May Never Use Millage if Voted

"Chances are that if Plymouth township voters approve the six-tenths mill levy which will be found on Tuesday's ballot, it will never need to be collected." That was the word this week from Supervisor Roy Lindsay as the primary election neared. Township voters will find the millage issue on the voting machine. The proposition asks that the township be allowed to raise taxes six-tenths of a mill for 15 years in order to finance the township's share of the Middle Rouge Interceptor drain. But the township supervisor pointed out this week "that unless the township goes broke, we will never need to collect the tax." He added that before the township can sell the bonds, the bonding companies demand a millage approval as "collateral". Actually, the township plans to pay for the bonds out of the general fund. The township-at-large share is $103,000. The county has sold bonds for the project and is charging the township six per cent interest. By selling its own bonds, the township hopes to get by with only three per cent interest or less. It will save the township between $30,000 and $35,000.

City's First Baby Of Year Arrives

The first baby to be born in Plymouth in 1954 made his appearance early Wednesday morning. Lack of hospital facilities is the reason for this. So when Mrs. Linnea Salow, secretary of the city manager, received a birth certificate yesterday, it was a day of celebration. The city's first 1954 baby was Donald William Pocklington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pocklington, 480 Sunset. A Wayne osteopath delivered the baby at the family home.

INSTRUCTION OF PRECINCT workers is one of the necessary jobs preceding Tuesday's primary election. Here, Myrn Smith, chairman of precinct 1 board of inspectors, discusses some of the voting machine problems with Mrs. Sidney Strong (left) precinct 3 chairman, and Mrs. Gladys Tillotson, precinct 4 chairman. A voting machine set up in city hall is for public inspection.

Slate Equestrian Meet for Sunday

The Junior Equestrian Teams, including the well-known Northville group, will meet for the third competition of the season this Sunday, August 1, at the Franfield Farm show grounds, 46820 West 8 Mile road, Northville. This competition, sponsored by the Northville Optimist club, now has 10 teams in the league. Competing Sunday besides the Northville group, will be Outland's, Grant's, Metamora, Triangle, Outland Kangaroos, Grant Irishmen, Michiganians, Toledo - Howard and Bloomfield Hunt club. The Northville team, made up of Frannie Malley, Patty Haass, Jan Schaefer and Mary Casenhaner, is sponsored by the Northville Optimists. Going into the third games, the league is wide open with Grant's and the Irishmen having won a series each. A new winner Sunday would produce a three-way tie with two more series to complete the season. The program, beginning at 12 noon, will be: first event, first team jumping class; second event, elementary dressage; third, junior olympic jumping event; fourth, horsemanship; and fifth, team relay jumping.

School Board Calls In Bonds Worth $259,000

Plymouth Township School district voters approved a bond issue of over a million and a quarter dollars in 1949 to construct two schools and improve another. Today, the Board of Education announced that this bond issue may be retired by 1957—seven years early. The school board has voted to call in $259,000 worth of the bonds by October 1, Superintendent Russell Isbister said this week. In former years, the original issue of $1,359,000 has been reduced by $90,000 a year. But increased valuation of property has brought in more money than anticipated. Voters approved the eight mill bond issue in 1949 to construct Bird and Smith elementary schools and modernize the high school. A few years later the levy was reduced to five mills because too much money was being collected. With surplus funds still being collected to pay off the bond issue, the board of education has decided to pay off the bond issue as fast as possible and therefore avoid costly interest payments in later years. The issue was to be retired in 1964. The board is calling in 259 bonds, valuations of $1,000 each. Bond holders will be paid a premium of $29 per bond plus their $1,000. Halsey, Steward & Company was the original bond buyer but most of the bonds are now believed in private hands. It is improbable that any local persons hold any of the bonds. Being called for redemption are bonds numbered 1092 through 1350. By paying off $259,000 this year, the 1949 bond issue will be reduced to $641,000. Besides the yearly payment, the school board must maintain a sum of $120,000 in its bond reserve fund. Two other bond issues are being paid off, one voted in 1950 and another in 1952.

200 Attend Annual Elks Club Chicken Barbecue

About 200 Elks club members, their families and guests turned out for the annual chicken barbecue and corn roast on Saturday, July 24. The event was held in the yard of the Elks lodge on Ann Arbor road. Co-chairmen of this year's barbecue were Thomas Argo and Past Exalted Ruler Phil Barney. Barney said that another supper event is being planned for the near future.

Start Dutch Elm Disease Inspection; Several Suspects Found First Day

It appears that several Plymouth elm trees are infected with the dreaded Dutch Elm Disease. Fortunately, Knically explains, Plymouth does not have a great abundance of American elm trees. The city has a wide variety of trees, which will be an advantage in preventing fast spread. So serious is the threat becoming that the Michigan Department of Agriculture has arranged an inspection tour for heads of communities in this area to take a look at what the disease can do. City manager Albert Glassford will make the tour August 5. It will start at the Warren Valley Golf course. It appears that several Plymouth elm trees are infected with the dreaded Dutch Elm Disease. So serious is the threat becoming that the Michigan Department of Agriculture has arranged an inspection tour for heads of communities in this area to take a look at what the disease can do. City manager Albert Glassford will make the tour August 5. It will start at the Warren Valley Golf course. With about a fourth of his inspection completed Tuesday noon, Knically had found four possible infected trees. But not until tree specimens are placed in a laboratory and given a culture test for six days, is a final judgment made. Knically is traveling through the city with a city pick-up truck into which he places a few branch specimens. The truck also makes a handy platform on which he stands to clip off some small branches. City Assessor Kenneth Way is assisting the agricultural department man. There was no indication of Dutch Elm disease in the city during last year's inspection. But even with some possible cases found this week, Knically claims Plymouth is getting off lightly. In many nearby communities there have been hundreds of infected trees found. One of the first indications of Dutch Elm disease is the browning and curling of leaves. An elm bark beetle carries the disease from one tree to another. So to effectively control the spread

Voters Decide Judicial, Party Races Tuesday

Democrats will find almost twice as many names on their ballot as the Republicans when Plymouth and Plymouth township voters go to the polls Tuesday to help nominate their party's candidates for the November general election.

Anchor Coupling Company Moving Here from Detroit

A new industry, the Anchor Coupling company, is moving into Plymouth after purchasing the Amelia street factory building occupied by the Dunn Steel Products corporation. Anchor Coupling is moving from its Detroit location because of the larger floor space offered by the local building. The Plymouth building has about 25,000 square feet of floor space. The new company manufactures automobile hose assemblies and adjacent fittings. Libertyville, Illinois is the home office of Anchor Coupling. Branch factories are located in Dallas, Texas besides the one to be operated here. General manager of the new Plymouth firm will be Stanley Dresser. Victor Webb is plant manager. Work has already begun to move machinery from the Detroit plant, located at 12303 Cloverdale, to Plymouth. Plant officials expect to have manufacturing in operation here by August 1. About 50 persons will be employed by Anchor Coupling, of which half will be women. Some of the Detroit work force will remain with their job in Plymouth. Dunn Steel Products vacated the building on Amelia street last spring after construction of a modern plant on Dunn street. The old building was then offered for sale.

Where to Cast Your Votes Next Tuesday

As information for those who have never voted in Plymouth, the city has four precincts, the township has one. Roughly, precinct 1 covers the southeast quarter of the city, precinct 2 covers the Northeast quarter, precinct 3 the northwest quarter and precinct 4 the southwest quarter. Persons not sure of their precinct are advised to either contact a neighbor who has voted or the city clerk. Here are the polling places in the city: Precinct 1, city hall (main lobby); precinct 2, Starkweather school gymnasium; Precinct 3, high school; precinct 4, Smith school. All Plymouth township voters must vote at township hall, Ann Arbor road near Lilley road.

No Restrictions On Water Seen

Pleas to halt lawn sprinkling in Detroit and many other surrounding communities were not heard in Plymouth this week as the water supply here remained "good." Detroit Mayor Cobo issued an urgent appeal to Detroiters to stop lawn sprinkling as water pressure in some areas dropped to nearly zero. But Plymouth Mayor Russell Daane said Wednesday that "the situation here so far has not been critical enough to warrant restrictions." He added that citizens should, however, not be over-wasteful with the water and should use their best judgment. Most communities surrounding Detroit receive their water through the Detroit water system. But Plymouth has its own water system, the source being a well field located on Beck road. The city commission is currently attempting to establish another well field to improve the Plymouth supply. Detroit, which is situated close to some of the best water sources in the country, is troubled with pumping and storage problems when demand is at a peak.

Expect New Fire Truck Next Week

Plans were started this week for a combined dedication of Plymouth's new fire station and fire truck when it was learned that the truck has started its journey here from the manufacturers. Fire Chief Robert McAllister said that some Sunday will be set aside for the dedication which will be held at the North Side Fire station located at Spring and Holbrook. The $20,000 fire station was completed several months ago but dedication ceremonies have been delayed until arrival of the new truck. The American-LaFrance-Foamite corporation of Elmira, New York said that the truck is being shipped by rail Friday and will arrive in Detroit early next week. A factory service engineer will arrive sometime later and the truck will be given a thorough test.

Township Dog Owners Warned As Clinics Fail

"We established this ordinance at the request of the public, now it will be up to the public to obey it. All violators will be prosecuted." That was the stern statement issued this week by Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay after only a handful of dog owners took advantage of two dog clinics during the past two Saturdays. Only 75 persons brought their dogs to township hall two Saturdays ago and when nine showed up by noon last Saturday, the clinic was halted. "We couldn't afford to keep a veterinarian around all day for just a few dog owners," Lindsay stated. Control of dogs was taken over by the township from the county July 1 when a new ordinance took effect. Dogs not only must have a license but they must be inoculated against rabies. Lindsay said that violations may mean a fine up to $100 or 90 days in jail. "It certainly is not fair for a few persons to secure licenses while the remainder gets off without them," the supervisor declared. Township constables will serve as dog wardens and violators will be brought before a justice of the peace. The two dog clinics afforded dog owners an opportunity to secure licenses and inoculations for their dogs in one trip to township hall. They must now go to a veterinarian for the vaccination and show written evidence that the vaccination was secured before being issued a license at township hall.

Scouts Win First Places in Meet

Plymouth Boy Scouts won first place in three events of the semi-finals swim meet held last Saturday at the Brennan pool in Detroit. Winners from the P-1 troop were Dennis Baker, John Williams, Don Carney and Dave Beegle. In this competition against Boy Scouts of other West side districts, Troop P-1 took first place in the 200-yard free-style relay and in the 100-yard free-style relay. Williams and Carney also took first place for the troop in the backstroke tow. Bob Isbister of Troop P-1 took second place in the 25-yard free style and third place in the 25-yard breast stroke. Third place in the 50-yard back-stroke was won for Troop P-4 by John Vos. Wednesday night at 7 p.m. Plymouth Scouts competed against East side winners in the final swim meet at Patton pool in Detroit.

Symphony Board Vacancy

An opening on the Plymouth Symphony Society board of directors was created at the last meeting by the resignation of Mrs. R. E. Mills. Her letter was read to board members by President Gerald Fischer, who postponed action until the regularly scheduled August meeting. Serving her second year on the board, Mrs. Mills has been one of the Symphony Orchestra's biggest boosters and acted as recording secretary during her term of office. According to Membership Chairman Robert Wesley, the summer membership drive of the society has shown very satisfactory results thus far. Of the several hundred membership forms mailed out a good proportion have been returned. He urged holders of forms to act as soon as possible, however, in returning their 1954-55 dues and asked that old members cooperate by introducing new residents to the Plymouth Symphony Society membership.

Voting Machine Steps Explained

Using a voting machine for a primary election seems to result in greater confusion than any other type of election, local election officials point out. Here are the steps necessary to use a voting machine next Tuesday: 1. Enter booth, note switch lever in upper left corner of panel. Move the lever to the right. This closes the curtains and unlocks the voting machine. 2. At the right side of the booth are handles marked "Democratic" and "Republican." Since you can vote only for candidates of one party, pull down your party's lever. 3. Now you are ready to vote by pushing down the lever beside the name of your favorite candidate. It tells under the name of the offices how many candidates should be voted for. An "X" is left beside the candidates' names when you push the lever down. 4. It is impossible to vote a "straight" ticket in a primary election by pulling one lever. 5. At the bottom of the panel is the non-partisan judicial ballot. It is located under the Democratic ticket but has nothing whatsoever to do with party politics. Everyone votes this ballot. 6. When through voting, turn the switch lever back to left. This open the curtains and records your vote.

TAGGED AS A POSSIBLE victim of the Dutch Elm Disease is this elm tree located on the recreation field behind the high school. Glen Knically, Michigan Department of Agriculture inspector, shows one of the symptoms to City Assessor Kenneth Way. Wood under the bark on this small limb has turned black. Some of the tree's leaves have also turned brown. Tag on the tree numbers it as a disease suspect. It must be destroyed if laboratory tests prove infection.

Plymouthite Tells of Dramas Seen At Stratford's Shakespeare Festival

The summer Shakespearian Festival at Stratford, Ontario was enjoyed recently by six Plymouthites, Dr. and Mrs. Henry J. Walch, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson R. Augustine, Mrs. Margaret R. Hough and Mrs. Wesley Reid, and Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Reid of Detroit.

Statford, a small community about 155 miles northeast of Detroit, started the drama festival last year, and it since has grown into an event which attracts visitors from all over the United States. Noted actor James Mason is appearing in the Festival's plays.

A brief review of the two plays attended by the group is given here by Dr. Walch.

"It is a real occasion to see a Shakespearian play adequately performed, under conditions which are similar to those Shakespeare knew when he wrote his plays. To watch such a play on a stage barren of any scenic background, where the art of the actors alone must create the mood and meaning of the play, is a rare experience. Yet it is like a breath of cool air on a humid night to see great art come into its own, and stand on its merits as art, unsupported by the ornate crutches of a Hollywood production. Such an opportunity is given to those who make the pilgrimage, pilgrimage is the right word, to Stratford, Ontario, where the Shakespeare Festival is now in its second summer.

"In this little Canadian town, named after an illustrious shrine in England, and situated on a lovely little river, also called Avon, is located a tent theatre of unique design. Here fine actors, some of great repute, are currently presenting three plays, Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" and "Measure for Measure," and Sophocles' tragedy, "Oedipus Rex".

"Your writer, in company with a group of people from Plymouth, saw two of these plays, "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Oedipus Rex". The first is a delightful comedy, played in a most unique way, by a company of actors who know their craft. It roars along at a fast pace, carrying the audience with it in gales of laughter. For those who like comedy at its best level this play is a sheer delight. In startling contrast is the tragedy of Sophocles, written over twenty-five hundred years ago, but meaningful even today. As the audience laughs with the actors in the comedy, so it now drawn into the agony of Oedipus, as the web of fate draws him into pain and horror indescribable. No one may see this tragedy, and be a part of it, as is the case here, and leave without being profoundly moved by what one has seen and shared. It is a raw meat diet, not suitable for infants who are used to pablum.

