Long Violation List Ends With 90-Day Sentence

A 90-day sentence to the Detroit House of Correction and two fines of $35 were given to three motorists who appeared before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo recently.

Given the jail term was David A. Aseltine, 21, of 810 Starkweather, who was charged with driving after his driver's license was revoked.

Police said that Aseltine was arrested March 5 when driving at a high speed around a downtown corner, with no taillights on his car and with a faulty muffler. Asked to see his driver's license, Aseltine said he had left it at home, so he was ticketed for driving without his license on his person.

A check on his previous offenses showed that he had been convicted over a dozen times for other driving violations and that his license had been revoked in February by the secretary of state for failing to appear for an examination to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Aseltine told Judge Perlongo that he received the letter from the secretary of state telling of the revocation but that he believed the secretary had no right to revoke licenses. Aseltine's wife had written a letter to the secretary of state protesting the revocation, the defendant said, but the letter was never sent.

The minimum sentence for driving with a revoked license is a two-day jail sentence. Perlongo said that "in view of the previous record and attitude of the defendant in court, he was sentencing the defendant to 90 days in jail."

Arrested for reckless driving were George J. Brodie, 697 Adams street, and Wilson Gilbert, 43461 Grand River. Both were given fines of $35 in an appearance before Judge Perlongo.

Meter Change Makes Change Go Faster

City commissioners approved new parking meter rates for the Central parking lot Monday night. By Tuesday morning the meter conversion job was done.

Police wasted no time in readjusting the 110 meters after commissioners decided that the meters should be giving the same time for the same price as other meters in the city. The parking lot meters were giving two hours for a nickel. Now they give one hour.

All 110 of the meters were changed in a few hours Tuesday morning with the exception of 10 meters which give all-day parkers 10 hours for a quarter.

Add a tablespoon of sugar to water in which sweet potatoes are boiled to improve the flavor.

The kindergarten couple are Janet Ruth Lyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lyke, and Douglas Fey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fey.

No Astronomers Needed! Just Look Around and You Will See It's Spring

Who cares about Vernal Equinoxes, axis tilts and earth orbits? All we know is that spring arrives this Saturday night and it won't take a long-winded explanation by astronomers to prove it. Instead of gazing into the heavens and charting the sun's path to prove spring's arrival, a Plymouth citizen needs only to glance out the window to see that the season has arrived when a young man's fancy commences to turn.

Then there is the beating of rugs, cleaning of wallpaper, scrubbing of porches, raking of lawns, changing of storm doors, washing windows, de-junking of attics, sweeping of basements, mopping of floors, painting of kitchens, and ...

You know, winter isn't such a bad time of year when you really think about it.

Henry's First Farm Tractor

As spring plowing gets underway on farms across the nation, none of the more than 4 million farm tractors in use will resemble this one (at left). Henry Ford's first farm tractor, built in 1907, long since has been retired to a place of honor in the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. The 34-horsepower vehicle, which Mr. Ford called his "Automobile Plow," sports an engine with copper water jackets. Its rear wheels were taken from a binder. Despite its early vintage, it still runs.

BE CAREFUL!

Each year, about one out of every 16 persons in the United States suffers an accident at an average cost of about $800. This means that there are a total of between 9 million and 10 million accidents every year, the total cost of which is approximately $7.5 billion.

When Magician Roy Rew produced one of the large bills which were the standard size some twenty years ago to pay for a purchase in a local store the bill was refused. We all expect Roy to bring forth rabbits and other unusual items at any time so the young clerk thought this large rag was not for real either. After the usual kidding and the obvious remark that "it only goes to prove that you have the first dollar you ever made" the conversation at the Family Table got around to discussing just when the size of the bills was changed. Guesses ranged from 1926 to 1936. Anyone care to settle this weighty question?

The Camera Shop is minus the services of Lloyd Johnson for a week or two because of a freak and unavoidable car accident. He will be confined to the hospital for a few days with an injured shoulder. Not much startling news in that, but there is something worthy of note in the story. Lloyd's first concern, although he suffered pain and financial loss in the complete demolition of his car, was for his companion, Tony Worth. When informed that Tony was okay, his only remark was that that was all that mattered. All of which proves that some of our teenagers are straight-thinking, grown-up and mature people.

The City Commission recently passed an ordinance prohibiting whistling at the girls. Life will never be the same again. So, to quell the urge, we are offering for sale in the men's shop of the hotel a new line of blinders. However, they are not moving as fast as those new Priestley tropical suits, which in themselves would bring a whistle or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush took off by plane for the warmth of California Monday. Behind them here in Plymouth, however, we still feel the warmth of their visit. Harry's friendliness, generosity and civic accomplishments don't often get in print, nor are they elaborated on in speeches, but Plymouth is fortunate indeed to have him as a friend. The Mayflower's "welcome mat" is always out for these fine guests. And may we add, don't miss their new "Cinemascope" at The Penn!

We are concerned about the welfare of a 190-pound hunk of young gentleman who likes to work with machinery and on farms but who is handicapped in finding employment because he is only fifteen years old. He's a little discouraged about the laws that us oldsters have passed which deny him the privilege of earning and saving. We preach the practice of thrift and ambition but frustrate him by our rules and regulations. We know that this paradox causes him great consternation. We are keenly aware of this situation because we live with him, and though he's mighty easy to live with he passes this worry on to his folks. Anyone know the answer?

Another oddity that often crops up around the Mayflower is the fact that a seventeen-year-old employee cannot operate the elevator, but that streets and be legally licensed same lad can go out and run a two-ton Juggernaut on the to do so! Who ever heard of one of these lads going seventy miles-per-hour in an elevator and wrapping it around a tree?

Embarrassing moments: The dining room guest who parked his $5,000 automobile in Wiedman's Ford lot next door and found it wouldn't start when he was ready to leave. Should he have faced the ribbing involved in having the Ford men get it started? Or should he have pushed it out on the street with the power of his own bulk? Anyway, he avoided the embarrassment of letting the Ford people know about it, and we will keep the secret by folding it away in this column!

The field of industrial nursing has grown rapidly in the last 24 years. In 1930, there were approximately 3,000 industrial nurses active in the United States. By 1942, that number had grown to 6,000 and mid-way through World War II, it had soared to 13,000. In spite of widespread predictions to the contrary, the number of industrial nurses continued to grow after the war and today an estimated 16,000 nurses are active in this field.

A man once said that if he had his choice of bathing a dog or a baby he would choose the latter because it turns red if the water is too hot and he might cook the poor dog without knowing it.

parking meters to offer only one hour of parking for a nickle instead of two hours. This is needed, commissioners agreed, to increase the parking fund revenue. The fund recently went into the "red" when new land was acquired to enlarge the East Central parking lot.

Commissioners heard the results of the quarterly audit made of the city's finances by Sutherland and Robson, local accountants. It told of the increasing deficit in the cemetery operation. The deficit during the past six months of 1953 was $3,236, making a total of $26,815. It was recommended that a method of increasing revenues be found.

A letter was read from Lynn M. Miller of the state geological survey division in reply to a letter sent him by the city inquiring about oil drillings endangering water supplies. Miller said that it is necessary for oil and gas drillings to be performed under a permit issued by his department and that all drillings

A letter of protest concerning the jury fees in the municipal court was also heard. It protested that $2 for four hours of jury duty was much too small when the common pleas court juries receive $8 per day.  Victory over human limitations comes as we learn that man's true selfhood is spiritual, not material, and that he lives in Spirit, God not in matter -- this is a leading point in the Lesson-Sermon to be heard at Christian Sciences services Sunday.
 In the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Matter" the following Bible verses will be read from Isaiah:
 "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord" (55:6-8).
 The following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read:
 "The perfect Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal mind sends forth its own resemblances, of which the wisest man said, 'All is vanity'" (239:29).

GRANGE GLEANINGS
 It is Grange night tonight and a nice big crowd should be there. We are to have Lawrence Livingston and some of his band for entertainment. There is much important business to be discussed regarding our anniversary celebration so come and do your part.
 The card party on Saturday night was quite a successful affair. There was a nice crowd.
 All of our sick folks seem to be well on the gain at this writing, except Mrs. Lily Smith who is in very poor health.
 Pomona meeting at Stoney Creek last week was not very well attended by Plymouth members as Mr. and Mrs. Matt Swegles were the only representatives. This was very unusual as Plymouth usually turns out about 75 per cent of its Pomona members.
 Next Pomona will be at Pittsfield on April 13 with a fine degree team putting on the fifth degree work, so it is important that those who were obligated in the fifth degree be there to watch the work done. Any who care to become Pomona members may do so at that time.
 Remember the dance that is coming up on March 27. If those members who seldom come to Grange will come and bring along their friends and neighbors they will find that they will have a good time and a lot of fun. Just try it once and see.
 The wealth of man is the number of things which he loves and blesses, which he is loved and blessed by.
 —Thomas Carlyle

Meek, minister of historic Old South church in Boston, Massachusetts, one of the churches which figured so prominently in the American Revolution, will preach at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, Hubbard and West Chicago, next Monday, March 22, at 8 p.m. Dr. Meek is well known throughout the country as a preacher and lecturer.
 He will be the preacher for the week of March 22, Monday through Friday, 12:10 to 12:50 p.m., at the Lenten services of the Detroit Council of Churches, held at Central Methodist church, broadcast on W.W.J. at 10:15 p.m.
 The services in the Rosedale church will be sponsored by the Livonia Ministers' Association. All people of the community are cordially invited to attend this service and the tea which will be served following the service.

GRANGE GLEANINGS
 It is Grange night tonight and a nice big crowd should be there. We are to have Lawrence Livingston and some of his band for entertainment. There is much important business to be discussed regarding our anniversary celebration so come and do your part.
 The card party on Saturday night was quite a successful affair. There was a nice crowd.
 All of our sick folks seem to be well on the gain at this writing, except Mrs. Lily Smith who is in very poor health.
 Pomona meeting at Stoney Creek last week was not very well attended by Plymouth members as Mr. and Mrs. Matt Swegles were the only representatives. This was very unusual as Plymouth usually turns out about 75 per cent of its Pomona members.
 Next Pomona will be at Pittsfield on April 13 with a fine degree team putting on the fifth degree work, so it is important that those who were obligated in the fifth degree be there to watch the work done. Any who care to become Pomona members may do so at that time.
 Remember the dance that is coming up on March 27. If those members who seldom come to Grange will come and bring along their friends and neighbors they will find that they will have a good time and a lot of fun. Just try it once and see.
 The wealth of man is the number of things which he loves and blesses, which he is loved and blessed by.

Bird School PTA To See Movies

Films, talks and singing will make up the program for the Bird school Parent-Teacher association meeting on Tuesday evening, March 23, in the gymnasium. The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m.

