

Hospital Pledges Reach $258,761

Contributions to the St. Mary hospital campaign have gone over the quarter million dollar mark, James Gallimore, associate general chairman, announced yesterday. The total of $258,761 from all phases of the campaign was made public Tuesday night at a meeting in Livonia.

This amount was brought in specifically from the professional contributions, memorial gifts, commerce and industry and community appeal committees.

The community appeal mark currently stands at $94,000, with the expectation of rising to $100,000 when latest Plymouth returns are tabulated. At present Plymouth citizens have given to the community appeal phase now underway to the tune of $27,000, according to Mrs. Austin Stecker, local chairman. The house-to-house canvass began here on January 11.

Mrs. Stecker pointed to the great cooperation of the workers and those who contributed as an indication of the public consciousness of the need for the hospital.

With the $258,761 already pledged, Gallimore said that all indications are favorable for more and better returns, and that this evidence of public awareness will make an impression on major industrial contributors.

Toledo Firm Wins Drain Bond Bidding

City commissioners wrote $27,446 into the "savings" column last Monday night when they opened bids for $97,000 worth of Middle Rouge interceptor drain funding bonds and gave the sale to Stranahan, Harris & Company of Toledo.

Eight companies submitted bids for the bonds, all of the concerns bidding with interest rates below the three per cent which city fathers expected. Interest cost on the $97,000 will be $17,237. This is an interest rate of 2.1693 per cent.

Had the city not sold its own bonds for the drain assessment, it would have paid an interest rate of six per cent to the county drain commission. This would have amounted to $44,683 just for interest.

Commissioners found that if they could issue their own bonds the interest rate would be cut in half. An advertisement for bids appeared two weeks ago and the opening of bids took place Monday. The next step will be to deliver the bonds to the county treasurer before March 1, deadline for guaranteeing payment.

Here is a breakdown of the other bidders and their total interest cost:

First of Michigan corporation, Detroit, $17,619 interest; Siler & Company, Detroit, $17,849 interest; McDonald-More & Company, Detroit, $17,864; Kenower, MacArthur & Company, Detroit, $18,355 interest; Hornblower & Weeks, Detroit, $18,507 interest; Shannon & Company, Detroit, $18,995 interest; Ryan, Sutherland & Company, Toledo, $19,577.

Members of the MOMS of America will sponsor a card party at the Memorial home on Tuesday, February 23 at 8 p.m. Money realized from this project will be used for hospital work.

Escapee Halted In Stolen Car With Bullets

Sounds of gunfire echoed down deserted Main street and Penniman avenue early last Friday morning when a Detroit House of Correction escaped convict found his freedom short-lived because of the alertness of two Plymouth patrolmen.

Robert H. Noel, 32-year-old second offender, faces a possible life sentence when he appears in circuit court on a new charge of auto larceny. Walking away from DeHoCo where he was serving a term for car theft, Noel went to the home of Max Todd, 287 Irvin, where he stole a car which a few minutes later was pierced by four bullets and partly smashed in a reckless drive into the countryside.

Sergeant Loren Johnson and Patrolman Calvin Brown were investigating reports of prowlers in the northwest section of the city at 2:25 a.m. when they saw a Buick driving up one street and down another. Thinking the driver was possibly lost and perhaps suspicious, the patrol car followed. It was only a minute earlier that Noel had gone into the Todd garage where he found the Buick with keys inside. It belonged to Todd's mother-in-law, Mrs. Florence Minnich of Port Austin, who was in Plymouth for a visit.

The escapee first pushed a smaller car from the driveway into the yard to get the Buick from the garage. Hearing a car motor start, Todd saw his mother-in-law's car leave the driveway and immediately called police. The police desk sent out a call to the patrol car and found that they were already following the stolen auto.

Noel, apparently seeing the patrol car, speeded up and drove down Farmer to Starkweather, down Starkweather and Main street. Failing to stop the stolen (Continued on page 6)

Lutherans OK New Church Bond

HERE IS AN ARTIST'S sketch of the newly approved St. Peter's Lutheran church to be built at the corner of Penniman avenue and Garfield. A $200,000 bond issue was approved by the Voters' Assembly of the Church Tuesday evening. According to the Reverend Edgar H. Hoenecke construction of the 750-person capacity church will begin around June 1 of this year.

Schedule Construction To Begin Next June

The climax of twenty years of planning was reached Tuesday evening by members of the Voters' Assembly of St. Peter's Lutheran church as they unanimously voted to float a $200,000 bond for the erection of a new church. In making the announcement the Reverend Edgar Hoenecke stated that a campaign drive for funds to supplement the bond issue will be necessary to erect the edifice.

The new building will be constructed at Penniman avenue and Garfield, adjacent to the Lutheran school. It will seat 750 persons, Reverend Hoenecke said, and thus will be one of the larger churches of the area. There will also be facilities in the new church for a dining room, ladies' lounge, stage and Sunday school rooms.

City Fire Loss Hits New Low

Fire losses in the Plymouth-Plymouth township areas last year were among the lowest ever recorded according to year-end reports filed by the chiefs of the two departments with the Michigan State Police fire marshal division.

While losses in Plymouth in 1952 soared to $70,223, firemen kept losses last year down to $7,867. In Plymouth township the 1953 fire losses were $9,465. The township department's 64 fire runs last year were considerably more than the city's 39. Township Chief Bud Holmes reports that his department extinguished 19 grass fires alone during the year. Thirteen other fires were confined to automobiles, 14 to dwelling places, (Continued on Page 6)

Public X-rays Lag As Program Nears End Here

Tomorrow will be the last chance for citizens to get their "picture of health" during the 1954 visit of the Chestmobile to the city, it was announced today as officials noted that the free x-ray program was lagging during its first week for the public.

The Chestmobile was open this morning at Bob's Standard Service station for merchants and their employees. It is again opened from 1 to 4 p.m. for the public. Tomorrow it will be at the same location from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Compared to the high school where 900 chest x-rays were taken in two days and industry with a total of 5,850 chest x-rays taken in 14 days, participation in the community needs to be stepped up, according to Sam Hudson, general chairman, and other leaders of the campaign. Mrs. Mowry Arnold, chairman of registration for the drive, reported that response among the public has been lagging behind.

Mrs. Arnold, whose workers are staffing the mobile chest x-ray bus for registration, indicated that only 850 people stepped before the x-ray camera last week. This is less than half of the number which could be accommodated in this period of time.

Eliminates 2-Hour Meters on Penniman

No more two-hour parking meters will be found on Penniman avenue between Main and Harvey streets, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee announced today. The change-over to one-hour meters took place yesterday.

The 39 meters were changed in order to speed up the turnover of parkers, the chief said. Businessmen along the block noted that two-hour parkers monopolized parking spaces too long to allow other customers a chance at on-street parking.

Reworked Oil Drilling Dry; Land Leasing Nears City

A reworked oil drilling on the Glen Angell farm, located west of Northville on Seven Mile road was reported as "bottomed out dry" when the rig set up by wildcatter W. C. Taggart moved off the premises this week to a new drilling site.

Drilling to 4,521 feet, the hole on the Angell farm failed to show any signs of oil, a spokesman for the company told The Mail this week. The hole was first drilled in 1946 by the Union Drilling and Producing company.

Wasting no time, the rotary drilling rig was torn down this week and moved to land owned

Hold Services for Dr. J. H. Todd

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, February 9, for Dr. J. Harold Todd, who passed away suddenly Saturday, February 6, in his home at 42425 Clemons drive.

Dr. Todd was born in Monticello, Illinois on May 20, 1897. He was a dentist in Northville for 10 years, and continued his practice in Plymouth for the past 18 years.

He was a member of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion in Northville, the Northville Masonic lodge, the Wash-tenaw Dental association and the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth.

Dr. Todd is survived by his wife, Katharine; three sons, Harold of Seattle, Washington, Robert of Neunan, Georgia and Charles of Chicago, Illinois; a grandson, Hal, of Seattle; five sisters and one brother.

The funeral services were held at 2 p.m. from the First Presbyterian church, with the Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D. officiating. Organist Mrs. Edna O'Conner accompanied Nat Sibbold, who sang. The funeral was under the direction of the Sonderegger Funeral home.

Pallbearers were members of the Northville American Legion post. Interment was in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville.

Boyers Closes Store

After 28 years in Plymouth, doors closed this week to Boyer's Home & Auto store, 276 South Main street. But officials of the 17-store chain state that they plan to reopen the store when- ever a suitable location is found.

Formerly known as Boyer's Haunted Shack, the store was closed because it was not large enough to handle enough stock, a company spokesman said. "We prefer to have a much larger operation, although the store has been doing very well considering its size," the officials said.

Local Employment Sees Roll-Back

Plymouth, although it has reached no peak in unemployment as seen elsewhere in the state, has seen a slight cut-back in the employment rolls, according to William Langmaid of the Michigan Employment Security commission. Local industries in general are not employing new help, and some factories are laying off from six to 30 men per week.

The situation has been building up since the beginning of the year, he said, although there has been no great change in industry within the last 30 days. The outlook shows, however, he said, that there is a definite trend toward unemployment at present.

Retail business in Plymouth is holding its own, he pointed out, with little hiring or firing going on. Some of the cut-back in employment may be seasonal. Langmaid explained, but the reduction of war production may be pointed to as the main reason.

"It's anyone's prediction as to where the trend will lead," he added. But at present the commission has a large number of unemployed for whom they cannot find jobs.

Woman Seriously Hurt In Mill Street Collision

A Newburg woman is in "serious" condition in University hospital recovering from injuries she received in a two-car collision on South Mill street last Friday night.

She is Mrs. Clare Chillson, 56, of 9328 Newburg road, passenger in a car driven by her husband who escaped unhurt. Returning home after visiting relatives, Mr. Chillson was making a left turn into a driveway when an oncoming southbound car driven by Edward F. Smith, 23, of 325 Roe street, crashed into the right side of the Chillson vehicle.

An ambulance rushed the Chillsons and Smith to University hospital where Mrs. Chillson is reported suffering with injuries to the right lung and kidney, pelvis and ribs. Exact seriousness of the injuries has not yet been diagnosed. Smith received facial lacerations.

Police report that the Chillson relatives were the only witnesses. They claim that the Smith car was traveling south on Mill street at 65 miles per hour with no headlights. The Chillson car was pushed sideways for 117 feet, the police report said. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Five Hundred Guests Pay Tribute to Edna M. Allen At Dedication of Allen Elementary School Building

AN APPLE FOR THE TEACHER was just another detail in the dedication of Edna M. Allen elementary school last Sunday afternoon. Miss Allen received a whole basket of apples, in fact. From left are Donald Rank, school principal; Mrs. Mildred Bennett Burr, representative from Miss Allen's first Plymouth class; Mrs. Allen; James Gallimore, president of school board; Roger Kidston, representative of Miss Allen's last Plymouth class; and Superintendent Russell Isbister. In foreground is photograph of Miss Allen presented to the school by the Teacher's club. Roses on desk were from each of the retired teacher's 32 classes.

"Devoted Educator and Friend of the Youth."

These words, inscribed under the name of Edna M. Allen on a plaque placed inside the entrance of the elementary school which bears her name, were repeated manifold as dozens of her friends and former students paid tribute to the retired Plymouth school teacher at the building's dedication Sunday afternoon.

Nearly 500 people crowded the school auditorium to see Miss Allen once again sit behind a teacher's desk. This time it was on the auditorium stage where a representative from each of the classes from 1918 to 1950 placed a red rose in a vase on the desk and greeted their former teacher in behalf of their classmates.

The program used the theme of "This is Your Life" with former students being called to the stage by the master of ceremonies, James Gallimore, president of the board of education. The program opened with an invocation by Dr. Henry Walch, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Following the singing of the National Anthem greetings to the audience were extended by Superintendent Russell Isbister and Donald Rank, principal of the new school. Board of education members were also introduced.

As Miss Allen "called the class to order" by ringing a bell on her desk, Mr. Gallimore started to review the life of the woman who has taught in Michigan schools for 42 years, 32 of the years in the Plymouth system.

Miss Allen was born in Ithaca, Michigan, one of seven children. Her mother, now 92 years, old, was unable to attend the dedication ceremony but made a tour of the school Monday before returning to her home in Birmingham.

The Livonia men are Charles T. Dernberger, Patrick W. Killen, James L. Metcalfe and Thomas W. Meredith.

Lyle Sweeney Claims Canadian Girl as Bride

On Saturday, January 16, in a nine o'clock nuptial Mass at Our Lady of Good Counsel church Miss Georgette Pelletier became the bride of Lyle Sweeney. Georgette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pelletier of Quebec, Canada, and Lyle is the son of Mrs. Stanton Klink of 678 Adams street, Plymouth.

The Reverend Father Francis Byrne read the Mass before the altar graced with bouquets of white and yellow mums.

Georgette, who was given in marriage by her brother, Guy, wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon net and Chantilly lace over white satin. Her crown of seed pearls held a veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

The bride chose Mariette Maheux as her maid of honor, and Celine Cardinal and her sister, Mrs. Lucien Daigle, as bridesmaids. Miss Maheux's ballerina-length gown was of pale blue taffeta and nylon net with a headpiece of nylon net fashioned in tiny flowers. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

John Daoust served Lyle as best man. Lionel Gaudreau and Lowell Sweeney, brother of the bridegroom, ushered the guests to their seats.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Klink chose a navy blue wool knit suit with winter white accessories. She complimented her costume with a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 32 guests at Arbor-Lill.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Sweeney selected a purple suit with matching accessories. After their motor trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney will make their home at 15475 Auburndale, Livonia.

Former Classmates And Pupils Attend School Dedication

Former pupils from her previous teaching positions and hometown classmates were among the guests who paid tribute to Miss Edna M. Allen last Sunday. Dedication of the school named in her honor was attended by nearly 500 people altogether.

There were former students attending from Cheboygan. They were Mrs. Sophia Elliot Fultz, Mrs. Vivian Todd Stone, Mrs. Hazel Martin Madison and Mrs. Ruth Lawson MacKinnon.

Three of Miss Allen's former pupils at Bad Axe who attended the dedication were Miss Thelma Allen, Mrs. Ethel Leavesley and Mrs. Tressa True Smiley.

Mrs. Orah Ashley Lamke and Mrs. Luella Seaver Stahl were two of Miss Allen's classmates from Ithaca attending the program. Also attending were several former Ithaca schoolmates. They were Miss Meryle Seaver, Miss Elizabeth Seaver and Miss Alice Carpenter.

Carnival Success At Starkweather

Hundreds of tiny tots enjoyed the time of their young lives at the Starkweather carnival last Saturday evening at the Starkweather grade school. General Chairman George Caldwell states that this year's carnival of fun was most successful in every way.

The exact net profit has not been determined as yet, but it is certain that many needed dollars will be added to the treasury of the PTA to further the aim to provide beneficial things for the students.

Mr. Caldwell says his committee wishes to express its appreciation to all those who contributed to this worthy project. The teachers were most cooperative in helping make this the success that it was, as were the parents and business people who contributed the prizes, and who helped take care of the huge throng the night of the carnival.

Plans will be underway in the near future to make next year's event even more successful.

Dr. Rice to Show Pictures Of State's Scenic Spots

Dr. Edwin Rice will show his pictures of "Scenic Spots in Michigan" at the next regular meeting of the Plymouth Historical society today, February 11, at 7:45 p.m. in the Veterans' Memorial building.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served. Hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer.

Riverside Park Church Observes Youth Week

Members of the Riverside Park Church of God have concluded their services emphasizing Youth Week. Various programs and special meetings were held throughout the week.

On Sunday, January 31, a group of young people from Anderson college in Anderson, Indiana was in charge of special songs and also conducted the morning service. In the evening, the local pastor, the Reverend E. B. Jones spoke on an appropriate topic for youth.

Wednesday evening, February 3 the young people of the church led the prayer meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Freyman of Ann Arbor road entertained the young people in their home on Saturday evening, February 6, with games and refreshments.

The concluding services were held last Sunday at which time another Gospel Youth Team was in charge of the morning service. Paul Rider was the speaker and in the evening Rodger Spencer conducted the Youth Service at 6:30. The evening service was in the form of testimonials from each member of the party.

The evening service consisted of selections from the pianist, quartet, duets and soloists. Eddie Jones was the speaker. Others participating in the service were Mrs. Paul Rider, Mrs. Eddie Jones, Don Towney, LeMore Lewis, Edna Bentley, Dale Williams and Mr. Swedenburg.

The basement of the parsonage was the setting for the Sunday dinner.

Hokenson Wins Bronze Star

A bronze star medal was awarded recently to Lieutenant Frank E. Hokenson, Jr., who is stationed in Korea. He was cited for meritorious service in Korea during the period of August 7 to November 15, 1953. Lieutenant Hokenson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hokenson of 32700 West Chicago, Livonia.

Specifically the award was made for superior service rendered by the mobile laundry unit which he commands. Lieutenant Hokenson continually sought more efficient methods for his laundry-dry cleaning unit. He is with the Quarter Master Corps.

Lieutenant Hokenson has been stationed in Korea for 11 months. He has been in the Army since July, 1952, and was recently promoted to First Lieutenant. A graduate of Michigan State college, Lieutenant Hokenson also was graduated from Plymouth high school.

Give Holladays Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holladay of 9445 Brookline street were given a surprise party at their home in honor of their 22nd wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, February 6.

Among the guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin, Mr. and Mrs. David Francis and son, Severn, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wasalaski, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Tungate, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hoelt and Mrs. Wilson all neighbors of the Holladays, and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Highland Park.

A potluck dinner was enjoyed by all.

Local Churches To Cooperate In World Prayer

Nine local churches will cooperate again this year for the annual World Day of Prayer services on Friday evening, March 5. The Salvation Army Citadel will be the scene of the services which will begin at 8 p.m.

Prayers at the service are conducted by persons from the various cooperating churches. The Women's councils are sponsors of the event.

Churches who will participate in the World Day of Prayer are the Church of the Nazarene, the Church of God, the Plymouth Assembly of God, the First Presbyterian church, the First Methodist church, the First Baptist church, St. John's Episcopal church, Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and the Salvation Army.

Main speaker for the event will be announced later.

Plymouth Cancer Unit Elects Officers for '54

The January meeting of the Plymouth Unit of the Southeastern Division of the American Cancer Society saw the election of officers for 1954. Heading the group as president is Norman Marquis, with Mrs. Austin Stecker, vice president, and Mrs. Harry Bartel, secretary-treasurer.

