Supply a couple of days ago. The Delfair company also supplies flooring in something called Oakblok which I hear is very popular. The Oakblok gives the floor a basket-weave effect which could be used in either a large or small home. It's supposed to be an especially adaptable flooring for over concrete. I imagine you noticed that Bill Otwell is celebrating his fifth anniversary of Plymouth business. During the week he's offering those wonderful Winkler low pressure oil burners for only $495—that's $40 off, and nothing to be sneezed at. And you're guaranteed one year free service. By converting your furnace to oil Otwell says you're sure to realize a fuel saving. It might make a nice Thanksgiving Day gift for yourself — and it would be something to be thankful for on all the following days as well.

The Home, Too, Is 3-D; Check Your Walls to Find Storage Possibilities

The solution to most storage problems, according to an article in the current edition of Home Modernizing magazine, lies in remembering that a home, like the newest movies, is 3-D. Generous storage facilities can be added to any home without sacrificing vital square footage of floor space by looking up—up along lazy walls. No home uses all its wall area. All have many blank wall spaces that will accommodate built-ins and shelves—perhaps even generous closets. And the homeowner will find that by using built-ins to replace present storage furniture, such as chests, wardrobes and desks, he will actually save floor space.

The magazine lists these standards for determining the adequacy of storage space: Size—storage units should be big enough to take care of all present and foreseeable needs; accessibility—proper design eliminates the frustrations of groping into blind corners or having to reach over a large object to find a small one; efficiency—storage units should be planned to accommodate the objects that will be stored there with a minimum of waste space; flexibility—as years pass, habits of a family change, its possessions change and increase; storage facilities should be planned to allow adjustment for these changes.

A blank wall in this living room (above) can be made to provide generous storage facilities in the manner shown in the drawing below. The same solution can be applied to any room in any home.

Home Kitchen Design Should Pay Heed To Working Wife

Kitchens should be designed with more thought to the woman who works outside the home. New U. S. Labor Department statistics show that more than half of all working women are married. In addition to holding down an office or factory job, they are also chief cooks and bottle washers in kitchens that often make home work hard rather than easy.

To be easy and pleasant to work in, every kitchen needs these features, home economists pointed out:

1. Easily cleaned and maintained surfaces. Dish washing and clean-up chores are lightened by the use of such materials as clay tile, which is not damaged by water, grease or sunlight. Clay tile surfaces are permanent.
2. Good arrangement of equipment. A good rule of thumb is that the distance between sink, refrigerator and range, known as the work triangle, should not exceed 22 feet.

3. Adequate storage. A recent study of 100 new homes showed that 80 per cent had insufficient kitchen base and wall cabinets. Storage is needed at the range, the sink and the refrigerator.

4. Colorful decoration. Color often determines a woman's mood as she works. All white kitchens, dark ones and those in weak pastels are dull places to work in. Strong, clear colors in the kitchen make work easier.

5. Sufficient lighting. A single ceiling light strows the homemaker's shadow across work surfaces. Additional lighting is therefore a requisite.

6. Energy-saving devices. A kitchen stool, for example, is a must.

Co-op Housing Won't Be Minimized—F. H. A.

WASHINGTON—Cooperative housing "has more than demonstrated that it is a worthwhile and important part of the overall housing program of the U. S. government," Guy T. O. Hollyday, federal housing commissioner, wrote the Cooperative League, November 13.

FHA has guaranteed repayment of $211 million in private loans on 22,625 co-op dwellings since the program started three years ago.

Co-op housing "has achieved remarkable public support in that brief period," Hollyday said. "Not only is it self-supporting, but it has brought some revenue to the government. It provides housing without subsidy to middle-income families, who, unless they pooled their capital, might not be able to finance their own homes."

Merging co-op housing with other multi-unit projects was for "economy," Hollyday said, and it was not the intent of Congress "to destroy or minimize the cooperative housing program."

In reply, Jerry Voorhis, the League's executive director, said, "We look to the future with much greater hope than we did prior to receipt of your letter."

