

Merchants Add Monday Night Shopping to Store Hours

Plan Starts Sept. 12, Will Run Six Months

For the convenience of customers and to meet growing competition, most of Plymouth's merchants will keep their stores open Monday nights as well as the usual Friday nights, it was announced this week by the Retail Merchants committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The new night openings are to start Monday, September 12 and will continue for a six-month period, ending in March.

In addition, the announcement stated that store hours would be shorter during other days of the week. On Mondays and Fridays, hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The present opening hour is 9 a.m. and closing hour, except Fridays is 6 p.m. The extra hour will allow employees to work Monday evenings without working overtime.

Although the vote on the new hours and the Monday night openings was not unanimous, it is expected that most retailers will go along with the proposed changes.

A second night of store openings has been proposed to the Retail Merchants committee for many years. Up until now, it was felt that the need for an additional night was not needed.

Edward Hart, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the group is interested in promoting Plymouth as a shopping center and that Monday night openings will give more people an opportunity to shop here. Then, too, merchants feel that competition is getting a little stronger, Hart declared.

"The trend is toward more night openings," the Chamber secretary added. "With the area growing, merchants must get people in the habit of buying here."

Richard Papes, chairman of the Retail Merchants committee, asserted that the new hours are a result of three years of planning and work to give Plymouth another night of family shopping. He emphasized the "family shopping" opportunity as being important since men are going shopping with their wives more than ever before.

"Merchants would like to know what customers think of the new night of opening," Papes said. He urged people to give their opinions of the plan to store owners or clerks.

"I believe it will take a few Monday nights for people to catch on," Papes declared, "but I think it will turn into something big."

Propose Meeting On Sewer Plan

An attempt will be made tonight to "start the ball a-rolling" on the formation of an authority to construct a proposed $1,800,000 sewer which would effect Plymouth township and city and Canton township.

Attending a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. at the township hall will be members of the township board, the school board and the Canton township board. The township board sent a letter to the city commission late last week inviting them to attend but Mayor Russell D'Arcy said that a poll taken among commissioners Monday night showed that only a few of the seven would be able to attend.

The mayor has written the township supervisor asking that another date be set. Township officials said yesterday however, that the meeting will go on as scheduled.

Announcement was made last week of the 22-mile-long sewer proposal. It would serve the southern and western parts of the city and township and perhaps the northern section of Canton township.

The sewer's engineer, Herald Hamill, recommended that a sewer authority be established to administer the project.

Assaults Woman

A 26-year-old Plymouth township woman was criminally assaulted early last Thursday morning while her husband was at work.

Sheriff's detectives said that a man broke into the Haggerty road home sometime before 2 a.m. by crawling through a bedroom window. With lights out, the intruder told the woman that he had a knife and forced her to submit to his threats. She said it was too dark to obtain a description of the man.

The woman is expecting a child in a month, detectives said.

Collision Takes Life of Warren Road Resident

Joseph A. Soltys, 51-year-old lumber company foreman, was killed almost instantly when his car collided with two others on Ford road Sunday night. His home was at 38263 Warren road, Plymouth.

Funeral services were held at 8:30 a.m. today in Detroit and from St. Alphonsus church in Dearborn at 9 a.m. Interment was in St. Hedwig cemetery in Dearborn.

The collision took place at Ford and Schuman in Nankin township. Sheriff's officers said that Soltys was driving east on Ford. Paul H. Podt, 356 Lilley road, said that he saw the Soltys car coming on the wrong side of the road and with no headlights. The Soltys car first sideswiped a car driven by Hugh Cowser, 31471 Bridge, Garden City, and then skidded around and hit the Podt car.

Cowser was taken to the hospital and is recovering from multiple injuries. He was unable to give deputies a statement.

Soltys was killed instantly, sheriff's authorities said. Glenn McConnell, Jr., of 35150 Hazelwood, Wayne, said that Soltys had driven off the road a half mile before the scene of the accident and had offered him $5 to be pulled from the mud. McConnell told deputies that Soltys drove away without paying.

Surviving Mr. Soltys is his widow, Eva; two sons, Leonard and Jerome; two daughters, Mrs. Theresa Zielinski and Audrey Soltys; and three grandchildren.

Burning Motorcycle Gets Fast Service

A motorcycle driver attempting to beat out the flames engulfing his two-wheeled vehicle Friday night was given a welcome surprise when seconds later a Plymouth township fire truck arrived and extinguished the blaze.

Dick Davis, 409 West Ann Arbor trail, was so busy attempting to beat out the fire on Lilley road, just south of Ann Arbor road, that he didn't have time to call firemen. But Laurence Maas, a fireman who was working at a nearby service station at the time, and fireman Paul Albright, standing in front of the fire station, noticed the driver's plight and a fire truck was on the scene in a few seconds.

Davis, amazed at the fast service, thanked the firemen, started the motorcycle and it again burst into flame. It was then towed away.

Paving of Main Street Completed

Traffic moved down the completely paved Main street for the first time at 10 o'clock Monday morning, thus ending several months of slow-downs and detours on Plymouth's main artery.

The A & A Asphalt Paving company completed its final coat on the main portion of the street yesterday and was expected to soon finish all other minor jobs sometime during the day.

Work continued yesterday at the C & O railroad where a smooth crossing is being made. City officials are also making arrangements with the Wayne County Road commission to have lines painted on the street as soon as possible.

City commissioners must still make the decision whether parking should be allowed on any part of the street.

Appoint New Zoner

John Welsher, 654 South Sheldon, has been appointed by the Plymouth township board to fill a vacancy on the township zoning board.

Welsher was named to fill the unexpired term of F. E. "Jake" Hines who submitted his resignation last month.

The new board member is traffic manager at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant and has lived in the area a year.

HEADS OF their respective school boards look over records being turned over to the Plymouth Township school system at a meeting Monday night. From left are Glen Truesdell of Truesdell school; Carl Caplin of the Plymouth board; Mrs. Elmer Schultz of Cherry Hill school; and Joseph Schraufnagel of Canton Center school. The boards asked the Plymouth board to accept their district, after which citizens voted on the question.

Three Canton School Districts Officially Become Part of Plymouth's System

Three Canton township school districts officially became a part of the Plymouth Township School district Monday night when boards of education of the three districts turned over their assets and records to the local board.

The three neighboring districts, which found themselves just too small to financially offer their few students the education required in these modern times, each held elections at which voters decided to join the Plymouth district. Most of their high school students had been attending school here under a tuition set-up.

The three districts are Truesdell, Canton Center and Cherry Hill. Although the three school buildings will continue to operate under the new jurisdiction, the transfer eliminates the last one-room school district in Wayne county. Canton Center school, located on Canton Center road, has held that title for several years. The other two schools have but two rooms each.

On the board of education of the three schools as they turned over their records Monday night were Harry Balek, Joseph Schraufnagel and Mrs. Frederick Runge at Canton Center; Edna Harrison, Glen Truesdell, and Philip Dingeldey at Truesdell and Stanley West at Cherry Hill.

Monies received from each school were $624 from Truesdell, $1,750 from Cherry Hill and $3,773 general fund and $485 building and site fund from Canton Center.

A total of 198 pupils will be expected from the three areas this September. Ninety-six are from Truesdell, 40 from Canton Center and 62 from Cherry Hill.

Superintendent Russell Isbister said that seventh and eighth grade students from Canton Center and Truesdell will attend the junior high in Plymouth this year but no decision has yet been made about the Cherry Hill junior high youngsters.

One-Party Phone Rates Going Up

Plymouth residences having individual-line telephones will pay 25 cents a month more for the service due to an order by the Public Service Commission, according to Robert D. Maurer, local manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

There will be no rate changes for other classes of service, Maurer declared, except for exchange line mileage charges for both residence and business customers and a number of adjustments involving auxiliary services furnished business customers. In the latter category are such items as private switchboards, key telephone systems and inter-office communication systems.

It was pointed out that while the cost of providing these auxiliary services has risen substantially, there have been no rate increases affecting most of them for five years. Maurer added that the increase in residence individual-line rates recognized the greater value of this high-grade service and would help compensate for the additional investment involved in furnishing it.

"Telephone service," he said, "is no different than other services or commodities. People expect to pay the higher price for top-quality goods and services."

The company, however, indicated its disappointment because the commission did not allow the firm's original requests for rate increases. The commission has given "inadequate recognition to our increased costs and denies the company an adequate return on the money invested in the business."

It was pointed out that telephone rates are up only 29 per cent, on the average, since 1940, including the latest adjustment. During the same period, the prices of other goods and services have increased more than 90 per cent. "Our costs in the telephone business, like those in every other enterprise, have increased substantially," the company asserted.

"For example, our wage rates have more than doubled and each telephone we add today calls for an investment of about $350 compared with $200 to $250 before inflation."

The company statement added that less than half of the rate increase will remain with the company, the balance going to the federal government in taxes.

Car Again Hits Signal Abutment

The often-hit but never-moved railroad signal abutment in the middle of North Mill street underwent more abuse early Monday morning when it was struck by a car driven by a Northville motorist.

He is True E. Read, 35, of 602 Fairbanks, who is in Wayne County General hospital suffering a cerebral concussion and multiple lacerations of the head. He remains in a semi-conscious condition, police reported.

Read was driving north on Mill street and apparently saw the concrete abutment before he struck it as evidenced by 50 feet of skid marks. The accident occurred at 1:22 a.m. It was reported that he had just taken his wife to Cleveland. She returned home immediately by plane.

This is the second time that the abutments have been struck within a month. Several weeks ago, a Detroit youth drove his car into one of the abutments, injuring three. Most of the drivers who strike the abutment are intoxicated, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee declared.

Merchants Talk Of Stamp Co-op

A group of local merchants are considering the issuance of free trading stamps to their customers in the near future. The stamp will be confined to local participants only and every store in town will be invited to join the plan as soon as all of the details are completed.

The program calls for the formation of a non-profit organization composed of the participating merchants, printing of the stamps and books by the Eureka Printing Company of Scranton, Pennsylvania, major stamp producers of America, and a local certified public accountant handling all of the accounting and financial details of the plan.

For a more complete outline of the proposed program we refer you to our "Chips Off the Rock" column this week.

Supervisors Confirm November 1 Election

To Resume Polio Shots In September

There will be no Salk polio vaccine shots given to first and second grade children in the Plymouth Township School district until after school resumes in September, it was announced this week by Dr. Frederick E. Bentley, township health officer, and Dr. R. R. Barber, city health officer.

Children of the two grades were given their first shots late in April and were scheduled to receive their second shots a month later. All vaccinations in the nation were then halted because of the difficulty in vaccine manufacture.

Inoculations are now being given in Detroit and several other communities in the area with disappointing success. Only a fraction of the eligible boys and girls are showing up at the inoculation clinics, due probably to the heat and vacations.

For this reason, the local health officers have decided to administer the second shots soon after school starts in September. Included in the program are last year's first and second graders in the public and parochial schools and several Canton township school districts.

Meanwhile, the Plymouth area has remained fortunate in numbers of polio cases. No cases of the disease have been reported in the area so far this summer. Since only a fraction of the children have had a polio shot, the lack of cases cannot yet be attributed to the Salk vaccine.

Sponsors Bake Sale

The V.F.W. Auxiliary is sponsoring a bake sale on Saturday, August 13, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Kresge store on South Main street.

Board Takes but Few Minutes To Decide on Two Petitions

Supervisors of Wayne county voted their approval at a special meeting Tuesday noon of the November 1 election at which decisions will be made at the polls on annexation of the Roderick Cassidy farm to the city and the entire township to the city.

It took but a few minutes for the supervisors to grant their approval of the elections after the ways and means committee's endorsement of the petitions was read.

'Plymouth Day' At Fair Features Local Talent Acts

"Plymouth Day" festivities at the Wayne County 4-H Fair next Thursday will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will feature talent entirely from the Plymouth area.

The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in charge of arranging the Plymouth Day activities, said that plans for a parade during the day have been abandoned in favor of an evening program to which it will be possible for more people to attend. Location of the fairgrounds is Quirk road at the Expressway.

Playing of the National Anthem will open the program, followed by a welcome to the fair by officials.

Roy Rew, widely-known local magician, will be master of ceremonies and will introduce performers and will perform numerous tricks himself. Don Burleson, vice-president of the Chamber, and several city officials are expected to be introduced.

Six or seven amateur contestants will perform and two will be selected as winners.

The 4-H fair is growing in interest each year. Besides the competition among 4-H members there will be many midway attractions.

Although Supervisor Roy Lindsay of Plymouth township was among the supervisors present, no "nays" were heard when it came time to vote on the two proposals which were considered in one motion.

About three-fourths of the 97 county supervisors turned out for the special summer meeting which started Tuesday noon. It was the last meeting for the group in the old county building.

As was expected, the board of supervisors went along with the recommendation of the ways and means committee, which is the most powerful and largest of the board's committees. Reports from the county prosecutor's office were first read to the board concerning the petitions.

The report on the Cassidy petition pointed out that the ways and means committee had denied Cassidy's original petition because of technicalities. A supplemental petition was then filed which the prosecutor's office accepted and the ways and means committee approved.

In the petition filed for annexation of the entire township (16,116 square miles), the prosecutor's report told the board that an objection had been made concerning the legality of some of the names on the petition, but that law forbids the supervisors from "going beyond the face of the petition" to check for irregularities.

Detroit Councilwoman Mary V. Beck, chairman of the ways and means committee, then made a motion that the requests contained in the petitions be granted. It was approved with voiced "I" vote.

That ended at least part of the controversy which has been going on between the city and township since last spring. Township officials tried various means of holding up or killing the petitions altogether.

In two previous meetings of the ways and means committee, Supervisor Lindsay and Township Attorney Earl Demel pointed out reasons why the petitions should not be approved. As late as last week, the township reportedly took the petitions to a Livonia and Detroit law firm to seek an opinion on the legality of the petitions.

With the elections now set for Tuesday, November 1, a wave of publicity is expected to emerge from the city and township halls. Some citizens' groups are also expected to develop to promote one side of the issues or the other.

Township citizens will be able to vote only on the proposal to annex the township to the city and not on the Cassidy farm annexation. City citizens will be able to vote both on the township annexation and the Cassidy farm annexation. The Cassidys, as owners of the land under question, must also vote to allow their land to be annexed.

If the township residents turn down the annexation of the township to the city but the city voters approve, the township cannot be annexed. It will take the affirmative vote in both governmental areas to effect an annexation.

About 35 acres of the Cassidy farm on Sheldon road near the C & O railroad has been optioned to the Western Electric company for a proposed plant. Total acreage of the Cassidy property is 85.54 acres.

Mrs. Alice Sherman and Louis Sherman and daughter, Diane, were in Bowling Green, Ohio, Sunday, to visit Mrs. Sherman's brother, Reverend J. George Peters, who is ill and confined in the hospital there.

