Consolidation or Cooperation?

There seems quite a flurry buzzing throughout the city and township at this writing concerning a study committee appointed by Mayor Russell Daane and another appointed by Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

Needless to say underlying the present series of studies is that old nasty word "consolidation" which seems all of a sudden to have developed two teams, one "for" in the city and one "against" in the township.

To emphasize the strength of the two teams great things are being said about the abundance of water city fathers now have available for sprinkling our residents' parched lawns and cooling the many air conditioners in the city this summer. At the same time a busy township study group is making every effort to come up with a water supply and sewage system capable of caring for all of the needs of our neighbors in the country.

If the city could furnish water, why then should the township spend a hundred thousand dollars or more to locate another source to provide for their half of our local residents? Everyone knows the city of Plymouth is lacking in sewage disposal facilities and everyone knows there are none in the township. Why then should one half of our local residents expect they can provide service for the other one half now or 5 years hence?

These are but two of the major problems facing both township and city residents today. There are about 8,000 residents in the city and about 6,000 in the township all in an area of 18 square miles. Why, if one has enough water should the other look further? Why, if both need sewage facilities, isn't the problem approached mutually with an eye to the taxpayer's pocketbook rather than being "We're firstest with the mostest"?

This present "flurry" got off on the wrong foot. A fire cracker was lit prematurely and two opposing teams formed overnight. The unfortunate part of the whole mess today is the fact that at no time in the history of this whole community has there ever been a time when sincere, constructive thinking and working together was needed more.

Fortunately for our residents there are many unusually well qualified people in both the city and township who can look forward, not a month, perhaps not a year, but for their children and their grandchildren to plan a community stable enough to care for the growth which will engulf this area in spite of any of our actions today.

Supervisor Lindsay frankly admitted to the writer in his office one day last week that there is probably no question but what eventually there will have to be consolidation of the two areas. All he asks is that when that

Voters Approve School Bond, 5-1

Six hundred and eighty-two voters in the Plymouth Township School district went to the polls Monday and approved a $3,000,000 school bond issue by a 5-1 margin.

The vote will allow architects to start immediately on detailed plans for a new elementary building to be completed next year and for a junior high in 1957. The money will also be used to finance another elementary building in 1957 or 1958, purchase school sites, remodel the central high buildings to meet the needs of the high school and refund outstanding bonds issued on May 1, 1949.

All registered voters in the school district were allowed to vote on proposal No. 1, while proposal No. 2 was voted upon only by property owners. The official vote was: Proposal No. 1, 552 yes; 118 no; 12 spoiled ballots; total 682. Proposal No. 2, 522 yes; 106 no; 11 spoiled ballots, total 639.

Up until noon Monday, only 170 ballots had been cast, according to City Clerk Kenneth Way. "During the last few hours, they really started rolling in," Way added. Since it took only one or two pencil marks to vote, it took only a few seconds to actually vote on the issue. There were two absentee ballots cast.

"The favorable vote in the special school election is an expression of the people in their ability to meet the impending school crisis," Superintendent Russell Isbister said Tuesday. "It is an example of what cooperative planned effort can do when people of good will and mutual respect join forces to improve their schools."

"It is a vote of confidence in the master plan as worked out by the School Community Planning Group and the Board of Education," the superintendent continued, "and it is a tribute to P.T.A.'s, clubs, organizations, The Plymouth Mail and individual citizens who shared in the promotion of the program."

"Fortunate is the Plymouth Community to have an active, alert and intelligent citizenry." The margin of approval given the two proposals is one of the most overwhelming ever given such proposals. This proposal was also the largest the school board has ever placed before voters. The proposal proved especially attractive to voters because it is designed not to raise the present school tax rate.

Even though the vote allows school officials to go ahead with plans to build schools, no elementary buildings will be ready for next fall when enrollment will result in an overcrowding condition. Each elementary building will need to find more classroom space by using their libraries and auditoriums.

Of about 72 residents contacted, only two expressed their favor of a merger. Another sub-committee chairman, Michael Huber, reported on the taxes per capita paid in the city and township now and what they might be if annexation took place. Huber pointed out that the tax rate per capita would increase many times if consolidation was realized.

Judges will decide which painting is the best from each store with these winners receiving a three dollar gift certificate. The grand winner among these ten will be presented a $10 cash prize by The Mail. For complete details on this contest see page five of section four.

Remains in Jail Waiting Sentence

William Moore and Lawrence Tillotson, the two Plymouth youths involved in a number of thefts here and in Saginaw, are still being held in Saginaw county jail pending sentence of a circuit court judge.

Sheriff's authorities said that the two Plymouth 19-year-olds and their companion, John Spencer of Midland, remain in jail under $1,000 bond awaiting a report by the Department of Correction. The department's report will figure in the severity of the sentence. All three youths have pleaded guilty to breaking and entering.

Another companion, Donald Northcote of Clarkston, remains in Midland county jail on a bad check charge. All four were involved in one or more thefts in Plymouth.

WASHERS WANTED

If you have a used washer, we can tell you how to sell it fast.

Last week these two advertisements ran in The Mail classified columns: (1) General Electric automatic washer, like new, $100, phone 510-J2, 16825 Haggerty; (2) Montgomery Ward wringer type washer, like new, reasonable, phone 1755-J.

Both washers were sold promptly. Late callers were disappointed. Why don't you take advantage of this waiting market. Phone 1600 today - turn your unwanted household items into cash.

Township Group Hears Reports Of Sub-committees

Taxes, sewer and water facilities and the popularity of the city-township merger idea were some of the fields explored by the Plymouth Township Study Group at a regular monthly meeting held Monday night at the township hall.

Chairman Frank Millington, the group heard various sub-committee reports, the first being from Ralph Garber on the subjects of water supply for the township and the requirements of incorporating a township into a city.

Garber pointed out that the latter subject was merely for "information purposes" and he would not recommend any such move as incorporation unless it was a last resort. He stated that law requires a population of 500 persons per square mile for incorporation. This would mean that only half of the township could become incorporated at this time.

Of primary interest to the group was his report on a water supply for the township. His investigation showed that the township has two possible means of securing water. One is to secure it from the county's water mains which comes as far west as Eckles road in Livonia. The other method is for the township to establish its own water authority and drill its own wells.

There was also a discussion on establishment of a township sewer system. It was pointed out that the county road commission has a definite plan which would bring sewers to part of the township and the southern third of the city. Known as the "Riverside Arm," it would run into the present Rouge Interceptor Sewer.

A report was heard from three women members of the study group who had made a telephone survey at random among township residents to seek out their feeling on the merger question at this time.

Another sub-committee chairman, Michael Huber, reported on the taxes per capita paid in the city and township now and what they might be if annexation took place. Huber pointed out that the tax rate per capita would increase many times if consolidation was realized.

LAUNCHING THE CANCER crusade in Plymouth, Mayor Russell M. Daane and Norman Marquis, president of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, are shown with ACS swords, symbol of the fight against cancer. Daane has signed a proclamation designating the third week in April as Cancer Week. The educational campaign will be held throughout the month of April, Cancer Control Month.

Cancer Chapter Starts Educational Campaign

Starting tomorrow, April 1, the local chapter of the American Cancer society will launch its educational campaign as part of the Society's Spring Cancer Crusade. The third week in April, Cancer Control Month, has been designated as Plymouth's Cancer Week by a proclamation from Mayor Russell M. Daane.

Charles Wyse, drive chairman, announced that films would be shown to the public at the Penn Theatre, talks by medical specialists will be sponsored, and literature distributed to residents of Plymouth and surrounding areas. The two films on cancer scheduled for the local Theatre will be shown on Thursday, April 21, at 1 p.m. Their presentation will be followed by an open discussion period led by a medical specialist.

Livonia will have two presentations of the films at First Federal Savings and Loan association in Sheldon Center. They will be at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 20. Discussion by a medical speaker will also be featured. The Northville Theatre will show the films on Tuesday, April 19, at 1 p.m.

Programs will run approximately an hour and a half. The American Cancer Society's goal during the Spring Cancer Crusade is to alert every citizen to the vital symptoms of cancer and the importance of having regular examinations so that the disease may be detected early. ACS volunteers throughout the nation will distribute thousands of pieces of educational literature on the disease, talk to organizations and distribute films on cancer for the enlightenment of the public.

Six types of cancer caused one-third of all deaths from that disease. (Continued on page 7)

No. 1. Provides that non-partisan judicial election shall be conducted as provided by law.

No. 2. To prescribe qualifications for justices of the supreme court and circuit judges.

No. 3. To authorize the state to borrow not to exceed $1 Million to loan certain school districts.

No. 4. To authorize the establishment by law of a bipartisan board of canvassers.

State, County Proposals Also Appear on Ballot

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Monday for the biennial "grass roots" election at which voters will decide who will run their city or township governments, who will fill several state and county offices and on eight county and constitutional proposals.

Three of the county propositions will directly affect Plymouth area residents. Propositions 1, 2 and 3, if approved, will provide funds to construct a new water system from Lake Erie to southern and western Wayne county communities. Although the system would not be completed until the early 1960's, all municipalities and industry are throwing their support behind the proposals.

Plymouth city voters will name four men to the city commission at Monday's election. There are eight candidates seeking four full-term vacancies and one candidate seeking an unexpired term. The city election is non-partisan.

Two of the five commission vacancies are being created by Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and George Bauer who are ineligible to run again. The remaining three vacancies since the last election of Floyd Tibbitts, Henry Fisher and Frank Arlen. It is the Fisher term which has two years to run. Commissioner Harold Guenther is the only person seeking this term.

In Plymouth township, a partisan election campaign is going on for the office of clerk, treasurer and trustee and constable. Supervisor Roy Lindsay has no opposition, but his name will appear on the ballot as prescribed by law. In the contest for township constable, four are to be elected and there are five candidates.

As usual, all polling places will open at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. At the top of the voting machines will be the candidates running for two University of Michigan regent vacancies, for state superintendent of public instruction, state board of education, two state board of agriculture vacancies, county auditor, two justice of the supreme court vacancies and two judges of the circuit court vacancies.

Besides the usual Democratic and Republican columns, voters will find candidates for some of these offices representing the Prohibition, Socialist Labor and Socialist Worker parties.

In addition to the local races, area voters are also taking interest in the county propositions. The first three represent a "capital improvements program" proposed by the county board of supervisors. The program calls for a $50,000,000 water system (the money to be repaid from revenues of the system), and $15,000,000 in improvements and additions to Wayne county general hospital, a new juvenile detention home and improvements to the county jail.

Only property owners will be able to vote on proposals No. 2 and 3. Legal requirements make it necessary to present the capital improvements program in the form of three proposals. No. 1 increases the tax limitation, No. 2 creates a sinking fund and No. 3 authorizes the selling of bonds for $26,000,000 in order to accelerate construction of the water plant.

Local Lion's Club Presents 4-Bout Wrestling Benefit

The first wrestling bout on the card of the local Lion's club annual benefit show will get underway this Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. at the Plymouth high school gymnasium. Following this first match are two more dual battles and finally an Australian tag match.

Proceeds from the event will go toward local sight conservation and additional youth activities. Co-chairman of the program Bob Erdelyi explained last week how the sight conservation is strictly local in scope and not a nation wide arrangement. Working with Erdelyi in planning the show are Cameron Lodge and Bill Fehligh.

Pairings on the slate feature Barney (Irish Sampson) Deighan against Jim Bernard, Jack Britain battling Al Warshawski and Tuffy McCra versus Ivan and Terrible. These last two are midget grapplers. Following the regular matches will be the tag match with all six grunts and groaners involved.

Here's a Look at Candidates Entered In Major Local Races Next Monday

Who are the Plymouth city and township opponents in next Monday's biennial election?

The Mail asked each candidate the same questions concerning their personal life and two additional questions: What do you consider to be the major problems confronting the (township or city)? and "What would you like to see accomplished in the (township or city) if elected?"

City Commission

Sheldon Baker
Sheldon J. Baker, 978 Hart-sough, is a tool and die maker at the Daisy Manufacturing company. He has lived in Plymouth 35 of his 39 years. A graduate of Plymouth high school in 1934, he is married and has three children, all in school. Baker is a Navy veteran. He has been active in Boy Scouting for eight years, and has been a Junior Achievement company advisor for two years.

"There are many problems confronting our community which because of their extreme importance, I wish to study more thoroughly before making any statements as to what I think should be done. Because of the extreme importance of such matters, I think that a great deal of interest must be taken by the people in the city. And to accomplish this, the entire commission should present them to the community and help them accomplish these problems in the right way."

Township Supervisor

Roy Lindsay
Roy Lindsay is unopposed in his bid for re-election as township supervisor. His name will appear on the ballot, however, and there is an opportunity for write-in candidates as in any election. A Republican, Lindsay was appointed as supervisor in June 1953 to succeed the late Charles Rathburn. He is also head of the Lindsay Real Estate agency and lives at 11000 McCumpha road.

Clerk

Norman Miller
Norman C. Miller, the Republican candidate for township clerk, has held that office since 1932 when he was appointed to the job when the village and township were separated. He lives at 12303 Ridge road. He has a daughter with whom he has resided since the passing of his wife, and two grown sons. He was born in Plymouth township and has lived

Sponsor Easter Coloring Contest

Forty dollars in gift certificates and cash prizes await the lucky winners of the big Easter Coloring Contest which is being sponsored this week by ten Plymouth merchants and the Plymouth Mail.

Contestants will be given an opportunity to show their artistic abilities by clipping out the individual pictures and painting or coloring them according to personal likes. The finished product is to be presented at the respective store which sponsored that one picture.

Judges will decide which painting is the best from each store with these winners receiving a three dollar gift certificate. The grand winner among these ten will be presented a $10 cash prize by The Mail. For complete details on this contest see page five of section four.

City Hires Man To Head Spraying

Hugh McAuley, a graduate in nursery management and landscaping from Michigan State college, has been hired to conduct the city's elm spraying program which is to start within the next week or two.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that McAuley and a crew of men will spray all city-owned elm trees and those privately-owned elm trees where the city is invited to spray. Purpose for the spray is to curb the rapidly increasing Dutch elm disease which is killing American elms by the thousands.

The DDT spray will be applied just as the trees begin to bud, Glassford said. It is advisable to spray a second time in early summer.

Jet Fuel Tanks Fall Near Cherry Hill Home

Two auxiliary fuel tanks carried on the wings of a jet plane fell last Thursday afternoon near the home of Donald R. Wiles, 47692 Cherry Hill road. One which fell into a field behind the home burst into flame.

Selbridge field crewmen who claimed the tanks told the Wiles that the pilot who ejected the fuel tanks was faced with the problem of either dropping them or crashing.

One of the 230-gallon tanks landed in a wooded area and did not explode. The other landed in a field behind the house and caused an explosion heard throughout the neighborhood. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wiles work during the day so did not know about the incident until they returned home.

WHAT MADE Jim Williams turn around? See page three.

Miss Irene Stoops
Irene Stoops' Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee of Brookline street announce the arrival of a daughter, Mary Margaret, born March 23, in Kerns Clinic, Garden City, weighing seven pounds 11 ounces.

Dr. and Mrs. John Pennington of Sacramento, California, announce the birth of an eight and one-half pound son born on March 28. Mrs. Pennington is the former Maxine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, formerly of Blunk street.

Therapy Work
Told to Kiwanis

"An occupational therapist is trained to plan purposeful activity to provide rehabilitation for handicapped persons". These were the words of Miss Frances Herrick, director of the occupational therapy school at Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti, who spoke to the Plymouth Kiwanis club Tuesday evening.

The students at Michigan Normal must learn a variety of skills to help slow learners, deaf and otherwise handicapped persons to lead useful lives. At present there are 112 students taking the four-year course at Ypsilanti, said Miss Herrick, but there is a need for 6000 occupational therapists in the country. In summary, Miss Herrick said that to perform their duties well an occupational therapist must learn to "work with hands and heart." She also called upon all businessmen to help these handicapped persons by providing them with jobs so that they may assume a useful part in the community.

Robert Lidgard was program chairman and introduced Miss Herrick.

Next Tuesday evening Kiwanis will hold its annual "Farmers' Night" at the Cherry Hill Methodist church. A program of interest to all farmers has been arranged by Chairman Harold Fischer. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Local Students Take Honors at Music Meet

Five Plymouth students walked off with honors at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival held in Ann Arbor Saturday.

First division, superior rating, was awarded the senior high school saxophone quartette of Gail Foreman, Nancy Eaton, Jim Houk and Jack Taylor. This week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher of Rocker drive.

The saxophone duet of Jim Houk and Jack Taylor was also awarded a first division rating. Third division, good, was won by William Taylor, sousaphonist. Band director is Laurence Livingston.

Graham's Owner Opens
Ann Arbor Shop

Ralph Rostow, owner of Graham's women's store in Plymouth, last week opened a new, self-serve women's wear shop in Ann Arbor. The shop, known as Var's, held its grand opening on Friday. According to Rostow, it features a self-serve system designed to provide lower overhead thus lower prices.

Beginner's Class Holds Exhibit

Fourteen housewives grinned modestly while their families and friends sipped punch, ate homemade cookies and admired the paintings on the walls of Marion Sober's studio in Northville last Sunday afternoon.

The occasion was an art exhibit of work done by the 17 members of the beginner's oil painting class in the Plymouth Adult Education program. Miss Sober is instructor of the class.

A popular painting with children and adult viewers alike was the large portrait of Raggedy Ann by Joan Wehmeyer. Fun for women guests was the familiar supermarket scene by Mary Beach.

While her daughter sat patiently with a favorite book, Northville resident Pat Hart painted her portrait. Mina Gardner also did a portrait, that of her son. Mary Martin painted a portrait of her father from a snapshot and her memory of his coloring.

Fourteen portraits, no two alike, were made of Rose Ann Cummings, who posed three nights for the class. Nancy McClelland's picture had large soulful eyes and Victoria Saxton and Jackie Hall, Northville, won the most votes for the best likeness of Rose Ann.

Flower paintings were done by Ada Rogers, who chose forsythia and mock orange. Mabel McCabe's subject of tulips and delphiniums were harmonies of spring colors. Paintings of rosy-red apples in decorative designs were painted by June Hibbard of Northville and Mary Edwards.

Two first-time painters, Dorothy Bosman and Helen Batzer of Northville, found their inspiration for their pictures at home. Dorothy placed her favorite canary in a tropical setting of green leaves, and Helen found her old-fashioned black rocker an appealing subject.

The exhibit was held from 2 to 4 p.m. at the 19061 Sheldon road studio.

Over 500 Attend
Band Parade Tuesday

Over 500 persons were on hand Tuesday night for the annual "Parade of Bands" in the high school gymnasium. Participating in the event were students from the elementary, junior and senior high schools.

Under the direction of Laurence Livingston a varied program of instrumental music was presented by the young musicians. Three popular selections were played by William Schwartz and his Rhythmaires, junior high school band.

Originally scheduled for last month, the Parade had been postponed due to illness of band members.

Plymouth Woman Injured In Fall From Porch

Mrs. Bessie Dunning, 994 Penniman, is in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor undergoing treatment for shock and exposure which she received when she fell off the porch of her home last Saturday. Mrs. Dunning was sweeping the porch when the accident occurred.

She had lain at the foot of the steps for an estimated half hour before being found by Jimmy Allison, son of neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison. X-rays showed no broken bones were suffered.

Appoint Schueder
Evans Works Manager

George M. Schueder has been appointed Works Manager in charge of production and engineering at Evans Products Company. It was announced today by E. S. Evans, Jr., president of the company.

Schueder joined the company 18 years ago as a project engineer. He has been chief engineer at Evans for the past 9 years. A graduate of the University of Detroit, from which he obtained his bachelor of mechanical engineering degree. Schueder was previously employed at the Cadillac Motor Car Company and at Fisher Body.

