

"He Is Risen, As He Said"

By Senior Major H. J. Nicholls
The Salvation Army

The chilling blasts of winter are being moderated by the south winds; the sun is making its northward journey, and the singing birds, the swelling buds, and the bursting flowers remind us that spring is here, and the temporary reign of death in nature has passed.

This is nature's testimony to the spring which awaits the children of men after the winter of death. Every radiant blossom which has worked its way up from the cold dead soil of winter is a smiling prophet of the Resurrection. And so each spring brings to us Easter with its message of resurrection and life. The greatest festival of the Christian Church is the glorious Eastertide. It does not come just to remind us that Jesus Christ died and arose again many years ago, but it comes to tell us that Jesus still lives. This is the trumpet call of Easter, "Jesus lives" hallelujah, "Jesus lives."

In order that this message of life may fill our hearts with true Easter joy let us meditate upon the words, "He is risen, as He said." As the golden sun was about to rise and cast its first beams over the city of Jerusalem, three women were hurrying to the sepulcher, they are identified as Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome. They were carrying spices to embalm the body of Jesus. As they approach, they remember with dismay the huge stone at the door of the sepulcher. Who would help them move it? And as they looked from a distance, they saw that it had been moved. Then they ran, and with fear and trembling entered the empty tomb, there to be greeted by an angel from heaven, who greeted them with the words, "Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

He is risen, this is the wonderful message of life which is being proclaimed today in sermon and in song, in church and homes and over the air, in the lands of peace and in the lands where people living in fear of death are looking for hope and assurance of life.

Everywhere that the Apostle Paul went he preached the resurrection of Christ. The heathen knew no such doctrine. The Jews disputed about it. The Sadducees denied it altogether. For these reasons the converts to Christianity from among either the heathen or the Jews found it difficult to adopt and receive the doctrine. But for this very reason Paul announced the resurrection as a fact beyond all dispute and preached it with all earnestness. He proved it from prophecy, from the testimony of eye-witnesses, and from his own personal inspiration, and showed it reasonable from the analogies of nature. Paul said, I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day. Job said, For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. In His resurrection we have the divine proof of His deity: "He has declared Himself to be the Son of God with power by His resurrection from the dead," says the Apostle. "He is risen, as He said."

What does Christ's resurrection prove to us? It proves that we worship a living Lord and not a dead prophet. A Mohammedan once boasted to a missionary that his religion had something that Christianity could not show. He said, "When we go to Mecca, we at least find there a coffin, but when you Christians go to Jerusalem, you find only an empty grave." To which the missionary replied: "That is just the difference—Mohammed is dead, but Jesus Christ is risen from the dead, He lives."

In His resurrection we have the proof that He will be our Guide, Guardian and Helper in time of need, for now He can and will be with us always, even unto the end of the world. As the good shepherd He will give us a shepherd's care, making us to lie down in green pastures and leading us to the still waters. "He is risen, as He said," therefore we rejoice and praise God triumphantly, saying with Peter the Apostle: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to His abundant mercy hath begotten us again to a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you.

Recommend Junior High Construction

Recommendations that the Plymouth township school system construct a new junior high building and adopt a "6-3-3" organizational plan, were made by a survey committee at the April meeting of the School Community Planning group last week.

The report was delivered after many months of work by the six-member committee which visited area schools to determine what type of building organization would be best for Plymouth. The recommended "6-3-3" plan would place the first six grades in elementary buildings, grades seven through nine in a new and separate building and the top three grades in the present high school and junior high building.

Plymouth now has a "6-2-4" organization with grades seven and eight forming the junior high. But forecasts of overcrowded conditions in the junior high has prompted the School Community Planning group to study the idea of additional classroom construction.

There are several organizational combinations which first must be considered, the planners discovered. It could be possible to add seventh and eighth grade classrooms to the present elementary buildings, thus leaving the junior high building for future high school expansion. Or the present junior high building might be expanded, leaving no room for future high school expansion.

The survey committee reported three basic recommendations:

"1. We recommend that Plymouth schools adopt the 6-3-3 plan of organization.
"2. We recommend the building of a junior high school to accommodate at least 1,000 pupils, said building to be completed by September 1956.
"3. We recommend that the junior high school be located where it will be at least one mile from the nearest school or shopping center.

"After a visit to five school districts which have a population equivalent to the Plymouth public schools, it is the belief of our committee that the most economical way of providing an enriched curriculum for the adolescent youth of our community is through the 6-3-3 plan of organization."

The report recommended the geographically separated school to "lessen the hazards of inter-group contact." "If you had your way, would you have the 7th and (Continued on page 8)

Petitions Available for Candidates In Two-Seat School Board Election

With two vacancies occurring on the Plymouth Township Board of Education this year, a deadline of May 15 has been set for candidates to file their nominating petitions, it was announced this week by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister.

Expiring July 1 are the terms of Mrs. Maxine Willoughby and Warren Smith, both elected to their first terms three years ago. Both Mrs. Willoughby and Mr. Smith said this week that they EASTER IS A BIG DAY for the big family when they get all dressed up to join the Easter Parade to church early Sunday morning. A preview of their new togs was given by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Zak of Schoolcraft road as the girls tried on their new Easter bonnets and son Dana experimented wearing his new jacket. After getting all fixed up the children stood for inspection by their mother while baby Cynthia registered awe of the whole proceeding. Shown here, left to right, are Dana, 6, Pamela, 5, Deborah, 3, Mrs. Zak, and Cynthia, three months.

Letters Destroyed In Mailbox Fire

A half dozen letters dropped in a mailbox at William and Blunk streets last weekend met a strange fate which has both the post office and fire departments guessing.

Firemen received a call at 7 p.m. Sunday reporting that smoke was pouring from the letterbox. A fireman arrived on the scene a minute later and found the report to be true. Instead of pouring a lot of water in the slot, the fireman used an extinguisher and then called post office officials.

Opening the box, postal authorities found the charred remains of four letters, two other letters still readable, and a snake. It is believed that youthful vandals had placed the snake in the letterbox and then threw a match inside.

Postmaster George Timpona said this week that anyone mailing a letter in the box after 2 p.m. Saturday and before 7 p.m. Sunday would have to rewrite their letter.

School Board Approves Trial Driving Course

Approval of a non-credit, after-school driver training course was given by the Plymouth Board of Education at its Monday night meeting.

Driver training was offered in the high school in the late 1940's but was dropped after enrollment for the course dipped because of apparent lack of interest.

The safety sub-committee of the School Community Planning group recently recommended that the course be reinstated and it is because of this recommendation and a survey among students that the school board has agreed to offer the course on a one-year trial basis next fall.

It was the high school newspaper, "Pilgrim Prints," that polled high school students to determine how many would be interested in the course if it were offered after school with no credit. There were 395 students in the upper four grades claiming they would take the course and 102 stating they were not interested.

Superintendent Russell Isbister said that the board will now have to select a faculty member willing to take on the job with extra pay. He will first be required to (Continued on page 8)

X-Rays Reveal Possible T.B. Cases Here

Of the more than 9,300 people who participated in the recently completed chest X-ray campaign, only 88, less than one percent, were asked to report to the Wayne County Health department or to their private doctor for a large X-ray, according to the Tuberculosis and Health society.

This means that 99 out of every 100 persons who had their chests X-rayed during the Plymouth campaign completed here last month, received a "clean bill of health."

According to information released by the health department, 57 Plymouth residents have responded by having their follow-up X-rays. Of these, 21 were classified as possible active cases of tuberculosis. One case appears to be in the far advanced stage of the disease.

"It is important to themselves, their families and the community that the 31 people who have not had their recommended follow-up X-ray, to do so immediately," the T. B. and Health society urged. A Wayne county public nurse will visit families where a case of T.B. is found. She also sees to it that persons suspected of having the disease obtain the necessary examination.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce was local sponsor of the Chestmobile visit here with Sam Hudson as general chairman.

Small Boys Do Part For Easter Drive

Two Plymouth youngsters did their part last week to help the Easter seal drive for crippled children—and at the same time proved that plain, old fashioned honesty is still inherent in the modern youth.

A junk pile behind West Bros. Appliances held the same attraction for Robert Carley, 10, and Arthur Gulick, 8, as it has always held for small boys. Coming across a number of Easter seals, the boys discovered a dollar bill among the discarded envelopes. They took the money to Earl West, proprietor of West Bros. Appliances and also chairman of the Plymouth Easter seal drive. West sent the dollar, along with another one in the names of the two boys, to the original destination.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carley of 561 Deer and Arthur's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Gulick of 543 Deer.

Extinguisher Court Dispute Lost by Chief

A friendly "test" court case to determine if Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister could legally disapprove of a certain type fire extinguisher was heard in municipal court last week with the decision going in favor of the city's heating contractors.

Although Judge Nandino Perlongo's decision was to dismiss the case, the hearing concluded that the fire chief would not be able to require the heating contractors to abandon installation of a fire extinguisher which the chief terms as "deadly."

The city's new heating code requires a one quart, Underwriter's approved extinguisher to be placed near any new oil furnace installations. The only type one quart extinguisher on the market is a pyrene extinguisher containing carbon tetrachloride which the fire chief claims is in the same class as chloroform. Even experienced persons can be "knocked out" by the fumes, or even killed, McAllister said.

The chief sent a letter to local heating contractors asking that an approved four-pound dry chemical extinguisher be used. Heating contractors didn't like the idea of using a more expensive extinguisher so it was decided to make a "test" court case of the dispute. To bring the case to court, heating man William Otwell deliberately violated the code by not placing any extinguisher in a new furnace installation. Both he and Chief McAllister took the stand during the court questioning.

Judge Perlongo dismissed the ticket against Otwell "due to a conflict between the fire chief's orders and city ordinance."

Chief McAllister says that he plans to attempt having the heating ordinance changed by city commissioners.

Tax Valuations Up $1 Million

Value of real estate and taxable personal property in Plymouth has jumped over a million dollars during the past year, according to figures released this week by City Assessor Kenneth Way.

In a report to the city assessor from the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation, the taxable real estate and personal property now has a valuation of $14,894,590. Of this amount, $10,499,160 is real estate and $4,395,430 is personal property valuation.

In 1953, real estate was valued at $9,786,980 and personal property at $3,979,560, making a total of $13,766,540.

Way explained that four reappraisals accounted for much of the increase. They were Dunn Steel Products, Allison garage, Selle, Buick and Consumers Power company.

Evelyn Woods to Be Piano Soloist With Orchestra in Final Concert

Pianist Evelyn Woods

The final concert of the current symphony season, devoted to music by Beethoven, will feature well-known local pianist, Evelyn Woods. The concert on Sunday afternoon, April 25, will mark the seventh time Miss Woods has appeared as soloist with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

Miss Woods is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music with a piano and teacher's diploma. While at Juilliard she was the student of two of the greatest artists of the music world—Olga Samaroff Stokowski and Carl Friedberg. She was awarded a scholarship each year during her 10 years of study at Juilliard.

The years between her debut in Toledo at the age of five and moving to Plymouth in 1946 were filled with recital tours from Los Angeles to New York. She also did radio work, guest appearances with orchestras and recitals in the Detroit Art Institute. Last winter Miss Woods was piano soloist with the Flint Symphony orchestra, playing Chopin's "E Minor Concerto."

Intensely interested in all phases of music, particularly in music education, her chief endeavor is toward helping young people to appreciate the Art of Music and to stimulate their enthusiasm for learning and listening to music.

For her Sunday concert Miss Woods will play Beethoven's "Emperor Concerto." The program will be completed with Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and the Lenore Overture No. 3. Wayne Dunlap, symphony conductor, stated that none of these works has been performed previously by the local orchestra.

Experienced Cast to Give Theatre Guild Play

A considerable amount of experience in dramatic productions is represented by the cast selected to appear in the Theatre Guild production of "Mr. Barry's Etchings" on April 27 to 29 in the high school auditorium. The three-act comedy is directed by William Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills.

The Guild is presenting the play in cooperation with the Plymouth Kiwanis club to raise money to benefit the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin. This will be the fifth play given jointly by the groups.

C. Veach Sparks, who heads the cast as Judson Barry, also appeared in "January Thaw," "Two Blind Mice," "I Like It Here," "John Loves Mary" and "Blithe Spirit," all with the local Theatre Guild. For the last two seasons Sparks has appeared at the Will-O-Way playhouse.

Effie Kuisel, who will play the role of Mrs. Taylor, is a charter member of the group. She has appeared in "John Loves Mary" and "Two Blind Mice." Judy Sechlin, who plays Evelyn Taylor, was the daughter in "January Thaw" and is active in Northville high school plays.

Maude Laury, music teacher in local elementary schools, will play the part of Cary Stanwich. She also had roles in "Two Blind Mice" and "I Like It Here."

Marilyn Bird, as "Fifty Ferris," recently moved to Livonia. She is a former student of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and has had three seasons with the Detroit Civic players. She has also played for two seasons with the North Rose-dale Park Civic Association.

Warren Worth, past president of the Kiwanis club, formerly appeared in "Two Blind Mice." His role in "Mr. Barry's Etchings" will be as Sawbuck Sam. Mabel Dicks, who will be Mrs. Griswold, is a veteran member of the group, having appeared in "January Thaw," "Two Blind Mice," and "John Loves Mary."

Jack Wilcox has appeared on television in Merrill productions, and with the local Theatre Guild in three plays. His part will be Sam Jordan. Jim Mitchell, as Tom Crosby, was a speech major at Michigan State college. While at State he toured with the Children's Theatre. He is now personnel manager at Barnes-Gibson-Raymond.

Lydia Argo, as Daisy, has also appeared on several occasions with the local group, and John Lodge, as Marvin Pritchard, first appeared last fall in "Lo and Be-hold."

Newcomers to the group are Fred Bird, who will recreate the role of Kenneth Plumkett, and Judy Laury, who will play Charlene.

