

THE ST. MARY HOSPITAL fund raising drive was given a substantial boost this week when a physician practicing in Dearborn, and making his residence in Plymouth, contributed a $6,500 gift of the Medical Staff Lounge to the hospital. The donor was Charles W. Castrop, M.D. who resides at 45505 N. Territorial road and has his offices at the Dearborn Medical Center. He is pictured presenting his check to Mrs. Paul Emrick section leader while Mrs. Austin Stecker, community appeals chairman, witnesses the charitable gesture.

Local Churches Plan Mid-Week Lenten Services

Many local churches, with the beginning of Lent on Ash Wednesday, March 3, will begin to hold special mid-week services on the pre-Easter theme. These will continue throughout the Lenten season, climaxing with the Easter Sunday worship.

The series of Wednesday evening services at the First Presbyterian church will center on the work of the Christian church in the Far East. Speakers will be foreign students from these countries, now attending the University of Michigan. They will give reports on their respective countries and the Christian work there.

This series, beginning on March 3, will start with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. with the services at 7:15. Concurrently a series of six movies on the life of Christ will be shown to the children.

The First Methodist church has planned four Thursday Lenten Fellowship suppers at 6:30 p.m. with services at 7:30 p.m. Scheduled speakers for these services are: March 18, the Reverend Oliver J. Collins, D. D., minister of the First Methodist church, Highland Park; March 25, the Reverend Merrill Abbey, D.D., First Methodist church of Ann Arbor; April 1, the Reverend Chester McPheeters, D.D., Metropolitan Methodist church, Detroit; April 8, the Reverend Gordon Phillips, D. D., Executive secretary of the Methodist Union of greater Detroit. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed on Maundy Thursday, April 15.

Lenten services at St. John's Episcopal church will be held on Sunday evenings at 5 p.m., beginning March 7. These will feature a series of colored slides entitled "They Beheld His Glory," with the theme showing Christ's trial, Crucifixion and Resurrection. Holy Communion will be observed each Wednesday morning (Continued on page 6)

DEADLINE FOR AUTOMOBILE LICENSES is serving to pack the License Bureau in the Plymouth Township hall with late-comers. Mrs. Alice Rambo, who is shown here taking license applications, said that the office will be open today from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Saturday, February 27, will be the final day for getting the 1954 "Water Wonderland" plates for your car.

City Buys Land For More Parking

Purchase of five parcels of land from Union street property owners for the expansion of the East Central parking lot, was announced this week by City Manager Albert Glassford.

A total sum of $7,600 was paid the five landholders by the city for the rear 50 feet of their lots. The purchase gives the city a 50-foot strip of property running from the present East Central lot (located behind The Mail office) to Dodge street.

High School Band Wins High Rating In District Meet

A first division rating was given the Plymouth high school band in the division festival in Ypsilanti on February 20. This is only the second year the local band under the direction of Laurence Livingston has been entered in the class A competition.

Because of their good showing in the district meet, Plymouth will be permitted to enter the state festival, scheduled for Saturday, April 24, in East Lansing.

The local band was one of four out of the nine class A bands in the Southeastern Michigan District to be given this honor. The other three winners were Pontiac, Birmingham and Ann Arbor high schools. Ypsilanti Central and Highland Park received second division ratings while Southfield, Hazel Park and Mount Clemens were placed in the third division.

Judging the event were William Revelli of the University of Michigan bands, Leonard Falcone of Michigan State college, and Harry Begian, Detroit Public schools.

The high school band will join bandmen from the fourth grade through the 12th to present the annual Parade of Bands on Thursday March 4, beginning at 8 p.m. Harry Begian, director of the Cass Technical high school band in Detroit, will be guest conductor for the high school band. There will be no admission charge for the event.

Improvement of the new purchase will get underway within the near future, the city manager said. A fence will be erected between the new purchase and the land of the former property owners. Curb and gutter will also be installed and some garages will be relocated. The new parking strip is expected to accommodate two rows of parked cars and leave a drive between. Street lighting of the new area will also be forthcoming.

Plymouth Draws Fordson as First Regional Rival

The Plymouth high school basketball team has its work cut out if the squad is to advance very far in regional play this year. The Rocks bump head-on into Fordson, the defending Class A state champion, in the very first game. Drawings were held last Tuesday afternoon at the local high school, where the state regional class A tournament will be held for the second straight year.

Fordson picked Plymouth's name from the hat. These two teams met in the same tournament last year in a semi-final match, and the Tractors received a mighty scare as the Rocks played them on even terms for three periods only to weaken in the final five minutes. Fordson went on to win the coveted state crown by defeating Lansing Sexton in the finals. The Tractors do not have the championship outfit of last year, but are still listed in the top 10 teams in the state.

Seven teams will battle for the right to advance to the state quarter-finals. Other pairings are: Catholic Central of Detroit opens the Plymouth tourney in a game with Lincoln Park at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, March 10. The Plymouth-Fordson fray will begin at 7:30 p.m. the same night. Detroit St. Joseph will tangle with Dearborn at 9 p.m. to wind up the first evening of play. Detroit St. Anthony, a finalist in the Detroit Catholic First Division this year, drew the first round bye, and will play the winner of the St. Joseph-Deaorbn game at 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 11. The winner of the first two games on Wednesday night will be pitted against each other at 8:30 on Thursday night. The finals are scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday, March 13.

Tournament Manager John Sandmann expects the regional to be every bit as popular as it was last year when each night had a near-capacity crowd. State officials and team coaches lauded the manner in which the tourney was conducted last year, and praised the splendid facilities for holding such a spectacle.

Coach Sandmann states that the ticket office will be open at 5:15 on Wednesday, 6 p.m. on Thursday and 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Rotary Entertains Farmer Guests at Banquet Tonight

Rotarians and their farmer guests will hear John E. Bardach, professor of fisheries at the University of Michigan tonight at the Rotary annual rural-urban dinner to be held at the Hotel Mayflower.

Substituting for Dr. Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne University who was called out of the state, and previously announced as speaker, Professor Bardach is an outdoor enthusiast having travelled far and wide fishing and skiing.

The subject of his talk tonight will be "Tenderfoot in the Arctic" which will be a day by day account of his experience (with pictures) of a 10 week canoe trip down a large stream where the only living things encountered were wolves, bears and caribou.

The program is under the direction of Jack Taylor, chairman of the rural-urban committee. Music will be furnished by the high school girls glee club and Jerry Hoelscher and his electric accordion from the Music Center.

Miss Edna M. Allen was called to Ithaca early this week by the death of her brother Marshall of Detroit. Burial was in Ithaca, the family home.

Stop & Shop Marks Fifth Anniversary

A week-long celebration marking their fifth year as retail grocers in Plymouth is being observed this week by the Rucker brothers — Jay, Bill and Joe, owners of Stop & Shop super market. The anniversary event began Wednesday and will continue through next Tuesday.

Beginning with the Forest avenue Plymouth store the Ruckers have since added super markets in Brighton and Ann Arbor. They stated that this year's celebration will be highlighted by "outstanding values in appreciation of the years of patronage afforded by Plymouth shoppers."

It was reported that the thief went to a neighbor's yard where he found some bricks. Placing the brick under the car, air was let out of the tires and the wheels then taken off. There has been no trace of the tires, police said.

Sometime Thursday night, one or several vandals went on a mirror-smashing spree—apparently unafraid of any seven-year bad luck superstition. Police theorized that someone either went down the street on a bicycle or stuck their hand out the car to strike the outside mirrors. Four were smashed on Auburn, another on Arthur street and still another on Shearer near Sheldon.

Miss Evelyn Montgomery was guest of honor at a surprise going-away party on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Carl Finney and Mrs. Luella Cutler entertained 12 of Evelyn's co-workers at the Plymouth Mail in the Finney home on Arthur street. Following an evening of games, Miss Montgomery was presented with lovely gifts from the group.

This Year's TB X-rays Triple That of 1952

Over three times as many people received chest x-rays during the 1954 Chestmobile visit than during its last visit to the Plymouth area two years ago.

That is the final word from the Chestmobile committee as they counted up a total of 9,141 chest pictures taken during the free x-ray campaign which ended last week. There were 3,018 x-rays given while the Chestmobile visited here in 1952. A comparison of the two years showed:

A total of 888 x-rays were given school children this year, 798 in 1952; a total of 6,179 x-rays were given at industrial locations this year, 988 two years ago; and a total of 2,074 x-rays given the general public as compared with 1,232 in 1952.

General Chairman Sam Hudson said that the industrial x-rays were clearly the largest factor in the big increase. Community x-rays were nearly doubled, while x-rays among students were increased by nearly 100.

The school figure stands for nearly 100 per cent of the high school enrollment. Pupils in the lower grades were not x-rayed unless accompanied by a parent because of the high cost of the program and the small possibility of tuberculosis occurring in children.

The goal set for this year's program was 5,300 x-rays.

56 "Sleepless" Citizens Seek Quieter Pumps

A petition signed by 56 persons complaining about noisy gasoline pumps which keep them awake at night will be presented to the Standard Oil company whose pumps at Amelia and Farmer streets have been the subject of a neighborhood controversy for two years.

Vito Simonetti, 392 Farmer street, spearheaded the petition which has been signed by residents living on Farmer, Starkweather, Spring, Liberty, Blanche and Davis streets.

Mr. Simonetti appeared before the city commission last month to vigorously protest the night-time pumping at the bulk station. He was advised by City Attorney Harry Deyo that the city council could do nothing about the noise since the oil company is situated in the heavy manufacturing zone, but that a citizen could go to court and seek an injunction.

Although he has not gone to circuit court with his protest, Mr. Simonetti is carrying on his fight here by attempting to prove that he is not alone in his complaint. He therefore secured the names of 56 householders with the petition "to install quieter pumps at their bulk station on the corner of Farmer and Amelia streets in the city of Plymouth, Michigan; the operation of the pumps during the night-time causes such noise as to make it impossible for us to obtain any sleep."

The store first opened for business in February, 1950, in the present building which previously had been occupied by the Richard Kimbrough appliance store. The store is holding an anniversary sale event this weekend, during which free plastic dampening bags will be distributed to visitors.

Planners Hear Zoning Problems

Zoning problems of a rest home, a railroad and a proposed factory were heard by the Plymouth planning commission last Thursday night.

Mrs. Blanche Richardson who operates the Pine Grove Rest Home at 366 West Ann Arbor trail, was told that she must have the zoning map changed in order that the commission can grant her request to allow her to enlarge the rest home. Mrs. Richardson said that she was told by "someone at the city hall" last September that she should get the plans, bring them in for approval and go ahead with the building.

Last week she applied for a building permit and was told that she could not build the addition in that area because of the new zoning code. She had already started some of the work on the addition. The only means of allowing such a change in the zoning code, the commission advised, is for her to petition for a zoning map change.

Two representatives of the C & O railroad again appeared before zoning commissioners to seek a change in the zoning map for railroad-owned properties north of Junction street.

James Stimpson, 529 Garfield, was turned down by Commissioners on a request to allow him to start a tool company in the building vacated on Ann Arbor road by Rose Auto. Since the operation would consist of machine operations as well as retail selling and the area is zoned commercial-2, the planners rejected the request.

Better Homes Four Years Old

Better Home Furniture and Appliances, 450 Forest avenue, will mark its fourth anniversary in Plymouth this weekend. Bert and Babe Wase, brothers and co-owners of the store, made a joint announcement of the birthday observance today.

The store first opened for business in February, 1950, in the present building which previously had been occupied by the Richard Kimbrough appliance store. The store is holding an anniversary sale event this weekend, during which free plastic dampening bags will be distributed to visitors.

LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY

Certain Florida real estate operators are again busy with tempting opportunities for folks back up north to buy beautiful, oceanside building sites for future retirement homes or investments. This is not true of the vast majority of Florida real estate brokers, who as a whole are as dependable as those here at home, but typical of boom areas certain undesirable groups do get into business with the intent of fleecing suckers up north.

Because a few Plymouth residents had mentioned to us that they had invested in certain of these lots we made inquiry about the properties. One such promotion was offered by a group calling themselves a civic organization of a certain area in Florida.

We visited the site and found that lots were offered for $200.00 with a $25.00 down payment and a ridiculously low monthly payment. The northern investor was sold his lot then told that the restrictions were such that he had to buy two in order to qualify under the terms of the promotion.

Immediately his purchase price doubled. This particular property was located in the midst of a huge tract of Florida waste land many miles away from the nearest Florida palm tree. None of the lots offered at these prices are near the ocean and some are even flooded with water.

It is doubtful if the lots would be considered a good investment even at the price they are offered however, that decision is not ours and should be made by the local investor. We are mentioning this at the request of local residents and suggesting that before others decide to purchase property in any of these newer developments they visit the sites and see for themselves what they are buying.

EVERYONE LOSES

The tragic fire which ruined three of Plymouth's stores is a sad loss not only for the proprietors but also to the residents of this community.

Certainly everyone loses when there is a fire and Plymouth's record of fire losses has been most commendable during the last two or three years. Three local businessmen now have the additional worry of rebuilding their store interiors and again stocking them with their typically high quality merchandise.

It is difficult enough these days to carry on the routine daily affairs of a business, and tragedies of this nature pile more burdens on to the backs of enterprising merchants.

The $100,000 loss will represent only a small portion of the actual loss to the merchants and certainly the community will suffer while they are rebuilding, in that their merchandise is not readily available to the hundreds of customers who would normally visit those establishments.

Fire damaged or destroyed an estimated $903,400,000 worth of property in the United States last year, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has reported. This is 15.1 per cent higher than the previous year. The National Fire Protection Association states that fire caused 12,360 deaths in the United States last year and the grim facts reveal that fire is the number three killer in this country. Only falls and traffic claim more by death in the accident compilation.

From this serious loss other local merchants and businessmen should draw a quick conclusion. Once more, today, take another check of the building that houses your business. Make sure you have complied with the suggestions given you only a few weeks ago by the Fire Underwriters who visited the city for an overall inspection, and thirdly in case of doubt of a condition in your store, call the fire department for advice and counsel. There is no city department more ready to cooperate for the purpose of reducing fire loss than the fire department and your efforts and their counsel might prevent another loss which also could be felt through the entire community.

Stabbing Brings 90-Day Sentence

An ice pick stabbing of a fellow worker has resulted in the sentencing of Tyler Justice Reliford, Chesapeake & Ohio railroad sectionhand, to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

The incident took place at 4:15 p.m. last Saturday in a camp car in the railroad yards. A railroad detective told city police that Reliford had been drinking, entered the car and stabbed Sam Moore for no apparent reason.

Moore was taken to a local doctor and treated for a minor wound. He appeared at the police station Monday morning to sign a complaint.

