Plymouth Sticks with GOP as State Swings to Democrats

Report Fund Drive Falling Short of Goal

Plymouth Community Fund leaders were both "surprised" and "alarmed" Tuesday night when reports indicated that the campaign for $24,500 is falling far short of expectations.

Now beginning its third and final week, the fund total stands at $8,748 which is but 35 per cent of the goal, according to Treasurer Marvin Criger.

The donations we have received are large but the number of donations are small," was an analysis of the situation offered by Lewis Goddard, president of the Community Fund board of directors.

The drive is scheduled to end a week from today, Thursday, November 11. Statistics show that

If you have misplaced your Community Fund pledge card, you still can mail your contribution by placing your name and address on a slip of paper and say what you are enclosing or pledge to pay at a later date.

after two weeks of effort, the drive is only half as well along as last year when the goal was some $5,000 less. There was $16,000 contributed at the end of the second week last year.

Though all of the campaign workers have not yet reported and the board of directors is still hoping for a last-minute surge of contributions, there were some plans made Tuesday night in case the goal is not reached. It is believed that this would be the first time Plymouth has not reached its goal.

It was feared that some of the local agencies such as the Recreation commission, Boy and Girl Scouts, Plymouth Dental Fund, and Salvation Army would be forced to either curtail parts of their programs or seek funds through some other means.

It was pointed out that Plymouth's area campaign would require a donation of only $2 from each person—should every body donate. The average per person

Annual Smith School Country Fair Offers Fun for Family Saturday

There'll be plenty of fun and frolic for mom, pop and the kiddies this Saturday when the Smith school holds its annual old-time Country Fair. The 5:30 Supper club in charge of Miss Bertha Anderson, first-grade teacher, will start off a gala evening with a host of events for every member of the family to enjoy.

Along with all the other good things to eat at inexpensive prices, this year's Supper club is going to feature an entirely new dish, Cornish pasties. A favorite with Englishers for centuries, pasties are similar to a vegetable-meat pie. They were first introduced to the Upper Peninsula by Cornish miners, according to Miss Anderson and principal Ruth Eriksson, who hail from that region.

Among the many other attractions at the Country Fair will be the fish pond, old-time and comedy movies, cake and pie walks, a country store and gift shop, popcorn, cider and doughnuts galore. A special treat for

Halloween Party Starts with Bang; Residents Jolted

That explosion heard by many last Saturday night which brought a flourish of telephone inquiries at the police department was not the work of Halloween vandals.

On the contrary, it was for the benefit of peaceful Halloween celebrants.

At least 30 telephone calls came into city hall shortly after 9 o'clock after an explosion resounded throughout the city. One homeowner claimed that his house had been moved on its foundation.

The incident took place behind the high school where city firemen ignited a large pile of brush for the benefit of some 350 young folks who were attending the Recreation department's Halloween party. A large tree had been cut down behind the school after it was condemned because of its infection of Dutch Elm disease.

Firemen placed five gallons of gasoline around the brush pile to get it going. The results proved quite successful—somewhat too successful for those not knowing what was going on. It appeared that those standing near the scene did not notice any explosive force such as residents did many blocks away.

Dancing, playing of games and the consuming of cider, donuts and popcorn kept the several hundred youngsters occupied during the evening. Meanwhile, the younger "trick or treat" set kept home dwellers busy filling their bottomless bags.

The bonfire burned 45 minutes during which the celebrants stood around to keep warm while sipping cider. The evening was made possible by the Optimist club which donated the popcorn and ran the dance; the Lions club, donors of cider and donuts; Kiwanis club which patrolled the

Commission Gets Petition Seeking Crossing Flashers; Bid Approved for Well Drilling

A petition requesting railroad crossing flashers, selection of a bid to drill a water well and the amending of the zoning ordinance were three of the major items under discussion at Monday night's city commission meeting.

The petition signed by 522 residents asked that flashers and gates be installed at the Farmer street and Starkweather avenue crossings of the C & O railroad. Presenting the petition was Kenneth R. Bisbee, local insurance agent.

"We urge you to get this job done before someone gets killed," Bisbee told the commission. He pointed out that not until people were killed at the Main street crossing and on Novi road was action taken to install flashers.

The watchman protection now afforded at the Starkweather avenue crossing is not sufficient, Bisbee indicated. "He protects only one side of the crossing at

Probe of Thefts Brings 6 Arrests

Four Plymouth youths and two garagemen have been arrested by Michigan State Police in connection with a series of auto and auto parts thefts during recent weeks.

The garagemen, Raymond Pelkey, Bellevue road, Nankin township, and Earl Reece, operator of Earl's Garage, 42280 Ann Arbor road, have both pleaded guilty to charges of receiving stolen goods. They were bound over to circuit court by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo and have been released under $100 bonds.

The arrests were made after Plymouth and State police conducted investigations. Since most of the alleged thefts took place outside the city limits, state police filed charges.

One of the youths, Edward Cramb, Newburg road, is serving a term in the Detroit House of Correction on a disorderly persons charge. The other three are juveniles and will be turned over to juvenile authorities, police said. Tires and wheels were the main items stolen, it was reported. Several of the boys were also charged with the theft of two cars.

Local Jewelry Store Under New Ownership

Announcement of the sale of the Plymouth Grand Jewelry store located at 467 Forest avenue to William Bluford was made public this week. Bluford has already taken over management of the store.

Owner of jewelry stores in Trenton and River Rouge, Bluford plans to completely restock the local store featuring a more extensive costume jewelry line and camera and luggage department. The store will now be known as Bluford Jewelers.

Urban Holland, manager of the store for Grand, will transfer to Grand Jewelers main store in Detroit. Holland has been active in local Chamber of Commerce promotions being general chairman of both "Double Feature Days" events.

Mr. Bluford, who has been in the jewelry business for 27 years, indicated that he would hold a grand opening event in the near future.

New Off-Year Election Record Set As Voters Swarm to Polls Tuesday

Ike's Return Salute Thrills Local Cubs

A group of Plymouth Cub Scouts were given the thrill of their lifetime last Friday when President Eisenhower gave the youngsters a special salute at Wayne Major airport.

Members of Den 4, Pack 743 of Allen school were taken to the airport by Mrs. Arthur Gulick and Mrs. Leonard Cole to see Ike arrive for his Detroit campaign visit. As the President drove past, the boys threw a snappy salute. President Eisenhower leaned out of the window and returned the salute.

The Cubs were Leonard Cole, Robert Tobey, Jim Schantz, Bob Carley, Richard Ottensman, Charles Orr, and Arthur Gulick. Scout Richard Orr was also a member of the party.

While Democrats were being swept back into office in Michigan and most of the nation Tuesday, Plymouth and Plymouth township voters flocked to the polls in almost record numbers and maintained their traditional Republican majority.

Only in the presidential election of 1952 did more people go to the polls than did they Tuesday when 2,552 voted in Plymouth. There were 3,656 voting two years ago. In Plymouth township, 1,322 cast votes Tuesday; there were 1,602 in the presidential election.

But it was not so much the size of the vote but the way the vote went outside Plymouth that took most Republicans by surprise. Though a breakdown in Detroit election machinery made many of the races still undecided at press-time, it appeared that Democrats had swept nearly every office from governor and U. S. senator down to county coroner.

Of particular interest to Plymouth voters was the race between incumbent Charles G. Oakman and Democrat Martha Griffiths for the seat of U. S. representative. Mrs. Griffiths, defeated by Oakman two years ago, came back Tuesday to unseat Oakman who is known as one of Eisenhower's most ardent supporters.

Republicans managed to salvage only one office in Wayne county. According to an unofficial tabulation Wednesday afternoon, incumbent Leonard E. Wood, candidate for representative to the state legislature from this district, won over Charles Walker by a scant 400 votes.

The unofficial tabulation gave Wood 14,284 votes and Walker, 13,806. Walker entered the race shortly after being appointed a Livonia constable. The district covers cities of Plymouth, Livonia and Ward 22 of Detroit, and townships of Plymouth, Northville, and Redford.

Meanwhile, it appeared that Democrat John B. Swainson had defeated Clarence A. Reid, Jr. for the state senate seat.

Plymouth voters gave the Republicans a 2-1 majority. Township support of the GOP was somewhat less—a 1½-1 majority.

City and township voters seemed to go along with the rest of the state on the constitutional amendments. They favored the change in election laws, the change in sales tax distribution and the Korean war bonus. Proposal 4, which would authorize charitable lotteries, was voted down here but was a close vote at press-time across the state.

It is believed that the charitable lottery issue brought many of the great number of voters to the polls. The weather did nothing to help. Snow and rain fell periodically throughout the day.

Only a few Plymouth votes were recorded for Prohibition, Socialist Labor and Socialist Worker candidates.

A few of the precincts reported that there was a line of persons waiting to vote when polls closed at 8 p.m. In accordance with election rules, they were allowed to vote. Precinct 1 at city hall, which is the smallest precinct, was the first to complete its ballot counting. Workers finished the job at 9 o'clock.

By precincts, there were 505 ballots cast in Precinct 1, 458 in

Drivers Injured In Park Collision

Two drivers received serious injuries last Saturday afternoon when their cars collided on Edward Hines drive.

The injured were Kenneth Schaufele, 259 Elizabeth street, and Charles P. Temerian, 8132 Grand River, Detroit. Both were taken to Wayne County General hospital where they are recovering from multiple injuries.

Site of the mishap was about 1,000 feet south of the main street viaduct. Temerian told sheriff's deputies that Schaufele was driving at a high speed around a curve and was on the wrong side of the road. Schaufele was unable to give a statement due to his injuries.

Minor injuries were sustained by three people Saturday morning on Penniman avenue near Main street. Lamont BeGole, Plymouth's city clerk, had stopped for a traffic light when a car driven by Francis Cote, 16, Detroit, failed to stop and crashed into the trunk of the BeGole vehicle.

Cote was ticketed by police for reckless driving. Two of his passengers received injuries. Susy Scott suffered head lacerations and Dick Olson received face lacerations.

A passenger in the BeGole car, Morris Beaver, 374 Roe street, received a back injury.

To Drill for Oil West of Plymouth

Oil drilling which has been carried on for nearly a year in the Northville-Salem township area will spread into Plymouth township for the first time within a few weeks, it was reported this week.

Alan S. Gray, of the Gray & Whyte drilling firm, said that he expects to start drilling in a week or so on the Earl Demel farm located on Beck road near Territorial road. This is about three miles west of Plymouth.

It was also reported that the Pure Oil company may start drilling soon on Wayne County Training school property just northwest of here.

Mail Urges Early Copy For Next Week's Issue

Most businesses in Plymouth will operate normally next Thursday, November 11, but there will be three notable exceptions. The banks and post office will be closed and The Plymouth Mail will be one day ahead of schedule.

Because of Armistice Day Postmaster George Timpona announced that there will be no mail deliveries on that day. This will make it necessary to publish and deliver The Mail on Wednesday. Deadlines for news and advertising must all be moved up one day. Therefore The Mail urges everyone to submit news, display and classified advertising by NOON MONDAY. Your cooperation is absolutely necessary to meet the early delivery date.

HALLOWEEN was a special treat for the Wayne County crippled children, thanks to the Easter Seal society and the efforts of its local committee. Last Friday evening 20 crippled children from throughout Wayne county attended a party at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge, playing games and enjoying cider and donuts. Shown above in their Halloween costumes concentrating on a game of checkers are: (l. to r.) Doris Watson of Wayne, Jerry Wood of Plymouth, Larry Raymond of Wyandotte and Vera Ciszar of Lincoln Park. Committeeman Leslie Taylor of Plymouth watches the proceedings.

Sallie Rupp to Wed Lincoln Park Man

Miss Sallie Rupp

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rupp of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Sallie Belle, to Darrell L. Genter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Genter of Lincoln Park, Michigan.

No definite wedding date has been set.

29 Relatives Gather For Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Beard entertained 29 guests last Sunday at the Woods home, 8811 Elmhurst, in honor of their grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Walkup on her 80th birthday.

Relatives came from Erie, Jackson, Jonesville, Lansing, Camden and Montpelier, Ohio. At the event four generations were represented: Mrs. Walkup, Mrs. Blanche Beard, Mrs. Marie Woods and daughter, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Johnson dropped in unexpectedly at the party and were delighted to visit with Mrs. Blanche Beard, a former school friend, whom they hadn't seen in 45 years.

Pilgrim Shrine No. 55 To Hold Harvest Festival

The members of Pilgrim Shrine No. 55 have just completed a busy month. October 4 the first two officers of Eastern Michigan and Canada were guests at a dinner and the ceremonial in the evening, at which time we were happy to have June Farrant, Lonnie and Rosalie Brashear become sojourners.

Our annual luncheon and card party of October 14 was a very successful one and we extend our thanks to all who provided prizes and worked hard for the day.

With our pleasant events also came our darker hours when the illness reports of our members reached us. Now we can report them all improving.

Sojourner Perry Campbell, Stewart Dodge and Harry Reeves are able to be up and around. Edward Dent in St. Josephs Hospital, Ann Arbor, is improving nicely and able to sit up a few minutes each day.

Sojourner Ruth Scott's husband, Edwin, is home and allowed to see a few minutes each day as is Sojourner Clifford Dodd of Livonia.

Every member is looking forward to the Harvest Festival on November 13 when we will serve a semi-Smogasbord dinner to the public beginning at 5 p.m. until 7:30 with booths of all kinds and a turkey as a prize. All members have tickets. Contact Florence Vetal or Evelyn Brocklehurst for information. We hope to see all our friends and we assure you a good dinner and all you can eat.

Grange Cleanings

Tonight is our usual pot luck supper so we hope we will have a good crowd.

If there are any members who wish to take out Blue Cross, now is the time to do so as the new registration closes for this year on November 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Vealey and Mr. and Mrs. Meyers will be the hosts to the Lily club next Monday night so come on and bring your neighbors. Also bring jello or sandwiches or cake and your own dishes.

Everyone always has a good time at the Lily club. It has been in existence a good many years and was named in honor of a long ago member of the Grange.

We hope to have a fine class of new members to receive the third and fourth degrees very soon so we may invite some degree team in to do the degree work. If any member has a new candidate to bring in do so now.

Viviens Meet at 8 Tonight

A film and travel talk on the country of Israel will be presented by Arthur Edison at tonight's meeting of the Viviens. Starting at 8 p.m. in the Elk's temple, the program will also feature a lingerie display.

Plymouth Club Observes World Optimist Week

The Plymouth Optimist club will join next week with Optimist clubs throughout the world in observance of Optimist Week, November 7 through 13. Special emphasis will be placed by the local club on its boys' work and other young activities in carrying out the international optimist week theme, "Every boy needs a man's helping hand."

Optimist clubs throughout the world devote a large amount of time, money, and effort to the education and development of youth in unfortunate circumstances and in this work, the Optimist club of Plymouth is performing a vital service to all citizens and particularly to the youth of the community.

Sam Stephens, president of the Plymouth Optimist club, pointed out that there are almost 900 individual Optimist clubs in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba, and Hawaii with a combined membership of more than 41,000. "These clubs," he said, "are carrying out important boys' work in making their slogan, "Friend of the Boy," a tangible reality. For instance, our own club sponsors a Junior Optimist club for boys 9 to 13; and a series of bi-weekly teenage dances for high school students in the area. In addition, we contribute financial support to the Allen School Cub Scout Pack.

As a special feature of Optimist Week, a boys' night program will be presented in honor of the Plymouth Junior Optimist club at the VFW Hall on Monday, November 8, 7:30 p.m.

Plymouth Symphony to Perform in Ann Arbor

The Plymouth Symphony orchestra has been chosen by the Michigan Civic Orchestra Association to play this Sunday at the annual conference of the organization in Ann Arbor. Aside from the host orchestra, the Plymouth Symphony was the only member orchestra scheduled to perform as a complete unit.

Conductor Emil Raab of the Plymouth orchestra said that the local group would play at Hill auditorium at 10:15 a.m. Following this the Ann Arbor Civic Symphony orchestra will perform with several guests artists from throughout the association.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Wiledon of Mason spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wiledon of Pine street.

HERE'S THE FAMILY that gets into all the trouble in the play, "My Three Angels." which the Theatre Guild will produce this Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7. Shown above, left to right, are: Dorothy Smith, who portrays the mother; Russ Creel, the father; and Jeannine Tidwell, the daughter. Curtains go up in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Guild Presents "My Three Angels" At High School This Weekend

Plymouthites will get a chance to escape from their TV sets and really see a live play produced this weekend when the Theatre Guild puts on the comedy, "My Three Angels." Held Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7, curtains are scheduled to go up at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium, perhaps to reveal friends and neighbors up there on stage.

Directing this hilarious play by Sam and Spella Spewack is William W. Merrill. The plot concerns the tactics employed by three convicts of a French penal colony to assist a family in financial difficulties and bring about the downfall of the play's villains.

Members of the cast are: Warren Worth, who plays the part of the cunning, ruthless angel with a yen for wholesome family life; C. Veach Sparks, the lovable angel who's got his own technique when it comes to juggling books; and Lee Mahoney, who portrays the angel who dreams of love although he is a convict.

Portraying the desperate members of the family are Dorothy Smith, who takes the part of the kindly, level-headed mother; Russ Creel, the harassed father who's not much of a businessman and gets the family into its dire financial straits; Jeannine Tidwell, lovely daughter in love with the despicable Paul.

John Lodge takes the part of Paul, a rich, unworthy upstart. The grasping, money-mad cousin is played by Russ Wallace, with Jack Wilcox taking the role of the dashing Army lieutenant. Daisy Hornback portrays the scatterbrained wife of a French customs official.

Production and stage manager for "My Three Angels" is Mrs. Adele Miller, president of the Theatre Guild. Publicity is being handled by Ruth Barney, Judy Sechlin, Lillian Dickinson, Joyce Roof and Barbara Noe. On the patron committee are Maude Laury and Adele Miller; tickets, C. Veach Sparks, Janet Lawson, Mabel Dicks, Johnnie Lodge, Lydia Argo and Effie Kuisel.

Heading up the properties is Ruth Popovich assisted by Judy Sechlin, Lillian Dickinson, Johnnie Lodge and Barbara Noe. Programs are in charge of Maude Laury; sound, Don Wallace; costumes, Victoria Saxton and Betty Mende.

In charge of staging are Robert Ingram, S. L. Warner, Kenneth Bolton, Robert Minnock, Douglas Havershaw and Ken Krezel. Frank Lodge and Ken Krezel will supervise lighting of the production. The make-up committee is composed of William W. Merrill, the play's director, and Carl Kranish, Plymouth high school speech teacher.

