

Approve Sunday Sales Ordinance

A new ordinance prohibiting the sale of certain items on Sunday was given unanimous approval by city commissioners Monday night despite arguments against the law by two citizens.

The ordinance was given its second and third readings and will become effective March 29. Specifically, it prohibits sale of cars, furniture, floor coverings, appliances, television sets and radios on Sunday. Exempted are those "who conscientiously believe that the seventh day of the week should be observed as the Sabbath and actually refrain from secular business or labor on that day."

Voicing their objections to the ordinance were Roy Pursell, 639 South Main, and Max Trucks, 417 Pacific. Pursell declared that the ordinance is "legislation against religion rather than anything else." Quoting George Washington's statement: "Government, like fire, is a dangerous servant and a fearful master," Pursell said that such a law would prove unconstitutional.

"This kind of law indicates to the businessman who seeks a place in Plymouth that government protection here is no longer general protection but arbitrary," Pursell continued. "Who is to say that one man can stay open on Sunday because he operates an ice cream parlor, but his neighbor can't because he operates another kind of a store?"

He then cited a "transient merchants tax" which Plymouth once had which imposed a $25 tax on temporary businesses. "The city manager once signed a warrant against a property owner of the city and the police hailed her into court because she opened a candy store in the library basement. The judge, right in this very room, pronounced it not only unconstitutional but also unreasonable and it went into the wastebasket."

"That is where this proposed ordinance should go before it drives away prospective businessmen and causes the city unnecessary expense and makes Plymouth look silly in the eyes of our neighbors," Pursell declared.

Later in the meeting, Trucks stated his objections by comparing the proposal with "Blue Laws." "Although I don't think I will ever be a retailer wanting to operate on Sunday," Trucks declared, "I don't think the city has a right to tell a person what they cannot do on Sunday." He added that once something like this gets started, it never stops. He cited a law in a Canadian town where it is illegal to mow the lawn on Sunday.

Commissioner Eleanor Hammond stated that "We have always had a right to regulate what should be done in the city by passing various laws. There does seem to be some moral issue involved in this ordinance. We also feel that we should keep the town as quiet and clean as possible and not open it up."

The mayor pointed out that there are no stores in Plymouth violating this law but that it will be on the books "just in case."

Father Lefevre, Former Resident, Succumbs at 65

The Reverend Frank C. Lefevre, former pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel church and highly-regarded member of this community, died last Friday morning at the rectory of St. Margaret Mary church, Detroit, from a heart attack shortly after he had celebrated mass at the Detroit church. He was 65 years of age.

Funeral arrangements were made through the George P. Warrick funeral home, 1093 East Grand boulevard, Detroit. The body lay in state at St. Margaret Mary church, where he was pastor, from 2 p.m. Monday until 10 a.m. Tuesday when the office of the dead was said. The funeral mass was held at 10:30 a.m.

Born in Detroit, Father Lefevre had spent all the years of his priesthood in the metropolitan area. He was ordained a priest July 4, 1915 after graduation from St. Francis seminary in Milwaukee.

From 1920 to 1938 he was pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel church here in Plymouth, a parish which he formed. The church was completely destroyed by fire on December 23, 1932, following which services were held in the chapel of Schrader's funeral home until the new church basement was finished in 1934. Rebuilding of the present church was completed in 1949.

During his Plymouth residence Father Lefevre became the first chaplain at the House of Correction, Wayne County Training school, Maybury Sanatorium and the Felician convent.

As president of the Plymouth Rotary club from 1935-1936, Father Lefevre originated the idea of making some member of the high school senior class a Junior Rotarian. The custom has been maintained ever since with two senior boys invited to be guests of the organization for a month's period.

For the past 17 years Father Lefevre had been pastor of St. Margaret Mary church, 5075 Lamy, in Detroit.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. August Van Slambrouck and Sister M. Concella of Adrian. A brother, Edwin C. Lefevre, also survives.

Township Names Own Group to Study Merger

Consolidation Fact-Finding Search Starts

Machinery of the Plymouth Community Study committee was put into gear Monday night when sub-committees were appointed to study a dozen various phases of the controversial city-township consolidation issue and were instructed to make their first reports next month.

Nearly 60 people crowded into the city commission chambers—half of them being committee members, others being city and township officials and the remainder as on-lookers. Carl Caplin, secretary of the board of education, took over chairmanship of the study committee "temporarily" to replace previously-appointed Frank Henderson.

Word that the township board has appointed a study group of its own and some vocal objections by a Five Mile road farmer concerning the township members on the city study group threw the meeting into some confusion during the first hour. For a short time there was some serious discussion about "firing" the present township members and replacing

Employment Post Filled by Packard

Gordon C. Packard, who served as manager of the Plymouth office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission for about six months last year, has been reappointed to the post to replace Clarence Jetter whose resignation became effective Monday.

Packard has been with the commission 17 years, having served as manager of the Ypsilanti office 12 years and as assistant manager in Ann Arbor, Monroe and Wayne. His home is in Ann Arbor.

Jetter announced his resignation last week. He is devoting his full time to an enterprise known as "Travel-Ad-Service." He was manager here 10 years.

Packard served here as manager last year while Jetter appealed his transfer to Ypsilanti to the Civil Service commission. He won his appeal and was returned here as manager.

School Planning Group Undertakes Bond Issue Explanation Program

Many school problems, including the question of how to explain the school district's plan to finance the $3,000,000 bond issue to appear on the March 28 ballot, were discussed by the School Community Planning Group last week.

Harold Fischer was appointed as chairman of a committee to publicize the bond issue. His committee will attempt to reach every P.T.A., most service clubs and as many voters as possible to explain the complex financial arrangement necessary to float a $3,000,000 bond issue.

Although the group realized that most voters know that the plan will not raise their present tax rate, they will attempt to explain how this is accomplished.

The bond issue will finance the purchase of school sites, build and equip a new elementary school on a Sheldon road site, build and equip a new junior high on a site located in the southeast section of Plymouth, build and equip another elementary school (the site yet unknown), refund outstanding bonds issued in 1949, remodel the present junior high and senior high to meet needs of the high school, and pay the first six months interest and cost of the bond issue.

In other business before the planning group, the problem of student drivers was discussed and a recommendation was made that all student cars be identified with a sticker. The motion appointed the traffic safety sub-committee, supplemented by students, to work out a car sticker plan and give it a test until June.

CHARGING IN for a lay-up shot is Plymouth's Dick Day, as other Rocks and St. Joseph players chase after him. The local cagers stormed from behind to win 37-33 over the Detroit squad and capture a first-round victory in the regional class "A" tourney.

Plymouth Cagers Win Regional Opener; Play Second Round Tilt Here Tonight

Despite the near-collapse of the Plymouth high school cagers managed to eke out a narrow 37-33 decision over an even more disorganized Detroit St. Joseph quintet, last Tuesday evening.

By virtue of this victory the Rocks climbed the first rung of the seventh regional class "A" basketball tournament ladder. Two steps remain to a regional championship.

Displaying only a ragged resemblance to the same squad that racked up more than 170 points in its last two games, the Rocks continually muffed easy shots and threw the ball away at every turn, only to erupt in the final minutes to capture a scant win.

The Plymouth rooting section loosed a solid wall of cheers as Plymouth's lanky all-league center, Bob Middleton, dunked in the winning basket with less than two minutes remaining. Only moments before the Rock's stocky guard, Dick Day, had knotted the count at 33-33.

As total aftermath Middleton added an insurance bucket with only 15 seconds left to play. This tally came as the result of the St.

Joseph squad ignoring its defensive tactics in order to attempt to break up the last minute freeze Plymouth had going.

St. Joseph jumped to a quick six point margin in the opening minutes of the contest as Plymouth was slow getting underway. Even though the locals managed to get the range late in the period, they still trailed by five points at the first quarter's end.

City Taking Over Ann Arbor Trail

Motorists entering Plymouth from the east via Ann Arbor trail may someday get a more pleasant opinion of the town because of an improved street. The Wayne County Road commission has decided to relinquish its jurisdiction of the street to the city of Plymouth.

Because of a limited budget, the road commission has long put off local requests to fix the crumbling street with no curbing. The county has jurisdiction of Ann Arbor trail from the east city limits to Hamilton street.

At the request of city Manager Albert Glassford, the road commission decided at a meeting on February 24 to relinquish its jurisdiction. The city commission now has plans to pave the street, install curb and gutter and possibly replace sidewalk on the north side. This will be discussed at a public hearing on the improvement at some later date.

Also under consideration is the seal coating of Ann Arbor trail from Hamilton to South Main and the widening and paving of the street from Forest avenue to Harvey street. Plans call for the newly-acquired portion to be paved with concrete.

The jurisdiction of the street will be turned over to the city at 12:01 a.m. on April 1.

Motorist Suffers Attack at Wheel

A 72-year-old Plymouth man who suffered a heart attack while driving his car escaped possible drowning Tuesday morning when his car plunged over an embankment toward Wilcox lake.

Police said that John Kahrl, 9295 South Main street, was driving north on Starkweather avenue at the intersection of North Mill when he "blacked out" from the attack. His car jumped the curb and plunged down the embankment amid numerous trees until it struck two trees and halted at the water's edge.

If the car had entered the lake, it is possible that the driver would have drowned police said. Kahrl was taken by patrolmen to the office of a local doctor and was later transferred to University hospital in Ann Arbor. He is reported recovering.

the second stanza, the Rock's enabled the Detroit quintet to stretch its lead to 22-15 at half-time. Neither team presented championship form in this first half, although the Blue-jays captain, Gino Palloroli, displayed sharp playmaking ability and floor generalship.

The third quarter found the Rocks sparked by sharp-shooting Larry Wilhelm, who contributed six of the 12 points Plymouth counted in this period. Outsourcing their opponents 12 points to nine, the Rocks managed to creep to within striking distance as this stanza was completed with the scoreboard reading 31-27.

Plymouth's sputtering attack up to this point was nothing compared to the collapse suffered by the visiting Blue-jays in the last quarter. While the locals were sinking the tying and winning baskets in a 10-point final effort, St. Joseph could tally only one

City Studying New Census Question

Whether or not a new census will help Plymouth in receiving a bigger share of certain tax funds will be the problem to be studied by the city manager and commissioners.

The Livonia council recently went on record as favoring a state-wide "interim census" and has requested that Plymouth decide to do likewise. Because some tax funds are distributed according to population, many communities which have grown rapidly since the 1950 Federal census are behind a movement for a special census.

Plymouth township last year approved a resolution to have a special census taken in Wayne county. But since Detroit would stand to gain little or nothing, their veto of the movement won out.

City Manager Albert Glassford told commissioners Monday night that a census would cost about five cents per person and that the city could receive about $6.32 for each new person above the 1950 census. It is believed that the city has grown about 17 per cent since the 1950 census.

Commissioners decided to turn the question over to the city manager and city attorney for study.

16-Member Committee to Act Independently of City Team

While the city's 32-member committee opened its discussions of city-township merger problems this week, the Plymouth township board announced that it has appointed a 16-member study group of its own to consider the same issue as well as look into other township problems.

The township board approved the study group at its

City's Fire Loss Hits $75,751 During Past Year

Plymouth's fire loss in 1954 climbed to $75,751.54, according to a report filed with the city commission by Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister. Last year's loss was only $7,867.

A major share of the fire loss was due to a blaze on February 13, 1954, which originated in the Fashion Shoe store on Ann Arbor trail. The store's contents were almost a complete loss. Two neighboring stores, Papes' House of Gifts and Capitol Shirt Shops, were damaged by smoke and water.

Of the total loss, about $19,872 was damage to buildings, $55,070 was damage to contents and $908 was other types of damage.

The fire department made 122 runs last year, 41 of them fire calls and the remainder being other types of calls such as use of the resuscitator. There was one false alarm.

Ten of the fires were in dwellings, seven were auto fires, two were bulk storage fires, 13 were grass fires and there were eight other types. Actual home fires loss was $8,106 on the building and $1,470 in contents.

Careless burning of rubbish caused 13 fires in the city last year. Careless smoking caused three other fires and careless use of matches caused two. Firemen were also called four times due to overheated heating devices and once each to extinguish fires caused by a defective heating device, a gas fire, misuse of petroleum products and a minor using matches.

Water Promised For New School

City water for the proposed elementary school on Sheldon road was promised to the board of education by the city commission Monday night.

Since the proposed building is located outside the city limits, permission was needed from the commission to extend the water main. If city water were not given to the school, it would be necessary to drill a well.

Commissioners gave their unanimous approval of the water main extension. The present water system extends through Green Meadows to the intersection of Sheldon and Joy roads.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister reported, however, that the present eight-inch line would not give enough pressure to supply two fire plugs at the school. If adequate pressure was given by enlarging pipe sizes along Ann Arbor road and Sheldon road, insurance rates would be lowered $500 a year.

It will now remain up to the board of education to determine if they want this increased pressure. If they do, the city commission must then decide who will finance and how to finance the enlarged portion of the system. The school must pay for extending the pipeline from Joy road southward to its school site.

Bound to Circuit Court

Trial in circuit court now awaits Joe Donohue, 683 Kellogg, who has been arraigned on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. He was driver of one of the cars involved in a head-on collision January 29 which took the lives of two people.

Donohue appeared for examination last Friday before Justice of the Peace Whitney Ballantine of Nankin township. He was released under $2,000 bond two weeks ago following his arraignment.

Sheriff's detectives said that no date has been set for the trial.

regular monthly meeting last Wednesday night. Whereas the city-appointed committee consists of 16 people living in the city and 16 who live outside the city, the township study group is composed wholly of township residents.

In his announcement to The Mail, Supervisor Roy Lindsay stated that the "committee of 16 residents from different parts of Plymouth township has been appointed by the board to study civic problems relating to current and anticipated needs in the area. The need for analysis and careful planning of municipal services to meet the requirements of a rapidly growing community has long been a major consideration of the township board."

"For these reasons," Lindsay continued, "the committee has been set up to undertake a thorough analysis of various community problems and to make specific recommendations to the board." He added that because the study group is composed of residents selected from all sections of the township, it is expected that the advantages of various opinions will be gained.

"In recognition of the current discussion by certain groups of consolidation of city and township," his statement continued, "one of the first tasks to be assigned the committee will be a study of this problem."

Named as chairman of the study group is Frank Millington, 14900 Beck road, who is also president of the Plymouth Township Improvement association. M. J. Huber, 9429 South Main street, has been appointed secretary.

Others who have agreed to serve on the committee are: John G. VanHoy, 9460 Sheldon road; Robert S. Lawson, 47818 Powell road; Ralph Garber, 46225 North Territorial road; Clark G. Finley, 41211 Wilcox road; Wilbert Thompson, 11885 Haggerty road; Mrs. Maude G. Mitchell, 9211 South Main.

Youths Enter Guilty Pleas

Pleas of guilty were entered Monday in a circuit court arraignment of three Central Michigan college students who were involved in a series of crimes here and in other Michigan cities.

Appearing in Saginaw before Circuit Court Judge James O'Neal were William L. Moore and Lawrence Tillotson of Plymouth and John Spencer of Midland, Michigan.

The fourth member of the group, Donald Northcote of Clarkston, Michigan, remains in Midland county jail to await his hearing on a bad check charge.

The youths appearing in Saginaw court, all 19 years old, were charged with breaking and entering in the night time. They were placed under a $1,000 bond but still remain in jail. Northcote was scheduled to appear Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Henry Hart of Midland but absence of a court reporter postponed the hearing.

Each of the boys were involved in one or more of three burglaries in Plymouth. If authorities in Saginaw or Midland would have decided not to prosecute, the foursome would have faced charges here. Police said that Spencer, Moore and Tillotson were involved in the $1,500 theft of clothing from Davis and Lent; that Northcote, Moore and Tillotson took photographic equipment from the Gaffield Studio; and Moore and Tillotson were responsible for the theft of a tape recorder and record player from the Dunning Library.

Almost all of the stolen goods has been recovered.

IT'S AMAZING how much you can collect in 31 years! It appears that this thought was passing through the minds of National Bank of Detroit Vice President Floyd Kehrl (left) and Jack Taylor, assistant vice-president. Kehrl and Taylor had to move all their belongings from the Penniman office to the corner location last weekend. Mr. Kehrl started his banking career May 1, 1924 in the same office pictured above. Mr. Taylor joined him one year later. The Penniman branch is being transformed into an installment loan office.

Miss Joyce A. Richardson
Joyce Richardson's
Betrothal Announced

Mrs. Blanche Richardson of 148 Wayne road announces the engagement of her daughter, Joyce Ann, to Roy Dague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dague of 26529 Arlington street, Roseville, Michigan.

Joyce, daughter of the late James B. Richardson, graduated from Plymouth high school in January. Roy attended high school in Wayne.

Date for the wedding has not been set.

Elaine Fox to Wed
Resident of Wayne

Miss Elaine Fox

The engagement of Elaine Fox to Corporal Robert Cockrum of 634 Linville street, Wayne, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Dean of 1872 Knolson.

Elaine is a student at Plymouth high school and will graduate this June. Following training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, Corporal Cockrum has recently been assigned to overseas duty.

A definite date for the wedding has not been set.

Miss Helen M. Graham

Announce Betrothal Of Helen M. Graham

Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Cherryhill road announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Marie, to Kenneth E. Hitchcock, son of Mrs. Garnet Hunter of Sutherland avenue and Gene Hitchcock of Opa Locia, Florida.

A May wedding is being planned.

Announce Engagement Of Faye Parmenter

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Parmenter of Walled Lake, former Plymouth residents, announce the engagement of their daughter, Faye Ann, to Lawrence Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Patterson of Clymer, Pennsylvania.

A definite date for the wedding has not been set.

Schroder-Campbell Nuptials
Solemnized in Dixboro Home

At a wedding ceremony held Saturday, February 26, Dawn Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Del Campbell of 42300 Clearview, Northville became the bride of Cliff Schroder. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schroder of 46605 West Seven Mile road, Northville.

The Reverend Cora Pennell, who officiated at a similar service for the bride's parents 23 years ago, conducted the 8 o'clock nuptial ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Avis, 5031 Warren road, Dixboro. The Avises are aunt and uncle of the bride.

Candelabra and baskets of white carnations were decorations for the occasion. "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Millan George from Northville, with Mrs. Jack Boyd, sister of the bridegroom, presiding at the piano.

The bride selected a white lace gown of ballerina-length, worn with pearls. White roses and carnations formed the bridal bouquet.

CD Head Speaks To Homeowners

William Siebert, county director of Civil Defense, was the guest speaker last Friday night before the Parkview Circle Homeowners association. He reviewed the dangers of a nuclear weapons war and answered many questions from the homeowners.

Introducing the speaker was Leo Flowers, director of the Plymouth Township Civil Defense unit. Flowers took applications from many of the association members who desire to work in some phase of Civil Defense.

The speaker first reviewed Russia's history and their pledge to someday destroy capitalism and the capitalist nations. He then outlined the effectiveness of the United States defense. Radar, he said, is still quite ineffective. Low-flying planes, for instance, can get through a radar net. Ground observers are one means of patching up holes in the net.

Russia has a definite advantage over our nation in a number of ways. U.S. has many big target cities where industry and population are concentrated. Russia, on the other hand, has wide-dispersed industry and population. There are about a half dozen sizeable cities but their destruction would not result in a "knock-out" blow.

