

5,700 Tax Bills Going Out in City, Township

Fifty-seven hundred tax statements asking for payment of over $1,170,728 will be showing up in mail boxes of Plymouth and Plymouth township property owners within the next week.

Taxes in both governmental units will go up $4 per $1,000 valuation this year because of the four mill levy approved last spring for school purposes.

Treasurer Garlett said that his office will send out 3,400 tax statements this year. City tax payers will have to pay only their county and school taxes at this collection.

The county and school taxes will come to $28.03 for each $1,000 valuation. Of this, over 21 per cent goes to the county and over 78 per cent goes for school operation.

In the township, Mrs. Holmes will collect $742,876 should the collection be 100 per cent. (Tax collections usually run around 98 per cent.) The township tax rate is $30 per $1,000 valuation, higher than the city rate because it includes the township taxes as well as county and school taxes.

Both the city and township have increased their assessed valuations by $1,000,000 since a year ago. Valuation of city property now is $14,894,590.

Property owners not receiving their tax statements within the next week or two should contact their treasurer.

Resume Muscular Dystrophy Drive In City Tonight

Plymouth firemen, with the aid of Legionnaires and explorer Scouts, will continue their drive tonight for the aid of muscular dystrophy after a successful house-to-house canvass last Wednesday night which netted $611.

Lovell H. Fulton, chairman of the local drive, said that workers reached only half the homes during last week's porchlight drive so the remaining half will be visited tonight.

"Contributions last week were very gratifying," Fulton stated. "We are very grateful for the cooperation of our citizens in this campaign to stop muscular dystrophy."

Plymouth township firemen secured donations of $91 from township citizens. Because of the large area in the township, no house-to-house canvass was made but firemen visited householders who called township hall.

Last week's campaign started at 6:30 p.m. but will start a half hour earlier tonight when the siren again reminds citizens of its beginning.

Bill Stockton of Plymouth Recreation announced that during open bowling starting at 9 p.m. Friday, he will turn 20 cents from each three games over to the muscular dystrophy fund.

Business and industry will not be contacted for donations, Fulton pointed out, but those wishing to make a donation can mail it to the local fire department.

Warn Boys Taking Decoration Lights

A plea to young boys who have been taking colored light bulbs from the "maypole" Christmas decoration in Kellogg park is being made by Plymouth police and the Chamber of Commerce.

Not only is the act a mischievous offense, it can prove dangerous to other youngsters who may put their finger in the empty light sockets.

A Chamber spokesman said that it may be necessary to remove some of the lights out of the reach of the boys.

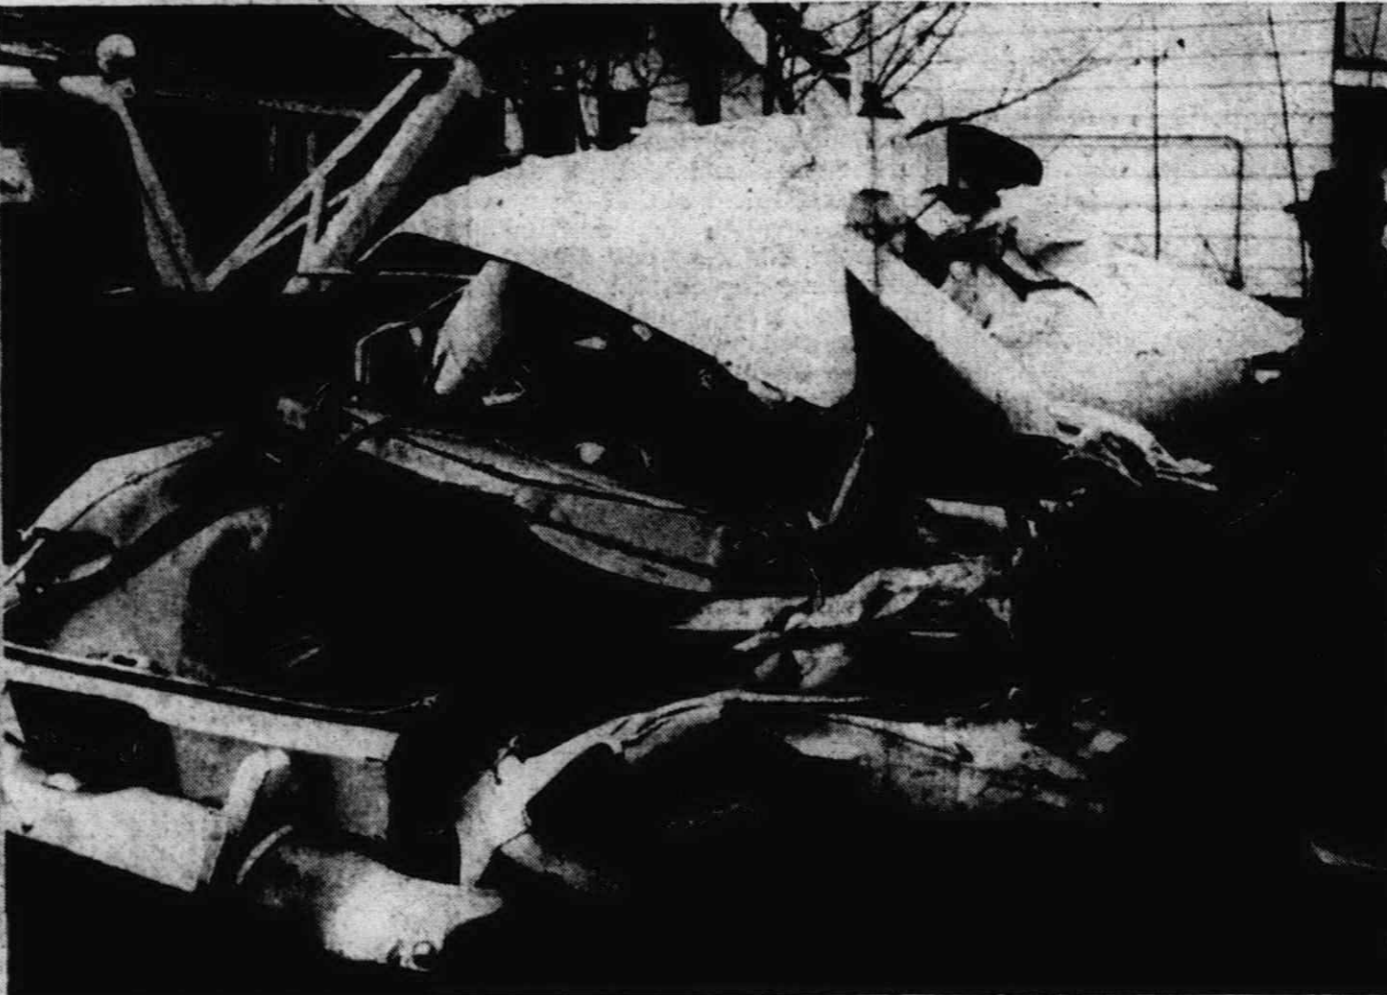

Another to Enter Commission Race

Another new name has come into the local political scene with the announcement that Kelsey Neeley, owner of Kelsey's Gulf service station, has entered the race for city commissioner.

The Neeleys live at 1258 South Harvey street. He is a member of the Plymouth Elks lodge and has lived in Plymouth the past three and a half years, coming here from Livonia.

Five men have now announced their intentions to file for the four "long-term" vacancies. A so-called short term is open to fill the unexpired term of the late Henry Fisher. It expires in 1957.

Others who have announced their intentions to file are Harry Roberts, George Witkowski and incumbents Marvin Terry and Robert Sincock. Nominating petitions must be filed before January 3.

Plymouth Makes It Once Again! Community Fund Reaches Goal

A last-minute surge of contributions pushed Plymouth's Community Fund up to the $24,500 mark last week—thus maintaining the city's reputation of never falling short of a fund goal.

Chairman George Witkowski announced this week that preliminary figures show that the goal has been reached. An audit of books within the next week or two will be able to determine the exact amount.

One of the large late contributions came from employees of the Waterford plant of the Ford Motor company. Employees donated $2,093.60 which will go to the Plymouth fund and the United Foundations.

Other large and late donations which helped the fund over the "hump" were donations of $366.50 from Whitman and Barnes employees and $100 from the Superior Furnace company.

Little hope was held that the fund would go over the top as the drive came to its official close on November 11. The campaign lagged at that time with less than half of the goal achieved. An emergency meeting was called by Lewis Goddard, president of the Community Fund board of directors, and it was voted to extend the drive until last Thursday.

Campaign Chairman Witkowski today gave much praise to campaign chairmen, their workers and the many civic, fraternal and veterans organizations which furnished time and manpower to the effort. "And of course we owe our deepest thanks to the individuals, organizations, industries and businesses which contributed to reach this goal," Witkowski added.

Here is the final list of business establishments and industries which made Community Fund contributions in addition to the three mentioned above:

Minerva's $20; All-State Supply company, $10; Herald Cleaners, $15; Cavalade Inn, $15; Plymouth Softener Service, $5; Peace Paints, $15; Gaffield Studio, $5; Papes House of Gifts, $20; Arnold Auto Sales, $5.

French's Market, $20; Walt Ash Service, $25; Joe Merritt Insurance, $10; American Legion Post 391, $25; Elks Lodge, $50; Gould Homes, $15; American Legion post, $25; Moss and Gould, $15; Herman Perlongo, $1; Ayers Fruit Farm, $10; Mom's of America, Unit 18, $12.50; and Franklin York Studios, $10.

Claus on arrangements, each youngster will be given a gift and will be permitted to tell Santa what they would like for Christmas.

City Becomes Beehive As Christmas Casts its Spell

If you've wondered about the strangely familiar buzzing of activity throughout Plymouth's business district recently, perhaps we can help you recall the season the weather seems determined to overlook.

It happens every year, at exactly this time, and is reflected in the windows, as well as the eyes, of every busy merchant. The spirit of Christmas has engulfed Plymouth bringing phrases of "a trip to Bermuda," "Santa Claus is coming," and "Daddy buy me" . . . etc. From Kellogg Park comes beautiful carols to fill even the air with Christmas. And finally, if you'll stop and let your eyes follow the strains of music back to their source, the Nativity Scene will tell you that, indeed, the Spirit of Christmas has arrived.

One week ago the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Lighting committee started the ball rolling by lighting the decorations in the park. Other Yuletide trimmings will shortly be strung throughout the streets. Every merchant has stocked his store and trimmed his windows with tempting gifts in preparation for one of the biggest seasons in the city's history.

The lure of a trip to Bermuda for two is also being dangled before Christmas shoppers by the Chamber in its annual "Shop in Plymouth for Christmas" campaign. A movie projector and camera, Evans-Colson bicycle and eight $10 gift certificates will also be given by some fifty participating merchants.

will start staying open evenings Thursday, December 9, although a few have already begun.

Santa Claus hasn't been forgotten either. Through the auspices of the BPO-Elks, Santa will visit Kellogg Park on December 18 from 1:30 until 4:00 p.m. According to Thomas Argo, who has been dealing directly with Mr.

Form Citizen Association In Township

A new organization to be known as the "Community Improvement Association of Plymouth Township" has been incorporated with the purpose of stimulating "interest in community affairs on the part of the average citizen."

About 100 families were represented at the group's first meeting recently and another organizational meeting will be held tonight to adopt by-laws and a constitution.

Frank Millington of Beck road has been named temporary chairman of the group. Other officers and committee chairmen are: Hugh Stahl, Beck road, secretary; Austin Stecker, North Territorial road, organization; Harold Belch, Ridge road, zoning; Eugene Stout, Ridgewood road, membership; George DeGroat, Beck road, publicity; and Attorney George Bowles, Plymouth, legal counsel. Permanent officers will be elected shortly after the first of the year.

Prime purposes of the organization are to learn something of the civic structure in the township.

New Plant Adds 1,000 New Jobs In Plymouth Area

Though tax-minded Plymouth township citizens wished that Chevrolet's new Spring & Bumper plant was located on the west side of Eckles road in Plymouth township instead of across the road in Livonia, the Plymouth area does reap some benefit from the increased employment.

A total of 1,750 people have been employed from the Plymouth, Livonia and Detroit area by the new factory, it was announced this week by the Chevrolet division.

Though many former General Motors workers were moved from other plants to the Livonia plant, the Spring & Bumper operation has increased employment in this area with about 1,000 new jobs, according to C. A. McKenny, the plant's manager.

A Community Open House will be held for Plymouth area people sometime late this winter or next spring, it was announced by T. H. Keating, General Motors Vice-president. Right now, the factory is too busy with production for 1955 models.

