School Board Hears Request For Salary Hike

Plymouth township school board members went into special session Monday night to give consideration to the weighty problem of where to secure more funds for school operation and improvement...

The Plymouth Teachers association, school custodians and office personnel had representatives at the special meeting seeking pay hikes to bring their wages up to standards found in many other Wayne county schools.

"There seems to be a feeling among board members that a salary adjustment is needed to retain the present staff," Superintendent Russell Isbister stated. The board, however, took no action at the special meeting but will study further the problem of how to finance an increase in salaries.

Besides the need for salary adjustments, the Superintendent pointed out that there are other school improvements needed within the near future. For instance, both the junior high building and Starkweather school need relighting and acoustical treatment. He also pointed to the condition of Bartlett school, the need for improving the playground areas at Smith, Bird and Starkweather schools and of the parking area behind the high school.

Kenyon Olds Dies; Operated Grocery

Kenyon "Doc" Olds, Plymouth grocer for 27 years before his retirement two years ago, passed away at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor Monday evening following a lingering illness. He was 52 years old.

Mr. Olds came to Plymouth in 1924 when he opened the Olds Grocery at East Ann Arbor trail and Mill street. Prior to that time he was a pharmacist in Redford. The grocery has been operated throughout the years at the same location. Since his retirement, he has been operating a summer resort on Indian River near Burt Lake, Michigan.

Born on December 25, 1901 at Rives Junction, Michigan, he was the son of Aden and Minnie Olds. He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; two sons, Kenyon G. and Duane L. Olds; a sister, Mrs. Katherine Wilson; a brother, Paul Olds, all of Plymouth; four grandchildren; and his mother now living at Indian River.

Mr. Olds was widely known in business circles and was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Plymouth lodge 238.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson of the First Methodist church will conduct funeral services at the Schrader Funeral home at 2 p.m. today. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery. Pall bearers will be Jack Taylor, Walter Schultz, Dave Galin, Russell Cook, Ernest Henry and Howard Shipley.

Dynamite to Topple Huge Coal Dock In C & O Yards Tuesday Morning

An explosion next Tuesday morning will level another railroad landmark in Plymouth—the concrete coal dock which towers some 90 feet above the C & O yards. Dynamite will be used to blast away two of the four legs which support the heavy coal hopper which was constructed in 1918. It is the diesel locomotive which made the coal dock obsolete about a year and a half ago. The C & O abandoned all steam locomotives at that time.

Between 300 and 400 tons of coal were once held by the dock, according to J. H. Fleury, yardmaster here. This will be a "trial" as far as the C & O is concerned. They have other coal docks at Flint, Saginaw, Lansing and New Buffalo which must also be dynamited in the future.

There will be no need for citizens to worry about the explosion, Fleury said. A professional dynamiting firm is performing the demolition task. Work was actually started last week to weaken some of the supports.

Time of the explosion has been set between 10:15 and 11 a.m. Tuesday. Exact time of the explosion will depend upon the train schedules. The yardmaster said that an attempt will be made to topple the coal dock so that it does not fall on the "Saginaw main line" but just in case, there will be a bulldozer, crane and other machinery on the scene to quickly remove any debris in the way. The coal dock straddles a spur.

LETTER BOX

ATTENTION REDS AND PINKS

To the Editor:

Referring to an article in The Voice of the People in the Detroit Free Press by T.F.Y. He talks about "Liberties we once knew, and Tragic State when men must lay aside their existence."

"Many hurt cruelly by these impartial hearings."

Do you refer to the Communists filling our government offices and Labor Unions, etc. with Reds, and if one speaks of it, bringing out the old red hering boogy? Probably you mean the eleven school teachers on the Detroit list for investigation? They will be asked if they are now or have been a member of the Communist party? No one who has not been will be ashamed to say "NO SIR" in no uncertain tone. If they have been they will fall back on the 5th amendment. They might as well have said yes, for it means the same.

Communists swear to obey Russian orders and work for the overthrow of our government, by force if necessary.

I don't want any traitors teaching my children. Do you? "Assaults on the Bill of Rights... Free speech."

If you were in Russia and some one found out you were an American, they might ask you the truth. As "how long do you have to work in the U.S.A. to buy a pair of shoes?" You would answer-less than one day. (It takes a month in Russia.) This is all said in a low voice or whisper. The rocks and trees have ears in Russia. Children are taught to report all that they hear and know to the Gestapo. Many a father has been sent to the mines in Siberia by their own children's reporting.

The average life of the 12,000,000 slaves of Russia is said to be seven years after admittance, lives of misery and starvation.

I suggest the Reds and Pinks in our beloved land ask the 12,000,000 slaves or any of the rest of the 85 per cent of the common herd in Russia about their Bill of Rights there.

Judge Dismisses Court Case Of Commissioner

Circuit Court Judge Thomas F. Maher dismissed the case last Thursday morning against a South Lyon husband who last November allegedly attempted to "pick up" City Commissioner Eleanor Hammond as she walked along Ann Arbor trail.

Richard McMullen, 23, was jailed and later tried on a charge of being a disorderly person. Found guilty in the court of Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo, McMullen's attorneys appealed the case to the circuit court. Judge Maher dismissed the case on the grounds that Plymouth has no law pertaining to persons who attempt to become "friendly" with strangers.

The prosecution based its case on Ordinance 174 concerning disorderly persons. They attempted to prove McMullen could be prosecuted for creating an "improper diversion."

Mrs. Hammond and two Plymouth patrolmen who apprehended McMullen, Lieutenant Roger Vanderveen and Sergeant Loren Johnson, were witnesses in the two-hour hearing. The commissioner said she was taking her dog for a walk when McMullen drove up and asked her if she wanted a ride. She noted the license number and gave it to police who drove by seconds later. They stopped McMullen and placed him in jail overnight.

The defense attorney filed a motion to quash (annul) the complaint as the hearing opened Thursday morning.

Rotarians Told Value of Music

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club were told Friday noon that the solution to juvenile delinquency lies with a good community music program. "Case histories prove that when children learn to play a musical instrument, they are practically immune to waywardness and all the worry and grief it brings to parents," said Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra and guest speaker at the weekly Rotary meeting.

Dunlap drew other examples to point out the value of music to a community. He stated that already the local Symphony orchestra had attracted fine families to this area; that a social agent music trains people to live together; trains the mind; and acts as a spiritual agent and truly "makes people happy". Dunlap concluded his talk by urging businessmen to help make Plymouth a better community in which to live by supporting the Plymouth Symphony orchestra "whenever they have the opportunity". Dunlap was introduced by Rotarian Harry Draper, president of the Symphony Board.

Sixth Graders Enjoy Week At Winter Group Camp

Fifty-eight sixth graders from the Bird and Smith schools are getting a touch of outdoor schooling this week at the Cedar Lake group camp near Chelsea. The children left Monday morning for the camp and will return tomorrow afternoon.

In the past the camp was held in the spring, but this year the schools decided to experiment with making it a winter camp. This way the children would be able to partake in winter sports, they reasoned.

While at the camp the children are receiving instruction in conservation, in the place of their regular school studies. They are also gaining a feeling of independence. Meal plans, helping with the purchase of food, and complete handling of the money was all left up to the students. According to Mrs. Tanger, principal at Bird school, their plans have worked out perfectly.

It is costing each child $8 to attend the five-week camp. Five dollars of this is paid by the parents, while the children earned the rest through their various class projects.

While at the group camp children receive excellent supervision. Arnold Pykas is camp director, and teachers Miss Kathryn Bock and Arthur Carpenter are serving as counselors. Assisting them are six college students, Mrs. Carpenter of Michigan State Normal college, four senior girls from Madonna college and a boy from Michigan State college. Meals are prepared by the cafeteria cook from the Bird school.

Among the many persons who will attend the program which will mark Flint's formal acceptance of a citation proclaiming the community a 1953 "All American City" for its humanitarian project on October 29 and 30 to rebuild homes for tornado victims, will be Fred W. Coverdill, formerly of Plymouth and now of Redford Township. Mr. Coverdill and his crew worked on Unit 534 and contributed 80 man hours.

The program will feature a summary of "Operation Tornado" illustrated with slides, narrated by James A. Rush. The "All American" award is sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine and is presented "in recognition of progress achieved through intelligent citizen action."

Business Women Hear Millard At District Meet

An address by Attorney General Frank Millard was the highlight of the winter district meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club. Mrs. Agnes Pauline, district two chairman, presided at the meeting held at the Warren Valley Golf and Country Club on Monday.

The Farmington branch of the club played host to the 95 persons from district two attending the meeting. Representatives came from 14 clubs in the district.

Also attending were Dr. Fanny Kenyon, state president of the Business and Professional Women's club; Clara Squires, state legislative chairman; and Edith Potter, business editor of the club's state bulletin.

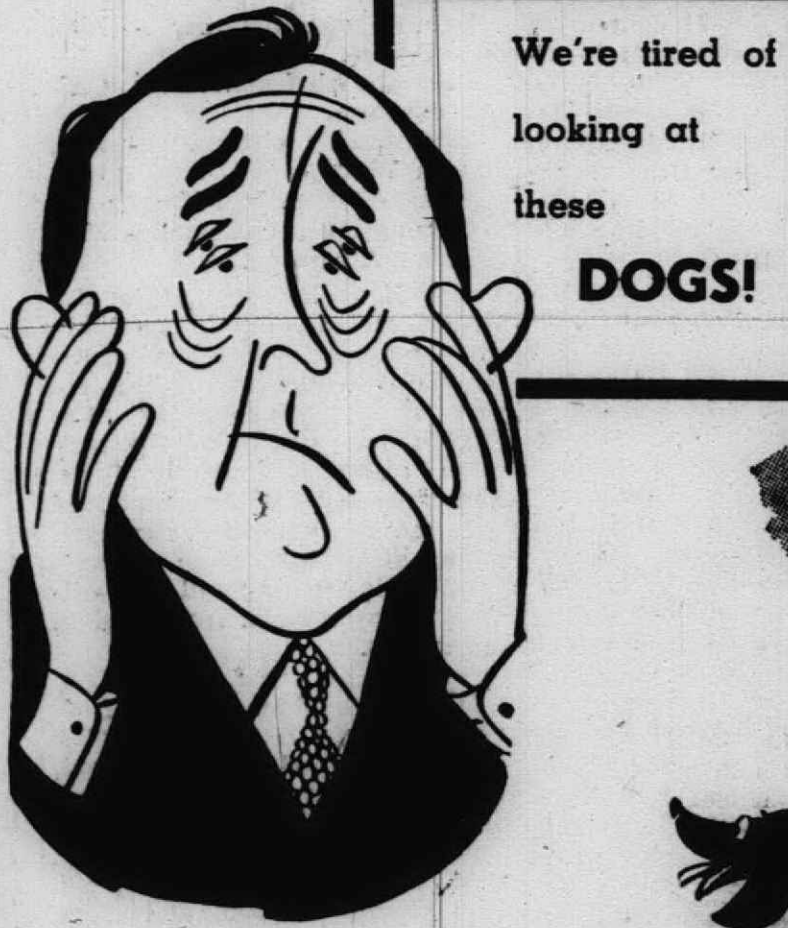

Millard addressed the members on the equal rights amendment. Plans for the state convention to be held in May at the Statler hotel in Detroit were discussed at the business meeting.

Attending from the Plymouth club were Bernice Crisp, Donna Brunke, Doris Fisher, Florence Gabelman, Rose Hawthorne, Dorothy Ritchie, Margaret Wilson, and Agnes Pauline.

WHY $72

EDITOR'S NOTE: In answer to many inquiries as to the basis of the minimum request of $72 gift to the St. Mary Hospital fund the campaign committee submitted this explanation. It is reprinted here so that our readers may better understand the thought that has gone into the planning of this immense project.

We are all very much aware of the critical need for a hospital in this area. Those who have been here for any length of time know of many cases pointing to this need—we can truthfully say "desperate" need.

Those generous people in the community (and even some outside of the community) who have taken memorials in the St. Mary hospital are well enough aware of the problem to have contributed at least $960 each. They realize that nickels and dimes will never build a 120-bed hospital, as this one will be.

St. Mary hospital, it is estimated, will cost $2,000,000. This is a staggering amount of money. But the plain, harsh fact is that we need this hospital, and we're going to have to sacrifice to get it.

However, the sacrifice will not be a great one. The folks who must support this undertaking will be asked to become a "builder" by giving less than 7 cents a day, or 50 cents a week. Their gift may be paid over a three-year period, and will amount to a minimum of $72, for which each will be given a Builder's Certificate. This amount must be asked from each family if the necessary monies are to be realized.

Industry has also been solicited. A major portion of the funds should come from this source. However, we must show industry that we, the community, want this hospital, and we are willing to do our share in building it.

The important consideration, though, is whether or not we are willing to assume our share in building a hospital for ourselves. Are we willing to give less than 7 cents a day to achieve that peace of mind which comes from knowing that close at hand is a modern hospital ready to serve in the event of an illness, emergency, or disaster?

The amount of $72 asked in every community, was decided upon as a minimum because small donations will never add up to make enough for a hospital. This conclusion is based on a study of community giving. There are very few families in the area who cannot afford less than 7 cents a day. This amount will make it possible for a community hospital to become a reality and to serve us and future generations. We are certain that most people will recognize their responsibility to their families, and to the community, and will be prepared to make this small sacrifice to meet an urgent need.

No more than a few thousand dollars has ever been raised here on a community appeal campaign where a specific amount was not sought. We need two million dollars.

Remember, if you honestly cannot afford $72, your gift is not refused. You are not being told what you have to give, but rather you are reminded that the people of the area must be asked for a certain amount of money if we are to raise the necessary amount. And it would be grossly unfair to those who have really made a sacrifice to make the minimum gift if lesser amounts were accepted.

Please consider the important facts: we need a hospital badly; we are being asked to give less than seven cents a day to make the hospital a reality.

Grange Gleanings

What is the matter with all the Grange members who were conspicuous by their absence from the Grange dance on Saturday night? There was a very nice congenial crowd there and they enjoyed the evening very much. There will be another dance on February 20, so mark that on your calendar.

The attendance at Grange on January 21 was pretty good considering the cold night and so many are ill.

The next Grange meeting will be on February 4. There will be a potluck supper as usual.

Miss Sylvia Remy was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower on Sunday, January 17, in the home of Mrs. George Koesh, on Ann Arbor trail. 17 guests were present. Sylvia will become the bride of Dale Bowerman on February 5.

February 6 is the date for the next card party. Milly Rienas is chairman.

Monday evening, February 8, will be Lily club night with Mrs. Brodie, Bertha Tiffin and the Vealeys as the committee, so come and bring your friends. Also bring sandwiches or cake and your own table service.

