Goodfellows' Goal Topped With $1,820

Plymouth area residents responded to the Goodfellows annual newspaper sale here last Saturday by topping the $1,500 goal by $320, it was announced this week by the Goodfellows president, Fred Hadley.

Thus it is assured that no family in the area will go without a Christmas with gifts. Committees have been working during the past month to classify families slated for aid and lists of clothing, toys and food are being prepared so that deliveries can be made the day before Christmas.

Goodfellows manned nearly every strategic point in the city Saturday loaded with special edition newspapers headlining the Goodfellow program. A total of 5,500 newspapers was sold during the day. Of the $1,820 collected, $450 was donated by employees of the Burroughs corporation.

Hadley states that there still are some donations not included in the total.

The Goodfellows endured some cold and blustery weather to sell their newspapers on the street Saturday. The day started with a breakfast at Starkweather school. They then paraded down Main street and assumed their posts.

A wholehearted statement of "thanks" is being given by the Goodfellows to Plymouth citizens for their support of the paper sale.

Pleads Not Guilty To First Degree Murder Charge

A plea of "not guilty" was entered in circuit court in Ann Arbor Monday morning by James Anderson, 29, who is charged with the first degree murder of his brother-in-law, Norman C. Little, former Plymouth resident.

Anderson, the father of four children, has been held in Washtenaw county jail since the slaying November 6. The two men were driving on Plymouth-Ann Arbor road near Ford road when Anderson allegedly shot Little twice with a revolver. Anderson, whose home is at 5820 Joy road in Superior township, was charged with first degree murder at a hearing December 3.

Anderson's wife has secured Clifford Manwaring, Plymouth attorney, to defend her husband. Manwaring said that he entered the "not guilty" plea for his client since there appeared to be no premeditation in the slaying which would call for the first degree murder charge.

Manwaring stated that it was just a matter of two intoxicated men playing around with guns. Little was driving Anderson home when the incident took place. The car apparently swerved into a ditch after Little was shot. Anderson later surrendered himself and his gun to state police without resistance.

Funeral services for Little were held in Plymouth. His recent home was in Nankin township.

Gets Appointment on National Committee

Hotel Mayflower manager Ralph Lorenz was honored this week when he was appointed to the American Hotel Association small hotel committee. The appointment was made by National chairman George Small and the work of the committee is done for the 4,000 hotels which come under the classification in this country.

Buy Florida Garage

Plymouthites visiting Florida this winter will have a new convenient stop to get motor repairs or car service if they visit the West Palm Beach Ford garage purchased this week by Mr. and Mrs. Bev Smith of Plymouth.

Believes Rust Being Eliminated

Indications show that the city's attempt to eliminate rust in the water mains is working. City Manager Al Glassford said this week as he looked over reports of the situation.

The Public Works department has been turning on hydrants throughout the city in order to flush the iron algae which has been collecting in the mains. The condition has been particularly noticeable on Monday mornings when housewives want to do their washing. Algae discolors clothing and housewives in turn have been passing their complaints on to the city hall.

The worsened condition on Monday mornings is believed due to the greater abundance of water used by industry as they begin their work week.

Some hydrants were first flushed last Thursday and Friday and the job will be completed today and tomorrow. Glassford says that perhaps flushing the mains four times a year would remedy the situation. Police received a call from a woman last week saying that she believed some boys had turned on a hydrant in her neighborhood. Investigation showed that it was the public works crew flushing the mains.

County Sells Middle Rouge Sewer Bonds

A group of 15 bond dealers headed by Braun, Bosworth & Co., Inc., of Toledo and First of Michigan corporation of Detroit, was the successful bidder for $3,565,000 in drain bonds to be issued by the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor Drain District. The sale was completed Monday.

The Middle Rouge drain project has an area of 115 square miles and includes Plymouth and most of Plymouth township. It is designed to connect the existing Middle Rouge Parkway and Lola Valley Interceptors with the Detroit sewer system so that sewage may be conveyed to the Detroit treatment plant for treatment.

Interest rates will range from one and one-half per cent to three per cent with the net interest cost to the county drain district averaging 3.08 per cent. Maturities are due from 1955 to 1969. A second group of 10 bond dealers headed by the Central Republic company, Chicago, bid an average of 3.20 per cent.

Burglars Leave Tools and Hat In Hasty Retreat

Burglars made a hasty retreat from the West Bros. Appliance store on South Main Street last Monday night when an alarm system went off. In fact, their exit was so sudden that they forgot their tools and a hat.

Store manager Earl West was returning to his car beside the store following a meeting at the Mayflower hotel when the alarm system went off. All the lights in the store are turned on when this happens. Thinking that some door had perhaps blown ajar, West casually walked into the store for an investigation.

On the second floor he felt a breeze, looked up and saw the skylight open. His hand came upon a flashlight which he used to see in his climb to close the window. West then realized it wasn't any flashlight he had seen before. Nearby he found a large screwdriver, a pinbar and a felt hat, none of which were familiar.

Police are now holding the tools and the hat to continue their investigation of the attempted theft.

Santa's Schedule Nearly Full Because of Mail Classified

Santa Claus will be a busy man Christmas Eve and Christmas morning, thanks to a classified advertisement he placed in The Mail last week.

The Santa Claus under discussion spends the other 364 days of the year being Bill Farwell, 169 Adams street. Bill placed a classified in The Mail offering his services as "Plymouth's finest, available by appointment for Christmas Eve or Christmas morning."

By Monday night he had 17 appointments on his schedule. Santa's first visit will be at 7:15 p.m. on Christmas Eve and he will keep going until 11 o'clock. He will then begin more visits the next morning. Bill says he still has a few visits open on his schedule.

Christmas Buying Rush Zooms Sales

Brisk Christmas business started cash registers ringing in alarm-clock fashion last weekend as the pre-holiday season slump experienced by some merchants came to an end. At least two Plymouth merchants reported that last Saturday set all-time sales records in their stores. Shoppers seemed to pick no favorites in types of stores as heavy gains over the same weekend last year were made by men's, women's, grocery and hardware lines.

Solve Those Gift Shopping Problems

Last minute Christmas shoppers are given a break this week, for this issue of The Plymouth Mail carries a column giving hints on what to buy those many people on your gift list. Reporter Sue Stratton, who made a tour of the local stores picking out some of the best Christmas buys, is passing along the information to you.

With only seven more shopping days until Christmas you will want to be able to find things as quickly as possible. You are sure to get done that much sooner if you know what you want and where to buy it. And that is where the column comes in to help. See it on page 5, section 3.

Lions to Assist Salvation Army In Christmas Sale

The Christmas issue of the "War Cry," publication of the Salvation Army, will be sold by members of the local Lions club on Friday, December 18. Proceeds from the sale are used by the Salvation Army for their annual Christmas project of giving baskets of groceries to the needy.

The sale will be conducted in much the same way as the Goodfellow newspaper sale held here recently. Club members will be stationed on street corners throughout the downtown area all day Friday.

Although this is the first year the local club has voted to do this work, Senior Major Nicholls of the Salvation Army stated that Lions clubs in other communities make the sale an annual service project.

Following the sale the participating members will be served snacks at the Salvation Army Citadel. Senior Major Nicholls said that he was sure that the public would respond generously to this cause that helps make Christmas a happier season for the needy.

Christmas Tree Danger Lessened

If you are looking for a way to make your Christmas tree less of a fire hazard, Dr. Edwin Rice, 747 West Ann Arbor trail, local chiropractor, has suggested a method he has used for years.

Dr. Rice packs about five pounds of calcium chloride around the base of a freshly-cut tree and then pours some sand around the calcium chloride to keep it from evaporating. The chemical makes the tree fire resistant, Dr. Rice points out, but not fireproof.

The fire departments of Plymouth and Plymouth township are urging citizens to take extreme care with Christmas trees. Filled with pitch and resin, it will ignite very easily and burn so furiously that it is almost impossible to extinguish. Bringing a tree into the home brings in a definite and serious fire hazard they warn.

Bermuda Contest Closes Noon Next Wednesday

Selection of two people to fly to Bermuda was a week closer today as the first week of the "Buy in Plymouth" campaign closed and the second week opened. The contest will end next Wednesday noon.

The contest got off to a rather shaky start last Wednesday night when the Chamber of Commerce disclosed that the tickets to be given with each dollar's purchase had failed to arrive. Purchasers were credited on their sales slip that night and Thursday morning.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Nat Sibbold flew to Flint Thursday morning to pick up a new shipment of tickets which were to be flown there by air express. While he was gone, the original shipment which had been on its way since November 30 arrived in Ann Arbor.

So tickets were distributed to merchants Thursday afternoon and the contest was well underway. Merchants report a great amount of interest in the contest which also offers a second prize of an alarm wristwatch, a third prize of a bicycle and eight consolation prizes of $10 purchase certificates redeemable in any Plymouth store.

Selection of the winners will take place in Kellogg park at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, December 23. Winning tickets will be printed on window cards which will be distributed to each participating merchant the following day. It will not be necessary to be at the selection to win a prize.

Dick Papes is chairman of the Christmas promotion committee of the Chamber of Commerce. This is the first such campaign sponsored in Plymouth.

For complete details about the contest, participants can consult merchants.

Mrs. Zach Holmes Named As Township Treasurer

Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes began her duties this week at the Plymouth township hall as township treasurer, filling the vacancy created early Wednesday morning of last week when her husband, Zach E. Holmes, died suddenly of a heart ailment.

The township board appointed the widow to the treasurer's post at a special session called that same day. The treasurer's office had performed no work, however, until this Tuesday after the customary audit was made of all books.

Township board members stated that Mrs. Holmes is well

Junior Cagers Win

A good defense that held their opponents but two points in the first half enabled the Plymouth junior high cage team to defeat the Trenton junior high outfit by a 17 to 8 score last Friday afternoon. The Rock youngsters opened up with a 6 point lead in the first quarter and added 3 more during the second period to lead at the half 9 to 2.

To Receive Fire Station Bids

An advertisement for bids on the proposed northside fire station is being made this week by the city and they will be opened January 6.

Commissioners approved the fire station plans at their meeting last week. Of cement block and wood construction, the building is to be located on the southwest corner of Spring street and Holbrook avenue across from Stark-weather school. It will be a one-story building of about 2,300 square feet on the ground floor.

The plans and specifications drawn by Byron Becker, local architect, call for a building of colonial style.

V.F.W. News

A legislative meeting was attended, Sunday, December 6 by President Gert Danol and Isabelle Lueke, legislative chairman. Two hours of the most informative talks, highlights of which were speeches by Merle Hopper, department chairman, and Joseph Mann, service director of the Metropolitan Officers Organization and department service officer. They spoke on the veterans' problems, emphasizing the hospitalization phases of the problem. Most of us do not realize the importance of the current trend toward the veteran program in Washington. When reading of or listening to the "slicing" of veterans' hospital benefits and attempts at abolishing veterans' pensions one really gets to be interested in this subject. It is a problem that every single one of us can do something about. Read up, ask questions, listen to all who seem interested in the veterans' welfare. You, too, will feel strongly in favor of the betterment of benefits for these men who have fought for their country. Who else has a better "right" for better provisional benefits, etc? Plans are in the formation stage at present to have a public meeting, in which "top" men of the department will talk and answer questions concerning this vital subject. More details later. Watch this column.

Remember the New Year's Eve party! Tickets are still available. See or phone Jack Olsaver, 6W, for reservations. Tom Houghton and his orchestra will play, dancing starts at 10 p.m. The buffet luncheon, I hear, promises to be very good. Noise makers, hats, and confetti, too. What a pleasant occasion it was to see the "seldom seen" members out at the post home during the post house party, December 12. Hope we see more of them and real soon, too.

Girls, please pay your 1954 dues before December 31. The Auxiliary is striving like "crazy beavers" to have a 100 per cent paid up membership by that time. Carolyn Darnell also reports that if it is more convenient, send your dues to her, address is 604 Jener, Plymouth. Carolyn has been very active during her delinquent chairmanship. Let's back her up, get those dues paid by December 31.

SPORTS CORNER

Bowls and Goals

Now that the bowl picture has been developed, we are hearing around the country from the arm-chair quarterbacks who have much to say about the relative strength of the teams to be involved in these annual football extravaganzas... and some of the press and the public in the Southern part of the nation have hinted that this year's Sugar Bowl offering of Georgia Tech and West Virginia could be a repetition of the Alabama-Syracuse mis-match of last year... in another bowl. This may be whistling in the dark, for many have asked if Southeastern Conference teams of 1953 were up to conference teams of late years. And, the argument that the Mountaineers have not enjoyed so rigorous a schedule as their formidable opponent may be offset by the reality that one platoon football brings back the 60-minute player; that a fine football squad is making its first trip to the Sugar Bowl; and finally, that this has been a year of upsets. But, we'll have to wait and see.

HEADS AAU... Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., was elected president of U. S. Amateur Athletic Union at convention in Washington, D. C. Wilke is a noted football and basketball authority and a leader in amateur and Olympic sports.

THE STARS

LYN CONNELLY
COLOR is the big story in TV this season, with test "vid-tints" being run by the major webs. CBS revealing a cheap color tube and NBC scheduled to do Pasadena's Tournament of Roses parade in color... The interest is high everywhere, but many insiders advise caution... The attitude of the latter group is summed up by Frank Wisbar, producer-director of "Fire-side Theater"... A pioneer in TV film, Wisbar speaks authoritatively when he says, "Of course color is coming... It is just around the corner and 'Fire-side Theater' is ready for it."

"We now have a show in color in the cans, one we ran as a test of techniques... But it may be some time before we can reach that 'corner' and the 'turn.' Wisbar continues, "For one thing, sponsors will regard it with caution. Color will cost an advertiser 30 per cent more than black-and-white TV and, for the first four or five years, the number of viewers with color TV sets simply will not justify boosting production costs by 30 per cent... It's as simple as that!"

PLATTER CHATTER
COLUMBIA:—Arthur Godfrey's first new disc since his recent hip operation is "Wait Till the Sun Shines Nellie Blues" and a good one it is... Reverse has "Don't Tell Me the Same Things"... Godfrey's wonderful quartet, the Mariners, have a hit in "Sweet Mama, Tree Top Trill"... "A Red, Red Ribbon" backs it... The great singer-pianist, Liberace, has a collection of Christmas hymns that should go over big... They include "Ave Maria," "White Christmas," "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," and the lighter "Jingle Bells."

CAPITOL:—Kay Starr's latest is "When My Dreamboat Comes Home" and Kay does her usual polished job on it... She does a magnificent rendition of "Swamp Fire" on the flip side... Dorothy Shay has fun with "Sugarplum Kisses and Vinegar Tears" with "Why Shore" on the reverse.

Votes on Christmas Eve Store Closing

Plymouth merchants will close the doors on the Christmas buying season at 6 p.m. on Thursday, December 24, according to a poll taken among store owners by the Chamber of Commerce this week.

Although stores are now remaining open until 9 p.m., retailers are following their usual custom of closing at 6 o'clock on Christmas Eve to allow their employees to be with their families to begin the holiday. Stores will reopen Saturday.

Convectors are easier to install than old-style cast-iron radiators, heating engineers have found, because they usually are light enough for one man to carry. That means less time for installation, hence more economy, too.

Consider Plans For Symphony Women's Group

Tentative plans were discussed Tuesday for the organization of a women's symphony association in Plymouth. Members of the local symphony society met at the Veterans' Memorial building to hear Mrs. Warren Cooksey, president of the Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony, explain the work of her organization.

A women's association here would be dedicated to furthering the interest in the Plymouth Symphony, with special emphasis on increasing public attendance, particularly among the younger persons of the community.

Since the local orchestra has reached full symphonic proportions in the last two years, it is felt that such an organization can do much for furthering the cause of good music in Plymouth.

In her discussion, Mrs. Cooksey explained the organization of Women's Association in other cities and small towns. She was very enthusiastic about the work such groups have accomplished.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Lila Humphries, Mrs. Margaret Hough, Mrs. Gerald Fischer, Mrs. Howard Raaflaub, Mrs. William Congdon, Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. Ralph Snoke, Mrs. William Sliger, Mrs. Harry Balfour, Mrs. Robert E. Mills, Mrs. Gordon Jewell, and orchestra director Wayne Dunlap.

The Junior Bridge club are enjoying their annual Christmas dinner at Hillside Inn tonight, Thursday, followed by a party and gift exchange at the home of Mrs. Harvey Springer on Auburn avenue.

 "My cousin Sue is coming to visit me this week. I dread having her around. She is so super-sensitive that I am on pins all the time for fear of offending her."

Supersensitive people are extremely selfish. They are thinking only of themselves, consequently we never know whether some action on our part will be misconstrued or not. These people interpret everything that is said or done only in relation to themselves.

If you remark that you do not like stingy people, they are apt to blink back at you in a volley of protests, assuring you that they are not stingy and expatiate to you on their generous deeds.

If you relate an amusing story you may shortly thereafter find the supersensitive in a corner weeping because in her warped mind, you were making fun of her.

You feel that you must include her in every plan, no matter how poorly she may fit into the particular scheme of things. If she is invited and goes along, everybody who knows her feels cramped for fear of her pouts or protests.

In order to conciliate her, you are eternally explaining that you meant no harm. You use up a lot of nervous energy to keep the machinery oiled and running without creaks and groans when the supersensitive person is about.

We realize that the supersensitives have never fully grown up. They seem to have no control over their emotions. They are jealous, envious and critical. Unhappy creatures that they are, they are to be pitied.

