

Officials Express Final Opinions

As parting shots prior to Tuesday's annexation election, The Mail presents here the full text of letters written by Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and City Commissioner J. Rusling Cutler. Their statements, it is presumed, cover some of their most vital arguments for and against annexation of the township to the city.

The City Letter

By Commissioner J. R. Cutler

The City of Plymouth has many valuable assets which it may share with its neighboring community, Plymouth Township, if we are all one city. The city has a water system. It has the ability to go beyond the immediate problem of sewers and water in the township, through its established government, to provide street lights, recreation, sidewalk, curb, gutter and paving and better police protection. The voters in the city will determine whether they wish to share these assets with their township neighbors. The township voters may avail themselves of these assets by voting for consolidation. A majority of each must vote favorably to accomplish consolidation.

The water and sewer problem in the township area can more easily be solved by city procedures. The township's ability to obtain sewers hinges on its ability to obtain and sell water. Since the Township has no water system it must start from the very beginning. The cost must of necessity be great.

The city recently tested its new 4 million gallon per day well, which now is delivering water to the city. The new well is an example of forward thinking and planning. The peak load in the city last summer was 2,700,000 gallons per day. Our Beck road well field was able to produce this amount. If consolidation takes place the city is ready and able to take on the water load and the financial load for the township area. It can and will install $400,000 worth of water extensions in order to make available to persons who desire the same, water at their property in urbanized areas and to provide fire hydrants for better fire protection.

The township, it is estimated, will have to spend at least this amount of money to provide a like amount of water mains and laterals for the areas. In addition to mains it will be necessary to purchase land, test drill for water, install a producing well and pipe it into the township areas a distance of three or more miles. In order to guarantee a supply for peak loads, with adequate pressure a water tower and a water reservoir would be needed. The City's new well cost $80,000 which included about two blocks of 16-inch water mains. It is reasonable to assume that any cost above and beyond $400,000 is a waste of someone's money. Existing facilities, except the laterals, are available if the township joins with the city. It is estimated that a water system comparable to that of the City of Plymouth would cost over $2,500,000. Water from the County and City of Detroit is at least 5 to 10 years away. This is a fact established from Wayne County Road Commission official's statements.

The city may handle new water bonds for extending the water to township areas under its existing ordinance. No one will be required to tap into the main. Hydrants will be installed for fire protection, with resulting lower insurance costs. The township treasurer has said that township water bonds will be voted upon by the people. This means pledging the faith and credit of the entire township, and further that if sufficient income

The Township Letter

By Supervisor Roy Lindsay

I wish to call your attention to certain specific steps taken by the Plymouth Township Board, with the full cooperation of Canton Township officials, toward bringing sewers and water to our area in the shortest possible time. These developments have materialized since the city boycotted meeting of last August 11, which convinced us finally the city was deliberately attempting to stall progressive action in a vain, insensible effort to gain political advantage for their plans to annex the township.

1. Officially approved, with Canton township, incorporation of a joint sewer and water authority under Act 233, passed only this year by the State Legislature.

2. Entered into a contract with Walter A. Markin, financial consultant, to set up the joint authority and provide for the issuance of revenue bonds.

3. Obtained written estimate from L. G. Lenhardt, general manager of the Detroit Water Board that we can expect to receive Detroit water by 1959, if not sooner.

4. Test drilling underway at several locations in the township, where a geophysical survey, conducted solely at Plymouth Township expense, indicated water in commercial quantities (2,000 gallons per minute).

Act 233, which did not actually become effective until October 18, enables any two municipalities to incorporate an authority "for the purpose of acquiring, improving, enlarging, extending and operating a sewage disposal and water supply system by the adoption of articles of incorporation by the legislative bodies of both municipalities."

As provided by this new law, the revenue bonds to be issued, will be payable from the proceeds of the sale of water and sewage disposal services. The authority and its two constituent municipalities (Plymouth and Canton townships) can enter into contracts with those municipalities outside the authority for the furnishing of sewer treatment facilities, or water, at stipulated rates fixed by the authority.

This could result in the highly interesting situation of the city having to eventually become a customer of the authority it spawned, in order to provide the necessary sanitary sewer facilities to the residents of the southern portion of the city, who have had to depend on septic tanks up until now.

Marlyn B. Buhle, consulting geophysicist, whose expert services were retained to make a scientific survey of water resources in the township, reported his findings to our board August 16 this year.

Stripped of its technical language, his report lists a number of locations where "wells of high productive capacity" may be obtained. The report pointedly observes that some of the sites selected for test drilling "should prove of great value because of their location near an area of need."

Mr. Lenhardt, who has distinguished himself as general manager of the Detroit Water Board, proved to be very cooperative and sincere in his assurances of Detroit water for the homes and industries of Plymouth Township.

Theatre Guild Presents "Dial M for Murder"

An opportunity to see the plotting of a murder, its execution and detection of clues leading up to the capture of the criminal will be given Plymouth residents next week with the presentation of "Dial M for Murder" as the 10th main production of the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

The show will be presented Thursday, Saturday and Sunday nights, November 3, 5 and 6, at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Presentation of the mystery thriller comes as highlight to the observance of Plymouth Theatre Guild Week, October 31-November 6, as proclaimed by Mayor Russell M. Daane. In his proclamation the mayor cited the local drama group for bringing to the community the "finest type of entertainment" and for its "generous and worthwhile contribution to community life."

Guild President J. H. Wilcox announced that during the special observance the Guild will issue a number of free tickets to the current show. Monday through Thursday of next week, alert Plymouthites who answer telephone calls with "Dial M for Murder" instead of "hello" are in line to win a complimentary ticket to the play.

The play's cast includes J. H. Wilcox, Jean Ann Aubrey, W. R. Harris, William McKinnon and Russell Wallace. Sets for the production will be those of Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills, which will close its presentation of "Dial M for Murder" shortly before the opening of the Guild production. Director of the Guild show is Will-O-Way's William W. Merrill. Producer is John H. Lodge.

The backstage committee is composed of Douglas Havershaw, stage manager; Don Wallace, sound; Jeannine Dahlager, properties; Mr. and Mrs. Garland Wright, staging; Douglas Stewart, lights.

Lillian Dickinson, Judy Sechlin, Saxe Holstein and Betty Gondek, makeup; Barbara Noe, prompter; Maude Laury, program; Ruth Barney, publicity; Russell Creel, J. H. Wilcox and C. V. Sparks, tickets; Adele Miller and Angel Lind, patrons.

Fined on Two Charges

Two fines of $50 were given a 20-year-old Plymouth youth who was arrested October 15 on charges of reckless driving and possessing and transporting beer. Lexie Barnes, 1096 Palmer, pleaded guilty to the two charges before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo Monday and was fined $50 for each charge.

Banquet Crowd Hears Appraisal of United Nations

A glance at the past and present of the United Nations and an appraisal of the future was given to 240 Plymouth service club members, their wives and other guests who attended the Inter-Service Club United Nations banquet at the high school Tuesday night. The week has been set aside to mark the 10th anniversary of the United Nations.

Preston W. Slosson, head of the history department at the University of Michigan, was the guest speaker. He began his address by pointing out that mankind has made its inventions in the wrong order. "We have perfected the instruments of war long before having the social invention which could control their use. A rational human race," he declared, "would have made the United Nations before inventing gunpowder."

He then compared the defunct League of Nations with the United Nations. The chief difference, he said, is that the UN has every great power as a member while the League never had more than five at a time, and never the United States.

Noting that many people criticize the UN for its ineffectiveness, he pointed out that too often people forget that the UN has no army, no treasury and no authoritative power. "We have a clearinghouse and that is all we should have."

Dr. Slosson stated that scores of little wars have been stopped by the UN, that its economic aid has saved millions of lives and its refugee aid has returned hundreds of thousands.

He then referred to UNESCO, the UN arm condemned two weeks ago by an American Legion resolution. The speaker declared that the Legion's own Murphy committee gave UNESCO a clean bill of health but that the Legion ignored the report and hurried through a resolution condemning it.

Dr. Slosson said he could make Continued on Page 8

Bad Check Charge Brings Guilty Plea

A 23-year-old Wayne woman, Mrs. Geraldine LaRoque Sundahl, has been bound over to circuit court after pleading guilty to issuing checks with insufficient funds.

Since her arrest in Plymouth a week ago, stores in Northville and Wayne have reported that the woman had passed several bad checks there.

Using the name of Geraldine LaRoque, the young woman signed a check on October 17 for purchases of $16.98 that she made at Cassidy's, local women's apparel store. The check was issued on the National Bank of Detroit, Wayne branch.

The bank returned the check marked "no account" and the following day Mrs. Sundahl called Cassidy's, stating that she would make up the loss. She failed to appear. Last Thursday she attempted to pass another check at Minerva's. Store personnel had been tipped off about her previous activities and the local bank was called. The bank then called police and they arrested Mrs. Sundahl while she waited in the store.

