

Ballots Prepared For Annex Vote

Final preparations are being made to set up election machinery for the November 1 vote on annexations. Although it is impossible to determine how many citizens will turn out for this kind of election, it is believed that the controversial issues will bring large crowds to the polls.

What will voters find when they go to vote? First of all, voting machines (not paper ballots) will be used in both the city and township.

Instead of being labeled as "propositions" on the machines and ballots, the issues will be listed as "parcels." City voters will find "Parcel A" and "Parcel B" on the ballot while township voters will find only "Parcel A" listed.

"Parcel A" will be concerned only with the annexation of the township to the city, excluding the 85-acre Roderick Cassidy farm on Sheldon road. The "Parcel B" proposition deals with annexation of the Cassidy farm to the city.

From wording on the ballots, it will be impossible for the average citizen to know what the "parcels" are. Instead of mentioning "township" or "Cassidy farm" annexations, law demands that legal descriptions must be included. These legal descriptions are long and detailed and are currently running in each issue of The Mail. Both "A" and "B Parcels" read:

"Shall the territory in the Township of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, described as follows (here follows the legal description) be annexed to the City of Plymouth, Michigan?"

TOWNSHIP VOTERS need remember that they will have only one question to vote upon. "Parcel A" will ask if they want the township (excluding the Cassidy farm) annexed to the city.

CITY VOTERS must remember that they will have TWO questions to vote upon. "Parcel A" will deal with annexing the township (excluding the Cassidy farm) to the city. "Parcel B" will deal with annexing only the Cassidy farm to the city.

Kiwanians Sponsor Huge Rummage Sale

One of the biggest rummage sales ever undertaken in the city of Plymouth will be conducted by the Plymouth Kiwanis club this Thursday, Friday and Saturday to help finance the club's charitable activities.

Chairman Robert Lidgard said that a huge supply of very worthwhile items had been gathered by the club and will be sold at bargain prices to make this undertaking a success. The sale will be held on Harvey street in an unoccupied building directly behind Stop and Shop supermarket.

Expect 300 at Inter-Service Club Banquet Observing UN Anniversary

Kiwanians, Lions, Optimists and Rotarians will join forces this Tuesday night for an Inter-Service Club United Nations banquet at the high school auditorium. The event is planned to observe the 10th anniversary of the UN.

A capacity crowd of perhaps 300 men and their wives is expected to attend the dinner and hear Dr. Preston W. Slosson, professor of history at the University of Michigan, deliver the address. He will speak on "The Past, Present and Future of the United Nations." Starting time is 7 p.m.

Dr. Slosson recently returned from an extensive trip to Europe, one of many he has taken to observe political life there. He was once assistant professor in history at Columbia, was a member of the editorial staff of the New York Independent (1920-21), and has been professor of history at Michigan since 1937. He was Carnegie visiting professor at Bristol, Manchester and Glasgow universities in 1938-39.

The speaker is also credited with a long list of publications

Schoolcraft Road Accident Takes Life of Detroit

A Detroitier killed in a Schoolcraft road accident and two Dearborn girls fatally injured in Salem township were among the tragic mishaps reported in the area during the past week. Two Plymouth women were also reported injured Sunday in an accident on Lilley road.

Killed at the Schoolcraft and Wilcox road intersection Sunday night was Thomas James Hailley, 56, of 14028 Whitcomb, Detroit. Sheriff's officers said that Hailley was driving east on Schoolcraft and missed the turn in the road where it intersects with Wilcox road. The car struck two road signs and turned over, pinning the driver underneath.

Hailley was dead on arrival at the Wayne County General hospital. The accident occurred at 11:59 p.m.

At 10:08 o'clock the same night, Cecil Russell, 921 Sutherland, was driving south on Lilley road. He failed to make the turn where the road makes a jog at Joy road and the car went into the airport field, sheriff's deputies reported. The sheriff's report said that passengers Dorothy Carter received lacerations of the left leg and Edna Holcomb received a fractured left leg. Both of their addresses were reported as 921 Sutherland.

Funeral services were held this week for two Dearborn teen-age girls who died in an accident last Thursday night while riding in a late model convertible owned by a Plymouth youth, Roger Kiser, 20, of 44149 Shearer drive. Driving the car at the time was Joyce Slabaugh, 17, of Dearborn township.

The accident happened on Five Mile road, east of Pontiac trail in Salem township. It was reported that the car skidded on loose gravel, went into a ditch and rolled over, pinning the two victims under the vehicle.

The dead were Laurel Novicka, 6015 Robindale, and Susie Ann Gardner, 5740 Robindale. Miss Slabaugh, a former resident of Plymouth, and Shirley Grace, who lives with the driver, were both injured. Kiser was treated for minor injuries and released.

SEVERAL DOZEN fires of this size were extinguished last Thursday night at the Fire Prevention Week demonstration in Plymouth. Fire fighters from seven departments extinguished oil fires in a pit, shown above, and stubborn natural gas fires. Mud surrounding the oil pit made it risky for firemen to get too close. Fires were re-lit to give each department an opportunity to fight the blazes.

School Officials Approve Plans For Junior High

Construction is expected to be started next April 1 on the million and a half dollar junior high for which plans were approved by the board of education Monday night.

The board held a special meeting to approve the preliminary plans of Ebele M. Smith and Associates, architects for the building. Their choice was unanimous.

Between 900 and 1,000 students will be able to use the building. The construction site is in the southeast corner of the city, near Lilley and Ann Arbor roads.

Bids are expected to be taken March 1 and actual construction can start a month later, the board learned. If the school is to open in September 1957, the builder will have 17 months to complete the job. The architect will now begin drawing detailed plans.

The approved plan is one of three preliminary drawings examined. It contains 33 "teaching stations" and is divided into three distinct sections. The main section will contain classrooms for "quiet" studies, another section will have "noisy" activities such as band, shop, cafeteria and kitchen while another wing will have a gymnasium and locker rooms. There are also provisions made for a future auditorium and swimming pool.

The unique portion of the plan is the patios or courts which divide each group of two classrooms. The Mail will print a sketch of the building when it is available.

Already located on the junior high site is a bus parking lot along Lilley road. The large asphalt paved lot will be fenced in for protection.

Although there are no sewer facilities now near the site, school officials are relying on a city plan for sewer construction from which a lateral can be laid to the proposed building. The building will face north.

Local Trucker Loses Life On Eve of Safety Award

Russell C. Merritt, Sr., who was to be honored by his employers next Monday for eight years of accident-free truck driving, was killed instantly in a collision Monday morning near Urbana, Ohio. He lived at 618 Farmer street.

Commercial Carriers, Inc., of Detroit, for whom he had been a driver since 1937, had scheduled a dinner next Monday at which Mr. Merritt was to have received a diamond-set ring for his eight years of driving without being charged with an accident. He will be buried wearing the ring, company spokesman said.

Mr. Merritt, 52, was the company's second oldest employee. He had left here Monday for Georgia with four new cars on his haul-away vehicle. At 10:30 a.m., three miles north of Urbana on Route 68, an oncoming truck started to pass a slow-moving car. Merritt started to pull off the side of the road but the other truck struck the cab of the Plymouthite's tractor, throwing him out.

The driver died immediately of a brain concussion. He also suffered other injuries. Early reports indicated the other driver suffered no injuries. It was not learned if Merritt's truck overturned, but it was known that the truck and its cargo were heavily damaged.

Mr. Merritt, who had accumulated an estimated 1,000,000 miles of safe driving without an accident, came to Plymouth 17 years ago from Salem. He was born in Detroit on January 20, 1903 to John and Bertha Angell Merritt.

Surviving are his wife, Edith; three children, Mrs. Wanda Binger and Russell Charles Merritt, Jr., both of Plymouth, Rodger Merritt of Oklahoma; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Schrader Funeral home today at 1 p.m. The Reverend Robert D. Richards, pastor of Newburg Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be in Thayer cemetery.

Letterbox Bulges The Mail's "Letterbox" is bulging this week and that's good because every newspaper encourages its readers to voice their opinions. We draw special attention to the fact in this edition not merely because of the number of letters but also because of their interesting content.

On page 4, section 4, page 6, section 3 and page 8, section 2 you'll find opinions of readers. We hope you will enjoy them and, if so inclined, send in opinions of your own. We must caution you, however, to sign all letters although names may be withheld upon request. Please be as brief as possible. When you reach the 500-word mark the editor begins to use his "blue pencil."

Publisher Eaton will serve as liaison between committee headquarters on the campus of Northwestern university in Chicago and the government information sub-committee in Washington, D. C.

He attended the convention throughout last week with Mrs. Eaton.

The event will be held in the high school auditorium starting at 7 p.m.

No Parking Signs On Main Street Now Permanent

No-parking restrictions on the newly-developed portion of Main street became final this week when city commissioners voted 5-1 in favor of making the police department ruling permanent.

The no-parking signs were ordered erected a month ago. According to the city charter, the commission can ask that the signs be removed within 30 days. No such order was given although several citizens violently objected to the restriction.

Norman Marquis, owner of Marquis Toll House, appeared at a commission meeting a month ago to register his complaint that the restriction would penalize businessmen. He received support from Commissioner Marvin Terry who cast the negative vote Monday night. Commissioner Harold Guenther had also expressed some opposition to the regulation at previous meetings but he was not present Monday when the vote was taken.

A committee was appointed a month ago by Mayor Russell Daane to study the parking regulation. On the committee were Commissioners Harry Roberts, Ernest Henry and J. Rusling Cutler. Henry reported that the committee definitely felt that there should be no parking along the route from Mill street to Pennin avenue. The report read:

"It was felt . . . that both the city and businessmen involved have an obligation towards parking. A suggestion was made and agreed upon that an effort be made to have the parking committee of the Chamber of Commerce meet with these businessmen and later the parking committee meet with the committee from the city commission to formulate the thinking and present the findings to the city commission for what action they deem appropriate."

In connection with parking, Commissioner Robert Sincoc said that he was approached by a group of businessmen and asked if there would be a possibility that the city would sell the Central Parking lot to a private concern and a second deck placed over the lot for more parking.

Commissioners appeared cool toward the idea, explaining that there is nothing to prevent private enterprise from purchasing sites of their own for parking lots. In other business before the group, a bid of $3,538 was approved for installing curb and gutter around the East Central Parking lot. The winning bidder was John F. Wohlen of Wyandotte.

The city manager's report concerning flashers at the C & O railroad's Farmer street crossing was discussed. It told of the meeting between city, railroad and state officials (reported two weeks ago in The Mail). Gates, he said, are required along with flashers. It was figured that the crossing would be blocked about seven hours a day by gates.

Larger warning signs and a spotlight to shine on the tracks at night were recommended to the city and work will soon begin to obtain these, Glassford said.

Board Takes Membership Poll To Determine Stand on Issue

Directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, after taking a poll among the Chamber membership, have gone on record as favoring the proposed consolidation of Plymouth township and Plymouth city.

The announcement was made this week by the board of directors after they sent out and analyzed written ballots sent to all Chamber members. The Chamber board announced several months ago that it was endorsing annexation of the Roderick Cassidy farm to the city to make way for construction of the Western Electric plant.

Community Fund Opens Campaign With Enthusiasm

Twenty-five citizens downed a big breakfast Tuesday morning, were given last-minute words of encouragement and then set off to enlist the help of their fellow citizens to meet a $27,500 Plymouth Community Fund goal.

The kick-off breakfast, served and furnished by the Mayflower hotel, brought most of the workers of the 1955 fund drive together for the first and last time. Householders will soon be receiving their appeal through the mail, while business, industry, professional people and school children will receive a personal appeal.

Service club members at the kick-off breakfast will tackle the job of calling on every commercial and industrial establishment in the area.

The Fund was given a resounding send-off with an announcement at the breakfast that the National Bank of Detroit is donating $1,500. Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., local Ford agency, also made an early donation of $360. M. Powell & Son became the first to have a 100 per cent contribution from its employees.

It was pointed out that this year's goal is about 12 per cent higher than last year - meaning that the community will need to increase its donations at least this much over last year. For the first time this year, the residential Red Cross drive is incorporated with the Community Fund.

Commissioners appeared cool toward the idea, explaining that there is nothing to prevent private enterprise from purchasing sites of their own for parking lots. Consolidation has proven to be the best solution in the case of the school district. We are cognizant of the desire and anxieties of the school board with regard to the problems of utilities for new schools under construction and the prospect that there might exist half-day sessions next year."

Spooks Big Feature at Smith School Fair Saturday

GETTING A SNEAK preview of what's in store for youngsters who visit the Smith school "Country Fair" spook house this Saturday evening is Nat Sibbold, publicity chairman for the event. The spook pictured here escaped just long enough to assist Sibbold in one last plug for the affair. The night's festivities will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a supper for guests.

Unique addition to this year's big Smith grade school "Country Fair," scheduled for this Saturday evening beginning at 5:30, is a scary Spook House, according to Nat Sibbold, publicity chairman for the event.

But the Spook House will not be the only big attraction for youngsters attending the evening's festivities. Fourteen other activities will provide tots and parents alike with a full night of wild entertainment. Included among the big doings will be old time movies, a cake walk, shooting gallery, fish pond and many others.

This year's "Country Fair," fifth annual event, will begin with the supper for guests attending. The supper will be served in the school's auditorium. Then follow the many events which Sibbold reports will draw the biggest crowd yet in the five years of the fair's existence.

Some lucky youngster is scheduled to win a brand new Evans-Colson bicycle based on his ability to estimate the number of beans in a jar.

The affair is sponsored by the Smith school Parent-Teacher association, with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Burley as general chairmen of the event, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minock as general co-chairmen.

Guild First Amateur Group in Area To Stage "Dial M for Murder"

The distinction of being the first amateur group in this area to stage "Dial M for Murder" by Frederick Knott goes to the Plymouth Theatre Guild which will present the show as its 10th main production on November 3, 5 and 6.