Ushering at the Saturday and Sunday night performances will be the members of the Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 5.

Theatre Guild members will be at the Stop & Shop market today, tomorrow and Saturday for the convenience of last-minute ticket customers. Tickets will also be available at Cassidy's, Minerva's and at the door.

James C. Houk Attends Meeting Of Shoe Retailers

To keep up with the changing fashions in the shoe world, James Houk, co-owner of Houk's Shoes, recently attended the National Shoe Retailers Association meeting in Chicago. Over 1000 manufacturers had on display the shoes that will make fashion news for spring and summer 1955.

Noting trends, Houk said that children's shoes will feature deater, trimmer dress shoes. Many of the styles formerly fashioned for the growing girl will now be available to the little miss.

In the field of women's shoes, the Italian and French influence plays a prominent role in design. The trend is toward airier and daintier styles in high, bright colors. Many of the newer, open types will be available before the holiday season, such as patent sandals and smart sling pumps.

For vacation and resort wear straw fabrics in many colors were featured. Also seen at the show were the new-shaped lower heels and new styles in closed toe and heel types.

A new field has been created through the "low tops" in men's footwear. This style is cut low around the ankle, with two-eye-let tie in front, to create a lighter, softer shoe with slipper-like comfort. Low tops will be seen in shrunken calf leathers for street and dress wear.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waara, who have resided on Holbrook avenue, Plymouth, for several years, are leaving this weekend to make their home on Cambridge road in Ann Arbor.

Name Maurer Michigan Bell Manager Here

Robert D. Maurer of 216 South Holbrook has been named manager of the Plymouth area for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. He replaces Dean Sipson who becomes commercial customer relations supervisor in Detroit.

The Plymouth area includes Northville, Farmington and Livonia.

Maurer began his telephone career in 1942 as a salesman in Detroit. He transferred to Ann Arbor in 1947 where he was promoted to sales supervisor in 1952, the post he held until his present appointment.

During World War II, Maurer served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps in the China-Burma-India theatre.

He lives in Plymouth with wife, Bernice, and two children.

Former Resident Is Polio Victim

Mrs. M. Beth Bodenshot, native of Plymouth and mother of two children, died last Thursday morning in Grand Rapids of bulbar polio after an illness of only two days. She was 30 years old.

Born in Plymouth, Mrs. Bodenshot was a Plymouth high school graduate. She moved to Grand Rapids following her marriage eight years ago.

Survivors include her husband, Edwin; a daughter, Annita; a son, Kurt; her mother, Mrs. Zella M. Collon, Plymouth; a brother, Lawrence Livingston, Plymouth; and a sister, Mrs. Ronald Lyke, Salem.

Services were held Monday in Grand Rapids from the Van Strien-Alman chapel. Interment was in a Grand Rapids cemetery.

Mrs. Bodenshot was an active church worker and a well-known bowler in the city's women's bowling league. She died at St. Mary's hospital Thursday after being admitted Tuesday. Hers was the seventh death in Grand Rapids hospitals this year caused by polio. The Bodenshot home address in Grand Rapids is 2427 Paris NE.

Mrs. Thomas Moss of Ann Arbor trail left Tuesday noon for a two days visit with her mother, Mrs. Charles Goodman in Chicago, Illinois.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. Robert Lidgard and daughters, Roberta and Ruth Ann, attended the homecoming at Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti on Saturday.

Mrs. Ernest Allison entertained the members of her Mayflower bridge club Tuesday afternoon in her home on Williams street.

Fire Destroys Home

A mid-morning fire, caused by sparks from a wood fire igniting roof shingles or a faulty chimney, all but destroyed the home of Edwin Hamilton, 6350 Five Mile road, Monday. The blaze was extinguished by Plymouth Township, Salem and South Lyon fire departments with no personal injuries reported.

Mrs. Hamilton, who was spending her first day out of bed after being hospitalized for bronchial pneumonia, discovered the fire at 10 a.m. The nearby fire departments were quickly called, but before the fire was put out, the roof and upper part of the Hamilton home were gone. Most of the furniture was saved and the Hamiltons will rebuild their home immediately.

The many friends of Mrs. Luther Peck are sorry to learn that she is confined to St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor and hope that soon be able to return to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Conn of Northville road were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conn in Farmington.

New Phone Books Appear Saturday

New telephone directories—9,600 of them—will go out to Plymouth area telephone subscribers this Saturday.

Three hundred more directories will be delivered this year than last year, according to Robert Maurer, new manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone company here.

This year's edition is colored gray. A page in the front of the book is reserved again this year for filling in police and fire telephone numbers.

Ann Arbor, Northville, Livonia, South Lyon, Wayne and Ypsilanti listings will again be included in the new books.

You can make your own silver polish by adding ammonia to whiting or powdered chalk until the consistency of a paste. To remove stains, rub the silver with the polish, then wash in warm sudsy water. Rinse well in clear hot water and rub dry with a soft cloth.

Observe Education Week Tuesday with Open House

"Good Schools are Your Responsibility" is the theme of National Education Week which will be observed in the Plymouth Township School system next week.

The observance will be focused on Tuesday night in the high school when parents will be invited to an open house. Starting at 7:30, two movies will be shown in the auditorium. They are entitled "Freedom to Learn," telling of the democratic freedoms given teachers, and "All God's Children," presenting the students' point of view in the school system.

Parents will then be given an opportunity to meet their children's teachers and make future appointments for consultations if necessary. Refreshments will be served on each floor by the home-making department.

Gustav Gorguze, assistant principal, is in charge of the evening's program along with a committee of Student Council members composed of Barbara Erdelyi, Al Spigarelli, Bob Isbister and Nancy West, chairman. The committee is furnishing hosts and hostesses to assist parents in touring the building. An information questionnaire will also be filled out by the parents pertaining to education.

Elementary schools will have no formal open house during the week but parents will be welcome to visit the schools, Superintendent Russell Isbister said. Most elementary schools are having their end-of-term parent visitation days during the week.

Thursday will also be a special day for high school students. Many of the students will take over the school from superintendent to custodian. Classroom teachers will appoint or elect a student teacher for the day.

Professor Discusses Reasons For Child's Slowness in Reading

Some of you may have children who are in the upper elementary grades or in junior or senior high school and are not reading as well as you feel they should. In some instances these children are extremely retarded and are working several grade levels below the grade they are in. It is not difficult to determine when a child is working below grade level, but it is not so easy to determine why this happens to be the case.

The question that probably is most frequently asked in regard to this problem is, "Do you think that the child's vision might be responsible for his difficulty with reading?"

Since entire books have been written on this subject, it is possible to give only a brief answer here. Perhaps the best way to answer the question is to look at the facts.

People who have investigated this problem have usually done so by taking a number of children and classifying them as follows: those with normal vision; those that are nearsighted; those that are farsighted; etc. Then the investigator would determine through tests and other ways how well these children actually read. Then they compared the percentage of poor readers in each group to see if children with specific visual defects were more likely to have reading difficulties than children with normal vision.

These studies, in general, show that there are almost as many poor readers among children with normal vision as there are poor readers among children with visual maladjustments.

Does this mean that we, as parents, need not concern ourselves about visual difficulties of children? This is in no way implied in the research on the subject. The investigators feel that in some instances children do have difficulty with reading because of visual defects, but that in general this is not true and some authorities are of the opinion that children with visual maladjustments who are good readers would have learned to read sooner and better if their vision had been corrected before beginning reading instruction was started.

Of what value is this information to parents? First, it suggests that if your child is having difficulty with reading, it might be well to have his eyes examined to see if poor vision could be one of the contributing factors. Second, just because your child is getting along well in reading, does not mean that he has normal vision.

State Health Department Expects 7 Million To Catch Common Cold

Do you have a cold? Well, partner, you've got company.

In Michigan there are an estimated seven million people who will "catch" at least one cold this winter, the Michigan Department of Health says.

And Michigan residents average about 2 1/2 colds per person per year, the Health department adds, and about one person in four has four colds a year.

The common cold, the Health department continues, is the most expensive disease we have. From 50 to 60 per cent of all absenteeism from work is due to colds and the common cold runs around two billion dollars a year for the nation.

Actually, the Health department points out, there are three waves of colds during the winter. The first wave in Michigan is generally in October when homes and offices are first heated.

The second wave arrives around Christmas and is probably due to the bringing together of family groups from all over the country for the holidays. And the

Norman Atchinson To Head Kiwanis

Tuesday, November 2 was more than just election day for state and congressional political candidates. It was also the day for electing new officers for the Plymouth Kiwanis club.

Named to lead the local club in its activities for 1954-55 was Norman Atchinson, local Pontiac dealer. Elected with Atchinson were: Dr. Fred Foust, 1st vice president; Robert Lidgard, 2nd vice-president; George Burr, treasurer; Harry Larson, Harry Christensen and John Bloxson, board members. A fourth position on the board of directors went unfilled due to a tie in the balloting. Directors will make a selection later.

PUTTING UP RIBBONS on prize-winning displays in last week's Halloween window painting contest are two committee members from the local Business and Professional Women's club. Standing in front of Peterson's window, which was awarded first prize for Halloween atmosphere, are Miss Rose Hawthorne, left, and Mrs. Lillian Terry. Also on the committee, but absent at the time the picture was taken, is Mrs. Diane Stephens. The local organization took charge of securing ribbons to be awarded to the prize-winning window displays in the annual contest.

A Layman Says...

Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly. James 5:17.

Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong. 1 Cor. 16:13.

But did you notice your Scripture said, "Elijah was a man?" He certainly was no coward, neither was he one who desired the praise of others. He was a MAN in every sense of the word. A man who feared God, and such men do not need to fear their fellow creatures, nor fail to declare to them the whole counsel of God. Beloved, though at best we are but men, let us see to it that we are the best of men-men of God, as Elijah was, with naught but the fear of God and His divine majesty before our vision. Shall we not each seek to be MEN; men and women whom God can use, and if He commands let us not fail to obey, no matter what the task may be.

Ye that are men now serve Him, against unnumbered foes; Let courage rise with danger, and strength to strength oppose. G. D.

Parrot Tulips, Tops in Size, Color; Gain Popularity With Gardeners

Though parrot tulips have been known since the seventeenth century, in the last few years they have gained over all other types in popularity and beauty. They have larger flowers than any other tulips, with thicker petals, which are lacinated, which means "slashed into narrow pointed lobes." The colors are seldom solid, but always brilliant, and usually include a touch of green. Their resemblance to the colors of a parrot gives an obvious explanation of their group name.

In prewar times parrot tulips were usually sold only in mixtures, including different colors. The first named variety was Fantasy, still considered by many to be the most beautiful. It was said to be a mutant of the Darwin tulip Clara Butt, a favorite true pink. Mutants are new plant forms that are not intentionally bred, but rather discovered growing in a planting of their close relatives. Since the war, numerous other named varieties have been introduced, many of them said to be mutants of popular Darwin varieties. There are purple, orange, red, yellow, violet and near black varieties. The modern parrot tulips have stronger stems than the older types. They grow from 20 to 24 inches tall, and hold their huge, brilliantly colored flowers upright. When a group of them is planted in the border where their large size, decorative form and brilliant colors serve as a garden accent, they can be depended upon to attract attention.

The thick petals of parrot tulips are long lasting when the flowers are cut. The flowers are effective in corsage arrangements. Cultivation of their bulbs is the same as for other late tulips, except that they are not so likely to endure without being lifted for many years. It is advisable to lift the bulbs annually after the leaves have turned yellow, and replant the larger bulbs the following fall. Small bulbs can be grown in a nursery row until they attain flowering size.

Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 and Auxiliary are hosts to their respective 17th District Association meeting on Friday evening, 8:30 p.m. at the Veterans Home.

The Auxiliary is pleased to welcome three new members—Helen Patrick, Marilyn Moore and Phyllis Miller. Hope you will attend all our meetings and enjoy them.

Remember our Rummage Sale November 12 and 13 at the Veterans Home. Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Good Bargains galore.

The children's Halloween party was a great success. Doughnuts and cider were served. Games, movies and candy were enjoyed by all. The adult Box Social and Halloween Party was a great success. Everyone turned out in full costume. Our Building Fund is off to a wonderful start—let's keep it rolling!

A Toy Party is being sponsored by the Auxiliary on November 15, Monday at 8 p.m. in the basement of the Veterans home. The public is invited. All proceeds go to our Building Fund.

Next regular business meeting of the Post is at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday November 10 at the home. The Auxiliary is also holding their regular business meeting on the same date, one day earlier than usual. All members of both Units are urged to attend these meetings.

A parade is being planned for Veterans Day, Thursday, November 11 for 7 p.m. A score of military vehicles and American Legion Units are scheduled to participate. The Plymouth high school band will also participate.

INSTEAD OF TRICK or treating during the Halloween season, members of the Presbyterian church's junior and senior high fellowships decided to collect money for the United Nations Children Fund. Here we see Roberta Lidgard and Biff Tait turning in part of the $246.54 collected to the Reverend Tom Keefe, director of Christian education. Dollars contributed will be matched by another dollar from United Nations funds to buy milk for children in Europe and Asia.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Earning the Radio - Television badge is proving to be very enjoyable to the girls in Troop 1. On Monday, October 26, they began work on this badge by visiting the Telephone company as this is the study of various means of communication. A trip to WWJ-TV and a tour of the Detroit News were also part of this work. Thirteen scouts accompanied by Mrs. Sheldon Baker, Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. Heloise Campbell made the trip to Detroit on October 28. In addition to their newspaper and television trip, the girls toured the Wayne County jail, the Veterans Memorial building and attended a session of Probate Court presided over by Judge James Sexton, following the close of court. Judge Sexton explained the work of the court. The troop enjoyed luncheon at Greenfield's. Transportation was furnished by Mrs. John Nagy and Mr. Harold Yakley.

Nancy Derr reports that at its last regular meeting Brownie Troop 23 enjoyed a hayride. Mrs. James Steele and Mrs. George Kunkel are the leaders.

Junior High Scouts, Troop 14, under the leadership of Mrs. Carl Wall are currently, working on their Child Care Badge. At one of their recent meetings they enjoyed a trip to the Plymouth Day Nursery on Penniman Avenue. On this same day the members of the troop went to the library where they found books on the care of children and suitable stories for children.

On October 26, Mrs. Ted Box demonstrated the care of an infant. Included in this badge work the girls made Halloween tray favors for Maybury Sanitorium. Mr. Donald Potter assisted the girl in making felt trays for children in hospitals on November 2.

On October 18 we had a birthday party for Brownie Troop 18. There are six new Brownies: Diane Mackie, Joyce Mynatt, Gale Micol, Jeri Taylor, Marcia Livingston, Kathy Gooch. On October 25 we cooked our supper in the park. Our officers for October were: Chairman Judy Adams, Treasurer Lynne Marzolf, Secretary Kate Lindroth, Publicity Christine Strasen and Sunshine Ellen Lamb. Leaders were Mrs. Tom Adams, Mrs. Wayne Marzolf.

The girls of Troop 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Sheldon Baker, went on a 12-mile bicycle hike on Saturday, October 16. They had a cook-out at Joan Nagy's on Warren road.

RECONSTRUCTION OF SUPER-STRUCTURE FOR GRADE SEPARATION CARRYING U.S. 25 (FORT STREET) OVER THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD IN THE CITY OF DETROIT
 Project: F X3 of 82-22-2, C1-U (F 130 (U))
 Net classification required for this project is 12 Fa-Subcontracts Electrical and Bituminous Concrete Wearing Course. Railroad approval by F. H. Simpson, Chief Engineer, LaSalle Street Station, Chicago, Illinois, is required.
 Sealed proposals for the construction of this project located in the City of Detroit, Michigan, will be received from contractors having 1954 Michigan State Highway Department prequalification in the Masonic Temple Bldg., 217 South Capitol Avenue, Lansing, Michigan, until 11:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, November 17, 1954, and will then be there and publicly opened and read. Proposals may be made for the complete removal of the existing superstructure and portions of the existing substructure; reconstruction of portions of the existing substructure; construction of a new steel concrete superstructure about 250 lineal feet of approach reconstruction; the relocation of power, lighting and signal facilities of the City of Detroit; and incidental work.
 Completion date for entire project July 31, 1955.
 The Department's Standard Specifications (1950 Edition), its current Soils Manual, the plans for this project, the special provisions governing subletting and assigning the contract and the employment and use of labor, and the proposal blanks (all of which are essential parts of the contract) may be examined at the district office of the Department at Redford, Michigan, and at the Michigan Road Builders Association, Lansing, Michigan, but may be obtained only at the office of the Contract - Estimate Engineer, 715 Stevens T. Mason Bldg., Lansing, Michigan, up to 5:00 p.m. of the day preceding the opening of bids. A fee of three dollars will be charged for furnishing plans or proposal blanks, which will not be refunded.
 Full cooperation in carrying out the special provisions will be required. Minimum wage paid to labor employed on this contract shall be as outlined in the proposal.
 A Certified or Cashier's Check, Bank Money Order, or Certificate of Deposit, properly endorsed, in full, payable to Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner, must accompany each proposal. All such checks will be returned promptly after the bidding, except that, of the lowest bidder, will not be returned until execution and delivery of the contract to the State Highway Department.
 The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.
 CHARLES M. ZIEGLER
 State Highway Commissioner.

WE'VE GOT IT!

TCP in REGULAR GRADE Shell Gasoline

Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years - now in both our Regular and Premium - in every gallon we pump

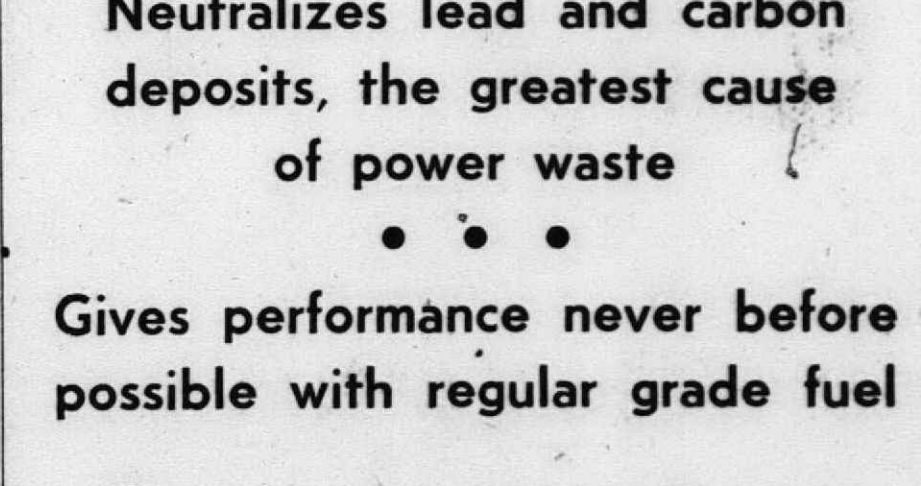

Neutralizes lead and carbon deposits, the greatest cause of power waste

Gives performance never before possible with regular grade fuel

That's right! TCP, the gasoline additive that made history for Shell Premium is now ready to re-power engines for you regular users.

