

EXTENSION OF the East Central Parking lot to Dodge street started this week. This shot taken from the rear of the Penn Theatre is looking northward toward Dodge street and shows the approximate boundaries of the new lot. Work of laying the storm sewer is now in progress.

Parking Lot Building Enters Final Phase

After several years of planning, work on the final phase of developing the East-Central Parking lot was started this Monday with the laying of storm sewers. About 144 cars will be able to park in the entire lot when the job of blacktopping is completed in the future. Bids on curb and gutter are to be taken this week and bids for fencing will be taken in the next few weeks. This fall's plans also call for erection of lights and laying of a gravel base.

Whether blacktopping will take place yet this year is not determined. Since time must be allowed for the sewer line to settle, it is probable that blacktopping will not be attempted until next year. When the lot is hard-surfaced, parking meters will be installed to pay off costs of the parking lot's development.

100 Celebrate Kiwanis Birthday

One-hundred Plymouth Kiwanians and wives attended the local club's 30th anniversary banquet Tuesday evening at Arbor Lill and saw five charter members as well as newly elected Lt. Gov. Ernest Henry honored for devoted service.

Guest speaker at the event was Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, while special entertainment was provided by Russell Kloetzel, pianist, and Roberta Lidgard, vocalist.

President Norman Atchinson, who acted as master of ceremonies, cited Ernest Allison, Ray Bachelder, Edson Huston, Robert Jolliffe and Fred Thomas as charter members. A 30-year perfect attendance pin was also presented to Jolliffe. Lt. Gov. Henry, who is a past president and has served as club secretary for 12 years, was commended for his devotion to club activities.

The first meeting of the local Kiwanis club was held October 13, 1925. It started with a membership of 35, which today has grown to 85 active members. Providing for needy children has been the principle project of the businessmen's organization.

Dr. Fred Foust, vice president of the club, was chairman of the birthday program.

No Disaster Tonight It's The Fire Show

Citizens were reminded today that the scream of sirens tonight will not mean there's a major disaster. Seven fire departments will race into the city at about 7 o'clock to participate in a demonstration behind the high school.

Only Plymouth township and city departments had announced their intentions of joining the demonstration until last Thursday. Five more have now joined the event. They are Northville, Canton township, Novi township, Detroit House of Correction and Livonia.

The public is invited to attend the demonstration. Each year when the demonstration is held, the police switchboard is filled with requests from citizens asking about the sirens and fire trucks. The demonstration is held in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week.

Joining Mrs. Griffiths on the program will be Russell Isbister, superintendent of the local schools, and Russell H. Amerman, superintendent of the Northville schools.

The broadcast will be heard on station WWJ at 9:15 p.m.

Letters Received Here From Mamie

Two letters were received in the area this week from Mamie Eisenhower, indicating that she has been a busy woman while her husband convalesces from a heart attack.

One letter was received by the city of Plymouth, thanking them for the "get-well" message sent soon after the President's attack. The other was a birthday greeting to Miss Emma Arnold who was celebrating her 95th birthday. Both letters were written from Denver on October 1.

Miss Arnold, who has resided in and around Plymouth nearly her entire life, is now at the Livonia Hospital and Convalescent Home on Plymouth road. Her message from Mrs. Eisenhower stated:

"One of your host of friends has written to me telling me that on Tuesday, October fourth you will be observing the ninety-fifth milestone in your life. I am sure that your celebration will be a most pleasant and enjoyable affair for you.

"A friend of yours has told me that your constant cheerfulness is an inspiration to all those fortunate enough to be around you. This is a splendid tribute and one for which you should be very proud.

"My warm best wishes to you for many more years of abiding peace and enduring happiness."

The other letter, addressed to Mayor Russell Daane, read as follows: "Thank you for your message of good wishes for the President's speedy recovery. It means a great deal to the President and me to know of the thoughts and prayers of the people of Plymouth."

Circle I of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. Clyde Smith, 1256 Penniman avenue at one o'clock, Thursday, October 20.

Symphony Orchestra To Perform Sunday

Plymouth's symphony orchestra will embark upon its tenth season this Sunday afternoon at the Plymouth high school gymnasium in a concert which marks the return of Conductor Wayne Dunlap after a year's study in Vienna.

The concert will feature Miss Evelyn Woods, pianist, who will play the Rapsodie on a Theme of Paganini by Rachmaninoff. As a joint celebration with the local committee for the tenth anniversary of the United Nations, special observance of this date will also be made.

A part of the Rachmaninoff selection which Miss Woods will play, known as the 18th Variation, became popular from its inclusion in a recent motion picture and from recordings by Kapell, Liberace and others. Another work to be performed by the orchestra is the Symphony No. 7 by Schubert. Often called Schubert's greatest symphony, it was included in the first concert by Conductor Dunlap as representative of Vienna by the most Viennese of all composers.

At intermission there will be remarks by Miss Helen Beavers, chairman of the local United Nations committee. Mayor Russell Daane will then introduce Dr. Robert C. Angell of the University of Michigan, who will speak briefly on the United Nations. To set the theme for this observance the orchestra will open the program by playing a portion of the last movement of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony based on the brotherhood of man.

Dr. Angell has been associated with United Nations projects since 1949. He was director of Tensions Project, UNESCO, in Paris from September 1949 to September 1950, and was acting director of the Social Science department, UNESCO, from November 1949 to September 1950. In 1951 he was chairman of the program committee of the UNESCO National committee and in 1952 was appointed to the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO.

The speaker has been professor of sociology at the University of Michigan since 1935 and was chairman of the sociology department from 1940 until his resignation in 1951. He was assistant dean of students at the U of M from 1922-24. In World War I, Dr. Angell rose to lieutenant colonel in the Air Force. He is also author of four books and belongs to a number of national professional groups.

The concert, which is open to the public without charge, will begin at 4:00 p.m.

Elect 4 Chamber Board Members

Four men have been elected to fill vacancies on the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce board of directors and will begin their terms in November, according to Secretary Edward Hart.

Elected were Frank Allison, Chevrolet dealer; Robert Beyer of Beyer Drugs; Carl Peterson of Peterson Drugs; and Fred Van Dyke, New York Life Insurance company agent.

Leaving the board this year will be Charles Sawyer, James Thomas, Robert Waldecker and L.B. Rice. Balloting for the new directors took place among all Chamber members.

The Plymouth Chamber now has 196 members, it was reported by Frank Henderson, membership chairman. Recently added members are the Franklin York Studios, Clark Aerial Survey corporation, Goodale's Delicatessen, Fred Fearer, Standard Oil distributor; Dr. Myron Hughes, James Moore, insurance agent; and Harold Ziegler of Gould's Clearers.

Plans are being made for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at which the new directors will be introduced. The dinner will be held Wednesday, November 16.

Sixty days in the Detroit House of Correction was given Carl G. Elkins, 654 North Holbrook, charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Elkins was arrested Friday and appeared before Judge Nardino Perlongo Saturday when he was sentenced. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said that Elkins, 28, resisted officers when he was arrested downtown.

Meeting Highest Goal in Fund's History Challenges Citizens

A bigger challenge than ever before is facing volunteer workers on the 1955 Plymouth Community Fund campaign which kicks-off Tuesday morning with sights set on $27,500.

Thirty agencies are to be benefited by donations collected through the local Community Fund drive. This year's goal is $3,000 more than the one reached a year ago.

Frains Lake Asks School Annexation

A petition asking that the Plymouth Community School district annex the Superior Township No. 2 district was reviewed by the board of education Monday night.

The Superior township district is more commonly known as the Frains Lake school, located along Ann Arbor road, between here and Ann Arbor. Seven citizens represented the district at Monday night's meeting. There are 41 pupils in the school.

No action was taken on the petition, but the visitors were told that it would be given consideration. Whether the Frains Lake area can be considered a part of the "Plymouth community" is one of the factors to be studied, the board said. There is also a school district between Frains Lake and the Plymouth Community School district which has not asked for annexation.

In other action by the board, it was agreed to hold a special board meeting next Monday at which a building plan for the proposed junior high school will be approved. The architect, Eberly M. Smith, Associates, has submitted several plans.

One preliminary plan has open courts for nearly every room in the one-floor building. The other plan has one large open court. Three board members and seven junior high teachers traveled to Birmingham to examine their year-old junior high. Their opinions will be considered when making the final decision next Monday.

Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Harold Fischer gave reports of the meeting they attended in East Lansing last week of the Michigan Association of School Boards. Many school problems were discussed at the meeting and reported by the delegates.

Superintendent Russell Isbister was instructed to write a letter to the city commission asking for the privilege of purchasing some city property for school use. One plot is located north of Blanche street, behind the high school. Another is located in front of Starkweather school and the third near Starkweather school.

Charged with leading the fund campaign this year are Mrs. L. B. Rice and George Witkowski.

There is one new local agency listed. It is the Junior Police Organization which will receive $500 if the goal is reached. Five thousand letters and return envelopes are being sent out to residents of the area. The pamphlet explains the use of the donations and names the administrators and campaign workers. Girl Scouts have undertaken the big job of mailing out the literature.

Those not receiving a letter can write a check out to the "Plymouth Community Fund" and address it to P.O. Box 356, Plymouth.

Besides the residential mailing campaign, led by Mrs. L. B. Rice and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz, the industrial solicitations will be carried out by A. E. Vallier and Harry Roberts. Pledge cards will be made available for workers at Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, Evans Products and Whitman and Bates.

Sam Hudson will head the professional solicitations while Phil Barney and Sheldon Baker will contact businesses and commercial institutions.

School children will also be given an opportunity to donate through use of canisters. Miss Ruth Erickson is chairman of the school drive.

No matter how small the donations, a Red Feather pin will be given the donor.

There are no professional or paid workers connected with the campaign. All effort is donated by the workers.

About 84 per cent of the collection will be for local purposes while the remaining 16 per cent will be of semi-local nature. The local agencies and the amount they will receive if the goal is reached are:

- Boy Scouts, $2,550; Girl Scouts, $1,960; Salvation Army, $4,500; Visiting Nurse association, $1,400; Recreation commission, $4,000; Veterans Memorial Center, $1,750; Plymouth Dental fund, $700; American Red Cross, $3,500; Plymouth Community Fund, $27,500.

The bride is the daughter of Harry E. Wolfe of 33415 Myrna, Livonia and the late Helen E. Wolfe. Mr. and Mrs. H. Joyner of 9061 Brookline, Plymouth are the bridegroom's parents.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was attired in a nylon embroidered gown with pleated, fitted bodice. Ruching extended from the shoulder of the gown, forming a princess line which terminated in a French pouf skirt. Her cathedral-length train was of rosepoint lace. A coronet headpiece secured the bride's fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a Bible on which were centered a white orchid surrounded by white roses, tied with satin streamers.

Kathleen Whyatt of Livonia, the maid of honor, wore a hunter green, waltz-length gown of nylon tulle, fashioned with portrait neckline and full skirt with flow-ers draped into poufs. Her picture hat matched the color of her gown and she carried a nosegay of gold fuji mums.

