

Sewage Disposal Service Charge Plan Wins Favor

An ordinance was approved by city commissioners without opposition Monday night which will place an extra charge on the water bills of city dwellers to finance sewage disposal service.

A second and final reading of the ordinance was unanimously approved by commissioners and water users will begin payment of the new charge after the ordinance goes into effect on April 27.

The average householder will pay about 50 cents extra with the water bill he receives every other month. The ordinance sets up a rate of five cents for every 1,000 gallons of water used.

Additional revenue of about $11,000 a year will be provided with the new charge. The city has been paying $10,000 a year for use of the Wayne county sewer. Only those residents whose homes are connected with the sewer system will be charged for the sewer use, it is pointed out.

In other business before the commission, approval was given a bid for new valve and pipe installations at the booster pumping station. Only one bid was received. It was from Archie Schufelt of Hillsdale, former Plymouth plumber. His bid was $5,375, nearly $800 more than commissioners had hoped to do the job for. The valve is needed to provide a better means of refilling the city's reservoir near Northville road.

A bill for $116.21 from the Eckles Coal & Supply company was received by commissioners for damage to an Eckles oil truck which became bogged in the mud last March 4. The incident happened on South Holbrook avenue near Union street.

Commissioners rejected the bill claiming that the driver was negligent in attempting to drive down the dead-end street because he should have seen the bad condition of the thawing mud street.

First reading to a new ordinance "to establish a traffic violations bureau" was approved by the commission. Principal difference between the present ordinance and the proposed ordinance is that powers formerly given to the commission in administering the bureau will be delegated to the municipal judge. Nab Youths Admitting 18 Larcenies

Plymouth police and sheriff's detectives are completing a round-up of youths who admittedly have committed 18 larcenies and breaking and enterings, thus solving many of the petty thefts which have plagued authorities for the past year.

Because of their ages, the names of the youths are not being made public but two of the four "leaders" have had previous dealings with the law. Three of the youths are being held in the downtown Detroit juvenile detention home while another is still being sought.

Sheriff's detectives said that there are several other youths involved in some of the thefts but their role was minor and they had no previous records and were considered "good" boys.

Plymouth police captured two of the boys at 12:20 a.m. Tuesday during a routine check of the Twin Pines dairy building at 1165 Starkweather. Three boys lurking behind the building were surprised by the appearance of police. One escaped while one of the two captured attempted to flee.

PLYMOUTH'S RECORD HIGH BUDGET was completed last week and presented formally to the city commission Monday night after a month of work. Most of the big job was performed by City Manager Albert Glassford but commissioners themselves met several

Commission Gets Record High Budget

A record budget of $361,720 for the 1954-55 fiscal year was officially received by the city commission Monday night which will provide finances for better police and fire departments, a large street improvement plan, better pay and benefits for city employees, an improved rubbish and garbage

Local Lions Club To Hear Speech By D. Hale Brake

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Plymouth Lions Club on Thursday, April 15, at 6:30 p.m. in the Mayflower hotel. Though an aspirant to the state governorship, Brake's address will be a non-political one and he will speak solely as the state treasurer.

The local Lions club will meet jointly with the Mid-west Lions club of Detroit for this occasion. Lucas Miel, president of Commercial Steel Treating in Detroit and campaign manager of Representative Charles Oakman, will also be present at the meeting.

Brake is a member of the State Administrative Board and Chairman of the Finance and Claims Committee of the Board. He serves on the Board of Canvass-pick-up system and other recommended needs.

With last year's budget set at $317,000, the newly proposed financial plan is $44,000 larger. A special meeting was held for Monday, April 26 to listen to any public recommendations or objections to the budget proposal. According to city charter, the budget must be approved at the first meeting in May.

By far the biggest undertaking proposed for the city this year is the widening and pavement of Main street from Penniman avenue to Mill street. The budget sets aside $12,000 for the first payment on general obligation bonds which must be sold preceding the road reconstruction.

Commissioners have made no official resolution calling for the Main street improvement, but all seem in accord with the idea and have authorized Herald Hamill, local civil engineer, to draw up plans and specifications. It is reported that his plans are nearing completion.

Also included in the capital improvement program outlined in the budget is the improvement of Farmer street from Karmada to Sheldon road. This street, believed by many to be capable of being an important east-west artery, is only partially paved. Estimated cost of the Main street project is $130,000 and the Farmer street project estimate is $78,000.

The coming fiscal year's increased revenue will come from four sources, according to the budget statement by City Manager Albert Glassford. Some $14,000 will come from added real and personal property assessments; $3,000 from increased receipts from other agencies such as sales and gasoline taxes; $11,000 from the newly-approved sewage disposal ordinance; and $16,000 carried over due to underestimated 1953-54 receipts.

A five per cent increase of wages and salaries has been included in the budget. Glassford estimated this increase will cost the city about $11,000 extra during the fiscal year. City employees are paid according to a "step and merit" schedule which (Continued on page 8)

Township Budget Gets Small Hike

Plymouth township board members approved their 1954-55 budget at the annual public meeting Monday afternoon, a budget which allows about $1,000 more than the past-fiscal year's.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay reported that the new budget for $24,000 continues to remain about the same because of the limit of one mill which is levied in the township. Increased valuations have netted the extra $1,000.

No major improvements or purchases are provided for in the new budget. It does, however, allow for an increase in wages for the regular firemen and extra funds for consulting engineers, zoning consultants and legal counsel. It also provides for the payment-at-large for the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer.

Canton Township Budget Smaller

A budget of $52,829 for the 1954-55 fiscal year was submitted to citizens of Canton township at the annual meeting held Monday afternoon. The proposed sum is nearly $1,200 less than the current budget.

Only 20 citizens turned out for the annual public meeting which is required by law on the first Monday in April. The proposed budget is smaller than last year's because of the heavy assessment for the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer, according to Supervisor Louis Stein.

The new budget sets aside $8,400 for a fire engine now on order and $10,000 for a building and site to be used for voting in precinct two. Voting was formerly performed in a church. The proposed voting site will be in the Sheldon road area, Stein said.

Auto-Loader Completes Test

First commercial run of the Evans 6-Car Auto-Loader was "very satisfactory," according to an announcement by the Evans Products company.

The local firm unveiled the new railroad car last month before several hundred auto manufacturers, railroad officials and newspapermen. On Friday, March 26, the railroad car was loaded with six cars at the Dodge division of the Chrysler corporation and shipped via the New York Central railroad to Kingsbridge, New York where it was unloaded March 30.

"The first test shipment was very satisfactory," E. W. Peterson, assistant vice-president, stated.

Besides the money turned over to the Red Cross by this drive, a check for $2500 was given the Detroit chapter as a Community Fund contribution. This amount took the place of the money which would have been solicited from business and industry.

The Red Cross drive for funds and members is an annual event carried on throughout the nation in the month of March. Goal for the national drive stood at $85,000,000 which will be used to maintain the Red Cross' high level of services.

LAST MINUTE PREPARATIONS for the annual Easter Lily Sale are made by some of the children who will appear on Plymouth street corners this Saturday, April 10. The sale of artificial lilies is put on each year by the local Rotary Anns in order to raise money for the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Michigan Society of Crippled Children and Adults. Heading this year's sale are Mrs. Charles Westover and Mrs. J. E. Hardimon. Shown here, left to right, are Judy Hardimon, Mrs. Westover, Jim Carney, David Mynatt, Martha Bernash, Mrs. Hardimon, Sandra Straub, Mary Frances Bauer and Sharon Roberts.

Lofy Buys Arbor-Lill

Norbert Lofy of Arbor-Lill announced Monday that he had purchased the entire interests of Lee Butler in the operation of the restaurant, bar and bowling alley of the business located on the corner of Lilley and Ann Arbor roads.

The popular restaurant and bowling alley was opened two years ago by Butler and Lofy. In addition to the announcement of the change of ownership Mr. Lofy also stated that architects are already drawing plans for a major addition to be undertaken within the next few weeks. No announcement of Mr. Butler's future plans were made. Every effort will be made in the future to provide Arbor-Lill patrons with even better foods and service. Mr. Lofy stated.

Local Woman Hurt in Mishap

A collision last Saturday night in Livonia caused injury to Mrs. Jean Latture, 986 Harding, wife of local teacher and real estate dealer James Latture.

Livonia police said that Mr. Latture was driving on Plymouth road near the Ann Arbor road intersection when Mrs. Florence Block of Redford township stopped her car to make a left turn. Mr. Latture said that he failed to see the stopped car in time to stop his own vehicle.

Mrs. Latture received cuts on the head and both knees as the Plymouth driver's car collided with the rear of the Block auto.

Fire Extinguisher Dispute Ends in Test Court Case

Fire extinguishers are used to battle fires. But Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister is expected to use fire to battle extinguishers Wednesday night this week when he meets the city's heating contractors in a "test" court case to determine if he has authority to disapprove an extinguisher which the city heating ordinance requires beside all new oil furnaces.

The new heating code requires a one quart extinguisher to be placed near all newly-installed oil furnaces in single dwellings. It appears that the only extinguisher fitting this description which meets with Underwriter's approval is the pyrene type which contains carbon tetrachloride. It is this type that the heating contractors have been installing near their recent installations.

But Fire Chief McAllister has strongly protested use of this extinguisher. Carbon tetrachloride, he explains, is in the same class as chloroform and breathing fumes from the liquid is highly dangerous. If it is played on a hot surface, the chief added, its fumes are deadly. He claims that even a well-trained Plymouth fireman was "knocked out" by using this kind of extinguisher on a car fire. So McAllister recently wrote to the contractors saying he would not approve of any new installation where the carbon tetrachloride extinguisher is placed. He recommends a dry chemical extinguisher, which costs more, "but is safe for the housewife who could be killed by use of the other type."

To bring the question to a head, local contractor Bill Otwell deliberately failed to install an extinguisher near a new oil furnace, so he was issued a ticket by heating inspector Chuck Thompson. It will then remain up to Judge Nandino Berlongo to determine if the fire chief can disapprove of new oil furnace installations where pyrene extinguishers are installed.

Chief McAllister said earlier this week that should he not win his point in court Wednesday night, he will ask city commissioners to change the heating code.

Committee Lays Plans to Publicize Need for Approval of School Levy

A citizens committee met Monday night to plan a program which will present to voters the need for the two millage proposals appearing on the ballot this May 10.

The School Community Planning group committee, composed of representatives of each school, will lead a publicity campaign which will be carried into organizations and the home of each voter.

The eight representatives will appoint 20 representatives from each school (four from Bartlett and Hough schools) and these representatives will meet next Wednesday night.

Woman's Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Leslie Daniel was elected to fill the office of president of the Woman's club at the annual meeting held in the Presbyterian church last Friday afternoon.

Assisting Mrs. Daniel as officers of the local club are Mrs. David Wood, first vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Schrader, second vice-president; Mrs. David Mather, recording secretary; Mrs. David Gates, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Burr, treasurer; Mrs. Murray O'Neil and Mrs. Hugh Gavigan, directors.

Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting. He addressed the ladies on the part music plays in the community.

A report from Girl Scout Troop 5, which is sponsored by the Woman's club, was presented together with displays and songs by the members of the troop.

The next meeting will be a trip to Fairlane on May 7.

Easter Lily Sale To Be Held Here This Saturday

Artificial Easter Lilies will be offered Plymouth shoppers, Saturday, April 10, by a host of youthful volunteers who are extending a helping hand to the Wayne Out-County Chapter of Crippled Children to raise funds by the sale of paper lilies.

More than fifty children will be stationed on the busy streets of Plymouth from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. wearing arm bands and carrying baskets of lilies to offer shoppers. This annual Easter Lily Day sale is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Westover who will be assisted by co-chairman Mrs. James Hardimon and members of the Plymouth Rotary Anns.

Headquarters for the day-long sale will be the Masonic Temple where the children will return for supplies and refreshments.

The little paper lilies are made by homebound handicapped men and women who have no other way of earning a livelihood. All lilies are made in Michigan for this sale.

Plymouth shoppers donated $525 to last year's sale and more funds are hoped for this year so that the Chapter can increase its services as funds will permit.

Easter Seal Chairman, Earl West, reports contributions are being received from the 6000 appeal letters mailed to citizens at the opening of this month-long drive which ends Easter Sunday, April 18.

Each year as the Wayne Out-County communities grow more services of case findings, equipment and therapy treatment are requested of the Easter Seal Society.

"Only through the generous support of the public can these needs be met," said West.

All contributions to the mailing campaign and the lily sale go to meet Plymouth's goal of $4000 for the 1954 drive.

Whooping Cough Not Found Here

While whooping cough is on the increase in Michigan, children in the Plymouth area are escaping the disease because of the compulsory vaccination for school children, according to Dr. R. R. Barber, city health officer.

The Michigan Department of Health reports that the 96 cases reported last week is more than triple the amount reported during the same period a year ago.

Dr. Barber pointed out that he has had no recent reports of whooping cough, but this would not include cases occurring outside the city in the township. Whooping cough, which often has serious complications, particularly in babies, can be prevented by immunization. The State Health department recommends immunization should be started when a baby is three months old. A booster is advised at two to three years of age.

Whooping cough is most serious in children under five and most deaths from the disease occur among babies under six months old.

Whooping cough immunization is required of all children before entering the Plymouth township school system.

Violette McCartney-Edward Dely United in Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dely

In one of the loveliest of early spring weddings, Saturday, April 3, Violette McCartney and Edward Dely repeated their nuptial vows, in a ceremony at the First Presbyterian church, Plymouth.

Violette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flagg McCartney of Brush street and Edward is the son of Mrs. Anna Dely of Maple avenue.

The Reverend Henry Walch officiated at the impressive seven o'clock candlelight ceremony. Large baskets of white gladioli and candelabra graced the sanctuary. Fred Nelson was the organist and Fred Kendall sang "I Love Thee Dear," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a floor length gown of net, lace and satin. The fitted bodice and full length train were of the satin. The bodice and Queen Ann collar were of lace and a deep insert of the lace extended from the neckline to the point of the long fitted satin sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of tiers of lace and net over satin. Violette's fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed-pearls and rhinestones and she carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds tied with satin streamers and ivy.

Gwen Ferrington was the bride's matron of honor. She wore a strapless ballerina length gown of yellow silk shantung. The pleated bodice and matching jacket were adorned with rhinestones and seedpearls.

Betty and Mary Dely, sisters of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned like that of the honor attendant. Betty wore a shrimp colored gown and Mary was in peacock. All attendants wore matching bands of the material in their hair with matching shoulder length veils and each carried a basket of yellow rosebuds.