Making up the various committee chairmen and board of directors are: Mrs. Gus Lundquist, cancer dressings; Mrs. Ed Walton, dressing custodian; Mrs. Fred Korte, Jr., membership; Dr. W. W. Hammond, Jr., professional education; Dr. R. R. Barber, medical chairman; George Mayhew, transportation; Miss Neva Lovewell, public education; Walter Goodwin, constitution and by-laws; Mrs. William Norman, public relations; Dr. A. E. VanOrnum, Mrs. Margaret Hough, Mrs. Walter Nichol and Lamont BeGole.

The by-laws of the unit were also discussed at the meeting and were temporarily adopted.

A drive for white goods is now in effect. Old sheets, shirting, or any old white material is badly needed for the making of cancer dressings. The need for the cancer dressings in Plymouth is great. Any group or individual wishing to assist in this white goods drive may do so by phoning 1553-W. Pick-up is guaranteed. Mrs. William Norman is heading the drive and she would like to ask all homemakers to save their grocery shopping bags as well as dry cleaner bags. All the before-mentioned are vitally important in the making and wrapping of the needed cancer dressings.

Miss Neva Lovewell, public education chairman of the unit, has cancer films and pamphlets available for distribution at no cost. Contact her by phoning 1186 after 5 p.m. for further details.

Last Thursday evening there were 15 ladies that went to Ann Arbor Veterans hospital and entertained about 50 veterans with card playing. Refreshments were served such as homemade cake, coffee and apples. The ladies expect to entertain these veterans again in about two months.

MOMS NEWS

Sunday, Mrs. Bloomhuff, Plymouth Unit president, spent about five hours working in the nursery at this hospital. All the MOMS will be asked to work at something in this nursery as it is a permanent project of the MOMS to equip and take care of it.

Tuesday, February 23, at 8 p.m. there will be a card party at the Memorial home to earn money for hospital work. The public is invited.

Judy Ann Brown Celebrates Birthday

Miss Judy Ann Brown, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Brown of 609 Adams street celebrated her second birthday on Friday, February 5 in her home.

Miss Kathy Butler was the recipient of a prize award in the playing of games. Dainty refreshments were served and Judy received many gifts.

Among the tiny guests present were: Gail Honey, Janice Williams, Betty Loesch, Vicki Amaro and Kathy Butler.

The list continues with Alice Perry, Joan Butler, Patrick Butler Jr., Charles Perry and Dennis Hellmer.

Members of the Rebecca unit of the W. S. C. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Willard Lickfeldt on Wilcox road on Monday, February 15 at 8 p.m.

Neal Akerlind of Haggerty highway returned recently from Manistee where he was best man for his cousin, Donald Propallas.

The South Salem Farm Bureau will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brummel of Six Mile road on Thursday evening, February 18.

The Business and Professional Women's club will meet Monday evening, February 15 at the Mayflower hotel. The meeting will celebrate the club's annual birthday party. There will also be an initiation of 11 new members. The speaker for the evening will be Leo Flowers, who is the assistant director of the Plymouth township civil defense unit. He has selected for his topic, "Civil Defense."

Adult Education Course to Explain Mother Training

The adult education course in Motherhood Training scheduled to begin this week has been postponed until March 3. Beginning on that date the classes will be held every other Wednesday for eight weeks.

Enrollment in the course to be taught by Mrs. Lance Wright has been small thus far, since only three have registered, one of whom is a husband. Mrs. Wright pointed out that the course is also a valuable one for prospective fathers since they can be a great help to the expectant mother.

The course will cover Dr. Reed's program of natural childbirth. "There has been much misconception about this program," Mrs. Wright said, for it is actually a physical training for childbirth. Contrary to the conception that it means delivery without anesthetic, the mother has a choice of what she wants.

If the husband also takes the course, Mrs. Wright said, he can help his wife with her exercises, and can be calm and understanding when the child is about to be born.

Mrs. Wright will be assisted by her husband, Dr. Lance Wright, in this new course. She stressed that the course is open to any interested women and not just to expectant mothers.

Enrollment may be made by calling the adult education office at 895 or Mrs. Wright at 2083.

C. A. R. to Hold Amateur Show

Members of the Plymouth Corners Society of the Children of the American Revolution will sponsor their second annual amateur show, which will be held in the Plymouth high school auditorium on Saturday evening, February 20 at 8 p.m.

All those who attended last year were delighted with the excellent talent from Plymouth, Northville and Livonia. Sande Cutler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rusling Cutler is general chairman of the affair.

Plymouthites who will compete in the contest the Brenda Foreman, vocal solo, and Mary Jane West, coronet solo. These two will vie for honors in the junior high division. Those who will enter the senior high division are Vern Diedrick, tenor saxophone solo; Jim Zukosky, piano solo and Bob Markley, accordion solo.

Judging the contest will be Mrs. William Bohl, Nat Sibbold, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Louise Cigile. Cash awards will be given to victors in both the junior and senior high divisions.

Grange Gleanings

A fine crowd was present at the Grange supper meeting on February 4. We were pleased to have with us Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith as our guests from Pontiac, late residents of Sault St. Marie.

The next meeting will be on February 18 and we sincerely hope that some of the members will be there who so seldom put in an appearance.

The card party on Saturday night February 6 was a success and every pleasant affair. Every one had a good time and that is what parties are for.

There will be another card party on March 13 at the hall with the Fillmores and the Hartoms as the entertaining committee.

And don't forget the dance on February 20. Everyone had such a good time at the last dance they will surely come again and bring their friends. These dances are not open public dances but are for members of the Granges and their friends whom they invite, not necessarily Grange members.

They are nice dances and members who do not come are missing a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Swegles are enjoying a visit from their son Rex from California who has not been home for several years. He came by plane.

A district meeting will be held at Pittsfield hall on Friday, February 12 at 8 p.m. State officers Brake and Edy will be there. There will be some discussion relative to Blue Cross. Slides on Grange work will be shown. A meeting of instruction and interest to all Grangers and all who can should attend.

Plans are being made to have the fifth degree work put on at the April meeting of Pomona at Pittsfield hall. All fourth degree members are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to see this degree work by joining Pomona. It is a very lovely ceremony.

The Lily Club Monday night was poorly attended. The only way to keep any club, organization or society alive is by attendance at the meetings.

Isabel Taylor is enjoying a month's vacation in Florida.

Canton Boy Scouts To Hold Open House

Members of the Canton Township Boy Scouts of America Troop 298 will hold an open house on Saturday, February 13 at the Canton Township hall on the corner of Canton Center and Cheryhill roads.

The troop achievements and the camping equipment will be on display. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

There are 15 members in the troop and Fletcher Campbell Jr. is the Scoutmaster.

Aboard the Good Ship MAYFLOWER

Permanent guest Mary Murray and several of her friends have a birthday dinner for each other whenever one of them is entitled to the honor. Catering Manager Don Cornell always supervises the arrangements personally. Last Saturday when the candied birthday cake was served he inquired who had the birthday this time, and was astounded when told that the honors were all his. For once our favorite host had the tables turned on him and became the guest.

Those ten or twelve fine looking gentlemen who had dinner with local banker Harry Larsen in The Mayflower Room Monday evening were probably all named Gianini. At least the conversation was in jargon peculiar to bankers alone.

Best quote of the week was heard in the lobby and was attributed to Artemus Ward. "Some folks KNOW a lot of things that ain't so."

A young fellow whom we have watched grow up was in to have coffee with us in The Pilgrim Room the other day. He has been for sometime now the top man in Southern Dairy's sales department. Recently he has been promoted to Southern's parent company, National Dairies, and his duties brought him on a tour of the mid-west, thus accounting for his brief stop-over in Plymouth. We were proud to welcome him back to his home-town, even for such a short visit. His name... Odene I. Hitt.

Dr. A. C. Williams was showing some pictures taken back in 1921 when he was the proud owner of a model T. The Jalopy is now antiquated and everything in the picture has changed except that wonderful smile.

The City Fathers may not be aware of it, but they've helped reduce heart attacks by a considerable number. That new tractor with the snow brush attachment cleaned all the walks downtown in record time after the last storm and then took off for other main streets before onlookers could count ten. We who are a bit on the ancient side appreciate this respite from snow shoveling... cause it isn't half so strenuous on our hearts to stand idly by instead of shoveling-soft-snow-slowly.

Before the dedication of the new Edna Allen Elementary School Sunday, Miss Allen was entertained at dinner in The Mayflower Room. It was an exciting and eventful day, both at The Mayflower and at the school ceremonies, but the calmest individual throughout was "Our Miss Allen." The serenity, dignity and poise that are inherent from a life-time of teaching didn't fail her on this, her day. Although Sunday was set aside as the day to honor this lovely teacher we wonder if instead, this community isn't more honored than she because of her constant presence among us.

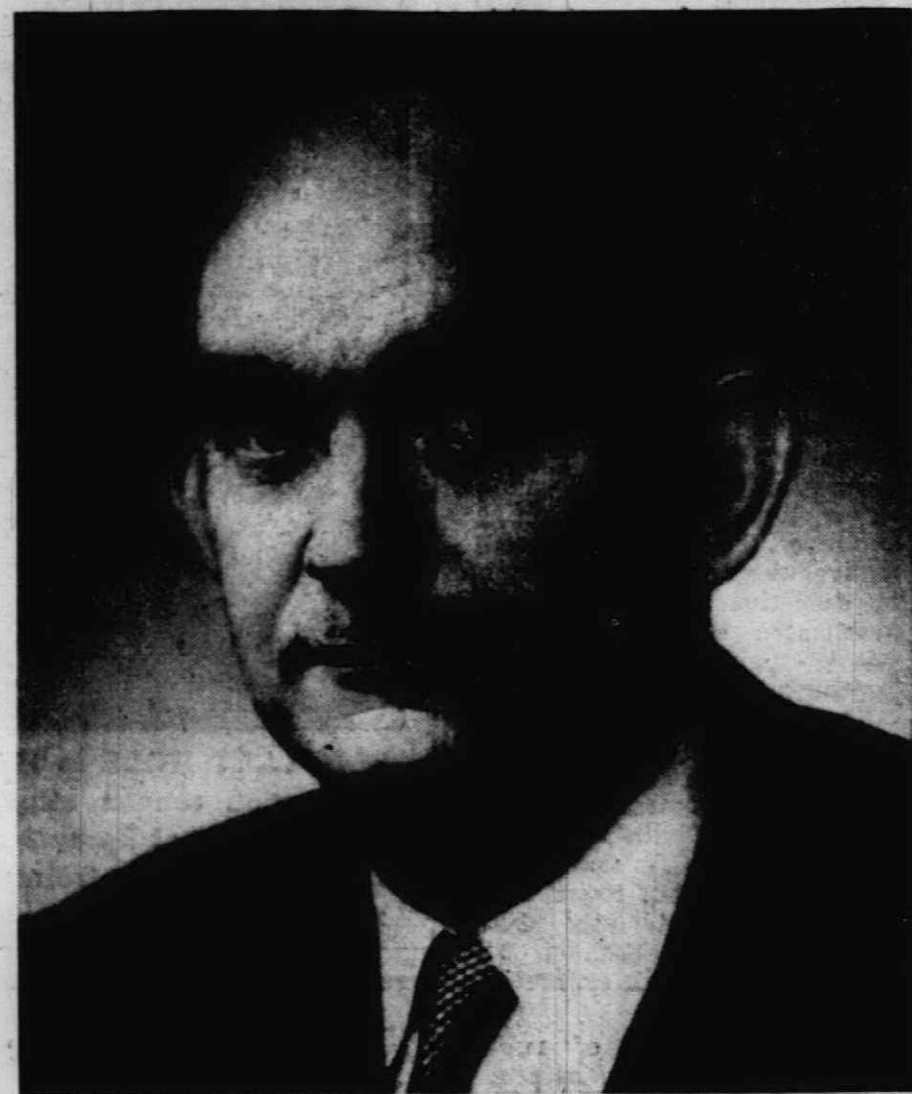

Character Research Group to Hear Talk by Psychologist Dr. Ernest Ligon

The Character Research group welcomes Dr. Ernest Ligon back to Plymouth on February 16. Afternoon meetings have been scheduled for him with members of the group teaching staff and parent's organization as well as with the junior high and senior high youth groups. These will be followed by a general evening meeting which will take place at the Veterans' Memorial building on North Main street at 7:45 p.m.

Dr. Ligon is director of the Character Research Project of the Department of Psychology, Union College, Schenectady, New York. This project is the outgrowth of a study made by Dr. Ligon to determine whether the Christian philosophy of life as expressed in the Sermon on the Mount could actually be taught by using the psychological laws governing the growth and development of character.

In 1933 Dr. Ligon presented his theories in a series of lectures at the Westminster Presbyterian church in Albany, New York. The minister, Dr. Kenneth Welles, and the parents in his church thought that psychologist Ligon's suggestions for teaching Christian ideals were so practical that they offered to try his method in their church school. From this simple beginning has developed the religious educational materials which are now used in churches of various denominations across the country as well as several YMCA's a number of non-sectarian parent groups and a private school.

In Detroit this curriculum is

used in Central Methodist church, Central Woodward Christian church and Greenfield Methodist church. In Plymouth the lessons are taught on week days so that families can go to the church of their choice on Sundays.

The evening meeting is open to anyone who is interested in religious education. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Bruce Richard, 249-J.

Vegetable Grades To Be Discussed

A discussion of "Grades and Grading" will be given at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service building on Tuesday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Since people will willingly pay higher prices for quality, the packer must know grades when preparing his produce. J. W. Rose of Michigan State college and Hunter Herring and M. D. Murphy, of the Federal-State Shipping Point Inspection Service, will be at the meeting to help vegetable growers with these problems.

The Extension Service building is at 3930 Newberry street in Wayne.

Civic Chorus Issues Call for Members

Rehearsals for the presentation of the Brahms "Requiem" continue every Monday evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in room 3 of the junior high school in Plymouth. The performance will be given on April 25 at 8:30 p.m. with Wayne Dunlap conducting the Plymouth Civic Chorus and the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

The "Requiem" by Brahms is very beautiful and an inspiration to sing, choral director Fred Nelson pointed out. More singers, however, are still needed. This is an invitation to all singers in this area to join the Plymouth Civic Chorus and help make this concert in the current symphonic series an outstanding event.

You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but the rest of the time they make fools of themselves.

I know a fellow who is such a good salesman that when he dies he will try to sell St. Peter a card-index system.

One of the best ways in the world to be sure that you will be mourned when you're gone is to die owing a lot of bills.

Name Plymouth Men to Scout Executive Board

Several Plymouth men were among those chosen to serve on the Sunset District Detroit Area Council Boy Scouts of America executive committee and as members at large.

Kenneth L. Hulsing, chairman of the leadership training committee, and Sidney D. Strong, ex-officio member as special field commissioner, will serve on the executive committee. Members at large from the Plymouth area are Dr. Henry J. Walch and James Huddleston. The interest in Scouting has been stimulated by the addition of these men to the already active neighborhood commissioners Harold Shirey, Jack Hathaway and Sidney D. Strong.

Nicholas D. Puscas, Garden City, was elected Chairman of the Sunset District. Serving with him will be Vice Chairman Miles Dietrich of Wayne and C. Robert Carlson, Jr. of Livonia.

Veteran Scouters Ralph MacMullin of Garden City, Chester E. Smith of Wayne and Ted F. Kuckelman of Belleville were elected as representatives to the Detroit Area Council.

Boy Scout Week, currently being observed, is dedicated to the volunteer leaders (Scout Masters, Den Mothers, Cub Masters, Explorer Advisers and Committeemen), who freely devote much of their time and money to the guidance of young boys and young men in their community. This is your opportunity to give them a pat on the back, or at least a smile and a kind word as an acknowledgment of your appreciation for their dedicated work.

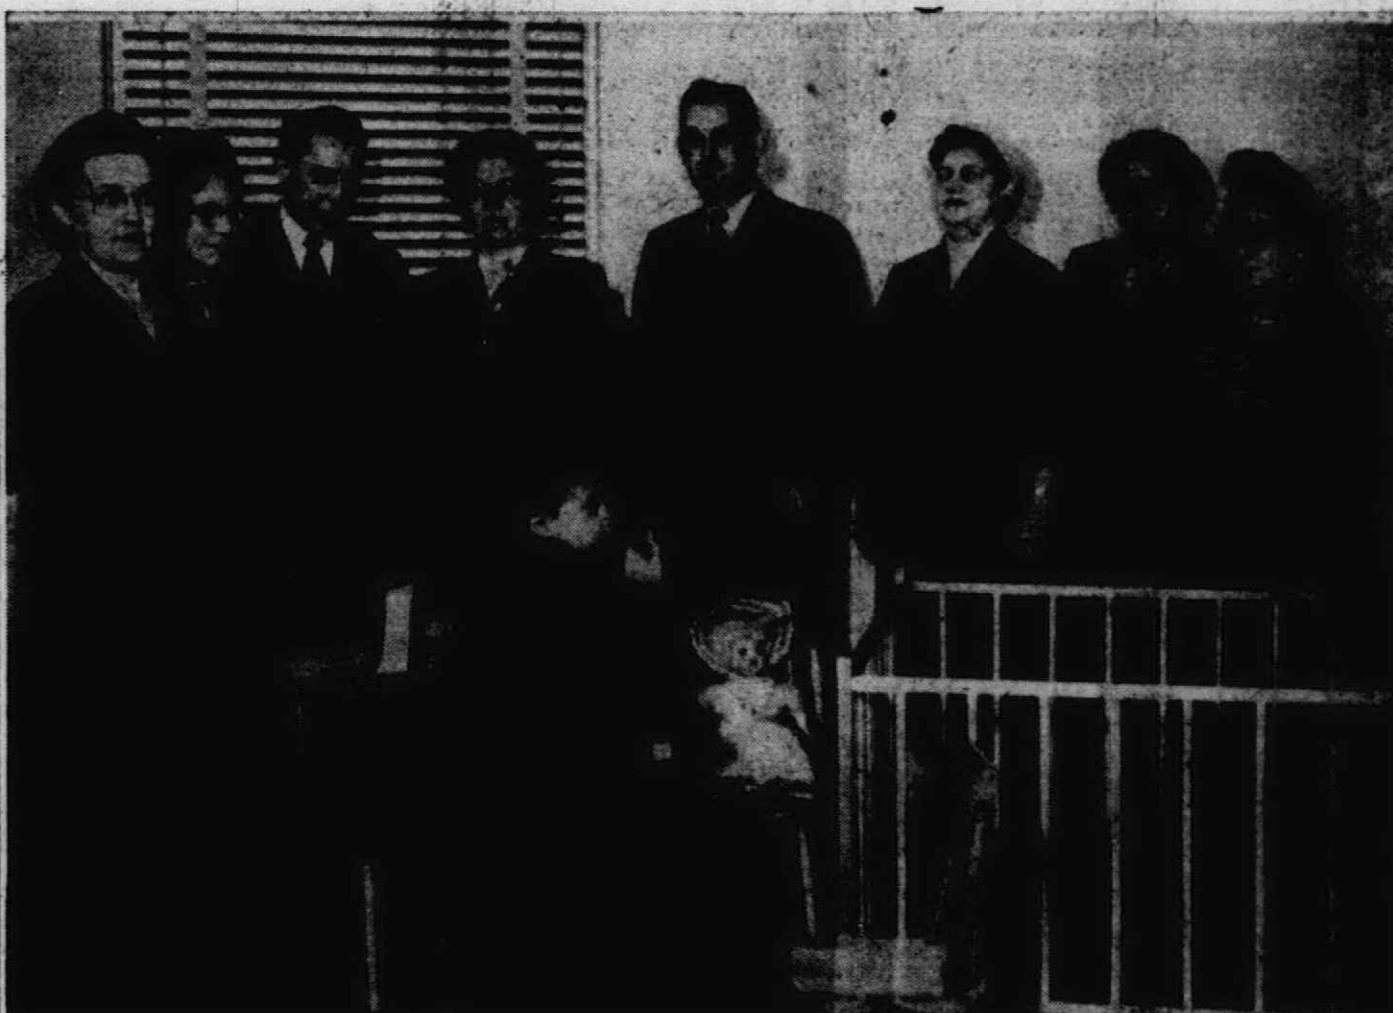

Fathers-Sons Of Kiwanis Club Hear Red Jones

A capacity crowd of fathers and sons of the Plymouth Kiwanis club listened to stories of big league baseball as recalled by Red Jones, American league umpire for 20 years. The occasion was the annual Kiwanis Father-Son dinner Tuesday evening at The Mayflower.