"The Whiz Kids" of Miss Katherine Bock's sixth grade class, who this year went winter camping at group camp, will tell the audience about their week at the Cedar Lake camp.

A group of Irish songs commemorating St. Patrick's Day will be sung by the Junior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Schroeder, music instructor.

Also on the program will be a movie shown by Albert Fey. The color film, "Skifully Yours," will show the sights of Sun Valley, Idaho.

A social hour will follow the program. The public is invited to attend.

In the old days when a boy played "hooky" from school he went fishing or swimming instead of bank robbing.

Southeastern Michigan Fire Chiefs Discuss Insurance Rate Problems in Meeting Here

Plymouth was invaded by some of the state's outstanding fire-fighters last Thursday when members of the Southeastern Michigan Fire Chiefs association held their monthly meeting at the Mayflower hotel.

Seventy-eight persons attended the dinner-meeting with guests including representatives of the City of Plymouth, fire truck and fire equipment manufacturers and of the state fire marshal's office.

Principal speaker at the affair was Bob Loughead of the Michigan Inspection bureau. His talk consisted of answering questions from the fire chiefs about the functions of his office. The Michigan Inspection Bureau's purpose is to inspect properties in order to compute fire insurance rates and to publish rates for the use of the fire insurance companies who are licensed to do business in this state and subscribe to the bureau service.

Questions asked the speaker covered two general areas—how can a city's rates be lowered and what is the advisability of combining the police and fire departments?

The bureau has very strict and definite standards with which they rate fire protected areas. No Michigan community has a Class 1 rating and only a few, including Detroit, have a Class 2 rating. Rating is based principally on the fire equipment, personnel (regular or volunteer) water supply and past fire losses.

Loughead had no praise for a city where the fire and police departments consisted of the same personnel. The idea is financially sound, he admitted, but offered many problems in affording good fire protection, or police protection when there is a fire. He also stressed that no matter how much good fire equipment is sitting in the fire station, having trained personnel on duty to answer a call immediately is most necessary. Having an adequate water supply is also considered as important as good equipment.

The business meeting was conducted by the association president, Chief Tom Dixon of Lincoln Park. The host chief, Robert McAllister of Plymouth, introduced the guest city officials. They included Mayor Russell Daane, City Manager Albert Glassford, and Commissioners Ernest Henry and Henry Fischer. Mrs. Florence Wood of the William Wood Insurance Agency, was introduced as the representative of the Plymouth insurance agents.

A letter was read by the association secretary, Cal Roberts of Flint, from the chief of the Puerto Rico fire departments.

The Puerto Rico chief wrote an apology for the recent shooting by fanatical nationalists of five congressmen in the House of Representatives, including Alvin Bentley of Owosso. The chiefs directed the secretary to send a "get well" card to Bentley. A reply of "understanding" has already been sent to the Puerto Rico chief from the state fire chiefs group.

Mr. Morehead is a sales engineer with the Evans Products company, and the family attends Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

NEWS ABOUT GIRL SCOUTS

Plymouth Girl Scouts climaxed the celebration of Girl Scout Week with "a Scouts' Own on Sunday, March 14. A capacity crowd filled the high school auditorium to witness an impressive flag ceremony in which all 15 troops participated. Sally Williams, senior scout, acted as mistress of ceremonies for the lighting of candles and presentation of the Girl Scout birthday cake.

Awards were made to Scouts by Mrs. C. J. Readman, commissioner. Girls receiving their first class badges were: Christine Baker, Susan Campbell, Jo Anne Nagy and Jeanne Russell of Troop 1; Ellen Calahan, Edythe Dibble, Betsy Edgar, Sylvia Robertson and Ann Taylor of Troop 4; Diane Beaver, Ann Cooper, Mary Lee Houg, Ann Hulsing and Mariana Jensen of Troop 5.

The highest award in Scouting, the curved Bar went to six members of Troop 5, Mrs. H. D. Jensen, leader, and the mother of each girl assisted in the presentation.

Those receiving this advanced award were: Jane Hardimon in the Child Nurse group, Karla Herbold in the Ambassador group, Lorraine Konke in the Ambassador group, Marjorie Reddeman in the Agriculturist group, Kerstie Schipper in the Ambassador group, and Betty Worth in the Child Nurse group.

Mrs. Readman also gave recognition to adults who have served Plymouth Scouting for a number of years. Mrs. R. S. Hulsing received a five-year pin for her activities as leader and council member. Mrs. J. R. Witwer and Mrs. Edward Dobbs were presented with ten-year pins. Both have served a three-year term as commissioner, as leader and in training and advisory capacities.

A pageant "Juliette's Dream" depicted the history of Scouting. Included in the pageant was the presentation of gifts to the Juliette Lowe Fund for International Friendship by the girls in costumes representative of the countries where Girl Scouts are found.

Mrs. J. H. Lodge, deputy commissioner and Mrs. William Edgar leader's president, were in charge of the arrangements. Mrs. J. R. Cutler was accompanist. Mrs. Clifton Tillotson, council program chairman, served punch and birthday cake to more than 300 guests. She was assisted by council members and Brownies.

Twenty-two scouts and fathers attended the Red Wing-Ranger hockey games at Olympia in Detroit on Saturday, March 13. The trip concluded a study of winter sports which the troop has been enjoying. Mrs. H. D. Jensen, Mrs. William Congdon and Mrs. J. R. Witwer are the leaders.

Troop 1, in cooperation with their sponsors, the V. F. W. Auxiliary, contributed a Truth dollar to the Crusade for Freedom. Ten members of the troop have been very active in the current drive for material by the cancer society. These Scouts have collected a very large amount of material for the local committee.

On March 5 an over night at the Girl Scout cabin was a successful event. On March 6, the troop had Troop 22 as its guest at the cabin for lunch. Following lunch they helped the Fly-ups in Troop 22 pass their knot tying and track and trail requirements toward their second class awards.

Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell are leaders of Troop 1. Mrs. Gerald Hosier and Mrs. Fred Berry direct Troop 22.

Discover Aerosol Bombs May Fight Asthma, Sinus

Another type of bomb may play a significant role in exploding difficult health problems. The small, compact "bug bomb" which fills the breezeway with a fog of DDT may be used to blast strep germs right out of the respiratory system.

Research now under way at the University of Michigan's College of Pharmacy on aerosol bombs and their adaptability to internal medicines offers possibilities for more effective approaches to old and difficult ailments.

Albert M. Mattocks, professor of pharmacy, reports that "the principle of the aerosol bomb may be applied to nose sprays, adrenalin, even antibiotics." He says, however, that research in this area is very much in its infancy, and that although the principle of the fine mist is being tried in hospitals, no efficient way has been devised as yet to "package" medicines in a hand spray resembling the currently popular aerosol bomb.

External aerosol preparations are familiar to everyone. They run the gamut from DDT insecticides to pressurized shaving creams to fire extinguishers. It is even possible to buy a "bomb" of paint, sun tan lotion or deodorant.

There has been a modified adaptation of aerosol preparations to certain medicines used externally. Sprays containing disinfectants, mild anaesthetics for skin abrasions and burns, and solutions for athlete's foot are available commercially.

The technique has not yet been employed to dispense medicines which must be taken internally. And it is this feature of the aerosol spray that is being investigated at the University of Michigan's College of Pharmacy.

The old hand spray or nebulizer used by sufferers from sinus infections, colds or asthma has serious limitations. Because there is no efficient way of controlling the droplet size of the solution, penetration is superficial. With an aerosol bomb containing the same medicine under moderate pressure, the delicate sinus membranes can be reached, Professor Mattocks declares.

The dramatic implications of the aerosol bombs may be appreciated best by asthma victims, who frequently have such difficulty breathing that they require adrenalin. A fine mist of this effective medicine emitted from an aerosol bomb might be applied directly to the lungs, giving the sufferer more immediate relief.

Penicillin and other antibiotics offer additional possibilities. A respiratory system bathed in a fog of miracle drugs may make dramatic responses. The technique is especially promising since by direct application to the affected area, toxic and otherwise unpleasant side-effects to other parts of the body may disappear, the professor says.

Doctors have been looking for a method of concentrating and localizing medicines which now have to be injected into the entire blood stream. Professor Mattocks speculates that it may even be possible to treat other elusive diseases with a spray of drugs which currently require great caution and a sharp needle.

International Days At Madonna College

Members of the International Relations Club of Madonna College are holding an observance of International Days, March 17-22. The theme of the entire observance will be "Americans All."

Joan Kozlowski, chairman of the club, has announced that this year's observance will be centered around three national groups in the United States: the Poles, Italians and Germans.

The customs and traditions of these individual nationalities will be discussed at the programs held during these days. Featuring the programs will be national dances and songs as well as films and slides. The main idea will be to show how these national groups have benefited from and turned contributed to the enrichment of the American cultural heritage.

An added attraction to these International Days will be the displays of Madonnas of various lands, national costumes and dishes.

In charge of the programs for the three national groups are Nancy Bubernik, Dorothy Lapczynski and Leona Wisniewski.

Mrs. J. H. Lodge, deputy commissioner and Mrs. William Edgar leader's president, were in charge of the arrangements. Mrs. J. R. Cutler was accompanist. Mrs. Clifton Tillotson, council program chairman, served punch and birthday cake to more than 300 guests. She was assisted by council members and Brownies.

Police Plan Increased Enforcement Activities in Response to Request

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee today stated that the Plymouth police department is stepping up its traffic law enforcement activities in response to a state-wide request from the Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, Owen J. Cleary, Secretary of State. This activity is part of the OBEY TRAFFIC LAWS-KEEP YOUR LICENSE emphasis program sponsored by the Commission and supported by all safety groups.

According to Chief Greenlee, as long as traffic accidents continue to increase throughout the state motorists must expect law enforcement to increase. Accidents won't come down until traffic violations come down. And violations can't be decreased until more violators are apprehended.

Chief Greenlee explained that the enforcement activity of his agency will be tightened up in two ways-by gathering more evidence to support more serious charges in violations that threatened to endanger another and by stopping more motorists for less serious offenses to discourage them from committing more serious ones in the future.

"This business of increasing enforcement because of increasing accidents will naturally result in more motorists having their licenses suspended because it is the motorist the law enforcement agencies stop and those found guilty by the courts that are cited for license hearings by the department of state," the Chief added.

Chief Greenlee said, "Michigan motorists who violate the traffic law must expect to lose their licenses. They have violated the basis on which the privilege of driving was extended to them-a promise to obey the law and drive safely. All law abiding motorists will agree that one extreme violation which caused an accident or threatened to endanger someone, or a serious moving violation are more than ample justification for license suspension," he concluded.