Bridesmaids were Marjorie Wolfe, sister of the bride; Marjorie Truesdell and Viola Manning, her aunts and Shirley Manning, a cousin. Their gowns were of bittersweet color, fashioned the same as the maid of honor's, and they carried bouquets of white fuji mums.

Jerry Fallot of Plymouth, friend of the bridegroom, served William as best man. Ushers were Joe Joyner, Donald Wolfe, Philip Truesdell and Harry L. Wolfe, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Wolfe wore a dress of tan and cocoa brown lace, fashioned with fitted bodice and tiers of lace circling the skirt. Tan accessories completed her ensemble. Mrs. Joyner was attired in a plum-colored velvet dress with pink accessories. Their corsages were of white chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception and dinner was held for 300 guests at the Meadowbrook Country club.

The new Mrs. Joyner chose a beige knit, two-piece suit with matching accessories for her going-away ensemble. A two week's tour of the southern states was planned for the wedding trip.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Livonia.

NEWS FROM OUR NEARBY NEIGHBORS

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr. GARfield 1-5847

Mr. and Mrs. Maloney, former residents of Rosedale Gardens, drove down from Lansing on Sunday to visit their friends and former neighbors. Their first stop was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoffman on Ingram. Ed phoned Marion and Del Kernohan and Harry and Ann Boorman and before long it was time for John and Marie Jo and children to drive back to Lansing. It looks like they will have to plan on staying a couple of weeks to visit all their friends.

Among the many residents that traveled to Ann Arbor last Saturday to see the Michigan-Army football game were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Page of 9905 Berwick. Needless to say, Mrs. Page was a little disappointed in the score since her father was a graduate of West Point.

St. Michael's Altar society held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 4, in the school hall. There was a large attendance and many announcements were made of future activities. Raymond Madigan, Stanley Krogulecki and Raymond Jares came to the meeting to appeal to the ladies for help and financial contributions to the Athletic fund. It was decided that the ladies would furnish and finance the Athletic banquet. The men stated that future plans of the Athletic committee called for a more extensive program which would be enlarged to include all grades in school, both boys and girls. The men have worked very hard to make a success of this program and the ladies felt that they would be more than glad to contribute their services whenever and wherever needed.

We would like to offer our sincere sympathy to Marge Glasser and her four children on the death of Mr. Walter Glasser, Mr. Glasser died last week after a long illness.

The next Rosedale Gardens Women's club activity will be a book review and potluck dinner on Thursday, November 3. For additional information, call Irene Koteles at GA 1-7779.

The residents east of Merriman road in the Bel Air subdivision now have their own Boy Scout Cub pack. They are very grateful to the boys and leaders of Cub Pack RG-1 for their help in forming the new group. Since many of the boys will be in the Bel Air group there will be room for new members in RG-1. If you are interested in having your boy join the cubs, please contact Dick Hanz, GA, 2-2623 or Les Core, GA, 1-1654.

It is again with reluctance that I publish the score of the football game between St. Michael's and Sacred Heart of Dearborn. It was the consensus of opinion that our boys outplayed the visitors but we just didn't have the breaks. The score was Sacred Heart, 6, St. Michael, 0. It certainly is a disappointment to the coach and the boys to keep losing but each week they try harder and even the Lions don't win all their games.

Thirty-four Cub Scouts and 14 adult chaperones had a thrill-of-a-lifetime experience on Saturday, October 8, when they took a trip to the Selfridge Air Base outside of Mt. Clemens, Michigan. Captain Milton Spector of the U.S. Air Force, also associated with this Pack, 270 of the Rose-dale Gardens Presbyterian church, was the instrument by which the tour was accomplished. The boys were taken to the alert hangar and saw jets by the score take off and land. They talked with a jet pilot who told them all about flying in these faster-than-sound airplanes. A very interesting equipment demonstration followed in which another pilot showed the various equipment that pilots carry with them. A movie was shown about air rescue which proved very interesting and then the whole group was given an inside look at a "flying boxcar". Highlight of the affair was lunch, served GI style at the cafeteria right on the base. Needless to say, everyone had a fine time.

The Rhoda Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Waack on Stark road, Tuesday evening, October 4. After a short devotional period, Mrs. Robert Richards, chairman, conducted the business. Further plans were formulated for the Bridal Pageant which will be held in May of 1956. In the way of present activities, a copper demonstration will be held on Friday, November 11, at the home of Mrs. Richards, 9901 Melrose. This party will be for the benefit of the local society and their year's apportionments. All members of the circle are asked to bring a guest for the evening. Next meeting of the circle will be on the first Tuesday of November. Members present for the evening were: Mrs. D. Baras, Mrs. A. Trost, Mrs. K. Lockhart, Mrs. E. Reid, Mrs. M. English, Mrs. H. Burk, Mrs. H. Case, Mrs. W. Blanton, Mrs. R. Richards, Miss Dilya Richards, Mrs. D. Pringle, Mrs. C. D. Ryder, Mrs. E. La-Pointe.

An organizational dinner for the men of the Newburg Methodist church will be held at 6:30 Monday, October 17, at the church hall. Tickets are now available from some of the men of the church. They can be obtained by calling GA. 2-2355. After the dinner, officers will be elected and then the men will join with the women to view the movie provided for them by the W.S.C.S. All men, whether they are members of the church or not, are urged to come out and support this organization.

Starkweather Carnival Attended by 1,000

Approximately 1,000 youngsters and adults thronged Starkweather school Saturday night for an evening of fun at the "Fall Festival," carnival sponsored by the Parent Teachers association of the school to raise funds for equipping the school's newly-acquired playground.

John Rudlaff, chairman, reported that after expenses the PTA discovered a total of $865 had been left in the wake of visitors attending the event.

Along with the many booth attractions, highlights of the evening included the appearance of Cowboy Colt's trick horse, "Pal," from the TV show, plus its trainer, "Cookie" and rides on the 1919 Port Huron steam engine owned by John Maxwell of Joy road. The carnival was held from 5 to 9 p.m.

Local Church of God Hosts District Meeting

Nearly 50 pastors, representing various congregations of the Church of God in southeastern Michigan, convened Tuesday of this week at the Riverside Park Church of God, Plymouth and Newburg roads, for their district ministers meeting. The Reverend E. B. Jones is pastor of the Livonia church.

Principal speakers for the event were the Reverend Henry Cole of Ypsilanti and the Reverend Wilfred Wood, pastor of the Kalamazoo church. Services were held at 10:30 a.m. and at 3 p.m. A business session followed the noon luncheon which was served by the Benevolence committee of the Livonia church.

A similar convention was held at Riverside Park Church of God two years ago.

To Conduct Services At Lansing Conference

Reverend E. B. Jones, pastor of the Riverside Park Church of God, Plymouth and Newburg roads, will conduct devotional services at the State Ministers meeting of the Church of God to be held in Lansing Tuesday through Thursday of next week. The local pastor will lead the 9:15 service on Wednesday morning, October 19.

Guest speaker for the three-day convention will be Dr. Dale Oldham, pastor of the Park Place Church of God, Anderson, Indiana. Oldham conducts the international radio program, "Christian Brotherhood Hour."

Dr. Adam Miller, dean of the graduate school at Anderson college in Indiana, will lead the conference.

Cherry Hill Church Sponsors Party, Supper

Two events have been scheduled to take place at the Cherry Hill Methodist church next week in an effort to boost the amount of the church building fund.

A variety party is planned for Wednesday evening, October 19, at 8. The following night, Thursday, October 20, a roast beef cafeteria supper will be served, starting at 5:30.

Both events are open to the public.

AKIRA UCHIDA, right, takes some tips from Reverend Patrick Clifford, pastor of Calvary Baptist church. The youth is serving an internship in Plymouth for missionary work he will carry on in Japan. He will visit area homes for the next six months.

Youth in Internship Here For Japan Mission Work

Akira Uchida, a young second generation Japanese-Canadian, will be in the Plymouth area during the next six months doing internship for missionary work he will be performing in Japan next year.

Reverend and Mrs. Patrick Clifford of Calvary Baptist church have opened their home and church to the 24-year-old British Columbia native. He has already worked three weeks of the six months.

Akira plans to follow two older sisters to Japan as a missionary. Like his sisters, he is looking forward to visiting many relatives there. A mission field in Niigata Province has already been selected for his pioneer mission work.

Having Japanese parentage carries some advantages and some disadvantages for a person going to Japan as a missionary, Akira explains. He is expected not to have the disadvantage of being looked upon as a "foreigner" but on the other hand, he is expected to know everything about the people and their language. Akira points out that he can carry on a conversation in Japanese but preaching may be another thing.

Akira states that "the Lord has shown me that it is His will that I go to Japan." This took place while Akira attended Prairie Bible Institute in Alberta for four years.

Teaching Christianity in Japan is not an easy work, Akira has learned from reports. Some Japanese have believed that they could become Christians in addition to their Buddha beliefs. There is also a constant struggle going on against Communism.

While in Plymouth, Akira will work in a missionary capacity for Calvary Baptist church.

Goal of $75,000 Set for Campaign

A minimum goal of $75,000 has been established by St. John's Episcopal church for their building fund campaign. Canvassers will seek pledges to this fund on October 23. Every family in the parish has been asked to make a three-year pledge to be paid weekly.

Group captains for the drive have been named as follows: Group 1, William C. Boon; Group 2, Harry J. Christensen; Group 3, Harry O. Draper; Group 4, E. C. Meredith; Group 5, Mrs. William S. Milne; Group 6, William Scott; Group 7, Mrs. Walter K. Sumner; and Group 8, Robert Willoughby.

Each group captain has been asked to secure 10 canvassers and to place them in teams of two for making the actual calls on the parishioners. An organization meeting for the captains was held at the church last Saturday evening under the direction of J. W. Cheatham, chairman, and Kenneth E. Stevens, co-chairmen of canvassers.

The campaign goal was announced in printed matter which is being distributed to the congregation this week. In the folder it is stated that the recent parish meeting decided to erect a church "Colonial in character" on the four-acre plot of land on Sheldon road which the church bought about three years ago.

Frank Henderson, senior warden and campaign chairman, will speak to the congregation from the pulpit at all three services next Sunday morning on the campaign plans.

Baptist Church Presents Special Film This Sunday

A new technicolor film titled, "This Gathering Storm," has been slated for presentation at the First Baptist church, North Mill at Spring street, Plymouth on Sunday, October 16. The Reverend Ellis Tolly, representative of Youth for Christ International, will conduct the local film presentation at 7:30 p.m.

The 65-minute film has been released by World Vision, Inc., an inter-denominational missionary organization with headquarters in Portland, Oregon.

