

Hilltop Plans Annual City Golf Tourney

There will be two city golf champions in 1955, according to Chris Burghardt, manager of the Hilltop golf course. One will be a woman!

In announcing plans for conducting the annual city tournament, Burghardt revealed that for the first time in history there will be a women's competition running concurrently with the men's tourney.

Monday, August 1 has been set as the entry deadline for the women participants with the nine-hole qualifying round to be played Tuesday, August 2. Men have until Monday, August 15 to enter with Saturday, August 20 set as the qualifying round of 18 holes. In both the men's and women's tournaments match-play competition will prevail. Women will play 9-hole matches in all flights with matches to be played each Tuesday. Men will play 18-hole matches in all flights on August 27, 28 and September 3, 4 and 5. Finals in both men's and women's competition will be played on Monday, September 5, Labor Day. All final matches will be 18 holes, Burghardt said.

"I'll have the course in its best shape for the tourney," said Burghardt, who hopes that there may be as many as five flights in men's competition. All contestants must be residents of Plymouth or Plymouth township. Regular members of the Wednesday night Plymouth Business Men's League will also be allowed to enter regardless of residence, said Burghardt.

The Plymouth Mail will again provide trophies to winners in each flight and The Mail's championship trophy, now in the hands of 1954 champion Ralph C. Lorenz, will go to the men's winner. The Mail will also donate the trophies for the women's tournament. Burghardt stated that top flight golf prizes will be awarded in all flights and that these prizes will be purchased from entry receipts.

Mid-Summer SALE---ing Season Here

Summer Sale-ing season is here again and "bargain-loving mariners" of all ages are "boarding ship" and heading for various "ports-of-call," depending upon their needs and wants.

Some may be seen docking at men's wear establishments, others at women's wear, still more at children's wear, while others disembark at shoe stores, appliance shops and gift shops.

As the Sale-ing season progresses more and more "ports-of-call" will be available to local "mariners" who are in need of everyday necessities, gifts, back-to-school clothes, etc.

The Plymouth Mail will "climb aboard" next week with a special "shoppers edition" listing various sales to approximately 15,000 persons in the Plymouth, Northville and Livonia area.

Although summer heat makes shopping less pleasant, air conditioned stores and extra savings are attracting crowds to the stores.

With the summer Sale-ing season approaching its peak, stores already displaying "sale" signs are: Kresge's, Minerva's, Drapery Fair, Papes' House of Gifts, Capital Shirt Shops, Fashion Shoes, King Furniture, Fisher's Shoes, Willoughby Brothers, Blunk's, Dunning's and Graham's.

To Discuss Hours

The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly dinner meeting at the Mayflower Hotel Wednesday, July 27.

One of the issues on the evening's agenda will be the discussion of a proposed change in local store hours.

A sub-committee of the retail committee, headed by James Houk, met in June to compile findings of their investigations pertaining to opening Thursday evenings. These findings will be reported to the committee and local merchants at the meeting next Wednesday.

An increase of later store hours in surrounding areas instigated the sub-committee's investigation.

Stamping Firm Expands

Construction started last week on two additions to the modern plant of the Plymouth Stamping Company on Ann Arbor road. The first addition directly east of the present plant will be a 40 by 86 foot addition to the manufacturing area which will provide more working space to increase the present volume of the company.

A second addition to the office will also join the present office to the east in an area of 20 by 36 feet to provide space for expansion of office working facilities.

Both additions were part of the original plans drawn when the company moved to its new location two years ago. According to company officials, all work should be completed sometime early this fall.

Demand for products of the company forced the immediate construction of the new buildings. The company supplies automotive and electrical trades and their allied lines with general metal stampings. Plymouth Stamping was formed here in 1932 and has had a substantial growth making it one of the larger industries in Plymouth today.

Resurfacing Project Set Back One Week

The resurfacing of Plymouth's newly widened Main street, scheduled to begin last Monday, has been delayed approximately a week, according to Engineer Herald Hamill.

Hamill explained that the contractor, the H.J. Brighton Construction company of Farmington, has been held up on a job it was handling in Oakland county on Twelve Mile road, thereby causing the four or five day delay here.

The paving, declared Hamill, should get under way early next week. A two and one-half inch minimum layer of asphalt is slated for the resurfacing. Following this, general "clean-up" work will start, most of it affecting yards and other places disrupted along the project.

Study Groups Meet To Report Findings

The Plymouth Community Study committee met last evening to conclude its findings in the area-wide study concerning annexation. The meeting, held too late to be reported in this edition, was chaired by Carl Caplin and it was anticipated that the final resolutions of the study group would be adopted.

This group was appointed early in May by the city to study area problems concerning annexation and make a report before August 1. It is composed of 16 township and 16 city residents.

Commission OK's Progress Reports

City commissioners at their meeting Monday evening accepted reports for the month of June from six departments heads, including those for the police bureau, fire department, health officer, municipal court, department of public works and the treasurer's office.

The police department reported 24 more traffic tickets (165-141) issued over the period of June 1955 as compared to June 1954. Overtime parking violations for June this year were up ten (113-103) over June last year. Speeding tickets remained the same (19-19) over the same two months.

Local police were busier this June than a year ago. A total of the various actions taken, including complaints, operators licenses issued, tickets given out and the many others, show that the law enforcement officers participated in 940 such actions in June 1955 as compared to only 781 in June 1954. Police Chief Carl Greenlee submitted the report.

The fire department report, presented by Fire Chief Robert McAllister, consisted of a breakdown of the ten alarms answered by the department. Of these ten, nine were in the city proper and one was a call to assist an outside unit. The rescue squad was called out seven times for alarms.

Fire loss for the first half fiscal year of 1955 was listed as $1127.62 plus unadjusted losses. Continued on Page 6

School Board Sells $3 Million Bond Issue

The most important element of a five-year plan for more and better schools in the Plymouth area was made available Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board of education. A single bid for a $3,000,000 bond issue was accepted by the board thus opening the way to constructing and equipping two elementary buildings, a junior high school and converting the present junior high school for senior high school use.

The bid was submitted by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., of Chicago. The same firm purchased the 1949 bond issue for $1,350,000. The interest rate of 3 per cent (which will average 2.9967) was slightly higher than the board had hoped to receive but was within the limitations set for sale of the bonds. Financial advisors told board members that under present bond market conditions the bid was exceedingly good. It was felt that Plymouth's commendable record was responsible for securing the lone bid tendered.

In a recess discussion following the opening of the lone bid board members agreed with advisors that rising cost of construction plus the inability to predict the bond market made delay in the sale of the bonds inadvisable. A five-year callable feature of the bonds makes it possible to re-call them after that period should it be advantageous at that time.

The sale represented the largest ever undertaken by the local school system. Voters approved the issue overwhelmingly at a special spring election.

First on the five-year plan agenda comes the elementary school on Sheldon road. It is hoped this school will be ready for use in September 1956. The recently purchased South Mill

Robt. Wesley Stricken By Heart Ailment

Friends of Robert Wesley were shocked to learn early Wednesday morning of his admittance to Ridgewood hospital at Ypsilanti with a heart ailment. Doctors described his condition as good as the Mail goes to press.

Mr. Wesley, 46 years of age, is Director of Sales and Advertising at the Daisy Manufacturing Company and served as president of the Board of Education at the time the new gymnasium and swimming pool were built. He has also been a strong force in the affairs of the local Symphony Society having spent Tuesday evening at a Symphony board meeting previous to his being stricken.

Trio Sentenced For 50 Crimes, 4 in Plymouth

Stiff sentences were handed out in county circuit court, Bad Axe, last Thursday to the trio of men, who were involved in more than 50 burglaries from Ohio to the Thumb, including four robberies in the Plymouth area.

The lightest sentence was meted out to 19-year-old Leon Farver, who received five to 15 years for his part in the crime campaign. Farver's older brother, Neil, 25, was given a 7 1/2 to 15 year term.

The third member of the trio, Aaron Dunn, 30, of Washington, Michigan, was handed a 7 1/2 to 15 year sentence also. Both the Farver brothers are from Nankin township. Circuit Judge Walter M. Bach passed out the sentences in Bad Axe.

The three were responsible for taking over $200 from Robert's Supply, about $10 from Strasen & Diedrick service station, $56 from Kelsey's Gulf Service, and tools from West Brothers Nash and West Brothers Implements.

In addition the trio, apprehended July 1 in Huron county for breaking and entering, admitted to 46 other burglaries ranging from the Ohio area up to the Thumb of Michigan. It was estimated they have taken money and merchandise valued between $8,000 and $10,000.

At the time of the three men's arrest, Livonia detectives traveled to Bad Axe, questioned the trio and discovered that they had been involved in numerous other burglaries in Wayne county. This discovery in turn led to the knowledge of the trio's other crimes in this state and in Ohio.

Don't forget the Service Men's family picnic at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby on Silver Lake, Sunday, July 24.

Survey Shows Wages Below Average of Neighboring Towns

Action taken Tuesday evening by Plymouth commissioners made the majority of the city employees happy recipients of a five per cent pay raise. The across-the-board increase, made retroactive to July 1, was given to nearly all city employees with the exception of hourly laborers.

Recommendation for the pay boost came from a report presented by City Manager Albert Glassford. He reported to the commission, that with the exception of department of public works' laborers, a survey of nearby communities showed Plymouth's employees' salaries to be slightly below average. The survey showed police department earnings to be most out of line. Laborers' wages were well within the average paid Dearborn, Northville, Garden City, Wayne, Inkster and Livonia workers.

Know Your Officials

Many times during the course of a year a citizen needs to know the names of his public officials. The Mail and the Chamber of Commerce receive many telephone calls from persons asking these names and are happy to supply them.

So that every reader may have a list of his public servants at his fingertips, we advise that the list in this week's issue be clipped and kept in the telephone book for handy reference. It also tells the meeting dates of some of the groups which meet regularly.

You'll find the list on page 5, section 4.

City Proposes Split On Cost of New Sewer

In an afternoon meeting Monday between members of the city commission and officials of the Western Electric company a proposal for financing of storm sewer facilities was made by the city. The project is contingent upon the annexing of the 35-acre Casady farm site on Sheldon road to the city for locating of the proposed Western Electric plant.

At an estimated cost of $45,000 the city asked Western Electric to assume $25,000 of the expense and advance $20,000 to be reimbursed from sewer tap-in revenue. The company would also pay its proportionate share for sanitary sewer facilities when made available along Sheldon road.

Mrs. Florence M. Parrott Sells City's Oldest Insurance Agency

Thirty-nine years as owner of the oldest existing insurance agency in Plymouth ended recently for Mrs. Florence M. Parrott of the Parrott Insurance agency.

But Mrs. Parrott was quick to assure her patrons that she will not be "getting out" of the business. Her agency has been purchased by Charles P. Finlan, another local insurance agent, and will retain the name of The Parrott agency.

Mrs. Parrott explained that she will remain as manager of the agency and service this city's insurance needs as usual.

With her late husband, Roy, Mrs. Parrott in 1916 hung out an insurance and real estate shingle at Fralick and South Main street, a location now occupied by a gas station.

In quick order the couple moved into offices over the present Jerry's Shoe store, then into the present Stark Realty. Mr. Parrott died in 1935, but his wife never thought of quitting her occupation. In fact in all the years she has never had a desire to quit selling.

After offices in the Stark Realty, The Parrott agency moved into Wimsatt Agency store location, and after that down to the Harrison house, which now houses Harrison Realty.

From there Plymouth's oldest agency traveled to offices in the Saxton building on West Ann Arbor trail and then five years ago, Mrs. Parrott moved into her present modern offices at 865 South Main street.

Although she no longer sells real estate, which she gave up about five years ago, Mrs. Parrott estimated that she may have sold half of all the "old" houses in Plymouth over the years. Some of these two or three times each, she reported.

And in the insurance line, Mrs. Parrott explained that several of her first year clients are still carrying insurance with her agency. These include such 39-year veterans as Charles H. Bennett, E.C. Hough, Mrs. Ella Hunter and Coello Hamilton.

Said Mrs. Parrott, with regard to her near four decades of insurance sales, "Some of the most pleasant associations of my life have come from my clients."

ALTHOUGH SHE announced the sale of her 39-year-old insurance agency to Charles P. Finlan this week, Mrs. Florence M. Parrott has no intentions of retiring from her life-long occupation.

Timber Wolves Still Roam Through Michigan U.P. Regions

Michigan still has from 40 to 100 timber wolves roaming its wild upper peninsula regions. A recent Conservation Department survey shows the wolves scattered in a possible 16 areas of the upper peninsula.

The Huron Mountain area of northern Baraga and Marquette counties appears to be home for the largest colony of wolves, with Luce and northern Chippewa counties in the east end holding second place. Two other major colonies are in southern Gogebic county and northeastern Iron county.

Last year, 23 wolves were presented for bounty. Twenty-seven were bountied in each of 1951, 1952 and 1953.

The future of the wolf in Michigan is questionable. Formerly, the big canines were common below the Straits of Mackinac, but none has been bountied in the lower peninsula for at least 40 years. In the upper peninsula, the annual total bountied was held at its present low for a number of years, though the continuing spread of civilization could soon push the animal out of the state entirely. However, he has persisted against 118 years of having a price on his head. One of the first acts of the first Michigan legislature in 1837 was to set a bounty against wolves.

Tot's-Eye View

Ever stop to think that the small fry in the family your home seems to be designed for giants? Why not give them a break by redesigning it, at least partially, for them? In the bathroom, for instance, have towel bars installed low in the ceramic tile wainscot so that a child can reach them. Place a mirror low on the door so that a tot can check his appearance. Have a portable step so that he can reach the wash bowl easily. And be sure the walls and floor are waterproof ceramic tile, so that some playful splashing in the tub won't upset Mother.

