

Swap Mayors With Hazel Park Monday

Democrat Zigmund Naparko will become Plymouth's mayor next Monday—but just for the day.

Naparko, mayor of Hazel Park, will serve as Plymouth's mayor while Mayor Russell Daane becomes the chief executive of Hazel Park. It's all a part of Exchange of Mayor's day and one of the major attractions of Michigan Week.

While Mayor Daane tours the famous racing town of Hazel Park, Mayor and Mrs. Naparko are to arrive at Plymouth city hall at 10 a.m. Monday and be greeted by city commissioners and the city manager. The visiting mayor will then be given a tour of city hall and other city and municipal buildings.

At 12:15 p.m., businessmen and city officials will have a luncheon with Mayor Naparko. Chamber of Commerce President J. M. Robinson will be toastmaster.

The afternoon itinerary will include a tour of Daisy Manufacturing at 2 p.m.; tour of Anchor Coupling at 2:50; tour of Dunn Steel at 3:30; and a tour of Harvey Container at 4:25.

A 6:30 dinner at the Mayflower hotel will be held with commissioners, their wives, department heads and other guests present. Continued on Page 6

MICHIGAN WEEK starts Sunday and banners proclaiming "I'm glad I live in Michigan" are being distributed by the Kiwanis club to remind citizens of the event. Harry Larsen, second from right, is general chairman of the event. The others, from left, are Kiwanians Ralph Fluckey, James Houk and Robert Barbour.

City Aids Annexation Petition To Slow Incorporation Plan

Select Name Of Charleston For Township

In an attempt to still forestall any city desires to make "piecemeal grabs" or annex the entire township, a group of township citizens met Tuesday night to move ahead with plans to petition for a city of their own — a city they will call "Charleston."

A committee of six appointed the week before reported to Tuesday night's gathering that boundaries of the proposed city would be Five Mile, Eckles, Joy and Beck roads. This would completely surround the city of Plymouth.

This was the third meeting at which citizens of the township met to discuss an incorporation. Although a city petition to annex the entire township was filed with the board of supervisors late Monday afternoon, the township group seemed in no hurry to get their incorporation petition into the hopper. It was learned from S. B. Chadman, clerk of the supervisors' committee, that the petitions are not necessarily considered in the order of filing.

Petitions asking for incorporation of the township probably will not be circulated until next week, according to John S. Welsher, chairman of Tuesday night's meeting. Preparation of the petitions will take the remainder of this week.

A number of names for the proposed city were discussed. Selection of a name is one of the preliminary legal steps. Charleston was selected in honor of the late Charles H. Rathburn, who served as township supervisor from 1927 until his death in 1953. Roy Lind-Continued on Page 6

Wife's Words Fly, So Does Husband

Many a man has found himself "out on a limb" with his wife—but nowhere in local history has a man been known to get himself up a pole.

Just the same, police sped to Starkweather and Farmer street at 9:56 p.m. Sunday to investigate a report that a man had climbed up a pole and had no intention of coming down until police rescued him. From his high perch, the man explained that he was merely trying to escape from his wife who was sitting in a car at the foot of the pole (reportedly holding a wrench).

Police said that the Walled Lake couple had been visiting friends here. On their way home, an argument took place. With the wrath of his spouse becoming overpowering, hubby jumped from the car and climbed the pole.

At the request of police, he descended from the pole and the couple drove away — chalking up another defeat for the male of the species in the eternal battle of the sexes.

Daane Tells Study Group To Revise Plan of Action

Twenty-two of the 32 members of the Plymouth Community Study committee met Tuesday evening at Bird Elementary school to determine their function in the light of these rapid-fire developments of the past week:

1. Western Electric's announcement of a proposed plant on the Sheldon road Cassidy farm contingent upon annexation of the farm into the city;

2. A request by Roderick Cassidy to annex his property into the city;

3. A petition, circulated by township residents but officially endorsed and aided by the city, to annex all of the township (this petition excluded the Cassidy property to avoid a conflict with that petition);

4. A third petition filed by the city calling for a census to be taken of the city and township.

After opening the meeting with a reference to the changing picture that has "made it apparent that our study is most timely," Committee Chairman Carl Caplin called upon Mayor Russell M. Daane to bring the group up to date on developments. Mayor Daane complied with two lengthy reports, one six pages in duration dealing with recent city-township actions, and the second an eight-page answer to the township's statement as published in the March 31 edition of The Mail.

Stating that he would call "a spade a spade," Daane denied that the city had any part in the decision of Western Electric to request annexation of the Cassidy property into the city. He added that after the township made its decision to proceed with a plan to incorporate and become a separate city, a group of township residents sought city of Plymouth permission to circulate a petition for entire township consolidation with Plymouth. Their request for assistance was agreed to by city fathers "after careful consideration of the problem," said Daane.

In his statement Daane added that the Cassidy petition was filed with the Wayne County Board of Supervisors Friday afternoon, May 6. The other petitions were filed Monday afternoon, May 9. "The filing of the petition for consolidation of the entire township was considered necessary to preserve for the city the right to grow and expand. It preserves for the people of the city and the people of the township the right to vote on these propositions at the proper time," Daane said.

Concluding his first report, Daane pointed out the expense and procedure which would confront the township in its march to become a city. Touching upon such necessities as election of a charter commission, employment of a consultant, election for adoption of charter, Daane dwelled at some length on the costliness of duplicating city of Plymouth facilities. He also pointed out that because of census requirements, only a portion of the township could be incorporated into a city and that approximately six square miles would remain under a township form of government.

"The program announced by the township officials appears to be hasty, unnecessary, obstructive, uncooperative, inefficient and expensive. It does not appear to be to the best interest of all of the approximately 13,700 people now residing in the area," he ended.

In his rebuttal to the township statement comparing city-township conditions Daane compared the difference in tax rates with the additional services provided by the city. "For their tax dollar the township residents receive no

Annexation to Plymouth Schools Asked by Lapham

Local school board members received a request Monday night to annex the Lapham School District of Salem township to the Plymouth Township School system.

This is the third annexation request received from neighboring school districts. The other two, Tuedell and Canton Center districts in Canton township, voted several weeks ago to become a part of the Plymouth districts.

A decision to study the request was made after meeting with Lapham board members and three other citizens. Lapham school, located on North Territorial road, has but one room and will have about 42 pupils in grades one through eight next year. High school students now attend Plymouth high school.

The Lapham delegation showed the Plymouth board the results of an extensive survey among the 64 families in the district. It was noted that 61 families shop in Plymouth, all have Plymouth telephone and mail delivery, 42 read The Plymouth Mail, 48 bank here and 24 families attend church here.

Improvements having an estimated cost of $35,000 were approved by the board. Scheduled for remodeling is the high school science room, and the Starkweather school kitchen. A storage space for the kitchen and custodian and relocation of the boys' room is also scheduled for Starkweather.

Board members gave their approval to a plan for the new elementary school building on Sheldon road. The architects, Wheeler and Becker, were asked to proceed with detailed plans. It is hoped that bids can be let August 1 so that construction can be completed by the fall of 1956.

Approved was a plan unlike other elementary schools. A hallway runs the entire length of the building onto which all classrooms have access. There are 13 classrooms.

A letter was read from the Plymouth Education association informing the board that the teacher group had voted to accept the pay schedule revision proposed by the board.

The letter stated that the salary adjustment was accepted in light of the board's previous promise "that the whole salary schedule, the extended school year, in-service teacher education, incentive pay for graduate work, extra pay for extra work and the whole problem of teacher welfare would be considered next year."

Subdividers Buy Willoughby Farm

Eighteen acres of farm property on the western edge of Plymouth have been sold to a Detroit construction firm for the future development of a new subdivision.

All but one and a half acres of the Robert Willoughby farm, located southwest of the intersection of Ann Arbor trail and Sheldon road, has been sold to the Emerson Building company of Detroit. The transaction was completed Tuesday.

The one and a half acres left unsold contains the Willoughby home and other buildings.

It is not yet known how many homes are planned for the new development. The subdividers have indicated that construction will not start for several years, after sewer and water is assured for the area. It was stated, however, that the homes would have large building lots.

The 18 acres adjoins the Episcopal property on the south and Plymouth Colony property on the extreme southwest. North of the property is Bird elementary school.

This is the second construction firm announcing its intentions to build here during the past two

Legion Plans Memorial Day Events; Reverend Richards to be Speaker

Plans are being made for the annual Memorial Day parade and program in Plymouth to be held Monday, May 30.

Robert F. Wilson, past commander of the Passage-Gayde post, American Legion, is grand marshal of this year's affair. He is being aided by George Mecklenburg of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The two organizations alternately sponsor the event.

The Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of Newburg Methodist church, will be the guest speaker.

Memorial church services will be held this year at First Baptist church at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 29. On Memorial Day, the bridge ceremony honoring Navy dead will be at 9:30 a.m. The parade will assemble at 10 a.m. at Wing and Main streets and will get underway at 10:30 a.m.

SWABBING DOWN Main street last Sunday morning was the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week. The week is currently being observed in Plymouth with the Jaycees seeking cooperation of every householder and businessman.

Two Now Have School Board Petitions Filed

With the deadline for filing petitions set at 4 p.m. Saturday, two men have announced their intentions of running for the single board of education vacancy. The school election is Monday, June 13.

The two who have already filed their petitions are Frank Millington; 14900 Beck road, and Harold Fischer, 40875 Plymouth road.

Expiring this year is the term of James Gallimore, current president of the board. He has announced that he will not seek another term.

A run-down of those entering the race will appear next week.

Oil Field Changes To Produce Gas

The Northville oil field was shifted to natural gas production effective May 5.

Supervisor of wells Gerald E. Eddy announced that a change in status recommended by the state advisory board places primary responsibility of administration to the public service commission and permits a number of capped wells to be opened for production.

The move is the result of a falling off in oil production, said Eddy. It is now more economical to produce gas in the field. Where oil continues as the primary product, the supervisor of wells retains administrative responsibility.

Temporary production of 200,000 cubic feet of gas per 24-hour day will be permitted until a proration order is issued by the public service commission.

Meanwhile, W. C. Taggart and the Pure Oil company have become half owners in a new oil well. Still in the testing stage, the well was encountered in the Niagara formation, not in the Trenton formation where restrictions were imposed.

The new well is located on the Crowe-Fraser property, located a mile southeast of Taggart's discovery on the Roy LeMaster farm on Napier road. Unofficial reports indicated that the new well can produce 50 barrels an hour.

Clues Made Easier In Name Contest

"All right, so we'll make the clues easier!"

That's what the contest editors had to say this week in answer to claims that the pictures in the "What's My Name" contest were too difficult to identify. Contestants are becoming discouraged because of the low percentage of positive identifications. Judges pointed out, however, that anyone can still win one of the 27 prizes being offered by First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit. It's even possible that persons who didn't enter the first week could still identify enough pictures in the remaining weeks to walk away with the $150 Savings Bond first prize.

So take heart, and buckle down. There's 17 more pictures in this edition of The Mail and the clues are so easy (say the judges) that with just a little thought we're sure you'll do much better!

"Spring Fling" Readied at Allen

Final plans are being made for Allen elementary school's second annual "Spring Fling," a carnival of events designed to provide fun and entertainment for the entire family. Proceeds from the carnival will be used by the P.T.A. for some needed school project.

Scheduled for Saturday, May 21, it will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a "modified cafeteria" and will end at 9 p.m. Something new at the carnival this year will be a sample booth. Free samples of various name products will be on display. Customers will buy a bag and may then fill the bag with whatever samples they want. Grab-bags will feature more valuable items.

Instead of one complete meal being served, carnival-goers will have a choice of sandwiches, salads, vegetables and dessert. Any part of the menu can be purchased separately, according to Gene Overholt, general chairman.

Other events include the cake and pie walks, game room, flower shop, book shop, fortune telling, country store, shooting gallery, strong man contest, fish pond, balloon stand, fun house, pop and popcorn stand, candy stand and dodge-em.

Two Teams Tied In Grade Softball

The six-member grade school softball league battled its way to the half-way mark in loop competition last week with the Starkweather and Bird school diamond nines deadlocked for possession of first place.

Hapless Lutheran Day school remained at the bottom of the ladder while Catholic school clung grimly to the runner-up slot and Allen and Smith were tied for third place.

The standout ball game of last week was a tight four extra-innings affair that finally wound up with Catholic edging Smith by one run to a 3-2 tunc. At the close of the regular scheduled five inning contest the two clubs were matched even at two runs apiece to send the battle into overtime.

Four scoreless frames passed before Catholic could break through to score in the bottom of the ninth. Brian Gilles drew a walk, progressed to third base and scored sliding home to break up the game.