Reliford, charged with assault and battery, appeared before Justice of the Peace Nandino Perlongo Tuesday morning and was handed the 90-day sentence.

Plymouth Cancer Unit Launches Six-Week Drive for White Goods

The local Cancer Unit prepared to launch its all-out campaign for white goods this week. The unit, which is a branch of the American Cancer Society, stressed that white goods for cancer dressings are badly needed in this area.

Many women's organizations in the community are now cooperating with the collection of old sheets, pillow cases and shirts. Other organizations and individuals are being asked to look around their homes for white material that is no longer used. Also of importance is the need for large grocery bags and dry cleaner bags.

The Plymouth Cancer Society is a comparatively newly-formed unit of the Southeastern division of the American Cancer Society in Michigan. Cancer dressings and an extensive educational program are the two primary phases of the unit's work. Under the guidance of Norman Marquis, president of the Plymouth unit, the organization has a tremendous task ahead.

Last year approximately one of every three cancer deaths could have been prevented if the case had been detected in time and promptly and properly treated. This year, out of every seven deaths, one will be caused by cancer. Facts like these make those who are familiar with cancer work carry on toward the education of the many people who "just do not realize" the full impact of the fact that, concerning cancer as other diseases, the more one learns, the better chance to live.

April has been designated as Cancer month. Plymouth women are having the chance to help aid in the tremendous task of collecting together the much needed white goods. White goods are used with a cellulose filler, making a type dressing that is invaluable to a cancer patient. Women who do not belong to an organization, may phone 1553-W.

Mrs. William Norman, public relations chairman of the unit, is heading the white drive. White goods may also be sent to each of the elementary schools, Allen, Bird, Smith, and Starkweather. The schools will act as a depot for pickup service. An organization or club is requested to have the president or leader of each hold the white goods or bags until a goodly amount is collected. Then phone Mrs. Norman for pickup service. They may also be delivered to 1310 Hartsough.

The drive is going to be conducted actively for approximately six weeks. After that period, those wishing to donate should call Mrs. Norman.

It is through the women of Plymouth and outlying townships that the success of this drive depends Mrs. Norman said. Everyone who donates white goods or bags will receive a tiny plastic red "sword of hope," the Cancer Society's symbol. It will serve as a reminder to all who view it, that the wearer helped in the fight of cancer and to remind all to please save any old white goods. The Plymouth Unit of the American Cancer Society feels confident that the women of this town will put this drive over the top, Mrs. Norman said.

William Mattsons Reside in Plymouth

St. Michael's church Livonia, was the scene of the lovely wedding uniting Mary E. Voss and William J. Mattson. Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Voss of Farmington road, Garden City, and the Edward Mattsons of Iron Mountain, Michigan are the bridegroom's parents.

The nuptial Mass was sung by the Reverend Father Norbert Chateau at ten o'clock on January 30. Baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons adorned the altar.

Mary's gown was of white net and lace over skinner satin. The fitted bodice of lace featured a portrait neckline of illusion with a lace Peter Pan collar. The full net skirt and the satin extended into a court train. Her fingertip length veil of the illusion fell gracefully from her lace Juliet cap and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Mrs. George Schoenneman, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale green net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Patricia Sexton, bridesmaid, wore a gown of pale pink taffeta and carried yellow carnations.

George Schoenneman served William as best man and seating the guests were Kenneth and Edgar Voss and John Yuchas.

Mrs. Voss selected a beige dress with which she wore black accessories. Mrs. Mattson also chose black accessories for her light blue dress. Both mothers wore pink carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 200 guests in the Parish hall. Guests were present from Detroit, Niles, Allen Park, Iron Mountain and Plymouth.

Following a week's honeymoon the couple returned to Plymouth where they will make their home. Mrs. Mattson wore a light blue dress with black accessories for traveling.

Mary was graduated from Plymouth high school and her husband attended Michigan State college in East Lansing.

Collision Injures Township Driver

A Plymouth township woman was one of two persons injured in a collision last Saturday night at Canton Center and Ford roads in which a Belleville driver admitted disregarding a stop sign.

Mrs. Heloise W. Campbell, 42, of 45110 Joy road, received cuts on the head in the mishap. She and Judy Rowe, 13, Al Smith road, who also received head injuries, were taken to the Wayne County General hospital.

Mrs. Campbell was driving east on Ford road at 11:54 p.m. when Thomas Pyle of Belleville drove his car into the intersection in front of the Campbell car. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Pyle admitted to the Wayne county sheriff's authorities that he ran the stop sign. Mrs. Campbell signed no complaint against the other driver who has agreed to pay for damages, the road patrol said. Both drivers reported they were driving 40 miles per hour.

Honor Earl Fosters On 49th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Foster, Sr., of Ann Arbor road were honored on their 49th wedding anniversary Monday evening, February 22, with a buffet supper. The supper was given by their daughter, Mrs. Henry Sims in her home at 9440 Northern.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster have four children, Mrs. Sims, Earl C. Foster, Jr., Lewis Foster and Mrs. Clara Fortner, all of Plymouth. Attending the supper, besides the immediate family, were Paul Hockenberry and the Reverend E. T. Hadwin and family.

Injured Fireman Now in Hospital

Plymouth's $100,000 downtown fire two weeks ago has resulted in the hospitalization of one of the firemen—a whole week after the fire.

Roy Bennett, 551 Irvin, was painfully injured when he ran a nail deep into his foot while fighting the Fashion Shoe store fire on the morning of February 13. A local physician administered a tetanus shot to prevent the sometimes fatal disease.

Bennett's foot has been healing "as well as could be expected" but the Burroughs' employee has now suffered a reaction from the tetanus shot. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Sunday.

The boy who feels that he wants to be looked up to might try taking up stunt flying.

Sells Northville Garage to Taylor

Announcement was made this week by Cy Owens of Plymouth of the sale of his Ford agency at Northville to Marr Taylor of Detroit. Mr. Taylor, a member of the Dodge automobile agency on Livernois street, that advertises as the Taylor Family, took over the management Monday morning of the Northville garage.

Mr. Owens is now operating the Ford agency in Pontiac which he purchased in November. A former employee of the local post office Mr. Owens entered the car business in 1944 with Jake Hines in the Hines and Owen, Kaiser-Frazer dealership here. In 1951 he moved to Northville where he stayed until moving to Pontiac. He still makes his residence with his family here in Plymouth.

Last call for this year on our southland sojourn was at West Palm Beach where we headed for a little emergency car service at the hands of our old friend Bev Smith. I might mention for Jack Selle's benefit that there wasn't a thing wrong with that hot yellow buggie we drove, which the negroes just loved down south, except for our own ignorance in its high powered operation.

If all Plymouth visitors receive the same royal reception that we did at the hands of this former Plymouth family I would suggest right now you plan car trouble next year and head straight for Bev Smith's Ford agency at West Palm Beach.

On arrival we were immediately dated up for a dinner party and cocktails at the Smith's lovely home on one of West Palm's most beautiful streets. Pictured below are members of the Smith family, Nickie, Maria (formerly Johnson) and Bev seated in the cozy sunroom of their home.

The Smiths left Plymouth because of Mrs. Smith's health and the former Farmington and Northville Ford dealer now has one of Florida's busiest Ford sales. In January they delivered 140 new cars. His sales staff consists of such celebrities as Johnny Gray, New York Yankee pitcher who was traded this season to the Athletics. For sure... hope for a dinner with the Smith's at West Palm's swanky Sail Fish Club where at the next table you might find "Sonny" Whitney or any of New York's millionaire clan.

At the dinner party were West Palm residents Maude and Evelyn Schrader who spend their summers here with their son and brother Edwin. Also pictured is Winn Schrader who had flown down previous to his folks' arrival to spend a few days alone with his grandmother and auntie "Boo". Another gracious hostess to Plymouth visitors in the southland is Mrs. Schrader who always holds open house to friends from the north.

Surprise of the evening was the arrival of Attorney and Mrs. Perry Richwine who had come in by train from Marine Corps Depot at Parris Island, South Carolina, where they had been visiting their daughter 2nd Lieutenant Mary L. Richwine who is stationed there. It seems they had arrived the night before and were guests of the owner of the Pennsylvania Hotel in West Palm on his yacht all day cruising the fabulous gold coast of Florida.

Last picture of the year was at Ocala, Florida where we met Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader at their favorite stopping place in that interesting city. Pictured left to right are, Mr. Schrader, Rosalie Cushman, Gene Cushman, my travelling secretary, and Mrs. Schrader. We posed this picture so we might tell you about the Mt. Vernon Motor Lodge which the Cushmans operate at Ocala.

The Schraders, on their way south, have stopped here for several years and have become good friends of the Cushmans. It was at their suggestion we meet them here and have dinner together before leaving for home.

The Mt. Vernon Lodge we can recommend most highly to local travellers. It has a most inviting swimming pool and charges a surprisingly low rate of $10.00 per night for a couple in a spacious twin bed room and furnishes in addition, free soda, Coca Cola, ginger ale, ice, hors d'oeuvres before dinner and a delicious scrambled egg breakfast in your room in the morning... little wonder we hated to leave.

Many Attend Salvation Army Celebration

Large crowds turned out to join in the 25th anniversary celebration of the Plymouth Salvation Army last weekend with one of the honored guests being Mrs. Frank Wright, co-founder of the local corps.

An open house at the citadel started the activities Saturday afternoon. Other programs were held both Saturday and Sunday evenings along with the Sunday morning service. Guest speakers included Senior Major Clyde Cox of Detroit, divisional secretary, and Captain William Roberts, former officer in Plymouth. Captain Roberts also brought his 15-member band for the Sunday night program.

Mrs. Wright and her husband, Captain Wright, founded the Plymouth corps 25 years ago. Captain Wright has since died. Also attending and helping to plan the program was Adjutant Helen Arnold, who is a Plymouth resident and served as an officer here in the early 1940's.

The Salvation Army advisory board held their annual meeting Monday night at the Mayflower hotel at which Senior Major Cox was the principal speaker. Frank Henderson is president of the board. Currently in charge of the corps is Senior Major H. J. Nicholls.

Symphony to Feature Viola, Violin Works

Wind and string instruments will carry the honors in the fifth concert of the current symphony series. Conductor Wayne Dunlap will again direct the Plymouth Symphony orchestra for the Sunday, February 28 concert in the high school auditorium. Concerts begin at 4 p.m.

Highlight of the concert will be a work especially commissioned by the Symphony Society for performance in this concert entitled "Divertimento for Wind Instruments" by Will Gay Bottje. Bottje is a native of Grand Rapids and is now working toward his Ph.D. degree at the Eastman School of Music. The work, consisting of three movements, will have its first performance Sunday.

Of equal interest is a great, but seldom performed, work of Hector Berlioz, a French composer of the last century whose genius is just now becoming recognized. It is a dramatic symphony entitled "Harold in Italy." Its four movements are "Harold in the Mountains," "March of the Pilgrims," "Serenade" and "Orgy of the Brigands."

The character of Harold is portrayed by a solo viola played by Robert Courte, world-renowned violist who is now a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan.

The other on this program is one of Mozart's most beautiful works, "Sinfonia Concertante" for violin and viola. Emil Raab, well-known violin soloist and faculty member of the University of Michigan, will be joined by Courte in the performance of this work.

Raab and Courte are at present on an eastern tour with the Stanley Quartet of the University and are flying back to Michigan in order to play this performance with the Plymouth Symphony.

Raab is a native of Germany although all of his musical training has been in this country. He is a graduate of the National Orchestra association of New York and of the University of Michigan.

Courte is a native of Belgium, having received his musical training in Brussels. He toured this country for several years with the Pagannini String Quartet, and has appeared as soloist with several of the better-known orchestras of this country.

Dunlap urged that those wishing to attend come early in order to get seats in the auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Grange Gleanings

On March 4 we are to have a very important meeting of the Grange. Every member should make a special effort to be present but particularly those who have Blue Cross Insurance. A very important matter will be discussed and a vote taken which will be of state wide importance and influence.

That is the usual potluck supper night too, you know, so bring along a dish to pass and your own table service.

Everyone had a good time and lots of fun at the dance Saturday night. It was such a very rainy night we were really surprised at the attendance. Where can one have more fun and a good time than at a square dance? There will be one more this season on March 27, so remember that date and come. Bring a group of your friends. Cake and coffee were served after the dance.

We are sorry to report that Joe Tracy is seriously ill at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor, room 344, from a severe heart attack last Friday while at their son's home at Standish.

We are to have as our speaker at the next meeting, March 4, Mrs. Arthur Carlson of Northville who will have as her subject "Holding Our Freedom." She is a very spirited speaker and is well informed so come and hear her. We may get some useful information.

EVANS 6-CAR AUTOLOADER

Evans Products Unveils New 6-Car Auto Loader

Automotive men, railroad executives and newspaper editors saw the unveiling of a new kind of railroad car yesterday morning at the Plymouth plant of the Evans Products company.

Designed to permit the shipment of six automobiles by railroad car instead of four, the new Evans 6-car Auto Loader was hailed as a new milestone in railroad car efficiency. It is the outgrowth of the Evans 4-car Auto Loader which has been installed in more than 30,000 box cars.

The auto, rail and newspaper representatives were shown how the new loader's pay load is increased 50 per cent over conventional freight car auto loads. They also learned that two railroad cars will be able to do the work of three and through modification of present loading and unloading practices, it is expected the new Auto Loader will do much to increase revenues for railroads.

A special bus to the Evans plant left the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel at 9 a.m. yesterday, bringing the railroad, newspaper and automobile company officials. After returning to the hotel at 1:45, a luncheon was served.

The visitors saw that the new Auto Loader is built on a standard 53-foot, 6-inch flat car and is adaptable to 57-foot 6-inch cars. Three autos are carried on the floor of the car and three on the second deck. It can be loaded from either end or side. Autos were shown being driven aboard under their own power and wide loading entrances made auto loading easy and reduced both loading and unloading time.

In commenting on the new car, E. S. Evans, Jr., president of the Evans Products company, said, "This contribution to the shipment of autos by rail will have far-reaching effects in helping solve present rail and highway transportation problems. It should materially help cut highway congestion and make it possible for rail carriers to further utilize their rolling stock."

The first 6-Car Auto Loader is being released to the New York Central System for over-the-rail performance tests. The loader is also being built for use by the Union Pacific railroad. The loader underwent engineering and impact tests for three days while being witnessed by New York Central engineers. Tests were held near Plymouth and included running the Auto Loader car traveling 10 miles per hour into a string of two loaded coal cars and three empty cars whose brakes were locked.

Training School Program Told

Thomas Rossetti, child care director at the Wayne County Training School, told Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday evening of the program provided for the some 750 boys and girls attending the school.

