Set November Date For Annexation Vote

The ways and means committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors meeting in Detroit on Wednesday afternoon set Tuesday, November 1 as the tentative date for voting on two proposals concerning annexation of township property to the city of Plymouth.

The first proposal will be voted upon by all city and township residents. It calls for annexation of the complete township exclusive of the 85-acre Cassidy farm on Sheldon road.

The second proposal will be voted upon by residents of the city and Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy. It concerns annexation of the 85-acre Cassidy farm, 35 acres of which have been optioned to the Western Electric company for a proposed plant site.

Should voters approve both proposals, the township will become a part of the city of Plymouth. Should only the second proposal win, that would allow Cassidy to complete his negotiations with Western Electric and pave the way for the huge plant to move to Plymouth.

The election date must still be approved by the Board of Supervisors. They are almost certain to follow the recommendations of the sub-committee, however.

Accidents Kill One, Injure Many Others

A weekend of violent deaths and injuries in the Plymouth area went into the record books this week when fire and auto accidents took the lives of four and injured 10 others.

Three small children perished in a fire just north of Plymouth and Robert Bellanger, 27, of 14894 Northville road, died of injuries received in a collision 24 hours earlier.

Three other youths were hurt when a car struck a train on Starkweather avenue; a car was demolished on Joy road near Ann Arbor road, injuring one person; a Plymouth man received a broken neck in an accident Friday night on Wayne road and a five-year-old boy was struck Friday evening by a car on Starkweather avenue.

Not since last Labor Day have there been so many lives lost in such a brief span. During that weekend, two Plymouth area men were killed in auto accidents and a small girl and a young married woman were drowned.

Robert Bellanger was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General hospital following a collision on Ford road at Hix last Thursday night. Robert was a passenger in a car driven by Richard White, 17, of 14695 Bradner road.

Sheriff's deputies said that White was driving south on Hix road and admitted failing to heed a stop sign at Ford. A car being driven east on Ford by Vincent Laciak, 62, of 17160 Ryan, Detroit, struck the White car on the right rear side.

White suffered an injured right shoulder; Stanley Good, 17, of 15833 Maxwell, received an arm injury; and Daniel Taylor, 31, of 32105 Genesee, Wayne, received a possible back and head injuries. Mrs. Laciak, 52, suffered lacerations of the head.

Funeral services were held Monday from the Schrader Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Interment was in Riverside cemetery. Robert was born in White Earth, Minnesota on May 24, 1931 to Joseph and Grace Smith Bellanger. He was not married.

Surviving with the parents are the following brothers and sisters: Ruth Ann Bellanger of Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Earl, Gladys, Peter, Leonard, Doris, Gloria, Florence and Kenneth James Bellanger, all of Plymouth. Robert came to Plymouth a year and a half ago after being discharged from the service.

Pallbearers were Robert Brian, George Bevins, Bennie Bevins, Robert Hansen, Lawrence Murray and Adelbert Schmitz.

Three youths escaped serious injury at 2:25 a.m. Friday when their car struck a train at the Starkweather avenue C & O crossing. Witnesses said that the driver, Henry Elliot, 22138 Audette, Dearborn, was driving south at about 65 miles per hour when it hit the freight train. Although the train was going but 10 miles an hour, by the time it came to a stop, the automobile had damaged 15 train cars, police said.

Elliot and his two passengers, Lawrence Passage and Bennett Howerton, addresses unknown, were taken to Wayne County General hospital for observation and treatment. Elliot was issued a reckless driving ticket.

Township Has 5,194 People, City 8,114

Plymouth city has added 1,477 people to its population since 1950 and Plymouth township has added 249, according to figures released this week following a special census conducted in the two areas under the supervision of the secretary of state's office.

The city's official population is now 8,114 and in the township it is 5,194.

While the city seemed to be growing at a normal rate, the township's population has been surprisingly slow.

The 1,477 new city inhabitants (figured since the last official census was conducted in 1950) represented a growth of 22 per cent. There were 6,637 people in the city in 1950.

The township's 249 new citizens was but a five per cent gain. There were 4,945 people counted in the township five years ago. Home building in the township has been nearly double that of the city during recent years, which is one factor which led many to believe that township growth was much larger.

In 1953, the Regional Planning Commission estimated that there were 5,600 township inhabitants and 7,400 in the city. Their city estimate was perhaps very close at that time but the township estimate was over today's figure.

Seventeen workers were employed by the city to conduct the name and address census in the city and 13 were employed in the respective areas. All returns are being turned over to the secretary of state's office and will be declared official.

A petition signed by both city and township residents asked for the special census.

Agents Raid Still On Nankin Farm

A handful of United States Treasury agents yesterday, in an early morning raid, smashed a bootleg whiskey still that was set up and operating at 6007 Carlson, Nankin township, near Wayne and Ford roads.

Taken into custody was Ivan Vincent, 38, the owner and operator of the still located in a large chicken coop on his isolated farm. Vincent was reportedly a builder by day and a boot-legger at night. He had been running his still for about two months.

The special agents, attached to the alcohol and tobacco tax division in Detroit, laid in wait from about 5:30 Wednesday morning in the woods that surround the farm grounds.

Then at about 7:30 a.m. they served a search warrant to Vincent, who was sitting in his house in shorts. He surrendered meekly. The warrant had been issued by a federal judge on the grounds of the odor that surrounded the farm.

After they had taken samples as evidence, the agents destroyed a 275-gallon oil tank used as the still, which was operating at the time of the raid. In addition, the T-men smashed a 300 gallon trough condenser and 40 50-gallon barrels containing more than 1100 gallons of mash. Also discovered were 12 gallons of moonshine in a receiving vat.

City Prepares To Sell Bonds

City commissioners held a special meeting Monday night to approve several legal steps necessary in financing $175,000 worth of street improvements, including the Main street improvement project.

Resolutions were approved indicating that the city intends to sell bonds. At a later date, another resolution will ask for bids.

One of the resolutions approved Monday designates that $70,000 shall be borrowed for the city's share of the Main street project. These bonds will be designated 1955 motor vehicle highway fund bonds.

The other resolution, states that $105,000 in special assessment bonds will be sold, most of which is for the property owners' share of the Main street project. Others are for the Forest avenue alley, Arthur and Pearl street paving, Ross street curb and gutter, Liberty street paving and storm sewer and Holbrook avenue storm sewer.

Fellow male employees of Marvin Criger's at the National Bank of Detroit honored him last Thursday with a Stag party at Hillside Inn. Marvin was presented with a gift from the group.

THE CHARRED FRAMEWORK of the Loren Montgomery home stands as grim memorial to the three children who lost their lives in a blaze that gutted the house at 15651 Maxwell, north of Five Mile road, last Thursday night. A spectator (above) surveys the damage which was two-fold as the fire broke out a second time early Friday to nearly level the one-story frame building located in Northville township.

Tragic Northville Township Fire Claims Lives of Three Children

One of the most tragic fires ever to occur in this area took the lives of three small children last Thursday night as the youngsters were trapped in a blaze that practically leveled the home where they slept.

Dead are Calvert Montgomery, 5, and his two sisters, Rebecca, 4, and Connie, 8. They were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Montgomery, 15651 Maxwell, north of Five Mile, whose home was gutted by the flames.

The two younger children, Calvert and Rebecca, were pronounced dead on arrival at the Wayne County General hospital only moments after being pulled from the flames by passers-by. Connie, similarly rescued, died at 8:15 Friday morning, nearly eight hours after the mishap struck.

Charles Harrison, 29, of 42444 Hammill, happened by the scene as the flames were enveloping the one-story frame building. According to reports, he wrapped a blanket around his head and stumbled through the house to bring out both Connie and the boy.

Then the father, Loren, 31, rushed back into the inferno to quickly reappear at the bedroom window and hand out the youngest girl.

The 30-year-old mother of the children burst into hysterics when she saw the flames engulfing the home. She arrived on the

Order 3 Busses For School Fleet

Three new busses will be added to the Plymouth school fleet, according to action taken by the board of education of the Plymouth Township School district.

One bus will be taken out of service, leaving a total of 15 busses in operation.

One bus purchased last March from Forest Motor Sales at a price of $6,029 is not yet delivered. The two most recent purchases were from West Bros. Nash and Paul J. Wiedman, Inc. West Bros. will furnish an Onida body on an International chassis at a cost of $6,009. The Wiedman bid provided for an Onida body on a Ford chassis at a cost of $6,038. Both are 60 passenger vehicles.

Superintendent Russel Isbister said that more busses are needed due to an increased enrollment and because three new school districts were absorbed by the Plymouth district.

A new bus parking lot has also been provided. Busses have been moved from a field on Riverside drive to the junior high site along South Mill street. The school board has been renting the Riverside drive lot from James Henry for many years. A permanent place will be provided on the junior high site and a barn now on the property will be used for storage of bus needs. A turnaround will also be built.

Fellow male employees of Marvin Criger's at the National Bank of Detroit honored him last Thursday with a Stag party at Hillside Inn. Marvin was presented with a gift from the group.

scen shortly after the fire broke out after finishing her afternoon shift at Worden Specialty company, 14977 Northville road, where she works. The husband is also employed there on a day shift.

An autopsy performed on the three fire victims showed that they had all died by suffocation.

Neighbors and friends of the Montgomerys last weekend poured out contributions in an effort to aid the tragedy-stricken pair.

Mrs. John Pardon and Mrs. James Gronbeck, near-by neighbors of the couple, reported a total of $151 contributed since the disaster last Thursday night.

In addition Milton Miller, the Montgomery's milkman, and Elton McAllister, at whose service station the couple carried a gasoline bill, both have cancelled these two debts in order to further help the pair.

Connie had a reported 85 per cent burns on her body.

Montgomery prior to an investigation, was held by Wayne County sheriff's detectives as a police witness in the mishap. But he was released shortly.

The father arrived home that evening about 10 p.m. and the baby-sitter, who had cared for the children up to that time, left Montgomery fell asleep, with his three children sleeping in another part of the house.

About 11:50 the father awoke with the room filled by smoke and flames. According to his account of the tragedy, he rushed into the boy's room and moved the youngster to the girls' room, where he covered all three with a blanket and went for help.

Northville firemen, who were called to the scene about midnight, felt later that the blaze began from a cigarette left burning.

After the first flames were supposedly extinguished the firemen left, only to be recalled at six a.m. Friday with the home once again ablaze. The second fire demolished the house.

The Plymouth fire department's rescuer was rushed to the home in an attempt to revive the smallest girl. Their efforts proved unsuccessful. Plymouth township firemen also had a hand in the disaster. When the fire broke out for the second time, Plymouth township was asked to bring its water tank truck to provide an additional water supply.

Both parents were treated for shock at the Wayne County General hospital and released, at which time sheriff's detectives took the father into custody.

A lie detector test was slated for the father, who reportedly drank five bottles of beer that afternoon, violating probationary terms set down upon him earlier.

Funeral services for the three children were held last Monday at 2 p.m. at the Casterline Funeral Home in Northville. Burial was at the Rural Hill cemetery in Northville. The Reverend Peter F. Nieuwkoop officiated.

Besides the parents, the children are survived by the paternal and maternal grandparents.

Study Group Report Asks Annexation

Recommendations that Plymouth city and township consolidate and that officials of the two governments then resign in order to elect a new city commission were made by the Plymouth Community Study Committee, the 32-member group appointed last February by commissioners to study city expansion problems.

Sixteen city residents and a like number of township citizens were appointed by commissioners to serve on the committee of which Carl Caplin was chairman. They had been requested to make their recommendations by August 1.

Six recommendations were made to conclude the four-page report which has been sent to the city commission, township board and county board of supervisors. They are:

1. That the elected and appointed officials of Plymouth township and the city of Plymouth immediately adopt and follow, in a spirit of cooperation, a coordinated approach to problems of common interest. This could be implemented by means of consultation, exchange of views, and a sympathetic review of proposals. In this way, these officials will serve the long range best interests of the respective electorates in both areas.

2. That a Joint Area Planning Group sponsored by both city and township be established and charged with the responsibility of devising a plan for a consolidated municipal government for the geographical area now covered by the present Plymouth Township and city of Plymouth.

3. That a professional municipal planning consultant be selected by the Joint Area Planning Group and employed to perform the necessary detailed studies required and define a specific plan for the consolidated area in accordance with the direction of the Joint Planning Group.

4. That business, service, fraternal and other organizations provide in their programs for a maximum amount of discussion and exchange of information and opinion concerning consolidation and matters involved in municipal government for present city and township areas.

5. That the proposal for consolidation of the entire areas of the city of Plymouth and Plymouth township be submitted for vote of the respective electorates.

6. That upon acceptance of consolidation the present elected officials of the city of Plymouth and Plymouth township resign their positions and that a new city commission be elected from the entire community area (on the same basis as the entirely new city commission was elected upon the adoption of the present city charter.)

The Plymouth Community Study Committee's report was in direct opposition with the report filed by the Plymouth Township Study Committee in June. The township-appointed committee recommended that the township retain its form of government and that all petitions be withdrawn.