Mayor Langfield Retires Leaving Splendid Record

The neighboring village of Northville has a new Mayor in the person of Claude Ely who was elected without opposition at the annual village election last week.

Lost by retirement are the services of Conrad Langfield who had served the village for the last six years and had been re-elected two terms without opposition.

In declining to run again Mayor Langfield pointed to the progress made by the village during his term and stated that his own business would take him away during the next few months and he would like to see someone else holding the reins of the village.

During his tenure in office a $50,000.00 bonded indebtedness was reduced to nothing. Off street parking was provided for the local stores and all of the village buildings were completely modernized.

His most outstanding accomplishments was the securing approval and construction of the Seven Mile cut off which will eliminate the major truck traffic from the Main street of the village. During his tenure of office his salary was turned over to Detroit Free Press poet Edgar Guest for use in his boys project and as a special service to the village he contributed some $1,100.00 worth of new furniture to the council chamber.

Five to Compete In District Meet

Five Plymouth high students will participate in the district forensic contest which will be held on Friday, April 2, at Farmington high school.

Ann Sumner will give a humorous reading entitled "The Deck Tennis Match" by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. Also participating will be Marilyn Paul, who will present a dramatic reading called "White Lilacs" which is by Leota Hulise Black; Roberta Lidgard with a declamation entitled "But, I Am Only One" which is a college speech by a college orator; Jim Isbister with an extempore reading; and Bob Willoughby with an oratory.

No local contest will be held because there were not enough interested students in each group.

Splash Party Highlights Homemakers Club Doings

A splash party to be held on March 26 in Plymouth high school's swimming pool will highlight the many activities which have been planned by the Future Homemakers of America.

All girls interested in home economics in college are invited to an open discussion on March 30, at 11:30 a.m. The topic, "Careers For Girls in the Home Economics Field," will be presented by Miss Nancy Worth, a major in home economics at Michigan state college and an alumna of Plymouth high school.

Clown bean bags are now being made by all F.H.A. members. The toys will be given to the children's ward at Maybury sanitarium.

In Turkey a woman never sees her husband before the marriage. And in America she doesn't see him very much afterwards.

Girls Athletic Group Attends 6-B Playdays

On March 16 members of the Girls Athletic association attended a basketball playday in Redford Union from 2 to 6 p.m.

Plymouth will sponsor a swimming playday in April to which all the other 6-B League schools will be invited. This playday will be open to all Plymouth G.A.A. girls.

Cadillac

It Speaks a Universal Language!

It's the great 1954 Cadillac—and it speaks not only with great eloquence, but in a language which is known and understood wherever there are roads to travel . . . and people to behold.

First of all, it speaks of its owner—the minute its beautiful hood comes into view.

"Here is a man," it says—almost as plainly as the words are written here—"who has earned the right to sit at this wheel—by his industry and deportment and enterprise. Be he merchant or lawyer or businessman—or doctor or farmer or financier—the odds are great that he's a credit to his calling and to his fellow men.

"Accept him accordingly—and you'll likely be right in your judgment."

And then, as it comes closer, it speaks its special message for 1954—the story of its own advancement.

Its beautiful silhouette—graceful, free-flowing and dynamic—announces a whole new era in automotive design . . . "expect me to be copied for years to come!"

And its smooth, silent, easy movement—a true symphony in motion as it glides past and on and away—says with clarity and eloquence that the world's standard for performance has been raised again.

And remember—the wonderful "voice" of a 1954 Cadillac, with its significant message, comes as a bonus to the man who sits at the wheel.

It comes in addition to all the priceless fundamentals which make a Cadillac a Cadillac: unrivalled endurance and dependability—incomparable comfort and handling ease—and unbelievable economy of upkeep and operation.

Better come in—and let a Cadillac speak for you!

Fordson Tractors Chug to Title In Local Regional Cage Tourney

Fordson high school will again represent the Plymouth regional tournament in state play this year as they won that right last Saturday night by defeating an improved Detroit St. Joseph five 60 to 51. Fordson, the defending state Class A champs, had it a little harder winning the trophy this year. The Tractors won three games by margins of 13, 5 and 9 points.

The winners defeated Plymouth in the first round by a score of 50 to 37, won a close second round contest from Detroit Catholic Central 54 to 49, and then the final against St. Joseph. In the second game, Catholic Central was ahead most of the game, and the final quarter began with each team having 32 points, but a spurt by Fordson midway through the final period was too much for the losers. Jerry Walters, Jerry Calloway and Bob Bohn carried the load for the winners. Little Jim Galvin was high for the night with 21 points for Catholic Central while Bob Handloser had 14. The game was a seesaw affair all the way. In the final Calloway had 21 points while Tom Goeddeke had 12 for St. Joseph.

In other games, Catholic Central had an easy first game against Lincoln Park winning 86 to 37. Handloser had 17 in this game for the winners and Galvin 12. Dick Close had 14 for the losers.

St. Joseph won two last second contests to gain the finals. The first was against Dearborn when the Catholic lads came from behind to win in the last 10 seconds 45 to 43 on a basket by Gino Paliaroli. The next night St. Joseph was behind St. Anthony by one point with one second to go when they called time out. With time in and having the ball out of bounds under their own basket, it was tossed high to 6 foot 6 inch Norm Muller who in one motion tipped it in the basket for the winning points as the buzzer signaled the end of the game. That was the only basket made by Muller all night; Goeddeke had 12 points and Kulpanowski 11 for the winners.

The tournament was witnessed by a capacity house each of the three nights and fans saw some splendid basketball. Fordson will now meet the winner of the Ann Arbor regional—either Wyandotte or Jackson for the right to advance to East Lansing in the semi-finals Friday night. The finals in all classes are in Jenson Field House at Michigan State college Saturday afternoon and evening—Class B and C in the afternoon and Class A and D in the evening.

Rocks Place Middleton On 6-B Five

A few days ago the coaches in the 6-B league got together to pick an all-league basketball team. Bentley high school, the league champs, placed two men on this star aggregation with one each coming from Plymouth, Belleville and Trenton. The five honored players are: Bill King and Ron Cole from Bentley; Jim Cobb from Belleville; Dale Brubaker from Trenton; and Bob Middleton of Plymouth.

A second team was also named and included: Jerry Kelly of Plymouth; Max Wiers of Allen Park, Art Boyd of Trenton; and Ed Sala and George Thompson of Belleville.

Honorable mention went to Nick Mans and Gary Gores of Redford Union; Derrell Ridling, Max Allgood and John Siterlet of Bentley; Dick Smith and Gil Wolfe of Allen Park; Columbus Holland of Belleville; Joe Doherty of Trenton; and Ken Kisabeth and Dick Day of Plymouth.

Smith and Kisabeth played only the first semester which hindered their chances of making the all-star team.

All the members of the first team are seniors with the exception of Middleton and Brubaker, who are juniors.

Recreation Cage Finals Tonight

The Michigan Recreational District tournament for city teams is now in progress at the Plymouth high school gymnasium. The finals are scheduled for tonight. The tournament started Tuesday night with teams from Wayne, Monroe, Ann Arbor, Roseville and Plymouth competing for the right to advance to the state tournament at Battle Creek on March 26 and 27. Tonight's final begins at 8 p.m. Admission is free to the public.

Plymouth is represented in this tourney by Capitol Shirts, the winner of the Men's league crown and also the league play-offs. The runner-up to Capitol Shirts in the local play-offs, Tait's Cleaners, will compete in an inter-city tournament for second-place city teams in this area. The meet this year is being held at Highland Park. Tait's play Hamtramck next Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at the Hackett Field House on the corner of Third and Pitkin in Highland Park. If they get by this Tuesday engagement they will meet the winner of the Dearborn—Wyandotte game on Wednesday at 8 p.m. The finals are scheduled for Thursday, March 25, at 9 p.m.

SPORTS FLASHES

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spalding

WHEAT SEES CHANCE TO HARVEST WINS

The Philadelphia Athletics, who had been wondering what they got for Outfielder Dave Philley in the recent deal with the Cleveland Indians, learned the answer last week. If nothing else, says The Sporting News, they got a lot of beef in the person of Leroy William Wheat, six feet, four inches and 202 pounds, plus William Ray Upton, six feet and 167 pounds.

"It's the first real baseball workout I've had in three years," Wheat explained to a writer for the national baseball weekly after his first appearance in A's livery. "I pitched some down in Texas while in the field artillery — won 15 games in 1952 — but the competition wasn't much, and we didn't devote our full time to baseball. Naturally, I worked out some with the Indians when I received my discharge last year, but nothing like this."

The Indians, of course, were already in full swing when Wheat joined them. That was in June, and under the regulations, Leroy could have stayed with them the rest of the season if he desired.

"I wanted to," Wheat related in The Sporting News, "and I did stay five weeks. But in that whole time I never had a chance to do more than pitch in batting practice. One day the White Sox beat us by something like 18 to 2, and Al Lopez used every pitcher he had except Ted Wilks and me.

"I was surprised when I heard I'd been traded to the Athletics," Wheat continued. "But I was glad. Maybe I can do more pitchin' with the Athletics than I could with the Indians."

ANOTHER SOUTHPAW CATCHER FOR BUCS

Fred Waters, one of the three pitchers the Pirates received from Milwaukee in the deal for Danny O'Connell, is not going to be a pitcher after all, reports The Sporting News. That is, if Branch Rickey, Buc general manager, clicks with his plan to make a catcher out of the southpaw who won ten games and lost the same number for Lincoln (Western League) last summer.

Rickey believes that Waters should make the grade as a lefthanded catcher because he throws the ball naturally overhand and in addition is rated a pretty good hitter. Waters says he caught about ten games in high school and semi-pro ball and is all for the experiment.

Meanwhile, Dale Long, the lefthanded first baseman who was tried as a catcher by Rickey a few years ago and failed, is back in the Pirate camp, The Sporting News says, as a first baseman.

TRADE RUMORS IN THE SPORTING NEWS

Officials of the Phillies refused to confirm or deny reports that the club offered First Baseman Earl Torgerson in a trade with either the Giants or the Pirates, reports The Sporting News. The Phils reportedly were seeking Outfielder Don Mueller and Infielder Bob Hofman from the Giants and either Outfielder Hal Rice or Shortstop Dick Groat, now in the Army, from the Pirates.

A rumor that First Baseman Luke Easter of the Indians is headed for the minors appears in The Sporting News—specifically the San Diego Padres—drew this comment from Manager Al Lopez: "I don't know anything about it. Anything can happen in this business."

The Sporting News reports there is a strong likelihood that Pitchers Kenny Raffensberger and possibly Clyde King will be traded or sold before the Reds break camp.

