Miss JoAnne Marie Swank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Swank of Chillicothe, Ohio, became the bride of Richard Leonard Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Rowe, 39936 Ford road, Plymouth, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 12, at Walnut Street Methodist church, Chillicothe, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Fred Knickrehm and the Reverend Lawrence Crawford, New London, a friend of the bride's family.

Miss JoAnne Marie Swank

Mrs. Jessie Hilliard, organist, and James Raftus of Warren, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. The altar was decorated with two 16-branch candelabras and two vases of white flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle designed with a curved portrait neckline that complemented the empire bodice. The lace princess-style skirt was enhanced with inserts of pleated nylon tulle. Her full circular French half-veil of imported bridal illusion was imported to a bonnet of pleated nylon tulle with accents of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white shattered carnations centered with white roses.

Mrs. Dan Dungan, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her cocktail-length dress was of lavender silk organza. She carried a cascade bouquet of shattered pink carnations and baby's breath. Her headress matched her bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jane Morley of Youngstown, the bride's college roommate, and Miss Ruth Rowe of Plymouth, the bridegroom's sister. Style of the dresses and headbands were identical to the matron of honor's.

Dan Dungan of Macedonia was best man, and Bill Bedlion of Garrettsville, Ohio, David Eiler of Chicago, Ill., Thomas Rowe of Plymouth, the bridegroom's brother, and Lee Rowe, of Plymouth, the bridegroom's cousin, seated the guests.

Mrs. Swank wore a navy-blue lace dress with satin trim and pink accessories. Mrs. Rowe was attired in a navy-blue crepe dress with light-blue shantung trim and white accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 200 guests was given in the church social rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will be at home in Hiram, Ohio, following a two-week trip through the East.

Having planned the five since ninth grade, the two graduates of Bentley high school finally saw their dream come true and left June 21 at 5 a.m. The former Boy Scouts will first go to Big Rapids where Jim's grandfather lives, then on to Muskegon to visit David's aunt. From Michigan the boys will head for the Northwest on their English racing bikes, planning to do some fishing there. Then they will work their way down the coast, hoping to get work during the harvest time. By winter they plan to be in the south, eventually working their way back up to Michigan.

Firemen Get Excitement Without Fire During Dinner Honoring Them

Since firemen are the first to be summoned when there is a finger, arm, leg, foot or head to be extracted from a tight place, no better time or place could have been found to get a thumb caught in the mechanism of a folding table than last Saturday night at the Mayflower hotel where a dozen Plymouth firemen and their wives were guests of the city as payment for the time and work donated by the men-folks to paint the new Northside Fire station. Also being honored was Earl "Red" Foster, who furnished the spray painting outfit. During a speech by City Manager Al Glassford, Mrs. George Schoeneman, wife of the assistant fire chief, ran her thumb under the table top where it somehow became lodged. Unable to get the thumb loose after a lengthy struggle, Mrs. Schoeneman turned the problem over to her husband who has saved the lives of numerous persons with the city's emergency equipment. The assistant chief turned, pulled and pruned his wife's swelling thumb. Other firemen then sensed the emergency and offered their services. The thumb remained stuck. One volunteer stuck his thumb into the same position to see how the thing could happen. He had to struggle for a while to get his own thumb out. Amid the excitement, a waiter carrying a tray of roast beef dinners came down the stairs, looked around to see what was going on and struck his head on the stairway wall. The roast beef dinners came crashing to the floor. While the group turned its attention to the newest casualty, Mrs. Schoeneman freed her thumb. Firemen, who are used to excitement, claimed the evening quite delightful, however, and the meal very delicious. As a post script to the event, a fire alarm sounded at 2:10 a.m. and the tired but happy crew extinguished a burning mattress.

Burroughs Plant Back to Normal

Officials of the Burroughs corporation announced that the company's Plymouth plant was operating on normal schedules this week following the two-day walkout of approximately 200 employees which ended last Friday. The walkout began last Wednesday morning when 35 screw machine operators in one defense manufacturing department quit working in a dispute centering primarily around alleged inequities in a new production incentive plan. Later in the day and on Thursday they were joined by about 200 others on picket lines at plant entrances on Plymouth and Haggerty roads. The walkout reached its peak on Thursday when about 800 of the plant's 3,500 employees would not cross picket lines to report for work. On Friday the strike ended almost as quickly as it began, when plant management and employee spokesmen reached agreement to hold joint meetings for the purpose of clarification and adjustment of the issues involved. The Wayne County sheriff's office sent patrolmen to the plant throughout the strike to keep order and unsmarl traffic jams resulting from the slow-up of traffic attempting to enter the plant through picket lines. Although many employees and incoming commercial vehicles were influenced to turn back because of the picket lines, no violence or actual physical restraint of traffic occurred. It has been our observation that every man who makes a fool of himself is usually too big a fool to realize.

Dunn Steel Plant Ends Dedication Week Activities

Employees, customers and other industries joined this week in the dedication of the new Dunn Steel Products plant in Plymouth. Three open house activities were held, one Sunday for employees, another Monday for area industrial representatives and a third Tuesday for Dunn Steel customers. About 150 employees and their families visited the plant Sunday afternoon to view the new factory on the inside and meet one another. There were 35 representatives of local industry and business at the Monday open house which began with a luncheon at the Mayflower hotel. A bus took the men to and from the hotel and a tour of the plant followed. Another 35 representatives from customer firms attended the Tuesday open house. It began in the afternoon with a plant tour and concluded with a dinner at Arbor Lill. Included in the Tuesday guest list was Andrew Dunn, founder of the plant and now retired, making his home in Asheville, North Carolina. Dunn Steel's former plant site was at 377 Amelia street where there was 25,000 square feet of floor space. The new plant has 41,000 square feet and had land space for a plant three times as large. The firm specializes in cold-headed auto fasteners.

2 Weekend Fires

Two minor fires were extinguished by the Plymouth fire department last weekend, the first alarms of the month. The first was at 10:35 p.m. Friday at Plymouth Automatic Laundry, 129 West Ann Arbor trail. An outside box containing lint blown from dryers was found blazing, but was quickly extinguished. Firemen believed that boys with matches set the fire. Another alarm was sounded at 2:10 a.m. Sunday. A mattress was found burning in the apartment of Sam Fisher, 877 Starkweather. Fisher told firemen that he was unable to explain the cause of the blaze. Cervantes smiled Spain's chivalry away.—Byron.

Pleads Defense In Assault Case

A plea of self-defense has been made by Eugene Avery, 46, Royal Oak, who was charged with assault and battery by a Plymouth man who was helping Avery to set up his ride at the carnival here last week.

Jesse Daniel, 53, of 374 South Mill street, told police that he had been hired by Avery to set up the octopus ride and injured his thumb while performing the work. Going to a doctor, Daniel found his thumb had been dislocated.

Police quoted Daniel as saying that he returned to see Avery about insurance but that an argument ensued and Avery struck Daniel in the face. The Plymouth man was taken to the Wayne County General hospital where he was found to have a broken jaw.

In a hearing this week before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo, Avery pleaded self-defense and asked that the trial be postponed until next Monday. He is being held in Wayne county jail under $500 bond.

Childlike obedience moves toward every command of God, as the needle points where the loadstone draws.—Thomas Watson.

Three Arrested For Cable Theft

Only a minute after three men completed the theft of valuable lead telephone cable and were loading it into their car, Plymouth police brought them into custody.

The theft took place at the Michigan Bell Telephone company supply yard on Lilley road at 2:25 a.m. Wednesday. A patrol car was driving north on Lilley road when patrolmen spotted a car parked beside the road. One man, Richard Trevino, 19, Wyandotte, was seen running from around the fence while William Benson, 19, Wyandotte, appeared to be working on the car.

Patrolmen stopped and asked Benson if he was having car trouble. Benson replied that he was but that it was now fixed. The two men then drove away. A short distance down the road, police stopped the car because of a defective muffler. The cable was discovered in the back seat.

As Benson and Trevino were being taken to the police station by another police car, the original patrolmen on the scene went back to the telephone company grounds and found Jack McClaren, 23, Romulus, at the side of the road. They will be heard later this week on breaking and entering charges.

Department Plans Summer Activities

As part of its summer program the Recreation department is offering two special service activities. There will be an arts and crafts program available at each playground under the direction of Mrs. Schield, junior high art teacher. Basketry weaving, leather work, jewelry making and paper mache will be among the crafts offered. A special class for handicapped children will be held each morning from 9 to noon at Bird school under the direction of Mrs. Cook, a member of the junior high teaching faculty. Parents who wish additional information about this program should contact the Recreation department.

A train of thought won't do you much good unless you get up enough steam to carry it through.

Honor Councilor Irene Broegeman At Reception by Old Glory Council

A reception was held last week at the Grange Hall in honor of Mrs. Irene Broegeman, 7925 Sheldon road, Plymouth, by the Old Glory Council number 25, Daughters of America. Mrs. Broegeman was elected state councilor of Michigan at the state session of the Daughters of America held at the Statler hotel in Detroit June 9 through 11.

Also in attendance were Ella Schaffer, past national councilor, as well as past national and state officers from Detroit, Flint, Trenton, Pontiac, Benton Harbor and Lansing.

An exhibition of ballroom dances was given as entertainment by Miss Geraldine Mosher and Gene Iwaski. Miss Mosher has won several dancing trophies and Iwaski is a student at Wayne university.

The past councilors of the local order of the Old Glory Council put on a drill and led state councilor Broegeman to various stations, representing her posts in the state order over the past three years. Following the drill Mrs. Broegeman was presented by her daughter and granddaughter to the councilor's chair, where she received a vase of flowers, as well as many other gifts, from the local Rebekah lodge Number 182. Mrs. Broegeman is a member of the latter organization.

Luncheon was then served to about 100 guests.

HAD SOME, ANYWAY

"And is the prince incognito?" asked the London reporter, referring to a titled guest.

"Well, no, sir," replied the hotel porter. "I don't know as I'd say that. But 'e's certainly 'ad a few."

Planners Allow Zoning Changes For Businesses

Two changes in zoning to allow for commercial building construction were approved by the city planning commission last Thursday night. The commission also received a petition for another zoning change.

Amid protests of some neighbors, six and one-half lots east of South Main street were changed from residential to commercial status. The Atlas Finance company wants to construct a building for occupancy by the A & P supermarket on a site south of Beglinger's Oldsmobile. Land behind the street abutting lots, however, could not be used for parking because of their residential zoning.

Carl Shear, one of the home owners whose property is considered for purchase asked for the zoning change.

Also changed was a lot near the Rouge river bridge on Mill street where the Railroad Express company wants to construct a new office. Leonard Millross, manager of the office, filed the petition and it was approved without any objections.

Filed at Thursday night's meeting was a petition signed by five joint owners of two lots abutting C & O Railroad property who want the properties changed to general industrial zoning.

To Triple

Continued from Page 1 window shade service at the new location. He also expects to expand the stock of window and door shutters. Overcrowding in the present store at 834 Penniman is the reason for the move to a new location, Pease said. "We thought when we moved here four years ago that we would have too much room," he recalled. Six months later, an addition was built to the rear of the store. The store owner worked 28 years with the Cadillac Wallpaper store in Detroit before coming to Plymouth.

Registration Begins For Primary Vote

Registration for the August 3 primary election will begin tomorrow, an election which will involve state, congressional and county offices.

Lamont BeGole, head of the Plymouth election machinery, said that a registration booth will be set up at Kresge's from 1:30 to 5 p.m., July 1 and 2. Only those persons who have never registered in Plymouth before or have not voted in any election for the past four years, must register.

A person must be at least 21 years old by election day, a U.S. citizen, a resident of Plymouth 30 days, and a Michigan resident six months. Last day of registration is July 6.

HILLSIDE INN as seen from Plymouth road has retained its colonial design during the recently-completed remodeling program. Cupola on the roof houses the revolving beacon, symbol of the new Beacon Room, a private dining room.

ARTIST'S SKETCH of the Pease Paint & Wallpaper store's proposed exterior is reproduced here. It is located at 570 South Main street. Of modern colonial design, the building will give the store three times the present floor space.

resolution to accept the new Northside fire station. "Thanks" was included in the resolution to the contractors, Burger and Dobbs, and to others who worked on the project. Another thumbs-down sign was given by commissioners to a request for more water taps outside the city limits. Plymouth Colony, represented by the subdivision's operators, was the subject of Tuesday night's discussion. No more water taps outside the city has been the recent commission policy due to increasing demands by present water users. The city has been attempting to secure more well sites to better the situation.

ing at junior high will be performed by the school maintenance crew and painting at Hough and Bartlett schools was given to Kenneth Cooper, a Livonia painter.

Four companies bid on the school bus. Considered the best bid was one offered by Paul G. Wiedman, Inc., Plymouth. It was a combination of a Ford truck with a Carpenter corporation body. Cost of the bus will be $5,719.38.

Superintendent Russell Isbister said that delivery of the new bus will give the system 13 buses. He added that it is hoped that there will be one bus kept for emergencies, but that increased enrollment next fall may press all 13 into service. The newly-ordered bus will hold 60 passengers.

Summer Is No Vacation for School Maintenance Workers

WORK ON THE NEW football schedule board for the high school was begun last week by the school maintenance crew, as a part of its summer duties. Pictured at the board are John Remsing, left, and Leo Kowalcik, maintenance supervisor. A full work program has been planned for the summer by the maintenance workers. The schedule board will be placed on the high school lawn.