Before you've used two tankfuls of this new Shell Gasoline with TCP, you can expect more pickup... less skip and miss (due to pre-ignition and misfiring)... greater gasoline mileage.

You'll get all this because of the wonderful way TCP "fireproofs" lead and carbon deposits, to prevent wild-ping and stop spark plug missing. We don't know of anything like it for improving performance automatically - and folks who use Shell with TCP don't either. Try a tankful of the new Shell Gasoline, regular grade, with TCP - today!

DEMOLAY SWEETHEART Ann Marston was selected by judges Lawrence Lyons, Mayor Orville Hubbard and Floyd Tibbitts at the Hi-12-DeMolay dinner last week at Arbor Lill. Tibbitts (right) and Lyons are local Hi-12 members while Hubbard is mayor of Dearborn. Miss Marston is nationally-known for her archery talents.

DeMolay Chapter Stages District Beauty Contest

A nationally-known archery expert, Ann Marston of Wyandotte, was selected as Sweetheart of the DeMolay in a beauty contest staged here last week by DeMolay chapters in the 17th district.

Serving of white African guinea hen was one of the highlights of the affair held at Arbor Lill. Flown here from Pomfret Center, Connecticut, the hens are said to be the latest in eating delights. About 140 persons were served.

The Hi-12 club parent organization of the DeMolay chapter, was host during the evening. Dearborn's Mayor Orville Hubbard, along with Plymouth Hi-12 members Floyd Tibbitts and Lawrence Lyons, were the beauty contest judges.

Six Rainbow Girls selected by six DeMolay chapters present were entered in the contest. The Plymouth chapter's contestant was Miss Marion Braund. Miss Marston, who is rated as one of the outstanding women in sports today, will be entered next weekend in the state contest at Grand Rapids.

Charles Huebler, advisor of the local DeMolay was chairman of the affair.

Each guest was served a complete guinea hen dinner. Norbert Lofy, manager of Arbor Lill, said that the white African guinea hen is even better tasting than the rock Cornish, guinea hen which was first served in this area at Arbor Lill several months ago. This is also believed to be the first that the African guinea hen has been served in this area.

Arbor Lill is celebrating its fourth year of operation. It opened its doors on November 1, 1951.

Safety Council to Hold Top Management Night

Carl E. Schneider, vice president in charge of Industrial Relations for the Burroughs corporation, will address members of the Plymouth Division, Metropolitan Detroit Safety Council at their second fall meeting Monday evening, November 8, at Arbor-Lill to control the causes of accidents.

Mr. Schneider also pointed out that a systematic program, implemented by adequate training, supervision and follow-up are prime requisites for the modern concept of a safe industrial plant.

The 1954 Amendments to the social security law may protect your future benefit amount if you are seriously disabled now or in the future.

The best way to accumulate money is to save some of what you are making now.

restaurant. His subject: "Accident Prevention is Management's Job."

Plymouth Division of the Safety Council includes the communities of Plymouth, Wayne, Garden City, Northville, Livonia, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

"Since the subject is of particular significance to the management of industrial plants, we designated this meeting as 'Top Management Night,' Herb Blake, area president of the Safety Council said. "A blanket invitation is extended to all members of industrial management in the area."

In discussing the subject of his talk Mr. Schneider stated that "industrial management should be vitally concerned with accident prevention in any activity under its control, because it is only management people who have the means and the authority

Robert A. Smith
Mr. Robert A. Smith of Howell, Michigan, a former Plymouth resident, passed away at his home in Howell on Saturday, October 30, at 4:10 p.m. He was 71 years of age.

Mr. Smith came to Plymouth in 1943 and lived here until last year when he moved to 1100 Butler avenue, Howell, Michigan. He had been in poor health for the last four years.

Funeral services were held Monday, November 2, at 2 o'clock from the Keene Funeral home in Brighton, Michigan. The Reverend Henry Campbell of Dexter, Michigan officiated.

Mr. Smith is survived by Mrs.

Vada Ruth Smith and five sons, Lee and Lester Smith of Milton, Tennessee; Lonnie of Ypsilanti, James of Everett, Massachusetts; and Jerry of Plymouth; two daughters, Miss Grace Smith of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Richard Doot of Ypsilanti; and several grandchildren.

Mrs. Margaret E. Burcaw
Mrs. Margaret E. Burcaw, who resided at 1201 Hartsough street, passed away Friday, October 29, following a long illness. Her death occurred at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Burcaw was 46 years of age.

Members of her immediate family who survive are her husband, Kenneth Burcaw; two sons, Kenneth Cowan Burcaw and Robert Joseph Burcaw; her mother, Mrs. Catherine L. Cowan of East Palestine, Ohio; and her brother, Howard B. Cowan of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Burcaw came to Plymouth from New Jersey about two years ago. She transferred her church membership to the First Methodist church of Plymouth soon after moving here, and was very active in church affairs, particularly the Sunday school, as long as her health would permit.

Mrs. Burcaw was also an active member of the Plymouth Parent Teacher's association and a member of the East Palestine Pythian Sisters, whom she joined while living in that city.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson D. D. officiated at funeral services which were held Monday, November 1 at 3 o'clock at the Schrader Funeral home. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers, all members of the First Methodist church, were Randall R. Penhale, Willard Lickfeldt, Bernard Curtis, William Elzerman, Milton and Harold Grimoldby. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Precinct 2, 899 in Precinct 3, and 690 in Precinct 4. The township has but one precinct.

Women took almost as much an interest in the election as men. There were 1,295 men voting in the city and 1,257 women. In the township, 736 men voted and 586 women. In Precinct 4, women actually outvoted the men 351 to 339.

Plymouth's only candidate on the ballot, Judge James H. Sexton, easily won one of the three posts to be filled in probate court. He out-distanced his closest rival here by nearly 600 votes.

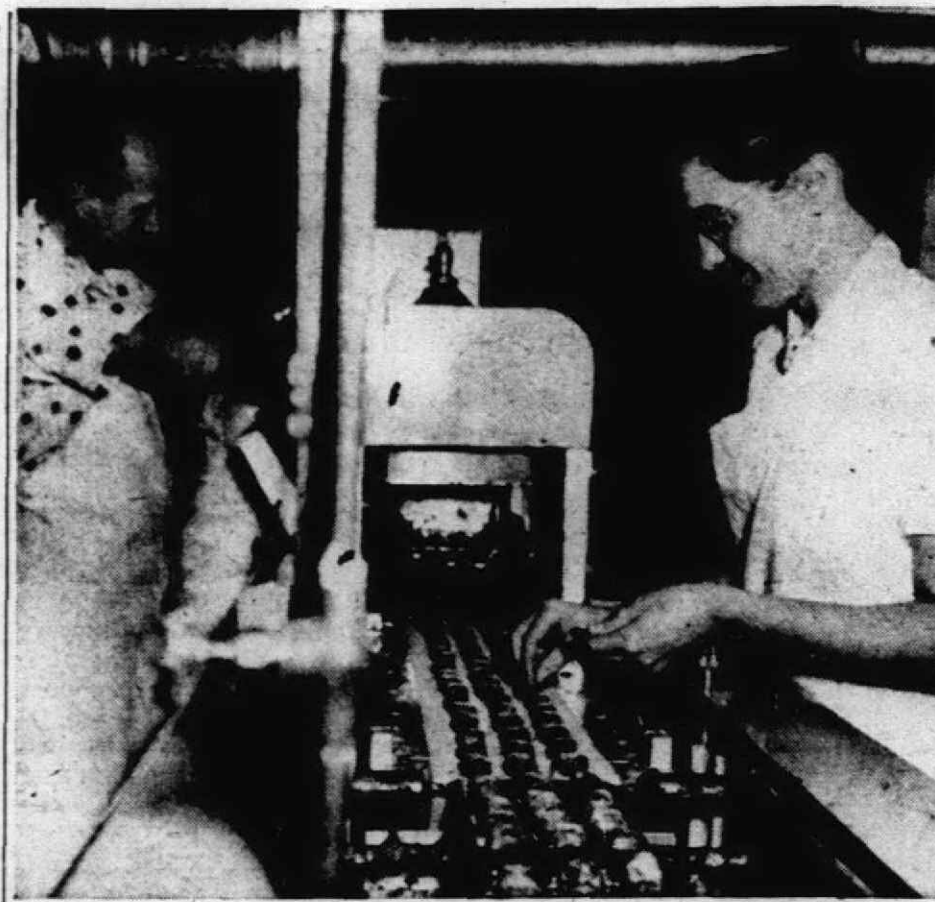

Both parties made a 11th hour appearance in Plymouth. Democrats led by Governor Williams held a rally Saturday night at Smith school. Donald Leonard, Republican candidate for governor, rolled into town with his caravan Monday morning and had breakfast with a half hundred of his supporters at The Toll House. Both candidates predicted victory.

Republicans were especially active in Plymouth with their "get-out-the vote" telephone campaign. Some of the workers received telegrams from high-level Republicans asking for a last-minute telephone appeal.

Mutual Aid Fireman Are Plymouth Guests

Firemen from 15 neighborhood departments will meet in Plymouth tonight to hear a talk accompanied by movies of a former state fire instructor.

Wally Gannon, Muskegon fire chief, will show instruction films on fog fire fighting to members of the Mutual Aid Fire association.

THE SECRET of George Kemnitz' good candies is that they're homemade. In the pictures above you see him supervising candymaking operations at his home on 8323 Ravine drive. The top picture shows Mrs. Betty Raub and Kemnitz checking a new candy which they're developing for the Christmas season. The candies have just received a bottom coating of chocolate and are now ready to get a second top-coating in the machine located in the background. Below, Mrs. Raub is making chocolate peanut clusters. Turning out hundreds of pounds of candies each week, Kemnitz distributes them through his store on West Ann Arbor trail. One of his special features are the large molded candy figures he makes for the holiday seasons. On display at the store this week is a 60-pound-solid chocolate turkey.

Plymouth Man Gets Vote Call

The "get out the vote" telephone chain originated last week by President Eisenhower and his cabinet has reached Plymouth. John F. Daoust, 412 Starkweather, received a phone call from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Sunday noon.

A Detroit woman received a phone call Saturday from Ike himself urging her to call 10 friends to get out and vote. The cabinet also started their own telephone chain and Daoust, a civil engineer and surveyor, was called.

He was at a loss to explain why he was selected by Summerfield except that he serves as the Precinct 2 Republican delegate in the 17th Congressional district.

Commission Gets

Turned over to the city manager and city attorney for further study and action was a problem involving streets in the Garling Subdivision No. 2 located east of Mill street. City Manager Albert Glassford reported that Garling's paving contractor did a faulty job of paving and that some of the streets will need to be repaired. Before the streets are dedicated to the city, commissioners decided, the construction firm should require the paving contractor to make the repairs.

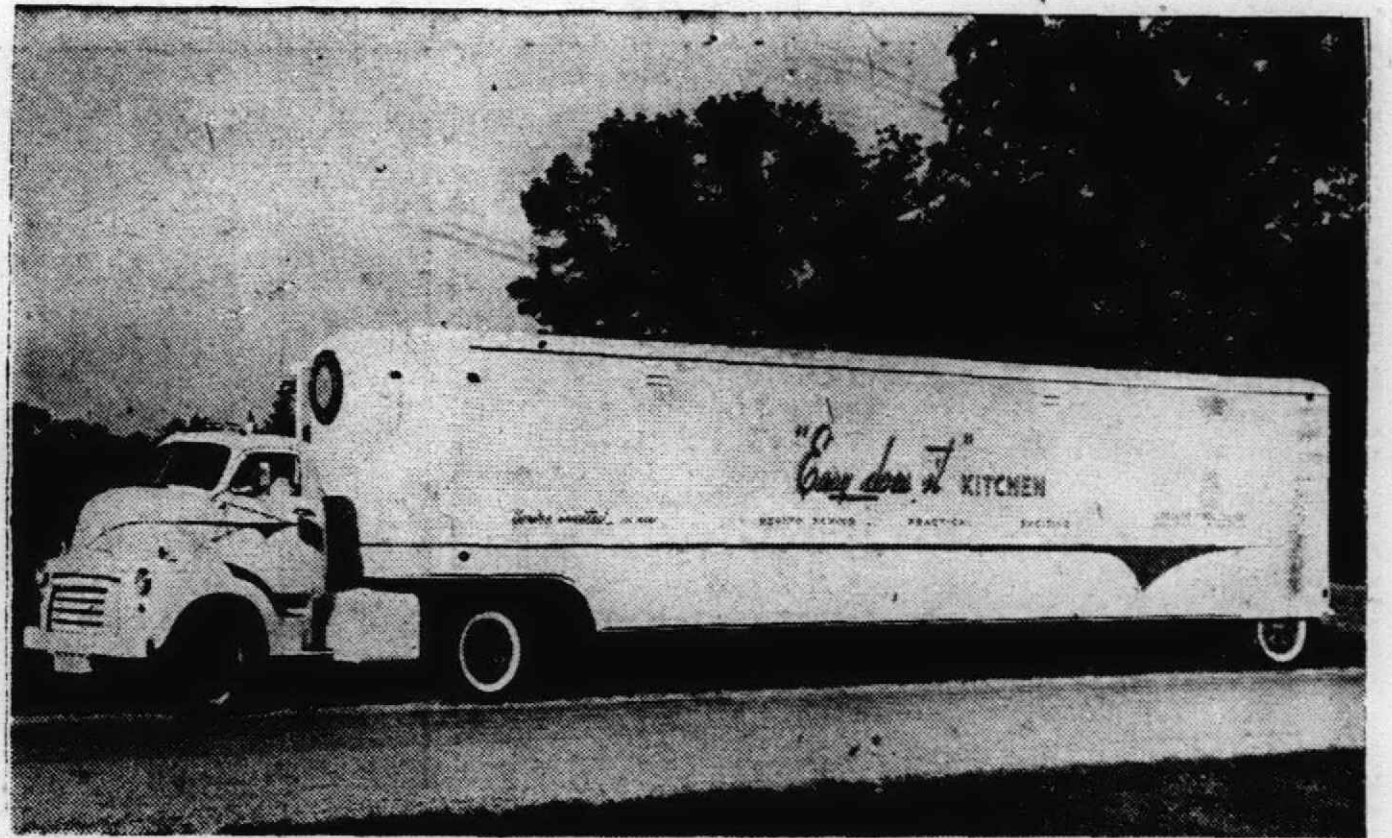

A petition was read and filed regarding construction of curb and gutter on Hartsough from Lincoln to Garfield. The improvement will be considered next spring along with other 1955 improvements.

Garage Fire

Damage estimated at $250 was caused when fire partially burned a garage behind the home of August Piper, 263 West Ann Arbor trail, last Monday afternoon.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister said that cause of the blaze has not yet been determined. Paint and kerosene stored in the building added to the intensity of the fire, he added. The property is owned by William Erdelyi of Plymouth.

This is the largest fire in Plymouth since fire demolished the interior of the Fashion Shoe store on Ann Arbor trail last February. Monday's blaze was quickly extinguished with use of the city's new truck.

donation in the Detroit Torch Drive would come to $6.

The board found that the residential returns amounted to only $951 but that the average family donation was $7.50. "If each family would set this amount as their minimum, we would reach the goal," campaign chairman George Witkowski asserted.

Should the fund not reach the goal, the funds would be divided to the agencies on a pro rata share. For instance, if one agency was to receive five per cent of the $24,500, it would receive five per cent if only $10,000 was collected.

The board voted Tuesday to publish the donations of each business and industry. Individual contributions are not being made public this year.

school; the Elks club which financed the operation of the swimming pool and gymnasium; and the Recreation department.

Also taking part in the window decoration and elementary school parade planning were the Business & Professional Women, the Women's club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Police reported only a few minor cases of vandalism during the evening.

Human nature is not even enough to explain the rows that center on religions.

ON DISPLAY today is this "Easy Does It" kitchen of Consumers Power company. Stationed behind the A & P market since Tuesday, the mobile exhibit is open to the public from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 this evening. The traveling van will display new ideas in kitchen design and holds special interest to homemakers with physical handicaps.

Elect McAllister To District Post

Plymouth's Fire Chief Robert McAllister was elected first vice-president of the Great Lakes district, International Fire Chiefs association, at a meeting of the association in Houston, Texas.

Chief McAllister and Chief Calvin Roberts of Livonia have returned home after driving to Texas for the annual meeting. There were 1,800 chiefs from the United States and many foreign countries represented.

McAllister's new post will place him in line for the district president's job next year. The district includes states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Plymouth's chief termed the international convention as the "best yet." Of interest to the ordinary citizen, McAllister reported, is a new television show previewed at the convention. Similar to the policeman's "Dragnet," this show will be called "Alarm." It is scheduled for regular showing in the near future.

McAllister recently retired as president of the Michigan Fire Chiefs association.

Special Evangelistic Services will begin at the Riverside Park Church of God Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. worship service. Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. thru Friday night.

Reverend Paul Tanner pastor of the First Church of God in Milwaukee, Wisconsin will be the special speaker for the services. Reverend Tanner is a very successful pastor and evangelist and is considered one of the prominent young ministers of the Church of God. Recently he has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Gospel Trumpet Company. This company is the publishing plant of the Church of God and does more than $2 million dollars worth of business each year.

Each evening Reverend Tanner will bring a vital gospel message, and besides the message there will be special songs, local talent as well as visitors, and special congregational singing by the audience.

The Michigan Ministerial Association of the Church of God was held at Edgewood, Michigan, October 19, 20, 21. Reverend E. B. Jones of the local church attended this meeting. At the meeting Reverend Jones was elected to serve on the program committee which plans the programs for state ministerial assembly which convenes in October 1955.

A Teachers and Workers Institute was held October 22, 23, 24 with Miss Gertrude Little of Anderson College, Anderson, Indiana as the leader. Miss Little concluded her Institute with two very excellent messages Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

His ministry has been outstandingly successful especially with children and young people.

