

Prosecutor's Opinion Ties Up Canton Drive-in Theatre Issue

An opinion from the Wayne county prosecutor's office has tied Canton township's drive-in theatre controversy up in knots. The township board had promised last month to render a decision at their regular monthly meeting held Tuesday night on whether they would allow or deny a change in zoning which would permit construction of the outdoor theatre. It would be situated on Ford road near Sheldon.

Southern Baptist Group Purchases Lutheran Site

Plymouth's newest church, a branch of the Southern Baptist association, welcomed its congregation in a new location Sunday with services held for the first time in the former St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, East Spring street.

Started July 5 with a series of tent revival meetings, the church has grown from a charter membership of nine at the close of the three-week revival to a present total of 31. It was officially organized from the status of a mission on August 28. Prior to purchasing the Lutheran church building, services were held in the Grange hall.

Reverend Royal Martin, pastor, said the Plymouth church was organized following a survey taken by the Southern Baptist association. It was found that prospects for having a large and active church of that denomination were more favorable in Plymouth than in surrounding communities due to the increasing number of southern residents.

Martin added that "many of these residents who attended church back home had stopped going because there was no church of their denomination in this area." He stated that the Plymouth church had outgrown any church in Michigan in size of congregation for the period of time it had been here.

The Southern Baptist association has a membership of 8,000,000 throughout the United States. Six branches of the denomination were started in Michigan three years ago. There are now 32 Southern Baptist churches scattered throughout the state.

A baptistry will be built in the former Lutheran church with other remodeling projects to be undertaken at a later date. A familiar landmark, the white frame building was partially constructed in 1883 with a later addition erected in 1924 on the east portion of the structure.

Martin reported that 95 per cent of the members are from the area.

Survey Indicates That No Shopping Centers are Planned for Vicinity

There are no shopping centers in the wind for the Plymouth area, according to a survey taken by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, but at least two will be constructed between here and Detroit. Sheldon Shopping Center located at Plymouth and Farmington roads is already a reality. It was occupied in November 1953 but actually is only one-third complete. Original plans call for 30 stores to be located in the center. It will have an estimated cost of $5,000,000, a parking lot for 3,300 cars and will cover 36 acres.

Mrs. Harry Foster Succumbs at 49 Years

Services will be held Friday at the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Harry Foster, age 49, of 1396 Ann Arbor trail, who succumbed Wednesday morning at Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, after a long illness. Mrs. Foster was well known to many residents for her operation of the Mary Foster cosmetics firm. Funeral arrangements were incomplete at prestime. Friends and relatives may call the Schrader Funeral home for additional information.

township's zoning board. The dilemma arises because the zoning board was hung with a 2-2 vote.

Although nearly 40 citizens again appeared at Tuesday night's meeting, the discussion was carried on mainly between the board and Ralph Garber, 46225 North Territorial road, owner of the land on which the theatre would be constructed. Garber, who is chief assistant Wayne county prosecutor, appeared surprised at the legal opinion coming from his office.

Garber denounced the fact that the zoning board has an even number of members which can make a tie possible. Supervisor Louis Stein indicated that legislation soon will make more members possible. He also told Garber that perhaps the zoning board could be called together to reconsider.

A public hearing on the zoning change was held August 23. About 50 citizens appeared at the hearing, most of whom protested the drive-in theatre. They and others who signed petitions based their objections on the litter, traffic, noise and decreased evaluation of their properties which a theatre would bring.

To Give Second Polio Vaccine Shots Next Week

Children who received their Salk polio shots in Plymouth's public and parochial schools late last spring will be administered their second shots next Wednesday and Thursday, it was announced this week.

Unlike Detroit and several other communities, Plymouth area health officials decided not to give the shots at special clinics this summer, but to wait until school resumed. The summer clinics in those communities proved unsuccessful.

Only those children who received the shots last spring will be given the second shots. All first and second grade pupils whose parents signed permission slips were given the shots. The same pupils would be in the second and third grades this year.

Here is the schedule: Wednesday, 9 a.m. Allen, Hough and Bartlett at Allen.

Wednesday, 12:30 p.m., Starkweather only.

Thursday, 9 a.m., Smith, Cherry Hill, Canton Center and Truesdell at Smith.

Thursday, 12:30 p.m., Bird, Lutheran Day school and Our Lady of Good Counsel at Bird.

All local physicians have been asked to participate in the program which is being coordinated by Dr. R. R. Barber, city health officer, and Dr. Frederick Bentley, township health officer.

USING SAWS AND sledges, workers at right are tearing away the aircraft's frame to free the bodies of the crash's two victims. An ambulance from the Wayne county morgue, left, waits to take the bodies to Detroit for examination. It was found that the men perished due to flames, not from injuries.

Board of Education Adopts New School District Name

Plymouth Township School District will be known as the "Plymouth Community School District" after September 26, according to action taken by the board of education at its monthly meeting Monday night.

The name change came about following a request from the Wayne County Board of Education asking for a definite name by September 21, or else be assigned a name and number by the county board. A school code adopted by the legislature this year requires fourth class schools to decide or be assigned definite names or numbers.

Although the school board could have selected its own name, the group voted unanimously to delete "Township" and add "Community" because of a misnomer. The district, they pointed out, not only includes Plymouth township and city, but also parts of Canton township, Northville township and Superior township.

A resolution asking for the name change is now being drafted to present to the county board before their next meeting on September 21.

Enrollment Hits Peak of 3,844

A total of 3,844 youngsters are enrolled in the Plymouth Township Public schools, according to the first count made this week. Superintendent Russell Isbister had estimated last month that there would be at least 3,800.

The figure is 423 higher than started school a year ago — or equivalent to what an elementary school should hold.

The system's three newest elementary schools were constructed for 420 pupils, but they have between 80 and 100 more. Some of the increased enrollment (146 pupils) is due to the annexation of Truesdell, Cherry Hill and Canton Center schools. Here is the enrollment found in each school this week: Senior High, 998; Junior high, 588; Allen elementary, 495; Bird elementary, 538; Smith elementary, 505; Starkweather elementary, 455.

Bartlett elementary, 48; Hough elementary, 71; Canton Center, 26; Cherry Hill, 47; Truesdell, 73. Enrollment is at its highest peak in the history of the local school system. The elementary schools are using all types of auxiliary rooms for classrooms.

Township Civil Defense Unit Resumes Meetings

Meetings of the Plymouth Township Civil Defense unit will resume tomorrow night, Friday, September 16, it was announced by Director Lep F. Flowers. It will be held at the township hall starting at 7:30 o'clock.

A short film on Civil Defense will be shown and reorganization of the unit for all types of emergencies will take place. Anyone interested in donating a few hours each month to Civil Defense work is invited, Flowers said. Children will also be welcome to attend.

41 Civic Groups Forming Plans For UN Birthday

About 75 persons representing 41 Plymouth civic organizations gathered Tuesday evening at the high school to form plans for a co-ordinated observance of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

The meeting was chaired by Miss Helen Beavers, appointed to head up the observance committee by Mayor Russell Daane in accordance with President Dwight D. Eisenhower's proclamation. Although Monday, October 24, has been set aside as United Nations Day, Plymouth will kick off its observance on Sunday, October 16.

On that date the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, also celebrating its 10th birthday this season, will pay tribute at its first program. The symphony, conducted by Wayne Dunlap, will consist of music of the international level on the themes of human brotherhood and freedom.

Speaking during the symphony's intermission will be Dr. Robert C. Angell, sociology professor at the University of Michigan and formerly active in UN activities. He will interpret functions of the UN.

Highlighting last Tuesday evening's planning meeting were reports by various persons indicating the large celebration that will be heralded in Plymouth on the anniversary days of the UN.

Group discussions at the meeting revealed that six or seven organizations already have plans in the making that will add to the observance. In addition, Mrs. Thomas Bateman reported the plans of the local church women. She included the announcement that a meeting will be held on November 4, which is World Community Day.

The Reverend M. I. Johnson gave affirmative response of Plymouth ministers toward the idea of observing the anniversary, Frank McGough, representing Father Francis Byrne, reported that five Catholic organizations were represented at the meeting and were prepared to observe the UN's anniversary.

Herb Woolweaver, adult education and recreation director, led the group in a discussion of the best way to observe Monday, October 24, which is the actual birthday of the UN.

The four service clubs, Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and Optimists, are making plans for a joint meeting shortly at which time their plans for observance of the UN will be formed.

Police Caution Against Pick-up-Attempts Here

Two instances have been reported to police within a week where girls have been stopped by men in cars, asking them if they want to ride.

One incident happened last Saturday evening and the other Monday night. The drivers went on after being refused.

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said that the two incidents point out the need for parents to remind their children to use caution in dealing with strangers. Children receiving such invitations should note the car's license number and report it to police, he added.

A $170,122 Error

In a financial statement of St. Mary Hospital published last week in The Mail, it was erroneously reported that $170,122 had been paid in cash and that there were unpaid pledges of $327,089. The $327,689 figure should have included both the cash received and outstanding pledges.

Late Monday Store Hours Satisfactory

Local merchants' initial experiment with the first Monday night opening in the history of Plymouth proved to be more successful than most of the businessmen expected. While later store hours last Monday evening did not bring about a stampede of customers, most of the merchants agreed that business was better than had been anticipated.

The Monday night store hours experiment was announced recently by the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce following a vote taken by its members. The trial opening will run for a six-month period which marks the first time that Plymouth stores will remain open for two nights during the week.

Approximately 27 local stores complied with the vote to remain open on Mondays until nine p.m. Although a few of the stores reported that trade traffic there was slim, these all agreed that the experiment would necessarily have to be given a fair trial period in order to establish whether or not the innovation would work permanently.

In an informal census of most of the stores that remained open Monday night The Mail received various answers, most of which indicated that the experiment had a well-founded basis for trial. Reports on business at individual stores ranged from the opinion that it had been a real success to the fact that trade had been slow.

But the majority of store owners or salesmen indicated that the initial experiment had turned out to be a success. Other remarks garnered from the poll were: "very satisfied," "customers remarked on the merit of the Monday night opening," "a nice turn out," "kept a little busy right up to closing time," "regular business," and "comment reserved."

Rule Fliers Died of Burns Not Injuries

The two men who lost their lives when their light plane crashed Sunday afternoon in a Rocker subdivision vacant lot died of burns and not from injuries, it has been determined by the Wayne county medical examiners.

Horace R. Ethier Dies When Struck By Car in Livonia

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Horace R. Ethier, 26-year-old Plymouthite, who was killed when struck by a car on Middle Belt road in Livonia last Saturday. He lived at 687 West Ann Arbor trail.

Ethier was employed by the Harold Thomas Nursery in Livonia and was returning to the nursery as a passenger in the firm's truck. Driving was Albert Vail of Garden City. Livonia police report that it was raining heavily and that as the truck started to make a left turn into the nursery, Ethier stated that he wanted to close the windows of his car parked along the road.

Jumping from the truck, he was immediately struck by a car coming from behind driven by Garvin S. Bradshaw of Farmington. The Plymouthite was dead on arrival at Wayne County General hospital. The accident occurred at 5:58 p.m. Bradshaw was absolved of blame, police said.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday from the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend Henry Walch, D.D., officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Ethier was born on November 13, 1928 in Detroit to Horace J. and Aurilia Charbonneau Ethier. Surviving with his parents are two sons, Gean and Robert; a sister, Mrs. Jacqueline Bouchie of Plymouth; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ethier, Canada. He came to Plymouth in 1936.

Local Old Autos Win Blue Ribbons

Four Plymouth area old car fanciers won blue ribbons Saturday at the annual Greenfield Village old car meet. Over 250 cars of nearly every vintage participated.

Taking old-time vehicles to the affair were Dr. Frederick M. Bentley, 46801 Joy road; Frank Hershey, 12176 Amherst court; Burton Rich, 9500 Brookville road; and Miss Margaret Dunning, 994 Penniman. All four, including two cars entered by Hershey, won blue ribbons.

Dr. Bentley is owner of a four-cylinder Buick touring car; Rich owns a 1920 Willys-Overland; Miss Dunning, a 1923 Model T Ford and Hershey, a 1911 Empire Speedster and 1910 Steven-Durway. The latter was driven by Hershey's son, Gordon.

All of the contestants are members of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America. Although some members hire machinists or mechanics to restore their cars, the local members each did most or all of their own restoration.

The grand prize winner of the day's event revealed that he found his car in a shed and literally carried it home in bushel baskets.

Junior Police Resume Program Monday Night

Plymouth Junior Police will start its second year of activities next Monday when a general meeting of all youngsters interested in the program will take place starting at 7 p.m. The meeting will be in the Junior Police building in the Central Parking lot.

Boys between 11 and 17 years of age are invited to join the organization, according to Officer Maxwell Allen, director of the group's activities. Junior Police was started last summer and attracted 200 boys into membership.

Movies will be shown Monday night and the year's schedule issued. The weekly activities will include rifle shooting on Mondays and Tuesdays, archery on Wednesdays and Thursdays, boxing on Fridays and rifle practice all day Saturday. Adults interested in becoming instructors are being invited to contact Allen at the police department.

Fatally Burned

Fatally burned were Frank Caporali, 35, of 18101 Marcia, Riverview, and Daniel R. Butler, 15, of 22571 Santa Maria, Redford township. Caporali, who had 300 hours of private license flying, had taken the young Civil Air Patrol cadet along to gain experience as an observer.

Although the cause of the deaths have now been determined, it will be some time before the Civil Aeronautics Authority issues a statement pinpointing the cause. It had been a question in the minds of Plymouth township firemen if the men had died in the crash or in the fire which consumed the plane a minute later.

Neighbors who rushed to the scene stated that they believed the men were alive but unconscious when they tried to pull them free. Before the rescuers could pry wreckage away from the pilot and his passenger, fire broke out and consumed the fabric-covered ship in seconds. Cause of the fire also is unexplained officially.

As news of the crash at about 3:15 spread, the neighborhood of new ranch homes was jammed with sightseers and newsmen as well as sheriff's officers and firemen. Pictures and stories of the tragedy were highlighted in the metropolitan newspapers and over radio and television newscasts.