Summer may mean vacation for the children and the teachers, but for the school maintenance crew it's the time to get the schools in order for fall. Leo Kowalcik, supervisor of maintenance at the junior and senior high schools, said that his men have a big summer ahead with everything from laying floors to reroofing on the schedule.

One of the big items on the calendar for the summer involves the swimming pool. Throughout the swimming season the water is constantly being recirculated, filtered and tested for chlorine content. Kowalcik said that it takes seven hours to recirculate the water in the pool at a rate of 350 gallons a minute. The men also are building starting platforms for competition swimming. New roofs will be put on the junior high school and laying machine shop. Another summer job this year is painting the junior high school and laying asphalt flooring in the office of Principal Carvel Bentley and in the guidance office.

A pet project is the construction of a football schedule board to be placed on the lawn in front of the high school in the fall.

As a year-round job the men must keep the floors in top condition. Cleaning them takes 11 operations, which means a lot of work, Kowalcik said, when you remember that each floor has an area of 17,000 square feet. Together with all the smaller jobs which must be done each day, the maintenance crew can look forward to another full summer.

Bear the ills ye have, lest worse befall you.—Phaedrus.

Some Persons Easily Harmed By Sun's Rays

Even before the invention of the atom bomb, people suffered annoying forms of radiation sickness. The cause, skin specialists maintain, is over-zealous use of the sun's rays while lounging on the beach or in a deck chair.

Therefore, Dr. Suel A. Sheldon, University of Michigan dermatologist, warns persons not to go overboard in their sun bathing this summer. It is possible, he declared, for some folks to "drown" themselves in too much sunlight.

Some people are especially "photosensitive," that is, easily fried.

This may be due to:

1. a histamine-like substance in the skin;
2. a local infection in a tooth or tonsil;
3. male sex hormones which appear to cause pigmentation;
4. manufactured products such as perfume oils, plant extracts, even sulfa drugs;
5. unknown causes.

The diseases caused by exposure to sunlight run from ordinary sunburn, senile skin (sometimes called sailor's skin or farmer's skin), hive-like swellings, to cancer.

But, assures Dr. Sheldon, cancer of the skin does not arise from casual sunbathing. Cancer usually results from years of baking.

Some doctors, said Dr. Sheldon, attempt to desensitize patients who are photosensitive by giving them small amounts of sunlight until their skin is able to take it. In other words, a patient becomes tolerant of sunlight.

Others try hormone treatments. Recently doctors are trying certain antimalarial drugs, with success, on persons who are especially sensitive to the sun.

Dr. Sheldon warns that even though suntan oils are popular, they do not actually protect the user or prevent sunburn. Actually, he said, plain or carbolated vaseline is the best protection, although the doctor admits that such is probably not "cosmetically acceptable."

Sunbathers will find plain talcum powder the best "bouncer" for the sun's rays. Calamine lotion is good, too.

But, said Dr. Sheldon, the best treatment for light-sensitive diseases lies in preventing over-exposure to the summer sun in the first place.

Grange Cleanings

Thursday night of last week was the final meeting of the summer until September.

Mr. Biebeshiemer of Wayne was with us and gave a fine talk on soil and spraying. He would have been much more comfortable if he had removed his coat.

The topic of discussion right now is the picnic which is scheduled for Thursday, July 1. It should be as near 6:30 as is possible, as it gets dark so early. The place is north of the Plymouth road bridge near the railroad viaduct. If it should be raining we will go to the Grange hall.

Mrs. Nash has a list of 16 members who intend going to Chesaning to see "Show boat" on Friday, July 16. Others who wish to go should send in their names to Mrs. Nash as she will make the reservations, July 1.

First Time

"Mummy," said little Brian, "Tommy doesn't know how to swim because his mummy won't let him go near the water."

"Well, Tommy is a very good little boy."

"Yes," answered Brian thoughtfully, "and he'll go to Heaven the first time he falls in."

Every Fisher's Desire

A correspondent asks if we can locate for him a verse, entitled "The Angler's Prayer." He probably means this:

Oh, Lord, pray suffer me to catch
A fish so large that I
When telling of it afterwards
Will have no need to lie.

Class of 1929 Holds First Reunion Event

Sunday's rain failed to dampen the spirits of the Plymouth high school Class of 1929, which held its first reunion that afternoon in the old high school auditorium. During the afternoon the classmates renewed old acquaintances, some of which were interrupted by 25 years.

Background for the event was supplied by the playing of 1929 records, helping the classmates to reminisce. Dr. Elmore Carney, who had been the class president, called the class to order. Each member brought the class up to date on his family and occupation.

Included on the guest list, besides members of the class, were Edna M. Allen, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mrs. Ada Murray and Burnus G. Page of Pittsford, Michigan. Communications were read from former students and teachers unable to attend.

Special awards were made to various class members for the following: coming the greatest distance, Pauline Deal Seidel of Saginaw; longest married, oldest child and first grandmother, Elizabeth Hayball Sanislow of Northville; first grandfather, Harold Rebitzke of Port Huron; having the youngest child, Harold Hubert of Grosse Pointe; newest wed, Chase Willett of Garden City; largest family, Rhea Peck Watts of Adrian; and also largest family, Russell Sockow of Pinckney. A plant was presented in memory of Norma Brown Truesdell, only deceased member of the class.

Miss Edna Allen cut the first piece of cake, and refreshments were served. The classmates voted unanimously to have another reunion in five years.

Serving on the committee which planned the reunion were Dr. Elmore Carney, Irene Krauter Rowland, Heloise Travis Campbell, Elizabeth Spicer Norman, Elizabeth Burrows Packard and Margaret Dunning.

Better a little well kept, than a great deal forgotten.

Try State Parks That Get Little Use in Summer

How come a few state parks get extra heavy use while others with just as pleasant facilities are bypassed by the public?

That is a question state park workers have been asking a long time, though no adequate answer has come forth.

Dodge Four state park west of Pontiac is one example of heavy use. Nearly a million persons used the park last year and to date this year, nearly 200,000 have entered the area. The park has a pleasant beach, boating, bathhouse and other facilities and is close to several metropolitan areas.

But less than 10 miles away, at Pontiac Lake state park, there is a very similar set up that last year attracted only 176,000 visitors.

On any given hot summer weekend, Dodge Four will be jammed with visitors while Pontiac Lake goes begging.

The same is true between East Tawas and Harrisville state parks.

The two are about 30 miles apart. Both have pleasant Lake Huron beaches, shady picnic areas and developed camping facilities. Yet last year about 280,000 persons visited the East Tawas park while only 95,000 used Harrisville.

The problem also exists on the west side of the state to a lesser extent. Grand Haven and Holland state parks last year ran one-two in total park attendance; more than a million visitors entered each park.

On the other hand, Muskegon state park, 15 miles north of Grand Haven and 30 times the size of either Grand Haven or Holland, had 594,000 visitors last year and could have handled three times that number.

"A lot of pleasant recreation is being passed up in some of these under-used parks," Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the state park system says.

Philip Patrick Wins His Fifth Chicago Trip

Another trip to Chicago is the prize of newspaper-carrier Philip Patrick of 11325 Eastside drive. Philip has already been awarded four different Chicago trips, and also was winner of a trip to Washington.

He will leave for Chicago on June 29 on a Capitol Airlines flight. Along with other Detroit Times carriers, Philip will tour Chicago, seeing the museums, stockyards and other sights of interest. He will return home on July 1.

Philip is the only Plymouth winner.

Prompt Spraying Of Scale Insects May Halt March

It is not too late to win the war against growing armies of ree-ravaging scale insects. Because cold, wet weather limited the amount of spraying that could be done this spring, these tree pests have become even more serious than usual in many sections. But control is still possible during the crawler stage. Various types of scale insects attack trees throughout most of the nation. Often they are hard to spot at an early stage because they are small and frequently similar in color to the bark on which they feed. Consequently, they may go unnoticed until they have multiplied considerably and caused a great deal of damage.

The voracious pests drain large amounts of life-giving sap from valued and beautiful trees and shrubs. They often attack the weakest trees, especially ornamental plantings growing in unnatural situations.

As trees grown by man on a home site are often weaker than those in natural surroundings, these domestic pests afford prize targets for the scale-insect hordes.

In general, scale insects are best controlled with an oil spray applied in the spring before the buds burst. Where weather or other circumstances have prevented spraying and where serious infestation has developed, spray the newly-hatched crawlers with a mixture of pyrethrum, rotenone and a light summer oil. DDT and a nicotine oil combination may also be used effectively.

WALLY COX climbed down from a brand new Ferguson tractor at his farm near Dryden, Mich., long enough to be interviewed in WJR's mobile studio by Marshall Wells (right) for WJR's Weekly Farm Review. Interviewed with him was Jack Reese, president of Continental Motors, which sponsors this Sunday morning program, and which also builds the engines for Massey-Harris-Ferguson equipment. "Mister Peepers" discussed the beef Hereford project he conducts on his 300-acre farm, while Reese, who heads the Aero Club of Michigan, used his portion of the interview to boost the Seventh Annual International Aviation Exposition — "Air Show" to you — at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport July 24 and 25. Of local interest is the fact that Continental advertising and public relations are handled by The Hopkins Agency of Detroit, whose principals are N. W. and James H. Hopkins, Plymouth.

Two From City Receive Degrees From Wayne

Over 1,200 graduates of Wayne University's ten schools and colleges received degrees during the University's June commencement exercises at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, June 17, in the State Fair Coliseum, Detroit.

Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, Wayne president, conferred the degrees. Fifteen of the candidates were granted doctorates, eight received the degree, Doctor of Education, and seven received Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

The list of graduates for the College of Liberal Arts showed 329 candidates. College of Education, 289; Graduate School, 243; School of Business Administration, 103; College of Engineering, 69; College of Medicine, 65; Law School, 64; College of Pharmacy, 25; and College of Nursing, 14.

Three honorary degrees were conferred by Dr. Hilberry for the University, and citations were presented summarizing the achievements for which the recipients were recognized.

Fewer Deer Killed By Archery Hunters

Archery hunters were slightly less successful during the 1953 deer season than they were during the 1952 season, a recently-completed conservation department survey shows.

Archers bagged about 1800 deer last fall compared to about 1850 the previous season.

About 30,700 persons bought archery licenses last year, compared with 29,340 the year before.

Of those license buyers who actually hunted, six percent bagged a deer last fall while in the previous fall, 6.5 percent were successful.

Conservation game workers, who conducted the poll, asked information from 1790 archery hunters and received answers from 96 percent, about the same percent of return as made by hunters in the previous year's poll.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

"If any modern hitter can hit 400, it'll be Bobby Avila."

This surprising observation was made during the first month of the season by an "expert" who has seen plenty of hitters in his time—Dizzy Dean, the Hall of Fame pitcher now a broadcaster.

The statement was amazing because Avila, in his four previous years as the Indians' regular second baseman, gave little indication that he was more than a .300 raffer. In fact, his averages in those four years were .290, .305, .300 and .286 respectively.

But Dean said he wasn't talking idly. "The kid is a smart hitter," explained the Great Man. "He can do everything, hit to all fields, bunt, hit-and-run, and for a little guy he's even got enough power to worry the pitcher."

Avila, when given Dean's quote, grinned and replied, "If I ever hit 400 they make me president of Mexico."

As it now stands, Avila is close to becoming elected. His average in the past weeks has remained consistently between .380 and .390 and he has given no indications of a let-up, even though recently hampered by a jammed thumb.

When a successful bunt is needed, he bunts successfully. And in a recent game against the Yanks, when a homer was necessary to tie the score in the ninth, he homered.

Not even Bobby's most ardent rooters in Cleveland or Mexico expect him to finish so close to .400, but if he can keep up his high sticking for another month he'll become an excellent bet to win the American League batting crown.

Avila, of course, would like to capture that title, even if it means taking it away from his teammate, Al Rosen.

"Rosie will be glad to be one-two with me. I be glad to be two-one, with Rosie on top. If we both are high, I think maybe it means the pennant," says Bobby.

"I just keep swinging," he adds. "Can you keep this up?" he was asked.

"It's hard to say how much I hit," he offered. "It's so early. I'll hit as high as I can, you know."

But Avila is optimistic and he has a valid reason.

"Before," he suggests, "I never hit good early in season, you know. I always start hitting good in June, most of the time. I always have good finish."

He is certain he knows why he is off to such a hot start. "Mexico these winter I try hard. Other years I take it easy. I play so I don't get hurt. It's like a vacation. I play 20 games, hit about .350. When I come to spring training I still have take-it-easy habit. It's hard to break. So I don't get going up here till late."

"This winter I play 45 games, play hard alltime. Hit .408. I come to spring training ready to play and I feel ready to play."

However, Avila is unable to discern any technical change in his swing or his style.

"I can't see myself, you know," he mentions. "I don't know if I hit different. Last year I hit ball pretty hard, you know. I don't have much luck. Ball don't find the holes."

Pursell, Carter Lead Batters; Olds Tops Teams

Plumbers Down Stampers

Five extra base blows helped the Carr's Plumbing team in the Class B softball league to defeat the Plymouth Stamping team 12 to 6 last Wednesday night at the athletic field.

The winners began in a big way as they counted 7 runs in the initial inning on 6 hits, 2 walks and an error.

