Crowds Attend Weekend Activities Despite Weather

Cool and dismal weather over the long weekend failed to dampen the spirit of the crowds turning out for the local Memorial Day observance or in Riverside park where picnic lovers by the thousands occupied nearly every table. Over 500 people assembled at the athletic field to hear the Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of Newburg Methodist church, deliver a stirring Memorial Day message. Many more lined Main street at 10:30 a.m. to watch local organizations participate in a parade. The speaker related that 32 years ago, while serving in the British Army, he was sent with a comrade to the Argonne Forest in France to attend an American burial party. There were 482 American boys being buried, he added, and at that time he could see no need for his being there. But as time went on, he discovered that these boys gave their lives not only for other people, but for himself and his family. "I am grateful to God today that He directed my footsteps to come to America," the speaker declared. "Each day I resolve to become a better American." While others call this America, Reverend Richards said, "I call it Paradise."

Film Scheduled for Last Meeting of Season

The last meeting of the Plymouth Township Civil Defense unit until next September will take place next Tuesday night at the township hall. Highlighting the public meeting is a film, "You and the H-Bomb." Director Leo F. Flowers said that the meeting will start at 7:30 and will probably be the last meeting until fall unless world conditions become worse. Refreshments will be served. Besides the film, there will be a report on Wayne county CD activities and plans will be made for a mock bomb attack on Plymouth at the July 4 celebration.

Name Iowa Man To Head Chamber

Edward P. Hart, Chamber of Commerce manager at Independence, Iowa, has accepted an offer to manage the Plymouth Chamber starting June 15. After interviewing a number of qualified candidates, the Chamber board of directors selected Hart because of his varied background in labor, industrial and personnel relations. Chamber Secretary Nat Sibbold is scheduled to leave the Chamber June 1 to assume a position with a Detroit folding door firm. The new secretary arrives, he expects to keep active as the Chamber secretary several days a week. Hart has been manager of the Independence Chamber since November 1954. In that time he was instrumental in attracting the first new industry to the community in 25 years. He also worked nearly two years as director of a work study training program in a four-city area in cooperation with organized labor, public and the U. S. government. The program was designed to bring Davenport, Iowa, 50 young European business executives to teach them the U. S. business system. From 1949 to 1953, Hart was an interviewer for the Iowa Employment Service in Davenport. He is 29 years old, is married and has two children. He was graduated from St. Ambrose college in Davenport.

Estimate Fire Damage To Small Home at $750

Fire which caused damage estimated at $750 struck a small home at 245 Fair street occupied by Mrs. Beverly Everson. Firemen answered the alarm at 4 p.m. Friday. Fire Chief Robert McAllister said that the fire was started when a candle was carried into a clothes closet. Although the fire was confined mostly to the closet, smoke and heat caused damage to other parts of the home. Insurance covers both the home and its contents, Chief McAllister said.

Bitten Park Worker Searches for Dog

A Riverside park attendant is due for a series of 14 anti-rabies shots unless the owner of a dog which bit him Sunday makes an appearance. Harry Carlson, 8062 Braille, Detroit, told police here that a large collie bit him on the face Sunday evening in the Newburg road vicinity of Riverside park. He would like the dog tested for rabies. In the meantime, the park attendant must submit to a series of 14 shots which began Tuesday.

Holiday Mishaps Light in Vicinity

Injury of an eight-year-old township girl who was struck by a car while she rode her bicycle appeared to be the only major Memorial Day weekend mishap in the area, according to reports by city police and county sheriff's authorities. Alice Stoops, 15747 Marilyn, is in Atchison Memorial hospital in Northville suffering multiple injuries when she was struck by a car driven by Howard F. Last, 6489 Napier road. Alice, a second grade pupil at Starkweather school, is reported suffering a light concussion, bruises about the back and shoulder and a foot injury. The girl was reported to have been struck as she was ready to turn into her driveway. She was thrown 10 feet into the air and fell into a ditch. Sheriff's deputies said that Last was not held. Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stoops. The mishap occurred Sunday afternoon. Meanwhile, city police said that accidents in the city over the long weekend were of minor nature. The sheriff's office at Wayne said that they had no fatal mishaps in their western Wayne county area but there were numerous people injured in mishaps, but not in Plymouth township.

This is the second year for the contest. Last year's winner was Mac Donnelly, Jr., 550 Sunset. His winning entry said: "He works hard to support seven children. He makes many sacrifices. He takes us fishing, swimming and on picnics. He is our guide and advisor." Not eligible for the contest are children of the sponsors or this newspaper.

Here is a complete list of the prizes and their contributors: Photographic Center, Brownie camera; Capitol Shirt Shops, sport shirts; Beyer Rexall Drugs, men's toiletries set; Davis & Lent, Stetson hat; Western Auto Associate store, car washing brush; Terry's Bakery, Father's Day cake; West Bros. 248 Sign Petition Requesting Ballot on Charleston Issue

A Plymouth township citizens committee filed a petition containing 248 signatures Tuesday with the County Board of Supervisors to initiate action for incorporation of a portion of the township into the city of Charleston.

Petitions were circulated from Tuesday until Friday of last week among township residents, according to John Welscher, chairman of the citizens committee.

State Secretary's Office Making Plans for Census

Census takers will be knocking on each door in the city and township—perhaps this month—as a preliminary step to the vote anticipated in the two areas on the question of whether or not Plymouth township should be annexed to Plymouth city. Petitions circulated in both township and city were filed last month asking that a special census be taken. Filed at the same time was the petition to annex the township to the city. A representative of the secretary of state's office, James Chapman, visited Plymouth last week to make preliminary arrangements for the census. Although there were separate petitions signed by city and township residents, he recommended that the census be taken at the same time in the two areas. He added that the census may be able to get underway by June 20. The reason for the census, according to City Manager Albert Glassford, is to determine the number of people in the two areas should the question arise in regards to an annexation election and petitions. Often, even after a vote has been taken, court action is filed to challenge the number of signers of a petition on the grounds that it does not contain one per cent of the electors. As with the federal census taken every 10 years, the local census will be official and law will demand cooperation with the census worker. Local personnel will be hired to conduct the census. Unlike the federal census which asks many personal questions, the local census will probably ask the name and address only. This will speed up the job and will be less costly. The township and city will each stand their own costs of conducting the census.

Widening Work Is on Schedule

Reconstruction work on Main street appears to be right on schedule, according to Herald Hamill, engineer of the big project. With their completion target set for August 1, the A. J. Brighton company of Farmington will undoubtedly finish the job by that date unless a cement shortage develops. Hamill said that the firm is already forced to go out of the state to find enough cement for the job. The contractor is expected to complete the job of laying the curb and gutters from Mill street to the railroad on the east side this week. This work is already completed from the railroad to Penniman avenue. Next on the schedule is the laying of the sidewalk along the east side of the street. Work on the west side of the street will then begin. By doing one side of the street at a time, street and sidewalk traffic can continue to use the route. "People have been very patient and we have received very few complaints about it being torn up," Hamill declared. He added that the contractor is doing everything possible to accommodate property owners along the route.

Declares Interest In Annexation

A fourth neighboring school district has asked about joining the Plymouth Township School district, it was reported by Superintendent Russell Ibsister. The Cherry Hill district of Canton township sent a delegation to a special board meeting here last week to seek information about annexation. Truesdell and Canton Center districts in Canton township have already voted to join the Plymouth system and the Lapham district of Salem township has made a request. With most Cherry Hill district high school pupils already attending Plymouth high school, the board voted to allow the annexation. The Cherry Hill board is scheduled to meet tonight to decide on whether they actually want to go through with it. One member of the board, Stanley West, said that the board may wait until next year to put the issue on the ballot. Cherry Hill school has two rooms and has about 64 pupils from grades one through eight. Since the Belleville district touches Cherry Hill on the south, the board could ask for annexation to either Belleville or Plymouth districts. Several high school students attend Ypsilanti high school.

Fails to Return Car, Is Arrested

Cases of two Plymouthites will be heard next Monday, one charged with conversion and the other with possession and transportation of alcoholic beverages. Held in jail under a $1,000 bond and charged with conversion is Ollen Jimeron, 21, of 635 South Mill street. Police said that Jimeron put a $50 deposit on a used car at Arnold Auto Sales, 622 South Main street, on May 20. Later in the day he returned and asked to drive it so he could show the car to a girl friend, police said. He failed to return the car and police picked him up on May 28 after a warrant was filed for his arrest. A plea of not guilty was entered for him in a hearing this week. Clyde Southerland, 19, of 518 Starkweather, posted a $250 bond Monday night in a hearing on charge of possessing and transporting alcohol (for minors).

Six Designated Last Graduates Of Rural School

Six youngsters had the distinction Wednesday, May 25, of being the last eighth grade class to graduate from Truesdell in its present status as a rural school. The district recently voted to annex the school to the Plymouth township system.

Graduating were Nora Sarah, Gladys Bennett, Ted Markowski, Henry Naaso, Larry Bushaw and Don Schamaneck. Principal speaker for the event was Russell Ishister, superintendent of schools. Diplomas were presented to the graduates by J. L. Godbey, supervising teacher from the Wayne County Board of Education.

History of Truesdell goes back to 1865 when the school first occupied a small wooden building located on Palmer road, west of Lotz. Teachers at that time boarded from home to home. In 1889 a brick building was completed on Arty road, renamed Haggerty highway in 1922. The one-room school was abandoned in 1949, when increasing population necessitated the erection of the present building at a cost of $24,000.

BURNING CLOTHING was hauled out of a clothes closet which was the center of a fire last Friday at the home of Mrs. Beverly Everson, 245 Fair street. Fire Chief Robert McAllister, right, looks over the lawn sirewn with clothing as firemen inside hand it out the window. A preliminary estimate of damage has been set at $750.

Complex Court Suit Ends

A $25,000 lawsuit which consumed four days in circuit court, required the services of five attorneys and involved city policemen and the municipal judge as defendants, has been concluded. And it was all because of a pair of pants.

Plaintiff in the case was Julius Spangenberg, formerly of Plymouth and now residing in a Grand River avenue motel. Named as defendants were Harold Yakley, owner of Herald Cleaners; Robert Zimmerman, a tailor for the cleaning firm; Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo and Patrolmen Loren Johnson and Henry Burghoff.

The complex affair began in 1953 when Spangenberg took a pair of pants to the cleaners to be repaired. Not satisfied with the results, the pants were returned. Later, when the pants were again picked up, a charge of $6 was made. It was not proven if Spangenberg or his son picked up the pants the second time, but in either case, there was much protest over the price and the pants were taken without payment.

Yakley then allegedly signed a complaint against Spangenberg. At midnight on August 11, 1953, Spangenberg, his son and wife returned home and were handed the summons. Appearing at the police station, a $100 cash bond was posted and Spangenberg was released. The case was later dismissed and Spangenberg filed suit against all parties involved for false imprisonment.

Result of the hearing before Judge Earl Pugsley from Monday through Thursday last week was a verdict in favor of Judge Perlongo, the patrolmen and Zimmerman but against Yakley for $100 damages plus costs. Spangenberg must pay costs for the other defendants.

More Telephones with Dash of Color Aim of Local Michigan Bell Drive

The Michigan Bell Telephone company today began an all-out sales campaign here designed to put at least one extension telephone in every Plymouth home.

Dubbed "Operation Step Saver," the drive will run from now until June 15 and will be carried out by Michigan Bell's installers and repairmen during their regular day to day job contacts.

According to Ed Devine, veteran plant chief here for the company, the local crew is "going out after a new Bell System sales record for extension telephones."

"Operation Step Saver" was kicked off at a luncheon at the Mayflower hotel yesterday attended by William M. Day, Michigan Bell's vice president and general manager; W. T. Kirk, general plant manager; other top officials of the company and the local men who will carry out the project. Al Derks, division plant sales supervisor, said the keynote of the sales drive will be demonstrations by the installers and repairmen of the convenience and safety features of an adequate telephone arrangement in the home.

To further spark the drive, Derks said, a full array of colored instruments designed to harmonize with the decorative scheme of individual homes will be offered. Among the new types of instruments to be offered will be the Continental. Small and compact, the Continental comes in three striking colors, green, red, and ivory. Because the set requires little space, it is ideal for a small table, desk, or kitchen counter where a touch of color is desired, Derks pointed out.

Another feature to be offered local customers, Derks said, is the new "hands free" telephone, which incorporates a speaker and microphone permitting the busy housewife to answer the telephone and carry on a conversation from anywhere in a normal size room without lifting the receiver.

Davis Wilmer of Detroit and Will Hawthorne of Ypsilanti spent last Sunday with the Karl Starkweathers of Starkweather avenue.

Merchants Edge Grandale, Wallaceville; Climb into Four-way Deadlock for Third

By virtue of two Memorial weekend wins in the Inner-county baseball league, Plymouth Merchants' diamond squad surged into a four-way tie for third place in the county's amateur sand-lot league.

Merchants stopped Wallaceville 4-2, in 13 innings Monday after edging past Grandale, 6-4, in regulation play Sunday.

This pair of victories threw the locals into a cozy deadlock with Grandale, Northville and Dietrich for possession of the league's third-place slot. All four teams presently carry three-win and two-loss records.

Pacing the league is Garden City with a four and one card, while Wayne is settled on the second rung of the loop's ladder of standings with a three and one showing.

Action Monday found the Merchants banging out 13 hits to Wallaceville's seven, but still being forced to go into extra innings to eke out a 4-2 decision in the 13th frame.

In this battle Bill Runge went the first nine innings on the mound for the locals to be relieved by Eddie Hock in the tenth. Hock toiled the final four frames and received credit for his third win of the year.

In the 13th with the score frozen at 2-2, Dewulf led off with a walk for the Merchants, Gatteri singled and both runners moved ahead on an infield out. Then Moer slashed out a long single placing his pair of teammates to shove Merchants into the lead, 4-2.

In the bottom half of this frame, Wallaceville made a bid when the lead-off batter singled. But the threat was squelched quickly when the next batter skied out and the following two were stopped on infield plays to close out the game.