"The setting of this unique theatre is a lovely one. Coming to it in the cool of the evening, beside the peaceful river where on are graceful swans, one has the feeling of being transported into another kind of world. Here are gathered people from all over America, and from lands beyond, drawn to this place by a common love for something which has always stirred the imagination and the souls of men—great art, played by fine actors. To anyone who values such an experience, the pilgrimage to Stratford will be well worth the cost and the effort. It cannot be duplicated anywhere in America."

Mrs. Deyo Takes Tour of Europe

Recently back from an automobile tour of Europe is Mrs. Harry N. Deyo of 808 Church street. Mrs. Deyo and five ladies from the Detroit area made the six-week trip.

The group took a French liner over to Britain, landing at Plymouth, England early in the morning. From there they drove to London, and then on to France, Italy, Switzerland, West Germany, and Luxembourg. Mrs. Deyo returned to the United States on a ship out of LeHavre.

Commenting on her trip, Mrs. Deyo said that the flowers were in great profusion. Along the productive countryside they saw hydrangeas, geraniums, bougainvillea and many varieties of roses. She added that she enjoyed the whole trip, and that each country seemed better than the last.

Don Leonard to Visit Plymouth Tomorrow

Bird Hunting Seasons To Be Same This Year

Bird hunters will this year share in about the same small game hunting seasons as authorized last year, the conservation department reports.

Only slight changes from last year are scheduled in certain seasons.

Ruffed grouse season will run October 1 to November 1 in the upper peninsula with the exception of Bois Blanc Island, which will remain closed again this year.

In the northern lower peninsula, the ruffed grouse season will run October 1 to November 10 and in the southern lower peninsula, grouse will be legal game October 20 to November 19, inclusive.

Prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse will be legal game in the upper peninsula this year October 1 to November 1, the same as 1953. This year, however, the lower peninsula will be closed to both these species. Last year, a limited season was authorized, but the birds are presently passing through a periodic decline and the closed season was deemed advisable.

Pheasant season regulations this year will be exactly the same as last year. That means an October 20 to November 10 gunning period is authorized in the entire lower peninsula with the exception of Emmet county, where a closed season is continued. The upper peninsula, with the exception of the southern part of Menominee county, will be closed as usual. The Menominee county season will run October 1 to 10, as usual.

Again this year, there will be no open season on Hungarian partridge. The order that keeps

Crippled Children Get Pony Rides

A special treat was given the children attending the summer day camp sponsored by the Wayne Out-County Chapter of Crippled Children and Adults on Wednesday afternoon. The Plymouth Rotary club arranged to have youngsters given free pony rides, and Rotarians appeared at the camp to help the children on and off of the ponies.

Heading the Rotary committee was Dave Galin. The camp is held each year at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge for children throughout the area.

Local Insurance Agencies to Offer Road Aid Plan

A plan to offer road aid to distressed motorists was adopted by the majority of Plymouth auto insurance agencies this week when the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents held its regular meeting.

Actual operation of the plan may not come for several months but some of the local agents have already hailed the new idea as one of the most important steps forward in the auto insurance business in the past several decades.

Road Aid, which is the name of an actual non-profit organization, was started in Detroit in 1948 and is now used there by 500 agents representing 150 insurance companies. The Road Aid board of directors hopes to have all Michigan insurance agents adopt the plan when they meet next fall.

The next step will be to establish it nationally.

Today, a person buying insurance with most companies pays from $1 to $3 a year for road service. When in distress, the insured motorist calls a service station or garage for help and pays the bill himself. He must then turn the bill over to his insurance agent and then wait for his check.

Under Road Aid, a distressed motorist will be able to call up one of several service stations or garages authorized by Road Aid. The service would be rendered and the motorist need only show his Road Aid card and sign a slip. The service stations then send the bills to Road Aid headquarters in Detroit and Road Aid bills the insurance companies once a month.

Road Aid Plan

Two representatives of the Road Aid office spoke to Plymouth's insurance companies at the association's meeting in the Mayflower Hotel Monday noon. They pointed out that a motorist could still use the former method of road service if he wanted. The Road Aid plan would only be workable where Road Aid has been adopted by local agents.

In Detroit, where there are 135 service stations cooperating with Road Aid, a motorist in trouble calls a central number. In Plymouth, the driver will call one of four service stations or garages which will be designated as Road Aid affiliates. The Road Aid spokesmen said that the service hopes to offer road maps and tour service some day.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Silver Star Presented To Harvey F. Dethloff, Jr.

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE
Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

James R. Sagers

Private First Class James R. Sagers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sagers, 609 Karmada street, Plymouth, was graduated last month with a record of excellence from the Aircraft, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, Supply School at the Marine Corps Air Station in Santa Ana, California. The school is divided into two courses: aircraft supplies and Marine Corps supplies; the latter dealing with items such as food, rifles and clothing. The four-week school takes up all points of supply from procurement to expenditure and storage of materials.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Robert L. Grieve

Sergeant Robert L. Grieve, whose wife, Joyce, lives at 174 Rose street, recently spent seven days in Japan on a rest and recuperation leave from the 3rd Infantry Division in Korea.

Available to Grieve at Camp Hakata were recreational and sightseeing facilities, giving him a fascinating glimpse of Oriental culture.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army in November 1952 and arrived overseas during May 1953.

Gary Sidney Wall

Private Gary Sidney Wall is now continuing his army career as a paratrooper in the famed "All American" 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

As a member of the 82nd, he will make periodic parachute jumps, receive advanced training in military tactics, and participate in the training exercises and maneuvers held by the division throughout the year.

Private Wall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Wall, of 15655 Haggerty road, Plymouth. His wife is the former Betty Ann Buckner. He received his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Prior to entering the Armed Forces he attended Plymouth high school and in civilian life was employed by Levie's Slag Co.

Just prior to the cease-fire in Korea last July, Harvey F. Dethloff, Jr., Plymouth Marine, found himself in the direct path of a fanatic communist attack and rose to heroic heights in helping to repel a numerically superior enemy force. For his outstanding acts of heroism, Dethloff recently was presented with the silver star medal in a ceremony at the Marine Corps Reserve training center in Dearborn. Now retired, Dethloff lives at 6385 Lilley road. The decoration was awarded Corporal Dethloff by Major Morris B. Stanley, Commanding Officer of the 15th Special Infantry Company, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, Dearborn, at a special ceremony before the full company. Dethloff's wife and mother were present at the time the award was given. Dethloff was a machine gunner in G Company, 3rd Battalion, 1st Regiment, 1st Marine Division, at the time of his action. His outfit was directly in the path of an attack by a suicidal enemy force, and PFC Dethloff was manning one of the company's front-line machine guns. Although his position appeared indefensible, Dethloff remained at his gun, killing great numbers of the attackers, until mortar fire struck the gun, destroying it and painfully wounding the young Marine. Despite his serious injury, Dethloff worked himself to another position in the trench-line and threw hand grenades into the advancing communists until wounded a second time. Still he refused evacuation and bravely remained in his position until assured that the company's sector of the main line of resistance was secure. The silver star is the third highest decoration bestowed by the United States upon its combat heroes, only the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Navy Cross rank ahead of it. President Eisenhower's citation accompanying the decoration concludes with the richly-deserved observation that "Private First Class Dethloff's gallant and courageous actions served as an inspiration to all who observed him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Marine Corps."

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Julien and son, Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson were at East Tawas last week.

Mrs. Walter Daley from Negaunee is an out-of-town guest at the home of the Joe Merritts on Lilley road.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Timcoe of Holbrook avenue, and son, David, have just returned from a visit with Mrs. Timcoe's brother, Roy Kincaid, at his cottage near Oscoda.

An out-of-town visitor over this past weekend at the Herbert Norgroves, 1034 York, was Mrs. Norgrove's mother, Mrs. Cora Lietzke, of Temperance, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton Booth of 1325 Sheridan and daughters, Jacqueline and Barbara, spent a week of their vacation at Gibson Resort at Ossineke. Also on the vacation trip with them were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fiels of Ardmore, Pennsylvania and their two children, Susie and June. Following their stay at Gibson Resort, the Booths entertained the Fielses at their home on Sheridan avenue.

Miss Juanita Foreman was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower last Sunday evening held in Our Lady of Good Counsel Hall. Miss Foreman will enter the Convent at Nazareth, Michigan on September 1st. The twenty-seven guests enjoyed a pleasant evening and refreshments were served by the hostesses, the Misses Cherie Magnusson, Darlene King, Theresa Nolan and Patty Degandard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Honey, Adams street, were hosts Tuesday at a picnic lunch in Riverside Park to Mrs. Honey's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wyers and daughters Mary and Ann Wyers and Mrs. Don Johnson and daughter Sue, all of Pontiac.

Technical Sergeant and Mrs. William J. Bair and Mrs. Willie Mae Smith were guests at buffet luncheon Sunday, July 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Martin and sons of Five Mile road. After spending the past two weeks visiting friends and relations in and around Plymouth, the three will be motoring back to their homes July 27, in Florida. Mrs. Bair is the former Mrs. Katherine Rohoe.

OBITUARIES

Benjamin A. Bentley
Benjamin A. Bentley, son of Amos and Ellen Bentley, was born July 17, 1870 in Novi Township, near Walled Lake, Michigan and passed away suddenly July 22 at his residence at 545 West
Ann Arbor trail in Plymouth.

Mr. Bentley moved to Plymouth from Novi Township in 1940 and made his home here since that time. While living in Novi Township he served as Justice of the Peace.

Members of the immediate family who survive Mr. Bentley are his two daughters, Mrs. Sadie
Hitchcock of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Christine Allen of Beaverton, Oregon; two sisters, Mrs.
Edith Smith of South Lyon,
Michigan and Mrs. Cora Donaldson of St. Petersburg, Florida; and one brother, George B. Bentley of Walled Lake. He also leaves five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his wife, Eva, in 1900.
He later married Frances Waters who preceded him in death in 1950. He was also preceded in death by two daughters, Inez and Gladys Bentley.

Funeral services were held Monday, July 26, at one o'clock at the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend Henry J. Walch,
D. D. officiating. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Fred Nelson. The pallbearers were Roy Hitchcock, Clarence Smith, Dayton Bunn, Amos Bentley, Robert Smith and Robert Miles. Interment was made in Walled Lake cemetery.

Rosa Rheiner
Mrs. Rosa Rheiner, who formerly resided at 1197 Penniman avenue, Plymouth, passed away
Saturday, July 24 at the Henry Ford hospital in Detroit. She was 82 years of age. Mrs. Rheiner was born in Germany and came to the United States at the age of 18.
She was a resident of Plymouth for 38 years. However, due to failing health, she moved to Highland Park about a month ago to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs.
Martin Mix. Her illness became serious 11 days ago and she was taken to the hospital where death occurred.

Surviving, besides her daughter Marie, are two grand-daughters, Mrs. Marie Bell and Miss
Barbara Mix and one grandson,
Charles Mix. Her husband, Theodore William Rheiner preceded her in death in 1910 and her son
Ted Rheiner in January 1954.

Mrs. Rheiner was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel
church. The Rosary was recited
Monday evening, July 26 at 8:30
at the Schrader Funeral home.
Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. at Our Lady of Good Counsel church.
The pallbearers were Messrs.
Vern Strope, John Nelson,
Charles Lompard, Henry Lorenz,
Lawrence Lompard and Allan
Barron. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Lucy Ellen Wilson

Mrs. Lucy Ellen Wilson, who resided at 27900 Pontiac trail,
South Lyon, passed away Wednesday evening, July 21, at Henry Ford hospital in Detroit. Mrs.
Wilson had been ill about one month. She was 62 years of age.

Although Mrs. Wilson's address at the time of her death was South Lyon, until a year ago she was a life-long resident of Livonia.
She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Plymouth Chapter No. 115.

Surviving are her husband
Walter; two children, Mrs. Jo-
Ellen Cesarz and Walter E. Wilson, both of South Lyon; three sisters, Mrs. Mae Oliver of Fowlesville, Mrs. Caroline Morgan of South Lyon and Mrs. Luella
Flood of Royal Oak; one brother, Ebdon Smith of Belleville, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held
Saturday, July 24, at two o'clock
at the Schrader Funeral home.
The Reverend Henry J. Walch,
D. D. officiated. Hymns were sung by Nestor Sibbold accompanied at the organ by Fred Nelson. The pallbearers, all nephews of Mrs. Wilson were Eugene Wilson, Howard Sharpley, Fred
Arthur Proctor, Charles Flood,
Ivan Oliver and Jack Morgan.
Interment was made in Livonia cemetery.

"Shock" Booklet Being Distributed By State Police

The Michigan State Police have undertaken a new shock treatment campaign against unsafe driving by distributing a booklet
"Death on the Highway," to violators of traffic laws.

The booklet, published by Dean
H. Robinson of Berkley, Michigan, contains 18 pictures—newspaper photographs—of fatal accidents. They depict in stark manner how motorists can and do die on the highways.

"The pictures in this booklet aren't pretty," the introduction says. "They're gruesome, they're horrible—but they are true. No one likes to look at bones sticking through flesh from compound fractures or faces smashed beyond recognition from windshields—or heads and arms severed from the body, but that's what happened
105 times a day last year."

The State Police have been provided with 15,000 copies of the booklet and a supply is being carried in each patrol car. Each person receiving a copy is asked to pass it along after having looked it over.

Although the officers are using tact in the distribution, they hope the powerful message in the booklet will leave its impact upon everyone who sees it. It's all part of the intensive effort to check the alarming accident toll.

FINISHING TOUCHES were put on the modernization of the Penn Theatre last week with the completion of the redecorating of the walls. In the past year the theatre has seen many improvements, including the addition of a new wide screen and new projection equipment. Most recent work was painting the walls in shades of rose and green, with a white scroll motif in the auditorium. The theatre was recarpeted throughout, and modern light fixtures were installed in the outer lobby. Appreciation of the newly repadded seats is expressed by the two boys, shown at left, as they sit back and enjoy the movie. They are Frank Tallian of 9305 Corrine, left, and Ronald Wahn of 1193 Simpson. Besides being repadded, the seats were washed and waxed. Completing the picture, new glass was put in the doors leading into the theatre auditorium. The theatre remained open throughout the redecorating.