In an appearance before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo, Mrs. Sundahl pleaded guilty and was placed under bond of $2,500. She has not posted the bond and is being held in county jail pending her court appearance.

Mailboxes Get Patriotic Look

Don't go looking around town for those olive drab mailboxes the next time you want to mail a letter. They've changed their complexion.

The drab letterboxes are being given a red, white and blue paint job. Work on 30 boxes was begun last week and will be finished when lettering is painted on them shortly.

Postmaster George Timpona said that the olive drab mailboxes looked too much like wastepaper receptacles for some people. The brighter colors will make them look more official and much easier to spot while driving along a street.

General use of olive drab paint dates back to the close of World War I, the postmaster said, when great amounts of the surplus paint were used by the government itself.

How Did We Get Into This Business?

These are the Events Leading Up to the Annexation Election

August 23, 1954 — Green Meadows residents appear before city commission to ask for city water. Commission rejects request, claiming sufficient supply must be assured city water users. Annexation may be tried, Green Meadows spokesmen say. Many other similar requests for water turned down at other meetings.

Feb. 21, 1955 — City commission appoints 16 city, 16 township citizens to Plymouth Community Study Committee to study if annexation of township is advisable. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay says that township will not recognize this city-appointed committee.

March, 7, 1955 — Township board appoints its own study committee of 16 township citizens to study annexation issue.

May 3, 1955 — Western Electric company announces at meeting that it intends to build plant on Cassidy farm, if farm is annexed to city. Township citizens hold emergency meeting that night and urge incorporation of township as a city to halt "piecemeal grabs" of township.

May 6, 1955 — Petition filed with Wayne County Board of Supervisors by Roderick Cassidy to have his 85-acre farm on Sheldon road annexed to the city.

May 9, 1955 — Petition filed with Wayne County Board of Supervisors by city and township residents asking for annexation of entire township (excluding Cassidy farm) to the city.

May 10, 1955 — Group of township citizens, meeting at township hall, decide to move ahead with plans for incorporating the township as a city and to call it "Charleston" in honor of the former township supervisor, Charles Rathburn.

June 1, 1955 — Attorneys for Cassidy submit petition to township board asking that they approve annexation of farm to city. Board takes no action at this meeting.

June 7, 1955 — Township Study Committee delivers report, recommends township retain present form of government, that services be provided in township, and that all petitions be withdrawn. The committee is disbanded.

June 13, 1955 — City commissioners adopt water policy after township board asks city to furnish water to proposed Western Electric plant without annexation of property. Commission to furnish water, after greater supply is available, only to township buildings located along existing mains.

June 15, 1955 — Township board votes to indefinitely table action on Cassidy petition. Cassidy must now try "long method" of having vote of people.

June 20, 1955 — Board of Education adopts resolution calling for immediate cooperation between city and township in order to get Western Electric plant into the area. Claims plant would yield about $44,000 worth of school tax annually.

June 22 — At a meeting of the Ways and Means committee of the County Board of Supervisors, the prosecutor's office recommends denial of Cassidy petition because of technicalities in wording. No action taken on township annexation petition until prosecutor determines if signatures can be checked for qualification.

July 26, 1955 — In final report, Plymouth Community Study Committee recommends annexation of township to city.

July 27, 1955 — Ways and Means committee of Board of Supervisors votes to set November 1 for elections on Cassidy farm, township annexation issues. Cassidy files an amended petition acceptable to the prosecutor and the prosecutor rules that the township annexation petition signatures cannot be checked for legality.

August 1, 1955 — County supervisors, at a special meeting, confirm November 1 election date.

August 11, 1955 — Chamber of Commerce board of directors endorses annexation of Cassidy farm.

August 11, 1955 — Township boards of Plymouth and Canton, along with school board, meet to discuss sewer plans. It is announced that preliminary tests show there is plenty of underground water in township for water system.

Sept. 19, 1955 — Petition for the township incorporation as the city of Charleston referred to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for study. Expect no action until after November 1 election.

Oct. 20, 1955 — Annexation of township endorsed by Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations Entering Final Days of Pro-Con Campaigning

It should take no longer than 20 seconds for an individual to cast their vote at this Tuesday's annexation election, but the results—no matter which way they lean—will affect the course of events in Plymouth city and township for many years to come.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. How many people will go to the polls is hard to determine, but indications are that voting will be heavy. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay declared this week that he expects a very heavy vote among township residents. They need to vote on one issue only: whether the township should be annexed to the city.

Telephone 1600 For Voting Results

For those wanting to know the results of next Tuesday's annexation election, information can be secured by telephoning The Plymouth Mail office that night. The number is 1-600.

Results of the township voting are expected to be known by 9 p.m., while results of city voting is not expected until 10 p.m. For those wanting to know about voting in both the township and city, it is recommended that phone calls be placed after 10 p.m. Calls may be placed until midnight.

Local Builder Buys Remainder Of Plymouth Hills

Purchase of all remaining building lots in Plymouth Hills subdivision and intentions to sell their 100-home Maplecroft subdivisions holdings, were announced this week by Turk & Ramsey Builders.

Plymouth Hills, located near Beck road, west of Hilltop Country club, has 25 building lots on which the construction firm will build various style homes in the higher price range. There are already 19 homes built in the development and five other lots are ready for building.

Turk & Ramsey state that they already have one model home under construction at Amherst and Powell road in the $39,000 price bracket. They purchased the lots from the Plymouth Land company, original developers of the subdivision.

Serving as realtor for the construction company is William T. Cunningham, 46850 North Territorial road. Cunningham has been in the real estate business for the past 30 years, working most recently with Rosedale Park developments. He also sold the Plymouth Hills lots to Turk & Ramsey.

The local builders announced last March that they were starting on a 100-unit building program in the southeast corner of the city known as Maplecroft subdivision. Cost of the development was to have been $2,000,000.

The builders said that they found that most people wanted to build homes much wider than the building lots allowed. Most of the lots were about 62 feet wide. Several parties have shown interest in purchasing the 28-acre site.

Files Complaint Against Motorist

A complaint charging reckless driving has been filed against Nathan C. Shaw of Garden City, driver of the car which struck Susie Rose Kosis, 369 West Ann Arbor trail, over a month ago. The girl's mother, Mrs. Albert Kosis, signed the complaint.

The case was scheduled to be heard in municipal court Wednesday night as The Mail went to press. Susie, a first grade pupil at Allen school, was struck by Shaw's car as she crossed the street in front of her home in order to reach a school bus stop at Hamilton street. The mishap was on September 15.

Susie was in critical condition with a fractured pelvis, a fractured collarbone and broken ribs. She was brought home two weeks ago and after two days it was discovered that she had a fracture below the kneecap. She was returned to the hospital for a day and her leg placed in a cast. She now is able to walk about on crutches.

Report Polio Case

Ten-year-old David Druce, 575 Simpson, has become the Plymouth area's second polio victim of the year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman T. Druce.

David was taken to University hospital two weeks ago where he remains under treatment. He suffered no paralysis but has weakened muscles in the spine, arm, shoulder, toes and neck. His parents report that his condition is not considered serious but that the scattered muscle ailments make it difficult for physical therapy.

The youth is a sixth grade pupil at Smith elementary school.

Mrs. Collins will now serve as a member of the committee on revision of by-laws for the state division. Appointed to the state legislative committee was Mrs. Houston. The latter group formulates policies and determines courses of study and action for branches throughout the state.

Social Security, Topic Of Teachers Meeting

Couple Celebrate 50th Wedding Date

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this week are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grant of 1310 West Maple. The occasion was marked by a dinner for family and friends at the Arbor-Lill restaurant last evening, attended by approximately 20 guests. The couple were married October 26, 1905 in Windsor, Canada by the Reverend George S. Tolmie of the Presbyterian church. Retired since 1948, Grant formerly owned and operated the Grand Way Bar and Bowling Alleys on Grand River, Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Grant came to Plymouth six years ago, after 20 years of residence in Detroit.

NANCY NEWTON should be all ready for the trials of Hallowe'en coming Monday evening after this fright from "Pug" Sliger. The six-year-olds are members of Mrs. Dorothy Miller's first grade class at Bird Elementary school. The "scare stick" being used by "Pug" to frighten Nancy is just one of many that the children made and residents may expect to see more of come Monday night.

Many Halloween Events Planned As Police Warn Against Destruction

The night for spooks, witches and goblins will not officially come until next Monday, but some of the Halloween celebrating will take place this Saturday night when the teen-age set has a dance at the high school.

An appeal is being made to youngsters to keep their Halloween fun from turning into wanton destruction. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher stated that extra policemen will be on duty throughout the city over the weekend to control malicious groups.

Saturday night's free dance, sponsored by the Recreation commission, will be from 8 to 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be free. Service clubs will assist the Recreation commission with the affair. Cider and donuts will be furnished by the Lions club, the Optimist club will run the dance and furnish popcorn while Kiwanians will provide supervision.