A highly interesting and jovial speaker, Jones revealed that for 20 years (while umpiring) he was "without a friend." Suddenly after shedding his blue uniform and taking a job with the public relations staff of the Pfeiffer Brewery he became very popular, he stated. "Looking back I can see the humor of many situations on the diamond that only served to give me an ulcer at the time," said Jones. He called Ty Cobb the greatest ballplayer of all time saying that the present day crop is not as "tough" as the old time players. Asked by one of the Kiwanians if an umpire ever admitted calling a play wrong Jones replied, "not the same day!"

Ed Bender and Jack Gillis of Plymouth and representing Pfeiffer's attended the meeting with Jones. Program chairman for the evening was Ralph Seyfried.

Bargains! Yes, you will find them in the want ads of The Mail.

Sam Glanbin Vacations In Englewood, Florida

Florida bound is Sam Glanbin of 1234 Beck road, who left Wednesday for Englewood, Florida. Glanbin will be in Florida on an extended vacation.

He recently retired from the Ford Motor company Rouge plant after working with the company for 50 years.

The F. D. Dornblaser residence will be the scene of a dessert for members of the Esther unit of the Woman's Society of Christian Service on February 17. Dornblasers live on Simpson street.

Mrs. Alfred J. Smith will be hostess to members of the Rachel unit of the W. S. C. S. at a 1 p.m. dessert at her home on Penniman avenue on February 17.

Delegates Tour Northville Hospital

Northville State hospital was the headquarters for the final day of meetings of the mental health conference which began in Detroit on February 8. The mental health officials and governors went to the Northville hospital on Wednesday, February 10, to tour the building and witness the displays and exhibits in the building on the treatment program of the hospital.

The conference chairman for the three-days of meetings was Governor Dan Thornton of Colorado. Governor G. Mennen Williams was also instrumental in the health conference.

While at the hospital the delegates saw the movie "It's A Big Problem," a film put out by the Michigan Department of Mental Health. A special luncheon was also served in the cafeteria.

STANDING AMID representatives from her 32 Plymouth school classes is Miss Edna M. Allen who was the honored guest at the dedication of the school bearing her name. Each of the representatives placed a red rose in a vase on Miss Allen's desk on the stage and congratulated the retired teacher in behalf of their classmates. There were many other former students in the audience, some coming from out-of-town schools where Miss Allen had taught.

Five Hundred

attended Alma college and after returning home for a year, started her teaching career in a country school near Douglas Lake. Teaching there from 1906 to 1908, she enrolled at the University of Michigan, graduating in 1910.

Her next school was at Cheboygan where she remained from 1910 to 1914. From there Miss Allen went to Bad Axe where she taught another four years. She came to Plymouth in 1918 and served as high school principal 10 years. She became an English instructor in 1928, the position she held until her retirement in 1950.

Five of Miss Allen's high school classmates in Ithaca were present at Sunday's dedication along with four former students from Cheboygan and three from Bad Axe.

After being honored by her former students, Walter Goodwin, high school teacher and former pupil of Miss Allen, presented a large framed photograph of Miss Allen to the school in behalf of the Plymouth Teacher's club. Miss Allen was then presented a scrapbook containing dozens of telegrams and letters from her former pupils who live across the nation and in some foreign countries.

The jovial master of ceremonies then presented the honored guest of "This is Your Life" with a Hazel Bishop lipstick for her "schoolgirl complexion."

The former teacher told the audience in a short address that she once read in a teaching magazine that a retired teacher should move away from the site of her former job. The article advised that a retired teacher would be made an outsider by her co-workers.

Miss Allen pointed out that she was sure that the writer did not have the gracious life of retirement she has had. "My greatest pleasure is going downtown and chatting with these old friends. If I had left, I would have missed all this happiness."

A tea served by the Allen P.T.A. was served following the ceremony. Organ music preceding and following the program was played by Fred C. Nelson, high school vocal teacher.

Miss Allen said this week that she will personally thank all those who prominently planned and took part in the dedication but she wants to publicly thank those who performed the many other minor tasks. On the dedication committee were Superintendent Russell Isbister, Donald Rank, Miss Lucile Finkbinder, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Melvin Blunk, James Gallimore, Mrs. Helen Stevens, Miss Gertrude Fiegel and Miss Margaret Dunning.

Those who represented each of Miss Allen's classes were:

Mildred Bennett Burr 1919; Florence Greenlaw Neal 1920; Clifford Tait 1921, Charles Chapel 1922, Donald Sutherland 1923, Marian Bennett Morrow 1924, Clara Tyler Scharmen 1925, Elsie White Arscott 1926, Winifred Draper Carney 1927, Frazier Carmichael 1928, Lawrence Livingston 1929, Gerald and Dora Hondorp 1930, John Randall 1931, Mary Jane Hamilton Greer 1932, Kenneth Greer 1933, Caroline Rathburn Stimpson 1934, Ruth Schmidt 1935, David Gates 1936, Norma Roe Sackett 1937.

Robert Beyer 1938, Jackie Schoof Selle 1939, Ruth Ash Urton 1940, Betty Brown Korte 1941, Nancy McLaren Wernett 1942, Lincoln Hale 1943, Annabelle Heller Bartel 1944, Pauline Wiedman Minock and Robert Minock 1945, Jean Murray Harsha 1946, Charles Finlan 1947, Elsie Mae Keeping Trinka 1948, Fletcher Campbell 1949 and Roger Kidston 1950.

Allen school, located on Haggerty road, was opened last September. Cost of the building was a half million dollars. It is similar in design to the Nellie A. Bird and George Smith schools, both named after former Plymouth teachers. An inspection of Allen school was held before the dedication ceremony which started at 4 o'clock.

society issued a warning that people may have TB and not feel sick at all. In the early stages there are no symptoms of illness. The only way to be sure you are safe is to get the x-ray now while it is convenient, the society advised. The chestmobile may not return to Plymouth for two years.

These are the registration workers who volunteered their services:

City Fire

and 18 runs to other types of fires. The township department also made four runs to assist other departments.

City firemen extinguished blazes in 15 dwellings, four automobiles, one theatre, five grass fires and 13 other types of fires. There was also one false alarm.

Carelessness is always a big factor in fire causes. Four fires were started by Plymouth citizens with careless smoking. Two others were caused with careless use of matches and eight with careless burning of rubbish. Another city fire was due to a faulty fuel oil burner and three to misuse of petroleum products.

One fire was caused by a natural gas appliance and another by a liquefied petroleum gas appliance. Three were due to defective electrical appliances, one by defective wiring, one by an overheated heating device and two by sparks from the chimney igniting a composition roof.

Seven city fire causes were unknown. Chief Robert McAllister reports there were two suspected cases of arson when two garages burned within 15 minutes of each other. City firemen also made three out-of-town assists. Largest fire in the city during 1953 was at the Fashion Shoe store. Loss there was estimated at $3,000.

Careless burning of rubbish was the major cause of fire in Plymouth township, the report stated. There were 22 fire runs blamed on this cause. Chief Holmes also reports that fuel oil burners are a major fire cause and there are many of these types of heating units in the township. The largest single fire loss in the township was the Mason Service station on Northville road.

Both city and township departments helped fight the nation's worst single factory disaster when the General Motors Transmission plant was destroyed last August. Both departments had men and equipment on the scene all night pumping water on the inferno.

The city department under Chief McAllister is manned by two regulars, George Schoemann and Charles Groth, and 16 volunteers. Two regulars also serve under Chief Holmes of the township, Delbert Slater and Barney Maas. The township also has 16 volunteers.

Rework Oil

According to a Michigan gas and oil magazine, there have been only a few leases by independents or major oil companies close to the Taggart discovery. Royalty buying has been "spotty and expensive." Leasing activity has been reported progressing at a "fast and furious" rate further away from the LeMaster farm. Some areas between Northville and Howell were completely covered by leases within 10 days after the discovery.

BULLET HOLE in the windshield of the car in which an escaped Detroit House of Correction convict attempted to flee is pointed out by Orris Renner, 9074 Northern, an employee of Berry & Atchinson auto agency. The car was hit four times by shots from Plymouth patrolmen. This shot went in the rear window and apparently just missed the driver's head as it traveled through the car stolen from a visitor in Plymouth.

Escapee Halted

car, the patrolmen fired two shots at it near the Main street and Penniman avenue intersection. The pursuit continued down Penniman and out Territorial road. Two shots for the tires grazed the rear fenders, another shot ricocheted off the trunk lid and another went through the rear window and out the front window in front of the driver.

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee said that Noel evidently had his head ducked when the shot went through the windows. His ducking was also believed the cause of his loss of control. The car careened to the left side of the road and hit a post. He then drove the car into the lane of 46325 Territorial road where his car came to a stop. Police quickly drove up and arrested Noel as he stepped from the car.

Noel pleaded not guilty in an arraignment Friday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Nandino Perlongo. An examination was held Monday afternoon before Justice Leo Nye of Livonia in the absence of Justice Perlongo. Noel again pleaded not guilty and was bound over to circuit court. Chief Greenlee states that the case in circuit court may not be heard for a month or more. Meanwhile, the escapee is being held in the county jail.

It was believed that Noel, who was a transfer from the State Penitentiary of Southern Michigan to DeHoCo, was about to be among a group to be transferred back to the Jackson prison. He has spent most of his adult life in prison, Chief Greenlee reported.

Pupils to Again Join Children's Clothing Crusade

Plymouth school children will take part in a state-wide clothing collection in schools in Michigan during the week of March 22, Superintendent Russell Isbister announced today.

The drive, which is part of the 12th National Children's Clothing Crusade, is conducted annually through Save the Children Federation under the auspices of a National Advisory committee of School Superintendents. Dr. Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of Public Instruction, heads the week-long drive in Michigan.

Clothing collected by Plymouth students will be distributed through Save the Children Federation in France, England, West Germany, Austria, Greece, Italy, Korea, Lebanon, Israel, on the Navajo and Papago Indian reservations and handicapped rural areas of America.

Every family in Michigan is being asked to send a bundle of good clothing to school during the week of the drive, Superintendent Isbister reported. Pupils in all schools will be given circulars to take home Friday before the drive explaining the drive to parents.

SOCIAL NOTES

Members of the Methodist Boy Scout Troop 1 who took part in the Dawson City Sweepstakes, held recently at the Warren Valley Country club, placed ninth in the contest. Many troops in the Scout Sunset District were represented in the running of a prescribed course over which teams hauled hand-built sleds loaded with camping equipment which had to be set up and taken down along with cooking operations.

Methodist church met Wednesday, February 10. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grimoldby presented the program.

Miss Sarah Lickley will show slides of her European trip to members of the Dorcas circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service on Thursday, February 18 at the home of Mrs. Forest Morgeson of Roosevelt.

The Daughters of America will sponsor a benefit card party at the home of Mrs. Libbie Showers, 1012 Palmer street, on Tuesday evening, February 16. Proceeds will be used for the Daughters of America home.

The Children of the American Revolution were entertained at a supper meeting last night at the home of Gail Lawrence in Northville. Plans were made for the amateur show which will be held on February 20.

Circle 6 of the First Presbyterian church will meet Thursday, February 18 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William Kaiser of Blunk street.

Mrs. Florence Schilinski of 18250 Myron street, Livonia will be hostess to members of the Canasta club on February 23.

Mrs. Harold Kellogg of Grand Rapids spent Thursday in Plymouth.

Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck of East Ann Arbor trail were hosts at dinner last Thursday evening honoring their grandson, Kenneth Lloyd II on his 20th birthday.

Mrs. Perry Hix will open her home on Warren road to the Hough Extension Group on Monday, February 15 for the lesson "Farm Price Program."

Edith Rorabacher of South Union street is improving after a major operation in Sessions hospital in Northville.

Scouts of the Methodist church Troop P-1 and their Scoutmaster, Bill Baker participated in the church services on Scout Sunday, February 7.

Who's New In Plymouth

ENJOYING THE STORY are three members of the Donald Ward family, who came to Plymouth from Ann Arbor and now reside at 711 Burroughs. Mrs. Ward is shown here with Terry, age three, and Kenneth, who is eight years old and attends the Smith school. Mr. Ward is assistant to the president of Evans Products company, and both Mr. and Mrs. Ward are members of the First Presbyterian church here.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Marie Comstock of Ypsilanti was the Sunday guest of Miss Elsie Melow of Farmer street.

Dr. Elmore Carney of Penniman avenue spent Sunday and Monday of this week in East Lansing where he attended the Optometric Educational Conference, which was held at the Kellogg Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Julien and son Paul were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Ypsilanti. Later the group attended the Hollywood Ice Review at the Olympia in Detroit.

The Ladies Mission of the St. Peters Lutheran church will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, February 17 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Leo Schultz on Five Mile road.

Mrs. Dorothy Hinnaw Fanning of Detroit was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Beals of North Mill street.

Back for the dedication services at the Edna M. Allen school were Mrs. Blanche Hutton Hare, Williamston; Mrs. Nellie Blackmore, Flat Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Walker, Mio; Willoughby Wisely, Whitmore Lake; Mrs. Harmon Fritch (Lila Roe), Oxford; Mrs. H. G. Smith (Merle Roe), Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. John Randall, Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hubert, Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Morrow of Royal Oak.

The Future Homemakers of America club of Plymouth high school sponsored a bake sale at Krogers on Saturday, February 3. The proceeds of the sale will be used to help finance a trip to the state convention which will be held in Lansing.

Among the pupils of Miss Edna Allen who attended the dedication program last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. LaVoie (Etha Wiseley), of Detroit; Mrs. Leonard Thomas (Dorothy Bentley) of Ann Arbor and Dr. Ralph Moyer also of Ann Arbor.

A Book Fair will be held in the church hall of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 19, 20 and 21, in observance of Catholic Press Month.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymor Tisch and family of Arthur street were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Tisch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jennings of White Lake.

Tom Clark of Warren, Ohio was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Thrasher last Friday at their home on Lakeland court.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry and children, Margaret and Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry and Mrs. Lottie Jones were in Pontiac Saturday evening where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Frank Terry's niece Miss Barbara Archer to Stanley Jones, both of Pontiac.

Edna M. Allen Relatives Dine at Mayflower

Particularly proud guests at Sunday's dedication of the Edna M. Allen elementary school were the close relatives of the honored school teacher who taught in the Plymouth schools 32 years.

Miss Allen's mother, Mrs. Anna Allen of Birmingham, was in Plymouth for the weekend but was unable to attend the ceremony. Also unable to attend among Miss Allen's three sisters and three brothers was brother Marshall R. Allen of Detroit who is ill in a hospital.

A dinner at the Mayflower hotel preceded the Sunday ceremony. The dinner guest list included:

Mrs. Anna Allen; Miss Dorothy Allen (a sister) who lives in Birmingham with her mother and has been a high school teacher since 1929; Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Sluyter (brother-in-law and sister) of Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Alger H. Wood (brother-in-law and sister) of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Allen (brother and sister-in-law) of Ithaca; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen (brother and sister-in-law) of Detroit; and Mrs. Blanche Navin of Birmingham, friend of the family.

Attending the dedication to represent Marshall Allen was his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Jones of Lowell.

Announce Betrothal Of Norma Jean Helm

Norma Jean Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Helm of 435 Starkweather avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Jean, to Corporal Gerald Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Flander Hamlin of Northville.

The couple has set May 15 as the date for their wedding.

V.F.W. News

A super duper Valentine Dance with an orchestra and everything will be held February 13 at 9 p.m. Don Korte and his orchestra will play for dancing. Everyone is welcome. If you have not already got your tickets and would like some reserved, phone 1553-W. Tickets are on sale at the Linda Lee shop also.

The Veterans' Memorial building in Detroit was the scene of a Testimonial Banquet, honoring the Auxiliary national president, Rosalie Schill. Our president, Gert Danol and Virginia Bartel, who is chaplain, attended. Department president Ethel Gagner presided at the banquet table. A notable speaker of the day, was Governor G. Mennen Williams, whose speeches to Mrs. Schill included references to the great automotive industry and many other Michigan wonders.