A comprehensive study of missions and the crisis facing the lands of Japan, Korea and India is portrayed in a challenging story. Scenes of life in India and seldom-filmed Hindu religious rites, including the sacrificing of a sacred bull, are shown. A ceremonial dance, the millions thronging the Ganges River and poverty-stricken areas, as well as relief work being done, form a vital part of the film. Revival services held by Evangelist Billy Graham on his Korean visit, the colorful land of Japan and its return to nationalism give the viewer a panoramic view of Asia.

The showing of "This Gathering Storm" is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Religion is never synonymous with the progress of any one religious organization.

LETTER BOX

Speaks Up on United Nations

This is the first of three letters to the editor by R. Roy Pursell, 639 South Main street, written in conjunction with the United Nations 10th anniversary celebration on October 24. As is our policy with all open letters, they do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper. The Letterbox is provided for citizens to air any side of a controversy. Signatures must accompany each letter but names may be withheld upon request.

THE UN AND YOU
By R. Roy Pursell

"Steadily it is dawning on the American people that the United Nations' many activities will more and more reach into most every family in the land. For now this organization has developed over 200 sub-agencies to carry out many plans promising a great many things. That these aims are high-sounding, such as 'to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom' easily attracts the loyalty of the humane and folks with inferior complexes."

"Most people are likely to think of the United Nations as some sort of protection against war. They believe that it concerns itself only with foreign relationships and will not intervene in affairs that are essentially domestic."

"The very opposite is true! We have wisely made alliances with 44 nations for mutual protection. These are entirely outside of UN because we cannot find protection within the UN. The plain reason for this strange fact is that by agreement between Alger Hiss and the English, the post of chairman of the Military Staff Committee (the police force of the Security Council) will always be a Communist. Three Russian generals have held that office since UN was founded."

"Thus any thought that the Security Council can be any protection to us when its military is under Communist control is fantastic."

Marriage Made Uncertain
"In 1952 the Supreme Court of California threw out the State's time-honored marriage laws by a 4 to 3 decision. The Charter of the United Nations was held to supercede the State law."

"Judges in both California and Idaho have handed down rulings based on the UN Charter, throwing out their state land laws."

"When the President seized the steel industry, the chief justice and two associates held that even though the Constitution did not authorize the President to seize private property, under the United Nations Charter he could. Luckily, 6 justices couldn't see that and declared the President's action null and void. For a time, private property is safe, but not very."

"The Supreme Court of Iowa rendered an opinion in which it was stated that the United States Constitution was superior to the United Nations Charter. It was appealed. This time the United States Supreme Court divided. FOUR justices this time agreed that the UN Charter was supreme. (Justice Jackson was dead.) Now how will Justice Harlan vote on a like question? If he votes with the UN Charter — our Constitution will have gone with the wind!

"Thus the 'peace front' of the UN is mere talk — the 'intervening' in affairs essentially domestic" is an accomplished fact... What dangers are at hand to our freedom of the press and religious worship will be taken up next week. Watch for it — and be forewarned."

To the Editor:
Even the small self-seeking group promoting annexation should not be surprised to learn that the majority of the Township residents are unalterably opposed to being annexed to the City of Plymouth.

They should know that most of us bought existing homes or built new ones because we liked what we found in the way of restful country living. We like more space and good fresh air instead of the noise, smoke, dirt and crowded living in the city. All of us, I think, were influenced in our final decision by the low taxes which we knew of before we moved here.

Before we invested our money in Plymouth Township land and homes, we were fully aware of, and satisfied that we would be without paved streets, sidewalks, sewers and other so-called city services. We were aware, too, that the Township had efficient fire and police protection and essential utilities and good schools. We went to considerable expense to drill wells and install septic tanks, both of which have proven entirely satisfactory. All of our neighbors and friends have been happy at our decision to come to Plymouth Township to live.

Now, this pro-annexation group, each with a special interest to promote, want to take over and force us to pay in higher taxes for things we already have or things we do not need or want.

As for water and sewer from the City, I read in the minutes of the City Commission that property owners in a subdivision, where city water was extended, were refused the right to tap in the mains which the property owners indirectly paid for when they purchased their lot. The only reason for refusal must have been lack of water.

We moved from the city of Plymouth a few years ago, we did not have sewers there and there were hundreds of homes in that section of town that did not have sewers.

It seems extremely foolish, therefore, to believe that we, in the Township, would get City of Plymouth water and sewer when they have refused tap-ins where mains exist, and about one-third of the city has no sewer.

Clarence Manion, former dean of Notre Dame Law College says of this book: "A desperately needed book of revelations."

"The United Nations — Road To War" shows how the United Nations is a step away from freedom and not toward it. He plainly reveals how it is a blueprint for world tyranny.

100 Guests Attend Reception Honoring Dr. and Mrs. Charles Smyth

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Smyth is now associate professor of internal medicine at the University of Colorado. His work in the field of arthritic study has given him national prominence. Dr. Smyth delivered a paper before a medical group in Detroit during his visit and was invited to visit the University of Michigan and Wayne university medical facilities.

PLYMOUTH'S FALL SOCIAL SEASON got underway last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader on Main street in the form of a reception for nearly a hundred guests honoring Dr. and Mrs. Charles Smyth of Denver, Colorado. The Smyths, former Plymouth residents, were here for a few days visiting at the home of Dr. Smyth's mother and sister on Adams street. The Mail's candid cameraman grouped the four Smyth's for the above picture. Left to right are Millicent Smyth, Mrs. T. F. Smyth and the two visitors from the west.

THE CENTER OF attraction of this group was jovial William Hartmann who had little trouble amusing. (left to right) Mrs. Smyth, Mrs. Margaret Hough, Mrs. Hartmann and Mrs. Sterling Eaton.

CONVIVIALITY WAS prevalent throughout the evening as guests arrived and departed to pay their respects to the Smyths. Here a group of well known matrons consisting of Mrs. David Mather, Mrs. David Wood, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Mrs. Smyth were found chatting with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lyons.

Get your things collected for our Rummage Sale at the Veteran's Home November 4 and 5. More details at a later date. Anyone wanting any information should contact Marie Thompson, acting chairman, at Northville 1473-W.

The auxiliary extends a most hearty welcome to the following new members and hope we will see them at our meetings: Elsie Tobey, a Gold Star mother, (we now have 3 in our unit), Rosina Simonetti, Margaret Day, Jean Simonetti, Lillian Kinghorn and Carol Langmaid, who was a junior member. New Junior members are Karen Holcombe, Vicki, Julie and Evalynn Gardner. They enjoyed their first Junior Activities meeting which was very successful. Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary are hosts respectively to the regular monthly business meeting of the 17th District association and Auxiliary this month. Meetings start at 8:30 p.m. Friday, October 14, at the Veteran's Community center. Let's have our usual good turn-out!

Gertrude Simonetti was presented with a gift at our last business meeting October 6 for being the first member to return her coin card filled. Good work, Gertie! The Auxiliary also wishes to thank Gwen Holcombe for all her hard work on folders for the new chairmen in our unit . . . She did a wonderful and most complete job.

The Post and Auxiliary extend their sympathy to Ray Brehmer in the loss of his father, Marge Hoefft is doing wonderfully and we know she would like to hear from all of us. Her address is Harper hospital, Room H-593, Detroit. Let's send her some cards. Leon Walker is in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor recovering from an emergency appendectomy. He is doing fine. Bill and Adah Langmaid's children are doing fine although they are still confined at home. Martha and Dunbar Davis' daughter is doing fine and is winning her bout with Polio.

Don't forget the Fall conference at Saginaw the week-end of October 29-30.

Please contact Gwen Holcombe for any Christmas cards or information. The Auxiliary has a wonderful selection this year and Gwen will be pleased to show you the samples.

Auxiliary President Melva Gardner wishes all members to get their dues in this month if possible as the Auxiliary stands a good chance of winning a membership trophy.

Grange Cleanings

The meeting of October 6 was fairly well attended. A bountiful supper, of course, as usual. Three new members were received into the order.

The principal business of the evening was the election of officers for the ensuing year, details of which appear in a separate story in this issue.

Our Grange is going to be quite well represented at both State and National Grange. State Grange is at Ludington, October 24-28. Several of our members are going to go to that and we have our own Cinderella this year. Molly Groth, who was chosen for that pleasant part of the convention. It will be a real thrill for her. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth, will accompany her. Also her aunt, Mollie Tracy.

Our next meeting on October 20 should be a very interesting one. We are to have the results of the contest on display and judged. Rugs, curtains, pillow cases and handkerchiefs with crocheted edge. The program will be in observance of the 10th anniversary of United Nations, a film will be shown relating to that subject. Each member is requested to try to find some item or comment about the United Nations to answer to a roll call. That should be an interesting feature so do let us have some comments anyway.

Now here is an important announcement for our meeting of November 3, which is our regular potluck supper meeting. As there is to be a special program that evening, we hope there will be a fine turnout. A feature of the program is to be a wedding—a real wedding, not a make believe so if you want to know who it is, come to Grange on November 3. No questions please, as it is a secret.

Tomorrow is the big day — Bazaar and bake sale and all the rest of it as usual. From 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. You may bring your donations in this evening after 7 p.m. The hall will be open and someone there to receive them.

Wins Grid Puzzle On First Try

Things went along smoothly in this week's "Pick-the-Winners" football quiz. We got lots of entries, there were a bunch of good football games and, naturally, we turned up another weekly grid expert.

But the story behind our experts, one for each week, is a strange one. First a youngster, a nine-year-old boy, won the contest. Then a fellow who had to be urged to enter the quiz by his son. And this week a guy who'd never before entered the contest copped first place.

He's Maxwell Farquharson, 189 North Mill, who on his very first crack at The Mail's grid quiz is carting homeward a check for ten bucks on the strength of foreseeing 14 winners in 15 battles. He missed up on the Plymouth high-Trenton tilt, but figured the Rams would whip the Lions.

These two games were what threw most of the other entries, although a good share picked Army over the Maize and Blue.

Running a close race behind Farquharson and the winner of seven bills as second-place finisher is Dolores McLennan, 47703 Cherry Hill. Dolores missed the Plymouth-Trenton match, too, and had to settle for the number two spot when she had the Rams ticketed to win by 28-10.

Farquharson favored the Los Angeles team to a tune of 20-7. The final count there was 17-10.

In third place, and the winner of three dollars, is Elaine Hunter, 234 Maple. She also had all the winners except the local high school game, but had pegged the Rams as 28-21 victors.

In order to take home his tenner, Farquharson literally "doped" the contending teams. He settled back with a fistful of past performances, matched each team's previous record and showing, figured the track, and made his near-perfect list of check marks.

"Of course," he added, "it was a lot of luck, too."

Maxwell claims a big interest in the game of football, but has never personally viewed a big-time college or pro game. All the football he's seen has been high school games and on his TV screen.

But he played some rugby and soccer back in his hometown of Dundee, Scotland, and his interest in the grid sport stems from that. A diminutive 5'2" Scotsman, Farquharson, who twinkles at you as he burrs his way through conversation, is employed in the mechanical department of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad here.