Tickets for "Mr. Barry's Etchings" are currently being sold by Theatre Guild members, Kiwanians and Girl Scouts.

Pleads for Careful Burning of Rubbish

"Stay with that burning rubbish!" was the warning issued again this week by Fire Chiefs Bud Holmes of Plymouth township and Robert McAllister of Plymouth.

A new rash of grass fires has broken out during the past week with the aid of dry weather, but due mainly to the neglect of householders, the chiefs stated. Nearly all grass fires are started when persons burning rubbish leave the scene before it has burned out.

There is no direct financial loss when a citizen summons the fire department, the chiefs point out, but it costs the local government between $50 and $100 for the average fire run (no matter how small the fire) after volunteers are paid and depreciation is figured.

"By all means, call the fire department if there is a fire," the chiefs add, "but try some simple fire prevention first."

Theft of Hubcaps Brings Arrests

Two 18-year-old boys are being held in city jail on a disorderly persons charge after allegedly taking hubcaps off a car parked on Kellogg street Tuesday night.

The youths, one from Plymouth and the other from Plymouth township, will be heard by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo and will be liable for a fine up to $100 or 90 days in jail if found guilty.

Police said that the hubcaps were taken from a car belonging to Arvids Vruwink, 575 Kellogg, and that a neighbor across the street saw the two youths near his car. The neighbor, Keith Campbell, reported a description of the car belonging to one of the boys and the arrest was made shortly after.

Creative Arts Festival to Show Handicraft of Local Residents

Two new exhibit categories have been added to the host of displays to be offered in the second annual Creative Arts Festival to be held in the high school from April 23 to 25. The festival combines handicraft exhibits, a Symphony Ball and concert, a square dance festival and Theatre Guild rehearsal.

New exhibits are hand wood-working and carving, headed by Hugh Means, and weaving, with Mrs. Manley Smith as chairman. Mrs. Smith will put on an actual demonstration of her art.

The festival will open on Friday, April 23, at 7 p.m. so that those attending may see the handicraft done by local residents. The Theatre Guild rehearsal of "Mr. Barry's Etchings" under director Bill Merrill will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

Saturday's program includes exhibits which will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and again from 7 to 9 p.m. A Spring Symphony Ball in the auditorium at 9:30 p.m. and a square dance in the gymnasium will be held concurrently to meet the different tastes.

Exhibits will again be open to the public from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday but will close before the beginning of the final symphony concert at 4 p.m. The concerts are open to the public without charge.

Displays to be shown in this year's festival are china painting, drawing and water colors, flower arrangements, hand-made ceramics, hooked rugs, leather carving and tooling, metalcraft and jewelry, millinery, molded ceramics, oil painting, photography, sewing and tailoring. Articles exhibited will be ones not shown in last year's Arts Festival.

Information and guide service at the festival will be furnished by the American Association of University Women and Girl Scout troop 2. Girl Scout troop 1 will be in charge of the check room.

Ruckstahl Jr., Livonia; Francis J. McMichaels, Wayne; James Huff, Wayne, and William Butler, Livonia. The show to be held on May 13, 14 and 15 will cover six acres of building space and will contain the handicrafts and work of the 10 Detroit Council districts as well as several outlying Councils.

Scouting Exposition to Be Put On By Detroit Council Districts

The mammoth Scouting show, scheduled for May 13, 14 and 15, at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, described as the "Greatest Exposition of its kind in the World," will cover over six acres of building space. More than 20,000 Boy Scouts will actively participate in 450 exhibit booths.

The Exposition is being presented to give members of the Detroit Area Council (largest in the world with a registered membership of more than 60,000 boys and leaders) opportunity to show their families and friends and other people of this area some of the many skills which Scouting offers.

Cubs and Explorers, representing the more than 40 municipalities which make up the local Scout Council's chartered service territory, have reserved booth space to show their varied skills. The exhibits cover many of the arts and crafts, recreational and educational activities which Scouting uses to develop better citizenship and character-building ideals.

Scouting starts with Cub Scouts at 8. At 11, the boys become full-fledged Boy Scouts and at 14, automatically become Explorers—with emphasis on vocational guidance opportunities, advanced Scouting skills and service to the community.

The Detroit Area Council, which includes Plymouth is made up of 45,000 boys and 15,000 adult leaders. It is the largest and oldest character-building service made possible in the Metropolitan Detroit area by contributions to United Foundation's Torch Drive and other sources.

Advancement done in the Scout Troop includes merit badges which are awarded for excellence in more than 100 technical skills. The Exposition will demonstrate the variety of these skills. Cubs, also, have their advancement program of home-centered skills, achievements, hobbies and crafts, and many of these will be on display at the Exposition.

All of the 10 districts of the Council's area will be represented. In one district alone, the exhibits will cover such widely diverse activities as coin collecting, aviation, gardening, leathercraft, canoeing, gun safety, history of the flag, automobilism, and 30 other subjects. Animal life includes several collections of pets and conservation animals also riding horses and pack burros from the D-Bar-A Ranch, Scouting's newest camp at Metamora, Michigan. Participation of two of Windsor's finest Scouting Groups will add a real international flavor to the affair, and many nearby Councils such as Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Port Huron, Flint and Monroe, are sending large delegations to see the show.

Nicholas Kelley, Jr., Secretary of the Chrysler corporation, as general exposition chairman, heads a group of prominent business, and professional men and industrialists who are directing the huge affair. Other prominent citizens on the exposition committee include Louis C. Goad, G. M. executive vice-president; Walker Williams, Ford Motor vice-president; R. T. Johnstone, vice-president, Marsh and McLellan; Ray R. Eppert, Burroughs corporation, executive vice-president; Mike Novak, president of the CIO council; and Findlay Allan, executive secretary, Detroit Building Trades Council of the A.F. of L.

Letter to the Editor

To the Public Letter Box:

I'm out of school now, but I'm still a teenager who wants to know how the police expect to stop large crimes when they don't even take an interest in petty ones.

The people who are interested in keeping us out of trouble provide recreation, but we aren't going to keep going to those few places and have our belongings stolen.

Monday evening on April 12, I was playing Badminton at the Plymouth High School and when I started to get my purse, it was gone. While we were looking for it, another girl's purse was taken. I didn't have anything of value, to much extent, except to me; such as my keys and drivers license. I reported the theft to the police and was told to get another drivers license. They were really interested, but they couldn't stop yawning.

If the police would quit driving around looking at the scenery and the city council stop worrying about whether they're going to make the next election and spend more time learning how teenagers tick, they'd lose a lot of future criminals.

We all aren't bad if you give us something to do, and we're just as ashamed of those who are as the rest of the people.

But I think the ones who ought to be ashamed are the CITY COUNCIL, THE POLICE AND QUITE A FEW ADULTS OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH.

Yours truly,
A teenager

Easter Lily Sale By Rotary Anns Brings In $533

The Easter Lily sale held last Saturday boosted campaign funds with contributions totaling $533 for the benefit of crippled children and adults. The sale is held annually by the Rotary Anns as a part of the Easter Seal drive. Despite the rain more than fifty youthful workers under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Westover, assisted by Mrs. James Hardimon and Rotary Anns, kept to their stations all day in order that crippled children would have funds for needed services to enable them to live happier lives.

Although their task was a long one in such wet weather Mrs. Westover said that they thank the citizens of Plymouth for their generous donations for the artificial Easter Lilies which are made by homebound handicaps.

Mailing campaign chairman, Earl West, reports contributions of $1210 have been received from the more than 6000 appeal letters mailed to residents at the beginning of this month-long drive which ends, Easter Sunday, April 18.

"With a goal of $4000 to be reached before the drive ends all those who have not mailed in their contributions to this humanitarian cause should endeavor to do so during this Easter week," urged West. "Even a small donation goes a long way when one is in need of continued services by the Easter Seal Society."

All funds go to the Wayne Out-County Chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which furnish case findings, transportation to treatment centers and clinics, therapy and educational assistance, and sponsors a day camp and fellowship club for senior handicaps.

Grange Gleanings

Now tonight really is Grange night. There was a mistake in last week's notes, but we hope no one was inconvenienced by it. The Grange meetings are always on the first and third Thursdays with the pot luck supper at the first meeting of the month. Those who intend coming to the anniversary dinner must have their reservations in by April 15. Send by mail or telephone to Mrs. Vealey, 1852-R.

The celebration preparations are moving along very well, Louise Tritten is general chairman; Anna Nash, chairman of the kitchen; Ethel Grammel; chairwoman of the dining room. Each of them have others in charge of the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. Swegles and Mr. and Mrs. Tritten are the reception committee.

The hall looks wonderful now with the new paint, floor refinishing and everything. So come and enjoy it with us. Every member is urged to attend the anniversary if possible. Let there be any misunderstanding about the cards that have been sent out perhaps a word of explanation may be in order. Cards were not sent to any of the members who were present at the last Grange meeting as their reservations were given at that time. Cards have been sent to the old time members, to members who have not been present at the Grange meetings, and to state officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Vealey were up to Salem Sunday to see Amy Northrup who is convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Knowles Bueers. We are glad to report that she seems to be feeling fine.

Twenty-one members of the Lily club were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mettatal at their home at Oakland Lake on Monday evening. A splendid pot luck supper was served about 7 p.m. Then cards were played until about 10:30. It was a very pleasant and enjoyable evening.

Garden Club Holds Luncheon for Guests

The annual luncheon of the Plymouth Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association on Monday, April 12, was a very successful event. The club's guests were the Rosedale Gardens and Northville Branches. Speaker for the event was Professor J. C. Hays of Michigan State College. Professor Hays, described as a "very humorous speaker," told the members and their guests of the wonders of the dairy cow. The Triple Trios of the Plymouth high school also appeared on the program.

Mrs. J. C. Roberts, president of the Michigan division, and Mrs. Cash Talbot, assistant national treasurer and Michigan division treasurer, attended the meeting to discuss plans for the state convention to be held in Detroit and Plymouth later in the month.

Two Drilling Permits Issued

Two drilling permits were issued last week by the Michigan Department of Conservation as oil drilling activity in the Salem and Northville township areas slowly started to move into high gear.

Highway load limits still delayed the movement of some of the heavy equipment into the area, holding up drilling operations. W. C. Taggart of Big Rapids has taken out a permit for drilling on the farms of Ivan Dickinson and Paul Knapp located at 95400 Napier road. This site is less than a mile northeast of the only flowing well in the region located on the Roy LeMaster farm on Napier road. Taggart will be permitted to drill to the Trenton formation which is found at about 4,400 feet.

Also taking a permit last week was the Evans Oil company of Detroit. It is located on the William Lemon farm in Salem township at 9536 Seven Mile road. Evans has permission to drill to 5,000 feet.

Color Television Set in Plymouth

Color television arrived in Plymouth last week and the first appliance dealer in the state to place a set on sale was West Bros. Appliances, 507 South Main street. Owner Earl West said that although sets had been displayed before, none had been released for sale until last Friday.

"We were at the distributor's in Detroit Friday when the sets were made available," said West. He indicated that, although the set is for sale, his main reason in ordering a color set now was to enable his service department to become acquainted with the more complex chassis of color. As soon as a schedule of color programs is available, West plans to announce the dates for public showings.

Zoners Schedule Public Hearings For Next Week

Public hearings on two rezoning proposals and a request to change the name of a street will take place next Thursday before the city planning commission.

Consideration of the street name change will be given first hearing when the session opens at 7:30 p.m. in the commission chambers at city hall. At the request of the Dunn Steel company, the portion of Hardenberg street west of Starkweather avenue is to be renamed "Dunn street" should there be no objections.

It is this portion of the street that leads to the new Dunn Steel Products plant on Cherry street. The proposal would allow the portion of Hardenberg east of Mill street to retain its present name, it being named after a prominent early Plymouth family.

At 7:45 p.m., a public hearing will take place on a more controversial issue. It is the request to change Chesapeake & Ohio railroad property north of Junction street from R-2 classification to an M-1 class. It was a year ago that the same request was rejected when over 200 residents of the area signed a petition against the zoning change. Some 75 people appeared at the public hearing to oppose the reclassification.

The lots under consideration are located west of Ann street to the alley between Blunk and Irvin streets, and from a point 250 feet north of Junction avenue north to the city limits which parallel the C & O tracks.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. is a public hearing on lots in the same area owned by Daniel S. Mills. He wants lots 94-96 on Irvin and lots 15 to 19 on Karmada street changed from R-2 zoning to M-2.

tion will come on Monday, June 14. Petitions must be filed 30 days before the election, making May 15 the deadline, the superintendent said.

A board of education election is held each June with the five trustees holding three-year terms. Two trustees are therefore elected at two succeeding elections, while only one is elected every third election.

Ten candidates competed for the two vacancies a year ago. Winners of that race were Carl Caplin and Horton Booth with 547 voters going to the polls. James Gallimore was re-elected to the board two years ago when he was the only candidate for the single vacancy.

8th grades in the same building as your kindergarten through 6th grades?" was a question asked by the survey group at schools with that system. "Their answer was an emphatic NO," the report continued. "Their experience has been that all of the discipline of grades one through six suffered by having contact with the seventh and eighth grade pupils, who were allowed mature social freedom."

"The cost of housing seventh and eighth grades in the same building with grades one to six is actually greater if the same enriched curriculum is offered as would be possible in a junior high school. It was shown to be a definite advantage to the child's future years to have access to complete facilities for shop, home economics, art, music, sports, etc., and when this is tried to be accomplished in a make-shift manner in an elementary school, it only results in domination of whatever facilities available by the seventh and eighth grades, to the exclusion of all younger children, without satisfactory results even then."

"Our present method of the block system in the junior high school is the approved way of bridging the gap between elementary and high school. Our survey pointed out the necessity of having specially qualified teachers for junior high who have been trained in child guidance. With more guidance in these years, more students enter senior high school prepared to choose their courses of study."