Harvey Chapman is assuming Mr. Schueder's former position as chief engineer. Earl Atkinson has been appointed chief industrial engineer.

There are many smart people out few students.

D. of A. News

APRIL FOOL'S DAY comes around once again tomorrow and Jim Williams (pointing) along with his pal, Walt Bartel, (right) are about to perpetuate this annual joke day with one of the oldest of All-Fool's pranks. Someone taped the unsuspecting boy at left with a well-remembered trick, which is an example of the innumerable jokes that are sure to be played Friday. So watch out for friendly pats on the back and fat purses lying on the sidewalk.

Mrs. Patrick Herriman and son, Douglas, of Wayne flew to Florida recently for a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Powers of Joy road, Enroute home they stopped in Illinois to visit a sister of Mr. Powers in the hospital there.

The Kenyon Extension group met March 16 with Mrs. Robert Waldecker on Warren road. Following a delicious luncheon the lesson on "Seasonal Salads" was given by Mrs. LeRoy Mitchell and Mrs. John Nagy.

Plymouth - Northville Residents To Attend CAR Conference

Twelve residents of the Plymouth-Northville area will attend the 22nd annual conference of the Michigan Society, Children of the American Revolution, to be held this Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at the Rowe hotel in Grand Rapids.

Attending are Janet Willoughby, Ann Hulsing, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Randy Eaton, Margaret Roberts, Ellen and Jack Crusoe, Becky Coolman, Betsy Merriam and Jimmy Cutler.

Mrs. Harry Deyo, regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Plymouth and Northville, will also attend.

Honored guests at the conference will include Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig, national senior president; Mrs. J. Harvey Maxwell, senior national vice-president for the Michigan area; Laurence A. Smith, Jr., junior national president; and Mrs. Norman R. Smith, National junior vice-president, Michigan area.

Mrs. Henry Bourne Joy, honorary national vice-president and parliamentarian, will present a new Michigan state banner to the state C.A.R. in honor of her 10 great grandchildren.

The program opens with Stunt Night on Friday, followed by a meeting of the Junior State Officers' club to vote upon by-law amendments and the slate for next year's officers and chairmen.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. on April 2 with Dianne Frisbie and Robert Holm in charge.

Presiding over the Saturday meeting will be Miss Margaret Malsner, junior state president, and Senior State President Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby. Reports will be given by presidents of the 16 local societies and by state officers and committee chairmen.

Projects sponsored this year by the organization included money raised for a dollcase in the National museum, contributions for the National Junior Officers' Travel fund, work with Indians, patriotic education, American music and correct use of the flag.

White Shrine to Hold Public Installation

A public installation of officers of Pilgrim Shrine No. 55, Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, will be held on Monday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

The following elected officers for 1955-56 will be installed: Leilia Huebler, worthy high priestess; Luke E. McGeorge, watchman of shepherds; Elizabeth Hilger, noble prophetess; Harvey Vetal, associate watchman of shepherds; Evelyn Brocklehurst, worthy scribe; Pearl Lundquist, worthy treasurer; Julia Kenry, worthy chaplain; Florence Vetal, worthy shepherdess; and Lucille Reeves, worthy guide.

Appointed and honorary officers will also be installed at the meeting. Supreme Worthy Chaplain Bernice Merrill, assisted by her staff, will conduct the installation service.

Watch Your Parking

Plymouth police announced this week that they are starting a "crack-down" on double parkers immediately. Police have been "taking it easy" on double parked motorists by motioning them to move on. But their announcement this week declared:

"Because of traffic problems created by double parking, it is necessary to take more stringent methods by issuing tickets." The fine for double parking is $3.

Who Better

can determine the qualifications and fitness of a lawyer to be a judge than other lawyers, other judges?

It is unfortunate, although to be expected that most voters have very little knowledge of the actual qualifications of judicial candidates. This is especially true of an election, such as next Monday, April 4, where NOT ONE OF THE FOUR CANDIDATES HAS EVER BEFORE BEEN ELECTED JUDGE.

Having no direct personal knowledge, the conscientious citizen will therefore seek out the best available information before casting his or her vote in this most important Election next Monday.

The most dependable and impartial guide to perplexed voters is the official Detroit Bar Association poll, which was concluded and announced in the newspapers only last week BECAUSE...

THERE ARE NONE ACTUALLY IN A BETTER POSITION TO KNOW THE FITNESS AND QUALIFICATIONS OF A LAWYER TO BE A JUDGE THAN OTHER LAWYERS, OTHER JUDGES.

EDGAR M. BRANIGIN, whom you elected and re-elected four times as your DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CLERK during the last eight years, was the clear cut winner of that official poll, running more than 400 votes ahead of the second candidate.

But that is not ED. BRANIGIN'S only rightful claim to your vote next Monday.

BRANIGIN has the further distinction of being the ONLY CANDIDATE AMONG THE FOUR TO BE GIVEN THE HIGHEST "PREFERRED" RATING OF THE DETROIT CITIZENS LEAGUE. Branigin has also been endorsed by the Association of Lutheran Laymen, the Steuben Society and the Square Club of Detroit, among many others.

BRANIGIN, a lawyer for 18 years, World War II veteran, former Detroit newspaperman and president of the Michigan Humane Society for the past 4 years, has also had the solid backing of organized labor in his last four successful elections.

BE SURE, THEN, TO VOTE MONDAY, APRIL 4, TO ELECT EDGAR M. BRANIGIN YOUR PRESENT DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CLERK, AS ONE OF THE TWO NEW WAYNE COUNTY CIRCUIT JUDGES. HE IS NUMBER 44 on your ballot.

Vote Monday, April 4 No. (44) on your ballot

Plymouth Hi-12 Holds Tenth Anniversary Party

A capacity crowd of some 224 members and guests of the Plymouth Hi-12 gathered at the Arbor-Lill restaurant Wednesday night March 23, for the Tenth Anniversary Party and Past Presidents Night of the local organization.

Featured speaker for the event was Walter Anderson of Birmingham, past international president of Hi-12. Present for the special affair were nine of the past presidents of the Plymouth organization.

State officers of Hi-12, present officers and 15 charter members of the local club. Representatives from such neighboring clubs as Royal Oak, Birmingham and Downtown Detroit were also in attendance.

presentative; Henry W. Grim, treasurer; Rexford M. Hoffman, secretary; and Donald Ryder, sergeant-at-arms.

Teen-agers Need Plenty of Rest

Does your teen-ager sleep till noon on Saturday to the tune of the vacuum cleaner and other assorted bedlam? Does he (including she, of course) do his geometry stretched out on his bed? Does he carry on his telephoning sprawled on the floor? Is he always too tired to help with the dishes?

He may be ill, but he's more likely to be normal, according to the Tuberculosis and Health Society. And he isn't faking either. Teen-agers tire easily for one or more of a dozen reasons, doctors tell us. It's just natural for them to need extra rest and sleep. Fortunately, it's one more of those periods of life about which parents can say hopefully, "They'll grow out of it." Wise parents can help them get through this period with the least fatigue.

First, of course, it is important to be sure that there is no illness causing your teen-ager's tiredness. He should have a thorough physical examination and chest X-ray as often as the doctor advises. Unhappiness and worry also can cause fatigue. It isn't always easy for parents to get to the bottom of the anxieties from which adolescents sometimes suffer seriously. The family doctor can often be of great assistance.

The invocation at the dinner meeting was delivered by the Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church. Clarence W. Schuler, as the local club's first president, was toastmaster.

Past International President Walter Anderson, charter member of the Plymouth club, spoke on the topic, "Laugh It Off." Entertainment for the event featured songs and humorous stories by Marve Welch of WXYZ's "Wixie Wonderland" program.

Past presidents attending were C. W. Schuler, Robert Simmons of St. Ignace, Edwin A. Schrader, L. E. Lyons, J. A. Campbell, Loren J. Goodale, David P. Thompson, Harry Brooks and Floyd Tibbits. Toastmaster Schuler read a congratulatory letter from Fred H. Erb of Houston, Texas who was unable to attend the affair.

Russell Webb of Royal Oak and David P. Thompson of the local club represented the state organization as first vice president and treasurer, respectively.

The special dinner for the event featured Rock Cornish Game Hens with chestnut dressing, flown in from Connecticut for the occasion, as well as ice-cream slices decorated to commemorate the anniversary event. Arrangements were made by the management to comfortably seat the group of 224 persons in one room to enable them to hear the entertainment program and featured speakers.

Favors for each of the Ladies were Ti plants from Hawaii, donated by Dave Galin. Other prizes, awarded guests at the close of the program, were provided by the past presidents, club officers and the management.

Present officers of the Plymouth Hi-12 are: Alonzo K. Brocklehurst, president; Raymond Bachelder, first vice president; Frank Terry, second vice president; Harry Brooks, international re-

Explains Proposed Use of Salem Refuse Sites

The Plymouth Mail
To the Editor:

I have no quarrel personally with the article appearing on the front page of the March 24 issue under the heading, "Commissioners Taking Look at New Site for Garbage-Rubbish Disposal." Yet, this article has brought on a wave of resentment by Salem township folks, mainly because of their lack of complete facts and knowledge.

This being an election year the opposition have taken the article to further their aims to discredit the present incumbents of the Salem Township Board by stating that we are going to bring in garbage and rubbish from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and the city of Plymouth free of charge, to these cities and then even cover up the dumpings for these cities. This, if allowed to go on without an explanation will defeat the plan before details are worked out and the plan presented to the public at large.

I am convinced that the statements that I am going to make from now on will be approved by the Plymouth city commissioners, the city manager and the Salem Township Board.

Washtenaw County, through the representatives of its various cities, were in the process of creating a "County Garbage and Rubbish Authority." The Salem Township Board attended several of these meetings until we were aware of the fact that this authority was NOT too much interested in Salem Township. The Salem Township Board dropped this issue as a hot potato. It was at one of these Washtenaw County meetings that the Salem Township Board met the city manager of Plymouth. After a discussion it was agreed by all concerned, that Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor was too far away to do Salem Township any good and too far away for either city to derive any benefit from Salem Township. We also were agreed that the problems of Salem Township were mutual with the city of Plymouth, although somewhat different in nature.

The Salem Township Board met with Plymouth city manager at the city hall, discussed our mutual problems, toured the city garbage and rubbish sites, viewed the equipment owned by the city and finally made a tour of the sites available in Salem Township. Nothing more was done at this first meeting. The second meeting was last Saturday morning at Salem Township Hall when the city Commissioners, the city manager and the Salem Township Board sat down together and discussed the problems from every angle. Many agreements were reached but as yet not put on paper because of certain requirements by the Township Zoning Ordinance which must be met. The Zoning Board of Appeals must advertise and hold meetings after which they may issue a permit for such a disposal site.

Briefly let me state the problems of each unit of government. But first let me compliment Plymouth city manager and commissioners on the swell job that they have done as far as their sanitary site is concerned. This sanitary site is about filled. They must seek another. Besides the city of Plymouth must maintain another collection for rubbish and pay to get rid of it. So regardless of where the city of Plymouth obtains a new sanitary site, whether it be in Salem Township or otherwise, the city will still have to collect from house to house, and although they will not have to pay for the actual dumping of that load, they still will have to maintain the expensive equipment that they now have to cover the refuse after it is dumped. So Plymouth's main problem is that they do not have a site.

Now what are Salem Township's problems? We are endeavoring to maintain a township Dump for our citizens (1525 as of 1950 Census) and to discourage the dumping of refuse along our highways. We opened a new dump last August 1. Ninety percent of the refuse dumped as of this date has come from east of our county. In other words this refuse came from Wayne County, Plymouth and Northville Townships and in some instances from the city of Plymouth itself. Salem Township is not financially able to carry on such a project in a manner that should be employed, Salem Township residents do not dump more than a truck load of refuse in any one week. The township does not own any equipment so therefore must contract this job out, which is expensive. The city of Plymouth, for the privilege of a site, if we must call it that, will take from the citizens of Salem Township their refuse and bury it each and every day of the week, except Sunday. Details are not complete, but cards are considered which will be issued to the citizens both of Plymouth city and Salem Township who might want to take a load to this proposed fill. All others will either be excluded or will have to pay for dumping their refuse, which is only right, and still to be determined by both parties.

Will we not all agree how much better this new sanitary fill would be than the old-fashioned so-called township dumps. Under the sanitary fill method, the refuse dumped will be crushed by the heavy bulldozers each day thus eliminating the nuisance of rats and dump fires. The final cover is a top layer of soil 16 to 18 inches. This fill will be operated under the direction of the public health departments.

One city commissioner commented that the offer was "almost too good to be true." Several Salem citizens have said the same thing for our part—"too good to be true." This arrangement, if and when finally consummated, will be a good deal for the city of Plymouth as well as a good deal for the township of Salem, Savings will have been made to both communities. A parcel of land will be restored to vegetation,

Police Check Out Tips On Missing Detroit Girl

Like nearly every other community in Wayne county, Plymouth police have received several "tips" from persons who believed they saw or knew something about the disappearance of Barbara Gaca, Police said that each of the tips has been checked and discounted.

One person said she saw a girl answering Barbara's description enter a doctor's office here with a woman. Another report was received about a suspicious car which is similar to one believed to have picked Barbara up. Suburban citizens are being asked, however, to scout open fields in their area even though case in the United States last year, Charles Wyse, drive chairman, reported.

Cancer Chapter

"These forms of cancer are receiving special emphasis in the Cancer Society's educational program because their combined present death toll could be cut more than 50 per cent if all cases were treated soon enough. Cancer in those six sites can be detected by physicians in an initial or 'silent' stage in time for possible cure.

Dr. Lee Feldkamp and R. R. Barber, chairmen of the local chapter, stated, "Lung cancer killed 24,000 last year; breast cancer, 20,000; and uterine cancer, 17,000. Procedures for diagnosis ing these three types of that disease in an early stage are being widely publicized by the ACS.

Before it has otherwise betrayed itself, a malignant lung tumor can be detected by a chest X-ray. With early treatment, an average of half of all lung cancers are curable. Yet the present salvage is only 5 per cent. That is why the ACS is so vigorously advocating chest x-rays yearly for all adults and semi-annually for men over 45—the age bracket in which cancer attacks most of its victims.

"Breast cancer, with present-day cures in 35 per cent of cases out of a possible 70 per cent, can be discovered by self-examination if the subject has learned what symptoms to watch for."

Five films currently available to the local Chapter are: Crusade, the story of the battle against cancer; Warning Shadow, documentary of the surgeon who performed the first lung cancer operation in 1933, and his patient, now completely well; Breast Self-Examination, how to detect early symptoms of this type of disease; Man Alive, technical film demonstrating the lack of good sense behind wrong reactions to fear of cancer, and The Traitor Within, revealing in color how normal cells develop in a human body, how cancer cells run wild, and the possibility and methods of cure.

These films may be shown by interested groups and organizations by calling the chapter office at 821 Penniman avenue.

Publisher Calls for Cooperation

time arrives the city have a plan outlined to absorb the added responsibilities of caring for our township residents. City problems and affairs should be well in hand, local streets should be paved, our water system expanded and sewage facilities be modernized to care for the additional load.

This seems a fair appraisal. It is also possible that when the study groups finish their work they might well come up with the possibility of the township incorporating the city. If their financial structure is such, and their facilities and their administration are better than those of the city at that time, that might provide a more sound basis for a move of this kind if it were possible.

At about the same time the supervisor was stating his thought about the future, three members of the city commission privately also expressed their opinions to the writer. In each case none was of the opinion that outright incorporation was their aim in having a study undertaken at this time.

One made the statement to the writer that if nothing other than better cooperation between the city and township came from all this fuss it would be more than worthwhile, and that is what he hoped for.

Another commissioner was frank to admit that there was a lot more to this whole problem than just plain consolidation. He said that if the people, both city and township, could understand that they were dealing with something intangible, something that neither had today but something each eventually had to have, or would have, whether they liked it or not, certainly they would take a much more serious approach to the whole problem rather than to single out the word or thought of incorporation in itself.

The whole area is faced with problem after problem. Local businessmen are faced with the problem of expanding parking facilities and making their business places more inviting to all of our residents. The city would like to attract more residents and industry, but there are few available improved sites. The township has beautiful future subdivision and industrial sites but there is no water or sewer facilities. These are problems vital to every homeowner in the City of Plymouth and the Township of Plymouth.

The solution must be arrived at on a mutual level with the aid of the people in the city and the people in the township. . . both will have their pocketbooks tapped one way or another and the time to do it the right way, the economical way and the logical way, is to combine forces now and not wait some ten or twenty years hence and then have to undo, at taxpayers' expense, the mistakes made today.

Only two weeks ago Andrew Dunn, a former industrialist now retired in North Carolina, said to me, "You know, I was a member of the commission that laid the ground work for making Plymouth a city and divorcing us from township control. What fools we were at that time that we didn't incorporate the whole area into a city then and prevent the perplexing problem and expense now facing the residents of those two municipalities."

It is easy to look back and see one's mistakes but it takes far-sighted judgment and thinking to plan for the years ahead and THAT IS WHAT WE NEED TODAY. Our township officials and our city officials are well qualified. In our midst are some of the most far-sighted individuals in the state. Why not encourage them to participate publicly in our overall problem? Why not lay all of the cards on the table and come up with a solution to many of our ailments which will stand as a testimonial to the good, clear thinking of this generation in the years ahead?

Perhaps these various study groups now at work will bring to us some amazing suggestions and that, after all, is all they can be. They should be encouraged. They are both composed of good thinking individuals but the unfortunate part of their present activity is that they are working individually . . . for you and for all the 14,000 other residents of our expanding community they should be working together.

Industry is as interested in a fair appraisal of the problem as is the businessman and the homeowner. No conclusion could possibly be reached that would be impartial without their counsel. To face the whole matter squarely and fairly let's re-evaluate the whole problem in our minds. Let's think that there is a problem confronting all of us and it may not be solved by this present flurry, but someday some solution will have to be found. Only if we can meet and reason with good clear, unbiased thinking can we reach a conclusion which will be for the best interests of all concerned. After all, as I have said time and time again, what ever thinking we do, what ever actions we take, must be done for the benefit of the overall community regardless of who it might hurt.

ELECT EDGAR M. BRANIGIN

Wayne Circuit Judge

BALLOT No. 44

Monday, April 4

EDGAR M. BRANIGIN Wayne County Clerk

County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin is the only candidate for circuit judge who has been given the top rating by the Detroit Citizens League and by the lawyers of Wayne County in a poll conducted by the Detroit Bar Association. Branigin was appointed county clerk in July 1947 by the unanimous vote of the Wayne Circuit judges. He has been re-elected four times to that office.

He is secretary of the Detroit Bar Association and President of the Michigan Humane Society. Each time Branigin has been a candidate for the office of county clerk he has been given the preferred rating of the Detroit Citizens League.

Branigin recently spearheaded a drive to prohibit common-law marriages in Michigan. One of these measures has already passed the house and is awaiting consideration in the Senate.

Branigin is 54, married, and lives at 1565 Ford Court, Grosse Pointe Woods. He has been a lawyer since 1937 and is a graduate of the Detroit College of Law. He previously attended Franklin College in Indiana for four years.

During World War II he served in the Navy as a lieutenant. As a practicing lawyer he was associated with John P. O'Hara, present recorder court judge.

J. Rusling Cutler

J. Rusling Cutler, 45, lives at 193 North Main street. He has been resident here 32 years, graduating from Plymouth high school, attending Heidelberg college one year and receiving his law degree from the Detroit College of Law. He has been an attorney here 22 years. Married, the Cutlers have five children, two in high school, one in junior high and two in grade school.

Cutler was a municipal judge eight years and was assistant city attorney three years. He has served as secretary, vice-president and president of the Plymouth Lions club; is a member of the B.P.O. Elks; the Chamber of Commerce (former committee chairman); former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and was its secretary, vice-president, president and chairman of the board; member of the Suburban Bar association and served as its president, is now secretary-treasurer; member of the public relations committee of the State Bar association; citizenship counsellor of the Boy Scouts and a former Scoutmaster and district committeeman.