State Parks Bulge With Camper Overload

State parks are groaning under an overload of visitors this year, but not all are crowded to capacity.

During the Independence Day weekend, for example, when all available campsites were taken at several parks in southern Michigan, campers could find excellent places to park their trailers or pitch their tents at such areas as Traverse City, Harrisville and Rogers City.

The parks and recreation division of the Conservation Department at Lansing will be glad to advise campers of areas to try for a less crowded holiday.

Conservation Committee Buys 1240 Acres of Land For Public Use

Michigan's Conservation Commission recently approved the purchase of 1240 acres of land for public conservation purposes.

This does not mean the Commission or the state government is pursuing a land-grab policy, Conservation Department director Gerald E. Eddy points out.

A state highway map shows vast areas of northern Michigan to be owned either by the state or federal government, but this picture may lead to the wrong impression.

Actually, the Department administers about 4,000,000 of Michigan's 36,000,000 acres, land divided in state parks, game areas, state forests and other projects.

But the state administers few projects where ownership is totally blocked in. In most state forests, for example, only a percentage of land inside the project boundaries is publicly owned. The 1240 acres recently purchased was for the most part private land inside dedicated projects that became available at a reasonable price. Slowly, these areas are being blocked in to provide maximum recreation and conservation use to Michigan's public.

In the meantime, the Department exchanges and sells lands unsuitable for public projects, so the overall total of administered lands remains close to the 4,000,000-acre mark year after year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kops of Beck road will have as their dinner guests tonight, Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dickieson and Mr. and Mrs. T. Dickieson, all of Dearborn.

Wily Wully Friend — Why did you send that dish back if there was nothing wrong with it?

Wullie — Well, mon, if ye gie the impression that ye're no satisfied wi' the service, the waiter will no expect a tip.

Dairy income from the sale of milk, cream and beef is nearly $200 million annually, the largest source of farm income.

NO. 66 HELP DRIVERS PASS YOU

In traffic, too, "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." So when some driver starts to pass you — make it easier for him. Pull to the extreme right of your lane. Slow down so that he can get by quicker.

By making it easier for him you also make it safer — for you. Pulling right and slowing down gives him more room in case a puff of wind catches him. If a car is coming up ahead he can pull back to the right hand lane more quickly.

Being more courteous to drivers passing you may encourage drivers whom you pass to be more courteous. And be sure to remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

A health report submitted by Dr. R. R. Barber, city health officer, listed the communicable diseases in the city in June plus births, deaths and commercial food and sanitation reports. Only twelve communicable diseases were listed bringing this year's total to 77 as against last year's total at this time of 67.

No births were reported and the one death registered brought deaths in the city to 14 for the year.

Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo's court report listed collections of fines at $355, costs collected and owing of $16 and a total to date of $367.85 for the city ordinance cases, civil suits, and state and county cases.

The traffic violations bureau collected $505 in June according to Treasurer C. H. Garlett. This last figure brought the municipal court report total to $4,889.

City Engineer Stanford Besse submitted a progress report for the department of Public Works that listed a break-down of the various jobs contracted, with their expenditures for each, the unit of work involved and cost of each work unit.

C. H. Garlett's treasurer's report gave a cash balance of $219,941.66 to date, including general funds and 11 other various funds. Treasury notes and reserve accounts bring this total to $277,318.11.

New Recruiting Officer Assigned To This Area

New Army recruiting officer for the Garden City, Plymouth, Livonia and Northville area is Sergeant first class Fay Van Nest, recently assigned to this district by the 5th Army.

Sergeant Van Nest will be in Plymouth for recruiting purposes on Mondays and Wednesdays at his desk in the post office building on Penniman avenue. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, he will be located at his office on Ford and Middlebelt roads in Garden City.

Originally from Clinton, Michigan, Sergeant Van Nest entered the Army in 1946, spent 42 months in the Pacific area, and has been assigned to recruiting service in the Wayne and Garden City area since November, 1951.

Find Dutch Elm Disease Remedy

What may be good news for Plymouth elm tree owners was contained in a New York Times report last week which said that a patent has been issued for a cure of Dutch elm disease.

Thirty-five elm trees in Plymouth are being tested as being disease suspects. Last year there were about a half dozen. With the disease apparently increasing instead of decreasing, the discovery might bring a halt to the wholesale death of elms.

The Times report said that two University of Rhode Island faculty members and a chemist from the American Cyanamid Company found results of experiments "gratifying." They admitted that they were surprised at its remarkable effectiveness and do not pretend to understand it completely.

The "medicine" is an acid prepared by reacting chloroacetic acid with a sodium compound. Mixed with water, it can be sprayed on the tree or poured around the roots, but it is more effective with a bore-hole method.

All elms found with the disease are required by law to be cut and properly disposed. Results are being awaited here on tests being made in Lansing on tree samples examined by a Bureau of Plant Industry inspector.

street property will be the site of the next project, a junior high school scheduled to open September 1957. Immediately following this plans call for renovation of the present junior high school. Another elementary school on a site yet to be determined will be the final project to come under the $3,000,000 five-year plan.

Bids for construction of the Sheldon road elementary school will be made in August and it is expected that work on that project will get underway immediately.

Wilbert Thompson, Haggerty highway, returned last weekend from an eight day fishing trip at God's Lake Lodge, located near Hudson Bay, Canada, with a 35 inch 40 pound pink lake trout.

Do You Know Where?

Where, oh, where is my little dog gone? That's the theme song of Mrs. Frank Cullen, 1102 Lakewood, Detroit, these days.

Up until Friday, July 8, she was the proud owner of a three-year-old white mongrel, one-half spitz dog. On that same day, some little boy, somewhere in Plymouth became a new proud owner of "Candy."

Now, Mrs. Cullen wasn't aware of her loss of a dog and some little boy's gain of the same dog until her husband returned home that evening.

Seems, when her husband left the house that morning he had a companion named "Candy." He headed straight for the Detroit Humane Society, planning to give the dog to the Society.

While Cullen was waiting to be helped at the Society's office he got into conversation with a man from Plymouth who wanted a dog for his little boy. "Candy" was just the answer. So with no further ado, Cullen handed the dog over to the Plymouth man.

Canton Firemen Assist at Crash

Canton township fire department last Sunday afternoon was called to aid Superior township fire fighters at the scene of an auto-truck collision at Ford and Prospect roads near Ypsilanti that killed one person and seriously injured another.

A Canton fireman explained how the automobile had slammed into the gas tanks of the huge semi-trailer truck. The truck, carrying automobile engines, burst into flames.

Killed instantly was a passenger in the car, Marie Haddix, 19, of Detroit. In critical condition at University hospital in Ann Arbor is the automobile's driver, Herchel Stacey, a 27-year-old disabled war veteran of 12054 Santa Rose, Detroit.

According to the Canton fireman, Stacey was believed dead by spectators at the scene, but a doctor at the crash claimed there was still life in the man. Superior firemen applied a resuscitator and the victim was rushed to the hospital where he was last reported alive.

The truck driver, Edward Tucker, escaped with minor burns to his arms.

Now "Candy" is out of his Detroit doghouse, but we suspect it may be occupied by Mr. Cullen!

In a phone call to The Mail early this week Mrs. Cullen said she would "give anything" to have "Candy" back and is willing to pay any amount of money to make this possible!

Kill Box Elder Bug Now

With the Box Elder Bug season approaching the Michigan State Department of Agriculture says that now is the time to control this bug by spraying the Box Elder Maple to kill the young ones. In the fall the adults are difficult to keep out of the house. Spray with one of the following:

Chlordane — 1/4 lb. actual chlordane in 12 1/2 gallons of water.
Dieldrin — 1/4 lb. actual dieldrin in 25 gallons of water.
Lindane — 1/4 lb. actual lindane in 50 gallons of water.
Toxaphene — 1/4 lb. actual toxaphene in 8 gallons of water.

Above recommendations consider only the amount of actual ingredient, because different percentages of each are being sold. So read the label and compute the weight of actual ingredients.

COOLING BY THE TON

If you've been confused about what the engineers mean when they refer to the cooling capacities of air conditioners in "tons," here's an explanation by Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers. Simply speaking, they say, a "ton" of refrigeration means cooling equivalent to that obtained by the melting of a ton of ice in 24 hours. For the average-size residence two- to five-ton capacities are adequate. Large, custom-built homes may require as much as ten tons, they add.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Five To Attend National Audio-Visual Show

On Monday, July 11, Kay Coblman, Helen Bowring, Marie Norman, Hilda Rorabacher and President Loretta Young made a trip to the Veterans hospital in Dearborn. The girls sponsored what is known as a Ward party at which they interview patients in the morning to determine exactly what they would like in the line of toilet articles etc., and in the afternoon they visited over 145 veterans to deliver these same items. These trips add to the number of hours we put in on hospital work for our auxiliary.

The National V.F.W. and its Auxiliary are planning a Pilgrimage Crusade to Europe starting November 1 and ending November 13. The trip will include various tours throughout England, France and Germany and will conclude on Veterans Day, November 11, with ceremonies at the American cemetery at Suresnes, Paris, France. There are special rates for all members. See page 14 of your Auxiliary Bulletin for July.

Leaving for Chicago this weekend to attend the 1955 National Audio-Visual convention and trade show are L. J. Wilson, owner of the Photographic center, 821 West Ann Arbor trail, accompanied by four of his employees.

Attending with Wilson are Harold Evans, Edward Reid, Lester Martin and Robert Servis. The convention and show will be held from Saturday, July 24, through Wednesday, July 27, at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago. The event is expected to draw more than 2,500 audio-visual specialists from school, church and industrial fields, as well as dealers, manufacturers and producers from areas throughout the world. On exhibit will be the latest audio-visual equipment and materials.

Plymouth Area Civil Defense News

Deputy Director Stephen Tallian, Sr., reports that Director Leo Flowers is now convalescing at his home, following his recent stay in the hospital.

There will be a training program for auxiliary firemen this fall under the direction of Plymouth's Fire Chief, Robert McAllister. These men would be trained with the regular volunteer firemen on the second and fourth Thursday nights of each month, with special training in the use of Plymouth's new rescue truck and its equipment, rescue work and civil defense methods.

Such a group was very active two years ago, but disbanded at the request of the State Civil Defense because they could not be covered by compensation at that time. Arrangements for compensation have been worked out through the cooperation of the Plymouth City Commission for those participating in this program. Anyone interested in taking this training should register with Chief McAllister at Fire Station 2, phone 93.

Pease Paint, Wallpaper Employs New Salesman

A new salesman has been added to the list of employees of Pease Paint and Wallpaper company, 570 South Main street, according to an announcement from A. Gerald Pease, owner.

Customers will now be served by Ralph Traister, formerly associated with Lakey Paint company in Battle Creek, as the new member of the local store. Traister resides with his family at 8925 Northern street, Plymouth.

Our National Home Fund picnic is still scheduled for Sunday, August 21. Plan on taking your family on this trip to visit our own National Home at Eaton Rapids!

The Post housing committee met with the Auxiliary members on this committee and discussed plans for the Cleanup program at our Post Hall. Most members don't realize the work and effort that goes into the upkeep and completion of the Hall. There are a number of members who work regularly on the grounds and the building itself. We in the Auxiliary wish to tell these Post members that their efforts are well worth it when you see the beautiful job they have done. Thanks, and we pledge our full cooperation and promise to do our part.

The 1955 V.F.W. National Encampment site is Boston, Massachusetts, this year, August 28 to September 2. A complete program is being planned for that week. Boston is an amazing city and has good reasons for being known as the "Hub of the Universe." During that week, for the first time in V.F.W. history, 1955-56 officers of the Post and Auxiliary will be formally installed during special ceremonies at the final Inaugural Ball on September 2. If you are planning to attend this convention, call your commander and president.

The Difference

A visitor to a large factory told the manager he could pick out all the married men among the employees. He stationed himself at the door and as the men came from dinner he pointed to those he thought were married. In almost every case he was right. "How do you do it?" asked the amazed manager.

"Oh, it's quite simple," replied the traveler. "The married men all wipe their feet on the mat. The single men don't."

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting" (Mark 9:29).
The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

Area Baha'is Honor Martyrdom of Prophet

Baha'is of the western Wayne County area joined with the Baha'is of Detroit to participate in the celebration of the Holy Day, anniversary of the Martyrdom of the Bab, herald of the Baha'i faith on Saturday, July 9. This celebration was observed by Baha'is in 239 counties and territories of the world.
The Bab (Gate) was publicly martyred in the barracks square of Tabriz, Persia in 1850, the final act in a drama that began six years earlier. In 1844 he made claim to his dual mission as a prophet of God and the forerunner of the coming of the promised one of all religions.
His personality and message attracted thousands of devoted followers and incurred the hatred of the Islamic officials. Despite wide-spread persecution and martyrdom of many believers, the new faith spread throughout Persia. In an effort to discredit their leader, the imprisonment and eventual execution of the Bab was ordered.
Following his martyrdom, the Bab's remains were concealed by his followers, and 60 years later were safely interred in a Shrine on Mt. Carmel in Haifa, Israel, location of the world center of the Baha'i faith.
The shrine of the Bab, completed in 1953, now attracts thousands of visitors from the entire world. An eight-sided structure of granite and marble, stained glass and golden tile, surrounded by spacious landscaped gardens, it is hailed as one of the most beautiful spots in Israel.
The Bab's sacrifice served as the generating impulse for the establishment of a new religious era that culminated in the appearance three years later of Baha'u'llah (The Glory of God), whose advent the Bab had foretold.
In the following 40 years Baha'u'llah, despite continual persecution and repeated banishments, formulated the principles of the new and divine civilization. Today, his followers throughout the world proclaim his teachings of the oneness of the human race and the oneness of religion.

