Voluntary Accident Insurance Plan For Pupils Approved by School Board

A plan to offer inexpensive accident insurance policies to students, teachers and office personnel in the Plymouth public schools has been approved by the Board of Education. Information concerning the policies will be sent home today with students for study by their parents.

At a cost of $1.25 per school year, a pupil can be insured from the time he leaves home for school in the morning until he arrives home from school in the afternoon. Purchase of the policy is entirely voluntary.

The Board of Education has approved the plan offered by the World Insurance company of Omaha, Nebraska, a company which this fall will have over 2,000,000 public and parochial school children covered by the accident insurance. Nearby schools having the same insurance plan are Ypsilanti, Pontiac, Wyandotte, Rochester and Ann Arbor.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister said that the policies are being made available through the R. R. Fluckey Insurance Agency in cooperation with the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents. There is no profit realized by the local agents.

Here's the way the plan works: If the parent decides to insure his child after studying the folder sent home with the student, the money will be sealed inside an enclosed envelope. The student's teacher then gives the pupil an identification card by which a parent can determine if the money has been received by the school.

The pupil is then insured up to $2,500 for medical expenses including doctor bills, laboratory fees, surgeon bills, medical supplies, ambulance, hospital and operating room, etc. There are also payments established for accidental loss of life and loss of limbs and sight.

A student is covered one hour before the opening of school and one hour after the student is dismissed from school. He is also insured while riding on a school bus or on a bus going to or from a school sponsored activity. Only exception to the policy are those injured while participating in high school football.

Time Change Has Little Effect Here

While folks in the Eastern United States get an extra hour of sleep this Saturday night because of the change from Daylight Saving Time to Eastern Standard Time, Plymouth area clock-owners will get no such opportunity.

The time change in the East will have some effects here, however, but nothing serious. Most television programs will be seen an hour later, thus throwing ardent TV viewers into a state of confusion for several weeks.

Two C & O trains which stop at Plymouth will have new departing times in Detroit. The 5:10 p.m. train which travels west to Grand Rapids will now leave Detroit at 5:15, only five minutes later. The 5:20 which travels south after leaving Plymouth will now leave Detroit at 6:10.

Since most local area radio stations rebroadcast their network programs an hour later, there will be practically no changes noticed in radio time schedules. It is advised that travelers check for new train, bus and airplane schedules.

Local claims are paid from a Detroit branch office. Thirty-four hundred folders giving details of the policy are being distributed to public school students. Fluckey announced that any questions concerning the policy can be answered by calling his office.

"Experience in other schools tells us that we can expect about half of the students to take advantage of the plan this year," Fluckey said, "and an increase of 10 per cent for the next few years. It may take many parents several years to find out what a valuable plan this is."

At a small increase in premium, bus drivers and cafeteria workers may obtain the insurance. Only school employees not eligible for the insurance are the maintenance workers.

The superintendent said that policies must be taken out before October 1 to be eligible for coverage this semester. The plan will again be available at the start of the second semester. A person is covered as soon as he pays the premium, Superintendent Isbister added.

Collision Takes Life Of Rural Mail Carrier

Funeral services were held here Monday afternoon for Walter H. Nisley, 60, a Plymouth rural mail carrier for 26 years, who was killed in a two-car collision shortly before noon Friday on Canton Center road.

While making a left turn into a driveway, the Nisley car was struck by an oncoming vehicle driven by Ivan Ford, 26, of 353 Rice street, Plymouth. Both cars skidded into a ditch. Mr. Nisley, suffering crushing injuries, was taken to Wayne County General hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Ford was jailed by Wayne County Sheriff's detectives when it was found that his license had been revoked last May in Ypsilanti. He also has other motoring arrests on his record, the sheriff's office said. Ford told authorities that he was driving 25 miles per hour and couldn't stop in time to avoid the accident because of the wet pavement.

Ford appeared Monday before Justice of the Peace George Wicklund of Dearborn township where he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle with a revoked license. He was sentenced to 45 days in the Wayne county jail and given a $100 fine or an additional 45 days.

Sheriff's detectives said they would like to learn the identity of a woman "driving a green car" who was apparently a witness to the accident. The woman is being urged to call the Wayne post of the sheriff's department in order to assist with the case.

Though Mr. Nisley resided at 11419 Melrose, Livonia, he was widely known in Plymouth because of his many years with the post office and being a former resident. He was born August 3, 1894 in Pennbrook, Pennsylvania to Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Nisley. He spent his childhood in Eau Claire, Michigan and served in the U.S. Navy during World War I.

While in the Navy, Mr. Nisley's parents moved to Plymouth. He also came to Plymouth after the war and became a toolmaker at the Daisy Air Rifle company. He was first employed by the Plymouth post office in August 1928 and has served as a rural carrier since that time. He was mail carrier for Rural Route 1 at the time of his death. Retirement for Mr. Nisley remained only two years away.

Survivors include his wife, Willie A. Nisley; two daughters, Mrs. Patricia Dethloff of Ypsilanti and Barbara, at home; and two grandchildren.

He was a member of the Myron Beals post, American Legion, and the First Presbyterian church, Rosedale.

Services were conducted at 1 p.m. Monday from the Schrader Funeral home by the Reverend Woodrow Wooley, pastor of the Rosedale Presbyterian church. Mrs. Edna O'Conner provided organ music. Pallbearers were Ralph Cole, Donald Herrick, Roswell Tanager, Ezra Rotnour, Joseph Skaggs and Ernest Henry.

Petition Signed by 522 Seeks Crossing Flashers

A petition containing the signatures of 522 Plymouth residents will be presented to the city commission next month, seeking flasher and gate protection at the Farmer street and Starkweather avenue crossings of the C & O railroad.

Kenneth R. Bisbee, local insurance agent, has been obtaining signatures on the petition since July 1952 and intends to present it to commissioners at their October 22 meeting.

Most of the petition signers live in the area of the two railroad crossings. The Farmer street grade crossing has no warning devices or guard whatsoever while the Starkweather crossing is guarded by a watchman.

"Anyone concerned with obtaining flasher and gate protection at these crossings should be present at the October 22 meeting," Bisbee said. "If there is any doubt about the number who signed the petition, I know we could get three or four times that number," he added.

He expressed the opinion that the watchman on duty at Starkweather avenue is not sufficient enough protection. A watchman with a lantern affords protection on only one side of the train when one is passing at night, he asserted. "And if something should happen to the watchman, there would be no protection at all."

Local Officials Head for Meeting

Most of Plymouth's city officials are attending one or several sessions of the Michigan Municipal League being held this week at the Hotel Statler in Detroit.

One city official, City Attorney Harry Deyo, spoke at 2 p.m. Wednesday at a session for city attorneys. His topic was "Special Assessments."

The annual meeting opened Wednesday with an address by the president Mayor Kenneth Vogelheim of Rogers City and a panel discussion on "Municipal Planning For the St. Lawrence Seaway." One of the highlights of the three-day meeting will be the banquet tonight at which Dr. Alford P. Haake, author, lecturer and economic advisor for General Motors, will be the speaker.

The Michigan Municipal League is an organization of cities and villages of the state with headquarters in Ann Arbor. It is devoted to the advancement of home rule and the improvement of municipal government in Michigan. It was founded in 1899.

Crash Injures 5

Five persons were injured Sunday night when the car in which they were riding struck a parked vehicle on Ann Arbor trail.

William Wolber, 27, of 8144 Greenlawn, Detroit, was driving east on Ann Arbor trail when for some reason, unexplained to police, struck a parked car belonging to George Hunter, 429 West Ann Arbor trail.

Wolber received a cut mouth; his wife a cut on the nose and eye lid; a son, Paul, 3, suffered shock and a bruised head; daughter, Teresa Ann, 10 months, had a bruised nose; and a passenger, Elizabeth Hall, 27, received mouth lacerations and a bruised nose.

Nab Two Shoplifters

Two girls caught taking items from Plymouth stores this week brought renewed warnings to merchants from police to keep alert for shoplifters.

A Plymouth township girl, 15 years old, was caught taking a jacket at Graham's women's apparel store and a 21-year-old Garden City woman was apprehended after taking a slip at Kresge's. Charges were not filed against either girl. It was the first offense for the minor.

Pease Paint Plans Grand Opening Celebration

The climax to four years of outstanding service and hard work was reached Wednesday evening for A. Gerald Pease as the doors of his new and completely modern paint and wallpaper store were officially opened. Located at 570 South Main street, Pease Paint and Wallpaper store was immediately described by experts in the field as one of the most outstanding lay-outs of its kind.

Incorporating all the ideas and innovations gathered during his 34 years in the home decorating business, Pease's new Main street location might be described as a "customer's dream" with every convenience for shopping made available.

To acquaint everyone with his new facilities, Pease plans a 10-day grand opening event extending from today through Saturday, October 2. Special prizes and gifts will welcome visitors to the store. Pease announced that during the first three nights of the opening the store would remain open until 9:00.

The new Pease building has nearly three times the floor space of his former Penniman avenue store, where he started business in Plymouth in 1950. In addition to the 4000 square feet of floor space, the colonial-design building is lined on two sides by 6622 square feet of black-topped parking space, ample room for 30 cars.

The interior also carries out the modern colonial theme with two studio rooms for consultation and wallpaper and color selection. The main area of the store displays an array of paint, wallpaper, etc., as well as a merchandising counter which separates the shopping area from the stock-supply area. A side entrance allows painters and suppliers to transact business without interference to regular shoppers.

The children haven't been forgotten, either. Pint-sized chairs in the studio rooms and small card tables and chairs, complete with comic-books and toys, have been arranged in the main part of the store.

According to Pease, the new store will carry a wider selection of wallpapers featuring some 500 patterns in stock and also an increased selection of venetian blinds.

THE NEW HOME of Pease Paint & Wallpaper company at 570 South Main street was designed in the modern colonial style to conform with Plymouth's theme. A 10-day Grand Opening celebration starts today.

55 Citizens Demand End Of Bad Odor

It remains a question if the obnoxious odor which floats over the northwest section of the city comes from the city's garbage land fill or from glue dumped by a manufacturing plant, but the 55 persons who signed a petition presented to

Township Bond Sale Saves Tax Payers $37,000

A bigger tax saving for Plymouth township property owners than anticipated was reported this week from township hall when bonds were sold to pay for the township's share of the Middle Rouge Interceptor drain.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay predicted before the August primary election that if township voters approved a six-tenths mill issue on the ballot, the township could save between $30,000 and $35,000. Today, he revealed that there will be a savings of $37,000.

Here's how he figures:

The township must pay $103,000 toward the Middle Rouge Interceptor drain which is being constructed by the county into this area from Detroit. The township could pay this amount over a period of 15 years at a standard six per cent interest to the county. Or, the township could borrow money from a private bonding company at a much lower interest and pay off the county immediately. Township voters chose to do the latter when they approved the millage issue last August.

After advertising for bidders, the firm of McDonald-Moore and company, Detroit, was selected as the successful bond buyer by the township board. They offered to loan the money at 2.40 per cent interest.

Lindsay said the township board will stick to its promise made at election time of not passing the six-tenths mill directly to tax payers. Instead, the bond payments will be made from the general fund.

Shriners to Send Kiddies to Circus

Members of the Suburban Shrine club are having a party for their membership next Wednesday night from which proceeds will go to finance the sending of all fourth grade pupils in the township school district to the Shrine Circus next winter.

Vaughan Smith and Walter Beglinger, organizers of the affair, state that the club hopes to send all 276 fourth graders and perhaps other students to the circus in Detroit next February.

The party will be held at the Beglinger cottage on Rush Lake beginning at two o'clock. Members are being asked to contact Beglinger for reservations. Members of the board of education and school officials have been invited to attend.

Don't Fence Yourself In, Assessor Warns

The dream of some folks to "have a white picket fence running around the house" can't come true in Plymouth, City Assessor Kenneth Way reminded home owners this week. The building inspector doesn't allow it.

Fences are perfectly all right beside or behind a home, Way explained, but they can extend no further toward the street than the front of the house. Safety is one reason for the ruling, he claims.

The reminder was given this week when fences were discovered beside some Plymouth homes which extended to the sidewalk. The assessor said that violators will be given notices to rebuild their fences in conformity with the building inspector's ruling.

city commissioners Monday night were sure of one thing—they want something done about it. Five of the petitioners appeared personally before the commission to more fully explain the unpleasantness caused by the odors drifting periodically through the neighborhood. But some commissioners disagreed with the petitioners about the source of the pungent scent.

City Manager Albert Glassford, Mayor Russell Daane and Commissioner Marvin Terry said that they have investigated previous reports of the odor and they found it not coming from the city garbage land fill, which is located along the C & O railroad north of Junction street, but from the nearby Champion Corrugated Container company.

The three officials said that they tramped over the grounds and found the garbage fill free of odor, but that glue dumped into low-lying areas by the Champion firm is the source of the smell. Glassford said that he had written a letter to Champion several months ago and that the company had been visited and consulted with the Wayne County Health department. "Apparently, Glassford said, "any recommendations made by the health department have failed."

Signers of the petition live on Arthur, Irvin, Auburn, Blunk and Pacific streets. Though the petition stated that the odor came from the garbage fill or the Champion Corrugated Container company, the petitioners at the meeting were of the opinion that the odor was coming from both places.

"They charged that the garbage truck was washed out every day and that the water was left on top of the ground; and that the garbage was not covered until late in the day although it may have been dumped in the morning. "Why do you have to dump garbage inside the city?" one petitioner asked.

"There's no other place to dump it," the city manager replied. (The city started the new burial method July 1 after a new state law prohibited communities from selling garbage to private citizens for feeding to hogs. A search for a burial site ended at the city-owned property beside the city garage.)

Mayor Daane said that many cities use the land fill method inside the city limits. He added that perhaps workmen had been careless about washing down trucks and immediate covering and that he was sure these practices could be remedied easily.

Turning their attention to the Champion company, Commissioner Terry demanded, "Can't we do something with these people (the company)? If I lived in that neighborhood I would sign the petition myself." The city manager agreed that the area around the plant "really reeked."

Outcome of the discussion was a motion by Terry to require Champion to eliminate the odor by October 1.

In other business before the commission, a communication was read from the Plymouth Township Board of Education which said that the board has discussed the widening and paving proposal for Main street for which the school must pay a substantial share. It read:

"It is their feeling that whenever any important program was undertaken by the city as a result of a felt need, and in the general interest of the public was being rendered by the improvement, the school district has an adequate responsibility to pay its share "in accordance with the number of feet of property owned by the school district."

Another letter was received from Chief of Police Carl Greenlee who owns a property at North Main and Amelia streets. He proposed (Continued on page 8)

Marvin G. Mepyans Claims English Bride

Wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over ivory satin, Edith Barbara McDonald of Detroit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McDonald of Hornchurch, England, exchanged marriage vows with Marvin George Mepyans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tone Mepyans of Livonia.

