

Janet Schneider Is Wed In Spring Candlelight Ceremony

One of the loveliest of early Spring weddings took place on Saturday evening, May 1, in the First Presbyterian church, when Janet Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider of De-Costa avenue, Detroit became the bride of Lawrence Lanphear Jr. Lawrence is the son of the Lawrence Lanphear Sr. of South Main street.

The Reverend Henry Walch officiated at the double ring ceremony at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening. Large bouquets of white snapdragons, gladioli and palms enhanced the chancel. Fred Nelson presided at the organ and accompanied Nat Sibbold who sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Janet, given in marriage by her father, wore a floorlength gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice and long sleeves were of the lace. The illusion neckline had a Peter Pan lace collar and the lace skirt featured a wide pleated panel of nylon tulle down the front. Her bouquet was of white roses, stephanotis and ivy and a band of orange blossoms held in place her fingertip length veil of illusion which was edged in the matching lace.

Mrs. Dixie Kolb, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a strapless gown of aqua silk taffeta in waltz length with matching bolero jacket. She wore a matching headband of the taffeta with a cluster of burnt orange rosebuds in her hair and her bouquet was of matching burnt orange rosebuds.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joanne Shrake and Miss Glenna Fraleigh, wore gowns fashioned like that of the matron of honor, in Nile green. They wore matching bands in their hair with clusters of yellow rosebuds and carried yellow rosebud bouquets.

Edwyne Schneider, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Lawrence asked his brother, Neil Lanphear, to assist him as best man and the ushers were Ronald Nyhus and George Kolb.

Mrs. Schneider, mother of the bride wore a pink dress with white accessories. Mrs. Lanphear also wore white accessories with her blue linen suit. Both mothers completed their ensembles with corsages of pink carnations.

'Streamlined Cinderella' to Be Given by Starkweather Students Edward Klinskes' Honeymoon

The familiar Cinderella story in reverse, a "Streamlined Cinderella," will be presented in the form of an operetta by the students of Starkweather school on Friday, May 21, at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The entire performance will last only an hour.

In this modernized version, Cindy Lou, (Linda Schrock), the favorite girlfriend of Prince Dean (Jim Herter), has two step-sisters, Flora (Yvonne Millington) and Dora (Barbara Gooch). No one in town realizes their existence; therefore their unexpected appearance at Prince's party causes a good deal of excitement.

Other leading parts will be portrayed by Dennis Robertson, Jennie Caldwell, Jack Freeman, Bill Hitt, Sherry Rusten, Sharon Neal, Lois Neidermeyer, Esther Stroyan, Judy Herrick, Roger Howard, J. C. Dickey, Jon Hadwin and Billy Rossow.

Although children from the fourth through sixth grades will comprise the leads, stage and floor chorus, consisting of over 100 people, the first second and third graders will also make an appearance. The first graders will appear as mice and will sing "Bibbidi - Bobbidi-Boo," from Walt Disney's "Cinderella." The second grade chorus will open the program with a medley of Cinderella and streamlined Cinderella songs. The third graders will take the part of Irish children, too young to attend Prince's party, singing two familiar Irish selections.

Participating in the production will be over 200 children. The operetta is a fast-moving, one-act production with songs, dances, pathos, and laughter.

There will be no admission charge.

In South Following Wedding

Miss Therese Alice Francis and Edward M. Klinske, Jr. repeated their nuptial vows at an impressive double ring ceremony last Saturday morning, May 15, in Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

Therese is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland J. Francis of Blunk street, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Klinske, Sr. of Joy road are the bridegroom's parents.

The nuptial Mass was read by the Reverend Father Francis Byrne. Altar vases of white roses, carnations and snapdragons and the lighted tapers formed the setting for the nine-thirty o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Felix Cylk presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Mary Lou Hartwick who sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Therese's gown was of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The bouffant skirt extended to a full cathedral train and the fitted bodice with its portrait neckline had long fitted sleeves ending in points over the wrists. Her only adornment was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell gracefully from a cap of matching Chantilly lace trimmed in seed pearls and she carried a white Prayer Book centered with a white orchid.

Nancy Francis, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. Her gown was of pink shantung in ballerina length and she wore a small matching cap. Her colonial bouquet was of pink roses.

Gerald Klinske served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Martin Mitchell and Howard Carson, Jr.

Mrs. Francis, mother of the bride, selected an afternoon dress of Navy blue crepe and taffeta with azalea pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore white accessories with her Navy crepe dress. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations and rosebuds.

In the evening, a reception for over 200 guests was held in the Knights of Columbus hall. Friends and relatives from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Canada, Northville, Allen Park, St. Clair Shores and Plymouth were present.

The young couple are honeymooning in Florida. For traveling Mrs. Klinske chose a Navy blue and white checked Hanamacher suit with Navy accessories. She pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet to the shoulder of her suit.

Both Therese and Edward were graduated from Plymouth high school in 1950.

Upon returning to Plymouth the couple will be "at home" to their many friends on Canton Center road in Plymouth.

Buddy Poppy Sale on May 28 To Aid Veterans, Families

When local veterans and members of veterans auxiliaries go on the street corners on Friday, May 28, to sell Buddy Poppies they will be carrying on a tradition established soon after World War I. The artificial poppies are sold throughout the nation each year at this time in order to help the disabled veterans and their families.

The sale of poppies had its origin in the Franco-American Children's League which sold poppies gathered by women and children in Flanders' field for the benefit of war-torn areas of France and Belgium. When the league was discontinued Madame Guerin, known as the "Poppy Lady of France," interested veterans organizations in the United States in the project.

The idea of the poppy sale appealed to them so much that the membership throughout the nation was mobilized for the first poppy campaign. The following year the poppy was called the Buddy Poppy, a name given them by the hospitalized veterans. It is assumed that the name "Buddy" was given the poppies as a result of the popularity of the name "Buddy" among men overseas during World War I.

William Norman, chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars section of the Buddy Poppy sale explained that one of the main uses for the proceeds from the sale is to maintain the National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan. At the "Home" there are more than 20 brick houses each of which houses a dozen or more children, orphaned when their fathers were killed in the war. Each house is run by a house mother, who is a carefully selected widow of a veteran. The children live normal lives, attending public schools, choosing their own religions, and so on.

Other proceeds are used for hospital work carried on by the

Rev. Reider Addresses Plymouth Kiwanis Club

The Reverend David L. Reider, pastor of the First Baptist church in Plymouth, told Kiwanians Tuesday evening that every businessman is challenged by a "dream or vision" towards which goal he bends his efforts.

In a program presented by James Houk, the Rev. Reider pointed to the dream of a home and family as an example of those things which even the most hard-hearted businessmen strive to build for. He paralleled this with "the challenge of Jesus" which transformed men with aimless lives into disciples.

On Tuesday, June 1 the club will take a bus to the Great Lakes Steel company for a tour of the plant following the regular dinner meeting.

"Mr. Galin, I Wanted To Come Over And Tell You How Much I Love My New Youngstown Kitchen..."

THESE ARE THE EXACT WORDS spoken by Mrs. Charles Garlett (shown above), of 921 Church street, when I called her for an appointment to photograph her newly completed YOUNGSTOWN KITCHEN. The home was built by Mrs. Garlett's great grandfather, Alfred Shattuck, and has been in the family ever since.

Mrs. Garlett wished to retain the original beauty as much as possible but the original kitchen was not adequate, especially since Mrs. Garlett has to prepare her meals on short notice because she is teaching during the day. What seemed an impossibility was accomplished through the variety of YOUNGSTOWN UNITS of assorted sizes to fit any space. And we did the whole job with such results that Mrs. Garlett was very pleased and said she would be happy to recommend our KITCHEN PLANNING SERVICE to all her friends!

"I am proud of another job well done, and especially of having Mr. and Mrs. Garlett so well pleased. It's a source of satisfaction and advertising that money can not buy."

Squeeze Test Your Silage Crop

How can you tell when a chopped hay crop is ready to put in the silo?
 J. G. Hays, extension dairyman at Michigan State college, suggests the "squeeze test." It works this way: Squeeze a handful of freshly-chopped hay crop. If here's moisture on your hand the material is too wet for ensiling. If you can't make the material stick together by squeezing it, it's too dry. If a roll you're queezing will spring apart slowly, the moisture content is right.
 And how do you know when it's safe to chop from the standing crop if you don't intend to use a silage preservative?
 Hays says that when grass makes up half the stand—as in alfalfa-brome, red clover-timothy—direct cutting and chopping is safe when alfalfa plants are well into the half bloom stage. If you don't have alfalfa in your silage crop, you can judge when to chop by the bloom stage of your neighbor's alfalfa.
 If you're going to ensile a legume—alfalfa, red clover or sweet clover—alone, the crop should be in full bloom. Ladino clover, though, is a problem—it's still too juicy for direct chopping when alfalfa is past full bloom.
 Use a preservative, Hays advises, when the direct-chopped material is too wet. Molasses should be used at the rate of at least 40 pounds per ton; corn and cob meal, at least 200 pounds per ton. You can know the tons per load of ensilage by dividing the cubic feet by 100.
 If the crop is too juicy for direct cutting and chopping and a preservative doesn't appeal to you, mow and rake at once. Let the hay wilt in the windrow for one to three hours, then use a pickup chopper. The squeeze test will tell you when the crop is ready, Hays indicates.

SAFETY PATROL BOYS, 166 of them, traveled to Briggs Stadium Monday afternoon as a reward for their work in safeguarding fellow students during the past school year. They are shown here after a lunch at the Mayflower hotel. The boys were from both public and parochial schools.

Mail Box Beauty To Be Stressed

Beautifying all the rural mail boxes is the goal of Mail Box Improvement Week, in progress until May 24. Several suggestions for correct mail box use have been offered to local residents by Postmaster George Timpona, who urges that Plymouthites join in the national campaign for improved mail boxes.
 First the box should be of the regulation No. 1 or 2 size. An inscription bearing the name of the owner should appear on the side of the box when the box stands singly, or on the door when two or more boxes are grouped together. Letters should be black and stand about an inch high. No advertising matter may be displayed either on the boxes or on the posts.
 Dr. Timpona pointed out that boxes should be placed on the right hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the carrier.
 The posts or other supports should be of a neat design and may be of wood, metal or concrete of suitable strength and dimensions.
 Although it is not required that mail boxes be painted, the post office department prefers that they be painted white. It is also permissible to use aluminum instead of white paint.
 Wherever possible boxes should be grouped, especially near crossroads or at other places on the routes where a considerable number of boxes are located. A good support consists of a board erected on firmly planted posts, with a shelf about three and one-half to four feet high on which the boxes are to be placed.