"The major problem in the city is to keep abreast of the times in the matter of the growth of our community presently taking place, and anticipating the growth in the foreseeable future. To keep Plymouth in the future as it has been in the past, the best place to live. I would like to see many things accomplished if elected, probably the most important would be making the community more attractive to the stranger and to people living nearby. Another most important matter is the cultivation and promotion of harmony with our surrounding areas to make this one big, happy community."

Kelsey Neeley

A resident of the Plymouth area since 1940, Kelsey Neeley, 29, lives at 1258 South Harvey street. He is owner of Kelsey's Gulf Service station at Starkweather and North Main. This is his first try for public office.

Neeley is a member of the B.P.O. Elks and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is a veteran of World War II. He states that he would rather not comment on the questions concerning the city's needs at this time.

Harry Roberts

Harry A. Roberts, 48, lives at 585 McKinley avenue. He is married and has three children. As division superintendent of the Utilities Line Construction company, he has lived here nine years. Roberts is a former president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is vice-president of the Plymouth Safety council, and belongs to the Masons, Shrine and Hi-12 organizations. He attended Electrical Engineering college two years following high school graduation.

"If elected, I would first like to see parking facilities to accommodate the future flow of business which is increasing each year. Second, I would like to see the streets put in better condition and maintained to make the city more attractive to prospective buyers and visitors. Third, to make a complete study of the sewer conditions and how they can be improved upon for future growth."

Robert Sincock

Robert J. Sincock, 39, is one of the two incumbent candidates running for the full terms. He was appointed last August to the commission to fill an unexpired term. A resident of Plymouth for 15 years, he lives at 309 Auburn. The Sincocks have two children. He is owner of Bob's Standard Service station. Sincock is a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, is financial secretary of the Knights of Columbus, and a member of the B.P.O. Elks.

"The main problem facing the city is how to better our street and sewer system. If re-elected, I will endeavor to work for the paving of all roads and a sewer system covering the whole city."

Marvin Terry

Marvin E. Terry is also an incumbent candidate, having been appointed in July 1953 to fill a vacancy. Born in Plymouth 39 years ago, he moved from the city at an early age but returned in 1933. He is a graduate of Rochester, Michigan high school and received a degree in business administration at Albion college in 1937. Terry is a baker and partner in Terry's Bakery. He is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis club, the B.P.O. Elks and the Masons.

"Among the major problems is the need for municipal services outside the boundaries of the city which the Plymouth Community Study Group is now working on. There is also the problem of providing proper sewers for the south section of the city and the need for more street improvements. I would like to see the Parkway Arm Interceptor sewer brought as far as Plymouth so that the south section of the city could be provided with proper sewage disposal. After this is accomplished, then street paving program can progress. I would also like to see, in the near future, every street in Plymouth paved."

Archie Vallier

A. E. Vallier, 41, lives at 1338 Penniman. Born and raised in Columbus, Nebraska, he has lived in Plymouth four years. The Valliers have two daughters. He graduated from Iowa State college in 1935 with a degree in mechanical engineering. He served as an officer in the Army Ordnance department during five years of World War II. Vallier is manager of the experimental fabricating department, engineering division, of Ford Motor company. He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and Plymouth Kiwanis club.

"I do not believe there is any one specific major problem facing the city. However, I do believe it is necessary that there be a strong city commission sensitive to the needs of the citizens and the community. This commission must be made up of citizens with the proper training and experience to enable them to decide and solve the many problems that will arise in the next few years. I feel that my engineering and business administrative training and experience would make me a valuable member of the commission."

George Witkowski

George Witkowski, 1117 Palmer, has lived in the Plymouth area nine years. At 33 he operates the Plymouth Dental Laboratory. He is a graduate of high school and the Williams Prosthetic school. He is married and has a son. Witkowski was a candidate for the commission two years ago. He was general chairman of the Plymouth Community Fund last year and has been on the board two years. He is also a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, having been in the Navy four years, and is a charter member and past president of the Lions club.

"The major problem confronting the city is accommodating the rapid influx of residents and business into this area. I would like to see a civic center consisting of a new city hall, police headquarters, library, etc. I would like to see this city be one of the neatest, cleanest cities in the country; also, some of the old outdated buildings replaced with new structures. This I will fight for without an increase in taxes."

Harold Guenther

Harold E. Guenther is unopposed for the unexpired term of the late Henry J. Fisher which ends in April 1957. Although there is a place for write-in votes on the voting machines, Guenther should have no trouble in gaining the unexpired term. He was appointed last August along with Robert Sincock when both Commissioners Floyd Tibbitts and Fisher announced their resignations the same night.

Guenther is co-owner of E-Z Sew Enterprises, Inc. He came to Plymouth in 1944 and makes his home at 1142 North Holbrook with his wife and four boys. He once served on the city's personnel appeal board and is a member of the Rotary club and Chamber of Commerce.

Township

in the community all his life. He is a Plymouth high school graduate and an alumnus of the University of Michigan. He is a member of First Presbyterian church, the Masonic Lodge, Plymouth Grange.

"Our primary problems are the establishing of water and sewer facilities for the township. I would like to see a continuation of our present program of exploring the fields of best engineering and financing for these projects for the benefit of the citizens of the township. I am also interested in the township retaining its present status."

Freda Range

Freda Range, Democratic candidate for clerk, is a housewife with 15 years of general office experience with the Michigan Secretary of State and private business. She has lived in Plymouth township five years and in Detroit 42 years. Her home is at 41770 Schoolcraft. At 47, she has three sons, all of whom served in World War II. She is a member of the Plymouth Democratic club.

"I favor full support of a careful community study of needs in regards to consolidation. If elected, with your support I shall assure all citizens fair and courteous treatment, impartial administration of all election laws and procedures. I pledge myself to a special effort to encourage and facilitate voter registration. I pledge that I will be regularly available for public business."

Treasurer

Elizabeth Holmes

Elizabeth Holmes, 40, of 41390 Joy road, is Republican candidate for treasurer, a job she has held since her husband died in office in December 1952. She has two children in elementary school. She is a 1932 graduate of Northwestern High school in Detroit, is a member of the Plymouth Chapter of the Eastern Star, Allen School P.T.A. and the Michigan Gladioli society.

"The township at this time has only one problem and that is remaining a township. I am pledged to informing the township citizens of all the facts in the matter. Beyond that, I would like to see a continuation of our present orderly planned growth."

Orville Tungate

Orville Tungate, 25, is seeking the township treasurer office on the Democratic ticket. An employee of American Airlines, he lives at 9433 Brookline with his wife and two children. He has lived in this area since 1952, is a graduate of Dearborn Junior college, and served in the Army three years.

"If elected, I shall endeavor to bring about sound zoning laws with some teeth in them, a published monthly financial report, a real supervised playground program, water and sewers to the areas where they are needed and investigate the possibility of installing street lights in our more heavily populated areas. I believe that our township people should be informed at all times on the proposed plans and programs of the township government. These things can be accomplished as a township. To do so we must keep people informed. I believe this in itself will end all thought of merger with any other form of government."

Trustee

Lawrence Money

Lawrence Money, 57, is the only Democrat seeking one of the two township trustee vacancies. He is superintendent of the canneries at the Detroit House of Correction and lives in an apartment on the grounds. Money has lived in the area five years, working at one time as chief clerk of the Indiana Highway department. He graduated in horticulture from Washington State college. He has been in Democratic party work 25 years, was chairman of the party in Cass County, Indiana and in Plymouth. He is a member of the Lions Club, Masons and First Presbyterian church.

"The principals to which I adhere are a full dollar value in public service for every tax dollar; full support of a careful community study of present and future needs; a comprehensive sewer program; an adequate water system; effective police protection and a comprehensive township improvement program in all branches of township needs and activities."

Louis Norman

A resident of this area 35 years, Norman lives at 41681 East Ann Arbor trail. He is married and has two children. He is in the excavating business.

The candidate is a member of the Plymouth Grange, Elks club and Plymouth township fire department.

Norman, 39, believes the most pressing problems are the sewers and water. "The quicker we go to work on these problems the quicker we can have more homes, business and industry. With this will come other necessities of a good prosperous community."

In addition to sewers and water, Norman stated that he is "interested in the present administration's drive for the proper zoning and everything in regard to improvement and betterment of the township at large. We also need to enlarge the township hall to take care of future business which will soon grow beyond the present available space."

Harold Hamill

At 54, Hamill owns and operates a consulting civil engineering and land surveying business at 292 South Main. His home is at 47007 West Ann Arbor trail. The Hamills have one married daughter.

Hamill opened his office in this area in 1926 and has served all neighboring towns in a professional capacity at one time or another. He served as Livonia's township engineer from 1937 to 1950 and as Livonia city engineer from 1950 until present. His parents came to Plymouth in 1912 and the candidate is a graduate of Plymouth high school and the University of Michigan where he received his engineering degree.

Hamill has served nine years on the Plymouth board of education (1930-39), on the Plymouth Recreation commission and was Plymouth municipal judge. He is a member of the Plymouth Rotary club and is past master of the Plymouth Rock Lodge of Masons.

"In my opinion, the major problem confronting Plymouth township at the present time is the extension of sewer and water facilities to populated areas, in such a manner and upon a basis that people can afford."

Jerry H. Chisnell

Leonard Hulack

Gordon E. Champion

Ernest E. Miller

It was announced this week that the following four Plymouth residents are nearing completion of basic infantry training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri with a unit of the Sixth Armored division:

Private Jerry H. Chisnell, 15500 Portis street; Private Leonard Hulack, 46723 Phoenix; Private Gordon E. Champion, 493 North Harvey; and Private Ernest E. Miller of 287 Arthur.

After induction into the Army at their home station, the Plymouthites processed through the 5045th ASU Reception Station at Fort Leonard Wood, where they received their initial Army clothing and took the basic qualification and aptitude tests to determine their assignment in the Army after completion of basic training.

Upon completion of the eight-week infantry training cycle at Fort Leonard Wood with the famed "Super Sixth," the local residents will receive a leave before beginning eight weeks of advance basic training, either at Fort Leonard Wood or another training installation.

Attitudes on Retirement Disproved by Survey

A Wayne University study of people over age 65 recently disproved the widely held idea that people look forward to retirement so they can start taking things easy. The study, "Detroit's Senior Citizens: Their Viewpoints and Attitudes," was directed by Dr. Ferdinand F. Mauser, chairman of Wayne's department of marketing and sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Committee on Aging.

Interviews with 114 people over age 65 revealed that 91 had to retire although 51 wanted to continue to work but could not because of company or union policy, health or age. Chief worry of retired people is isolation. Loss of company or union affiliation, worries over inability to maintain a separate family unit, the fear of not being able to go to lodge and church meetings all undermine the feelings of what the retirees call "security."

Canton Township Candidates Listed

Democrat Robert Waldecker and Republican incumbent Louis Stein are opponents for the office of supervisor of Canton township in next Monday's election. Others on the ballot are: Clerk, Andrew Smith, Democrat; Henrietta Burch, Republican.

Treasurer, Antoinette B. Fulton, Democrat; Martha Ketchum, Republican.

Trustee (2), Philip Dingeldey, Democrat; Elmer Schultz and Ernest Plant, Republicans.

Board of Review, Albert Schrader, Republican.

Highway Commissioner, George Young, Democrat; Charles Curtis, Republican.

Justices, Arthur Shedd, Democrat; Edward Richards, Republican.

Constable, Bert Walling, Democrat; William Johnson, Charles Johnson, Leo Bartz and George Cather, Republicans.

MEN'S NIGHT at the regular meeting of the Bird school PTA started out as usual last week, but after the formal introduction the fathers took over. Among other things a pair of hilarious skits were acted out. Pictured here is the cast of the first play which covered the well-known farmer, daughter and villain plot. Left to right are cop Joe West, boy friend Bob Barbour, daughter Sam Knapp, villain Bill Lyons and farmer Bill Congden.

It's well worth your while to come in and drive the Motoramic Chevrolet just for the fun of it. And when you do, you'll make discoveries that can help you be a winner in our Miracle Mile Contest. For example, you'll notice how Chevrolet's new Outrigger rear springs bring you wonderful new stability on curves.

You'll see how new Glide-Ride front suspension rolls the bumps smooth. And you'll tingle to the peppery response you get when your toe nudges the accelerator. You'll find this true whether you drive the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" (with the shortest stroke in its field for longer life!), or one of the two new "Blue-Flame" 6's (highest powered sixes in the low-price field!).

Come in and have the driving time of your life at the wheel of a new Chevrolet! Enter our big Miracle Mile Contest, without cost or obligation, and you may win one of 102 new Chevrolets given away. It's easy—it's fun!

Freakish Weather

Michigan's weather included a little of everything last week. The mercury skipped up and down, ranging from zero to 52 degrees, and while some areas were snow-free, others reported the deepest snow of the winter.

Deer were sticking close to wintering lowlands and some new starvation was reported.

A statistical sample of starvation losses will be made on small areas throughout the state as soon as weather permits.

Salem Township Candidates Listed

Democrat William Edmonds is attempting to unseat Republican William Scheel for the office of supervisor in Salem township's biennial election this Monday.

The two parties have a full slate with the GOP now holding all major township offices. One incumbent candidate defeated for trustee in the primary election, Sam Bailo, is reported to be gaining widespread white-in support for Monday's election. He was defeated in the primary by Arthur Dahl by 13 votes.

Other candidates besides Scheel and Edmonds are:

Clark, Mrs. Herbert Famuliner, Democrat; N. Grant Currie, Republican.

Treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Guseila, Democrat; Harlow Ingall, Republican. Trustee, (3), Carleton Hardesty and Paul Rebmah, Democrats; Albert Ryder and Arthur Dahl, Republicans.

STEPHEN S. NISBET
candidate for re-election to STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

A splendid combination of grassroots school teacher and administrative genius, Mr. Nisbet works only in the best interests of Michigan students and the Michigan school system. A member of the Board since 1943 and currently its President, Mr. Nisbet merits a rousing vote of confidence by Michigan citizens.

New Books at Dunning Library

Western and mystery novels seem to predominate the new books received at the Dunning library. Among the recent arrivals were Bonham's "Night Raid," "Divine Average" by Kirkland, Denver Badwell's "Calamity at Devil's Crossing," "The Trouble at Hungerfords" by Cyril Harris; "Cow Thief Empire" by Hopson, Dan Kelliher's "Range Reckoning," "Silver City" by Bradford Scott, Lloyd Kevin's "Badlands Ranch," "Gun Lobos" by Wade Hamilton, Thompson's "Trouble Rider" and "The Steel Web," "Outlaw Valley" by Evans, Michael Carder's "Action at War Bow Valley"; "The High Passes" by John Reese, Tom Hopkins' "Crown Rides High," "Horizon Home" by Bowman, O'Rourke's "Thunder in the Sun," "Steel to the South" by Overholser and Richard Pooler's "The Peacemaker."

Selections by mystery writers include "Old Mrs. Ormanney Is Dead" by Margaret Erskine, Joan Sargent's "Crime and Miss Olivia," "Funerals are Fatal" by Agatha Christie, Ashe's "A Shroud for Grandma," "Catch A Tiger" by Owen Cameron, Barlette's "Dear Dead Days," "Man Dead" by Selwyn Jepson; Delano Ames' "Murder, Maestro Please," "Death Goes to a Reunion" by Kathleen Knight, William McGivern's "The Big Heat," "Murder on the Matterhorn" by Glyn Carr, Dolores Hitchens' "Terror Lurks in Darkness," "Murder by the Day" by Veronica Johns; Morten Cumberland's "Nobody is Safe," "The Seventh Chasm" by Oliver Gard, Ballinger's "Raferty," "Dead March for Penelope Blow" by Bellairs and John D. Carr's "The Nine Wrong Answers."

Other new additions include Audel's "Millwrights and Mechanics Guide," "Sands of Mars" by Arthur C. Clarke, Jeanne Judson's "The Heart is Wiser," "Bride for New Orleans" by Edward Murphy, Crane's "Hero's Walk," "How to Help Folks Have Fun" by Helen and Larry Eisenberg; "Twenty Eight Science Fiction Stories of H. G. Wells," Frank G. Slaughter's "The Healer," "Book-keeping Introductory" by Zelliot-Leidner, Scott's "Lessons in Loveliness"; "Industrial Arts Drawing and Blueprint Reading" by Coover, Carhart's "Timber in Your Life," Shirley Barker's novel, "Tomorrow the New Moon," and "Appraisal Terminology and Handbook."

Also included were the following publications: Elizabeth Cadell's "Money to Burn," Candelmas Bay" by Ruth Moore, "Drake's Automobile Repair Manual," Baker's "Astronomy," "Our Wild-Life Legacy" by Durward Allen, the Better Homes and Gardens book on "Five Star Homes," Dee Linford's "Man Without a Star," "The Worthy Heart" by Joan Garrison, Jeanne Judson's novel, "The Other Basket," "Silver Song" by Phyllis Yahnke, Anne Duffield's "Dusty Dawn," "Rehearsal for Love" by Kathleen Harris, Wells' "The Long Noose," and "The Steep Hill" by Carol Holliston, Bower's "Outlaw Moon" and "The Day I Died" by Laurence Lariar.

Other new books are Peggy O'More's "The Purple Peaks," "Obligato" by Frances Moore, John Pfeiffer's "The Human Brain," "The Story of the FBI" by the editors of Look magazine, Oreste Pinto's "Friend or Foe?" "The Way of the Four Winds," Yrjo Kokko's story of Lapland and its inhabitants; Marguerite Yourener's prize-winning novel, "Hadrian's Memoirs," "Do-It-Yourself Guide to Successful Home Painting and Decorating," Liang Yen's "Daughter of the Khans," "Like Men Betrayed" by John Mortimer, "The Willie Mays Story" by Ken Smith and Herbert L. Marx' "Defense and National Security."

Another group of westerns include the following books: "Ride The High Places" by Ed Newsom, Ben Smith's "Rider of the Tetons," "Vengeance Valley" by Luke Short, Gay Rutherford's "Blue Skies," "Apache Thunder" by Chuck Stanley, Allan Elston's "Long Love to Lander," "Smoky River" by Lew Smith, Frank Robertson's "Saddle on A Cloud" and "Come A-Smokin'" by Nelson Nye.

In addition, the following are newcomers to the library: Eric F. Russell's "Sentinels from Space," "When Minds Go Wrong" by John M. Grimes, M.D., Berta Ruck's "Spice of Life," "Martha Deane's Cooking for Compliments," "What's New in Bridge" by Oswald Jacoby, Vera Gough's "You're The Speaker," "The Cross and The Sword" by Manuel de Jesus Galvan, Gayelord Hauser's "New Guide to Intelligent Reducing," "I'll Cry Tomorrow" by Lillian Roth;

Merle Miller's "Reunion," "Burrage on Vegetables" by Albert C. Burrage, Elizabeth Bowen's "A World of Love," "The Beggars in The Sun" by Paul D. Boles, Clara N. Boden's

"The Cut of Her Jib," "Easy-to-Make Slipcovers" by Herbert Bast; "The Maras Affair" by Eliot Reed, H. C. McNeile's "Bulldog Drummond Returns," "Like A Mighty Army," selected letters of Simeon Stylites by Halford E. Luccock, Carls and Wines' "The Art of Tile Setting," Don Ryan's "The Devil's Brigadier," "Forbidden City" by Muriel M. Jernigan, Emily Noble's "The Girl in The Park," "The Stars of Love" by Norma Newcomb, A. E. Martin's "The Curious Crime," "Cabin in The Redwoods" and "Where Love Dwells" by William Neubauer, Rebecca Marsh's "Assistant Angel," "Frontier Trader" by Chuck Stanley, Jennifer Ames' "The Reluctant Cinderella," "K-2 The Savage Mountain" by Charles S. Houston, M.D. and Robert H. Bates, and Rex Stout's "Prisoner's Base."