Kathleen Dely, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Her floor length gown was of yellow silk shantung. Gregory Ferrington was the ring bearer.

Louis Dely served his brother as best man and seating the guests were Frank Veresh and Lee Langkabel.

Mrs. McCartney selected a champagne rose lace dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Dely wore Air Force blue lace. Both mothers wore navy accessories and gardenia corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the V.F.W. hall with over 300 guests attending coming from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Fenton, Pontiac, Northville, Owosso, Durand, Gaines, Hartland, Dearborn, Brighton and Plymouth.

Both Violette and Edward were graduated from Plymouth High School. Following a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the young couple will make their home at 843 Starkweather avenue, Plymouth.

Scout Troop No. 298 Holds Court of Honor

Boy Scout troop No. 298 held a Court of Honor on Monday, April 5, in the Canton township fire hall. Awards were presented by J. Emerson, who is in charge of District 7 camping.

Receiving their tenderfoot ratings were Hargrew Riley, Dean Schamanek, Thomas Wojewski and Lyle Avery. Gordon Graham was awarded his second class rank, and first class awards went to the Scouts of the Flaming Arrow patrol. The latter were won at the Dawson City Sweepstake on Saturday, January 9.

TWO OF THE FIRST Plymouth shoppers to receive stools in the Double Feature Days promotion last week are shown above with members of the retail merchants' committee responsible for planning the sale. Left to right are: Walter Rensel, A. Gerald Pease, Wendell Lent, Urban Holland and the happy recipients of the stools, Mrs.

Charles Westfall of 873 North Holbrook and Mrs. Lester Upton of 195 Garland. Some 250 stools were claimed by weekend shoppers. The big demand delayed shipment of the stools and made it necessary for the Chamber of Commerce to give receipts which will be honored as soon as the stools arrive.

Merchants Call Double Feature Days Success

The first "Double Feature Days" promotion undertaken by the Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce brought unanimous agreement from those merchants who participated. It was a rousing success! In a committee meeting Monday evening it was quickly agreed to hold the second such event in the fall.

The four-day promotion gave a "spurt" to local businesses as nearly every participant reported the best weekend sales of the year. One merchant compared his sales with the same weekend prior to Easter last year and found he had doubled his business. Another reported one of the best days in the history of his store. The appearance of "new" customers was particularly pleasing to the committee.

The exact total of stools claimed thus far has reached 223. Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold reported that shoppers have until April 17 to turn in their Double Feature Days' sales slips, however, and it is expected the number will climb to 250. Because of this unanticipated demand, receipts were given shoppers and the Chamber reports that as soon as the stools arrive notices will be sent out.

Here are some of the comments of merchants on the weekend business activities. Ralph Roslow, Graham's: "We definitely felt an increase in sales during all four days of the promotion." Mac Goldman, Fashion Shoes: "We were particularly happy with the results of last weekend which marked our opening" (since the February fire). Ernest Faigle, Kresge's: "Our business showed a definite gain and we are very pleased with the promotion." Miss Margaret Dunning, Dunning's: "We had a very fine business in all departments last weekend." Bert Wyse, Better Home Appliances: "Yes, our business was better and the traffic in town was very definitely increased." Wendell Lent, Davis & Lent: "I can't say enough for the promotion. It far surpassed my expectations." Dick Papes, Papes House of Gifts: "We experienced a very good weekend business." Druggist Bob Beyer, Carl Peterson, Walter Shultz and C. C. Wiltse all agreed that their stores showed a definite increase for the weekend.

Grange Cleanings

This is regular Grange night and it is hoped there will be a good attendance as there is some business yet to be talked about regarding the 80th anniversary celebration on April 23. It is hoped too that each and everyone will cheerfully contribute when asked and do their part to show that Plymouth can do something really noteworthy.

The Grange is an old and honorable organization. One should be proud of it for it is a privilege to be a member of this group of fine people.

Mabel Loomis is serving on the Jury this month.

Remember our important dates for next week. Monday we are to meet at the Grange hall at 6 p.m. to go up to Ray Mettetal's for potluck supper and the evening of cards, our usual Lily club.

Tuesday evening we are all planning to go to Pittsfield to witness and take part in the ceremony of the 5th degree which will be exemplified by the Lenawee degree team. Anyone who wishes to become a Pomona member may do so at that time.

We are happy to report that Amy Northrup is getting along fine, she came from the hospital yesterday and is at her daughter's home in Salem.

Joe Tracy is better but is not able to get out anywhere yet.

Those who expect to attend the Banquet on the night of April 23 are requested to send in their reservations either by card or telephone to Mrs. E. Vealey 1852-R in order that the committee may know how much to prepare. A more detailed account will appear next week.

Japan's Inland Sea, 250 miles long, embraces more islands than any other sea on earth—from 700 to 3,000 depending upon whether the term "island" is extended to cover islets and the fantastic rocks that jut up as much as a hundred feet above the water.

LETTER BOX

Letter to the Editor:

Dear Sir:
Being a taxpayer it is too much to expect of the school bus system the safety of our children getting home safely from school, when he or she lives from 3 to 5 miles from school?

Or are we expected to sit back and clasp our hands when said child is not admitted on the school bus because of a little mud and left to walk home on a road as busy as Ann Arbor road is?

I was taught to respect my teachers and elders when I was a youngster, and have tried to teach my own children this, but I can't respect the drivers of the school busses who would do this, or their bosses when they tell me "the safety of the children getting home isn't their responsibility, but a bus schedule is."

Signed: A taxpayer and a mother who dearly loves her children.
Name omitted upon request.

Crippled Child Wins School Vacation Gardening Honor Starts Next Week

An 11-year-old cerebral palsy victim from Plymouth will receive a gardening award over radio station WJR as the week's outstanding gardener. The little boy is Johnny Conant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Conant of 5683 Napier road.

Johnny, who has had cerebral palsy since birth, has difficulty in controlling either his arms or legs. He is able to do some walking with the aid of braces, but the uneven ground of a garden makes this just about impossible. It was necessary for him to crawl to do his garden work.

Last spring his parents organized a 4-H club, and the members chose to specialize in vegetable gardening. Johnny joined the club too and raised his own garden in a field in back of the Conant home.

The Ferry-Morse Seed company heard about Johnny when the 4-H club wrote them for help with their exhibit for last year's 4-H Fair. Ferry-Morse is one of the sponsors of the Garden Gate show on which Johnny's work will be cited. When they heard about him they suggested that he might receive the Order of the Green Thumb award.

So on Saturday, April 10, at 5:15 p.m. on station WJR Johnny will receive his award for his work, in spite of his handicap, in raising a vegetable garden.

Ten days away from books, classrooms and tests will begin for Plymouth students and teachers next Thursday when the annual Easter and spring vacation begins.

The vacation will start at 3:30 p.m. Thursday and will allow students and their teachers to take full advantage of the week-end of Holy festivities. The vacation will continue through the following week and school will resume on Monday, April 26.

Clerical workers in the superintendent's office will remain on their jobs throughout the vacation to keep the office functioning.

Children attending Our Lady of Good Counsel school will get a little longer vacation. Their vacation will start next Wednesday noon and will end April 26.

Pupils at the St. Peter's Lutheran Day school will have the same vacation schedule as the public school system.

New Books at Dunning Library

The library's latest book shipment was a small one, but several interesting adult books were included. The books are kept on reserve at the library for one week, when they are loaned out to those particularly requesting them.

One of these, currently very popular, is Sir John Hunt's "The Conquest of Everest." Others are "The Night of the Hunter" by Davis Grubb, "The Sudden View: A Mexican Journey" by Sybille Bedford, "The Lady for Ransom" by Alfred Duggan and "The Complete Book of Basement Improvement" by Ralph Treves.

"I Married A Korean" by Agnes Davis Kim tells the story of the hardships and deprivations American Mrs. Kim found when she went to live with her husband in Korea. The library also received volumes of Shakespeare's plays with the Temple index.

Disorder Brings Fines for Three

Three men in an argumentative mood were arrested Monday night by police and were all fined for being drunk and disorderly.

Jack Kellems, 21, of 44637 Cherry Hill road, was arrested on Forest avenue after getting into an argument with his wife. He was given a choice of a $25 fine or 90 days in jail and was placed on probation for a year. He has until Monday to pay the fine.

Father-in-law and son-in-law were swinging at each other when police arrested the two for being drunk and disorderly Monday. The father-in-law was William Belt, 55, of 376 South Mill street, while the son-in-law was Lonnie Hargrove, 32, of 1405 Brookline. Both were given fines of $50 in an appearance before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo Tuesday morning. The affair took place in front of Belt's home, police reported.

Commission

allows increases according to length of service as well as merit or added responsibilities.

The city manager stated, "Based upon my survey of wages paid by neighboring municipalities and a survey of wages paid by local industry, I believe the increases as recommended should be adopted in order to bring our wage and salary scale more nearly in agreement with those of our neighboring municipalities and those paid by industry."

Also included is a fringe benefit in the form of a $1,000 life insurance policy of which an employee would pay 60 cents a month and the city 68 cents.

Other expenditures for improvements will go toward the police and fire departments. As recommended by the Traffic Safety committee, a third police car will be purchased. Chief purpose of the new car is to keep police protection at a maximum even while one car is being repaired. A two-wheeled motorcycle is also a possible addition this year.

The fire department budget has been increased to allow for maintaining the new Northside fire station. Hose costing $2,000 is to be purchased for the new truck and a hose dryer and gas masks are also being asked.

Two new rubbish trucks costing $10,000 each are anticipated in the budget. These rubbish and garbage carrying trucks are the covered type and may make their appearance after a proposed revision in the garbage and rubbish pick-up system is worked out within a few months.

There has been a $9,000 increase in the sewer maintenance fund for the new fiscal year. A set of sewer cleaning rigs was purchased by the city last year but money to operate the rigs has not been available since their delivery. Glassford estimates it will take four years to complete a clean out of all the sewers because of the present heavy loads now deposited in the system. Once cleaned, Glassford claims that the entire system can be cleaned every year.

Street lighting will also get additional improvements in the coming fiscal year. The sum of $1,000, double that of last year, has been set aside.

Some of the other street improvements listed under the capital improvement program include a 44-foot wide pavement for East Ann Arbor trail from the city limits to Hamilton street. Estimate of the cost has been set at $54,000.

Another $54,000 project is anticipated for Amelia street from Liberty to Mill. It will be widened to 37 feet and paved. The program also includes pavement of William street from Arthur to Evergreen and of Arthur street from Junction to the C & O railroad.

Many other streets are earmarked for sealing or recapping, or for the installation of storm sewers.

The mechanical fuel pump, which supplemented the vacuum tank, led to many improvements in motor vehicles. More than 40,000,000 are in use today and more than 115,000,000 have been made since 1927.

would be left to the judge instead of the commission. The ordinance will need two more readings before a vote.

The city manager was given the authority to advertise for bids on several small jobs and purchases. Bids will be asked for a dust palliative, sewer and water inventory stock, water tower painting and repairs, a seal coating for streets and sidewalk work.

Authority was also given to transfer monies from two accounts. One was for transfer of $4,500 from the unappropriated reserve account to sewer maintenance and the other of $1,400 from the water fund to cover an additional maintenance personnel in the water department.

throw a revolver in nearby Wilcox lake, one of the two guns that had been taken two weeks before from the home of Plymouth Patrolman Henry Berghoff in Plymouth township.

The two boys were turned over to sheriff's authorities since many of the larcenies they admitted were committed outside the city. Plymouth Chief Carl Greenlee said that the boys admitted taking 70 air rifles from the Daisy Manufacturing company, entering numerous stores and taking the guns from Patrolman Berghoff's home.

Two of the boys are 15 years old, another is 16 while the age of the boy not captured is still not known. He is a brother of one of the youths now in detention.

Sheriff's detectives said that no charges have been filed as yet against the boys but that they will probably be charged with larceny along with breaking and entering.

PLYMOUTH HI-12 CLUB bowlers came home with their fifth state bowling championship last weekend when the team edged out the Northwest Detroit Hi-12 club at the Bowlcrest Alleys on Schoolcraft road. The Plymouth team overcame a spotting of 70 pins a game to claim the state Hi-12 title. They tied with Northwest Hi-12 on April 4 at the state tournament in Battle Creek. Team members (from left) are Lon Brocklehurst, Clyde Smith, Howard Sharpley, Floyd Tibbitts and Kenneth Harrison.

Aboard the Good Ship MAYFLOWER

It's a good thing that there is a surplus of guests for The Good Ship Mayflower because the crew does such a good job of selling the community to travelers that often a guest becomes a permanent resident of the area. Latest enlistment on our roster of people who were introduced to the community by the hotel is Lou Kitchell of The Lippincott Company, book publishers. He will take residence nearby in the next few weeks.

Overheard in the lobby: "We must write Sergeant B. S. about catching the 'Somboddy-Bad-Stole-the-Wedding-Bell' fellow."

No job for even the most experienced of waitresses is that of serving the "Round Table" in The Pilgrim Room. This table is traditionally occupied by local business and professional men, some forty or fifty of them who come and go at odd intervals from 11:30 to 3:00. It has been capably served for the last three and one-half years of its 27-year history by Mrs. Lee Bonga who is possessed of the rare combination of qualities necessary to the job. Some of us who have difficulty remembering names should take a lesson from this girl who not only remembers the names and faces of the habitués and their guests, but also is cognizant of their tastes in foods, their eating habits and dietary idiosyncracies. She has all that—AND a most pleasant smile and hearty laugh!

Overheard in the lobby: "We wonder if those cars with the wrap-around windshields will wrap around a tree at seventy miles per hour any more gracefully than one without a wrap-around windshield?"

The Skipper's talented wife designed an attractive display for the lobby portraying spring. The center piece is a fuzzy lamb with a little placard that said "March goes out like a lamb." After the sudden blast that this warring winter handed us last week the sign had to be hurriedly changed to read "WHO SAID March goes out like a lamb."

Department of incongruity: Your Bo's'n's Mate who holds forth in the clothing store of the Good Ship Mayflower received a shipment of short-sleeved sport shirts last week during the worst snow storm of the year.

Falling of an Idol: Michigan State's Doctor Thurman who has been giving a series of classes in communicative skills to local business men and executives is accustomed to dining at The Mayflower before his teaching chores begin. Although he is an unusually alert young man he reverted to the type of proverbial "college professor" last week by completely forgetting such a necessity as his wallet. Imagine his embarrassment. (And our amusement as an icon toppled.)