Observers close to the Yankee scene are confident that Pitcher John Sain will rejoin the club after he sets up his auto agency in Arkansas. They insist, The Sporting News reports, George Weiss would not have disposed of Vic Raschi if he had not been assured that Sain would cancel his retirement.

Jimmy Stewart, who played the part of Monte Stratton in the "Monte Stratton Story," is reported in The Sporting News to have the inside track on the role of Connie Mack in the picture of Cornelius McGillicuddy's life, which is slated to start rolling in June or July.

MANTLE MUST RIDE BENCH UNTIL MAY 1

The doctors have informed the Yankees, reports The Sporting News, that Mickey Mantle will be unable to play until May 1. His right knee has been operated on twice, the latest surgery being the removal of a cyst several weeks ago, and his tendons and thigh are still weak. Mantle took his first workout last week and tested his knee in batting practice.

NEW CROUCH FOR WALT DROPO

First Baseman Walt Dropo introduced a new stance when he reported to the Tigers' camp last week, The Sporting News reports.

"I've decided to crouch over the plate more this year," he explained. "I've been practicing it all winter in my basement in front of a mirror. Been swinging at least a half-hour every day."

Dropo is convinced that the new crouch stance will help him protect the plate in better style and, just to prove his point, he rattled out a parade of well-hit balls in his appearances in the batting cage last week.

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

The Plymouth state basketball regional is over for another year. Again it was a big success with all seats filled at each night's performance. The Plymouth high cagers played their final game of the season the first night when they tangled with last year's state champion Fordson. The local lads made a respectable showing against their more talented opponents, and provided the fans some thrills when they crept up to within two points just before the half after giving the Tractors a 13 to 3 edge in the first quarter. The Rocks might have created a real problem for the defending champs if they could have hit on a better percentage in the shots taken. They were successful on only 19 percent of the floor shots, whereas the season average had been nearly 30 percent.

I don't look for this Fordson team to go beyond the semi-finals, if that far, however, one cannot count that team out for they are a sound outfit, fast and aggressive, and have some splendid shot-makers. Any team that can score 55 points against them will beat them.

I can't see some of these phenomenal records that are being made on the basketball court where a player scores over 100 of his team's points in one game. The other players must feel sort of left out, and teamwork must suffer. To score that many points in a game, the other players must have to toss to the one player on every play—in other words, the team has only one man that is supposed to shoot. A tall man like "Bevo" Francis of little Rio Grande college, who towers over the heads of most of his opponents, merely gets the ball high and tosses, or places, it in the bucket. To me that is not basketball at its best. Even Bevo was held to a mere 28 points when he got up against some better players in the small college tournament recently. It is getting so that a lad under 6 ft. hasn't much of a chance to be a star. The all-state team released last weekend in all classes had only one player, of the 20 in all classes, who stood under 6 feet. There are a few good players among the little fellows on good teams. Galvin of Catholic Central, Wolters of Fordson and Allen of River Rouge are spark-plugs on good teams, and each is around 5 foot 9 inches.

Thanks for the Go Signal in front of the City Hall. That surely is an improvement in the flow of traffic on Main street. Often during the summer and after school hours one had to stop for that light when there was no one within blocks of Church street. I know I have traveled that street hundreds of times and most always I would hit it red. All I have heard say anything about it are most happy with the change.

The four teams I picked to be state champions in their respective classes all came through the regional as winners, and will now enter the state quarter-finals. Highland Park breezed through each game with plenty to spare. Subs played every last quarter; River Rouge had a few scares at times, but came through like champs; Ludington and Holland Christian have a chance to upset Rouze; Lansing St. Mary's came through easily in Class C; All-Saints also goes to the quarter-finals, but Remus and Ellsworth might take this Class D crown.

I saw River Rouge play Bentley the other night, and they look like a real team, however, Bentley gave them a little trouble after a slow start. The Bulldogs were behind 30 to 18 at the half, but came up within 2 points at the beginning of the final period. Rouze has some players that could easily make any class A team in the state.

The Plymouth tournament officials and myself selected an all-star five from the players that appeared on the court here last week. To us the outstanding players were: forward—Bob Handloser of Catholic Central and Thomas Goeddeke of St. Joseph; center—Jerry Callaway of Fordson; guards—Gary Wolters of Fordson and James Galvin of Catholic Central. Do you agree? There were other good players, but these seemed to stand out in each game—they were also the five highest scorers of the tourney, but the consensus wasn't based entirely on scoring for that was not known until after the selection.

Fordson Cagers Drop Plymouth in Regionals

After a slow start, which saw the Fordson high cagers jump in to a 13 to 3 lead, the Plymouth five surprised the Tractors in the second quarter and played the defending state Class A champions on even terms the last three periods. Recovering from the first stanza deficit, the Rocks came within two points of tying the game up a minute before intermission, but that was as close as they came to an upset. Fordson won 50 to 37.

The Tractors led at the half 24 to 17, and at the beginning of the final quarter 38 to 28; Plymouth came within six points of the winners midway through the final stanza, but the attack fizzled at that point. Fordson went on to win the regional here.

Inability to stop little Gary Wolters, Fordson's stellar guard, and their star forward, Jerry Callaway, proved the downfall of the Rocks. Young Wolters scored 23 points while Callaway counted 14 points; Captain Bob Bohn was held to two points.

Bob Middleton was high for Plymouth with 13 points scored on 6 baskets and 1 free throw. Jerry Kelly had 10, Tyler Caplin 7, Dick Day 4, John Agnew 2 and Gary Gothard 1.

Another prime factor in the Plymouth defeat was poor shooting from the floor—they cashed in on only 19 percent of the shots taken, a figure far below the average for the season. The Rocks counted 13 of 25 free throw attempts.

This defeat closed the season for Plymouth.

Chips from the ROCK

"A golden bell . . . his sound shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the Lord, and when he cometh out. . . ."

With the arrival of spring this weekend most of us are aware of the beautiful songs of the birds early in the morning, and yet it was my wife who reminded me that seldom in this community are we fortunate enough to hear the ringing of Church bells, even on the Sabbath.

Spiritually, this community is more fortunate than most other places in the quality of its "men of the cloth" and its adequateness of its places of worship. Withstanding the fact that our Churches are many and large it is interesting to note that at the present time at least five are enlarging or planning the construction of complete new structures.

To find an answer to the thought of my wife, I interviewed as many of the local clergy as I could in an evening, and found what I thought were some most interesting observations.

The Lutherans do have Church bells which they ring at the start of their services each Sunday, as do the Baptists. Unfortunately we live far removed from those Churches and that is probably one of the reasons we do not hear their music. However, it was interesting to learn that when the members of the Lutheran congregation say the Lords Prayer, at three separate intervals the bells chime for the benefit of the shut-ins, who know at the sound of the bell they can repeat the Prayer along with those in attendance at the Church.

Another fact we learned from the Lutheran's is that when a funeral is held in that Church the bells toll the age of the deceased as the casket is removed from the Sanctuary.

Neither the Presbyterians nor the Methodists have bells for their Church though both have spires to hold them. Reverend Johnson, when queried on the subject, said he had never given the matter previous thought, but that he supposed the age in which we are living had become so materialistic and secular that we have lost our appreciation of some of our spiritual values and we are inclined to think only of material things.

It was also interesting to learn from Father Byrn of Our Lady of Good Counsel that they do have bells but that they are only heard at irregular periods, mainly because the responsibility of ringing them is left in the hands of the altar boys. At Father's suggestion we are printing his comments in the hope his altar boys will become more conscious of their responsibility after reading this and keep those beautiful bells tolling on Sundays from this day on.

Rev. David Davies of the Episcopal Church says that definite plans are under consideration by his congregation to provide bells for their proposed new Church. He further pointed out that one of his most enjoyable thrills is a visit to Toronto, Canada where on Sunday morning for several hours all you can hear are the hundreds of Church bells tolling all over the city.

The Scientists have no bells but they do have chimes which can be heard on the outside of the Church. Mrs. Roderick Cassidy did reflect that many years ago a visitor from Newburg left a $50.00 bill at their Church which was to be used as a start of a fund for the purchase of bells. After leaving the money the visitor left and hasn't been heard of since, she says.

Mrs. Patrick Clifford, wife of the Calvary Baptist minister revealed that their Church has no bells nor a place for them but she wishes they did. She frequently thinks of her home town (and my birthplace, too) Three Rivers, Michigan where the Church bells make real music every Sunday morning and Thursday nights for prayer meetings, too. She further reminisced of her own Church in Three Rivers which was two blocks away from her home where she could walk easily from the time the bell started to toll and be in the Church before it stopped.

Perhaps you may think I have bells in my beltrey too, after reading this; but believe me, everyone I talked to sincerely wished they had bells for their Church, and if in some little way someone might get an idea which would help any one or all of our local Churches secure bells, then my wife's inspiration was good, and my time hasn't been wasted.

Roger Babson Says

BABSON DISCUSSES "FAIR PRICES"

Babson Park, Florida, March 11. I wonder if you have noticed in the columns of your paper that another tempest is brewing between some manufacturers and the sellers of their merchandise. Cause of the blow: merchandise is being sold below fair-trade prices.

DISCOUNT HOUSES

Before the war, on the Continent and especially in Southeastern Asia, nobody ever paid the asking price unless he had a hole in his head. At that time, in America, very few ever questioned the list price. Today, in increasing numbers, Americans are shopping for discounts. I am convinced that this movement is largely encouraged by returning soldiers from abroad. After experiences both in foreign countries and in their canteens here at home, it is very difficult to get them to pay list prices anywhere. On the other hand, courts of the States having "Fair-Trade" laws have upheld the legality of such laws. Recently, the Supreme Court of the United States has favored the "fixed-price" manufacturers. However, the final decision lies with consumers, not with the courts. Remember what happened to all the oleomargarine legislation.

THE MANUFACTURERS' ARGUMENT

Price-fixing, some manufacturers say, is necessary in order to get the widest possible distribution. The argument here is that if a company's product is being undersold by a price-cutter, the legitimate dealer will give up that line of goods, distribution outlets will shrink, orders drop off, production lag, and workers will be out of a job. For this reason, these companies say the time has come for them to spend money on lawyers, as well as on advertising. They are ready to spend plenty to curb price-cutting of "fair-traded" merchandise. My sympathies go out to them.

There is little question that profit margins in some industries are slim. Let's admit it, though—the profit take in other industries is fabulous, and word has gotten around. How? Via consumer economics course in public schools and colleges, consumers' buying magazines, and by word of mouth.

SOME SIMPLE ECONOMICS

It is my belief that price-fixing won't solve our price problems any more than Government regulation. This once seemed an easy solution to the problem. Fair-trading and insistence upon maintaining a price level may help keep the inefficient businessmen in business a little longer. In the long run, however, it may prolong the day of judgement.