Tuesday evening, February 9, will be the Pomona meeting at Stoney Creek hall with the degree exemplifying the fifth degree or degree of, Pomona. Those of our new members who were obligated at our Pomona meeting here are especially invited to attend and receive the degree in form which is very lovely.

Will any member who knows of our members who are in the hospital or seriously ill at home please call the chaplain, Mrs. Ernest Vealey, at 1852-R and report it?

Last reminder for the Polio Mothers March tonight—if you care to volunteer your services, bring an empty quart jar, with a ball or kern metal ring to fit, be at the Veterans' Memorial Home, next to the high school, at 6:30 p.m. Thursday evening, Virginia Bartel will be in charge. There will be many mothers and even fathers working on this worthy effort. Everyone should leave their porchlight on this evening, to signify a wish to donate toward the cure of polio. Remember also that this will in all probability be the most important drive in the history of polio prevention.

State Fellowship Chairman Tells Of Study Grants

Members of the American Association of University Women learned of the extensive research done by the Study Grant holders from foreign countries and by the recipients of fellowships in the United States when their State Fellowship chairman, Mrs. Jorgenson, addressed the group at their January meeting. In 1953 the Michigan division alone raised $11,335 for Fellowships and Study Grants. Mrs. Jorgenson pointed out how international goodwill was created not only by the money given for studies, but by the effort of individual women in our communities to acquaint these endowed foreign students with our American home life.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. J. R. Witwer with Mrs. William Sliker and Mrs. J. M. Robinson assisting the hostess. Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. Walter Nichol and Mrs. C. B. Levering. Sandwiches and cookies were served.

Following the social period, a short business meeting was held by the president, Mrs. Austin Pino. She stressed the importance of the next social studies group meeting, which will be held February 5, at 10 a.m., also in the home of Mrs. Witwer. At this meeting Miss Ruth Bowen, Supervisor of the Children's Division of the State Department of Public Welfare will talk on placement of children in foster homes. Members are asked to call Mrs. Warren Worth, chairman, for further information.

Plymouth Corners Group To Attend Square Dance

Members of the Plymouth Corners Society of the Children of the American Revolution will be entertained by the John Paul Jones Society of Detroit at a square dance on Friday, January 29. The dance will be held at the Newberry House on Jefferson avenue, Detroit.

Dancing will start at 7:30 and will continue until 10 p.m.

In conjunction with polio drives, two deeply moving films were shown at the last meeting of the Auxiliary. Helen Hayes, first lady of the stage, narrated the first film, while Howard Keel, popular stage, screen, and radio singer was featured in the second film. A total of $44.28 was turned over to the local polio drive. It was the final total realized from the March of Dimes card party held recently.

Congratulations to Margaret and Everard Clarke upon the birth of a son.

It was heartening to see Grace Burley at the last meeting, after a siege of illness. Reminds us of the phrase, "Can't keep a good man down." New member, Shirley Stribley also is feeling better after a sojourn of illness.

Have you heard of Mary Jane Schwartz' new project? It is unique. Something new in the line of constructively educational entertainment. Curtis Crowell, a Dearborn florist, is going to demonstrate flower arrangements for the home, Wednesday, February 10, at the post home, at 8 p.m. Crowell is a graduate of Michigan State college and has worked under Harry Miller, Dearborn's largest florist. Crowell now owns his own florist shop. He recently demonstrated for the organization of the South-eastern Michigan Florist Association.

Valentine floral arrangements will be demonstrated as well as arrangements befitting television sets. He will use containers of the types found in most homes. Tickets are on sale at Linda Lee Shop, and Bartel's and Hiede's Greenhouses, Sarahs and LovLee Beauty Shops, or call 1111-M12. The date is Wednesday, February 10, post home at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Do you have any white sheets that you no longer can use? Marion Luttermoser, cancer chairman, reports that old sheeting is badly needed at present in the making of cancer dressings. Take sheeting to Linda Lee Shop, or to the Veterans' Memorial Home, next to the high school. Auxiliary members may leave them at the post home.

Sunday afternoon, January 31 at 2 p.m. there will be a flag presentation at the post home, see relating article elsewhere in this issue.

Gerry Olsen reports that plans are in the offering for a big shindig called, "A Hobo Hullahaloo" Details later!

Tickets are on sale for the Valentine dance, Saturday, February 13, at 9 p.m. Several members of the post have tickets to sell, as does the Linda Lee Shop. You may also phone 1553-W. Don Korte and his orchestra will play for dancing.

Depression? Impossible!

Plymouth Kiwanians were told Tuesday evening that "economic depression in the United States is impossible" by Detroit Sales Consultant Steve Conroy, formerly sales manager of Willys Motors in Toledo.

Conroy told the service club that the only depression we can now experience of any great scope is psychological. "1954 offers the greatest prospects for selling and making money of any year in our history," he said. He pointed out that people today are smarter (80% more high school graduates than in 1940); they desire more and better products; they have more off-work time in which to spend; and that today people live longer and therefore have many more years in which to spend. Conroy concluded his talk by saying that our country is built on an economy of spending and that this buying and selling atmosphere must be promoted lest we "save ourselves into bankruptcy".

Program Chairman Harry Larsen introduced Conroy to the group.

A PIECE OF MICHIGAN'S HISTORY is seen in the log cabin on the Edward C. Hough farm on West Warren road in Canton township. The log cabin was the first recognized centennial farm in this area. The land was settled by Ira Marshall Hough, grandfather of Edward Hough, around 1825. The plaque, shown here, was placed on the log cabin in 1940, and tells the story of the pioneer. The original cabin was destroyed in 1835, but members of the second generation erected its replica on the same site in 1904. Edward Hough is the vice-president and treasurer of the Daisly Manufacturing company.

The city man was jogging toward the summer boarding-house in a rickety old taxi. The driver was glum and far from entertaining and the city man felt rather lonely.

"Fine field over there," he ventured, after a long silence.

"Fine," grunted the driver.

"Who owns it?"

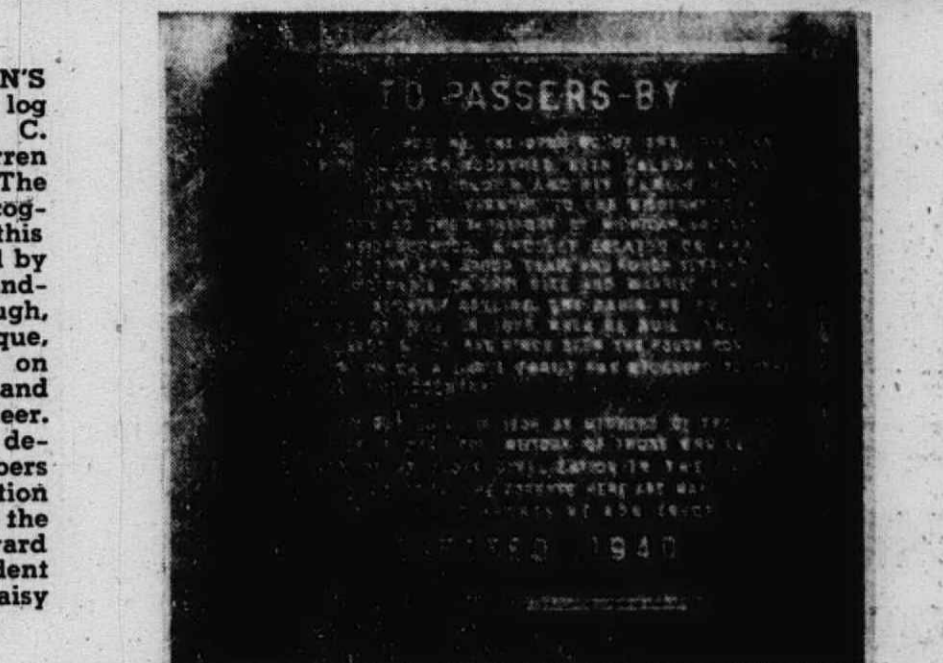

"Old man Bitt."

"Old man Bitt, eh? Who are those children stacking up hay?"

"Old man Bitt's boys."

"And what is his idea in having them out there in the field such a hot day?"

"Wal, I reckon he thinks every little Bitt helps, stranger. Any thing else you want to know?"

Northville Man Hurt in Mishap

Thomas Ramstead, 32, Northville, suffered minor injuries when his car collided with another at Starkweather and Farmer streets at 5:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Police said that Ramstead was driving east on Farmer and pulled in front of a car being driven south on Starkweather by Thomas Charles Davis, Livonia. Ramstead was thrown from his car as the car was spun around in the street. Taken to a local doctor by police, the Northville man was treated for facial cuts and bruises.

Both men were given a court summons and will appear before Judge Nandino Perlongo to determine if either was negligent.

Women are much better than elephants and the sooner we men face up to the fact, the easier our lives are going to be.

Sometime, back before Christmas, I used the "Christmas Shopping" dodge to slip over to the university for a big basketball game. I got caught sneaking in with only a weather-beaten admission stub in my possession.

She goes on and on about the deceit that lives in the hearts of men.

So I did it. I promised to take her to one of the big games before the close of the season. The ice was thawed, but yet unbroken, so I included a pre-game dinner at the most exclusive restaurant in town. Victory was won.

But, time passes on, as it always does. Work, business appointments, lack of funds, myriads of obstacles have kept me, as yet, from fulfilling that promise.

For, I get it thrown up to me with the sugar for my morning coffee. I get it every time I turn the paper to the sport pages, or I find the paper turned to the sports section every time she hands it to me. "Remember, now."

It's always been said that the elephant years later will instantly recognize an individual connected with an unpleasant incident. Woman has it all over Mr. Pachyderm in that she's reminded of things without going through the process of association. Maybe she isn't actually reminded—she just never forgets.

It has me in a very bad way. Someday I may really get in hot water and promise her a fur coat or a new automobile.

The real martyr never has time to enjoy the honor.

Readies Plans For Dedication Of Allen School

A nine-member committee is completing plans for the formal dedication on Sunday, February 7 of the Edna M. Allen elementary school, the half million dollar structure which opened its doors last fall on Haggerty road.

The public ceremony held in the school auditorium is expected to draw hundreds of guests. It starts at 4 p.m. preceded by a public inspection of the building at 3 o'clock.

Honored guest at the occasion will be Miss Edna M. Allen who served as a teacher and principal in the Plymouth school system for 32 years. Still a resident of Plymouth, Miss Allen retired from teaching in 1950 after joining the Plymouth faculty in 1918.

On the dedication planning committee are Superintendent Russell Isbister, Allen Principal Donald Rank, Miss Lucille Fink-binder, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Melvin Blunk, James Gallimore, Mrs. Helen Stevens, Miss Gertrude Fiegel and Miss Margaret Dunning.

Others serving on committees include the Plymouth board of education, officers of the Allen school P.T.A. and teachers at Allen school.

Ex-Servicemen's Club

The Ex-Servicemen's club and ladies' auxiliary will hold their regular dinner meeting on Monday, February 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the Veterans' Memorial home.

The friends of Mrs. Ray Groomer will be pleased to learn that she is much improved in the last few weeks.

Lee Sackett is some better but is still confined at home.

Two Quakers were having an argument and one considered the other was speaking falsely. This is how he reproved him:

"Friend Thomas I will not call thee by any bad name but if the mayor were to ask me who was the greatest liar in the town I would hasten to thee and say: 'Thomas, I think the mayor would greatly desireth to speak with thee'."

Never tell your resolution be beforehand.

Allen P.T.A. Elects Officers

A Parent-Teacher association in the Edna M. Allen elementary school had its inaugural meeting Tuesday night at which officers were elected and a constitution was adopted.

Harold Fischer, 40875 Plymouth road, was elected president of the group by the 100 members present. Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert Soth, vice-president; Mrs. James Sponseller, second vice-president; Mrs. Bernard Kot, secretary; and Mrs. Howard Schryer, treasurer.

Superintendent Russell Isbister and school board President James Gallimore were guest speakers. They greeted the charter members and complimented them for their efforts in establishing the new organization. The organization officially became a P.T.A. when the constitution was adopted.

Installing the new officers in a brief ceremony was Mrs. Wilbert West, assistant director of districts one and two of the state P.T.A.

A lunch of coffee, tea and cookies was served following the meeting.

The rock is placed at the site of the Plymouth Plank road which was chartered on March 5, 1850. Here stood toll gate No. 4, which operated from 1851 to 1872. EVER WONDER THE PURPOSE OF THE STONE and plaque in front of the Plymouth high school? Students like Don Alsbro and Judy Monteith can often be seen sitting on it, but just what is it? Well, here is what it says: "Station 2-LB. Local Control Survey based on U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey—C.W.A. Project No. 100C. December 1933—April 1934. FERA Project No. 82-F8-16. Wayne County Drain Commission. Wayne County Road Commission and Plymouth City Commission." That is what it says. You figure it out!

The automobile people figure it would cost at least $60,000 to make one of today's automobiles with the tools and methods used in 1910.

Scientists say work makes life longer, but the average man is of the opinion that it only makes it seem longer.

Find Woman Bitten by Dog

Word received just before press time from the Michigan State police in Detroit informed The Mail that the unidentified woman who had been bitten by a rabid dog on January 9 was found Tuesday night. She was Mrs. Opal Bogatay, 37, 30680 Bretton, Livonia.

State Police asked The Mail and other newspapers in the area to help in the search for the missing woman who was bitten near Eight Mile road and Grand River by a small black dog. She was treated at a drug store.

Mrs. Bogatay's telephone and radio both were out of order when a relative in Detroit heard the announcement over the radio. Knowing that Mrs. Bogatay had been bitten, they drove to her home and found her sick in bed. Her illness was said to have been caused by the rabie infection.

Success in life is a matter not so much of talent or opportunity as of concentration and perseverance. —Claude Wm. Wendte

Jones: I think it's wrong for a married man to gamble.
Smith: It's worse than wrong. It's idiotic. His wife gives him fits if he loses and confiscates it if he wins.

The first shout of "Oil!" last week brought oilmen from all parts of the country to Plymouth . . . hundreds of them, clamoring for accommodations, and accompanied by the inherent possibilities of a bonanza in this new potential field. One of them came so hurriedly from Texas that he arrived still attired in his wide hat, cowboy regalia, and even the small heeled boots which made a strange and unfamiliar clackety-click coming up the Mayflower's gang plank. (Say, Skipper, do the oil rights come to us with our rent of Michigan's Smallest Clothing Store?)