A Layman Says . . .

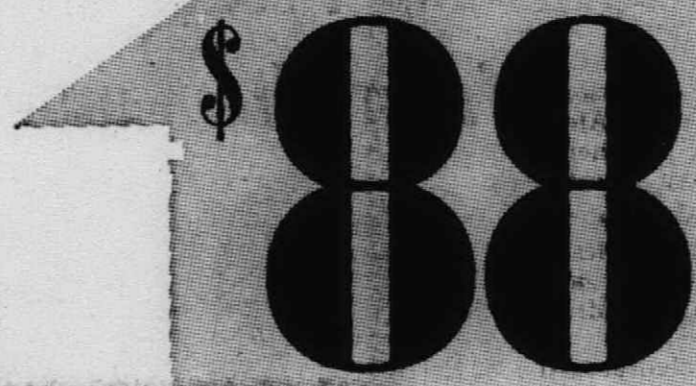

Hide thyself by the brook Cherith . . . I have commanded the ravens to feed thee there. (1 Kings 17:3,4.)
 Even Elijah had to hide himself. There are times when to be alone and quiet is the best for the most useful of God's servants. The question of support during this period of hiding is taken care of by God Himself. Possibly in the most unexpected or in the most unusual way He will sustain His servant in the place He has indicated for this time of quiet before Him alone. (L.S.)
 Alone with Thee, O Master, where
 The light of earthy glory dies,
 Misunderstood by all I dare
 To do what Thine own heart would prize.

Burroughs Opens Plant to Families

Immediate families of some 3,600 employees of the Burroughs corporation's Plymouth plant will get an inside look at the modern Plymouth road building this Saturday when the plant administration holds its first "Open House." Reservations for 6,000 persons have been made for the plant inspection tour and refreshment period in the plant's new cafeteria. Tickets have been distributed in order to stagger the visits from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Plant officials are holding the open house to "foster community relations and allow the whole family to see where their husband, wife or parent works."

Routes will be roped off through the plant and workers will be allowed to show their own families all departments. The tour will end in the cafeteria where refreshments will be served.

Also being invited are Chamber of Commerce representatives and newspapermen.

TRASH DELIBERATELY thrown alongside the country roads is again frequently seen in the Plymouth area such as shown in these two scenes on Gyde road. Stiff penalties await persons guilty of this type of offense. City and township officials point out that the trash is not only unsightly, but can provide a health hazard. For instance, a half ton of meat was found alongside a township road last year. City dwellers have weekly trash pick-up and township residents can take their trash to the sand company pit at Schoolcraft and Haggerty all day Saturday or Sunday morning.

Professional Women Install New Officers

New officers of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club were installed at the meeting on Monday evening in the Mayflower hotel. Following dinner in the Mayflower room the members assembled in the Captain's room for the business meeting and installation. The candle-lighting installation service was conducted by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, chairman of the district and former president of the Plymouth club. Installed in the special service were Bernice Crisp, president; Ada Watson, vice-president; Elizabeth Hartwick, recording secretary; Alice Reddeman, secretary; and Margaret Wilson, treasurer.

Several members of the Plymouth club are planning to attend the Michigan State convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs which will be held at the Statler hotel in Detroit this weekend.

Beginning on Friday morning, May 21, with a school of instruction, the activities will continue through Saturday and will end with a luncheon on Sunday. Highlight of the convention will be the banquet on Saturday evening when those attending will hear Lisa Sergio, editor of Widening Horizons, international publication of the Business and Professional Women's club. She will address the members on "The Price of Leadership." Violinist Harry Klein, accompanied by an ensemble from the Royal Oak Teachers Orchestra, will also play for the group.

The last meeting of the local club will be the annual picnic on Monday, June 21, in the garden of the home of Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple.

charged 25 cents if the ticket is paid within an hour.

Outcome of the debate was a motion by Commissioner Henry that a committee be appointed from the city commission to meet with a Chamber committee for the purpose of studying the two proposals. Mayor Daane appointed Commissioners Henry, chairman, Mrs. Hammond and Tibbitts.

First reading was given an ordinance amendment which deletes from the heating code any mention of compulsory fire extinguishers. The city heating board recommended the code change with Fire Chief Robert McAllister concurring. The code was written so that a carbon tetrachloride extinguisher would be installed. Chief McAllister claimed this type extinguisher is "deadly" because of its fumes. Other communities have dropped the extinguisher section from their heating code, it was learned. The extinguisher was required with all new oil furnace installations.

Commissioners learned that the city will be paying several thousand dollars more each year, starting next year, for the public library. The Wayne county Supervisors recently approved a "formula" whereby communities will pay certain percentages of library expenses. The formula, if it had been in effect last year, would have set Plymouth's share at $6,407. Plymouth township will also be paying a share.

In other business before the commission, planning commission chairman Sidney Strong and the commission's legal counsel, Clifford Manwaring, reported on the city-owned properties. The city commission has informally asked a report in order that unused city properties can possibly be sold and placed back on the tax rolls.

Commissioners also: Gave permission to Mayflower post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to hold a Memorial day parade on May 31; gave Allen elementary school permission to hold a small parade in connection with its carnival; turned down a claim of William Rose for damaged truck tires which he claimed struck a piece of curbing lying on Main street; turned a letter over to the city manager from Dr. H. C. Balfour regarding the installation of parking meters on a portion of Harvey street.

Hamlin Boys Return From Stays in Hospital

A bit of hard luck had struck the Hamlin family, but now it looks as though everything is going to be all right. Lloyd and Adin Hamlin, sons of Mrs. Violet Hamlin of 758 Holbrook, have both been released from the hospital.

Lloyd was hospitalized because of a rheumatic heart. He is now at home and his condition is fine, although he will be confined to a wheelchair for a while. Adin, doing his third stint in the Marine Corps, was in a jeep accident during maneuvers and was hospitalized in Virginia. Now, well again, he is on the West Coast awaiting shipment overseas.

Mrs. Hamlin has another son, William, serving with the Marines in Japan.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

ONE day several months ago, Garry Moore appeared before his fans with the startling pronouncement that all this life he had been wondering about the possibility of using a vacuum cleaner on a horse but on this day, he was finally going to do it. . . . Then and there Garry launched into this self-imposed chore, much to the merriment and amusement of the millions of daily viewers of CBS' "Garry Moore Show" . . . This is only one of the many unexpected things that occur on Garry's program . . . The other day, Garry donned a grass skirt and decided to give his audience a serious lecture on the hula dance . . . What he said turned out to be far less important than what he did.

Already launched on his fourth successive year on daytime television, Garry's audiences have conditioned themselves to be ready for practically anything in the way of entertainment on the "Garry Moore Show" . . . One day he may stage a frog-jumping contest, the next he may display a troupe of trained elephants and the third a fashion show . . . He and Durward Kirby may give their own interpretation of what happens when the charwoman takes over the offices or Garry may suddenly decide that he would like to have a serious talk with his audience.

Caution: Habit Forming

Each week more and more people attest that Garry Moore is more than just entertainment—he is a habit—an unbreakable habit . . . You watch him once, most of them will say, and you find yourself watching him every day thereafter . . . He just grows on you and before you realize it, you let nothing interfere with your enjoyment of his program . . . Garry gives full credit for his success to his fans whose mail gives him a good idea of what they want to see . . . He must have the right formula as his is one of the most popular daytime shows on the air today.

SOME PEOPLE!

A veteran is advertising his four-month-old house for sale because the basement floor and walls are cracked, the doors won't close, the furnace smokes, the garage leans, and the porches are falling off. As the real-estate lobby will be quick to point out, some people expect perfection.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SOME PEOPLE!
A veteran is advertising his four-month-old house for sale because the basement floor and walls are cracked, the doors won't close, the furnace smokes, the garage leans, and the porches are falling off. As the real-estate lobby will be quick to point out, some people expect perfection.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Allen P. T. A. Sets Spring Fling Scene

It will be carnival time at Allen Elementary school Saturday evening when the Parent-Teacher association stages the "Allen School Spring Fling" as its first major project since the organization was founded at the new school this past winter.

Final plans have been completed to offer a wide variety of entertainment for the public. The Spring Fling will open its doors at 5 p.m. Saturday and will continue through 10 p.m.

Activities will be available for both old and young folks, the planning committee announces. There will be horse rides, a fish pond, cake walk, a fortune teller, variety show, a shooting gallery, game room, fun house, a photography booth and "stores" selling cotton candy, house plants, candy, pop and popcorn.

Two separate menus are available for those wanting to eat at the Spring Fling. There will be regular dinner in addition to a pancake supper. Starting time for the meals is 5:30 o'clock.

The P.T.A. is holding the carnival to finance several projects at the school. The organization was formed last winter and this will be its first major money-making project. Allen school opened its doors only last September.

Henry Rupert is chairman of the Spring Fling. There are 18 committees preparing for the event.

Children from all grades will participate in the variety show. The show will be presented three times, 7, 7:45 and 8:30 p.m.

City officials have been extended an invitation to attend the carnival and several have accepted the invitation.

The Allen school band will stage a "parade" through the city this Friday afternoon to advertise the carnival. They will be riding a truck, followed by several automobiles. Chord organ music will be furnished during the carnival by Mrs. Robert Lidgard.

To Base Final PTSA Program On TV Show

Preparation for the final P.T.S.A. program of the school year to be presented Tuesday, May 18, is getting underway. A unique program based on the popular television program "The Big Payoff" is in store for the parents and teachers attending. The cast will be synonymous with the original cast on the TV production, the parts being taken by the seventh and eighth graders.

The entire show will run according to form even to an actual giveaway with prizes which will be modeled by seven girls. The prizes will be awarded to the lucky winners among the four eighth grade girls and four eighth grade boys who will act as contestants.