Mrs. Schill, in reply to Governor Williams, talk, spoke of New Orleans' many wonders that draw travelers. She went on to a very thorough discussion of the work of the Auxiliary and what it is endeavoring to do for the veterans and for the many communities throughout America. Highlight of her speech was a reminder to all Auxiliaries to press a drive whereby the wives of Korean veterans would be eligible for membership. It was also noted that the first year membership is automatically paid by National.

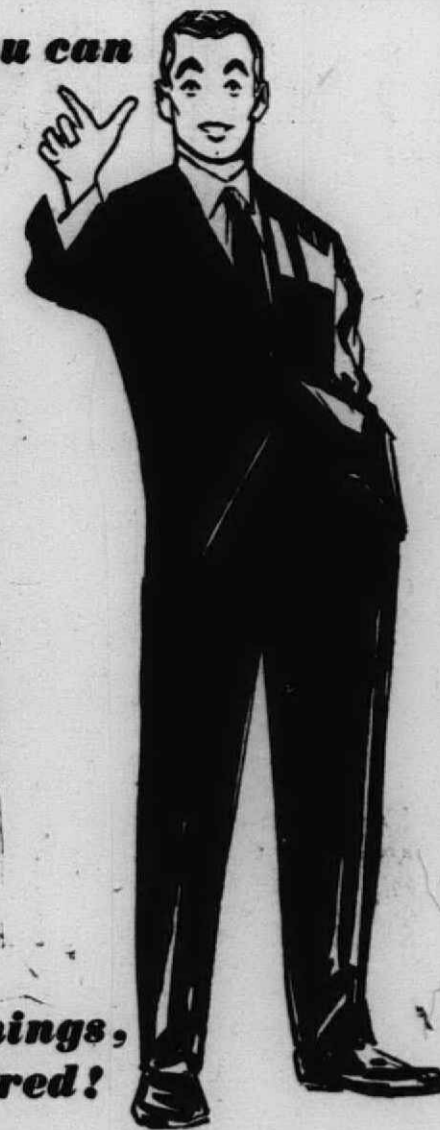

A Department Chairman Rally followed the night of the banquet. Virginia Bartel, 4th district guard, and department cancer chairman, attended the meeting. All department chairmen were on hand to give short talks on their respective chairmanships, followed by suggestions and comments by the national president Rosalie Schill.

Gerry Olsen, adult education chairman, and Kay Coolman, civil defense chairman, have released more interesting details on the "Hobo Hullabaloo" party that they are planning. It is something different in the line of social relaxation. Come dressed as a tramp, hobo, or anything you wish. Be sure it is clothes that are practically worthless. For those who do not dance, there will be card playing. The girls will bring a lunch for two. More next week.

Mary Jane Schwartz and Betty Neale had charge of all refreshments at the flag presentation a couple weeks ago at the post home. They reported that a very good crowd attended the event.

Virginia Bartel would like to thank all Auxiliary girls and others who assisted in making the Mothers' March on Polio a success this year.

Good Counsel Observe Press Month

Elaborate preparations are being made by the Holy Name Rosary Societies of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church of Plymouth to cooperate with Catholic Press Month, being observed throughout the United States during February.

These laymen were signally honored when His Holiness Pope Pius XII recently sent his Apostolic Blessing to those "who devote themselves so self-sacrificingly to this apostolate."

The local observance will be inaugurated on Wednesday, February 17, at 8:15 p.m. in the church hall, at the corner of Arthur and William avenues, when Patrick G. Butler, Librarian of Plymouth High school, will address the members of the parish on "A Galaxy of Catholic Authors." On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 19, 20 and 21, a Book Fair will be held in the hall.

At the fair, the first ever to be held in Plymouth, books of Catholic and general interest, as well as periodicals and pamphlets will be on display. All book-lovers in the community will be welcome to come and browse; and there will be no solicitation to buy.

The collection will contain, among scores of others, works by: Jacques Maritain, Leon Bloy, Georges Bernanos, Francois Mauriac, Agnes de la Gorce, Gerald Manley Hopkins, Francis Thompson, Philip Hughes, Alfred Noyes, Gilbert Chesterton, Hilaire Belloc, Christopher Dawson, Arnold Lunn, Cardinal Newman, Alban Goodier, Evelyn Waugh, Graham Impartiality is the life of justice, as justice is of all good government.—Justinian.

Reverend Davies Named Delegate To Convention

The Reverend David T. Davies, Rector of St. John's church, Plymouth, was elected as delegate to the Pan Anglican Congress at the Annual Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, held in Detroit on Wednesday, February 3.

The Lambeth Conference of Anglican Bishops of 1948 decided that if possible there should be an Anglican Congress midway between every two Lambeth Conferences. Unlike the Lambeth Conference which is confined to Bishops, the Congress will be for Bishops, Clergy and Laity, drawing them from all parts of the Anglican Communion throughout the world. The Congress will be held at Minneapolis, Minnesota, from August 4 to August 14. The other clerical delegate from the Diocese of Michigan is the Reverend Alan M. Ransey, Rector of St. Thomas' church, Trenton, Michigan.

Five Plymouth Men Complete Basic Training With Third Armored Division

Darryl Speers

Richard Zielasko

Wallace Hermanson

William H. Bohl

Theodore Thrasher

Stationed with the Third Armored Division known as the Spearhead division at Fort Knox, Kentucky are five Plymouth men Private Darryl W. Speers, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Searfoss of 1185 West Ann Arbor trail and Private William H. Bohl, 20, husband of Mrs. Marcia K. Bohl of 986 Church street are two of the five who have completed eight weeks of Army Basic Combat Training conducted by the Third Armored Division.

Private Richard L. Zielasko, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zielasko of 7954 Hix road; Private Theodore F. Thrasher, 22, husband of Mrs. Marjorie F. Thrasher of 14268 Northville road and Private Wallace G. Hermanson, 21, son of Carl W. Hermanson of 260 North Harvey street complete the quintet who have completed their basic training.

During this initial period of training, the young soldiers attended classes on basic military subjects and were trained in the fundamentals of combat, including the firing of basic weapons.

Following a 10-day leave, each soldier will receive additional specialized training before permanent assignment to an Army unit.

Lawrence Finney

Second Lieutenant Lawrence Finney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finney of Arthur street, of the Marine Air Force left by plane from El Toro, California last Wednesday for his new base in Korea stopping enroute at Honolulu.

Lieutenant Finney received his pre-flight training as a naval cadet at Pensacola, Florida, where he qualified for carrier landing aboard the U. S. Monterey. Upon completion of his training there, he transferred to the Marine Air Force and had been based at Miami, Florida, since June, 1952.

Majority Leader Halleck to Speak At District Lincoln Day Dinner

Congressman Charles G. Oakman, Seventeenth Congressional District, arranged to have the Honorable Charles A. Halleck, Congressman Second District, Indiana, speak at the annual Lincoln Day Dinner to be held at the Rosedale Park Lutheran church on Saturday, February 13. Congressman Halleck is well-known for his work as majority leader of the present 83rd Congress.

Congressman Halleck will talk on what the 83rd Congress is doing, and wants to do to help the American people. The congressman has gained wide recognition as an able speaker and as majority leader has been one of the leading proponents of the Eisenhower program.

Halleck has served as chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee and was chairman of a house subcommittee which drafted the GOP statement of Principles and Objectives adopted February 6, 1953.

According to George Shaffer, statutory district chairman, "this event is always well supported by workers of the District and forthcoming elections." Shaffer will prove a rallying point for the indicated that along with hearing Congressman Halleck it is also a chance for the friends of the District to meet and talk with their own Congressman Oakman. Tickets may be procured locally from Russell Daane, Harry Reeves or Mrs. Catherine Henderson.

What sort of a hat is a wide-awake? Why, a hat without a nap, of course.

Fred, who was four years old, visited his uncle on the farm. When he came home his father asked him what had pleased him the most.

"O, I liked the geese. I had such fun chasing them, and we had a great big goose for dinner one day!"

"Well," said the father, "how can you tell the difference between a goose and geese?"

"Aw, that's easy," said Fred "One geese is a goose and two geese is geese."

SOCIAL NOTES

Darold Speers has returned to Fort Knox after spending a few days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Searfoss of West Ann Arbor trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burden of Union street were the hosts at a birthday party Sunday evening honoring the birthdays of their sons, Richard and Ronald, ages 22 and 17 respectively. Others on the guest list other than the immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burden and daughter and son, Sandra and Lonnie of Holbrook avenue, and John Bruder also of Holbrook avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Larson of Joy road have returned from a two weeks vacation in Phoenix, Arizona where they attended the wedding of their son Mel to Helen Gilliland of Phoenix. Al, Mel's brother, also lives in Phoenix. The Larsons enjoyed the summer weather of Phoenix, the temperature ranging between 70 and 80 degrees.

Miss Betty Finney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finney of Arthur street, recently underwent a tonsillectomy in Sessions hospital in Northville.

The annual Father and Son banquet of the Newburg Methodist church will be held in the Newburg Hall on Thursday evening, February 18. For reservations, please call Plymouth 1868-R.

Mrs. Edna O'Conner of Palmer avenue was the Sunday visitor of her mother, Mrs. Andrew Taylor in the Irish Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Larsen of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown of Northville were the Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of Roosevelt avenue.

Miss Kay Dobbs returned Monday to resume her studies at Western Normal college in Kalamazoo, after spending a few days vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs of Penniman avenue.

Members of the Plymouth high debating team were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kar-nish on February 8 in their home on Adams street.

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church Women's Association held a buffet supper at 6:30 p.m. yesterday, February 10. Dr. William S. Baker of the Westminster Foundation in Ann Arbor was the guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arscott were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs at their home on Penniman avenue.

Members of the Church of God will sponsor a rummage sale at the Grange Hall, Friday and Saturday, February 12 and 13.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stratton of Lakeland court were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Al Carlson of Detroit on Friday evening.

The Elks lodge will sponsor a fish fry and a sports night on Wednesday, February 17. The Michigan Outdoors commentator, Mort Neff will be the guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnstone of Lilley road and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnstone and daughter Cindy of South Main street have returned from a short vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Viekstrom of Five Mile road were the Sunday evening dinner guests of Miss Hildur Carlson of Sunset avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer of North Mill street entertained 18 little friends of their daughter, Susan in honor of her fourth birthday. Susan received many lovely gifts.

The Rocket, first successful steam locomotive, built in 1829, still is preserved in a London museum. Small by today's standard, it weighs only eight tons, once astounded spectators by attaining a hitherto unheard-of speed of thirty miles an hour, running between Manchester and Liverpool.

Finds Horses at Northville Downs Must Work For Living in Winter as Well as Summer

What do race horses do in the winter when they are not working for a living?

As a neighbor of the famous Northville Downs, most Plymouth folks are quite familiar with the harness racing business when the season is in full swing, but what the critters do during the long winter months is another question.

One might hazard a guess that the bobtails, after running themselves dizzy around the oval all summer, might spend the winter relaxing in a warm stable, gorging themselves with oats, 'Tain't so. Horses lead a dog's life—figuratively speaking.

For those who see horses running only on warm summer nights under brilliant floodlights, it is a strange sight to see the Northville track being navigated on cold winter and snowy mornings by these same horses, for if a horse has to make a living by running, he can't take it easy throughout the winter.

As the first daylight begins to fall on the track, stable doors begin to roll open and the workouts begin. The horses run from four to six miles each morning, starting with a slow to medium gait going clockwise around the track and finishing the workout with a fast heat in the normal direction.

Around 30 stables have horses housed at the Northville Downs track throughout this winter. Horse population this winter numbers approximately 150. With only 90 days left until the opening of Hazel Park, workouts are now becoming more regular.

It is a rare morning when the workouts can't be held. A snow-plover quickly gets rid of the deep snow following a snowfall and sand is usually then applied. Workouts are sometimes canceled if mud becomes too thick.

Though horses haven't expressed any opinion about the winter workouts, there are many trainers who eagerly await the smell of cherry blossoms. Riding a sulky at 30 miles per hour is like driving a convertible with the top down during the winter—and nobody does that around these parts. It is therefore understandable why trainers have an abundant supply of heavy clothing.

Sulkies are first supplied with a canvas basket-type rigging which cuts off the drafts from below. Some sulkies are also equipped with small windshields. Heavy blankets, sheepskin coats, goggles and fur-lined caps are also standard equipment. Trainers working for larger stables no sooner get one horse winded when they start all over with another one. Workout periods at the track usually last until noon.

NO CHEERING comes from the grandstand at Northville Downs nowadays as the horses pass by. The trotters and pacers work out each morning though snow covers the track. Horses here are running clockwise on the outside of the track while they warm up. Last few scores around track are taken fast and next to the rail. Close-up shows Francis Rousseau, veteran horseman who is driving his own horse. Heavy clothing is a necessity for trainers in the winter.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Plymouth Girl Scout Council and the Leaders club will hold a joint meeting on Monday, February 15 at the Veterans' Memorial Center at 7:30 p.m. Dessert will precede the business meeting. All leaders are urged to attend as final plans for the Scouts Own on March 14 will be made.

Swimming will resume at the regular time on Saturday, February 13. Mrs. Harold Shirey, swimming instructor, announces that Ann Tillotson was awarded her Beginners certificate. Christine Baker has earned her Intermediate Swimmers card and Betty Worth the Red Cross Swimmers certificate.

Members of Troop 23 have adopted a little patient from Maybury Sanatorium. She is Rose Garza. Last Saturday, February 6 the Brownies accompanied by their leader, Mrs. James Steel, attended the Shrine Circus. Mrs. James Haefner, Mrs. Earl Markham and Mrs. Bartel provided transportation for the troop. Also attending the Shrine Circus on Saturday were members of troop 14. Ten Scouts accompanied by their leader, Miss Louise Spence and Mrs. David Mather and Mrs. Frank Loomis report a very good time.

Newly-elected officers of troop 5 are Linda Law, president; Lorraine Konke, vice-president; Mariana Jensen, secretary and Nancy Heike, treasurer. The entire troop met with troop 19 at the Smith school on Monday, February 8 to hear Mr. Johnson from the Photography Center explain some of the details of the Photography Badge. The hostess group, troop 19, is led by Mrs. Thomas Thorpe.

Elected president at the last regular meeting of troop 4 was Marie Bolen. Secretary is Pat Bowlby and Sandy Kisabeth is treasurer. Flag bearers are Ann Taylor, Betty Edgar, Jean Whitebread and Sylvia Robertson.

Thomas Alva Edison

FEBRUARY 11, 1847

February 11th is the 107th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Edison, founder of the electrical industry as we know it.

It's a rather special date in Michigan since it was here his family lived for many years; here that young Tom's inventive genius first began to emerge.

It's a rather special date at Detroit Edison, too, for our people believe in serving—and service was Thomas Edison's guiding principle. So strong were his feelings on the matter, so confident was he that widespread use of electricity could benefit mankind, that he began by selling lamp bulbs for 40c each—far below their manufacturing cost of $1.25! He could not be content until he made this strange, new force—electricity—available to those of both high and low station.

Today, electric service goes far beyond keeping rates low and extending lines to new customers. Our meaning of service is to make electricity uniformly dependable, and to provide those extra services which enable a customer to use electricity to his best advantage.

The Detroit Edison Company strives constantly to strengthen its service tradition. And this is a fitting time to re-dedicate ourselves to it; to resolve to serve our customers and our nation to the best of our ability.

Rocks Cling to Title Hopes With Win Over Redford Five

Even though the Plymouth Rock basketball team has lost three games in 6-B league competition this year there is still a possibility that they can share the league title.

Last Friday night moved the Rocks closer to that realization as they downed Redford Union 61 to 45 on the latter's court. The local quintet led all the way as they jumped into a 7-point lead in the first quarter, and increased it each period thereafter. This led moved the Rocks into a tie for third place with Trenton. Bentley and Allen Park are tied for first with two losses each. Allen Park comes here tomorrow night for games with the junior varsity and varsity squads.

Bob Middleton moved into departed Kenny Kisabeth's high-scoring position as he counted 21 points in the first three periods. He did not play the last period. His high total was made on 9 baskets and 3 free throws. Behind him came Dick Day with 10 points, Larry Wilhelmi with 9, Tyler Caplin with 8, Jerry Kelly with 6, John Agnew had 4, Lee June 2, and Danly Clifford 1 point.

The Rocks made good on 15 of 27 foul shots—the same as the losers. Don Lentz led the losers with 10 points—eight others shared scoring honors.

Red Cross Plans Water Safety Class for Area

A water safety instructors course has been scheduled at the Dearborn Henry Ford school, 16140 Driscoll avenue, Dearborn, to begin at 7 p.m. Friday, February 26. W. George Wibby, water safety director, Detroit Chapter, American Red Cross, will serve as the instructor, and authorized Red Cross certificates will be issued to those completing the course.

In order to qualify, a person must be 18 years of age or over and hold at least a current senior life saving certificate. There will be 10 sessions, with the final class scheduled for May 7, 1954. This will be the only county-wide instructors course offered prior to the summer camping season, and all interested persons are urged to take this opportunity to prepare themselves as certified swimming and life saving instructors.

For information please call Woodward 1-3900, Water Safety office of Detroit Chapter, American Red Cross, 153 East Elizabeth, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., or the Dearborn Branch office, Tiffany 6-5920, to make application for this course.

Justice is the moral significance of law. Injustice declares the absence of law.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Plymouth Frosh, Junior Cagers Win Contests

Last Friday afternoon the Plymouth Frosh won handily over Redford Union 41 to 24, but the local Junior high team had to go into overtime to emerge the victor 23 to 21.

The Frosh, after being behind at the end of the first period outscored their opponents in each succeeding period to win going away. Kenny Calhoun was high for the young Rocks with 12 markers, Ron Markham had 11, Bob Jenkins 10, Cliff Tait 4, and both Norgrove and Straub 2 each.

The Rocks-frosh made good on 5 of 15 free throw attempts. Baskets by Walaskay and Knipschild in the overtime provided the margin of victory for the junior high lads. The local boys had a lead throughout the contest until the waning moments when Redford Union caught up to them. Plymouth led 14 to 8 going into the final period, but could only count 3 points in that final stanza to 9 for Redford Union.

Knipschild and Walaskay each had 5 points as did Alsboro. Sherrick had 4, Dzurus and Jordahl 2 each. Mike Callahan and Ed Teegarten did practically all the Redford Union scoring each getting 9 points.