Mr. Pearsall prior to his extensive traveling in connection with this work, resided in Plymouth. He is a 1942 graduate of the Plymouth high school. Shortly after his graduation he entered the armed forces. After his discharge he attended Central Bible Institute seminary in Springfield, Missouri. Following graduation there he entered upon his present work. His mother resides at 489 Hamilton street.

Mr. Pearsall has recently accepted an appointment to the staff of the Gospel Publishing House at Springfield, Missouri, headquarters of the Assembly of God denomination. Immediately after the services at the Plymouth church he will leave to take on his new responsibilities.

Methodist Church Bazaar to Feature Christmas Gifts

Wednesday, December 1, the second Methodist Woman's Society Dollar Bazaar will gladden Christmas shoppers with its array of home made aprons, needlework, and novelties, to mention but three of the categories of articles to be found in "Santa's Shopping Center."

The doors of this new center will open at 1 p.m. If the shoppers tire they may refresh themselves at the tea being served at decorated Christmas tea table during the hours of 2-4. If they secure their tickets in advance they may treat husband and family to a delicious supper served during the hours of 5 to 7. Tickets are $1.00 per person with dessert extra and must be secured through a member of the Methodist Woman's society or from Mrs. Clara Mumby, Plymouth 320.

Those who prefer dining at home can secure home baked goods at the "Central Bake Shoppe" which is in charge of Mrs. John Leet.

"Grandmothers Cupboard" may also help its customers offer an extra special luncheon that noon, or a delicious supper treat to their family at home. Mrs. Henry Jensen is chairman of "Grandmother Cupboard."

There is only one problem about money harder to solve than making it, and that is keeping it once you have made some.

The new church is being erected at the corner of Penniman and Garfield avenues. Reverend Arthur Wacker of the synod's foreign mission board spoke briefly to the gathering before the placing of the cornerstone began. Taking part in the cornerstone laying with Rev. Hoenecke were: (left to right) Leo Schultz, chairman of the board of Deacons; Mrs. Maurice Garchow, president of the Ladies' Mission Society; Mrs. Norman Goebel, president of the choir and Women's club Ronald Wendland, church usher; and Richard Schraf, principal of the Lutheran school.

NEW CAR FEVER was at its highest pitch last week as two of the big name automobile manufacturers came out with their new lines for 1955. Seated above in a Pontiac is Mrs. David Hay of Northville while Sales Manager James Edelbrock and Ross Berry of Berry and Atchinson look on. Below, Frank Allison (right) points out one of the new features of the Chevrolet to Wayne Rubey of Livonia. Both showrooms enjoyed huge crowds last weekend.

Worship Service, Pageant Mark World Day

Friday, November 5, at 8 p.m. the First Presbyterian church will be the scene of an inspirational service in which the theme "Let the Children Come to Me" is being developed through a worship service, led by Mrs. Sidney Strong, then emphasized by a pageant directed by Mrs. Wayne Smith.

Those taking part in the pageant are Mrs. Joseph Witwer, Mrs. Walter Pagenkoph, Mrs. Robert Proback and Mrs. Harold Grimoldby.

This program is based on the materials suggested and furnished by the United Church Women's organization. These are groups of Protestant, Evangelical and Orthodox women in local communities who work together through their denominations and local, state and national councils of church women to help build peace. These groups are undertaking on World Community Day, November 5, to share their bounty with other less fortunate. They are gathering up "Parcels for Peace" plus an "offering of money."

These "Parcels of Peace" may be good, used clothing suitable for little children and infants, remnants that can be made into clothing, and blankets and household linens for destitute older folks. Bring these offerings to the First Presbyterian church the evening of November 5 or to the residence of Mrs. Dean Saxton, acting chairman of the local temporary United Church Women's group in Plymouth. Her address is 585 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Mrs. Joseph Nolan of Ann Arbor trail reports the high lights of Ladywood high school. The initiation of the freshman and new comers was a grand success. All were good sports. The Postulants from the Felician convent at Madonna college visited Ladywood high school as guest for the initiation.

The Miss of the month at Ladywood is Christian Tyroco of Livonia. She was chosen because of her school spirit, cooperation and friendliness.

Don't forget the card party on November 11, at Ladywood high school. A good time is planned for all. Everyone invited.

Mrs. A. E. Gulick of Plymouth and Mrs. Leonard Cole of Haggerty highway took Den No. 4 of Pack 473 over to Wayne major airport on Friday to see President Eisenhower arrive. As the President left in his car he saw the cubs and acknowledged them with a cub salute. It was quite thrilling.

On Saturday, November 6, cub pack no. 473 of the Allen school will hold a bake sale, starting at 10 a.m. in the Kresge store.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cole and family of Haggerty highway and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole and family of Port Huron spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cole of Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. A. Cole plan to leave on Tuesday for an extended trip to Florida.

Built by Private First Class Ream and other members of the unit, the chapel will stand as a permanent monument to the free world's fight against communism in Korea.

A former student at Fort Hays State college, Fort Hays, Kansas, he entered the Army last February and arrived overseas in July.

Donald D. Helm

Private Donald D. Helm, son of Roy Helm, 435 Starkweather, Plymouth is nearing completion of basic infantry training at Fort Leonard Wood with a unit of the 6th Armored division.

After induction into the Army at his home station, Private Helm processed through the 5045th ASU Reception Station at Fort Leonard Wood, where he received his initial Army clothing, and took the basic qualification and aptitude tests to determine his assignment in the Army after completion of basic training.

In the first eight weeks, he is being taught the basic elements of military life, how to defend himself individually and with a unit, how to live with other soldiers, basic infantry techniques, and other fundamental facts important to his success in the military service.

Upon completion of the eight-week infantry training cycle here with the famed "Super Sixth," he will receive a leave before beginning eight weeks of advance basic training, either at Fort Leonard Wood or another training installation.

Garth G. McAllister

Private Garth G. McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McAllister, 244 Hamilton, Plymouth, has been selected to attend the 5th Armored Division Clerk Typist school at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

During the eight-week course, McAllister will receive instruction in typewriting, the Army filing system, publications, principles of military correspondence, personnel records and reports.

Edward M. Kostello

Private Edward M. Kostello, whose sister, Mrs. Helen Horak, lives at 10060 Garvett, Livonia, recently joined the 4th Regimental Combat team at Ladd Air Force Base, Alaska.

Army units stationed in Alaska undergo intensive field training while guarding the northern approaches to the U. S.

Kostello, last stationed at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, was employed by General Motors research in Detroit before entering the Army in May 1954.

Local Hobbist Shovels Tons of Coal Yearly To Show Off Large Steam Engine Collection

PART OF HIS LARGE collection of toy steam engines is being shown here by Lee Gaeke. Many of the engines date back into the 19th century. A steam boat, steam roller and steam-operated pile driver are among the engines seen.

ANOTHER STEAM ENGINE enthusiast is Ralph Carter, left, an across-the-street neighbor of the Gaeke. Carter was once a traction engine operator and is usually on hand to assist Gaeke in demonstrating the varied assortment of engines. Here, Gaeke is lighting up a replica of Edison's original electric light with power supplied by an old-time steam engine and generator.

SOURCE OF THE STEAM engines' power is this large boiler (left) which consumes about a ton of coal annually. Gaeke is turning the valve to start operation of his walking beam engine which pumps water into the boiler.

A descent into the basement of 292 Pacific avenue is like entering a junior-sized factory.

That is the home of Lee B. Gaeke whose hobby of collecting and manufacturing small steam engines has placed him among the most outstanding steam engine hobbists in the nation. Sounds of puffing and hissing and pumping and pounding are heard in the basement almost nightly as Lee works on his hobby or starts up his boiler for an hour-long show for visitors. While most persons pursue a hobby far from their usual job, Lee works as a master mechanic for a high pressure boiler manufacturer in Inkster during the day and works just as hard with his steam engines at night.

Visitors jammed the Gaeke basement on the night of October 15 when he sent out printed invitations to a select few dignitaries. Officials from the Detroit Edison company and the Ford's Edison Institute were among the visitors. Lee staged a one-man show commemorating the diamond anniversary of the incandescent lamp by lighting a replica of the first Edison lamp.

First, he fired up the large boiler, which is a hot half-hour job in itself. A group of high-polished gauges tells him of pressure in the boiler, in the lines, city water lines and compressor pressure. With a "head of steam" in the boiler, he turned on the steam into the lines leading to a half dozen small steam engines. Each engine, though some are over a century old, have a task to perform. Two of them generate electric power—power which lighted the Edison lamp replica.

The "walking beam engine" which is 114 years old, once was used in an English textile mill. Lee found it in a junk pile. A "direct-coupler" type engine was constructed in 1880 and was used in a stonequarry blacksmith shop near Toledo. Another "belt-connected" engine was built in 1870 and runs an equally old generator.

Electric lights in the room can be switched over to use power from the generator. The walking beam engine pumps water into the boiler while the direct coupler engine compresses air into a tank. This compressed air is often used by Lee to run his toy steam engines for demonstration purposes instead of firing up each one of the miniature boilers.

His showcase full of miniature engines is considered as the best among private collectors. He has been collecting them for 25 years and some are as old as 75 years. But running the engines are only half of the hobby. In another basement room are three lathes, a shaper, two drill presses, a surface grinder, cutter grinder, disc grinder, power hack saw and a half ton of smaller tools.

Lee can easily turn out a steam engine himself with the machinery, but he usually sells those. His collection is mostly of old-time toy engines, many of them manufactured in foreign countries.

Until recently he had a home-made miniature steam train running around the back yard as a play-thing for his young son and daughter. The train has now been sold.

Although live steam can be dangerous, Lee has never suffered a mishap in all of his years of firing up boilers. His interest in the hobby runs from the small toy engines to the large traction engines which at one time were common sights on farms as they furnished power for threshing machines. On the wall hangs a stationary engineers license which Lee holds, although he really doesn't need it.

He is also a member of the Plymouth Institute of Thermodynamics, a group of steam engine enthusiasts with headquarters in Plymouth, Ohio, not Plymouth, Michigan. Gaeke recently designed a steam engine for a Bucyrus, Ohio machinist who is going to manufacture 50 steam cars a year for hobbists. The engine will burn oil, not coal.

"What will the car be called? That's the beautiful thing about it," Lee said. "If your name is Jones and you buy one, the car will be called a 'Jones' and will have your name engraved on the front."

Lee shovels about a ton of coal a year into his boiler to run the steam engines. He expects to turn the basement into an even more diversified museum by someday adding an old-fashioned wall telephone and gas lights.

Annual Wildlifers Ball Scheduled

Many of the Plymouth members of the Western Wayne County Conservation association will attend the annual hunters ball held this Saturday night at the association's new clubhouse near Warren road.

Sod Schaffer and his orchestra will play for the annual dance which marks the opening of the deer hunting season. Most of the celebrants will be attired in hunting clothes.

Who's New In Plymouth

A PRACTICE SESSION with the new piano starts off a relaxing evening at home for the Russell Kreitsch family of 44476 John Alden road. Under the watchful eye of her husband and father-in-law, John Kreitsch, Mrs. Kreitsch is attempting to teach her family to play the piano. Apparently six-year-old Bobby's attention is temporarily diverted to Wrinkle, the family's pet boxer. Originally from Dearborn, the Kreitschs moved to Plymouth on August 15. Kreitsch is employed at the Lincoln Mercury plant. Although still active in the Methodist church in Dearborn, the Kreitschs hope to join the local Plymouth church.

Plymouth Women's Club to Meet For Northville State Hospital Tour

Friday, November 5 at 1 p.m. the Plymouth Women's Club will hold its next meeting at Northville State Hospital, according to an announcement from Mrs. Leslie Daniels, club president.

Mrs. Byron Champion, program chairman for this meeting, has made arrangements for the group to meet in the hospital auditorium and be greeted by Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent, before they have a tour of the hospital. The tour will be conducted by members of the hospital staff who function as the host committee at Northville State hospital. Mr. Harold Bynum, clinical psychologist is chairman.

The meeting in the auditorium will feature movies of patient activities, taken at the hospital, with a commentary by Abraham Brickner, psychiatric social work supervisor. A panel discussion, devoted to the role of the community in a psychiatric treatment program in a State Hospital will follow.

The following hospital staff participants will discuss the subject from their professional viewpoints: Miss Christiana Burke, director of nursing, Miss Mildred Gottdank, instructor of Psychiatric nursing from the Wayne University College of Nursing, Miss Janet Paterson, director of occupational therapy, James Grisell, director of clinical psychology, and Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service.

Arrangements for this type of meeting are offered as a community service by the hospital. Any groups wishing to meet or tour the hospital are urged to contact Mr. A. Brickner at Northville 1290 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

It is estimated that one out of every three deaths could be postponed for several years if high blood pressure and the conditions that lead to it could be abolished. It is a very common condition and we do not know much about it at the present time.

Blood is pumped from the heart and on its way to the capillaries in the tissues, is pumped through channels of ever decreasing size. It goes from the arteries into the arterioles or smaller arteries and on into the capillaries which are the tiniest of all. Some of them can only be seen by the aid of the microscope. Here it is in close contact with living tissues which is supplied with nutrient.

Veins are formed that carry the blood back to the heart. However, pressure is required to take the blood back to the heart. However, a great deal of pressure is required to force the blood into the capillaries from the arterioles.

The level of pressure in the larger arteries is taken as the blood pressure. The means of measurement in human beings was discovered about 200 years ago.

The pressure in the artery is measured in millimeters of mercury by an instrument which consists of an inflatable rubber bag which is wound about the arm and blown up by a rubber bulb. The pressure is recorded and can be plainly read by the operator.

The pressure in normal adults averages about 120 millimeters of mercury during the time when the heart is pushing the blood, and about 80 millimeters of mercury in the interval between beats. The former is called systolic, the latter diastolic. It is recorded thus—120-80.

There are many variations in blood pressure in normal people. We cannot settle on a set of figures and call them normal, for too many factors enter into the determination of blood pressure in different individuals.

Some people seem to have a normally very high blood pressure and some very low. Yet their health does not seem to suffer.

The arterioles of patients that have suffered for a long time with high blood pressure are often thickened, narrowed and fibrous. This contracted condition causes a narrowing of the vessels that necessitates abnormally hard work on the part of the heart to pump the blood throughout the system and to maintain the circulation. This does not reveal the cause of blood pressure.

Sometimes the cause is found in Nephritis, commonly known as Bright's disease. Inflammation of the kidneys is a frequent cause. Sometimes the discovery of the cause and its removal result in a spectacular drop of blood pressure to normal, where it is maintained with the recovery of the health to normal.

Arterial hypertension is often found accidentally in the course of a routine physical examination. Sometimes these people believe that they are quite well, when their very lives are depending upon the discovery and proper treatment of their condition.

More than half—55 per cent—of all American families now own their own homes, as compared with 44 per cent before the war.

The Salem school children had their annual Halloween parade and party last Friday afternoon. The Salem fire department furnished cider and doughnuts and gave 25c to each child at the party. After the parade the older school children square danced at the Fire Hall until six o'clock. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes with Judy Sizimor winning first prize; Howard Klick, second; and Sharon Dolan, third.

Mrs. Charles Raymor's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Collins of Washington state, is staying at the Raymor home in Salem until Mrs. Raymor returns from the University hospital where she has been taking treatments the past four weeks. Mrs. Raymor expects to be home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Famuliner and family visited the Edward Lynn family in Grand Rapids the weekend of October 23 and 24.

Salem friends of Mrs. Ronald Lyke of Six Mile road were saddened to hear of the tragic death of her only sister, Mrs. Edward Bodenshot (Beth Livingston) of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Bodenshot was stricken with bulbar polio last Saturday, October 23 and died Thursday, October 28, at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids. Funeral services were held at the Alman Funeral home in Grand Rapids, Monday, November 1, at 1:30.

The Lapham 4-H club met at the Herbert Conant home on Napier road Tuesday evening, October 26. The meeting was opened by the president, Jimmy Davis. The 4-H pledge was led by Berva Adams. The club voted to pay prize money to each of the 3 underage members who completed a 4-H project. It was also voted by the club to purchase a feather-weight electric sewing machine and table for the 4-H girls sewing project. The cost of the table is to be paid back to the club treasury by the girls following a Bake Sale. Award money from the county was disbursed by leaders Herbert and Olive Conant. Halloween refreshments of doughnuts, pop corn balls and cocoa were served.

The Salem Township 4H clubs have their first meeting and party at the Salem Town Hall this Saturday, November 6.

Mrs. Dan Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Barrett of North Territorial road has been promoted to Corporal with the 8th Infantry division at Fort Carson, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kranz of Godfredson road entertained a group of friends and relatives last Saturday evening in honor of the birthday of their son, Ralph Kranz of Five Mile road.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanly Hawker and family entertained at a family picnic supper Sunday, October 24, at their home on North Territorial road in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberts of Tappinabee. Other guest included the William Ritchies, Harold Johnsen, Miss Dorothy Ritchie, the Albert Browns of Manchester, James Ritchie family of South Lyon and Earl Ritchies of Detroit.

The regular monthly meeting of the Livonia Home Gardeners club will be held on Wednesday, November 10, at 8 p.m. at the Bentley high school. The speaker for the evening will be David Meininger and he will speak on "Evergreens, Their Care and Use." Visitors are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Fred Nubel of Detroit visited with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Desmond of Joy road, on Sunday, October 31.

November 13 is a date to remember. A bazaar and roast beef supper will be in full swing at the Newburg Methodist church on Newburg road and Ann Arbor trail. Come and help expand the building fund for the proposed new church. The hour is from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. for serving of the dinner, and the bazaar is an all day affair.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stark-Newburg P.T.A. was held on Tuesday evening, October 26, at the Newburg school with a fine representation of parents and teachers present. After the usual meeting to discuss the business of the day, James Otto, program chairman, introduced the special guest of the evening, Mrs. Bernice Roberts, curriculum co-ordinator for the Livonia public schools, who spoke to the group on the subject of the new report cards. Two skits were presented in which the wrong and right ways of interpreting the report card markings were shown. Participating in these skits were Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Mrs. Clayton Crane, Mrs. Alfred Higgins, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. Russell Wendt and Mrs. Howard Noble. Refreshments were served by the fourth grade room mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Preston of Flint, Michigan were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Agnes MacIntyre of Newburg road.

The Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder on Six mile road on Friday, November 5, at 6:30 p.m. for a pot luck supper and business meeting to follow.