Although the war-surplus Taylorcraft was 12 years old, its owner, Jack Mills of Dearborn township, declared that it was in good working order. It was reported that the observation-type plane was designed for quick landings on short landing strips and that a pilot inexperienced in this type of plane might easily stall the plane.

Onlookers in the Rocker subdivision said that the plane was about 200 feet off the ground and attempting to gain altitude. It suddenly "fell off" to the left and hit the ground at a 45 degree angle with its engine wide open. The two vacant lots in which the plane crashed are about the only vacant ones on Morrison avenue. It is doubted that the pilot had any control over crashing his plane in the vacant lot rather than among the nearby homes.

With the wind coming out of the northwest, the plane took off and crashed about 1,600 feet from the end of the runway.

Township firemen had no chance in, saving any of the plane. It was completely burned by the time they arrived a few minutes after the crash. It was two hours before the medical examiner arrived and the bodies were removed. Firemen, CAP members and ambulance workers of the medical examiner's office undertook the grisly job of removing the charred bodies. All clothing had been burned off.

Hack saws and sledges were used to remove the bodies. Continued on Page 6

Episcopalians To Raise Funds

Members of St. John's Episcopal church voted at a special meeting last Saturday night to open a fund raising campaign for construction of a new church.

The proposed edifice will be located on a site purchased several years ago along Sheldon road. The parsonage is already located on the grounds.

A fund raising expert is expected to arrive this month to help plan the campaign. The Reverend David T. Davies, pastor, said that no definite plans have yet been approved or a definite goal yet set. He said, however, that the church will be of the modified colonial design.

The present frame Episcopal church is located on Maple street at Harvey. It was constructed in 1927. Frank Henderson has been named chairman of the fund campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Arlen

Arlen-Truesdell Nuptials Read In Wayne Methodist Church

At 7:30 Saturday evening, September 3, Miss Alice Lorraine Truesdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Truesdell of 3384 Williams street, Wayne, became the bride of Richard Taylor Arlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arlen of 44875 Sheldon court, Northville. The ceremony was read by the Reverend Guernsey Gorton in the First Methodist church of Wayne.

White gladioli, white mums, greens and candelabra decorated the church altar for the nuptial service. Soloist was Fred Kendall who sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a gown of white lace over taffeta and net, fashioned with portrait neckline. Her veil of illusion was of elbow length and she carried roses and fleur-de-amour centered with an orchid as her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. R. Linn Hamilton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Edrhe Truesdell and Miss Beverly Phillips. They were also gowned in aqua taffeta and carried bouquets identical to that of the matron of honor.

Robert D. Arlen assisted his brother as best man. Guests were seated by Charles Kellogg, Gary Faulkenburg, R. Linn Hamilton and Louis Truesdell.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Truesdell chose a navy sheath dress with light blue accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a light blue sheath with pink accessories. Both wore pink rose corsages.

Many friends and relatives attended the reception which was held in the Fellowship hall of the Wayne Methodist church.

For their honeymoon trip to Gull Lake Country club, Gull Lake, Michigan, the new Mrs. Arlen wore a brown suit with beige accessories.

The couple are making their home in Ypsilanti, where both are students at Michigan State Normal college.

Theater Guild To Plan Plays For Season

The Plymouth Theater Guild will hold its first fall meeting, September 19th at 8:00 p.m. in the Plymouth junior high school gymnasium, it was announced by Jack Wilcox, guild president.

"Plans for the fall production, sometime in November, will be discussed and films of some successful short plays will be shown," Mr. Wilcox said.

"By sticking to comedies the Plymouth Theater Guild has become known as the 'laughing stock of Plymouth', but this season we plan to make one of our three productions a mystery thriller."

The Plymouth Theater Guild has been entertaining Plymouthites with full length Broadway successes since 1948. Bill Merrill of Will-O-Way Playhouse has directed most of them and is scheduled to direct all this season's plays.

Plymouth Theater Guild membership is open to anyone interested in theatrical work. "Acting ability is not a prime requisite," Wilcox said. "Many people are needed behind the scenes to help with staging, costumes, and make-up for our productions."

Anyone interested in joining the Plymouth Theater Guild is invited to contact Mr. C. V. Sparks, 44934 Joy road.

Urge Local Observance Of Constitution Week

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Plymouth and Northville, is urging a city-wide observance of Constitution Week, set aside by proclamation of President Dwight D. Eisenhower during the dates September 17-23 in commemoration of the 168th anniversary of the signing of the American Constitution.

Regent Mrs. Claude A. Cruse said the local D.A.R. in urging a city-wide display of American flags in local homes and shopping centers during that week. Schools have also been requested to encourage the reading and study of the Constitution in their classrooms.

It was on September 17, 1787 that the delegates to the Federal convention in Philadelphia met for the last time and approved the nation's basic instrument of government.

In his proclamation, President Eisenhower stated:

"It is fitting that we, whose entire lives have been protected by the fruits of the Convention's deliberations, should pause in our several occupations to study the course of events by which our Constitution came into being, the great debate which ensued before our Federal Government became established, and the internal stresses and the assaults from without which we, as a Nation have met successfully, with God's help, within the framework established by our forbears 168 years ago . . .

"I invite the people of the United States to observe that week with appropriate ceremonies in their schools and churches, and in other suitable places. Let us give thanks for the wisdom of those statesmen of 1787 who labored to decide the fate of republican government and of their successors throughout our country's history who contributed to making our Constitution a living thing, a great taproot to feed and support the growth of our republic."

The President's proclamation was the direct result of efforts of the D. A. R.

Mrs. Cruse concluded, "Let us all cooperate to make Constitution Week a national reeducation to the fundamental principles of the government of our American Republic."

The planting of some 200 square feet of city property in front of the Methodist parsonage at Adams and Church streets will get underway shortly as a joint project of the Plymouth branch, Michigan division of the Women's National Farm and Garden association, and the City of Plymouth.

The local branch will work with Hugh McAuley, city parks foreman, on the proposed planting.

At its meeting Monday night the club appointed Mrs. Paul Wiedman to head the committee in charge of the project. A study will be made by the group to determine floral varieties and arrangement best suited for that area. Plantings will be donated by the Plymouth organization.

The hat voted best was that of Mrs. Edwin Schrader; the most interesting hobby, Mrs. William Bake; and the best floral specimen, Mrs. Albert Pint. Prizes awarded the winners were a year's subscription to the White House Garden Center in Detroit.

The ten-minute extra for this meeting was a floral arrangement of asters made by Mrs. Albert Pint.

Beth Douglas-Ralph Walch Wed In Afternoon Candlelight Service

Five attendants in an array of fall colors preceded Beth Carol Douglas down the aisle of the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, September 10, when she became the bride of Ralph Alfred Walch. Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Douglas of Ann Arbor road and her bridegroom's parents are the Reverend and Mrs. Henry J. Walch of Church street.

The chancel and communion table were graced with baskets of white mums and gladioli and the pews were adorned with sprays of clematis and ivy tied in satin streamers. Tiers of candelabra and scones with lighted tapers formed the setting for the beautiful three o'clock candlelight service. The Reverend Henry Walch, father of the bridegroom, officiated at the ceremony. Organist was Fred C. Nelson and Nat Sibbold, the soloist, sang "I Love You Truly", "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Beth, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace over satin. Her hooped skirt fell gracefully into a chapel length train of the lace. The fitted bodice and long sleeves with points over the wrists were also of the lace and the portrait neckline was edged with scallops of the lace. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of sequins and seedpearls and she carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

All attendants wore street length sheath dresses of faille with overskirts of matching net. Narrow bands of matching satin fell into long streamers at the back of the skirt and they wore tiny hats of velvet leaves and face veils, matching their gowns. Their bouquets were sprays of fall shades of mums, ivy and croton leaves tied with bronze streamers. All attendants wore chokers of gold with matching gold earrings, the gift of the bride.

Maid of honor was Miss Anne Gould of Flint, former college roommate of Beth. Her gown was of cocoa brown. Bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Covell who wore beige, Miss Iva Lou Kahrl in rust, Miss Mary Lou Hartwick in gold and Miss Jane Jauch of Ironwood, in avocado green.

Assisting Ralph as best man was Joseph Sargent. Seating the guests were Harold Douglas, brother of the bride, John Sargent, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, James Garber and Jerry Dundas of Dearborn.

Mrs. Douglas chose for her daughter's wedding, a street length dress of delphinium blue silk lace over taffeta with matching jacket and pink accessories. Mrs. Walch wore grey blue taffeta and pink accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Veteran's Memorial Center with over 300 guests present from Plymouth, Denver, Colorado, Saginaw, Flint, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Lansing and New York.

Ralph and Beth are honeymooning in northern Michigan. For traveling the bride selected a charcoal blue sheath dress with matching jacket and black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Both young people are graduates of Plymouth high school and both attended the University of Michigan. They will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Coonce

Wayne Resident Becomes Bride of Charles C. Coonce

For her marriage to Charles Carson Coonce, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Coonce of 15716 Maxwell, Plymouth on Saturday, September 10, Miss Sandra Jane Sullivan of Wayne chose an ice-pink, crystalette gown of Dior styling.

The dress was scooped at the neck and featured dropped waistline and full skirt.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a cloche hat made of the same material as the bridal gown. A pearl necklace, gift from her parents, was the bride's only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of white shaggy mums and pink rose buds interspersed with ivy and white satin streamers. White sandals and white gloves of elbow-length completed the bride's ensemble.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan of 34574 Elm, Wayne, was given in marriage by her father. The 7 o'clock ceremony was read by the bridegroom's father, presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, at Kingdom hall, Wayne. A floral arrangement of baskets of gladioli, asters and palms were the decorations for the nuptial service.

Maid of honor was Betty Sullivan, sister of the bride. She was dressed in a deeper shade of pink crystalette with matching headband, veil and accessories. Her corsage was of blue carnations. Louetta Coonce, the bridegroom's sister, and Janet Burtzloff, friend of the young couple, were bridesmaids for the ceremony.

They were gowned in blue crystalette with matching headbands, veils and accessories. Their corsages were of pink carnations and rosebuds.

Richard Burtzloff performed the services of best man. Ray Greenlee and Jerry Finnegan stood up with the young couple and guests were seated by Jerry Sullivan, brother of the bride, and David Hickerson.

For the ceremony Mrs. Sullivan chose a black suit with pink accessories and corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother selected a beige lace dress with turquoise accessories and corsage of carnations.

The reception, held at the home of the bride, was attended by approximately 200 friends and relatives. The guest list included those from Plymouth, Wayne, Detroit, Milford, Belleville, Coldwater, Farmington and Benton Harbor.

For her going-away outfit the new Mrs. Coonce selected a light blue box suit with navy accessories and white orchid corsage.

Following three weeks in Florida, planned as the wedding trip, the couple will reside in Plymouth.

The bride is a graduate of Wayne high school. The bridegroom graduated from Plymouth high school in the class of 1954.

NEWS FROM OUR NEARBY NEIGHBORS

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr.
GARfield 1-5847

The Red Cross Blood Bank will be at St. Michael's school on Wednesday, September 28, from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. The blood in your veins is today's most amazing medicine. Countless lives are saved each day in civilian, military, and veterans' hospitals, thanks to blood. But there is only one resource of blood — people. That's why it's important that everybody get in the habit of giving blood—repeatedly.

Donors may designate what disposition they wish made of their blood, or if they wish, they may repay to another bank. Two hundred donors are required. Call Mrs. D. W. LaFountaine at GA 1-8390 for an appointment or just come over to the hall on the 28th. Red Cross will provide transportation if needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mazur of 9615 Merriman are the proud parents of a son, Glen Jonathan, born in Detroit.

We sincerely hope Mrs. George May of 9810 Blackburn recovers soon. Mrs. May has been in Mount Carmel hospital since last Friday with pneumonia. Her husband and children and all her friends hope she will be back home real soon.

Another new little citizen has made her debut. She is Carol Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gronczewski of 9825 Woodring. Carol Ann was born in Detroit on August 17.

The first event of the season for the Rosedale Gardens Women's Club is the opening dinner starting at 7 tonight in the Presbyterian church, 9601 Hubbard. The dinner speaker will be Helen Lumma. Her subject will be "Place of Women in Community Service". The Rosedale Gardens Women's club also sponsors the Book, Drama, and Bridge club activities. Bridge Lesson information may be obtained from Rita Thompson, GA. 1-6493. May Blankenhagen, GA. 1-7637, will be happy to give you any information you need regarding the book club.

The Rosedale Gardens Cooperative Nursery will begin its fall semester on September 19. Those interested may call Pat Bleeker, GA. 1-3395.

TV SOUND DIRECTOR

If you have a table-model television with side or top speaker, a new gadget may give you distortion-free, console-type fidelity at low cost. The little horn-like director can be screwed or glued to the cabinet around the outside of the speaker opening. It captures sound that otherwise moves straight away from the speaker, and directs it forward into the room. In many cases leather-type finish.

UNWRITTEN LAWS No 70 PASS QUICKER WHEN BEING FOLLOWED

When traffic is heavy, remember that you are not the only driver who wants to pass that slow car up ahead. So, when you pull out to pass and your rear view mirror shows you another car trying to make the pass right behind you, speed up to pass quicker. Pull way up into the gap in the right hand lane to make room for the driver following to pull in behind.

Taking it easy in passing is being a "dog in the manger" in traffic. You prevent someone else from getting ahead. Even more important, if the car behind you doesn't make it you may be involved in a three car accident. Remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Shofstall

James M. Shofstalls Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Celebrating 50 years of married life this week are Mr. and Mrs. James M. Shofstall of 8876 Sheldon. An open house for relatives and friends will be held at the couple's home this Sunday, from 4 to 8 p.m. in honor of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Shofstall were married in Quincy, Illinois on September 14, 1905. In 1927 they moved to Michigan and took up residence here in Plymouth in 1954.

The Shofstalls have three daughters and one son living in the Plymouth-Detroit area: Mrs. William Shekell of Plymouth, Mrs. J. C. Slaughter and Mrs. A. T. Davis, both of Detroit; and Howard, a resident of Wyandotte. Nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren also make up the family list.