Rossetti, who has been at the school for 19 years, said that it was his responsibility to teach the students proper living habits. He answered many questions regarding the school which covers 1000 acres and offers excellent environment and hopes of an adjusted life in society for the retarded, and rejected, children committed. Rossetti said that children are admitted between the ages of seven and 15, and are out by at least their 18th birthday. Program chairman for the evening was Ernest Henry.

What some of the younger set around Plymouth really need is a car with two horns, one to say, "Look Out", and the other to say, "I Told You So."

Power Failure Closes Starkweather School

A power failure which affected the heating system closed Starkweather elementary school last Monday.

Miss Mildred Field, school principal, said that clocks showed that the power went off at 11:55 p.m. Sunday. Since electricity runs the furnace stoker, the fire died and the building became cold. A janitor arriving at 5:30 a.m. reported the situation and not until 8:39 a.m. was the Detroit Edison company able to repair the breakdown which was traced to an outside pole.

It was not possible to heat the building in time for the morning classes so school was dismissed for the day, Miss Field said.

 That the remedy for hatred, selfishness, and greed is found in the love of God, as taught by Christ Jesus, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.
 In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" passages read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include:
 "If we wish to follow Christ, Truth, it must be in the way of God's appointing. . . All nature teaches God's love to man, but man cannot love God supremely and set his whole affections on spiritual things, while loving the material or trusting in it more than in the spiritual."

"We must forsake the foundation of material systems, however time-honored, if we would gain the Christ as our only Saviour (325:3-4, 8-14).
 This passage from the Bible will also be among those read:
 "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth" (Isaiah 52:7).

Reverend Schriber to Preach at Church of Nazarene Services

The Reverend George R. Schriber, of Columbus, Ohio, has recently left the pastoral ministry to enter full-time evangelism in the Church of the Nazarene.
 Reverend Schriber will preach at the Church of the Nazarene on East Ann Arbor trail this Sunday, February 28, at the 11 a.m. worship service and at the evening evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m.
 A singer as well as a preacher, Mr. Schriber presents an effective program of gospel sermon and song. His messages are Bible-based and stress the need for salvation and heart purity. Each of his baritone solos is also a message with spiritual appeal.
 Mr. Schriber first entered religious service in 1932 as a song evangelist. Then from 1934 to 1944 he traveled across the country in general evangelistic work. Following this he pastored in Colorado, Arizona, and Ohio, his last pastorate being at Zanesville First Church in Ohio. These pastoral years gave him valuable insight into the problems of the local church, an asset to him in his revival work.
 Planning for a career as a pilot, Mr. Schriber attended the Boeing School of Aviation. Later studies were at college in Pasadena, California.

Riverside Church Holds Week Of Special Services

Evangelistic services began at the Riverside Park Church of God Sunday with an inspiring response to the message delivered by the evangelist. The Reverend Frank Fultz, pastor of the First Church of God in Miamisburg, Ohio.
 Reverend and Mrs. Fultz sang a duet, "Have I Done My Best For Jesus." He selected for his subject, "What Would You Exchange For Your Soul." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Elston sang "Man of Sorrow."

 Sunday evening the junior choir, under the leadership of Ginger Freyman sang several choruses, with Reverend Fultz accompanying the group with his electric guitar.
 Reverend Fultz is the uncle of the famous McGuire Sisters, currently starring on the Arthur Godfrey television show. He states that the girls do much toward the work of God.

 Each night this week special groups of singers are expected to attend the evangelistic meetings. Friday night a quartet from the Royal Oak congregation will be singing several numbers. They are regular singers on a Sunday broadcast over Royal Oak every Sunday afternoon. Friday is designated as "Love Offering Night," during which a special offering will be taken for the evangelist and his wife.

Churches to Join In World Prayer Day Observance

Among the many local churches which are sponsoring the World Day of Prayer services in the Salvation Army Citadel on Friday evening, March 5 at 8 p.m. are the St. John's Episcopal church, Church of God, the First Presbyterian church, the First Methodist church, the Assembly of God, the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, the Nazarene, the Baptist and the Salvation Army.
 The Reverend Mrs. Hazel G. Mason, who serves with her husband, the Reverend Charles Mason, as a faith missionary to South Africa will be the guest speaker for the Plymouth World Day of Prayer service.
 Mrs. Mason has selected for her theme, "That They May Have Life." World Day of Prayer is observed in over 17,000 communities in the United States as well as in 113 other countries. Emphasis is placed on a prayer chain which extends from early dawn throughout the day. It thus goes around the world.
 If you want to try something hard, try to make the average Plymouth boy understand that when a girl says "Yes" to his marriage proposal it only gives her a chance to say "No" the balance of her life.
 The packing house industry is still the biggest in the United States. It seems to have no difficulty in making both ends meet.

Plymouth Township Board of Review Will Be In Session March 8th & 9th From 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. both days for the purpose of any township taxpayer who might have any grievance regarding the assessed valuation of their property for 1954.

V.F.W. News

Last reminder for the Hobo Hulabaloo, dress your very worst and look the same. Prizes will be awarded to the King and Queen of the Hoboes. Girls, bring a box lunch for two, the men will pay admission. Coffee will be served. Juke box dancing and card playing will be in order for the "Hobo" night at the post hall, February 27, at 8 p.m.

The post Fish Fry on March 5 promises to serve some of Michigan's finest and freshest fish. Serving will start at 5 and conclude at 7 p.m. Tickets are being limited. Have you got yours? Phone 1111-M12. Many post members have tickets, also.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring the annual essay contest now underway at the Plymouth high school. Any high school student is eligible. There are many prizes. The judges have been chosen for this event. President Gert Danol, Loretta Young, Madaline Hartford, and Marie Norman will judge the essays. Essays will be numbered by the English teacher to whom the essays are given, therefore no one but the teacher will know who actually wrote same. Therefore, unbiased, and unprejudiced judging will follow. If you know a high school student, tell him or her of the contest. To get a pamphlet telling of the rules and regulations, all one must do is to see his English teacher, who will have all particulars.

If you would like to add a "truth" dollar and have your name engraved on a scroll in conjunction with the Radio Free Europe Drive, contact President Danol, 1217-W, evenings.

Attention, Auxiliary! More concentration is needed on the new membership "push" now being promoted. There is a time element involved. Let's go!

U-M Bestows Degrees on Four

The mailmen will be bringing diplomas soon to the four Plymouthites who are among the 940 University of Michigan graduates who completed requirements for degrees in February.

They are Bentley A. Crane, 1494 Penniman, Bachelor of Science; Karl F. Hoenecke, 261 Spring street, Bachelor of Arts; Malcolm G. Pierce, 498 Auburn, Master of Arts; and Donald W. Wohlgenuth, 40615 Ford road, Bachelor of Science in Engineering.

The diplomas are being hand-lettered and will go into the mail as soon as possible. Secretary Herbert G. Watkins reports. The February total brings the number of graduates thus far in the 1953-54 school year to 1,929, since there were 989 graduates at the end of the summer session.

All of the University's 15 schools and colleges granted degrees.

LETTER BOX

Just a word of commendation to the two barbers who have enough fortitude to stand up and speak their piece regarding the plan of the union bosses to still further gouge the long-suffering public by hiking the price of hair-cuts from the present high of $1.25 to an all-time high of $1.50 and $1.75. And all of this in the face of much unemployment. Right now there are large numbers of bread-winners who are finding it difficult to feed and clothe their families. How can they possibly pay a new high price for hair-cuts?

Our hats are off to Al Conery and Earl Bovee. Somehow we firmly believe that the sentiments expressed by them and echoed by Charlie McConnell and Grant Stimson are really the feelings of every barber in Plymouth. In looking after the welfare of the public in this area these men are most certainly helping their own interests too. They are exemplifying one of the freedoms for which we are fighting these days—Freedom from Fear of physical violence or other forms of retaliation, and Freedom to charge for their services what they believe is right for the public as well as for themselves. More power to our Plymouth barbers.

Name withheld on request

Mr. Editor: Hoping our customers read our letter published in this column last week.

We wish to make this known to the public. We the undersigned barbers, are not unionized and therefore will keep the price of hair cuts the same as before.

We here include one Barber shop which was omitted last week.

Motorist Handed Two Sentences

A $100 fine and a two-day jail sentence was handed out by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo last Friday afternoon to Carl G. Elkins, formerly of 921 Sutherland.

Police halted Elkins' car several weeks ago in connection with a hit and run accident. Though Elkins was not the person sought, he failed to produce a driver's license, claiming that it had been left at home.

Further investigation showed that Elkins had his license suspended and was driving without complying with the financial responsibility law. He failed to appear in court Wednesday of last week so a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Elkins, a purser for an airline at Willow Run, was served the warrant and appeared in court Friday where he pleaded guilty to the two charges. For driving without an operator's license, Elkins was fined $100. The two-day sentence was given for the non-compliance charge.

Any Plymouth woman who wants to find how a touch of indigestion feels might try turning the kitchen over to her husband.

Who's New In Plymouth

THE ONLY ONE who is not interested in the cards received by the Beukema children seems to be Chinky, their pet pekingese. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beukema and their three children came to Plymouth in October from Spring Lake, Michigan. Mrs. Minnie Frank, Mrs. Beukema's mother, also lives with them in their home at 1419 Sheridan. The youngsters, all of whom attend Bird school, are, left to right, Roger, 11, Richard, 5, and Rita, 8. Mr. Beukema is a field service engineer with the Ford Tank Division. The family attends St. John's Episcopal church here.

Girl Scout News

Monday, February 22 was "Thinking Day" on the Girl Scout calendar when Scouts in the United States were thinking of their friends abroad.

The object is to promote international friendship and understanding. Nationally, Girl Scouts are engaged in a Kits to Korea project in conjunction with Korean Girl Scouts and American relief-for-Korea organizations.

Locally, Troop 1, spent "Thinking Day" assembling and packing a box for an orphanage in Korea as their new adventure in friendship. The home is in Inchon and is for orphans between the ages of four and nine. American servicemen have endeavored to help by giving time and money to repairing the building. The members of the troop chose this orphanage to help after reading a letter from a soldier to his parents telling of the need for underwear, socks and other clothing as well as simple toys for these children.

Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell are the leaders of Troop 1.

Plymouth Girl Scouts are co-operating with the local Cancer Society in securing material for the cancer pad project headed by Mrs. William Norman. The group requires large shopping bags, dry cleaners' bags and white goods of any sort. Your contribution will be picked up if you will call any Brownie or Girl Scout in your neighborhood.

Troop 4 and members of its sponsoring group, the P.E.O. met together on Tuesday, February 16. Following a flag ceremony and short patriotic program, badges and membership stars were presented by leaders, Mrs. K. S. Hulsing and Mrs. Warren Worth. Refreshments were served by P.E.O. members, Mrs. Harold Curtis, Mrs. Robert Nulty, Mrs. H. D. Jensen, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. A. Curry and Mrs. Harold Kellogg.

Brownie troop 20 had a Valentine Party at which they entertained their mothers. Marilyn and Betty Taylor were the hostesses. Brownie Sharon Mathews has the chicken-pox.

Mrs. Stanley Wilt and Mrs. Jack Taylor are the leaders.

Good news for Scouts who would like the new edition of the Handbook! Leaders' president, Mrs. William Edgar, has several copies on hand and they may be obtained by calling her at 1888-J1.

Schedule of rehearsals for Scouts Own on March 14 is as follows: Friday February 26, March 5 and March 12 in the high school auditorium.

Juliette Lowe girls will meet at 3:30 p.m. Color guard and flag bearers at 4 p.m.

Girl Scout swimming has been discontinued until further notice.

In the average man is curled. The hero stuff that rules the world.

Grocers Report Plymouth Shoppers Showing Coffee Buying Resistance

"They've got an awful lot of coffee in Brazil..." That is the way the song goes that folks used to sing only a few years ago, but there's no kidding about it now. The alleged lack of coffee in Brazil and other Latin American countries has hit the American public right where it hurts the most—their pocketbooks.

And reflecting this pinch on the purse is the mounting resistance from coffee consumers. In a survey made among a half dozen Plymouth supermarkets and neighborhood groceries, The Mail found varied comments from the store managers. They range from "not too much resistance" to "almost 50 per cent down."

Grocery owners were forced to mark up the price on most of their coffee again last week. Popular canned brands now cost up to $1.03 a pound. Some other brands can be purchased at 89 cents.

A supermarket manager said that his coffee sales have dropped 50 per cent since the price hikes. It was reported that many Plymouth shoppers are dropping their coffee drinking standards from the high price brands into the lower cost coffee bracket. A smaller neighborhood grocery reported its coffee sales were down at least one-fourth.

What are Plymouth folks buying instead of coffee? There is no way that the city water department could tell if there is more water being consumed, but some grocers claim that tea, cocoa and milk sales are increasing. This is despite the fact that chocolate prices are also increasing because chocolate comes from the same vicinity as coffee.

The boost in coffee prices started out with grumbling among the housewives. Then Congress became interested. They have been trying to check if speculation has anything to do with the price. No violations of law have yet been encountered.

According to the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, there are at least three reasons why coffee prices have soared. There was a killing frost in the great coffee-producing area of Brazil last July, coffee producers explain. There were hundreds of millions of coffee trees destroyed or severely damaged overnight—trees that would have produced nearly half a billion pounds of coffee.

Producers then claim that it takes five years for a new coffee tree to mature and two to three years for a frost-blighted tree to recover.

The coffee bureau explains that increased price is therefore an "age-old fact." When there is a shortage of anything, they say, prices naturally go up. When the supply catches up with the demand, the price will level off, they add. It still costs only two and a half cents for a home-brewed cup of coffee, it is claimed.

Here's Answer To Septic Tank Difficulties

Suburban dwellers who wonder why their septic tanks fail to operate may find the answers in an Ingham county study reported at Michigan State College by the county sanitarian, Philip V. Shirley.

He lists eight reasons for troubles: More people per house than when units were set up, more water use per person with automatic appliances, more homes being built on low, wet sites with poor drainage, and more seasonal high levels of ground water.

Heavy subsoils good for foundations are poor for drainage and Shirley believes many sites might better have remained in agricultural use. More runoff comes from larger homes with larger roof areas and more paved drives, walks and yard areas. Laws have stopped drainage via county drains to a great extent and sanitary sewers have not kept pace. Detergents have an upsetting effect on septic systems.

It's Important to Properly Display House Numbers

A properly displayed house number may save your life some day.

That is the advice given by the Plymouth police and fire departments to householders as citizens begin thinking of outdoor spring projects.

Many residences and business establishments have no exposed street number—or if they are exposed, they are poorly displayed. Many times the fire or police departments waste valuable time searching for a given street number. Many dwellers may someday need to call the fire department emergency squad, just as many citizens in the past have needed it. These are cases of life and death and a hasty arrival sometimes depends on the house number.