Stevens-Schwartz Ceremony Read Saturday in Ann Arbor

On Saturday, August 6, a ceremony held in the Zion Lutheran church of Ann Arbor, Miss Donna May Schwartz, daughter of Mrs. Elmer G. Schwartz, Eighth street, Ann Arbor and the late Mr. Schwartz, became the bride of James Harold Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Stevens of 998 Church street, Plymouth.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ronald E. Schwartz, wore a gown of rose-point lace and tulle over taffeta for the service which was read by the Reverend Ralph Piper, Sequin and lace appliqued flowers outlined the oval neckline of her gown, which featured a bouffant tulle skirt topped with a peplum, also appliqued. Her fingertip veil was held by a head-piece trimmed with sequins and pearls. A bouquet of white fuchsias, chrysanthemums and fleurs d'amour was carried by the bride.

Miss Donna B. Anderson of Manistee was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy M. Rice of Ann Arbor and Mrs. James W. Patt of Charlotte, Barbara and Mary Shadley of Pontiac, cousins of the bridegroom, were the junior bridesmaids. Assisting the bridegroom as best man was Charles E. Todd of Plymouth. Guests were seated by Grant H. Campbell of Pontiac and Hugh C. Stocum of Ann Arbor.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the nuptial ceremony.

For her 10-day wedding trip to Sun Valley, Idaho, the bride chose a beige cotton suit with matching accessories. Upon their return the couple will make their home at 9344 Silverside drive in South Lyon.

A rehearsal dinner, attended by 17 guests, was held Friday night at Hillside Inn on Plymouth road.

The bride graduated from Ann Arbor high school and Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and Pi Omega Pi honorary and is presently teaching at Wayne high school.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Plymouth high school and Michigan State Normal college, is employed at Harold E. Stevens Heating and Air Conditioning, 1150 Ann Arbor road, Plymouth. He is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

Bank Declares Dividend, Votes On 3 Mergers

National Bank of Detroit directors today declared a stock dividend of 11 1/2 per cent payable to shareholders of record November 4, 1955, subject to approval by shareholders and the Comptroller of the Currency. The regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, payable November 1, 1955, to shareholders of record October 7, was also declared.

Shareholders will vote on the stock dividend at a special meeting scheduled on September 18, and will also vote on the proposed merger previously announced of NBD with the Grosse Pointe Bank, the Rochester National Bank and The Utica National Bank.

The proposed mergers, when approved and ratified, will become effective on September 30, 1955, and will call for the issuance of 81,829 shares of National Bank stock. The stock dividend, which will be distributed on shares issued in connection with the mergers, as well as on the 2,250,000 shares presently outstanding, will call for the issuance of 268,161 shares and will bring the total number of outstanding shares to 2,600,000.

Charles T. Fisher, Jr., bank president, stated, "It is the intention of the board of directors, if conditions permit, to continue the present dividend rate, namely $2 per share per annum, on the increased number of shares to be outstanding."

Farmers make up half of Formosa's population. The average holding is three acres and favorable climate, irrigation and use of fertilizers allow two or three crops yearly.

If Plymouth wants to grow, there is one sure way: make jobs available for the people who would like to live here.

THIS GROUP of Hough play area children had no trouble beating the heat during the recent high temperatures last week as they enjoyed a cooling splash in the spray furnished by the playground's hose and sprinkler. Pictured leaping through the spray is Albin Jankowski, 7, while in the thick of it also are (from left) Sandy Schmidt, 4, Greg Jankowski, 3, Denise Schamanek, 4, and Marsha Bray, 6.

Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Safety of Salk Polio Vaccine

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.

This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.

Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

Animal tissue in tubes is inoculated with vaccine and let stand. If any live virus remains, it will multiply here, hence can be detected.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

It's all over and it didn't hurt a bit! Salk vaccine makes this little girl safer now from paralytic polio. And her parents feel better too!

FOR EVERY ROOM IN YOUR HOME

Thousands of proud owners are telling their friends why their Sprague & Carleton furniture looks so beautifully different from all other Maples. Here's what they say: "I like the selected quality of fine New England solid rock maple used in every piece. . . . I like the original S-C 'antique' finish with its distinctive color and rich lustre, resembling old Colonial Maple. . . . I like the authentic Early American styling of every occasional piece and every matched group." These are some of the reasons why S-C furniture is truly called "heirloom" Maple. Former Margery Hadley Continues Long 14-Year Record of Troop Entertaining

Perhaps one of the most ardent entertainers of servicemen that this nation ever had has been Mrs. Margery Williams, who is the former Margery Hadley, daughter of Mrs. Edyth Hadley, 638 Dodge.

The former Plymouthite has been on the entertainment circuit for 14 years and during two wars. Her trips have taken her to Japan four times alone!

Mrs. Williams was recently the subject of an article appearing in "The Fort Huachuca Scout" at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. It is at this post that her husband, Master Sergeant Clyde W. Williams, is now stationed. Since arriving at the camp from Japan, Mrs. Williams has produced a show, "On Maneuvers."

She is not only an experienced producer of soldier shows, but also a professional entertainer. After attending the University of Michigan, Mrs. Williams joined two of her friends to form a trio which entertained in night clubs and radio stations throughout the nation. Her specialty was singing and comedy, at which she excelled.

World War II broke up the trio and Mrs. Williams joined the Army YMCA staff. For a time she served as program director of Special Services at Fort Monroe, Virginia. It was here that she sang with Jerry Bressler's service band. Bressler is now band leader for Arthur Godfrey.

In 1943 she was with Special Services at Fort Meade, Maryland where one of the avid comedians was Herb Shriner, then in the service. She later joined the American Red Cross to go overseas. First, she was recreational director in a rest area near Brisbane, Australia. Here, she planned entertainment and activities for American men on leave.

In 1944, she went to New Guinea doing shows for men returned from jungle fighting. Succeeding years read like a fabulous travelogue. The Philippines, 1945; Japan; 1946; Panama, 1947; Japan, again, 1948.

Mrs. Williams joined Special Services in 1948 and it was then she returned to Japan once again. She went to Japan a third time in 1951 to assist Korean war refugees seeking clothing and shelter. While there she worked in the 24th Infantry Division Service club, singing and dancing for the troops.

After returning to the Philippines in August, 1951, and staying there until May, 1952, she returned to the United States where she was married at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Her fourth visit to Japan came in 1954 when she joined her husband there. She worked at the Yokohama Service club, the largest in the world.

One of the most interesting periods in her career, Mrs. Williams relates, is when she appeared in shows on destroyer escorts off Leyte in the Philippines. They had two shows a day, three days a week.

Early in 1945 she was invited aboard the battleship Missouri for dinner with Admiral Halsey but she couldn't attend because she had Red Cross duty.

The commander of the submarine Tuna once invited her to go along on a test dive, but Red Cross regulations would not permit it. She used the conning tower as a dressing room for her show, she recalls, and when she first boarded the sub, a small dog "screamed with fright" because it had never seen a woman.

Miss America offers a timely tip on where to go for help if the bombs start falling. Shown posting the civil defense sign in a downtown Nashville, Tenn., drug store is Lee Ann Meriwether, Miss America for 1955.

SIGNING UP for play in Plymouth's annual city golf tourney is Bob Minock with Don Steele (center) waits for the pad of entry blanks. Watching is Chris Burghardt, manager at Hilltop golf course, where the tournament will be held. Final date for entry in the competition is August 15. Opening round of qualification play is August 20.

A revision of plans for the annual Plymouth golf tournament was brought about last week when the women's division, newly added feature in the yearly event, was cancelled due to lack of sufficient entries to warrant play in this class.

As a result the tourney will come off as in years previous when only the men battled for top link's honors. The women's class had been incorporated into the contest just this year. Deadline for entries in this class was August 1, with the initial qualifying rounds set for Tuesday, August 2.

But Chris Burghardt, manager of Hilltop golf course, where the competition will take place, expressed hope that with further promotion next year and in following years the women's division will become a regular portion of the yearly affair.

With regard to the men's division, Burghardt explained that entries had "started slowly", but the big push occurred this week when the Plymouth business men's league attacked the nearly par 35 layout in force as usual Wednesday evening. These men will reportedly furnish many additional entries.

The men have until Monday, August 15, to submit entry forms for a position in the tourney. The first round of qualifying play is slated for August 20 with 18 holes scheduled then and 18 holes on each of the following days of match-play elimination. Dates for the regular competition in all flights are set for August 27 and 28, and September 3, 4 and 5.

Burghardt explained this week that he expects about 100 men battling for the traveling trophy, presently held by last year's champion, Ralph Lorenz. This figure is about the same number of entries that have turned out for the past several tourneys.

At least three flights of play will be shaped, and more perhaps depending on the final number of entrants participating.

HAROLD ENTERLINE watches Adeline Capon run the picture-printing machine, one of three each valued at about $2500. The crew of nine workers at the photo-finishing shop on Ann Arbor trail handle about 700 rolls of film on a good day.

THE FIRST OPERATION in handling the many rolls of film that the Enterline shop takes in is readying them for the negative developing machine. Here Jim Jack and Mrs. Enterline place each roll of film in its respective holder in preparation for the "souping."

AT THE END of the film dryer, Mrs. Enterline is pictured taking down the rolls of recently developed and now dry film rolls. The rolls are sent through the massive film developing machine and into the film dryer by means of a continuous track.

Ever wonder what happens to the snapshot you took of the family at that last week-end outing? Or to the pix of the baby at the beach? Or the one of the girl friend?

Well, it's a sort of behind-the-scenes story. Of course, this isn't really the best way for you to learn all the facts. But there's a fellow down at 600 West Ann Arbor trail who's right well up on the subject.

Harold Enterline, who runs his photo-finishing plant at that address, has been in the business of dealing with negatives and picture-printing for a good many years. In fact, he probably has the best low-down on the subject around this area.

He'll tell you how someone takes a snap of an object, then totes the exposed roll of film to the neighborhood drug store, drops it off with the druggist, and later stops by to pick up a booklet of glossy printed pictures all set for the scrap-book.

Enterline is naturally interested in these few steps, but actually he enters much more deeply into the story during the steps that occur from the time the negatives are dropped off at the drug store to the time when they are later picked up by the customer ready for the picture album.

A quick explanation of what goes on when Enterline takes over is this: The negatives are hauled down to Enterline's shop (in this instance), where they are placed in an identifying envelope and put in the small entryway to the shop's darkroom.

Then a person steps into the pitch black of the darkroom and unrolls the films, hangs them on racks and feeds them through the massive negative-developing machine.

The rolls of film are sent, by way of a continuous track, through a series of chemical-filled vats and are "souped" (developed) to bring up the photographed subjects.

As the developing machine finishes the chemical processing, the negatives are carried further ahead on racks through a drying machine that bakes the rolls dry. As the rolls of film reach the end of the drying line, they are taken down and matched to their respective envelopes.

All but a few of the roll films make the trip upstairs at the shop to be printed into actual glossy photographs. Some customers do their own picture printing and these rolls are sent back developed only. But the rest are carted up to the second floor for further processing.

Upstairs the crew of workers will print the negatives using a fast-operating photo-printing machine. Each negative is individually printed, with the machine's operator taking care to see that the proper contrast and exposure index is given each frame, as the individual negatives are called.

Following the printing of the pictures, the large roll of sensitized, and now exposed paper, on which the negatives have been printed, is fed through a paper developing machine. Here the photograph itself is produced. As the roll of finished pictures reaches the end of the developing machine, it is dried, carefully cut and booked up in small photo albums.

Finally, after the pictures have been sorted out to go to respective owners, the routemen taxi the finished product back along the way to the druggist, who in turn passes the album and developed negatives back to the customer.

Figures and statistics add more interest to the activity at Enterline's small photo-finishing shop. Enterline estimated that he serviced 120,000 rolls of film last year and nearly three-quarter of a million rolls since he opened his doors about 1945.

His volume of business includes the processing of approximately 700 rolls during a good day's work. His highest production of processing rolls of film was recently when a total of 1180 rolls went through in one day.

The maximum efficiency of the machines in the shop would allow 300 rolls an hour to be handled adequately. The printing department's peak, yet never reached, touches close to 1500 pictures an hour. But these high points are never approached simply for the lack of work to bring them about. In fact, the other machines involved would not be able to keep up to this tremendous output.

A visitor to the plant would be impressed by the huge cash outlay necessary to furnish a photo-finishing business. Enterline estimated the cost of providing the various machines involved in his shop at about $28,000.

This includes $7,500 for three paper printing machines, $8,000 for a paper processing mechanism, $3,500 for two dryer sets, $7,000 for the massive film developing machine and about $2,000 for enlarging and other darkroom equipment.

The total does not include the cost of paper and the other necessary materials to handle the processing of the negatives and their printing.

Once a value is placed on his business, Enterline insists that the visitor take a personal tour through his plant, starting with the entryway to the darkroom and carrying through to the final stage of cutting the dried glossy prints and booking them in snapshot photo albums.

Included are the darkroom, where the huge negative developing machine stands, and the drying rack that takes the souped rolls of film, dries them and allows someone to unhook them and send them upstairs.

A stock room is located on the first floor where all the needed materials are stored for quick access from the various processes. Then the printing room with its three paper printing machines is found on the second floor near the enlarging room. Nearby is the complicated paper-processing machine that, via a series of belts and rollers, carries the exposed roll of paper through a chemical process, develops the picture, dries the roll and finally cuts the roll into proper snapshot sized pictures.

A code number on the back of each print tells the workers which customer gets what print.

Enterline, 43, was a top-notch advertising photographer with Ford Motor company for numerous years before he set up his present personal business. He started as a youth with Ford's and learned most of his photography knowledge there. At one time, shortly before his retirement, he was second-in-command over the entire Ford Motor company photographic department.

In July of 1944, Enterline started his business in the basement of his home at 11850 Haggerty. He worked part-time on his own business, and remained in a full capacity with Ford Motor company.

At the outset of his photo-finishing career, Enterline counted four stores on his route. Presently his routes total 182 miles daily, that take at least two men to cover. From the original four stores on his route eleven years ago, the volume of business has increased so that he now boasts 52 pick-up points.

His 182-mile daily routes reach out as far as Howell, Pontiac and Detroit.

Shortly after he got his business underway, Enterline, a soft-spoken and efficient photo-finisher, retired from Ford's, moved into his present location and devoted full-time to the new work. He has been there since 1945.

Further figures on the job of handling films and printing pictures are found in the fact that Enterline has worn out three complete sets of equipment over the past decade. He uses nearly three-quarter million feet of printing paper each year in order to fill all the orders that swarm into his shop.

Who's taking all these pictures, anyway?

First Unclassified NIKE Installation Tour Will be Held in Rouge Park Next Week for Press, Other Guests Named Local Dealer

One of the newest NIKE anti-aircraft guided missile sites in the area and also the closest to Plymouth will get an inspection next week by representatives of the radio, television and public officials.