March Against Cancer at U of M To Speed Up Due to New Facilities

The march against cancer at The University of Michigan Medical School will be stepped up to double-time.
In his annual report to the Dean of the Medical School, Dr. James V. Neel, chairman of the U-M Committee on Cancer Research, said, "The Committee feels now that facilities at the Kresge Medical Research Building have become fully available, there should no longer be a limit to the attack at this institution against cancer."
Dedicated a year ago, the Kresge laboratories at the U-M; provide impetus to all phases of medical investigation especially cancer.
The annual report on cancer cited the development of promising weapons against cancer at the U-M:
1) A program called, "Organized Clinical Investigation of Cancer," begun in 1936, has resulted in an unparalleled IBM catalog of patient data collected at the University Hospital;
2) The construction of the Alice Crocker-Lloyd Radiation Therapy Unit, an underground structure which conducts research in the therapeutic value of radioactive materials as a means of controlling the growth of tumors and cancers;
3) The Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project supports projects employing radioactive materials, such as those used in radiobiology, a technique which "tags" cells with tracers to determine the nature of normal and abnormal growth;
4) The Simpson Memorial Institute has been tagging chemicals and drugs as a means of studying and controlling leukemia;
5) The development of the infra-red spectrophotometer at the U-M Department of Physics as a means of "seeing into the darkness of cancer," and thereby identifying its peculiarities;
6) The immunity approach in the Department of Bacteriology, employing serum derived from tumors and cancers;
7) And, in the Institute of Human Biology, a systematic study of family traits for knowledge about the hereditary aspects of cancer.
Commenting on this year's annual report, Dean Albert C. Furstenberg of the Medical School said, "Some of the research in cancer at the University has been so encouraging that we would be tragically negligent if we failed to support it more than we have been."
The dean has therefore implemented cancer research at the U-M by 1) doubling the budget; 2) adding new appointees to the Committee on Cancer Research and 3) approving the new research projects.

Changes Hours of T-A Dances

The recreation office announced this week that the hours for the teen-age record dances, scheduled for Wednesday evenings, have been changed due to a time limit on use of the high school auditorium.
Originally scheduled to last from 8:30 to 11 on Wednesday nights, the dances have moved ahead so as to run from 8 o'clock until 10:15 p.m. The dances are held in the high school auditorium.
As a result of the revising of the dance time, the dance instruction classes, preceding the record dance for Plymouth's teen-agers, have also been rescheduled.
Instruction for junior high school boys and girls now, is from 6:30 until 7:15 as compared to the old time of from 7:30 until 7:50. The instruction period for high school students is now from 7:15 until 8:00 p.m. as against the older time of from 7:30 until 8:30.
Louise Ciglei, playground director and supervisor at the record dances, also explained this week that an added interest at the teen-age dances has been included in the program.
She announced professional table tennis players will put on an exhibition later this summer during one of the T-A dances. Exact date for the exhibition has not yet been released.
The Detroit River yearly carries more tonnage than the Rhine, Thames, Seine and Volga rivers combined.
Nine out of ten fur coats sold in the United States are made inside a five-block area in New York City.

THIS OLD-VINTAGE steam engine, which has since been replaced by the modern tractor on farms across the nation, was the object of much attraction recently, when John Maxwell, owner of the antique machine exhibited it at his farm on Joy road. Maxwell purchased the antique in Reese, Michigan, last fall, painted it up and has used it this summer as a thrashing machine. In excellent condition when he purchased it, Maxwell bought it simply to "play around with." Built about 1915 the Port Huron, as it has been trade-named, with its 14 horsepower steam driven engine, was used in its heyday as a thrasher and also as the motivating force to operate saw mill cutting saws. Last Sunday Maxwell and several other local men thrashed off a field of grain at Maxwell's farm under the watchful eyes of 60 or 70 spectators, including television camera crews and newspaper photographers from Detroit and Toledo.

Auxiliary Urges Students to Enter Uncrowded Fields

Encouraging students to study for careers in fields where personnel shortages exist is one of the activities of the American Legion Auxiliary in its Education and Scholarship program, according to Mrs. Marie Thompson, the Auxiliary's local chairman of this program. While aimed primarily at educational aid for children of deceased veterans, the program offers scholarship help to all interested young people, Mrs. Thompson said.
She listed some of the fields in which a shortage of qualified workers exists as follows:
Mental Health. Lack of trained personnel, physicians, nurses, and other properly equipped professional and auxiliary workers, is the most serious bottleneck in the way of proper care of persons suffering from mental disorders.
Teaching. It is estimated that there is a shortage of approximately 200,000 fully-qualified teachers in American elementary and secondary schools.
Medical Technology. An estimated 70,000 technologists are needed to man the hospital laboratories where crucial tests are performed that aid in the diagnosis and cure of disease, with only 25,000 fully trained technologists now available.
Social Welfare Work. Estimated needs for qualified personnel in social work will exceed 50,000 in the next 10 years, while less than 2,000 are graduated each year.
Retarded children. Less than 20 per cent of the 1,500,000 retarded children in the United States have opportunity for education and training to develop the maximum of their capacities, largely because of lack of qualified instructors.

West General Store Has Interesting History

Many are the pleasant memories brought to the minds of residents of this area when they view the 100-year-old building which now houses the West General store of 50545 Cherry Hill road, one of the few remaining merchandising centers of its type in the Plymouth area.

From its origin as an inn, this famous landmark passed through a heyday as an entertainment center and community meeting-place before reaching its present status as a thriving general store with added living accommodations for its owner, Arthur J. West, and four other families.

History of the building goes back some 100 years when an enterprising resident of the area, a Mr. Hitchcock, constructed an inn on the site as a half-way house for travelers between Ypsilanti and Plymouth. The hotel office, dining room and kitchen occupied the first floor, with sleeping accommodations located upstairs. An added service to inn customers was the basement area which was used to stable the traveler's horses.

Never faring well financially, the inn became known as "Hitchcock's Folly" and was abandoned to be purchased later for back taxes by a James Gunn. Gunn established a small store on the first-floor area, using the second floor as a dance hall. The practice of stabling horses in the basement continued. As many as 100 dance patrons' horses could be crowded into this area at one time, as indicated from carvings on the ceiling beams where each steed was recorded as it came in on a given night.

In 1919 the building was purchased by William Henry West, who moved his general store from its former location two houses down the street into the new site. Dances continued to be held in the upstairs area, which was also used for Grange and other meetings, up until the time of the Second World War. The construction of Willow Run and shortage of housing during the war years led to the subsequent division of the old dance floor area into four modern apartments.

Within the memory of West's seven sons (five of whom are Plymouth businessmen) and two daughters, are the days when the building was at its height as the dance center of the community and surrounding areas. The dance hall burned four times, they recall, with each blaze successfully extinguished by the bucket brigade.

As youngsters they can remember being excused from classes in the one-room schoolhouse across the road at the request of Mrs. Gunn, then an elderly lady, who needed boys to help carry wood to heat the upstairs hall for dances that evening. In they would trudge with their arms full through the long dining-area and up the stairs where they would deposit their load in the wood stoves. As a reward for their efforts, and considered a real prize in those days, was the long stick of licorice each would receive from Mrs. Gunn.

Each of the West children had a "turn" behind the counter of their father's store between their regular jobs of truck gardening and farming. A customer's request could range anywhere from groceries to buggies, patent medicines, dry goods, boots and shoes or ladies corsets. Mr. West had them all.

In those days crackers came in huge boxes, were placed in a case and weighed out for individual orders; salt was sold by the carload, in 300 to 400 pound barrels, to the farmers of the area. Soap was not packaged, nor were there any powders or detergents on the market. Flakes were weighed out for each customer from a barrel.

Along with grinding the coffee out by hand, the Wests might be called upon to slice some chewing tobacco from long plugs a quarter of an inch thick on a machine which resembled a paper cutter. Many a cloth bag of "Bull Durham" or "Duke's Mixture" was sold over the counter to customers, all of whom rolled their own. After coming into town to leave milk at the two distributing stations in Cherry Hill, it was a common practice for farmers of the area to stop by the West General store for a chat and exchange of the day's news around the old stove. Butter and eggs could also be exchanged there for cash, which was used to buy other needed items for the farm. The job of transporting the eggs to Denton, four miles away over rough dirt roads, where they would pick up the groceries for the store, fell to the West youngsters. Several of them would often make the trip together, but Earl West can recall the day when at the age of 6 or 7 he had to make it alone for the first time. Anxious about how he would ever get there, his father gave him the reassuring answer that "Fred", the horse the Wests had had for a number of years, would know the way. And if he didn't know the way back, "Fred" would show him.

Over in Denton the eggs were taken to the old Detroit United Railway which ran streetcars as well as a freight run from Detroit to Jackson. Next stop was the Michigan Central depot where the groceries were picked up and loaded on the West's wagon through the assistance of the station-master since most of the youngsters were too small to manage the job alone.

The West store was also the gathering place for the start of the charivari or "belling", when it was the custom to go out and serenade the home of newlyweds with the firing of shotguns and ringing of bells in the middle of the night until the occupants would get up and let the serenaders in for a "snack to eat."

The serenaders overdid it one time, however, when someone hung a stick of dynamite on the fence surrounding one young couple's home. When the fuse had accomplished its purpose the explosion was so great that it not only woke the occupants with a start but shattered every window in the house. A collection was quickly taken up to repair the damage and by fast-talking the serenaders managed to receive their traditional early-morning snack.

The store today has changed in some ways — there's less demand for horse collars (it had five up until three were sold a couple of years ago) and the candy doesn't come in bulk pails, but just about everything implied in the name "general store" is still available there: Groceries, pitch forks, greeting cards, ladies' hosiery, needles and thread, tools, every size of nail you could want, T-shirts, paints, work shoes, four and two-buckle galoshes, and last but not least, to show they're up with the times, "Davy Crockett" watches!

An executive is a business man who has to work hard to find work for the staff to do.

AN 1855 SHOT of the building which today houses the West General Store of Cherry Hill shows the James Gunn family who maintained a grocery business and dance hall at the above site.

AS IT APPEARS today the store at 50545 Cherry Hill road has taken on a few modern motifs, such as advertising, in its exterior design, but by and large kept most of its original architecture.

If there are children in a home — the need for an encyclopedia is even more important than for adults. If budgets of families restrict the number of books to be bought each year—the Bible, a good dictionary and a good encyclopedia is a good basic foundation. There may be radio and television in the house, but books are one more of the fine things of life.

Yellow Foliage Means Elm Ills

Yellow "flags" unlike the traditional red, can mean danger to your trees. Dreaded Dutch elm and some other tree troubles are signalled by such foliage discoloration.

An individual limb, or several limbs, showing distinctly yellowing leaves, may mean the normal supply of moisture has been cut off from that portion of the tree.

This yellowing may be caused by any one of several elm diseases. Usually only a qualified tree doctor can diagnose the true cause of the danger signal. The tree may not have Dutch elm disease or any other serious ailment if the affected branch is on the shady or inner portion of the tree. Nature sometimes does its own pruning.

The amateur may confuse other minor diseases with Dutch elm because of similar foliage symptoms. These are verticillium and other wilts.

If prompt measures are taken, the tree may be cured of lesser difficulties. Feeding and pruning in the early stages can often overcome some wilt diseases.

But if your tree really has Dutch elm, there is little that can be done to save it. Removal and burning of the affected tree is recommended to keep the disease from spreading to other trees.

U.S. farmers are discovering that crop dryers are an indispensable implement to successful farming.

Control of Crab Grass

With the Crab grass season again approaching the Michigan State Department of Agriculture suggests the following methods to control this annual nuisance.

Crab grass can be controlled by spraying just before the first Crab grass plants are seeding with 1/2 pint of 72% Chlordane emulsion, or 1 pint of 40% Chlordane emulsion per 1 gallon of waterwhite kerosene. (Perfection kerosene sold by Standard Oil Company is one trade name.) per 1000 square feet of lawn. Killing the Crab grass will not solve your lawn problem, because Crab grass is a sign of poor lawn management. Therefore, throughout the year fertilize properly with sufficient nitrogen, water 6 to 10 inches deep and cut 2 inches high. Fescue or Bent grass may be injured by this spray. A vigorous, lush lawn is the most effective deterrent to Crab grass germination.

There's a

in every tankful

Now you can give your car a tune-up without tools. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* acts like an unseen mechanic to re-power your engine before you have driven 400 miles.

Here's what happens:

Your daily, short-trip driving causes an increase in engine deposits. In the combustion chambers these deposits glow red hot, and start the gasoline burning before the piston is ready for the power stroke. This results in pre-firing—a major cause of power loss. And the greater the amount of engine deposits, the greater the tendency toward pre-firing.

TCP additive, blended into high octane Shell Premium Gasoline, actually neutralizes these deposits. In combustion chambers, they no longer set off the gasoline too soon. Pre-firing is stopped.

That's why Shell Premium with TCP acts like a phantom mechanic—re-powers your engine without lifting the hood.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

New Election Law Combines Ballot

Many important changes in the State election laws will be in effect when Michigan voters go to the polls next year.

There no longer will be a sep-arate ballot for president of the United States. The presidential ballot will be combined with the state ballot for the first time since 1937.

Among other major new pro-visions of the new election code are the following:

All communities now must use written applications from a voter for a ballot. Previously, commu-nities of less than 5,000 population were not required to use written applications.

A majority of the members of the election board must be present at all times, compared with the previous requirement that three be present.

Election inspectors must submit a written application before appointment, stating political af-filiation, education, experience, and other information.