The brave and unselfish do not nurse even their real sufferings nor afflictions. They try to rise above them. They do not make others miserable by dwelling on painful, unpleasant subjects.

When a child, I knew a young woman whose back had been broken during a cyclone. She never walked again. Her room was the rendezvous for the youth of the community. They loved to gather about her bed and listen to the stories she told them.

To her they went with their sorrows or their problems. She could comfort them and find a way out of their dilemmas. When she died, her little daughter spoke to the members of the family who were weeping and told them not to cry, that mama could walk now, for she had often told her that would be the case and she believed her.

THERE WAS CHRISTMAS JOY on their faces and in their hearts as these Madonna art class students worked on the background stage setting for the Christmas musical program which was held last Sunday at the college. The auditorium was filled to capacity with relatives and friends of the students and with visitors from the vicinity who first witnessed the lighting of the outdoor crib on the campus. Putting finishing touches on the stained glass window and pipe organs above are Mary Ann Niewierowski (L.), from Chicago, Phyllis Hebda, Wyandotte, Barbara Rajewski, Bay City, and Mary Ann Watson, Plymouth. Phyllis is a senior at the college, the other three are freshmen.

Crowd Welcomes Holiday Season At Smith School

The most successful Christmas party held by the Parent-Teacher association at the Smith school ushered in a White Christmas season before almost 1,000 persons Tuesday evening. The children, parents, teachers and friends gathered around the brilliant outdoor tree to enjoy the spirit of Christmas by singing the old familiar carols.

The singing was accompanied by trumpeters, as was an ancient custom, from Plymouth high school. Bob Paulger and Ted Beyers valiantly provided the music until their trumpets froze. But the carolers were not to be stopped, and continued their singing under the direction of Mrs. Maude Laury, music instructor at Smith and Allen schools.

The event was a school-family project with everyone sharing equally in the decorations and preparations. The huge Santa Claus and his dashing reindeer placed on the roof of the school were designed by Mrs. Marguerite Ross, art instructor at Smith and Allen schools. Committees of children helped custodian Gwynne Fulton cut out the figures, and then helped Mrs. Ross decorate them. Parents took over the setting up of the outdoor tree and Santa Claus, and arranged the lighting effects.

The ornaments for the trees were made by the children from gold and silver aluminum foil. During the day they showed Fulton where each should be placed on the tree, thus taking part in the actual decoration. As the snow continued falling the people filed back into the school for warming refreshments. Miss Ruth Eriksson, principal of the school, said the celebration will become a traditional event at the school. She added that each family truly shared the spirit of Christmas with its children which is the Christmas way.

Kiwanians Hear Education Plan

The crusade to stamp out illiteracy in the world was portrayed by films to Kiwanians Tuesday evening at its regular meeting at the Hotel Mayflower. Program Chairman Paul Schulz stated that outside the borders of the United States approximately three out of five persons cannot read or write. The film depicted the work of Frank C. Laubach in India and his efforts to bring education to the illiterate. With some 300 millions to be taught Laubach adopted the program "Each One Teach One." On this basis the pupils who are taught to read and write must in turn teach at least one more to do so. In conjunction with his program Schulz introduced Edward Mollema of the Northville school system.

Garbage Collections To Come Day Early

In order that garbage and rubbish collection workers may take advantage of the holidays, collections will be made a day earlier the next two weeks, it was announced by City Manager Al Glassford.

Residents should have their garbage and rubbish ready for collection a day ahead of time next week because of the Christmas holiday, and the following week because of the New Year's holiday.

Peter Leemon will arrive home from the University of Michigan this weekend to spend the Christmas holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leemon of West Ann Arbor road.

Tells Teachers of Fire Prevention Through Public Education Channels

"The problem of fire prevention is one of public education," School Superintendent Russell I. Isbister today advised the city's school teachers. He stated that the city is to get a thorough check January 12 on fire hazards. That is the day the Fire Prevention association of Michigan will conduct a free city inspection upon the invitation of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and arranged by Fire Chief Robert McAllister.

"We must inform the public," he added, "what fire hazards really are, what can be done to remove them and what they must do in the event of fire. Above all, we must arouse the people to do their part in preventing fires."

The superintendent added that analysis of the circumstances of the cause of all fires reveal that most of them are preventable, or at least the magnitude of their destruction could have been greatly reduced had reasonable prompt and efficient attention been given to the factor of "good housekeeping" and to the simple fundamental principles of fire safety.

"Sound rules of fire safety are now well established," the superintendent stated. "They may be obtained from our fire department or from the fire insurance organization."

Superintendent Isbister concluded by expressing the hope that all teachers would acquaint themselves with the rules of fire safety and arrange power instruction in fire prevention for all pupils in their charge.

Pupils will be addressed during the inspection day by fire inspectors especially trained in this work.

Stresses X-Ray Need For Every Adult in City

"The greatest protection we can give our children from TB is to see that every adult has a chest x-ray when the Wayne County Chestmobile moves into town," Mrs. Gladys Tillotson emphasized at a meeting of the x-ray campaign committee which was held at the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Mrs. Tillotson and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz reported that their home calls captains had met and were in the process of recruiting volunteer workers who will reach every home with a personal message next month.

Committee reports were given to Sam Hudson, general chairman of the x-ray drive which is jointly sponsored by the Wayne County Health department and the Tuberculosis and Health Society and is being brought here through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. Dean Sipson, chairman of public information, indicated that complete coverage of city and township was planned through posters, window displays, theater trailers as well as speakers, church contacts and school letters.

L. P. McGuire, industrial chairman, reported excellent participation by industry, which will probably require eight days for employee x-rays. Other committees headed by Mrs. Mowry Arnold and Walter Rensel will swing into action as soon as the x-ray locations and hours for the community are set.

A number of Plymouth residents gave themselves a "second chance in life" when they had their chest x-rays taken in 1952 and discovered that they had TB in its early stage, according to Catherine McCarthy, Plymouth public health nurse.

The ladies of St. Peter's Lutheran church are reminded that the bags of Christmas Cheer for the patients at Eloise hospital will be packed on Friday evening at the church. All cookies must be brought in before that time. The bags will be distributed on Sunday, December 20, leaving the church at 1:20 p.m. sharp.

Roger Babson Says

Babson Park, Massachusetts. I dream of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes in parts of the world now supplied with coal, oil, electricity, natural gas, or water power. Great sections of the world, however, like China, India, parts of Russia and Africa, have seething millions of people who have none of these natural resources and are ready to burst forth into revolution. But atomic energy, whereby the equivalent of a shipload of coal can be taken in a small cup, enables power to be enjoyed in every part of the world.

I dream that the electronic industry has a great future. This will enable us to operate with much lower labor cost. The electronic industry is yet in its infancy. In fact, it will not come fully into its own until we learn to harness solar energy or gravity.

I dream about new brain drugs which may some day be available. I especially have in mind hormones which regulate personality, ambition, persistence, etc. During the past centuries drugs have been used to relieve pain and to cure physical diseases. Laboratories have almost eliminated T. B., typhoid, diphtheria, and other killing diseases. The new drugs are destined to improve our brains, memory, ambition, stick-to-itiveness, self-control, and other qualities which make for success.

Diet is another interesting subject about which I dream. People are already dieting to reduce weight; but I visualize changes in diet which, combined with electrical and other treatment, will do something far greater. They may revolutionize our entire educational system from the primary school up to college. Present teaching methods may become obsolete.

Photosynthesis covers another subject about which I dream. This refers to the conversion of carbon dioxide, water, air, light, and chlorophyll, combined with certain minerals, directly into food, making it unnecessary to plant and cultivate. Sunshine and these free chemicals now develop the fruit on our trees, vegetables which we have for dinner, and the wheat and corn which are our staples. There is no logical reason why a short-cut could not be found for doing this work directly without cultivating, harvesting, and canning. What the du Ponts have done to put the silk industry and mulberry trees out of business, future chemists may do to the fruit growers and the market gardeners.

Another subject about which I dream is the possibility of making electricity directly from coal and oil. A company controlled by our present Secretary of the Treasury has already taken out a patent for making electricity directly from coal. This is a development which would greatly reduce the cost of living and raise the standard for everyone.

The elimination of agricultural and other pests by electronic sprays and shock treatment, instead of by using the poisonous sprays employed today, is a possibility. Present poisonous sprays are not only expensive, but they kill the birds as well as the fungus. I dream that the time is coming when our spraying will be done with electronic waves rather than with poisonous chemicals. Perhaps such electronic waves will take the place of pills and medicines in the treatment of human diseases.

If I were a young fellow today I would devote my life to the study of the firefly. Remember that the electric bulb wastes more than 95% of its power on heat. Less than 5 per cent of the electricity for which you pay develops into light.

I dream that inspirations may be manufactured synthetically. We know that some men have great personalities. They have become great orators or teachers. The time is coming when a broadcaster will be able to make an audience laugh or cry by the pressing of a button, without uttering a word. This has great possibilities in connection with international propaganda, political campaigns, and department store sales.

Einstein is working for one formula for gravity, electricity, and magnetism. I dream that the time is coming when gravity will be harnessed the same as electricity is now harnessed. I dream that every household and small factory will probably get free power and certainly free heat. They are now waiting only for the discovery of a partial insulator or reflector of gravity. BABSON DISCUSSES AIR CONDITIONING New York City. Will you take a few minutes and discuss with your family what your community would be today if there were no automobiles? What would be the condition of real estate, employment, and general business if we were driving only horses and buggies?

WHAT WE OWE TO AUTOMOBILES

It is estimated that 25 per cent of the business today is due to the automobile. Industries, from the making of steel and the refining of oil to the thousands of factories, gas stations, automobile agencies, and new roads, exist today because of this industry.

The automobile industry (especially the self starter), plus the installment credit business, plus new home building, plus modern advertising must be thanked for the high wages, full employment, and general prosperity of today. Unfortunately, however, now that the economic setup accepts the automobile industry as here to stay, some other new industry must come along to keep the prosperity ball rolling.

MORE NEW INDUSTRIES NEEDED

The radio industry, including broadcasting, has prolonged prosperity. Television has also been a big help. No new invention has yet equalled in economic importance, however, the internal combustion gas engine. This is now being used not only for automobiles and trucks, but for boats, ships, farm machinery, airplanes, and even Junior's lawn mower!

Some big new industry must develop to provide work for the rapidly growing population and to take up the slack caused by the labor-saving machinery which employers are installing to offset labor's demands for higher wages and fewer hours. Furthermore, such is needed to enable the Federal and State Governments to reduce taxes, which basically depend upon profits.

CONSIDER AIR CONDITIONING

Looking over the field, I believe that air conditioning may partly fill the need. People in the United States now do not need more clothes, or more transportation, or more entertainment. Some do need more homes and furnishings. But the great majority of families already have these things. To sell something big to these 40,000,000 families, the appeal must be made by offering more comfort.

This makes me bullish on the air-conditioning business. I believe that, in a few years, there will be more air-conditioning units than radios. New models are coming out which will look like furniture and not depend upon an open window.

Chicken Pox Calls Halt for Director

A case of chicken pox can slow you up considerably, particularly if you have a choral concert to direct. Fred C. Nelson, high school music instructor, has come up against the ailment—and for the second time.

The teacher's case has baffled local doctors because chicken pox is supposed to be a one-time-only disease. But finally they were forced to admit that chicken pox was just about the only thing it could be.

Nelson is not only confined to his home with the chicken pox, but he was forced to miss the annual Christmas Choral Concert put on by Plymouth high school Tuesday evening.

"I'm Waiting To Meet You Personally!"

I'll make this short and sweet. My wife says I should write in on a pinhead because my own head comes to a point. Being a man of some-experience I won't use the point to argue with her or I may need a cushion. But I do have a point to make for my readers in a quiet sort of way. I think some of you folks are as retarded as my old maid sister who saves her sheer nylons to wear only on windy days. Here it is almost time to hang the holly and there's a run on Chocolate Ex-Lax. That's not the kind of movement I expect at this time of the year. I've got to move perfume, toiletries, gift sets and what not. So let's put all excuses on the shelf with the Chocolate Ex-Lax and do a little running for the presents your relatives are expecting this Christmas!

SLEIGH BELLS BEFORE YOU KNOW IT!

IT SAYS HERE that if your wife is a clod—an earthly person—you can really do something to set her free this Christmas. A GEMEY GIFT SET is guaranteed to give wings to earthbound women. Look now—I'm not insulting your wife. She may be earthbound but it's you who does the crawling. I'm trying to get you back on your feet this Christmas so you can stand up and feel like a man.

 THE GOOD BOOK says work for the things you need and pray for the things you want. For me that's a two-horn dilemma with a prong in the side. I work sixteen hours a day for necessities and spare-time prayer has only brought me rheumatism so painful that it's taking the bow out of my knees. Maybe I need more patience like Job who was so trusting that he'd shake hands with a pump handle in a drought. When are you going to come in and spend a little Christmas money??

MARRIAGE IS BELONGING. If you don't think so, just try to get lost for more than a weekend and see how fast you wind up in parenthesis—between your bitter half and her bigger half, your mother-in-law. I know your sweet old mother-in-law would love one for Christmas. $3.98 to $5.98.

 WOMEN WITH PLUNGING NECKLINES are certainly exposing themselves to questionable compliments and loud wolf whistles. Personally, I like the old-fashioned sweater girl who left so much to the imagination. What are you going to give your bareback for Christmas. You're on the right scent when you say, CHANTILLY FRAGRANCE. My wife buttons right up to the ears and pours on her glamour with Houbigant.

 TIES OF MATRIMONY don't mean neckties. Both of the neckties I own have been put back into Christmas boxes so many times that they would rather fold than knot. This larceny of the person to enrich the same person is an old gift gimmick. Now that your wife stands exposed, maybe you'll get a nice Schick Electric Shaver for Christmas instead of an old corrugated necktie in a new box. Schick "20"—$24.50. Remington, "60", $27.50.

 It's no secret that I run this business on talk. I started talking long before I started teething and I've been mouthing ever since. My wife says I should do my talking on the run and keep out of trouble. Of course I always run when I talk to her. That saves me more trouble than you can imagine. Come to think of it, I must run in a plug right now for pocket lighters. I've got Ronson lighters at $5.50 to $18.00. Zippo lighters at $3.00 to $8.50. Make a note of this on your gift list right now!

THE EMPLOYEES CLUB of the Webster Toll Exchange in Detroit recently visited the Northville State hospital to make their second annual Christmas gift presentation to the hospital's patients. This year, the club gave two 21 inch television sets and two three-speed record players. The money for these gifts is raised each year at the club's annual bazaar. In the above picture, Mrs. Gladys Sutfin, 326 Maple, of the hospital's accounting office, is shown accepting the two record players from Mrs. Rosemary Erdmann of Nankin Township, chairman of the employee's group. From left to right are: Miss Mary Faulkner of Detroit, Miss Margaret Robinson of Detroit, Mrs. Erdmann and Mrs. Sutfin, Mrs. Sally Steiger and Miss Esther Lakvold, both of Detroit.

ACROSS the DESK

ideas from other editors

From the Seville Chronicle, Seville, Ohio:

"Why don't you write an editorial about . . . a good share of what appears in this column is the result of a remark like that made to the editor by a reader. And that is only right and proper; to us a newspaper is a device whose purpose is to let everyone express views and opinions, whether it is an elected official seeking adequate publicity for a tax-paid project, a private citizen whose rights have been abused, or the editor in a tantrum about something.

This week this will be an omnibus of things that aren't going to suit the editor.

Let's take that Demog Rum first; I don't like our Ohio set-up's face. Specifically, why have and occasionally enforce, laws against drunken driving, so long as licenses to sell liquor are at the same time given to roadside taverns by which the last interurban ran 20 years ago?

Evidently the state liquor licensing board expects bartenders in these places to sell drinks only to motorists accompanied by a dry chauffeur. The law is ridiculous.

Gambling also aggravates us. Bingo is illegal, but betting on the horses isn't. We read in an area daily, which exposes bingo and other forms of vicious gambling on days when world news is dull, that bingo is frowned upon because "gangsters and a hoodlum element have taken over those forms of dropping a buck on which they frown, but racing, for which they print a special page of results and odds for horse-lovers, is carefully controlled.

They may be right. Certainly we've never heard of any church group managing to muscle into a paramutual set-up like they have in bingo.

Finally there are, of all things, the ads. Some companies must think the public is as stupid as their vice presidents. Anyone who thinks they can convince us that any kind of cigarette is good for us; that a slice of their bread will replace, meat, eggs, butter and milk in our diet; that any sort of laxative will remove our financial worries and restore the bloom of youth to our cheeks, or that their soap or detergent will make clothes whiter than ever, dishes sparkle without drying, while hands dipped in it become young and beautiful overnight, has been smoking something besides tobacco.

Why don't you write an editorial? It's fun!

Hold Ring Ceremony For Madonna Seniors

Livonia Chorus To Present "The Messiah"

Continuing a time-honored custom, the Livonia Civic Chorus will mark the opening of the Christmas season with its annual rendition of Handel's "The Messiah" on Saturday evening, December 19, at 8 o'clock in the Bentley high school.

This is a musical treat that the Chorus offers the citizens of Livonia and surrounding communities for the pre-holiday season and this year the members plan an evening that will far outdo any of their past efforts.

"The Messiah" is the life of Christ put to music and it is one of the most loved musical works in existence. To hear it is to live it with the Saviour and under the leadership of Conductor Lester McCoy, one of the outstanding conductors of the middle west, the Chorus will present it in a manner befitting any choral group in the country.