Elementary youngsters will have celebrations in their classrooms. The Plymouth Women's club is supplying all the grade school children with Halloween treats. Allen school had their celebration Wednesday with a family gathering. The other schools will have their masquerades and parties Monday.

For the first time in a number of years, there will be no window painting by high school students. The decision to curtail the painting competition came after a meeting among school officials, the Recreation commission and the Chamber of Commerce.

Halloween will be a bigger problem for law enforcement agencies this year. Although Halloween falls on Monday, it is expected that many youngsters will begin their rounds on Saturday night and perhaps Sunday too.

Smith "Country Fair" Termed Big Success

The largest attendance in the history of Smith grade school's annual "Country Fair" was on hand last Saturday evening at the 1955 edition of the event to enjoy chicken or ham dinners and the numerous game rooms provided. The affair was termed "a big success."

Winning a brand new Evans-Colson bicycle was Craig Notebaert, 5, of 1321 Hartsough, who was awarded this prize for his near-perfect ability at bean-guessing. Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Notebaert.

Co-chairman of the event, Robert Minock, estimated that at least 800 persons feasted at the chicken or ham dinners that were served throughout the evening. Many youngsters toured the game rooms, which consisted of fish pond, cake and pie walk, spook house and others.

The event, with Herb Burley as general chairman, was sponsored by the Smith school Parent-Teacher association.

Load of Foot Aids Is No Help to Big Tow

Dr. Scholl, the nationally-known footman who is famous for helping tired and pinched feet, could do nothing for his pinched truck Tuesday night except to pay an illegal parking fine.

The Scholl mobile unit consisting of a large semi-trailer truck was given permission to park on the un-parkable portion of Main street Wednesday morning and on Penniman avenue in the afternoon. The truck rolled into town Tuesday night, however and parked on Main street in front of the sponsoring shoe store.

Police said they looked high and low for the drivers. Finally, the truck was towed to city hall where drivers later appeared to claim their missing property, plus pay the fine of $10 and towing charges.

VFW to Sponsor Seventh Annual Smorgasbord Dinner

Plans for the staging of its seventh annual Smorgasbord dinner at the VFW Hall on Sunday, November 6, are nearing completion. It was announced this week by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, sponsors of the event.

The actual word "Smorgasbord" means bread and butter. The Allmart smorgasbord, general bread and butter table of pre-war times, is now seen in its full glory only in food-rich America, where its popularity increases each year. The name is misleading, however, since bread and butter are just an introductory to various salads, egg dishes, cold cuts, relishes, jellies and other various foods.

In addition to its main attraction, Swedish meatballs, this year's menu for the V.F.W. Smorgasbord will include baked beans, potato salad, relishes and cheeses, gelatin salads, bread and fish, scalloped potatoes, turkey and ham, deviled eggs, Waldorf salad, cabbage slaw, green beans, corn relish, apple bar dessert.

Stockholm, Sweden has been considered the capital and home-town of smorgasbord, but all Baltic lands have been enthusiasts of foods served in this manner, particularly when food supplies were plentiful. Under present Swedish law, however, no restaurant may serve more than six different dishes on its general table as compared with 30 or more served in former times.

Chairman Beatrice Walton reported that approximately 130 dinners will be served each hour between 1 and 5 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from V.F.W. auxiliary members or at the Linda Lee shop for the specific hour in which the individual wishes to dine.

The chairman added that visitors are assured of the same amount of food whether they come for the opening or later hours. She is being assisted on plans for the event by LeMay Smith and Lucinda Archer.

School Community Planning Group To Hold Second Meeting Wednesday

Cherry Hill school will be host next Wednesday, November 2, to the School Community Planning Group which is starting its fourth year of activities in the school system.

The group held its organizational meeting for the new school year last month and elected Mrs. Esther Franklin as chairman and Mrs. Clara Sharman as secretary. Retiring officers were Earl West, chairman, and Mrs. George Bauer, secretary.

Wednesday's meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. and anyone interested in school problems and activities is invited to attend. Mrs. Franklin declared. The principal, a teacher and several parents from each school are usually represented at the meeting, along with the board of education and superintendent.

This year's new committees and their chairmen are:

Gifted and handicapped children committee, headed by Mrs. J. Rusling Cutler; committee on studying the extension of the school year, chairmanned by Principal Carvel Bentley; teacher relations committee, led by Ray Hulce; and Cherry Hill school study committee, headed by Mrs. Stanley West.

The junior high planning committee which has been headed by Mrs. Franklin gave a report at the last meeting and will remain active for a while, although plans for the school have been approved.

The School Community Planning Group has no official status and can only recommend action to the school board. The group has played a significant part in solving school problems, however, through its thorough studies given various problems.

Extinguish Car Fires

Car fires seem to be the chief item of business for city and township firemen over the weekend. The township department had a run Sunday and Monday and the city had one Sunday.

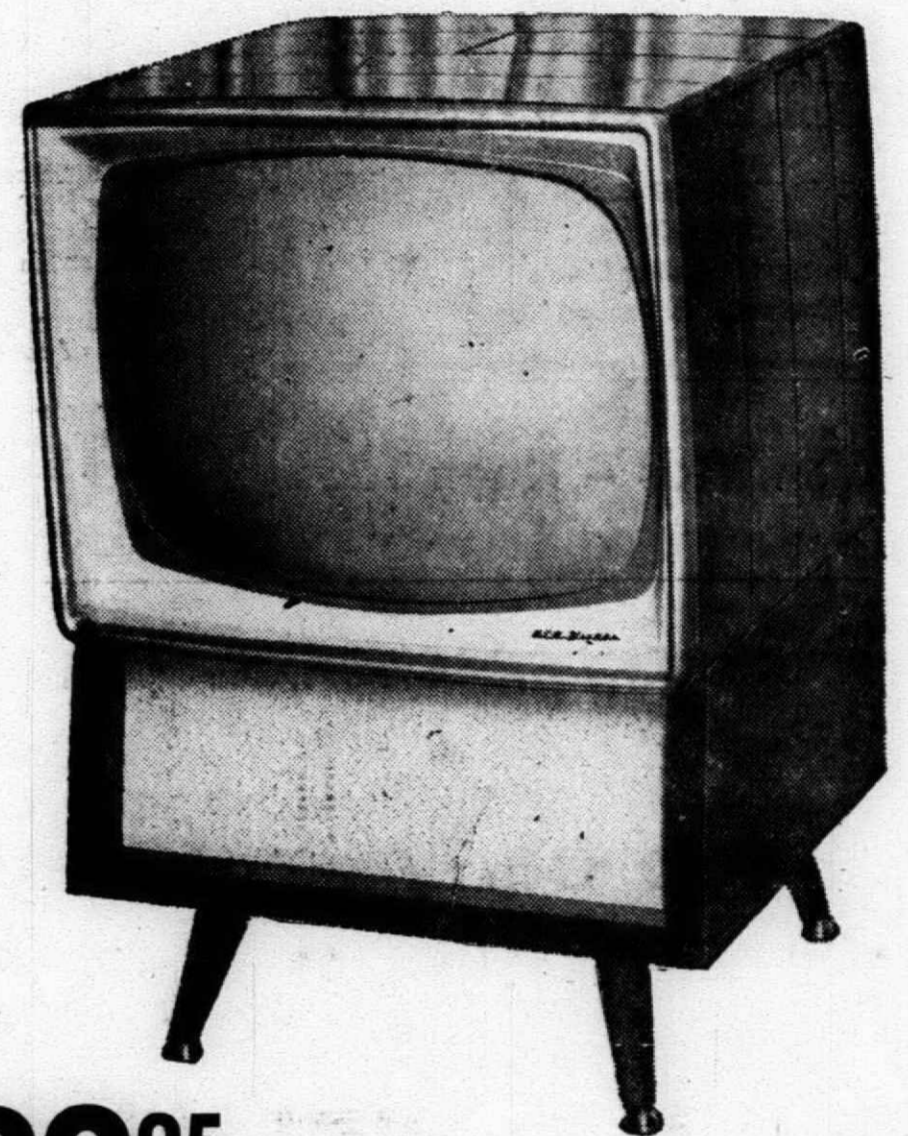

The city department was called to the Strasen & Diedrick service station at Ann Arbor road and Main street at 2:54 p.m. Sunday. Wiring on a car was burned.

At 8:01 that night, the township department went to Cavalcade Inn on Northville road to extinguish a fire in the front seat of a car. At 11:34 a.m. Monday, the radiator exploded in a car on Hammil street, causing damage to the motor and wiring.

Another Mishap At Joy and Lilley

Numerous cars and people have suffered dents and bruises at the Lilley and Joy road intersection but things got pretty bad Sunday when one wrecked car piled on top of another.

