

Joyce Truesdell and Ronald Beaver United In Recent Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beaver

At a lovely ceremony at the Sheldon Methodist church on Saturday evening, March 20, Joyce Truesdell repeated her nuptial vows to Ronald Beaver. Joyce is the daughter of Claude Truesdell of Haggerty road, Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beaver of Marie street, Plymouth are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Niven officiated at the eight o'clock candlelight ceremony before the altar which was adorned with baskets of white carnations and snapdragons. Marilou Truesdell presided at the organ and the soloist, Elsie Fulford sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, Joyce was radiant in a gown of nylon lace and net. The fitted bodice and tiny bolero jacket were of the lace. The long sleeves extended to points over the wrists and the jacket had a small stand-up collar. The skirt was of three tiers of nylon net over satin and was floorlength. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a coronet of lace and seedpearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis tied with satin streamers.

Miss Donna Truesdell was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua with fitted taffeta bodice and a bouffant skirt of net over satin. Her bouquet was of dark red carnations.

Miss Shirley Place and Mrs. Stella Beaver were Joyce's bridesmaids. Their gowns were designed like that of the honor attendant. Shirley wore yellow and Stella was in pink. They each carried colonial bouquets of carnations in shades matching their gowns.

Ronald asked his twin brother, Donald, to serve him as best man. The ushers were Morris Beaver and Frank Wasniak.

Mrs. Frank Truesdell, the bride's grandmother, chose a street length dress of navy blue and Mrs. Beaver wore a light brown dress with dark brown jacket. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for 150 guests in the church parlor. Guests were present from Wayne, Detroit, Belleville, Morley and Plymouth.

The young couple spent a week in Kentucky where Ronald is stationed at Fort Knox with the United States Army. For traveling Mrs. Beaver wore a navy blue suit with pink and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Joyce is a senior at Plymouth high school and has returned to Plymouth where she will continue her studies and live with her father while Ronald is in the service. Ronald was graduated from Plymouth high school.

Grange Gleanings

Tonight is Grange supper night again and there should be a good crowd. Come out and see the hall now that it has its new coat of fresh paint on the interior; clean and light.

Everyone will be very sorry to learn that Amy Northrop is again in Mt. Carmel hospital and has had an operation on her face. She is getting along pretty well but will be there for some time, at least a week. She will be glad to see any of her friends. Send her a card.

The dance last Saturday night was the last one of the season. The dances have been very pleasant enjoyable affairs for those who attended, but the attendance was not what it should have been.

Joe Tracey is at home and is improving in health.

Mrs. Marie Hartung is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Russell Cook on Haggerty highway. Her illness was caused by the bite of a cat.

Remember the date, April 13, that we are all expected to go to Pittsfield Grange to see and take part in the exemplifying of the fifth degree or degree of Pomona. Those who were obligated in that degree and any who wish to receive it are urged to be there.

On April 12, Monday the Lily club is invited to come up to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mettetal for the evening. Be at the Grange hall at 6 p.m. in order to ride if you are not driving. It is to be pot luck supper so be sure to bring a dish to pass and your own table service.

And be sure to keep this important date marked on your calendar—Friday, April 23, when we shall celebrate the 80th birthday of Plymouth Grange. The banquet begins at 5:30 p.m. as we shall have to have at least two, perhaps three seatings. A fine program is being arranged under the very capable leadership of the chairman, Louise Tritten. There will be no charge, but every family will be solicited for food or money to help defray the expenses.

Julie Ann Simmons To Be Fall Bride

Julie Ann Simmons

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Simmons of Lansing, formerly of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Julie Ann, to Charles Richard Crowther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brinton Crowther, also of Plymouth.

Both Julie and Charles were graduated from Plymouth high school and are attending Michigan State college.

The young couple are making plans for a fall wedding and will continue their studies at Michigan State following their marriage.

Roger Bogenschutz Reside in Plymouth

In a quiet informal wedding in St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, on Friday, March 26, Marilyn Rood became the bride of Roger Bogenschutz.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mrs. Mildred Rood of Ridge road and Kenneth Rood of Wayne.

Mrs. Lillian Bogenschutz of Cadillac road is Roger's mother.

The Reverend Hoenecke officiated at the rites before the families and a few close friends.

Marilyn asked Ruth Bogenschutz, the bridegroom's sister, to be her maid of honor and Donald Moyer was Roger's best man.

Following a short honeymoon the young couple, both Plymouth High school graduates, will make their home at 12700 Ridge road, Plymouth.

OBITUARIES

MISS Patricia Ann Wassenaar . . . Funeral services were held Wednesday, March 31 at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Miss Patricia Ann Wassenaar who passed away early Monday morning, March 29 after a short illness. She was 19 years old, and resided with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fayette J. Wassenaar, at 11439 Eastside drive, Plymouth.

Besides her parents, Patricia Ann is survived by one brother, William; her grand-parents, Mrs. Sarah Ivens and Mrs. Mary Wassenaar, both of Battle Creek, other relatives and many friends.

Patricia has lived in Plymouth since 1948 and was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1952. At the time of her death she was employed as book-keeper at the Plymouth Office of the National Bank of Detroit.

The Reverend Henry J. Walsh officiated at the funeral services. Hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Joseph Mitchell, Patrick Finlan, Donald Moore, William Wall, Charles Merryfield and Howard Pernie. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

MR. HENRY L. DEMPSEY

Henry L. Dempsey, who resided at 14633 Garland avenue, passed away Monday afternoon March 29. He was 70 years of age. Surviving are six children, Mrs. Ann Louise Utter of Plymouth, Wesley and William of Walled Lake, Jack of Livonia, Donald of Wayne, and Richard of the United States Army, also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Edith Allen and Mrs. Hattie Smith and one brother, Frank all of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 14 grand-children, other relatives and many friends. His wife, Cora preceded him in death on March 22, 1937.

Mr. Dempsey has lived in Plymouth for the past 31 years. Prior to moving to Plymouth his home was in Tawas City. At the time of his death he was employed at the Roe Lumber company.

The Reverend Melbourne J. Johnson will officiate at funeral services which will be held Thursday, April 1 at 1 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home. Hymns will be sung by Nestor Sibbold, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers will be: Alvin Ernest, Donald McLeod, Arthur Merifield, Loudon Hatcher, Kenneth Groth, Vernor Kahrl. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

No Plans Yet For Gas Well Development

No plans have been made yet for the development of the gas well found on the Ralph Wilson farm in Salem township, according to a spokesman for the W. C. Taggart, Big Rapids wildcat driller.

The gas well, rated good for 5,350,000 cubic feet of gas a day, cannot be developed until a "pattern" is set by the state conservation department, the spokesman added. It must first be determined if the gas is the same gas providing pressure for any present or potential oil wells in the area. If so, the well cannot be utilized.

Taggart has already begun drilling a second well on the Roy LeMaster farm just north of the well he discovered last December behind the LeMaster home. The second well is already down several hundred feet.

Meanwhile, only one new permit was issued last week for drilling in the Northville area. It was issued to C. W. Collin of Mt. Pleasant who plans to drill on the Howell-Walker farm near Northville. Collin is ready to start drilling on the Whipple farm located two and a half miles from the LeMaster well. He is also expecting to start a test near the Maybury Sanitarium property.

Ferguson & Ferguson has drilled to 823 feet in Novi township and another well on the Nerretter farm on Eight Mile road has gone to 555 feet. It is being drilled by Edward Torosian.

We know of one fellow who is always willing to meet you more than half-way. That's the road to hog.

Paul J. A. Albright

Private-2 Paul J. Albright son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond John Albright, formerly of Plymouth has been assigned to D company, 1st Special Troops Battalion, Fort Benning, Georgia. The battalion is part of Special Troops Command, whose units operate in support of the Infantry Center, "The World's Most Complete Military Post."

Special Troops Command was activated on February 1, 1949, to supervise and train Fort Benning's many service units for their jobs at the Infantry Center. The command also acts as the controlling body for these service groups. In addition, it is frequently called upon to assist in the training and administration of the service-type reserve units in the Third Army area which are placed on active duty for two weeks training each year.

While at Fort Benning, Private Albright will be a fireman assigned to Station No. 3 of the Infantry Center.

Gustaf Lundquists Honored at Tea

Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf Lundquist of 348 Auburn avenue celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Sunday, March 28, with an open house and tea in the Veteran's Memorial Center on North Main street.

Nearly 200 friends and relatives came to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Lundquist, who have made their home in Plymouth for twenty-four of the twenty-five years of their married life.

A beautiful five tiered wedding cake centered the table which was set with a white linens cloth draped with live ivy and silver candelabra.

Two of Mrs. Lundquist's aunts, Mrs. Elmer Hornick and Mrs. Belle Mifflin of Chatham, Ontario, attended as well as cousins from London, Ontario; Clarkston, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Grand Ledge, Dearborn and Northville. Friends were present from Howell, Detroit, Ypsilanti and Plymouth.

The Lundquists received many beautiful bouquets, cards and lovely gifts of silver.

Repeat Performance

Plymouth township firemen made another trip to the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond plant on Plymouth road again this week, exactly one week after they answered an alarm at the same plant for the same type of fire.

Tuesday night's fire, however, caused only a little damage while last week's blaze caused a loss of about $100.

A 500-gallon tank containing oil for dripping hot metal parts again caught afire.

Firemen used dry chemicals to quench the blaze.

When considering make-over clothing for youngsters, use light weight firm, closely woven fabrics of suitable bright color. It would be impractical, they say, to use worn-out, harsh materials for children's clothing.

Wipe off fresh fruit with a clean, damp cloth before storing. This cleaning helps check rot which may have been transferred from other fruits at the market.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick and Mrs. Harold Todd were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage of Clemons road.

Plymouth friends were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Audie Kurtz on Wednesday of last week in her home in Potoskey. Mrs. Kurtz had spent a great deal of time in Plymouth with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher and was very well known here. Burial was in Potoskey on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Smith and three children of Toledo, Ohio, have purchased the Roy Fisher home on West Ann Arbor trail and on next Tuesday will move to Plymouth. The Fishers will move to the Mather home on Plymouth road until their new home is built early in the summer. Mr. Smith is an engineer with the Burroughs Corporation.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Myrtle French, Jordan Montana: Although 75 years of age, I can still remember well the thrill when I mounted the steps of a horse-less carriage for my first ride in one of the dangerous things.

Mounted is right. It seems there were no doors . . . one slid into the seat and peered over the dashboard to the ground below. Above, the fringe of the canopy top fluttered in the breeze. The driver climbed in. After settling himself he gave a magical touch to something that started a racket . . . I was told it was the engine under the seat and had a momentary fear it might blow up.

By twisting a bent rod that resembled a hydrant fixture, the hard rubber wheels were straightened to the road, a brake released and we were off-flying along at 15 miles per hour.

From Mrs. M. Green, Ruliton, Minnesota: I remember when we lived in a one-room sod house. We used twisted hay for fuel and home-made tallow candles for light. For traveling, we had a lumber wagon and oxen.

The nearest town was 30 miles away. Those were the days.

From Clara L. Eisner, Strathmore, California: I can remember when we twisted long prairie grass into figure eights which we used for fuel in big boiler-like burners which were filled and turned upside down over an old fashioned cook stove. This was in Minnesota.

Find Municipal Garage Has Solved Parking Problem in Small Town

A half-million dollar municipally owned garage which is paying its way has been the answer to serious downtown parking troubles in this city, according to a study council report.

The garage is believed to be the third municipally owned parking building in the United States and the first to be financed by self-liquidating revenue bonds. The bonds extend over a thirty-year period.

Cost of the garage, which was $495,000, including the land, is being paid for by the citizens themselves who put the garage to heavy use. The garage, which has parked 1,459,253 cars since it was opened in 1948, has fared so well financially that all bonds have been met as they fell due and a tidy profit has been realized as well.

"The experience of Bluefield and other cities we have studied makes it evident the parking problems can be licked if tackled with courage and imagination," the council says.

Bluefield, a city of 21,341 population nestling high in the Appalachian mountains of southern West Virginia, faced problems similar to those of many other cities in the United States. Narrow, steep streets running through a compact and crowded business area were becoming more strangled with traffic each year.

Although not a large city, Bluefield is the trade center for 300,000 persons, as well as the "gateway" to the rich Pocahontas coal mining territory. Moreover, Federal Routes 19, 21, 52, and 460 run through the downtown streets.

City authorities realized curb parking would have to be eliminated, yet the lack of vacant lots in the business district to serve as parking areas posed a problem. The city did not wish to interfere with shopping by removing curb parking privileges, without supplying a substitute. The only solution, it was decided, was an adequate parking building.

It was hoped at first that private capital would undertake such a project. But when this was not forthcoming the citizens decided to make the building the first major post-war community project.

Looking forward to this time, the city of Bluefield purchased a tract of land right in the middle of the business district—46,000 square feet, at a cost of $114,000.

Construction of the building was started in 1946. The structure, which covers the entire tract, can house 800 cars simultaneously. It is designed to make the most of the steep hillside against which it is placed. There are four parking levels—ground floor, second floor, third floor, and the roof—and each, because of the ascending hillside, can have its own exit. However, the main flow of traffic is through a central entrance on the first level, in order to simplify checking the cars in and out.

This main entrance is on a side street where garage traffic will not empty into the town's most crowded artery. It consists of two adjacent driveways, each 25 feet wide, for coming and going cars.