Chevrolet officials call the Livonia plant one of the most modern in the world and claim it features the longest plating line in the world. The building contains 814,000 square feet and includes a new interpretation of improved treatment and disposal of industrial wastes. Keating states that the plant is "an outstanding example of segmented automation, of improved working conditions and of increased use of electrical energy per employee."

The Spring & Bumper plant was formerly a part of the Chevrolet Detroit Forge plant.

A superstition among old-time railroaders that rail accidents always happen in three's was proven correct in Plymouth last Friday and Saturday when three mishaps occurred within 24 hours, causing the death of one person and costing yet unestimated thousands of dollars.

The first took place at 1:20 a.m. Friday when Gerald Ross, 39, of 300 Mill street, drove his car into the side of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train causing the derailment of two railroad cars and critical injury to the driver.

Ross was taken to Wayne County General hospital where he remained unconscious until his death Tuesday afternoon.

A more minor mishap occurred Friday night when a set of wheels on a diesel switch engine jumped the track near the Daisy Manufacturing plant.

A third and more costly accident happened at 5:25 a.m. Saturday when two trains collided in the Plymouth yards, derailling eight freight cars. There were no injuries connected with the latter two accidents.

Funeral services for Gerald Herbert Ross will be held from the Schrader Funeral home at 1 p.m. Friday. He had suffered severe brain, chest and neck injuries.

There were no known witnesses to the train-car collision. But a 17-year-old boy, John R. Wolfe, was at the Ann Arbor trail crossing when the two railroad cars left the track. Ross' car hit between the 14th and 15th car from the caboose, according to F. M. Brown, local C & O yardmaster.

It is not known if some of the wheels were actually derailed at that time or if a part of the car had become lodged in the train car wheels.

Not until the damaged train cars came to the Mill street crossing and struck the planking there did the derailment start.

After coming to the Ann Arbor trail crossing, an empty box car and a loaded hopper of coke jumped off the track.

Wolfe was waiting for the train at Ann Arbor trail when the cars with sparks flying from their wheels, lurched off the track. The box car missed Wolfe's car by five feet and dove down an embankment beside the home of Larry Drake, 234 Ann Arbor trail. The load of coke turned over on the east side of the tracks.

Wolfe called police and later continued on his way home, detouring by way of Joy road. While nearing the Joy road crossing he saw the headlights of a train.

Howard Mackie Sells Mercury Dealership

Mercury had two new announcements for Plymouth this week. First, the new models for 1955 are being introduced today and, secondly, they'll be shown from the new dealership of R & H Mercury, Inc.

Howard Mackie, former owner of the agency located at 402 Mill street, revealed this week that Paul Riley and Hal Helmer of Dearborn had purchased the franchise. Mackie, who opened the Mercury agency here slightly more than a year ago, said that he would remain in a sales capacity with the new firm.

Both Riley and Helmer had many years experience in the automobile business and indicated that future plans call for an expansion of facilities here.

Goldkette Concert Set for Monday

Final arrangements are being made this week for a concert next Monday night by Jean Goldkette, nationally-known piano artist, who has arranged a program "for everyone" to include everything from concert favorites to boogie-woogie.

The Plymouth Rotary club is sponsoring the program in celebration of Rotary International's 50th anniversary. All profits from the concert will go to the Plymouth Symphony orchestra for the purchase of permanent orchestra equipment. Tickets are available from any Rotary club member.

The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Many music lovers will remember the artist for his Jean Goldkette Victor Recording orchestra which traveled from coast to coast and sold millions of records. He is credited with ushering in the "era of swing." He did this through numerous bands he launched, such as big names as Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey, Glen Miller, Hoagy Carmichael, Russ

No wedding date has been set.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Larsen Jr. announce the birth of a son, Ronald Alan, weighing seven pounds four ounces and born on November 26 in Session's hospital, Northville. The Larsens reside on Schoolcraft road. Mrs. Larsen is the former Grace Schraufnagel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. DeMerritt of Sunset avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Ross Hyrthol, born November 22, at University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sommerman of Livonia announce the birth of a daughter, Jill Diane, born at Session's hospital, Northville, on November 27, weighing six pounds one ounce. Mrs. Sommerman is the former Neva Bakewell.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Sibbold of Brantford, Ontario, Canada, spent Thanksgiving day with their son, Nat Sibbold and family of Ross street.

Miss Ann Cadot and Robert Murdock of Kalamazoo spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Felix Bourbon of Forest avenue.

Mrs. Clarence Lidgard of Tempe, Arizona arrived by plane Friday to spend a few days with relatives in Plymouth. On Sunday Mrs. Lidgard left for Midland for a several weeks visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shannon. They will be joined by Mr. Lidgard and daughter, Kay, for the Christmas holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rynd and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rynd and three children of Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. George Bowland of Dearborn, were the Thanksgiving day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin and family of Rose street.

The Hough Extension group met with Mrs. David Gordon of Warren road on November 29. Mrs. William Sempliner and Mrs. Milton Rowe gave the lesson on "Effective use of time and energy."

Local Library Sponsors Christmas Film Program

As part of their community service, the Dunning library will offer Plymouth youngsters a special program of two Christmas films next Wednesday, December 8. Starting at 4 p.m. in the library, the event will feature "Silent Night" and "Santa and the Fairy Snow Queen."

"Silent Night" tells the story in color of the origin of this favorite Christmas carol in a small Austrian village nearly 150 years ago. Santa's dolls are brought to life by the fairy queen on Christmas eve. The Jack-in-the-box, toy soldier, musical doll and others dance and sing for Santa.

Plymouth High School Band Plans Fun-Filled Show

An hour and a half of program "dedicated to those Americans who believe that to laugh is to live" is being presented this Friday night by the Plymouth High school band.

It is the band's fourth annual show. Called "Rhapsody in Rhythm," it will start at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. There will be no admission charge but a collection will be taken to aid a fund started by the Band Parents association to raise $5,000 for the purchase of 100 new uniforms in 1956.

A colorful and laugh-filled show is being promised by Director Laurence Livingston who is putting the band through final rehearsals this week.

Paul Lavalle's famous "Band of America March" will give the show a rousing opening. Then a "bee-bop" presentation of "Johnny Peel" will be played and sung by the 61-piece band.

The show will take a Latin American complexion with the presentation of "South American Serenade," "Jealousy Tango," "Third Street Rhumba" and "Si! Trocadero Mambo."

Aiding in the Latin presentations will be two talent students of the Arthur Murray School of Dancing in Detroit, Miss Anita Mosher and Jerry Farnell.

The Plymouth high school choir directed by Fred Nelson will then take the stage by singing "Over the Rainbow."

Among the funny spots of the show will be the appearance of William Dial, director of instrumental music at Flushing, Michigan. He will lead the band in a novelty number, followed by a short color movie on the Michigan State marching band's trip to the Rose Bowl last year.

"Just for Joan" is the portion of the program given to talented Joan Donnelly, Plymouth high school senior. She will sing "Stairway to the Stars" with Ted Hunter of Detroit.

Another well-known Plymouth vocalist, Nat Sibbold, will take the spotlight and sing "Trees" and "Ranger's Song." Mr. Dial will then return to conduct "Street Scene." An arrangement of "Shortnin' Bread" probably never heard before by most people will be sung by Ella Plant.

Concluding the program will be "The Irving Berlin Story" narrated by Herbert Salter. Director Livingston also states that a surprise number will be included in the program.

Margaret Ann Burr, a student at Albion college, spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burr of Sheridan avenue.

Goodfellows Plan Annual Sale of Newspapers Here

Plymouth Goodfellows will be out in full force Saturday, December 11, for their annual paper sale, proceeds of which go to brighten the homes of the needy at Christmastime. On that date the former newsboys will be out on almost every Plymouth street corner, selling the papers or whatever amount residents wish to contribute to the worthy cause.

Each year members of this non-profit organization work together to bring the spirit of Christmas into the homes of needy families in the Plymouth area. Homes where poverty, illness or unemployment has made the picture of Christmas a sad and dreary one are made brighter through the work of the Goodfellows who see to it that the children and their parents have gifts, clothing, and in some instances, enough food to eat.

Preparations for the annual project are begun well in advance says President Ed Campbell. Goodfellows donate their time and efforts wholeheartedly into determining which families are the most needy, then seeing that those most destitute get baskets laden with toys, clothing and food on December 24. They take on the responsibility of purchasing the articles, wrapping the gifts with cards enclosed and distributing the baskets.

The goodfellow project would not be possible without the aid and cooperation of the residents in this area who purchase papers during the December 11 sale.

A charter was first granted on March 7, 1939 to a band of some 40 men organized as the Plymouth Goodfellows association.

Headed by Harry Robinson as president and Vice President George Howell, the group dedicated themselves to provide a Christmas for the needy. Many of the charter members are still very active each year delivering papers, investigating cases, and distributing the baskets.

For several years the Plymouth Goodfellows provided for the needy in the neighboring communities of Northville, Livonia, Canton Center and Canton township, besides the city of Plymouth and Plymouth township. In recent years Livonia and Canton have taken over the work in their own areas. However, there are still many families to be helped this Christmas in Plymouth, Plymouth township and Northville.

Occasionally the Plymouth organization travels as far as Salem and Salem township to alleviate the needs of families and their children.

Day Without Auto Mishaps is Goal

Although police authorities and insurance companies are attempting to educate motorists 165 days a year to correct unsafe driving habits, Wednesday December 15 has been set aside as Safe Driving Day—a day in which the nation will make every effort toward accident-free driving.

Joining in the local S-D Day are the police department, the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents and the American Automobile Association. The national program is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety.

The test confronting every community will be to remain completely free of traffic accidents for the 24-hour period. The day is a challenge to every motorist to demonstrate that accidents can be eliminated if each person demonstrates a little extra care.

Although there were no traffic fatalities last year inside Plymouth, a number of local citizens were killed in accidents outside the city. Americans killed one person on the average of every 14 minutes last year. The total 1953 death toll was 38,300. There was another 1,350,000 injured for more than a day.

Henderson Enters Race for Rotary Office

Members of the Plymouth Rotary Club have entered Frank Henderson in the race for district governor of the 223rd district for the Rotary year of 1956-57. One of the local club's most distinguished members, Henderson served as president of the local club and has devoted much of his time and energy to affairs of Rotary.

In announcing Henderson's candidacy, Rotary President Pat McGuire said, "No local Rotarian has been more interested in the affairs of this club and none other has contributed so much to the Rotary organization as a whole as has Mr. Henderson. We feel he would be a credit to the 223rd district and we shall bend every effort to secure this important office for him."

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laible were guests at a dinner in Ann Arbor on Friday evening in celebration of their 30th wedding anniversary. They were guests of the Graham Laibles.

The Warren Extension group met on Monday, November 29 in the home of Mrs. N. Duthoo on Ford road. Lesson for the day was on "Effective use of time and energy."

OBITUARY

Mary Della Box
Mrs. Mary Della Box, a former resident of Plymouth, passed away at Houghton Lake, Michigan on November 28 following a long illness. She was 75 years of age. Prior to moving from Plymouth in 1953, Mrs. Box made her home with her son, Mr. Theodore Box of 303 West Ann Arbor trail.

Surviving are four sons, Theodore Box of Plymouth; Clarence and Harley Box of Houghton Lake; and Barber Elwood Box of Norwalk, California; one daughter, Mrs. Dawney Burk of Detroit; two brothers, Andrew and Caleb Throop of Joplin, Missouri; and one sister, Mrs. Luther Box of Stevenson, California.

Funeral services are being held at 11 o'clock this morning from the Nealey Funeral home in Detroit. Interment will be made at Grand Lawn cemetery, Detroit.

Linda Rae Lockard
Linda Rae Lockard, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Lockard, passed away Saturday, November 27. Mr. and Mrs. Lockard reside at 37840 Joy road in Livonia.

Mr. Jenkins, formerly of Union City, Tennessee, has been a resident of Plymouth for the past five years. He attended the First Baptist church of Plymouth. He has been employed for the past three years at the Hydramatic plant.

Mr. Jenkins was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, Plymouth and later taken to the White-Ransom Funeral home at Union City, Tennessee. Funeral services were held Sunday, November 28, at 2 p.m. at the Baptist church at Troy, Tennessee. Interment was made in Terrace Hills cemetery at Troy, Tennessee.

Fay's Pure Oil Station Holds Grand Opening

Marking its grand opening event today through Saturday, December 4, is the new Fay's Pure Oil Service station on Ann Arbor road and South Main street. Free gifts and a Westinghouse electric roaster awarded as grand prize are highlights of the three-day celebration, according to Owner Fay R. Williams.

Williams, who will operate the new, modern station with Assistant Manager Arthur Lea, has been servicing Plymouth automobiles for 14 years in the same location.