Sheriff's officers said that a car owned by Ruth McMain, 11901 Brewster, Livonia, was in the ditch at the south side of the intersection when a car driven by a Detroit missed the turn and piled on top of the McMain vehicle.

The other car was driven by Barner B. Belue, Jr., 5553 Maxwell, Detroit. Belue was driving south on Lilley at 8:26 p.m. Sunday when the collision took place. He said that he did not see that the road made a turn. There were no injuries.

Two Plymouth women were injured on the previous Sunday when a car failed to make the turn and plunged into the airport field. Lilley road comes to an end at Joy road and follows along Joy road about 40 yards before continuing its north-south course.

Reverend William Richards

Services were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the First Methodist church of Northville for the Reverend William Richards, age 80, who succumbed at his residence, 19360 Maxwell street, Northville on Sunday, October 23.

He was a member of Myrtle Lodge No. 89, and a charter member of the Northville Exchange club. A retired minister, Reverend Richards served in Northville from 1922 to 1931 and from 1931 to 1940 in Belleville. Prior to his Northville ministry he was pastor of congregations in the small Thumb areas for 18 years.

The deceased was born January 23, 1875 in Liverpool, England to Edward and Catherine Richards. He is survived by his wife, Jenny, of the above address; three daughters, Mrs. Ann Chizmar and Mrs. Miriam Mitchell, both of Northville; and Mrs. Alice Patterson of Belleville. A son, Reverend William J. Richards of Detroit, also survives.

Dr. Laverne Finch and Reverend Ivan Hodgson conducted the funeral services. Others participating were Dr. Benjamin Holme, Dr. William Pellowe and Reverend Rex Reid.

Funeral services were held at 11:00 a.m. Sunday at the home of the deceased, 19360 Maxwell street, Northville. Burial was in Glen Eaton Memorial Park.

William Davis

William Davis of 11051 Stark road, Livonia, passed away early Sunday morning, October 23, following a heart attack which occurred while he was visiting friends in Peck, Michigan, his birthplace. He was 78 years of age.

A retired brick mason, Mr. Davis came to Livonia in 1927 from Detroit. He was a life member of Custer Lodge No. 393, F & AM in Sandusky, Michigan. He was preceded in death by his parents, Francis D. and Sarah Babcock Davis.

Surviving are his widow, Mary Seeley Davis; three daughters, Mrs. Sarah Fox of Ferndale, Mrs. Edith Card and Miss Alice Davis, both of Livonia; a son, Frank, of Livonia; and six grandchildren.

The Reverend J. Woodrow Wooley was officiating minister for the services which were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday, October 26, from the Schrader funeral home. Masonic services were conducted under the auspices of Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F & AM. Riverside cemetery was the place of burial.

Three Choices For Township

October 24, 1955
 The Plymouth Mail
 Plymouth, Michigan
 To The Editor:

It is very desirable to dispel the smoke-screen and ill-feeling generated by opponents to annexation of the Township of Plymouth to the City of Plymouth. Fanciful fears and baseless claims confuse the voter who seeks to make an intelligent decision.

The people of the Township have one of three choices:

1. Remain a township, pay for a duplicate water system and sewers, when and if it can obtain them, go without adequate police protection and emergency services, go without street lights, pay extra for refuse disposal, be unable as a township to provide improvements needed by the community.

2. Incorporate as a new city of Charleston. This would abandon part of the township which would have the entire expense of supporting a township government. Could the remainder of the township pay the cost with so little assessed valuation remaining?

A new city would be prohibitive in cost and this must be met by added taxes for a new charter, ordinances, official salaries, D. P. W. equipment, police cars and equipment, etc. The taxpayers in the new city would have to pay for capital assets they might have without cost to them by annexation to the City of Plymouth.

3. Become the City of Plymouth by voting for annexation. Have one community with a common interest. The whole area would own all public property and assets, and enjoy the benefits of unification.

Concluding, it would appear that any citizen, whether a resident of the township or the city, if the matter of costs and benefits be considered and pettiness and jealousy be discarded, must vote for annexation. No other decision can be justified.

Sincerely yours,
 Jimmie Puritan

The Mail has welcomed all letters to the editor and has printed all that were received to date. Several concerning annexation were received on publication day, however, which bore no signature. There were indications that they were all typed on the same typewriter by the same author. For this reason, The Mail is continuing its policy of not publishing letters which are unsigned in longhand. Signatures are required but names may be withheld on request.

French is Back

"Bonjour" has replaced the familiar "hello" among the students of Plymouth high school as a result of the French class which has been added to the curriculum of Plymouth high school for the first time in six years.

The 59 students of French have added fun to the classes by planning an all-French day. On this day students will be allowed to speak only French. In case of misunderstanding permission must be granted before a statement or question can be repeated in English.

Many students are eager to purchase French berets which will be imported from France. To broaden their French vocabulary, many students have ordered French dictionaries.

Cancel Lectures, Real Estate Class

The last two lectures of the 1955 adult education and recreation lecture series, originally scheduled for tonight and next Thursday night, have been cancelled, explained Director Herb Woolweaver last week.

Reason behind this move is the insufficient attendance at the first two such lectures. The opening guest speaker two weeks ago appeared before only two persons and the lecture last Thursday had only eight persons in attendance.

The two speakers on the cancelled lecture programs were to have been R. D. Burroughs, supervisor of conservation education and Ilo Bartlett, who is in charge of deer investigations.

Other news received from the recreation and adult education department included the announcement that the Real Estate class, which was hoped would be included on the list of adult classes this fall, has also been abandoned.

Legal aspects, as explained by the Western Wayne county Real Estate board, have stopped the class, which had been requested by seven persons. But Woolweaver added if at least 30 people apply for the class through the Real Estate board it may still be offered.

Those interested may contact Clyde Alexander at phone 432 for further information. Alexander is president of the board. The Real Estate board will conduct the class if 30 or more people apply for it.

Some commentators we know get so involved in the background of the news they neglect to give their readers the real news of the day.

American Legion to "Kick-off" Membership Drive Next Week

A meeting of local Legionnaires at 8 p.m. Wednesday, November 2, in the Veteran's Community center will officially "kick-off" the American Legion's 1956 membership enrollment campaign in Plymouth, it was announced this week by Commander Albert Holcombe of the Passage-Gayde unit.

By proclamation of Mayor Russell Daane the period from October 20 to November 11 has been set aside "AL Weeks," in keeping with the nationwide membership drive being conducted by the American Legion during the 23-day observance. Theme for this year's campaign is "It's Great to Be An American Legionnaire!"

Commander Holcombe pointed out that the local American Legion Post membership for 1955 reached a total of 77. "We expect to top that total for 1956," he said.

Veterans of World War I who served honorably during April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918; World War II veterans with honorable service from December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945; as well as veterans of the Korean War with honorable service from June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953, are invited to join the American Legion. Those wishing to join may contact either Commander Holcombe or Adjutant Ernest Koi of the local post.

"The American Legion button in the lapel of a veteran denotes honorable service in time of war," the post commander said. "It is also indicative of a veteran dedicated to the service of his community and fellow citizens."

The Legion counts nearly 3,000,000 veterans of three wars among its members. More than 17,000 American Legion posts are scattered in thousands of cities and towns throughout the world. Programs of Americanism, child welfare, national security and rehabilitation are maintained by the organization.

The American Legion wants the world to know "It's GREAT To Be An American Legionnaire!"

GREAT because The American Legion gets things done.

GREAT because Legionnaires help make their hometowns better through community service.

GREAT because its membership is truly American—from every walk of life—a cross section of America.

GREAT because it gives veterans a chance to help wartime buddies and their families through rehabilitation and child welfare programs.

GREAT because of its promotion of positive youth activities and in combating un-American propaganda.

GREAT because it's endorsed by 3 million veterans of 3 wars in more than 17,200 posts.

If you are an honorably discharged veteran of World War I, World War II, or the Korean war and not yet affiliated with The American Legion, why not contact your local post today?

Cutler's Letter

is not available to pay off the bonds as they fall due and the interest, even persons who receive no benefit and have not tapped into the line will be taxed to pay the bond and interest deficiency. The water ordinance in the City provides that only revenues of the water department may be used. No taxes can be levied for existing water bond and interest payments. You can see what will happen; you probably will pay for the Township water system whether you want water or not. As to sewers, seven years ago the city had preliminary plans drawn to provide sewers for both the township and the southern part of the city. From this and subsequent plans it was thought by township officials that the city could not build sewers without going through the township and have stated so publicly. This put an end to further consideration of the combined project. The city, by action of its commission has instructed its engineer to draw sewer plans so that if annexation is successful the city and township system can be integrated into one. We fail to understand why there is so much animosity generated over this very simple matter.

As a matter of curiosity and information, we looked at the salaries of the elected township legislative officials. Here is what we learned. The salaries totaled $18,000 for the Supervisor, Clerk and Treasurer.