Attendants park all the cars. They use concrete ramps—15 per cent grade straight, and 12 feet wide—to drive from floor to floor, with up and down ramps for each level. Their rapid movement about the huge building is further facilitated by stairways, brass sliding poles, and a belt service elevator.

es are parked on the ground floor which has a headroom clearance of 12 feet. The second and third floor and the roof are used for passenger cars only. All over the building, however, headroom clearance and allowable floor loads will permit parking of all types of vehicles.

The sides of the building are open, except in portions below ground level. Reinforced concrete was used throughout.

A service station, with office, salesroom, washrooms, and space for car washing and lubricating is located near the main entrance. This is leased to an oil company.

In addition the garage itself has an office for cashier and manager; a waiting room and washrooms for patrons; and a waiting room, locker room, toilet and shower for the attendants.

The city fathers had the future in mind when they chose the "flat-slab" architectural style that has been used. It is hoped one day to erect a municipal auditorium atop the parking building. For this reason the roof has been left open. The entrance to the future auditorium will be on the highest street level—which is 40 feet above the lowest street where the garage main entrance is located.

"Bluefield merchants are enthusiastic about our building," says H. W. Burnley, Jr., manager of the parking building. "The garage has boosted business greatly by helping shoppers to find a quick and easy place to park."

Rates vary from 25 cents for the first two hours up to one dollar for overnight parking.

Ideas from other editors

From The Free Press, Greater South Charleston, W. Va.: of course the hard-st letter of the alphabet to get along without is the small letter E but the Ruskin (N-braska) N-ws, in a story, show-d that it is also difficult to get by without a "y" or even an "f" and a "k". The story in the Ruskin paper r-ad:

"We had a bit of machine trouble quite a long time ago and damaged a number of 't' mats. Our first order for replacements went astray and it was not until last week we finally got the vital bits of brass (incidentally they cost 22c each). While waiting for the replacements all we could do was reset lines twice, then cut the slugs and patch them together. Sometimes, we missed the double 't' takes in the proof and then our readers were confused by such puzzles as:

The Committee will mee- a- -he -he commi-ee will meet at the "It was an exasperation all the way around. Even so, we weren't so bad off as the poor fellow who explained to his readers thus: "We began the publication of the Roccoy Mountain Cyclone with a few diphthongs in the way. The type-hounders phrom whom we bought our outfit phor this pring-in-ophice pbalied to supply us with any ephs or cays, and it will be phour or phive weeqes bephore we can get any. No Armistice In Sight

Signing of an armistice last July ending hostilities in Korea was an occasion for rejoicing throughout our country.

During three years of warfare with Communist armies, American forces had lost more than 25,000 men killed in action on a foreign battle field.

Today, we are still engaged in a grim fight on the home front with an enemy more deadly than all of the armies which the Communists put in the field in Korea. And on this battle front there is no armistice in sight. This current conflict is taking a yearly toll of lives nine times greater than those suffered by our armed forces during three years of war in Korea.

The foe responsible for this daily threat to the lives of Americans is cancer.

During 1953, a total of 227,000 persons in the United States died from the dread disease, which, it is estimated, will strike at one out of every five Americans at some time in their lives.

The nationwide campaign to conquer this country's second most deadly killer is being spearheaded by the American Cancer Society with a comprehensive, three-fold program of public and professional education, service to patients and scientific research into the causes and most effective methods of curing or arresting the disease.

Everyone cannot engage directly in the campaign being fought by scientists, family doctors, nurses and hundreds of thousands of volunteer workers to eradicate cancer. But we all can join indirectly in the struggle by having regular physical check-ups—at least one a year, the ACS says,—and learning cancer's danger signals so that we can seek a doctor's attention at the earliest possible moment.

Merchants

 chants' committee weather will be no factor as far as the weekend dollar volume is concerned. The savings that people can make on all purchases here during the sale will be so great that any price conscious buyer would have to brave any or all kinds of weather to make the savings merchants are offering, the committee said.
 In addition to the sale merchandise most local stores have reduced regular prices on the other items in their store so that it will be more than attractive to make pre-Easter purchases during this event. In addition to making actual dollar savings shoppers will also have an opportunity to see the new stock of spring and summer features that the stores already have on display.
 It would be wise to study carefully every advertisement in this issue of The Mail, make a list of the items of interest to you and your family, then plan to do your shopping early in the day to avoid late afternoon traffic and rush hours in the stores.

Ground Observers Win Monthly Honor

The award of Post of the Month for March was received last week by Edward B. Gardner for his Ground Observer post, GOLF NECTAR 22 RED, at the Detroit House of Correction. A certificate was awarded to Gardner, supervisor of the post, and his many observers for their work of keeping the local post in 24-hour operation.
 The award came through the 4871st Ground Observer Squadron at Grand Rapids, and is signed by detachment commander Captain Julian Becker and General B. W. Chidlaw.
 The post has never lacked volunteers, even in the late hours of the night. A waiting list of people willing to give of their time is not unusual, and at times this lists as many as 50 to 75 names.

Detroit Man Critically Hurt in Crash

Passing motorists and neighbors pulled a Detroit driver from his demolished car last Saturday night only minutes before the vehicle burst into flames and set off a barrage of exploding bullets which were stored in the car's glove compartment.
 The driver, William Kalen, 2015 Vinewood, is reported in "very serious" condition at Wayne County General hospital suffering a brain concussion, second degree burns and numerous contusions.
 According to reports compiled from records of the county sheriff's office and Northville police department, Kalen was driving east on Phoenix road at 10 p.m. Saturday when his car failed to make the sharp turn at the top of the hill just west of the road's intersection with Northville road.
 The car crashed through a barricade which leads to a former road and then plunged in and out of a ditch, finally crashing into a tree some 130 feet from the road. A woman motorist attempted to get him out of the car but failed. She rushed to the Plymouth Radiator company on Northville road where owner Daniel Spence called the sheriff's department and an ambulance. The sheriff's department was unable to dispatch a car at that time so called on the Northville police.
 Officer Roman Nowicki arrived a few minutes later and found that passing motorists and Spence had pryed Kalen from behind the steering wheel. Leaking gasoline then burst into flame and the Northville fire department was summoned. It was noticed that Kalen had a loaded automatic gun in his hip pocket and a .22 caliber rifle in the back seat. Officers believed that he had been target shooting and was on his way home.
 A supply of ammunition in the glove compartment was set off by the spreading flames but no one was injured. The interior of the car was gutted by the flames and the front of the auto was demolished in the crash. A local ambulance took the injured man to the hospital.

STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF WAYNE NO. 27584

In the Matter of the Opening of an Alley Within the Limits of and to Serve Property Bounded by Forest Avenue, Wing Street, Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail, and to Acquire Private Property Therein in the City of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
 At a session of said Court held in the County Building, City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, on the 10th day of March, 1954.

PRESENT.

HONORABLE CARL M. WEIDEMAN, Circuit Judge.
 Upon reading and filing the petition of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, a municipal corporation, in the above entitled cause, the purpose of said petition being hereby stated to be the acquisition of private land, described in said petition, for a necessary public improvement for the use and benefit of the public, without the consent of the owners thereof, said public improvement being described as the opening of a public alley running northerly from Wing Street to Ann Arbor Trail to serve property bounded by Forest Avenue, Wing Street, Main Street, Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail in the City of Plymouth, Michigan.

IT IS ORDERED that the interested parties, namely: Thomas O. Baker and Mary E. Baker, his wife, and National Bank of Detroit, a National Banking Association of Detroit, Mich.; Louise C. Leadbetter, R. and L. Realty Company, a Michigan corporation, and Connecticut Corporation of Hartford, Connecticut; Theresia L. Finlan, Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., a Michigan corporation, and The Kroger Co., and Ohio Corporation appear before this Court on the 18th day of April, 1954, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in the County Building, City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, in the Court Room of the Circuit Judge to whom this matter may be assigned, for a hearing on said petition and to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order shall be published in The Plymouth Mail for three consecutive weeks prior to said hearing and that service hereof shall be made upon said interested parties in person or by leaving same at their residences as provided in Act 149, Public Acts 1911, as amended.

CARL M. WEIDEMAN, Circuit Judge.

New Miracle Lotion, Easy-Do Solves Pin-Curl Problem by Simple Setting Method!

Here at last is a way to have lovely, natural-looking curls without fuss or bother! Just set your hair with Easy-do exactly as you would with an ordinary wave lotion or plain water. The big difference is this: With Easy-do your curls hold their set—not just for hours—but for days and weeks!

Easy-do is entirely different from anything you've ever tried before. Unlike a permanent, Easy-do involves no complicated steps. You simply apply Easy-do after your shampoo as you set your hair in pin-curls. Just apply it to each curl. Then when hair is thoroughly dry, brush it out and see the thrilling results.

You have soft, lustrous, perfectly-behaved curls with the natural beauty you've wanted! Curls that will really stay in until your next shampoo and Easy-do setting. Yes, you're free of the nuisance of putting your hair up at night.

Trains Hair Gradually To Natural-Looking Curls
By using Easy-do regularly after each shampoo, you will have no need for a permanent. What Easy-do does is to train the hair gradually to lovely, natural-like curls. Because it's so safe and gentle, it's ideal even for baby-fine hair. Easy-do gives "body" to hair without making it coarse or kinky. It leaves even the limpest locks so easy to manage.

And if your hair has a hint of natural wave, Easy-do encourages its tendency to curl. Easy-do is the answer to every woman who wants a well-groomed coiffure without the nightly pin-curl routine. It's wonderful for children's hair, too. Saves a busy mother so much time.

If you do not have a permanent wave or if your permanent is about gone, try Easy-do. Four to six applications only $1.50 plus 20c tax. Special Easy-do bobby pins with each package.

Easter Egg Tree Is Growing as U.S. Tradition

Would you like to have an Easter egg tree in your home this Easter?

It's one of the oldest and yet newest of American traditions. Although the egg tree has been a part of Pennsylvania Dutch Easter tradition for many years, it is nevertheless excitingly new to millions of people, says the Poultry and Egg National board. The Easter egg tree is a bright, happy ornament for any home during the Easter season. Like the Christmas tree it stands proudly erect with its colorful decorations, but unlike the Christmas tree, its decorations are good to eat.

How to make the Easter egg tree? It's somewhat of a small edition of the familiar Christmas tree but differs in that the branches are bare. Almost any small tree or limb of a tree that has been pruned will serve. The slender outer branches should be clipped so that the remaining part will support the dyed eggs.

The base may be made just as that of a Christmas tree. Another good idea is to use a sizeable flower pot filled with packed earth, sand, or rocks that will hold the little tree erect. In some towns and cities, rugged little manzanilla trees may be bought from local florists.

A handyman around the house can make one by using a 1 by 1-inch piece of wood 30 inches tall for the trunk and fashioning the "limbs" from light pieces such as lath material to make a symmetrical tree. Or, old coat hangers with the bottom wire and hook cut off, can be nailed up and down the trunk and progressively shortened toward the top, then painted, to make a modernistic tree. This one could be hung from the ceiling to make a novel mobile.

Hard cook two or three dozen eggs. Let them cool and then dye in varied colors, using the handy Easter egg dyes, or apply the designs furnished in the packages. To hang the eggs, use adhesive type transparent tape, available in stationery and variety stores, or any type of adhesive tape used in most homes. The transparent adhesive tape will hold better if it is looped around the egg. Be sure that the eggs are hung on all sides of the tree so that the weight is distributed equally.

April Marks Opening of Annual Cancer Crusade in Plymouth

"Every housewife knows that torn sheets make good dust cloths but many are unaware they also can be made into dressings to help care for a cancer patient," Mrs. William Norman, chairman of the Plymouth Unit of the American Cancer Society White Goods Drive, observed today in commenting on the present drive. This program, she pointed out, is only one of the many activities of the society which will conduct its 1954 Cancer Crusade here and throughout the United States during April.

The local white drive has been in effect for nearly three weeks. The results are very gratifying, she said. The Girl Scout troops in this area, she pointed out, are to be especially commended upon their fine cooperation in the procuring of white goods.

Norman Marquis, president of the local unit, stressed that the preparation of dressings is only one of the activities of the local volunteers but that it is an extremely important one. Some idea of the magnitude of the dressings project, under the supervision of Mrs. Gus Lundquist, locally can be conceived from last year's reports of the ACS's 60 divisions which showed that 4,751 groups of women volunteers produced an aggregate of 11,341,510 dressings. The amount made locally is already in the thousands.

Volunteers meet in groups, sometimes as members of a club or church organization, and cut and sew dressings from donated materials. Marquis said that probably few housewives realize how expensive an item dressings are for the needy patient whose budget for sickness is either slender or non-existent. Bandages, when bought commercially, may cost a cancer victim more than $50 a month.

Mrs. Lundquist reported, "We have an urgent standing need for dressing materials. They can be made from most kinds of white cotton cloth but sheets and pillow slips are particularly adaptable."

Mrs. Norman said that another important phase of the work of the local cancer group is the educational program that is planned. Two days are being set aside by the group, April 10 and 11, Friday and Saturday, as Tag Days. Small tags, which will fit into

THE SYMBOL OF HOPE of the American Cancer Society, the sword, is handed to Mayor Pro Tem Ernest Henry, right, by Norman Marquis, president of the local cancer unit. The sword was presented to the city to symbolize the observance of Cancer Month during April. A drive for white goods for cancer dressings is currently underway, and the cancer unit will hold a tag day later in the month as part of the observance everyone's billfold will be handed to all shoppers in Plymouth on those two specified days. Other pamphlets will be distributed to all as well.