"In all the years the Chorus has been offering this beautiful work, it has never approached a concert with so much enthusiasm as it has this year," John E. McClelland, president of the Chorus, remarked, "and you can count on it giving an outstanding rendition this year."

Four of the top soloists in this section have been obtained to sing the leading roles and among them are several favorites from concerts of other years.

Norma Heyde, who has appeared in Livonia on several other occasions, will sing the soprano role. A member of the voice faculty at the University of Michigan, she is well suited to the role and never fails to give a sterling performance. Ariene Soltenberger, another member of the voice faculty at the University of Michigan, will sing the contralto numbers and leave nothing to be desired.

The tenor numbers will be sung by Fred Kendall, soloist at the First Presbyterian church in Detroit and a featured singer among the artists at Radio Station WJR. Robert Kern, a graduate student at the University of Michigan, who has done some featured work in leading performances at the University of Michigan, will sing the bass parts and while it will be his first appearance with the Livonia Civic Chorus, he will offer a treat that long will be remembered.

"We were very fortunate in obtaining four soloists so well suited for their parts," Conductor Lester McCoy pointed out, "and I am very confident that their work will leave a lasting impression on all those who hear them."

The Chorus as it is now constituted, has worked hard and long for this presentation and is deserving of a filled auditorium when the conductor's baton is raised for the opening notes.

Amidst the many annually sponsored Christmas festivities, the most memorable for seniors of Madonna college is the ring ceremony held today, December 17. The Reverend Father James T. Shannon, head of the Theology and Philosophy department at Madonna college, will bless the rings and distribute them to the seniors.

Preceding this, a solemn candlelight ceremony will take place. All students, dressed in academic cap and gown will assemble in the student chapel where Pat Maciejewski, Student Association president will light a candle from the sanctuary lamp.

A procession will then form to De Sales auditorium. Here greetings will be extended by class presidents: Wanda Okasinski, senior; Florence Leads, junior; Leona Wisniewski, sophomore, and Rosealba Slattery, freshman.

As a Madonna program is seldom complete without music, each class will sing a Christmas carol which will be followed by renditions of the College Chorus. Concluding the campus celebrations today, will be a Christmas dinner, at which faculty members will serve the students, according to the traditional custom.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kops and family of Beck road will attend a family Christmas dinner Sunday in the home of Mrs. Kops' mother, Mrs. Mark Dolich in Detroit.

The Get-together club will hold their Christmas party on December 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowring on Bradner road with Mrs. Eva Herrick entertaining.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum of West Maple avenue were the Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schuster of Detroit.

Grange Gleanings

Tonight is the big night of our annual Christmas party at the Grange hall so be sure to come and help celebrate Christmas. Bring your 50 cent gift for either man or woman-but be sure it is clearly marked to that effect. Those with children bring their gifts for them. There will be a program of selections by the children, also other features and group singing. There will be a tree as usual, and it is just possible that Santa Claus may come.

There was a splendid representation from Plymouth grange who went to Tecumseh last Thursday night. The 34 members thoroughly enjoyed the fine supper and the lovely drill work of the degree team that followed. Only seven of our new candidates were present. Tecumseh had a group of candidates too and they all saw the work of the third and fourth degrees, which was very fine. A large crowd filled the hall. Tecumseh has a splendid Grange of over 400 members, many of whom are young people.

Our next meeting will be on January 7, 1954, so let's all make a resolution to start the New Year right by attending the Grange meetings. Our organization is growing rapidly and we can have a Grange to be proud of if each member will do his part. Try it and you will have a good time.

This is the month when we must pay our yearly Grange dues for 1954. For those who are new and for those who may have forgotten, the dues are $2.60 each. Those who have the Blue Cross insurance, remember your Grange dues must be paid in order to maintain your group standing which is very important to everybody. Pay the Blue Cross assessment to the Blue Cross secretary by check if possible.

Doris St. Louis and David March Wed in Recent Double Ring Ceremony

Doris St. Louis and David March repeated their nuptial vows on Saturday, November 28, in a ceremony at Our Lady of Good Counsel church. Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert St. Louis of Plymouth and David is the son of Mrs. Marie March of Capac, Michigan.

The Reverend Father Byrne officiated at the 9:30 o'clock double ring nuptial Mass before the altar which was graced with bouquets of white baby mums.

Given in marriage by her father, Doris wore a floor length gown of white lace and satin. The bouffant skirt extended into a full cathedral train and her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a crescent shaped headpiece of seedpearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Vincent St. Louis, aunt of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of coral lace over satin with matching bolero and she carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The junior bridesmaid, Carol Ann St. Louis, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of light turquoise with hoop skirt and she carried pink carnations.

Serving the groom as best man was Vincent St. Louis, uncle of the bride. Ushers were Gilbert St. Louis, brother of the bride, and Frank Heike.

Mrs. St. Louis chose, for her daughter's wedding, a deep purple crepe dress and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. March wore a pink moire taffeta dress. Her corsage was also of yellow carnations.

That evening a reception for 200 guests was held in the K. of C. hall in Plymouth. Relatives and friends attended from Florida, Capac, Detroit, Bad Axe, Hastings and Plymouth.

The young couple will make their home in Plymouth.

Two From Plymouth Area Appear on TV Programs

Plymouth and its surrounding area were well represented over national television Sunday evening as two CBS programs featured persons familiar to local residents.

On Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" Miss Ann Marston of Wyandotte, whose picture appeared in last week's Mail as junior girl champion of the Western Wayne County Conservation club, displayed her talents as an archer. Sullivan commented on her fine stage presence after she had calmly hit balloons, an apple and an egg with her arrows.

Shortly after this on John Daly's "What's My Line" program, Mrs. Lance Wright, wife of Dr. Wright of 728 South Main street, gave the panel $20 worth of trouble guessing her occupation—conducting a class for expectant mothers. Mrs. Wright was the first contestant on the program.

Mrs. Robert Soth and Mrs. John Albertson spent last Thursday in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gadey of Plymouth road, Livonia, left Thursday to spend the winter months in Sarasota, Florida.

James Thrasher and son, David of Lakeland court attended the Detroit Lions-Chicago Bears football game in Detroit recently.

Pansy Plant Blossoms In Cold of December

A pansy blooming in the snow is a rarity, particularly in the Plymouth area. Mrs. Clifford Wood of 1274 Williams reports that she has had a yellow pansy in bloom since just before Thanksgiving, and she has hopes it will last until Christmas.

She added that she has left the pansy uncovered until just recently, when she covered it the last few nights.

Madonna Carollers Make Annual Visits

In the line of the various Christmas activities taken up by students of Madonna college this year, caroling and drives for the needy ranked quite high.

The evening of Thursday, December 3, the Madonna Choral Group under the direction of Sister M. Faulette, CSSF, sang Christmas carols at the new Sheldon Shopping Center on Plymouth and Farmington Roads. This performance marked the opening of the Madonna caroling season.

Caroling Madonnites also filled the Livonia City Hall, Livonia City Bank, Livonia Drug Store and Ladywood high school. Other important places which were visited were the Plymouth Mail newspaper office, Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth, Maybury Sanatorium in Northville and the Wayne County Training School.

The campus grounds were not left out of the picture, but also re-echoed with carols as the students toured the campus buildings.

On Saturday, December 9, eight Madonnites participated in "The Messiah" which was presented by the Livonia Civic Chorus, Inc. at George N. Bentley high school in Livonia.

Besides caroling, Madonnites also brought cheer through other means. The "Santa Social" sponsored by the Apostolic Committee of the College sodality, was held on Wednesday, December 9. Another Christmas activity was the Baby Layette, held during the month of December.

The purpose of the "Social" was to collect toys, new and used, which were distributed to children when Madonna students went caroling the following week. The admission fee to the social was a gaily wrapped toy. Prizes were given for the paper and ribbon used in wrapping, and also for the originality with which the packages were made.

The Baby Layette is an annual activity of the Sodality's Apostolic Committee. The items collected in this drive were given to an expectant mother in memory of the swaddling clothes of the Divine Infant. Articles brought in included baby clothes, blankets, powders, oils, lotions and rattles.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Fourteen-Year-Old Hears Her Composition Played in Christmas Choral Concert Program

By Ella Plant

Fourteen-year-old Celia Bal-four, tenth grader, has had the distinction of having one of her musical compositions used in the Christmas Choral Concert Tuesday, December 15.

"Bell Carol" became an inspiration to Celia at the age of nine to be forgotten until this year when it came back to her and was put down on paper. Celia, who wrote the music, piano accompaniment, words and the three-part choral arrangement, sang the solo part when it was performed by the Girl's Glee club.

At the age of five Celia, living in Detroit at the time, attended the first grade of a Lutheran parochial school. She moved to Plymouth when she was seven, entering grade 3B only to be double promoted to 3A, but after completion of 4A she was again double promoted to 5A. While in the 6A Celia began to find it hard to get along with her classmates as she was only nine years old and was put back into 5A. In the seventh and part of the eighth grade she attended the Saint Mary's academy in Monroe. She returned to Plymouth for the last part of the eighth grade and high school.

Celia had "fiddled around" with an idea on the piano while in the eighth grade and at last the idea took the form of an arrangement of an "Amen" for Fred Nelson, director and organist of the Presbyterian choir and the Plymouth high school vocal music director. He used it for his church choir.

Having taken piano lessons from Evelyn Woods for six and one-half years, Celia ceased to study further in October, 1952. She is very proud of her family, her father who plays the saxophone, her mother who plays the piano, a sister 12, and a brother 9, who have an ear for music.

Right now, Celia has written down approximately ten compositions for the piano, flute, and other instruments, many more may be in her head, kept away to herself alone.

Future Homemakers Slate Christmas Party

Members of the Future Homemakers of America will hold a party on December 17 after school. Following games, that are to be played in the auditorium, the members will proceed to the homemaking department for an enjoyable, candlelight buffet supper.

The Future Homemakers of America club has a very active group. Each month the members prepare one service basket which is given to a needy family.

Also plans are being made for a splash party in January honoring the mothers.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Plan Series Of Films-Lectures On Conservation

The adult education commission is making plans to bring a series of five free films and lectures on conservation to Plymouth residents. This series, which will be open to students as well as adults, will begin the second week in February and will be a weekly event.

Speakers for the lectures will be obtained through the education division of the Michigan Department of Conservation. Films will illustrate the material used in the lectures. Herbert Woolweaver, adult education director, stated that this is the first time a series in Plymouth.

Some of the suggested topics to be discussed at the meeting are "Game Management in Michigan," "Southwest Michigan, 10,000 Years Ago and Now," and "Michigan Fish Management." The series will be held in the auditorium at the high school.

Classes Begin Work On Christmas Project

The advanced art classes of Plymouth high school have a Christmas project underway now. At the suggestion of Mrs. Frances Overton, the art instructor, the pupils ordered some jewelry boxes and other such articles, which were assembled but not painted. These they are painting and decorating to suit their own taste and will give to friends as Christmas gifts.

A few of the pupils have already started painting some simple designs on them. Among these orders were musical jewelry boxes, large and small jewelry boxes, serving trays, salt and pepper shakers and even some hamburger pattie-makers.

The students started out with designs on paper; then copied them off on the boxes. They used poster paint for the designs and lacquer as a finish.

If some of your picture-taking efforts print up with cluttered and confused backgrounds, it's time to get in the habit of looking past your subject and lending a bit of thought to what lies beyond. One simple solution, of course, is to widen the aperture and thus reduce the depth of field, but this often results in a blurred effect more disappointing than the in-focus background. We haven't space to go into the many effective ways of controlling unwanted backgrounds or capitalizing on others to advantage, but we will hit a few high points.

You can, for example, gain effective tonal contrast by shooting a well-lighted subject against a dark background, or a shaded subject against something bright. A change in camera angle, perhaps from high to low, or planned use of lighting techniques may serve to produce pictures with backgrounds that contribute something more than headaches. And if you'll come down to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER we'll be glad to tell you some other ways of avoiding headaches... PHOTOGRAPHICALLY speaking of course... for we have the largest stock of HINTS and EQUIPMENT in Plymouth.

Student Council Plans Christmas Decorations

Christmas decorations to inspire the holiday spirit are one of the various projects of the Plymouth High School Student Council. This group of boys and girls, who represent the student body, meet every two weeks to discuss paramount high school problems.

As usual a Christmas tree will be purchased this year and placed in the hall of the school.

Make TB X-rays Available to High School Students

"Do you have TB?" You may find out on January 5 and 6 when chest X-rays will be available to all students of Plymouth high school as the mobile unit will pay its annual visit.

A person can get TB germs without any knowledge of it by coming in contact with a person who has TB and does not realize the fact. He may also get TB germs by coming in contact with a person who has TB and knows it but refuses to do anything about it. This person endangers the lives of his friends, family, and all other people with whom he comes into contact.

If TB is found in the early stages a person can be sent to institutions such as Herman Kiefer hospital and Maybury sanatorium to be cured. If TB isn't found until later stages it becomes quite serious.

Chest X-rays not only help to find whether a person has TB or not but furnish an assurance of a person's general health as well.

Students are being asked to take advantage of the mobile unit so they will have a definite answer to the question "Do you have TB?" Cards will be sent to those students who take advantage of the chest X-rays telling them whether or not they have TB or signs or TB.

Another of the important projects of the council presently is the formation of a Student Planning Committee to consider any and all high school difficulties. The group, stated Gustave Gorguza, assistant principal would be comprised of each faction of the school-students, teachers, and custodians.

An evaluation committee has also been formed. This group, headed by Dick Root, is made up of council members only. School functions are investigated by the students on this committee who discuss the advantages and disadvantages of various school activities and ask students and teachers alike for their opinions. The group, at the present time, is evaluating the Student Council itself to see if it fulfills the requirements set up for any group of this type.

This year, the council has ruled out informal initiations during school hours and is investigating Student-Teacher Day to see if it is worthwhile. Hall conjection is another problem being discussed by the group.

Water Waves Choose Theme for Water Show

"King Neptune's Court" was chosen as Plymouth high's Water Waves show to be held May 14 and 15. William Campbell and his crew installed an underwater speaker so the music can be heard both under and above the water.

Practice days for the Water Waves are Wednesday and Thursday from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Toward the end of the season practice will be held every night.

Dr. Ray Stevens of Grand Rapids will be the dinner guest tonight, Thursday, of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum of West Maple avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pint of Schoolcraft road were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pint of Detroit.

Plymouth Debate Team Is First In Its League

A double victory was achieved by the Plymouth high school debate teams in their first Inter-Lake League meet which was held at Farmington, Tuesday, December 8.

Participating in the debates were Tom Sawyer and Tom Rowe of Plymouth who debated against the Pontiac-Waterford team, while in the evening session, Jim Isbister and Larry Tiltonson opposed the team of the Lincoln-VanDyke high school.

"The President of the United States Should be Elected by the Direct Vote of the People," was the topic of debate, with one of the Plymouth teams defending the affirmative side and the other defending the negative side of the question.

Present standings of the debate teams show Plymouth and Wall-ed Lake tied for first place, followed by Detroit-Southfield, Farmington, Lincoln - VanDyke, and the Pontiac-Waterford high school.

January 11, of the new year, has been planned for the next Inter-Lakes League debate meet.

Miss Dorothy Midgley, speech and English teacher, is debate coach.

Community Planning Group Holds Meeting

"Should a new junior high building be constructed?" was the principal question discussed by the Community Planning group at their meeting held December 3 in the Bird school auditorium.

Several guest speakers consisting of William Berkoff, superintendent of the Mount Clemens school, Robert Koopman, associated superintendent of Michigan education, and Paul Carter, assistant superintendent from Birmingham, were invited to stir the discussion. Several possible solutions faced the group: Kindergarten-6, 7-8-9, 10-11-12; 6, 7-8, 9-12; and kindergarten-14. Earl West served as moderator of this discussion group.

Preceding the discussion, steps were taken to correct the problem of reckless driving. Sergeant Sherrill of the Wayne county police patrol, offered several solutions including the patrolling of the area during the times of heaviest traffic and the increase of traffic signs.

Resulting from this discussion, a Safety committee, with Paul Bollinger as chairman, was formed. Ann Arbor trail, Ann Arbor road, and Haggerty highway were found to be the most hazardous highways in and around Plymouth. James Hardimon presided as chairman, and Mrs. Doris Root served as secretary.

The Senior group of the Plymouth Corner Society, Children of the American Revolution, were entertained at a Christmas party and meeting Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Claude Crusoe in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goyer were hosts at a family Christmas dinner last Sunday in their home on Church street. Present were Dr. and Mrs. Merrell Draper of Ypsilanti and Dr. and Mrs. Elmore Carney and sons of Plymouth.

Honor Two Local Women at Tea

The Northville state hospital held its annual volunteer tea on Wednesday, December 16. This tea is in honor of all the people who have volunteered their time to the hospital's program during the past year.

Mrs. Lorrain Barbour, 478 Arthur, is a member of the hospital's Gray Lady service. Mrs. Byron Champion, 493 North Harvey, is chairman of the Plymouth Birthday Ladies. This is a group of women who have volunteered to sponsor a monthly birthday party for a group of 96 patients.