Russia is also maintaining an equally effective long-range flying force. If 1,000 bombers headed for the U.S., Siebert said, the most we could down is 250. One atom or hydrogen bomb dropped on a city would be enough to wipe it out.

Asked how the average citizen can prepare for a bomb attack or help the Civil Defense cause, Siebert stated that women are being urged to take first aid courses and that men can fill many positions in the CD set-up. A householder should learn all he can about effects of a bomb blast. He should select a shelter spot, possibly in the basement. It should be stocked with food, and water. A first aid kit should be on hand. Gas will be turned off in case of an attack and telephones will be disconnected.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kuhns, 740 Parkview drive.

At a dinner meeting of the Ex-service-Men's club and Ladies Auxiliary, presentation of a cake was made by her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry, and a plant as a gift from the club.

A 12:30 luncheon has been planned by the organization for Friday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Campbell, 246 Wing court, Northville. Slated for April 2 is the Saturday evening Card Party to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, 41956 Ann Arbor trail.

Mrs. Jessie Terry
Feted at Club Meeting

The birthday of Mrs. Jessie Terry was celebrated recently at a dinner meeting of the Ex-service-Men's club and Ladies Auxiliary. Presentation of a cake was made by her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry, and a plant as a gift from the club.

A 12:30 luncheon has been planned by the organization for Friday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Campbell, 246 Wing court, Northville. Slated for April 2 is the Saturday evening Card Party to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, 41956 Ann Arbor trail.

Mrs. Robert Johnston To Head Local P.E.O.

At Friday night's annual meeting for the election of officers, Mrs. Robert Johnston was elected president of the local P.E.O. chapter for 1955. She will be assisted by the following new officers:

Mrs. Edwin Rice, vice president; Mrs. J. W. Fewkes, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Stevens, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold E. Fisher, treasurer; Mrs. George A. Smith, guard; Mrs. Douglas Hammial, chaplain.

Elected delegates and alternates for the state P.E.O. convention to be held in Flint this April were Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. Edwin Rice, Mrs. Henry Jensen and Mrs. William Kaiser.

The meeting on Friday was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Jensen. Co-hostesses were Miss Emma Hanthorne and Mrs. Robert Johnston.

Shirley M. Jacobson
Weds Detroit Resident

Shirley Mae Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Jacobson of 9229 Newburg road, Livonia became the bride of Arlo C. Reinhold of Detroit on Saturday, March 5. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Reinhold, 2731 Burlingame, Detroit.

The double ring ceremony was read at the Ford Memorial Methodist church in Detroit. Following the reception held at the Dearborn Inn, the newlyweds left on a two-weeks honeymoon to New York City and Bermuda.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Redford township.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson of 1725 Brookline street, a daughter, Barbara Ellen, weighing eight pounds seven ounces and born on February 26 in Session's hospital, Northville. Mrs. Sanderson is the former Marion Ellswood.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Warnemunde of Canton township are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Dean Allen on February 24 in Garden City hospital.

Reverend and Mrs. Wayne E. Welton announce the birth of twins on February 12 in Pontiac. They have been named Kathleen Anne and David Wayne. Mrs. Welton is the former Kathleen Fisher of Plymouth and the Reverend Welton is the son of Reverend and Mrs. William Welton of Flint, formerly of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Allen of Arthur street announce the birth of a daughter, Margaret Rosemary, born Sunday, February 27, weighing six pounds four ounces. Mrs. Allen is the former Alice Criger.

Smorgasbord Dinner
Slated for Saturday Night

Planned for this Saturday night is the Smorgasbord Dinner sponsored by the Order of Rainbow for Girls and the Plymouth chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Held at the Masonic Temple, the event will feature a wide assortment of Swedish and American dishes. Servings will be at 4:30, 5:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Katherine Wickens, Mrs. Alice Alsbro and members of the sponsoring organizations.

Hunter-Bowden Rites
Solemnized in Indiana

The marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to George R. Hunter of West Ann Arbor trail was announced by Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Bowden of Ann Street, Plymouth.

The ceremony was held November 29 in Angola, Indiana.

Plymouthites Attend
Ypsi Music Program

Twelve Plymouthites were among those attending the musical program and demonstration of the latest organ models sponsored by Grinnell Brothers, Ypsilanti, on Tuesday evening.

Visitors were Mrs. Merle Benjamin, Mrs. Anna Dowling, Mrs. Phyllis Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum, Clarence Denhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Fehlig, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Failing, David Cell, Austin Whipple and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wilson.

Held at the Charles McKenny hall in Ypsilanti, the program featured worship, light classical and popular music. Various musical effects obtainable on the new organs were demonstrated.

A pretty young girl was selling poppies in front of an office building, and one of the men whom she asked to buy a poppy stopped to talk to her. Finally he agreed to buy a flower if she would tell him where she worked. She said she was a nurse.

"Well, if I buy a poppy, will you nurse me if I ever get sick?" "If you come to my hospital," sweetly replied the girl.

"Where is your hospital?" "I'm at Queen Anne's Maternity."

SCHEDULED TO APPEAR with the all-state chorus at the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs convention in Detroit on March 30 are the above glee club members from the Plymouth organization. The event will be held at 8 p.m. in the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel, Detroit. The picture above was snapped as the group appeared at Friday's program in the V.F.W. Hall celebrating the 62nd anniversary of the Plymouth

Audience Enthusiastic Over Requiem Concert

Before an appreciative audience of Plymouthites, residents of Livonia and surrounding areas, Brahms' "Requiem" was presented Sunday afternoon at the high school as the fifth concert in the Plymouth Symphony orchestra's current season.

Rehearsing separately for months prior to the event, the civic choruses from Plymouth and Livonia blended their voices in an admirable presentation of the work. Accompanying the vocalists in the rendition of the difficult musical composition was the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

Conductors of the Plymouth and Livonia choruses, respectively, were Fred Nelson and Donald C. Robinson, with Inez Lock as accompanist. The Symphony orchestra was under the direction of Emil Raab.

The program opened with selections from Corelli's "Suite for Strings" and Brahms' "Tragic Overture." Following the intermission, the remaining portion of the program was devoted to the "Requiem."

The audience received enthusiastically such Requiem selections as "Blessed are they that mourn," "Behold, all flesh is as the grass," "Lord, make me to know," "How lovely is Thy dwelling place," "Ye now are sorrowful," "Here on earth have we no continuing place" and "Blessed are the dead."

Guest soloists were Esther Scheppele, soprano, and Nat Sibbold, baritone.

Members of the Plymouth Civic Chorus participating in the concert were: Antoinette Alexander, Eleanor Arnison, Joan Ann Aubrey, J. Bentley, W. D. Brown, Charles H. Daniels, Ellen Daoust, Laurence Decker, H. L. DeMeritt, Donald Dobson, Eric Eklund, Beth Fischer, Jerry Fischer, Milton E. Not As Bad
At a West Coast port not long ago a Navy doctor intercepted a sailor who was carrying aboard a rather unusual pet, a baby skunk. "You can't take that thing below decks," the doctor ruled. "Just think of the odor down there."

"Oh, that's all right," the sailor assured him. "Let him get used to it the same as I did."

Backstage Shots of Theatre Guild Play

RARELY SEEN are these glimpses of what goes on backstage before the curtain rises on a Theatre Guild production. Above, Jeannine Tidwell and Ruth Popovich put finishing touches on Russ Wallace's make-up for tonight's production of "Time Out for Ginger." Just before going on stage in the role of "Jeannie" Roberta Lidgard has her cape adjusted by Lois Mitchell, top left. Hem length of the gown is checked by Saxie Holstein of the costume committee. On the technical side is the job of stage lighting, demonstrated at left by Jack Wilcox at the control box. Prompter Dorothy Smith keeps close tabs on the script as actors go through their lines on stage. Sponsored by the Kiwanis club for its Girl Scout lodge fund, the three-act comedy is being presented tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Symphony Women Plan Spring Dance at Meeting

Next meeting of the Women's committee of the Plymouth Symphony Society has been set for Tuesday, April 5, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum, 1348 West Maple. Open to anyone interested in the work of the symphony, the meeting will start at 1:30 p.m. Plans for the Symphony Ball on April 15 will be discussed. Mrs. Margaret Hough has been appointed chairman for the dance with Mrs. Ray Hulce as co-chairman.

Style Show Nets $380 For Symphony Fund

Excellent support by Plymouthites of Wednesday night's style show presented by local merchants netted some $380 in funds for the Plymouth Symphony Society, announced Mrs. Harold Kellogg, chairman of the Women's committee of the Society.

Featured at the benefit event were 64 exhibits of "wash and wear" fabrics in spring and summer styles. Attire for men, women and children ranged from sport and casual fashions to those for late afternoon and evening wear.

Awarded prizes at the event were Mrs. W. R. Augustine, Mrs. Byron Champion, Mrs. Ralph Garber, Mrs. W. S. Miller and Miss Barbara Cooper.

Introductory music and selections during intermission were played by Josef Lazarof, violinist;

Cellist Joan Lewis and Evelyn Woods, pianist; trio from the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

The show was held in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

Age-Old Sea Mystery Still Baffles Scientists

An age-old mystery of the sea — the riddle of the vanishing mackerel — is a problem that confronts Atlantic coastal fishermen who supply a large share of the nation's fish dinners each year.

Scientific investigators, as well as experienced fishermen, are baffled by the annual mystery of the disappearing mackerel. The fish appear off the Virginia Capes in April each year and remain in plentiful supply while the schools move northward.

Upon reaching Nova Scotia waters in September, the fish then start a return migration until they arrive off Cape Cod in November. Then they vanish.

In the days before modern facilities of processing and freezing fish were developed, only salt mackerel was available for the Lenten season when consumer demand for fish and sea foods reaches its peak. Since quick-freezing is developed, however, ample supplies have been retained from earlier catches to supply the demand.

Annual production of mackerel is very erratic and consequently commercial fishing for this type is a great gamble. In the 1800's, the catch of mackerel varied from 80 to 100 million pounds yearly with the biggest haul of 170 million pounds being landed in 1884. Supplies nowadays are considerably smaller averaging about 30 million pounds a year with only one-half that amount landed as recently as 1951.

Many theories have been advanced by fishermen as to the reasons for disappearance of the schools that provide such highly praised fish dinners. One theory has it that after summering off the Gulf of Maine and Nova Scotia the fish return to a small area called "No Man's Land," ten miles off Newfoundland where they bury themselves in the mud.

Supporters of the latter theory offer evidence of the mud in the mackerel's eyes in the spring to substantiate their claim. Further, they said, mackerel has two coats of skin, with a layer of oil in between, permitting them to spend the winter slumbering on the ocean bottom.

Others believe the mackerel disappear into the warmer waters of the Gulf Stream and remain in virtual seclusion until the time comes for them to make their reappearance. They substantiate this theory with the fact that mackerel are surface-feeding fish and could not survive at the bottom of the sea. This possibility is further supported by the fact that in recent years winter fishing for mackerel has been conducted off the South Atlantic coast with moderate success.

Regardless of what happens to mackerel in the intervening months between their appearance in the spring and their disappearance in the fall, there are ample supplies of mackerel and many other varieties of fish available to both coastal and inland consumers for the forthcoming Lenten season. Modern processing and distribution make more than 190 varieties of fish available to bring the nation's total consumption of fish and other sea foods to 1,736,000,000 pounds, or about 10.8 pounds per capita.

Trio Wins First Prize On Detroit TV Show

First prize at amateur shows was won for the third time in a row Saturday by the "C.B.D.'s," singing trio of Plymouth youngsters.

Composed of Bob Ramp, Cameron Hudson and Danny Hargrove, the trio appeared Saturday morning on the Ed McKenzie show over WXYZ-TV, Detroit. In competition with four other contestants during the program's amateur show, the "C.B.D.'s" were awarded a record player and trophy as first-prize winners.

The trio walked off with first place honors at the January 22 Band Carnival in the high school and the Children of the American Revolution Amateur Show, held February 26 in Northville.

The group will audition on March 13 for the April 1 Amateur Show sponsored by the Northville American Legion post.

February Earnings Soar at C & O Railroad

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway reported that net income in February of $3,500,000, equal to 44 cents a common share, was the highest February earnings since 1936 and more than 75 per cent greater than the comparable month of last year.

C & O earnings in February a year ago were $2,000,000, equal to 25 cents a common share. Net income for the two months of 1955 was $7,200,000, equal to 90 cents a common share, compared with $4,400,000, or 55 cents a share for the same period last year. The 90 cents earnings even exceeded the 81 cents for the entire first quarter of 1954.

Two months revenues are up $5.4 million over a year ago, C & O President Walter J. Tuoy said, with coal and coke showing a $3.5 million jump and merchandise a $1.6 million increase.

Freight revenues in February of $11.8 million put the month in a tie with February, 1953, as the best February in C & O history for merchandise, Mr. Tuoy said. Export coal dumpings in February totaled 946,000 net tons, the best mahk since June, 1952.

In the two months of 1955, Mr. Tuoy added, operating expenses were reduced nearly $600,000 below the level of a year ago, "reflecting continuing operating economies."

Gross revenues in February were $25,300,000, compared with $22,200,000, in February, 1954. Two months gross equaled $51,800,000 against $46,400,000 for the same period a year ago.

Begins Term in Jail

A 90-day sentence in the Wayne County jail has begun for Robert Davis, 34, of 111 South Holbrook. He was charged with possession of stolen property.

Davis appeared last week before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo where he pleaded guilty to the charge. Police Captain Kenneth Fisher filed the charge following an investigation by Detective Walt Caulkins of the Michigan State Police.

Through Caulkins' investigation, it was found that Davis had two watches taken from a home near South Lyon.

To Discuss Problems In Shrubbery Raising

An extension specialist in horticulture from Michigan State College, Dr. H. L. R. Chapman, will discuss the problems involved in planting and pruning shrubbery at a meeting at the County Agricultural Agents' Building, 3930 Newberry street, in Wayne, this Monday evening at 7:30.

Dr. Chapman will explain to local fruit growers, all of which are invited to attend, how proper planting and care will eliminate many complaints of nurserymen in handling these front lawn or back yard ornaments.

In addition he will point out how to avoid losing a year of growth and even make shrubs grow faster by cutting down the size and number of surrounding shrubbery.

Chapman is well versed in this field, having received his education at the world renowned Kew Gardens in London. More recently he has been in charge of the Beal Botanical Gardens at Michigan State College.

Council for Retarded Children Meets Friday

The Northwest Council for Retarded Children will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow night, March 11, at 8:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in St. Michael's school hall, 11311 Hubbard at Plymouth road, instead of the usual meeting place. Wendell Morris, president of the Mt. Pleasant Parents Association for Retarded Children and vice-president of the Michigan association, will be the speaker. Morris has been fund director for the National Association for Retarded Children. All parents of these children or anyone interested in the welfare of retarded children are cordially invited to attend the meeting. The Northwest Council includes all of northwest Wayne County; including Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Farmington and Redford Township.

Attends Convention

Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Russell Isbister have returned from St. Louis where the American Association of School Administrators held one of their annual sessions. Held in Kiel Auditorium, the session featured addresses, panel discussions and exhibits. Two of the principal speakers were Senators Clifford Case of New Jersey and Lister Hill of Alabama. The senators discussed pros and cons of federal aid for school construction. Also of interest was an exhibit of school building designs. Most new schools, Superintendent Isbister stated, are one-floor plans with the exception of some urban schools where building space is limited. In 1953, 8,600 pedestrians were killed in U. S. traffic accidents. In the same year, 289,360 pedestrians were injured.

Head-on Collision Injures Driver

One car was a total loss and another heavily damaged when they collided head-on last Thursday night on Northville road just north of Phoenix road. One driver, Rueben Caudle, 15109 Northville road, was slightly injured. State police said that the mishap occurred at 10:30 p.m. as Caudle drove northward and Raymond Lobert, Route 3, Milford, drove south. Caudle told police that his car went out of control for no apparent reason and started to weave all over the road. The oncoming vehicle was unable to avoid the collision, they added. Caudle's car was a total loss, state police reported, while Lobert's auto was heavily damaged. Caudle was taken to Atchinson hospital in Northville for treatment.

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus . . . for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line . . . but they are up there where they can be seen for safety's sake; and as convenient guides in parking. So, too, with the jutting peaks over the headlights. The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration . . . they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability. This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!

A RESERVE water supply capable of taking care of Plymouth's needs in the hottest of weather was forecast last week as drillers tested a new well on Six Mile road near Beck. Shown above is the well being pumped out at the rate of 5,000,000 gallons a day as city officials, consulting engineers and drillers watch. Present pumping facilities and pipe sizes will allow the well a usefulness of only 1,000,000 gallons a day. It will be several months before the new well is actually hooked into the present system. At side is a view of the "screen" being lowered into the 18 inch hole, one of the largest screens used in water well drilling. The hole is about 110 feet deep and is located a short distance from present well field.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Members of Troop 6 were hostesses to Troop 3 at the home of their leader, Mrs. Woodrow Ticky. Mrs. Muller and her daughter, Christine, of Northville were guests. Mrs. Muller, a native of France, told the girls of her country. International Friendship was the theme of the party. Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. E. P. Light are leaders of Troop 3. Mrs. Ticky and Mrs. Robert Barbour lead Troop 6.

Members of Troop 1 spent last weekend at the Plymouth Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge. The time was spent in doing badge work and taking an inventory of the Lodge furnishings as well as preparing their own meals. Sunday the 10 Scouts and their leader, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, attended church service marking the opening of Girl Scout Week.

The troop is working on a Home Nursing badge. Mrs. Stage, visiting nurse, demonstrated bed care of a home patient at Ann Taylor's home at the last regular meeting. The girls are making toys for Mrs. Stage to distribute to shut-in children.

Troop 14 has just completed an Interior Decoration badge. They enjoyed a visit from architect, Charles Sawyer, who explained house plans and room arrangement. On Tuesday, March 1, the entire troop visited Blunk's furniture store where Lincoln Lant showed the girls various types of furniture. He also explained about wood and wood finishing as well as carpeting. Also acting as consultants on this interesting project have been Mrs. Verne Steele of Cadillac Drapery and Gerald Pease of Pease Paint and Wallpaper. The Scouts and their leaders, Mrs. Carl Wall and Mrs. George Bauer, thank all these people who have contributed so much to the success of this badge.

Recently elected officers of Brownie Troop 18 were Kathy Gooch, chairman; Ellen Lamb, secretary; Rita Bukema, treasurer; Anna Zoet, publicity; and Judy Adams, sunshine girl. Mrs. Zoet assisted Troop Leader Mrs. Adams with activities planned for the month of February.

The local firm of Lightfoot Heating, 337 Joy road, has recently added a unique feature to their service department with the installation of a two-way radio-telephone system on their service truck. By calling the radio-telephone number, owners of ailing heating devices speak directly with the service truck. Previous delays caused by waiting for the truck to pick up messages left at the office has been eliminated.

Canton Farm Bureau Meets Tomorrow Night

The Canton center Farm Bureau will hold its meeting on Friday, March 11, at 8 p.m. in the home of J. D. Clark, 4930 Belleville road. Topic for the evening's discussion will be "Michigan's Problem of Water Rights and Resources."