As a preface to their report, the Plymouth Community Study Committee stated that "Sometimes in the turmoil of this fast-moving world, progress takes place faster than we realize. People of good faith cling to their once adequate but now antiquated precepts. Without malice we express ourselves and conduct our lives in a manner that is for our own self interest. In doing so we may hurt others or we do not give proper consideration for the majority of our neighbors. Such has been the case in the problem which you asked us to study. Now, by discarding our self interests and thinking in terms of what is in the best interest for most of our neighbors in this community, we have arrived at some conclusions which we would like to submit at this time."

The report continued by pointing out that many people live in the township and have places of

Sentence Driver Of Death Car To Prison Term

A sentence of one to two years in prison has been given Earl "Joe" Donohue, 683 Kellogg, who entered a plea of guilty of negligent homicide in the deaths of two people.

The Plymouth youth appeared for sentencing before Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms last Friday. Judge Toms recommended that the sentence be one year depending upon his conduct. He is to be taken to Jackson state prison.

Donohue, 25, was the driver of one of two cars involved in a head-on collision January 29 on Ann Arbor road, west of Sheldon. Killed in the collision were Donohue's companion, Peter Queava of Plymouth, and the 11-year-old son of the other car's driver. Driving the other car was Clyde Cox, a Detroit police lieutenant who is still confined to the hospital and still enters periods of unconsciousness.

Five days of trial were held in circuit court last month. While the jury was deliberating, Donohue changed his plea to guilty. The probation department has been investigating the case since that time and made recommendations concerning sentence to the judge.

Also injured in the crash was Donohue himself and Mrs. Cox. It was charged that Donohue was driving at a high rate of speed.

Name National Bank Pay Agent for School Bond

The National Bank of Detroit has been appointed as paying agent for the $3,000,000 worth of bonds being issued by the Plymouth Township School district. It was announced this week.

A Chicago firm, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., purchased the bonds which will be dated August 1 and dated serially from April 1, 1956 to April 1, 1973 inclusive.

The funds will be used for building and site purposes.

WORK HAS BEGUN on outfitting the city's new rescue truck which was delivered to the fire department last week. Captain Charles Groth, left, is shown handing Fireman Paul Sanders the resuscitator equipment. It will take more than a week to complete the outfitting job. Much more equipment will be included in the large panel truck than in the rescue car which has been in service four years.

AT LEAST 60 Plymouth children like school well enough to go during the summer, an example of which is this typing class, one of two such classes, taught by Edgar Brown. In order to ease the heavy enrollment in typing that occurs during the regular school year the board of education voted to hold a typing class this summer. Taking a six weeks' course, the children meet every week day during classes that run from 8-10 a.m. or from 10-12 a.m. The youngsters are taking the class as a part of their regular high school college preparatory course of study. Pictured in the row at left from front to back are Dave Thrasher, Jacki Booth, Susan Campbell, Kathy Yakley and Dave Thrasher, while Mr. Brown advises as Larry Livingston (at right) types studiously. This is the final week of the class.

Post, Auxiliary to Attend State Legion Convention

Members of the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion and its Auxiliary will be among the 8,000 persons expected to participate in the 37th annual state Legion convention, held August 5-7 in Detroit.

Attending as delegates from the local post are Albert Holcombe, Harry Burselen and Robert Wilson. Alternates are William Langmaid, Harold Wilson and Dorothy Koi. Passage-Gayde post and auxiliary members will march as a unit of the 17th district during the Legion parade scheduled for Saturday, August 6.

Highlights of the convention will include the appearance of well-known national figures, election of the state Legion commander, adoption of resolutions and entertainment program.

Major General C. W. Christenberry of the Korean Foundation will be the keynote speaker when the convention officially gets underway Friday, August 5.

Others to attend are Governor G. Mennen Williams, Wilbur M. Brucker, secretary of the Army, and Americanism Vice-Chairman J. Addington Wagner, Michigan's candidate for 1955-56 national commander. State commander Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee will preside over all business sessions to be held in the Veterans Memorial building.

Candidates for the office of state commander are:

World War I vet and retired detective inspector of the Detroit Police department, Charles W. Snyder; World War II vet and insurance agent from Niles, Harold L. Willard; and Donald J. Smith, World War II Air Force veteran and farmer from St. Johns.

During the four day convention, more than 50 resolutions are scheduled to come up before the 2,020 delegates for an official expression of opinions, covering everything from federal government action regarding citizens trapped behind the Iron Curtain to the formation of a special Constitution research committee.

Featured this year during Legion activities will be the 40 et 8 Legionnaires and their colorful, French-style locomotives and box cars. Friday night will be highlighted with the "Festival of Rhythm" which includes the annual Legion sponsored drum and bugle corps contest at Keyworth stadium, Hamtramck. There the American Legion's Jackson Zouaves, internationally-known fancy stepping drill team, will make their annual appearance before convention members.

Tom Stremich and Jack Wingard will leave Saturday from Grosse Pointe on a five week "Chet Sampson" tour to California.

Mrs. Oliver Finton of Palmer avenue was called to Benton Harbor this week because of the death of her sister's husband, Dr. H. J. Burrell. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Ypsilanti.

Chamber Warns Of Con Game

A warning was issued this week to Plymouth businessmen and Plymouth area residents to be extremely careful of business dealings with itinerant salesmen and vendors representing little known firms and organizations.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Edward Hart warned against men, who prey upon trusting purchasers to accept their confidence game wares. Hart explained how many complaints have been registered with his office in the past few weeks dealing with just such situations.

He warned that before buying from a door-to-door salesman or even an unknown business store vendor the purchaser should check with the Chamber to see if the vendor is properly registered either there or at the city hall.

Hart used the example of the "fast-con" man who rushes into the store and explains to the nearest clerk that here is the fan the store proprietor, who is out of the store at the time, had ordered. After the unsuspecting clerk has paid out the price of the unwanted fan, and the "salesman" has fled, the store owner later learns that he is the victim of a "fast-con" game.

Should the clerk be hesitant in paying out the price of the fan in the proprietor's absence, the confidence man insists that this will be the last fan for some time that the store may purchase. The clerk then will go ahead and pay the price that seems absurdly lower than the worth of the fan, but in reality is much more than its actual value.

State Air National Guard Begins 15 Days of Training At Alpena Base

Nearly 1,000 men from the Detroit area and 350 from Battle Creek today are preparing for the move to Alpena which marks the beginning of 15 days of active duty for the Michigan Air National Guard's 127th Fighter Interceptor Wing.

An advance group arrived at the Alpena airport early this week to prepare the base for the main body of airmen and officers who must report for duty by 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Among the advance group are 13 cooks and bakers who will attend a special school on food preparations.

For the first time this year the Air Guard will use civilian transportation to move the 250 tons of supplies necessary for the training period. Fourteen big vans will carry the supplies which range from nuts and bolts to complete jet engines.

To avoid traffic jams over the weekend a convoy of trucks and trailers will leave Detroit Wayne Major Airport at 3:00 a.m. Saturday. Men not taking their own cars to Alpena will travel in 17 Greyhound buses.

Training for the pilots will begin early Saturday morning when T-33 Lockheed jet trainers from Detroit and Battle Creek will rendezvous over northern Michigan to form a "bombing force" attacking the Alpena airport.

Each Tactical Squadron has planned its own interception of this "mock" bomber force. This exercise will be one of several wherein each Air Guard Squadron plans and carries out its own mission. They will be directed to the "bombers" by ground radar.

The jets will fly at altitudes above 30,000 feet. Results of the intercept will be determined by gun camera film.

Colonel Budd Marks, 127th Wing Commander said the 15 days of training will cost about $300,000.

Some of the expenditures include $141,000 for pay, $98,000 for 70,000 gallons of jet fuel, $17,500 for 50,000 rounds of .50 caliber machine gun ammunition, $25,000 for food and $3,000 to have sheets and blankets cleaned and to provide "whites" for cooks and medics.

During the training pilots are expected to fly 30 hours each.

Although original plans were to check out fighter pilots in the Air Guard's new F-89 "Scorpions", these have been changed because the F-89s are grounded for modifications.

However, in a typical example of Air Guard cooperation 10 T-33s have been loaned to the Wing units of other states. Pilots will be given intensive training in instrument flying.

Another important phase of the training will include air-to-air gunnery by F-86 pilots who will fire at sleeve targets towed by T-33 over Lake Huron.

While pilots are learning more about their airplanes all phases of Air Force ground training will be conducted. Included in this will be basic training for 300 men who entered the Guard with no previous military training.

Power Line Break Sounds Own Alarm

Police went scurrying in every direction at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday when all the burglar alarms running into the police department from banks and business establishments went off at the same time.

Although police surmised that something was wrong with the entire alarm system, they took no chances and attempted to cover each building where the alarms originated.

It was then discovered that a high-voltage electric line had snapped on Harvey street, between Penniman and Ann Arbor trail, causing the alarms to sound. The wires fell to the ground without injury to passersby. Detroit Edison workmen began repairing the broken line immediately.

Giant Ford Rouge Plant Employs Residents of 167 State Communities

The giant Ford Motor company Rouge plant in Dearborn is the hub of a vast commuters' network.

The 57,000 men and women who work at the Rouge live in 167 different Michigan communities — some of them as far away as Iron Mountain, Calumet and Alpena.

Those living in the Upper Peninsula and in the far reaches of Lower Michigan don't commute regularly, of course. But the thousands of Ford employees who do travel daily between their homes and the Rouge live in 156 communities throughout southeastern Michigan.

Some of them travel out-sized distances to reach their jobs. Probably the champ among the long-distance commuters is Carl Johnson, a pipefitter who travels 168 miles daily from his home in Jonesville and back again. Jonesville is 84 miles southwest of Dearborn in Hillsdale county.

What's more, Johnson's transportation arrangement is unusual. He drives his new Thunderbird one day, his 1955 Lincoln the next.

Another long-distance driver commutes daily between Jackson and Detroit, a one-way distance of 72 miles. Four make the round trip every day from Flint, which is 59 miles distant; two make the circuit daily from Port Huron, 57 miles away; one drives round-trip every day from Lapeer, 55 miles distant, and still another commutes daily between the Rouge and Imlay City, 50 miles away.

Of the total number of Rouge employees, 37,970 live in Detroit and another 9,718 in Dearborn. An additional 8,400 live within a radius of about 30 miles.

Other communities, and the number of workers they provide for the Rouge plant, include:

Allen Park, 1,254; Ann Arbor, 94; Belleville, 268; Berkley, 132; Birmingham, 209; Farmington, 157; Flat Rock, 102; Garden City, 713; Hazel Park, 188; Inkster, 1,646; Melvindale, 620; Mt. Clemens, 75; Plymouth, 137; Romulus, 254; Royal Oak, 356; Wayne, 684; Wyandotte, 1,222; Ypsilanti, 191; Brighton, 23; Carleton, 59; Clawson, 44; East Detroit, 86; Grosse Ile, 53; Livonia, 514; Milan, 34; Milford, 50; Monroe, 48; Oak Park, 102; Pontiac, 69; St. Clair Shores, 60; and Trenton, 112.

Canada also contributes to the Rouge work force. Nineteen

Here's Six Tips On Beating Heat

1. Drink plenty of liquids. Don't rely on thirst as a guide for sometimes it lags behind the actual need.
 2. Increase salt intake slightly to replace salt lost in sweating.
 3. Relax. Muscular activity is a primary producer of heat.
 4. Use fans, but don't sleep with a fan aimed directly at your body.
 5. Keep your child's head moist with a wet handkerchief in very hot weather. The sweat-gland capacity of babies and small children is limited, therefore they are more vulnerable to heat exhaustion.
 6. Avoid too much exposure to the sun at one time; it can lead to sunstroke.
- Mothers would be saved worry and physicians unnecessary calls if clinical thermometers were redesigned to show "normal" temperature not as 98.6° but in its broad range of 97.2° to 99.5°.
- Humidity is much more exhausting than heat. Student volunteers performed heavy labor for six hours in dry air, at 122° F., but in humid air the same work quickly exhausted them if the mercury rose above 90°.
- Man's ability to withstand extreme heat is sometimes amazing. A kiln technician stated that occasionally he has weathered exposures to 500° F. A research-project volunteer stayed for 26 minutes in 240° heat. The authors point out that a club steak in an oven at 240° will be ready to eat in 26 minutes.

Injured in Stair Fall

Ira Snyder, 346 Irvin street, is reported "resting comfortably" in St. Joseph's hospital after falling down a long flight of steps last Friday morning.

The accident took place in the Schrader building, at 274 South Main street, where Snyder maintains a second floor office as area representative for the Kleenex company.

Although he received no broken bones, a previous back injury was reported aggravated and both legs are being kept in traction. He is expected to remain in the hospital for about a month.

Quality Water Supply in Michigan Being Used Rapidly Says Professor

Ninety tons of water went into the production of that three-pound roast you're having for dinner tonight, says a former University of Michigan professor who has a fund of informational tidbits on just plain water.