PASSAGE-GAYDE POST of the American Legion was presented a gavel bell award last week by State Commander Billy R. Wickens (L) for already meeting its 1954 membership goal. Post Commander Bob Wilson is pictured accepting the award. Passage-Gayde post ranked second in the state within its classification in the membership drive. In an address before the post, Commander Wickens called the group a "healthy organization" and commended members for the way their meetings were conducted. The post has 57 members now. School Board Minutes

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Township School District was held on November 9, 1953 in the high school.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Gallimore, Mrs. Willoughby and Superintendent Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Smith.

Also present were local insurance agents as follows: Mr. Finlan, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Fluckey, Mrs. Parrott; a teacher - Mr. Reeves and the following custodians; Mr. Dennis, Mr. Fulton, Mr. Kowalcik, Mr. Passeno and Mr. Truax. Also, Mr. Grey of Mills Mutual Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane interested citizens were present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and the intervening special meeting were read and approved as read.

Mr. Reeves appeared before the Board to express the appreciation of the staff for the Workshop provided by the Conservation Department Training School on Higgins Lake. He pointed out the values of this experience to the teachers in the classroom.

The custodians, Mr. Dennis, Mr. Fulton, Mr. Kowalcik, Mr. Passeno and Mr. Truax, appeared before the Board to request salary increases averaging $320.00 per person per year. The Board took the request under advisement.

Mr. Grey of Mills Mutual Agency urged the Board to purchase Mutual Insurance from his agency and indicated that there would be substantial savings in premiums.

Mr. Finlan presented an insurance program worked out by the local agents. He explained in detail how rates are established and vary according to existing conditions such as structural charges, occupancy charges, protective credits, exposure, and after charges. He also presented some recommendations which, if adopted, would affect rates when inspections are made by Michigan Inspection Bureau.

No action was taken on the insurance program pending further study.

It was moved by Mr. Caplin and seconded by Mr. Booth that paid bills No. 4364-4366 totaling $32,558.14 and unpaid bills No. 4367-4513 totaling $13,000.00, 1952 Building and Site Fund No. 103-114 totaling $16,412.10 and 1949 Building and Site Fund No. 383-387 totaling $1,351.92 be approved for payment.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Gallimore and Mrs. Willoughby.

Nays: None.

Mr. Caplin moved and Mr. Booth seconded the following tuition rate be established for the school year 1953-1954:

$176.48 Secondary Students.
$157.98 Elementary Students.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Gallimore and Mrs. Willoughby.

Nays: None.

It was announced that a special meeting will be held on Monday, November 30 with the Board of Education from Canton Center School District, who is interested in the proposal of annexation. Other items on the agenda to be considered are the insurance problem and custodial staff's requests.

The meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Carl Caplin, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held on November 30 in the high school.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Gallimore, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Willoughby and Superintendent Isbister.

Absent: None.

Others present: Mr. Schraufnagl, Mrs. Runge, Mr. Fisher, Mrs. Wood and Mr. Fluckey.

Mr. Schraufnagl and Mrs. Runge urged the Board of Education to consider in the near future the annexation of Canton School District No. 4 which lies in the south center portion of Canton Township. They expressed concern about the future of this school district and wondered what would happen, if Plymouth High School were to close its doors to boys and girls in their area. They indicated that the people living in the district were a part of the commercial area served by Plymouth. No action was taken pending further study. Mr. Charles Brake will be asked to serve as consultant in this matter.

Mr. Fisher, Mrs. Wood and Mr. Fluckey discussed with the Board the insurance program for the Plymouth Township Schools. The pros and cons of stock insurance companies versus mutual insurance companies were debated at length. Those who favored stock companies felt the district would have stronger protection. Those who favored mutual companies felt the savings in premiums over the years would justify converting to mutual insurance.

It was moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mrs. Willoughby, that the Board purchase Mutual Fire and Extended Coverage Insurance when the present policies in the stock companies expire, providing the premiums were lower and the coverage was equal or better.

Ayes: Mrs. Willoughby, Mr. Smith, Mr. Gallimore and Mr. Booth.

Nays: Mr. Caplin.

The Board made an analysis of the custodial staff salaries. It was decided to review the salary structure of the entire staff, including office employees, teachers and administrators.

The meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Carl Caplin, Secretary

Chamber Secretary Warns Citizens of Holiday Tricks

With the approach of the holiday season, Nat Sibbold, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has issued a warning to remind both merchants and consumers against the schemers who exploit the Spirit of Christmas.

Sibbold warned that the benevolence of the public at Christmastime invariably gives rise to seasonal rackets and, in cooperation with the National Better Business Bureau, he warned particularly against a nationwide hoax whereby thousands of early Christmas shoppers already have been persuaded that they were buying high-priced perfumes at bargain prices.

"The first step in the carefully planned schemes," Sibbold stated, "is the insertion in a prominent national magazine of a dignified advertisement which will include the statement that the perfume is available at better stores everywhere at a price approximately $20.00 per ounce or half-ounce. Actually the perfume may have little, if any, established retail distribution nationally at this price or any other. The next step is to induce two or three well-known stores in a given community to accept a few bottles of the perfume on consignment, an arrangement whereby the merchant does not have to pay for the product until it is sold.

"The stage having been set, an army of fast-talking salesmen, who have purchased the perfume for approximately $1.00 per bottle, descends upon the community. In bars, business offices, factories and even on the sidewalks, they hawk the 'nationally advertised $20 perfume' at from $2.00 to $5.00 per bottle or whatever price the traffic will bear. Display of the magazine advertisement is usually sufficient to convince the intended victim that he is being offered a great bargain. More reluctant purchasers are invited to telephone one of the reputable stores where the product has been planted and determine for themselves that it is on sale at the advertised price. Merchants who are thereby made unsuspecting participants in the scheme, are bewildered when the many telephone inquiries do not subsequently materialize at the store as eager buyers of the perfume.

"The National Better Business Bureau states that it already has reports from more than a dozen cities where this perfume hoax is being successfully perpetrated. Other schemes which are apt to flourish during the Christmas season include the following:

1. Personal appeals by mail from self-described needy individuals seeking clothing, food, fuel and funds.

2. Solicitation of funds by telephone for Christmas baskets by high pressure promoters who pocket all or most of the funds collected.

3. Collection of C.O.D. charges from neighbors on gift packages containing unneeded merchandise, on the representation that addressee is 'not at home now.'

IN MEMORIAM
 In loving memory of Alfred R. Hartung who left us December 18, 1947.
 Not a day do we forget you, in our hearts you're always near, God alone knows how much we miss you as this ends the 6 sad years.
 The flowers we place upon his grave may wither and not stay, But our love for him who sleeps beneath shall never fade away.

Suggested Florida Routes For Winter Vacationers

Two heavy lines indicate Automobile Club of Michigan's suggested routes to Florida. Eastern route, on the right, includes about 100 miles of mountainous driving, but is 100 miles shorter than western route (left). Driving time on two routes is about the same. Western route is especially recommended during icy weather. The two general routes, through Louisville and through Cincinnati, are both in good shape and may be reached from any of the five entrances through Niles, Coldwater, Sturgis, Adrian and Detroit.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

CHARLES LUDOVICO, 602 E. Price Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, loved his father dearly, more than anyone else in this world, and his father had been taken to the hospital, seriously ill. All he could think about was what if his father should die? He was afraid and he was terribly worried. He would gladly have exchanged places with his father if it had been possible.

Each day he would get into his car and drive to a lonely spot in the country. There he would talk to God. He begged, and begged—and prayed. He said, "Dear God, please, please, let me keep my father." He promised he would do anything in return, and he felt he could hear God answering him in his thoughts and in his feelings.
 Then one afternoon came a telephone call from the hospital. "Come immediately." No one could ever imagine his agony. It took him five minutes to get to the hospital in his car, and while on the way, a phrase came into his mind: "Let it be done unto me according to Thy will." The world seemed suddenly to be changed.
 He walked into the hospital room in which his father lay unconscious and felt that his father had been waiting for him. The older man slowly opened his eyes, looked at his son and grasped his hand as he said very slowly, "Charles, take care of your mother." Then he closed his eyes again as if he were going to sleep—and he was gone.
 Charles could do no more; he was through.
 But that phrase "Let it be done unto me according to Thy will" helped him through the crisis and has done much to help him through other troubles since.

An overhead valve V-8 engine developing 161 horsepower, a new type ball-joint front suspension and improved body styling are the major features of the 1954 Mercury. A new four-barrel carburetor has been incorporated for rapid acceleration and economical operation. A longer exterior appearance has been achieved by an extension to the rear quarter panel, new treatment of the side moulding and a more massive and distinctive front end grille assembly. A new instrument panel and more luxurious interior trims have been included. Shown here is the four-door Mercury Monterey sedan.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IN PLYMOUTH WITH SUE

Well, first off, I want to tell you about a new kind of stocking that is being sold at Norma Cassidy's. It is really something different, made out of Helanca stretch nylon yarn. Now you'll look at them and probably say, "These will never fit anyone I know"—that's because they look like a child's stocking when they're just lying in a box. And they only come in two sizes—A for sizes 8 to 9½, and B for 10 and 11. The beauty is that they stretch to mold right to the leg, and eliminate that awful-looking sagging. And best of all, you can actually rub out little snags—the pulled thread will snap back into place. This would surely make a perfect Christmas gift for the ladies on your list, because a good lasting stocking is always a problem.

I came up with something really unusual in a planter lamp over at Blunk's, which could fit very well into your Christmas shopping list. The lamp is of natural pine made in a replica of an old wooden farm pump, with the handle as a switch and the watering trough as the planter. The parchment shade looks like chintz, and the price is only $24.75. The little girl on your list will go for a "Little Queen" carpet sweeper, a smaller version of the famous Bissell. She can be mother's little helper with this $2.45 outfit. And while you're there, you might get some ideas by looking over the large number of appliances in stock.

And say, while I was looking for a gift for my little cousin, at Fisher's I found a box containing children's beaded moccasins and a little Indian doll dressed in deerskin. The two matched perfectly and cost only $5.98. They should make any little girl jump with joy on Christmas morning. They also had a gift that would go well as a family gift—and that was an Esquire shoe shine kit. There's even a place to put your foot on the top to polish. Everything's so complete—you could even set somebody up in the shoe shine business with this—at only $5.95. Fisher's has everything set up in a gift bazaar in the front, by the way, to make things easier for you.

Over at Minerva's I came across the perfect gift to make a little boy into a little man—outwardly at least. Maybe the little boys you know do prefer to go around looking like Hopalong Cassidy, but they have to dress up sometime—if only on Sundays. Anyway, Minerva's has little boy's shirts with bow ties that match the covered cuff links. Or you can get them with a tie clip and cuff links that go together. It really makes for a complete outfit, and it comes in cellophane window boxes that can show off the contents. Sizes range from 2 to 12, and the price for both types is $2.99. That goes easy on the Christmas budget—which is a little strained anyway—and also gives you a nice gift to place under your tree.

Now don't get the idea I got all this shopping accomplished as quick as I'm writing it down. That would be a little too good, I'm afraid. But if some of my ideas hit you just right, it sure can save you a lot of trouble. You could walk right in and know just what you want.

Now, men are always a problem—in my book, at least. Well, I'm about to suggest shirts—I knew you'd say there's nothing new about that. But the way you make it a new idea is by getting a different kind of fabric, instead of the same white shirt. For instance over at Capitol Shirts I found some McGregor's tissue weight wool flannel shirts that are completely washable. In fact, if they shrink Capitol will replace them. These particular shirts come in solid colors and patterns, and in assorted collar styles—and they're $10.95 and $11.95. Another washable shirt that looks real sporty is the pinwale corduroy kind that comes in seven different colors. Perfect for this time of year. Anyway, they're only $5.95, so how can you go wrong.

Of course you know about West Bros. Appliances five year guarantee on all appliances? Well, I found out that they really mean "all" too. I was in there looking at a portable record player that cost $29.95. It looked almost like a portable radio, about that size, and it was done in plastic, green in this particular case. Anyway, it was called the Capri, and it played records of the three different speeds, which is the kind everybody wants these days. An ideal gift for a teen-ager in particular you say—that's what I thought too. And to top it off, the five-year service guarantee goes right along with it—a present in itself.

Are any of the little boys on your list Boy Scouts? Well, you know they're always crazy about receiving anything that has to do with Boy Scouting or Cub Scouting. Davis and Lent has a marvelous collection of Scout equipment to offer on their second floor—how about some book ends with the Scout emblem on them? For that matter, you can find just about anything you want for the men on your list at Davis and Lent—from bowling balls and fishing reels to wool jersey shirts. My best advice to you here is just to go in and look around—you can't really go wrong that way.

Of course, toys are always tops on the kiddies' Christmas lists, as you can tell in the letters to Santa Claus printed in this week's issue. Well, you can get a doll now that walks, sits, cries, sleeps, and turns her head. I saw one just like that at Kresge's. On top of that you can even wash, comb and wave her hair. She was almost two feet tall, had cute pigtails and cost $11.95. I kept looking at her expecting to see her breathe any minute. At another counter I saw some genuine split cowhide brief cases that run from $2.98 to $4.98—that's a real bargain.

I'll tell you what my sister-in-law is going to get from us this year—she lives out of town so I can let it out. It's a three piece lounging outfit—a quilted jacket with acetate pajamas—from Graham's. I bought it in gold, but they've got a whole variety of other colors too. And if you won't tell, I paid only $10.95 for the set. She can really watch TV in style now. Managed to find a saddle leather handbag for my mother too, it's by Rolf at $7.95. Sort of that boxy style. I sure had a hard time choosing from the big assortment they showed me, though.

For a large and lasting gift, Better Homes Appliances recommended electric dryers. Now is a particularly good time to get one, because Edison is discontinuing its free installation beginning the first of 1954. For that reason the stores are really offering them at bargain prices to get the customers. For example, Better Homes has a $229 General Electric for $199.95—and that's the latest model out. I know that I would sure love to have one—and I can guarantee almost any woman would back me up, too.

Nice warm slippers—for men, women and children—also make a lovely gift. You might consider glamorous ones for the ladies, comfort for the men and warmth for the kiddies. That seemed to be the idea over at Fashion Shoes. I found some cute poodle cloth slippers there, for one thing, but they also had some in leather and satin. They're those Honey Bugs you hear so much about, and all are $2.99. Or you could get King Bee slippers for men at $4.99 or Blinks for kiddies from $1.99 to $3.45.

Right in keeping with the Christmas spirit, so to speak, is a You and Me cocktail set I found at Papes House of Gifts. Don't you agree that would make a nice gift for a couple—it's something a little different. The set has five pieces, including a martini mixer, at $2.95. Of special interest, however, is the fact that Papes gives you your gift wrapping free on each purchase. The packages are beautifully done, and then you don't have to worry about them afterwards—you get everything done with one blow.

Wrought iron and simulated wrought iron have received the nod from all corners because they lend themselves to both the modern and traditional touch. One of the things you might consider for mother is a warming dish which stands on wrought iron legs. A small candle, which goes underneath the dish to keep it warm, is included in the set at $2.98. In the same category are the lovely casserole dishes by Glasbake which have wrought iron stands. D. and C. has quite a stock of both these dishes which are an attractive compliment to any table. Another item that might be purchased here is Helanca stretchable hosiery.

One of the best ways to buy a gift of shoes for Christmas is to let the receiver pick out his own. That way they're sure they fit and they're exactly the kind he or she wants. Now don't say that way would take all the fun out of Christmas giving—there's a way you can do it so it's still a surprise. Willoughby's offer gift certificates for shoes, complete with a gift package containing a miniature plastic shoe for either a man or woman. Then with the Christmas rush over, the recipient can go into the store and choose her special pair of shoes or slippers. She might even find a matching handbag that would appeal.

Burroughs Builds Rapid Computer

Wayne University last week unveiled a giant new electronic computer capable of carrying out in one day the calculation performed by a mathematician working two years with a desk calculator.

Housed in Wayne's Computation Laboratory, the machine known as UDEC for unitized digital electronic computer, was designed and built by the Burroughs Corporation in its Philadelphia laboratories. It will be used for the rapid solution of complex industrial and business problems and for training personnel in the electronic computer field.

The laboratory represents the culmination of four years of effort by the University's administrative and scientific leaders and a half-million dollar investment by leading Detroit business and industrial firms.

Wayne's Computation Laboratory program started in 1949 with the presentation of a two and-one-half-ton calculating machine to Wayne by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The successful use of the machine working in a number of diversified areas demonstrated to Detroit business and industry the need and practicality of a fully equipped, large scale computation laboratory in the area. An advisory committee drew up a $500,000 budget covering the purchase of an all-purpose digital computer and maintenance of the laboratory over a five-year period.

Auto Accidents Grow in State

With new highs reported for the month of October, traffic injuries and accidents in Michigan during 1953 probably will exceed all previous records.

The State Police monthly statistical report shows 184 persons killed during the month, an increase of 22 per cent over 151 in October last year. The death toll was 36 higher than the October average for the years of 1946 to 1952.

There were 14,938 accidents and 4,980 injuries. This was a gain of 13 per cent in accidents and 19 per cent in injuries over the same month a year ago.

All of the increase in fatalities occurred in rural areas. Most of it was in one-car accidents in which the vehicle either overturned or ran off the roadway.

During the first 10 months of this year, the latest estimate available, totaled 19.7 billion, up 10 per cent from 17.9 billion miles in the same period last year.

Auto Accidents Grow in State

The death rate of 6.9 per 100 million miles of travel was the same as for the first nine months of 1952.

The State Police monthly statistical report shows 184 persons killed during the month, an increase of 22 per cent over 151 in October last year. The death toll was 36 higher than the October average for the years of 1946 to 1952.