Newton's Law of Action and Reaction is a powerful natural law which cannot be legislated out of existence. Economic periods of adjustment are not just accidents. Such periods usually develop out of excess practiced during boom conditions. Businessmen become too bullish; they may misjudge the future; they overestimate their markets and the size of consumer's pocketbook. So when demand slackens, a reaction sets in and somebody cuts prices to move some stuff.

PRICE-CUTTING MAY HAVE USES

This is a perfectly reasonable course of behavior, and it may be good for our economy because it shakes out some of the deadwood, sharpens production efficiency, activates consumer research, improves quality, makes management more cost-conscious and forces it to reappraise its pricing policies. I forecast that neither legislation, nor a stiff-necked policy, nor court action will outwit the laws of Supply and Demand, Action and Reaction.

Perhaps the time has come for a reappraisal of profit margins. Don't get me wrong. I believe in the profit system. A profitless volume, like a profitless prosperity, will get us nowhere. What I want to point out, however, is that "Fair-Trade" laws or price-cutting are not the real problems. These are symptoms of our basic difficulty. What needs to be cured is not the symptom, but the problem. Let's get on with solving the problem of more efficient and more honest management.

Supporters of a proposed half-billion dollar bond issue to build new highways in Michigan are singing the blues.

The current Highway Department scandal has just about shattered all hope for approval of the $500 million bond issue this year. Maybe forever.

Sen. Joseph P. Cloon (R-Wakefield) and four other senators, including a Democrat, sponsored a Constitutional Amendment resolution in January to place the bond issue question on the ballot in the November 2 election.

The resolution appeared to have a good chance to get through both houses. Preliminary plans were launched to finance a campaign for the resolution if it got on the ballot.

Everyone seemed confident the voters would approve the bond issue if it got on the ballot.

Then it happened. Rumors of irregularities on the Highway Department's Grand Rapids right-of-way division were no longer rumors.

At first, supporters of the Cloon told everyone the Western Michigan affair would "blow over."

The Senate Taxation Committee held a public hearing on the proposal. Everyone agreed Michigan's highway system could become the nation's finest for $500 million.

After the hearing, several Taxation Committee members said they were ready to report out the Cloon proposal immediately.

But a couple of days later, the Western Michigan scandal got worse instead of "blowing over," as everyone hoped it would. Warrants were issued against two former right-of-way buyers.

As the investigation grew, chances for approval of the Cloon proposal faded.

A few of the bond issue's supporters still hope it may get on the ballot. But others, including several sponsors of the resolution, admit privately that it probably will die. One Senator put it this way: "I'm afraid the voters would be reluctant to give the Department $500 million after reading in the newspapers about all of these alleged irregularities."

"The highway scandal couldn't have come at a worse time."

The size of Michigan's State Police force may be increased by at least 50 troopers by the Legislature. That's the prediction of a member of the House Ways and Means Committee who asked that his name not be used.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has asked for about 160 new men while Gov. G. Mennen Williams recommended increasing size of the force by a least 100.

An increase of 50 men would raise size of State Police to about 750. Most of the new men would be used to patrol highways.

Michigan's new medium security prison will be built at Ionia despite a report recommending six other possible sites. The Legislature must decide whether it will be a 600, 800 or 1,200-inmate institution and also pick a site before adjourning April 9.

Lawmakers from areas named as possible sites may fight to keep it from Ionia but it will be for a lost cause. Key legislators have been told it will cost less to build at Ionia and that will be the biggest factor in reaching decision.

It's official now. More babies were born in Michigan during 1953 than in any previous year. The State Health Department says preliminary figures show more than 181,000 babies were born.

Dan Gerber, president of Gerber Baby Foods, Inc., of Fremont, says there were fewer "first" babies born in 1953 than in 1952 but the number of second, third, fourth and fifth babies born in a family continued to increase.

The Conservation Department reports that 1,140,000 hunting licenses, all lifetime high, were sold in Michigan last year. Previous high was 1,104,090 licenses sold in 1952.

The new record was set despite a drop of nearly 20,000 in the number of deer licenses sold last fall.

Veteran political observers at the State Capitol were predicting a bright political future for freshman Rep. Richard G. Smith (R-Bay City).

Many of his colleagues compare him with Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The photographing of women poses a problem which isn't one of camera technique. Distasteful subjects, as a rule, like to be aware of picture-taking speers and often fail to look kindly on candid shots no matter how clever or photographically sound they may be.

Unless you want to risk running afoul of a frosty reception, it isn't a good policy to take them unawares. This holds true even with relatives. Give the gals a chance to prepare as they instinctively feel that in being taken off guard they can't possibly look their best. However, this doesn't mean that shots have to be obviously staged or static.

Assuming that after the subject has been duly warned and has made whatever mysterious preparations she feels are necessary, the picture threatens to turn out as staged as a Hollywood train robber, try a picture in motion instead of a pose. The subject's self-consciousness usually is lost in the carrying out of prearranged action.

Now that we've given you hints on handling your subject, come to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER and let us give you some hints on handling your camera and accessories. Photography-wise we're as wise as the proverbial owl . . . so visit 821 West Ann Arbor trail for the latest know-how.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. William Norman begins preparation of her spaghetti.

Simple Small Family Dish

A quick and easy recipe for the small family is the one offered by Mrs. William Norman of 1310 Hartsough avenue. The spaghetti sauce, the recipe for which she concocted herself, brings raves from her husband and her daughter, June. She said the recipe makes just enough to serve the three of them, so should be of particular interest for the woman who cooks for the small family.

Spaghetti Sauce

- 1 large onion
- 2 teaspoons olive oil
- 1½ pounds ground round steak
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- Salt and pepper
- 1-8 ounce can condensed spaghetti sauce.

Finely chop or sliver the onion. Place onion, olive oil, ground steak and garlic salt in a large skillet. Salt and pepper to taste. Cook over low heat until nearly done. Add the condensed spaghetti sauce plus one canful of water. Simmer for about 15 minutes.

Pour the sauce over cooked spaghetti and sprinkle with Italian cheese. Mrs. Norman said she usually serves the spaghetti with green tossed salad and homemade bread.

The Red Ryder Cork Carbine, made by the Daisy Manufacturing company, has been voted one of the most outstanding toys for 1945 by Toy Guidance council.

The voting took place at the council's 16th annual selection conference, at which thousands of toys produced by the nation's leading manufacturers were screened and judged by four separate committees of experts—Wholesalers, retailers, educators and consumers—representing all sections of the country. The Red Ryder Cork Carbine is among 104 selections made by the committees.

Toy Guidance council approval is more than just an honor to the manufacturer. Each toy voted "outstanding" by the experts will receive non-cancellable orders exceeding a quarter of a million dollars.

"This is the reason why we have made the method of selection so thorough," said Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance council. "For final acceptance, each toy was judged on safety, durability and play appeal. Accepted toys were also classified for their ability to aid the development of children mentally, physically, socially and vocationally."

"Any toy that emerged successfully from this severe examination," Freud continued, "deserves the national prestige it attains."

The roster of 45 panel members who voted included major toy wholesalers and representatives from such major retail outlets as Wanamaker's New York; Gimbel Brothers, Philadelphia; Rich's Atlanta; Spiegel's, Chicago; and Foley's, Houston.

The panel of educators, under the chairmanship of Professor Emma Dickson Sheehy, Columbia University, included child guidance specialists from Queens College, Flushing; Chicago Teachers College; University of Miami; Long Beach, California, public schools; and Corpus Christi, Texas, public schools.

The panel of distinguished consumers included the directors of the National Safety Council; General Federation of Women's Clubs; Community Service Society; an editor of Life Magazine and celebrities from radio, television and the Broadway stage.

Plymouth Students Start Clothing Drive for Needy Children Monday

Plymouth schools will take part in the state-wide Save-the-Children "Bundle Week" drive to collect used clothing for needy children, it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools Russell L. Isbister. The drive, which is part of the Twelfth Annual Children's Clothing Crusade, will open here on March 22.

Three million pounds of wearable clothing have been set as the goal. Last year in the Eleventh National Children's Clothing Crusade, over four million pounds of clothing, approximately five million garments.

"We cannot stress too much the desperate need for clothing that exists among children in this country and overseas," Superintendent Isbister said. "I am sure the citizens of Plymouth will want to lend a helping hand. Bundle Day provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and at the same time, teaches youth in our schools to share what they have with those less fortunate. Participation in the National Children's Clothing Crusade will help foster a sense of brotherhood and lay a firm foundation for international goodwill."

Clothing collected by the Federation is used to aid children and families in Korea, in war-depleted countries of Europe and the Middle East, and in isolated rural areas of the United States.

More than nine million Korean men, women and children are homeless refugees in their own country. In response to their plight, the Save the Children Federation continues to send warm clothing and shoes to these victims of Communist aggression.

In many countries of Europe the scars of war have not yet healed. Save the Children Federation representatives in Europe report that clothing needs are particularly acute in many areas of Italy, and in Greece, where villagers who fled from Communist aggression have returned to their native homes only to find them in ruins.

In the United States clothing is distributed in low-income rural areas of eight Southern and Midwestern States and on the Navajo and Papago Indian Reservations. If it were not for the Bundle Week collections, thousands of these rural children would not be able to attend school because of the lack of adequate clothing.

Superintendent Isbister said that wearable clothing of all types, in babies', children's and adult sizes; blankets, sheets and other bedding; and low-heeled shoes are especially needed.

"I hope we will give a bit of ourselves with these gifts, by cleaning and mending the garments so they will express our good wishes for the children who receive them," he added.

A large number of shipping bags have been ordered from the Federation, and leaflets will be given to all children in the school system to take home during the week, stating the purpose of the drive and asking the cooperation of parents.

Make A Birthday Cake That Gets Limelight

When the next birthday is due for celebration at your house, let the birthday cake work on the welcoming committee. This original cake offers tiny marzipan fruits to the guests, to accompany that first cup of coffee while they wait for the big moment when the guest of honor cuts the cake.

Traditionally, birthday party limelight belongs solely to the person whose birthday is being celebrated. The center of the stage, however, is usually shared by the birthday cake. And for such an important occasion, it should be a home-made cake with good coffee.

Here is a cake that's pretty, toothsome and original. It is lemon flavored and lemon-cream filled, with a favorite white frosting. But what makes it unusual is the idea of having the cake offer tiny marzipan fruits to the guests. Each colorful little apple, pear or banana is proffered at the end of a paper streamer, to accompany the first cup of coffee, served as guests arrive. It helps to keep the party rolling until everybody is present and the guest of honor cuts the cake. Isn't that a nice way to make the cake a working member of the welcoming committee?