All the garments worn will be self-made, allowing no one to participate unless she has sewn her own outfit.

To add to the show a "craft night" is being planned by Mrs. Violet Scheele's art class which will display its work in exhibit form, and Frank Sullivan's shop class which will display the articles made at various times during the year.

One hundred and ten seventh grade girls will participate in this last P.T.S.A. event of the year. Refreshments will be served to the parents, teachers, and students by the eighth grade girls.

Y-Teens to Install New Club Cabinet

President Sally Ford with the members of the new Y-Teen cabinet will be installed into their new offices at a ceremony on March 20 at 3:45 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Holding the positions of vice-president, secretary, corresponding secretary, and treasurer are Jane Smith, Glenna Merrillat, Kathy Bernash and Jean Rowe respectively.

At the ceremony the old officers and committee chairmen will present symbols of the positions they held to the new members of the cabinet.

The Senior Tea which will be held at Miss Edna Allen's house will be on May 18 after school for all seniors in the Y-Teens club. Mrs. Mildred Burr will be hostess to the past cabinet members at a pot luck dinner on June 1 at which time, the members will give their reports.

Under the chairmanship of Ella Plant Annual June Breakfast will be held in the park on the morning of June 3.

Student Council to Hold Picnic for New Members

Once again the new replaces the old as the retiring Student Council is planning a picnic honoring the newly-elected members and officers.

The picnic, which will be held in the park, is the project presently requiring the attention of the council. The date has not been set for certain yet and will be taken up at the next council meeting to be held Tuesday, May 18. On May 26 the new council officers will meet with the old.

In place of the usual honor assembly at which sports awards are distributed by the athletic department, the awards will be presented in a different manner. The athletic directors have not yet decided how this will be done.

Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

DISSENTION IN CONSERVATION administration has cooked up some lively controversies during recent years. . . and more can be expected until some changes are made.

This seems the opinion of several newspaper people close to the scene as well as other observers who have watched the wrangling;

A rugged fight was expected at the most recent meeting of the Conservation Commission May 6-7 at Higgins Lake. That it failed to take place doesn't mean that all the ingredients for continued controversy aren't still present. In the opinion of most people qualified to judge, they are.

Basic trouble seems to be a deep seated difference in philosophies about the way the department should be run.

Gerald E. Eddy, director since 1951, believes that the future of conservation depends on technical application by trained men to problems that develop. He defines the most fundamental problem at present as "supplying more game and fish to a rapidly increasing population with more time to spend in the woods and with money to spend on outdoor equipment and trips."

This approach conflicts squarely, consistently and all too often with attitudes usually championed by Commissioner Joseph Rahilly. These might be described as "the practical approach" as contrasted with administration policies based on sound scientific research. Rahilly does not exactly ignore research, but he is reported as taking it with a grain of salt—particularly if its findings do not coincide with what he learned "from the folks back home."

Rahilly has the longest record in service of any member of the commission and has been chairman several times. He opposed Eddy's appointment as director of the department, supporting another candidate. When Eddy was appointed, Rahilly was quoted as saying that "he would be back in the saddle within a year."

There were indications that skids were being greased to demote Deputy Conservation Director Wayland Osgood at the May meeting. Although sources were difficult to prove, the word definitely was out that Osgood's "poor handling of legislative matters during the session demanded that he be replaced."

Handwriting on the wall was so clear that a number of supporters rushed in to supply strong backing. Among them were some well known newspaper men and some legislators.

The situation was headed off at the May Conservation meeting by positive action. Rep. Hugo A. Nelson, Republican from Indian River, appeared at the meeting accompanied by Rep. Walter G. Nakkula, (R-Gladwin), a member of Fish and Fisheries and Geological Survey Committees. Nelson, who is a member of the House Conservation Committee and chairman of the House Fish Committee, and Nakkula both spoke in favor of Osgood's activities with the legislature, stressing the high regard they had for his ability.

Commissioners received the report happily and no more was said at the meeting about replacing Osgood. Presumably, the issue of his demotion or discharge is now a dead one.

This fight is but one battle in the deeper conflict about who is going to run the conservation department and how it shall be run.

Personalities have long been involved. They still are. There is no reason to imagine that this hard feeling will subside. Peace can come only when there is relative harmony among commission members and the department administration. This will probably require a change in the membership of the Conservation Commission.

Juvenile Court Starts Program For Girl Cases

The police departments, school districts and social agencies of the out-county communities were notified this week that the Juvenile Court branch office will this month inaugurate a service for girls.

Judge Nathan J. Kaufman, recently appointed to the Probate bench and assigned to succeed Judge George Edwards at the Juvenile Court, has approved a consultation service for girls' cases. Mrs. Margaret Hayden, a representative of the Girls' Probation department, will be at the Juvenile Court branch office, 27230 Michigan avenue, Inkster, on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month and by appointment only, will confer with police officers, attendance officers, visiting teachers and social workers to assist them in making a disposition on girls' cases involving behavior problems.

"We would like to offer a much more comprehensive program for girls but are unable to do so at this time because of limited personnel," said Judge Kaufman. He continued, "we plan no change whatsoever in the present procedure for handling of girls' cases, and the opportunity to discuss difficulty problems with a representative of our Girls' Probation department will simply be an added service."

John M. Neville is director of the branch office services.

Junior Varsity Wins

The Plymouth high JV nine came up with powerful hitting and some good hurling to wallop an Allen Park JV team 13 to 1 last week. The Rocks scored the 13 runs on 7 hits, wildness and errors. Drews, the Plymouth hurler, held Allen Park to but 2 hits, and the losers counted the lone run on a double and errors in the fourth inning. Young Drews struck out 11 men, walked but 1 and hit 1 batsman.

Plymouth scored two runs in the second, six in the fourth on three singles, a double, two walks, a hit batsman, and an error, and five more in the seventh inning in four walks, two singles and an error.

Cliff Tait and Trost each had 2 hits—Tait's both being doubles. DeCoster, Brinks and Christenson each had one safety.

The JV's meet Belleville here next Monday afternoon.

NOW THEY ASK—ARE YANKEES FALLING APART?

There is a noticeable feeling of an impending change in the American League, says The Sporting News. Rival managers and players come to Yankee Stadium, take a good look at the Yankees and announce with conviction, "There will be no sixth straight pennant! These guys are washed up." In past years, predictions by opposition sources of New York grief were guarded and a case of the wish being father to the thought.

Now, there is a far different situation. The other clubs are convinced that a new deal is in process of development, and there is great rejoicing.

There has been more than the normal cheering in the Stadium for visiting clubs. It is conceivable that the customers, like the opposition, are tired of seeing the Yankees win, season after season, and are ready for a change.

One thing is sure, this Yankee club is not geared for anything like the winning streak of 18 straight with which the Bombers of 1953 ruined the race as early as June.

Without Mickey Mantle in center every day, Stengel's outfield is not too formidable. Nor is the infield up to the old Bomber standard. Short and second have been harassing Casey and he has been talking of taking chances.

The Yankees had a lacklustre training season, and since the pennant race got under way the weather has been rather unhelpful.

They are confronted with the absolute necessity of playing better ball, or moving out of the picture after having dominated baseball for five straight years.

"Break up the Yankees" was at one time the battle cry in the American League. After five flags in a row, can it be that the Yankees are falling apart?

Manager Walter (Smokey) Alston, first-year Dodger manager, made a move at Cincinnati recently that may have been the first of its kind.

With two out, the score tied at 6 to 6 and big Ted Kluszewski the next hitter, Alston ordered Ted purposefully passed, thus putting the potential winning run on base. The move paid off, incidentally, in another unique way. Johnny Temple, the next hitter, with a two-and-two count against him tried to bunt the third strike. He fouled and the third out was an automatic one. (P.S. Temple came up in the eleventh with two out and Big Kluz on base by another intentional pass, and lined a low single to right center to win the game.)

CURRYING HER HORSE "BABY" for the Northville Junior Horse Show is Ellen Cowgill. Seated on the bale of hay watching her work are two more youthful riders, Randy Eaton and Linda Hershey. The three are among many local horsemen expecting to enter the Junior Horse Show on June 6.

Sport Glances . . . Here Next Week

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Flint Northern was too strong for the other teams in the State Regional track meet at Ann Arbor last Saturday. The defending Class A state champs rolled up a score that more than doubled the second place Ann Arbor squad and counted points in every event except the pole vault.

Art Johnson, the speedy dash man and an all-state back in football, beat out Plymouth's Jerry Kelly in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes even though Jerry had one of his better days. Johnson had to break the regional record in the 220 to do it, but he did just that, and is one of the finest sprinters I have ever seen in high school circles.

Kelly broke his own school record in the 220 when he sped the dash in 22 seconds flat to clip two seconds off his former mark. He qualified for both events in the state meet this Saturday at Ann Arbor and will again meet Johnson in both dashes.

Earl Fulton pulled a surprise by qualifying in the 440. He made his best time of the year—55 seconds—to get into the state meet. Those were the only two lads from Plymouth to qualify for the big meet Saturday, but Tom Davis lost out by a couple feet in the last five yards in the mile run. Tom was third but in the last few strides two men passed him.

Many of those winners in the Ann Arbor regional will be state winners come Saturday.

The Plymouth Merchants team was drubbed badly last Sunday by the Taylor Merchants at Riverside Park. Taylor is a new entry in the Inter-County league, and where all those good players came from is beyond me; they looked like a lot of ex-minor leaguers, and could they sock that old horsehide. Four home runs were clouted, plus a flock of doubles and triples off three Merchant hurlers. The Taylor pitcher, besides hurling a magnificent game, clouted two homers, a triple and a double to knock in seven runs.

The Merchants were definitely "off" in this contest, and just couldn't get going—just the reverse of their first two outings when they won two good ball games from tough competition. They will still win a lot of games, and I look for them to make the playoffs easier this year than they have in the past.

The Yankees slightly deflated the Tigers balloon by dumping them from first place, but even though the Detroit club lost all three games to the world champs they were close contests—ones that were not decided until the last man was out. That old familiar Yankee home run did the trick—the Tigers just do not have a long ball hitter outside of Ray Boone, while the Yankees win many of their games on the long ball hitter.