Permanent guest Ernie Roe sold his car this week, and will be without one for the first time in forty-four years. Says Ernie: "Don't need it anyway, because everything is available right here at the hotel."

Arrived in the Wine Shop: New run of Michigan Maple Syrup. Bring on the hot biscuits.

That's "Anchors Aweigh" for this week.

Ordinance No. 185

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND COLLECTION OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL CHARGES AND ENFORCEMENT THEREOF.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. Under and by virtue of the provisions of Act No. 342, Public Acts, 1939, being Sections 46.171 to 46.185, both inclusive, Compiled Laws, 1948, and in order to pay sewage charges imposed by the County of Wayne upon the City of Plymouth by reason of a contract between the two said municipalities for the disposal of sewage, the City of Plymouth hereby establishes a system of sewage disposal charges as hereinafter set forth.

Section 2. The rates for sewage disposal services furnished by the City of Plymouth shall be applied uniformly to all water consumers within its corporate limits whose premises have available a sewer or sewers from which the sanitary sewage is finally discharged into the Wayne County Sewerage System. In the event the city shall collect sewer disposal charges for any property and in case the County of Wayne shall grant any exception or exemption in the collection of sewage disposal charges such exception or exemption shall be recognized by the city. Such rates shall be applied on the basis of quantity of water used in or on the said premises regardless of the purposes for which the water is used or the character or concentration of the sewage delivered from the property to the sewage disposal system. The amount thereof shall be measured by the water meter installed on the premises, or if there be no such water meter then for the purpose of determining sewage disposal charges the water consumption thereon shall be estimated in a manner prescribed or approved by the City Manager. The rate for such sewage disposal shall be five (5c) cents per 1,000 gallons, or fraction thereof, of water consumed on said premises. If the character of sewage from any manufacturing or industrial plant building or premises is such that it imposes an unreasonable additional burden upon the sewage system of the city or of the County of Wayne, then an additional charge shall be made over and above the regular rate, or it may be required that such sewage be treated by the person, firm or corporation responsible therefor before being emptied into any public drain or sewer, or the right to so empty any such sewage may be denied, if necessary, for the protection of any of said systems or of the public health or safety. The city shall include each year in its tax budget an amount sufficient to pay their sewage disposal services of a general public nature furnished to the city at large, which charges shall be estimated by the City Manager where the water is not actually metered. Charges for sewage disposal shall be billed and collected with bills for the use of water. Such charges shall become delinquent at the same time as charges for water service and in event of delinquency, a penalty of 10% upon such charges shall be added.

Section 3. All charges for sewage disposal services shall constitute a lien upon the premises served, effective immediately upon the rendering of service thereto, and the official records of said city shall constitute notice of the pendency of said lien. Any such charges remaining unpaid and delinquent for a period of six (6) months or more shall be certified by the legislative body of the city to the tax assessing officer of the city who shall enter the same upon the next succeeding county tax roll against the premises to which such services shall have been rendered, and the same shall be collected and said lien shall be enforced in accordance with the provisions of the general tax laws of the State of Michigan. If any premises to which sewage disposal charges shall be made, shall constitute a part only of any parcel of land assessed as a single unit upon the tax roll, then any such delinquent charges shall be entered against the entire parcel. In the event that a user shall fail to pay the charges for such sewage disposal services furnished to any premises when due, then sewage disposal services may be shut off to such premises and/or the water service to such premises may be discontinued. Services so shut off or discontinued, shall not be reinstated until the delinquent charges shall have been paid plus a fee of One ($1.00) Dollar for such reinstatement. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the city from bringing action in any proper court for a judgment for the amount of any such delinquent charges, and the commencement of any such action shall not destroy the lien therefor.

Section 4. All monies received from the sewage disposal charges shall be used to pay the expenses in connection with the collection thereof and the charges rendered by the County of Wayne to the city for sewage disposal services. Any excess monies so collected shall be deposited in the General Fund of the city.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the City Manager of said city to carry out and enforce the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 6. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 27th day of April, 1954.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan this 5th day of April, 1954.

Local Cancer Unit to Hold Tag Days This Weekend

"Fatalistic fear of cancer is one of the intangibles that is blocking the progress of the American Cancer Society's intensive campaign to persuade all Americans to heed cancer's seven danger signals and to have regular physical checks," stated Neva Lovewell of the public education program of the local Cancer Society.
"In spite of the widespread public education program that has been fostered by the Society to teach the facts about cancer detection, treatment and cure, recent surveys indicate that about one out of every three adult Americans is not aware that cancer in any form is curable. Is it any wonder, then, that so many persons who suspect that they may have cancer shun a doctor's diagnosis since they regard confirmation of their fears as a sentence of death?" she added.
Because of the extreme urgency of detecting cancers before they have spread from their original site, if a cure is to be effected, the local Cancer Unit's educational campaign has been concentrated particularly on informing the public of the seven most common indications of possible cancer. The seven danger signals have been publicized in newspapers and magazines, in window displays, in motion picture films shown at clubs and organizations, in radio and TV programs and this week end, Friday and Saturday, April 10 and 11, volunteer workers will pass out to the adult public pamphlets and small tags that can be kept in purses and billfolds, stating the seven danger signals. The two pamphlets are entitled, "Cancer Facts for Men" and "Cancer Facts for Women." The Plymouth Unit of the ACS is firing two broadsides in its campaign to conquer cancer. Education is one. This phase will be carried through by window displays and tag days this coming weekend. Dressing service to all cancer patients in this area, free of any expense, is another phase.
Presently operating is a membership drive. Mrs. Fred J. Korte, Jr., membership chairman of the local unit, reports that a membership card, together with a letter and a plastic "sword of hope" cancer pin is being mailed to all who have shown interest in the Crusade to fight Cancer. There is no charge, in fact, Mrs. Korte reported no solicitations are being made in this area.
The local cancer unit is working during this month which is National Cancer month, to bring to every adult individual as possible in the form of tags, pamphlets, and so on so that more lives will be saved. Statistics prove that one out of two cancers can be cured if discovered in time and correctly treated.

Mrs. Korte stated that she would be glad to hear from anyone who would be interested in being a member of the Plymouth Unit of the American Cancer Society, southeastern division. The volunteer worker is under no obligation, financial or otherwise, but could, if possible offer services to the Unit whenever he or she saw fit. If you are interested in the fight on cancer, you should be a member. Join the hundreds of present local members. Phone Mrs. Fred Korte, Jr., at Plymouth 10, evenings 2291-J2, she will explain further the unit's aims and projects.

Two Attend Special Association Meeting

The Northwestern Substation Committee of the Visiting Nurse Association will attend a special meeting of the Board of Trustees at Alger Center, the association's lounge in Detroit. Local residents taking part in the meeting will be Mrs. Margaret Hough and Mrs. Sterling Eaton. Mrs. S. E. Hayes and Mrs. Ned Lengemann, both of Livonia, will also attend.
Mrs. Karl G. Pinckard, president of the Board of Trustees, and Mrs. Victor A. Rappert, chairman of the Board's Public Information committee, will tell visitors how the work of the nurses can be furthered in the Northwestern area by the efforts of the local members.
During 1953, visiting nurses in the Northwestern area made 13,535 visits to 1,875 patients. There has been a tremendous population growth here, and lay committee members can be instrumental in telling the public about the nursing service available to everyone in the area.

Insurance Firm Cites Daisy Men

Thanks to their consistent skill and alertness behind the wheel, nine men who drive for the Daisy Manufacturing Company of Plymouth won awards for their no-accident records from Employers Mutuals of Wausau, Wisconsin.
Top honors in the group went to James Darnell who has a record of 26 years without a chargeable accident. Other winners are: Benny Darnell, 13 years; Howard Hunt, 8 years; Fred Warren, 7 years; John Dayney, 4 years; Danny Lasky and Edgar Stevens, 2 years; Leland Lasky and Curtis Bratvold, 1 year.
Under the provisions of the award program conducted throughout the country by the insurance company, drivers are recognized each time they chalk up a full year of driving without an accident for which they are held accountable.

Before they were married some Plymouth men would offer their girls "a penny for your thoughts". Now they'd give 'em $5 to shut up.

Rate Of Shade Tree Growth Varies

The growth of shade trees varies greatly, some species attaining fair height in a comparatively short time, others taking much longer, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Climate has considerable to do with the rate of growth, and fertilization plays an important part, too, in addition to differences inherent in the species. Before they are placed on the market trees may be anywhere from two to ten or fifteen years old, during which they have been cultivated pruned and fertilized in the nursery. The length of time it takes to grow them largely accounts for the variation in prices of all plants, especially trees and shrubs.

Some of the faster growing trees include American and green ash; American, Chinese and Moline elms; sycamore; thornless honey locust; little leaf linden; cucumber tree; silver maple, sweet gum, and sugar maple. These and others will grow 20 to 30 feet in 10 years. Medium growth trees, growing to about 15 feet in 10 years include Amur cherry, beech, birch, buckeye, Amur cork tree, ginkgo, sour gum, hackberry, hawthorn, horsechestnut, Norway maple, English oak, pin oak, red oak, tulip tree, and black walnut.

Trees that grow less than 15 feet in 10 years include such trees as hornbeam, shagbark hickory, Kentucky coffee tree, bur oak and white oak.

Douglas fir, European larch, red pine, Scotch pine, white pine, Black Hills spruce, Norway and white spruce are among the faster growing coniferous evergreens, reaching a height of approximately 20 feet in 10 years. Some what slower growing are white fir, hemlock, Austrian pine and Serbian spruce.

In subtropic areas of the country, or in fairly warm areas with abundant rainfall such as the West Coast, coniferous evergreens as well as deciduous trees grow much faster. The trees named are some of the primary species largely in the Northern half of the country.

Beethoven Program To Close Out Season

The final concert of the current symphony series will be presented on Sunday, April 25, at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth high school auditorium. Besides finishing out the 1953-54 season the concert will also draw to a close the second annual Creative Arts Festival, sponsored by the Adult Education and Recreation department.

This last concert will be an all-Beethoven program, featuring Miss Evelyn Woods, pianist, as soloist with the local orchestra. The program includes the Emperor Concerto, the performance by the orchestra of the well-known Fifth Symphony, and the Lenore Overture No. 3. Available records show that none of the music on this concert has ever been performed in Plymouth before. It is a proven fact, Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, said, that in this country Beethoven is the most popular of all symphonic composers. His Fifth Symphony, Dunlap added, is probably the best known of all symphonies, especially the short dot-dot-dot-dash theme of the first movement which came to be a symbol of victory during World War II.

Beethoven's most popular and dramatic piano work is undoubtedly the Emperor Concerto, Dunlap said, which Miss Woods will play with the orchestra for this concert.

There is no admission charge for the Plymouth Symphony concerts.

Old Plymouth Fair Drew Crowds for Miles at Turn of the Century

About all that's left of the old Plymouth Fairgrounds is the Fairground, subdivision, Fairground street and a lot of happy memories. For long-time Plymouth residents the Plymouth fairs are remembered as the year's most exciting event and people came from miles around to attend. Perhaps the most vivid memories of the fairs are those of Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd of 207 West Ann Arbor trail, who lived right next door to the old fairgrounds.

The first fair was held in 1884 and the last in 1903—but while they were held they drew crowds from miles around.

All of the property now called the Fairground subdivision was then part of the fairgrounds. The grounds had a high board fence, Mrs. Todd recalled, and there were two entrances to the grounds, one on what is now Ann Arbor trail and one directly in line with what is now Maple avenue. The front entrance, on Ann Arbor trail, had high double gates for the horses and buggies, while the rear one was for the cattle and the entrance for the horses brought in for the races.

"The race track was a half-mile one and was considered one of the very best in the state," Mrs. Todd said. Within the track there was a baseball diamond and the parking area for people to hitch their buggies, from which they could watch the races.

"The grandstand was built on the west side of the track, just about where Joy and Fairground streets meet," she recalled. It accommodated about 500 persons, had a roof over it and box seats along the front. The judges' stand was directly across the track. The band took their places there also so it could play for both the races and ball games.

There were stalls, of course, for the cows, horses and pigs as well as a Midway for side-shows, eating counter, taffy stands and shooting galleries.

The Floral Hall, a large octagon shaped building with four wings, was the wonder of the grounds.

In the center there was a platform to exhibit pianos and organs with someone to play them. Needlework, preserves, farm products and baked goods were all exhibited there, and were awarded their prize ribbons.

Along the fence on the sidewalk side were the two eating halls, Mrs. Todd said, one run by the Methodists and the other by the Baptists. Another building held a display of buggies, surreys and farming implements. And of course there were the choice entries of poultry, rabbits and white mice.

Admission tickets were $1 for the family, 25 cents for single admissions and 15 cents for children under 12. Prizes in the various categories ranged from $1 to 25 cents.

It was the horse races, however, that brought in the money, she told. Purses ranged from $200 for the big money, down to about $50 for the lowest purse. Bicycles were coming into vogue then, so on the last two days of the fair there was a five-mile dash.

Thursday was usually Political Day, Mrs. Todd recalled, and the candidates for different offices were on hand to make their speeches. These were usually delivered between races, for that's where the crowd would be gathered. And there was the Big Dance on Thursday evening in the Penniman Hall with the Harmon orchestra.

In the fair catalogue of 1895 the officers of the fair are listed as T. C. Sherwood, president;

L. H. Bennett, vice-president; F. D. Holloway, secretary; E. W. Chaffee, treasurer; and Harry Cole, marshal.

Children's Day, on Wednesday, was always the big event of the fair, she said, as far as the youngsters were concerned. "On that day the public schools of Northville, Wayne, Salem, Novi Farmington, Dearborn, Canton, Superior and all other neighboring district schools were invited to attend. All children under 15 were admitted free if they were accompanied by their teachers." They would all assemble in the school park and would be led by the band into the grounds at 10 o'clock.

The Floral Hall burned down in about 1902, and for the fairs that was the beginning of the end. They erected a large tent to replace it in 1903, but rainy weather made a veritable mud-hole of the grounds. By the end of the week everyone knew they had seen the last Plymouth fair.

These memories and many more were presented by Mrs. Todd in a paper read before the Plymouth Historical society. The mere fact that her recollections are so vivid alone indicates that perhaps these fairs were Plymouth's biggest event back at the turn of the century.

"His latest book, 'The Silk Stocking,' is a good tale." "Yes, there's a great run in it, I understand."