In "semi-retirement," Mr. Shofstall, age 70, still keeps active in the business world as salesman for the Electrolux company of Six Mile and Wyoming, Detroit.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Another regular monthly hospital trip was made on Sunday, September 4, to Maybury Sanitarium with the girls taking the veterans cigarettes. Those making the trip were Dorothy Archer, Delores Olaver, Helen Bowring and Chairman Beverly Brown. Plans are in progress for a possible ward trip to the Veterans hospital in Ann Arbor. There is a need for workers to do volunteer work on Mondays, in particular. Further details will be announced later.

Rummage Sale plans are underway with the dates set for Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25 and 26, with the new chairman, Gertrude Danol, heading the sale. Arrangements are made for pick-up service by calling 1217W. Volunteer help will also be needed during the sale, so keep the dates open.

The Pet Contest is over and Chairman Marie Norman would like to thank all those who entered the contest and those who helped make it a success!

Our congratulations to Mary Jane and John Schwartz on the arrival of a new baby daughter, Amy Lynn!

Legislative Chairman Kay Coolman is planning a meeting to make plans for a program to take place this month. Guest speaker will be Martha Griffiths who will give detailed reports on what is being done in Washington for veterans and their widows.

Saturday, September 17, is Constitution Day so be sure to display your flag.

On September 23, Community Service committee is planning a TV Ladies Day visit. Arrangements are being made for a group of women to attend this popular TV program. A bus is to be chartered for transportation to the studio leaving at approximately 10:30 in the morning. Anyone desiring to attend may get full information by calling Marie Norman at 1553W.

Our yearly inspection will take place at the first meeting in October, the date, October 4. All officers, please wear your uniforms and all chairmen, have your books ready to be inspected and please be on time. A floor practice is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

This year's Smorgasbord Dinner chairman is Beatrice Walton, with Lucinda Archer and LeMay Smith as her co-chairmen. The date has been set for Sunday, November 6. We urge you to cooperate with Sister Walton when you are called upon to take a chairmanship or participate in the plans in any way. The success of our projects depends entirely upon the cooperation of each and every member, so let's not let our auxiliary down.

October 1 your 1956 dues are payable. This is our membership month and we strive for new members and to retain the old ones. A membership program will be announced by Chairman Helen Bowring.

Fellow Employees Honor Irene Shaw

Fellow workers of Mrs. Irene B. Shaw, 1341 Sheridan, honored her after 30 years of employment at Ford Motor Company with a dinner recently at the Barbu dining room on Michigan avenue. The guests presented Mrs. Shaw with an orchid and a cameo pin. Nearly 30 friends were in attendance.

In addition Ford Motor Company had earlier presented Mrs. Shaw with a 30-years-of-service pin for her years of employment with the Ford company.

A final inspector at the Ypsilanti plant, Mrs. Shaw indicated that she has no plans as yet for retirement. She has been at the Ypsilanti division for the past eight years. Prior to this she had worked for 22 years at the Phoenix plant.

Jon, 5, and 8-year-old Peter Ackerman get the spaghetti ready for the pot while their mother, Mrs. Wilbert Ackerman of 1068 Southworth, whips up the other ingredients for "Spaghetti Angelo."

Home Economist Endorses "Spaghetti Angelo"

Looking for a good potato substitute? How 'bout trying "Spaghetti Angelo," favorite dish of the Wilbert Ackerman family, 11060 Southworth.

Mrs. Ackerman, who holds a degree in home economics from Michigan State, recommends this recipe for its flavor, nutrition and the variety it lends to any meal customarily accompanied by potatoes. She adds that although she likes to serve "Spaghetti Angelo" with veal or ground beef, non-meat eaters will find it makes an equally tasty dish by itself and won't go "agin" their diets. Here's the recipe:

Spaghetti Angelo
8 ounces of spaghetti
6 medium eggs (one per person)
2/3 cup of freshly grated romano cheese or 1 cup of cheddar
2 tablespoons of chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1/4 teaspoon of Java cracked pepper

1/4 cup of butter
1 clove of garlic, finely minced
1 tablespoon of onion, finely minced.
Cook spaghetti. Beat eggs lightly. Over low heat melt butter in large frying pan. Add parsley, garlic, onion, salt and pepper. Pour in beaten eggs, then add cheese. Stir constantly until the cheese is melted, being careful not to thicken the eggs.
Add the hot drained spaghetti and toss as for a salad. Serve at once.

Grange Cleanings

This is "Booster Night". Are you coming to help boost our splendid Grange into yet better things? This is an open night when you may invite your friends in that they may meet some of our members — who knows, they might want to join us. So come on, you "stay at homes" and bring someone with you.

The rummage sale was quite successful last Saturday. Our Bazaar and Bake sale comes next so bear that in mind — October 14 is the date. Further particulars next week.

The National Grange will be in Cleveland this fall, from November 17-23. Several of our own Grange members are planning to attend and the plan is to go in with Washtenaw members and charter a bus. Tickets may be obtained from State Master Brake. Those wishing to go may call our secretary, Hilda Lunn. She will handle it for you. It is a wonderful opportunity.

Election of officers will come in October so be prepared to come and vote. And if you are nominated for an office, don't say "I can't" but accept it and do the best you can. It is good training.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk are visiting their daughter in Illinois at present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oldenburg returned last Saturday from a week's vacation at Pine Island at Miss Lovewell's cottage. A lovely place to go.

We are happy to state that we shall have the privilege of voting on several new candidates at our next business meeting.

The Blue Cross secretary will have application blanks there for those who wish to become members and the notification cards for those who are already members. Please pay by check if it is possible.

Whims, Fancies of Napoleon Still Shape Today's Furniture

Empire furniture is still a popular traditional form, although it has been scaled down to fit into the smaller living rooms.

Today it still carries the formality of the days of Napoleon, so say the experts. In fact, Empire furniture came about because of the little Corsican. Designers of the outstanding Empire pieces styled their furniture to glorify him and fit his likes and dislikes.

Chairs, for example, were small in contrast to the size of the other pieces. Because Napoleon was a short man, he persuaded designers to create smaller chairs with short legs.

The style itself, authorities explain, was an adaptation of the classic Roman, ornamented with swords, shields, arrows and laurel wreaths. Most of the decoration was on armrests, legs and drawer fronts.

Bright, stamped brass designs were popular, contrasting the deep, red mahogany of the day. Most Empire colors were jewel-like. White and gold were popular as were deep red, yellow, brown, dark blue and olive green. Fabrics were satin, damask and brocade.

Charles Percier and Pierre Francois Fontaine, noted designers of the time, were architects and this influence was seen in their massive designs. Empire beds and sofas were lavish, shaped like sleighs, higher at one end than the other and draped with yards of material. Desks and buffets of the period had Roman-like columns on the front corners.

Napoleon's influence on period furniture, and thus today's furniture, was one way of showing his strength and power to the world.

Do's, Don't's On Cleaning Chapeaus

A good cleaning will often be just what the doctor ordered to give a lift to your favorite but weary last year's fall hat. And, it's wise to clean your summer chapeaus before storing them for the winter.

Your hat will be easier to work with if you use a hat block. Wayne County home agent, suggests improving a hat block by padding saucers, bowls or flower pots with cloth so you have a smooth, firm and clean working surface.

After you have removed the trimmings and band from your felt hat, you are ready to start cleaning it. Brush firmly but gently, 'round and 'round with the nap. A good brushing utensil is a rubber sponge. Use a non-flammable cleaning fluid such as carbon tetrachloride or a weak ammonia solution. This, too, should be sponged on in the direction of the nap.

Follow the cleaning and brushing steps by rubbing the hat gently with fine sandpaper (00). This is excellent, for removing spots and restoring the nap. Light colored felts can be cleaned by rubbing in a mixture of cornmeal with the cleaning fluid. When it has dried, just brush out the powder.

Clean straw hats by scrubbing them gently with a brush and dry suds or using a cleaning fluid. When using suds, be careful not to get the hat too wet. It may shrink and lose its shape.

Most renovated straw hats need sizing to make them keep their shape. Brush the sizing on after the crown or brim has been blocked and is dry. Press with a damp cloth, using an iron set at a low temperature.

Here's Tip to Make Housework Easier

Don't take a chance on snipping the fabric when removing a button. Slip a comb under the button and cut the thread between the two with a razor blade.

Make a convenient small toy catch-all... tack a shoe bag at an easy-to-reach height on the play room door. Helps impress the importance of neatness on the youngsters... saves you work.

A quick, easy way to make a miniature trellis for house plants... snip off the hook of a wire coat hanger, bend the rest of the wire into a loop, thrust the end into the pot.

Turn a colander upside down over a frying pan when frying chicken, fish or meat... prevents spatter and permits steam to escape.

No doubt your dessert list includes a fresh peach shortcake, but here is a new slant: Alternate the peach layers with generous servings of red raspberries and top with whipped cream.

BLACK coffee gelatin as the bottom layer and whipped coffee-with cream gelatin on top—that's the secret of this flavorful and unusual Two-Tone Coffee Pie. The coffee in the cups is its usual, straight, hearty self.

Coffee, Gelatin Go Into This Delicious, Two-Tone Treat

We can't offer you four and twenty blackbirds, but if it's a surprise you want, here's a cup or two of coffee baked in a pie. And it's complete with cream and sugar, too! Serve it with hot coffee, and you have a pie-and-coffee harmony that sings.

This particular recipe has many virtues. For one thing, it's no small feat to find a pie that's light and not too sweet, yet full of flavor. For another, as long as you have on hand a package of gelatin and the makings of a cup of coffee, you always have the makings of a Two-Tone Coffee Pie. No special trips to the store to see what fruit is in season; no pondering what filling will meet with approval. This filling, this flavor, is tops with almost everyone.

The "black bottom" effect, by the way, is achieved quite simply by using black coffee gelatin spiced with cinnamon for the bottom layer, a whipped coffee and cream mixture for the top. Pretty, isn't it? And it's good, too!

- TWO-TONE COFFEE PIE
- 2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin
 - 1/2 cup cold water
 - 2 1/2 cups strong hot coffee
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 cup whipping cream
 - 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
 - Softened gelatin in cold water,

Rice Good Source Of Low-Cost Energy

A lot of energy for a little cost—this just about sums up the story of rice used for the family fare. Although it is high in energy, experts suggest that because it is low in protein, minerals and vitamins, it should be served with foods that supply the values rice lacks. Some of the foods which should be used with rice, are—eggs, meat, fish, poultry, milk or cheese to supply good quality protein green and yellow vegetables to supply vitamins and minerals, and fresh, dried, raw or cooked fruit to supply vitamins and minerals.

When cooking white rice do not wash unless necessary. If you decide to wash it, either use very hot water or "dry clean" it. To dry clean rice, pick out husks and poor grains and then rub the rice in a towel.

Another suggestion for rice at its best is to cook it in as little water as possible. It will retain more flavor and will have a better texture. Boil the rice gently, keeping the heat low. Rapid boiling may break the grains.

Finally, do not rinse rice after cooking. If you follow the above suggestions, the grains will be smooth and separate without rinsing.

Adult Program Offers Classes In Meats, Salads

Plymouth homemakers will have a good chance to brush up on their skills this fall by enrolling in the two new culinary classes to be offered in the Adult Education program at the high school.

Starting the first week in October, Mrs. David Johnson of Plymouth will impart the "know-how" on selection and preparation of various meats as well as instruct a course in salads for home and commercial preparation.

Both courses, which run for 10 weeks, will be taught on a lecture-demonstration basis. They will meet in the foods laboratory at the high school.

The class on meats, held Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m., will include field trips to Dickerson's Market, Arbor Lill restaurant, and classroom lecture by a university foods specialist.

Preparation of various salads, running the gamut of types from appetizers and main dishes to those for luncheon or dessert, will be included in the other new course. Salad dressings and hot-bread accompaniments will also be emphasized. Class members will visit the kitchen of the Mayflower hotel to observe the commercial preparation of salads as one of their field trips. The course will be taught Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Besides the above new courses, the education program also offers classes in cake decorating, slip covers and draperies, rug hooking, upholstery, silk screening and mental health for those interested in the home and family living.

Course registration starts Monday, September 15, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Adult Education and Recreation office in the high school. Evening registration will be held Monday and Tuesday, September 26 and 27, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the same office.

For a quick supper, try toast or English muffins spread with deviled ham and a topping of scrambled eggs. Fruit or dessert with this makes a good team.

Insurance Companies Uphold Use Of Mechanical Speed Detection

The use of mechanical speed detection devices for the enforcement of traffic laws such as is used in Plymouth and other cities across the nation has been endorsed by the country's casualty and surety companies.

The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, through its manager, Thomas No. Boate, points out that the use of radar and electrical timing devices has been a highly controversial subject for some time. Those opposed to it have claimed chiefly that radar is ineffective as an accident preventive measure and that when used as a speed detection device it is unfair to motorists.

Plymouth police use the electrical timing device instead of radar. Two hoses are placed across the street at a specific distance apart. The time it takes for a car to travel from one hose to the other measures the speed of the vehicle.

According to the insurance companies' spokesman, the reductions in traffic accidents and deaths in those states making full and decisive use of radar detection devices should silence claims that radar is ineffective. "In a day when speed is the largest single factor in highway deaths, we cannot afford to appease violators with half-way enforcement measures.

"To claim that the use of advanced scientific devices like radar is 'unfair' to those who would violate the law is a travesty that approaches outright mockery of the value of human life," Boate declared. "It is instead grossly unfair to the nation's hundreds of thousands of law-abiding motorists to jeopardize their safety by continuing to use out-dated methods for detecting and apprehending irresponsible violators."

"Radar devices provide the most accurate practical method yet available for detecting motorists who deliberately violate posted speed limits. To rule against the use of radar evidence is to shackle police and courts and to endanger motorists, pedestrians and enforcement officers with procedures barely suitable for the roads and vehicles of the 1920's.

"For 20 years we have been attempting to provide enough police to patrol our highways as they should be patrolled. But we are no closer to that ideal situation today than we were at the outset. In the absence of this accomplishment we shall either continue killing and injuring human beings in epidemic proportions or we shall adopt some reasonable method of assuring proper traffic law enforcement.