The ceremony was read on Saturday, September 18, at four o'clock in the afternoon in Bushnell Congregational church, with the Reverend John Bailey Forsyth officiating. Miss Starr Peterson sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony.

Barbara carried a colonial bouquet of baby white mums and tiny pink sweetheart roses centered with white heather from Scotland. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Gail Spencer Fiedler, since the bride's father was unable to attend.

Attending Barbara in ballerina length yellow crystalline gowns and carrying bronze mums with circlets of the same flowers in their hair were, Miss Beryl Parham, a schoolmate of the bride in England, now residing in New York City; maid of honor, Mrs. Martin John Mepyans, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia Hewitt of Oxford, England, an exchange student nurse in a Cleveland hospital.

Martin John Mepyans, twin brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Carl Richard Groth and Gale Wilson seated the guests.

Mrs. Mepyans, mother of the bridegroom, selected a gown of French lace in a mauve shade with which she wore blue accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors. Miss Marilyn Oldershaw and Mrs. Warren Johnson, Jr., both of Bay City, cousins of the bridegroom, served at the punch bowl. Miss Margaret McGee, Mrs. Ross P. Oldershaw, of Bay City, Miss Mae Wagner, Mrs. Gail Spencer Fiedler and Mrs. Harold Wagner, assisted at the reception.

The couple are honeymooning in northern Michigan and will be at home after October 18, at 11832 Ohio avenue, Detroit. For traveling the new Mrs. Mepyans chose a suit of brown wool with green accessories and the corsage of rosebuds and heather from her wedding bouquet.

Joan Stammitz' Troth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stammitz, of East Ann Arbor trail, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Louise, to Anthony Pellerito, son of Salvatore Pellerito of Grand Rapids.

Formal announcement of the engagement was made at a birthday dinner honoring the bride-elect.

No definite wedding date has been set.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Scrimger

Recent Candlelight Ceremony Unites Theodore Scrimger - Shirley Phillips

Tiers of shimmering candelabra and bouquets of white mums and gladioli enhanced the chancel of the First Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon, September 4, when Shirley Ann Phillips became the bride of Theodore Robert Scrimger.

Shirley Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Phillips of Adams street; and the Theodore R. Scrimgers of Melrose avenue, Livonia, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Earl Reh accompanied by the organist, Fred C. Nelson sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The Reverend Henry Walch, D.D. officiated at the three o'clock service.

Shirley Ann's gown was of white embroidered nylon tulle over satin. The V-neckline was trimmed with the tulle and satin. Her bouffant skirt had a pephum of the embroidered tulle which fell into two wide panels down the side of the skirt. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell gracefully from a crown of seed-pearls and rhinestones and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of her bridegroom.

Mrs. Edwin J. Campbell was Shirley Ann's matron of honor. Her gown was of mint green net over taffeta. The bodice was of satin and net with which she wore a sleeveless jacket. The full skirt had a large bow at the back. Dawn Huebler, Elaine Rich McIntyre, Barbara Nelson and Bonnie Bruce assisted as bridesmaids. Their shrimp-colored gowns were fashioned like that of the matron of honor. Mrs. Campbell carried a cascade of yellow mums and roses and the bridesmaids carried cascades of bronze mums.

Robert Mino served Ted as best man and seating the guests were Clark Andrews, William Park, Donald, Burrell and Covert Culley.

Mrs. Phillips selected, for her daughter's wedding, a rose lace over taffeta dress with matching hat. Mrs. Scrimger was in rose taffeta with matching hat. Both mothers completed their ensembles with corsages of Hawaiian orchids.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the V.F.W. hall following the ceremony. Guests were in attendance from New York, Detroit, Illinois, Grösse Pointe, Royal Oak, Dearborn and Plymouth.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Traverse City in northern Michigan. For traveling the bride changed to a white linen suit with which she wore red accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Shirley is a graduate of Plymouth high school and Ted was graduated from Bentley high school. They will make their home at 320 Blanche street, Plymouth.

Lois Packard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Packard, 47380 North Territorial road, will give an accordion recital Monday, September 27, at 8 p.m., at the First Methodist church in Plymouth. Lois is 15 years old, a sophomore at Plymouth high school, and studied approximately two years with Jerry Haelscher, instructor of accordion at the Plymouth Music Center.

Miss Packard will offer an interesting program with selections ranging from popular through classical music. In addition she has a repertoire of standard accordion solos. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Melvin Coxes Wed in South

Announcement is made this week of the recent marriage of Patricia Oaks, daughter of Mrs. Agda Oaks of Castor avenue, and Marvin Cox, son of Mrs. Virgil Bradley of Trumann, Arkansas.

The ceremony was performed on Wednesday, September 8, in Hernando, Mississippi.

Pat wore a green afternoon dress with white accessories. She was accompanied by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jean Bowman. Mrs. Bowman wore a tan faille suit dress with black accessories.

Following the ceremony the couple honeymooned in Tennessee and Arkansas before returning to Plymouth where they will make their home.

Party Honors Jane Stremich

Many lovely pre-nuptial parties have been planned for bride-elect, Jane Stremich, among them the one o'clock luncheon and round-the-clock shower for her at Devon Gables on Saturday, September 18.

Co-hostesses at the delightful affair were Mrs. Arthur Haar and Mrs. Francis Beals. Thirty guests were present from Detroit, Dearborn, Livonia, Farmington and Plymouth.

Jane will marry Dallas Donald Hay in a ceremony at the First Presbyterian church on Saturday, October 9.

May Drop 2 Courses From Adult Program

Unless enough interest is shown in the reading skills and contract bridge classes offered in the adult program at the high school, these two courses will have to be dropped from the program, according to Herbert Woolweaver, director of the Adult Education program.

On the whole registration for classes has been heavy, he adds, with many Plymouth residents taking advantage of the Monday and Tuesday evening registration periods this week. Tomorrow, Friday, is the closing date for registration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Tillotson visited with the latter's sister, Mrs. Wesley Smith, at Williams-ton last Saturday.

Johnston - Malloy Wedding Solemnized In Ann Arbor

The Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed church in Ann Arbor was the scene on Saturday, September 11, of the ceremony uniting Jean Malloy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Malloy of Ann Arbor, and John S. Johnston. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnston of Lilley road are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Walter Press officiated at the ceremony at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening. Fred Kendall was the soloist.

Jean wore a gown of rose point lace and tulle. The bodice featured a mandarin collar, long sleeves extending to points over the hands and a three tiered bouffant skirt. The top tier of the skirt was of the rose point lace applied with medallions and rhinestones. A Juliet cap was of matching lace edged with seed-pearls and her hand rolled fingertip length veil was of illusion. She carried a white orchid centered on a white Bible.

Mrs. Robert Eberth, cousin of the bride, of Ann Arbor, was the matron of honor. She wore a light blue net over satin gown with strapless bodice and matching stole, in waltz length. Her headpiece was a clip with matching blue face veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and yellow mums.

Judy Kaye Neff, another cousin of the bride, of Ann Arbor, served as bridesmaid. Her gown was of yellow net over satin with strapless bodice and matching stole. She wore a matching yellow face veil and carried a bouquet of carnations and mums in autumn shades.

Jack Huston of Wayne assisted John as best man. Ushers were Robert Richter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Richard Gotowke of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Elk's club in Ann Arbor.

The young couple honeymooned for a few days in northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a purple suit trimmed with pink and grey accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Jean graduated from Ann Arbor high school and her husband was graduated from Plymouth high school and attended Michigan State Normal college. They are making their home at 401 Snyder avenue, Ann Arbor.

David Louis Green Weds Midland Girl

Beverly Gaie Luce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett N. Luce of Midland, and David Louis Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Green of Lotz road, Plymouth, repeated their nuptial vows at a double ring ceremony on Saturday evening, August 29, in the Memorial Presbyterian church in Midland.

The candlelight service was read by the Reverend James Thomas at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening. Nuptial music was played by the organist, Wilford Crowford, accompanied by Miss Jane Stoltz of Ypsilanti, on the violin.

Floral arrangements of mums and ivy graced the altar and clusters of sweetheart roses and ivy marked the pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal satin and nylon tulle. The bodice featured cut-crown of Chantilly lace and fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline and long sleeves extending to points over the hands. The bouffant hooped skirt ended in a chapel train. Her two-tiered veil of illusion was fastened to a crown of Chantilly lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy centered with white roses.

White ballerina length gowns of chiffon were worn by the bridal attendants. Miss Carolyn Thomas of Ann Arbor was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Carolyn Lentz of Hillsdale and Mildred Green, sister of the bridegroom of Plymouth. Their gowns were fashioned with tucked bodices and cowl necklines tied at the back with tiny bows and streamers falling to the hemline. They wore green limerick satin slippers and had wreaths of ivy in their hair. Their bouquets were cascades of sweetheart roses and ivy.

Gerald Corey of Ann Arbor attended the bridegroom as best man and other attendants were Lawrence Green of Detroit, brother of the bridegroom, Philip David of Ft. Wayne, Indiana, Carter Crawford and Maynard Young, of Midland.

Mrs. Luce selected a pink cotton lace dress over taffeta in ballerina length. Her accessories were shocking pink and she carried a corsage of rhubrum lilies. Mrs. Green wore grey silk with grey and yellow accessories. She carried a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining hall with 200 guests attending from Plymouth, Milford, Grosse Pointe, Cadillac, Birmingham, Detroit and Indiana.

The young couple honeymooned in northern Michigan. For traveling the new Mrs. Green wore a navy blue silk dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The couple have returned to Ann Arbor where they will continue their studies in the University of Michigan School of Music for their senior year. Mrs. Green is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Alpha Iota sororities and her husband is affiliated with Kappa Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi. They will reside at 410 North state street in Ann Arbor.

Announces First Meeting Of Smith School P.T.A.

Following the executive board meeting on Monday night of the Smith School Parent Teachers Association, President Donald Ward announced that the first meeting of the Smith P.T.A. would be held Tuesday, September 28.

The meeting will take the form of an open house, which will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the school. The program for the year will be presented and refreshments served.

Local Civic Chorus Invites Singers to Join

Any interested singer is invited to join the Plymouth Civic Chorus. The first rehearsal of the season will be held Monday, September 27, in Room 3 in the Junior high school from 7:30 to 9:00.

There are two major choral works scheduled for this year. They are the Christmas portion of "The Messiah" by Handel and Brahms' "Requiem." Both works will be performed with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and are a part of the regular symphony season.

The chorus director, Fred Nelson, has extended an invitation to all persons in the area, interested in singing these classics, to join. There is no fee or tryout involved; just a record of good attendance.

Woman's Club Announces Date Of First Meeting

The first meeting of the Woman's Club of Plymouth will be a luncheon at the Farm Cupboard on Ann Arbor road at 12:45 on Friday, October 1.

The program chairman for the day is Mrs. Cecil Packard, and the speaker for the afternoon will be Mr. J. H. Mill. His subject will be, "Hunting Gems in North America."

Mr. Mill will have a display of hand-made jewelry in which gems he has collected have been used. This jewelry may be purchased by club members if they so desire.

Ticket chairman for the day is Mrs. Robert Stewart. Assisting her are Mrs. Frank Allison, Mrs. Byron Becker, Mrs. Harry Balfour, Mrs. Phillip Barney and Mrs. Walter Beglinger.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church are sponsoring a bake sale on Friday, September 24, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at Dunning's store on Forest avenue.

Dinner Marks Twelfth Birthday Of Navy Mothers

The Navy Mothers Club No. 381 of Plymouth celebrated their twelfth birthday on Wednesday, September 15, with a dinner at the Veterans Memorial building. Seventeen Navy Mothers from the Ypsilanti club came to help celebrate the occasion, bringing total attendance at the party to 35 persons.

The tables were all decorated with the Navy colors and lovely flowers. On the center table was a cake in the Navy colors, white and trimmed with blue and gold, which was made by Alma Bridge and decorated by Velma Howell of Stark.

Following the dinner a report was given on the history of the club and on the work of the Navy Mothers. During the war the work was mostly with the coastal hospitals, but for the past six years the work has been principally with Dearborn, Maybury Sanatorium and the Ann Arbor hospital.

Entertainment was provided by Clifford Krohn of the Ypsilanti Archery club, who set up the goals and had four champions demonstrate their skill. Challenging their fathers were 13-year-old Billy Wecker and Bob Borke, age 15.

Former Plymouthite Gets University Position

Miss Alice Wolfram, daughter of Mrs. Alma E. Wolfram of Ferndale, Michigan, formerly of Plymouth and Livonia, recently accepted a position as administrative assistant to Dr. Henry C. Herge, dean of the Department of Education, Rutgers university, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Previous to leaving Ferndale, Alice was an executive secretary to Mr. Crenshaw, general sales manager of the Coach and Sales division at General Motors corporation in Pontiac, Michigan.

Last April Miss Wolfram received a certified professional secretary's award, which gives her a high rating in the field of secretarial work.

Mental Health Director to Speak at Allen P.T.A.

Wallace Watt, director of mental health, will address the Allen school Parent Teachers Association on the topic of "Discipline for Our Children" at the group's first meeting at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, September 28. Refreshments will also be served at this first meeting.

Miss Ann Hammond was hostess at a delightful miscellaneous bridal shower last Wednesday evening in her home on Sunset avenue honoring Mrs. Otto Ruehr, the former Ruth Ann Richwine. Former classmates of Ruth Ann were there and presented her with many lovely gifts.

Look Carefully, Driver ...

Dedicated to the boys and girls, everywhere, who are serving their country, and humanity, in the invaluable work of the School Patrol.

The lad at the corner, see him there,
Wearing the meaningful, white band ...
And wearing, too, a rare nobility
For one so young.

Look carefully driver—
At his stalwart stance, protective arms outflung,
Unchildish earnestness upon his face.
The School Patrol turns children into men
Who bear full-grown responsibility
Upon small shoulders.

Look carefully, driver—
And see why mankind counts upon you!
See why responsibilities, behind the wheel,
Are as huge as any you will ever bear
Upon this earth ...

Part of the 330-man task force sent to New England last week by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to help restore that area's storm-mangled telephone service were these local men. Against a background of hurricane-torn tree limbs, Virgil Wilt, Paul Brumley, both of Ann Arbor, Fred Wick, Northville, and Gordon Moe, Plymouth, are shown at Rockland, Maine. By Champion, of Plymouth, foreman of the group, was not present when the picture was made.

Northville Co-Op Holds Meeting

The Northville Co-operative Nursery had its first meeting Monday, September 13. Nursery mothers and officers were present. President Mrs. Charles Hall gave information on school procedures to new and returning mothers. Mrs. Hall introduced the speaker, Mrs. Millie Seltzer, president of the State Council for Cooperative Nurseries, who spoke on the difference between co-operative and private nurseries and the advantages of cooperative nurseries to both mother and child. A discussion followed and refreshments were served.