About this past football quiz, though, it was nearly a snap. If Trenton and the Rams hadn't come through, everyone would have wound up in a mass tie for first. Practically no one miscued on more than two games listed. We'll change that policy starting right now. Can't be tossing this bankroll away, got to make you work for it.

And here's another helpful hint, but don't let it spread around too far. Although we missed our boat a couple weeks ago when the Spartans faced U-M, it's a cinch this week. State by 13 points over the Irish. Watch and see on TV.

TEN DOLLARS go to Max Farquharson (left) of 189 North Mill, for winning the third "Pick-the-Winners" football contest of the '55 season. He hit on 14 of the 15 grid battles listed last week. Presenting the winner's check is Dick Wiltse of Community Pharmacy, one of the contest sponsors.

Here's List of Tips For Economic Duck Hunting

There's a method of duck hunting suited to every pocket book and even one for duck hunters who hate water.

And in case you're planning to try any of the methods this season, George S. Hunt of the University of Michigan Wildlife Management Department cautions that you first make sure you're "legal." You'll need a small game license with a special waterfowl stamp on it.

For the hunter with a thin pocket book the wildlife expert recommends "pass" shooting which only involves finding out where the ducks fly at certain times of the day—near feeding and resting areas or between river systems—and waiting for them overhead.

The popular duck-blind shooting is one step up on the expense scale because it calls for decoys and a duck call, which usually works to lure ducks, says Hunt, but "sometimes" scares them away. "Take your choice."

"Jump shooting" has you sneaking along the river's edge hoping to fall over sitting ducks. But if you're a true sportsman you'll scare them into the air before potting at them, Hunt points out.

And another method along the sneaky line is "drift shooting." Get a boat and a large number of decoys and set them out in an open water area downwind from your boat. When the real ducks gather let your boat drift down on them, Hunt explains, and there you are.

If you happen to have a small power launch, a good friend who likes duck hunting too, and about 50 decoys you can try "layout shooting." Legend has it that this method was developed in the West end of Lake Erie and is thus peculiarly Michigan's own.

In addition to your power launch you'll need a boat with a low silhouette in which you can lie down after determining the flight pattern of the ducks around you, Hunt explains. You'll have to try this on a large lake with your decoys set up to bring the ducks down left-or-right-handed for you. Storms spring up quickly and because you'll have 50-some-odd decoys to haul in, your power launch will come in handy for a get-away should one be necessary.

And if you hate water and like ducks? "Cornfield shooting is the answer," Hunt declares. You hide in the corn shocks and wait for the ducks to come over—it would be a help if you were sure that ducks actually did come to the particular field, he adds.

Ducks are divided into two general classes, dabblers and divers. Major dabblers in Michigan are the mallard, black duck, blue wing teal, pintail, gadwall, green wing teal and woods duck. Divers are canvasback, redhead, blue bill and ring-billed, Hunt says.

Plymouth Gridders Bow to Trenton Under Mauling 4th Quarter Attack

Trenton's gridders threw a solid block into Plymouth last Friday evening as the Trojans ground out an 18-7 win before 1500 chilled spectators, thereby spoiling Homecoming festivities for the Rocks' partisans and alumni.

It was a defeat that goes into the books tagged between the lines as a "first" in several ways. The loss for the Rocks was the first of the current campaign, first under new grid mentor John Hoben and first over a stretch of 13 games. Plymouth has won three this year.

In addition it considerably dims any hopes that the locals held for snatching off another Suburban (6-B) league football title. The win for Trenton catapulted the undefeated Trojans into the favorite's role to capture loop honors this year.

Before the Trojans topped them Friday, the Rocks had previously tied together a streak of 17 straight with no defeats. Only mar on the consecutive skein was a 6-6 tie with Allen Park last year.

Visiting Trenton gained the nod over Plymouth by chasing in a pair of late-minute touchdowns after trailing the Rocks by one point for nearly a period of play.

Behind by a score of 7-6 with eight minutes of playing time remaining, Trenton unleashed a pair of murderous backs that literally wore down the locals. The Trojans sent Lefthalf Ralph Price and Fullback Ray Driscoll continually slashing at the Plymouth tackle slots to slug Trenton to within scoring position.

Finally the visitors went out in front, for the second time in the contest and this time to stay, when Driscoll hit Price with a scoring aerial from 11 yards out. Then four minutes later, after he had returned a Plymouth kick to the Rocks' 35, Driscoll reeled off sprints of 16, 12 and seven yards to carry, the Trojans to victory.

Just prior to Driscoll's wind-up tally, the Rocks had an opportunity squelched when they were set back by a penalty which seemed to put out any fire the locals had stoked high.

Plymouth had marched, via a series of first downs, to the Trenton 40 where the ball rested on fourth down with a yard to another first down. Coming out of the huddle the Rocks sent George Pine ahead for the first down, but the referee had unfurled his red banner signifying an infraction of rules.

The Rocks were assessed a five yard penalty for too long in the huddle, which set them back to the 45 with fourth and six. Forced to punt, the locals then were run over by the hard-driving Driscoll, who returned to the Plymouth 35 and bulled the rest of the way for the final and clinching score.

Earlier, in the fading moments of the opening half, the Rocks had fallen behind when the Trojans scored on a fluke pass play. With four seconds showing on the scoreboard, Trenton's Ed Rushlow knifed an aerial at his end, Dick Blanks. The toss, partially blocked by a charging Plymouth lineman, was deflected into Blanks' waiting hands.

Blanks scored and when the conversion try failed, the Trojans paced the Rocks at halftime by six points. This drive was capped after Plymouth's kick had been returned deep within its own territory to the six yard stripe.

But Plymouth bounced back mid-way through the third stanza and went out in front by one slender point on the strength of Dick Davidson's conversion kick.

As Trenton had scored earlier on an opportune break in its favor, it was another break that led to the Rocks' futile lead at this point.

After a return of kicks that wound up with Trenton in possession on its own 15, the Rocks capitalized on a recovered fumble. Plymouth's Kenzie Calhoun smothered the bobbling Trojan miscue and the locals went to work from the 16-yard stripe.

Quarterback Jackie Carter passed four yards to Leonard Ferguson and Halfback George Pine drove to the three for a first down. Davidson carried into the end zone for the score.

But it wasn't that easy. The Trojan defensive wall at the goal line stood fast through three plays (two quarterback sneaks and a give play) that only edged the ball ahead to the one. But Redford Union, whom the Rocks rolled over last year to the tune of 31-0, have managed to conceal mystically any talents they possess. The Panthers have deceptively bowed to powerful Trenton, 31-0, nearly-as-powerful Allen Park (last Friday,) 25-0, and eked out one scant win over Belleville.

In its clash with Belleville, the Redford Union club came out on top by a baseball-like 6-2 score. Plymouth was fortunate to nose out the same Belleville club, 6-0.

The Rocks will be attempting to get back into winning ways after being sidetracked last Friday by towering Trenton, who is currently pacing the Suburban (6-B) league.

While Trenton was mauling the Rocks last weekend and Allen Park was pasting Redford Union, the surprising Belleville gridders were tacking another defeat onto the Bentley Bulldogs, pre-season favorites, along with Allen Park and Trenton, in the race for loop honors.

The standings in the Suburban Six league at the present are:

	Won	Lost	Tied
Trenton	3	0	0
Plymouth	2	1	0
Allen Park	1	1	1
Redford Union	1	2	0
Belleville	1	2	0
Bentley	0	2	1

League Name Changed; Now Suburban Six

Belated announcement was made this week that the name of the Suburban 6-B league, of which Plymouth high school is a member, has been changed to the Suburban Six league.

The name change was brought about last December 28 at a meeting of the principals of the six member high schools. Reason for the change was that three of the league schools have since become class "A" systems.

The change of the name has been included in the league's constitution. In activities, other than athletics, the name of the league is the Suburban Six Activity association. With regard to sports competition the loop is simply the Suburban Six.

The three schools that have become class "A" systems (900 total enrollment or better) are Plymouth, Livonia-Bentley and Allen Park. The remaining schools (Trenton, Belleville and Redford Union) are all still class "B".

It is unique that six schools are so united by a mutual constitution. Plymouth high school Principal Carvel Bentley explained that this is the only set-up of its kind that he is aware of in the state of Michigan.

THE MIDDLE GUARD by LES BINGAMAN

Clad in a freshly-cleaned uniform, helmet in perspiring hands, the muscular young player sat in front of his locker and gulped nervously as he waited for the signal to call the team onto the playing field.

He glanced at other players, also in varying attitudes of waiting, some of them first-year men like himself and nervous but most veterans of other campaigns and visibly composed over the contest that was only a few minutes away.

No, this wasn't a high school youngster awaiting his first game or a collegian about to make his big debut but a professional football player, with eight solid years of gridiron experience behind him, as jittery as a schoolboy ready to play before Mom and Dad for the first time.

The cause of the young player's nervousness was the realization that once again he was a freshman, this time on the most com-

Touch Gridders Regain Share Of League Lead

Beginger Oldsmobile, Plymouth entry in the Wayne touch football league, last Sunday climbed back into its share of first place in the loop by exploding for an easy 27-0 win over Garden City.

By virtue of their victory, the local touch gridders bounced upward in a big bid for league honors after being beaten two weeks ago by Belleville.

At present Plymouth, Belleville and Garden City share top step of the ladder of standings. Each has won three battles and lost one. Strangely enough, the Garden City team that the Oldsmobiles whipped Sunday were victors over Belleville earlier. And Belleville has pinned the only loss of the current season onto the Beginger squad.

Facing Garden City, considered to be as big a threat as Belleville, the locals scored on the third play of the game when Bob Michaels intercepted an aerial and lugged it in for a TD.

That lead was sufficient but Beginger's Al Waltz proceeded to exhibit an individual attack of his own that completely bewildered Garden City. Waltz hurled two touchdown passes, one to George Hunter and the other to Mac Pierce. Then in the fourth period Waltz ripped untouched up the middle of the field for 90 yards to score the final Plymouth tally.

Hunter placed two extra points and Ken Kisabeth notched the third conversion.

Davidson smashed through on the last try.

His conversion sent the Rocks into a short-lived lead at about nine minutes of the third period. This margin held up until the opening action in the fourth quarter when Driscoll and Price began their assault on the two Plymouth tackle positions.

The Rocks, with their air attack as biggest weapon, were shackled both by the Trenton defensive backs and a night that was not conducive to passing. The chill evening and a wet field made ball handling difficult for passing quarterback Carter.

Plymouth completed only two passes all evening out of six tries, while Trenton, primarily a ground-gaining wing-"T" team, connected on three aerials out of seven attempts. And two of these passes were for touchdowns.

Summarized, the Trenton victory was primarily brought about through hard work on the part of the two backs, Driscoll and Price. All-in-all, as Plymouth's mentor Hoben explained after the contest, the Trojans' grid machine was "man-for-man" a better club.