Merchants had scored first back in the initial frame against Wallaceville. Gatteri got a single and after an infield out two more hits by Moer and Schwartz drove home the run.

Then in the second Wallaceville tied it up on a single, an error on a fielder's choice, which loaded the bags, and a hit batsman forcing in a run.

Wallaceville went ahead in the third on a walk, single, error and an infield out to lead 2-1. But this score was matched in the fourth by the locals who put together a single by Rousseaux, an error on Shoner's smash, a walk to Runge and a sharp squeeze bunt to drive in the tally.

Hits in this battle were heavy for the Merchants who got 13 but surprisingly thin for the Wallaceville squad. Leading the attack for the locals were Schwartz with four, and Moer and Shoner each with three. In the 13th innings Wallaceville could muster only seven base-knocks.

Runge, before being relieved by Hock in the 10th, turned in a fine job of twirling. He allowed only five of the hits and flogged the third strike past seven of the opposing batsmen. Hale went the distance for Wallaceville. Against Grandale Sunday, the Merchants were pressed to win a tight 6-4 ballgame in regulation time. Hock pitched the route for the locals to tally his second win, allowing 10 hits.

After Grandale had shaped a 4-1 lead in six frames, and watched it dwindle to 4-3 at the end of seven, Merchants erupted to clinch the win on a trio of scores in the eighth inning.

Trailing by one run going in to their half of the eighth, the Merchants tied together three singles, a double and with the aid of an error, tallied three runs for the victory.

Prior to this Grandale had plated two tallies in the first frame, and lone runs in the second and sixth, while the locals were counting only one run, that in the second coming on Dewulf's single driving in Elmer Rousseaux.

The Merchants moved into contention in the seventh when De-wulf walked, Gatteri singled and an error loaded the sacks. At this point Al Moer's single driving home two runs set the stage for the winning combination one inning later.

Other action in the Inner-county league on Sunday included Wayne's whipping of Allen Park, 10-5, Ypsilanti's forfeit to Garden City, 9-0, Lincoln Park's close win over Dietrich, 2-2, and Northville's victory over Wallaceville, 15-4.

Last Monday the league completed another round of play. At that time Allen Park stopped Ypsilanti, 9-3, Garden City defeated Grandale, 7-1, Northville was beaten by Dietrich, 8-2, and Wayne held back Lincoln Park, 7-2.

Plymouth Merchants go against thrice-beaten Ypsilanti next Sunday at 3:00 p.m. on the Riverside park ball diamond. The locals will be out after their fourth win of the year in hopes of securing a hold on the first division.

Rocks Clinch Tie for Loop Crown With Shut-Out Win Over Trenton

Clinching at least a tie for the league crown, Coach Gustav Gorguza's hot and cold Plymouth ballclub turned in one of its finest games of the season as the locals pounded across three runs in the top of the seventh to break a scoreless deadlock and give the Rocks a 3-0 decision over a host Trenton team last Friday.

The first six innings featured a pitcher's battle between Plymouth's ace southpaw Dick Day and Porath of Trenton. Over that span, Day was by far the more effective hurler as he gave up but two singles. Porath allowed five safeties in the first six frames, but he became tough with men on base to prevent any scoring on the part of the Rocks.

In the decisive seventh, Plymouth exploded for one of the hardest-hitting sprees the Rocks have enjoyed this year. The big inning was highlighted by booming triples off the bats of both Hank Bonga and Dan Clifford. After Paul Cummings grounded out to lead off the seventh, Kenny Calhoun started off the rally by singling to left.

Agnew flied out to right, but Clifford came through with his three-bagger over the left fielder's head to break the scoring ice by plating Calhoun. Tait drove Clifford home with a single to keep the rally going.

Then Bonga put the finishing touch on the game by clouting another triple off the bewildered Trenton twirler, bringing Tait home with the final run of the contest.

Day continued to pitch beautiful ball as he set the Trojans down with two singles, while striking out 14. The victory was Day's seventh against a single loss. Over that span the lefty has averaged over 12 strikeouts per game.

Bonga, with a single and a triple, paced the Plymouth batting attack on the Trenton moundsman. Day and Biff Tait also each had a pair of safeties to aid the Rock cause. Clifford, Cummings, and Calhoun, with one hit each, completed the local slugging total.

Livonia Kiwanis Benefit To Feature Four Midget Wrestlers in Tag Match

A benefit wrestling show, an event intended to produce finances for various local charitable activities, has been announced by the Livonia Kiwanis club, sponsor of the affair.

Scheduled for Thursday evening, June 23, at Bentley high school gymnasium, the show will feature four well-known midget grapplers, in a tag-team match, plus two dual battles.

The quartet of undersized grunt and groaners consists of Lord Clayton Littlebrook, Ivan the Terrible, Sky Low Low and Cowboy Bradley. All four midgets will vacate their TV wrestling arenas to compete in the Kiwanis show.

Lord Littlebrook brings the regal pomp and ceremony of old England to the fore by the use of his magnificent costumes and other splendor. This midget, at 3' 3" 8", employs weaving, twisting and other befuddling tactics to go with his clamping and punishing holds.

Cowboy Bradley is another colorful matman, 41 inches tall and a huge 98-pounder who hails from Texas-way. His dress tends toward the flashy western regalia including boots and 10-gallon hats.

An extremely heavily muscled little man is Sky Low Low at 42 inches and 86 pounds. Sky Low is termed one of the best drop-kickers in the business and what the fans call a rough wrestler, always on the move.

Ivan the Terrible steps directly out of an Al Capp cartoon strip with long beard and Lower Slobovian appearance. Four feet high and scaling an even 100 pounds, Ivan packs as much power as a giant. Rough and merciless, this tiny competitor used weight lifting to build up his speed and strength.

Rocks Make "Last Stand"

Plymouth high school's high-flying baseball squad makes its last scheduled home appearance of the current season tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock when the Rocks take the field against the neighboring Northville nine, a non-league opponent.

By virtue of their 7-2 card in 6-B competition, the locals stand alone at the top of the loop and are assured of at least a tie for the league crown. The final deciding factor in the race for the pennant was the battle last night with cellar-dwelling Belleville, results of which are not in as The Mail goes to press.

Following the Northville game tomorrow afternoon, the Plymouth team has one last battle before closing out the 1955 campaign. The finale is another tilt against Northville Monday afternoon on the Mustang's field.

Hard-Ball Loop Organized

On the heels of the drenching rains that washed out virtually all action in the Inner-county baseball league last week, came the announcement of a newly-organized hard-ball loop.

John Schwartz, manager of the Plymouth Merchant ball-club, explained recently how the Wayne recreation department will head another summer loop called the Tri-city league. It will consist of about six entries from the area of Plymouth, Wayne and Garden City.

The games for this league will be played at six o'clock on Wednesday and Friday evenings over an eight-week period extending from about June 3 to August 7. A self-supporting league, teams already with entries submitted are Dietrich, Hargraves Heating and the Wayne Merchants from Wayne; Merchants from Plymouth, and a Belleville entry also named Merchants.

It is far worse to send untrained men into battle than to train them and not need them.

Baseball Try-outs

Richard Huebler, manager of the Plymouth Elks baseball team, announced the open try-outs for the 18-year-old and under baseball team on June 10, at 4:00 at the high school field.

All boys interested in playing ball are asked to attend this try-out. The Plymouth team won the league championship last summer. Huebler said that he is looking forward to a better team and a better season this year. The team is sponsored by the Plymouth Elks Club number 1780.

Morgan Cards Ace In City Loop Play

The second hole-in-one reported by a Plymouthite during the current golfing season was notched last week Wednesday by Bill Morgan, 659 Ann, during action in the local City league at Hilltop golf course.

Using a seven-iron, Bill canned his drive on the par three fourth hole for the ace. Playing with Morgan were George Kenyon, Herlan Moore and R. Bonamicci.

Plymouth Netters Win in Finale

Closing out the current tennis season, Plymouth's net team edged visiting Belleville, 4-3, last Friday on the Riverside courts. By virtue of this last match win, the locals completed the year's card with an overall record of three wins and seven losses.

Coach John McFall's squad notched victories in two singles matches and a pair of doubles to grab off the decision. Jim Zukosky in the number one singles was a 6-0, 4-6, and 6-0 winner to tally the margin of victory.

Other scores in the singles found Bob Bateman coming out on top 6-3 and 7-5, while Bob Kennitz and Bill Brandell were defeated 6-0, 6-0 and 6-1, 6-1 respectively.

In the doubles Dave Bowen and Jim Gibson counted a 4-6, 6-1, 7-5 decision and Jerry Steele and Art

AN EXCEEDINGLY important item in every major league club's budget is travel expense. It costs each club approximately $35,000 a year to transport players, managers, coaches, trainers and others from city to city.

Where minor leaguers must be content with long and often tedious bus rides, the big leaguers enjoy the fruits of success and travel in style. They are accustomed to all three major modes of transportation, train, plane and bus, depending upon the destination.

The Tigers, for example, charter an airliner for any series in Kansas City that does not allow a one-day break for traveling time. Some 22 hours by rail, the trek to the American League's newest representative is only two and a half hours by air.

On the other hand, for a series in Cleveland, buses are utilized. It is a relatively short jaunt to the Indians' wigwam and back.

VETERAN TRAVELERS

Most of the time, however, rail transportation is employed. Major leaguers spend an awful lot of time in pullman cars, much of it playing penny ante card games to while away the monotonous hours.

Teams require two or three special cars, two if they're the modern type with plenty of roomettes, three if they're the old-fashioned sleepers.

On sleepers, the regulars are assigned car one, the utility players car two and the coaches and press car three.

But all this scheduling of transportation is not done at the last moment. It begins the first of the year, when baseball schedules are drawn up. Representatives of bus, railroad and air lines meet with the traveling secretaries of the 16 major league clubs to map out transportation for the entire season.

Baseball players are charged the same for their travel as other individuals. The only consideration they receive is in charter service, such as the special railroad cars.

GREAT EXPENSE How the traveling secretaries save money is in judicious purchasing of tickets. By buying tickets, say, from Chicago to New York, stop-over privileges are allowed in Washington and Baltimore.

Despite such economy measures, the expense of playing on the road is terrific. The cost comes to about a thousand dollars per man per season, not including feeding.

On the Tigers' recent 13-day swing through the East, hotel accommodations ran to $2,900, with food (at about $8 per man per day) another $4,000.

Chartering a bus to the ball park and back to the hotel, so that the whole team arrives on time, costs another $22 a day.

It becomes apparent that playing the Hickory and Horsehide game away from home is an expensive proposition.

A shipwrecked sailor, who had spent five years on a desert island, was overjoyed one day to see a ship drop anchor in the bay. A small boat came ashore and an officer handed the sailor a bundle of newspapers.

"The captain suggests," he said, "that you read what's going on in the world today, and then let us know if you want to be rescued."

"I once loved a girl who made a complete fool of me."

"What a lasting impression some girls make."

YOUR CHILDREN DESERVE SECURE TEACHERS

The Plymouth School - Community Planning Group Endorses Your Vote of

YES for TENURE

Monday, June 13, 1955

TENURE keeps your good teachers by making them feel they are part of your community. It "weeds out" incompetent teachers during a probationary period established by the State Tenure Act. Having TENURE not only tends to keep good teachers in the profession, but also encourages the best to come to a community offering employment security.

TENURE will insure that Plymouth's children will be taught by confident, well-trained teachers. TENURE will give security to competent teachers. TENURE will provide an orderly procedure for dismissing incompetent teachers. TENURE will encourage teachers to improve their instruction by precluding undue concern over next year's contract.

Today's children are tomorrow's citizens. Their future depends upon today's teachers.

TENURE WILL NOT Increase Taxes

Newburg News

Mrs. Emil LaPointe.
GARfield 1-2029

The day circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the church hall on Tuesday, June 7, at 12:30 p.m. for their usual fine pot-luck dinner after which there will be a business meeting. All ladies of the church who can attend this day meeting are cordially invited to come. Elaborate preparations will be underway for the coming fall and winter season in which the circle will actively participate in all programs. Financial assistance to the local society will also be planned at this time.

The Boy Scouts of the Thunderbird Patrol of Boy Scout troop 270 of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church are still saving papers and magazines. So if you have any lying around the house that you would like to get rid of, you can contact the writer of this column and she will gladly take your name and address and have the boys pick up the papers. This same group of boys, Paul Overmyer, Bruce LaPointe, Arnold Heilman, Robert Pregitzer, Richard Kemnitz, Dennis DeCoster and Jerry Heilman, along with the other boys of their troop and the leaders, will be attending the District 7 (Sunset District) camporee at the D-Bar-A Ranch on the weekend of June 3-4-5. This is an occasion looked forward to by all of the boys and they always have lots of fun camping out, cooking out, having contests among the troops and just generally having a good time. There is also a time for serious thinking when the boys set out to pass as many tests as possible to speed them on toward their next advancement. Some are working for their tenderfoot, others are working on their second class and still others are reaching for the first class advancement. There are others, too, who are striving for merit badges and hoping at the next court of honor, scheduled for June 20, they will be awarded same.

The Canasta Clan from the Joy road section will meet at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hocking on Narise drive on Monday evening, June 6, at 8 p.m. Your hostess hopes that all of the ladies can be present for the evening of cards and refreshments.

A family picnic for the LaPointes was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe on Joy road on Memorial Day, May 30. A good time was had by all despite the cold, chilling weather. On hand to enjoy the day were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaPointe and their children, Lana, Susan, Keith and Eric, of Inkster road, Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida and their children, Gail and Robert, of North York in Dearborn.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Newburg Methodist church will be hosts at their church on Sunday, June 5, to the Sub-District rally. From 5 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. is the scheduled time for the rally.

The evening circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church of which Mrs. Robert Richards is chairman, will meet at the home of Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road on Tuesday evening, June 7. The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. and a good turn out is hoped for inasmuch as the group will be choosing their name, in order to make identification easier, and other important things will be on the agenda for the evening. Come out for a fine evening of Christian fellowship.