Twenty-one children are now enrolled, including several from Plymouth, and there are openings for 12 more children. Children between two and one-half and five years of age are welcome. The teachers are Mrs. Jean Langtry and Mrs. Mildred Madigan. Those who are interested should contact Mrs. Gwen Marburger at Northville 1195-W.

The next meeting is October 1 at 8 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church in Northville. Visitors are welcome.

Goal is a flexible material and may readily be converted into many useful forms.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mende, daughter, Beverly, and son, Henry, Jr., attended the annual Gallatin Reunion held at Ford Field, Dearborn. Some 75 people were present.

Set aside these dates—October 9 and 23. These are the dates for the Wesleyan Service Guild square dances to be held at the Newburg church hall on Ann Arbor trail at Newburg road. The public is invited.

Local Concern Celebrates Its Eighth Anniversary

It was just eight years ago this week that Edward J. Zebrowski and Frank J. Schumacher formed their partnership as owners of the Union Wrecking company, the Union Building Supply company and the Union House Moving company, with yards located on West Eight Mile road and Gratiot. In celebration of the event the company is holding an anniversary sale at their yards throughout this week.

This week also marks the first anniversary of their main yard, a modern hardware store and building supply sales center, located at 31245 West Eight Mile road. Employing 35 men, the company dismantles and wrecks houses, selling the salvage materials at the main yard. The company also has a field yard which is located at 9611 Gratiot near Harper.

New York Television, Book, Magazine Writer Visits Plymouth Relatives

Another member of the literary world, the writer of radio and television scripts, magazine articles and books, visited Plymouth relatives last week after attending a family reunion near his native Linden, Michigan.

He is Gordon Webber, a cousin of Robert Webber, 190 Blunk, and Mrs. Woodrow Ross, 525 Blunk.

Though his regular job is a copy writer with Benton & Boles, New York City advertising firm, Webber's writing talents have extended far beyond normal duties. One of his tasks with his firm is to write advertising copy for the "I Remember Mama" television show. But Webber also works free lance with four other men in writing the show's script.

His most ambitious efforts have been in the book writing field. He has authored two books so far and is now working on a third. Webber's first book, "Years of Eden," had a locale of his Michigan home town and was a story of his childhood. That book was printed three years ago. His second book, "The Far Shore," came off the press last April and had a Navy background.

One of his short stories will be found in the latest edition of "New World Writing," a collection of short stories soon to be off the press. In addition, he has written numerous magazine articles.

PLYMOUTH VISITOR Gordon Webber is pictured in his Jagaur before leaving for his home in Rye, New York. He is a TV and radio writer, short story and book author and sport car enthusiast.

Mr. Webber is a graduate of the University of Michigan. One of his past positions was a publicist the script writer for N.B.C.

The foreign-made sports car which the Plymouth visitor drove here also plays another part in his life. He is president of the Classic Car Club of America. The group has 800 members who own foreign and American sports cars built between 1925 and 1941. Club members last year toured to Detroit as a guest of the Packard Motor Car Company.

Mr. Webber, his wife and three children live in Rye, New York.

OBITUARIES

Cub Forshee

Following a very short illness, Mr. Cub Forshee passed away Thursday, September 16 at 1:15 p.m. Apparently in good health, Mr. Forshee became seriously ill Wednesday evening. He was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor where he lived only 16 hours.

Mr. Forshee spent his entire lifetime in this area. Born in Salem in 1874, he moved to his present residence at the age of 17, lived sixty-three years in his home at 47487 Joy road in Canton Township.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. Avis Goodale of Plymouth; Vern Forshee of Plymouth; Vincent Forshee of Orange, California; and Edsel Forshee of Plymouth; one sister, Miss Winifred Forshee of Florida; twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson officiated at the funeral services which were held at the Schrader Funeral home Saturday, September 18, at two o'clock. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner.

The pallbearers were Robert Waldecker, Lee Eldred, Warren Palmer, Columbus Wilkin, John Schauffle, Sr., Henry C. Root. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Clark Franklin Hearn
Clark Franklin Hearn of 4725 North Territorial road passed away Wednesday, September 15, at the Beyer Memorial hospital in Ypsilanti. He was 71 years of age. Born in Dearborn June 21, 1883. Mr. Hearn was the son of Mark and Elizabeth Bryant Hearn. He was married to Mabel Sundberg on June 8, 1906 at Dearborn. The Hearn's lived in and around Plymouth for 15 years before settling at their present North Territorial address.

Besides his wife, Mabel, survivors are one son, Howard; a sister, Mrs. Clifford Avery of Ypsilanti; three grandchildren and three great grandchildren. A son, Calvin, preceded Mr. Hearn in death in 1932.

Services were held Saturday, September 18, at 2 p.m. from the Phillips Funeral Home in South Lyon with the Reverend Lowell

E. Young of Ypsilanti officiating. Interment was made in Leland Cemetery.

Pamela Hope Brennecke
Pamela Hope Brennecke, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brennecke, Jr., passed away Sunday evening, September 19. Pamela was born at the Garden City hospital, but because of the nature of her illness her parents were not able to bring her home. Death occurred at the hospital following two operations. Mr. and Mrs. Brennecke, Jr. make their home at 871 Arthur street, Plymouth.

Surviving besides the parents are one sister, Linda, and two brothers, Richard and Robert; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Hope Hill; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brennecke, Sr.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, September 21, at 2 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home. The Reverend Henry Walch officiated. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

MOMS News

Friday, September 24, is the date of the MOMS Tag day. They will be on the street from 10 in the morning to 8 in the evening.

The social meeting will be Monday, September 27. On committee for this meeting will be Mrs. Estep, Mrs. Kushler and Mrs. Gladstone.

Congratulations from the MOMS to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillip, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew De Santis and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bloomhuff on their new babies. The babies' grandmothers are MOMS.

There were a group of MOMS who attended the funeral of Mrs. Burden. We extend our sympathy to her family.

The Plymouth Unit Moms of America are the sponsors of Mrs. Ruby's Girl Scout troop. The State convention will be held at the Statler hotel in Detroit October 7, 8 and 9. Don't forget this date and plan to attend. Also the members should not forget that the committee for the Bazaar in October wants things donated soon. Mrs. Estep and Mrs. Anderson are on this committee-contact them soon.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Rittenhouse had her hand caught in the wringer and hurt quite badly.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Brownies and Girl Scouts of Plymouth council are resuming their troop activities following summer vacation. According to Mrs. Joseph West, organizational chairman, all existing troops are supplied with leaders with the exception of one senior troop. Five new troops have been formed. In addition, there is a waiting list of girls who would like to become Brownies and Intermediates. They must wait until there is an opening in an existing troop or until more leaders are available.

Mrs. West also needs assistant leaders. If you are interested in helping, a call to Mrs. Joseph West will bring you the necessary information. Training is provided by the Training committee under the leadership of Mrs. Earl West.

Mrs. Sheldon Baker announces an advanced out-door workshop on September 28 and 29 at the Day-Camp site. Leaders are required to have completed their basic out-door training and be ready for progressive skills with emphasis on over-night troop camping. On Tuesday the hours will be from 1 to 8 p.m. and on Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mrs. Baker will be assisted by Mrs. William Edgar, Mrs. Thomas Thorpe and Mrs. Wayne Rubey.

The newly-formed Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge committee undertook the painting of the screened-in porch as its first project of the season. The committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar; Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon

Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Eber Readman, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Hulsing and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Bauer. All reservations for the Lodge may be made by calling Mrs. Bauer at 1366. Troop No. 1, leader Mrs. Sheldon Baker, held its first meeting of the new year on September 13. Of the 14 members, seven are working toward the Curved Bar, top scouting award, and the remainder to become 1st Class Scouts. They are operating under the patrol system this year for the first time.

Grange Cleanings
 Why does one join any organization? Is it for the benefit one derives from it? Is it for the sociability of it? Is it to help in any good cause? If those are the reasons why so many have joined the Grange they are missing the mark. One gets out of anything just about what one puts into it. We have a fine membership and if even one half of them attended the Grange meetings there could be much accomplished for good to our community and ourselves. The faithful few cannot carry the entire group. At our next meeting on October 7, we are to elect new officers for the coming year, so it is very important that each and every member be present. In case you are elected to an office accept it and do the best you can. That is all one is expected to do.
 At the meeting on Thursday evening, September 16, the subject was brought up of a Bazaar in the near future; so now is the time to make aprons, fancy work, canned goods etc. in preparation for the Bazaar which will be about the middle of November.
 Again it is Blue Cross dues time so be sure to get your quarterly payment to the Blue Cross secretary on time. Don't wait until the very last day because it makes it hard for the secretary. Perhaps one of these days some one who does that may be too late and that would be too bad as there could be no reinstatement for a year.
 A new class for Blue Cross applications is starting anytime now and membership cards may be obtained from the secretary. The membership drive closes in November. Those who are Grange members in good standing as of September 30 are eligible.
 Mr. and Mrs. Miltimore are vacationing in California for a few weeks.

Grange Cleanings
 Why does one join any organization? Is it for the benefit one derives from it? Is it for the sociability of it? Is it to help in any good cause? If those are the reasons why so many have joined the Grange they are missing the mark. One gets out of anything just about what one puts into it. We have a fine membership and if even one half of them attended the Grange meetings there could be much accomplished for good to our community and ourselves. The faithful few cannot carry the entire group. At our next meeting on October 7, we are to elect new officers for the coming year, so it is very important that each and every member be present. LETTER BOX

Let's not discourage John Pilgrim from writing. Plymouth's ways are much different from city ways. I am surprised to learn that the neighbors didn't call on him and his wife. When I was at home, in Plymouth, my mother, and all the other neighbors, used to call and, incidentally, take the new neighbors their favorite casserole, cake, or pie. Things like that gives strangers a warm feeling towards a community. Mr. Pilgrim's impressions, I think, are worth reading. Maybe Plymouthites should take stock and give strangers a warmer reception, too.
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. E. J. Wieland

Take a look at the car
 This is the beauty that's soaring to new success this year. This is the tomorrow-styled Buick that has record-high V8 power, big-car roominess, the solid comfort of the famed Million Dollar Ride; and sports-car response. Is it any wonder that Buick today—regardless of price class—sells all other cars in America except two of the "low-price three"?

Take a look at the price
 Only $2244<sup>88</sup>* delivered locally!

*2-door, 6-passenger SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48D, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, title, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice. Even the factory-installed extras you want are bargains, such as: heater & defroster... only $81.70.

The fact is, for just a few dollars more than you'd pay for one of the so-called "low-price three," you get in Buick a whale of a lot more automobile—more room, more comfort, more ride steadiness, more V8 power. And that "more automobile for your money" goes for every Buick in the line—the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER. And the proof is in Buick's booming sales figures!

Take a look ahead
 You want a car that will keep its style in the years ahead, and return more dollars when you sell it. That's today's Buick—for with the year-ahead styling that graces this winner—and with all the solid value built into this great automobile—you're bound to command a higher resale price when you sell it. Drop in—look over this beautiful buy—and learn the clincher: With our tremendous volume right now, we can offer you the top allowance on your present car. So you're way ahead on all counts!

Merchants Plan Special Events

Thirty-nine members of the retail merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce met Monday evening at the Hillside Inn to discuss plans for Fall and Christmas promotions.

"Double Feature Days" Chairman Urban Holland outlined the promotion and revealed that the dates of the event would be October 13 through 16. It will mark the second such event held in Plymouth this year. In March the local merchants gave an attractive all-purpose stool with $50 in sales slips during the event. This time, Holland stated, a fold-away service cart has been obtained as the "bonus gift".

Dave Galin then led a discussion on the "Trip to Bermuda" promotion schedule prior to Christmas. It was decided that local merchants would start distributing tickets for this event the day after Thanksgiving. It was also announced that night openings for Christmas shopping would begin Thursday, December 9.

Names Jack C. Peet As Traffic Manager

Jack C. Peet, former Plymouth resident and a graduate of Plymouth high school, 1941, has succeeded A. D. Englund as Traffic Manager of Great American Transport, Inc., according to a recent announcement from this Detroit firm.

A graduate of the College of Advanced Traffic of Chicago, Peet was previously associated with the Stuyvesant Cartage company of Detroit, the traffic department of Gar Wood Industries, Inc. at Wayne, Michigan and the Ford Motor company, Dearborn. Great American Transport, Inc., with headquarters at Detroit, operates a freight service through Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

Speaks at Omaha Hotel Convention

Hotel manager Ralph G. Lorenz and Mrs. Lorenz returned to Plymouth Monday after attending a session of the Northwest Hotel Association in Omaha, Nebraska last week. Mr. Lorenz was a featured speaker on a panel which covered all phases of hotel operation.

He was specifically assigned the subject of small hotel rehabilitation and food operation, two subjects on which he is becoming nationally recognized for his operation here in Plymouth. Lorenz serves nationally on the small hotel committee of the National Hotel Association.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Plymouth Rotary Anns will meet on Monday, September 27, at 12:30 p.m. for a luncheon and tour of the Detroit House of Correction, the tour being conducted by Mrs. Ed Gardner. Luncheon reservations should be made with Mrs. Robert Sincock, phone 1250-M.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schubert of East Side drive had as their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patrick and son, Phillip.

Little Catherine Trinkka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Trinkka of Irvin street, celebrated her first birthday on Sunday with a family party. Present were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Keeping of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. George Trinkka of Livonia; also Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weyermeier and family of Birmingham.

Larry Tillotson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Tillotson of Blunk street, has entered Western State Normal at Mt. Pleasant for his freshman year.

Mrs. Merle Benjamin of Sunset avenue is confined to the Detroit Osteopathic hospital where she is undergoing observation and treatment.

The Library Book club will meet with Mrs. Charles McConnell, 170 North Harvey street, on Tuesday, September 28, at 2 p.m.

55 Citizens

tested the assessment of $1,600 which will be imposed if the project is completed. He added that he was ill the night of the public hearing and believes most of the property owners along the street are unable to pay their assessments although only one appeared at the hearing to object. The letter was filed until the meeting of October 4 when the Amelia street project will again be discussed.

Commissioners turned down another request for water taps outside the city limits, this time to Charles Cornea, 42045 Micol. Cornea wrote that he was left with an inadequate water supply when the builder of his home withdrew a request for water. Commissioners said they were following their recent policy of turning down all out-of-town water requests until further supplies are assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Frisbee of Ball street returned last week from a vacation in the West. They drove to Denver, Colorado, where they were joined by their daughter, Joyce, of Oakland, California, and together they spent three weeks visiting Yellowstone, Glacier and Rocky Mountain National Parks.

OBITUARIES

Gustav Carl Lidke
Gustav Carl Lidke of 8450 Joy road, Plymouth, passed away suddenly Tuesday evening, September 21, at his home. He was born in Blankensee, Germany on June 8, 1881, the son of Carl and Amilia Lidke.