Challengers must now be regis-tered, electors of the city or town-ship in which they act, and can-didates cannot act as challengers.

Ballots no longer will be ini-tiated by election inspectors.

County clerks must have their offices open for election purposes

all day on election day and to re-main open until all returns are in. Copies of all returns must be made available to the press and other interested persons.

Paper ballot precincts are lim-ited in size to 800 registered vot-ers and machine precincts to 1,400 with one machine provided for each 600 registered voters.

Township caucuses must be held on the same day as primary elections.

State party conventions can be held as late as September 1 in 1956.

Anyone circulating election pe-titions must state his full address, including street and number or rural route.

Absent voters ballots must be voted on voting machines immedi-ately after the polls close and the last voter has cast his ballot. Votes cast for a deceased can-didate shall not be counted.

Raincoats come in two types of fabrics — waterproof and water repellent. Waterproof coats stand up under prolonged, heavy rain, but they are made of hot, non-porous fabrics. Water repellent porous fabric will withstand only showers, but will be more com-fortable to wear.

In writing this column I feel a little like Dorothy Kilgallen. I am sitting under a tree at Camp Dearborn with my typewriter balanced on a picnic table. My "better-half" and children are out swimming.

Those of us who live on Berwick and Ingram are feeling very unhappy. We are losing good neighbors and wonderful friends. Mr. and Mrs. John Maloney and children, Jackie, Pat and Mary Jo, who moved this week to Lansing, Michigan. As we told you before, Mr. Maloney has opened his own carpet store in Lansing and as much as we'll miss them we know that a family should be together.

On Saturday evening, July 16, their neighbors gathered together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman of 9837 Ingram for a party and presented John and Marie Jo with a copper chafing dish, a 12-cup coffee carafe with copper top, three wrought-iron trivets and an Ice-o-mat. Those attending to wish John and Marie Jo luck in their new venture were Nadine and Charlie riatton, Laura Barter, Edith and Frank Stutch, Ann and Harry Harry Bohman, Fran and Bill Ohl, Louise and Joe Thurston, Pat and Red Glynn, Louise and John Rigg, Betty and Joe Talbot, Marion and Del Kerhonan, Ginny and Ted McDevitt, and Lil and Ed Hoffman.

At the same time we are bidding good-bye to the Maloneys, we would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Neil and their small son who will move into the Maloney's home on Monday.

On Tuesday, July 19, the St. Michael school bus left the front of school at 12:00 loaded with enthusiastic Cub Scouts. The boys and about 10 fathers were guests of Briggs Stadium to see the ballgame between Detroit and Kansas City. There is no doubt that the hot dog, ice cream and pop vendors did a terrific business that day but the boys had a wonderful time, which is what counts after all.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Herbst of 9909 Berwick and three of their four children, Mary, Gail and Bill, have just returned from a vacation in upper Michigan. The weather, swimming, and fishing were all good so they feel that their vacation was a success.

I am sorry this column is so short but I guess people are too busy keeping cool to inform me of their activities.

If all the milk produced in the United States last year could be brought together in one place, it would form a lake 10 feet deep, five miles wide and 10 miles long. This would total 60 billion quarts.

"NATURE WEEK," the third weekly theme of the playground recreation program this summer, consisted of several pet shows that were held last week at various play areas in Plymouth. Here pictured are six children and their pets in the Starkweather playground pet show last Thursday. From left the children with their entries are: Carl Glass, guppies; Carol St. Louis, rabbit; Jack Ransom, dog; Christine McMullen, horse; Toni Osborne, kitten; and Dennis Robertson, turtle. The winners of the pet show were awarded ribbons by playground leaders Dick Huebler and Lois Hoenecke.

Playground Notes

Nature Theme for Play Areas As Tots Hold Hikes, Pet Shows

STARKWEATHER
Starkweather playground last week held a pet show, with 36 pets entered, including a turtle, worms, black ants, a pony, eight dogs, four cats, rabbits and some guppies.

The gold-best-of-show ribbon was awarded to the McMullen girls for their pet pony, Princess. In the dog class, the entries of Tom Goodman, David Millross and Jack Ransom won top prizes. Toni Osborne's kitten, Boots, won the blue ribbon in the cat show, while Steve Lowe's Tinker took the red ribbon. In the fish class, Myrtle, a turtle owned by Dennis Robertson, Sam Snail owned by John Park and Guppies A through J entered by Carol Glass placed one-two-three.

Among the many pets entered in the Unusual pet class, Kenny Groom's grasshopper was first, with Honey, a bee pet of Danny Durham's taking second and Mickey the Caterpillar belonging to David Durham and several black ants capturing third place. Tuesday morning the children

Last week, which was the third of the summer recreation playground program, was named "Nature Week" by playground director Louise Cigile. The six playgrounds across the city were active as the many children entered in the program presented pet shows, went on nature hikes and held cook outs, all in keeping with the theme that centers around nature and the outdoors.

A seventh playground, Hough, located on Warren road near Haggerty, recently opened and is now accepting youngsters for play periods during the day. News from this playground will begin in next week's paper.

held a scavenger hunt with the teams under General Electric and General Nuisance bringing in the most articles. Several more scavenger hunts will be held during the summer thereby allowing the General Motors team to catch up with the two others.

The paper contest held on Wednesday afternoon was a big success. Jimmie Lee, Jack Ransom and Elizabeth Dobbs won in the division of nine years old and older.

CENTRAL

A peanut hunt was held at Central Playground last Tuesday and Bobby Alexander, who found 17 peanuts, captured the playground's hunting championship. Shirley Walton was second with 16 discoveries and Gerald Formwald was third with 14 finds. Finding red peanuts, for which the children were rewarded with special prizes, were Rickey Daniel, Alice Wellman, Jack Gaeke and Pamela Fisher.

A kick ball game was featured Wednesday and found David Kisabeth's team whipping Marvin Solean's squad, 16-4.

Ronnie Solean and Pete Sig Northville Downs Holds $10,000 Derby Friday

Ten of the fastest pacers in the nation, including the defending champion Warpath from Saunders Mills stables, will seek the winner's share of the $10,000 Michigan Pacing Derby pot this Friday at Northville Downs.

The stake, second of the rich, traditional events sponsored by the State's pioneer pari-mutuel harness track, promises to be the best ever staged at Northville.

Racing Secretary Harry Hatch indicated that all but three of the original 14 nominees will be on hand.

norelli were captains of a soccer game held that same day. Solean's team stunned the Signorelli's 6-0.

ALLEN

Nature week at Allen playground last week featured a nature hike at Kensington state park, which was enjoyed very much. The children found many interesting plants and learned to identify a great number of them. Following the hike the boys and girls all went swimming.

This week the youngsters read books about animals and learned to spatter paint. Some of the children made patterns from leaves and others drew their own flowers and made some very pretty pictures.

The big event at Allen was the pet show also in keeping with the theme of Nature Week. Dogs, kittens, pigeons, a chicken, rabbits, some fish and a pony were among the many entries.

The following children won ribbons in the various classes of competition:

Most beautiful pet first place winner was Richard Fenske with a dog, while second went to Kitty Eckstrom, who also had a dog entered. Third place winner was Judy Pinkerton's puppy.

Largest pet first place was Fred Jewell's pony, with Orrin Fenske's dog and Gloria Price's dog capturing second and third places respectively.

The smallest pet winners were Mary Jo and Guy Arnold's fish

Fisher's Wins 2 Edging Rosedale, Livonia Center

A pair of lop-sided wins last week by Fisher's shoes baseball team earned the locals their sixth and seventh straight decisions in class "E" recreation hardball and placed them high atop the league standings.

Second-running Rosedale is three games off the pace set by the Fisher's club, which has lost no contests.

Kicking off their most recent wins, the locals shaded loop runner-up Rosedale to a 9-1 tune, behind the four hit hurling of Fred Jones. Fisher's could garner only four hits itself, but was aided by six walks and five errors.

A home run, clout in the fourth frame by Rosedale's Annd spoiled Jones' bid for a shut-out. The victory was Jones' second of the year. He struck out six and walked only two, facing 25 batters.

The locals chased across six runs in the third inning to quickly ease their hurler's job on the mound. Fisher's added one more run in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Jim Urquhart, catcher for Fisher's, led his team-mates at the plate as he smashed out two singles, drove in two runs and scored two more.

Two days later Fisher's blasted Livonia Center, 18-4, as pitcher Larry Wells notched his second decision of the season. Wells won his own ball game by slamming out a home run, triple and a single good for four RBIs.

Bruce Wood also contributed a home run with one team-mate aboard to provide proper margin of victory for Wells, who was relieved in the fifth by Fred Jones. Losing hurler was Hoobler from Livonia Center.

In winning their seventh game against no losses, Fisher's scored freely tallying three in the first frame, one in the second, five in the third, seven in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Down Merchants, 4-1, On Two-Run Homer

Hargraves Heating, the Wayne entry in the Inter-County sandlot baseball league, last Sunday tagged the Plymouth Merchants with their seventh loss against five defeats in loop competition. Final score was 4-1.

In defeat the locals could muster only two scattered singles off the hurling of the Hargraves' pitcher, a 17-year-old youngster named Gladding. It was reported that the Detroit Tigers recently signed the youth to a minor league contract.

A towering home run blast by Hargraves' first baseman McGhen, in the fifth inning with a mate aboard provided Gladding with his winning edge.

Merchants' hurler Eddie Hock opened the fatal fifth with a pair of walks to Lapac and Nittlestad. But before the free pass to the latter, Lapac had stolen second and gone on around to third on the throw down that went wild and skittered off into the outfield.

Then with Nittlestad on first via Hock's second walk of the frame, the two Hargraves' base-runners executed a delayed double steal which allowed Lapac to come across from third.

This score broke a two-inning dead-lock of 1-1 and in itself would have been sufficient. But Hock wasn't out of the fire yet.

Next batter to face the Merchants' hurler was first-sacker McGhen, who had already fanned once and was to do so again later in the game. But Hock, after fogging his first two pitches past the batter for strikes, watched helplessly as McGhen salted away the Wayne victory by slamming the ball far over center-fielder Joe Gatter's head.

The clout scored Nittlestad ahead of McGhen and was the last time that Hargraves could solve Hock, who put the visitors down in fair order the rest of the route.

Merchants had hopped out to a short-lived one run lead in the bottom of the first, when Dewulf led off with a walk. After Gatter flied out, Dewulf stole second and advanced to third on Schwartz's infield single, one of the two Merchants' hits.

A delayed double steal, of the same type via which the Wayne club scored a run in the fifth, allowed the locals to claim a one run bulge. A wild-pitch by Gladding eased the run across.

Hargraves tied it in the third inning, when Hock, after fanning the first two men up, walked the next pair. A single chased across the man from second to bring the count to 1-1 and set the stage for the visitors to win in the fifth.

Hock, who went the route, absorbed his fifth loss against the same number of victories, while allowing seven hits, walking four and striking out ten. Gladding, in victory, gave up only two scattered singles, struck out two but walked six to remain in some difficulty throughout the game.

Merchants threatened in both the second and ninth innings, when they succeeded in placing two men on base, but failed when the hitting gave out at the plate.

Next contest for the Merchants is this Sunday against Grandale, when the two teams square off against each other on the Northville ball diamond. Game time is 3:00 p.m.

The locals, sixth in the league with a five win and seven loss season card, will hope to better that standing against the neighboring Grandale, who is even deeper in the loop with a seven loss and three win record.

Grand-Slam Clout Wins 7th for D & L

Jerry Foreman's grand-slam home run blast in the first inning coupled with the two-hit twirling of Robert Jenkins last week earned Davis and Lent a 16-0 decision over Northville Recreation.

It was Davis and Lent's seventh straight victory in class "E" recreation baseball.

Jenkins, who struck out seven and walked only one, allowed the Northville squad two measly singles, one coming in the first frame and the other in the fifth. The game was called at the end of five frames on account of darkness. It was Jenkins' third win of the season.

The locals, in tagging Northville's Peathers with the defeat, scored freely throughout the contest. They played six runs in the first, five in the second, two in the third and three in the fourth frame.

Sand-Letters Win, 6-1, In Tri-City Loop Play

More fortunate in Tri-city league action than in the larger Inter-County loop, the Plymouth Merchants' sand-lot baseball squad turned in one victory last week and had another contest rained out.

In victory, the locals stunned Detroit from Wayne, 6-1, Wednesday, July 13. Seidl went the route on the mound for the Merchants and carded his first win of the season in either loop since joining the locals part-way through the current campaign.

Big blow for the winners was third-baseman Munding's home run smash in the first frame with the sacks empty.

Then last Friday the Merchants were washed out of a scheduled contest with Garden City. The game may be played at a later date.

A talent show was held at the Green Meadows playground last week on Wednesday and the children enjoyed watching and listening to the different acts which were managed by Bonnie Anderson and Pat Fox.

Featured on the afternoon agenda was Sherry Burton, who sang "Let Me Go, Lover", Pat Fox and Bonnie Grady, who sang a duet of "Da Lord" and the clown act presented by Coty York, Terry Duty and Danny Grady.

Arthur Depki showed the rest of the children a series of card tricks and Bonnie Anderson, who acted as master of ceremonies for the program, filled in the rest of the time with jokes.

The pet show, scheduled for last week, was called off because of rain, but it was announced this week that it would be held at a later date.

Exhibition Softball Win Notched by Cavalcade

In an exhibition softball game last Friday evening behind the high school, Plymouth's Cavalcade Inn ball club nosed the Jo-Lee Bar from Garden City to a 10-6 tune. Jo-Lee Bar is the Garden City softball loop's leading team.