BIRTHDAY CAKE
1/3 cup shortening
1 cup very fine sugar
1 1/3 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon lemon extract
3 egg whites

Cream shortening. Add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Add lemon extract. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry and fold in. Pour into 2 greased and floured 8-inch layer cake pan. Bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 20 to 25 minutes.

1/2 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup warm water
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 lemon, juice and grated peel
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix sugar and flour. Add water gradually; add egg yolks. Cook over hot water, stirring, until thick. Cover, cook 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice, grated lemon peel and butter. Mix well. Cool. Spread between cake layers.

FROSTING
Prepare 1 pkg. 7 minute-type frosting mix as directed. Frost top and sides of cake. Decorate with marzipan fruit and small chocolate leaves.

Teen-agers never get tired of this party dessert: Roll balls of ice cream in chopped nuts and surround with chocolate or caramel sauce.

Seeds of hardy flowers and vegetables can be sown as soon as the soil has been prepared, even though frost is frequent at night. Perennial plants are hardy and will not mind the frost, if you set them in the garden early.

Serve Shrimp Banana Dish During Lent

Make something different for Lent by borrowing a recipe from New Orleans, the land of Mardi Gras, and traditional Lenten observance.

Shrimp Jambalaya with Broiled Bananas is real Deep South cooking in the authentic New Orleans style. Louisiana has always been famous for its shrimp, and New Orleans was one of the first cities to which bananas were brought in the very early days of their importation to this country. It didn't take too much coaxing to get the two foods together in one of the most delicious fish dinners a cook could create.

A spicy Creole Sauce sets off the delicate shrimp to perfection, and the deliciously different flavor of cooked bananas completes the flavor treat. For cooking, the banana with slightly green-tipped or all-yellow peel is desirable, since it is firmer and less sweet, and can be served perfectly as a vegetable. Just as uncooked bananas blend with almost any food, the cooked fruit is also a good mixer, and is a delightful and quick-cooking addition to meat, poultry, or vegetable dinners.

Shrimp Jambalaya
With
Broiled Bananas
4 firm bananas
Melted butter or margarine
Salt

1 to 1 1/2 pounds cooked, cleaned shrimp, (fresh, frozen or canned)
3 cups cooked rice
(3/4 cup uncooked rice)

2 cups Creole Sauce
Use slightly green-tipped or all-yellow bananas.
Peel bananas. Place on broiler rack or into pan containing rack. Brush bananas well with butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with salt. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat about 5 minutes on each side or until bananas are browned and tender. easily pierced with a fork. Arrange shrimp and bananas on a bed of hot rice or around a rice ring. Serve with Creole Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Creole Sauce
1/3 cup melted fat or salad oil
1 green pepper, thinly sliced
1 onion, thinly sliced
1 clove garlic
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon sugar
1 whole clove
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 cups canned tomatoes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons water

Heat melted fat or oil. Add green pepper, onion and garlic. Cover and cook until tender but not brown. Add chili powder, sugar, whole clove, salt, pepper and tomatoes. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, about 1/2 hour. Mix cornstarch with water. Add to sauce. Cook about 10 minutes, stirring constantly until sauce is thickened. Remove garlic and clove before serving. Makes about 2 cups sauce.

Oranges Give a Lift to Lenten Pancakes

Everybody's going in often for the good revered Lenten habit of pancakes. This special variation will delight everyone—combining as it does the sunshine and flavor of Florida oranges and creamy cottage cheese. Right now, the market stalls are filled with the big seedless Valencia oranges, easy to section, and full of juice to use in adding tangy goodness to many foods. Try this for a luncheon main dish or dinner dessert to intrigue your family and friends—the sauce is better than syrup, the sections of oranges good and plump, and there's plenty of nutrition in both the oranges and the cottage cheese. If you're in a hurry, use a packaged pancake mix and the sauce.

Florida Pancake Stacks with Orange Sauce
1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1 to 2 cups cottage cheese
Sift together dry ingredients. Combine slightly beaten egg, milk, orange juice and butter. Stir into dry ingredients. To make 4 large pancakes, bake on hot griddle, one at a time, using 3/4 cup batter for each pancake. Stack pancakes, spreading 1/2 cup cottage cheese between each. To serve, cut into wedges; spoon *Sunshine Orange Sauce over top. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

*Sunshine Orange Sauce
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Florida orange juice
2 teaspoons grated Florida orange rind
1 Florida orange, sectioned
Mix together cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Blend in orange juice gradually; add orange rind. Cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Add Florida orange sections; heat. YIELD: About 1 1/4 cups.
For main luncheon dish use 2 cups cottage cheese; as a dessert use 1 cup.

Take Inventory for Improvement Of Your Food Buying Habits

Have you taken inventory of your food buying practices recently?

If you review your practices, you may find ways to improve your food buying habits, suggests Mary L. Moor of the Michigan State college foods and nutrition department.

Here are three points you might consider:

First, are you buying all of the nutrients that your family should have? Remember that the Basic 7 food groups make an easy check sheet to determine if all of the family's food nutrient needs are met.

A second point to consider is how much of your food dollar are you willing to spend for services in the form of pre-packaged, processed and ready-to-eat foods? It might be interesting to use paper and pencil to determine how much of your food dollar you may be spending for this type of service. You'll want to compare the value of these services in relation to your other homemaking duties.

And third, have you learned to look critically at the quality and quantity of foods purchased in a ready-to-eat form?

On such an overall appraisal of value of time, quality and quantity of food purchased, you may realize where you can make some valuable savings by revising your practices.

Tradition Dictates Gifts for Bride

There is one basic shopping rule for the bridegroom's parents when they chose their traditional gift of glassware for their son and his new wife. They should take care to match their sparkling wedding present to the way of life which the young couple are planning.

Gauge the needs of the recipients first from the viewpoint of storage space, frequently at a premium in small apartments and homes. By all means your selection should be made from patterns available in open stock so the collection of glassware can be added to from time to time, or replacements easily can be made.

Whether the bride's early entertaining will be the informal, help-yourself buffet type supper or the more formal sit-down dinner, a good general plan is to start selection of her glassware with a small plate, seven or eight inches in diameter, for desserts or salads. By itself it will serve several purposes. Under a stemmed sherbet glass it will dress up the simplest dessert or sea-food cocktail.

Third, choose a simply shaped, easy-to-handle water goblet, suiting it in line and style to the china or pottery and linen with which it will be used. A tall glass that will double for iced tea or milk, and a small juice glass will make up the accepted five-piece place setting.

Start the young couple off with a complete handmade glass service for six or eight, or even for a dozen. Many patterns come in a wide range of shapes, styles and colors. For Provincial or Early American interiors you may select milk glass, hand-cut crystal with a Colonial pattern, such as Candlewick, or a similar Early American design. To team with Eighteenth Century furnishings there are more formal patterns such as gleaming crystal with an exquisitely etched rose motif.

Recommend Seven Steps to A White, Clean Laundry

What makes a white, clean laundry? Evelyn Zwemer, of the home management department at Michigan State College, names these seven steps to laundry success:

The first step is "preparation." You'll want to sort clothing according to fabric, color fastness, amount of soil, etc. If there are heavily soiled spots, rub these first with a soap, syndet (synthetic detergent) or soap jelly. Miss Zwemer advises limiting any soaking period to 30 minutes. Longer soaking only causes unnecessary weakening of the fabrics.

The second step is to work with "water at the correct temperature." For white cottons and linens, wash soaked pieces in water at 160 degrees F. If pieces were not soaked, use water at a temperature of 140° F. Temperatures for colored pieces will, of course, depend upon color fastness.

Don't ever soak silk or wool garments, warns Miss Zwemer. For best results, she advises a temperature of 100 to 110 degrees F. for washing silk. For wool, 90 to 100 degrees F is right.

The third point concerns "water softness." Here in Michigan the water is moderately hard. So the homemaker may want to install a water softener. Or perhaps she'll add a softener powder to her laundry water. If so, she'll want to realize that there are two types of softeners—precipitating (gives cloudy mixture) and non-precipitating (gives clear mixture). The latter type is usually preferred, says Miss Zwemer.

Whichever type is used, it is important to wait 3 minutes after adding softener before adding soap or syndet.

In point four, "choosing soap or syndet," the homemaker needs to consider which type is suited to her machine. Either a soap or a syndet can be used with a conventional machine. With an automatic, a syndet is preferred. (The washer manufacturer may have given specific directions as to which brand works best in his particular machine.) If a soap is used in an automatic, the pipes, drain and pumps of the machine will become clogged, warns Miss Zwemer.

Two very important DON'TS are: (1) do not mix soap and syndet, and (2) do not use soap one week and syndet the next week. If used alternately in this way, tiny brown spots may appear on garments, explains Miss Zwemer.

The fifth point concerns "washing time." It is determined by the amount of soil, kind of fabric and its construction, color fastness and the type of machine.

In general, cotton and linen garments showing medium soil will wash clean in 6 to 8 minutes. Heavily soiled garments of cotton or linen should be washed longer—10 to 15 minutes. Silk and wool garments should be washed only for a short time, (2, 3 or 5 minutes). Too long a washing period merely redeposits the dirt.

The sixth point concerns "changing the wash water" when it becomes too soiled.

Women frequently make a mistake on point seven, says Miss

Zwemer. They neglect to "soften hard rinse water." Thorough rinsings are "musts" for a successful laundry.

REMODEL

HERE IS ANOTHER NEW UNIT in a group of modern homes now under construction in Plymouth by Stewart Oldford & Sons, builders. This three bedroom, face brick, ranch-style home is located on Jener place between Maple avenue and Ann Arbor Trail. The model is compact, yet spacious and roomy inside with all available space utilized to the fullest extent. A full basement is provided. It is within walking distance of the main shopping center of Plymouth and close to schools. This model is similar to other homes now being built on Simpson near Smith school by the same builder.

Do - It - Yourself Mania Turns Family Into New Building Materials Scouts

The do-it-yourself mania for fixing up houses is making a sort of super-scout out of the home handyman, keeping him constantly on the lookout for new materials, new ideas. And such new things keep turning up to make bids for that part of the family budget we thought was earmarked for something else.

Just to dip into a few of the most recent developments, did you know that you now get exact color matches in all types of paint—whether for masonry, woodwork, plastered walls or wallpaper, ceilings, metal work—any place you use paint?

Did you know you can get acoustical tile to silence the youngsters' basement rough-house room or any other room—in fancy patterns without holes punched in the material?

The paint mixing formula is the newest development in using tubes of colors to duplicate the exact color you start out with.