If it takes some eye strain to find the house number on your home, look over these specifications recommended by police and fire department personnel:

1. Use at least three-inch numbers and where room is available go to four inch size.
2. Use a number in color contrast such as black on white or white on black. If a home is of brick veneer, mount the numbers on a small white or black board to make a neat unit.
3. Locate the number on the house within a foot or two of the upper half of the door opening on the street which the number is assigned to.
4. The best and most practical location for house numbers is a place where the porch light will illuminate them at night.
5. If you desire to place a house number on a lawn somewhere near shrubbery, duplicate that same number in the location described above.
6. If you do not know your proper house number, call the city assessor, Kenneth Way, at city hall.

Don't forget, your house number is important. Give it your attention immediately.

Red Cross Motor Service Needs Women Drivers

Experienced women drivers with good driving records are needed by Red Cross Motor Service to meet the growing needs of the blood program and other Red Cross activities in Metropolitan Detroit and surrounding county areas, according to Mrs. Roy H. Miller, volunteer chairman of Detroit, chapter's motor service. They will be asked to give at least one day a week as drivers of Red Cross equipment.

They will transport blood donors to and from the blood center, take nurses to their assignments with mobile units or drive disabled veterans to hospitals and clinics. On occasion they will make an emergency run to the airport to pick up a human eye bank for a waiting patient in a Detroit hospital.

"The work is always interesting, but it is also trying if continued too long," said Mrs. Miller. "That is why we find it necessary to make replacements from time to time. Now, in addition to the regular replacements, we need additional drivers to meet the growing need."

Women who can spare time for this service are requested to call Motor Service, Woodward 1-3900, or contact their local Red Cross branch chairman.

Theatre Guild Selects Next Play

"Mr. Barry's Etchings" is the play selected by the Plymouth Theatre Guild to be put on in co-operation with the local Kiwanis club. The play will be held in the high school auditorium on April 27, 28 and 29.

Last year a successful production of "January Thaw" was given to aid Kiwanis in the raising of money for the Girl Scout Cabin.

The Guild gives two plays annually, in the fall and spring. The most recent production was "Lo and Behold," which played to large audiences. Plays are directed by William Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse.

Try-outs for "Mr. Barry's Etchings" will be held on March 15. Anyone interested in any phase of the theatrical production is invited to attend.

He talks about the weather, And be it cold or hot, He always wishes that it was The kind that it is not.

New Books at Dunning Library

New books at the Dunning library have tended mostly toward children's books in recent weeks, though some new adult selections have been reported. These included "Report on Mao's China" by Frank Moraes, "The Wild Country" by Louis Bromfield, "The Horseman's Encyclopedia" by Margaret Cabell Self, "Edgar A. Guest Biography" by Royce Howes, "Consumers' Research Annual for 1953-54," "The Canyon" by Jack Schaefer, author of "Shane," and "The Crimson Circle" by Edgar Wallace.

Six Adult Classes Still Open Here For Enrollment

With an enrollment of 436 people in adult education classes, exclusive of the Plymouth symphony orchestra, Theatre Guild, Civic Chorus, conservation series and badminton, there are still several classes which are open to more students. The present enrollment is over 100 more than took part in the fall program.

Classes still open to interested persons include millinery, blue-print reading, shop math, ceramics, sewing, and motherhood training. Enrollment may be made by calling the Adult Education department at 895, or by attending the class.

Visitors are invited to attend classes if they wish.

Members of the Adult Education and Recreation Commission met last week to discuss plans for the second annual Creative Arts Festival, to be held later in the spring. It was determined that only those things would be exhibited that had been made since last year's festival, in order to avoid duplications between this year's exhibits and last.

Bentley Attends Conference Of Principals In Milwaukee

Carvel M. Bentley, senior high school principal, visited Milwaukee, Wisconsin, during February 21 through 24 to attend the 38th annual Secondary Schools Principals Convention.

Approximately 25 topics were discussed in the three day period. Among these are the following that were given attention: "What Are Some Good Outcomes of Democratic Administration Techniques," "How Can We Recruit Better Candidates for Teachers," and "How Can Your High School Improve Its Citizenship Education."

This year's chosen theme was "Educating Youth for Freedom and Democracy." Samuel Brownell, Commissioner of Education from the United States Office of Education, addressed the entire convention.

Superintendent of Plymouth Public Schools, Russell Isbister, also attended a similar conference in Atlantic City, New Jersey. "Educating for American Citizenship" was the theme of this superintendent's meet.

Among many projects concerning local problems, Mr. Isbister, Mr. Bentley, and Mr. Arthur Alford, junior high school principal, who have been working with the city officials in trying to put a stop to the constant litter in the local streets, feel a definite gain toward cleanliness has been made.

Senior Class Makes Preparations For Various Graduation Activities

Although June and graduation still seem quite distant, the seniors are already making preparations for the big day when their high school careers are climaxed by a handshake and a sheepskin.

The 183 members of the class of 1954 have filled out their namecards as they want them to appear on their diplomas and also on the composite senior picture. Friday, February 19, was the deadline for the nameplates to be filled out in room 40, under the auspices of senior class adviser, F. Walter Goodwin. By Thursday, about 90 had signed up, with the remainder of the class due to register before the deadline.

Friday, the seniors met in a class meeting to select the title for this year's Senior Prom but as of this writing it has not yet been published.

A class meeting was also used as a discussion ground for the question of whether to hold separate baccalaureate services in various churches or to have a common service for all the seniors. The class decided on the latter.

However, several problems have already been met, as the senior trip to New York is all planned and the caps and gowns have been ordered.

A dance scheduled for last Friday, February 19, was cancelled by the seniors.

School Orators Enter Regional Tournament

Winning the Inter-Lakes League debate championship, the Plymouth high school orators qualified for the Regional Tournament which is being held in Lansing today.

The local debaters drew defending state champion Flint Northern in the first round at 9 a.m. Other teams and pairings in the first round are Jackson and Grand Rapids South, Traverse City and Highland Park, Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills and Lansing Eastern.

In preparing for the encounter the local debaters had a practice debate against Ann Arbor on February 17. Tom Rowe, Jim Isbister, Dick Root and Tom Sawyer upheld the negative and the affirmative sides for Plymouth in debating this year's state debate topic "Resolved that the President of the United States should be elected by direct vote of the People."

Previous to today's tournament the debate squad was co-champion of the Inter-Lakes League with Farmington boasting a six won and two lost record in the league competition.

Last year the debaters won the Regional Tournament which was held in Howell when they defeated Grandville, Allen Park and Clarenceville. Later they were defeated in the Quarter Finals by Detroit De La Salle.

In the last decade Plymouth debate teams have advanced to the finals twice, in 1946-47 and 1947-48.

Miss Dorothy Midgley, Plymouth high English and speech teacher, is serving in the capacity of coach for this year's team.

To Begin Elimination For Forensic Contest

The Forensic team in Plymouth high, advised by Dorothy Midgley, English teacher and debate coach, will hold their local contest on March 13.

The winner and those placing second in each group will be eligible to attend the district meet about April 10. The winner of the district contest will go on to the regional, where each pupil participating receives a dictionary with his or her name printed in gold letters on it, through the co-operation of the Detroit News.

The various subjects one may choose are as follows: extempore-speaking, oratory, declamation, dramatic reading and humorous reading.

Plymouth's representative last year was Marilyn Paul who was defeated in the regional meet.

Two to Enter Oratory Meet

Jim Isbister and Tom Rowe, of Plymouth high school, will compete in the department contest of the National High School Oratorical Contest which will be held March 8, in Northville. The subject to be used for the oration must be on some phase of the Constitution which will show the duties and obligations of a citizen to the government. The orations must not take less than 10 minutes or more than 12 minutes. Topics will be drawn for an extempore discussion which will follow the oration for four to six minutes. The contestants will be judged equally on the oration and the extempore discussion.

Following the department contest will be the twelve regional contests, then the four sectional contests, and the national contest.

In the final contest the contestant with the highest scores will be awarded a $4,000 scholarship; second place a $2,500 scholarship; third place a $1,000 scholarship; and fourth a $500 scholarship.

To be eligible a contestant must be a student in the ninth, tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade in high school on January 1, of the year of the contest.

Battling Belleville Upsets Plymouth's Cage Hopes With 51-54 Victory

A one-minute spurt, which netted 8 points, enabled the Belleville high cagers to trip the Plymouth five on the Tigers court last Friday night 51 to 45. Those quick 8 points were the decisive factor in as close a contest as has been played this season. The Tigers were behind by two points when they got "hot."

This defeat eliminated Plymouth from any chance of gaining a share of the 6-B league crown. Belleville lost four of the first five games in the first round of play, but has beaten every team in the second round with the exception of Trenton for one of the finest "come-backs" in local history.

The Rocks were ahead a major part of the game in this see-saw battle, being on top 15 to 14 at the quarter and all square at 24 at halftime. The local quintet had gained a hard-earned four-point 36 to 32 point advantage at the beginning of the final period, but after two minutes of play Belleville made the big rally. Plymouth tried vainly to close the gap in the remaining minutes but just could not quite make up the difference.

Tall, rangy Jim Cobb, who had been held to 11 points until the final stanza, counted 14 more in the final drive to give him 25 for the night to lead both sides in scoring. The rebound work of Holland, Cobb and Sala, and the floor work of Thompson also was good for the winners.

Inability to cash in on free throws and floor shots also hurt the Rocks in the second half. During the game Plymouth made good on only 7 of 19 free throw attempts, and their scoring percentage from the floor was 31 per cent of the shots taken.

Three men tied for scoring honors for the Rocks—Bob Middleton, Jerry Kelly and Dick Day each had 11 points. Lee Juve had 5, Gary Gothard 4, Larry Wilhelm 2 and John Agnew 1 point.

Tomorrow night Bentley high comes here for the last 6-B league game of the season. Plymouth will be trying to avenge an earlier 57 to 47 loss. Bentley is currently leading the league all alone, but a loss might push them into a tie with Trenton providing the latter can get by Allen Park.

Local Quintets Win in "F" League

The Lutheran day school won and lost a game in the boys "F" league last week. The team won over the Northville Boys Club 31 to 13, but lost a close one to the Catholic lagers 14 to 13.

In the first game Jerry Schacht and Gerat Simmons were the big guns as they each made 11 points; Ray Tisch had 3, Jim Foerster, Jerry Tacia and Randy Egloff having one each.

In the Catholic win over Lutheran, Soleau had 6 points; Laroach 4; Gulbrandson and Lohn 2 each. For Lutheran, John Taylor had 5, Ray Tisch 4, Gerat Simmons 2, Jerry Schacht and Randy Egloff one each.

Ferguson Leads J-V Cage Win With 29 Points

The Plymouth junior varsity cagers were at their best last Friday night as they powered to an overwhelmingly 70 to 31 victory over Belleville. All but one player on the squad scored points in this decisive win with Tom Ferguson getting a season's high with 29 markers. Tom, who has been scoring high totals all season, counted his huge sum on 11 baskets and 7 free throws while playing slightly more than three quarters of the ball game.

The scoring was about evenly divided among the four quarters with the locals enjoying a 39 to 16 halftime lead. Plymouth made 18 of 30 free throws good.

Besides Ferguson's 29 points, Henry Bonga had 12, Dick Davidson 11, Drews 7, Jack Carter 3, Smith, Mills and Jim Arnold 2 each, with Darnell and Jewell having one each.

The reserves play their last game of the season tomorrow night when they engage, the Bentley Bulldogs in a game in the local gymnasium. In the last meeting between these two teams, Bentley emerged victorious 48 to 37, but Coach Bill Harding's lads have improved since that last outing.

Davis & Lent Five Wins in "E" League

The Davis and Lent team in the boys "E" league won handily over the Wayne County Training School cagers 35 to 23 last week. The Plymouth entry is currently holding down third place in this little league.

D. Schipper was high for the local team with 12 points, closely behind was Billy Jones with 11; Tillotson had 4, Anderson 3, Pine and Brinks 2 each and Foreman 1 point.

The winners came from behind in the last half to outscore their opponents 18 to 4 to wrap up the win.

The standings in the "E" league are as follows:

	W	L
Northville Rec.	5	1
Wolverines	5	2
Davis & Lent	4	3
Red Birds	3	4
Wayne Boy Scouts	2	5
Northville Scouts	1	5

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

CASEY FRETS ABOUT MICKEY MANTLE

St. Petersburg, Fla., capital of Florida West Coast vacationland never was more eager to receive the Yankees than it is right now.

That the Bombers have won five consecutive pennants and world's championships is regarded there as the consummate boost for the local climate, which has been aiding and abetting the training efforts of the New York club since 1925, reports The Sporting News.

There already are 39 players at Miller Huggins Field, ten of them off the regular Yankee roster and 29 from the farm systems. Casey Stengel and his coaching staff, assisted by minor league pilots, trouble shooters, scouts, and other members of the New York payroll, are busy speeding up the development of a fine lot of prospects.

However, Mickey Mantle, and not one of the 39 workers, is the chief concern of the Bomber manager.

Mantle has been a source of worry to Stengel ever since the kid came to the Yankees, and it looks as if the outfielder will remain a worry for the New York club for as long as he is with the team.

Mantle is badly in need of guidance, and so far he has not received it, says The Sporting News.

He needed it very badly last season, and he still needs it right now, as much as ever. But neither Stengel nor the front office has taken the young man in hand. The time has come for a change in method.

When Mantle was operated on in his part of the country, for removal of that vagrant cartilage in his right knee, the surgeon who did the job was competent enough. But Mantle was away from the post-operational eye of the front office.

The Sporting News reports that Mantle played basketball, he hiked and he hunted, on that mending knee. Trouble developed and Mickey got a setback.

General Manager George M. Weiss has been assured that there is no need for worry over that leg. But he is concerned, as is Casey, over the knee, and in fact, over Mantle in general.

WILLIAMS REVEALS THOUGHTS ON RETIREMENT

Ted Williams finally revealed his true thoughts of retirement during a lengthy, friendly interview with baseball writers recently, reports The Sporting News.

Ted said what he did this year might go a long way toward his making a definite decision as to how much longer he could play in the big leagues.

When he got around to discussing the feelings of a bench warmer, he let his hair down. "If I have to sit on the bench," the Red Sox slugger stated, "then to heck with it, I'll quit." As long as Ted can play regularly, he'll remain in baseball.

QUALTERS WOULD TAKE BONUS AGAIN

Would Tom Qualters, Philadelphia Phillies $50,000 bonus player, take the bonus and stay as a bench-warmer or refuse the bonus and go into the minors if he had it to do all over again?