And it took a whopping one million, 800 thousand gallons of the stuff to build a World War II bomber, adds Professor-Emeritus Shirley W. Allen of the U-M's School of Natural Resources. He has written several books on the subject of conservation, including the water problem.

For Michigan's big paper and pulp industry it takes 50 thousand gallons of water to process just one ton of finished paper, he says. "Figures like these point up the severe, and increasing, demands on our water supply," he states, adding, however, that Michigan is pretty lucky as water supplies go because it has "a good supply of high quality water."

Rising demands for water don't come only from population increase, although that helps, he declares. He labels progress of technology, whereby new products create new waste which may taint the domestic water supply, and the tremendous development of recreation and resort facilities as continual drains on the water supply. Another summer-time demand is the increasing use of water for building cooling.

"This alone has raised the old standard of 100 gallons per day per capita in the municipal system to twice that in some instances," Professor Allen points out.

Michigan has three main water problems, says the professor, who is a member of the State Conservation Commission. The first concerns water quality and involves control of pollution and keeping the water soft enough for industrial and domestic use.

Professor Allen points out that the city of Ann Arbor takes 10 tons of salts from its water every day in a water-softening plant.

The second is finding a disposal for municipal and industrial wastes that will not pollute the underground and other sources of water, and the third problem he describes is the one of damage, including changing lake levels, beach erosion, ice damage and floods. The University has gone extensive work in its studies of beach erosion and other damage areas and the Civil Engineering Department has published a pamphlet on the subject, Professor Allen states.

He adds that although the Geologic Survey of Michigan is 117 years old, it wasn't until 1941 that a hydrogeologic division devoted to study of the state's water was established.

A bill now before the U.S. Senate urging renewal of the Federal Water Pollution Act, due to expire in 1956, is significant for its amendments suggested by Michigan witnesses to help protect state's rights, he concludes.

THE SON-IN-LAW of a Plymouth area resident was honored recently by the United States Air Force for his service while in the air over Korea. Captain David Carver (above) receives the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal from Major General Richard Grussendorf, Tenth Air Force commander, at the Tenth's headquarters at Selfridge air base. Watching the presentation of the medal is Carver's wife, Crystal, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Moshier, live at 48151 West Ann Arbor trail. Carver received the DFC for "skillful and tenacious application to the job at hand, despite the hazards of possible attack, darkness and heavy weather" as a radar observer on an F-4 jet fighter on an intercepting mission. The Air Medal was for 55 night missions in his ten months in Korea with the Air Force.

THE FIRST OF FOUR special awards, going to winners in the recent Hotpoint refrigerator sales contest held from April to July, went to Robert Gilles of Hubbs and Gilles electric. Gilles won a Dodge Royal Lancer for doing an outstanding job among this district's salesmen that handle the Hotpoint line. Pictured above Gilles shows off his prize to partner Al Hubbs. The presentation of the awards was made recently at a dealer meeting in Detroit.

★ Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary ★

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will sponsor a Pet Contest for Plymouth children under 15 years of age. Entries for the contest, consisting simply of a photo or snapshot of the child and his pet, may be sent to Pet Contest, in care of Mrs. William Norman, 1310 Hartsough, Plymouth, between August 1 and 15. The child's name and address must be written on the back of the entry. Pictures will not be returned. Judging the contest will be Dr. Willard Lickfeldt, veterinarian, and Fred J. Korte, Sr., president of the Wayne County 4-H Fair-board Association. Ribbons and trophies will be awarded to the "Best" dog, cat, horse, the most unusual pet, and to the owner most resembling his or her pet. Judging will be confined to submitted pictures only.

Well, I suppose it's only natural to "second-guess" the manager when the team starts slipping a little. It's been going on since baseball was born, and the guy who runs the team is almost always the target of the fans.

Bucky Harris, who accepts such things after more than a quarter of a century in the game, finds himself on the pan now that the Tigers, after a very fine start, have slowly but surely fallen back to fifth place in the pennant race.

Ol' Diz admits to a little second-guessing himself now and then, but upon more mature consideration I realize how foolish this is.

After all, it's easy to say what should be done when you're in the broadcasting booth or in the stands, but if you're wrong you can forget it and there's nobody to criticize you. If you happen to be right, then you can loudly proclaim it.

Paid for Knowledge
If I were such a hot-shot, I'd be in the dugout running the team instead of Bucky Harris. He's being paid a good salary for his knowledge, and the Tiger management is not in the habit of throwing its money away, so he must know more than Ol' Diz.

When Bucky's strategy turns out right, there are few to cheer. If something goes wrong, there are those to say he should have played the game differently. Yet who knows if he had played it differently if the game wouldn't have turned out the same anyway?

The question Bucky most frequently is asked why he apparently keeps his pitchers in so long. Why doesn't he take them out when they appear to be weakening? The answer:

"It's not always that easy to determine if they really are weakening. Sometimes there'll be several grounders—just out of reach of the infielders. A little to the left or the right and they would have been converted into putouts. Does that mean the pitcher is weakening?"

No Effective Reliever
Bucky maintains he has to string along with his starters as long as he can since he doesn't have an Ellis Kinder or a Hoyt Wilhelm to replace them.

"We don't have an effective relief pitcher, someone who can come in and put out the fire," Bucky declares. "Al Aber is the best of our relievers, but even with him you can't be sure if he'll be in form on any given day."

As for the Tigers being displaced from fourth, it isn't so much them slipping as Boston getting red hot and surging into the first division, displacing Detroit. At this writing, the Red Sox have taken something like 25 out of their last 30 games and given no indication of running out of gas.

We've been going along at a fair-to-middling pace but what hurts is our lack of depth when the regulars are injured, we're in trouble. Also, our fielding has faltered, notably in the infield. The Tigers lead the league in batting but are last in fielding.

Man, this Hickory and Horsehide game is rough.

It is very hard not to fool yourself about yourself.

Study Group Report Asks Annexation

business in the city, "never thinking when we travel from home to work and back to home that we cross an artificial and unnecessary political barrier twice each day."

Citizens of both the city and township, the report adds, share common churches, schools, an adult recreation and education program, membership in service clubs, women's clubs, Scouting, fraternal and veterans' organizations and benefit from the symphony orchestra and library.

"We are served by a common newspaper and banking institutions. We buy in shopping centers which serve residents of both the township and city."

These cohesive forces make up one group with common interests, common problems and common goals for our families and the community we have chosen, the report continues. "Certainly our experience shows the potential gain in extending the spirit of cooperation evidenced in our established organizations to a co-operative approach to our remaining common problems of municipal administration."

In the course of their study, the committee states that they found that the city commission-city manager form of government presently in use in the city is well suited to the needs of the city and could be readily adopted to an expanded area. Continued use of this type of government would save expense and error resulting from an untried form of government, the report added.

Police protection should be furnished at once for all areas, the committee recommends. "The benefits of this protection to persons and property in the present township and city are incalculable." The already highly efficient fire departments in the city and township should be retained, the report stated.

Consolidation would also mean that water could be furnished at once to heavily populated areas adjacent to the present system which would be extended as capital becomes available. "The existing plan and facilities could be used as a nucleus of further growth. The combined influence of the consolidated municipality could be used to speed the solution to the problems of long-range water supply through association with a Detroit Metropolitan Water System."

Concerning sewers, the report declared that the present critical needs for sanitary sewers in both the city and township can be met only by major sewer facility expansion. They should be provided without delay.

Garbage and rubbish service should be furnished at once in concentrated areas of the present township, the committee said.

It is also recommended that a land use plan be established to convert the already geographically integrated areas of Plymouth township and city. "Planning is the tested means of controlling building and land use to maintain order and balance in growth. This planning can maintain the balance of assessed valuations between business, industry and homes that is so important to our welfare. Highly desirable industry is interested in locating now, if we can settle our differences."

The controversial subject of finance and taxes was also touched on by the report. "Financial support for the consolidated municipality," the group decided, "would be provided by applying to the extent feasible, the principal that property owners should pay for what they get and get what they pay for. The combined financial strength of the present city and township can be made to serve the welfare of the entire community in municipal administration the same as it already serves the welfare of our schools."

Since liquor is not served in taverns inside the city limits, there has been some question as to the fate of these licenses should there be a consolidation.

The committee recommends that present liquor licenses be retained. "This would protect the interests of existing businesses having licenses in accordance with the principals of equity."

In making their conclusions, the study group states that information they used in their study should be made available to all people for discussion and reading individually and in service clubs and meetings. "We feel that, when informed, a majority of the electorate in both the city and township would reach the same conclusion we have — that consolidation must come eventually and the sooner we adopt a consolidated municipal government for the entire city and township area, the sooner we will start to receive the benefits consolidation can offer."

It had been expected that the large committee might offer both a majority and minority report. Approval of this report, however, was unanimous.

Energy Burns In Forest Fires

There's as much total energy released in 40 acres of burning brush as there is by exploding one medium A-bomb, according to Kenneth P. Davis, University of Michigan professor of forestry. And if this doesn't give an idea of a forest fire's destructiveness, Professor Davis cites figures which say that 10 million acres a year catch fire, with yearly dollar losses running in the 100's of millions.

He points out that the U.S. as a whole spends some 70 million a year for forest-fire fighting and prevention, but there are still about 100 thousand fires each year. And, he emphasizes that "93 per cent of all forest fires are man-caused."

Michigan's should be particularly alert to the hazards of forest fires since this state has on record some of the most numerous and destructive in the nation's history. Professor Davis says. In 1930 there was a high of almost 5,000 fires; in 1925 some 800 thousand acres were burned over and in 1911 more than 3 million dollars were burned up. The entire face of the Upper Peninsula has been changed by fire, he states.

"But thanks to Michigan's Department of Conservation, which is one of the best in the country, these staggering losses in land and money have virtually been brought under control," Professor Davis declares.

Firefighting now is largely mechanized; power plows and tractors are equipped with power spray nozzles, two-way radios and walkie-talkies, and one tractor does the work of 50 men; he says. Airplanes supplement watch towers. But, he adds, it is up to all individuals to protect the forest lands by careful observance of conservation laws, and the Smokey Bear campaign of the Association of State Foresters and the U.S. Forest Service attempts to alert people to the dangers of forest fire.

"A lot of the problem in Michigan, however, is not in the tall timber lands, but in the urban fringe, the semi-forest, semi-residential areas, where grass, brush and miscellaneous wood fires spring up through carelessness and are more harmful than forest fires," he declares.

He points out that the U.S. has followed Europe in all other fields of forestry, but in fire control "as a science and an art" the U.S. is the world's acknowledged leader.

Professor Davis is author, with Keith Arnold of the U.S. Forest Service, of a book on "Forest Fire Control and Use" which now is in the writing stage. When it is published, he declares, it will be a first in its field—a full-sized book on the general subject of forest fire.

THREE PLYMOUTH BOYS will play this Friday in an all-star baseball game at Briggs Stadium, while another local lad acts as team manager in the contest for the squad known as the Adrian All-Stars. The Adrian ball-club (pictured above) consists of stand-out performers from various class "D" baseball teams in this area of the state. The opponent is unknown as yet, but will be a second group of all-stars from the same class of competition. Pictured in the line-up are Plymouth players Bob Johnson (second from left, standing), Jack Carter (second from right, standing) and Bob Bruce (third

- Q—Do authorities give any sound reason for continually higher accidental highway death totals?
- A—Reason for continually higher highway deaths is the same as for continually higher death totals for all reasons... there are more people and more people driving cars. Actually the total death rate for all purposes per 1,000 is at lowest point in history. At the same time the American Automobile Association says the highway accident death rate is less than six persons for every 100 million miles driven—the lowest point ever recorded.
- Q—Does time spent as a cadet at the U. S. military academy at West Point, count in computing my entitlement for Korean G. I. bill training?
- A—No. Time spent at any U. S. service academy may not be included in figuring G. I. training entitlement.
- Q—Will the minimum wage increase to $1 as proposed affect farm wages?
- A—Yes. Actually primary impact of the proposed increase from 75c to $1.00 an hour will be felt in small businesses, rural industries and in agriculture. In industrial areas minimum wage is already generally above the $1 per hour figure. Increased labor costs will be passed on to the farmer by rural services and industries in additional cost for equipment, supplies, and services, including transportation and preparing for market and handling.
- Q—What happened to the provisions in the Mutual Security bill that agricultural products be shipped 50-50 in American ships?
- A—The provisions were stricken from the bill in the House by a vote of 181 to 51 on the claim that the provision would hinder sales of surplus farm products to countries who wished to use their own boats for shipping.
- Q—How was the recent vote of wheat farmers to accept acreage and marketing restrictions interpreted in Washington?
- A—For the most part it was interpreted to mean the wheat farmers were in favor of as high a parity support price as they could get.
- Q—Does the Congress have a school for its page boys?
- A—Yes. The school is located on the third floor of the Library of Congress and its principal is Mr. Henry L. DeKeyser. Subjects taught include business education, English, foreign languages, mathematics, sciences and social studies.
- Q—What are the qualifications prescribed for a President?
- A—He must be a natural-born citizen, at least 35 years old and for at least 14 years a resident of the United States.
- Q—Does the Library of Congress have a file of newspapers?
- A—Yes. The library receives 770 American newspapers and 870 foreign. Only 210 American newspapers are preserved in bindings or microfilm; 800 of the foreign papers are preserved. The Library also has about 20,000 periodicals.