Cherry Hill News

Mrs. James Burrell
50160 Cherry Hill Road

Miss Joyce Gotts is spending the week with friends in Kentucky. . . .
Miss Elizabeth Gustin spent last week with Miss Edith Chilson of Adrian. . . .
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. August Hauk. . . .
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Freedle and Betty Carol spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. William Schroder at Vineyard lake. . . .
Harry Pilbeam called on Mr. and Mrs. James Burrell on Saturday afternoon. . . .
Patty Carol Freedle returned to her home in Portland, Tennessee, Sunday, after a two weeks vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Freedle. . . .
Mr. and Mrs. James Burrell spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Burt Goodridge of Milan. . . .

A homecoming will be held at the Cherryhill church on Sunday, August 1. The morning worship service will begin at 10:45 a.m. with Mr. LaVerne Finch as speaker. Dinner will be served by the Women's Society of Christian Service. A free will offering will be taken. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Grange Cleanings

The two Grange picnics that have been held in the park have been fairly well attended, and those present enjoyed a pleasant evening. Now a third picnic is coming up for next Thursday evening, August 5, at the same time and place. . . .
Plans are now underway for a bake sale and rummage sale to be held in the Grange hall on Friday and Saturday, September 10 and 11. The bake sale will be on Friday only. Save your rummage for that day, September 11. That means clothing of all kinds, shoes, books and any kind of useful household articles. . . .
Quite a number of the Grange members went up to Chesaning to see "Show Boat." They reported that they had a wonderful time. . . .
We are happy to report that Joe Tracy is much better. He is able to ride out for short rides now. And Mr. Hodge is also coming along splendidly.

Warn Against Dumping Garbage

A warning went out this week from the Michigan State Police against dumping garbage and rubbish along highways and in streams. State Police have been instructed to give extra attention to the enforcement of laws prohibiting such dumping. . . .
The special order was a follow-up of a reported increase in such violations. . . .
The Michigan United Conservation clubs voiced a protest at its annual convention in Petoskey, when it unanimously adopted a resolution deploring the "practice of some inconsiderate persons throwing their garbage and rubbish along our highways and into our streams" and asking all law enforcement agencies to take corrective action. Other complaints also have been made. . . .
Violation of the state laws prohibiting such dumping is a misdemeanor.

Share the Road, Police Chief Asks

Chief Carl Greenlee is urging the motorists of Plymouth to be especially careful in passing cars out on the open highway. He pointed out that most of the motorists killed on highways are people who live in cities and that many of them on vacation trips do not drive frequently enough in the country to become accustomed to high speed travel, especially when highways are over-crowded with tourist travel. . . .
According to Chief Greenlee, the safety message "SHARE THE ROAD—KEEP IN LANE," being emphasized this summer, is one of the most important bits of advice for open highway driving. "Going faster than the other fellow and having to get on the wrong side of the highway to pass him sets the stage for disaster if the car being passed moves over or speeds up or if that oncoming car arrives too soon. And if someone else pulls out on the highway during this passing maneuver almost anything can happen," the Chief said.

Very high speed further complicates passing because when any one of the three drivers makes an error it is many times more difficult to recover from the emergency that results and naturally a crack-up is much more likely to be fatal," the Chief added. He pointed out that if you are going 10 miles per hour faster than the car you are passing, and there is an oncoming car, it will require almost twice as much safe passing distance at 70 miles per hour as it will at 50. At 70 you need a guaranteed clear distance ahead of 4,480 feet (almost the length of 15 football fields) to complete the pass safely while at 50 you need only 2,400 feet (only the length of 8 football fields). . . .
In conclusion Chief Greenlee urged all motorists to adapt their speed on each highway to the speed at which most other drivers are traveling. This will delay fewer people, result in less passing and provide greater safety for everyone.

Serve cheese fingers with salads for a special treat to the family or guests. To make them, cut bread in finger shapes. Brush with a mixture of 2 tablespoons of melted butter, cooled, and one beaten egg. Roll fingers in grated American cheese and brown lightly under the broiler.

LETTER BOX

To the Editor:
 On July 22, 1954 you published an account of a jet-powered trip of 1,460 miles through Northern Michigan. This flight was apparently accomplished in three days with various stops for sight-seeing purposes.

Now, Mr. Editor, you and I know that just lots of folks think they are real hot stuff because they can drive from here to yonder faster than anyone else.

But, did you stop to figure out how many laws of the road would have to be broken; how many HUNDREDS of innocent lives endangered because some—wants to be able to brag to his friends that he went faster and further and saw more than anyone else in a given time?

If you desire to render true Public Service through your columns in the future, give news items of this nature the treatment they deserve. Point out that the ever increasing Death Toll on the highways is frequently caused by wild driving such as this.

If this course is objectionable to you, at least give this type of news the treatment of silence lest others be given the desire to emulate.

Sincerely yours,
 Joe Merritt

Crash Hurts Two

Two persons were injured last Friday at the Ann Arbor road and Edward Hines Drive intersection when cars driven by Jesse Weldon of Inkster and Howard Rodenberg of Garden City collided. The sheriff's road patrol said that Rodenberg drove his car in front of Weldon after the former stopped for a stop sign on Hines Drive.

Injured were Patricia Weldon, 45, who received head injuries, and Mary Jane Weldon, Washington, Pennsylvania, suffering hip and shoulder injuries.

Vitamin A Will Solve Spot Troubles in Eggs

Poultrymen who are having blood spot troubles on their eggs may be feeding their hens too little vitamin A.

Michigan State College poultry specialists indicate that during the summer, the hens need a mash that is well fortified with this vitamin. Green feed is high in vitamin A but it makes the egg yolk dark.

Another reason for the blood spots may be feeding too much corn during the summer. Research results haven't proved this, however.

Farm Invention Competition Open At State Fair

Farmers will have a chance to prove their inventive genius at the 1954 Michigan State Fair. Prizes totalling $300 will be offered for winners in the "Farm Machinery Safety and Labor Saving Devices" contest.

Any device designed to be attached to a machine to make it operate more safely or efficiently may be entered. First, second and third prizes will be offered in each of three classes: Junior, under 21 years of age; Senior, 21 years of age or over; and Open, all ages. Exhibitors are limited to one entry in any one class.

All entries must be primarily the product of the exhibitor and will be judged on the basis of originality, practicality, simplicity of design, workmanship and finish of product.

Harry H. Wright of Lawrence, Michigan, State Fair Board Member, and W. E. Grover of Saginaw, director of Farm Machinery Exhibits, worked out the details of the contest. No exhibit from a regular commercial farm machinery manufacturing company will be accepted.

"We hope to increase the farmer's interest in home made labor saving devices," said

Wright. "We believe a contest of this kind will encourage farmers to express their ideas by building these devices and will also provide opportunity for others to see these ideas. This should stimulate thinking along safety and efficiency lines pertaining to farm machinery."

Entry blanks may be secured by sending a postal card to Entry Office, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3, Michigan, giving name and address. All entry blanks must be returned by August 20.

Change Squirrel Hunting Season

Squirrel hunting season will be somewhat changed this year from last year's regulations, conservation department workers note.

The entire upper peninsula will be open to gray squirrel hunting October 1-31. In the lower, fox and gray squirrels will be legal October 20-November 10. Last year, in the upper peninsula, only the west and was open. Also, the season ran only October 1-20.

However, hunting regulations on several other small game species will remain the same as last year.

Cottontail rabbit and snowshoe hare regulations will be the same this year. That means an October 1-March 1 season in the upper and northern lower peninsulas on both species, except that Beaver Island will be closed to cottontail rabbit hunting again this year. In the southern lower peninsula, the season will run October 20-January 31, inclusive.

Also, there will be no change in regulations covering skunk and mink hunting. Raccoon hunting and trapping seasons will be the same as 1953 and, again this year, there will be no open season on black squirrels.

For other minor changes in lesser species, consult the game law digest, slated for publication in September, before any of the seasons open.

Voters Decide

or Thomas Poindexter as Oakman's opponent.

The biggest problem of decision for voters will be in the county contests, especially for Democrats. There are, for instance, 13 Democrats seeking the nomination for county treasurer and 14 trying for the county drain commissioner nomination.

The largest field in any Republican race are the six men competing for the state senatorial nomination.

Names of local people will appear on the ballot providing for the election of precinct delegates to the county convention. Democrats and Republicans elect one delegate from each precinct. In Plymouth city, where there are four precincts, none of the candidates have opponents.

Plymouth township, considered as one precinct, has a contest between Herold Hamill and Robert Simmons for the Republican delegate position. The single Democratic candidate is M. Ruth Brown.

There is space to write in nominations for any office.

Mental Illness Tops U.S. Health Problems Today
 "One out of every 20 children born in Michigan today will occupy a bed in a mental hospital at some period during his lifetime."
 Dr. Roscoe W. Cavell, assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of Michigan's Medical School and the Veterans Readjustment Center at the university, uses this startling ratio to emphasize his conviction that mental illness is still our biggest public health problem.
 In a recent medical talk over the University's radio station, WUOM-FM, Dr. Cavell also declared, "More beds are occupied by patients suffering from mental illness than from all other illnesses and diseases combined."
 According to the physician, of every 100 hospital beds in the United States, 55 are occupied by mentally ill patients.
 The problem is even more acute because state hospitals in Michigan today are caring for 4,000 patients more than they were designed to hold.
 Although the statistics are discouraging, the future is considerably brighter than it was 20, even 10 years ago. "Mentally ill patients are curable," said the doctor. "Forty per cent of all new admissions are out of the hospital and at home within five years after their admissions."
 Concluding his review of the mental health picture, Dr. Cavell said: "Our mental hospitals can only be as good as we make them, because we, as taxpayers, provide the money to run them."

Soft Shade WITHOUT SHADOWS! Fibreglas Awnings

Make your room interiors "live" with new color and soft light. These amazing new RAY-O-LITE TRANSLUCENT Fibreglas Awnings can bring your home out of the darkness of old-fashioned awnings. No more gloom and shadow, no more flappy, faded and torn awnings that must be replaced! No more dirty, paint-peeling so-called "permanent" type awnings that cry out for refinishing!

These remarkable new awnings of lifetime Fibreglas plastic deflect the harmful rays of the sun and keep interiors cool and comfortable. Furniture, rugs and draperies stay bright and beautiful. RAY-O-LITE gives your home a new beauty treatment... inside and out!

TOAST MARSHMALLOWS, HUH

One evening when Mary's suit-or was more ardent than before, she cried: "If you don't stop, I'll call the chaperon."

"Do," answered the young man.

"You call her and I'll call my friend and then we'll have a regular party."

AFTER BEING IN AMERICA only six months, Josef Hofmann (left) walked into Plymouth city hall last week and enlisted in the Army for a six-year hitch. He has lived with an uncle at 30870 Schoolcraft road since he came here. Sergeant LeRoy Sipes of the Ann Arbor office of the Army Recruiting Service, shows Josef what branch of the Army he can enter. He chose the construction corps. The 20-year-old native of Berlin said "I think it is a privilege to help serve the country which has given me an opportunity for a new life and career."

Red Cross Blood Bank Falls Below July Quota

Because civilians have lagged in donating blood to the Detroit Red Cross chapter's blood bank, members of the armed services of the area will roll up their sleeves this week to help replenish the local supply. The Detroit bank serves Plymouth as well. With July just about over, the blood center has obtained less than 2,000 pints toward the month's quota of 7,100 pints. According to Mrs. H. R. Penhale, local Red Cross representative, there is a constant demand for blood for military and defense purposes and by hospitals in the five county areas served by the center. The local Eastern Star and Knights of Columbus and the Burroughs corporation have blood accounts with the Red Cross, and Mrs. Penhale said that now would be a fine time for them to build up their accounts. Such is also true for the general public, she said. If eight or more persons wish to go to the blood center in Detroit, transportation will be provided by phoning Mrs. Penhale at Plymouth 252-W. Planning a luncheon? How about a nutritious vegetable plate — peas served in turnip cups, cucumbers in sour cream and buttered asparagus. An average of more than 485 families per week, suffering injuries or losses through disaster, were given Red Cross emergency and rehabilitation aid in the last fiscal year.

A&P Saves You Money On Top Quality FRUITS and VEGETABLES!

Customers' Corner
We Mind Our P's and Q's...
But the "Q" comes first... "Q" for Quality, that is! Because at A&P Quality is never sacrificed to Price!
We have high standards at A&P, and every item sold in our stores must meet our rigid requirements. We never stock inferior merchandise in order to meet or maintain a certain price level.
That's why we can guarantee every single item we sell. And that's why millions of shoppers (who know their P's and Q's) depend on A&P to bring them good food at the lowest possible prices.
Won't you come see... come save... at A&P?

Who's New In Plymouth

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Robert Bullard, Jr., Maple avenue, was the guest of honor at a surprise shower Monday evening given by Mrs. Samuel K. Stephens and Mrs. Matthew Fortney in the Stephens home on Ann Arbor road. Guests were Mrs. Walter Louder, Miss Christiana Burke, Mrs. James Riley, and Mrs. Charles Brosius of Northville, Mrs. Robert Bullard, Sr. of Alpena, Mrs. Palmer Burrows, East Tawas, Miss Marilyn Keohl, Royal Oak, Mrs. James Cannon, Farmington, Mrs. Roy Fisher, Miss Marion Fisher, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Carl Hartwick, Mrs. James Sponseller, and Mrs. William Sliger all of Plymouth. A delightful evening was spent and refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mrs. Bullard was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Out-of-town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Clair, 9840 Phoenix, are Mr. Clair's sister and her husband, the Herman Becks of Staten Island, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz and daughters, Ellen, Amy, Sue and Lou Ann have returned from a vacation trip, motoring through Canada, Niagara Falls, New York and visiting relatives in Pittsburgh and Akron, Ohio.

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given Tuesday evening, July 20, honoring Mrs. Jack Solberg, formerly Pat Wenetpalo. Co-hostesses were Joan Crawford of Livonia and Barbara Gavigan of Plymouth. Guests included Beverly Miner, Detroit, Eda Eskola, Garden City, Norma Page and Janette Kent of Livonia, and Rose Strautz of Plymouth. The guests enjoyed a pleasant evening in the Crawford home and dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mrs. Solberg received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Donovan and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Donovan of Detroit were the Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goyer of Church street.

V. F. W. NEWS

Don't forget the ice cream social the Auxiliary girls are planning on Friday, July 30 in Kellogg Park sponsored by our National Home Fund Committee with Sister Jean Olsen as chairman!

The Auxiliary and Post are also making a trip to the National Home at Eaton Rapids on August 15. All Auxiliary girls are asked to bring some canned goods to our next regular business meeting on August 3 to take to the children at the home. Try and make that picnic trip to Eaton Rapids. It is very interesting to see what is going on at the home the V.F.W. sponsors!

Seven new members have joined our Auxiliary since the new officers resumed their duties. We have initiated our first Korean War veteran's wife, Mrs. Roberta Ross and Mrs. Allen Hokenson, our first mother of a Korean veteran, Mrs. Lucinda Archer, membership chairman, states that this brings our total membership to 105.