"Therefore, I feel impelled to fully endorse the use of radar speed detection equipment as a sound and honest method of traffic law enforcement and accident prevention."

The association's statement was made after William M. Greene of Connecticut, chairman of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, announced that states using a radar research car this summer in connection with the nationwide "Slow Down and Live" campaign had "unanimously reported favorable results in both vehicle speed control and in official and public reaction." The car and a radar technician made available by New York University's Center for Safety Education are on a nine week tour of mid-western and western states.

Conducts Market Study On Cottage Cheese

Cottage cheese can stay in grocers' display cabinets for almost three weeks if it has the right acid content and the temperature is kept low enough.

That was the conclusion after several months of study under Michigan State university's marketing program. Purpose of the study indirectly is to boost the sale of cottage cheese — to make the housewife a repeat customer.

Harmon purchased 48 samples of cottage cheese from retail stores and got 35 samples directly from plants. And he stored all the cheese at 42 degrees F.

The retailed cheese varied in shelf life from five to 19 days. Cheese direct from the plants ranged from six to 23 days without spoilage.

Another reason some cottage cheese spoiled while other samples retained quality: Harmon found as much as 14 degrees difference between the lower and upper portions of the display cabinets.

Contact Gwen Holcombe for our Xmas cards. We have a wonderful selection this year. The more we sell, the more we will have in the building fund. Let's make that fund swell! We still have some cleaning fluid, call Gwen for this, too. Melva Gardner still takes orders for any Stanley products.

School teachers from every part of the country submitted essays in the American Legion Auxiliary's annual "Why I Teach" contest, designed to stimulate interest in the teaching profession among qualified young people, according to Mrs. Melva Gardner, national security chairman of Passage The national award for 1955 was won by Mary Estell Posso of Miami, Oklahoma, who also won the Southern division award.

The contest, open only to teachers of at least five years' experience, gives the American Legion Auxiliary convincing material to present to young people thinking of a career in teaching. The essays described rewards of teaching that are additional to the salary received. "We believe that by helping attract capable young men and women to the teaching profession we are contributing to the strength and security of our nation," Mrs. Gardner said.

Color Slides Aid Landscape Plan

If you want your home landscape to look pretty as a picture, start taking pictures of it.

Good color slides of trees, lawns and gardens can be invaluable for future planning of the landscape. Color negatives taken at various seasons and properly dated can help the home owner plan artistic and colorful gardens on a year-around basis.

Long-range shots rather than close ups are best for planning purposes. These should include some general views of the kind the passing public might see. Don't just include the good spots. Having photos of the less attractive areas will show you how to improve them. This also applies to pictures taken during the off-season.

Trees, foundation stones of any home garden arrangement, should not be overlooked by the home garden photographer. Too many trees will result in sad looking borders, lawns and perennial beds. And pictures taken when there are no colorful flowers around may show inadequacy of evergreen backgrounds for year-around screening.

Winter pictures, too, sometimes will indicate vista possibilities that can be created by pruning, removing or rearranging existing trees. Tree experts themselves are now employing color slides to check results of feeding, spraying and other tree remedies.

Farmers Can Order Seedling Packet From MSU

Michigan farmers can get a special packet of forest seedlings adapted to windbreak use. The new packet along with the order list for other trees has been announced by the conservation nursery at Michigan State University.

The seedlings are for delivery in the fall of 1955 and the spring of 1956, according to W. Ira Bull, M.S.U. forester in charge of the nursery.

The windbreak packet includes 100 red pine, 100 Norway spruce and 100 white spruce transplants. Transplants of red pine, Jack pine and white spruce along with seedlings of white pine, Jack pine, Austrian pine and Scotch pine are available for reforestation use. Hardwood seedlings on the list include black locust, American elm and red oak.

Douglas fir transplants appear on the list for the first time in several years, according to Bull. Black walnut stratified for spring planting will also be available for purchase during the winter and early spring. Early purchasers can get small numbers of Norway spruce and tulip poplar.

Trees sold by Michigan State cannot be used for ornamental plantings, warns Bull. They cannot be planted within corporate limits of towns and cities, nor can they be planted on building lots in residential sub-divisions outside of cities.

Orders can be made now for both fall and winter planting. Price lists and order blanks are available at county extension offices and soil conservation district offices. They may also be obtained by writing to the Conservation Nursery, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

"Please tell me how to improve my looks. I am just starting in at college this year. My skin is muddy and full of freckles and blackheads. I do want to look my best, but I don't know how to go about it," so writes a distressed damsel.

Poor little maiden: no wonder that she is worried, for the condition which she describes places her at a disadvantage socially and makes her unhappy.

First, you must remember that there is no royal road to beauty, no magic formulas that are put up in attractive jars that will transform the ugly duckling into a fairy princess of enchanting loveliness overnight. There are many factors that enter into the creation of a beautiful complexion.

Rational living is the greatest aid to beauty and no one who is sickly can possess the radiant charm that good health carries with it. It is not difficult to keep well, by continuing the habit of right living. It is a hard tedious job to restore the health once it has been damaged. All beauty has its inception in a healthy body and contented mind.

Black heads are collections of grease and dirt which clog the pores of the skin. They are usually due to improper diet and failure to keep the skin clean. Heavy foods such as large amounts of greasy fried meats, sugars, candies, pastry and meals of that kind invite a sluggish liver and poor circulation, with its accompanying muddy, oily, blackhead choked skin.

Most articles that are written by so-called beauty specialists, advise steaming the face. Steaming the face will ruin any complexion if persisted in long enough. The hot steam destroys the natural oils that nature gave us as a protection and will cause the skin to crinkle, wrinkle and yellow.

Remember that blackheads are composed of grease and dirt which have hardened in the pores. If the condition is very bad, wring cloths out of hot water and apply to your face, renewing them as fast as they cool. This softens the cuticle. Take a clean wash cloth, ivory soap, or one that is equally as bland, and scrub your face in lukewarm water, using rotary movements. A complexion brush that is not injured by water is better than the cloth, for the fine bristles are more effective in cleansing the pores.

After the face has been thoroughly gone over, and is glowing from the massage of the brush, then rinse thoroughly in cold water. This acts as a tonic to the skin. Dry gently and well, then apply your astringent or some good lotion or cream.

If you eat properly, drink plenty of water and see that the colon empties itself thoroughly each day, the above treatment, if persisted in, will cause your blackheads to disappear.

Competition
"I suppose the little wife will win all the arguments in your house?"
"No; she'll only win half of them."
"Oh, you expect to win the other half?"
"No; but my mother-in-law will."

Plan Large Scale Civil Defense Test

A new survey on Civil Defense survival plans in critical target areas will soon be made, according to information received by Leo Flowers, Township CD director.

Congress has appropriated $10,000,000 for the testing of an actual survival plan for each particular area. The states and local areas will be required to test its operational readiness to determine if it is adequate.

The general nature of a survival plan, as indicated by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, is a combination of shelter and evacuation from target areas and of destruction and a reception in areas that are presumed safe from the blast.

The FCDA director, Governor Val Peterson, stated, "With this next report we have reached a point in our struggle for Civil Defense where we can feel realistic."

Plymouth is considered an urban critical area.

Editorials - Features

Well, schools opened on schedule last week and local motorists were given many sound warnings about taking extra care as they travelled local streets to prevent some unfortunate kiddie from being hit by their car.

After watching our driving teen-agers make their triumphant entrance back to our streets en-masse on Thursday and Friday it seems to me the walking public should be warned to take extra care if they wish to avoid being run down by a "hopped-up" jalopie loaded with kids...

It wasn't too long ago we warned local voters of a section of our new zoning ordinance which we considered constrictive. Most modern zoning ordinances are prepared by an almost identical set of regulations and the one in Birmingham or any other town has many of the same words and clauses that ours does here.

An interesting headline in the esteemed Birmingham Eccentric last week blazed the following news to residents of that fine community... "Parking Ordinance May Backfire on Business." Why so, do you ask?...

B. Siegel & Co. a well known Detroit business firm made application of Birmingham authorities to build a beautiful new store building in that city. Birmingham's zoning ordinance, as does ours, requires that for so many square feet of floor space being constructed so many parking areas must be provided by the store.

In view of the fact the store couldn't provide the spaces as required under the ordinance the building permit was denied, now city officials are looking for a loop-hole and Birmingham merchants and residents face the possibility of losing a fine business institution for their community.

For some time there have been about a half dozen downtown businessmen vitally concerned with the future development of our business areas. These men are of keen, far-sighted vision and in private conversation have talked with one another about some concerted action being taken now, which would provide this city protection from growth cancers that inevitably follow area expansion.

They were prompted to unified action early this week to discuss the possibility of forming some group which would give serious consideration to this problem and to determine if they might come up with some suggestions for a possible solution.

Their thinking is not peculiar to Plymouth alone. Neighboring Mt. Clemens now faced with the fact that their $52 million annual retail business is at stake has undertaken a fight to retain its business by giving the entire downtown area a face-lifting.

Plans there include the closing of many streets. Traffic lanes would be redesigned to carry cars around rather than through the shopping area and huge new parking areas would be provided.

Armed with the inside information that within two years the Plymouth area, city and township, might have 3,000 BRAND NEW HOMES is there any wonder why we think some group needs to start some thinking along the lines of downtown face-lifting? When you drink that last cup of coffee at dinner tonight draw this comparison... there are approximately 3,600 homes in the city and township today... and in two years there might be 3,000 MORE...

Should Elected Officials Always Obey Constituents?

Should public officials always be the "obedient servants" of their constituents?

The average citizens would perhaps answer, "Of course, why did we vote them into office?" But once Mr. Average Citizen gets into office himself, he begins to wonder.

At a public hearing three weeks ago in Canton township, it was pointed out by a citizen that their petition opposing construction of a drive-in theatre was signed by a majority of nearby property owners.

We do not want to get involved in the Canton township controversy since we are not certain if a drive-in theatre would be an asset or a liability for that community—it will be up to the board to decide, but it was interesting to find a public official saying what many of them think.

So-called public servants often find themselves in a puzzling situation. They hear complaints from constituents asking why their community isn't more progressive "like some other communities."

Plymouth city commissioners were "in the middle" a year ago when after many years of public clamor, finally came up with a plan to pave and widen Main street.

The Wayne County Health Department can testify that the public often does not know what is good for it. They have found numerous cases of children playing in sewerage-filled ditches but their parents will go to the polls and vote down sewer bond issues.

Legislators and congressmen have all been faced with the problem of whether to place local interests over the interests of the entire state or nation.

Of course, the office holder who continually goes against the public's wishes is itching for defeat at the next election — and rightly so.

But before you condemn your elected officials for going against an apparent public majority, you might explore his reasons.

You might first define for yourself what you consider as progress. If you want progress, ask yourself how much do you want to pay for it or how much inconvenience should you suffer?

Make sure you know where your governments gets its money and how it is spent. Your government has only so many million dollars of property evaluation and mills of taxation. If you want a costly project, tell the officials before they approve the budget for the fiscal year.

Don't be erratic about your interest in public affairs. Most citizens never attend meetings of their law making body unless a particular issue hits them between the eyes.

Yes—we believe that elected officials should be the representatives of the public. But we also believe that the public should keep itself informed of the problems of administration and be willing to sacrifice a little for the benefit of his fellow man.

Making Money On Real Estate

Newspapers May Be Gold Mines Babson Park, Mass., Readers do not need to go to Colorado and hunt for Gold or Uranium. There is a surer way to make money in your own community. Let me explain how to do so.

As readers know, my family is heavily interested in the 450 retail "Dime Stores" controlled by the United Stores Corporation, the stocks of which I like to recommend.

Many people who are now driving some miles to reach a new shopping center may soon get tired of it. Too many accidents are happening on the way to and from the shopping-center.

My Interesting Discovery

In every city which I have visited there is pressure to expand the areas zoned for business. These local fights are a headache to the city officials.

As a result of this pressure, the price of residential property near a Business Zone gradually rises. It soon becomes so expensive that a residential building thereon is retarded.

How To Keep Posted

Instead of spending time reading the stock market or studying charts, I advise you to read your city's Zoning Laws and study its Zoning Map.

Watch the official advertisements in your daily newspapers of Appeal Board Hearings on requests to change any Zoning Areas.

BATTLEDORE AND SHUTTLECOCK

Surplus Won't Lower State Taxes

Michigan's hard-pressed taxpayers took a breather of a sort when Gov. Williams disclosed an $18 million surplus.

But they still kept paying. The governor said that the increase in collections and a number of economies in state government had built up the surplus from the dust of a $65 million deficit two years ago.

It was at this point of fiscal desperation that the legislature passed the $30 million a year business activities tax.

Republicans said this year's surplus would be more like $13 million. Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the House taxation committee said:

"The governor seems to be optimistic."

Seers at the Capitol immediately predicted that agencies which have been pleading for years for more cash to run their services would renew their requests and the surplus would vanish.

"There will never be a tax reduction in state government," said one bureau chief. "Services may expand, and more people may be hired, but no less money will be required."

Gov. Williams took the opportunity to blast Republicans in the legislature for paring down his appeal for more building money for state colleges and universities.

Republicans said the problems couldn't be solved with mere money, that a complete survey of the needs of higher education should be undertaken.

The study is now underway under the direction of Senator Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), chairman of the Senate education committee.

"We'll have something for the 1956 legislature," he said.

Ancient problem of what to do with an overflow of mentally retarded children is coming home to roost.

The governor is getting ready to call a special session of the legislature late in October to cope with the same issues that have bothered lawmakers in regular sessions for years.

The story has been told many times. There are more than 1,800 youngsters with mental problems who cannot be admitted to Lapeer Home and Training School because it is already overcrowded.

"Commitments have become a farce because there's no place to send these unfortunates," said a mental health expert.

During the last session, committees of both the House and Senate fought over bills which would take over tuberculosis hospitals at Grayling and Howell for the care of mentally retarded children.

The battles were fought and lost. Tuberculosis officials pleaded that the space would be needed if those who already had contracted the disease could be found.

Grisly problem of traffic death will also be considered at the special session. An 11% increase in the number of fatalities for the first seven months of 1955 over last year was announced by State Police.