Down two decks or so below the galley we ran across a good natured old gentleman singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," and inquiring how you could fit "Idaho" into the rhythm of the song. He has the full time job of taking the eyes out of potatoes when they come out of the automatic peeler.

And that brings up the question of why we loyal Michigan folks should have to use Idaho potatoes instead of our own product. Michigan State College take note!

Guest Ernie Roe commenting that in years long past Plymouth regularly enjoyed "a hundred days of sleighing each winter." At the same time a group of today's youngsters out in front were lamenting the fact that they haven't been able this winter to gather up enough snow to tinkle a topper.

The amorous dalliances of TV's Robinson Peepers Sunday evening didn't exactly blow the fuses in the fifty some TV sets scattered about the Mayflower, but at least his hasty buss of Nancy is a good subject of conversation.

Your Bo's'n's Mate has often been asked what makes all those gray hairs that he has acquired. Here's one of the answers: Two of Plymouth's men's-sized men each ordered two suits a day or two ago for delivery in two or three weeks. Immediately after placing the orders they met and made a bet of $5.00 per pound on a weight losing diet. The contest between the two may be good for their health and appearance, but our gray hair is now becoming totally white. Look, fellows,—everybody loves a fat man!

Our-Bosses-Department: Our Mayflower Boss, The "Skipper," directs us to place our name at the bottom of this column. If we'll do that he's willing to let us live in peace. Our number-two good-natured Boss up at The Plymouth Mail hooked up his champing yellow steed and took off for a warmer climate. Our very likable number three Boss up at the schools is involved in a host of problems so we're sure he will forget us for the moment. All in all the three of them are offering us a respite from work that should give us some time to sell a necktie or two, bless them all. And that's a sailor's 3-0, or "Anchors Aweigh" for this trip. Hello Again!

It's fun to come into your home and chat with you about food. Hope you'll watch this paper for my recipes that I've planned especially for Detroiters.

Here's a trick or two to try when you make dumplings:

Mix 1 cup sifted flour with 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. And here's a new flavor trick: add chopped fresh parsley or dried parsley flakes. Cut in 1/2 tablespoon shortening. Mix lightly with 1/2 cup milk.

Here's a quick trick: dip your spoon into the simmering chicken first, then into the dough—each dumpling will slide off the spoon without sticking. Cover and simmer 15 minutes without lifting the lid. Serve with lots of rich chicken gravy. Kroger stewing chickens are fattened to such plump goodness that they are your best buy for chicken and dumplings.

Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, tuberculosis affected the lives of 43 families and killed one person in Plymouth and Plymouth Township last year, and

WHEREAS, tuberculosis is a dangerous, contagious disease spread from person to person, and

WHEREAS, the Wayne County Health Department and the Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce are waging an effective campaign to help control tuberculosis in Plymouth and Plymouth Township by a case-finding survey and advocate that every adult have a free chest x-ray to be sure of healthy lungs,

THEREFORE, I Russell M. Deane, the Mayor of Plymouth, recommend that all adults in Plymouth and Plymouth Township take advantage of this opportunity to have a free chest x-ray during February 2 to 18 when the x-ray bus visits each neighborhood, and outh, signed and issued a proclamation declaring the month of February as "Chest X-ray Month" for Plymouth and urged all adults to take a minute of their time to have an x-ray.

BE IT KNOWN that I hereby declare the month of February as CHEST X-RAY MONTH for the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

The Wayne County Health Department and the Tuberculosis and Health Society, sponsors of the program, emphasized that there is no charge for this service. Regardless of how healthy people think they are, they need to have this x-ray since no one is able to look inside his body to be sure his lungs are healthy.

Tuberculosis is a disease which may strike young or old, rich and poor, men and women, workers and housewives, the sponsoring agencies warned. A great majority of all persons x-rayed will get a report of a normal, healthy chest. Reports in the few showing abnormalities will be handled confidentially.

Interest this year should be at a high pitch, stated the chairman, because the search for an effective vaccine against polio has reached the point where eventual victory is in sight.

These tests, together with the expanded Gamma Globulin program, will cost the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis $26,500,000 this year. In addition to this, there are 66,000 previously stricken polio patients still requiring care.

The March of Dimes also assures parents that their children or even they themselves, will not be plagued with financial worries should polio strike in their homes this year. Expenses for hospital care in polio cases averages $180 per week, more than the average family can afford.

Gifts to the March of Dimes this year may mean that next year polio fears will be wiped away, just as the disease small pox was overcome. It is for this realization that 102 local mothers have pledged themselves to carry on the porchlight campaign tonight.

Contributions to the March of Dimes may also be mailed to March of Dimes, Post Office Box 356, Plymouth.

Steel scientists contributed to the success of television by developing a stainless steel wall for picture tubes that expands and contracts under heat changes at the same rate as the screen, thus preventing the glass from cracking.

City Manager Attends U. of M. Institute

City Manager Albert Glassford is meeting with several dozen other city managers this week on the University of Michigan campus for the sixth annual City Managers Institute.

Outstanding speakers are included on the program including James K. Pollock, one of the first public administrators sent to Germany following World War II. The institute began Wednesday and will end tomorrow.

The institute is sponsored by the Institute of Public Administrators in cooperation with the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan chapter of the City Managers association.

Oil Speculators

in a shaft dug on the Angell farm some time ago without success.

Taggart leased the LeMaster land 12 years ago and started drilling just last December 1. The company has a lease on about 1,500 acres in the area. The standard "cut" of the land owner in a well is one-eighth. Land is usually leased at $1 per acre per year.

Speculators moving into the area are offering farmers up to $100 per acre for 50 per cent of the royalties. "One friend of mine was offered $100 an acre for 80 acres for half of the royalties," LeMaster explained. "He came to me Sunday and wanted to know what to do." If the farmer accepts, he will get $8,000 right away. If oil is then found, he will get only one-sixteenth of the production instead of one-eighth. Since an average of one out of 20 wells dug bear oil, the odds would be against the speculator.

LeMaster himself was offered $10 an acre for half the royalties last summer. He refused to sell, so now will get his full eighth share of production. Right now the oil find is called a "wildcatter," said LeMaster, but if anymore strikes are made, the area could become a "field" and "the lid would blow off this place."

Mr. LeMaster moved to the farm three years ago but owned it prior to that time.

Another visit by The Mail to the LeMaster farm Tuesday afternoon found the hard-working but happy oilmen working ankle-deep in mud. Cars and trucks cut deep ruts through the thawing barnyard and field as visitors and workers traveled out to the well site.

"This field won't be of much use for 10 years," said LeMaster as he strolled the new and strange landscape. But LeMaster was as happy as anyone since his royalties will more than compensate for the wheat grown on the field last year.

W. C. Taggart himself, a multi-millionaire oilman with many years of experience, laughed and joked along with his crew as the first oil was piped from the well into one of the completed storage tanks. One workman said that there seemed to be enough pressure under ground "to squirt it from here to Plymouth." This pressure makes it unnecessary to do any pumping.

Although Mr. LeMaster takes great interest in what is going on in his field, his wife is a little more than modest when it comes to reporter and photographers. Many newsmen have come to the LeMaster farm.

In Plymouth, activity due to the oil find can be found at the Mayflower hotel where several oilmen, some as far away as Texas, have moved in. By Tuesday noon the oil derrick moved off the LeMaster farm was nearly ready to start drilling on the Angell farm.

Kiwanis Safety Poster Contest Opens Next Week

Posters on traffic safety may win several Plymouth youngsters $25 savings bonds next semester when the Kiwanis club conducts its safety contest. The seven-week contest will be sponsored by the Boys and Girls committee, headed by Harold Fischer, and by the Safety committee, under the chairmanship of Albert Glassford.

The contest will open when films on safety are shown to the students at school sessions next week. They will then be given until their first card marking, a period of seven weeks, to complete their posters in their art classes and then turn them in to their art teacher.

Posters will be made by the elementary school children as well as by those in junior and senior high school. Youngsters in the parochial schools will also enter the Kiwanis contest. Three prizes of $5, $3, and $1 will be presented in each elementary school, with a grand prize of a $25 savings bond being awarded for the best poster in all the elementary schools.

Awards of a $25 savings bond, $10 and $5 will be presented to winners in the junior high school category as well as those in the senior high school.

The posters, which will be on the subject traffic safety, must contain only three colors besides black. Judges will select the winners on the basis of force of slogan, originality, neatness, and artistic ability.

Judging the posters will be Norman Atchinson, representing the Kiwanis club, Paul Bollinger of the Community School Planning Group safety committee, and another yet to be named.

Winners will be the guests of the Kiwanis club on April 13, when they will receive their awards.

The government is able to make smaller bills, but it can't reduce the size of a charge account.

That the inexhaustible resources of divine Love are available today to bless those who understand the unlimited good that God has provided for man will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" includes the following verses from the Bible: "Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. If then God so clothe the grass, which is today in the field, and tomorrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?... Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." (Luke 12:27,28,32).
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following correlative passage will be read: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (494:10).
The Golden Text is from Psalms: "The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion;... The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works" (145:8,9).

Northville Church To Hold Clothing Drive for Needy

The Lutheran Laymen's League of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Northville, in cooperation with the national organization, is holding a used clothing drive for the needy persons of foreign countries. The need for clothing is still great, they said, particularly in Korea, Germany, Hong Kong and Palestine.
Clothing need not be in perfect press, but it should be clean, practical and usable.
The League stated that they particularly want the following articles: for men: trousers, suits, overcoats, work clothes, sweaters, socks, underwear, shirts and shoes; for women: coats, sweaters, dresses, suits, underwear, stockings and shoes (low heels, closed toes only); for children: sturdy shoes, clothing of all kinds, and diapers and for general use, bedding, towels, linens, blankets, piece goods and knitting wool.

The in-gathering date is set for Sunday, January 31, at the Northville church. Anyone wishing to donate clothing but will be unable to take it to the church parish hall is requested to contact Edward Dews at Plymouth 489-J. The clothing will then be picked up at the home.

CONGRATULATIONS go to the Reverend Henry J. Walch for his election to the office of president of the Plymouth Ministerial association at a meeting last week. Lou Ann Stremick Named Miss January at Ladywood High School

Early in January, Ladywood seniors launched the Patron and Ad Drive to raise funds for the yearbook "The Veil".
The title Ad Queen was to be

Lou Ann Stremick

went to Lou Ann Stremick who ranked first with $200.00. Next in order came Roberta Woodbridge and Carol Krump. Lou Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stremick of 551 Adams street.
Lou Ann, attended by Roberta and Carol, will be crowned at the prom on May 7.
Lou Ann's enthusiasm in the Ad Drive is just one reason why she was chosen Miss January by the Ladywood faculty.
Friendliness and good will are among the many qualities embodied in Miss January. One of Ladywood's pioneers, Lou Ann has the true pioneering spirit of sacrifice. Sacrifice is not always easy, but to Miss January it is a pastime, as demonstrated by her willingness in helping anyone at all times. In addition to this, Lou Ann is courteous, cooperative and loyal.
Miss Stremick is senior class president and editor-in-chief of "The Veil." She also managed to maintain a better than average scholastic standing during her high school years.
After graduation Miss January plans to become a full-time secretary at Joe Merritt Insurance Agency in Plymouth.

Local VFW Post Holds Celebration

Commander Richard Neale, of Mayflower Post No. 6695, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, pointed out recently in connection with the observance of National V.F.W. Week, January 24 to 30, that the organization was the first veterans' group to sponsor the annual, nationwide sale of memorial poppies.

The first such sale was conducted in 1922, he said, and since then millions of the replicas of Flanders fields' flowers have been sold as the "Buddy" poppy, the V.F.W. using the proceeds of these solicitations for rehabilitation and relief and to help maintain the organization's national home near Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

"By now", Commander Neale said, "the public well knows that every penny contributed to the Veterans of Foreign Wars through its 'Buddy' poppy campaigns is devoted to the relief of needy or disabled veterans and their dependents and to help run the national home."

Thus, he explained, the Veterans of Foreign Wars proceed further in exemplifying its motto: "We honor the dead by helping the living."
On Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m., January 31, there will be a Flag Presentation day for the post. The Elks are going to present the post with a flag. The public is welcome to watch the ceremony.

Canon Godfrey Tells Parishioners Of Okinawan Missionary Work

Approximately 120 persons attended the pot-luck supper held at the St. John's Episcopal church hall last Saturday evening, January 23. Following the supper, Canon Norman Godfrey, pioneer missionary on the island of Okinawa, told the thrilling story of his work along with that of his colleague, the Reverend William Hefner.
With the invasion of Okinawa and the discovery of the plight of the Okinawans, it was natural that the church should step in. He stated that there were many lepers on Okinawa due to the primitive conditions of living and that the lepers were at the mercy of the people and no mercy was shown to them.
Today there is a leper colony there and they are receiving good medical aid and a large proportion of them have been converted to the Christian faith. Canon Godfrey stated that the Okinawans were the "Welsh" of the Orient; like the Welsh they have never been conquered and their language completely baffles the Japanese just as the Welsh language baffles the English.
The Okinawans became a part of the Japanese Empire voluntarily but their temperaments are very different from the Japanese and they are far more disposed to accept the Christian faith.

Following Canon Godfrey's talk, the reverend, the Reverend David Davies, presided over the annual parish meeting. Various reports were presented showing that a real advance was made in every department of the church during the past year.
The term of office for Ray Altenberg, Walter Breed, Harry Draper and Ralph Lorenz have expired and the following persons were elected to fill the vacancies: Frank Henderson, Sidney Strong, Ernest Eberth and Herbert DeBorde. Plans were discussed to further the work of the parish and with the spirit of cooperation that prevails now among the parishioners, real growth is anticipated for the year 1954.

Any man can make a mistake but none but a fool will continue. No persons are more frequently wrong than those who will not admit they are wrong.

PAR Upholds Bricker Amendment

To the Editor:
I should like to take the opportunity given through this column of explaining to the public why the Daughters of the American Revolution are very much in favor of the "Bricker-American Bar Association Amendment" now being argued before the Senate.

This amendment was reported out of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate last spring after careful study and quite a bit of argument. The need for such an amendment was felt only recently when the danger from the treaty supremacy clause in our own Federal Constitution became evident. The clause reads "... all treaties... shall be the supreme law of the land... anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding." If misused by internationalists in the State Department and elsewhere we could in this country be governed entirely by the United Nations whose Charter was adopted as a treaty and which has set up commissions, whose proposals when put in treaty form and ratified by two-thirds of the members of the Senate present and voting, become binding law upon all of us. The requirement of ratification by two-thirds of the Senate present and voting is not a sufficient protection because, due to the pressure of other business, treaties can be, and have been, ratified with only a few Senators present. Last year a treaty was ratified with only Senator Sparkman in the Chair and Senator Thye present. Treaties with Greece and Turkey which could put us into war in defense of them were ratified with only six senators present and voting.