We still need Rummage Sale items! Don't forget to save all rummage for our annual fall rummage sale. Call 1553W if you have anything you wish to have picked up!

Americanism chairman Delores Olsaver and President Marie Norman presented a large American Flag to a newly formed Cub Scout Pack in Canton Township on Tuesday, July 20.

A reminder again of our next regular meeting on Tuesday, August 3rd.

Three from Plymouth Enter Horse Show

Three Plymouth girls were among the riders who competed in the horse show presented by the Ann Arbor Saddle and Bridle club last weekend. Appearing in the show were Ellen Cowgill, Mary Foster and Cindy Hull. The show was held at the Huron River Stables.

More than 200 horses were entered from several states to compete for the prize money, trophies and ribbons. The show was a non-profit undertaking by the Ann Arbor club. Proceeds after expenses were pledged to Girls' Town, a statewide organization formed three years ago for rehabilitation of 10 to 15 year-old emotionally disturbed girls and those from broken homes.

Death by Poison Claims Alarming Number in State

Death by poison is increasing at such an alarming rate in Michigan that several state organizations are cooperating to do something about it.

Since human victims of this silent slaughter are rare, the public has not yet been aroused against it. In fact, large segments of the public are the guilty killers. Careless use of chemical sprays is the weapon.

Most of the victims are small animals, generally wild, but often pet cats and dogs, and particularly birds of all kinds. This season alone many thousands of birds have met a convulsive death in the suburban area of Detroit, according to Dr. Marion T. Hall, scientist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, who says that autopsies on numerous dead creatures reveal dangerous concentrations of DDT.

Fully aware of the need to spray certain insect, fungus and virus enemies of plants, Dr. Hall suggests that much of the damage to harmless wildlife is done by uncontrolled spraying of pest insects such as mosquitos, black flies and deer flies.

Seldom lethal immediately.

DDT gradually accumulates in an organism through the digestive tract, or through the skin in humans, creating a general sickness which, with repeated exposure, may eventually result in death.

Concentrations of DDT exceeding two pounds per acre in oil solution are dangerous to mammals, including man, and birds. When used on or near water, concentrations exceeding 1/30 pound per acre are harmful to fish.

"One of the first things some former city dwellers do on moving to their new suburban homes is spray everything that moves," Dr. Hall said. "They want to enjoy nature in a penthouse atmosphere, and soon create a biological desert. They seldom realize that in killing off pests they are likely to slaughter many harmless creatures, including birds which are probably the most effective general insect control."

Particularly dangerous chemicals, aside from DDT, are arsenate of lead, phenyl mercury compounds, nicotine sulfate and aldrin. Dr. Hall recommends that spraying be applied in the proper concentration at the right time of year for a specific problem.

Before using his "Kill It Yourself" kit or calling in commercial sprayers, the householder is urged to seek expert advice from his city forester, city parks department technical staff or county agricultural agent.

If he would like written information on correct spray procedures, he should contact the Michigan State Department of Plant Pathology and Department of Entomology.

Among the several public groups concerned about the destruction of wildlife through careless use of poisons are the Michigan Audubon Society, the Michigan Botanical club, the Humane Society, the Michigan Department of Conservation, the Michigan Natural Areas Council and the Michigan United Conservation clubs.

These organizations, Dr. Hall says, believe that one of the happiest aspects of suburbia is sharing a natural environment with harmless wildlife.

Understand the Hows-Whys of Your Taxes

Sooner or later everyone must pay his due to the tax collector.

Now more than ever this old saw is true, said Dr. Eli Schwartz of Michigan State college, when the total price of providing our many state, local, and federal governmental services comes to a whopping $100 billion a year.

The costs of maintaining and extending our wonderful road system; of providing public education from kindergarten through college; of police and fire protection; of supervising our economy; of furnishing economic security to the aged, the incapacitated, and those temporarily unemployed; the provision of aid to our allies; and above all the cost of building up the siewns of a mighty defense program—all add up to a tremendous bill. John Doe, average citizen, through his income earning and production activities, has to meet it.

One hundred billion dollars is a lot of money, he pointed out, and its impact is difficult to conceive unless it is related to other figures. The total, for example, of all the goods and services produced in the U.S. in 1953 ran about $370 billion. Thus governments at all levels purchased over one-fourth, or approximately 27 per cent, of the gross product of the nation, Dr. Schwartz said.

The total amount of government services and goods provided by every level of government comes to around $650, on the average, for every man, woman and child in the country. Of this, over $250 is expended by the federal government for national defense, he explained. The remaining $400 per capita is split—about half being expended by the federal government, and the other $200 by the states, municipalities and other local governmental units.

The major state and local expenditures are for education, around $60 per capita. Figure about $41 per capita for interest on all debt, about $33 for foreign economic aid and military assistance, about $32 for agricultural programs, conservation, and atomic energy, and finally about $30 for roads and streets, and you have most of the major items, he stated.

By and large, the bill has to be paid. It is true that the federal government may find it impossible during war time (when the government may be paying for as much as 50 per cent of the national production) to tax in full for its expenditures. Furthermore, Dr. Schwartz said, it is often advisable for local governments to pay for needed improvements by floating bonds.

Also the federal government may find it the best policy during a depression to use its enormous credit power, he stated. Why? So as not to tax in full when it would seem inadvisable to reduce further the purchasing power of individuals and business.

If during normal times the various governmental levels spend considerably more than they take in taxes, Dr. Schwartz said, then the result is likely to be an inflation, a general rise in prices which may be more disrupting and painful than the taxes.

About 29 per cent of the tax bill, he explained, say around $210 per capita, is paid in federal and state income taxes. The rest is collected by various sales and excise taxes, payroll taxes, property taxes, licenses and fees, charges for government utilities, and business corporation income taxes. These types of taxes are in general contained in the prices of goods.

These are the sources from which the tax collector fills the treasury, he concluded. Together we all pay the bill; but let us be grateful that our country's economy is strong enough to carry the burden, to be the mainstay of the defense of the whole free world.

Combine Fungicides For Tomato Spray

You can save a lot of trouble and time if you combine fungicides in spraying tomatoes.

Mrs. Miriam C. Strong, Michigan State college plant pathologist, suggests combining insoluble copper and ziram at half the usual amounts when used alone.

The insoluble copper takes care of the three blights and the ziram controls anthracnose. She recommends about six sprays during the season, starting when the tomatoes are about the size of a quarter. The spray should be applied about every 10 days. In case of a late blight epidemic, however, Mrs. Strong advises using the full amount of copper recommended on the container along with the reduced amount of ziram.

Mrs. Strong claims that the treatment has a longer lasting effect than other fungicides used alone.

Disaster struck in 45 states last fiscal year a total of 319 times—and each time the Red Cross was there to relieve human suffering among those still stunned by sudden catastrophe.

Who likes to cook during hot summer weather?

I don't imagine there are many ladies that like cooking on a hot summer day. But I can show you plenty of homemakers who find summer cooking easier and much more pleasant since they started using an automatic gas range. And, they learned about the advantages of a modern gas range the same way you are right now.

They read all about the new easier, faster cooking features such as spacious ovens, smokeless broiling, accurate top burner controls, convenient electric outlets, smart styling, and easy-to-clean porcelain finishes. But what really sold them was the automatic clock controls that enabled them to bake and roast complete dinners automatically. They could relax or take it easy while cooking chores were taken care of with hardly any work at all.

Why don't you stop in at your gas range dealers store and see these new gas ranges. You'll be amazed when you learn how easy it is to own and enjoy one in your home. Get the facts! Don't wait. See them today.

Your Gas Appliance Dealer... will be glad to show you these new automatic ranges. They cost less to buy, less to use, and less to install than any other automatic range on the market today.

Rural Residents Can Help Reduce State Traffic Toll

"People who live and work in rural Michigan can do much just by their own example to reduce the tragic traffic toll which claims 75 per cent of the Michigan auto deaths on rural roads," declared Sergeant Donald Oates, of the Michigan State Police, in his recent address to the Michigan Rural Letter Carriers association conference held at Kellogg center at Michigan State college.

"You and other rural residents and groups, just by your own good driving habits and attitudes, can help reduce this serious rural situation," he told the 250 letter carriers present. He reported that three of every four auto deaths occur in rural areas and that four of every 10 injuries also, all charged against country highways.

The Rural Letter Carriers association was lauded for its efforts in traffic safety and other civic-service fields, rather than operating for only self-interest purposes. "The public must become aroused to take the lead in solving the traffic menace," he said. Law enforcement officials cannot do it alone, Oates declared.

He said the main contributing factor to the alarming rural-area traffic toll is the "higher, excessive speed traveled in the rural areas, thus making those accidents more severe." The relationship between the smallness of the rural law-enforcement staffs and the miles of rural highways also was a factor. There are 93,000 miles of rural roads patrolled by 1,400 officers, compared to the 13,000 miles of city roads patrolled by 8,000 officers.

Hay Spoiled by Rain Can Be Aid to Orchard

Hay that was spoiled by too much rain at the wrong time may be a blessing in disguise for fruit farmers.

Although unfit for livestock feed, the stuff makes good mulch for the orchard. Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the Michigan State College horticulture department, says that more and more fruit farmers are finding that mulching pays off.

He asserts that the spoiled hay will add organic matter and improve the orchard soil. It also will prevent moisture runoff and will ready plant food so it can be used by the trees.

ANNUAL MEETING

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP SCHOOL DISTRICT
June 14, 1954

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Gallimore, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Willoughby, Mr. Isbister, Mr. Sutherland, Mr. Sponseller, Mr. Bentley, Mr. Houghton, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Messacar.

Mr. Gallimore called the meeting to order at 8:05 p.m.

Mr. Isbister was appointed secretary.

Mr. Caplin read the minutes of the last annual meeting. He made particular mention of the school improvement program to be initiated and implemented by funds from the increased taxes by the electorate in the special election in May. He commended the School Community Planning Group for the time, effort and talent given by its members to the studies of important problems facing the school district. He noted the cooperative spirit which exists between this group and the Board of Education.

Mr. Smith, Treasurer of the School District, presented a detailed analysis of the receipts and disbursements of the different accounts under his jurisdiction. He pointed to the favorable condition of the debt retirement funds.

It was moved by Mr. Bentley and seconded by Mr. Sponseller that the Treasurer's report be accepted. Motion Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Bentley and seconded by Mrs. Messacar that the naming of the depositaries for the school funds be left to the discretion of the Board of Education. Motion Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Sutherland and seconded by Mr. Bentley that the length of the school year for 1954-55 be ten months. Motion Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Sutherland and seconded by Mrs. Hopkins that the salaries of the Board of Education be set at $1,500 for 1954-55. Motion Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Sutherland and seconded by Mr. Bentley to adjourn the meeting. Meeting adjourned at 8:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Russell L. Isbister
Acting Secretary

Why not appetizers at the picnic party? Pass them around to stave off the growing hunger as everyone waits for the food to cook. Bring along thinly-sliced party rye bread sandwiches spread with a Roquefort cheese mixture. For a dozen slices, cream a tablespoon of grated Roquefort cheese with 3 tablespoons of cream cheese. Add enough milk to soften and dash of Worcestershire sauce for flavor.

Jetter Returns As Office Manager

Clarence Jetter, who was transferred from his job as manager of the local office of the Michigan Employment Security commission, has been returned here as manager.

A State Civil Service commission hearing in April resulted in the order to reinstate Jetter as manager. He had been transferred from here last September to Ypsilanti after the Employment Security commission cut its forces across the state.

Jetter carried his demotion to the Civil Service commission and showed that he had enough seniority to retain his job as manager here.

Meanwhile, Gordon Packard, who was placed here in September as manager, has now been moved to the Wayne employment office. Jetter opened the Plymouth branch in 1951.

SPORTS

Already looking forward to the new season, Bob Hitt examines a bowling ball to select the proper size.

Bright Sports' Record Compiled by Bob Hitt

One of the few local athletes to reach national prominence is Robert Hitt, one of the top bowlers in Detroit circles. Bob, as he is known to his friends, has played an important part in athletics in Plymouth.

Bob attended grade and high school in the Plymouth schools, where he participated in football, basketball and baseball and starred for three years as a halfback in football, guard in basketball and a pitcher in baseball before his graduation in 1940.

During his high school days, young Hitt was also good enough to become state champion horse-shoe pitcher for men when he was only 15 years old, the youngest lad to ever win the state championship. He held the state title for three consecutive years in 1936-37-38, during which time he competed against the venerable Ted Allen, world's champion shoe pitcher in exhibitions around Michigan.

After graduation from high school school, Bob played in the Detroit Federation, and one year on the Richmond, Indiana team in the Ohio State league as a third baseman, and another year on the Eau Claire, Wisconsin, team in the Northern league as a pitcher.

He entered the armed forces in 1941 and spent four years as one of Uncle Sam's uniformed men serving in the Pacific theatre of operations until his discharge in 1945.

After his army service, Bob played baseball for the Plymouth Merchants team in the Inter-County league for a few years and began to take up bowling seriously. He had become interested in bowling as a youngster in high school. Bob had several 300 games in Plymouth, and three in one day with two of them coming consecutively.

The past four years Bob has been a member of the Detroit E & B team, and plans on being with them again next year. He carried a 200 average in the travelling Detroit Times Classic last year, and a 211 average in the Detroit Major League.

Bob has participated in four ABC national tournaments, and his team came in 9th last year in the national classic with Bob being high man on his team with a 657. He knocked down 1842 pins in the all-events for an average in the 9 games of a 205.

On the walls of his home he has many trophies won on bowling alleys throughout the land. Last year Bob qualified for the world's bowling title at Chicago, but had to miss it because of pressing business reasons. To earn this he finished high enough in the Michigan elimination series for the better bowlers.

He works as a delivery man for the Twin Pines Dairy, and lives with his wife, Virginia, and two children, Julie 4, and Lowell 7, at 31022 Hathaway in Livonia.

Londeau Paces Softball Hitters

Cavalcade's Londeau continued his hefty hitting spree last week when he collected a triple and a home run in two times at bat in the one game participated in by Cavalcade. Those two blows knocked in all the runs scored by Cavalcade in its 5 to 3 victory over Evans. Don Likeweis vaulted into second place when he reached the minimum times at bat limit. Olds dropped some, but still leads Cavalcade by over 20 points in team batting.

In Class B, Wallace of Northville VFW still leads with a prodigious 700 average. His team also regained the team lead from Daisy last week.