Conceived by the author principally for stage presentation, "Dial M for Murder" was first produced in England over BBC television. Since then the three-act thriller has held audiences in suspense in London, Paris, Rome and Stockholm theatres. Later the play achieved fame in this country as a Broadway production and then as a Hitchcock film starring Ray Milland.

Well-groomed for his role in the Guild production of "Dial M for Murder" is Russell Wallace, who is currently appearing in the Will-O-Way presentation of the same show. The veteran actor has also portrayed roles in several recent plays at the Bloomfield Hills theatre. Plymouth audiences will remember him for his performances in "My Three Angels" and "Time Out For Ginger."

A newcomer to Guild productions is Jean Ann Aubrey, portraying the feminine role in "Dial M for Murder." She has appeared in Plymouth high school productions as well as those at Mercy college and the University of Detroit.

William McKinnon will make his first appearance with the Guild in its November production. He has had previous stage experience with little theatre groups in Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

Also making his first appearance in the November show is W. R. Harris. Harris will portray the role of "Max Halliday" in the Guild production.

The show is under the direction of William W. Merrill. Producer is John H. Loder. Presentation will be in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Games and refreshments are planned for the event which will start at 7:30. Youngsters will attend the party in Halloween costume.

Flier Tells of 31 Months Of Imprisonment in China

A descriptive account of 31 months as a political hostage of the Chinese Reds was given by Lieutenant Lyle Cameron to members of the 963rd Air Force Reserve Squadron and the Plymouth Rotary club last week.

Lieutenant Cameron spoke to the Air Reservists at the Veterans' Memorial center on Tuesday night of last week and to the Rotary club Friday noon. He was one of the four original fliers to be released last May 31 from Red prisons. He is now a student at the University of Michigan, studying under the auspices of the Air Force.

Thirty-one months were spent in Chinese prisons following the lieutenant's capture by the North Korea home guard in October, 1952. His first four months were spent in solitary confinement. "Nobody knows what powers your body can adjust to. It is not as frail as many of us think," the speaker declared.

During these first weeks in solitary, Cameron was interrogated six days a week. The Chinese knew most of the military answers and were more interested in personal questions. The interrogators were usually calm and courteous, but persistent.

Occasionally, Cameron was placed in a cell with another flier and during the end of his imprisonment, there were four of them together. At the end of the Korean war in July, 1953, they were sure that they would soon be sent home — but it was not until 21 months later that this dream came true. None of the fliers signed admissions concerning germ warfare, but all finally broke down to "admit" that they had "been ordered to fly into China to bomb and strafe."

The Air Force later gave the four a "clean slate" and declared them not responsible for their statements. In May of this year, the four were told that they must face trial. That same day, a trial was held at which they were charged with aggression against the Chinese people. After a 15 minute recess for deliberation, the judges sentenced them to be deported.

"I really felt bad to bring this shame upon my family — their son being kicked out of a foreign country," the young lieutenant humorously declared. On May 31, they crossed over the border and the news spread throughout the world.

The speaker expressed his concern over the word "brainwashing" which cropped up while he was in prison. "Instead of people asking me what happened, they looked at me with suspicion and asked if I had been brainwashed," the lieutenant told his audience.

The fliers were given Communist books to read and were allowed discussion sessions, but none of this need change your mind. Many of those who have gone over to the Communists are men who are of low mentality or have had some unhappiness in their life, the speaker observed.

Cameron, who is a native of Lincoln, Nebraska, had been thought dead by his parents until he was given permission to write them last spring.

Kiwanians Hear Annexation Talk

Frank T. Lodge, president of the newly formed Citizens Committee for annexation of the township, spoke to Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the businessmen's club at the Mayflower hotel.

Lodge outlined the issue facing the voters of the area in the November 1 election. Pointing out that a thorough study of the question had been made by his committee, Lodge mentioned three alternatives. "We may choose to remain as we are, incorporate into one government or form a new city, such as the suggested Charleston," he said. Using figures gathered from similar communities in the area and from various engineering firms, Lodge attempted to point out the cost connected with expanding the city's facilities, duplicating them in the township or starting from scratch with a new city. "To estimate the cost of a proposed 'Charleston' would be almost impossible," he pointed out.

He concluded that the task of building sewers and providing water by the township would be almost insurmountable were it to be attempted by the township alone. He stated that through a cooperative effort by city and township acting as one government these facilities in addition to police, fire, garbage pick-up and other services could be had for approximately $45 additional tax levy per year.

Lodge closed his talk with a question and answer period. Dr. Fred Foust acted as program chairman.

DAR Seeks Residents' Aid In Locating Missing Volumes

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Plymouth and Northville, has announced that some 13 books are on the DAR's "most wanted" list and are needed to complete the national organization's records on early American families and their histories.

Here is the listing as given by the local chapter in hopes that some Plymouth resident may know the whereabouts of the missing volumes.

"History of the City of Adrian and the Settlement of Lenawee County (Michigan) from 1824 to the present time," "Centennial History of Menominee County (Michigan) by Eleazer S. Ingalls;" "History of the Descendant of Peter Burket of Sinking Valley, Pa." by T. B. Patton; "Descendants of Abraham Haptonstall and Rachel Price by John Dean Bacon.

"The Hardy Family of America," by John A. Hardy; "A Pioneer Schooley Family" by Mrs. May Schooley Ivey; "Some of the Ancestors of Oliver Hazard Perry of Lowell, Mass., Part 1 — Perry Ancestry," by Mrs. F. W. Brown; "Historical and Genealogical Record of the Prude and McAdory Families," by J. O. and Mary E. Prude.

"The Family of Shine in Europe and America" by John W. Shine, "A Genealogical History of the Stephen Ostrander Branch of the Ostrander Family in America, 1660-1902," by Ogden H. Ostrander, "The Book of John Howell and His Descendants, with supplementary accounts of families related to them by marriage," by Francis Howell.

2nd Recreation Lecture Set Tonight With R. L. Olmstead Guest Speaker

The second lecture on the Plymouth adult education and recreation lecture series, slated for this evening at 7:30 in the high school library room, will feature as guest speaker R. L. Olmstead, regional forester, who will discuss "Forestry Management in Michigan."

Olmstead's lecture, the second such free lecture of the current 1955 series, will be supplemented with illustrations. The lecture series is cooperatively sponsored by the Western Wayne county conservation club and the local adult education and recreation department.

The opening lecture of the series last Thursday evening was described by Director Herb Woolweaver as a "complete flop" with regard to attendance. Only two persons showed up to hear that night's speaker, Robert Fortney, whose scheduled lecture was "Michigan, Midwest Fishing Headquarters."

As the evening resulted, Fortney and the two persons in attendance held a discussion session.

Woolweaver explained that if this evening's lecture is not better attended than the one last week, the following two such lectures will be cancelled.

Other news from the adult education and recreation department includes the notice that another new class may be added to the list of courses on the fall adult education schedule. If enough additional persons indicate an interest in the real estate class, now under development, it will be added to the class list.

This class in real estate, which would start Tuesday, November 1, if enough additional people enroll, will deal with many facts of real estate salesmanship, fundamentals and proper procedures.

At present, Director Woolweaver explained that seven people have shown interest. He added that five or six more students for this class would shape sufficient number to get the course underway. It is an eight-week class.

Earlier a group of people requested and received a class in interior decorating (taught by Gerald Pease) and also one in rug braiding.

In addition to the real estate class, which is in the process of becoming an adult education course, adult ballroom dancing has also been added to the long list of classes offered.

The dancing class, which begins October 27 and will last for the remainder of the semester, will be taught by Don Thompson of the Thompson school of dancing in Ann Arbor. The class will be held each Thursday evening at 8:30 at the Smith school.

Student ballroom dancing for

high school persons is also a new class offered in the adult education series. This class is held each Wednesday night from 7 to 9 at the junior high school gymnasium.

A Swedish gymnastics class, which meets Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30, is also a newcomer to the list of adult education courses. This class is held at the Methodist church and presently has 10 women enrolled.

The recreation department last week issued its activity report for the period of July, August and September. This report includes various statistics on the adult education enrollment this fall.

Youth activities listed 1,989 participants in the baseball, dance, playgrounds, swimming, fun nights and tennis categories. Four hundred seventy-eight adults turned out for the softball leagues, the horseshoe tourney, swimming and woman's bowling last summer.

Enrollment to date in the adult education program, 29 such classes in all, lists 790 students, but Woolweaver estimated this week that the figure has since climbed to more than 800 with the addition of seven classes since the regular session began.

Mr. Austin Pino is spending several days this week in Boston, Mass., on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry will be dinner hosts to their Club on Saturday evening of this week. Guests include Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Brockelhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Camphausen, all of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Austin of Detroit.

Fund Campaign Begins Sunday

The campaign for pledges for funds toward the erection of a new building for Saint John's Episcopal Church will take place next Sunday. J. W. Cheetham, and Kenneth E. Stevens, chairman of canvassers, have announced the selection of 90 canvassers who will take part in the campaign.

The Reverend David T. Davies, rector of Saint John's, has announced that there will be an address by Huntington Hanchett, a member of the standing committee of the Diocese of Rhode Island, at each of the three services on Sunday. Hanchett will explain the spiritual importance of the campaign and offer assistance to the congregation in determining how they should participate in it.

Each canvasser is to attend one or two training sessions to be conducted at the church this Saturday at 1 and 7 p.m. The next day canvassers will gather for a light lunch after the 11 o'clock service and will start on their calls after a short dedicatory service.

Last Sunday, Frank Henderson, senior warden and chairman of the campaign committee, told of the history of the parish and mentioned the difficulties overcome in the past. He presented this as a challenge to continue the effectiveness of the church and provide the larger quarters needed.

Speaking from the pulpit at each of the three services, Henderson said: "Step by step the parish has developed, and I am confident we shall make another step forward as a result of this campaign."

Boys in this den will be inducted as Bobcats at the next pack meeting, to be held at the school Friday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Nancy Tanager, school principal, will be the guest of the evening.

Officials Inspect Post Office Needs

A driveway running from Frack avenue to the rear of the post office and the possibility of an addition to the post office building, were announced this week by Postmaster George Timpona.

Three post office department officials who were attending the National Association of Postmasters convention in Detroit last week journeyed to Plymouth to inspect local facilities.

Postmaster Timpona has pointed out for many years the need for closing the Penniman avenue driveway and opening a driveway from Frack. The three officials agreed.

Penniman avenue traffic has made it difficult for trucks to get in and out of the post office driveway. Not only do post office trucks use the drive, Timpona pointed out, but many companies pick up their mail with their own trucks.

The government owns a strip of land between the post office and Frack which can easily be used for the driveway. The postmaster said that there also is a possibility that the department will approve construction of an addition to the building which is badly overcrowded.

Mrs. Harold Todd spent the weekend in Chicago with her son, Charles. On Sunday Mrs. Todd attended a concert at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, given by the Jose Castro Dance Studio, in which her son took part.

SETTING AN EXAMPLE by being the first firm having 100 per cent Community Fund contributions from their employees is M. Powell & Son, 110 East Ann Arbor road. Russell Powell, left, and Mrs. Powell are shown turning the contributions over to George Witkowski, co-chairman of the fund drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. David Mather, Mr. and Mrs. David Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Moore were dinner guests last Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Steele at their home on North Main st.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick entertained friends and neighbors at dinner Monday evening in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Guests included Mrs. Harold Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage and son, Jim, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bucon.

Street Confusion Leads to Probe By City Officials

Do all the folks who live on Union street really live on Union street, or is it Bennett street?

A question to this effect was posed by Commissioner J. Rusling Cutler at Monday night's city commission meeting. On all the city's plat maps, the portion of Union street from Daisy Manufacturing to North Main is called Bennett street. The street markers and those who live on that portion of the street call it Union.

Which is correct? Nobody seems to know at this point. Union street was at one time supposed to head off in a northeast direction from the Daisy plant and connect with its eastern segment located east of Mill street. This proposed portion was sold a number of years ago and there is now no hope of ever joining the two Union streets.

Some commissioners pointed out that folks who live on Union-Bennett street would probably object strongly to suddenly changing their street name after all these years. It might be more practical, Commissioner Marvin Terry declared, to change the eastern portion of Union street to another name, thus ending the confusion.

"I wish we could get this thing straight once and for all," Commissioner Cutler stated. He then named some other points of confusion.

Sutherland avenue on the west side of Main street becomes Burroughs avenue on the east side of Main. A small jog at Main street divides Hartsough avenue and Edison avenue.

Looking at a city map, it is confusing to see that by traveling westward on Elm avenue, you soon are on Wing street and, after a small jog on Pine street, are on Joy avenue. Pine street, if it is someday projected southward, will run square into the end of Harding street.

It was recommended that the planning commission take a look into the street naming situation. City Manager Albert Glassford said that recurrence of these situations was cleared up several years ago when the subdivision ordinance was enacted. It required that subdividers give their streets the same name as any which project into their subdivisions.

Some 300,000 persons visit the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford on Avon every year. The theatre was completed in 1932. The first Shakespearean festival in Stratford was organized by David Garrick, in 1769.

Galin's, Papes' Plan Anniversary Events

Two local business firms will observe birthdays this weekend and, figuratively speaking, one is "old enough to be the other's father."

D. Galin and Son appliance firm will observe its 28th year. Actually, owner Dave Galin began business here in the "Purity Market", formerly located on South Main street. His appliance store is now located at 849 Penniman avenue. Galin will celebrate the event with a special sales event beginning today. He will introduce a new "anniversary gift check" to customers during the sale.

Papes' House of Gifts, 863 West Ann Arbor trail, qualifies as the young business. Under the management of Richard Papes, the gift shop has grown to one of the finest stores of its kind in this entire area in but three years. Papes plans a three-day sale event beginning today and will offer roses to visiting ladies, while children will be treated to candy.