There were 14,938 accidents and 4,980 injuries. This was a gain of 13 per cent in accidents and 19 per cent in injuries over the same month a year ago.

All of the increase in fatalities occurred in rural areas. Most of it was in one-car accidents in which the vehicle either overturned or ran off the roadway.

During the first 10 months of this year, the latest estimate available, totaled 19.7 billion, up 10 per cent from 17.9 billion miles in the same period last year.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

LATTNER AND GIEL ALL-ALL-AMERICAS

Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame's all-around sensation, and Paul Giel, Minnesota's brilliant performer, were the only players picked on all ten of the major All-America football teams this year. The Sporting News reported in a comparison of the honor elevens.

The consensus team agreed at every position with the selections made by The Sporting News, with Lattner, Giel, Paul Cameron of UCLA and J. C. Caroline of Illinois in the backfield. The line was made up as follows: Ends, Don Dohoney, Michigan State, and Carlton Massey, Texas; tackles, Art Hunter, Notre Dame, and Stan Jones, Maryland; guards, J. D. Roberts, Oklahoma, and Crawford Mims, Mississippi, and center, Larry Morris, Georgia Tech.

DISSA AND DATA FROM THE SPORTING NEWS

The Phillies, who have been waiting patiently, but without success, for the stardom expected of Willie Jones, plan to hit the third baseman where it will hurt the most—in the paycheck. "I'm going to wake him up or else," President Bob Carpenter said, as reported by The Sporting News. "He's going to get a cut that will knock his hat off. And if that doesn't wake him up, we'll have to give up on him." . . . The Yankees, who have been trying to land another pitcher in a trade, can get one in a simple way, Dan Daniel suggests in The Sporting News. He said that an extra $10,000 might induce Johnny Sain to give up his plans to retire and return to the Bombers for another season . . . Robin Roberts, the ace righthander of the Phillies, labels Solley Hemus of the Cardinals, and not any of the top sluggers, as the player who gave him the most trouble last season. Hemus, incidentally, may wind up eventually with some other club in a trade for a pitcher, now that the Cardinals have acquired slick-fielding Alex Grammas from the Redlegs . . . Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers has settled on his coaching assignments for next season, with Schoolboy Rowe at first base and Johnny Hopp at third. Bob Swift will continue in the bull pen and Hutch will be a bench manager. "I figure I can learn more staying on the bench," the Tiger pilot said.

BUCS LOSE PLAYER IN A FOG TO TIGERS

George Sisler, chief of the Pittsburgh Pirates' scouting staff, lost Southpaw Thomas Kirkpatrick of Beaver Falls, Pa., in the fog to the Detroit Tigers, he admitted to a writer for The Sporting News, when it was revealed that the youngster signed a contract with the Bengals.

"I know quite a bit about this boy and had a date to call on him and talk with him," Sisler said. "But when a heavy fog settled over the area and it appeared risky business to drive over there, I called young Kirkpatrick on the phone and told him I'd see him on Monday. But when I reached his home his sister informed me that the boy had signed two days before with Detroit."

"The Pirates had made me no offer, so when Mr. Ed Katalinas (Tiger scout) came to the house and made me one, I signed with Detroit," the boy said.

THAT SOMETHING EXTRA THAT MAKES STARS

Writes Oscar Ruhl in his "Ruhl Book" in The Sporting News: All great athletes—champions and near champions—excel in one department of their sport to put them head and shoulders above the rest. They develop that something extra . . . In baseball, Walter Johnson had a magnificent fast ball; Grover Cleveland Alexander had a marvelous curve; Christy Mathewson developed an unhittable fadeaway; Carl Hubbell possessed a bewildering screwball; Babe Ruth hit home runs; Ty Cobb drew the headlines because of his daring viciousness on the bases. . . in golf, Bobby Jones stood out because of his magnificent putting; Slammin' Sammy Snead got his nickname because of his tremendous driving; Walter Hagen was superlative because of his ability to get out of trouble . . . In football, Otto Graham, Bob Waterfield and others excelled in passing. Lou Groza placed his name above the rest by great kicking . . . Don Huston of the Green Bay Packers made a name for himself in pass-catching . . . In basketball, George Mikan, Joe Fulks, Paul Arizin, Bob Cousy and Neil Johnson thrust their heads above the mob because of their mastery of one particular bit of talent. Fulks became a sensation and led the league for several years because of his famous "floater," Mikan because of his pivot, Arizin with his jump shot, Johnson his one-handed "hook," and Cousy his unparalleled dribbling . . . Christmas Concert Attracts Full House

Playing to an overflow audience, the Plymouth Symphony orchestra and Civic Chorus collaborated to present music of the yuletide season at the third concert of the year on Sunday.

The concert opened with Philip James' "Overture on Old Noels" and Bach's "Christmas Oratorio". The familiar "Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikowsky brought forth bobbing heads and tapping toes from the large number of children attending the Christmas concert.

To this writer one of the highlights of the whole concert was witnessed by only a handful of the large audience. A performance during the "Dance of the Sugar-Plum Fairy" in the hall just outside the packed auditorium amused those few who could not find seats inside the concert-room proper. Marching and dancing to the tune, a 3-year-old tow-head rolled his eyes, smiled and squealed as only a child can while his watcher (presumably his grandmother) called upon all her patience to keep him in hand. To have brought this response

How to Select Christmas Tree

Don't buy if it's dry. That's a good slogan to remember in selecting a Christmas tree.

You can't tell a tree by its appearance. The most beautiful may be so dry that needles will burn like tinder, making it a serious potential fire hazard in the home.

Best way is to make the twig test. Feel twigs and needles with your fingers to see if they're dry and brittle. Then bang the tree butt sharply against the floor. If this brings a shower of needles, the tree is too dry.

Next thing to consider it how long you want the tree to last at home. If only a few days service is required, the Norway spruce is both attractive and economical.

A balsam fir, a Douglas fir or one of the long-needed pines will last longer but will cost more.

When a tree is finally purchased and carried home, stick it in water. Bases that can be filled with water are available at florist shops, or a tinfoil-decorated pail will do the trick.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA

Jehovah's Witnesses

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES purchased their "Kingdom Hall" at 281 South Union street two years ago and have been making constant improvements since then. Their "congregational servant" is C. Harold Coonce, who with his wife and two children live at 15716 Cadillac. The church has members living in Northville, South Lyon and Salem as well as from Plymouth.

All Members of Jehovah's Witnesses are Ministers

It made headlines across the nation last August when Jehovah's Witnesses from 97 countries filled Yankee Stadium in New York, for there was news in the fact that from a denomination which lists a half million people on their membership rolls around the world with 132,797 of that number in the United States, there should be 165,898 attending the convention in one day.

Such loyalty to their church is nothing new for Jehovah's Witnesses, who are also renowned for suffering much persecution because of their beliefs. Among the loyal followers are 65 members of the Plymouth congregation, many of whom attended the New York convention. The Plymouth church is located at 281 Union street beside the Grange hall.

There has been a Plymouth congregation for some 50 years, worshipping most of that time in a hall above the Beyer Rexall Drug store on Spring street. Their present church was purchased two years ago and improvements have been steadily made on the building. Leading the group is the "congregational servant." He is C. Harold Coonce, a resident of Plymouth 13 years.

Jehovah's Witnesses have no creed. They adhere strictly to the Bible as their guide and believe that the entire Bible, both Hebrew and Greek scriptures, are God's inspired Word and is consistent and practical for our day.

The denomination traces its history back 6,000 years when Abel and other men of faith before Christ were called "witnesses." They further point to Isaiah which labels God's servants as witnesses and Christ said to those who would follow him, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me . . . unto the uttermost part of the earth."

All of Jehovah's Witnesses are ministers and they desire to preach in the same manner as Jesus and his disciples did, going from house-to-house and in public places. They work either full or part time to support themselves and their families. In their teaching work they use the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, a Pennsylvania corporation, the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, Incorporated, a New York corporation, and the International Bible Students association, a Canadian and British corporation.

There are other corporations made up by small groups of people that are used for convenience in different parts of the earth. The branches in all principal countries of the world are governed from headquarters in Brooklyn, New York. The corporations are organized to more efficiently spread the "news of the Kingdom." The society owns and operates printing plants in many parts of the world and publishes in 100 languages. The 1952 report shows 456,265 witnesses preaching in 127 lands.

Witnesses believe that the creator has a personal name to distinguish him from all other gods, human and spiritual. His name is Jehovah and Jesus Christ is His son and mankind's redeemer—not the second person in a "trinity of Gods." They believe that the kingdom Jesus taught Christians to pray for is a real, honest-to-goodness government which will rest upon the shoulders of the "Prince of Peace." It will supplant all present-day governments and will bring the blessings of lasting peace, radiant health and everlasting life to all obedient families of the earth.

They say that all signs indicate that this government began with the enthronement of Christ Jesus in heaven in 1914. They believe that Satan and his angels have been cast out of heaven bringing the present woes upon the earth because "Satan knows that he has but a short time before the final show-down at the Battle of Armageddon." He is the god of "this system of things" which accounts for its wickedness.

Destruction of the present system of things will come in this generation, the witnesses believe, but many persons of good-will will survive just as Noah and his family survived the flood, thereby gaining life in the new world that follows. During the coming 1,000-year reign of Christ, they add, the entire earth will be restored to perfection. Jesus foretold the "meek shall inherit the earth" so only 144,000 people will receive the heavenly reward. They also believe in resurrection of the dead.

It is believed that the Bible hell is not a place of torment for the wicked but the common grave of all mankind, that those there, both the good and the bad, are unconscious and "know not anything." Their only hope lies in the resurrection. Death and hell will be destroyed at the end of the 1,000-year rule of Christ.

Witnesses accept persecution without complaint believing that "all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." Love is the binding tie that holds the organization together. Loving Jehovah with all their hearts and their neighbor as themselves has enabled them to overcome the barriers of race, color, language and nationality.

Witnesses maintain their own Bible college, the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead, located at South Lansing, New York. It has graduated 21 classes, most of whom are now assigned as missionaries in foreign fields.

The local "Kingdom Hall" is a busy place with four regular meetings scheduled each week. On Sundays, there is a 5:30 p.m. public meeting and a 6:45 Watchtower study. Thursday meetings include a 7:30 p.m. service meeting and an 8:45 p.m. ministry school. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Filson, traveling representatives of the Watchtower society, will visit the Plymouth congregation from December 12 through the 20th. He will deliver a discourse on "Happiness in a World of Gloom" on Sunday, December 20 at 5:30 p.m.

KIDDIES, 1,230 of 'em, FLOCK TO SEE SANTA

Santa Claus zoomed into town in his airplane last Saturday afternoon and there were very few of the community's young folks who failed to be on hand to greet him.

A tabulation showed there were 1,230 youngsters who greeted Santa personally in his tent erected in Kellogg park. He had brought 1,232 sacks of candy for his young friends.

As scheduled, Santa flew over the city and waved at his followers before he landed at Met-tal airport. About 300 persons were at the airport to meet him as he stepped from the plane after his long trip from the North Pole. He was then escorted to the high school where a parade in his honor started.

The parade moved down Main street with Santa riding in a 1907 Model T Ford. He was escorted by the high school band. In Kellogg park, St. Nick sat in his large chair and began listening to hundreds of children who lined up outside the tent. As ai-ways, many of the young folks weren't as brave when they met Santa face-to-face as they were outside the tent. Some cried but most of them were able to relate their long list of "wants" for Christmas.

Arranging Santa's visit this year was the B.P.O. Elks lodge of Plymouth. They financed the 1,232 sacks of candy through money-making activities and members were on hand to make sure each child got a sack. The Chamber of Commerce promotes the over-all Christmas activity.

As a means of controlling traffic congestion, the trend to construction of toll roads has reached eleven states where such highways are planned or completed.

Swimmers Drop Opener; Face Birmingham Tonight

In their inaugural meet of the season the Plymouth swimming team lost a close contest to the Lincoln Park natators by a 45 to 38 score. Plymouth made a good showing in this meet and led up to the start of the two relays—if they could have won the last relay they would have won the meet by one point, but Lincoln Park copped first place in both relays.

Dave Beegle and Bob Packard garnered two first places for Plymouth as Beegle won first in the 50 yard free style with a time of 27.1 seconds, and Packard took the 100 yard backstroke in 1:17.5; Beegle was also second in the 100 yard free style.

Paul Daoust placed second in the 100 yard breast stroke; Don

Wallace second and Lee Rowe third in the 200 yard free style. Tom Rutherford took a third in the diving, and John Gregory a second in the 100 yard back stroke. Mike Conrad placed second and Jerry Trahan third in the 150 yard individual medley; and the two relay teams were nosed out by seconds. In the 150 yard medley relay, Paul Daoust, John Gregory and Chuck McKenna performed for Plymouth, while in the 200 yard free style relay Gary Wright, Jim Gage, Lee Rowe and Don Wallace formed the team.

The swimming team meets Birmingham tonight at 7:30 in the new pool at the high school. Entrance is at the rear of the gymnasium near the high school.

Frosh Tankmen Nipped in Relay

The newly-formed Plymouth high school frosh swimming team were dipped by a couple inches in the relay, which decided the meet in favor of the Highland Park frosh by a score of 41 to 38. The relay was nip-and-tuck throughout, and the outcome was in doubt until the final lunge—the local relay team of Mike Wallace, Jack Taylor, Bill Brandell and Dick Showers were four seconds behind the winning team of Highland Park, who won in 2:03.2.

The frosh had three first places as John Williams took honors in the 75 yard free style with Gary Strasen third; his time was 47.8 seconds. Gary Wright won the 75 yard individual medley in 55.6 seconds with Jerry Trahan third. The frosh 150 medley relay team copped first also with a time of 1:45.5—members were George Losse, Goe Gregory and Dennis Baker.

Young Wright also was second in the 50 yard free style with Bill Brandell third. Losse was second in the breast stroke with Jim Abate third. Jim Archer scored second and Wesley Smith fourth in the 50 yard back stroke. Ed Ward was third in diving.

These two teams are scheduled to meet again on January 11 at Highland Park.

Trenton Downs Rock Quintet In Slow 6-B League Opener

A Plymouth Rock quintet opened the 6-B league competition in dismal style last weekend when they dropped a 45 to 26 decision to the Trenton Trojans. The game, played at Trenton in their small gymnasium, was a complete reversal of form from that shown by the Rocks in their opener against Northville.

The local boys just couldn't get going and were completely outclassed in both offense and defense throughout the contest. The dull game provided few thrills, and Trenton was in command throughout, never being behind. Bob Middleton kept the Rocks in contention during the first quarter as he scored all 7 of the locals points—Trenton counted 10 during the first period. Inability to stop the 6 foot 7 inch Art Boyd who scored 14 points for Trenton and rebounded in great style, proved the difference in the two outfits. Boyd, who is a junior and who played junior varsity ball last year, is more polished this season and will cause a lot of trouble to opposing teams before he graduates next year. Pagenkopf and Middleton did a good job of trying to stop Boyd, but when they did then Trenton's Dale Brubaker began getting hot.

The halftime score was 23 to 12 in favor of the home team; Trenton had increased it to 38 to 19 by the end of the third quarter. The Rocks made a poor percentage of their shots from the floor and from the free throw line—they made good on only 6 of 18 foul tosses.

Boyd and Brubaker each contributed 14 points to the Trenton cause; the former had 6 baskets and 2 free throws, while the latter garnered 7 baskets. Bob Middleton was high for the Rocks with 9 points—7 of them coming in the first stanza; high-scoring Ken Kisabeth got his first bucket a few seconds before the end of the third period, and was next with four points. The remaining were divided between Caplin and Agnew with three each, Kelly, Wilhelmi and Gothard with two each, and Day had the other point.

The Rocks make their last appearance before the holidays tomorrow night when Redford Union comes here for a game. The first game begins at 7 p.m.

Rock Cagers Host Redford

Tomorrow night Plymouth plays host to Redford Union in the last basketball game before the holidays. The game will be played in the new gymnasium, and will feature a team that beat Plymouth in both games last year by close margins. The Panthers bowed to Allen Park in a low-scoring game last weekend 31 to 24.

Other scores last weekend found Bentley defeating Belleville 51 to 37—Bentley is the 6-B league defending champion, and they have also beaten Farmington and Garden City already this year. Ypsilanti surprised powerful Kalamazoo and beat them 64 to 57 as Don Schwall poured in 36 points. Fordson, last year's state Class A champion defeated Wyandotte 41 to 31. Northville won over Brighton 45 to 33; and Farmington bowled over Southfield 48 to 38.

The 6-B league standings after the first games are as follows with points scored for and against each team.

FOLLOW THESE RULES CAREFULLY

The object of THE SPORTING NEWS FOOTBALL BOWL CONTEST is to select winners of the 11 games listed above.

After making your predictions by circling names of winning teams, list the name of the team you think will gain most yardage by rushing and passing. This prediction will have a bearing on the awards only in the case two or more contestants are tied in the selection of winning teams.

Contestants must make all 11 selections and designate a choice of team to gain the most net yardage together with the prediction of the most net yardage gained by rushing and passing.

Print your name, street address, city, zone and state on your entry. Entry must be submitted on a postal card (not in an envelope) to THE SPORTING NEWS CONTEST EDITOR, P. O. Box 11, St. Louis 3, Mo. Copy the form above on a postal card. No part of THE SPORTING NEWS or this newspaper will be required. Your entry must be in the office of THE SPORTING NEWS by noon of December 31, 1953.