The Sporting News reports the youngster is replying: "I'd do exactly what I did. I might have been better off going to the minors for experience and a chance to pitch regularly, but I just couldn't pass up that money."

"I used most of it to fix up our home in McKeesport (Pa.) and also to pay for an operation on my mother."

Interested in sub-miniature cameras? There is close to two score of these Lilliput cameras on the market, a few of them precision jobs capable of fine photography.

In the 1880's a small camera was about the size of a small suitcase. By 1937, size had been whittled to the point where a good sub-miniature, the Minox—the first of the modern precision cameras—could be palmed as easily as a ten dollar bribe. The Minox of today weighs slightly more than two and one-half ounces.

In selecting a sub-miniature consider the optical and mechanical requirements as they require quality materials and top craftsmanship if they are to be used for fine photographic results and not merely as a novelty. Choice of film is often a problem, and it is wise to determine before buying that a steady supply is available.

Yes the sub-miniatures are tricky to handle, but used with skill and understanding they can and do offer surprisingly fine results.

Everything down here at THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER offers fine results. Whether you are interested in Cameras, Projectors, Chemicals or Equipment you'll find our stock ABOVE-average and our prices BELOW-average... so drop in at 821 West Ann Arbor Trail real soon, won't you?

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Drawings for the Class A State Regional Basketball Tournament were held late Tuesday—too late for this page, but a story will be found in the first section of this paper telling about the team Plymouth drew for the first round.

The tournament will begin on Wednesday, March 10 and conclude with the final game on Saturday, March 13. Seven of the better class A teams in the state will be competing here for the right to advance to the state quarter-finals.

Well, the "ifs" blew up when Belleville edged the Rocks by a few points last Friday night over at Belleville. I was worried more by the outcome of that game than I am the Bentley contest tomorrow night. The Tigers have proven tough for all 6-B league teams this second round after falling easy prey to the same teams during the first round.

The Rocks are out of contention for first place now, but can still cause trouble for if they beat Bentley tomorrow night the Bulldogs will have to share the crown with Trenton, who should beat Allen Park.

I honestly believe that Plymouth will defeat Bentley here tomorrow night.

In the game at Belleville, the two teams were evenly matched all the way, with the exception of 45 seconds in the final period when the winners collected 8 points, which meant the game. It was really a good game and Belleville deserved to win that particular night.

The Junior Varsity squad have improved steadily under the coaching of Bill Harding since the first of the year. Tom Ferguson looks like sure-fire varsity material for the next couple years—he racked up 29 points in a little over three quarters at Belleville the other night, and has been a consistent high scorer all season. The varsity should enjoy another good season next year as they have many good men coming back for another year of competition—with an added year of experience, they should be a real contender for the league crown again—I hope the present boys add about four inches to their present height though.

Week before last was Boy Scout Week. The number of Cub and Boy Scout troops are growing in Plymouth, and that is good for there is no organization for boys that is going as much good as this splendid group. Facts back up the findings that very few boys go wrong who have belonged to the Boy Scouts of America.

The mothers who have charge of the younger Cub Scouts, the fathers who help, the adults who work with the Boy Scouts, and the parents who cooperate so well are to be complimented on having such a splendid organization in our city. May the organization grow even bigger, and may each boy retain some of the good characteristics instilled into him during this boyhood period.

The big game with Bentley high is coming up tomorrow night. Let's hope that as much good sportsmanship is in evidence here as there was at Bentley earlier in the season. Where there is a keen rivalry between such neighboring schools as Plymouth and Bentley little incidents could grow into trouble—the last few years the players, fans and sportsmen have displayed good sportsmanship at these contests.

Anything else but that kind of conduct is detrimental to sports, and can only lead to criticism of athletics in general—even though sports are not directly at fault.

This will be the last local game of the regular season—the Rocks will play another game, or so, in the regional tournament—if they could put together a winning streak of six or seven games they would emerge state champs.

Girls Athletic Association Installs New Members

Fifty new members were received into the Girls' Athletic Association at their end-of-semester initiation held Monday, February 15, in the high school auditorium.

The girls were welcomed by Inez Enterline, G.A.A. president, after which Sara Leet sang a solo. The new members were presented with their G.A.A. emblem signifying their membership in the organization. Then a dessert of strawberry shortcake was served followed by a brief speech from the sponsor, Mrs. Louise Cigle.

With the admission of these 50 new members G.A.A. now has over 75 members which is twice as many as last semester.

Nobody has as much the matter with him as a Plymouth man who has just looked over a patent medicine luncheon.

Bentley Five Clinches Hold On 6-B Title

The 6-B league race is shaping up a little better now and Bentley high is riding alone in first place with Trenton a game behind. Tomorrow night Bentley comes to Plymouth where a win would cinch the crown outright for the Bulldogs. A loss would probably result in sharing the title with Trenton, providing the latter can dispose of Allen Park. Belleville, the hottest team during the second round, plays winless Redford Union.

Plymouth is ahead in offensive scoring with Bentley close behind. Allen Park has the best defensive record with the Bentley team also second in this department.

Last week Belleville edged Plymouth 51 to 45. Trenton routed Redford Union 57 to 38; and Bentley squeaked past Allen Park 37 to 32. In other games around this area, Northville just about wrapped up the Oakland-Wayne league title with an easy 71 to 39 win over Holly; Ypsilanti upset Battle Creek 48 to 41; Highland Park won over Fordson 59 to 45; Inkster edged Detroit Catholic Central in overtime 42 to 41; and Hamtramck downed Wayne 45 to 38.

The 6-B league standings with one game to go are as follows:

	W	L	PF	PA
Bentley	7	2	416	324
Trenton	6	3	384	341
Plymouth	5	4	429	391
Allen Park	5	4	311	303
Belleville	4	5	372	394
Redford Un.	0	9	300	463

Capitol Shirts Cinch First Place

Three teams in the Men's basketball league are certain of places in the playoffs which start next Tuesday. These teams are Capitol Shirts, Tait's Cleaners and LaFountain's Erectors. National Bank has an outside chance. Games played this week are not figured in the standings below.

Last week Ford Local 182 furnished the upset when they won their first game of the season by downing National Bank, 40 to 33. This defeat dealt the Bankers a severe blow in its playoff position. After being behind 10 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, the Union men came back to lead at halftime 17 to 14, and were never headed thereafter.

Bob Carlton was high for the winners with 19 points; Ron Hees led the losers with 9 pointers.

Box Bar also continued its winning ways by edging Beglinger Olds 47 to 44. R. Maher was high for the bar men with 16 markers; Petrucelli had 12—J. Heaton had 20 for the losers.

Lightfoots dropped two—one to LaFountain and the other to Capitol Shirts. In the first game they were 8 points ahead at the beginning of the final stanza, but a great comeback by the winners carried them to a 46 to 43 win. In the second game, Capitol Shirts coasted to an easy 54 to 28 victory. Carl Pursell was tops for the league-leaders with 18 points; Levering had 10 and Kisa-beth 9 points. Jetter was high for the losers with 9 points.

Second-place Tait's won two contests last week—one over LaFountain 48 to 43, and the other from Box Bar 55 to 44. In the first game the losers were ahead until near the end of the third stanza, which ended 32 all, but faded in the last period when three of their best players went out on fouls. DeWayne Becker led Tait's with 14 points, closely followed by Pottenger with 13 points. Dave Amerman also had 14 for the losers. Foul shots played an important part in the win as Tait's were successful on 18 to only 11 for the losers.

Tait's had it much easier in the second game against Box Bar leading all the way. Mac Pierce had 23 points for the winners with Bob Houghton having 11; Sergison had 15 and Maher 14 for the losers.

Tonight in the final games of the regular season, Box Bar plays LaFountain at 8 p.m., and Capitol Shirts goes against Olds at 9:15 in the Plymouth gymnasium. Neither game means much as two teams are definitely in the playoffs, and the other two have not a chance of making them.

The standings as of last week-end are as follows:

	W	L
Capitol Shirts	10	1
Tait's Cleaners	10	3
LaFountain	8	4
National Bank	5	6
Lightfoots	5	8
Beglinger Olds	4	8
Box Bar	4	9
Ford Local	1	11

People often wonder what a cow thinks when she is standing quietly in a field and sees a locomotive go by with the remains of an auto draped over the cowcatcher.

There's this much to be said for the old-fashioned girl who married for a home—she generally could be found living in it.

Smith Topped By Starkweather

The Starkweather grade school cagers came nearer the crown in that league last week as they won another game to remain undefeated for the season. They handed Smith school a second loss in beating them 20 to 14. E. Micol scored 9 of the winners points, with Billy Reuhr and D. Woolley each getting 4, and D. Timcoe 3 points. Wayne Sparkman had 9 for the losers.

A baseball score resulted in the reserves game of the two above schools. The Starkweather lads edged Smith 2 to 1 with the first half scoreless for both teams—the winners scored a basket in the third quarter as Norgrove hooped one and the losers got a foul shot by McCloy in the final period.

Allen school cagers edged Bird 13 to 12 in a tight game. Donald Argo had 6 points, Al Wietch 3, and Robert Evans and Gayton Parmenter 2 each for the winners. Hayskar and Wood each had 6 for the losers.

The Allen reserves also won over Bird 11 to 1 as the losers were held without a point until the final quarter when Knapp sank a free throw. F. Grady had 7 for the winners, with Bob Cole getting 3 and Art Nelson 1.

The standings in this league are:

	W	L
Starkweather	6	0
Smith	4	2
Allen	4	2
Catholic	1	4
Lutheran	1	4
Bird	1	5

Frosh Continues Winning Ways

At present the Plymouth high frosh is one of the best teams in the 6-B league having beaten every club with the exception of Trenton. Last Friday afternoon they conquered Belleville for the second time this season 52 to 28. Coach Charles Ketterer's boys shutout the Tigers during the first quarter and built up a 14 to 0 lead, which had increased to 30 to 5 at halftime, from where they coasted on to victory.

Kenny Calhoun again led the scorers with 14 points while Virgil Norgrove had 10; Grady and King had 6 each; Cliff Tait, Straub and Jenkins had 4 each, and John Thomas and DeCoster each made 2 points.

In a preliminary game the local junior high quintet lost to Belleville 22 to 16. The youthful Rocks started out fast and led 10 to 5 at the end of the first quarter, but could only count 6 more points the remaining three periods.

P. Sherrick was high with 8 points, Walaskay had 5, Alsboro had 2 and Joe Barraco 1 point.

These two teams play Bentley tomorrow afternoon over on the Bulldogs' court.

To tell a mushroom, merely eat. The specimen that you may meet.

And note, next day, with studious care, if you've stayed here, or gone elsewhere.

Still another thing that never fails to work out is a big toe in a little hole of the sock.

Rec League Set to Hold Playoff Tilts

The playoffs in the Men's basketball league will begin next Tuesday at the Plymouth high school gymnasium and will continue on Friday. All teams with a 500 percentage are eligible to compete. At present Capitol Shirts, Tait's Cleaners and LaFountain's Erectors are sure starters with a possibility of National Bank also making it.

The league playoff winner will advance to a district tourney, which will also be played in the local gymnasium during the week of March 16. The winner from this district will advance to the state recreation tourney at Battle Creek on March 26 and 27.

The runnerup in the local playoffs will go to an inter-city tourney at Highland Park on the 22, 23 and 24 of March.

The team finishing first in the regular season play will receive the beautiful travelling team trophy presented annually to the winner. Capitol Shirts has this about cinched. The members of the team winning the local playoffs will each receive an individual trophy.

Recreational Director Herbert Woolweaver states that it has been an interesting race this year, and that the playoffs should present some close, hard-fought basketball games.

Swimmers Lose

The Plymouth high swimmers won three first places in going down to defeat to Dearborn 53 to 31 last week in a meet at the latter's pool. David Beegle took a first in the 100-yard free style, and the two Plymouth relay teams won first places.

Other points were scored by Gary Wright with a third, Paul Daoust a third, Lee Rowe a third; Bob Packard had a second and Paul Gregory a third; Mike Conrad a third, and Tom Rutherford a second and Art Losse a third in the diving event.

The medley relay team was composed of Packard, Daoust and Dick Wallace. The free style relay of Wright, McKenna, Zukosky and Beegle.

The next meet is with Ypsilanti Roosevelt at Ypsilanti next week.

"I say, Tom, are you ever troubled with sleeplessness?"

"I am. Some nights I don't sleep three hours."

"I pity you then, I've got it awfully bad. I've been afflicted now about two years. The doctor calls it 'neuro insomnia paralaxitis'."

Tom grunted and said, "I've had it about six months, but we call it a baby."

"So our engagement is at an end?" said the man.

"It is," replied the girl. "I suppose you will return the engagement ring?"

"Certainly, if you wish it. Call round some evening and we'll pick it out."

The last column this year from your very traveled Florida reporter (now home) appears this week on another page of this issue. Since there isn't room on this page for our entire presentation we ask you to look elsewhere for our local folk whom we pictured in the sunny southland.

It's always good to return from a vacation whether it's a weekend or three weeks and it's particularly good to get back and find your very efficient daily associates have kept the ship steady and on course. They certainly deserve a pat on the back.

Way down in Key West we learned that Hildur Carlson had invited guests for a Sunday night supper and when they arrived she was comfortably seated in front of her television set completely oblivious to the fact she was entertaining at supper. She was more surprised than the guests and with her usual efficiency and perhaps a little dry bread the refrigerator provided enough odds and ends to make the visit a success.

Of interest to local businessmen is the fact that throughout the south business people are singing the blues about conditions. Motels always had room and restaurants were featuring special meals at greatly reduced prices. According to southern businessmen tourists just didn't have the money to spend this year.

We were guests of the Florida Attractions Association at all of the things advertised along the way that tourists should see in that most interesting state. We took in most of them and were glad we actually didn't have to pay admissions to most of them. We will recommend to Florida visitors however Marine Land, Silver Springs, Parrott Jungle and Cypress Gardens. These are well worth the price of admission.

At first we were disappointed in Ringling's winter headquarters but on the second day we found that there were no scheduled acts but that sometime during every day (except Sunday when they do have a regular circus) a visitor will find something going on. You just have to hang around and wait for the elephant trainer to start working or the lion tamer to get his cats in action. We were disappointed not to see them training the baby elephants but learned that they were so undependable they couldn't be trusted with the public around and that previously when they did train in public the people thought the trainers were cruel to the animals.

Our last visit to one of Florida's attractions was at Rainbow Springs in Dunnellon on Sunday. We were impressed with the fact that this beautiful attraction was not operated for profit and the commercialism which was so prevalent elsewhere was not in evidence. Owned by Rodger Keyes, a Miami millionaire, no effort is made to exploit this unusual spot and it was here also that we enjoyed our most delightful Florida experience . . . attendance at the Sunday night services of the Beulah Baptist church in Dunnellon.