The leaders in the Men's league who have been to bat 15 or more times are as follows:

	AB	H	Pct.
Londeau Cav.	32	17	.531
Likeweis Olds.	19	8	.421
Cole Cav.	20	8	.400
Thibadeau Cav.	15	6	.400
Hunt Olds	33	12	.363
Team Olds	291	86	.296

In the Class B those having been at bat 10 times or more are:

	AB	H	Pct.
Wallace VFW	10	7	.700
Papini Daisy	11	7	.636
J. Williams Daisy	15	9	.600
Hudson WW	10	6	.600
Moore Daisy	11	6	.545
Team VFW	134	55	.410

Davis & Lent Nine Cinches E Crown

The Davis & Lent team in the Class E Inter-City league has cinched first place with a 10 win and none lost record. With only four more weeks to play, it looks like the Davis & Lent lads will be the team to go on to further state play.

Last week the leaders added two more victories to its unbeaten string as they took the measure of Boys Republic 17 to 2 and Redford Township 15 to 1. In the latter game Dick Day tossed a no-hitter at Redford, but wildness resulted in the one run.

Jerry Drews chucked the other game and easily held the Boys Republic team at bay with only three hits being charged off his delivery.

Tomorrow Davis & Lent plays Pierson.

Cavalcade, Olds Lead

Both Cavalcade and Beglinger Olds have now played the same number of games and are tied for the lead in the Men's league each having a record of 10 wins and 1 loss. These two teams meet again on Monday, August 9, at 6:15, and have a rained out game to be replayed. That may be made up this coming Saturday evening if arrangements can be made.

Tonight LaFontaine plays Evans at 6:15; Olds goes against B. G. & R. at 7:30; and Plymouth Merchants play Cavalcade at 8:45.

The standings in this seven team league with three more weeks remaining in the regular schedule are as follows:

	W	L
Cavalcade	10	1
Beglinger Olds	10	1
Plymouth Mer.	6	6
Evans Products	5	6
LaFontaine	5	6
Champion Cor.	2	9
Barnes, G. & R.	1	10

Canoe Exhibition

The American Red Cross will present a canoeing exhibition at the Plymouth high school swimming pool Friday, August 13, between 4 and 5 p.m. An expert canoeist, George Wibby, will be present with his canoe to demonstrate the proper technique of safe canoeing, the handling of boats, and boat education in general.

Pool supervisor John McFall states that the Red Cross is bringing this exhibition here because of the numerous boat accidents lately in Wayne County.

This is free to the public and everyone is invited to attend.

Daisy Clings To Loop Lead

The two games played in the Class B last week resulted in a victory for league-leading Daisy over Wall Wire by a 14 to 5 count, and Plymouth Stamping downing Carr's Plumbing 11 to 10.

Daisy launched an early attack to easily defeat Wall Wire. Harold Williams was the winning hurler with Reeves being charged with the loss. Papini, Campbell, J. Williams and Moore led the attack with two hits each. Hudson and Turkett each had two for the losers.

In the other contest Plymouth Stamping came from behind in the late stages to win, 11 to 10. The winners scored 6 runs in the sixth inning, while the losers counted the tying run in the seventh inning. Plymouth Stamping won in the eighth on a two base hit by B. Patrick and a long sacrifice fly by Jerry Vettese.

Thomas was the winning hurler, and also had 3 hits to lead at the stick. Carter was the loser. Bloomhuff had a home run for the losers.

The standings with three more weeks remaining are as follows:

	W	L
Daisy	4	1
Northville VFW	3	1
Ply. Stamping	2	3
Wall Wire	2	3
Carr's Plumbing	1	4

Big First Inning Helps Merchants Defeat Cubs 18-9

A 10-run outburst in the first inning allowed the Plymouth Merchants to coast the remainder of the game with the hapless Cubs and win 18 to 9. The game halted at the end of seven innings by the curfew law, saw many errors, hits and a couple of home runs. The Cubs, who haven't won a game this year, made many errors but scored more runs in this game than they have all year on the 11 hits.

Edu Kubitsky and Pete Ruseaux each hit a circuit clout for the local nine, as the team made a total of 12 hits for their 18 runs.

This win left the local entry with a record of 7 wins and 7 losses with five more weeks left.

Next Sunday Plymouth plays Taylor, the league leader away from home. The last time these two teams met, Taylor administered the worst defeat of the season to the local nine by a 17 to 2 margin. The game will be played at Inkster Park and will begin at 3:30 p.m.

Olds Steals Game!

It isn't very often that a stolen base makes the difference between victory and defeat in a softball game anymore, but it did the other night as Beglinger Olds defeated LaFontaine 1 to 0 in one of the best played games this season. The two opposing hurlers, Street for Olds and Wicker for LaFontaine, each had tossed a no-hitter previous to this encounter. Street emerged the victor as Manager Douglas Egloff led off the fourth inning with a walk; after Wicker got Hunt on strikes, Egloff stole second to score as Likeweis laced a single over second for the only run of the game.

Street allowed two hits in striking out 9 men and walking none. Wicker allowed 6 hits, for the winners with Stout, Schultz, Egloff and Street each having one. Stout had a double in the first with one down and a man on first, but Likeweis was cut down at the plate trying to score.

Houghton got the first hit off Street, a scratch bunt single in the fourth inning; Muszynski getting the other in the last inning only to be nipped trying to steal third base on a snap throw by Hunt.

Evans Scores Leaders

The up-and-coming Evans Products team in the Men's league lost two games last week, but not until they had given the two leaders, Cavalcade and Olds, a battle all the way.

Cavalcade defeated Evans 5 to 3 as Londeau, the league leading hitter knocked in all 5 runs with a home run and a triple. Olds shutout Evans 4 to 0 as Gabby Street allowed only one hit.

In the first game Evans had fought to a 3-All tie in the fourth, only to see a single and a walk ahead of Londeau's triple in the fifth win the game. Londeau had homered in the first after Little had doubled and Brehmer had walked for the first three runs.

Love tossed for Cavalcade and allowed 4 hits, struck out 6, and walked 2. Graczyk, the losing hurler, allowed 5 hits, in striking out 6 and walking 2 men.

Street allowed only one hit in winning his shut out over Evans—that being a single by Etherington in the third inning. Olds counted 3 of their 4 runs in the second inning on walks and errors and a single by Street. Graczyk allowed only 3 hits, but wildness and errors meant the difference in the score.

As a man grows older it is harder and harder to frighten him.—Jean Paul Richter.

Merchants Win Overtime Tilt

It took 10 innings for the Plymouth Merchants to win over a scrappy Barnes, Gibson & Raymond softball nine the other night, and then the winners had to come from behind in the tenth inning to pull the trick.

After the regulation seven innings, the score stood at one run all, The Merchants had counted a run in the fifth on an error and two sacrifices, while the losers had scored in the sixth on two errors and a sacrifice. Neither was able to cross the plate again until the tenth inning when the losers again scored a run on a walk and a double by F. Regulski. The Merchants came back for the two winning runs as Maas walked to open the inning, and with one down, Finnegan singled and an error scored the tying run. Second then sacrificed the winning run home and was safe at first on the fielder's choice.

Secord was the winning pitcher going all the way to allow only 4 hits. Ward was the loser.

Finnegan had two hits for the winner.

Champion Drops Two More Tilts

Champion Corrugated dropped two more contests last week when they were nipped by the Plymouth Merchants nine 8 to 7, and then dropped an 8 to 4 decision to the LaFontaine team.

In the first encounter, Champion had come back to tie the score in the bottom of the fifth inning on a walk to Fennimore and a home run by Jack Scheel, after the Plymouth Merchants had gone ahead in the top of the same inning on a home run by George Carr. The Merchants won the contest in the sixth inning on an error and a single by Gray.

Maas was the winning hurler allowing 4 hits with Pat Kearney being charged with the loss. Kearney allowed 8 hits.

Johnson, Olson and Carr had two bingos for the winners and Sheel's homer was the big blow for the losers.

In the second game, LaFontaine scored 7 runs in the first inning to defeat Champion Corrugated easily 8 to 4. In the first inning, three doubles, two singles and a walk capped by Watko's home run accounted for the 7 counters off Kearney, the losing hurler. Watko hurled with Wellman coming on in the third. Kethum had three straight singles in three times at bat.

Elks Nine Leads Western Wayne

The two leading teams in the Western Wayne County League for boys 18 and under met again last week and battled to a 4 to 4 draw until called by darkness. The Plymouth Elks nine and the Dearborn Roosevelt nine have met four times this season; three in league play and once in the Hearst tourney, with Plymouth emerging the winner twice in league play besides the recent tie, and the Dearborn lads winning the tourney game.

Livonia nipped Inkster 3 to 1 last week to remain in third place in this fast boys' league.

Tonight Plymouth plays Inkster on the local high school diamond at 6 p.m.

The standings in the D league are as follows:

Plymouth	5	0	2
Dearborn	4	2	1
Livonia	3	3	1

can't come out of this downward spiral they soon will be in sixth place.

Cleveland met and defeated the Yankees in the first two games of their vital series in New York, but dropped an extra-inning contest in the third game. Cleveland doesn't look like it will fold this year in the stretch drive as they have done so many times in the last few years. The mainstays in the Yankee hurling department are chugging along in low gear, and the newcomers have been holding the team up in contention, but they may wilt during the hot August drive. I'll still pick Cleveland with New York ending up behind Chicago. We'll see!

How wonderful everyone would feel, particularly the children, if both parents would give an hour, or a few minutes each day, to sharing each other's experiences and thoughts for that particular day. Whether it be at work or at play it can mean so much to both young and old.

Too many parents are too busy with present day problems in their own age group, and forget that children also have problems they may want help with—and the problem may seem trifling to an adult mind, but enormous to that of a child.

If we could just bring ourselves down to the level of the child's surroundings for just an hour a day, and forget everything else, it would be so worthwhile to everyone concerned. Those moments of sharing life experiences might even clear up some problems the children have, as well as some of those confronting adults.

Maybe your Johnnie has trouble while playing with a neighbor child, and if he confides in you, as any child will if he thinks you have an interest in his life, you may learn the nature of his particular problem and help him solve it. The mere fact that he confides in you is well worth the hour spent with him each day: Those children who do not confide in their parents because they feel they have no one who understands them, or someone who has no interest in them, sometime get into trouble. Finding things out the hard way proves a difficult solution for most people.

Parents can get to know their sons and daughters in many ways—playing ball, fishing, playing games, participating in family picnics, or just in having family discussions. I still believe, as I always have, that families should do more things as a group.

JOHN THOMAS, president of the Fury Manufacturing company, designed and built this machine which he calls a progressive shaper. It turns out well over 100 fishing lures per minute. He is shown here operating the machine in his shop located on Ford road near Haggerty.

Local Man Heads Thriving Fishing Lure Business

With over 30,000 of his fishing lures already sold across the nation, the dream of a Green Meadows man to operate a large, thriving artificial bait industry in Plymouth may soon become a reality.

John Thomas, 9445 Elmhurst, is the man behind this dream. He is not only president of the Fury Manufacturing company, he is also responsible for the invention of the firm's main production machine and several radical new lures.

Site of the Fury company factory is an old auto repair garage on Ford road near Haggerty. The company's main office is maintained in Brighton, but Thomas hopes the day may soon come when he can find a suitable manufacturing building in the Plymouth area in which the office can be operated.

Thomas set up the Fury plant on Ford road a year ago, "but we're just getting this thing started," he explains enthusiastically. Though many lure manufacturers are making their products out of plastic nowadays, Thomas believes that only wooden "plugs" produce the proper "play" in the water needed to attract fish. He makes all of his lures of cedar wood.

It was only a short time ago that the Fury company machines could turn out only two plugs at a time. But the machine which turns out the shaped pieces of wood now is capable of grinding out "well over 100 per minute."

Thomas himself designed the machine which he calls a progressive router. He has a patent pending on the router, along with some pending patents on several new lures.

One of his lure inventions is called a "self-locking barbless" hook. Simply, it is a hook without barbs, placed within a wooden plug. As the plug moves through the water, the point of the hook is covered by the wooden part of the lure, letting it pass through weeds without becoming snagged. But as a fish bites the plug, the hook becomes exposed. Thomas also has what he calls an "offset" plug. It has two sets of connected hooks from which the wooden part of the plug can be disengaged. Various colors of plugs can then be used with the same set of hooks.

About 24 people are employed by the company. One operation not performed here is the painting of the plugs. This tedious job is done with air brushes by a number of women in Royal Oak. The making of lures started as a hobby with Thomas. He formerly worked in an aircraft plant but decided to try something else and started to concentrate on his hobby. Though most of his 30,000 lures sold so far have been distributed in the Midwest, many have reached into other states and even to the West Coast.

The name "Fury" was selected by Thomas for just what it means: violent, anger, rage, fierce, frenzy. Any fisherman knows that a good plug must show plenty of action in the water if it is to attract fish. Fury's advertising uses the theme, "Fury action catches fish."

Oddly enough, Thomas does very little fishing himself. Not that he doesn't like the sport. He's just too busy putting the Fury Manufacturing company on the map.

"A flannel umbrella? But why?"
"To keep its ribs warm," he said.

To the Board of Education
Plymouth Township School District

We have audited the books and records of the Plymouth Township School District for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements fairly present the financial position of the Plymouth Township School District at June 30, 1954, of the various funds under your jurisdiction and the revenues and expenditures for the year then ended, in conformity with the school laws of the State of Michigan.

Respectfully,

Chips from the ROCK

It was no fluke that brought Ralph Lorenz the city golf championship last week . . . it was a matter of cold planning and self confidence. So reasonable of winning that he had several bets at unreasonable odds on himself all over town, and this is a fact, because the writer was one of the suckers who underestimated the power of his Austrian determination!

In the resignations of Henry Fisher and Floyd Tibbitts from the city commission Plymouth loses two faithful servants who should be commended for the hundreds of hours they have contributed in the past to local problems. The two vacancies before the commission now, however, give the mayor and remaining commissioners an opportunity to install fresh blood to that civic body and it is hoped they will finally determine on young local businessmen. At no time in the past has there been a time when good clear, unbiased thinking is needed as it is today and we feel that people making their home and dollars in the community will provide the clarity that will be needed to untangle some of this area's future problems.

To give the mayor and his associates an idea as to our thinking on these important appointments we should like to suggest men of the caliber of Rex Purkey, owner of a beautiful home on Sheridan avenue, active in all civic projects, and a representative of a local manufacturing concern which has had no previous representation on any local governmental body. Secondly, we would like to suggest Dr. John Robison, owner of a home and dental office on Penniman avenue adjoining the business section, also active in all civic undertakings and further having a considerable investment in property in Plymouth Township, which is more than important when thinking is done in the future when both city and township problems must be faced.

We reiterate, this is only thinking out loud, but on the other hand we challenge the commission to consider these items about anyone they might appoint, and we think it would be hard to find few less biased, more willing to serve for the benefit of the majority and few more prepared to come face to face with the problems now confronting our community.