Informing physicians and the public of the latest facts about cancer through an intensive campaign of professional and public education, and supporting a nationwide cancer research program through grants of more than $4,000,000 annually to 100 institutions are important phases of the local unit's objectives. No solicitation of any kind will be made in this area.

Dr. Tewes to Deliver Final Lecture of Series

Dr. Helen Tewes will give her last lecture of the current series at the monthly meeting of the Northville Cooperative Play Group on Monday, April 5, at 8 p.m. in the Northville Presbyterian church.

This final lecture will be on "The Rights, Respects and Responsibilities of the Family." A film, "Roots of Happiness" will accompany the talk.

All interested parents are invited to attend the meeting.

Begin Ticket Sale for Theatre Guild Production

Tickets for the Theatre Guild production, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," went on sale this week by Kiwanis and Guild members and Girl Scouts. The play will be presented April 27 to 29 in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

The production marks the fifth time the Theatre Guild has cooperated with the Kiwanis club to benefit the Girl Scout Cabin. Previous plays given successfully were "John Loves Mary," "Blithe Spirit," "Two Blind Mice" and "January Thaw."

"Mr. Barry's Etchings" is a three-act comedy by Walter Bullock and Daniel Archer. It was first presented by Brock Pemberton at the 48th Street Theatre in New York City in 1950. The cast starred Lee Tracy and featured Vicki Cummings and Scott McKay.

The Richdale Players of Royal Oak presented the play this past January to five sell-out audiences.

William Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills will again direct the local players.

We'd have a lot of happy car owners around Plymouth if money to meet the installments could be stretched as easily as some people stretch the truth.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the B.P.O. You can have a CEDAR CLOSET now for only $8.90!

A CEDAR CLOSET is a year 'round delight. Every time you open the door your satisfaction is renewed with that fragrant Cedar aroma.
You can now make your own CEDAR closet with a Brush in less than two hours and for only $8.90. This is for an average 80 sq. ft. closet. The Time and Cost is LESS for a smaller closet. You simply mix CEDARWALL with WATER and brush on. Once applied, CEDARWALL stays on! Laboratory Tested. WON'T CRACK, CHIP, PEEL, OR BLISTER! Drive nails or screws through it. Never requires repainting.
Just ONE application! Over ANY clean surface! CEDARWALL completely resurfaces, seals all cracks and crevices and strengthens the surface to which it is applied. CEDARWALL is also moth-repellent and keeps your closets fragrant, Cedar-Fresh!
Cedarize your Closets, Trunks, Chests, Storage and Utility Rooms.
CEDARWALL also makes an unusually attractive finish for Dens, Attics, and Basement Playrooms. Its fragrant, Cedar aroma is restful and relaxing.
Complete instructions on every bag. Mail or phone orders delivered.

Announce Program For Annual Creative Arts Festival, April 23 to 25

The program for this year's Creative Arts Festival was announced recently by adult education director Herbert Woolweaver. The festival, which will be held in the high school from April 23 to 25, combines exhibits, a symphony concert and ball, a square dance and Theatre Guild rehearsal.

The festival will open on Friday, April 23, at 7 p.m. so that those attending may see the exhibits of local handicraft. The Theatre Guild rehearsal of "Mr. Barry's Etchings" under director Bill Merrill will begin at 8 p.m. This will also be open to the public.

For Saturday's program exhibits will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The Symphony Ball will begin in the auditorium at 9:30, and concurrently a square dance will be held in the gymnasium.

Visitors may view exhibits from 2 to 4 on Sunday, April 25, and may attend the concert of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra beginning at 4 p.m.

Heading the committees for the various events and exhibits for the festival are Mrs. Harold Grimoldby and Mrs. Jackson, china painting; Mrs. F. D. Sober, drawing and water colors; Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Chester Tuck and Mrs. A. T. M. Peterson, flower arrangements; Mrs. Jane Carmichael, Mrs. Lance Wright and Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, hand-made ceramics.

Mrs. Earl Kenyon, hooked rugs; Miss Dorothy Lucas, leather carving and tooling; Miss Beatrice Ware and Mrs. Hugh Law, metal-craft and jewelry; Mrs. Joyce Dalian, millinery; Mr. Jackson, molded ceramics; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler, oil painting; Bob Webber and Carl Finney, photography; Mrs. Ralph Taylor and Mrs. Lila Humphries, sewing and tailoring.

American Association of University Women and Girl Scout Troop 2, information and guide service; Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller, Theatre Guild; Girl Scout Troop 1, check room; Mrs. Margaret Hough, Symphony Ball; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson, square dance.

Sign in a store window: "Sale of bath towels for the whole damp family."

One half of the people of this cold, hard world wonders why the other half lives.

Correction

On the church page of this edition appears a picture incorrectly captioned "Reverend Jack Van Impe." The Reverend Van Impe, shown here, will speak at the Calvary Baptist church during Youth Week, April 4 to 11. Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. each week night and at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. The evangelist is also an outstanding piano accordionist.

That the spiritual understanding which enables man to differentiate between the true and the false, is God bestowed and is unlimited by material heredity and environment—is a leading point to be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
Selections from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality."
Scriptural texts to be read include the following from James: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variable-ness, neither shadow of turning" (1:17).
Readings from Science and Health will include the following: "Spirit imparts the understanding which uplifts consciousness and leads into all truth. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and unreal. This understanding is not intellectual, is not the result of scholarly attainments; it is the reality of all things brought to light" (505:16-17, 21, 22, 26-28).

The Golden Text is from Romans: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (13:12).
The Reverend Jack Van Impe, youth evangelist, will speak at Calvary Baptist church during Youth Week, April 4 to 11. Evangelist Van Impe is an able speaker-organist having appeared on many television programs and radio broadcasts. Vocal soloist for the meetings will be Mrs. Van Impe. Recently the Van Impes toured Europe conducting evangelistic services. Services will be held at 7:30 each week night and at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. The public is cordially invited to these services.

The public is cordially invited to these services.

I.O.O.F. News Rebekah News

Several of the Brothers of Tonquish Lodge attended the district meeting in Dearborn on Thursday evening, March 25.

Sister Mary Burton of Pride of Western Lodge visited Plymouth Lodge on Friday evening.

The Oddfellow-Rebekah roast beef supper will be held on Friday, April 2, at the IOOF hall. Serving will be from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

A social evening is being planned by a committee from both lodges. Watch for the date.

The annual Mother and Daughter Banquet will be held on Wednesday, May 12. For tickets call Sister Mott at 347-J.

Brother Squires of Samaritan Lodge is improving at home.

Brother Lewis Foster's wife has returned home from New Grace hospital.

Sister Irma Shoebridge's mother, Emma Kahl, is in Sessions hospital.

Sister Minnie Meddaugh, P.N.G., was reported not feeling well.

Chairmen to Discuss Proceeds of Carnival

The junior high school Parent-Teacher-Student association carnival held last Saturday evening met with great success. One of the most outstanding attractions was a style show put on by local men modeling women's clothes.

Chairmen of the various events will meet tonight, April 1, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Pieter Schipper on Bradner road. Final returns on the proceeds of the Spring Swing will be tabulated and the carnival will be summarized.

The committee wishes to thank the parents, students and teachers for their cooperation in pushing the association's first fund-raising event to such a successful conclusion.

SCHRADLER PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
The ambulance itself is important, and the equipment the ambulance carries is important—and just as important is the training of the men who operate the ambulance and use the equipment. Schradler ambulance attendants have the necessary training to make them highly qualified attendants, and, of course, the modern Schradler ambulance carries up-to-date emergency equipment.

"Requiem to Have Public Rehearsal"

Although the performance of the "Requiem" by the Plymouth Civic Chorus and Symphony Orchestra has been postponed until next year, a public rehearsal of the work will be given on Monday, April 12. The groups will simulate concert conditions and there will be no charge.

The informal rehearsal will be given at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The public has been invited to attend the rehearsal as a part of their Holy Week observance.

The concert was postponed until next year so that a larger body of singers in the area may participate in the singing of the "Requiem."

OBITUARIES

J. R. McLeod
J. R. McLeod of 563 Maple avenue passed away on Wednesday, March 24, following an illness of several months.

He was born on September 9, 1870 in Canton township, the son of John and Asenath (Artley) McLeod. He was married to Hattie Jane Long October 30, 1895. She preceded him in death on December 14, 1950.

Mr. McLeod was a resident of Plymouth for 55 years. After his retirement as an electrical contractor he was caretaker at the Newburg Lake Station of the Wayne County Road Commission for 10 years, retiring in 1950. He was a life member and past chancellor of the Plymouth Knights of Pythias lodge.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Ireta Janiec of San Lorenzo, California, Sergeant Janette A. McLeod of the W.A.C. in Indianapolis, Indiana, and Mrs. Florence Heeney of Farmington; two grandsons, David and Christopher Janiec; and two granddaughters, Mrs. Joyce Heeney Beglar and Jerene Heeney.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the residence of Mrs. Heeney. The Reverend Carl Schultz of the Evangelical and Reformed church of Farmington officiated. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Fred Gwinup
Funeral services were held Saturday, March 27 at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Fred Gwinup who passed away suddenly, early Thursday morning, March 25 at his home on 8815 Ball street in Plymouth township. He was 55 years old.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lola Gwinup; his daughter, Mrs. Betty Sue Ferguson of Plymouth; his brother, Sam Gwinup and his sister, Mrs. Elsie Chandler, both of Union City, Tennessee; his granddaughter, Brenda Sue Ferguson, other relatives and many friends.

Mr. Gwinup formerly lived in Union City, Tennessee until 13 years ago when he and his family moved to Plymouth. He attended the Church of Christ. He was employed at Allen Industries in Detroit.

The Reverend Almon P. McAllister of Plymouth officiated. Hymns were sung by Nestor Sibbold, accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Foster Brown, Sr., Merville Luker, Lavene Ward, Robert Whitehead, William Lewis and Earl Moore. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

The only thing as rare now as a kid carrying a slate to school is a working girl going to work who doesn't look like she was all dressed up for an afternoon party.

Elementary School Papers Train City's Youngest Journalists

EDITORS OF THE "BIRD CHIRPS" check over last minute details of their latest edition of the elementary school newspaper. The monthly publication is put out by sixth graders at the Bird school as part of their English work. Shown on the left side of the table are Jim Carney, Linda Leet, Bob Vos, and teacher Miss Bock; on the right, Dennis Armstrong, David Rank and Patty Foley.

FRESH OFF THE PRESS are these copies of the "Starkweather Weekly," being checked by some of the sixth grade students. Although called the "Weekly," the Starkweather paper actually comes out about every six weeks. Shown around the table, left to right, are David Timcoe, Bill Brown, Jim Herter, Ron Norgrove, Darlene Fisher, Sharon Neal, David Swain and Tom Raymer.

Some of the youngest newspapermen and "sob-sisters" in Plymouth are those who put out the three elementary school newspapers. These papers, which come out once a month on the average, are prepared almost entirely by the students.

Take the "Bird Chirps" for example. The three-page paper is put out by Miss Bock's sixth grade class, with the whole class participating.

The first edition rolled off the press in November. Two copies of each paper go out to each room, more go to the other elementary schools and some are sent to the high school "Pilgrim Prints" office.

The "Chirps" is run complete with its own editorial management staff. Co-editors of the paper are David Rank and Linda Leet, with Jim Carney and Dennis Armstrong, make-up editors, Bob Vos and Roxanna Smith, feature editors, and Patty Foley and David Mynatt, sports editors.

The students interview teachers and students and bring notes in to class, where they are written as articles. The work is considered part of their study of English.

Articles are taken home by the children and typed on two inch strips, so that the make-up editors will be able to use them to make up the paper. Children that are not good writers help run the duplicator and staple the two and three page papers together, and they are ready for delivery.

No editorials have appeared in the paper as yet, but Miss Bock said that editorial comment often creeps into the stories. In summarizing the newspaper work, she said that it goes far in grooming them for later work on the high school paper, and also gives good writing practice.

Matrimony should never be entered into without a full recognition of its enduring obligations on both sides.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Mrs. David Gates is chairman of the potluck luncheon which will start the meeting. Members are asked to bring a dish to pass and their own place setting.

Committee for the meeting is Mrs. Austin Stecker, Mrs. Theodore Box and Mrs. George Smith. Mrs. Garnet Baker, Mrs. Leo Arnold, Mrs. William Bake, Mrs. Norman Atchinson, Mrs. Charles Beegle, Mrs. J. M. Blossom, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Harry Deyo, and Mrs. Roy Fisher and Mrs. William Hartmann will be the hostesses.

MSC Spring Term To Begin April 15

Spring term classes, including the Evening College, will begin at Michigan State College April 5.

An estimated 13,300 students are expected to enroll and register for classwork March 31 through April 2 in M.S.C.'s regular term. An additional number of students and adults from the Central Michigan area will register the same dates for Evening College work. Both terms will close on June 18.

Regular term enrollment is expected to show a slight but normal decline for the winter term, which has just ended with 13,913 students.

The Evening College will offer 134 credit and 15 non-credit courses, the greatest number since evening classes were first offered in the winter term of 1952.

Every Plant Started In Seedbox Can Be Saved

Whenever seeds are sown under protection, before it is safe to sow them in the garden, seedlings will come up too, crowded to develop properly.