HEAD-HIGH ALREADY are Christmas packages coming into the Plymouth post office. To be sure of out-of-town delivery, Postmaster George Timpona stresses that packages should be mailed by Sunday, December 5. Packages going to local addresses should be mailed by December 15. The post office will start 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. hours on December 13 through Wednesday, December 22. There will be a Sunday delivery and the post office will remain open on December 19. Pictured here sorting parcels are: from left, Martin Creger, clerk; Don Herrick, clerk in charge; and George Wilson, clerk.

Report Two New Cases of Polio in Plymouth Area

Two cases of polio were reported in Plymouth this week. On Thanksgiving day six-year-old Katherine Gail Clendening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clendening of 47000 Six Mile road, was stricken with bulbar polio. She was taken to the Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit and placed in an iron lung. Although the outcome of the attack is still uncertain, Katherine's condition was reported better today.

While on a hunting trip with his father in Northern Michigan, Coin Hauk of 48708 Warren road became ill with what first appeared to be food poisoning. He was brought immediately home where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hauk, took him to the University hospital in Ann Arbor. Coin was released when doctors determined that he was over the acute stage of the disease.

OBITUARY

John C. Melow

Following a very brief illness, Mr. John C. Melow passed away early Monday morning, November 29. He was 67 years of age.

Mr. Melow was born in Livonia in 1887. Most of his life was spent in this area. At the time of his death, his residence was at 469 North Mill street in Plymouth, although he was working in Livonia and staying in Northville most of the time.

Members of the immediate family surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Marsh, now living in Florida; one grandchild, four sisters, Mrs. Louise Rewald of Plymouth, Mrs. Ida Schroder of Livonia, Mrs. Anna Miller of Salem, and Mrs. Ella Bauman of Plymouth.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, December 1, at two o'clock at the Schrader Funeral home. The Reverend David L. Rieder officiated. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Pallbearers were Glen Melow, Alvin Bauman, Edward Bauman, Roy Miller, Donald Melow, and John Schroder. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Harmon Roy

Funeral services for Mr. Harmon Roy were held Monday, November 29, at one o'clock. Mr. Roy lived with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roy, at 697 Ann street. In failing health for some time, he was taken to the hospital Sunday, November 21. Death occurred there Friday evening, November 26. He was 84 years old.

Mr. Roy was born in Redford township in 1870 and spent a great portion of his life in that area. He moved to the vicinity of Plymouth in 1929. In 1951 he came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roy, and remained there the balance of his life.

The members of the immediate family surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Louise Dietrick of Plymouth, Mrs. Elizabeth Dietrick of Detroit, and Miss Lydia Roy of Plymouth.

Mr. Roy was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Plymouth. Mr. Frederick Hull of Ann Arbor read the Christian Science service at the Schrader Funeral home. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers were Milton, George, Alvin, and Glenn Dietrick, Russell David and George Roy. Interment was made in Grand Lawn cemetery in Detroit.

Mrs. Louisa West of Cherry Hill and Mrs. Bernice Thomas, daughter, Margery and son, Calvin, of Starkweather avenue were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West.

Miss Marion Miller, a student at the University of Michigan, spent the Thanksgiving vacation with her classmate, Miss Antonia Sacchetti of Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Reiman entertained a group of their friends Saturday evening honoring their son, Fred, who left Tuesday for San Diego, California, for service in the marines.

Mrs. William Bakhaus of Warren road is in critical condition in Session's hospital, Northville.

Adult Basketball 'A' League Opening

An eight-team basketball league will open the season Monday night, it was announced this week by Herb Woolweaver, director of the Plymouth Recreation department. Known as the "A" league, it is composed of past stars. A "B" league will open its season later.

In the league are Gotold's Cleaners, Tait's Cleaners, Beglinger Oldsmobile, Georger Tripp, Inc., La-

Fountain's Erection company, Ford Local 182, Northville State Hospital A.F. of L. and Northville Recreation.

Each team will play twice a week in one of four gymnasiums, Livonia, Bentley, Northville Community Center, Northville State hospital or Plymouth high school. Local games will be at 8 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursday. Admission is free.

Three Rail Accidents

Friday night's mishap was a common occurrence, according to the yardmaster. A set of wheels came off the track as the switch engine was passing near the Daisy plant. It took only a short while to place them on the track again.

But Saturday morning's collision of two trains was by far the most costly money-wise. A Chicago bound freight with 60 cars was pulling out of the Plymouth yards when a "pickup" train with 27 cars backed into the freight. Two of the westbound boxcars were overturned, three others were just derailed. A few of the cars contained new Buick automobiles which were slightly damaged. Another car was loaded with whiskey. Railroad policemen stood by as workers unloaded the cases of bottles.

Two of the backing train's empty coal cars were also pushed over and another was derailed.

Two worktrains and a large crew of sectionhands was again rushed here to untangle the jumbled cars. Though the mainlines of two divisions were tied up, trains were moved through the yards by use of the Y sidings.

There was very little track damage connected with either accident, Brown asserted. The expense will be due mainly to overtime by the labor forces and damage to the railroad cars and their contents.

The yardmaster had high praise for the Plymouth police department in their work of controlling traffic and crowds at the two accidents. It has been quite a while since Plymouth has had a train mishap. Brown recalled, "but it sure looked like an epidemic last weekend," he added.

Old railroaders claim that train accidents run three in a row, the yardmaster declared. "We hope they're right this time because that would mean we're through for a while."

The Ross car was in shambles. Sheriff's authorities state that the car must have been traveling at a high rate of speed when it struck the train.

The deceased was born October 27, 1914 in Ontario to Lewis and Millie McCauley Ross. He was a Navy veteran of World War II and worked as a pipefitter for the Viking Sprinkling company in Detroit.

Surviving are a daughter, Rose Marie Corrick; his mother, Millie Waldecker, 300 Mill street; two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Scarlett of Detroit and Mrs. Helen Kisabeth of Plymouth; five brothers, Lloyd Ross and Max Ross of Detroit, and Donald Waldecker, Billy Waldecker and Wilbur Ross of Plymouth; and a grandmother, Mrs. Maggie McCauley, Essex, Ontario.

The Reverend Henry J. Walsh, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will officiate at the services, followed by interment in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville. His brothers will serve as pallbearers.

New Plant

The move to Livonia was completed without halting production.

The parking lots at the new plant have a capacity for 2,000 cars and cafeteria facilities are adequate to serve up to 750 persons at each sitting. The plant occupies a site of 130 acres.

Full production is now near after a start in June while construction was still being rushed to completion. The plant makes leaf springs for rear suspensions of Chevrolet cars and trucks and coil springs for front suspension assemblies. It also contains large new presses for stamping out bumpers and all equipment for making finished bumpers.

This includes three new plating lines which alone require 1,200 miles of wiring. The plant uses enough electricity for a city of 50,000 people.

Install Curb-side Mail Boxes Here

No longer will it be necessary to park your car in order to mail a letter. You can do it now by leaning from your car window.

Post master George Timpona said that two curb-side mailboxes will be installed late this week, one of them in front of the post office and the other in front of city hall. The new letter boxes are part of a modernization program being carried out by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, Timpona said.

In order to mail a letter, the driver or passenger needs only to roll down the window on the right side of the car, reach out and deposit the letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph West of North Mill street and their daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Lyke were Thanksgiving day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James West and daughter, Ruth Ann, in Detroit.

GoldKette Concert

Morgan, Artie Shaw and Glen Gray.

Mendelssohn's "Adante and Rondo Capriccioso" will open his program here Monday night. This will be followed by "Tales of Vienna Woods" by Strauss, "Concert Etude in F. Minor," "Dream of Love" and "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6" by Chopin.

After intermission "Sonata No. 3" by Prokofiev will be played. Then will come a medley of popular favorites, "Night and Day," "April in Paris," "Stardust" and "Sketch in Boogie Woogie." The popular "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "Clair De Lune" will then be heard.

Concluding the program will be "Jeux D'eau" by Maurice Ravel and "Variations on the quartette from "Rigoletto" by Liszt.

Form Citizens

actively participate in civic affairs as far as practical, and to develop, protect and improve residential characteristics of the properties of its members. It has been incorporated on a non-profit basis.

To facilitate organization, a geographical boundary embracing a large area in the western portion of the township was set up and it is from within this area that members have been solicited. It is anticipated, however, that members outside this area will be accepted in the future.

The township hall was recently used for a membership meeting. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay has provided the group with complete information on township expenditures, operational costs and other data of interest.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Peck and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scheuneman enjoyed dinner last Saturday evening at Paul's, in celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Scheuneman.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Finney of Ball street had as their Thanksgiving dinner guests, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finney. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grieve and Betty and David Finney.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bullard, who have recently moved from Maple avenue to Arthur street, were Mr. and Mrs. O. Davy of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Burrows of East Tawas and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McAndrews of East Tawas.

Mr. and Mrs. Merville Luker and family spent a few days this week with Mr. Luker's mother, Mrs. Robert Gaddis of East Ann Arbor trail, prior to their moving from Detroit to Rahway, New Jersey, where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bowring of Bradner road were hosts on Thanksgiving day to Mr. and Mrs. James Brummel Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. James Brummel Jr. and two children, of West Six Mile road; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brummel and daughter, Phyllis, of Ypsilanti; Miss Barbara Somervell of Garden City; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowring and son, Roger, of Plymouth.

Mrs. Harvey Springer will be hostess tonight, Thursday, in her home on Auburn avenue, to the members of her bridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst were hosts Saturday evening to the members of their canasta club, at their home on Wing street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Soth entertained three couples from Dayton, Ohio, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Allor entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Gordon on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Lloyd Schroder of Forest avenue is still confined at Session's hospital, Northville.

Future Homemakers Club Aids Needy Local Family

The Future Homemakers of America club at the high school came to the aid of a needy Plymouth family last week. A 23-pound turkey and other foods were presented during Thanksgiving week to the family as part of the club's service project.

Composed of 39 high school girls, the organization is under the direction of home economics teachers Mrs. Woodrow Ross and Mrs. Christine Soule.

There are people who discuss problems maturely and people who converse all day without saying a significant word.

Grange Cleanings

Attention!! Everyone!! Tonight is that important night when Tecumseh's fine degree team comes over here to give our new candidates their third and fourth degrees. Their work is very lovely to see so be sure to be there, especially the newer members who have not seen the degree work done. Be on hand early-as near six as possible and bring along a dish to pass the same as usual, as it is a pot luck, except that the Grange is providing the meat. Put in a bit extra in your dish as we shall have about 25 guests you know. Bring your own dishes.

Please Him with HIS FOR Christmas MEN'S TOILETRIES

THE MAGIC NAME in fine toiletries for men. Single units from $1.00 to $2.50; sets from $1.50 to $7.50; Gold Plated units $5.00 and $10.00; 18 K Gold Shaving Bowl $1,875.00.

The members of our own Grange will eat their supper early, then the Tecumseh folks can be served their supper with no confusion, it will be at least 7 p.m. when they get here. And if our members will go upstairs as soon as they have eaten it will help a lot.

And next comes the Bazaar. On Friday of next week, December 10, there will be baked goods, candy, aprons, fancy work, parcel post and other booths. Also those good "Sloppy Joe's" will be served from 11 a.m. Bring in your donations to the various booths early if you can.

Miss Maud Bird was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey on Thanksgiving Day.

We are sorry to hear that Lloyd Fillmore is ill with pneumonia in Sessions hospital in Northville. Here's hoping for a speedy recovery.

Five to Leave for Service

Five volunteers will leave from this area in answer to the November 29 induction call, according to an announcement from Michigan Local Board No. 102 of the Selective Service System. The young men leaving are: Clifford Henderlong and Conrad Taylor of Plymouth, James Hollis and Arthur Carlson of Northville, and Gerald Gault, Livonia. Both Gault and Taylor enlisted before induction. The next induction call is on December 15 and will be filled with 20 volunteers.

Transfer Plymouthite To New Jersey Plant

Plymouth resident Merville Luker of 37933 West Chicago, a foreman at the Allen Industries plant in Detroit, has recently been transferred by the company to its New Jersey branch.

Luker has been an employee of the firm for 17 years, starting at the age of 18. He was later appointed foreman of the Plymouth plant, which was sold about three years ago. He was then transferred to foremanship of the Detroit plant.

The Lukers and their six children will make their home in Rahway, New Jersey.

Mrs. Charles McConnell returned to her home on North Harvey street last Monday after visiting for two weeks with her sister in North Carolina.

Mrs. Lydia Drews returned to her home on north Main street Sunday, after being confined to New Grace hospital, Detroit, where she underwent surgery three weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bakhaus entertained at a family dinner, on Thanksgiving day, in their home on north Territorial road. They also celebrated the birthday of their son, Billy.