School Paper Has Birthday On April 15

"Happy Birthday to you," will be the chant of the journalism classes on April 15 when the Pilgrim Prints will celebrate its eighth birthday. On Monday, April 15, 1946, off of the presses of the Plymouth Mail came a new school paper, the Pilgrim Prints, with the editor-in-chief, Freeman B. Hoyer.

Before the edition, the journalism classes had a weekly column in the Plymouth Mail as the Pilgrim Prints, and then with financial help the bi-weekly paper was published for the students of Plymouth high school. The next fall Barbara Lorenz and Dick Palmer were chosen as co-editors. This year the Plymouth paper took International First place Award for the Quill and Scroll as they did the next year with Barbara Lorenz as editor-in-chief.

The next school year Ted Thrasher as editor-in-chief helped the Prints take the same award which Prints repeated in 1949 with Don Houghton as editor-in-chief. Also in 1950, 1951, 1952 the same award was taken by the Pilgrim Prints. All-State Honors were given to the paper in 1949, 1950, 1951. The highest award possible in the Quill and Scroll was achieved by the Pilgrim Prints in 1953 as they received the International Honor which is the highest award the school paper has received. Jacqueline Langmaid was the Editor-in-chief for this year.

This year's editor is Dean Palmer who has guided the paper through a change of form to better suited to a class A school.

Crossed Wires

Brown smothered his wrath and entered the front room. "Are you the electrician?" he asked a man who was tinkering with a lot of wires.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "Been long in the trade?" "About a year." "Ever make mistakes?" "No." "Well, it's all right, I suppose, but the electric stove is playing 'Love Me' and the radio cabinet is burning to a cinder."

The trouble with a lot of us is we have too many irons in the fire and not enough of it in our systems.

Spanish Students Attend Production In Ann Arbor

"Sueno de una noche de agosto," a three act play presented by the Spanish students of the University of Michigan, was the attraction for 19 Plymouth high school Spanish students and their advisor, Mrs. Virginia Calligari, Wednesday, March 31, at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre in Ann Arbor.

The students left Plymouth about 12:15 p.m. and arrived at the Rackham building where they registered for the afternoon. Departing to the Alumni Memorial Hall they saw many interesting arts and crafts articles from Latin American countries.

Following the play the language students journeyed to Angell Hall where they witnessed a variety show.

At 6:30 they went to the Women's League for dinner and then returned to Angell Hall where they boarded the busses and returned to Plymouth.

School Band to Compete In State Competition

"Men of Wisconsin," "The Impresario" overture by Mozart, and the required, "Romantic Tone Poem" by Callieth, will be the Plymouth high bands' selections in the Band Festival to be held April 24 at East Lansing.

Eleven first-division bands will compete in the contest, which will include sight reading of a march and overture. The band, under the direction of Larry Livingston, will leave for East Lansing at noon and will return at 6 p.m.

Alumni Club To Sponsor Sports Fete

At a recent meeting of the newly-formed Plymouth High School Alumni Association it was voted to have an All-Sports get-together the evening of Saturday, May 8. President David Gates states that this all-sports function, which is planned to become a yearly event, will be in the form of a buffet dinner with all athletes and coaches being honored, while others will pay a nominal fee to cover expenses.

It is tentatively planned to have some coaches from the nearby colleges and the university at the dinner along with some sports celebrities from this area. Bill Lyons is in charge of providing entertainment for the program.

The group also voted to give a $50 cash aid award to a deserving student, who has been outstanding in athletics and studies while in high school. A nominating committee was set up to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

Any former athlete at the high school, or any one interested in the promoting of athletics on the local level, or interested in athletics in general is invited to join this group. Dues will be taken by any of the coaches at the high school, or by the officers, David Gates, president; Bob Champe, secretary; or Elwood Elliott, treasurer.

Walking down the street one morning, Willem Mengelberg, the celebrated Dutch conductor, encountered a member of his orchestra.

"My, my, but you look prosperous!" Mengelberg observed.

"How do you manage it?"

"Oh, I'm a busy man," replied the musician. "Besides playing in the orchestra, I play in a quartet, give lessons and perform on the radio."

"Really," rejoined the conductor, "When do you sleep?"

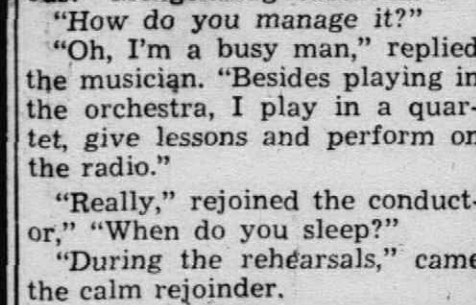

"During the rehearsals," came the calm rejoinder.

Kay Ingram Takes Part In Honor Assembly Held in Battle Creek

"I'd like to thank everyone responsible for giving me the honor and award. I enjoyed my visit to Battle Creek and the opportunity to meet other girls," stated Kay Ingram, who this year was chosen as Plymouth high school's best girl citizen in a contest sponsored by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Saturday, March 27, Kay attended a meeting at Battle Creek honoring all the girls of Michigan who received the award.

Leaving Plymouth at 7:30 she rode to the meeting with Mrs. Walter Hammond and girls representing Bentley, Garden City, Northville and South Lyon high schools.

Upon arriving she met with 271 other girls in general assembly at the Hart hotel where the state winner, seven alternates, and ten honorable mentions were announced. These girls were selected on the basis of a test which each girl wrote before attending. She then boarded a bus for the "Postum Club House" on the Post Cereal factory grounds where she had luncheon. After this she was taken on a tour through the factory receiving a sample box of cereal.

The completion of the meeting was marked by her return to the hotel where she received a certificate denoting her outstanding citizenship in Plymouth high school.

Begin Selection Of Delegates To State Meets

Michigan State college and the University of Michigan will be the destinations of the Plymouth high juniors fortunate enough to be selected for Boys' State and Girls' State.

The two activities usually take place in June. Boys' State is sponsored by the American Legion while Girls' State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

A list of 12-15 students is compiled by the faculty members in alphabetical order and then given to the class advisor who narrows it down. This list is again sent to the faculty members who are asked to signify three in the order they consider them best qualified. The final list contains 10 girls and 8 boys, and is then sent to the sponsors, who in turn present the list to civic organizations. Each organization is asked if it wishes to sponsor a student for the activities and, if so, is asked to choose a name from the list.

Students are selected for the following qualities: good character, mental alertness, and physical cleanliness, vigor, and enthusiasm, and good personality, honest and thrifty, able to get along with others, good sportsmanship and leadership ability.

The purpose of Boys' and Girls' State is to train and develop youth with qualities of leadership. It is designed to create an interest in government as elections on a state level are conducted.

If you happen to be a stout believer in the advantages of a press camera, you have probably discovered that it is just about as versatile a piece of equipment as you can hope to work with. The press type camera can handle beautiful pictorial shots, sports shots, aerial pictures and, if need be, fashion and portrait pictures. The medical industry and scientific fields have long recognized and used the varied talents of this type camera.

Most of this type are equipped with a large wire finder which offers a clearer view of what is going on than can be appreciated through a glass optical finder. In pictures of a sports nature this makes peak action a bit easier to capture.

Some press cameras have the added advantage of being equipped with all movements. The large, by comparison, film used in press cameras can stand considerably more hard usage than lesser-sized film.

We have both giant, rugged equipment and miniature, fine-grain materials. Whether you prefer to work with a 5x7 negative or in 16 mm we can accommodate you down here at THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER. Won't you drop in and let us show you how you can make your GOOD pictures even BETTER.

THE SWEDISH GYMNASTICS class of the Adult Education department played host last week to Dr. Wilma Donahue, left, chairman of the Division of Gerontology at the University of Michigan. Dr. Donahue attended the class taught by Mrs. J. R. Witwer, right, to

Refusing to Eat Gives Child Upper Hand With Family

Feeding problems in children are a source of deep concern to parents. "Yet," says Dr. Benjamin Gross, resident psychiatrist in the University of Michigan's Department of Psychiatry, "it is a curious thing that this affliction seems to be the property solely of the human race."

Why is it that puppies eat well, kittens eat well, even children of so-called primitive areas eat well? The answer seems to be imbedded in the complicated process by which people become civilized.

In fact, states Dr. Gross, there is a strong suggestion what we have involved the eating of food in some sort of "moral plot." We seem to say to our children: "If you eat enough of the food that doesn't taste good, but is good for you, then you can eat a little of the food that tastes good, but is not good for you."

Eating difficulties do exist, and they are very disconcerting to the conscientious parent. But whatever the original cause of the decline in appetite, Dr. Gross says he feels that anxiety and urging on the part of the mother usually makes matters worse.

For one thing, mother should recognize that in addition to possessing an instinct for eating, the child also has the capacity for talking when pushed too hard.

And it can't be very pleasant, Dr. Gross declares, when you're not hungry, to have a giantess hovering over you, eyeing every mouthful with apprehension.

Furthermore, because eating is something which the child has complete control of, he has a very powerful weapon at his disposal. By refusing to eat, for whatever number of reasons, the child has a "big stick." And he can, as most parents know, make the whole family dance to his tune.

Dr. Gross declares, "An attitude which is detached, matter-of-fact or carefree does not allow the child to use his refusal as a means of obtaining special favors and attentions."

But between knowing that they should relax when their child eats and actually being able to relax is a chasm which most parents can't leap. Therefore, Dr. Gross makes a few suggestions which might, if adopted, transform the kitchen as a battleground into a happy kind of playground.

First, the atmosphere of mealtime should be pleasant, not in the same category as brushing teeth or washing behind ears. There should be, according to Dr. Gross a "Hurrah, let's eat," attitude.

Second, serve moderate helpings of food. Just as huge gobbs of food are unappetizing, some small tidbits are tantalizing. In fact, Dr. Gross suggests that the parents might even grumble about the high cost of living when and if plates are passed for seconds.

Third, don't prolong mealtime indefinitely. To curb dawdling over food, father or mother might get up quietly and announce that dinner is over. Collecting plates before the child has finished might have a beneficial effect. "This is not likely to recur often," assures Dr. Gross.

There is probably music in heaven but we can't bring ourselves to believe that it includes the song of the mosquito.

Dr. Donahue Attends Meeting Of Swedish Gym

The final meeting of the current Swedish gymnastics class being taught as a part of the Adult Education program was held on April 1 in the Allen school gymnasium. Guest at the class was Dr. Wilma Donahue, chairman of the division of gerontology of the Institute of Human Adjustment at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Donahue asked to attend a class meeting when she learned that the course was being taught locally. Since her work is concerned with the old age group, she was interested in investigating to see if such exercises might be beneficial to older persons.

Beginning on Thursday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. an additional four weeks of classes will be added to the course. New students may enroll for the additional period by attending the class in the Allen school or by calling Herbert Woolweaver in the Adult Education department.

Mrs. J. R. Witwer is instructor.

Trio Freed After Bond is Reduced

Reduction of their bond has resulted in the release of three youths who were charged with felonious assault after a downtown fracas here March 26.

The trio, Rudolph Aceto, 26, Plymouth, and Ernest Brown, 24, and William Overend, 26, both of Detroit, were bound over to circuit court last week by Municipal Judge Nardino Perlongo and their bond set at $5,000 each.

After being taken to county jail, Circuit Court Judge Ira Jayne reduced the bond to $500 and the three were able to post the amount. They await trial for allegedly striking a Livonia youth with the butt of a rifle and threatening other young people who watched the assault on Forest avenue.

Madonna College Girl Represents Guam in Cherry Blossom Festival

Martha Benito, Madonna college freshman, represented Guam as a princess in the Annual Cherry Blossom festival, March 31 to April 4, in Washington D.C.

On the first day of her arrival in the national capital, Martha attended a luncheon fashion show at the main ballroom of the Mayflower hotel, where Mrs. Richard Nixon, the vice-president's wife, was honorary chairman.

The next day, a dinner-dance, sponsored by the Guam Society, was held in Martha's honor. This Society also furnished the float upon which Martha was seated in the Cherry Blossom parade that took place on the evening of April 1. Seven-year-old Janet Cepeda, Martha's niece acted as her attendant.

Each princess, representing a state or territory, was provided with a military officer escort from one of the five branches of the service, through the courtesy of the National Cherry Festival Committee.

At the Cherry Festival Ball held in the Statler hotel, April 2, Earl Warren, the chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, spun the wheel which announced the queen of the cherry festival.

All Martha's expenses at the festival were defrayed by the Guam society who selected her to represent Guam. The Society was founded in 1950 and has since been supported by big business men in Guam. Membership to the society is open to Guamanian students attending colleges in the United States. The chairman of the society for 1954 is John D. Murphy, a Washington resident who took an interest in Guam while stationed there as an admiral after the World War II. Guam first became eligible to enter the festivities in 1952, when it became a territory. Martha's girl friend, Eloise Johnston, a junior at Trinity college, Washington D.C., was the first princess representing Guam in 1952. Another of Martha's friends, Norma Bordalo, a senior at Holy Name college, California was the 1953 princess representing Guam. Martha's home is at Agana, Guam, where her parents, four sisters and four brothers reside. She has a married sister living in Washington D.C., and a brother in the Air Force, now stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Lions Club to Sponsor Wrestling Show Saturday Evening

Four Match Event Slated At High School Gymnasium

A four-match benefit wrestling show sponsored by the Plymouth Lions club will attract local grunt and groan fans to the high school gymnasium this Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Six professional wrestlers will head the program, proceeds of which go for charitable activities of the Lions club.

Matches on the card are: Bert Ruby vs. Ludwig Man; Danny Ferrazza vs. Al Warshawsky; Prince Hallie Salasie vs. Fuzzy Cupid; and an Australian Tag Match with all six grapplers participating.

Wrestling fans will recognize Ruby as one of the most popular participants in this area. He is noted for the dexterity and strength employed in his feet, which he always uses to the disadvantage of his opponents. The story goes that Ruby as a boy in Hungary went without shoes because his family was very poor. This hardening process later proved valuable in his chosen profession.

Midget Wrestler Fuzzy Cupid always draws boos from the crowd for his aggressiveness and vicious tactics. The 98-pounder stands 40-inches tall and knows the business of wrestling thoroughly. Another colorful wrestler, but very well-liked, is Al Warshawsky. A former officer in the Polish armed forces during World War II, Warshawsky served as a liaison officer in the American army for two years. His sportsmanship makes him a crowd pleaser.