Mr. Lidke came to this country from Germany in October 1889 and had lived his entire life in Washtenaw county since coming to the United States. He was married to Edith Schmidt at Clarenceville, Michigan on April 12, 1910. Mr. Lidke was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church of Ypsilanti.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edith Lidke; one son, Ray, of Ypsilanti; two daughters, Mrs. Henry Hermans of Dearborn, Michigan and Mrs. Robert Morton of Saline; two brothers, Otto of Ypsilanti and Herman of Scottville, Michigan; one sister, Mrs. Augusta Richter of Ypsilanti; and six grandchildren. Four brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at the Ypsilanti Emmanuel Lutheran church on Friday, September 24, at 2 p.m., with the Reverend Harley Sipe officiating. Interment will be made in Highland cemetery. Friends may call at the Stevens and Bush Funeral home, Ypsilanti until 11 a.m. Friday. The body will lie in state at the church from 1 p.m. until the time of the service.

David Daniel Perkins
David Daniel Perkins passed away early Wednesday morning, September 22, 1954. He was 82 years of age. Mr. Perkins has lived in Plymouth for the past 40 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Jennie Perkins; one daughter, Mrs. Clara Shollenberger; two sons, Daniel and Louis Perkins; six stepchildren, Fred Brown, Mrs. Lillian Burden, Foster Brown; Mrs. Nora Ward, and Harry Seidelberg. Mrs. Iva Poole predeceased her father in 1941. Also surviving are two brothers, Glen and Floyd Perkins; one sister, Mrs. Jennie Smith; nine grandchildren and other relatives.

Funeral services will be held Friday, September 24, at 3 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home. Major Harliff J. Nicholls of the Salvation Army will officiate. Hymns on the chapel organ will be rendered by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Active pallbearers will be Stanley Brown, Russell Brown, Charles Brown, Donald Ward, Charles Burden and Richard Burden. Interment will be made in Walker cemetery, Salem Township, Michigan.

Starkweather P.T.A. Announces Open House

Group Re-elects Hough

Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Michigan Manufacturers' association.

The annual meeting of the association was held this week at the Hotel Statler in Detroit. Four of the five executive officers were re-elected.

Petition Signed

two crossings several months ago. They obtained cost estimates from the railroad but no action was taken.

Bisbee said that there should be no waiting until a motorist is killed before flashers are installed. He started circulating the petition two years ago when a driver was killed on Novi road at an unprotected crossing. Shortly after the fatality, he said, flasher signals were installed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kleinschmidt spent the weekend at Pigeon and Bay Port, Mrs. Kleinschmidt remaining for the week.

Mrs. Lisle Alexander is host for several days this week, at the Alexander cottage on Lake Geneva near Atlanta, to her three sisters: Mrs. John Conley of Detroit, Mrs. William Krause of Birmingham and Miss Sarah Gayde of Plymouth.

10:30 Sunday morning service.
10:30 Sunday school.
Classes for pupils up to 20 years of age.
How understanding of the spiritual nature of reality brings enduring health, harmony, and progress—will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality" includes the following from I Peter (1:24,25): "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is reached unto you."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following correlative passage will be read (335:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."
The Golden Text is from O Corinthians (1:31): "As it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord."

Who's New In Plymouth

Pentecostal Church of God Organizes In Plymouth

Reverend C. C. Satterfield

A new congregation is being formed in Plymouth, the Pentecostal Church of God.

Located in the building at Holbrook and Pearl streets formerly occupied by the Church of the Nazarene, the Pentecostal Church of God started Sunday services here a month ago with a visiting pastor. A permanent pastor, Reverend C. C. Satterfield, began serving the mission congregation last Sunday.
The denomination has established 30 churches in the Michigan district since it came to this state 15 years ago. Nationally, they have about 1,200 churches and many independent churches which support the denomination's mission program and schools. National headquarters is in Joplin, Missouri.
Reverend J. C. Kincaid of Whitmore Lake conducted services here until Reverend Satterfield, who was assisting Reverend Kin-

They Need The Works!

It has been many years since our boyhood, yet not so long that we can't remember some of the foolish antics that seemed funny at that time, which we participated in. We assure you that many times we were involved in things many adults might have frowned upon. However, I think we can truthfully say that our gang, as it was, took part in most of the Halloween pranks popular in that day and those things we did were typical boyish pranks designed for fun and frolic rather than filth and contamination.

Plymouth for many years has been fortunate in having its sons typify the truly American boy in spirit and action, but those individuals responsible for the sign painted on the city water tower last week, should be apprehended and given so severe a punishment that it would well set an example for others long to be remembered. Actually we can't believe local youths did do the job.

Most local youngsters we have noticed seem happy to be on friendly terms with the local police. We have watched them go out of their way to wave a greeting as the police go by in their cars and many times we have seen groups stop on the streets and talk to officers on duty.

On the other hand local police have bent over backwards in an all-out attempt to maintain friendly relations with the youth of this community. To be so defiled as they were in the filthy sign placed on the tower by so-called pranksters is not deserving, and we for one, would like to go on record for punishment so far reaching that their parents also might be called to task for their actions.

Happy Football Weekends

The brisk autumn season is now upon us, and the time of the year for football weekends has also arrived. At the beginning of this football season, we take occasion to warn Plymouth citizens the dangers to be encountered on football trips.

Not only does fall bring the first winter weather, but the nights are continually growing longer from now on until December 21, and, therefore, two factors which work against the automobile driver are entering the picture increasingly as the football season wears on.

Moreover, the gay crowds, and huge crowds, which often travel to football games constitute a menace of their own peculiar variety. Some are too prone to celebrate and this will take a number of lives this year, and others are in too much of a hurry to get to the game for the opening kickoff—having started late.

Still others, who have enjoyed the fruits of victory too much, will lose their lives returning from the game, in darkness, in bad weather, or at the hands of someone else, who may be suffering from any one of the conditions fatal to so many drivers each year.

This editorial is a request for mature behavior by all readers this football season. While there are some perennial college playboys, who never seem to grow up and who take every football game as an occasion to celebrate as if they were eighteen years old, we hope that this example will not be followed by many of our citizens.

Too often it is these high school "Charlies" who are involved in accidents and killings, instead of the students whom one might expect to possess immature judgment. Some of those who read this editorial will not be alive at the end of this football season to check up on their behavior. Each year football trips take their toll. Be sure you are able to reflect upon your behavior late on the night of January 1—at the end of the football season.

AN EXCELLENT ADDITION!

Another fine addition to Plymouth's fast growing string of modern, up to the minute stores makes its bow to the public this week when Jerry Pease opens the doors to his new institution on South Main street.

Through Mr. Pease's aggressive efforts in slightly less than four years, he has built for himself and the community as fine a paint and wallpaper store as can be found in Michigan. Plymouth is fortunate to have this store and all the other modern retail outlets that it has. Each new addition makes this community a better shopping center for the people throughout the area and the city lacks little from the shoppers standpoint.

In following the colonialization pattern which is fast gaining local favor among our merchants, Mr. Pease presents an outstanding example of what can be done in his remodeled building. We wish him continued success in his new and enlarged operation.

TOO MUCH MONEY in government can be quite a bother. Among administrators to appreciate this fact was former Gov. Harry F. Kelly. His point was that the instant a state treasury shows a surplus, everyone starts devising ways to spend the unappropriated money. So long as there is a deficit, officials have a sound argument to use when approached by people with ideas that cost money.

The surplus proved a pitfall for Gov. G. Mennen Williams in an entirely different way. And he is still digging his way out of the rubble. In a recent press release the governor said something to the effect that: "We have now eliminated the deficit and will have a surplus." The statement made a wonderful target for his opponents. Several newspapers, as well, were quick to inquire about the "we". Columnists and editorials pointed out that the governor should be careful about claiming credit for the surplus. Republicans stated that the surplus resulted "not because of Soapy, but in spite of him".

Facts were on their side. Two major accomplishments are considered responsible for the fact that Michigan finally beat its financial problem.

One is the Business Receipts tax. This law is responsible for an increase of some $30 million per year. When it passed through the legislature in the final hectic days of the 1953 session and with the masterful, if high pressure, maneuvering of Sen. George Higgins, the governor refused to sign it!

Williams wanted a plain corporations profits tax and would settle for nothing less. But he couldn't veto the proposed tax without forcing a special session of the legislature which might override him anyway. So he made sure people knew he didn't like it; permitted it to become law without his name.

Second reason the budget balances is that appropriations were greatly reduced from what the governor requested in his message.

Now that the surplus exists, Republicans, who passed the tax and reduced his recommendations, ask, "How come Soapy is claiming credit for this?"

In an effort to calm the storm, the governor was quick to explain that his reference to "we" was meant in the sense "we the people of Michigan", not "we the Democratic party." He was ready and willing, he said "to give credit to administration heads who effected economies in state operation and to legislators who worked out of the program."

But the governor said that he felt that he, too, had played an integral part in the activity and is responsible for some of the credit for the accomplishment.

A KNOTTY PROBLEM for the Highway Department is developing as a by product of the Straits Bridge. It's the matter of a four lane north-south highway to enable people to drive to Mackinac with less difficulty.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has little quarrel with the idea if someone could figure out a way to finance it without disrupting long range plans his department has painstakingly worked out.

Root of the trouble lies in the fact that alert communities see the super highway as a future project that will come sooner or later. They are anxious to have it come sooner—and in their own vicinity.

Proposed routes receiving support at present are US 131, running through Grand Rapids, Cadillac and Kalkaska; US 27 from Coldwater through Marshall, Charlotte, Lansing, St. Johns and straight north; one running north from Battle Creek to M 66; one from Detroit, along much of US 23 through Dearborn, Pontiac, Flint and Saginaw.

At present there are no plans in the Highway Department for a four lane highway along any of these routes all the way to the Straits. Indications are that Commissioner Ziegler will continue his previous policy of spreading uniformly highway improvements with an eye to emergent needs caused by congested traffic conditions.

The problem of how to spend the money is not an easy one. Ziegler considers that it is better to attempt to improve roads in the many areas that supply the financing than it is to build enormous highways at great expense that will benefit a limited number of drivers.

Despite the dramatic appeal of the north-south highway, routine car counts show that there are many places in the state that are in central and southern Michigan.

Ziegler says he is aware of the traffic projections of experts. He estimates prove to be correct, he will adjust his plans accordingly. But before his department spends millions of dollars on a four lane highway, he wants to be sure the road is built where actual experience proves it will do the most good.

COST OF COUNTY government has increased $2 per person in the state, John P. Martin Jr., auditor general, said that it costs the "average" individual $26.78 for county services in 1953 compared with $24.97 in 1952.

Martin said there is a wide range of costs when counties are considered separately. It costs $19.91 to service a resident of Bay County, compared to $90.01 in Keweenaw. If costs of operating parks were deducted from the total, the cost there would be only $68.96 per person.

Administrative expense for county court houses also vary according to Martin's report. It runs as low as $3.04 per day in Delta to $10.28 in Keweenaw.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES INSURANCE

New Boston, New Hampshire. I believe in insurance—fire, life, and casualty—yes, and I include hurricane, accident, and sickness insurance. I especially like the Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Everyone should subscribe to these.

PRACTICE CHRISTIANITY

Apart from being a business, insurance is also a form of good sound Christianity in which every church member should enthusiastically join. Insurance is really all of us contributing to help ourselves and others who are in trouble. Instead of waiting for fire, death, or accident, and then "passing the hat," insurance companies collect the money first.

To interest people in taking out insurance consumes time and costs the insurance companies much money; also, bookkeeping and other expenses are high. But in a free nation I see no way of avoiding this expense. Even compulsory insurance costs something to "service," and it is very easy for politics and even corruption to creep in. Therefore, I believe the present plan is best.

BUY ENOUGH DIFFERENT KINDS OF INSURANCE

A week or two ago, Greater Boston and Eastern New England were swept by a hurricane. Within about one hour, $100,000,000 of property values was wiped out. A portion of this—such as beautiful trees—can be insured only at very high premium rates, but damage to buildings, life, etc. can be protected at reasonable insurance costs. (Incidentally, uninsured loss of trees can be deducted from your income tax.)

Since this hurricane I learned that very few people carry hurricane insurance. In fact, most people do not know what their insurance covers. For instance, manufacturers insure their F.O.B. goods until delivered to the merchant's nearest railroad station. The merchant insures these goods after they arrive at his store; but very few carry policies which protect the goods while being trucked between station and store. Be sure you have the right insurance, and enough of it.

READ YOUR POLICIES

Whether you are a manufacturer, or a storekeeper, or a humble citizen, you should read your policies. Get them all out tonight and read them. Anything not plainly covered will not be covered. Especially read what is in fine print. This advice strongly applies to accident and health insurance sold at low rates. An executor may try to collect on a $10,000 accident policy and find that the accident must be in a train wreck—in order to collect. In fact, one company which sells accident insurance at very low rates insists you must be seated in a train when killed in order for your executors to collect.

Sickness insurance should be checked. A long list of diseases of which you have never heard are mentioned; but you may find no mention of heart disease, cancer, or some very common causes of death. I forecast that the time is coming when these accident and sickness policies will be compelled by law to state in large type what they DO NOT cover. In the meantime I beg that all my friends read their policies. If these policies do not cover every reasonable hazard which you can think of, get covered. For instance, if your wife should put a person's eye out with an open umbrella, are you insured against its costing you $20,000?

GET LETTER FROM YOUR AGENT

Your insurance agent wants to be one of your best friends. He is truly interested in your welfare. Tell him you want everything covered and get a letter from him stating that everything, unless he mentions it in this letter to you, is covered. One other thought. In most states only perfectly sound insurance companies are allowed by law to operate; but this is not true in all states. Furthermore, some unscrupulous companies get around the law by operating by mail from a careless state.

You cannot be expected to study the financial strength of each company—but you can insist upon selecting only well-known companies which have been in business a long time. Any company which has advertised consistently in your local paper should be safe. This is a good test, especially if the advertisement reads that the company has been approved by the Insurance Commissions of all the leading states.

Probably the first prefabricator of houses was Thomas Lawrence who cut and shaped house lumber in Falmouth in the early 1800's, shipping it by schooners to the South where the houses were set up.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Do you find that you are able to fill all of your shopping needs in Plymouth?"

MRS. RUSSELL HOFFMAN, 760 Burroughs: "I find I can shop in Plymouth very satisfactorily. I do have to go to Detroit occasionally, but on the whole, I can get everything I need right here."

MRS. ERMA McLEAN, 9449 Oakview: "I can find pretty much what I want right here. But in connection with shopping, I think the parking facilities still need improvement, although they are getting better. The downtown comfort station is also in need of better upkeep. It's a disgrace."

MRS. LOUISE BRINEGAR, 9295 Haggerty: "Well, for my groceries I go to Stop & Shop and Kroger's. And for clothing and other things, I get them all here."