They must be thinned out and the excess plants either discarded or transplanted to other quarters, usually another seed box. This box may be filled with plant bands, so that the equivalent of pot-planted seedlings; or the latter can be set out evenly spaced at least 2 inches apart each way, but without anything to retain the ball of soil about their roots.

Seedlings can be moved at an early stage of their growth with a minimum check on growth. The usual custom is to move them as soon as they have made true leaves. The first leaves called seed leaves, do not provide food for the infant plant; but the true leaves do, and help it recover from the slight shock of moving.

The operation is done in seconds. A pointed stick is thrust into the soil near the seedling, which is lifted between the stick and a finger, moved to the new flat where a hole has already been punched for it. The tiny root is dropped in and soil is pressed against it.

If plant bands are used a seedling is placed in the center of each band, or two seedlings to a band if you wish to play safe. In case both survive, one is eliminated before they crowd.

Plant bands are made of either wood veneer or asphalted paper. They make four sides of a cube, open top and bottom and enclosing six cubic inches or more of soil. They are placed touching each other to fill the flat, then filled with soil. If the wick-watering method of irrigation is used, the bands should rest on a cushion of soil to facilitate even distribution of moisture. Plants grown in these bands can be lifted from the flat and transplanted without their roots being disturbed. This avoids transplanting shock and insures rapid growth of the plant in the garden. It is not necessary to remove the paper bands in transplanting, since they disintegrate under outdoor conditions.

Plant bands are inexpensive and give definite advantages to the plants grown in them. The disturbance of a plant's roots causes a shock, which is increasingly severe as the plant grows larger. Anything that reduces this shock will favor the rapid development of the plant and advance the harvest from it.

Cautions About "Lifetime" Paint for Outside Walls

Homeowners in this area were warned this week by Nat Sibbold, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to examine carefully into the merits of any plastic or mastic paints they may consider applying to the outer walls of their homes before signing a contract.

According to Sibbold, complaints alleging dissatisfaction with mastic paint jobs continue to be among the most serious of all complaints received by the Better Business Bureaus. Since such jobs may cost up to several thousand dollars, the Chamber secretary cautioned local residents who may be solicited to have such work done to follow certain rules designed to minimize the possibility of dissatisfaction.

During the past several years, Sibbold states, homeowners throughout the United States have been solicited to have the side walls of their home and other buildings coated with a plastic or mastic material instead of paint. The principal appeal made for these new coatings is that they are long-lasting. Some vendors have claimed that they will last ten years; others have described them as being "permanent" or lasting a "lifetime." Other selling claims have described these coatings as being fireproof, waterproof, termite proof and mildew proof. Advertising has stated that they will not crack, peel, chip, or blister, fade or stain and will end painting "forever."

Some commercial laboratory data has been produced in support of some of the claims for mastic paints, Sibbold added, but most of these products have not been in use long enough to warrant conclusions as to their long-range performance under varying use conditions. This is not to imply that when properly applied many of these products may not prove entirely satisfactory. The Chamber secretary pointed out that in view of the nature of the claims made, however, it obviously will be some time before proof of such claims in use can be established.

Mastic paint coatings are applied under pressure by applicators. Some of these mastic paint applicators are made by well financed companies; some are seemingly made under makeshift plant facilities. Formulas vary widely too; hence, conclusions applicable to one product do not necessarily have any bearing upon another.

In some cases, Sibbold states, contracts have been between customers and salesmen and this has led to difficulties when the firms hiring the salesmen have disclaimed responsibility for oral misrepresentation.

"Customer's complaints of dissatisfaction have alleged failure of the product to stand up, cracking, peeling, blistering, mildewing and discoloration. Some of these complaints may have been caused by improper application. Others may represent product failure. In some cases the structure itself may have had characteristics which would prevent a successful application.

It is suggested that the homeowner first take time to get the facts about the product; inquire if the applicator or contractor is reliably established; get the names of eight or 10 individuals in the area whose homes were painted with the product several years ago and get their opinions; seek impartial technical information; get competitive bids; and read and understand any contract before signing.

Those who are fully convinced our country is "going to the dogs" don't do a doggone thing about it except whine.

Men of Brawn Now Among Tea Drinkers

With all due apologies to the Boston Tea Party, which marks its 180th anniversary this December, Americans are enjoying a new kind of tea party, if we are to judge by the ever-increasing tea consumption in the United States. The entire country is constantly more aware that people drink tea not only at mealtime, but that they also take tea to improve business efficiency as well as for stamina and endurance.

Today, the majority of Americans drink tea, not because their fore-fathers drank it, but because it helps them get the most out of a fast-moving and busy life. The steady increase in tea drinking is probably due to the fact that both men and women have turned from occasional into regular tea drinkers with the realization that tea, when properly brewed, gives them two for one—i. e. relaxation and pick-up.

What may come as a surprise to many of us is the fact that more and more men are taking tea. This doesn't mean the mild-mannered man who is collecting social security, either. If you were to drop in at the training table in a college mess hall, you'd see big, heavy-set athletes grasping the handles of a cup with big, massive hands as they sluice down several pounds of steak with potatoes and tea. Yes—sir! For these men there's a big game ahead—yards to be gained or base hits to be made.

Chances are these gentlemen of brawn and muscle are not very much concerned with PTA meetings, etc. More likely, someone bearing the title of "Dietician" or "Nutritionist" told the coach, who in turn told the chef, that the "boys" must have tea because it gives smooth stimulation to brain and nerves and puts no strain on the digestive system—while at the same time it has just the right caffeine content to send the boys in there "pitching."

Spinach-Cheese Mound Is Treat

Quick frozen chopped spinach mixed with cheese and eggs - sauteed in butter until golden brown! Such an unusual treat and different in flavor. Serve with grilled tomatoes and cream sauce - not only tasty but pretty!

1 package frozen chopped spinach
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 tablespoons grated cheese
nutmeg
cayenne pepper
Drop solidly frozen chopped spinach into 1/2 cup boiling water with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bring to boil, turning and breaking block with fork to hasten thawing. When water is bubbling rapidly in center as well as around edges of pan, cover and cook one minute, or until done. Drain if necessary and add 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 egg yolks slightly beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt, few grains of cayenne pepper, and grated nutmeg. Cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and stir in two unbeaten egg whites. Drop by rounded tablespoons into frying pan - brown in butter. Serve with grilled tomatoes and cream sauce. Serves 4 to 6.

Among the newer household items are all-nylon fitted sheets and matching pillowcases. Like so many luxury items, these have a very practical side in that they are easy to launder, dry quickly and don't need to be ironed. Nylon sheets weigh less than half as much as cotton sheets, making for compact storage.

Sportswear Scene Has New Lively Animation

Comes the fashion openings of Spring, and it's difficult to make predictions as to what the leading themes in sportswear will be!

It's far, far easier to take out the trusty thesaurus and look for all the most imaginative, exciting synonyms that define the color, newness and fresh stylings of the thrilling Spring-into-Summer sportswear and separates items.

Fashion has taken to its heart the man-tailored shirt - this, in such a wide range of fabrics as from broadcloth to most elegant silks. And, for '54, they are bewitchingly enchanted with clever prints and jewel-trims.

Skirting the separates scene, finds the fancy fullness-to-the-modified full-circle skirt... here - gay, imaginative designs run rampant on glossy cottons, feather-light woolsens, quilted novelties, linens, and lavish silks, and silk-blends.

The not-so-short, not-too-long Bermuda or Jamaici shorts, take honors in the active-sportswear picture. Your smart-for-summer shorts will be right in denims, linens, like-linens, baby cords, poplins or bark weave fabrics.

Again, it will be a "pants" year for milady... short shorts for hot weather and sun fun - the walking short for at-ease wear - the tapered pants for everywhere wear, and newly-styled culottes!

And, while on the subject of pants - "bloomers" bloom on the active sportswear scene in fun-in-the-sun fashions - particularly in styles that take to the water, too.

All kinds of knits come into eminence for '54 - the little sweater top, often in cashmere, or in man-made fibers, and elegantly-decorated with ribbon, "Jewels" and embroidery - is established from noon 'til after-five in the smartest places, and over the smartest fashions!

And again the SHIRT! Right on the very "tails" of the man-tailored shirt, comes the newly-important elongated shirt, and the shirt dress. Best described as a tailored shirt with below-the-knee shirt tails, these smart newcomers step into the spotlight in an exciting assortment of fabrics and colors - to cinch in gaily at the waist for your own figure definition.

Dyed-to-match separates are important in the new-season settings! The most gently-fashioned sweaters again will team in smooth harmony with linens, zephyr light woolsens, and wool blends, and host of other smart fabrics.

Cotton blouses become real tricksters - many can be worn in or out - some can be worn front or back - and still others have necklines that plunge, low or rise high, with a simple button or closing trick!

The squaw dress, heretofore a rather localized western novelty - becomes very much a part of the casual-to-glamour scene.

Stuff Pineapple Into Veal Birds

Veal and pineapple team for this serving. Strips of veal round steak are topped with a pineapple-bread crumb stuffing, then rolled and fastened. They may be slowly braised either on top of your range or in a slow oven (300° F.) for tender and flavorful results.

Pineapple Stuffed Veal Birds
2 veal round steaks, cut 1/2-inch thick
1/2 cup crushed pineapple
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sage
2 cups soft bread crumbs
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt
Pepper
1/4 cup water

Remove bone from steaks and cut into three equal pieces. Drain the crushed pineapple, thoroughly. Add the pineapple, melted butter or margarine, salt and sage to the bread crumbs. Mix well. Place a spoonful of the pineapple stuffing on each piece of veal, roll and fasten with wooden picks. Brown the rolls slowly in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and simmer for 45 minutes or until tender. 6 servings.

Keep safe in your kitchen! When it is necessary to reach seldom-used articles stored on top shelves, a firm stepladder-stool combination is much safer to stand on than a box or chair.

Candles coated with soapsuds are said to burn without smoking or dripping. Don't coat the wicks, of course, and let the candles dry in candle-holders before lighting.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

Remodeling Kitchen Can Be Spring Job To Add Beauty, Make Work Easier

Many a modern man takes an active interest in the kitchen and what goes on there, but none to the extent of the man who has modernized the family cooking center all by himself.

Kitchen remodeling is definitely a man's job, and he can make it simple or complex, depending on his skill or lack of skill with tools. One man we know bought a power table saw just to build cabinets for his kitchen. Starting from scratch, he built them from the floor up, and made the saw pay for itself.

New cabinets give a drab, old kitchen a substantial lift, but it isn't necessary to build them, thanks to manufacturers who prefabricate metal or wooden units. The cabinets are lightweight, easy to install and versatile. The combinations and arrangements you can make of them are numberless.

Extensive kitchen streamlining, complete to tiled walls and built-in ovens, cannot be done on a shoestring, but it's actually amazing what changes can be wrought with a coat of paint, soft indirect lighting and new modern base and wall cabinets.

All makes of the latter are of nearly equal depth and height and are available in widths to fit almost any space. Some come knocked down and are assembled on the job. Wall cabinets are simply hung on brackets fastened to wall studs and are then secured to the wall. Base and sink cabinets are first leveled, then secured in place according to manufacturer's directions.

In modernizing an old-style kitchen, it is usually best to leave the plumbing where it is, if the pipes are in sound condition. A practical arrangement can be worked out in most cases, regardless of the sink's location.

It is generally agreed that the best arrangement of kitchen units calls for the sink to be placed between the stove and refrigerator, all close together to eliminate unnecessary steps. Of course this specification cannot always be met, but should be borne in mind while planning the new layout.

Lighting comes next in importance and is of course planned to do away with eyestrain. The homemaker who must work in her own shadow is handicapped. Never place a light source so that shadows are thrown over important work areas.

Soft, general indirect lighting near ceiling level is excellent. Local fluorescent lighting beneath wall cabinets is ideal counter-top illumination. Fluorescent ceiling fixtures also furnish good over-all lighting and are not unbecoming.

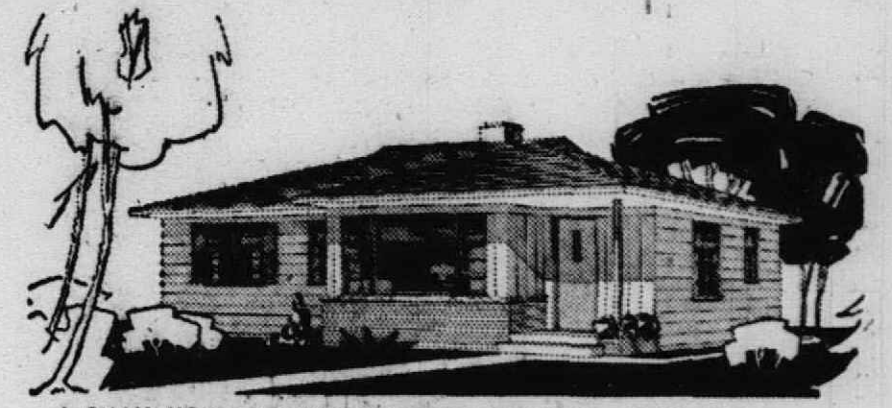

To eliminate a good part of the annoying clatter of pots, pans and dishes, ceilings of acoustical tile comes highly recommended. The tile can be installed by a handy home owner, and can be painted with brush or roller coater if care is taken not to clog the tiny holes in some makes of tiles.

Another form of comfort insurance is adequate ventilation. And perhaps the most satisfactory way to ventilate the kitchen is to install an exhaust fan in the ceiling over the stove, or on an outside wall near the stove. The fan whisks away cooking odors and grease-laden air.