The Sunshine club will meet on Wednesday, December 8, for their Christmas party at the home of Elaine Moran, 11346 Hemmingway in Detroit. Mary Lyons will be co-hostess.

Presbyterian Fellowship Sponsors Friday Dance

The basement of the Presbyterian church will be transformed into a gay holiday dance this Friday, December 3, when the Young Fellowship group gets its Junior High Snowball Dance under way.

Hours for the event are set for 7 to 10 p.m. and tickets may be obtained from Fellowship members or bought at the door.

In talk about helping business and protecting labor we often wonder whether the general public is left out.

HILLSIDE INN was turned into a child's paradise last week when hostess, Mrs. Olga Hubert of 8900 Newburg road, had 18 dolls from her collection on display. Starting her doll collection as a hobby last January, Mrs. Hubert has designed and made most of the dolls' costumes herself. The ones shown above were on display Thanksgiving day through Saturday of last week at the local restaurant.

Offers Bargain CARE Packages

Offices of Railway Express Agency, which are located in Plymouth and all the principal cities and towns of the country are centers for the collection and forwarding of donations to the CARE Christmas "Food Crusade" for needy families in 31 countries of Europe, Asia and Latin America, Leonard Millross, local Express office manager, announced today. The service is performed at no cost to CARE or to the public, he said.

A. L. Hammell, president of the company states that "We feel that relief from suffering and despair during the holiday period when every American feels a heightened sense of good will toward his fellow man is a valuable contribution not only to those in want, but we also believe that the crusade is an aid to our foreign policy of stemming the spread of Communism in the free countries of the world."

The objective of the program is to send some 1 1/4 million packages or 17 1/2 million pounds of surplus food now stored in government warehouses which has been accumulated as a result of farm price supports. This is being released free by our government. Donations of 50 cents per package are being sought now to cover costs of distribution.

A contribution of $1 will assure the delivery of two food packages weighing 28 pounds. They contain necessities such as butter, powdered milk, rice, beef in gravy and other basic foods. An American representative of CARE will make certain that the distribution is made on the basis of need without reference to race, color or creed.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

A regular hospital trip was made on Sunday, November 21, to all the buildings at the Maybury sanitarium. Marion Luttermoser, Marion Dickie, Corrine Clark, Hilda Rorbacher, Beverly Brown, and Lucinda Archer were the members who took Christmas cards to all the veterans who were certainly appreciative of our visits. A Christmas trip is planned in December. The exact date of the trip will be announced in a later column. Call chairman Marlyn Wiltzie if you would like to make the trip at Christmas.

Another trip was made also to the Veterans hospital in Dearborn on Monday, November 22. The following girls took part in this trip: Roberta Ross, Geraldine Olson, Delores Olsaver, Vivian Haar, Hilda Rorbacher, Mary Jane Schwartz, Marie Norman and Ellen Hokenson. The girls made a complete ward trip taking candy, cigarettes, sox, etc. and have added 40 working hours to our hospital points program.

On Sunday, November 21, President Marie Norman and Lucinda Archer met National President Agnes Holz at Willow Run airport for her annual visit to our department. A buffet supper and general meeting were held later at the Graf O'Hara Post rooms in Ann Arbor. Our national president had an interesting message and stressed the fact that our organization should be referred to as the Veterans of Foreign Wars instead of V.F.W. and also the accomplishments of all departments for the year.

Our sincere get-well wishes go out to Helen Burgett who is in New Grace hospital following an operation. How about some cards to show her we haven't forgotten her and miss her very much!

Once more a reminder from Membership Chairman Lucinda Archer to pay your dues now or at least before December 31. More than half our members are paid up but we need 100%. We need your membership dues for the following important reasons:

1. to assist families of disabled and needy veterans.
  2. to carry on our hospital program at our Veterans Hospitals.
  3. to help maintain our national home for the orphans and widows of deceased veterans.
  4. your membership is important legislation benefitting the veterans and his dependents.
- Please pay your dues immediately so you may assist in this worthwhile program.

Byron Beckers Celebrate 25th Wedding Date

An open house and buffet supper for family and friends on Sunday marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Becker, 1455 Penniman avenue. The Beckers were married November 28, 1929.

The festive event was attended by some 80 guests, many of whom came from out of town.

Patchen P.T.A. Plans Carnival

The Patchen school Parent-Teachers association is planning its first school carnival for this Saturday, December 4. Location of the school is Warren and Newburg roads.

Starting at 5:30 p.m., the carnival is expected to draw large crowds for an evening of fun, food and entertainment.

Included in the activities are the cake walk, variety show, game room, pie walk, plant booth, handicraft booth, country store, candy counter and supper room.

Over 20 prizes have been donated by neighboring merchants to give away at the affair.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

A joint meeting of Troop 1, 8 and 21 was held at the Dunning Library last week. William Hopkins, naturalist, spoke on plant and wildlife. Mr. Hopkins works for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority at Kennington park. Following his talk two conservation films were shown. One was entitled "Soil and Forest Conservation" and the other was on the work of the Forest Rangers.

Troop 1 with its leader, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, spent Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge. The Scouts enjoyed many camp craft projects including special fire-building and lashing.

Establish Three Casualty Care Stations in this Area

Three casualty care stations for use in time of disaster have been selected in the Plymouth area by Frederick E. Bentley, Civil Defense medical director for this area.

Sites selected for the casualty hospitals are St. John's Seminary, Plymouth high school and Smith elementary school. In a report to Leo F. Flowers, coordinator for Civil Defense in Plymouth city and township and Canton township, Dr. Bentley said that he has a nucleus staff for each of the three locations. Nurses and lay volunteers are still needed to assist, however, and anyone interested can telephone Mrs. Jeanne Mettetal at 2145-J.

Personnel for St. John's Seminary include:

Station leader, Walter Hammand, M.D.; L. J. Salan, M.D.; R. R. Barber, M.D.; A. C. Williams, D.O.; W. C. Herbold, D.O.; B. E. Champe, D.D.S.; F. B. Foust, D.D.S.; G. H. Fitch, D.D.S.; Nurses Doris Brown, Bertha LaMay, Mrs. Merle Benjamin and Joyce Donovan. Lay assistants will be Nadine Jones, Lucy Claiborne, Dale DePriest, Velma DePriest, and Ida Ferguson.

The high school station will be manned by:

Station leader, Charles Westover, M.D.; E. E. Clyde, M.D.; L. E. Feldcamp, M.D.; M. W. Hughes, D.O.; H. F. Clark, D.D.S.; William Covington, D.D.S.; J. L. Olsaver, D.D.S.; Nurses Dorothy Ritchie and Marcella D'Haene. Lay workers are Pauline Soule, Bertha Knupp, Betty Koch, Chester Budzynski, Velma Budzynski and Albert Wilson.

Personnel at the Smith school casualty station will be:

Peerless Industries Again Present Turkeys

A turkey on the Thanksgiving table of every employee was again made possible by Peerless Industries, 8050 North Territorial road.

Russell Hoffman, president of the firm, said that 14-pound turkeys were given to each employee who has been with the company for a month or more. The Thanksgiving turkeys are presented each year.

During the last six years, there have been approximately 1,000,000 more births in the U. S. each year than the average during the preceding years.

OFFICIALLY OPENING the Christmas season, last week members of the Plymouth branch, Michigan Division of the Women's National Farm and Garden association trimmed the 28-foot pine tree in Kellogg park and one at Starkweather and Mill. Putting up decorations made by the club on the park tree are (l. to r.) Mrs. Bruno Schroeter, Mrs. Clifford Fishbeck and Mrs. Walter Gempelme. Preparations are now under way for the Christmas Greens and Bake sale, another annual yuletide event sponsored by the club to raise money for scholarships. Dates of the sale are Friday and Saturday, December 10 and 11, at West Bros. Nash garage with hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Postmaster Timpona Announces New Postal Regulations Manual

Postmaster George Timpona today called to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued effective December 1 which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is issuing a new Postal Manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Postmaster Timpona, explained.

This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. Mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

Postmaster Timpona noted that the new pamphlet and the new $2 package deal give the businessmen and other large mail users the easiest, most complete method of keeping up to date on postal information.

"The new publication is remarkable for its simplicity," he said. "Not only is it printed in easy-to-understand English, but it contains simple black and white illustrations on how to prepare material for mailing. The print is easy to understand, and is arranged in logical sections under bold-face headings."

The new booklet is so simple that if the shipping clerk, for example, in a small business is ill or absent, other employees can get a ready understanding of the postal rules from the publication, Dr. Timpona said.

The booklet is also an invaluable guide for the average householder. It shows how to package fragile materials for mailing; how to attach first-class letters to packages; how stamps of unwanted denominations that are unused may be exchanged for others of different values if desired. It also tells about many other matters of special interest to all mail users, he added.

Mail users who have inquiries about any special points in connection with the new publication may direct them to the Plymouth Post Office. It should be emphasized, Postmaster Timpona said, that the booklet represents the "final word" on all postal rules.

Habit of Complaint

"I suppose you were thankful for the heavy rain."

"Oh, yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "though I don't see why them weather folks couldn't pervide to keep it on the fields instead of letting it stray around, muddyyin' up the roads."

County Library Sponsors Third Preview of Films

Residents of Wayne county and representatives of county organizations and schools are invited to attend the third film preview sponsored by the Audio-Visual center of the Wayne County Library. The program will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Garden City branch library on Tuesday, December 7.

Covering the subject of children's films the program will feature: "Attracting Birds in Winter," "Building Bird Houses," "Way to School" and "Snakes Can Be Interesting."

In conjunction with the Film Council of America, the center is holding a series of film previews and arranges for the rental of previewed and other films to various Wayne county organizations.

Mrs. Paul Harsha Jr. and her three small daughters, ages 4 years, 3 years, and 9 months of 32410 West Chicago, are spending two weeks with Mrs. Harsha's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Levy in Boullivar, Tennessee. Dr. Levy is the Superintendent of Western State hospital, one of the largest mental hospitals in the state of Tennessee.

St. Michaels Altar society is having its Christmas pot luck party on their regular meeting on Tuesday, December 7. Each circle has been notified as to what they are to contribute and everyone is asked to bring a 50 cent Christmas gift for exchange.

Bridge lessons will be resumed on December 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the clubhouse. Payment of $3 for the remaining six lessons is due and will be payable to May Blankenhagen. Please remember to bring card table and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conroy of 9840 Shadyside are the proud parents of their second child, a baby boy. The new addition will be called Mark Edward. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman of 9837 Ingram, Rosedale Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson of 11400 Berwick and their children spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Akron, Ohio visiting Mr. Larson's parents.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Mildred Couillard, who lived at 9924 Berwick in Rosedale Gardens. Mrs. Couillard was taken to St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor on November 13. Her death occurred there on November 21. We would like to extend our sympathy to her husband and family.

Don't miss the Holiday Smorgasbord planned for Thursday, December 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the clubhouse. The nice part of this party is that husbands are invited. After dinner everyone pitches in to put up the Christmas tree and decorate the clubhouse for the Christmas season. Call Lois Priestman or anyone on her committee for your reservation.

The bookclub of the Rosedale Gardens Women's club will meet on Thursday, December 16, at 1 p.m. at the home of May Blankenhagen, 32106 West Chicago.

Mrs. Robert Button of 11035 Arden will assist Mrs. Blankenhagen. The book to be reviewed is "Katherine" by Anya Seton

Names Rosedale Resident Finalist In Bake Contest

Rosedale Gardens resident, Mrs. Louis Steele of 31800 West Chicago boulevard, learned last week that she was named one of the 100 junior and senior finalists in Pillsbury Mills sixth nationwide recipe and baking contest. Mrs. Steele will go to New York for the final baking December 13 in the grand finale bake-off held at the Waldorf-Astoria Ballroom, where over $100,000 will be given away in prizes to 80 women and 20 girls.

Mrs. Steele learned of her success when Raymond Eves, Pillsbury branch manager for this area, called to present her with a $100 check and arrange final plans for her all-expense paid trip to New York.

According to Mrs. Steele her success was earned by submitting an unusual recipe for a dessert which she says she has baked for the family for years but which, until now, has been a cherished and secret recipe.

Mrs. Steele has a chance to win $25,000 plus GE kitchen equipment in the grand prize or a lesser prize including a GE range when she competes with other women from all parts of the United States on December 13 in the Waldorf ballroom.

Private Don Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Byers, 41951 Five Mile road; and Private Keith R. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens of 599 Virginia avenue; have completed the 11th Airborne Division Jump school.

The course presents a challenge to all personnel desiring to become paratroopers and only those having a strong will and the determination to go "all the way" receive their just reward, the Parachutist Badge.

At the end of three strenuous weeks of rugged airborne training, the qualified jumpers stood proudly as they were presented their coveted wings. They were then among the elite of the United States Army.