Harold Secord, pitcher for Cavalcade, was credited with the win, while Benny Dawson was tagged with the defeat. Behind the plate for the locals was Dick Gray as Ed Somerman handled the catching duties for the losers.

Big gun for Cavalcade was Jim Wellman, who slammed out a double and two singles for three RBIs.

Oldsmen Nab Two In Open Softball

Softball battling in Plymouth's class "A" Open league found pace-setting Beglinger Olds turning in a pair of wins last week to improve upon its season record and lift its card to 10 wins and only two losses.

Beglingers stumped Evans, 3-0, behind the three-hit hurling of winning pitcher Thibideau, who scattered three singles and shackled his opponents allowing only five base-runners.

Stout, with a pair of doubles, and Wikie, with a double and single led the winner's attack at the plate. Beglingers scored two runs in the first frame and one in the fifth. Stevens for Evans was tagged with the loss.

Beglingers also turned back second-running Cavalcade in a close fought contest as the Oldsmen notched a 4-2 win. Thibideau won his second victory of the week, while Lowe absorbed the loss.

Cavalcade rallied in the sixth to score two runs and leave a man at second before being retired.

Cavalcade lost another close one last week as the Box-Eagles trimmed the Barmen, 4-3, in twelve innings. With the count locked at 3-3 at the close of regulation play the two teams went an additional five frames to reach a decision.

Wagenschutz walked to open the fatal twelfth and was pushed ahead by a sacrifice by Pierce. Wagenschutz then came across when Kerney, pitcher for the Eagles, singled. It was Kerney's win, while Lowe suffered the loss.

In Cavalcade's top half of that same inning, Barnes tripled with two down but was left stranded when Wellman was an easy out.

Only other game last week in the Open loop was the Box-Eagles 5-2 win over Evans Products. Despite being out-hit four to five by Evans, the Eagles made their hits count and pushed across lone runs in the first and fourth and three in the sixth to cinch the victory.

The standings:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Beglingers	10	2
Cavalcade	8	4
Evans	3	9
Box-Eagles	3	9

Daisy Wins 5th, Clings to Lead

Daisy Air Rifle nosed Beglinger Olds, 15-9, last week in a wild scoring contest, which resulted in the riflemen copping their fifth win of the campaign in the class "B" recreation softball program.

First Conveyor Subway Shown

A working model of the design of the world's first conveyor subway will be exhibited through August at the Detroit Historical Museum, 5401 Woodward avenue.

The plan and model grew out of a suggestion by Col. S. H. Bingham, executive director and general manager of the New York City Transit Authority, that the Grand Central-Times Square shuttle would be a good place for a passenger conveyor belt system.

Designs for conveyor belts are not new in Detroit. As early as 1929, Herman E. Taylor, former traffic supervisor, D. S. R., designed a system of belt conveyors to carry passengers under the City's sidewalks. A model of this system was exhibited recently in the Detroit Historical Museum.

Leaving the loading area, cars move over a series of rubber-tired accelerating rollers. Each row of wheels moves at a speed slightly greater than the previous row so that the cars move smoothly from 1 1/2 miles per hour to 15 miles per hour. Capacity for the New York conveyor belt system will be 36,000 persons per hour. Overall cost is estimated at less than $5,000,000.

Daisy, which leads the loop with its 3-0 record, are only a scant step ahead of Northville VFW and Independents, who both have 4-1 cards holding them to second.

In Daisy's victory over the Oldsmen, Campbell slugged out a bases loaded home run in the third inning to get the winners' scoring punch started. Pacing the losers at the plate was Sandmann, who knocked out a pair of round-trippers and a single for three RBIs.

Other action last week Thursday was meager as Plymouth Stamping was awarded a forfeit win over Barnes-Gibson-Raymond. The score was 7-0 according to the rules governing forfeit decisions.

On Tuesday, July 12, Northville VFW and Independents held a wild-scoring affair that found both teams combining to score 25 runs on 18 hits and 17 errors. The Independents managed a 15-10 victory.

Northville VFW also garnered a win decision last week as Wall Wire, cellar-dwellers of the Old-timer's loop, were turned back, 9-4, behind the seven-hit hurling of VFW's Perry.

The standings:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Daisy	5	0
Independents	4	1
Northville VFW	4	1
Beglingers	2	3
Plymouth Stamping	2	4
Barnes-Gibson-Raymond	1	4
Wall Wire	0	5

Elks Surge to Second Place With 4 Wins in "D" Baseball

The Plymouth Elks, local entry in the class "D" recreation baseball league, has in the past month surged into second place on the ladder of standings by virtue of four wins as against one loss in loop competition.

Setting the pace for the other teams in the league, which is for boys 18-years-old and under, is A.S. Poole, the Wayne entry, with a five-win and no-loss card.

Most recent contest for the locals resulted in a scant 10-9 decision over the Belleville Cubs on Tuesday, July 12.

In this battle the Elks sent a trio of hurlers, Dick Day, Bob Johnson and Hank Bonga, to the mound with the three combining to limit the Cubs to six hits.

Bonga, last of the Plymouth twirlers to work, was credited with his second victory of the season.

Pacing the attack for the Elks were Dan Christensen with a double and a long fly ball that chased across five runs, Day, who slammed out a triple to score two RBIs, and Bob Middleton, with two hits, a triple and a single.

The locals plated nine runs in the third and fourth frames to build up a substantial bulge on the road to victory. Belleville scattered its scoring with three runs in the fifth and three in the sixth being the most productive frames.

The trio of Plymouth hurlers, despite allowing only six hits, remained in difficulty most of the way as the hurlers gave up six free passes to first base and the other Plymouth players committed four errors afield. Losing moundsman was Towler, first of two Belleville hurlers.

For the locals, Day started and lasted two innings, when Johnson came on to hang around two more frames. Then Bonga appeared to shackle the opponents and gain the nod.

Lanky Bob Middleton cut off three Belleville runs at home plate with sling shot throws from center field to stop further Belleville scoring and preserve a Plymouth victory.

Other action for the Elks found the locals scoring an 8-2 win over the Belleville Cubs earlier, a 9-2 decision over the Belleville Merchants and an 8-2 victory over Dearborn-Roosevelt.

The only mar on the Elks' card is a 1-0 loss to Dearborn-Roosevelt in the season's opening battle, June 23. Elk team manager Dick Huebler has since registered a protest with the Wayne recreation department, the league's official governing body.

The protest has been accepted by the recreation officials and has been tabled pending further study, which will lead to a decision.

Ol' Diz is frequently besieged by pretty unattached females seeking introductions to Tiger players. I sure hate to disappoint them, but I always have to point out to the sweet young things that most of the Tigers are family men and that many of the remainder have been "tagged" for future delivery.

Of the others, virtually all consider themselves too young for romantic entanglements and see marriage only in the distant future.

In this category are new bonus babies Jim Small and Pat Brady, still in their teens; Reno Bertola, another bonus player, only 20 but with a gal already picked out whom he hopes to marry in a couple of years, and pitcher Billy Hoelt, just turned 23, who does not expect to marry at least for another three years.

Among the engaged are pitcher Duke Maas, the Utica rookie, who plans to be married Nov. 12 to Nancy Seaman, and shortstop Harvey Kuenn, who will wed Dixie Sarchet, the beautiful Miss Wisconsin of 1955, this November.

Long List
The list of benedicts is a long one. Surprisingly, many of the players have been married for a comparatively long time. Ned Garver, for example, has been married to the former Louise Simms long enough to have a son Don, 11, and a daughter Cheryl, 6.

Jack Phillips was married to the former Helen McBride in 1946 and they have three children, Jackie, 6, Mike, 4, and Susan, 1 1/2. Bill Tuttle, who is 26, tied the nuptial knot with the former Lucille Hubbard in 1950 and they have three youngsters, Pat, 4, Bob, 3, and Ricky, 1 1/2.

Fred Hatfield was married in Germany in 1946 to the former Dorothy Cotton, an Army medical technician, and they have a son, Jimmy, 7. Ray Boone, married in 1946 to the former Patsy Brown, is the father of Robert, 7, Rodney, 4, and Terry, 2. George Zuverink was married in 1946 to the former Lorraine Hendricks and they have a 14-months-old daughter, Dawn Mara.

Born Same Day
Jim Delsing's last child, Janie, 1 1/2, was born on the same day as Bill Tuttle's last baby, March 11, 1954, while both players were in spring training. Delsing, also the father of Kimberly Ann, 4, was married in 1949 to the former Roseanne Brennan.

Manager Bucky Harris is the father of three grown children by a first marriage, Stanley, Jr., 26, Richard, 22, and Sally, 20. He's been married three years to his second wife.

As for Ol' Diz, I've been married since 1939 to the former Pearl Eva Ortman and the union has produced seven little Trouts, four boys and three girls. The oldest is 14, the youngest 18 months, and I wouldn't be surprised if one of the boys follows his dad's footsteps into the Hickory and Horsehide game.

UNWRITTEN LAWS

Passing at night against oncoming traffic is modern driving's most difficult maneuver. With perfect eyesight you can't tell whether headlights are approaching at 50 or 70 miles per hour. It may be the difference between life and death.

When deciding to pass a car at night remember the old adage, "Look before you leap." And when, with even the best look, you can't be sure — then take time to be sure. When in doubt don't do it.

It helps to take a first look to estimate the distance and the speed of the oncoming car — and then a second look before making up your mind. Always keep in mind the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE"

If you are looking for something interesting to do with your children this summer for an afternoon's educational tour, why not take a group out to Evans Products and watch Michigan's only bicycle manufacturing production line in action.

It is quite a sight to see hundreds of brightly colored bicycles, in all sizes, and hundreds of tricycles for smaller tots take shape from rough tubing to beautiful finished products which eventually will find their way to stores all over the world.

The bicycle end of the Evans' spiraling manufacturing business is the result of Mr. Edward S. Evans, Jr.'s, keen business vision. When space and water heating manufacture began to slump he cast about for another line with great future potential which could be manufactured in his plant with equipment already on hand.

He was surprised to learn that each year in our country there were a million or more children reaching the age group from five to fourteen years. And further, this increase was to be constant on the present birth percentages for at least another five years. This started him thinking about some item of interest to this market and in the final analysis the bicycle sounded like a natural.

Shortly he purchased the 60 year old Colson Bicycle Company and moved it lock, stock and barrel to the Evans plant on the outskirts of Plymouth. Today some 400 bicycles are rolling off the modern production line as are 1,000 tricycles, or velocipedes each day.

Velocipedes are available from $12.50 each, and $99.95 will buy a flashy Firebird bicycle, their most expensive, for the older boy or girl. Evans makes some 50 different models in all different colors and a complete range of sizes and prices. Comparison will show they are equal or superior in every way to any others on the market. There will be over 2,000,000 bikes sold in America this year, and the total sales will amount to $70,000,000. Evans doesn't expect to capture the entire market its first couple of years in the field, but from what we have seen and heard of their future plans and marketing programs, there can be no question but what they will be a dominant force to be reckoned with in the bicycle industry in the years ahead.

Along with our nationally known Daisy air rifles and other famous Daisy products, Evans now will also help carry the name of Plymouth to youngsters throughout the world. And, for the record and for a tip to some enterprising local merchant, we might mention at this writing... just think... there isn't an Evans dealer in Evans' own home town to sell these wonderful, home-made products.

THERE'S MORE TO MAKING a bicycle than one would expect... at least that's what three well known Plymouth youngsters found out one day last week when Evans' advertising manager, Sam Hudson, also a well known Plymouthite, took them on a tour of the fast moving Evans bicycle production line. Shown pointing out one of the special safety features in the wheel of one of the bicycles Mr. Hudson is surrounded by (l. to r.) Randy Eaton, Staten Lorenz and Karla Herbolt while the motivating force behind this mammoth new local industry, Edward S. Evans, Jr., joins the group momentarily in the wheel assembly section of the line. Miss Herbolt is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Herbolt. Lorenz is the son of Mayflower Hotel manager and Mrs. Ralph G. Lorenz and Randy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton.

Grass Roots Opinion

HATFIELD, PA., TIMES: "A $2,500 auto made by hand would cost $17,500... and consequently there would be very little automobile production. Because of greater productivity per man, we have so much more for so much less, that millions can buy things which they could not otherwise afford. With the passing of time, tools and machinery have gradually replaced muscular effort. Today 90 per cent of our total energy is mechanical, 10 per cent muscular. Without efficient equipment and machinery our workers could produce little more than their grandfathers. Machines don't make a few things for a few rich families. Mass production means mass distribution, mass consumption. More machines mean more goods for more people!"

BOOTHBAY, ME., REGISTER: "Suppose that each of us was assessed in one lump sum the same amount we now pay in hidden taxes. This lump sum would have a pretty sobering effect, and those of us who clamor for more and more government services and subsidies would be likely to revise our thinking considerably... The inescapable fact is... that the people have to pay for what their government spends. The amount they pay is going to be the same, whether it is taken from them a cent at a time or in one fat, fearful sum."

PORT GIBSON, MISS. REVEILLE: "Postal Service News tells the story of the jaybird, looking for nesting material, swooped down on a dilapidated rural mailbox, grabbed a letter in its beak, and flew off. A member of the family startled the bird with its heavy cargo, and the letter was dropped—an envelope containing a pension check! Those interested in improving their mailboxes can secure helpful information from their carriers."

An Editor Looks At Bigness

Thomas J. Anderson, publisher of Farm and Ranch magazine, recently had something to say about the big-business versus little-business controversy. He observed, "We don't think you have to be on one side or the other. We don't even think the small and the big are necessarily business enemies. There's a place for both. This country needs both."