Finds Aged Corn Has Lots of Pops

Karl Starkweather — who lives on the street of the same name and has come up with many unusual facts in his quest for Plymouth historical knowledge — came up with some almost historical popcorn last Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Feigley, mother of Mrs. Starkweather, was living in Claypool, Indiana 18 years ago when she sent a sackful of popcorn she had raised to the Starkweathers. Put away in a can for the winter, it was not discovered until last Sunday.

Although the 89-year-old Mrs. Feigley has sent up much popcorn since, the vintage kernels were tried out. Resulting was a batch of the best popcorn ever tasted, the Starkweathers reported. Every kernel popped.

Competes in State Grange Contest

Competing for the title of State Grange Cinderella at the organization's convention in Ludington, Monday through Thursday of next week, is Miss Molly Groth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth of 311 North Harvey.

Miss Groth, a member of the local Grange, was recently chosen as the Wayne county candidate for the annual contest which is held in connection with the Grange Youth program. A pageant and ball will highlight selection of this year's state Cinderella and prince at the convention.

Miss Groth graduated from Plymouth high school in 1950. She has been employed at Whitman and Barnes since her graduation from Detroit Business Institute in December, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Groth will serve as Wayne county delegates to the state meeting. Others attending from the local Grange are State Health Chairman Mrs. Jesse Tritten, Mr. Tritten, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spicer, Mrs. Joseph Tracey,

Miss Molly Groth
Mrs. Isabelle Taylor, Mrs. Anna Chappel, Mrs. Ida Jackson, Mrs. Emma Schaufele and Mrs. Evelyn Fischer.

Newburg News

Mrs. Emil LaPointe, GARfield 1-2023

The Sarah circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Peterson on Ravine drive on Monday, October 10. Mrs. Edward Ayres, president of the W.S.C.S. organization was guest for the evening. Others present were Mrs. Dale Foreman, Mrs. William Dorr, Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Mrs. William Eastlake, Miss Dorothy Blanton, Mrs. Arthur Remy, Mrs. Henry Mende, Mrs. William Kenner, Mrs. Leonard Ritzler and Mrs. Carl Lampton. One of the highlights of the evening was the reading of a letter received from Mrs. Kenneth Sorenson, former member of the group and also a resident of the Newburg area, who recently moved to Sarasota, Florida. The letter was enjoyed by all.

On Friday, October 7, the following group left for Chicago, Illinois to attend a DeMolay workshop: Dick Huebner, state master counselor; Jim Thorpe, past master counselor; Henry Mende, senior counselor; and Charles Huebner, Dad advisor, all from the Plymouth chapter. From Livonia, Mickey Woods, past master counselor, also attended. The boys were privileged to spend the night at the famed Conrad Hilton hotel.

A MESSAGE TO THE COMMUNITY OF PLYMOUTH

CAN WE AFFORD ANNEXATION?

1. RESIDENTS OF THE CITY WILL HAVE TO PAY HIGHER TAXES to provide the Township with "services" that are not needed and not wanted.
2. TAX RATE IN THE TOWNSHIP WILL BE INCREASED 15 TIMES to equal the present City rate.
3. TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS CAN EXPECT RE-APPRAISAL OF THEIR PROPERTY by a City assessor for new assessed evaluations.
4. COST OF AN EXPANDED CITY GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO BE MET to pay for additional clerks, rubbish collectors, police, administrative help and others.
5. OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM CANNOT GAIN BY ANNEXATION because it is already consolidated. Why waste money on increased taxes and assessments just to become a big city?
6. ANNEXATION IS NOT NECESSARY TO PROVIDE WATER AND SEWERS IN THE TOWNSHIP. A sewer commission has been approved as of October 14 to provide these facilities where they are needed. Why should residents of the City, (who now have miles of unpaved streets and areas that need water and sewers) help pay for this?

REMEMBER . . .
 IT COSTS PLENTY TO LIVE IN A BIG CITY . . .
 . . . VOTE NO TO ANNEXATION NOV. 1.

PREPARED AND PAID FOR AS A COMMUNITY SERVICE BY THE COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION OF PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP.

LETTERBOX

Wants Constitution Day

To the Editor:
 This note will be read by few people and will not be supported nor concurred in by many of those who do. One reason for this is because the majority of Americans, including of course, a majority of those who live in Plymouth, have been cleverly hypnotized into believing that the United Nations charter will insure peace in the world and that everyone living therein will thus have a happier and a more secure existence. Nothing could be further from the truth. But this writer is no authority on the UN nor on anything else. I'm just a common man in the street with an interest in my country and a desire to know what is going on around me.

This whole subject of UN has such tremendous import and so many implications, however, that I cannot refrain from recording at least a portion of my humble opinion. For me to do that, of course, does seem absurd, but I am prompted to do so when it has just been learned that a number of presumably highly reputable civic organizations in my own home town plan now to unite in the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the ratification of the United Nations.

And the day set seems to be October 24th. And that's the date in 1945 when it is understood the Russians — not the United States — ratified the Charter. (Our own Senate, it seems, ratified it on June 28th.) But all that is not quite the point. What about our own United States Constitution? Our Constitution was ratified on a September 17th. Which is the more important to us who live and toil in the United States — the U.S. Constitution or the UN Charter? Are we to have a United Nations Day but not a Constitution Day? September 17th did pass and there was not a whisper concerning our sacred Constitution. Or is it not to be held sacred any more?

But that is not all. Who were the actual writers of the Charter? The answer to that seems never publicized and yet the facts can be ascertained. Was the drafting of the Charter not mostly done by a man who subsequently became in effect convicted as a traitor to his country and to ours — assisted and abetted by a man named Molotov? And was Mr. Molotov ever known to have had any tremendous love or consideration for the United States?

The United Nations Charter is fancy reading but it seems to be more and more becoming history's greatest breach of promise. There have already been many instances wherein the UN Charter has, in effect at least, been declared superior to the Constitution of the United States. And the outlook for the future seems foreboding. To be sure, the majority of the American people are smug and satisfied in their jobs and professions, never taking time out to think through the certain dire possibilities for the future — nor to consider what may be the destiny of the nation's generations, yet unborn. The American people today are much like the cow, carefree and pontent, standing knee-deep in a pool of stagnant water, lazily chewing her cud, and thinking nothing at all concerning the inevitable butcher's knife.

But let us turn now from the Trojan Horse, that is, the Trojan Horse was and is perhaps the most famous of all horses. He was an innocent looking horse, and bore the portent of great good, but he brought disaster to an unsuspecting people. To those who may still be unfamiliar with this famous horse the story can be found in every encyclopedia. The UN today can well be the Trojan Horse now being slowly and perhaps almost imperceptibly nurtured and groomed for the American people. And the day of reckoning may not be too far off.

But the Trojan Horse of ancient times will likely prove to be a piker beside the Trojan Horse now in more or less quiet process of breaking up our revered and traditional American sovereignty. America, wake up! It's later than you think!

Organize Men's Group At Newburg Church

Forty-eight men met Monday evening, October 17, at the Newburg Methodist church hall for an organizational dinner meeting of the men's group of the church.

The Reverend Robert Richards, church pastor, pronounced the invocation at the 6:30 dinner. Devotions were conducted by Jesse Bennett, lay leader of the church. Principal speaker for the meeting was Randall Penhale, church leader and educator in the Livonia public school system, who outlined the purposes and benefits of a men's group within the church.

Officers elected to head the new group were:

President, Jesse Bennett; vice president, Leonard Ritzler; secretary, Edward Reid; treasurer, Jerry Baldwin.
 The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, December 5, when a charter will be presented. All men joining up to that time will be included as charter members.

MODERN MEDICINES LOWER THE COST OF LIVING

Within the past ten years, many illnesses which, at best, meant long and costly convalescence now yield quickly and surely to the renowned "miracle drugs" of modern medicine. Hospital stays are shorter, or unnecessary. Medical bills are smaller because fewer doctor visits are required. Loss of income is less because recovery is faster and the patient returns to work much sooner. These are some of the direct ways by which medicines lower the cost of living. Remember them the next time you pay for prescribed medicine and you will appreciate that it is the biggest bargain your money can buy.

~~WORLD'S BEST SAUSAGE BACON and HAM~~

We've heard that expression many times. Perhaps it's true, perhaps it isn't. At any rate it can't be proved — there is no available method or means of proving it either true or false — so — we've crossed it OUT.

There Are Ways of Evaluating the True Worth of A Product Without the Extravagant Use of Superlatives

LET'S STICK TO FACTS — — THESE WE CAN PROVE!

- 1 We have been in business at the Corner of U. S. 12 and Haggerty Road since 1939. Many, many customers who started using our products 16 years ago are still with us today.
- 2 Our road signs proclaim that "folks drive miles for our Sausage." Our records, available to anyone, will fully substantiate that claim. Among those who make periodical trips, especially to purchase our products, are some of the most prominent residents of Grosse Pointe, Royal Oak, Pleasant Ridge, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, all parts of Detroit -- Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Albion, Marshall, Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens, Port Huron, Flint, Ypsilanti, etc. etc.
- 3 We have received unsolicited orders from forty-one (41) of the 48 States in the Union.
- 4 Our products have received the unsolicited indorsement of many prominent connoisseurs, food experts, doctors and dietitians.
- 5 Our products are used as Christmas Gifts by many Detroit industrial firms who give us their mailing lists, card inclosures and a selection of contents -- we do the rest. These group orders have been increasing over the years until, today, they are an important part of our operation.

The combined significance of the above facts is, in our opinion, far more convincing than all of the superlatives in the dictionary.

Folks just DON'T DRIVE OUT OF THEIR WAY to buy an ordinary product! Neither do they stay with the same product for 16 years without good reason!

Nor would they select these products to give as Christmas gifts to their best customers unless the products possessed some unique quality to distinguish them from the ordinary.

If you are among the hundreds of recently-located residents of Plymouth, Plymouth Township or Livonia you may not have learned about Koch's Meat Products. If so . . . . .

You Don't Have to Drive Far to Get Acquainted

Two of our most popular items of manufacture are our Fresh Breakfast Sausage and Smoked Dinner Sausage. We also make a complete line of old-fashioned Hickory-smoked meat products, including Hams, Bacon, Canadian Bacon, Boston Butts, etc.

Another very popular item is our own New England style Corned Beef (lean and boneless). To round out our line, we have a full range of ready-to-eat items such as Liver Sausages, Laona Sausage, Beerwurst, Thuringer, Salami, Frankforts, etc. etc.

Take home an assortment of these and perk up your snack bar with some new and refreshing flavor sensations.

We are open Daily from 8 A.M. to 7 P.M. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. Ample parking space. Drive in and get acquainted.

American Legion News

The Auxiliary will hold a Rummage sale November 4 and 5 at the Veteran's Community center. Everyone is asked to get their things together and contact Marie Thompson at Northville 1473-W. Arrangements will be made to pick up anything you have.

Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary were hosts to the 7th District association's regular business meeting on Friday, October 14, at the Veteran's Community center. Auxiliary District President Adah Langmaid was well pleased with the membership showing of the local unit. They stand a very good chance of winning a membership trophy. At the Legion District meeting, it was voted that future District meetings will be held on Thursday evenings instead of Friday evenings as in the past. Mrs. Lena Hammond was the winner of two football tickets for the Detroit Lions game on December 11 at Briggs Stadium.

Members of the Auxiliary's Junior activities will sponsor a Halloween party on Saturday, October 22, at 2:30 p.m. at the Veteran's Community center.

Remember — the date of our Linen party is drawing near. It is October 27 at 8 p.m. at the Veteran's Community center. Anyone who will be in need of transportation should contact Gwen Holcombe at 1367-M.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank all members who participated in our advertising project which was displayed in the Kresge store window the past week. Funds realized from this project were for our Building Fund. It was a wonderful success and again thanks to all.

Junior Activities held a special meeting Tuesday, October 11, to finish all the plans on their coming Halloween party. Invitations have been sent out explaining all the details. Let's have a good turnout for the first program of the juniors.

American Legion posts throughout the country are about to enter into their big yearly membership drive in the form of American Legion Weeks from October 20 to November 11. Members are urged during this time to secure at least one new member.

Officers and members of both the local Post and Auxiliary will be attending the Fall conference during the weekend of October 28, 29 and 30 in Saginaw. Classes are conducted in various phases of the Legion's work regarding specific duties of officers.

The Auxiliary wishes to remind all that Christmas cards are still available and you need only to phone Gwen Holcombe at 1367-M and she will be pleased to drop out and let you see the assortment and samples. Also, Stanley products may be obtained by contacting Melva Gardner at 1989-R.

Church Women Plan World Day

The Plymouth Council of United Church Women is getting underway with plans for the local observance of World Community Day on November 4, it was announced this week by Mrs. Thomas Bateman, chairman of the event.

Purpose of World Community Day is to collect clothing, food and money to aid the hungry and needy peoples of foreign lands. Residents are asked to save clothing for boys age 16 years and up, as well as men's clothing, particularly suits and overcoats.

Mrs. Bateman requested that any "parcels for peace" be delivered to the Salvation Army Citadel on November 4, place of the World Community Day observance. Clothing will be weighed at that time and eight cents a pound collected for sending the items. Donations will also be asked for food packages. The event will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The following churches are participating in World Community Day: Assembly of God, First Baptist church, Church of the Nazarene, St. John's Episcopal church, Methodist church, Presbyterian church and Salvation Army.

This week the 10th "birthday" of the U.N. is being observed everywhere and schools, churches, various organizations are having special programs. We are to have a film relative to the U.N. which should be of interest. It will add much to the interest of the program if those who can will find and tell some item or article on the U.N. they may have read.