Tickets for the Saturday night event may be purchased from any Lions club member or at Kroger's, Beyer's Forest street drug store and Marquis' Toll House.

Bob Hitt Bowls High ABC Score

Plymouth's foremost bowler, Bob Hitt, turned in some remarkable bowling last week at the national ABC tournament in Seattle, Washington. Bowling for the strong Detroit E & B team, Bob rolled a big 659 score in the team event to pace his squad into third place with a 2950 score. This rating is not likely to hold up as the tournament has a few weeks to go yet, but Hitt's average of 220 for the three games was tops for his team.

Bob also bowled high enough in the singles and doubles to score 1841 in the all-events—a score that will bring him some of the prize-money awarded in this tournament. In the nine games of bowling, Bob averaged 205, which is remarkable considering the top-notch competition and pressure involved in a national tourney.

Bob has been bowling for years in and around Plymouth, and is rapidly becoming one of the foremost bowlers in the country. He has been a versatile athlete, having starred in sports in high school, for the Merchants Inter-county baseball team as a pitcher, and was formerly state champion horseshoe pitcher.

He is employed by the Twin Pines Dairy Products and makes his home in Plymouth.

Plymouth golfers began polishing their clubs this week as the 1954 season opened at the Plymouth Country club and the Hilltop Country club.

Both courses were officially opened last Saturday and both will have new features to show to the public.

At the Plymouth Country club, located at 2900 Powell road, manager Casey Partridge announced that holes 17 and 18 will be lengthened and the par increased. Both holes now have a par four with hole 17 being 299 yards and hole 18 being 365 yards. Their length has been increased to 465 and 495 yards respectively. Par will be five.

Partridge added that he will concentrate on better maintenance this year.

Golfers visiting the Hilltop club house will find the building redecorated and freshly painted. Chris Burghardt, operator of the club, said that he plans not only to have the course in better shape than in years past but will add two new features. In addition to golf, visitors and members will be able to trap shoot and become bow and arrow experts on an archery course.

Burghardt is also planning to set up an archery golf course for wintery sport.

The Hilltop course will be used this summer for the City Golf league activities.

Adult Education Golf Instruction To Begin in May

Fourteen golf classes open to both beginners and advanced golfers will be started early in May by the Plymouth Adult Education department. The six-week course will be taught by Sally Sessions, well-known area golf Pro.

Miss Sessions was the Michigan State champion in 1942 and National Open runner-up to Betty Jameson in 1947. She won the Mexican National Open in 1947, and was the Western Michigan champ in 1945-46. Miss Sessions also holds 17 course records.

She has taught professionally at the Detroit Y.W.C.A., at the Red Run Golf club and at Lilac Brothers Driving Range.

Registration is now open for the courses, to begin at the following times: Tuesday, May 4, at 7, 8, and 9 p.m.; Thursday, May 6, at 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9 p.m.; and Saturday, May 8, at 9:30, 10:30, 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Classes will be given at the Lilac Driving Range at Schoolcraft and Telegraph. There will be a limit of eight students to a class, and those enrolling must furnish their own clubs. Balls will be provided at the range.

Registration for the six-week course may be made by contacting Herbert Woolweaver, director of Adult Education, at Plymouth 895.

The air strength of the United States Air Force is now approximately 12,000 planes.

Thinclads Open Season With Belleville Today

The high school spring sports program is scheduled to get underway today with a track meet on the cinders at the local athletic field with Belleville as the opposition. Neither team has been outside very much so far this spring because of unclean weather, so if the track meet is held today, times and marks will probably be mediocre as far as condition is concerned.

Coach Keith Baughman has a record number of hopefuls out for track this year, but only eight of them won a letter in this sport last year. However, the eight are seasoned performers and they with some promising reserves from last year are sure to furnish many points in meets this spring. Captain Jerry Kelly is back for his last year and should win most of the dash events and provide the spark in the relay races. Jerry placed fourth in the state meet in the 100-yard dash, and fifth in the 220-yard dash in Clays A competition at East Lansing last year. Ron Pagenkopf is the defending 6-B league champion in the high jump and Jerry Swain, a junior, is counted on for many points in the hurdles this year. Russell Mecklenberg is a good broad jumper, Lee Juve a good 440 and relay man, and Lynn Becker and Tom Davis are the best of the distance men. Bob Danol will provide plenty of help in the distance relays. Those are the eight letter-winners.

Five duel meets have been scheduled—one with each 6-B league member. All meets will be held at the Plymouth track, which is the only good track in the league. The league meet also will be held here with Bentley high school in charge of it.

The 1954 schedule is as follows:

April 8	Belleville	Here
April 14	Bentley	Here
April 29	Allen Park	Here
May 5	Redford U.	Here
May 11	Trenton	Here
May 15	Regional	AA
May 22	State	AA
May 27	League	Here

FANCY PITCHES SHORTEN CAREERS
So-called "new fangled" pitching now displayed in the major leagues does not compare with the power hurling of the earlier era of the game, according to Bobby Wallace, old-time pitcher and shortstop, in the first of a two part story appearing in The Sporting News.

He calls the slider "a disappointed curve," and insists that the screwball, employing arm muscles in reverse twist, takes more out of a modern pitcher's arm than do the conventional fast fall, curve and change-up.

"For my dough," says Bobby, "in the big pinch I'd rather have a pitcher out there with the old fire-ball and dizzy twisters than all your modern knucklers and dippy-do artists."

Still, as an ex-pitcher himself, he doesn't want to be too dogmatic about it. "It could be this rabbit ball is bringing in a new theory of pitching," Wallace says in The Sporting News story. "As pitchers know they cannot throw this rabbit ball by the batters for nine full innings maybe the strategy now is based on the hope of fooling the batter by a mere eighth or quarter of an inch. Such a scant margin is enough to result in a high fly on a ball hit above the bat center or a grounder below bat center. It is by such tiny fractions of inches that batters become heroes or bums."

"If there is a slow evolution in the theory of pitching, I'm sure today's variety is playing havoc with a lot of salary soupers. I think it was the late Dr. Robert Hyland of St. Louis who claimed that these stuff pitchers were putting such unnatural strain on their pitching muscles that some careers were being shortened by years."

According to The Sporting News, it is reassuring to Bobby's personal outlook that the great pitchers of today, such as Robin Roberts and Allie Reynolds, are still in the classic Johnsonian mold.

BASEBALL-MAN CRACK-OF-THE-WEEK

The Sporting News credits Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs with the "Crack-of-the-Week." "Only a woman can skin a wolf and get a mink."

MILO JOHNSON GETS FIRST TEST AT 33

Four months short of his thirty-fourth birthday, Milo Johnson is getting his first big league trial—and this with the Detroit Tigers. He is a thin-faced, red-haired right-hander of Viking ancestry, eager to prove that his chance has not come too late, says The Sporting News.

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger manager, plans to give him a shot as a relief pitcher since Johnson has excellent control. Milo has pitched for Little Rock in the Southern Association for the past seven seasons, and, quoting Hutchinson, "Certainly, he has had experience enough."

"The first Florida trial I ever had," said Johnson slyly, "was with the Army at Ft. Drew near Tampa."

"I must've made good in that one. They shipped me to England as a gunner with the 8th Air Force."

YANKEES GO TO GENERAL MOTORS FOR SAIN

In order to get Johnny Sain back, the New York Yankees had to meet two conditions. First, it had to go to General Motors and get permission for Sain to leave his Chevrolet car and truck agency at Walnut Ridge, Ark. Then it had to lift his salary ten grand, to $30,000.

Sain had been warned, according to The Sporting News, by the GM people that, if he wanted to retain the agency, he would have to stay home, and stick to business. Apparently there had been some difficulty during the 1953 season, when John's pitching with the Yankees prevented his personal participation in the business during the season.

SHORT NOTES FROM THE SPORTING NEWS

According to The Sporting News you can look for a trade between Hank Greenberg of the Indians and the Yankees. Hank, huddling with Dan Topping at Miami Beach last week, wasn't talking about Miami's delightful climate. . . Willie Shantz, kid brother of Bobby Shantz, is one of the catchers in the A's camp—and one of the best—unfortunately, he can't hit as well as his brother Bobby. . . Do you know that last season 34 different players performed at third base in the American League? National League clubs employed 26. . . During the winter the Washington Senators turned down offers for Julio Becquer, Cuban first baseman, that ran as high as $50,000 from Cleveland, White Sox and Dodgers. He's only 21 and will be the Washington first baseman in a couple of years, says The Sporting News. . . The catching situation on the Detroit Tigers is so unsettled there are rumors of a switch with Buffalo for Al Lakeman, 34-year-old receiver who failed in three national League trials.

MUTUAL OF NEW YORK

Plymouth's Bob Hitt again came through in the clutch at the national ABC bowling tournament in Seattle, Washington and racked up some remarkable scores to gain high places in the team, singles, doubles and all-events standings. Bob averaged 220 per game in pacing his E & B team into third place in the team event, and averaged 205 for the nine games in team, singles and doubles to gain a 1841 all-events total—a total which was 11 pins more than the national singles champion, Don Carter, could muster, and 22 pins more than Detroit's great bowler, George Young, could get.

Bob is just coming into his own as a top-notch bowler in the United States and should continue to create trouble for the top bowlers in the nation in future meets.

I see that Detroit is rated a 50 to 1 chance of winning the American League baseball title, and that is at the bottom of the ratings. Others have picked the Tigers to finish in seventh place beating out only Philadelphia. Pitching is given as the main reason, and I can't say that I disagree with the experts.

The Tigers have had a miserable training season with the hurling, for the most part, on a sour note. And they will have to rely on untested rookies to provide the spark to win games.

The experts pick the Yankees to repeat, but not as easily as they have in the past, with Boston and Cleveland again to give them the most competition. They also pick the Dodgers to win with ease with Milwaukee, St. Louis and Philadelphia as the foremost threats.

So it looks like another New York Yankee—Brooklyn Dodger subway series unless something happens to upset the early-season dopsters. I think it detrimental to the sport to have a perennial winner, and that goes for any sport, whether it be the Yankees or the Tigers. I'll be pulling for anyone but the Yankees this year.

That last game between the Red Wings and Toronto was a thrill-packed hockey game with the Detroit club winning in the second overtime period. Now they engage the Montreal Canadians in the crucial finals to see which club will win the Stanley Cup, symbolic of the world's professional hockey competition.

At one time I thought the Canadians would win in a close series but I believe this may be the Red Wings turn now. For six years they have run away with the league championship, but only twice have they won the Stanley Cup, and they had great teams all those years. A great defense headed by Terry Sawchuk and some great offensive stars should turn the trick for the Wings, and they seem to have the competitive spirit and the will to win this year. I'll take the Wings in seven crucial games, but they will know they have been through real Stanley Cup finals.

Ron Nyhus, Plymouth's star track and football star of last year, has enrolled at Ypsilanti Normal and is currently competing in the track team. Ron, as a freshman, is Normal's best shot-putter now, and has heaved the 16 pound iron ball over 46 feet already this spring; and that is mighty good for a freshman.

Next fall he plans on going out for football, and should make a great tackle for the Hurons. In high school he was selected on several all-star football teams, and placed fifth in the Class A shotput in the state meet.

The next four years should be eventful ones for the Plymouth lad at the Ypsilanti college and more will be heard about him later.

Marble time is here again and youngsters can be seen pitting their skill against all-comers at the grade schools. Why doesn't someone sponsor a marble tournament? Just think how many kids would enter, and don't think it isn't a skill for it! The young fry, too young for most sports, really go for shooting the brightly-colored marbles.

A few weeks ago I ended my column about Church Bells by saying . . . Perhaps you think I have bells in my belfry, but, if in some little way someone might get an idea which would supply bells to any one or all of our Churches, then my wife's inspiration was good and my time hasn't been wasted . . . Well believe it or not, a local family gave serious thought to that idea, and it is a fact that one of our local Churches is actually being made a gift, in memory of a former citizen, of a beautiful set of Church Bells. Proper Church authorities, who informed us of the gift, will make a formal announcement in the near future.

There seems to be quite some fuss in the making concerning Plymouth's parking meters. Many local people, especially those in the business area are concerned with the effect enforcement of parking regulations are having on visitors to the city.

It might be well to point out that primarily, the parking meter, was devised not as an instrument to provide parking violation fines to city coffers, but as a method to provide more available parking areas for people wishing to shop in local stores.

Presently throughout the country, new methods are being used by municipal governments to punish offenders other than ticketing cars and having the violator, visit the police station, and pay a dollar fine.

Courtesy in dealing with these infractions makes good will for the city and the business firms, who are dependent on the people who own the cars, for the dollars that are rung up in the cash registers of the stores and those dollars pay the taxes.

Overtime parking in front of a meter is not a serious offense and we will mention a few of the methods other communities have accepted, as sufficient punishment for the minor infraction. It is obvious that the purpose of these enforcements is two-fold. First to remind the violator that he actually is using a parking space, which if he would relinquish after a reasonable length of time, could accommodate another shopper, and secondly, the penalty is administered in a painless manner which makes more friends for the community and the stores and yet reminds the violator of the purpose of the meter.

In Kerrville, Texas, a merchant will drop a nickel in the meter, leave a note suggesting you return the money.

In Edenton, N. C., you are fined only a nickel if you pay up within an hour.

In Tucumcari, N.M., you are given a list of traffic "don't" and a ticket entitling you to a cup of coffee in any local restaurant.

In Searcy, Ark., you have a card placed on your windshield reminding you of the violation and asking that you place a dime in the meter before you leave.

City Manager Al Glassford has in his desk samples of cardboard wooden shoes issued by the Holland, Michigan police department to parking violators which say something like this. "Welcome to Holland. We notice your parking time has expired but we are happy you are a visitor to our town. Take your time and be careful about parking too near fire hydrants and street crossings.

And in several towns around the country you are ticketed and when reporting to pay the fine you are asked to drop a nickel in the parking meter which is fastened to the police department counter. The theory being that a gentle reminder is sufficient punishment.

The competition offered by large city shopping centers, which are slowly creeping in this area, make it mandatory that local merchants, city fathers and others do everything in their power to provide more parking and make shoppers feel more at home in this community.

There is no question but that there is a growing movement around the country to take the "sting" out of parking fines and there is no better time for Plymouth to get on the "band wagon" than now.

SPRING SONG

Roger Babson Says ..

BABSON-EXPLAINS BUSINESS CYCLES

Babson Park, Massachusetts, It is sad that men of equal experience and intelligence so totally disagree as to the outlook for 1954. I am one of few who believe that at least the first half of the year will be fairly good.