Porch Reminder

Rain may look good to the farmer, but it won't benefit the wooden floor of a porch. Now is a good time to check that floor, to learn just what the rains and the seasons have done to it. If it's rotting, a good plan is to replace it with a durable material such as ceramic tile, which will not be damaged by rain and which comes in a number of frostproof types. A tiled porch can be cleaned by simply hosing off any dirt.

Plymouth Elks Running Second In "D" Baseball

A possible opportunity to overhaul the Western Wayne county class "D" league leaders was frittered away last week by the second-running Plymouth Elks baseball squad, who suffered a forfeit loss to first place A. S. Poole from Wayne.

The 7-4 forfeit defeat was pinned on the locals when they failed to field enough players at game time Tuesday, July 19. The shortage of players came as the result of confusion on the part of the team as to transportation to the game site, which was in Wayne.

The Elks, who prior to this most recent loss to the pace-setters, had been only one game out of first, but as a result of the defeat they fell two games off the lead.

Despite the forfeit loss last week the Elks regained some face when they turned back the Belleville Merchants, 7-2, Thursday, July 21. It was the local's fifth win as against two defeats.

League-leading A. S. Poole to date has a seven won and no loss record.

The Elks were rained out of an earlier game with the Poole ball club this season and the Plymouth squad will face the leaders once more later in the season. If the locals can whip the Poole team in the future game, then the rained out contest will be played off to determine first place.

But if the Wayne squad edges Plymouth, the rained out tilt will not be a deciding factor in the pennant race. A first place tie rests on the A. S. Poole nine losing two games in the next portion of the season while the Elks are winning all of theirs.

Calm and Dump Dimchuck - "He's one man who keeps his head when all around him are losing theirs."
Bungwit - "Yes, he's so dumb he has no idea what the excitement's all about."

Lock That Mailbox!

Put a padlock on your mailbox. That advice is given by a postal inspector seeking to help police and postal authorities with the job of stopping bad check artists.

A conference of Community Law Enforcement Officials at Michigan State University heard Donald Schoof of Detroit express the fear that the guaranteed annual wage benefit checks will be another burden on enforcement officers. Such checks, he said, will be taken from mailboxes as are the checks distributed now to veterans, old age survivors, and others.

A bishop was condemning the use of cosmetics by girls. "The more experience I have of lipstick," he declared warmly, "the more distasteful I find it."

Tells Rotarians of Past Job with Government

Edward Hart, new executive secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, spoke on his experiences with the Foreign Operations administration at a meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club Friday.

Hart worked with the administration in 1954-55 in the Daventry, Iowa area. Purpose of the project was to acquaint European businessmen and labor leaders with American free enterprise. His observations related what the Europeans thought of the United States after two years of visiting here and what he thought of the Europeans.

 Mr. Sterling Eaton
 Plymouth, Michigan
 Dear Sir:
 I wonder if you are aware of the new pipe line the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is planning to build to the west of Plymouth? The line is 30 inch, bringing gas from Louisiana, and will take a northerly course parallel to Napier rd. and about 1/2 mile to the west.
 The company is acting in a very high-handed manner. They insist on putting their pipe through the middle of fields where it will cause a maximum of damage and inconvenience, when they could just as well run it alongside a property line where the damage could be minimized. They have sent surveying parties through without asking the owner's permission, and surveyors even slashed through fields of ripe grain.
 If you would interview Frank Hess, Sam Spicer and Harold Underwood you might get material for a story.
 Yours sincerely,
 Leland C. Blood

Ford Motor Makes New Financial Grants

Ford Motor company today announced a new program of financial grants to selected technical institutions sponsoring industrial participation plans.
 In initiating the program, the company also announced the first contributions totaling $45,000 to four educational institutions. Recipients are Massachusetts Institute of Technology, $20,000; California Institute of Technology, $10,000; University of Toledo, $10,000; and the University of Michigan, $5,000.
 Andrew A. Kucher, director of the Scientific Laboratory and chairman of the company's technical advisory committee, said the objective of the new program supporting industrial participation programs is to "broaden the communication channels between industry and university personnel for the flow of pertinent scientific and engineering information."
 The liaison programs, Mr. Kucher added, help the institutions maintain qualified staffs, prepare engineers with an appreciation of industrial problems, and increase the distribution of data that may result in new processes, products and uses.

Hopkins - McClure Exchange Vows in Chelsea

The First Congregational church, Chelsea, was the scene of the impressive ceremony, Saturday, July 23, uniting Jean Kathryn McClure of Chelsea, and Frederic Wallace Hopkins of Plymouth.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McClure of Chelsea and the bridegroom's parents are the N. W. Hopkins of Lakeside drive, Plymouth.

The four-thirty o'clock service was read by the Reverend Thomas Toy before the altar which was adorned with palms, white gladioli and candelabra. Mrs. J. F. Hopkins, soloist, of Detroit, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Jean, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white taffeta and faille with a front panel of nylon tulle extending the length of the skirt. The scoop neckline was outlined in dainty lace and her veil of Venetian lace was purchased while the bride was traveling in Venice. Her bouquet was of white gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Barbara Arnold of Belleville was Jean's maid of honor. She wore a gown of maize taffeta with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt of unpressed pleats. She wore a matching petal hat. Nancy Atkinson, cousin of the bride, of Chelsea, was the bridesmaid. Her gown was fashioned like that of the maid of honor in a shade of light green. She, too, wore a matching petal hat. Both attendants carried bouquets of marguerites and ivy.

Assisting the bridegroom were John M. Hopkins, James Hopkins, Lawrence Thomas and Wallace Hopkins.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McClure chose a dress of powder blue sheer over taffeta and Mrs. Hopkins wore beige lace and chiffon over taffeta. Both mothers complimented their ensembles with corsages of mums and carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors. Present were relatives and friends from Chelsea, Plymouth, Detroit, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Both Jean and Frederic are graduates of Michigan State University. Jean is a member of Alpha Xi Delta and Frederic is affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi. They will make their home in Livonia.

July 26, Chuck Olson goes to University Hospital. He would probably like a card or a visit from someone.

If any member would like to buy a Size 16 Auxiliary uniform, please call President, Loretta Young.

During the recent fire tragedy in Northville Township of the Loren Montgomery family, one of our Auxiliary members Marilyn Wiltse had a chance to prove the value of her First Aid training course she took in connection with the V.F.W. She was able to give aid to the grief-stricken mother of the three children who died in the fire, and who was in a state of shock and hysteria. This should show the value of knowledge of First Aid training in a time of unexpected emergency. We are sure the family deeply appreciated any assistance at such a time.

A Senior Girl Scout flag was presented to our troop by our Auxiliary group during the past week.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" will include the following passage from the Biblical account of the guidance the children of Israel received in their flight from Egypt: "And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night: He took not away the pillar of fire by night, nor the pillar of cloud by day, nor before the people" (Exodus 13:21,22).
Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (454:18-24): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give opinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

Thousands Expected to Attend Aug. 4 Farm Tour Sponsored by M. S. U.

Speaker Charles Shuman and visits to three outstanding farms in Shiawassee county are expected to draw several thousand people to Michigan's State Farm Management tour on August 4.
The President of the American Farm Bureau federation will talk on "The Keys to Farm Prosperity." He is expected to outline his philosophy on price supports and other farm problems.
Shuman has had wide, practical farming experience and an extensive educational background (a master's degree from the University of Illinois). He will speak during a noon program at the park in Corunna.
Farmers attending the tour also will have a chance to pick up new ideas from the three farms to be visited. Purpose of the tour is to exchange ideas and to show and analyze the operations of successful farmers.
The first stop will be on the 240-acre farm of Russell Jenkinson near Corunna. The 25-cow herd gives its milk through some of the latest equipment, including a modern milking parlor and a pipeline milker. Other dairy men also will be interested in the arrangement that permits the milk cooler compressor to heat the milkhouse in winter.
The second stop, on the Joe Kalisek farm, also near Corunna, contrasts with that of the Jenkinson setup. Kalisek farms 320 acres and specializes in wheat and beans. He has built up a successful farm "from scratch" without livestock.
The last farm is an example of a successful small operation. With 110 tillable acres, Clarence Ruess and wife, near Owosso, produce more than enough feed for their 25 milk cows and 650 layers. Careful management and marketing have paid off for the young couple who bought the farm from his parents several years ago.
The tour will be preceded by a farm management banquet on the evening of August 3 at Owosso. Economists from several states will present the outlook for various farm commodities.

12 Wins in "A" Softball Loop Earn Pennant for Beglinger

Beglinger Oldsmobile, despite a 5-2 loss Monday to Cavalcade Inn in the season's final contest, still captured the top honors in the class "A" Open recreation softball league.

The Oldsmobiles compiled an overall record of 12 wins and two losses during the recently finished campaign and wound up high atop the league's ladder of standings. Second place went to Cavalcade Inn with an 8-6 card, while Evans products and the Box-Eagles tied for the cellar with four wins and ten losses.

In the season's wind-up action last Monday, along with Cavalcade's 5-2 win over Beglinger, the Box-Eagles nosed out Evans Products, 9-5.

Cavalcade's victory was credited to pitcher Wellman, who held the losers in close rein throughout the battle despite Bill Stout's early home run. Losing hurler was Gabby Street.

In the Box-Eagle conquest of Evans, Doolin was awarded the victory and Evans' Bob Stout was tagged with the loss.

Action in this loop last week found flag-winning Beglinger notching its twelfth win of the year, an easy 14-4 decision over cellar-dwelling Evans Products.

Mugs Hunt's two doubles and a home run smash, coupled with a walk, drove in five runs and paced the Beglinger attack at the plate. Choban's double and single was the best individual effort by a losing player. Street was the winner and Barlow the loser.

Second-running Cavalcade edged the Box-Eagles in a close 2-1 affair as the Innmen pushed across the winning run in the bottom of the sixth to notch the decision.

Wellman's single as lead-off man, a fielder's choice and Barnes' base hit earned the victory as Lowe won on the mound for Cavalcade and Kearney suffered the loss.

Beglinger Olds scored another victory last week as the Box-Eagles provided the Oldsmobiles with a 6-3 win. Five hit pitching by Beglinger's Gabby Street shackled the losers as Kearney lost his second decision of the week.

Street contributed a double and a single in his winning effort as Gow slammed out two singles and Egloff tripled to pace the attack. The Box-Eagles jumped off to a two-run 3-1 lead in the first frame, only to be turned back completely in the remaining innings by Street's fine twirling.

The only other game in the Open loop last week resulted in Cavalcade's 5-3 nod over Evans. Despite being out-hit five base-knocks to six by Evans, Cavalcade made its hits count to earn the victory. Cavalcade scored three runs in the sixth to gain control.

Winning hurler was Wellman, while Barlow was pinned with the defeat, his second of the week. Big gun for the winners was Barnes with a double, walk and single in three trips to the plate. Yeager's double for the losers was the only extra-base hit for Evans.

Final league standings in the class "A" Open loop are:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Beglinger Olds	12	2
Cavalcade	8	6
Evans	4	10
Box-Eagles	4	10

Play-offs in this league start tonight with all the games being played on the softball field behind the high school where the contests during the season were held.

First round pairings pit Cavalcade Inn against the Box-Eagles at 6:45 p.m. and Beglinger Olds against Evans at 8:30 p.m.

Top City Golfers To Participate In State Tourney

Added incentive was given the Plymouth City Golf Tournament this week with the announcement that the top five participants in both the women's and men's tourneys will be invited to play in the state recreation association tourneys.

According to Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver, the women's state tournament will be held in Lansing and the men's in Midland. Both will be played on September 10.

Plymouth's city tournaments are scheduled to end on Labor Day, September 5, with 18-hole finals. In announcing his plans to hold both a women's and men's tourney, Chris Burghardt of Hilltop Golf Club said pairings will be made following the qualifying round in championship, first and second (or more if necessary) flights. This way participants will be matched against players of equal skill.

Women must sign up for the tournament by Monday, August 1. Men have until August 15. Match play for women begins Tuesday, August 2, while men's play begins August 27. Entry forms are available at Hilltop Golf Club. An entry form also appears on this page and may be mailed to Hilltop Golf Club along with the necessary entry fee.

While it is the first time Plymouth has held a women's tournament, the men will be matching strokes for the crown now held by Ralph Lorenz. Former champions Tom Locke and Harper Stephens plus many other top golfers are expected to attempt to lift the title from Lorenz. Trophies in both men's and women's divisions will be donated by The Plymouth Mail. Other prizes will be given in all flights for par-shooters and 100-plus players.