It wasn't the first colored church service we had attended but it was one of the most wonderful we had ever experienced. The service started at 7:15 when the handful in attendance started singing "When the Saints Go Marching In" and continued until 9 p.m. The entire order of worship was the singing of Negro spirituals except for a brief 15 minute sermon by the preacher.

There were no hymnals and no printed order of service or no piano or organ but the congregation just knew what songs to sing. Various members of the congregation would take the lead in different songs and, as a choir, spread all over the church, different people would take their vocal parts. Actually it is impossible to put into words the thrill of hearing these people sing and stamp their feet in a rhythm so typical of the old south.

In the front of the church where our choirs would normally sit on one or both sides sat the oldest female members of the congregation and on the other side the men. These are the revered seats in the church which are held by the oldest members who progress as the oldsters die.

The regular collection was passed to the singing of the old spiritual "Remember Me" and after that was over all of the ladies of the church paraded completely around the church hall where they passed in front of the altar to make another contribution. When they were finished the men paraded in the opposite direction for the same purpose. The only time the regular choir of four people sang was previous to the sermon which was followed by Communion.

For the benefit of our readers we can recommend this as a most wonderful experience and if they ever visit Rainbow Springs we suggest they get acquainted with Dave, the skipper of the Rainbow River Cruiser, and the leading elder in the church.

If you want to make money, Michigan is a good place to seek your fortune.

There are several excellent reasons why the state's economic condition can be expected to boom. Very important in this rosy picture are three factors: Extensive industrial expansion, the Mackinac Straits Bridge, the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Kicked around politically for more than 20 years, the St. Lawrence Waterway seems finally within grasp. Best indications are that the United States Congress will approve the project this year. If they should not, the Canadian government, which has already served notice that she will dig the channel herself, can be expected to begin operations.

Main impact of seaway will be felt in transportation and by industries which ship or use ore, grain, coal, etc.

Michigan with its good port cities and expanding industry is certain to benefit greatly.

Great increases have been predicted for the tourist trade when the Mackinac Bridge is completed. The tourist industry already ranks among the state's top three. Substantial boosts in the business of resorts, gas stations, restaurants, motels, transportation and communication offices mean more money and jobs for Michigan residents.

Plant expansion in Michigan promises even more!

Biggest plan announced is that of General Motors, which expects to spend three quarters of a billion dollars within borders of the Wolverine state.

Other programs by other factories are already underway or have been announced recently. Included are: Ford Motor, $500 million of expansion, Packard Motor, $47 million plant near Utica; Dow Chemical, $300 million, mostly at Midland; Continental Motors, $200 million power plant at Muskegon.

Montague, a small city about 20 miles north of Muskegon, is the site of a new Hooker Electro Chemical plant, costing $12 million, a DuPont neoprene plant for $15 million and a "smaller" factory for Union Carbide Company, which will cost nearly $2 million.

Smaller plants will soon join communities in every part of the state. Mueller Brass invested $500,000 in a operation to make plastic pipe at Port Huron. Michigan Tool bought Manistee Iron Works to produce gears. Standard Cotton Products is spending half a million near Flint for a new site. White Products plans a quarter million dollar additional at Middleville.

"About 80% of Michigan's growth is from 'within,'" says John Beukema, former secretary of the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce and an authority on industrial expansion. This is considered a healthy situation, but the movement of plans outside Michigan into the state is not to be overlooked.

Data from the Michigan Department of Economic Development lists 20 firms which moved into the state during 1953. They are:

American Bitumals & Asphalt, Howell; Bliss & Laughlin, Macomb; CBS-Hytrom, a division of Columbia Broadcasting System, making television tubes, Kalamazoo; Clinton Machine, Clinton; Guedon Co., Chelsea; Gunn Co., Grand Rapids; Photographic Industries, Harbor Springs; Truck Equipment, Norway; Stream Eze Tackle Co., Charlevoix; Alma Plastics, Alma; Dog Life Corp., Hamilton; American Colortype, Decatur; Frankfort Manufacturing, Frankfort; Negaunee Needlecraft Co., Negaunee; Bryan Manufacturing, Reading; Tesar Printers and Binders; Stevensville; Jolly Kids Togs, Onaway; Superior Plating, Howell; General Electric, Holland; Bridgeport Press, Adrian.

Industrial expansion in Michigan is expected to be greater in Michigan than in any other state during 1954.

Since 1951 Michigan has ranked high. In that year only two states saw more money for new industry; Ohio and Pennsylvania. Those two states and Illinois exceeded the $608 million spent in Michigan in 1952. In 1953 Michigan was second only to Ohio.

Michigan continues to gain while other states expect an average of 15% less capital for expansion during 1954.

To the "average" citizens, all this invested money means opportunity. Opportunity for new jobs, for bigger purchasing power, for a higher standard of living.

A new factory in a community means a new source of taxes for the local government where it is located, and for the state. Added income from taxes paid by large industries in small communities has the advantage of reducing the amount each individual must pay. It supplies a source of money that can be used for local improvements.

The sizable capital investment made recently in Michigan makes it possible for a resident to watch first hand the working of the American economic system—and to share in its benefits.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON GIVES FOUR REASONS FOR CONFIDENCE

Babson Park, Massachusetts. While so many forecasts for 1954 are discouraging, I give four more reasons why I cannot be so fearful as are many economic writers. Take a look at them and have faith in your country and your future.

MORE MONEY AND MORE PEOPLE

In the first place, people have money to buy. I repeat what I have said before—"the top 50 per cent of our families have readily convertible savings amounting to a staggering $97 billions." 95 per cent of all families probably have more money in savings accounts than ever before. It is true that installment debts on cars, refrigerators, and television sets have increased during the past twelve months; but these are now being reduced. Moreover, money invested in these durables cannot be written off as "gone." Homes are always a good investment. So long as one is employed, money invested in a home may be as good a reserve as cash in a bank. In short, potential buying power never was greater.

Second, our swiftly rising population—with a record four million births in 1953—is creating a vast number of new wants that must be satisfied. Ten years from now we may have forty million more in our population than we did at the end of World War II. Take all the wants and needs of one individual and multiply by forty million and you will get some idea of what a staggering impact the increase in population alone can have on our economy for some time to come, provided it is of good character. Population alone is not enough; people must have good habits, sound faith, and useful intelligence.

LIBERALIZED REPUBLICAN THINKING

Third, the liberalizing of the thinking of our present Administration should help hold our economy high. For example, it has reversed itself on its hard-money policy; credit has been eased. Tax relief for both the individual and business is already under way. This Administration is prepared to go further with higher minimum wages, reasonable aid to the farmer, useful public works projects, and broader social security benefits.

Fourth, the millions of warning words and the current skepticism of the future may furnish a considerable element of psychological strength. There is little question but what skepticism has kept many a businessman and consumer from overstepping with regard to future commitments. The pessimistic forecasts may themselves prevent real trouble.

COMPARING 1954 WITH 1929

During the past few weeks I have been reading the newspapers and magazine articles published in 1928-1929, preceding the last depression. I find very few warnings. Herbert Hoover had just been elected President and he had chosen an able "businessman's" Cabinet. In fact, directly after his election the stock market shot up 20 points. Nearly all the business and financial prophets were then bullish.

Hence, people were not then on their guard. Yet, they should have been warned before it was too late. If warning had been given in 1929 as it has now been given, the great 1930-33 declines in building, textiles, clothing, leather, and automobiles would not have been so severe.

RECALL YOUR HISTORY

After every war, our country has had a letdown. This was true after World War I. Earlier, the same pattern had followed the Spanish-American War. An even more severe reaction set in after the Civil War. Yet, most economists say that it is now nearly ten years since World War II and we have had no readjustment of our continued prosperity.

But, is World War II at an end? Or, may we now be in World War III? What is the economic difference between a "hot war" and a "cold war"? I do not pretend to know all the answers, but I do ask these pertinent questions. After every period of inefficiency, waste, and unrighteousness, there must always be unemployment to punish us for our sins. But has this time come yet? Business and employment for the first half of 1954 could still be at a high level. So—take courage! The "boom" may not continue, but the future is still bright for families who will work hard and use any idle time to study and to build up physical and spiritual health.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Ernest Henry adds celery to his stew.

Delicious Stew

The ladies are not the only ones in Plymouth that can turn out a delicious meal, for the men have a lot of talent along that line as well. Ernest Henry of 298 East Ann Arbor trail, is famous for his turkey dinners, and he also makes a hobby of collecting all sorts of recipes. During business hours Henry is superintendent of the mails at the local post office.

The recipe printed here is one he concocted himself, so we will just call it the Henry Stew! He usually serves the dish with a tomato and lettuce salad and pie, he said. The stew recipe will serve from six to eight.

- 1 1/2 pounds round steak
- 1/4 pound butter
- 2 stalks celery
- 8 to 10 carrots
- 1/2 green pepper
- 5 small turnips
- 2 parsnips
- 2 tomatoes
- 4 or 5 large onions
- 3 potatoes
- 1 can mushrooms
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Pepper to taste
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon flour

Cut the round steak into two inch cubes and brown in the butter in a heavy kettle. Cover with cold water and simmer for one hour. Add the salt and pepper and the vegetables, cut into pieces. Continue to simmer for 45 minutes. Add the mushrooms. Also combine the flour and milk for thickening and add. Continue cooking for 15 more minutes. Serve.

Henry said that dumplings can also be added the last 15 minutes if desired.

Conservation Series Draws 110 Persons

Interest in the conservation series offered by the Adult Education department is very high, director Herbert Woolweaver stated, since 110 persons turned out for the last film-lecture. The lectures are given by members of the State Department of Conservation who also show films for illustration.

AAUW Members Hear Miss Daboo Discuss Peace

"International Understanding-Peace" was the topic of Miss Jer Daboo when she addressed her fellow members at the February meeting of the American Association of University Women. Miss Daboo is the first foreign student at the University of Michigan to hold membership in Ann Arbor's branch of AAUW.

Charming Miss Daboo comes from India where she has attained a great number of higher degrees in education. She is convinced that international understanding could be attained by training the youth of the world to live at peace with himself, his community, his nation and all the nations. In India the Teachers' Cooperative Movement for Peace has submitted articles to UNESCO for publication explaining how to prepare youth to live in a world without war. A stimulating question period on all phases of Indian social and political life followed her address.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Walch. Mrs. Robert Webber and Mrs. Hugh Harsha assisted the hostess in serving tea, coffee and cookies from a candlelit table. The International Relations Study Group of which Mrs. Walter Nichol is chairman planned the program, and Mrs. Miller Ross introduced Miss Daboo. A short business meeting followed the social period.

The next meeting will be held March 18. The program will be announced later.

Man's love for woman is one of the greatest things of life. It is his love for women that keeps the divorce lawyers in the lap of luxury.

of the Higgins Lake Training School. His talk will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 3. Ray's talk will be on the subject "The Responsibility of the Community Toward its Natural Resources" with an accompanying film, "Yours Is the Land."

Ray has a key role in advancing conservation instruction in Michigan schools. He is currently superintendent of the Conservation training school near Roscommon, where an increasing number of teachers are being trained through scholarships financed by Michigan clubs. Ray had considerable teaching and school administration experience prior to joining the department's education division as an educator consultant in 1949.

A dynamic and informed speaker, he is in much demand throughout the state as a conservation lecturer and teacher.

The final lecture of the series, March 10, will cover "Your Outdoor Michigan." The speaker will be Paul M. Barrett, extension specialist in land use and conservation at Michigan State college. There is no admittance charge.

Plymouth Gets Gas Tax Slice

Plymouth city received a check for $7,022.15 as its share of the motor vehicle fund distribution for the last quarter of 1953.

The receipts, collected through state gasoline and weight taxes, diesel fuel tax and a small amount of miscellaneous fees, are divided quarterly among the state, county and incorporated cities and villages.

The State Highway department receives 44 per cent for expenditure on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent go to counties for county roads, and 19 per cent to cities and villages for their roads and streets. The fourth quarter net receipts amounted to $27,084,596.71.

It's hard sometimes to tell whether people are trying to be as disagreeable as the weather, or whether the weather is trying to be as disagreeable as some people.

Some people are known by the company they keep and others would like to be known by the company they invite.

Ever see a "telegram" from your heart?

You are looking at a small part of an electrocardiogram... a record of the tiny electrical impulses given off at each beat of your heart.

When interpreted by your doctor, such "telegrams" may read: "Patient's heart normal... no need for worry." Others may say: "Patient's heart faulty... help required."

Yet, even when the heart sends out a message of trouble, it does not necessarily mean impending tragedy. For even a defective heart is capable of working for years if not overburdened.

Thousands of people are living good lives with bad hearts... because they acted wisely and in time.

First, they did not ignore the warnings that often suggest heart trouble—shortness of breath, pains in the chest, irregular beating of the heart, and constant fatigue. They heeded these warnings in time... knowing that their greatest security depended on taking prompt advantage of the help which medical science could give them.

Second, they accepted the limitations and restrictions imposed by a weakened heart. They tried not to "over-do"; they learned to avoid sudden exertion, and to keep weight at the normal level. They also recognized the value of sleep and relaxation, and the importance of freeing their lives from worry and strain.

Remember that in your physician's hands, you are in good hands. For today, physicians are better equipped than ever before to treat and control heart disease—and to guard against it as well. By taking advantage of the help your doctor can give you now, you increase your chances of living a good life with a bad heart.

Research groups sponsored by the National Heart Institute, the American Heart Association, universities, hospitals, pharmaceutical companies, and public and private agencies are constantly seeking new knowledge which will help physicians to control heart disease with even greater effectiveness.

Add the New Look To Monotonous Menu

If you are at the point where you are serving identical meals week after week, now is the time for a change. Monotony takes the fun out of cooking. There is likely to be a sign of slackened enthusiasm at mealtime on the part of your family.

It is easy to incorporate variety in your menus. For instance, you follow some of your old favorite recipes, but simply add new cooking liquids or seasonings, new garnishes. Each of these can give a grand new touch to your meat dish.

For example, when you buy round steak perhaps you habitually prepare it as Swiss steak. In addition to onion and tomatoes, you might add green pepper rings to the meat or add olives or mushrooms.

Or you might cut the steak into individual servings, top with a bread stuffing and roll. Fasten the rolls with round wooden picks, then braise the same as a Swiss steak, using water in place of tomatoes as the cooking liquid. And instead of cooking your pot-roast with the usual stew vegetables, onions, potatoes and carrots, look to new vegetables. Try cauliflower, green pepper rings, squash, okra, sweet potatoes and fruits such as dried apricots, prunes or cranberries. Seasonings can give a new touch too—thyme, basil, chili powder. Prepare the pot-roast without vegetables and serve with potato pancakes, with Spanish rice or with noodles sprinkled with parsley.