The legislators will again be asked to pass laws which will tighten driver licensing, reduce highway speeds and provide funds to maintain files of driver records. Existing law provides for files but money must be appropriated if records are to be kept properly.

These and other laws have been recommended in past years by the State Safety Commission, but proposals frequently became enmeshed in politics.

Farm groups have taken new heart in their campaign to move the state fair out of Detroit.

For years the drive has waxed hot and cold with charges flying that the Detroit fair is "a carnival" and that farmers have little opportunity to display their products in the proper atmosphere.

Latest impetus to the take-the-fair-outstate campaign came with Michigan State University's centennial farm equipment exposition which drew thousands to the campus.

It was the first test of an outstate function devoted exclusively to farmers and their equipment.

"The campaign to move the fair out of Detroit is getting hotter by the day," said George B. McIntyre, state director of agriculture.

Opponents of the idea say that the engineering and industrial exhibits, the sideshows and midway at Detroit is what makes the state fair solvent.

After years of deficits, the fair is now earning a small sum or "at least it's paying for itself," said McIntyre.

The final decision rests with the legislature, however, and its

DO-IT-YOURSELF

SAVE MONEY!

Easy to Get Started On Do-It Yourself

Men and women who learn about the "do-it-yourself" movement for the first time are apt to wonder if making, repairing, and creating things on their own isn't difficult.

They ask such questions as these: "How do I get started?" "I've never even hammered a nail before. How can I make a piece of furniture?"

"Doesn't it take years to learn how to wallpaper a room?" "But a sewing machine is so complicated. How could I ever learn to make my own dresses?"

The answers to all these questions can be condensed into a single sentence:

Easier than you think. Millions have done it.

The owner of a large power-tool establishment put it this way:

"I've seen men come into this shop who have never held a drill or a piece of sandpaper in their hand. I've seen these men turn out products of the highest quality—build extra rooms, make toys for their children, install plumbing, repair their own cars, pave concrete entrances to their homes, build swimming pools, even build entire houses from scratch."

Men and women have come to the do-it-yourself movement out of necessity and "just for the fun of it." Some types of work require a little guidance. Some can be done from manufacturers' directions. In many cases, neighbors have helped get neighbors started.

But all over the United States, the picture is the same: Men and women who never before had done anything for themselves are getting into the swing and loving it. They're working with hammers, circular saws, looms, sewing machines, metal cutters, sanders, reamers, and every imaginable tool. They're not waiting for the TV repairman to come and perhaps charge an exorbitant price to fix the set; they're doing it themselves.

How can you get started? Here are some suggestions:

Take an adult education course in carpentry, metalwork, or whatever other specialty you're interested in learning. Such courses are available in nearly every community.

If you have a neighbor who 'does it' himself, ask him to show you the ropes. In most cases, he'll be delighted to help.

Write to the manufacturers of tools and home products. They have a wealth of material, much of it giving exact and specific instruction on how to proceed with a project. Often, they'll be glad to take up your specific project and advise on it.

Hardwood boards for paneling are available in two general classes. One is clear stock, which may be used for formal effects. The other is stock especially selected for natural characteristics, which give a beautiful but more informal appearance to a room.

Hardwood boards for paneling have two similar groupings. "Conventional" is generally clear grade and for formal appearance while "character marked" utilizes the distinctive natural characteristics for informal beauty. These natural markings may include spots, mineral streaks, burls, knots and other sound characteristics.

Survey Reveals Why Many Engage In "Do-It" Projects

A newspaper reporter selected a suburban Illinois community at random, interviewed fifty householders. He asked them two questions:

1. Do you engage in any do-it-yourself activities?

2. Why?

Among the projects engaged in, the interviewer found the following:

Raising dormers, refinishing attics and basement, paperhanging and housepainting, plastering, building garages, home wiring, building hi-fi sets, weaving, making built-in furniture, doing motor jobs and spray jobs on their automobiles, sewing their clothes

(one woman makes all the family clothes, including her husband's suits), building toys, upholstery, building extra rooms, gardening, plumbing — including the construction of complete bathrooms.

One young married couple showed especial ingenuity in their do-it-yourself approach to their newly-born baby. Papa built the crib himself; mama sewed all the clothes.

In answer to the question of why these suburbanites went in for so much do-it-yourself activity, the interviewer got these responses:

"After a day at the office, I get real relaxation out of my work with the saw and electric drill."

"It saves us oodles of money."

"I used to be tense and tired. Now I'm like a new man. Why didn't somebody tell me earlier about a loom?"

"I never knew I was creative. Now I build furniture and love it."

"Because I love doing it myself."

"I used to hang around a tavern at night. Now I make picture frames. It's much better for me and, moreover, I've been able to make extra money out of the hobby."

WRONG

Many foundation plantings around older homes are overgrown and outmoded. If this should be the case, the planting needs to be removed with the lower-growing more fashionable shrubs of today. Higher shrubs can be used on other parts of the property.

Terry Towels Make Bathroom Curtains

Fluffy terry towels make bathroom curtains that are colorful, original, simple to care for, and—best of all—easy to make.

Terry towels can be hung at the window in several different ways. They can be pinned over the curtain rod, sewn to curtain rings, draped thin in swags, or fixed with a simple basted heading. With each of these methods, the curtain slides easily on and off the curtain rod, then can be tossed into the washing machine for laundering with the rest of your towels.

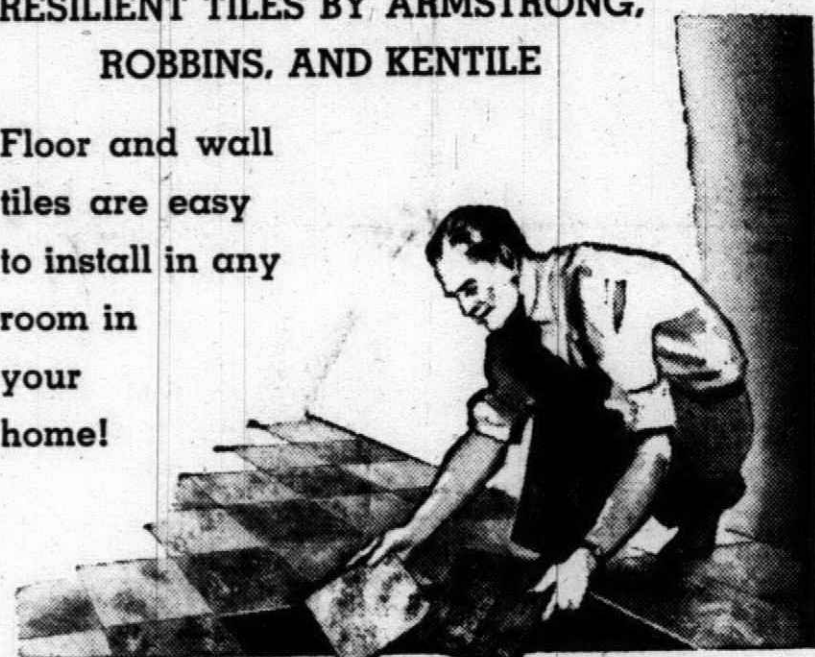

According to the width of the window and the fullness desired in the curtains, use one or two towels to a side. Baste two towels together down one side. The basting thread can be removed easily should you want to turn your curtains into towels again.

Select your towel curtains to match, harmonize or make a pleasant contrast with your regular towels. For instance, if your bathroom towels are in a yellow sculptured pattern, you might make the curtains from towels of the same sculptured pattern in green. Or, if your regular towels are in deep blue, you might like towel curtains in deep blue and white striped.

Hundreds of Home Craftsmen Earn Spare Time Money

Men and women who have developed craft skills report they make spare-time cash out of their hobbies in six ways:

1. Selling the product or service to individuals.
2. Selling through established outlets.
3. Selling at wholesale.
4. Selling designs to manufacturers.
5. Teaching the skill to others.
6. Writing about the craft.

Miss Nora Zweybruck, who instructs textile design and printing for the American Crayon Co., says that anyone can learn and practice a craft, even a craft involving original design. Two requirements are needed: efficient instruction and practice. You have to stick to it, she points out. The number of crafts one may undertake runs into the thousands. Some like ceramics and pottery; if that seems too complicated, leather handbags or wallets may appear preferable. If silk-screening and stenciling require more talent than you possess, then making toys from scraps of felt, or mounting butterflies, or painting buttons, or casting plaster figures from molds may appeal to you. Even the knack of painting over a battered old tray can be used to bring in pin money.

Here's a list of some of the crafts you might consider:

- Plastics, feltercraft, leathercraft, bookbinding, making dolls or toys, decorating on glass, letterpress printing, block printing, airbrush work, painting and decorating, stenciling, silkscreen, textile design, rugmaking, weaving, jewelry work, pottery, furniture refinishing, picture frames, wood-working, metalworking.

One college specializing in craft teaching says: this of the prospects:

"A careful analysis discloses facts which emphasize the dependence of industry and its machines on the hands of skilled craftsmen, who work not only as designers, modelmakers, foremen and artisans, but also as setters of fashions and styles and experimenters in the use of materials and methods. Thus craftsmen will always lead the way to an appreciation by the public of beauty and design and fine execution. In so doing, the craftsmen will not compete with the machine but will supplement it. He will fill the special needs of both industry and the public; he will perpetuate the traditions of fine craftsmanship, and will act as a cultural stimulus to contemporary life."

All over the country — in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, and even in little Penland, N. C., Americans are learning the pleasures—and the way to profits, too—of the do-it-yourself movement.

Reports gathered in a survey of home activities indicate a widening use of "do-it-yourself" activities to increase family income.

Among the survey findings were these case histories:

Lloyd Jensen of Austin, Minn., is a packing house employee who purchased an electric band saw to make objects for his own pleasure. He hit upon the idea of using weatherproof Masonite, cutting out family names, and adding an appropriate figure like an animal or a tree. The result was a family nameplate easily and swiftly produced on his "do-it-yourself" tool.

"It wasn't long," Mr. Jensen says, "before I started getting calls from the neighbors for some plates. Just like that—I found myself in possession of a profitable and satisfying hobby."

His plates run seven inches in height by eighteen inches in length maximum, except where he has a long name to letter in.

He now sells the name plates to surrounding towns, and found that an excellent source of sales was an exhibit at a local hobby show.

Among other do-it-yourself money-making ideas which the survey brought to light were:

- Voice recordings with hi-fi recording sets.
- Textile designs made with fast textile colors for sale at all department stores.

- Furniture refinishing.
- Sewing machine items.
- Model making.

FOR A TOP-NOTCH DO-IT-YOURSELF LAWN

To aid the home gardener in the selection of lawn grass, we have outlined below the grasses available and their uses.

Domestic Ryegrass used where a quick growing annual is needed to protect slower germinating seeds of other varieties, or as quick cover for an area which will require cover only temporarily.

Perennial Ryegrass should be used in the same manner as domestic Ryegrass, when a longer lasting nursegrass is desirable.

Red-top, suitable for low, wet spots or poor ground, or as nurse grass covers a large area at low cost.

Kentucky bluegrass, the main grass in this area, should be used in heavy soils or soils that retain moisture well. It requires frequent fertilizing and water to do well.

Merion bluegrass features a deep root system which will withstand dry conditions better than Kentucky, and is more resistant to turf diseases.

Chewings fescue, red creeping fescue, Illahee fescue are very fine stemmed varieties which will tolerate shade, poor soils, and hot, dry locations and form a dense turf. Illahee and chewings are resistant to leaf spot; red creeping and Illahee spread by underground stolens like bent grass.

Alta fescue and Kentucky "31" fescue, coarse, hardy grasses suited to the toughest conditions, such as athletic fields and ditch banks.

Poa trivialis, a bluegrass suited strictly to shaded areas used with fescue.

White Dutch clover although not actually a grass is suitable and desirable under certain conditions for lawn use. This clover will grow in poor soils and provide the cover desired. Does not form dense turf and therefore allows easy germination of weed seeds.

We specialize in providing grass mixtures suitable to growing conditions, and helping to solve any of your special lawn problems.

Paint Mistakes Easily Fixed

Occasionally a paint job will look like an eye-sore to you after it's all over. Don't be discouraged. And don't give up trying to repair it. Here are a few causes—and cures—of poor paint jobs:

ALLIGATORING: Wide and deep cracks in heavy paint coats produce a rough, broken surface. Rich, oily paint covered over with harder drying paint causes breaks in the paint film as the topcoat tightens during the aging process.

BLISTERING: This is the result of moisture trapped underneath the paint film. This moisture breaks the bond joining the paint to the wood. The source of moisture must be discovered and eliminated.

CHECKING: This is brought about by not allowing the undercoat to get hard and dry before covering it with the finishing coat. Rubbing down with number-one sandpaper before repainting is all the surface preparation required to eliminate this.

CRACKING: If this condition has existed for any length of time, peeling will have developed because of moisture getting in under the paint. Such surfaces cannot be successfully repainted. Remove the old paint with a painter torch or chemical paint remover to insure the required foundation for a good new paint job.

MILDEW: Fungus growth is favored by warmth, moisture, and shade, especially near heavy shrubbery. It must be removed chemically. Where the climate tends to bring on mildew growth, add chloride of mercury to the paint. (This is poisonous, and must be handled carefully.)

SPOTTING: Where an undercoat paint does not leave a uniformly sealed surface for the support of the finish coat, spotting will develop as the unsealed areas take some of the oil content from the finish coat. One-coat work may show this condition soon after applying.

Ever thought of using a bedsheet for window curtains? Bet you didn't! But just look at the results!

Dunning Library Offers Host of "How-to" Books

Anybody can learn to do anything, or so it would seem after looking over the dozens of "how-to-do-it" books listed in the card catalog at the Dunning library. There are more than 150 cards in the catalog beginning with the words "how to," each card representing a book on the library's shelves.

"How to" books have come into great popularity in recent years according to Mrs. Agnes Pauline, head librarian. A few years ago, she explained, a man wrote a book about boat building which he called "How to Build Your Own Boat," and follow it up with titles called "How to Sail your Boat" and "How to Handle Your Boat in Rough Weather."