By charter, a city elected legislative official receives not more than $5.00 per meeting, not to exceed 52 meetings per year. The total salary cost for the entire city commission last year was $1,335. The Mayor's extra compensation of $100.00 per year was included.

If a water and sewer authority is created by township officials, who would receive the salary for running the authority? Whoever gets the salary and whatever the salary is, would be in addition to that which the officials now receive. Do not be misled, an authority is another layer of government. It has been the thinking of my fellow commissioners that our community would progress in the right direction more easily if it were not hampered by layer-upon-layer of inter-governmental relationships. The community needs home rule, which means that its citizens may have any law and facility permitted within the framework of the laws of the State of Michigan.

I sincerely recommend a "Yes" vote on Consolidation.

Lindsay's Letter

He stated in his letter to me that with our own system, supplied with well water, ALREADY IN OPERATION WITHIN A YEAR, THE PROBLEM WOULD BE "SIMPLIFIED CONSIDERABLY." In my opinion, Plymouth township has reasonable expectations of getting Detroit water even earlier than 1959.

Early this year before the city annexationists began to push their scheme in earnest, I felt that we were making real progress through honest effort to solve our mutual problems of sewers and water. As you know, Herald Hamill's engineering firm was retained by both our governments to make a detailed study of the proposed project. In his report, presented July 23 this year, Hamill recommended a joint authority to operate a community sewerage disposal system in its entirety. He also proposed that "an adequate water system should be constructed in conjunction with the sewer project" and promised to submit a separate report on the latter.

Together with a rate schedule and amortization table, Hamill submitted a specific plan for 22 miles of sewers that would serve the southern portion of the city, entirely without sanitary sewers; that part of the township lying between Joy and Ann Arbor roads as far west as Sheldon road and an area east of the city and north of Ann Arbor rd. to tie in with existing sewers there, and Canton township below Joy road to the site of the new Sheldon school.

The city commission tabled Hamill's report, but Plymouth and Canton township kept pressing for action. When the city officials "stayed away" from the August 11 meeting, Plymouth and Canton board members decided that enough time had been wasted already and approved the incorporation of a joint authority without the city as a participant.

I have, since July, 1954, consistently advocated cooperation between the city and township to solve our mutual problems on a neighborly, common sense basis. The minutes of the Area Planning Council will prove the truth of this statement. I believe the city officials were entirely sincere at first. Then they got this annexation bee in their bonnets and there was a collective change of attitude.

They made it quite clear to us in the township that the only way they would continue to work with us was on their own unbending terms — take us over through annexation.

This ill-considered turnabout was, of course, politically motivated. The city officials very foolishly thought they could gain political advantage in their annexation scheme by attempting to wrongfully place the blame for crowded school conditions on the township.

If our schools are forced to go on half-day sessions, as our school authorities seem to fear, I am sure that parents and all citizens in both city and township, will have no difficulty placing the blame where it really belongs — at the doorstep of the city government.

However, I am convinced, even taking into account the delay caused by the city's dangerous position of rule or ruin, we can still have the new Sheldon school ready to open next September on schedule. That is, of course, if the school authorities work in harmony with our Plymouth and Canton township boards, which I have every hope and expectation they will.

I have gone to some length and taken considerable pains to present the township's position. In view of the irresponsible statements that have marked this annexation controversy, I am hopeful that in fairness you will find the space in your columns to print this statement for the benefit of your readers.

no single prediction about the future, but pointed out the three alternatives. War, he said, would not come about by our initiative, but by the Russian's. Since both powers would suffer heavy destruction, the victory would be only one degree better than defeat. "Whether the Russians realize this, I don't know," he stated. He added that the U.S. must remain armed to protect this peace. "I never saw aggression started when they expected to lose," Dr. Slosson declared.

"When there is not war, there can only be diplomacy. Diplomacy is largely a matter of needing to get along with dishonest competition."

Besides the possible path of war, there could be a continuance of the cold war or the Russians could possibly generally agree to real peace negotiations. Two signs of this would be their evacuation of Germany and mutual arms inspection.

Dr. Slosson then stressed the need for America's continued participation in world affairs. The two World Wars and the great depression, he said, bore the "made in Europe" label but they involved this nation, just as a third World War would. "We must make this world secure for ourselves, our neighbors and the most distant strangers," he concluded.

Entertainment included solos by Cantor Nicholas Fenakel of Adas Shalom Synagogue in Detroit, and Nat Sibbold of Plymouth. Both sang two solos and concluded their program with a duet.

The Reverend Henry Walsh, D. D., introduced the guest speaker and soloists while David Galin, president of the Rotary club, welcomed the audience and introduced other guests. The four local service clubs are Kiwanis, Lions, Optimist and Rotary. Harry Mohrmann was general chairman of the event. He was assisted by Lawrence Lyons.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road were Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage of Clemons drive.

The Hough Extension Group met with Mrs. Rose Kennitz of Haggerty Highway for a lesson on cleaning rugs and upholstery.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hix and daughter of Wayne, spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. James Allor and daughter.

How Does It Feel to Be 96?
 Simply wonderful, thanks . . . thanks to all you loyal A&P customers, that is. Your friendship and patronage have made the month-long celebration of our 96th Anniversary during October an occasion for real rejoicing.

We sincerely appreciate your continued support, and—as we embark upon another year of serving you—we pledge ourselves to prove worthy of it by constantly striving to make your A&P a better place to shop . . . for better values.

If you have any suggestions that may help us achieve this goal, please pass them along to your A&P Manager. We're never too old to learn!

American Legion News

The Junior Activities meeting was held at Gwen Holcombe's, 1150 Carol street, on October 20. We would like to have more girls in the organization. For further information, contact Gwen at 1367-M. Come on, you Auxiliaries, get your youngsters interested in this group activity. They really enjoy their meetings. Next meeting will be November 2 at 3:30 p.m. at the same place.

Mrs. Adah Langmaid, 17th District president, introduced Mrs. Trina Quinn, third Zone vice president at our School of Instructions on October 16 at the Veteran's Community center. She gave some very interesting information and how to use it to the best advantage in the Auxiliary. She informed us of the new unit handbook which is now available. She also gave us very good ideas on how to carry on our Poppy, Civil Defense, Americanism and National Security programs. Mrs. Marie Kiddle, past 17th District president, gave us a short resume of her report on the National convention held in Miami, Florida. Our new department secretary is Catharine Waskell. We are all anxious to meet her at the coming Fall conference. Those from other units in the district were: Hazel Severance, Lena Hammond from Northville's Lloyd H. Green unit No. 47; Peggy Crawford, Beatrice Clarke, Margaret Newton from Redford Township unit No. 271; Mrs. Les Anders, Betty Wilcox, Dorothy Sitarski, Susan Thurmon from Myron Beals unit No. 32; and Marie Kiddle from Rosedale Park unit No. 390. Trina Quinn is with the Farmington unit. Attending from our own unit were: Adah Langmaid, Maxine Kunz, Gwen Holcombe, Marie Thompson, Melva Gardner and Ferne Burleson. Tea and cookies were enjoyed by all after the meeting.

The next regular business meeting of the post will be Wednesday evening at 8 at the Veteran's Community center. The Auxiliary will hold a Rummage sale on November 4 and 5 at the Veteran's Community center. Hours will be 9 to 1 p.m. on Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. All are asked to please use the side entrance. Anyone may bring their donations of articles and those who cannot, may contact Marie Thompson at Northville 1473-W and she will pick up your donation.

The Auxiliary's next regular business meeting will be on Thursday evening, November 10, at 8 p.m. at the Veteran's Community center.

This weekend will find several members of both the post and auxiliary attending their respective classes at the Annual Fall conference in Saginaw. These classes are held to acquaint and give helpful information to officers of the respective organizations as to their duties.

Democrats Elect Officers

At a meeting of the Plymouth Democratic club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Range last Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Orville Tungate, chairman; Freda Range, vice-chairman; Mrs. George Bowles, recording secretary and Charles Root, Jr., treasurer.

Organization plans were discussed and decided upon for the coming 1956 election year.

MEN IN SERVICE

Private First Class Walter J. Whyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Whyatt, 11040 Berwick, Livonia, is presently stationed at Camp Drake, Japan, where he is a personnel administrative specialist in the 8235th Army Unit's Headquarters company.

A former student at Alma college, Whyatt entered the Army in August 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Whyatt is a member of Delta Gamma Tau fraternity.

...for more miles per gallon

DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END      NEW GULF NO-NOX

Gulf No-Nox cleans clean. Here's proof: Note the black deposit, on plate at left, caused by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the part which Gulf refines out in making New Super-Refined NO-NOX. But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right.

Prove it in your own car. Now—on the road in your own car—see for yourself how New Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX can give you the best in motor performance and protection . . . plus more miles per gallon in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

...for more miles per quart

A B C

Gulfpride Select works clean. Here's why: Most oils are refined only to the stage shown in Graduate A. Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process, removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, shown in Graduate B. Graduate C contains new super-refined oil.