Chapter Members Hear History Of Revolutionary War Songs

Daughters of the American Revolution, Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Mack on Penniman avenue on Monday, November 16 at 1 p.m.

Members of the organization heard Mrs. Donald O. Brown of Ann Arbor trace the history of early American music from the days of the Pilgrims through the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key. Hymns, folk songs and Revolutionary War songs were discussed by Mrs. Brown. Later she played some recordings of compositions by Billings which were composed before the Revolutionary War. Among the early American hymns were "Rock of Ages" and "How Firm a Foundation." "Chester," "Liberty Song" and a series of "Fireside Songs" were listed as Revolutionary War songs.

Drums and trumpets were some of the early instruments which were used by the military forces. Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, is regarded as the first composer, and he was a harpsicordist.

During the war when the soldiers would sing "Yankee Doodle" the British would laugh and scoff at them, later it became a song of victors. Stephen Foster initiated some of the early American folk songs and still later ministers composed the various Christmas songs. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing on Church street for their December meeting. Frank Henderson, local industrialist will be the guest speaker. He will give his impressions of the Passion Play.

Timpona Predicts All-Time Record Christmas Mail

Christmas got its official welcome today, as Postmaster George Timpona predicted the volume of holiday mail may exceed the all-time high of cancellations recorded here in 1952. Local residents and business firms alike were reminded by the Postmaster, "Correct and careful mailing is just as important as early mailing. Perhaps more so. Any unnecessary delay may prevent delivery of your Christmas cards and gifts by December 25."

Postmaster Timpona lists haste and carelessness as chief troublemakers for postal employees, and quickly adds:

There is no good reason for either. People still have a week or ten days for leisurely shopping. During that time give your Christmas card list a thorough going over. Be sure you have everyone's full name, street and number, city, zone and state. "Estimate the number of stamps you will need. Stock up on a supply of heavy wrapping paper, strong cord and parcel post labels. Then you'll be safely over the first hurdle in the race against time." The important thing, of course is to get started now. If all gift packages are mailed by December 5, and all Christmas cards by December 15, they will arrive shortly before Santa.

Sports and games should not be taken too seriously, or they lose their value.

Plan Three-Day Event to Open Shelden Center

A three-day program of activities is being planned for December 3, 4 and 5 to celebrate the opening of Shelden Center, a shopping area located at the intersection of Plymouth and Farmington roads, Livonia. Appearances of local choral groups, bands, radio and television personalities and a square dance will highlight the inaugural celebration.

Jess Ziegler, mayor of Livonia, in a statement welcoming the new merchants to Livonia, declares that "the project is a major milestone in Livonia's forward progress."

The mayor's statement continues to point out the phenomenal growth of Livonia from a rural township of 8,000 to a modern city with a population of 35,000. Mayor Ziegler states, "Now the shopping center has arrived to fill a vital commercial role in our city. I am pleased that the residents of Livonia can avail themselves of the products and services offered by this modern business district."

Shelden Center will service the residents of Northville, Farmington, Plymouth, Redford, Canton and Nankin, in addition to Livonians.

Civic officials will be on hand to participate in the spectacular celebration during the first three days of business. The Choral group from Madonna college, Livonia, and the Livonia Civic Chorus will sing Christmas carols. A 30-foot Christmas tree will be erected in front of the shopping district, through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation.

As the construction and development of Shelden Center nears completion, Livonia's Department of Public Works is putting finishing touches on the new paved stretch of Farmington road, south of the Plymouth intersection.

Begin Search for City's Oldest Bible

How old is the oldest Bible in Plymouth?

A local church, spurred by the American Bible Society's annual Bible reading campaign, from Thanksgiving to Christmas, has started a drive to find out.

Merton Henry, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist church here, announced today a city-wide contest will be conducted from now until November 30 in a search for Scriptures, any version printed in English, with the earliest history.

"Is there a Bible in Plymouth which crossed the country in a covered wagon in early American history; which had part in the California Gold Rush of 1848-49; went to the Yukon with someone in search for gold in 1886-96; could we hope to find one from the Civil or Revolutionary war days?" asks Pastor Henry. "It is expected that some rare examples will be reported," the minister said.