This privilege is now extended to all types of paint products, whether oil, rubber, alkyd, or varnish base. This is known as the Key-Tint color system. It solves a problem that has baffled the paint industry for years—that of producing a single color system to match shades in all types of paint for all surfaces.

If you ever tried to mix colors for both a masonry foundation and wood siding, with maybe some enamel for trim, you know how the same apparent color turns out differently when the various paints dry on different surfaces.

This problem has now been chemically solved. Even a porch floor can be made to match flat paint on wood or semigloss on trim. Even a refrigerator can match wood cabinets, papered walls or plastered ceilings.

Speaking of Ceilings, a new non-combustible acoustical tile is now made out of fiber glass. Full of grooves, or striations as the designers call such ribbing, these 12 by 12-inch and 12 by 24-inch panels are called Stria tiles.

They are rated to have a noise reduction coefficient up to 80 per cent and can reflect more than 75 per cent of the light striking them. Composed of fine fibers of glass, compressed into boards, these tiles trap sound waves in their highly porous surfaces.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-248

DESIGN B-248. There are many interesting features in this plan which merit careful study. For instance, the two way walk from the living room, covered walks from attached garage to the house in both front and rear, combination kitchen-dinette, access to all rooms from hall and groupings of the plumbing. In addition there is a full basement, two bedrooms, fireplace with book shelves, efficient kitchen arrangements, wardrobe closets and recessed bath tub.

Exterior finish is wide siding, asphalt shingles, vertical redwood in front and plywood in the front gable end. Floor area is 1000 square feet with 18,500 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN B-248, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Save the rug under baby's highchair by using a piece of Masonite. Tempered, Presdwood, from which spilled food may be cleaned quickly with a damp cloth. Obtain a quarter-inch panel from the lumber yard, round the edges and corners with a file and the rug-saver will be ready. Several coats of varnish or shellac will keep the board looking nice.

On The (Junior) Level

Here's an easy way to teach youngsters, at an early age, to hang up their hats, coats, and other clothing—and it's a good way to add extra closet space, too. Just stick two rows of these unique self-adhering plastic hooks on the inside of the closet door, one row at a "junior level" easily reached by the children and another row at adult height. The new hooks, called Selfix, can be applied without tools, nails, or screws, and without making holes in the door, simply by moistening their adhesive-coated wood backing and pressing them against the door.

Window Shopping With Sue

There's a little magazine distributed by the Roe Lumber company called "Popular Home" that had some fine ideas in conjunction with my column last week. It has to do with some helpful hints and interesting ideas for the home.

For instance, one thing that fascinated me is the suggestion that you coat door knobs, hinges, and other pieces of hardware with Vaseline so that when you're painting you won't splash them up. You see, the paint won't adhere to the Vaseline so it eliminates a lot of messy extra work. Don't make the mistake of trying to turn the handles before you wipe the Vaseline off, however. I found it a very frustrating experience.

Another suggestion Roe Lumber's magazine had to offer had to do with the care and cleaning of the Venetian blind. You just scrub them and then clean the tapes with a liquid shoe polish of the same color. What a shortcut that would be.

And there's an article on face-lifting for an older home. Something like that should be particularly interesting to some of the local owners of older homes considering remodeling. It tells about enlarging your room, and just all-around modernizing. If you want any extra information on possibilities along that line, you might just stop in at Roe Lumber when you have some spare time and ask about the Handyman Plan on Interior Remodeling.

They can be spray painted as many as eight times with a non-bridging water base paint without affecting their noise reducing efficiency.

About the niftiest development in floor coverings is the jig-saw flagstone idea, breaking away from all the new types of floor tile on the market—vinyl asbestos, and what not—manufacturers have out-puzzled all crossword puzzlers with fancy and attractive patterns.

It's really amazing, the striking effects you can get beyond the simple checkerboard pattern. Ask your floor covering dealer to show you some.

But it took one of the oldest and best known producers of linoleum and cork flooring to come up with the flagstone idea. First you install a row of what they call grids. Then all odd shaped tiles are fitted into the proper openings. Tiles along all sides of the grids interlock with the adjoining jig-saw tiles and adjoining grids. The pattern repeats itself every 18 inches. But the whole thing looks like a jig-saw puzzle.

Flagstone asphalt tile is available in three color schemes combining plain, straight grain and swirl marbled units.

Paint Brightens Worn Linoleum

If your linoleum is badly worn in spots or if you wish to change its coloring, it's not at all difficult to apply new colors. A base coat of floor enamel is easily applied and dries quickly. By tapping on other enamel colors with stippling sponges, you can get an attractive marbled effect that is very practical because it prevents mud and footmarks from showing as much as they do on a plain color.

Enamel and Paint Require Stirring

To determine whether your paint or enamel is ready for use, stir it carefully with a paddle to see if the heavy pigment has settled to the bottom of the can. If it has, pour most of the liquid on the top into another can. Then, stir what's left in the original container until it's thoroughly mixed.

Return the liquid from the other can, a little at a time, stirring constantly. In this way, you can make sure that the liquids and solids are evenly mixed.

Silent Hostess Coffee Table Asset to Home

Designed especially for the beauty-loving and the practical-minded homemaker, a "silent hostess" coffee table is an asset to any home or apartment. Simplicity of line is contrasted with a dramatic use of wood and wood-grained formica surfaces. As a labor-saving piece, the sliding top panels reveal two compartments; one holds the beverage service and the other is lined with cork for storing additional refreshments. Space-saving, this coffee table also plays "mother hen" to four sturdy tables which can be used for seating or serving. No need for coasters on these, either. They're formica topped.

At the Epworth League social last Friday evening at D. A. Jolliffe's one of the amusements was to carry beans on the blade of a knife across the room. The number of beans successfully carried entitled the person to certain articles of delicacies, but the fellow who could carry but two had to "refresh" himself with a glass of water, and a single bean entitled him to "chew" on a toothpick. Frank Spicer carried 35 and "took the whole bakery."

Don M. O'Leary, well-known former high school student of Plymouth, because of serious wounds received in action somewhere in the South Pacific, has been honorably discharged from service after Navy doctors had declared that he would be physically unable to endure Naval services.

If one has pluck and determination, and plenty of it, they can usually "go places." While "jerkings" sodas in John Blickenstaff's community drug store during her high school days, Mary L. Daoust decided to become a nurse. Not only has Miss Daoust accomplished her aim, but the United States Army service command in Detroit this week announced that the youthful Plymouth high school graduate had been appointed to the Army Nurse Corps with the rank of Second Lieutenant.

Miss Wilma Latture, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Latture, entertained 15 of her school friends at a St. Patrick's party Monday in her home. The young guests were entertained with various games throughout the evening. Supper was served by the hostess' mother.

Mrs. Dow Swope invited the play group consisting of Larry Dykehouse, Ellen Cowgill and Roberta Lidgard to her home in honor of the birthday of her son, Dow Jr., which occurred on Wednesday.

Twelve girls from Plymouth finished preliminary training as nurses' aides at Mount Carmel hospital last Saturday. Miss Morgava, head of the Detroit branch of the Junior Red Cross, was present when Miss Ann Collins, nurse in charge, presented the caps to the girls. ### Report Says Box Elder Bugs Are Merely Harmless Nuisance

Box elder bugs are just "harmless nuisances," according to word received this week originating from the campus of Michigan State university.

The box elder bug wormed itself in the local news scene two weeks ago when The Mail published a report of a discussion by city commissioners who have been receiving complaints from citizens whose neighbors have box elder trees. The box elder trees being the birth place of the bugs, commissioners toyed with the idea of outlawing the trees in the city. Legal counsel advised against it.

What is a box elder bug? What can I do about it? These questions are answered by the following information supplied from East Lansing.

Box elder bugs are able to maintain themselves in this area only on box elder, closely allied species of maple and ash trees. While they breed most profusely on the female species of box elder trees, they also apparently are able to maintain themselves on the male trees.

The eggs of the box elder bug are laid in clusters usually on the leaves-underside of box elder, and as they near the time for hatching, appear reddish-brown in color.

Because of the very depressed nature of these insects' bodies, they are able to squeeze into cracks and crevices about the most tightly constructed home. These insects cause no damage to the contents, to the occupants nor to a building itself, once they gain entrance. They are only looking for a warm place to spend the winter. At subsequent intervals during the winter when the temperature changes inside the structure, they move about and at that time make a nuisance of themselves.

In most cases, the most practical manner to handle these insects in the house is to simply sweep them up and destroy them in the most feasible manner. However, if one wishes to kill them in a situation of this kind, the employment of any good oil base household insecticide would probably destroy those that were thoroughly wetted.

Only if present in excessive large numbers and when permitted to rest undisturbed on a surface will they sometimes cause a light staining by their bodily secretions. This may sometimes occur on wallpaper, paint, or in some other situations.

The best time to spray effectively is as soon as the eggs start to hatch. The young nymphs of this sucking insect are more readily killed at this time than if they are permitted to attain partial size. Since the eggs do not all hatch at the same time, this may require a second spray. Control of box elder bugs has been a difficult proposition in the past because we have not had any insecticides that have been highly effective against this insect. Knowledge at the present time would indicate that if persons wished to assure themselves of freedom from occasional infestations of box elder bugs in their homes, it would require destruction of all box elder trees near the dwellings.

Fair results have been obtained with the following materials. Parathion used at the strength of three pounds of the 15 per cent material in 100 gallons of water (three tablespoons in a gallon). Chlordane at a concentration of two per cent of the emulsion, or Lindane used at two per cent emulsion concentration are also effective if sprayed directly on the insects.

DDT is not particularly effective. Parathion, because of its potential danger to the operator, is a material that should only be used if the persons employing it are thoroughly familiar with its hazardous aspects and are willing to take all of the precautionary suggestions. Chlordane or lindane are not so hazardous.

Regardless of the material employed, it is necessary that the insects be thoroughly wetted. This would require the services of a high pressure sprayer since many of the insects will be found in the tops of taller trees. The casual householder is urged to employ the services of a pest control operator if parathion is used.

Motorists Fined

Cases of reckless driving and driving while intoxicated were heard by Municipal Judge Nando Perlongo last week.

Leo H. Raymer, 39, of 15565 Benson road, was fined $100 and his driver's license suspended for one year when he appeared before the judge on a drunk driving charge, police reported. He was arrested March 10.

The reckless driving charge was heard against Wilbur Reed, 23, of 103 Amelia street. Police said Reed was arrested March 8 "driving at a high rate of speed down Mill street," police said. He was fined $35 and costs.

The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good. — Mary Baker Eddy

Fly-Free Farms Not Just Fantasy

After trying methoxychlor and lindane to control flies in dairy barns farmers now have another promising insecticide for that purpose.