Mrs. Olga Rumpf

Services were held Friday, February 25, at the William Hamilton Funeral home in Detroit for Olga Rumpf of 49761 Ann Arbor road, Plymouth. Mrs. Rumpf had been ill for some time and passed away at Sessions Hospital in Northville, Tuesday, February 22. She was 69 years of age.

Mrs. Rumpf resided on Ann Arbor road with her son, Jacob. She was a member of the Plymouth Presbyterian church.

Besides her son, the deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hildegard Johnson, formerly of Plymouth and Wayne and now living in Fort Pierce, Florida.

Dr. Henry J. Walsh officiated at the 11 a.m. service. Pallbearers were Forest C. Thrasher, Donald Hermann, John Wonn, Edward Matinsky, all of Detroit; and John Pardon and Junia Ingle of Plymouth. Interment was made in St. Charles Lutheran cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Ernest H. Nester

Services will be held at 2 p.m. today, March 10, at the Casterline Funeral home in Northville for Mr. Ernest H. Nester of Plymouth.

Mr. Nester passed away Monday, March 7, at the Veterans hospital in Dearborn following a long illness. He was 52 years of age.

Born February 5, 1903 in DeKalb, Mississippi, the deceased was a veteran of World Wars I and II. He was a member of the local American Legion post.

Surviving are a son, Harold, of Torrance, California; one sister, Mrs. Guy S. Peppiatt of Birmingham; his stepfather, Walter H. Brown of Northville; and four grandchildren.

The Reverend John O. Taxes of the Northville Presbyterian church will officiate at the services. Interment will be made in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville.

Mrs. Cora Kingston Ball

Services for Mrs. Cora Kingston Ball, well-known former resident of Plymouth, were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Schmalzreid Funeral home, 16625 Grand River, Detroit. Mrs. Ball passed away Friday afternoon,

OBITUARIES

March 4, in Harper hospital at the age of 70 years.

Born in Eagle Harbor, Michigan on April 19, 1885, Mrs. Ball had been president of the Plymouth Woman's club, 1932-1933, when a resident of this community.

She was a member of the North Woodward Congregational church, in Detroit, past president of the Detroit Olive Alumni association and Soranian sorority, member of the Eleanor Roosevelt League, Democratic Women of Michigan and the Civic Pride association.

Surviving are her husband, Charles O. Ball, Sr. who was an officer of the former Plymouth United Savings bank; a son, Charles O., Jr.; three grandchildren, seven sisters, Mrs. Viola Seherer, Mrs. Gladys Ellis, Mrs. Jean Becker, Mrs. Lenore Bringer, Mrs. Marguerite Champney, Mrs. Dorothy Purfield and Mrs. Faye Parker.

Mrs. Laura B. Bohl

Mrs. Laura B. Bohl, well known to many residents of this area as former organist of the Newburg Methodist church, passed away Tuesday evening at her home, 9052 South Main street, Plymouth. She had been ill but a short time.

Mrs. Bohl was born February 24, 1885 in Detroit, the daughter of Matilda Herzer and Richard Rogatzky. Coming to Plymouth 34 years ago from Detroit, Mrs. Bohl was a member and organist of the Newburg church for the past 20 years. In February of this year she retired from her position as accompanist for the church.

Besides her husband, Adolph Bohl of the Main street address, Mrs. Bohl is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Ruth Steinhauer of Trenton, Mrs. Susan Ingersol of St. Antoni, Texas; Mrs. Grace Franjac of Livonia; Mrs. Dorothy Ulberg of Edmond, Washington; and Mrs. Evelyn Shier of Livonia.

Two sons, Lawrence Bohl of Plymouth and Ralph Bohl of Livonia; 16 grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive.

The Reverend Robert Richards will officiate at the services to be held Friday, March 11, at 2 p.m. in the Newburg Methodist church. Friends may call at the Schrader Funeral home, where the body will be in state through Friday morning.

Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Why Don't You??

Serving you "neighborhood style!"

National Bank matches the dynamic growth of Detroit and suburban communities by making "main office" service conveniently available to millions of busy people.

Here's an old story with a new twist— You may drive downtown every day. Or you shop downtown occasionally. You go to the railroad station or you catch an airport bus. You come in to dine, to attend a business meeting, to go to the theater—or you just pass through. Whichever, this is your city and you're used to it. And sometimes that comfortable awareness leads you to take perhaps too much for granted. You may not think of Detroit for what it really is . . .

- . . . millions of people—
- making automobiles, business machines, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, machine tools, implements for defense and progress . . .
- shipping their handiwork worldwide—turning their waterfront into one of the nation's busiest . . .
- retailing the worldly essentials of food, clothing, shelter . . .
- laying their hearts and hands to the building of schools, hospitals, churches and civic centers.

Millions of people working hard and needing help—the kind of help that is so important where people grow. For where people grow as we have grown, you find that banking help is one of the really vital forces behind it.

Businessmen need banking help to provide money for growth, for building, for buying, for selling, for increasing efficiency and cutting costs—yes, even for dreaming. It was poet Carl Sandburg who said: "Nothing happens unless first the dream."

And families and individuals need banking help for all kinds of financing—for mortgages, for repairs, for education, for the unexpected, to name just a few. They also need trust services and a convenient place to save and to keep things safely. Families grow, too.

A nice thing to say Maybe you take us for granted, too—a bank that is growing all the time for reasons you may not think much about. Actually, the reasons for our growth apply very much to you.

For example, we are proud that one of our customers made the remark recently that we are the bank with more friends because we help more people. You can't make a nicer remark than that about any business.

We have more friends because we help more people with, for one thing, complete banking services in, or through, our 45 offices located in every city population center and in many suburbs. These services include checking accounts, savings accounts, loans of all types including Instalans and mortgage loans, trust services, foreign exchange, government securities, and safekeeping facilities for valuables.

Service through the nation—and abroad Our commercial friends know that we are experienced in serving all banking needs with thoroughness and understanding. And those who require banking services everywhere in the United States or abroad know that our connections with leading banks assure the swift and competent handling of banking business.

Why not visit the National Bank office nearest you and discuss the possibilities, and opportunities, in establishing your checking and savings accounts with us. We would like to meet you anyway. We would like to regard you as a neighbor, and have you regard us the same way. We would like to serve you and—if we serve you better—then you will grow, and we will continue growing. Reduced to its simplest terms, that's what friendly, neighborhood-style banking is all about!

Mrs. Tish Dawson from Detroit was the demonstrator.

Henry Sill of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor and organist of the Newburg Methodist church was a dinner guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road on Sunday, March 6. In the afternoon the LaPointes and Mr. Sill took in the presentation of Brahms' "Requiem" at the Plymouth high school auditorium put on by the combined civic choruses of Livonia and Plymouth and the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Twenty-six members and friends of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met on Tuesday, March 1, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Grimm. A pot-luck luncheon was served at 12:30 p.m. after which the business meeting was held. Mrs. Oliver Kennedy, who will make her future home near Chicago, Illinois, was honored when the members of the organization presented her with the revised edition of the Holy Bible. We wish her a happy future in her new home and pleasant memories of her Newburg friends. Mrs. Laura Larrabee, the program chairman, announced an interesting program for the group. It was a film strip, entitled, "The Things That Belong Unto Peace." It depicted how the things that belong to peace can be found in three channels through which we can work: The United Nations, the Church and the Nation. The work is for human rights, for improved living standards for peace and for moral and society responsibility. Several members participated in the program. The film was shown and narrated by the Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of the church represented by the group.

Mrs. May Walker of Dayton, Ohio was the guest in the home of her niece, Mrs. Edgar Stevens of Horton avenue, Livonia for a few days last week.

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr., Phone Liv. 3193

Last Thursday, March 3, women of the Rosedale Gardens Womans club who braved the storm to come over to the clubhouse were very glad they did. Mrs. Miriam Kelly, marketing and Consumer Information director, Michigan State college, was the speaker.

Mrs. Kelly, who heads up a staff of nine marketing information home economists working in eight cities throughout the state, gave us many valuable shopping hints. Did you know that you pick a nice juicy grapefruit by the weight and that those with seed are marked "Duncan"? Another matter that was discussed pretty thoroughly was why Michigan potatoes are generally of such poor quality that few people bother to buy them but pass them up in favor of a nice "Maine" potato. Mrs. Kelly explained that they were doing everything in their power to improve the Michigan potato but that it is a disease problem, and one way we can help is to take back any potatoes we buy, that turn black when cooked, to the store. Just inform the manager that those are not the kind of potatoes you want and he in turn will inform the wholesale house. Mrs. Kelly also drew a comparison of the various types of lettuce and cabbage for salads as to price per serving. All in all it was an extremely interesting evening and everyone went home with considerable knowledge as to supply and price on all types of food.

Mrs. Arthur Larson of 11400 Berwick and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of 9826 Auburndale enjoyed the concert at the Plymouth high school on Sunday afternoon, March 6. The Livonia Civic Chorus in conjunction with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presented "Brahms' Requiem".

Attention all you Irish and friends of the Irish! There is to be a card party on Sunday night, March 13, at St. Michael's school hall. Activities will begin at 8 p.m. There will be individual table prizes and door prizes for many lucky winners and of course there will be refreshments. We understand the committee has unearthed some local talent to entertain us during the evening, so from all appearances it appears to be an enjoyable evening.

Just a little reminder, if you plan to come and play pinochle or canasta please bring your own cards.

Doesn't this sound like a lot of fun? On Saturday evening, March 5, a group of Rosedale Gardens residents chartered a Greyhound bus and went down to Toledo, Ohio to spend the evening with Mr. and Mrs. William Perista, formerly of Rosedale Gardens. Mr. and Mrs. William Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Q. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. William Ohi, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stanbury, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Secor, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allworth, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. Overton of Rosedale Park and Mr. and Mrs. Claude William of Dearborn all boarded a bus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burton, 11037 Ingram. The bus stopped enroute to pick up Mr. and Mrs. Tom Linden of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pellots of Monroe, Michigan. After a very pleasant trip in which there was plenty of conversation they were greeted warmly by Jane and Bill Peristy. All were pleasantly surprised to see and visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Amberg, formerly of Rosedale Gardens, who had driven over from Cleveland to join the party.

Everyone enjoyed the delicious chicken in the basket supper served by Jane and Bill and as a token gift presented them with a nice plant for their lovely home. After a very pleasant evening of visiting, and some dancing, the couples boarded the bus and were back home in Rosedale Gardens with no strain or pain to any one individual.

Award Donald Carney Eagle Scout Badge

The Eagle badge, highest award in Boy Scouting, was presented to Donald Carney of 865 Penniman at the recent court of honor held by Troop P-1 of the First Methodist church.

Scoutmaster Bill Baker reported that Carney was the youngest boy in the history of the troop to have received the award. Carney earned 27 merit badges, six over the 21 required to qualify for the Eagle Scout award.

The Life Scout and Star badges, second and third highest Scouting awards, were also presented at the court. Named Life Scout was Donald Alsbro who also received the Star award.

Other Star Scouts were Bruce Curtis, David Rathburn, Lee Marzolf, Jim Gibson and Robert Isbister.

Presentation of the awards was made by Sidney Strong, special field commissioner for this area.

VFW Sponsors Fish Fry

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend the Post Fish Fry sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mayflower Post, tomorrow night, March 11.

The event will be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the V.F.W. hall on Lilley road.

Wayne County Organic Club Meets Saturday

The Wayne County Organic Gardening and Farming club will meet Saturday, March 12, at 8 p.m. in the Romulus township firehouse, Middlebelt road, one-half block south of Ecorse road. The get-together has been called a week early because of the State round-up meeting of Organic clubs scheduled for the following weekend.

Speaker for Saturday is Leroy Miller. His topic will be "Organic Farming in Practice."

Miller was the first president of the Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan, and present chairman of the Development and Research Committee of the Federation. He uses organic methods on his 365-acre farm near Doster, Michigan. He knows grains from growing to processing, having been a miller by trade. Dairy cattle is his chief stock in trade with grains a close second. Vegetables are also grown on the Miller farm, so he can help the city gardener as well as the farmer.

An added feature of the meeting will be group discussion on the best vegetables to grow in this area.

Visitors are cordially invited. Also, everyone is invited to visit the Organic Gardening booth at the Detroit Flower show.

HOBOKENERS from Plymouth Brownie coops rehearse their part for the rally this Sunday commemorating the 43rd anniversary of Girl Scouting. Brownies are (l. to r.) Bonnie Hunt, 9; Linda Barney, 8; Cindy Evey, 9; Joyce Day, 10; and seven-year old Ruthie Steele. Final event in Girl Scout week, March 6-13, the rally will honor Juliette Lowe, founder of Girl Scouting. Featured will be a pageant, flag ceremony and presentation of awards. The event is open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Society to Hear Paper On Lapham Store

A meeting of the Historical Society of Plymouth will be held this evening, March 10, at 7:45 in the Veterans Community center, South Main street.

The program will feature the reading of a paper prepared by Mrs. Paul Ware on the A. J. Lapham store, which was located on the corner of Holbrook street and Wilcox road. The store was operated by Mrs. Ware's father, prominent businessman in the early history of Plymouth.

In the absence of Mrs. Ware, who is presently in Florida, the paper will be given by Mrs. Leonard Millross, Lapham's granddaughter.

The proportion of women among all persons at work in the United States increased from 17 per cent in 1890 to 24 per cent in 1940 and was close to 30 per cent in 1952.

No date has been set for the first meeting, Lindsay stated.
Undoubtedly one of the problems the study group will discuss will be the matter of water. The township has been considering the drilling of wells to provide water to some of the more heavily-populated areas of the township. A sewage system is also being considered jointly by the city and township.

subdivision was accepted. Richard Dolan of Wayne was the only bidder for a group of lots. He bid $806 on two properties.
A petition signed by representatives of the Plymouth Wholesale company and Champion Corrugated Container company asking for a street light on Sheldon road was read. The letter stated that a street light located near the proposed Goldsmith street intersection would aid in discouraging burglaries such as has occurred in the past. The request was turned over to the city manager for study.
Mrs. John Wahn, 1193 Simpson, wrote a letter of thanks to the city for the return of her tape recorder which she had loaned to the library at Christmas. It was stolen by two local youths and returned last week when the boys were apprehended.

one bucket early in the period thereby allowing the Rocks to notch the win.
"That first half stunk," said John Sandmann, Plymouth's calm cage coach, later in the dressing room. "For a squad that has shown as good form as this one has in earlier games, our team couldn't have looked worse in the first half."
"We're going to have to play a lot better brand of basketball against either Dearborn or Catholic Central in the next game to even put up a showing," added Sandmann, as he spoke of Plymouth's contest this evening.
Plymouth scored only six baskets from the floor in the first half out of 31 attempts for a low shooting percentage of .19. The Squad had to make good on more than 40 per cent of its shots in the last half to raise its final game shooting average to about .30.
High-scorers for the evening were Plymouth's Middleton and St. Jo's Paliroli, who both hit for ten points. Shouldering the rest of the load for the Rocks were Wilhelm and Day with nine and eight respectively, while the Blue-jays' 6' 6" center, Norm Muller, trailed his team captain with nine points.

This evening Plymouth will attempt to raise itself to the second rung of the regional ladder when it squares off at 8:30 against the winner of last night's Dearborn-Catholic Central contest.
Following is the box score from the Plymouth-St. Joseph tilt:

Consolidation Fact-Finding Search

them with the study committee formed by the township.
One member then pointed out, however, that the city commission had appointed the committee and so it was up to the commission to make any changes—not the committee itself. Commissioners were asked to state their views.
Commissioner Harold Guenther declared that it would indeed be "embarrassing" to ask the township members to resign. Commissioner Marvin Terry added that asking for their resignations would "cast aspersions" upon them, making them feel that they are not capable. He added that he felt the township members appointed by the city are open-minded and that he doesn't know what opinions any of them have concerning city-township consolidation.

The committee then decided to invite the township's study committee to "sit in" on their meetings as guests.
A prayer by the Reverend Henry Walch, D.D., opened the meeting. This was followed by an introduction of every member in the room. Mayor Russell Daane welcomed the group and cited the purposes of the committee's formation. He stated:
"To dispel any fears that anyone may have concerning the functions and purposes of this committee, I refer you to the resolution under which the committee was created. It is, in truth, the Plymouth Community Study committee, composed of citizens of both the city and the township. The committee is asked to study certain things and to make a report back to the city commission. Beyond that, the committee has no authority."
He then added that he hoped no one had any preconceived ideas or prejudices. "If they have," he added, "I hope they will abandon them and think only in terms of study."

Although Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay publicly denounced the committee two weeks ago as not being representative of the township because it was appointed by the city commission, he did not state his views Monday night. Several other township officials were also present. Officials of both the city and township are asked to sit with the committee and state their views, but they have no vote.
One township man did object to the township member appointments. He was Frank Rock, 40651 Five Mile road. He mainly objected on the grounds that those appointed did not represent the entire township but lived mostly on the city's fringes.
To check this fact, aerial photograph of the township was brought in by Frank Lodge of the Clark Aerial Survey company. Each township member stated his address and Lodge pointed it out on the photograph. Apparently satisfied that township members did represent the township, the meeting moved along.
Caplin pointed out to committee members that they should have no preconceived ideas about a city-township merger. It is possible, he said, that the group will not recommend consolidation in any form. The committee must have all the facts before forming its opinion, he added.

Some of the fields to be explored by sub-committees are zoning, water and sewer development, industry, garbage disposal, street maintenance, street lighting, police and fire protection, taxes and finance, traffic and recreation.
Some members volunteered for committees. Others will be appointed by Caplin within the next few days. It will be up to each sub-committee to meet within the next few weeks, get together some facts and be able to discuss some of the subjects at the next meeting on April 12.

Beyer Drugs To Sell Tickets For Detroit Show

Tickets for the March 26-April 3 Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition at the state fairgrounds in Detroit will be sold at both Beyer Rexall drug-stores, up until the time of the event, announced Mrs. C. E. Nelson, ticket chairman for the local branch of the Women's National Division of the Women's National Farm and Garden association.
Purchase of tickets locally will not only benefit the local Garden club, but will represent a considerable savings from those bought at the fairgrounds gates, Mrs. Nelson added. The Plymouth club is affiliated with the Michigan Horticultural Society, sponsors of the Detroit show.
Featured at the exhibition will be the following main events: "Contest Gardens," "Jewel Box," "In and around the Smokies," "Parade of Flowers," "Michigan State college's Centennial Year," "Reflections in Camellias" and "What's New for the Garden."

Many, Many Tomatoes Make Michigan Money

Tomatoes last year put more than $5 million into Michigan pockets.
This money was earned by the state's farmers by producing more than 89 thousand tons of the ruddy vegetable, explained R. G. Warmbold, Michigan representative of the American Can company. Of this total, he added, about 49 thousand tons was produced for canning and the remaining 40 thousand tons for sale on the fresh market.
About 13 thousand acres of land were devoted to production of tomatoes in the state last year, Warmbold pointed out.

Realtors Attend State Meeting

Nine members of the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors were in attendance at the biennial legislative dinner of the Michigan Real Estate association in the Main ballroom of the Hotel Olds in Lansing last week.

The group of realtors, headed by their board president, Clyde E. Alexander of Plymouth, greeted three county legislative members at the huge banquet which attracted over 500 realtors representing 38 boards throughout the state.