Last year more than 14,000,000 families in 38 countries united in the plan of daily reading the Bible at this season. It is hoped that number can be doubled this year.

The award for possessing the outstanding Bible will be a new Bible of exceptional quality. Pastor Henry said. The winning Bible will be placed on display in the window of Dave Galin and Son Appliances on Penniman avenue where also the names of the persons leading with the oldest Bibles will be posted.

Owners of the Bibles will not be expected to give them up. The only requirement is that they furnish proof of the publication date.

"The date is obscure in some cases," Pastor Henry pointed out, "but often a figure giving month and year is stamped at the bottom of one of the back pages."

Family histories may also give a clue.

Persons wishing to enter their Bible in the contest are asked to call or write Pastor Henry. His telephone number is 1226-J and his address is 429 West Ann Arbor trail; or call 2243-M if not able to contact the pastor.

If an owner is not able to present the Bible personally, an inspector will be sent on request to his home to examine the volume and enter its characteristics in the record.

IN AN EFFORT TO BETTER ORGANIZE the cancer dressing program in Plymouth, members of the local unit of the American Cancer Society and local organization heads got together for a meeting Wednesday, November 11, in the Veterans' Memorial building. Cancer dressings are made by local women's clubs from materials supplied by the cancer unit. The unit then distributes them to cancer patients. Pictured here are only representatives from a part of the local organizations engaging in the project. Left to right, they are: Mrs. Harry Bartel, secretary-treasurer of the local unit; Mrs. William Norman, public relations director; Mrs. Harlow Ingall, South Salem Sunshine club; Mrs. Gus Lundquist, cancer dressing chairman; Mrs. Edward Walton, cancer dressing custodian; Mrs. Robert Archer, Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary; and Mrs. Sam Newingham, Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

Memorial Gifts To Hospital Fund Reach $132,680

$132,680 in memorial gifts has been submitted to date, according to the St. Mary Hospital Building Fund Campaign committee. A memorial gift is a room or an item, in the hospital, which can be designated as a memorial to a loved one.

Mrs. Walter K. Sumner, memorial chairman in Plymouth, pointed out that a memorial can be obtained at a cost of less than

98 cents a day. She said, "I can think of no better way to preserve the memory of someone dear than to have some part of our new hospital dedicated to his or her memory. Those who can afford a memorial should consider this plan seriously."

Memorial donors living in the communities which will be served by St. Mary hospital are as follows: Sterling Eaton, William E. Gapein, Frank Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kenrl, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell, Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., as well as several anonymous donors, of Plymouth; Bernard C. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Coolman, Dr. Joseph J. Gadbaw, W. J. Gardner, Dr. Lee Halstead, Herbert W. Hart, Mrs. Jennie Smith, Hart, Joseph Hummel, spach, Mrs. George Hohwart, Frank J. Knight, Dr. Theodore W. Ling, Sebastian Mancuso, Karl Ritter and Mrs. Edward W. Smith of Farmington; Henry Alper, Edward Conway, Charles Cook, W. W. Edgar, A. H. Etterheimer, The Felician Sisters, O. S. F. Rocco Ferrera, Abe Green, Dr. Louis M. Hotchkiss, Madonna College Alumnae, Dr. I. J. Palmisano, Dr. O. P. Rosbalt, Tony Rossi, Dr. George R. Rovin, Max Stollman, Phillip Stollman, and Harry S. Wolfe of Livonia; Dr. R. M. Atchison, King's Daughters, Mayor Langfield, Dr. I. L. Sparling, and Dr. R. G. Wetterstrom of Northville; Automotive Rubber Company, Inc., Dr. M. J. Franjae, and the George Trapp company of Redford.

The campaign committee has decided to conduct the door-to-door canvass of the neighborhood after January 1. This allows time for recruiting an even greater number of workers. Although the response on the part of the volunteer workers has been gratifying, it is necessary that more be enlisted in order that the task of visiting all the homes in the community be carried out more effectively.