Although there are several NIKE stations in the Detroit area, the site at Joy road and Spinoza drive in Rouge Park is the nearest to Plymouth. This will be the first visit to an active NIKE site authorized for this area.

Press, radio and television representatives will visit the location Wednesday while a group of civic and business leaders are scheduled for the following day.

Following the briefing and inspection, the guests will have lunch in the battery mess on the site. Army regulations require that each guest pay for his meal — 60 cents to be exact.

Guests will arrive at the mess hall at 9 a.m. and Colonel Lee J. Davis, commander of the anti-aircraft defenses of Detroit, will give introductory remarks. Briefing will then be held by Lieutenant Colonel Joseph C. Baer of the 504th Missile Battalion, and Captain Edward Pautenis, of Battery A, 504th Battalion.

Following questions and answers, tours will be organized and a bus will take the guests to the launcher and control areas. In the administrative area they will see a brief motion picture on NIKE and travel through barracks, day rooms, the post exchange and the kitchen.

Finally, there will be a trip to the launcher area, a visit to the ready room, the missile assembly building, fueling area and the actual launching structures and boxes.

Returning to the administrative area, the noon meal will be served.

Invitations to attend the first unclassified visit to a NIKE site have gone out to the governor, the two U. S. senators, several U. S. representatives, state senators, mayors of most surrounding communities and also Cleveland, Cincinnati and Windsor, many city managers, police and fire officials, union officials, boards of commerce, churchmen, corporation presidents and numerous Army officers.

Announcement was made this week that the firm of D. Galin and Son, 849 Penniman avenue, has been named exclusive dealer in the Plymouth area for Telefunken high fidelity radios.

Telefunken Electronic Laboratories, manufacturers of radios and radio equipment, is located in West Germany.

Who's New in Plymouth

TRYING TO STRIKE up a conversation with the family parakeet, "Tweetie," is three-year-old Jack Shepard while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. 17th District Democrat Set Annual Family Picnic for Sunday, August 21

Free pony rides for the kiddies, courtesy of John F. Ivory, will be a new feature of the Annual Family Picnic and Corn Roast of the 17th District Democrats, to be held this year on August 21, in the Spring Brook Area of the Middle Rouge Parkway. A one dollar donation entitles one to free food and all the fun. Helen Niininen, 12251 Patton, tells us this heat wave has been very good for the corn which will be at the peak of perfection that day. The kibbise and sauerkraut which have become quite popular will also be served, as well as the perennial favorite, the hot dog. Lorraine Davis, 18088 Appoline, has a schedule of games which includes candy kiss and penny scrambles for the little ones, balloon, hoop, peanut and potato races for the older children, and for the adults, a slipper kick, a 75-yard dash, and as a grand finale, the egg toss. Even an unlucky change in the weather will not spoil the fun, for in case of rain, the festivities will be held in Local 163 Hall, at 22635 Plymouth road.

Ora J. Nichols to Wed Kingsford Serviceman

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Nichols of 605 Kellogg street announce the engagement of their daughter, Ora Jean, to Alfred A. Her fiancé is stationed at Webb Air Force base in Big Spring, Texas. No definite wedding date has been set.

The people of this country are able to govern themselves despite the belief of so-called experts that somebody must save the people from themselves.

Miss Ora J. Nichols

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Chairman Gertrude Danol wishes to remind the Post and Auxiliary of the picnic trip to our National Home at Eaton Rapids on Sunday, August 21. Everyone is invited. Girls, don't forget your canned goods. Bring them to the next meetin so that we can take them up to the home on that Sunday. Call Gertrude Danol to arrange for transportation to the home! This is our opportunity to see just how our home is run and to visit the many boys and girls who make their homes there with the aid of our support!

Please pick up your pictures of the installation ceremonies from our Auxiliary president, Loretta Young. The copies you ordered are available from her!

Since so much of the success of our Auxiliary hinges on membership, Chairman Helen Bowring would like to enlist the help of every member and not just depend on her efforts alone. The our Auxiliary hinges on membership, greater our membership, the greater the service our organization can render; the reater the membership, the lighter the burden on the few to accomplish worthwhile results. We have barely scratched the surface of eligible prospects; for every eligible man there is an average of three eligible women. We must set an increased goal and work to attain it by taking in a certain number of members at each meeting. But we need the support of each and every member. So, how about it, girls!

We urge everyone to keep saving all rummage for our annual fall Rummage sale, date of which will be announced later. Eleanor Gust is chairman of the event.

We remind you once more of the Bake sale to be held this Saturday, August 13, at the Kresge store. The event is sponsored by the Civil Defense and Adult Education joint committees!

A NEIGHBORHOOD ANNUAL SUMMER SHOW, in its third year presentation, was enacted recently by a group of children for parents and other guests at 11830 Alois street. Thirty-two people attended the stage play, which was followed by dancing and refreshments for the guests. A total of $11.35 was taken in proceeds with $2.50 of this amount being handed over to the local Red Cross unit for worthy cause. Pictured above in the midst of their presentation are (from left) Lynn Keil, Nancy Ritzler, Katherine Keil, Mary Degenhardt, Victoria Emrick, Ellen Smith, Alice Bellinger, Charleen Smith and Connie Ritzler. Absent from the picture but included in the act was Judy Hirschlieb.

Name Residents to State Legion Committees

Three members of the Passage-Gayde unit of the American Legion were named to committee posts during the 37th annual state convention of the American Legion held in Detroit over the past weekend.

Serving as permanent chairman of the resolutions committee during the four-day convention which started Thursday, was Robert Wilson of the local post while Plymouthite Dorothy Koi was named permanent secretary of the Americanism committee. Harry Burleson served on the public relations committee.

Approximately 15 members of the Plymouth post and its auxiliary attended the event and participated in the annual convention parade witnessed by 50,000 spectators in downtown Detroit Saturday afternoon.

Climaxing the end of the annual meeting was the election Sunday afternoon for 1955-56, Donald J. Smith of St. Johns, a World War II veteran of the Army Air corps. Smith won the election by a unanimous vote after the withdrawal of the other two candidates, Charles W. Snyder of Detroit and Harold L. Willard of Edwardsburg.

Delegates to the Legion's auxiliary convention, meeting at the same time, chose Mrs. John E. Starkey, 18095 Fairport, Detroit, as their president to lead approximately 30,000 members. During the four-day event Paul Burnham of Northville was installed as the new commander of the 17th district, with which the Plymouth post is affiliated. Lansing was chosen as the site for the 1956 state convention to be held on August 2-5, 1956. It will be the first time that a veterans' group will use the new veterans' memorial building in that city and the first time that the Legion has met in Lansing for a state convention since 1935.

 Bible passages will include the admonition of Christ Jesus with regard to man's sustenance: "And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Luke 12:29-31.)
 Also emphasizing the importance of looking to Soul, God, rather than to mammon for happiness, a correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (60:29-31): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."

'Temporary Job' With Ford Ends After 37 Years

After 37 years with what he calls his "temporary job" with the Ford Motor company, Karl Starkweather, 711 Starkweather avenue, has gone into retirement.
 The well-known Plymouthite punched the time clock for the last time at the Waterford plant last Friday, August 29. "I thought it was high time to give some thoughts to the course of my career," Starkweather declared.
 "For nearly 37 years I have worked at something I never wanted to do in the first place. So I quit — retired — but my retirement will not be of the easy chair variety."
 The "boys at the shop" had thought of buying their fellow worker an easy chair for his retirement gift, but Starkweather soon informed them that he was not interested in easy chairs. So they offered him a generous purse and this he gratefully accepted.
 "What next?" Starkweather answered as he was asked this question by many friends. "Well, first to straighten up a few things around home and then we'll see. You know something — I have all the directions on 'How to Live 100 Years.'"
 Starkweather always manages to keep busy at something. Because of his family background, he has always been interested in Plymouth's history. Last winter he brought confusion and amusement to the tiny town of Starkweather, North Dakota. He sent big, fat pencils bearing "holiday greetings" to the post office there asking that they be delivered to people fitting the descriptions such as "The Wisest Sage," "The Crumbiest Codger," "The Biggest Windbag," and "The Barber with the Sharpest Razor."
 Bud Guest spent 10 minutes of his "Sunnyside" program to tell of the amusing prank and even called up the North Dakota town to find out what was happening. The postmaster said that he had delivered the pencils.
 Starkweather has worked at the Waterford Ford plant for the past seven years.

Northville VFW Paces Play-off Action In Season-end "B" Softball Tourney

Northville VFW dominated action in the class "B" Oldtimer's post-season recreation softball tournament last week as the VFW club racked up two more wins to add to a first-round decision. The Northville squad now boasts three straight victories, which place it high atop the play-off ladder of standings.

The Northville squad pinned defeats on Daisy Air Rifle and Evans Products. Each of these two teams had notched earlier wins in the tourney and the rifleman, in addition, had won the league pennant in regular season play.

Against Wall Wire, the Northville team put together 13 hits to score at least one run in every inning. A seven-run sixth inning outburst clinched a 13-8 victory. Wall Wire was slow to start and then could only rally to plate eight runs in the final three frames. Winner was Atchinson on the mound for VFW, while Ross-ayne was tagged with the loss.

Daisy, regular season champs, provided less opposition for Northville than the Wall Wire club, as the rifleman fell victim to two three-run outbursts that eased an 8-2 victory for the VFW squad. Perry garnered the win as Harold Williams suffered the loss.

VFW scored virtually at will, getting one run in the first, two in the second, three in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the third. H. Davis led the attack at the plate for the losers with two singles and a triple.

Meanwhile, two other teams were knocked out of contention as they absorbed their second losses of the play-off. (Two games lost constitutes an elimination.) Plymouth Stamping and Barnes-Gibson-Raymond became the first two teams to seek the sidelines.

The Stamping squad, which had lost a game in the first-round pairings, picked up an easy win last week before being KO'd. Barnes-Gibson-Raymond provided the Stamping men with a 7-0 forfeit win and by so doing dropped themselves out of the tourney. BGR had lost once before, also.

But the Stamping team had only postponed its own fate with the forfeit win from BGR, for Beglinger Oldsmobile later edged them, 6-5, and thereby pushed them out the door.

The Oldsmen had to come from behind with three runs in the sixth frame to deadlock the score and send the battle into extra innings. Then in the bottom of the eighth, Beglingers pushed across the winning run on two hits, both doubles.

Winning hurler was Thomas, who went the route. He was opposed by Epps, the loser for Plymouth Stamping. Big hit for Beglingers was a home run off the bat of Bidwell in the sixth with a mate aboard.

With only five teams remaining in the post-season tourney as the result of Plymouth Stamping and BGR being eliminated, it is possible for the play-offs to be concluded in only four more games.

Tonight Wall Wire meets the Independents, the result of which will eliminate one team, both clubs having lost a match. Game time 7:00 p.m. behind the high school.

Then on Tuesday, August 16, Daisy Air Rifle plays the winner of the game tonight, which will eliminate another squad. Game time is 6:30 p.m. In addition Northville VFW faces Beglingers at 8:00 p.m. that same evening and this battle could eliminate Beglingers if VFW wins. Finally, with the supposedly last game riding on several IFS already, VFW could take the tourney by turning back the winner of the other August 16 game. This last contest is slated for Wednesday, August 17, at 7:00 p.m.

Play-off standings in the class "B" Oldtimer's league to date are as follows:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Northville VFW	3	0
Daisy*	1	1
Wall Wire	1	1
Independents	1	1
Beglingers	1	1
Plymouth Stamping	1	2
Barnes-Gibson-Rymd	0	2

* denotes regular season champions
denotes tourney elimination.

Ann Marston Now On Magazine Cover

Sixteen-year-old Ann Marston of Wyandotte, well-known in Plymouth because of her many visits here, received national recognition during the past week on television, and in the press for her win two weeks ago of the National Women's Free Style Field Archery Championship at Ludington State Park.

Ann appeared on "I've Got A Secret" Wednesday night during which the panel finally guessed her secret as being the top woman archer. She also became a "cover girl" last week when her picture appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

She often shoots at the Western Wayne County Conservation archery course southeast of Plymouth. Last year she appeared on Toast of the Town.

Beglingers, Cavalcade Remain In Post-Season "A" Tourney

Post-season tournament battling in the class "A" Open softball league was simplified last week as two of the loop's four teams were knocked out of the race for the campaign-end trophy.

Both the Box-Eagles club and the Evans Products team were eliminated as they absorbed their second losses of the two-game KO tourney. Remaining in the chase for top honors are Beglinger Oldsmobile with two wins and no losses and the Cavalcade Inn squad, who has also won a pair of contests but has lost one game.

After copping a first-round decision, the Box-Eagles were turned back twice last week, once by Cavalcade Inn, 7-2, and then by Beglingers, 7-1. Box-Eagles had previously edged the Innmen, 1-0, in the opening pairings.

On the mound for the Oldsmen against the Eagles, Thibideau shaped a sparkling one-hitter to completely shackle his opponents. At the plate his team-mates supplied him with a one-run lead in the first frame and then pushed across four more in the fifth to insure the victory. Loser was Kearney.

The Innmen, though, were slow to start, not being able to score until the seventh when they plated two runs. But the Eagles came back to tie it up in the bottom half and send the contest into extra frames. Cavalcade chased home five runs in the top of the eighth to notch the win.

In addition to having a hand in bumping off Box-Eagles, Cavalcade Inn also administered the final rites on Evans Products, who had already lost a game in the first week of play. The Innmen white-washed Evans, 9-0.

Despite only six base-hits, Cavalcade's grand-slam home run against the Tigers, July 31, was the twelfth of his career. He is the ninth man in baseball to have hit a dozen or more. Lou Gehrig leads with 23. Others, in order, are Jimmie Foxx, 17; Babe Ruth, 16; Joe DiMaggio, 13; and Hank Greenberg, Rudy York, Rogers Hornsby, Ralph Kiner and Williams, 12 each.

On the mound for the Nationals was Dick Egloff with D. Hunt behind the plate, while handling the hurling duties for the Americans was Soth, with Porter catching. The Americans out-hit the Nationals 11 base-knocks to seven. Both teams committed two errors afield.

The season's standing in the regular play in the little league to date is:

TEAM	WON	LOST	TIED
Yankees	7	2	2
Tigers	6	3	2
White Sox	4	6	1
Indians	2	8	1

alcade was aided by five walks, a hit batsman, and numerous errors affixed by the Evans squad. Winning twirler was Wellman, who contributed a double. The defeat was pinned to Graczyk, on the mound for Evans.

The league's two remaining teams, Beglingers and Cavalcade, are due to clash in a deciding tilt this Monday evening at 8:00 p.m. Should the Oldsmen turn back the Innmen, Beglingers will earn the top honors in the post-season play-off, but if Cavalcade manages to defeat Beglingers, then a second deciding battle is slated for Thursday, August 18, at 8:00 p.m.

Both games will be held at the softball diamond behind the high school, where all of the regular season contests were staged.