Beginning on Monday, June 20, and lasting through June 30, the daily Vacation Bible school will be held at the Newburg Methodist church on Ann Arbor trail and Newburg roads. The daily sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. and last through 11:30 a.m. At this writing there is still a vital need for teachers. Mrs. Emil LaPointe, director of the school, and the Reverend Robert Richards, pastor of the church, are anticipating approximately 100 boys and girls attending this year. In order to have a successful school it is necessary to have a fine group of teachers. If you would like to volunteer your services just phone the writer of the column.

June 18 is the date, the day, Saturday, and the event, a strawberry-ice cream festival at the Newburg Methodist church. If the weather permits the affair will be held on the lawn of the church, but if the weather proves inclement the festival will be held in the hall. So rain or shine, mark this date on your calendar and come out and enjoy eating and visiting. All proceeds from this will go to aid the building fund of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bennett and their daughter, Donna, and son, Graham, of Stark road, Livonia, spent the Memorial Day weekend visiting with Mrs. Bennett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. McDonald, in Ridgetown, Ontario, Canada.

The Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church will meet for their first picnic of the season at the Levan Knoll at 6 p.m. on Saturday, June 4. Whether you are a member of this class or not, a cordial invitation is extended to all those who would like to come out to enjoy an evening of fellowship and fun.

Seventeen guests were present in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeCoster of Ravine drive on Saturday, May 21. supervisors. They are scheduled to look at a city petition this month which asks that a vote be taken on the question of annexation of the township to the city. A township citizens group which met the evening of May 3 decided on incorporation of the township in order to halt "piecemeal grabs" of the township by the city. The meeting was called after a Western Electric company representative said that they would build a plant on 28 acres of the Roderick Cassidy farm if the farm were annexed to the city.

Subsequent meetings of citizens groups at the township hall resulted in the selection of the name of Charleston in honor of the late Charles Rathburn, township supervisor for 26 years.

Key Club Organization Explained to Kiwanis

The organization and purpose of Key Clubs was explained to members of the Plymouth Kiwanis club Tuesday evening by Duke Holmes, district chairman of the junior Kiwanis-sponsored Key Clubs in Michigan.

He told the group that there are 1300 Key Clubs internationally with some 30,000 high school boys as members. "This service club at high school level was started in 1925," Holmes stated. He added that in 1946 the clubs became international in scope.

Plymouth Kiwanians discussed the possibility of such an organization in the local high school and questioned Holmes on procedure. Program Chairman Ed Campbell is currently heading a committee to sponsor a local club. He stated that members of his committee would meet with school officials on the matter.

Lodge Marks Anniversary

A dinner and evening of entertainment will mark the second anniversary celebration of the Livonia Masonic lodge this Saturday at the local Masonic Temple. Families and friends of lodge members are invited to attend the event which will start with a 6:30 dinner followed by an entertainment program.

TWO OF THE ENTRIES in the Northville Junior Horse Show this weekend are Dena, 14, (left) and 16-year-old Sandy Penney of 16370 Haggerty road, shown above getting ready for the big event. Other Plymouth entries are Sharlene Moers, 16, and Cindy Hull, 7. Sponsored by the Northville and Plymouth Optimist clubs, the benefit show will feature over 400 entries in the 25 classes making up the event. Proceeds will aid the Optimists' boys work projects. Dates are Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. (See story pg. 1, sec. 3).

Junior Class Hosts Senior Party Friday

The juniors entertained the seniors at an informal party on May 27, from 7 to 11 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Students participated in swimming and volleyball from 7 to 9 p.m. Refreshments were served from 9 to 9:30 p.m. and the students held a dance for the remainder of the evening.

Committee chairmen were Gail Foreman, general chairman; Bob Young, music; Pat Clifford, swimming; Judy Richwine, refreshments; Jim Keith and Jim Pardy, clean-up; and Jim Dyer, publicity.

Melvin Blunk, Konrad Mosio, James Lature, Harry Fountain, Miss Gertrude Fiegel, Mrs. Christena Soule, and Robert Smith, junior class advisors, were chaperones.

AN EARLY START

Draftee: "Goodbye, dear. Look after the home well, and if you need money while I'm gone, just go to the bank."

Wife: "Yes, dear. What time does the bank open this morning?"

Slaying of Trout by Sea Lampreys Poses Question on Sport Fishing

Sea lampreys are undoubtedly killing numbers of rainbow trout in the Great Lakes, but a large question mark looms over what this means to sport fishing.

Some reports indicate that rainbow fishing has slumped on some streams, but these fail to justify any gloomy over-all picture of the future.

Just knowing the lamprey is at work may have sparked some of this worry and many wonder aloud if the lamprey hasn't turned the full fury of his appetite on the rainbow—now that he has cleaned out the lake trout.

But tests by the Conservation Department's institute for fisheries research show that lampreys prefer, after lake trout, such food as dogfish, suckers and burbot. Rainbows are farther down the list.

There is some question, too, about how long lampreys will stick at their present high population. For 10 years they have had easy pickings in the Great Lakes. But now the cream is skimmed off and some speculate lampreys will drop off to fit a less choice diet.

Meantime, what about the rainbows? Taken as a total, fish lifts at Tippy dam on the Manistee River and Homestead dam on the Bettsie indicate that a slump may be in progress.

But single years measure up with the past rather closely. For example, more rainbows were lifted at Homestead this spring than in 1947, first year of the lift at that dam. And at Tippy, the years 1941 and 1953 were about comparable. The record of these lifts offers no clear and ready answer.

Thus, department workers have been pushed to a wait-and-see view of the problem. Apparently, only time will decide the future of Michigan's vaunted rainbow angling.

Be On Lookout For the Rackets

If you are ever offered a Gideon Bible as a magazine subscription premium or are buying dolls and doll's clothing by mail, you had better watch out. So says the Community Protection Service of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The Gideons International has revealed that there have been several recent instances where a bogus magazine has claimed to represent them and has taken orders for various magazines with the Gideon Bible offered as a premium. In all instances reported, a blank stationery store type receipt was used, a good indication that the sales person did not represent any established magazine agency.

One salesman has been arrested, according to reports, but the practice is still going on. The Gideons International, well known for their free distribution of Bibles in hotels, prisons and other locations, says that any offer of a Gideon Bible as a magazine premium is immediately a suspect and should be promptly investigated.

Concerning dolls, a Newark, New Jersey firm has been advertising in magazines offering to sell dolls and doll's clothing by mail. The advertising also states "satisfaction unconditionally guaranteed." Many letters to the Better Business Bureau report that some dolls are never received and no refund obtained; dolls received were damaged; dolls received were not of the size ordered and that clothes did not fit the intended doll; and no replies or refunds have been received by complaining parties.

Research to Save Farmers

Babson Park Mass., June 2, 1955. — Industrial and Chemical Research—not Federal Aid—is the farmer's best bet. Although most American farmers appear to be doing pretty well, I am keenly aware of the drop in farm income which has occurred during the past two years. Despite the best-intentioned government price-support program—or perhaps because of it—we still have a farm problem in this country, which could easily erupt into a serious cancer.

I remember well what happened to the farmer in the thirties and what happened to the rest of the economy as a result of the decline in the farmer's economic position. In those days, the farm problem was seemingly a more arresting public issue than it is today. At least, it evoked more discussion in business and political circles.

HOW THE CHEMURGIC MOVEMENT BEGAN

In an effort to improve the demand of that era, the National Farm Chemurgic Council was organized at an historic conference held in 1935 at Dearborn, Michigan, under the auspices of Henry Ford and Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation. Another leader in the movement was Wheeler McMillen of The Farm Journal. The idea was to encourage research which would lead to an expansion of markets for American farm products to be used as industrial raw materials. From the beginning, I supported the aims of this council.

Since then, the whole movement of allying chemistry with agriculture has grown tremendously. In March of this year, the old National Farm Chemurgic Council was superseded by a new and larger organization called the Council for Agricultural and Chemurgic Research. The new organization will continue to encourage individual research projects looking toward the discovery of new crops and new characteristics of old crops. In addition, it will set up the machinery to coordinate the various agricultural-chemical research projects which are being undertaken. Farmers' sons should learn of this work before leaving the farm for city employment.

FARMERS MUST DIVERSIFY

I hope that the activities of this scientific farm research will have the wholehearted support of science, industry, and government. It takes time to expand any research facilities; it especially takes time to co-ordinate research activity in so large a field as agriculture. This wider approach to the problem is not being undertaken any too soon, for there is now a great need for American farmers to diversify their production and look more to industrial, rather than food, consumption. Such diversification should lead to more stable economic conditions.

This need for diversification of farm products is so apparent that the Council chose "New Crops" as the theme of its March meeting in Columbus, Ohio. It may seem odd to be concentrating on new crops when we have such heavy surpluses of old crops, but such research has paid off handsomely before, as in the case of soybeans. There is every reason to believe it will again pay off. New crops now being studied include timber bamboo, a good source of paper pulp which has been grown successfully in the Southeast; dioscorea, a plant source of cortisone-like drugs; new varieties of castorbeans; canaigre, a wild root plant of high vegetable tannin; and acerola from Porto Rico or phyllanthusblicca from the Hawaiian Islands, both of which have miraculous vitamin contents.

MARINE RESEARCH IS ALSO NEEDED

In addition to their work in the agricultural field, the Council could encourage further studies of the mineral and other wealth cradled in the two great oceans. These flow up to the very doorstep of our land along more than 4,800 miles of coastline. These oceans are a storehouse of organic and inorganic matter of great actual and potential importance to industry. As our soil is getting poorer with every hard rain, our oceans, into which the rivers empty, are getting richer.

For example, a large number of chemical elements are found in crab meal and fish meal. Fish products contain aluminum, barium, calcium, chromium, copper, fluorine, lead, lithium, magnesium, manganese, nickel, phosphorus, potassium, silicon, silver, sodium, strontium, and zinc! Truly the resources of the sea provide plenty of opportunity for the new College of Fisheries at Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Fourteen Become Scout Leaders

An investiture service honoring 14 new Brownie and Girl Scout leaders was held at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge on May 23. The new leaders have completed a training course under the direction of Mrs. Robert Houston.

Those receiving their official pins at the ceremony were: Fran Beeley, Josephine Hughs, Margaret Merritt, Jane Rauffaub, Virginia Zolt, Beatrice Way, Helen Spence, Lillian Lightstone, Thelma Dayton, Betty England, Dortha Green, Helen Canine, Helen Grimes and Helen Zamboras.

Troop assignments are being made by Mrs. J. E. Cooper, organization chairman. Although pleased with the number of new leaders, Mrs. Cooper stated that she still has a waiting list of 30 girls who would like to become Intermediate Scouts for whom there are no leaders. Women who are interested in helping can obtain further information by calling Mrs. Cooper at 372-W.

Every individual owes society more than can be repaid in one lifetime.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

A complete report on the results of the Buddy Poppy sale will appear in next week's column. Because of the deadline date of this publication, the full financial report was not available. Our sincere appreciation to all those who got out those two days and sold our V.F.W. Buddy Poppies.

This Sunday, June 5, is the date of our family Pot-Luck Dinner at the Post hall. It is the Auxiliary's eighth anniversary celebration and we hope to see a big turnout that day. Dinner is at 1 p.m. Bring the whole family and take part in the program planned for the afternoon. Kay Coolman is chairman for the affair. Bring one dish to pass and your own silverware. This is the first joint social function this year and we want to see that it is a huge success!

Anyone who missed the Post Dance, May 21, missed an evening of fun. We had a good turnout for the dance and the Post is planning future dances at the hall. Hal Young furnished the music for the occasion!

Optimists Expect Record Crowd For Horse Show

The Plymouth Optimists, co-sponsoring the ticket sale for the Northville Junior Horse Show this year, are expecting a record crowd to be on hand June 4 and 5 at Northville Downs to cheer the many entries that will be from Plymouth.

New to Michigan Horse Shows, the junior harness race horses, will have Sandy Penney and her sister Dena of Plymouth driving their standardbreds in the half-mile races that will be run both Saturday and Sunday.

All of the Plymouth 4-H members will be on hand for the many western horse classes as well as the 4-H horsemanship competition. The 4-H judging awards from Saturday's competition will be made at the Northville show on Sunday afternoon.

In the Junior Olympic team jumping competition there will be 12 teams entered for the beginning of the season's team games. Entered are the Bloomfield Hills Irishmen, Bloomfield Fairlaners, Bloomfield Thunderbirds, Birmingham Outlanders, Birmingham Bees, Northville Optimists, Detroit Triangles, Grosse Pointe Rascals, Livonia Triangles, Toledo A and Tolord B teams, and Bloomfield BOH.

This year is the 4th year of this junior team competition which has grown from three teams the first year to the present 12 teams.

Tickets for the show are available locally from any Optimist member, at Saxton's, Jerry's Shoe Repair, Hoffman and Holdsworth Implement company, Bob's Handy Hardware, Olds Grocery, Fisher Insurance agency and the Plymouth Mail.

This month starts our membership campaign. Chairman Helen Bowring urges all members to be looking for eligible girls to join our auxiliary. A survey was taken by the national organization recently to determine attitudes of persons toward the V.F.W. with the following results. The survey, though limited, did point out three things:

1. That members do not join because they are not asked.
2. That they do not know what our organization does.
3. That our real need is for programs of a scope on the national and local levels to give us the needed public acclaim so that persons will know our organization.