The Rocks, worn down in the final quarter, had exhibited a good defense during action of the opening half. It was in the fourth period when Trenton slammed its way to victory. The Rocks, already tired, were further subdued when penalties took opportunities away from them.

Although Trenton scored two of its touchdowns on passes, it was a mauling ground attack that made the difference. The Trojans gained 207 yards on the ground and added 23 more via the air lanes. Meanwhile Plymouth failed to match this output, garnering only 127 rushing and 15 more in the air.

Workhorse for the Rocks was Pine, who reeled off 55 yards in eight carries, for an average per try of nearly seven yards. Pine also glittered at defensive end, while Bob Clear, at the other defensive end slot played a stand-out game. Paul Cummings at middle guard performed commendably on both offense and defense.

Tomorrow the Rocks journey to Redford Union high school to face the Panthers. Game time is 8:00 p.m. The Rocks won last year, 31-0.

Statistics on the Plymouth-Trenton battle are as follows:

Plymouth	Trenton
7 first downs	9

15 yds. passing	23
142 total yrdge.	230

Chips from the ROCK

For the past two years a large group of Michigan newspaper people, civic leaders and state officials have been studying Michigan's increasing traffic problems. From these studies have come ideas which have been condensed in a program called, "Fourteen Steps Toward Traffic Safety."

The program as proposed amounts to a 7 million dollar expenditure to meet the traffic emergency brought about by an annual increase in Michigan of one billion vehicle miles of travel. The figures are big, but actually they are small when one considers the number of human lives that are lost each year on Michigan highways.

The average automobile in Michigan travels 9,200 miles in a year and the average motorist drives an average of 7,800 miles in the same period. Motor travel mileage and vehicle registration is anticipated to increase in Michigan and throughout the nation 33 percent in 1956. This means travel will be more hazardous by one third almost any way you figure it. And further, it means that when you and I leave our cozy home here in Plymouth in our cars the chances of our getting back safely are getting slimmer and slimmer by the day.

Some of the more potent features of the proposed legislation or program are this: Driver license examinations will be conducted by State Civil Service employees rather than local police departments. This is most important and will most certainly eliminate cases such as I am familiar with here in Plymouth and perhaps you are, of the well known local resident, now deceased, who for many years previous to his death couldn't determine color or see the eye card on the wall, yet, in spite of this, annually he got his license.

A driver licensing agency such as is proposed would provide a means to improve drivers who start to go wrong and correct them before they cause an accident. First step in this program would be warning letters based on their bad driving record which would pile up in a state wide file. At present Michigan is way below national standards in this respect.

In this same respect the licensing agency would have the authority to suspend licenses of those drivers who failed to heed or respond to the warning letter thereby demonstrating to them that they must obey our traffic laws if they wish to retain their driving privilege. Statistics show that only a small percent of all drivers are involved in 80 percent of all of our accidents.

Studies have shown that accident rates are cut in half among those drivers who have had formal driver training in schools. Unfortunately in Michigan less than 50 percent of the eligible school population has this opportunity and here in Plymouth today only 48 high school students are taking the course this year out of some 600 who might qualify if they had the desire and facilities were available.

The program is extensive and includes plans to increase the personnel of the Michigan State Police, use more help from our National Guard on holiday weekends, etc. Michigan State University expects to establish a college department, offering an across-the-board technical, academic, professional and in-service traffic program.

The program would further provide for a system of state licensed, privately owned garages and automobile repair shops which would serve as inspection stations. Motor vehicles would be required to display approved inspection tags renewed each six months.

All in all the program is sound and if adopted will do much to make travel in Michigan safer for your family and mine. All that remains to be done to put the program into effect is to have the Michigan legislature take action favorably when it is presented next month, and why is that interesting to you? Because if you will take time to write your representative or state senator today, to let him know you are vitally interested in your future safety on the highway he will support this bill and do much to reduce the dangers that we confront every time we are behind the wheel of our car.

Avoid Business Lull by Boosting Advertising

Babson Park, Mass. What has happened to our good friend President Eisenhower has been the match to set off the explosion which has been due for some time. Those of you who have followed this weekly column will remember that I have often noted five "sticks of dynamite" which were awaiting something to set them off.

Five Reasons for the Collapse

1. BUYING BY INVESTMENT TRUSTS, PENSION FUNDS, AND INSTITUTIONS. The money has come into these so fast that the fund managers felt they must invest it. Furthermore, they naturally turned to the biggest companies.

2. TREMENDOUS BUILDING OF HOUSES. This exceeds that of previous years. The money is well spent, both to house the owner and help the twenty-seven industries which benefit from the building of every house. Home purchasers, however, should have been made to put up more money of their own, and not buy houses on their strings.

3. GREATLY INCREASED INSTALLMENT PURCHASING. I do not criticize the purchasing—even on installments—of automobiles, electric refrigerators, washing machines, modern kitchens, and other things which improve the efficiency of the home; but buying TV sets, with hardly a down payment, may be questionable.

4. MILITARY EXPENDITURES A GREAT FACTOR. To the extent these are paid for by taxes, they are not too serious; but they cannot be depended upon. Furthermore, although necessary, the expenditure is uneconomic.

5. POOR YIELDS OF STOCKS AFTER PAYMENT OF TAXES. Except in the case of Pension Funds, Institutional Investments, and other nontaxable purchases, low yield may be the greatest factor. After most investors deduct the income tax from their dividends, the yield is altogether too small to run the risk of buying stocks.

Effect Upon Business And Employment

What the market will do from now on: I forecast that most major dips will go lower than the preceding dip. Yet, each dip in due time will be followed by an upward reaction. This latter will probably not reach as high as the preceding upward movements. What will really happen to the stock market will depend upon general business, which in turn determines employment. Employment determines retail sales, which supply the factories with orders, thus completing the economic cycle.

President Eisenhower's health will be a great factor in determining the immediate future of business. Many large undertakings have been held in abeyance pending a decision from President Eisenhower as to whether he will run again. This work will doubtless now be held up until it is known who the Presidential candidates will be. Perhaps this means that the contracts will not be signed until after the election, if they are signed for some years to come.

What the President Would Like To Do

Intimate friends of President Eisenhower and his wife have known that he does not like the details, the public speaking and entertaining demanded by the Presidency. He enjoyed being General of the Army where his work was largely confined to thinking and planning. Others carried out the details. No one opposed him or ignored his orders. We now know he will not run again. But I believe that he would have liked to be Secretary of Defense or Secretary of State or Chairman of the Security Board. His holding such a position would add greatly to the Administration and give the country faith.

When manufacturers and merchants telephone me asking what they can now do to prevent a business depression, I reply: "Spend more money on advertising." As stated above, future business and prosperity depend upon retail sales at the grass-roots level. To simulate these sales, two things are required: More advertising and better employee relations. I hope that every businessman and wageworker will do his part along these lines during these critical weeks.

Michigan Mirror

Farmers Come Next on State's Aid List

Farmers are next in line after highway users to reap the benefits of a round-robin attack on state problems.

There are those who will charge that the ideas sponsored by Gov. Williams and his staff of elected state officials are merely investments in the 1956 campaign.

Democrats view them—#t least publicly—as their contributions of leadership.

First of those to come up with a special program outside the governor's office was Secretary of State James M. Hare, who drafted the Democratic highway safety program.

It lay in his desk for weeks until it could be "cleared" through Williams, promoted and presented. Now highway safety is to be the main item in a special legislative session.

Republicans look at it this way. People have been killed and maimed on Michigan highways since Detroit's automobile industry put the world on wheels. Those who survived have tried to stop the slaughter.

Safety campaigns have been conducted and laws have been passed by the legislature, all toward the end of cutting down the "toll of progress."

Statewide speed limits have been proposed. Tougher licensing procedures have been enacted. A former secretary of state created a central driver licensing system with legislative help.

But it's been a slow process. Some of the state's top newspapers and others have made highway safety a major issue. They have tried to protect people from themselves.

Now comes Hare with a program for the special session, endorsed by Williams, Democrats would like to have it put into effect immediately.

"This is nonpartisan," said Hare. While the Hare Democratic program is sponsored by a party, it groups together all the dozens of proposals and hopes of Republicans who have pushed individual ideas for years.

In fact, most of Hare's program can be traced to recommendations of the Michigan Safety Commission, a group of intensely interested people who have studied

THE HEART OF AMERICA STILL BEATS

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Since President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack, there has been much speculation as to whether he will run for a second term. Do you believe he will run? What would you do if you were he?"

MRS. ROBERT RICHARDSON, 9110 Morrison: "As much as I would like to see him run, I would quit if I were him. By continuing would only make him worse. I don't know what his own decision will be."

MRS. HARVARD NORGROVE, 262 Plymouth road: "All I know is what I read and I believe they have concluded that he will not run again. If I were him, I would never run. He has been a good president. It is too bad this had to happen to him."

RON LAMERAND, 39087 Plymouth road: "If I were him, I would set back and would not run again. If my health is bad, why endanger it more under high pressure. I couldn't say if he would run again or not."

FRED VAN DYKE, 9585 Joy road: "I don't believe he will run. Even if he were not ill, I don't believe he would prefer to run, but that he would run because of his patriotism and loyalty to his party. If I were he, I wouldn't run."

Weather Tip

G. B. Caesar, writing in Flying Magazine, has a tip for the nation's private pilots. It may also prove of value to others who fly, whether they be pilots or not.

Caesar contends that an old basic weather rule—outlined in 1860 by a Dutch scientist named Buys Ballot, is still sound. In brief the rule is that a right drift, in the Northern Hemisphere, is a sign of deteriorating weather. Conversely, a left drift, in this hemisphere, means weather conditions should improve en route.

Modern weather students, and some officials of the weather bureaus, will contend that this rule is not altogether sound, but Caesar cites several examples, personal experiences, which show that the rule has often worked for him.

Generally speaking, the most widely accepted rule in this hemisphere is that low pressure areas, with counter-clockwise winds, are the surest sign of deteriorating weather. Winds in a low pressure area circulate in a counter-clockwise direction.

It would seem, accepting this bit of established scientific weather information, that these winds could cause drifts in any direction, depending upon the area of the counter-clockwise rotating circle one found himself in.

However, low pressure areas do not necessarily always constitute a circle, and there is much yet unknown about the weather. It is possible that the omen about a right drift could have substantial basis.

At any rate, the weather rule is almost one hundred years old and might be kept in mind by all those who observe the weather closely and seek to pry more information and knowledge out of the behavior of the layer of gases which surrounds the earth.

A Dash of Hokum

This is the time of the year when sports fans, especially football fans, are given a large dose of pre-season hokum. We have long been amazed at the amount of this that goes on and believe there is more of it in the football world than in any other sport.

We refer, specifically, to the rash of articles which appear in national publications about this time of the year which name the All-American teams for 1955. It has managed to escape us, all these years, how even the finest sports writers, perhaps with a bit of gypsy inbred, can forecast the type of play gridiron competitors will exhibit in the coming months.