Standings to date in the class "A" Open league post-season tournament are as follows:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Beglinger Olds*	2	0
Cavalcade Inn	2	1
Box-Eagles	1	2
Evans	0	2

* denotes regular season champions
 denotes play-off elimination.

Little Leaguers Battle To Tie in All-Star Tilt

Plymouth's little league all-star baseball players, who range in age from nine to 13 years, battled to a 6-6 deadlock in their all-star game held recently under the lights at the softball field behind the school.

Twenty boys filled each of the two all-star team rosters, with players selected from the 100 that held baseball sessions each week-day afternoon behind the high school under the leadership of John Sandmann.

Pairing off into National and American league squads, the two clubs went the regular scheduled seven-inning distance and, with the score deadlocked at six-all, then played another frame in an attempt to determine a winner. The game was called at the end of the eighth.

On the mound for the Nationals was Dick Egloff with D. Hunt behind the plate, while handling the hurling duties for the Americans was Soth, with Porter catching. The Americans out-hit the Nationals 11 base-knocks to seven. Both teams committed two errors afield.

The season's standing in the regular play in the little league to date is:

TEAM	WON	LOST	TIED
Yankees	7	2	2
Tigers	6	3	2
White Sox	4	6	1
Indians	2	8	1

Merchants Bow to Allen Park; Settle for Second-Division Finish

All chances for a first division league finish by the Plymouth Merchants were snuffed out last Sunday by third place Allen Park, who tagged the local entry in the Inter-County loop with its ninth loss as against five wins.

Prior to this contest the Merchants stood a slim mathematical chance of gaining a first division final standing in the loop. They had a card of five wins and eight losses, with four tilts remaining on the slate. But now with four more losses than wins to date and only three battles remaining, the locals must be content to settle for a lower than .500 average.

In this most recent meeting the Merchants held their own well enough for the first five frames, only to watch their opponents open up and plate four runs in the sixth inning and four more in the seventh. Final score was: Allen Park 11, Plymouth Merchants 4.

Until the visitors' outbreak in the fatal sixth, Eddie Hock, on the mound for the locals, had limited the Parkers to only three base-hits. The game had been evenly battled to this point as the Merchants had garnered only one hit and three walks off winning AP hurler, Baunoch, who went the route.

But in the sixth, Allen Park erupted with a spree that included four singles, a double and four runs shaping a 4-0 AP lead. Then, in the seventh the visitors shelled Hock to cover another four-run outburst on the strength of five more hits and a walk. Warren Bassett came on the scene for the Merchants and gave up three more tallies in the eighth and one last run in the ninth.

The locals got to Baunoch in their half of the seventh when three singles and three errors trimmed the Allen Park lead to 8-3. The locals added one more run to their total in the ninth.

In the seventh, Harold Williams led off with a single and went to third on a two-base error by the AP moundsman. Jim Munding followed with an identical play that scored Williams. Munding's base-hit was bobbled long enough around the playing field to allow him to advance all the way to third as Williams came across.

Ertman Kessler's single drove home Munding with the Merchant's second run of the frame. Then an infield grounder off the bat of relief-hurler Warren Bassett looked like a sure double play ball, but the shortstop succeeded in tossing the ball into right field and allowed Kessler, who was on first at the time, to come across.

The Merchants completed their scoring in the final frame when Eric Bartlett tripled and scored on pinch-hitter Bill Runge's single. But Allen Park had since chased home four more runs bringing the game's final score to 11-4 in favor of the visitors.

Hock, who left the scene in the midst of Allen Park's second four-run outburst, was tagged with his sixth loss of the year as against five wins. Baunoch was credited with the victory.

Next week the locals battle with Dietrich at Wayne. Game time is 3:00 p.m.

Plymouth Hosts Portion Of MSA-MRA Tourney

Some of the action in the Michigan Softball Association - Michigan Recreation Association season-end district tournament was fielded right here at home this week as several of the play-off contests were held under the lights at the diamond behind the high school.

In class "A" play-off action, Beglinger Oldsmobile was defeated, 6-2, by Unistrut of Wayne last Monday night in second-round pairings. Both teams had drawn first-round byes. Incidentally, Beglinger Olds was the season's winner in the local class "A" Open softball league.

Other battling Monday evening found Cavalcade Inn turning back Picard from Dearborn via a 6-0 shut-out route. This contest was one of the district class "B" games. Cavalcade finished the season in second place in the local class "A" Open loop.

Then in district class "C" battling, the Box-Eagles squarred off with Chelsea from the Manchester league last Tuesday evening. The Box-Eagles finished the regular season of play in a deadlock with Evans in the local class "A" Open loop.

Another game Tuesday evening found Burcroft from Romulus facing Michigan Bell from Ann Arbor.

Rookie guard George Atkins of the Detroit Lions lists water skiing as a hobby. He has a fine teacher... his wife, Leah Marie Rawls, was U. S. National, and World's Women's Water Skiing Champion in 1953.

"F" Baseball Champs In District Play-offs

Fisher Shoes whipped Romulus last Monday night, 17-5, for a first round victory in the district "F" league play-off, the winner of which will travel to the state tourney at Jackson later this month.

Wayne provided the local baseball club with the opposition last Tuesday evening in the second round of battling for this area district supremacy. Results of this game are not yet in.

Fisher Shoes baseball team this week battled Romulus in the first-round pairings of the district class "F" hardball tournament. The contest was held last Monday on the Wayne athletic field.

The locals moved into post-season action on the strength of a first-place finish in this area's class "F" recreation league. They had compiled a card of 11 straight wins, capping the regular season with last week's tie with runner-up Rosedale.

Rosedale, in taking second-place honors in the league, shaped a respectable nine win and three loss record, but could not catch the high-flying Fisher ball club.

The district tourney, with three teams competing among each other to eliminate all but one, is a stepping stone to higher post-season battling. The third squad in the play-off is Wayne, who drew a first-round bye.

Cracks Record D & L Wins 3, Earns Position In District Play

When Larry Doby of the Indians went through a game against the Yankees without making an error, August 4, he broke a record. It was his 158th game without an error. The previous record for American League outfielders was held by Sam Mele, who played 157 games without a boot while with the White Sox and Orioles in 1953 and 1954. The all-time record was set by Danny Litwiler, who played 187 straight errorless games for the Phillies in the National League.

The home run hit by Roy Campanella of the Dodgers against the Cardinals on July 31 put him in a special class. It was homer No. 200 for him. Only two other major league catchers have ever hit 200 or more homers. Gabby Hartnett hit 236 and Bill Dickey 202.

Against Clarenceville, who had handed the locals their only loss of the season earlier, Bob Jenkins limited the opposition to a pair of measly singles in carding the mound decision. Davis and Lent could muster only seven hits itself, but tied them together sufficiently to gain the nod.

Myron Hopper and Kenzie Calhoun led the attack at the plate for the locals with two base-

Redford. The locals turned back Clarenceville, 7-2, and downed the Northville Recreation squad, 7-1.

The win over neighboring Clarenceville came with the chips down and a slot in the district tourney going to the winner. As the locals scored the 7-2 victory, Clarenceville fell one game off the pace, winding up in second position with a 12 win and two loss record.

Against Clarenceville, who had handed the locals their only loss of the season earlier, Bob Jenkins limited the opposition to a pair of measly singles in carding the mound decision. Davis and Lent could muster only seven hits itself, but tied them together sufficiently to gain the nod.

Myron Hopper and Kenzie Calhoun led the attack at the plate for the locals with two base-

The 7-0 forfeit win came on the heels of the decision over Clarenceville when Boy's Republic failed to field enough players at game time.

Following the forfeit win, Northville Recreation provided little struggle for the locals as Myron Hopper shaped a sparkling two-hit 7-1 victory from the hill for the D & L nine. His teammates banded out a total of ten hits to ease his work.

Hopper contributed a triple and King also slammed out a long three-bagger for the big blows of the contest.

Horseshoe Tossers Shy??

Where, oh where are those horseshoe hurlers? Entries for the Plymouth area horseshoe pitching tournament, slated for this Sunday at the horseshoe courts in Riverside park, have been slow coming in, announced Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver this week.

But Woolweaver was quick to explain that it is not absolutely necessary to have an entry blank on record to compete in the tourney. He explained that it is sufficient to just be present when the tossing gets underway Sunday at 10:00 a.m. There is no fee to participate. The exact location of the horseshoe courts is near to the park's main comfort station.

The contest has been divided into two classes, one for entrants 16 years old and younger and the other for those persons above this age. The tournament is open to both men and women, stated Woolweaver.

Although no prizes are offered to winners locally, the first place finishers in each class will be eligible to compete in the state contest to be held at the Michigan state fairgrounds in Detroit on September 2 and 3.

Hickory AND Horsehide

No single factor is responsible for astounding Al Kaline's spectacular surge in batting prowess. This on the word of 20-year-old Al himself, who discusses his phenomenal hitting as impersonally as an engineer studying a blueprint.

Here's what young Mr. Kaline believes has contributed to making him the major league's leading hitter:

Added weight. Since marrying his high school sweetheart, Louise Hamilton, last winter he has gained almost 15 pounds.

Stronger wrists. He did lots of push ups and pull ups and swung a heavy bat in a gym all winter.

Better knowledge of opposing pitchers. Just out of Baltimore's Southern High School last year, Al needed almost a full season to learn what kind of stuff enemy flingers had and how and when they used it.

But long ago there were signs of Kaline's big league potential. Back to those days on the sandlots when he played as many as three games a day. To his years in high school when he batted, successively, .333, .409 and .469.

To the encouragement of his mother, Naomi, and his father, Nicholas, a former semi-pro catcher who taught him much about baseball, and his two elder sisters. To his championship play that twice won the state title.

The signs were there when scout Ed Katalinas paid him a $35,000 bonus to sign a Detroit contract after Brooklyn had tried him out and sent him home because he was "too small." The money, incidentally went to his parents.

From the outset, Al showed tremendous speed on the bases and in the outfield. His slingshot arm soon made opposing hitters afraid to take an extra base.

But Al was fearful that he couldn't hit big league pitching well enough to become a regular. He worried particularly over the cunning slow ball pitchers.

Former Manager Freddie Hutchinson told Al last year that if Kaline hit .270 he would help the team. Al played virtually the entire season and wound up with a .276 average and four home runs.

This year, of course, he started off with a bang and kept up the noise all season, his batting average as of this writing around .370 and his home run production in the twenties. Not to mention all those hits and runs batted in.

What makes this all the more amazing is that Al now rarely gets a good ball to hit. Pitchers are too wary of him, Boston's Willard Nixon being the only one still giving him any trouble.

Kaline not only likes playing the Hickory and Horsehide game for Detroit but living here as well. He's renting a place in suburban Oak Park and hopes to winter here if the right off-season job comes along.

Superior team play, rather than any one individual, is responsible for the Tigers' improved performance over the dreary seasons of 1952 and 1953. But some players have stood out more than others during the long struggle from the black depths of the American League basement.

High among the leaders is Harvey Kuenn, a big, blond, rawboned young man with a crew cut and twinkling blue eyes.

Harvey's meteoric career with the Tigers is almost as phenomenal as Al Kaline's. But where Al took a year to become adjusted to big league pitching, his skill in 1954 being largely defensive, Harvey began clobbering the ball from the day he entered the lineup.

After batting .340 in 63 games for Davenport in the Three-Eye League, his first professional effort, Kuenn finished the 1952 campaign with the Tigers, hitting .325 in 19 games. In fact, he was the only bright thing about an otherwise dismal season that saw the Tigers wind up last for the only time in their history.

Rookie of Year

In 1953 Harvey visibly helped Detroit struggle to a sixth-place finish, batting .308 and pounding out 209 hits, a remarkable achievement for a freshman. For this he was named "rookie of the year." Moreover, he appeared in the '53 All-Star game, quite a feat for a rookie.

Just to prove it was no fluke, Harvey came back last year to register a .306 batting average and collect 201 hits, the feat of topping 200 hits in successive seasons being a rarity in big league baseball.

This year, of course, young Mr. Kuenn is batting even better, and many say he is the best shortstop ever to wear a Tiger uniform. Certainly he is worth every penny of the $55,000 bonus offered by scout George Moriarty to lure him off the University of Wisconsin campus.

Harvey, who chose Detroit over 10 other major league teams because of opportunity for faster advancement, is of German descent, the only child of Harvey and Dorothy Kuenn.

Born Dec. 4, 1930, in Milwaukee, he played baseball at Lutheran High School before moving on to Wisconsin, where he batted .330 and .444 in two seasons.

Built Home for Parents

This brought the scouts knocking on the Kuenn door, and Harvey has used part of his Tiger bonus to provide his parents with a fancier door in a much more expensive home. Naturally, the recreation room has a distinct baseball atmosphere.

Harvey has been busy along other lines, too, becoming engaged to a very lovely young lady named Dixie Sarchet, who was Miss Wisconsin in 1954.

They are to be married in November and Billy Hoelt, Harvey's roommate and also a Wisconsinite, will be the best man.

Harvey, who has been serving as a public relations man for a Milwaukee bank during the off-season is considering making his permanent home in Detroit.

Heat Slows Activities at Play Areas As Hough Playground Closes Session

The six playground areas in Plymouth last week held sessions for the sixth week of the playground season. The featured theme was titled "Music and Drama week" as selected by play director Louise Cigile.

This present week is the seventh such session at the half dozen play areas across the city with a theme of "Frontier week." Next week will be the finale of the summer playground program.

Hough playground, located at the corner of Warren and Haggerty roads, completed its summer period at the close of last week. This play area, the seventh one in this area, ran a session only four weeks long as compared to the eight-week long sessions at the other playgrounds.

HOUGH

Hough playground area last week enjoyed the theme of "Nature Week" including in the program several nature games, hunting different bugs, leaves, flowers and other things of interest in keeping with the week's theme.

A hike last week Tuesday was planned but the rain postponed it until later. A painting session on Wednesday kept the children interested in making designs of different leaves and other objects.

A cook-out later, with hot dogs, kool-aid, cookies and candy, was one of the big events on Thursday. It offered all that everyone could eat.

Capping the week's activities, the tots at Hough play area held a pet show, which included rabbits, horses and many other entries. Winners are as follows:

Best behaved: 1st, Virginia Dethloff (cat); 2nd Richard Dethloff (dog); 3rd, Jimmy Goerke (cat).

Most unusual: 1st, Loren Campbell (horse); 2nd, Turner McFarland (rabbit); 3rd, Larry Schmidt (cat).

Tricks: 1st, Loren Campbell (horse); 2nd, Richard Dethloff (dog); 3rd, Janet Burner (dog). Grooming: 1st, David Schmidt; 2nd, Susan Davis; 3rd, Linda Howcroft.

BIRD

On Friday of last week the children of the Bird playground scrambled in the sand box in a big "money hunt", one of the week's featured events. Pennies, nickels and dimes had been scattered for the boys and girls to find. Josephine Calleja came up the winner as the finder of the most money.