Others attending from this area were Gertrude Patton of Livonia, secretary; Maud B. Billman, Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Wayne and Mrs. Don and Hector McFarlane of Garden City.

State officials attending, including Governor Williams, were Senator John B. Swainson and Representatives Leonard E. Wood and Hiram McNeely.

The banquet ended an all-day session of committee and board meetings that touched nearly every phase of the realty business.

Alfred L. Ferguson

Private Alfred L. Ferguson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ferguson, live at 552 Maple, Plymouth is nearing completion of basic infantry training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri with a unit of the 6th Armored division. After induction into the Army at his home station, Private Ferguson processed through the 5045th ASU Reception station at Fort Leonard Wood, where he received his initial Army clothing, and took the basic qualification and aptitude tests to determine his assignment in the Army after completion of basic training.

Upon completion of the eight-week infantry training cycle at Fort Leonard Wood, he will receive a leave before beginning eight weeks of advance basic training, either at the Missouri base or another training installation.

Legal Notice

To the Mayor, City Manager, City Clerk and Superintendent of Public Works of the City of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did at a meeting of said Board held on February 24, 1955, decide and determine that jurisdiction over the certain section of road described in the minutes of said Board should be relinquished. The minutes of said meeting fully describing said section of road are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

"Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at 3800 Cadillac Tower, Detroit, Michigan, at 9:00 a.m., E.S.T., Thursday, February 24, 1955. Present: Commissioners O'Brien and Wilson. *****

Commissioner Wilson moved the adoption of the following resolution: BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that its jurisdiction over: All that part of Ann Arbor Trail, also known as Ann Arbor Street, in the south half of Section 26, T1S, R9E, City of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, between Hamilton Avenue and the east limits of the City of Plymouth, constituting 0.3 mile of Ann Arbor Trail in the City of Plymouth, be and the same hereby is relinquished effective at 12:01 A.M., Eastern Standard Time April 1, 1955, and that notice of such relinquishment be given, all in accordance with the provisions of Section 18 of Chapter IV, of Act 283 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan, for the year 1905, as amended.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1905, AS AMENDED.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the Detroit seal of this 3rd day of March, A.D. 1955.

CHARLES L. WILSON, Commissioner
MICHAEL J. O'BRIEN, Chairman
CHARLES L. WILSON, Vice-Chairman
BY SYLVESTER A. NOETZEL, Secretary and Clerk of the Board

Card of Congratulations

Dear Mom and Dad:

We thought this a perfect way to say "thanks" and give you our best and loving wishes on your 24th Wedding Anniversary.

As children of a newspaperman who publishes one of Michigan's best weekly newspapers and a woman who is what we consider the epitome of a perfect person, we want you to know we are pleased and honored to be a part of your life.

We give you a hard time often, but you know, in our book you are tops... as people, parents and friends.

Happy Anniversary.

Our love,
Cynthia
and Randy

DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END vs NEW GULF NO-NOX

This lamp test shows what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline - at the refinery - to bring you new, clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX.

HERE'S WHAT New 1955 No-Nox does for engine parts...

This spark plug is from one of the original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars. Normally, plugs need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles. This plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement after 15,000 miles with new NO-NOX.

what's more... No gasoline - no, not a single one - has higher octane than...

New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor - no, not a single one - to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest - in power, in performance, in engine protection.
- This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public - a pledge backed by the resources - and the integrity - of the Gulf Refining Company.

Fill up now with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference in power that really works for you mile after mile. Right from the start, you'll get these lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition - even in today's high-compression engines.

It's super-refined... to burn clean!
The '55 gasoline for all high-compression engines.

Cage Coach to Speak At Men's Brotherhood

County Agent Talks Turkey

"Talking Turkey" to the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon was P. R. Biebesheimer, Wayne county's agricultural agent. His talk dealt with the various aspects of turkey raising and their popularity on American dinner tables.

Plymouth is in the midst of southeastern Michigan's turkey growing industry, the speaker stated. Most turkey growers in this area raise either the wide-breasted bronze or the Beltsville small white breeds.

Disease and his own "dumbness" are a turkey's worst enemies, Biebesheimer declared. Not too many years ago, turkeys had a 45 per cent mortality rate. Today, with the aid of antibiotics, the mortality rate has been cut to nine per cent. There are diseases which a turkey can contract that no other fowl will get, the speaker added.

"A turkey is the dumbest animal on the farm," the speaker continued. They stampede when disturbed by many things such as an airplane or even a bird flying over. If there's an empty barrel, one might fly inside followed by others and all will die because they don't know enough to fly out again. A young turkey needs to be taught to eat.

Foxes are a natural enemy. And in the heavily populated areas of Wayne county, thieves are a natural enemy.

A few other turkey facts are these:

There are 60,000,000 turkeys growing in the U.S. each year; consumption of turkey is 5.6 pounds per person; growing has swung away from small flocks on each farm to turkey farms; one Michigan farm raises 20,000 turkeys annually; a turkey grower is satisfied if he nets a profit of $1 per bird; a turkey consumes 93 pounds of food during an average life; feed definitely determines turkey's flavor; if feeding fish meal, a turkey diet must be changed several weeks before killing or else it will have a fish taste.

Biebesheimer was introduced by Robert Waldecker.

Frugality is good, if Liberty be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need.

—William Penn

Our next Grange meeting will be very important so be on hand. There will be a play, "What's in a Name?" given by the actor members, a one-act comedy so don't miss it. And please go up the outside stairway.

We are to have another card party on March 26. Bring your friends, fill a table, play any game you choose as there will be prizes for high score at each table as well as other prizes. Refreshments down stairs after the games are over. Come on and be one of us.

Mention should be made regarding the play on March 17. It is for Grange members and their guests, if they wish to invite a friend or two that is fine. Welcome.

The latter part of this month is Blue Cross payment time so please try to come to the next Grange meeting prepared to make your payment. The rate of payment has been increased and new cards have been sent to the secretary and will be given to the Blue Cross members at the next meeting. Pay by check if possible.

Dave Strack

Dave Strack, assistant basketball coach at the University of Michigan, will be the featured speaker Tuesday evening at the annual Father-Son banquet of the First Presbyterian church Men's Brotherhood organization.

Formerly a member of the Wolverine cage team, Strack has been coaching at the university for six years. Men's Brotherhood program chairman, Meredith Smith, said that it is possible Strack will bring Ron Kramer, star grid and cage player, to the meeting. Strack will show films of U of M basketball games.

A potluck supper will be served beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Grange Cleanings

The meeting of last Thursday was well attended. A fine group enjoyed the bountiful supper as always.

They also enjoyed seeing the beautiful colored slides shown by Mrs. Rose Wilson of her trip through the West, also of Vancouver and Victoria British Columbia. The mountain scenes were gorgeous. It was nice of Mrs. Wilson to bring them to show us.

Next Monday evening, March 14, the Lily club will be entertained at the hall by Mr. and Mrs. John Root and Mollie Tracy as hosts, so come and have a good time. Pedro and 500 will be played with prizes for high score. Bring sandwiches or cake or jello and your own dishes.

Who's New in Plymouth

A FAMILY OF MUSIC enthusiasts, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Heyder enjoy looking over 15-year-old Sue's latest additions to her record collection in the living room of their 891 South Harvey street home. All three members of the family play the piano. Presently employed as a chemist at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant, Heyder was born in Cologne, Germany and came to the U.S. in 1923. The newcomers moved to Plymouth last August from Webster Groves, Missouri, a suburb of St. Louis. While there, Mrs. Heyder designed millinery for the Famous-Barr company in Clayton, Missouri, a branch of the May company.

We welcome another new member, Adeline Packard, into our auxiliary! Hope you enjoy your association with us!

One of our charter members, Violet Brown, is recuperating at her home from a delicate heart operation. Also charter member Catherine McLellan is ill at home following a heart attack. Speedy recovery to both of you!

The Post is planning a St. Patrick's Day dance on Thursday, March 17. Dancing nine till? Let's get out and sell tickets and plan on celebrating on that great day for the Irish!

Don't forget about the Post Fish Fry on Friday, March 11, at the Post hall. The public is very cordially invited to both of these affairs.

Hospital Chairman Marlyn Witsie reports that an appeal has been made from Fort Custer for old silk hose, color books and rags. Please send these items directly to Marlyn Witsie.

Poppy Day Chairman for our Auxiliary will be Marion Dickie. Full details will be announced in a future column.

Our Auxiliary voted to give a contribution to the local Junior Police fund.

A correction on the date of our Rummage Sale. The date has been set for April 22 and 23 and the chairman again will be Geraldine Olson. She needs volunteers and more rummage, so call her if you can offer your services!

News from our Legislative committee: Following are four rights proposed for the Veterans of Foreign Wars; 1-Expend a Veterans Administration Hospital Medical program to insure all veterans of all wars adequate care. 2-The V.F.W. Auxiliary is to make plans for the education of dependants of deceased veterans. 3-To create a liberal World War I pension. 4-To establish a standing committee on Veterans affairs in the Senate. Legislative Chairman, Isabelle Lueke, urges us all to write our congressman and express our views on these issues.

March 1 to May 30 there is another membership contest in progress. Further details are in the M.O.V. The Department of Michigan is leading the nation in membership and we want to keep it that way.

The dedication of our Mayflower Post hall took place on Sunday, February 20 at 2 p.m. The program opened with our National Anthem and Pledge of Allegiance followed by an invocation offered by Father Francis Byrne, Our Commander, Ed Kopinski, welcomed members and friends and introduced Mayor Russell Daane, who expressed sincere good wishes of the city of Plymouth, and assured us of Plymouth's full cooperation in return for our help in future Civil Defense programs during the coming years. Our past commanders and auxiliary presidents were then introduced. We were pleased to have with us as one of our guests, representing the 17th Congressional District in Washington, Martha Griffiths who pledged her full cooperation in all veterans requests and invited us to use her office in Washington as headquarters whenever we visited the Capitol.

The dedication speech was delivered by Clarence Schumacher, department of Michigan, deputy chief of staff, who praised our post and auxiliary for our accomplishments. He told of the origin of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1899 as a service organization. The Service department, Community service, Youth programs and Legislative department are only part of the programs carried out by our organization.

Other guests were 4th District president, Ruby LaPointe, and Department secretary-treasurer, Augusta White. Everyone attending the program received a copy of the dedication book containing information on the origin of our Post. We would like to thank all those who planned the program and published the book and our friends and members who attended the service. Our appreciation to the Elks B.P.O.E. 178 Lodge for the basket of flowers we received.

Hospital Chairman Marlyn Witsie and Helen Bowring recently made a trip out to Maybury sanatorium, taking the veterans T-shirts, scuffies, etc.

Our greetings to Joe and Georgia Elliott in Santa Ana, California! Thanks for the flowers for our dedication, Joe! Sorry you both couldn't be here, because we all know how much hard work and planning went into this hall and how important it was to both of you!

SOCIAL NOTES

Residents To Help Train Adults For Scout Work

Three residents of Plymouth will assist Edwin Willis of Livonia in a six-week course of instruction for Cub Scout leaders. The Plymouthites are Eugene Stout, Donald Sutherland and George Conover. James Shoemaker of Garden City is also an assistant.

The course will be taught at 7:30 p.m. starting Tuesday, March 15, at Burger junior high school, Garden City.

Horace Cooke, Garden City leadership training chairman for the Sunset District, Boy Scouts of America, announced that instruction opportunities for Boy Scout leaders is also available. Classes will be held at the same time and place as for the Cub Scout program.

Both courses are open to all adults interested in learning leadership skills, techniques, ceremonies and program planning.

Leaders for the Scoutmaster course will be James Culbertson, George Enot and George May, all of Livonia. This course will run for seven two-hour sessions, concluding with an overnight camp April 22-24, at the Charles Howell Scout Reservation at Brighton.

This will be the last series of training opportunities until September. Over 100 men and women are expected to attend from all over Western Wayne county.

Acting on a 20-Year-Old Decision!

Let's suppose it was a couple of decades ago when a young lad, with his book strap over his shoulder and his lunch basket under his arm, started slowly down a dusty road that led to a country schoolhouse.

But his walk was short that day. For a big, handsome Cadillac—with its smiling driver traveling in the lad's direction—stopped and gave him a "lift."

And as he stood there on the schoolhouse lawn and watched the big car roll off into the distance, he made a decision. He decided that, some day, he would own a Cadillac.

And here you see him, his dream come true—taking the keys to a new 1955 Cadillac!

As a Cadillac dealer, we've been privileged many times to help make such a dream come true. And it never ceases to be a thrill.

But we do feel, in all sincerity, that many motorists

—not realizing the Cadillac car is practical as well as wonderful—wait too long to make the move.

The lowest-priced Cadillac, for example, actually costs less than twelve different models of other makes. Its economy of operation is far beyond anything you could logically anticipate from a car of Cadillac's size and luxury. And at the time of resale, a Cadillac traditionally returns a greater share of its owner's investment than any other car in the land.

If, like the gentleman in the picture above, you have been looking forward to a Cadillac of your own—you should give careful consideration to these remarkable Cadillac facts.

It is entirely possible that the time for your Cadillac has come—and, as we said, it is always a pleasure to help make such a dream come true.

Better come in and see us today.

Recent additions to the Dunning library collection include the following publications: "Elements of Astronomy" by Edward A. Fath, "Stedman's Shorter Medical Dictionary" revised and enlarged by Thomas Lathrop Stedman, M.D.; and Corrine Updegraff Wells' "Pack Your Leisure with Profit and Pleasure."
Among the new books was Alice Ross Colver's novel, "The Measure of the Year's." The latter concerns a pioneer family and the founding of Stockbridge, Massachusetts. "The Enjoyment of Study: In School on Your Own" by John Somerville is also a new-comer to the library shelves.
In addition, the recent shipment contained "Chemistry of Our Times" by Weaver and Foster, M. A. Unger's "Real Estate," "Freud's Principles of Psychoanalysis" by A. A. Brill, M.D. and Arthur Sadler's "Paper Sculpture." Sadler's book describes the construction and use of this type of art in education, advertising, decoration and window display.
Other new books are: "An Introduction to Color" by Evans, "The Handy Man's Concrete and Masonry Guide," "Seduction of the Innocent," study on influence of comic books on today's youth by Frederic Wertham, M.D.; Kurt Frieberger's novel about Simon Peter, "Fisher of Men."
"Inside Today's Home," guide to home furnishing and decorating by Ray Faulkner; Francis E. Park's "Deer Hunting," "Sign of the Pagan," story concerning Attila the Hun by Roger Fuller; Mary Stolz' novel, "Pray, Love, Remember;"
"Smoke on the Mountain," an interpretation of the Ten Commandments by Joy Davidson; Mildred G. Ryan's "Needlecraft Handbook," "You and Your Car Insurance: Do's and Don'ts of Automobile Accident Claims and Insurance" by Coughlin and Schneider.
The library also received: Daltzell's and Townsend's revised edition of "Brick Laying Skill and Practice," a collection of "The Best Science Fiction Stories of 1954," "The Bane of Drug Addiction" by Orin R. Yost, M.D.; William Brinkley's "The Deliverance of Sister Cecelia," a nun's escape from the communists; "Fire Side Book of Love Songs," "Gray's Anatomy, 26th edition," edited by Charles Mayo Goss; and the Better Homes and Gardens book, "Home Furnishings Ideas."

MOMS News

The regional meeting of Moms of America, held in Plymouth February 28, was a huge success. There was an attendance of 80 members representing 12 different Units in this area. The state board officers were very pleased to have so many members present.
Mr. Nichols, chief of Special Services at Ann Arbor V. A. hospital showed a picture and gave a very interesting talk on the work done by the Volunteer workers at the hospital. They are going to open another ward at the hospital the first of April and need volunteer workers now and will need more as soon as this ward is opened.
There will be an indoctrination course from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. March 24. Anyone wishing to do volunteer work at this hospital can take the course.
Through the hospital chairman the State Board has purchased two Pressure Point mattresses for the Ann Arbor hospital. Contributions from all the units made this possible. A 17 inch TV set was given by one of the units. The new one is for right and left-arm drive wheel chairs. Here's hoping we will be able to help with the needs of these hospitalized veterans.
There are no dead ends. There is always a way out. What you learn in one failure, you utilize in your next success.

Visit Our Newly Enlarged Plymouth Office

We are pleased to announce that, as of March 7, the banking services and facilities of the Penniman and Plymouth Offices have been combined in the Plymouth Office, 306 South Main, which was recently enlarged and modernized for this purpose.

The combined staffs of the two offices are on hand to serve you.

The Penniman Office, which has been a banking landmark in Plymouth for many years, will be modernized. When alterations are completed it will be known as the "Instaloan Office" of the National Bank of Detroit, handling instalment loans exclusively. While work is in progress, the Instaloan Department will be temporarily located in the Plymouth Office.

Please accept our sincere thanks for your confidence and good will. It will always be our purpose to provide you and this community with the best in banking and trust services.

Bankers Sink Ypsilanti In Season's Final Meet

Topping off their first winning season, the Plymouth Varsity Bankers walked all over Ypsilanti last Friday as Coach John McFall's team swept eight first places to send the visitors back to Ypsilanti with a 65-19 trouncing.

The Rocks in the seven individual events swam to six firsts and even seconds. With the decision already wrapped up before the relays, Plymouth didn't let up. They made their last home meet a big one, by swimming away with both of the relays to bring the core to its final margin.

In the course of this meet, Plymouth got a third pool record. Jim Zukosky, entered in the 50 yd. freestyle for only the second time this year, set a new pool standard of 25.6 for the race. Chuck McKenna tied the old record of 25.7 as he chased Zukosky in second place.

Zukosky also topped the field in his specialty, the 150 yd. individual medley, to earn 10 points by becoming the first double winner for the Rocks all season. Dick Showers, a sophomore swimming the individual medley for the first time, turned in a fine race as he earned the runner-up spot behind Zukosky.

Bill Brandell and Gary Wright finished one-two for the eighth time this year in the 200 yd. freestyle. In this event Plymouth has been unbeaten all season. Brandell won the event eleven times and Wright twice. In one meet, when the 200 yd. race was replaced by a 400 yd. race out on top.

Plymouth's senior backstrokeer,

Bob Packard, won his last race in the Plymouth pool when he finished four seconds ahead of his nearest rival, to cop the 100 yd. backstroke. John Gregory placed second behind Packard. Chuck McKenna, another senior, won the 100 yd. freestyle, with freshman Don Carney in second place to give the Rocks another eight points. Mike Conrad fell victim to an excellent Ypsilanti tanker in an excellent Ypsilanti tanker in the 100 yd. breaststroke and the best Conrad could gain was a second. This was the only event in which Plymouth failed to garner the top spot.

In the other individual event, the diving, a sophomore and a freshman each put on a fine show to gain another first and second combination for the Rocks. Art Losse earned the top spot and was pushed hard by Johnny Walker, a freshman. The final tabulation showed Losse a winner by only 1.2 points.

Winning the final relays were Bob Packard, Mike Conrad, and Dave Beegle in the medley, and an all sophomore quartet, Dennis Baker, Jack Taylor, Gary Strasen, and John Williams, in the 200 yd. freestyle relay.