And speaking of problems facing the community, we might dwell briefly on the Detroit plan to buy outright all suburban transportation systems. Detroit officials feel if they were to add to D.S.R. service runs to outlying areas such as Royal Oak, Birmingham, Hazel Park and Livonia as well as other east, north and south bus lines, they could put the D.S.R. on a paying basis. This plan would no doubt include our Plymouth Coach company which now serves Plymouth and Livonia. However, only Livonia is being included in the D.S.R. plan, and it remains doubtful if the remaining business of carrying fares from Detroit to Plymouth only would be profitable to the Plymouth Coach company or any other carrier.

It seems important that city fathers and local civic leaders explore this possibility and perhaps go further to induce the C. & O. railroad to provide more adequate transportation from the city to perhaps a Livonia stop as well as Plymouth. When one thinks that it is only a matter of 35 minutes down town on the train as against an hour and a half on the bus it becomes obvious that some immediate attention should be given this matter. The D.S.R. plan might develop faster than anticipated and local residents might find themselves hard pressed for rides to and from Detroit.

This column and the one of last week were written from our summer weekend hide-a-way up on Lake Huron. There is something about sitting in front of a window watching the wash of a beautiful lake on its sandy beach that gives one time for thinking which is seemingly impossible when seated before a typewriter in a busy office where several phones are constantly ringing.

In the last twenty-four hours from our front window we have watched a puffing tug pull two giant sections of the Mackinaw bridge slowly northward, each far longer than any ore freighter that has ever passed our way a small cruiser from Cincinnati that found the going too rough early this morning and was forced to run aground a stone's throw from our window a giant Coast Guard amphibian Duck waddle from the highway to the beach then into the water to pull the stranded cruiser back to sea and on to East Tawas where minor repairs and calm weather will again put it on its way returning sloops from the Mackinaw race full scale headed for home after a week of racing and fun on the island little wonder this column takes on length and breadth while its writer labors under such unfavorable conditions?

More power to the school principal from Wyandotte who has decreed the end of blue jeans for boys and girls of his school. Since this has been a prime problem in our home the last year or two we would welcome such a move on the part of Plymouth's Carvel Bentley. About the best answer Junior has ever been able to give us for his insistence on wearing such apparel is that all of the rest of the kids do and he didn't want to be "chicken".

The fact that Wyandotte's principal stated that the situation was getting out of hand and that "gang psychology" might develop is exactly the theory behind our Junior's argument. We compliment the principal for his stand and look back on our own high school days when, after a late dinner after football practice at night, our main job was to take our slacks to the kitchen, spot them and then lay them evenly on our mother's ironing board, cover with an old wet towel and press with a hot iron till dry.

As I remember, and actually it wasn't TOO long ago, we took pride in having sharp creases in our slacks and wanted to look our best each day with fresh shirt or sweater when we entered the school each morning for classes. Honestly, I can never remember a dry cleaning truck stopping at our home in those days. It was spot your own clothes, brush and hang them out frequently to air, and keep them pressed yourself.

Perhaps it's the job of selling their services that the dry cleaners have done today (and don't think we don't appreciate them and use them most regularly because we do), that has brought on this apathy with parents and the kids. True, you know, with a pair of blue jeans after a couple of day's wear, just toss them in the washer and give 'em a light going over with the iron and they're ready. It may be easier and cheaper but there is a lot of truism in that principal's statement when he says, "dress like bums and you'll act like bums!"

And a final thought for our industry, especially those who are members and have representation on the Metropolitan Building Fund. It has been a long time since the St. Mary Hospital has heard any decision on its request for funds from that organization. With over $300,000.00 on hand the only thing now needed is help from industry to put this much-needed institution under construction. No section of Metropolitan Detroit has grown faster as the result of major industries expansion, and no section of Detroit is more lacking in hospital beds. It is interesting to note that Philadelphia boasts the fact that industry and its people have spent fifty million dollars in capital improvements in hospitals in Greater Philadelphia in the last few years. "More than 50 hospitals have been enlarged and improved to care for the swell of population caused by industries, new opportunities, new jobs, new homes," says the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

A special mention and pat on the back should be given Plymouth Plating's Frank Henderson and the Hotel Mayflower's Board of Directors for their personal charities which in the long run will go to aid some local boy or girl in securing their college education. Mr. Henderson returned his entire expense check, given him as a delegate to the Rotary convention on the west coast, to the club and asked it be placed in Rotary's student loan fund. The Mayflower Board in honor of Charley Bennett's 27 years of service as a member of their board present the same fund with a check for $135.00. Unfortunately, the Rotary club does not make public the loans it makes to Plymouth young people who need financial assistance while in college, but it is a fact that the fund has never lost a dollar and helped more college students than you would ever suspect.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Men have been accused in recent years of losing much of their gallantry. Do you think they are becoming less or more chivalrous as time goes on?"

MRS. LAURENCE E. MACK, 1157 Penniman: "I think most men are pretty much the same as they always were. Most of them are considerate. If they are becoming less chivalrous, some of it may be due to the women."

MISS PAULA MASSARELLO, 276 Union: "In my opinion, they are becoming less chivalrous. They don't do things like opening doors for girls anymore. With a little more thought, I could name lots of other things."

MRS. ANN COOPER, 8905 Butwell: "As a rule, I think they are as chivalrous as they used to be. I don't think they are getting any worse."

PAT NOLAN, 40530 East Ann Arbor trail: "Chivalrous, that's that? Oh, Well, I think men are getting less chivalrous. It depends a lot too on the kind of woman they're with. It seems like women want to become more manly, so why shouldn't men become less chivalrous?"

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman
Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

Stunning news of Blair Moody's death brought renewed public interest in the primary election August 3.

It was a tragic loss to the Democratic party. One that was felt deeply and personally by many party leaders.

It was also a loss that presented some practical political problems.

There seemed little choice. Patrick V. McNamara, Moody's only primary opponent, seemed almost certain of nomination.

There was some talk about a possible sticker candidate, but Gov. G. Mennen Williams refused to make any statement about this subject for several days after Moody's death.

Michigan law is not clear about such cases as Moody's. According to one section, the Democratic State Central Committee could pick another candidate and order his name pasted over Moody's on the ballot. Another section mentions that voters can write in names.

Relations between Williams and McNamara had been formal, almost to a point of being stilted. In early stages of the campaign McNamara had accused Williams of making a "vest pocket" candidate out of Moody. He had made bitter statements about favoritism by Democratic Chairman Neil Staebler. He has been associated with AFL and has remarked pointedly about "the present ADA, CIO boss and egghead leadership."

Democratic leaders gave silent thanks that their relationship with McNamara had improved since the caustic comments at the beginning of the campaign. Their problem would have been infinitely more complex if the relationship had been one of open warfare as exists in the Lieutenant Governor race.

"The first I knew about it was what I read in the papers," said the Governor when asked about the report that Moody had tried to withdraw from the race because of ill health.

The story was quickly and vehemently denied by Blair Moody Jr. He said that his father wanted nothing more in life than to continue the campaign and that he never considered withdrawing. Neil Staebler said: "The inference that Mr. Moody wanted to withdraw from the senatorial race and was prevented by party leaders is completely untrue. It defames the integrity of a great senator."

Harmony in the Republican camp, on the other hand, was so much in evidence that the campaign could be considered dull. As one Capitol reporter put it: "All of them are in favor of good roads, good schools, lower taxes, etc. I don't hear much talk about how these things will be paid for, or specific steps candidates expect to take."

This is a new situation for Republicans who consider they lost several elections because such vigorous campaigning took place in primaries that the party could not unify itself behind the winning candidate.

And it presents different problems. Much less campaign money has been made available to candidates than in other years. "Everyone seems to feel it doesn't matter which of the men is nominated," said a GOP figure. "They don't see much advantage to backing any of them now—or risking the support of one who might not win the nomination."

Expectations are that once the primary is over, much support will materialize. Something else is expected to materialize when the primary is over: maneuvering for positions of the state administrative board. Candidates for these offices are selected by state convention of each party. Democrats hold their get together in Grand Rapids on August 14; the GOP meets the same place a week later on August 21.

Much speculation can be made about both situations, but the more interesting is the GOP.

Positions open include: secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general, auditor general and superintendent of public instruction.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES THE 1954 CROP OUTLOOK

Babson Park, Massachusetts. The remarkable fecundity of America's farm lands will be graphically demonstrated again this year, if weather and other crop conditions continue favorable. My survey of the over-all picture indicates that the total output of all crops will be only moderately under the world record established in 1948.

WHEAT MISSES THE BILLION-BUSHEL MARK

For only the second time in eleven years, 1954 wheat production may fail to exceed 1,000,000,000 bushels. Although the winter crop—now about harvested—has done well, with an indicated crop of around 759,000,000 bushels, black stem rust has hit the spring crop in the Dakotas and Minnesota, cutting yields down in that territory. However, I forecast adequate total supplies. I predict also that sizable amounts will enter storage under Government loans. This could result in temporary higher prices later on.

Prospects for most of the other grains are quite promising. I expect output of oats to hit a record high of over 1,500,000,000 bushels. The flaxseed crop may be the second largest on record, and the hay crop the third largest. A big barley crop and a sizable rye output also are indicated. This is a favorable development for cattle, hog, and poultry raisers. Incidentally, I predict that the number of cattle and hogs on farms next January 1 will be relatively large.

BUMPER CORN AND SOYBEAN CROPS

Corn farmers really went to town at planting time last spring; in fact, they planted nearly a half million acres more than planned in the March intentions. The second largest crop on record is currently indicated; but what the final output will be remains to be seen. Much depends upon the weather between now and harvest time. With the hog-corn ratio still at favorable levels, a large corn crop could be profitable for hog producers.

I have long been intrigued by soybeans—one of the nation's most versatile crops, with a phenomenal growth curve in recent years. I should not be surprised if farmers put more acreage into soybeans this year than ever before, because of diversion of acreage from crops under allotment programs, attractive prices, and favorable planting conditions. This could mean a large crop and downward pressure on soybean prices at harvest time.

COTTON AND OTHER FALL CROPS

Heavy supplies of U. S. cotton would have glutted markets and severely depressed prices during the past year had it not been for Government loans. Yet, the basis has been laid for an improved statistical position in the 1954-1955 season. Cotton farmers more than complied with the Government's rigid control program. Acreage in cultivation on July 1 was sharply under a year ago and the ten-year July 1 average. Total supplies, nevertheless, will be sizable, but prices will be well propped at 90% of parity.

Other fall crops, with the exception of potatoes, promise to be in large supply. Potatoes, however, should be in good balance with requirements, barring further damage to the Maine crop. Baked bean lovers can look forward to full pots. Rice pudding devotees also have nothing to worry about, since a record output of this grain is indicated. Production of sugar beets this year is likely to be far above the ten-year average. This will further complicate the problem of a world over-supply of sugar; but U. S. prices may be well controlled by the Federal Import Quota Program.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Wedding Ring Salad

A luscious looking and tasting Wedding Ring salad is the favorite recipe of Mrs. Ernest F. Wilson of 250 Garling drive. Called a Wedding Ring salad because it resembled a golden wedding band, the salad is ideal for any guest occasion or makes an extra special treat for a family dinner.

The Wilsons, who just recently moved into their Garling drive residence, have one daughter, Theresa, age three.

- Wedding Ring Salad
- No. 2½ can peach slices
 - 2 packages orange or lemon Jello
 - 1½ cups hot water
 - 12 ounce bottle ginger ale
 - 1½ cups chopped walnuts
 - Maraschino cherries, quartered

Drain the juice from the can of peaches. Overlap the slices in the bottom of a 1½ quart ring mold. Outline with quartered cherries. Dissolve the two packages of Jello in 1½ cups hot water and add the ginger ale. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat until fluffy. Chop remaining peaches and fold into Jello with 1½ cup chopped nuts. Place in the mold. Refrigerate until firm and serve.

Mrs. Ernest Wilson begins to get out the materials for her delicious Wedding Ring salad.

New Books at Dunning Library

After several very large shipments of new books, the Dunning Library is taking a breather this week and has added only two novels to its collection, "The Story of the Romance" by William E. Rively, S. J. and Grace L. Hill's "The White Lady", and a booklet on the "Michigan State Fair—1954."

However, there are several new additions among the circuit books. These are loaned to the branch libraries on a three-month basis and tend to cover specific material, appealing to those who wish to pursue a definite interest. In this group are "Radio and Television Announcing" by Barnhart, Lura W. Watkins "American Glass and Glassmaking," "The Handbook of Window Display" by Nestor Castro, John S. Collis "Triumph of the Tree" which pertains to the place of trees in nature and their effect upon mankind, and A. N. Jones' "Techniques in Choral Conducting."

Other readers will also enjoy

"By Land and By Sea," a selection of essays and addresses by Samuel E. Morison, America's famous historian; L. Abegg's "The Mind of East Asia," "The Book of Famous Escapes" by Eric Williams, Philip Van Doren Stern's "A Pictorial History of the Automobile, 1903-1963," a biography of "Henry Cabot Lodge" by John A. Garraty, Irving Kolodin's "The Story of the Metropolitan Opera," which covers this famous landmark from its opening date in 1883 to the arrival of Rudolf Bing.

An over-all picture of modern science for the layman and general reader has been compiled and edited by Harlow, Shapley, Samuel Rapport and Helen Wright in a volume called "A Treasury of Science."

Also among the circuit books are Janet A. Smith's "Life Among the Scots," Ruth M. Underhill's history of Indians in the United States, under the title of "Red Man's America," and "Elizabeth and Philip" by Geoffrey Bocca.

Hance Conducts Arithmetic Workshop at Local College

Lyle D. Hance conducted an arithmetic workshop at Madonna college on Friday, July 23.

The theme of the workshop, "How to Make Arithmetic Meaningful," was interwoven in the methods suggested for the different grade levels. Mr. Hance stressed the fact that students must be taught to think quantitatively. Three difficulties were pointed out in this regard: 1. quantity is an abstract concept, 2. symbols give no indication of their quantitative value, and 3. our number system is unique.

To help remedy the situation, Mr. Hance illustrated how the felt board, tens-pockets, kinesthetic flash cards, common fraction and decimal fraction kits, and various charts—all teacher or student made—could be put to practical use. "You must 'concretize' an abstract concept by things," he said. "In order to teach about things, you must have things around."

Phases of teaching arithmetic which Mr. Hance covered in his lectures included an explanation of the number system, the presentation of a new concept, problem-solving, drill in fundamentals, and common and decimal fractions.

The workshop was presented through the courtesy of the John C. Winston company, for which Mr. Hance is Director of Research and Publicity.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Self-confidence could be described as the basis of good health and beauty. This is recognized by doctors everywhere. A happy, healthy mind, with a normal outlook on life, is essential.