G. Carr did the big stick work for the winners with a triple and two singles; while Carter had a triple and a single.

Carter was the winning hurler with Talick being charged with the loss. W. Patrick had two doubles for the losers with Thomas contributing a double and a single.

Rain Halts Merchants

Rain cancelled the Plymouth Merchants game in the Inter-County league, as well as all the other games last Sunday. Plymouth was scheduled to play River Rouge. Both are still tied for third place in the league with a 5 won and 3 lost record.

Sunday, June 27, Plymouth plays Grandale at Cass Benton Park beginning at 3:30. Grandale is right behind Plymouth with a 4 won and 4 lost record.

All teams will play two games the following fourth of July weekend. On Saturday, July 3, Plymouth plays Auto Club, a team which has improved tremendously since the Merchants defeated Auto Club in the first contest of the year 5 to 4. On Sunday, July 4, Plymouth plays Farris at Belle Creek. Farris previously defeated Plymouth 4 to 1.

Olds Wins Shutout

Beginger Olds, behind the two-hit pitching of Gabby Street, shut out the Champion Corrugated nine 5 to 0 last week. Street, returning to the league for the first time this season had his fast ball working perfectly as he struck out 12 men and walked only one.

The winners scored 2 in the first on a single by Slessor, a sacrifice, a double by Egloff, an error and another sacrifice. One more crossed the plate in the second without a hit, and the winners counted single runs in the third and sixth innings.

Kearney was the losing hurler being touched for 7 hits, striking out 3 and walking 2. Slessor had a double and a single for the winners.

Evans Wins 7-2

Evans Products won the first game of the summer season in the men's league by downing Barnes, Gibson, & Raymond 7 to 2 last week. Evans counted 2 runs in the third and four in the fourth to build up the winning margin, even though they were held to but 4 hits by Stevens. Errors in key situations hurt the losers cause considerably.

Ward was the winning pitcher allowing 4 hits also, and striking out two and walking two.

SUMMER OFFICIALLY arrived last Monday and summer means vacations and fishing. These three youngsters are trying their luck in Newburg lake. Not until Saturday were they legally able to carry any bass home. From front, the young fishermen are Jimmy Ayers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ayers, 39580 East Ann Arbor trail; Harry Ayers, (Jimmy's brother), and George Hoffman, son of Mrs. Julia Hoffman, 50220 Gilbert.

SETS THREE MARKS... Emil Zatopek, Czech distance runner, broke three world records with times of 13:57.2 for 5,000 meters, 28:54.2 for 10,000 meters and 27:59.2 for six miles, the last two marks breaking records he set two days earlier.

Cavalcade Takes Close 1-0 Tilt

Cavalcade, the defending champion in the men's softball league, added two more wins to an undefeated record, but not until extended by sixth-place Barnes, Gibson & Raymond in a hard-fought, close 1 to 0 tilt.

In this game the league leader scored the only run of the ball game in the third inning after two men had been retired when Lowe, the winning hurler, singled sharply to left and scored as the centerfielder erred in fielding his hit.

Only three hits were made in the entire game—two by the winners and one by the losers. Lowe allowed only one safety; that to Ward, the opposing hurler in the sixth inning. Ward was touched for two hits, one by Lowe, and the other by Cole in the bottom of the fifth inning. The latter struck out one man and allowed three walks. Lowe struck out 9 men and walked none.

In another game Cavalcade counted 5 runs in the third inning to go on to defeat Champion Corrugated 9 to 1. The big third saw five men crossing the plate on an error, four straight hits and a fielder's choice. Thibideau, the winning hurler, allowed only one hit—that being a single by A. Fulton to lead off the last inning, which led to the only run scored by the losers. Dick Farwell had a home run in the second for the winners.

Big Inning for Wall Wire

The Wall Wire softball team in the old-timers' B league believes in scoring all its runs in one inning. The leaders in this league defeated Daisy 12 to 9 and counted all 12 runs on 10 hits in the fourth inning.

Behind 7 to 0 as that fruitful inning opened, the Wall Wire hitters opened up and began teasing off on Papino, the opposing pitcher on two walks, an error and 10 hits to produce 12 runs.

Papino had a home run for the losers. Reeves was the winning hurler.

The standing in the B league are as follows:

Sport Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

The Detroit Tigers are battling to stay in the first division and I hope they can obtain a position above the second division, but looking at the facts that seem to be unobtainable this year. I still think they will finish fifth or sixth, but in another couple years these kids may be playing in a world series.

I am very happy that Manager Freddie Hutchinson is using young Kaline, Bolling and Tuttle regularly. Those kids are a tower on defense, and are getting their share of clutch hits. We shouldn't give up on these kids even though the Tigers lose a few games. After all, if we know sports we cannot expect a new team of youngsters, many of them playing in their first major season, to be major league winners. I pity a person who can just follow a winner; to me that person is a poor loser and a poor sport.

I am publishing my first list of the five highest batters in the softball leagues in Plymouth. If you think this is an easy task compiling these for all the teams you are way off base. With the many changes the first part of the season it is most exacting to compile these averages of all players.

If anyone disagrees with these figures, he will have to get all the score sheets and prove it to me and I will acknowledge it in this column. The scorers of the games are again to be complimented on keeping a score that is easy to follow.

Naturally, if one figures out the individual averages it is easy to figure out the team averages. If anyone is interested in knowing what any team is batting, or any individual player the information is free for the asking by calling 2764-W.

It is impossible to attend all the games in all the leagues, so I try to write up the games just as though I had been present. I get the score sheets through the cooperation of Softball Supervisor John Sandmann and Herb Woolweaver. The men's leagues in Plymouth are very good in helping out, but these inter-city leagues are the toughest where the score sheets are in another city. If any D, E, F, or girls game is omitted it is only because I did not have any information on it.

I just got back from a weekend trip up in central Michigan, but the rain spoiled most of the weekend. Even though it was in the form of an emergency nature, the trip was enjoyable as all trips through the beautiful north country are. Such a wonderful state!

No-Hitter Stops Merchants Nine

The new Plymouth Merchants team in the men's softball league eked out a victory over Evans 4 to 3 last week and then lost to LaFontaine 8 to 1. In the first game, the Merchants had to come from behind and score a run in the sixth and another in the seventh to gain the triumph. In the last inning Daggett opened by being hit by a pitched ball, Finnegan doubled with one gone, and Maas scratched a single leading the bases with one out, McIntyre struck out but Hunter came through with a single to win the game.

Maas pitched winning ball, while Graczyk was the loser; the former allowed 7 hits, and the latter 8 hits. In the LaFontaine loss, the Merchants were held hitless by Wicker, a new hurler in the league this year. Wicker was scored on in the last inning on a hit batsman, an error and walk, but didn't allow the resemblance of a hit during the game. He struck out 4 men and walked 3. Maas was the loser with Second taking over in the sixth inning. This was the first no-hitter of the local season.

The winners counted all their runs in the first three innings on the six hits they received during the game, four walks and a couple of errors.

Sleep
"I dread going to bed! I know that I shall not sleep," said a nervous, worried-looking woman. "I have taken so much sleeping medicine that it has no effect on me any more, so I may as well content myself to lie awake."

It is a pity that people learned the use of such drugs, or that they are often obtained without the prescription of a physician. While most of the hypnotics are not habit-forming in the sense that the narcotics are, still they can do irreparable injury to neurotics and those who are particularly susceptible to their influence.

There are various causes for sleeplessness. Any emotional upset, fear, anger, grief, or disappointment, tends to drive away sleep. Also, the habit of taking problems to bed to be thought over, or business to be straightened out, causes wakefulness.

He who would learn to sleep like a child must ponder the reasons why. The child does not worry; neither does he carry his griefs to bed with him. He plays hard in the open air and is healthily tired when night comes.

If he has wise caretakers, he is given an early supper which is simple and nourishing. He sleeps in a cool, well-ventilated room. His bed cloths are light and adapted to the season.

He is happy for he is surrounded by love. If he is troubled, he can take his little worries and problems to wise and sympathetic parents, who will assist him in smoothing them all out. He does not fear insecurity, for he knows that he will be provided for. Here is a lesson that grown-ups may well take to heart. Just as the child trusts his parents and finds security and happiness, so must those who have reached maturity trust their Heavenly Father, if they, too, would experience the sense of security and peace that is characteristic of childhood.

Though the little ones come to father and mother in simple faith to make their requests known and they do not always get what they ask for, they are content because father and mother know best. So love and trust in our Heavenly Father enables us to confront the tragedies, sorrows, and disappointments of life without bitterness.

Only those who are at peace can conquer disturbing emotions and triumph over them. Only those who are at peace with themselves and with the world enjoy sound, undisturbed sleep.

The anxiety and fear which lead to wakefulness are often due to physical causes. Sometimes it is induced by nervousness, caused from indigestion. The physician should be consulted. Sometimes an uncomfortable bed, a poorly ventilated room, or discomfort hinders sound and restful sleep.

Learn to relax. It is said that "two hours of sound sleep and six or eight hours of relaxation," enables poor sleepers to carry on their usual work.

It were an injury and sullenness against nature not to go out and see her riches, and partake in her rejoicing.—John Milton.

Plymouth Soldiers Fought Russians 35 Years Ago

A half dozen Plymouth natives turned their thoughts back last Saturday to 35 years ago. That was the day, June 19, 1919, that they left Russia after being the first Americans ever to fight the Red Russians.

It is an almost forgotten fact in history that an expedition of Americans spent over a year in Russia fighting a war against the Reds. Also opposing them were the White Russians and the British. It was near Archangie that the British had submarine bases which Americans were sent to help protect.

While other American doughboys laid down their guns on November 11, 1918, the Polar Bears continued their war against the Reds into 1919. With the democratic world now attempting to stop Red aggression around the world, the Polar Bears can proudly say that they fought the Reds 35 years ago.

ten by a Sergeant Clark of Detroit. Called "The Creation of Russia," it was written as he was about to depart from that country. The first verse tells how God must have been in a great rush when he created Russia, "the great international dump." The last three verses read:

In the land of the Infernal Odor, The land of National Smell The average American soldier Would soon be quartered in Hell. So back to the states for yours truly,

I'm not wishing any one ill, But Russia can hang for all I care And truly I reckon she will. Yes, it's back to the States for yours truly, A sadder but wiser young chap The Lord played a joke on Creation When Russia was dumped on the map."

Entire Polio Respirator Fund Exhausted for 1954

The nation's polio patients have needed so many chest respirators this far this year that the entire 1954 fund allotment for this purpose has been exhausted—even though the bulk of the polio season is yet to come, it was reported today by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

William J. Young, Jr., chairman of the Wayne County chapter of the March of Dimes organization, said that 176 of these smaller portable respirators were purchased this year at a cost of more than $220,000, in addition to the 717 already owned.

"Chest respirators help wean polio patients from huge, unwieldy iron lungs and make it possible for long-term patients to return to their homes. This is an important step in rehabilitation," Mr. Young said. "These 893 pieces of equipment are constantly in use, and they represent a chance at a new and useful life for the patients who need them."

The mounting cost of this year's polio season is reflected in the $3,135,590 which National Foundation headquarters has spent for emergency aid to patients in 348 chapters in 40 states and Hawaii. Michigan has received the second highest amount, Young stated.

Polio incidence continues high for this time of the year, he said, with the latest figures reported by the U. S. Public Health Service 36 per cent greater than the average total for the same weeks over the last five years.

States with the greatest number of cases in proportion to their population so far this year are Florida, Montana, California, Texas and Nevada, National Foundation reports show.

Shipments of emergency equipment to hard-hit areas (throughout the country to date) include 580 respirators of all kinds, 35 hot-pack machines, 224 rocking beds and 48 pieces of other equipment.

Young stated that the Wayne County chapter has disbursed $119,932 since January 1 for patient care.

Hoffman & Holdsworth Adds New Holland Line

Announcement was made this week that the Hoffman and Holdsworth Implement company has been appointed the New Holland farm implement dealer for the Wayne county area. The company already carries Allis-Chalmers and New Idea products.

The new line has been added, state Hoffman and Holdsworth, in order to give local farmers more service.

Advise How to Mail Invitations

With wedding and shower invitations now crowding the mails the local postmaster, Dr. George Timpona, has issued all the June brides some advice.

The most important thing is addressing the mail properly, he pointed out. This means the correct name of the addressee, the correct street address, accurate destination with zone number or rural number where possible and a return address.

Of equal importance, Dr. Tim-pona said, is knowledge of the difference between third class and first class mail.

Many times invitations to showers or announcements of weddings are received sealed, he said, with a two cent stamp affixed. The post office also gets unsealed envelopes which contain messages in writing and the sender fails to put on a return address. In both these cases the result is a delay in the mail getting to its destination.

Warns of Dangers Of Farm Tractors

A girl, 7, suffered a fatal skull fracture when a tractor passed over her. A man, 38, died of a crushed chest and broken neck after a tractor tipped over on him. A man, 75, suffocated while a tractor pinned his head in the soft earth.

Farm accidents like these, endangering lives from childhood to old age are repeated every year.

Twenty-two of the 30 fatal farm accidents from machinery in 1952 involved tractors, according to David Steinicke, extension safety specialist at Michigan State College. The majority of such accidents occur when the tractor overturns into a hole or ditch or—because of improper hitching—overturns backwards.

The rules for safety include: Stay away from ditches. Don't turn at high speeds. Keep the brake pedals locked together when traveling in road gear. Prevent backward tipping—hitch trailing implements or objects to the drawbar. Tipping sideways can often be prevented by spacing the rear wheels as wide as possible.