Joe Roberts won the title of best model airplane flyer in the model airplane flying contest held last week.

ALLEN

Visitors to Allen playground last week were the group of children from the Greenmeadows play area. The two play groups enjoyed a splash party, followed by kool-aid.

Later in the afternoon the arts and crafts teacher came to work with both playgrounds. The children learned to weave baskets.

On Tuesday of last week, the children nine years old and up went swimming. They carried their lunches and enjoyed snacks after the swim.

Friday afternoon the eight year olds and younger went to the library for a story telling session and to see some movies. All the boys and girls expressed their thanks.

The heat kept activities down to a slow pace last week, although the children did make pot holders, baskets and several leather goods.

CENTRAL

The children at Central playground have been making plans for the big basket-weaving party slated for this week. Pat Fehlig, Sally Gilles and Virginia Signorelli have been making the invitations and the other children are helping on other phases.

The play area clean-up committee for the last two weeks has consisted of Jim Lockwood, Dick Egloff, Glenn Soleau, Mike Lockwood, John Gilles and Allan Thompson.

A movie at the library was enjoyed by the five through eight year old children from the playground last week.

Mike Lockwood, Bob Wellman, John Gilles and Jim Honey brought their favorite books from home to the playground and the children enjoyed having them read aloud.

Bird and Smith playgrounds were Central's guests last Friday at which time the youngsters held a sprinkler and kool-aid party during the afternoon.

Events for this week included a treasure hunt and a basket-weaving session.

STARKWEATHER

While one group of Starkweather play area children last Tuesday enjoyed another trip to Kent Lake, the remaining boys and girls spent the day hiking in the park, swimming in the wading pool and eating a picnic lunch. Included in the group that traveled to Kent Lake were:

Dan Stremich, Tim Rosecrans, Denny Robertson, John Cook, Ray Brown, Tommy Goodman, Ken Groom, Kris McMullen, Kathy Merryfield, Sharon Stremich, Diane Robertson and Janet Evans.

The boys and girls who went to the park on that day were: Shirley, Jimmy and Jerry Lee, Tammy Rosecrans, Carol and Carl Glass, John and Linda Park. This week the group also enjoyed learning to weave baskets. The price of the baskets ranged from 10 to 40 cents.

Friday, a movie about a New Mexican sheep ranch was shown at the library and several of the youngsters attended. Viewing the movie, entitled "Miguel", were:

Sally Merryfield, Larry Dyer, Carl and Gary Glass, Shirley, Jerry and Jimmy Lee, Kris McMullen, Laura Raafab, Tammy Rosecrans, Marjorie Johnson and David Lytle.

Philadelphia's Robin Roberts moved into fifth place in the strikeout list among active pitchers when he fanned four Cubs on July 31. That gave him a total of 1,110. Present pitchers who have struck out more are Bobby Feller, Virgil Trucks, Warren Spahn and Early Wynn. But only Feller has a better average per season than Roberts. Feller's average is 150.1 and Roberts' is 138.8.

This An' That

The Vancouver Rowing Club, which beat Russia and lost to the University of Pennsylvania crew, has high hopes of entering the 1956 Olympic games in Australia. Vancouver (British Columbia) is also reportedly dickering with Brick Laws, president of the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League. Laws has stated that the club might be interested in transferring to Vancouver if a good offer was forthcoming. The Cleveland Browns are converting rookie Tom Jones, former Miami (Ohio) tackle into a defensive end. Hot Springs, Arkansas baseball fans raised $1,500 in a fund-raising campaign to keep their team in the Cotton States League. The Detroit sloop Revelry won the 1955 Sloop Race to Mackinac Yacht Race, using up 77 hours, 52 minutes and 15 seconds for the 333-mile haul up Lake Michigan. Rizal Memorial Stadium in Manila was the scene of wild action during and after the fight in which Flash Elrode took a non-title decision from World Featherweight Champion Sand Saddler. Italo Scottichini, a fighter not on the night's card, was cut by a flying bottle while standing in Saddler's corner.

BIG GUN... Outfielder Duke Snider is one big reason Brooklyn's Dodgers lead National League pennant race by 14 games. He's hitting .330, with 34 home runs, 101 RBI, 83 runs and 113 hits.

You can make your bets now that Casey Stengel will be back managing the Yankees again next year. There have been rumors that he would quit at the end of this season. But Casey spiked that rather emphatically when asked about it the other day. "Retire my eye," he said. "I've gotta rebuild my pitching staff from the ground up."

Second Baseman Johnny Temple of Cincinnati might easily win the National League batting championship this year if he only had to play against Pittsburgh. When Temple got seven hits in ten tries against Pittsburgh, July 31, it raised his season's batting average against the Pirates to .470, on 39 hits in 83 official appearances.

MISS SWEDEN WINS... Hilleri Rombin, 21, 5-foot 7, 130 pound blonde who speaks 5 languages, was chosen Miss Universe among beauties from 81 nations.

For a man whose baseball experiences should have covered just about everything, something new happened recently. Stan Musial, batting against Don Newcombe in St. Louis, hit a drive over the right field pavilion roof. That was the first homer ever hit by Musial at the expense of the Dodger ace.

You Never Outgrow Your Need to Progress...

Scientific methods in dairy farming, stemming from cooperative programs in the classrooms, laboratories and experimental procedures of our great colleges, and by progressive farmers, have brought the quality of milk production to the highest standards in history. Michigan State University has worked unceasingly for a century for technical improvement in all phases of milk production and marketing.

Michigan's dairy farmers recognize this valuable, continuing contribution. In saluting Michigan State University's 100 years of cooperation the 17,500 members of this organization agree that you never outgrow your need to progress.

That you never outgrow your need for milk is a matter of medical record. Physicians will tell you that the calcium content of your body needs constant replenishment. Milk is your principal source of calcium.

Your dairy farmer knows this, among other scientific facts, and he knows that the high quality of the milk he produces today makes it possible for physicians to recommend three glasses every day as an almost indispensable health formula. For growing children, the rate of consumption is higher.

PROGRESS PROVIDES PROTECTION

One of the outstanding progressive steps taken by the Michigan Milk Producers Association was the adoption and perfection of its plan for leveling production and minimizing seasonal variations in the milk supply in the Detroit Metropolitan market.

Known as the "base and excess plan", it assures consumers of adequate supplies of pure, fresh milk throughout the entire year. For the dairy farmer, it provides a real incentive for adopting modern methods of management and production, resulting in more profitable disposition of his milk supply.

Just how this progressive step reacts to the public benefit is well shown in the box score at right. The figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture represent the percentage of fluctuation between the seasons of high and low milk production in the major marketing areas listed.

Detroit's exceptionally low percentage of seasonal variation guarantees an ample supply of pure, fresh milk during the winter months when many cities suffer shortages—it safeguards the public health and welfare.

Milk is one of life's essentials. Like water, it is needed every day of the year and a constant, dependable supply of milk flowing into a big city is as important as a constant flow of water through its mains. Members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, by means of their progressive thinking and action, have made that constant flow of milk available in Detroit as well as many other Michigan markets.

UNWRITTEN LAWS
Sometimes trucks are hard to pass, or it just seems that way. You follow one and when it is moving at high speed there is frequently oncoming traffic so you can't pass.

One of the smart things to do is to catch the truck just after it has stopped at a traffic signal. When it starts up it will pick up speed slowly. You can accelerate rapidly. So this is frequently your best chance to pass a truck safely.

Another opportunity is when trucks have slowed down for a 25 or 35 speed limit. Overtake them before they reach higher speed limit areas. The bigger they are the slower they start. So remember this slogan, SLOW DOWN AND LIVE.

Chips from the Rock

It was the stamp act that fanned the tempers of our early colonists to the exploding point and eventually brought on our Revolutionary war. Today its again a stamp act which is driving our local merchants to a frenzy.

If it isn't S&H, Gold Bell, TV or Green it certainly is some other brand which is fanning a fire of disgust and extra cost to the merchant and bringing him to the point of some quick decision in getting on the "stamp bandwagon."

This week we have attended several meetings of local merchants who are desperately trying to find some solution to avoid the necessity of taking on this spreading headache. A headache, because it costs the average merchant about 2% of his gross income, and secondly because it costs him many more dollars in time and effort in handling the stamps in his stores.

In most cases, however, before the program runs the gauntlet, the poor customer is going to pay for those stamps in increased merchandise costs, and though he may get his free blanket, toaster, blender, or any other premium offered he is going to pay for the staple items he buys in order to get the stamps.

Since a group of local merchants are faced with accepting some plan of providing stamps for their customers the outgrowth of the meetings this week will place on the local market an entirely new kind of free trading stamp sometime in the near future.

The new stamp will be called the Plymouth Community Stamp and only merchants having a Plymouth mailing address will be able to issue them. They will, however, be available to every merchant in the area to use exclusively if they so desire. Over a dozen stores will start the program, then others who wish to participate at any later date will be able to join the plan.

The only difference in the Plymouth Community Stamp and any other stamp on the market is this decidedly different innovation. When customers fill their Plymouth Community stamp books, which will be the same in value as all others, they may redeem these stamps for full value in any of the participating stores for any merchandise in the store. There will be no premiums... the stamps will be as good as cash on any item you might desire to purchase.

Local promoters of the plan point out that this procedure gives people shopping in Plymouth an opportunity to select any item they might wish to purchase, such as clothes, groceries, gasoline, automobiles, toasters, blenders, shoes, etc. instead of having their purchases confined to specific premium items.

Another part of the program which is important to them is the fact that all of the dollars then spent for gift items will be spent in Plymouth stores and thousands of dollars each year will not leave home as they do now on the purchase of regular gift premiums out of town.

Also of importance to the local merchant is the fact that this plan will not involve excess overhead which will make it possible for him to handle the same probably at a lower percentage than the cost in one of the present national plans.

The program will be strictly a non-profit one for the participating merchants. A non-profit corporation is being formed and all of the bookwork, sale and cashing in of stamps will be handled through the offices of certified public accountant Donald Sutherland. Other than promotion of the stamp, buying the stamps and savings books, and actual bookkeeping, merchants will have no other expenses in their operation.

Any local merchant desirous of learning more about the proposed plan can call Mr. Sutherland's office and a participant in the plan will call to explain the working details.

Washington Quiz:

- Q—I bought a house with a GI loan, and now I am planning to sell it. I was considering having the buyer take over my loan. Must I get Veterans Administration permission to do this?
- A—No. VA permission is not required. However, you should remember you remain liable for the GI loan, even though you sell the house to another person. You can relieve yourself of all liability by insisting that the buyer refinance the house.
- Q—Can you tell me what is behind the move in Congress to set up by resolution a presidential designation of the last week in October as national Farm-City week?
- A—This is a propaganda move backed by large business firms whose products are purchased by farmers or who buy the product of the farmers. The move has been underway about a year through a well known lobby organization in Washington.
- Q—Can members of Congress be impeached?
- A—There has been no impeachment action against any member for more than 150 years, so the answer is probably No. An impeachment proceeding was brought against Senator Blount, in 1798, but he resigned before the case came to trial, and although the Senate held it had no jurisdiction, there has been question as to whether this was a precedent. Of course the Senate can expel a member, so can the House, by two-thirds vote. Also any member is subject to prosecution for treason, felony, or breach of the peace.
- Q—Are Senators and Congressmen federal or state officials?
- A—They are officers of the United States Government, elected by the states or districts, and take an oath to support the United States constitution.

New Autos in 90 Days

Word from the automobile industry is that new models will be introduced by many of the manufacturers within ninety days. That means new cars will begin to hit the market in October.

Automobile producers, despite a tremendous sale this year, are attempting to get their new-car introductions back on the schedule they were on several years ago. Producers feel that the best time to change models is in the fall and this year the change will take place according to that theory.

Introduction of new models early this year means that automobile sales are likely to spurt in the last few months of the year. This, and the fact that automobile sales so far have already passed the 4,000,000-mark, indicates that total production in the calendar year 1955 may go even higher than had been anticipated.

It is doubtful whether changes made in many new cars this year will be as extensive as those made in the last model change. However, extensive modifications are planned on some lines, and the public will once again be dazzled with new gadgets, new claims and new lines.

Despite the fact that some economy experts are worried about the pace of spending and installment buying in this country, recent government figures showed that the average American in the last year had saved over $100. This indicates that there is plenty of buying power and that the market for automobiles will remain good for some time to come.

Hypnotist Sentenced As Killer

A significant trial in the history of law took place in Copenhagen, Denmark, recently. In the end, a hypnotist, who had not committed the murders which brought about the case, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The hypnotist was given a stiffer sentence than the gunman who actually committed the crimes. He was held responsible for inducing the gunman to kill. The outcome of this trial is seen by some as likely to have a far-reaching effect on criminal procedure in coming years.

The gunman held up a bank and killed two bank officials, as he carried out his robbery. Later, he told police he had been trained by a hypnotist for some time, and given detailed instructions while hypnotized on the robbery.

The court decision is confirmation of the theory of many hypnotists over the centuries — that almost any person can be hypnotized to a degree, and that many can be made to do almost anything willingly, at the suggestion of the hypnotist.

Expert testimony at the trial revealed that the gunman had acted in an "abnormal and insane-like" manner during the holdup. The finding of the experts was that most people can be induced to commit a murder, and other crimes, by a hypnotist.

As the result of this finding, the court sentenced the gunman to a home for psychopaths, from which he might be released within two years. However, the hypnotist was given a life sentence.

Grass Roots Opinion

ANTONITO, COLO., LEDGER-NEWS: "Perhaps the automobile industry can deliver its new 'package' to its workers and the same package, at the same price, to its customers. But certainly there are not many industries that can boost the payroll and not the price tag."

ARCATA, CALIF., UNION: "Certainly we shall not be worthy of those who founded our Nation unless we strive to emulate the spirit of independence which motivated them. This means standing on our own feet, saving for our future, and not looking primarily to government, relatives, or friends for our well being. It means facing up to our local, state, and national problems..."

GLENCOE, MINN., ENTERPRISE: "The seven billion dollars worth of surplus wheat, corn, rice, butter, cheese and dry milk stored away safe from the open market is poor business for the U. S. Government. You and I every American taxpayer pays for these surplus foods... We go right on spending billions to keep the agricultural clock turned back instead of allowing free enterprise to prevail."

Roger Babson

Small Business Still Needed

GLoucester — I am here for a short vacation at my birthplace — a small city which is now noted as a fishing port and summer resort, but is gradually becoming a thriving suburb of Greater Boston. With its high land, "air-conditioned" streets, and island location, it has a wonderful all-year climate, a beautiful harbor, and a bright future. My father had a dry goods and novelty store here fifty years ago. This little store my family has built up to some 450 stores located in 38 states, under the corporate ownership of the United Stores Corporation. In fact, its stock is now listed on the big New York Stock Exchange.