Yet many of the larger publications, and their sports staff or sports editor, presented an All-American team in September, 1955. We can go along with the All-American teams picked in December, but we cannot seriously take those picked in September.

Since there is no efficient way to choose the national collegiate football champion, because the schedules vary and there are few dependable standards by which to judge a team's real strength, it seems inconsistent for All-Americans to be picked on a logical basis in September, before the season even starts.

All of which adds up to the fact that the football fan likes a little hokum in his football soup. But, nevertheless, pre-season All-American selections have no basis in fact, and the weekly ratings of sportswriters, who confer ratings on the country's football teams are likewise a bit of baboonery.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Here's Coconut Frosting That's Really Tops!

Here's an unusually delicious cake topping that's made from fresh coconut, recipe for which comes from Mrs. Herman Keene of 204 South Main street.

Although the process of grating the coconut may seem a little fussy at first glance, the results are well worth the effort, we've discovered after you've once tasted the delicate flavor of the fresh coconut. Mrs. Keene adds that she usually prepares a cake mix, then whips up her special frosting while the cake's baking in the oven.

The addition of a small amount of coconut milk helps keep the cake moist, and the frosting is even better after it's had time to sit a while.

Following is the procedure for making Mrs. Keen's favorite cake topping:

Fresh Coconut Frosting
One large or two small coconuts (make sure shell is not cracked; otherwise milk will be sour.) Pierce three holes located at tip of coconut hull with icepick or nail. Drain and save milk. Break hull with hammer and remove meat. Peel coconut pieces, wash and dry, and then grate fine.

Seven Minute Frosting
Place in a double boiler:
1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
2 egg whites
pinch of salt
5 tablespoons of water
1 tablespoon of white corn syrup
1 tablespoon of vanilla
Cook over boiling water for seven minutes, stirring with hand or electric beater. Remove from stove and beat until thick enough to spread.

For two layer cake, take spoon and drop some of the milk from coconut over layer. Spread layer with icing, then sprinkle about 1 1/2 cups of grated coconut over surface. Use same procedure for top layer, covering with small amount of coconut milk, icing, and sprinkling remaining coconut over top and sides.

Frosted in this manner the cake will keep well. However, in warmer weather caution should be taken to keep the cake in a cool spot since fresh coconut spoils easily when exposed to high temperatures.

Menus with Imaginative Touch Delight Lunch-Totin' Youngsters

"Oh boy . . . tomato soup!" Is that your Teddy talking . . . that cute little tyke who's getting such a "kick" out of his lunchbox? Tomato soup, garnished with sausages. Cheese sandwiches. Carrot sticks poked through olives. A bunch of grapes and marshmallow cereal candy to satisfy his sweet tooth! No wonder he's so happy!

Yessirree, Mom, you can put a smile on your son's face even when you're miles away! Fill up his lunchbox with body-building foods, fixed so he'll find them appealing. Hot soups, tasty and nourishing. Made with milk, they put dairy into his day. And there are literally dozens of condensed soups to choose from. Mixing and matching opens up more exciting possibilities. Soup-mate suggestions . . .

Cream of chicken and green peas
Chicken gumbo and cream of asparagus
Cream of mushroom and onion
Beef and beef noodle
Vegetarian vegetable and bouillon

Pepper pot and consomme
Let your imagination "run wild" in the sandwich department. Choose from a galaxy of breadstuffs . . . whole wheat, white, rye, raisin, pumpernickel, date-nut, honeybread, fruit roll, frankfurter bun, and poppyseed roll.

Fillings range from the salad types . . . egg, tuna fish, chicken, beef, minced ham to cooked meat . . . roast beef, minced ham, bologna, salami, meat loaf and others. In between come "kid favorites," such as peanut butter, cheese spread . . . even scrambled eggs!

When lunch foods are assembled, tuck in something to surprise your young'un. Like a decorated napkin. Cheerful greetings scribbled on the shell of a hard-cooked egg. Colorful printed waxed paper wrapping for his sandwich. Shiny new pencil. Or a lollipop. And don't be surprised if your Teddy turns out to be the happiest kid in the class!

Hard-cooked eggs keep for hours without refrigeration in an unbroken shell, thanks to the protection of both the shell and the paper-like lining underneath. This is a good reason to include hard-cooked eggs in your picnic basket.

Kiddies Prefer Bright, Clear Room Colors

Color is one of the most important considerations in decorating a child's room. Bright, clear colors are preferred. It seems children are not too inhibited about color as adults.

Parents have made pink and blue popular for babies. However, if a baby is given a choice between pink or red he will choose red every time. It has long been known that primary colors appeal to youngsters.

The 7 and 8 year olds will have very definite ideas concerning color. It is wise for parents to encourage these ideas. It is only natural that as they grow older, approaching high school and college, they will begin to like more sophisticated color combinations. These colors usually have a much grayer tone than their former choices.

When choosing furniture for the children's room try to find a versatile type that will be interchangeable and not limited to any one "room." It should be able to continue its usefulness as the family grows. Beds that can later double as sofas are good.

Be as practical as possible in the choice of rugs and fabrics. The do-it-yourself ideas are perfect for a child's room. Pictures he can paint or a piece of furniture he can help build will encourage a child's individuality.

Frame some of the child's original paintings for the walls if the idea pleases him. Encourage him to take an interest in decorating his room and it will follow that his pride in the room will cause him to take care of the furnishings.

Shoe Bag, Handy Item For Baby's Travels

Mothers traveling with babies will find an ordinary chintz shoe bag a handy gadget to carry along on an automobile trip.

The cotton shoe bag will prove an extremely convenient carryall for the essentials needed for baby's travel. Each shoe pocket can hold bottles, cotton, oil and other necessities. The shoe bag can be placed on a hanger on the coat strap.

On the average, you can figure on getting from 18 to 24 quarts of canned peaches from one bushel (48 pounds) of the fresh fruit.

Here's A Quick Bread That Brings Compliments

The woman who serves a home-baked loaf of bread always draws compliments from her family or guests. And it's so easy to be on the receiving end of those kind words with a quick loaf that's as easily mixed and wonderful to eat as this Caramel Nut Bread.

Here is a recipe for an ever-popular nut bread with an extra mellow flavor because cereal flakes are used as well as chopped nuts. Take your choice of bran flakes, corn flakes or whole wheat flakes from your breakfast cereal array. They not only add to the flavor, but also give a more interesting texture to the bread—a wonderful partner for the delicate caramel flavor.

And here's a trick that will give you a glistening top to the loaf. While it's on the cooling rack, brush the top with maple flavored syrup. You can slice the bread as soon as it's cool, then serve it perfectly plain or spread with butter or cream cheese. Wonderful with a generous cup of hot coffee.

Caramel Nut Bread
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
¼ cup fat, melted
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup bran flakes, whole wheat flakes or 2 cups corn flakes (slightly crushed after measuring)
Topping—optional
2 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and ginger. Combine beaten egg, milk and slightly cooled fat. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in nuts and cereal flakes, being careful not to overmix. Pour into well-greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes. Cool on rack. Brush top of loaf with maple-flavored syrup if desired.

Yield: 1 loaf.

Smart Gal Checks Materials In Garment Before Buying

This is the time of the year that all women should really dig for fashion facts. Read up on all reports that have any bearing on the garments you are thinking of buying. Evaluate them and then carefully jot down what is on hand in your closet that can be worn again this year.

Make sure you understand what materials are in the fabrics of all the garments you buy. Some combinations have wonderful wearing qualities and are easy to keep. Others, costing just as much, do not wear as well, are easily rumpled and do not clean well.

Don't buy a new cut of dress or suit unless it is becoming. The woman who goes to any extreme to be stylish and wears all the new designs just because they are new, is usually a comical-looking figure.

The older you are, the more careful you must be about the color and detail of your clothes.

There is a somewhat standard rule that a woman over forty should never wear black. This is just so much rubbish. It is true that the mature coloring is usually flattered more by a color, however, there are some gray-haired women who find that black is their best color.

Blouses are always an important item in the wintef fashion picture. If you are planning on buying some blouses, you should be acquainted with the popular fabrics like cotton broadcloth, pima broadcloth, pure linen, linen-like rayon, dacron-and-pima cotton blends.

To have proper fit, your blouse's shoulders must be wide enough to let the sleeves fall easily but not so wide the shoulder seams droop. Armholes

Herbs, Spices Accent Flavor Of Meat Dish

Savory meats and meat dishes on your table are yours by cooking each cut of meat by the methods recommended for it. When you wish to give a flair to the flavors, turn to herbs and spices the way a gourmet does. There are two secrets to using herbs and spices. The first is to use fresh ones. The second is to use a light touch—use them sparingly. They are for flavor accents and should be mysteriously subtle, not overpowering to the original good flavor of the meat.

Here are some suggestions from a meat expert on herbs and spices to use with meats for new flavor adventures.

For a beef roast, try a dash of rosemary or thyme. Allspice, bay leaf, marjoram and savory enhance pot-roasts. Use celery seed, nutmeg, thyme, basil or dried parsley in beef stew. Allspice, poultry seasoning, sage and basil can be mixed into ground meat dishes.

For beef stews, soups and with a sausage pizza. For spareribs, you could add a little chili powder, marjoram, bay leaf, savory or thyme.

Lamb dishes are successfully flavored by dill, mint, marjoram, rosemary and savory. Curry powder, poultry seasoning, rosemary, sage and thyme enhance the flavor of veal.

Herbs and spices do wonderful things with leftover meats, too. Poultry seasoning, celery seed and sage may be stirred into croquettes. Curry dishes made from cooked meats get their name from the flavoring, curry powder.

These are just a few ideas to set you exploring into the land of meats with herbs and spices. There are many possible combinations and each new discovery will add to your reputation as a good cook.

Low pork prices are predicted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture during the coming fall and winter due to the big pig crop last spring. Nutritionists remind you to cook pork slowly and thoroughly. You may want your beef served rare, but never serve pork any other way but well done.

GRACING Mrs. Stella Bale's home at 11775 Haggerty is this modern kitchen with easily accessible facilities. Finished in knotty cedar with formica counter tops, the kitchen is adjoined by a roomy dinette a portion of which can be seen over the counter at right. Features of the kitchen include a sink with garbage disposal, thermopane windows above the sink and an island cupboard arrangement which furnishes adequate space while taking up little space. The entranceway to the dinette is at the right of the island cupboards. The home was constructed recently by the Birckelbaw Construction Company.

Home Planning Time is Now If You Build Next Spring

If you're hoping your dream home will reach the hammer and saw stage by next spring, now is the time to start laying the ground work — on paper. The Small Homes Council recommends major points to consider before the surveyor even cocks an eye through his transit. Site and plan — You must consider size, shape and special features of the house you plan to build before buying a lot. If you have chosen one of the lovely, comfortable modern homes of natural wood, surroundings of the growing things of nature are highly complementary. You must consider location of schools, church, work and shopping. There are also city regulations and future requirements to keep in mind.