The report concluded by pointing out that Ann Arbor and Birmingham are pleased with their 6-3-3 system. Two other schools with 8-4 systems were "ashamed to show us their set-up for allied curricular subjects because they could not afford adequate facilities in each small unit."

Harold E. Fischer headed the survey committee composed of Mrs. Barbara Soth, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Mrs. Esther Franklin, Mrs. Virginia Troyer and Miss Bertha Anderson.

No action was taken by the School Community Planning group on the report. It is expected that the report will be thoroughly discussed at a future meeting before the planning group passes its recommendations on to the school board.

School planning board members also heard a report from Roy Jacobus, chairman of the publicity committee for the millage campaign. He told about the plan to name workers in each school P.T.A. who will make a house-to-house campaign.

Miss Ruth Butts, student counselor, gave a detailed report on next year's high school curriculum. Also reported was a partial summary of a questionnaire sent to area industries concerning the qualities desired when hiring employees. This report was given by Mrs. Esther Hulsing.

Cancer Unit Stresses Education As Way to Lessen Cancer Death

"A stitch in time could save nine out of every 18 American cancer victims from dying of the disease," public relations chairman, Mrs. William Norman today disclosed in a statement made today in connection with the American Cancer Society nationwide cancer crusade being conducted this month. Yet, public surveys reveal the astounding and unfortunate fact that one out of every three adult Americans is not even aware that any type of cancer is curable, she said. The surveys also show that more than half of all adult Americans do not know any of the early symptoms of the disease which have been so widely publicized by the A.C.S. in its nationwide educational program.

These are cancer's seven danger signals:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

These symptoms do not necessarily mean cancer but they should mean a prompt visit to your doctor, Mrs. Norman emphasized. The importance of early diagnosis of cancer, if a cure is to be effected, cannot be over-emphasized. Last year 73,000 American cancer victims were saved whose cases received prompt, effective treatment. The tragedy is that 73,000 of the more than 227,000 Americans who died of cancer also could have been saved had the disease been diagnosed early enough to receive adequate treatment in time, she added.

Encouraging progress has been made through scientific research in the techniques for treating cancer by the recognized methods of surgery, x-ray and radium. But even the most effective treatment is futile in most instances unless attending physicians and technicians are given a fighting chance by prompt diagnosis of each individual case before the cancer spreads from its site of origin.

The local cancer unit is conducting an intensive educational campaign to make known to everyone the seven cancer danger signals and the advisability of having yearly physical check-ups even if no cancer symptoms are suspected. Mrs. Harry Bartel, officer of the local unit and in charge of the April 10 and 11 Tag Days in Plymouth, reported that grocery store clerks placed cancer literature in the shopping attend a student instructor course. Should there be a big demand for the course, the oldest students will be eligible to enroll first, the superintendent said.

There are 6,000 U.S. high schools offering actual driving training while another 3,000 offer classroom training. There were 315,000 students who took driving training last year and another 250,000 taking classroom training. Statisticians claim that accidents are reduced 50 per cent among drivers who have taken student training.

Also approved Monday night was a letter which will be sent to all Plymouth teachers asking them if they are willing to return for the 1954-55 school year. Because contracts cannot be sent out before the May 10 millage election, the board is attempting to find out before that time how many teachers are returning. The millage election is asking for funds to provide teacher salary increases as well as for other salary adjustments, school improvements and classroom construction.

bags of the shoppers. Tag Days themselves were hampered by the bad weather. Nevertheless, Mrs. Bartel stated, anyone who did not receive cancer pamphlets may do so by writing to the local unit of the American Cancer Society, 173 South Main street.

How Christian Science Heals "What Makes Prayer Effective?"

A Layman Says...

If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified. (1 Pet. 4:11)
You see nothing engaging in his person, nothing musical in his voice, nothing winning in his manner. He has no reputation for genius, learning or wisdom. When you come to analyze his speech, you may find neither logical ability nor spectacular charms in it. It may be wanting in connection, yet all listen with eager interest. We see the guilty sobered, the sinner shuddering, the saint subdued, and all tremble in the presence of God. The man has been in his closet with God. He did not tell you this, but you found it out. His words went to your heart with power as the words of God.
O clothe with energy divine My words; and let those words be Thine.
To me Thy sacred truth reveal; Suppress my fear, inflame my zeal.

Plymouth Grange to Celebrate 80th Anniversary on April 23

The Plymouth Grange, one of the oldest organizations in Plymouth, will celebrate its 80th anniversary on Friday, April 23. Although the charter members have long since passed away, the last one, Arthur Stevens, dying in 1936, the Grange is still very alive and active.

In celebration of the 80th anniversary the Grange is planning a special meeting for the evening of April 23. A supper will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m. and will be followed by an evening program.

Grangers should note that reservations for the supper must be turned in by tonight, April 15. Mrs. E. C. Vealey, phone 1852-R, is in charge of reservations.

The Plymouth Grange at one time numbered 250 members and was very active in community affairs. Back in the early 1900s the Grange was of much value to the farmers of the section. Thrashing coal, fence posts, fencing, fertilizer, binder twine and so on were bought by the car-load which meant a saving to the Grange members.

When the Grange membership was at low ebb and it had little more to offer its members than fraternalism, there were still a few staunch supporters who remained loyal. Foremost of these were the late Mr. and Mrs. James Gates, and present members Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Swegles, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk and Mrs. Louise Hutton.

OBITUARY

Mac C. Allenbaugh
Mrs. Mae C. Allenbaugh passed away early Thursday morning, April 8, at University hospital in Ann Arbor following an illness of about six years duration. Her residence was at 42505 Joy road, Plymouth.
Surviving are her husband, Holland B. Allenbaugh, one son, Robert, who lives at home, and one sister, Mrs. Ivah Bentley of Plymouth, other relatives, and many friends.
Until her illness forced her retirement, Mrs. Allenbaugh was very active in the First Baptist church of Plymouth. She was especially active in the Sunday School and served as its secretary for 35 years.

The Reverend David L. Rieder officiated at the funeral services which were held at the Schrader Funeral home on Saturday, April 10, at 11 a.m. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Velma Searfoss. The pallbearers were Harry Brown, Frank Hamill, Kenneth Wilske, Leonard Millross, Harold Villerdt and Ernest Robinson. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Camping, the very heart of the Girl Scout program, will soon be underway. Plymouth Scouts are fortunate in having two opportunities for camping experience offered to them. Day camp and area camp plans are both being formulated now.
A rally of all Intermediate troops was held at the Presbyterian church on Monday, April 5 featuring the area camp program. Mrs. Donald Potter, camp chairman, was in charge and presented Helen Ridley and Sonya Smith of Ypsilanti who showed pictures of Camp Cody in Wyoming. This advanced camping program is available to girls who have progressed in skills to the point where they are able to do primitive camping.

Locally Plymouth Council cooperates with surrounding communities including Wayne, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Northville, Belleville and several others in providing camp experience at Camp Cedar Lake in the Waterloo Recreation area. Facilities, including a lodge and cabins, are leased from the Michigan State Conservation Department. The director is a professional Girl Scout worker, Miss Margaret McDougall Counsellors are college girls who must be at least 21 years of age. There will be three one week periods, one 10 day and one 11 day period. The season begins June 23 and ends August 5. The last session is reserved for girls 13 years or older who have had some camping experience. Special activities will be planned for this group. Registration should be made as early as possible as the session is shorter this year than formerly.

Mrs. William Norman, Chairman of the collection drive for the American Cancer Society, has expressed her gratitude to the Girl Scouts and leaders for their cooperation in the recent drive. Most of the 15 troops took part and are being presented with recognition pins for their service. Mrs. Norman states that the drive is to be concluded soon and urges that if you have material to donate you call a Brownie or Scout in your neighborhood to pick it up. Dry cleaning bags, large paper bags and any type of white material are desired.

Of great importance to the future plans for Girl Scouting in Plymouth are the two meetings to be held next week. On Monday, April 19, the Leaders' Club will meet at the Girl Scout Cabin at 8 p.m. to vote on the question of whether Plymouth wishes to become a member of an Area Council. The proposed area will be western Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston counties. All registered adult Scouts are entitled to vote. The members of the Council will cast their ballots on Tuesday, April 20, at the home of Commissioner, Mrs. E. J. Readman at 8 p.m.

See you at the Cookie Sale on Saturday April 17.

Troop No. 1, leaders Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell, have just completed a successful project in conjunction with their sponsoring organization, the V. F. W. Auxiliary. The troop was given the responsibility of the White Elephant Booth at the V.F.W. rummage sale on Saturday, April 10. A sewing bee of the Scouts and their mothers provided additional items to be sold. Proceeds from this event will go toward the purchase of tents which will be used in troop-camping this spring and summer. The troop and its leaders wish to thank the sponsors and the mothers who so kindly cooperated to make this long desired purchase a possibility.

Members of the troop plan to visit their shut-in member, Iris Cody, this week-end April 17 and to present her with an Easter basket they have prepared.

Jerry Kelly Chosen Outstanding Senior Boy

CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE PRINCIPAL are given to Jerry Kelly, recently chosen as the most outstanding senior boy. Jerry is shown here shaking the hand of Principal Carvel Bentley while Mrs. Virginia Calligari, senior advisor, looks on. Jerry has maintained a high scholastic average while participating in a host of other activities in school.

"It came as a complete surprise to me," stated Jerry Kelly, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelly of 4116 Napier Road who was recently chosen as the best senior boy citizen of Plymouth high school. Jerry was chosen from a group of 10 boys on the basis of leadership, physical health, mental stability, social adjustment, character, and school activity participation. In all of these traits Jerry was found to be outstanding.

An honor student he has maintained a 93 per cent average throughout his high school career. Besides being an excellent scholar, Jerry has shown his well-rounded personality and interests by participating in student government, sports, clubs and religious groups. In his freshman and sophomore years he held the highest office he could achieve, president of the class. Following this, he became treasurer of the Student Council in his junior year and holds that position today.

His outstanding ability and love of sports is proven by his possession of 10 letters which he received in football, basketball and track. He was also chosen as the most valuable player in basketball this year and was captain of both the football and basketball teams. He has also been vice-president and secretary of the Varsity club.

This year Jerry became a Rotarian and he also attended Wolverine Boys State last summer, a workshop designed to teach government to students through participation.

Besides these many activities which keep him busy he has found time to be a very active member of the Cherry Hill Methodist church.

After graduation Jerry plans to attend the School of Dentistry at the University of Michigan.

Begin Preparations for Annual Election of High School Officers

Nancy Morrison has been chosen to be the chairman of the Plymouth high school elections slated for May 4. Sarah Leet and Lynn Becker will represent the senior class as members of the election board and the two juniors to be on it are Thalia Bairas and Earl Fulton. Barbara Smith and John Small were appointed to represent the sophomore class while Carol Clarke and Harold Douglas will serve as freshmen representatives on the board.

Home room meetings were held

Schoolmaster's Club to Meet in Ann Arbor

With "We Hold These Truths" as the set theme, the 67th annual Schoolmaster's club will meet at the University of Michigan on May 14 to discuss various problems.

The Schoolmasters, one of Michigan's oldest and most respected educational organizations, will first attend the general session meetings, and then the annual business meeting, offered to all of the members.

Special sessions, such as art, in which Mrs. Frances Overton, Plymouth high art instructor serves as chairman, music, social studies and mathematics, may also be attended by the members.

"To be mindful of the Declaration of Independence, of the supreme importance of the individual, the supreme importance of education, and the importance of teachers," serves as the creed of the Schoolmasters.

All junior and senior high teachers may attend.

on Monday, April 5 during the first fifteen minutes of the fourth hour period to pick one person of each grade from each home room to serve on the nominating board. These boards met at their leisure and set up a slate of officers for president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer for their respective classes. Student council members of each class were also chosen at this meeting. These slates were due on Friday, April 9. Then on Monday, April 12, all the nominating boards met to set up the student council slate for the whole school.

Next all the class caucuses were held on Tuesday, April 13, and all petitions must be filed by Thursday, April 15. All students who are new at Plymouth high this year and/or who did not vote last year may register on the stage in the auditorium on Thursday, April 15, from 8 to 8:30, noon to 12:30, or 3:30 to p.m. Last year approximately 85 per cent of the student body, who registered, voted.

The campaign speeches will be held on Tuesday, April 27, with a possibility of having these speeches presented over the public address system during a home room meeting instead of giving them in assembly form. Nothing definite had been decided on as yet. The election will be held on Tuesday, May 4, and the city voting machines will be used. The inaugural assembly will be presented on Tuesday, May 11, to the student body.

Costa Rica means "Rich Coast," but the Central American Republic has never been a prime source of mineral treasure. Its wealth lies in rich soil, valuable woods and grazing lands.

Boy from Bird School to be Sent To Washington

The Plymouth-area will have two extra "representatives" in Washington, D. C., May 7 through 9. One safety patrol member each from Bird elementary school, Plymouth, and Botsford school, Livonia, will get a four-day, all-expense trip to the Capital as Automobile Club of Michigan's guests.

The two schools won the right to send a patrol each to the 18th AAA National Safety Patrol Assembly because of excellence of their overall safety programs. The two delegates will join 115 other Michigan patrolers on a train to Washington May 6 at Detroit. They will meet government officials, tour the Capital, sight-see, and march down Constitution avenue with 30,000 patrolers from all over the United States in the largest parade annually held in Washington. They will return by train on May 9.

Reservation Deadline Set for '42 Reunion

Plans for the reunion of the Plymouth high school Class of 1942 are nearing completion. The reunion, the first to be held by the class, will be at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall on June 26 at 7 p.m.

A deadline of May 15 has been set for reservations for the event. Tickets include the dinner and dance.