Private Byers is assigned to Company "K", and Private Stevens to Company "B" of the famous 508th "Red Devil" Airborne Regimental Combat Team, the only such combat team in the United States.

The mission of the 508th is to train for and maintain in combat effectiveness of the troops in its command.

One of the most decorated outfits of World War II, troopers of the Red Devil regiment are authorized to wear the Presidential Unit Citation and the French fourragere for campaigns at Normandy, Ardennes, Central Europe and the Rhineland.

A local citizen burst into the office of a railroad official and demanded:
"I want you to give orders that the engineer of the express that passes through Elm Grove at 11:15 be forbidden to blow the whistle on Sunday mornings."
The railroad official retorted: "Why that's impossible. What leads you to make such an unreasonable request?"
"Well, our preacher preaches until he hears the train whistle blow—and that confounded express was 35 minutes late last Sunday."

SPORTS FLASHES
from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

The two franchise shifts of the past two years—the latest to Kansas City—have weakened the American League, in the opinion of Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians. In an effort to compensate for the moves, Greenberg will make the following proposal at the December meeting of the league in New York.
That the American League expand to a ten-team league at the earliest possible opportunity and that a committee be formed now to investigate sites for the two future franchises.

The American League constitution already permits an increase to ten clubs. Greenberg's proposal, if passed, would start action immediately toward the expansion, which he believes should be accomplished by 1956.
"There are a number of cities which want major league ball," pointed out Hank. "But they don't want to go to the $5,000,000 expense involved in building a suitable park unless they know definitely they will get a franchise."

Cities already on record as being eager for major league ball are the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Toronto, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Houston and Montreal. All of these have sufficient population to support a major league franchise.
Greenberg insists, because the National League now has the fatter franchises, it will become stronger and stronger unless the American League takes immediate action to build for the future.
"In moving to Baltimore the American League crowded three franchises into a span of 150 miles. Baltimore drew over

Characteristics of Deer Described by Professor

"What do deer think of red shirts?"
Inevitably as the deer hunting season are the questions which accompany it. Wildlife experts find themselves beleaguered by suddenly curious sportsmen and nonsportsmen alike, who want to know things like this, and "can you tell a deer's age by his antlers?"
The size of a deer's antlers depends not so much on his age as upon his nutrition, according to Prof. Warren W. Chase, chairman of the University of Michigan's Department of Wildlife Management in the School of Natural Resources.
Antlers are made of a bony substance, at first sheathed in a velvety covering, and are a secondary sex characteristic restricted to the buck, who begins to develop the "rack" in the spring and has a full-blown set of antlers by the breeding season in October and November.
If you come across a buck in January with a head tipped drunkenly to one side, chances are he's not hung-over from the past mating period but is merely playing with a case of one-antler-shed, the other still with him temporarily.
"Most persons don't realize that all deer look alike between February and June when the bucks have shed their antlers," Professor Chase points out.
Rodents, squirrels and porcupines keep the forest floor clear of discarded antlers because these are a valuable source of calcium and phosphate for the small animals.
The deer seem to know how wide their antlers are and don't try to go between too-closely-set trees, but they sometimes get themselves locked in combat with

Rocks Place Five On-All-League Team

Five members of the Plymouth Rock football squad have been placed on the Suburban Six-B League team selected by The Detroit News.
They are: tackle, Pet, end; John Agnew, Bill; Jim Arnold, center; and Les Juve and Denny Luker, backfield. The other six members of the team are: Jim Roberts, Allen Park, end; Maynard Stetten, Trenton, tackler; Dave Early of Allen Park and Bill Bryant of Bentley, guards; George Thompson, of Belleville and Ray Driscoll, of Trenton, backs.
Stetten was the only 6-B league member to be placed on the All-Suburban squad. He holds his school's record of 110 tackles in one season and has been sought by several Big Ten schools and other colleges.

Northville Plays Host To Rocks in Cage Bow

Plymouth high school opens its cage season Friday evening at Northville hoping to duplicate last year's initial encounter. With a team composed mostly of seniors Coach John Sandmann has seven returning lettermen from which to choose his starting quint.
Last year the Rocks opened an average (9 won, 5 lost) season with a 47 to 35 triumph in the lone contest of the year with Northville. The two teams will meet twice on the 1954-55 schedule as they did in the 1952-53 season when Northville upset the local cagers in both games.
Coach Sandmann will take a squad of 15 men to Northville including senior lettermen: Captain Dick Day, Bob Middleton, Dan Clifford, Larry Wilhelm, John Agnew, Lee Juve and Jim Sorenson; non-lettermen are: Henry Bonga, Russ Mecklenburg, Wayne Smith and Bob Danol, seniors; and juniors, Tom Ferguson, Dick Davidson, Jack Carter and Lindy Mills.

Items Garnered Here and There

Meat is being consumed at the rate of approximately 2 lbs. more per person in 1954 than in 1953. Average 155 lbs. per person.

Theater operators will raise a huge fund to assure production of films to compete with the huge budget pictures going to the larger operators. This represents the 10,000 movie houses in the Theater Owners Association.

Employment is on the increase. In Toledo two firms brought back 2500 workers in the past few weeks. More profit sharing is being initiated by employers, who have found that productivity rises and high employee turnover decreases, thus cutting production costs. Over 8000 profit sharing plans are now on file with the Internal Revenue Department. This is approximately 2000 firm increase in the last year.

Railroads prepare for future. Freight and Passenger cars with separate wheels that will turn on their axles like automobiles, box cars with sliding or detachable tops, flat cars with ends that can be raised for hauling sheet commodities. Lower costs and better service is the theme.

Strikes can kill a City. A hotel, a furniture store, two hardware stores, and a sporting goods outlet have closed in Port Arthur, Texas, following a strike that started a year ago with 350 store clerks, waitresses, and bellhops. The estimated loss runs as high as twenty million dollars in retail volume in the past year.

The government found 5500 new typewriters when they cleaned out some of the store houses of the Pentagon. This might save the taxpayers $680,000 in the next year or they might go ahead and spend that money for some other item to store and be "found" in another year.

Hotels are awakening to the competitive Motel by revamping their houses and providing car storage in adjacent properties with the occupant registering, using bellboy service or not, as they choose, making it just as easy or easier than at the Motel. They haven't said what they are going to do about the rates.

Montgomery Ward will close a number of its smaller retail outlets at the end of this year. Statement indicates that this firm will concentrate on larger stores to recapture some of the volume lost.

One major appliance manufacturer has stopped pricing its appliances and will turn this chore over to its distributors, who will price items like refrigerators, air-conditioners, washing machines, dish washers, electric ranges and water heaters. The appliance business is improving.

Unemployment claims for non-work pay dropped to 245,000 in a recent week. This off 20,000 preceding week or just about half of what the score was at the beginning of the year.

Sales on Christmas items got an early start this year. Thanksgiving used to be the opening day of the big Christmas Season. However, November the 15th initiated the sales efforts of more of the larger sales units and the merchandisers are happy about results. Neiman-Marcus mailed out 100,000 Christmas catalogs as early as November 1, ten days ahead of the 1953 mailing.

Pan American will again mail letters from the Far North as they did last season when more than 100,000 children received letters from Fairbanks, Alaska. This Air Line has the Santa Claus writing paper and envelopes and has distributed them through their travel offices and those of travel agents throughout the Nation. It's easy to make a youngster happy if you follow through on the promises contained in the letter.

Asks Aid For Private Colleges

President Keith Funston, of the New York Stock Exchange, recently called on business men to invest in the nation's future through gifts to private colleges and universities. Funston said the tremendous increase in enrollment sure to come in the next ten years would impose a great strain on the private colleges.

He noted that they are already struggling along "with a total annual deficit of more than $30,000,000." He said most of them were "in poor financial health today."

Funston said the best estimate indicated it would take about $250,000,000 a year for five years to put private colleges on their feet again. That would enable them to be somewhat prepared to meet the increased enrollment sure to develop in the next decade.

We urge business men to consider this appeal carefully. The private colleges of the country have produced most of our presidents, most of our leading businessmen and are our best guarantee of freedom. Any aid given them is an investment in the country's future and a grant to the young people of today and tomorrow.

Business Upturn Widely Predicted

The latest survey, conducted by Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., shows that a majority of business executives expect an increase in sales in the first quarter of 1955. Over fifty per cent of the executives queried expected higher sales in the forthcoming quarter and over forty per cent expected larger net profits.

Lower sales were expected by only about thirteen per cent of those polled. Another significant result of the survey is the expectation—by a majority of the business executives queried—for larger inventories in the next quarter.

The reduction in inventories by businesses has been one of the contributing factors to the recessionary period of the last twelve months. It is only fair to report here, however, that a larger number of replies expected no appreciable change in inventories than the number expressing the belief that inventories would increase.

An encouraging result of the inquiry is the statement of many business men that they will add to their work forces next year, while a lesser percentage say they will reduce employment. Altogether then, this survey of business executives forecasts better business conditions in the first quarter of 1955.

In view of the fact that over a thousand executives participated in this survey, the views expressed are of considerable significance and are reason for an optimistic outlook for business in 1955.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"December 15 has been designated as Safe Driving Day, a day which authorities hope to eliminate all accidents. What kind of motorist would you like to see off the road every day of the year?"

CHARLES H. WILSON, 9912 Hubbard: "The driver who swings in and out of traffic. You never know what to expect next from him. They cause a lot of accidents because they seem to be in such a hurry. By following the line of traffic with a moderate rate of speed you can get to your destination just about as fast."

BILL McALLISTER, 42429 Lakeland: "The drunk driver is the worst on the road. There are many accidents caused because motorists make a mistake at one time or another, but the driver who causes an accident because he's drunk or speeding has no excuse."

HERMAN THOMPSON, 8635 Joy road: "I think the driver who is drunk is the worst there is. And a lot of these young kids who drive recklessly should be kept off the highway. I was hit by one not too long ago and it looked almost deliberate."

GEORGE W. NAASKO, 40427 Lotz-Ford: "Those who drive down the center of the road make me mad. And I don't like those who blow their horn all of the time instead of using their brakes. Also dangerous are drivers who signal to turn one way and then decide to turn the other way just as the car behind starts to pass."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

LEGISLATORS WILL be asked to modernize Michigan's system of school financing in January after a committee of experts comes up with answers to three major problems.

The committee will start from scratch, basing its research on what the people need from education.

"As part of the committee's work, we should determine what constitutes a minimum educational program, said Jack Milligan, assistant superintendent of public instruction.

He said the first part of the report would be ready for the legislature in January, but that some detailed parts of the study might take two years to develop.

Biggest Problem will be to find a way to shell out state money to the school districts which need it.

The distribution formula now sends the money to districts on a per-student basis, regardless of the need. Some districts use it to pay tuition for their students in other schools if they have none at home.

The other two posers will be to find means to improve local property tax assessments and to abolish the "closed districts," those which send children to other districts and "have no schools of their own."

MICHIGAN FOUND it was ignoring one of its own laws which provides that the state and railroads share the cost of installing flasher signals at crossings.

The 1931 law required the 50-50 financial arrangement for the installations and insists that the state pay $10 a month for keeping them in working order.

For years, there has been an agreement that the state would pay the full shot, $3,200 for each crossing signal with the railroads footing the bill for maintenance.

Now comes a ruling from Deputy Atty. Gen. Arthur T. Iverson saying that the law stands and the state is bound by it.

"To conform strictly to the law would cost more than it's worth," said Maurice E. Hunt, public service commissioner.

Iverson had the answer: "Get the legislature to change the law."

Plans already are in the making to lay the plight before the 1955 legislature, a body eager to hear how money can be saved.

STATE HEALTH OFFICIALS have started a search for unknowing tuberculosis sufferers to fill vacant hospital beds.

They said that only 78 per cent of the 5,590 beds available for patients are being used, including 288 at Detroit's Herman Keifer Hospital.

The State Department of Health is proposing ways to detect tuberculosis earlier in school children and in intensified case-finding projects on a local level.

You can usually measure a person's intelligence by how insistent he is to convince you he knows his stuff.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Serve Delicious, Barbecued Spareribs

One dish that's always been a favorite with the Robert Lidgard family of 780 Pine are barbecued spareribs. When Mrs. Lidgard's youngest daughters, Roberta and Ruthann, come in after an afternoon's fun in the cold wintry air, it's no wonder that the girls look forward to this tasty, hot dish at supertime. Patsy, a freshman at Michigan State Normal in Ypsilanti, enjoys having the barbecued spareribs on weekends home from college. Here's how Mrs. Lidgard prepares the dish:

Barbecued Spareribs
Mix together:
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 teaspoon paprika
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed.