In event of postponement of any game or a change in the schedule necessitating its being played on a day other than scheduled or game not being played as listed, then such game is automatically excluded from the contest.

A first prize of $500 will be awarded the individual whose entry names all selections correctly. If more than one contestant names all winners correctly, the first prize winner will be selected by checking the accuracy of the team named to gain the most yardage, and by computing how close the contestant comes to the correct yardage made. In case of absolute ties duplicate prizes will be awarded. In the event no entry contains all selections correct, the nearest number of correct selections will receive first prize. Second prize of $100, third prize of $75, fourth prize of $50, fifth prize of $25, and ten prizes of $5 each will be awarded to contestants whose selections follow next in order.

Winners of this contest will be announced in the issue of THE SPORTING NEWS dated January 27, 1954 and in this newspaper during the same week. Decisions of the judges will be final in all cases.

Each contestant is limited to ONE set of selections in fairness to others. Each entry must be submitted on a postal card, not in an envelope.

Any person or persons may enter this contest, excepting employees of THE SPORTING NEWS and their families.

Trenton Downs Frosh Cagers

Last Friday afternoon the Trenton Frosh about doubled the score on the Rock Frosh as they won handily over the local quintet to the tune of a 54 to 28 score. Coach Charles Ketterer's lads played the Trojans fairly even the first half being on the short end of a 18 to 16 score, but wilted during the last two periods to drop their first game of the season.

The young Rocks couldn't stop Trenton's Martin who counted 24 points—14 during the second half. Jerry King was high for Plymouth with 12 points scored on 4 baskets and 4 free throws. Kent Calhoun had 9, Cliff Tait 3, and Ron Markham and John Thomas 2 each.

The next game is against Redford Union tomorrow afternoon over at the latter city.

Basketball sure is a peculiar game—those who witnessed the high school game over at Trenton the other night must have wondered how a team could have such a reversal of form after the win over Northville. In the first game of the season they looked like champions, but at Trenton they just didn't click on anything

They tried. Their shooting percentage was miserable, Bob Middleton made all of Plymouth's 7 points in the first quarter and was high for the night with 9, followed next by Kisabeth with a meager 4 points, and those not until the last 10 minutes.

The boys sure had an off-night, while Trenton was shooting over their average, according to their followers. If our lads play as they are capable of playing, they could easily beat Trenton in our spacious gym the next time these two powers meet, but they will have to have more on the ball than they showed the other night. I still think we have the makings of a good team, and one that will be in the thick of the championship until the end.

The high school band really put on a show the other night in the high school auditorium. Lawrence Livingston must be given much credit for bringing this outfit along as he has. Besides putting on a magnificent show at the football games, every member of that band played some splendid music. In the high school show last week, Nat Sibbold put on a great show in his rendition of an old favorite, "O Man River"—it was one of the finest I have ever heard.

The band deserves quite a hand—they go out for various public functions and parades, and everyone knows that a band adds much to any occasion.

Well, Santa Claus visited Plymouth last Saturday while hundreds of kiddies lined up for their yearly treat. Sometimes I think that some parents and kids emphasize the Santa Claus, presents, and feasting too much, instead of what Christmas really means. In recent years you have seen many lines written concerning putting the Christ back in Christmas as many think it has become secondary to commercial aspects. I have asked quite a few tiny tots what Christmas means to them, and most of them say presents and Santa Claus—some don't even know that it is Christ's birthday, believe it or not.

Someone has even advocated setting a "Santa Claus Day" on December 27 where they would have the tree and Santa Claus, and the 25th would be observed for the birth of Christ. There is some food for thought there—some European countries have a separate Santa Claus day.

Everyone has a light heart at Christmas time and a kind feeling toward their fellowmen—if only we could spread this grand feeling over 52 weeks instead of two it would be a grand world in which to live.

Plymouth will play host to another Class A Regional Basketball Tournament this year, and seven teams will vie for the right to advance to the quarter-finals in state tournament play. There were six teams competing here last year—the same six will be back plus Detroit St. Anthony, Dearborn Fordson, the winner here last year, went on to take the state Class A crown.

State officials were very much impressed with the way the tournament was conducted here last year, the crowd, and the wonderful facilities offered by the new gymnasium. The meet will be held four days this year beginning on Wednesday, March 10 and ending on Saturday, March 13. Teams competing this year will be Dearborn, Lincoln Park, Fordson, Plymouth, Detroit Catholic Central, Detroit St. Joseph and Detroit St. Anthony.

The Detroit Lions just won the league title, but they had some uneasy moments during the last few seconds when the New York Giants nearly put the game away—a pass interception by Tulsa Bob Smith ended the threat with less than 30 seconds to play and he ran it back 95 yards to set up another score.

The game between the Lions and the Cleveland Browns Sunday should be really something to see. It is being played at Detroit and will be televised. On paper, I suppose the Browns are favored—they lost one game in their league this year. However, these two teams have met frequently the past few years and the Lions usually came out on top. I'll take the Lions by three points.

Michigan State College Stresses Television Production Program

"One of the most advanced college training programs in the United States in the field of television production is presented as part of the undergraduate and graduate curricula at Michigan State College," according to Dr. Robert P. Crawford, Director of Radio-TV training at M.S.C.

Dr. Crawford points out that while the television course work is strictly academic, the program of training is based upon a combination of skills and ideas within the organization of the general education program.

"Students not only attend extensive lecture periods, but also are trained in the laboratory to operate television cameras, boom microphones, motion picture equipment, slide projectors, and other electronic instruments," Crawford said.

He added that the student also learns the techniques of control room directing, in which capacity he rehearses the talent, perfects the show, and actually directs television programs. Students are also part of the working crew for on-the-air productions, thereby gaining valuable experience in program production.

Student training is part of a joint program which started in 1951 at M.S.C. between the department of speech, dramatics, and radio education, and the television development at Michigan State College; and this program will be continued after the college station goes on the air in mid-January, 1954.

A representative group of students who have completed television training at Michigan State College may be found in Lansing, St. Louis, Louisville, Detroit, New York, Los Angeles, Washington D. C. as well as many other television cities throughout the United States.

Reception of Michigan's first college educational television station will be possible within an expected 65-mile range of East Lansing, on UHF Channel 60.

Reserves Edged In Final Seconds

The Plymouth reserve basketball team built up an early lead at Trenton last Friday night, but the Trojans kept whittling away at it until during the final minutes they went ahead to win by a 33 to 29 count. Plymouth held a 4 to 1 first quarter lead, and a 16 to 9 halftime margin, but Trenton had picked up enough points to be on a short end of a 24 to 22 count as the final stanza began. With about four minutes remaining Trenton went ahead to stay.

All the local's points were divided among four players—Linden Mills was high with 9 markers, Chuck Ferguson and Jack Carter each had 7, while Henry Bonga had 6 points.

Bill Sullivan was high for the Trenton reserves with 14 counters.

The Rock reserves play Redford Union tomorrow night in a preliminary game at the high school beginning at 7 p.m.

C&O Introduces Hostesses on R.R.

Simple but chic style from the fashion salons moved into the railroad industry this week with the introduction of exclusive hostess uniforms designed by Schiaparelli and produced in America by Frechtel especially for Chesapeake and Ohio Railway hostesses.

The uniforms will be worn by four young ladies who started new tours of duty Dec. 14, as hostesses on the streamliner George Washington, running between the nation's capital and Cincinnati.

Each hostess, officially termed a "Hostess and Travel Assistant" will greet passengers, make them comfortable, provide information and reading material, and be generally helpful and attentive. Hostesses will give special attention to women travelers, particularly those with children, railroad officials said.

C.A.P. Civilian Air Patrol NEWS

Civil Air Patrol meets every Tuesday from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. at the Plymouth high school.
At our Tuesday, December 8 meeting the topic of discussion was "Why the Airplane Flies." Many people have erroneous ideas about the airplane and why it flies. For example, some people believe that it requires considerable strength on the part of the pilot to keep the airplane in the air; actually almost the reverse is true, the airplane sustains itself and the pilot can direct it with ease. There are four major forces which act on an airplane in flight: lift, drag, thrust and gravity. These subjects are being explained so that the student of aviation will gain an understanding of them which will help him to know "Why the Airplane Flies."

Barber Orin Scrimger commented to Paul Nash and Kenneth Swain, when they were talking about this fast moving world, that he had noted people were in such a hurry today that if they had to wait for an opening in a revolving door they were mad.

Local optometrists, doing a rushing business these days, noted the fact that most complaints people have had recently is that they can no longer read the names in the telephone book. For your information it probably isn't your eyes but the new style of type used in the new book which is far more difficult to read than was the old style.

Being president of the Garden club has its difficulties as well as its glamorous side. Mrs. Edwin Schrader, already overworked supervising the club's greens sale found at the last minute Friday no one could be found to fill the tail of Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer that was supposed to roam the streets of the town advertising the sale. Since she was president and the job had to be done it fell her lot to do that too.

Henry Ford's brother William, was a guest of Hi-12 last week at which time Raymond Bachelder pointed out to members of the club, seated at his table, that neither William or John, Henry's other brother, had or have any wealth, which they might have received from their famous brother. The reason stated Mr. Bachelder was that the first Sunday afternoon Henry drove his horseless carriage out to the Ford homestead where the two boys were working the farm with their father, was that the elder Ford took young Henry to task for his useless experimenting and told him he never would amount to anything. Both brothers more or less agreed and Henry drove off in a huff never to forget his family's opinion. Mr. Bachelder was well acquainted with the Ford family having spent two and a half years supervising the construction of Fairlane, the Ford palatial estate in Dearborn.

William Blakely, vice-president of the Shelden Shopping center development on Plymouth road made the following observations to the person sitting on his left at a banquet last week in Livonia. First he stated Plymouth might have had the shopping center rather than Livonia if certain property owners here would have sold their property a year or so ago when a Detroit firm tried to secure them for this purpose. And secondly he said, if Plymouth merchants are to stand off the competition from the center they have to move fast in the development of more parking facilities in Plymouth. "YOU ARE ABSOLUTELY RIGHT and talking to the right man when you say that," said Edwin Schrader, "since I am chairman of the Plymouth off street parking committee."

Lon Brockelhurst, editor of the weekly Hi-12 bulletin, says he is faced with a new problem in writing his news letter since he learned Hi-12 wives have been opening their husband's copy of the same and reading his weekly offerings. At a recent ladies night he was overwhelmed by Hi-12 wives who wanted to meet "The Boy from Indiana," the signature he uses on his bulletins. Guess I'll have to be more careful what I write in the future, he says.

Parking meters in Cazenovia, New York bear this sign: "Discontinued for the Holidays . . . Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." Not a bad idea to stimulate shopping and interest in the old home town.

Rotarians had an unusual program last Friday when three of their best salesmen took the floor to give classification talks. Classification programs are designed to let club members tell a little about their own businesses. Speaking were Chamber of Commerce secretary Nat Sibbold, Evans Products advertising manager Sam Hudson and National Bank's Jack Taylor. Each of the three became so engrossed in telling of their own businesses that Chairman Elmore Carney, three times, had to stop them in order to bring the program to a close on schedule.

THE BLAST THAT SHOOK A NATION

Will Michigan's potent prison problem remain unsolved after the legislature return in January?

This question disturbs many people interested in the welfare of the state in general and penal problems in particular. A repetition of the 1952 riots has been predicted if present conditions are not corrected.

If recent statements by Adrian deBoom (R-Owosso) foreshadow sentiment of a large group of lawmakers, the taken-for-granted issue of a new prison can turn into a first class row causing serious delay!

Rep. deBoom announced recently that he planned to ask for a special legislative committee to review the whole problem of prisons—even at the expense of postponing construction until another year.

He criticized the new organized Corrections Commission for embracing the advice of "out of state experts."

Object of this attack is considered to be Austin MacCormick, nationally recognized prison authority who was executive director of a non-partisan special committee appointed by the governor to study the startling Jackson riots.

MacCormick is also the author of an article in the December Reader's Digest. In it he holds up Michigan's prison system as a horrible example. Millions of Digest subscribers read his description of how Jackson prisoners with no activity to divert their time were jammed together in crowded cells. "Caged, idle men are the dynamite of which prison explosions are made," he wrote.

Serving with him on the committee when he investigated Michigan's riots were several well known state citizens. Its chairman was Prentiss M. Brown.

A complete report was filed in February last year based on the April, 1952 riots. Most emphatic of its recommendations was that overcrowding must be reduced. It proposed a 1,200-man prison expected to cost about $14 million, which would allow "sorting out" of prisoners, particularly psychopathic criminals.

The legislature, with more discussion about the location of the new building than about the cost, appropriated $75,000 to lay plans. Rep. deBoom was present for this legislation but did not vote upon the issue.

They appropriated nearly half a million dollars to remodel Jackson.

A commission type administration for state prisons was also created. This body began functioning Oct. 2. All its members were appointed by Gov. Williams. DeBoom charges that the commission held a "secret" session in Detroit with MacCormick a few days before publicly endorsing the proposed $14 million institution for Ionia.

Commission members are said to occupy a very weak position to take action since none have been confirmed by the senate and the "secret meeting" in Detroit leaves them open to criticism.

Now comes a request from Rep. DeBoom for more time to study the prison situation. He suggests that another solution might be better. Perhaps a 600-man institution for an estimated $7,200,000—or maybe two of them in different portions of the state.

Best argument is that "out-of-state" experts were wrong another time—when they recommended that Jackson prison be built. Its gigantic size is now considered by other "experts" to make it an administrative impossibility. DeBoom is said to favor more probationary camps.

Economic facts of legislative life cannot be overlooked. Fourteen million dollars is a large sum of money. The state financial situation is a chief concern of many lawmakers.

Much of Michigan's income is derived from taxes which shrink shockingly when business drops off. Returns from sales taxes and business receipt taxes would reduce overnight should there be a recession.

If this should develop, the legislature would prefer not to be caught spending $14 million when it might be argued that $7 million would do as well!

"Temporary uneasy peace exists behind bars," said Austin MacCormick in his Digest article. It would easily be broken with newer and more serious riots if conditions that caused previous uprisings are not rectified.

Prisoners have no one to lobby in their interests. If legislative action does not meet minimum living needs, no one should be surprised at another revolt. Their fate is interwoven with politics, economics and other factors beyond their control.

The governor is stuck with accepting the recommendation of the commission he just appointed. To refuse would be to invite its members' resignations. The legislature is stuck with the dilemma of beginning a prison construction program now, or facing blame for future riots which MacCormick says must be expected.

Inmates are stuck in red tape of inactivity. After two years of investigating, they face the possibility that investigations will start all over again. In the meantime they exist in cramped quarters, seasoned criminals with first offenders; lunatics with "normal" prisoners. Insufficient activity; insufficient medical care, and certainly insufficient rehabilitation programs.

Taxpayers are stuck with the bill. Whatever is decided, they will pay the check. If the decisions of the legislature are wise and made in time to remedy a situation long overdue for action, they can take some comfort from the knowledge that a social situation that no one is proud of has at last been dealt with in a sound manner.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

For Christmas Cookies

One of the things that Christmas means for the family and friends of Mrs. Robert Beyer of 725 North Mill street is cookies! Mrs. Beyer sets herself to work several weeks before Christmas and begins turning out her delicious cookies. Not only does she keep many for her own family, but she also gives boxes of them away to her friends. Particularly partial to these cookies is little Susan, three and a half year old daughter of the Beyer. The couple has another child, Michael, age two.

Mrs. Beyer explained that she just loves to make cookies, and that she has never had any failures with this particular recipe for Christmas cookies. Just last week she turned out 18 dozen cookies which are already going fast.

Mrs. Robert Beyer and Susan look at the freshly baked Christmas cookies.

- Christmas Cookies
- 1/2 pound butter or margarine (1 cup)
 - 1 cup granulated sugar
 - 2 eggs
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - Colored sugar for decoration

Cream the butter and sugar until fluffy. Add the two unbeaten eggs and 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla and blend thoroughly. Beat in 2 1/2 cups sifted flour, and chill dough in the refrigerator overnight. Roll the cookie dough out on a floured board 1/8 inch thick and cut into desired shapes. Brush with egg whites and sprinkle with the colored sugar. Bake in a 350 degree oven for eight to 10 minutes. The recipe yields eight dozen.

Mixing Furniture Sets New Style In Modern Home

There is a popular tendency among homemakers today to mix furniture of different periods. This mixing of traditional and contemporary furnishings is said by some decorators to forecast a new style in home decoration. This blending of periods is certainly a practical idea. Almost everyone of us has an old desk, sofa or chest that belonged to our Grandmother for which we feel a great deal of affection. However, a great many people prefer modern or contemporary furniture, for the most part, in their homes. This new trend probably stems from their desire to enjoy the new and the old.

A large number of modern pieces are being produced in medium rather than pale colors, while traditional furniture is being made in many of the lighter woods. The corresponding color tones makes it possible to use tables, chairs and such in the same room even though they are not related in styling.

Modern hardwood veneer furniture not only brings out the full beauty of the wood grain, but it is much more durable, when of a good quality, than many solid pieces. Curved shapes are possible with the new plywoods and hardwood veneers. Also, veneer matching has been perfected to the point where almost any desired effect in wood pattern can be had.

All this permits unlimited selection in design, color and pattern, thus making it simple to find pieces of different periods which look well together.

One well known decorator stated that he has always preferred mixing periods because it gives a variety to rooms that can be gotten in no other way.