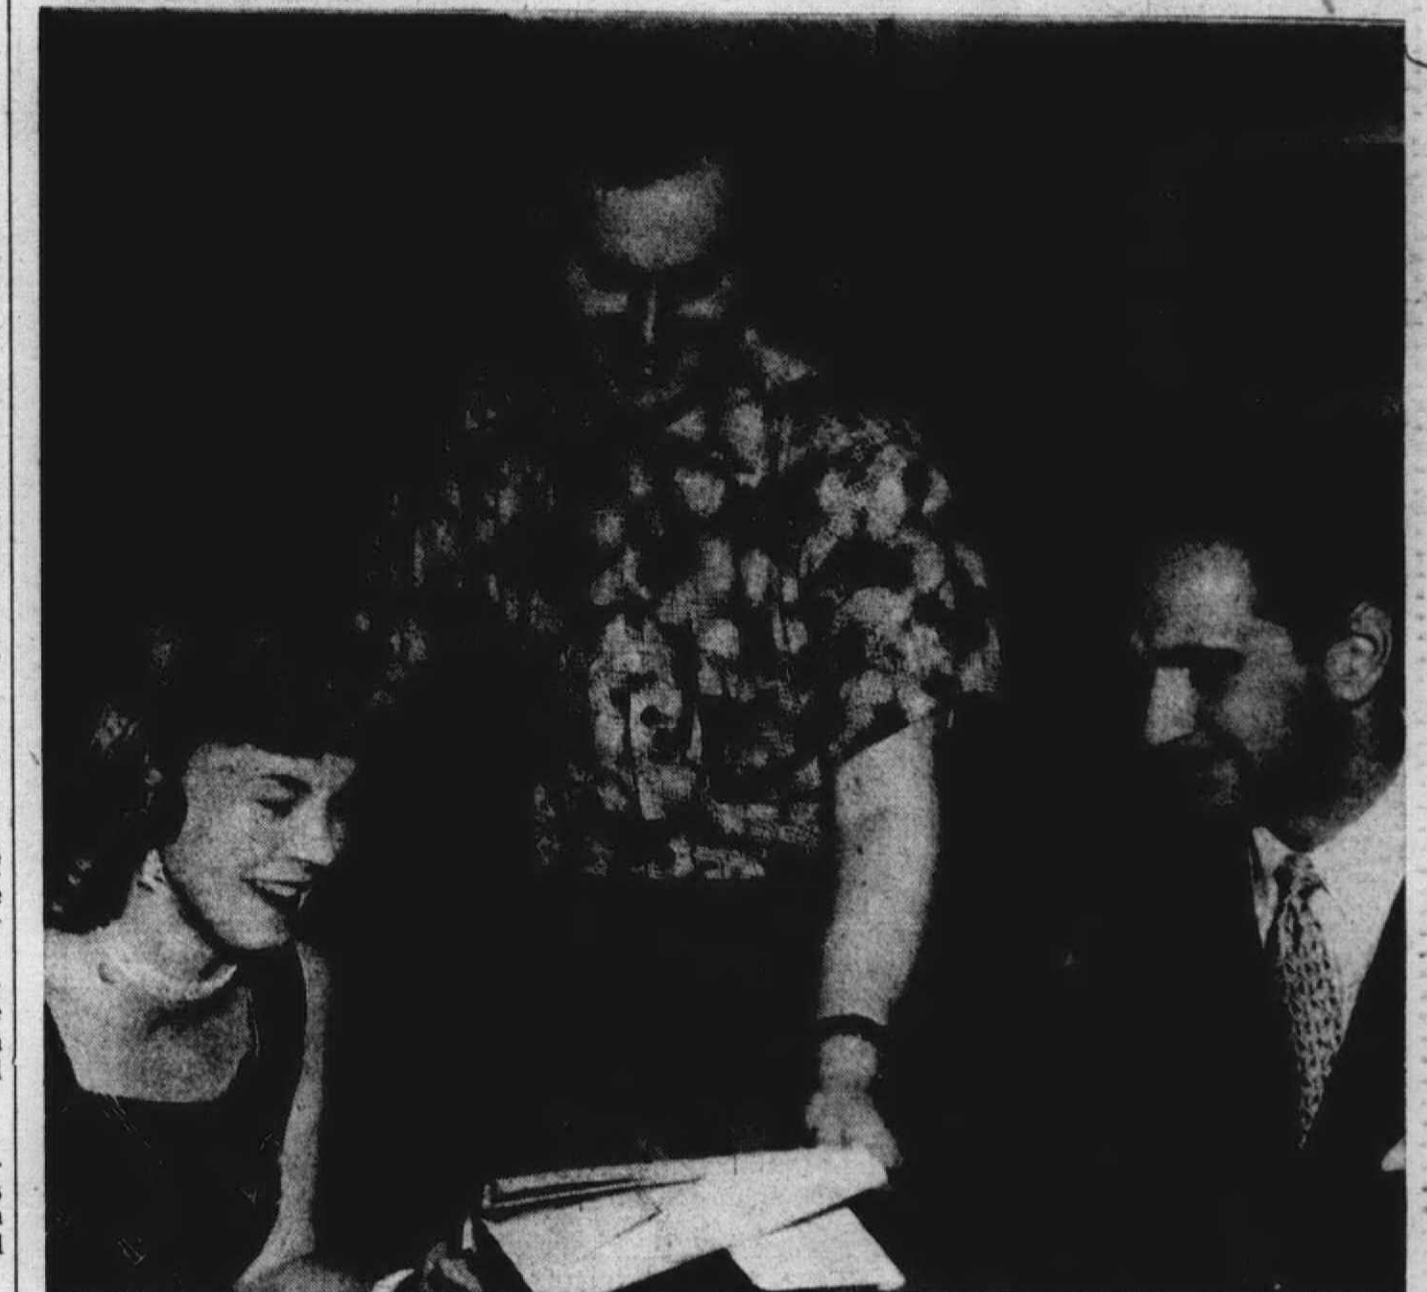

It is up to us as good Auxiliary and Post members to see that these eligibles know what sort of an organization they are joining. We ask each girl to bring in one new member so that our auxiliary can double in growth during the coming year!

Our linen demonstration netted us a very generous profit, thanks to everyone who attended the demonstration. Proceeds go into our general fund to be used for Cancer Committee's contribution later in the year. The Cancer Committee donated the refreshments for the evening.

Legion Post, Cleaners Start Flag Campaign

A campaign to get American flags tucked away in Plymouth attics out, cleaned and ready for flying on Flag Day, June 14, started yesterday as a joint project of the local American Legion post and five of Plymouth's cleaning firms.

Offered by the cleaning establishments is a free sprucing-up job on American flags if the owners will have them out and waving on the date of the national observance. Participating in the campaign which extends through June 11 are the following cleaners: Herald, Gould's, Perfection Laundry, Tait's and Colonial.

Arrangements for the project are being made through the Detroit corporation, cleaning association suppliers. Campaign chairman is Ernest Koi of the Passage-Gayde post, American Legion.

Accidents on our highways will continue as long as automobiles operate, but they can be eliminated by careful driving.

Don Hicks Wins Research Award

C. Don Hicks, 44475 Gov. Bradford, formerly personnel director of Eaton Manufacturing company, of Detroit, and currently staff consultant with the firm of Hall and Liles, has won—for the second time in as many years—the annual award for merit presented by the Research Institute of America for his contribution to executive skills, it was announced today.

The awards are given jointly to individuals and their companies "for steadily advancing the level of achievement within the framework of their own operations."

Hicks was one of 200 key members of the institute to win the award for merit. His award-winning entry concerned the techniques of initiating, formulating, conducting, and evaluating a supervisory development program.

Formal presentation of the bronze medallion to Hicks was made by Malcom Denny, of the institute executive staff, at a luncheon held at the Recess club, Detroit.

Summer Band Course To Start June 20

Plans for a six-weeks summer band program, starting June 20, have been announced this week by Laurence Livingston, high school band director. A similar course was held last year in which more than 100 students were enrolled.

Scheduled from June 20 through July 29, this summer's program will be held in the high school band room. Beginning students will have three hours of instruction each week on the instrument of their choice. Instruments are available on a rental basis for the summer months.

The program will also be open to intermediate musicians and will include students who have played one year or more, Livingston added.

The summer band groups will have a picnic in the park on Thursday, July 28, and will present a concert on July 29. Tuition for the six weeks is $6.

Luncheon Nets $300 for Crippled

The Rotary Anns' benefit luncheon for the Michigan Society of Crippled Children and Adults held Thursday, May 19, at the Masonic Temple totaled receipts of approximately $300, reported Mrs. Samuel Hudson, program chairman. She termed the affair "very successful."

The event was staged in an attempt to raise enough money to purchase for the society a sound movie projector for use in the group's recreational work. Mrs. Hudson explained that receipts from the affair added to money already in the treasury would finance the projector's purchase.

About 250 people attended the five hour gathering, which lasted from 11 until 4 and featured lunch for the businessmen and lunch and bridge-playing for the women.

Heading the dessert donations from the Rotary Anns were Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Ann Penhale, while Mrs. Frank Allison and Mrs. Robert Sincok were in charge of ticket sales. Mrs. Richard Papes was chairman of publicity. President of the Rotary Anns, which is made up of the wives of local Rotary club members, is Mrs. Robert Beyer.

How many telephone extensions should your home have?

An extension in the bedroom cuts down on tiresome stair climbing. It's a blessing, too, when you're ill in bed.

An extension in your teen-ager's room lets your youngster speak in precious privacy and without disturbing other members of the family.

An extension in the den saves steps when the phone rings, lets you make those important calls in quiet privacy.

An extension in the kitchen or laundry room makes life much easier. Saves steps and lets you keep an eye on things during phone conversations.

Whether yours is a three-extension house or a one-extension house, each extension will quickly prove its value. Besides the convenience and pleasure they bring, extension telephones mean extra protection in emergencies. And you'll be surprised how little they cost (less than 4¢ a day). Order yours today, from our Business Office or any telephone serviceman.

You'll see this poster on every telephone vehicle in town, inviting you to ask the driver for more phones for your home.

It's the new kind of hardtop— The 4-Door Riviera!

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm...

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the wallowing might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Golden Recipe

The woman who maketh a good pudding in silence is better than she who maketh a tart reply.—Oakland (Md.) Republican.

D. H. AGNEW, Plymouth jeweler, looks over one of his scintillators, which along with an outlay of geiger counters for uranium mining form the newest addition to his line of merchandise. Price of this sensitive device pictured is $495.

Jeweler's Merchandise Includes Geiger Counters

Changing times in twentieth century Plymouth are accentuated by local jeweler D. H. Agnew, who recently added to his store's merchandise a line of scintillators and geiger counters for this area's hopeful uranium miners.

Already Agnew has shown his newest item to several would-be customers, some of which are seriously interested while others are simply curious.

It was the need for "something new" that prompted the jeweler to take on the handling of this novel line of goods. Prices on these modern and scientific divining sticks start out at about $300 and range to $2000 for the scintillators, while the somewhat less complicated geiger counters begin with a $99.50 tag and scale upward.

Demand for these devices, which operate on electronic impulses, is greater in the surrounding area than the average person might suspect. Reason for some of the demand is the fact that in nearby Ann Arbor the University of Michigan conducts classes in uranium mining.

But these intricate and sensitive machines' use is slight in this and the eastern portion of the United States. Although there has been some prospecting done in Michigan's upper peninsula, the major operations are being made in the western states and in Canada.

Scintillators may be used from the ground in moving automobiles, and from low and slow flying airplanes. In the air this device is sensitive enough to pick up ore readings from 100 feet in the air on deposits 100 feet into the earth.

In addition the scintillator is strong enough so as not to be bothered by other air-waves at altitudes up to 15,000 feet. The geiger counter, not so refined as the scintillator, is confined in use to the ground while its operator is carrying it over the terrain.

"Uranium mining is OK for the man that can get away and live in the rough country, fishing and hunting and living off the land while prospecting," said Agnew, "but someone that is tied down would find it difficult to look for this rare mineral."

Under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Adams assisted by Mrs. William Rudick, Brownie Troop 18 recently enjoyed an overnight stay at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge. The group went on hikes, laid trail and later in the evening staged plays. The Brownies are currently working on the requirements of the tenderfoot rank to qualify them for the Girl Scouts. Gail Micol is in charge of publicity for this month.

DeHoCo Warden, Prison Cited

The Detroit House of Correction and its warden, Edward B. Gardiner, received recognition in Washington recently for service rendered to the ground observer corps.

General Benjamin W. Chidlaw, commander-in-chief of the continental air defense system, speaking to the President's conference of Governors included the nearby prison in a list when calling the attention of the governors to the contributions of the ground observer corps.

Gen. Chidlaw explained that the governor of Michigan has five observer posts located in prisons in his state. He followed by telling how Warden Gardiner of the Detroit House of Correction has allowed the prisoners of that minimum security institution to build their post from salvage material and man it 24 hours daily around the clock.

As each prisoner who has served comes up for parole, Warden Gardiner calls attention to his acceptance of this duty and the regularity of his service on the post. In some borderline cases ground observer service has influenced the parole of an individual.

Gen. Chidlaw made it clear that even men who have no freedom are convinced it is worth making an effort to secure it for others through the support of the ground observer corps.

Summer Begins Officially June 21

If you think it's hot now, just wait until August! Although summer begins officially at 11:32 p. m. June 21 and we'll have our longest day—15 hours of daylight—we won't have our warmest one. The Earth will be storing up more heat than it is losing because the atmosphere acts like a blanket holding back some of the heat falling on the surface.

By August the Earth will be losing more heat than it's gaining so it will be about twice as hot for us, since we'll have the sun beating down from above and the Earth letting off steam below.

On June 21 the Sun reaches its northernmost point 23½ degrees from the equator and the northern hemisphere is farthest from the Sun in its orbit. Since we are closer to the Sun in the winter than we are in the summer it makes our seasons more mild than those of the southern hemisphere where just the opposite is true.

This month we'll see the famous Northern Cross, one of the most magnificent constellations, rising on its side in the northeastern sky just after dark. Although not as brilliant as the celebrated Southern Cross, its stars form a larger and more perfect figure.

This constellation is represented in old star maps as the Swan, Cygnus, flying southward along the Milky Way. Deneb is one of the most prominent stars in the Swan or Cross, appearing as the tail of the Swan and the head of the Cross. It ranks about fifteenth in order of the brightness of stars visible from this latitude.