However the Tigers came back Sunday to win a double-header from Boston even though Ted Williams, back in the game for the first time this year had eight hits, one short for the mark for hits made in a double-header. It was good to see old Ted clouting that ball again, particularly when the Tigers won the games. Ted was in World War II for a couple years, and then again was called for duty in the Korean conflict for a couple more years. At the height of his career that meant a lot of money to this highly-regarded ball player. I hope he makes good this year.

If you are planning on getting tickets to the Michigan—Michigan State football game next fall you had better think about getting them soon for they will be sold out a long time before September rolls around. That will be a good game this year, as all the games are between these two state rivals, but I look for this game to excel those of the past few years in quality and closeness. I'm just reminding you that if you want to see it you had better get those ducats right now, that is the safe way, and then if you cannot go in the fall—those tickets can easily be disposed of—I'm getting mine now.

Thinclads Score Easy 79-30 Win

Plymouth thinclads scored an unexpected easy triumph over a Trenton track squad last week to win the meet 79 to 30.

Jerry Kelly was high point man with 14½ points scored on firsts in the 100, 220, a second in the broad jump and running the final leg in the half-mile relay. Jerry Swain ran the high hurdles in 16.9 seconds and broke the school record in the low hurdles with a mark of 21.5 seconds.

Results: 120 HH—16.9 seconds—Swain; T; T. Medley relay—2:42.8 — Plymouth (Juve, Markham, Keith, Danol). 100 dash — 10.4 — Kelly; T; Mecklenberg.

Mile run — 4:44.2—Burger (T); Davis; Smith. 440 dash—54.2 seconds—Wood (T); Showers, Fulton.

180 LH—21.5 seconds—Swain; T; T. 220 dash—22.5 seconds—Kelly; Mecklenberg, Markham.

880 Run—2:11.6 — L. Becker; Ferguson, H. Becker. 880 Relay—1:38.2 — Plymouth —(Danol, Keith, Juve, Kelly).

Pole Vault—9 feet 6 inches—Danol; T; T tied. High Jump—5 feet 2 inches—Pagenkopf; Ferguson, Young.

Broad Jump—19 feet 6 inches—Mecklenberg, Kelly, Juve.

Netmen Drop Two

Trenton and River Rouge High Schools bested Plymouth on the court last week—the Trojans winning 7 matches to none, and Rouge dropping the local 5 matches to 2.

In the first meet all the singles players lost—those being; Bate-man, Zukosky, Kidston and Gibson. The doubles partners of Root and Rossow; Schipper and Steele; and Bowen and Conrad also lost their matches.

In the Rouge loss, Brian Kidston won in number 2 singles and the doubles team of Root and Rossow won for the Rocks two triumphs. Bateman, Zukosky and Gibson lost in singles; while Schipper and Steele; Bowen and Sawyer lost in doubles.

Today the Rock netmen meet Belleville on the courts at Riverside Park. Tomorrow and Saturday, they will compete in the state regionals.

Golfers Take Two

The Rock golfers seem to get better as the season progresses. Last week the linksmen scored two victories over Northville and Bentley. Both were 9-hole matches.

The local tee-men won over Northville 174 strokes to 183, and took the measure of Bentley 172 strokes to 191.

Fred Benson was medalist in the first match with a 38 with David Beegle gaining a 44, Tyler Caplin a 45 and Mike Carmichael a 47.

In the Bentley match, Caplin was medalist with a 39, Benson had a 41, Carmichael a 44 and Beegle a 48.

Today the Rocks meet Northville away, and next Wednesday they conclude the season with a match against Ypsilanti Central at the Plymouth Country Club.

Allen Park Nine Shuts Out Rocks

The defending 6-B League champion Plymouth Rocks suffered the second defeat of the season as they were shutout by Allen Park 9 to 0 last Tuesday. The Rocks had beaten Allen Park in an earlier game by one run.

The winners made the 9 runs on 9 hits, while the Rocks were able to gather only 3 safeties, all singles.

Allen Park counted one run in the first inning on two walks and an error; two more in the third on an error and two singles; three in the fourth inning on a walk, two singles and a triple; one in the sixth and the last two in the seventh inning.

Plymouth's three bingos were made by Gothard, Day and Wilhelm. Dick Day tossed the entire game and walked 6 while striking out the same number in yielding 9 hits.

Next Tuesday the Rocks journey to Trenton for a return engagement with the Trojans. Plymouth defeated Trenton by one run with a great four-run extra inning rally a few weeks ago.

Tomorrow Plymouth goes to Belleville for a game with the Tigers, who are in first place in the 6-B league at the present time. Belleville won the first game between these two by one run.

Two From Plymouth Qualify For State Track Meet

Two Plymouth high school track men qualified for the state meet this Saturday at Ann Arbor when they placed second in their races in the class A regional meet last Saturday at Ann Arbor. Jerry Kelly finished second in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, while Earl Fulton finished second in his section of the 440-yard dash.

Kelly had one of his best days, breaking his own school record in the 220, but met Art Johnson, speedy dashman from Flint Northern, who was too much for the Plymouth flash on this particular day. Johnson, an all-state back in football last fall, broke the regional record by running the 220 in a dazzling 21.4 seconds—the record was 21.9. Kelly ran the race in 22 seconds flat to beat his former best mark by two-tenths of a second. Jerry ran the 100 in 10.3 seconds, but Johnson won out in a tight finish in 10.2 seconds. Both qualified for the state finals and will meet again this Saturday. I would not be surprised if they finished one-two in both dashes; either one might come out on top. Kelly counted 8 points for Plymouth.

Earl Fulton won the right to advance when he ran the 440 in 55 seconds to come in second in his section. This race was run in two sections because of the large entry. Fulton scored 3 points for his win.

Tom Davis had third place in the mile run until the last five yards when two lads flashed past him to knock him out of the state meet. The winner's time was 4.44. Tom picked up a point for finishing fifth.

Other points scored by Plymouth boys were made by Russell Mecklenberg, who leaped 19 feet 10 inches for a fifth in the broad jump; and Ronald Pagenkopf, who tied with three others for fourth and fifth in the high jump—Ron leaped 5 feet 6 inches; and Bob Danol, who tied with four others at 9 feet 6 inches for fourth and fifth place in the pole vault.

Creditable showings were made by Ron Markham, who got to the finals in the 220-yard dash, but came in sixth. Jerry Swain reached the finals in both hurdles events, but had bad luck in that he fell in the low hurdles while up with the leaders, and a knocked down hurdle threw him off stride in the highs to finish sixth. Lynn Becker finished sixth in the half-mile run, Tom Ferguson seventh and Hal Becker ninth. Tom Showers, a freshman, came in sixth in the 440-yard dash in the fast heat.

Both relay teams were out of the running.

Plymouth gained a total of over 14 points. Flint Northern more than doubled the score on the second-place Ann Arbor team with a total of 71 points to Ann Arbor's 34. Northern is the defending state Class A champion.

An Ann Arbor lad heaved the shot 51 feet 6½ inches to break another record.

The state finals in Class A and C will be held on the University of Michigan track Saturday with trials in the morning, and the finals in the afternoon. Class B and D will go to East Lansing. The two alternate each year.

Allen Leads Grades

With the grade school softball league half completed, the Allen School is the only one to remain undefeated having won four games and lost none.

Based on the games reported so far, the standing are as follows:

	W	L
Allen	4	0
Smith	2	1
Starkweather	3	2
Lutheran	3	3
Bird	1	3
Catholic	0	4

Merchants 9 Beaten 17-1

A new team in the Inter-County League, the Taylor Merchants, handed the Plymouth Merchants a shellacking last Sunday at Riverside Park. The visitors team, made up of talent around the Detroit area, walloped the local nine 17 to 1 in a free-hitting ball game. Four home runs, two triples, a double and thirteen singles marked the 20-hit attack, while Plymouth was limited to seven hits.

The visiting pitcher, Russ Buranskas, was really a power at bat, and also hurled a magnificent brand of baseball. He socked two home runs his first two times at bat, a triple his next and then a double to drive in seven runs for the afternoon. The last time up the lanky hurler lined deep to centerfield. Never in trouble as he struck out eight men and walked one, Buranskas breezed to the victory.

The Merchants started Bob Montgomery, a newcomer, who got the visitors in order in the first inning, but then the roof caved in on him in the second when he yielded two homers, a triple and two singles for five runs. Ed Hock came in to retire the last two batters in that inning, and went on to chuck the next five, but he also was pummeled for 13 hits and 11 runs; two of them being homers. Manager Warren Bassett chucked the last two and two-thirds innings and yielded one run and two hits.

Earl Haidy also had two home runs for the visitors and two singles.

Plymouth scored its lone run in the fourth inning when Harold DeWulf opened with a triple and scored on a single by Wally Dzurus.

Eddie Kubitsky had two bingos for the Merchants with DeWulf, Dzurus, Swartz, Collura and Russeaux getting one each.

The local nine committed five crucial errors.

Next Sunday Plymouth plays Local 49 at Riverside in a game beginning at one o'clock. The Merchants now have a two won and one lost record for the young season.

Other scores in last Sunday's games saw Northville beating Food Fair 4 to 1; Auto Club winning its first game by winning over Wyandotte 7 to 4; River Rouge trouncing the Cubs 16 to 0; and Grandale downing Wayne 8 to 4.

HEATING — AIR CONDITIONING

If you hear any local business or professional men pass the greeting, "keep your fingers crossed," it may be a tip this week that they are part of a local group who presently are staking their entire future on an oil well just north of Northville. About twenty local residents are buying the pipe that is being driven down presently some 4,000 feet on top of the Trenton strata. By the weekend they may or may not be the happiest group in the city. Keep your eye on Malley number one!

Joe Wickens is convinced it really is a small world for as he turned around from paying his bill at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago last week next in line were Mrs. Sally Dent and Mrs. Anne McGeorge, also of Plymouth who were checking out too. Mr. Wickens was attending a Feed convention and the local matrons were delegates to the White Shrine convocation in the windy city.