Americans are chewing less tobacco and snuffing less snuff these days. Last year's output of chewing tobacco was 85 1/2 million pounds, roughly a million pounds less than in the previous year. This followed a declining trend that started in 1945. The 1952 output of snuff was about 39 million pounds, or 1.5 per cent lower than the 1951 figure.

Plenty of Time for This Last-Minute Fruit-Cake

ARE you beginning to wonder whether you'll ever find the time to make that home-made fruit cake you promised the family for the holidays? Or are you hoping to give this traditional Christmas delicacy as a personalized gift to some one, but, with so much to do, just can't seem to get around to it? Well, don't give up. Here's good news in these crowded days, a recipe for a light, moist fruit cake that takes just less than three hours to prepare and bake. More important still, this "Last-Minute Fruit Cake" can be eaten the minute it is popped out of the oven, or it can be put aside to mellow in the stainless steel handy-pans you bake it in.

The recipe we suggest produces two 2-lb. loaves of fruit cake, and is baked in one of the three sizes of these new handy-pans, the 1-quart size. It can be baked in the 2-quart and 1-pint sizes, too, with the proper dividing. If you really want to make a hit, give the cake away in a bright, shiny-pan tied with a bit of red ribbon. It makes an ideal gift, you know, because it can be used for so many things. For serving, for molding and for refrigerator use, for instance, as well as baking. And they clean and store so easily, too. Time was, remember, when there was ample time for Christmas baking. It was a family affair with one day for preparing the ingredients and another for the baking. The kitchen was replete with exciting smells from far-off lands, for the molasses came from the West Indies, the fruit from Spain and Italy, the raisins and currants from the Mediterranean and the spices from Java. Today we can have home made fruit cake without two days work in the kitchen.

- Last-Minute Fruit Cake
- 1 package white cake mix
 - 2 tablespoons shortening
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup boiling water
 - 2 eggs
 - 2 tablespoons cold water
 - 1 1/2 lbs. prepared mixed candied fruit
 - 1/2 lb. white raisins
 - 1/2 lb. cut-up nuts (about two cups)

Empty white cake mix into a 4-quart mixing bowl. Add shortening and cinnamon and stir. Add boiling water and stir until ingredients are moistened. Let stand about 30 minutes. Line two 1-quart handy-pans with wax paper. Prepare nuts. Beat cake batter vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes by clock. Add 2 eggs and 2 tablespoons cold water, then beat 2 more minutes. Stir in prepared mixed candied fruit, white raisins and cut-up nuts. Spoon batter into prepared pans. Bake two hours in slow oven (300 degrees F) until wooden pick thrust in center comes out clean. Turn out on cake rack. Remove paper. Cake may be eaten at once or stored 2 to 4 weeks to mellow. Makes two 2-lb. loaves.

How to Measure Your Draperies

Knowing how much material is needed for draperies will save the homemaker both time and money. By following these simple directions you can determine the exact amount of fabric needed to make pleated draperies.

First—measure the width of the window from outside edges of the frame, together with length required to set the curtains at top of the window frame to the floor. Your fabric must be double the width of the window, or 100 per cent fullness, so that draperies will cover the entire window when closed.

You will need an additional allowance of 9 inches in length for the hem and for turning over at top to give sufficient body for holding the pleats. Consider, too, the amount of extra yardage required for matching the pattern so it will be in alignment around the room.

Draperies are lined before pleating. A piece of buckram, or stiffening, is stitched along the top of the curtain panel between lining and fabric. This will keep the pleats upright and stiff enough to lie in tailored folds. The top hem is then turned over the stiffening twice. The bottom edge is left free, so that rings or pins can be sewn into the loose hem after pleats are set in.

Before starting the pleats, you must consider how much extra width you require for side hems. It may be necessary to eliminate one pleat from far side of each panel if there is not sufficient width left to cover the window easily after pleats are made. If the window is quite wide, you may have to add an extra half strip to each panel, to allow for the side hems so that the curtains will meet at top without looking skimpy.

In starting the pleats begin at the inside hem on both panels. As you don't want two pleats meeting when curtains are closed, use a space at this point.

The first pleat, therefore, starts in 2 1/2 inches from inside hem, which is exactly half the space used between pleats. Now mark your first pleat at this point—2 1/2 inches in from hem; fold up 5 inches of fabric making it into three folds and tacking together. Leave a space of 5 inches and conpleated to the required width for one-half of the window. Now repeat the process on the other panel, starting the first pleat 2 1/2 inches in from inside hem. When draperies are finished and closed, you'll have equal spaces of 5 inches between pleats beginning at the center of the window across its entire width.

AUTO QUIZ for new car buyers

Q In what car do you get modern, one-piece "aero-frame" construction?

A AERO WILLYS, of course!

Your Indispensable Servant

Six or seven times a day a new unit is added to the American railroad's locomotive fleet.

And every six minutes (as in October) of every hour of the 24 in the day the railroads put a new freight car to work on their tracks.

And yearly they re-lay enough rail and ties to build an entire trans-continental rail system—a system containing every new technological improvement adaptable to railroad operation.

Why all this?

So that they can continue to be the one and only form of transportation in America that can and does haul anything, for anybody, in any quantity, anywhere, in any season of the year.

The railroads are America's — and your — most nearly indispensable economic servant.

Children Facing Added Dangers During Holiday Fire Hazards

Holidays can be dangerous days for the youngsters. The menace is fire.

Actually, fire is a year-round threat to children—their No. 1 killer in home accidents. But at this time of year, added seasonal hazards increase the danger. Excited and over-tired youngsters are especially vulnerable to the dangers of loosely woven costumes and party dresses, decorative candles and unsafe toys.

Protect them advises the National Board of Fire Underwriters, by following these simple safety suggestions:

1. Flameproof children's clothing made of loosely woven materials. Dip such garments in a solution of 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid to a gallon of water. Wring by hand, then hang to dry. Flameproofing will last until the clothes are laundered; then it must be repeated. Use it on doll's clothes, too, as well as adults' clothing, drapes or any washable fabric.

2. Remember, candles are dangerous at any time—but particularly when there are children around. Electric candles are just as effective in decorating, and much safer.
3. Some types of toys, such as those involving flame or pressure, should not be given to little children. Others, such as chemical sets, should be selected with care, and play with them should be supervised.
4. Never leave children at home alone!

Last year, nearly 1,300 children under 5 years old were killed by fire. Deaths among the 5-14 age group brought the total up to 1,700. In this season, in any season, keep the children safe.

You Can Make One Room Home Attractive

Casual living has developed a demand for the room designed for complete living — sleeping, eating and entertaining. To meet the need for one-room homes, decorators have worked out successful plans, combining attractiveness, comfort and convenience.

The first rule is to group furniture so as to create an area for each activity, often with the help of a room divider. Using light colors is also important to give a sense of spaciousness. For walls, decorators recommend white, gray, beige or any light shade. The rug can be in a deeper tone or in a neutral gray or beige.

The background of the drapery and furniture fabrics should be the color of the walls, with the design colors used as accents.

In a combined bedroom-living-and-dining room, the long, unbroken wall offers a good base for sleeping and hospitality groupings. The opposite wall is a nice spot for dining table and chairs. This is the arrangement in one attractive room, where the problem of including a real bed is solved successfully. The headboard stands against one end of the long wall. The bed extends into the room from one end of this wall. Sheer, partly drawn zephyrchrom draperies hang from a ceiling track the length of the bed and parallel to it. And a 3' high bookcase is placed in front of the draperies. The rest of the wall is given over to a loveseat, flanked by chests which also serve as lamp tables. With these as a focus for the hospitality area, there is free floor space for coffee table, easy chair and lamp table, occasional chair and hassock.

The walls are pale pink and the rug is rose. Pink is also the background color of the cotton-and-rayon antique satin print in the Desley "Forsythe" design of blue and white flower clusters and green leaves. The print is used for window draperies, as well as for slipcovers on the loveseat and headboard of the bed. The easy chair wears a slipcover in the leaf green, and seat pads of the occasional chairs are in flower blue.

Some multi-purpose rooms include kitchenette equipment. In this case, a convertible loveseat or sofa in the hospitality area provides the sleeping unit. The room-divider cutting off the kitchenette is sizable. One design calls for a floor unit 4 1/2 feet high, with shelves on the kitchenette side. Walls and woodwork are white; rug and seat pads of side chairs are chartreuse; and the easy chair is slip-covered in cocoa with chartreuse welting as the trim. The total effect is both smart and homelike.

A meal planned around a well-prepared beef dish is sure to be a success, for beef appeals to young and old alike. As the basis of the meal, beef also blends well with the flavors of many vegetables and other foods served with it to make the whole meal more appetizing.

Try Pot Roast With Catchup

Slow cooking—that is the rule to follow from the start of browning the pot-roast until it is done. Let the beef simmer in the cooking liquid, catchup, until tender. This provides a wonderful gravy for the meat.

- Pot-Roast With Catchup
- 3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 cup catchup
 - 6 medium potatoes
- Dredge meat with flour and brown in lard or drippings. Season and add catchup. Cover and simmer 3 hours or until tender. Add potatoes the last 45 minutes. Remove meat and potatoes and make gravy.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD or REMODEL

THE KITCHEN CORNER in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncombe A. MacInnes of 41801 Eight Mile road carries out the Early American theme found throughout. Cupboards are of knotty pine and the window shutters are done in smoky pine to match the cupboards. The ceiling of the section is done in a parchment color, and the pegboards for flooring help carry out the colonial theme. The burners are placed in the counter, which extends into a breakfast bar and the colored bricks. The desk in oven is set into multi-foreground is an antique. (Ply-Mail Photo)

Window Shopping With Sue

It's been fun window-shopping but with Santa Claus practically breathing down our necks I've had to do a lot of actual shopping lately. I suppose that's no news to you, because just about everybody's in the same boat these last few days before Christmas. Now, one idea I came up with while collecting my gifts, is unfinished furniture as a Christmas present. Unfinished, or better yet, finished for that matter, Pease Paint has a great selection in this unpainted furniture—bookcases, night stands, and even those wonderful book-shelf type headboards for your bed. The latter are so practical, and can certainly do wonders for a bedroom. Santa would be doing real well by you if he packed one of them in his big sack. And if you want the finished product, Jerry Pease will decorate it to your order. It can be blonde finish, mahogany, painted, or he will even match it to your other pieces of furniture. All you have to do is name it—and get your order in by December 19 if you want it in time to put under your tree.

Your kitchen might provide you with some Christmas ideas too. Dave Galin mentioned to me that those dinette sets with wrought iron legs would make a nice gift. Though the chrome and Formica dinette sets are still getting the most attention, he said that the younger people are tending toward the more modernistic wrought iron type. Just talking, he mentioned how customers seem to be afraid to mix blonde wood and mahogany, when actually it can do a lot for a room. For example a black television would look wonderful with blonde furniture—and the same with a blonde set with dark furniture. Guess people are just afraid of something different. And it's really the season for automatic dryers. Galin's has sold more in the last three months than in the previous nine months of the year. He said that people are beginning to realize that drying clothes is a bigger job than washing them. A labor-saver like that could make anybody's Christmas unforgettable—don't you think?

Advance 'Paper' Planning Of Basement Allows For Future Division Of Area

Planning a new home? Remodeling your present one? In either case, don't neglect to plan the basement as well as the area of the floors above, cautions Olevia Meyer, home management specialist with the Michigan State College Extension service.

Advance planning of your basement "on paper" will save you costly mistakes. And, later when the budget permits, you'll have a well planned area for pleasant family pastimes—hobby workshop and a game room—or for a spare guest room, another bathroom or the storage space that is always welcome.

Plan on paper so misplaced space heaters, pipes and other obstructions won't happen in all the wrong places.

One of the most common errors in basement planning is for stairways. Miss Meyer finds in her work with housing.

Space allowed for the stairway is often too skimpy resulting in a hard climb up and a dangerous passage down steps that are too high and too narrow. And don't neglect to plan for adequate head room over the steps.

Good dimensions for your stairway mean easier, safer climbing up and down—and less argument in the family about who makes the up and down trips for daily chores.

The stair riser, from one step to the next, should be 7 1/2 to 8 inches. The treads—the part you step on—should be from 9 to 10 inches deep.

Here is a good rule Miss Meyer gives for planning your stairway proportions: The height of two risers plus the depth of one tread should equal 25 inches.

Temporary Grain Storage

The time to prepare extra storage for grain is before the storage is needed. Temporary bins holding up to 800 bushels can be built on the farm of material that can be used later for other purposes, according to Masonite Corporation.

Several panels of Tempered Preswood are bent into a huge circle 18' 8" in diameter and bolted together. A floor of shiplap boards, covered with sisakraft, is laid over joists.

Grain in such a bin is kept dry and clean. The cover is a double thickness of sisakraft laid over a protecting shoulder of hay or straw. Weights attached to wires keep the cover down. Sides of the bin are durable and moisture resistant. Tempered Preswood has proved itself as an all-around farm building material over a period of years.

Easy-to-follow but detailed instructions for putting up a temporary grain bin may be obtained by writing Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, and asking for free plan AFB-177.

Gas Appliance Sales Are Now Up Under Improved 'Open-End' Plan

Homeowners planning kitchen, laundry and heating modernization are showing a lively interest in the "open-end" mortgage which enables them to "borrow back"—or re-borrow—from the lender, obtaining amounts up to what they have paid off in amortization.

A study made by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association shows that interest in the liberalized mortgage is especially keen in areas now receiving natural gas service. The reason given is that the "open-end" provision allows responsible homeowners to make immediate property improvements, including conversion of all major appliances to an economical, clean and storm-proof fuel, on a low-cost, long-haul basis.

The re-loan service, GAMA says, has not only encouraged new-home construction and renovation of old dwellings but also has spurred a homeowners' tendency in the past few years to adopt the entire gas appliance "family." The crux of this trend, GAMA claims, is house heating improvement, with seven out of 10 homes switching to gas for this purpose in areas where the fuel is readily available.

The trade group points out that less than a decade ago, the average home used gas mainly for cooking. Now the average number of gas appliances used is a fraction over three, including central or room heating equipment, range and water heater.

Relatively new appliances such as gas clothes dryers and incinerators now are becoming standard equipment in thousands of new and remodeled homes, GAMA says.

The frequency of appliance purchases on the "open-end" mortgage plan has increased since a way was found to provide title insurance at nominal cost to cover re-loans. When the plan was first offered, GAMA says, each new borrowing by the homeowner from a savings bank or an insurance company made new title insurance mandatory.

The cost, from $60 to $100 on a loan of $1,000 or $2,000, discouraged homeowners. Now title companies are said to be accepting a simple affidavit that no liens were put on the property after the original title search was made. On this type of assurance, a large New York title insurance company is making re-advances to mortgages at $5 per each $1,000 of loan, with a minimum of $10. Other companies are believed to be following suit.

Farm Home Needs Special Rooms, Architect Says

Five special-purpose areas need to be provided for in the design of a farm home, says Walter T. Anicka, architect, of Ann Arbor, Mich.

They are a large workshop, a clean-up room, a farm office, an extra-large kitchen, and a self-contained freezer room. Some of these areas can be combined in one room.

In farm building design in general, Mr. Anicka suggests using the same solid or blended color asphalt roofing material on all buildings. This gives the neat appearance of planned uniformity, he says. He points out that economical construction has particular appeal to the farmer because he cannot delay building by renting an apartment or a house. This is an additional reason for the farmer to make full use of modern materials and methods, Mr. Anicka says.

The life of a window flower box can be extended many fold by lining it with asbestos-cement board, a material which will not rot because of contact with earth. It is available at most lumber yards.

Thin Plywood Faces Can Make Flush Door From Panel Type; Here's How

Even the most battered old panel door can be converted to a smart, modern flush door with plywood by following the steps outlined in the photographs below from Home Modernizing magazine. It's much cheaper than a new flush door and just as handsome, provided the job is done right. Make sure the old door is sound.

Start by removing old hardware. For a thorough modernizing job, plan to replace it with a more modern type.

Put a sheet of 1/2-inch plywood in place, nail it and countersink the nails. Drill holes for new hardware and install it.

Remove bad surface irregularities, then spread a coat of glue one to two inches wide all around the edge of the door.

Sand the plywood faces, particularly the spots where you have filled in nail holes. Give the faces any finish you prefer.

No. 7: Shoppers Carrying Packages Are Walking Blind

The human mind is a funny thing. It is apt to get preoccupied with one problem and forget all about another. A good example is a person carrying a bunch of packages and crossing the street. Maybe they are groceries — too many piled into bags that are tall and awkward to carry. Perhaps they are Christmas packages carefully gift wrapped.

Keeping them properly balanced and not dropping them in the street seems important — more important than the fact that you can't see over them and that you are walking in the traffic stream. When you see a shopper crossing the street keep this in mind. Do that person's traffic thinking for them. Be prepared to make an emergency stop or turn.

Patrol Reminds Motorists About Winter Driving

Winter driving can be safe by being sensible about it.

That is the statement made by Sergeant Henry P. Kozowicz commander of the Detroit post of the Michigan State Police, in calling attention to the fact that December is one of the deadliest months of the year.

"Don't spoil your holidays with an avoidable accident," Kozowicz said. "By following a half dozen winter driving suggestions you can greatly increase your safety. The trouble is, too many drivers don't do these things and that is a big reason for the startling record that during December of the last five years nearly 800 persons have been killed and another 20,000 injured on Michigan highways.