MRS. C. B. LEVERING, 923 Penniman: "I very seldom have to go outside the city to do any shopping. I find everything is available here. No, I can't think of any kind of store we need."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Adelaide and Jimmy McCabe of 46271 West Ann Arbor road are sampling the party punch which their mother, Mrs. Willis R. McCabe, will shortly be serving to her guests.

Serve Your Guests A Colorful Party Punch

Looking for a really good punch to serve your guests? Mrs. Willis R. McCabe of 46271 West Ann Arbor road suggests the colorful one given below, and often serves crackers or potato chips with the punch, dipping them in the avocado spread.

Mix fruit juices and gingerale, add honey, mix well. Chill. Add ice cream and stir until almost blended. Add cherry slices. Although this particular recipe makes 1 1/2 quarts, Mrs. McCabe says it can be doubled or tripled according to the number of guests you have.

- Party Punch
- 1 cup orange juice
  - 1 cup pineapple juice
  - 1/4 cup lemon juice
  - 1/4 cup maraschino cherry juice
  - 1 cup dry gingerale
  - 2 tablespoons honey
  - 1 pint vanilla ice cream
  - 2 tablespoons sliced cherries

- Avocado Dip
- 1 avocado mashed
  - 1/2 package Philadelphia cream cheese
  - 2 tablespoons grated onion
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - salt and pepper to taste

New Books at Dunning Library

Non-fiction marks the latest shipment of books to the Dunning library, and two of these novels are on the best-seller list, "The Healing Oath" by Andre Soubiran, and Pamela Frankau's "A Wreath for the Enemy."

Among the other novels are "Sting of Glory" by Ann Willets, concerning women civilian employees of the Office of Strategic Services in North Africa (during World War II, and Will Oursler's book, "N.Y., N.Y." Peter Bourne's "Twilight of the Dragon" is a novel with an Oriental flavor, the story taking place in China.

Swedish emigrants to this country during the 1850's are the main characters of Wilhelm Moberg's latest novel, "Unto A Good Land"; and Giovanni Guareschi has come forth with another humorous book entitled "Don Camillo's Dilemma."

Charlotte Jay's "The Fugitive Eye" is a suspense story with setting in England; and mystery readers will enjoy "Rogue Cop" by William P. McGivern.

William Ratigan's historical novel on "Soo Canal", with forward by General Douglas MacArthur, will appeal to many readers, as will "Turn East, Turn West" by Luella Creighton.

The library has bought its third copy of "Not As A Stranger" by Morton Thompson, which also came in this last shipment, because of the great demand for this book by Plymouth readers.

Library to Show 4 Films At Next Adult Program

The showing of four films is scheduled for Dunning library's teenage and adult program on Wednesday, September 29, at 7 p.m. According to Miss Nancy Brannan, assistant librarian, the titles will be "Speech: Using Your Voice," "Speech Conservation," "Federal Government, Plan of Organization" and "Birds of Inland Waterways."

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Halvar Blomberg of John Alden road have just returned from a three week vacation, part of which was spent on Cape Cod, where they weathered the hurricane Carol. They also witnessed the destruction left from the path of the hurricane in the states of Massachusetts and New York.

Nearly 50 cousins from Port Huron, Deckerville, Howell, Detroit and Plymouth attended the Burgett family reunion at Riverside park on Sunday, September 12.

Mrs. Michael Schuster was guest of honor at a birthday dinner last Monday evening in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Russell Gale on Eight Mile road. Present were the Herman Bakhaus family, the Robert Beyer family, Gretchen and Michael Schuster, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moe and Carol and Anita Gale.

Roger and Brian Kidston left Saturday for the University of Michigan where Roger will re-enter Law school and Brian will enter the School of Engineering.

Miss Emma Arnold accompanied Mrs. Arthur Kidston, Margot Kidston and Sheila Lorenz to Canada last Wednesday. Miss Arnold, who on October 4, will celebrate her ninety-fourth birthday, is very interested in travel and reading which she does without glasses. They made the trip over the International Bridge and returned through the tunnel.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer were hosts at a delightful dinner and social evening last Saturday in their home on Arthur street honoring Wayne Dunlap who leaves soon for a year in Europe. Guests were members of the Plymouth Symphony board, their wives and husbands. Fifteen guests were present and Mr. Dunlap was presented with a lovely traveling alarm clock by the board.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Blunk street spent Thursday, in Franklin Hills where they visited their newest grandson, Richard Dwight Walton, and also his parents, the William Waltons, who celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Potter and family of Downey, California, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Tillotson of South Main street last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick and daughter, Mary Lou, were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Knox and family of Summer.

Mrs. Millard Mitchell, Mrs. Wilford Aubrey, Mrs. H. B. Smith and Mrs. Edward Robertson attended the Tall Girls Fashion Show and buffet luncheon last Wednesday, September 8 at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel.

Bill Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Bateman of West Ann Arbor trail, entertained at a house party over the holiday weekend at his parent's summer home on Little Loon lake. Guests included Charlotte DeVries of Lansing; Richard Elzerman of Plymouth; Charles Stewart of Washington, D.C., formerly of Plymouth; Mary Lyon of Washington, D.C., formerly of Ashland, Kentucky; Bob Bateman and Joyce Smith of Plymouth; and Bill Bateman and Barbara Douglas of Ann Arbor. At the houseparty the engagement of Mary Lyon and Charles Stewart was announced.

Peter Leemon and Chris Krueger left Tuesday of last week for Ann Arbor where both will be sophomores at the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Benton of Deer street and Mr. and Mrs. James Cannady and granddaughter, Vickie Lee, of Elmhurst avenue, have returned to Plymouth from Lafayette, Indiana, where they spent the holiday weekend with Mr. Benton's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robertson of St. Louis were also visiting there. At the gathering were relatives who had not been together since World War I.

Members of the Past Matron's Club were guests Tuesday evening of last week in the home of Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst on Wing street. Co-hostess with Mrs. Brocklehurst, at the delightful party, was Mrs. Albert Stever.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chute have returned to their home on Garfield avenue following a five weeks vacation trip which took them through Colorado, Utah, Arizona, Minnesota, New Mexico and Wisconsin. They visited Bryce, Grand and Zion canyons as well as other scenic spots.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dobbs arrived in Plymouth last weekend to visit friends and relatives. Sergeant Dobbs, who has been in Korea for the past fifteen months, arrived at Fort Sheridan on Sunday where he received his discharge in time to get to Plymouth for the weekend. He is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs of Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Maude Schrader and daughter, Evelyn, who have been visiting in the Edwin Schrader home on North Main street for the past few weeks, are spending some time in Hendersonville, N. C., before returning to their home in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Bird P.T.A. Has First Meeting September 28

The Bird school P.T.A. will hold its first meeting Tuesday evening, September 28, at 7:45 p.m. in the school gym.

A short business meeting will be followed by Mrs. Tanger, principal, introducing the School Staff.

The Cub Scouts of Den 1, Pack 293, sponsored by Bird school P.T.A., will present a humorous, musical skit. This is a repeat performance for the boys and the audience will find it to be an unusual and entertaining act.

Mr. and Mrs. Tanger will take the audience on a journey through Western states as they show their colored slides which they took on their trip this summer.

A social hour has been planned, which will give teachers, parents and friends an opportunity to meet and get acquainted.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Find Local Boy's Balloon On Farm in Amherstburg

On Thursday, September 9, Larry Speer, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Speer of 802 Fairground, sent one of the gas-filled balloons he'd gotten at the Beyer anniversary celebration off to parts unknown, enclosing a note with his name and address and requesting that if anyone found the balloon, to please write him.

Almost a week went by, but last Wednesday Larry got a reply from Mrs. Earl Martin of Ontario, Canada. It seems the balloon drifted from Plymouth all the way to Amherstburg and came to rest September 11 on a tree on the Martin farm. Mrs. Martin reported the balloon still intact and wished Larry continued success in his adventures.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

No undergarment in the world can create a lovely figure from a too heavy body. Not only is it important to stay slim for appearance's sake but also for the sake of your health.

Doctors have gone on record as saying that a person is far better off being a little under-weight than over-weight. Unless there is a real physical reason for excess weight, there is no excuse for allowing oneself to become fat.

Some individuals have a mental complex which causes them to overeat. This complex can be controlled once it is understood. A sensible diet, coupled with the right amount of exercise, can well be called the basis of good health and good looks.

Unfortunately, there are endless fat diets in circulation. Don't try any of these.

When you have made up your mind that it is time for you to lose some weight, go to your family doctor. He will give you an examination and prescribe the kind of diet you need and one that will be good for you.

Follow your doctor's advice as to the amount of weight to lose. It is safe for young children to be put on a diet under a doctor's direction. However, a child should never be put on a diet unless a doctor has examined him and prescribed the diet list.

Redecorate Unpopular Room

We have all heard a hostess say: "Let's go into the other room. We never sit here." Today, with the scarcity of space, no room should be disliked. You can easily transform it into a favorite spot.

Changing Color and Draperies

Dull wall colors and uninteresting draperies are often the trouble. To create a quiet, relaxing atmosphere, re-do the walls in a faraway blue, green or gray. To add sparkle and gaiety, use deep pink, yellow, turquoise, or terra cotta.

Interesting, new draperies also work magic. The general rule is to select a small print for a small room, and a large pattern for a big room. But often draperies in a large print are good in a small room, if other fabrics are in solid colors or a small, all-over design.

Different Fabric Effects

When furniture is nondescript, handsome drapery colors and designs work wonders. And you can get draperies at moderate prices whether you make your own draperies or buy them ready-made. The flogals are very decorative in patterns like popular Forsythe print, with its large clusters of peonies and hollyhocks, or the new fall Quince Blossom design of flowering branches used dramatically twice across the width. In a redecorated, demonstration room, the Quince print, with a pink background, flowers in gold and mulberry shaded with rose, and leaves in green, is used for draperies and slipcover of the sofa. Walls are a matching pink, floor covering is green, and easy chairs are in gold trimmed with pink moss fringe. The formerly dingy room now has elegance and gaiety.

Sheers Create Light

For dark rooms, sheer draperies, which create a feeling of light, are in big demand. Draperies of zephyrchrom are especially popular because of the textured surface lightly threaded with gold. With white, pink, blue or green walls, zephyrchrom draperies in a pale tint of the same color create a sun-lit pastel mist.

Better Furniture Arrangement
Once you settle on color and fabric, scrutinize the furniture arrangement. Be sure it is well-balanced, with each end of the room allotted its share of heavier pieces, and lamp tables placed near the easy chairs. In a small room, a love seat is best and easy chairs should not be too big. In a large room, use at least one big piece—breakfront, tall bookcase, or chest set against a decorative fabric wall hanging.

Co-eds Set The Trend In Fashion

It is a well-known fashion axiom that the college girl sets the pace. Many of the trends that come to the world of high-fashion originate on the campus.

Campuses throughout the country are seeing an invasion from Bermuda this year in the form of long shorts and the Bermuda kilt, a new skirt shortie the same length as the shorts. Bermuda shorts are favorites in cotton khaki, cotton plaids like the black Watch green or Stuart red, and in soft corduroys. Some of the pert little kilt skirts have their own attached underpants. Worn with both of these shorties are cotton ribbed, knee high socks.

Adaptable Jumper

Voted "most popular" and "most versatile" at many schools this year is the jumper in newer and smarter styles than ever before. Collegians love the jumper in smooth cotton velveteen, rich corduroy, and in quilted gingham.

The jumper is wonderful for the classroom when teamed with a crisp cotton blouse—and it's perfect for dates when worn alone with jewelry added to dress it up. The career girl will join with the collegiatrix in singing the jumper's praises. She can wear it to the office with a blouse and remove the blouse after working hours to go straight from her desk to a dinner date.

"Car Coat" Popular

The current craze for the foreign sports car has popularized a new kind of coat—the "sports car coat." The hooded "duffel" coat has become a favorite for the open car. Many of these are designed in wind and rain resistant cotton, with natural, black, and gray as most notable colors. The coats frequently are lined in contrasting plaid. The hood protects a lady's locks as she zooms about the campus on wheels—or in many cases, on loafers!

The college girl today has a high I.Q. when it comes to economy in clothes. That is why she has learned to select separates and other styles which can serve duty for many occasions.

Season-Spanning Fabrics
Such season-spanning fabrics as cotton tweeds, dark gingham, menswear suitings, cotton failles, damasks, khaki twills, and textured cottons have captured the coed's fancy. She loves the trim dresses and ensembles that designers have created in the all-weather cottons.

The college girl owes an apology to the navy man this fall. She has made a direct steal from the sailor for one of her new fashions, a middy blouse tied with a new fashion twist at the neck. The sailor collar blouses are seen in the traditional solid colored red and blue cotton broadcloth with white trim and also in cotton prints.

NEW NOTES IN COOKING

By Joan M. Rock

CONVERSATION PIECES

Eggs Benedict—a conversation piece indeed—evolves from these toasted English muffins with Welsh Rabbit, by simply topping the muffin with thin broiled ham and a poached egg before sauce is added. Strictly speaking it should be Hollandaise sauce, but a cheese sauce tastes so good and is easier and cheaper to prepare.

Ever hear of a cold sauce for hot noodles? We couldn't believe this one until we tried it, but a single taste will convince you too, it's that good.

To make it, mix 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine with 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, and 1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent. With a rotary or electric beater, beat 2 egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; gradually beat in the butter mixture. Pour sauce into serving bowl and chill several hours.

Pass the sauce at the table, letting each person spoon some over hot, freshly cooked noodles. You can mix the sauce with the noodles before serving, but the dish won't cause as much comment. This makes about 3/4 cup sauce; serves 4 or 5. Excellent noodles indeed, to serve with baked ham, meat loaf, or, in fact, any meat dish that doesn't have a rich gravy to compete with the sauce.

The natural flavor of rice is so delicate that it seems almost flavorless to many average palates, but try cooking rice with a little Ac'cent and see for yourself what happens.

TOMATO RICE RING WITH CREAMED DEVILED EGGS

1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1 pkg. pre-cooked rice
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 Few grains pepper
1 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent
1/4 teaspoon marjoram or oregano
6 deviled eggs

Stir the 1 teaspoon Ac'cent into tomato juice. Prepare rice as directed on package, using tomato juice instead of water. Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler; blend in flour, paprika, salt, and pepper. Add milk all at once; stir over low heat until smooth and thickened. Stir in the 1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent and marjoram or oregano. Cover; set over hot water; cook 10 minutes. Shape rice in ring on serving dish, using 2 large spoons. Place 4 halves of deviled eggs in center or ring. Pour in most of the sauce. Add 4 more halves of deviled eggs and remaining sauce. Garnish with remaining deviled eggs and parsley. Makes 4 generous servings.

Tips on Adding Water Softener

How do you determine how much water softener to use for laundering?

It isn't easy according to a home management specialist at Michigan State College. But here are some suggestions which may help:

First, you need to know how hard the water is. If you live in a town or city, your water commissioner can tell you. In the country, you can usually find out about getting water tested for hardness from your local health department.