Then Mr. Anderson used chain stores, which have come in for plenty of criticism at times, as an example of growth. He said: "The chains got where they are because they're good—not bad... The way for small merchants to keep up is not to penalize the chains, but to clean up his store, make his displays attractive, and get the most out of the home-owned home-folks, personal service approach. Many small businesses fail because they deserve to fail, in their dark, dirty, and inefficient stores."

It is obvious that the old idea that continued development of chain merchandising meant the death of independent merchandising was false. The chains had no desire to destroy the independents—and, even if they had, they lacked the capability of doing it. For thousands upon thousands of independent merchants looked the competition in the eye and met it successfully. They used their own attractions and advantages to the full. They took leaves from the chains' book and adapted them to their operations. The proportion of total retail business done by chains and independents has varied but little over the years.

Yes, there's a place for both big business and little business. And, because of our free competitive system, there's plenty of opportunity for the little business to become big.

Air-Cooled Chair

Comes now the word from a furniture manufacturer that an air-cooled chair will be on the market in July. The first models have reportedly met with a favorable reaction.

The chair works like this: When a person sits on it a fan is switched on automatically. The fan pushes air through both the seat and the back. In hot offices, the lads and lassies will not be bothered with overheating when forced to sit it out for long stretches at a time.

This seems to be of merit for offices which are not air conditioned. The new idea will probably soon be tested by many desk chair generals, admirals and chiefs.

The world is moving along. Time was when everyone had to suffer when it was hot. With air-conditioned offices, air-cooled chairs, and other new comforts, work is getting to be pretty digestible. The workers never had it so good. The Communists certainly don't have air-cooled chairs. They might be ahead of us in jet fighters, but we've got the lead in air-cooled chairs.

State Parties Prepare for Election Year

Hot weather politics in Michigan has both parties maneuvering for 1956 months before they go to the voters. Presidential year traditions hover over the scene as Republicans and Democrats point for another election of top state officers.

Republicans rallied under a "unity banner" behind Clifford O'Sullivan, a Port Huron attorney, whom they chose as national committeeman to replace David W. Kendall, of Jackson.

Party leaders see in the O'Sullivan election a symbol of harmony they hope will carry over into the campaigns for governor, and the others. They want to avoid the wrangles of other years. Republicans here admit their most outstanding political characteristic is intramural fighting. Candidates for governor in recent history have all survived bitter party-splitting primary battles.

Formerly they have split into factions, with influential groups following both successful and defeated primary hopefuls — fragmenting the vote. "We must unite to defeat a very formidable opponent, the opposition party," said O'Sullivan. Republicans hope O'Sullivan and his views are the first step in reversing the tradition.

To pick O'Sullivan, the party passed over such names as John B. Martin, Jr., former auditor-general and campaign manager for the spring campaign; Owen J. Cleary, former state chairman and ex-secretary of state; and Berry Beaman, of Parma, former finance chairman. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a power in Michigan politics still, was credited with negotiating harmony.

He conferred with the candidates, told of the problems. Whether these talks were responsible was unannounced. But the others withdrew, and O'Sullivan got the job.

Democrats, confident and well-organized, are whipping things into shape for next year, too. Chairman Neil J. Staebler is concentrating on local party organizations, building power where the voters reside and trying a technique that Republicans have long ignored.

Democrats have Detroit sewed up with a heavy labor vote. Republicans know this and have made only passing attempts to convert the voters who work in the factories.

Tradition has it that Republicans control the outstate vote — the farmers, small cities and villages.

Staebler started in 1953 to round up an organization in the rural areas. Local Democrats, who could hold their county conventions in a telephone booth, suddenly needed to hire a hall.

"Detroit always has been strongly Democratic, but we feel that the outstate vote was a vital point for us in 1954," he said.

Both parties are wondering what Gov. Williams will do.

Up to now he has been silent, but Democrats already are grooming heirs-apparents for the governorship. Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart has been allowed to sign important bills and make speeches.

In other years, Williams was the big man in the party. Now with a full slate in top state offices, the party has a sprinkling of candidates for any post — all of them pretty well-known. Williams has issued no inkling that he will or will not go for the presidential nomination in the 1956 Democratic convention. He has made speeches all over the nation. He has taken on the sound of a national candidate on international and domestic issues. On the other hand, he has traveled the state as in days of yore, acting like a nominee for re-election.

The governor has given only one sign of impatience at the situation. Williams, who has said that Adlai E. Stevenson should try again, last week said in Chicago that the 1952 candidate should make up his mind for the good of the party.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) injected one note of humor in the siege of hot weather politics. Speaking of the legislature's relations with the governor, he led off: "If Michigan ever has another governor..."

Chaplains were asked to help keep the peace in Michigan prisons. They always have been a major part of the administration, but only within the prisons with the inmates. Now they are being asked to extend their horizons. One of the four Ionia State Reformatory rioters in June was a young tough, 19, who insisted he was ready for "graduation" to Jackson State Prison.

Digging into the records, it was found that the youth had been disowned by his family and he had not had a visitor in two years. The new duty for chaplains: Forge links between inmates and the outside free world in an effort to give them hope.

Quotes

MAX FRIEDMAN, Washington Correspondent for British newspaper: "If ever there was a Germany worthy of our support, it is this one... It consults not its fears but its hopes."

ADLAI E. STEVENSON, 1952 Democratic Presidential candidate: "We cannot have total certainty and total security and total self-development all at the same time."

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Now that Plymouth is getting its Main street reconstructed, what do you think should be the next improvement undertaken either in the city or township?"

MRS. CATHERINE BOWLES, 11749 Turkey Run: "I do think that there are many streets with holes that need further care. When visitors can ride along smoothly on our streets, they will think that we are up and coming people. Better streets will also attract more shoppers. I would also like to see something done about the trains which hold up long lines of traffic. The trains should be allowed a certain time limit. A bigger solution would be construction of an underpass."

MRS. FLORA CALHOUN, 35500 Ann Arbor Trail: "I would like to see a sewer line put in the older section east of Ball street where I used to live. They also need water badly. People have been waiting for years for lines to come. I'm moving back there and we will have to put down another well. Most people have two wells in case one fails."

Mrs. Bowles Mrs. Calhoun Tipton Zink LEROY TIPTON, 725 Evergreen: "I just moved to Plymouth about a year ago and I think things are pretty good as they are."

DAVID ZINK, 1059 Penniman: "More parking space for shoppers. The present lots still aren't enough. Also, on Penniman where I live, there should be one-side parking. Parking on both sides presents a bottleneck and there are quite a few accidents. Harvey and Ann Arbor trail are the same. They're making headway on these things though. The town's a lot better than it was 10 years ago."

GAW Can't Bring Security

Supposing the principle of some form of the so-called guaranteed annual wage, or an extended form of unemployment compensation, spreads to a large number of companies, will most workers really benefit?

ILLUSIONS OF UNION WAGES

Many workers think that somehow or other life can be made secure by legislation or labor union agreement. Higher wages, shorter hours, and unemployment benefits may temporarily raise their standard of living. Most of their victories, however, so increase their cost of living that the wage earner would have little more left at the end of the year were it not for the inventions of labor-saving devices.

Capital (employers) and wage earners are like two tanks of water connected at the bottom by a pipe. The pipe represents the channels of trade. The Capital Tank is big and holds lots of water. The Labor Tank is smaller and holds less water. Because, however, both tanks stand at the same level, and because water always seeks its own level, the water in both tanks will reach the same level, no matter how much is poured into either tank. This applies to the so-called "guaranteed wage."

LET'S NOT FOOL OURSELVES

If a Labor Union "wins" a strike for a Guaranteed Wage, this is like pouring water into the little tank from the big tank. For only a moment does the Labor Union have the increase in its tank. The benefit soon flows back to the big tank by way of higher rents, higher prices, and greater interest rates. The "water" is constantly adjusting itself by means of the connecting pipe, which is Trade. So you see the proportion of the money Union Labor retains is not really an increase. There are only two ways to get healthy increases in wages. One is through producing more by working harder and longer. The other is through new inventions and products that cut costs and increase output. The greatest value of Labor Unions to the wageworkers is that the Unions force Capital to spend money on research, inventions, and advertising, — which reduces costs and increases production. A healthy economy is dependent upon good business, which is the operation of an enterprise profitably and efficiently.

To do this the employer must be free to buy his raw materials and labor only in the amount needed and at the lowest reasonable price. Long-term contracts should be entered into only if they assure the most economical use of resources. In our private enterprise system, an employer benefits his wageworkers most when he minimizes his costs and maximizes his returns. We have real prosperity only when there are more jobs and more opportunities for more people.

WHAT DOES INCREASE SECURITY AND WAGES?

To say that we shall stabilize our economy by a guaranteed annual wage, rather than by the operation of business efficiently and profitably, is to misunderstand what makes our private enterprise system work. It is hard-headed business senses and new inventions that have given us more refrigerators, more automobiles, and more homes. This is the kind of system which benefits wageworkers in the long run.

The great mass of wageworkers can obtain a greater proportion of the world's wealth only by increasing their real efficiency by means of their heads, hands, or inventions. To go back to my tank illustration, wageworkers can get a greater proportion of the total water in their tank only by increasing the capacity of their tank — that is, its length, breadth or depth. As fast as such an increase in capacity (or efficiency) takes place, the water will flow into the Union Labor's tank automatically, and no wealth or power can prevent it. Only legislation which truly increases the efficiency and savings of the wageworkers is sure to make them richer, stronger, and more invincible.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, speaking to Lutheran young people's group: "It is essential today that young people take up the task of trying to build bridges of understanding among the world's peoples."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Isbister Recommends Swedish Dish

Here's a dish that whether served hot or cold is equally appetizing.

It comes from Mrs. Russell Isbister, 50005 Ann Arbor road, who has used her recipe for "Swedish Liver Loaf" over a number of years as a clever means of disguising the flavor of this less popular but most nourishing of meat cuts. She highly recommends the dish to anyone who has trouble in coaxing their family to eat liver. Spices used in its concoction are the secret to the unusual and delicious flavor of the dish.

Although "Swedish Liver Loaf" may be served hot, the Isbister family prefers it cold — either as a main dish with slices surrounding a center of deviled eggs or as a topping for crackers at snacktime.

Here's the way to make Mrs. Isbister's favorite recipe:

Swedish Liver Loaf
1 1/2 pounds of beef liver, ground
1/4 pound of ground sausage
1/4 cup of chopped onion cooked
tender in two tablespoons of fat
Grind the above very fine and mix thoroughly.

Add:
2 beaten eggs
2 cups of coffee cream
1 teaspoon of pepper
3/4 teaspoon of salt
1 teaspoon of sugar
1/4 teaspoon of cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon of cloves
1/4 teaspoon of nutmeg
2 cups of flour

Mix thoroughly. Bake in well greased, covered ring mold or loaf pan set in pan of hot water, in 350 degree oven for two hours. Remove cover after first hour. Serves ten.

When cool, wrap in wax paper and chill.

Mixing up the ingredients for "Swedish Liver Loaf" is Mrs. Russell Isbister of 50005 Ann Arbor road.

Tourist Spots Get Health Check

Gold and green signs will tell tourists and vacation-bound Michigan residents which resorts and motels are "health department approved."

About 5,000 Michigan summer spots and roadside motels are being inspected by sanitarians, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said resort and motel operators work with the task force of local health department sanitarians, checking everything from room ventilation to bathing beaches.

The "HDA" signs, Dr. Heustis said, "mean that owners of the accommodations and your health department have joined to see that all possible steps are taken to safeguard health in your 'home away from home.'"

"While the sign doesn't necessarily mean that the resort or motel is the last word in modern convenience, it is a reassurance on health and safety."

"In the three years since this program was started, we're glad to report that the 'HDA' has become a well-known mark of dependability along highways and roads of Michigan."

New electric utility plants to be built in the U. S. by 1956 will consume 46 millions tons of coal annually.

Grange Cleanings

Remember that tonight is our picnic so be there and bring all the family and friends so that we shall have a good crowd. Remember the place, between the R.R. viaduct and Plymouth road bridge in Riverside park. A nice shady place.

A rather small crowd made the trip up to Chesaning to see "Show Boat," but those who went reported having a wonderful time and enjoyed the program very much.

Outdoor Meals Help Spark Lagging, Summer Appetites

Has the hot weather dulled the appetites of your family? Try taking them outdoors for meals—either the park or the backyard. The fresh air, the odors of the food cooking and the fun of cooking and eating together in the open makes everybody hungry.

Would you like to avoid limp, soggy sandwiches at your picnic? Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County home agent, has some suggestions for you. Most sandwiches are better when they are assembled at the picnic area rather than when completely prepared at home. Bread may be buttered at home. Take an assortment of sandwich spreads, so that each person may select according to his taste. A variety of breads and rolls will also give appetite appeal. Be sure to take the sandwich trimmings such as pickles, relish, mustard and chili sauce. Lettuce should be wrapped separately and tomatoes can be quickly sliced at the picnic spot.

Hard-cooked eggs are a good accompaniment for sandwiches and keep well in their protective shell. However, if you prefer deviled eggs, remember that they must be kept cold until they are eaten. Any mayonnaise dish requires packing in ice. This would be true of fish and egg salads used as sandwich spreads.

Remember that there are hot sandwiches beside the hot dog and hamburger. Any thick cooked main dish can be heated in a bun. Toasted cheese, peanut butter, or salad filled sandwiches are also good. For a heavier type sandwich, broiled steak, ham and lamb will suit the men.

If you enjoy campfire cookery, try this simple menu:

HAMBURGER A LA FOIL

Cut a potato into small pieces as for french fries. Cut a carrot into "sticks". Pat 1/4 lb. hamburger into 3/4" cake. Place all side-by-side on double thickness of aluminum wrap. Season. Bring two edges together in a "drug-store" wrap. Then fold each remaining edge back toward food with at least two 1/2" folds. Cook 10 minutes one side; turn and cook 5 minutes longer. Tear open and eat directly from the foil dish if you wish.