Millions of dollars are being spent on research and treatment in this field each year. A happy home life, starting from the time a baby is born, is the most important single contributing factor.

Some personalities require more understanding and love than others. If you find you have an over-sensitive child, and feel that this quality is making him unhappy, consult a child psychologist. This will save the parent and child years of worry and unhappiness.

The symptoms of over-sensitivity are often-times hard for a layman to detect. One couple with an over-sensitive son was told that the boy was mentally retarded and would remain so. Because they were unwilling to accept the situation, they went to expense and trouble to take the child to one of the outstanding child psychologists in the country.

This psychologist after extensive examinations, told the couple that the boy had mirror vision which made it impossible for him to learn as the other children in his class did. Also, probably because of this condition, he had a terrific case of over-sensitivity.

They were told to give the child treatment for his mirror vision and to lavish love and attention on him.

Today the boy is on his way to becoming a healthy, normal and confident person.

Local Girl Visits Finland

Marilyn Sackett of Northville, granddaughter of Michael Kliniski, Ann Arbor road, is leaving for Finland July 28 for a visit with a former University of Michigan classmate in Helsinki.

Flying from Wayne County airport, Miss Sackett will spend about 18 days or more in Finland visiting with her friend and sight-seeing, and then return home by air.

SOCIAL NOTES

Just back from a trip to Niagara Falls and Philadelphia, where they visited relatives, are the Frank Kellers and son, Russell, of 333 Evergreen. Mrs. Keller's mother, Mrs. Reynolds, also accompanied them on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fieldner of Bryan, Ohio, parents of Mrs. W. E. Ackerman, 11060 Southworth, will visit the Ackerman home for a family picnic to be held August 1. Other relatives from Detroit will also be present at the picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGraw of Adams street and family are vacationing this week near Hillman, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keller of Evergreen will leave soon for their cottage at Lake Chemung, where they will spend the remainder of their vacation.

A family get-together was held this Sunday at the home of Miss Ruth E. Butts on Penniman avenue. The occasion was the celebration of the 86th birthday of Miss Butts' father, Mr. A. H. Butts of Florida.

Recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ash, Dewey street, were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson and son Allen of Van Nuys, California. After dinner 30 members of the Charles Ash family came in to visit with the Robinsons.

Miss Louella Coonce, 15716 Cadillac drive was the hostess last Monday evening at a farewell party honoring Miss Alma Furman who is returning to her home in Florida. Guests included Janetta Kent, Doris Honey, Jean Bonga, Ann Finnegan, James Cresman, David and Charles Hickerson, Carson Coonce and Ray Greenlee, all of Plymouth, Ervin Smith of Northville and Jerry, Betty and Sandra Sullivan of Wayne.

A surprise shower honored Mrs. S. K. Stephens of Ann Arbor road on Saturday evening given in the home of Mrs. Robert Bullard, Maple avenue. Guests were Mrs. James Cannon, Farmington, Mrs. Charles Brosius, Mrs. Lee Heaton, Mrs. Walter Loudon and Mrs. Beth Lapham of Northville, Mrs. Matthew Fortney, Mrs. Carl Hartwick, Mrs. James Sponseller, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. William Slinger, Mrs. Leroy Jewell and Mrs. Derwood Jewell, all of Plymouth. A lovely evening was spent and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Stephens received many lovely little gifts.

Several days of last week were spent by Ruth Butts at her brother's cottage at Whitmore Lake.

Mrs. Raymond G. Martin of Morgantown, West Virginia is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Harry A. Roberts of 585 McKinley.

Sandra Noll, who resides on South Main street, is enjoying six weeks on the Eastern sea shore at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Harris, the former Eleanor Barlow, of Somerville, Massachusetts.

Ruth Butts of 1274 Penniman has just returned from a series of vacations. Right after school closed, she and some friends from Lansing made a thorough tour of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Following this, Miss Butts spent two weeks at the home of her sister in Canada. Planned for this week is a visit with her nephew and family at their cottage on Lake Erie, near Blenheim, Ontario. Miss Butts will then drive her parents, the A. H. Butts, to their home in Florida where she will spend the remaining weeks prior to the opening of school on August 23.

School Majorettes Appear in Parade

Plymouth high school's drum majorettes received attention from the Grand Rapids Press this weekend, when they were photographed as they marched in the State American Legion parade last Saturday. Shown in the newspaper picture were young Plymouthites Dawn Huebler, Norma Albright, Jackie O'Neill, Janice Kowalcik and Janet Mulholland.

The high school band appeared in the parade on the invitation of the Passage-Gayde post to lead the 17th district in the parade. Over 3,000 Legionnaires marched, and the Plymouth band appeared second among the 30 bands.

Banana - Cantaloupe Cup is Festive Dish

Are those folks of yours hard to feed in summer? Wilted by the weather, they certainly can be a problem to a conscientious cook. Ever try a big, generous first course of fruit to put the family in a good mood for a main meal?

Cantaloupes are one of the plentiful foods in the U. S. Department of Agriculture list for July. To make a really novel first course for your family on a hot summer's day, fill half a cantaloupe with assorted diced fruits and berries, and garnish it with creamy crescents of fully-ripe banana.

Bananas are excellent in summer nutrition because they have a well rounded supply of vitamins and minerals, and they furnish a quick energy pick-up.

Banana Cantaloupe Cup
2 small cantaloupes, chilled
4 ripe bananas

2 cups mixed, diced fruits and berries (fresh, frozen or canned)

Mint for garnish

Use fully ripe bananas. Yellow peel flecked with brown. Cut each cantaloupe crosswise into halves. Remove seeds and stringy portions. Cut 3 melon balls from the bottom of each half to use for garnish. Peel bananas. Divide three bananas into quarters by cutting each once lengthwise and once crosswise. Arrange 3 pieces of banana inside each melon half with points upward and cut surfaces next to melon. Place about 1/2 cup mixed diced fruits and berries in the center of each melon. Flute remaining banana by running prongs of fork lengthwise down the banana, then slicing crosswise. Garnish with the fluted banana slices, melon balls and crisp sprigs of mint.

Makes 4 servings.

First Picnic Was No Fun

Unlike today's festive outings, the first picnic wasn't much fun. In fact, the first meal man ever ate was on a picnic. But this was before he learned to seek shelter in caves or build houses, and of necessity, he had to eat his food where he found it, in the uncivilized wilderness.

The picnic, as we know it, has been a development here in America. However, picnics of a sort have been a favorite type entertainment in Europe and elsewhere for hundreds of years.

Just how the word "picnic" came into being is not exactly known. It is derived from the French word "piqueur," literally meaning to pick. When, and by whom, the "nic" was added to give us the modern word is not known.

Picnics Are Old

Some of the first picnics are mentioned in the verses of the famous Greek poet, Homer, who lived more than 2,000 years ago. Outdoor eating of one kind or another has been a favorite throughout the years since then. Today it is a favorite still, with people throughout the world.

Originally picnics were held indoors, that is, the pleasure-motivated gatherings of friends and relatives. For a while, they were considered the height of social fashion. The various guests would bring various dishes which were placed on a common table. Then all would pick what appealed to him from numerous offerings. Due to the large numbers of people who attended this popular form of entertainment, it was necessary to move the scene of operations out of doors because no one building could accommodate all the guests.

There was a time during the 18th century in England when the popular outdoor outing, as we know it, developed into quite a formal affair. Picnic societies were the vogue and not only did the guests partake of a sumptuous buffet style meal, but were treated to theatrical and social entertainment.

Picnics—American Style

Here in early America, of necessity, political rallies and fraternal parties held out of doors developed into picnics because of a lack of facilities to otherwise take care of the crowds. The picnic idea was broadened to take in all sorts of excursions and pleasure outings.

Today picnics are more popular than ever. The barbecue pit and the portable grill makes every backyard a picnic site. Here particularly it has become the favorite means for the man of the house to show off his culinary ability—often with help from the youngsters—and give mother a rest from preparing meals. Simple grilling of meats, tossing a salad, and a variety of sandwiches make any backyard meal second to none, when combined with the pleasure of eating out of doors.

Recipe Sings Semi-Sweet Duet In Frosting and Sauce

Want a wonderful chocolate frosting? Want a perfect chocolate sauce? Want them both in quick and easy style? Then you need only one recipe, our Semi-Sweet Chocolate Duet. With this recipe, you can make delicious frosting that has delicate, semi-sweet chocolate flavor. For a perfect chocolate sauce, just add more milk to the same basic recipe. It's that simple to complete either of the desserts in the photo, the chocolate-frosted sheet cake, or the cake à la mode with chocolate sauce.

Semi-Sweet Chocolate for Quick Desserts

Semi-sweet chocolate morsels are just right for quick chocolate cookery. This is the same chocolate that is used to stud Chocolate Crunch Cookies with morsels of candy-like chocolate flavor. As semi-sweet chocolate is already in small pieces, it melts readily for speedy chocolate cookery. This chocolate has such perfect, candy-like flavor that it requires few ingredients to make a frosting or sauce. In fact, you can't leave semi-sweet chocolate morsels around, or they'll be eaten as candy before you get a chance to use them in cookery. So hide a package, and make this delicious recipe.

Semi-Sweet Chocolate Duet (Frosting or Sauce)

1 package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels	3 to 4 tablespoons hot milk, for frosting
2 tablespoons butter or margarine	1/2 cup hot milk, for sauce
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

In top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate morsels and butter. Heat until melted and mix until smooth. Remove from heat. For frosting, add milk and sugar alternately, adding enough milk to make a spreadable consistency. Stir in vanilla. For sauce, increase milk to 1/2 cup. YIELD: Frosting for top of 10 x 15 inch cake, or 1 1/2 cups chocolate sauce.

Poultry and Ice Cream Head The July List

Broilers and fryers share the top spot with ice cream on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for July—with dairy production continuing at a record-breaking level.

Wholesale broiler and fryer prices should continue without upsurges. Total supplies for July are about 5 per cent above last July.

The first sizable marketing of new-crop turkeys will be on hand, with light birds available throughout the month.

Beef will continue to be plentiful. There is an abundance of the higher-grade meat from grain-fed cattle. Grass-fed cattle will be coming to market in seasonally larger numbers to provide more of the intermediate and lower grades of beef.

Produce markets will be abundantly supplied with a wide variety of vegetables from nearby market gardens, in addition to the heavy vegetable shipments from commercial growing areas.

The list for July includes fresh fish, peanuts and peanut butter, and vegetable fats and oils.

Quick Shampoo Tip

If a cold keeps you from having the shampoo you'd like, or if you're caught on short notice with not enough time to launder your topknot, then give yourself a fast cologne "shampoo." Saturate a cotton pad with your favorite cologne, and rub briskly along the hairline, along the part, and wipe away superficial dirt from the locks. If necessary, set your hair. It will wave quickly since cologne is fast drying.

Catch of Fish Needn't Mean Daily Fish Diet

Good vacation fishing doesn't mean that the whole family eats fish until the catch is consumed, or that the fish must be given away. If the fish is frozen and stored in a home freezer, it may be served fresh-tasting when the vacation has become a memory.

Fish are prepared for freezing in the same way as if they were to be cooked at once—scalded, eviscerated and washed thoroughly in cold water. Stuff with crumpled freezer cellophane for easier stuffing later.

It's best to freeze fish the same day they are caught. Away from home, cleaned fish may be frozen by using dry ice and kept frozen until placed in the home freezer. If fish must be held before freezing, they should be kept packed in crushed ice, and washed thoroughly before being packaged.

For freezing, fish are simply wrapped and sealed tightly in moisture-vapor-proof paper or foil. Some persons think that quality of the fish is improved by first immersing it about a half-minute in ascorbic acid water (one tablespoon to the gallon). And there are advocates of glazing the fish in ice before packaging to seal in juices and keep out air. This is done by freezing the unwrapped fish and then, using ice water, repeatedly dipping and freezing them individually until a 1/4-inch ice coat forms. Then wrap them.

Off on an Hour's Vacation!

To be honest with you, we're not certain where he's going. He may be journeying to a branch office of his corporation... or he may be heading home for the day... or he may just be taking his afternoon "constitutional" behind the wheel.

But one thing we know for certain. He's about to embark on a little vacation. And for its length, it will be one of the most wonderful interludes a man could enjoy.

For he's about to spend an hour in his 1954 Cadillac—and here, beyond any question, is the perfect remedy for a trying day.

It will bring him physical relaxation—for his Cadillac is so comfortable and luxurious that merely to sit in the driver's seat is to rest. And the car handles and steers with such complete effortless that every mile is a tonic for the body.

It will bring him mental refreshment—for the car is such a joy to drive and such an inspiration to ride in that a man seems almost automatically to leave his cares at the curbside.

And it will bring him renewed enthusiasm and interest—for every moment a man spends with his Cadillac serves as a stimulating reminder of his past accomplishments—and acts as a wonderful inspiration for planning and thinking out the future.

All this is the very essence of Cadillac value. All cars offer transportation—and varying degrees of satisfaction. But it remains for Cadillac to provide a therapeutic for the mind and body of a work-weary man.

In this glorious respect, there are simply two types of automobiles: Cadillacs and all the others.

Come in sometime—when life has grown stale with the toil of the day—and take an hour's vacation in a 1954 Cadillac.

We know it will be the most refreshing sixty minutes you ever spent on the highway—and we'll be delighted to provide the car at any time!

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD

THE NEWLY REMODELED KITCHEN in the home of Mrs. Helen Arnold at 802 Fairground features Jalousie windows and tongue in groove pine paneling. The interior designing for the kitchen was worked out by Eger-Jackson, and Roberts Supply company supplied the lumber, fixtures and windows. Cabinets in the kitchen are built of hardwood plywood, while the handles and hinges help carry out the early American theme. Shown here, seated at the kitchen table, are Mrs. Arnold's grandsons, David Speer, left, and Larry Hosier.

Thick Layers Of Old Paint Can Easily Spoil New Job

A dollar bill, a magnifying glass, and a chip of old paint from the wall are handy tools to start with if you're going to repaint the exterior of your house.

The magazine recommends repainting with the same kind of paint used previously, or with a new paint that is compatible with the old.

For all painting, American Builder advises the use of the best paints available and says to beware of buying paint which promises "great savings" in cost.

"The best paint is a matter of manufacturer reputation and neighborhood experience," the magazine says. "If you think you can do better than using one of the well-known brands, be sure to choose a paint which has been used successfully on other houses or similar surfaces in the neighborhood."

INSPECTION

When inspecting a new kitchen look beyond the shine and shimmer for efficiency and convenience. Are the shelves easy to reach? Is there cabinet space near each main activity center—food preparation counter, sink, range, refrigerator? Is easily cleaned, durable clay tile used for counters, floors, splashbacks? Is it roomy enough for three people to work in?