An evening of informal fun and reminiscing has been promised. Those who have not returned their reservation cards and wish to attend the reunion may contact Annabelle Clark at 2889-M or Phyllis Pankow at 1802-R.

Joyce Cook Vies For J. A. Queen

Plymouth teen-agers active in Junior Achievement have chosen Joyce Cook, 18-year-old Plymouth high school senior, to represent them in vying for the title of "Queen of Junior Achievement."

Joyce will compete for the title with 19 other contestants, representing the J. A. centers in Southeastern Michigan. The queen will be chosen at the annual "April Reign" prom which J. A. will hold April 23, at the Hotel Sheraton-Cadillac in Detroit.

In J. A. since last October, Joyce is secretary to the Telephone company, which is sponsored by the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

The semi-formal dance starts at 9 p.m. with comic Soupy Sales as master of ceremonies and Tony Currier and his orchestra. Tickets are available at the J. A. business center, 204 South Main street.

Judging the contestants for Queen will be Sales, Donald S. Leonard, Detroit Police Commissioner; Blanche Parent Wise, Detroit councilwoman; Corrine Patterson of People's Outfitting company and Stuart Richards of the J. A. Board of Directors.

Future Nurses Club To Give Easter Favors

"Here Comes Peter Cottontail, Hopping Down the Bunny Trail" could very well be the slogan of the Future Nurses club as they present Easter favors to the patients of the Atchison Memorial clinic, at Northville, Saturday, April 17. The favors are little cups filled with typical Easter decorations with an assortment of Easter candy to be put on their dinner trays.

On Saturday, April 17, girls from the F.N.C. will hand out cancer information to the shoppers and other citizens of Plymouth.

Senior Prom Chairman Await Saturday Event

The senior prom, "Improvisation," will be held on Saturday evening, May 1, from 8:30 to midnight.

The co-chairman of the prom, Ann Sumner and Mike Reh, have been busy with the activities for the senior prom and have secured Jim Servis and his orchestra for the gala event.

For that one night Plymouth high's gymnasium will be transformed to a modernistic scene for the prom. Janice Kowalek and Bud Garchow, decoration committee co-chairmen, have come up with decorations which will be beautiful and modernistic. In keeping with the theme they have pixie-like figures amid mobiles of various sizes, shapes, and original colored lights which will highlight a large fountain to be centered on the dance floor.

Suspended mobiles will serve as mediums of publicity as decided by the publicity co-chairmen, Pat Lidgard and Jim Gage. The mobile, will be stationed at various points in the halls at Plymouth high.

Ticket committee co-chairmen, Sally Shuttleworth and Ed Rossow, have decided to serve the punch from a fountain instead of the plain punch bowl. They also have decided to convert the halls to the purpose of serving refreshments.

Co-chairmen of the intermission entertainment committee, Kay Ingram and Vern Diederick, have not announced whom they have secured for intermission, but they are in hope of securing a well-known entertainer for the evening.

School Starts Spring Vacation Today

Easter vacation starts at 3:30 p.m. today at Plymouth high!

Many students have long awaited this vacation so that they can catch up on their sleep, and be prepared to come back to school and buckle down to their subjects for the rest of the year. This Easter vacation which starts today is the last vacation before school closes on June 18.

Easter vacation lasts from Thursday, April 15, to Monday morning April 26, at 8:30 a.m., which is a period of 10 days.

Other vacations which the students had were Thanksgiving and Christmas. The students also had many days off but the two mentioned are the main ones.

It seems that a free country is one in which everybody has a right to mind everybody else's business.

Four Represent Thailand At Mock UN Conference

Complex workings of the United Nations are a little more understandable now to a group of four students of Plymouth, after attending a mock U. N. conference in Hillsdale, Michigan April 2 and 3.

Joyce Cook, Karen Rossow, Jim Isbister and Vernon Diederick, members of the fifth hour international relations class, journeyed to Hillsdale college to represent the country Thailand in a meeting of high school students. A college student was selected as Secretary General beforehand.

The quartet of Plymouthites followed a schedule presented to them upon arriving at the college. After registering at the college field house, the group met in the college church for a plenary session at which a president of the conference was elected.

A general debate followed the first plenary session at which speeches were presented by boys and girls who had expressed a desire to do so beforehand and had submitted to the college a general idea of their topic. One of the Plymouth group, Jim Isbister, was among the speakers in the general debate.

Following this, committee meetings were held which students attended to discuss problems confronting the actual U.N. chairman of the committees were selected from the high school students and were assisted by members of the class.

Friday evening a banquet was given and a speaker addressed the youthful group.

Committee meetings continued on Saturday after which the students returned to their homes.

The conference was sponsored by the Hillsdale Rotary club for the fifth time. Plymouth's own Rotary furnished the four local boys and girls with money to finance the trip.

Rocks Prepare to Defend 6-B Baseball Crown

The high school baseball team got outside for the first time last week, but much work has to be done before the opening game a week from next Monday, states Coach Gus Gorguze. The Rocks open at Allen Park the afternoon of the 20th of April. The first home game is the next day, on Tuesday, April 27, with Redford Union as the opposition.

Coach Gorguze has 20 boys trying out for places on the Plymouth nine. The Rocks are the defending champions of the 6-B league. Last year they won the crown with a 7 won and 3 lost record even though they lost two games to Trenton. This year the problem seems to be the replacing of several stars who graduated last year. Only four letter-winners are back—Dick Day, Bob Middleton and Gary Gothard were regulars last year, while Tom Rutherford was a substitute catcher.

Trying out for pitching are Dick Day, Henry Bonga, Ron Church and Carl Leville. On the receiving end as catchers are Rutherford, John Agnew, Dick Garchow and Hugh Norris. Competing for infield positions are Gothard, Chuck McKenna, Larry Wilhelm, Danny Clifford, Jack Carter, Roger Peterson and Denny Luker. Five boys are patrolling the outfield: Middleton, Dick Blomberg, Dale Wilkin, Jim Sorenson and Ed Wall.

This year's schedule is as follows:

April 26	Allen Park	A
April 27	Redford U.	H
April 30	Bentley	A
May 4	Belleville	H
May 7	Trenton	H
May 11	Allen Park	H

Weather Forces Postponement Of Track Meet

The opening track meet of the season between Plymouth and Belleville high schools had to be cancelled last Thursday because of inclement weather. Neither team had been out doors too much, and it was thought best to postpone the contest until some time in May.

Yesterday Plymouth was supposed to have opened the season with a meet against Bentley high. The results of that meet were too late for this week's paper.

Coach Keith Baughman feels rather optimistic concerning this year's team. For years Plymouth has taken nearly every one in duel meets, most of the league meets, and won high ranking in regional and state meets. Again this year the Rocks have some sure points in the dashes, hurdles, distance runs and jumps. The home team may be weak in the shot put and pole vault, but should fair well in all the other events.

The next home meet is with Allen Park here on Thursday, April 29.

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Well, the Tigers opened another season Tuesday and Bill Finzel's band again led the parade. Bill has been doing this now for over 50 years and nary has missed a year. The Tigers have lost some of the roar the past few years. This year's team will present a colorful aggregation with the emphasis on youth. Three rookies appeared in the opening lineup—one 19-year-old bonus baby, Al Kaline, who will patrol one of the outfield posts. Al has been hitting like a veteran in exhibition games as have the other young rookies, but one swinging around the circuit will see if they are mere "flashes in the pan" or bonified hitters.

Cocky Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees is sure that his team will win the championship again this year and doesn't see any reason why they shouldn't. Al Lopez thinks his Cleveland Indians will cop the bunting too, as does Chicago's Paul Richards. Detroit's Fred Hutchinson doesn't predict any pennant winner, but stays on the safe side and says they will be in there trying and that it takes time to rebuild.

Again I say, I'm for anyone but the Yankees.

The first track meet of the season had to be postponed because the weather was so cold and the track not in shape. The meet will be held some time in May. The first meet of the season was supposed to take place yesterday providing the weather was right. It seems that track meets start rather early considering the cold springs in late March and early April. Muscles take time to get into condition in mild weather. The track schedule begins two or three weeks earlier than baseball or the other spring sports.

I was happy to hear that Jon Brake, a Plymouth graduate of last year, won honors for himself at the University of Michigan in scholarship. Jon qualified for Phi Eta Sigma, the National Freshman Men's Academic Honor Society, the highest scholastic honor which can be earned by a freshman at the U. of M. Jon has worked hard as a student, and was always willing to lend a hand in any class activity any time he could. This is quite an honor and very few freshmen receive it in the United States.

Wasn't that a "blinger" of a hockey game last Sunday night—our Red Wings lost in "sudden death" overtime, but what a game to watch. The Wings are ahead 3 games to 2 now, not knowing Tuesday night's results and should take the championship in 6 or 7 games. I said 7 earlier. Montreal was handicapped by injuries and lost two of their best players for the third game, but those players, as well as the others looked all right Sunday. Goal-tender McNeil came back into the nets for the Canadians and did a masterful job in shutting the Wings out, but Sawchuk also turned in a masterpiece. It was a great game to watch even though the Red Wings lost.

FOUR LEADING AUTO EDITORS GO OVERBOARD FOR NEW MERCURY!

New 161-horsepower Mercury with ball-joint front wheel suspension gets top marks for performance, efficiency, economy and handling ease

"HOT AS STRAIGHT TABASCO ON-THE-ROCKS"

Tom McCahill MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED

"The place where Mercury really shines this year, aside from its speed-over-the-ground performance, is in its handling and roadability . . . and what a difference ball-joint suspension makes!"

"The guy who buys a '54 Merc will be getting a really new car, not a warmed-over old one. Some of Merc's competitors are . . . overdue for a change. When these changes come, the buyer of these competitors will be as out-of-date as an Indian-head penny."

"161-HP PUSH, BUT DRINKS NO MORE GAS THAN BEFORE"

Wilbur Shaw POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY

Read these quotes from Wilbur Shaw, President of the Indianapolis Speedway.

"Three years ago a Mercury engineer told us that the men in his department would never be satisfied until they designed an engine that ate up a lot less of its own power. Well, they've done it!"

"When I drove the car on the test track in Dearborn, Mich., and again on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, I was struck by the smoothness of the power pick-up as the accelerator went down."

"THIS CAR IS A KNOCKOUT! . . . AND REAL EASY TO DRIVE!"

Walt Woron—Don MacDonald MOTOR TREND

"You'll like the 1954 Mercury, if you like power that'll make you sit back in your seat when you stomp the throttle. If there is no other reason for the increase in horsepower (now 161) the added acceleration for passing is enough."

"Lincoln-type ball-and-socket joints on Mercury's front wheels eliminate familiar kingpin, reduce front end vibration, and cut the number of forward grease fittings from 16 to four."

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 8:00 to 9:00 station WJBK-TV, Channel 2.

History Tells of Pioneer Hartsough Family

A paper delivered by Mrs. Maude Cooper before the Plymouth Historical society last Thursday night was acclaimed by members as an outstanding picture of one of Plymouth's early families, the Hartsoughs. It also told of the very earliest days in Plymouth history and the land which later became known as the Hartsough homestead. Mrs. Cooper's paper is printed here in its entirety.

THE HARTSOUGH PLACE
Previous to April 12, 1827 the only officially used term for the territory occupied by our first settlers (1825) was the surveyor's designation "Town 1 south-range 8 east."

For two years the centers of activity in the township were at the intersection of what is now Ann Arbor Trail and Main street (the Mayflower hotel now) which was known as Podunk while the neighborhood at the intersection of Main and Mill streets was called Jappa. Apparently neither name, for the whole settlement, appealed to the people. So a meeting was held (1827) when William Barlow, member of the Legislature Council, suggested the name of Plymouth as being historical and patriotic. This was approved by those present. The petition was sent to Governor Lewis Cass. Later the Legislative Council legalized the name.

A year before this change took place (1826), George Dunn of Detroit, Michigan Territory decided to buy property in "Town 1 south, range 8 east." The following is quoted from the original land grant: "Geo. Dunn deposited in the general land office in Detroit a certificate of the registrar of the land office at Detroit, whereby it appears that full payment has been made by said Geo. Dunn according to provision of the Act of Congress April 24, 1820 entitled—An act making further provision of the sale of public lands according to the official plat, of the survey of said lands, returned to the general office by the surveyor general." Prior to this act the lands were sold on credit or only a small down payment. This land grant was signed by John Quincy Adams, President, U.S.A.

I wondered—how did a man go about it to locate his property. True, he had the surveyor's records, but how to start in a strange land of almost impenetrable forests?

Appealing to Mr. Sidney Strong, who with his maps, is an authority on the land around here. He, by letter, reminded me that I would have to "think in terms of old timers who were used to wilderness travel and who knew how to estimate distances better than we do." "That the surveyor's record had a description of the markers—at the section and quarter section corners. These might have been stones, posts or piles of stone—with witness trees described and marked as blazes. The paths from one corner to the next were also blazed with axe marks. The pioneers, used to that type of marking, recognized them more or less readily."

The post, at what is now South Main and Ann Arbor road, was originally 3 feet high and 3 inches square with marked stone, charred stakes or charcoal on the ground around, and marked the south-east corner of the Hartsough land. A year later, after going to all that trouble finding the farm, George and Nancy Dunn decided to sell it to Michael Rutnour for $187.25. The indenture, beautifully written in long hand, states in part: "The estimated 80 acres be the same—more or less—it being the same tract which was heretofore patented to George Dunn and Nancy, his wife—by the President of the U.S.A." It further states "The wife being by me privately examined—separate and apart from her husband - acknowledges that she signed this deed without any fear of her said husband." This acknowledgement was signed before a justice of the peace, who was taking chances of compulsion. The deed was signed in the presence of William Starkweather (great grandfather of Karl H. Starkweather).