ARE WE AS WE THINK? Business is partly, but not wholly, a psychological affair. Constructive thinking aids both business health and our physical health. Too many people are optimistic or pessimistic due to their physical condition, to the newspaper headlines, and to what radio commentators say. But these men may guess at their conclusions.

Most people think that stocks go up when there are more buyers than sellers, and go down when there are more sellers than buyers. This is a totally wrong belief, as there can never be a seller without a buyer, nor a buyer without a seller. Stocks go up when people are more impatient to buy than to sell; and stocks go down when people are more impatient to sell than to buy. The same principle applies to general business, real estate, sales, and even wages. The impatience to buy, or to sell, determine prices. Impatience to buy, followed by impatience to sell, followed again by impatience to buy, causes Business Cycles.

HOW TO MEASURE

No one as yet has discovered how to measure mass impatience. Photographers claim they can do it by photographing and studying the faces of the people on the streets, or in stores, or at public gatherings. Physicians claim they can measure the relative impatience of their "patients" who call upon them. The Dow-Jones theorists think they can determine the relative impatience of people by a study of their charts; but I have never found any chartists who became rich by such a study! Statisticians hope that the mechanical brains being developed by the International Business Machines Corporation, or Remington Rand, or National Cash Register Company will solve the problem. I, however, have more faith in the work of Dr. Ernest Furchtgott, Professor of Psychology, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Our brains, hearts, and other organs are constantly sending out electrical waves; perhaps our entire body is sending out such waves. It is entirely possible that our impatience, ambition, self-control, worries, courage, and even spiritual factors (which are forces that make for prosperity or depressions) could be ascertained by studying the electric waves or chemical compounds which our skin is constantly throwing off. If it is possible to diagnose individuals individually, we should be able to diagnose a community en masse. I forecast this will be done some day, first analyzing the Ph of the sputum of the group.

A FINAL THOUGHT

Television broadcasting stations are now sending waves into our homes. By studying the faces of speakers, when unconsciously in repose, it may be possible to know their character and attitude toward life. This was well illustrated by Senator Estes Kefauver's Crime Hearings which were shown two years ago on television. Now let us assume that a leading broadcasting station temporarily shut down daily for two minutes and that every public group becomes a sending station and broadcasts its own bodily waves, greatly amplified in power. These could be collected by this broadcasting station, which could temporarily become a receiving station. If these mass waves can be interpreted, it should be possible to forecast business conditions with accuracy, barring an unforeseen catastrophe.

If the combined analysis of all sections showed the nation to be frightened and impatient for security only, then a business decline may safely be forecast. So long, however, as these people are throwing off optimistic waves or normal skin reactions, then continued prosperity can be assured. All authorities could then agree as to the future. From the poll of 970 leading newspaper publishers which we took in December, we concluded that less than 5% of the people were then discouraged. Hence, we cannot now be pessimistic about 1954.

Editorial

IT MIGHT SAVE A LIFE

By Sterling Eaton

Last week's outbreak of violence on Forest avenue should be the cause of alarm to parents of all of Plymouth's "teen-age" children. Plymouth's busiest daytime shopping center, after dark when the stores are closed, has for many months been becoming a center of hot-rod activities and a congregating place for hoodlums from other cities who look for excitement in any area where they can have the freedom to do as they please.

The local police department is well aware of the problems created by these visiting "hoods" who are for the most part over 20 years of age. The police have had numerous complaints from local residents and even the city manager, on business one evening, was placed in a dangerous position by two drunks, when he attempted to upbraid them, for the obscene language they were using to two girls they had accosted.

Businessmen in the area can point, almost any morning, to broken whiskey bottles and beer cans strewn over the parking areas in the locality. Local residents who are already aware of the seriousness of the conditions have already forbidden their own children from visiting the locality after dark and we think this a most disparaging situation which needs immediate attention.

We, like many other local citizens, have observed members of the local police department cruising the streets of our city during the day with two policemen in a car. This is not Detroit, and we have no areas where anyone needs to travel by twos in the city during the day even if to prevent violence.

It is our suggestion that the police schedule be rearranged so that during the day only one policeman is scheduled for patrolling in a car. From seven in the evening until midnight it is necessary perhaps that two patrolmen go together to this area and start an immediate program of enforcement which will take the pleasure out of the visits of the young hoodlums and provide for our citizens the proper respect to which they are entitled.

Judge Nandino Perlongo, some time ago, made it evident that his court was ready to act to the limit of the law to meet out punishment for infractions of this kind. Certainly the business houses on the street would be more than pleased to have this undesirable element scattered to some other community.

Why should Plymouth, with its peace loving citizens, long recognized as one of the best places in Michigan to have a home and raise children now be faced with a cancer which is already out of hand, as reported last week?

It seems only proper that the police department take every possible step to bring about an immediate solution to this problem if it means the stationing of four or five police on the street each night until it no longer is considered a haven for these peculiar individuals.

This is not an indictment of the police. They may not have all the necessary personnel needed to do the job, but it is a demand, that some action be taken to prevent some more serious incident than the gun waving of last week in which local sons, of well known families, were injured. If Chief Carl Greenlee needs more men to do the job then the City Commission should provide them immediately. We certainly do not want the blood on our hands for not calling this matter to the attention of all local civic authorities.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Allemen
 Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n

Morals, money and medical care, all matters of basic importance to Michigan family life, have been under consideration at this session of the Legislature.

Most spectacular issue was the McCune bill, designed to censor beer and wine advertising on TV. Explosiveness of this issue was demonstrated by the frantic handling it received in the House of Representatives. The bill was killed by the House Liquor Committee. At the last minute, after thousands of letters from church and temperance groups swamped the House, it was suddenly revived and put out for a vote.

After much hedging and many letters on both sides of the beer-TV issue, Representatives passed the proposal. The House, in relieving itself of immense pressures on this controversy, merely turned them in the direction of the Senate.

The McCune bill died in Senate Committee by one vote margin—but only with the understanding that a resolution would be forthcoming in its place. This is to "serve notice" to the beer industry that it faces legislative regulation next year if its TV commercials are not redesigned.

Far from settled is the liquor question. More will be heard of it before next year. At least two Michigan counties, Hillsdale and Ottawa, will be voting this fall on a complete ban of alcoholic beverages.

Edgar C. Prettyman, executive secretary of the Michigan Temperance Foundation and a leading supporter of the McCune bill, referred to the legislative battle as "a shot in the arm" for our campaigns. "People everywhere, including many so-called 'wets,' are fed up with the behavior of the liquor industry," he said, "and unless the liquor people get their house in order, prohibition will come back."

Defeat by a two to one vote was predicted by James D. Dorsch, executive director of the Michigan Table Top Congress, who stated that the dry issue would fail. The Table Toppers is a group of tavern representatives. Mr. Dorsch claims that the McCune controversy benefited the group "because it brought to the public just what the Temperance Foundation methods are." "It's only a name," he charged. "Their real aim is total prohibition—we'll beat it handily."

Several counties will go dry within the next 10 years predicted Dr. Prettyman, who pointed to six Michigan counties already dry on Sunday. They are Isabella, Tuscola, Oceana, Muskegon, Ottawa and Newaygo.

The prohibition issue was defeated at the polls in three counties since 1933: Branch, Barry and Lapeer.

Few situations are so distressing to a family as the need of medical care and the inability to locate a doctor. A House resolution requesting an investigation into the Basic Science regulation as it relates to the shortage of doctors has been under consideration in a House Committee.

Introduced by Rep. Ben E. Lohman of Allegan, the proposal would provide a committee of five Representatives which would submit a report for the next session of the Legislature. Its aim is to determine if present law permits the state to utilize all available medical skill—not to consider a change in present medical requirement standards says Rep. Lohman.

Fate of this proposal will not be known until last days of the session since it is then that the Resolution Committee usually reports out resolutions. Adrian deBoom, Owosso, is chairman of that group.

Probably more bitter words were exchanged on the Legislative floor about unemployment benefits than about any other subject this year.

This is a matter that concerns every household faced with loss of income should the "breadwinner" be laid off or released from his job.

Final outcome on this matter may not be decided until the last day of the session. There has been talk that recess or more time might be required to settle the issue, but a great attempt will be made to conclude by the April 9 date.

Biggest fights about unemployment compensation developed within the ranks of the Republicans themselves. Democrats took great delight in the wrangling and in the threat Gov. Williams has maintained over the GOP.

The argument concerns the amount that should be allowed each week; details of eligibility to receive claims. Although Michigan's rates are considered to be among the highest in the nation, there is strong pressure to increase them. Present rate here is $27 per week, up to $41 with dependents. Ohio pays $30 and $35. Average payment in Indiana is $24 per week. Kentucky pays $28, nothing extra for dependents.

Strength in the Governor's position is the possibility that he might veto a bill containing payments too low to suit him; then call a special session of the Legislature. With a fall campaign coming up, politicians want to be home as much as possible drumming up votes.

A second thought that gives Republican leaders cold chills is Williams' threat to make an unemployment formula part of the Constitution by proposing an amendment at the fall election. This would encourage many voters presumably Democratic, to visit the polls. And while they were voting for the Williams proposal, it can be assumed that they would vote for many Democratic candidates.

Both chambers stuck their necks out. The Senate passed the Teahen sponsored unemployment bill, which was described by opponents as "written by big business" and "full of gimmicks."

The House junked this bill and came up with one of its own which omits some controversial points and sets higher minimums: $30 per week for 26 weeks; $43 for a man with four or more children.

Wisdom and fairness of the legislature in dealing with these problems of alcoholic beverages, medical care and money for jobless workers, all of which have such a direct bearing on family life, is likely to be considered by family people a standard for the way lawmakers deal with other problems more remote from the home.

Mrs. Keith Baughman, with the help of daughter Linda, begins preparation of her tuna loaf.

Delicious Tuna Loaf

A tuna loaf with cream sauce is not only a perfect dish during Lent but it also is excellent to serve for company at any season. Mrs. Keith Baughman of 1124 Carol street has a wonderful tuna loaf recipe which certainly meets both of these qualifications.

- Tuna Loaf
- 1/4 pound fresh or 4 ounce can mushrooms
 - 1 tablespoon butter
 - 1 cup soft bread crumbs
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup cream of chicken soup
 - 2 eggs
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 - 1/4 cup pimento
 - 2 1/2 ounce cans white tuna

Slice and drain mushrooms and cook gently in butter for 10 minutes. Mix soft crumbs with milk and soup. Add well-beaten eggs, salt, paprika, pimento, tuna and cooked mushrooms. Mix well. Pour into buttered bread loaf pan 5 1/2 by 9 1/2 by 2 3/4 inches deep) and steam bake by setting pan containing loaf in a larger shallow pan containing about 1 inch of water. Bake from 1 to 1 1/4 hours at 250 degrees.

When baked turn out on a platter, slice in one inch slices and cover each serving with cream sauce. A wedge of lemon covered with finely cut parsley may accompany each serving.

Cream Sauce

- 4 to 6 tablespoons butter
- 4 to 6 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups milk

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add cold milk slowly, stirring constantly. Remove from heat for a few minutes and stir to prevent lumping. Return to heat and cook until thickened—10 minutes over direct heat or 20 minutes over hot water.

Mrs. Baughman said that a few pieces of finely cut pimento and sliced olives may be added to give a festive appearance.

Spring Symphony Ball to Benefit Society's Music Scholarship Fund

With an eye toward building up the scholarship fund of the Plymouth Symphony Society a Spring Symphony Ball has been planned for Saturday, April 24, in the Plymouth high school auditorium. The scholarship fund helps to send deserving students interested in music to college to further their educations. Last semester three received the scholarship grants.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Margaret Hough, has secured the popular Sammy Woolf and his orchestra to provide the music for dancing. The seven-piece orchestra is well known to many local people for its work in many Detroit club spots.

Sammy Woolf, vocalist leader, and his aggregation has performed at the Bowery and Four Dukes clubs in Detroit as well as over station WMCA radio in New York. Featured with the band are pianist Hal Gordon, who is seen regularly in the Statler Terrace Room, trombonist George Green, formerly with Clyde McCoy and Paul Whiteman, and vocalist Jean Lawrence of Detroit's Penobscot club.

The Ball, the first to be sponsored by the Symphony Society in the spring, will be part of the annual Creative Arts Festival at the high school. The Symphony Orchestra will present its final concert of the current season at the conclusion of the Festival, Sunday, April 25, in the high auditorium. Dress for the dance will be optional.

Tickets for the Spring Ball may be obtained at Beyer's Rexall Drugs on Forest avenue, at the Mayflower hotel, at McAllister Brothers Grocery, from Symphony board members or committee members. Serving with Mrs. Hough on her committee are Harper Stephens, William Sliger and Harry Draper. Board members are Mrs. Wilson Augustine, Gerald Fischer, Mrs. M. J. Huber, Mrs. R. E. Mills, Ralph Pocklington, Jack Taylor, Mrs. Clifford Tillotson and Harold VonBergen. Mrs. William Congdon, Mrs. Roy Jacobus, Mrs. Howard Raafaub and Mrs. Elvin Taylor also have tickets for sale.

Among other things a young man doesn't learn until after the honeymoon is over, is that he did all of his talking during the courtship.

Novel Bridal Shower Stars Meat Cookery

For a novel courtesy for the bride give her a "Meat Cookery" shower. With meat the center of her meal, this is one shower sure to be greatly appreciated and long remembered.

First consider the needs for cooking meat by dry heat—roasting, broiling, panbroiling. For roasting, the bride needs a shallow roasting pan with a fitted rack. To have the roast cooked to the exact degree of doneness desired, she will want a roast meat thermometer.

Her range will provide the necessary equipment for broiling. However, a handy piece of equipment is a small size broiling pan with a rack or grill—perfect when broiling for two. In pan-broiling, a heavy frying-pan is desirable. This, also, may be used for pan-frying.

Likewise, this same frying-pan when fitted with a tight cover may be used for cooking by the moist heat method, braising. In preparing stews and large cuts of meat completely covered with liquid she needs a Dutch oven or other deep utensil fitted with a close cover. A french fryer will give her the necessary equipment for deep-fat frying.

Baking cake? Be sure to place the cake in the pan in the center of the oven rack, so the cake will rise evenly.

Plan Variety Breakfasts for Added Interest

In a nationwide breakfast study it was shown that only 1 per cent of the meal planners of America say they put any thought into planning breakfast. Since breakfast nutritionally is as important as the other two meals of the day, it should have the same careful advance planning.