Burghardt has promised to put Hilltop in good shape for the tournament and plans to give tournament play priority on the course.

CENTRAL PLAYGROUND was the scene last week of play-off action that decided the city's play area champions in such competition as Zellball, box hockey, checkers and others. Pictured above are two boys battling for top honors in their class in Zellball. Dennis Robertson (at left) from Starkweather decided Brian Gilles (right) from Central, who reaches high to hold off the ball as it wraps around the pole and earns Robertson the victory.

These children were chosen for the trip because of their outstanding citizenship and willingness to help in playground activities.

All week the youngsters were practicing and playing off games in the All-Playground tournament that was held at Central playground Friday, July 22. Among the Starkweather entries that attended the play-off tourney were: in the age 7 and 8 class playing checkers, Jack Robertson, Gary Glass, Valerie and Bonnie McMullen. Winners of the coloring contest were David White and Jim Jensen. The playground sent one winner to the all-playground play-off tourney at Central last week. Jimmy Marsh captured top honors in the city checker tourney in the seven and under class. "Cookie's Crumbs", the playground's softball team, has been readying itself for coming battles with the other playgrounds. The team is coached by John Small and Jack Carter.

Bird playground to date has 144 students registered with a goal of 200 set for the close of the season.

SMITH

Smith playground last week turned out a city champion at the big play-off tourney at Central. Larry Holland defeated all other champions and runners-up in the different games and other competitions.

The pet show held last week at Smith found Dale Coutts and Lorraine Moore emerging as winners.

GREEN MEADOWS

A coloring contest held last week at the Greenmeadow playground featured play for all the children aged eight years old and under. Sherry Burton, Tommy Yorch, Janice Alberts and Susan Davis were winners in the tourney.

Other winners were Shirley Kava, Helen Kava and Dennis Burton.

On July 22 the playground held a special party with the youngsters enjoying kool-aid and cookies, which were passed out to everyone that attended. Group games and singing also were featured.

Starting this week the playground will have its own newspaper. Elaine Mathews has been chosen as editor, Eddie Davis will be sports editor. The other divisions are to be appointed at the beginning of each week.

ALLEN

Last week at Allen playground was started off with play-offs for the city tournament held Friday at Central playground. A softball game in the afternoon and painting, arts and crafts capped the week's first day.

Tuesday of last week featured a volley ball game with the boys matched against the girls. Boys won. A trip to Kent Lake later in the day, which was made by 15 tots, was the big interest. Lunch, games and swimming were enjoyed and upon return to the playground the other children had kool-aid drinks waiting for the travelers.

"Bring a Friend" day was a successful venture last week Wednesday as everyone had fun meeting other children. Group games in the morning and tournaments, arts and crafts in the afternoon closed out the day.

A treasure hunt last Thursday gave the youngsters a chance to hunt out all sorts of treasure ranging from money to bubble gum. The boys later played the girls in a volley ball game and the boys emerged as winners.

A visit by Starkweather playground was the feature Friday, when the two groups gathered at the Allen area and participated in several games, including hot potato, cut the pie, and another game of volley ball. Then the sprinkler was turned on and the children had a splash party.

CENTRAL
Playground tournaments were the big feature at Central playground last week as the five other areas along with contestants from Central gathered to decide the champions in several games and competitions.

Central playground's baseball team won an easy contest over Smith as the home club wall-poled the visitors, 21-2. Winning pitcher was Pete Lomonaco while Larry Holland was tagged with the loss.

Sand-Lotters Lose

The Plymouth Merchants' sandlot baseball team suffered another loss in Tri-City league action last week. Hargraves Heating white-washed the locals, 7-0, in the last battle of the season in that loop.

MUGS HUNT crosses home plate on the last lap of his three run homer last Thursday evening against Evans products that pushed Beglinger Olds off to a 3-0 lead. Hunt went on to add a pair of doubles to his home run clout, while his team wound up a 14-4 victor over its opponent. Above Hunt is being congratulated on his blast by Don Likeweis, who follows the slugger in the batting order, while Beglinger hurler Gabby Street (at left) stands by. A dejected Evans catcher watches Hunt plant his foot firmly on home plate.

Daisy Captures Softball Flag In "B" League

As action in the oldtimer's class "B" recreation softball league came to a close Wednesday, July 20, Daisy Air Rifle added one final victory to its season card to preserve a first-running standing.

Daisy turned back Northville VFW, 7-2, as H. Williams shaped a fine three-hitter for the winning pitching performance. E. Spotts' home run in the fourth and his earlier single paced the winners.

A walk and a triple by Robinson was tops at the plate for the Northville club as Atchison was tagged with the loss.

The victory ran Daisy's flag-capturing standing to six wins and no losses, and placed the riflemen only one notch higher on the ladder of standings than the Independents, who also won their last game of the year. Independents have a 5-1 season card.

In victory the Independents literally went berserk, submerging the Beglinger Olds squad to the tune of 27-6. Sandmann's three circuit smashes and two additional singles in five trips drove in five runs. This was more than enough to earn Sandmann, pitcher for the Independents, a victory from the mound.

Heshey suffered the loss as his team mates provided him with 12 base hits. But these were completely overshadowed by the slugfest the Independents presented. The losers tallied four runs in the sixth for their high scoring mark in the contest.

Only other action in Oldtimer's "B" loop was a forfeit victory awarded to Wall Wire over Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, who failed to field enough players at game time. The win allowed Wall Wire to tie with BGR for possession of last place in the league. Both teams have one win and five losses.

Final league standings in the "B" Oldtimer's league are:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Daisy	6	0
Independents	5	1
Northville VFW	4	2
Plymouth Stamping	2	4
Beglinger Olds	2	4
Barnes-Gibson-Raymond	1	5
Wall Wire	1	5

Play-offs in the city season-end tourney started this week as the Independents battled Plymouth Stamping, BGR matched up with Wall Wire, Northville VFW squared off against Beglinger Olds, and Daisy met the winner of the Independents vs. Plymouth Stamping contest.

Grandale Sinks Merchants Deeper Into Second Division Via 2-0 Win

The Plymouth Merchants' sandlot baseball squad last Sunday was scuttled deeper into the league's second division as Grandale nipped the locals, 2-0, on the Northville ball diamond.

It was the Merchants' second loss as against five wins. Four battles remain on the schedule before the locals close out the current campaign.

In this most recent contest, neither Grandale nor the visiting Plymouth club could muster any resemblance to an attack at the plate. Both teams were able to notch only five safeties, including one double and four singles for each squad.

The battle resulted in a pitcher's duel midway through the second frame after Grandale had run up its two-run bulge and shelled the Merchants' starting pitcher, Joe Seidl, to cover.

Eddie Hock came on the scene in the second with the bases jammed and no outs facing him, to retire the side on a strike out and a ground ball, which was converted into a quick double play.

From this point both clubs literally stalled out and the game went the rest of the route with neither side threatening.

Grandale ran up its margin of victory with a run in the first and another in the second to provide its hurler, Conyer, with the win.

In the first frame after one out, Newingham drew a walk and Barton's double drove the base-runner home. This run alone was sufficient but the winners added some insurance in the second.

Zaza led off with a walk. Brown singled and Conyer walked to jam the sacks on Seidl. Then on a short single to left by Gabriel, Zaza came across with the second run. At this point Hock relieved Seidl on the mound for the Merchants.

He quickly squelched the fire by getting the next man on a strike out and forcing the following batter to hit into a double play thereby retiring the side.

Seidl was charged with the defeat, his first of the year, as he faced nine batters, retiring only three and allowing four walks, three hits and fanning none.

Hock, who relieved in the second and went the rest of the distance for the locals, allowed only two hits in completely shacking the opposing batsmen. He walked only one and fanned six.

Conyer, winning twirler for Grandale, walked four, allowed five hits and struck out seven on the road to victory.

Next Sunday is an open date for the Merchants, who originally were slated to battle Ypsilanti, but since Ypsi recently withdrew from the loop, no game is scheduled.

The following weekend the locals match up with Allen Park at the Plymouth diamond. Game time is 3:00 p.m.

Little Leaguers to Hold All Star Contest Friday

It's all-star baseball time here! Plymouth's recreation "little league" baseball players, who range in ages from nine to 13 years, will stage an all-star hardball contest this Friday, July 29, under the lights at the softball field behind the high school.

The youngsters have been playing baseball under the direction of John Sandmann every weekday afternoon during the summer as a portion of the local recreation program.

The players from the four teams that have been formed over the summer will send their best ball players to do battle at the softball field Friday evening. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Drawing Places 96 Teams In Softball Tournaments

At Plymouth high school last Friday evening 96 softball teams from the southeast district of Michigan were placed in respective play-off positions for the coming softball tournament which gets underway in two weeks.

All four of the teams from the Plymouth recreation "A" softball league are entered in various classes in the season's play-off. These teams are Evans products, Beglinger Olds, Cavalcade Inn and the Box-Eagles.

The drawing, at which 15 representatives from the Michigan Softball Association and the Michigan Recreation Association attended, was chairmaned by Plymouth Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver. The tourney will be a joint MSA-MRA affair.

The 96 teams involved in the huge drawing, which lasted until midnight, finally were shaped into four classes for the play-off. Nineteen of the teams fell into class "A", 26 in "B", 32 in "C" and 19 in class "D".

Plymouth has teams in all of the classes except class "D".

The first round pairings found Beglinger Olds drawing one of the byes in class "A", Evans products meeting Century of Lincoln Park in class "B", Cavalcade Inn battling Picard of Dearborn also in class "B" and the Box-Eagles playing Chelsea of the Manchester league in class "C".

The southeast district, known as the third district in recreation circles, covers the area of Lenawee, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties, plus the southwest half of Wayne county.

Due to some of the teams in that area not being registered with the Michigan Recreation Association, the tourney is being staged by both the MRA and the Michigan Softball Association so that all of the teams may participate.

Plymouth teams and their first and second round games are:

First round — Beglinger Olds drew a bye in class "A"; Cavalcade Inn plays Picard of Dearborn at Plymouth in class "B" at 7:00 p.m. Monday, August 8; Evans products plays Century of Lincoln Park at Dearborn, Monday, August 8, at 7:15 p.m. in class "B"; and the Box-Eagles play Chelsea of the Manchester league at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, August 9 at Plymouth.

Second round — Beglinger Olds plays Unistrut of Wayne at 8:45 p.m. Monday, August 8, at Plymouth; winner of Evans vs. Century plays winner of Fifth avenue Men's wear of Dearborn vs. John's Cafe of Lincoln Park at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 10 at Dearborn; winner of Cavalcade vs. Picard plays Diamond's men's wear of Monroe.

Outside Dances Slated For Area's Teen-Agers

As an additional portion of the Plymouth recreation summer program for teen-agers, a pair of weekly dances have been slated to be held on the recently resurfaced parking area behind the high school, it was announced this week by Louise Cigile of the recreation department.

The two dances are scheduled for Wednesday nights from 8:00 until 10:30 for college students and 10, 11 and 12 graders and for Thursday evenings from 7:30 until 9:30 for seventh, eighth and ninth graders.

The dances, at which music will be furnished via records, will be moved inside in case of rain. It is requested that girls wear skirts and the boys wear dress slacks. These dances, the last of which will be held August 15, will be a weekly affair as part of the recreation schedule.

NEWS FROM OUR NEARBY NEIGHBORS

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr.
GARfield 1-5847

Mr. and Mrs. James Bidding of 10004 Ingram and their 6 children, Carol, Peggy, Cathy, Patsy, Jimmie and Joanie have just returned from a trip to Florida. Much to the surprise of their parents, Jimmie and Joanie, the youngest children, were excellent travelers. Of course, the older girls enjoyed the trip as much as their parents. They stayed a few days at Sarasota with friends and then drove over to Miami Beach for 5 or 6 days. On the trip home, they spent a day or so at Gatlinburg, Tenn. in the Smoky Mountains. Sounds like a wonderful trip, doesn't it?

Mrs. Charles Hatton of 9841 Berwick took a plane on Friday morning to Nashville, Tenn. to attend the wedding of her brother, Nathan Morris. It was also the occasion of a family reunion because it was the first time all of Nadine's brothers and sisters have been home together since her wedding ten years ago. Nadine arrived back in Detroit on Sunday night and after taking Monday to gather their clothes together, she and Mr. Hatton left Tuesday for Hubbard Lake for a week of loafing, swimming, and fishing.

More vacation news. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Castle of 9924 Mayfield and their two children, Susan and Pete, have just returned from a week's trip to Niagara Falls. Dick had three weeks vacation but the first one he and Catherine spent painting the inside of their house, so they deserved the trip to the "Falls." Dick said he thought he would just loaf around home the third week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robinson of 11321 Brookfield have just returned from a cottage in the Upper Peninsula. Of course, they took their two boys with them, but I still haven't heard how the fishing was. Maybe Ray is going to be silent on that question.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doyle of 9912 Berwick arrived home from Quebec this week. Catherine, Ed, and their children, Peter and Tommy had a wonderful time visiting all the old places of interest and of course, they made a pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. They were very impressed with the picturesque villages in Quebec and would like to return again to see the things they might have missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rupp of 11029 Ingram are the proud parents of a baby boy born on Tuesday, July 13 in Royal Oak. The new arrival will be called Jeffery John and weighed in at 6 lbs. 6 oz.