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr., Phone Liv. 3193

The "Mothers Club" of Boy Scout Troop RG1 are giving a party at the Rosedale Gardens clubhouse, 9611 Hubbard, on Tuesday evening, November 9. In attending this party the mothers of new Scouts will have an opportunity to become better acquainted and will also have a chance to understand the function-of the "Mothers Club."

Last Thursday evening, October 28, the Girl Scouts of America entertained their sponsors at a program presented in the community room of the First Federal Savings bank at the Sheldon Shopping center. There was an excellent representative group present and I am sure all enjoyed the movie on Girl Scouting and the address given by Mrs. Roy Batie, Metropolitan Group Organization chairman. Mrs. Robert Sales and Mrs. Leonard Spragg poured tea and coffee. The following girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Clarence Oliver and Mrs. Harry Collins, co-leader, were very gracious and did a wonderful job of keeping people happy with cookies and refills of tea and coffee. Helen Burke, Susan Castle, Susan Jones, Gale Colgan, Sharon Grinder, Mildred Gregory, Virginia Collins, Darlene Ford, Loreta Hoegy, Barbara Haas, Judy Oliver, Sally Ann Pawloski, Sally Stansbury, Karen Taylor, Holly Tricks, and Elizabeth Toomey. I am sure many sponsors went home with a better understanding of Girl Scout purposes and a better realization of the need for more sponsors and the crying need for more leaders.

The Halloween dance at the clubhouse was a terrific success. There were so many clever and original costumes that the committee had a hard time picking three for the prizes. After much deliberation the judges decided to give the first prize to Mr. and Mrs. Les Core of 11021 Cranston for their unusual costumes. Mr. and Mrs. Core were dressed alike in long orange underwear and they had hollowed out pumpkins for their heads. Mighty uncomfortable but effective. Second prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loucks of 10066 Cranston who were dressed as a couple that had been married thirty years. Third prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kilkka of 9908 Brookfield. Mrs. Kilkka was dressed as a gypsy and Mr. Kilkka was dressed as a toy soldier.

The Rosedale Gardens Women's club have scheduled a pot-luck for this evening at the clubhouse. Betty Oliver is chairman and her committee will be Virginia Gamber, Wilma Bradfute, Esther Heyl and Eileen Richard. After dinner the women will hear a review of two books on Mary Lincoln presented by Mrs. Anthony Matulis, a teacher of English composition of the Henry Ford Community college. Mrs. Matulis has chosen "Love is Eternal" by Irving Stone and "Mary Lincoln the Biography of Her Marriage" by Randell to reveal the much-discussed character of the wife of Abe Lincoln.

The residents of Rosedale Gardens were very pleased to note that Dr. O. L. Brooker of 9832 Cranston, was honored for outstanding services to the profession at the 56th annual convention of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Mrs. Lyman Hedden, announced that orders are still being taken for the Livonia official tree, the Almey Flowering Crab, by the Rosedale Gardens branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. The sale of trees is limited to Livonia residents and members of the Garden club at the price of $2.85 for a five to six foot tree. All orders for trees should be addressed to: The Rosedale Gardens Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, 9805 Berwick, Livonia. Cash, check, or money order must accompany each order.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ginsky of 11010 Arden announce the birth of a daughter, born October 20, at the New Grace hospital in Detroit. The baby weighed 8 lbs. 2 oz. and will be called Ellen Joyce. The new arrival makes a total of five daughters for Mr. and Mrs. Ginsky.

Mrs. Milton Secor of 11020 Cranston entertained Mrs. Lillian Heric, a former resident of Rosedale Gardens at a tea in her home on Thursday, October 28.

See Robinson Subdivision and Cherryhill News on page 7 of section 3.

Fourth Generation Makes Cider at 81 Year Old Mill

To capture the true spirit of fall there's nothing like a trip to the 81-year-old Parmenter Cider Mill over at 708 East Baseline, Northville. Here you can watch Bob Parmenter, fourth generation owner, operate one of the biggest cider mills in the area.

Started in 1873 by Bob's great grandfather, the mill still turns out top-grade cider as evidenced by the customers who come all the way from Dearborn and Allen Park to get bottles and kegs of fresh cider for their club parties, Scout shindigs, etc.

Surrounded by the aroma of fresh cider, we watched John Duncan and Fred Multop from the Del Smith orchard in South Lyon unload a truck full of apples. To turn out 5,000 gallons of cider a day, the presses consume 1300 to 1400 bushels of local apples.

Bob says besides purchasing apples from many of the Northville orchards, he buys from the Risdon and Roberts orchards in Salem, the Detroit House of correction, Brier Ridge and Frank Sump farms on Six Mile road.

From their storage spot on the second floor of the main building the apples come tumbling down a shute to a water-filled trough. Here they're pushed by a paddle-wheel, designed by Bob, out of the water and onto a step-like conveyor belt. The latter takes them up to the grinding machine where they're fed down to the presses.

As the ground apples come down through a huge pipe they land on a platform encased by a wooden frame. Here it takes two men to level off the apples within the frame, much as you'd level off a layer of cement. When the frame is filled, cloths are brought up to completely cover the apples within the frame. Then a new frame is set up and the process of filling, leveling off and covering with cloth is repeated. This goes on until the tenth frame is put in place and 60 bushels of apples are all fealty encased in cloth and frame.

Then they're swung over under the press where some 120 tons of pressure per square inch is applied. The raw apple juice runs down and is channeled onto a screen which filters away any large particles of apples or seeds. Underneath the screen the raw cider is collected in tanks which directly fill the one beside their retail store. The rest is piped over to tanks in an adjacent building for storage.

Most of the Parmenters' business is done wholesale where they have to filter the cider and add benzoate of soda as a preservative. Their main outlet is the Eastern Market and Terminal in Detroit, from which the smaller stores and markets purchase the cider for retail.

In the pine-paneled office customers can buy the much-prized raw, unfiltered cider, which is made fresh each day. At the end of a day's operation what's left over is stored and later pasteurized for making vinegar.

Although the mill still operates with the first electric motor ever owned in Northville—an 1899 Century bought by Bob's great grandfather—the Parmenters are keeping up with progress. Bob's added a new apple loader, built and designed the apple washer.

The Parmenters, Bob, his wife, mother and sister, are busy now with the idea of setting up equipment for freezing cider another year. This way after the season ends the latter part of November, customers could enjoy year-long fresh cider. Then, too, they're planning to have a custom-grinding service during the grape season next year. Customers will bring in their own grapes which the mill will press, and then bottle the juice for them.

With this progressive business outlook we predict that the Parmenter Cider Mill will see many more years in operation.

Sport Glances

by
"Professor"
Ed Brown

The high school gridders will cap a successful season tomorrow night should they defeat Walled Lake. If they do win from this good team, it will mark the second year in the last three that the Rocks have been undefeated.

Five of the local boys were named to the 6-B League all-star team, which is quite an accomplishment for one school. This team was picked by the coaches of the league who saw these boys play. It would probably be best if all-league teams weren't picked, or named, until the season is over, but most level-headed boys will take such things in stride. Once in awhile one sees a puff up, but such athletes don't last long or go far in any sport. Take the case of Ron Kramer, star Michigan sophomore. Ron was built up as a all-state player in his junior year in high school at East Detroit, and it hasn't affected his play much for he is better now than ever. Dick Tracy is another and is doing great guns at Tennessee now.

You basketball oldsters better start thinking about signing on a court team in the recreation league about now. Herb Woolweaver says they want to start the fast league the first part of December. He also would like to see a Class B league this year such as they have in softball in the summer, one where a few old-timers plus some of the 18 and under lads not good enough to play on the high school or fast league team could have a league of their own.

That is a good idea. This league and the boys leagues of 16 and 14 and under would start after Christmas early in January. If anyone is interested in playing any kind of basketball this winter he should call Mr. Woolweaver and get on a team.

I saw the following somewhere the other day and thought it good enough to pass on to you.

WANTED—A MAN
A man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an attempt to be the first to quit work at night.

A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk because of an hour overtime in emergencies.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells you the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and always determined to "make good."

A man who, when he does not know, says, "I don't know," and when he is asked to do anything says: "I'll try."

These football contests are sure puzzlers. You very seldom see someone who thinks he knows football, and all the teams, really win these contests. The first game, or so, the analyst might win as most teams play an easy opponent the first of the season, but later on when the upsets begin to roll in, a rank amateur, or child, who just picks names because they sound good will win more times than the dopest. The one who knows sports will have a much better average over a season, however, than the one who just picks names.

So many things play an important part in the outcome of a football contest—where the game is played, the weather, injuries, whether it is homecoming or not, traditional rivalry and the breaks of the game plus the schedule. It is really hard to pick 80% of the winners in any 10 top games.

It's never too late, if you are still alive, to be careful on the highway.

Plymouth Gridders Win Five "All League" Spots

Nearly one-half of the players named to honorary positions on this year's 6-B All-league team came from the Plymouth football team. Of the eleven men named to the first squad (five performed for the local aggregation this fall, The Rocks also had two named on the second team, and the remaining regulars were given honorable mention. That number is the largest percentage named to the first team by any school since the re-organization of the 6-B league a few years ago.

Grade Teams End Season Tonight

Two close contests marked the last games played in the school-boy league last week. Smith school downed Bird 6 to 0, and Catholic squeezed by Smith by the same score. With the last game today, the Starkweather grade lads are still undefeated and favored to take the championship barring an upset.

In the Smith-Bird game, Bruce Horvath scored the only touchdown of the game as Smith won. Bill Lenaghan intercepted a Smith pass and sped 70 yards for the touchdown that won the game for Catholic.

(Honored) on the first eleven were Captain Lee Juve and Denny Luker, a couple of hard-running backs; Bill Petro, an end; John Agnew, a tackle; and Jim Arnold, a center.

Each school with the exception of Redford had one representative on the first squad. Plymouth had five players, Trenton and Allen Park two each, and Bentley and Belleville one apiece.

A complete list of players chosen with the position and school follows:

- ALL-LEAGUE TEAM
- Jim Roberts (E) . . . . . Allen Park
  - Bill Petro (E) . . . . . Plymouth

Trenton—Backs George Ridenous and Charles Stevens, and guard Fred Wood.
Belleville—Guards Floyd Williams and Ed Peck.
Redford Union—Backs Bob Wonbecker and Don Keeney, and tackle Bill Hinchy.
Allen Park—Tackles Bill Nadzam and Duane Early, and end Bob Kish.

Danol Leads Rock Harriers In Regional Meet

The Plymouth high school cross-country team can hang up the spikes until next year with the exception of Bob Danol, who qualified for the state class A meet at Ypsilanti when he came in fourth in the regional. The meet was held at Trenton and Plymouth finished seventh in the ten-team field of class A schools. The first three teams qualified for the state meet, and the first fifteen individual runners to finish.

Young Danol ran a splendid race even though it was not up to some of his other times recorded this year. He was around 10 seconds behind Ben Eckmoody of Ann Arbor, who came in first in 10 minutes and 53 seconds for the two miles.

Ann Arbor captured team honors with a low five-man total of 69 points. Lincoln Park was second with 82 and Monroe third with 103. Plymouth had 153 points. Behind Danol came Pieter Schipper in 20th place, Sorenson in 39th, Tom Ferguson in 41st and Bob Middleton in 49th.

Danol will run in the state finals Saturday on the Washtenaw Country Club course in Ypsilanti. The Class A meet begins around 11 a.m.

In the Class B regional, Bentley came in first with a total of 54 points, and the individual winner beat the Class A time when Joe Ohr of Trenton ran it in 10 minutes and 46 seconds.

River Rouge was second, Romulus third, Trenton fourth and Belleville fifth. Bentley has an excellent chance of taking the class B state meet as all five runners have low times and finish practically together.

Third Football Poll in Two Years Won By High School Coach Charles Ketterer

Plymouth High School Coach Charles Ketterer may be seriously thinking of giving up coaching and turn his talents toward winning football polls. He won his third Plymouth Mail poll in two years this weekend.

Ketterer won The Mail's first contest this season and won one contest last season. To make sure that at least one of his 15 predictions came true, Coach Ketterer guided his team into a decisive decision over Garden City Friday night.

The University of Michigan was again the thorn in the side of many of the contestants. Fans lost faith in the Wolverines when they made a poor showing against Army. U. of M. Then upset the pollsters with a winning streak. By the time that fans regained their faith in the team last week, Indiana pulled an upset. Only four contest entries predicted a Hoosier upset.

Despite the Detroit Lions loss last week to San Francisco, most contestants stuck with the Lions last Sunday and won. Second place winner Henry Schwartz, 9114 Brookline, predicted the exact 27-24 score of the Lions-Rams game.

Coach Ketterer missed only the U. of M.-Indiana and the Georgia-Alabama predictions. The latter contest had a 0-0 score, making it a stumbling block for every forecaster.

Schwartz and the third place winner, Betty Reeves, 29723 Grandview, Inkster, missed the same two games as Ketterer plus the Michigan State-Minnesota battle.

THREE-TIME WINNER of the Mail's football contest, Charles Ketterer, receives his $10 check from a fellow high school teacher, James Latture, who is also operator of the Latture Real Estate and a sponsor of the contest. Latture was unable to discover Coach Ketterer's secret of successful predictions.

Rocks Down Garden City To Stay Unbeaten, 34-0

The local high school gridders continued unbeaten last week as the team easily lapped over Garden City 34 to 0 before the smallest crowd of the year. The first team racked up an impressive 27 to 0 lead by halftime and the reserves played most all the last half.

Midway through the first quarter George Pine recovered a Garden City fumble deep in the opponent's territory and Captain Lee Juve finally tallied from the one-yard line for the first score of the evening. Dick Davidson split the uprights for the extra point that gave the Rocks a 7 to 0 lead.

Early in the second quarter Denny Luker rumbled two yards for another score, but the extra point was no good and Plymouth led 13 to 0. Captain Juve scored again with five minutes to go before the half and Dick Day ran on an option play for the extra point. With five seconds to go before intermission Day intercepted a pass on the 50-yard line and made a sensational run for a touchdown. Davidson kicked the extra point to make it 27 to 0 at the half.

Shortly after the second half opened, Day passed to Linden Mills for another score. The play covered 40 yards. Davidson's kick was good and the score was 34 to 0. The reserves played most of the game from that point on and nearly scored a couple of times, but couldn't quite shove the ball over the goal line.

Garden City never threatened, being unable to move the ball beyond mid-field.

This was the sixth win of the season for the Rocks, who were tied in one game by Allen Park. Friday night the local eleven ends the season with a game on the local field with Walled Lake as the final opponent. Walled Lake has a fairly good team this year and have won more games than they have lost. Last week the Lakers beat Farmington 20 to 6. Other area scores found Bentley upsetting Wayne 14 to 0 after a scoreless first half; Ypsilanti gave Ann Arbor a good game but lost 13 to 0; Dearborn Lowery beat Redford Union 6 to 0; and Holly defeated Northville 19 to 13.

Chips from the ROCK

This column has been written in many places . . . aboard ship from Cuba, in planes, on trains, in motels and hotels, but never before from bed.

It's funny what a slight leg infection will do to an otherwise supposedly healthy individual. After a couple of shots of ever-present penicillin and the good advice of Ace Williams to go to bed and get off the ailing member, (which of course we ignored), we do end up in bed but good.

It probably took the concurrence with Ace of Walt Hammond to shock us into fright from the possible effects of a small blood clot if we didn't behave. So here we are, writing several days later, still in bed, some of the thoughts that pass through the mind on an occasion such as this.

The first day passed quickly with the little woman bristling with arrangements and plans for the care of her distressed better half. A bedside phone kept business and office routine at a norm. The latter part of the first day brought calls from associates at the office and things were looking serene. So serene, in fact, I was looking forward with pleasure at the prescribed vacation, and sneered slightly at my next door neighbor, Ed Scott, who has been making an excellent bed recovery from a recent heart ailment. Flashing through my mind was the luxury surrounding his recovery; a hospital bed in a slightly downstairs bedroom, frequent calls from the visiting nurse, good books to read, and his leisurely, friendly calls from friends had almost made me envious.

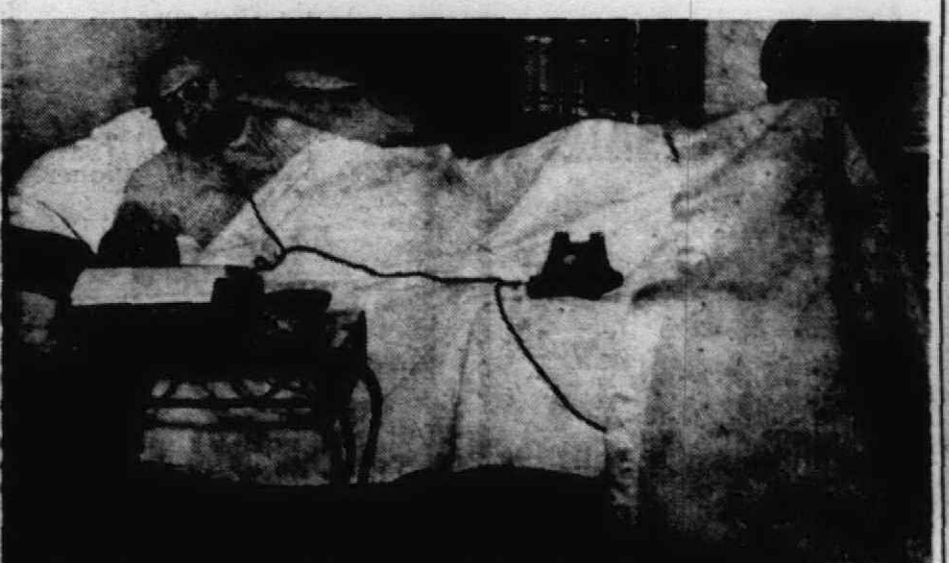

After a glorious first day the second day opened with a visitation from Dr. Williams who approved our improvised hospital, emptied another bottle of penicillin, and then proceeded to take some of the rose glow out of our situation by substituting his daily diet menus for those we had thought about.

He very carefully explained to my head nurse that had this particular patient been hospitalized instead of granted the use of his own bed, he would have without equivocation, been served a low calorie menu. Since he had us in a situation where we couldn't leave the bed, the second day of our "rest" we joined the "lettuce league" and looked warily at the future.

On the close of the third day, after being assured by several friends of the seriousness of a blood clot, and being visited by several of my friends in the local clergy, I think I underwent a slight set-back on my road to recovery. The crowning event of this long day was the call from my close friend, funeral director Edwin Schrader, who said he had heard of my illness but had too serious a cold to venture into a sick room, but wanted to assure me that he certainly would SEE ME LATER ???