Some of the "how to" books at the library stress self-improvement, like "How to Improve Your Personality," many are slanted at home builders, like "How to Build Your Own Bungalow," some are strictly for hobbyists, for example, "How to Make a Home Nature Museum;" others are aimed at businessmen, such as "How to Sell Through Direct Mail," or "How to Attend a Conference."

Home building is a favorite field for "how to" books. There are "how to" books on building a home a California adobe, a cabin, a ranch, fireplace or barbecue pit, garden structures, kitchen cabinets, modern and built-in furniture.

If the home owner is dissatisfied with the work, there is "How to Remodel Your Home," "How to Design and Install Plumbing," or "How to Refinish Attics and Basements."

Artists, amateur and otherwise, will find many "how to's" to help them in their field. There are "how to" books on painting better, drawing birds, children, churches, comics, figures in action and trees.

For hobbyists there are "how to" books on building a stamp collection, taking better photographs, restoring antiques, china and bric-a-brac, playing the piano, making musical instruments and tying flies.

Among the self-improvement books are "how to's" on speaking better English, spending wisely, starting your own business, buying a used car, tuning up your automobile, telling stories to children and studying architecture.

The first non-adherent, dry bandage in the history of surgery makes use of a new polyester film and does not stick to the healing tissue when removed.

Set in 1905 by a Pennsylvania Railroad coal locomotive pulling the Broadway Limited, the U. S. rail speed record is still 127.1 miles per hour.

Trees Add Value To Your Home

With the widespread expansion of housing into the suburbs and country, the interest in trees has grown considerably. The home owner, either alone or with others in the community, today is demanding trees.

What are the chief benefits of trees? What trees are best for different purposes? How can you best care for trees?

Trees add to the beauty of a home, provide home fruit and give comfort with their shadowing. In addition to contentment and pleasure, they add a practical monetary value to a home property. A good specimen tree may be worth $800 to $1,000 or more, increasing the resale value of a property.

Certain species flourish even under such hazards of city life as smoke, soot and gases. Among them are the ailanthus, horse-chestnut, locust, hackberry, sycamore, ginkgo, linden and the elm. In the country, a wide variety are available, although climatic and soil conditions should be taken into account in making a choice. In general, they include the spruces, pines, cedars, and firs; the maples, oaks, lindens, dogwoods, elms, locusts, sweet gum, and hawthorns.

Here are rules for tree maintenance: Pruning: Most trees require periodical pruning to keep their shape. Dead limbs and branches should be removed. Small trees that can be reached by standing on the ground or possibly on a stepladder may be pruned safely and without trouble by the "do-it-yourself" home owner. Pruning a large tree may be dangerous, so take all precautions.

Spraying: A regular spraying program is advisable for the control of insects and diseases. Insect pests are divided into two groups—the chewing insects that eat the foliage or fruits, and the sucking insects that pierce the outer skin of foliage or fruits and suck out the juices. The first group are controlled by spraying insect stomach poisons, the second by insecticides that kill insects on contact. In addition, a dormant oil-emulsion spray is necessary on some trees to control scale insects that suck the sap from the bark and kill the branches.

Fertilization: Many home owners are apt to feed their fruit trees while neglecting the shade trees. The latter need added food just as much, though, especially where grass is mowed around them and clippings removed. The fertilizer should contain nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, with 6 to 10 per cent available nitrogen and it should be applied at the rate of three or five pounds for breast height.

Your Own Darkroom Means Picture Fun

If you do your own photography, it makes good sense to build your own darkroom. This will enable you to make savings in time and money, and also to maintain full control of your photo from snapshot to finished print. Moreover, with your own darkroom, the quality of your work will improve, and you may find a casual hobby turning into an interesting avocation.

You can set up a darkroom in nearly any cubby of space—in a closet, in the kitchen, in the corner of an apartment room, and even—for "on-the-spot" work—in a box that can be used outdoors. Darkrooms have even been set up in suitcases.

Basic apparatus you'll need includes contact printer, white light, red safelight, electric outlet for enlarger, shelf or table for enlarger, the enlarger itself, trays and tray storage (three 11x14 inches and three 8x10 inches are recommended sizes), film tanks, work table, graduates, a number of pint bottles and quart bottles, dry chemicals, storage bottles, 1-gallon and 1-gallon sizes, ferro-type tins, a source of water.

You may also want to include space for your camera, photo-floods, film, film-holders, and other accessories. All this, surprisingly, can be fitted into small space, even the space of an upright kitchen cabinet.

Now for some hints to make the results of your work more positive. Be sure that your darkroom is away from any source of vibration. Even the mild vibration that results from a nearby refrigerator can fog up a print. One way of preventing vibration is to place a thick piece of sponge rubber under the table or under the enlarger.

Another hint: Since you must work much of the time in the dark, make sure that light switches are placed where you can reach them easily. One photographer suggests that you avoid using switches altogether since your hands may be wet, the floor is sometimes wet—and this combination doesn't go well with an electric switch. The alternative is this: Attach a household cord to the lights, and pull the cord to operate the lights.

If you cover your white light with a shade, that will keep you from being momentarily blinded when you put it on.

Another fault you should avoid is fumbling for trays under the sink. Suggestion: Make a rack under the sink where they will always be ready at hand. They should be placed in the rack upside down to keep from retaining moisture.

Under the drainboard of the sink, too, should go a basket large enough to hold all the prints you'll be processing in one session.

A good piece of advice to save your clothes is to get a rubber apron and always wear it when working in your darkroom.

You may have a variety of photographic thermometers, but don't neglect one that's quite as important: an ordinary air thermometer. Air acts on the emulsions you are using, and when you know the temperature of the room you have better control of the whole process. With such a thermometer you can keep a "weather eye" on the stop-bath and the hypo.

More than five million U. S. farms now have electric service.

HERE IS the building page photographer's view of the main entranceway to the Norman "Dutch" Atchinson home, only recently completed at 9048 Rocker. The entrance or vestibule is finished in sprightly colored papered walls and flagstone floor. The room dividers at each edge of the picture are electrical conduit pipes, minus the wiring. Entering by way of this vestibule, a guest notices the quick accessibility of most of the home's other rooms. The home was built by Robert Widmaier, a local builder.

Seven Tips Offered By Lumber Dealers On How To Replace Broken Windows

When you replace a broken window, you can do a more professional-looking and a better job by following these simple steps recommended by your local lumber and building supply dealers.

1. When removing the broken fragments of the old pane, it's wise to wear heavy gloves to protect your hands. If some of the fragments are stubborn, knock them out with a hammer.

2. Use a small chisel or heavy screwdriver to remove the old putty. If the putty is hard, insert the tool at an angle and tap it with a small hammer, taking care not to gouge the sash.

Pull out the glazier's points with pliers. (In metal sash, remove the clips or unscrew metal beading or strips.) New putty will adhere to wood sash better and not dry out and crumble, if you paint the sash with linseed oil or light paint.

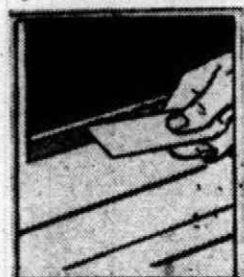

3. Use a rule or steel tape measure (not a cloth tape) when measuring the opening's dimensions. If the sash is out of alignment, measure the width and height in several places to compensate for irregularities. Have the new pane cut 1/8 to 3/16's of an inch smaller than the horizontal and vertical measurements of the opening to ease installation. For small, multi-paned sash, single strength window glass is adequate but for metal sash and larger panes use double strength.

Have the new pane cut 1/8 to 3/16's of an inch smaller than the horizontal and vertical measurements of the opening to ease installation. For small, multi-paned sash, single strength window glass is adequate but for metal sash and larger panes use double strength.

4. Apply a cushion of putty to the bottom, top and sides of the frame before inserting the glass.

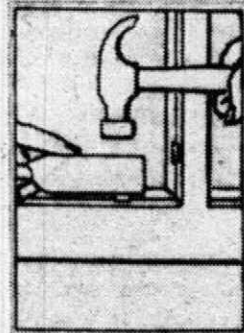

A thin layer of putty will help ensure a good, weather-tight seal when the glass is set.

5. Press the new pane gently, but firmly, into the putty cushion.

Hold the glass in place and press or drive the glazier's points into the wood using the side of a screwdriver or chisel.

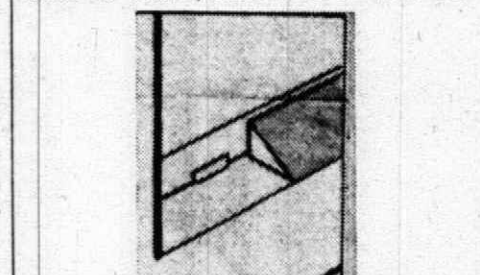

Do the long sides first. (In metal sash, attach the clips, beading or glazing strips with a screw driver.) Two points to a side are usually enough for small panes while larger ones should have three or four to a side. Check to be sure the glass is held firmly in the frame by the points and forms a weathertight seal with the putty cushion.

6. Knead the putty to a smooth consistency and roll strips of it between the palms of your hands to pencil thickness. Lay the strips end to end around the sides of the sash completing one side at a time. Use a putty knife to press the putty firmly into position. Then, smooth it with a putty knife, sloping the putty to the outer edge of the frame. Cut off excess putty with each stroke. Press additional putty into any depressions or holes. Be sure the putty does not extend farther on the glass than the edge of the inside frame.

7. A light application of water with a soft paint brush will remove all putty smudges from the glass. If you prefer, allow the putty to dry, then clean the smudges from the glass with turpentine. After the putty has set thoroughly, use a narrow brush and house paint to paint the putty the same color as the sash.

Fall Painting Advantages

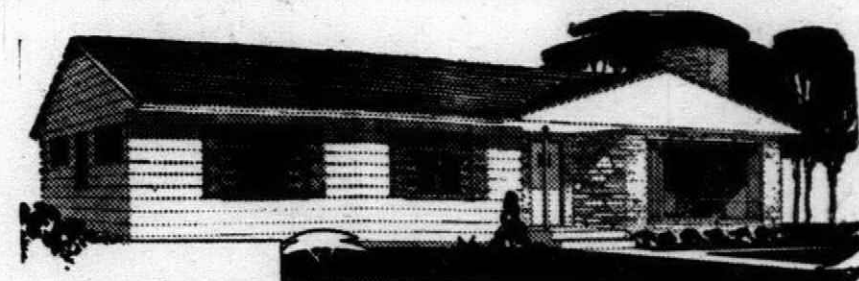

Fall is an ideal time for exterior painting projects. In many areas weather is more constant. Surfaces of various types have a chance to dry out thoroughly. There are fewer insects abroad.

Financing of Improvements Made Easier

Home improvement financing is becoming easier for homeowners in many states as the open-end mortgage plan gains acceptance. Starting in New York about two years ago, this plan is being used in many sections.

In the open-end mortgage, the borrower puts the loan back at its original face amount after having paid off $500 or more. It is expected that many families will use this method of financing such home improvements as modernizing rooms with textured Wedgewood wall paneling, renewing worn flooring, and the like.

For example, if a homeowner has paid off $1,000, he can go back to the lender and obtain $1,000 for modernization at considerably less monthly outlay than by using a conventional, modernization loan.

Instead of borrowing on a 3-year note and repaying the $1,000 and interest at the rate of $31.94 per month, families with open-end clauses in their mortgages pay off the additional $1,000 over the period of the mortgage.

In the case of an original 5% 20-year $8,000 mortgage, monthly payments are $52.80. A $1,94 payment on the short-term note would bring total monthly outlay to $84.74. But with the open-end plan, where the mortgage still has 17 years to run, the payments on the additional $1,000 amount to $7.29 monthly, or a total of $60.09 — a difference of 24.65 per month.

Americans are really home-conscious. During the postwar years they've been spending an increasing amount of money for new homes and home remodeling. This is a good sign. It indicates the dynamic equilibrium of our economy — moving forward but with poise. Last year, about 13 per cent of total spending went into housing. A sure sign that home-buyers are getting value for their dollar is the word from home building manufacturers of quality products who report record production. Ceramic, tile, for instance, the durable, decorative surfacing for kitchen and bath is in terrific demand. As long as quality and quantity stay in close relation, it seems the housing upsurge is really healthy.

DO-IT-YOURSELF BULLETIN

Basement Homes Make Comeback Helps Solve Storage Problems

Basements are staging a comeback that is remarkable in its scope.

More than half of all new homes started in the latest months for which figures are available included basements, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

This is turnabout of the trend toward basementless homes which developed immediately following World War II when materials were scarce and speed to get shelters up were motivating forces in home building.

In commenting on this sensible return to the more useful homes with basements, H. V. Simpson, national lumber authority, said the basement in a single-story home almost doubles usable floor space and at a cost of not much more than ten or fifteen per cent over the slab type floor.

There are several ways to build basements to get additional living space at low cost, Simpson points out. By exposing the basement three or four feet above ground level, the windows will provide plenty of light for playrooms, bedrooms, utility rooms. The ordinary joist-type floor of Douglas fir or west coast hemlock forms an adequate ceiling structure which can be paneled in a variety of woods.

Basements solve several problems which were readily apparent in the tiny one-floor home of post-World War II. They give that extra storage space for trunks, luggage, old furniture, lawn furniture and garden tools. They also generally have room for a warm work shop and a place where the general handyman can do ordinary repair work on screens, doors, furniture and tools. The housewife has a main floor of wood to walk on which is easy on her feet and saves backache and foot trouble.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A LUMBER STORAGE RACK

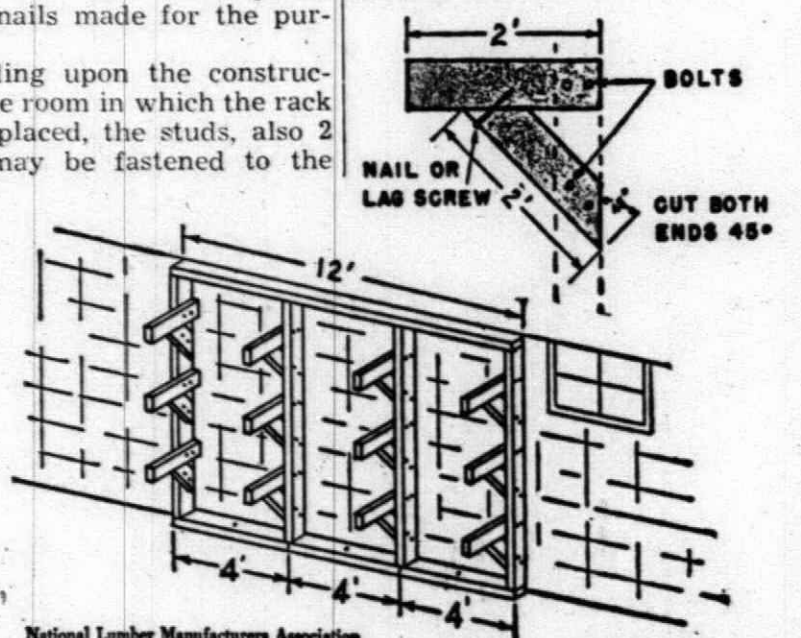

Lumber can be kept clean, dry, neat and convenient to the home craftsman if he makes a handy storage rack in his workshop or basement.