This modern kitchen takes advantage of every opportunity for storage space, making kitchen work as convenient as possible. Ponderosa pine cabinets in stock sizes fit all available wall area. Upper cabinets include units that fit above the range and the refrigerator. Cabinets are gray with rose-surfaced counters to match the floor.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-270

DESIGN C-270. This pleasing design offers a full basement, three comfortable bedrooms, combination living-dining room and kitchen dinette. Privacy is assured by the hall leading to all rooms including the kitchen. Ample light and cross ventilation are provided in the L-shaped living-dining room as well as the kitchen.

Coat closets are located in the front vestibule and rear entry, wardrobes in the bedrooms, linen cabinet and closet in the hall. Exterior finish includes wide siding, asphalt shingles, covered front entrance, a touch of face brick and vertical redwood siding in front and entrance. Floor area is 1123 square feet with 21,278 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN C-270, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Glass Bathroom Walls Now Possible At Modest Price

In exactly 22 easy steps you can redecorate your bathroom walls with luxurious Carrara structural glass at a cost consistent with modest homes and incomes, if you do the work yourself.

The secret is to install the glass panels only where Carrara's durability, resistance to steam and water and easily cared-for surface will serve best—in the tub enclosure, washbasin splash panel and along the base of the wall.

Then the rest of the walls and ceiling can be painted or wallpapered.

The glass manufacturer who suggested this approach points out that the handy fellow of the house doesn't have to worry about establishing levels, aligning walls or cutting and fitting at the job. Whether or not the tub is exactly level, the tub panels merely rest on the tub's edge. Base follows the floor with no trimming or leveling.

All the cuttings of panels to fit the tub enclosure and holes in the glass where plumbing comes through the wall will be done by the shop that takes the order. Then the glass is merely cemented to the wall.

This type of installation takes about 63 square feet of Carrara glass in the average bathroom. The glass wall around a five-foot tub (most common size) can be made up of six panels—two back panels, 59 1/4 inches wide by 24 inches high, and four end panels, 28 3/4 inches wide by 24 inches high. Base panels are 14 inches of colors and black and white.

The glass is made in a variety of colors and black and white. For installing it you'll need mastic and pointing compound, trowel or mastic comb, putty knife and level.

Three things are necessary before the glass can be ordered. Measure the back wall along the tub length; measure the various lengths of base, make cardboard patterns of the locations of plumbing outlets. The patterns are turned over to the dealer for cutting.

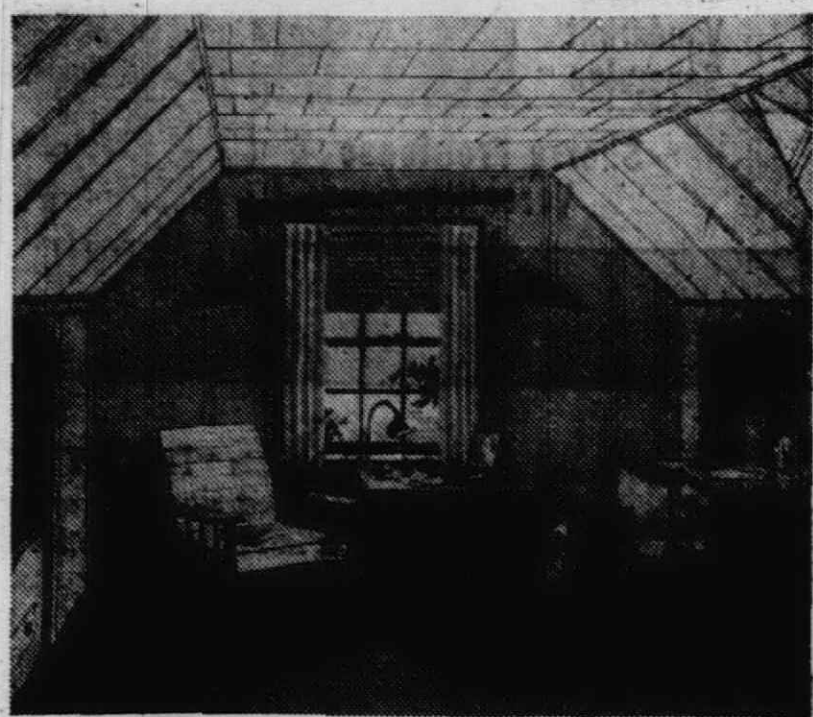

Gypsum wallboard walls will support Carrara glass if securely nailed at four-inch intervals. Gypsum board, 3/8-inch thick, should be fastened to studs with four-penny, cement-coated nails.

Carrara glass, when ready for installation, must be coated on the back with mastic, and the trowel or mastic comb is used to make wavy serrations in the mastic to allow for expansion when pressure is applied in setting.

For waterproof seal along back rim of tub, a thick coating of mastic is applied with putty knife. The bottom back glass panel is placed on cardboard tabs pressed into mastic on the rim. Pressure is applied for proper adhesion to the wall. All other bottom panels are set in this manner.

Upper panels are handled in the same way except that they are butted with pointing compound on edges that meet another surface.

These Events Were News

50 Years Ago

April 8, 1904
 The uncommon light at the church last Sunday was because of the presence of two new brides and grooms, Miss Emma Bassett who was married to Mr. Cochran, of Eaton Rapids, and Arthur Bennett, who was married to Miss Sherwood of Perrinville, March 31.
 George Tanger has purchased a brand new threshing outfit. He is at present busy preparing a cage for his canary.
 About 30 friends of Celest Merrell gave her a surprise party last Friday night the occasion being her birthday. Finch was the entertainment for the evening and maple syrup was served.
 Fred Gray, formerly of The Mail, was elected city clerk of Lansing last Monday by a nice majority.
 Flags are at half mast, and the schools will be closed this afternoon, on account of the death and funeral of C. A. Frisbee.

While waiting for a street car to pass him on Fort street, near the Union Depot, in Detroit, Tuesday, George Starkweather was struck by the car and thrown violently to the pavement. He was picked up and helped into the depot and placed on board the 1:30 train for Plymouth. Arriving here friends carried him to his home and Dr. Adams was summoned, who examined him carefully and found no bones were broken.
 Cass Benton was re-elected Supervisor of Northville township, together with the entire Republican ticket except highway commissioner which went to B. A. Northrup.
 Mrs. George Springer was given a birthday surprise party last Friday evening by the German Ladies Aid society, of which she is a member.
 Frank Coon, formerly with the Plymouth Creamery company, has accepted a position with a creamery at Hemlock, Michigan and expects to move his family there soon.

 A meeting of the baseball players and fans held last Saturday evening was well attended and they elected the following officers: president, Jesse Hake; secretary-treasurer, John Quartel; manager, Earl Gray and captain Leonard Millross.

An automobile accident occurred at the forks of the Plymouth and Ann Arbor roads about 2 p.m. Sunday morning, when an automobile driven by William Parks, of Detroit, and accompanied by Raymond Koch, of the same city, skidded and went into the ditch. Parks sustained a bruised leg, while Koch suffered a severe injury to his head. Dr. H. B. Brisbois attended to their injuries.
 John L. Crandell of this place, has opened law offices at suite 806-16 Riker building in Pontiac.
 The heavy wind of last Monday blew out three large plate glass windows in the Sutherland Greenhouses on Ann Arbor road.
 Alfred Strasen returned home last Friday after spending several months at Miami, Florida, playing with the Charles Fisher orchestra while there.
 Twenty-five friends from Detroit and Plymouth surprised Mrs. Peter A. Miller, of East Ann Arbor trail, with a birthday and welcome home party on Tuesday, April 2. Cards and bunco were played after a delicious luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Miller arrived home on Thursday after a four month's sojourn in Florida.
 Miss Alice Schoch, who has been spending a few weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Schoch on Blunk avenue, has gone to her home in Dakota, Illinois.
 Several of the local Rotarians went over to Manchester, Tues-

Motorist Fined
 A fine of $100 and the suspension of his driver's license for a year was the sentence given Linwood W. Harrison, 22, of 42444 Hamill, in a hearing before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo.
 Harrison was arrested by Plymouth police at 3:10 a.m. on March 25 and charged with driving while intoxicated.

March 31, 1944
 Charles Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Stewart of Holbrook avenue, won first place in the state indoor model airplane stunt contest held at the Yost field house in Ann Arbor last Sunday. Young Stewart had three entries in the speed contest, and two in the stunt class.

Saturday, April 1, is going to be a very happy birthday for the Elmer Austin taxi service—for on that day Plymouth's top notch cab service will be just two years old.
 W. C. Smith, who now and then plays an excellent part of a blackface comedian, appeared with the Olde Tyme Minstrels under the direction of Edward Wilkie at the Redford high school last Friday evening in a benefit for the Red Cross.

Robert Hadley, with the United States Merchant Marine has just completed his second trip around the world, and on his second voyage had the pleasure of meeting his sister, Ruth Hadley, who is doing Red Cross work in Australia. Bob writes that his sister is thoroughly enjoying her work in that distant country, and like all others who are stationed there, likes that part of the country very well.

Sergeant Francis J. Pott, who was returned from somewhere overseas for a major operation, is now at Baer field, Fort Wayne, Indiana, where he will be stationed for a while before going back overseas. In his brief note, he states that he was brought back from overseas and sent to Jefferson barracks, near St. Louis. "Upon completion of operation and rest period, I will again be fit for action," he writes.
 Members of the board of advisors for the Girl Reserves who were present at the meeting March 20 were Mrs. Helen Stevens, Mrs. Margaret Ross, Mrs. Maxine Willoughby, Miss Edna Allen, Miss Gertrude Fiegel, Mrs. Dora Hondrop, Mrs. Elsie Arscott, Mrs. Elizabeth Mader, Mrs. Forsyth, Mrs. Geraldine Walsh and Mrs. Yvonne Elzerman. Mrs. Laura Lickfeldt and Miss Sarah Lickly, advisers, and the officers of the club were also present.

Shrubs Cut Street Noises Down by Fifty Per Cent

Landscaping with trees and shrubs along streets and highways absorbs considerable traffic and other noises, in addition to relieving the home owner from a constant view of whizzing automobiles, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

"The automobile is so vastly important from the viewpoint of our national economy as well as family pleasure that traffic cannot be reduced," says the Association, "so the only logical solution to the problem is the widespread use of plant 'buffers' to abate the noise. Countless abutting home properties can be made far more desirable for living and their value greatly increased by hedges and trees."

The Association advises, if space permits, the planting of a double row of coniferous evergreen trees on the street or highway side of the property should the noise be continuous all year. If the noise should be troublesome only in the summer months, a planting of deciduous trees, which shed their leaves may be sufficient. In cases where the noise is only moderate or where ground space is at a premium, a single row of columnar type evergreens or a high hedge will serve the purpose. The noise is reduced in direct proportion to the depth of the planting and the denseness of the foliage.

For this reason, any dense growing evergreen is ideal, such as hemlocks, firs, yews, spruces, arborvitae and junipers. With a sprinkling of flowering trees among them the strip can be beautiful. Holly trees, in climates where they may be grown are evergreen, dense and ornamental. Hedge materials for the purpose are plentiful and varied. It is always preferable to consult your local nurseryman with respect to your particular soil and climatic conditions. One condition should be met conclusively, however: you want plant material that will be hardy in your area under all conditions of cold, wet, heat, or drought.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Down on the Gulf Coast of Texas, 24 bandy-legged whooping cranes are restlessly watching northern skies for the time when spring will permit their annual flight to north-western Canada.

The little cluster of big birds—biggest on the continent—is all that remains of the colorful North American species, once counted in the thousands. A report of one fall flight of the birds, made in 1811 from Missouri, noted a "vast migration" of the birds going south, numbering "many thousands."

In recent years, the species has hovered on the edge of extinction, largely because of destruction by unthinking hunters, but American and Canadian conservationists have been working hard to protect the remainder in hopes of a comeback.

A glimmer of hope sparked the work last fall when it was noted after the 1953 nesting season that the total population had increased from 21 to 24 birds.

Now, with spring soon due, game workers are preparing to convoy the birds as best they can on the long trip from the Gulf to the northern nesting grounds. All possible protection measures are taken and game workers along the route warn gun-toters not to molest the birds.

The stately white birds have reddish crowns, black legs and yellow bills. The mature adult stands about four feet tall.

Roy George Buzzard, veteran Kent county conservation officer who died late last week, started his game protection work for Michigan in 1919, two years before the conservation department was formed.

At that time, he worked as a "game warden" under the old Public Domain Commission, disbanded as an agency when all state conservation units gathered in 1921 to form the present department.

Buzzard was 66 years old at time of death and lived most of his life in Kent City, north of Grand Rapids.

The need for "very readable dope on pheasants" has prompted publication of a 64-page illustrated booklet outlining "The Life and Times of Michigan Pheasants," conservation workers report.

The booklet will be available for free public distribution about the end of March.

Twenty-four pheasant topics are presented in the brief popularized booklet. Pheasant history, the pheasant's family tree and the whys and wherefores of pheasant problems in Michigan are discussed.

The work was written by Ralph A. MacMullan, head of Houghton Lake wildlife experiment station and formerly in charge of Michigan pheasant work. Nearly 50 cartoon drawings by Oscar Warbach, former department worker now in federal government work, illustrate the textual material.

Pittman-Robertson federal conservation funds are being used to foot most of the bill for the work.