Cut 2 1/2 to 3 pounds of spareribs in serving size pieces. Rub on both sides with above ingredients. Broil about 8 minutes on each side, or until brown. Put in baking pan. Mix one can tomato soup and 1/2 cup vinegar. Pour over spareribs. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees for one and one half or two hours, basting every 30 minutes.

Record Attendance At Second Concert

Playing before one of the largest audiences ever to attend a local concert, the Plymouth Symphony orchestra responded to its fullest Sunday afternoon in presenting its second performance of the ninth season.

The 85-piece orchestra under the baton of Emil Raab thrilled the audience with its opening presentation of Berlioz' Roman Carnival Overture. Its impact brought an instantaneous response from the audience and put them in a perfect mood for the violin selections of Soloist Josef Lazaroff which followed.

From Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole, Lazaroff played Allegro non troppo, Allegro molto (Scherzando), Andante, Allegro (Rondo).

His clear, finely defined tones were given generous applause and further proved the excellent technique of the orchestra's concertmaster.

Barber's Essay for Orchestra, No. 12 and Roumanian Rhapsody Op. 1 by Enesco were the after- intermission selections.

The next performance of the orchestra will be December 12 at the Plymouth high school when they will present The Messiah.

Garden Club To Trim Greens At Workshop

Newcomers to the art of trimming Christmas greens will have the knack of it before the close of Monday's workshop session of the Plymouth branch, Michigan Division of the Women's National Farm and Garden association.

Starting at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum, 1348 Maple, members will assemble to make decorations for their annual Christmas Greens and Bake sale on December 10 and 11. Cones will be wired and cut into florettes, ribbons cut for bows and other decorations completed for the annual event.

Available to Plymouth homemakers at the Greens and Bake sale will be such items as table centerpieces, wreaths, swags, kissing rings, candles, evergreen roping and all kinds of delicious baked goods. Orders are being taken now by members for Christmas greens of any type as well as for the baked goods. Proceeds of the sale will go towards scholarships. As the results of past sales the club has been able to put four girls through college.

Hours for the sale, which will be held at West Bros. Nash garage, are set for 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. The chairman is Mrs. Roy Lindsay.

Tea chairman for the December 6 workshop meeting is Mrs. Roy Jacobus. She will be assisted by Mrs. Leroy Jewell, Mrs. C. J. Ker-shaw, Mrs. James Kincaid, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. Roy Leemon, Mrs. Roy Lindsay and Mrs. R. G. Lorenz.

Local Resident Competes In National Hockey Meet

Marlene Skelt of 42015 Micol drive competed in the national tournament of the United States Field Hockey Association at the University of Michigan November 25-28.

Some 250 players and officials from various states gathered at the University to choose the All-American team for 1955.

Woman's Club To Hold Annual Christmas Party

The V.F.W. Hall on South Mill will be the scene of a gay Christmas tea on Friday, December 3, when members of the Plymouth Woman's club get together for their annual party. The event is scheduled to get under way at 12:45 p.m.

The high school choir of 60 voices will appear on the program first to enable its members to return to their classes. Selections to be presented by the group under the direction of Fred Nelson are:

"Adoramus Te," "Oh Come, Oh Come Immanuel," "Shepherds Hark the Song," "Away in the Manger," "As Lately We Watched," "Bell Carol," "Angels We Have Heard on High," and "Carol of the Bells."

As guest speaker for the afternoon program, the club has invited Mrs. Lucille Simon, president of the Detroit Story League. Mrs. Simon will tell the story of "The Littlest Angel" as well as a Christmas selection of her own.

Program chairman for the Christmas Tea will be Mrs. David Gates. Mrs. Carvel Bentley is tea chairman and will be assisted by the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the club. Mrs. Margaret Hough and Mrs. Russell Daane are decorations chairmen for the event.

Christmas Films Now Available

The Audio-Visual center of the Wayne county library has announced that the following Christmas films are available for rental by Wayne county groups and organizations:

"Christmas through the Ages," a colorful historical background of Christmas showing how the different customs and symbols originated throughout the world; "Christmas Rhapsody," the story of the "littles" fir tree in the forest which is cut down and trimmed on Christmas eve by a family living in the mountains;

"Littlest Angel," a Christmas fantasy based on Charles Tazewell's book; "Santa and the Fairy Snow Queen" gives life to Santa's dolls on Christmas eve; "Silent Night," story of the Christmas carol in color; "Visit from Saint Nicholas," retells in color the story of St. Nicholas' midnight visit.

Seasonal films are rented on a one-day basis and must be picked up at the center and returned directly after their use by the organization. Program chairmen are urged to make film reservations early because of the great demand.

Local Teachers to Learn About Retirement Policies

Plymouth schoolteachers will learn about retirement plans and policies for Michigan teachers at the next meeting of the Plymouth Education Association on Tuesday, December 7. The program is set for 4 p.m. at the Smith school.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Charlotte Richards of the Lincoln high school in Ferndale. A member of the retirement board of the Michigan Education association, Mrs. Richards will address the gathering of local teachers on "Teacher Retirement Plan of Michigan."

St. John's Auxiliary Elects Officers Next Week

Election of officers will take place at the annual meeting of St. John's Auxiliary on December 8 at 1 p.m. in the church parlor. Also on the agenda of the meeting are reports to be given by Auxiliary members who attended the recent convocation meeting at Adrian.

The speakers will be Mrs. Walter Breed, Mrs. Walter Hargrave, Mrs. David Davies and Mrs. Sidney Strong.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLS were made by employees of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond and turned over to the Detroit Goodfellows for distribution at Christmas. Here, Judges Mrs. Vi Sparkman, Mrs. Betty Stoehr and Ernest Faigle show the winners. The bride doll, made by Irene Bonkowski, won first place. Other winners were Helen Suski, second; Irene Sparks, third; Nina Entix, fourth; Theresa Kamieniecki, fifth; Nora Gerhard, sixth; and Margaret Bock, seventh.

Local C.A.R.'s, Adults to Attend State Meeting

Representatives from the Plymouth chapter of the Children of the American Revolution and interested adults will attend the state board meeting of the Michigan Society, Children of the American Revolution. The event will be held this Saturday, December 4, at 10:30 a.m. in the Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Those attending from this area are: Mary Ellen Cruse, Anthony Worth, Ann Hulsing, Richard Root, Janet Willoughby, Randy Eaton, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, Miss Margaret Roberts, Mrs. C. J. Burkman, Mrs. Harry Deyo and Mrs. G. Zerbel.

Junior State President Margaret Mainer will preside at the meeting. Assisting her will be Mrs. Robert Willoughby, senior state president.

C.A.R. national projects for the year include raising money for the doll cases in the C.A.R. National museum and for the travel fund used for national representatives, besides work for the mountain schools and Indians. Each local society is going to have an opportunity to "adopt" and help one Michigan Indian child.

Mrs. Henry Bourne Joy has given the organization a Michigan banner in honor of her 10 great grandchildren. It will be carried for the first time at the state conference at Grand Rapids on April 2.

Offers Homemaking Tips

If you're in the market for children's play and snow suits, here are a few tips on what to look for: Dark cottons for play suits are nice because they won't show dirt or stains easily. The fabric should be a hard twist to withstand the wear they'll receive only on an active child. Washfast corduroys will do a good job, but make sure the fabric is preshrunk. Both play suits and the warmer woolen snow suits should be washable and should be cut so that the child can easily dress and undress himself.

Don't be a doubting Thomas about those new improved washable woollens. If you're looking for proof then buy only those washable woollens which carry a label attesting to their laundability. Such woollens neither shrink excessively nor mat during the laundering process.

Be careful where the family puts its clothes after using. Rust can discolor and harm most fabrics and cannot be bleached out without danger of damage. Clothes hung on nails, thrown into metal lockers or otherwise coming into contact with iron or steel if moisture is present. Rust can be removed by using oxalic acid and commercial preparations before they are sent to the laundry, but the directions on rust removing preparations should be followed carefully and the garment should be thoroughly rinsed several times in clean water.

Be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions when using dry bleaches, warns a research and educational center of the laundering industry. Dry bleach is many times stronger than the liquid type. Holes may appear in towels after laundering if the towel has been used to dry a sink or tub beached with a over concentrated solution of dry bleach.

Blankets made from synthetic fibers are nice to have around the house if someone in the family has an allergy to wool or cotton. And to get the most for your money when buying either natural or synthetic blankets, check the blankets first by holding them up to the light. If thin spots show through, the blanket had best remain in the store. Another good check is to pull the "nap" or surface fibers of the blanket. The nap should be firm and should not pull out easily.

Napkins should not be used to pinch-hit for pot holders! The reason, is that the stain caused by the contact of the fabric with carbon-containing grease is practically impossible to remove. Laundering will remove a large portion of the discoloration produced by contact of a napkin with a blackened cooking pan, but a grey discolorization will remain in the fabric.

Recommends Sweet Potato To Vary Meal

The sweet potato, one of the most typically southern foods, offers a wide variety in the menu. It is not only indispensable as a vegetable but can be made into many delicious desserts.

Sweet Potato Biscuit
2 cups cooked mashed sweet potatoes
2 1/2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup buttermilk
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Add the shortening to the hot mashed potatoes. Mix well. Add buttermilk and mix until smooth. Sift and measure flour, add sugar, spices and soda. Sift again. Add to sweet potato mixture. Make into a soft dough. Roll and cut into biscuits. Bake in an oven 400 degrees for about 25 minutes.

Sweet Potato Souffle
2 cups cooked mashed sweet potato
1 cup hot milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
3 eggs
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Marshmallows

Add sugar, salt and butter to the hot milk, stirring until melted. Add to the mashed sweet potatoes. Beat until light and fluffy. Beat egg yolks and add to mixture. Add nutmeg, raisins, and nuts. Beat egg whites stiff. Fold into potato mixture. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Arrange the marshmallows on top. Bake in an oven 350 degrees until the souffle is set and the marshmallows toasted a delicate brown. Serve at once.

Sweet Potato Pie
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Salt
Pastry
Line pie plate with pastry
To the hot cooked mashed potato add butter, sugar, milk, salt, well beaten eggs, and lemon juice. Mix well. Pour into unbaked crust. Bake in an oven 425 degrees until brown, about 30 minutes.

-PORK GOES EUROPEAN

Try an occasional old-world recipe for pork to add variety to your meals.

Pork Chops Neapolitan
1 clove garlic
2 tablespoons cooking oil
6 pork chops, 1 inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
8 ounce can mushrooms
2 tablespoons mushroom liquid
1/4 cup tomato sauce
2 green peppers

Cook garlic in oil until yellow, remove garlic. Brown pork chops in oil, season with salt and pepper. Add drained mushrooms, liquid and tomato sauce.

Cut green peppers into very thin slices and spread over all. Cover and simmer for thirty-five minutes or until chops are well done.

Yield: Six servings.
For fun and good eating, serve hot buttered noodles with either pork recipe. A teaspoon of poppy seed tossed lightly with the noodles at the same time the butter is added gives a cosmopolitan flavor to the dish.

Peppered Pork
1 pound pork shoulder
1 stalk celery, cut in several pieces
1 slice onion
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 green pepper, chopped
1 1/2 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 tablespoons flour

Cut meat in one-inch cubes. Cover with 3 cups water, add celery and seasonings. Cover and simmer until tender. Drain and reserve liquid.

Cook minced onion and green pepper in fat until tender, add flour and liquid from meat. Add pork and cook ten minutes.
Yield: Four servings.

Use Meat In Family Daily Diet

Meat has so much to do with your health and well being that it is vitally important in the daily diet. Meat experts say it is not only easier but it is wise to follow the usual practice of planning your meals around meat because:

Meat has appetite appeal. Meat, more than any other food, possesses the quality of making the meal interesting and satisfying. The aroma and appearance of wellcooked, attractively served meat dishes stimulate the appetite and make meals more enjoyable.

Meat is palatable. Meat is one of the most palatable foods. The flavor of meat enhances the flavor of foods served with it.

Meat is satisfying. Meat gives a feeling of satisfaction for a long period of time. For this reason, meat plays an important part in reducing diets.

Meat permits wide selection. Meat, because of the many kinds and cuts available, can readily be made the center of a wide variety of menus.

Meat is nutritious. Meat supplies a large percentage of many essentials. In 1953, each American ate 6 3/4 ounces of meat a day. This amount of meat provides over 45 per cent of your daily protein requirements, 25 per cent of the calcium, nearly 25 per cent of phosphorus, nearly 41 per cent of iron and over one-fifth of the B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin and niacin).

There'll be lots of cranberries this year. Why not put a big supply in your freezer. They freeze and keep well without using sugar.

To steam iron your velvet dress, hold the steam iron one-half inch above the pile side of the fabric and let the steam penetrate it thoroughly.