While the rack may be of any length desired by the craftsman, the one shown below is 12 feet long.

If the floor is concrete, the 2 by 4 plate, or base, should be fastened with case-hardened, blunt-pointed, cut nails or special grooved nails made for the purpose.

Depending upon the construction of the room in which the rack is to be placed, the studs, also 2 by 4's, may be fastened to the joists, to a ceiling plate, or to a wall. In a frame building such as a garage, the studding already in place may be used. The horizontal lumber-support members are made as shown in the detail drawing. These are 2-foot pieces of 2 by 4-inch lumber, securely fastened to the studs with 4-inch carriage bolts. Each piece is supported by a 2-foot 2 by 4, cut to form a 4-degree angle at each end.

National Lumber Manufacturers Association

Homeowners will find that something new and different has been added to The Mail this week in the form of a special "DO-IT-YOURSELF SECTION" containing a host of timely tips and suggestions on home repair and modernization projects.

The articles and pictures, to be found on pages 1 through 4 of this section, will prove helpful in a great many ways to homeowners who enjoy doing their own work around their homes and yards this fall. A wide range of subjects is covered in the "DO-IT-YOURSELF" section, such as house painting, laying tile floors, building a home workshop, hanging wallpaper, landscaping and lawn-making, use of power tools, making, use of power tools, making draperies and slipcovers, preparing your home for winter in all respects, building garages porch and room additions, etc.

Local stores will feature in advertisements in this special section the necessary materials, tools and equipment to help the homeowner "do-it-himself."

CERAMIC TILED BATHS

A simple check of real estate ads in your local newspaper will reveal the vital features of either a new or used home. Notice how often ads contain the words "ceramic tiled bathrooms." Any home without life-lasting ceramic tile in bath or kitchen can hardly be considered a high quality home. And in today's new home, look for more than one bath. The trend is definitely toward two bathrooms per house. Right now one and one-half tiled bathrooms are commonly expected in all medium-priced houses. Don't accept less.

McAllister Upeuds Lorenz for 1955 City Golf Championship

Coasts to 4-3 Win After Sub-Par Start

With a torrid opening of sub-par golf, which earned him a six hole lead at the end of the first six holes, Jim McAllister lifted the Plymouth city golf crown from the head of defending champion Ralph Lorenz Sunday.

After his red-hot explosion on the front nine, the youthful McAllister cooled considerably to finally win by a margin of four holes up with only three to play. The deciding championship match was closed out on the 15th, when both men carded par threes.

For the first six holes their pairing was no match as Lorenz found his short game wanting, while McAllister could do no wrong. McAllister carded four pars and a pair of birdies over this distance as the defender turned in one par, four bogies and a double bogey.

Behind this lead McAllister, a dark-horse entry in this year's tourney, seemingly let up and coasted the rest of the way home.

On the fatal 15th, Lorenz, faced by the fact that he was all but through, canned a sparkling 18 foot downhill putt that thrilled the gallery and appeared to have earned him a reprieve. McAllister was left with a tough eight-footer to halve the hole and close the match.

The slimly-built McAllister, with nonchalance, addressed the ball quickly, canned it and erased the chance that Lorenz had built only seconds earlier.

As the putt dropped, Lorenz, perhaps thinking of the next hole, turned toward the tee-off point, then, upon reflection, swung back around and took McAllister's out-thrust hand in congratulations.

McAllister, after he had shaped his six-hole margin, suffered only a short relapse before returning to his consistent game that earned him the 1955 city golf trophy.

On the par four, 430-yard seventh, he hashed his way to a seven to lose the hole as Lorenz bogied it. And then, although he lost the eighth to Lorenz's birdie, Jim came right back to replace one of the lost holes on the ninth with a par.

McAllister's last bit of trouble arose on the 10th, when Lorenz clipped the space between them to four holes by virtue of Jim's triple-bogey six as compared to the former champ's five.

From there on it was only a matter of time until the lead of McAllister's became larger than the number of holes remaining to be played. The two men split the next five holes of the par-72 Hilltop course and wound the match up on the 15th.

Behind his sub-par opening after six holes, McAllister posted a one-over 36 at the turn. The only mar on his card was the seven on the par-four seventh. For the six holes on the back tour, he stood at five over par with 28.

Meanwhile Lorenz hashed his way through the opening round in 42, including only one par and one birdie along the route. He fared no better on the back six holes and at the 15th listed a 27.

Par for the 15 holes that both covered in their decisive match is 60. McAllister clipped off a 64 for this distance and Lorenz had a 69.

Accompanying the title of Plymouth's 1955 golfing champion, McAllister also hauled in the first place prize for his efforts, a $90 rod and reel fishing set.

In addition he takes home with him the two-foot tall Plymouth Mail traveling trophy that goes to each year's winner. If he can add two more victories to his credit, he will be able to retire the trophy for his own.

Lorenz, as this year's runner-up, won a golf bag.

After qualifying for championship flight on Sunday, August 21, with a 76, McAllister had to eke his way through three preliminary pairings in order to wind up facing Lorenz in the finals. His 76 qualifying round was one stroke back of co-medalist qualifiers Ty Caplin and Elwood Russell, who both turned in 75's.

In the start of match play, Plymouth's new champ defeated Hank Schultz in the first round, 4-3. He followed this victory with a tight win over Jerry Walsh, 2-1, in the second round pairings.

At the three-quarter mark, the slender McAllister notched a surprise upset conquest of Caplin, college sophomore, who had earlier humbled four-time city champ Tom Locke.

A GOOD SIZED gallery followed the championship golf match last Sunday between Youthful Challenger Jim McAllister and Defending Champ Ralph Lorenz. Here McAllister is shown kicking away Lorenz's short putt on the 13th green for a "gimme" after Jim had canned his own to split the hole. McAllister easily whipped Lorenz, four holes up with three remaining, to cop the 1955 Plymouth golfing title.

WITH HIS 1955 championship golf trophy in hand, new Plymouth golf titlist Jim McAllister is congratulated by runner-up Ralph Lorenz, whom McAllister defeated Sunday with a slashing sub-par opening attack.

Recreation Golf Teams Do Poorly

Plymouth's two teams entered in the annual Michigan Recreation golf tourney last Saturday fared poorly as the women's squad finished third out of four teams and the men's quintet wound up fourth out of nine participating cities.

The women's team, consisting of Mrs. Jane Carmichael, Mrs. George Todd, Mrs. Casey Partidge, Mrs. William Rambo and Mrs. Beverly Everson, totaled 550 strokes to fall behind Lansing's entry (527) and the Dearborn team (542). Trailing Plymouth was Jackson with 561.

Mrs. Everson paced the Plymouth team members, who struggled their way around the tough women's par-83 Grousebeck golf course in Lansing. Medalist for the entire tourney was Mrs. Thelma Newman of Lansing with 98.

Meanwhile the men's tournament, fielded at Currie Municipal golf course in Midland, found the local entry doing little better. Out of nine teams participating, Plymouth took fourth place with 411. The winning squad was from Midland.

Tom Carmichael and Elton McAllister shared low medalist scores for the Plymouth group when they both carded 80's. Par for the Currie course is 72.

Other scores of the remaining local team members included Jerry Walsh and Ty Caplin both with 83's, and Bill Benjamin with 85.

Plymouth Enters Team In Touch Grid League

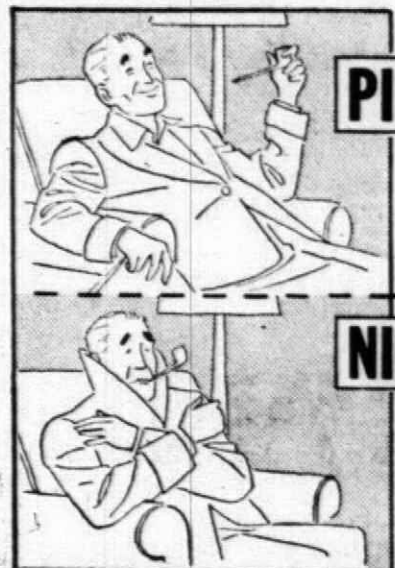

Plymouth will enter a six-man touch football team for out-of-high-school boys in the Wayne touch football league this year, explained Carl Pursell, manager of the local squad, recently. This will mark the first time that a Plymouth touch team will battle in this loop.

Sponsored by Walter Beglinger of Beglinger Oldsmobile, who has furnished the team with playing jerseys, the Plymouth squad will face the five other teams in the league in home and away games over the coming two and one-half month period.

The other teams in the loop consist of one from Garden City, one from Dearborn and three from Wayne.

The home games for the Plymouth club will be played on Sunday afternoons either behind the high school or in Riverside park.

If a politician ever took the stand and told people what he thought of them, he'd get few votes, but quite a lot of admiration.

"Pick-the-Winners" Football Contest Begins Next Week; Offers Cash Prizes

Will Michigan State's football eleven defeat Indiana? Or can University of Michigan whip Missouri? Can the Plymouth Rocks nose down the Northville Mustangs in the grid season opening here September 16?

After several lean years, the famine is nearing an end. Next season for sure, the Tigers will return to the first division.

This is based on expected help in large measure from our fertile farm system. A lot of highly promising young ball players are coming up, according to those in the know in the Tiger organization.

"It really looks good," declares perceptive Jack Tighe, now a Tiger coach and formerly a scout for three years and a manager at Buffalo, Toledo, Williamsport and Muskegon.

If anyone should know about the future Tigers, it is the squire of Spring Lake (a Muskegon suburb), for he scouted, signed and managed many of the youngsters who will soon wear Tiger livery and he still keeps close track of them. Jack speaking:

"Our farm system is strong at every position except second base, and even there we've signed a young fellow named Shep Fraser off the University of Alabama campus whom we think will someday be a great player.

Lots of Catchers "We're especially strong in catching. Take Jay Porter, who has been recalled from Buffalo. He started hitting the ball once the first base experiment was abandoned and he was allowed to return behind the plate, where his heart really was. His average rose from .225 to .264 just a few weeks after he started catching again.

"Our regular backstop someday will be Charlie Lusa, from Romulus, Mich., who hit .295 and got 16 home runs at Buffalo. This was annual "Pick-the-Winner" Football contest which begins on the sports pages of The Mail next week!

This popular contest drew hundreds of weekly replies last year and, strangely enough, had nearly as many women prognosticators as men. There will be three cash awards made each week with the winning entry receiving $10 and second and third places taking $7 and $3 respectively.

Entrants will find this contest similar to those of previous years. Once again 15 games will be listed where contestants must pick winners and, just in case there is a tie among entries, there is one game where the score will have to be given. This score will be used to determine the winner.

In the earlier contests all sorts of folks won the top prize. In fact a nine-year-old boy strolled off with the honors once. It's a contest for everybody.

The rules are about the same as last year when anyone could enter except employees of The Mail, contest sponsors, or their families. The contest form will appear each Thursday in The Mail and entries must be made at The Mail office by 5:00 p.m. Friday evening or bear a post mark of not later than that time. There's nothing to buy and extra entries are available at The Mail. Each person can submit only one entry each week.

So sharpen up your pencils, look over the schedule of games coming for the weekend of September 22 and be ready for next week's "Pick-the-Winners" contest.

Rocks Open Grid Season At Northville

Plymouth high school's 1955 varsity football squad will be unveiled this Friday evening as the Rocks face the neighboring Northville Mustangs in the current campaign's grid opener. This contest, a non-league battle, will mark the official start of Plymouth's brand new football coach, John "Mike" Hoben.

The prospects for Hoben appear somewhat slim at the moment as the ranks of Plymouth's football talent were considerably depleted by last June's graduation of more than 20 lettermen from the 1954 6-B league championship club.

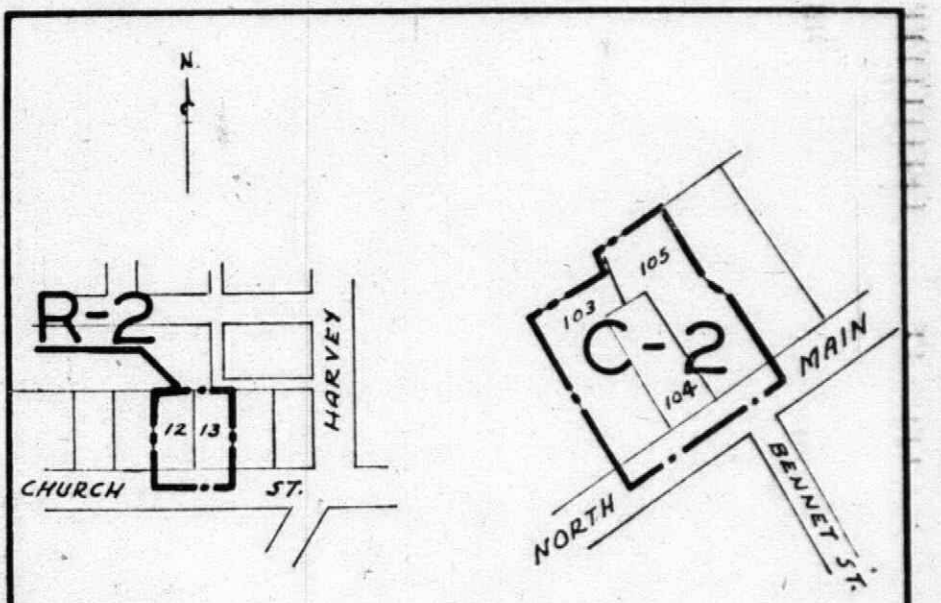

In addition to this, the fall turnout was slender and Hoben can list only 33 players from which to select a starting unit for the Northville opener.