After four days in bed time really starts to drag. All of the glamour and thrill of the first expectation has worn off. The head nurse, whom you have lived with for 24 years anyway, starts to lose her steam and it seemingly takes her hours now to answer your whims. You toss all night and listen to the strains played by your tummy as you suffer the result of the diet . . . actually, you are far too well to still be in bed, but you just can't take that chance.

As time passes more slowly you have more time for thought. You still have some love left in your heart. You are grateful for having an organization as well staffed as ours. You have been able to "sweat it out in bed" knowing full well next week's Plymouth Mail will be just as good as the last, if not better. You know the hundreds of firms who depend on your plant for their printing will be serviced, as usual, never once knowing of your trouble. Disgusted at your plight you are grateful, however to the doctors who put you in bed, and as you look to the day when you'll be out again, you think of the thousands who might still be alive had they listened also. As bad as it seemed, it still was good.

"WHO CARES whether it's you or anyone else," said The Mail's every-ready cameraman, as he shot the above picture over violent protest of your bedridden columnist. "A picture is a picture and that's what I'm paid for." So, we guess you'll not only read this miserable column this week, but also have a look at the writer as he suffered through its preparation. However, as we go to press, we can say he is again about, dieting, and looking for another laugh on someone else next week.

THE LONG-SUFFERING KITCHEN COMMITTEE

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman
Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

SPORTSMEN and resort owners breathed easier as the Michigan Water Resources Commission disclosed its latest stream and lake pollution survey.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary, complimented industries on new waste disposal systems and said "marked improvement" had been made.

"We're complimenting the industries involved because they deserved it," he said.

It was just a year ago that Michigan had its infamous fish-killing episode in Allegan Lake. Hydrogen sulfide in the Kalamazoo River at the same time gave off fumes which damaged the paint on nearby houses.

The survey completed this fall shows that "pollution has been greatly reduced along the river, and in adjoining lakes. The fish are returning in great numbers.

Of the 15 sampling stations, one was above the city of Kalamazoo at Comstock bridge; three were inside the city; two below Kalamazoo and above Plainwell; two inside Plainwell; one at the Otsego dam; three below Otsego and above Allegan; and the final three were at M-89 and M-40 bridges and the municipal dam below Allegan.

Adams gave credit for part of the improvement to the Otsego Falls Paper Mills which disposed of its solid wastes and pulp mill liquors on the roads rather than in the river.

Others getting praises were Allied Paper Mills' Monarch Division, St. Regis Paper Co., Rex Paper Co., National Gypsum Co., Mill No. 2 of Kalamazoo Paper, and Divisions 4 and 7 of Sutherland Paper, the KVP Plant at Parchment, Michigan Paper Co. at Plainwell and Mac Sim Bar Co. at Otsego.

The survey and the compliments to the industries ended a typical cycle—with the commission directing an operation aimed at keeping the streams and lakes for resorters and sportsmen.

Industries have been hailed before the commission, some of them taken into court, for polluting the streams with wastes. The result has been a new program of industrial waste development.

After it is all over, the commission will keep a continuing check on the streams and lakes—a part of government not often understood.

MICHIGAN IS STARTING a program of education in the school system based on the principal that the younger generation must know about alcohol for its own and society's sake.

The state Board of Alcoholism isn't taking sides in the matter. Its director, Ralph W. Daniel explains it this way:

"People have a perfect right to believe that drinking is bad. Others think differently. We just want to give young people the facts to go with what they learn at home."

He stressed that the home is where youngsters must get their first information about alcohol, and that the schools can help by teaching the economic, social and physical aspects.

Conferring both with state temperance leaders and educators, the Board of Alcoholism in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction, will sponsor a series of courses in elementary and high schools next year based on these points:

1. Alcohol education has the same aim as all other educations: to develop wholesome personal-ties by promoting habits and attitudes that will be conducive to happy and healthful living.

"The boys and girls of Michigan are entitled to know about the economic, sociological and physiological effects of the use of alcoholic beverages," Daniel said.

2. Teacher training institutions should consider alcohol education in the preparation and training of teachers.

3. The major responsibility for alcohol education lies with the classroom teachers. They could be aided by outside organizations, and state consultants.

4. The community, the school and the students should be included in making alcohol education part of the curriculum.

5. Methods used in teaching about alcohol should be appropriate to the philosophy of the teacher and to the grade level of the student.

DRAFT-AGE STUDENTS in college will have a harder time staying in school for graduate work after January 1, 1955.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said the new college-deferment standards ordered by President Eisenhower will affect a large number in Michigan.

"It's going to hit a lot of them hard, but we don't know yet exactly how many," he said.

Now a student, to qualify for educational deferment, must be in the upper half of his class or score 70 on a special examination.

After January 1, he will be required to be in the upper one-third of his class or score 75 on the tests. Hardest hit will be the big graduate school classes at University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

Beginning January 1955 persons receiving social security payments may earn $1200.00 a year without stopping any of their social security checks.

Farmers will be under the social security law beginning January 1, 1955 if they have annual net earnings of $400 or more.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES INVESTORS vs. SPECULATORS

Babson Park, Massachusetts. I have always encouraged the safe investment of money through buying stocks in well-known, standard, dividend-paying companies, plus diversification amongst a large number of companies. That is why I have favored the Investment Trusts and Mutual Funds for those with only a little money. These should give safety and security.

The nation as a whole, however, may get top-heavy with "safe investments." Too many people cannot live on the dividends of old-established corporations. Some people must be willing to take some risks by putting some money into new enterprises.

WHO BUILT AMERICAN INDUSTRIES?

During the past few weeks I have been studying the industrial history of New England. Conservative "investors" did not build the cotton factories, the cotton mills, the paper mills, the woolen plants of New England. These were built by men willing to take risks. The sailing ships which set forth from Boston, Portsmouth, Gloucester, Salem, and New Bedford to all parts of the world—without charts or steam—and even before the days of lighthouses—were built by "speculators," not by "investors."

The Securities and Exchange Commission has done a good thing for conservative investors and the big, established companies; but whether the Commission has done well for the nation as a whole is debatable. America today needs more speculators.

PIONEERING ENCOURAGED

It is said that the Democrats inaugurated most of the new tax law changes to help the sick and aged. The Republicans, however, are responsible for the features of the 1954 Tax Law which encourage invention, industry, and young concerns. During the Roosevelt Administration, business was treated with a certain disdain. The New Deal politicians and professors, who had had no experience with business, wrote the laws.

Such legislation has helped the unfortunate who were unable to work, but it has discouraged the formation of new companies to provide future employment. It has been very difficult for young men to get the capital or to save enough from earnings to start a new business. It has been like trying to run a church without a Sunday School—or have a family without raising children. The new 1954 Tax Law makes it easier for any young man of good character to start a new business. It also encourages older investors to take some risks by starting new enterprises, prospecting for uranium and other rare metals, and providing future employment for the next generation.

WHAT UTOPIA MEANS TO ME

Mrs. Babson and I have founded three successful colleges—Boston Institute for men at Babson Park, Mass., Webber College for women at Babson Park, Florida, and a third college in the center of the United States, at Eureka, Kansas. This third school is intended to help worthy young people with vision do new things which their parents or friends may think impossible.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"This is the season when new cars make their appearance. If you are shopping for a new car, what feature do you consider is the most important?"

JOHN ARRINGTON, 1287 South Main: "I look at the body lines of the car first. Appearance ranks first with me. When you spend a lot of money for a car you might as well get one that looks the way you want it to. Of course I also consider the motor, the amount of room inside and upholstery.

DON PRINCE, 9445 Brookline: "I look at the motor first. I want to make sure that it is accessible since I make all of my own repairs. Economy in operation and the gasoline mileage are also important. As far as body goes, that's not too important to me. Most cars today are styled nicely."

ROY McINTOSH, 303 Elizabeth: "The car's body is what counts with me. I would certainly like a car that looks good first, but I would also consider some other features."

WILLIAM H. PACKER, 99921 Shadyside, Livonia: "Body lines and a nice metal job are what I like. Many cars don't have a good finish but I think they're improving them each year. I used to be in body work for Kaiser-Fraiser. I think that most people today like a nice appearing car. That's the biggest selling point."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Taking a sampling of the oven-fresh bread she's just made is 12-year-old Irene Wick of 745 Karmada. The daughter of Mrs. Doris Wick, Irene's been baking since she was eight years old.

Try Baking Own Bread

This week's recipe comes from Irene Wick of 745 Karmada, a little miss of 12. Her mother, Mrs. Doris Wick, tells us that when Irene's not attending the Lutheran Day school she likes to try her hand at baking. Here she's given us her favorite bread recipe, "Grandma Banta's bread."

Grandma Banta's Bread
1 pint of lukewarm milk
½ cup of lard
1 tablespoon of salt
¼ cup of sugar
6-7 cups all-purpose flour
2 yeast cakes

Have lard at room temperature. Mix milk, lard, salt and sugar. Then add two yeast cakes, let stand five minutes. Add flour, one cup at a time, and mix with spoon. When firm enough to knead (dough won't stick to board or your hands), put on floured board and knead enough flour until when you press it with your finger it won't leave a dent.

Let dough rise until double in size. Punch down, then place in bread tins and let rise again. Bake one hour in preheated oven at 375 degrees.

Busy Student Artists Paint Local Windows

Paint brushes in the hands of 100 high school students last Wednesday transformed Plymouth shop windows into a colorful display of Halloween scenes. Dividing into 16 groups the young artists managed to get around to 68 of the stores, painting as they went.

Prior to the annual event, the students, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Overton, high school art teacher, had sketched plans for the Halloween displays. Judging as to the winners of the annual window display contest fell to Mrs. Robert Wesley, Mrs. Earl Becker and Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, who confessed they had a hard time making their decision.

In the Most Gruesome category, group 5 took first place for its Stop & Shop display. Members were: Sara Wesley, chairman; Nancy Kelly, Sue Heyder, Kaye Meyers, Melvin Stephenson, Tony Monte and Bob Paulsen. Second prize in this category went to Al's Heating and third, to Huston's.

First place in Most Comic was awarded the display at Blunk's by group 11. Painters were: Art Losse, chairman; Linda Law, Ethel Hartig, Virginia Shirley, Don Russell and Tom Carmichael. Penniman Market took second prize and Kresge's, third.

Best as far as Halloween Atmosphere was Peterson's, done by members of group 4. Sue Goddard was chairman, assisted by Ruth Ann Henry, Elizabeth Sarah, Nancy Gothard, and Bob Danol. West Bros., Forest avenue, took second prize for atmosphere and Linda Lee third.

First prize for best design went to group 12 for its Federal Savings display. Heading up group 12 was Judy Laury assisted by Madeleine Jones, Sandra Burns, Lois Packard, Janice Howitz and Gary Wilson.

Kroger's took first place for originality with display done by members of group 7. They were: Betty Weberlein, chairman; Ann Trudell, Ken Ray, Peggy Muse, Marlene Allington and Gerald Tobey.

Honorable mention for design went to Kade's and Caplin's; for most gruesome, A & P; originality, Al's Heating and Novi Auto; Fischer's for atmosphere; and Barney's, most comic.

Following decision by the judges, ribbons for first, second and third prizes were awarded by the Business and Professional Women's club. Names of participating artists were then noted on placards and set up in the various store windows.

Costumed Kiddies Parade, Party At Local Schools

Over 2,000 kiddies got decked out in costume last Wednesday for the Halloween parades and parties at the various Plymouth schools. Besides those enrolled in the Plymouth schools, kid brothers and sisters of pre-school age also turned up for the celebrations. The festivities were all part of a community-wide plan of the Recreation department to show the kiddies a good time during the annual event.

One hundred band members split up into groups to lead parades at Starkweather, Allen Bird, Smith, Bartlett and Hough schools. No parades were scheduled at Our Lady of Good Counsel of Lutheran Day schools. Treats for the kiddies parties at all the schools, including the Catholic and Lutheran schools, were supplied by the Women's club. Most parties took place on Wednesday following parades with the exception of those at the Catholic and Lutheran schools which were held Friday.

Kiddies in the public schools had double reason to celebrate the Wednesday parties. Besides Halloween coming up, they had two days of vacation through school in prospect. Teachers were on their way to the Michigan Education Association meeting in Detroit and announced school doors would be closed Thursday and Friday of last week.

There are 80 per cent more high school graduates today than there were in 1940.

Announce Film Program For Next Wednesday

Four films are scheduled for the adult program on Wednesday, November 10, according to the Dunning library. Starting at 7 p.m., viewers will see "Scandinavia," "Speech: Conversation," "Speech: Stage Fright" and "Man without a Country."

"Scandinavia" covers the countries of Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Important do's and don'ts of social and business conversation are reviewed in the film on "Speech: Stage Fright" tells how to overcome this obstacle, and "Man without a Country" is the dramatization of Edward Hale's story of Philip Nolan.

AAUW Passes Resolution to Support Conlin Plan

At its latest monthly meeting, the American Association of University Women passed a resolution endorsing the support of the Conlin Plan which was announced by the Michigan State Division of the AAUW.

The AAUW is keenly interested in improving the administration of our schools. Although the Conlin Plan does not fully correct the bad features of the present situation, the AAUW feels that proposal does offer a desirable revision of the tax appropriation to the school districts.

Under the present provisions of the Constitution, the legislature must appropriate an amount which is equal to 44.77% of the entire sales tax collected during the previous year. As the legislature meets in January and appropriates for the fiscal year beginning the next July 1, the effect of this provision is to make the legislature appropriate on the basis of collections two years previous. As it is easy to imagine the possibilities of a legislature appropriating in a recession year on the financial basis of an inflation year, or vice versa, this measure has been called the "time bomb."

Under the Conlin Plan, 2c of the 3c sales tax would be set aside in a fund separate and distinct from the state general fund to be used exclusively for school aid and retirement purposes. From this fund the legislature would appropriate by law to the school districts and for their retirement funds. This proposal would put such appropriations on a current basis, and guarantee a fund to be used exclusively for school purposes.

Under the Constitution as it now stands, the legislature must appropriate from the general fund for retirement. This amendment would increase the percentage of sales tax money going into the school fund and would provide that the retirements be paid from this fund, making the matter of retirement money independent of the general fund.

The Conlin Plan does not provide for additional funds for the school district, but that the funds be appropriated under a more reasonable system.

Garden Club to Hold Flower Show

Before next Wednesday, November 8, members of the Plymouth branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will be busy getting floral displays and arrangements ready for their Flower Show. Starting at 1 p.m. that day, members will assemble with their exhibits in the home of Mrs. Roy Leemon, 10490 West Ann Arbor road, and the show will officially get under way.

All displays will be numbered as they come in, and members will be able to enter in many arrangements as they wish. Judging of the exhibit will be by the members and winners will be determined by popular choice.

Miss Clara Snow from Dearborn will be on hand to give pointers on arranging flowers for exhibition. She will also advise members as to what experts look for in floral displays, using the winning exhibitions as illustrations. Prizes and distinction awards will then be awarded the top displays.

Tea chairman for the November meeting is Mrs. Frank Dunn. Assisting her will be Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Clarence Elliott, Mrs. Clifford Fishbeck, Mrs. Ralph Garber, Mrs. William Hartman, Mrs. John Henderson and Mrs. Russell Isbister.

Madonna Alumnae Sponsor Fall Dance

The Alumnae Association of Madonna college is sponsoring the Autumn Frolic Dance in the Rainbow Room, Veterans' Memorial Building, November 6. Music will be provided by the Jack Reed orchestra.

Proceeds from the dance will be given to the building fund of the future S. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

Mary Ann Czerniakowski is chairman of the dance committee. Members working on her committee are Therese Szalawicz, Sally Kocool, Gertrude Bonk and Pat Maciejewski.

Cites Trends in Fashion

The basic red dress came into vogue three years ago. It has become almost as firmly established as a fall and winter "must" as the "little black dress" or basic black suit.

At first the red dress was designed for younger women only. However, this is far from the case today. Designers realize that a soft glowing red does wonders for the mature silver or gray-haired lady. This is true today because modern woman past forty quite often have a slender figure and a pleasing youthful face.

A large department store recently held a fashion showing at which the highlight was twelve lovely, gray-haired ladies dressed in cocktail dresses of various shades of red. The effect was dramatic and proved beyond a shadow of doubt that red is flattering to women of almost any age.

Rope beads are being seen everywhere this fall. Gold and silver chains strung with an occasional colored bead seem to be the most popular new costume jewelry piece. These beads are versatile and need not be expensive to be attractive. They are being worn with anything from evening gowns to tweed suits.

There seems to be some elemental desire in women to ornament themselves. With this in mind don't overdo the amount of jewelry you wear this season. Remember, it takes a large woman to wear, becomingly, large pieces of jewelry.

The "pleated" look is being featured by many designers of both ready-made clothes and pattern designers. Unpressed pleats in small groupings look good on a slender figure. Flat box pleats are better for the full figure. Pleats, paired with tuck and accordion pleats are lovely in the soft wool jersey.

Much attention is being given to making eyeglasses as attractive and flattering as possible. If you wear glasses you will be interested in the new design that have clip-on frame covers in colors to go with your different outfits.

A soft smooth hairdo and rather simple hats are best worn with glasses.

Take Advantage Of Lowest Egg Price in Years

Scrambled, fried, soft cooked or whipped into a fluffy angel food cake, eggs satisfy our appetites, our bodies, and our pocketbooks

The United States Department of Agriculture gives you a look at egg prices now and in the coming months. To take advantage of the price of eggs, which is at the lowest level in years, here are some tips on how to get the most for your money. In early fall small eggs, weighing about 18 ounces to the dozen, are usually abundant and very low in price. Later the medium size eggs will be cheapest per pound, and by winter the large eggs may be the best value.

When at your grocers, be sure you read the labels on the eggs cartons. They will usually tell you the quality, the size, the date of grading and of course, the price. The letters, "AA," "A," "B" or "C," tell the quality with "A" being the highest. The words "Extra Large," "Large," "Medium" and "Small" indicate the size. The size is determined by the weight of a dozen eggs. For example, Grade A Extra Large eggs must weigh at least 27 ounces per dozen.

You may see a date like this, "Feb. 17," or like this, "48", on the carton of eggs. This tells the day the eggs were graded. Here the "48" represents the day of the year.