In those days all industries here were locally owned. Then an ambitious and industrious young man could buy or start a fishing business or granite quarry or small factory of his own. Today the situation is very different. Nearly all the industries require much capital and are owned by large corporations outside Gloucester. This is true of most cities; it is not a healthy situation. It is especially noticeable when I am helping Babson Institute graduates to a position. They can easily get a position starting at $300 per month; but it will be with a large company. The smaller and younger business concerns cannot afford to pay such salaries to beginners.

DEWITT M. EMERY

One reason for writing this column today is the death of Evanston, Ill. of the founder of the National Small Business Men's Association, DeWitt M. Emery. He died at the young age of 59, having given his life to the unselfish work of encouraging young persons to start a business for themselves. He claimed that cities are now making a great mistake in depending only upon large manufacturing corporations owned in New York or some other large city. He believed it is like a church expecting to prosper without children. Also much is owed to Ernest Gaunt.

Yet things are happening today which could benefit the "small businessman." First, the Federal tax laws have been amended to give him a break. The Labor Unions — as a rule — do not bother the small "independent operator," hoping that their members themselves may some day be one. Increasing the minimum national wage to one dollar will probably exempt a small operator or storekeeper. This could be an advantage to the small manufacturer with lower overhead and fewer employees.

IMPORTANCE OF PERSONAL SERVICE

I forecast that some people will always want personal attention from specialists whom they know and trust. I believe in pensions, modern factories, and air conditioning, but these things will not take the place of personal attention by interested employees. People like attention; they want to deal with owners of a business whom they know and trust. Most employees are today missing a great opportunity to become truly interested in the success of the business in which they are employed.

LESSONS FROM ABROAD

Every time I go to Europe I am impressed by the number of families who live on their business and are thus able to give "24 hour" service. Were I a young man and had a good wife, this is the way I would start, instead of working for a big company. Or, better still, I should try working for, and some day own, a small-town newspaper! I surely would go into some form of merchandising or advertising where I could use new ideas and be an individual, and not get into a labor-union rut. A small manufacturer or shopkeeper, however, willing to work and having a good turnover, need not fear sudden changes and new methods. Many of them can work to his advantage if he will attend to his trade.

Battle of Freeway Vs. Toll Roads Continues

Northland resorts have the promise of a highway funneling thousands of cars into their driveways — one way or another.

The tug-of-war between toll roads and free superhighways is the focal point of one of the bitterest disputes in years.

On one end of the rope is the Michigan Turnpike Authority and on the other end is Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. The people are in the middle. Ziegler, really, must play a dual role. He is also a member of the turnpike authority, a situation that has had him dodging brickbats from all directions for two years.

The authority is guided by experienced hands who insist on a 113-mile toll road between Flat Rock and Saginaw.

Ziegler is rushing work on a competitive route, a relocation of U. S. 10 from Detroit to Saginaw and of U. S. 25 from Detroit to the Ohio border near Toledo. "We've got a lot of money tied up in that road now and we can't walk away and leave it," Ziegler said.

Turnpike champions, headed by the authority chairman, George N. Higgins, Ferndale Republican, figure Ziegler is perpetrating a dastardly doublecross.

"Ziegler has caused the authority a lot of problems," Higgins said. "But I don't think he'll block us anymore."

From a cash-on-the-line standpoint, the turnpike will cost $165 million and the free highway $138 million. Ziegler said he could finish a free road in three years.

Higgins said the turnpike can be completed in 39 months after the bonds are sold. They will be retired from tolls.

There was a poignant moment when Congress killed President Eisenhower's highway aid plan, which would have given Michigan federal money for interstate highways at a 90-10 ratio, federal to state matching.

"If we get that, we can finish the free highway in three years," Ziegler said.

When the bill was killed in Congress, Ziegler said state money would do the job in the same time. Higgins, mourning the death of the program in Congress on the surface, privately was jubilant: "This will put all the more steam behind the turnpike program. We'll get started as soon as we can and build the toll road."

Serious questions have arisen from the situation. If there is to be a competing free road — with the same superhighway construction — will New York financiers go for the revenue bonds?

Will motorists prefer the free superhighway to the toll road, creating a boycott and a virtually impossible financing problem for the turnpike?

Ziegler denies he doublecrossed the turnpike authority. He said he was assured by the engineers for the turnpike that a free route along the same general route "would have no effect." There have been hints that the 1956 legislature, recognizing the tight spot occupied by Higgins, a former senator, could remove Ziegler from the authority. On the other hand, Ziegler may be running for re-election next year. Republicans would think twice before jeopardizing his chances against a Democrat.

Best bet here is that the turnpike authority, with Higgins at the helm, will be told to go ahead. Ziegler will be told to take it a little easy and maybe change the route of his free road a bit.

Water Wonderland may be junked as the license plate slogan in 1956.

It became a hot weather issue for Secretary of State James M. Hare, with touches of legal trouble and with visual acuity of motorists.

Hare said that dozens of motorists had written, complaining that the "Water Wonderland" slogan at the bottom of the plates squeezed the numbers into hard-to-identify proportions.

So, Hare asked a special committee to look into the problem, among others.

Then came the legal questions. An unidentified attorney in Detroit asked whether the state was violating its own law against advertising of any kind on the license plates. Hare answered: "You've got me, but I'll find out."

Hare is still checking with Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh. The law plainly states that there shall be no advertising of any kind on a license plate.

Hare, mourning the state of affairs which has the 1956 plates rolling off the lines 30,000 a day at Jackson state Prison, figured the question would be answered before production of 1957 plates.

"I expect the committee to recommend that the slogan be dropped for 1957 and thereafter," he said.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"If you had your choice of living continuously in the hot temperatures we've been having the past month or living where it is always cold, what would be your decision?"

MRS. EDYTHE HADLEY, 638 Dodge: "A happy medium is what I'd want. I'm leaving for California this fall to see what the weather is like there, but I think I'd take the cold. I like to walk a lot and you can't walk far in this heat."

MRS. MERILE STEVENS, 557 Jener: "I think I would like it hot all the time better than cold. I like it hot but not this hot. I just don't like it cold."

Mrs. Hadley Mrs. Stevens Mrs. Davis Jolliffe

MRS. FLORENCE DAVIS, 747 South Main: "I lived in California 10 years and while it was lovely sleeping at night, it was just this hot in the daytime. So I know I wouldn't like hot weather all the time. You can always stay warm when it's cold but you can't always stay cool when it's warm."

EVERED JOLLIFFE, 1192 West Ann Arbor trail: "When you get to be my age, you can stand lots of heat. At one time I preferred extreme cold but not now. Of course, I wouldn't really want it the same. There should be a reasonable change in weather."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Before the customary audience of her three youngsters, John (background) and I. to r. Charles and Billy, Mrs. Charles Wolfe gets underway with the preparations for her favorite recipe.

Mrs. Wolfe Rates Fruit Pie Tops for Party

A nice suggestion for a late evening party or where a special dessert dish is in order, is this recipe for "Fruit Cocktail Pie" recommended by Mrs. Charles Wolfe of 1074 Roosevelt.

Although slightly on the rich side, this dessert is not excessively sweet and carries with it an interesting, ginger flavor. Here's the way you go about making Mrs. Wolfe's favorite recipe:

Fruit Cocktail Pie
1-1/3 cups of fine gingersnap crumbs (about 30 two-inch cookies)

6 tablespoons of soft butter or margarine
1 No. 2 1/2 can of fruit cocktail
1 envelope of unflavored gelatin
1 tablespoon of lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon of salt
1 diced medium banana
1 cup of heavy cream, whipped
1/4 cup of confectioner's sugar
1/4 teaspoon of ground ginger
1 tablespoon of grated lemon rind

Early in the day: Start heating oven to 375 degrees. With fork, mix gingersnap crumbs with butter until crumbly. With back of spoon press to bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate, and form small rim. Bake eight minutes; cool on wire rack.

Drain fruit cocktail, reserving syrup; soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of this syrup. Heat another 1/2 cup of syrup; add gelatin; stir until dissolved; stir in lemon juice and salt. Toss drained fruit cocktail with banana; pour in gelatin mixture. Refrigerate until thick and syrupy as unbeaten egg white.

Fold in whipped cream, sugar, ginger and lemon rind. Refrigerate until mixture is stiff enough to hold its shape. Turn into gingersnap crust. Refrigerate until serving time.

Grange Cleanings

About the usual crowd attended the picnic. One more is in order — to be held August 18 — same time, same place and, no doubt, the same crowd. The weather has been so terribly hot no one could get up much enthusiasm for any extra activities. Perhaps we may have cooler weather for the next one and will have a larger crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Vealey attended the funeral in Wayne last Thursday of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Martha Vealey. She had been ill for several years.

Charlie and Milly Rienas expect to start for California on Saturday. They plan to go the Northern route which may be some cooler. Here's wishing them Bon Voyage.

And a reminder of the Sewing contest may be in order now. Crocheted rugs of any material, kitchen curtains, pillow cases with embroidery or a crocheted edge and handkerchiefs with crocheted edge. Handkerchiefs must be linen. The contest closes with the first meeting in October which gives us plenty of time.

American Legion News

The Passage-Gayde post and unit extends their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Adah Langmaid whose father, H. S. Vogler of Frazer, Minnesota, passed away August 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewer were among those attending the Lowell Showboat at Lowell, Michigan on Saturday, July 30.

Let's have a good turnout, girls on our business meeting this evening, August 11. Remember your reports.

The tenth anniversary of "V-J Day," August 14, 1945, when the fighting ended World War II, will be noted by the Passage-Gayde unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at its August meeting, Mrs. Marie Thompson, unit president, has announced.

Historic significance of the day will be described by Mrs. Gertrude Simonitti, unit historian, while the work of the Auxiliary to help "bind up the nation's wounds" and to prevent another world war will be reviewed by Mrs. Mildred Hewer, rehabilitation chairman, and Mrs. Marie Thompson, national security chairman.

Ten daughters of deceased veterans will enter college this fall with the aid of the American Legion Auxiliary's annual National President's Scholarships.

Mrs. Marie Thompson, Education and Scholarship Chairman of the local Auxiliary Unit, has announced. The scholarships each carry a $600.00 cash award toward first year college expenses. The 1955 winners are:

Nancy Homan of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mary Ellen Wall of St. Louis, Missouri; Martha Ann Williams of Nashua, New Hampshire; Beryl Elaine Gechtman of Irvington, New Jersey; Geneva Hayden of Forum, Oklahoma; Elinor Jo Lasseter of Marietta, Georgia; Emilie Ernestine Runk of Sedro-Woolley, Washington; Johnette Kelley of Fillmore, California; Eileen Carolyn Casserly of Stillwater, Minnesota; Marilyn Mohr of Mitchell, Nebraska.

"One million by October" is the goal of the American Legion Auxiliary as it completes its enrollment of members for 1955, according to Mrs. Adah Langmaid, membership chairman of Passage Gayde Auxiliary unit's organization of its kind in the world, the American Legion Auxiliary is seeking to have one million women enrolled by the time of its national convention in Miami, Florida, October 10 to 13.

"The Auxiliary entered August with approximately 990,000 members enrolled for 1955," said Mrs. Langmaid. "During the next two months we confidently expect to enroll the additional 10,000 needed to reach one million. All of our 14,000 local units have been asked to give a special invitation to eligible women to come into our organization at this time. We need added strength for our expanding program of activities for war veterans and their families, and for the well-being of our country.

"As far as we know, there has never been any single organization of women, not a federation of many organizations, which has had one million dues-paying members. Our American Legion Auxiliary hopes to be able to announce at its convention in Miami that it has established that record."

The reason so many bathing suits look good is because they are so well filled.

Cool Fare for Warm Days!

WHICH came first—the chicken or the egg? It's a good hot weather debate, but good cooks spare their breath and serve both often on summer menus. Here, an engaging summer platter stars the egg, dressed up so prettily its own mother—or daughter—the chicken, wouldn't recognize it.

Deviled Eggs Indienne is the name, and the secret of their success is the addition of snowy cottage cheese to the hard-cooked yolk—and a subtle dash of curry powder. Here's glamor for a buffet or supper table any time—cool to look upon, easy to prepare, and as good as they are pretty.

Deviled Eggs Indienne
 6 hard-cooked eggs, halved
 3 tablespoons mayonnaise
 3 teaspoons vinegar
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 1/2 cup cottage cheese
 Remove egg yolks from whites. Mash yolks; mix with remaining ingredients until well blended and fluffy. Fill egg whites with yolk mixture. Garnish with paprika. 12 halves.

Check Iron Heat With Each Fabric

Just as foods must be cooked at different temperatures so must fabrics be pressed at different degrees of heat.

The temperature range of most irons is 180 to 350 degrees. Heavy cotton, rayon or linen may be pressed at 500 to 550 degrees; wool at 450 to 500 degrees; light-weight cotton and rayon at 400 to 450 degrees; silk at 350 degrees and synthetics at the lower temperatures.

Because of this difference, blends of synthetic and natural fibers present quite a problem in pressing. The best general rule when pressing blends, according to the experts is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature. But when using a damp pressing cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Cotton fabrics have always been known for easy, rapid ironing with a hot iron, but blends of cotton with synthetics are a difficult problem. Cotton will not press smooth at a low temperature; yet, many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. Some fabrics can be literally melted away with incorrect pressing—or may become glazed or stuck to the iron. Authorities advise testing your pressing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place on the edge of a wide seam. This is a wise precaution in taking the best care of your clothes.

Good Homemaker Knows You Eat With Your Eyes

Hats off to the homemaker who can create an atmosphere of something new and exciting when it is just a baked apple or another pot roast. The woman who can create a colorful picture with one deft touch, one last minute garnish or decoration. THAT woman will never be "just a housekeeper"! She knows that you DO EAT WITH YOUR EYES.

Garnishes are to foods what accessories are to clothes, says Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Home Agent. They may add design or give that certain dash. Good garnishes attract attention. They arouse interest. They stimulate your desire to eat.

A garnish improperly used is worse than none at all. Keep garnishes small, do not let them be the center of attraction. Go slow on the parsley. It is green and cheerful, but too much green is not effective. The garnish should be selected with the color of the dish as well as the food in mind.

Make the garnishes "eatable". The garnish not only decorates, it should also enhance the flavor. You will be more pleased with the picture if you use light garnishes on dark foods and dark ones on light foods.

Garnishes for the luncheon plate might include raw broccoli or cauliflower flowerets, hot ripe olives, celery curls, carrot straws or radish roses. Effective additions to outlet or croquette sauces would be chopped olives, blanched almonds and small mushroom caps.

It is very easy to make salad garnishes edible, and they can add flavor as well as color accents. The croissants, squares of bread browned in garlic flavored oil, are a good example. Or add to your spring greens crispy bits of bacon, thin strips of meat, strips of pimento or green pepper, nutmeats or crumbled cheese. For a luncheon salad, a garnish of hard boiled egg slices or a few chilled asparagus spears is most attractive.