For 20 years Michael Rutnour wrestled with the perplexities of his 80 acres of virgin forests, with streams and swamps, where wolves, bears and marauding Indians were prevalent.

Unfortunately for us the warranty deed fails to tell us what he accomplished or how - or even to say whether he was married - merely mentioning "his heirs or assigns."

With the aid of a $905. mortgage which he paid off in six separate installments, he evidently made the place habitable and desirable, because he sold in 1847 to one Jas. M. Adams for $1800 "In lawful money of the United States of America," said the deed, "80 acres more or less, excepting and reserving therefrom 1/4 acre of the N. E. corner." This he sold to a man with a most exciting name - Titus Quick. So after 20 years of labor I figure Michael made $707.75. More power to him, though he did sign his name with an X mark! This deed was sealed and delivered in the presence of Bethel Noyes, who was the first president of the village. His large white farm house stood on South Main street where Dr. Bentley's Clinic now is located. The house was moved to Burroughs street where it now stands - the exterior little changed since the early years.

The James M. Adams family occupied the farm for 9 years selling in February 1856 to Wells & Thankful Hartsough for $36 This deed was signed in the presence of the Justice of the Peace, C. H. Bennett, (uncle of the present C. H. Bennett) and Hiram Newman - grandfather of Messrs. Will and Ernest Roe.

Thankful Hartsough was born and raised in Connecticut—Wells in New York state. There they were married and Harriet was born and educated.

They came west and settled in Redford township - three children were born here. Harriet was 21 years and teaching school when they moved to the farm in Plymouth. Mary Elizabeth, 18, married to Frank Hodge and lived with his parents in the white pillared farm house on South Main street near the Ann Arbor road.

Only the three youngest children at home—Palmer, 12, Ursula, 11, and Sarah Amelia were born in Plymouth.

They were a strange repressed family, reminiscent of the folk in Ben Ames Williams' New England stories.

Wells was a tall lanky man - stern and taciturn, who had 80 acres to farm, debts, mortgages and promissory notes, with interest to meet.

Hurried and harried, it was said that he worked with a frenzy no other man could equal as though the "devil was after him," they said, and it may have been so, for the devil - and his works - was a very real enemy of his. Twice a day - early morning and at bed time - like some zealous New England forefather - He conducted family devotions, reading the most harrowing portions of the Bible and exhorting his wife and three impressionable children, to sin not lest they be cast into outer darkness.

Then he would rush out to complete his farm chores, leaving the family thoroughly cowed with contemplation of a hell-fire and brimstone future.

How do I know all this? Well, you know how children are when their elders talk - hearing and remembering when one thinks they aren't even listening.

Once when we drove to the farm my father owned across the road and up a piece from the Hartsough's, mother stopped by to call on Thankful. Later mother said "She is very well educated and so genteel." Father said "Well she is no talker - but maybe she has forgotten how to carry on a conversation." Mother admitted that their talk was a bit one-sided.

In my memory she remains a shadowy genteel lady. Again I listened when it was rumored that the death of Sarah Amelia, a frail sickly child, was hastened by her persistence in kneeling night after night in her cold bedroom, pleading with anguished cries, forgiveness of her many sins.

The years passed.

Wells became a tired, bent, old man, his marvelous energy and capacity for work gone - "burned out" I was said. The toll always taken from those who till the soil. He had time now to take pride (though silently) in his children.

Harriet had retired from teaching in the Detroit school and now lived at home.

Ursula and Palmer developed and enjoyed their talents as musicians. Ursula played the organ in the little First Baptist church where the family worshipped. Many of the hymns they sang were written by Palmer. He made quite a name for himself as composer of sacred music and compiled many hymn books—words and music - in the moody-sanky revival style. At one time he was connected with a music publishing firm in Chicago.

After the death of their parents the girls came to live on Union street with their widowed sister Mary, and the farm was sold to Mr. and Mrs. William Sutherland to whom I am greatly indebted for the loan of the land grant and warranty deeds involved in the various real estate transactions.

The estate then paid Harriet $1600 she had loaned her father 11 years previously-taking a mortgage on the farm. She and Ursula were typical spinsters—thin and prim. - I think they were hoops-of a conservative style-by the way their skirts swayed when they walked. Their posture was erect even when seated—never touching the chair back. Miss Harriet was elected the second president of the Ladies Literary society now the Woman's club—an office she held for five years.

These changing times have crept out to the Hartsough farm. The name is all but forgotten. The farm, subdivided the rushing river runs tamely through the tile. The homestead soon to be moved—this then is the passing of a family who played their brief part in development of Plymouth—formally town 1 south-range 8 east.

After the foregoing pages were written, I belatedly recalled a letter in the society's file, written by John Passage in 1873. In it he tells of the whereabouts of a group of 25 persons, himself among them, who emigrated from Arcadia, Pennsylvania.

It says they landed (they apparently came via the Erie canal) in Detroit on October 6, 1827 and took two days to reach Plymouth, which they found to be "almost an entire wilderness." The first name—he mentions in this group was Michael Rutnour Sr. Michael was married, according to the letter, and came here with his wife, Margaret, their six children (three of them married) and their grandchildren. Mr. Passage also knew George Dunn and where he had located.

Isn't it strange and interesting how letters, land grants, mortgages, marriage and death certificates can be woven together and make history!

Snutter Views

By Les Wilson

Occasionally a feeling of vastness may be desired in certain types of camera work. Lenses in most common usage have a field view approximating that of the human eye; about 40 to 55 degrees. Hence, use of the wide-angle lens offers the advantage of covering a much wider angle than is usual.

Actually, a wide-angle lens is nothing more than a lens of short focal length for the size of film covered. This type lens may afford view angles of from 80 to greater than 100 degrees and, in cases of extreme construction, fields of better than 135 degrees are obtainable.

The distortion of perspective which usually results from the use of a wide-angle lens is more often than not an advantage as it serves to heighten the sense of vastness. This type lens is also a bit unstable as regards illumination; often offering up prints which are under-exposed along the edges.

We have wide angle lenses down here at THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER, in addition to the more commonly used cameras and equipment. Our stock is so complete that, no matter what your problem, we can solve it . . . why not drop in and browse around the next time you are in the neighborhood of 821 West Ann Arbor Trail . . . without obligation of course.

Chips from the ROCK

Certainly the items in last week's paper regarding parking meters and Forest avenue met with general agreement around the city from the response we have had to the same... unfortunately... at this writing, however, nothing seems to have been done about either.

To further point out the need for regulation of local "hot-rodgers" we might suggest city fathers park back of the high school on Adams street any afternoon about the time school is out. We did last Friday and observed the "jets" taking off from the school lot at high speeds and making as much noise as a motorcycle under full power. It was interesting to note, too, that five of these cars pulled into the lot just before school was out to pick up girl friends then drive away. Evidently not all were local students.

Sentimental Haberdasher Carl Caplin knew that the used Cadillac Mayor Russell Daane was driving last week was well treated and even though the mileage was high, it was still a good car. He bought it right quick from the Ann Arbor Motors at Ann Arbor. Reason... Cass Hough traded it in a couple of years ago and Daisy's advertising agency executive, Norvall Langworthy, bought it and took it to Chicago for a year and then brought it back to Ann Arbor and traded it in for a new one. Daane had it for a week while his car was in for repairs... then Caplin found it and now has it!

Doris Sponseller, second grade teacher at Allen School, is probably Plymouth's most T.B. x-rayed teacher. First going to Wayne for an x-ray, which all teachers must have, she was afraid the card wouldn't reach her. So when the unit visited Plymouth she was x-rayed again. Not being able to find the first two cards she drove to Livonia, when the unit was there, and had another... the third. All because husband James in cleaning out the family desk had thrown out the first two which he thought she didn't need anyway! For your information, Jim can be found any day handling all of the news at the Mail office.

Business is too booming for Earl West! About three months ago he sold Mr. and Mrs. William Hartloff a new automatic washing machine. After the purchase they stated that they wouldn't need it for a few weeks because they were building a new home and they wished it installed there. When the new house was ready some three or four weeks later West moved their stove and refrigerator as a favor and at the same time he picked up their old washer. Two months later as another friendly service he inquired how the new washing machine was working and was told by Mrs. Hartloff that she didn't know because she hadn't seen it! Come to find out, when West's servicemen picked up her old washer and moved her stove and refrigerator to get her all comfy in her new home, they had completely forgotten about delivering the new automatic washing machine. "Oh well," says Mrs. Hartloff "the laundry gave me excellent service for the last few weeks."

Plymouth Finance Company Manager D. W. Vandervoort gave us this prize. Office Secretary Elita Ward noticed a small boy at noon Friday standing in front of their door in the hallway of the Schrader building. She asked if there was something he wanted and he queried, "Is this where you borrow money?" "Yes we do loan money," said Miss Ward. "Well," said the six year old, I forgot my lunch money for school and I have to borrow twenty cents!" Needless to say, Miss Ward opened her purse and the youngster had his lunch probably thinking about the day when he would need a new "bike."

A business trip took us out Gratiot avenue one day last week where we found the following large sign supported by a big iron cemetery fence. "Drive Carefully... We Can Wait... Gethsemane Cemetery."

ULTIMATE PROMISE OF EASTER

Roger Babson Says

BABSON DISCUSSES MOST IMPORTANT PEOPLE OF 1954
Babson Park, Massachusetts. President Eisenhower and his Cabinet will not be the most important people of 1954. The Senators and Congressmen will not be the most important people of 1954. And this same statement can be made regarding bankers and other big shots. Conditions often make presidents, but presidents cannot make conditions. SALES CLERKS DETERMINE 1954 EMPLOYMENT
The most important people during 1954 will be those now employed as salesmen, and especially the sales clerks in your stores. In previous years these people have not been so important; they served largely as "order takers," wrapping parcels and making change. But, conditions in 1954 will be different. They must create sales.

Fundamentally, prosperity and good times depend upon EMPLOYMENT which supplies the money to buy. But manufacturers cannot furnish employment without ORDERS for their goods

The orders depend upon the men and women at the counters of the stores. Prosperity or depression starts with the salesmen and sales clerks.

WHAT ABOUT ADVERTISING?

I am a great believer in honest advertising. A merchant's success is very dependent upon his advertising. Advertising bears the same relation to profits for the merchant as fertilizer does for the farmer. Still, the farmer cannot depend solely upon his seed and fertilizer. He must cultivate, spray, and gather his crops.
The same is true of advertising. Although advertising is absolutely necessary and much more of it should be used in 1954, yet merchants cannot expect it to take the place of hard work. Customers need to be cultivated the same as do crops. Advertising will help get people into the store and interest them in certain products; but the SALE must be made by a man or woman employee.

Editorial

DEATHLESS RECORD

The thousands of country weekly and smaller city daily newspapers in the United States stand in a unique position. Absolutely nothing takes the place of the hometown paper. It leaves a printed record of community life and activity that can be found nowhere else.

For an example, take the Reese River Reveille of Austin, Nevada, published in the geographical center of a state having a population of less than 2 persons to each of its 109,000 square miles of area.

The Reveille has been published continuously since May 16, 1863, two years after the first telegraph line across Nevada replaced the Pony Express.

The files of the Reveille, preserved in the courthouse vault, are said to be the only complete files of any Nevada newspaper dating back to territorial days.

All of which points up the fact that the local newspapers in every corner of our country furnish a deathless record of the people and the area they serve.

Local history is recorded and preserved by the country press of the nation — hopes, aspirations, facts, drama, marriages, births, deaths, political events, legal records — the whole chain of human activity.

A town without a local newspaper is like a phonograph without a record.

EARNED ESTEEM

Roger M. Kyes, until recently Deputy Secretary of Defense, told this little anecdote: An independent merchant sold his business to a chain and was retained as store manager. Asked by a friend how he liked taking instructions from the large chain corporation, he said, "Fine—my income is larger and now I am doing just what I knew all the time I should have done but didn't do."

This doesn't mean that all the independent merchants need to learn new methods. Thousands upon thousands of them, in every part of the country, are doing a fine job of merchandising, pleasing their customers, and successfully meeting competition. But it is indicative of the fact that chain store techniques and policies have been a revolutionary factor in the merchandising world, and that all have benefited from them.

The chains pioneered low-cost mass distribution — the kind of distribution that has brought the full benefits of mass production to the American people. It is based on the far-reaching principle that a store or series of stores can make a very modest profit on each dollar of sales yet at the same time earn a satisfactory total profit, by increasing its volume of business. All kinds of stores now work on that plan, and prosper and grow by it. And the rewards that accrue to consumers are very great.

Both chain and independent stores now stand high in the esteem of the American people. Both have earned their standing.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BELLINGHAM WASH., HERALD: "The Monroe Doctrine of 1823 warned European nations—then mostly monarchies—against attempts to get a further foothold in the Americas: That was a unilateral United States doctrine. But it stood the test of time. The 20th century version of the Monroe Doctrine was voted at the 10th Inter-American Conference at Caracas, Venezuela, when the American republics condemned the activities of the international Communist movement as foreign intervention in American affairs."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman
Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

Quick, tricky legislative action in final days of the 1954 session is responsible for a law designed to "prevent the milk bottle from becoming a medicine bottle." The bill, which was defeated in one session only to be passed in the next, needs only the governor's signature to become effective.

Super-fortification of milk was the issue. Milk processors, mostly from Detroit, were anxious that the present law remain unchanged. Farm groups were determined that limits should be placed on amounts of vitamins, iron, iodine and other chemicals that could be added to "nature's most perfect food."

The ensuing maneuvering taxed parliamentary talents of supporters of both sides.

Basis for the battle is a practice that has developed in recent years to add more and more "fortification" to milk. The specific product sold at present contains sufficient "souping up" to cause medical authorities and nutritionists to consider it a menace on the market. The milk, usually sold in a brown bottle, is priced two cents above the standard milk grade; one cent above homogenized milk with the acceptable 400 units of vitamin D added. The argument does not concern homogenized milk. About 100,000 quarts of super-fortified milk are sold each day, according to the department of agriculture.