Going the distance on the mound for the winning Catholic was Lomonaco who gave up four hits as Wilkins allowed five in his nine-inning stint for the losers.

Present standings at the half-way point in the grade school softball league are:

Starkweather	4	1
Bird	4	1
Catholic	3	2
Allen	2	3
Smith	2	3
LDS	0	5

Department Lists Golf Instructions

Golf instructions through Plymouth's recreation department will once again get underway as a brand new six week course will begin next week. Herb Woolweaver, recreation director, explained recently that there are still openings for about 10 more students interested in picking up the fundamentals of the game.

Taught by Sally Sessions, who has instructed this class for several years now, the golf lessons will be given at the Lilac brothers driving range at Schoolcraft and Telegraph roads. Openings that remain are for three more people in the Saturday, May 21, class at 1:00 in the afternoon.

A full class of pupils, between five and eight people, can still be accommodated in the Saturday, May 21, class at 2:00 p.m. For further information contact the Plymouth recreation department at phone 895.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Brownie Troop 9 entertained the mothers of its members at a Mother's Day party at the last regular meeting. Attending were 32 guests. As its main service project the troop has adopted the second and third grades of the Holy Childhood school at Harbor Springs, Michigan. They remember the children with frequent gifts. Recently they added more to their list of adoptees and now have an even 100. They have enlisted the help of Troop 17 and are presently engaged in collecting good usable clothing suitable for children grades one through eight. The Holy Childhood school is for children of Indian blood. If you have items you would like to contribute to help the Brownies in their project, a call to Mrs. William Lyons will result in their being picked up. Shoes are especially in demand. Mrs. Lyons is the leader, assisted by Mrs. Charles Ketterer, Mrs. William Fehlig and Mrs. John Sandman.

Members of Troop 3 enjoyed their trip through the telephone company office at their last regular meeting. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Aldrich. Leaders are Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. E. P. Light.

Troop 22 enjoyed an overnight stay at the Lodge last weekend. The girls worked on a First Aid badge in addition to getting their own meals. Mrs. Hugo Russell and Mrs. Roman Arjay accompanied them.

Two troops had cook-outs at the Lodge for their regular meetings this past week. On Tuesday, Mrs. Thomas Thorpe and Mrs. Eldridge Raven took members of Troop 19 out. Friday the Lodge was used by Troop 17, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Luelfing and Mrs. James Gretzinger.

Troop 1 leader, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, is presently engaged in a Badminton and Archery tournament at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge. For the past several weeks the Scouts have been learning about archery with David Baker as instructor. Rita Sallan has been teaching badminton. A most successful rummage sale held in cooperation with their sponsors, the V. F. W. Auxiliary, netted enough to finance a two-day camp-out. In June the troop will go on a four-day camp-out as part of the requirement for their Pioneer badge. Mrs. Baker is being assisted by Mrs. James Loudon.

Mrs. Ray Heldreth, leader of Troop 8, accompanied her girls on a cook-out at the home of co-leader Mrs. Clark Finley on Wilcox road. The Scouts practiced pitching tents in preparation for camp this summer.

A trip to Heides' Greenhouse and a fine talk on plants, soil and home gardening by Mr. Ruhr was a recent Troop activity for junior high Scouts of Troop 14. The girls are concluding work on the My World badge. This has included visits from Mrs. Sam Hudson who spoke on Scotland, Miss Marion Hoffman on Japan, Kris Krueger, student at the University, told of life in his native Germany. Karen Rossow informed the troop about the organization and functions of the United Nations. Troop member Michele Todd displayed her collection of foreign stamps.

PTA Elects Officers

New officers of the Hough school Parent Teachers association were elected at a meeting of the organization on Tuesday night.

Heading the group as its new president is William Campbell. He will be assisted by Mrs. James Allor, vice president; Mrs. Hiram Godwin, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Schultz, treasurer, and Mrs. Don Hoffman, secretary.

I'll tell the world I'm glad I live in Michigan

Most everybody boasts about his home town. But me, I brag about my whole state—and here's why

I work in factories—all kinds of factories. I make steel, cars, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, rubber. I make furniture and other wood products, and I'm a metal worker, too. I work in the big plants, on the big lines, and I work in the thousands of small ones—the ones that keep the big shops going. I'm on Michigan's huge industrial payroll, and doing right well at it.

I'm a farmer, too—one of the men who keeps Michigan near the top in farm crop dollar-value. I'm the world's Best grain grower, for I've brought more international grain championships to Michigan in recent years than any other state can boast. Michigan's one of the top states in production of fruits, grains, sugar beets, dairy products, potatoes and beans.

I'm a miner, a quarryman, a shovel operator. Nature put resources under Michigan's soil so I can remove them, turn them over to industry to make the great products of Michigan. I mine salt, iron, copper; I bring out magnesium and gypsum; I quarry limestone, and I scoop tons of gravel for construction. I'm a lumberjack in the tall timber, and I'm a seaman on the long ships. And whatever my job, I need water to keep me going, and Michigan certainly has plenty of water. I've all the gas and electricity I need for heat and light and power, and always will have.

I'm a seasonal guy, myself. I like cold winters, with snow for skating and tobogganing, ice for skating and ice-fishing. I like colorful autumn and fresh-green spring, because I'm a hunter and a fisherman. And, brother, do I like loafing on a warm, sandy beach beside our many lakes. But, I am also a heat to 5,000,000 tourists a year, a big business. I'm a customs inspector, watching all the millions of dollars of commerce that flow between Michigan and Canada every year. I'm a merchant, selling everything that makes the Michigan market one of the nation's greatest.

Me? I'm Michigan—I'm everybody. I come from just about anywhere you can name, from other nations, from other states. I'm what makes Michigan great, because for all her resources, it takes me to make use of them. Whatever I do, I'm a builder, building greatness on greatness in Michigan. I've got faith in Michigan, that's why. I know there's no stopping her, because we won't be stopped. It's as simple as that.

I'm glad I live in Michigan say was appointed as supervisor to complete Rathburn's term.

The committee and the audience came up with the names of Colonial Heights, Plymouth Heights, Coventry, Stratford, Mayflower City and Algonquin.

The proposed city is about 10 square miles in size. Law requires that there be a population of 500 people per square mile in order to incorporate. Remaining would be about six square miles in western Plymouth township. If city incorporation is effected, those property owners in the remaining township could individually petition to annex their property to the new city.

"What affect will incorporation have on taxes?" a township resident asked Tuesday night. Welch said that a study has not yet been made of that aspect, but he presumed the township study group would soon answer the question.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay stated that "nobody can tell anybody what taxes are going to be." He said that it would be a complicated process to "get down to pennies" when figuring out the cost of a city. Taxes, he said, would depend on how many services citizens demanded.

Clayton Koch, a member of the township study group, said that he had made somewhat of a study of costs and that the city of Plymouth and other communities operate on about 15 mills. If township demands were normal, he added, 15 mills would not be needed in the new city right away. There should be a "relief of burden" for farm areas, Koch asserted, something that the city has not proposed.

No mention was made Tuesday night of the Western Electric company's announcement to move here if the Roderick Cassady farm would become a part of the city.

STRICTLY FOR THE BIRDS is this shot of what's left of the living room window of Millard Mitchell's home, 48801 Gyde. The pheasant, shown with Mitchell, was an unexpected Sunday afternoon guest when it got off its course and came crashing into the resident's home. With a sound like a bomb, and nearly as destructive, the bird came to a dead stop with a broken neck, leaving shattered pieces of glass strewn the complete length of the room. No one got hurt, saving the bird and the Mitchell's pocketbook which will have to finance window repairs from the hapless incident.

Michigan Week begins Sunday with Spiritual Foundations Day. Tuesday is Hospitality Day; Wednesday, Education Day; Thursday, Our Livelihood Day; Friday, Our Heritage Day; and Saturday, New Frontiers Day.

In the high school, a Chamber of Commerce film will be shown during the week called "It's Everybody's Business." It will also be seen by many of the service clubs. The Penn Theatre will also show a short film concerning Michigan Week.

In store windows, at least a half dozen industries will show their products. The Plymouth Kiwanis club has purchased and distributed banners reminding the citizenry of Michigan Week—an event to better acquaint our citizens with their state and with each other.

Harry Larsen is local chairman of the week's events.

Daane Tells Study Group

garbage and rubbish removal, no police protection, no street lighting, no water other than that furnished by the City of Plymouth," Daane charged. He asked what the township resident received for the $74,000 with which the township government operates yearly.

Daane then answered the township charge that no city improvements had been made by itemizing $300,000 worth of recent city-wide improvement projects. The report was concluded by saying that it "has the approval of the Commission for the purpose of presenting, primarily, a factual summary in regard to issues raised by the mentioned (township) statement."

After a brief recess in the session the question was raised by Committee Member Austin Stecker as to the exact purpose of the study group in the light of the week's developments. "This definite stand by the city calls for the committee to change," said Stecker. Commissioner Marvin Terry and Committee Member Thomas Adams stated that they could see no reason for the committee to alter its previous course of study. Caplin, Daane and Stecker were inclined to believe that the city petitions no longer made it necessary for the study committee to (1.) determine whether expansion should be made; or (2.) define borders of the township area to be incorporated.

Stecker called for the city commission to "recharge the study group and restate its purpose." He hinted that in the light of the city's move to annex the township there might be members of the study group who would prefer not to serve, especially if the purpose of the group would be to plan for annexation.

Chairman Caplin said the group would meet again for committee reports after the city commission had redefined the aims of the study group.

GETTING INTO the swing of Plymouth's "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week" which started Sunday is Miss Nancy Brannan, assistant librarian, as she applies the broom to Dunning library steps. The week-long observance is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of its projects.

Grange Cleanings

Our meeting of May 5 was a good one, a good supper and a good attendance. Miss Lovewell's talk on the juvenile question was much enjoyed. She is a clever and witty speaker and we appreciate her coming. We had two visitors, Mr. Wisely from Webster Grange and Mr. Daneizen from Samaria Grange in Monroe county. Several topics were discussed regarding the summer activities. First, let me remind you of the Bake sale and Rummage sale next week Friday, May 20. Bring your baked goods to the hall or send them by 10 o'clock Friday morning at least, and bring your rummage articles in Thursday evening if possible; if not bring them early Friday a.m.

The subject was discussed for a year and quite a few signified their desire to go. So if there are others who would like to join the group, call Mrs. Paul Nash as she has charge of getting the reservations. The date is in the week following the Fourth of July. Mrs. Nash's telephone is 1198-W. She must have the names in sometime before that.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn were visitors in Columbus, Ohio, over the Mother's Day week end. That was formerly their home town.

The members of the Grange were shocked and saddened over the sudden death of our long-time member, Vivian Swegles. She was always so full of good cheer and a smile for everybody we shall miss her sadly. A good number of our Grange members attended her funeral which was a very large one. It was a beautiful day, just such a day as it was for her husband's funeral last September. They were a fine couple and had been Grange members for more than 40 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten and sons spent Mothers' Day week end in Brethren with the former's parents.

There were 18 members of our Grange who made the trip to Mettetal's last Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk, their daughter and her husband were there, so we had five tables for cards. A good supper and a very enjoyable evening.

At our next meeting we are to have the pleasure of entertaining Pittsfield Grange who are coming over here that evening, so do let's have a nice big crowd on hand to welcome them.

Mrs. Amy Northrup is down from her home in Johannesburg. She is at her daughter's in Salem. Her mother is in Sinai hospital.

Fred Reiman, Jr.

Private Fred Reiman Jr. of the U. S. M. C. has been home on a ten-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Reiman Sr. of Garland avenue.

Fred received his training at the Marine Corps Recruit depot at San Diego and combat training at Camp Pendleton, California.

He returned to San Diego May 6 to enter school for the U. S. M. C. band.

Richard C. Partridge

According to a recent report from the Armored Replacement Training Center at Fort Knox, Kentucky, Private First Class Richard C. Partridge of Plymouth has completed eight weeks of Army basic combat training there.

He is the son of M. C. Partridge of 8768 North Territorial road, Plymouth.

During this initial period of training, Partridge attended classes on basic military subjects and was trained in the fundamentals of combat, including the firing of basic weapons.

Following a short leave, he will receive additional specialized training before permanent assignment to an Army unit.

John T. Marklew

Army Private First Class John T. Marklew, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marklew, 11434 Brookfield, Livonia, recently arrived in Alaska and is now serving at the Alaska General Depot.

Soldiers stationed in the Alaskan territory undergo rigorous training for cold weather combat while guarding the northern approaches to the U. S.

Marklew arrived in Alaska from an assignment at Fort Benning, Georgia. A former student at the University of Detroit, he entered the Army in March 1954.