BAKED APPLES

Place cored apple on double thickness of aluminum foil. Fill core-opening with mixture of sugar, raisins, nuts, etc. Gather foil up over top and twist together. Bake on top of grill.

Woolen and worsted fabrics can now be made to shed water like a shower curtain, a result of the development of silicone finishes from the research labs of Dow Corning Corporation.

A new fashion trend reflecting the popular decorator touch is colored drawer interiors. You'll find drawers lined with gay shades of red and blue.

Find Bleaching Ruins Many New Fabrics

Homemakers who purchase blouses and other garments which are resin treated to make them crease resistant will be wise to take a tip from their local laundryman. Some of these resins will, when put into water containing bleach, produce destructive chlorine containing combinations. The laundryman's tip: "Be careful with your bleach! Use none or as little as possible!"

Until recently resin-treated fabrics, some of them chlorine retentive, weren't much of a problem because they were used mostly on dyed fabrics. Colored garments usually aren't bleached. Now, however, some white fabrics with chlorine retentive resin finishes are appearing.

Finish on fabrics which is chlorine retentive picks up, but does not release all the bleach no matter after how many rinses. After even one washing quite a bit of the chemical is retained in an inactive state. High pressing temperatures set it to work, laundry technicians have found.

A hand iron used to press out wrinkles won't usually get the temperature up high enough to get the fabric bone-dry. A hot hand iron will cause the chlorine-resin combination to break down, forming hydrochloric acid which will leave brown scorch marks or cause the fabric to fall apart, according to tests at the research and educational center of the laundry industry.

Laundrymen advise homemakers to save the "hang tags" that are attached to the new garment and tell her laundry routeman she wants "special handling" when it is laundered. Professional laundry formulas control the overuse of bleach which could ruin the garment.

Natural grass, reeds and butterfly wings have been laminated between translucent sheets of plastic by Ficks Reed to form a practical as well as beautiful top for a square coffee table.

Cereal 'n Soup Casserole Lightens Summer Cooking

Summer is often one big headache for Mrs. Homemaker and the reason boils down to the simple fact that no matter the weather, she's still responsible for the preparation of daily meals for her family. While there is actually no 100% solution for this, it's helpful to use familiar pantry shelf products in quickly prepared dishes. Combining the right foods is also important, and what could be more inspired than a cereal 'n soup combination.

Although there are many ways to go about this, here's one that beats all—and beats the heat, too. Called "Meal In A Casserole" it means exactly what it says; it has everything... soup, fish, vegetables and topped with crunchy toasted corn flakes.

MEAL IN A CASSEROLE

- 1 box (12 ounces) quick-frozen green peas, thawed
  - 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
  - 1 cup (7 1/2-ounce can) tuna fish, flaked
  - 2 cups Post Toasties Corn Flakes
  - 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- Combine peas and mushroom soup in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring once or twice. Then add tuna fish and mix lightly. Turn into greased 1-quart baking dish. Crush cereal slightly, toss with melted butter, and use to cover tuna fish mixture. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Note Victorian Trend in Fall Bridal Gowns

Brides are going to look more like Queen Victoria this fall, with tiny coronets and sweeping, full-skirted gowns. The skirts will be held out with hoops and crinolines.

The slim silhouette, so popular in other fashions, is not at all in demand by bridal departments. The bouffant look will be in order for fall if you are planning a wedding.

The bride's shoulders will still be covered, but scoop necklines go deeper and the beaming heart-shaped necklines are wider.

Most wedding gowns will be floor-length, with the trains somewhat shorter than in previous years. The "cathedral length" train is being supplanted by "chapel trains." These "chapel trains" sweep the floor for about eighteen inches.

The pure white bridal gown seems to be losing favor along with shiny fabrics. Ivory tints, shade called "antique" which is almost an ecru and very pale ice blue are coming back into style.

Heavy, shiny satins are being replaced by delustered satins, mat-finish silk taffeta and peau de soie.

Fingertip veils attached to the baby tiara of pearls, which look much like Victoria's favorite design, look distinctly new for fall.

Some designers favor a small cap to hold the veil. These caps are given a new look by being worn well forward on the brow. Some have a decided pillbox look.

Here's Way to Remove Fruit and Grass Stains

Almost every homemaker is called on to remove fruit and grass stains from the family's clothes during the summer.

The best way to remove recent fruit stains from washable clothes is to first soak the garment in cold water. Wash in warm suds and rinse well. For set stains on white cotton, linen and rayon: soak fifteen minutes in a bleach made from one tablespoon of household bleach to each quart of water, then rinse three times. For white silk, wool, and all colored fabrics, soak thirty minutes in a solution of two tablespoons of hydrogen peroxide to each gallon of water, then rinse twice.

Grass stains on white fabrics which are washable can be removed by the method recommended for fruit stains. For colored fabrics, use a bleach of one teaspoon of sodium perborate to one pint of hydrogen peroxide. Soak for thirty minutes and rinse three times.

To remove very stubborn stains you should sprinkle the stains with sodium perborate while the fabric is damp, let stand for thirty minutes, Rinse at least three times.

If a fruit stain is on a dry-cleanable fabric, sponge with cool water. The sooner you do this, the more effective it will be. Next work in a good soapless shampoo. Let this stand for several hours. Test a drop of white vinegar on a section of the garment that does not show. If no color change is evident, apply a few drops to the stain and let stand for several minutes. Sponge clean with cool water.

To remove grass stains from dry-cleanable fabrics, sponge with a solution of one cup of denatured alcohol and two cups of water. Sponge clean with cool water.

Milk contains some of every known vitamin.

But if you think that's all—listen: This gleaming grace of automobile is a Buick through and through—a '55 Buick, from the hottest-selling line of Buicks in all history.

So here you have the soft, firm steadiness of Buick's all-coil-spring ride and torque-tube stability. Here you have Buick brawn, Buick solidity, Buick handling ease, Buick styling and visibility and interior luxury.

And here you have the lift and life of vigorous new V8 power of record might—and coupled to the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Why wait a day longer—when you can come in right now and try the first true hardtop with the extra comfort, room and convenience of a full-sized 4-door sedan?

Drop in tomorrow, first thing—for a look at the price, and an idea of the whopping-big trade-in deal our huge sales volume permits us to make.

Selling insurance is a business in the strictest sense of the word. Your local agent derives his livelihood from the commission involved in the sale. But when you deal with your local agent, you're buying more than just insurance coverage... you're buying service... you're buying that agent's time, advice and professional integrity in times of necessity. When you need service as quickly as possible, you have a personal contact with your agent, who will "go to bat" for you. But when you buy your insurance by mail, you just can't get any satisfaction by talking to a mailbox.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD

TYPICAL OF THE many modern homes going up in the Rocker subdivision, located near the corner of US-12 and Main, is this recently completed one belonging to Norman "Dutch" Atchinson, local automobile dealer. The new house, 9048 Rocker, consists of six rooms, one-and-one-half baths, full basement and car port. It is a brick, ranch style construction. The homes in the near-by housing project are being built by various local contractors, with the furnishings supplied by Plymouth business establishments.

Tips On How To Cut Cost In Building That New Home

The total costs of building a new home can be reduced considerably, without taking away any of its beauty and livability, if an owner observes a few basic rules of economy, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Here are six tips on how to save money when you build a home, suggested by the Bureau: Shop around for the lowest rate of interest you can find on your mortgage money. A loan of $10,000 for 20 years at five per cent, for instance, will cost $66 a month for interest and amortization. The same loan at four and a half per cent would cost $63.27 a month. Over the life of the mortgage, that half per cent difference in rate would save you a total of $655.20 in interest charges.

Pay off fast. The quicker you pay back a loan, the less it costs. If you repay a $10,000 loan at five per cent in 15 years instead of 20 years, the monthly payment would be $79.08 instead of $66. But by paying that additional $13.08 every month you would save $1,605.60 and clear your indebtedness five years earlier. If you make monthly payments of $106.07 you can pay off your mortgage loan in ten years instead of 20, and save $3,111.60 in interest charges.

Make big first payment. The larger you make your initial payment the smaller your monthly payments and interest charges will be. For example, if you are able to get by with borrowing only $8,000 instead of $10,000 at five per cent, your monthly payment drops from $66 to $52.80, and during the 20 years of your mortgage you make the long term saving of $1,167.72 on interest.

Do-It-Yourself. Do as much work yourself as you possibly can, for labor is one of your most costly building expenses. You don't have to interfere with jobs that only your architect and contractor can handle. But you can paint or panel your own interior walls. Development of modern building materials such as Ken-tile asphalt tile makes it possible for a home owner to lay his own resilient tile flooring, quickly and easily. Self-installation of resilient tile floors cuts the cost approximately one-half for a home owner, who also profits from the low cost maintenance and long time durability and beauty of tile floors.

Eliminate and postpone. A home builder can make quick savings by cutting down initial requirements in finished space, leaving ample room for expansion, and by completing only living area to meet the family's immediate needs. Cut out that extra breakfast room ten feet square and you save $1,500 or so. Put off building a sun porch, or postpone finishing the attic, or a second bath, and your basement for a few years, adding these features as your family grows, or after your first financial outlay is over.

Cut down on expensive hand-work as much as possible. Sacrifice such costly extras as elaborate cornice moldings, windows, doors and fancy interior trim, cabinet work that are not stock items. Sacrifice of costly details does not reduce living space and the savings you make are well worth while. Use your own ingenuity and ideas and those of your contractor and his skilled craftsmen. They all have had long experience in solving building problems at the least cost.

INGENIOUS REPRODUCTIONS

When you step into a store to buy a radio or television set or an article of furniture, you may be surprised to find that the beautiful mahogany finish is not mahogany at all. As a matter of fact, it may not even be wood.

It is now possible to photograph the grain of a beautiful piece of wood and, from the negative, prepare an etched plate or cylinder from which thousands of faithful reproductions of the grain pattern may be made. Paint chemists can match the color of the original wood so closely that even the experts have difficulty in choosing the reproduction.

The process is applicable to low cost woods, composition board, metal or plastics, thus making it possible to combine the best physical properties of these materials with the beauty of expensive natural woods. Reproduction of fabrics, leather, mother-of-pearl and marble are equally possible.

MANY "DRY WALLS"

Dry wall commonly refers to wall boards such as plywood, cement board, hardboard, gypsum board, paper board, and fiber board, as well as any other material applied in a dry process.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-331

DESIGN C-331. Several features of outstanding interest are note-worthy in this plan, such as the delightful kitchen with a snack bar and dinette, the minimum hall space, and the variety of closets. In addition to this, there are three bedrooms, a comfortable living room and a full basement.

Kitchen cabinets are arranged to form a compact, step-saving workroom, with the advantage of having a three-way view of the side and rear yards, and over-looking the front entrance. The dinette is separated from the living room by means of folding doors. High windows in the ends of the bedrooms add to the already liberal wall space.

The exterior is attractively finished with a combination of wide siding and stone. The house includes a stone fireplace, picture window, shutters, and asphalt shingles. Ground area is 1185 square feet, with a cubage of 22,515 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN C-331, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

FENCE AND TRELLIS LORE

When you build arbors or trellises — or enclose your outdoor living room with attractive fencing — you'll want to check on the special coatings now available which retard the rotting of wood that must be placed below ground. These are known as wood preservatives. Get the non-staining type, if you plan to add additional coats of paint to the part of the wood that shows above ground. For the finish coats on a fence, it's advisable to use regular house paint in a color that harmonizes with the color scheme of your house. This same type of paint will also serve admirably for trellises and arbors, although you may wish to use trim-and-trellis paint which is made especially for the purpose.

CENTRAL HEATING GAINS

Only about half of the houses in the United States now have central heating, but the Coleman Heating Institute predicts that this figure will rise to 75 percent by 1960.

Select Proper Siding to Give House Attractive Appearance

Since exterior appearance counts for so much, many home builders are specifying a siding which has a "good look" as well as excellent wearability, weatherability, and paintability. Their liking for "Shadowvent" Siding accounts for the spectacular acceptance of this new version of an already popular material.

"Shadowvent" Siding is a time-proven material, in a new form which saves up to one-third of the installation time. One reason for its smooth appearance is the fact that carpenters don't nail into its surface. Instead, they nail an aluminum shadow strip to the wall studs, through the sheathing and then simply slide the "Shadowvent" Siding into the strip.

Half the painting already has been done, too, since this siding is factory-primed. This exceptionally even, smooth prime coating is an excellent base for the top coat. Paint on this material wears unusually long.

At intervals in the aluminum, non-rusting shadowstrip are vents which serve to prevent condensation of moisture inside the wall.

The siding comes in two widths, approximately 10" and 12", which are considered ideal for ranch style houses. There is no premium in the cost because of these wider boards. In fact, over-all costs are less than for usual lumber siding.

Specially designed metal corners, designed for use with this siding, require nailing only in the bottom unit, since they interlock.

HOT ATTICS

Air temperature in your attic can go as high as 135 degrees in the summer, Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers say. This heat will keep the temperature of the rest of the house high unless it is removed by a fan.

Style influences from around the world are the new fashions shown at the summer furniture markets. Shown above is the simplicity of Danish styling. This grouping is one of the most versatile collections of living, dining and bedroom furniture.

Not only are these units interchangeable from room to room, but within a room, and with each other. They bring an unusual and pleasant architectural aspect to our homes. For this custom look, base pieces are individual units, separate from cabinets and drawer chests, creating a free scaling variation about the room. The base units may also be used as benches or coffee tables. Note the extra storage space in the three drawers of the base units.