Tomorrow afternoon Coach McFall will take about a dozen swimmers and divers to East Lansing for the Class A state swimming meet. The diving preliminaries and the 400 yd. freestyle will be held Friday night. Preliminaries for the other eight events will come off Saturday morning in preparation for the finals to be held at 8:00 Saturday evening.

Name Middleton To All League 5

Bob Middleton, one of the biggest single factors in Plymouth's drive to a share of its first League crown, represents the Rocks on the all-League team, which was selected by the six loop coaches last week.

Middleton the 6' 1" senior who has been the scoring leader for Plymouth all season in addition to grabbing off more than his share of the rebounds, is a repeater from last year's team. Along with him on the first team are two members from co-champ Trenton, and one lad from both Bentley and Redford Union.

The Trojans placed their 6'8" center, Art Boyd, and Dale Brubaker to be the only school with more than one representative. Bentley's Darrell Ridling and Jim Rantanen from Redford Union rounded out the first team. Boyd is also on the team for the second time. Both he and Middleton made the squad in their junior year.

On the second team, the Rocks were represented by Captain Dick Day and Danny Clifford. Lee Juve and Larry Wilhelm, the other two starters gained honorable mention from the coaches.

The all 6-B League first team:
1. Dale Brubaker G Trenton
2. Jim Rantanen G Redford U.
3. Bob Middleton C Plymouth
4. Art Boyd F Trenton
5. Darrell Ridling F Bentley

That Makes It Quite Clear

Many of us are slow on putting up on Einstein's new theory because we haven't yet got a clear idea of his first one.

A western professor can help us in this respect.

"When a man holds a pretty girl on his lap for an hour it seems like a minute. But when he sits on a hot stove a minute seems to him like an hour. That's relativity."

Europe broke the Oriental monopoly on silk making back in the 6th century. Two monks risked torture to smuggle out a few of the forbidden silkworm eggs from Persia.

Reserves Explode For 62-47 Tally

The Plymouth Junior Varsity basketball squad ended its 1954-55 campaign by exploding for a 62-47 win over Wayne last Friday night to gain its eighth decision in fifteen starts.

Coach Bill Harding's quintet travelled to Wayne for the game that would decide whether the final record for the Jay Vees would be above .500 or not. After the first quarter ended with the junior Rocks out front by a 13-10 score, Plymouth started to pull away to wrap up the decision. In the second eight minutes the visiting Rocks hit for 16 counters while their hosts could not only find and Coach Harding's lads held a commanding 29-19 advantage at halftime.

The third period was the downfall for the junior Zebras. Plymouth got hot to notch 23 more points and, after three quarters of play, led by a comfortable 52-35 margin. In the final quarter, Plymouth netted 10 more counters while Wayne was racking up nine to bring the score to the final count of 62-47.

Bob Jenkins, aided by fifteen reserves, paced the winners with 24. Jenkins dropped in six shots from the floor and 12 of his 15 foul shots to account for his total. Kenny Calhoun and Jerry King, who, along with Jenkins, have formed the trio that accounted for more than 70% of the points the Jay Vees have racked up this year, followed Bob in the scoring. Calhoun netted 13 and King 12. For the losing Wayne team, Arrowsmith hit for 3 points.

In the fifteen games this season, the junior Rocks have hit for a total of 752 points while their opponents have netted 710. That averages up to 50 points a game for the Harding-coached quintet and 47 for Plymouth's opponent.

In the individual scoring race between the trio of top scorers for the Jay Vees, Kenny Calhoun came out on top. Calhoun, playing steady ball all season long racked up 199 points for a 13.3 average. Jenkins, who didn't start scoring at all until the schedule was almost half over, was next with 185, a 12.3 average. Not much farther down the line, Jerry King had 170, an average of 11.3 a game.

Rocks Ruthless in Record Win Over Weak Wayne Zebra Five

The Rocks are getting greedy! Two weeks ago, in clinching a share of the League title, Plymouth set a school and 6-B scoring record by racking up 83 points. That record lasted exactly one week. Last Friday at Wayne, Coach John Sandmann's red-hot Rocks erupted to a new school record in an 89-47 conquest of the hapless Zebras.

Bob Middleton, Plymouth's all-league center, showed that he deserved the selection as the big enforcer pumped 22 points through the hoop in less than three-quarters of the ball game. The school individual record of 30 points, which is held by Ken Kisabeth, might have fallen to the big boy if he had played the whole game but Coach Sandmann benched his regulars in the second and fourth quarters.

With the first team riding the bench in the final quarter, the reserves scored well enough to bring the score within striking distance of the record. Then Larry Wilhelm, one of the starting guards, went into the game in the final minutes and promptly proceeded to drop in four straight free throws for the record setting points.

Wayne was never in the game as Plymouth played some of its best ball of the season to completely outclass their hosts. Starting out with their biggest scoring quarter of the season, the Rocks jumped off to a big 26-10 lead at the end of the first period. In the second eight minutes, Wayne kept pace pretty well as they netted 10 counters to 12 for Plymouth. Leaving the floor at halftime, Coach Sandmann's squad held a 38-20 lead.

'E' Loop Leader Edged, But Holds to First Place

The powerhouse in the "E" basketball league was finally defeated last week to stop the perfect record being recorded, but league leading Wayne still held onto its front-running position.

Plymouth recreation hung a 37-30 decision on the Wayne quintet in a close battle. Norgrove and Markum led the winner's attack with 13 and 11 points respectively. *Ehrling paced the losers with 16.

Other action in the biggest, little league found the Redbirds stopping Northville recreation to a 56-28 tune and the Wolverines defeating the Northville scouts, 56-24.

Three battles were played in the "F" league last week with the Indians trouncing the Elks, 51-16, Lutheran Day school beating the Northville scouts, 31-17, and Northville recreation edging Our Lady of Good Counsel, 28-27.

In the elementary loop Starkweather surged into the league lead on the strength of two wins as previous pace-setter Allen school lost one decision.

After intermission Plymouth didn't let up a bit as they broke the scoring record for a single quarter that they had set in the first stanza. The third quarter saw the high-flying Rocks pour 28 points through the hoop to take a 66-32 advantage at the three-quarter mark. When Plymouth added 23 more counters in the final eight minutes, while Wayne hit for 15, it brought the final score to the 89-47 count.

All of the first team hit well as four of the regulars accounted for 60 points of the score. Aside from Bob, Middleton's top scoring effort of 22, Tom Ferguson and Danny Clifford racked up 13 points each and Larry Wilhelm added 12 more. Dick Davidson dropped in 10 scores to aid the big scoring push. Sexton led the Wayne scoring as he hit for eight in a losing cause.

The victory was the twelfth for Coach Sandmann's quintet in fifteen starts and topped off one of the best records in Plymouth basketball history. The trio of losses all came on a foreign court as the Rocks went through seven games in front of a home crowd without suffering a defeat.

Over the fifteen game span Middleton displayed his scoring ability to the tune of 208 points to gain the individual scoring leadership. Since he was out for one game, the big pivot man actually carried a 15 point average through the season. Behind Bob in the total scoring department Danny Clifford and Dick Day, a pair of guards, hit for 128 and 126 points respectively, to earn the next two spots. Completing the top five scorers, Lee Juve netted 96 over the season's span and Larry Wilhelm hit for 95.

Revue to Feature Local Skating Duo

Two local figure skating stars, Joan and Dean Busch of Plymouth, will be among those featured in the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club's 13th annual ice revue. The ice show will be presented at the University's Coliseum, Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, March 12-13.

Mr. and Mrs. Busch are noted for their performances in past Ann Arbor ice shows. This year they will depict an Indian princess and her chief in a production number called, "Cactus Canyon," an ice extravaganza of the wild west.

Also featured in this year's ice revue will be two professional skaters, Misses Mary Frances Greshchke of Ann Arbor and Nancy Mineard of Akron.

By popular request and in addition to production numbers, senior members of the Figure Skating Club will demonstrate ice dancing. Tickets are available at bookstores in Ann Arbor, the Coliseum, the Michigan Union, and the Spud Nut Shop.

Northville Quintet Leads In Recreation Play-offs

A darkhorse basketball squad has erupted to dominate the local two game knock-out play off that will determine the Plymouth "A" league representative at the In-City cage tournament in Highland Park, March 16, 17 and 18.

Northville Recreation has turned in two victories to take the lead in the play off between the second, third, fourth and fifth place finishers in the regular season play.

The recreation five completed the regular schedule with a record of 7 wins and 6 defeats to settle into fifth place behind Beglinger Olds, Goulds Cleaners and LaFontaine. But in the current play off Northville Recreation is the only squad that has yet to lose a battle.

Keating paced the Northville team to a 41-36 final count over LaFontaine last week with a 13 point spurge. McDonald led the losers with 8 points. Later Northville Recreation handed Beglinger Olds a 55-45 defeat behind the 16 points by Phil Straub.

Other action in this tourney found Beglinger Olds downing Goulds Cleaners 52-36. High scorers for Beglinger were Norman and Bahen with 18 and 13 tallies respectively. Lulfs headed the losers with 16 counters.

In this play off two losses will eliminate a team, and the squad that remains will travel to Highland Park to participate in the Inter-City tournament.

Two game knock-out standings are:

Northville Recreation	2 0
Beglinger Olds	1 1
Goulds Cleaners	0 1
LaFontaine	0 1

1. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars or stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

2. Only Pontiac gives you luxury-car size plus the sensational Strato-Streak V-8!

Biggest car at its price (122" and 124" wheelbase) • Most powerful car at its price (180 horsepower) • Only car at any price with distinctive Vogue Two-Tone Styling and the riding and driving ease of the torsion-free, shock-proof Chassis.

The most enthusiastic Pontiac owners are those who have taken this advice. They've looked the field over from top to bottom—and here's what they learned: Pontiac is way up there with costly cars in wheelbase, roominess, and riding ease. It's big and comfortable, yet handles with expensive sports car nimbleness. The exciting dash and compelling drive of the Strato-Streak V-8 produce the richest thrills in motoring. And Pontiac is America's most distinctive car in styling as in action. Announce Scholarship Programs Open to Local High School Students Announced this week were scholarship programs offered by various institutions and organizations which will be open to qualifying Plymouth high school students.

Carnegie Institute, Inc. of Cleveland, Ohio awards the following scholarships in courses for medical laboratory technicians, X-ray technicians, medical assistants and medical secretaries:

Award A - $100 to apply on the medical laboratory technician course to the senior with the highest scholarship rating in chemistry; award B - special scholarships for all courses. a) $500, b) $300, and c) $200 to be awarded on a competitive basis. Examinations for scholarships will be held in Cleveland on May 14, 1955 and in Boston on May 21, 1955.

Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing will award a scholarship of $100 to each of the four highest ranking contestants at the annual Awards conference of Future Nurses' Clubs. The event will be held Saturday, April 30, 1955 at the Student Center of Wayne university, 5060 Cass avenue, in the David D. Henry Lounge.

All contestants must be seniors, graduating in January or in June, who wish to enter professional schools of nursing in the Detroit area in 1955. Applicants must be 17 years of age at the time of entering a hospital school in February or September. Girls who are younger should refer to the Detroit and Tri-County League for Nursing office for counseling. They may enter the contest next year or may be considered this year if they enroll in a college program.

Michigan State college offers the MSC Entrance scholarship to one graduating senior from each approved Michigan high school. To qualify, a student must rank in the upper one-third of his graduating class or have at least a "B" average, have demonstrated leadership ability, and have financial need.

This scholarship covers tuition and is renewable for four years, provided the student maintains a 2-6 academic average and has continued evidence of financial need.

Also included in the program are the honor awards. They are non-monetary in nature and provide recognition to students of scholarship caliber who do not have financial need. This program allows the Scholarship committee to assist needy students who would not be able to attend college without aid of a scholarship.

American Legion, Department of Michigan, will award approximately 20 scholarships to Michigan boys this year in the amount of $200 each. The $200 will be paid directly to a Michigan university or college and can be applied to any regular recognized expense.

To qualify a boy must fulfill the following requirements: 1. Be a son of an American veteran of World War I or II. 2. Be approved by the local American Legion post. 3. Have a good scholarship record in high school. 4. Have need for financial assistance. 5. Choose an approved Michigan institute of collegiate rank. Application blanks may be obtained at the local American Legion post.

The Michigan Federation of Labor will award $500 to each of the two students scoring highest on an examination on "The American Labor Movement." Date of examination will be Saturday, April 16, 1955 at 10 a.m. All seniors in any high school in Michigan are eligible to compete. Purpose of this contest is to help worthy students continue their education.

A limited number of one-year scholarships are available for persons who wish to study biology at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Students should be interested not only in the study of biology but also desirous of further education in chemistry, mathematics and physics, as the program of study in biology embraces these other sciences. Each of the scholarships amounts to $580 for the academic year. Examinations for the scholarships will be held on April 9, 1955.

General Motors is launching a National Scholarship Plan for public and private secondary school seniors, providing 100 four-year college scholarships at an accredited institution of the successful candidates choice and in any field of study he may select. There is at least one scholarship for each state and 50 at large. Competition is open to both boys and girls.

Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, Ohio will award six full-tuition ($750) scholarship awards based on the study of technology. The only requirement in order to be eligible to participate is that the applicant has a major in science.

Ten four-year George Westinghouse scholarships valued at $3170 each will be awarded to outstanding men who wish to enter Carnegie Institute of Technology. Scholarships provide $980 for the freshman year, $830 for the sophomore, $680 for the junior, and $680 for the senior year.

Current full tuition at Carnegie is $680 per year and there are no extra fees. High school seniors men in public, private, and parochial schools throughout the continental United States who will be graduated from secondary schools within the period January to September 1955, and who rank in the top tenth of their class, are eligible.

Senior News

The senior class has ordered the graduation announcements. This was done through the Plymouth Mail during the month of February.

Arrangements for the senior trip have been completed with the exception of chaperones. The trip, which is to be a boat cruise on the Great Lakes, will begin May 29 and end May 31.

Students have reserved their taterooms on the S.S. South America by paying a $10 fee to reserve their passage. The remaining fare will be collected next month.

The first hour senior English class has been busy for the past two weeks writing term papers. This project serves to acquaint students with faster and easier means to find references, interpret facts, and to write bibliographies.

Hi-Y, Y-Teens View Noon Film Program

About 26 members of the Hi-Y recently attended an unusual movie during noon hour called "Lion and Tiger Fight to the Finish."

The movie featured tropical hunters mounted on elephants and the pointing and retrieving techniques of their hunting dogs. The latter part of the film dealt with fishing, showing how game fish are landed including the shark.

Y-Teens also saw a movie entitled "That Man Samson," Thursday, February 24, during noon hour. The film was on the Negro spiritual. Later the group sang "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "Old Black Joe" and "Go Down Moses."

Student Teachers Assist in Study Of Continent

World geography classes have been focusing their attention on the continent of Europe, using every possible means of study in order to get the most out of the current section on Europe.

Student teachers often lead discussions and give daily quizzes along with assigning reports. Maps of many kinds are made including political, population, and those on specific sections of a country.

Of all the extra reading done, a summary is kept, followed by written and oral reports. When each report is completed by oral recitation, it is then handed to an evaluation committee which selects the best ones and places them in a scrapbook to be kept for future reference.

By working on studies in this way, students are encouraged to do more and better work on their own. At the end of each week, the top three students doing the most extra work are awarded A's, the next six, B's, and on down according to quantity and quality.

This method of study strives to aid students in achieving a better understanding of the governing bodies or dictatorships of the European countries, as the case may be, and helps students to realize the importance of living in a country like America.

Homemaking Students Plan Family Menus, Teas, Buffets

Class activities for the students in Homemaking II, IV and VI, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Ross, include a variety of foods preparation and serving projects.

Blueberry and cherry muffins, orange banana and date bread, were made by students in Homemaking II. They also planned well-balanced menus, using the hot breads both for breakfast and luncheons. Another project dealt with using their creative ability in making individual salad plates.

Salads were based on color and flavor and later served with the hot breads.

Girls in Homemaking IV made a variety of cookies, cakes, and casserole dishes. The cake project was accomplished through demonstrations of the students in their own class.

Meal planning in this class is centered around casseroles or main dishes. Featured dishes were pork chops and scalloped potatoes, spaghetti and meat balls, and beef stroganoff. Casseroles made by the students were served to each girl in the class.

Homemaking VI girls are learning to make pies with both double and single crusts, deep fried cakes, raised donuts, potato chips.

High School Library Announces New Books

Heading the new book list in the Plymouth high school library is "Cry, the Beloved Country," a story of South Africa, by Alan Paton. This book has been acclaimed as "a book apart from the books of many years" by the Christian Science Monitor.

Other books on the library list are: "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" by Czezi Ormonde, "Jack London-Magnet for Adventure" by Shannon Garst, "Fifty Centuries of Art" by Francis Henry Taylor, "Stories of Love" selected by Alice I. Hazeltine and Elva S. Smith, "Treadmill to Oblivion" by Fred Allen, "Money to Burn" by Elizabeth Cadell, "Curtain Going Up," story of Katherine Cornell by Gladys Malvern and "Visibility Unlimited" by Dick Grace.

The library is under the direction of Patrick Butler.

french fries, scallops, shrimp and pan fried fish of all kinds available in Plymouth markets. Planning complete meals and learning to cultivate tastes is another of their projects.

Buffet suppers, family meals, entertainment of teen-agers in the home, pot-lucks, teas and receptions are being studied and planned in each of the classes.

More advanced students will visit the Mayflower Hotel and Terry's Bakery to observe quantity cookery. The rest of Mrs. Ross's classes are planning a trip to the Detroit flower show to observe flower and table arrangements, and table settings that will be on display.

Madonna Girls Publicize College

Senior and junior girls of 15 high schools in Detroit and outside areas were addressed recently by groups of Madonnites, members and non-members of the Public Relations, in their attempt to publicize the college.

The following schools were visited: St. Andrew, by Joan Pustelnik; Joan Yesh and Shirley Zajkowski; St. Casimir, by Adele Bossi and Joyce Kubick; St. Cyril & Methodius, by Gloria Laginess; Felician Academy, by Adrian Sarnecki and Mary Ann Barczak; St. Josephat, by Jessie Guizar and Evelyn Pikulski; St. Stanislaus, by Joan Chmaj and Rose Radzikiewicz; Sweetest Heart of Mary, by Gloria Laginess and Geri Sprywa; St. Ladislaus, by Joan Chmaj and Rose Radzikiewicz; St. Florian, by Geri Sprywa; St. Thomas, by Mary Ann Barczak; St. Florian, by Geri Sprywa; and Patronage, by Adrian Sarnecki.

Tillie Gresser and Adele Bossi spoke at Mt. Carmel in Wyandotte and Joan Empel and Ellen Walker went to River Rouge high school. Arlene Kielpinski and Eleanor Maleck visited St. Stanislaus in Bay City and Holy Rosary in Saginaw.

Touching on every aspect of Madonna, the girls gave an overall picture of the college. Leaflets as well as the college newspaper were distributed.

Senior Prom to Have "Carousel" as Theme

"Carousel" will be the theme of this year's senior prom to be held April 30 in the high school gymnasium.

Co-chairmen for the event are Marjorie Alford and Terry West supported by Ella Plant and Jim Zukosky as music committee. Heading the decoration committee are Sara Wesley and Susan Goddard. Their adviser will be Mrs. Frances Overton of the high school art department.