Small compensation for the huge load of sand the county dumped over their beautiful new, landscaped lawn was the antique butter spreader Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Light of 234 Sheldon road found in the dirt as they attempted to clean up the mess. Engraved on the back with the date December 14, 1911, the front of the spreader is embellished with an Old English K. according to printers at The Plymouth Mail.

No professional gardener is Dave Travis, former local football star and now a student at the U. of M. When a local housewife found her tulips weren't up to par this last week she didn't know whether to complain to Merriweather nursery where she purchased them last year or blame it on the weather. Investigation of the bed revealed the fact that weekend gardener Travis had planted the bulbs bottom side up last fall and their struggle to live, much less bloom was commendable. Each bulb when dug up presented a complete "U" shaped stem which nature brought out to the sunlight.

A copy of The Michigan Alumnus, presented us by Evered Jolliffe, tells of the miracle cake of soap being used in the Romance Languages Building in Ann Arbor which has been in constant use since 1944 and today is no smaller than when it was first noted.

Investigation revealed the fact that Jean Crandell, daughter of local attorney John Crandell, and a member of the University's class of 1947 had presented it to one of her professors. She had secured it from her father who made it here at home. According to Mr. Crandell he only makes the soap for fun and gives it to his friends, and according to Professor Anthony Pasquariello, who made the discovery, it's a good thing it is a hobby because there certainly wouldn't be any repeat sales if it was a business.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

What do you think of the Detroit Tigers this season?

CHARLES LEE, 1735 Brookline: "I think they will be right up there this year. They're getting good pitching and their outfielding is really surprising. It's the fastest outfield in the league."

JOHN JOUSMA, 674 Evergreen: "I have my expectations pretty high this year with the hope that they finish near the top. I don't remember when they ever won a pennant, it was before my time, so I hope it will be this year."

MISS BARB COUTARE, 900 Church: "Oh, they're going to win the pennant this year. They have been a real surprise. No, I don't follow baseball very closely."

AL CONERY, 768 Fairground: "They're not going to win the pennant. They may possibly end up in the first division this year and maybe next year will finish on top. The Tigers have been a big surprise. They have good defense in the outfield and infield making the pitchers look good."

WHY NOT A MUSEUM?

by Sterling Eaton

One of the best things about going away is the coming home. All you have to do to really appreciate your home and your home town is to spend two or three days in a stuffy hotel room, battle the crowds for tables in the dining room, then stand in line to pay your bill when finally ready to get started back.

After you get home you appreciate the cozy surroundings your little wife has provided, the green grass and shrubbery around the house and the charm of the city in which you live.

As you appraise this situation you think of the many things that make your home town the ideal place in which to live. Then you start to consider too, some of the things which perhaps your town doesn't have that you have seen elsewhere and you wonder what can be done about it.

In this particular instance we felt the lack of some sort of historical museum where the heirlooms of our community might be preserved for the enjoyment of future generations.

Not long ago the D.A.R. in Cincinnati, Ohio purchased one of the city's old homes and made it into such an institution. That particular house was owned by a pioneer family of Cincinnati and was almost as significant to the city as might be a Mt. Vernon or a Monticello.

Certainly in Plymouth we have no such particular landmark but we do have beautiful old homes which could provide the same sort of setting and opportunity as does the house in Cincinnati.

These projects are numerous throughout the east and many are self supporting on the small fee paid by the hundreds of visitors that explore them throughout the year.

Members of the local Historical Society have for several years been collecting items of historical value to our city. They are stored for the most part in homes of the members and if displayed in a suitable place would provide a most interesting collection.

Many local residents who have furniture and other items of interest about early Plymouth could be encouraged to place their treasures in such a place for future preservation.

As a project for the Historical Society or the Daughters of the American Revolution it might be more than either such organization could undertake, but with a helping hand from the Chamber of Commerce, and other local civic groups, it could become a reality.

Our Board of Education needs new offices. Perhaps a building large enough could be provided to afford them space for their offices on a portion of the main floor and the remainder provide housing for the Chamber of Commerce and the museum.

If given to the school system with or without offices, for perpetuation after the first expenditure, what better way to provide an additional facility for our youth than to acquaint them first hand with local color and history.

There is no question but what such an institution would be warmly received by our residents and there is no doubt, but what Plymouth could undertake and complete such a project. There is also the possibility that some civic minded individual might wish to provide such a setting to also perpetuate his or her family name knowing if administered by the school it would forever provide the community with another permanent civic refinement.

Roger Babson Says ..

BUSINESS CONDITIONS LOOKING UP
Babson Park, Massachusetts. Last December in this column I predicted we would NOT have a sharp drop in business during 1954. So far this has not taken place, although there has been a temporary period of unemployment. The question is: What will be the pattern of business from here on? This I will discuss in a few weeks when I make my extended Forecast for the last six months.

HOW BAD ARE CONDITIONS?
Because some of my critics were overly pessimistic for the first quarter and business conditions failed to bolster their attitude, they have now become pessimistic about the second half. I think they are still wrong! Sure, retail sales have dropped some in a number of lines since the first of the year. Automobile sales for most companies have been poor. Steel production has slowed to about 70% of capacity, but is still almost 30% better than that of 1940 or 1946. The squeeze has been on, too, for the marginal farmer, with the trend to larger farms, greater mechanization, and fewer farm hands. Last year's 5% drop in farm income caught the farm machinery manufacturers off balance. I anticipate this condition will continue well into 1954.

The leveling-off in business activity which figures such as these represent will be reflected in the business of the railroads. During this second quarter our railroads are anticipated about a 27% decline in automotive shipments, a 17% decline in steel loadings, and an approximate 8% decline in coal and coke loadings. On the other hand, some increase is expected in transporting such things as fruits, frozen foods cotton, and cement. So, I forecast that total carloadings this quarter will reflect a drop of only about 8% over the second quarter of last year.

REASONS FOR OPTIMISM
There are, in fact, some substantial reasons for optimism. For nearly a year now we have been working down the unsold goods on our shelves and in our warehouses. People are still in a good position to buy; they have the money. Did you know that personal income rose to about $285 billions by the end of 1953, compared with around $280 billions at the end of 1952? During this same period, salaries increased more than 2% so that our living standards and savings reached the highest point in history.

Further, our banks have both cash and government securities in an amount equal to about 60% of deposits, and the easy-money policy which encourages business is back with us. The construction industry keeps booming. For example, the Commerce Department reports that new construction expenditures for first-quarter 1954 were the highest in our entire national history. A number of manufacturers polled indicate that March 1954 was either the second or third best in the history of their companies.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT QUESTION
There has been too much loose talk about unemployment. I am especially concerned by the way in which unemployment data have been presented by many magazines and newspapers. This could have an adverse psychological effect upon business which is not warranted. Granted, across the country there have been more instances of local labor surpluses. No one likes to see anybody out of work. But the picture is not nearly so alarming as some analysts would have us believe. I believe the best way of presenting unemployment figures is on a per capita or percentage basis. To illustrate: In 1938 the population was 120,501,000. The unemployed totaled 2,935,000. Therefore, the per cent of unemployment per capita was only 2.4. In 1938 the population had increased to 129,825,000 and unemployed to 10,390,000. The per capita unemployment, therefore, was then 8%. Now take 1954. Our present population numbers roughly 160,000,000. Even with a high estimate of 4,000,000 unemployed, the per-capita percentage figure would equal only 2.5, or about the same as in the boom year of 1928! Be careful how you let the prophets of doom lead you astray.

Heart Disease Tops State List Of Killers In '53

Heart disease still outranks all other killers of Michigan people, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said today in reporting Michigan's ten leading causes of death for 1953.

Heart disease claimed the lives of one out of every three people who died in 1953. Diseases of the heart caused 22,425 of Michigan's 62,087 deaths last year.

Cancer was in second place but caused less than half as many deaths as heart disease. One out of every six died of cancer. Blood vessel injuries or degeneration affecting the central nervous system (largely apoplexy) ranked third in the cause of death. Accidents were in fourth place.

These four causes accounted for seven out of every ten deaths in Michigan last year.

Sloppy Joes

A favorite with the children, particularly for parties, are Sloppy Joes, or as Mrs. Lawrence Parmenter of 1150 Roosevelt calls them, Goop. Mrs. Parmenter says she particularly likes serving the hamburger mixture for children's parties because it takes away the necessity of providing all the extras needed for ordinary hamburgers.

The Parmenters have three children, Gary, Cheryl and Patty who all put their stamps of approval on the Sloppy Joes.

Sloppy Joes

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 1 large onion
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 four ounce can mushrooms
- 1 bottle chili sauce

Brown meat and onions in a pan. Add mushrooms and chili sauce and simmer for about one hour. Serve on hamburger buns. The recipe will provide eight generous helpings.

Madonna College Students Hear Story Of Life in Inchon, Korea From Officer

The inside story of Inchon, Korea was told by Chief Petty Officer Omer St. Jacques to Madonna college students Wednesday, May 12.

Just recently Madonna students have begun a project of sending altar breads to Sister Philomena, CSP, of the Star of the Sea Orphanage in Inchon. So far they have sent 2,000 small and 30 large hosts to the missionary sister.

St. Jacques, a navy chief pharmacist's mate, was stationed on the hospital ship, S.S. Consolation, anchored in Inchon, and knows Sister Philomena and the Star of the Sea Orphanage very well.

An eyewitness of the situation in Korea today, he described Korea as "mud, dirt, clay, a miserable place." He pointed out that "we don't realize the poverty of these people. They are poor; their clothes tattered and torn; there is lack of water, food, drugs." The typical home of a Korean, he said, is a shack made of corrugated tin and cardboard with two windows in it.

The Star of the Sea Orphanage which Chief St. Jacques visited many times is conducted by Sister Philomena, a Sister of the French Congregation of St. Paul.

She has been in Korea for about 22 years.

Every day Star of the Sea clinic is visited by 200 to 300 Korean natives, who are given free services. The clinic has only one doctor on duty. The sisters have to be pharmacists, nurses, technicians, and supervisors.

Sister Philomena finds her greatest help in the GI's stationed in the city. They have helped her to rebuild the orphanage ruined during the war and supply her with toys and goodies for the orphans. They also act as public relations men for the orphanage, gaining the good will and aid of their friends in America.