The first report of Hungarian partridge released near Ruyard in the eastern upper peninsula was made this week by a 10-year-old 4-H Bird Club member, conservation workers say.

Ronald Folkersma wrote to say that nine of the birds had been making occasional trips to the Folkersma's farm northeast of Ruyard to gather stray kernels of grain spilled near the farm buildings last fall.

These birds, at least, have apparently solved the problem of food, but wildlife always has to face many other problems as well.

Ronald's letter noted that "Sunday morning when the nine birds flew up, one of them hit the electric wire and since then we have noticed only eight."

Forty-nine of the birds were released in the eastern portion of the peninsula in mid-February.

Swedish Gym Class Extended 4 Weeks

The class in Swedish gymnastics, which is given through the Adult Education department, will be extended for four weeks beyond its scheduled eight weeks, instructor Mrs. J. R. Witwer announced this week. During the additional period new persons will be allowed to enroll.

Dr. Wilma Donahue, chairman of the Division of Gerontology of the Institute of Human Adjustment at the University of Michigan, will be a guest at the last meeting of the current session on Thursday, April 1.

The extra session will begin on Thursday, April 8, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Allen school. Registration can be made by calling Mrs. Witwer or Herbert Woolweaver, Adult Education director, or by attending the class meeting itself.

Daisy Women to Make Recipes Into Hospital Bed

The women at the Daisy Manufacturing company are trying to raise money to endow a bed for St. Mary's hospital—and all with recipes. What they intend to do is compile their grandmothers' old recipes into book form, together with short histories of the recipes, and sell the volumes.

Alverta Wenger, first aid nurse at Daisy, is back of the plan. She said the book would be entitled "Recipes Our Grandmothers Gave Us."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Two-Crust Lemon Pie

A two-crust "Slice O'Lemon Pie"—that's the favorite recipe of Mrs. Robert VanMeter of 13700 Ridgewood drive. Mrs. VanMeter said that she has had many requests for the recipe whenever she serves the pie at a social gathering.

Slice O'Lemon Pie
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup shortening
6-7 tablespoons cold water

Sift flour and salt together and cut in shortening until particles are the size of peas. Sprinkle the cold water over the mixture, tossing lightly with a fork until the dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into two balls and roll out half the pastry to fit an eight inch pie pan.

Lemon Filling
1/4 cups sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup soft butter
3 well beaten eggs (less 1 teaspoon egg white)
1 teaspoon lemon rind
1 medium lemon
1/2 cup water

Combine sugar flour and salt and blend in butter, mixing thoroughly with a spoon. Add the 3 well beaten eggs, reserving 1 teaspoon egg white for the top crust. Blend well until smooth. Grate lemon rind from medium lemon and then peel the lemon. Cut peeled lemon into paper thin slices until you have about 1/3 cup. Add 1/2 cup water lemon rind and lemon slices to sugar mixture and blend well. Place filling in the lined pie pan and roll out remaining pastry. Cut slits and place over the filling, fluting the edge. Brush top crust with teaspoon of egg white and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, for 30 to 35 minutes.

New Books at Dunning Library

Another shipment of excellent adult books arrived at the Dunning library last week, promising interesting and informative reading for local residents.

These include "The Man from the Turkish Slave" by Victor Canning, "Songbirds in Your Garden" by John K. Terres, Naida Gilmore Hayes' "Landscape Flower Arrangements", "The Red Bishop" by Howard Mason, "Why We Say" by Robert L. Morgan and "How to Talk with People" by Irving J. Lee. "Spare Time Article Writing for Money" by William J. Lederer, "Your Outboard Cruiser" by David Klein, "1954 Information Please Almanac" Donald Demarest's "Fabulous Ancestor," "The Atomic Submarine and Admiral Rickover," by Clay Blair, Jr., and "The Challenge of American Foreign Policy" by John J. McCloy.

"The Pictorial Baseball Instructor" by Lamont Buchanan, "Be Still and Know" by Georgia Harkness, Frederick Pough's "A Field Guide to Rocks and Minerals," "Michigan Manual, 1953-54" and "Mr. Jefferson's Disciple: A Life of Justice Woodward" by Frank B. Woodford.

"Rocket Propulsion" by Eric Burgess, "Historical Atlas of the United States" by Clifford Lord, "The Story of Squaw Valley" by Tyler Micalieu and Betty Cornell's "Teen-Age Knitting Book."

A large branch fell from the tree in the front yard of two-year-old Don.

"Whazzat?" said he, pointing to the twigs on the limb.

"Why, it's the tree's whiskers," announced his sister, with all the wisdom of her five years.

County Health Director to Speak At Guild Meeting

Dr. Howard P. Cadwell, new director of the Wayne County Health Department, and Miss Amalia Krause, director of nursing in the County Health Department, will be principal speakers at the monthly meeting of the Livonia Health Guild. The meeting and luncheon will be held on Thursday, April 8, at 12:30 p.m. at Madonna college.

Dr. Cadwell will address the group on "Wayne County Health Services." He was recently named director of the Health Department serving 500,000 persons, including those from Plymouth.

He received his degree in medicine from Buffalo university and his Master's degree in public health from Columbia university. Dr. Cadwell served two years in Japan in public health work for the army, and worked with the New York State and Arlington County, Virginia Health Departments.

A question and answer forum will follow the meeting as well as a tour of the college.

Attendance at the meeting is by ticket only. These may be secured by calling Mrs. Blaharski at Plymouth 579, or Mrs. Lothman at Livonia 6623.

Local Planners To Attend Area Conference

Several members of the Plymouth planning commission will be among those attending a conference of the Michigan Society of Planning Officials at the University of Michigan this Friday and Saturday.

Commission Chairman Sidney Strong said that he and several members plan to attend some of the two-day session which is expected to attract 100 planners from this area. It is sponsored by the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design, the Ann Arbor Planning commission and the Washtenaw county planning commissioner.

Professor Arthur W. Bromage of the U. of M. political science department will preside over a forum on "What Should the City Council or Township Board Expect from its Planning Commission?" at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Some of the other topics discussed will be "Relation of Local Planning to State Agencies" and "The Relation Between Planning and Municipal and County Governing Bodies."

The main speaker will be Henry Sullivan of Detroit, vice-president of the Detroit Edison company and vice-president of the American Society of Planning Officials. He will talk on "Industry Looks at Planning."

On the Plymouth planning commission with Mr. Strong are Lee Gaeke, Clifford Manwaring, Carroll Porter, Eber J. Readman, Austin Pino, Walter Rensel, Ezra Rountour and Dorothy Swope.

Madonna Hosts High Schoolers

High school students from approximately 15 schools in Detroit and neighboring cities were represented at Madonna's college day, March 30.

Discussions centered around business, languages, teaching, art, home economics, music, journalism, science and sociology. Demonstrations, visual aids and exhibits helped emphasize the advantages of each field.

The visitors toured the college dormitory and social hall. They were also entertained by the Madonna College choral group, who sang: Bless This House, The Halls of Ivy and Romany Life. Several quartets also rendered musical numbers.

An open house will be held Sunday, April 4 for high school senior girls who could not attend last Tuesday.

English Class Sees Play "Taming of the Shrew"

The production "The Taming of the Shrew" was the attraction which took 21 senior English students to Ann Arbor last Friday, March 26.

The play, which was held in the Lydia Mendelssohn theatre, is the work of William Shakespeare, 16th Century English writer whose life and works Miss Elizabeth McDonald's English students have just recently finished studying in their literature classes.

The students left the high school building in buses at 1:30 and returned about 6 p.m.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

CANCERS OF THE SKIN

You have all seen people with patches of various sizes over their faces. You found out later that they were suffering from skin cancers from which some of them eventually died.

Most of these people at first had neglected sores or rough places on their skin. Instead of consulting trained, intelligent physicians they had gone to quacks, who had likely applied irritating salves or ointments to the lesions, and thus set them on the road to an eating cancer.

At first, such conditions are precancerous and, in the right hands, could be cured with comparative ease. If you have a mole on your person that becomes easily irritated, or a small growth, or a sore spot of any kind that does not heal, go at once to a physician. Remember that procrastination could cost you a lingering death.

Research workers have produced skin cancers on mice by applying irritant substances such as tar, acrid oil, tobacco, and other substances.

Farmers and sailors whose skins are constantly exposed to the sunlight are prone to suffer from skin cancers. The actinic rays of the sun can prove very detrimental to the skins of white people, especially blondes. This is because they lack the protective pigment in their skin, which is supplied so abundantly to the African race.

It is very stupid and even dangerous to expose the bodies of infants and tender young children to prolonged and direct sunlight. Sunshine in moderation is conducive to health, but the sun-tan fad, carried to extremes can prove very painful and even dangerous when improperly administered.

Watch scars, burns, and sores which do not heal. They are all potential cancers.

There are numerous cancers among clap-pipe smokers, due to the heat of the stem and the irritating properties of nicotine. Cancer of the throat is not uncommon among smokers. Beware of advertisements for cancer cures. Many a poor sufferer has thrown his money away and lost his life by patronizing them at a time when there was still enough time for a cure.

Do not neglect injuries or burns to the skin no matter how trivial. A neglected cigarette burn, especially to the lip, has been known to cause cancer.

Name Five to Attend Mock UN Assembly

Five PHS students, Joyce Cook, Vern Diedrick, Thalia Bairs, Karen Rossow and Jim Isbister were those chosen to represent Thailand in the Mock United Nations Assembly to be held April 2 and 3 at Hillsdale college.

The assembly will be divided into separate councils: economic, social, trusteeship and security, where they will discuss problems of their countries.

The group, under the direction of Miss Gertrude Fiegel, social studies instructor, will spend the weekend at the college dormitories.

The local trip is being sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Miss Butts to Attend Convention Of Deans-Guidance Counselors

Miss Ruth Butts, guidance counselor at Plymouth high, will attend the National Convention of the National Association of Deans of Women and Guidance Counselors in Washington D. C. on April 2-5.

A keynote address by Lucile Allen Dean of Pennsylvania College for women and President of the N.A.D.W. will open the convention on April 2.

At 7:30 are group discussions and Miss Butts plans to attend the one on "Status, Role, and Responsibilities of the High School Counselor." The chairman of this group is Florence Myers, Administration Assistant, and Dean of George Washington high school, New York City. Members of this group are: Ellen Connell, Co-ordinator of Guidance Service, Erie School district, Erie Pennsylvania; Marian Smith, Head-mistress of Buffalo Academy for girls, Buffalo, New York; and Mary Patton, Counselor of Great Neck high school,

Great Neck, L. I. New York. Other discussions offered are: Early Marriages, Foreign Students, Staff Relations, The Improvement of Human Relations, and Varieties of Patterns in Staffing Residence Halls.

At 10:45 on Saturday a General Session, titled "Our professional Relations" has as speakers Samuel M. Brownell, U.S. Commissioner of Education; Arthur Adams, President of the American Council on Education; and Albert Jacobs, Chairman A.C.E. Commission on Student Personnel.

At 2:45 is a speech on "The Educated Woman," by Kate Hevner Mueller, Associate professor of Education, Indiana university, followed by a banquet, with a address by Dorothy Fosdick, Columbia university.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday there are more group discussions. Miss Butts plans to attend the one on "Drop Outs in High School."

A luncheon with speaker Edward K. Graham, Chancellor of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and President of the Association for Higher Education, N.E.A., will close the convention on Monday.

The silent fisherman is the most successful. Girls should remember this when angling for husbands.

Seniors Begin Extensive Plans Of Annual Prom

Ann Summer and Mike Reh, co-chairmen of the Senior Prom, stated "We hope it will be the best ever," when describing the plans for the prom to be held from 8:30 to midnight on May 1.

Although the prom is a month away the seniors are busy working on it. Co-chairmen for the decoration committee are Janice Kowalcik and Dick Garchow, who are busily planning the modern atmosphere. The committee plans to feature mobiles in their decorations.

Co-chairmen of the orchestra committee is Vern Diedrick, and Kay Ingram, who have secured Jim Servis's orchestra for the occasion. Not yet secured is the intermission entertainment.

The co-chairmen of the ticket committee, Howard Oldford and Margaret Burr, have made their choice for the prom tickets, but have not released it yet.

Formal invitations to be sent to the faculty, chaperones, and out-of-towners have been selected by the invitation committee and the co-chairmen, Janet Mulholland and Brian Kidston.

Student Clubs Plan Annual Lenten Service

Dick Root and Ella Plant are co-chairmen of the Annual Hi-Y-Y-Teen Lenten Service which will be held Thursday, April 8, in Room 25 from 11:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Other members of the committee are Sally Ford and Dean Palmer.

The Reverend Henry Walsh will be the speaker for the service and a choir composed of Hi-Y and Y-Teen members is being organized for the Benediction. The organist will be Nancy West.

The programs and program covers are being planned by the committee and will be passed out at the door when students enter the service.

School Library Receives Addition Of 10 New Books for Circulation

The 1954 World Almanac will lead the list of books in the library available to students. Other books are "Men Under the Sea" by Commander Edward Ellsberg, who is also author of "On the Bottom" and "Hell On Ice." This book is non-fiction about salvaging goods from a ship on the bottom of the sea. The mystery and suspense of the "Stolen Sphere," written by John Keir Cross, which is fiction tells of the stealing of an inter-planetary ship. "The Fireside Book of Flying Stories" is a collection of short stories. "A complete Guide to Good Writing" is written by Dunbar, Marcett, and McCloskey. Babette Deutsch won the Julia Ellsworth Ford Foundation Award with his biography of "Walt Whitman, Builder of America." Nevil Shute, who wrote "The Legacy" contributed with "Round the Bend" which is about Tom Cutter, who bought an old plane and started a transport company over the Persian Gulf.