Financing — It's a good rule to limit monthly mortgage, tax and insurance payments to not more than 20 per cent of your monthly income. Maintenance costs are also a factor. Your architect can give you an overall cost estimate. Building Contract — Before signing any contracts for building of your new home, discuss the work and make sure all details are mutually understood. This should also include arrangements for additional charges or "extras." Construction — Sound, good construction is economical, for there are fewer repairs, lower maintenance costs, money saved. Wood homes in America are time tested — at any rate, eight out of every ten houses are built of wood, for it is beautiful, easy to maintain and adaptable. Your home can be beautiful and distinctive if you use one of the popular siding or board-and-batten patterns in Douglas fir, west coast hemlock or western red cedar.

Interior Finish — Wood is adaptable to a greater variety of fine finishes than any other building material known. It may be left natural, stained, painted, used rough, papered over — there are limitless possibilities. The modern softwoods such as Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar have an innate richness attractive from a resale point of view, and their lasting beauty with little or no maintenance is highly desirable from the angle of the average housewife who thinks servants are merely character actors in British movies.

Plumbing and Heating — As these facilities are roughened in the house, it's a good idea to check location of everything, and to make certain all units are adequate for the size of the house and the family. Keep in mind future possible installations.

Electricity — Know what you want and allow a generous supply of outlets. Changes are costly, and it is wise to wire for any type of modern electrical equipment that you plan to install "some day."

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-359

The attractive exterior of this compact house is a combination of face brick, wide siding and exterior plywood, with a covered entrance of lattice work. There are two large picture windows, shutters and a brick planter. The roof lines are low. A study of the flexible floor plan will readily suggest a variety of uses for the small bedroom in the rear. Conveniently connected to the kitchen, it can also be used as a work or playroom, nursery, den, study, or a breakfast room, etc. The large dining room is actually a part of the living room, partially separated by a what-not shelf. If the fireplace is not wanted, a possible location for the furnace chimney is indicated. Floor area of this house is 1320 square feet, with cubage of 25,008 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN C-359, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Tree Farming Insures Lumber Supply Forever

Increased growth of timber under the intensive tree farm program of private industry will insure adequate quantities of lumber forever for the nation's home building and construction needs, reports W. D. Hagenstein, of the Industrial Forestry Association.

The nationally recognized forester said this industry-sponsored forest management program, now only 14 years old, has spread to 37 states, includes 34,508,771 acres of private timberland. Assurance of a continuous supply of lumber from managed forests, he said, is good news to the nation's 27,000 retail lumbermen. For lumber makes up from 30 to 60 per cent of the sales volume of these businesses. It is good news as well to the more than 800,000 to 1,000,000 trained carpenters, cabinet makers and other skilled wood craftsmen who use wood exclusively in construction.

To a nation that has built its homes principally of wood for 330 years, and which associates "living" lumber with the highest standard of American life, this assurance of a continuous supply of wood for homes, schools, churches and farm structures is good news indeed.

FOR HOME PROTECTION

On new construction, where clapboard or other type of wood siding is used, the siding should be end-pointed and butted tightly against the outside window or door casing. Where there is evidence of leaks around windows and doors of existing construction, the openings should be thoroughly caulked and sealed.

Plastic Wall Tile Now Guaranteed

In selecting the decorative scheme for a bathroom, one of the most important choices facing the homemaker is that of a suitable wall covering. Because color, durability, ease of caring for the selected material, and economy, are major considerations, plastic wall tile is high on the list of favorites with homemakers on all counts.

A redecorating job, however, is only as good as the materials and workmanship which go into it. Now, for the first time, it is possible to install plastic wall tile under a guarantee of satisfaction.

A leading supplier of the polystyrene raw material has just introduced a guarantee program for plastic tile and is being joined by other raw material suppliers and by most tile manufacturers.

This guarantee provides that the tile and the mastic (or adhesive) used must conform to the rigid quality requirements of the Commercial Standard, as set up by the U. S. Department of Commerce in cooperation with the National Bureau of Standards, thus qualifying homes in which plastic wall tile is used for FHA financing. Significance to homeowners of a guarantee is evident in that it is impossible to distinguish good and poor quality tile by appearance alone. Differences in quality can be determined only by extensive laboratory tests such as those made by the Bureau of Standards. Thus, the homeowner wishing to install his own tile can protect himself against inferior products by requesting guaranteed materials. As an extension of the guarantee program for homeowners who do not wish to install their own tile, it is now also possible to have a guaranteed installation of tile by the tile dealer. To qualify for this guarantee, dealers must follow installation procedures included in the standard, which are then certified to the homeowner through a legally enforceable guarantee certificate covering the entire job.

This guarantee carries the three-way backing of dealer, tile manufacturer, and raw material supplier, and the result is an installation of lustrous and durable plastic wall tile that can be depended upon to give lasting satisfaction.

AIRCRAFT FINISHES

The formulation of protective finishes for aircraft is one of the most challenging problems in our constant war against corrosion. A plane in flight — especially at today's high speeds — is subjected to many deteriorating conditions in a short period of time. For example, a plane may take off in blistering desert heat and, in just a few minutes, be at an "arctic" altitude. The thermal shock, thus created, causes rapid contraction. In other cases, the plane may fly through a variety of weather conditions, including hail and rain storms. Even "soft" rain drops are like bullets to a moving plane. Manufacturers of industrial chemical coatings, members of the paint, varnish and lacquer industry, supply finishes especially designed to meet these destructive forces and defeat them. These coatings keep maintenance at a minimum.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: I have a picket fence made of pine, the posts of which were cemented in the ground. Most are now rotted off. What type of wood is best for fence posts, and should they be cemented in the ground again or just tarred and put in without cement? R. G., Oceanside, New York.

Answer: You can use any type of wood, properly protected against rot. Cypress, locust, cedar, and redwood resist rot more than other kinds, however. Protect the post base with a coating of asphalt, painted on. Then set in concrete. When concrete sets, seal the joint between post and concrete on the surface with asphalt, preventing water from entering here to rot the bases of the post. This takes care of contraction of the concrete and post during cold weather and prevents forming a crack there which would admit water. With this treatment, even pine posts are safe.

Plate glass mirrors were regarded so valuable in Colonial America that George Washington's mother specifically mentioned her mirror in her will, bequeathing it to her son.

Large plate glass windows were first used in commercial buildings about 1900.

Home Checkups Can Eliminate Fire Hazards

By the time it takes you to read and absorb this story, your home may be the one just hit by fire in which case the following precautions are too late; you'll be busy elsewhere!

But if you are lucky this time, here's some clean-up cues that will help keep your home from burning up tomorrow or the next day. They come from R. H. Jacobs, Home Products head of Minneapolis-Honeywell, in connection with this week's (Oct. 9-15) annual observance of Fire Prevention Week. Jacobs points out that fire strikes American homes at the rate of one every 90 seconds. It caused an estimated $870,984,000 in property loss and took 11,000 lives last year.

The best preventive procedure, he says, is a good old-fashioned house-cleaning with particular emphasis on certain areas:

First, of course, that perennial bugaboo, rubbish and litter which today cause relatively as many fires as they did ten years ago. Go through your attic, garage, cellar and closets and get rid of anything you're not going to use, particularly old papers, rags, paint-soiled clothing and oily rags.

Next, take a close look at your heating system. Defective heating systems cause 10 per cent of the total fire loss. Replace broken parts, tighten loose joints, check the hinges and fittings on the furnace door; have a repairman check over your complete system for the winter season. He'll know how to clean, adjust and lubricate the working parts.

Misuse of electricity causes one out of every eight fires, Jacobs says. Do you have cords strung over hooks or under rugs where they'll get excessive wear? Make certain the wiring is professionally done. Check your fuses; make sure they're the right amperage for your circuits. If you've installed a number of new appliances, including a television set, you probably need new wiring. Check on it with your electrician. The motors on your older appliances may be wearing out. This too needs investigating to be safe.

If you keep the grease from accumulating in your stove, you won't have to worry about grease fires. But also make sure the curtains can't blow over the flames.

A sturdy, flush-type door at the head of the cellar stairs will hold basement fires in check.

As for the remainder of the house, the big hazard, Jacobs says, is carelessness: smoking in bed, unsecured fireplaces, combustible materials near heat sources and a host of other homeowner-created hazards.

Since many firemen say that in the advent of fire "the first five minutes are worth the next five hours," Jacobs advises installing a home fire alarm system.

One model recently developed by his firm used 30 temperature-sensitive, button-like elements strategically placed throughout the house, attic and garage. These sensing units, which can detect an abnormal temperature over an area of 200 square feet, are linked to a centrally located alarm panel. If an unsafe condition arises the panel "sounds off" and also lights a button showing approximate location of the trouble.

Finally, if a fire does start despite all of your precautions, Jacobs advises that you make sure you know how to call the proper authorities (and if you have a baby sitter make certain she knows what to do in a fire emergency; to get the child out of the house, where to call the fire department and where to notify you) and that everyone concerned knows where the nearest fire alarm box is located.

Convert Closet To Linen Storage

By building slide-out shelves in an existing closet, you can readily create linen storage of the most modern type. Shallow trays keep linens uncrushed and in separate, easy-to-locate assortments.

Complete construction details, in a form that is simple for anyone to follow, now are available. Included in the free plan is a bill of materials needed for this improvement, a good weekend project for the home handyman.

Features include shelves with bottoms of splinter-free Tempered Presdwood, a portable clothes hamper you can roll from room to room when changing linens, and space for a tank-type cleaner. For a copy of the free plan, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for weekend project No. AE-278.

MSU Enrollment At Record High

Michigan State University begins its second century of educational service with the largest student enrollment in its history. Enrollments during registration week rose to an all-time high of 16,729. That figure represents almost 500 more students than the previous record of 16,243 in the fall term of 1949. It is approximately 1,500 higher than last fall.

Registrar Robert S. Linton said late registrations could swell total enrollment to 17,000, compared to the final total of 15,525 last year at the same time.

And at Michigan State, it's men two to one. M.S.U. coeds found themselves outnumbered by 11,376 to 5,353 at the end of registration week.

The veteran enrollment on campus has shifted almost completely from World War II GI's to Korean War veterans. Only 97 remaining World War II veterans are enrolled at M.S.U. — there were thousands on campus following war's end — but the crop of Korean veteran students jumped from last year's 1,450 total to 2,423 this year.

Michigan's Elk Herds Swell to 600 Animals

Michigan's elk herd appears to be growing. Until recently, the herd numbered only about 300 animals, most located in Pigeon River state forest near Gaylord. Now, Conservation Department workers estimate the state has a total of 600.

The herd started from seven animals released in the forest in 1918. Several other releases, including animals imported from Jackson Hole, Wyoming, failed, but the Pigeon River herd continued to grow until about 1926, when a stable population of 300 was reached.