Colorful garnishes also set off your meat dish. Let your dinner vegetables serve as a garnish—green pepper cups filled with whole kernel corn, cheese topped broiled tomato halves, big baked potatoes, slit and filled with butter or twice-baked potatoes, oven browned potatoes

Cherry Has Varied Uses In Desserts

Cherry pie is certainly a fine traditional way of using cherries. The trouble is, it is pretty traditional the year around. So perhaps February is a good month to vary the pattern by thinking of other ways to use this fruit in your menus.

The two kinds of cherries, sweet and tart red, are available now as canned, or fresh frozen.

When you use sweet cherries, you can eat them just as they come from the package—plain, or with cream, or as a topping for ice cream. You will find that sweet cherries usually are not pitted before canning or freezing. They can also be used in fruit salad and in fruit gelatin mixtures. To obtain more flavor, color and food value, use any cherry juice left in the container as part of the liquid for dissolving the gelatin.

Tart red cherries usually are pitted before canning or freezing. They require the addition of sugar or some other sweetener. And most people prefer them cooked.

In addition to being used for the traditional cherry pie, tart red cherries may be used for making fruit dumplings. Or they can be thickened and used as a topping for ice cream, cake or pudding.

They will also transform that simple, water-base tapioca pudding into a very special dish. Or you might like them as a base for your next sherbet dessert.

Cooked up into jams, jellies or preserves, they will be a favorite standby for family meals or for dressing up the menu when you have unexpected guests.

Serve Sweet, Pungent Duckling

Sweet-and-Pungent Duckling, A Royal Recipe for a Royal Fowl

Most of the ducks raised for food in the United States are Peking ducks, direct descendants of the Imperial Chinese Emperor's ducks, no less. They are nice, easy-going ducks and they love to eat, which makes them all the easier to fatten up for you, my dears. And if you agree that royal fowl deserves a royal treatment, try this recipe for Sweet-and-Pungent Duckling, served with warm rolls and coffee.

Each delicious portion is one-quarter of a duckling. It is quartered before cooking and roasted in the ordinary manner. However, while cooking, it is doused with an ambrosial mixture compounded of honey and grapefruit juice, among other ingredients. This way, each portion acquires a firm, rosy glaze, making all the difference in the world in the way it looks as well as in the way it tastes. In serving, the sweet-pungent theme can be carried through with a decorative garnish of grapefruit sections and maraschino cherries.

Duckling prepared in this manner is one of those dishes that coffee "goes with" to perfection. Make your coffee at the beginning of the meal and serve it as a fitting companion to the succulent descendants of the Emperor's ducks.

- Sweet-And Pungent Duckling
- 2 five-pound ducklings, quartered
 - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 2 teaspoons soy sauce
 - 1/3 cup vinegar
 - 1/2 cup honey
 - 2/3 cup grapefruit juice
 - Grapefruit sections
 - Maraschino cherries
- Place quartered ducklings skin side up on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven,

SWEET-AND-PUNGENT Duckling is a fine and different way for you to serve this delicious bird. Provide warm rolls, a light dessert and plenty of steaming coffee to round out a decorative and savory meal.

325° F., 1 hour. Meanwhile blend cornstarch, soy sauce and vinegar, add honey and grapefruit juice and mix well. Pour over duckling. Cover pan tightly (if no cover, use aluminum foil). Roast 1 hour longer. Transfer to platter. Garnish with grapefruit sections and Maraschino cherries. Makes 8 servings.

Citrus Fruit Cups For Variety

* Florida grapefruit, oranges and tangerines are available in markets in excellent supply, and at prices which should be an invitation to their daily use. Probably the most popular use, after juice, is in fruit cups, for first course or dessert.

Here the sections are combined with sliced bananas and diced apple (leave red peel on for color contrast); with finely cut dates and shredded coconut; with diced avocado and chopped pimiento (omit sugar); with sliced strawberries; with orange or lime sherbet.

Chill fruit before preparing it for fruit cup. To section, cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Then cut slice from top and bottom. Go over fruit again, removing any white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section. Sprinkle sections lightly with sugar.

Give Research Food Facts

Do you choose your meals by fad, or from the facts proved by scientific research? The following food facts may be dangerous:

This is especially true, if peculiar diets and special remedies take the place of proper medical treatment.

If you are puzzled by the constant stream of new or revived notions about food, a few basic facts may help. Here are scientifically-proved facts which answer a few of the questions most often asked by homemakers:

Q—Are there combinations of foods that are better used by the body than other combinations?

A—There are no "magic combinations." Meals furnishing a good variety of the vitamins, minerals and proteins needed for body growth repair and functioning make for efficient use. They are not so likely to be wasted as when too much of one vitamin and not enough of some mineral are eaten at the same time. This is the reason that nutritionists urge homemakers to plan meals around the "basic 7" food groups. Such good planning provides the "balance" or variety needed.

Q—Does pasteurizing milk destroy its nutritive value?

A—Scientific research has proved that pasteurization of milk causes no loss of nutritive value except a slight loss of vitamin C. Milk is not a high source of this vitamin, anyway.

Good sources of vitamin C include citrus fruits, citrus juices and tomatoes. Milk is especially valuable for calcium and protein. A good thing to remember is that "you never outgrow your need for milk." It should be included in adult diets as well as in the diets of children.

Q—Should iodized salt be used in canning?

A—Definitely, YES. Otherwise, many families would find their iodine intake greatly reduced during the months in which many canned foods appear on the table. Research has proved that iodized salt does not cause food spoilage.

Q—Does cooking in a pressure saucepan save vitamins?

A—It may and it may not, tests have proved. It depends upon the vitamin in question and the food being cooked. Pressure cooking results in losses similar to those from modern top-of-stove cooking in a small amount of water.

Q—May foods be allowed to stand in opened tin cans?

A—Yes. There is no dangerous chemical action between the metal and foods—even sour ones. However, foods will spoil in a few hours or days after opening whether stored in the can or in some utensil—if not properly refrigerated. All opened cans should be refrigerated.

For additional facts on foods, write Roberta Hershey, Home Economics Extension Service, Michigan State college. Her recent bulletin, "Fact, Fad and Fraud about Food," is available upon request.

Progress in Nylon Seen Since Developed in 1938

Nylon has made progress in a lot of different directions since it was first developed in 1938 in the form of toothbrush bristles. In one of its newest forms, nylon has been specially-processed into yarn which has the ability to stretch and conform to almost any shape which it surrounds.

In some cases, you will hear this new yarn referred to as "Helanca."

The new yarn makes possible knitwear which fits many different sizes.

For instance, the yarn has been used for men's, women's and children's socks sized only as small, medium and large. The socks stretch to fit smoothly without wrinkles or binding.

They have been on the market about a year and have worn well, it is reported.

Women's full-fashioned nylons have been manufactured in "doll-size" from the new yarn. Off the leg, they measure about 15 inches in length. On the leg, they stretch to make a dull-finish sheer hose of full length. Because of the twist in the yarn, they tend to resist runs, too. These hose have become available in larger cities.

At least one company is marketing women's briefs and panty girdles of "Helanca."

Two-way stretch gloves, swimsuits and other ideas are being tried out in this stretchy nylon yarn. Many people consider it softer and more comfortable than ordinary nylon yarn.

Relax with Tea

It is good household economy to keep tea, cups and saucers handy for the drink that cheers, in easy accessibility. Neatness and good family relations flourish when the water boils and all hands stop for a few minutes of relaxation over a cup of tea.

Housewives know the balm to the spirit of a steaming cup of hot tea—especially the women on weight-losing diets, who, when hungry, can reach for a cup of tea because (1) it has no calories and (2) it gives them a lift and helps them carry on until mealtime.

For those who need or want to put on weight, a mid-morning or mid-afternoon break for tea could be served with a small snack such as a few crackers.

One Floor Home Trend Enables Working Wife to Make Efficient Use Of Spare Time

Of the more than 19 million women employed in the United States during the summer of 1953, 10 1/2 million were married according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Of the more than one million new homes built in 1953, an estimated 88 per cent were one story. It would be practically impossible to prove that the growing number of working wives was directly connected to the trend in home design. But whether the wife works outside the home or not, the trend is toward a house design that enables her to make the most efficient use of her time.

The one-floor plan house—with no stairs to climb, laundry facilities a few steps from the kitchen—certainly is an important part of the work-saving trend.

When the house is well-designed, it's easier to clean. Just being on one floor isn't the whole answer. Here are other points to consider:

An entrance hall is a basic requirement since it keeps dirt and show out of the other rooms of the house.

The house should be laid out so it isn't necessary for reach to go through the living room to reach other rooms in the house. Then there won't be so much wear on carpets and they won't need as frequent cleaning. Then, too, there's less temptation for the children to turn the living room into a dumping ground for their toys and other belongings.

Bathroom, kitchen and entrance hall should have hard surface materials that can be cleaned with a few wipes of a damp rag or wet mop. A kitchen exhaust fan helps remove fumes before they discolor walls and add to the cleaning chores.

Most people think of insulation as a means of saving fuel. That it certainly does, but insulation reduces the amount of dust that infiltrates the walls of the house. If the insulation happens to be insulating siding, used to finish the outside walls besides insulating, it also cuts down the husband's housekeeping chores. He doesn't have to worry about painting or staining insulating siding since it comes with a factory-made, life-long finish.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. A-298

DESIGN A-298. This plan shows three bedrooms, one of which is indicated for future addition, if desired, by merely extending the hall. Construction calls for an insulated slab on gravel fill and a flat roof calculated for snow loads. Exterior finish is wide siding and vertical redwood walls, built-up roofing, picture window and a covered terrace. Plans also show a combination living-dining room, utility room for heating, laundry and storage, kitchen with snack bar or dining space, wardrobe closets, built-in trays, linen and coat closets. Floor area is 1149 square feet with 11-318 cubic feet without third bedroom. Details show alternate floor construction with crawl space. For further information about DESIGN A-298, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

THE BASEMENT RECREATION ROOM in the home of John Downing of 1133 South Harvey street was finished by Downing himself, who spent his days off and evenings for six weeks working on the project. The walls are paneled in seven inch knotty pine boards, and the room features an acoustical ceiling. Downing also laid asphalt tiling on the floor in a design of light grey, red and ebony. The Downing home was recently constructed by Stewart Oldford and Sons.

All-Purpose Extra Room

Family getting in each other's way?

There comes a time in most households when father wants to work on his papers in the living room and Junior has the TV on; when the daughter of the house has to sleep on the sofa because she gave up her bed to visiting Aunt Emma; or when the children are underfoot all over the house because it's raining outside and they have no place to play.

The solution, obviously, is a multi-purpose extra room. There are many possible locations for it in the typical house, but the important thing is that it should be easy to keep clean. Experts who specialize in this type of remodeling suggest that the floor be of material like clay tile which requires no special care, only light wiping, and that the furnishings should be the kind which is virtually "childproof."

Where to have this extra room? If the house has a basement, by all means construct the living-sleeping area there. Or, perhaps, the best bet would be the attic. In the latter case, be sure that the beams can support extra weight before proceeding with your plans.

Lacking either a basement or attic, a home can still have that extra room. Part of the attached garage can be devoted to it, or the breezeway converted. And some styles of architecture allow the addition of a wing.

If possible, let there be a barbecue or kitchenette in this extra room. It gives the space the ultimate in relaxed living. But of extreme importance is a connecting bath. This need not be elaborate, but should be waterproofed with clay tile and have a shower.

Accent Color Catches Eye

Use of a small area of bright color in planning a color scheme for the exterior of a house is advised by professional color designers. This eye-catching color, called "accent color," contrasts to colors selected for roof, sidewalls, and trim. For the house sketched above, accent color, printed in heavy black, was used on the door and on the trim of the narrow horizontal panel of windows. The roof color remains the basic exterior color. It is chosen from the great variety of solid and blended colors available in asphalt shingles, the weather- and fire-resistant roofing material used to protect most homes today. Colors for walls and trim harmonize with the roof.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—My kitchen linoleum has several cracks along the edge. How can these be repaired before little pieces break off?

A—Get some canvas or other stiff cloth and cut a patch for each cracked area. Make the patches large enough to extend from the edge of the linoleum several inches beyond the crack. Coat the cloth with linoleum paste and place it beneath the linoleum. Put weights on top of the patched spot until the paste has dried.

Q—Soap and water will remove surface dirt from my wallpaper but has little effect on some grease stains and crayon marks. How can I take these off?

A—A paste made of fuller's earth and benzine will take off grease spots. Apply the paste about a quarter of an inch thick and let stand until it dries, then brush it off. Washing with detergent suds, instead of soap, may remove the crayon; if not, the fuller's earth treatment will. When washing wallpaper, be careful not to scrub so hard that you tear the paper, which softens when it is wet.

Q—I have a two-story house, but I've been told that water stains on my living room wall might come from a leaky roof. Is that possible?

A—Yes. Water is very tricky. It can enter through a leak in the roof and work its way unseen down through the walls, finally appearing so far from the point of entry that the real cause is not suspected. It would be wise to have your roof examined closely. If a leaky roof is old and weathered, patching is not advisable. Reroofing is the only sensible course. Asphalt shingles usually can be applied on top of the old material for a watertight, economical job.

Q—How can stains be removed from metal ash trays?

A—Denatured alcohol will remove tobacco stains from brass or copper ash trays. Brisk scrubbing with a brush is needed.

FOR ADDED LIVING SPACE

To gain increased space for living, many families are finishing expansion attics. To insure comfort without excessive fuel bills, batts or blankets of mineral wool insulation may be installed in the average attic at no more than the cost of a good suit of clothes.

TEST FOR DAMPNESS

A simple, yet practical, way of determining whether a concrete floor is dry enough to paint, is to lay a piece of linoleum three or four feet square on the floor. If, after two days, no dampness shows under it, the concrete is dry enough for paint.

Maybe you're not worried about an air conditioner particularly now, but the spring-like weather last week must have reminded you of the warm weather to come. That's why I'm going to mention the Admiral room air conditioners I heard about over at Dave Galin's.

With this conditioner you can enjoy cool, relaxed comfort even on the hottest days. Even in the winter, the air conditioner draws clean filtered air into your rooms. The outfit has louvers which can direct the air flow any way you please—up or down. And the thermostat permits automatic control of the room temperature. The unit is installed in a window through a very simple operation. If you have warm upstairs rooms in the summer or just like freely circulating fresh air, the Admiral conditioner sounds just about right.

I also wanted to mention something that's great for any kitchen—I came across these Cosco stools over at Galin's too. There are step stools of tubular steel construction so you can climb up and get those things on the top shelf, or just the regular kitchen stool that you pull up for a snack. And they're all upholstered in gay colors which add to your decoration scheme.