"How to Lie with Statistics," written by Darrell Huff has 86 illustrations and "it has more sound information and laughs per page than any other book of this title." "People of the Deer" tells the story of the Eskimos north west of the Hudson Bay and their struggle for existence after they got used to living like the white man. This book was written by Farley Mowat. "Famous First Facts" is a book that has "a record of first happenings, discoveries, and inventions in the United States" Joseph Nathan Kane is the author.

The school library also receives a subscription of the weekly edition of the Manchester Guardian Weekly which is sent airmail over seas from Manchester, England.

Y-Teens to Observe Centennial With Big Birthday Celebration

"This is the first time anything of this type has been attempted and we are looking forward to a successful birthday observance. These were the words of Pat Lidgard, general chairman of the YMCA centennial celebration to be observed by the local Y-Teens on May 5.

The program will feature a speaker and a skit published by the YWCA for the purpose of presentation by Y-Teen groups in recognition of the anniversary. A worship service will also be included in the program to which ex-presidents of Y-Teens are being invited.

To record the event, a photographer will be on hand to snap candid shots of the past presidents, the cutting of the cake and others.

The club was originally set up in Plymouth high school in 1924 and the first president was Juanita Coe, the present Mrs. Don Sutherland.

Decoration for the affair will be done in blue and white, the club's colors and a cake is being ordered on which one hundred candles will glow.

Individual committee chairmen are Kathy Bernash, decoration; Sally Ford, correspondence; Margaret Burr, tickets; Glenna Merilat and Thalia Bairs, publicity; Jean Rowe, food; Kay Ingram, program; Vinca Battle, tickets; and Laura Hatch, properties.

The program is one of many being held in a nation-wide celebration of the YWCA anniversary.

SAVE THE CHILDREN Bundle Week which took place last week in the Plymouth schools was termed a major success by school officials. Children, such as shown above at Allen Elementary school, came to classes during the week carrying armloads of used clothing which will go to needy children of Europe, the Middle East, Korea and isolated areas of the United States. Shown in the picture are Alan Prince, Carol Sue Urban, Mary Lou Argo, Esther Loskowske, Judith King, Barbara Joyce Schantz, Carl Russell Miller and Alfred Stephen Wietcha.

Decathlon Swimming Tests Attract 50 Contestants

More than 25 boys and girls competed in the second annual swimming decathlon last week at the high school pool. Champions were crowned for each in three divisions: senior for students in the 11th and 12th grades; intermediate for those in the 9th and 10th grades; and junior for those in the 7th and 8th grades. In the senior division, Shirley Carter was tops among the girls and David Beagle won out in the boys' section. Judy Laury was the top girl swimmer in the intermediate section with Bill Braendel winning the boys' crown. In the junior division, Ann Hulsing won the girls' and Don Carney the boys' title. Other winners for the girls in the senior division were: Norma Leslie, second; Patricia Rensel, third; Ardith Bassett, fourth; and Carol Wilkinson, fifth. For the boys in the same division Charles McKenna was second; Gary Wright, third; Mike Conrad, fourth; and Jerry Trahan, fifth. Ellen Cowgill placed second in the intermediate section for girls with George Anne Bauer third; Susan Daily, fourth; and Roberta Lidgard, fifth. Dick Showers was second in the boys division with Dennis Baker third; Mike Wallace, fourth and Jerry King fifth. In the junior division Mariann Palmer was second; Virginia Shirey, third; Marilyn Wilkinson, fourth; and Mariana Jensen, fifth. John Walker was second for the boys with Bob Isbister, third; Preston Dyer, fourth and Bruce Woods fifth.

Events included the 50 yard free style, backstroke, breast stroke and medley; also, an underwater for distance swim. The dog paddle took the place of the medley in the junior division. The diving competition was eliminated this year. This annual meet is sponsored by the Plymouth Recreation Department and handled by the Dolphin Club at the high school with John McFall as advisor. Medals were awarded the first three places with ribbons going to the last two places.

SPORTS

Spring Sports Program Gets Underway Next Week

Members of the high school spring sports teams are loosening up in practice preparing for the coming variety of sports events. Practice has been confined to the large gymnasium so far, but coaches hope to get all teams outside this week.

Track Coach Keith Baughman had his boys out for a few days last week. They began inside about three weeks ago for the season begins earlier than the others. The first track meet is scheduled for next Thursday on the local cinder track. All meets will be held at Plymouth this year because of the splendid facilities available here.

Coach Baughman has seven lettermen from last year's squad working out. This group is headed by Captain Jerry Kelly, star dash man who scored a fourth in the state Class A meet last year in the 100 yard dash, and also a fifth in the 220 yard dash. Other lettermen back are Jerry Swain, Tom Davis, Lee Juve, Bob Danel, Lynn Becker and Russell Mecklenberg.

The Rock track team is the defending 6-B league track champions and should have another good squad this year.

Co-captains Fred Benson and Tyler Caplin are the only returning lettermen on Coach John Sandmann's golf squad.

Coach John McFall has six returning veterans for his tennis squad this year. They are Jim Zukosky, Dick Root, Brian Kidston, Bob Bateman, Ed Rossow and Jerry Steele.

The Rock baseball team, last year's 6-B league champs despite losing four games, began workouts in the gymnasium two weeks ago, and hope to get outside this week. Coach Gorgeze has only four returning letterwinners from that star aggregation—Captain Gary Gothard, Tom Rutherford, Dick Day and Bob Middleton. Coach Gorgeze will have to come up with a couple hurlers, some capable infielders and outfielders if he hopes to cop another championship this season.

Charles Ketterer will coach a baseball team made up primarily of freshmen and sophomores for his reserve games. The track schedule begins next Thursday, but the other sports do not start until after the middle of the month.

Tait's Lose Initial Tilt In Tourney

The final basketball game on the local scene was played last week when the Tait's Cleaner five lost out in the first round of the Inter-city tournament at Highland Park to a two-man Hamtramck outfit 55 to 47. The Hamtramck team went ahead 17 to 7 in the first quarter and maintained that lead until the end. The half ended 33 to 23 in favor of the winners.

Two men scored all but three foul tosses for the winners when Lee Pranger counted 31 points and Pete Lango 21 to account for 52 of the winners 55 point total. Each team made 22 baskets, but the winners counted 11 foul shots in 48 tries while Tait's made 3 of 9 chances good.

"Mac" Pierce, playing his last game before entering the service, really got hot and counted 25 points for the losers. This was his best performance for the season. Bill Graham had 10, David Pottenger 6, Bud Shafer 3, DeWayne Becker 2 and Bob Houghton 1 point.

This game put the "cap" on basketball on the local level until next winter.

Gets Swimming Letter at Academy

Cadet Edwin Kimbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kimbrough, 607 S. Main St., has been awarded a high school swimming letter at Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Missouri. Capt. John Readecker, athletic director, announced today.

The Wentworth athletic council approved the awards for winter sports participants today after studying recommendations made by the coaching staff.

Presentation of the letter to Edwin will be made at a special convocation of the cadet corps in the very near future.

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

HENRICH EXPECTS YANKEE PLUMAGE TO HELP BYRD SING

"I don't know this Harry Byrd personally," mused Tommy Henrich, who gained fame as the Yanks' Old Reliable outfielder, "but I believe he's a cinch to become a better player when he puts on that Yankee uniform this year."

Few players of our generation were better analysts of the science of baseball and the patterns of human behavior, so Henrich was the logical expert for The Sporting News, the national baseball weekly, to seek out to explain the "magic" inherent in the Yankee uniform.

"The first thing Byrd will learn when he joins the Yanks," Henrich predicted, "is to hustle. Not just for one play or one inning, but all the time. If he doesn't the other players will crack down on him. They'll give him the 'freeze' treatment. Their one idea is to win the pennant, and if anybody stands in the way, he's sure to be ostracized."

"Don't forget, too," added Henrich in The Sporting News, "that the Yankees have a pretty good policing system from General Manager George Weiss down. When a player doesn't do his job, they warn him, warn him... then sell him!"

So the secret behind the Yankee dynasty is nothing more than the hackneyed word "hustle?" Isn't it a stock phrase for every club to boast of its hustle?

"Don't kid yourself," smiled Henrich. "Other fellows who come to the Yankees from different clubs have told me that their former teams didn't operate the same way. On the Yanks, there is always one idea—to win the game. Anyone who doesn't pull his share of the load gets the quick treatment from the other fellows, to let him know they won't stand for it."

Henrich closed his interview with The Sporting News reporter with: "Yes, other teams think they know how to win. Their players may know how to win for themselves. It's different, thinking in terms of 'team' all the time."

ROOKIE RUDY BLAZES AT BAT FOR INDIANS

The hottest thing in the torrid desert area of Tucson, Arizona, is a 23-year-old rookie named Rudy Regalado, says The Sporting News. Regalado's bat has gained more headline ink than all the other Cleveland Indian stars combined.

In the first few exhibition games, Rudy hit four home runs. After his spree the Cubs came to Tucson for an exhibition. When such sluggers as Ralph Kiner, Hank Sauer, Al Rosen and Larry Doby came to bat they received only slight applause. In contrast, when Rookie Regalado's name was announced he received a rousing ovation.

The young infielder from California has the Big Time label all over him. The experts agree he isn't one of those flowers who bloom only in the spring, tra-la-la, reports The Sporting News.

$10 SEASON PASSES MAY PROVE LIFESAVER

The most interesting plan for the sale of tickets in minor league baseball is being attempted both in Norfolk, formerly owned by the Yankees, and in Binghamton, still a Yankee subsidiary, which may well revolutionize the gate problem in the lower classification minors, reports The Sporting News. Possibly in all minors.

It is very simple. Both these clubs are selling season tickets—they call them season passes—for $10. This permits people to use them for general admission at any game in the season (except opening day).

Now, what happens? More people come to the park, more people buy concessions. More people become interested in local baseball. Suppose 30,000 people show up on a given day? Well, something must be put on the tickets so that the buyer knows his ticket is good only when there are sufficient general admission or bleacher seats available. They do not expect that problem.

It is not known, what goals have been set, but fans in both cities are going for the deal. It is, says The Sporting News, obviously, the greatest bargain in baseball.

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

This is the slack season as far as high school sports is concerned. The spring sports program begins soon and most of the squads in golf, tennis, baseball, and track have been working out indoors for some time. The track squad begins an early schedule this year and the first meet of the outdoor season is next Thursday on the cinder track on the athletic field.

Last year the Rocks won championships in baseball and track, while the minor sports enjoyed an average season as far as wins and losses were concerned. Yes, in a few weeks there will be a variety of sports one can witness each week until school is out.

The Detroit Red Wings are again the team to beat in the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs as they have been the past six years. Champions of the National Hockey League for six years has stamped the Red Wings as one of the greatest teams in hockey.

Yet, they have only won the Stanley Cup a couple times in those six years. Some say they go all out to win the league crown and are tired when playoff time comes around, others say they try to win the individual awards that go to outstanding players, while other teams concentrate on winning the playoffs. The Red Wings should win this year even though I said some time ago that Montreal might come through to take the blue ribbon classic. The Wings are powerful on both offense and defense and are currently leading Toronto 2 games to 1 at this writing. The winner plays the winner of the Montreal-Boston series for the championship.

I'm pulling for the Wings to come through this year and think they have a grand chance if they play as they did in winning the league title.

The Detroit Tigers aren't doing so well to date in their exhibition games having won something like 6 games out of the first 20 played. The management still have to come up with a good trade to even make the Tigers contenders for the first division. They have to bolster the hurling staff, which has been woefully weak up to this point, the catching department has not performed up to expectations. Frank House upon whom they depended to come through has been hitting a meager .146 so far while Batts and Bucha are sidelined with injuries. The Tigers have acquired Lakeland, a 32-year-old refugee from the National League, and who has been playing with Buffalo this year to help them out. All in all they look weak in the battery department, and could use more power in the infield and outfield. Maybe a trade will be made before the season begins to bolster the weak spots.

It won't be long now before those picnics begin in the park. Plymouth is fortunate in having such a splendid park in its backyard where thousands can enjoy an outing any day they desire. The hundreds of picnic tables, stoves, ball diamonds, tennis courts, swings, slides, etc., make this area a mecca for thousands during the summer months. Whenever we use the park we should remember to leave it in as good a shape as we found it. We have a beautiful park so let's keep it that way.

The woods will be full of flowers soon. Nature is wonderful at this time of the year, and the woods particularly at this time are fragrant and beautiful. Take your youngsters flowering some day. They will love it and you will get a big kick out of it also. I hope I will never get too old to enjoy some of these kid's thrills. Guess I am just a kid at heart.

MSC Spring Term To Begin April 15

East Lansing — People learn much better through pictures and words than through words alone. An increasing number of educators, psychologists, and adult education leaders are becoming aware of this fact, according to Dr. Charles F. Schuller, director of the Audio-Visual Center at Michigan State College.

"The use of audio-visual materials has proved so effective that teachers, speakers and leaders in all types of human affairs are coming to use these materials as an important part of their programs," he said.

Dr. Schuller points out that studies show the use of audio-visual materials results in improved learning, understanding and memory of factual information.