Chief St. Jacques' home is in Wayne, but his wife and two children live in the Detroit trailer park, 18630 Dix, Melvindale. St. Jacques is returning to the hospital ship this week.

Mrs. Wagenschutz Heads Library Board

Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz of Northville was recently named chairman of the Wayne County Public Library Board, replacing Dr. Fred C. Fischer, who is retiring in July.

Mrs. Wagenschutz has served continuously with the board since 1943. She was re-elected three times by the Board of Wayne County Supervisors. She is also the ranking member of the present Library Board, which directs the Dunning branch of the Wayne County Library in Plymouth.

Folder Tells Fish Program

"More Fish Worth Catching." That is the goal of Michigan's fish management program as explained in a compact six-page folder just published by the conservation department.

The folder ties in one bundle some of the hopes and aims of state fisheries workers as regards the future of fishing in Michigan.

The program outlined is long-range and flexible, but points out projects being completed now that lead toward the bigger goals.

Fish plantings, the folder points out, are being largely curtailed in Michigan because field workers have learned that sort of approach does not pay dividends.

"A lake, left alone," the folder says, "produces a certain amount of food for fish; more or less, depending on the lake. The amount of food determines how many pounds of fish will be produced per acre. If too many fish are present, their growth is slowed, they may never reach good size."

Some other programs already are paying results in more recreation for Michigan anglers. Experiments in recent years showed there was no reason to keep size and season limits on bluegill and sunfish angling, so the popular sports are being thrown wide open in 1955. This year was the last in which the season was closed for a brief period during April.

The folders are available upon request from the conservation department's fish division at Lansing, 26.

Marinate Pot Roast for Savory Dish

With beef pot-roast one of the best buys in your market today you'll be serving this cut frequently. To make your next serving entirely different prepare this Savory Pot-Roast, says Reba Stags, meat cookery expert. The beef is marinated for a day in a mixture of oil, vinegar water with such seasonings as peppercorns, cloves and onion, then braised following the regular method.

Savory Pot-Roast
3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
1/2 cup salad oil
2 cups vinegar
2 cups water
1 sliced onion
12 peppercorns, if desired
4 whole cloves
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
Mix oil, vinegar and water. Add onion slices, spices and salt. Cover the meat with this marinade and store in the refrigerator for 24 hours. Remove from marinade. Brown meat on all sides in lard or drippings. Add 1 cup of the marinade, cover, and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 3 1/2 to 4 hours. Add more marinade if needed. Thicken cooking liquid for spicy gravy, if desired.

For a smooth consistency in canned soup, thoroughly stir contents of the can before diluting. Blend in milk or water gradually, stirring until smooth, before heating.

Suits Get Nod for Summer

However new... or unusual... attention - compelling. Interfac- or dramatic are the fashions being presented in any season, there is always one appearance that is awaited with almost breathless eagerness—the suit! Suits are always the focal point—of interest for, almost without exception, a smartly-dressed woman builds her new-season wardrobe around one well-designed suit... preferably one that introduces a rather sharply-defined departure in silhouette.

One newsmaking suit in a woman's wardrobe can establish her as a woman of true fashion awareness and create for her a reputation as a style leader.

This summer promises no disappointment for women who are hoping for something excitingly new in suits.

The incoming season brings much that's new in silhouette. Suits with built-in curves are

Molasses Flavors A Home Barbecue

Barbecued spareribs and chicken are a tune to brisk weather days. If you think barbecued meats are elaborate of preparation, you're in for a surprise. The sauce is a sweet-spicy blend of unsulphured molasses, tomato sauce, vinegar, mustard and onion. These ingredients, heated one minute, are ready to baste baked spareribs or broiled chicken. Mellow unsulphured molasses contributes to the sauce's rich reddish-brown color, and it balances the tart flavor of tomato.

Molasses Barbecue Sauce
1/4 cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil one minute. YIELD: 3/4 cup.

Barbecued Spareribs
Have 8 pounds spareribs cut in serving pieces. Place in shallow pan. Roast in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Baste with Barbecue Sauce twice during last hour of roasting. YIELD: 6 servings.

Barbecued Chicken
Have a 1 1/2 to 2-pound broiler cut in half. Place in shallow pan; skin side up. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 1/2 hours; turn twice during baking. Baste with barbecue sauce during last hour of baking. YIELD: 2 servings.

Outdoor Grill Comes into Its Own

When you think of an outdoor grill, you don't necessarily mean an expensive and elaborate outdoor heap of stone and mortar. Nor do you mean a smouldering fire on the ground which liberally covers the food with ashes and other undesirable debris.

Modern portable grills come in practically every shape, size and price. The most popular models are very inexpensive—most of them are less than eight dollars—and they are large enough to serve the purposes of the average family. Some come in kits complete with fuel and even instructions on how to charcoal broil a steak, a hamburger, toast buns and add that delicious outdoor flavor to the picnic meal, whether it be in the backyard or deep in the woods.

These latest model grills for that wide-open way of cooking are just about as foolproof as they can be. They can be set up almost anywhere, many have folding or detachable legs which make them convenient for storage or carrying in the trunk of the car.

Almost all recommend using charcoal bricks or chips to give the even steady heat so essential in charcoal broiling. One popular model uses aluminum foil as a highly efficient heat reflector and ash catcher. The foil, already in position under the bottom section of the grill, may be replaced as it is needed. The grill comes complete in a kit with instructions and a package of charcoal and charcoal starter which enables the picnicker to make a good cooking fire cleanly and effortlessly within a few minutes.

Another model comes in a bright plaid exterior with an insulating cool-air chamber between the covering and the fire pot. The fuel can be carried right in the fire pot which is removable for easy cleaning. The cool-air chamber also eliminates excess surface heat, making it easier to handle.

In addition to the grills, there are numerous implements and tools which make the picnic more fun for everybody and the food more appetizing.

Tongs for holding the meat and other food are inexpensive and are very handy around the grill. Special hamburger moulds come in either aluminum or copper. A special hotdog holder holds the wiener between wires rather than puncturing it thereby eliminating the danger of dropping it into the fire.

While the steaks are broiling in charcoal broiling, buns, bread and rolls can be kept warm in a special basket broiler which is kept near the grill for

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

THERMADOR BUILT-IN OVEN AND BURNER UNITS are two of the interesting features in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Sibbold of 1149 Ross street. The units were supplied by Blunk's, local furniture dealer. The kitchen is done in chartreuse with a Bermuda coral ceiling. Cupboards are of natural birch and the counter tops are of yellow Formica.

Hot-Water Heating Systems Made for No-Basement House

Two new hot-water heating systems have been especially developed to provide comfortably warm, draft-free floors in basementless homes and in homes with large window areas. The systems are floor or ceiling panel heating and baseboard radiation.

Writing in American Builder magazine, Warren S. Harris, research professor of mechanical engineering, University of Illinois, explains that one way to establish the "degree of comfort which American people expect" in today's ranch-type house is to place hot-water heating pipes in floors.

A similar panel heating method involves embedding heating pipes in plaster ceilings. This system radiates heat down to maintain a floor temperature warmer than the temperature of the air.

Some of the other advantages of panel heating are that it is out of sight, clean in operation, and provides uniform air temperatures throughout the heated space, Mr. Harris adds.

Disadvantages he describes include the fact that heating coils are inaccessible, making repair difficult if a leak should occur. Also, in houses having very large glass areas floor drafts may not entirely be prevented. Another limitation is that the system may be slow in responding to changes in the amount of heat required.

Baseboard radiation, the second new heating system, consists of long, low units roughly approximating the conventional wooden baseboard in size and appearance. The units are designed so that hot water or steam can be circulated through them, Mr. Harris explains.

He says the baseboard system is popular because it not only warms the air near the floor, but also the floor itself.

Other advantages he lists include general appearance, economical installation and operation, and the fact that baseboards do not interfere with furniture placement. Because the units are located along outside walls and under glass areas, the principal source of cold drafts is eliminated, he adds.

SCOTTIE FOR HOUSE NUMBER

A time tried method of displaying a house number in an attractive manner is illustrated. Either the Scottie-dog cutout or some other animal will serve the purpose. Set in a parkway, on the lawn or at the curb, the jaunty puppy, with its sparkling eyes, will prove to be an attractive addition.

Scottie is 15 inches long and his height is 11 1/2 inches. Cut him from two pieces of Masonite 3/16" Tempered Presdwood, holding the panels, screen sides together, with C-clamps and following a pattern with a coping, keyhole or band saw. Slightly round the edges with a file or sandblock.

Reflector-type bolts used for car licenses serve as eyes and reflect the light from passing cars. The numbers are sawed from the Tempered Presdwood and glued to each side of the cutout.

Two wooden stakes, shaped from 1 by 2-inch lumber, are laid between the two cutouts and fastened with screws applied through holes drilled in the hardboard. Paint Scottie in appropriate colors, first using a primer. Push the stakes into the ground, and your new house number will be in service. All the materials needed are available at lumber yards.

It is wise to plan bathroom lighting when the room is in the blueprint stage. Have a capable electrical contractor estimate the job. The architect's opinion alone is not enough, because family requirements differ.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. D-118

DESIGN D-118. Closest space to fill all requirements, excellent circulation; airy, well-lighted rooms and an attic for a future bedroom are found in this plan. A dormer on the rear forms a possible future bathroom but it may be omitted and a large dormitory room finished upstairs.

The kitchen and dinette are separated by a snack bar and the sink is placed under the corner windows. Cupboards occupy two walls of the kitchen. Windows in the living room look out to the street and to the side yard. Entrance vestibule and coat closet make an "L" of the living room, the front of which can be used for dining.

Exterior finish is siding and asphalt shingles. Floor area is 1,021 sq. ft. with cubage of 22,473 cu. ft.

For further information about DESIGN D-118, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

BUDGET AND HOUSE RECONCILED

The conflict between the budget and the actual cost of a house can be reconciled by listing both family prejudices and preferences and essential requirements. Some of both will win out and the proposed budget will benefit.

"Lazy-Susan" Steel Kitchen Cabinets Provide Easily-Accessible Storage Space

One of the problems in planning a new kitchen or remodeling an old one is to provide as much easily-accessible storage space as floor and wall layout will permit.