Baked Egg and Wheat Flakes
3 cups wheat flakes
1/2 cup grated American cheese
4 eggs
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup cream or top milk

Combine, wheat flakes and cheese. Arrange in 4 shallow, individual ramekins or baking dishes. Break an egg in each ramekin on wheat flakes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour 1 tablespoon of cream on each. Bake in an oven 350 degrees about 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Popovers
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/4 teaspoon salt

Beat eggs until light. Add milk and butter. Stir in flour sifted with salt. Beat until smooth (not more than 1 minute, with electric beater). The mixture should be like heavy cream. Add more milk if necessary. Fill buttered muffin pans one-third full. Bake 20 minutes at heat 450 degrees. Reduce heat to 305 degrees and bake 20 minutes.

Boiled Eggs with Cheese Sauce
Boil eggs 10 minutes, so that the white is firm but the center still creamy. Shell carefully and cover with hot cheese sauce.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Corned beef.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It comes from the beef brisket. This boneless cut is light red in color due to its cure.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By cooking in liquid. Cover meat completely with water in a heavy utensil. Place cover on meat and let it simmer until tender—40 to 50 minutes per pound.

Easter Bunny Rides Again

Pretty and Spring-like—that's the way your Easter dinner table should look! And with easy-to-get crepe paper and laundry bluing (the kind that comes in bead form) you can easily make a gay crepe paper chariot like this for your Easter eggs! The effect is different as can be seen in the illustration.

Wagon: Cut a strip of light green crepe paper 12"x12", and against the grain. Stretch it full length... then, with fingertips, pinch lightly every few inches. Smooth out slightly. Brush paste over back of an 8" paper plate and cover with the prepared paper, pressing into place. Paste extending edges of paper on other side of plate.

Take a fold of light green crepe paper, just as you buy it, and without unfolding, cut a 2 1/2" strip from one end. Open, and then refold into 8 layers. Pin along one side to hold in place, and cut other side into fringe 2" deep. Keep strip folded and dip tips of fringe into Easter Blue. Open strip and allow to dry. Make a loose roll of crushed white tissue paper long enough to go around edge of plate. Wrap fringe around tissue roll, overlapping closely as you go, so that no tissue shows, and fringe is full. Paste so that a circle is formed all around edge of plate.

Wheels: Cut two 11"x1/2" strips of cardboard. Paste together, leaving about 1" unfasted at both ends. Bend these ends in opposite directions for tabs. Cut two 4" circles of cardboard and cover both sides with light green crepe paper. Bind rims of wheels with 1" wide strip of light green crepe paper, which has been cut crosswise of the paper fold... stretching paper and pasting as you go around. Paste tabs to wheels and paste strip underneath plate.

Trimming for Wheel: Cut a strip of orchid crepe paper 1 1/2" wide and across grain of paper. Fold in half lengthwise and twist, pasting to edge of wheel as you twist. Repeat the twist around center of wheel with orchid crepe paper, and put a tiny twist in center of each wheel.

*Easter Blue: Mix to a creamy consistency 1 cup bead-form laundry bluing with a quarter cup of water.

Buy Easter bunny and chick cutouts to complete the decoration.

Try This Famed Beef-Kidney Pie

Beef and kidney pie is an old English favorite. Here is a recipe for this famed dish. Either beef, pork, lamb or veal kidney may be cooked with the beef cubes. When the meat is tender it's slipped in a biscuit-lined casserole, topped with a biscuit crust and baked.

cooked meat and gravy. Cover with additional biscuit dough. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 30 minutes or until brown. 8 to 10 servings.

Biscuit Dough
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt

4 to 6 tablespoons lard
1/3 to 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead gently for 1/2 minute. Pat or roll 1/2 inch thick.

Beef and Kidney Pie
1 pound beef, pork, lamb or veal kidney
1 pound boneless beef, for stew, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 1/2 cups water
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour
Water
Biscuit dough

Wash kidney, remove tubes and cut in pieces. Place in saucepan and add 1 cup water. Cover and cook slowly about 45 minutes or until tender. Brown beef cubes in lard or drippings. Add 1/2 cup water, cover and simmer 30 minutes. Combine beef and kidney. Season. Thicken gravy with flour mixed with water to form a smooth paste. Line a baking dish with biscuit dough. Pour in Never press woollens completely dry. Use a well-padded smooth board and a moderately hot iron. A too-hot iron makes the fibers brittle. Always stop pressing while the garment still is damp.

Slips for This Spring Are Cut To Adapt to the New Silhouette

True to the spring fashion form, slips have adopted all the new silhouettes. In frilly and tailored styles, there are gored princesses, high-waist empires, figure-hugging sheaths and even dome and belled silhouettes.

Generally, there is an unusual emphasis on slip styling. Molded midriffs, high bosoms and luxurious embroideries mark spring designs in nylon crepe, nylon tricot, plisses, polished cottons, nylon taffeta and rayon blends. There is a new nylon and Dacron mixture which makes a more opaque tricot. Fabrics are softer and more supple.

1954 slips show a wider use of shadow panels to offset translucence. Empire style slips are often paneled from the bustline down. Petticoats have front and back or all 'round panels. Lingerie is newly colored in bright pastels or widely spaced prints. Lined bodices appear on camisole slips and nightgowns. Fabrics underlays on sheer tops and hem ruffles make them completely opaque.

Slips and petticoats to enhance bouffant skirts have stiffened taffeta underskirts, tiered ruffling and flouncing above the hem. One princess style slip has a nylon taffeta skirt. Others are sheathed for a molded hipline and flounce just above the hem for a bell effect.

To keep the hipline bulkless, new panties keep their trim as flat as possible. Lace edging is slim and light. For the most part eyelet embroidery inserts on each side and low relief all-over embroidery have replaced ruffling. Exceptions are can-can panties, preferred under bouffant skirts, featuring tiers of ruffles in back.

Nightgowns, pajamas and shorties come in cool, comfortable fabrics.

ELECTRIC RANGE

Mrs. Harold Dietrich often goes hunting with hubby. On one trip she got this cookie recipe from Mrs. Murphy, a lodge cook. When Mrs. Dietrich bakes these cookies in her electric oven she knows that they'll be ready in minutes—always golden brown and perfect.

Why be an oven pecker... or a lid lifter? Your electric range can do your watching for you—and better than you can. Surface-unit and oven temperatures are scientifically controlled. There are no guesswork adjustments. You simply snap a switch to the exact heat needed and walk away. Be sure! Be modern! Cook electrically!

"MRS. MURPHY'S" COCONUT COOKIES
Temp: 425°F. Time: 8 min.
1 cup shortening 1 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 cups brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon soda
1 egg 1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups pastry flour, sifted 1/4 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
1 cup coconut

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add egg and beat until light. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add to first mixture. Add oats and coconut. Mix well. Roll into balls, place on ungreased cookie sheet, flatten slightly. Bake. Cool slightly before removing from cookie sheet.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

THIS COLONIAL LIVING ROOM has a feeling of warmth and charm all its own. It could easily represent the epitome of comfortable, relaxed, informal living. It is perhaps the focal point in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Graff, E. Hutton River Drive, between Plymouth and Ann Arbor. The walls are panelled in knotty pine. Bruce, ranch plank, oak flooring and the hand-hewn, fir ceiling beams carry the colonial motif. The old-fashioned, brick fireplace and simple, colonial furnishings are other important features. Materials were purchased through Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. William Fehlig & Sons, Plymouth, was the builder.

Colored Fixtures Dominate New Bathroom Planning

Increasing popularity of colored plumbing fixtures was reflected in the displays of manufacturers unveiled to the nation's home builders at the recently-held tenth annual exposition of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago.

Plumbing fixtures—bathtubs, lavatories, and water closets—are available in a wide range of styles, sizes, and prices, and in such colors as pink, blue, green, yellow, suntan, ivory, and gray. All standard fixtures are available in white as well, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out.

Evidence of good bathroom planning was to be seen at every hard in the Chicago home builders show, for fixture manufacturers were intent on showing just how more and more convenience can be built into the space for a given installation.

For instance, one manufacturer had an exhibit showing how two complete bathrooms can be installed in a space just ten feet square. The installation comprises two separate powder rooms, and a third room containing the bathtub with overhead shower fitting.

The room with the bathtub and shower serves each powder room, combining with either to make a complete bath. The three rooms can be completely closed off from each other, permitting

Look Into Future In Selecting New Home Check Construction, Cost of Maintenance

What do you have to know to buy a new home? Certainly you should be able to judge the quality of construction and to decide whether the house layout best suits your requirements for comfortable living.

It would also help if you could know how much the home is going to cost to maintain, and how much of the maintenance will depend on you in the next five years. Then you could see whether your budget would support the home and your family without undue strain.

Fortunately, you don't have to be a soothsayer or a prophet in order to figure out some of the answers for yourself. If you look at the construction and materials objectively, not being influenced by the frills that attract the average buyer, you can predict with reasonable accuracy whether your maintenance bill will be high or low.

For example, how are the sub-floors laid and supported? If they're tongue-and-groove and laid on diagonal you can almost be 100 per cent sure you won't be troubled with squeaking floors. Likewise if the girders are supported by steel posts, no more than a post length apart, you can be reasonably sure you won't be bothered with sagging floors.

Heavy traffic areas in the kitchen, bathroom and entrance halls should be covered with durable, easy-to-clean materials that won't wear out in two or three years.

Check the weight of the shingles used on the roof. If they're under 200 pounds a square you can probably count on replacing them in ten years.

Hair line cracks in the plaster of a new home don't indicate any serious defect, but cracks that extend over an entire wall and go all the way through the plaster indicate structural defects that may lead to expensive repairs, and soon.

Are the outside walls covered with a material that will need repainting every three years, or with a material like insulating siding that requires no painting or staining during its life on the house?

Speaking of sidewalls, it's important that they be insulated the same as the attic, if you want the fuel bills to stay at a reasonable level.

Consider some of these points when you're appraising your future home. If the answers are favorable, you can buy with reasonable assurance that the cost of maintaining it will stay within your budget and it will be a source of happiness for the entire family.

House Preparation For Painting Told

Actually, the painting of your house does not begin with the painting. It starts with the proper preparation of surfaces. As it is quite logical to expect, the final result can be only as good as its foundation. The surfaces on which the paint is to be applied must be sound, smooth and rust-free.

To make sure that all surfaces are absolutely clean and smooth, all loose dirt should be removed with a dusting brush, all rust on metal surfaces should be completely eliminated with the aid of a wire brush and steel wool. Even slightly roughened surfaces should be smoothed with sandpaper, and all cracks and holes should be filled with putty or other suitable material.

Prospective home owners will welcome the money-saving features in this comfortable ranch style design. Every inch of space is used to best advantage in this lovely square-shaped home. The structural design is planned for standard lengths of lumber and window units to give maximum beauty for each of your building dollars. The U-shaped kitchen with cheery nook and the compact utility room are important features:

For the homeowner who cannot enjoy the advantages of a whole bathroom done in Carrara glass, there are now separate Carrara units which can be placed in the most advantageous places in the bathroom.

Of course, it is applied only where its durability and resistance to water and steam, and its surface which is so easy to maintain, can be of the best possible use. This would mean the areas around the tub, the lavatory splash panel and the 14-inch high base. These glass panels are easy to install with the step-by-step instructions, and they come in a variety of decorator colors to please anyone.

In a completely different vein, have you seen the new swing out broilers in the Magic Chef range? Time was when broiling was one of the least used of all cooking methods—probably because it was cumbersome and trays were hard to clean. Actually, broiled meals are quick and easy to prepare and they certainly provide new taste thrills. In the Magic Chef the broiler unit is located on the same height as the oven, swinging out when you open the door. It's easy to get at and does the job perfectly.

Color Makes House Taller

To make this ranch-style home look larger than it really is, the color designer relied on pastel roofing and siding in a blending color. Exterior colors, as indicated by numbers, are: The roof (1) is pastel russet asphalt shingles. Sidewalls (2) are coral. Trim (3) is light gray, and the accent color on the door (4) is peacock.

For this small contemporary dwelling, the illusion-creating colors are: The roof (1) is brown asphalt roofing. Siding (2) is a blending light brown. Trim (3) is off-white. The accent color (4) is willow.

Your house will appear taller and wider than it actually is if you take advantage of the extra dimension of color.

Light-color asphalt shingles are well suited to modern one-story houses because they draw the eye upward, emphasizing height and creating an impression of importance. Because the roof usually is the largest unbroken area of a house, it is the key to the whole color plan. The roof color should be chosen first.

The next step is to choose harmonizing siding, also in a light color. To emphasize the bright roofing and siding, doors should be in dark, contrasting hues. This gives much the same effect as wearing a dark tie with a light-colored suit. The illusion of greater size will be increased if trim paint matches siding.

Look for Plants That Have Beauty the Year Around

Trees and shrubs have many qualities that the home owner sometimes ignores when planting the home property.

Although all trees and shrubs are interesting all year, some are more so than others at different seasons. Some of the qualities to look for in plants that will help to provide beauty during the whole year are, according to the American Association of Nurserymen, as follows:

1. Beautiful blooms: there are many exciting blooms in the flower world. This often is the sole reason for purchasing certain plants. Schedules include such plants as roses, spirea and forsythia; trees such as flowering crabapples, flowering plums, golden chain, magnolias, acacias where they are hardy, etc. There are of course, many other flowering shrubs and trees.

2. Fragrant flowers: the perfume of some flowers is outstanding. Included are roses, lilacs, certain viburnums, weigela and numerous others.

3. Interesting bark: color runs from white to gray to red. There are such trees and shrubs as white birch, dogwood and beech (gray); certain varieties of maple, dogwood, or roses (red); kerria (green), or certain willows (yellow), and numerous others. Coniferous evergreen bark often is very attractive.

4. Fascinating foliage: such as certain azaleas and dogwood (green in summer, red in fall); coniferous evergreens, which keep their color all year; broad-leaved evergreens, such as hollies, rhododendrons, camellias, etc.

5. Colorful fruits: all edible fruits are attractive, including the whole group of crabapples. There also are many striking berryed shrubs and trees, such as pyracantha, winterberries, holly, dogwood, yews, snowberries, and others.

Your local nurseryman can advise on various shrubs and trees that will have several of these characteristics that make them interesting for more than one season.

Scientific Facts About Alcohol

1. Alcohol is a depressant narcotic drug and not a stimulant. This can't be too often repeated and this scientific truth has many social implications.