Cosco also has wonderful utility tables and carts on wheels to solve your serving and space needs. One has a removable top that you can take off and use as a tray. Others fold up or have drop leaves for expansion. Another even has an electrical outlet so you can work your various appliances on it. Well, I could go on and on, but they're really something to look into if you need some additional kitchen equipment.

Back To Nature Is Modern Color Trend

The modern trend toward simplicity brings a new appreciation of the beauty and coloring to be found in nature. We are seeing—with new eyes—the sculptured loveliness in water-worn driftwood, the rhythmic beauty of a curving branch, the exquisite color groupings to be found along a forest path.

Adapting this trend, modern interior decoration uses color schemes derived from the hues of sand and of spruce, of bamboo, green citron, terra cotta and the like.

Many of those who make a hobby of home painting have been delighted to find innumerable new stains and finishes available that emphasize the beauty of wood-grain while providing a durable protective finish.

The two drivers of opposition oil wagons became involved in trouble Tuesday evening in the rear of Huston & Company's store. Then they drove their teams to the church sheds, blanketed them and proceeded to maul each other after Marquis of Queensbury rules. The Ypsilanti driver seems to have gotten the worst of the deal as he was seen later with one of his hands done up in a splint.

The son who is not yet 14 years of age on the recommendation of the county agent was given in his charge and put under parole for one year. Unless Adle is as fortunate as Frank Andrews was, the poor farmers will at least feel safe until his time expires.

A big Studebaker car driven by Orrin Stuart of Ann Arbor, and employed by the Detroit Edison company, skidded at the Pere Marquette Railroad crossing on Golden road, Tuesday morning, and in running up onto the track, two wheels were taken off and the car turned upside down. Mr. Stuart escaped with only a slight cut upon one of his knees.

Detroit metropolitan area, city and village officials from Wayne county are being guests during each of the nine days of the show. They will be guided through the largest exhibition of automobiles ever presented in Detroit and then will attend the stage show beginning at 8:30 p.m. The show opened last Saturday and will end this Saturday.

Hi-12 Members Find New Hen Is Delicacy

The Baby Wild Rock Cornish Game Hen made its debut on the banquet table in the Plymouth area for the first time last week.

Very few people have ever heard of this new delicacy and fewer have eaten it, but six dozen members and guests of the Plymouth Hi-12 club consumed one each at their dinner-meeting last week at Arbor Lill.

According to Norbert Lofy manager of the Arbor Lill dining room, the Wild Rock Cornish Game Hen is a cross between a white turkey, a white guinea hen and a Manila (Philippines) fighting cock. All white meat, the bird is called a "gourmet's delight."

Only a few New York eating places have featured the new bird on their menu. Mr. Lofy said that the six dozen birds were killed in Pomfret Center, Connecticut the morning of the banquet, placed on a plane at noon and arrived at Willow Run by late afternoon. By 5 o'clock they were in the oven.

The restaurant manager said that he does not expect to put the hen on the menu right away. A dinner would cost about $6. He will order the bird for special groups, he added. Members of the Hi-12 were reported to have enjoyed the new dish.

The Baby Cornish hen weighs about 14 ounces, so each person must eat at least a whole bird to get a dinner. They are said to not taste like a chicken or a turkey, but have a taste entirely new.

Week's Court Cases

Court cases charging excessive noise with a motor vehicle and reckless driving were heard last week by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo.

Darrell Heinzman, Northville, pleaded guilty to the excessive noise charge and was fined $75. He was arrested while speeding on South Main street.

Raymond Cetnar, 13741 Farmington road, pleaded guilty to reckless driving after being arrested February 12 driving his car recklessly on Adams street near the high school. He was placed on a year's probation in the care of the person with whom he makes his home. Two motorists were also fined for speeding in the court.

Cpl. Theodore Burk

Cpl. Theodore H. Burk is one of more than 5,000 toughened paratroopers and other military personnel who will "fight" for the nation's backbone—the Continental Divide—in Army, war games during the next two months.

Cpl. Burk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Burk of 9625 Cranston.

Preparations for Operation Ski Jump are well underway in the rugged Camp Hale, Colorado terrain. Troopers from the 511th Airborne Regimental Combat team are working out with winter and mountain gear.

The mock battle takes place at 10,000 to 12,000 foot altitudes. These troops wear special clothing and helmets that show a silhouette different from the regular GI model. They carry papers and orders written in a foreign language. Some of their communications will be carried out in the foreign tongue.

Cpl. Burk is a veteran of two years military service. He received his basic training at Camp Gordon, Augusta, Ga., where he took a 12 week course in military cryptography.

Upon receiving his certificate, he was assigned to the 529th Signal Corp (operations) at Camp Carson, Colorado.

Heart Association Dispels Rumors To Overcome Harmful Phobias

Destruction of age-old misconceptions about diseases of the heart and blood vessels, with the view of replacing them in the public's mind with truth and fact, is a prime objective of the Michigan Heart Association, it was pointed out today by Henry L. Smith, M.D., Detroit, President of the Association.

Explaining that research and community heart programs are other main objectives of the Association's activities, Dr. Smith said that its educational program emphasizes the need for a broad understanding of the heart problem and for overcoming of harmful phobias through a program of public education.

For example, he listed these five "fables and facts" as illustrations of common misconceptions about heart diseases, and the actual truth about them:

Fable: Nothing can be done about heart disease.

Fact: Some forms of heart disease can be prevented, some can be cured. Your doctor can help almost all cases, especially if diagnosed early.

Fable: Most heart attacks are fatal.

Fact: After a heart attack, the majority recover to lead productive lives.

Fable: Murmurs, chest pains and palpitations are sure signs of heart trouble.

Fact: Not necessarily—only your doctor can tell.

Fable: Women with heart disease should not have children.

Fact: With proper medical care, most women with heart disease can bear children safely.

Fable: You can't work if you have heart disease.

Fact: Most can still earn their living—often without changing jobs. Dr. Smith added:

"Incomplete as it is, this listing does incorporate some of the glaring misconceptions that have been handed down from generation to generation. These untruths have fostered unwarranted fears, have prevented heart sufferers from obtaining the attention they require, and in general have been harmful to progress.

"Not for one moment do I minimize the seriousness of heart diseases. But I should like to point out that the facts above are for the most part hopeful ones, and that hope is the vantage point from which the Heart Association approaches the heart problem.

"Our chief hope, of course, is that research—supported by the Michigan Heart Association through funds received from "United" fund-raising campaigns—will ultimately aid in conquering heart and blood vessel diseases and thus help to bring under control this health menace which takes more lives than all other diseases combined.

Sounds Logical!

Why show farmers how to improve crop yields and boost milk production when we have such a surplus of food already?

That's a question some city folks are asking Michigan State College. This is the answer they get from C. R. Hognlund, M.S.C. agricultural economist:

In the first place, better production per acre doesn't necessarily mean greater total production from improved practices. If a farmer uses recommended rotations, he will have less acre in cash crops and more acres in grass and legumes. Since he will be producing more per acre, his costs will be cut and total income will be higher than if he were producing the same amount of corn on more acres.

"Greater use of high quality roughage lets the farmer feed less grain and protein to his cows without changing milk production," the economist explains. "But the greater use of roughage will mean more dollars left at the end of the year because the farmer will be spending less for feed."

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Love is God's greatest gift to man. It enables him to make with joy supreme sacrifices for the benefit of others.

The man of Galilee exemplified that in His life and in His death. "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends." The Master went further still. He laid down His life for His enemies.

Around the world today there are men or groups of men who believe in His teachings and follow Him, there are love, kindness, generosity, harmony, and peace among them. There could not be war if men followed His precepts for there would be no hate, no antagonism, no cruelty, and no revenge.

There would be love, Saint Paul tells us that "Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; vaunted not itself, is not puffed up; seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil. And, now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love."

If you give love, love will come back to you. It may be many days before you will realize it, but it will surely come some day in your time of need or sorrow. If you "give to the world the best you have, the best will come back to you."

If you hate, you poison the wellsprings of your life and destroy your own peace and that of those about you. Hate will produce a terrible harvest of destructive emotions within your own soul.

You see the awful results of hate and greed in the world today. It is the harvest that is being reaped from sowing the seeds of hate, with all its venomous brood.

Yes, it will all come back to you. As you sow, so also will you reap.

Make your peace with the chaplain before her first afternoon tea.

State Allows 19 Million for Highways

A total of $19,363,779 has been authorized as Federal-aid to Michigan for highways in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954, Automobile Club of Michigan's General Manager E. S. Matheson said today. The amount is Michigan's share of $575 million authorized by the Federal-aid Highway Act approved June 25, 1952. Last year Michigan's share was $19,250,850.

Of the total, Michigan was authorized $7,641,646 for its Federal-aid primary highway system; $4,662,919 for secondary or feeder roads; $6,277,985 for urban highways, and $781,229 for the Interstate system. This money will be available for expenditure until June 30, 1957.

The funds must be expended under supervision of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, with the State Highway Department proposing projects, preparing plans, awarding contracts, and supervising construction, all subject to Federal approval. Federal participation is limited to half the cost.

Funds for the Federal-aid Primary and Interstate highway systems are apportioned in proportion to area, population, and mileage of post roads, each being given equal weight, Matheson explained. Funds for Federal-aid secondary roads are apportioned in the same manner except that rural population is used rather than total population. Funds for urban projects are apportioned in proportion to population in municipalities and other urban areas of 5,000 or more persons.

MUCH ATTENTION is now being focused on the simple laboratory of Thomas Edison at Greenfield Village where Edison performed the miracle of electric light. His famous "Menlo Park" laboratory and compound was brought to the Village about 25 years ago. This year being the Diamond Jubilee of Light a commemorative program is planned in October. After Henry Ford moved the laboratory to the Village he was upset by Edison's intended compliment that the newly restored scene was "99 1/2 per cent perfect." Ford wanted perfection. Edison explained that the only shortcoming was an over-orderliness. "It never looked that clean when we worked here," he declared.

SPEAKING OF THE VILLAGE, it, too, is celebrating an anniversary—the 25th! Henry Ford and his famous Model T "Tin Lizzie" will be honored in a new film-strip. The film is in narrative form telling the story of early automobile transportation as it related to Ford. It is available free of charge for showing to local groups, clubs and organizations.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A first shipment of Hungarian partridge was expected here today from Ontario wildlife authorities, conservation sources report.

The birds were trapped near Kemptville in southern Ontario, are being shipped here by rail and will be released as soon as possible in the Pickford area, east of Ruyard, in the upper peninsula.

Michigan game workers were uncertain how many "Hunkies" the Canadians were shipping, but said they thought about two dozen.

In exchange, Michigan will export sharp-tailed grouse to Ontario.

The hope is that both groups of birds will adapt to their new areas, spread their range and provide more game and recreation for both Michigan and Ontario.

Last week, Michigan workers live-trapped and shipped three sharp-tailed to Canada to start off the American part of the bargain.

Six starved deer have been reported found in the Mio area, the conservation department reports.

John Byelich, in charge of deer investigations in the area, reports all the deer were found or reported last week.

All were on private land, much of which in the Mio area is restricted against hunting of does and fawns.

Also, some fawns on private lands in the area were reported to Byelich as being in poor physical condition.

Elsewhere in the lower peninsula, no trouble is reported. Snow has restricted deer to swamps in the Traverse City and northern Baldwin areas, but elsewhere the animals are ranging more widely in their search for food.

In the upper peninsula, occasional mild weather has cut snow depth in some places and given deer more chance to range.

Wild turkeys to be used in Michigan's forthcoming stocking experiment probably will come from Pennsylvania, game workers say.

The conservation commission, meeting here late last week, approved a three-year planting project in hopes the big wild birds can be re-established in the state.

Since about 1900, wild turkeys have been absent from Michigan's wildlife scene.

Pennsylvania has successfully coaxed its turkey population into a huntable game bird. Hunters in the Keystone state take about 10,000 of the birds each year.

Game workers here say they hope to buy eggs, young turkeys or wild brood pairs for the Michigan experiment and that Pennsylvania is the first logical market place.

The birds, when obtained, will be released in Allegan state forest, probably this year.

An error in the fish law digest for 1954 indicates that sturgeon may be taken at any time from inland waters, the conservation department notes.

Actually, sturgeon may be taken from inland waters only during January and February.

The law further provides that this fish can be taken at any time from waters of the Great Lakes and connecting waters not otherwise closed to such fishing.

Michigan pheasants—knock on wood—are having a good winter thus far, Ralph Blouch, conservation department game worker, reports.

Mail carriers in December counted about 10 percent more birds than in December, 1952, and noted there were ample numbers of roosters in relation to hens.

Also, weather in the southern pheasant range has been moderate enough this winter, with no severe ice storms or heavy snow crusts to handicap birds in their search for food.

Mailmen in December counted an average of about three hens per rooster. In the Thumb, this was about one rooster per eight hens while in pheasant-poor southwestern counties that ratio was about one to one. Blouch says a ratio of as high as one rooster to 15 hens is safe for adequate reproduction.

The one-to-three ratio noted in December is an indication, Blouch says, that pheasants were under-harvested last season and that hunters could have taken more birds without disturbing parent stocks.

In 1952, hunters noted a ratio of one rooster to four hens. That year, hunters reported shooting close to one million birds.

Blouch says rooster pheasants often leave hens during winter months. He says sharp-eyed observers occasionally report seeing 30-40 hens in a group with no males present.

Mail carriers, traveling highways and back roads, do game census work for the conservation department throughout the year.

Pheasants are counted in April, July and December while during summer months, deer and grouse also are counted.

Pilgrim Prints Wins State Honor For TB Story

Given an opportunity to treat a case of tuberculosis in its minimum stage, a cure can be guaranteed, Dr. W. L. Howard, medical director of William Maybury Sanatorium, stated in a prize-winning story in "Pilgrim Prints," publication of the Plymouth high school.

The paper was one of three in Wayne County to win state honors in the annual Tuberculosis Press Project. "News Prints" of Our Lady of Mercy high school, and "Highlights" of Inkster high school were also judged outstanding among the 70 Michigan school newspapers entered.

The state winners will be submitted for judging in the national competition which is sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The project is part of the educational program of the Tuberculosis and Health Society to make people aware of the dangers of TB and how to prevent and cure the disease.

State winners were judged by the Michigan State college department of journalism under the direction of A. A. Applegate.

The cost of putting up a building could be reduced to almost nothing if you could charge the fellows who stop to watch it.

May 31 Final Date For Corn Loan Availability

Fred C. Ernest of the Wayne County ASC Committee announced today that May 31, 1954 is the final date for the availability of loans and Purchase Agreements under the government price support programs on the 1953 corn crop.