The range appeared limited and it looked like the herd would remain small and clustered—something to look at—in the Pigeon River country.

Then about 1951, a number of sick, blind and dead elk began to appear. Department researchers autopsied the dead Wapiti, but weren't sure of the trouble. However, in the last two years, only one sick animal has been reported.

In addition to the Pigeon River herd, a number of elk have been seen southwest of Alpena, in the Hubbard Lake area. Others are reported north and east of the original release site.

Small Game Season To Attract 730,000

An estimated 730,000 hunters will go to Michigan's fields and forests this year for the annual small game seasons, some of which opened October 1.

Conservation Department leaders stated that most hunting on the Saturday opening was for waterfowl, ruffed grouse and deer by archery. A number of lesser seasons got under way that day, but most generally draw incidental hunting.

The important southern Michigan pheasant, squirrel and rabbit seasons will not start until October 20, but all three species were permitted to be hunted in limited northern areas starting October 1.

Raccoon hunting also started in the north country October 1, but in the south, baying hounds and midnight hunts under harvest moons won't get under way until October 20.

Waterfowling will depend pretty much on the weather — as usual — and duck-hunting devotees prefer cold, blustery, gusty days for their sport.

All the state's 4000 license dealers — hardware stores, sporting goods shops and farm stores — have been supplied with licenses, duck stamps, Game Law Digests and other information for hunters. The Digest gives details of all season regulations.

August Worst Traffic Death Month For Michigan Motorists Since '41

Michigan's traffic death toll of 213 in August was the worst fatality record for any month since before Pearl Harbor, the Michigan State Police monthly report reveals.

Not since November, 1941, when 219 persons lost their lives, have so many been killed within any month on Michigan streets and highways.

The death figure, which was an increase of 47, or 28 per cent, over 166 persons killed during August, 1954, also continued an upward trend in Michigan's 1955 toll which was interrupted only during February and July.

Injuries increased 19 per cent, or from 4,698 to 5,614, over August of last year, while accidents rose 15 per cent from 13,786 to 15,792.

Deaths were up in both rural and urban areas as were injuries and total reported accidents. However, rural areas showed the sharpest percentage increases compared with August, 1954, and accounted for 79 per cent of the state-wide death toll.

According to provisional figures, most of the August fatality increases resulted from "ran off roadway" type accidents.

The record for the first eight months of this year includes 1,250 persons killed, 38,299 injured and 121,128 reported accidents. Deaths are up 13 per cent from 1,104, injuries increased nine per cent from 35,029 and accidents gained three per cent from 117,075.

Mileage traveled for the first seven months of this year, the latest figure available, was 16.8 billion, an increase of nearly eight per cent over 15.6 billion in the same period last year. The death rate of 6.2 per 100 million miles of travel was up three per cent.

Plans for the group's activities were discussed. A trip to Fairlane and Henry Ford gardens, is being planned for early spring. The first project to be undertaken by the group this year is care and cleaning of rugs and carpeting.

In keeping with local organizations and groups, an observance of United Nations Day, October 24, will be undertaken in the way of writing "Pen Pal" letters to people of foreign lands.

The Warren group is among the largest extension groups in Wayne County with a membership to date of 18.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

Bulbs Supply Three Months Color in Spring

To get the best effect from spring flowering bulbs in the home garden, do not plant them in single rows or massed beds. The grace and beauty of the daffodils, hyacinths and tulips are much better displayed when they are planted in groups, the number in a group depending upon the size of the garden.

A group of five bulbs is approximately equal to one perennial plant, and such groups can be arranged in pleasing combinations with other bulbs or plants. For maximum effect they may be planted at focal points in the garden where their beauty will stand out.

Three months of color can be enjoyed from bulb plantings, but this requires that several kinds be planted, chosen for their flowering season. Each kind gives a relatively brief display, and several may for a brief time overlap, as do the daffodils, hyacinths and early tulips. The late tulips have the longest season.

For a full three months, usually March, April and May, you will require snowdrops, which blossom when the ground thaws out, followed in turn by scillas, crocuses, species tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, early tulips, and then late tulips, which include the parrots and late doubles.

It does not take many of the earliest flowers to make a welcome display since they come at a time when nothing else is in bloom. They also bloom when it is cold outside, and will be enjoyed most if they can be seen from the picture window. Daffodils bloom before trees and shrubs are in leaf and do well in locations which are in full sun when they bloom, though later would be shaded. That is why they are often naturalized beneath trees.

Tulips require sunshine most of the day. Groups of tulips can be tucked into the ground alongside perennial flowers and if planted eight to ten inches deep will bloom for several years in well drained soil, without being lifted. If there is room for a bulb border, the tall late tulips are best to plant there because of their remarkable variety of forms and colors. By carefully selecting colors and types, and using the new parrot and double tulips, as well as the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder varieties, a border can be made more beautiful than at any other time of the year.

All the colors of the rainbow are available among the tulips, in many tones and blends. There are many blue-purple and lavender varieties to plant in effective contrast to the yellow, orange, pink and red varieties. A group of parrot tulips will attract instant attention, with their huge fringed petals and brilliant coloring. The new late double tulips are almost as large as peonies.

Tulips blossom before weeds have begun to grow, or insects have hatched out to damage the plants. They rarely have to be watered, and are the most dependable of all plants for planned effects, since they blossom at the same time, grow to the same height, and never spread out of their assigned location.

Plymouth Marching Band Part of U-M Band Day

Plymouth high school's 54-piece marching band, directed by Laurence Livingston, will be among 182 high school bands that will participate in the world's largest massed band day at the University of Michigan October 15 during the Michigan-Northwestern football game.

The 54 members from here will join with an estimated 11,500 other high school band members including those from the University of Michigan's marching band. The bands will entirely fill the stadium's playing field and pour over into the end zone seats during the halftime show.

This is the seventh annual event and will be more than six times larger than the original gathering held in 1949. At that time there were only 29 bands and 1,850 participants.

Other high school bands that will attend the event from this immediate area include Bentley and Clarenceville high schools in Livonia and the Northville high school marching band.

Life is not easy for the individual who wants to earn everything he enjoys.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Duck hunting was good and grouse hunting was poor.

That's the general story of the opening of Michigan's 1955 small game seasons on October 1.

Conservation Department field workers checked hundreds of hunters and found that waterfowl hunting activity was well above the opening last year. The season opened Friday noon last year and Saturday morning this year, differences generally believed responsible for the heavy increase in hunting activity.

Weather was good for duck hunters, but heavy foliage made upland hunting tough and kept grouse success low.

Some specific areas reported as follows:

Pointe Mouillee in southeastern Michigan reported 600 hunters took 1158 ducks the first two days where last year the same number bagged 843.

At St. Clair Flats, 655 hunters interviewed had bagged 649 ducks activity here was up 100 per cent from last year.

The Swan Creek area had 139 goose hunters the first three days; they bagged five geese. Last year, 104 hunters got one goose in the opening three days. Most activity here comes later in the season, when northern flights are in.

Drummond Island, Saginaw Bay, the Haymarsh and Featherbed area north of Big Rapids, Houghton Lake and Fletcher Floodwater all reported similar good waterfowl hunting.

Near Seney, waterfowl hunting increased from last year, but success on local birds was only fair.

Grouse hunting was good in spots, but in general, reports were pretty glum. The Rifle River area checked 274 hunters the first two days and they bagged 42 grouse. Last year, 191 hunters had 37 grouse.

Kalkaska and Montmorency counties, two representative areas, reported generally poor grouse hunting.

Only three delegations appeared at the Conservation Department's public hearing on proposed new regulations to govern wildlife exhibits.

The hearing, held late last week at Higgins Lake training school, was well advertised and all the state's 27 exhibitors were notified in advance of the meeting.

The new regulations call for stricter housing and safety precautions, both to protect wildlife and visitors who view the animals.

Most of the exhibits are small roadside zoos used as tourist attractions.

The three delegations asked for information or registered minor complaints. The slate of new rules has to be studied further, and the complaints considered before the Conservation Commission takes final action.

October is usually a bad month for woodland fires.

Foliage is ripe, winds are generally strong, the month is often rainless. Hunters and campers living afield increase the hazard sharply and history shows that some of the most disastrous fires ever to hit Michigan occurred in October.

The great Chicago, Peshtigo, Holland and thumb fires occurred in October and the month is often an annual headache to Conservation Department fire crews.

A characteristic of October fires is the speed with which they move. Dry foliage, lying deep on the ground, spurs a small fire to grow rapidly and storm across a large area in a short time.

Hunters are urged to exercise extreme caution with tobacco and campfires during the month.

The Conservation Department is developing a time- and labor-saving mechanical fish sorter for use in Michigan's fish hatcheries.

The proposed device works like a sieve or potato grader to sort fish by size classes. M. J. DeBoer, in charge of hatchery operations, says the chore often takes a full crew two weeks a year at each hatchery. He guesses the new sorter may cut this to two days.

Fish workers will be able to take the grader right into a hatchery pond for quick separation.

Separation keeps big trout from eating their little brothers, assures all fish an even break for food and makes possible spring and summer plantings of uniform size classes.

The first working model, built in the machine shops at Rosebush, was tried at Grayling hatchery last week and a number of flaws were uncovered.

The Department would like to build corrected models this winter for use at hatcheries next year.

Chemical sprays killed scrub growth on large areas of northern wild lands this year, openings being developed as sharp-tailed grouse and deer habitat.

Hunters will find 300 acres of popple sprayed out on Drummond Island, 200 acres in Dickinson county north of Sagola, 400 acres miles west of Grayling, 200 acres north of Watersmeet and 335 acres northeast of Newberry.

Conservation Department workers sprayed the areas this summer.

We have met many people in many places, so far in this life, and very few of them were unable to tell us how the rest of the world should live.

How to stop worrying: start saving!

Worry—that agonizing process of mind searching for a way out—isn't fun. And it isn't always the product of money matters. But when it is, remember this: most money worries fade in the face of determined thrift. To stop worrying—start saving.

Let's think of it as three points: One—there's real comfort in having cash in the bank. Two—the only way to have money is to save money. And three—the right way to save money is regularly. These three points can be proved.

They can be proved and the peace of mind alone is worth the trying. Do this: next payday, or sooner if possible, go to your most convenient National Bank of Detroit office. There is pretty sure to be one nearby.

Ask to see the manager. He'll explain anything you'd like to know about the various ways to save. He'll handle the opening of the account for you. Then you'll have taken the first step in proving those three points about thrift.

One day soon something like this will happen to you: you'll find yourself frowning about some financial problem. You'll be on the verge of an old-time money worry. Then you'll remember that growing stack of cash in the bank—the cash with your name on it—and all of a sudden your worries will disappear.

You'll have proved the value of money in the bank, and instead of us talking it'll be you telling your friends: "The way to stop worrying? . . . Start saving! At National Bank of Detroit."

And that's exactly what we're here for. See you next payday—or sooner.

More friends because we help more people