In the opposition, Northville, the locals will meet a team that is reportedly stronger from last year when it finished the season in second place in the Wayne-Oakland county class "B" league. Its over-all season card was five wins and four losses. A spokesman for the club explained this week that Northville had a large turnout for pre-season workouts.

The Plymouth-Northville tilt will also mark the beginning of Northville's new head varsity football coach, Ron Schipper steps into the foreground this season after being an assistant grid mentor for the past two campaigns.

The contest will be held on Henry Ford athletic field in Northville. Game time is 8:00 p.m. Last year the Rocks downed the Mustangs by the score of 19-6.

In South Africa, drunken driving can bring a $2,800 fine, 10 years in the jug or both.

Giant Beavers, Mammoth Elephants Prowled Michigan Woods in Ice Age

The Giant Beaver, who lived in Michigan ten thousand years ago at the end of the Ice Age, was as large as the modern black bear.

How the prehistoric forest must have reverberated when he slapped his tail! Plainly the beaver that toils in Michigan today would have been no match for that giant creature.

The house of one of these oversized beavers measured nine feet across.

The Giant Beaver was just one of an amazing assemblage of animals, completely unknown to our state today, which came to live here with the return of the forests and grass lands after the ice retreated.

Skeletons of the Woolly Mammoth have been found in Michigan and the condition of the bones indicates that they are only a few thousand years old. This elephant came to North America by way of a land bridge that connected Siberia and Alaska. He was well equipped to withstand low temperatures since he was protected by a heavy growth of woolly hair next to the skin and several inches of fat just beneath his shaggy hide.

Skeletons of the American Mastodon are more common here than those of the Mammoth. They have been found in a number of places throughout the state commonly in swamps, and buried to depths of only a few feet.

An unusually well preserved skeleton, found near the town of Owosso, has been mounted in a standing position in the University of Michigan Museum and is one of the finest and most spectacular exhibits there.

Many of the Mastodon bones from the swamps of Michigan are so recent and fresh that they still contain some of the original material, and even pieces of cartilage are found fastened to certain parts of the skeleton.

Such discoveries mean that Mastodons survived in our state until comparatively recent times, and they must have been common all through the forests of Michigan. But nobody has been able to explain why the elephants and mastodons survived the worst conditions of the Ice Age and then, when living conditions were apparently getting better, disappeared completely from North America.

Still another animal, now vanished from the scene, is the Musk Ox which lives today in Greenland and the northernmost parts of Canada. When the great glacier occupied most of the Canadian region these animals were forced to retreat southward before the slowly advancing ice front and then when the climate grew warmer, they migrated northward, since their natural habitat was in the colder parts of the continent. Skulls of the musk ox have been found in Michigan and there is a well preserved skull of one of these animals in the University Museum.

Some of these long-vanished animals may have been seen by the advance guard of Indians who once lived in this region. But they are all gone today and the cause of their disappearance is a profound mystery.

Workman Needs Good Tools

Good tools are essential for the home craftsman. Good tools, however, don't necessarily mean a profusion of tools, according to leading tool manufacturers such as Stanley and DeWalt. Actually, relatively few tools are needed for home workshop jobs if these are of good quality and selected to meet the needs of everyday do-it-yourself projects. No need to buy in quantity. Buy a tool at a time.

It is a mistake for the do-it-yourself enthusiast to buy low-priced, inferior tools. These immediately handicap him as they may not do the job. Heads of inferior hammers can fly off or their handle break and cause damage or injury. Screw driver bits, improperly dressed, can damage screws, causing injury to clothes as well as making them very difficult to remove. Saws with teeth in need of setting or joining can bind or jump and cause severe hand injuries.

A good tool is an important investment. It will pay dividends for years to come in better quality of work, in increased safety and in longer life. If good craftsmen need good tools, an inexperienced person cannot hope to do a good job with inferior tools.

Most home craftsmen begin their purchase with a selection of good hand tools. The basic hand tools needed for jobs around the average house may be limited to the following:

1. A 10-to-16 ounce claw hammer, weight depending on how it feels to the user. Heavier hammers are needed for hardwood or for driving larger nails. The head of a quality hammer is drop-forged, not cast. The handle should be made of hickory or ash, preferably.
2. Screwdrivers — 4-inch and 6-inch blades. There is no such thing as an all-purpose screwdriver. Screwdrivers come in various sizes, and additions can be made as they are needed by the home craftsman.
3. Pliers. These come in many types and sizes, but 6-inch combination pliers are the best initial buy. They have a slip-joint that permits them to be opened wide for gripping larger diameters.
4. A cross-cut saw. This is a general-purpose saw, coarse enough to cut fast and fine enough for rough work. The size of the saw is measured by the length of the tooth edge of the blade (a popular size is the 24-inch) and by the tooth-point per inch. Cross-cut saws usually range from 8 to 12 points, with 10 points the usual selection.
5. A block plane or jack plane. The block plane is the smallest and simplest, about 6 inches long from heel to toe, and designed primarily to smooth end grains, make chamfers and shape small pieces of wood. The jack plane, 11½ to 14 inches long, has a handle similar to a saw's and a knob on the toe end, making it a two-handed tool. Its longer sole makes for smoother work over longer stretches.
6. A folding or flexible rule. Folding rules are usually made of wood for best results and are indispensable for any type of home workshop job. They vary in length and fold or zig-zag to pocket size. Flexible tapes of steel are also handy, since they wind around a spool and can be carried or stored easily.
7. A square. A 12-inch combination square is usually the best tool for marking and making straight edges and angles.
8. Brace and bits. Most non-professionals select a bit brace with a 10-inch sweep in the handle. A set of auger bits ranging in diameter from ¼ inch to 1 inch will make most of the holes necessary for home projects.

This, of course, is a minimum hand-tool list. Many other hand tools are available at your local retail hardware store and can be bought as needed. Extras might include a level, a chisel, a marking gauge, nail sets, an oil stone, an oiler, a rip saw, a Yankee screwdriver, a bit gauge, a twist drill, additional screwdriver bits, a woodworking vise, a hacksaw, a coping saw, and various files.

As the do-it-yourselfer grows in his hobby, he should always remember that his tools are just as important as his skill. It is impossible for him to economize on tools and to produce work that will give satisfaction. The quality of his tools and the condition in which he keeps them will directly determine the quality of his work. In the long run, it is better to have but a few good tools than a cellar full of useless gadgets.

Lumber Firm Offers Do-It-Yourself Classes

Cadillac Hardware and Lumber Co., in Livonia, announced this week that the firm will begin a new series of "Do-It-Yourself" classes this fall. Dick Gadd, manager of the concern, said that the classes will be free to the public and will include instruction on a wide variety of "Do-It-Yourself" projects for the home handyman, such as: interior decorating, upholstery, furniture building, home modernization, etc.

The company, Michigan's largest DeWalt power tool distributor, has for the past three years offered complete wood-working classes to the public at nominal charges and, according to Gadd, these classes will continue as in the past.

The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Both principal and interest will be payable at National Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Michigan. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

The right is reserved of redeeming bonds numbered 86 to 105, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1963 and 1964, at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after May 1, 1957, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the City has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

Said bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments on Special Assessment Rolls Nos. 201, 204, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211 and 212. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Caufield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof. The purchaser shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered at such place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

CITY OF PLYMOUTH, COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN

1955 MOTOR VEHICLE HIGHWAY FUND BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of 1955 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Bonds to be issued by the City of Plymouth, County of Wayne, Michigan, of the par value of $70,000.00 will be received by the undersigned at his office in said City until 7:30 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 22nd day of September, 1955, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated October 1, 1955, will be 70 coupon bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, will be numbered consecutively in direct order of their maturity from 1 to 70, inclusive, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding three and one-half (3½%) per cent per annum, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%, said interest to be payable on April 1, 1956, and semi-annually thereafter on October 1st and April 1st of each year. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

$5,000.00 October 1st of each year from 1956 to 1969, both inclusive.

Bonds of this issue numbered 1 to 45, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1956 to 1964, both inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

Bonds numbered 46 to 70, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1965 to 1969, both inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after October 1, 1960, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption plus a premium as follows:

$20.00 on each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1960, but prior to October 1, 1963;
$15.00 on each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1963, but prior to October 1, 1966;
$10.00 on each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1966, but prior to maturity of the bond.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice at least once not less than thirty days before the date fixed for redemption in a newspaper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notice of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest shall accrue on bonds called for redemption after the date fixed for redemption provided the City has money available for such purposes with the paying agent.

Both principal and interest will be payable at National Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Michigan.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from October 1, 1955, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provision of Act 175, Public Acts of Michigan, 1952, and are issued in anticipation of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund payments to be received by the City of Plymouth, and said bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Plymouth for their payment.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $1,400.00 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of such opinion shall be paid by the City. The cost of printing the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

The act that understanding the allness of God, Spirit, frees man from the idolatry of materialism will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (10:14): "My dearly beloved, flee from idolatry."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read (475:3) "To infinite Spirit there is no matter, — all is Spirit, divine Principle and its idea."

Scriptural selections will include the following from Isaiah (42:5,8): "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: . . . I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Lecturer Speaks Friday at Detroit Science Church

Ralphe E. Wagers

The healing influence of the Christ, in present experience, will be the theme of a lecture to be given at the Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, 5240 West Chicago boulevard, Detroit, on Friday, September 16, by Ralph E. Wagers of Chicago, Illinois.

Wagers has lectured extensively in this country as well as in many foreign countries. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Dawn of a New Day." The lecture, which will be held at 8 p.m., is open to the public without charge.

For the past 30 years, Wagers has been actively engaged in the public practice of Christian Science. Prior to that he was in the lumbering business in Wisconsin. He became a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1946.

The race to which we belong is the most arrogant and rapacious, the most exclusive and indomitable in history. —J.J. Ingalls, 1890

Sure are lots of people putting on an act who aren't on the stage.

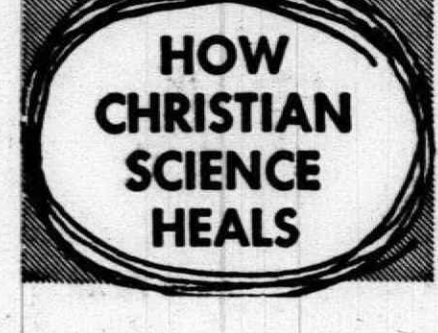

Science Church Starts TV Series

A nationwide television series recording actual documented cases of how prayer heals sickness and solves other problems was announced today by the Christian Science church. Broadcasts of the filmed series will begin Sunday, September 11, in many major centers.

Two guests tell of their own religious experiences on each 15-minute program. A moderator will give brief comments of inspirational nature, designed to show how everyone can rely on God's help effectively in problems of daily life.

Included are permanent healings through prayer of cancer, alcoholism, asthma, migraine headaches, brain tumor, broken bones, and spinal meningitis.

The series is produced by the Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Will B. Davis, manager of Committees on Publication, is in charge of the project. The programs carry the series title "How Christian Science Heals."

OUTDOOR NOTES
From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Applications for permits to hunt in the Allegan county special season are available from all Allegan county license dealers and from headquarters offices of the Conservation Department in southern Michigan.

Landowners must apply for their permits by October 1 and non-owners by October 10. Each year, landowners in the county are given first chance to take part in the hunt and when permits are left over, they go to the general public on a first come, first served basis.

This year, the special firearm season in the county will run December 1-11 and the 1,500 hunters who receive permits will be able to take any deer they can shoot.

The season is designed to keep the county's mushrooming herd in check to reduce damage to fruit and grain crops.

"Good Eating From Woods and Fields," popular booklet of game recipes, is again available from the Conservation Department this fall.

With hunting seasons just around the corner, the annual run on the free booklet is knitting into present supplies.

The 24-page colored and illustrated booklet, boon companion to bewildered housewives, lists a variety of recipes for such small game as pheasant, rabbit, quail, duck, beaver, woodchuck, opossum, raccoon, muskrat, grouse and woodcock.

Methods of dressing, cooking and preserving game meat are included.

Joint efforts of Michigan State University food specialists and Department workers produced the book. A post card request to the Department's publications room at Lansing 26, brings it on the run.

All Michigan's 4,000 hunting and fishing license dealers will be equipped to sell archery, small game and deer hunting licenses to the general public during the last two weeks of September.

Conservation Department workers are planning to hit a September 16 deadline to complete the mammoth job of mailing the more than 1,200,000 licenses. The chore is bigger than that of any other state or Canadian province and annually takes about six weeks to complete.

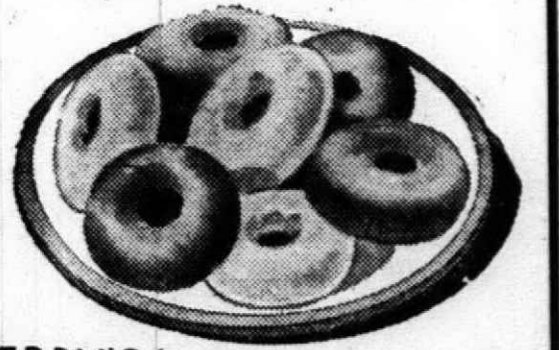

Also, Game Law Digests and supplements will be available from dealers at the same time.

UNWRITTEN LAWS

No. 71 PASS THE TRUCK - OR GIVE WAY

One of the most irritating and dangerous situations is where a timid motorist follows a truck for miles and passes up one good opportunity after another to get by safely. This holds up traffic behind. The resulting driver frustration tempts some motorist to chance the "long jump" and pass both the timid car and the truck.

The timid driver should "either fish or cut bait". He should either pass at the first safe opportunity, or he should lay way back of the truck. This would let a driver behind pass him and then pass the truck. This results in two safe passes instead of one dangerous one. Impatient drivers should remember the slogan, "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"