The Bricker amendment in simple language provides three things:

Section 1—that no provision of a treaty which conflicts with the Constitution shall be of any force or effect.

Section 2—that no treaty shall be effective as INTERNAL LAW unless implemented by legislation which would be valid apart from the treaty.

Section 3—that Congress shall have the power to regulate executive agreements and that such agreements shall be subject to the same limitations as treaties.

In no other country in the world than the United States is a treaty immediately effective as domestic law. This brought no ill effects as long as treaties were confined to their original purpose in dealing with international affairs. At the present time in every other country treaty provisions affecting domestic law require implementation by enactment into law by and through the regular law-making processes of that particular country.

The President's treaty-making powers will not be affected in the slightest by the provisions of the Bricker-Bar Association amendment. Under it he can negotiate treaties exactly as before, and when ratified by the Senate, every treaty will immediately become effective under international law and be binding.

The amendment deals solely with the domestic problem as to what our form of government shall be and concerns only the people of the United States. It is not the business of the representatives of other countries, as members of the United Nations commissions rightly are, to make or help make domestic law for our country. That is too great a price to pay for international cooperation. What kind of government do we wish to have? Shall we have a government of law-of appropriate constitutional restraints placed upon us by our own duly elected representatives, or shall we have a government of men—of unrestrained legislative or executive power. This latter type of government was given us when President Truman plunged us into the Korean War without any consultations with the Congress, and later undertook to seize the properties of the steel companies without any authority under the Constitution or under any law of Congress; and no less a personage than a Chief Justice of the United States together with two other Justices, approved this action in the form of a dissenting opinion.

The Chief Justice took the position that when the United Nations Charter was adopted this country thereby accepted "in full measure its responsibility in the world community" and an obligation "for the suppression of acts of aggression", and that consequently when the United Nations called upon its members "to render every assistance" to repel aggression in Korea the President was thereupon authorized to take any and every action he thought was wise to render that assistance. The Chief Justice stated:

"Our treaties represent not merely legal obligations but show Congressional recognition that mutual security for the free world is the best security against the threat of aggression on a global scale".

In other words, acting under the Charter and other international commitments and implementing legislation based on "treaties," the President was said to have powers not granted to him by the Constitution but even denied to him by it. For, among other things, under Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution, "the Congress has the sole power "to declare war" and "to raise and support armies" and "to provide and maintain a navy"; and under the Fifth Amendment no person is to be "deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor is private property to be taken for public use without just compensation."

Members of the Daughters of the American Revolution urge your support of this amendment. We are not the only ones backing it. The American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Kiwanis International, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the American Federation of Women's Clubs, as well as many other important lay organizations have gone on record as actively supporting it. Write your congressmen and senators today urging them to support the Bricker Amendment.

Very truly yours,
Esther Hulsing (Mrs. K. L.)

HIGH QUALITY . . . WIDE SELECTION . . . LOW PRICES . . . MAKE MILLIONS SAY

YES, A&P has the MEAT BUYS!

Because we sell so many tons of meat at A&P—more than anyone else—we're satisfied with a very small profit per pound. Result? A&P's meat prices are really low—not just on a few items once in a while, but on item after item, day after day.

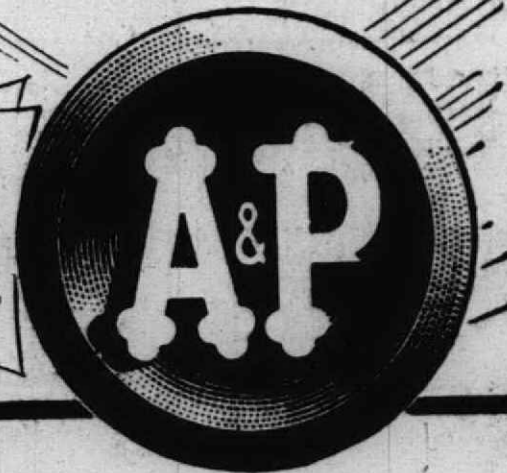

But it takes more than low prices to make good meat buys. Variety and quality are equally important. For if a skimpy selection forces you to settle for a sirloin steak when you prefer porterhouse or for lamb chops when you have your heart set on veal cutlets, you won't be completely satisfied with your purchase at any price. But suppose you're lucky enough to find the cut you want at a low price—you still won't get your money's worth of enjoyment from it if it's of inferior quality... tough, dry or tasteless.

That's why it pays to buy meats at A&P, where you have a tremendous choice of beef, lamb, veal and pork at money-saving low prices... and where uniformly high "Super-Right" quality standards assure you of complete satisfaction or your money back. No wonder millions of contented customers say that A&P has the meat buys. Compare and see, if you don't agree! Come see... come save at A&P!

COMPARE QUALITY! COMPARE PRICE! COME SEE . . . COME SAVE AT A&P!

No Compromise on Quality!
We're proud of our reputation for low prices. We're prouder of our reputation for quality!
Anybody can cut prices if they're willing to cut quality. But it has never been A&P's policy to achieve low prices by selling inferior food.
We are able to offer you the money-saving values you enjoy at A&P because we work as hard to keep up the quality of the food as we do to keep down the price! Come see... come save... at A&P!

PLYMOUTH and LIVONIA STORES

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Well, half of my "ifs" came through last week—Allen Park beat Trenton, but Plymouth dropped out of contention with a loss to Bentley. At the present the 6-B League race is a three-team struggle between Trenton, Allen Park and Bentley. Allen Park shouldn't cause too much concern next semester as they lose McNew and Smith their two high-scoring players, and they don't seem to have capable reserves. The real showdown will probably come next week when Bentley goes to Trenton—the latter beat the Bulldogs on the Bentley floor by two points in an earlier encounter, so they should be favored to do so again on their own small floor. But with Cole and King, Bentley will prove an obstacle, however, Trenton has six-foot eight-inch Boyd to counter with.

Plymouth lost at Bentley the other night by 10 points, and may have been slightly outplayed, particularly in the rebound department. It seems to me that the officiating was a little on the sour side, and I seldom say anything about such things as the man with the whistle sees things that the fans cannot see. In checking through the scorebook for this season, I found that in most games the fouls were about evenly matched for both opponents, but not in the one the other night. Even so, we lost a ball game so have no gripes coming.

The two Larson brothers, Melvin and Alvin, are doing wonders out in Phoenix, Arizona, with their paper "Desert Dust," an auto racing magazine. Melvin is the publisher and editor while Alvin is the associate editor.

The boys, both graduates of Plymouth high school, put out this outstanding monthly racing book, and it is fast becoming one of the best recognized racing magazines in the field. Anyone wishing to secure an issue, or a subscription, can do so by writing to the editor of the above booklet at Phoenix.

Did you ever make an excuse or doing, or not doing something? If you never have, you ought to be awarded a gold something or other. That word "excuse" is so overworked—Webster says that an excuse implies an admitted fault and offers a partial explanation or justification, hoping to lessen the blame. To me, and I have made many of them, an excuse is not being truly honest. Somewhere along the path of every human being there comes a moment when he suddenly sees himself for what he is. Minus all the sham, the surface and the show, he then stands face to face with truth. Many find themselves to be selfish, deceitful, full of excuses, dishonest even to themselves and full of faults and failings.

To some this moment may come during youth when failures are only theory and cocksureness the order of the day. Blessed are they if they can see the truth for what it is and follow it faithfully on down through the years. To others the moment is delayed until remaining years are few and the will is battered and torn by life's long struggles and hardships. To them truth remains obscure through long years in the deceptions and excuses of the world. A miracle of providence and God's grace alone can pierce the hardened shell.

To most of us, who are willing to let it, this moment comes when many of life's battles have passed, but at a time when there still remain sufficient years, vigor and initiative to seek the truth and pursue it. This moment of realization may last for an hour, a day, a month, a year or for years. But whenever, wherever or however it comes—it is a truly significant moment for upon the decision of that moment depend our very life and eternity.

A person who recognizes the gulf that separates him from what he should be, from what he has believed or tried to believe himself to be—and having at the same time recognized his own complete helplessness can do one of three things: First—he may rush in confusion back to the old surface view of self and try to dress up the haunting vision—to excuse—this is the choice of the vain man. Second—the shock may be so great, the failure so undeniably real, the disillusionment so crushing that he desponds and in one way or another seeks to destroy himself. This is the proud man. The third way is the way of the Prodigal Son.

In the last half-century, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has handled more than 330 million tons of coal at its piers at Newport News, Va., enough to make up a single trainload of hopper cars 51,683 miles long, or twice-around the globe at the equator.

Capitol 5 Holds Rec Cage Lead

The Capitol Shirts team in the Men's Recreation basketball league remains as the team to beat for the championship. The Shirt five continue unbeaten in league play and as a result are in first place with Tait's Cleaners a close second having lost a close contest to the leaders earlier in the season.

Last week the league leaders beat Begliners Olds easily 71 to 53. The losers had the player with the most points though as Carlson led all scorers with a total of 28 points. The winner's points were evenly distributed with Felino having 16, Ferenczi 14, Park 12, Pursell 11, Bentley 10 and Levering 8.

Tait's easily took the measure of Box Bar in a 61 to 27 contest. Pottenger had 18 points, Becker 12 and Pierce 10.

Lightfoot Heating, who have been coming up fast after a slow start, got by LaFontaine 35 to 30. Bud Lanphear was high with 18 points.

LaFontaine came back to edge Box Bar 35 to 29. Tait's overpowered Ford Local 182 by the large score of 74 to 29 with both Pottenger and Pierce each getting 18 points. Bob Houghton had 10.

Next week on Tuesday Lightfoot Heating play Tait's in the local gymnasium at 9:15 and on Thursday First National goes against Tait's at 8 p.m., and Box Bar against Lightfoots at 9:15 here.

League standings as of last weekend find the following:

TEAM	W	L
Capitol Shirts	7	0
Tait's Cleaners	6	1
LaFontaine	4	3
Lightfoots	3	3
First National	3	3
Beglinger Olds	2	5
Box Bar	1	6
Ford Local 182	0	7

Frosh Win; Juniors Lose

Forward Marvin Merrian counted 11 of his team's 16 points in the last half to put the Bentley junior high five on top in its game with Plymouth last week, 25 to 21. The Rock junior high had led at the end of the first half 12 to 9, but the sharp-shooting of Merrian washed away that margin late in the third period.

Walaskay was high for the young Plymouth lads with 6 points, followed by Jordahl and Dzurus with 5 each. Barraco with 3 and Knipschild with 2. Coach Gorguze's boys made good on 3 out of 8 free throw attempts.

In the second game of the double-header, the Plymouth Frosh outlasted the Bentley Frosh to win 41 to 36 as Kenney Calhoun scored 16 points. The Frosh had a close lead all the way and led at the half 19 to 15.

Besides Calhoun, Cliff Tait, Ron Markham and Jerry King each had 7 points with Bob Jenkins netting 4. Plymouth made good on 9 of 22 free throw attempts.

Today both teams journey to Trenton for games with the Trojans frosh and junior high teams.

Plymouth School NEWS

Plymouth Host to 6-B Council Conference

Plymouth high school student council members are preparing for their role as host at the 6-B league student council conference to be held in the spring.

Plymouth has been chosen as the school to hold the meeting at which representatives from the 6-B league schools will discuss their problems. The council's task is to send invitations to the schools informing them of the conference and asking for their opinions on problems to be talked over.

The group has also invited a tumbling team from Mount Pleasant to perform at a school assembly in March. The team requires a fee to be paid for its act, and since the school has had very few paid assemblies in recent years and has no fund for them, the students themselves will pay through the council fund.

The school's constitution is receiving an investigation at the hands of its enforcers, the student council. The representative body is studying the document to ascertain if any improvements are necessary.

The council also has formed a committee headed by Pieter Schipper for the purpose of devising a way to let students know on what committees the council members they elected have served. The group has made a poster listing each member and his record of participation in council activities and placed it between the first and second floors.

Exams to End Fall Semester

Of whom is everyone at Plymouth high school afraid? Everyone sits so still in the rooms with his face buried in his books. Not so many students are going to the movies either, for fear of this disagreeable character catching up with them. Who is this character? Mid term exams!

Starting Wednesday, January 27, the students attended their classes in the morning and in the afternoon had exams. Thursday, January 28, the students had exams the first three hours; then they will go home for the rest of the day and all day Friday in order to allow the teachers to make out the grades and prepare their reports.

The new semester starts Monday, February 2, with a home-room meeting at 8:30 a.m. to inform the students about next semester classes.

Students to Enter Annual Auxiliary Essay Contest

By Ella Plant

"Build Through Citizenship" was picked for the title in the Nineteenth Annual National Essay contest which is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Local prizes will consist of $10.00 for first place, $5.00 for second place, and a bronze medal for third place. The local winners will also have an opportunity to enter the state contest and possibly the national finals.

A student of any public, parochial, or private high school enrolled in grade 9, 10, 11 or 12 is eligible for competition. Deadline date for the essay, set by the local organization, is 4 p.m., March 12, in the principal's office. April 15 is the postmark, deadline date for the State contest.

Only one copy in pen and ink is the requirement of the competition for the local contest and it must not be longer than 1,000 words, counting the "a's", "and's", and "the's". This could cause a disqualification very easily. A Declaration of Original Authorship must be filled out completely and attached to the back of the essay.

All essays will be judged on: literary construction; 50 per cent; interpretive views, 25 per cent; and patriotic inspiration, 25 per cent.

It is suggested that the ideas be original but the entrant may consult teachers, school officials, and the librarian for information on source of material.

The original essay and two carbon copies must be submitted for the state and national contest. It must also be typed double spaced on plain, 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper. Essays should be securely fastened together, should include name, address, city, state, name of school, and number of words in the upper right hand corner of each page.

National awards consist of $1,000 cash and a gold medal for first prize, $500 cash and a gold medal for second prize, $250 cash and a gold medal for third prize, $100 cash and a gold medal for fourth prize, 10 prizes of $10 each, and 10 prizes of $5 each for honorable mention.

Don't be disqualified. Check these points before handing it in for the local contest: 1. Meet the deadline date. 2. Keep it under 1000 words. 3. Remember the Declaration of Original Authorship.

Teachers Plan Valentine Swing For Tuesday

The Valentine Spread and Swing, sponsored by the Teachers' club of Plymouth will be held Tuesday, February 2, in the high school auditorium. The party, which is for all Plymouth public school employees, will have the members of the Board of Education as guests of honor.