Steinicke adds that one of the best safety devices that can be put on your tractor is a good, safe driver.

Shower invitations have a written in message such as (time or place). Because of this they are classed as first class mail, and must have a three cent stamp affixed, he explained.

Most wedding announcements are printed matter containing no written or typewritten word. These can be sent for two cents postage if they are unsealed.

Wedding announcements come under third class regulations, when they do not exceed 9 inches in width or 12 inches in length, or are not less than 2 3/4 inches in width or 4 inches in length, Dr. Timpona said.

First class mail consists of any added writing, excluding the signature, contained in sealed or unsealed enclosures and requires first class rate of postage. Remember that when mailing a letter, he concluded.

Receives More Travel Literature for Public

More travel information has been received at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office which is available at no cost to the public, according to Secretary Nat Sibbold.

Newest booklet received is published by the Southeastern Michigan Tourist association which will give motorists many trip tips for places close to Plymouth. Tourist and resort maps are also available.

Besides literature on Michigan, the Chamber office stocks travel folders from other points around the nation and airline timetables.

Receive Many Early Entries For City Golf Tournament

Entries have already started to come in for the annual Plymouth Chamber of Commerce golf tournament, reports Chairman L. B. Rice, who foresees the largest field ever to compete in a local tourney. Scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 17 and 18, the tourney will be held at Bob O'Link golf club.

An entry fee of $5 includes all greens fees for the two-day affair, and in addition, plans now call for a buffet luncheon to be served to players following the final round Sunday.

Low and high handicap players alike are being urged to enter this year's tourney as committee members promise that all flights will receive an array of fine prizes. The first 18 holes played will determine which flight the player will be assigned to for the final day's play on Sunday. Championship flight qualifiers will play 36 holes on the last day, while all other flights will play 18.

Defending champion for the tourney is Tom Lock, who already has indicated he will participate again. Ralph Lorenz was runner-up to Lock. This year all previous city champions and runners-up will be automatically qualified for the championship flight. They may play in the qualifying round anyway, however, as low qualifying prizes will be awarded.

Entries for the tournament may be made at the AAA office, Davis & Lent's, Berry & Atchinson's, Todd's Cash Grocery, Turnbull Electric and Marr Taylor's in Northville, or at the Bob O'Link golf club. Fund Raising Chairman Jim McAllister of the National Bank also has entry forms. Players may also send their $5 fee to the Chamber of Commerce along with their preferred starting time for the qualifying round.

Disguise it as you will, To right or wrong 'tis fashion guides us still.

Local Horsemen Take Ribbons In 4-H Club Show

Another horse show claimed the attention of the local riders last week and many came away with ribbons and prizes. The event was the annual show put on by the Plymouth 4-H Bridle club at the practice field at Ridge and Warren roads last Saturday.

Judging the various class events was Professor Richard Warren of Michigan State college. Mrs. Leona Hull is the leader of the local club.

Grand champion of the show, scoring the most points, was Barbara Gageon of New Hudson. Many good showings were turned in by the Plymouth entries as well.

Winners among the local youngsters were: model Western horse class, first, Bob Franklin, third, Susan Sempliner; junior horsemanship class, 12 years old and under, second, Cindy Hull, third, Mary Foster; junior horsemanship, age 13-18, first, Ellen Cowgill, second, Bob Franklin, and third, Linda Schaefer.

Pleasure horse class, age 12 and under, second, Jim McGraw, third, Cindy Hull; pleasure horse class, age 13-18, first, Linda Schaefer, second, Bob Franklin, and third, Ellen Cowgill.

Owls, Hawks Protected

Hoot, hoot, hooray, hawks and owls are going to be protected.

The recent Michigan Legislature passed an act, signed into law by the Governor, that extends protection to the birds. The law ends a long fight by conservationists, Audubon Society members, the MUCC and other state groups to spare hawks and owls from indiscriminate killing.

The law takes effect at noon on August 12. After that date, it will be illegal to take hawks or owls except to remove occasional renegade birds who have acquired a taste for chicken meat, or who are caught doing actual damage in some other way.

Hawks and owls feed largely on small rodents—rats, mice and probably some small game animals.

Except for a few members of the group, the birds are considered largely beneficial to man—at least to the extent that they are not detrimental to his interests. The numbers of game animals they kill and the instances of barnyard thievery are considered negligible in view of their over-all usefulness.

Conservationist have long felt that the birds "deserve a place in nature." They consider hawks and owls as decorative and to a degree important in maintaining a natural balance between various animal and bird species. They welcomed passage of the protective law.

The Solution Lies In Literate Deer

If deer could read, it would sure help lessen a problem bothering a lot of people Michigan.

Signs such as "Whitetails, Keep Out," or "No Deer Browsing Allowed," would be posted around cherry orchards, strawberry patches and other farm areas.

As complete illiterates, however, deer have long caused buckets of trouble in many areas. They eat young cherry trees and seem to thrive on strawberries. They will gobble down farm crops, apples and other useful products if given a chance.

The state conservation department is currently carrying on experiments to try and cut the problem down to size through use of chemical deer repellents.

Working with the Dow Chemical company of Midland, game workers are testing various chemical sprays that, for deer, will take the fun out of eating farm and fruit crops.

To date, results have been only spotty. A few chemicals seem to work part of the time, while others have been discarded.

But a variety of tests is being made and work is slated to continue indefinitely. Game workers do not expect to find any magic cure-all for the problem; they do think it can be lessened considerably, although doubt it can be licked entirely.

They that use this world, as not abusing it; for the fashion of this world passeth away.

—New Testament.

They will conclude a very active year by holding an overnight camp-out in the newly acquired tents on June 30. Leaders of Troop 1 are Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell.

A Get-Acquainted tea was the first event of newly formed fity-up Troop 3 on June 17. Mother's and Scouts were guests of leaders Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. E. P. Light at Mrs. Light's Sheldon road home.

Troop 5 members entertained guests at a party at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge on Friday evening, June 18. Games, dancing and refreshments were events of the evening. Mrs. H. D. Jensen and Mrs. William Congdon are the leaders.

On Sunday, June 20, 11 members of Troop 5 assisted at the opening of Camp Cedar Lake. Mrs. Donald Potter, area camp chairman, Mrs. H. D. Jensen and Mrs. K. S. Hulsig accompanied the Scouts.

A cook-out followed by a Court of Awards was the final event of the school year for Scouts in Troop 14. The affair was held at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge with parents as guests. Mrs. Carl Wall is the leader.

Michigan Bell Asks Rehearing On Rate Increase

The Michigan Bell Telephone company June 10 filed a petition with the State Public Service commission in Lansing for a rehearing of its application for a rate increase that would average three cents per telephone per day. The commission on May 11 denied Michigan Bell's rate application in full.

The company cited two general reasons for a rehearing:

1. Changes that have occurred in Michigan Bell's financial results since the year ending September 30, 1953, which the commission used as a test period in reaching its decision.

2. "Numerous errors" committed by the commission in support of the order denying the company an increase.

Clifton W. Phalen, president of the company, said he was hopeful that a rehearing would "bring about an up-to-date appraisal of our financial situation. All we want is a recognition that increased costs of doing business must be reflected in our rates in order that we may continue to provide the one thing that everyone wants—good telephone service."

Michigan Bell's petition for the rehearing followed its wage settlement with the Communications Workers of America-CIO on June 9. The new agreement calls for general wage increases ranging from $1 to $2.50 a week, upward re-classification of jobs and towns, and continuation of progression wage increases for employees as they gain experience.

Orchard Haven Home Plans Open House Event

The Orchard Haven Rest Home will join with other nursing homes throughout the United States in the observance of National Nursing Home Day, Wednesday, June 30. The home at 7505 Canton Center road will hold an open house for interested visitors from 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Proclamation of Nursing Home Day was made by Governor G. Mennen Williams and Russell M. Daane, Plymouth mayor. The day was set aside to bring to public attention the beneficial services performed by Michigan's nursing homes.

The proclamation states that "since 1948, when the Michigan Association of Approved Nursing Homes was organized, these privately-owned, state licensed homes, until then operated independently, have made marked progress in improving the standards of their services and in cooperating effectively with state and local agencies in the development of welfare programs."

Mr. and Mrs. Russel D. Spalding of the Orchard Haven home have extended invitations to all who wish to attend the open house.

Public Letter Box

We the residents of Jener Street have tried through the city officials and the health department to rid us of what we consider a health menace and noise nuisance caused by chickens.

One of the residents has a child whose bedroom window has to be closed during this extremely hot weather because of the odor coming from the chickens and she is awakened every morning at five o'clock by the noise from them.

Due to the fact that the chickens were here before we built our homes on Jener, we are told by the city officials that the chickens have priority. Plymouth should be proud that it has an ordinance giving live stock priority over human beings.

Please, can't something be done!!!

Typewriters suffer from the heat along with everyone and everything else and since it is too hot to write, this columnist is taking his own advice, and heading north with his son for another fishing trip.

However, through the thoughtfulness of Frank Henderson we are presenting for your consumption an editorial which appeared in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Mr. Henderson clipped the editorial from that paper while attending the international Rotary convention on the coast last week and brought it back to us.

20 MILLION RATION BOOKS

The Eisenhower administration is reported all set to go on with the printing of 20 million war ration books, but has held back the order to go ahead because of sensitivity to public reaction. Officials are said to feel that the public might interpret the action as indicating an imminent war emergency, as well it might.

But the format of the books and the design for the coupons are settled, and the administration has been forehanded in other respects. It has just completed the distribution to all federal workers of postcard forms which are to be mailed in the event of a sudden enemy attack with atomic or hydrogen weapons. These cards inform a registration bureau whether the particular worker is alive and available.

The administration has perfected emergency legislation to impose a 90 day economic freeze on wages, prices, and rents, to take effect when the President asks authority to send troops abroad. Permanent legislation is in the works and is reported to be two-thirds complete. It would regulate all phases of the civilian economy. More than 100 consultants are at work drafting regulations covering everything from scrap iron distribution to price and rationing controls over countless items. Wage and labor regulations are being drawn up by panels of union officials, professors, and representatives of management.

Of course, the official version is that it is prudent to have the apparatus of war regimentation ready, just in case, even though there might be no occasion for putting it to use. But experience demonstrates that "stand-by" controls are infrequently left at rest; when they are handy, an excuse can be found for using them. And, inasmuch as these are war controls, the excuse would be a war.

If the program is to be effective when the President asks authority to send troops abroad, we are placed on notice that an intervention in Indo-China will be something more than a repetition of Korea. With Korea we got higher taxes, but missed most controls. This time we will get the whole works.

Americans who meditate the facts can reconcile themselves to one thing which deserves their earnest attention. That is that if any new war means economic regimentation, that regimentation will probably remain with them the rest of their lives. And if their economic existence is to be subject to a government straitjacket, their political liberty, even if theoretically not curtailed, will be meaningless, for one kind of liberty cannot exist without its complement.

The effect will be to saddle permanently upon the United States an order which differs from the New Deal only in that it will embrace to an even greater extent the smothering restrictions of totalitarian socialism. To fight communism, we shall adopt a system hardly distinguishable from it. Those who are bent on rescuing the world had better take a hard look at what is in store for them. The prospect is not comforting.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"What one thing gripes you most about other drivers?"

DR. ELMORE L. CARNEY, 865 Penniman: "I don't like it when the car sitting behind me starts blowing its horn just as the light turns from red to green before I have a chance to get started. It isn't dangerous but it sure is annoying."

MRS. CAROL BAILEY, 9721 Horton: "The person I don't like is the one who turns on the directional signal or uses the hand signal to turn one direction and just as the driver behind starts to pass on the opposite side, the car makes a turn in the other direction."

Dr. Carney Mrs. Bailey Ash Miss Fischer

WALTER ASH, 1116 Dewey: "I think my biggest gripe is against the impatient driver. If there is a little traffic jam he lays on the horn. They don't seem to give any consideration to the next person."

MISS DORIS FISCHER, 14319 Northville road: "More than any other offense I hate the driver ahead who pulls to one side of the road to make a turn and suddenly decides to go the other direction without signaling. I have traveled to Florida seven times and that was the most common offense I noticed."

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES SHOPPING CENTERS

New Boston, New Hampshire. A revolution is going on in merchandising. This will affect shopkeepers in many ways. The change will be due to: (1) The introduction of "self-service"; (2) the congestion of automobile parking; and (3) the trend toward big stores—Super Markets, Super Drug Stores, Super Variety Stores and Shopping Centers.

IMPORTANCE OF PARKING SPACE

If I had a store, I certainly would immediately buy some adjoining property to enable my customers to park their cars safely and easily, or else I would move to a location near a municipal parking lot. As many merchants will feel likewise before long, every community will witness a large turnover of business property during the next few years. Some of this will sell at higher prices, while other business property will sell at lower prices, according to parking facilities.

CITIES WHICH NOW DO NOT BUY OR CONDEMN PROPERTY NEEDED FOR PARKING ARE MAKING A GREAT MISTAKE. THE LONGER THEY WAIT, THE MORE THE NEEDED PROPERTY WILL COST. MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS WHICH ARE DELAYING THIS WORK BECAUSE SOME INFLUENTIAL FAMILY OR OBSTINATE CHURCH OBJECTS ARE HANDICAPPING MOST OF THE MERCHANTS AND ARE DRIVING TRADE AWAY. OWNERS OF ALL BUSINESS REAL ESTATE WILL SUFFER. YET THESE MERCHANTS ARE THE LIFE BLOOD OF EVERY CITY.