The big day is over. The bazaar was quite a success and the women feel very well pleased. It was a beautiful day and the meals that were furnished by the kitchen committee were extremely good and were very well patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. Vealy were happily surprised Friday by a visit from their beloved friends, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith from Bakersfield, California. Friends for more than 54 years.

Follows Father as Grid Quiz Winner

GRID EXPERT this week is ten-year-old Susan Gay Hayskar, whose father turned the same trick two contests ago. Susan, 1434 Penniman, is shown here receiving her ten dollar winner's check from Norman "Dutch" Atchinson, local Pontiac dealer and one of the sponsors of the contest.

"Keep it in the family" must be the word around the Eino Hayskar home at 1434 Penniman these days. For the second time in three weeks the ten dollar first place prize from The Mail's weekly "Pick-the-Winners" football quiz wound up in Hayskar hands. Two contests ago Father Eino strolled off with top honors out of the numerous entries posted. This week daughter Susan Gay, who celebrated her tenth birthday Tuesday, copped the coveted winner's spot with 11 correct predictions. And as before, it was son Steve who provided the magic touch. Steve urged his pop to enter the quiz two weeks ago and, sure enough, it paid off. This time Steve convinced his younger sister to change one of her answers. Again it paid off. But Susan proudly claimed her share of the glory although adding that her father and brother helped her "a little bit." Said the brand new ten-year-old when informed that she had won: "I like it."

In second place and winner of seven dollars is Garry Hondorp, 1317 Park Place, who also had 11 right answers but was a few points further away than Susan on the Detroit Lions-San Francisco professional game score. Susan gazed into her crystal ball and foresaw a final count of 30-20 while Garry figured it at 24-10. The actual result was 27-24 as the 49er's pulled off an astounding TD in the final two minutes to gain the nod.

Good Rabbit Season Indicated in Studies

Southern Michigan rabbit hunters can expect another good season this year. Field studies indicate cottontails are at least as plentiful this year as they were last. In the 1954-55 season, hunters took 1,430,000 bunnies and this total made little Scamper-Fast by far the most popular game target in the state. The season this year runs October 20-January 31, inclusive, in the southern lower peninsula and October 1-March 1, inclusive, in the northern two thirds of the state. In addition to southern Michigan cottontails, hunters will probably take 200,000 snowshoe hares from northern woodlands. Hare numbers are low this year — in keeping with their usual 10-year population cycle.

Golf Group Elects Partridge President

New president of the Metropolitan Golf association is Casey Partridge, well-known pro-manager of Plymouth Country club golf course, who was elected to this post last week by fellow association members at their annual meeting held at Sylvan Glen golf club. Partridge, one of 28 golf club owners and managers who belong to this association, is a charter member and helped organize the group at its outset 19 years ago. The organization is dedicated simply to the betterment of golf and serves the greater Detroit area. Partridge will be assisted in his one-year tenure as president of the association by Russ Beaupre of Plumbrook golf course as vice-president, Carl Walter from Highland golf course as secretary and Bill Catto of Sylvan Glen as treasurer.

Urge Hunters to Return Game Marking Bands

Hunters are urged to return metal bands found on deer, bear, woodcock, grouse, waterfowl and other game to conservation agencies. Waterfowl bands should be returned to the Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington. Most other bands can be mailed to the Conservation Department in Lansing. These agencies need to know where and when the game was killed, and the name and address of the hunter. In the case of waterfowl, the Fish and Wildlife Service sends a report to the hunter, telling where and when the bird was banded. Hunters pay taxes so state and federal employees can carry on tagging and banding programs. All this money and effort is lost unless the hunter follows through on the program.

Anglers Cautioned

Anglers can not use lampreys for fish bait after October 15 under rules of a new law that takes effect on that date. The law says no person can sell, offer for sale or use lampreys as bait. The state legislature passed the law at the request of the Conservation Department to lessen the possibility that lampreys will become established in inland waters. Since there is no election this year the orators will not warn us of doom in 1956, unless ...

Locals Turn Back Panthers, 13-6, On Scoring Jaunts by Carter, Mills

Plymouth's gridders preserved any slender hopes for a share of the Suburban Six football crown this fall as they managed to turn back Redford Union high school last Friday, 13-6.

The victory, fourth of the season as against one defeat, enables the Plymouth eleven to maintain slight chances of perhaps a portion of the league title, which it won outright last year.

With a league card to date of three wins and one loss, the Rocks rest securely in second place behind pace-setting Trenton, which has yet to lose a loop contest.

Should Trenton bow to the surprising Belleville grid squad tomorrow evening and the Rocks are able to stop powerful Allen Park at the same time, the two teams will fall into a deadlock with each other for possession of the crown.

Plymouth, extended its hopes Friday by scoring one touchdown suddenly on Quarterback Jackie Carter's 68-yard sprint with only two minutes and 15 seconds gone in the game, and then seeing Halfback Lindy Mills dive over from six yards out in the fading minutes of the last quarter.

Meanwhile the Redford Union Panthers sandwiched in one tally late in the second stanza to tie the contest and force the Rocks to stage a winning march in the closing minutes.

With the scoreboard showing eight minutes left in the contest and the two teams frozen at 6-6 the Rocks came to life and moved 50 yards in five plays to gain the nod.

Taking possession on the mid-field stripe, Plymouth sent Dick Davidson ahead for gains of 15 and 12 yards with Carter interspersing this ground gaining with aerials to George Pine, good for nine and eight yards.

These four plays marked the locals to the Panthers' six yard line, where Mills slammed in on the first attempt to earn the Rocks a winning margin. Davidson's conversion brought the count to 13-6 with only three and one-half minutes remaining.

Redford Union came storming back on the following kick-off and drove to the Plymouth 35 before the Rocks' defensive wall held fast. Carter, on quarterback sneaks, killed the remaining seconds, meanwhile gaining two first downs and striving to the RU 35.

The locals opened the contest with a savage spurge that did not resemble the rest of their play throughout the other three quarters.

Taking the opening kick-off the Rocks returned it to their own 20 yard line, where three running plays netted a first down on the Plymouth 32.

On a quarterback option play, Carter kept the leather, slanted out to his left, cut back to the right side of the field and scampered all the way, 68 yards, to a quick touchdown.

Although Davidson missed his conversion attempt, the Rocks held a six-point lead with slightly more than two minutes gone.

Redford Union, who failed to penetrate deeper than the Plymouth 35 yard line, save on its one scoring jaunt, squared things in a freakish manner mid-way through the second stanza.

The Panthers took over on the Plymouth 40 and moved to two first downs on the Rocks' 20 yard stripe. After a running play advanced RU to the 15 a penalty of 15 yards and the smearing of a pass play shoved the Panthers back to their own 45 on fourth down.

Forced to kick, the Panthers gained back some of this lost yardage when a charging Plymouth lineman was caught roughing the kicker.

This penalty gave the Redford Union club a 15 yard advance, to the Plymouth 40 where it was still fourth down.

Instead of kicking, the Panthers elected to pass and connected with an aerial from Wambichler to Driscoll good for a first down on the Rocks' one. RU plunged over for the score in two plays and when the conversion try failed, the score stood at 6-6.

The scoreboard rested here until Plymouth rose up in the fourth period and staged a winning march.

Redford Union, despite the fact that it failed to drive deeper than the Plymouth 35 on any try other than the scoring march, managed to outplay the Rocks completely in the third quarter.

Plymouth's coach, John Hoben, estimated that the Panthers controlled the ball for three-quarters of the playing time throughout the third stanza. The Rocks were able to get in only meager attempts at ground attacks and little passing at all.

Unique over the stretch of the evening's play was the fact that there was only one fumble by either team. Plymouth bobbled one play, but promptly recovered it.

WIDE OPEN SPACES hail Plymouth Captain Lindy Mills as he slams over from six yards out with the winning touchdown against Redford Union Friday evening. Although a hole big enough for a truck was opened for him, Mills carried two Panther line-backers over the goal-line with him. The Rocks turned in a 13-6 victory on the strength of this score coupled with Jackie Carter's 68-yard scoring jaunt earlier. Tomorrow the locals face Allen Park.

Rocks Host Cougars In Loop Finale Friday

The Plymouth Rocks close out their league battling tomorrow evening as they play host to a powerful Allen Park eleven on the gridiron behind the high school.

Bracketed by a list of "ifs", this contest marks the Plymouth wind-up for 1955 in Suburban Six league action. At the same time the other teams in the loop close out their conference play.

If the Rocks should win tomorrow they will be assured of at least a second place finish on the ladder of loop standings. If, at the same time, pace-setting Trenton should bow to the surprising Belleville gridders, Plymouth would claim a share of the conference crown.

If both Plymouth and Trenton win, these two teams will wind up in the same positions they presently hold. The Rocks are in second with a league card of three and one, while the Trojans are atop the loop with a four win and no loss record.

But if the Rocks should lose to high-flying third-place Allen Park, the locals will slip to third with a card of three wins and two losses as against Allen Park's record of three wins, one loss and one tie.

Last Friday as Plymouth was nosing back Redford Union, 13-6 Allen Park was whipping Belleville, 20-0, and Trenton was pasting Bentley, 39-7. Incidentally, Bentley, previously a co-favorite in the league race, has yet to win a conference battle.

Returning to the Plymouth-Allen Park contest tomorrow, figures indicate that this battle will be Plymouth's second biggest hurdle in league competition. Previously Trenton, who mauled the locals, 18-7, presented the Rocks with their biggest hurdle in a futile defense of their 1954 league crown.

Allen Park will field a team composed of 15 returning lettermen from the 1954 unit, which finished third in the league race with a two win, two tied and one loss record. In addition, the Cougars, as the AP team is nicknamed, have definitely improved over last year.

They presently hold down third place and are challenging the Rocks' claim on second. To date the Allen Park team has won three, tied one and lost one this year. The Rocks have a four win and one loss card to place before the in-coming Cougars.

Over-all card last year for the Allen Park squad included five victories, two defeats and two ties. The Rocks were undefeated in 1954, save for a 6-6 tie with this year's Allen Park machine.

Head coach George Dyas, who is in his sixth year at the helm of Allen Park's football fortunes, indicated that the Cougars team has been playing the same brand of ball from the beginning of the season. Thus far only Trenton has been able to master the AP attack. The Trojans pinned a 12-6 defeat on Allen Park four weeks ago.

Pacing the AP attack from the field is Quarterback Ron Szabo, who calls the plays for his split-T formation squad. Captain of the Cougars is Fullback John Babchek. Both Szabo and Babchek are seniors. Filling out the backfield are a pair of underclassmen, Jerry Thome, a junior at lefthalf and Dennis Vereb, a sophomore at right.

A strong defensive team, Allen Park boasts a light and swift line that averages about 170 pounds from end to end.

The Suburban Six league football standings are as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Trenton	4	0	0
Plymouth	3	1	0
Allen Park	2	1	1*
Redford U	1	3	0
Belleville	1	3	0
Bentley	0	3	1*

*Battled to a 13-13 tie in opening league game.

Rank Trenton 4th "B" Prep Team In State

Trenton's varsity football eleven, 18-7 victors over the Plymouth Rocks two weekends ago, have been listed as the fourth-ranked class "B" prep grid team in the state, according to the Detroit Free Press Tuesday.

The Trojans, also a member of the Suburban Six football league in which the Rocks are a competing member, have thus far won five games and lost none this year. They are currently leading the Suburban Six league, with Plymouth, loser only to Trenton, running second.

Only 27 points have been scored against the high-flying Trenton grid machine, which in turn has run up a total of 125 points against its opposition. Plymouth scored one touchdown and an extra point for a portion of the points tallied against the Trojans in five games.

Big reason behind the Trojans' ranking of fourth place, behind East Grand Rapids, Redford St. Mary and East Lansing, is a pair of hard-working backfield men. Ralph Price and Bob Driscoll who combine to furnish the Trojans with a near-perfect scoring thrust, have paced the Trojans to their top credit rating.

Paces Touch Grid League

Starkweather grade school's touch football team took slender hold on first place in the Plymouth grade school touch gridiron league last week with a 26-0 rout of Smith school.

The victory by Starkweather shoved it into sole possession of the top rung on the loop's stairway of standings. The Starkweather team has also one tie to its credit, a scoreless deadlock with Bird on October 3.

Bird school, with two ties in three games, is holding the runner-up spot, while Allen and Catholic Day school are settled in third place, each with one tie on their records to date. Smith school, Starkweather's victim, is the league's cellar-dweller with one loss and one tie.

In its victory over Smith school, Starkweather grabbed off an early six point lead when Duane Stephenson slammed six yards into the end-zone in the first quarter. Smith fired up a sustained drive in the same period of play but was halted by the Starkweather defense on the Starkweather five yard stripe.

Starkweather's strength overpowered the Smith school in the final half as the victors increased their margin to the final of 26-0. Don McMullen sprinted 15 yards in the third stanza and Dick Dahmer's conversion was good.

In the fourth quarter McMullen dove in from the one to up the score to 20-0 when Toni Hunt scored the extra point. Dahmer took in an aerial from McMullen in the closing minutes to wind up the scoring.

Standings in the grade school touch football league are as follows:

Team	won	lost	tied	points
Starkweather	1	0	1	3
Bird	0	0	2	2
Allen	0	0	1	1
Smith	0	1	1	1

Shopper Leaving Plymouth After Tussle with Meter

Dear Sir:

To use a trite expression "it isn't the money — it's the principle of the thing." Please bear with me while I relate the dramatic story of "Meter No. 142". Time 2:10 p.m. Date: October 14, 1955. The city is Plymouth. I live here — I'm a motorist.

I was going about my usual Friday afternoon shopping and — unfortunately stopped at this infernal machine (Meter No. 142) in front of Stop and Shop Market on Forest ave.