Mrs. Loren Goodale, who is to be the caterer, has planned the following menu: Swiss steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, salad, rolls and butter, and a lemon chiffon dessert.

The tickets for the gathering are being sold until January 29. Where the tickets may be obtained will be announced in each building.

Olivia Bell, chairman of the social committee, is working on the entertainment for the program which will presumably be square-dancing.

"From the mouths of little children" . . . It wasn't difficult for pretty, five-year-old Mary-K Larsen to force her dad, banker Harry Larsen, into buying a television set. After several weeks of persuasion to no avail at home she started a campaign in the neighborhood telling the neighbors she wanted a television set but her daddy couldn't afford to buy one. As soon as the news drifted back home daddy bought a television set.

Coincidence . . . Randall Penhale was asked to introduce Dr. Henry Hitt Crane to the men in attendance at a district meeting at the Methodist church Thursday evening. Over the previous weekend he was passing a few pleasant hours thumbing through the pages of his old diaries which he has kept religiously since 1918. In introducing Dr. Crane at the meeting he pointed out it was the second time in 27 years he had enjoyed dinner with the Doctor . . . the first time as a student in Lawrence college on March 16, 1927 where Dr. Crane was a guest at a college banquet.

Always alert to civic betterment, Graham's Ralph Rostow has come up with an excellent suggestion to make shopping easier for local residents. He suggests some sort of transportation be made available from the outlying areas to carry people down town and home on regularly scheduled trips at a very low fare. He thinks the idea so worthwhile that if necessary local merchants could subsidize the carrier to make up for its losses. We agree 100 per cent.

Coda Savery, waiting for Mrs. Savery, who was a patient in the offices of Dr. Luther Peck, decided, since he was leaving for Florida, he should go in and say goodby to the doctor. His car parked in the doctor's driveway supported a nice parking violation ticket 10 minutes later when they left. He went back to show the ticket to Dr. Peck who protested violently and said Mr. Savery should go to the police department and do the same. Perplexed police were at somewhat of a loss as to know what to do when they heard Mr. Savery's story, because only a few days before Dr. Peck had asked them to ticket cars parked in his driveway. To unscramble the problem violator Savery paid $3.00 and left smiling for the sunny south.

Fair warning . . . it isn't with regret that we accepted an assignment from our news and photo departments to cover the activities of Plymouthites who are bathing in the sun in Florida. Someone had to do the job so after considerable urging we agreed to accept the task. In all fairness to those subjects in the sunny south we are giving notice that anytime in the next few days we might appear, camera in hand, to snap them dozing under one of Florida's leaning palm trees.

Roger Babson Says

BABSON DISCUSSES AUTOMATIC
MERCHANTISING
Babson Park, Massachusetts. As happens every once in a while, stories have been going around which portray a brilliant outlook for the automatic vending machine business. Unscrupulous promoters paint the future in most vivid colors, exaggerating the sales potential and hardly mentioning the operating costs and other problems. AUTOMATIC MERCHANTISING HAS DISTINCT ADVANTAGES

This robot is essentially a supplementary salesman. Automatic vendors do well on low-cost items such as cigarettes and candy, which merchants often sell only as an accommodation. Machines can take over the sale of such merchandise and generally show a small profit. Furthermore, they don't get into the habit of smoking "on the house" as do many employees, and they never ask for a raise or a day off!

Another rapidly growing field where the machines play a valuable role is in supplying snacks where food is not otherwise available. These machines offer factories an ideal means of providing quick-energy foods which keep both morale and efficiency high. There is then no need to "send out" or to take a half-hour "walk" to the corner drugstore. PROFITS ARE NOT LARGE But these uses, while they assure further growth to the industry, do not constitute a golden road to riches. The fact is that the average volume of sales per machine is surprisingly low. The ordinary cigarette machine (and cigarettes account for over half of all vending-machine sales) dispenses about fifteen packs a day. It is clear that at this rate there must be a large investment in robots in order to support a serviceman who will load, repair, and collect coins from the machines. The daily net profit for the owner is figured in fractions of pennies.

In addition, vandalism by small boys and petty thieves is an occupational hazard of the robot. It must be located where there is heavy traffic at all times, or where there is an employee doing other work. Public locations are unsatisfactory. Certainly, there is no profit if a blue-uniformed "clerk" must stand ready to defend the machine with his nightstick! This means that the further growth of such machines will come in stores where vandalism cannot occur.

THE PERSONAL APPROACH Machines do not know the psychology of selling. It is a mistake therefore, to believe that they can ever take over the job of an enthusiastic clerk who has a true "sales appeal." They are able to sell only well-known, low-cost items that people already want. Products that people want to feel, or try for size, cannot yet be automatically dispensed. Also, experience has shown that the average citizen hesitates to drop anything larger than a quarter in a machine; and there are few persons indeed who will deposit a dollar or more in a gadget that they are not sure will work.

Therefore, I am not now forecasting that robot selling machines will go far toward displacing sales clerks, but they may discourage further wage raises. I do predict, however, that the extent to which the robot finally supersedes the blonde will materially depend upon advertising and packaging.

IMPORTANCE OF
ADVERTISING It is significant that the products which move well through automatic selling devices are well-known brands. "Dimes" chains are giving them careful study in connection with "self-selection" stores. Of course, the nation's leading psychologicalists will have to devote their great experience and talent

New protection for Michigan citizens is the aim of several bills concerning driver responsibility now under consideration by the Legislature. Important among these are several proposals to set a state speed limit. Senator Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) claims 18 co-sponsors for his bill to limit vehicle speed at night to 55; during the day to 65 miles per hour. Since only 17 votes are required to pass a bill in the Senate, the proposal should have little trouble in securing approval there.

"Slowpokes" on the highway are also receiving attention. A bill proposed by Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) calls for a 50 mile an hour minimum speed during the day; 40 at night. Sen. Morris expects difficulty in passing this bill. But he believes public sentiment favors some action to keep slow drivers off main highways. "I've received more popular support for this than any other proposal I've ever made," he reports.

Loss of his automobile faces the owner of a car involved in an accident causing death, injury or damage of more than $50 if a proposal of Rep. Willard I. Bowerman, Lansing attorney, becomes law.

This bill requires all drivers to carry a "financial responsibility" card issued by the Secretary of State's office. A driver involved in a serious accident who cannot produce such a card will have his auto impounded until the case is settled or he can demonstrate his ability to pay damages.

Responsibility cards could be issued by auto insurance companies, with the approval of the Secretary of State, under a specification of the measure.

Drivers under 21 would be required to produce evidence that they are covered by public liability insurance under another of Rep Bowerman's proposals. "I think both of these bills stand excellent chance to become law," said the representative. "Both will make a driver more conscious of his responsibility and both provide means of paying for damages should an accident occur."

About 650 separate bills are expected to be introduced by the Feb. 10 deadline. This is a far cry from predictions made last fall when this session was described as a "short" one. Many of the measures introduced are worthy of careful consideration. Others are controversial and require "delicate treatment."

Matters like a large state police force, increases in unemployment and workmen's compensation, new prison facilities, a fair employment practice law, etc. takes time. In an election year when every lawmaker is anxious that his actions be understood and approved by the voters, lawmakers are especially careful.

This is particularly true at this session because of redistricting which takes place before the next election. Reapportionment means that many people will be voting in different districts than previously. They are likely to be less familiar with candidates. Incumbents are anxious to gain as much advantage as possible during the legislative term.

Reapportionment is expected to benefit the Republican party according to Senator Charles S. Blouy, Detroit Democrat. Districts in Wayne County were arranged in such a manner, he claims, as to reduce the number of Democrats that can be elected, he points out, while other traditionally Republican sections were joined to borderline Democratic areas.

Official figures from the Auditor General's office show that Michigan's income for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $735,992,517. Expenditures amounted to $710,865,595. Surplus in the general fund was $34,003,691. Applied against the previous deficit of $65,341,209, the state is left owing $31,337,518. This is expected to be paid off by the end of this year from returns from the business receipts tax.

Biggest portions of the budget were spent for education: 34% or $244.5 million; for highways: 22% or $152.8 million; for welfare: 15% or $107 million.

Only 2% was required to operate the state government; 8% was returned to local units of government. Expenditures for mental health took 7% or $49.8 million.

Safety and corrections with 4%, public health with 2%, conservation and agriculture with 2%, took up most of the remaining portion of the budget.

Disaster plans to care for thousands who would be left homeless should Detroit every suffer enemy air attack are now being made in Livonia, a suburb of the metropolis. All Livonia homes and commercial buildings have been surveyed as to suitability for emergency shelters, and plans have been made to convert a new high school into an emergency hospital.

The Michigan Office of Civil Defense reports that 700 Livonians have been trained as auxiliary police, fire and medical assistants, and that Livonia air raid alarm instruments will soon be connected directly with those of Detroit.

"Unprecedented success of Michigan's tourist business in 1953 means an even greater selling effort will be necessary in 1954 if the state's vacation business is to continue to prosper," said Robert W. Budd, chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council.

"The trend toward a buyers' market, with increased competition from other states, makes it imperative that we re-examine our advertising and promotion program," he continued.

Plans for 1954's promotion are already laid out and include a series of movies featuring Michigan's spring, summer, fall and winter attractions. Films will be made available to television stations, service clubs, etc., according to Robert Furlong, executive secretary of the Council.

Delicious Pie

Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing's recipe for what she calls Delicious Pie makes a real lush dessert for company or just for the family. Mrs. Hulsing's three daughters, Ann, Susan and Mary, as well as her husband have placed their stamps of approval on the dessert as one of their favorites. The Hulsings live at 1010 Church street.

1 box ground zwieback
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
¼ pound butter or oleo.
Separate out one cup of crumbs. Mix the rest of the ingredients together and line a large pie tin. Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes.

Filling
3 egg yolks
3 cups milk
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
Cook the above together in a double boiler until thick. Cool and place in the pie shell. Sprinkle the remaining crumbs on top.

Meringue
6 tablespoons confectioners sugar
3 egg whites beaten stiff.

Place the meringue on top of the custard and return to the 350 degree oven for another 15 minutes. Cool the pie, top with whipped cream and serve.

Madonna Seniors Help at Camp

As a part of their orientation as student teachers, four seniors of Madonna College are serving this week as camp counselors at Cedar Lake located near Chelsea, Mich. The students are Phyllis Hebda, Joan Petro, Delphine Pieczynski and Delphine Stachowski.

Included in the camping activities of the week are forestry trips, conservation work, instruction in fire arm safety and talks on animals and fishery. A student camp council will select activities for the week and direct evening social affairs.

Approximately 60 pupils from the sixth grades of the Bird and Smith elementary schools of Plymouth are attending the camp. Besides the Madonnites, other counselors include the teachers of the sixth grades of Bird and Smith schools, students from Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, and Michigan State College.

This year for the first time, Madonna students will do their directed teaching in the Plymouth public schools. Each student is assigned to one of the schools, where under the supervision of a cooperating teacher, she will undergo her teacher training period. The directed teaching program begins Feb. 1 and will continue throughout the semester.

At a meeting held at Madonna College, January 19, the four prospective student teachers met their cooperating teachers and the principals of the respective schools: Mrs. Nancy Tanger of Bird School and Miss Ruth E. Eriksson of Smith school. The standards by which student teachers will be evaluated were also discussed.

Phyllis Hebda will have Mrs. Mabel Blossom of Bird School as her cooperating teacher, while Joan Petro will have Miss Elizabeth McDonald of Plymouth High school. Acting as Delphine Pieczynski's cooperating teacher will be Mrs. Janette Smith of Bird School, and Delphine Stachowski's will be Mrs. Florence Leyanna of Smith School.

This man is his own worst enemy! Yet most of us can sympathize with him—for most of us don't "run to the doctor" every time we have an ache or pain.

We're much more likely to say: "Oh, I'm all right. It's really nothing." Or to tell ourselves: "I'm too busy . . . haven't time to bother with doctors."

Yet, the man (or woman) who ignores seemingly minor symptoms often runs the risk of inviting much more serious ailments. That's because most diseases thrive on neglect; the worst thing we can do is to ignore warning symptoms until it may be too late for the doctor to help.

Medical research in America today is writing one of the most heart-warming chapters in the story of mankind. Our great laboratories, our hospitals, universities, and a host of governmental and private organizations are cooperating as never before to improve our chances of living a longer, healthier life.

Your own doctor has at his disposal all of the discoveries, all of the knowledge, of modern medical science. But you are the only one who can put these vast resources to work to help you.

So next time you are tempted to ignore warning symptoms, remember that your greatest danger lies in neglect and delay. Remember—in your physician's hands, you're in good hands. But only by acting promptly can you take advantage of the help he can give you now.

Felician Sisters Plan Benefit Party For Missions

The annual Mission benefit games party will be held Sunday, February 7, in De Sales Auditorium, Madonna College, from 3 to 6 p.m.

The proceeds of this affair will be given to the Brazilian missions conducted by the Felician Sisters.

The Felician Sisters opened their first mission in Brazil in October 1950, as a Holy Year gift to the Church. A General Councilor of the Congregation, Mother Mary Alexis, of Ponca City, and Sisters M. Gualbertha and M. Dulcilia, of Buffalo, were the first to sail to South America.

Headquarters were set up in Niteroi, where the Sisters conduct a school and give special instruction in the English language. They also carry on social work among needy families, give catechetical instruction, direct lay retreats, and conduct a sewing center for the poor.

Some time after their arrival in Brazil, the Sisters were invited to open a school in the capital city, Rio de Janeiro, for children of American and British officials stationed there. Among the Sisters staffing this school are two from Detroit, Sister M. Clarence, principal, and Sister M. Florence, a sister of Sister M. Angelina, art instructor at Madonna College.

The public is cordially invited to attend the games party Sunday, February 7 for the benefit of these missions.

We heard a Plymouth citizen say yesterday that knocking indicates one of two things - carbon in the engine or envy.

Trusty Seals Guide Buying For Consumer

Homemakers faced with the problem of choosing between the wide variety of goods available often look to seals of approval as guides to buying.

The idea of approval seals is excellent, maintains Dr. Irma H. Gross, head of Michigan State college's department of home management and child development.

But the wise shopper will want to develop a careful judgement of these seals.

After all, a seal is no better than the authority behind it, points out Dr. Gross. And some seals are meaningless.

As an example, she cites a "campus-tested" seal found on one product. The seal fails to indicate what organization stands behind the seal. So the consumer has no way of knowing what tests were conducted or if they were adequate tests.

The practical value of a seal of approval depends upon several factors. The consumer needs to ask herself such questions as these:

What organization approves it? Does that organization have adequate test standards? What does the certification include? What are the terms of guaranty? How long is it guaranteed? Consumers can rely on the familiar United States government seals on foods products.