To facilitate this, a convenient device called a "lazy susan" corner cabinet is available in most styles of today's steel kitchen cabinets to utilize otherwise hard to reach corner storage space.

This unique corner cabinet has round shelves which revolve at the touch of a finger. Thus, canned goods and other food supplies or kitchen equipment stored any place on the shelves can be brought into easy reach simply by rotating the "lazy susan" unit.

Revolving-shelf corner units are designed for steel wall and base cabinets and are an excellent example of the myriad of conveniences available in steel kitchen cabinets.

For instance, base cabinets can be equipped with such things as a swing-out food mixer shelf, slide-out rack for towels and dish clothes, bins for bread, vegetables, fruit, flour, and sugar, and refuse receptacles which swing out, lid raised, when the cabinet door is opened.

Features for steel wall cabinets include condiment racks and shelves, cook book and recipe racks, cup hooks, flour sifters which slide out over the work counter, and numerous other conveniences.

All are designed to make storage space in today's steel kitchen as handy and efficient as possible.

Window Shopping With Sue

This week, until May 22, is the time of the year when your home really takes the spotlight—Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint, Up Week. If you've been putting off redecorating your rooms for a long time, now's the time to get at it—because that's what your neighbors are probably doing too. And who knows, you might even win a cash prize in the clean up contest being sponsored locally.

If you're more interested in the paint up part of the campaign you might consult with Jerry Pease on what color scheme to use on your walls. He can supply you with the paint for that job, as can Plymouth Lumber, Roberts Supply, Roe Lumber and lots of other local dealers.

The inside paint job isn't the only one that's important—the exterior may need a little brightening so that it can greet summer with a clean face.

And if it's just the clean up part of it you're interested in, you'll find there certainly are some wonderful new cleaning products on the market these days. And you won't want to miss those hard-gloss waxes which can put such a durable finish on your linoleum. For your rugs there are detergents that give a dry suds so that you can do the best job of cleaning, and will not have to wait and wait to walk on them again. You might even try some Fab Spray to make a faded chair look like new again.

Anyway, when Saturday night rolls around and you've got all your cleaning up and fixing up done—or at least well on its way—think of the feeling of accomplishment, and pride, that you will experience. It's well worth the effort.

Susan Isn't Lazy!

No, Susan isn't lazy even though she's using a modern adaptation of the "lazy susan." She's just taking advantage of one of the unique conveniences offered in today's steel kitchen cabinets to make otherwise hard-to-reach corner storage space easily accessible. The handy "lazy susan" corner cabinet has revolving shelves which bring canned goods, or any other kitchen supplies on them, into easy reach at the touch of a finger. The rotating shelf corner units are designed for both steel wall and base cabinets.

Last Friday night as the D. P. & N car was coming back on its last trip from Northville, the motorman noticed a fire in the barn belonging to Mr. Dickerson, formerly the Charles Allen property. He went to the home of Mr. King near the track and they went over at once and found the barn on fire; also a can which had contained oil, which looked as if it had been set on fire. With a few pails of water out of the tank nearby, they soon had the fire out.

Again Predict Millions of Visitors In Expanded Middle Rouge Park

Middle Rouge park, the nation's largest and finest recreational park which is visited annually by some 7,500,000 people, grew two miles longer this year, the result of an expansion program of the Wayne county park department.

Park officials announced that two additional miles of park have been developed between Merriam and Inkster roads, bringing the Middle Rouge roadway up to 14½ miles long.

Despite cold weather, crowds of picnickers have already been visiting the Plymouth Riverside park, a portion of the Middle Rouge system. Official opening date is always set for Memorial day but the recreation-hungry public never waits for an official word before entering.

Plans are already being carried out to extend the park even further with an extension from Inkster to Telegraph road through the Warren Valley Golf course. A change of greens and tees is necessary to complete this operation.

Three new comfort stations are included in the recent expansion program.

Operating the large park is no easy task. A force of 300 people is hired in the summer to maintain and operate the park. Just one of the jobs is to haul away the 600 tons of rubbish and garbage.

Among the millions of people visiting the park each year, there are bound to be some who abuse the privileges it affords. Those guilty of misconduct have previously been evicted by sheriff's authorities, but new "teeth" in park regulations were granted by the state legislature this year and fines can now be enforced.

Park officials are proud of the facilities the park offers. They point out that in the East there are larger tracts of land called parks but they are for the most part roads running through wooded areas as a provider of scenery. The Middle Rouge park offers picnic tables, ovens, wading pools, ball diamonds, play equipment and comfort stations throughout the entire park.

An inventory taken prior to the opening of the new two-mile extension looked something like this:

Two 18-hole golf courses, 2,000 picnic tables, 900 camp stoves, 21 softball fields, three baseball fields, 14 tennis courts, over 100 swing sets, 42 slippery slides, two wading pools, 12 shuffleboard courts, 60 horseshoe courts, four lakes (one with canoeing), nine concession stands, 21 comfort stations, 500 species of trees and one long paved highway with many scenic side roads.

Mrs. Cass Benton, whose husband was on the county road commission, donated the first tract of land for a park in 1924. It was a 10 acre wooded plot and is located just south of Northville. In the late 1920's, Plymouth donated more land along the Middle Rouge stream now called Riverside park. Other donations, including Nankin Mills land donated by Henry Ford, continued the expansion.

Collision Injures Girl Passenger

A collision between two cars at Ann Arbor and Lilly roads on Wednesday of last week brought injury to one person. Plymouth police reported. The injured was Marilyn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Everett Smith, 8010 Newburg road.

Police said that Miss Smith was a passenger in the car of Ralph Grupczynski, Garden City, who was driving his car northward on Lilly road. The report said that the Grupczynski car pulled out onto the intersection and was struck on the right side by a car driven by Paul Sanders of Ann Arbor.

Miss Smith was taken by the Schrader Funeral home ambulance to Wayne County General hospital and she was later transferred to Atchinson Memorial hospital in Northville. She was reported to have suffered spine and head injuries.

Evergreens Offer Variety of Sizes

Members of the evergreen family probably offer a wider variety of sizes than any other form of life.

They range all the way from tiny dwarfs that never grow above six inches to giant sequoias more than 250 feet high.

The home owner who is hunting for decorative evergreens wants his of reasonable height, of course. So he should determine in advance from the seller how tall his prospective purchase may eventually grow.

The growth factor is but one of many things to consider in buying evergreens.

Soil, sun, shade pruning requirements must also be given careful consideration.

For example, some evergreens need full sunlight for proper health and growth. Others can get along in varying degrees of shade. The fine textured type, such as yews and arborvitae, are easily pruned while those with coarse twigs and branches, such as firs and pines, usually are left untrimmed.

Northern residents, too, will want to pick evergreens that will withstand heavy, clinging snow and rugged winter weather.

In general, those evergreens which grow fast and easily are the least expensive. But sometimes they are also the least desirable, especially for foundation plantings. Price should be the last consideration if evergreens are chosen for their lasting virtues.

Placement of Plant Food Gives Best Garden Yield

Applying plant food to vegetable garden by placement method.

Plant food has done wonders for farmers in recent years, bringing infertile acres to top production and improving the soil through the roots and residues which remain to decay and increase the humus content.

Amateur gardeners who seek efficiency insist upon high fertility in their gardens, which permits them to reduce the cultivated area and the work of caring for it without decreasing production. Savings are also made in all garden supplies.

In small areas nothing can be saved by having the soil tested to determine its plant food needs. A balanced commercial plant food, containing all needed elements, if used in sufficient quantity will bring any average soil up to proper fertility.

One hundred pounds of plant food costs much less than a day's work by a hired garden helper; but it is worth several times as much in the increased yield, and the reduced labor which its use will bring.

Methods of applying commercial plant food to the soil which have been worked out by extensive research place a high value on what is known as the "placement" method.

It has been found that too much plant food, especially nitrogen, in the soil near the seed may delay sprouting, especially of tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes and many flowers. It is not needed at first, since the seedlings are unable to use it until they have made true leaves. The "seed leaves," which develop first in most plants, do not perform digestive functions. Food should be near-by however, because it is needed as soon as true leaves form. If plant food is mixed with the soil beneath the seed or to one side of it, at root level, separated from the seed by unfertilized soil, the roots will find it when they begin to grow and need it.

Another factor involved is the "fixation capacity" of the soil. Some soils lock up certain food elements, so that it may be difficult for the plant roots to obtain all of it. If fertilizer is concentrated as in the "placement" system the soil may lock up all it can hold and there will be plenty left for the plants.

The placement method which is believed to insure maximum effect from plant food at a minimum cost, on all soils including the poorest, is used as follows in the vegetable garden:

Prepare the soil by spading or plowing, rake it smooth, and decide on the layout of rows. Stretch the line which marks the first row. On each side of this line two or three inches away make a shallow trench with the corner of the hoe blade, say three inches deep. Then sprinkle plant food in these trenches, using two pounds per 100 feet of row, in each trench. Cover with soil, and proceed to make the seed drill and sow seed, midway between the fertilizer trenches.

State Restaurant Magazine Tells Story of Marquis Toll House

The May issue of the "Michigan Restaurateur" carried an article with pictures about Marquis Toll House, well-known local restaurant. The front cover of the magazine features a photograph of the remodeled interior of the Plymouth dining place. The Plymouth Mail reprints the article here as it appeared in the magazine.

"When Mr. and Mrs. Norman Marquis first opened their restaurant on Main street, Plymouth, Michigan, seven years ago, they had a seating capacity for 2 persons. They were urged to get into the restaurant business by a host of friends who enjoyed some wonderful meals, prepared by Mrs. Marquis at the Marquis home.

"When they outgrew their seating capacity they solved this problem by moving into the building next door which more than doubled the space.

"As the Marquis' reputation for fine food became better known and the customers increased in number, they found they were short of space again. So, they reclaimed the original, added it to the restaurant, and then remodeled the whole operation, without being closed for business a single day.

"The remodeling and expansion job was completed to coincide with their seventh anniversary as Plymouth restaurant operators. The grand opening also marked the official opening of Marquis Toll House, since the restaurant had formerly been known as Marquis Fine Foods.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

One of the most common causes of high blood pressure is arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries of the blood vessels.