Tomorrow these two teams journey to Allen Park for games with the Jaguars. In the last meeting, the Frosh won 53 to 38 while the junior high lost 25 to 10.

6-B League Race Nears Showdown As Rocks Meet Allen Park Here

Belleville continued as the spoiler in 6-B league play for the second straight week as they knocked Allen Park out of undisputed possession of first place by handing the Parkers a 37 to 27 lacing. The week previous they had done the same thing to Bentley. The Tigers held Allen Park without a point the final quarter to protect their slim lead to win. Bentley gained a first-place tie by bowling over Trenton 54 to 42, while Plymouth smothered Redford Union 61 to 45.

The 6-B race is becoming extremely complicated because of the even competition, particularly among the first five teams. This week Plymouth plays Allen Park at home—the latter beat the Rocks by 4 points at Allen Park in an earlier contest, but are conceded more than an even chance of gaining revenge for that defeat tomorrow night. Bentley plays winless Redford Union, while Belleville takes on Trenton.

Other scores around this area found Inkster edging Romulus 52 to 49; Clarenceville nipping Brighton 58 to 53; Flint Northern smothering Wayne 89 to 53; and Saginaw taking Ann Arbor 67 to 63.

With three more games to play,

Redford JV's Nip Rocks

The Redford Union JV squad bested the Plymouth JV's for the second time this season last Friday night by a score of 38 to 33. The Rocks enjoyed a slim one-point lead at the end of the first quarter, but lost ground during the two middle periods to fall behind by 7 points at the beginning of the final stanza. In that period they picked up four points, but could not quite muster enough to catch their opponents.

Tom Ferguson led the losers with 12 points. The others were divided evenly among Dick Davidson with 8, Jack Carter with 5, and Henry Bonga and Linden Mills each had 4. Plymouth made good on 9 of 15 free throw attempts.

Tomorrow night the local JV's play host to Allen Park in a game preceding the varsity tilt. In their last meeting, the Rocks eked out a one-point 38 to 38 win over Allen Park.

6-B league standings, points scored for and against each team are as follows:

	W	L	PF	PA
Bentley	5	2	319	261
Allen Park	5	2	246	217
Plymouth	4	3	335	307
Trenton	4	3	275	254
Belleville	3	4	272	297
Redford Union	0	7	221	346

Capitol Shirts Dominate League

With two weeks of play remaining in the Men's basketball league, Capitol Shirts continue unbeaten to lead the league, and are definitely favored to win the crown. Tait's Cleaners has lost two games, both to the leader, and two other teams are above the .500 percentage necessary to gain the playoffs. Those teams are LaFontaine and First National Bank. The playoffs begin Tuesday, March 2.

Last week Tait's retained second place with close wins over First National Bank 60 to 55 and Lightfoot Heating 47 to 40. A big third quarter in which they counted 24 points enabled Tait's to win the first game. Shaffer was high for the winners with 15 points closely followed by Pierce with 14 and Graham with 12. Bob Brink had 16 for the losers and Roger Bogenschutz 12.

In the second game Tait's won out in the last quarter after having led 21 to 20 at the half. Potenger was high in this game with 15 points; Brown also had 15 for the losers.

LaFontaine came from behind in the third quarter to hand Ford Local 182 a 53 to 45 defeat. The winners scored 18-points in that quarter while holding their opponents to 6. Amerman was high for the night with 23 points. Lightfoots took a 47 to 27 decision over Box Bar. Bud Lanphear and Luffs each had 11 points for the winners. Sergison and Mayer each contributed 8 points to the losers' cause.

In games out at Bentley high last week, Capitol Shirts defeated Ford Local, and LaFontaine measured Beglinger Olds. Tonight at the Plymouth gymnasium Ford Local takes on Lightfoot Heating in a game at 8 p.m., and Box Bar goes against First National at 9:15. Next Tuesday, Box Bar plays Beglinger Olds and First National tangles with Ford Local.

The standings as of last week-end are as follows:

	W	L
Capitol Shirts	9	0
Tait's Cleaners	8	2
LaFontaine	6	3
National Bank	5	4
Lightfoots	4	6
Beglinger Olds	3	7
Box Bar	2	7
Ford Local	0	10

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

BIG LEAGUERS BEAM AS SPRING BECKONS

Spring training, once a neglected, underrated and ill-conceived part of the major league baseball enterprise, is not too far off, reports The Sporting News.

The Yankees invited nine of their players to join Casey Stengel's preliminary camp as early as February 2. Most of the 16 big league teams will be in action around February 22.

The list of camps shows three changes. The White Sox have moved out of Pasadena and El Centro, California, to set up a second menage in Tampa, which for years has been the base of the Cincinnati club, which will continue to hold forth in Plant Field. The city of Tampa has built a new plant to accommodate the Sox.

The Pirates, who last year trained in Cuba, have moved into Florida, at Fort Pierce, which hitherto housed only minor league clubs.

The new Orioles, from Baltimore, will work out in Yuma, Arizona. The Browns arranged a pact with Yuma before the transfer of their franchise to Baltimore. The new management sought to shift to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, but found itself committed to a contract with the Arizona locale, points out The Sporting News. Last year the Browns trained in Burbank, California.

Training bases of other major league clubs: Red Sox, Sarasota, Florida; Senators, Orlando, Florida; Yankees, St. Petersburg, Florida; Tigers, Lakeland, Florida; Indians, Tucson, Arizona; Athletics, West Palm Beach, Florida; Braves, Bradenton, Florida; Cardinals, St. Petersburg, Florida; Reds, Tampa, Florida; Cubs, Mesa, Arizona; Phillies, Clearwater, Florida; Giants, Phoenix, Arizona, and Dodgers, Vero Beach, Florida.

ARTHRITIS LED TO UMPHLETT TRADE BY SOX

Attacks of arthritis in Tom Umphlett's shoulders last season worried the Red Sox and finally resulted in his trade to the Senators, revealed Jack Onslow, Boston scout, in a story in this week's issue of The Sporting News.

Fearing Umphlett might be sidelined this coming season, the Red Sox decided to deal the rangy outfielder from North Carolina to the Senators, along with Pitcher Maury McDermott for Jackie Jensen. Asked why Boston swapped McDermott, an 18-game winner with potentialities of greatness, Onslow is quoted as saying in The Sporting News: "Remember, we kept the guy who won most of those games, Ellis Kinder."

MCGRAW TOP PRANKSTER OFF FIELD

Spring training camps are far more serious affairs nowadays than they were 30 or 40 years ago, reports The Sporting News, when many stunts were as much a part of the routine as the actual on-the-field conditioning.

For many years, the Giants' camp under John McGraw was the most hilarious of any. A strict taskmaster during working hours, the Little Napoleon liked nothing better than to relax with a practical joke or two.

One spring, Rube Marquard, then in his prime as a pitcher, broke up a drowsy afternoon by emptying his six-shooter on a billboard across the street from his hotel room. In an attempt to satisfy the local sheriff, McGraw fined Rube $50 and bawled him out. The law wasn't satisfied, demanding that Marquard be turned over to his custody.

Finally, according to The Sporting News story, McGraw got sore. "Listen here," he fumed, "we put this town on the map and we can rub it off just as quickly. You take Marquard out of here and I'll take my entire club out of here tonight."

The sheriff departed empty-handed.

The Capitol Shirts quintet in the Men's league just about wrapped up the league crown when they defeated Tait's Cleaners for the second time this year last week. The leaders have only to dispose of some of the weaker teams to emerge at the top when the season is over February 25.

The playoffs will begin on Tuesday, March 2 with a double-elimination for all teams with a 500 percentage or better. Capitol Shirts will be favored to win this also, with Tait's as the foremost threat.

Games this year have been much more interesting than in the past as most of the teams are more evenly matched.

It has been hard keeping track of the standings and box scores as some of the games are played at Bentley high, but the standings you see today are up-to-date as of last weekend.

A five-week series of lectures and slides on conservation began at the auditorium in the high school last evening. These lectures are being sponsored by the Western Wayne County Conservation Association in cooperation with the Adult Education Program, and some top-notch state department men and women have been secured. Next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. a film, "South-eastern Michigan, 10,000 Years Ago and Now" will be shown. These are free to the public.

One month from today the second state Class A Regional basketball tournament to be held in Plymouth will take place in the new gymnasium. Athletic Director John Sandmann is again chairman of this highly-rated sporting event. The same six teams that competed here last year will again be back along with a newcomer, Detroit St. Anthony, one of the powers in Catholic basketball in Detroit this winter.

Last year Dearborn Fordson won the regional and went on to take the state Class A title. Others competing last year were: Lincoln Park, Dearborn, Plymouth, Detroit Catholic Central and Detroit St. Joseph.

A glance at the season's records show that all seven teams are about on a par and some interesting court action will take place. Fordson does not have near the caliber of team that won for them the state crown last year. The tournament will be held on March 10, 11 and 13.

Maybe I had better keep on with my "if" column for it seems to have worked right to a tee so far. The best team in the league now has lost two games, and it

So you want to know about reticulation? This form of photographic art is a process which fractures film emulsion into a web-like pattern, not unlike some of the patterns commercial artists obtain by overlaying strips of Ben Day. The value of a reticulated photo is measured in an artistic sense, with its practical value subject to the photographer's liking for this sort of effect. Like solarization, reticulation is controllable to a certain degree, with the pattern large or small according to your choice.

To dabble with this process you will need a tray of heated water. Then slip a piece of film into the water, holding it with a clothes pin or film clip. Often the pattern will begin to form in a matter of seconds. When the pattern is to your liking, place the film on hanger or glass, emulsion up, to dry. Don't force drying and don't squeeze.

Reticulation may not be to your liking, but we guarantee THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER will be! For all major lines of cameras, film, darkroom supplies and Kodak products, make 821 West Ann Arbor Trail your Headquarters.

Rocks Make Big Splash To Rack Up First Two Wins In Local Swimming History

Both the Bentley and Allen Park games will be played here and will play an important part in the league standings. If you want to see some classy basketball, you had better be on hand for these contests.

I visited some of my farmer relatives and friends in Central Michigan the past weekend. I always look forward to these trips because they seem to be very educational, interesting and relaxing. Farming is so different than it was when I was a lad in the thumb area. Now if one goes into agriculture on a business basis it takes more capital than to begin a large business in a city. Everything is mechanized, electrical and on a time-table basis. They still have those weekend pedro and square dance parties, but television is cutting into some of it. The new booster TV stations have made it possible to get as good reception as near the large cities—everyone has a TV set, and it is so enjoyable to the country folk during those long winter evenings, and the farm wife is not so lonely during the day. Television has opened up so many avenues and has such possibilities—think what it has done to shut-ins, aged people, and kiddie invalids! It has provided them with entertainment to keep their minds off themselves. I think it is wonderful!

The high school swimming squad, tired of being on the short end of the final score, went out and scored two triumphs last week—the first wins since the sport was inaugurated here last year!

On Tuesday, the Rocks received the first taste of victory when they dunked Dearborn Lowery 50 to 34, and a repeat was scored over University high of Ann Arbor on Thursday 56 to 38.

In the first win, Plymouth had four first places in the nine-event meet. Paul Daoust was first and Mike Conrad second in the breaststroke; Don Packard first and Paul Gregory second in the backstroke; the medley relay team of Packard, Daoust and Jim Gage won first place, as did the free style relay team composed of Chuck McKenna, Jim Zukosky, Lee Rowe and David Beegle. Young Beegle was also second in the 50-yard free style with Zukosky third, McKenna was second and Rowe third in the 200 yard free style; Gary Wright second and Bill Braendel third in the 100 yard free style; Mike Conrad second and Jerry Trahan third in the individual medley; and Tom Rutherford was second and Art Losse third in diving. Plymouth led all the way against University high and scored ed 6 first places. Points were scored by Jim Zukosky, David Beegle, Mike Conrad, Paul Daoust, Chuck McKenna, Lee Rowe, Don Packard, Paul Gregory, Billy Williams, Bill Braendel, Tom Rutherford, Art Losse, Jerry Trahan, Jim Archer, Dick Wallace, George Losse, Gary Wright and Dick Showers.

Today the squad goes to Birmingham for a meet with a team that has already won over them this season.

Chips from the ROCK

There is no better way to write a column than to sit stretched out on the pure white sand of Siesta Key with your typewriter on an old orange crate over your legs so you get a sun bath, watch the funny old pelicans, and enjoy the wash of the waves . . . and that's precisely what we are doing right this minute.

We were introduced to Siesta Key by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton who are comfortably located in a cozy cottage on the truly beautiful white beach.

We didn't know the Saxtons were in Sarasota and it was indeed a pleasant surprise when we met them in line in Morrison's cafeteria. In addition to the most pleasant morning with them, the following day they entertained us at lunch at the Blue Gentian where we enjoyed one of the finest servings of Red Snapper we had ever encountered. Mr. Saxton, immediate past president of Plymouth's Kiwanis club, is sporting a beautiful tan from his hours of loafing on the beach while his busy wife is adding to her unusually large and interesting collection of shells, crabs, etc., in addition to oil painting and watercoloring.

Former Plymouthites Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lee were next on our list of calls and we found them in the yard of their pretty home in north Sarasota. Real Florida "Crackers" now they have made their permanent residence here five years but Mrs. Lee does travel back to Plymouth twice a year, boarding a bus almost in front of their home to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Sidney Friday, and her cousin, Mrs. James Darnell.

Mr. Lee and the two Lee sons, Romaine and Carroll are in the building business here as was Mr. Lee in Plymouth for some 25 years. Up to now they have built some fifty homes and one motel which they operated a year or so before disposing of it. To southern visitors from Plymouth the Lees asked that we point out that they now reside on route 41 directly behind the Rainbow Motor Court in north Sarasota and the welcome mat is always out for "folks from home."

A Monday morning visit to Bradenton found two well known Plymouth couples living the "life of Riley" in the middle of an orange grove of several hundred acres.

We caught Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lewis in the kitchen of their attractive new home to which they had only moved the day before. They had rented the first house Mr. Lewis had built so they moved into the new one he was just completing next door. It isn't all play for Plymouth's well known contractor while he vacations in Bradenton, because building a house all by one's self is no small job. His Florida homes are most attractive, however, and designed for easy and comfortable living.

Right across the street from the Lewis home live the most popular people on the street . . . Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Soth . . . and that's what they said and gave as the reason the fact that they have the only two tangerine trees on the street . . . this was true and we pictured them picking a sack of tangerines for us which we are still enjoying today.

Their cozy Florida retreat supports in addition to the two tangerine trees, seven temple oranges, one lemon and one grapefruit tree which in all provide them and all of their friends with all of the fruit they desire. Just the day before we arrived Mrs. Soth had picked a lemon from the tree which was so large it was all she needed to bake a lemon pie.

The Monday we visited Bradenton was Mrs. Soth's birthday and they were expecting a visit from the Irving Blunks of St. Petersburg for a picnic that afternoon. We wished we might have stayed to enjoy the tempting menu Mrs. Lewis told us about but we took a rain check and will go back another day.

On the highway, just after leaving Bradenton, we met Mrs. Roy Jewell who was on her way to her winter home in Englewood with her two granddaughters, Connie Lou and Brenda Lee. We tried to take their picture but pulled the whole lock out of the back of our car so we couldn't get the camera. We learned the two girls will stay two weeks with their grandmother then their dad, Durwood Jewell will come south to bring them home. Mrs. Jewell will return in the spring.

Just wanted to mention for the sake of my good friend Charley Bennett that we enjoyed a good old dinner last night of Savannah Shad Roe which made us think of him and order it just because he likes it so well. If there had been some way of getting it back up home, I surely would have put some in the mail.

Next week we'll tell of the St. Petersburg Plymouthites or at least those we knew of and could find. Of all we visited, however, we only missed the Fred Highfields who were apparently away for the afternoon. Mr. Highfield was with the Plymouth Lumber and Coal company for 25 years and has built two homes in St. Petersburg. They still return to Plymouth for their summers, however. We are sorry to have missed you this winter but perhaps we'll be back!

Roger Babson Says

BABSON DISCUSSES WINTER MARKDOWNS
Babson Park, Massachusetts. Day by day in buying power, your dollar is getting to be worth more. You have only to glance at the advertisements in your daily paper to confirm this cheering fact. Merchants all over the country are offering some of the best winter markdowns that I have seen in a long time.

GOODS GALORE
Thanks to this country's tremendous productive capacity, which has been greatly increased in recent years, all kinds of consumer goods have been coming on the market in almost unprecedented volume. The late Korean War did little to dampen the flow. As a result, stores everywhere have bargains in good merchandise. Some of it has not been moving too well, at least not fast enough to suit the store owners. Perhaps prices have been out of line with the ideas of prospective consumers. In a number of cases, this undoubtedly has been true. But now the picture has changed.

Semi-annual stocktaking clearance sales are under way from one end of the land to the other. Sales floors and store counters this winter are loaded with bargains that many can hardly afford to ignore. Merchandisers are more than anxious to reduce stocks, and they well know that the best way to do it is to cut prices, even if profits are pared to the bone. In some instances, they are doing exactly that. Merchants like "turnover" much more than "holdover." It costs money to carry goods from one year to another, or from one season to another.

FUR LOVER'S PARADISE
For those of the fair sex whose fancy turns to furs, now is the time to indulge it. Furs definitely are on the bargain counter. In some cases, they can be bought at half their former price, although I do not guarantee the quality. The fur market was hard hit by abnormally warm weather earlier in the season. Inventories have piled up and competition has become extremely severe. To point up the situation, I might mention that one prominent Boston concern not too long ago advertised the largest fur stock at one price—drastically reduced—ever assembled anywhere under one roof.

With spring just around the corner, clothing stores in many localities are cutting prices on men's wool suits. Some are being offered at very attractive levels. Winter overcoats and wool bathrobes also often are marked down sharply at this time of the year. If you are in need of any of these articles now, or will be next winter, don't delay in picking them up. Shop aggressively for the best buys. Also watch the store ads in your paper.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS AND APPLIANCES
A number of household goods and appliances are available now at bargain prices. The field is broad, but the goods are there and rightly priced if you shop around. Just the other day, for instance, I saw a new combination food freezer-refrigerator offered at a saving of 20% under a month ago. But buy these electrical appliances from reliable stores and be sure to get the standard guarantee. Now is the time to buy from a reliable dealer a used car at a low price. These cars will sell for more money in the spring and early summer.