WHAT ABOUT SHOPPING CENTERS?

The new shopping centers with big central parking lots, which are being written up with great glee, may be only a stopgap. I hear that one of the largest centers near Boston is already in financial difficulty. They are subject to accidents while customers get in or out of them from the main thoroughfare, so that some women are already becoming afraid of using them. MUNICIPAL PARKING LOTS IN THE DOWNTOWN CENTERS OF OUR COMMUNITIES ARE NOT SUBJECT TO THIS DANGER, AS SPEED IN THESE DOWNTOWN AREAS DOES NOT EXCEED 25 MILES PER HOUR, WHILE CARS PASS THE EXITS OF THE SHOPPING CENTERS AT 70 MILES PER HOUR.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

In place of new shopping centers as now laid out, we will find that four or more large stores—such as an A & P Grocery, a Penny Clothing Store, a Super Drug Store, and a Woolworth, McCrory, or McLellan Variety Store will unite to buy some acreage on both sides of a main highway, located midway between two cities which could be about five to eight miles apart. This land will extend about 2,000 feet along said main highway, giving ample parking for from 250 to 500 cars.

This angle parking, however, will not be on highway land. The buildings will be 50 feet back of the street line, allowing parking and safe backing out on private property. The buildings will be long and narrow. Instead of being 200 feet square, as at present, they will have the same area, but will be only 40 feet deep and 1,000 feet along the street, thus allowing for angle parking of over 500 cars. There will also be extra land for Saturday parking.

PRIVATE TUNNEL OR OVERPASS

I forecast that the two sides of the main highway will be connected by a two-way tunnel or overpass, enabling cars and foot passengers to cross this main highway easily and quickly without accident. Thus, a customer leaving home to travel west, on this main highway, to these four super stores would leave the highway at the right and park anglewise directly in front of any super store under a protective canopy.

The customer would then do her shopping and go out by the checking cash register, walking under the canopy directly to her car. She would then back her car out with no fear of being hit by any car traveling on the main highway, would drive to the tunnel and cross under said main highway. If she wished to stop at one of the super stores on the other side of the street she could do so, or she could reverse the above process.

Now every field is clothed with grass, and every tree with leaves; now the woods put forth their blossoms, and the year assumes its gay attire. —Virgil.

SHADOW OF A PARTIAL ECLIPSE

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman
Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

Michigan is a key state this year in the nation's political picture.

Campaigns for the fall election will be watched with considerable interest by the country's political dopesters in hopes they can predict national trends from what happens in the Wolverine state.

Much is at stake. If Michigan stays in the Republican camp or goes Democratic it will have great national significance. Huge sums of money will be spent by both parties. More delicate maneuvering will be planned; harder fighting can be expected.

Big danger for both sides is a possible split in party ranks.

Republicans are sure that controversy between GOP candidates in previous primaries produced wounds too deep to heal by general election time. They attribute William's victories in past campaigns to such intra-party fights.

They are taking great pains this year that candidates campaign against the Democrats in the primary—not each other.

While GOP leaders hold their breaths hoping that their candidates will stick to what they call "an understanding" not to fight among themselves, Democrat leaders are holding their heads in fear that James Hoffa will lead a rebellion against the Williams leadership.

Hoffa, Detroit AFL labor leader who is described as being unhappy with what he considers CIO domination of the Democratic party, has taken some positive steps that worry the Williams administration more than a little.

The challenge to leadership of the Williams faction leaves the governor's group wondering what manner of "enemy" they have within their ranks—and how far he will go to have his way. Williams is reported to feel that the appearance of George S. Fitzgerald, former national committeeman and affiliate of Hoffa, is an attempt by the teamster leader to "establish a crown prince of his own" in what might be a Democratic year. Fitzgerald filed petitions as Democratic candidate for Lt. Governor.

Republicans will make what happy use they can out of this discord. They can be expected to remind voters of the "AFL-CIO" fight for control of the Democratic party.

John Feikens, GOP State Central Committee chairman, has already announced that he recalls Fitzgerald's remark after a Democratic county convention—he had "just seen socialism, using Communism's methods, take over Michigan Democratic party". This refers to an old intra-party fight. It also shows that hard feeling has existed for a long time.

"Fourth termite" is an expression that's apt to pop up in the campaign. It will be used, in the words of Feikens, "to stress the fact that Williams is seeking the same position too often for the interests of good government."

Democrats have a few weapons of their own. They hope to hit hard with several points.

The present economic condition will be described as an "overall loss of prosperity"—and it will be blamed on Republican policies.

They will refer to their highway building program as "Tomorrow's Road Today" and are expected to make hay over recent scandals involving Highway Department funds.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler will become a target of marked importance. Democratic spokesmen have often charged that Ziegler runs the Highway Department "like a kingdom unto itself." They point to Route 43, "a road supposed to extend from Lansing to Grand Rapids, which dies in a cornfield." "This road is being built so slowly," they claim, "that the Lansing end will be worn out before the Grand Rapids end is paved."

"Is this," they intend to ask, "an example of Republican intelligent road programming?"

Both parties will claim credit for popular legislation; blame the rest upon the opposition. There is always some justification for this since, in the final analysis, both Legislature and Governor must agree if bills become law with the chief executive's signature.

When the significance of the August 3 primary is studied by party officials, and the state conventions, held soon after, are adjourned, the chips will be down for the big battle of the general election in November.

Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

In addition to the foregoing, said bonds pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Plymouth for their payment.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $880.00 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof. The purchaser shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered at such place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Cornish Pasties

One of the favorite recipes of Mrs. Samuel L. Dibble of 1116 Harding is this one dish meal, Cornish pasties. Mrs. Dibble generally serves the pasties with salad and a light dessert.

Cornish Pasties
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water

Prepare the above ingredients as for pie crust. Divide the mixture into three or four even balls. Roll out as you would for a pie. 1 pound round or sirloin steak 5 or 6 medium potatoes 1 onion 3 small turnips 4 pieces butter the size of walnut

Cut the steak into cubes, and either slice or cube the potatoes and turnips. Also cut the onion into pieces. On one half of the rolled out pie crust place alternate layers of meat, potatoes, turnips and onions. Salt and pepper each layer and top with a piece of butter.

Pull the other half of the crust up and over the filling and pinch together with the bottom crust as in a dumpling. Place the pasties on a greased cookie sheet and bake for one hour at 400 degrees or until nicely browned.

Mrs. Samuel Dibble begins to cut the steak in cubes in preparing the pasties.

Patricia Clifford Wins Team Place In Regional Finals

Patricia Joy Clifford, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Patrick J. Clifford, is a member of the team of the High School Bible quiz that won over Lansing recently at the Great Lake regional finals, held in the Masonic Temple at the Voice of Christian Youth Rally. Patricia has quizzed with the Plymouth high school team each month since last October.

The top ten quizzers of the 43 clubs of Metropolitan Detroit reviewed seven books from the New Testament in preparation for the regional quiz-down Saturday afternoon, winning over Cincinnati, Ohio; Howell, and Hillsdale County, Michigan.

Patricia started as a member of the team of five representing Detroit and held her place through the finals against the Lansing team. She was the only girl on the team, the four fellows being from Cass Technical school, Lincoln-Ferdale high and Cooley high. The final score was 90 to 120.

The team was honored with a dinner following the quiz Saturday night and won an all-expense paid week at the Winona Lake Youth for Christ Conference, July 11 to 18, where they will compete in the National Bible Quiz.

Judy Richwine To Go to Camp At Interlochen

Judy Richwine, Plymouth high school sophomore, was recently awarded $75 from the vocal music fund to finance her trip to Interlochen Music Camp this summer. The presentation was made by Fred C. Nelson, director of vocal music in Plymouth junior and senior high schools.

Judy, who has been a member of the choir for two years, has attended the Interlochen camp for the past two years. She plans to attend the famous camp near Traverse City during two weeks in August.

Interlochen, under the direction of Dr. Joseph Maddy, offers young fine arts enthusiasts a chance to develop their talents in band, dramatics, ballet and orchestra. It is considered by critics to be one of the finest of its kind in the United States. The camp is not limited to Michigan students, and campers attend from all over the United States and from foreign countries as well.

Make Good Breakfasts To Tempt June Appetites

With the aroma of meat cooking in the kitchen you have the magic formula for breakfast success. This is an important need for lazy June appetites.

Bacon is one of the most popular choices for breakfast. To prepare bacon at its finest, place the strips in a cold fryingpan. Then cook slowly until it is golden brown. Turn the bacon so that both sides are evenly cooked, and drain on absorbent paper.

Sausage, ham, Canadian-style bacon are other good choices. The latter comes from the pork loin and is smoked much the same as ham. It's also prepared by pan-broiling.

Broiled veal or lamb kidneys are two more breakfast treats. Wash the kidneys and remove the outer membrane, then split through the center and remove fat and tubes. Brush with melted butter or margarine and broil about 5 minutes on each side, 2 inches from the heat. Two other breakfast ideas are ham muffins served with fried or scrambled eggs—or strips of salami placed on an omelet before folding.

Meat and fruit are summer treats. Brown pineapple rings in ham drippings and serve as a border around a ham slice. Broil peach halves, brushed with melted butter or margarine, and surround the ham.

As you wash your dishes, stack them in a dish drainer, then rinse them with hot water. They dry quickly this way and need little or no wiping. Silverware, however, should be dried right after it's washed, to avoid rusting.

Hard cooked eggs for salads and cold plates should be cooled promptly to prevent overcooking and to help ward off the dark ring that sometimes appears around the yolk. Both the cooling and the shelling can be done at the same time under the cold water faucet.

Price of Milk Remains Low; Value Is High

Michigan homemakers can include milk among their penny-wise purchases.

For according to tables released early this year by the U. S. Department of Agriculture research service, milk and cheddar cheese are way out in front of all other foods as plentiful and economical sources of calcium.

Everybody needs calcium every day. Besides building strong bones and teeth, calcium is needed for efficient heart and muscle action, as well as for proper functioning of the nerves.

Young, growing children need more calcium than adults but meals much too low in calcium are often selected by all members of the family. And studies show that homemakers are the lowest consumers of all.

A calcium comparison on foods shows that one quart of milk gives as much calcium as 50 oranges, as two large heads of cabbage or as 27 pounds of meat.

Milk is an excellent and economical source of animal protein, too. For example, three cups of milk contains as much protein as one-fourth pound of all-lean meat.

And besides providing high amounts of protein and calcium, whole milk supplies vitamin A and several B vitamins. Skim milk supplies these same important nutrients—with the exception of vitamin A.

Here are two recipes which homemakers can use to provide both milk and vegetable nutrients:

Garden Chowder
1/2 cup diced onion
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 pint (two cups) canned tomatoes
1 pint canned corn
1 pint canned green beans
1 pint milk
Salt to taste

Cook the onion in the fat until tender but not brown. Add the corn and green beans and simmer until slightly thickened. Add the tomatoes, stir well and heat through. Add the milk just before serving.

Five-Minute Cabbage
2 cups milk
1 1/2 quarts (6 cups) shredded cabbage
1 cup cream or rich milk
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons melted butter
Salt and pepper

Heat the milk and cook the cabbage in it for 2 minutes. Add the cup of cream or rich milk, the blended flour and fat and the seasonings, cook rapidly for 3 or 4 minutes, stirring constantly. The cabbage retains its crispness and is delicate in flavor and color.

Even though instructions with your steam iron recommend the use of distilled water, in an emergency, you can use tap water. It takes prolonged use of tap water to build up a mineral deposit within the iron.

Molded Salmon Salad for Summer

This handsome Molded Salmon Salad is an appetizing entree for a hot summer day. For a real salmon mousse, a one-pound can of salmon is combined with heavy cream in the gelatin mixture. Cream also goes into the elegant Cucumber Cream Dressing. For purposes of economy or calorie cutting, however, evaporated milk does very well in the salmon mold.

For a luncheon foursome, put the mixture into individual molds. For buffet supper, double the recipe and serve on a fancy platter, as shown in the photo.

Canned salmon is ready to use the instant you open the can. Every bit is edible—there is no waste. And it's been brought from the sea direct to you, sealed before cooking and cooked in a way that can't be matched at home.

Molded Salmon Salad
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 1-pound can salmon
1 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped or
1/2 cup icy cold evaporated milk, whipped

Soften gelatine in cold water and vinegar. Place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt and mustard, stir until blended. Cool. Drain and flake salmon; stir into gelatin mixture with celery. Fold in whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk. Turn into individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise or *Cucumber Cream Dressing. If desired, serve with tomato slices and salad greens. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

*Cucumber Cream Dressing
1/2 cup well drained finely chopped cucumbers
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar

Do not peel cucumber, wash and chop very fine; drain well. Combine all ingredients. YIELD: 6 servings.
NOTE: For easy Buffet service, Molded Salmon Salad recipe may be doubled and turned into an 8-inch cake pan, 2-inches deep. Unmold and cut into 8 wedge shaped pieces.

Serve Party Guests Pretty Food

Party, tea and reception invitations seem to "shower" down on most of us during the month of June. Whether it be the moon, the stars, or good old tradition that sparks the social whirl of most communities, a successful tea party with pretty food the center of attraction is really no trick at all.