Super-fortification is considered by its opponents a dangerous trend in tampering with food. They contend that a normal diet supplies sufficient vitamins, minerals, etc., for a normal person. Too much concentration of some vitamins, they explain, can cause serious health difficulties. Dairies competing for sales, they point out, could easily "spike" milk more and more until the danger point is reached. If other food manufacturers began adding extra vitamins, nutrition experts say that diets could go haywire.

Higher milk consumption is claimed by processors, who favor super-fortified milk with a resulting benefit to farmers.

Dairy farmers got into the fray after hearing warnings from several food experts who were concerned that "doctoring up" of milk might move it from the food category into a drug or tonic class. Both Prof. Margaret Ohlson, Michigan State College diet authority, and Dr. Harry A. Towle, pediatrician from the University of Michigan have warned against that danger. Since nutritionists are a great force in promoting milk as an excellent food, farmers do not want to see anything happen that would lessen their support.

The bill that would outlaw super-fortification of milk passed the House sometime ago and came up last week in the Senate when legislators were battling budget problems and several others. It lost by one vote. Democratic senators from Detroit were anxious to bury the issue still deeper. Sen. Charles S. Bondy and Sen. Charles C. Diggins Jr. attempted this by the use of Senate rules and nearly succeeded.

Frantic do-or-die thinking by representatives of the Michigan Farm Bureau and others came up with a plan within the Senate rule structure—and one that worked.

The proposal which failed to pass was quickly assembled as an amendment to another dairy bill. Letters in its support from the Michigan State Medical Society and from the State Department of Health were read by Republican Sen. Edward Hutchinson from Fennville. Both scientific groups opposed super-fortification.

Sen. James M. Teahen Jr. (R.Owosso) stimulated debate by charging, "I have never encountered so much lobbying as I have against this bill by the big creameries—much of which is misleading lobbying." He also needed: "I can't help but be interested in the enthusiasm shown against this bill by the Democratic senators from the great dairy area—Detroit."

After dramatic debate the vote showed a clear victory for opponents of super-fortification. The final tally was by party lines: 23-8. Sen. Donald W. Gilbert from Saginaw was the only Republican which voted for super-fortification. The other seven votes were cast by Senate Democrats. The eighth Democrat was not present.

An $80 million bonus for Korean veterans will be decided by Michigan voters at the fall election. Both chambers of the legislature passed resolutions which will put the question on the ballot.

There was virtually no dissension. In the House only two voted against the proposal: Representatives Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor, and Eugene C. Betz, Monroe. In the Senate there were also two negative votes: by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, Holland, and Sen. Donald W. Gilbert, Saginaw. All four are Republicans.

"Where is it going to end?" asked Rep. Christman. He prefers to set some money aside for veterans who have emergency needs. Rep. Betz opposed the bill.

because he thought the voters should know where the money to pay the bonus is coming from. Sen. Geerlings believes that the payment of bonuses for military service can no longer be justified because present world conditions indicate that Michigan men will be serving for many years. A bonus to everyone who serves, he thinks, will be impossible. "It was the general opinion that there would be no more fighting after World War II," the Senator explains. "A bonus then didn't seem to be the permanent thing that a bonus under today's conditions does."

Little inclination was shown by Legislators to debate their bonus. This is a campaign year and the general feeling exists among lawmakers that the bonus issue is nothing to wrangle about—"Let the voters decide."

This proposal pays a top of $500 to a service man. To be eligible, a veteran must have served in the armed forces from June 27, 1950 to Dec. 31, 1953. He will be paid $15 for each month of overseas duty; $10 for each month of duty inside the U. S. Bonuses are expected to average about $270 per veteran.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Albert McClow and Jeanne begin placing the wafers in the dish for their bakeless cake.

Bakeless Cake

Mrs. Albert McClow and seven-year-old Jeanne of 898 Ross street say that one of their favorite desserts is this bakeless cake. The recipe was given Mrs. McClow by her mother. She said that the cake is very rich, and therefore she serves it with a light dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. McClow have two children, Jeanne, and Jim, who is 12.

The bakeless cake features pineapple and vanilla wafers and a whipped cream topping which gives the dessert the really lush touch.

Bakeless Cake

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3 tablespoons cream
- 1 small can crushed pineapple
- 1 can pecan meats, chopped
- 1/2 pound vanilla wafers

Line the bottom of a pyrex dish with vanilla wafers. Combine the butter, eggs, sugar, cream and pineapple in saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil for two minutes stirring constantly. Alternate a layer of filling, topped with the chopped nuts with another layer of wafers. Add another layer of filling and nuts. Let stand in a cool place for 24 hours and then cut into squares and serve with whipped cream.

Schedule Sales' Course for Merchants

It will be "back to school days" for many Plymouth merchants and salesmen when a sales refresher course opens here April 26 sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee in cooperation with the University of Michigan.

Registration of merchants and their employees is now being held. Reservations must be in by April 14, according to Wendell Lent, chairman of the three-day course.

Lecturers supplied by the U. of M. School of Business Administration will speak during the course. Classes will be held in the Captain's room of the Mayflower hotel and will begin at 9 a. m., end at 10:30 a. m.

On Monday, April 26, Samuel

R. Anderson, lecturer in the Bureau of Business Research and former department store merchandising man, will cover important points of good selling, sales person's interest to do a productive job, how a salesman benefits only as the store benefits from an efficiently served group of customers and creating and maintaining a satisfied customer.

William J. Carey, a university lecturer and former department store manager, will speak Tuesday on greeting the customer, determining customers' needs, demonstrating merchandise, meeting customer objectives, closing the sale and suggestion selling. Wednesday's speaker will be William J. Watkins of the university staff who will talk on fundamentals of social relationship, selling techniques and technical know-how, merchandise knowledge and customers' viewpoints. Movies will accompany each course.

Certificates from the University of Michigan will be awarded to those attending all three sessions.

Plymouth Gives $1800 For Christmas Seals

Residents of Plymouth contributed $1800 to the 1953 Christmas Seal sale of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Richard L. Lea of Plymouth, executive director, revealed this week.

Of this total $1691 was received in the mail from 809 contributors. Plymouth school children bought $94 worth of double bar cross Christmas Seals and the remainder was contributed at Christmas Seal dispensers in local stores.

Mrs. Wayne Smith, 8830 Rocker road, was chairman of the Plymouth Seal Sale.

During the past year Plymouth has received many services from the TB and Health Society.

The recently completed chest X-ray program in Plymouth was a part of the work of the Society in cooperation with other civic groups.

Students of Plymouth high school were active in the tubercuculosis and speaking projects which are part of the program to bring the story of tuberculosis and its problems to the youth of the community. The high school received state honors for its part in the press project.

Norbert Reinstein, member of the health education staff of the Society, is permanently assigned to the Plymouth area for consultation in public health problems. He aids groups in setting up health programs and speaks and shows films to clubs and organizations.

The TB and Health Society maintains its county headquarters in Detroit at 153 East Elizabeth, Woodward 1-1697 to answer all questions on tuberculosis and its problems. Free literature is also available. The Society serves the community through the generosity of the people who buy Christmas Seals.

With, perhaps, guests in your home, any meal on Easter should be especially planned. For your Easter breakfast, a Canadian-style bacon grill makes an easy and tempting choice.

Allow two slices of Canadian-style bacon, cut one-half inch thick, per serving. Broil the bacon with Melba peach halves. To broil place the bacon on your broiler rack, then adjust the pan so that the top of the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat—or according to directions with your range for a moderate temperature. Turn when the bacon is nicely browned (this will take only 5 or 6 minutes).

Arrange peach halves, one for each serving, on the rack with the meat. Sprinkle each peach half with ¼ teaspoon of sugar, a touch of curry powder and dot with one-half teaspoon of butter or margarine. Broil until meat is browned and fruit is heated through.

The nonporous surface of vinyl plastic flooring requires only a quick wash with soap and water. Light waxing is optional.

Before painting radiators, scrape off loose rust and old-paint with a wire brush and wash with soapuds. Allow to dry thoroughly before painting.

sugar. Place the glasses in your refrigerator to frost. This will take from 15 to 20 minutes. Then fill with chilled skinned grapefruit sections, and pour well-chilled sweetened grapefruit juice over the fruit. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and garnish with a mint leaf or two.

Easter's Lamb Roast

Ready for the Easter dinner table is this slow roasted leg of lamb. It's garnished with spiced fruit and mint leaves. When purchasing a leg of lamb ask your meat retailer to leave the felt, the paper-like covering, on the leg. Left intact, the leg holds its shape better during roasting.

One of the favorite roasts for the Easter dinner table is a leg of lamb. This stately roast lends itself to gracious serving and carving—its flavor makes it ideal with spring's fruits and vegetables.

You can help your carver a great deal by seeing that the roast is cooked just right.

For easy carving the roast should be neither underdone nor overdone. Also, the roast will become firm, thus much easier to carve, if you allow it to "set" in a warm spot for about 20 minutes after it comes from the oven. Plan your dinner hour and roasting time with this in mind.

Roast lamb will be more juicy and flavorful if it is allowed to cook slowly. Good news to any homemaker is the fact that roasting pans are more easily cleaned when meat is cooked slowly. The drippings have not charred, and the clear drippings resulting are excellent for gravy making.

Roasting

Here's the procedure for roasting the leg of lamb. Set your oven regulator at 300° F. Then place lamb with skin side down on a rack in your open roasting pan. A roast meat thermometer is most useful. Inserted in the center of the thickest part of the leg, it will register when the meat has reached the desired degree of doneness—175° F. for medium done lamb, 180° F. for well-done lamb. See, however that you do not have the bulb resting in fat or on bone. Water is not added to the roasting pan, and it is left uncovered. Cooked the slow oven way, the meat does not need further attention. You can easily estimate roasting time by allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound of leg of lamb.

To prepare the tart grapefruit appetizer suggested, dip the rims of sherbert glasses first in lemon juice, then in confectioners'

Smaller Hats to Be Prominent In the Easter Parade This Year

Little hats that give maximum display to the shorter coiffures, are going to get the nod in this year's Easter Parade.

Forward poses are prominent—as are the little hats that take a deep drop on one side... for a pert, young silhouette that's easy to wear!

Fragile floral treatments, textured-straw detailing, fabric hats by the score, and shiny-surfaced straws—all make bright impressions!

Crisp, straw cloths, chiffons, gorgandy, printed sheers and silk jersey are but a few of the many fabrics highlighted for headlining.

The level-posed pill-box highlighted with flowers, bows and glitter trim will be the primary shape for Spring-into-summer wear.

Caps, shells and profiles will continue to star with all the Spring fashions. In shiny straws, or straw cloths, and pastel felts, of course—they give importance to "topward" keyed costumes.

Many small hats reflect a courtly look of elegance... others with their birdbeak styling, and crisp precision—deflect a "military" look—that's feminine, pert and young!

"Bow detailing, rose trims, veiling, stitched trims, cocardes, streamers and of course, glitter—are the fresh-up trims.

From the little, very little half hat... referred to in millinery parlance as the "miniature"—to skimmer types, large plateaus and bretons—"big" impressions are made in milans, leghorns, shantung and ball straws.

Flat, pancake crown treatments, mushroom shapes, and the "figure seven"—are some of the more newsmaking silhouettes!

How To 'Shell' Florida Grapefruit

You'll want to use lots of the fine Florida grapefruit now at the peak of their goodness, for their tangy flavor and for the good health insurance they represent. Doctors recommend plenty of citrus fruits this time of year to help cut down colds, and fortunately grapefruit is one of the most economical foods available now. Besides serving halves, section the whole fruit for salads and fruit cups, the easy way Floridians do it. First (left), whittle off the peel from one end to the other. Remove remaining white membrane with a sharp knife. Then cut from the outside to the center core (right), twisting knife to remove juicy golden sections.

Easter Dinner That Serves Four People

If you're having Easter dinner for four, here's a festive ham dish. Bake two slices of ham with fruit stuffing between them. Slowly cooked, the ham enhances the fruit's flavor and makes a savory combination.

For stuffing have ham slices cut about ¾ inch thick. Center cut slices are the popular choice, but equally attractive slices may be cut from the butt or shank half of ham. One such cut is the butterfly slice. Your meat retailer makes this by cutting two slices from the cushion side of the shank half.

- Smoked Ham Slices—Pineapple Stuffing
- 2 smoked ham slices, cut ¾ inch thick
- ½ cup crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs
- Drain the crushed pineapple thoroughly. Add the pineapple, melted butter or margarine and cloves to the bread crumbs. Mix well. Place a ham slice on a rack in an open roasting pan and cover with pineapple stuffing. Top with second ham slice. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ hours. 4 to 6 servings.

Rubber tile floors will last a long time if properly cared for. A quick wipe with a damp mop is all that is required for good, everyday care. Steel wool is helpful in removing any disfiguring marks.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

HERE IS SOMETHING A LITTLE DIFFERENT in the way of recreation rooms. This recently remodeled recreation room is in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crosby, 42485 Roberta, Plymouth. The two end walls are partially panelled in knotty cedar with bamboo vinyl covering the remainder of the wall from the panelling up to the ceiling. The two side walls are fully panelled in knotty cedar. The ceiling is of Weldtex scored plywood with a plexiglass overhead and fluorescent lighting. The floor is finished in yellow vinyl. The distinctive thermopane window is a unique point of attraction. The Weldtex plywood and cedar panelling were supplied by Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. All work was done personally by Crosby, and a good example of what an imaginative homeowner can do in cooperation with his local lumber dealer.