Other committee chairmen are as follows: construction, Dave Daly; publicity, Marilyn Cash, programs, Sally Ford; tickets, Bob Danol; invitations, Jane Smith and Jean Rowe; chaperones, Jane Nulty; refreshments, Thana Bairas.

General chairman of the teacher advisers is Mrs. Frances Overton. Music will be provided by Jim Servis and his orchestra.

Cases, Contracts Studied in Law Class

The fourth hour commercial law class has for the last three weeks been studying application of business laws as they affect the future citizen who intends to participate in any phase of business. The class recently listened to Melvin Blunk of the commercial department speak on child labor laws, how they were started and why.

Other phases of commercial law that have been discussed are: workmen's compensation, statutes of limitations, bankruptcy laws, responsibilities of an employer to his employees, and laws governing contracts.

One of the main activities is the reading and discussing of actual case problems. This gives the student the opportunity to see actual application of the laws. The class also draws up contracts and works with real estate forms.

Instructor of the class is James Lature. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad received about $190 million revenue per year from carrying bituminous coal, and is the largest U. S. coal hauler.

Start Basketball Tourney for Girls

The first hour girls gym class, under the coaching of Mrs. Louise Cigile, recently started a basketball tournament with captains and four teams chosen.

Team I is composed of Carol Clarke, captain; Birgit Johannson, Janice Depki, Barbara Erdelyi, Connie Chiles, Sue Anthony, Sharon Egloff, Arlene Gobel, Shirley Groom, Jackie Johnson, Louise Diedrick.

Captain of Team II is Emily Cutler, with players consisting of Kay Gorton, Gayle Griffiths, Kathie Greenlee, Chick Guideau, Ruth Cadogan, Janice Holladay, Ginger Freyman, Nancy Hopper, Carolyn Batterton.

Team III is headed by Nancy Eaton with Phyllis French, Pat Hauk, Pat Foerster, Shirley Tom, Lila Good, Sharon Beyer, Pat Hjeltness, Bertina Conklin.

Team IV has Sharon Ahern for captain. Other players are Joan Bassett, Ruth Ann Carr, Mary Agnew, Zita Brokas, Sharon Clifford, Sharon Aho, Delores DeBenedict, Karleen Hornback and Betty Finney.

The tournament started Monday, February 28, and will continue for two or three more weeks. Team III is leading with 23 points, team IV, second, with 11 points; and third is team I with 3 points. Team II has scored no points.

Points are determined by subtracting the number of points made by the winners.

Daisy Nurse Speaks At High School Club

Highlighting a recent meeting of the Future Nurses club was guest speaker Miss Alberta Wenger from the Daisy Manufacturing company of Plymouth. An industrial nurse, Miss Wenger gave the group an outline of her working day and of the work she did following her nurses' training.

At the club meeting on March 1, during American Cancer Week, the group discussed cancer with the aid of the booklet, "Youth Looks at Cancer" published by the American Cancer society.

Officers of the group are Joyce Batts, president; Gail Foreman, secretary; Barbara Moulton, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Carless is advisor.

"Pleasing You — Pleases Us"

Who says you can't have getaway and gas saving too?

(maybe you'd better try Variable Pitch Dynaflow!)

As any automotive engineer will tell you, the goal in automatic transmissions has long been a design that would give top acceleration and top gas mileage—and still be absolutely smooth.

Well, it's easy to step up acceleration, or gas mileage—but tough to do both together—unless a lot of gearshifting takes place, which cuts down on smoothness.

So Buick engineers looked to aviation for the answer—and brother! what a wondrous new magic they came up with!

They took a leaf from the airplane's variable pitch propeller—which switches the pitch of its blades one way for quick take-off—and another way for better gas mileage aloft.

They brought the same principle to Dynaflow Drive*—to the twenty propeller-like blades in the Dynaflow "stator." They engineered these blades to swivel like the blades of the plane propeller—and with the same results.

In cruising and in all normal driving, the blades are angled for fuel economy—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

But when you have to move instantly—when you need quick getaway, or a sudden burst of safety-surge power to get out of a tight spot on the highway—you just press down that gas pedal, and you're off in a split second.

You've never felt anything like it before—because there's never been anything like it before in an automobile.

It's action that's sheer thrill—action that's backed by the highest V8 horsepowers in Buick history—action that's sending Buick sales soaring to record-high levels.

Come in and try it, at the wheel of a Buick SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER. You have nothing to lose—and the most thrilling buy of the year to meet.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

REBUTTAL TO GRIPES of ninth graders over parent and teen relationship was offered last week by this panel of mothers and fathers of Plymouth freshmen students. Discussion was centered around complaints that a panel of ninth-graders brought up last month. Included in the topics were dating, going steady, allowances, baby-sitting and use of the telephone. The panels are being staged in an attempt to set up an elastic code of ethics by which the parents of the class of '58 may justly govern their teen-age children, so that the rights and interests of one group are not hindered by the other. Shown left to right are panel members Warren Worth, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. Oscar Alsbro, Moderator Kenneth Hulsing, Mrs. James Spigarelli, Mrs. Harold Swan, Mrs. James Hardimon and James McKenna.

Arguments, Dating Habits Discussed By Ninth Grade Parents Panel

group of flexible ground rules with which to guide their teen-age children, a panel of seven mothers and fathers last week offered rebuttal to the gripes of the Plymouth ninth graders with regard to parent-teen relationship.

In the third meeting of the parents of the class of '58, discussion was centered about the problems that a similar panel consisting of local freshmen students brought up last month. Goal of the two panels is to reach a code of ethics by which activities and rights of both parents and their ninth grade children may be governed, with neither group interfering with the other.

Moderated by Kenneth Hulsing, the panel dwelled on the same subjects that the previous panel discussed. These included allowances, dating, going steady, baby-sitting, "parents are behind the times", parental lectures and use of the telephone. The panel members were Warren Worth, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. James Hardimon, James McKenna, Mrs. Harold Swan, Mrs. Oscar Alsbro, and Mrs. James Spigarelli.

The various facets of dating seemed to hold the most interest for the panel. Members felt that dating to a freshman student was more a pairing off process, rather than a telephone call to make the date, driving to pick the date up and finally driving her home.

Mrs. Spigarelli attempted to illustrate the ninth grade date as several couples meeting at the theater, either inside or outside depending on the boy's financial condition. Another panel member didn't feel that the average freshman boy is doing too much actual dating. She said there were little signs of actual dating in her home.

Frequency of dates confused the panel but nights out for their children ranged from one to four evenings, depending on the grades in school and the occasion at hand. As to hours kept, between nine and ten o'clock on week nights and 11 and 12 on week-ends was the decision of the panel.

"I am more interested in where my daughter is and what she is doing, rather than being decided on a certain hour for her to be home," stated Warren Worth. General feeling was that "hanging around someplace" must be averted. Mrs. Spigarelli's opinion was that an hour after the event is over on weekends is sufficient time to be out.

Disapproval of going "steady" was a unanimous feeling of the group but a definition of the term caused confusion. The problem involved was in defining the word rather than in the act itself. No one felt that there was any going steady in the adult sense of the idea and James McKenna summed it up with "there's no reason to worry about something that doesn't exist."

Allowances and pay to their offspring found deep interest for the members. Mrs. Hardimon explained, "Allowances vary with the families. Where they include lunch money and clothing expenditures, naturally the amount is higher, but in the case of furnishing only spending money the allowance is smaller."

Individual income to the teenager also has bearing on the amount, and it was mentioned that the youth it would be within his budget. Allowance figures ranged from $1.00 to $2.50 and were given in return for certain duties such as lawn-mowing, snow-shovelling and dish-washing. "Our dish-washer isn't automatic," said McKenna, "but it's a good one."

The previous panel had raised much question as to the fairness of baby-sitting with younger brothers and sisters. "Baby-sitting is a duty to both generations," said Mrs. Campbell. "There shouldn't be any baby-sitting for the children on week-ends, but to take advantage of nights they are not out is fair." It was felt parents should not monopolize the teen-ager.

Each member confessed that he had brought up his own past to his teen-ager in an attempt to emphasize a point, but no one felt that the children didn't get a chance to present their side of a situation. The heat with which the teen-ager sometimes presented a fact was a worry to the panel. "This arguing is a natural reflex so to speak," claimed Mrs. Swan. It's common to the children as they grow up."

Parental lectures were held in esteem by Worth, who listed benefits of them, but faults to him were that the parent expects the child to accept the lecture due to the parents advantage of years and experience. Other opinions were that lectures fell on deaf ears, and that the place for discussion was the dinner table.

"My husband says talk less," said Mrs. Hardimon. "He says use more action. But what kind?"

Lengthy telephone conversations were desisted heartily by the husbands in the panel but the wives were more liberal in their decision. All of the parents considered it important to keep party lines clear.

Moderator Hulsing summarized the panel members remarks. He said, "As to allowances we correspond with what the teen-agers said they were getting, and the members are in agreement with the teens as to the hours to be kept. Going steady seems to be a worry over something that is non-existent. In baby-sitting there must be a fairness both ways and we all agree that the teen gets his point across, but it's the heat of emphasis that is the problem. Finally it is admitted that the parent might talk too much."

Kroger Profit Sharing Tops $14 Million Mark

Employees of the Kroger Co. now have a total of more than $14,749,840 to their credit under the Kroger Employees' Savings and Profit Sharing Plan. C. Olaf Talla, Detroit branch manager for the retail food firm, announced today. The plan was begun in July, 1951.

Under the plan a part of company profits is credited to the accounts of employees in proportion to the amount each has saved during the year.

During 1954 alone, a total of $1,347,604 from company profits, plus credits of $490,709 given up by members who have left the plan, was credited to employees' accounts. Talla pointed out. This is equal to 57 cents on each dollar saved by employees. Their savings totaled $3,190,875 during the past year. An additional $714,747 was credited during 1954 to employees' accounts representing earnings and increases in value of the funds during the year.

More than $127,352 of the company's contribution will be credited to accounts of employees in the Detroit area. This includes employees of the branch's 119 retail stores as well as the branch office, and warehouse in Detroit.

Funds contributed to the plan from company profits have been invested in 24,100 shares of Kroger stock, the trustees' report to members and bonds of 62 other companies. In addition, the fund also now owns three Kroger stores, which are leased to the company.

Number of employees in the plan has increased steadily, Talla said, with the total rising from 16,995 at the end of 1953 to 18,631 in 1954. About 96 per cent of eligible employees are now participating in the plan. All regular Kroger employees, 21 years of age or older, who have had two or more years of continuous service with the company, may participate.

Girls from 50 High Schools Invited To Madonna's Annual College Day

A preview of college life will be given to senior and junior girls of approximately 50 high schools who were invited to attend Madonna's annual College Day, Tuesday, March 15.

Highlighting the opening session at 10 a.m. will be the addresses of Sister M. Assumpta, president-dean of the college and Dr. Carl Brembeck, superintendent of public schools in Livonia.

Career sessions, conducted by college students, alumnae, the faculty members or guests, will fill in the afternoon hours, acquainting visiting students with the various departments at the college.

Guest speakers for the career sessions include Dr. Frank R. Ellis, pathologist at Wayne County hospital and Rev. James T. Shannon, S.T.D., Madonna instructor of theology and philosophy, and Sister M. Raynelda, Ph. D., Madonna instructor of English. Also present will be Joan Kozlowski, a senior interning in medical technology under Dr. Ellis's guidance.

Among the alumnae present who will speak on their respective fields will be Joan Petro, English and journalism teacher at Plymouth high school.

Bulletin boards depicting the various departments will be exhibited in the corridor leading to De Sales Auditorium. Representatives of each field will be on hand to give further information to interested students.

MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT FORD CARS IN 1954 than any other make!

Ford passenger-car sales to customers outnumbered those of any other make by thousands*

AND IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY!

Ford is the leader in styling

Motorists know that Ford has set the style trend in the industry for years. And now, with styling inspired by the fabulous Thunderbird, Ford is farther out front than ever!

Ford is the leader in V-8 power

Ford was first in its field (by 23 years) to provide the advantages of V-8 power. Since that time, Ford has built over 14,000,000 V-8 engines—more than all other makers combined! For 1955, Ford offers two new and mighty V-8's, as well as a most modern Six—all with the split-second response of Trigger-Torque power!

Ford is the leader in ride

Ford was first in its field to introduce Ball-Joint Front Suspension—the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years. And, for '55, it's even better. Springs are set at an angle to smooth out even the tiniest bumps. It's the new Ford Angle-Poised Ride.

ROCK OF AGES
AUTHORIZED DEALER

Going . . . Going . . . Going . . . GONE!

ONLY EIGHT HOURS time were required for a 60 year old Plymouth land mark to be torn down to make way for further commercial development. The Czar Penney home at 498 South Main was totally demolished by a ruthless wrecking crew last Friday. The site next to the Paul J. Wiedman auto agency will be blacktopped and converted into a used car lot by the Ford dealer who is the new owner of the 16,000 square foot area. The house stood as sturdily as ever early in the morning before the wrecking crew arrived on the scene, but by 11 o'clock the chimney and roof had disappeared and only the bare roof framework showed through. By two o'clock the entire second story was gone and the upper flooring was being taken up. Finally by four that afternoon even the first story was gone with only the rubble strewn over the foundation remaining. Mr. Penney operated a livery stable on the site after building the home in the 1890's, but with the arrival of the automobile the livery stable was closed and the Penney's returned to farming out in the country though still living at their house.

Goodwill Needs Discards Now For Handicapped

An emergency call for usable, repairable discards was made today by Goodwill Industries, Michigan's largest employer of handicapped people.

"The collection of discards during February was dangerously low. If we hope to keep our people steadily employed," said Harold H. McKinnon, executive secretary, "we must have a rapid influx of materials."

"Goodwill Industries is very optimistic about the future picture for 1955 and has hopes of hiring more handicapped people from its waiting list," McKinnon said. "We know that the decline in the flow of materials is seasonal, but we feel the public should realize our present needs."

McKinnon asked housewives who would normally begin housecleaning a month from now to get an early start. This would be a lifeline for Goodwill Industries and would pro-rate the work of spring housecleaning over a longer period of time giving the housewife a break during April and May.

He pointed out that in the past 24 years Detroit Goodwill had rehabilitated over 20,000 people whose handicaps included amputations, polio, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, arrested TB and old age. The Detroit Goodwill Industries, unlike others in the country, is completely self-sustaining and receives no financial help from an outside agency. The workers' salaries are paid from profits made in an open competitive market.

Arrangements for Goodwill pick-up service may be made by calling Miss Edith Sorenson of Northville.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Michigan's outdoor writers went on record 46-5 in favor of the conservation commission having continued discretionary power over the lower peninsula deer herd.

Results of a poll of the membership of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association were made public at the Association's winter meeting held at Higgins Lake last weekend.

The group also voted 40-13 in favor of having a state fishing license to cover sport angling on the Great Lakes.

The question of whether "flies-only trout fishing" should be used as a fisheries management tool split the organization closely, with 23 voting in favor of such regulations and 28 voting against. Concerning the conservation department's land acquisition program for public recreation, 42 were in favor and nine were against.

Forty-two members favored department jurisdiction over Great Lakes submerged lands and seven opposed such authority.

About 60 members, representing all aspects of Michigan's press, attended the meeting.

It is getting to be expensive to violate conservation laws.

In January, 216 violators paid a total of $4,439 in fines and costs and absorbed 43 days in jail sentences.

The violations included everything from fishing without a license to deer shining.

Two violators were convicted of throwing trash on the ice while fishing.

The fine money goes into the state library fund.

Beaver and otter, those glossy-pelted water-dwellers, had better look out for their hides come March 20.

That date marks the opening of Michigan's 1955 trapping season on the two furbarrens in most of the lower peninsula.

Trappers are looking toward an average season this year, but there is indication that pelt prices will be better this year than during the past. One recent report from the upper peninsula indicates some prices may be up 50 per cent from 1954.

In the northeastern lower peninsula, the season will run March 27-April 7. Conservation workers say there is a considerable surplus of beaver in the area. A better than average take would ease damage complaints and stream work.

In the upper peninsula, recent heavy thaws indicate an open trapping season is on the way. The season runs April 6-20 in the west end and April 1-13 in the east.

In 1954, a total of 3,300 trappers took 8,500 beaver and about 450 otter.

The Lower Michigan Chapter of the Society of American Foresters recently passed a resolution favoring a continuation of the conservation commission's discretionary power over the lower peninsula deer herd.

The Lower Michigan Chapter represents 250 professional and 100 student foresters.

The resolution asks that the commission be given authority to set the time, place and manner of taking deer and the kind and sex of deer which may be taken in the lower peninsula.

Smelt dippers of Michigan are getting set for one of the biggest seasons of all time.

Last year, commercial fishermen set an all-time record when they hauled up 4,850,000 pounds of smelt out of Michigan's Great Lakes.

For two years running prior to 1954, commercial anglers also set records.

Conservation department fisheries workers say these records foretell big things to come for the boots-and-nets crews of dipper fishermen who will splash around in the state's smelt streams during the next three months.

The season officially is open March 1-May 31, but nothing much will happen before the end of March. By that date, ice is expected to be out of some northern lower peninsula streams. As soon as warm weather hits such clear streams, up will pop the smelly millions, on their way upstream from the Great Lakes to spawn.

Such runs will continue well into May, with first one section of the state, then another reporting frantic activity.

Smelt dippers are a zany lot. Armed with huge dipnets, bushel baskets, tubs and pails and wearing everything from arctic clothing to bathing suits, they look like anything but fishermen. The fact is, however, they probably take more pounds of fish per angler than any other group of fishermen on the state scene.

Lists of streams open this year and approximate dates of runs in various sections of the state may be obtained from the conservation department's fish division at Lansing, 26.

Favorite Recipes
Plymouth's Kitchens

Everyone has a hand in the project when it comes to making rolls at the Reverend John Walasky residence, 42007 East Ann Arbor trail. With Mrs. Walasky above are Eva, 6, and eight-year-old Jane who busily prepare the dough for their doll-size pans.

Roll Recipe Also Doubles As Pizza Crust

A quick and easy recipe for delicious rolls comes from Mrs. John Walasky, wife of the pastor of Plymouth Assembly of God. The resident of 42007 East Ann Arbor trail recommends them for family dinners or party occasions. Especially handy is the fact that you can prepare the dough even a day or two ahead of time, keeping it in the refrigerator until you're ready to make the rolls.

This versatile recipe not only makes cloverleaf or crescent rolls, but you can dress it up for tasty sweet rolls. Then, too, Mrs. Walasky often cuts down on the sugar portion and finds the recipe does equally well for pizza pie crust.

Refrigerator Rolls

- 1 yeast cake softened in two tablespoons of luke-warm water
- 1 cup of hot water to which have been added:
- 1 teaspoon of salt
- 1 1/2 tablespoons of shortening
- 1/2 cup of sugar (less if you do not care for sweet rolls)

Let above mixture cool until luke-warm. Then add one egg, beaten, and the yeast to the water mixture and work into 3 1/2 cups (sifted) of all-purpose flour. Knead on floured board until light and elastic. Then put in a greased bowl large enough for the bread to rise. Grease top of dough with butter or oil, cover, and put in the refrigerator for a few hours or until you want to make your rolls. (Dough can be kept refrigerated one or two days).