Towel Tricks Alter Powder Room

Even a very modern powder room, filled with 20th century fixtures, can be right at home in a house decorated in Early American style. Cotton kitchen towels can help do the trick. Make cafe-style window curtains of a yellow and red kitchen towel printed with spinning wheels, rocking chairs and other Early Americana. Paint the walls a yellow to match that of the towels and put up a Colonial-style mirror of wood instead of a chromium medicine cabinet. Even a simple electric clock can go Colonial if you mount it in a wooden salad bowl lined with cotton chintz; bore a hole in the center for the clock cord. The bowl serves as a frame for the clock face.

Cranberry Pie is Party-Pretty

Pretty enough for a party, and as good as it looks, is a tapioca cream pie topped with bright red cranberries. The crust is the easy kind, made of vanilla wafers. Use your own favorite crumb crust recipe. The filling is delicious fluffy tapioca cream. It all adds up to good eating.

Cranberry Cream Pie
1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups milk
2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 teaspoon gelatin
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Vanilla Wafer Crumb Crust
Cranberry Glaze
1/2 cup cream, whipped

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with about 1/4 cup of the milk in saucepan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, quick-cooking tapioca, gelatin and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly—this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg white, blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be.) Add vanilla and blend well. Cool 20 minutes, stir, and turn into prepared Crumb Crust. Chill until firm. Top with Cranberry Glaze. Chill until glaze is firm. Before serving, top with whipped cream, if desired.

Cranberry Glaze: Soak 2 teaspoons gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water. Combine 1 1/2 cups cranberries and 1/2 cup water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, cover and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add 1/4 cup sugar and stir to mix. Let stand 5 minutes. Return to heat and cook 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat and add softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Cool until slightly thickened. Then pour over chilled pie filling.

House Humidity Best at 40-50, Experts Contend

If you're average you won't have much trouble determining what temperature is most liked by your family and house guests this winter—72 to 76 degrees seems to satisfy most of us. But what about relative humidity, an almost equally important factor in human health and comfort?

Some authorities—including heating engineers and doctors—say that relative humidity should be between 30 and 50 per cent when indoor temperatures are in the 70's. Others are more specific. They narrow it down to between 40 to 50 per cent. The situation is further complicated by the fact that these humidity levels must be modified—usually downward—because of the structural characteristics of the building, to prevent condensation on the windows and in the walls.

But no one, much less the homeowner, seems to know what a good average figure is. The fact is, science freely admits it doesn't know as much about humidity as it does about temperature. But scientists are working hard at it. According to Dr. Finn Larsen, whose research staff, associated with a leading heating equipment firm, has spent many years studying both humidity and temperature, a lot of information about humidity is misunderstood.

First of all, he points out, there are two problems: Too much moisture, or too high humidity, which usually occurs in summer months, and too little moisture, with the humidity too low, which is common in northern homes in winter months. Generally speaking, the humidity in our homes is too high in the summer and too low in the winter months. One reason for this, Dr. Larsen explains, is that our humidity sensations are related to temperature. It is also true that warm air holds more moisture than cold air. We are commonly interested in the relative humidity. For example, if the relative humidity is 50 per cent at 80 degree temperature, that means there is five times as much moisture in the air as when the relative humidity is 50 per cent at 35 degree temperature, he says.

Showers, cooking, dishwashing, and inside clothes-drying all add moisture to your home. In the summer, excess moisture in the air—generally high anyway—will make you uncomfortable and will cause damage to wallpaper, paint and other home equipment and material.

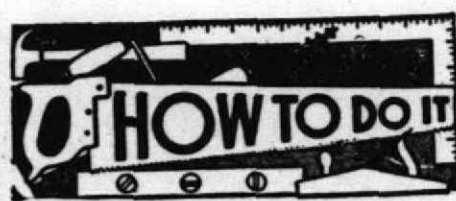

In the winter, on the other hand, temperatures are much lower and the total moisture in outside air is considerably less. As this air infiltrates or is otherwise brought into a home and heated, it will effectively be dried out even more. The relative humidity —and remember, this is what affects our sensations—will decrease, since the warmed air is capable of holding much more moisture.

As far as your home is concerned, extremely low humidity results in shrinkage on floor boards, woodwork and cracks in furniture. As far as you are concerned, you will find your nasal passages and skin-drying up. Some medical authorities believe that dryness of nasal passages may lead to increased susceptibility to respiratory infections, Dr. Larsen reports.

Increased knowledge and understanding of these facts, he says, has resulted in increased installation in recent years of year-around air conditioning. He says that an air conditioning unit's humidity control ability will make it a must in future homes. He reports that by the end of 1954 between 175,000 and 200,000 central air conditioning units will be installed in homes in this country.

As an accident prevention measure, paint the top and bottom steps of a basement stairway

American Builder magazine points out that labor cost in painting is always higher than the price of the paint, so that a more expensive but longer-lasting paint is cheaper in the long run.

To estimate the amount of paint needed, measure the distance around the house and multiply this figure by the height at the corners. This gives the total side area. The gables are figured by multiplying the height of a gable by one-half its width. The side area in the sketch equals the perimeter, 110 feet, multiplied by the height, 22 feet, a total of 2,420 square feet. Each gable is 8 feet by 12 1/2 feet, or 100 square feet, and both gables total 200 square feet.

To find the quantity of paint needed, divide the total area (2,620 square feet) by the area that can be effectively covered by one gallon, a figure that the paint dealer can give you.

Ways Suggested To Reduce Cost of Home Maintenance

Families who buy a new home for the first time seem to make a common oversight in their budgeting.

They carefully allow for insurance, taxes, utilities, interest and mortgage payments. But they completely forget about maintenance cost.

Many families assume that there is no maintenance cost to a new home. They forget that the day they begin to use the house, it starts to get older. As it gets older, there'll be plumbing to be fixed, walls to be repainted, floors to be re-sanded, plaster and mortar to be repaired.

In the years since the beginning of World War II, maintenance costs were more than offset by an increase in the value of the home. But now that the price of housing has become stabilized in most areas the homeowner can expect his property to depreciate at a normal rate. So he can't depend on appreciation in value to offset maintenance cost.

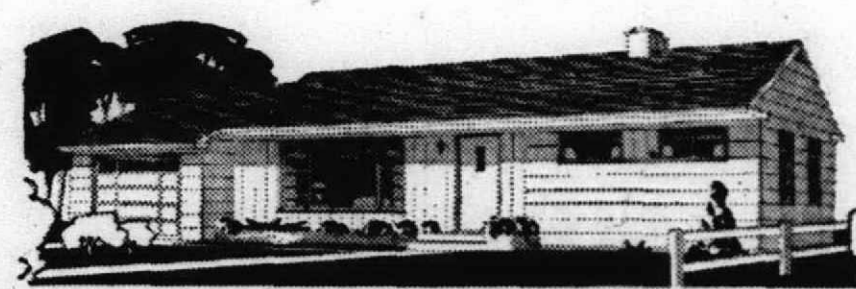

How much should be set aside to cover maintenance? The amount varies according to the type of home and the living habits of the family. But most experts agree that three to four per cent of the cost of the home is a good average figure to allow for maintenance.

Of course you can reduce the amount of money on maintenance. For example, you can finish the outside walls with a material like insulating siding. It comes with a factory-embossed finish that is good for the life of the material. So you save the cost of repainting the walls every two or three years.

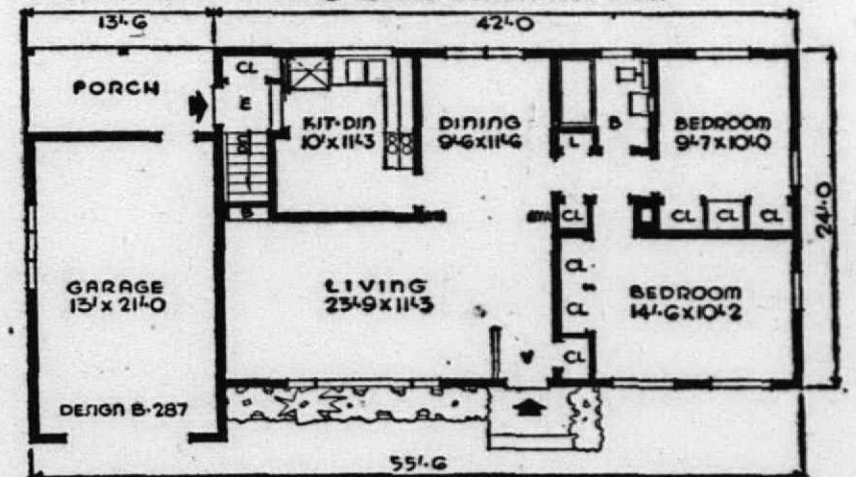

Comparable materials are available for finishing interior walls. They have hard finishes, again factory made, that will go a lifetime without further decorating.

Careful use and regular maintenance of plumbing can also head off major maintenance expenses for this critical part of the home. Traps should be cleaned regularly. Chemical cleaners should be put into the drains periodically. No grease or solid matter should be dumped into the system. Leaking faucets should be repaired before seating surfaces become permanently damaged and the seat must be reground or the faucet replaced.

Maintenance expense is part of owning a home. But its size depends largely on you. A little care and foresight can keep that expense from becoming a financial burden.

Browsing with BARBARA

Looking for something to give the little woman this Christmas? A suggestion might be the newest thing in electric ranges—the new 1955 Norge Dave Galin showed me at his Penniman avenue store. It's not only a beauty to look at but combines all the latest devices to make cooking a real pleasure.

The first feature that catches your eye on this new range is the "adjust-a-lite" range lamp. This lamp swings up or down and rotates forward and backward so the cook can illuminate any spot on the stove she chooses.

Something else that's been added to this new Norge range are the 7-speed "Tele-Vue" controls. Each of the seven heat speeds from low to high are identified by a different color, so it's no longer necessary to peer at the dials to determine which speed you're on. You can see by the color from a distance.

Two outlets, one you can time automatically, are included on the new Norge as well as the Visu-matic clock timer which operates both ovens. The timed outlet is handy for automatic use of small appliances. Another attractive feature of the new range is the convenient tilt-a-bin spice drawer.

The new "Redi-Griddle" convertible top has a special dial for selecting the right heat for broiling, frying, etc. And the handy "touch and lift" cover may be used for converting the griddle into additional work space. There's a hi-lo deep fryer with drain basket, too, which can be raised and converted into a regular cooking unit.

The two ample ovens are a boon to the housewife. On the larger of the two ovens there's a picture window illuminated by an interior light which affords the cook a quick peek at what's going on inside without opening the door of the oven.

You can get the new 1955 Norge range in either electric or gas types, depending upon the cook's preference. The Redi-Griddle on the gas range may be converted into a heating unit as well, and the banus burner comes right with the stove.

After a paint brush has been thoroughly cleaned, the bristles should be combed to straighten it.

Sump Pumps and Back-Flow Valves Guard Against Basement Flooding

Floods associated with hurricanes and extra heavy seasonal rains in many sections of the country have acquainted thousands of homeowners for the first time with the problem of water in the basement.

How to avoid a repetition of the damage thus caused is a matter of interest and vital concern to all such afflicted householders right now.

There are several ways to prevent basement flooding, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

One way is by installing a sump pump. A sump is a pit, or the lowest point in a basement drainage system.

The pump is installed in the sump. When the water rises to a predetermined level, a float valve turns on the pump automatically. When the water recedes to a safe level, the pump automatically shuts off.

Sump pumps, available in a number of different sizes to meet variations in load requirements, are on guard 24 hours a day against flooding caused by the backup of water from inadequately sized storm sewers.

Occasionally during a heavy storm sanitary sewers back up and flood the basement, causing a serious health hazard as well as water damage.

The best way to guard against such an unfortunate occurrence, the Bureau points out, is to install a back-flow valve in the house sewer or drainage line beneath the basement floor.

A back-flow valve consists of a hinged metal disc, which flaps shut across the bore of the drainage pipe the minute reverse flow of sewage occurs.

Cellar drainers and back-flow valves, which should be installed under the supervision of a qualified plumbing contractor, assure dry basements at all times. As such, they represent one of the soundest investments in home protection the homeowner can make, the Bureau emphasizes.

Time To Think About Making Yule Decorations

Soon the department store workshops and sign studios will be turning out Santa Claus and reindeer figures galore, plus a whole regiment of related Christmas decor for the busy shopping season.

Right in step with these commercial workshops will be countless thousands of home owners, all of them anxious to give their property an aura of the Christmas spirit. They will soon visit their lumber dealer for the materials needed in creating these pleasant accompaniments of a that can be used year after year.