A baby daughter was born on Saturday, July 10th to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritter of 11030 Ingram. This makes No. five in the Ritter family and the new baby will be called Terese.

In 1954, 907,000 families throughout the U.S. were given Red Cross financial, counseling, and other assistance through local chapter Home Service programs.

Hands First Loss To Davis & Lent

Davis and Lent, in class "E" baseball battling, suffered its first loss of the current campaign last week as Clarenceville school stopped the locals, 7-4, in a confusing battle.

The D & L team also racked up two more victories last week to add to its string of seven straight and now boasts a season card of nine wins and one loss.

But despite this near perfect record for the locals, they were forced down a notch in the league standings as Clarenceville, by virtue of its most recent decision over the Davis and Lenters, surged into a tie for possession of first place.

The 7-4 losing margin to Clarenceville was produced in the last inning, when the D & L catcher dropped a third strike on the final out and allowed a tying run to come across in the confusion of players leaving the field. Then a hit batsman loaded up the sacks once again, and a long triple broke the dead-lock giving Clarenceville the nod.

The two victories last week by the locals were easy decisions as the result of superlative pitching on the part of Davis and Lent hurlers.

Myron Hopper's no-hitter allowed the locals to coast to a 21-2 win over Boy's Republic on Redford. Then Bob Jenkins' one-hitter earned his squad a 19-2 edge over Sam Hat from Livonia.

Liked It
After she had thrown her arms around the shy young man and bouquet of flowers, he jumped up and grabbed his hat.

"Oh, don't go," she said, as he made for the door. "I didn't mean to offend you."

"Oh, I'm not offended," he replied, "I'm going for more flowers."

HEALTH and BEAUTY

We read and hear a great deal about the problems of a dry skin. The problems of an oily skin have been almost overlooked.

Both of these conditions stem from the activity of the sebaceous or oil glands of the skin. In one, dryness, there is undersecretion. In the other, oily, there is over-secretion. We read in the sales information of creams, lotions and oils that skin dryness leads to wrinkles. If this were true, the person with an oily skin would be very lucky. Unfortunately, wrinkles occur whether the skin is dry or oily.

Cosmetics cannot prevent or correct wrinkles. However, they can do a wonderful job in combatting dry skin. The application of a good emollient once or twice a day will control most dry skin. Controlling an oily skin is not so easy. The complicated construction of the sebaceous glands accounts for this. It makes no difference whether the cleansing agent is soap and water, cream or a skin lotion in about three hours the normal skin is as oily as it ever was.

Try to keep calm if you are troubled with an oily skin. Emotional outbursts and anger increase the flow of skin oils. Use a dry, powdered rouge and makeup bases only occasionally. There are several cosmetic lines made especially for oily skin. Shampoo your hair as often as needed to keep it attractive-looking.

"How on earth do you keep a maid so long?"
"Well, we move the furniture around so often that she feels it's a new place every week."

Automation May Bring Spiritual Uplift

Not very long ago I heard a man in the automobile business say: "In my lifetime there have been bigger changes in industry than took place in all of the years before that." Here in America, especially, our way of life has changed more within the memory of many of us than in all the generations before us.

ARE WE GOING TOO FAST?

This fast change scares a lot of thinking people. Some feel that they would have had fewer problems to face if they had been born a hundred years ago and they are probably right. Others say they would not want to be around a hundred years from now because "things are changing too fast."

Some of the union leaders — men you might expect would move fast themselves — also apparently are frightened. They admit that the high wages are developing a new threat to labor which may throw huge numbers out of work. This threat is Automation, and they say it may not only throw men out of their jobs, but there just may not be any jobs! Of course, I don't believe this. Rather, history shows, "the more machinery, the more jobs" — but very different jobs.

WHAT IS AUTOMATION?

Automation is a word that is being used a great deal nowadays. It means using electronic machines in place of men. Walter Reuther and others see this as a real danger to full employment. They seem to think that some day a manufacturer will need only to put his finger on a few buttons and push! If this were true, or close to it, then we all ought to be afraid because our way of life depends on most of us having jobs and working at them. If, however, the future is anything like the past, Automation could increase employment and raise the standard of living. There have been all kinds of developments in office machines in the last ten years, yet the number of office workers has risen from 5,100,000 to 8,100,000 during this same period.

Even new telephone exchanges, oil refineries, and electric generating plants, for example, now look like a preview of the automatic world of tomorrow. A visitor to a big generating plant sees some gigantic pipes, an array of dials, and only one man who seems to be in charge. There is even less to look at in a modern automatic telephone exchange. If you have a chance, look at one of the new "electronic brains" which can do as much computation in, say four minutes as a large force of men with pencil and paper could do in months. About all you will see will be a row of machines looking like so many juke boxes and flashing lights, and one or two well-dressed young women pushing buttons.

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE WORKERS?

As the change-over to automatic production spreads, it is certain that a lot of workers will have to move to other jobs. But there are more people employed now than there were ten years ago, with very much more machinery. It has been said by experts that, without automation, we soon would not have had enough workers to do our jobs, to introduce new products, and to achieve our present prosperity.

Even in industries and offices where the work has been made the most automatic, a good deal of human effort is still necessary. Supposedly, a factory could be erected in which every process from raw material to final product could be done by a few people who would only push buttons. Actually, of course, human brains have to work out the whole scheme, and human hands have to build the machines, set them going, tend, repair, and maintain them, and sometimes stop them!

HOW TO USE EXTRA TIME

I don't believe we are moving too fast. We are materially and spiritually better off in this country than are the backward nations which have never had such machines. No workers anywhere ever had better working conditions or higher pay than Americans are getting today. The machine has brought them prosperity and is bringing them more time and opportunity to "do-it-themselves" in their own homes, with their own families. Perhaps we can all use some of this time and opportunity to cultivate the spiritual values which we have been neglecting while we have been building up our material prosperity.

Please Pass the Salt

President Daniel F. Lynch, of the American Dental Association, was recently quoted in the Chicago Tribune as saying it isn't the toothpaste that keeps teeth from decaying.

In Dr. Lynch's opinion, it is the brushing of the teeth that keeps them from decaying, and he expressed the frank opinion that brushing the teeth with water would accomplish as much—toward preventing decay—as will brushing them with a toothpaste or a tooth powder.

This is an interesting observation from a leading dentist, one who is President of the American Dental Association, and it has to be given serious consideration. It is no secret those in the "know" have long realized that simple mixtures of salt and soda, or other ingredients, are often just as effective as toothpaste and powders in preventing decay.

The American public, however, buys millions of dollars worth of toothpaste and powders because their taste is pleasant in the mouth and because they like to believe what they read in advertisements about XYZ-965. In most cases, XYZ-965 doesn't have anything to do with tooth decay, and probably isn't any better than table salt.

Toothpastes and tooth powders are, then, luxuries. There is no reason to shy away from this fact, for the American people spend much of their money for luxuries and most of them will probably prefer to go on using toothpaste and powder, even though they can get the same results with salt or soda or both in combination.

In fact, one of the advantages of salt and soda is that one's wife cannot mash the toothpaste tube in the middle, which practice after so long a time inevitably aggravates the male animal to a stage of foaming at the mouth. This foam would probably be as effective as pastes and powders for brushing the teeth, now that we think about it.

The Good "New" Days

Sir Winston Churchill, until recently Prime Minister of Great Britain, has received general recognition as a student of history and a writer of repute.

Speaking to a university audience, the war leader of the British people said that "despite anxious, critical and even agonizing moments," modern civilization is "undoubtedly a higher form of society than ever prevailed in ancient worlds."

This is a conclusion which many people will dispute. In fact, the stock in trade of some human beings seems to involve the necessity of denouncing the present generation, with the implication that, for some strange reason, men and women have suddenly degraded themselves.

We have no sympathy with such a view. It is apparent, we think, from a study of various civilizations, including habits, customs and civilizations, that the world today is made up of a race of people, on the average, which is more intelligent, more healthy and more spiritual than any other generation of the so-called human race.

School Districts Ignore State Financial Aid

School bond money raised in desperation last spring may go virtually untapped for a year.

Voters approved a 100 million bond issue for the state to back up loans for hard-pressed school districts flooded with new students.

The idea was to finance everything a school district could not handle in the way of building projects above the 13-mill ceiling imposed by the constitutional amendment.

Then the districts would levy the 13 mills until the money was repaid over a 25-year span.

It was whisked through the legislature and onto the spring ballot. Legislators envisioned long lines of administrators using the money within weeks.

The first district, in Garden City, qualified for a $1,250,000 bond issue but its officials appeared disinclined to ask for a loan. Others are in the same position.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh said he doubted whether any state bonds would be needed for another year, though he admitted the important consideration was that the fund is available.

"It becomes increasingly clear that loans to school districts will be fewer than expected," he said.

Another bit of irony: The fund was designed to help districts mushrooming with higher populations. Kavanaugh pointed out that the more people, the more taxes can be collected at 13 mills.

"Some of the districts may find that they can finance their emergency building programs without state help," he said.

Legislators seeking answers to pressing problems of the state are fanning out into 32 summer investigations financed by $131,000.

The results will be ready for the 1956 session when many of the inquiries will give birth to bills.

Some of the investigative committees are old, like the group studying Michigan's draining and flood control, highways, higher education and debt management.

But others are tapping new fields for the first time, including juvenile delinquency, the plight of caring for mentally retarded persons.

The list includes a study of the retirement systems for public employees, the problem of migrant workers, school aid and teacher salaries and labor-management relations.

This year marks a sharp change in the "Little Hoover" commission, formerly known as the joint legislative committee on state government reorganization.

For the past five years, it has been a research and planning group, offering its reforms to the legislature with varying degrees of success.

With the research in 31 areas completed, and the bills drafted, the function is changing.

"We need a group to actively promote the proposals in the legislature," said Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman), chairman of the retiring group.

The legislature went along with the idea.

The new Little Hoover committee will stay with the findings and recommendations of its parent group, concentrating on putting them into state laws.

Major reforms never adopted but proposed and debated in sessions since 1950, include abolishing the auditor general's office and creating a legislative auditor, making the post of superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective.

"I feel the groups have made important contributions to the welfare of the state," Andrews said. "Now we should get as many as possible into effect."

Republicans have created a party promotional scheme to fight off Democratic inroads in the legislature.

A special five-member committee of Republican senators has been appointed to help out in 1956 campaigns in districts where Democratic nominees are threatening.

The committee was named in the face of fresh attempts by liberals to change the apportionment of legislative seats.

Under the present system, the Senate is elected according to areas of land and the House on a qualified basis of population. In theory, outstate Republicans will hold the Senate, the city Democrats the House.

Democrats have always maintained that the entire legislature should be apportioned on the basis of population, a situation that would give urban areas control. Republicans figure districts — areas plus people — is the fairest.

The Republican committee will work in marginal districts.

"We plan to get money to help from the Republican State Central Committee," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek.)

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

James M. McAlear, 72 Woodlawn Avenue, Needham, Massachusetts, says that two years ago worry had him well on the road toward a nervous breakdown. He was without doubt, he declares, the most apprehensive person and the biggest "worry wart" in the country.

What was he worrying about? The usual things that people worry about!

First his work was getting the best of him. He would go to the office prepared to do a good day's work and get things done efficiently. Then interruptions would start. Interruptions from the telephone, the unscheduled conference with the boss, the out-of-town customer, and so on and so on. The result would be nothing accomplished. At night he couldn't sleep. Then he began to doubt himself. Decisions that he had made in good faith, he would wonder if he shouldn't recall.

Financially he was secure. He hadn't over-extended himself but no sooner had he paid one bill when he would begin to worry whether he would be able to pay the next.

Finally he realized that the worst thing that could happen to him was to lose his health. So he began to worry about that!

Then he suddenly made the luckiest decision in his life. He first sought the advice of three people: his wife, his pastor and his doctor. In each case the recommendation was the same. "Live for today," and let tomorrow take care of itself. He decided to do just that and now he doesn't worry about his work. If he can't get it done today then there is always tomorrow. When he makes a decision it is made, and he knows he will make both good and bad ones, but he finds that the good decisions outnumber the bad ones.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"What technique or manner do you use to get rid of door-to-door salesmen?"

SALLY MORGAN, 659 Ann: "I'm not very good at answering this because I'm not home often enough, but probably I'd just say 'No thank you, I don't need any.' If you are firm enough the salesman will leave."

SALLY JOHNSON, 923 Penniman: "If I'm interested in the article they're selling, I let them in. Otherwise I just say 'No thank you.' You can't insult them or slam the door in their face. After all, they're trying to make a living, too, but there aren't really too many door-to-door salesmen in Plymouth."