A kind of general rule of thumb

—not an exact guide—is to use about one-fourth to one-third of a cup of softener in an eight to ten-gallon capacity washer for water of medium hardness (five to ten grains).

For hard water (11 to 20 grains), about a cupful of softener would probably be required.

And remember—you need this amount in the first rinse, or in the deep rinse for an automatic washer—as well as in the wash water.

These figures are not exact because requirements will vary—depending upon the hardness of water, the amount of water your washer holds, and the kind of softener you choose.

Follow directions on the water softener package and experiment until you find what seems to be the right amount. Then measure that amount each time.

It is easy to make your own milk shake right at home. Just combine two cups of chocolate milk with one-half cup of vanilla ice cream. Shake in a beverage mixer or beat with rotary egg beater until foamy.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD

THIS ATTRACTIVE MODEL HOME at 718 Burroughs in Plymouth, is typical of the many fine homes built in this area by Stewart Oldford & Sons. This brick veneer home has three large bedrooms, full basement, gas forced air heat, large kitchen with adjoining porch, recreation area in basement, paneled breakfast room, combination storm doors and windows, and many other outstanding features. This model is open for public inspection at the above address.

Good Color Alters House Heating At Low Cost

Remodel your home with color—it's the most economical of all the designer's tools. Good color costs no more than bad.

That is the advice of Home Maintenance and Improvement magazine, which stresses the advantage of selecting colors carefully for both exterior and interior remodeling.

"Paint," the magazine says, "costs about the same regardless of the color selected. The price of asphalt shingles for the roof is about the same no matter which of the many solid and blended colors you choose. If you want yellow terrace furniture, it won't cost a bit more than if you pick green."

Since any difference in cost is insignificant, the home-owner can choose his remodeling colors strictly according to decorative principles. This is considered especially important for the owner of a small home, who can use color to create "desirable illusions" that will make his house look appreciably larger and more impressive than it really is.

As an example, the magazine observes that a low one-story house will look taller if it is given a roof of pastel asphalt shingles.

Darker, neutral-colored shingles have the opposite effect: they will make a tall, boxy house look lower and less awkwardly proportioned.

After selecting a roof color, the side walls are the next area to consider. Here again, Home Maintenance and Improvement suggests a light color to make a house look larger, a dark one to make it look smaller. The trim and windows should be painted to match the siding. If the siding is to be light, entrance doors should be given a dark, contrasting color.

The magazine cautions the home-owner to plan his entire color scheme on paper before doing any remodeling. He should also confer with local building supply dealers on all the colors available in roofing, siding, paints, and other materials.

BILLIONS FOR HOUSING

Residential building expenditure in 1953 was estimated at $11,700,000,000 by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Ten-Year Gains In Home Heating Shown By Report

American homeowners will start the 1954-55 heating season in better shape than they did ten years ago. Since 1944 there has been approximately a 50 per cent increase in central heating and a more than 200 per cent increase in automatic heating, an authoritative home heating industry report, released on the eve of National Home Week, reveals.

The beginning of this year's cold season will find more than 26,000,000 central heating systems ready to ward off the winter's chills, according to the report. About one out of three of all these homes have automatic temperature control of some kind—and there are some 50,000 installations of electronic systems that were unheard of ten years ago. As recently as the 1944-45 heating season, the report indicated, there were only some 4,500,000 automatic heating systems in 17,500,000 centrally heated homes.

The report also noted that more than 180,000 air conditioning systems will be in use in homes this winter in conjunction with home heating. Less than three years ago there were only 20,000 of these year-round systems—and there is no record that any of them were operating back in 1944!

The firm also reported that the increase in thermostat installations was not due alone to the increased use of automatic heat. Part of the increase is due to installation of the new electronic system which utilizes an outdoor thermostat as well as one mounted indoors. In addition, there has been a definite trend to zoning—that is, the use of more than one thermostat to maintain different temperatures in several areas of the home. On the increase, too, is room-by-room installation of thermostats.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-268

DESIGN B-268. This plan shows a separate dining room in addition to living room, two bedrooms and a combination kitchen-dinette. The location of the dining room provides cross light through the center of the house. Kitchen cabinets have a window over the work counter and one over the sink with refrigerator and stove built into the counter. Coat closets are located at each entrance, a large walk-in closet in the front bedroom, wardrobes in the other bedroom, linen in hall and closets over stairs. Exterior finish includes siding, asphalt shingles, brick chimney and picture window. Floor area is 959 square feet; cubage 18,221 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN B-268, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

FURNITURE FASHIONS

Although this chair is from the "Canberra" group, it easily could be nicknamed the "Longhorn" chair. A smart combination of wood, fabric, and leather, this chair leaves little to be desired in styling, construction, and durability. It is a perfect accent piece of furniture for your living room and has maximum comfort.

This chair is a prime example of the many refreshing fashions in furniture that are available to the homemaker this fall. The new collections are as versatile as they are beautiful. Utility, too, is an outstanding feature of the new offerings.

Dormer Window Make Attic Usable

Extra living space for a growing family can be obtained by adding a pair of dormer windows to an expansion attic. Dormers increase the headroom and usable floor space in the attic, and they provide the light and cross-ventilation needed to make the space pleasantly livable.

Ponderosa pine windows are recommended because they can be painted or stained to fit the present color scheme of the house. For ease of installation, wood windows are made as units, with sash and frame combined and factory-weatherstripped.

MAPLE FLOOR RESILIENT

A maple floor is a lifetime investment. It will outwear stone, yet gives the resilient footing, a minimum of foot and leg fatigue, which is an essential to maximum human efficiency.

The average middle-income owner of a new home operates 14 electric motors in his house.

If you want to sleep well, take a tip from the motel industry, which is a big user of mineral wool—also known as rock wool and glass wool. Your bedrooms can be a lot warmer if ceilings and side-walls are insulated with mineral wool.

An item of special interest to homemakers and to husbands who want to see the work taken out of washday for their wives, is the new 1955 Bendix Duomatic Washer-dryer over at D. Galin & Son Appliances on Penniman avenue. With just a setting of the dials the clothes are thoroughly washed and completely dried—all in one operation.

You can adjust the temperature to either warm or hot water for the wash, then your clothes are triple rinsed automatically, followed by the drying period. With this new appliance there's no heat, no lint, no moisture, because as the warm air removes the moisture from the clothes it's dehydrated in a special condenser, with both lint and moisture automatically drained away. And they've added a special safety feature to stop the action of the Duomatic whenever the door is opened, so you mothers won't have to worry about curious children.

If you've already got an automatic washer and are looking for a dryer, why not stop over at Galin's and look at the new 1955 Norge Automatic electric clothes-dryer that just came in this week? With cold weather coming on, you homemakers won't have to face the prospects of lugging heavy, wet clothes outdoors nor a damp basement caused by hanging wet clothes downstairs on a stormy day.

An especially nice feature of this new dryer is that you can plug it into any wall outlet in your kitchen, laundry or utility room, and it's got a special undercoat that rustproofs the entire cabinet. Dimensions are 26-3/4" in depth, width 31", with a height of 36" to work's surface top.

With the aid of the handy knee-action latch just load your damp clothes into the dryer, set the knob for desired drying time, and that's it. This new dryer uses a lower temperature with greater airflow.

Here's How Kansas City Merchants Solved Customer Parking Problems

Plymouth, Michigan may be only a fraction of the size of Kansas City, Kansas, but merchants and city officials of both communities have realized the necessity of providing parking spaces. Here is the story of how Kansas City has met the challenge when customers began shopping elsewhere because of the lack of parking facilities.

A 500 per cent rise in property values, a 40 per cent increase in overall business volume and a halt of a shopping trend to the suburbs are among the more spectacular benefits enjoyed by the "Minnesota avenue" merchants of Kansas City. During the post-war years they have backed a municipal plan which has established nine free parking lots in their area, it was found by the National Parking Study Council.

Space for 1,065 cars is provided by these lots to encourage shoppers to patronize the establishments in the Minnesota avenue section, most important of the six shopping centers in this grain and meat-packing metropolis. Each of the lots is handsomely landscaped, hard-surfaced, lighted and surrounded by neat stone walls. With one exception, parking is free and strictly limited to two hours but drivers are encouraged to seek another spot in a different lot when their time has expired.

Kansas City, Kansas, has a population of 130,000, but serves a metropolitan area of 800,000 in addition to two counties in neighboring Missouri. Much of its trade depends upon the automobile-borne customer.

Back in 1935, Minnesota avenue businessmen became alarmed when they noticed that customers and new establishments were drifting away from what until then had been the prime business area of their city. A quick check proved that this downward trend could be laid directly to the lack of parking facilities. Rather than join this move "back to the farm," they joined forces to keep trade—and their businesses—where they had always been. Parking lots were the answer.

This enlightened decision was not easy to bring into being. The merchants decided to have one lot in each block in the Minnesota Avenue section, but met opposition from rural interests in the state legislature where concern was expressed over financing of the project. They realized the problem required municipal aid and guidance, which they secured in full measure, but a legal battle promptly ensued. Their hard-won enabling legislation, in brief, permitted the following program:

1. A parking lot may be established in a block if 51 per cent of the property owners, on a front footage basis, request it.
2. Of the total cost, the city could pay between 10 and 25 per cent; Kansas City chose as its municipal share, 20 per cent.
3. The remaining 80 per cent is paid for by the merchants affected over a 10-year period by "Benefit District" assessments in addition to their regular taxes.
4. Assessment is based on location in relation to the parking facility and on foot-frontage owned in the benefited area.
5. Land for the parking facilities is acquired by the city through condemnation proceedings under the law of eminent domain.

In its study of how various communities throughout the nation are solving the serious problem of overcoming parking strangulation, the National Parking Study Council, conducted as the auto industry's contribution to the problem, has found that Kansas City, Kansas, merchants were far-sighted indeed. At the outbreak of World War II, land acquired for the parking facilities cost as little as $30 a foot. Immediately after the war, the same land could command $250; now it is worth $450 or more per foot. One group of merchants in a block which turned down the original proposal, bitterly regrets its decision.

Each of the nine lots can be expanded upward and downward. The one at which a small charge is made has gone underground. The charge is levied because it provides direct access to an adjacent municipally-owned hotel and was specifically provided for the accommodation of guests. It is hoped that the lots can be kept forever free, but should charges be necessary it is intended that they never exceed the rate of regular parking meters.

The National Parking Study Council found, as an interesting sidelight to its study, that the strict police enforcement of the two-hour limit in the lots is typical of their traffic handling. There's no such thing as a "fix" on tickets in Kansas City and all laws are strictly enforced. In 1953 Kansas City, Kansas, had only three traffic fatalities and more convictions for drunken driving than St. Louis with a population five times greater. From the parking point of view, this means one thing—the lots are not hogged by all-day users but kept available for the shoppers for whom they were intended.

Real estate values have soared; business records a steady rise and traffic congestion has been eliminated in the Minnesota Avenue section since the "Benefit District" parking lots have been established. Stores have improved their rear entrances and one department store has added 25,000 customers from Missouri to its charge account list as a direct result of the lots. These new customers prefer to trade in Kansas City, Kansas, rather than buck the traffic in Kansas City, Missouri!

Needless to say, the other five communities that in addition to Minnesota Avenue make up Kansas City, Kansas, are clamoring for their lots, too. And some are making progress in getting them.

A rental fee of one peppercorn a year is paid by a fraternal organization for use of the old State House at St. George, Bermuda. To date, 139 pepper seeds have changed hands.

50 Years Ago

September 30, 1904

The large barn of Tom Paulger's living northeast of here, burned to the ground about four o'clock Wednesday morning, including grain, hay and farming implements. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Some time ago a pair of horses escaped from the farm of Oliver Loomis and although search for them was made, no trace could be found. Mr. Loomis later inserted an advertisement in a Detroit newspaper and at about the same time he noticed an ad in the same paper of a pair of horses being found near Adrian. Correspondence resulted in Mr. Loomis going to Adrian where he identified and recovered his property.

Maynard Riley, Evered Jolliffe, and Frank Shaw, left Monday for Ann Arbor, to continue their studies in the university.

George Springer, L. Hetzler, Burton Brown and Harry Purdy have been drawn as circuit court jurors for the October term of court.

The Wiedman Pickle company has taken in over 6,000 bushels of cucumbers this season. The frost last week destroyed all the vines but the growth would have been half as much more.

Fred Crebbin, of Detroit, weighs 430 pounds and is running for coroner. He isn't much of a sprinter but he expects to land the nomination just the same. He's a good Republican.

Henry Baker is repairing and making an addition to the building known as the Christian Science hall, and when completed it will be occupied by Hinckley and Henry as a pool and billiard room.

A new time table went into effect on the Pere Marquette last Sunday. There is no change in the running time of trains but the morning train from and the evening train to Toledo have been discontinued.

H. J. Fisher, the blacksmith, took first premium on his wagons and buggies which he had on exhibition at the Redford fair last week.

The Methodists gave a farewell reception to their pastor, W. G. Stephens, last Friday evening, that was attended by a large number. Reverend and Mrs. Stephens were each presented with neat souvenirs as reminders of their Plymouth friends.

Rita Mae Mansley, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mansley of this village, was awarded a prize for being the prettiest baby in class number 2, of ages one to two years, at the Northville-Wayne county fair last week.

An attempt was made to burglarize the Eckles Coal and Supply company office in an early hour last week Thursday morning. Officer Charles Thumme, making his rounds, noticed that the light usually left burning, was not in evidence, and made an investigation. It is thought that the would-be burglars heard his approach and hastily made their

William Michaels of the Plymouth Buick Sales company was at Akron, Ohio, several days the first of the week, where he, with a number of others, were guests of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, as a result of the Plymouth Buick Sales company, selling the most tires in the dealers group to which they were assigned for a given length of time. The guests were entertained with an airplane ride, a trip through the Goodyear tire factory, banquet and several other interesting trips.

The sale of the Wilson and Sons' cattle at Howell, brought out one of the largest crowds ever seen at the Howell fairgrounds pavilion for a similar sale. The hundred and ten head totaled over $18,000. Harry C. Robinson and Guy F. Thompson officiated as auctioneers.

David Nichol and Edwin Schrader have resumed their studies at the University of Michigan.

Arthur White won seven first place prizes on his golden reba, Lady Amherst, and silver pheasants at the Northville fair last week and, in addition, won a silver cup on his exhibit. He has won first prizes and the silver cup for the past three years.

Sunday was the first time sound and talking pictures have been heard and seen in Plymouth, and for the feature picture the management could not have selected a better one than the "Rainbow Man", and it was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

10 Years Ago

September 22, 1944

To celebrate her seventh birthday last Friday, Miss Lea Raye Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crane of Penniman avenue, invited Sally Morgan, Gracie Olin, Mary Ann Morrow, Joan Donnelly, Carol Ann Poppenger to her home for the afternoon. A birthday cake and ice cream were enjoyed by the young girls at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Bachelord entertained the nine members of her club Wednesday, honoring the birthday of Mrs. E. J. Allison. Other guests included Mrs. Harold Brisbois, Mrs. Christine Van Poppelin, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Hattie White and Mrs. Josephine Fish.