Whether the yuletide decorations are for commerce or home, they have one thing in common; in the majority of cases, the joyful figures of Santa and his prancing Vixen and the rest of the Christmas figures, religious and pagan, are made of sturdy, weather-proof all-wood material that can be used year after year.

Both professional and amateur craftsmen have learned that hardboard has the stamina needed for exposure to wintry elements, that it cuts readily and can be decorated colorfully with a minimum of paint, that next year and the years after, the same cutouts can be used over and over.

Religious dioramas have become increasingly popular in recent years. Whether the display is life-size or in miniature for showing in a window, hardboard or plywood can be used effectively.

In addition to making the customary Christmas figures, home owners can construct holly wreaths, brightly painted in traditional colors to hang on the front door or inside, fit-together Christmas trees for the display of greeting cards, festive table mats and coasters, place card holders and the like.

With some limited inexpensive materials purchased from a local lumber dealer and a bit of imagination, the home craftsman can dress up his home handsomely this Christmas season.

Frank Munton, a conductor on the Pere Marquette, broke his leg Monday morning in a peculiar manner. He was standing by the side of a stove in a caboose of his train, when some cars which were being shunted, came together against the caboose with such violence that the shock threw the conductor over the stove and onto the floor. His leg striking the stove broke the bone just below the knee. Dr. Patterson reduced the fracture and the man was sent to his home in Grand Rapids.

Jacob Streng vacated the Plymouth hotel last Thursday and Edward O'Brien, the new landlord, took possession. We understand some extensive improvements are contemplated in the hostelry.

Madonna Wreath Ceremony Held

Christmas preparations began at Madonna College with the observance of the traditional Advent Wreath ceremony.

The symbolic wreath, representing God's eternity and the unceasing flow of time, is placed in the students' dining room. Last Monday, Leona Wisniewski, Sodality Prefect, lit the first of the four candles which symbolize the 4,000 years the world waited for the Savior. She also led the students in the recitation of the Collect of the Mass of the first Sunday of Advent.

This observance will continue during the second and third weeks of Advent, and will be carried into the homes of the students during the fourth week of Advent.

Through this Sodality project the students obtain a deeper meaning of the penitential season of Advent.

A SWITCH OF THE PITCH
—AND AWAY YOU GO!
The biggest sensation in years is what "variable pitch propellers" have done for Dynaflo Drive*

It happens like this. You need pickup — and pronto. So you get it. You get it by pushing the accelerator pedal of a 1955 Buick all the way to the floor board.

Then — without jerk or lag or lurch or pause — you get action! You get action whether you're just starting off — or asking for a safety-surge of power out on the highway.

There's nothing like it in past experience — because there has never been anything like it in an automobile before.

This is action that comes from the principle of variable pitch propellers used on modern planes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for take-off — and cut hundreds of feet off the time required to lift a plane from a runway.

And the amazing fact is — in a 1955

Buick Dynaflo Drive there are 20 little propeller-like blades that also change their pitch, just like the propeller blades of a plane.

This is a transmission engineer's dream of heaven. A build-up of momentum as smooth as flowing oil — and almost as quick as lightning — plus better gas mileage in cruising range. It's what the whole automobile industry has been shooting for — and Buick has it.

So, that mean

there's only one thing for you to do. Try out a 1955 Buick, and soon.

Try it out for quick action, as we've mentioned. Try it out for room and comfort and ride. And by all means, cast an admiring eye on its style — for it beats the high-fashion Buicks which set the pattern in the successful year just ended.

We're waiting and eager to hear from you soon. So drop in — or give us a call. We promise you a thrill that no other car can deliver.

Postmaster Gives Rules For Mailing

Postmaster George Timpona believes that with a three-cent stamp your Christmas cards will win more friends and influence more people than if they are mailed with a two-cent stamp.

"First-class postage," he explained today, "is the best Yuletide insurance you can get. With it your greetings will be processed and delivered quicker. And they'll be forwarded, or returned, if it becomes necessary."

"This eliminates any worry about whether or not your season's greetings were received. Your own return address on the envelope will help others keep their address books up to date. Then, too, Christmas cards sent with three-cent stamps may carry written messages, a custom everyone enjoys."

None of these postal privileges are authorized at the third-class rates. Moreover, Christmas card envelopes smaller than 2 1/4" x 4" or larger than 9" x 12" require cancellation by hand, and must carry first-class postage.

"Because of all these reasons," the postmaster added, "it's important not to be penny wise and pound foolish where Christmas cards are concerned. Most people realize this, evidently, for the volume of first-class and air mail stamps being sold has increased."

Equally important is the necessity for early mailing. Christmas cards addressed outside the state should be mailed by December

15. Local delivery requires mailing at least a week before Christmas.

Postmaster Timpona urges everyone to tie their Christmas cards in two separate bundles, with each address facing the same way. Then attach a label marked "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY." These helpful tags are available at the post office, without cost, and will shorten delivery time greatly.

Parcel post, of course, should be mailed even earlier. The Postmaster recommends December 5 for out-of-state gifts, and December 10 for those with local addresses. But the sooner the better.

Poorly-wrapped packages are another risk to avoid. Mailing cartons of corrugated fiberboard offer excellent protection. Stuff them with wads of tissue or newspaper to cushion any shock. Then use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord tied over and under several times.

Gift packages may not be sealed, unless the return address and this notice appear: "Contents, Merchandise—May be opened for postal inspection." Christmas seals and "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers may be used, but place them on back of the parcel, leaving the address easy to read.

As a final precaution, Postmaster Timpona suggested, "Write both your return address and the recipient's address on the mailing carton before it's wrapped. We'll do our best to protect them, but the Christmas mail is unusually heavy this year, and those packages may have a long way to go."

New Books at Dunning Library

Two novels on the current best-seller list arrived in the Friday shipment of new books to the Dunning library. The best sellers are: "My Brother's Keeper" by Marcia Davenport and Anva Seton's "Katherine."

Among the other new books are: "Always the Young Strangers" by Carl Sandburg; Margaret Cooper Gay's "Hatchet in the Sky," and "The Rhubarb Patch" by Stein and Barber. The latter is the story of the modern Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ethel Wilson's novel "Swamp Angel," also arrived Friday as did "The Captain Called It Mutiny" by Frederick F. Van de Water, Powell's "The Wicked Pavilion" and a new book on light verse by David McCord called "Odds without Ends."

A guide to clothes buying has been published under the title of "It's Still Spinach" by Elizabeth Hawes. "The Redeemers" by Leo W. Schwarz is a saga of the years 1945-1952.

Other additions to the library's collection are "Launcelot, My Brother," a novel by Dorothy James Roberts, Mark Derby's "The Bad Step" and "Lootens on Photographic Enlarging and Print Quality" published by the American Photographic Book Publishing Company, Inc.

Protection Group Gives Warning of Bait Advertising

Use of "bait" advertising in the sale of rebuilt sewing machines was strongly condemned by the Community Protection committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

"The National Better Business Bureau reports the problem exists in nearly every community across the nation," the committee said, on the basis of a bulletin just received from that organization. It defines "bait advertising" as "an alluring offer to sell something which the advertiser does not sincerely want to sell, or tries not to sell, or deliberately avoids selling."

The scheme begins with the advertisement of 'beautifully rebuilt' machines at unbelievably 'low prices,' the committee reported. "However, when the salesman calls, he immediately starts to run down the advertised product. Parts are missing; he can't thread it; he can't make it work. But he just happens to have with him a brand new 'Mercury' or 'Hoover,' or some other well known brand name which, however, has nothing to do with sewing machines. That one is listed at $189.50, but the lucky customer is told he can have it for $139.50 plus carrying charges. Thus, the customer is 'switched' to the new machine which usually has a sewing head-ful work which went into the re-conditioning.

"The National Better Business Bureau also reports heavy use of phoney 'contests' to bait customers into buying off brand machines. It's the sort of contest where everybody gets a prize-like a $50 credit check on a new $189.50 machine, which regularly sells for $139.50."

LOCAL INSURANCE Agent Kenneth R. Bisbee received nation-wide recognition during November by being featured in a series of full-page advertisements in several of the leading insurance magazines. Bisbee is associated with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J., and was selected as one of the company's 12 outstanding representatives. He resides at 440 North Harvey street.

FROM THE UNIVERSITY of Michigan comes word of the election of Ann Sumner as president of her class at Stockwell dormitory. Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Sumner of Bradner road. She is a freshman.

A BACHELOR of Arts degree in political science will be conferred on Walter Hammond at Michigan State college Monday evening at the fall term commencement exercises. Walter is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond of 302 Sunset.

ANOTHER PLYMOUTH insurance man received honors this week as the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York announced that Fred Van Dyke of Joy road had been named to the 1954 Top Club. The honor group is comprised of the company's leading field underwriters.

"HAIL TO VICTOR," U of M's Union Opera, will be presented at the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor on December 8, 9 and 10. The all male musical comedy is a satire on college life. The "Union Opera" has a 47-year history at the university and is sponsored by the Mimes Society, an honorary group which includes Governor Thomas E. Dewey and TV-Star Robert Q. Lewis among its members.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The pattern of hunting activity during opening days of Michigan's 1954 deer season was somewhat different from last year, although results were much the same.

Conservation department workers reported about the same number of hunters active in the upper peninsula for the opening this year; in the northern lower peninsula, hunter numbers were down 10-25 percent.

The major reason is believed to be the difference in opening days. The Monday opening this year required many hunters to use vacation time for their sport where last year, a Sunday opening, they could hunt the single day, then return home.

State research workers believe much of this difference in hunting pressure will be erased during the first full weekend of hunting.

Michigan's Tree Farm Program is slated for expansion next year.

Michigan has 338 farms certified under the program as "outstanding examples of good forest management." The farms total 673,000 acres and are scattered generally throughout the state.

Conservation department foresters have helped with the work of checking and certifying these farms in the past, but Michigan Forest Industries, the sponsoring organization, plans to have industrial foresters handle more of these chores during the coming expansion period.

"Rapid additions to the ranks of industry-employed foresters in the past five years makes an immediate expansion of our Tree Farm program possible," says Charles G. Allen, a paper industry official and chairman of the MFI.

Lake trout eggs—312 quarts of them—were received by the conservation department from Lake Superior commercial fishermen during the seven-day period following reopening of the fishing season Nov. 4.

With an estimated 6,000 eggs to the quart, this means that department hatcheries have 1,872,000 new eggs to put through the first stages of development. Mortality in these eggs is high, however, the hatchery workers will be well pleased if 50 percent develop into healthy fish. Most of them will be returned to Lake Superior as fingerlings. The remainder will be stocked in the state's inland waters.

This year's supply of eggs from Lake Superior is down about 40 percent from the record-breaking take last year when 532 quarts—3.2 million eggs—were received. Weather was ideal for the work last year.

One and a half million fishing licenses and an equal number of fish law digests for 1955 are being distributed by the conservation department to 4,000 dealers throughout the state. They were made available Dec. 1.

The license fee for residents remains the same as last year—$1.50. Wives will again be permitted to fish without charge and no license will be required for those under 17 years of age.

The 15-day and annual non-resident fishing licenses fees are increased from $2 and $3 and $4, respectively. A trout stamp will again cost $1.

Reports of 63 convictions of conservation law violators were received in state offices last week.

The total was lower than the previous week. Most infractions involved deer poachers and violators paid generally high fines and costs.

During the five years preceding the current season, deer hunters in Michigan accidentally killed 75 persons and wounded 297—an average of 15 deaths and 59 nonfatal injuries a year. This statement is taken from an article, "Death Wears a Red Cap," in the current issue of the magazine, Bluebook.

Written by E. E. Tucker, chief of the conservation department's law enforcement section, the article calls nationwide attention to the story of deer hunting accidents as they are recorded in the department's files. Detailed accounts are cited to point up the extreme seriousness of the problem.

As a partial solution, Tucker suggests more severe treatment in law courts of "those whose neglect has been gross or culpable." He is of the opinion that society's attitude is too lenient. "Tougher and more widespread enforcement of laws governing safe use of firearms might also reduce the toll," he writes. It is his opinion that more interstate conferences on safety such as those initiated in Michigan in 1950 will help.

In conclusion, he states: "No matter how you analyze it, the real job of stopping this awful slaughter lies with the hunter. He must recognize the symptoms of trigger fever and be wary. He must police his own delinquencies. He must be stern, tough and unyielding with himself."

Alfalfa has been murdered. Alfalfa was an eight-point, 200-pound deer held in a pen at the Ogemaw state game refuge.

He was killed and removed from his pen one night shortly before deer season opened. Police and conservation officers are investigating the case.

This is the time of year for fires, and while they are pretty, they can be enjoyed more in their place. Be careful to keep them there this season.

There are a lot of ways to make big money quickly; unfortunately, most of them are dishonorable.