This is the time of year also when many types of soft goods can be purchased economically. These include sheets, pillow cases, and towels. February traditionally is a month when household furniture is offered at special prices; this February should not be an exception. I also must mention Oriental rugs, prices of which have been cut sharply. I have seen some of these items recently advertised as selling at half former prices.

The "converted" chicken house is still in use, as a matter of fact, as a business concern. Eugene Talmadge, Jr., the governor's son, 11 years old, uses it for raising crickets.

"Crickets make good fish bait," Georgia's chief executive pointed out. "Gene uses 'em . . . and sells them."

Queried concerning his recipe for remembering names (he is credited with knowing more first names than anyone in Georgia) the Governor seemed a bit abashed.

"I really don't know names like I should, or like I used to," he explained earnestly. "I reckon maybe I know 10 to 20,000 first names, but that's only one out of 35. I ought to do better than that."

That's one of the drawbacks of being a governor. One gets so involved in administrative affairs and state business that it takes one away from the people to a considerable extent, he said.

His recipe is, however, to make sure he gets the name on introduction, then associate it with some given thing, place or office.

Although he speaks with a slow southern drawl, wears red suspenders and chews tobacco, young Herman is no "local-yokel" politician.

Between the suspenders he wears an expensive tie. ($20.00 worth he said). He's an educated (law degree U. of Georgia) leader whose mind is quick on the draw. His slow drawl can flash back answers which have more snap than his galluses, and he'll chew out the positions of senators and congressmen, or even the President of the United States, with as much gusto as he chews out a chunk of tobacco.

He's a farmer who retires to his farm each weekend. But his farm is a rural barony of modern procedures.

He's old Eugene, the kind of a fighting fellow whose forces changed locks in the night and seized executive quarters, but he's something different, too—a serious advocate of improved scientific agriculture and the industrial development of the south.

Perhaps bring to your city the stock of some out-of-town firm that is liquidating. Be not afraid to cut your own prices for a short period. You will win customers by it in the end. Otherwise, don't today overstock in anything except in "parking space," which now is the best buy. I forecast you can purchase parking space for customers cheaper now when the ground is frozen, snow is falling, and business is poor. "Sell Merchandise—Buy Parking Space" should be the 1954 motto.

Georgia's Governor Does Wear Red Suspenders, Editor Learns

By Sterling Eaton
What a guy . . . at least that was the consensus of opinion of members of the Jacksonville Rotary club and the many guests in attendance last week when Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia was guest speaker.

There seems to be something about people in other states thinking the governor of Michigan or Texas, or anywhere is something very unusual.

For me I guess it's because they do something like our own "Soapy" who wears bow ties, or Talmadge, for instance, who actually does wear red suspenders, chews tobacco, loves turnip greens, cracklin' corn bread and buttermilk!

He said so after his Rotary appearance in an interview with a few newspaper folk who happened to be on hand.

Although he wears the red pant's holder-uppers all the time he has never bought a pair in his life. Folks know the governor's penchant for them and they send them to him all the time. He owns a dozen pair at the moment.

The pair he wore at Rotary were inscribed Stork Club, a gift from someplace in the east, and he admitted the spare in his bag was a recent gift from Martha Roundtree which he received after appearing on "Meet the Press". He says he likes the feel of suspender wearing in preference to belts . . . but there's sentiment and a bit of doing what the public expects in the wearing of them, too! His famous father, Eugene Talmadge, elected to the governorship of Georgia four times, began the practice.

He chews tobacco and admits it. It depends on the occasion because he also chomps on a cigar. Rotary was a cigar event yesterday.

Did your father Eugene actually build a barn behind the governor's mansion?, he was asked. The governor smiled and pushed at his unruly forelock which characterized his father.

"Well you might call it that. He actually did take a milk cow and some chickens to the mansion with him. That was during the depression, you know, and good fresh eggs and milk came in handy."

Cheese Cake

There is nothing like a cheese cake to bring raves from your guests—and particularly from your husband. That is the case with the cake made by Mrs. Robert Bullard, 1040 Maple avenue. Mrs. Bullard divides her time between her job as a nurse at Northville State hospital and her homemaking duties. The cheese cake recipe she received from her mother.

- 1½ pounds cottage cheese
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat cottage cheese until smooth. Add the sugar gradually, and then add eggs, one at a time. Finally add the vanilla. Pour into a baked pie crust shell or a pan lined with graham cracker crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes.

Topping

- 1 pint sour cream
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla

Mix together the above ingredients. Pour topping over the cooked filling and place in a 500 degree oven for five minutes. Cool and refrigerate. The cake will serve eight.

State Professor to Teach Adult Education Class Here

The course in communication skills being offered for the first time by the Adult Education department begins this evening at 7 p.m. in the high school library. Instructing the 8-10 p.m. class for executives, administrators and community leaders is Dr. A. L. Thurman, Jr., associate professor of communication skills at Michigan State college.

The course will stress the communication needs of executives with an emphasis on speaking, writing, reading and listening. Dr. Thurman will discuss techniques of oral reporting, public speaking, conferences with employees, and other things of importance to the communication of leaders.

Dr. Thurman received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1942 from Central college, Fayette, Missouri, his master of Arts degree in 1950 and Ph. D. degree in 1953 from the University of Missouri.

Prior to joining the Michigan State college staff in 1953, he was an instructor in speech at the University of Missouri from 1948 to 1953. He served as an instructor in speech at DeSoto high school in DeSoto, Missouri, from 1946 to 1948.

Dr. Thurman is a member of several professional speech associations and is the author of a number of articles concerned with public speaking.

Madonna Recital Sunday Evening

A piano and vocal recital is scheduled to take place at Madonna College in De Sales auditorium on February 14 in the evening at 7:30. The program is open to the public.

Participating in the recital will be three freshmen majoring in Music: Agnes Schettenthal, Mary Ann Barczak and Marjorie Krist.

Agnes will play the Three-part Invention No. 3 by Bach, Voiles and Deuxieme Arabesque by Debussy, the first movement of Brahms' Sonata in C, Mendelssohn's Hunting Song and the first movement of Sonata 9 by Mozart.

Marjorie's repertoire will include Fantasia I in D minor by Mozart, Invitation to the Dance by C. M. von Heber, La Fille aux Lin by Debussy and Sonata in D Major by Joseph Haydn.

Mary Ann will present Soaring by Schumann Op. 12, Czerny Etude Op. 740, Alla Turea by Mozart and Brahms' Waltz Op. 39.

Another student of music, Arlene Kielpinski will play Second Concerto Op. 18 by Sergei Rachmaninoff and Chopin's Grande Valse Brillante Op. 18.

Rosealba Slatery will also render selections including Valse Caprice Op. 74 by Cyril Scott, the first movement of Beethoven's Sonata Op. 49 No. 2 and Valse Brillante by Chopin Op. 34.

Two vocal soloists will also participate in the program. Dorothy Lapczynski, a Senior student in voice, will sing Joshua by Handel, Only a Rose by Rudolf Friml, The Sleep that Flits on Baby's Eyes by Allen Carpenter, Carmina by Lane Wilson and Hirodiana by Jules Massenet.

Joyce Kubick will also present a vocal selection entitled, Would God, I were the Tender Apple Blossom.

In addition to the Madonna students, several elementary pupils who take music instructions from Sister M. Paulette, will also take part in the recital. They are Judith and Jean Gillmore, Sharon Woods, Agnes Dodge, Michael Harrison and William Majewski.

Big Moth Blossoms From Azalea Plant

When an azalea plant bursts forth with azaleas, that's not news. But when an azalea plant produces a giant moth—that's something else.

Mrs. Ernest Burden, 390 Adams street, received an azalea plant for Mother's Day last year and as winter approached, brought it into the house. A walnut-shaped ball attached to one of the leaves went by practically unnoticed until the family cat became excited around the plant one night last week. A moth with a five-inch wingspread broke out of the ball.

According to Mrs. Burden's son, Arvid, the moth is allowed to flutter around the house and seems to enjoy his domesticated life. A moth's life is very short, however, and it is expected that the strange visitor will soon be grounded forever.

Here is a meat luncheon loaf ideal for a quick dinner or supper. Cut the loaf into ½-inch slices. Combine 1 tablespoon of prepared mustard with 3 tablespoons flour, 1 slightly beaten egg and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Dip meat in batter, then brown the meat slices in lard or dripping.

YOU CAN'T postpone THE FUTURE

Every family man knows his family needs the protection of a well-rounded life insurance program... to provide financial security for his wife... to guarantee his children's education... for his own retirement.

Unfortunately, in too many cases this appreciation of the importance of life insurance to family security comes too late. Because of age or ill health, or for some other reason, a man who was once acceptable for life insurance may find that he is no longer insurable.

Don't risk that possibility. Let me explain how MONY combines life insurance with Social Security and other assets to give you and your family an Insured Income—at a low cost.

Eggs in Your Menus Get Delicious Results

You can get some delicious results by using eggs in your menus. And now is the time to use lots of them—they are plentiful and they are wearing attractive price tags these days.

Eggs are an especially good buy nutrition-wise, too. They are rich in high-quality protein and make an excellent replacement for meat in the diet. The yolks are high in iron, one of the minerals that is apt to be low in our diet.

Eggs are one of the most versatile foods we have. Even prepared "as eggs," you have a choice of fried, boiled, scrambled, poached or baked.

Used as a thickening agent, they appear in sauces, soups, puddings and custards.

Beaten fluffy for a leavening agent, you will use them in cakes, souffles, angel foods, sponge cake and omelets.

As meat extenders or substitutes, you can serve them as curried eggs, creamed eggs on toast, baked eggs in tomato sauce or eggs Benedict, to name only a few possibilities.

And homemakers use them often as the emulsifying agent in mayonnaise and cream puddings, as the binder for meat loaf and croquette mixtures, as the protective coating for fried foods and as a clarifying agent for soups and coffee.

When storing eggs, keep them cold since they spoil easily. Store them in the refrigerator.

However, when you plan to make something which calls for beaten eggs, such as angel food cake, you will want to take the eggs out of the refrigerator an hour early. They will beat up more easily if not too cold.

In cooking eggs, the main thing to remember is to cook them

Less Steak To Be Purchased During 1954

Housewives will buy fewer steaks and more hamburger for the family dinner table in 1954, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reports in its monthly review, "Business Conditions."

This dietary switch will not come about by choice, however. Because of a reduced number of steers scheduled for slaughter, high quality meats are bound to be less available during the year. On the other hand, slaughter of cows and grass fed cattle probably will increase. These animals are used chiefly for ground beef and canned meats.

Although consumers will eat less steak in 1954 than they did last year, they will still be well off "meat-wise," the bank says. Beef and veal consumed in the United States this year may equal 1953's alltime high of 84 pounds per person—16 pounds more than 1952's per capita consumption.

What's more the bank reports, retail prices of beef and veal are expected to remain near last year's level throughout 1954 after having declined about one-fifth in 1953.

Cattle and calves on farms leveled off at about 93 million head last year, following a build-up of 15 million since 1949. The halt in growth of cattle numbers brought the heaviest slaughter of cattle on record last year. Farmers stopped building up their cattle herds because of declining prices, feed shortages in some areas, and concern over future prospects.

As cattle prices dropped during the past year, farmers had more incentive to retain cows for production of milk rather than sell them for beef. Total output of milk and milk products rose 3 per cent in 1953 to 118 billion pounds. According to the bank, total milk output in the current year may top this figure as dairy herds expand further.

Lamb Riblets Make Thrifty Barbecue Dish

Barbecued meat fanciers will delight in this lamb dish, barbecued lamb riblets. The flavor of this meat lends itself perfectly to a spicy barbecue sauce.

Lamb riblets are prepared from a lamb breast, corresponding to spareribs in pork. Your market man removes the breast bone, then cuts down between the ribs resulting in the riblets. These are cooked by braising, thus ideal for preparing in a zesty barbecue sauce.

To prepare this dish brown the riblets first in lard or drippings. Then add your favorite barbecue sauce. Cover them closely and let the meat cook slowly until tender, from 1½ to 2 hours. Serve the riblets over boiled rice.

Fix Casserole The Day Before

Why not take a cue from the working homemaker who partially prepares her dinner casserole the night before. During busy days you might prepare the casserole in the morning, then cover and store it in your refrigerator until dinner time.

A hamburger casserole is one suggestion. For this dish brown 1 pound of ground beef and season with chopped onion, salt and pepper. Add 1 can of condensed tomato soup and place in a greased casserole for storing. When you remove the casserole from the refrigerator, add 1 package of cooked frozen beans or 1 No. 2 can of drained canned beans. Heat the casserole for 30 minutes in a moderate oven, then remove from oven and top with drop biscuit batter. (Lard and dry ingredients may be mixed in advance, the milk added at the last minute.) Return the casserole to a 450° F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until the biscuits are browned.

For another casserole combine ground beef with Spanish rice. Follow your Spanish rice recipe, then mix with 1 pound of browned ground beef. Top casserole with fine bread crumbs and heat thoroughly in a moderate oven.

HOT LUNCHES EVERY DAY!

Kraut, Franks and Applesauce Go Together In Spicy Winter Platter

Pink applesauce spiked with cinnamon candies and horseradish forms the centerpiece of a winter-weather meal of piping hot sauerkraut and ruddy brown frankfurters. What a combination!

Nice thing about it is that all three main ingredients can be stored ready to heat on your can shelf. Then, when wintery winds and mile high snowdrifts make marketing a problem, all you need do is open your cans of applesauce, franks and sauerkraut, add the right spices, heat thoroughly and serve. Easy as A, B, C.

Perhaps your family goes for a plainer platter—just kraut and franks. In that case, serve the pink applesauce on the side and watch their delight at its out-of-the-ordinary spiciness.

Winter Special

1 1-pound can applesauce
2 tablespoons red cinnamon candies
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish

1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut
1 teaspoon caraway seeds, optional
*1 can frankfurters
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine applesauce, cinnamon candies and horseradish in saucepan. Stir well and let stand ½ hour, stirring occasionally. Heat sauerkraut, season with caraway seeds. Drain frankfurters and cook in butter, turning to brown on all sides. Place sauerkraut on chop plate; make well in center. Put hot applesauce in well. Lay frankfurters around ring of kraut. YIELD: 4 servings.

*Frankfurters are packed 6—12 to the can, depending upon can size and brand.

Here Is Rolled Lamb Roast That Your Carver Will Cheer

If you think of leg of lamb as the only lamb roast, then here's a surprise. Treat your family to a rolled lamb shoulder roast. Ask your meat dealer to remove the bone from a square cut lamb shoulder, then roll and tie the shoulder ready for your oven. Here is the roast your carver will cheer.

Another version of the square cut section is the cushion-style shoulder. The roast is boned and left flat. The cavity, made by removing the bones, is filled with a stuffing before it goes in the oven for roasting.

To prepare the rolled shoulder season it with salt and pepper, then place it on a rack in an open roasting pan. If you have a roast meat thermometer, insert it so the bulb reaches the center of the roll. Do not add moisture or cover the pan.

Roast the lamb roll in a slow oven (300° F.) for 35 to 40 minutes per pound. The roast meat thermometer will register 170° F. to 180° F. when the meat is done. A warmed platter should be ready to receive the lamb.

If the rolled shoulder roast is taken from the oven about 20 minutes before serving carving will be made simpler, as this gives the meat time to become firm. Uniform slices of ¼ to ¾ inch thickness make attractive servings. A five to six pound roast will make from 10 to 12 servings.

Plan an appropriate menu around the lamb roast. Your garnish might be firm pear halves filled with mint jelly and touched with mint leaves or parsley.

Bake This Banana Log Cake In Celebration of February 12

"Rough it up" is the way you might describe putting the finishing touches to a beautiful Lincoln Log Cake you can make at home. The cake itself is sponge cake which you usually make into jelly roll. Instead of a jelly filling for your Lincoln Log, make a festive banana cream filling. Seem like a lot of work? Not at all. This Banana Cream Filling is just diced fully ripe bananas folded into vanilla pudding made from a packaged commercial mix. Spread the filling on the cake, roll it up, and frost with Chocolate Frosting. Then comes the "roughing up" process to give the chocolate frosting a tree bark appearance.

With the back of a spoon, form a depression in the frosting to make a "knothole." This can be in the center or to one side of the cake roll. With the spoon, push up the frosting around the sides of the depression to make a realistic "knothole." Then using the back of the spoon, without lifting it from the frosting, run it lengthwise along the cake roll, making wavy ridges to resemble tree bark. This is sufficient to give the log effect, but if you want to make it even more convincing, sprinkle curls of shaved chocolate on top of frosting.

The combination of the mellow fresh banana filling with the delicate cake and chocolate frosting is really delicious, a cake fit to celebrate the birthday of one of our greatest men. You can serve this same simple Banana Cream Filling in sherbert glasses for dessert or you can use it to make other delicious desserts like Boston Cream Pie, Banana Cream Pie, or Banana Cream Puffs.

BANANA LINCOLN LOG CAKE

4 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cake flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
Confectioners' sugar
1¼ cups diced, ripe bananas (1 to 2 bananas)
1 pint cooled, packaged vanilla pudding (1 4-ounce package)
Chocolate frosting

Use fully ripe bananas. . . . yellow peel flecked with brown. Beat eggs with rotary beater or electric mixer until thick. Gradually beat in sugar and lemon juice. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt and add it all at once to egg mixture. Beat until smooth. Line a jelly roll pan (15½x10½x1 inch) with waxed paper. Pour batter into pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 minutes or until cake is done. Loosen edges and immediately turn upside down on a towel sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Remove waxed paper. Trim crisp edges of cake. Roll in towel and let cool about 5 minutes. Lightly fold diced bananas into cooled vanilla pudding. Spread cake with pudding mixture and re-roll, jelly roll fashion. Frost with chocolate frosting, using back of spoon to form ridges like bark of tree on frosting. Sprinkle with curls of shaved chocolate. Makes 1 cake.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

Patterned Glass Cheers - up Older Homes

Room Dividers Of Glass Dispel Gloom, Dark

How to cheer-up drab halls, dark rooms, nooks and crannies of an older home is one problem many home handymen have solved by "discovering" patterned glass.