Relatives numbering 15, which included sisters and nieces, gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles Draper last Thursday to celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Allen Horton is in Midland where she is visiting her daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Ballmer. She will be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. Marvin Sackett and Marion Gorton returned Saturday from Rockford, Illinois, where they spent the week with Mrs. Donald Fulford who was formerly Barbara Hubbell.

Mrs. Fred Anderson and daughters, Vivian and Mrs. Inez Bakewell, spent Wednesday in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Deeg and family.

Mrs. Frank Terry and Mrs. William Downing spent the fore part of the week in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Walter Nisley and Hildur Carlson returned Saturday from a week's visit in Omaha, Nebraska.

Mrs. L. H. Goddard and Mrs. Walter Sumner are visiting relatives in Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Raum and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McAllister attended the football game at Ann Arbor on Saturday.

The F.O.B. club will celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Walter Sumner Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. William Rose. Other guests will be Mrs. Vaughan Smith, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Russell Powell and Mrs. Robert Willoughby.

Darryl Speers
Private Darryl Speers recently enjoyed a two-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Searfoss of 1185 West Ann Arbor trail. Speers has been in the Army since last October, and is now with the 32nd Machine Records unit at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Private Speers received special training in business machines at Fort Benjamin Harrison before being assigned to his present unit. He attended Michigan State college for two years after his graduation from Plymouth high school in 1951.

Ronald Allgood
Private First Class Ronald Allgood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allgood, 8456 Dakota avenue, Plymouth, has been promoted to rank of Corporal. He is assigned as a tank driver with Company A, 106th Tank Battalion, a unit of the 44th Infantry Division, as Fort Lewis, Washington.

The 44th Division, now undergoing tactical training as a General Reserve division, holds an impressive combat record for its 203 days of steady combat during World War II in Europe. Three of the Division's present regiments took part in the fierce jungle warfare in the Pacific.

Demobilized after World War II, the 44th was called back to active Federal service in February 1952 during the Korean conflict.

Carr J. Phalen

Corporal Carr J. Phalen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Phalen, 220 Ann street, Plymouth, was selected as the Soldier of the Month of the 720th Military Police Battalion, Tokyo, Japan for July 1954.

Phalen who will be discharged January 10, 1955, is with Company "B", 720th Military Police Battalion, and was picked as the outstanding soldier in this company of 111 men. The final selection, in which Phalen competed against representatives of four other companies, was based on appearance and neatness of the contestants, proficiency in performing assigned duties, personal conduct and attitude while participating in training and educational activities, and outstanding accomplishments which were of benefit to the battalion as a whole.

David Jolliffe

Private David Jolliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Jolliffe of 315 Holbrook, is stationed at Camp Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

A graduate of Michigan State college, Jolliffe was among the group of Plymouth youths inducted August 23 and sent to this camp.

John R. McDonald

Lieutenant Colonel John R. McDonald of 371 Irwin street has been awarded a diploma from the USAF Extension Course Institute at Gunter Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama, for completing the Field Officer Correspondence course, one of the ECI general education courses patterned after resident Air Force schools.

This course, designed for study by field grade officers, covers 12 phases of air operations at the field grade level.

In addition to this course, the institute offers others on transportation, armament, finance, photography, intelligence, aircraft and automotive maintenance, electronics, and military law.

Warren T. Battle

Private Warren T. Battle of Plymouth has joined the famed Fourth Armored Division, Fort Hood, Texas, as a member of the 512th Armored Infantry battalion. The son of Mrs. Maude M. Battle of 873 Herald street, he entered the Army on February 25, 1953. Battle took his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and was recently assigned to Fort Hood from Fort Bliss, Texas.

The Fourth Armored Division, reactivated at Fort Hood June 15, won fame and the coveted Presidential Unit Citation during the heroic days of Normandy and Bastogne in World War II. The Division is now in an intensive training program.

Gary E. Sockow

Private First Class Gary E. Sockow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sockow of 570 Kellogg street, Plymouth was recently awarded his paratrooper wings by the famed 11th Airborne Division Jump school at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Sockow received his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky and then was assigned to the Support company of the 188th Airborne Infantry regiment of the 11th Airborne division. Prior to his entrance into the service he was attending Michigan State Normal college and had graduated from Plymouth high school. Sockow is assigned to a mortar squad in his company.

Daniel G. Bonga

Private First Class Daniel G. Bonga of 592 South Harvey street, Plymouth arrived at an air base in Korea for duty with Marine Aircraft Group 12, the "Heavy Haulers" of the First Marine Aircraft Wing.

Before the truce, the Flying Leathernecks of this group dropped 19,500 tons of bombs on enemy targets in flying more than 83,000 sorties. Its squadrons, such as the "Wolfraiders", "Deathtrappers", "Devilcats", "Black Patch", and others, are well known to the UN line troops for the thousands of missions flown in all types of weather.

Local Knights To Back Sale Of Rodeo Tickets

Robert Lorenz, grand knight of Council No. 3292, Knights of Columbus today named Roland Francis as chairman of the council's ticket sale committee for the World's Championship Rodeo to be held in the Michigan State Fairground Coliseum November 18 to 28.

Featured at the fairgrounds rodeo will be competitive bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and brahma bull riding. Range, Rider, top TV western star, will be on hand.

The rodeo, which has played each fall at Madison Square Garden for the past 28 years, will be the first ever held in Michigan under the auspices of the Rodeo Cowboys' Association, a group of the outstanding competitors in rodeo.

Members of the local council have bought tickets to the event in support of the drive of Columbian Charities, Inc. for funds to help support Boysville of Michigan, a school located near Macon, Michigan, to care for Michigan boys with adjustment problems. With the growth of Boysville from 15 boys in 1948 to 150 boys at present, Columbian Charities, Inc. organized last May to arise additional funds for the school which gives academic and technical instruction to boys of the eighth grade through high school.

The parent who expects to discover how to raise a child successfully by reading books, has a lot to learn.

Electricity, Miracle of Science, May Also Become Deadly Weapon

It's too bad that a fallen wire doesn't have a little sign that pops out with, "Do Not Touch" on it. A wire on a rural line broke and fell near one end of a corn field recently. A device protecting this portion of the line automatically shut off the circuit. The property owner was cultivating corn, working his way slowly toward the fallen wire.

Not wishing to drive over it and perhaps damage it, he dismounted from his cultivator, picked up the end of the wire, carefully rolled it up and hung it over a fence post near a power pole to which it was attached.

He had no more than turned it loose and stepped away when this coil of wire suddenly became "alive" and arched and burned its woven wire fence.

Now let's go back and see what happened:

Our farmer friend wasn't the only one who had an interest in that fallen wire. The local power company had been notified that service in the area had been interrupted and promptly dispatched a repairman to investigate.

Unaware of the actions of each other.

The farmer stopped his tractor at almost the same time the repair truck drew up some distance away.

The farmer started to roll up the wire.

A repairman started to climb the pole to check the switch.

As the farmer finished rolling up the wire, the repairman decided to test the line.

The farmer hung the loop of wire on the fence post and turned away. The repairman closed the switch.

And the farmer had missed death by seconds!

Electricity is a relatively new miracle to many rural areas in the country. When handled properly it is, beyond any doubt, one of the wonders of the world. But it can become a deadly weapon when it isn't handled correctly, as the farmer almost found out. In order to protect yourself and your families there are a few simple procedures that should be followed at all times:

1. Consider every fallen wire as dangerous.
2. Keep a safe distance from any fallen wire.
3. Telephone wires and electric wires look the same—don't try to tell them apart.
4. Notify the proper authorities as soon as you spot a fallen wire.
5. If necessary, post a guard by the wire to keep others from coming into contact with it.

Search for Oldest Township House Provides Reporter with Tough Job

Tracing down the history of Plymouth's oldest house (as published in The Mail on August 26) provided this reporter with so much fun (?) that we thought we'd take a fling at discovering the oldest township residence.

As you may remember, in our city search we came up with the home of E. Fletcher Campbell at 941 West Ann Arbor trail and Police Chief Carl Greenlee's house at 356 North Main as Plymouth's two oldest houses.

In the township we found the going no easier when it came to positively identifying the oldest residence. Again we have two homes which could both lay claim to the "oldest home" title. Here's the story, we'll let you decide.

One is at 41350 E. Ann Arbor Trail and is now the home of Wayne Thompson, who has lived there since 1946. This place was originally built in 1830 by a John Gilbert who at that time owned four 80-acre plots, or one-half section, in that part of the township. Little is known concerning the first occupant but we are reasonably certain that neither Mr. Gilbert or any member of his immediate family ever lived there.

The first person we were able to learn about who did live there was a man by the name of Gideon Ramsdell. Although we are in doubt as to the exact year he moved there, we do know that he sold the home to Ambrose E. Burr while the Civil War was in progress, or sometime between 1861 and 1865. Mr. Burr, in turn, sold to Mr. Ray Spicer in 1866.

In 1882 the house, which by now had been extensively added to and improved, passed from Mr. Spicer to Frederick Burr Tomlinson. Mr. Tomlinson died in 1898 but the home stayed in the possession of his family until 1946 when, as we said before, it became the property of its present occupant, Wayne Thompson.

The interior of his home is of white oak, while the siding is of a white wood not unlike poplar. Several of the floor joists show signs of having been in some sort of fire at sometime during their long history but whether this occurred before the original building got underway or at some later date is not known.

Mr. Burr Tomlinson, who supplied much of the information concerning this old home, adds a note of interest by telling of the finding of an old ornamental stone in one of the walls near the kitchen, probably placed there when the house was first built. How many of our older readers remember pudding stones?

Another old home in the township, a few years older than the Thompson home, is at 47566 Joy Road and is now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Froberg.

The property abstracted for the land on which this house was built is dated May 2, 1825, the land being sold originally by the government to a James T. Taft. The original plot covered 40 acres. The cost of government land back in those by-gone days was approximately one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre.

Mr. Taft held the property for a short time, selling the land to a Zenas Burd in 1828. By this time there was probably some sort of dwelling erected on the property.

There has from time to time been mention made of this place having been an inn or coach stop early in its history. However, we were unable to secure any facts that would bear this out.

Several names of owners of this home down through the years

This is the home of Wayne Thompson at 41350 East Ann Arbor trail which was originally built in 1830 by John Gilbert.

It is believed that this house (above) was built around 1828, but definite proof of this cannot be established. Now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Froberg, the house is located at 47566 Joy road and looks like this (below). The Frobergs completely remodeled the house about two years ago, when they purchased it.

that may be familiar to readers are the Stewarts, the Cortrites, the Gibsons, the Broadfoots and the Bennetts. A door on the east side of the house shows evidence of some one of the owners having had intentions at one time or another of building an addition onto the home. What came about to prevent this building from getting underway will probably never be known.

Local Board Fills Induction Quota With Volunteers

The next induction call of Plymouth's local selective service board for 22 men on September 28, 1954, has been filled with volunteers.

The following boys will leave from this area: James E. Wells, Plymouth; Kelvin Dunagan, Plymouth; Patrick J. Finlan, Plymouth; John H. Kinner, Livonia; William W. Hedden, Livonia; Kent A. Reber, Livonia; William H. Park, Livonia; Gerald B. Pariseau, Livonia; and Robert N. Rue of Livonia.

Until World War I, plywood was used for little else other than drawer bottoms. Diversified use of plywood got a big boost when Detroit auto makers began using it for running boards and door linings.

Atom-proof Storage Inside Mountain May Soon be Offered by Local Firm

No doubt about it—the atomic age IS HERE.

The fact was brought to life this week when Leonard Millross, manager of the local Railway Express Agency, announced that his firm is now taking orders for storage space in a New York state mountain which is claimed to be safe from A- and H-bomb blasts and radiation.

If you've been hiding your insurance policies, grandfather's gold watch and other valuables in a cigar box on the closet shelf, you might take note of the Railway Express announcement. For no matter how strong the cigars were, that box probably won't withstand an atomic blast.

For a $10 initial fee, you can take the valuables to a Railway Express office where they are sealed in a metal cylinder over four inches in diameter and a foot long. The cylinder is shipped to Iron Mountain near Hudson, New York where it is deposited far below the earth's crust in an abandoned iron mine.

You are now ready for an atomic attack. A bomb blasts away your home, the whole county and you. Everything is gone—but happily, your insurance policies and grandfather's watch are safe and sound.

Your valuables will be resting comfortably in an air conditioned and humidity-controlled vault. The only entrance to the place is a 28-ton master vault door heavier than the one guarding the nation's gold at Fort Knox. Heavily armed guards stand alert 24 hours a day.

Although the service is not yet offered by the Plymouth Express office, the firm is trying it out in offices in several "target cities." The Railway Express Agency's own records and documents have already been stored in one of the private vaults in the horizontal atomic-proof shafts, as are important documents and customer records of banks, insurance companies, industrial corporations, department stores, brokerage firms and other institutions, according to the Express Agency.

Actually, Railway Express expects to do nearly all of its business with industry and other firms and not with the average householder. But threat of an atomic war may change the nature of their business in a hurry.

At the first sign of an enemy plane, we can foresee the small Plymouth express office crowded with 8,000 local citizens seeking human-size cylinders and the first train to Iron Mountain.

Even in peace time, a person stored in the mountain may find it quite enjoyable. After all, how many homes today can boast of air conditioning and a dehumidifying system? And that 28-ton vault door and those armed guards—just wonderful for discouraging salesmen.

The Railway Express company may have something here.

He that knows no guilt can know no fear. Philip Massinger.

Madonna To Start Reading Classes

The Madonna college Reading Clinic will begin instructional classes on Saturday, September 25. Registered for the current fall term are approximately 30 pupils from Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, Garden City, Detroit and Livonia.

The clinic aims to help those children who encounter difficulties in reading, which hinders their progress in school.

Approximately 26 pupils attended the remedial reading classes in the past school year and 36 during the summer session.

Pupils registering at the clinic for the first time this fall underwent diagnostic procedures during this past week. In addition to a number of standard tests and personal interviews of parents, the diagnosis was checked by the use of special scientific instruments, such as the ophthalmograph for recording eye movements and the telebinocular for screening of visual deficiency.

On the basis of this preliminary diagnosis, the clinicians will plan a program of remedial instruction designed to meet the needs of each child.

Ladywood Mothers' Club Plans Membership Tea

The Ladywood Mothers' club will open the school year with a membership tea, to be held Saturday, September 25, from 2 to 4 p.m. This is a get-acquainted party for sisters and mothers.

Those assisting at the tea table are Mrs. William Madigan, Mrs. August Wicke, Mrs. Aimon Nugent, Mrs. R. Kleinert, Mrs. C. Christensen, Mrs. Horace Ethier, Mrs. A. J. McDonald and Mrs. Charles Ramsey.