1. Using a cookie cutter, cut shapes from sliced turkey or chicken and put on bread of the same shape. (Stars or circles are best.) Garnish with a cottage cheese or chicken pate rosette made with a pastry tube or with olive slices.

2. Cut circles of bread, spread with seasoned cottage cheese-cucumber mixture. Add a slightly smaller slice of tomato. Garnish with watercress, mint or a small slice of raw carrot, radish or cucumber.

Cottage Cheese-Cucumber Mixture

1/2 cup finely chopped cucumber
1/2 cup cottage cheese
Salt to taste
Blend all ingredients.

Use as a spread for party sandwiches.

Chicken Ribbon Sandwiches

1 1/4 cups cold finely diced cooked chicken
1/3 cup finely diced celery
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
Mix together all ingredients.

Using fresh white or protein bread, butter each slice with softened butter or margarine, stack slices, filling with chicken spread. Three, 4 or 5 slices of bread may be used. Firmly press together each stack of slices. Then, with sharp knife, using sawing motion, slice crusts from all sides of each stack. Wrap each stack in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Roll out a small amount at a time 1/8-inch thick. Cut with tiny 3/4 to 1 inch cutter. Place on cookie sheets. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 400° F. (hot oven) about 5 minutes. Makes about 8 dozen crisps.

CHEESE CRISPS

1 1/4 cups sifted enriched flour
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup tightly packed grated sharp cheese (6 oz.)

1 tablespoon white distilled vinegar
Sift together flour, baking soda, salt and cayenne pepper. Cream shortening, add grated cheese, and cream together until well blended. Add vinegar and mix well. Add dry ingredients and blend thoroughly. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Roll out a small amount at a time 1/8-inch thick. Place on cookie sheets. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 400° F. (hot oven) about 5 minutes. Makes about 8 dozen crisps.

Have More Time on Your Honeymoon

They were married and lived happily ever afterwards—that's a broad statement which isn't always true, especially if the bride starts looking like a cleaning woman with her head buried in a lot of the unromantic household duties.

Here's a suggestion to assure more time, whether you're a bride of today headed for a honeymoon or one of yesterday just off on a vacation. Take along nylon blouses, dresses, lingerie and nylon shirts and other garments for him. They're light as a feather and easier to care for. The trick is to include a light weight plastic jar of bluing beads and a small cellulose sponge. When garments are soiled, just work the bluing beads into a good suds in hot water and gently rub any soiled spots with the sponge. Then wash them as usual, rinsing twice. Hang them up, dripping wet, on rust-proof hangers. Shake out the folds and presto—in no time they're ready to wear without ironing.

He'll be impressed with the laundry bluing trick which keeps his white shirts white. . . not to mention how proud he'll be if you use the extra time to keep yourself looking like a real bride.

When cleaning walls, always move cleaning cloths or broom in an upward motion. The reason for this is that dust, settled on walls, hangs downward. By brushing upward, you'll prevent smearing and streaking.

A real do-it-yourself project for the Jack Gage family of 42501 Clemons road is this terrace at the rear of their home. Mr. Gage and their son, Jim, hauled the cement and put up the brick wall, all from their own design. They even built forms and poured the cement for the ledges. Green cement paint is used on the floor, and the terrace features a built-in fireplace.

Three-Way Wooden Windows Score In Comfort, Good Looks

A window that can be installed in any one of three separate positions — however the homeowner desires—is one of the newest contributions to attractiveness of a house and to the comfort of the people who live in it.

The three positions of this versatile ponderosa pine window unit are these:

Awning—Installed as an awning window, the window opens up and out from the bottom.

Casement—When the exact same sash is stood on end, it becomes a casement. It opens out, from either right or left.

Hopper—As a hopper window, it's just the awning position reversed. Hopper style, it opens down and in from the bottom.

For even more versatility, the ponderosa pine units are available as fixed sash. That is, they don't open at all.

An important feature of the awning-hopper-casement combination window is that as many sash as desired can be grouped together to fill a large area, even an entire wall.

A popular use is to arrange several units side by side in awning position high in a bedroom wall. This gives ample wall space beneath the windows for furniture placement. The fact that the strip of windows is near the top of the wall insures privacy.

Used in awning style, the windows actually serve as awnings. It's not just a name. The projecting sash keeps rain from entering, even when a window is open wide for maximum ventilation.

The basic ponderosa pine awning window is supplied as a complete, fully weatherstripped unit. Weatherstripping that is installed by precise factory methods keeps air from infiltrating around the edges of window sash in cold weather. Storm sash and screens fit on the inside of windows that swing out, and on the outside of windows that swing in.

Window-washing is easy. Regardless of the manner in which a window is installed, the outside of the glass can be reached from the inside of the house.

The awning-hopper-casement window has all the advantages that apply to wood windows in general. Moisture will not condense on window sash and frames. Redecorating is simplified by the ease with which wood takes paint or natural finish treatments. Modern wood windows are treated chemically to reduce warping and swelling to a negligible minimum.

Awning-style window opens outward, keeps rain from entering.

The same sash in a vertical position becomes a casement window.

Hopper-style is another position. Windows open in from top.

It is error alone which needs the support of government. Truth can stand by itself.

—Thomas Jefferson.

Window Shopping With Sue

With outdoor living getting more and more attention from home-owners these days the outdoor grill has really come into its own. Family groups and a gang of friends are always willing to show up to have a good old-fashioned barbecue.

And chances are that you're considering having an outdoor fireplace grill in your backyard—they're not only fun but they add to the value of your property. And to make the project easier for you there are fireplace units you can buy, like the Fryo-Grill sold over at Roberts Supply. It's an inexpensive and complete unit, and all you have to do is build a simple construction around it. Or if you prefer the more lavish type of fireplace you can build it too around the ready-to-use grill.

The Fryo-Grill is built of heavy steel, and the removable steak grill can be taken into the house so that you will always have it clean for immediate use. You get the draft control through the lower door. The back is made so that you can use it as a charcoal grill without constructing a chimney—and if you want a chimney, die cut openings are provided.

In selecting the location for your fireplace great care must be taken. The direction of the wind during the time you will usually be using your fireplace is important since you don't want sparks and smoke blowing out on your picnic table. The heat can effect the trees as well, so build at least 15 feet from them, if possible.

And because Northern winters can seriously effect outdoor fireplaces you should provide an adequate foundation extending below the frost line. Your dealer can tell you how far below the ground the frost is likely to go.

And not only is your grill perfect for outdoor cooking, but you can also use it as an incinerator. You'll agree it's not only fun but so very useful.

To make a closet or storage wall, cover lumber framing with tough, durable Masonite Presd-wood.

Roof Keys Color Plan

Green door and shutters accent brown siding and asphalt roof.

Color consultants agree that there are four primary color areas to consider in styling the exteriors of homes. These are the roof, the sidewalls, the trim, and the accent color.

The accent color, which may appear on a front door, on shutters, window boxes, or a picture window, serves the same purpose on a house as a gaily colored scarf in a woman's ensemble. It provides a bright, focal point of interest. In the same way, a brightly colored ponderosa pine panel door and matching picture window add a warm, welcoming note. Color consultants generally prefer painted windows for the warmth color provides.

In this house, brown-blend asphalt shingles used on the roof serve as the color key. Sidewalls are brown. Trim and windows are painted off-white. The door and shutters are painted in a lime-green accent.

Here's Text of Three Addresses Given at Local Rotary

Members of the Rotary club had a special treat last Friday when three local executives appeared before the club and discussed subjects assigned by the State and National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Under the direction of Chairman Harry Mohrman, Maxwell Wachowiak, assistant to the president of Wali Wire discussed the Randall Commission report. N. M. Purple, general manager of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond discussed highways and George Bowles, State Labor Mediator, discussed the Taft-Hartley act and the proposed guaranteed annual wage proposal.

Because of the excellent presentations made by the three speakers, The Plymouth Mail herewith presents the text of their talks in full.

First speaker on the program was Mr. Wachowiak who said: Giving you an outline summary of the Randall Report by itself is like presenting you with one small piece of a jig saw puzzle and expecting you to gain a complete understanding of the puzzle from that one piece.

The Randall Report is akin to a thousand other reports that are made at various times by independent agencies appointed by executive officers of our government. The chief executive comes under pressure from two political and business factions: he appoints a committee to help solve his dilemma; he expects the committee's report will "take him off the hook" and give him some authoritative basis for doing what he hopes to do anyway. Such reports become 7-day conversation pieces; if they say what the executive hopes they will say, they are incorporated to some degree in his messages to Congress and the people; they become topics for luncheons and dinners such as this and they become quietly forgotten as we find more personal matters more personally affecting us—or at least so we think.

In the case of the Randall Committee, President Eisenhower hoped to provide himself with ammunition for his foreign economic policy program and his messages to Congress concerning that program. Toward that end he appointed a "Commission on Foreign Economic Policy" which became known as the "Randall Committee" because the membership of 17, 10 members of Congress and 7 business men, was headed by Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the Inland Steel Company.

The Randall Report called for: 1-Expansion of foreign trade, the furtherance of reciprocal trade relations between ourselves and the rest of the world. 2-A greater interchange of currency between nations, so that international trade might be facilitated between ourselves and the rest of the world.

3-Gradual elimination of laws which serve to create artificial trade barriers between ourselves and other countries. 4-Gradual lowering of tariffs to enlarge world trade. 5-Curtailing our foreign monetary aid by grant.

6-Encouraging of foreign private investments.

Mr. Randall is a man of vision and foresight. But he had a committee and, as you know, the best and most effective committee is a committee of three of which one member is out of town all the time and a second member is permanently ill. Mr. Randall's report sought to reflect the composite views of 17 people, 10 of whom were Congressmen with votes back home. Consequently, the Randall Report satisfied neither those who want America to exert dynamic world leadership nor those who urge we withdraw from the world by restricting our activities to within America's geographical North American borders. But, do not get the idea that a composite report is necessarily a good report, especially at a time when clear, forceful thinking is the needed order of the day.

Unfortunately, time does not permit me to delve into the pros and cons of the Randall Report. But I would like to leave these few following thoughts with you for your consideration.

FIRST: The Randall Report once again forcibly brought to attention our inconsistent basic trading philosophy. Higher tariffs and freer world trade do not easily share the same bed. SECONDLY: The Randall Report failed to sound a clarion call for American leadership in world affairs. The world awaits from us a clearly, understandable voicing of the philosophy that made us the Nation we are today; those ideas and ideals expressed in that remarkable document "The American Declaration of Independence."

THIRDLY: The Randall Report failed to enlighten the American public to our international responsibilities and opportunities. People generally realize the world's economic health is bound up with America's economic well-being. But they do not realize that America's prosperity is more and more tied into world trade which is a two-way affair. Our own Detroit Chamber of Commerce stated "World trade is a two-way street. We cannot continue to sell if we refuse to buy; nor is it wise to continue to give away the products of this nation while refusing to accept payments in kind from abroad."

May I suggest that instead of our permitting interested pressure groups, activated by short-term personal interests, to sway us into laws and actions that do not reflect a mature, adult, long-term understanding of what the world economic situation requires, that we pattern our economic foreign policy along the lines of what was proposed by Sumner Slichter, that distinguished economist; "On the building of a community of Nations, united in our opposition to Communism and willing to support a common defence against it." That group of United Nations must be a self-respecting, prosperous, friendly, purposeful group of allies, not an impoverished, poverty-stricken, unfriendly, nondescript, ragged group of allies.

We cannot long remain isolatedly prosperous in a world of non-prosperous people. We cannot long retain the friendship of nations if we are many times as prosperous as those allies. To develop other nations to their full potentialities requires the removal of barriers that prevent freedom of economic intercourse. That was what Mr. Randall knew and wanted to say. That was what the toned-down Randall Report might well have said.

Second speaker was Mr. Purple and here are his remarks: In order to understand our highway problem, we must first define and comprehend our transportation industry. People generally think of the American transportation industry in terms of our interstate carriers, the railroads, the bus lines, the air lines, in both passenger and freight fields, the truck lines, the pipelines, the water carriers and the freight forwarders.

These carriers constitute the backbone of our interstate transportation, but they do not comprise the whole industry. Taxis, subways, street cars, and city buses are part of the industry—so are thousands of local cartage trucks that replaced the horse-drawn drays of yesterday. Forty-five million private automobiles and eight million private trucks must be included, and so must the manufacturers of automobiles, trucks, buses, barges, ships, locomotives, freight cars and aircraft. Perhaps to a lesser extent, but still within the compass of the transportation industry, are the people who build and maintain our highways, our waterways, and our airways, and those who sell and service transportation equipment. It is estimated that one out of every eight persons is gainfully employed within this industry.

While many of these carriers do not use highways as the basic means of moving their vehicles, without the highways leading to their originating point and away from the terminating point, these carriers would not have reached the importance they now command in our society. It is estimated that in the United States our publicly used streets and roads cover three million, two hundred thousand miles and experts say that in order to put these roads and streets into proper shape will require an expenditure of Seven Billion dollars annually for the next fifteen years. In 1952 a total of Five Billion was expended.

In considering the highway problem, the national, state and municipal levels are involved and there is considerable disagreement among our citizens as to how the effort of these three levels should be correlated. This is something to which you as citizens must give your thoughts so that through your legislators the best program can be worked out.