Bigger FHA Title-1 Loans, Easier Terms Now In Works

Home-owners will have an opportunity to borrow up to $3,000 for periods as long as five years if legislation now before Congress to liberalize Title I property improvement loans is enacted. Under the present Federal Housing Administration Title I program, repayment of a loan can be spread over a three-year period. The maximum that now can be borrowed is $2,500.

The FHA does not actually lend money to home-owners; that's done by banks and other private lending institutions. What the FHA does is insure repayment. Cost of this type of loan to the home-owner is $5 per $100 per year.

Title I loans cover cost of material and application. For example, a property owner who wishes to reroof his house may borrow a sum sufficient to cover both the cost of asphalt shingles and their application.

Borrowing under the Title I program has become increasingly popular. Last year, for the first time in the agency's 20-year history, loans insured exceeded $1,000,000,000. The 1953 total was $1,334,287,124.

From the inception of the Title I program until October 1953, the FHA had insured loans totalling $7,209,614,263. Losses, or "bad debts" are only 1 percent of loans insured, and the FHA's income from insurance premiums

New Shingles Applied Over Old Material

A way to save money in putting a new roof on a house is to apply asphalt shingles on top of the old roofing. This can be done in most cases. It saves the expense of tearing the wornout material off.

Another advantage is that the appreciable insulation value of the old roof is retained. The overall roof covering is thicker than if the new material were laid directly on the roof deck.

Sometimes, the old roof must be reconditioned to serve as a sound nailing base for the new asphalt roofing. This is done by replacing rotten shingles, splitting curled shingles and nailing their segments down, and pulling loose nails and re-nailing the shingles they held.

First on the Program

If you're going to paint both ceiling and walls, do the ceiling first.

DESIGN H-248 768 SQ FT 14208 CUB FT GAR. 326 SQ FT

This attractive rectangular-shaped home can be economical to build because of its compact layout. From the short hall, you can go into the two bedrooms, bath, kitchen, or living room. To the side of the kitchen is a covered breezeway, which could be enclosed for an extra room. For further information about complete plans, building materials, estimates, etc., write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Window Shopping With Sue

I found out something really startling the other day. Did you know that a non-weatherstripped double-hung window of 24 by 24 inch glass admits as much air as would pass through a hole 2 3/4 by 2 3/4 inches square. Just imagine how much air that lets in when you multiply it by the number of windows in your house.

Anyway, Roe Lumber has a solution to the problem in Zegers Dura-Seal. Dura-Seal operates on the principle of spring and friction. Four springs help lift the window, and the spring hinges hold the window in any given position and prevent air infiltration at the same time.

The one-piece jamb member has a concave back surface providing a flexibility that permits easy operation as well as a constant air seal. The seal is thus always there, even when the sash expands and contracts due to atmospheric conditions.

And what is also important, the Zegers Dura-Seal is adaptable to both new construction and old homes and apartments.

Another interesting product I found out about over at Roe Lumber is Novoply. Novoply is made by sandwiching a filler of integrated wood chips between two layers of wood veneer flakes. Because of its beauty and strength it is ideal for cabinets and furniture, and since it doesn't warp it makes excellent sliding doors.

Novoply is light weight in comparison with other boards, and thus is easy to work with. And it holds nails and screws, even near the edges, without splitting. You should just see pictures of some of the lovely tables, chests, and cabinets which have been made out of the Novoply—makes your mouth water!

Mind if I add a little information on the popularity of the "Do-It-Yourself" trend that I picked up somewhere. Figured you might like to know just how big this thing has gotten to be. For example, today more than 84 per cent of the paint is sold to non-professionals—so you're not the only one who likes to paint his own home.

Workshop Wall Plaques

Wall plaques for the display of figurines or other knick-knacks may be made in the home workshop. Using a coping or scroll saw, cut a plaque the desired shape, such as a shield or leaf, from a piece of Masonite tempered Presdwood. Sand the edges. For a shelf, mount a shaped piece of wood to the plaque with glue. Varnish, shellac, paint or enamel the plaque, after drying a piece for a hour. An appropriate dactylomania may be used in decorating it.

Good Lighting Is Part Of Good Work

If you're one of the millions who enjoy repairing or creating things at your own workbench, here's a tip that will make work or fun go more quickly and safely.

A good light over your bench is just as necessary to the job as the proper tool. For most even coverage of the work area, choose a fluorescent fixture. The fixture which may have either plastic or metal side shielding should have two 33-inch or two 25-watt standard cool white tubes.

As shown in the drawing above, center the fixture on the ceiling over the bench so that the lower edge of the fixture is 48 inches above the top of your work.

General Electric lighting specialists who developed this handy recipe suggest that when the fixture is attached to rods as shown in the sketch, it becomes even more useful. Rods enable the fixture forward to suit the exacting needs of his work. For even greater flexibility, notice how the fixture has its own extension cord and an outlet in the ceiling above the bench.

Easy-To-Build Birdhouse Quaint Touch For Gable

A plain gable can be given a quaint decorative touch with a small birdhouse, such as the one at right, from Small Homes Guide. A few pieces of lumber, plywood and hand tools will do the trick.

The drawings below give dimensions and construction details of the birdhouse. The drawings give adequate directions for the home craftsman. Use exterior plywood for the face and, if desired, close the holes with thin plywood or boards painted black. Use the same kind of trim as on the gable.

Cedar Closet Protects Garments From Moths

If you've just found your best suit ruined by moths, you may wonder why Nature provided for such destructive creatures. Entomologists say they served a useful purpose at one time by acting as a check on excessive vegetation. Nowadays, moth damage to clothing can be prevented by storing garments in closets lined with aromatic red cedar.

Harvey Warner celebrated his birthday last Wednesday. Several of his schoolmates came down. Warm maple syrup was served and all enjoyed a jolly time.

The cow barn on the Thomas Kerr place burned down last Sunday night with 19 cows and four calves in it. Harvey Marsh was the loser of the cattle.

Chauncy Rauch is superintending the building of the Plymouth telephone line to Livonia Center this week. After this line is completed, toll lines will also be connected to Lapham's Corners, Litchfield and Newburg.

The Sunday saloon closing ordinance was strictly observed by all dealers last Sunday, notice being given Saturday evening by Marshal Brown that complaints would be made if the law was not respected.

At the annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. held last Friday evening, a resolution was adopted asking the council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquors in the village. The resolution will be presented to the council at its next meeting. While the Union is undoubtedly sincere in its request, it is hardly probable such an ordinance would or could be passed.

A. C. Lyons who recently fell on an icy sidewalk and broke his arm has returned and is again painting for H. J. Fisher.

John Creiger is around with his fruit trees, but what is to be done with them, due to the cold weather, is not known unless people set them out in their fruit cellars.

C. O. Hubbell has purchased a lot of Union street, south of the Universalist church.

From statistics in the village clerk's office, it is learned that there were 18 deaths in the village for the year ending December 31, 1903. Remarkable as it is 12 of them were over 60 years of age, the average age of the 12 being 71 years and four months. Certainly indicates a healthy state of affairs in more ways than one.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Swartzmiller and children left the latter part of last week for Alton, New York, where Mr. Swartzmiller will take charge of the Alasa Farms, Inc.

Miss Kathryn Wilcox spent the first part of her vacation as the guest of her sister, Miss Julia Wilcox, in Northampton, Massachusetts. Miss Julia who is a junior at Smith College, spent her spring holidays with seven other Smith College girls in New York City.

Word was received that Raymond Levandowski has graduated from the Business Institute of Detroit. He completed his two and a quarter year course of Walton Advance Accounting in a year and a half.

The old Merton mill, on South Mill street, along the railroad, which was formerly known as the old Lewis mill, was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. By the time the fire department arrived, the building was a mass of flames, and the department didn't even bother to string a line of hose to extinguish the flames.

George E. Fischer, one of the most prominent men in the life of Plymouth, and yet one of the most unobtrusive and retiring, died at his Plymouth road home Tuesday at noon.

Members of the Western Wayne County Conservation club at the annual meeting last week again elected Dr. B. E. Champe as president.

Eighteen employees of the Austin Taxi company of Plymouth and Northville gathered at Hillside Wednesday night for dinner. The occasion was the second anniversary of the taxi company. Those enjoying the event were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fenton, Delmar Phillips, Mrs. Gladstone, Beatrice Brown, Loren Johnson, Mrs. Grimes, Floyd Dicks and Major Taylor.

Dr. W. W. Hammond leaves on Sunday for Chicago, where he will attend the Cook county graduate school of medicine for the next two weeks.

After considering and auditioning several orchestras, the music committee has selected a former graduate of Plymouth, Larry Livingston, to play at the J-Hop. Mr. Livingston is happy to have an engagement in his home town coming for him. He is an experienced musician, having managed an orchestra when in college. He now has a seven-piece orchestra and a girl vocalist.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

THE DAYS OF OUR YEARS

Human life has increased in length in America the last seventy-two years because of the improvement in medical science, public welfare, and general science, public welfare and general hygiene. The American population is older. In 1950 only 2.6 per cent of our population were 65 years of age. In 1900 it was 4.1 per cent, and in 1940, 6.8 per cent. By 1980 it is estimated that those who are 65 years of age or over will constitute almost 15 per cent of our total population.

In the 90th Psalm, which was written by Moses, he says in verse 10: "The days of our years are three score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet is their strength but labor and sorrow."

This was probably written during the wilderness journey. Their lives at this time were hard and they suffered from great frustrations and discontent. Their lives were much shorter than they had been but few generations previously. Moses, who wrote those words, lived to a great age, yet we are told that his eyes were not rimmed nor his strength abated.

The length of life depends upon many elements which affect it. Heredity plays a part. The habits, especially eating and drinking have much to do with the years that we spend upon earth.

The chief reason that more people are reaching the age of 65 than in former years is because more infants are saved than formerly. Only 29 out of a thousand babies that are born now die during the first year. Only 50 years ago 200 out of a thousand died. The doctors and medical researchers are working day and night to control the infectious diseases and save lives.

Avoidable accidents are now taking its toll by the thousands. A certain class of people are even allowing their small children to play in the streets, where they may be crushed at any time under the wheels of a speed fiend. Many are killed by suddenly darting out into traffic from behind parked cars or moving vehicles. Accidents of all types are now fifth in the list of the causes of death. This can be controlled.

To prolong human life people

New strength and stamina! Lower upkeep costs!

New Chevrolet Trucks...

do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save valuable time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper . . . new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to make loading easier.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

GOOD NEWS FOR MANY homeowners is the sewer cleaning program which started last week in Plymouth. Sand and silt has built up for many years in the city sewer system, causing water to back up into many basements during heavy rainstorms. City commissioners recently purchased a set of sewer cleaning machines which last week started the big job. The rig shown above is one of two such machines. One pulls the cable with a scoop into the sewer. When the scoop is filled, it closes and is pulled back out by the other rig. It is estimated that it will take four years to completely clean out all sewers. After the initial clean-out, the complete job can be performed every year. Pile of silt in foreground was taken from about 100 feet of storm sewer.

Advises Care In Dealing With Movers

In furtherance of its community protection program, Nat Sibbold, secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, today issued a warning to local residents on problems connected with the moving of one's household effects from one place to another.

"In few fields is the reliability of a firm more important," Sibbold stated. "The industry is by nature geared to the highest standards of trustworthiness, yet like most industries it suffers a minority of unethical and incompetent practitioners."

In urging the consumer to check on the reliability of moving companies, Sibbold emphasized caution on the low estimate employed as "bait" to obtain jobs by the unscrupulous; the necessity of knowing the exact terms of insurance coverage in case of loss or damage; the importance of reading every paper, particularly in accepting delivery, before signing; the need for a thorough discussion with the mover about the various responsibilities, some of which are definitely the customer's, before making the contract.

"The customer should realize that the low estimate of a mover is not binding on him," Sibbold said, "because the final charge that must be collected from the customer on interstate shipments must be based upon the tariff schedule administered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, or for local moves on hourly rates, fairly standardized by labor and other costs."

A carrier who violates regulations is subject to loss of his license or fines, when operating under supervision of the ICC or state regulatory bodies, but it must be understood that adjudication of individual complaints is not undertaken by such bodies.

"Unsatisfactory experiences should be reported to the Chamber of Commerce," the Chamber secretary said, "so that we will have a factual record of customer experience and thus be able to assist those who check on the reliability of firms before signing with them. This is particularly true when it is discovered that a mover is evading regulations."

Mr. Sibbold quoted rules recommended by the National Better Business Bureau with which the local Chamber is affiliated which consumers should follow in deciding on a mover. They are:

1. Be sure you understand that an estimate is not binding on the company and that the total charge can not be computed until the job is complete.
2. Avoid the mover whose estimate is substantially lower than his competition.
3. Be sure you secure adequate insurance protection to cover loss and damage.

4. Read the contract before signing and understand exactly what your obligations are.

5. Deal only with a reliable mover.

Cadillac

Starting the Day with an Hour's Rest!

It's about an hour from his home to his office—but he doesn't think of it as a drive at all.

He just settles back in the deep, comfortable seat—rests his hand on the inviting wheel—looks out over the hood in the general direction of the office—and starts to relax.

Comes first, the ten-mile stretch in the country.

If the car were standing still, it could not be smoother or softer or quieter—as it loafs over the broad, winding highway. There's only the faint sound of the wind, plus the receding trees and posts and buildings, to give him a sense of movement.

Almost before it begins, it seems, the ten-mile stretch is over—and a sign announces the city's limits. The soft pressure of his foot shifts from accelerator to brake—and the big car settles down easily, smoothly and quickly to the prescribed speed.

And then begins the real wizardry of Cadillac performance. Stop and go—in and out—roll and creep . . . all regulated with the slightest touch of toe and hand. Insofar as the driver is concerned, it's just as easy as the open road—a little slower, of course, but just as calm and relaxing.