Prove it in your own car. This new oil can give you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

REMEMBER: No gasoline alone can give you today's finest performance . . . no oil alone can give you today's finest protection. Get the super-power Gas-Oil Team . . .

Dr. Hussey will tell club members what has been going on in Michigan during the last few million years, particularly what happened in the Plymouth area. He will also show color slides of prehistoric animals that roamed over the state; color slides which Dr. Hussey painted himself.

It was announced that all those interested in geology would be welcome to this meeting as well as U of M club members.

It has been remarked that folks don't have to take long motor trips to see interesting things when, with a little knowledge, they can discover a fascinating world right under their feet. The way to overcome sin — its causes as well as its effects — through the understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon "Everlasting Punishment" is the Golden Text from Ezekiel (18:23): "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?"

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: "Divine Love corrects and governs man . . . Every supposed pleasure in sin will furnish more than its equivalent of pain, until belief in material life and sin is destroyed" (6:3 only, 12-14).

Scriptural readings include the following (Psalms 37:27): "Depart from evil and do good; and dwell for evermore."

United Churchwomen Mark World Community Record

With the belief that freedom and prosperity can be assured any nation only as it is assured all, United Church Women have set Friday, November 4, as World Community Day and for its theme have chosen, "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread."

Seven Plymouth churches are working together on plans for the local observance of the event, announced Mrs. Thomas Bateman, chairman of the planning committee. A special service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday, November 4, in the Salvation Army Citadel.

Residents have been asked to bring to the service "Parcels of Peace," or bundles of clothing for boys age 16 and up as well as men's clothing. Articles will be weighed at the service and eight cents a pound collected for sending the clothing packages. Donations will also be asked for food packages to aid hungry and needy peoples of foreign lands.

Principal speaker for the local observance will be Miss Elsie D. Harper, director of Christian World Relations and official observer for United Church Women at the United Nations. Her topic will be "Women in the U.N."

The United Church Women have spotlighted the Food and Agriculture organization of the U.N. for study on the 1955 nationwide observance of World Community Day, hoping to draw to it a greater understanding and support by the American people.

Immediate needs to be met in the world today, such as food for the hungry and clothing for refugees, are also the goal of this year's observance. Offerings will be gathered nationwide in an effort to share with other peoples the abundance in this country.

Mrs. Bateman stated that one of the most urgent calls is for clothing for men and boys, particularly suits and coats, or yards of denim to make work clothes for them. Women's and children's clothing is also needed.

The Plymouth council of United Church Women is headed by Miss Helen Beavers as president. Representatives of participating churches on the U.C.W. board are Mrs. Oscar Puckett, Assembly of God; Mrs. Dunbar Davis, First Baptist; Mrs. Lawrence Lucas, Church of the Nazarene; Mrs. Walter Breed, St. John's Episcopal; Mrs. Marshall North, Methodist; Mrs. Roy Jacobus, Presbyterian; and Mrs. Helen Arnold, Salvation Army.

Church Holds Special Services

The Reverend and Mrs. S. H. Wilson will hold special evangelistic services at the Plymouth Assembly of God church, Ann Arbor trail at Riverside drive, starting November 1 and continuing through November 13. Services will be held nightly at 7:30 p.m.

Reverend Wilson's sermons have a prophetic emphasis. He has had many years of pastoral ministry in the U.S. and Canada, tries. More recently Reverend and Mrs. Wilson have traveled in evangelistic work through the U.S., Canada and overseas to the British Isles and European continent.

A MESSAGE TO THE COMMUNITY OF PLYMOUTH

CAN WE AFFORD ANNEXATION?

1. RESIDENTS OF THE CITY WILL HAVE TO PAY HIGHER TAXES to provide the Township with "services" that are not needed and not wanted.
2. COST OF AN EXPANDED CITY GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO BE MET to pay for additional clerks, rubbish collectors, police, administrative help and others.
3. OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM CANNOT GAIN BY ANNEXATION because it is already consolidated. Why waste money on increased taxes and assessments just to become a big city?
4. TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS CAN EXPECT RE-APPRAISAL OF THEIR PROPERTY by a City assessor for new assessed evaluations.
5. TAX RATE IN THE TOWNSHIP WILL BE INCREASED 15 TIMES to equal the present City rate.
6. ANNEXATION IS NOT NECESSARY TO PROVIDE WATER AND SEWERS IN THE TOWNSHIP. A sewer commission has been approved as of October 14 to provide these facilities where they are needed. Why should residents of the City, (who now have miles of unpaved streets and areas that need water and sewers) help pay for this?

REMEMBER . . .
IT COSTS PLENTY TO LIVE IN A BIG CITY . . .
. . . VOTE NO TO ANNEXATION NOV. 1.

Announce Reopening Of Sunday School

The First Presbyterian church Sunday School, closed for the past five weeks due to construction in the new building, will reopen this Sunday, it was announced by Richard Daniel, superintendent of the program.

Classes will be held each Sunday at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services. Instruction at the earlier hour is for all youngsters between the ages of three and the 12th grade. Three-year-olds through sixth-graders will be included in the 11 o'clock classes.

Installation of heating facilities in the newly-completed addition has enabled the church to resume its Sunday School program, Daniel said.

Answers Other Letterwriters Who Opposed Annexation

In the Plymouth Mail of October 20, 1955, appeared letters signed by Frank Millington, W. G. Stang and Joe Wickens. Each undertakes to oppose annexation. Let us examine, briefly, the arguments of each in the above order.

Mr. Millington, who lives in the township, objects to the assertion that annexation of the township would be a great help to the Plymouth Community School District.

Do we want delays again when we build another school? Two units of government with equal voice seem to allow room for buckpassing. With annexation, the school would have only one unit of government to deal with.

As to the sewer program, the city never declined to meet with any of the interested parties. The fact is that the township supervisor, without indicating what municipal bodies were expected to attend a meeting relative to organizing a sewer and water authority and without consultation as to convenience of date, undertook to call a meeting upon short notice.

While the above matter was not discussed for the reason stated, it is obvious that in any event the city would not be interested in a water authority, because it is the sole owner and operator of its well-established, valuable water system.

The statement that Mayor Daane ruled against furnishing water outside the city is absolutely untrue and incorrect. The water policy of the City of Plymouth is determined by the city commission. While the supervisor of the township may dictate policy, the mayor of the city assumes no such power.

Next, let us consider the letter of Mr. W. G. Stang, a city resident. Being a city resident, he objects to expending money for police, fire and public works equipment and personnel to operate the same for the purpose of supplying these services for the township. Manifestly, if the township becomes part of the city, the former township residents are entitled to the same services that other residents of the city receive. The expansion of the fire department will lead to reduction of insurance rates, and give much better fire protection to all.

As to the situation of the schools, it must be conceded that they constitute our most expensive item of local government. School costs will increase in any event and it is necessary that efficient planning and government maintain industry, business and residential values for the purpose of making bearable the costs of our educational system.

As to the letter of Mr. Joe Wickens, it is noted the letter indicates that he lives in the township. It is understood Mr. Wickens built a nice home on Elm street in Hough subdivision in 1951 in the City of Plymouth.

Now just where is Joe Wickens living or going to live, or can it be that there is another Joe Wickens in the township who signed the letter?

"Joe" is incorrect in regard to the City of Ypsilanti. Its total tax rate is 85 cents more than that of the City of Plymouth, and this is due entirely to slightly higher school and county taxes. The slum potential at Ypsilanti which Joe mentions, if it exists, is not in the city, but must be in a township. The City of Ypsilanti has annexed only a school site and a fine residential district.

Of course the City of Livonia has its problems. When the township incorporated as a city, it had not city government or capital assets. On the other hand, the City of Plymouth, as an established municipal government has the required equipment and assets for efficient operation.

Country Living Dying

October 17, 1955 Mr. Sterling Eaton, Editor The Plymouth Mail Plymouth, Michigan Dear Mr. Eaton:

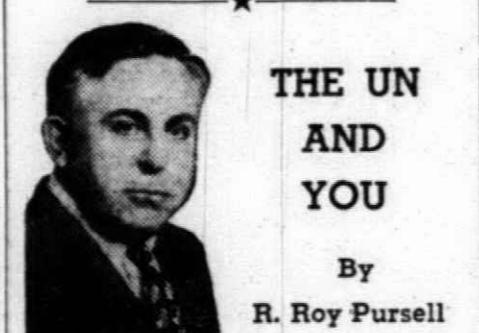

It is interesting to read the view point expressed in the public letter box last week concerning annexation. I would like to express mine.

I think the time is almost past when the Plymouth area can be considered as a place for country living. Some of us already are engulfed by urban developments. Eventually all areas will have subdivisions springing up nearby. We will need and do need better police protection than the sheriff's office can supply — one car for every 70 square miles.

and install its own sewers, which are anticipated to be completed next summer.