Miss Morgan Miss Johnson Mrs. Malik Mrs. Arnold

MRS. CLEMENCE MALIK, 7395 Hix road: "I don't have much luck in getting rid of them, but although I may talk a long time with them I still don't buy anything. They are very bothersome to me, but I live out of town so there aren't many that come to our house."

MRS. DALE ARNOLD, 643 Burroughs: "If I need the article that they are selling I let them in. If not, I tell them 'No' and don't let them in. But I try to be nice to them."

Here's why

Record-Breaking Thousands Name Pontiac "America's Greatest Buy"!

It takes only one word to explain why today's Pontiac is the most popular Pontiac ever built. That word is VALUE.

Buyers from both ends of the price scale are finding that Pontiac provides just about everything any car at any price can offer. It's a matter of fact, not opinion, that Pontiac is the biggest, most powerful car anywhere near its modest price!

For size, Pontiac reaches high into the fine-car price range—and comes up with a long 122" or 124" wheelbase. This is size where it counts, because nothing beats wheelbase in providing solid comfort and stability on any road at any speed.

Pontiac's performance is strictly Pontiac's alone—and it stems from the most modern, most advanced V-8 in the industry! Its mighty 200-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* provides more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's modest price.

Another Pontiac extra value, so easily measured when you get behind the wheel, is the supreme ease of handling that keeps all its eager power and husky bigness under instant and almost effortless control.

And if you interpret value in terms of appearance—here again Pontiac's your kind of car. Its distinctive Twin-Streak beauty and Vogue Two-Toning will stay new and fresh for years!

And for the final value clincher—bear in mind that Pontiac prices fit easily into any new-car budget!

No wonder Pontiac sales are at an all-time high! Come in soon and drive this wonderful car. We're sure you, too, will join the big swing to Pontiac!

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

There's no question about how good Mrs. Peterson's favorite recipe is when you look at the rapt expression on three-year-old Karen's face. At right Steven, 4, is already underway with the "Citronfromage."

Petersens Vote "Citronfromage" Top Dessert

Of Danish descent herself, what could be more appropriate than to have Mrs. Andrew L. Petersen of 451 Irvin, select as her favorite recipe one which came from a Danish cookbook? Both she and her husband, whose parents also hail from Denmark, give "Citronfromage" top billing as far as desserts go, and find it equally popular with their youngsters, too. This delicious dish, otherwise known as lemon snow, is just right for these hot, summer days. We're sure you'll like it; refreshing, lemon-orange flavoring and creamy texture. Here's the procedure for making Mrs. Petersen's favorite dessert: "Citronfromage" (Lemon Snow) 3 eggs 1 cup of sugar 1 envelope of gelatin Juice of one lemon Juice of one orange 1/2 pint of whipping cream Beat egg yolks and sugar until lemon-colored. Soak gelatin in 1/2 cup of cold water, melt over hot water. Combine, add the juice and a scant teaspoon of grated orange and lemon rind. Let stand until it begins to thicken. Fold in the whipped cream and last the beaten egg whites. Set aside in a cold place.

Local Experts Lauded for Aid To Communities

One of the biggest assets of Michigan's small units of government is the "expert" who lives in the community and gives his time and energy to the community's development and planning.

Good words for local community leaders were voiced by two representatives of local government at Michigan State University's summer forum in state and local government.

"Small communities depend very much on the free advice of experts living in the community," said Mayor David Calhoun of Huntington Woods. In his town, the mayor said, a group of men are serving on one commission "whose combined salaries are probably $500,000 a year, but they serve the community for nothing, except their desire to help and improve it."

Agreeing that such service is "a wonderful thing" was James L. Gardner, president of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors. "It means a lot," he said, "to get for free a lot of high-class talent who can do future planning, prepare information and make suggestions."

In discussing Michigan's home rule act, Mayor Calhoun declared that "we have always felt very strongly that home rule is the way we would like to be governed. It is not up to the legislature in Lansing to tell us what to do internally."

Mayor Calhoun also objected to what he called "the legislature's attempt to set the hours for fire and police officials." Contending that this is a matter for the local community to decide, he said the setting of these working hours by the state would amount to "interference."

Scandinavia, Orient Influence Styling of New Furniture Items

A look at the new furniture styles is like a trip around the world. Store buyers of furniture viewed the latest furniture style trends at the markets in Chicago and Grand Rapids the latter part of June. Homemakers will have an eye-view of the new styles during Home Fashion Time, September 29 to October 8, according to authorities.

Particularly noticeable in all the new items is the emphasis placed on easy maintenance and more storage space. In modern furniture there is no limit to the designers' imagination. Notable is the trend to redesign the big modern group to fit into today's home. The new modern is smaller and lighter in scale.

The Scandinavian countries influence the design of many of the new furniture styles. Here the clean line and efficient styling of case pieces and upholstered pieces seem to be made for today's home. In one grouping by a well-known U.S. manufacturer we find the Danish influence with an American interpretation. Architectural symmetry is highlighted by the silken-smooth finish and the warm-glow of walnut. Tops of occasional tables are of black slate, treated for durability. The uses of cane on bed headboards and other pieces is a refreshing change. "Stack-on" units provide storage that is flexible and adaptable to your every need. Upholstered pieces consist of loose foam rubber cushions with removable covers on beautifully-styled walnut frames — comfortable, practical and lovely to look at.

tweed and metallic fabrics as well as the plain weaves. Any way you look at the new furniture it is styled with the emphasis on MORE — more style, more storage space, more comfort, more utility, and more for your home furnishings dollar.

Discusses Best Way to Package Frozen Foods

It is false economy to skimp on quality or quantity in packaging foods for freezing, says a Wayne County home agent. Many wrapping materials and containers have been developed since preservation by freezing became popular. Some of these are better than others for protecting foods.

Cold air is dry and will cause foods to dry out unless there is something to hold in the moisture. The wrapping material must be moisture-vapor-proof. An ideal material should also be odorless, tasteless, easy to handle, seal and label. The material used should be strong and durable. It should be designed to make the best use of storage space. Finally, it should permit rapid transfer of heat and not crack.

Select the wrapping materials or containers according to how they will be used. Materials satisfactory for dry packs are cellophane, plicofilm, aluminum foil, laminated papers and lined cartons. Those satisfactory for liquid packs are waxed paperboard tubs; glass jars, plastic, aluminum, and tin containers.

When using tin cans, use fruit enamel for highly-colored fruits, berries and beets. Use vegetable enamel to prevent discoloration in sulfur-bearing foods like corn. Do not confuse products frozen in tin with those canned in tin containers. Frozen products must be kept frozen.

New materials for wrapping and new packages for frozen foods are being developed constantly. Check your local suppliers to see what is available in your area.

For Quick Meal Serve Broiled Beef Patties

For a quick dinner, turn to these beef broilburgers. Simply place cooked peas and carrots in the broiler pan and insert the broiler rack topped with the beefburgers. They require a total of only 15 to 20 minutes cooking time, say home economists.

Broilburgers
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup rolled oats
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup grated onion
3/4 cup milk
6 slices bacon
6 cooked carrots
2 cups cooked peas

Combine beef, rolled oats, salt, pepper, onion and milk. Shape into 6 patties, wrapping each with slice of bacon. Place on broiler rack. Place cooked carrots and peas in broiler pan. Place broiler rack over vegetables and insert broiler pan allowing 2 inches between surface of meat and heat. Broil the patties on one side until they are brown, 8 to 10 minutes. Turn and brown on second side. Vegetables will heat while the patties are cooking. 4 to 6 servings.

Any Time Of Day Snack

Tall, icy glasses of refreshing fruit juice served with slices of buttered Apple Sauce Nutbread mean a delightful pause on a hot day. It's a combination of note to serve the morning neighbor drop-ins, afternoon family get-together or after a bridge game in the evening.

Keep several cans and bottles of fruit juice in the refrigerator — pineapple, grapefruit, orange, cranberry, apple, nectars or any of your with fruit sherbet.

Apple Sauce Nutbread
2 eggs
1/4 cup milk
1 can (8 oz.) apple sauce
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
3 cups biscuit mix
3/4 cup chopped nuts

Combine beaten eggs, milk, apple sauce, sugar and soda. Add biscuit mix and beat 1 minute. Stir in nuts. Put into a greased loaf pan; let stand 20 minutes before baking. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes, until done. Wrap or put in covered container and store overnight before using. Makes one loaf.

Dust and ashes can be kept from sticking to wastebaskets by washing the metal container thoroughly and applying a furniture wax.

Rhubarb is excellent for freezing. Pack it early in the season when color is best and stalks are not stringy. Pack it dry without sugar.

Retire Mattress If It Can't Pass This Check List

When should a mattress retire? Contrary to what a lot of people think, a mattress does not last a lifetime. In fact, the estimated life of a mattress in normal use is about ten years.

Here are some checking points suggested by experts. These testing points should indicate whether a mattress should be eligible for "retirement" and whether it's time for a new cotton innerspring mattress to go on duty.

Make the bump test. Run your hand over the surface of the mattress at eye-level. Is it absolutely flat or does it have depressions, hills and valleys?

Check the borders. Are the borders uneven or sagging? A broken border is a symptom of an ailing mattress. Also check for broken coils.

If a mattress can't pass these tests, then it should be considered past its prime and eligible for retirement. It's time to put on the job a new cotton innerspring mattress that can give the body proper support and the complete relaxation it needs to stay in peak operating condition. A piece of bedding which has lost its resiliency and its cradling support is actually a health hazard.

To give those broiled lamb chops a different flavor, try marinating them in a sauce made with 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup soy sauce and a 1/2 clove of garlic. Cover them and refrigerate about 6 hours before broiling.

Here's Way to Use Surplus Cake from Picnic

Was there a surplus of cake at the summer picnic? Your leftover angel food, sponge or pound cake will make delicious ice cream sandwiches for the porch supper on the following day. Between slices of toasted cake, place a serving of ice cream or a layer of brick ice cream.

About 4000 hotels and motor courts accept "guests with dogs."

Newest thing in Room with a View

It's the 4-Door Riviera— the stunning new hit of America's Hardtops

WHEN Buick introduced this nation's first hardtop—the Riviera—folks went for it in a big way, and fast.

They liked the Convertible look of this 2-door beauty—long, low and rakish. They liked the added security of the steel roof overhead. And they certainly liked the absence of center posts in the side window areas—which gave a completely unbroken view left and right.

People liked it all so well that, over the past six years, they made the Riviera the biggest-selling hardtop in the world, bar none. And it still is.

Now Buick has come up with another great advance in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—and it's a sensational hit.

It has everything the original 2-Door Riviera has—plus separate doors for rear-seat passengers, and a whale of a lot more room for them.

Rock-solid half-pillars on either side are what latch the front doors and hinge the rear ones. So there's no center post above the door line—and a completely open sweep of view to both sides.

And the roominess provided by this gorgeous new hardtop is really something—over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom in the rear.

Why don't you come see this brand-new kind of automobile that's heading up the parade of the hottest-selling line of Buicks in history?

That way you can also try what else is to be had here—Buick comfort, Buick power, Buick ride and handling and roadability—plus the electrifying action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Do it this week—tomorrow would be fine—and you'll see what record volume really means in the way of record-high trade-in deals.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

Now's the Time to Sow Pansies For Blooming Next Spring

While listed as annuals in the seed catalogues, pansies and their cousins the violas are really biennials. To get them in bloom early in the spring, whose cool weather they like best, sow them in mid-summer and keep them over the winter in a cold frame, or some other even simpler shelter.

The plants will hold their green leaves all winter and bloom in a cold frame as soon as the earliest spring flowers are out. If grown in the shade, with faded flowers removed promptly, they will bloom all summer.

It is easy to start a flat or two of these lovely flowers each year. Sow the seed by August 15 in soil prepared by mixing a third sharp sand, a third peat moss, and a third sifted soil. Cover the surface with a half-inch layer of sphagnum moss, and broadcast the seed in this, with a little moss to cover them. Keep moist until the seeds germinate.

The moss will prevent damping-off, a fungus-disease which is dangerous in hot weather. Let the plants grow out in the open until fall. Then if you have a cold frame put the flat in it and cover with leaves for the winter.

Lacking a cold frame, set the flat in a protected corner, and cover. It is better to transplant the seedlings, setting them seven to eight inches apart in additional flats, but if you sowed thinly, this can be skipped and the plants left to winter in the original flat.

When the garden soil has been prepared in the spring, move the plants to a portion of the border which is on the shady side of a building. They may not grow as fast at first as plants in full sun, but they will soon catch up, and the rest of the summer they will surprise you.

In hot weather, the flowers will not grow to giant size, and the plants will become "leggy" with long stems. If cut back severely, and given a dose of plant food, flowers will result. Aside from new growth and more abundant the novelty of pansies in the summer, attractive color effects may be obtained by planting named varieties of pansies.

Violas may be grown the same way. Their flowers grow almost as large as the pansies in the summer, and are more numerous. Dark blue, yellow and white flowers will make a bed or border which will cool you off in the hottest weather.