And maybe a little bit nicer, in one notable respect—for now there are drivers all about him—stealing glances at his beautiful car, and wondering who's the fortunate person whose name is on the title!

What a car—for highway or street! Owners say the hours behind its wheel are among the finest hours of the day—restful, relaxing and inspiring.

If you haven't as yet driven a 1954 Cadillac—you've been missing something wonderful! Better come in soon—for the most revealing hour you ever spent behind the wheel of a motor car.

All wires which are to be hidden from view shall be inspected before concealment, and any person, firm or corporation installing such wires shall notify the Inspection Authority giving sufficient time in which to make the required inspection before such wires are concealed.

SECTION VII

SECTION VIII

Construction Requirements

No certificate of inspection shall be issued unless the electrical installation is in strict conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, the statutes of the State of Michigan, the rules and regulations issued by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission under the authority of the State Statutes, and unless they are in conformity with approved methods of construction for safety to persons and property. The regulations as laid down in the National Electrical Code, as approved by the American Standards Association and in the National Electrical Safety Codes, as approved by the American Standards Association, and in the Board of Examiners' rules and regulations established as hereinafter provided (Section XI, paragraph D) shall be prima facie evidence of such approved methods.

SECTION IX

Devices, apparatus and equipment approved by such generally recognized authorities as United States Bureau of Standards, Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York, or Underwriters Laboratories shall be held to have the approval of the Electrical Inspector unless explicitly disapproved by said Authority for reasons of faulty design and poor construction involving danger to persons and/or property.

(b) It shall be the duty of the Electrical Inspector from time to time to inspect devices, apparatus and equipment offered to the public for use in installation to see that such items conform to the above requirements.

SECTION X

Record and Review

(a) The Inspection Authority shall keep complete records of all permits issued and inspections made and other official work performed under the provisions of this ordinance.

(b) When the Electrical Inspector condemns all or part of any electrical installation, the owner may within five days after receiving written notice from the Electrical Inspector, file a petition in writing for review of said action of the Electrical Inspector with the Board of Examiners upon receipt of which said Board of Examiners shall at once proceed to determine whether said electrical installation complies with this ordinance, and within three days shall make a decision in accordance with its findings.

SECTION XI

License for Electrical Work

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage as an independent contractor in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring, equipment, apparatus or fixtures for light, heat or power purposes where the electromotive force exceeds 30 volts in or about buildings and/or structures located within the Township of Plymouth without first having procured a license.

Persons making application must be 21 years of age or over and must have a license as a Journeyman electrician and pass a suitable examination. Persons, firms or corporations applying for Contractor's License must have at least one member of the firm with the above qualifications and experience or may have one or more men employed with the above qualifications and experience.

A Board of Examiners is hereby constituted consisting of the Electrical Inspector of the Township of Plymouth, a representative of an Electrical Utility Company, a licensed Electrical Contractor and a licensed Journeyman Electrician, and the said Electrical Contractor and Journeyman Electrician shall have had at least ten (10) years experience in electrical work. The members of said Board of Examiners shall be appointed by the Township Board for such terms as shall be designated at the time of appointment, and shall receive such compensation as shall be determined from time to time by the Township Board. This Board shall examine all applicants for either Contractor's or Journeyman Electrician's licenses. Applicants failing to pass will not be eligible for re-examination in any reciprocating Municipality for a period of thirty (30) days. All applicants for licenses shall designate their legal address as the location of their residence in the case of Journeyman Electricians, and their legal address as the principal place of business in the case of Electrical Contractors. All Electrical Contractors and Journeyman Electricians having their legal address within the corporate limits of the Township of Plymouth shall secure their licenses from the said Inspection Authority.

The Board shall prepare the application blanks, prescribe the examination and meet at least once a month or on call of the Inspection

Authority to hold examinations. Due notice shall be given applicants of the date of examination.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the occupation or trade of Journeyman Electrician in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring equipment, apparatus or fixtures for light, heat, power or medical purposes where the electromotive force exceeds 30 volts in or about building and/or structures within the Township of Plymouth without having first taken the examination and obtained a license as herein provided. This provision shall not apply to helpers and apprentices, provided such work as they may do is performed under the direction and supervision of licensed Journeyman Electricians who shall be on the premises at all times when such helpers or apprentices are performing such work on the premises.

All applications for said examination shall be in writing. The examination shall consist of an oral or written examination as the Examining Board shall determine, and such other practical tests in examination at the discretion of the Examining Board. Stenographic notes shall be taken of all oral examinations.

Minimum qualifications for examination for Journeymen Electricians shall be four years of practical experience. Time spent in trade school attendance shall be credited as apprentice experience. Four years in technical school and one year practical experience shall also qualify for examination.

(c) The fee for an Electrical Contractor's license shall be Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per year. The fee for a Journeyman Electrician's license shall be One ($1.00) Dollar per year. Licenses shall expire on December 31st of each year, and shall be renewed upon application by the licensee, together with the payment of the required fee. After March 1st all licenses not renewed shall be considered cancelled and may not be renewed except upon approval by the Examining Board. Electrical Contractors' licenses and Journeyman Electricians' licenses shall be issued by the Inspection Authority upon recommendation of the Examining Board. Licenses issued under this ordinance shall be non-transferable and shall be displayed when requested. Electrical Contractors' licenses under the terms of this ordinance shall not secure permits for work to be done by any person not employed by said Electrical Contractor, and license may be revoked for violation of this rule.

No license shall be recognized by the Township of Plymouth unless such licenses are issued by a cooperating Municipality having an Examining Board.

The Township of Plymouth shall permit Electrical Contractors lawfully licensed by other municipalities of the State of Michigan to install, alter or repair electrical wiring, equipment, apparatus or fixtures for light, heat or power purposes within the corporate limits of the Township of Plymouth upon payment of a One ($1.00) Dollar registration fee, provided that such municipalities reciprocate in recognizing Electrical Contractors who are duly licensed under the provisions of this ordinance by granting them the same privilege and charging the same uniform license and registration fees. Provided further, that the licensing ordinances are substantially equal to the requirements of this ordinance. Journeyman Electricians duly licensed by any municipality cooperating in the reciprocal arrangement shall be permitted to work in the Township of Plymouth without the payment of a registration fee: Provided, however, that any Journeyman Electrician doing work within the Township of Plymouth, and holding a license from a cooperating municipality, shall register with the Inspection Authority.

No Electrical Contractors' licenses shall be recognized, for the purpose of registration, by the Township of Plymouth of applicants who maintain their principal place of business in a municipality which fails to approve, by affirmative action of its Legislative Body, the reciprocal and mutually interchangeable licensing arrangements covered by this ordinance.

Corporations applying for Electrical Contractors' licenses, whose principal place of business is not in the State of Michigan, may obtain such license from the Inspection Authority upon approval by the Examining Board and the payment of the prescribed fee. Provided, that the applicant shall file a duly executed bond in the penal sum of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars running to the Township of Plymouth conditioned for the faithful performance and observance of the ordinance and rules and regulations made and approved as hereinafter provided controlling the installation of electrical wiring and equipment. Such bond shall be a surety bond from a recognized and approved Surety Company authorized to transact business in the State of Michigan.

Any Electrical Contractor's or Journeyman Electrician's license may, after a hearing, be suspended or revoked by the Examining Board having issued such license upon evidence presented that false statements have been made upon application for license or upon evidence presented that the person, firm or corporation holding such license wilfully or by reason of incompetence repeatedly violates any rules and regulations relating to the inspection, maintenance, alteration or repair of electrical wiring, devices, appliances or equipment.

(d) The Board of Examiners is hereby empowered and it shall be their duty to make such rules and regulations concerning electrical work in the Township of Plymouth as may be required to properly provide for the situation therein. The rules and regulations so made shall be effective upon approval by the Township Board, and shall take precedence over plans, specifications and National Electric Code Rules.

SECTION XII

SECTION XIV

Repeal of Conflicting Ordinances

All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION XV

Liability

This ordinance shall not be construed to relieve from or lessen the responsibility or liability of any party owning, operating, controlling or installing any electric wiring, electric devices and/or electric material for damages to person or property caused by any defect therein nor shall the Township of Plymouth be held as assuming any such liability by reason of the inspection authorized herein, or certificate of inspection issued as herein provided.

The ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days after publication thereof, and shall be published within ten (10) days, after its adoption, in The Plymouth Mail.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Wildlife observers were busy in the Saginaw Bay area during the weekend, watching the thousands of ducks, geese and swans that are feeding and resting on their spring flight to the north.

Bernard Simon, manager at Fish Point and Wildfowl Bay game areas, says the birds include nearly all the types of Mississippi flyway ducks, as well as thousands of Canada geese and hundreds of whistling swans.

The birds are making the most of field and marsh foods in the lowlands along the south-central shore of Saginaw Bay.

Large concentrations will come and go probably for the next two weeks, Simon says, depending on the weather.

The "Newygo Lift" started at midnight, April 5, conservation fisheries workers report.

Each year, dipnetters working under contract have 15 days to lift 10,000 spawning walleyes over power dams blocking the Muskegon River.

The fish then spawn to provide angling for upriver fishermen.

Fish that remain below the dam spawn to provide fishing for downriver anglers.

The lift was instituted some years ago as a compromise move for both fishing groups.

Three sportsmen's clubs in the Holland-Muskegon area have taken more than 100,000 pounds of carp since their annual noxious fish-removal operations began in late February.

Conservation workers in the area say the fish are taken in bayous and feeder streams of Lake Macatawa at Holland and from edge waters of the Muskegon River.

Annually, the operations remove about half a million pounds of carp, dogfish and garpike from waters in the area.

Trappers took 2124 beaver and 193 otter from waters of the northern lower peninsula during the March 20-31 season, conservation workers report.

Last year, trappers took 3267 beaver and—the same as this year—193 otter.

Game workers had expected the marked drop in beaver take this season from the record statewide total of 17,500 trapped last year.

The upper peninsula season in the west end runs April 1-15 and in the central and northeastern portions from April 7-19.

Rainbow trout show their greatest growth spurt during their third and fourth years of life, a recent fisheries study indicates.

Conservation workers have checked growth rates of thousands of brook, brown and rainbow trout during various experiments, and the information was used recently to provide basis for a paper presented before the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters. The paper was prepared by Edward E. Schultz of the conservation department's institute for fisheries research.

Rainbows grow fastest and longest, many nine-year-old fish longer than 30 inches having been checked in the Michigan experiments.

Browns observed in the study were the in-between group, growing at a more even pace and attaining a size of 24 inches in eight years.

Brook trout were smallest and slowest growing from eggs to 14-inch fish in their four years of life. No brooks older than four years were included in the study.

The growth rate of rainbows watched in the study was fairly constant during the first three years of life, then popped upward during the next two years from 14 inches to 25 inches.

In general, fish studied in larger streams grew somewhat larger in less time and lived longer than the same trout type studied in smaller streams.

Nearly 14,000 trout were studied in the project.

A doe deer carrying triplet fawns was killed late last week when struck by an auto southwest of the Swan Creek wildlife experiment station near Allegan, game workers report.

The doe would have given birth to the fawns—two females and one male—probably in about a month and a half.

One of the wild turkeys recently released in Allegan state forest has been found dead under four inches of fresh snow, game workers at Swan Creek wildlife station report.

The turkey—female No. 20—was believed a victim of predators, the remains being somewhat mangled.

Fifty wild turkeys imported from Pennsylvania were released in the forest on March 23-24.

State Hospital To Recruit More Gray Ladies

The American Red Cross Gray Lady Service has announced a recruitment period for additional volunteers to serve at Northville State hospital. Representatives from the Detroit Chapter will be at the hospital, 41001 Seven Mile Road, on Thursday, April 15 and Tuesday, April 20, between 1 and 4 p.m. to interview applicants.

The following qualifications have been established: Age-25-55 years; physical examination by the applicant's physician and personal references. The training course will be conducted at the hospital and is followed by a 35 hour probationary period. Gray Ladies are asked to serve a minimum of 150 hours a year and purchase their own uniform and shoes.

The Gray Lady Service at Northville State hospital was established in September 1952 and since that time the 12 Gray Ladies have become important members of the hospital team, according to Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, Director of Social Service. They assist in recreational projects, occupational therapy, at ward parties and helping individual patients. They work closely with members of the various hospital departments and attend some of the hospital staff meetings. The chairman of the hospital Gray Lady Service is an official member of the hospital public relations committee.

The new Gray Ladies will be trained and ready to assist at the Northville State hospital open house which will be held on May 2, 3 and 4 in commemoration of National Mental Health Week.

Mrs. Robert K. Barbour, 478 Arthur, has served as a hospital Gray Lady since April 1953. She has been active at monthly birthday parties on various wards, conducted card games and other impromptu recreational activities and has assisted at dances. Mrs. Barbour says, "I feel the work is worthwhile and important. We certainly need more Gray Ladies to help us out at Northville State hospital and I know any Plymouth women who volunteer will find it as rewarding as I have."

All interested are encouraged to come to Northville State hospital, 41001 Seven Mile Road between 1 and 4 p.m., April 15 or 20 to obtain complete information.

Social Security Information Given

Employers of household workers often wonder if their employees are covered by the Social Security Law. Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office, suggested this simple test to determine coverage for the household worker:

1. Each person who works in the home regularly on at least 24 different days during the calendar quarter and

2. Who is paid at least $50 in cash wages during that calendar quarter is covered by the law.

The above is the 24 days plus $50 test. Employers who have domestic help who meet this test are required to send in quarterly wage reports to the Director of Internal Revenue. These must show the employee's name, social security number and total wages paid.

Employees who do not meet both parts of the test are not included in social security coverage. Employers can get more information about their responsibilities from the Detroit-Northwest office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan. The phone number is Broadway 3-1717.

M.S.C. agricultural economists expect turkey prices during the 1954 holiday season to average one to two cents below those of 1953.