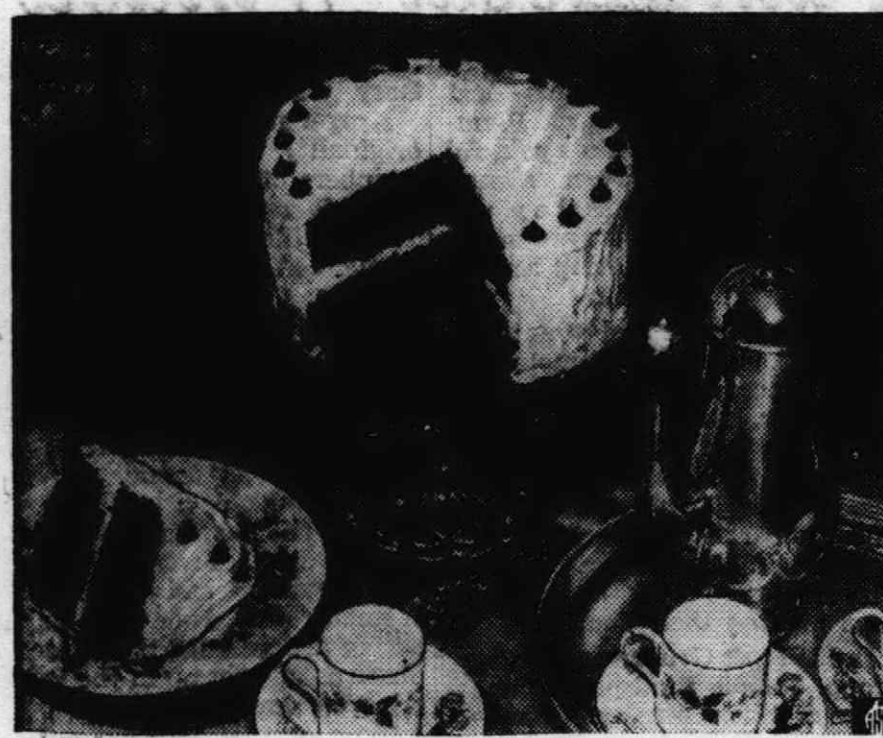

With eggs at rock bottom lows, you are buying a lot of health when you use them in your baking and in omelets and salads or just for snacks. The Poultry and Egg National Board points out they are full of Vitamin A, calcium, iron, and phosphorus.

Apricot Angel Mold

- APRICOT ANGEL MOLD
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup cold milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 cups milk, scalded
- 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 cups whipping cream, whipped
- 2 cups canned, drained, mashed apricots
- 1 angel food cake

Soften gelatine in cold milk. Add sugar to scalded milk. Stir a little of hot mixture into egg yolks. Add to scalded milk. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add salt, vanilla, and softened gelatine. Blend thoroughly. Cool. Fold in whipped cream and apricots. Break angel food cake into small pieces. Arrange in 9- by 13-inch pan. Pour apricot mixture over cake. Chill. Cut in squares. Makes 12 servings.

The Newest News in Baking Is Light Chocolate Cake

Everybody has a recipe for dark chocolate cake. But Light Chocolate Cake? That's different. It's so new and delicious, you'll want the recipe so you can be the first to have it in your neighborhood.

Light Chocolate Cake has the flavor that America favors in chocolate, the flavor of semi-sweet chocolate. To make Light Chocolate Cake, use the very same morsels of semi-sweet chocolate that make America's favorite Chocolate Crunch Cookies, and capture the same delicious flavor in melted form. Use semi-sweet chocolate morsels, whole to make that attractive beading round the edge of the white frosting.

A cake that plans for things, it requires 2 egg yolks and 1 whole egg for the batter, thus leaving 2 egg whites to make the Seven Minute Frosting. The texture of this cake is just as light as the newer chocolate flavor. You'll be a better cook with the help of this tested recipe for the newest thing in baking.

- Light Chocolate Cake
- 1 package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 whole egg
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot, not boiling water. Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add egg yolks and whole eggs one at a time, beating well. Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt. Add alternately to creamed mixture with milk. Stir in melted morsels. Turn into 2 8-inch greased pans, 2 inches deep. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 35 minutes. Cool. Frost with Seven Minute or Boiled Frosting; garnish with additional semi-sweet chocolate morsels.

YIELD: 1 8-inch cake.

Give Tips On School Lunches

Packing school lunches again becomes a part of the daily schedule in many homes. Here's a point that every lunch box preparer should keep in mind at all times—the school child's lunch should be a part of a well-planned daily diet, not simply a snack to satisfy hunger.

A generous part of the daily allowance of meat, milk, vegetables, and fruit should go into the lunch box. Meat in the sandwiches, milk in a vacuum bottle, vegetables in raw form such as celery and carrot strips, radishes, etc., and fruit serving as dessert.

Of course, sandwiches are the main item in practically every lunch box. Remember that several thin sandwiches are likely to be more appetizing than one thick one. Also, rather than one thick slice of meat, cut several thin, even slices of roast beef, pork, veal or lamb.

Making sandwiches that are different is the constant search of many mothers. One easy way is to consider the different meats that go with different breads. Here are a few examples. Crisp bacon is good with peanut butter and, for a change, is temptingly used between two slices of Boston brown bread. Corned beef is excellent on rye; canned smoked tongue or liver sausage on whole wheat; canned luncheon loaf on raisin; beef on pumpernickel; a chipped beef, cream cheese and chutney mixture on a bun.

When you are shopping for a suit or coat of good quality, examine pocket corners, ends of buttonholes — especially bound ones — and other places likely to get much wear or strain.

Says Broiling Method Puzzles Homemakers

Broiling is the meat cookery method that appears to puzzle homemakers. This fact was revealed by a recent survey among thousands of homemakers in various sections of the country. In answer to the survey question, "Which meat cookery method do you find the most difficult?", 60 per cent listed broiling.

A well known meat expert points out that actually broiling is one of the simplest of all meat cookery methods. For finest results just keep these two points in mind. (1) Use a moderate broiling temperature. (2) Time broiling closely—to the exact minute.

To obtain a moderate broiling temperature, arrange the steak, chops, patties, or ham slice on the broiler rack so that the top surface of the meat is 2 inches from the heat if meat is 1-inch thick; 3 inches, if 2 inches thick. Let the meat cook until well browned—approximately half the allotted cooking time for the meat cut—then season. With tongs or the tines of a utility fork inserted in the fat, turn the meat and cook on the second side. Season and serve immediately. If necessary have your family and guests at the dinner table waiting for the meat to be served.

Here is the time-table for broiling meat cuts.

What's new with Chevrolet?

everything!

Wonderful new Glide-Ride Front Suspension

New spherical joints flex freely to cushion all road shocks. You glide over the bumps! New Anti-Dive Braking Control, exclusive with Chevrolet, assures "heads up" stops.

Easier steering, stopping, clutching

The new Chevrolet steers with ball-bearing ease, thanks to new friction-cutting Ball-Race Steering. New Swing-Type Brake and Clutch Pedals pivot at the top, swing downward with a light pressure of your toe.

Great new V8—two new 6's

New "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers 162 h.p. with an ultra-high compression ratio of 8 to 1. Two new 6's, too—the new "Blue-Flame 136" with Powerglide (optional at extra cost) and the new "Blue-Flame 123."

And look what you see from the driver's seat

New Sweep-Sight Windshield curves around to vertical corner pillars, giving you a wide, full view of the road ahead. And you can see all four fenders from the driver's seat!

New Outrigger Rear Springs

Rear springs are longer—and they're attached at the outside of the frame. This means they're spaced wider apart, outrigger-fashion, to give you greater stability in cornering.

A ventilating system that really works

Chevrolet's new High-Level Ventilating System takes in air at hood-high level, away from road heat, fumes and dust.

Three drives, including Overdrive

Powerglide—with the new V8 or the new "Blue-Flame 136." New Overdrive with the new V8 or the new "Blue-Flame 123." (Powerglide and Overdrive are extra-cost options.) New standard transmission, too!

Even Air Conditioning, if you wish

Air is heated or cooled by a single highly efficient unit that requires no trunk space! (V8 models only.) It's just one of the wonderful extra-cost options Chevrolet offers!

Tubeless tires as standard equipment

You get this great tire advance at no extra cost! Proved tubeless tires give you greater protection against a blowout... deflate more slowly when punctured.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD

A NOVEL DO-IT-YOURSELF PROJECT is shown being completed by Grayson Jones of 1424 W. Ann Arbor Trail. The first in a series of lawn decorating schemes being planned by Jones, this used brick walk is being laid between the road and the sidewalk. A project of this sort is both decorative and inexpensive for the homeowner to utilize in adding to the charm of landscaping.

The state of Iowa, called "the largest cornfield on earth," grows better than half a billion bushels in an average year, one-sixth of the entire United States crop.

Red Cedar Lining Gives Old Closet Fresh New Charm

Here's an engaging little home improvement project for fall or winter which the dyed-in-the-wool workshop fan or the weekend putterer will find highly gratifying: transform one of those old, dingy closets into a handsome cedar storage.

Such a project, providing moth-repellent storage for seasonal clothing and household wools, is almost certain to make a big hit with the lady of the house.

Homemakers always have appreciated cedar closets not only for their utility but for their beauty and fragrance. Another consideration favoring the project is that an attractive cedar closet enhances the value of a home.

The job is relatively simple, for aromatic red cedar closet lining can be nailed to framing members, directly over old plaster or wallboard surfaces. Apply the lining to the floor and door, as well as to the walls and ceiling.

The cedar is available at lumber yards in a choice of several widths from 2 to 4 inches and in lengths up to 8 feet. It is packaged in bundles, each of which contains enough pieces to cover at least 30 square feet. Every strip is tongued and grooved for snug, easy joining.

Before applying the cedar, remove all braces and hooks from the walls. Locate the position of studs and joists by use of a stud finder, by tapping or by punching small holes in the surfaces. Chances are you'll find the framing is spaced 16 inches from center to center.

Beginning at the bottom of a wall, apply the lining horizontally. Fasten each piece at every bearing point with a four-penny nail. Drive each nail slightly below the surface of the wood with a nail set. It is not necessary to make end joints occur over bearing points.

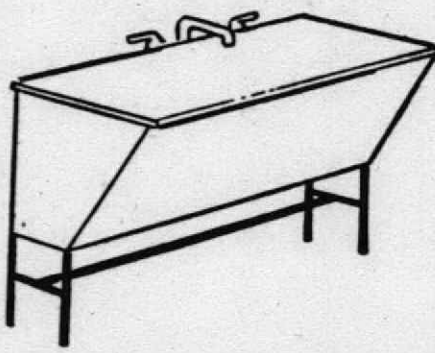

Corner molding of cedar is available, but its use is optional. If omitted, measure strip lengths carefully to assure tight fitting at inside corners. At outside corners the pieces can be sawed off evenly after application. Don't bother mitering the outside corners unless you're a super perfectionist. The easy workability of cedar permits smooth sanding of the edges.

To make the closet more airtight, it may be advisable to weatherstrip the door.

Fixin' - Up Tips

LAUNDRY TUB TABLE

Table top space is at a premium in every home. This is particularly true of the basement or utility room, yet a table foundation is ready for a top in practically every home.

The stationary laundry tubs may be given a removable top which will serve as a laundry sorting center, work or recreation space or temporary storage for just-ironed garments.

Simply take a piece of Masonite Tempered Presdwood cut to fit over the tubs—and there's the table. It may be removed instantly by the user. Tempered Presdwood is available at lumber yards. It is smooth and splinter-free—ideal for work, recreation or storage.

This versatile material may be cut readily with a cross-cut saw. Before putting it into service as a top over the tubs, round the corners slightly and bevel the edges lightly with a file. Then give it a coat of penetrating sealer. Prime and paint it instead, for a touch of color in the room.

Several Ways Suggested To Reduce Cost of Home Maintenance And Repair

Families who buy a new home for the first time seem to make a common oversight in their budgeting.

They carefully allow for insurance, taxes, utilities, interest and mortgage payments. But they completely forget about maintenance cost.

Many families assume that there is no maintenance cost to a new home. They forget that the day they begin to use the house, it starts to get older. As it gets older, there'll be plumbing to be fixed, walls to be repainted, floors to be re-sanded, plaster and mortar to be repaired.

In the years since the beginning of World War II, maintenance costs were more than offset by an increase in the value of the home. But now that the price of housing has become stabilized in most areas, the home owner can expect his property to depreciate at a normal rate. So he can't depend on appreciation in value to offset maintenance cost.

How much should be set aside to cover maintenance? The amount varies according to the type of home and the living habits of the family. But most experts agree that three to four per cent of the cost of the home is a good average figure to allow for maintenance.

Of course you can reduce the amount of money on maintenance. For example, you can finish the outside walls with a material like insulating siding. It comes with a factory-embossed finish that is good for the life of the material. So you save the cost of repainting the walls every two or three years.

Comparable materials are available for finishing interior walls. They have hard finishes, again factory made, that will go a lifetime without further decorating.

Careful use and regular maintenance of plumbing can also head off major maintenance expenses for this critical part of the home. Traps should be cleaned regularly. Chemical cleaners should be put into the drains periodically. No grease or solid matter should be dumped into the system. Leaking faucets should be repaired before seating surfaces become permanently damaged and the seat must be reground or the faucet replaced.

Maintenance expense is part of owning a home. But its size depends largely on you. A little care and foresightedness can keep that expense from becoming a financial burden.

Have you seen those new Trapp jalousie doors over at Roberts Supply company on South Mill? Available in either aluminum or unfinished wood, these doors with glass louvered panel offer a complete screen and storm door all in one.

Some will prefer the trim appearance of the aluminum and others will like the idea of painting or staining them to blend with the prevailing color scheme in their homes. Either type, though, is easy to install. The storm panel and screen can be easily put in or removed from the inside, making for easy cleaning of the louvers, too.

The louvers will give you maximum ventilation in summer and more light in your home on those dark winter days. You can get them in either the clear glass or, if you want more privacy, obscure glass. Operated by means of a crank at the base of the door panel, you can open or close the louvers to various angles by a mere twist of your hand.

Among the many items at Roberts for the do-it-yourselfers were the new aluminum folding stairway and aluminum step ladder. That folding stairway is a real space saver and enables the home owner to make full use of the attic area which was previously inaccessible.

Aluminum step ladders, previously almost out of range in price for the average consumer, are now available at a much lower cost. Light in weight, the ladders are mighty easy to tote around, and come in handy for those chores around the house. Especially in the fall when the screens have to come down and storm windows put up.

They'll stand by you, too, right through the winter when it comes to those do-it-yourself projects—such as putting in ceiling tile or painting ceilings, hanging wallpaper, etc. They're trim and good-looking, too, and will keep their neat and clean appearance throughout their use. And you won't have to worry about splinters, either!

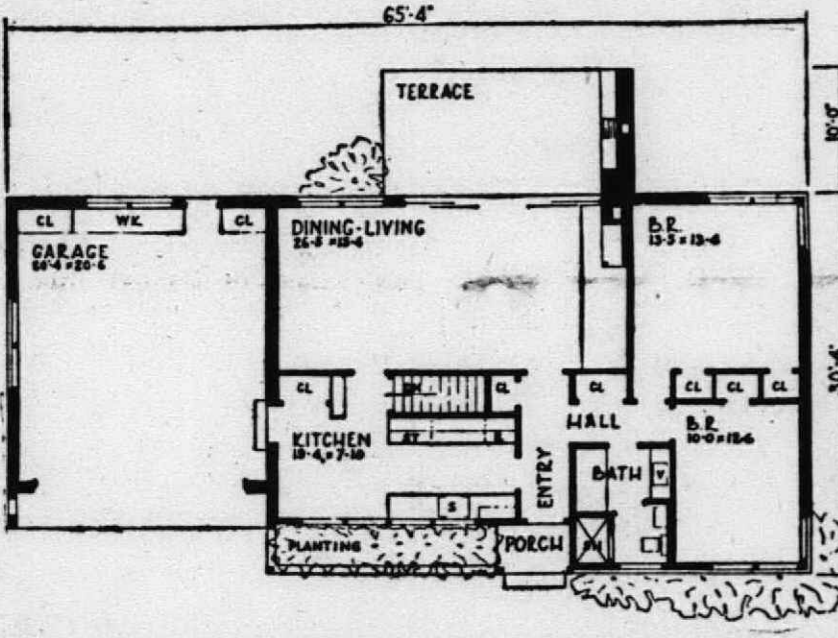

People continue to tell us they are surprised by results of advertising in the Plymouth Mail.

FOR OUTDOOR LIVING

This charming ranch-style house is perfectly suited to a family of three or four because of its two large sleeping areas. Excellent circulation has been planned throughout this design, a feature too often sacrificed in this day of minimizing on room dimensions. The center entry leads easily to kitchen, living and bedrooms. To the rear of the house is the spacious living-dining combination with corner fireplace. Highlighting this area are the sliding glass doors that open to the terrace for outdoor living. Plans call for a full basement and attached two-car garage. For complete plans, send $8.75 and design number to Hom-Ograf Co., 11711 E. Eight Mile Rd., E. Detroit, Mich.

'Sitting On A Curve'

The curved sectional sofa continues to grow in popularity. Notice the unique arrangement in the setting shown. Here the curved sectional sofa adds more seating units to a fireplace arrangement without sacrificing the attractiveness of the setting.

Another great advantage to the curved sectional sofa is its practicality when used in front of a corner window arrangement. You don't obstruct the view.

The pieces shown are part of an entire grouping of coordinated upholstered and occasional case pieces.

This furniture is not expensive. Here is an excellent example of furnishing a room in good taste on a modest budget.

To Help Spread Garden Toil, Try Planting Over Two Seasons

There are two kinds of planting—one which must be done now, or not at all and an optional kind, which may be done this fall or next spring.

Among the "musts" are planting spring flowering bulbs, peonies, iris, madonna lilies, the seeds of some perennial flowers and that of the annual larkspur.

"Mays" include evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs, roses, the seeds of most perennial and quite a few annual flowers and vegetables, and lawn seed.

Garden owners who like to do things the easy way will spread their planting over two seasons, instead of waiting to crowd it all into a hectic spring.

In the fall there is no "spring fever," rather there may be la-

In the vegetable garden, perennial onions must be planted in the fall, to bear green onions next spring, before onion sets could be planted. Rhubarb and asparagus roots may be planted now with good results. Spinach and other hardy greens can be sown, for every earliest harvest next spring.

For the asparagus bed, roots should be obtained and placed in a location which need not be disturbed during the life of the garden, since a good asparagus bed will last several decades. Deep, rich soil is required and the plants should be given ample room, with three feet each way between hills.