Several professional and trade groups grant seals of approval to products meeting their standards. Some of these reliable seals are granted by the American Medical Association, the American Dietetics Association and the American Institute of Laundering.

The AMA seal of acceptance granted by the Council of Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association may be displayed on packages and in advertising of foods when the conditions set up by the Council have been met.

The Council, primarily interested in preventing or discouraging unwarranted claims in the merchandising of food products, must be assured that food is wholesome and that it complies with certain requirements for ingredients, composition or nutritional values.

Another reliable seal is the Blue Star Seal of the American Gas Association Laboratories. This seal affixed to gas equipment indicates that the equipment meets requirements of performance, construction and safety.

When selecting small appliances, the consumer may look for the UL seal of the Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. That seal means that the equipment has been tested for fire, casualty and electrical safety.

Little Lamb Pies Are Designed For Winter Day Good Eating

Menu
Individual Lamb Pies
with Mashed Potato Border
Head Lettuce Salad
Hot Rolls
Butter or Margarine
Double Fudge Cake
Coffee Tea Milk

Brighten a winter day by serving individual lamb pies. To give them a final touch, remove the pies from the oven and circle the top of each with mashed potatoes put through a pastry tube. Then slip them back in the oven for a few minutes for a golden brown tinge.

Good meat stew preparation is summed up in three words—long, slow cooking. It's the gentle simmering in moist heat that produces juicy, tender meat cubes.

In preparing a stew, brown the meat cubes or not as desired. Many persons prefer a brown stew. Dredging the meat with flour will intensify the browning. A good way to do this is to place the flour, seasoned with salt and pepper, in a paper bag, then to add the meat cubes and shake the bag vigorously.

Next, brown the meat cubes in lard drippings. Omit this step if you desire a light stew. Then add liquid, enough to completely cover the meat cubes. Cover the meat closely and let it simmer until tender. When the meat is nearly tender, add vegetables as desired. Be sure not to add them too soon or they lose their color and texture. When cooked, remove the meat and vegetables from the cooking utensil and thicken the liquid for gravy.

Use a variety of vegetables in preparing stews. Green beans, peas, lima beans, whole kernel corn might be used for a change. However, a stew may be made up of the tender meat cubes in gravy without vegetables.

Here is the recipe for the flavorful lamb pies.

Individual Lamb Pies
1½ pounds boneless lamb for stew
Salt and pepper
¾ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Water
10 small whole carrots
10 small whole onions
2 cups canned or cooked peas
2 cups mashed potatoes
Dredge lamb cubes with sea-

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Lamb crown roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It is made up of two or more lamb rib sections from which the backbone has been removed. The ribs are "frenched" that is, meat is removed from rib ends, then the rib sections are shaped and tied into a crown.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. Set oven regulator at 300° F. Place in shallow roasting pan with rib ends down. Cook for 1 hour, turn, fill with stuffing if desired, finish cooking. Allow approximately 35 minutes per pound roasting time.

For an appetizer tray for the Winter season do this. Select a crimson Gouda cheese for the center of your tray. Stick the cheese with salami whirligigs and with chipped beef balls, ripe and stuffed olives. To prepare the salami whirligigs, spread meat with thinned cream cheese seasoned with garlic. Roll as a jelly roll and slice diagonally. Stick with colored picks and arrange in the cheese. Form the chipped beef balls by making bleu cheese spread into small balls and rolling in minced chipped beef. Surround cheese with tiny ham cornucopias filled with pickle relish.

Lamb Pies DeLuxe

Individual table casseroles bear hearty servings of lamb pie. For a clever topping, mashed potatoes are tubed around the border of the pie. They are then returned to the oven to give the potatoes a golden brown tinge.

soned flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Add only enough water to cover. Cover closely and cook slowly for 1½ hours. Add vegetables, except peas, and continue cooking about 45 minutes or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Pour off cooking liquid and thicken for gravy. (Allow ½ cup gravy for each serving.) Combine meat, carrots, onions, peas and gravy. Arrange in individual casserole dishes. Force mashed potatoes through a pastry tube around the edge of each casserole dish. Place in a hot oven (450° F.) or under broiler until potatoes are browned. 4 to 6 servings.

Bath Towels Take On New Style Appeal

Not too long ago bath towels were just plain, ordinary items made to serve a practical need. Not so any longer! Today towels have entered the realm of home fashions and now play a colorful part in the bathroom decorating scheme.

Towels get high-style treatment these days. Inspiration for their designs comes from many sources, just as for fashion fabrics. One new towel recently put on the market has a design inspired by the delicate grid of a tennis racket. Called "racquet club," this design comes in delicate colors of azalea, lilac, and aqua and in tweedy shades of nutmeg and charcoal.

One home decorating expert even suggests the use of colorful towels for bathroom curtains. Just sew rings to one hem of a pair of matching towels, she says, and hang them on an ordinary rod. The towels drape gracefully without pleating and they absorb steam moisture without growing limp. The towel curtains can be washed frequently and require no ironing.

Mobile Easy-Does-It Kitchen To Be Shown Farmers' Week

Homemakers attending Farmers' Week on the Michigan State college campus February 1-5 will have an opportunity to inspect the mobile "Easy Does It" kitchen recently developed by the Consumers Power and Light Company of Jackson.

The kitchen was designed to help homemakers find more efficient, energy-saving ways to do their work. The kitchen's plan was not meant to be copied in detail, but rather to incorporate many ideas to stimulate each homemaker's thinking toward ways to make her own kitchen a pleasanter, easier room in which to work.

The "Easy Does It" kitchen has special interest for the physically handicapped, whose limitations were considered in the plans. However, homemakers with no physical disability find it just as interesting. This was evidenced when homemakers and husbands alike were enthusiastic viewers of the kitchen at a showing on the M.S.C. campus last fall.

Marjorie Bettesworth, general home service supervisor for the Consumers Power Company, will be on campus during Farmers' Week. She will be the feature speaker for the Wednesday afternoon section of the women's program in the college auditorium. Her topic is the "Revolution in Kitchen Planning."

AN EARLY AMERICAN LOOK was given the recently completed kitchen addition on the home of the Herbert Burleys of 1051 Brush. The lovely knotty pine cabinets with colonial type fixtures were supplied by Plymouth Lumber, and the counter tops, supplied by Eger-Jackson Inc., are of Lamidall, a hard laminated plastic surface. Peak Threat of Fire Damage During Winter Heating Season

Householders need to take extra precautions against fire during the winter, for the threat of fire is at its peak when cold weather requires the use of heating equipment.

Defective heating equipment leads to about 55,000 fires a year with a total loss approximating $60,000,000, says the National Fire Protection Association. Defective chimneys and flues cause another 30,000 fires, costing nearly $24,000,000. Sparks falling on flammable roofs cause about 22,000 fires, with a loss of $15,000,000.

Heating plants and chimneys should be cleaned annually, the NFPA says, and should be repaired if cracks or loose mortar are found. Furnaces and other heating equipment should be inspected for worn or broken parts. Damaged smokepipes should be replaced.

The danger in a dirty chimney is that it will shoot sparks out onto the roof. To minimize this danger, the NFPA advises the use of fire-resistant asphalt shingles or some other material, which will not be kindled into flame by chimney sparks.

Sparks on roofs caused more fires a few years ago than this hazard does now. One of the main reasons for the decrease is that increasing numbers of homeowners have learned to protect their houses with fire-resistant material. Asphalt shingles are now used on about 80 per cent of new dwellings and are also the favorite material for reroofing of older homes.

The NFPA points out that the drop in roof fires is statistical and that the threat to any one building is still great if it is not properly protected.

To guard against fires originating in a heating plant, clearance of at least 18 inches is required between the heating plant and combustible material, the NFPA explains. When this clearance cannot be provided, the combustible material should be insulated, with a one-inch air space between the insulation and the material.

Furnace smokepipes often reach temperatures of 600 to 1,000 degrees. Consequently, they should be kept at least 24 inches from wood beams or walls. Concealed smokepipes are highly dangerous.

The NFPA says fuel storage is often an after thought in home construction. Fuel oil lines are often situated so that they are subject to breakage. Coal bins are sometimes located too close to the furnace. The NFPA considers competency in furnace, chimney, and roof construction to be of first importance in building a fire-safe home.

A RUST REMOVER

Soapy water containing a few drops of kerosene will remove rust from porcelain.

Furniture Fashions

Perhaps you have thought that furniture has reached the utmost in functionalism and practicality. Here is another feature in the world of furniture fashions which is sure to please all homemakers—a cedar-lined drawer in a storage unit.

One entire drawer of this bedroom piece is constructed in cedar with a special lid to insure tight sealing and complete protection. This is a practical place to store wearables. With this unique cedar compartment you can have finger-tip protection for sweaters, dresses, etc. Chest of drawers shown is part of an entire bedroom grouping constructed in mahogany with contrasting hardware of brass or silver color.

MORE THAN 40 MILLION

More than 40 million naturally finished flush doors, made of hardwood plywood, have been installed in American homes, lumber authorities report. An average of eight million additional doors are produced each year.

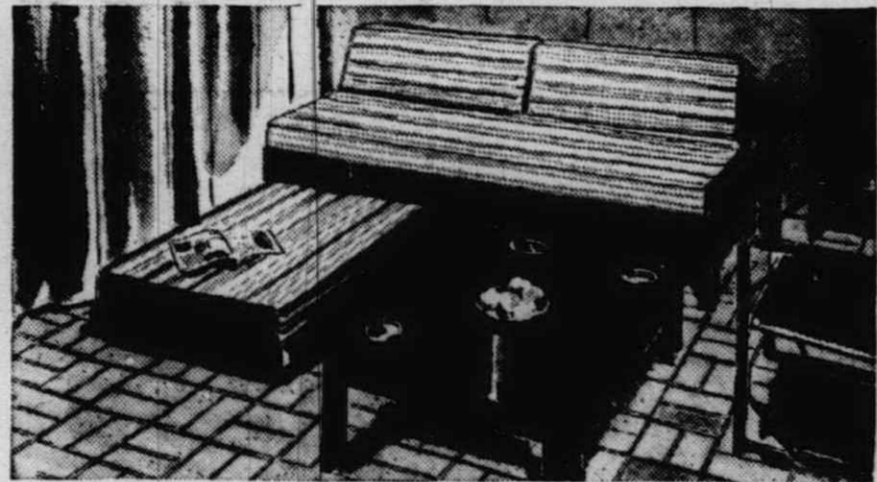

Dual-Use Furniture Pieces Available For Den-Bedroom

The spare bedrooms of many modern homes no longer get by with a life of idleness, according to Small Homes Guide. Today's plans call for this room to double as den-bedrooms or even as TV den-study-bedrooms.

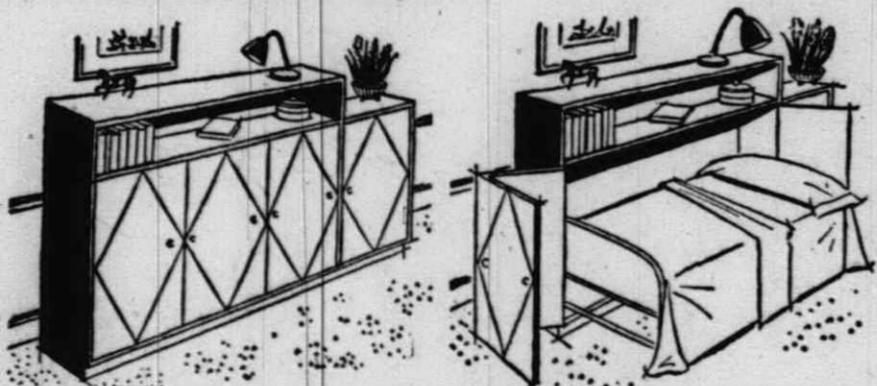

Fortunately, many dual-use furniture pieces are available for furnishing the den-bedroom—such as sofas that become beds, desks that convert into vanities and storage units that conceal beds. Those shown here are typical.

The pillowed and bolstered studio couch makes an inviting corner.

This studio couch can be converted to twin beds—or partially opened for additional seating space by day.

Window Shopping With Sue

In planning that kitchen for your new home Windowalls should receive a lot of your attention. That's because you need plenty of light and fresh air to make long hours spent in the kitchen really pleasant. And that is where wonderful Andersen windows come in. They're sold by several lumber dealers in Plymouth.

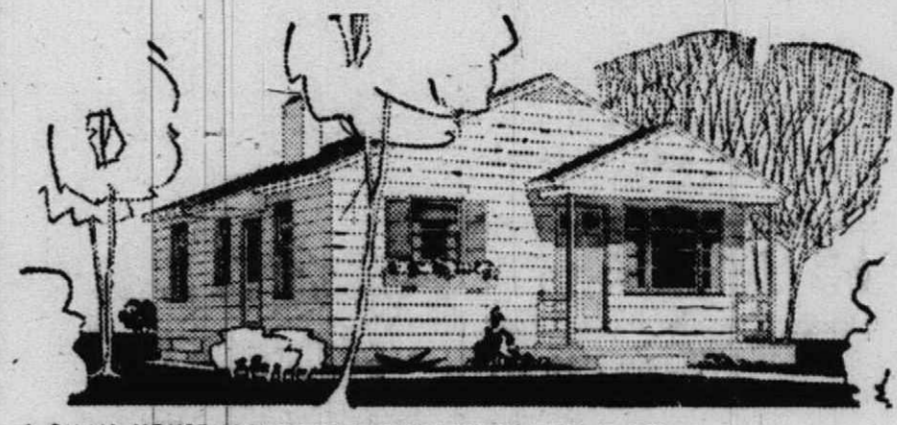

Of course, the window over your sink is the most important one in your kitchen. That is your most used kitchen area, so it's where light is really essential. You might decide that the gliding window unit is what you want. The sash opens easily from side to side and comes out for cleaning.

And while we're over at the sink, have you figured on putting in a Formica counter top—they certainly are widely used these days.

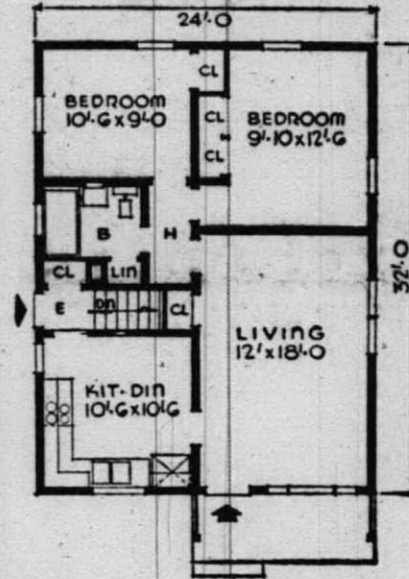

You can actually do it in seven easy steps. First you prepare the surface by removing all the old material, and then scrape or sand the surface to leave it clean and dry. Remove the sink. You then cut the Formica to the exact size of the counter top. With a specially designed spreader you smooth on the cement, and let stand for 40 minutes.