For a more supreme chicken salad, decorate with small grape clusters which have been dipped in egg white and granulated sugar.

Dessert garnishes are fun! Colored cocoanut lends a finished touch to a parfait or a cup cake. If your husband is fond of butterscotch pie, here is a garnish that will make him take a quick extra look. Sift some brown sugar on the meringue before you bake it.

Bring the element of surprise into the desserts you serve with a new garnish. Look at that old fashioned gingerbread topped with whipped cream. Dot some molasses over the whipped cream for a new look. Try a topping of whipped cream with crushed peanut brittle or peppermint stick candy. Spoon a little hot mince-meat over a baked apple for a pleasing taste treat.

You take it from there. Experiment and you will find the whole subject of food garnishes becomes a joy and satisfaction.

Yellow undercoating is one of the things to look for in buying cantaloup, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This means the melon has ripened on the vine. But, they caution, beware of soft spots which may indicate rough handling, over-ripeness and spoiling.

A large egg is not necessarily grade A, explain food specialists. Grade indicates the quality of the yolk and the white; whereas large, medium and small tell the weight of the egg.

Fish Warrant Special Handling

When your family announces they are going fishing, it is your cue to get caught up on fish lore. A specialist cautions that fish are very perishable. Because of their delicate structure, fish are very subject to rough handling and changes in temperature. If fish are not going to be used immediately (she suggests that they be wrapped in moisture-proof paper or placed in a tightly-covered dish so fishy odors will not develop in all other foods in the refrigerator. Store the fish in the coldest place in the refrigerator, and be sure you clean it before storing.

Fish odor problems on hands or dishes are easily solved. Just rub your hands and dishes well with moistened salt, then rinse with hot water before washing with soap and water.

To freeze fish, the expert warns that they should be wrapped in moisture, vapor-proof freezer paper, then in heavy wrapping paper and frozen immediately. Ready-to-cook frozen fish does not need to be thawed before cooking, but you should plan on a little longer cooking time. If an egg and crumb coating is to be added, the fish will have to be thawed.

Because fish spoils rapidly, never refreeze it, she cautions.

Here's Answers

Although many home freezers are now in use, home canning is still an important method of food preservation. Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Home Agent answers some of the questions most often asked by the homemaker who is inexperienced in canning.

Q. Why is the open-kettle method not recommended for canning fruits and vegetables?

A. In open-kettle canning, food is cooked in an ordinary kettle then packed into hot jars and sealed without processing. When the food is transferred from kettle to jar, bacteria may get in and cause food to spoil. And for vegetables, the temperatures obtained in open-kettle canning are not high enough to destroy all the spoilage organisms that may be in the food unless it is cooked for an excessively long time.

Q. Is it safe to process foods in the oven?

A. No, oven canning is dangerous. Jars may seal during processing and explode, wrecking the stove and seriously cutting or burning persons. The temperature of food in the jars during oven processing does not get high enough to insure destruction of spoilage bacteria in vegetables without exceedingly long processes.

Q. Must glass jars and lids be sterilized by boiling before canning?

A. No, not when boiling-water bath or pressure-canner method is used. The containers as well as the food are sterilized during processing. But be sure jars and lids are thoroughly clean, and to prevent breakage, have jars hot when filling them.

Q. Why is liquid sometimes lost from glass jars during processing?

A. Loss of liquid may be due to cooking food too short a time to drive out the air that's in it before packing it in the jars—packing jars too full—leaving air bubbles in the jars—not keeping pressure steady in a pressure canner—lowering pressure too suddenly at the end of the processing period.

Q. Should liquid lost during processing be replaced?

A. No, never open a jar and refill with liquid—this would let in bacteria and you would need to process again. Loss of liquid does not cause food to spoil, though the food above liquid may darken.

Q. Is it all right to use preservatives in home canning?

A. Do not use canning powders or other chemical preservatives—some of them may be harmful. Sterilization by heat is safer and more certain.

Q. What causes cloudy liquid in canned fruits and vegetables?

A. Cloudy liquid may be a sign of spoilage. Or it may be caused by the minerals in hard water, or by starch from over-ripe vegetables.

Q. How can you tell whether food with cloudy liquid is spoiled?

A. Boil the food and note the odor. Do not taste or use any food having an off odor.

Q. Is it safe to leave food in tin cans after opening?

A. Yes, but like fresh-cooked food, food in tin cans needs to be covered and kept in a refrigerator or other cold place.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

RECENT TRANSFORMATION at the Jerome Thompson home, 1061 Ross street, was the enclosing of a side porch thereby making it into another room in which to try and escape the heat. The new enclosed porch is finished inside in knotty pine, with jalousie style windows inset around the three walls. Roe Lumber company supplied the materials, except the windows, and Thompson hired a local carpenter to do the work. Regular beveled wood siding completes the outside building scheme.

New Furnace Provides Hobby Room Space, Basement Recreation Area for Entire Family

"How can I use the additional space available in my basement?" This is a question which many a space-hungry owner of the "middle-age" house is asking himself as he tries to figure out how to expand his house to meet the space needs of a growing family.

Well, here are a few suggestions on uses to which basement space can be applied:

There is always the basement recreation room and game room which has been standard basement application practice for the past 20 years, and which still comes in handy for the youngsters' use when conducting birthday parties, record sessions, etc.

How about a TV room—a mid-century adaptation of the recreation room? It would be a good place for the kids to watch cowboy movies while the older folks chat in quiet conversation without the "bang bang" of 45's all over the upstairs.

Then, for record collectors, the basement could be made over into an ideal place in which to play their choice collector's items together with properly designed record storage facilities. Particularly for Hi-Fi enthusiasts, a basement "listening" room can be designed and constructed to provide best acoustics.

A basement lends itself well to the design of a home owner's work-bench and working facilities can be provided.

How about a "family reunion dining room"? With home entertaining back in style and the average dining room too small to handle large numbers of people, the basement can be equipped with tables that fold neatly into the wall, but, when opened, can be extended out practically the entire length of the room to serve the whole gang.

Mother may appreciate having the basement made into a sewing room. Especially if she has several daughters to sew for. It can be properly lighted and equipped with the necessary cutting table, fitting platform, and drawers, cupboards, and shelves to handle sewing supplies.

A "downstairs" gym for athletically-inclined individuals also fits into the basement usage pattern. It can be equipped with punching bag, dumbbell racks, rowing machine, waist-reducer, and other athletic gear. Locker

First step toward hobby room in the basement is to install a modern comfort-producing, compact, new warm air furnace with out-of-the-way ducts tucked close to the ceiling. Here you see a basement where this first step has been taken. Sketches show ways in which you can develop the useable space thus created.

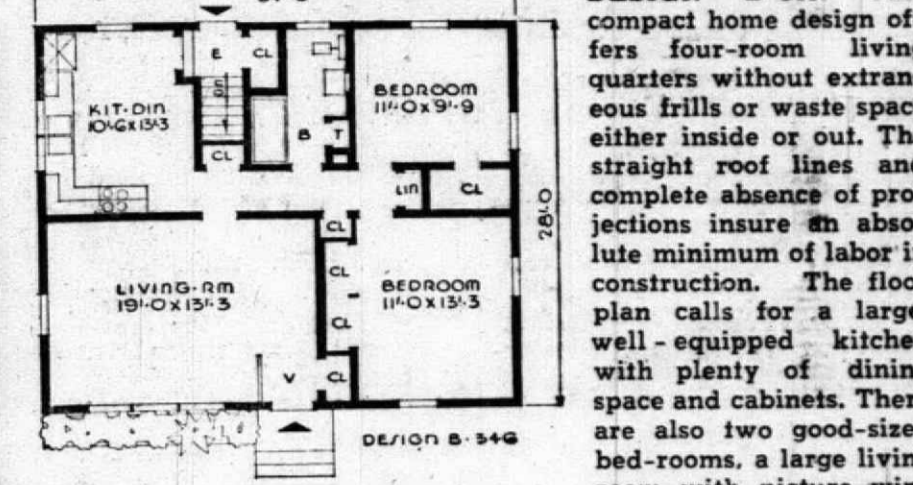

"Build-it-yourself work shop" for dad shown in far corner of modernized basement. In foreground is automatic laundry for mom, ironer at right.

Popular use of modernized basement is for TV and record players. Here Hi-Fi enthusiast can control acoustics through sound-absorbent ceiling tiles, drapes, varying placement of speakers.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-346

DESIGN B-346. This compact home design offers four-room living quarters without extraneous frills or waste space either inside or out. The straight roof lines and complete absence of projections insure an absolute minimum of labor in construction. The floor plan calls for a large, well-equipped kitchen with plenty of dining space and cabinets. There are also two good-sized bedrooms, a large living room with picture window and eight closets, including linen and towel closets. There is a full basement leading down from a grade entry. Plans call for frame construction throughout, finished with wide siding and asphalt shingles. Floor area is 952 sq. ft. with 18,564 cu. ft. Quality Pays Off

A durable house is your best bargain. Go out and see for yourself. If you find a house of sound construction and quality materials, the chances are it's also outstanding for beauty and working-living efficiency. In home building, durability and beauty mean virtually the same thing. Redwood lumber, for instance, is handsome and life-lasting. Countertops of ceramic tile retain their decorative appeal forever. It's the old story of quality paying off. So remember this simple formula: If it's made to last, it's made to live in.

Browsing with BARBARA

Now that most of the merchants in town are clearing out summer items, this is a good opportunity for you folks to pick up some real bargains.

If you've been sliding by this picnic season with make-shift facilities for outdoor cooking and force your needs along this line for another year, you're really in luck. You can pick up one of these portable barbecues or build-it-yourself outdoor fireplace kits at reduced price over at Eckles Coal and Supply company, 882 Holbrook.

A particularly nice line are the Majestic portable barbecues or Dude Wagons which you can get in three models—standard, gold-colored or the deluxe stainless steel with automatic barbecue spit.

Set up on an attractive wheeled base, this portable barbecue has two shelves on each side for working space. These fold up, revealing handles to transport the cooking unit to car, beach or where you want it to go.

The charcoal area can be raised in height or lowered to provide intense or simmering heat, whichever you prefer for your foods. A drawer underneath the fuel unit catches the burned-out coals and is easily removed. Added space for storing charcoal or other items is provided on the wheeled stand on which the portable barbecue unit rests.

Complete kits with instructions, as well as all materials for building permanent outdoor fireplaces are also available at Eckles.

The metal unit, manufactured by Donley Brothers company of Cleveland, Ohio, contains supports for grates at two levels, a fuel door, enclosed sides, hinged top and ash door. In addition it has projections at three levels to support movable grates, or you can get solid-top sections as substitutes for one of both upper grids.

The hinged top, when horizontal, prevents escape of smoke except through a chimney, or when used with a charcoal fire, may be swung upward against the chimney to protect masonry from soot. The latched, aluminum fire door makes it easy to move or replace grates. The ash-pit door below grate level serves as a draft regulator.

An especially nice feature of this Donley unit is that you can pull it completely out of the masonry for storing, moving or for cleaning operations.

And for some unusually attractive ideas on outdoor fireplaces and how to build them, you might like to pick up one of the inexpensive booklets available at Eckles.

HOUSING AT MID-YEAR

New building activity is expected to break last year's record in dollar volume, according to government estimates. But the whole story can't be told in terms of quantity alone. What is really significant, according to officials in the building field, is that modern home building has confidence, style and a definite sense of direction. Fine materials, both inside and outside the house, are being used in creative new ways. Daring innovations are made with skill and poise. Ceramic tile, for instance, has been used for exterior wall paneling with high success. Luxury and practicality have been combined in even the modest-priced home.

Floors Can Be Enriched by Wax Alone

Many experts believe that a wood floor that has been treated with nothing but wax is the most beautiful floor of all.

The common method is to apply a sealer to a new or sanded wood floor and then apply wax, but the patient homeowner who buffs a solvent type wax into the "raw" wood without using a sealer will in time develop a rich lustre in the grain that will be a joy to see.

Some of the most beautiful floors in the world are to be found in century-old castles and churches in Europe which have been enriched with countless waxings, usually applied by servants who skated around the floors with rags tied to their feet. There being no sealer to act as interlayer between the wax and the wood, the wax impregnated the wood and grew old and lustrous with the grain.

Solvent type waxes clean as they polish, especially when applied with an electric polisher which makes the operation a breeze. A new single brush machine recently put on the market can be guided with the fingertips.

The number of modern plumbing and heating stores owned by contractor-dealers has more than tripled in the last ten years, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Prices On Eggs Expected To Rise

Prices for high quality eggs may be expected to increase rapidly during the month of August. This outlook for the egg market was included in a report on the outlook for cattle, hogs, eggs and poultry made by farm economists at Michigan State University.

According to the economists, prices for grade A large eggs may be 20 to 25 cents a dozen above the June price by mid-October. However, poor quality eggs and small-sized eggs will not increase as much in price.

The poultry outlook indicates a decline in prices for old hens during summer and early fall. October is usually the lowest price month of the year.

Prices of broilers and fryers are expected to stay at present levels during the remainder of August. They'll strengthen some in September but will drop again in October, November and December.

Experts predict that by 1956 monthly consumption of coal by electric utility plants will regularly exceed 10 million tons a month.

Lists Care Tips On Casual Clothes

With the trend to casual living, most of us spend a greater amount of our budget for casual clothes. They are far from being inexpensive! Yet we sometimes feel that because they fall into the "casual class," they will stand up under the wear and tear of all the conditions we encounter in our outdoor living and playing.

The National Institute of Dry Cleaning explains that those sports slacks, shirts, and shorts need professional spot removal if you are the victim of some staining substances, especially grass, mustard and catsup stains, during your outdoor living.

Grass staining is very common during the summer months. Mere contact with grass is not sufficient to produce stains — but should you fall and actually rub the grass by a rubbing action, pressure or both, you will stain your clothing.

Don't let a grass stain age in your garment. Have it removed immediately. The older the stain, the more difficult is removal. In some cases, it may be impossible to remove a stain allowed to remain for long in the fabric. It is not advisable to attempt home methods of stain removal on grass stains. They require special complicated techniques as well as special reagents that involve risk in the hands of an untrained person. Actually, you are dealing with two types of stains in one — the pigment chlorophyll, and complex tannin compounds.

Outdoor cooking and food preparation has also brought with it the chance of more staining of your casual garments with mustard and catsup. Both of these have artificial coloring materials added to them. Again, there are two distinct types of staining substances in each — a dye stain, and a tannin stain. The tannin staining substances must be removed before attempting to erase the dye stain. Techniques differ on all types of fabric, and removal is not as simple as you may think!

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Acne is a problem faced often by teen-agers, as if they didn't have enough emotional problems during that wonderful, but frequently trying, period of their lives.

Acne is a disease of the tiny oil glands of the skin. It is found most often on the face. When these glands don't get the proper amount of stimulation in the form of exercise and thorough cleanliness, tiny red pimples form. The result is an acne condition of the skin.