Try to visualize the heart as an automatic pump, connected to a system of elastic tubes, or blood vessels, which distribute the blood throughout the body.

The heart does not have to overwork as long as the tubes, or arteries, are resilient, and the blood pressure is normally low. If by and by the vessels gradually harden like old rubber, and cannot stretch to receive the oncoming blood, then the strokes of the heart or pump must become more powerful in order to send the blood along the hardened vessels. The blood pressure becomes high, and we say that the patient has hypertension.

High blood pressure is not a disease. It indicates that something is wrong in the body. In other words, it is only a symptom. This is a very common condition in individuals past forty or forty-five years of age. Particularly is this true in our country. The diseases that cause high blood pressure seem to be as old as recorded history.

Doctor Mortensen, of the Battle Creek Sanatorium, says that, in his experience with thousands of cases of arterial hypertension, the element of heredity plays the largest part. This is true "in approximately 70 to 75 per cent of the cases that we have studied. This means that one or both branches of the family have been afflicted with arteriosclerosis, or with chronic Bright's disease, and in later years of life with apoplexy, together with coronary thrombosis," or other circulatory diseases.

The diseases mentioned above are becoming more common, and, as we have pointed out, a greater number of people are dying from such maladies than was ever known before.

The cause is found in our modern habits of living. Too much speed, over eating and excesses of various kinds.

It has long been known that worry and anxiety are deadly enemies of the human race. They not only bring much unhappiness into life, but they undermine the health, sap the energy and cause many thousands to fill untimely graves.

Grand Duke Alexander of Russia, said that while he and his family were prisoners in Russia expecting daily to be shot, his mother-in-law read her Bible constantly, and trusted her God. She was not unhappy, but calmly said, "The will of God be done. I shall die unafraid." She who had been an empress, calmly awaited her doom at the hands of the Red terror. But she escaped the bullets of the Bolsheviks, and lived to old age. If we were all as philosophical as this old lady, fewer of us would be troubled by high blood pressure and its train of evils.

Grads Can Enter Service Together

June high school graduates can now remain together through their first weeks of basic Army training. Recruiting Sergeant LeRoy Sipes of the Ann Arbor Recruiting Station said this week in a visit to Plymouth.

Graduates who pass the medical and mental tests in Detroit together will be able to enter the service together, Sipes said. Often, large groups of boys from the same graduating class are able to take their basic training together.

Once in basic training camp, the sergeant said that the boys can remain together unless one of the boys is sick longer than five days or takes an emergency furlough or leave exceeding a week.

Arrangements to meet the recruiting officer can be made by phoning the city clerk.

Mrs. Marquis supervises the preparation of all food sold in the restaurant. She bakes her own pies, cakes, rolls, and pastries for which they are noted. They have a staff of seven women employees and one bus boy. They are open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Saturday. They have a class B liquor license which permits the sale of beer and wine.

"When the customer picks up his menu at the Toll House, attached to it is a list of the sandwiches, soup and beverages, and the price of each, available at that particular meal hour. In the center of this list are two lines under the word "Special." The two lines are for the customer to write in the 'entree' from the menu. If he wants a sandwich, instead of a regular lunch or dinner, he just puts a check mark, indicating the sandwich he wants. In this manner the customer has automatically written his order for the waitress who takes it directly to the kitchen. With this method, while the waitress is getting the soup or 'set up' for the customer, the order is in the process of preparation. The customers like it and it saves time. The waitress returns the check to the customer, who in turn presents it to the cashier.

"The Marquis tabulate a food and labor cost three times weekly. They admit this seems quite a problem when they first opened their restaurant until they got onto the hang of it. The ideas they got from reading restaurant trade magazines, including the Michigan Restaurateur, and attending restaurant association meetings, simplified the procedure. Despite the fact that parking isn't the problem in Plymouth that it is in larger cities, the Toll House has a parking lot across the street available for customers. The restaurant is air conditioned. Since the last remodeling job, Marquis reports a tremendous increase in business."

Wayne Youths Fined for Theft

Two Wayne youths and a Plymouth motorist were among the persons handed fines in a court session last week before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo.

The boys, 17 years of age, were discovered at night by police in a car parked behind Seller's Buick Garage on Ann Arbor road. A search of the car revealed a can of gasoline and a hose stilled wet with gasoline.

The youths admitted syphoning the gasoline from a car parked behind the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall on Lilly road. Only a few minutes before the boys discovered Perlongo fined the boys $10 each and turned them over to their fathers on a year's probation. The fathers stated that they would "take the boys in hand." Both youths are Wayne high school seniors.

Wallside Trees Called Dangerous

A house-hugging tree can be a real home wrecker.

A favorite spot or tree seeds to lodge is close to the foundation wall of a house. They seem to thrive there. If left alone, a tiny tree soon will pop up.

This both amuses and amazes many home owners and not infrequently they treat the tree as a personal pet. But as the years go by, the pet may grow into a monster.

Unless removed when they are very small, wall-side trees often cause considerable damage. Their growing roots have smashed many sturdy stone and cement foundations.

The trees should be moved as soon as they appear, or at least before they grow more than a foot above the ground. The smaller the tree, the easier it is to remove.

As the tree grows in size and strength, the job becomes increasingly difficult. The location itself presents an obstacle to easy removal without damage to the home foundation.

Most offensive wall-side growing roots include ailanthus, elm, silver maple, sugar maple, red maple, box elder and apple.

Growing roots of such trees are surprisingly powerful. They often break into sewer tile in search of moisture.

Russell Kirk Wins Guggenheim Award

Dr. Russell Kirk, former local resident, was among seven Michigan scholars to receive one of the 243 Guggenheim fellowships which were announced recently. The awards totalling $1,000,000 were established by the late Senator Simon Guggenheim from Colorado and are given to men and women who demonstrate a capacity for original research and creation. Dr. Kirk received his award for his work "Recent Changes in Traditional British Society."

Dr. Kirk was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1936 and then attended Michigan State college for four years on a scholarship. He was granted his Master's degree from Duke university, where he also received a scholarship.

After serving with the army he became a member of the Michigan State college faculty. Dr. Kirk was granted his Doctor of Letters degree from St. Andrew's in Scotland. He has had several books published.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Fishermen who want to know where public fishing sites available for their use are located on Michigan lakes and streams may obtain a complete list upon request to the conservation department's fish division at Lansing, 26.

The list was recently brought up to date and shows location and information about 590 sites available to the public.

The sites total more than 48,000 acres of public land bordering 1.1 million feet of water frontage.

Reports of violations of 110 conservation law violators were received here, the conservation department reports.

Of the total, 83 were convicted for infractions of fishing laws, 11 for breaking forest fire laws and the remainder for a variety of causes.

During the previous week, 148 convictions were reported.

Under new Michigan legislation, either signed into law already or now awaiting the signature of Governor Williams, are a number of bills relating to conservation problems.

Hawks, owls and eagles will be protected in the future under Act 25, youngsters under 14 years of age may hunt deer in season with bow and arrow, and the closed season on bluegills and sunfish will be eliminated after this year.

The 1954 Legislature also increased the 15-day and annual non-resident fishing license fees from $2 to $3 and $4, respectively, a change expected to produce about $300,000 annually.

Domestic mink farms will now be under jurisdiction of the state department of agriculture. Formerly, the conservation department held this jurisdiction.

About 88 acres of state-owned lake bottom land near Lakeport in Lake Huron will go to the Detroit Edison Company for $18,000, the money to be used for waterfowl habitat.

A $5 bounty on bobcats was authorized in the upper peninsula, effective 90 days after the Legislature officially adjourns.

A penalty is provided against careless, reckless or negligent use of archery equipment and the criminal code was amended to make it unlawful to operate a motorboat while under influence of alcohol.

Frog season was changed to open on the Friday immediately preceding the opening of bass season and maximum and minimum lake levels may be set by courts when in the public interest.

Large drainage and flood control projects, too big for established intercounty drain procedures, will be handled on a state level through Act 139. It will affect such areas as Saginaw Valley.

Provisions covering bow and arrow fishing were liberalized so archery equipment may be used wherever use of spear is legal, while another bill establishes a system of taxing state lands in southern Michigan.

The Legislature appropriated about $11.8 million for operation of the conservation department, an increase of about $800,000 from last year. Nearly all that increase was wrapped up in state parks' operating and capital outlay budgets.

About 30 other bills relating to conservation either died in committee or were defeated on the floor.

The trauma of early youth must, indeed sometimes be a horrendous thing.

At least two broods of four cottontails each would certainly sound loud agreement to that statement—just in case anybody asked.

The first four received the honest, though misdirected, affection of a yearning Ingham county farm cat.

This tabby, denied the pleasures of motherhood through the bold advances of modern surgery, tried to make up her loss last week by pouncing four young rabbits from a field nest.

One by one, this modern Mehitabel toted the still sightless quartet from field to farmhouse and then settled down to wait results.

Nothing happened. Ma Cat had the instinct but lacked the wherewithal.

The law was called to investigate. Conservation officer Walter Mutchler of Mason stood around awhile and scratched his head. Kidnapping, he reported, was not really his line of duty.

He passed, hurriedly, the four fuzzy problem children to C. T. Black, biologist in charge of Rose Lake wildlife station.

Black had a cat with one faucet operating. The cat, however, also had one kitten, so the housing shortage continued.

One of the rabbits tired of the whole business at this point and gave up the ghost, so Mother Black had to take quick measures. Eye-droppers were secured and squirts of milk hopefully inserted in the three remaining orphaned cottontails.

At present, all is serene, with the three now thriving and soon to be returned to the wilds.

The other quartet was born in a nest in a cutover corn field on the Rose Lake station.

When 10 days old, a tractor, intent on spring planting, came along and plowed them under. At age 11 days, what was left of their nest was disced under and at age 12, spike drags sliced through the nest.

Enough was enough. The four got up and started out on their own. The tractor operator saw them crossing the field, found what remained of the nest and replaced the four, with assurances of agricultural immunity.

Later, biologists at the station tagged the youngsters and kept daily watch on them. At the end of 16 days of life, on schedule, the quartet left home to make their way alone.