It seems to me that one government unit can be more effective than layers of overlapping county, township, Charleston, Plymouth City governments, all of whom necessarily may be involved in authorities for water, sewer, garbage and rubbish disposal, etc. We should plan for the future and for our children. We should not burden them with cumbersome, governmental functions. Streamlining is what we need.

Very truly yours, Scottie Flora

THE UN AND YOU By R. Roy Pursell

Genocide Pact is Un-American Did you know that the Genocide Pact is threatening to replace our law with a new judicial system that could haul you away to a foreign land and jail you in a foreign prison for expressing an opinion? Impossible, do I hear you say? It's closer than you think!

Here is the plot and I hope you will look it squarely in the face for what it is. The truth may make you free but facing up to the truth now may be more important — keeping you free. The gift of freedom is not bestowed by human hands but it can be preserved through them.

The Genocide Pact (defined in Article II of the General Assembly, UN Resolution 96, Dec. 11, 1946) set up international law and courts ABOVE and SUPERCEDING local law. These laws would bind over any citizen of this or any other nation to the alien courts for crimes against any race or religious group "in whole or in part". The aim is to take power from our courts and vest it in the United Nations courts and to give special advantage to racial minorities.

The Genocide Pact makes it a crime to "cause bodily or mental harm to members of" a race or group. Therein lies the gimmick that may send you to a foreign prison and deny you a trial by a jury of your peers — for merely expressing an opinion about kings, Communism, Socialism, Negroes, the Yellow race, Jews, etc.

The fact that the supreme courts of California and Idaho have already used the United Nations Charter to reverse their state's laws against foreign-born Japanese owning real estate; also the US Supreme Court holding 4-4 that the Iowa cemetery agreement barring any but the white race from being buried there, was a violation of the UN Charter, shows the One Worlders are closing in on us fast.

Bar Association Condemns Pact The Carnegie Foundation made a grant to the American Bar Association to study "genocide". When the lawyer's group overwhelmingly condemned the proposed Genocide Pact, the Foundation president complained that the grant had been "misused" by the Bar Association. Our eternal thanks for a job well done should rightly go to the Bar Association. But this is not enough.

Mr. Ernest Gross (then delegate to the UN) signed this pact in Paris on Dec. 11, 1948) so authorized by President Truman. That signing would have to be followed by a Treaty confirmed by the Senate OR a Presidential Agreement which does the same thing but needs NO Senate action. (1,400 Presidential Agreements have been signed since 1940, the contents of which even the Senate is ignorant) COULD the Genocide Pact be one of those 1400?

In debating the Bricker Amendment Mr. Dulles stated it was not intended to protect us from the Genocide Pact as the Administration had no intention of accepting this hideous thing. This assertion quelled the fears of the Senate and the Bricker bill was defeated by one vote.

Soon after that assertion by Dulles, our Ambassador to the UN Mr. Lodge VOTED FOR THE PACT. Why, I rise to inquire? Just WHO is pulling the strings? My guess is that it is someone who wants to silence those who are revealing the menace of Communism. Under the Pact I could be hauled away to a foreign prison for writing this letter — and the Mail's editor for printing it. Freedom of the press always goes before tyranny takes over.

By now 30 nations have signed this pact — but not one has suggested it be applied to Russian persecution of the Baltic minorities. Yet President Truman sent it to the Senate three times and Mr. Lodge has voted for it — so it could be applied to Americans! Our State Department's Summer Brochure No. 23 says: "When and if the world's people set out in an earnest effort to form a World Government, they will find in the UN a logical starting point. . . it is ready to take on a new responsibility at any time."

"The creation of a World Government . . . depends . . . upon the willingness of key countries to surrender certain rights."

What Constitutional rights are YOU willing to surrender? And wouldn't you like to be asked FIRST?

Next week we shall see how the Constitutional rights of all soldiers on foreign soil have ALREADY been signed away and lots of American boys are in foreign prisons sentenced by foreign judges. Watch for "Nato Status of Forces Treaty."

Grange Gleanings

We expect that several of our Grange members are up at Ludington this week enjoying the State Grange. Our own Cinderella among them. We should be able to get some good reports on all the various activities there.

Where were all the officers of our Grange last Thursday night? Substitutes were appointed in the chairs of five of our officers. We hope that will not happen again.

The meeting was in honor of the United Nations 10th anniversary. A film was shown that gave us a little glimpse of what it was all about and we were very happy to have Miss Helen Beavers with us. She gave a very interesting talk on the U.N.

The sewing contest was ended and those who had taken part brought their finished work for display. Some very lovely articles were shown. Miss Helen Farrand was the judge. Prizes were given to Mrs. Alta Morton for pillowcases, Milly Reinas for rugs and Louise Tritten for handkerchiefs with crocheted edge. Next year we hope that more women will compete in the contest.

An especially interesting feature of the last meeting was the exhibition of three beautiful quilts that were pieced by Alfred Morton of Wayne. One was a "Trip Around the World," "The School House" and a "Crazy Quilt" of tiny little pieces. They were beautifully done, the work was really very fine and excited many admiring comments. Mr. Morton has pieced several other quilts besides those he brought.

And now, be sure to come to the November 3 meeting, potluck supper as usual and the lecturer has a program planned. Most important is the Mystery wedding so don't miss it. A real wedding with a preacher and everything. Maybe a wedding cake, who knows?

Mr. and Mrs. Vealy visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk last week Wednesday, found them both feeling fine. Also called on Amy Northrup at her daughter's home in Salem. Not so good.

Those wishing to take out the Blue Cross should make their application now, as the drive closes on November 15. The B. C. secretary has the cards for you to fill out.

PTSA Gathers For U.N. Program

The Parent Teacher Student association will meet Tuesday evening, November 1, from 7:30 to 9 in the Junior high school auditorium.

In commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the United Nations, the meeting will be based upon various phases of the U.N., with Miss Helen Beavers as speaker and moderator of the program.

Miss Beavers will speak on the subject of "What the U.N. Means to Us All." There will also be a short movie, entitled "How the U.N. Works for Us All," and a discussion on "Students Cover Basic Facts Concerning the U.N."

The guest speaker is a graduate of Trinity university in Texas, with post-graduate work taken at Columbia and Union Theological seminary in New York. Miss Beavers was chairman of Plymouth's United Nations 10th Anniversary committee and has visited several sessions of the U.N. in New York. Refreshments will be served at the close of the program.

Wayne Resident Wins Grid Quiz With Only One Wrong Prediction

Just one little upset stood between this week's "Pick-the-Winners" football contest winner and a perfect entry.

Although she was off a mite on her pro game score, Mrs. Shirley Brink, 35635 Hazelwood, Wayne, had every forecast correct except for Georgia's 14-0 surprise over Tulane.

For her near-perfect efforts, Mrs. Brink captured the accompanying ten dollars for the victory and also moved into an elite position among the Mail's grid quiz first-placers.

She's the first adult member of the weaker sex to take top honors. Previously, although a ten-year-old girl won two weeks ago, the other winners were two men and a nine-year-old boy.

Mrs. Brink was all alone in victory. Next closest entry was that of Henry Schwartz, 9144 Brookline, who miscued on the Georgia-Tulane battle and also failed to foresee TCU's win over Miami of Florida. To Schwartz went seven dollars for second place.

In third place, only a short step behind Schwartz, was Robert Bloomhuff, 9092 Ball, who won three dollars on the strength of his prognostications.

Bloomhuff, too, had only a pair of errors, but listed the Rams' victory over Detroit at 34-29 as compared to Schwartz's forecast of a 20-17 result.

The Mail's "Pick-the-Winners" editors made a boo-boo last week and listed Notre Dame as playing both Illinois and Purdue at the same time. Actually Michigan State faced the Illini and Notre Dame took on only the Boilermakers.

Despite the mistake most of the contestants recognized the error and corrected it themselves. The prizes did not hinge on this game, though, so those that forgot to change the name may rest at ease.

Furthermore, after being humbled by a flood of phone calls asking why Notre Dame twice, the editors have been sworn to accuracy in the following grid quizzes.

By coincidence both Mrs. Brink and Schwartz figured the same 20-17 final score between the Lions and Rams. It wound up 24-13 when Los Angeles chased home two fourth-quarter touchdowns to turn back the Detroit club.

Mrs. Brink, who also foresees a new addition to her family come December, was "just shocked" when informed of her victory. She was additionally pleased to win due to the fact that her husband, Irwin, and she compete between each other for the best entry.

Needless to say Irwin did not fare as well as his wife. The ten dollars prize is slated for Christmas shopping, baby clothes or perhaps something for daughter Lynda, 2½. It was the first contest of any sort that Mrs. Brink had won.

With regard to the most recent grid game, entries flooded in to break all existing records of contestants. Among the folded entries appeared three pennies, too.

The contest was fairly easy for the hundreds that tried their skill. Aside from Georgia's loss to Tulane and Ohio State's win over Wisconsin the favorites seemed to rule the roost.