Grange Gleanings

There were 24 of our Grange members who made the journey to Pittsfield last week Wednesday evening. The officers of our Grange were asked to officiate at the ceremony of opening the meeting. A nice meeting it was, with a large crowd in attendance.

Following the meeting the play "What's In A Name?" was presented by the group from Plymouth. It was enjoyed by everyone. Then the members of Pittsfield were told to escort the members of Plymouth downstairs where a nice lunch of Jello, cookies and coffee was served. A pleasant evening.

The card party at the hall was extremely well attended considering the very bad storm of snow and wind and the condition of the roads. Twelve tables were in play which was very good. Mrs. Louise Hutton is able to be out again after having been shut in for about three weeks with a severe cold.

Our next Grange meeting will be the usual supper meeting on April 7. We have some new candidates to be admitted at that meeting.

The cast of the play and their husbands and wives were invited to come to Deerfield to present the play there last week Thursday evening. Supper was served about seven o'clock, then the play, after which a young lady showed very fine interesting slides of life in Brazil where she has been as an exchange student. State Master William Brake was present and spoke on matters of interest to farmers. Mr. and Mrs. James Marr was also present which was a surprise to many as he has recently been very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunn went over to Pittsfield on Friday night to the fish supper. They report that everything was delicious, not merely "fish and chips" but salads, dessert etc. A tremendous crowd was there. Don't forget the Pomona meeting here at the hall on April 12, when we shall have Washtenaw county Pomona as our guests. Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs came home last week from their winter's stay in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby left for a month's visit to California last week Thursday.

The only excuse for writing is to spread intelligent thought and information, rather than seek popularity.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Here's Quick Easy Dessert!

A delicious dessert recipe that originally came from Charleston, West Virginia has been submitted this week by Mrs. E. B. Jones, wife of the pastor of the Riverside Park Church of God.

An ice-box treat made from prepared cookies, "Snow Balls" have been a favorite in the 292 Arthur street household for many years. Mrs. Jones recommends this dessert for its marvelous flavor and the ease with which it's concocted.

Snow Balls
1 No. 2 can of crushed pineapple
Approximately 20 marshmallows
1 package (1 lb.) of dates
1 cup of nutmeats
2 boxes of walnut cookies.

Cut marshmallows, dates and nutmeats in as small pieces as possible and drain pineapple of almost all of the juice. Mix above ingredients together well (electric beater may be used).

Cover one walnut cookie with mixture, place another cookie on top, and another layer of mixture, another cookie until you have three cookies and two layers of mixture.

Let balls sit in refrigerator overnight or for a sufficient length of time to blend the various ingredients. Then remove and cover with whipped cream and coconut. Recipe makes between two and three dozen snowballs.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Otto Beyer returned to her home on North Mill street Saturday after being confined to University hospital, Ann Arbor for the past four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader honored Mrs. Schrader's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coda Savery on Monday evening by taking them out to dinner in celebration of the Savery's wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs have returned to their home on Virginia avenue after spending the winter months in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts and children, Robbie and Allison, of Parkhurst avenue have returned home after a three months stay in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Miss Doris Honey was honored at two bridal showers recently including a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. James Honey Jr. and Miss Patricia Honey in the James Honey home on Adams street. Fifteen guests all relatives were present at this delightful party. On March 25, Doris was again honored when Miss Nancy Worth and Miss Doranne Wilton were hosts to nearly 25 guests at a linen shower in the Worth home on North Territorial road. Doris will become the bride of Thomas Bloxson on April 2.

Lisie Alexander of North Mill street spent several days over the weekend on business for the American Legion in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ash and daughter, Donna, accompanied the Walt Ash Shell Service Bowling team to Bay City on Saturday, returning to Plymouth on Sunday. The team competed in the Michigan State Bowling Tournament. On Plymouth's team were Harold W. Stevens, captain, Gar Evans, Arnold Ash, Carl Zarn, Arthur Merryfield and Jerry Wendland.

Mrs. Ella J. Moore of 253 Irvin street celebrated her 99th birthday on Friday, March 25. Mrs. Moore is the mother of Colonel William K. Moore also of Plymouth. A dinner was given by her granddaughter, Miss Helen Moore and was attended by members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn attended a fish supper at Pittsfield last Friday evening.

The Bartlett school Mother's Club will meet next Wednesday evening, April 13, at 8 p.m. Purchases made at the plastic demonstration will be delivered at this meeting. The annual report will be read and plans discussed for the coming birthday dinner and nomination and election of officers to be held in May. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Doss Peer, Mrs. John Aton and Mrs. Donald Walbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shepard of Houghton avenue, Livonia, were hosts at a co-operative dinner on Sunday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dan Julien and son, Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Norgrove and children Lynda and Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norgrove and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick.

The Ladies of St. Peter's Lutheran church will again pack their bags of "Easter Cheer" to be distributed at Wayne County General hospital. Ladies are reminded to have their colored hard boiled eggs and cookies at the church on Thursday as the bags will be packed following services on Maundy Thursday and taken to the hospital on Good Friday afternoon.

WORKING ON a leather craft project, which they will exhibit at the local 4-H achievement day are Betty Weberlein (center) and Sharlene Moers, while Mrs. Leona Hull, an advisor for the Plymouth 4-H group, looks on. These two girls, and other 4-H club members, will compete for ribbons, with the blue ribbon winners eligible to enter in the county achievement day. The local achievement event takes place April 1 at the UAW-CIO Hall, 43855 Michigan avenue.

Plymouth Choir Participates In U of M Concert

The 63-member Plymouth high school choir participated in the presentation of Bach's "Passion of Our Lord According to St. Matthew" at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium last Friday night. Director of the local choir is Fred C. Nelson.

Taking part in the event some 1400 students from 24 Michigan high schools; the University Choir, Symphony Orchestra and 11 soloists. Maynard Klein, U of M associate professor of choral music, the concert director. Directing the 1400-voice high school Choral Choir was James B. Wallace, assistant professor of music literature.

The soloists, School of Music faculty members, were: Harold Haugh, evangelist; Philip Duey, Jesus; Frances Greer, soprano; and Arlene Sollenberger, contralto. Marilyn Mason Brown of the U of M faculty was organist.

The "St. Matthew Passion" was originally written for performance during the Vesper service of Good Friday, 1729, in the Church of St. Thomas, Leipzig. There are two main parts, with the opening movements of both pointing back to the Old Testament. The introductory chorus freely expresses thoughts from "Jeremiah," while the beginning of the second part uses verses from the "Song of Songs."

"The work is one of Bach's most monumental and inspiring creations, and there are few works in the immense literature of music that can be compared with it in depth and intensity of religious expression," according to Hans T. David, University professor of music, and an authority on Bach.

Many women fail to find satisfaction in life because they do not devote their energies to being good homemakers and mothers.

By Planning You Can Simplify Those Housecleaning Chores

Cleanliness in the home is necessary for sanitation, physical comfort and mental contentment. The "comfortably clean" home is one every homemaker can attain without too much effort and expense if she will study her housekeeping problems and work out the "best ways" of meeting them. These "best ways" must take into consideration her individual family situation. Experts suggest that every homemaker work toward keeping her house clean at all times and thus avoid the annual confusion that comes with "house-cleaning time."

Planning your cleaning will help to make the job of keeping the house comfortably clean an easier one. Decide how often different cleaning jobs must be done. Schedule them daily, weekly or monthly accordingly. Be

Gives Tips On Making Slipcovers

If the "Do-it-yourself" craze has hit your home, chances are that yours is one of the millions of families taking advantage of the wide variety of fabrics now offered for new slipcovers that complement paint and carpentry jobs. And if you're on the distaff side, your talents with the sewing machine will be pressed into service to add final touches to Dad's efforts from his workshop.

If you've never tackled sewing for home decoration before, it's a good idea to follow a few tips from the experts as you proceed, or perhaps you would want to take a few lessons at the local sewing center.

For example, in dealing with slipcover making, local sewing center experts tell you that your assignment will be easier if you follow this step-by-step procedure: first, take measurement of chair or other piece of furniture—allowing 1" for seams, estimate yardage required and any trimmings to be used. A first-timer at such projects will find it simpler to make a muslin pattern first and pin fit it carefully to furniture piece. Mark location of design motif, if any, and cut fabric, making certain all the pieces are cut with design running the same way—usually up. Pin-fit fabric, determine trimmings for seam finish, make trimming, join sections, apply flounce—if design calls for it—apply slide fasteners to opening, cover cushion or cushions, press slipcover and put on furniture piece.

New Soup Varieties Come in Frozen Form

Something new in Plymouth markets is the appearance of delicious soups in frozen form.

Tested for a year on the East coast, the manufacturers found them so popular with housewives there that they're introducing them in other areas throughout the country. Four varieties of the frozen soups are now available to local consumers: pea with ham, cream of shrimp, cream of potato and oyster stew.

Perhaps you're wondering why bother to freeze these luncheon mainstays instead of can them. Well, the experts tell us that in order to retain the fresh flavor of shrimp and oysters, quick freezing is necessary. With the cream of potato and pea-ham soups, freezing helps to keep the true flavor of the blended ingredients.

Manufacturers plan, in the near future, to add chicken-vegetable as well as other varieties to the frozen soup line now available at local stores.

Small rooms will look larger if draperies and large upholstered pieces match or closely harmonize with the walls. Curtains that contrast with the walls make the room look smaller.

Breakfast — Three-Part Harmony

Breakfast becomes a three-part harmony when Buttermilk French Toast, bacon strips and marmalade are the menu.

Your grandmother would never have thought of buttermilk as something to sing about, but who hasn't heard the lyric about Buttermilk Skies? Now, buttermilk toast is a principal feature of the three part breakfast harmony—Buttermilk French Toast, bacon strips, and marmalade. It's the buttermilk that gives this trio individuality.

Buttermilk French Toast is almost a meal in itself, a delightful blending of buttermilk, eggs and enriched toast. It's a natural for the minute-miser breakfast menu, too. The mixture could be prepared in advance the night before, refrigerated, ready for speedy dipping of the bread while the bacon is grilling.

Buttermilk French Toast

2 eggs, beaten slightly
1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
12 slices enriched or whole wheat bread
Combine beaten eggs, buttermilk and salt in a shallow bowl. Melt shortening in a skillet. Dip bread slices into egg mixture, turning slices to coat both sides. Brown bread on both sides in hot fat. Serve with marmalade, jelly preserves, honey or syrup.
Yield: 6 servings — 2 slices toast per serving.

Poultry is perishable whether fresh-killed or cooked. It should be stored, loosely covered, in the refrigerator at 35 degrees F. Do not keep longer than two or three days.

To machine stitch sleeves into a dress, hold the garment side on top and the sleeve next to the feed-dog. Then, you will have better control and it will be easier to ease the sleeves.

Expert Tells Secret Used By Top Cooks

Many women who are masters at mixing up cakes, muffins and biscuits in a jiffy have a secret for their success. They use a master mix.

It's a mix that can be used for everything, explains a foods and nutrition specialist. It includes waffles, gingerbread, coffee cake and many kinds of cookies, cakes, muffins and biscuits.

The recipe for this unique time-saver lists the following ingredients: Nine cups sifted all purpose flour or 10 cups sifted cake flour, 1/3 cup double acting baking powder, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1/4 cup sugar and 2 cups shortening. Stir the baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar into the flour and sift them three times together. Cut in the fat until the mix is the consistency of cornmeal. Store the master mix in a covered container at room temperature.

To measure the master mix for use, the expert suggests piling it lightly into a measuring cup and leveling it with a spatula. She also recommends using cake flour and an emulsified fat if you use the mix for cake baking. Read the labels on the shortening cans to be sure it is emulsified. Cake flour and this type of fat are musts when making cakes.

Many of the recent commercial cook books give directions for variations of commercial or homemade mixes, says the specialist.

Bold, Lavish Colors Keynote Spring Prints

The very first news that spring is on its way always appears in print! Print frocks are the overwhelming pre-season choice as a splash of color under furs and to park winter-weary wardrobes.

This spring, prints capture the gala spirit of the season as never before! They are so imaginative in coloring that they are setting a whole new trend in accessorizing. Keen to your spring print, you'll wear orange with pink, violet with blue, yellow with pink, and other heretofore daring color combinations.

In the spring picture, pretty colorful prints show up importantly as the blouse and the lining for the jackets or full-length coats of the stunning costume.

The increasing use of pure silks adds impetus to the pre-dominance of prints. Silk prints have never been so lovely as on tulle, shantung, or paper-weight taffeta. Printed silk pongee is a new fashion story that is proving exciting.

Exquisite use of color... imaginative design... and wide variety highlight the print picture for spring.

Watch for monotone prints which use two to four tones of one color, scenic prints, sombre effects, abstracts, and splashy florals. Polka dots inspire a bevy of conventional and unusual designs.

Try covering both hands with a pair of old wool socks. You can then do a wonderful polishing and buffing job on furniture with both hands working at the same time.

Enriched flour is simply flour to which has been added the B vitamins; thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

Financing Construction Eased By More Liberal FHA Terms

Whether you are planning to build, buy, remodel or modernize a home, the question of financing is basic. On this score, it is well to know the essential facts about the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and just how it operates to help you achieve your objective.

The FHA does not lend money. It does not plan or build homes. You do NOT "get a loan from the FHA." What you get is a loan INSURED by the FHA.

The FHA functions as an insurance company, insuring mortgage and modernizing loans made by banks, savings and loan associations and other approved lending institutions. This protection enables the lending institution to make loans on more liberal terms than you could otherwise obtain.

FHA-insured mortgage loans can be for either new or existing construction. The property must be residential, must be located in a residential zone and meet FHA requirements. The application for a loan is made through an approved lending institution.

The Housing Act of 1954 liberalized the down payment requirements. On new construction, for owner occupancy, the FHA can now insure a mortgage amounting to 95% of the first $9,000 of the FHA appraised valuation plus 75% of the FHA appraised valuation in excess of $9,000.

The highest mortgage on one or two family house is $20,000. The prevailing interest rate is 4 1/2%. The mortgage insurance premium is based on the rate of 1/2 of 1% and is determined yearly on reduced balances.

On existing construction the ratio of the loan is 90% of the first $9,000 on the FHA appraised valuation, plus 75% of the FHA appraised valuation in excess of $9,000.

Compliance inspections are made by the FHA during the time of construction. Reports on the inspections are sent to the lending institution which advances the building loan accordingly.

The loan is repaid in equal monthly installments, similar to the payment of rent. Each installment includes taxes, interest, insurance and direct reduction of the principal. When the loan matures, the mortgage has been repaid in full and the property is held by the borrower free and clear.

This plan, geared to a small down payment, eliminates the necessity of second mortgages and saves the borrower the periodic need and expense of refinancing.

If you are planning to remodel, modernize, repair, decorate or otherwise enhance the livability of your home, an FHA-insured modernizing loan is available to you through most banks and other lending institutions.

Included within the scope of these loans are such projects as finishing off an attic or basement, adding additional rooms, installing a heating or air conditioning system, modernizing a kitchen, putting in a new bath, a new stairway, new windows, porch or partitions or the erection of a garage.

FHA modernizing loans range from $100 to $2500, and the maximum repayment period is 3 years and 32 days. Repayment is made in monthly installments. The government-fixed interest rate is 5%, uniform throughout the country, deducted at the time the loan is made. No mortgage is involved. There are no title examinations, extra charges or service fees.

You fill out a simple application form which is processed by the lending institution. Usually you get your check within a few days.

The Housing Act of 1954 provides for FHA-insured open-end mortgages by which the owner of a home with a government-insured mortgage may, wherever State laws permit, increase the unpaid balance of his loan to make needed repairs or improvements.

The payments on the increase are extended over the remaining term of the outstanding mortgage, and thus become much less burdensome to the borrower.

Handsome outside in brick with a low pitched roof and a large overhang, this one-story, two bedroom home features comfortable modern planning within. The living-dining area has French doors opening to an outdoor terrace. A lovely picture window highlights the living room and is enhanced from the exterior by a long low planting box. The kitchen is planned for convenience and has access to terrace. For further information about DESIGN H-299, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Painting Favorite Hobby

Painting is getting to be the nation's favorite hobby. It's such a satisfying way of giving vent to creative talent. With the aid of the paint rollers and the fine brushes that are now available, practically everybody can paint with ease.

When you're using a roller, you'll need a flat-bottomed pan that's propped up at one end. When your paint is ready for use, pour enough of it into the pan to cover not more than the lower two thirds. Leave the upper third dry. Roll your roller down into the paint... back over the dry end to remove any excess... then apply your color to the wall or ceiling. The speed with which you can apply your new coat of color will delight you.

Illustrated leaflets on the economical use of hardwood floorings are available free from the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association, 35 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois.

It is not necessary to apply wood filler to close-grained hardwood floorings. Species in this category include maple, beech, and birch. Other species have open grain and generally require filler.

Homeowners Question Box

Question: Moisture 'sweats through' the concrete floor of my basement, and keeps the floor wet in hot and humid weather. The walls are not damp, and drainage is good. How can I correct this condition?

Answer: Most concrete slabs poured on bare ground without waterproofing below will sweat in this manner. The concrete is porous, and water penetrates from below by capillary attraction. In dry weather it evaporates. In humid weather it cannot evaporate fast enough. Ordinary paint on such a floor is apt to blister off. Use a clear masonry sealer paint first to seal the pores. Or you might apply a coat of waterglass. This can be followed with regular floor paint or deck paint.

Question: Recently we replaced some damaged boards in the front porch. Some of these new boards have shrunk, leaving large cracks. These were filled with plastic wood, later with putty, both of which shrunk and came out. What can I use to fill these cracks without having it fall out again?

Answer: We assume you plan painting the porch. Therefore, plug the larger cracks first with oakum calking which you can find in any boatyard or marine supply store. Push this below the surface into the cracks with a chisel or screwdriver. Then use regular calking compound to level off the joints with the surface. You can paint over this at once.

Household Brains

Electronic "brains," household size, are helping U. S. homeowners outwit Mother Nature! Last year more than 50,000 American homes installed electronic, multiple-thermostat temperature control systems. This highlighted the year's gain in use mostats which feed signals to an electronic "brain," or amplifier which causes proper adjustments to be made in anticipation of weather changes. The report pointed out that there are now more than 26 million central heating systems in operation—itsself a 50 per cent increase since 1944. Of these, nearly 16 million have some kind of automatic temperature control. In 1940 approximately 4 million homes had automatic control.

The study also noted that homeowners are taking a cue from apartment house owners and commercial building management and are utilizing more than one indoor thermostat to regulate their living quarters. The number in use today range from two or three per home, to one for each room.

Air conditioning also came in for analysis in the company report. It was estimated that one out of every eight new homes to be built this year—or some 150,000—will be centrally air conditioned. This will just about double 1954's installation of such units.

Seven Steps to a Perfect Wall

Your walls can have a finish as grand as the finest furniture. It just takes work and a little elbow grease. Here are recommended steps for walls of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock panel boards: (1) sand lumber smooth with 4-0 sandpaper, (2) brush on clear shellac, (3) putty small defects using head of nail to hold putty for oils of putty may stain the wood, (4) sand lightly with 8-0 paper after shellac is thoroughly dry, (5) shellac again, (6) let dry, then use w/500 paper and (7) rub with 4-0 steel wool for deep, dull finish.

50 Years Ago

March 31, 1905

Mrs. J. D. McLaren gave a flinch party to 16 of her lady friends last Friday, among them being Mrs. W. McLaren, of Chelsea.

Born Thursday, March 30, to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hayes, a daughter.