Rhubarb is another long lived plant. Six plants will suffice for the average family and they should be placed where they will not be disturbed, perhaps near the asparagus in a garden screen or border.

The hardest winter onion is the red perennial, sometimes called the Egyptian. This is one of the onions which instead of bearing seeds, produces at the top of the seed stalk a bunch of onion sets. These sets should be obtained and planted this fall, a foot apart in the row, in rows two feet apart; though few families will need more than one row.

This onion never produces a round bulb, but in the spring as soon as the ground thaws, it begins to grow stalks like green onions. Part of each clump may be pulled up and used, and with this annual thinning, and ordinary cultivation, the plants will live indefinitely. The flavor of the stalks is mild in the early spring, but becomes stronger later.

Where winters are mild, some of the potato or multiplier onions may be planted in the fall and they will produce clumps of green stalks in the early spring. These must be set out each year as the entire plant is harvested. In the colder states these onions will not survive without a heavy mulch, and in some winters even this will not protect them.

Beginning January 1, 1955 if you are 72 years of age or older, you may accept your social security checks regardless of the amount you may be earning.

Social Security Adds Employees; Jobs Open Up Here, Other Areas

Extension of Social Security coverage to 10,000,000 more persons nationwide on January 1, will result in the need for a sizeable increase in the local agency staff, Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest district office, bureau of old age and survivors insurance, announced today. Currently employing 580 people in field offices in Ohio and Michigan, the agency aims at expanding its staff to 780 within nine months.

With additional employees needed to assure prompt and accurate payments, Baltuck is presently recruiting assistants for his office as well as for the 20 social security offices in the state.

The search for qualified claims representative trainees is being carried on under civil service rules.

Starting salary for the trainee positions is $3410 a year. Employees who show aptitude may be promoted to $4205 jobs within nine months and can expect further promotions consistent with personal abilities. Managers and supervisors of field offices generally earn from $5940 to $8360 a year, depending on individual responsibilities. Persons appointed will receive three weeks training in the agency's headquarters office in Baltimore. On the job they will advise claimants and employers on social security provisions and will determine payments to be made.

To be eligible for appointment, an applicant must be a college graduate with 4 semester hours in required subjects, or lacking college preparation, he may qualify on the basis of four years of experience in interviewing, claims determinations or investigative work or a combination of college training and work experience. Applications will be accepted from college students who will complete qualification requirements within six months of filing.

A written test on general abilities will be given all candidates. No technical subject matter questions will be asked. Arrangements for taking the examination can be made through any social security office or civil service point at local post offices.

Applicants who are non-veterans must apply before their 35th birthday to be eligible for appointment. The age limitation does not apply to veterans. In addition, veterans will have five to ten points added to passing test grades, according to preference rights.

Application forms and information can be obtained in Detroit by visiting or calling the manager of any of the five local offices. Information may also be obtained from the civil service information staff at the local Post Office.

Wayne Library Offers New Films To Local Groups

The Audio-Visual Center of the Wayne County Library has announced several new additions to the 550 educational films available to Wayne county clubs, schools and other organizations.

New films just received are: "Mozart and His Music," "Beethoven and His Music," and "Schubert and His Music." Each of these goes into the life, background and music of the composer.

Also received were "Skiway and the Three R's," an interpretation of modern education; "School Board in Action," depicting functions of the school board; and "Freedom to Learn," stressing the need for teaching controversial issues.

Clubs, schools or organizations interested in obtaining these films may write or phone the Audio-Visual Center 27228 West Michigan avenue, Inkster; phone Logan 5-4377.

stitute. Like the plants themselves the gardeners may long for a winter of dormancy, before undertaking a new season of growth.

But for those who resist the temptation to rest, fall planting pays rich rewards. In sections where winters are cold, most garden color in the early spring comes from plants in the "must" groups, which should be planted in the fall, or not at all.

271 Convicted For Conservation Law Violations

According to the Michigan Department of Conservation, the weekly list of reported convictions for conservation law violations soared to 271 last week, highest in a year.

The list included only 14 convictions for fish-law violations; the remainder were nearly all for game-law infractions.

A number of persons were convicted on charges of transporting weapons in vehicles in an illegal manner. It is illegal at any time to transport a strung bow or a loaded shot gun or rifle in a vehicle or in a boat with a motor attached.

During open hunting seasons, however, hunters may carry empty shotguns or rifles and unstrung bows in vehicles. When seasons are closed, weapons must be broken down or encased in some manner.

Hunting seasons in Michigan this year extend from October 1 to March 1.

The conservation department's weekly list represents convictions reported to the Lansing office during that week. In some instances, the lists include reports of cases started several weeks previously; only completed cases are reported.

Annual Surveys Curb Tree Loss

Tree watching has become much more than just a pleasant pastime for nature lovers and municipalities.

Periodic checks on the condition of community trees in parks and on streets mean much in saving the nation's shade and ornamental trees from insect enemies and diseases, such as Dutch elm.

More and more municipalities are becoming aware of the need for scientifically combating tree enemies and are engaging city entomologists to curb arboreal depredations. Buffalo is one of the latest to have a scientist on its staff to help preserve its beautiful trees.

Smaller communities unable to afford a city entomologist can consult specialists as they need them at nominal cost.

Annual surveys of park and street trees will reveal extent of damage, dangerous trees, suspicious symptoms of major arboreal maladies and encroachment of dangerous insects. In most smaller cities, towns or villages, the survey can be accomplished in two or three days, and at a cost of only a few cents a tree.

Such surveys reveal suspect trees outside known areas of infection, perhaps for such rampaging ills as Dutch elm disease.

However, the best-planned community programs will not be effective without the active support of private citizens. Home owners can help by recognizing the need for sanitation, removal and burning of dead, dying and fallen wood, and spraying, watering and feeding of trees.

Recognized tree care practices will provide better health and beauty for both private and city trees.

West Bros. Tractor Sales Brings New York Trip for Joseph Wests

Joseph West of West Bros., Inc. was recently awarded a "Manhattan Holiday" in New York City as one of the winners of a statewide tractor sales contest sponsored by the International Harvester company among its dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. West joined the party of 200 couples from every state at the Hotel New Yorker, where they were the guests of International Harvester. Sight-seeing trips and social events were planned for the winners.

Among the highlights was a 35-mile, three-hour cruise on the Hudson river aboard the S. S. Peter Stuyvesant. Important sites of interest were pointed out by a well-trained lecturer. The visitors saw the Brooklyn bridge, Manhattan and Williamsburg bridges, the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Bellevue hospital, Empire State building, United Nations, Rockefeller center, Cornell Medical center and the famed homes of wealth on Sutton place.

Passing under the George Washington bridge, they sailed by Grants Tomb, apartment houses and pretentious homes on Riverside drive.

A tour of upper and lower Manhattan by bus gave the group a close-up view of the workings of the city. They saw Times Square at night, Broadway, Madison Square, Washington Square, the Little Church Around the Corner, Greenwich Village, the Bowery, Chatham Square, where they were escorted on a walking tour of picturesque Chinatown. They visited the Old Mission.

Contrasting with the Bowery and lower East Side, they saw the housing developments and U.N. headquarters. Continuing on the upper East Side they came to Beekman Hill or "Silk Stocking" district, on to Central Park, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, where they stopped and toured the edifice.

Continuing on their tour they took in St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue, later going up to Columbia university. A visit to the observation tower of the Empire State building was also made.

Then the group went to "a city within a city," Rockefeller center, also taking in the Plaza, the Music Hall, and R.C.A. Exhibition hall where they saw themselves on television.

The National Retail Farm Equipment Association convention was in progress during the week with 2000 people registered for the event. Speakers at the convention were Arthur H. "Red" Motley, president of Parade Publications, New York City; and H. V. Kaltenborn, N.B.C. radio and TV commentator.

Banquets and entertainment from radio and television filled the evening schedule. One even-

Beyer Drugs Starts 7th Boy-Girl Contest

Robert Beyer, owner of Beyer Rexall Drugs, announced that the firm's seventh annual boys' and girls' contest started this week and will continue until December 21. As in previous years, the contest is open to any boy or girl 16 years of age or under.

In order to enter, all boys' and girls' must fill out a nomination blank and return it to the store. The boy and girl with the largest number of votes will each be awarded a grand prize, a deluxe 26 inch bicycle.

In addition, 14 other valuable prizes will be awarded. Boys and girls will receive one vote for every cent spent in either of the Beyer stores by friends or relatives during the contest.

keeping in touch

FROM ST. PETERSBURG, Florida comes word from Mrs. G. A. Bakewell of the successful operation restoring 20-20 vision to husband Alfred. The former Plymouthites are looking forward to seeing their friends in Florida this winter.

NEW PRESIDENT of the freshman class at Kent State college in Ohio is Ty Caplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Caplin of Joy road. Ty was the overwhelming favorite of the class of 2000 students.

AMONG THOSE who enjoyed Wheaton (Ill.) college's home-coming last week was Miss Mildred Postiff, 9163 Lilley road. Miss Postiff was a member of the class of 1943.

MELVIN GUTHERIE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie of Newburg road, who recently completed his basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, can't seem to escape "Newburg." Born on Newburg road in Newburg, his parents report that Ft. Leonard Wood is located in Newburg, Mo.

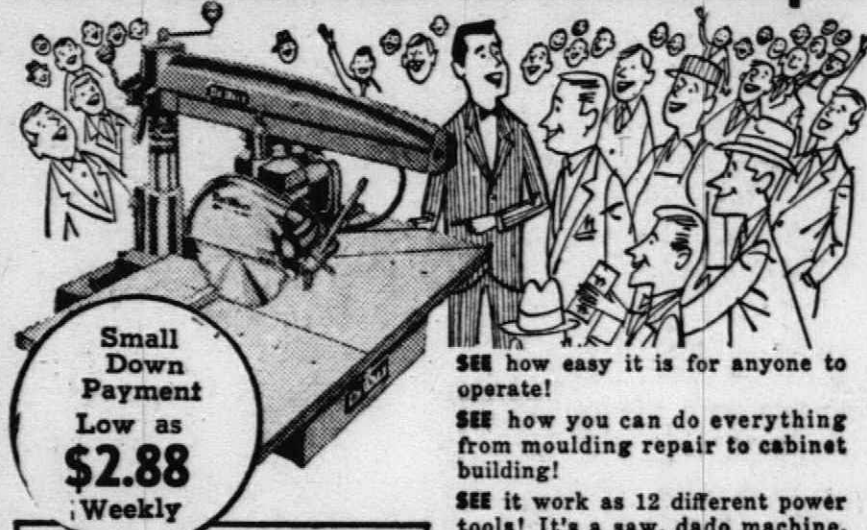

MISS SALLY CANNING, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Emerson Canning of Schoolcraft road, was one of 106 freshman nursing students of Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit to be capped last Friday.

LETTER BOX

Dear Sterling,

This is just a note to tell you that I receive the Mail every Saturday without fail and it really means a lot to know what's going on in the old home town.

After being away from Plymouth for a while one realizes just how good it is. Plymouth is right in the middle of everything. By that I mean one doesn't have to go far to find a cultural center at Ann Arbor or in the other direction a large city like Detroit. More than that though Plymouth itself offers a lot of things such as good schools, excellent business district, and most of all wonderful, wonderful people. Top it off with a good newspaper like the Mail and it has everything anyone would want.

However there is one thing that I dislike about your football contest. I haven't seen a Harvard game on the list. You list Harvard colleges like Yale and Columbia but never a good school like HARVARD. Let's get on the ball!

Just think, if you had included the HARVARD-Dartmouth game everyone would have chosen HARVARD and since they lost you wouldn't have had to give as many prizes.

Regardless of which teams you include, Sterling, just keep the Mail coming. It sure means a lot to me. Keep up the good work.

An old friend,
T. Dean Palmer

P. S. Give my regards to Carl Caplin and the boys in the print room, especially Walt and Mrs. Finney.

Dear Mr. Eaton:

Congratulations on the article in the Plymouth Mail under "Chips from the Rock" of October 21st.

Mr. Pursell and myself had the opportunity of hearing Dr. R.C.S. Young, Professor at the University of Georgia give this most outstanding address, no doubt in the same room the banquet hall at the Conrad Hilton hotel, when we attended the Office Supply Convention there a few weeks ago.

I am happy to know that Dr. Young is getting this message out to thousands of people throughout the United States. There were over 10,000 registered at the convention we attended and no doubt thousands at the National Editorial Association.

"Why I Am an American" the title of his talk should be read by everyone and I hope the people who missed it would look it up and read it.

With voting day not too far distant may I quote a paragraph from Mr. Young's address, as given by Mr. Eaton; "The opportunity to vote was another point of particular interest where in the speaker contrasts the European who votes to "get" something from his government, whereas the American votes to "give" all the powers his government exercises." "Care must be taken" said Dr. Young, "Lest we give so much away that a new generation may have to vote to get back that which a thoughtless generation of their elders gave away. Namely, their alienable right to govern themselves in matters pertaining to business and social status."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Roy Pursell

Barnum was not the only American to appreciate the fact that the people will swallow anything.

Outstate Residents Visit Michigan To View, Photograph Fall Colors

Many outstate residents have been visiting Michigan this fall to view and photograph scenic autumn colors.

They joined the thousands of resident amateur and professional byway wanderers who each fall delight in simply looking at scenery.

Woodland colors are now at a peak in many places while in other areas, foliage has either passed its prime or has not yet reached top coloration.

Parks workers point out that the next few weeks will see many rapid changes in scenic views, but that now is the time to take advantage of such coloration.

Within easy Sunday driving distance of Detroit, for example, are a number of public recreation

South American Program Set for Fortnighters

In an effort to attract those couples of the church who are not interested in square-dancing but who are interested in good food and an evening of fellowship the Fortnighters of the Presbyterian Church decided to vary their program for November 12

by engaging Donald Thompson of the Thompson School of the Dance in Ann Arbor to demonstrate and lead them in Latin American dances. The dancing will start at 8 p.m.

The 6:30 supper preceding the dancing will feature South American dishes, such as arroz con pollo (chicken with rice), tamales, and frijoles, (beans), with some American dishes. Recipes for the South American dishes are to be found in the New World Wide Cook Book in the Dunning Library. The committee for the November 12th dance will be Arch and Johanna Vallier and Jackie and Dave Johnson.

As their group contribution to the Building Fund Campaign the Fortnighters are planning a semi-formal dinner dance tentatively scheduled for February 11 or 12th. For information about Fortnighters call Sam or Jessie Hudson, 1086W, sponsors for this year, or Beth or Jerry Fischer, 2601, membership chairman.

areas where fall colors of oak and maple woodlands are mixed and brilliant.

In the southwest, public areas such as Allegan state forest, Yankee Springs recreation area and Barry county state game area all offer visitors many hilly vistas and a chance to feel autumn's tang.

If you have time to travel farther north try the inland areas first, parks workers say, but if color is past its prime there, then skirt the Great Lakes shores. Weather along the shores is tempered by the big lakes so color in trees is often delayed a week or more.

In the Grayling area, color often comes late and holds a long time in the many oak ridges and mixed hardwood forests.

The Leelanau Peninsula and the Lake Michigan shoreline from Traverse City north are two other areas often visited by nature enthusiasts.

North of West Branch and Oscoda are hilly areas of mixed maple and conifer that offer good views of both forests and waters.

In general, parks workers suggest sticking to streams, lakeshores and high spots for best results. They point out that one area may be quite colorless while because of local weather differences, another a short distance away is bright and varied. This may be particularly true in hilly country or near Great Lakes shorelines.

November Visit of Social Security Worker Changed

The social security representative of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office will not make the scheduled visit to Plymouth on Thursday, November 11 due to the Veterans (Armistice) Day holiday. However, the representative will be at the Plymouth Post Office on Wednesday, November 10.

All residents of the Plymouth and Northville area who have social security matters to discuss should call at the Plymouth Post Office between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon on Wednesday, November 10.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Some permits were still available early this week for Michigan's December 1, any-deer season, but they were going fast.

Out of a total of 81,000 available permits, state workers said about 2000 remained available for area D, 4000 for area B and 12,000 for area A.

Conservationists also announced that successful applicants will receive their permits sometime during the first two weeks of November — before the general November 15-30 buck season.

About 1300 persons have applied for the 1000 permits available for area C in Allegan county and a drawing will be held there.

For the other three areas, located in the northern lower peninsula, applications will be received only as long as permits are available. Should all quotas be filled before the November 1 deadline, no further applications would be honored. No drawing will be held for these three areas.

A. Dunbavin Butcher, director of fisheries and game, the state of Victoria, Australia, is currently taking a three-month view of Michigan conservation work. Butcher will be in the United States for nine months studying national conservation problems before returning "down under."

The Australian conservationist will be located at Ann Arbor, but will make extensive trips through the state.

Oil began flowing recently from another "good" well in the 10-month old Northville field.

State geologists reported the well producing a restricted flow of 14 barrels per hour and a total of 200 barrels per day.

Six wells are now producing oil in the field, two are producing gas, three are closed but capable of producing gas whenever production hurdles can be cleared and two are "testing" and expected to produce oil in the near future.

Since the discovery well was completed in January, 44 drilling permits have been issued for work in the field. Out of the total, 11 wells are now being drilled and 12 have been completed as dry holes. Work has not yet started on the remaining eight.

The field is three miles west of Northville.

"The Michigan Deer Story," the state conservation department's new 27-minute color-sound film, is proving almost too popular.

C. J. Tinker, in charge of the department's film loan section, says the 30 available copies of the film are booked up solidly to Thanksgiving.

Clubs, schools and other civic groups are asked to be patient about requests for the film.

The picture was completed this summer and shows development of the state's whitetail herd, its range and current problems.

State fisheries workers have asked for more funds to carry on their fight against the sea lamprey in the Great Lakes.

If the $30,000 being requested is provided, the work will be aimed at stopping spawning runs of the lampreys into streams emptying into the Great Lakes.

Recent heavy rains in Michigan have produced a good crop of mushrooms, free to anyone who cares to pick the tasty growths.

Managers of southern Michigan state parks report that many persons have been hunting the woodland delicacies during recent days.

The unusually heavy rains have produced some types generally found only rarely.

Four wolves were killed in the upper peninsula in September, state bounty records show.

Males were taken in Alger, Chippewa and Dickinson counties and a lone female was bountied in Luce county.

In addition, 832 coyotes, 184 bobcats and 1052 foxes were bountied. All the bobcats and all but 31 of the coyotes were bountied in the upper peninsula. Foxes were taken generally throughout the state.

A total of $20,850 in bounties was paid to trappers and hunters.