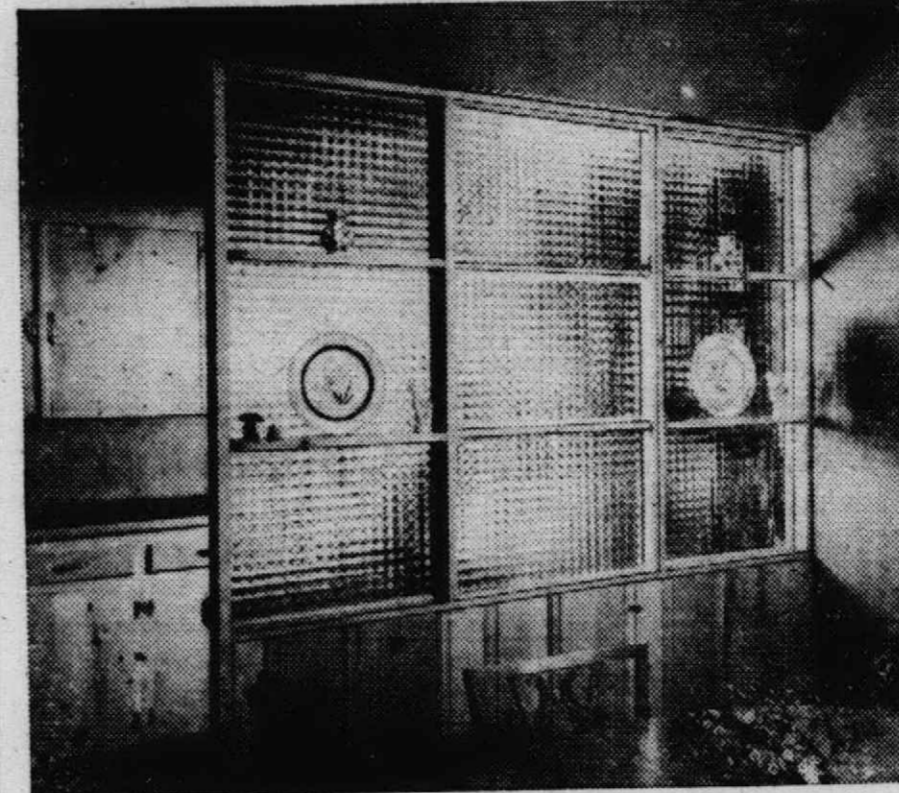

Borrowing ideas from new home builders using patterned glass as partitions, room dividers, shelves and cabinet doors to achieve a feeling of "open living" while maintaining privacy between rooms, do-it-yourself decorators are finding that modernizing with patterned glass is easy, economical and attractive.

"Patterned glass," says H. Creston Doner, well-known interior design consultant, "is a distinctive decorative material with the unique quality of obscuring vision while transmitting light. There are a wide variety of patterns—lineal, checkered and muraled—to compliment any design theme from old American to modern."

An interesting example cited by Mr. Doner, in which patterned glass was used to help bring "open living" into an old home was the installation of a checkered-patterned glass room divider to replace the wall which divided the dining room and kitchen.

Both the dining room and the kitchen in this home were hopelessly small and drab. There was so little daylight the electric lights had to be used almost constantly. The man of the house, an experienced carpenter, decided to build a patterned glass room divider to "join" the two rooms.

He removed the lath, plaster, and framework which formed the wall. The kitchen had been recently decorated with knotty pine cabinets and he wanted to extend this "rustic" look into the dining room. On the kitchen side of the wall there was a waist-high counter. Panels of knotty pine were used to close off the bottom half of the wall on the dining room side to the same height as the kitchen counter.

A "panel window" type framework of two-by-fours glazed with Doublex patterned glass was used to fill the opening from the top of the counter to the ceiling. The horizontal members of this translucent wall are now used as shelves for figurines and china plates.

The once-opaque confining wall is now a jewel-like partition of nine patterned glass panes which brightens both the kitchen and the dining room and adds an air of festivity to every meal.

Patterned glass is an extremely versatile modernizing material with applications in every room of the house.

Other uses which Mr. Doner suggested include back walls for bookshelves, bathroom partitions and shower doors, skylights for studio-attics, and sliding doors.

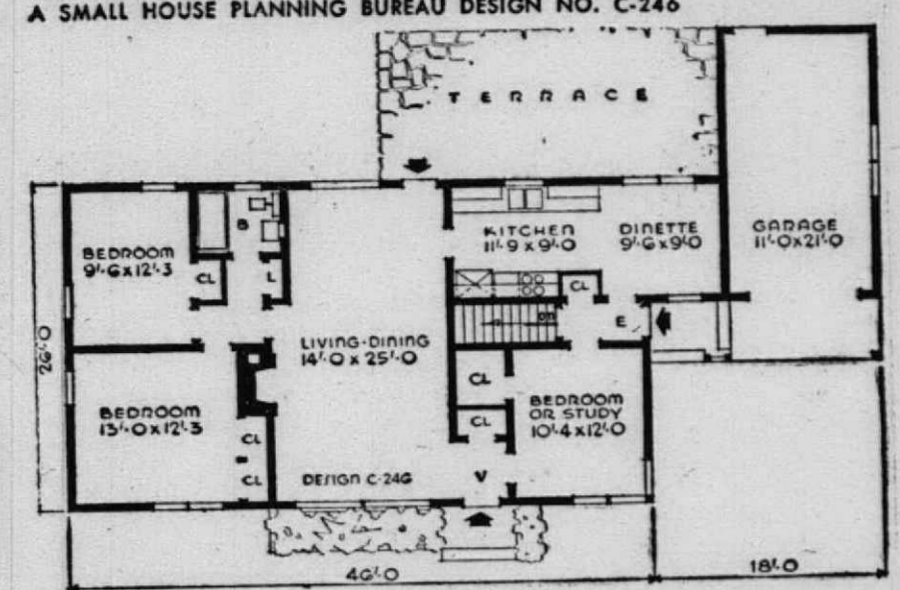

"Patterned glass offers home owners a chance to use their own creative minds and aside from its purely decorative qualities it is very practical. It never needs repainting or refinishing, it is easy to install, and easily cleaned and maintained."

A booklet on decorating ideas entitled "NEW ADVENTURES IN DECORATING" offers many more ideas on decorating with patterned glass. It is available from the Blue Ridge Sales Department, Libbey-Owens - Ford Glass Company, Toledo 3, Ohio, for 10 cents.

Ton of Coal Requires 40 to 45 Cubic Feet

How much space is needed to hold a ton of coal? This information is needed in order to know how big to build a coal bin.

A ton of coal occupies 40 to 45 cubic feet. When building a bin, make it a little larger than minimum size so that it can be pushed back a few feet from the door. A bin measuring 6x8x10 feet would be big enough for nine or 10 tons. Bituminous coal takes more room than anthracite.

DESIGN C-246. Plans for this house call for three bedrooms, one of which can be used for den or office, combination living room-dining room through the center, attached garage and full basement except under the garage. Closets are located at each entrance, linen cabinet in hall, walk-in closet in den and wardrobe closets. Interesting items include the two-way view from the living room and dinette, accessibility of the den, inside fireplace and compact kitchen layout. Exterior finish is wood siding with asphalt shingle and flagstone terrace. Floor area is 1261 sq. ft., cubage is 23,263 cu. ft., not including garage. For further information about DESIGN C-246, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

HERE'S MORE of the hand-work of Dr. Gerald Fitch of 352 North Main street. Last week we pictured the completely remodeled dining-living area. Above is shown a part of the upstairs bedroom which Dr. Fitch paneled and installed book shelves. All the work has been done during spare time and in the relatively short time of about three months.

Rubber-base paints are available for basement floors. These paints are not affected by the alkali present in cement floors.

Window Shopping With Sue

With spring hovering around somewhere in the near future—although it scarcely seems like it now—much attention will center on those gardens. And gardens always mean various and sundry tools which you want to have nice and handy. One way of doing this would be to build yourself a plywood garden cabinet. The cabinet uses plans X-11 which you can get at Roberts Supply.

The garden cabinet is a handy all-purpose outdoor storage locker which can be used in dozens of ways. Besides using it for your garden implements, you could place it near your outdoor fireplace to hold your barbecue equipment. Or it could be used in relation to outdoor game courts for the storage of that equipment. The cabinet also could be ideal for keeping the children's outdoor toys in a handy place.

Made of exterior plywood the cabinet is amazingly tough. And it's a cinch to build. In case you're thinking of putting up a garage, there's a new siding product on the market that should interest you. It's put out by the Douglas Fir Plywood association under the trade name "Plyside." This new material replaces the tongue and groove type garage siding, as it comes in 4 feet by 8 feet or 2 feet by 3 feet sheets. These sheets are three-eighths inch thick. Then in construction of the garage these sheets are just attached to the framework.

Roberts also had an interesting booklet put out by the Armstrong's Building Materials company on "New Ways to Remodel Your Home." You might want to look one over, because they show just how you go about getting a new room out of your attic, basement, porch or breezeway. Of course, in remodeling careful planning is essential, because working out all the details beforehand can save you both time and money. The lumber dealers here in town can suggest materials to you and can help you with advice on all stages of the project. First mark down a rough sketch of the area, complete with measurements, and then consult them on how much the job should cost and what materials you will need.

Dust Before Painting

When you're preparing to paint the walls of a room, dust your walls thoroughly with a dry mop. Except in the kitchen, where walls are likely to have grease on them, they seldom need actual washing with cleansers before they're repainted.

Timeless Asphalt

The mummies of Egyptian pharaohs were sealed with asphalt which protected them for centuries. The asphalt used today in making such building materials as insulating siding and asphalt roofing shingles is basically the same as was used by the ancient Egyptians on mummies.

Floor Outlets Help

FLOOR OUTLETS are the answer to home owners who want electrical connections in unorthodox places. Use them for island furniture groupings; near room dividers which may contain a study desk, radio, TV; or in front of a floor-to-ceiling glass area which prohibits the use of wall outlets.

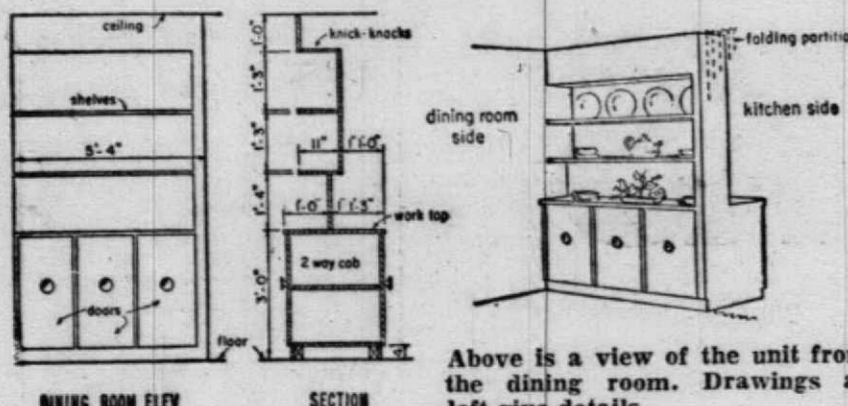

Good Insulation Breathes

Most of the good insulating materials have self-contained vapor to protect the walls from the dangers of excess condensation barriers; or like insulating siding, the materials "breathe" through joints that let moisture escape but keeps it from entering.

Unique Room Divider Features Two-Way Storage

Here's a novel idea for storage and display space dividing dining room and kitchen. It is one of many unique space-saving features presented by Small Homes Guide in a special "space house" design.

50 Years Ago

February 19, 1904
Children of Frank Ray were playing near a hot stove Tuesday about 5:30 o'clock when a quilt they were handling came in contact with the stove and ignited. Mrs. Ray was at a neighbors and when the children saw the circumstances they had the good sense to run to the door and yell for their mother. A couch meantime had also caught fire from the burning quilt and it was thrown out doors. There was no other damage. An alarm of fire was sounded and the hose companies promptly responded, but their services were fortunately not needed.

J. D. McLaren & Company had two cars of potatoes on the P.M. truck the other day which the railroad people promised to move out at 4 p.m. They were still there the next morning at 10, when Mr. McLaren telephoned down that the cars would have to be moved within an hour or the potatoes would belong to the railroad company. They were moved at once.

Probably the best and most handsomely electric lighted residence in the village is that of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Allen. One hundred and twenty-eight lights may be turned on the premises at once if occasion requires.

Frank P. Sage who has been attending the training school for nurses in Grace hospital for the past two years, completed his studies Wednesday, graduating with high honors. The same afternoon he went to work in the hospital on the regular staff. He is said to be quite proficient in his profession.

Perry Shaw, expected to attend the U. of M. last fall, but having sustained an injury to his left eye by the bursting of a pop bottle, he postponed his intention. At the beginning of the second semester last Monday, after a consultation with his oculist, the matter of attending the University was decided against him, as the injury to the eye does not seem to improve.

Clarence Jackson won the prize as the best dressed gentleman at the masquerade ball at the Wayne Palace Opera House, February 12. He was dressed as Jesse James.

Allie Richards, well known here, who was sent about a year ago to the penitentiary by the Wayne Circuit Court for a term of several years for making an effort to obtain his freedom on parole or pardon. Relatives are working in his behalf.

Superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, Edward Dennison, stating that the present Alfred street quarters are inadequate and citing crowded conditions there, entered a plea of the institution's commission for a new men's prison to be built immediately in Plymouth.

Captain and Mrs. Frank Wright have arrived in Plymouth with authority from Lieutenant Colonel A. S. Norris, Divisional Commander of the Eastern Michigan Division of the Salvation Army, to start operations and to open a Corps.

George D. Bunn, of near Salem, is spending an indefinite time with his daughter, Mrs. William Martin, 494 Starkweather avenue. Mr. Bunn had the misfortune to have his right hand severely mangled in a buzz saw recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bennett entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Colonel and Mrs. Edward G. Huber, of San Antonio, Texas, who are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck. Covers were laid for 12. Pink roses, spring flowers and pink tapers were used as table decorations. Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett entertained their guests at a theatre party at the local theatre.

Miss Mabel Spicer spent last week-end with friends in Ann Arbor, and on Saturday afternoon attended a bridge tea given by the Sarah Caswell Angell chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Alpha Chi Omega sorority house.

The village has received the executed copies of the lease for 99 years of the tourist camp property to the Wayne County Park Trustees, and this property will hereafter be known as the Plymouth Riverside park, and becomes officially a county park.

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the D.A.R. will meet at the home of Miss Bertha Warner on Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. H. S. Doerr will give a paper on "Legislation in United States Congress and National Defense."

Corporal Andrew Pellerito, a brother of Mrs. Peter Lomonaco, of Farmer avenue, has been reported by the war department as one of the fighting U. S. Marines killed in action somewhere in the Pacific.

Mayor Carl Shear appointed Earl Russell, vice president of the Wall Wire company, to succeed Mrs. Maud Bennett as a member of the City Planning commission last Monday night. At the same time, he reappointed Andrew Dunn and George Smith to the same commission.

Mrs. Ireta Gaynier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McLeod of this city, now of Coronado, California, sponsored the United States destroyer "Gaynier" at its launching Sunday, January 30, at San Pedro, California. The ship was named for her husband, Ensign Oswald J. Gaynier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Gaynier of Monroe, a flier killed at the battle of Midway. Ensign Gaynier was awarded the Navy Cross and Purple Heart, which have been received by Mrs. Gaynier.

A permanent organization of the Plymouth Choral society was formed at a meeting of the members. Horace Thatcher, who has been instrumental in forming the society, was elected president; Mrs. Hanna Strasen was elected vice president; Lester Valliquette was named secretary and Roy Clark was elected treasurer.

Howard Harris, whom police charge is the ringleader in a gang of thieves and burglars, which robbed the Roe Lumber company attempted to take his own life over the week-end by cracking his head against a bathtub in the county jail.

Taking official cognizance of the importance of victory gardens in the campaign to provide food for victory, Mayor Carl Shear this week appointed Robert Jolliffe as chairman of the Plymouth Victory Garden committee for the current year.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. David Sweeney and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bakewell and son Gerald were dinner guests Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. William Bakewell, Plymouth road. On Wednesday evening they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cripe on Mill street.

Elks Club to Hear Mort Neff Speak At Sports Night

Members of the Elks Lodge will sponsor a fish fry and sports night on Wednesday, February 17. Dinner will be served starting at 6 p.m. Guests are invited if accompanied by an Elk.

Bill Rambo, chairman of the affair, has announced that the evening's entertainment will consist of pictures and a talk by Mr. Michigan Outdoors, Mort Neff, by courtesy of the Alles Brewing company of Detroit.

Also listed on the agenda will be the appearance of Mort's fishing partner, Ben Hardesty, Michigan representative for Shakespeare fishing equipment and Frank Trezize, district manager for the Winchester Rifle company. George Piffier of Lippmans will accompany Mr. Neff.

Mort and Ben have returned from a fishing trip in Chile just in time for the show today. While there they took pictures of their Chilean fishing trip. It is hoped that some of the slides will be shown at the sports program.

Davis and Lent and Gunz Millers will furnish the sports background.

Fireflies Have Nothing On Incandescent Light

The light furnished by a firefly doesn't measure up to what science has produced in artificial illumination. Recent tests indicate that it would take between 1000 to 2000 fireflies, flashing simultaneously, to illuminate a room as brightly as the light from a single candle. The brightest firefly tested produced about nine one-thousandths of a lumen. A 60-watt electric incandescent lamp will produce 835 lumens.

Future Homemakers To Hold Bake Sale

To raise funds to help finance a trip to the State Convention in Grand Rapids the Plymouth high school Future Homemakers of America club sponsored a bake sale February 6, at Krogers with the baked goods donated by the club members. The general committee in charge of the bake sale consisted of Pat Unusko, chairman, Nancy Hopper, Carlene Luker, Carlene Hornback and Euna Combs.

The affiliate chapters of the Future Homemakers of America may send one representative for every 15 girls. The Plymouth chapter plans to send a delegation to the State F.H.A. Convention to be held March 5. Two members and an adult sponsor will attend the two-day session.

The girls, who had a general birthday party in the Home Economics room, February 2, collected as many pennies from each member as she was years old. The money will be given to a Michigan State college scholarship fund which annually helps from three to five deserving home economics majors.

Plans are now underway by the group for a taffy-pull and popcorn party which will be held this month in the homemaking department.

High School Students Can Enter National Photographic Contest

Plymouth high school students will have an opportunity to win fame—plus cash awards, for their achievements in photography through the ninth annual National High School Photographic contest.