Being a conscientious, public-spirited, honest citizen, I put penny after penny into good old 142. This voracious, greedy, deceitful device kept devouring pennies — but betrayed me by registering not a single minute.

Months ago when similarly attempting to make an un-operative meter work — I was advised by an officer (Louie, I believe his name is) not to worry about the situation as the officer wouldn't ticket a car by an imperfect meter. So, remembering this, I went about my shopping. Several passersby stopped to offer sympathetic comments during my tussle with this No. 142 monster.

Upon returning to my car, I was deeply upset to find a ticket (No. P1645) attached thereto. Each time I put packages in my car, I tried the meter again until I had 20 pennies in it — still no registering time. My crime? Over-time parking! I expressed my indignation to another motorist who said that such a situation was a common occurrence, but that few people complained because it was much easier to pay the dollar than to argue.

I don't feel that way. I feel strongly that an injustice has been done. So I went directly to City Hall to make my complaint — but got exactly nowhere.

Patronizing home town merchants (buy where you live) is the proper thing to do. I have tried to follow this rule in Plymouth — but this is the end. I have had so much difficulty in trying to park in the business section that I will probably do the greatest part elsewhere in the future — somewhere in the wide open, meterless spaces of Livonia or Detroit.

I have no friends at City Hall to plead my case. I could pay the dollar with very little difficulty or inconvenience — but in my opinion the issuance of a ticket in this instance, was an injustice — So relying upon your sense of fair play and justice, please advise me what I must do next. I repeat "It isn't the money — it's the principle of the thing."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Gage

Wants Monroe

The Editor
Dear Sir:

Political buffoons have always contributed greatly to the gaiety of the Republic; thus I think The Mail should be congratulated on publishing Mr. Roy Pursell's jokes about the United Nations. I have printed them in conjunction with the U.N.'s 10th anniversary celebration was a rare comic inspiration.

If you want to continue in this vein I have some suggestions: you could get, say, Georgia's Herman Talmadge to do a column for Racial Brotherhood Week; Senator Joe McCarthy would be happy, I'm sure to give us an impartial coverage of the next election; and Miss Marilyn Monroe is a natural for Mother's Day.

Still, I don't know. Nobody will ever be as wildly hilarious as Pursell on the U.N.

May I add that (with or without Pursell) the Mail continues to be the finest weekly in the country. Should this note be printed, my name should probably be withheld as I want to avoid any possible embarrassment to my employers.

Answers Lodge

After reading the pamphlet, dropped in all township mail boxes the other day, entitled No Annexation — No Schools, I will have to compliment this gentleman on a good presentation of the art of Semantics.

Using our school children as a means of gaining support for his ideas, is certainly not a show of good sportsmanship. I feel that his committee should give this some thought. It will do more harm than good. As past chairman of the township study committee, I would like to answer Mr. Lodge.

1. This committee recommended to the township board, that the township proceed with a program of Sewers and Water, after having made a thorough study of what was best for the township.
2. The City of Plymouth and the township of Plymouth, employ the same engineer. An overall sewer program was submitted to both parties. This is the $1,200,000.00 program which Mr. Lodge claims as a city program. According to the Plymouth Mail, in a recent article, the Plymouth City officials were reported as having declined to meet with the School Board, the township of Plymouth officials and the officials of Canton township, to arrange for the forming of an overall Sewer Authority to handle the entire sewer program.

3. The township is going right ahead with their program and the township board was told this month that the program would require 90 days for financing and 6 months for construction. The work on this program is already underway. This sewer will handle the Sheldon School.

4. The Sheldon School can be opened even if the sewer is not ready in time. Mr. Lodge can explain how.

5. Water? The township is now drilling test wells as the first step toward a water system. Mr. Lodge says it would be better if the City of Plymouth extended its water lines to the township instead.

I heartily agree with Frank on this. However, Mayor Daane has ruled against furnishing the water to the township residents. Why? These residents would pay double the rates charged Plymouth residents and Plymouth would profit moneywise. Could it be that this is being used as a club over the heads of township residents to force them to vote for Annexation? I personally do not need city water, or township water. Neither do many other township residents. However, we are willing to absorb our share of the township costs to provide for those township people who are not so fortunate.

6. About those 1800 school children Mr. Lodge mentions, plus 4000 more residents, that he promises us. These figures exceed the total township population today. Do these figures sound realistic? If this really is their program, then the program can only be as follows:

1. Sewers for Industry
  2. Homes follow Industry.
  3. Children follow homes.
  4. Schools follow children.
  5. More money required for more schools.
  6. More Industry to maintain schools.
  7. Now we are a big city with all of the city advantages that we moved out to this beautiful area to get away from.
- This is the answer to the entire question in a nutshell.

Respectfully submitted,
Frank Millington

"We saw that just before Justice Harlan was seated the Supreme Court divided 4-4 on whether the UN Charter was above the Constitution or not. Those who are interested in the preservation of our Constitutional rights and also those who are eager to push us into World Government are anxiously awaiting a test case. It likely will not be long in coming."

A meeting of the Plymouth Democratic club this Friday and a county-wide Democratic "Friendship Frolic" one week later are among the activities being planned for Democrats of the area.

The Plymouth Democratic club will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Range, 41770 Schoolcraft. There will be an election of officers and an outside speaker on "Organizational Planning." Members and anyone interested in attending the meeting who may require transportation can call Mrs. George Bowles at 3055 or Mrs. Charles Root, Jr., at 1039-J.

The Wayne County Democratic committee is sponsoring the Friendship Frolic honoring Governor G. Mennen Williams on Friday October 28 in the Veteran's Memorial building in Detroit. It will start at 8 o'clock.

There will be music, dancing, refreshments and prizes. Mrs. Ruth Brown, chairman of the ticket committee, announced that tickets may be obtained locally from George Bowles, Richard Wernette, Doris Root and Freda Range.

"Now is the time for high school seniors to make contacts in regard to college scholarships for next year." Miss Carol Langmaid, Education and Scholarship chairman of Passage-Gayde unit of the American Legion auxiliary, advises. Miss Langmaid and her committee are endeavoring to help orphans of war veterans obtain educational aids needed for higher education.

During October, units of the American Legion auxiliary throughout the country are giving special attention to our Education and Scholarship program," said Miss Langmaid. "Many scholarships and other forms of educational aid are open to orphans of veterans, and other qualified young men and women, but applications must be made early to give time for processing and making awards before college enrollments for next fall are closed.

"With our colleges and universities being hard pressed to handle the influx of new students, it is advisable for anyone planning to enter college next fall to do some serious planning right now. Scholarships of many different kinds are available. Throughout national organization, our committee has information about hundreds of these, the qualifications required and where applications should be submitted. We shall be happy to help, not only veterans' orphans and other children of war veterans, but all young people needing a "helping hand" toward higher education."

The present economic situation suggests that stock prices are not likely to move upward in the next two years like they have in the last two.

Water Waves Add Twelve New Members

Approximately 40 girls tried out for membership in the Water Waves club on Monday, October 10. Twelve were selected, making a total of 55 in the club.

The 12 who were chosen are: Jill Clarke and Sally Widmaier, eighth grade; Karen Kehoe, Claudie Rucker, Mavis Williams, Jeanne Whitebread and Judy Henry, ninth grade; Martha Shoemaker, tenth grade; Carol Karnatz, Sharon Beyer and Judy Van Wagoner, 11th grade; and Patsy Clifford, 12th grade.

A substitution list of 11 has also been drawn up to fill any vacancies which may arise.

After being divided into eight groups, the girls were required to swim three laps using the crawl, sidestroke, and backstroke. They were graded on a 5-0 point basis, 5 being highest and 0 meaning that the girl was unable to complete the requirement.

Judging committee consisted of representatives from each class and the following teachers: Miss Irene Walldorf, Mrs. Louise Cigle, and Miss Doris Bean, club advisor.

Water Waves began in 1952, with Mrs. Delores Caldwell as advisor. The first show, "King Neptune's Court," was presented the following year. "La Vie Moderne," last year's show, was directed by Miss Bean, who became girls' swimming instructor in 1954. This year's show is looked forward to as the continuation of a new tradition at Plymouth high school.

Auxiliary Offers Scholarship Aid

"Now is the time for high school seniors to make contacts in regard to college scholarships for next year." Miss Carol Langmaid, Education and Scholarship chairman of Passage-Gayde unit of the American Legion auxiliary, advises. Miss Langmaid and her committee are endeavoring to help orphans of war veterans obtain educational aids needed for higher education.

During October, units of the American Legion auxiliary throughout the country are giving special attention to our Education and Scholarship program," said Miss Langmaid. "Many scholarships and other forms of educational aid are open to orphans of veterans, and other qualified young men and women, but applications must be made early to give time for processing and making awards before college enrollments for next fall are closed.

"With our colleges and universities being hard pressed to handle the influx of new students, it is advisable for anyone planning to enter college next fall to do some serious planning right now. Cheerleaders Launch New Uniform Drive

The cheerleaders are all "pep" on their drive to earn money for new uniforms for the basketball season. October 7 they sponsored the dime dance after the homecoming game and they are sponsoring another dance October 21, after the Allen Park game here.

The J.V. cheerleaders are making shakers and confetti to sell at the game.

Although last year the varsity cheerleaders bought new uniforms, they need new blouses this year. The J.V. cheerleaders have not had new skirts since 1945, so it is necessary to buy both blouses and skirts this year. Mrs. Louie Cigle is their sponsor.

Plythean Staff Sponsors Contest

The Plythean staff of Plymouth high school is currently sponsoring a picture contest which will close on December 23. Carl Glassford is chairman of the event which started September 30.

The first two winners will receive a refund on the 1956 Plythean, the school annual, in which their pictures will be printed.

Rules for the contest are as follows: 1) Contestant must be a student of the Plymouth junior or senior high school, 2) All pictures must be of school activities, 3) Decision of the judges is final.

Entries are to be turned into room 21A in an envelope with the student's name and grade.

Democrats Plan Area Activities

A meeting of the Plymouth Democratic club this Friday and a county-wide Democratic "Friendship Frolic" one week later are among the activities being planned for Democrats of the area.

The Plymouth Democratic club will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Range, 41770 Schoolcraft. There will be an election of officers and an outside speaker on "Organizational Planning." Members and anyone interested in attending the meeting who may require transportation can call Mrs. George Bowles at 3055 or Mrs. Charles Root, Jr., at 1039-J.

The Wayne County Democratic committee is sponsoring the Friendship Frolic honoring Governor G. Mennen Williams on Friday October 28 in the Veteran's Memorial building in Detroit. It will start at 8 o'clock.

There will be music, dancing, refreshments and prizes. Mrs. Ruth Brown, chairman of the ticket committee, announced that tickets may be obtained locally from George Bowles, Richard Wernette, Doris Root and Freda Range.

A new class of citizen has developed — the television slave.

Future of Farmer Continues to Glow

Babson Park, Mass. Although prolonged drought and heat, together with hurricanes and floods have sharply cut yields of corn, soybeans, grain sorghums, tobacco, vegetables, and other crops. I still look for a total U.S. crop output this year of near-record size.

Wheat and Other Summer Crops
A number of summer crops already have been harvested, and the final official tallies probably will not differ materially from the published estimates. Although the total wheat crop of nearly 917,000,000 bushels is down 20% from the 1944-1953 average, total supplies for the current season are huge, since the carryover last July topped a billion bushels by a sizable margin. Most of it, however, was in government hands. This fact, plus the government loan on the 1955 crop, may result in higher average wheat prices later in the season.

The barley crop is the second largest on record — some 386,000,000 bushels. This is enough to go around. Flaxseed also is in plentiful supply, with the crop the third largest on record. The record total hay crop — 108,500,000 tons — should easily meet all requirements. Another record-breaker is oats, with an output of 1,636,000,000 bushels — and, incidentally, the highest-quality crop in years.

Outlook for Corn and Soybeans
The unfavorable weather conditions also harmed the country's corn crop this summer. But corn is sturdy and weathered these beatings well. Despite sharp losses, the indicated crop of 3,113,467,000 bushels is a little above the ten-year average. Total supplies for 1955-56 will be unusually large, in view of the substantial carryover. This should keep prices from kicking over the traces, and make for favorable livestock feeding ratios. Efficient hog and cattle producers should benefit.

Soybeans — "Johnny-Come-Lately" wonder boy among U.S. grains — also took a drubbing from the elements this summer, but came through with flying colors. Barring further damage, a record crop of around 388,000,000 bushels is in the works; this would be 13% above the 1954 output and 62% over the ten-year average. Over-all supplies of this versatile bean appear somewhat heavy to me, and I doubt that prices will make sustained progress on the upside, over the near term at least.

Cotton and Other Fall Crops
Despite record small plantings, the U.S. cotton crop may amount to 12,873,000 bales, which would be only moderately under the ten-year average. Including the August 1 carryover of some 11,100,000 bales, total supplies for the current season are top-heavy. They, however, may not prove burdensome since the bulk of the carryover is in government hands. Free supplies will dwindle as the season works along and prices probably will average higher.

Dry beans promise to do well this year, with an indicated outturn of around 18,900,000 bags — 9% above average. This means plenty of the Boston specialty for all hands! The U.S. rice crop may amount to about 48,700,000 bags — an amount easily sufficient for all requirements. The late potato crop (grown in 29 states) of 313,527,000 bushels is about average size, and should have no difficulty meeting late fall and winter needs. Prices should work higher later on.

Farmers Should Continue To Do Fairly Well
All this adds up to fairly good times for the American farmer, although prices of farm products for the first eight months of this year averaged about 5% lower than in the corresponding period of 1954. Efficient, well-managed farms are still making money, despite the fact that the cost of things the farmer buys is still relatively high. The going, of course, is tough, and always has been, for the small, inefficient farm; but, as I view the situation, American agriculture is doing well.