Ray Lane

Army Corporal Ray Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Lane, 32580 West Six Mile road, Livonia, recently was master of ceremonies for the Fifth Army's Talent Contest at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Corporal Lane, an information specialist with Headquarters company of the 5012th Area Service Unit's Detachment 1, entered the Army in June 1953.

The 24-year-old soldier was graduated from Michigan State college in 1953 and is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Epsilon Rho fraternities.

Now's the Time to Start Inspection of Strawberry, Raspberry Plants

Because of the earliness of the 1955 growing season, inspection of strawberry and raspberry plants in the state will soon be conducted by representatives of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's bureau of plant industry.

Michigan has long been recognized in the nursery world as an outstanding state in production of strawberry and raspberry plants. According to C. A. Boyer, bureau chief, 75 percent of these plants sold within a radius of 600 miles of the state originate in Michigan. This plant business is of great economic value to nurserymen and growers. In order to assure top-quality plants, the Michigan law requires that strawberry and raspberry plants be inspected twice during the growing season by the Department's inspectors. The two inspections are necessary before the plants can be disposed of. Anyone wishing to dispose of or sell strawberry or raspberry plants must request inspection at this season in order that Department representatives may do their work so that the producer of the plants may be able to sell plants in the fall of 1955 and the spring of 1956. Applications for inspection cannot be honored after June 1, 1955. Requests should be addressed immediately to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass building, Lansing.

More Fine-Car Features than any other car priced so low!

POWER—Pontiac's husky 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, delivers more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of its price. And road records show this power is teamed with the greatest economy in Pontiac history.

STYLE—No car at any price is so beautifully distinctive. Pontiac's future-fashioned Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning set it apart from all other cars—point the way to tomorrow.

SIZE—Pontiac is a big car where it counts— with a long, road-hugging 122" or 124" wheelbase. On any road, at any speed, you enjoy the feeling of genuine fine-car size.

COMFORT—Pontiac's extra size means big-car comfort—room to stretch out and relax. Wide-stance rear springs and Shock-Proof chassis float you along in luxury style.

IF you were to guess Pontiac's price on the basis of its style, performance and size, you'd surely guess hundreds of dollars higher than its actual cost. Pontiac measures up with the finest on any point of comparison—except price.

It's a simple matter of fact that you can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

After a close inspection of Pontiac's luxury and quality and a few miles commanding its mighty 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8, buyers from both ends of the price scale are switching to Pontiac in record-breaking numbers. Come in soon for the clinching facts and figures. You'll make the very pleasant discovery that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a big, powerful Pontiac—and step directly into the fine-car class!

Who's New in Plymouth

ENJOYING A CLARINET solo by 10-year-old Bob are the Leo Brutons of 362 Pacific, with Dave, 12, and "Tag" seated at the left and seven-year-old Johnny, to the right of the musician. Former residents of Royal Oak, the newcomers came to Plymouth April 1. All three boys are avid coin and stamp collectors and belonged to the respective hobby clubs in Royal Oak. Mrs. Bruton was active as a Boy Scout Den mother and in March of Dimes work there. Bruton is employed at the Lincoln Mercury plant in Wayne.

Plymouthite Represents Volunteers At Northville State Hospital Luncheon

Mrs. Vivian Champion of 493 North Harvey, chairman of the Northville State Hospital Volunteer Service council, represented all volunteers active in hospital activities at a Report to the Community Luncheon at the hospital on May 5.

Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent at Northville state hospital, gave a progress report on the past three and a quarter years since the hospital opened. Describing the many innovations the staff has used in the treatment program, he stated that some of the most important types of therapy will be curtailed unless the State Legislature rescinds some of the budget cuts for the coming fiscal year.

The hospital currently is slated to receive only 75% of the funds needed to operate as it is currently, and the proposed budget called for 50 employees to open five new buildings housing 720 patients.

Citing some of the so-called "miracle" drugs, which have been used with remarkable success, he explained that the cost of one day's dosage was 6-20 times the budgetary allowance per patient. Since these drugs have been most effective with chronically disturbed patients who have not benefited from other therapies, the only alternative during the coming year is to stop treatment, if the money to purchase drugs and the necessary staff to administer the therapy is not appropriated.

George E. Gullen, Jr., president of the Wayne County chapter, Michigan Society for Mental Health, was guest speaker. His topic was "Community Responsibility in Mental Health." Emphasizing the fact that human lives represent more important values than dollars, he was of the opinion that an informed community will insist on a better mental health program. As proof, he cited the 1950 Bond Issue which made Northville State hospital a reality.

James M. Hare, Michigan secretary of state, and Sanford A.

Brown, state treasurer, also spoke and assured the group of the present administration's interest in the mental health program. Hare emphasized the problem facing a legislator, "whose constituents applaud every time a budget is slashed."

Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service, spoke of the Northville State Hospital Community program and said that a hospital survey of public opinion toward mental health in the city and towns in the surrounding area shows that a majority of the taxpayers are in favor of larger mental health appropriations, even at the risk of increasing taxes.

Reporting on Volunteer Activities, she added that over 1200 hours a month are served in the hospital by 200 volunteers. In addition to this, more than 400 persons are actively interested and provide financial and recreational assistance to the patients.

The Plymouth Elks, she said, had given Mrs. Champion over $120 since last December to be credited to the personal accounts of indigent patients. An allowance of one's own, to spend on candy, ice cream and cigarettes, is an important part of the total treatment program and helps patients gain self respect and feeling of responsibility. Mrs. Champion hopes that other civic, fraternal and service groups will become interested in contributing to the Northville State Hospital Indigent Fund which has been established. The hospital staff hopes to furnish 50 cents a week to some 250 patients who are without funds.

Betty and Bob Carson of Plymouth frequently serve as callers at evening square dances. "The hours they spend are sincerely appreciated by the patients and staff alike and do much to show them that people in the community want to help in any way possible," according to Mrs. Seefeldt.

Other luncheon guests include: Miss Lavora Conklin, administrative assistant to Judge James H. Sexton; Judge William C. Cody, Wayne county probate court; Dr. Howard Cadwell, director of Wayne County Health Department; Walter Dunne, director of Wayne County Department of Social Welfare; Judge Nathan J. Kaufman, Wayne County Juvenile court; Mark Cavanaugh, supervisor, Medical division, Wayne County Department of Social Welfare; Merle Oliver, The Detroit News; Warren Stromberg, The Detroit Free Press; John Sullivan, executive director of the Detroit chapter, American Red Cross.

Hold Ice-Cream Social Friday in Kellogg Park

The Mother Boosters of the sixth grade classes of the Starkweather School will sponsor an ice cream social in Kellogg Park tomorrow, May 13, from 5 to 9 p.m.

The project is being held to help raise money to cover extra expenses to send the two sixth grade classes to Chicago on May 26 and 27.

The boys and girls have been working hard all year under the guidance of their teachers, Mr. Foster and Mr. Denison, to earn money for the trip. Due to an increase in train fare, the youngsters find they will need about $100 more.

The mothers are doing their best to help the youngsters get this extra money. If residents will come out on Friday night, have some cake and ice cream and listen to the music, the mothers feel they will be able to put the project over the top and enable the youngsters to make the Chicago trip.

In case of rain the event will be held in the Starkweather School auditorium.

DAR Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Plymouth and Northville, will be held Monday, May 16, at 1 p.m.

Place for the get-together has been changed from Mrs. Gordon Jewell's residence to that of Mrs. Irving Blunk's, 415 Arthur street, Plymouth.

On the agenda for the meeting is the election of new officers of the organization.

Reports on the recent Continental Congress in Washington, D.C., will also be given by Mrs. Harry N. Deyo, regent; and Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby, recently-elected treasurer of the state D.A.R.

Business Women Hold Installation Service

Installation of new officers is on the agenda for the Monday night, May 16, meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Heading the list of the club's new officers for 1955-56 is Mrs. Ada Watson, president. Others to be installed are Marilyn Karnatz, vice president; Marilyn Wagonschultz, recording secretary; Alice Reddeman, corresponding secretary, and Thelma Cushman, treasurer.

Miss Evelyn Burke, chairman of District 2 of the Business and Professional Women's organization, will be the installing officer.

The meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Mayflower hotel.

The Indian word for "Great Water" was Michigamaw—sometimes spelled Michigama or Michiguma. From that word came the name of Michigan.

THIS PAIR of local area safety patrolers were two of 120 patrol boys that enjoyed many thrills in Washington, D. Senator Charles Potter are Arthur Lenaghan (right) from Our Lady of Good Counsel school in Plymouth and Richard Levandowski of St. Michael school in Livonia.

Polish Pianist Guest at Madonna

Madonna college in Livonia was honored to present the internationally famous Polish pianist Severin Turel. The unexpected guest played at the Michiewicz program held May 5 on campus.

Turel, who is a Chopin master, first played Chopin's Valse Brillante followed by his own composition, Rhapsodie Polonaise, the Polish Rhapsody, which he wrote while in a concentration camp during the last war.

The audience showed their appreciation of Turel's presentation by prolonged applause.

In the next ten years, metropolitan Detroit's population is expected to increase by almost a million people. One reason: the St. Lawrence Seaway, a long-cherished dream, is about to come true.

The Atlantic Ocean is coming to Detroit

Probably by 1960. That's the year the Seaway will bring the Atlantic Ocean to our door. Here are ideas to help you take advantage of new business opportunities.

- Bulk materials will be brought in direct from worldwide sources via ocean-going freighters.
- Raw materials from abroad can be economically processed in the areas where they are used.
- Finished products from distant shores will become available in quantity at new low prices!
- Exports can be shipped direct to growing world markets.
- Buyers and tourists from abroad will arrive in increasing numbers.
- Millions of tons of cargo will be routed to the Seaport of Detroit.
- Thousands of new jobs will be created. New people will move here. The city and its suburbs will expand.

The dream is limited only by the minds of men! Will your business be in the best possible financial position to take advantage of the growth of this area?

Do you envision new directions that your business might take when cargoes from all over the world flow into the great inland Seaport of Detroit?

To help you meet this challenge, the National Bank of Detroit offers you great resources and broad services. Our connections with leading banks throughout Michigan, the nation and the world assure swift and competent handling of all banking business.

Why not come by and discuss opportunities that may benefit your business when the Atlantic Ocean comes to Detroit? Or drop us a line and we'll arrange for you to see one of our officers.

Man's true selfhood as a spiritual child of God—possessing dominion over sin, sickness, and mortality—will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon "Mortals and Immortals."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind. . . . Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (336:9-12, 16).

Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (1:1, 6): "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. . . . For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish."

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

On Sunday, June 5, at 1 p.m. the Auxiliary is commemorating its eighth anniversary with a potluck dinner at the Post home for all Post and Auxiliary members and their families. Each family is asked to bring their own service and a dish to pass. Coffee and soft drinks will be furnished and entertainment is being planned for that day. Kay Coolman is chairman for the event. For any further information, please call 1297-M.

May 21 is the date of the next Post Dance at our own Post Hall! Keep that Saturday night open for an evening of dancing and fun!

Sunday, May 1, was the date of our regular installation of new Post and Auxiliary officers! Past Department Commander Goldie Slater and National Banner Bearer Ethel Gagner were the installing officers for that day. Assistant installing conductress was Meta Myers from Northville Auxiliary. The following presentations were made: Life memberships to the National home were presented to Sisters Lucinda Archer and Grace Burley. Citations were also given to Eleanor Gust, Betty Marquis and Virginia Bartel for their untiring efforts in auxiliary work during the past years. A Life membership was presented to Past Commander Bob Van Meter.

Guests for the installation included Ruby La Pointe, 4th district president, commanders and presidents from Livonia, Northville and Wayne posts and auxiliaries who commented very favorably on our installation ceremonies. Goldie Slater stressed the fact that she was proud to have installed our Post each year for it was one of the few in the state that kept to the ritual according to the by-laws of the V.F.W. New Commander William Norman and newly-elect President Loretta Young expressed their thanks to all members and pledged their cooperation to the Post and their full service to our community as a service organization.

A luncheon followed the installation with Sisters Hilda Rorabacher and Grace Burley pouring coffee and tea. Our sincere appreciation to everyone helping to make this ceremony as impressive as it was! Pictures will be available at our next regular business meeting, May 17. You may obtain copies of these pictures by contacting your president or publicity chairman!

Buddy Poppy Chairman Marion Dickie reminded us that Poppy Day will soon be here! All Post and Auxiliary members are urged to notify the chairmen as to the time and place you are available to sell our famed Buddy Poppies either in the factories on Thursday, May 26, or on Friday, May 27, in the city. A cause such as this is worthy of all the support we can muster. This is Buddy Poppy month, and the entire success of this campaign lies with our Post and Auxiliary members. We ask only that you offer your services on that day—and that you discuss the significance of this sale with all your fellow workers, in whatever way they may be serving the cause of veteran welfare. Call attention to the sale to all your friends and acquaintances and make sure they know the results and purpose of their buying their Buddy Poppy from a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Our Dinner Booking Chairman Betty Marquis will take any calls on buffets, luncheons, dinners that our friends would like to have the Auxiliary prepare and serve! This committee will be a very active one this year!