A bold attempt to rob D. A. Jolliffe last Friday night about 9:30 o'clock was frustrated only by the vigorous manner in which Mr. Jolliffe beat off his assailant. Mr. Jolliffe has been in the habit of carrying the days' receipts at his store home in a shot-bag. He had reached his home and was about to turn in when met by a man wearing what looked like a sun-bonnet, who making a grab at the shot-bag containing nearly $100, said "I'll take that." Though startled, a scuffle ensued, and though the robber escaped he left the shot-bag with Mr. Jolliffe. Mr. Jolliffe wore a black eye next day but was thankful the affair was no worse.

The warmest March day ever known in this section was that of Tuesday when the thermometer went up to 78 degrees. The warmest previous March was in 1875 when 75 degrees were recorded. Misses Ethel Smitherman, Edith Robinson, Lucy Lapham, Rose Wilske and Lilly Streng are visiting in Detroit this week.

25 Years Ago

April 4, 1930

Born to Floyd and Mary Louise Miller, a daughter, Joanne Lois, Wednesday, March 23.

Miss Thelma Cook of Jackson was a guest of Miss Winnifred Draper several days this week.

Born, a son, Karl to Reverend and Mrs. E. Hoenecke, Tuesday, April 1, at University hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts of Redford, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Mackinder of Newburg, were last Friday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

P. B. Whitbeck, who has been spending the winter months in St. Petersburg, Florida, is expected home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Block visited relatives in Adrian last Sunday.

Mrs. William Meyers has moved her family from Morenci into the residence of 1217 Penniman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Seccord and family and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reid and family, all of Detroit; were Sunday guests at the Jolliffe home on Mill street.

The Junior Bridge club met March 20 with Mrs. Lisle Alexander, and March 27 with Mrs. Roy Streng. This week the club meets at Mrs. John Bloxom's.

10 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cole of West Ann Arbor trail will be hosts at a family dinner on Easter Sunday. The invited guests are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartung and family of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hartung, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Reddeman and family and William Stinson of Plymouth.

A daughter, Norma Jill, was born Wednesday, March 28, to BM2/c William and Mrs. Congdon. The baby weighed six pounds and was born on her maternal grandmother's birthday. Mrs. Congdon was the former Joan Cassidy.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of Wilcox road Friday, March 23, in Mt. Carmel hospital an eight pound and 9 ounce baby girl. She will be called Mary Lou. Mrs. Smith is the former Frances Spence.

The wedding of Miss Ann Stearns of Detroit and Lieutenant Robert Scott of Plymouth took place Wednesday evening in the Nardin Park Methodist church in Detroit. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott of West Maple avenue. Several Plymouth friends of the family were present at the ceremony. The young couple left for Texas immediately after the wedding.

There were two very surprised boys last Saturday when they found they had a party in their basement. John and Fred Hopkins' birthday was celebrated by George Simmons, Kay Fischer, Bernard Birt, Bea Johnson, Marion Kirkpatrick, Ray Runkel, Elaine Kunkel, Don Shely, Rose Ericsson, Caroline Wolf and Betty Jean Duff. The party adjourned to the bowling alley, then returned to the house for dinner and dancing.

A FORMER RESIDENT OF Plymouth, Dr. Nellie Huger Ebersole (right), was honored at a special radio broadcast over Wayne university's educational FM station, WDET, Tuesday. Recently chosen as one of Detroit's Women of Achievement for 1954, Mrs. Ebersole is director of music, radio and TV of the Detroit Council of Churches and co-director of the Art Center Music school. She is shown above with her two interviewers, Mrs. Lola Jeffries Hanavan, chairman of the Women's Achievement committee, and Miss Alice Crathern, scholar, author and teacher.

Chevrolet Plant Operation Told

Marshall North, personnel director of the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia, was the guest speaker at the Plymouth Rotary club recently.

His subject was, "What We are Doing in Livonia."

First reviewing the 50-year history of Chevrolet, Marshall told of the purchase in 1953 of 128 acres along Eckles road on which the new plant was constructed. The building contains 814,000 square feet of floor space—nearly 20 acres.

It contains a medical department comparable with a small hospital and a cafeteria capable of holding 720 people at one time. In connection with the cafeteria is a bake shop. An escalator carries workers to the cafeteria and locker rooms.

Nine giant fan rooms change air in the plant seven times an hour and all offices are air conditioned. The plant boasts the largest luminous plastic ceiling in the world. Outside, 2,000 cars fit into the parking lot.

The plant manufactures three items, coil and leaf springs and bumpers. Giant presses of 2,500-ton capacity are part of the bumper manufacture along with the longest plating line in the world. A 31-step process plates bumpers.

The speaker also noted that 40 miles of spring stock is used each day and a total of 700 tons of steel is used daily for all manufacture.

About 2,100 people are employed at the plant today, North declared. Many of these came from the original Detroit Forge Plant. Plymouth is now the home of some of these workers, North said, but most still prefer to drive from their old homes. He added that one or two families a week move to the Livonia, Garden City and Plymouth area as a result of the new factory.

HEALTH & BEAUTY

The United States is given the dubious honor of being the most overfed nation in the world. It is estimated that about one-fifth of its people are overweight.

An extreme case of overweight is looked upon as an abnormality. It is a social, economic and esthetic handicap. One of its worst features is the number of physical ills that can accompany the condition.

It is hard to believe that, although the United States has the best medical care in the world, it also has the highest mortality rate in the middle-age population. The degenerative diseases which often accompany middle-age and later life are greatly influenced by obesity.

Poor posture frequently becomes a habit after the thirties. This is aggravated after the thirties by excessive weight. It can result in a slight hunchback effect. This in turn puts an extra load on respiration.

Some of the common conditions associated with obesity are: heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes and hardening of the arteries.

If you are overweight by your doctor's chart, do something about your condition. Remember, a long and happier life will result.

Tumblers at right from top are Marilyn Holst, (l. to r.) Jill Clarke, Susan Hulsing, Carol Maul, Maureen Hanson and Judy Herrick. Feats performed by girl gymnasts will be seen at the 8 p.m. event.

Gym Classes Present "Review" At School Tonight

"Gym Class on Review" will be presented tonight, March 31, at 8 p.m. in the girls gymnasium to acquaint parents and the general public with the physical education curriculum and facilities offered to students of Plymouth high school.

Mrs. Louise Cigile, physical education instructor, will conduct classes in the program as they are held during a regular class period. The seventh grade will present tumbling and an eighth-grade class will do relays and games. A ninth grade co-ed class will perform dancing, mixers, jitterbug and square dancing. A basketball game, exercises, and squad play will be presented by the tenth grade.

At the end of the program there will be a questionnaire for anyone having suggestions or comments to aid in planning future physical education programs.

The program will be narrated by Betty Finney. Script writers are Barbara Erdelyi, Janice Depki, Betty Finney, Carol Clarke and Mrs. Cigile.

Marking Period Closes; Reports Issued to Homes

Report cards were sent home with Plymouth high school students, Wednesday, March 23, drawing to a close the first marking period of the second semester.

A report card, the school feels, should be a fair indication of the accomplishments a student is making. It is not only an objective progress evaluation but it offers an opportunity to all students at the end of the marking period to stop for a moment and consider self-evaluation. It also gives a student a chance to see how far they have progressed.

The ending of this first marking period is important for many reasons. A student can redirect himself in the direction that will help him improve, knowing what needs to be done and getting it done before another marking period passes and it's too late.

The parents of a student doing unsatisfactory work may receive a letter giving reasons for the poor marks. If this occurs, the parents are urged to contact the teacher and talk over the difficulties.

Report cards will be issued again on May 4, following the close of the second marking period on April 29.

Students Attend Flower Show

The Flower Show now in Detroit was visited by the second-year homemaking classes, which met second hour and fifth hour, on Monday, March 28. Students visited the show to learn different ways to arrange flowers and to learn about table decorations.

The class has just finished work concerning clothing construction and students handed in notebooks which included samples, definitions, and where to use certain types of facings, bindings, button holes, seams, plackets, hems, stitches and certain sewing equipment.

The girls will soon start a study of room arrangement which includes colors and positions of furniture according to the size and shape of the room. After completing this, a study will be made of personal grooming.

The Home and Family Living class has been making a study of all types of insurance and have had three speakers concerning the subject.

Judge Nadino Perlongo recently addressed the class. His topic was "Making Marriage Work."

When Nature Palls
Summer Boarder—"What a beautiful view that is!"

Choir, Glee Club Rated "Excellent"

Singing "He Never Said a Mumbly Word" and "O Sacred Head" the Plymouth high school choir, under the direction of Fred Nelson, received a rating of II or excellent at the District Choir and Glee Club Festival held at Ypsilanti on March 23. The Girls Glee Club also received an excellent rating for their "Gold Slumbers" and "Lift Thine Eyes."

Although the II rating disqualifies both groups from the State Festival to be held later this spring in Lansing, it is a very good rating and the group must be excellent to receive it.

The Choir received a first or superior rating in the sight reading division when they sang "Rejoice in the Lord." This is the highest rating awarded any group. The Glee Club also received a superior rating for their rendition of "The Virgin Slumber Song."

Nelson was chairman of the festival this year. Schools throughout this district participate in the festival every year.

Ministers can build old-age and survivors insurance benefits for themselves and their families under the recent amendments to the social security law.

Be sure to check with your nearest social security office when you retire or when a worker in your family dies.

Spring Vacation To Start on April 7

Spring vacation for the Plymouth schools will start on Friday, April 7, at 3:30 p.m. with school reopening on Monday, April 13. Single vacation days for the high school will follow with no other major vacation until school is dismissed. The School Masters' club to be held in May will provide the high school students with one day away from their studies. Decoration Day on May 30 will be another holiday for the students.

On June 17 school will be dismissed for the summer.

Club to Discuss South America

Madonna college incorporated the atmosphere of the lands of enchantment—Mexico, South America and Central America—as the three points of interest featured at this year's International Relations Day scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. This annual observance is sponsored by the International Relations Club (IRC) to acquaint the students with various countries.

The historical background, geographical location, customs, culture and religion of each of the selected places were discussed.

Mexico, known as the "horn of plenty" because of its form of a cornucopia, was the point of interest on March 29, under the direction of Anri Clor of Livonia. Special emphasis was given to a study of Mexico City. A gay, Mexican folk dance, expressing the characteristics of the people who created it, was performed.

Theresa Sternicki of Detroit was the chairman of the South American discussion, with the two republics of Brazil and Venezuela as major interest.

Central America, the land of republics, was studied yesterday with Nancy Bubernik of Detroit as chairman. Costa Rica and Nicaragua were the main topics of discussion.

Films and guest speakers were also scheduled for the three-day observance.

State Health Officer Recommends Immunization Shots for Children

Spring is a good time to see that your children get immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, lockjaw and whooping cough, the Michigan Department of Health urges today.

"This is especially important for those school children who need boosters and the youngsters who will start school in the fall," says Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner.

"We can and should see to it that our children are given every protection that our vaccines have to offer. Spring months—particularly March and April—represent our best immunization period."

Dr. Heustis cites three points bearing on the spring immunization season:

- 1) Regardless of results of the Salk vaccine study, your children should be immunized, if at all possible, before the polio season starts;
- 2) Having your child immunized in the spring gives his body plenty of time to build up the disease-fighting "antibodies";
- 3) In local health department vaccination programs, it is more efficient to immunize while school is still in session, when the children are accessible in a group.

Class of '57 Rings Now Being Ordered

The samples of the class of 1957 rings have arrived and were recently on display in the high school lobby. Orders are being taken through Saturday, April 2.

The rings are 10K gold with diagonal rose gold and white gold background. The rings are offered in four sizes: small, medium, large, and extra large.

Also offered to the sophomore class are 10K gold pins with guards and 10K gold necklaces.

All rings, pins and necklaces will have official Plymouth High School Crest. A five dollar deposit is required for each item ordered.

The rings were chosen on March 7, by three students from the Sophomore Executive Board and two students from the class at large. H. R. Terryberry is the company supplying the rings.

said, "to delay immunization, especially because many folks today have never seen a case of diphtheria or smallpox. But while it's true that these diseases have been all but wiped out in Michigan, we can't afford to let down our guard."

As a recent Michigan example of a flare-up of one of the "controlled" infectious diseases, Dr. Heustis pointed to the 17 cases of diphtheria developing in Grand Rapids last fall.

The doctor said disease also can be "imported." Despite rules requiring international certificates of vaccination for foreign visitors, "The element of human error always makes it possible that Michigan could import smallpox, for instance, which might spread rapidly if we neglected our immunization programs."

"Be sure your children are given the full protection of every vaccine recommended by your physician and health department."

Tenth Grade Lit Students Work on Special Projects

Special projects in connection with the play, "Julius Caesar," written by William Shakespeare, are being worked on by the tenth grade literature classes.

The many extra activities that are offered for extra credit have to do with either some portion of the play or with Shakespeare himself. The drama is being read in class and students also listen to records of this play.

Some of the activities that are now in progress are: making pictures of Julius Caesar or scenes from early Roman history; dressing up dolls to have them look like Julius Caesar, Brutus, or any other characters mentioned in the drama; giving parts of the play to the class, making clay or wooden models of a Shakespearian theater, making a miniature chariot, or drawing maps of Rome and its provinces during the rule of Caesar.

Last semester, many students attended the movie, "Julius Caesar," at the Krim Theater in Detroit when other classes were studying the same drama.

College Day Attracts 500 at Madonna

An estimated 500 and some junior and senior girls attended the ninth annual Madonna College Day held recently. The students represented high schools in Detroit, Livonia, Hamtramck, Wyandotte, Saginaw, Bay City and Isadore.

The keynote address of the morning session was delivered by Dr. Cole S. Brebeck, superintendent of public schools in Livonia. He emphasized the importance of choosing the right college. Vocal renditions by members of the College Chorus concluded the session.

Highlighting the afternoon session, Sister M. Raynelda, Ph.D., English instructor at Madonna, spoke on College and Women, while Reverend James T. Shannon, S.T.D., head of Madonna's theology and philosophy departments, spoke on the problems undertaken in these classes on campus.

The field of Medical technology was thoroughly discussed by Dr.

High School Hobbies

Plymouth high school students have many hobbies which keep them quite busy.

Gail Foreman, a junior, has a collection of buttons. She saves all the buttons she finds, and all left over buttons from the clothes she makes, and if she sees some interesting or unusual buttons in a store, she buys them. Another one of Gail's hobbies is collecting match covers and playing a Saxophone in the high school band and in a quartet. Last year she played in Vern Dierdricks' band.

Pat Hauk, a sophomore, has a hobby of studying birds and their habits. She belongs to a Bird Club in 4-H where they study birds and keep a notebook of different birds and their habits.

Louise Dietrick, a sophomore, has a collection of salt and pepper shakers from all over the world. She started her collection when she was seven years old and now she has about three hundred sets.

Mary Agnew, a sophomore, spends most of her time swimming. She belongs to a girl's swimming club in school which is called "Water Waves." Mary is going to do a duet with Elaine Kieth in a water show in May.

Frank R. Ellis, pathologist at Wayne County General Hospital. Following his speech, a film on medical technology, prepared by the Society of Clinical Pathologists, was shown.

Among the alumnae present who spoke on their respective fields, were Helen Yuschek, 4th grade teacher at Lindemann elementary school in Allen Park, Joan Petro, English teacher and director of the Annual at Plymouth high school, and Therese Szalaszewicz, social worker at Catholic Family Center in Detroit.

Mary Ann Niewierowski, Madonna sophomore, gave a general survey of the business opportunities and courses offered, and Mary Ann Barczak, sophomore, spoke on the Fine Arts. A quick glance at student life on campus was presented by Gloria Laginess, college junior.

Vocal Groups Present Program

Opening the second choral concert of the year, "Moonlight and Music," held recently, was the mixed chorus singing "Wonderful Copenhagen," "Were You There," "My Romance," and "This is My Country," under the direction of Fred C. Nelson.

Following the mixed chorus were the Choralettes with "As Torrents in Summer," "Thine Alone," and "Bidin' My Time."

Next the girls glee club presented "Lift Thine Eyes," "If My Songs Had Wings," "Golden Slumbers," "The Sunshine of Your Smile," "They Didn't Believe Me," and "The Blind Ploughman."

"Time Was When I in Anguish Lay," "The Way You Look Tonight," and "Come to the Fair" were sung by the Triple Trios.

A new jazz trio, consisting of Ronnie Rowe at the piano, Bob Cox on the drums, and Mr. Fred Nelson on the bass viol played, following Ron's selection of "Tenderly" on the piano.

St. Augustine, Florida, will celebrate its 400th birthday in the year 1965.

Rocks Sign New Grid Coach As Staff Undergoes Shuffle

Hoben to Direct Football Team

COACHES Charlie Ketterer (left) and John Sandmann discuss the move that will shift Ketterer to cage mentor and leave Sandmann with only the athletic directorship at the high school.

A shake-up in the coaching staff at Plymouth high school will be undertaken next fall at the beginning of the 1955-56 athletic program. Keynote in this shuffle of coaches will be the addition of John Michael Hoben, who comes to the Rocks from Cheboygan as head varsity football coach.

As Hoben moves in, present grid mentor Charlie Ketterer will vacate his post to take the reins of the varsity basketball card, while cage coach John Sandmann, who is also athletic director, will devote full-time to heading the school's sports set-up.

In addition Gustav Gorguze will relinquish varsity baseball to handle other administrative activities as assistant principal of the high school. Also Bill Harding, who was assistant football coach, will drop from this position for personal reasons and take over the junior high basketball program.

Replacing the diminutive Ketterer, 31-year-old "Mike" Hoben, at 6' 5" and 248 pounds, will easily be the biggest coach on Plymouth's staff in recent years. Ketterer, who knew Hoben at the V-12 marine training program at the University of Michigan in 1943, had only good words for the in-coming grid mentor.

"He is a personable and entirely capable individual, with a definite knowledge of the game," said Ketterer last week. "He has overcome many obstacles in order to establish a healthy football program at Cheboygan high school."

After Hoben's graduation from Adrian college, in 1949 when he went to Cheboygan, that school had lost 24 straight games. Since that time Hoben's teams have turned in a commendable record of 22 wins, 16 losses and three ties. Cheboygan is a class "B" school.

An ex-marine captain and a veteran of World War II and Korea, Hoben was one of seven or eight applicants for the job. According to Sandmann, Hoben was very interested in the job when the latter was down here for an interview in February. "We are sure he is looking forward to the job, the school and the town," said Sandmann.

Once situated here at Plymouth, where he has yet to find a home, Hoben will take over as head football coach and also handle the junior varsity basketball program and assist in the spring sports schedule. He was sent, and immediately signed, a contract about three weeks ago.

Ketterer, who last June expressed a wish to be relieved of his grid duties at the end of the 1954 season, gave personal reasons for his decision. Sandmann explained simply that he wanted to be more free in order to handle properly the school's athletic directorship.

Only swimming coach John McFall remains unchanged among the coaching staff. Even track mentor Konrad Moisis, who has headed the thinclads for years, is included in the shuffle. Although he has been fading from the athletic scene since he became an assistant track coach to Keith Baughman a few seasons back, Moisis will disappear entirely with the close of the current season, at which point he will handle only teaching duties.

LAKELAND, Fla.—How does it feel to be a rookie breaking in with a major league ball club? Well, it depends upon the individual. Our new first baseman, the veteran Ferris Fain, for example, did not experience the usual thrill of most young rookies.

After playing in the Pacific Coast League four years and competing against many big league stars on a service team during World War II, he broke in with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1947. Inasmuch as there was no one else to play first base, Ferris knew he had the job cinched from the start, so he did not feel any particular excitement.

Just the opposite is J. W. Porter, the good-looking prospect recently released from service for whom Tiger boss Spike Briggs turned down a $100,000 offer by the White Sox.