Window Shopping With Sue

Plymouth Lumber and Coal company has gone right along with the "do-it-yourself" trend and will help you with estimates, house plans, etc. As a special service they're giving their customers the little booklets put out by Better Homes and Gardens on "do-it-yourself" projects. There are six booklets in all that cover such diversified subjects as the Workshop, Garage, Attic, Basement, Gates and Fences, and Bookshelves. Materials to carry out these projects are, of course, available at Plymouth Lumber and Coal company, too.

While on the subject of do-it-yourself, you homeowners might be interested in "Ripplewood," a textured-wood wall paneling. Ideal for new construction or remodeling, "Ripplewood" is a snap to apply and may be used for full-room or occasional-wall treatments. You might use it for cabinets, displays, screens and built-ins.

"Ripplewood" needs no priming coat since the factory has already taken care of that for you. With these panels you get all the richness and beauty of natural wood plus an entirely new textural effect. The surface is finished off with tight knots, bark pockets as well as other natural-wood characteristics.

By using this interesting medium, you can get many dramatic and decorative effects such as a two-tone finish in contrasting shades—just by wiping off the first coat, which will still cling to the deeper grooves, and repainting when dry with a darker shade. Or you might like a rich, antique finish achieved by staining the panels. Possibilities are almost unlimited in the effect you can get with these panels, and they come in various sizes for the convenience of the homeowner—4 by 8 foot, 12 by 12 inch and 16 by 16 inch squares. Plymouth Lumber and Coal company will be glad to show them to you, or advise you on how to achieve the contrasting color or tone effects possible with "Ripplewood."

HERE'S HOW... MAKE A GARDEN BENCH

A slat-topped garden bench or outdoor coffee table is an attractive addition to either the formal garden or the play area.

The top is made of ten 1 by 2-inch strips, each 60 inches long, fastened to two cleats of 1 by 4-inch lumber, each 16 1/2 inches long. Use No. 6, 1 1/2-inch wood screws for fastening. Slat ends are spaced 1-inch apart.

The legs are made from 2 by 4's—each 17 inches long, and tapered as shown in (C) to give a slanting effect.

Frame sides and ends are of 1 by 4-inch lumber, two pieces 60 inches long, and two pieces 15 inches long. These are bolted to the legs with 1/4-inch bolts to provide a rigid frame (B).

Two cuts are made in each of the frame sides (C), into which the cleats on the under side of the bench top will fit. The cleats are fastened to the legs and frame with small angle-braces, thus freeing the top of any exposed hardware.

The bench should be sanded smooth, and all sharp edges rounded or beveled.

Flue Blocks Make Wall

For the home-owner who wants something a little different, here's an idea from American Builder, the light construction industry magazine: Use concrete flue blocks to make a striking-looking wall along a patio. The blocks give a good measure of privacy without shutting out the breeze, which passes through the open cores of the blocks. American Builder says this is only one of the many uses—conventional and unconventional—for concrete products.

Re-Painting Radiators

Radiators which are grease-free and rust-free may be painted with a flat wall paint of the same tint as the walls or with an enamel. The former practice of using a metallic paint is seldom followed these days because it has been established that these retard the radiation of heat. Such metallic coatings are used instead on pipes, and storage tanks where it is important to keep heat in.

Question: What is the right or wrong time to transplant bushes? We have one which is in the way and would like to put it in a different place. Are there any precautions to take?

Answer: Except when the ground is frozen hard, you can transplant bushes any time. If you take sufficient earth in a clump around the roots to keep them covered, no precaution is necessary. Simply set bush and root clump and earth in a new hole. If you expose a lot of the roots to the air when digging up the bush, soak the earth in the new hole, set in the bush and add a few inches of earth at a time, washing it around the roots with water, and finally tamping it lightly. In very hot weather, provide a shade against the sun and water frequently for several days.

To paint radiators with a minimum of effort, use a long-handled sash brush and work from the inside out.

These Events Were News

50 Years Ago

August 5, 1904

Mr. Mott, of Salem, set fire to some stumps one day this week. The fire got the best of him and ran into Mr. Robert's wheat field. It did little damage but created quite a big scare.

F. Theuer has had a cement floor in his cellar, henhouse and cement walk at the back of his house. Charles VanBlaircom of Newburg is doing the work.

Some excitement was caused Saturday night by John Montgomery, who wanted to die real easy. Montgomery wanted to shuffle off some time ago by the laudanum route but failed, and this time he procured some morphine. After getting a phial of the stuff he entered the Wolverine Drug store to have the cork drawn. Mr. Pinckney took the bottle away from the man, and in the shuffle it was broken. Montgomery left the store and at once made himself scarce. A warrant for disorderly conduct was issued by Justice Valentine, but the officer was unable to find the man. Montgomery appears to be much of a nuisance and a great deal of a bluffer. He doesn't act as if he wanted to die real bad.

A warrant was issued on the 6th of August last year for Charles Crampton, charging him with the larceny of a drum from Chester Arthur. Before it could be served Crampton had been arrested in Detroit and sent to Ionia for a year. His time was up last Friday and deputy sheriff Spfinger was there ready to bring him back. Before Justice Valentine last Saturday he pleaded guilty and was bound over to the circuit court.

Monte Wood, pitcher for the Plymouth Juniors, received a telegram Tuesday evening from the manager of the East Jordan club to join them at once and he left on the first train out. We expect to see Monte make a creditable showing in fast company. Several other players going away from town will probably result in the breaking up of the Juniors.

Buying A Watch Involves International Problems

Buying a watch is a complicated task according to Dr. John M. Hunter, professor of economics at Michigan State college, and it has implications much greater than usually realized. In fact, buying a watch is an international problem that affects all our pocket books.

Dr. Hunter said that if you buy a foreign-made watch, you pay more for it than its cost plus the producer's and middleman's profits. If you buy an American-made watch, you indirectly subsidize a U. S. firm. That is, you pay more for it than would be required if the watch industry were not a "protected" one.

A tariff on watches is responsible. A tariff is simply a tax on imported goods—usually regarded as something someone else pays and which does not affect us as individuals, he said.

Suppose you are in the market for an expensive watch, one with more than seventeen jewels. (There are tariffs on all watches with rates varying with the size and quality of the watch.) The tariff on this type of watch is $10.75 each. Thus according to Dr. Hunter if a Swiss watch maker can "land" a watch in New York for $100, its price before it leaves customs is $110.75 and ultimately its price to you will be at least $121.50 more than its production costs justify. It will probably be more as "mark up" is added.

If you buy directly from the importer, he explained, who marks up 20 percent without the tariff, his price is $120 but with the tariff his price is $132.90 ($110.75 x 120 percent.)

Dr. Hunter stated that the tariff does directly affect us and our pocket books when we buy dutied goods or products which include imports subject to tariffs.

But suppose you choose the American watch instead. How do you subsidize the American firm? The tariff prevents the Swiss firm from landing this type of watch at less than $110.75 in the U. S. This means that it cannot effectively compete price-wise with comparable American watches below that price. Thus the American firm is able to sell its watches at slightly less than at $110.75 without fear of Swiss competition, he pointed out.

If the American producer's costs are equivalent to Swiss costs, explained Dr. Hunter, he can make a fat profit, but more likely the added money will go to pay his higher costs. The fact that he is probably a high-cost producer is evidenced by the watch industry's persistent demands for tariff protection on the grounds that it cannot satisfactorily compete with Swiss producers.

He summarized by stating that if you finally choose the foreign watch you pay a higher price than necessary by at least the amount of the tariff. If you buy the domestic watch, you pay a higher price than necessary, too, because the domestic producer, by having artificial burdens placed on his competition, is enabled to charge higher prices than would be possible without the tariff.

He feels that this situation penalizes efficient U. S. industries! Because the Swiss sell fewer U. S. dollars and so must restrict purchases of automobiles, machinery, foodstuffs—the very industries which are especially profitable in the U. S. and in which wages are highest.

So you're buying a watch! It is a complex international problem as well as an important personal decision, according to Dr. Hunter. You buy sugar, too, and use chemicals, photographic equipment, toys, lightbulbs, leather goods, woollens.

These things, and many more, are subject to tariffs, and the analysis of the effects of the tariff applies to them, too, he stated.

He felt that deciding between "protection" and "free trade" is one of the public policy problems that beset us today. It directly concerns us all.

Measles Leads City's Illnesses.

A health report submitted by Dr. R. R. Barber, city health officer, shows a general decrease of most diseases in the city, everything except measles.

Fifty-eight cases of measles were reported during the first six months of the year compared to only five in the same period last year. Polio, the most dreaded of the illnesses, has failed to strike in the city during the first six months. There were three cases during all of last year, all during the last six months of the year.

Here is a breakdown of other illnesses for the first six month periods of this year and last year: Chicken-pox, 2 this year, 8 last year; mumps, 1 this year, 5 last year; whooping cough, 1 this year, none last year; typhoid, none either year; infectious hepatitis, two this year, three last year.

Dr. Barber reports no births yet this year in the city and four deaths. Lack of a hospital brings about this strange situation in this city of some 7,400 people. The doctor has also issued 75 food handlers licenses and made 44 inspections.

Warn Against Doing Too Much When Vacationing

Going on a vacation? Well, have a good time but be sensible, says the Tuberculosis and Health Society.

A vacation is a wonderful time to improve your health and disposition if it is used correctly but it can be a strain if you try to do too much.

Don't imagine yourself as a Tarzan and overtax your muscles the first day out. Muscles which are used to sitting behind a desk aren't up to a tough work out all at once.

Treat the sunshine with respect. It can give you an enviable tan so that you can show the boys and girls back at the office, or it can cause serious burns. Start out slowly with only 15 minutes exposure at first.

When you swim, work up to those long distance swims slowly. Don't swim past your limit.

Poison ivy, the three-leafed threat to comfort, can mar the pleasure of your vacation if you catch a case of it. Learn to recognize the plant and avoid it.

Don't be careless just because you have never had it. There is always a first time!

And, although you are shaking off the harness and kicking up your heels for two weeks, don't make the highways your private racetrack. The daily newspapers are full of sad stories about people whose vacations are marred by a bad auto accident.

Some people have a fine vacation at home and get more pleasure out of doing things than going places. Change and relaxation are the real benefits of a vacation.

So have fun and enjoy yourself, but be sensible about it.

Benson to Speak For Farming Day Event at State

Thousands of farm folks, representing a cross-section of Michigan agriculture, will take a "farming holiday" on Thursday, August 5, for a visit to Michigan State college. It will be a big day in other ways but the main attraction will be Secretary of Agriculture Ezra S. Benson.

Benson, making his first Michigan appearance since becoming secretary, will speak at the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, marking its 10th anniversary. Groups from every major farm organization and hundreds of individual farmers and their families will be on hand.

The speech is scheduled for 1 p.m. and groups gathering from other campus activities will include the fruit and vegetable men, who start their Orchard Day at 10 a.m. at the College Orchard, nearby on the south campus.

Research men will open the "doors" on science aiding the fruit industry—with everything from dwarf trees and strawberry breeding to chemical weed control and irrigation. Vegetable growers will see variety trials with tomatoes, melons and squash, lettuce bolting, hybrid onions and hormone treatments on cucumbers.

The MABC open house, on Forest road, will include bull barn and laboratory tours and a trip to the nearby School of Veterinary Medicine project seeking answers to problems of cows that have breeding troubles.

Tours for both the MABC Anniversary and Orchard Day groups will continue after Benson's speech at 1 p.m. at the MABC headquarters—or in the College Auditorium in case of rain. The Michigan Dairy Queen, Mary Lou Beal of Three Rivers, also will be on the program.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Michigan last year sold more hunting and fishing licenses than ever before, conservation department records show.

Grand totals for the fiscal year ending June 30 have not yet been computed, but sales recorded thus far—including all types of hunting and fishing licenses—already exceed 2,370,000.

The highest previous total for a single year was recorded in the 1952-53 fiscal year when 2,312,879 hunting and fishing licenses were sold.

The most marked increase showed up in sales of small game hunting licenses. In the 1952-53 fiscal year, Michigan sold a total of 671,828 resident and nonresident hunting licenses; in the last fiscal year, about 724,400 were sold.

Other lesser increases showed up in sales of archery deer licenses and in resident and nonresident fishing licenses.

The only decrease was in sales of resident and nonresident deer hunting licenses.

The all-time record sale of deer licenses was made in the 1952-53 fiscal year—the year of the first special any-deer season—when 465,343 were sold. In the last fiscal year, 455,378 were sold.

Annually for the last several years, Michigan has ranked nationally either first or second in sales of both hunting and fishing licenses.

There is a good possibility that duck hunters will have to refrain from shooting wood ducks this fall, conservation workers say.

At a recent meeting of the Mississippi Flyways Council in St. Louis, Missouri, delegates voted to give the wood duck complete protection this fall.

Their recommendation must be recognized by federal agencies before becoming law, but the problem is certain to receive a full hearing in Washington before any action is taken.

Delegates at the council meeting said that conditions have worked against the wood duck in recent years and that in the central part of its nesting area, populations are definitely down.

That area includes Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas and western Tennessee and Kentucky.

Michigan is in the northern portion of the wood duck nesting range, along with Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ohio. Delegates from these states reported that populations of the birds remain moderate to good.

However, in view of the marked decline in the central part of the range, the group voted as a unit to recommend that the wood duck season be closed this fall.

The federal agencies will give their decision on the wood duck when other waterfowl regulations are announced, probably in August.

State game workers plan to release about 150 young wild turkeys to Michigan's forest areas during the last week of August, the conservation department reports.

Barring epidemic diseases or other misfortunes before that time, the birds are scheduled for release during their 12th week of life. Experience in Pennsylvania has shown this to be the most favorable time for release.

Part of the flock will be released in Allegan state forest to bolster the planting already there and the remainder will go to some other as yet unspecified wilderness region in southern Michigan.

The birds were incubated at the state game farm near Mason. The eggs were obtained from Pennsylvania in May.

The releases will be part of the state's attempt to help turkeys regain a foothold in southern Michigan.

At present, at least part of the original release of 50 adult wild turkeys is known to be rambling through the 31,000-acre Allegan forest. Those birds were obtained from Pennsylvania and released in the forest in March.

Since then, three are known to have died or been killed, but at least three hens have been seen this summer with broods of young turkeys.

Lots of people pay out lots of money in fines and costs in Michigan each year because they go fishing without licenses.

Last week, for example, reports of 68 convictions of conservation laws arrived at conservation department headquarters.

Of that total, 44 were convicted for fishing without licenses. Ten were convicted for violating game and forest fire laws and the remainder broke other fishing laws.