At the national level there is the so-called Federal Aid Highway Program. Supervisor of this program is the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Commerce. In 1952 Five Hundred and Seventy-five Million dollars a year for 1954 and 1955 were appropriated and in accordance with established distribution ratios were earmarked: 43% for the primary system, 29% for the secondary system, 24% for urban projects within the primary system, and 4% specifically for the national system of interstate highways.

In May of this year a new law was passed specifying Nine Hundred and Sixty-six Million dollars annually for 1956 and 1957. As a matter of interest it is estimated that this year's tax revenues from highway users at the national level will exceed Two Billion dollars. It should also be kept in mind that this particular tax was written into the books during the depression of the early thirties in order to increase government revenue, rather than for use for the improvement of roads. Actually the Federal Aid Program covers less than one quarter of the three million, two hundred thousand miles of highways mentioned above.

The Michigan State Highway System is composed of nine thousand miles of state trunklines, supervised by the State Highway Department; eighty-five thousand miles of county roads, supervised by the County Road Commission; and twelve thousand miles of city streets, supervised by municipal governments, including all bridges and railroad separations. The State gets its income for the highway fund from the gasoline tax, weight tax, Diesel fuel tax and other miscellaneous fees. In 1953 the total income of the State Highway Fund was One Hundred and Thirty-eight million, Nine Hundred Seventy-four thousand. After collection costs, which amounted to One Million, Eighty-five thousand dollars, the money was divided as follows: 44% to the State Highway Dept., for expenditure on state trunkline highways, both rural and urban.

37% to the counties for expenditure on county roads, and 19% to the cities and incorporated villages. Expenditures at the municipal level vary considerably from year to year and from one location to another and it is impossible to arrive at any definite figure, because both state and national aid may end up in the same fund. In any event, the country over, this would amount to a very sizeable figure.

Highway development took a setback during the last war due to the shortage of materials and manpower, but since 1945 has gained momentum gradually. Still about 60% of our roads are considered below tolerable standards. It is going to be difficult to make up such a backlog of road requirements and at the same time provide for the future. Highway usage has more than doubled since the end of World War II. Five Hundred Million dollars spent today will produce slightly more than half that amount did in 1936. These facts, together with the disagreement on how to handle the problem of integrating the three Govt. levels, are things every citizen should consider very carefully. Poor and unsafe roads make for very expensive transportation.

The third speaker, Mr. Bowles had this to say: In labor relations since World War II there has been nothing quite so controversial as the proposal for a Guaranteed Annual Wage, no not even the escalator clause, the improvement factor, pensions and assorted fringe items. The guaranteed wage is the next major objective of Unions in collective bargaining. There is little doubt that the issue will be decided in the big league of labor relations, Michigan, and more specifically in the nation's key industrial relations laboratory and proving ground, the automotive industry in South-eastern Michigan.

The idea is not new. There are some 200 firms with some type of wage guarantee, covering less than 1% of the nation's production and maintenance workers—Hormel, Nunn-Bush Shoe and Proctor and Gamble are familiar. They are usually limited to employees with several years seniority and in some instances management may terminate the guarantee at its discretion or at least after notification. These plans were largely inspired by management to lower costs and increase efficiency through better labor relations and a more stable labor force. Production had been stabilized considerably before the guarantee was undertaken. They were primarily limited to non-durable consumers goods and distribution industries, which are less affected by business cycles than durable consumers goods or producers, good industry, which are subject to seasonal fluctuations and cyclical variations.

The United Steelworkers in 1944 requested a guarantee which became the subject of a study published in 1947 by the Advisory Board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. In 1951 the Steelworkers again made such a request and it was denied by the Wage Stabilization Board.

In 1953 the CIO's automobile workers and electrical workers adopted the goal of the guaranteed wage, and Walter Reuther of the Automobile Workers has announced that this is a "must issue" in collective bargaining next year with the automobile companies.

The American wage worker and particularly the organized worker is preoccupied with the problem of job and income security. The depression of the 30's left a deep scar which has not been forgotten. The fear of joblessness and its consequences is a real threat, and the unions speak of full employment as "the most fundamental unsolved problem of our society." The guaranteed wage would shift a larger proportion of the cost of unemployment to industry; it would hit industry in what they call it's "pocketbook nerve."

At the 6th International CIO Education Conference at Chicago in April of this year the Automobile Workers guaranteed annual wage proposal was unveiled. Here are its principles: (1) The primary goal of a Guaranteed Annual Wage plan should be to stimulate management to provide steady full-time employment, week by week, the year round. (2) Guaranteed Annual Wage payments should be made to workers for whom management fails to provide work, in amounts sufficient to insure take-home pay adequate to maintain the living standards which the worker and his family enjoyed while fully employed.

(3) All workers should be guaranteed employment or guarantee payments from the time they acquire seniority. The guarantee should assure protection against a full year of layoff for all eligible workers and for shorter periods on a graduated basis for those who have not worked the minimum qualifying period.

(4) Guarantee payments should be integrated with state unemployment compensation benefits so that employers can reduce their liabilities by effectively working toward the improvement of state laws.

(5) The plan should be administered by a Joint Board of Administration having equal representation from the Union and from management, with an impartial chairman to break deadlocks. Decisions of the Joint Board with respect to eligibility and disqualification should be made independently of decisions made by state agencies with regard to unemployment compensation.

(6) Financing should combine pay-as-you-go, to provide employers with incentives to stabilize employment, with a reserve trust fund to meet abnormal costs. Provision should be made for reinsurance to reduce the size of required reserves and to spread the risks of abnormal unemployment over the widest possible area of the economy.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States in its booklet "The Guaranteed Wage" emphasizes the constant changes in our economy such as population shifts, differential industrial growth, fluctuations and depressions within general prosperity which make business planning difficult. It is said, "To the individual his job is important, but from the broad economic standpoint, it is production and growth that count." The Chamber underlines basic economic issues such as the effect on the employer's willingness to hire additional employees, its possible retarding new investment and business expansion and new enterprises, its possible effects on prices and costs, and finally its tendency toward co-determination by union and employer representatives on prices, production levels, rates, capital investment, and the like.

A release by the National Association of Manufacturers states, "The goal of steady work and pay call for the highest degree of management resourcefulness and organization. Management must work with a will to achieve steady work and pay by a record of real progress if it is to have the support of employees and the community. The outcome of the debate on the guaranteed annual wage will directly affect the functioning of our economy and therefore may well affect the life of every American."

The free world will watch next year's negotiations. The Communist World will watch them too.

Denying our fundamental brotherhood under God, the Communist does not want problems solved, by free discussion and honest negotiations. He wants failure so he can exploit differences and engender strife and hatred.

The way this issue is handled conceivably could have more to do with peace in our world than atomic stockpiles. Let us take an analogy from the sports world. There was a day when they said a four-minute mile was impossible. Even some medical authority said so and maybe some lawyer gave an opinion that it was unlawful.

But Roger Bannister has run the four-minute mile. Parry O'Brien has put the shot over 60 feet. Both of them have said that the toughest part of their accomplishments was to remove the mental barrier of the four-minute mile and the 60 foot shot.

Men of good will, imagination and determination do achieve the impossible. The issue will not be settled by epithets. It can be resolved in some manner, some way, through good faith negotiation by men of labor and management who are determined to work out an agreement.

The guaranteed annual wage has tremendous emotional appeal. Certainly employees will be for it; perhaps even merchants and businessmen, and the general public. But many employers think that it may not be the correct approach—that profit sharing or some other way is the road to stability.

Many employers believe that the far reaching implications of the guaranteed wage are not understood. Management has a responsibility then of giving employees and the community a far better understanding than they now have of the problems of the guarantee. Your local Chamber of Commerce hopes to play a helpful role in this community in meeting that responsibility.

Lieutenant Shirley Cukr, of Mt. Clemens and a recent graduate of the Salvation Army training school in Chicago, has arrived in Plymouth to take charge of the day nursery school of the Plymouth branch of the Salvation Army.

Upon the direction of Major Stanley Corbett, billboards have been cleared off the city-owned lot at the triangle on the north side of the city where Mill street runs into Starkweather avenue.

Jake Stremich, proprietor of the popular Hillside Barbecue on Plymouth road, states that he will be forced to close his restaurant during the month of July. The scarcity of ration points is the reason Mr. Stremich gives for his closing. This means that the other eating houses in Plymouth will be more crowded than ever during July.

Edward Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keller of Five Mile road, who had enlisted in the aviation forces of the United States Navy in 1940 and was sent direct to Pearl Harbor after he had completed his early training, is expected to be home in Plymouth during the next two weeks.

Mrs. Sidney Strong was elected president of the school board for the ensuing year at the regular meeting of the board held last Monday night. She succeeds Michael Huber who retires after serving as its president for the last two years.

Reverend T. Leonard Sanders, popular and hard-working pastor of Plymouth's First Methodist church, has been returned to this city by the Methodist conference recently held at Bay City for his third year of service.

Sergeant Raymond Bunn of the 7th Air Corps is visiting for a few days at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Irvin street. Sergeant Bunn has been in Pearl Harbor for four years and at the time of the sneak Jap attack was badly wounded. He was serving at the Pearl Harbor airport at the time and was a victim of the Jap shelling.

Harry Davis and Wendell Lent were attendants at the recent merchandise show held in Detroit under the direction of the Michigan Apparel organization. The event staged at the Statler hotel was largely attended, stated Mr. Davis yesterday.

Jim Latture, school teacher and cook par excellence, plans to be cooking at Camp Interlochen, the National Music Camp, operated by the University of Michigan, under the direction of Professor Maddy, a nationally known figure in music circles, for the summer.

Miss Olive May Merz received her bachelor's degree in organ, piano and theory, from the Detroit Institute of Musical Art. She will resume her study in September, working to receive her master's degree.

Mrs. Bessie Dunning and daughter, Margaret, Miss Helen Roe and Miss Rhea S. Peck left last Wednesday afternoon, June 26, for Montreal, Canada where they embarked on the ocean liner, Steamer Duchess of York, for a summer's tour of the European continent.

Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple is author of a 250 page text book, debating for high schools, which has just been published by Ginn and company of Boston and Chicago. Six of the eight chapters in the book and four of the five appendices have been written by Mrs. Huston-Whipple; the three remaining parts were written by Professor Ray K. Immel, for the past four years Dean of the School of Speech, University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Donald Hunter, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter of Harvey street, was injured Monday afternoon, when he fell from a car being towed by a truck on Farmer street. A scalp wound required 10 stitches to close, and he also suffered a bruised arm and leg.

On Monday evening of this week, Miss Esther Strasen attended a picnic at Belle Isle, given by the members of the Detroit Symphony Choir. Miss Strasen has been a member of this well-known choral society since its organization in 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Wrench leave today for Mackinac Island where Mr. Wrench will attend a convention of the Michigan Gas Association and Michigan Electric Association, held at the Grand Hotel. Mr. Wrench is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Harvey Clement met with a serious accident the other day while driving one of the teams on the road scraper, being thrown and striking on the back of his head. Dr. Zimmerman of Wayne was summoned and said he was in a terrible condition.

A large barn on the T. C. Sherwood farm, south of the village, was burned to the ground early Monday morning. The premises are occupied by R. H. Brunson and the latter lost a quantity of farm tools in the fire. The loss will foot up about $2,000, the barn being insured for $1,000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but there is some cause for believing it was the work of tramps who were seen in the vicinity the day before.

U of M Dentist Says Fluoridation Of Water Is Good for Your Teeth

"In my opinion there is no scientific dispute over fluoridation. The opposition is confined to a very articulate but small group of non-professionals."

So says Dr. Philip Jay, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan's School of Dentistry.

Yet, recognizing that widespread social change is slow and difficult to bring about, Dr. Jay sticks closely to his statistics and research.

In a recent question-and-answer session on fluoridation, Dr. Jay said blandly, but with scientific objectivity:

"All the facts involved in the fluoridation research program conducted here at the University and innumerable other centers can be substantiated by consulting the extensive scientific literature compiled during the past 40 years."

He added: "It (the literature) is available in any university library."

When tallied up, what do the past 40 years of research on fluoridation amount to? Dr. Jay directed his attention to those questions which seem to puzzle the public the most. For example:

1) Isn't fluoride poisonous? No, replied Dr. Jay, not the dilute kind used in domestic water supplies.

2) Even though non-poisonous, isn't it bad to keep storing up the fluorides in the body? Not enough to worry about, replied Dr. Jay, superintendent, and wife were down from Fowlerville Tuesday looking for a vacant house to move into.

W. F. Markham has extended an invitation to all of his employees in the factory who have been with him for more than five years, and also to have old-time friends, who were boys together with him, to accept his hospitality at Bay Court for a week's outing. The party will start on a special trolley coach next Tuesday morning, accompanied by the band.

Miss Minnie Leith closed a successful term of school at Perrinsville last Friday. Miss Jennie Corwin will succeed her next fall. Miss Leith expects to attend the Normal at Ypsilanti.

Misses Edna Holbrook and Gertrude Taft leave next Tuesday for Potsdam, New York, where they will spend six weeks in the Clarkson School of Technology. Miss Maude Grant, of Detroit, will take Miss Taft's place at the Hamilton Rifle company until her return September 1.

H. Springer has had the right kind of conscience to work these days. He had a kicking colt, a bad one and dangerous to be around. One man offered him $75 and $80, but he would not sell it but had it shot and buried last week.

Ira Wilson is moving the barn of the old Hawkins place and intends siding it and putting on a new hip roof.

for in addition to the 96 per cent naturally excreted from the body, the hot weather brings out even more in the form of perspiration.