Also may we remind all members that we are sponsoring the sale of Stanley Home products. Each member is asked to contact her friends and neighbors to sell any of the products which will profit our organization. These are all household items and ones which every housewife should have need of. Please bring your lists to the next meeting.

This Sunday, May 15, is the District encampment. All delegates and chairmen are urged to attend. Transportation will be furnished. Call President Loretta Young if you plan on attending!

A restaurant in California has equipped all its tables with scorable games. Losers pay the checks.

"I get in a lot more fishin', now that Elsie has a car of her own"

"They called me 'Big-Hearted George,' when I got the Rambler for Elsie. Sure, she was tied home when we had only one car. But so was I. She had to have the car for shopping on week ends, and taking the youngsters places. That Rambler freed us both."

Every woman should have a car of her very own!

There's a Rambler to fit her needs . . . and your pocketbook, too!

It's hard to believe that the smart, new-idea Rambler is the lowest priced of all American-built cars, model for model . . . and that you get up to 30 miles on a gallon. But those are the happy facts. At that rate, practically every family today can enjoy the freedom of two cars.

With children to drive places, it's good to know that they're twice as safe in a Rambler. Its Double Strength Single Unit car construction . . . exclusive on American Motors cars . . . is twice as rigid, twice as strong, as ordinary car construction. You get three times the riding comfort with the new Deep Coil Spring Suspension. With Airliner Reclining Seats, you ride restfully relaxed. And Twin Travel Beds are wonderful for children's naps and low-cost vacation trips. Drop in at your Hudson dealer's right away. See how little it costs for the whole family to enjoy complete freedom when the lady of the house has a car of her very own . . . a smart, new Rambler!

Wayne Dunlap Sends Impressions of Vienna

EDITOR'S NOTE: As he nears the end of his year of study in Vienna under a Fulbright scholarship, Plymouth Symphony Orchestra Conductor Wayne Dunlap sent this impression of the Viennese and the Communists to The Mail.

WIEN XIV
Teybergasse 7/8
Austria
5 May 1955

I feel guilty about not having been more diligent in my role as "foreign correspondent" for the Plymouth Mail, and the only excuse I can offer is that I have been busily occupied with many things. I have just finished a series of concerts though and have a little leisure—and it occurred to me that you might be interested in knowing something of the reaction of the Austrian people to the promised State Treaty. Also, you might be interested in a brief description of the gigantic Communist May Day Parade—held here as in many other cities in Europe on the 1st day of May.

The Soviet offer of a State Treaty for Austria came as an immense surprise to the Viennese. There had been hints and vague promises throughout the winter, but having had much experience through 10 years of occupation by the Russians, little was expected from them. Despite this experience and the natural pessimism it had engendered, they could hardly contain themselves when news of the proffered concessions of Russia was announced. Flags were immediately broken out from every building and people gathered in the streets to discuss the news. In the coffee houses people read one newspaper after another, eager for every scrap of news. Dignified university professors behaved like children and everywhere there was new life and hope in this tired city. In the minds of the Viennese, knowing full well the manner in which the Russians had blocked every effort towards a State Treaty in recent years, there seemed to be no question but what the Western Powers would approve the proposed Treaty. They were amazed that they would get back their treasure—their oil—in six years instead of 50 as had originally been proposed, and at the relative lightness of their reparations. I think generally the people realized that the motive for all this apparent generosity was the fear the Russians have of a re-armed Germany, and that they are trying to surround themselves with a belt of neutral nations—as well as cutting Italy off from her natural allies. At the moment, the Ambassadors of the Big Four are meeting here in Vienna to work out the details of the Treaty, and there seems to be every hope that they will be successful. Local newspapers are predicting that the State Treaty will become a reality by the end of May.

Actually we have seen very little of the Russians here. They are kept strictly to their own areas and are obviously ordered to have no contact with local mores. They are never seen at the opera, concerts, coffeehouses or anywhere except at their headquarters, officers club or Information Bureau. We do not live in one of the Russian areas of Vienna (people try to avoid it—even though rents are lower), but on occasions when we have visited in these zones, we have seen more Russian soldiers. On the famous Ringstrasse, they have control of two large hotels which are patrolled day and night by armed sentries—and people are not allowed to walk on the sidewalks around these buildings. Although the Russian soldiers look strong, their appearance is not smart—and obviously, they are from peasant stock. They had every opportunity to make themselves beloved here since they were the liberating power, but through cruelty, rape and pillage, they have managed to alienate the populace to a very large degree.

Having heard much of the famous May Day parades in Europe, we planned to see for ourselves exactly what they were like. All means of public transportation were at a halt on this holiday, but actually there was no reason to get to the parade for the beginning because it went on for hours. At 9:00 until 11:30 the Socialists paraded and then from 11:30 until 2:00, we saw the Communists. Actually these parades were rather dull by our standards, but of the two, the Communist parade was obviously better organized and had more crowd appeal. Both parades had a few bands, and although they played well, they just ambled along—out of step—and with no uniforms, and it really wasn't very exciting. The Communists seemed to have two general themes—Peace—and Responsibility for the State Treaty. If it were not so insidious, it would have been laughable. One big banner for example, read "When will the West say Yes?"—when everyone who stopped to think realized that for 10 years it has been the Soviets who would not say yes. Many signs implied that the future would be rosier if only one would cooperate with Moscow. One important piece of propaganda was to represent themselves as the party of peace and in every way opposed to war. For example, one group in the parade was dressed as milkmen, carrying in their hands milk and butter. Their slogan, which they shouted together often was "Milch and Butter, nicht Kanonen Fuetter!" (Milk and butter, not cannon fodder.) Thousands of people carried blue peace flags with the white dove of peace in the center. There was a great emphasis on youngsters—and even babies in the parade. One of their slogans called for free kindergarten for children, more milk for children, etc. The Communists very cleverly in many ways tried to identify themselves with the Austrian folk by having people in native costumes in the parade, exhibiting native dancers, the traditional May pole, Bauern Ka-pelle (peasant bands), etc. It was really all quite impressive and a little disquieting to see so many people marching under communist banners. I have asked several of my Austrian friends about the thousands of people in the parade and they assured me that not many of these people are communists—but just out for a holiday and a good time. It has not seemed to me that the communist sentiment is very strong here and is actually weakening, but this apparent show of strength was a little alarming.

Spring has finally come to Vienna after a very long winter. People are obviously relieved to be outside again and we had no idea until now that so many people lived here and that so many of them had motor scooters. On holidays and week ends, it seems as if all of them head for one of the suburbs or the Vienna Woods for a sight of green grass and a breath of fresh air. All of the gardens and parks are blooming now and people are happier—but the Danube is still not blue.

Yours sincerely,
Wayne Dunlap

Plymouthite Earl Gray, Dean of Local Umpires, Enters Twenty-Seventh Year of Baseball Officiating

POINTING OUT the ground rules at the opening game of the current Inner-county league season. Earl Gray, who started his 27th year of officiating recently, is shown with Warren Bassett at left and Steve Folino. Gray at 59 is the dean of local umpires from a years-of-service standpoint and plans to keep on making the decisions at ball-games as long as his hobby of umpiring keeps him young.

Baseball's prime target for controversy is the stalwart man in blue—the umpire—who rules supreme on a ball-diamond's playing field. He is a target for boos, pop bottles and other under-the-breath remarks; seldom if ever is he a hero.

But for 59-year-old Earl Gray, 1210 South Harvey, the life of a baseball umpire must have a magic magnet about it. Quiet-spoken Gray is an unofficial dean of local umpires in line of service with a total of 26 seasons behind him.

With the first pitch of a baseball in the Inner county hardball league recently, Gray entered his 27th tour of making the decisions in baseball battling.

Gray gained his start as an umpire back in 1928, when the late Art Eckles needed an official for an independent game at the old Burrough's ball field off Plymouth road. Earl picked up a catcher's mask and stepped in to fill the bill.

As far as learning the regulations that go along with umpiring, Gray seemed to pick them up as he progressed in his work. He was helped greatly when athletic departments started to draw up definite sets of rules and in the years between Earl has attended refresher courses at an umpire school in Detroit.

A sales manager at Atchinson Motor Sales in Northville, Gray termed his officiating simply as a hobby. "It keeps me young," he said, "and as long as I can stay young I'll keep on umpiring." He does as much umpiring as he can find time for in the four and one-half month season that extends to Labor Day.

Hobbying for the dean of local umpires is not confined to making the decisions at ball games for he also and quite naturally enjoys the game itself. Gray views the baseball games on television whenever he can.

When asked how he felt with regard to the TV umpires, Earl expressed sympathy for them. He described them as honest and sincere men doing the best they could. "I'd miss up on some calls," said Gray reflectively, "because we're all human."

Although he knows that he never will get the chance, Earl would like to officiate at a major league game sometime.

Gray has had many interesting experiences in his more than a quarter century of umpiring. High on his list of memories is the time a very antagonistic catcher and manager came up to Earl and complimented him on his fine job of umpiring even though their team had lost that play-off battle.

Another time a spectator knocked him down after he had completed calling a game.

Gray helped organize the Inner-county league in 1936 and in 1947 with Harry Hunter started the Suburban Umpires association, of which Earl is the director. In this capacity he schedules member umpires for the various games in the neighboring area.

Summing up his umpiring career, Earl explained that he feels he has made a lot of friends over the years. "Umpiring is an inspiration," he said.

Plymouth Merchants semi-pro baseball squad was handed its second loss of the young season last Sunday in the Inner-County league as the Ralph Ellsworth nine from Garden City pinned a close defeat on the local club. Final count was 4-1.

Only score that the Merchants could muster while bowing to the visiting team was a fifth-inning home-run off the bat of Elmer Rousseaux.

The Ellsworth team jumped off to a two-run lead in the second inning on the strength of a four-bagger by D. Snyder with one man on base. Then in the fifth stanza the visitors garnered two more tallies.

After Severt singled and Lightell slashed out a double placing Ellsworth men on second and third, Collura singled home the third and fourth runs for the winners.

Merchants got back one of these runs in their half of the fifth when Rousseaux smacked his round-tripper avoiding the shut-out. Sloppy base-running prevented another run via Rousseaux's homer when Kessler, who had been on base at the time, failed to touch third on his trip around and was called out nullifying the second run.

Despite the three-run difference in the score, the contest was evenly waged as far as the pitching and hitting were concerned. Ellsworth's hurler allowed five hits and two walks while fanning seven and Eddie Hock, who went the route for the Merchants, was charged with six hits and one walk plus recording seven strikeouts. Hock also got two of the Merchants' collection of five hits.

Rounding out the hits for Plymouth's squad were Robert Kubitsky and Norm Mohrley, who each got singles. The Ellsworth club committed a pair of errors while the Merchants bobbled one.

The Sunday previous the Plymouth squad was defeated in a wild-scoring game which went into extra innings before being decided. Northville edged the locals, 13-9, in the tenth to kick off the Merchants' brand-new season on a sad note.

Next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the Merchants move over to the Inkster park ball diamond where they will square off against Lincoln Park's squad with the locals still seeking their initial win of the year.

Day Twirls Second No-Hitter To Nab Rock's Fifth Straight

Dick Day, the hottest thing to hit the local sports scene in quite a while, covered himself with more glory last Thursday, when he overcame a sore back to hurl his second no-hitter in three games this year.

Plymouth won its fifth game of the year to strengthen tight hold on first place in the league, beating Belleville by a 4-2 score, but it was Day who put on the big show for Coach Gus Gorguze's red hot Rocks. Bothered by a bad back, which he hurt sliding, Day wasn't as fast as he had been in his other two starts, but, with the wind blowing in his favor, he set the Belleville swingers down without any trouble until the seventh inning.

Then, with the Rocks holding a 4-0 advantage, two errors by the usually steady Jack Carter and a walk loaded up the bases with one out. The next Tiger hitter dribbled a slow roller back to the mound. Day stooped to field the ball for the play at the plate, but his back went bad when he bent over to scoop up the ball and after he finally could gather it in, he threw it over Catcher John Agnew's head to allow two unearned runs to score. Then Day settled down to get the next pair of hitters without further difficulty to chalk up the win.

Leading the Plymouth hitting attack, Carter and Hank Bonga each poked out a pair of safeties. Carter drove in a pair of runs with a long double in the third to compensate for his misplays that set up the two unearned runs in the final frame. Kenny Calhoun, Bob Middleton, and Dale Wilkins dropped in a hit each to complete the Plymouth total of seven off the Belleville hurler.