One of the finest double stars in the sky is in this star group, and it's especially interesting because of the striking contrast in the colors of its two components.

NOT LIKE THE FLOOD

An American died and went to Heaven, and promptly started to boast about his native land, "Do you know," he told a group of spirits, "that at Niagara Falls eight billion cubic feet of water flows over the cliffs every second!"

"Poof!" said Noah, scornfully, "Dew-drops."

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Purchase of a public fishing site on Lake Twenty-Seven in Otsego county and 115 acres of forest and park lands was approved at the May Conservation Commission meeting.

Two fishing sites — on Mona lake, Muskegon county and on the Menominee river, Menominee county—were accepted as gifts.

Flooding projects on Mud lake in Grand Traverse county, Devils lake in Alpena county, Backus creek in Roscommon county and Black creek in Mackinac county were approved. The commission next meets June 9-10.

A petroleum producer will begin drilling operations on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair about June 15.

Gerald E. Eddy, Conservation Department director and supervisor of wells, reported that a petroleum barge was on its way from Mississippi to be used in the operation.

Eddy said Michigan would watch the drilling closely, both for oil production and water pollution possibilities.

Underwater drilling is common in southern climes, but new to this region. And because Detroit takes most of its water from the lake, pollution could cause serious problems.

Eddy made his report at a recent Conservation Commission meeting.

Fifty-nine reported fires burned 219 acres of Michigan forests last week.

A total of 3277 acres have been damaged in 1955.

More Trout, Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to the betterment of trout fishing, has asked Michigan's Conservation Commission for financial help to carry on and improve the corporation's work.

More Trout's president, Amos Rheame, a retired Detroit businessman, appeared before the commission at a recent meeting and asked $13,200 per year to enable the organization to continue its work for another three years.

The organization has a fish-lift dam on the AuGres river west of East Tawas. Lamprey control and fish-feeding experiments are carried on.

Rheame summarized work done during More Trout's four-year life and pointed to financial drawbacks the organization now faces.

The commission asked for a detailed budget of proposed work and promised further consideration when that was submitted.

M. E. Austin and I. W. Hartman, both of Mt. Pleasant, have been reappointed to the oil advisory board.

Austin has served six months, filling an unexpired term, and Hartman has served three and a half years.

The Conservation Commission made the reappointments on the recommendation of Gerald E. Eddy, supervisor of wells.

The Conservation Commission has approved stream improvement work on the upper White river watershed in Newaygo county and on Pine creek in Dickinson county.

The commission reviewed the improvement program and authorized the new work during a recent meeting.

An estimated $54,000 will be spent on the White river and $30,000 on Pine creek; much of the money will be federal aid.

More fishing enjoyment at lower cost may be the result of fingerling brook trout planting tests now under way in the Upper Peninsula.

Preliminary Conservation Department tests on Moccasin, Swanzy and Airport lakes in Marquette county indicate that fingerling brooks released in the fall cost less to plant and return four to six times as much poundage to the angler as do the bigger sub-legal and legal-sized fish.

Until recent years, most trout planted in the United States were the bigger fish. Experience showed that these fish provided "put and take" angling at moderate cost to the fisherman.

The state fingerling tests have been under way two years on the northern lakes. Fingerlings were planted in the lakes in 1951 and 1952 and catches were made in 1953 and 1954.

Various regulations are also being studied. The department's institute for fisheries research is supervising the work.

Coaxing ducks into places where they can be shot may be all right in some places, but not in Michigan.

Meeting here last week, the state Conservation Commission took a solid stand against baiting. The seven members resolved as being "very strongly opposed" to baiting in Michigan or to the practice as a policy in the flyway.

Baiting is done by chucking grain or other duck foods into marsh areas or open waters near blinds. When the birds come to feed, hunting becomes simple.

The commission's statement came on the eve of the annual Mississippi Flyways Council meeting at St. Louis, Missouri, on May 19-20, when a number of flyway hunting regulations will be discussed, including the controversial problem of baiting.

Two representatives from the Conservation Department are scheduled to attend.

Michigan's Conservation Department won top national honors this year for its educational film, "The Michigan Deer Story."

The American Association for Conservation Information, composed of leading U. S. Conservationists, made the award for the outstanding conservation motion picture of the year.

The 26-minute, color-sound film was produced in the department's film loan section under direction of Clare J. Tinker, Robert Harrington was photographer and David Jenkins, game biologist, was technical advisor. The film sums up the history of the herd and points to some of the problems it now faces.

The award came during the 14th annual meeting of the organization, May 15-18, at New Orleans.

Dr. Ira Gabrielson, president of the Wildlife Management Institute, the late Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, executive vice president of the Sport Fishing Institute, and Michael Huboda, Washington editor of Sports Afield magazine, were the judges.

Two Canadian provinces and 44 states and Hawaii have membership in the organization.

A recent check of pheasants on Big Charity Island in Saginaw Bay shows the Mongolian strain of ringnecks released there in 1951 is still holding on.

Conservation Department workers released pheasants on the island in the winter and spring of 1951-52.

Despite the island having no agriculture, the birds appear to be making a living off the 250 acres of oak, hard maple and scrub growth. Michigan's pheasant range is limited mostly to the southern lower peninsula — the state's concentrated agricultural region where the birds feed on grain and other farm area foods.

On Big Charity, they appear to be living on acorns and juniper and poison ivy berries.

A Yankee sportsman stopped at the hot-noon outside a crofter's cottage in the Highlands and requested a glass of milk. The hospitable Highlander added a dash of whiskey to the glass. The American drank with increasing satisfaction. When he had finished said: "Say, friend, one thousand dollars for that cow!"

Joins Slow Down, Live Program

Chief Carl Greenlee today announced that the police department of Plymouth is joining the State Safety Commission and the Michigan State Police in a 101-day traffic accident prevention program called "Slow Down and Live." It is running from Memorial Day through Labor Day, a period when last year 535 people lost their lives in traffic accidents.

According to Chief Greenlee the program is aimed at those driver behavior faults associated with "in a hurry" complex and the "me first" attitude on the highway. They include the motorist who is speeding, excessive speed, or too fast for conditions; the driver who passes dangerously; the fellow who steals the right-of-way; and the person who follows too closely. National figures show that these were responsible for 90 percent of the deaths.

The chief pointed out that the Slow Down and Live program purposely began with the 3-day Memorial Day weekend. Last year the Memorial Day weekend cost the lives of 20 people in Michigan traffic accidents. He urged all motorists to cooperate with the nationwide Slow Down and Live safety campaign by getting off to a good start in being extra careful during the Memorial Day weekend.

"In June," the chief said, "schools close and children are out on streets and highways without the protection of school safety programs. Thus, shortly after Memorial Day motorists should 'Watch Out for Kids' and 'Slow Down for Kids'."

During June the traffic safety authorities are placing special emphasis on dangerous passing and safety posters displaying the warning KEEP IN YOUR LANE are being displayed throughout the state.

Chief Greenlee called upon all residents of the community to heed the slogan SLOW DOWN AND LIVE, not only when driving within the community but when driving out in the country. "It is significant," he added, "that most of the people killed out on the highways in the country are people who live in cities."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Sour Cream Drops

A good snack-time or dessert treat are these Sour Cream Drops recommended by Mrs. Lee Coolman of 353 Starkweather. Youngsters, she adds, especially like them when they're fancied up with Golden Icing.

Besides being downright good, Sour Cream Drops have the added advantage over other cookie types in that they ship well and keep fresh for a long period of time.

Here's Mrs. Coolman's method for whipping up a batch of her favorites:

SOUR CREAM DROPS

- ¼ cup of butter or margarine
- ½ teaspoon of vanilla
- ¾ cup of brown sugar
- 1 beaten egg
- 1½ cups of enriched, all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon of salt
- ¼ teaspoon of baking powder
- ½ teaspoon of soda
- ½ cup of thick sour cream
- ¼ cup of chopped walnuts
- 1 cup of chopped dates.

Thoroughly cream shortening, vanilla and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add sifted ingredients alternately with sour cream, stirring smooth after each addition. Stir in dates and walnuts. Drop from teaspoon on greased cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 10 minutes. When cool, spread with golden icing. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.

GOLDEN ICING

Heat ¼ cup of butter or margarine over low heat until golden; stir in 1 cup of confectioner's sugar and ½ teaspoon of vanilla. Add hot water until mixture is of spreading consistency.

Make Hit with Family by Serving These Hot Bread Suggestions

Hot rolls, cooked to perfection, and coffee cakes, sugar topped, are delicious, in fact any good hot bread is always welcomed by the family. They are not hard to make so try your hand on some of these suggestions.

- KOLACHES
- 2 yeast cakes
 - 1/2 cup lukewarm water
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs beaten
 - 5 cups flour
 - 3/4 cup prune or apricot puree

Soften yeast in the lukewarm water. Scald the milk and pour over the butter, sugar and salt. Cool until lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 2 hours. When light, roll out one-half inch thick and cut with biscuit cutter. Allow to rise again. When light make a deep impression in the center for filling. Fill with the cooked prunes or diced apricots sweetened and mashed. Bake 20 minutes in an oven 375 degrees. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. This makes 2 1/2 to 3 dozen rolls.

- CREAM ROLLS
- 1 cup thin cream
 - 1 cake yeast
 - 1 cup butter or other shortening
 - 5 egg yolks
 - 3 cups flour
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 cup blanched almonds, chopped.

Scald cream and cool to lukewarm, crumble yeast and mix with the cooled cream. Cream butter thoroughly, add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour alternately with the yeast mixture to the butter and egg mixture. Beat thoroughly. Chill dough in refrigerator overnight. Mix sugar and nutmeats and sprinkle half the mixture on the molding board. Divide chilled dough in half; roll out each portion in the sugar and nuts until the dough is one-eighth inch thick. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut off 1/4 inch slices and place on greased baking sheets, cut side up 1 1/2 inches apart. Let rolls rise until light about 1 hour. Bake in an oven 350 degrees until delicately browned. This makes about 2 1/2 dozen rolls.

COFFEE CAKE

- 2 yeast cakes
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs beaten
- 5 cups flour

Crumble the yeast and soften in the water. Scald the milk, add the shortening, sugar and salt. Cool until lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Add yeast and eggs, beating thoroughly. Add flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead until smooth. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 2 hours. When light punch down and form into a long roll about 1 inch in diameter. Coil this in a greased round cake pan, starting at the outer edge and covering the bottom of the pan. Sprinkle with your favorite coffee cake topping, let rise until double in bulk. Bake in an oven 375 degrees for 25 or 30 minutes. If you wish, omit the topping and frost while hot with powdered sugar icing and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Experts List Do's, Don'ts On Freezing

The contents of any frozen food package should be kept properly refrigerated at all times. This is the only way to insure flavor and nutritional value. Meat should never be refrozen after it has once been thawed. In a recent study carried out by the Council on Foods and Nutrition at A.M.A. headquarters it was shown that sufficient gas would form in non-refrigerated cans of orange juice to cause the cans to explode at their seams after 48 hours at room temperature.

Frozen orange juice must be kept in that state constantly if its flavor and nutritional values are to be retained effectively. The contents of any can that has not been kept properly refrigerated or that shows signs of bulging or release of gas when it is opened, should be discarded.

If you are going to freeze foods yourself, you must be very careful to properly package the food. All foods contain moisture, which is constantly evaporating. This moisture passes right through loose or poor packaging materials. Thus the product shrivels and develops a woody texture. A hard leathery crust forms on meats.

To prevent this, food must be sealed in moisture-proof material. They must be sealed as air-tight as possible. These methods protect the vitamin content, as well as flavor and texture of foods.

Foods need to be quick-frozen. In large capacity freezers, a special freezing compartment is provided. If your freezer does not have such a compartment, it would be worthwhile to have it quick-frozen commercially.

Straw Dresses Spark Summer Fashion Pix

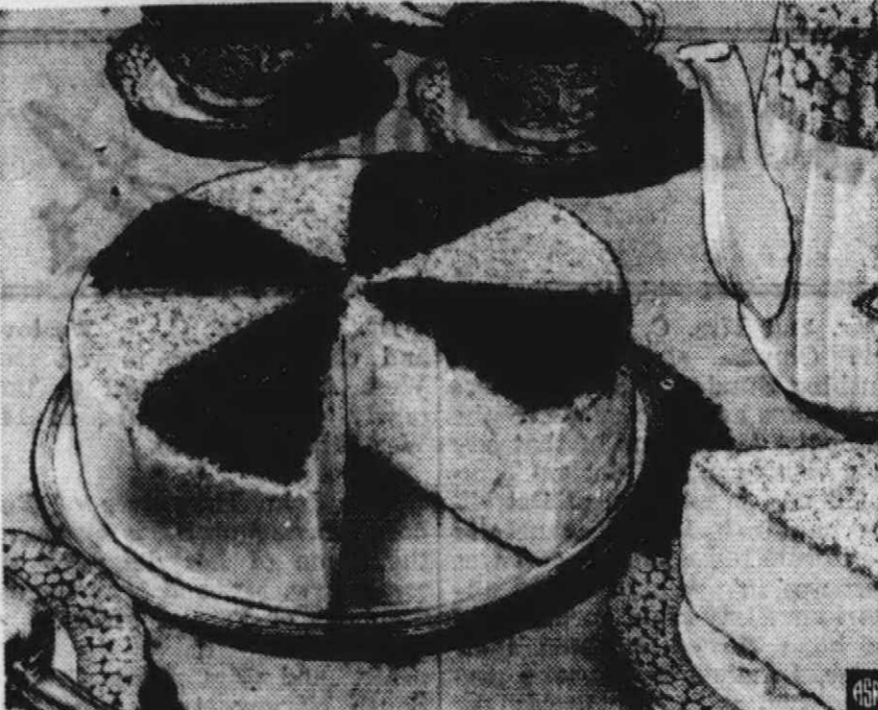

Straw skirts, jackets and accessories have been popular for a number of summers. This summer something new — straw dresses!