Malathion, a phosphate type insecticide, is the newest one recommended. It can be used as a bait or as a wall and ceiling spray according to Ray L. Janes, extension entomologist at Michigan State college.

The barn recipe calls for one pound of 25 per cent wettable malathion powder to three gallons of water. If the 50 per cent emulsion form of malathion is used, one-half pint will make three gallons of spray.

Baits are made by using one cup of 50 per cent emulsion, one cup of molasses and three gallons of water. The bait is sprinkled on a clean cement floor, preferably behind the cows. Three gallons will be enough for a 20 to 30 cow herd.

There are some distinct disadvantages to a wet bait, however, Janes says. It has to be applied about every seven days and is slippery before it dries. It is not effective in dark barns and the malathion may become weaker but more flies without killing them.

A dry bait, using malathion's wettable powder and sugar, is being tried and looks promising for the dairy barn, according to Janes.

Janes emphasizes that malathion should not be used in the home or milkhouse or be sprayed directly on the cattle. Users should read the labels on the containers carefully before using this chemical.

A married man doesn't have to be superstitious in order to believe in signs made by his wife when company is present at dinner and the coffee is running low.

Serving As We Would Wish to be Served

Most people, when the time comes to call a funeral director, are very concerned over the matter, of price; they wonder, to put it bluntly, how much they will have to pay. At our establishment there is an easy answer; the family pay as much as they wish, and this is determined by the family when the casket selection is made. Each casket is plainly marked with the price of the complete service.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Do You Have Heart Pain?
Americans are prone to worry about every little heart pain, to imagine that they have, or are going to have angina pectoris, or coronary thrombosis. In fact, they get so scared that their very apprehension and tenseness tend to aggravate the condition, whereas if they remained calm, and relaxed, the pain might pass off in a few moments without leaving any untoward results.

Prolonged worry or distress often brings on pain in the heart that even extends to the whole left side, and may even effect the armpit as well as the arm.

Doctor Thomas Fitz-Hugh, Jr., of the University of Pennsylvania, has written an article on the subject in which he says that, "a review of 4,000 consecutive private patients records of the past 15 years showed migraine in 22 per cent. About one in every four presents symptoms of regular attacks of pain in heart-region resembling angina pectoris."

This pain in the chest, instead of in the head, appears as a substitute for the pain in the head. Sometimes, there is a very heavy boring ache in the region of the lower part of the breast bone. Sometimes it extends into the left arm pit. The dull type of distress may come, and go for days at irregular intervals.

The quickest way to get rid of it is to become interested in other things. As a rule, the pains are fleeting, sometimes lasting for only a few minutes, but may last hours.

The patient may even be seized with air hunger. This inability to get a deep breath is alarming and uncomfortable. When the pain is deep and stabbing, a full breath cannot be taken until the pain passes off.

These symptoms are usually a form of migraine that attacks the heart, instead of the head.

In the migraine, or one sided headaches, we are not sure of the exact cause, but they seem to be brought on by anxiety and worry.

Brickner Speaks On Mental Health Workshop Panel

Abraham Brickner, psychiatric social work supervisor at Northville State hospital was a panel member in a workshop at the 17th Annual Conference of the Michigan Society for Mental Health on March 17 in Detroit. The panel subject was "Selling Social Work," and the emphasis was on how interpretive public relations programs can help to correct popular misconceptions regarding social work goals and professional performance.

The panel discussion leader was Miss Dorothy Schroeder of Farmington, who is an assistant professor at the University of Michigan School of Social Work. Other panel guests were Jack Pickering, Detroit Times feature writer, and Douglas Campbell of Livonia, who is special representative for WXYZ radio and television.

At a second session, also planned by the Michigan District of the American Association of Psychiatric Social Workers, the problem of licensing or registering social workers in Michigan was discussed. On the panel were directors of social service from Dearborn Veterans Administration hospital and Vernon Key of the Wayne University Mental Health Service.

keeping in touch

THE UNIVERSITY of Michigan reports that a recent initiate of Delta Delta Delta sorority was Ann Hammond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond of 302 Sunset.

FROM DOWN in Clearwater, Florida word comes from Harry Terry, former Plymouth barber, who is now residing in that city with his wife. He sent along an edition of The Clearwater Sun which describes the Fun 'N Sun Festival Parade. The event attracted 50,000 to the city. Terry had just received a copy of The Mail and said it was certainly a pleasure to read about happenings in Plymouth.

RUSSELL KIRK, former resident of Plymouth and graduate of Plymouth high school, was recently featured in the Detroit News for his views on leisure and boredom. An author who received national attention for his book "The Conservative Mind," Kirk formerly instructed at Michigan State college. He resides both in Detroit and Mecosta. In the latter city he practices his hobby of planting trees.

TWO PLYMOUTH GIRLS won degrees yesterday from Michigan State college. They are Patricia (Pine) Shipman, who received a Bachelor of Science degree, and Margaret (Saxton) Wieck, who was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree. Both were Plymouth high school graduates.

Safety Meeting Set for April

George A. Jacoby, president of the conference announces that elaborate plans are under way for the Annual Michigan Safety Conference to be held in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, April 20, 21, and 22.

The purpose of the conference is to cooperate with all interested persons and agencies in coordinating information and experience for the general advancement of safety in all its phases throughout the state of Michigan.

The officers and various committees have been working for weeks in preparation of a safety conference, which it is felt, will make an outstanding contribution to the ever-important task of accident control in Michigan.

In addition to touching on segments of community accident control, renowned speakers will talk on subjects of related interest to the eight participating divisions.

These divisions will include Public Utilities, Industrial, Traffic Safety, Schools and Colleges, Transportation, Rural, Office, and Woman's divisions.

Interesting displays will include the latest developments in safety devices, protective apparel, fire fighting equipment, maintenance equipment and materials, visual aids and many others.

Industrial sending representatives to the conference may be assured that it will prove to be a very broad safety educational training program. Members of the Plymouth Safety Council plan full support and cooperation to make the conference a success.

Get Rid of Those Dead Trees!

Aging in the wood, beneficial for some things, is anything but that for dead and dying trees. They should not be left standing too long.

This seems pretty obvious, but tree experts say too many property owners delay having trees felled in the mistaken belief removals become more economical the longer the hulks stand.

Actually, this neglect compounds the peril for both passers-by and the professional tree men who eventually will be called upon to remove the trees. To make matters worse, the property owners may have to pay more than the normal cost for prompt tree removal.

That's because some tree surgeons rightly require premium payment for the extra hazards involved. Even under the best conditions the experts consider dead tree removal their No. One accident hazard.

In the city, trees are removed by cutting into small pieces that are carefully lowered with stout ropes. They are not felled the way lumberjacks do it in the forest.

Getting rid of unsightly dead and dying trees is a great favor to the landscape in general. Decaying trees often are breeding grounds for insects that can infect healthy trees. With elm, in particular, removal and burning is vital to prevent the spread of Dutch elm disease, carried by the elm bark beetle.

Lions Club Lends Out Hospital Equipment

Help for the sick and hospitalized in the form of equipment is one of the services offered by the Plymouth Lions and Soroptimist clubs. The clubs loan out hospital beds, crutches and wheel chairs to anyone needing them during an illness.

The Lions club recently added two new hospital beds to its stock so that now three hospital beds, two wheelchairs and two pairs of crutches are available through the club.

The Soroptimist club is ready to lend out two wheelchairs, six crutches, a hospital bed and bedside tables.

Any local residents may make use of this equipment by notifying Karl Sonderegger of the need. Sonderegger has charge of the equipment of both the Lions club and Soroptimist club.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Game men expect trappers in Michigan's lower peninsula will have a better than average beaver and otter season this year, though not so good as in 1953.

With the exception of a few areas, the entire lower peninsula will be open to beaver and otter trapping from noon, March 20 to noon, March 31. The season is similar to 1953, except in major beaver-producing areas, where it is five days shorter.

A record taken last year adequately cropped off surplus populations that had built up during several years of poor trapping. The season this year was trimmed to fit the present beaver population.

Benzie, Manistee, Mason, Oceana, and Muskegon counties, part of Lake county and several smaller areas will not be open to trapping.

Bag limits this year are the same as last year—four beaver and three otter.

Most of winter's heavy snows are gone from the northern portion of the peninsula, and game men say that continued milder weather would help trappers considerably.

The upper peninsula season opens April 1 in eight western counties and April 7 in most eastern counties.

Last year, trappers took 17,500 beaver, highest on game division records. During the previous 10 years, an average of 7000 were taken each year, but individual yearly totals varied widely, from the catch of 1000 in 1948 to the 1951 total of 15,000.

Ice fishing may continue through March in the northern lower peninsula, but in the south, the spud, spear and shanty squads already are turning to other pursuits.

Fisheries workers said early this week that ice was still safe for fishing at Houghton Lake and that during a usual Michigan winter, angling in that area often continues through March.

Southern lakes, however, are in general not good risks at the present time. Reports of cars and shanties falling through have been numerous in recent days.

Officers note that the law calls for removal of shanties and other fishing structures before "ice conditions appear unsafe."

Detroit area anglers who attend the March 19 public hearing on proposed changes in trout regulations will hear discussion of much recent information fisheries workers have gathered from field experiments.

The second conservation commission-sponsored public hearing was slated in order to gather further views and opinions from sportsmen on the knotty trout fishing problem.

Specialists from the conservation department's institute for fisheries research at Ann Arbor will present findings from hooking experiments, from recently-gathered data on trout growth rates, and from the special 10-inch size limit, flies-only regulations in force on portions of the AuSable River.

In general, the entire problem of trout-fishing regulations will be open for discussion.

Six points, however, have been listed as core problems. Suggested increases in size limits, a reduction in the creel limit, and proposed bans against all-night fishing, use of more than one rod and line, use of salmon eggs for bait and chumming and use of certain types of heavy "hard-ware" lures will probably draw most attention.

The hearing will be held in the Rackham building's ESD Auditorium at 100 Farnsworth Street, Detroit, starting at 7:45 p.m.

The first hearing was held at Higgins Lake training school near Roscommon in January. About 200 interested individuals and sportsman club delegates took part in that hearing.

Deer were reported in no apparent trouble from food shortages last week, conservation field workers say.

Warmer weather over the northern regions cut snow depths so deer were able to range more freely in the upper peninsula in their search for food.

In most of the northern lower peninsula, deer were not confined to swamps or protected areas and seemed to be ranging widely.

In the Mio district, however, six inches of fresh snow early this week may spell trouble. Some deer starvation was reported on private lands in that area earlier this winter and new snow will add to the deer's difficulties.

New, roomier bodies! New, rugged construction!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper . . . new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to make loading easier.

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save valuable time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.