3) What about those who suffer from kidney disease and are not able to excrete the chemical? There is no difference, says the doctor, between the death rates of kidney sufferers in or out of a fluoride water community.

4) Tooth discoloration is the price one pays for fluoride protection, and it is too high a price to pay. It needn't be, replied Dr. Jay, if the amount of fluoride is kept at constant and low level of concentration.

Even more specifically, Dr. Jay allays certain anxieties about fluorine.

Your bones don't get brittle because of it; studies show that there is no increase in cancer in areas using it; and while fluorine does not arrest dental decay, it does prevent it—significantly.

Plymouth Girls Visit Ann Arbor For Girls' State

Three Plymouth girls, Thalia Bairas, 42461 Clemons drive; Sara Morgan, 659 Ann street; and Ella Plant, 45004 Ford road; were among the 300 state high-school girls who gathered at the University of Michigan for the 12th annual Wolverine Girls' State (June 15-23.)

The event is a training program in citizenship, leadership and educational guidance. The girls are organized into groups, which elect representatives to a Girls' State government. A constitution then is drawn up by the delegates to govern the State. Sara Morgan was elected mayor of a mythical city in the Girls' State.

Meetings discussing vocations for women were held by the U-M faculty in addition to a recreational program.

The girls were sponsored primarily by the American Legion Auxiliary.

CUSTOM NOTE: Twin-Turbine Dynaflo and Safety Power Steering are standard equipment on every Buick ROADMASTER at no extra cost.

It makes you feel like the man you are

YOU must know, of course, that a fine car is more than merely a means of fine travel.

It is, as the psychologists tell us, an extension of a man's own personality.

It reflects what you feel, what you like, what you are.

So we ask you to take the wheel of a Buick ROADMASTER like the one shown here—for it is, we have found, the automobile chosen more and more by those who are definitely moving ahead in the world.

You will find it a car that fairly breathes success.

From its size and its breadth and the magnificent modernity of its styling, you know it is a car of custom stature — and so does the watching world.

The wondrous windshield is a pride in itself. You don't just see the view — you command it.

You will find it, too, a car of luxurious obedience.

From the moment you ease your foot down on the pedal, you take immediate mastery of the road and of distance.

And you know it—in the silken whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo, the might of Buick's greatest horsepower, the magic cushioning of coil springs on all four wheels, the exhilarating ease of Buick Safety Power Steering at your hand.

But with all this, you buy with prudence when you buy a ROADMASTER.

For—though it is, and looks, custom production — it sells for the lowest price-per-pound in the fine-car field. And so wise an investment makes you feel even more like the man you are.

Drop in, or phone us this week, and we'll gladly arrange a demonstration.

Three Motorists In Plymouth Area Receive Awards

Three Plymouth-area motorists have been presented with the Courteous Driving award of the Safety and Traffic committee of the Automobile club of Michigan. Each award has been made for a specific courteous-motoring act observed by a committee member or a policeman. Plymouth-area award-winning drivers are: Miss Marguerite Mitchell, of 44580 Ford road; Mrs. Carl Reiser, of 16805 Rougeway, Livonia; and Bert Knight, of 18650 Brentwood, Livonia.

The award is in the form of an instrument-panel sticker in blue and gold upon which are written the words, "I Take My Manners Motoring." A citation attesting to the courteous act is also presented to each award winner.

In his letter to the winners, Committee Chairman Jan Schmedding said, "Such acts of courtesy as yours often make the difference between pleasant motoring and death. Your act brings to mind Lord Tennyson's line, 'The greater man, the greater courtesy.' "On behalf of the members of the Safety and Traffic committee, may I offer my heartiest congratulations."

The courtesy campaign in the Detroit area is to continue indefinitely.

Wheat Farmers Will Be Issued Marketing Cards

Wayne County wheat farmers will be issued wheat marketing cards during the latter part of June according to Fred C. Ernest, Wayne County Office Manager of Wayne County ASC Committee. The official wheat marketing card, MQ-76, will be needed by every wheat farmer when marketing his 1954 crop. A marketing card will be issued to every wheat producer who shares in the wheat crop on any farm where the wheat acreage is not more than 15 acres. This is also true for producers on farms where the wheat acreage is more than 15 acres and where the acreage allotment has not been exceeded.

Final measurement work on 1954 wheat acreages has now been completed, and each wheat farmer who has exceeded his wheat allotment has been notified of the acreage that he would have to dispose of as green manure, cover crop, hay or pasture in order to avoid marketing-quota penalties. Ernest advises any wheat farmer who is not sure of where he stands as far as marketing quotas are concerned on his farm, to get in touch with the Wayne County ASC Office located at 3901 Newberry street, Wayne, Michigan.

Farmers who share in the wheat crop on any farm where the wheat acreage is more than 15 acres, and is in excess of the farm allotment, will not receive a marketing card until the penalty on the wheat produced on the excess acres has been satisfied. Storage or delivery of excess wheat must be accomplished within 60 days after the harvest period ends, otherwise the penalty can be satisfied only through cash payment. Farmers who store excess wheat will be permitted to underplant their 1955 wheat allotment and will then be authorized to remove all or part of their 1954 excess wheat from storage and sell it on the open market.

Ernest cautions individual farmers who may buy wheat for feed or seed from other farmers that the farmer who is selling the wheat must show a marketing card indicating the wheat is free of any penalty, otherwise the farmer who buys the wheat is subject to payment of the penalty. Under marketing quota regulations the feeding of wheat is the same as selling it.

Ernest also emphasizes the fact that none of the wheat produced on a farm where the wheat allotment has been exceeded is eligible for Government price support.

Definite dates for farmers to pick up their marketing cards will be announced at a later date.

Community Protection Committee Warns of 'Would-You-Take' Offers

The Community Protection Service committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce today warned prospective purchasers of automobiles to be on guard against so-called "Would-You-Take" offers.

Such offers are commonly placed under windshield wipers of parked cars. As the name implies, they ask the recipient if he would take some stated sum for his car. The basic objection to such offers, according to the committee, is that dealers seldom, if ever, allow the sum stated without increasing the price of the car purchased, its optional equipment or making special extra charges.

"Of course," Chairman Russ Cutler explained, "if a dealer allowed the recipient of a 'Would-You-Take' offer the sum stated on the purchase of the model of his choice, there would be no objection to such offers, provided the placing of advertising matter in or on automobiles is itself not unlawful in the dealer's community."

In the vast majority of cases, according to the National Better Business Bureau, "Would-You-Take" offers have been used deceptively as a "gimmick" to get prospective customers into the show room, with no intention of allowing the sum stated in the offer. By inflating the sum offered for the prospective customer's car above its market value, the gullible prospect is lured into the show room. After a prospect has entered the show room, the sales pressure begins. The prospect learns several things:

a. either the allowance will be substantially less than stated on the purchase of the model desired for its correct price, the alibi often being that the management will not accept the deal because careful appraisal shows the car not worth the sum stated in the "Would-You-Take"; or

b. the stated sum will be given only on the most expensive model fully equipped with all optional equipment; or

c. the stated sum will be allowed on the model desired but the delivered price of the car and its optional accessories will be increased so as to accommodate the inflated allowance.

The National Better Business Bureau with which the local Chamber is affiliated reports that it has discussed this problem with manufacturers of automobiles and was assured that they neither authorize nor condone insincere and deceptive "Would-You-Take" offers. The majority of manufacturers and dealers deplore and discourage any use of "Would-You-Take" offers. They disapprove of trade-in offers which are not based on a fair appraisal and which are not actually available.

A prospective purchaser of a new automobile can protect himself from deceptive practices by an unethical car dealer by investigating before committing himself to a transaction. He can bear in mind the following points:

1. Before entering into a transaction, which involves a trade-in of a used car, inquire of several reputable dealers as to its trade-in value on the price you have in mind paying for a new car. with the equipment you desire.

2. Before responding to a trade-in offer for your car on the purchase of a new car ascertain the standard delivered price in your community of the new car model you want to purchase, with the information you desire. This information is obtainable from factory-authorized retailers of the make of car you want, and also from the manufacturing company or its nearest regional branch office.

3. Beware-if the "Would-You-Take" dealer quotes a delivered price for the model in which you are interested with standard equipment, that exceeds the price given to you by the factory or its branch office. He either has added optional equipment, or is giving you a deceptively inflated price from which he can give an inflated allowance.

4. Beware-if the dealer gives you alibis as to why he cannot allow the sum stated in the offer on the model in which you are interested.

5. Beware-if the dealer seeks to pressure you into buying a model you don't want, with optional equipment you don't want, in order to get the sum stated in the offer.

Lightning Rods Give Insurance In Summer Rains

Don't pick a tree for shelter during a summer storm—not even if it's an umbrella tree.

No tree is immune to lightning. And some trees form perfect targets for bolts from the sky. Contrary to popular belief, variety seems to have little or nothing to do with susceptibility to lightning stroke. The taller the tree, the greater the chance that it may get tagged by lightning during an electrical storm.

The best storm insurance for trees is the lightning rod. Each year lightning takes a heavy toll among trees. A properly installed and grounded lightning conductor can turn those deadly bolts from the blue into harmless lights that pass in the night.

How about the installation? Installation of lightning rods calls for plenty of experience. It's inadvisable for anyone but an expert to put one up.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Bait casting and spinning will be the two most popular methods of taking the largemouth and smallmouth bass, two of the gamest fish species in Michigan. Bass season opened on June 19.

Bass are found generally throughout the state. Many lakes and streams are known to be bass productive, while many others produce occasional small catches. The general distribution is indicated in "Fishing in Michigan," a 32-page booklet available on request from conservation department offices.

"The largemouth is abundant in lakes throughout the lower peninsula and in many lakes in some parts of the upper," the booklet notes. "He likes weedy bays and protected margin waters of the Great Lakes. Casting artificial plugs, spinners and live bait into areas of lily pads and other aquatic plants in shallow waters of lakes is the usual method of angling."

"Concerning the smallmouth, the booklet points out: 'The smallmouth is more generally distributed throughout the state. He is most abundant in larger lakes with open shoals and gravel or boulder bottoms, in larger non-trout rivers with fast current and rocky bottoms and along rocky shores of the Great Lakes. Most effective angling is by casting plugs, spinners or live bait, or by rolling a spinner and live bait in moderately deep water.'"

Night and early dawn fishing are often effective for both species, the booklet notes.

The conservation department has not planted bass generally in state waters for many years although a few lakes have been planted to introduce the species or replace a winter-killed population.

The bass season will remain open on all state waters until September 12, when no further fishing will be allowed on trout streams or lakes. On all other waters, bass will be legal until December 31.

The creel limit is five, if only bass are taken. When other fish species are included in the creel, the fish law digest should be consulted.

Michigan trappers harvested 515,000 muskrats during the 1953-54 winter season, about a 20 percent decrease from the previous year, computed hunter-report cards show.

About 15,500 trapping licenses were sold during the recent season and computations of information from a percentage of the trappers indicates nearly all trapped muskrats.

Game workers said the take was smaller last winter primarily because of adverse weather conditions, but added that the total was not usual. In the last 17 years, the lowest take was 343,000 muskrats, bagged in 1942 and the highest take was 995,000, taken in 1943.

Two state fisheries workers observed a life and death wildlife battle late last week that gives indication that the troublesome sea lamprey does not always have things his own way.

Kneeland Weber and J. F. Brass of the Benton Harbor fish hatchery were working along Blue Creek in the Benton Harbor area when they saw a water snake attack a sea lamprey.

The snake wound itself around the lamprey and apparently stunned or injured it. Then the snake pulled his prey on shore and in about 10 minutes devoured the creature.

In recent years, the sea lamprey has entered the Great Lakes through the St. Lawrence River and has nearly wiped out lake trout populations in Lakes Huron and Michigan.

Rural mail carriers have come through again to aid conservation work in Michigan, state game workers report.

A total of 682 of the carriers recently completed a survey of ring-necked pheasant populations in 43 southern Michigan counties. Their report supports earlier indications that the pheasant population is definitely larger this year than it was in 1953.

The carriers saw an average of four pheasants per 100 miles of driving. Last year, the average was 2.5 birds per 100 miles.

Last year, 565 carriers helped in the survey; the increase this year gives indication of the willing response carriers show for the work.

Farther north in the state, carriers count grouse and deer in other department surveys; results of a recently-completed poll are expected shortly.

Only Death Wins When You Drive In Wrong Lane

The recent traffic accident in Maryland in which 10 persons lost their lives because one of the two drivers was traveling in the wrong lane is a glaring example of many accidents of that type which could be avoided by obeying the law and using common sense, said Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

"Crossing the yellow line or passing on a hill or curve is just like playing Russian roulette," Childs said. "Only the person who pulls the trigger dies in Russian roulette, but the wrong lane gambler also involves others when he loses."

Head-on collisions have frightful results and these are accidents due to drivers being where they shouldn't be and need not be—in the wrong lane.

Childs also pointed out that many times careless and negligent drivers are the cause of accidents to others, but are not involved themselves. Failing to give a warning when turning, cutting in too soon after passing and improper passing are some of these causes.

"If drivers just used common sense and common courtesy most of our accidents would be avoided," Childs said. "This includes sharing the road fairly and staying in your own lane. Incidental unsafe passing is one of the violations enforcement officers watch for particularly because it causes so many bad smash-ups."