Take dough out of refrigerator about an hour before you make into rolls of any shape you want. Knead well and form rolls. Place in greased baking tins. Brush tops with melted butter to which has been added a drop or two of milk to help them brown. Let stand for an hour and a half or longer. Bake in 400 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes about 16 rolls.

For delicious cinnamon rolls, use same recipe rolled out thin. Brush dough with butter, sprinkle with brown sugar, nuts and cinnamon, roll up and cut in inch-lengths. Bake as above.

Upstairs - Downstairs ALL AROUND THE HOME

New Fibers, Textile Finishes Bring Washing Problems, Too

New man-made fibers were expressly designed to lighten laundering tasks. Today, clothing care problems differ somewhat from those of the past. No longer do we have just cotton, linen, silk and wool to consider.

Today our closets contain garments of nylon, orlon, dacron, acrilan, dnyel and vicara. In addition, new combinations of fibers and new textile finishes in fabrics create special problems for the homemaker. Should these materials be dry-cleaned or washed? If washed, how should they be handled?

General rules can be given for most of the new fabrics. However, many new fibers now in the process of development will be used in such a variety of weaves and combinations with other fibers that we can only rely upon the directions for care supplied by the manufacturer.

Although nylon, orlon, dacron and acrilan fibers are washable, not all garments made from them can be washed. For example, a suit of dacron may have linings and shoulder pads made of non-washable materials. A blended fabric containing other fibers as well as dacron may not be washable or may require special care.

White nylon should be washed separately from colored garments. Even the slightest tinge of color in the water will be picked up and retained. Nylon can stand a water temperature as hot as the hands can stand. Scrub soiled necklines and cuffs of garments with a soapless non-alkaline shampoo and a brush.

Corduroy to be truly washable should be "vat-dyed" and "sanforized." Look for the label. Wash and dry corduroy wrong side out. Rayon and acetate fibers are washable. However, washability of any garment depends on the way it is made and the way the fabric is constructed, dyed and finished. Generally, smooth, flat rayon fabrics are likely to wash well. Dress weight crepes with mossy or pebbly effects should be dry cleaned as they have a tendency to shrink or stretch. Again, the label should tell whether the fabric is washable.

Wash rayon and acetate fabrics before they get too soiled. Do not soak because rayon becomes weak when wet and ravel or breaks easily. All rayon fabrics will take a higher temperature than acetate fabrics or blends of the two. High temperatures will fuse or melt an acetate fabric.

Macaroni, Spaghetti Offer Lenten Variety

"Really meant for Lent" is the designation given macaroni and spaghetti products during the Lenten season.

One of the most important fundamentals of preparing macaroni or spaghetti dishes is to be sure the water they are first cooked in is boiling rapidly. Cold water will spoil even the best of grades. The water should be kept boiling until the macaroni or spaghetti is tender.

Here are a few Lenten dish suggestions:

Lenten Macaroni Marvels — stuffed macaroni peppers and a savory sauce. Wash and remove tops and cores from 6 medium green peppers. In a large bowl combine the following: 2 cups cooked elbow macaroni, drained; 1 cup chopped green beans; 2 tablespoons, chopped pimento; 1/2 teaspoon oregano; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 8-ounce can meatless spaghetti sauce. Fill peppers with macaroni mixture, place in casserole with 1/4 inch water covering bottom. Cover and bake 40-50 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six. Savory Sauce — Combine and cook over low heat until these melts, 1 8-ounce can meatless spaghetti sauce with 1/3 cup grated sharp cheese.

Sunshine Tuna Loaf — Grease 1 x 5 x 2 1/2" loaf pan and arrange 12 slices stuffed olives on bottom, over which is sprinkled 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese. Combine in bowl: 1 8-ounce package elbow macaroni cooked and drained; 1 10 1/2-ounce can tomato soup; 1 1/2-ounce can tuna; 1/2 teaspoon pepper; 2 eggs, slightly beaten. In another bowl combine 1 7-ounce can white tuna meat, drained and flaked; 2 tablespoons chopped parsley; 2 tablespoons chopped onion. Fill prepared loaf pan 1/3 full with half macaroni mixture, packing lightly. Spoon tuna mixture over all. Top with remaining macaroni and pack down. Bake 45 minutes. 775 degrees. Unmold on garnished platter. Serves 6.

Charleston Shrimp Bake: Saute in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons chopped onion. Add, blending well, 1 8-ounce package elbow macaroni, cooked and drained; 1/2 cup chopped parsley; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon pepper; 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg; 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. In a greased 2-quart casserole place alternate layers macaroni mixture and cooked shrimp, reserving 8 for top. In a separate sauce pan heat 1 10 1/2-ounce can tomato soup with 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese and stir until blended. Pour a 3-inch border of sauce around edge of casserole. Arrange 8 remaining shrimp, fan-tail fashion, around sauce. Bake in 350 degree oven 25 minutes. Sprinkle sauce lightly with Parmesan cheese just before serving. Serves 6.

Grapefruit Goes Green For St. Pat's!

If you insist on the wearin' o' the green on March 17, start at the table by serving this Erin version of grapefruit as a meal starter. Here a small molded lime gelatine shamrock shimmers atop the golden sections of the fruit. A wonderfully tart half of grapefruit is the best appetizer possible, from the standpoint of whetting your appetite for the rest of the meal, and also being the sort of thing the doctor recommends, high in vitamin C which you need every day to keep in good shape.

Your grapefruit itself may even fit into the color scheme for the holiday—this time of year oranges and grapefruit down south sometimes show green on their outer surfaces, just the result of chlorophyll (the substance you're now enthusing about in toothpaste and chewing gum) coming out along with the bloom for next year's crop. Don't be misled if the fruit in your market has green tinges—it's been inspected before it's packed and must be mature before it leaves the groves.

To Prepare Grapefruit Halves

Cut fruit in half; remove core if desired. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Serve plain or with any desired topping.

Find Library Full of Ideas For Kiddies, Indoor Play

For those wet, windy spring days to come when kiddies must play indoors, often trying the patience of their parents, the local library has called attention to a number of recent books on play activities for boys and girls of all ages.

"Mothers of small children can save their time and tempers by using books to plan constructive and attention-holding activities for youngsters," explained Mrs. Agnes Pauline, head librarian.

Books at the library, she said, offer many suggestions for all kinds of play activities. One good source of such material is June Birdsong's recent book, "Children's Rainy Day Play." The author outlines a wide range of practical projects from games of make-believe to popcorn balls or finger painting.

Other helpful books, such as "What to Do With Your Pre-Schooler," by Lillian Frankel, and Edgar Bley's "Have Fun with Your Son," also give additional ideas.

Still other ideas for those "What can I do?" blues may be found in the "Family Fun Book," Mary Mapes' "Fun with Your Child" and "The Hobby Fun Book."

In selecting draperies for your home, bear in mind that the texture of the fabric is important. The correct textures, well matched, help to give a warm, rich feeling to a room. Plain fabrics are a good choice for large window areas, as the play of daylight and lamplight creates shadows on the soft, deep folds which give the effect of an interesting pattern.

If your winter cotton has a dull or textured finish, you'll get best results by pressing it on the wrong side of the fabric.

"Long Line" Takes Spotlight This Spring

The long line is going to be the thing to wear this spring and summer. If you don't have the waistline, you had better get busy with some exercises and a diet.

Designers say the long line is easy to wear, providing you have a reasonably good figure. It will be terrific on those lucky girls with a lovely figure. There will be so many variations of the long line that most of us will find a style that will be becoming.

The unbelted middy top and slim top and slim skirt combination is seen in many spring suits. This design is becoming to the young girl. The "almost but not quite unmarked waistline is suitable for all ages. These two designs are seen in tweed, wool and silk, and combination of these fabrics for spring.

For the summer, cottons fashioned on the long line, the middy and the unbelted look will be popular. Playclothes will reflect this new influence. Even bathing suits have a new look about them.

Figured fabrics are outstanding for spring. Even shoes made of leather and fabric will have a patterned look about them. Heels on the more expensive dress type shoes will be decorated with everything from buttons to rhinestones.

Makeup will continue to be as natural looking as possible but still flattering. Powder in a rosy tone is recommended for spring. Pink will be the featured color of lipstick.

Know the water pressure where you live before buying an automatic washer. If you live where there is a real problem in water pressure (less than 25 pounds pressure) consider a machine with a float valve control. It is more satisfactory for filling—under these conditions, than a machine with a timer.

Gay, Cotton Carpeting Can Glamorize Bath

Bathrooms can be beautiful. That cheerful fact, proved long ago by fanciful decorators, now takes on added force with the advent of wall-to-wall cotton bathroom carpeting with "do-it-yourself" appeal.

This new fling in bath and dressing room decor is emphasized in a group of correlated cotton towels, mats and other bath accessories in a delightful range of colors.

Cotton carpeting is featured in 16-inch skid-proof widths. There are complete instruction kits for installing.

This is an easy do-it-yourself project as no binding is required. First a pattern is made from wrapping paper cut into 18" squares. These are laid out over the entire floor area, cut around fixtures, and taped.

Then the carpeting is cut by the pattern, Scotch-taped together, and laid on the bath floor with the greatest of ease. When the time comes for washing, the parts are easily disjoined for a good soap and water dunking. The sections fit nicely into a home washing machine if lengths are kept to a maximum of 5 or 6 feet.

This ease in laundering is one of the most attractive features of the new fad, and does away with old bugaboo as to keeping bath floor coverings clean.

Tempting colors in the cotton bath carpeting include charcoal, avocado, walnut lilac, champagne, sunflower, aquamarine, spruce, bud pink and apricot.

Depth of batter in cake pans seems to affect cake texture. Layer cake pans should not be more than half full to achieve a velvety, smooth cake consistency.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

HERE'S A DO-IT-YOURSELF project that took only 10 weeks of spare-time work and added a completely new and modern recreation-living room to the home of the Stewart Robinsons, 895 Grace, Northville. A printer at The Plymouth Mail, Robinson decided to close off the furnace room and convert the remainder of his basement into a recreation area. The picture shows a 9½'x18' portion, while another wing has 7'x10' additional space. Celotex tile covers the ceiling, while Flamingo painted plank-ing covers the top half of the walls. The pine paneling gives the area a natural, comfortable look. The whole job cost about $500, plus a few spare-time hours.

Floor Emphasis Whets Interest In Hardwood Types and Styles

The current emphasis on floor beauty in homes has been marked not only by a mounting demand for hardwood floors, but also by a sharper interest in the various styles available, according to lumber dealers.

They point out that hardwood floors, noted for natural beauty and long life, now are specified for the vast majority of homes, even those in the modest price range. Operating in a buyer's market, builders are finding that because of the strong public preference for floors of hardwood, houses sell faster when equipped with them.

Use of more than one type in a home is gaining favor. Many persons, for example, prefer the individuality and pleasant contrast effected by having one style for the living room, another for the dining room and perhaps a third for the bedrooms or a den.

The traditional favorite, oak in the strip style, still leads the popularity parade by a substantial margin, dealers report. Among other species most extensively used are hard maple, beech, birch and pecan.

Strip flooring owes its favored position to its styling versatility and economy. Available in widths ranging from 1½ inches to 3½ inches, it is in high fashion today for homes of any price class and any architectural style. Produced in huge volume, it is lower priced than the other major types, plank and parquet flooring.

Plank floors, generally of oak, are being selected by many discriminating homemakers who prefer their friendly, informal note. Particularly well suited to ranch homes and to such rooms as dens, plank floors are laid in random widths. The planks are produced in sizes ranging from 3 to 9 inches.

Pride of Ownership

Most of the nation's 25,700,000 homeowners who live in their own dwellings take great pride in keeping their premises in tip-top shape. Last year an average of $60 each was spent on these owner-occupied homes in remodeling and modernizing. About 18,000,000 homes got a face lifting or other beauty treatment, with lumber the most popular remodeling material in most instances.

wide. Like strip flooring it comes in random widths.

Dealers say the popularity of plank floors is due in considerable measure to the fact that they succeed in recapturing much of the charm of the hand-hewn plank floors of colonial times. A distinctive feature, for example, is the use of decorative wood plugs, usually of walnut, at the ends of the planks to simulate the wood dowels by which early plank floors were fastened.

Parquetry in modern unit-block form is constantly winning admirers of its more formal appearance. It is laid in appealing square and rectangular designs rivaling conventional parquetry in elegance. It differs from the latter in that each block, installed as a unit, is composed of several pieces held together at the back or ends by special fasteners. There is a wide choice of sizes. In square blocks, for instance, a popular selection is the 9x9-inch unit.

With conventional parquetry, the most elaborate type, each piece is laid individually. The number of exquisite patterns which can be achieved with this style of hardwood flooring is almost infinite.

FHA Regulations Prove Valuable For Present-Day Homeowners

Sometimes it seems that today's home owner must be a combination of carpenter, architect, and financier in order to operate his household efficiently.

The truth is that many home owners do practice a combination of these professions. It isn't unusual to find a man who designs his own home, builds at least part of it and negotiates expertly for the financing.

But like any amateur he may overlook important details. How many home owners, for example, know the minimum property requirements set up by F.H.A. for its home mortgage plan?

Even the home owner who doesn't depend on F.H.A. financing is wise to be familiar with the regulations governing its program, for at least two good reasons. First, he may some day want to sell his home to a buyer who needs F.H.A. financing. Then F.H.A. requirements will be considered in making the appraisal. Second, F.H.A. requirements are set up to protect the home owner. So they make a good guide for making sure you get maximum value in the home you build, regardless of the method of financing.

Details of construction also are considered carefully. The inspector looks to see whether the basement windows are caulked. He checks the amount of cupboard space in the kitchen against the volume of the room. The water heater must meet definite standards.

Building and architectural magazines are filled with new fireplace designs. Most of them meet F.H.A. requirements. But it's well to compare the style you choose with the regulations. For example, F.H.A. specifies that a masonry fireplace must have a hearth extending 16 inches beyond the front and be 16 inches wider than the fireplace opening.

All these points may seem like unimportant details, but they become extremely important when they block a home sale or mean the difference between happy home ownership and a series of saddening experiences.

You can dim the beauty of your new home by inadequate lighting. Even more important, poor lighting can cause serious eyestrain to children and adults. Generally speaking, good illumination should fill the entire room to avoid eyestrain caused by the subconscious "conflict" between contrasting light and dark areas. Localized lighting for specific tasks—sewing, reading—requires a 100- to 150-watt bulb. In all cases, avoid direct glare and reflective materials. This is very important in the kitchen, work center of the house. A light-diffusing material such as clay tile is ideal for kitchen floors, countertops and walls.

DESIGN A-314. Open planning combines living and dining rooms. Den, by means of folding doors, can also be opened into living room. There are two bedrooms and a den, which can be made into a third bedroom, combination kitchen-dinette, bath and utility room. Exterior finish has vertical and bevel siding, asphalt shingles, stone planter and chimney. Also a fireplace, picture window and covered entrance. Floor slab is on gravel fill. Tired by TV Nerves? Build 'Escape Hatch'

Ever feel the need for a "television escape hatch" — an extra room where non-viewers can find refuge from an unappreciated show? If so, you may find the answer by converting a section of an open porch into an extra living room as a "do it yourself" project.

The original brick exterior of the house forms two of the walls for the new room. Two additional walls could be built by the conventional 2x4 stud method, with insulation between the studs. On the inside a wall board may be used as the new interior finish and the brick walls painted to match the panels. Provision could be made for three windows and a door.

The new exterior walls may be sheathed with wood and covered with white asbestos-cement siding shingles, a noncombustible and highly weather-resistant material. The entire job, including flooring and professional plumbing and electrical work could be done for about $600.

Porch Makes New Room

Enclosing a porch is an excellent method of adding a room to a too-small house. Use the present structure insofar as possible. Plan on plenty of built-in storage. Floor the area with a rugged material such as quarry tile, which has color enough that no rugs or carpet will be needed. Use single beds as sofas, for they will take up little room.

Treat Pine Panel Doors to Prevent Shrinking

"Water-repellent preservative treated doors" is one of the many technical phrases people run into when having a house built or remodeled. To add to the confusion, some doors are treated; others aren't.

The difference is this: exterior doors, at least the panel type made of ponderosa pine, are treated with a chemical that largely prevents moisture absorption and so eliminates warping, shrinking and swelling. Interior doors do not have to be treated, since they are not exposed to the weather.

Decorator's Notebook

The wall-to-wall arrangement is fine for carpeting, but occasionally it gets monotonous when used for furniture. The "finished-on-all-sides" treatment gives the homemaker great leeway for interesting furniture arrangements in her living, dining or bedroom.

The desk in this colonial setting proves there is no longer any need to restrict your imagination with standard furniture arrangements. This desk enjoys the unique feature of being fully finished in back, as well as in front.

As shown, either a Windsor chair or a captain's chair is ideal for this particular style of desk. The desk provides an adequate working surface and sufficient storage space. The arrangement is decorative and unusual.

There are several maple and cherry finishes available. The wood is solid birch.

An affair of social interest occurred at William Tait's on the town line on Saturday, last, when Miss Alice Quackenbush was united in marriage to Wilbur Jarvis of Salem. It was a quiet home wedding, only the immediate family being invited.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spicer spent Sunday at William Barker's at Sheldon.

Bessie Root and Mary Cole are taking teachers' examinations at Ann Arbor this week.

On March 4 occurred the 12th anniversary of the organization of the Woman's Literary club. A large number of members enjoyed a very pleasant meeting on that afternoon. After the business hour the program of the day was taken up, consisting of a club paper, conducted by Mrs. R. E. Cooper as editor in chief, assisted by Miss Sayles, having charge of the editorial department, in which she gave a very interesting resume of the history of the club for the past 12 years.

The P. H. S. baseball team for 1905 is being organized by Captain Monte Wood, and the material this year promises to be the best ever.

Pamphlet Outlines How Doctor Gives Exam of Heart

What is a heart examination?

If more people knew that it is a painless and relatively simple procedure, the Michigan Heart Association points out they would pay more attention to the advisability of having regular precautionary check-ups.

An authoritative account of what a heart check-up involves is outlined in a new Heart Association pamphlet, "How the Doctor Examines Your Heart." Distribution of the publication is being made by the Michigan Heart Association in connection with its educational campaign which was carried out during the month of February.

Frank Van Schoick, M.D., Jackson, president of the association said:

"There are many different forms of heart disease. The ability of the physician to recognize and diagnose these conditions represents one of the great achievements of medical science.

The pamphlet, which is offered as one of the educational services of the Heart Association, stresses these points:

1. It is now possible to detect most heart ailments accurately and early in their course. This is of great importance because the earlier they are diagnosed, the more effective will treatment be.

2. Age-old misconceptions about the heart and symptoms of heart disease have caused much unnecessary fear and worry. The simplest way to avoid needless anxiety and to protect your health - is to arrange with your physician for regular health and heart check-ups.

It is pointed out that a heart examination is not confined to the heart alone, and that the findings are interpreted in relation to many factors such as the patient's age, way of life and general physical condition.

The first and most important step in the heart examination is taking the patient's medical history. Here, the physician is interested in all the events in his patient's life - from birth until the present - which may affect the heart or point to heart trouble.