Test the cement by pressing a piece of wrapping paper to the surface. If it comes away clean you're ready to place the Formica on the counter top.

Press the Formica down firmly, rolling the surface with heavy pressure. Install the moldings and replace the sink. You will need a clamp type sink rim, which comes complete with fastening clips and corner brackets. You finally install the clips around the edge of the sink and your job is complete.

How To Make Novel Door Pull

A functional, attractive door pull may be made by gluing and nailing a piece of Masonite 1/8" Tempered Presdwood to a block of wood and fastening the latter to the stile. The Presdwood overhangs the wood to allow a finger-hold.

This device is particularly useful on a swinging door, as it may be pulled as well as pushed. The same principle may be followed in making a cabinet or dresser pull.

The material may be Masonite Leatherwood, a decorative hardwood which will take a beautiful tone-on-tone finish. Shape the door pull in various styles, to suit the room. For one leading to the kitchen, use a coping saw to form a skillet, handle and all.

Other suggestions are a small artist's palette, a diamond or club for entrance to the den, or a phonograph record on the door to the recreation room.

Since Tempered Presdwood can be painted, the various shapes may be decorated to resemble the real thing. Another idea is to mount a photo enlargement. Protect its surface with a clear shellac.

Always lightly bevel the exposed edges of Presdwood with a file or sandpaper.

Chicken thieves stole nearly all of Jack Edwards' chickens last Saturday evening.

A regular old Dakota blizzard struck the State Tuesday afternoon and Plymouth got its share of it. The snow was piled up in great drifts and packed as hard as sand almost. It was the worst weather experienced here this winter. Trains were all late from half an hour to eight hours. If the traditional ground-hog came out of his burrow and saw his shadow, we don't blame him for crawling back into his hole for another snooze.

The new electric lights were turned on for the first time last week Thursday night at a public entertainment in the opera house. A cluster of eight is arranged in the center of the auditorium, with others for the stage, hallway, etc. The new light gives great satisfaction to the populace, and we now have a darkened room where the play goes on the stage, just like city theatres. Nothing like being "up-to-date." Ephraim Partridge, while separating dates with a fork, scratched his finger with it. Blood poison has set in, causing a very troublesome wound.

H. E. Millsbaugh expects to go on the road for a casket manufacturer after March first, and will move his family to Wayne.

Robert Jolliffe now handles the Detroit News, instead of his brother, Edgar.

A merry sleigh load of people called on Mr. and Mrs. George Gebhardt, of Phoenix, last Saturday evening. The phonograph played the music while oysters and other refreshments were served. All had a good time.

The zero weather is holding the egg market very firm and the "fruit" is hard to obtain even at 30 cents.

Complaints are made of some miscreant scattering poison about whereby chickens and dogs are made to "bite the dust" or snow, speaking more literally.

Frank Toncray was at Walled Lake Tuesday. He started for home intending to take the evening train at Wixom. He arrived in Plymouth at 4:30 the next morning. A lady from the west waited here for 14 hours before a train left for Carleton, her destination.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Women and girls are usually very attentive to the condition of their skin and rightly so. From time to time, they study their faces in the mirrors and view with alarm sometimes the accumulations of tiny or large wrinkles on the forehead, around the eyes, and at the corners of the mouth.

With some, the appearance of a "double chin" is a terrific shock and immediate measures are taken to eliminate this betrayer of age.

However, one of the most unobtrusive blemishes which appears and goes oftentimes unnoticed is the enlarged pores. These should not be treated lightly because if they are allowed to go their natural course, the complexion will be completely ruined.

Take a few minutes off, right after reading this article, to examine your skin. If you find that you do have enlarged pores already, you should go to work immediately to remedy the situation. If you don't have a single enlarged pore now, it might be well to remember the old saying, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Here are a few suggestions which, faithfully followed, will help the situation:

Select a good pore cream at your druggist's. Ask his advice if necessary and remember that it's best to pay a little more and get a better product. Well advertised products are usually safest in the long run.

When your face has been thoroughly cleaned with a mild soap and steamed by applying cloths wrung out of hot water or by holding one's face over a lavatory full of hot water, press out all the blackheads which will come out very easily. Be sure that your finger nails are absolutely clean and the skin is not bruised. Use sterilized absorbent cotton for this process.

Then apply the pore cream. Try to plan so that you can leave it on your face at least two hours or better still, use it just before going to bed and leave it on all night.

For the women whose pores are enlarged, pore cream may be used every night for a couple of months and then twice a week. The astringent quality of the cream will gradually shrink the pores if used faithfully.

If you haven't enlarged pores, as a preventative measure, use pore cream once a week. It will remove dust and dirt, makeup and accumulations of oil that clog up the skin and cause blemishes and blackheads.

We saw an example of poor judgement the other day. We noticed a Plymouth woman buying a pocketbook on credit.

Days which begin in darkness and storm often end in a glorious sunset.

Malcolm Olds Receives Rating As Sea Diver

Going deep down under the water before starting to work is the job of Malcolm Olds, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Olds of 336 North Harvey. Nineteen years old, Olds is a second class diver in the Navy and is now stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

His diver's training took eight weeks and began when he learned to balance himself and to control the air flow into the suit. This went along with learning to fit pipes under water. Qualified to dive to 150 feet, Olds wears a deep sea diving suit weighing 195 pounds. This weight is distributed among a helmet, 31 pounds, breast plate, 24 pounds, shoes, 36 pounds, belt, 84 pounds and suit, 20 pounds.

He also had to learn to get through mud which ranged in depth from one foot to four or five feet. As if this weren't enough, there were holes in the area up to 15 feet deep. Olds pointed out that he had first hand experience with one of these, falling into it head first.

Learning to use all kinds of hand tools and special underwater tools, came next, with the intricacies of shallow water diving following. In the latter he used just a mask, an 80 pound belt and a swimming suit. He explained that the belt is to hold him down but that he can still swim with it on.

The amazing part of the whole thing, say his parents, is that he never even liked the water when he was home.

Welding Classes At Night School

Electric Welding, Electrical Engineering Principles, and Engineering Materials are among the 13 new courses offered by the University of Michigan this semester in its Ann Arbor extension program for adults, Mrs. Charles A. Fisher, supervisor of the class program in the Ann Arbor area, announces.

Most of the 40 classes scheduled for the second semester open the week of February 8, she adds. Registration may be made in 164 School of Business Administration building, Monroe at Tappan, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday during the two weeks beginning February 8. Early registration is advised for art classes and others in which enrollment is limited, however, and may be made in 4501 Administration building (on South State street) during regular office hours.

Other new classes offered for the first time in the Ann Arbor extension program include Human Heredity; Myths, Stories, and Legends; The Film in America; The Gospel Behind the Gospel Narrative; Modern European and American Painting; Design Workshop; Secretarial Procedures; Family Health; Germany

Since 1870; and The Madrigal Singers.

A total of six courses in engineering are scheduled this semester, Mrs. Fisher points out, in what is an expanding program in this field, designed to meet the needs of engineers and manufacturers in the area. In addition to the three new classes, Electronic Circuits and Controls, Elementary Engineering Drawing, and Motion and Time Study are offered.

Bulletins describing these courses and giving details as to time and place of meetings are available on request. Call or write the U. of M. Extension Service, Ann Arbor Area Office, 4501 Administration building, Ann Arbor; telephone, Normandy 3-1511, Ext. 2887.

It looks like the biggest hit in BUICK history!

We've had more than a fair share of success in this business—but this beats all!

From the day we opened our doors to show the new 1954 Buicks, we've been kept hopping by people, questions and orders.

It seems that folks have been hoping for a really big change in the new cars—and Buick's got what they want, right across the board.

Buick's got it in style—in the sleek, swift, low and glamorous look of the sports cars, but with the room and comfort of Buick size and breadth.

Buick's got it in power—in high-compression V8 engines all stepped up to new horsepower highs and boosted to new economy with Power-Head Pistons.

Buick's got it in ride comfort, too, and handling ease, and visibility—and a whole new list of features as up to the minute as the very look of these great cars.

But—why don't you come see what all the excitement is about?

Then you'll discover that what's helping to make the '54 Buicks the biggest hit in our history are the prices we're quoting—prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.

AND WHEREAS, the total amount of such assessment at large against the City, duly confirmed, totals $97,050.82 payable in fifteen (15) equal annual installments, the first installment of which is required to be spread on the tax rolls of the City, and collected at the same time as the City taxes due July 1, 1954;

AND WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of the Drain Law, the unpaid portion of said assessment at large against the City bears interest at the rate of six (6%) per cent per annum from and after the date of preparation of the roll, to-wit: December 1, 1953, and other installments of said assessments are payable in advance of the due dates thereof;

AND WHEREAS, Michigan Statutes Annotated, Section 5.3138 (27.1) being an amendment to the Municipal Finance Act (Section 8, Chapter V, Act 202, Public Acts of Michigan, 1943, as amended) provides as follows:

"Sec. 8. Any county, township, city or village may be resolution of its governing body and without a vote of its electors, but subject to the prior permission of the commission, issue its full faith and credit bonds for the purpose of funding any part or all of a county or inter-county drain special assessment made against such county, township, city or village at large under the provisions of Act No. 316 of the Public Acts of 1923, as amended, being section 281.1 to 278.27, inclusive, of the Compiled Laws of 1948. Such bonds shall be serial bonds with annual maturities, the first of which shall fall due not more than 2 years from the date of issuance and the last of which shall fall due not more than 1 year after the due date of the last installment of such special assessment. No maturity shall be less than 1/2 of the amount of any subsequent maturity. Bonds may be issued in 1 or more series and may fund 1 or more drain special assessments. The principal amount of bonds which may be issued under this section shall not exceed the principal amount of the special assessments to be funded thereby. If any interest is to mature upon such bonds prior to the time of the next county, township, city or village tax collection, then the governing body of the county, township, city or village shall make provision for the payment of the same when due. Bonds issued under this section shall not be an indebtedness of the county, township, city or village within the terms of any debt limitation. No installment or installments of a special assessment shall be funded hereunder unless payable in advance of the due date thereof, and also unless an equal amount of bonds of the drainage district can be redeemed within 90 days from the delivery of the funding bonds to the purchaser thereof. The provisions of this chapter together with the general provisions of this act shall govern the issuance of bonds authorized in this section except where inapplicable or inconsistent herewith. All bonds issued under this section shall be the legal and valid obligations of the municipality issuing the same, notwithstanding any illegality in the special assessments funded thereby. The provisions of this section shall not permit the funding of any drain special assessments confirmed prior to January 1, 1946."

AND WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of the Drain Law, and after approval of the issue by the Municipal Finance Commission as required by law, the Drain Commissioner of Wayne County on December 14, 1953, sold at public sale Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor Drain bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $3,565,000.00 at a net interest cost of 3.08% per annum, the assessments against the lands in the drain district and against the municipalities at large, including the assessment against the City of Plymouth, being pledged for the payment of said bonds;

AND WHEREAS, said Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor bonds duly sold are dated as of December 1, 1953, and mature serially as follows:

$250,000.00 June 1st of each year from 1955 to 1962, inclusive;

$ 35,000.00 June 1, 1969;

and said bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the Drain Commissioner on any interest payment date on or after June 1, 1954, at par and accrued interest;

AND WHEREAS, in the judgment of the City Commission it would be to the best interest of the City to fund its assessment at large hereinbefore referred to, by the issuance and sale of its general obligation bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $97,000.00 as permitted by the above quoted statute, the balance of the principal amount of its assessment and the interest thereon to date of payment, to be provided out of current funds of the City available therefor, thereby effecting a substantial savings in interest on its assessment;

Plymouth Junior Achievement Executives Reporting Business Outlook Good as Companies Begin Work on Advance Orders

Junior Achievement's purpose is to help boys and girls gain an understanding of the American free enterprise system by practicing it, and that is exactly what it is doing for 90 Plymouth youngsters who are members of the six J. A. firms in business here.

"We didn't know all the work it took to get a company going until we got into this," one Achiever explained this week as his company started in full production of lamps. Like real-life corporations, some J. A. companies actually go bankrupt because of the lack of initiative by its members, while other companies go "great guns" when its members work hard at the job.

The J. A. Center on South Main street has no plush offices for the young executives but it has the familiar long tables around which company officials must gather regularly to map out their business strategy. In a rear room of the Center is the "plant" where the products are manufactured. Power tools include a circular saw, band saw, sander, drill press and buffer. Each company has their own cabinets in which they store their raw materials and products.

Making a survey of J. A. business conditions, The Mail found that most of the companies are now getting in mass production and their advance orders show promise of a profit at the end of the year. There is the Telenack company, makers of a three-legged stand for serving light snacks while viewing TV. President Terry West reports that 40 have been sold and they have orders for 80 more. The stands sell for $2.95.

The Double Purpose Products company headed by Brian Kidston makes what they call the "La Carretta De La Mission" bookends. Selling for $1.98 per bookend, they have 20 off the production line and sold.

A report from Jerry Swain, president of the Novelty Products company, shows that business is booming. They manufacture a Scotty dog night light which goes on and off with a switch connected to the dog's tail. Over 50 lights have been sold and another 50 have been ordered at a price of $2.95.

The Lite Products company makes a TV lamp using a glass block. President Dave Vincent reports that 30 have been sold so far at a cost of $3.59.

The Plasilite corporation is just getting started with production and has not set a price yet on their all-purpose lights. Headed by Don Wallace, Plasilite encases flowers in plastic and places this on a base containing a light.

Picto Products company manufactures picture frames. According to President Jim Zukosky, the company has sold about $35 worth so far and is just starting. The frames, made in any size, cost from $1.50 to $6.80.

J. A. companies are not formed to provide an income for the youngsters. Even if the company is making a good profit, it must go out of business next spring to complete the entire business cycle. The companies were formed last fall when the boys and girls, all juniors and seniors, were assigned to companies. There are no more than 15 in a company.

The members then elect their own officers and executives, followed by a sale of stock in their company with a limitation of five 50-cent shares to each purchaser. They must then decide upon a product they want to manufacture or a service they want to offer. After purchasing the necessary supplies or raw materials, they then go into production or render the service they have chosen.