Porter, who later was traded by the Sox to St. Louis and then to us, was a $50,000 bonus rookie when he trained with Chicago in 1951. Only 17 and just out of high school, he was thrilled with everything and awed even of the batboy.

A catcher then, Porter thought he might make the team his very first year when he batted .385 in spring training, highest of any White Soxer. But Manager Paul Richards thought, he first should have some seasoning (the bonus rule wasn't in effect then) and sent him down to Waterloo of the Three-I League, the same league 'Ol Diz started in.

Porter's biggest thrill during that first spring was hitting a triple, double and single off Ned Garver, then with the Browns. Now the two players are teammates, of course, and I'm sure Tiger fans will be glad of that fact when they see Porter in our outfield. He's a nice kid, with an even disposition, but he sure is mean with that bat.

Outfielder Kaline
Outfielder Al Kaline, like Porter, is a bonus player but he differs in that when he signed with

Ball Players Overpaid

As General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox sees it, there have always been more overpaid ball players than underpaid players. Commenting on how baseball salaries have soared, Cronin said there is a saturation point. If the players don't learn to modify their demands, he said, the owners will go broke. The Red Sox, he points out, have a tough time. Their park has a capacity of only 34,000. "The way payrolls and expenses have mounted," he said, "we have to fill our ball park every day to make money."

Veteran Pitcher Bob Feller has the word of Cleveland Manager Al Lopez that he'll be a starting pitcher this year. Feller last year had a mark of 13 won and only three lost. He has won 262 games for the Indians, and wants to hit the 275-mark this year.

Lost and Fixed
When Sandy Amoros of the Brooklyn Dodgers arrived at the Vero Beach training camp two days late for spring training, he was fined $100. But not for being late. The fine, was for the story he told. He told Dodger Vice-President Buzzie Bavasi that he got lost driving from Miami to Vero Beach. And that, said Bavasi, is why he was fined. As Fresco Thompson, another Dodger vice-president, put it: "How could he get lost? If he turned right he would be in the Atlantic ocean. If he turned left, he'd be in the swamp."

GREAT TV. FORD THEATRE, WWJ-TV, 9:30 P.M. THURSDAY

It is hard enough to return from a vacation and get back in the harness but it's much tougher if you are trying to battle some kind of a virus infection along with it. However, it is in instances like this when our good readers help lighten our chores by passing on their friendly thoughts about things we have said which they either do or do not agree with.

I refer to the mention I made of Bardstown, Kentucky in one of my earlier vacationing columns. I gave a few of my impressions of this southern city and found awaiting me on my desk at my return a letter from Lawrence P. Money, an employee of the Detroit House of Correction, who sees that community in a much different light than I did. Because I may have done an injustice to this town which he knows so much about I freely provide this space and in my present condition gladly let him fill the rest of this old column with his information.

Mr. Sterling Eaton, Publisher
Plymouth Mail.
Dear Mr. Eaton:

I am a confirmed reader of "Chips from the Rock" and always enjoy the newsy and informal manner in which it is written. I naturally read the column of Jan. 27th. It would seem that you did have a rather unfortunate experience with your motel accommodations while in Bardstown, Kentucky but I couldn't help but feel that you rather underrated the town itself. Could I mention to you some of the things that make up the rather small but very old town?

The Talbott Tavern is located there. It was built in 1769 and of course was then called an inn. It was the first inn built west of the Alleghenies, and since it has been used continually as an inn since then, it is the oldest inn operating in the United States. What was the bar of the old inn is now the coffee shop and the colored waiters who serve you are grandsons and great-grandsons of original servants. During the many years before being changed, the second story of the building was divided into two large rooms. One room for the male guests and one for the female. One reached each of the rooms by climbing a ladder.

From some time in 1889 to the 90's, Prince Louis Philippe, the Dauphin of France, lived in this inn while in exile. While staying there, he and those with him painted large pictures of French scenes in oil on the white plastered walls of their rooms. They are still in excellent condition and well worth seeing. The inn has entertained many persons, long lists of famous persons and infamous as well. Jesse James and several of his men used the inn as a hide-out for some time. When closed in on by United States marshalls a mighty gun battle took place in the inn and in the streets of the town.

Less than a stone's throw from the town is "My Old Kentucky Home." This is a fully restored Southern mansion, a beautiful group of buildings with the ground about it. In it one sees life as it was in the early 1800's. Stephen Foster lived in this home with relatives for many years. It was in this home he wrote "My Old Kentucky Home" and most of his other folk songs.

Daniel Boone lived in Bardstown for a time. It is the home of three governors and many other important political figures. It was the home in early life of John Fitch who built the first steamboat. He is buried there. The first Confederate flag was made and raised in the public square of Bardstown.

In Bardstown is the oldest cathedral west of the Alleghenies. It was built in 1773, the superstructure being made of huge logs. Its walls are literally covered with paintings done by Old World masters. There is also much hand wrought silver from Europe. The paintings and silver were sent as a gift from Prince Louis Phillippe after his return to France and he was made king.

Less than two miles from Bardstown is a Trapist Monastery. One of only two in the United States. It is an order of eternal silence. On entering this monastery the monk takes a vow of eternal silence. He never speaks again. Sign language is used and even the dogs who live at the institution seem to understand it. The buildings on the grounds are very beautiful with many beautiful windows. It is run as a farm with a large acreage. The monks do all the work and they are entirely self sustaining. They raise their food and make their clothes. Arrangements are made to entertain male guests, of any faith. I have been there and eaten with them and it is a very wonderful experience.

Perhaps you have now grown tired of me reciting things about Bardstown, so will come to a close.

Yours very truly,
Lawrence P. Money

With all that historical background no wonder The Kentucky Standard, Bardstown's newspaper, was calling for action among Bardstown's merchants for a tourist facility expansion, in its issue the week we were in town.

Water Supply Bond Issue Needs Your Vote

When Plymouth city and township voters go to the polls next Monday to vote for their favorite candidates, they will find three propositions on the ballot which in themselves should make a trip to the polling place worthwhile. Listed as propositions 1, 2 and 3, they should provide funds to solve Wayne county's water problem for once and for all!

Anyone who has for years been turning on his water tap and always found water coming out would probably claim that we have no water problem here. This person is like the innocent child who thinks milk comes from bottles — unaware that someplace there's a hard-working cow who someday may go dry.

In this vicinity, all water comes from wells. The city's water system has its source in a well field on Beck road. Township householders have their private wells. Unfortunately, ground water cannot be depended upon indefinitely. But happily, there's plenty of water nearby in Lake Erie. Getting that water as far west as Plymouth is a costly project. Fortunately for Plymouth and many other communities of western and southern Wayne county, the entire county would share the cost of this undertaking.

The government of Wayne county does not now own or operate a water plant. All water distributed to the out-county area is purchased from Detroit. Detroit's facilities, however, are being seriously strained and they cannot extend water service to fast-growing areas in the western and southern parts of the county. Wayne county is therefore undertaking the job to fill these gaps. They believe that construction of the water system must be completed by 1965 if the economy of the area is not to suffer.

The Plymouth township board and the city commission are both eager to see these propositions approved. The township expects to get into the water business itself someday and supply populated areas. But they must drill wells and it is realized that no community can grow very much depending upon well water. Although the city commission has not officially asked voters to back the proposal, individual commissioners have expressed their hopes that Propositions 1, 2 and 3 will be approved. The proposals also carry the Chamber of Commerce endorsement.

If the proposals are approved, it would take until the early 1960's to build the water system. It is therefore imperative that the plan be approved NOW. Today there are more than 20 brand-new communities in Wayne county, plus scores of new residential and industrial developments. No one even thinks about building a home or a factory unless they first know that water is available.

By voting for the three proposals, three other badly needed projects will be accomplished. About $10,000,000 would go for a 500-bed general hospital, bakery and laundry at Wayne County General hospital and another $5,000,000 would be used for a new juvenile detention home and an addition to the county jail.

Voters cannot pass up this opportunity to help themselves and their community. The people who furnish Wayne county communities and Detroit residents with water declare that this capital improvement program is a "must" if we want to continue progress. The Mail is therefore recommending that its readers join the ranks of those who will vote "Yes" on County Proposition 1, 2 and 3 next Monday.

State Political Parties Fight to Draw

DEMOCRATS CAME a crop with their latest attempt to torment Republicans in and out of office.

The two-day rhubarb ended in a draw with both sides claiming victory. It happened this way: Treasurer Sanford A. Brown came up with the discovery of $1,000,000 in dormant state bank accounts left in 80 state banks for the use of state agencies in emergencies.

He ordered the accounts re-covered for investment in short term government notes to bear interest for the greater affluence of the Michigan treasury.

Asked why the accounts were left dormant in bank accounts which drew no interest and "cost the state thousands of dollars in interest," Brown said, "You'll have to ask my predecessor."

Brown's predecessor is D. Hale Brake, a Republican, who later was nominated by his party for the non-partisan post of Supreme Court justice.

Brown and Gov. Williams inferred that Brake had left the money in the banks to make their annual reports look prosperous and questioned Republican motives.

Republicans turned the charges into boomerangs.

"We're more than happy that they found the money because we know a number of places it can be used," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

"The money wasn't 'lost' at all. It was there to cover the over-spending of Democratic-controlled state agencies. Brown is turning it back and we're happy about it."

It was "touche", a successful point in a fencing match.

REPUBLICANS ARE BEARING down on their promised investigation of the CIO role in Democratic fund-raising campaigns, too.

With State Chairman John Feikens in attendance, a Republican caucus in the Senate was told that the CIO-PAC had contributed $5,000 to the state Democratic campaign last fall.

In addition, Feikens came up with the disclosure that the UAW-CIO had made two other contributions of $10,000 each and claimed they were from union dues.

Feikens said: "I know that the rank and file of union members is concerned that their money is being used this way. The CIO can contribute but the corporations are barred from doing so by law."

The battle started weeks ago when the Republicans kicked off their spring campaign with charges that the unions were trying to "dominate education and the Michigan Supreme Court."

Feikens displayed union-authored pamphlets showing instructions to local union leaders. They stressed the importance of both fields and urged the locals to get out the Democratic vote.

Republicans charge that the CIO is violating the law. Democrats are retorting that Republicans are getting backing from big business and industry. The GOP caucus did nothing "officially" but toyed again with starting a top-to-bottom investigation. The result is still in doubt.

TOLL ROADS have become a red hot issue among southeastern Michigan cities.

Dearborn started the hassle with the complaint that the proposed $184,000,000 turnpike between Flat Rock and Saginaw would split the city in half.

"We want to develop that area for parks and keep the city intact," said Senator Patrick J. O'Brien, of Dearborn.

We are already worrying about hauling off the large crop from our vegetable garden, the worries stemming from pictures in the seed catalogues.

- READING THE MAIL - Good Driving

The reduction in automobile liability insurance rates, which took place in 39 states a few days ago, was largely because of the safe-driving records of women under 25. Another factor was the high school or college drive-training courses, which have influenced insurance companies to change their rates slightly.

Those who benefit from the lower rates are: Drivers of non-business family cars, with women operators under 25, drivers of non-business cars of married couples with children, where the husband is over 25 and the wife under 25, non-business cars of married couples without children where the wife is under 25, and cars of married couples without children where the husband is under 25.

In explaining the reductions, insurance officials said women drivers under 25 had proven very good risks and, therefore, the lower rates were justified. Officials said that young men should not feel that this is an insult to their ability, since young women usually are not driving cars as often at night, and are more often accompanied by adults when they do drive. The males are just more exposed, and driving more during the night hours, one official said.

Nevertheless, the change in rates is a compliment to the driving abilities of women under 25, and considerable reductions are being made because of this record. The rate reductions range all the way from 32 per cent down to 9 percent and many of them are over 20 per cent. These reductions signify progress in the field of driver-training and the driving abilities of youth.

Real Bull Market Exists in Housing

Babson Park, Massachusetts. While following the Fulbright Committee I wonder why it confines its investigation to the stock market.

HOUSING SPECULATION MORE DANGEROUS

The real bull market of the past two years has been in housing. In 1929 the public could buy stocks on a ten per cent margin; but to buy a house required a thirty per cent margin. Now the reverse is true. The public must put up a sixty per cent margin to buy stocks; but can buy a house on a five per cent margin, or less.

Furthermore, while the Government is discouraging investment in American industries, it is offering all kinds of inducements to get people to borrow in order to buy houses. The program does not make sense. It smells badly of cheap politics. As a result, the next financial panic will be a housing collapse—not a stock market collapse. With it there will be uncovered scandals, corruption, and untold losses;

while Wall Street will come through with a clean slate.

100% MARGINS CRAZY

I feel that the suggestion of Professor John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard College for 100% margins indicates ignorance of business customs and ethics. Today probably 85% of all those employed in industry are working for companies whose securities must be sold through the New York Stock Exchange. This means that, to issue new stock to carry out extension or improvement programs, purchasers of these stocks must be able to borrow thereon both from Stock Exchange firms and from banks.

Requiring a 100% margin in case of war, when materials and manpower must be saved, is a wise procedure. To do so in times of peace, and when the country is facing unemployment, is foolhardy. Unless we are to get into a critical shooting war with China, there is no need for 100% margins. We already have top-heavy stockpiles of both materials and foods. Therefore, I suggest that people again be encouraged to "Buy American Industry" in order to help employment and help up prosperity.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Let us assume there is enough "steam in the boiler" to extend prosperity throughout 1956 and safely re-elect Eisenhower if he chooses to run again. But do not forget that there will be a day of reckoning sometime. Notwithstanding the Administration's success in "nipping in the bud" the 1954 decline, it is very skeptical of any large-scale attempts to hold employment and prices up artificially. Certainly Roosevelt tried everything from "revaluing the dollar" to "raking leaves," and none of those medicines worked.

Only World War II turned the scales and brought back full employment with price recoveries. Perhaps even World War III would not accomplish this again, with fixed prices, heavy taxes on profits, and other controls. Perhaps the Russians would rather avoid war and throw us into a depression. No one now knows. It is, however, certain that some day if we all "go through the wringer," there could be a bad mess for a while. I hope the Fulbright Committee will discuss some constructive phase of the business and employment outlook in its final report. Both Senator Fulbright and his much-advertised investigation will soon be forgotten, as far as the stock market is concerned.

SMELLS OF POLITICS

The entire investigation has smelled of politics from the first. Both parties are surprised at the action of the stock market. The Republicans are blaming it all on the stock market. The Democrats are blaming it all on the Democrats, claiming that it shows what would happen to business if the Democrats were in control.

The Democrats claim that the Republicans have been pushing the market down in order to bring an end to the investigation. I understand that other prominent Democrats blame the market slump on Dulles' speech, which suggested an ultimatum to China. This does not seem reasonable to me in view of the action of the airplane stocks and the rails, which should prosper from further China troubles. My advice to readers is: (1) Don't sell in a panicky market; (2) don't buy more now, at present high prices; (3) work harder at your own regular business and trust President Eisenhower to run the United States.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"You may be familiar with the Maurice Richard hockey brawl in Boston a few weeks back and his suspension for the remainder of the season. There are arguments pro and con about the severity and leniency of this penalty. Assuming that Richard played for the Red Wings instead of Montreal, what would have been your feelings on this subject?"

DAVID TRAVIS, 104 South Holbrook: "I'd say that the penalty was not severe enough. If Kelly or Lindsay had struck a referee they would have been out 10 games or more. Those fines that Richard had been getting didn't mean a thing to him."

JAMES STIMPSON, 592 Garfield: "I would like to know what a Montreal fan's reaction would have been if Richard was a Red Wing and carried on like that. He's been in lots of trouble. I don't think the penalty was severe enough. He should have been suspended until next January 1."

Travis Stimpson McAllister McKinley

ELTON McALLISTER, 14784 Northville road: "I think the penalty was severe enough. He deserved it because he is no better than Lindsay or anyone else. His removal for the remainder of the season is enough penalty."

RICHARD MCKINLEY, 761 Adams: "Richard got what he deserved. He had been pampered long enough. They could have started with him as well as Lindsay."

- Q—Can you give me the origin of the term "Speaker" in the House of Representatives?
A—The word "Speaker" goes back to the 13th century in the House of Commons when one man was literally forced to become a "speaker" on behalf of the common people to the monarch, representing the body before the kings and queens of England.
- Q—Has the Congress done anything about Sec. Benson's decrease of cotton acreage?
A—Yes, the House has passed a bill (H.R. 3952) which would increase cotton acreage by 3 per cent to provide each cotton farm a minimum of five acres, or the largest acreage grown in any one of the past three years. The bill is in the Senate Agriculture Committee.
- Q—What official is next in line to the Attorney General in the Justice Department?
A—He is the solicitor general.
- Q—Does the Secretary of the Treasury have charge of all government monies?
A—No, he does not have charge of any of it. The Treasurer of the United States actually is the custodian of all public monies and is bonded in the sum of $150,000.

"Well Baby" Clinic Slated for Wednesday

The "Well Baby Clinic," sponsored by the Wayne County Health department in cooperation with the Livonia Health Guild, will be held Wednesday, April 6, at the First Federal Savings and Loan association in Sheldon Center, Livonia.

Children taken to the clinic receive a physical examination at regular intervals and shots against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Those who may attend are "well" children whose families cannot financially provide for their routine medical supervision, or those with referrals from private physicians. Age group is from three months to five years.

The clinic is held in the community room of the bank from 1 to 3 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling Garfield 1-3217.

The sponsors stress the importance of the clinics, announcing that the last report from the Detroit Health department indicated the city had 418 cases of whooping cough and two deaths from the disease.

Soroptimists Mark Third Anniversary

The third anniversary of the local Soroptimist club was celebrated Wednesday, March 23, at a dinner meeting in the Mayflower hotel. Attending the event as special visitors were 12 members of the Berkeley Soroptimist club.

Miss Ethel Allen was dinner chairman.

Following the dinner reports were given and a discussion held in the organization's regional convention in Erie, Pennsylvania, scheduled for the last week in April.

Soroptimists will hold their next meeting this Saturday, April 3, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clara Pease, 1445 Penniman avenue. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Frances Stark.

Miss Nancy Brannan was in Ann Arbor, Sunday, March 27, where she participated in the pledging ceremonies at the University of Michigan for a chapter of Sigma Kappa National Sorority. Two Plymouth girls pledged at that time, Jacqueline Landmaid and Helena Plummer. Miss Brannan was charter president at the time the chapter was established at Western Michigan college in Kalamazoo.

Local Teachers Support Proposal

The Plymouth Education association has endorsed Constitutional Proposal No. 3 which will appear on the ballot next Monday. This proposal would permit the state to borrow up to $100,000,000 to be loaned to needy districts for construction of necessary school buildings.

According to Bob Smith, president of the P.E.A., the state would be able to borrow money at a lower rate of interest, thus saving the small school districts a considerable sum. Although this proposal would not affect the Plymouth Township School District, Smith added, local voters cannot afford apathy on the proposal. It is necessary for a school district to levy at least 13 mills for building purposes before state aid is granted.

The P.E.A. president points out three reasons why Proposal 3 should be given support:

- "1. Some of our present school children may someday move from our community and be enrolled in a school district which needs the assistance of Proposal 3."
- "2. Some of our teachers or administrators might leave our local school system and become employed by a school district which could be helped by Proposal 3."
- "3. We should help those distressed school districts which need this aid. We still believe in the Golden Rule."

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry of Roosevelt avenue will be the Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eldrich Porter in Wyandotte.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society are sponsoring a bake sale on Friday, April 1, at Dunning's on Forest avenue, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. LeRoy Jewell returned to her home on West Ann Arbor road last Thursday from a several week's stay in Inglewood, Florida.

Private Patrick Finlan flew home from Camp Carson, Colorado, Monday, to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. David Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry are entertaining at dinner tonight, Thursday, in their home on Roosevelt avenue for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rank. They will celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Wolfe and the wedding anniversary of the Ranks.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet on Wednesday, April 6, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ewald Miller on Hix road.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chute of Garfield avenue attended the Flower Show in Detroit on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce of Northville Road were the Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hobbs in Redford.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby are enroute to California on a month's vacation.