The ladies planning the tea are Mrs. Claude Crusoe, Mrs. Dewey Buckland, Mrs. N. Pierce and Mrs. C. W. Brandell.

Two gallons of 1954 gasoline are equal in power to three gallons of 1925 fuel.

Rocks Down Northville In Grid Opener, 19-6

Last Friday night the Plymouth high school eleven turned the tables on Northville and gained a defeat suffered last year at Northville. The Rocks had things their own way and won handily by a 19 to 6 score. The game was played before the largest crowd ever to see an opening game in Plymouth. Approximately 2500 fans were present to witness the Rock triumph.

Plymouth dominated the play throughout the contest, which was fairly close until the final quarter. The Rocks outplayed their rivals in all departments and scored the initial touchdown a few minutes before the first quarter ended when Dick Day took a Northville punt and ran it back 20 yards to the Northville 35-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Dick Davidson passed beautifully to Denny Luker who raced over the goal line for the first tally.

Both teams scored near the end of the first half. Plymouth marched down the field with Luker and Juve hitting the line for large gains. A pass from Davidson to Luker put the ball on the Northville four yard line. Juve then rumbled over for the Rocks' second touchdown. Dick Davidson converted to make the score 13 to 0 in favor of Plymouth.

Northville scored with one minute remaining before the half on a freak pass play. The pass was not near the intended receiver, but a Plymouth player deflected it in the air into the arms of a Mustang receiver, who scampered over for the lone tally registered by the visitors.

The game remained close until the final quarter when with six minutes to play Denny Luker ran 40 yards on a reverse play to put the Rocks ahead by two touchdowns.

The local eleven dominated play much more than the score indicates as they racked up 17 first downs to 5 for the losers. Plymouth gained 288 yards on the ground and 70 by passes, while the Mustangs were able to run for only 67 yards and pass for 23 more. Denny Luker, who thrilled the fans with his long, driving runs last year, gained more than half of the total yardage with his 150 net yards rushing. Denny also snared two passes to score one touchdown and set up another.

Forest Fires Show Decline

The public received a pat on the back this week from the conservation department for its excellent cooperation in the prevention of forest fires during the summer.

By the end of the second week in September, only 3,564 acres were burned in the entire state; a far cry from the 17, 18 and 19 thousands of acres burned during similar periods in the 1940's.

"The public shows more concern in a ten-acre fire now than it did in a 500-acre fire 15 years ago," commented M. M. Bergman, assistant chief of the department's field administration division. "People are much more fire conscious than ever before. They cooperate with the department in reporting fires and wherever possible they help to suppress them. But their greatest contribution is in fire prevention."

Cooperation of the public however, was only one of several contributing factors in the reduction of forest fire losses, it was pointed out. Others included the development by the department, of special fire fighting equipment. Combination four-wheel drive trucks which carry water tanks, pumps and plows, and metal pipe with flexible joints to replace cumbersome and easily destructible fabric hose are examples.

The widespread use of short wave radio within the department's fire fighting organization cuts to a minimum the time interval between discovery of a fire and its suppression. Towers, field stations and all cars driven by conservation officers are equipped with these two-way radios.

Better trained personnel is also mentioned as a contributing factor.

Plymouth Hosts Bentley 11

Coach Charley Ketterer's gridders will attempt to keep their 1954 record perfect Friday night as they play host to a big Bentley high school eleven. Both teams are fresh from comparatively easy season openers as Bentley romped to a 25 to 6 win over Garden City last Friday. In last year's meeting between the traditional rivals Plymouth chalked up a 35 to 0 win. Coach Ketterer is quick to point out this year's Bentley eleven is loaded with veterans. However, and will definitely be out to avenge last year's loss. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

A major league player, at or near 35, starts looking for the exits. But for Jim Hegan, the durable catcher of the Cleveland Indians, this year promises to be remembered as one of the brightest in his career. Jim is 34.

Back in May, a correspondent of The Sporting News was talking to Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees, about the Indians. Rizzuto called the Clevelanders a much improved club, much more confident. He singled out Hegan for particular mention. "He looks different," the Scooter said, "so confident, and he's stinging the ball."

Well, the Scooter seems to have been right. Hegan has made a big difference in the Indians. He has improved with age. He's the oldest regular catcher in the American League, the only active receiver who has caught 100 games or more for eight successive years.

Talking to Hegan you sense the spirit in him. "I feel more like 22 than 34," he says. "I have felt good all year." In previous years, he suffered from a bad back, but last winter the condition cleared. He never has been too strong at the plate, hitting only .217 last year and .225 the year before. His best year so far as batting averages are concerned was in 1948 when he hit .258. He's been around .23 this season. But while he's not breaking records as a hitter, he stands up at the plate like a new man and provides the lower half of the batting order with a punch.

Hegan has been called a "picture book catcher." One feminine fan says she goes to the games just to watch him catch fly balls, because he does it with such ease and grace. His own manager, Al Lopez, says Jim seems to have a radar sense in judging fly balls and would have been a great outfielder.

In personality, he's one of the most popular players ever to put on a Cleveland uniform. His teammates cheer him whenever he goes to bat, no matter how sickening the slump he is in. As for his handling of pitchers, he of course is the quarterback of the top pitching staff in baseball. And the pitchers are eager to share their honors with him. As Early Wynn put it—"It gives a pitcher so much confidence to see big Jim behind the plate. When Hegan catches I'm not afraid to throw a knuckleball with the winning run on third. No matter how bad the pitch is, Jim get it."

The others in Cleveland's Big Four agree. Bob Lemon says he never shakes off a Hegan signal. "I did once," he said, "and the guy hit one out of the park. I decided to let Hegan take the responsibility of calling them from then on."

Even the umpires have a good word for Jim. He's big—six feet two—but stays low on his haunches to give the umpires a perfect view of each pitch. "If we miss a pitch behind Hegan," said Umpire Hank Soar, "it's our own fault. He never jumps up at the last instant to block the umpire's view. Some catchers make it tough on an umpire, but not Jim. He's perfect."

Hegan says the toughest hitter to call signals on is Yogi Berra. "He's just as likely to hit a waste pitch out of the park as one right down the middle, according to Hegan. In fact, Jim says Yogi is more likely to hit a bad pitch for extra bases. He has great wrist action."

Hegan believes the 1954 Cleveland club is better than the 1948 club which won the pennant. The hitters were better, then, he says, but this year the pitching is tops.

Merchants Team Loses in Playoff

The Plymouth Merchants softball team bowed out of the consolation playoffs when they dropped the second straight game to the Wayne Dietrich nine last Sunday by a score of 6 to 5. Plymouth enjoyed a 5 to 3 lead until the eighth inning when a wind-blown high fly went over the centerfielders head to allow three runs to score and decide the contest.

Warren Bassett pitched a steady and heady brand of ball all the way and would have emerged the winner but for that tricky fly ball.

Dietrich won the lower bracket playoffs with this victory. The game ended the season for both teams.

Rock Thinclads Open Season

The Plymouth high school cross-country team will open its season tomorrow in a meet with Allen Park on the Jaegers course. Coach Konrad Moiso has been having difficulty fielding a team this year because of injuries, illness and lack of interest. Only 12 boys are out for the team and seven are needed to run in each meet with the five highest figuring in the scoring.

The twelve are: Lettermen Bob Danol, Pieter Schipper, David Daly, Russell Mecklenberg and Wayne Smith; Tom Davis, and Bob Middleton are other lettermen, but are not out this year because of injuries and illness. Other boys out are: Tom Ferguson, Hal Becker, Earl Fulton, Jim Sorenson, Mike Conrad, Harvey Wells, Bob Young and Walter Clinansmith.

Three boys are under age and cannot compete in meets. They are: Charles Westover, John Williams and Fred Clement.

The 1954 schedule is as follows:
Sept. 24 Allen Park
Oct. 1 Redford Union
Oct. 8 Bentley
Oct. 15 Trenton
Oct. 19 Belleville
Oct. 22 League at Allen Park.

My wife has been bragging that she has been married to the same man for seventeen years. That's not so. I haven't been the same man since the first year.—Covington (Ky.) Dispatch.

NEXT THURSDAY is the deadline for entries in the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority amateur photography contest. All you have to do to win one of the prizes is send an eight by ten print of any picture taken in one of the Authority parks to the agency's headquarters at 1750 Guardian Building. Pictures must have been taken since April 1, 1954.

OUR THANKS for the kind words from Mrs. Arthur W. Hoot of Canton Center road who calls The Mail "newsy and a credit to this community."

Driving Near Schools Checked Closely by Police

Chief Carl Greenlee today announced that the city of Plymouth is cooperating with the State Safety Commission on the annual September "WATCH OUT FOR KIDS" traffic safety program.

"Each year," the Chief said "motorists need to be reminded that children are returning to school and that there is a special need to watch out for them—many of whom have just returned from carefree vacations have not adapted themselves to the routine of going to and from schools."

According to Chief Greenlee, over 3,000 children (0-14 years of age) were struck down by automobiles on the streets and highways of Michigan during the last 12 months—223 of them died and many were crippled for life.

"Our department will pay particular attention to speeding near schools during the first few weeks of September as a forceful reminder to all motorists to watch their speed as they watch out for kids in school areas," the chief continued.

A state-wide educational program using several hundred thousand leaflets and thousands of posters is underway. In every community motorists can expect to see the poster depicting a little girl running out from between parked cars with the slogan "Watch Out For Kids."

The leaflets give excellent advice to parents. They are urged to teach their children this simple rule, by repeating it over and over again.

LOOK both ways
WAIT until it's safe to cross
WALK across the street

In conclusion the chief said, "Hitting a little girl or a little boy with a ton and a half of steel is not a pleasant thing to do. You, as a driver in such an accident, would find small comfort in the fact that the police may decide that the mishap was caused primarily by the child's own carelessness."

Local Delegate Helps Form Fire Inspection Group

A new organization to help obtain aid in the solution of local fire inspection problems was formed at the fifth annual Fire Inspectors conference at Michigan State college. The 75 delegates, including Captain Charles Groth of the Plymouth department, voted to organize as the "Michigan Fire Inspectors Society."

The organization, believed to be the only one of its kind in the nation, also will promote the exchange of ideas in the general field of fire prevention.

Charles Motz, fire marshal at Pontiac, was elected the first president. Also selected as officers were Walter Jacobs, St. Clair Shores fire inspector, vice-president; Donald Caswell, captain of the fire prevention bureau, Muskegon, secretary-treasurer.

Farrand Perry, fire marshal of Livonia, was selected as a member of the board of trustees.

The two-day conference heard a warning from Dr. E. W. Kivela of the Michigan Department of Health crime laboratory, regarding the handling of evidence from suspicious fires. He stressed the importance of preserving the evidence and the keeping of a detailed record on the handling of such evidence for later use in court.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

More Michigan ducks for Michigan hunters is the goal of a marsh flooding project under way in Roscommon county, reports the conservation department.

Completion of a dam this month across Denton creek east of Houghton lake will result in the flooding of a 270-acre tract which has been especially prepared as a duck nesting and feeding area.

The project will give conservation game workers an opportunity to observe the results of a number of experiments.

Three methods of destroying old grasses in the area to be flooded were tried by the Department. In one, the grass was sprayed with an herbicide. In the second method, called "scalping," grass was removed by a bulldozer. In the third, the grass was plowed under. Purpose of all three is to hasten the growth of duck food plants. The relative merits of each will be carefully observed.

In other experiments, holes, or pockets, were dug in the marsh bottom. Because the water in the flooded area will be generally shallow—about two to three feet deep—these holes were dug to give ducks a number of open-water resting places. Dirt removed was piled into tiny islands to create secluded nesting sites.

The work is being done under the supervision of the department's Houghton Lake Wildlife Experiment Station. Cost of the dam is financed with Pittman-Robertson funds. This is federal money made available to Michigan from an excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition.

Every school in Michigan, public and parochial, now receives the bimonthly magazine of the Conservation Department.

In their decision to make the publication available free to all teachers and students, members of the Conservation Commission said the purpose of the move was to stimulate an active interest in and understanding of the need for conservation of resources.

As a result of this action, 5,895 schools, from little one-room buildings to the largest metropolitan high schools, have been added to the magazine's mailing list.

Attendance at the eighth annual conservation scholarship training school at Higgins Lake during the past summer totaled 190 Michigan school teachers, reports the conservation department.

Divided into four one-week sessions, the school provided special, intensive study in land use, geology, forestry, plant and animal ecology and the relationship of world populations to world food supplies. Field trips supplemented classroom work and a highlight of each session was a visit to Ogemaw county to study the conservation department's watershed improvement program on the Cedar river.

Lodging, dining and classroom facilities of the department's training school were used and instructors were provided by the department, Michigan State College and Central Michigan College of Education.

As in the past, the school was sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, the National Farm and Garden Association, Daughters of the American Revolution, Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the Michigan Department of Conservation.

In a few months Michigan will have a new lake, and sportsmen in Mecosta county will enjoy the realization of a 30-year dream.

The conservation department is accepting bids on the construction of a dam across the south branch of the Chippewa river in Mecosta county which, when completed, will flood a large area of marsh and swamp lands, raise the level of several small lakes and create a new lake of approximately 1,300 acres.

Known as the Martiny Lake project, the building of the dam will provide good spawning grounds for fish, feeding areas for ducks and will improve conditions for fur-bearing animals.

To call attention to the project, residents of Mecosta county will hold a public dedication ceremony September 26 at Barryton, near the site of the proposed dam.

Plans for the development of this new recreational area have been promoted by Mecosta county sportsmen since the early twenties. With acquisition of the last parcels of land by the conservation department in the spring of 1954, completion of the project was assured.

Michigan's Great Lakes waters in 1953 produced 25,012,789 pounds of fish at a total value of $3,314,696, according to figures released by the conservation department.

The 1953 total was down somewhat from the 29,231,823 pounds taken in 1952. Total value that year was estimated at $4,161,836.

Men in the conservation department's fish division are of the opinion that this year's take will not vary greatly from that of 1953.

The report for last year shows Lake Michigan as the most productive with 15,874,756 pounds of fish. Lake Huron was second with 6,118,079 pounds, followed by Lake Superior with 5,843,715 and Lake Erie, 1,395,273.

Twenty-five different kinds of fish were included in the report for 1953. They ranged from giant sturgeon from Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron to goldfish from Lake Erie. Herring led the list with 10,919,080 pounds, and more than half of this total came from Lake Michigan. Other leaders included: smelt, 4,250,121 pounds; chubs, 3,424,465; carp, 2,566,664; lake trout, 2,074,921; whitefish, 1,846,718; suckers, 1,712,611; yellow perch, 1,042,954.

Since 1920, the average annual commercial fish production of Michigan's Great Lakes waters has been approximately 26,000,000 pounds, with 1927 the top year when 32,503,074 pounds were taken.