With a library of more than 3,000 prints of 1,700 carefully selected motion picture films, the center at M.S.C. stands ready to offer its service to schools and adult groups in Michigan.

M.S.C.'s film service is popular among Michigan teachers, but many of the 45,000 teachers in the state are not experienced in audio-visual techniques. Dr. Schuller said. A two-fold problem is to provide them with the "know-how" and to make such material available to them. Teaching films are made available to schools for five days at only one day's rental charge. This provides opportunity not only for better use of films in teaching but also for the film to be on hand exactly on the day when it is most needed.

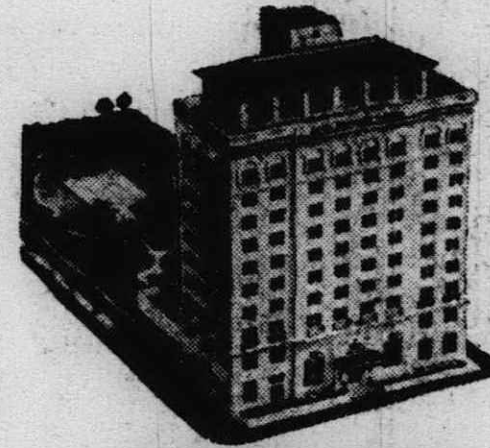

If mother, daughter and son can drive the car, father is the only one who ever has to get his shoes half-soled.

The happiness of married life depends upon making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness.—John Selden.

Lobster Thermidor made with kroger lobster tails

- 4 Kroger Lobster Tails
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
- 4 tablespoons grated cheese

Cook mushrooms in butter or margarine. Add cooked, cubed lobster (see below) and heat. Add seasonings, lemon juice, and white sauce. Pour into a greased casserole, sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 10 to 15 minutes, or until cheese melts and browns. Serve to 4 or 5 fortunate folks. Easy to Cook. Just drop lobster tails in boiling salted water and cook slowly — don't boil. Allow 15 minutes if thawed; 20 minutes if frozen. Cut open lengthwise, remove thin under shell with scissors. Remove meat and cut into cubes. Use in Lobster Thermidor. Or, serve in their beautiful bright red shells with lemon and butter.

At what age should saving start?

Some First Federal customers start to save when they get their first jobs. Others (lucky youngsters) have accounts started for them at birth. Still others begin at 7, 70 and anywhere in between. This much is SURE: the earlier you start, the sooner you'll build a worth-while reserve. Savings insured to $10,000 — any amount opens your account.

Earnings start the 1st on accounts opened by the 10th of the month.

PLYMOUTH GIRLS between the ages of 18 and 34 are being sought by the two men shown above who make their appearance here each week to recruit women for the Women's Air Force and Women's Army Corps. Master Sergeant LeRoy E. Sipes (left) and Technical Sergeant A. J. Adams placed this display in the D & C store last week to create interest in the women's groups. The sergeants are stationed at the Ann Arbor Recruiting Station, 411 South Forest avenue. They will be at city hall here each Tuesday to discuss enlistments. A girl must have at least a high school education. Girls from 18 to 21 inclusive must have their parent's consent. The manikins used in the display were formerly civilians working for Cassidy's women's apparel shop.

Factory Workers Get New Badge

Benson Ford, vice president of Ford Motor Company, and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division, today announced that Lincoln-Mercury is inaugurating a new identification system for hourly workers which carries the employee's name instead of a number only.

Within the next few weeks, each employee in Lincoln-Mercury's four assembly plants and General Parts Depot will receive a new plastic badge bearing his or her first and last names. This will replace the metal badge bearing only a clock-card number which has been in general use in industry for many years.

The new plastic circular badges are about 2 1/4 inches in diameter and have a yellow background with black lettering. The employee's first and last names appear in the center of the badge in large type. The number appears at the bottom of the badge in small print.

More than 13,000 Lincoln-Mercury Division employees will be affected by the new system, including those in Detroit; Wayne; Metuchen, New Jersey; St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Incidentally the television gives the country a line on the number of fellows in America who think they are funny.

Every man has his price, every woman her figure—it's only time that makes it problematical.

New Protection for New Home Buyers

Harry S. Wolfe, city council president of Livonia, said this week that buyers of new homes in Livonia will be protected from "hidden charges" under a newly-enacted ordinance.

Wolfe said he believed the legislation, which amends Livonia's present building code ordinance, to be the first of its kind in Michigan.

"It will eliminate undue hardship and injustice previously experienced by buyers of new homes," Wolfe declared.

The ordinance, which becomes effective April 15, will prohibit the issuance of building permits until an affidavit of disclosure has been filed to the city. Under there are any charges against the property for "sewage disposal, sewer or water services and facilities."

In the event such charges exist, the ordinance stipulates that the seller must notify the purchaser in writing "of the existence and amount of any debt services or other charges."

The charges must be listed in an affidavit filed with the Wayne County Register of Deeds. The affidavit also must show the zoning classification of the property.

In the absence of any charges against the property, a certificate to that effect must be filed with the Wayne Bureau of Building Inspection.

MSC Polls Graduates In Variety of Jobs

Manufacturing, insurance and banking are the fields which have drawn most graduates of the department of economics at Michigan State College, a recent survey covering a ten-year period shows.

The survey, by three professors of the department, found that graduates are in a wide variety of jobs, with salaries ranging up to $18,000 a year.

"The grads suggested a broad range of electives, but most commonly agreed on the importance of accounting, English, public speaking, mathematics and psychology," the surveyors found.

The poll, of graduates of the classes of 1941 through 1951, was taken to give perspective to present students and to aid in the revision of courses offered by the department.

The octopus and the squid mastered the arts of jet propulsion and smoke screening long before man dreamed of such things. Water squirting through funnels propels the animals, and discharge clouds of ink confuse enemy pursuers.

Chips from the ROCK

Local business men will remember Marie Buck, Michigan State College journalism major, who last summer worked at The Mail to get her summer credit needed for graduation. An accomplished journalist at her age, and one of the most capable students ever to train at The Mail, it should be mentioned that as a senior she is chairman of the farewell party for Professor A. A. Applegate on his retirement as head of State's Journalism school which will be attended by some 700 Michigan newspaper men and college dignitaries on May first.

Proudest merchant in town last week was Wendell Lent who was proudly exhibiting a letter from Hart, Schaffner and Marx, clothing manufacturers of Chicago, pointing out the fact that his store operation, in comparison with other H.S. & M. outlets around the country, was one of the best they had seen.

Not many people are fond of cannibal sandwiches (raw beef with onions on pumpnickel), but those who are, relish them with an enthusiasm almost as ravishing as a caged lion with a huge piece of raw horse meat. Two local ministers, Rev. Edgar Hoenecke and Rev. Theodore Sauer of Livonia, both susceptible to the lure of good raw beef, waited in vain last Monday for a local businessman who had made a luncheon date and was to furnish the lunch after a short business meeting. When hunger got the best of the two clergymen they visited a local restaurant and charged the lunch to the absent-minded host who remembered the date late that afternoon. The host . . . your absent-minded columnist.

Robert Nulty and the writer had lunch Wednesday with Chrysler's K. T. Keller and General George Kenney at the D.A.C. A couple of comments made by the distinguished pair are worth repeating for the benefit of our readers.

General Kenney is not in sympathy with the new look of the air force and thinks it a crime we have so few planes on hand at the present time. He pointed out that in Korea the Russian Mig was far superior to our planes but machine superiority always had been and always could be overcome by the ability of American pilots.

He further stated that our present policy of waiting for the enemy to strike first might be fatal in the next war which could conceivably be won in the first few days. He mentioned the fact that Russia had many planes that could fly from their north pole bases, drop their bombs here and still have ample fuel to land on air strips in South America where they have plenty of friends. He animated his point by pointing out the fact that history shows we haven't always waited for the aggressor to strike first and he said he couldn't go along with the present theory anymore than he would let a rattle snake have the first bite if he tangled with one in the field.

Mr. Keller said that our guided missile program was much further advanced than the public had any idea of and that if we were to place guided missile squadrons around Russia, 500 miles distant from their borders on the present available air strips we could completely obliterate that country in a very few days. He stated he noted with interest in the papers recently that we had sent two more guided missile teams to Europe and he hoped to read soon that we had sent many more.

He deplored the tremendous waste in present day government pointing to the Dodge Chicago plant which was the ultimate in Curtiss engine manufacturing. Saying it cost many millions of dollars to build and tool, it was discarded by the government after the end of the Korean war and an Ypsilanti manufacturer given the plant for automobile production. Returning vets were sold the costly equipment for a song and eventually the whole thing was turned over to another manufacturer for a completely irrelevant use. Today at 90 times the original cost another project is now being built to manufacture the same product that was discarded a couple of years ago. New buildings are being constructed, new machinery is being bought and new personnel being hired.

If this country is to remain a great power two important things must be done at once, he said. Trained productive personnel must be kept together ready for any emergency and production plants must be kept assembled and ready for immediate usage instead of building warehouses to store the machinery as we are doing today.

Consensus of opinion of the few at the table was that we are a bunch of d..... fools (in their own words) and that whenever the Russian might is ready it will turn loose with a devastation unheard of in past history and . . . it could be any day.

Roger Babson Says

BABSON DISCUSSES UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES
Babson Park, Massachusetts. I urge readers not to take too seriously the Federal Unemployment figures which are released the second week of each month. Until they are issued on a per-capita basis and properly adjusted, I believe them to be unreliable and misleading.

HOW SUCH FIGURES ARE GUESSED AT
There are 63,000,000 employees (other than farmers) in these United States. Of these, only very few employees are interviewed. There are over 45,000,000 families in the United States. Of these, only 25,000 families are interviewed. Thus, it will be seen that to give out a figure of "3,385,000" is really ludicrous. It surely would be more logical to say about "3,400,000," and call it a "rough estimate."

The figures never show the real situation. When families are interviewed they report not only those who have been laid off, but many who are ill, or working at home, or perhaps too lazy to work. Recently, to help the Republicans get the farm vote, the coverage has been increased from 123 counties to 450 counties. This greatly increases the percentage of farm families included in the Michigan's rapidly deteriorating state parks may undergo their greatest face-lifting since the start of World War II this year. If everything goes well, the Legislature is expected to appropriate about $900,000 in capital improvements for recreational projects before it goes home April 9.

That's about three times as much as the lawmakers have been setting aside for this vital work in recent years.

During the last 10 years, the Conservation department has spent about $3 million on state parks or an average of $300,000 a year.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams recommended appropriation of $1 million for parks this year. He'll be happy if they get $900,000.

State park enthusiasts would also be happy with the big appropriation. They are disappointed that the Legislature has not taken any action on the lucrative Nakkula State Park bill. Sponsored by Rep. Walter G. Nakkula (R-Gladwin), the bill would do this:

All revenue received by the State from sale or lease of minerals on state-owned land would be earmarked for capital improvements of state parks.

The Conservation Department never knows how much it will get from year to year for parks. This year the appropriation will be high. Next year it may be cut back to $300,000 or less.

Under the Nakkula bill, the Conservation Department could count on receiving about $1 million a year for state park improvements. That's how much the general fund now gets from mineral rights.

Reported out favorably by the House Conservation Committee the bill was then referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

It will probably die there. Members of the Committee say it will be a minor miracle if the bill comes out at this late date.

This year's big appropriation will give the Conservation Department an opportunity to inaugurate its five-year capital outlay program for parks.

It calls for improvements totaling $1,037,500 during the 1954-55 fiscal year. Improvements totaling $8,787,000 have been blue-printed for the next five years.

But the long-range program can fall flat on its face next year if the Legislature reduces appropriations for parks. The only way the program can be carried out is with a fixed amount of money available each year.

"We have fared reasonably well during the last few years, but we are not keeping up with the demands for wholesome outdoor recreation for people of our state," says Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the Conservation Department's parks and recreation division.

"What we need more than anything else is a definite and continuing source of income for park development, maintenance and operation."

If it dies, the Nakkula bill probably will be introduced again next year. Its chances of becoming law should be much better then because lawmakers will have had a full year to think over the idea.

At first, several Ways and Means Committee members felt the bill would set up another restricted fund. But by the time their fears were soothed, it was late in the session.

Michigan has one of the finest systems of public parks in the country. But in order to maintain its leadership, it must continue to improve the present parks and add new recreation areas south of the Muskegon-Bay City line. Ever expanding population in this part of the state creates continuously growing needs.

More than 14 million persons visited state parks during 1953, according to official figures. Park attendance is expected to reach the 20 million mark by 1960.

"Good, clean outdoor recreation areas are just as important today as water, sewage and housing," says Mr. Elmer.

WHAT LATEST FIGURES SHOW

The reported unemployment of the entire United States on February 13, 1954, was 3,385,000 by the Standard Method, 3,671,000 by the new "C.I.O." Method. These both are based on a total population of about 161,350,000, but this population is increasing about 250,000 a month. This means that the unemployed, figured on a labor force of 63,000,000, is, on a per-capita basis, only two per cent of the entire population. This compares with about ten per cent unemployed in 1932. I severely criticize any of the Labor Department or Commerce Department (who are the remains of a Democratic Bureaucracy) for refusing to use the per capita figures. They are not only ignoring the growth of the country, but they also are changing the method of compiling the figures, to please the C.I.O. crowd. This is like changing the rules of a game in the midst of a game. Furthermore, the increase reported under these new rules is largely based on the reported "unemployed" on a few farms, which is a very debatable figure.