2. The effects of alcohol are almost entirely, if not wholly, to be explained by its toxic damage to the central nervous system, the brain and the spinal cord. Compared with this, its other effects are minor. Because of this, it interferes with the relations of man to his fellowmen. The thing that distinguishes man from the brute are these higher faculties which alcohol dulls or destroys.

3. Alcohol is not properly describable as a food that forms a part of any wholesome diet. It has only a very limited food value. The body cannot retain or assimilate it, therefore it cannot repair or assist the development of the body nor can it be incorporated into any human tissue or organism. It can only replace heat by its uncontrolled oxidation within the body.

4. The life-saving reflexes of the body are retarded from five per cent to 10 per cent by amounts of alcohol too small to be socially appreciable, and in amounts far smaller than can ever be defined under the law or by the police as indicating "intoxication." It slows the very automatic nervous mechanism that we need to protect ourselves from damage or some forms of bodily danger.

5. Evidence is indisputable that there is no form of human activity, so far tested, which does not show inferiority of performance as the sequel to the ingestion of alcohol. This has been experimentally demonstrated in the psychological field by Benedict and Dodge, and by Miles.

6. There is no evidence that human health is improved as a result of the use of alcohol. The normal human being is not benefited in any way by alcohol at any age.

Think these things over. They cannot be disproved, because they have been scientifically proved.

Seeding Time Here for Lawns

Make your lawn seeding as early as possible this spring. Seedings made after May 1 are apt to be poor because the weather may be hot and dry and annual weeds will cause trouble.

That's a suggestion from C. M. Harrison of Michigan State College's farm crops department. Harrison says that Kentucky bluegrass grows best on soils that are high in organic matter and fertility and located in sunny areas. But if you have sandy or clay soil low in organic matter, red fescues may be the best bet, especially if the lawn is shaded.

Using the recommended turf grass seed on your lawn may try your patience for the first couple of months, admits Harrison, but the result will be better than you will get from using the so-called nurse grasses like redtop and ryegrass.

The M.S.C. specialist advises grading the lawn carefully before seeding with the best soil on top made into a fine, firm seedbed. A high nitrogen fertilizer like 12-6-6, 10-6-4 or 10-10-10 at 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet should be spread just prior to seeding.

He also suggests that one to two pounds of seed per 1,000 square feet is enough. If you don't use a seeder, it's a good idea to hand sow half of the seed while walking in one direction, then sowing the other half in the opposite direction. You also can get better distribution by two-direction seeding with a seeder. The same thing can be done with the fertilizer. After seeding, the ground should be raked lightly or rolled to cover the seed.

Work Begins May 7 on $100 Million Bridge over Straits of Mackinac

Construction of a bridge over the Straits of Mackinac to link the two peninsulas of Michigan will be underway officially May 7, when the first earth will be turned for the project, which will cost just short of $100,000,000 before its completion in the fall of 1957.

The earth-turning ceremonies will bring on a two-day celebration at which downstate guests from Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids will pour into the straits region by special trains, led by state and national figures invited to participate in the rites at St. Ignace on May 7 and a repeat performance at Mackinac City the following day.

Planned as the culmination of Michigan week, the affair will be occasion for parades with floats and bands, street dances and a gay carnival spirit, with St. Ignace, the upper peninsula terminal site of the new bridge, and Mackinac City, the lower peninsula terminus, trying to outdo each other in the festivities.

Mrs. Prentice Brown, wife of the chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, will break the ground at St. Ignace and Mrs. Charles Fisher, wife of the vice chairman of the authority, will do it at Mackinac City.

Dates of the ground-breaking ceremony were determined recently after a check for $96,400,033, realized from the sale of bonds for the bridge, was delivered to Chairman Brown.

The bridge project actually was first visualized more than a half century ago, but serious thought for its construction took shape only about 20 years ago.

Legislation for appointment of the Mackinac Bridge Authority was enacted by the Michigan legislature eight years ago and since then engineering and traffic surveys were instituted and a study of the project made to determine the feasibility of the bridge.

Plans finally gained official approval during the past four years and since then the floating of a bond issue to be redeemed by bridge revenues has been worked out. Sale of the bonds was strengthened when the legislature authorized a maintenance fund for upkeep of the bridge. Michigan supreme court added a final touch to the project by handing down a decision in which it ruled that the procedure for financing the bridge was constitutional.

The Mackinac Bridge will be the longest in the world over water, although the main span of 3,800 feet will be 400 feet shorter than the span of the Golden Gate bridge in California. Two side spans will be 7,400 feet in length, approximately 1,000 feet longer than the west coast structure.

From a point in West Michigan at Mackinac City to a point a half mile west of St. Ignace in the upper peninsula, the bridge will be 26,185 feet long. Clearances from the water will range from 135 to 150 feet under the main span and from 20 to 84 feet under the approaches.

Engineers of Merritt-Chapman and Scott corporation of New York, builders of the structure, have announced the bridge will be opened Sept. 1, 1957, allowing approximately 41 months for the construction. Engineers have been on the scene several months, sounding and laying out a work schedule for the start of the huge project.

Work on the bridge will not interfere with the fleet of ferries operated by the Michigan highway department for transportation of travelers between the two peninsulas.

There are five ferries in service, operating on a continuous schedule throughout the year, transporting several thousand motorists and passengers daily. By ferry, the trip across the straits is about nine miles, requiring a 50-minute trip under normal conditions, but the trip between the two peninsulas will be made in approximately 10 minutes via the new bridge.

KIT CARSON AND EL TORO will appear in the World's championship rodeo at Olympia Stadium, April 20 through April 25. They are among 100 cowboys and cowgirls participating in the 25 numbers of the program. In addition to the rodeo championship events such as bareback bronco riding, bucking bronco riding, steer bulldogging, calf roping, and wild Brahma steer riding, there are trick riding, marksmanship feats, Indian ceremonies, plus clowns and trained mules on the All Star variety program. There will be matinee and evening performances all six days.

A Quick Thinker

"Mrs. Biggs" said the new boarder at breakfast. "Who owns those ferryboats I tripped over coming down the stairs just now?"

The landlady shot him a fierce look.

"Ferryboats, indeed," she cried. "I'll have you understand they're my shoes."

The boarder smiled uneasily. "I didn't say ferryboats," he hastily replied. "I said fairy boots."

Crazy is the fellow who tries to figure out whether a what-you-call-it is more like a doodad than a thingumbob is like a gadget.

Many a wife has to talk turkey to convince her husband he is the one to bring home the bacon.

Vaccinate Pigs To Fight Cholera

A fresh flareup of hog cholera in most swine-producing areas this spring, with millions of dollars more losses to farmers, was predicted here today by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

"Records indicate that the virus of this worst of all swine killers has been left in thousands of rural areas by outbreaks of last year and earlier," the Foundation's warning said. "An amount of virus that could rest on the point of a pin could start a fresh cholera flareup—that's how powerful this agent is."

Authorities pointed to several highlights in this spring's fight against cholera:

1. Vaccination of pigs in advance of an outbreak provides the only proven protection. Thus, all swine should be vaccinated before the peak cholera season begins.

2. Different types of vaccination are recommended under varying circumstances. The type to be used should be determined by the local veterinarian.

3. Cholera can be confused with other diseases, such as erysipelas, so any swine sickness that looks like cholera should be diagnosed promptly, and neighboring farmers should be advised of it.

Moving of Industry from Big Cities Brings Fire Problem to Small Town

Small town industries face new problems of fire protection in the movement of manufacturing plants out of the larger cities.

In this decentralization trend, says John Reid, commissioner of the Michigan Department of Labor, some firms don't consider the available water supply, fire protection and other safety matters.

If these things are not available in the smaller town, Reid said, the industry should develop its own.

The state labor chief spoke at the Michigan Industrial Fire Safety Conference at Michigan State College last week. He was one of a number of industrial, governmental and insurance company representatives on the program.

Fire is a necessary tool in almost every branch of industry, said Allen L. Cobb, safety engineer, Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y.

"It's almost inevitable," he said, "that from time to time industry will have small accidental blazes."

"Our job is to prevent those little fires from becoming big ones."

Cobb said the attitude of industrial personnel toward factory safety can constitute a real fire hazard.

He told of a case in his own company where one supervisor, who considered certain safety regulations as "so much red tape," indirectly caused a costly fire in 1951 because he disregarded the rules.

Factory personnel, he said, all the way down the line must have a real desire to prevent fires no matter how well you've "established regulations on paper."

In planning fire protection, Cobb said, "let's assume that sooner or later a fire will start."

then provide the means for keeping it under control."

Governor G. Mennen Williams said the fire which destroyed General Motors' Livonia transmission plant on August 12 last year was the basic reason for the conference.

Such a fire could still happen in many Michigan plants, he said. On the social level, the governor said, the cost of fires is impossible to compute, adding that 255 persons were killed in blazes in the state last year.

Touching on the decentralization of industry, Williams said, when factories move to the suburbs they may escape city taxes but they may also escape adequate fire protection.

Complete cooperation among safety organizations, insurance firms, governmental and industry itself are essential to industrial fire safety, he said.

Most fire disasters are caused by failure to follow safe principles or outright violation of fire codes, said Fred McLean, safety manager of Soco-Vacuum Oil Company, Detroit.

"The problem is not one of more codes," he said, "but more willing compliance of those living under the codes. This is largely an educational job."

The conference was the outgrowth of a committee named by the governor last October, following the Livonia fire, to study ways of preventing another such disaster. W. O. Hildebrand, secretary-manager of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, is chairman.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The great Lakes' 276-ship ore-boat fleet is looking forward to a slow, easy season this year, conservation department geologists report.

In most recent years, the carriers started their runs from western Lake Superior ore ports to southern Great Lakes' industrial centers as soon as the ice went out, generally about April 1. Then operations continued full-tilt until mid-December, when ice would force a halt.

This year, however, the fleet will not start operations until April 20 and the bulk of the ships will wait until May 1 to start their runs.

Also, the present outlook indicates their work will be done by mid-November.

Ore stockpiles at southern industrial ports are still high and fewer furnaces are operating this year.

According to one steel industry publication, lake ports on March 1 still had about 36 million tons of ore stockpiled, enough for about five months operation. On the same date last year, the same ports had about 30 million tons piled.

Also, in 1953 at this date, 192 steel furnaces dependent on ore from the western Lake Superior region were in operation in the U.S. At present, 147 are in operation.

A record of nearly 99 million tons of ore was taken from the Lake Superior region last year, supplying more than 80 percent of the total U.S. output. The total was so high, the boats were able to halt operations in late November rather than mid-December as is customary.

This year, the boats expect to cut back their total haul to about 80 million tons for the entire season.

"It is, in fact," commented the industry's "Steel" magazine, "the first time in the last 15 years that the carriers haven't been operating on an emergency or near-emergency basis."

Foreign imports, however, are expected to increase this year, and by 1955 will be about double the 10 million tons imported by U.S. firms during 1953. One reason given for this increase in view of the general cut back is to keep in reserve the strategic short-route ore reserves from the Lake Superior region.

Nearly everybody likes to eat fish, it appears, including even the fish themselves.

Also in Michigan—along with many humans and most gars, bowfins and carp, all of whom apparently enjoy piscatorial delicacies—are at least two types of amphibious critters, three reptile types, eight bird types and three varieties of mammals that prey on fish populations.

State fisheries workers recently published a brief summary of the habits of 19 of the predator types—not including humans or so-called game fish predators, such as the pike family.

In preparing the list, called "Michigan Fish Predators," the fish specialists examined the stomach contents of each predator type—again excluding humans and game fish—to determine the amount and kind of fish eaten.

The study shows the long-nosed gar likes fish the most. He makes up nearly 99 percent of his diet from fish types.

Second on the list is the American merganser, which makes up 97 percent of his diet from fish types—when near trout streams. When on lakes, he has to supplement a 90-percent fish diet with crayfish and insects.

The great blue heron gets 93 percent of his diet from fish types while the watersnake claims fourth place with 83 percent.

The otter, generally cussed and discussed with disgust by human anglers as being the most outrageous trout consumer, holds only a shaky fifth position with a diet containing 62 percent of fish.

Most of his fish, too, are forage types, while about 20 percent are game fish.

Although all the predators are to some degree destructive to water life, they also help game fish by keeping lakes and streams from overpopulation and by removing weak and dying fish.

The amphibious predators include mudpuppies and bullfrogs, while reptile fish-eaters include snapping turtles, watersnakes and garter snakes.

Along with mergansers and herons as bird-type fish predators are bitterns, ospreys, kingfishers and the bald eagle and joining the otter in the mammal class are the mink and raccoon.

Copies of the list are available free while they last from the conservation department's fish division at Lansing, 26.

Despite there still being traces of winter lying across many parts of Michigan, the summer season in state parks is already well under way.

About 250,000 persons have visited parks to date this year, and some managers report bumper to bumper traffic on weekends.

The four leading areas will probably also finish in the top half dozen parks at year's end; as of last weekend, Grand Haven led attendance with 52,000 visitors, Holland had 48,000 and Waterloo and Highland recreation areas had each registered about 35,000.

Parks workers are busy setting out picnic tables and readying other facilities for the rush of spring visitors expected when warm weather seems ready to make its annual pause in the state.

Dairymen Trim Production Costs

What are Michigan dairy farmers doing to face up to the drop in dairy prices to 75 per cent of parity?

They're trimming costs of production as much as possible, says George Parsons, a Michigan State College extension dairyman. Parsons asserts that his talks with farmers at extension meetings have revealed these things:

Farmers are getting more conscious of expenses which may be unnecessary. Some figure they are feeding more grain than necessary. That means more interest in and greater use of high quality roughage—brome-alfalfa hay with at least 50 per cent of the legume, good quality corn silage with lots of grain of good legume silage.

And, the extension dairyman reports, farmers are cutting down on the purchase of protein supplements, figuring that they will be able to furnish all their cows may require through good quality hay and homegrown grains.

The home-conscious farmers also are cutting down on what they believe may be unnecessary mineral buying. They're sticking with steamed bone meal and trace mineral salt—either including it in the ration or feeding it free choice.

Parsons says he believes that the farmers' cost consciousness will go a long way toward easing the price-cost squeeze in the dairy business.

A Concession

Sandy was learning to play the bagpipes. One night, while he strutted about the room, skirling for all he was worth, his wife attempted a mild protest.

"That's an awful noise you're making," she said.

Sandy sat down and took off his boots then got up and resumed his piping in his stocking feet.