Since 1956 is a presidential election year, the farmer's well-being will top the agenda when Congress reconvenes in January. Whether high, rigid supports will be restored, or the flexible system further extended, remains to be seen. I again forecast that the real need is for a long-term solution. Meanwhile, farmers should continue to work faithfully, serve their God, and vote in accordance with their basic convictions.

UN Observes Birthday Few Expected It to Reach

It was with apprehension that the American people watched the formation of the United Nations 10 years ago. They well recalled the fate of the League of Nations following World War I and the many unfortunate attempts by powers to gain peace through conferences and non-aggression pacts.

After 10 years of UN, there are still many who doubt the effectiveness of the UN and are suspicious of its motives. Merely by having Reds active in the organization places it under suspicion.

It is no secret that the United Nations had failed to be a cure-all. The UN participation in Korea was far from ideal. Any number of incidents and hostilities have been unchecked by attempted UN intervention. What then, is the reason for going along with this organization?

Frankly, we can see no other way of working out the world's problems except to get together with other nations and talking them over. The charge that associating with the Reds is a menace and a waste of time reminds us of the charge made against the minister who often visited with unsavory characters. "How can I save the sinners unless I can talk with them?" he reasoned.

It is amazing to us that the United Nations has accomplished anything at all. The 60-member countries are under no obligation to belong and cannot be forced into action of any kind. But somehow, they have solved many problems during these 10 years.

The 10 years that the UN has been in existence is but a few grains in the sands of history. It is difficult to judge the worth of such an organization in one decade, much as it must have been difficult to predict the future of a "United States" in the year 1799, which was 10 years after the Constitution went into effect.

Whether the United States has lost any of its sovereignty by belonging to the UN is a difficult thing to determine in the haze of battle waged by anti and pro-UNists. As for costs, the United States pays out $13,000,000 a year to stay in the United Nations. This is equal to what 10 hours of World War II cost us. Until someone suggests something better, we are prone to string along with the United Nations as the best peace-keeping device there is.

Washington Quiz

- Q—Can you tell me which are the three most prevalent communicable diseases in the country today?
- A—As of September 1, 1955, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare reported the following as the most prevalent communicable disease as of that week: Polymyositis, 2,278 cases; Scarlet Fever and streptococcal sore throat, 1,302 cases; whooping cough, 998 cases. Over a five year average, Polio, whooping cough and measles lead the field.
- Q—When is the White House conference on education scheduled to discuss what to do about school construction needs?
- A—President Eisenhower has set the conference for November 28 through December 1, 1955.
- Q—On what does the Secretary of the Treasury predict a possible balanced budget next year?
- A—On an expected increase in corporation income and excess profits taxes of about $900 million; an expected individual income tax increase of $1.2 billion and a possible cut in government expenditures.
- Q—Can you tell us the major achievements of organized labor during 1955?
- A—Most labor leaders believe two events achieved by labor during 1955 gave most cause for celebration on Labor Day. They were the agreement to merge between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress for Industrial Organization, and winning recognition for the principle of the guaranteed annual wage by Walter Reuther of the United Automobile Workers.

YOUR PARTNER IN SAFETY!

Here, from your partner in safety — the truck driver — are some friendly suggestions for furthering safe driving on our highways. If everybody cooperates, we'll all enjoy happier, safer driving.

1. Be sure your car is in good operating condition at all times.
2. Obey all traffic laws.
3. In planning a trip, don't schedule more miles per day than you can comfortably and safely drive.
4. On long drives, stop now and then to rest and relax.
5. Never pass on a hill.
6. Courtesy and patience are two very necessary ingredients of safe driving.
7. Don't follow too closely the car ahead of you.
8. Accident statistics continue to rate speed as the number one cause of automobile accidents — so keep it down.

Ziegler Draws Fire of Both Parties

Highways are embarrassing Republicans. And forcing them to turn against one of their own.

The target is Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, whom the legislature insisted help with the Turnpike Authority and the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

At last glance, he seemed against both, though he has not said so publicly.

Senator Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), fearing that Ziegler was being ignored in the rush toward toll roads two years ago, rammed through an amendment making him a member of the authority.

Ziegler went along for a year, waiting for plans to develop. Then, when a 113-mile Flat Rock to Saginaw turnpike was planned, he disclosed he already was working on a parallel free route.

This caught the authority by surprise. It angered the new authority chairman, Ex-Senator George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, who went along with the idea that Ziegler should be a member.

Since his appointment as chairman last spring, it has been Higgins against Ziegler.

It didn't help Republican tempers when Gov. Williams also took out after Ziegler who now, at least nominally, is the target of sharpshooters in both parties.

Ziegler says he can see no value in toll roads when money is available to start a free route. Higgins is accusing Ziegler of sabotaging the idea.

Senator Nichols, chairman of the Senate highway committee, is ready for a fight.

He has asked Ziegler to stop obstructing Higgins' and the toll roads.

"What we need in Michigan is roads, not political maneuvering," he said.

Quick action by Nichols in the last legislative session staved off death of the toll road idea for Michigan. A bill abolishing the turnpike authority was killed in his committee.

When the House passed a bill giving local communities a veto power over toll road routes, it also died in Nichols' committee.

With all the bickering in Michigan about toll roads versus free highways, New York financiers are reluctant to invest in bonds. They reason that it would be a trifle insane to invest more than $135 million in a system that may be abolished at any moment and, at least, is not solidly supported in the state.

Suspicious lawmakers have hired a Chicago research organization to make a $20,000 survey of Michigan's mental health and tuberculosis hospital facilities.

They want a complete report by March 1, 1956, in time for action during the 1956 legislative session.

The investigation was ordered after tuberculosis and mental health spokesmen turned in conflicting reports on the number of beds available.

The whole business started last year when, needing more mental hospital space, the state looked longingly at tuberculosis hospitals at Howell and Gaylord — knowing both had empty space.

In the waning days of the 1955 legislative session, plans were made — and later discarded under pressure — to transfer a tuberculosis sanatorium to a mental health hospital.

Tuberculosis officials stated with some heat that they would need all the space they could get if they could find and hospitalize those who were suffering from tuberculosis.

Mental health officials pointed to the empty beds and said that patients could be congregated in the other hospitals, and one could be converted to a mental hospital.

The battle raged for months. Finally, a call was sent out for a survey by state agencies of the number of empty tuberculosis hospital beds. Figures were different.

At one point, the tuberculosis people reduced the capacity of their state hospitals, claiming that care could not be adequately given if the capacities remained at the higher figure.

Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) rammed through his proposal for an outside agency to make the survey.

There was opposition from both Republicans and Democrats to spending $20,000 for the investigation when the Citizen's Research Council of Michigan, privately endowed, offered to do it free.

"We could do it, but some people think we are taking sides," said Loren B. Miller, director of the council. Legislators insisted on a "good" survey and an "accurate" count of beds by the Chicago organization and its representative here, John D. Corcoran.

"We don't make any other kind of survey," he snapped.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"On October 24, the United Nations will be observing its 10th anniversary. Do you feel that the United Nations has proved itself worthwhile during these 10 years and do you think the United States should continue its membership?"

MRS. E. O. CHALFANT, 9924 Shadyside, Livonia: "I think the United Nations has done everything within its power for peace. Under the circumstances, I believe they have accomplished quite a lot. I would be in favor of continuing."

ROSS DIAZ, 374 West Spring: "Yes, the United Nations has done a lot of good in 10 years and the U.S. should stay in and support it. Although France has walked out of the General Assembly, it doesn't mean much. They are still in the Security Council. The UN has and will do much more toward world peace."

CHARLES K. HERSCHLIEB, 37651 Grantland: "I think myself that the United Nations has done lots of good, so naturally I don't think we should pull out of it."

CHARLES KELLOGG, 676 Penniman: "I definitely think that it has been effective. Proof of this will be shown if we don't get in another global war. There could be a whole lot more cooperation in the UN but as long as countries are conferring instead of shooting, it's all right."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Harry Balfours Recommend Russian Dish

This week's recipe for a delicious luncheon or light meal snack comes from the culinary files of Mrs. Harry C. Balfour, 320 South Harvey.

Rating top place on the household menu are Cheese Blintzes, a Russian dish which Dr. and Mrs. Balfour took a liking to after first sampling them as a specialty of the Russian Bear restaurant in Detroit. By testing and combining different recipes for their preparation, the Balfours feel they've arrived at one which most nearly approximates the blintzes served at the Detroit restaurant.

Cheese Blintzes
Ingredients:
1½ cups of sifted, all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon of salt
1½ cups of milk (approximately)
3 eggs (two slightly beaten and one unbeaten)
1 pound of farmer's cheese or strained cottage cheese, small curd.
1 tablespoon of sugar
Batter:
Mix and sift flour and salt. Combine milk and the two beaten eggs; add gradually to flour mixture. Add more milk if necessary as batter should be almost as thin as evaporated milk. Strain to remove lumps.

Pour about two tablespoons of batter into a hot, greased seven-inch frying pan, rotating pan so that batter is evenly spread. Pancake should be paper thin. As soon as pancake starts to recede from sides of pan, remove it, cooked side up, onto a plate. Put about a tablespoon of filling in center, fold sides in and roll.

Filling:
Combine cheese, unbeaten egg and sugar.

Dressing up the "Cheese Blintzes" with a dab of sour cream before serving is Mrs. Harry C. Balfour of 320 South Harvey.

Chill filled pancakes between sheets of waxed paper until ready to serve.
Fry in hot, shallow fat about ½-inch deep until well-browned and crisp. Drain on unglazed paper. Serve with sour cream topping and a sprinkling of powdered sugar.
Cheese Blintzes are ideal for party luncheons and are also good as a dessert. When serving a large number of guests, Mrs. Balfour places the cooked blintzes on a tray in a moderately hot oven, leaving the door open. This keeps the blintzes warm and at the same time retains their crispness.
As an added suggestion for serving, a dish of strawberry jam on the table makes a nice accompaniment.

Library Aids Plans for UN Observance

Plymouth schools, clubs, churches and their organizations preparing programs to commemorate the United Nations' 10th anniversary on October 24, will find a variety of books and pamphlets on the subject available at the Plymouth Library. They include handbooks showing how the UN works, description of its activities, and books which deal with the history of the organization.

Among the most popular of the handbooks are: "UN: Today and Tomorrow," by Eleanor Roosevelt, which takes the reader on a tour of the home of the UN in New York City and answers many questions about the organization; "One World in the Making," by W. G. Carr, an authoritative explanation of the UN which can be used for teaching young people about the organization; and "Everyman's United Nations," by the U.N.'s Department of Public Information, a reference book on the structure, functions and work of the UN and its related agencies.

History of the United Nations is given in such books as "The United Nations; Blue Print for Peace," by S. S. Fenischell, and "United Nations Primer," by Sigrid Arne, which briefly discusses the various international conferences and meetings and gives the full texts of important documents. "In the Cause of Peace," by Trygve Lie is an account of the first Secretary-General's seven years with the UN.

A recent book which appraises the successes and failures of the UN since its inception is "UN: The First Ten Years." It is written by Clark M. Eichelberger, one of the five persons who prepared the first American draft of the UN Charter and has been associated with peace organizations for the past 25 years.

Still another book, "Workshop for the World," by Graham Beckel reviews the work of the 11 specialized agencies of the United Nations.

The library also has numerous pamphlets and magazine articles on all aspects of the United Nations.

Stress Importance of Selecting Right Footwear for Children

It is very important to know how to select your children's shoes. By knowing what to look for in the way of a good fit, you may well be doing a great deal to assure your child freedom from foot trouble in adult life. You can't let the youngster go barefoot all the time, desirable as that might be from the standpoint of unrestricted foot development.

We will assume that your child's feet are normal. If you think something may be wrong with them, seek a doctor's advice. Consider the style or design of a shoe. You may choose a certain type shoe because they stay on better or for protection against cold and slush or for what your child may well think is the most important reason of all, because everyone else is wearing them.

Comfort is a good guide to proper footwear. You will want lots of room for the muscles to work in and the circulation and ventilation the weather demands. A good idea is to give children oxfords for winter and loafers or sandals for summer.

The best material for shoes is still leather. Some waterproof materials being used tend to cause rashes. Doctors say that blocking evaporation is a common cause of athlete's foot.

A good thing to look for is a wellmade oxford with non-pointed toes, leather soles and rubber heels. Many doctors recommend the "blucher" style. Remember that children tend to outgrow shoes before they wear them out.

Discard a pair of shoes as soon as the child outgrows them. They should not be handed down or saved for a younger child.

To increase the life and looks of your clothes, brush them regularly to remove loose dust. Be sure to include the inside of trouser cuffs and pockets.

Orange Rice Sets Off Flavor Of Game Dish

When Daddy goes a-hunting these fall days, he's liable to bring home pheasants, partridge, duck or quail, and nothing is better eating than the game which has been hand-stalked!

Just as plentiful (and seasonal) as fresh game, are juicy thin-skinned oranges and a bumper rice crop. Orange flavor goes wonderfully well with duck or pheasant, its tang and bouquet being a natural compliment to the gaminess of the fowl. Use this recipe for orange rice as a stuffing or a side dish, and count all the pennies you've saved by serving this delicious substitute for more expensive foods.

Orange Rice
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons slivered orange rind
1 cup orange juice
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

1/2 teaspoon thyme
1 cup converted rice
Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add celery and onion; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Stir in orange rind and juice, water, salt and thyme; bring to a boil. Add rice slowly. Cover; reduce heat and cook 25 minutes. YIELD: 4 servings.

New Materials Take Different Stitch Technique

A stitch in time can save nine. But the length of that stitch is important and should be adjusted to the thickness and texture of the fabric.

A clothing specialist points out that her experience in sewing on synthetic materials has led her to set her machine for shorter stitching and loosened tension. This makes for stronger seams and greater beauty to the stitching line, she says.