Mrs. Thelma Sherman and daughter, Carol, of Detroit were the weekend guests of Mrs. J. M. Swegles of Ford road.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bullard of Arthur street spent from Saturday until Thursday in Alpena due to the sudden death of Mr. Bullard's father. Burial was in Alpena on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curtner are spending some time in Florida, on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Mrs. Bessie Dunning of Penniman avenue is confined to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor suffering from injuries received when she fell on Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Horen of Maceday lake arrived at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage of Clemons drive, Sunday, after spending the past six weeks vacationing in Florida. They returned to Maceday lake on Monday.

History Class Finds Better Study Habits

The fourth hour American history class has been trying to find a way to review text book chapters so that everyone will understand them better. The class feels that they have finally arrived at a solution to their problem.

One student in the class is assigned to each division of the text book. He is to read up on it and be able to lead a good class discussion. Each person in the class is supposed to have read that far, and have his workbook filled in up to that point.

The student leaders for the week were: Charles Moiso, "Theodore Roosevelt Becomes President," George Losse, "Taft as President," Ronald Bondi, "Woodrow Wilson and World Wars I and II," and Linden Mills, "Legislation under Wilson's Leadership."

Hears Book Review

Members of the Plymouth Corners society, Children of the American Revolution, met Wednesday evening, March 30, at the Sterling Eaton home, 1294 Maple. John Crusoe of Northville reviewed the book, "Sao Canal," by William Ratigan. Plans were also made at the meeting for the C.A.R. state conference to be held this weekend in Grand Rapids.

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the futility of materialism will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Jeremiah (2:5): "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?"

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read: "The perfect Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal mind sends forth its own resemblances, of which the wise man said, 'All is vanity.'" (230:29).

The Golden Text is also from Jeremiah (4:14): "O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?"

Hollywood Convert

Les Barnet of Hollywood, California, will tell the story of his conversion and also give an organ recital in Calvary Baptist church, 496 West Ann Arbor trail, on Tuesday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Barnet used to be on the networks with Ted Malone in the program "Between The Book Ends." He also appeared on the "Double or Nothing" program, coast to coast, and was the musical arranger for Peggy Lee, Frank Sinatra, Judy Garland and Rudy Vallee. He was traveling with Rudy Vallee at the time of his conversion.

Active in a Hollywood Christian group, Barnet at present is traveling in evangelistic work. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Guest Evangelist At Local Church Appeared on TV

"Forty million people saw her on C.B.S. television's 'What's My Line?' See her in person and hear her great gospel preaching," the Reverend E. T. Hadwin, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, has urged in speaking of Miss Leila Dell Miller, guest evangelist for revival services which are beginning this week at the local church.

Starting with last night, opening date of the special services, Miss Miller is preaching each night, with the exception of Saturday, through Easter Sunday, April 10. Revival services begin at 7:30 each evening at the local church, 41550 East Ann Arbor trail.

Miss Leila Dell Miller of Columbus, Georgia, is engaged in full-time evangelistic work in the Church of the Nazarene, which maintains its international headquarters at Kansas City, Missouri.

After graduation from Trevecca Nazarene college, Nashville, Tennessee, Miss Miller spent a number of years in the work of evangelism, where she has had unusual success in revival meetings, youth conferences and summer institute work. She gives religious readings as a feature in her revival work. Her messages have brought open doors across the nation for her gospel ministry.

British Soloist To Give Concert At Detroit Church

Kathleen Joyce, renowned contralto from London, England will present a sacred song recital in the Detroit Metropolitan Seventh-day Adventist church, 15340 Southfield road, on Wednesday, April 6, at 8 p.m., according to an announcement from the Plymouth church.

Miss Joyce has sung several times in contralto solos in the "Messiah," given in Royal Albert hall in London under the direction of Sir Malcolm Sargent. This annual presentation is usually rendered by a choir of 1,000 selected voices, accompanied by a symphony orchestra and the great pipe organ. Over 7,000 crowd in to hear this musical event.

She is also well known for her many appearances on the radio programs of the British Broadcasting company. It was during one of these broadcasts that she was heard by Sir John Barbirolli, who immediately arranged an audition and promptly signed her up to go with him on a tour of England and Ireland with his famous orchestra.

There will be no admission charge for the April 6 recital, which is open to the public. A free-will offering will be taken during the event.

Witnesses Start Special Campaign

A spokesman for Jehovah's witnesses announced plans today for the delivering of a special message to the world by the 14,000 congregations of the denomination throughout the globe.

Mr. C. Harold Coonce, local presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation, said that the special campaign would include a public lecture entitled "Christianism or Christianity-Which One is 'The Light of the World?'" Mr. C. Carson Coonce will deliver the talk locally at the Kingdom hall on Sunday, April 3, at 5:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A new 32-page booklet will be given to each person in attendance. Some 600,000 of Jehovah's witnesses will then begin distribution of millions of copies of this special message in many languages throughout the world.

Coonce said the contents of the pamphlet had not yet been made public, but its message was unique and would be of special interest to persons of all faiths.

"Advance preparation and the world-wide scope of this special campaign give indication that this may well be one of the greatest religious proclamations in modern history," Coonce added.

Catholic Women Hear Superior From Detroit

"False values, too readily accepted for the real value of human life, and the answers that self-appointed experts try to give to the all-important questions: 'Why am I here?'... 'What is life for?'... are the cause of much of the misery and unrest in the world," Father Raphael, Order of Friars Minor, Capuchin, and Superior of St. Bonaventure Friary of Detroit, told a large group of local Catholic women at their Day of Recollection, Sunday.

These women spent six hours in prayer and meditation to usher in the observance of Passion Week in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church.

"The one and only person who can give us expert advice in the business of salvation is Christ," said Father Raphael. "He has the key to the problems of life. He knows the human soul—its littleness and its greatness, its frailty and its strength, its blindness and the immensity of its vision, its wayward earthly whims and the immortal longings of its own true self."

"As a teacher Christ was unique, because He spoke with authority. The Prophets of old had been merely the mouthpieces of God, and usually introduced their teaching with the words: 'Thus saith the Lord.' Not so with this new Teacher. Here was one on whose lips were constantly the words: 'I say to you.' He offered His credentials in His prophecies and His miracles."

Father Raphael concluded, "The plain truth is that the world has left Him who would have been its light, to walk in the darkness of its own-guilty errors. The saints are men and women who look at the supernatural and appreciate its practical implications in the business of living—who are determined in applying its principles. They REALIZE, whereas others only believe."

Mrs. Paul T. Bollinger of Irvin avenue was in charge of arrangements for Father Raphael's appearance here.

Presbyterian Ground-Breaking Slated for Sunday

Official ground-breaking ceremonies for the First Presbyterian Church's $154,000 expansion and improvement program will take place this Sunday at approximately 10:30 a.m. Between 9:30 and 11 o'clock services the congregation will watch Dr. Henry J. Walsh, church pastor, turn the initial spade-full of earth that will result in the addition of badly needed Christian Education rooms to the old building.

The building contract was recently awarded to J. M. Worcester, who has set early October as the dedication date of the addition. The new construction will house 22 new classrooms, a new kitchen and dining room, rehearsal and robing rooms for the choir, an activity room for the scouts, additional storage space and a modern heating plant. Construction will begin immediately. Plans call for the addition to be built to the west side, or rear, of the church between the present building and the manse. It will extend toward Reverend Walsh's home from the church's west side entrance. With regard to the dire need of the addition, figures show that average Sunday attendance has increased from 143 in 1941 to 316 at the present.

Included in the ground-breaking ceremony along with Reverend Walsh are Reverend Tom Keefe and Robert Webber, general chairman. Other chairmen in charge are: Tom Adams, publicity; Richard Daniel, study; Eugene Light, plans and construction; Elvin Taylor, finance; and Meredith Smith, campaign.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS for the First Presbyterian Church's ground-breaking ceremony slated for this Sunday morning are being made by this publicity committee for the event. Pictured left to right are Meredith Smith, Robert Webber, who is chairman of the committee, and Richard Daniel. The ceremony will take place between the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services, with Rev. Henry Walsh turning the first spade-full of earth.

"White Breakfast" Set for Thursday

The Sixth Annual "White Breakfast" to be sponsored by the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church will be held Thursday, April 7, at the local church.

A reverent period in the church sanctuary from 9:30 to 10 a.m. will precede the breakfast. Fred Nelson, organist, will present a program of musical selections. Soloist will be Mrs. Ray Huice.

Principal speaker for the program following the 10 a.m. breakfast will be Mrs. Homer Johnson of Detroit. She will review the book, "Barabbas" by Par Lagerkvist.

An elder of the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian church, the guest speaker is past program chairman of the Detroit Presbyterian. She presently serves as chairman of the World Fellowship committee of the Metropolitan YWCA of Detroit.

Mrs. Roy Jacobus is general chairman for the White Breakfast. Committee members assisting her and activities under their direction are: Mrs. William Ackerman, breakfast; Mrs. William Clarke, dining-room; Mrs. Earl West and Mrs. Eugene Crosby, stage setting; Mrs. John Gaffield, table decorations; Mrs. Lee Coolman, programs; and Mrs. Carvel Bentley, tickets and publicity.

ski and Geraldine Sprywa, sophomores; Rose Radzikiewicz, Genevieve Rys and Adrian Sarniecki, freshmen; will act as ambassadors of Madonna by distributing literature and answering the questions of the students.

Sponsored by the Panhellenic association, the conference will be open to all Catholic and public high school students of metropolitan Detroit. Both private and public colleges and universities were invited to take part in the conference by maintaining exhibit booths during that day.

Baptist Seminarians Give Local Concert

A sacred concert of Easter music featuring the male chorus of Northern Baptist Theological seminary, Chicago, Illinois, will be presented at the First Baptist church on Saturday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m.

The musical group is under the direction of Edward Thompson. As a special feature, selections by the male quartet will be presented during the program.

The Plymouth concert will mark the first stop in the group's spring tour, following which they will be heard by residents of the Eastern states.

American Legion News

In our last column, we failed to mention that two members of the Post received Service pins at our Legion Birthday program. William Langmaid received a 10-year pin while Ray Gardner was the recipient of a five-year pin. Congratulations, fellows!

Communities don't grow, they are made by men. Every city, every town and every hamlet is the product of the men and women who make up its population. The character of any community and the life within its corporate limits are but minor images of the moral fiber, the unselfishness and the civic pride of the people who are its citizens. If your streets are clean and your schools good, if your children romp and play on parks and playgrounds, if the people on the streets are smiling and friendly, if their steps are quick and their eyes bright, it is because they are happy with the things they find around them. Our Community Service and responsibilities may be classified into four areas: Education, health, recreation and safety. Always remember that ours is a cooperative program of service. The American Legion and the Auxiliary are pledged to service to the community, state and nation. The firm foundation and cornerstone upon which its service must be built is unselfish service to our fellow men. Let us all therefore resolve to make a personal contribution to these great objectives. Let's study our community.

Several local members attended the 17th District association meeting on Friday evening, March 25, at Rosedale Park. Mrs. Gladys Hall, department chairman of Pan-American, recommended the reading of the book, "The Chagres" (River of Westward Passage), by John Easter Minton to inform us about Panama and its people. Mrs. Lillian Middlemass, district chairman of Pan-American, gave an interesting and informative talk on Panama. Adah Langmaid gave an informative report on her activities at the recent department executive meeting held in Niles, Michigan. Adah Langmaid, Maxine Kunz, Gwen Holcombe, Marilyn Moore and Fern Burleson attended the district meeting.

William Langmaid attended the Annual Department Spring conference in Traverse City on Saturday, March 26, and Sunday March 27.

The Rummage Sale will be in the basement of the Memorial Home from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, April 1, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, April 2. You are asked to use the side door. Anyone may bring their donations of articles and those that cannot, contact Mrs. Gwen Holcombe at 1367-M and she will pick up your articles.

All are reminded that for those special occasion cards and Easter cards, all you have to do is call Gwen Holcombe. At the same time, place your order for a couple bottles of all-purpose cleaning fluid, Stanley Products are still available by calling Melva Gardner. Remember that these are fund-raising projects of the Auxiliary.

Our joint social meeting for April will be in the form of a card party to be held at the Veterans Memorial home at 8 p.m. Saturday evening, April 23. The general public is welcome. There will be prizes, etc. Proceeds go to a fund for all community projects.

Over 90 Korean Veterans applied for and received aid in the filling out of their applications for the State Bonus, Legionnaires were on hand Saturday and Sunday at the Memorial Home for this purpose. A great big thanks to those who gave generously of their time for these Vets.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gutowski have a new son, Joseph Thomas, born in Detroit on January 31. I'm a little late with the congratulations.

Mrs. Forest Randall entertained her Book club in her home on Thursday, March 25, at a luncheon. Mrs. Onalee Koeneig was her co-hostess. The women that attended were Phyllis Anschuetz, Eleanor Curle, Hazel Pickles, Ruth Taylor, Mary McCarthy, Ellie Button, Leona Leece, Virginia Byrd, Midge Jacobs, Ann Boorman, Marie Nabrezny, Peg Miquelon, May Blankenhagen, Carolyn Campbell and Marie Heifner. Ruth Taylor led the book review entitled "View from Pompey's Head." Everyone enjoyed the wonderful Lemon Chiffon dessert prepared by Onalee Koeneig, and admired the Easter Egg Tree centerpiece on the table. Of course, all Coretta Randall's neighbors are not surprised at either her cakes or her centerpieces. She has a real talent when it comes to decorating a cake or table.

Plans for the teen-age dance, "The Platter Hop," sponsored by St. Michael's Altar society to be given April 15 in St. Michael's Hall from 8 to 11 p.m. are rapidly being formulated.

Winnie Esper is chairman of the affair and will be assisted by Betty Talbot, Jean Biddinger and Marion Bourgon in charge of tickets; Elaine Reef handling refreshments and Dorothy Drnek taking care of decorations.

The dance is for teen-agers only, but will be chaperoned and will end at 11 p.m. promptly.

Robin Seymour of "Bobbin with Robin" fame will spin the records.

A small admission will be charged.

Tickets can be obtained by calling Betty Talbot, writer of this column, Jean Biddinger or Marion Bourgon.

On Wednesday evening, March 24, the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Spring Fashion show took place in the church hall with the Sheldon Department store in the Sheldon Shopping center, supplying the clothes.

The biggest hand of the evening went to Pamela Hines and David Olson. Pamela wore a print chintz dress and David wore charcoal pants, pink jacket, and pink bow tie. These two models are only three years old but as you can see they are fashion conscious.

The other children that modeled and did a terrific job were Lucy Ormond (5 years), Judy Rotch (7 years), Suzy Snagor (10 years), Gregg Curtner (10 years), Tony Jackman (subteen) and Patty Allworth wore the teen-agers clothes.

The senior models were Delores Hall, Millie Hancock, Pat Hanton, Lois Amend, Dorothy Day, Wilma Hake, Joyce Pierce, Jean Berry and Vernice Fleak. Naturally when a fashion show is presented to a group of young mothers there has to be one brave soul that will model the current expectant mothers clothes. In this case Marilyn Thorn made a gracious and attractive model.

A good deal of credit for the success of the affair goes to the co-chairmen, Mrs. Gordon Olson and Mrs. Kenneth Rotch.

During the intermission the Lovett School of Dance entertained with three numbers. After the show everyone visited with their neighbors over a cup of tea or coffee and cookies.

The Greater the need for High Octane

The Greater the need for TCP

Today's engines deliver more power than ever before—and with greater economy, too!

They're high compression engines. They're built to squeeze more power out of every drop of the high octane gasolines they require.

But high octane alone will not keep these engines delivering their full power. They must be protected against the harmful effects of deposits that build up in combustion chambers.

The reason is this:

When your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time . . . before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Square Dancing Instructions Busy Hobby Of Plymouth Couple, Betty and Bob Carson

"Honor your corner ladies
Honor your partners all
Swing your corner lady
And you promenaded the hall."

The familiar qualities of this square dance rhyme could well shape the pass-word into the home and lives of Betty and Bob Carson of 141 South Main street. This local couple not only likes to square dance, but they also teach the fundamentals and do dance calling to boot.

Betty and Bob have been interested in square dancing for at least ten years, but only in the past three have they become avid fans of the art of teaching and calling. In actuality only Bob does the calling while Betty combines with her husband to instruct, although she hopes to learn how to call eventually.

About three years ago the Plymouth couple was always being asked by their friends where other couples could learn to square dance. It was these queries that prompted the Carsons to set up square dance house-keeping. The pair besides being extremely fine square dancers are also good round dancers. In fact they once won a prize for being the best waltzers at a contest in Northville.

As they thought more about teaching square dancing, Bob studied calling out of books from the library and other pamphlets, while Betty boned up on the fundamentals of the dance. Soon they were taking couples into their basement, which had been rigged with the necessary equipment, and were teaching and calling.

They teach a combination of old-fashioned square dance with a liberal sprinkling of western dancing. The latter differs from the old-fashioned in that everyone is dancing all the time while in the old-fashioned style three couples stand and clap as the fourth couple dances.

In addition the Carsons teach waltzing, two-step and polka fundamentals to offer a varied arrangement of dance instruction. Never too proficient to keep on learning themselves, the couple are presently taking dancing lessons in Detroit. They are also members of the Michigan Square Dance Leaders Association.

The idea of teaching square dancing was started by the pair with only the immediate locality in mind, but since then people from all over the area are becoming guests of the couple. Included are couples from Livonia, Detroit and Northville, with the last group as the mainstay of the program. Said Mrs. Carson, "We hope by next year to have encouraged many more people to attend so that eventually we will be using the Plymouth high school gym for classes."

According to the couple, the local recreation department, with Director Herb Woolweaver, has put its stamp of approval on the schedule of teaching and dancing. In fact this past year the recreation slate listed the Carsons as instructors of square dancing for the adult education program. The Carsons explained how wonderful the co-operation from the recreation department really was.

Aside from the instruction dances that they hold in their basement, the pair also presents one big dance twice a month in the Bird school gymnasium. At this dance many of the couples that the Carsons taught recently attend and the program consists of square dances along with some round dancing.

The weekly program for the couple is filled by ten or twelve hours work preparing classes and arranging the schedule for the big dance at the Bird school. Bob also has to take additional time to set up his out-lay of equipment at the school. His material covers everything from a tape-recorder, with which he hopes to improve his calling voice, to a collection of at least 150 records. He also has a microphone and amplifier, four speakers and a turn-table.

Mrs. Carson's role in the set-up aside from being a co-instructor, is making the contacts and being the friendly hostess at the classes and at the Bird school dance. The season starts for the couple about October and lasts until May, with the summer open for the pair to relax. But usually they attend square dance workshops at either Interlochen Music Camp or at Elk Lake, Wisconsin. At both these places the couple works harder than at home, for the dance instruction there is much more rigorous and intense, lasting nine hours a day.

BETTY CARSON gets right into the swing of the square dance with one of the Plymouth couples students, while her husband (left) calls out the dance. The pair became interested in teaching square dancing three years ago when they were continually asked where other couples could learn to square dance. Bob had never called before he started on his teaching hobby and his wife, was just as much in the dark with regard to teaching the fundamentals.

THE FINISHED PRODUCT is a smooth square-dancing set at the Bird school gymnasium bi-monthly swing. The couple conducts private lessons in the basement of their home at 141 South Main, but twice a month a big dance is scheduled and held for all the recent students.

Financing of their teaching program is handled through any money earned from the Bird school dances and the whole set-up is non-profit with Betty and Bob supplying any difference in expenses. Mr. Carson is employed as an assistant plant engineer in Detroit at the Houdaille-Hershey Corporation.