Besides serving as an executive and a "factory worker," the members must then become salesmen and go out to secure orders. They pay wages to the members of their company and keep an accurate set of books and maintain company funds in a bank. At the end of the school year, they will pay dividends to stockholders, if possible, and prepare and distribute an annual report to the stockholders.

All leading manufacturers or businesses in the J. A. cities lend financial support to the program. Some fewer industries and business establishments are sponsoring firms, furnishing three executives, one each from management, sales and production, to serve as advisors for each J. A. group. One Detroit firm sponsors and supplies advisors for 14 J. A. companies. Burroughs sponsors two Plymouth companies. Other sponsors here are Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, Daisy Manufacturing, Evans Products, and Michigan Bell Telephone.

J. A. Program Had Beginning 35 Years Ago

It was back in 1919 that Junior Achievement was originated by Horace A. Moses, then the chairman of the Strathmore Paper company, together with the late Theodore N. Vail, former president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and the late Senator Murray A. Crane of Massachusetts.

Junior Achievement was incorporated on November 29, 1926. The first J. A. firm was founded in Springfield, Massachusetts. In 1929, additional companies were started in New York City's metropolitan area. It was not until 1942, however, that national headquarters were established in New York City and a nationwide organizational program was launched starting January 1, 1943. During 1953, 15,000 Achievers operated 1,400 J. A. firms in the United States and a branch in Helsinki, Finland.

J. A. was introduced in southeastern Michigan in 1949. By the Southeastern Michigan area is meant the J. A. program in the cities of Detroit, Dearborn, Highland Park, Monroe, Pontiac, Wayne, Wyandotte, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Birmingham and Plymouth. The latter three were started just last fall.

In time, it is hoped the program will be active throughout the six county area of southeastern Michigan including Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe counties. Any other J. A. programs in Michigan are under the supervision of the national headquarters in New York. The Southeastern Michigan corporation is an autonomous organization.

WHEREAS, loyalty to the ideal that every law abiding citizen has the right and dignity to set up and own and operate his own business; to employ or be employed without discrimination as to race, color or creed; and

WHEREAS, the appreciation of this ideal, and the understanding of the economics of business life is of vital importance to our youth who are the workers, managers, employers and voters of the future; and

WHEREAS, Junior Achievement, Inc., a non-profit organization, fosters these ideals and gives to the youth of our city an understanding of business procedures through its learn-by-doing program;

NOW THEREFORE, I Russell M. Daane, mayor of the City of Plymouth under and by virtue of the authority vested in me, do hereby designate January 31 through February 6, 1954 as Achievement Week, and do set aside that week as an occasion for recognition of the services rendered to the youth of the city by their volunteer advisors in the Junior Achievement learn-by-doing program.

Awards Given Junior Achievers

The Progress Award, which is given to all young people upon joining Junior Achievement, is but one of the many awards now available to members of the organization.

The Achiever Award, which is next in importance, is awarded to all who are full-fledged members in officially chartered companies. Representing one year of successful work in Junior Achievement is the Advanced Achievers Award and it can be obtained by those who qualify.

Next in importance is the Junior Executive Award which is given to advanced achievers who have worked for two years and have filled an executive position successfully. The highest award is the Executive Award which represents the highest achievement a member can attain in the Junior Achievement company, Achievers Association. This award also reflects on the member's personal example, leadership, and zeal in helping others understand our American enterprise system.

J. A. Started In Plymouth Last Autumn

Efforts of five Plymouth industries which have furnished trained personnel to advise Junior Achievement youngsters and the money from 13 business establishments, industries and individuals have made it possible to get the J. A. program underway in Plymouth last fall.

With a committee headed by James Mitchell of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, the preliminary work turned into a major task since contributors first had to be "sold" on the Junior Achievement program and a J. A. Center had to be secured.

A former storeroom at 204 South Main street was leased for the center. Despite rather "shaky" financial beginning, the J. A. Center was opened early in November and an ambitious and enthusiastic group of juniors and seniors made the road much easier from then on.

Lending their financial support to the program have been Dunn Steel Products, Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, Evans Products, Michigan Bell Telephone, Universal Stamping and Machine, Burroughs, Daisy Manufacturing, Plymouth Mail, Charles U. Harvey, Plymouth Plating Works, National Bank of Detroit and Century Metal Products.

Five industries furnish personnel to advise the six J. A. companies. Evans Products advisors are Dean Wilson, Harvey Cooper, Tom Abbott and Sam Hudson. Michigan Bell advisors are Miss Korke Schwass, Herbert Wyatt and Robert Walters.

Burroughs, sponsoring two companies, have Frank Hodson, Fred Larid, Billy Wilcox, John Walasky, Robert Paskey, Clarence O'Brian, Howard Marburger and Dean Scott as their advisors. Daisy advisors are Robert Wesley, Lee Gaeke and Russell Daane. Barnes-Gibson-Raymond personnel are J. A. Arden, Stanford Knapp and J. H. Diener.

Farmers' Week Set to Strengthen State Agriculture

"Strengthening Michigan Agriculture" is an apt theme for Michigan State college exhibits during 'Farmers' Week, next Monday through Friday, emphasizes Herbert R. Pettigrove, chairman of the exhibits committee.

First-hand information and demonstrations will help thousands of visitors improve their own farming operations, he explains. The football stadium concourses alone will have exhibits of 26 departments.

Visitors can see the home of yesterday—set up by the museum, with home furnishing and weaving equipment of early days. "Do it yourself," will be the subject of wood-working displays, including boat-building. Landscapers will show how flowers, shrubs and trees can help strengthen agricultural home life with beauty and relaxation.

Crops-drying equipment, ventilation fans, garden tools, seed displays, a grain and potato show and special crop exhibits will be among the farm features. There will be exhibits on corn hybrids, use of specific gravity in separating potatoes for boiling and baking, weed control and pasture improvement.

Management, use of water resources, care of shade trees and detail on the life of our gaudy Oriental import—the pheasant—all will be shown. Insecticides, eight ways to get more dollars from livestock, bulk handling of milk and ways to poultry profits will be other features.

Animal exhibits will include small animals like mink and rabbits and there will be a machine that sorts eggs by color.

Six Local Companies Celebrate J.A. Week

Sunday is the first day of National Junior Achievement Week—the unique program introduced in Plymouth last fall enabling youngsters to learn about the American way of doing business by practicing it.

More than 3,000 Junior Achievement members who operate 188 J. A. companies in the Southeastern Michigan unit will take part in the week's observance. It will be highlighted by "Junior Achievement on Parade," a display of J. A. products and activities at the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby in Detroit.

The six J. A. firms of Plymouth are preparing to submit their products for the museum display. Local Achievers will also participate as hosts and hostesses at the museum.

"Junior Achievement on Parade" will feature products from this and 52 other J. A. areas in the country in which 20,000 boys and girls operate more than 1,800 business enterprises of their own.

The display will be open to the public from Tuesday, February 2 through Sunday, February 7, according to J. C. Doyle, president of the Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan. It is being prepared by People's Outfitting company and the J. L. Hudson company.

Plymouth J. A. firms have been active since early November when boys and girls were assigned companies and met with their sponsors. Each sponsoring organization has volunteered three executives, experts in management, sales and production to advise the Achievers.

The local firms and their sponsoring organizations are:

Lite Products, sponsored by Evans Products; Double Purpose Products, sponsored by Daisy Manufacturing; Telenack company, sponsored by Michigan Bell Telephone; Plasilite corporation, sponsored by Burroughs; Novelty Products company, sponsored by National Junior Achievement Week committee is an impressive list of 14 members. They include:

Actually, however, Malcolm has been teaching at the University of Michigan hospital while working on his master's degree at the Ann Arbor school. He's to receive his master's on elementary supervision and administration at the U of M this week, also.

PLYMOUTH SYMPHONY Orchestra Conductor Wayne Dunlap pointed out to the Rotary club in an address last week that several families looking for a suburb of Detroit to live in chose Plymouth because of its symphony orchestra.

A SERIES OF LECTURES by noted author Dr. Russell Kirk will be delivered on eight successive Monday evenings beginning February 15 at the University of Detroit Library theatre. Dr. Kirk wrote "The Conservative Mind" and will talk on basic problems of the day such as leisure, justice, beauty and social boredom.

MILTON S. ROWE of 39936 Ford road will receive his master's degree in education next Tuesday evening in graduation exercises at Wayne university. Rowe is a Detroit Attendance officer.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Real success is never short-lived it is an experience that continues to live within us, and inspire those around us, always.

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

Airman Second Class Forrest H. White, husband of Mrs. Charlene W. White, Route 1, Plymouth, is now assigned to the 581st Air Resupply Squadron at Clark Air Force Base, 80 miles north of Manila.

The Plymouth airman recently arrived in the Philippines to serve his first overseas assignment with the United States Air Force.

Harry Blessing

Corporal Harry Blessing of Plymouth received the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for Meritorious service in connection with military operations against an armed enemy in Korea during the period from March 10, 1952 to February 19, 1953.

The award was presented at a command inspection on January 9, 1954 by Colonel Walter C. Heinel, Commander of Headquarters Troops, Fort Eustis, Virginia. Corporal Blessing served with the 10th Corps Artillery He spent 16 months in Korea.

Some folks have inquired recently about the efficiency of "slaves" in photography. Not the human slaves of the Uncle Tom's Cabin era, of course, but servants in the form of self-energized extension flash units, each triggered by its own "magic-eye". These slave units are available in several forms, but they are basically the same: composed of a lamp socket and reflector unit and a "B" battery power supply utilizing a phototube or photocell for a firing switch.

In operation, you load a flash bulb in the lamp socket and place the "slave" unit in any spot where the flash of light from another flashbulb is in view of the slave's eye, resulting in instant flash from the slave unit.

Obviously, this provides multiple flash for covering broad areas or side, back, or top-lighting effects without the disadvantage of stringing wires or worries over electrical connections.

However, for the average type of photography single flash is sufficient. Down here at THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER we can give you complete instructions on using FLASH BULBS... they are quite inexpensive and very effective. May we PROVE that we can IMPROVE the Quality of your Pictures?

Why not lay away a handsome new camera now... to give to your special beau or sweetheart for Valentine's Day? We have a wide selection of the finest, nationally known makes—in a range of prices to fit your budget.

Bridges at Toko-Ri." Paramount director Mark Robson brought a cast composed of William Holden, Mickey Rooney and Earl Holliman aboard the Oriskany to shoot scenes for the forthcoming movie.

Hundreds of Oriskany personnel appeared in many of the scenes throughout the movie.

Depicting the life of a carrier jet pilot during the Korean Conflict, most of the scenes for the movie were taken during actual carrier operations.

Four Motorists Appear in Court

Charges of reckless driving after a license was revoked were among the traffic violations heard by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo last week.

Louis Schomberger, 40810 East Ann Arbor trail, was fined $35 after being found guilty of reckless driving. He was charged with disregarding the traffic signal when involved in an accident at Main street and Ann Arbor trail.

A fine of $50 was given Golder Hickman, worker at St. John's Seminary. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle after revocation of his operator's license.

Two drivers also paid fines for speeding.

They have changed another old phrase and now "The hand that once rocked the cradle now guides a steering wheel."

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Michigan's petroleum industry has perked up considerably in the last few weeks, conservation department geologists note.

After a long dry spell, several new discoveries and additional finds in old fields have brightened the state's petroleum scene quite a bit.

Most recent find was in the Reed City field, where late last week the Pure Oil company deepened an old well about 1000 feet with the result that a new flow of about 65 barrels per day was started.

The significance here is that deep-well exploration is being watched carefully and this find adds considerable weight to the opinion that there is still much oil undiscovered deep in the state.

Strangely enough, the new find was made by deepening the original Reed City discovery well from 3650 to 4665 feet.

This original well was drilled in 1941 and had an initial flow of 1900 barrels per day. Since then, about 200 wells have been drilled in the Reed City pool, 155 are still producing, and to date about 40 million barrels of oil have been taken from the field.

This new find follows closely a discovery made late in December in southwestern Washtenaw county. That well has been shut in until tanks can be readied for production, but tests show it capable of producing 1000 barrels of oil per day.

Also, several other lesser finds in known petroleum areas have beefed-up the industry's enthusiasm and given a bright look to the picture for 1954.

A golden eagle with a seven-foot wingspan blundered into a trap near Mason and is being cared for at the state game farm, the conservation department reports.

The bird's leg was broken in its tangle with the trap. When well, it will be banded and released.

Biologists report the bird's talons spread out naturally to a seven one-half inch length.

Golden eagles are found in Michigan with "moderate regularity." One other was reported illegally shot last fall near Saginaw.

Seventy-three muskrats, 109 cats, 58 pheasants, 39 opossums and 12 raccoons were among the animals killed on the highway between Fair Haven and Detroit during 1953, an outdoors observer reports.

Karl S. Schnoor of Fair Haven drives the 40-mile stretch each morning during the week. Last year he counted for each month the number of animals trying to get to the other side. The year's total was 466 domestic and wild animals.

Thirty dogs, 30 rabbits, one chicken and one domestic duck also didn't quite make the grade. The most disastrous month for creatures on that strip of highway was August, when 62 fell before the onslaught of the mechanical age.

Schnoor notes, too, that he undoubtedly missed many animals that died in the brush as a result of road injuries, or were thrown off the highway after colliding with cars.

Another note indicates that nature provides a pretty effective disposal system for this loss; while hundreds of frogs, small birds, snakes and other forms of life would be killed during a month, nearly all these carcasses would be quickly removed by hawks, owls, crows, cats and other predators.

Dave Balbough, manager of Brimley state park near here, thought he was softening up or possibly just getting old when he found his fingers stinging after working for an hour in the cold winter air without gloves.

His pickup truck refused to start one morning last week and it took considerable coaxing to get it running.

But under the circumstances, stinging fingers and a reluctant truck seemed natural enough to Balbough after he looked at the thermometer — that morning it showed a temperature of 22 below zero.

"Real old Brimley winter weather," Balbough noted on his weekly report.

The managers in general report winter activity in their parks as spotty, with ice fishermen and skiers waiting for colder weather and more snow.

Dairy Farmers Should Work with Conservationists

Dairy farmers should work hand-in-hand with the soil conservation interest, according to Earl Weaver, head of the Michigan State college dairy department.

He explains that the man who does a good job of dairy farming uses many practices that contribute to soil conservation.

Weaver notes that the growing of soil-building roughages is recommended in many districts of Michigan. More roughages require more cattle, especially dairy cattle, and an increase in milk production. But the milk market is already literally overflowing, so this puts the pressure on from another direction.

The dairyman can not refuse to produce economical milk, but neither can he produce it and have no market. New outlets and greater promotional effort for greater use of milk will help, explains Weaver.