They are beautiful, lacy things imported from Italy. The straw lace is as soft as heavy silk and comes in any color you could desire. Most of these dresses are fashioned with a full skirt over a matching slip of silk or silk taffeta. The straight skirt is almost as popular and is quite becoming to the mature figure.

There is an endless choice of brilliant patent shoes and bags. This is an awfully good buy if you are on a budget because the new, better patent leathers wear well and complement many different outfits.

No-Bake Cheese Cake A Taste Wonder

Effortless, and excellent this no-bake cheese cake wins dessert honors. The smoothness of the fresh-of-lemon refrigerator cake results from a custard base, cream-style cottage cheese and whipped cream. Then unflavored gelatine magically blends all the ingredients together and assures a delicate firmness. Cookie crumbs make the topping.

No-Bake Cheese Cake
(Party Size 10-12 servings)

- Crumb Topping:
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1/4 cup chocolate cookie crumbs, and
 - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs

Mix butter, sugar and spices together. Add half of spiced mixture to chocolate crumbs and remaining half to graham cracker crumbs; mix well. Turn cheese cake mixture into an 8-inch spring form pan; sprinkle with crumbs in wedge-shaped pattern, alternating chocolate and graham cracker crumbs. If desired, an 8 or 9-inch square pan or a 9x5-inch loaf pan may be used. Line with waxed paper. Press crumb mixture in bottom of pan; turn in cheese cake mixture.

- Cheese Cake:
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
 - 1 cup sugar, divided
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs, separated
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - 3 cups (24 ounces) creamed cottage cheese, sieved
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatine, 1/2 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat together egg yolks and milk; add to gelatine mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves and mixture thickens, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon rind; cool. Stir in sieved cottage cheese, lemon juice and vanilla. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatine-cheese mixture with whipped cream. Turn into prepared pan; chill until firm.

(Family Size 5-6 servings)

Use 1/2 gelatine recipe but full amount crumb mixture in an 8-inch round pan or 9-inch pie plate.

Iced Coffee Fits Bill for Quick, Cooling Drink

Iced coffee, one of the nation's favorite warm-weather drinks, can be prepared in two ways.

Which method you use may depend on how much time you have, says an instructor in institution administration at Michigan State college.

The coffee can be brewed at regular strength, cooled thoroughly and cracked ice added just before it is served.

If you're in a hurry, brew the coffee doubly strong and while it's still hot, add plenty of ice to chill it.

Iced coffee can be served with or without cream. If it is to be sweetened, the sugar should be added before it's chilled so that it will dissolve readily.

The brewing of iced coffee, like any other good coffee, should follow a few general rules that are designed to give a flavorful product. Some of these suggestions are to use a clean coffee pot, measure the coffee and water carefully, always use fresh coffee and never boil the coffee.

The specialist also advises that coffee be stored in a cool, dry place in a tightly covered container. Try to avoid storing roasted coffee near foods with strong odors. Coffee readily absorbs these odors and they can be tasted in the finished brew.

T-Shirt Dress Gets Exciting, New Look

The T-shirt dress is one of the best fashions for the transition to warm summer weather. The first appearance of this fashion favorite was made last year about this time in southern France.

This season's exciting new variations of the T-shirt dress are numerous. Many take their design from the striped gondolier's shirt for their different good looks. Stripes are the current craze in Europe in everything from pin-striped worsted suits to gay cotton skirts and sun-dresses.

No place in Michigan is more than 85 miles from one of the Great Lakes.

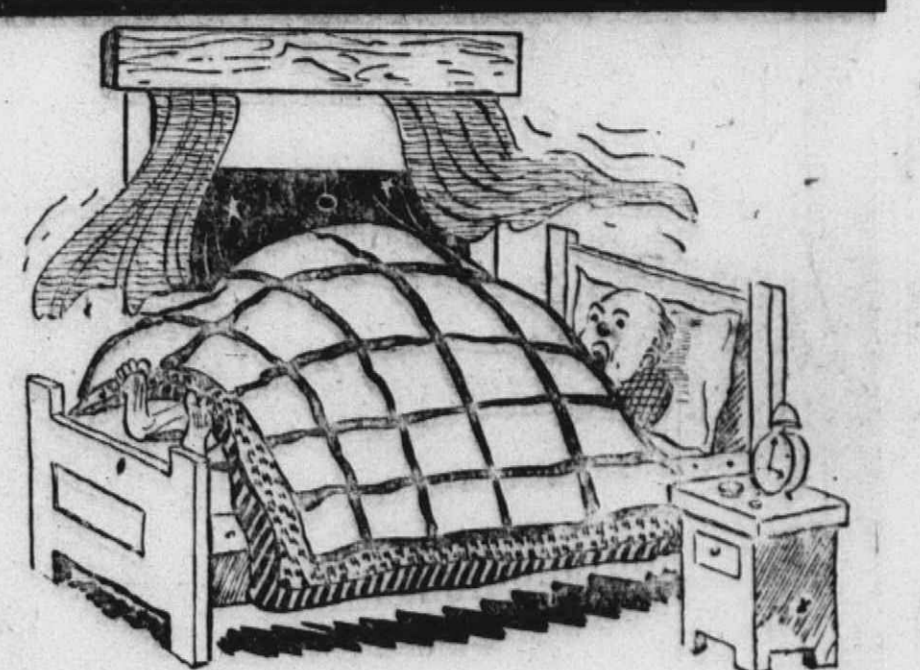

Coat - Dress Ensemble Takes Fashion Spotlight

The newest fashion in cotton for summer wear is the long coat ensemble with a dress. The silhouette varies, depending upon the occasion. The coat and dress are worn reed-slim for town and travel wear or flaring for late-day dates.

bled with a sleeveless white cotton satin sheath.

The cotton coat is cool, lightweight, and striking in tweed, brocade, ottoman and tapestry textures. It's ensembled over color-coordinated dresses made of pique, lace and satin.

Cotton is king for the summer suit. Newest styling is the three-piece ensemble with a print overblouse to match the boxy jacket lining.

Good Eating Habits Can Add Ten Years to Life Expectancy

A good diet might add 10 years to your life. What's more, the years can be added at the prime of life—during the middle years, say specialists in foods and nutrition at Michigan State college.

The first steps in making middle age longer and old age shorter, the experts say, should be taken in young adulthood. To keep in tip-top vigor, make sure you have well chosen meals throughout adult years as well as childhood.

The specialists suggest that protein, ideally, should be part of every meal. Studies show that protein and the B vitamins delay aging. Meat is a good source of both. Milk, cheese, eggs and fish are other good protein sources.

B vitamins, so important in delaying aging, are found in enriched flour and whole grain cereals. Keeping calorie counts low leaves little room for eating baked products, so all bread and other cereal foods we do eat should be enriched or made with whole grains.

As an adult becomes less active, less energy food is needed. But when less food is eaten, milk, meat, eggs, fruits and vegetables should not be neglected, warn the nutrition experts. A pint or more milk should be high on the day's diet list, because the calcium it contains helps protect bones against breaking. Calcium also serves as a nerve regulator.

Foods such as sugar, candy, cake, cookies, pastry, gravy and fried goods give energy but no food value. So authorities advise cutting down on these foods.

Still doing the Black Bottom?

As you can see, we don't mean the flapper-day dance . . . but a routine that's just as exhausting—scrubbing and scouring black-bottomed pots and pans.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

REMODEL

BUILD

DO IT YOURSELF: Tom Lock, 782 Blunk, has saved several thousand dollars by building entirely by himself the home pictured here which is estimated to be in the 14 or 15 thousand dollar price range. Working in his spare time for a solid year, Tom has poured a foundation, built up the house and completed the inside to a point where it is ready to plaster. Located on a 50' x 120' lot at the corner of Blunk and Junction, the house, which is six rooms and bath and 30' x 40' in size, is covered on the outside by green cedar shakes siding. Amateur house-builder Lock sent away for the plans and started work with no other experience in this line other than helping his brother-in-law build part of the latter's home. Besides working a full-time afternoon shift at Burrough's and building his new home, Tom finds time to get in his licks at golf and has captured the Plymouth City tournament championship several times in recent years.

Insulation Keeps Homes Comfortable All Year Home Owner Can Complete the Job Himself

You can keep your home comfortably cool in summer, cut your winter fuel bill as much as 40 percent and save yourself from $50 to $100 on the job in the bargain by insulating your attic yourself.

Two people can usually complete the project in a single afternoon. You may choose from among several different types of insulating materials, as follows:

"Fill-type" insulation is loose material that comes in bales or bags and can readily be poured into place. If you will give your building supplies dealer an idea of the size of your attic he can tell you what quantity of material you will need.

If your attic is unfloored, pour the "fill-type" material directly from the bags into the spaces between the joists. Floored attics can be insulated by removing one or two floorboards and pouring the material under the floored portion.

Even off the material to a three-inch depth with a cardboard rake, which can be obtained from your building supplies dealer. For floored attics, the cardboard is nailed to a wooden handle for smoothing the material under the floored portion.

Another popular insulating material for do-it-yourself application to attics is the "flexible type." This is produced in the form of "blankets" or "quilts" and comes in long rolls, as well as in "batts" or pre-cut sections. It is made wide enough to fit in the hollow spaces between studs, rafters and joists in walls or ceilings or under the roof.

The "batts" or pre-cut sections are simply placed between the joists of unfloored attics. In the case of floored attics it will be necessary to remove the floorboards. If purchased in long rolls, these can be cut to the desired dimensions, as installed.

The insulating material is enclosed in heavy paper covering with one side impregnated with asphalt to serve as a vapor barrier. This barrier should face the inside (or "downstairs") area of the house. It prevents vapor from passing through the ceiling and reducing the effectiveness of the insulation.

If your attic is used constantly for storage or play, the "flexible type" of insulation should be placed between the rafters under the roof.

If you are finishing off an attic, you can insulate at the same time by using "insulating boards" which have sufficient structural strength to use as a base for plaster. Or they can, themselves, serve as a decorative finish.

"Reflective" materials afford another type of insulation which functions by turning back heat, much as a mirror reflects light. Aluminum foil is bonded to heavy building paper or wallboard.

In applying foil backed board, the continuous sheet of aluminum foil is placed against the stud on the warm side of the wall. The same procedure (foil side up) is followed when the board is applied to the joists or rafters in the top-floor ceilings.

Like regular wallboard, the foil-backed variety lends itself to any decorative treatment—paint, wallpaper, fabric or texture.

SUMMER SUN'S HEAT penetrates uninsulated home, creates oven-like conditions. Insulation keeps much of this heat OUT, keeps folks much cooler inside.

WINTER FURNACE HEAT escapes from uninsulated home, wastes fuel. Insulation keeps furnace heat inside home, saves fuel. Drawings by Gypsum Association.

Browsing with BARBARA

Taking a turn through the headquarters of Pease Paint and Wallpaper company at 570 South Main, two items met my eye in the line of new materials available for home decoration at the local store.

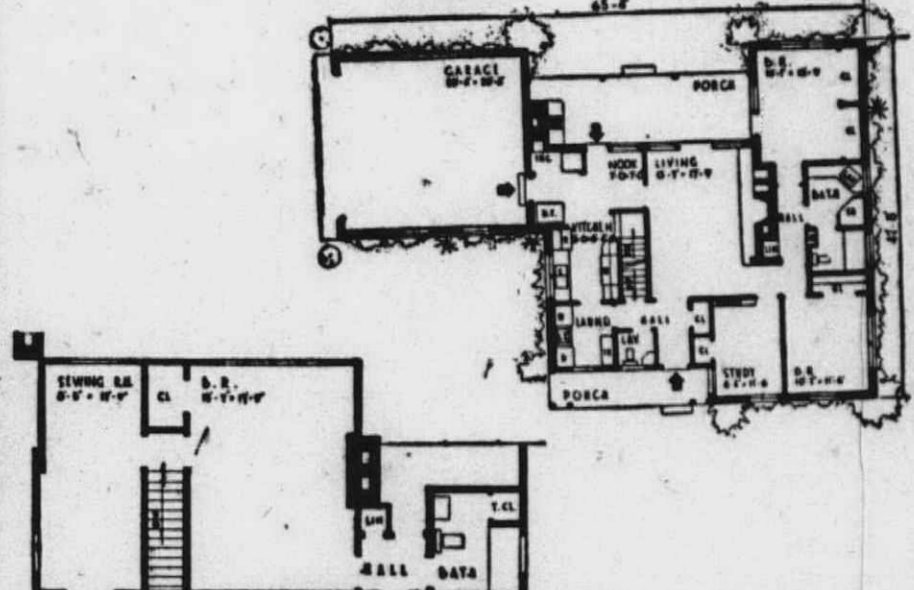

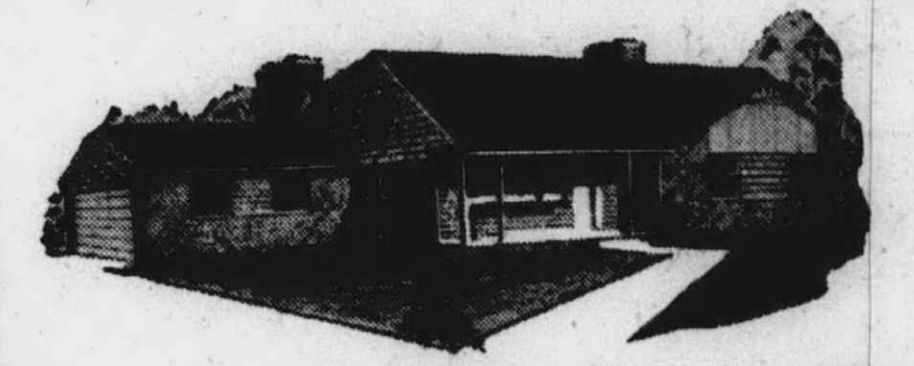

First of all Jerry Pease showed me samples of the new colors which have just been made available in Columbia's Ariel Lattiswood drapes and shades. Besides the host of colors originally offered in this unusually attractive medium of basswood staves, Columbia has added charcoal, new greens, reds, etc. And to boot, now you can also get the Ariel drapes and shades in two colors. Each strip of basswood stave has been alternately painted in white and in one of the new tones of red, green, black or yellow.