For example, a history of scarlet fever or rheumatic fever in childhood puts him on guard for defects in the heart's valves.

If the patient reports symptoms such as pain in the middle of the chest, heart palpitations, swelling over the ankles, or shortness of breath, the doctor is interested in when they occur, their severity and how long they last. Their importance can only be decided by considering them in relation to all other facts brought out by the examination.

Blood pressure is measured with the familiar rubber cuff and mercury column instrument. The pressure is recorded both when the heart contracts and when it is at rest. Both pressures are of diagnostic importance.

Elevated blood pressure must be considered in terms of its effect on the arteries, the heart and other organs. Examination of the eyes for impairment of the small vessels of the retina may disclose signs of more widespread arterial damage.

Listening to the sounds made by tapping on the chest, the doctor can frequently locate the heart's borders with a measure of accuracy. If he finds it enlarged he can determine more precisely by x-ray the nature of the enlargement.

The stethoscope conveys the many sounds made by closing of the heart's valves. Abnormalities in these sounds may reveal valve damage, inborn structural heart defects or other disorders.

Finally, since heart trouble may often be accompanied by disorders of other parts of the circulatory system, the physician investigates the condition of not only the blood vessels but also of such organs as the liver, lungs and kidneys.

After the physical examination, the doctor decides if additional procedures are necessary.

Other procedures may include fluoroscope and x-ray film, which permit the doctor to see the contour of the patient's heart and offer more precise methods for detecting and evaluating enlargement and other abnormalities of the heart. They may confirm earlier evidence or provide new facts about its size, shape and position.

In some cases further information is obtained through various laboratory procedures such as chemistry of the blood and urine, and kidney function tests.

State Featured As Tourist Site

Millions of travel conscious Americans will have an opportunity to gain first-hand information on Michigan's tourist attractions as they visit two of the nation's top travel shows in Chicago and Detroit this year.

According to the State Tourist Council, the virtues of a Michigan vacation are now being featured in a colorful exhibit at the National Travel Show in Chicago after which the display will move into Detroit Sports and Travel Show March 12-20.

Participation in outstanding travel shows of this type is an integral part of the Tourist Council's annual promotional program designed to lure tourists to Michigan. The exhibit is produced by the Council in cooperation with Michigan's four regional tourist associations.

The 32-foot long display contains 18 brilliantly lighted color pictures of outstanding Michigan vacation attractions under the colorful heading - "Four Seasons of Fun." Available at the exhibit is a complete selection of Michigan travel literature distributed by trained travel counselors.

Need for Firm's Goods Indicated to Continue

F. R. Dickenson, president of Townsend company, said today that current demand for the firm's products is strong and indications are that it will continue well into 1955.

Net sales for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1954, amounted to $6,578,254 compared to $7,769,687 for the same period the previous year, a decline of approximately 15 per cent. Income before taxes was $381,837 as compared to $615,703 for the same six month period in 1953.

Mr. Dickenson said improved sales in 1955 will be brought about by the high manufacturing levels of the aircraft, automotive, home appliance and general metalworking industries. Townsend is one of the nation's largest producers of rivets, fasteners and cold-headed parts.

Dunn Steel Products company in Plymouth is a division of the Townsend company.

1954 Earnings Highest Ever For Burroughs

World-wide operations of Burroughs Corporation produced revenue of $169,099,093 in 1954, the highest in the corporation's history, John S. Coleman, president, announced last week.

This was an increase of 5.4% over the 1953 total revenue of $160,455,068. (The 1953 figure is restated to conform to certain accounting changes made in 1954.)

Although expenses for research and development in 1954 were 9% above those of 1953, earnings from all operations after provision for income taxes totaled $9,146,514 compared with $7,826,148 in 1953. Estimated income taxes on the current year's earnings were $8,590,000 compared with $9,840,000 in 1953.

Earnings for the year from operations in the United States and Canada, including dividends received from subsidiaries operating in other countries, amounted to $7,796,065, or $1.56 per share, compared with $7,206,655, or $1.44 per share in 1953.

Revenue from operations outside the United States and Canada was 14% above 1953 and higher than in any prior year.

The annual report will be mailed to stockholders on March 15, 1955.

Chips from the ROCK

It's entirely possible the Jamaica Tourist Board may have dreamed up the following lyric but at least they claim this calypso jingle offers sound advice:

"The weather and your feet may be cold as ice, Cold as ice, better think twice; Take off for Jamaica where the rum comes from, And you will have some fun."

People do have fun in Jamaica, if they like hot weather, and they have had ever since Christopher Columbus became this 144-mile-long island's first tourist in 1494. The longest island in the British West Indies it is a tropical paradise of high mountains, soft breezes, and colorful plants and flowers. The island has many waterfalls, streams and springs. The springs called creek-heads is where their land derives its name. The Indian word Jamayca meaning "island of springs."

Our main destination on this fairy island was Montego Bay, some 60 miles west of Kingston, major port of the chief British naval base in the Caribbean Sea. Montego Bay, variously called the Riviera of the New World and the Palm Beach of the Caribbean has vastly improved from its roughneck beginning as a hang out for pirates and wild hog hunters.

Some 18 plush hotels accommodate the Montego Bay tourist today. A far cry from the time in 1654, when the British took the island away from the Spaniards. Ever since, Montego Bay and environs have held sway as sort of a tropical England with Scottish overtones. This lush area has given rise to some of the New World's first millionaires who built empires on sugar, rum, bananas, coconuts, cattle and, often as not, piracy and slavery. However the Bay proper has always had a genteel touch. Great mansions of mahogany and stone still top the rolling terrain. Most famous of all is Rose Hall, whose crumbling, ghostly ruins hold the riddle of its infamous mistress, Annie Palmer, who, legend whispers, "killed three husbands and the fourth killed her".

Of interest to future visitors might be a few facts about some of the island accommodations. One of the most popular and visited by American and Canadian millionaires is Round Hill, a $2,000,000 ninety-eight acre collection of privately-owned villas hovering about a central mansion and a secluded cove eight miles from Montego Bay. Two insulated jeeps hustle everything from martinis to baked alaskas to occupants of the villas. It costs the owners $34.00 a night to keep the main villa in candlelight so you well can imagine that rates for two start on the American plan at $50.00 per day upwards.

But, more for the folks back home, and more back to earth are such accommodations, all of which overhang the sea, as Casa Blanca, Bay Rok and Montego Bay Hotel where our group of newspaper people stayed. All of these hotels make much of nearby Doctor's Cave Beach, a semi-circular refuge of powder fine sand lapped by gin-clear water sun warmed to 80 degrees the year around. Lollers and beachcombers here need only snap their fingers for a rum punch or lobster sandwich served by waiters operating in patrols. Hotel prices go down as the distance from the beach increases and two interesting mountain resorts we visited were Tryall, a 2,000 acre resort estate of coconuts and cattle which takes in paying visitors during the season. Another, Good Hope plantation, where we stopped for afternoon tea, features cattle roundups and 200 miles of riding trails.

Actually good American plan accommodations can be found starting from about $10.00 a day. Spear fishing parties can be arranged for $10.00 a person, and fishing and sightseeing cruises cost from two to five dollars. In addition to these low rates other purchases can now be made at Montego Bay, recently declared a free port like Kingston, such as Chanel No. 5 perfume at $3.95, less than half stateside price and $185.00 Swiss watches which can be bought for $92.90. Many in our party bought such items as woolens, linens, dinner settings, etc. A fifth of $6.00 Scotch at home goes for $2.70 in Montego Bay.

Even under the restraining hand of the British who bend every effort to maintain English custom and action, Jamaica is growing, and the American influence is doing much to improve living conditions and life in the country. New sports are available such as pole rafting in the Rio Grande river. Swimming, sailing, fishing, water-skiing, tennis, golf, horseback riding, bicycling, archery and sightseeing are now available to those interested. The Jamaican newspaper features daily as its front page lead story, however, the popular old English game of cricket.

Our flight from Kingston to Jamaica was most interesting since our pilot had been selected specially by Pan American for the trip because he was the son of a former Wisconsin newspaper publisher. It is said the approach to Montego Bay is one of the most beautiful sights in the world. The colorful blues of the Caribbean sea against the mountains is breath-taking, and we were fortunate to enjoy a sightseeing trip by air of the entire western section of the island before landing.

At the airport we were welcomed on arrival, and also entertained on departure, by the Sugar Industry of Jamaica with huge refreshing rum punches which put the party in a gay holiday mood before undertaking the fun of seeing the sights of the area.

From the airport to the hotel we visited at a sugar cane refinery and also in cane fields ready for harvesting. Pictured above is my traveling secretary surrounded by a field of waving sugar cane which grew much taller than we had suspected. But this is only the beginning of our own Jamaica observations, and since space doesn't permit telling more we shall take the liberty of passing our own thoughts on this fairy land along to you next week.

U.S. Military Should be Ready to Strike First

Babson Park, Florida—In view of the latest news from Russia, businessmen and investors are much excited regarding the new book published by D. Van Nostrand Co., Inc., New York City, entitled "Influence of Force in Foreign Relations." As the author, Captain W. D. Puleston, is a neighbor of mine and recently gave a most dynamic address at the Webber College Winter Conference, I must comment thereon and advise everyone to read it.

EIGHTEEN "FATAL MISTAKES"

Captain Puleston told me last spring of these "mistakes." Shortly thereafter, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the late President's wife, was visiting my home in Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts. I asked her what she thought of these "mistakes" for which the Democratic Administrations were reported responsible. Mrs. Roosevelt answered: "Well, not withstanding Captain Puleston's so-called 'mistakes,' we won two wars, didn't we, Mr. Babson? Perhaps someone should now write a book on the Eighteen Master Strokes which won these two wars!"

Personally I believe that, although a fearless critic, Captain Puleston is eminently fair in his judgments. He emphasizes mistakes made by Republican statesmen such as Root, Hughes, Kellogg, Stimson, and President Hoover equally with those made by Presidents Wilson and Roosevelt. He points to Wilson's statesman-like, but unheeded, appeal to European leaders in 1916 to seek a "peace without victory." Similarly, Puleston has pointed to mistakes made by military as well as diplomatic leaders. He carefully cites proof showing the undue subordination of the trained military to untrained civilians. Politics, between 1909 and 1941, by weakening our armed forces, caused first Germany and then Japan to attack us on the incorrect assumption that they could defeat us before we could prepare to fight.

WHAT SHOULD U. S. DO NOW? STRIKE FIRST?

Businessmen and investors want to know what Captain Puleston thinks we should do now. This is it:—Increase the nation's defenses, particularly the strategic industrial areas, against air attacks; devise more efficient methods to prevent delivery of bombs, or retention of any such bombs now held in the country by enemy agents; keep a large proportion of our land, sea, and air forces, particularly fighting planes, always on the alert; prohibit the entry of unidentified planes into certain important areas; finally, and most important, decide now that we never again await an "overt enemy attack."

Americans have been led to believe that their Government is committed to awaiting an enemy attack with nuclear bombs. Puleston points to an honorable and long-accepted middle course, namely, if an enemy nation, possessing the ability to destroy us, disposes its forces in position to do so, we should immediately mobilize and station our forces in position to strike the enemy and defend the United States. When, in all respects we are ready, inform the hostile government that if within 48 hours it does not demobilize its forces, we will take any or all measures to protect our country. If the potential attack should be immediately delivered, as mobilized, we would get an even break; if the enemy then demobilizes we can prevent war. If, in spite of our warning, it continues to hold its forces ready to spring surprise attacks, we then should strike first. Under International Law, having given the foe fair warning, we would be fully justified, claims the Captain.

POLITICS MAY BE A FACTOR

In case we are in World War III or "sitting on a keg of uranium" in November 1956, it seems as if President Eisenhower would be certain of re-election. I cannot imagine a better-trained man for the Presidency under such a condition. Whether or not the Republican strategists have this in mind, I leave to you readers to decide. The Presidential election coming next year certainly complicates the situation. Certainly, the character and location of each industry should be most carefully considered. Also read "The Natural Cycle of Government," an important mimeographed brochure, written and published by Edison E. Shrum of Forneft, Missouri.

Readers should study the history of Formosa before deciding what attitude the United Nations will take. The fact is that Formosa was a part of China for centuries until 1895, when China was forced to "give" it to the Japanese. The Japanese developed Formosa and made it what it is today. At the close of World War II, the Japanese were compelled to give up Formosa and return it to China. Strictly speaking, there are two Chinas today—the Mainland under Communist Administration — and Formosa under the conservative Chiang Kai-shek. Both claim sole representation in the United Nations. Thus far only Formosa, ruled by Chiang Kai-shek, is a member of the United Nations.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE? MY FORECAST

Although we should hold Formosa for the present, I forecast that Formosa will sometime again be an integral part of China which will have a compromise government such as General Marshall recommended. Before then both Chinas will be members of the United Nations. I further forecast that World War III will be avoided for this year at least. Even though Captain Puleston seems logical in saying that only by "striking first," after fair warning, can we avoid being destroyed, I doubt if the American people would support "striking first" based only on Formosa. Yet, the recent vote of Congress indicates that we might. Certainly, we are in a very critical situation.

Businessmen will be tempted at least to postpone capital expenditures until the air becomes clearer. Investors will consider the stock market very selective. Even now investors are purchasing the aircrafts, metals, and oils, together with certain other stocks which should prosper as "war babies." Wise investors will probably not buy stocks of companies in large cities vulnerable to bombing. Furthermore, all investors should keep in mind the probability that prices, wages, and money rates would probably be "fixed" immediately at the start of any World War III, and a severe profits tax be re-enacted. President Eisenhower might veto some of this legislation; but with the Democrats in control of Congress it could be passed over the President's veto in view of Russia's attitude.

State Studies School Needs

MICHIGAN'S TOP educators are fanning out over the state to find at the grass roots level what the federal government can do for the school system.

Booming enrollments have jammed classrooms. School districts are faced with the task of providing more space.

The dilemma has reached from the country school district which needs another building to Washington, where President Eisenhower has drafted tentative plans for a gigantic school aid program.

"We've got to find out exactly what is needed in Michigan," said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Taylor and school superintendents of the state have combined with other government experts on all levels to prepare the information for the 1955 White House Conference on Education.

The Conference Program was organized in January and local schoolmen began to collect data on their own needs, preparing to funnel it through regional meetings and a later state meeting.

Michigan will send 26 delegates to the White House Conference next November, one for each

$1,000 turned over by the federal government for expenses.

The plight of Michigan's schools will be a reflection from the local districts of the predictions voiced by Taylor for the past two years.

Taylor said Michigan will need 2,000 more classrooms annually for the next four years and qualified teachers to man them.

"Michigan's problems include the need for classrooms, the training of teachers, higher salaries to attract new talent to the profession and an understanding of the needs by the public," he said.

At the same time, Michigan's legislature is shaping the state's educational finance program to fit whatever federal aid that is forthcoming after the White House Conference.

Committees of both chambers are working on higher education problems of overcrowded campuses. One expert said 150,000,000 would be needed within 15 years to provide just the needed buildings.

"We have a crisis in education in Michigan and we must take the leadership and responsibility in providing an answer to it," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"The United States has pledged itself to defend Formosa and several other islands near the China mainland. Even though this could lead to another conflict do you think our government is right in taking this stand?"

ALLEN BERNASH, 125 So. Harvey: "Absolutely they're right. If we let them have Formosa, they'll sail right on for more. It's just like petty larceny, they steal a little land here and a little land there. Pretty soon they have it all. In Europe, Hitler started by swallowing up little pieces of land at first."

JOHN DUKE, 1341 Sheridan: "I think we have got to defend it whether we want to or not. Those islands are too near our territory from which they could strike at us. What we should do is move right into Moscow and end it all."

HUBERT BLANTON, 311 Adams: "It's my opinion that we should let them have the islands. I just don't believe that we ought to be over there. All those countries want to do is fight so let's let them have the place."

WILLIAM MCKENNA, 262 Holbrook: "I think we should defend the island. If we allow them to get hold of Formosa, it is a good step toward Japan and the Philippines. The Reds wouldn't be satisfied if we gave them Formosa, they would keep wanting more."

EDITORIAL NOTE: Our esteemed contributor, John Pilgrim, Esquire, has been laid up with some unidentified ailment for the past couple of weeks, and while he has been a sick man, we hasten to assure his many friends that he is well on the road to complete recovery. He "sez" to tell you that any money that you might have blown in on flowers, had he cashed in his checks, can be split between his two favorite charities, The Red Cross and The Salvation Army. No doubt this announcement of his convalescence and his cheeky assumption of importance to our readers will be greeted with mixed emotions, for his controversies with his good wife, "Mother," or "Ella," a name she despises, (and one he takes delight in applying to her) have divided all Plymouth into two factions: JP fans and Ella-fans. For John is an old lollypop, content to let well enough alone, while his young spouse is a hair-trigger progressive. Never a dull moment in a family like that, and so far as we are concerned we find it amusing to eaves-drop on their private affairs as revealed each week in this space. Do you agree?

Having invested an important sum of money in the engraving that graces the top of this column, which would be a total loss in case of his demise, we called at the Pilgrim home a day or two ago to sort of feel the old gaffer's pulse, as it were. Ella was away, and with nobody to argue with he was about as congenial as a hyena with a sore paw.

"What ails you, Johnny boy," we said, "how is the neuralgia?" "It's a pain in the neck" he snarled.

"Well-well," we soothed, "what caused that?"

"Ella, mostly," he said. "I wasn't doing so bad till she made me go over to Ann Arbor to the hospital for a check-up. All they did was make me feel worse. They probed me and poked me and X-rayed me. They tunked me here and there with a hammer to see if I would twitch. They punctured one of my earlobes and I bled and they rubbed the blood into a lot of little slides so they could count the red corpuscles and the white ones. They asked me so many personal questions that I had a notion to plead the fifth amendment and refuse to answer on the grounds of constitutional privilege. They made me take off my clothes and they laid me down on a bed and strapped metal things to my wrists and ankles and a doll of a nurse listened to my inwards with earphones and called out the score to another woman who was taking it down and watching an electrical dings that was recording my heart action on a tape. It must have looked like a Michigan weather chart. The old ticker was doing a rumba because the young lady that was bending over me and taking soundings was a real good looker and a person can stand only so much of that without his blood pressure popping off. Then they squirted a gun full of purple juice into one arm and waited a while and drew it out of the other arm and shook their heads. And after four or five days of this monkeying around I said 'Say, why don't you give me something to put the fire out while you are finding out who set it? The pain in my neck and head is killing me. How about a jigger of pain-killer, Old Granddad preferred.'"

"What did they give you?" we said, full of sympathy, but pretty sure the old coot was exaggerating.

"They give me a aspirin tablet," he exploded, "...And told me to go back home and have a tooth pulled."

"Did you?" we inquired.

"You're darn tootin' I did, son," he grinned. "That's what I wanted to do all the time, but Ella had to pack me off to a hospital production line. It cost us better than a hundred bucks and all I got out of it was a (two words deleted) aspirin tablet."

"Was the tooth bad?" we asked.

"Had an abscess on it big as a small orange," he lied. "If I had of went to Doc Clark, the Plymouth toothsmith, in the first place, like I wanted to, I would of saved myself a lot of misery and dough."

"All's well that ends well," we concluded. "Give Ella my regards."

"We aint speakin'" he growled, as we left.