The expert explains that this idea is in contrast to sewing on man-made fabrics when they first came on the market. Then women were advised to lengthen the machine stitch for best results and to help avoid puckering of the seam line. But, she contends, the smaller stitches seem to blend into the fabric.

On lightweight fabrics, sheers or tricot knits, she likes to use 16 to 18 stitches to the inch. On medium weight fabrics, such as challis jersey and crepe, 12 to 15 stitches per inch is about right. And deep pile fabrics like fleeces and upholstery-types, require 10-12 stitches per inch.

On stretchy fabrics like knitted goods and crepes, the clothing expert suggests a light tension and short stitches. This will allow seams to stretch with the material and not break. The same adjustment can be used for bias or semi-bias seam lines which must stretch when worn, such as sleeve and blouse underarm seams and long bias skirt seams. "Actually," she adds, "short stitches put more thread length into the seams than long stitches."

Girls are like violinists in that they like to get the beau on a string.

Remember "Fickle" Fashion When Buying Suits or Coats

For most of us, the most important single purchase in a new season is either a new suit or a coat. The reason for this is simple — a suit or coat represents quite a large outlay of money.

During a season when a great many fashion changes are being made, the idea of buying something new is frightening. It is hard to be sure if the trend is going to be a passing one or whether it would be wise to invest in something that at the moment seems noteworthy.

When faced with this problem, it is a good idea to keep in mind that a good change is never violent. Therefore, if the new design or cut is drastic, it would be better to choose something more time tested. This rule applies even when the new design is becoming if you must watch your dollars.

From all reports the fashion business is booming. Women like the new fall styles. The reason may be that they are not startling or over-dramatic. The general fashion outlook is pleasing and beautiful and women are allowed a great deal of leeway in their choice. There is a tremendous variety of silhouettes, textures and color.

Classic suit and coat designs do not have to be dull-looking just because they are that. There is a great need in every woman's wardrobe for the crisp, devoid of detailing, and handsome suit or coat, made of fine fabric.

Kitchens designed to suit every type of family will be featured at the Centennial of Farm Mechanization to be held on the Michigan State College campus August 15-20. Exhibits will show all pieces of equipment in styles of past, present and future.

A frosted edge on drinking glasses can make its contents of fruit punch just that much more inviting. To frost the rim, turn the glass upside down in about 1/4 inch of fruit juice, and then dip the edge in sugar.

Gives Tips On Carpet, Rug Care

Many of the new rug and carpet fabrics rate special care because of unusual weave, fiber or color.

Frieze or twist rugs, for instance, should be given extra daily and weekly cleaning, authorities point out. When they are commercially cleaned or cleaned at home, a dry cleaning method should be used because a soap and water shampoo may remove the twist.

A commercial preparation is available which combines a dry cleaning solvent with an absorbing material. This preparation which resembles damp sawdust is sprinkled on the rug, brushed in and then removed with a vacuum cleaner. This preparation can also be used to remove spots. It is particularly successful on spots containing fat.

Periodic or seasonal cleaning may consist of surface-brightening of rugs and carpets at home, or a thorough cleaning job by a reliable commercial cleaning firm. Shampooing the rug at home takes care of surface dirt but does not do a thorough cleaning.

Dry Suds Shampoo Method:
1. Clean rug THOROUGHLY with the vacuum cleaner.

2. Prepare drysuds by dissolving 1 cup of mild soap flakes in 3 cups of hot water. After jelly is formed, whip it with a rotary egg beater to form a stiff dry suds. A soapless detergent dry suds can also be made by dissolving 1/4 cup soapless detergent in 1 cup of hot water. Whip into a dry suds.

The suds from the soapless detergent has some advantages. It leaves less residue in the material and if any of the residue is left, it is less harmful. The disadvantage is that the soapless detergent suds are not heavy suds. This makes it hard to apply.

3. Apply suds liberally to a small area of the rug surface with a soft scrubbing brush, using a circular motion. Excess suds may be lifted from the surface with a spatula.

4. Wring a soft cloth or a sponge out of warm clear water and rinse the shampooed area — first wiping with a circular motion; then against the nap; and lastly, with the nap. Repeat until suds are removed, but avoid getting the rug damp below the surface.

The dry suds is also helpful for removing spots. Spots treated immediately are much easier to remove.

To the Editor:

The current sales talk one gets about the advantages of "one efficient government" that will come if the city annexes the township, ignores the often proved fact that one, big governing body is very, very seldom efficient. On the other hand, the bigger a city gets, the larger the payroll becomes, with taxes steadily getting higher. It is well known that the more tax revenue politicians have to spend, the more they will spend.

Already we hear that a new police car, new fire equipment, new garbage trucks and personnel to man them, will be first on the list if the city succeeds in taking over the township. Very soon, we shall be told that more clerks and other help will be necessary to run this new, big city.

If the township is annexed the residents in these outlying areas can expect and will get the same facilities that the residents of the city are now enjoying (i.e. police protection, water, sewers and other civil services). It is obvious that it will be many times as expensive to provide them in sparsely populated areas as in heavily condensed areas such as the city. Revenue from new industry will not pay for this. Taxes collected from any new industry attracted by city facilities will pay a part, but not all. (Remember that these industries too, require all the same city facilities, in great abundance, that will be provided for home owners.) This new expense will have to be shouldered by all the residents of the new city. The only way this can be handled is by increased taxes to all residents of the city.

There is another point that has been overlooked. That is the well demonstrated fact that big government gets too far away from the people. Now a resident of the city can talk to his commissioners, his mayor or the City Manager without being shunted about from one clerk to another in a dozen different departments. The same is true in the township. But is this true in big cities? Can any taxpayer get to see Mayor Cobo personally whenever he wants to discuss something of the utmost importance to him at least? Of course not, and the same is true in only slightly less degree with other cities of considerably smaller populations.

Oh yes, we are told the schools will benefit. Just how is left largely to our imagination (as is the estimate of how much our taxes will go up). It might be well worth while to give a little thought to how well the people of both the city and the township have worked together, although of separate political entities, toward our consolidated school system. It should be quite plain to everyone that there is very little to worry about in connection with the continued high quality of the schools we now operate, or plan to build, and this despite the deliberate smoke-screen that has been generated to confuse the real issue of the special annexation election on November 1.

W. G. Stang

Mr. Sterling Eaton, Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan, October 6, 1955

Dear Sterling

We have heard much from the group back of the scheme to annex the township to the City that one of the big rewards will be a bigger and better city. Surely they know this is a lot of nonsense, that a bigger city does not necessarily mean a better city, in fact there are plenty of examples near at hand showing the reverse to be true.

Ypsilanti, for instance, was once a nice, clean little town, a good place to live and raise a family. Then it got ambitious and started a campaign to attract industry, the while it started providing more and more expensive services. When it became a city the inevitable happened. Now they have high taxes, there are still complaints that services are inadequate, a slum potential is developing and they have a serious crime and juvenile delinquency problem.

We are all too familiar with the situation which our neighbor Livonia finds itself to do more than mention it. There are several other examples right close to home that are equally well known where bigger cities did not become better.

It is also a well known fact that employees of big industrial plants prefer to live as far away as they can from where they work. Frequently they drive many miles to and from work to achieve this desire. One need only ask the personnel managers of the plants right here in this city and township and learn the truth about this, that goes for both the factory worker and the white collar clerical help alike. What is more, these employees invariably live in the community which offers the lowest taxes together with essential services.

We, who live in the township and happy with what we have, know full well that "big" government means we will be saddled with big taxes, and we are suspicious of the motives of those who try to tell us different.

Cordially yours,

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Smith. Also attending were Superintendent Isbister, Mr. Clinansmith, Mr. Zack, Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Jaroszewicz.

The minutes of the last regular and intervening special meetings were approved.

Mr. Clinansmith and Mr. Zack discussed the grading of the ramp at the Starkweather play area. It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing that Mr. Clinansmith be authorized to proceed with the work, bulldozing to be done at the rate of $8.00 per hour.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Smith.

Nays: None.

Mr. Ramsey asked if the board would object to a change in zoning along Mill street, to include, in addition to multiple dwelling units, professional buildings. Opinion was expressed in favor of this change, but it is not to include stores.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, Under the provisions of the School Code of 1955, the Superintendent of Public Instruction has directed the Wayne County Board of Education to proceed immediately to give an official name to each school district of the fourth class in the county, and

WHEREAS, The Wayne County Board of Education has given official notice to Plymouth Township Board of Education that it may choose a distinctive name for the school district and have it approved by the Wayne County Board of Education, and

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Hospital Chairman Beverly Brown took books and Halloween candy to the children's ward at Maybury Sanitarium on Sunday, October 2. She requests that all members bring any old toys to Auxiliary meetings so they can be repaired and taken to the boys and girls there. She also announced a trip to the Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor on Monday, October 17.

President Loretta Young and Hal Young provided transportation for the 10 boys chosen to take part in the Safety Patrol school held at Camp Norcom on Sunday, October 2. The boys spent the day viewing safety patrol films and attending classes to further their knowledge of safety patrolling. The trip was sponsored by the Youth Activities committee and financed by our auxiliary.

Let's not forget the annual Post Halloween Dance on Saturday, October 29, at the Post Hall from 9 till? Music will be furnished by Bill Thomas and his orchestra and you may come in costume or not! So hold that evening open for an old-fashioned celebration of the goblin's night of Halloween!

The Seventh Annual Smorgasbord Dinner plans are in full swing. Dinners will again be served hourly from 1 through 5 p.m. Each girl is requested to find out just how many dinner tickets they can sell for each hour and obtain these ticket reservations from your ticket chairman, Marion Dickie. The early dinner hours go fast, so if you have any special requests, call for them early. To date the response on volunteer workers and food has been very satisfying, so please continue to cooperate if you are asked to participate. The date is set for Sunday, November 6, at the Post hall on Lilley road.

Our yearly inspection took place at our regular business meeting on Tuesday, October 4. Fourth District president, Clare Rogers, commented on the chairmen's notebooks and their full reports and on the precise floor work. She stated that ours was one of the most alert and determined auxiliaries she had inspected and was very pleased with our progress. Also visiting was Leota Wolcott, department chief of staff, and Eleanor O'Neil, district chief guard. President Loretta Young would like to thank the girls for their turnout and for their part in making the meeting a successful one!

Don't forget our Rummage Sale on October 24, 25 and 26 at our hall. Chairman Gertrude Danol could use your help during the sale and on Sunday to set up the rummage. We still need a lot more rummage so call 1217W for pickup service and further information on the sale!

Breeding

The ladies met on a train. "I'm from Boston," haughtily remarked one. "There, breeding is everything."

"Well, I'm from St. Louis," the other replied. "We like it there, too, but it's not everything."

Achiever Firms Start Third Year

More than 300 teen-agers opening the doors to their own business concerns last week on Plymouth's Main street as Junior Achievement began its third year here.

Juniors and seniors from Plymouth high school as well as some from Bentley high school in Livonia are operating eight JA firms at the local business center located at 204 South Main street. This is the first year that Livonia youths have participated in the program. There are a record 271 miniature corporations in the Southeastern Michigan district.

Each of the JA firms is sponsored by an established business concern with executives from the sponsoring firm working with and advising the Achievers in problems of management, production and sales.

The JA firms will be in operation from now through next May, starting from scratch by deciding on a product to manufacture, selling stock at 50 cents a share to raise operating capital and then delving into the problems of producing and selling their products while operating their firms at a profit. They will go through a "life cycle" of a business operation before their firms are liquidated next May.

Concerns sponsoring Plymouth and Livonia Achievers and the schedule for their company meetings are:

Mondays, Burroughs corporation, two firms; Tuesdays, Barnes-Gibson-Raymond and Chevrolet Motor Car division, General Motors corporation; Wednesdays, Evans Products and Michigan Bell Telephone; Thursdays, Burroughs corporation and Daisy Manufacturing.

All of the JA firms meet from 7 to 9 p.m. each week.

U-M Research Studies Differences Between Farm Family, City Family

Are farm families really different from city families, and if so, how much?

These are some of the questions a University of Michigan sociology research group asked itself a while ago, and they've since found some answers.

Under the direction of Assistant Prof. Robert O. Blood, Jr., the group studied 178 rural families in southeastern Michigan, comparing its findings with those of the University's Detroit Area Study. (DAS). The DAS makes an annual survey of Detroit families.

One of the first things the farm study unit discovered was that not all farmers farm exclusively. Even among those who consider themselves primarily farmers, one fourth leave their fields long enough to work part-time in town, most of them as semi- or unskilled factory workers, with only 1 per cent in the professions. Among the farm wives there are 2 per cent in the professions.

Although 35 per cent of the men quit school after junior high to take up their farming, 7 per cent of the women and 4 per cent of the men did go to college. Comparing this with figures for the city 10 per cent of the urban women and 15 per cent of the men have had some college training.

But if the farmer's college attendance was sparse, their church attendance is not. More than half of the farm families interviewed go to church once a week or more. Urban figures are similar, but the totals are not strictly comparable, the researchers state, because the city has three times as many Catholics—who as a group are known to be more frequent church-goers.

Almost half the farmers questioned are of German background, a quarter of them of English ancestry. More than half the farmers are at least third generation Americans. The city has a larger proportion of foreign immigrants and 22 per cent of its U. S. native born have moved up from the South, according to DAS figures. In the farm study no resettled Southerners were found, and no Negroes.

When asked their former residence almost three-quarters of the farmers said they had always lived in this area. Only 26 per cent of those currently living in the city report themselves native to it.

The studies show that the farm population is much older than that of the city, with almost half the city dwellers under 40 and only one-quarter of the farmers. Another quarter of the farm husbands are over 65 while only 6 per cent have yet reached this age in the city.