The sooner you begin work on a sluggish acne-type skin, the better your chances are to prevent permanent scars. Proper cleansing and exercise must be coupled with at least eight hours of sleep each night. Drink plenty of water each day and get a certain amount of sunlight. Don't over-do the sun treatment, however.

Cleanliness is very important, so bathe frequently, both your face and body. Shampoo your hair as often as it needs it. Keep away from oily or creamy-type makeup.

Avoid eating rich or fried foods of any kind. Chocolate, nuts, soft drinks, creamy foods, sugar, and oils have no place in your diet.

Never squeeze blemishes. Your doctor can give you a mild, antiseptic ointment that shrinks the pores, a good mild soap and an astringent to stimulate.

Don't try to treat an advanced case of acne at home. You must consult a doctor.

Sandwiches Fit Into Any Occasion

Whether it's a meal, a late evening snack or the highlight of an afternoon party, sandwiches fit the occasion.

Supper sandwiches should be hearty. Use plenty of meat or cheese on fresh buns or bread. But party sandwiches should be light and just as pretty to look at as they are good to eat. For these party foods be sure to contrast fillings, shapes and garnishes and display them attractively on trays and platters.

Here are some tricks in making party sandwiches. The bread should be one day old as it will cut more easily. And if you cannot buy bread sliced the thickness you want, then a sharp knife and a cutting board are necessities.

Another suggestion is to cut the bread lengthwise so the spreading of the filling will be easier and you will have less slices to handle. All bread should be sliced at the same time and before any of the actual sandwich making is done. Slicing, too, is much easier if all but the bottom crust is removed.

To prevent bread from drying out, keep the slices stacked and in a pan lined with a damp cloth and covered with wax paper. Cover the sliced bread with wax paper and a damp cloth, too.

Butter should be creamed until it is the proper consistency to spread. Melted butter only soaks into the bread and makes the sandwiches soggy. Fillings and garnishes should be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator.

Work Force Increases, Deaths Drop Since '33

Although the number of American workers has increased nearly 50 per cent since the depression year of 1933, the number of workers killed on the job has gone down.

According to the 1955 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," there were 14,000 workers killed on the job in 1954. In 1933, with a much smaller work force, the number was 14,500.

The Council noted that 1954 was the eighth consecutive year in which the accident frequency rate of its industrial members has been reduced.

Accidental Poisoning Hikes Home Death List

Aspirin can be as deadly as an asp — if eaten in quantities by young children.

The 1955 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, shows aspirin and the salicylates to be the most common drug killers of young children. Barbiturates are next. All are frequently kept in the family medicine chest within reach of children, the Council says.

Accidental poisoning is one of the principal causes of home deaths among children under five years old. Three main groups of poisons caused 99 per cent of the deaths: drugs (35 per cent), petroleum products, of which kerosene is the most important (26 per cent), and products for external use (38 per cent).

Lead is the No. 1 killer among the external use products, and arsenic is second. Caustics, such as lye, cresol and ammonia, rat poisons and fly sprays also rank high. Other dangerous products include shampoos, rubbing solutions, bleaches, moth balls and furniture polish.

Redford, Livonia Still Lead County In Construction

Neighboring Livonia again ranked among the leaders in home construction as the Regional Planning commission compiled lists of building permits in the area for the first six months of 1955.

A total of 943 dwellings were constructed in Livonia during that period, ranking them second in Wayne county. Redford township, with 1,314 permits still headed the list.

Plymouth township, as reported in The Mail several weeks ago, had 62 new dwelling units and Plymouth city had 45 (including a 20-unit apartment).

Northville township is rapidly outbuilding Northville city. The township had 20 new units constructed during the first half of the year while Northville city had but six.

Neighboring Canton township had 23 permits issued for new housing units and Salem township in Washtenaw county had eight.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $1,400.00 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Faddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of such opinion shall be paid by the City. The cost of printing the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser of the bonds. Radio-Telephone System Now In Operation

TRANSMITTER for the radio-telephone system is pictured above being examined by William E. Schwartz, of the Clover Television Service. Below is Harry Roberts, superintendent of the Utilities Line Construction company, contacting his office through use of the mobile phone system. He stated that his company saved thousands of dollars by being able to dispatch his repair crews by radio following recent storms in the Detroit area.

Serving As We Would Wish to be Served

A Familiar Name

The Schrader name is a familiar name in Plymouth, for the Schrader family has been in the funeral-directing profession since 1904. Many of those who call us for the first time, base their decision on our reputation for offering outstanding service—at a most moderate price.

SCHRADER Funeral Home

280 SOUTH MAIN STREET

A new mobile telephone system for cars and trucks operating within a 35 mile range of Plymouth is now in business here. Known as the "Clover Communications Division" of Clover Television Service, the radio-telephone system is now used by one large Plymouth business and other individuals and firms are expected to become subscribers later on.

Actually, the new service is a public utility. No one can be refused the service and rates are set by the Federal Tariff commission.

The Clover transmitter is located at 173 West Liberty street with the 100-foot antenna erected atop their building. At present, the only subscriber is the Utilities Line Construction company which has the radio-telephones in the cars of its foremen.

William Schwartz, major owner of the Clover firm, said that he expects to start a selling campaign soon to invite other companies and individuals to take advantage of the service. Several doctors have been interested in the service, Schwartz indicated.

Although radio-telephone is not new, its use in the area has been restricted because the closest transmitter is in Detroit. The local transmitter has an effective output of about 500 watts which is beamed about 35 miles.

The system works like this: by picking up the telephone on the dashboard, the motorist talks by radio to an operator in the Clover office. They tell the operator the telephone number they want and the radio call is switched to the telephone. Others can call a car with a mobile phone by calling an unlisted number in the Clover office.

1955 Deer Laws Similar to 1951's

Michigan this fall is headed back to about the same deer hunting regulations as were used in 1951.

The state Conservation Commission will study Conservation Department recommendations on August 14-15, calling for a regular November 15-30 statewide firearm season on legal bucks and an October 1-November 5 bow and arrow season.

The bow and arrow season, as recommended, permits archers to take one "any" deer during the season. The regulations would be in effect everywhere except in Menominee, Emmet, Cheboygan, Bay and Huron counties and the mainland of Chippewa county where only a legal buck could be taken.

These regulations are nearly the same as 1951; in that year, any deer could be taken with bow and arrow in Bay and Huron counties.

Also, recommendations call for an October 1-December 15 bow and arrow season for taking any deer in Allegan county and for a special any-deer, firearm season in part of the county, December 1-11. These, too, are similar to 1951 regulations, except the special firearm season is somewhat liberalized in area and dates.

Last year the American people gave an average rate of $163 per minute in support of the many Red Cross service programs to civilians, servicemen, and veterans.

The world looks black to the person who thinks nobody knows as much as he does.

LETTERBOX

Mr. Sterling Eaton
Plymouth Mail
271 S. Main
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Mr. Eaton:

By this time you have probably heard that the Citizens' Auxiliary Committee has presented a bus to the patients of Northville State Hospital. As you know, the purchase of this bus was made possible by the proceeds obtained from the Northville Country Fair held last June 25th on the grounds of the hospital.

Naturally, all of us having a part in the Fair are very grateful to everyone who worked with us. Because of this, the members of the Citizens' Auxiliary Committee have asked me to write you expressing our most sincere thanks for the important role you played in insuring our success. We all appreciate the fact that we could not possibly have reached our goal without the personal support and active cooperation of you and others like you throughout Wayne County.

I am sure that I may add the thanks of the patients at Northville, their families and the members of the hospital staff to those of the Committee for your participation in this community project.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Lee Keller, Secy.

Rural Mail Carriers Count Game Population

About 350 rural and star route mail carriers are counting deer and grouse in the upper and northern lower peninsulas as part of a Conservation Department census study.

The count is an annual late summer survey and will run August 1-20. Carriers count total numbers of birds and whitetails seen on their regular delivery routes. A comparison with totals seen in previous years gives an over-all index of population useful both to the hunter and game research.

Department game specialists expect the census will show grouse numbers up slightly from last year while deer numbers will probably be about the same as in 1954. Grouse are currently at a low point in their 10-year high-to-low population cycle.

Results of the study are expected in early September.

keeping in touch

Michigan State university has sent word that two Plymouth men, George Merryweather and Neal Akerlind, both of the Merry-Hill Nursery, were in Lansing last week to attend the annual Nursery and Landscape conference.

Anybody who has been "keeping in touch" with Edward Lewis Halliwill, formerly of 545 North Harvey street, should inform him that the auditor general has a Korean bonus check for him. Halliwill is one of 150 Korean veterans whose bonus checks were not delivered because the recipients had moved and left no forwarding address.

If it's something new in the way of entertainment you want, some of the country's leading physical culturists will compete in the fourth annual weight lifting and physical contest this Saturday at Metropolitan beach starting at 2 p.m. They will lift up to 600 pounds dead weight and the selection of Mr. Metropolitan Beach will climax the event.

Vaughn Smith, former Plymouth police chief and later with the Ford Motor company plant protection department, has now returned to work in Plymouth with Latture Real Estate.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: People who are late are often so much jollier than the people who have to wait for them.—E. V. Lucas.

B-G-R Parent Firm Ups Profit

An increased volume of orders has led to an 81 per cent increase in dividends over 1954 for the Associated Spring corporation, the parent firm of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond of Plymouth.

The increased volume of orders stemmed in part from the booming automotive, electrical appliance and electronic industries. Net sales for the first half of 1955 hit a near-record level of $26,742,385.

Net earnings, after taxes, amounted to $1,702,089, or $2.23 per share, compared to $939,206 or 1.23 per share in the first half of 1954.

"On the basis of incoming orders and the high level of general business activity, the last half of this year should prove quite satisfactory," Carlisle F. Barnes, president, told Associated Spring's more than 4,000 stockholders.

The corporation has 11 divisions located in the U.S. and Canada manufacturing precision mechanical springs and spring-steel products.

Townsend Plant Has New Building

The Townsend company, of which the local Dunn Steel company is a division, has announced that it is moving from its old plant at Fallston, Pennsylvania to a modern $1,000,000 factory on the outskirts of Elwood City 10 miles away.

When the firm's 750 employees return to work August 15 from their vacation, the 175 finishing department employees will report to the new location and will find their 622 machines installed and ready to operate.

The move is the first in 127 years for the 139-year-old Townsend company. It was in 1828 that the firm moved its plant from Pittsburgh to the community of Fallston, just across the Beaver River from New Brighton, Pennsylvania. When the building program is complete, the old property will be sold. The new plant is the first phase of a $4,500,000 building program on the 115-acre site.

The Townsend company can produce 60,000,000 rivets, nuts, bolts and other kinds of industrial fasteners and cold-headed parts in a single day. They are used in almost every conceivable manufactured product such as automobiles, trucks, buses, aircraft, trains, appliances and in construction.

Recent pay raises are a sign of increased purchasing power — and also increased prices.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

State police and the Ontonagon county Sheriff's Department are still investigating the air crash that killed Jerome R. Seaman, Shelbyville crop-duster pilot who was working on contract for the Conservation Department.

Seaman was spraying plant-killing chemicals on a section of Ottawa national forest in a cooperative state-federal game management project.

He took off from Watersmeet airport at 6:15 a.m. Friday with a 50-gallon tank of chemicals and three hours fuel supply in his Piper Cub. His plan was to spray an area surveyed the previous day and return to the airport within an hour.

When he failed to return, a search was started but rain and fog kept other planes from flying. The hunt was continued from the ground.

At 2:30 p.m. Seaman's plane was found about half a mile from the airport, demolished in a stand of trees. His watch was stopped at 6:18 a.m.

The oldest reported archery deer hunter was William H. Osborn, Manistique, who was 84 years old during the 1954 hunting season.

Osborn wrote the Conservation Department when an earlier report indicated that Joseph Gatzert, 78, of Baraga, was the oldest archer last season.

Osborn bagged deer in 1951 and 1953. Last year he wounded one, probably fatally, but it got away. This year, again, he has high hopes for success.

He was nine years old when he first went squirrel and rabbit hunting in 1880 and 21 when he bagged his first deer with a shotgun in 1892.

Michigan is wasting a large portion of its annual crop of aspen, a recently-completed study of lower peninsula state forests shows.

At present, there appears no way the waste can be prevented or reduced, but the Conservation Department hopes somebody grabs the ball soon and runs with it, or the situation may develop into a serious threat to the future productivity of state aspen stands.

The survey shows that 81,000 cords of aspen pulpwood could be harvested annually from public forests in the northern lower peninsula. The latest five-year average cut was 17,000 cords annually.

The problem probably won't be solved until market conditions change or until more pulpwood mills are constructed in the region.

At present, one large mill is using most pulpwood production from the northern lower peninsula.

Department foresters have worked on the survey since 1951. Permanent study plots, to be used in future work, were established on about 1,800,000 acres of public land during the study. The upper peninsula is now being studied in the same way.

One of the long-range worries in not cutting enough aspen is the possibility of forests turning "ragged." Where loggers can clean out aspen, sprout growth will bring an even-growing stand in its place. But when a mature stand goes to waste, a mixed, non-usable stand grows in its place, making the forest poor for future timber operations.

Jackpine, the study shows, is being cut close to capacity. A 16,000-cord annual cut is possible. Last year, operators logged off 15,000 cords. The five-year average cut was 11,000 cords.

Long-range Department hopes include managing forests in such a way that timber operations can be regulated to fit the growth pattern. Aspen needs careful regulation because it matures more rapidly and wastes quicker than other species.

A misguided beaver was live-trapped recently trying to dam up a storm sewer in Rogers City.

Conservation officer Ned Curtis was called when startled city police reported an animal emerged from the sewer, lopped off a bush and dragged it up the 12-inch opening.

Neither the sewer nor a nearby ditch held any water, but that didn't stop the beaver.

Curtis parked a live-trap at the entrance of the sewer and bagged the confused little engineer the first night.

The only problem is, Rogers City officials are wondering about the dam. Is it completed or not? What happens when the first big rain comes? Down on hands and knees, it's possible to peer up the sewer, but all there is to see is blackness.

The beaver, who could answer official questions, has no time for discussion. He's busy building dams on the Swan River, where Curtis released him, five miles southeast of the city.

Dearborn Boy Scouts received a pat on the back from Warren Dunes state park manager Lyle McDonald for helping clean up the park recently.

With a skeleton crew, the manager faced a mammoth cleanup job after a recent busy weekend. Troop D-2 of Dearborn, on a campout at the park, pitched in and worked several hours with the manager.

"We could never have finished the job in time without the help of the youngsters," McDonald wrote in his report. He added that he planned to write the troop leader a letter of commendation.

Four plants under construction to provide electric power for Atomic Energy plants at Paducah, Ky., and Portsmouth, O., will be the largest in the world and use almost 16.5 million tons of coal a year by 1958.