If you're looking for a gay, circus air to add to the playroom or what have you, the candy stripe effect made by the alternate red and white stripes, will really do the trick. For that matter, any combination of the stripes will add a bright, decorative note to your rooms. If you want an exact match with your home decorating scheme, Jerry will also be glad to dip the shades or drapes to suit your taste.

The new Lattiswood shades come spring-roller types or the pull-cord type which works on the venetian blind scheme. For room dividers there's nothing better to achieve the purpose and at the same time permit maximum ventilation between the divided areas than the Lattiswood drapes. Both shades and drapes come in varying widths and lengths to fit the needs of the home decorator.

Also in the line of decorating materials down at Pease's is the host of new Warner Station Wagon papers. Of almost every conceivable design from scenes to abstracts, the new papers are available in pre-pasted and pre-trimmed for the do-it-yourself fan, or not-pasted and with selvages left on for the benefit of those in the paperhanging business.

This spacious story-and-a-half house features a study and two bedrooms on the first floor plus another large bedroom and sewing or hobby room upstairs. Highlighted are the living room with fireplace, covered rear porch, two full baths and lavatory. For further information about DESIGN H-278, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: I have tried several times to make a brick planter, but I can't get the mortar to set. I've used various mixes—3:1, 2:1 and 1:1, but it invariably crumbles. Can it be that the cement is bad? Or could the temperature cause the trouble? Can one lay bricks in winter as well as summer?

Answer: Probably the bricks were too dry and immediately soaked water out of the mortar so that it crumbled. At a temperature of 10 below freezing or lower, mortar can be so frozen as to crumble, but this can be offset by using a water-proofing chemical in it. This type of liquid is handled by masonry dealers, and can be used to make mortar or concrete in temperatures as low as 15 degrees below zero. Soak your bricks first and lay them wet with a 2 1/2 part sand-1 part mortar cement mixture and add the chemical if a freeze-up is expected.

Q—How can I keep cement dust from coming off our basement floor?
A—The dusting can be stopped by sealing the floor with a mixture of three pounds of zinc sulphate and one gallon of water. Mop this solution on the floor, and then let it dry for a few days.

Question: I recently completed my own concrete block basement foundation, and all is in good shape except for water leaking through when it rains. This comes through where I introduced the copper tubing from the water supply. I have sealed around the pipe inside with cement, but leaks persist. What should I use to cement around this pipe, inside or out, to stop this trouble?

Answer: Cement won't stick to copper to make a water-tight seal. Pack the inside of the hole around the pipe with asphalt, then apply cement which will stick to asphalt. Also, this material will not be affected by expansion and contraction of the pipe. Do the same on the outside of the foundation to prevent the foundation block cores from filling with water, which could seep through the wall elsewhere.

Paint Removing Job Made Easier Basement Planning Is Important To Modern Living Comfort

For many weekend decorating projects, the old paint should be removed first.

Today's paint removers are fast-working, non-inflammable and easy to use.

Just lay on a heavy even coat of the remover, brushing in one direction only. Do NOT brush back and forth like paint.

When the paint is broken from the surface, remove with regular paint scraper or putty knife (for flat surfaces) or steel wool or rags (for rounded or carved surfaces).

Any small spots that remain can be touched again with steel wool dipped in remover.

After old finish is removed, wipe surface clean and dry. It is then ready for application of new finish.

planning of your basement "on paper" will save you costly mistakes. Then when the budget permits, you will have a well planned area for a hobby workshop, game room, a spare guest room, another bathroom or storage space. Plan on paper so heating plants, pipes and other obstructions won't happen in all of the wrong places. Plan for windows which will give adequate light, not the typical high basement window.

One of the common errors in basement planning is for stairways. Space allowed for stairway is often too skimpy. This results in a hard climb up and a dangerous passage down steps that are too high and too narrow. Don't neglect to plan for adequate headroom over the steps. The stair riser, from one step up to the next, should be 7 1/2 to 8 inches. The treads, the part you step on, should be from 9 to 10 inches deep. Good dimensions for your stairway mean easier, safer climbing up and down.

With the trend toward smaller homes and more possessions, storage space is essential. Modern basements are contracted to be used as living space, also. Recreation rooms for families with children can be considered a necessity. An expenditure of 10 to 20 percent more than the cost of a slab structure can make your house twice as big. This provides hobby and living space. Advance

HERE'S HOW... MAKE A CAR-TOP CARRY-ALL

A detachable carry-all to fit standard car-top carriers provides extra space for luggage.

The box is made of panels of glued-up 1-inch lumber, with sides from 14 to 16 inches high.

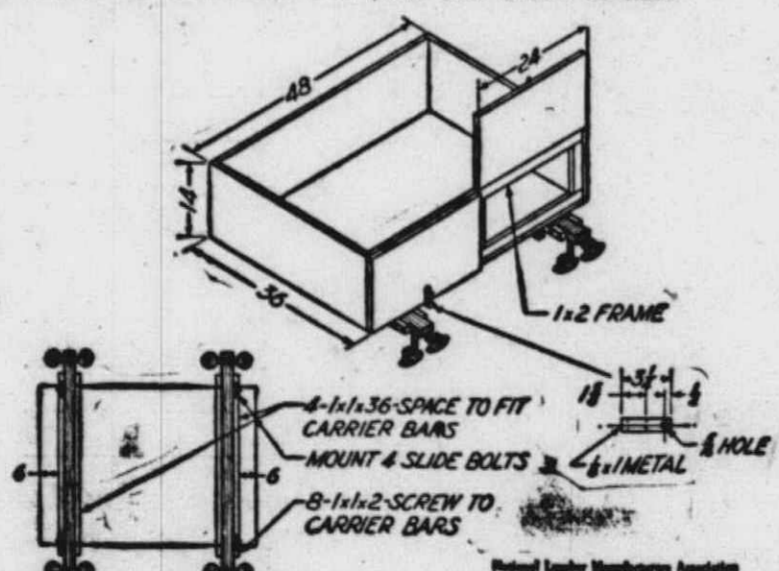

Make a frame of 1 by 2-inch lumber for the doors. Mortise and tenon or dowel joints will make a strong frame. Use waterproof glue.

The sides and bottom are joined with wood screws and glue. The doors are attached to the frame with 1 1/2 by 2-inch butt hinges. Slide bolts, centered at the bottom of each door, fit into metal plates as shown.

On the bottom of the box, four 1 by 1 by 36-inch strips are fastened with 1 1/2-inch screws, and spaced so that your carrier fits snugly between them. Fasten eight 1 by 1 by 2-inch blocks to the carrier bars, each pair being 36 inches apart. Then add four slide bolts so that the bolts fit on the 1-inch strips and slide into their matching plates on the blocks. These bolts hold the box to the carrier.

A canvas top is fastened over the box when in use.

Linsell Addresses School Assembly

Frederick Linsell, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Education committee and training supervisor for the Burroughs corporation's Plymouth plant, addressed Plymouth high school's entire student body Tuesday morning, May 24, during the annual inaugural assembly.
 Following ceremonies in which the new class and student council officers were installed to manage student affairs for the coming year, Linsell sounded the keynote of the assembly.
 He pointed out that "the most effective measure of the success of our leaders, both in school and in public life, is the extent each citizen participates actively and creatively in the affairs which directly affect him."

 He indicated that the participation of each student in school affairs and activities is of mutual interest to all of his classmates. "Through this participation, each individual grows in his powers and strengths and finds himself rid of many of his limiting deficiencies, his doubts, his indecisions. It is the vital stimulant to self expression which paves the way to personal development in any chosen field."

A group of doctors were talking at a recent Rotary meeting about the terrific pressure they were under from the time they went to bed until the time the first early morning phone call got them in action again. Dr. O. L. Brooker of Livonia, one of the group, made the following observation: "The human body just isn't geared to stand the pressure that the average businessman undergoes today. It is no wonder that we hear of so many heart ailments in comparatively young men and today's pace is without question the reason mental health is fast becoming the number one problem in this country."

He further stated that in his case and like all of the rest of the doctors and all other businessmen, there just weren't enough hours in the day to plan a schedule or maintain a normal routine.

Shortly after this interesting conversation the following membership card in the Coronary Club passed my desk and because of the sound advice it contained we pass it on for the benefit of all our local business people.

Its content came from a letter written the secretary of the Michigan Heart Association by A. G. Kettunen, a nationally known 4H Club leader who is now convalescing from a heart attack. It was published in the Journal of the Michigan State Medical Society under the heading, Coronary Club Membership Requirements

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"With June being the month of weddings, our question concerns the controversial question of whether or not a couple should have a large, impressive wedding or a small one?"

MRS. EDWARD CARNEY, 238 South Main: "I think that a simple wedding is best. Perhaps young people getting married would be better off using the extra money for the things they need to start married life. My daughter just announced her engagement and plans to have a small wedding."

MISS SALLY BLACK, 8755 Ann Arbor Road: "It would be better to save money with a small wedding to have some left over to start with. Usually the bride's parents can't stand all the expense. I have many friends who financed their own weddings and spent all of their savings. Me? I'll probably have a small wedding."

Mrs. Carney Miss Black Mrs. Jetter Mrs. Lonn

MRS. CLARENCE JETTER, 353 Joy: "It's an individual preference and depends upon how much money a couple has to spend. They probably could use much of that money on their home. Some people like to have big weddings to look back on all their lives. I think you miss something if you don't have something to remember."

MRS. VICTOR LONN, Northville township: "I think a wedding is nice if its big enough to give you something to remember, but I can't see eloping or running off to some place or other. Those big weddings take all the savings, leaving no money to get started."

Representative Leonard Wood Replies to Mail Editorial

May 22, 1955

Dear Sir: The work of the Legislature has been very heavy during the past two weeks, and for that reason, I have not been able to make a proper reply to your editorial of May 5, 1955.

I have attempted to meet with you and discuss the subject matter of your editorial, but for the past two years I have been unable to arrange such a meeting. It seems to me that in simple fairness, your criticism of my actions, ought to be preceded by some attempt to learn my viewpoint.

My father, as well as yours, was a lifelong Republican. I have often been told of your father's fine integrity and record as a legislator by his former colleagues, Reps. Crampton, Henderson, Engstrom, and Warner. But the Republican Party to which my father and yours gave their allegiance is not the same Republican Party we have in Michigan today. The party of Teddy Roosevelt and Abe Lincoln was a party of the common people, a liberal party. If Teddy Roosevelt sat in the Michigan Legislature as a Republican today, they'd be trying to beat him into line in caucuses, and calling him a Democrat.

I, too, believe in the two party system. But, I believe, also, that it is the duty of both parties to develop programs and policies in tune with the mandate of the people. This, the Republican Party leadership has failed to do.

There have been many examples in the current Session. Take the tax question, for example. The so-called business activities tax, enacted at the demand of lobbyists for a few big corporations, is unfair to many types of small business, while dealing comparatively lightly with big business. In addition, it is not adequate to produce the money the state needs, but the Republican policy has been to raise this inequitable and inadequate tax, so as to make a bad situation, worse. We are now in the position where we are proposing a tax on small business which would actually cost many small firms more money than would Gov. Williams' corporation profits tax, under normal profit conditions.

In order to hold the budget within the inadequate amounts to be collected from the business activities tax, the Republican leadership has been forced to make drastic cuts, particularly in mental health and higher education. Funds for research, for drug therapy, and for the operation of the new hospitals, such as Northville, have been drastically reduced from the requests of the mental health commission. The budget for Northville is 176 employees short of the number needed to operate the institution. One year we spend millions building mental hospitals, and the next year the Republican leadership refuses to grant the money to operate them. Should I go along with that, in order to keep the name of Republican?

It is bad enough that the Republican party leadership is acting in a backward thinking and short-sighted manner. But it's worse when they try to force those policies down the throats of Republicans who honestly cannot go along with them.

That is exactly what they tried to do with me and with a number of other Republican Legislators who didn't like the policies of the caucus leaders.

It is my conviction that the people of my district want to see decent standards of unemployment compensation, in line with the recommendations of President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell. In the Michigan Legislature, it has been the Democrats who stood for that kind of job insurance, not the Republicans. I refused to follow the party leadership in voting down amendments which were in line with the recommendations not of only the Democratic Governor but the Republican President. For that offense I was treated like a traitor and invited by one of my Republican colleagues to get out of the GOP and go over with the Democrats where I belonged.

I told him, in effect, that maybe he had something. There is a place for party loyalty in our form of government, to be sure; but there is a difference between party loyalty and party tyranny.

Your editorial compared loyalty to party with loyalty to religious faith. I'm sure if you think that over, you will see that it's a defective comparison.

When I was elected to represent the people of my district I did not take an oath of fidelity to the Republican party. I took an oath to support the Constitution and serve the people of Michigan.

That is what I intend to do — and if I can't do it within the framework of the Republican Party, I'll do it outside that framework.

Sincerely yours,
Leonard E. Wood

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our thanks to Representative Wood for his reply to our editorial of May 5. Apparently, however, he missed the point. No reference was made to party loyalty, but rather to party "principles." We still find it difficult to understand how one can change his principles or beliefs merely because fellow Republicans act in a manner with which he does not agree. Certainly "loyalty" plays no part in the matter; one is Presbyterian, Catholic, Democrat or atheist because he THINKS and BELIEVES in the principles of that status. If Representative Wood was a Republican before he went to the House of Representatives, then we cannot believe that it is possible to become an "independent" or Democrat overnight merely because he fails to agree with Republican leaders.

I know that you and your illustrious father always have been guided by this thought and as a result your editorial gains significance and is doubly appreciated.