Moving to the question of the farmers' incomes, researchers arrive only at approximate figures since they learned it's hard for a farmer to keep records of all his income and because many do not include as income the food they raise and improvements made on the farm. They did discover half the families indicated less than 3 thousand dollars for their total 1954 income. Only 7 per cent in the city said they earned as little.

In general, investigators learned, farmers tended to report more modest incomes than city folk, with only a few, 16 per cent, saying they cleared five thousand at least, and a very few, 3 per cent, claiming income of 10 thousand or more. In the city 13 per cent reported getting 10 thousand or more.

Nevertheless, a whopping 75 per cent of the farmers as well as urbanites have at least one TV set in their homes and more farmers, 75 per cent, than city men, 62 per cent, own the homes the sets sit in.

We have met a number of people in our travels and almost without exception, all have the idea that he, or she, could write a newspaper column that would set the world on fire.

Whenever an after dinner speaker, or platform orator, begins with the statement that the world is doomed unless we do this and so, we suspect he has no sensible argument.

State Law Controls Deer Locker Plants

Within coming weeks successful hunters will be bringing deer carcasses to be processed for consumption later to locker plants over which representatives of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's bureau of foods and standards enforce locker plant laws.

Locker plants, according to Department Director G.S. McIntyre, must be licensed by the department and maintain strict sanitation of equipment, utensils and refrigerators and must keep proper temperatures.

Deer hunters are advised to dress out carcasses immediately after killing, and protect them from possible contamination until delivery is made to the locker plant.

The locker plant operator must inspect every carcass of meat to see that it is not contaminated or decomposed. State regulations prohibit skinning of deer with the hides or skin on in the same room with other meat products. Miles A. Nelson, bureau chief, warned that inspectors will give special attention to locker plants during hunting season.

Happy Experience

Conservation officer Zene Blackmer of Calhoun county reported a scene recently that made him prouder, he said, to be a conservationist.

Northwest of Athens, on the Nottawassippe River, Blackmer found a boy lying on the stream bank fishing. The youngster was cast in a heavy brace, a victim of infantile paralysis. His father sat in a car nearby, reading. The boy was able to bait his hooks and chuck out the line, but that was about all. He had caught five hatchery trout.

"Glee and satisfaction stood out all over the boy's face," Blackmer said. "He asked me to look at the fish he'd caught. He told me how he fished and what he used for bait."

"I'm sure he'll never forget this experience," Blackmer wrote, "and, for that matter, neither will I."

The greatest number of state parks and prepared campsites are found in Michigan.

Trees Strangle Selves With Roots

Trees frequently have suicidal tendencies. They sometimes strangle themselves with girdling roots.

A girdling root is one that wraps around the base of the trunk or around another root instead of growing outward as it should. As it increases in diameter, it presses more tightly until circulation may be cut off.

Girdling roots may develop either above or below the ground. Those above ground are quite obvious. Below ground they are difficult to locate, but the results can be seen above ground, even though the actual girdling cannot.

Periodic examination for this trouble is advisable, especially in the case of young trees that have been growing for several years on small lots or under other restricted conditions.

Possible indications of girdling roots are poor leaf growth; early defoliation; sparse crown development, particularly on one side; undersized leaves; frequent scorching and other characteristics of poor circulation.

If the tree base is straight-sided instead of flaring, this also may indicate girdling roots, although such a condition may result from other causes.

Where the home owner has reason to suspect his tree is suffering from girdling roots, he can easily check by removing the soil to a depth of several inches around the base, extending out for a foot or more. This will expose all main roots, including any girdled ones.

Plymouth Area Civil Defense News

There will be an advance first aid course and instructors course starting Thursday, October 20 at the Plymouth township hall, beginning at 8 p.m. The instructor will be Mathew Zak of the Detroit American Red Cross chapter. He has had 18 years of experience. Director Leo J. Flowers reports that all former service personnel in the medical division can also take the advance course.

Flowers also announces that a primary first aid course will be started in the near future. There are no charges for the courses.

Fire Chief Bud Holmes of the township announced that a rescue course was started yesterday which will be given one hour a week for five weeks. Fire and explosions will also be explained.

Norman L. Kellman, 217 Hamilton, and Alfred J. Truax have been appointed deputy CD directors or coordinators of this area, Director Flowers stated.

Tuesday, October 18 at 8:30 p.m., a first aid course was started for members of the Parkview Circle Homeowners association. Mathew Zak is the instructor for first aid and Civil Defense instructions are being given by Director Flowers. The first meeting will be at 210 Garland drive.

In case of disaster, Plymouth road has been designated as one of the emergency routes out of Detroit.

Official Proceedings of the City Commission

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held in the Homecoming Department on Monday evening, October 3, 1955.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Superintendent Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Smith. Also present were the following members of the Junior High Staff: Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Hayskar, Mr. Smithling, Mr. Sandmann, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Arnold, Mr. Alford.

Also: Mrs. Franklin, Chairman of Junior High Study Committee; Mr. Gibson, President of Plymouth Education Association; Mr. Jaroszewicz and Mr. Tarapata of Eberle M. Smith Associates.

Mr. Jaroszewicz and Mr. Tarapata presented for consideration another plan for the new junior high school with the dual classroom units arranged around a large open court area, part of the classrooms along a double loaded corridor and part along a single loaded corridor. Considerable discussion followed relative to the educational values of this type of arrangement as opposed to the small open court area for each pair of classrooms as proposed earlier.

It was noted by the architects that no appreciable saving would accrue from the use of either type, although the original plan would have less square feet of floor space and perhaps would be less costly to construct because it would not be necessary to have top lighting. However, some of this saving, if accrued, might have to be added to the heating cost because of additional radiation required if the plan of the multiple open court area were used.

It was agreed that the group would visit the Beverly Elementary School in Birmingham where the small open court areas are in use and report back to the Board of Education meeting on Monday, October 10, 1955.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Fischer that the following tuition rates be established for the 1955-56 school year: Elementary — $195.18 and High School $219.20.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Fischer to adjust the substitute teacher salary schedule as follows:

Day to day substitute from $14.00 to $16.50 per day.

Special substitute assignments for days over 20—$16.00 to $18.00 per day.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer and Mrs. Hulsing.

Nays: None.

Superintendent Isbister asked for clarification of policy on solicitation by band parents for the uniform fund. Approval was granted for solicitation of the service clubs as organizations but no solicitation is to be made from individuals, business, or industry.

First Plumber — My wife and I had it hot and heavy the day she baked bread.

Second Plumber — The argument?

First Plumber — No, the bread.

ry. The superintendent was authorized to draw from any unbudgeted operating funds to assist in the purchase of band uniforms.

It was suggested that the participants in last year's School Community Planning Group who are not the official representatives of their schools or organizations this year be encouraged to participate.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Booth that Earl Gibson be appointed supervisor principal for the outgoing elementary schools, the salary to be in accordance with the schedule.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer and Mrs. Hulsing.

Nays: None.

Meeting adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

Esther Hulsing, Secretary

Post Offices No Longer Built By Department

Contracts for leasing or long-term purchase of new buildings to be used by the Post Office Department have been signed at a rate of over one and one-half per working day during the past 18 months, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield reported today.

Through the department's commercial leasing program and its lease-purchase method for obtaining new modern buildings, the Post Office Department has either occupied or will occupy, upon completion, approximately 500 new units at an estimated construction cost of about $49 million dollars.

This new construction is not part of a Federal Public Works Building Program. As a matter of fact, no appropriations for Federal buildings for postal use have been made since 1933.

The commercial leasing program permits the department to make long-term non-cancellable leases. By this means new modern postal facilities erected to the department's specifications are leased from private enterprises, using funds provided by private investors. This program has created about $35 million dollars in new construction during the last 18 months.

The lease-purchase program, passed by the 83rd Congress, is actually a "buy-out-of-rent" method for obtaining new modern postal facilities. Under this program, the department is buying modern vitally-needed facilities substantially like the average prudent American buys his home, in periodic payments like rent. This program is designed to use the financing and construction capacity of American business to provide modern buildings for Post Office use.

While the lease-purchase program is relatively new, the 27 projects presently approved will create an estimated $14 million dollars of new construction.

Many of the buildings now occupied by the Post Office Department are obsolete and inadequate as to size, location, and mechanization. They suffer from deferred maintenance and are costly to operate. Each new building, thus, becomes an important stepping-stone in the Post Office Department's program to reduce costs and to provide expanding American communities with long-needed postal facilities to assure better mail service, the postmaster general noted.

Some 13 million people make all or part of their living by growing, processing, manufacturing, and selling cotton and its products.

Readers are invited to send their Social Security questions to the Plymouth Mail. The full name and address should be included, although only initials will be used for those answered in this column.

Letters are answered through the cooperation of the Mail and the Social Security district office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan. All letters will be treated confidentially.

1. I have worked at quite a few different places. They all took out Social Security but I don't think this one placed reported any of us. How can I be sure that I will get credit from all the places I've worked?

Answer: Write to the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland for a statement of your account. Be sure to give your Social Security number and birth date. After you receive the statement, if your earnings are not correct, you should contact the Social Security district representative at the Plymouth Post Office (basement) on the second or fourth Thursday of the month.

2. I have been working for my son in his restaurant for the past three years. He has taken out the Social Security tax from my pay but now I am told that these years for my son will not count on my record. I'm not well and can't work any longer and without these last three years I'm afraid I'll have a lower payment. Can you help me on this?

Answer: A father working for a son or daughter is excluded from coverage under the social security law. This means while working for your son, you cannot receive Social Security credit for your work. You may ask for a refund of the Social Security taxes from the Director of Internal Revenue.

3. I was married several months ago and just returned to work. My employer says my Social Security card is wrong because it doesn't show my married name. Do I need a new card? I understood I was always to use the same number.

Answer: You should get a new Social Security card which shows your same name but your married name. For this new card, contact the Social Security district office or the representative at the Plymouth Post Office (basement) on the second or fourth Thursday of the month.

Accidental Deaths Hit Life's Prime

Accidents in Michigan claim their heaviest toll in the prime of life, and rank as the number one cause of death among children and young people, the Michigan Department of Health reported today.

Fatal accidents, the health department disclosed, happen most often among persons 15 to 44 years of age. Grimly, the record also shows that accidents last year topped the killer list in ages one through 34.

The department reported: Accidents took 3,948 Michigan lives last year, ranking as the fourth cause of death among all ages. Nearly half of the total — 1,916 deaths were caused by motor vehicle accidents. Other causes include poisoning, fires, falls, drownings and gunshot wounds.

The accident death rate in 1954 was 56.2 per hundred thousand population — surpassed only by heart disease, cancer and apoplexy.

Seventeen per cent of the deaths from accidents were among persons 14 years of age and under, 35.5 per cent in 15 to 44-year olds, 20.2 per cent in the age group 45 to 64, and 27.3 per cent among persons 65 years of age and older.

In the age group hit hardest — persons 15 to 44 years old — two out of every three fatal accidents were in the "motor vehicle" classification — deaths on the highway.

Although heart diseases, cancer and apoplexy lead the death list in Michigan, the health department pointed out that these causes of death, unlike accidents, are more concentrated among persons over 45 years of age.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Pentagon Air Force officials have asked for 8900 acres of public and private land for a new jet air base a few miles west of Kalkaska.

The officials met with Conservation Department director Gerald E. Eddy late last week to present plans and proposals for the base and to ask for lease of 8,000 acres of public land in AuSable state forest. The remaining 900 acres are private land adjacent to public holdings.

The Pentagon representatives agreed to accept a 99-year lease, the land to revert to state and public use at the end of that time.

Director Eddy said he would present timber removal plans and discuss the Air Force request informally with the Conservation Commission during a meeting at Gull Lake this week. Final decision on the base rests with the Commission.

If all schedules can click, the Air Force officials said, they would like to break ground this fall, before heavy frost sets in.

The Percy J. Hoffmaster Memorial Project is again offering boy and girl scout troops, 4-H clubs, school classes and other youth groups chance to win 10 awards of up to $25 each for school-year conservation projects. Projects can be written reports, children's notebooks, photographs, exhibits, press clippings and other evidences of conservation effort by the group.

Closing date for entries is April 1, 1957 to allow groups time to develop their projects. Awards will be announced in May.

Teachers and secretaries of clubs may obtain application blanks and other information from the Percy J. Hoffmaster Memorial Project, 419 North Capitol, Lansing.

Grouse this year are "Down, but not out," and hard hunting will produce results.

So states an article in a recent issue of Michigan Conservation, the Conservation Department's bimonthly magazine.

Author Warren Shapton of the Department's game division suggests dogs, longer hunting and careful selection of cover as three answers to the off-years of pat hunting.

Another result-getter is to drive the birds along a creek bottom or short saddle and then catch them when they double back. The method is described in detail in the article.

Grouse have a 10-year cycle of high to low population. This year, birds are at about the bottom of this cycle.

Other articles in the magazine discuss duck seasons, fox squirrels and the pheasant hunting outlook.

Flights of ducks are coming into Michigan.

Several popular points report birds have either landed or are on the way.

Flights of divers, including a high percentage of redheads, are reported along the Lake Huron shore and in Saginaw Bay.

In the southeast corner of the state, at Pointe Mouillee, some flight birds are in. Hunters took 1912 birds from the Mouillee marshes the first week of the season.

In the Swan Creek area, hunters had taken only 21 geese through the first week of the season, but this picture was expected to change soon; flights from the north generally flood into the area in the middle and late part of October.

Southern Michigan rabbit and squirrel hunters are being asked to mail forepaws of their game to the Conservation Department for laboratory study.

About 2600 hunters who were successful last year will receive special envelopes for mailing the forepaws. Conservation clubs and others are asked to participate and can get details of the program from the Rose Lake Wildlife station at East Lansing.