In building up the 4-0 lead for Day, the Rocks took advantage of some errors on the part of the Tigers. One of the men that Carter drove home had reached first by means of a booted ground ball. Another run that went on the scoreboard for Plymouth came in the fourth inning when two Belleville flychasers allowed Day's blooper to drop for a two-base error. Bob Middleton promptly plated Day with a long single to left. The fourth run was produced by the bat of Kenny Calhoun as he drove Carter home with his single.

Day now has won all five ball games Plymouth has played, capturing three in starting assignments and twice in relief. He has pitched twice a week since the season opened. Over the five game stretch, Day has twirled 25 innings without having an earned run charged to his record. During that span, only five hits have been collected by opposing batters, while 46 have seen a third strike whiz past.

This Belleville tilt completed the first swing around the league for Coach Gorguze and his snappy ball club. With the Rocks league leaders to date, they stand as prime targets for the other squads in the loop.

Tennis Squad Loses Twice

For the second time this season, Trenton's powerful tennis squad clobbered Plymouth's young net team. The Trojans pounded out a 6-0 victory over Coach John McFall's charges Monday, May 9, on the home courts of the down river school.

The Rocks played without their number 1 singles man, Jim Zukosky, but he wouldn't have made any difference as Trenton just had too many guns. In the six matches, Plymouth won only 10 sets. Bob Bateman lost in singles, 6-1, 6-0, and Art Losse and Doug Lock followed suit, losing by lopsided scores.

The trio of doubles teams all fell by big margins too. Jerry Steele and Lee Huber dropped their match, 6-1, 6-1, Jim Gibson and Dave Bowen bowed, 6-0, 6-4, and Bill Brandell and Bob Kemnitz couldn't do any differently, falling by scores of 6-1, 6-0.

This marked the fourth loss in five matches for the Rocks who boast only one lone victory over Northville.

The netters dropped their third match Thursday, May 5, to Bentley, as the Bulldogs edged out Coach McFall's lads, 4-3, on the Riverside courts.

The Rocks came out even in the singles, with Jim Zukosky, playing number 1, and Art Losse, number 3 man for Plymouth, winning their matches. Both boys, after dropping the opening set, came back to gain the victory. Bob Bateman and Doug Lock, number 2 and 4 men, respectively, lost in straight sets to their opponents.

In the doubles, Plymouth's only victory came in the number 3 match. Dave Bowen and Jim Gibson whipped Bentley's two-some, 7-5, 6-3. The other two teams, Bill Brandell and Lee Huber and Jerry Steele and Bob Kemnitz, lost their tilts in straight sets.

Today the Rocks meet Southfield for the first time this year on the Riverside courts.

No other major city in the world has as many factory workers or as large a volume of manufactured products as Detroit.

Golfers Finish Third In 6-B League Meet

The four schools in the Suburban 6 League that support golf teams sent their hopefuls to Idyl Wyld Golf Course last Friday for an 18 hole playoff that would decide the league champ for 1955. Bentley's fine quartet copped the crown by scoring well under Redford Union, last year's co-champ. The four Bulldogs totaled 360 to whip RU by 12 blows. Finishing a distant third, Plymouth, co-champs with the Panthers in '54, had a score of 410. Allen Park brought up the rear with a sky-high 448.

Ralph Green of Redford Union's runners-up was the medalist for the decisive match on the strength of his 83 score. For Plymouth, Tom Carmichael was low with 98 strokes, followed by Dave Beegle at 100, Tom Sawyer at 102, and Al Kolak, who soared to 110.

The new champs will be the first team Plymouth meets after the Regionals. Bentley invades the Plymouth Country Club Monday, May 16.

Plymouth JV's Edge Belleville With 6-1 Win

Plymouth's Junior Varsity ball club racked up its third win of the year last Thursday when Coach Charlie Ketterer's charges rapped Belleville's reserves for a 6-1 decision.

The junior Rocks stroked out only five hits, but were helped along by four walks and two Belleville errors. Three of the four Rocks who were handed a free pass to first base came around to score.

Bob Cloar pitched a fine game for Plymouth as he limited the Tigers to two hits, both singles, and didn't give up the lone run until the fifth inning when he was coasting along on a five-run lead. Cloar struck out five of the visitors as he gained his first win of the year.

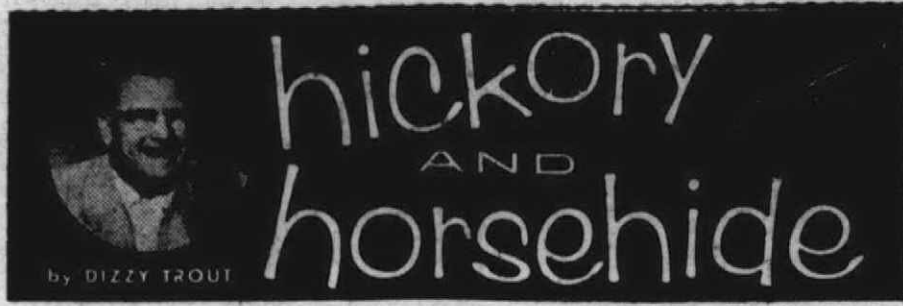

Pacing the attack on the Belleville hurler, John Thomas pounded out a pair of singles in three trips to the plate and Dave DeCoster collected two hits and a walk in three times at bat. Biff Tait singled in the first inning for the only other Plymouth base-knock.

The JayVees started off fast as they collected three runs in the first inning on two walks, two hits, and a fly ball. Danny Christensen and DeCoster, the first two batters in the Plymouth line-up, drew walks. Then Thomas and Tait delivered back-to-back singles to account for two runs. When Dave Grow flied out, Thomas scored after the catch to give Clear a pair in the fifth to bring the total to six.

In a game that was postponed from April 25, Plymouth topped Allen Park's Junior Varsity, 13-2, Tuesday, May 3. Two big innings, in which Coach Ketterer's JayVees scored 11 of their runs, were just what the Rocks needed to chalk up their second win of the year. Plymouth scored seven times in the third and four more times in the sixth to wrap up the decision.

Leading the 12-hit attack that the Rocks unleashed, John Thomas rapped out three safeties in five trips and Harvey Wells and Dave Grow each collected a pair of hits. Dan Christensen, Dave DeCoster, Don Alsbro, Gary Miranda, Bob Jenkins, and Dick Anderson each garnered lone hits to complete the Plymouth total.

Jenkins started and was the winning pitcher for the second time this year. Stan Good came on in the fifth and Dick Anderson twirled the final frame.

One of the prime sources of talent for professional baseball is the American Legion baseball program.

Last year 237 active major league players were "graduates" of Legion baseball. Since its inception in 1926, 1,527 boys have traveled the glittering trail from the Legion diamond to the big league stadium.

Lou Brissie, former pitcher and Philadelphia club legend and now Commissioner of American Legion Junior Baseball, estimates that perhaps 3,000 or more Legion ball players enter the minor leagues every year.

Every big league ball club has its share of Legion graduates. With the Tigers, among others, are Al Aber, Ray Boone, Jim Delsing, Ned Garver, Steve Gromek, Fred Hatfield, Harvey Kuenn, Red Wilson, and Jay Porter.

But vastly more important than its imprint on pro ball is the Legion baseball program's effect upon juvenile delinquency. It is regarded as an excellent curb on hoodliganism.

This isn't some corn dished up by Old Diz. It reflects the sentiments of people like J. Edgar Hoover, West Point officials and major leaguers themselves.

A boy actively participating in a baseball game is removed from gangs and street corners and is less likely to wind up in serious trouble.

Character building is the principal product of the Legion's program, which instills into players 16 years of age and younger lessons in good sportsmanship, fair play, team work, self reliance and respect for rules.

Blankets Nation Even if they didn't make the big leagues, more than 15 million boys have learned good citizenship in a program that extends throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii.

In addition to playing a regular schedule, Legion teams get an opportunity to participate in state and national tournaments. Moreover, a photo of the boy selected as the "player of the year" is placed in a plaque, along with those of baseball's immortals, at the Cooperstown Hall of Fame for a year.

Old Diz is proud to be numbered among the Legion's graduates.

I remember that when I was 13, I hitched a ride from our farm near New Goshen, Indiana, to try out for the Clinton Legion team. Near the end of an intrasquad game, I gave up six runs.

Everything was against me that day, for I was unable to hitch a ride home and wound up by walking the 12 miles back with my glove in my pocket.

Later on, however, I made the Terre Haute team and played third base for two years, learning the valuable lesson in the American Legion's Hickory and Horsehide program of how to get along with people.

Red Wing Hockey Star Guest of Elks Friday

Gordie Howe, star forward on Detroit's Red Wing hockey team, will make a personal appearance before the Father and Son Banquet at the Elks Club, Plymouth, Friday, May 13th at 6:30 p.m.

The program will include film highlights of the 1955 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup Playoff games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey described by Gordie. A round-table discussion will be held following the presentation.

His appearance at Plymouth is part of a state-wide tour designed to enlighten sport enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game. The tour, sponsored by The Stroh Brewery Company, will continue through the months of May, June and July.

Mr. R. J. McAllister is chairman in charge of the arrangements for the special sports program.

RU, Bentley Whip Golfers With Ease

Plymouth's hapless golf squad dropped its fourth match of the season Monday, when Redford Union, a team the Rocks had tied earlier in the year, trounced Coach John Sandmann's quartet by 32 strokes, 173-205.

The low man for the locals, Dave Beegle, who shot a 48, was topped by all four of the Panther swingers. RU's George Swinger earned medalist honors for the match by belting out a five-over-par 41. Next in the final scoring came Greene, Kesky, and Harold Sweringer, who shot 42, 44, and 46, respectively, for Redford Union.

Following Beegle for Plymouth, Tom Carmichael and Tom Sawyer each came home with 52's and Al Kolak swung 53 times.

Thursday, May 5, Bentley outclassed the Rock linksters by 18 strokes, 162-180, in a nine hole match played over the Bulldogs' home layout, Idyl Wyld Golf Club.

For the first time this season, the Plymouth quartet met a top notch golfer. Wally Ickes, Bentley's big man, matched par 36 in a blazing round that saw him score two birdies, the same number of bogies, and five pars. Ickes was far and away the outstanding player on the course as he earned medalist honors by four blows. Tied at 40 were two other members of the winning squad, Bob O'Neil and Ray Thompson. The other Bentley man, Gary Whitner, shot a 46.

For Coach John Sandmann's foursome, Al Kolak was low man for the first time this year as he shot a 43. Following Kolak, Tom Carmichael carded a 44, and Tom Sawyer and Captain Dave Beegle totaled 46 and 47, respectively. In shooting his 43, Kolak matched par on four of the nine holes, but soared into bogey scores on the other five. Sawyer and Beegle each parred three holes, while Carmichael failed to hit for a single par, but dropped in a pair of birdies.

The world's highest artificial ski jump is located at Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Rock Thinclads Swamp Allen Park For Second Track Decision, 76-33

The Rocks really poured it on in winning their second track meet of the season over Allen Park last Thursday. Coach Kiehn Baughman's thinclads took all but two first places as they swamped the visiting Jaguars, 76-33.

Russ Mecklenburg, Jerry Swain, Bob Danol and company completely wrecked the Parkers by taking 11 first places and five seconds to all but shut out the visitors. Victories in the 440 and the shot put were all that saved the Jaguars from total humiliation.

Mecklenburg had his best day of the season and his whole career as he piled up 15 points on the strength of firsts in the 100, 220, and broad jump. Russ, who had been sick prior to the meet, didn't appear to be in anything but top shape as he gained his trio of blue ribbons. In the broad jump, he leaped 20' 10" for his best effort this year.

Swain also had a great day by winning both the high and low hurdles and turning in a fine anchor leg in the 880 relay to nip the AP runner at the tape. Jerry totaled 11 1/4 points for his day's work.

The third part of Plymouth's big three came through with another pair of firsts. Bob Danol remained undefeated in the mile as he won the event for the fourth time and added a first in the pole vault for 10 points.

With Mecklenburg, Swain, and Danol winning seven events between them, there wasn't too much left for the rest of the team. Paul Cummings and Tom Ferguson earned the other pair of individual firsts for the Rocks. Cummings soared 5'7" for the second straight week to cop the high jump and Ferguson topped the field of half milers in that race. Both Plymouth relay teams finished in front of the Jaguar quartets, but in completely different fashion.

The medley relay foursome of Mike Conrad, Chuck Westover, Chuck McKenna, and Dick Showers ran away from their counterparts from Allen Park, winning by seven seconds. In the 880 relay, after AP had built up a formidable lead on the Rocks' first three runners, Westover, Showers, and Conrad, Swain took over the baton to finish with a spurt and nudge the Jaguars' anchor man by .1 of a second.