Mrs. Austin Stecker, chairman of the community appeal committee, publicly stated her appreciation of the cooperation shown on all levels. She further stated that she was certain that the enthusiasm shown by her committee will be maintained throughout the community appeal phase of the campaign.

Physicians stated yesterday that Bert Swadling, owner of the Plymouth Grill, who has been seriously ill, several weeks from blood poisoning is now definitely on the road to recovery and will probably be able to be back at his duties within the next week or so.

Just as interested in Plymouth and affairs of the world as he was more than three quarters of a century ago Louis J. Hollaway, 216 North Harvey street last Thursday celebrated his 91st birthday—and his birthday anniversary schedule always include a call at The Plymouth Mail.

Michael Pavelka, who lives on Joy road south of Plymouth, brought home a 200 pound black bear from the Grand Lake country north of Alpena.

City manager Clarence H. Elliott spoke before the regional planning conference meeting at Detroit Tuesday.

Fire destroyed the trailer home of Richard Lunsford at Brush and Main streets at 12:45 p.m. Monday afternoon. Fire chief Fred Wagenschutz estimated the damage at $300.

The home of Mrs. Otto Kaiser of Ann Arbor road, about a mile west of the city, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon along with all of the contents.

There will be a regular meeting of the lodge on Friday, November 27. Another popular baked goods auction has been planned for the evening entertainment. Plan to attend and bring your donations. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of new kitchen towels.

Remember and plan to attend our annual roast beef supper on Friday, December 4, at the I. O. O. F. hall. The public is invited to attend the dinner which will be served from 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 457-W or 1559. Tickets are available now or may be purchased at the door.

Sixty members attended our last meeting, including 28 members from Novi lodge and 16 past noble grands. Barbara Campbell was initiated as a new member.

Little Miss Carrie Hamilton gave a nutting party at her home Saturday afternoon to some 24 other young friends. Nuts were piled in hiding in every part of the house and the young people were sent out to find them.

Two rigs, one containing Perry Shaw and companion named Rhode and the other Clarence Patterson and the Misses Edna and Lottie McKeever, came in collision on Ann Arbor street, opposite the fairgrounds, Sunday evening. The latter rig was overturned and the occupants thrown out, but all escaped without injuries. The horse broke a way from the buggy and ran down town where he was caught. Jay Burr returned from Ann Arbor hospital Tuesday, where he had been on account of the bad condition of his injured finger, blood poisoning having set in. The member was again amputated and it is expected will now heal without further trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jolliffe and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Eetch started this Friday morning for St. Thomas, Canada, for a few days visit with friends there.

The Plymouth creamery is making 500 pounds of butter per day and yet finds the demand more than they can supply.

George Sims, driver of Rauch & Son's delivery wagon, accidentally collided with a rig driven by Willie Sly and brother, students of the school, last Monday, taking off one of the rear wheels.

Oscar Minekly, of Livonia, while driving on Main street last Friday, met a street car in front of Baker's photograph gallery. Knowing that his horse would "act up", he got out of his vehicle and took him by the bits to hold him. The horse, however, threw him down and trampled upon him, injuring him about the head and rendering him unconscious.

Many of our citizens have expressed the desire to visit the Temple theatre in Detroit, where little June Pelton appears next week.

Miss Libbie Alexander and friend Miss Mary Pihl after spending a few weeks as the guest of R. L. Alexander and family, returned to Wayne last Saturday. Miss Alexander, who for the last 15 years has been a teacher in the Hawaiian Islands brought many souvenirs of that strange land. Miss Pihl is a native Hawaiian girl who was both pupil and fellow-teacher of Miss Alexander.

Thanksgiving
Thanksgiving is the traditional time to pause and count our blessings.
As Americans, we can take comfort and hope from our country's great progress since the first Thanksgiving was celebrated by our Pilgrim forefathers over three hundred years ago.
The men and women of A&P gratefully join our fellow citizens in giving thanks for the freedom and good living we enjoy in this bountiful land of ours.