School Woes to Washington

DELEGATES ARE READY to take Michigan's education problems before the White House Conference Nov. 28 to Dec. 1 after six months of soul-searching at the local level.

They will be part of a national influx of citizens asked by President Eisenhower to come up with the answers.

The delegates and others attending the state conference in Lansing were warned by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college, to do their jobs well. He said:

"We in Michigan will have to do a great deal of thinking about putting first things first or else this conference in Washington will be no more significant than so many of the conventions of hand-wringers and pious-hoppers with which America is constantly afflicted."

THE STORY GOES BACK a long way to the late Dr. Lee M. Thurston, former state superintendent of public instruction who was United States commissioner of education briefly before his death.

Thurston's idea was to collect the massed local needs for education, boil and refine them into a national pattern for state and federal assistance.

HIS SUCCESSORS IN OFFICE took it up where his work ended. For the past six months, the problems have been amassed locally and referred to regional meetings. Regional refinements were added and they were sent on to the state meeting.

NOW, IT'S ON TO WASHINGTON.

Hannah, who keynoted the state meeting, said that major problems for educators are the critics who claim only that higher education is too costly.

"THEY MUST BE ANSWERED and their arguments refuted," he said. "In good time, they may make secondary education their target."

Delegates to the state meeting were alarmed at repeated warnings that America's potential enemies—notably Russia—are turning out top engineers and scientists many times the rate in the U.S.

WHEN THE WHITE HOUSE conference convenes in Washington, state delegates will carry Michigan's problems to the nation in 10 general areas:

Community education, classrooms and physical plants, qualified teachers, necessary finances, efficiently organized school districts, aroused public participation, support for both public and private colleges and universities, vocational training for the mentally and physically handicapped, expanded youth programs and adult education.

YEARS OF WORK toward making life easier for the homeless and neglected children and more meaningful for the prospective delinquent reached a high point in the legislature.

Both chambers passed and sent to the governor four foster care bills, revamping the system of caring for state wards of all types.

The effect of the new laws will outstrip the surface significance. Basically, the new laws will:

Force the state to pay for half the cost of local foster care programs—the licensed nurseries and other facilities for the homeless, and sometimes unwanted.

Flipping the coin, counties will be required to pay for half the cost of caring for children they send to state institutions, Boys' Vocational School at Lansing, Girls' Training School at Adrian and Michigan Children's Institute at Ann Arbor.

THE LANSING AND ADRIAN schools have become training centers for children who are delinquent and headed for trouble. The Ann Arbor institute is for neglected children, orphans and others.

WHAT IS THE SIGNIFICANCE of the change, other than financial?

For years, the counties have been tempted to send children from probate court to the state institutions. Foster care costs money on the local level and this was a less expensive solution for counties.

By arranging the financial system on a sharing basis, state and local officials figure children will get the care and treatment they require most at the most appropriate level.

W. J. Maxey, state welfare director, said:

"For the first time, a child now can be guaranteed that he will get the most appropriate treatment and care, not the ones which are least expensive to the counties."

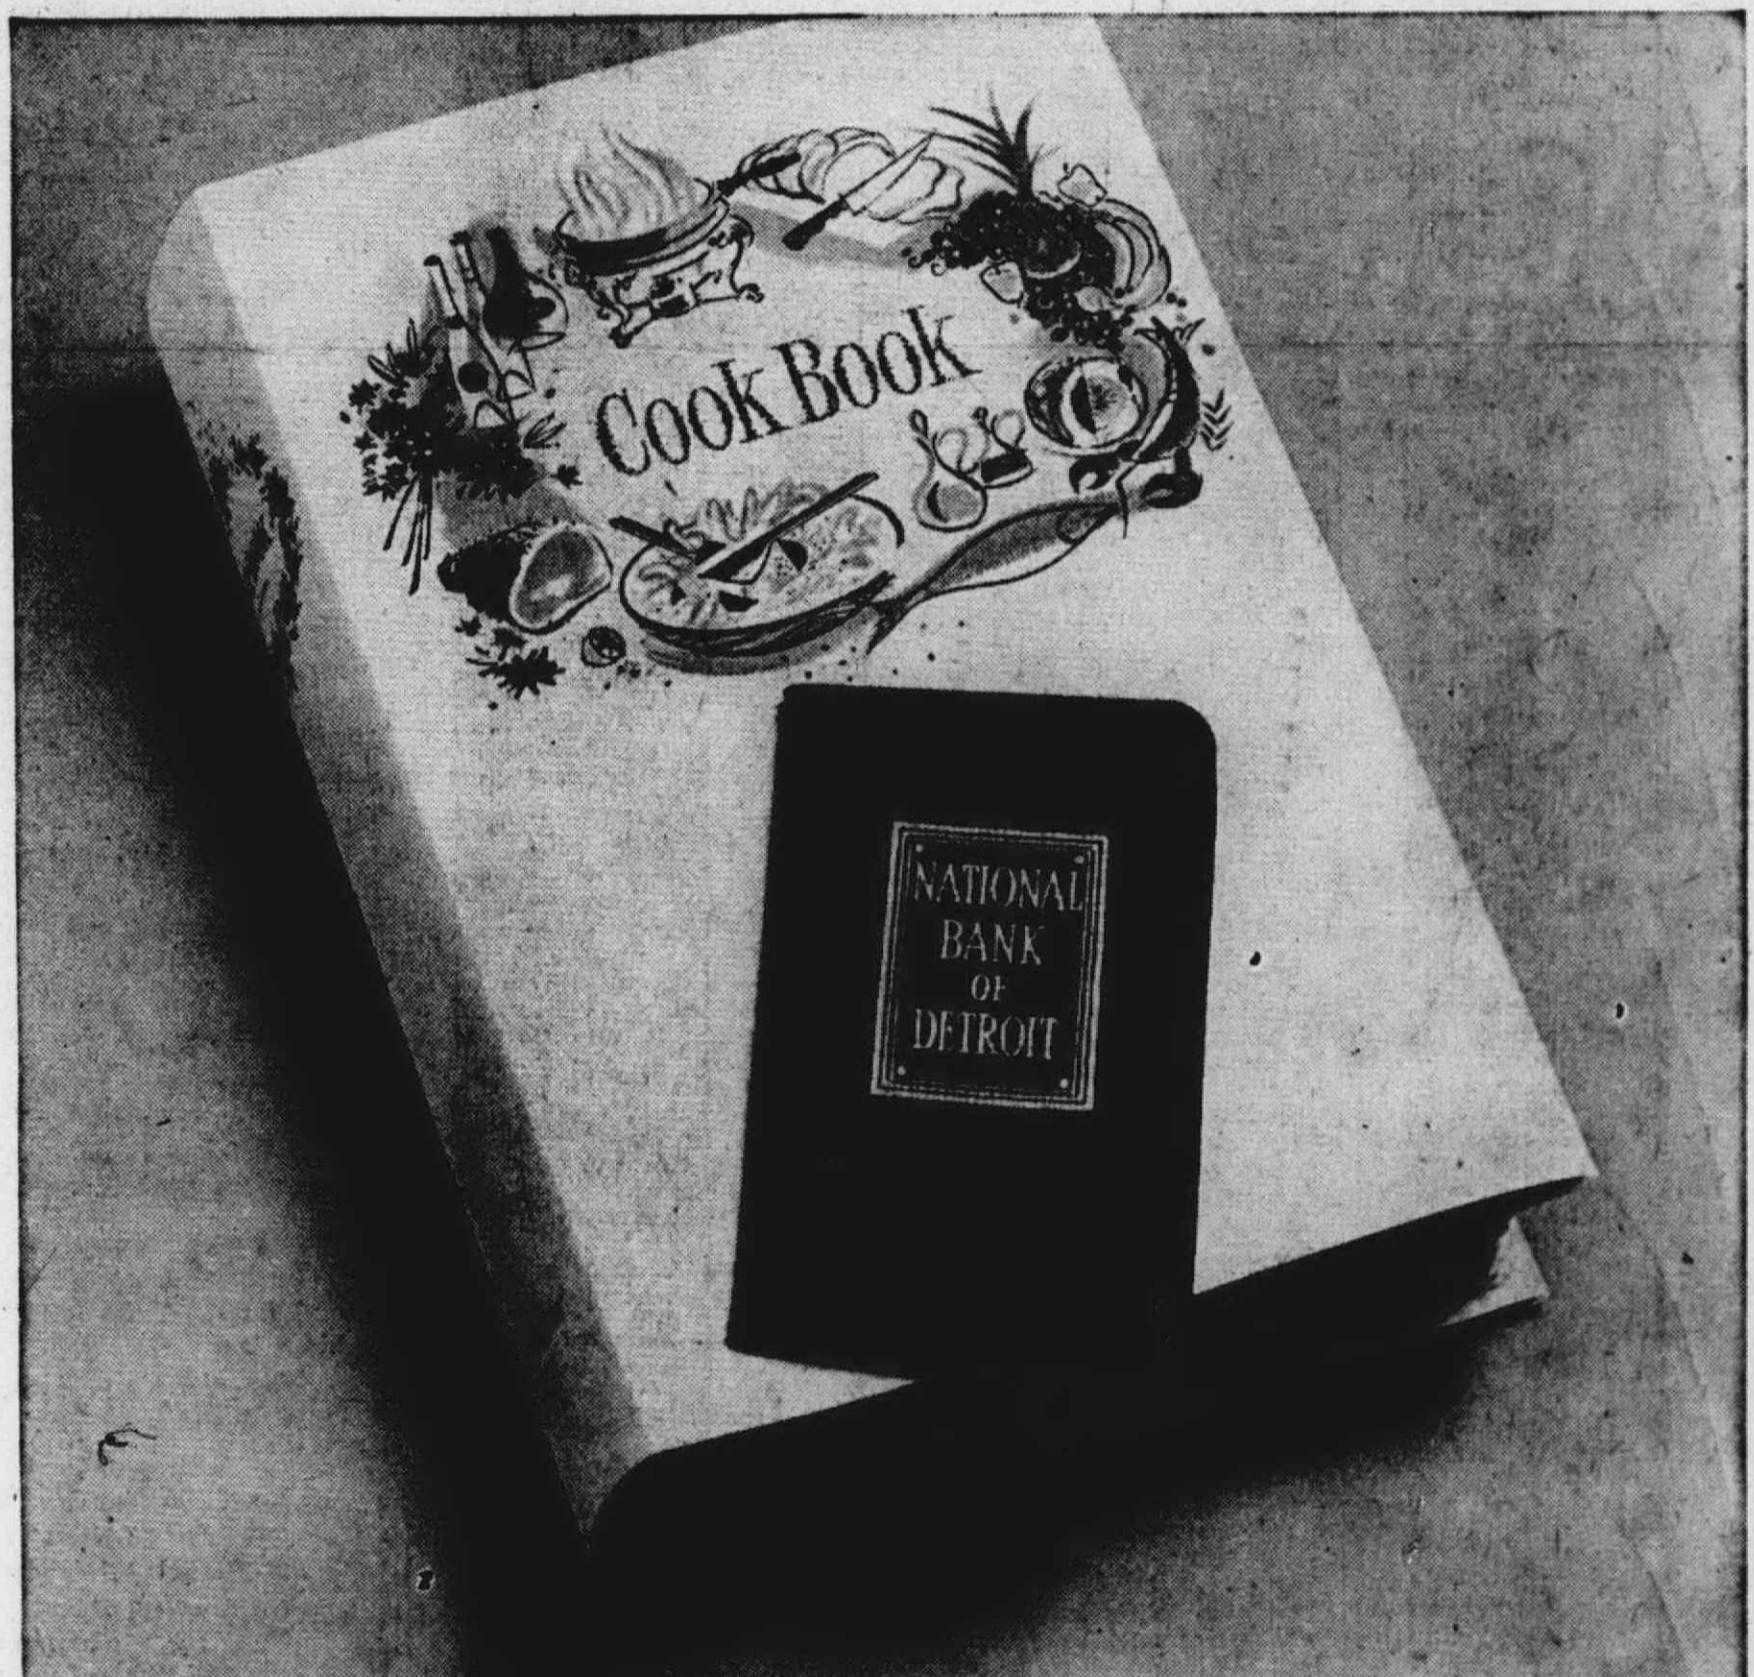

LAWMAKERS HASTENING to complete Michigan's capitol building program are ready for another summer of investigations.

The next projects will be a Michigan Supreme Court building and another office building, both to be constructed on state-acquired property west of the capitol building.

"WE'VE REACHED THE POINT now where we can say that the two new buildings are planned for the near future," said Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing), chairman of the committee.

The building program was set back temporarily by the fire which damaged the first state office building. It has been repaired and reopened along with a new office building.

"We feel that the two new buildings will enable state government to have all its employees in Lansing near the capitol," Hittle said. This will end renting from private landlords.

These help keep a happy home happy

Both these books are easy to come by. Cookbooks sell for 25c and up, and they're available everywhere. The happiest homes usually have several.

The bankbook is even easier to come by. You get it at your neighborhood National Bank office whenever you open a savings account or checking account there. It costs you nothing, but it can become one of the most valuable books you'll ever own.

Your bankbook represents your stock in the future. It may show a small balance at first, but what a thrill you will have as you watch that balance grow!

And as it grows, you grow with it... your credit, your ability to take advantage of opportunities, your financial security, even your independence and self-esteem grow as your bank account becomes more substantial. There is nothing quite so important, in so many ways, as money in the bank.

What's more, National Bank accounts are easy to maintain—National provides convenient bank-by-mail service at all its offices, and timesaving drive-in banking facilities at many of them.

And the National Bank of Detroit offers many helpful banking services besides savings and checking accounts. A low-cost National Bank Installment, for instance, could bring you those things on your "most wanted" list now. Other services such as mortgage loans and safe deposit boxes can do much to make life easier and help you become more secure.

We'd like to have you visit our office nearest you and see how pleasant it is to do your banking "neighborhood style." While you're there, we hope you'll open an account and pick up your bankbook, and if you stop to buy a cookbook on the way home, that's OK too!