As to personal return from their teaching, Betty summed it up nicely when she explained that their benefits in friendships gained are tremendous. "We meet lots of nice people," she said. "They are all so sincere." And that last word also describes the Carsons very well.

She continued to explain, "Square dance people are happy people, and of course everyone enjoys dancing with everyone else. You can forget all your worries in a square-dance set because you are a portion of a tiny cooperative world all your own."

BOB CARSON selects just the proper dance record from his collection of over 150 different picks. The rest of his equipment includes a tape-recorder, speakers, amplifiers, turn-table and a microphone.

Official Proceedings of the Plymouth City Commission

Monday, March 7, 1955

A regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Monday, March 7, 1955 at 7:30 p.m.

PRESENT: Comms. Bauer, Guenther, Hammond, Henry, Sincok, Terry and Mayor Daane.

ABSENT: None.

Moved by Comm. Sincok and supported by Comm. Hammond that the minutes of the regular meeting of February 21, 1955 be approved as read.

Carried unanimously. Mr. Roy Pursell presented objections to the proposed "No Sunday Sales" ordinance.

Mr. Norman Marquis, Supervisor for the City of Plymouth, presented his report for the month of February, 1955.

The Clerk read a letter from the Plymouth Wholesale Company requesting a street light to be installed at the intersection of Sheldon Road and Goldsmith Street, not yet extended. The matter was referred to the City Manager for study and recommendation for inclusion in the next budget.

The Clerk presented a recommendation from Waring and Johnson relative to an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance. The matter was referred to the Planning Commission for their study and recommendation.

The Clerk presented a communication from Mrs. John Wahn thanking the city on behalf of her son for replacing the tape recorder he had loaned to the city. The communication was accepted and placed on file.

Moved by Comm. Terry and supported by Comm. Sincok that the resolution passed at the meeting of February 21, 1955 relative to the Clover Television Service be rescinded.

Carried unanimously. The following resolution was offered by Comm. Guenther and supported by Comm. Terry:

WHEREAS the Clover Television Service has requested permission to install certain anchor posts and guy wires in order to insure stability of a 100 foot mast atop a building at 173 W. Liberty Street, Plymouth, Michigan, now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Clover Television Service is hereby granted a license, terminable at the will of the city, to install a guy post of 10 inch I-beam construction and guy wire near the northwest corner of Starkweather and Liberty Street intersection, between the sidewalk and curb, such post to be approximately 15 feet above ground and at least 5 feet below ground, and to extend a guy wire across the intersection of Starkweather and Liberty Street, such guy wire to be not less than 16 feet above the curb at the intersection of Starkweather and Liberty Street; and to install a guy post of 10 inch I-beam construction and guy wire on the south side of the alley, 51 feet east of Starkweather Avenue, behind 181 W. Liberty Street, such post to be approximately 16 feet above ground and at least 5 feet below ground and to extend a guy wire across the alley, such guy wire to be not less than 16 feet above the ground on the south side of the alley; and to extend a guy wire across Liberty Street, such guy wire to be not less than seventeen feet above the sidewalk on the north side of W. Liberty Street, the said installations to be subject to the approval of the building inspector and fire chief; and, further, in the event the city shall at any time require said installation to be moved or removed, same shall be done at the expense of the licensee.

Carried unanimously. The City Manager presented a resolution passed by the Livonia City Council relative to requesting for a state wide interim census be taken. The resolution was accepted and placed on file and the matter be referred to the City Attorney and City Manager for recommendation.

The City Manager presented a request from the Presbyterian Church that the city execute a deed for the property acquired from the city in 1937. No deed is recorded or can be found. The matter was referred to the City Manager for further investigation, to be placed on the agenda at the next meeting.

The City Manager presented a report of McNamee, Porter and Seeley relative to the extending of water service to the proposed new school to be built on Sheldon Road, south of Joy Road.

Moved by Comm. Henry and supported by Comm. Terry that the extension of the water main from the end of the line on Sheldon Road south to the school property, be granted, said line to be at the expense of the school and turned over to the city upon completion.

Carried unanimously. The City Manager presented a bid from Mr. Richard F. Dolan, 2390 Stieber, Wayne, Michigan for Lots 112 and 113, Puritan Holm Addition, in the amount of $806.00.

Moved by Comm. Terry and supported by Comm. Hammond that the bid of Mr. Richard F.

Dolan, 2390 Stieber, Wayne, Michigan in the amount of $806.00 for Lots 112 and 113, Puritan Holm Addition, be accepted and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute the proper land contract agreement for the property.

Carried unanimously. Mr. Max Trucks presented his objections to the proposed "No Sunday Sales" Ordinance.

The Clerk read the proposed "No Sunday Sales" Ordinance. Moved by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Hammond that the proposed "No Sunday Sales" Ordinance be passed its second reading.

Carried unanimously. The Clerk read Ordinance No. 192, No. Sunday Sales Ordinance, by title only.

Moved by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Hammond that Ordinance No. 192, No. Sunday Sales Ordinance, be passed its third and final reading, by title only, to become operative and effective on March 29, 1955.

Carried unanimously. The City Manager presented the Ninth Annual Actuarial Valuation report from the Municipal Retirement System. The report was accepted and placed on file.

Moved by Comm. Henry and supported by Comm. Bauer that the meeting be adjourned.

Carried unanimously. Time of adjournment was 9:50 p.m.

Editors note: The following mimeographed material was distributed to residents of Plymouth Township last weekend. It was reported to The Mail by some township residents that the material had been presented in this manner because we at The Mail would not present the facts as they are herein printed.

This came to us as somewhat of a surprise. For the past few weeks we have urged supervisor Roy Lindsay to give us any material he wished printed in line with the township study groups. We have asked when the meetings were to be held so we could attend and disseminate for our readers the progress this committee has been making. IT IS OUR INTENT TO PRESENT TO OUR READERS ALL OF THE FACTS CONCERNING THE TOWNSHIP STUDY GROUPS.

Since this material was only placed in the hands of township residents we hereby print it as it was prepared by Supervisor Lindsay for not only township but city residents as well to read. All interested parties might keep in mind our position in the future and spare themselves and the taxpayers extra expense and work in preparing and distributing such material if they will place it in our hands for free publication.

The following represents a frank and honest evaluation by the Township officials of proposals presented by the City of Plymouth regarding annexation.

The City claims that one of the major problems to be recognized is the need for municipal services outside of the boundaries of the City. Municipal services in the TOWNSHIP are being studied and taken care of by the TOWNSHIP itself. The firm of Waring & Johnson, Planning Consultants, has been hired, and are now in the process of making a study of our community. If the City of Plymouth was sincere in its statements to provide services, it would produce engineering facts and figures to prove what can be done, not just provide lip service.

Also, it must be remembered that the present assessed valuation of the TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH is $25,174,000, due to its heavy industry, while the City of Plymouth is just $14,894,890. Look carefully at these two figures and you will realize that the TOWNSHIP is in a far better position financially to take care of its own problems.

The yearly tax rate for the City of Plymouth is $43.50 per thousand of assessed valuation. The tax rate for the TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH is $30.00 per thousand of assessed valuation.

In 1953, the total employment of the City of Plymouth was 1081 people. The employment in the TOWNSHIP was 7370 people, due to its heavy industry. Look carefully at these two figures and draw your own conclusion.

The City claims that if annexation took place, the community would not be hampered by drainage laws intended primarily for a rural community. But the facts are that the south one-third of the City of Plymouth has no sewers at the present time; although the City of Plymouth has been incorporated as a City since 1932. The City also claims that it is going to be very difficult for the Township to get sewers. But the facts are that the City will not get sewers before the TOWNSHIP because the transmission lines from the County Drain Commission must cross the Township prior to reaching the City of Plymouth.

The City of Plymouth has not been able to make improvements for itself. There is a lot of talk regarding improvements. But the answer is always the same, it cannot be done unless the TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH is taken over. When the City contemplates any expenditures, the immediate thought is, we must take over the Township in order to be fair to everyone.

The City of Plymouth's spokesmen keep repeating, in support of annexation, the success of the consolidated Township and City of Plymouth school districts. But the facts are as follows:

Using a little mathematical ability, one can easily figure the biggest reason why this consolidation has been so successful. Compilation of the school levy for the past 10 years for the two municipalities, shows the total school taxes paid by the City of Plymouth is $1,631,350.77. But the TOWNSHIP has paid $2,343,333.67. Figure this out for yourself.

The city is talking about a new well which they are supposed to have, capable of answering all water problems. But outside the city limits, where city water lines run across the frontage of property, which transmission lines have been put in by private contractors, and paid for by the City of Plymouth, and freed over to the City of Plymouth, and of charge, plus these same areas paying a double rate for the water supply, people in these areas have been refused a tap-in on these lines. It was a free gift to the city, and a double rate for the water is paid; but these people receive the following answer: We haven't the water to give you. (Even though the water department of any municipality is the only department that pays, and it pays well).

Out of one corner of their mouths, for the press, it is stated, there is a new well, with this well we are going to have an unlimited supply of water. But no one has made an engineering study, there are no figures to prove what the well can produce. There are no figures to prove how many families can be supplied.

There is no possibility of the City of Plymouth giving any municipal services outside of its own limits. The City of Plymouth does not have sufficient sewers for itself and there is not sufficient water for any tap-ins.

The City speaks of street lights, police protection, garbage and rubbish pick-up services. These services are paid for by the individual taxpayer regardless of whether it is a TOWNSHIP or an incorporated city.

We have no police problem. The Wayne County Sheriff's Department is the Township's police force, and it gives excellent service. A policeman riding up and down your street, now and then, doesn't eliminate law violations.

The streets of the City of Plymouth are deplorable. Possibly as a temporary face-saving device, a street will be sprinkled with a little top dressing, which may last for two years or less. But the only good streets are ones maintained by Wayne County Road Commission. In case of annexation the City would take over all TOWNSHIP roads and what a hopeless position the TOWNSHIP would be in if that happened.

Garbage and rubbish disposal in more populated areas is picked up in the TOWNSHIP by private contractors, and is paid for by each individual. This service would have to be paid for regardless of any consolidation or annexation.

The TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH has one of the best TOWNSHIP FIRE DEPARTMENTS in Wayne County and one of the best equipped. We are proud of their maintaining a low fire loss, year after year.

The TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH is in an excellent bonding position. It is free of indebtedness with the exception of the park-interceptor sewer.

The city claims that fire insurance rates would be reduced by consolidation. Consolidation with the City has nothing to do with reducing fire insurance rates whatsoever. Insurance rates will be reduced only through the Michigan Inspection Bureau which would require fire hydrants not more than 1000 feet apart and fire stations not over a 3 mile distance apart. So how in the world does the City get the idea that they can reduce fire rates by consolidation.

There has never been in the City of Plymouth any major civic activity promotion without it crying to the Township for help. The City of Plymouth keeps talking about this is not a one-sided affair. It is for the benefit of all the people. But you must consider these remarks carefully. The City claims that annexation would eliminate jealousy and antagonism, which it probably would, because the City is jealous of the excellent conditions in the TOWNSHIP.

The city claims annexation would make for a more efficient and economical form of government. THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH operates on one mill, which amounts to $25,000 per year. The cost of operation for the City is many times that amount. This knocks into a cocked hat the more efficient and economical form of government story.

The beating of the drums of the City Fathers, so to speak, to liberate the TOWNSHIP people, it is the only way they can get to civilization. But it is just another way of saying, WE WANT YOUR MONEY. It will be easier for us to get along if we have it, but the TOWNSHIP WILL remain a it.

The City cannot do what it says it can do. Refer to an article in the Plymouth Mail dated January 27, 1955. They admitted taxes will be higher. The headline read: City Manager answers question-by medical men as ways of treating dysentery without harmful effects.

WHY ARE SO MANY STREETS UNPAVED IN PLYMOUTH? Why does Plymouth have such punk streets? It is all answered in this article-LACK OF MONEY.

It is your tax dollar in the TOWNSHIP that the City of Plymouth management is seeking. It is badly needed. They cannot do in the City of Plymouth today what they want to do, because of the lack of tax base to levy against to support a higher budget. They fondly hope to obtain this by their planned Township annexation grab. DON'T LET THEM GET AWAY WITH IT!

Larro Dairy Quiz
Question: Nipple pail or regular pail:
which is better for calf feeding?

Answer: Contrary to popular belief, research shows no advantages to the calf from nipple pail feeding—and the open pail saves labor. Either way, however, you'll get better calves with Larro's new SureRaise-Sure-Calf plan.

Question: Why does Larro's new SureRaise pre-starter help prevent scours?

Answer: It supplies two calf-saving ingredients: Aureomycin and Pectin. These scourge fighters are recognized by medical men as ways of treating dysentery without harmful effects.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

A reminder once more of our annual election of new officers will take place at our next regular business meeting on Tuesday, April 5! Be thinking of the girls you think would qualify for our various important offices, for it is by your vote our auxiliary exists each year. We would like a full attendance on that meeting date!

The work of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars took on new significance with the first showing of the Auxiliary's own documentary film, "TO HELP THE LIVING", at the mid-year conference "Night of Stars" program in Washington, D.C. It is a 29-minute film concerning all 385,000 members and the typical activities performed by these women. It shows our members at work voluntarily in a multitude of different tasks to strive to improve and strengthen our communities and to make them a better place for the people who live there. Watch this column for a date when the film will be presented locally on television and in our own Post hall!

President Marie Norman has set April 18 as the tentative date for all committee chairmen to meet and fill out their report blanks for the past year. Let's have our reports ready so we can earn as many points as possible for our auxiliary.

Rummage sale date again is April 22 and 23. Contact Geraldine Olson for any further details. Tell all your friends and family about our sale. The doors will be open at 8 a.m. on both days. We could still use more help for those two days! This is our last function under the old officers command so let's try and make it the best!

Americanism Chairman DeLores Olsvater reports that the Essay contest is well underway, and that the judges will announce the winners as soon as they are chosen!

Historical Society

Votes to Incorporate At a recent meeting of the Plymouth Historical Society the members of the organization voted to incorporate.

Incorporation gives the Society certain advantages and benefits. By such action it is possible for the Society to acquire real estate and to receive bequests under the terms of a will. It also gives the Society continuity and simplifies the acquisition and encourages the presentation of gifts and donations.

At the meeting Mrs. Ada Murray read a paper prepared by Mrs. Paul Ware on the store which A. J. Lapham operated for many years on Holbrook street. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler were welcomed as new members. Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, Mrs. B. E. Giles, Mrs. Austin Pino and Mrs. Hattie White.

Connecticut Firm Names Harold J. Curtis to Club

The Connecticut General Life Insurance company of Hartford, Connecticut announced this week that Harold J. Curtis, 1134 South Harvey, has been awarded membership for 1955 in the President's club of the organization.

Club membership is limited to only a few selected from the company's entire field organization who have established outstanding records in production of business and in quality of service to clients.

Many people will pay social security taxes on a larger part of their earnings in 1955. The maximum is now $4200 per year.

People believe gossip readily if they want to believe it in the first place.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Postponement to May 2 of circuit court action on a ban against nonresident ice fishermen was announced this week by the conservation department.

Scheduled for trial on March 18 in Cass county, the case was held over pending outcome of a hearing on the issue in Lansing, March 22, before the commission on interstate cooperation. Members of the commission include senators, representatives and elective state officials.

The case involves the arrest, January 17, of W. G. Cuppy, Elkhart, Indiana, for fishing through the ice in Cass county. State law prohibits nonresident fishing in Branch, Berrien, Cass, Hillsdale, St. Joseph and Van Buren counties from January 1 to the opening of trout season.

Cuppy appealed a justice court conviction to the circuit court on grounds that the law is unconstitutional.

Michigan's 1955 forest fire season is under way. Three fires, two near Baldwin and the other near Gladwin, were reported by the conservation department for the week ending March 13. Less than three acres were burned.

In 1954, when a new record in forest fire protection was set in Michigan, the season opened during the week ending March 21 with 10 fires and 90 acres burned. By the end of the year 1,010 fires had been reported but damage covered only 3,884 acres. By the end of the year 1,010 fires had been reported but damage covered only 3,884 acres. By comparison, Michigan's forest fires in 1908 burned 2,300,000 acres.

Conservation department workers banded about 1000 ducks at Pointe Mouillee marshes on Lake Erie this winter.

The birds were mostly canvasbacks and scaup. Some black ducks, mallard and redheads were included.

Save America's Wetlands. This was the theme of National Wildlife Week, March 20-26.

Across the nation, conservationists are pointing out the need to preserve the wetlands we have and promote development of new marsh areas we don't have. Once upon a time, America had 120 million acres of wetlands. In earlier times it was necessary to drain marshes and swamps. Today, we have 30 million acres.

Civilization, however, is finding that draining off the nation's water involves a vicious backlash. Quite apart from the loss of waterfowl and furbearers is the steady drop in the country's water table. Cities are having to reach out farther and deeper for water as industrial and domestic uses increase.

What wetlands are left tie water to the land and help fight this problem, but grave consequences could develop if drainage increases.

National Wildlife Week is sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation. Sportsmen, Boy Scouts, conservation groups and other organizations have all pledged support in focusing the nation's attention on the wetlands problem during the coming dedicated week.

Spring is a happy—but dangerous—time for wildlife.

Everything is waking up. Food is growing, birds and mammals are on the move, wildlife youngsters are being introduced to their world.

Unfortunately, much of the first food game finds after the winter pinch is near roads. Sunlight spurs plant growth along openrights-of-way and for those that eat foliage, this is a lush cafeteria. Also, skunks, coons, possums and other small folk like to poke along gutters looking for grub.

Give these little guys a break. They don't understand the machine age. Most of them are dumb animals.

Beaver and otter trapping seasons opened in the Lower Peninsula on March 20 in 55 counties and on March 27 in the remaining 13 counties. The latter opening includes the northeastern section of the peninsula.

Opening day for trapping beaver and otter in the central and eastern part of the Upper Peninsula is April 1 and for the west end, April 6.

Laws and regulations pertaining to the seasons are available from district and regional offices of the conservation department throughout the state and from the Lansing office.

During the past two years there have been evidences of tularemia in Michigan beaver. Studies of the disease are being made by department pathologists. To aid in this work, trappers are asked to report dead beaver to conservation officers or field offices.

The thorny Orchard Lake motorboat ordinance may lose some of its hooks in the near future.

In a spirit of cooperation, municipal leaders from the town of Orchard Lake have agreed to try and find a compromise to the problem.

The ordinance orders that all motorboats used on Orchard Lake must be licensed.

The ruling conflicts with state law.

Gerald E. Eddy, conservation department director, says a recent conference with Orchard Lake officials indicates the problem may be nearing solution.

Iron ore exploration and mining lease rights in Delta county will be offered at public auction April 5 by the conservation department. The sale involves 4,052 acres and will be held in the third floor conference room of the Stevens T. Mason building, Lansing.

The first permit to shoot deer causing damage in the strawberry-growing country southwest of Alpena was issued late last week.

About 100 deer were reported feeding on sprouts in an alfalfa field in southwestern Alpena county.

The damage complaint sounds to conservation department officials like new trouble in an area that suffered from deer shootings and damage complaints last year. Landowners killed at least 230

A LETTER OF ENDORSEMENT

As a group of local citizens personally acquainted with each of the candidates running for city commission, we should like to endorse the men who we feel best qualify for the important decisions facing our growing city.

Harry Roberts, Robert Sincock, Marvin Terry and A. E. Vallier, we believe possess the ability, experience and community devotion necessary to best serve Plymouth. Each of these candidates has proven his capabilities either through previous civic undertakings or in the execution of his vocation.

It should be understood that these candidates are running for office independently and that our endorsement of them as a "team" does not in any way imply that one is connected with, or obligated to, the other. They are merely the choices of our citizens' committee as BEST QUALIFIED TO SERVE AS CITY COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH.