The wood is walnut, finished to have a hand-rubbed sheen, which allows the full beauty of the wood to show through — an increasing trend in new furniture styles.

Sliding drawers in the chests are reversible — one side is a walnut finish, and the other side is a dramatic black paneltye.

New fashion touches are the louvred drawer fronts on case pieces, and the tamboured cabinet for either Television or Hi-Fi.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

Shaded Seedbed Aids Growth Of Summer-Sown Perennials

The practice of sowing perennial flower seeds in summer is an old one, and not well suited to areas where hot, dry weather prevails. But with a cold frame to carry them over winter, and a lath canopy to protect the seeds and seedlings, until they get started, it can be done.

It is important that as much time as possible be allowed to mature sturdy plants before cold weather stops their growth.

Perennials should be started in special seedbeds for several reasons. Since most will not bloom until next year, they are seldom moved to the garden until fall. In a seedbed they can be given the extra care which is required to obtain maximum germination and carry the seedling plants through the hazards of youth.

Select a position where the tiny plants will not be subject to the noon-day sun or to the drive of heavy rains. The north side of a fence or hedge is preferable to a location under trees where the drip from the trees in heavy rains may wash little plants out to give shade.

Even in summer a cold frame is the safest, with a lath cover to give shade.

The time which perennials take to germinate will depend upon variety, but the average takes longer than annuals. It will help to look up the germinating time of each variety you sow, and place the quick growers near each other, and the slower ones by themselves. Cover the seeds lightly with special porous soil and keep it moist until the sprouts appear.

A handy method of doing this is to cover the seedbed after sowing with burlap which has been soaked and wrung out. Then the bed may be watered through the burlap until germination starts without danger of washing the seeds out. When the first seeds start to break the soil the covering of burlap must be removed.

Now is the time to guard against heavy rains as one cloud-burst can destroy an entire seedbed. A tried scheme is to place window screens over the bed. The wire mesh breaks the force of driving rains but admits light until the seedlings are large enough to fend for themselves.

As soon as the plants are large enough to handle they may be transplanted from the seedbed to a nursery row, where they will have more room to grow until the time has come to set them in their allotted places in the garden border.

A Lath Screen Allows Enough Sun to Penetrate the Seed Bed but Breaks Its Full Force.

Finds Michigan Well Advertised

Michigan's 1955 vacation attractions are being advertised by the State Tourist Council in 24 leading national magazines and 36 newspapers located within Michigan's major tourist market, according to Robert J. Furlong, Council Executive Secretary.

The Council's 1954-55 advertising program calls for 349 advertisements, some in full color, to appear in these publications that reach a total of more than 50 million readers. Furlong explained that the actual readership is greater than the 50 million figure because most of the Tourist Council advertisements appear in more than one issue of the magazine or newspaper.

Magazines included in the Council advertising program are: Holiday, National Geographic, The Saturday Evening Post, Better Homes & Gardens, American, Ladies Home Journal, Redbook, Sports Illustrated, Grade Teacher, Instructor, True, Sports Afield, Field & Stream, Outdoor Life, The Fisherman, Fur-Fish & Game, Highway Traveler, Inside Michigan, Travel America, and Motor News. Among them are also special editions of True and Sports Afield.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

It is hard to believe that approximately 6,500 people die from drowning in our country each year. This number of deaths could be greatly reduced if everyone would learn to swim.

It is not likely you will become an expert swimmer by taking a few lessons. However, it will rid you of your fear of the water. This is half the battle. You will be able to relax and really enjoy swimming.

It is possible to stay afloat for long periods without performing a single conventional stroke if you don't panic. The "dog" paddle, or relaxing so that the water will support your weight could mean the difference between life and death.

A sudden cramp is a frightening thing, even to an expert swimmer if he is some distance from shore. If this happens, the best thing to do is try to massage the affected area while proceeding slowly to the shore.

There are three main ways to prevent muscle cramps while swimming. First avoid going into cold water too rapidly. Next—never go swimming right after you have eaten a meal; third—stay out of the water until you have cooled off after being overheated.

Never dive into water you are not familiar with. It may not be deep enough, or there may be a hidden log beneath the surface.

By all means, don't let this summer pass without learning to swim. You will add a great deal of pleasure to your life and will be enjoying one of the most perfect exercises known.

Poisonous Massasauga Rattlesnake Only Dangerous Snake in Michigan

Michigan has 17 kinds of snakes but only one is dangerous.

This one poisonous snake, a pit viper belonging to the rattlesnake family, is known as the massasauga. It is smaller than most rattlesnakes and its venom, compared with that of the diamond-back rattlesnakes of the west and south, is comparatively weak.

Campers can take comfort from the fact that there have been no known deaths due directly to the bite of the massasauga in Michigan. It is believed that any healthy adult will recover from the bite of this snake, but there is some doubt as to whether a really small child would recover without treatment.

In Michigan the massasauga lives in swampy areas but does spring from them into adjoining farm lands in the summer time. The young massasaugas are born alive and in broods they number from three to twelve with an average of about seven.

It is urged that adequate precautions be taken, even though the bite is rarely if ever fatal. A person can become very sick and the bite is to be avoided if possible. There is no getting around the fact that in many places of Michigan the massasauga is quite numerous.

Here's some special advice for campers and bathers in areas in which the massasauga is known to occur: 1) avoid walking around at night bare-footed; 2) never pick up a log or turn over a stone; 3) avoid putting your hands into dark places where snakes might lurk. Most bites occur on the limbs below the knee or below the elbow.

First aid kits are inexpensive and one or more should be at the disposal of every camper. These consist of a suction apparatus, a tourniquet, razor blades and antiseptic. A complete set of instructions accompanies each kit. Getting to a doctor immediately, however, is best.

Assuming that you have been bitten by the massasauga, how do you identify him? The massasauga will usually rattle as soon as he is aware of an intruder. One mark of identification is the presence of a pit between the eye and the nostril. You can further know him by his rattles, or if these have been lost through an accident, the tip of his tail will be very blunt. He also will have a vertical pupil.

The arrangement of tooth marks that remain on the flesh after the bite tells the story. If you have been bitten by a harmless snake, there will be rows of tiny punctures. If you have been bitten by a poisonous snake, there will be a pair of punctures much larger than any others that may appear.

If a doctor is not available, apply the suction cups and follow the kit instructions carefully.

First Federal Assets Pass $150 Million Mark

Assets of First Federal Savings of Detroit have just passed the $150 million mark, reports Walter Gehrke, president.

First Federal, organized in 1934 with assets of less than $100,000, has grown steadily and is now one of the largest savings associations in the United States.

First Federal savings accounts increased $8,870,567 during the six months ending June 30th. In all, the association now serves well over 100,000 people of whom 80,000 are savings customers, some 16,000 use the First Federal plan for financing of their homes; and additional thousands use other First Federal services.

First Federal is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, both permanent agencies of the United States Government.

How much do you pay yourself each month?

Here is a man who has a checking account and a savings account at the National Bank of Detroit. Each month he makes out a check, payable to himself, and mails it to the bank for deposit in his savings account. In effect, that's the salary he pays himself. And that's good planning.

For when he needs money for an emergency, a business opportunity, a down payment or a vacation, he'll have it.

You could have it too, with a plan like this. For one thing, depositing a check regularly in your savings account is so simple you're not likely to overlook it. And, with your checking account, you have a running control of your budget. You always know how fast your money is going out and how much is left.

Besides helping you to live by your budget and save, money in the bank can make life easier for you in still other ways. A checking account at National Bank of Detroit, for instance, enables you to pay your bills, safely, by mail. And your cancelled checks give you a legal receipt for every financial transaction.

Then too, the National Bank of Detroit can be important to you for other reasons. You have available complete banking and trust services to help you solve almost any money problem.

So if you do not already pay yourself a planned amount each month through regular deposits in a National Bank of Detroit savings account, stop in soon at your neighborhood National Bank and see how easy it is to put yourself on your own payroll. You and your family will be very glad you did.

Guardsmen Going To Camps Soon

A number of Plymouth young men will join the 12,000 Michigan National Guardsmen who soon embark for Camp Grayling and elsewhere for two weeks of intensive training in the field. The 46th Infantry Division, less tank units, will begin their outing on August 6 at Camp Grayling. Camp strength at the two-week session is estimated at 8,950 officers and men.

Three anti-aircraft artillery battalions and their supporting units, totaling some 830 troops, initiated their 1955 training on June 26 at Camp Haven, Wisconsin. The units returned home July 10.

Michigan Air National Guard units, with a total strength of 1,400 officers and airmen, will train at Alpena Air National Guard Base July 30 to August 13. Tank units of the Michigan National Guard will train August 7 to 21 at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Strength of these units is 600. During the same period, Company A, 878th Engineer Aviation Battalion, Romulus, consisting of 60 officers and men, will hold its two weeks of field training at Camp Williams, Camp Douglas, Wisconsin.

A campaign has been underway to achieve 100 per cent attendance at the National Guard Camps, it was announced by Major General George C. Moran, the adjutant general of Michigan. Letters have gone out to secretaries of Chambers of Commerce, executives and trade associations asking for cooperation in providing adequate military leave policies for their employees.

Last year, a total of 10,830 officers and men, or 96.28 per cent of assigned strength, attended field training sessions.

James Whipple Killed in Crash

James Whipple, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whipple, 51000 Seven Mile road, Northville, was killed in an airplane crash at Midway airport, Chicago, early Sunday morning.

Young Whipple, life-long resident of Northville and Michigan State University student, was returning from R.O.T.C. summer maneuvers in Texas when the plane crashed.

His parents are well known in Plymouth and Mr. Whipple has managed the Maybury Sanitarium Farms for many years.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Small game hunting regulations will be nearly the same this fall as they were last year.

The Conservation Commission, meeting at Higgins Lake last week, decided to keep last year's bag limits on ruffed grouse of five per day, 10 in possession and 25 for the season. Grouse are at a low point in their population cycle and the Commission discussed reducing the bag limit to three per day, six in possession and 15 for the season. The main reason advanced for keeping last year's regulations, despite the present scarcity of birds, is that there is no sound biological reason to reduce hunting opportunities. Hunters will have a tougher time filling their grouse bags this fall, but continued open hunting will have no ultimate effect on grouse numbers.

Game seasons will include: A pheasant season of the same length and bag limits as last year, except the entire lower peninsula will be open to hunting; last year, Emmet county was closed.

The same season and bag limits on snowshoe hares and rabbits as last year.

The same fox and gray squirrel regulations as last year.

A ruffed grouse season of the same length and bag limits as last year, except Bois Blanc Island, closed last season, will be open in the upper peninsula this year.

A continued closed season in the lower peninsula on prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse and somewhat reduced hunting in the upper peninsula. Hunters in the UP will be restricted to three of these birds per day, six in possession and 15 for the season. Last year, the bag limits were five, 10 and 25. Also, there is no open season this year in a portion of northeastern Chippewa county.

Regulations on most other species of small game remain the same as last year.

The Conservation Commission, meeting at Higgins Lake last week, approved plans for $800,000 in improvements to state parks during the coming fiscal year.

The state legislature set aside the money for parks work during its recent session and the Commission discussed and then accepted Conservation Department plans for its use.

Biggest outlay goes to Sterling state park near Monroe. An estimated $330,000 will be used to continue the long-range multi-million dollar development of the popular Lake Erie park.

Other outlay includes $92,800 to Yankee Springs recreation area, $30,000 to Holland state park, $28,000 to Hayes state park and $26,000 to Bay City state park. Holly recreation area will receive $26,000 in improvements, Ortonville recreation area $25,000 and Proud Lake and Waterloo recreation areas $20,000 each.

Island Lake recreation area will receive $14,000 in improvements, Sleeper state park $12,500, Lakeport state park $10,000, Wilson state park $8,000, Muskegon state park $7,500 and Wilderness state park $6,500. McLain, Dodge Four, Indian Lake, and Straits state parks and Highland recreation area each will receive $5,000 and Brimley state park $4,000. Fort Wilkins state park will receive $3,000 and Silver Lake state park $2,000.

The remainder of the money will be used for road improvements in various parks, land acquisition and other minor construction.

In keeping with its plans for increased land acquisition for public conservation use, the state Conservation Commission approved the purchase of 1240 acres of land for wildlife and forestry uses during its recent meeting.

Also, purchase of fishing sites on Bass Lake in Dickinson county, Round Lake in Delta county and Torch Lake in Antrim county were approved.

A delegation of 30 St. Joseph county residents requested approval of a proposed new state recreation area northwest of Sturgis during the recent Conservation Commission meeting.

The area suggested is 4000 acres of gently rolling hills and includes several small lakes connected by streams and marshes. Little of the land is presently used for agriculture.

The delegation suggested the name "Sherman Hills recreation area" and proposed that land be purchased from present owners as it becomes available. A similar request for the area was turned ed down in 1951 because of a lack of funds.

During the informal session, the commissioners individually expressed themselves in favor of the project, at the same time pointing out that no state funds are presently available either for purchase or development of the area. A telephone poll of commissioners, taken later, confirmed the informal stand.

A formal vote on the question is expected at the Commission's August meeting.

Public exhibitions of wild animals will have to conform to strict standards of housing and sanitation after January 1, 1957 if a public hearing sometime in the near future fails to show causes for changing new rules and regulations.

The Conservation Commission at its July meeting approved a long list of rules and regulations to govern how wild animals and birds will be obtained, housed and exhibited.

The new rules provide for public safety and adequate sanitation and housing for penned wildlife.

No date has been set for the hearing.

Families with children tend to have better diets than those without children, even though their average income is no higher and they have more mouths to feed.