The totals of the meet: 1) 120 yd. high hurdles—1. Swain(P), 2. Faber(AP), 3. Anthony(P), winning time: 16.6; 2) Medley relay — 1. Plymouth (Showers, Westover, McKenna, Conrad), 2. AP, time: 2:43.2; 3) 100 yd. dash—1. Mecklenburg(P), 2. Atkinson(AP), 3. Williams(P), time: 11.1; 4) mile—1. Danol(P), 2. Polkamus(AP), 3. Dysert(AP), time: 5:14.6; 5) 440 yd. run—1. Rafels(AP), 2. Walasky(P), 3. McKenna(P), time: 56.6; 6) 180 yd. low hurdles—1. Swain(P), 2. Faber(AP), 3. Anthony(P), time: 21.5; 7) 220 yd. dash—1. Mecklenburg(P), 2. Williams(P), 3. Atkinson(AP), time: 24.6; 8) 880 yr. run—1. Ferguson(P), 2. Unaitis(AP), 3. Norgrove(P), time: 2:13.9; 9) 880 relay — 1. Plymouth (Westover, Showers, Conrad, Swain), 2. AP, time: 1:37.9; 10) shot put—1. Eilsler(AP), 2. Mills(P), 3. Spigarrell(P) and Flynn(AP), height: 9' vault—1. Danol(P), 2. (Tie) Jewe(P) and Flynn(AP), height: 9' 6"; 12) high jump—1. Cummings(P), 2. Flynn(AP), 3. (Tie) Young and Ferguson(P), height: 5'7"; 13) broad jump—1. Mecklenburg(P), 2. Conrad(P), 3. Flynn(AP); distance: 20' 10".

Hoey — I understand they are planning to require every divorcee in the movie colony in California to wear a tag showing how many husbands she has had — as a warning to unsuspecting men.

Foey — Oh, I don't think that would be practical. All the printing presses in the state couldn't print enough tags for the purpose.

Quill, Scroll Installs New Livonia Chapter

With a candlelight ceremony, the Quill and Scroll members of Plymouth high school, under the direction of President Thalia Bairas, installed a chapter of that organization at Bentley high school, Livonia, on the evening of May 5.

Five Bentley students were inducted at the ceremony. Advisor for the new club is John Comstock.

Band to Participate in Two More Events

The Plymouth high school band has two more major events on its agenda for the year.

One is a tentative outdoor concert to be given in the park at Starkweather school, date for which has not been set.

The final event in the 1954-55 season will be the Memorial Day parade in which the band has been invited to participate. Yesterday the band presented a short concert at Allen Elementary school. This was the first time since the opening of the school that any band had been there. However, Band Director Laurence Livingston hopes to start a grade-school band at the school similar to those at Smith, Bird and Starkweather.

Have you tried going to church, and leaving your problems there, each Sunday, recently?

Students Taking Summer Jobs Need S. S. Cards

The Pilgrim Prints received a notice this week from the Social Security Administration informing them that students who plan on working this summer need a social security card. Mentioned also was the fact that if a person has lost his card the time to apply for a duplicate is now.

When applying for a job one should be sure to show the card to his employer, so that he may copy the name and number exactly as they are on the card. This will insure the proper crediting of earnings to the account.

If one changes his name he must be sure to take his card to the social security office to get a card showing the new name but the same number, as he will need only one number throughout his lifetime.

In order to apply for a card, contact the social security office. The Detroit-Northwest district office is located at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan.

Band Gives Concert Before Audience of 200

Approximately 200 residents attended the annual formal Graduation Concert presented by members of the local high school band Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Under the direction of Laurence Livingston, the group presented a number of light classical and popular pieces in addition to marches. Guest conductor for the event was Ray Miller, professor and assistant band director at Wayne university.

Although no admission was charged a donation was taken, netting $40 towards the purchase of new band uniforms.

Post, Auxiliary Join VFW Rally

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary will participate in the Fourth District V.F.W. convention rally to be hosted by Northville Post No. 4012 on Sunday, May 15.

Election of a district commander will highlight the convention as well as the election of two members of the steering committee.

John Kulick of Detroit will succeed Lloyd L. Alexander, River Rouge, as commander. Detroit's Joseph Varga will probably be elevated to senior vice commander. The district is backing Marine DeLee of Detroit for state junior vice commander.

The ladies' auxiliary will meet at the Pruss Szelong Post No. 5872, on Joy road, Detroit.

The Fourth district, largest in the state in total membership, recently placed second in the scope of community service programs and the number of posts participating. Thirty-eight Wayne County posts will send delegates to the rally.

Clarence Schumacher of Rockford, state chief of staff of the V. F. W., will be speaker at the rally.

The first agricultural college in America was Michigan State College, established in 1855.

Bulletins Available At Extension Service

The Wayne County Agricultural Extension service, 3930 Newberry street, Wayne, has announced the following bulletins are available on request:

Chemical Weed Control in Vegetable Crops, Frost Protection with Sprinkler Irrigation, Starter Solutions, Chemical Weed Control in Small Fruits and Orchards, Recommended Vegetable Varieties for Michigan, Cabbage and Broccoli Production and Growing Muskmelons in Michigan.

The Wayne office stated that according to new federal regulations, after July 22, 1955 farm produce can be seized and confiscated if there are chemical residues over certain minimum tolerances.

No complications need result, it added, if some knowledge exists of how long each chemical lasts on the plant leaves and manufacturer's directions are followed. Labels should be read carefully; one part per million (P.P.M.) is equal to one ounce in about 31 tons of vegetables.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

There's no trick to whipping up Spoon Bread, according to former North Carolina resident, Mrs. Donald S. Urquhart of 265 Arthur, shown above taking the initial steps in its preparation.

"Spoon Bread" Heads List Of Favorites

"Spoon Bread" A famous dish from the Old South makes its appearance in this week's series with a recipe for Virginia Spoon Bread recommended to us by Mrs. Donald S. Urquhart of 265 Arthur.

Though a native of the Carolinas rather than Virginia, Mrs. Urquhart likes to serve this popular southern dish with sausages and tossed salad for luncheon or Sunday night suppers.

Here's the way she makes her favorite recipe:

Virginia Spoon Bread
1 cup of yellow corn meal
2 cups of milk
1 teaspoon of salt
1 teaspoon of baking powder
2 tablespoons of melted shortening
1 cup of milk
3 well beaten egg yolks
3 stiffly beaten egg whites
Cook corn meal and two cups of milk until consistency of mush. Remove from heat; add salt, baking powder, shortening and one cup of milk. Add egg yolks and fold in egg whites.

Bake in greased two quart baking dish in slow oven (325 degrees) for one hour. Spoon onto warm plates and top with butter. Makes six servings.

Parfait, Rum-Flavored Dessert Add Decorative Note to Meal

It is a comforting thought to know your desserts are ready and waiting. These desserts in addition to being pretty and good are perfect to serve after any main meal where a small serving is indicated.

Bake in an oven (350 degrees) until brown, about 15 minutes.

Rum Syrup

Heat 1 cup water with 1/2 cup sugar until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat and pour in 1 cup of rum flavoring.

When Baba cakes are baked, turn out of baking mold onto serving plates. While it is still hot, pour about 3/4 of the rum sauce over Baba cakes. It will absorb immediately. Just before serving, pour remaining rum sauce over Babas and top with whipped cream.

Use Garnish To Accent Meat Dishes

Garnishes for meat have been compared to jewelry for a dress. As the right jewelry sets-off your dress, the correct garnish will add the finishing touch to your meat dish. However, the same as jewelry may be overdone—so can garnishes. Keep them simple and let them work into your menus when possible.

Here are a few suggestions: When serving braised pork chops alternate chops on the platter with bundles of buttered broccoli. Set off a broiled ham slice with pickled pineapple cubes (cubes marinated in pickled peach juice) threaded on skewers. Minted carrots are ideal with lamb chops. Garnish a half of ham with orange cups filled with hubarb or with lemon baskets of apple sauce.

A standing rib roast of beef is cleverly garnished with tomato toppers—slices of tomato and onion topped with stuffed olive wrapped with bacon and pan-fried. With roast ham have cucumber cups filled with pickle relish. A pork loin roast is temptingly surrounded with orange cups of cranberry sauce.

Clean Windows

A dash of ammonia in warm water and soft, clean cloths or a soft brush and squeegee are what Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company recommends for cleaning windows and mirrors.

Have some leftover roast pork? It makes into a nice lunch-apple salad when combined with apples and celery. Serve with tart mayonnaise.

Here's Way To Keep Veils Looking Pert

The veil on your hat will do its best to flatter you only when you keep it stiff, pert and fresh looking.

Reviving a veil that has become limp and lifeless is easy to do, says a clothing specialist. Without taking the veil off the hat, you can press it plain or between two thicknesses of waxed paper.

When merely pressing the veil, a layer of tissue paper over the veiling prevents catching the tip of the iron in the mesh.

For longer lasting results, the expert suggests stiffening the veil with the use of gelatin. With this method you will have to remove the veil from the hat. Use the proportion of one teaspoon gelatin for each cup of water. Soften the gelatin in a little cold water and fill the cup with warm water.

Dip the veil in the solution and squeeze out the excess. Then, explains the specialist, stretch the veil to its original shape by pinning it to a flat surface.

The expert adds that when you use a veil correctly it is flattering and may do just the trick in making your hat becoming. A veil softens the lines of a severe hat and may add to its height or width if draped the right way.

Dark veils, especially blue, worn over the face often make the skin appear clearer.

If you have wondered about how long you can safely keep beef, frankfurters, and bologna in a home refrigerator, keep this in mind. Roast beef may be kept a few days in the refrigerator if it is covered and separated from broth or gravy. Frankfurters and bologna keep better if unliced. Usually you can keep frankfurters safely for about a week if refrigerated. You should beware of sliminess and off-odors: they are signs of spoilage.

If you like to use honey in recipes for cakes or cookies, it is better to replace only half the sugar with honey. If you do substitute honey for sugar in a recipe, you should cut down the amount of liquid by 1/2 cup for each cup of honey used.

Perfect for TV Parties

Apples and cheese — nothing has been invented to beat this old-time flavor combination. So easy to fix in a smart new hors d'oeuvre for drop-in guests and the family. Called Apple Hors D'Oeuvre; mix some tonight.

Spinach Ring Makes Pretty, One-Dish Meal

One dish in itself—no trouble and especially easy to serve. Quick frozen chopped spinach ring centered with frozen chicken a la king. Can be fixed in such a short time and such a pretty dish to serve. A tossed green salad and piping hot rolls will make the dinner.

1 package frozen chopped spinach
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package frozen chicken a la king
2 tablespoons butter
Drop solidly frozen chopped spinach into 1/2 cup boiling water with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bring to boil, turning and breaking block with fork to hasten thawing. When water is bubbling rapidly in center as well as around edges of pan, cover and cook one minute, or until done. Drain thoroughly. Add two tablespoons butter. Pack firmly into small buttered ring mold. Allow to stand in warm place five or ten minutes. Unmold carefully. Fill center with chicken a la king which has been heated in top of double boiler. You can also use creamed mushrooms, eggs, salmon or tuna for the center of the ring. Serves 3 to 4.

The effect of space in our homes can be created by the use of glass, mirrors, partitions and walls which aren't ceiling height, and built-in furniture and appliances.

IT'S ALL BUICK

for only $2251⁸⁸ * delivered locally!

YOU certainly can throw out your chest and call this Buick yours.

Because—as comparison shows—the dollar difference between this brawny beauty and the well-known smaller cars is virtually erased.

So if you've been thinking a Buick was out of reach—let yourself go. You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car—and the price we show here proves it.

Buick Sales Soaring To New Highs

That's a major reason for the phenomenal success of Buick today. So much so, that production and sales are hitting new peaks to move Buick more firmly into the tight circle of America's best sellers.

And a companion reason for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of cars to give you a choice in any price class—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But pure and simple, it's all the car you get for your money that's winning so many new owners to Buick.

It's the extra pride you feel, the extra room you enjoy, the extra comfort you get, the extra safety you sense—from Buick styling, Buick size, Buick ride-engineering, Buick solidity of structure.

It's the extra lift and snap and ginger you get from Buick high-compression V8 power—and the fun and thrill of bossing such eager might.

As we said—if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—even with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo[†] at modest extra cost.

So why settle for anything less than a Buick? Drop in on us, take the wheel, press that pedal, and see for yourself what a whale of an automobile—and a whale of a buy—today's Buick really is.

[†]Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

DID YOU KNOW—

- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL includes as standard equipment at no extra cost a long list of items usually charged for as "extras" by other cars—items such as direction signals, automatic lighting of glove compartment, variable speed windshield wipers with vacuum booster, and so on?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

What!