This project, approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, will award prizes ranging from $5 up to five prizes, one in each class, of $250 each—a total of $4,500 for pictures submitted to this contest.

If any picture wins a national award it may also be chosen to be displayed with other award winners in the photographic salon which is exhibited in high schools throughout the United States.

Plymouth high school students can enter any or all of these five classes in picture-taking: school life activities (exclusive of sports), out of school activities (exclusive of sports), sports, art and architecture, and animals and pets.

To be eligible for the national awards, entries must be post-marked not later than midnight, March 15, 1954. Entries received after monthly closing dates will be included in the following month's judging. Entries for monthly awards must reach headquarters not later than the fifteenth of each monthly contest period.

Plan Exchange Talent Assembly With Trenton

Students are looking forward to an exchange talent assembly with Trenton high school, February 25, when pantomime artists and an orchestra from Trenton will provide entertainment from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Plymouth will present an assembly in Trenton sometime toward the last of February on the first of March. Talent from Plymouth will be chosen Wednesday noon, February 10, when all students who are interested in performing will meet with the assembly committee in the student council room.

The senior high band presented a band show to the student body Wednesday, February 10, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the gymnasium. Included in the program which was directed by Lawrence Livingston, band director, were novelty, popular, and semi-classical numbers.

Plans of the assembly committee which is headed by Kay Ingram, a senior, for the month of March include the annual honor assembly and a tumbling team at Mount Pleasant.

Plythean Now On Sale In School Classrooms

The 1954 Plythean, the high school annual is now being sold to students during first hour classes. The campaign which began yesterday will close today, February 11.

The Plythean which this year contains four more pages than last year's book, is being sold for the same price as last year. When the student orders an annual he will receive a receipt which he must present when he picks up the annual in June.

Taking charge of the sales campaign is Sally Morgan, business manager of the Plythean. Students who have first hour study hall are helping to sell Plytheans by going to classrooms to take orders.

A bumper crop of castor beans assures plenty of castor oil for 1954. Youngsters needn't get excited, tho, as industry will need most of the oil as a lubricant and as a paint-drying agent.

Organize Golf Team For Girls

Mrs. Dolores Caldwell, girls' swimming instructor, is organizing a girls' golf team. This is not the first attempt to organize a team, but it is the most recent.

The fact that golf is a new sport to most of the girls did not keep them from signing up. There was quite a large turnout. Those who signed up were: Inez Enterline, Sara Leet, Pat Lidgard, Betty Simmons, Gayle Lietz, Peggy Wingard, Dorothy Keen, Carol Partridge, Sally Morgan, Linda Hershey, Judy Swope, Mary Ellen Sparks, Nancy Lock, Janet Denoff, Beverly Goodale, Karla Herbold, Judy Veresh, Louanne Jensen, and Barbara Gibson.

Mrs. Caldwell will not be able to help the girls until sometime around May, but girls who wish to begin right away have the opportunity to take instructions from Chris Burghardt, who will hold classes in the junior high gym on Mondays and Tuesdays at different times beginning at 6 p.m. This runs for six weeks beginning Monday, February 8, and the fee is $2.50. The girls must have their own equipment.

There is also another course open but it does not begin until May 3. This course will be taught by Sally Sessions at the Lilac Brothers Golf Course. The cost is $5.00 and the girls must have their own equipment as in the other course.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Shock
Some one has sustained an injury. It may be severe. The victim turns pale. You are greatly alarmed when his pulse begins to weaken. He does not seem to be much concerned. In fact, he is close to unconsciousness, and often completely blacks out. What is happening to him?
The blood vessels are normally firm and elastic. They are contracted in health. Now they are flabby and soft. The blood runs lazily along in the dilated bed. The hemoglobin is probably sludging and finding it extremely difficult to squeeze through the capillaries. The heart beats rapidly ly laboring against the condition of the blood vessels.

Crushing injuries are usually followed by this condition which is shock. Fright is the first reaction to accidents, particularly where a number of people are involved, and there are mangled bodies, crushed and splinted bones, torn and shattered nerves.
Severe burns, whether involving large area or deep tissues of the body, are very apt to be followed by shock.
The temperature falls below normal. The breathing is uncertain, accompanied by gasps, yawns, and sighs. His face is as pale as death. If conscious, he keeps asking for water. He talks rationally, but remembers nothing about it afterwards.
Of course, as soon as the accident occurs, you send for the doctor or rush the patient to the hospital, and the doctor is delayed. Then you must know what to do in the meantime.
You should be able to recognize shock. It can do more damage than the injury itself.
Keep the sufferer quiet. Do not allow people to rush in chattering excitedly about the patient. Put him on his back with his head lower than his feet. Wrap him in blankets and put hot bricks or hot water bottles, or any method most convenient at the time for keeping the patient warm. When he asks for water, which he will probably do, if conscious, give him a little hot tea or coffee. A little cold water may also help.
Fainting, nausea, and vomiting are frequently followed by unconsciousness. As a rule, the patient does not complain of pain. All the senses seem deadened.
The doctor has remedies which he gives by hypodermic needles to help overcome shock. While the laymen cannot use them, yet he can obey the above instructions and perhaps save a life.

$7 Millions Given To School Fund By Michigan Bell

The Michigan Bell Telephone company again last year was the largest single contributor to the state Primary School Fund with a payment totaling $7,086,904.
According to figures released today by Dean A. Sipson, manager here for Michigan Bell, $14,950 of the total was allocated to the public school system of Plymouth.
Schools throughout Wayne county, including the city of Plymouth, received a total of $2,414,524 from the company's tax payment.
Sipson said the payments were based on a school census of 3,352 in Plymouth and 541,373 in Wayne county, as compiled by the State Department of Public Instruction.
The company's tax payment last year amounted to $4.46 for each of the 1,589,923 youngsters in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who are on the census rolls.
Michigan Bell, in common with railroads, Pullman, railway express, telegraph, and other companies, pays a state property tax earmarked for the Primary Fund in lieu of other property taxes.

sound, automatic heat, automatic hot water heater and a gas range.
Three of the units are already under roof. Other homes in the subdivision which will be sold include brick ranch styles and bungalows. Garling construction workers build homes throughout the winter months as well as the summer.
According to Robert Darling, local representative for the construction firm, each unit will have its own front and rear lawn which will be kept up by the tenants. Lawns will be sodded so that grass will be ready immediately and shrubs will be planted. Renters will also find their homes surrounded by sidewalks and paved streets.
Other features of the home include a full basement, a garbage disposal unit in the kitchen sink, and storm windows and screens.
Rental per month for the brick-faced homes has been set at $100 plus utilities with the exception of water. A year's lease is required.
Applications for the apartments are now being taken.

DUPEX APARTMENTS going up along South Mill street will be ready for their first occupants by mid-April, the Garling Construction company announced this week. Three of the 11 units being constructed are shown here. Garling, which is one of the largest single builders of homes in Plymouth, is also constructing ranch style homes in the subdivision which are being sold.

State politicians act like they are walking on eggs.

There are live issues to fight out but right now they get the soft shoe treatment. Eyes are on the fall elections and heads realize the situation: today's action can easily become tomorrow's campaign target. Upsetting the party applecart is the chief fear of all concerned.

Most of the fighting has been undercover. When lines are drawn, activity can be expected to take place in the open.

Key to delay has been the race for Governor.

Republicans, not sure who will run or who has the best chance for victory in the primary, have been laying low until things clear up.

The Democrats, not sure who will run for which office, have been marking time also.

Refusal to announce his intentions until the latest possible moment permitted Gov. Williams to make the most of the situation—and he has. Until political figures could identify opponents, no one was anxious to start swinging.

Even after John Feikens, GOP state chairman, tried to force his hand, the Governor withheld a public decision. Feikens predicted that Soapy would try for a fourth term as chief administrator "because labor bosses refused to finance any other campaign."

G. Mennen Williams simply answered, "I haven't yet made up my mind."

The one target for all Republican candidates would be, by mutual agreement, the Democratic candidate. This is the effect of a resolution GOP hopefuls have decided upon.

Another effect is that they won't be needing each other. Disunity produced from rigorous primary campaigns is blamed by some for Republican election losses in other years.

Harsh words of the session were spoken in arguments about FEPC.

The House committee considering Fair Employment Practices legislation tabled the matter—an action which usually kills proposals.

Republicans are in an embarrassing position on FEPC. President Eisenhower backs the measure strongly, but state GOP members show little enthusiasm to make it law here. At one time Governor Williams threatened to call upon the President for help in passing the legislation. Apparently he thought better of it.

Eugene C. Betz (R. Monroe) chairman of the State Affairs committee and in strong opposition to the bill, offered to debate the issue with the Governor via the airways. His challenge was not accepted.

A bill similar to FEPC is under consideration by the same committee. It outlaws discrimination in employment but differs in the method that it deals with violations. What happens to this remains to be seen.

Ducking for cover are those who argued only last year that new Michigan taxes on manufacturers would force factories from the state.

Since General Motors' announcement that the mammoth corporation would spend three quarters of a billion dollars expanding production facilities in Michigan, proponents of the "you're driving them away" theory have been happy to talk about any other subject. DuPont and General Electric also announced intentions to build new plants in Michigan.

Feuding continues about the highway department. At intervals during the last year, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has been defending himself from blasts by the Democratic administration.

All this time the argument concerned the same question: Is all available federal money used in the state highway program? Williams charges, "No" Ziegler produces data to back his emphatic, "Yes."

Republican suggestion for investigation into the matter met with approval from the Governor, but he wanted some Democrats on the committee to "be sure there is no whitewash."

Ziegler says he has no objection to investigation. He offers to supply detailed figures used to compile the report which the Highway department files annually. "The legislature requires a report every two years—we give them one every year," he explains.

Talking with his head in the clouds, "is a description Ziegler had for Williams. "The governor is deliberately misunderstanding some of the complications involved," continued Ziegler. The commissioner was referring to the complex formula used and time lags between appropriation of money in Washington and completed pavement. Ziegler declares that Michigan people are getting roads as quickly as possible. In some cases, bookkeeping transactions have permitted pavement to be completed a year earlier than might otherwise have been the case, he explained.

The important point the commissioner emphasizes: "Michigan has never lost a single penny of federal money building roads."

He explains that the 1954-55 appropriation from Washington is expected to amount to $19 million. Of this $3 automatically goes to counties. Of the remaining $16 million, about $6 million has already been programmed.

The governor wants to be sure the balance of the $10 million is matched with federal dollars; Ziegler says he hopes so too.

On that point, all are agreed. Open board meetings for governing bodies of Michigan State College and University of Michigan would be required by a proposal by Sen. Harold D. Ryan -D Detroit. A similar measure he sponsored last year died in committee. At present MSC opens its meetings to accredited newspaper reporters; U. of M. holds closed sessions.

Michigan 10,000 Years Ago To Be Described in Lecture

The story of Southeastern Michigan from a time 10,000 years ago to the present will be presented by Helen M. Martin, research geologist, in the second lecture of the conservation series, February 17. The free series, co-sponsored by the Adult Education department and the Western Wayne County Conservation association, will continue for four more weeks, being held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Miss Martin, who will be introduced by Miss Ruth Eriksson, Smith school principal, will illustrate her lecture with colored slides.

Currently working with the Geological Survey division of the Conservation department, Miss Martin has served the department as economic geologist, editor, director of Land Economic Survey, compiler of geologic maps, American Association of Advanced Science, American Forestry Society, National Geological Society, the American Museum of Natural History and the Michigan Mineralogical society.

Lectures for the following weeks will include: February 24, "Conservation Education: Not a School House in Sight;" March 3, "The Responsibility of the Community toward its Natural Resources," and March 10, "Your Outdoor Michigan."

There is the opportunity, at the close of the lecture, to answer questions or engage in group discussion.

FROM BOB JOLLIFFE vacationing in Phoenix, Arizona comes a copy of the "Treasure Trail News." He and Mrs. Jolliffe like it very much out there and he says to our publisher, "those Floridians you write about better get out here and see God's land!" They're staying at Mesa, where they will get a chance to see the Chicago Cubs in spring training," says Bob.

"THE PLYMOUTH MAIL is a little part of home away from home," says FTSN Ray Schraufnagl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schraufnagl of 45427 Cherry Hill. Ray wrote to The Mail notifying us of his new address which is: 971-59-61, USS Purvis, DD 709, in care of FPO, New York, New York.

ANOTHER SERVICEMAN just back from a year in Korea is 1st Lieutenant James Gray who said that even though at times The Mail did not find him until a month after it was sent, it was always a pleasure to read about the folks back in Plymouth. Jim is staying in the Army and his next stop is Camp Gordon, Georgia.

ALONG WITH NAT SIBBOLD, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce secretary, we had lunch in Detroit last Thursday with television's fabulous "Soupy" Sales. Purpose of the meeting was to get Soupy to return to Plymouth this Fourth of July for the annual celebration. It wasn't any job at all—"wouldn't miss it," said Soupy. "Sure did like those bathing beauties!" A real conscientious fellow, Soupy works hard at preparing both his noon and evening programs. His rating in Detroit has zoomed and he is hoping to get lots of votes in the current TV Guide poll. If Soupy's a favorite of your family, why not support him in the poll! Who knows, he may get enough recognition to gain a network spot for his children's program—and that's the goal of every TV performer!

WHILE IN DETROIT, we met Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsden, former residents of Plymouth. They both miss Plymouth and still take The Mail to "keep in touch". Mrs. Marsden said they followed the Chamber's "Trip to Bermuda" contest and even came out to Stop & Shop and Dunning's to shop so that she could get tickets for the contest! Formerly head of personnel at the Plymouth Burrough's plant, Mr. Marsden was transferred to Detroit.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: The chief cause of human errors is to be found in the prejudices picked up in childhood.—Rene Descartes.

Business Bureau Says Black-White TV Future Good

Because of widespread public confusion on the subject of color television, Nat Sibbold, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, issued a statement this week concerning the availability of color television receivers. The statement was based upon a questionnaire-survey of the nation's television set manufacturers by the National Better Business Bureau with which the local Chamber is affiliated.

"Returns from the questionnaires clearly demonstrate that there is no basis for public expectations that color receivers will be available in quantity in the near future or that the difference in price between color and black receivers will soon be a negligible factor," the Chamber secretary said.

It is the consensus among manufacturers that production of color sets during 1954 will be extremely small; that color television receivers will be relatively expensive, retailing somewhere between $700 and $1,000 and that picture sizes of the first color receivers will be quite small.

While a few color programs on a limited network will be broadcast to a number of our larger cities during 1954, most authorities in the industry are quoted as agreeing that color programs will be infrequent for many months or until enough color sets have been sold to make color programs worth while to the sponsor. It is also their opinion that black and white programs may always outnumber color telecasts.

Sibbold stated that color TV will develop gradually as one more stage in the orderly evolution of the television industry. It will not ferment a revolution which would destroy or impair the value of television receivers now in use. Specifically, it will not obsolete the black and white (monochrome) receiving set you now own or contemplate purchasing.

"On the contrary, these sets will receive future color broadcasts and reproduce the pictures in conventional black and white with the same high quality as is provided by the standard black and white broadcasts now in use in the United States," Sibbold says.

The Better Business Bureau claims have invested over $7,000, who have invested over $7,000, 000 in the 25,000,000 black and white receivers now in use in the United States.

Their report concluded, "These facts should also allay the fears of millions of other Americans who have deferred the purchase of a television set in the mistaken belief that the advent of color would automatically relegate all black and white receivers to the junk heap. No longer need they deprive themselves of the entertainment and cultural advantages which present day television offers."

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The first of 10,000 post card questionnaires were mailed early last week to state hunters as the second annual conservation department poll of deer hunting information got underway.

The name of each 41st person who purchased a license was lifted from department files; these will receive the brief questionnaires.

Bear hunting information also is being requested on the cards.

The hunters are being asked eight questions. Game workers want to know whether or not the license buyer hunted and if so, where. They want to know if a deer was shot, whether it was a buck or doe, the day it was shot, the place where killed and if and where a bear was killed.

Return postage of the cards is guaranteed, so hunters have merely to check off their answers and drop the cards in a post box.

Hunters who fail to answer the first card will be asked again for the information. Last year, reluctant hunters had to be asked four times and many who failed to respond were then contacted personally by conservation officers. A small percentage had given incorrect addresses or were otherwise unreachable through the license roster.

Game workers are aiming for a high percentage of return on the cards. Statisticians at the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, who advised conservation workers on the poll, say that only through a high return of the cards will it be possible to give the public the information it wants about deer hunting last fall.

Last year, 97 per cent of hunters who received the cards returned them with the information requested. Statisticians say this was an exceptional return and gave accurate, low-cost information on the hunting season.

An outgrowth of the deer hunting poll is a similar post card survey of pheasant hunting information, now nearing completion. That poll is being made of 3000 small game hunters.

As with the deer poll, the pheasant check was approved by U of M statisticians.

Waterfowl hunters were slightly less successful last season than during the previous two seasons, a conservation department field survey shows.

Department workers interviewed 12,000-16,000 hunters during each of the last three seasons, asking about hunting success, how long each hunter was on the marshes or potholes, and what types of birds were bagged. The survey was recently compiled in game division offices.

In each of the years, hunters interviewed had bagged an average from slightly more to slightly less than one bird per day during the particular day they were interviewed.

Most birds bagged of course were ducks, but the list included geese and coots.

Mallards, Black ducks, scaup and blue and green-winged teal were most common types of ducks taken.

Crippling losses were high each year. Hunters reported in 1951 and 1952 that 23 per cent of the birds they hit could not be retrieved. In 1953, this loss inched up to 25 per cent. Long range shooting and hunting without dogs were listed as two most common reasons for losing killed or injured birds.

Outdoorsmen interviewed each hunted an average of five hours per day.

Most interviewing was done in the southern lower peninsula, where most waterfowl hunting is done. The least amount was done in the upper peninsula.

A buck, three does and two fawns were recently placed in special pens in a deer yard near Skanee to check the amount of food the animals strip from trees and brush in the area.

Robert Rafferty, conservation game supervisor in the district, says the pens are in a typical hemlock-hardwood area used by deer for food and shelter in-winter.

The pens will keep the six deer in and others out of the check area.

The animals will be watched for malnutrition or proper feeding, and the extent of their browsing activities will be studied.

Information gained through the work will help game workers develop future management plans for the state deer herd.