"If one driver follows these tips he will help to protect himself and others, but he will still be at the mercy of the driver who doesn't. So all drivers should think enough of each other and pedestrians to cooperate in the suggestions and cut down the winter driving traffic toll."

Here are the tips:

1. Be prepared to meet any situation on the road.
2. Get the "feel" of the road. Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Find out just how slippery the road is and adjust speed to road and weather conditions.
3. Keep the windshield clear of ice and snow, fog and frost. Be sure headlights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters are in top condition.

4. Use tire chains on ice and snow. Chains will cut stopping distances about half and give four to seven times more starting and climbing traction.
5. Pump the car's brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming on the brakes will lock wheels and throw the vehicle into a dangerous skid.
6. Follow other cars at a safe distance. It takes three to 12 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

Don't let a used car's price tag Blind you!

Remember! It's where you buy that counts. Check the price, of course. But check the dealer, too.

An unusually "good deal" on a used car is not necessarily a good value. But we Ford Dealers can put rock bottom price tags on A-1 used cars because we don't depend upon used car profits to stay in business. We sell used cars mainly as a service to our customers who trade them for new cars. Naturally, we must keep these used cars moving to make room for the constant stream of trade-ins we get.

In addition, we Ford Dealers know it pays to play square with you. We want your good will . . . your service business. And, some day, we want to sell you a new car or another used car. "EASY DOES IT"
 BY... HELEN HALE

WHEN you go out to select a Christmas tree, don't think of your pocketbook first. Consider first where you want the tree to be placed and what size it should be.

Get out your tape measure, too, before shopping for the tree. Many a splendid tree has been purchased, and then had to be hacked down to fit the space you have available, and the results of cutting and trimming, generally speaking, are poor.

Trees should be placed away from avenues of traffic. They should never be in front of, or

CRAZY CHRISTMAS
 By Ona Freeman Lathrop

FOR YEARS Emily Kane had secretly told herself that she'd like to skip Christmas. She didn't want Clint nor the children to know how she felt about it, but it was coming to be such a commercialized rat-race and such a burden to deck the house and the tree, get all the presents ready, and plan and get the big dinner! Yet year after year she went through with it, inviting all the married children and their families home for the feast and gift exchange, making the traditional cookies and candies, working herself into a wreck.

Now at last it was going to be different!

"Emily, how would you like to go with me to our National Convention this holiday?" Clint had proposed a few weeks ago. "It's to be held in St. Petersburg and would be a nice break in the rugged winter for us. But I suppose you couldn't leave the family at Christmas, eh?"

"Why not?" she said surprisingly. "It's about time the children made Christmas in their own homes for their own families. I'll just tell them we've been selfish always wanting them here."

"Well!" Clint grinned. "I never thought you'd take me up on that. But we'll have a wonderful time, Emily. Sure you don't mind being away from them?"

So it was arranged. She broke the news gently to their offspring, and she hurried and bought the gifts and left them at the various houses before they set out.

"Clint, I just can't believe yet that I don't have to stuff a goose and make plum pudding and salads and clean up all that Christmas wrapping trash!"

"Why Emily, you old traitor. Here I thought all these years that you loved all that excitement and clutter," he chuckled.

"Well, I did—in a way—but the last few years I've been so sick of it could scream."

She settled her nice new grey suit and her gay red hat and watched the flying scenery. But nagging little thoughts kept intruding. Would her daughter Edna remember to set up the bride-doll she'd bought little Emmy on its standard under their tree? Would Carl see that young Chuck's tricycle was put together properly? Carl's wife couldn't cook for snuff. She did hope Jane wouldn't burn the fowl this year. And Frances was planning store-bought pudding for dessert!

At the swank hotel she kept pinching herself to see if this could be she. Christmas eve and no stockings to fill! She and Clint strolled down to the ball room but decided to turn in early and get some sleep. Somehow this gaudy display seemed a little sacrilegious.

On Christmas day she awoke with one of her terrific headaches. "I think I'll just take a fruit plate for lunch," she announced.

"I will, too," Clint agreed. "You know as delegate I have to go to a Board dinner tonight, so I won't overload this noon." They nibbled their lunch in silence. Emily stared out the window at the green grass and exotic flowers and waving palms. Certainly this didn't seem like Christmas. She loved that. Then suddenly she realized that this was Christmas dinner she was eating, and that she would be eating alone tonight and would probably just order a sandwich in her room. She choked on the avocado and gulped her black coffee. A tear rolled down her cheek.

"Hey, honey, what ails you?" Clint exclaimed. "Not pining for the kids, are you? I thought you were glad to get away from it all."

"Of course not," she scoffed. "Just choked a little, that's all." She'd never let him know how her heart was aching for the hubbub and the bustle and the smell of Christmas at home.

"Clint, seems to me January is a better time for a winter vacation. Breaks the winter more evenly in two," she avowed, and wondered why Clint smiled into his dessert.

Postmaster Announces Sale of New Stamp

Dr. George Timpona, postmaster, recently announced that the new three cent Gadsden commemorative stamp will be placed on sale Thursday, December 31.

The overall design of the stamp is a scene showing a pioneer group in an ox-drawn covered wagon. Shrubs and cactus plants native to the area are shown against the background of a map, which sharply defines the border and area purchased. The color of the stamp is dark gothic.

"I REMEMBER"
 BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Engelbert Widman, Avon, Minnesota: I can remember my father telling me about the days when farmers used butter for greasing wagons and binders because it was cheaper than axle grease. Eventually, butter prices went up and we did not have it at home since my parents sold all they could to get money to pay the bills. Money was so tight that pork, beef, eggs and chickens wouldn't be sold and were worthless.

From Lizzie Hester, Pain Lick, Kentucky: I can remember when I use to go to my grandmother's house when she would bake sweet potatoes, corn bread and biscuits in the old ovens in front of the fireplace. Sometimes she would have two or three of them covered with hot coals, all baking at the same time. I believe the biscuits she baked that way were the best I have ever eaten.

Proper Care Keeps Xmas Tree Looking Green

It is easy to have a green Christmas—at least where trees are concerned and provided that these forest products get proper treatment—according to two University of Michigan faculty members.

Almost any Christmas tree will stay green and fresh throughout the holiday season if the base is kept in water, says Professor Kenneth P. Davis, chairman of the U-M forestry department.

Shave a little off the bottom of the tree to expose a fresh surface states Frank Murray, U-M forest manager. This will remove dried resins which may form over the base and prevent water absorption.

With proper care, even the lowly spruce can be kept green; in fact, it can actually be made to sprout buds. Though often blacklisted for early shedding of its needles as it dries, the tree can compete with all others if it has been cut recently and is not allowed to dry out.

According to Murray, the "Austrian pine is the prettiest tree locally produced, although it is hard to tell from the Scotch pine, which grows faster and is more open in foliage."

Scotch pines are being very widely planted in Michigan for use as Christmas trees. They are the most popular trees for this purpose.

The Douglas fir and balsam also are good selections, the former keeping "its needles 'til next spring."

Of trees shipped into market, Professor Davis explains that their longevity depends upon where they have been stored. Even if cut in October, as most are, a cool and moist storage place will enable them to keep their needles as long as the more recently cut ones. This fall's warm weather may have a negative effect, however, he comments.

For making wreaths and house decorations, Murray points out, most pine is too coarse. But white pine is included in the list of best ingredients, along with balsam, spruce and white cedar.

Of the cones, all are good for decorative purposes, except those of the white pine, which are covered with pitch.

Professor Davis explains that barberry and boxwood also are good greens. As for nolly, the Michigan variety, found in the southern Lower Peninsula, consists solely of berries, with no leaves.

Library Gives Christmas Hours And List of Newly Arrived Books

The announcement of a shipment of new books as well as hours for the holiday season were made by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian at the Dunning branch of the Wayne County library. Mrs. Pauline said that the library would close at 5 p.m. on December 24 and December 31, and would remain closed all day on December 26 and January 2.

Of particular interest in the line of new books at this season of the year is "Christmas Idea Book" by Dorothy Biddle and Dorothy Blom. The book gives a wealth of Christmas decoration ideas for wreaths, swags, mantels, gift wrappings, and more. These ideas are illustrated with photographs showing how the finished product will look.

Other books in the non-fiction category which recently arrived at the library are "The Conflict in Education" by Robert Hutchins, and "Jewelry and Enameling" by Greta Pack. The latter covers all the processes of jewelry making, illustrated with drawings and photographs.

The majority of the shipment covered novels, such as Lillian Budd's "Land of Strangers", a novel as deep and searching as the rooted love in one's homeland. "The Trembling Earth", Dale VanEvery's latest novel, is in the historical vein. VanEvery recreates a spectacular and little known tragedy of pioneer days long overshadowed in our history by the war of 1812.

Another novel, "The Heart of the Family" by Elizabeth Goudge, is about the Eliot family of whom she wrote in "The Bird in the Tree" and "Pilgrim's Inn." The list continues with "A Pail of Oysters" by Vern Sneider, "Jutland Cottage" by Angela Thirkell and "The Enchanted Cup" by Dorothy James Roberts.

Ignazio Silone's "A Handful of Blackberries" was a best-seller throughout Europe, and now appears on the library shelves. It is the story of two young people, Rocco and Stella, and the dangers to which they are exposed by their unorthodox romance and defiance of the local Communists.

Completing the list of newly arrived books are "A Passage in the Night" by Sholem Asch, Bruce Lancaster's "Blind Journey" and Benedict and Nancy Freedman's "Mrs. Mike."

Aliens Must Report Address in January

Dr. George Timpona, postmaster, stated this week that every alien must report his address during January, 1954 according to the law.

To report this information he should go to any U. S. post office or U. S. Immigration and Naturalization office and ask for an annual address report card. After the card is filled in and signed, it should be handed to any postal clerk or immigration employee. He emphasized, "Do not mail the card yourself."

Cards will not be available at these offices until January 1, 1954.

An Italian organ grinder recently escaped a fine by his wit.

He had been playing before the house of an irascible old gentleman, who furiously and with wild gesticulations ordered him to move on.

The Italian stolidly stood his ground and played on, and at last was arrested for causing a disturbance.

At the court the magistrate asked him why he did not leave when he was requested to do so. "Me no understand' mooch' Inglesh," was the reply.

"Well, you must have understood by his motions that he wanted you to go on." "Na, na," was the rejoinder; "I think he come to dance!"

"Peter Pan" Tells Fairy Tale Of Boy Who Never Grew Up

A real Christmas event for the children as well as the adults will be Walt Disney's full-length cartoon, "Peter Pan," which arrives at the Penn theatre on Christmas day. The film has been called Disney's most humorous fantasy for it carries all the magic power of illusion created by the play's author, James M. Barrie.

In former years the part of Peter Pan, the boy who never grew up, has been played by a woman. For the first time, Peter is really a boy, with a boy's voice provided by Bobby Driscoll.

The comedy springs from the behavior and escapades of Peter and Wendy as well as all the visitors and inhabitants of Never Land. Almost every scene is packed with fun, from the time Peter pilots the Darling children to the magical isle on the fabulous adventure with pirates, Indians, mermaids, lost boys, the ticking crocodile, and the various sprites and pixies led by Tinker Bell.

In the film version, Nana really comes in her own as the large St. Bernard nursemaid of the Darling children. She wears a tidy cap and serves the children by carrying a tray on her head. Defeated both by Mr. Darling's blustering and the children's demands, Nana still remains calm in the face of excitement and sorrowful when banished.

With laughter as the essence, no small youngster will cringe at villainous Captain Hook or the Indian chief.

The picture has been described as Disney at his best in every foot of pulse-stirring film. From wit to tender humor, it is all keyed to attract the heart of youth which is in all, young and old.

The music matches the mirth of the whole film, "Peter Pan."

Bill Jones, a country store keeper went to the city to buy a stock of goods. The goods were forwarded immediately and arrived before Bill.

As his wife looked at the largest box, she gave a shriek and rushed for the hammer. A neighbor, coming to her assistance asked what was the trouble. Pale and trembling, she pointed to the notice on the lid: "Bill inside."

Youths on Probation After Taking Tubes

Probation was given four Plymouth area youths who pleaded guilty to taking two innertubes from a local service station on December 4. They appeared before Municipal Judge Nardino Perlongo last week.

The four became the first to occupy the newly-constructed Plymouth jail after their arrest. Charges were filed by Stan Hawker who operates a service station at 906 South Main street. He claimed that the boys had been "hanging out" at the service station and took the innertubes while the attendant was working. Police were notified and they arrested the boys at another service station and found the innertubes in their car. One of the youths posted bond and was released while the other three remained in jail until their hearing December 9.

Barber (rather slow) Beg pardon sir; but your hair is turning a bit gray.
Victim: Shouldn't wonder. Look at the times I have been here.

Sunday Sermon

Rev. Robert H. Harper
One Human Race.
Lesson for December 13: Acts 10: 9-15, 25-28, 34-35, 44-45.
Golden Text: Acts 10: 34-35.

At the first, the disciples pursued a course that would have caused Christianity to be only a Jewish sect that might have perished from the earth. They preached only to Jewish people and received only members of their race into their fellowship. But fortunately several events determined that Christianity would become a world religion.

Cornelius, a gentile of Caesarea, had a vision of an angel who bade him send messengers to Joppa for Peter. Just before the arrival of the messengers, Peter had a vision of the unclean beasts, by which he was convinced that all men are precious in the sight of God and are subjects of saving grace. So he went readily with the messengers to Cornelius and preached with such effect that the Holy Spirit came upon gentiles.

Later, when Peter reported the matter to the council of the church in Jerusalem, the members of the council were duly impressed and rejoiced that the gentiles were being granted the opportunity of repentance and new life in Christ.

Thus the disciples were brought to realize that there is one world for all men and that there is one world for Christianity to conquer. Racial differences most certainly exist. But in the gospel of Christ all men meet on a common level. All are in need of saving grace. Christians are in duty bound to bear the gospel to every man, no matter what his race may be.

EVEN THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN apparently can make mistakes. We passed on a report from there recently that Ann Hammond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond of Sunset street, was in the cast of the sophomore play "The Witching Hours". Seems there are two Ann Hammonds at Michigan! The "Plymouth Ann" is a freshman and therefore could not very well be in a sophomore play. Mrs. Hammond says that the "other Ann" is from Ann Arbor and has attended summer camp with the "Plymouth Ann" and that for years the two have been incorrectly identified.

SPORTS CAR ENTHUSIASTS can have a field day at the Henry Ford museum in Dearborn on January 8 when a new exhibition "Sports Cars Unlimited" will be opened. More than 50 automobiles will chronicle the evolution of the sports car, beginning with a 1910 Hudson Speedster, through modern times to a 1954 Fiat V-8. The exhibition will also stress future trends as dramatized by an Alfa Romeo "Disco Volante" and "Bat," plus a host of plastic-bodied cars.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: I have always thought of Christmas time as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely.—Charles Dickens.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

An aggressive plan to preserve Michigan's brook, brown and rainbow trout populations from large-scale reduction was outlined at the December conservation commission meeting, and a public hearing on the proposals was slated January 22.

The five-point program was designed to "kick off" public and conservation department discussions on trout fishing regulations, with actual changes not in prospect before 1955.

Pointing to other areas where wide-open fishing tactics have caused virtual destruction of trout populations, fish committee chairman Donald B. McLouth, Detroit, said: "We shouldn't wait until our trout streams have been fished dry to change regulations. The time for change is now, while we still have adequate trout populations."

He read the proposed program to members of the press, and called for discussion and participation by the public at the January hearing.

The five proposed changes are:

1. Consider restricting lures used for fishing on trout streams to a single barbed hook with natural bait or artificial flies and small spinners in the range of a single or tandem blade and with a single hook of a size to be designated. This will hold except on some rainbow streams now open to late fall fishing.

2. Possible reduction of creel limits on brook, brown and rainbow trout in any combination to not more than eight fish in all streams.

3. Prohibit fishing on trout streams between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m.

4. Restrict fishing on trout waters to a single rod and line.

5. Establish minimum size limits of 8-10 inches on 10 streams for experimental purposes, the size limit to depend on the stream involved.

Other meetings of conservation commissioners and fish division specialists have been slated to discuss possible amendments or changes in the list of proposals. At the January public hearing, the list will then be used to open pro and con discussion of the issues involved.

Fifteen proposed changes in laws governing conservation work in Michigan will be forwarded to the Legislature as a result of conservation commission action in December, the conservation department reports.

The commission is annually asked to submit its list of proposed changes for legislative consideration. Included in this year's list is a request that resident fishing licenses be required of all who angle in Great Lakes waters and that the nonresident license be rewritten to cover all fishing, including angling for carp, suckers, perch and other non-game types.

A comprehensive program for parks improvement is included, with several plans suggested to provide necessary funds for the lagging state park program.

Five proposed changes are listed under the sports fishing program, including rewording of some laws and suggesting elimination of the spring closed season on bluegills and sunfish.

Three items are listed for change under the commercial fishing code and one under commercial minnow operations.

Under game, the commission recommends the open squirrel season start in the northern lower peninsula on October 1 instead of October 15, as in the past.

The Michigan Bowhunters urged a law requiring that all archery shot deer be inspected by department field workers, and the commission agreed to forward the proposal to the Legislature. The Bowhunters made the request so that law violators could not prey on the deer herd under guise of being licensed archers.

Also under game, the commission suggests removing raccoon hunting restrictions against non-residents. This move was made in view of the high continuing population of raccoons now in the state.