Still doing the Black Bottom?

As you can see, we don't mean the flapper-day dance!... but a routine that's just as exhausting—scrubbing and scouring black-bottomed pots and pans.

Now that's something that an electric cook never has to do. You see, electric heat is clean as light. That's why kitchen walls and curtains stay clean longer, too.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

SIMILAR IN APPEARANCE to a common hot air register, this Electriglas radiant heat unit is the newest thing in modern heating. Installed in his home by Ted Campbell of Campbell Electrical Contractors, this easy-to-operate arrangement employs finger-tip thermostat control as one of its stand out features. With no furnace or chimney to worry about, an even heat is produced by the use of electricity flowing through metal imbedded in glass. This contemporary heating unit may be had in the square style as pictured or in oblong design to accommodate a tall, narrow space.

When building your new home, remember that the lower grades of hardwood flooring are often preferred over the higher grades because of their pleasingly varied coloration and interesting grain patterns, says Miss Dorothy Clarke, Consultant on interior decoration to the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association. "Many decorators agree that these features give the floors more pronounced character. Floors of second grade maple, for instance, are easy to live with, and they cost much less than first grade installations," she maintains.

In moving small trees and shrubs, place one or more of them in a galvanized steel basket. Equipped with two side handles, a basket of this type may be carried by two persons. Used in this way, the basket distributes heavy loads so that they may be handled easily.

Pool Not Just A Dream for Homeowner

Workmen pour concrete apron as a finishing touch after swimming pool itself has been completed. The pool also is concrete, sprayed on by Gunita process.

A private swimming pool is a home-owner's dream — and one which is coming true more and more every year. With simplified methods of construction, American Builder magazine says, a swimming pool is no longer a luxury item but a definite possibility for any property with a firm, undisturbed soil.

A pool should be located where it can be seen from the most lived-in room in the house. Waterproof concrete, sprayed by a Gunita process, is frequently used in constructing a pool. Walks may be built of non-slip flagstone or brick.

"Pool walks should be at least 3 feet wide on all sides, with additional space at the spring-board," according to American Builder. "Thus, a 20x40-foot pool with walks and a 12-foot spring-board will require an overall area of 26x54 feet minimum. The rule-of-thumb method for computing the size of a pool is to allow 36 square feet of water area for each swimmer and 100 square feet for each diver."

The deep end of the pool should be placed so that the sun is at the diver's back. The entire area should be open to sunlight but not far removed from shade and shrubbery.

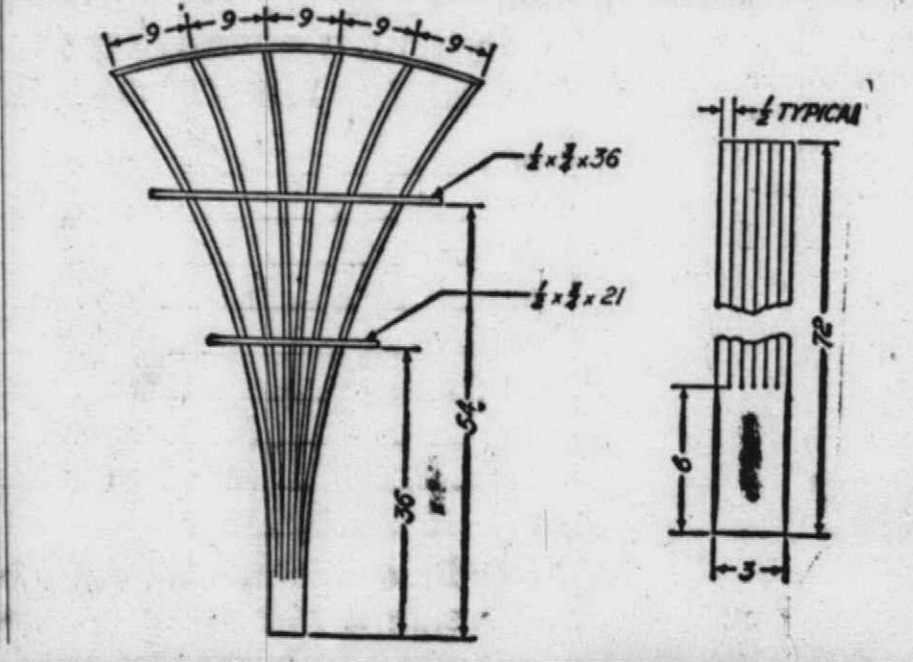

HERE'S HOW... MAKE A TRELLIS

A fan-type trellis for the garden or lawn is easily made by the home craftsman. Straight-grained lumber is needed. The craftsman should seek the advice of his local lumber dealer as to the kind and grade of lumber to be used.

To make the fan, rip a 1 by 3 by 72-inch board into six equally spaced splines, leaving 6 inches at the base unripped. Spread the ends of the splines 9 inches apart along a 45-inch strip of 1/2 by 3/4-inch stock, and fasten each joint with two 4-penny finishing nails.

Spread bars 21 inches and 36 inches long, respectively, are placed 36 and 54 inches from the base and fastened with 3-penny finishing nails.

Mount the trellis on a stake.

Many Special Types of Glass Available For Color and Heat Absorption Qualities

There was a time when it might have been said the choice of glass for the windows of your home was about as varied as the body colors of the "Model T" Ford.

You could get any color Ford you wanted... as long as it was black. The selection of glass products was almost as strictly limited.

Not so today. There are many types, combinations and kinds of glass available, some designed for special functions, others insulate as well as provide transparent windows and still others are artistically patterned to obscure vision while transmitting light.

Generally, the glass most commonly used in modern homes can be grouped into four categories each of which includes a range of different products. The four general classifications are polished plate glass, window glass, patterned glass and opaque glass.

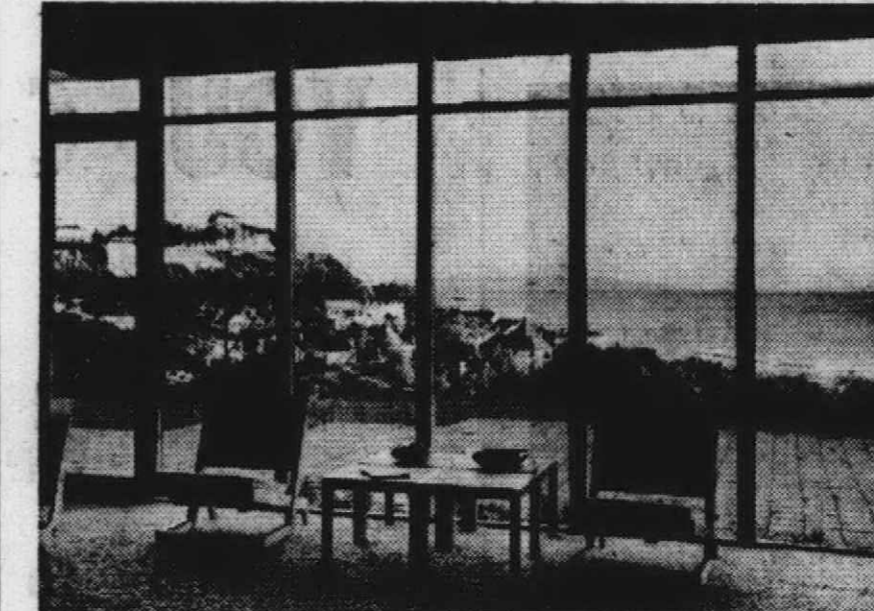

The "aristocrat" of the glass family is polished plate. Mass production has brought this once luxury material into broad use and it is now found extensively in modern homes in large window areas because of its greater freedom from distortion and its lustrous finish.

The major distinguishing characteristic of plate glass is that it is ground and polished on both sides to make its inner and outer surfaces parallel to eliminate distortion and to give it a characteristic sheen. Glass chemists and engineers have developed new types of plate glass, widening the selection of products and developing new products to accomplish specific ends.

Heat absorbing plate glass is one such "working" material. Special chemicals are added to the raw materials of this glass which, according to glass technologists, enable it to absorb 54 per cent of the sun's radiated heat.

This glass, cool blue-green in color, is used chiefly for windows exposed to the summer sun's direct rays. When used for this purpose, the glass substantially reduces the amount of heat gained from solar radiation, thus helping maintain cooler interiors.

Thermopane insulating glass, a permanent, double-glazed unit made up of two panes of glass with a space of dehydrated air between, is also available with heat absorbing plate glass as the outer pane. The combination of Thermopane's insulating qualities with the reduction in solar heat gain achieved with heat absorbing plate glass has made heat absorbing Thermopane popular for use in east and west elevations of air-conditioned homes.

Thermopane itself crosses the boundaries of the general product categories since it is available both in plate glass and window glass or with an inner pane of plate glass and an outer pane of patterned glass. It is made in thicknesses of one inch (two panes of 1/4-inch plate glass and a 1/2-inch air space) and 1/2 inch (two panes of 1/4-inch plate glass or two panes of double strength window glass with a 1/4-inch air space).

Chief advantages of insulating glass are that it eliminates the need for storm sash, enables the use of wider expanses of glass even in regions with severe winters, saves fuel by reducing heat loss in winter, keeps interiors cooler in summer, does not collect condensation as readily as single glass and helps keep interiors quieter by excluding more outside noise.

In addition to regular and heat absorbing, plate glass is made in gold, peach and blue colors. The golden plate absorbs 99.7 per cent of the sun's bleaching ultra violet rays affording a measure of protection to the colors of upholstery, fabrics and carpets. All three varieties of colored plate glass are used for special decorative effects and for mirrors.

In addition to a slight chemical difference, window glass differs from plate glass in that it is not ground and polished. The glass

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. D-340

DESIGN D-340. This is an ideal plan for expansion, with provisions for a future capacity of four fine bedrooms. As the second floor can be left unfinished for the present, this house has the advantage of permitting the addition of two bedrooms and a bath as needed.

The first floor shows an excellent kitchen with a large area for dining, a snack bar and good light. Closet facilities include two coat closets, linen cabinet, wardrobe closets, built-in trays, storage closet and attic storage space.

There is a full basement. Floor area on the ground is 1084 sq. feet, and the cubage is 23,408 cu. feet.

Exterior finish is brick veneer to the cornice with wide siding in the gable ends and dormer.

For further information about DESIGN D-340, write Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Sandpaper Lore

Sandpaper is graded according to the size of the particles of grit with which the sandpaper is coated. One type is made to be used dry; the other, to be used either dry or with a lubricant such as water, naphtha or oil. The second type is known as Wet or Dry Sandpaper.

Sandpaper to be used dry is graded as 1-2-1-0-2-0-4-0-6-0 etc. The larger the number of zeroes the finer the grit—thus 6-0 is a finer grit paper than 4-0.

Wet or Dry Sandpaper is graded as 80 to 600. Here, again, the larger the number the finer the grit.

Nation's Teachers Must Keep High Standards Despite Education Problem Due to Student Rise

America's teachers have the task of maintaining high standards of scholarship in the classroom despite the problems of "mass education" caused by an increasing flood of students.

This was a recurring thought of speakers at 400 of the nation's leading educators gathered at Michigan State College recently for a Centennial year symposium on "General Education," sponsored by the Basic College.

Scholars will not disappear merely because of mass education, observed Dr. Crane Brinton, professor of ancient and modern history at Harvard University. Even though millions will go through the educational process, and the process will have to be adjusted to accept the people, scholarship will not be swamped out of existence, he said.

And Dr. Brinton warned, "we must not try to sweeten the spinach and we should not try to ram too many facts into the minds of our students."

Although America is developing a highly-specialized civilization, men are not merely doctors, lawyers or engineers but citizens and human beings, said Dr. Clarence H. Faust, president of the Fund for the Advancement of Education. He said educators must be concerned with the dangers of "over-specialization."

Dr. Irving J. Lee, head of the department of public speaking at Northwestern University, pointed out to educators that lack of clear communication — in writing, listening, reading and speaking — is the main cause of "trouble" in everyday life. He stressed the need for effective communication skills and also cited the importance of understanding the assumptions, beliefs and attitudes of others.

Viewing general education from the standpoints of business, labor and agriculture, leaders in those areas said education must continue to contribute toward advancement in the three fields.

Bruce Palmer, president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark, N. J., said business and education must continue to serve each other in the exchange of services to acquaint the public with business. Don Stevens, education director of the Michigan CIO council, urged that good as well as unfavorable situations in America be examined in the classroom.

Roger Fleming, secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said education must show the way for young people to have "a critical and self-examining attitude toward ideas." Schools should help students develop an "insatiable desire for truth," he added.