Hour-Long Film Slated For Library Program

Announcement of the children's film to be presented by the Dunning library for its Wednesday, August 3, program was made this week by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, head librarian.

To be shown is "And Now Miguel," based on the book which won the Newberry award last year as one of the outstanding stories for children. The reel runs slightly over an hour, Mrs. Pauline added.

The children's programs are held each Wednesday at the library. Starting time is 11 a.m.

Last year the American Red Cross awarded an average of one certificate every two minutes to persons completing Red Cross Home Nursing courses.

Last year three out of every five students enrolled in elementary and secondary schools were volunteer members of the Junior Red Cross.

PERFECT ANSWER to the economically-minded future house-owner is this small and modern home belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Almond Paul McAllister at 467 Roe street. Built on a lot about 55 feet by 110 feet in size the house is only 26' by 36', but includes within it three bedrooms, a bath, living room, kitchen and full basement with an additional bath. Some of the many modern features are Anderson easy-removable windows, a large 7' by 12' picture window and a raised roof that is only two inches thick yet supplies weather insulation, roof boards and ceilings for all the home's rooms. The outside of the house is finished in shaker shingles of a dark green color. Packaged blue-prints for several different homes furnished the basic floor plan for the McAllister's house, to which they added several of their own ideas and innovations. One of these is the use of vinyl tile on the floors in the bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Local contractors did most of the construction, although the couple themselves did the painting, electrical and finishing work. Started early last fall and only recently completed, the home and lot cost about $8,000 not including the price of the couple's own labor.

Record Year Seen for Air Conditioning; Two Systems Available to Home Owners

This year promises to set a new record in the installation of residential air conditioning. Two factors, working together, have set the stage for this sharp up-turn in activity. Housewives shopping in air conditioned stores and bread-winners working in air conditioned offices have begun to feel more keenly the discomfort of their own homes. Manufacturers have followed through with an all-out effort to develop practical, low-cost air conditioning systems for the home. Just a few years ago, residential air conditioning installations were nothing more than cut-down versions of commercial units. Today, however, units have been developed specifically for the home, conforming better to the limited space available, suited more to home needs and, what is most important, easier on the home pocketbook both in first cost and in operating cost. There are two main types of air conditioning systems which a home-owner may buy — the room cooler, for one or two rooms and the whole-house system. Most room units are mounted in a window and are popular wherever one room is to be cooled. But people who have learned to enjoy whole-house winter living since the stove gave way to the furnace do not want to go back to one-room living. As a consequence, the big trend is to combination heating and cooling forced air systems because they provide whole-house year-round air conditioning in a single system. In the combination heating and cooling forced air systems, the ducts that carry the heated air from the furnace into the rooms in the winter serve to carry the cooled and dehumidified air in the summer. Such year-round units may be installed all at once in a new or old home or some may be installed as heating systems first and cooling added later. Or, in some cases, existing systems may be converted to year-round air conditioning by the addition of cooling sections. If an air conditioning system is out of the question, the home-owner still has many ways to beat the heat to some extent. One of the most effective ways is to insulate and ventilate the attic. Large louvers in the gable ends and a good blanket of insulation over the ceiling will prevent heat accumulation in the attic and transmission of the heat to the living quarters. Attic fans to get rid of heat accumulation also are effective. They may be used to blow heated air out of the attic by pulling in outside air in a louver at one end and expelling the attic air out of a louver in the other end. Or, mounted in the ceiling between the living quarters and attic, air can be pulled up through the house, through the windows and doors, and into the attic, whence it is expelled through the louvers.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-350

DESIG C-350. This plan actually has a four bedroom capacity in three bedrooms. The folding door, which forms two bedrooms when closed, can be opened by day for play purposes. Both rooms have separate closets. Cost of plumbing installation is reduced by grouping the kitchen, bathroom and laundry pipes in one wall. The kitchen is exceptionally large and well lighted, with ample space for a dining table and well arranged equipment and cabinets. In addition, the plan shows two bedrooms, a living room, ample closets, an attached garage and full basement. Exterior finish includes wide siding, brick planter, wide eaves, picture windows and vertical siding. Floor area is 1194 sq. ft., excluding garage. For further information about DESIGN C-350, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Insulation Helps Cut Expense of Air-Conditioning

One economist has stated that this country could avoid a depression for the next 25 years by merely passing a law that every new home or apartment building or office building must be built with air conditioning. He reasons that the resulting increase in jobs, gross national income and spending power would provide impetus for a boom that would continue indefinitely. We doubt whether such a law is ever passed. But without it, air conditioning is still on its way to becoming as common as central heating.

Right now it costs considerably more to operate an air conditioning system than it does a central heating system. So all the advice about the advantages of insulation, storm windows or double glazing, weather stripping and protection from prevailing winds is even more pertinent for the air-conditioned home. There are lots of things you can do to an older house to make it more suitable for air conditioning. If you're building a new house, there are also many points to keep in mind regarding air conditioning, the most important being to provide for air conditioning now and save yourself a lot of money later on. Insulation is critical in the air-conditioned home, new or old. It can reduce your operating expense by as much as 40 per cent. Moreover, good insulation makes it possible to use smaller air conditioning units, cutting down on the initial investment. So you save two ways. It's important to have insulation in both the sidewalls and under the roof. The importance of sidewall insulation has resulted in increased use of insulating siding in combination with insulating sheathing for new homes. Combining the two materials provides highly effective yet economical insulation. Both insulating siding and insulating sheathing come in big, easy-to-handle panels. Insulating siding comes with a factory finish which is good for the life of the material. So the cost of painting is eliminated both as an original cost and as a maintenance expense. If you're planning to install air conditioning in a middle-aged home, insulating siding may be especially attractive to you since it can be installed over existing walls, providing in most cases all the additional insulation that is needed.

he has outgrown this stage, it's a simple matter to paint over the chalkboard and convert it into a sturdy wainscot. Flexibility is the unspoken name of another product — "Peg-Board" panels. These are excellent for toy storage. By simply moving hooks to new locations, you convert a perforated board to a hobby display, to a storage place for books, on bracket-supported shelves, and other uses. Lining the closet or wardrobe with "Peg-Board" is another way in which to keep the child's room flexible. Install also a vertical clothes tree with moveable, adjustable horizontal arms. They're a study in flexibility.

Build Flexible Room Designed To Grow As the Child Grows

In a child's room, flexibility is a primary matter, second only to comfort and convenience. As the child grows, so must the room's facilities be easily altered to meet changed requirements. The crib gives way to a youth bed, toy storage to wardrobe space, play blackboard to wall desk, toys and dolls to hobbies. Making the room conform to a child's growth and interest falls equally on each parent. Mother usually sees the need and Dad is the one to make the alterations. In a child's runabout stage is the time to provide accessible storage for toys. This is the time to train the child to put away his toys. Easy-to-operate sliding doors, made of splinter-free, smooth Masonite or tempered Presdwood will intrigue the youngster, give him something to operate and help in his training. In the "writing" stage, why not convert part of the wall into a chalkboard? This can be done by covering the existing lower wall with Presdwood, sealing it and applying chalkboard paint. When

Use Roller For Painting Woven Fence

A paint roller can be used effectively in decorating a handsome woven fence that the home handyman can build successfully in his yard. Of course, a brush may be used, too, but rolling goes a little faster for most of the job, reserving brush work for hard-to-reach places. Growing in popularity is the woven, or basket-weave fence made with pre-cut siding, available at lumber yards. Some posts, nails and paint are the principal items needed, in addition, for making a fence that looks well, has ventilating properties and affords privacy. Sketched for easy reading are four types of fences that appear in a free plan. The styles are a woven fence, "The Good Neighbor," "Double Header" and "Hanging Garden." To obtain a copy of free plan AE-309, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Now's the Time for Repair Projects Around the House

Summer is the time for major home repair and remodeling. The family handyman usually has more leisure for a lot of the work himself. Children are away at camp and the woman of the house is less involved in cooking and housekeeping. Summer — right now, that is — is really the only time in the year for serious home modernization. Critical areas which need repair in most homes include the bathroom, kitchen, the roof, exterior walls, the basement and attic. Here's what to look for: The bathroom. Crumbling paint or plaster needs immediate attention. The situation can only be permanently remedied with an installation of really waterproof material like ceramic tile which is colorfast and durable. The kitchen. If it hasn't been redone in the last generation, it is more than likely inconvenient and cheerless by modern standards. New automatic appliances

HERE'S HOW ...
MAKE A GARDEN ENTRANCE TRELLIS

A garden entrance trellis may be set in a fence line or over a pathway through a hedge row. Preservative-treated or decay-resistant wood should be used, especially for the upright 2 by 4's. Make three "ladders," as shown in the drawings. The two upright ladders are 9 feet long, with the 1 by 2-inch "rungs" spaced 12 inches apart, on centers. Fasten the rungs to the rails with No. 10 flat wood screws, 1 1/2 inches long. The top ladder is 5 feet long, with six rungs spaced evenly. Fasten the top to the uprights with screws 2 1/2 inches long. Use brass or other non-rusting screws. Set the trellis in place and mark the positions of the post holes. Dig the holes slightly deeper than 2 feet and place crushed stone in the bottoms to level the trellis. Tamp earth and crushed stone around the posts to set them firmly. If a gate is to be added to the trellis, use 10-foot posts, set 3 feet in the ground, preferably in concrete.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: I could never think well of man's intellectual or moral character, if he was habitually unfaithful to his appointments. — Nathaniel Emmons.

OUTDOOR NOTES from the Michigan Department of Conservation

State and U.S. Forest Service officials are investigating the forest fire that burned 500 acres of jackpine and popple forest four miles southwest of Luzerne last week.

The fire, burning in Huron national forest, crowned at several places and was the largest single blaze to hit Michigan in at least three years.

A Forest Service official at Mio said details of the blaze were being studied and that a statement would be issued only after the situation is summarized.

Six hunters' cabins and at least six other miscellaneous buildings were destroyed in the blaze, which burned along a front ranging from one-fourth to three-fourths of a mile in width and running about 1 1/2 miles long.

The burn was first detected Thursday afternoon and equipment from the U. S. Forest Service station at Mack Lake and from the Conservation Department was rushed to the scene. Rose City, Fairview, Mio, West Branch and Lupton sent city equipment and the Oscoda county road commission and the state Highway Department turned out. The fire was under control by 8 p.m.

Forestry in Michigan is growing in professional stature and in the future, "Registered Forester" will be a term applied by a five-man governor-appointed commission.

Act 78 of the Public Acts of 1955 establishes the commission to certify foresters for practice in Michigan.

Governor Williams has not as yet announced any appointments to the board. The five will receive staggered commissions and will serve regular terms of five years. The bill goes into effect in October.

A substantial increase in deer numbers was noted in a deer drive census held in Lake county recently.

Fifty-five boys and leaders from the annual Michigan United Conservation Clubs summer camp at Ludington state park drove a half square mile of typical deer country and counted 25 deer.

The same area was censused three times last year and the highest total was 19.

Conservation Department district game supervisor Phil Baumgras at Baldwin said the boys, ranging from 13 to 17 years in age, gave excellent cooperation in the drives.

One wolf was bountied from Gogebic county in June. Also, 60 coyotes and 45 bobcats were bountied during the month with a total of $1250 in bounty fees being paid to trappers and hunters.

The summary does not include bobcats bountied through county sheriffs' offices or fox bounty totals which have not yet been computed for the month.

Farmers and hunters will get together for an informal social meeting at Lapeer on August 28 to talk shop in advance of fall hunting seasons.

The hunters will include both sportsman club members and non-club hunters and farmers from throughout the Thumb area will be invited to attend.

A buffet style dinner will be served at the County Center building and Dan Reed, State

Farm Bureau official, will speak briefly.

"Michigan Conservation," the state Conservation Department's television show, will film highlights of the program for tele-cast on 12 Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Ontario stations some-time in September.

State fisheries workers planted 4200 young-of-the-year muskies in three lower peninsula lakes last week.

Conservation Department authorities said 1300 went into Budd Lake in Clare county, 1700 into Wildwood Lake in Oakland county and 1200 into Bass Lake in Montcalm county.

The fish, taken from a pond at Wolf Lake hatchery, averaged slightly less than six inches long. A shortage of proper-sized food fish forced state workers to plant out the young water timers earlier than originally planned.

This planting probably represents the majority of muskies to be freed this year; other ponds at the hatchery are not expected to produce many fish.

The three lakes were chosen after an extensive search for waters with proper conditions necessary to survival of the fish.

Anglers will want and can get free "Fish for More Fishermen," a 48-page Conservation Department publication fresh off the press.

The booklet sums up in a neat printed package highlights of work the Department is doing to provide a growing Michigan population with fishing now and for the future.

Included are sections on lake and stream improvement, research work and results to date, the public fishing site program, reasons for and use of laws and regulations and the background of today's basic fish management thinking.

Liberal illustrations, the booklet may be obtained free by dropping a card to the Department's publications and information section at Lansing, 26.