Many students are entering the study of law and medicine ill-prepared, said a leading figure in each of the two fields. "We are grateful for and conscious of the good work being done," said E. Blythe Stason, dean of the School of Law at the University of Michigan. "But the unvarnished fact is that, with a few shining exceptions, students come to law school unprepared."

Many students entering law school, Stason charged, "tragically often are unable to think; many cannot write well; many cannot spell common words, and many are uninformed about facts of general knowledge." A possible cause of this, he said, is that perhaps today's complex universities "are trying to cover too much of the waterfront."

The danger in medical training is that, with increased specializing, the doctor is inclined to treat disease as a purely technical problem, said Dr. Ernest Irons, Chicago physician and past president of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Irons said the medical student must be prepared to know his future patients as men and women. He said this requires character, integrity, humanity, conscientiousness and a love for the practice of medicine.

Pointing out the purpose of Michigan State's Basic College was Dr. Floyd W. Reeves, consultant to President John A. Hannah, who said it is an opportunity for the student to explore broad areas and assume the responsibility of citizens of a democracy." Dr. Reeves also stressed the importance of adult education in America's expanding society. "The world may not wait for young people in school to demonstrate their skill," he said.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

To grow the largest crop of tomatoes from a given ground area, the plants should be pruned and staked. Each plant will bear less than a plant allowed to spread over the ground, but the area occupied will produce a larger crop.

A picket fence along the north, east and west sides of a vegetable plot will enlarge the garden area perceptibly, making air rights available for growing not only tomatoes, but cucumbers, pole and pole lima beans, and other vine crops. The pickets allow air to pass freely through the foliage, and avoid mildew and fungus disease.

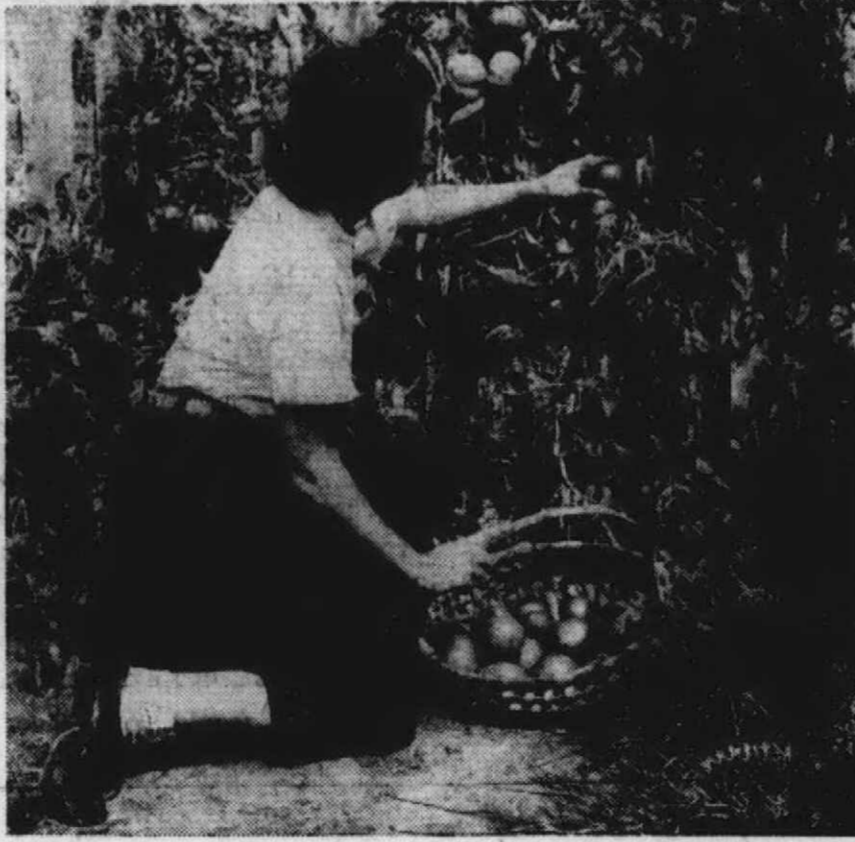

Market gardeners find that staked tomatoes give an earlier harvest. When pruned to a single stem the plants are set 12 inches apart, when pruned to two stems they are placed 21 inches apart, and tests have shown that the single stem planting gives earlier fruit and heavier total yield.

The tomato plant naturally starts with one central shoot or leader. As soon as the first blossoms have appeared, at each joint made by a leaf with the stem, a branch begins to grow. If these are allowed to develop, the typical sprawling tomato bush will result.

To prune the plant, the side shoots or branches are removed before they are four inches long; if left to grow longer, the vigor of the plant is reduced. If the plant is to be pruned to two stems, the central stem and one side shoot are allowed to grow, all others being removed. The side shoot chosen to survive should not be more than 10 inches from the ground. All side shoots are removed to make a single stem plant. Pruning must be done weekly.

Single stemplants can be supported by a strong cord stretched from a tall support of any kind, from an anchor on the ground near the plant. Then instead of tying the plant to its support as the stem grows it can be twisted around the cord, which is easier than tying.

Tomato roots spread widely just beneath the soil surface, so that cultivation should never be deep enough to disturb them.

Largest tomato crop for a given space is produced by pruned and supported plants.

Some method of watering during the dry spells is necessary to obtain the best yields, and a mulch should be applied to the soil near the plants if possible. Lack of water causes decayed spots in the fruit opposite the stem, called blossom end rot.

In planting cucumbers to climb, sow seeds three to six inches apart, close to the structure upon which they are to clamber. Plant food is applied in a shallow trench two or three inches away from the seed, using one pint to 25 feet of row. The plants should be thinned out to stand a foot apart. Cucumbers need lots of water and use up plant food quickly. To prevent formation of crooked fruit in late summer, an additional application of plant food should be made as the plants begin to bear, using at least one pint to 50 feet of row.

Want Flower Tips for Local Planting

Members of the Garden Club are encouraging local people to make known their desires on the choice of a flower and shrub for universal planting around the city. Through the efforts of Mrs. Arnold Samuelson, club president and Mrs. Paul Wiedman, civic club chairman, it is hoped local residents will make their wishes known to the members of the club so that from the consensus opinion a flower and shrub may be selected for the city.

1936 members projected the idea of local planting of petunias for the flower and lilacs for the shrubs. No concentrated effort was ever undertaken however to get plantings made throughout the city of these two items and it is with this thought in mind that Garden Club members are anxious to get local residents interested in their project. Local gardeners are encouraged to make their wishes known to any of the 89 members of the club or drop off suggestions at the City Hall or Plymouth Mail office.

Beetles, Fungus March on Elms

Death is riding on beetle-back through the elm trees of the United States and Canada.

Elm bark beetles and the dread Dutch elm disease are combining for another summer slaughter. Both the beetles and the fungus disease would be unimportant by themselves, but together they have taken a terrible toll of elm trees.

The disease could not spread from tree to tree without the beetle. And the beetle could not inflict too much damage were not its victims weakened by the disease. Dying trees are preferred breeding places of the beetles.

Boring into the bark, the beetles make galleries where the females lay their eggs. Later, the larvae make channels in the inner bark. The fungus is carried in and out of the tree by the beetles and fungus spores flourish in the egg galleries and beetle passageways.

By overlapping of the beetle passageways around the tree, many larvae can completely ring the elm's growth tissue and thus kill it. The fungus disease can kill a tree rapidly in a few weeks, or slowly from one year to the next.

In Illinois, for example, the beetle-borne disease spread from a single tree in 1950 through 55 counties and to the Wisconsin border last year. Badly-infected trees must be removed and burned as the beetles and disease will remain in the dead and dying wood.

All elm trees in the neighborhood, both public and privately owned, should be sprayed with DDT. Annual spray programs will protect the trees' health.

The State Department recently announced that it was permitting seventy-six Chinese students in this country to go home if they wished.

OUTDOOR NOTES from the Michigan Department of Conservation

Michigan's trout and general game fishing season—everything but black bass—opened successfully last week end, with anglers enjoying ideal weather and stream conditions.

Sunshine blessed the entire state opening day, April 30, when an estimated 150,000 anglers crowded lakes and streams.

Fishing was best in early morning and limit catches were fairly common. Activity tapered off as the day wore on, but by nightfall anglers were back on streams to close out a busy day.

Activity the second day was about the same, but success was generally down.

Conservation Department officers and field workers reported that most fishermen interviewed were using bait instead of artificial flies and most trout were caught on bait. The season remains open until September 11 on most trout waters.

Wild turkeys are nesting in Allegan state forest, increasing the hope that the birds may establish themselves permanently in the wild southwestern Michigan area.

Charles E. Friley, Jr., biologist in charge of the Swan Creek wildlife station, and Wilbur Bartels, another biologist, found a nest containing 12 eggs near where several birds were released last year.

The Conservation Department has released 200 of the big wild birds in the Allegan area. A few broods of young were reported last year, but no nests were found.

The Village of Orchard Lake has repealed its ordinance requiring that all motorboats on Orchard Lake in Oakland county be licensed.

The ordinance conflicted with state law and set a precedent that worried boat owners throughout the state.

A farmer near Hamilton was issued a permit last week to shoot deer causing damage to his celery crop.

Earl Powle operates the farm which is near Hamilton in an area where special any-deer seasons have removed 35-50 deer each year for the last 14 years.

The crop damage is the first of its kind reported in the Allegan special season area in years and indicates that the herd there, as elsewhere in the southern lower peninsula, is building up to problem proportions.

Two square miles of Ogemaw state forest were control burned late last week to improve habitat for deer and prairie chickens.

The area was mostly low scrub oak and popple, unsuitable for timber production and grown out of reach for deer.

Burning opened the land for prairie chickens and prepared the way for sprout growth to come up as deer food.

Fires burned 638 acres of Michigan forests and grassland last week, raising the year's total loss to 3,048 acres.

Spring is the season for mushrooms, especially morels and shaggymanes, two popular wild types.

Both morels and shaggymanes have distinctive appearances, but if you are one of the thousands who annually enjoy hunting out the tasty growths, better make positive identification before eating anything you find.

A brief explanatory folder entitled "Mushrooms and Toadstools" may be obtained by writing the Conservation Department at Lansing, 26.

Nature won an important victory recently in its continuing struggle with civilization.

Nearly two years ago, waste products from New York Central railroad roundhouse polluted a stretch of the Dowagiac River near Niles. A large number of brown trout were killed.

The Conservation Department, charged with protection of natural resources, worked out a solution with the railroad company, which agreed to pay for having the river restocked with fish.

Late in April, 422 brown trout, averaging 11 to 14 inches and weighing 310 pounds total, were placed in the river near where the pollution occurred.

It was the first time in the history of Michigan that such a method of payment for lost wildlife was agreed to.

The trout were in excellent condition when planted. They were purchased by the railroad company from a private hatchery and released by state fisheries workers.

In an age when more and more people are turning to hunting for relaxation, the problems of firearms safety loom large.

Seventy-five state and national firearm safety leaders are meeting at Higgins Lake training school this week to probe for solutions to some of the problems this boom in hunting presents.

The "Shooting and Hunting Education Leadership Training Institute" is being sponsored May 1-3 by the school of education at Michigan State College and the Michigan Secondary School Association in cooperation with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Department of Conservation and the Department of Public Instruction.

Meet the successor to the C.O.E.

New L.C.F.E.

(Low Cab Forward)

Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Powered by the most modern V8 in any truck...
Chevrolet's new Taskmaster V8 engine!

Chevrolet's great new L.C.F. models bring you all the advantages of a C.O.E.—plus a long list of important new advances you won't find anywhere else!

For example, the cab is a full seven inches lower than former C.O.E. models. And it has only two steps instead of the usual three for C.O.E.'s. Just think of the time and effort this will save the driver every time he gets in and out of the cab! Also, the low L.C.F. is handsomer by far than any C.O.E. ever built! What's more, in an L.C.F. you still get the easy maneuverability of a C.O.E.—plus sturdier frames, new suspensions and many more modern-truck features.

Inside, the L.C.F.'s new Flight-Ride cab has a level floor with plenty of "stretch-out" leg room and offers the same driver convenience you'll find in all new Chevrolet trucks. The driver has a commanding view of the road—through the big, broad panoramic windshield.

Quicker, simpler maintenance is another big advantage offered by Chevrolet's new L.C.F. models. Everything's easier to reach in the roomy engine compartment.

If you don't get the all-modern advantages offered by the new Task-Force trucks, you're getting an old-fashioned truck and stand to lose money on the job and at trade-in time, too. Come see the most modern trucks of all!

Shortest Stroke V8 of All! The new Taskmaster V8—the most modern V8 your money can buy—powers the new L.C.F.! It has a 12-volt electrical system (twice the "steam" for starting!).

Year after year, America's best selling truck!