But the series of football quizzes hasn't ended yet. The Mail still has a few bucks around to pass out to the fortunate crystal gazers. So grab up a pencil and try your hand at predictions this week.

Oldsmen Win, Share First In Grid Loop

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Norman Tritten bagged his limit of birds Saturday in easy fashion. He awoke, peered out his bedroom window, sighted a pheasant in his folks' garden at 41840 East Ann Arbor trail. He dressed hurriedly, scooped up his shotgun, raced outside and potted the bird. Fifteen quick minutes later, Norman viewed another cock in the garden. He stepped outside and bagged his second pheasant of the morning. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten, Norman secured his first hunting license this fall.

Sparked by fill-in quarterback Carl Pursell's aerial wizardry, Beglinger Oldsmobile's touch football team edged out the Wayne entry in the touch grid league last Sunday to the tune of 27-20.

The locals, who share first place in the league with Belleville, had to rely on a late minute scoring pass from Pursell to Ken Kisabeth, covering 35 yards to eke out the victory.

The victory continued Beglinger Olds' domination of the league after a short relapse earlier in the season when co-first place holder Belleville edged out the locals. Both clubs have a five-win and one-loss card to date.

Replacing sick Al Waltz, regular quarterback, Pursell hit for three scoring aeriels, one to Ron Ritter and the other two to Kisabeth. Plymouth's other score was notched when Mac Pierce intercepted Wayne pass in his own end zone and raced upfield 100 yards for the tally.

Wayne chased across touchdowns on two long passes to end Wayne Font and one to Bob Pafel, the latter which tied the score and set the stage for Pursell's winning toss in the game's closing seconds.

The first-place deadlock with Belleville will be decided a week from this Sunday when the two teams face each other in a rubber game on the field behind the high school.

Rocks Finish Third in Loop, Trenton First

As a result of its 13-7 loss to Allen Park last Friday, Plymouth high school's varsity football squad slipped to third place on the ladder of Suburban Six league standings, where the locals wind up at the close of loop action this year.

1955 league battling was ended last Friday as the six member teams completed their loop schedules.

Trenton's high-flying Trojans, fourth ranked class "B" prep grid team in the state last week, captured the league crown by virtue of a 34-0 victory over Belleville and an over-all card of five straight wins in the league.

On the second-place rung is Allen Park with a three-win, one-loss and one-tie record for the current campaign. Securing lower division berths are Redford Union with a two-win and three-loss season good for fourth in the league, Belleville with a one-four card in fifth and Bentley in the cellar with a record of no-wins, four-defeats and one tie.

The Rocks, who bowed to Allen Park and Trenton for their two losses this year, earned third place with a three and two card. The Parkers edged Plymouth out of possession of second place by virtue of a tie with Bentley early this season.

Action last Friday, besides Plymouth's loss to the Cougars, included Trenton's continued domination of its league opponents when it swarmed hapless Belleville, 34-0. In addition, Redford Union left Bentley winless in the loop with a 20-13 nod over the Bulldogs.

Final standings in the Suburban Six league are:

Team	won	lost	tied
Trenton	5	0	0
Allen Park	3	1	1*
Plymouth	3	2	0
Redford Union	2	3	0
Belleville	1	4	0
Bentley	0	4	1*

*Denotes tie game by 13-13 score.

Willing to Settle for 7-7 Tie, Plymouth Bows 13-7

Plymouth's gridders, willing to settle for a 7-7 tie with Allen Park last Friday evening, were suddenly forced into submission when the Cougars blocked a punt and capitalized on this break with only 40 seconds of playing time remaining.

Allen Park, barricading Dick Davidson's attempted boot in the final two minutes, recovered the loose pigskin on the Plymouth 38 and proceeded to march to victory in five plays. The pay-off came when Jerry Thome, Allen Park's junior left half, slanted his way 16 yards off tackle into the end-zone.

Plymouth, who had matched the Cougars' savage offense since the onset of the second quarter, was forced down to defeat only moments after electing to kick and then hope to settle for the deadlock.

The loss to the Rocks, their second of the season as against four victories, shoved the locals into third place in the Suburban Six league. All six competing loop elevens wound up their schedules of conference action last week.

Allen Park, displaying a slashing ground-gaining attack throughout the contest, opened things intent upon making the game a total rout of the Rocks. Receiving the initial kick-off, the Cougars slammed their way back up field to score the first time they got hands on the leather.

A sustained 70-yard march, covered in 13 plays earned the visitors a seven point margin with only a portion of the first period gone. Big strikes in this advance was the 35-yard explosion by Dennis Vereb who raced to the Plymouth 25 before the secondary could tag him.

It was Vereb who slammed over his own right tackle slot from two yards out to cash the sustained drive. The conversion was good and with six minutes elapsed, Allen Park enjoyed a quick 7-0 lead.

Taking the ensuing kick on its own 27-yard stripe, Plymouth was so bottled up that three plays could net only two yards and Davidson was forced to kick out of danger. But this time the locals stopped charging Allen Park and the Cougars booted back.

Plymouth made hay this trip and deadlocked the battle at 7-all when lightning-like Kennie Calhoun binned through from the one-yard marker. Highlighting the Rocks' 70-yard approach were Davidson's 20-yard stretch and Calhoun's runs of 15 and 12 yards. But the workhorse was Captain Lindy Mills who earned the toughest yardage on the drive.

Mills banged his way through the Allen Park defensive wall for gains of four, three, four, three, four and three yards, thereby setting up counter sweeps by drawing in the Cougar defensive ends. Calhoun and Davidson served for big gains.

When Davidson converted the extra point, the Rocks had jumped right back in the ball game throwing a new light on the battle. But the stage was being set for Allen Park's uprising in the game's fading seconds. Both teams held possession of the ball three times in the entire opening half of play. Each marched 70 yards for a score and both elevens punted out of difficulty once.

The locals enjoyed one golden opportunity that could have spelled the difference had it been realized. Camped on the Allen Park 20 yard line, Plymouth had sustained a march. The down box read fourth and one to another first down.

Plymouth Quarterback Jackie Carter, attempting a quarterback sneak, bobbled the leather. The ball slid away from him and when he hopped on it finally he was still short of a first down. Allen Park took over, stalling any threat.

In the third period the Rocks monopolized the attack and again threatened the Cougars' goal, but failed to score when Davidson let a completed pass from Carter slip out of his arms on the AP five. The Cougars recovered and stopped any further challenges the Rocks offered.

With a minute and forty seconds left in the contest, the Rocks had stalled out on their own 45 yard stripe. Davidson, back to kick, was given little protection and a charging AP lineman smothered the boot.

Recovering on the Plymouth 35, Allen Park battled the Plymouth defense and the fast-moving clock in order to eke out the win. The Rocks, throwing up an eight-man defensive line to stop the stubborn Cougar backs, were duck-soup once the AP attack got through the forward wall and into the slender Plymouth secondary.

It was Allen Park's third victory against one loss and a tie in league competition. The win boosted the Cougars past the Rocks for possession of second place in the completed league play. Trenton, with five straight loop wins, captured the 1955 crown.

Despite the fact that Allen Park ground out 269 yards rushing, it failed to threaten the Plymouth goal other than the two times it scored, although once the Rocks recovered an AP fumble in their own end-zone that stopped a challenge.

The ball was moved out to the Plymouth 20, where the locals took over. But they, too, were unable to move anywhere and were forced to kick.

Plymouth head coach John Hoben described the game as the hardest fought battle since he took over the reins at the local school this fall. He said that the mechanics of the contest were the best exhibited yet by the Rocks.

The locals marched a total of 156 yards on the ground and added 36 more yards through the air lanes on the aerial completions of Carter, who connected on three tries out of seven attempts.

Statistics on the Allen Park-Plymouth battle are as follows:

Plymouth	Allen Park
10	first downs	0
156	yards rushing	269
36	yards passing	0
192	total yardage	269
3	fumbles	4
4	fumbles recovered	3
7	passes attempted	3
3	passes completed	0
0	passes intercepted	0

Locals End Home Stand Tomorrow

In its final home contest of the current football season Plymouth hosts the Garden City gridders tomorrow evening on the gridiron behind the high school. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

The Rocks, who bowed to Allen Park last Friday, 13-7, will be trying for their fifth win of the year as against two defeats when the two teams take the field tomorrow.

Previously the locals defeated Northville, Belleville, Bentley and Redford Union in grid action this campaign, while falling victims to the powerful Trenton Trojans and Allen Park.

Walled Lake high school will furnish the Rocks with their final opponents of the 1955 year the following Friday evening. Both Garden City and Walled Lake are non-league contests.

Electric power demands of atomic energy installations is expected to reach 61,760,000,000 kilowatt hours by 1958 and 80 percent of this energy will be generated by coal.

Trenton Maintains Rank Of 4th "B" Prep Eleven

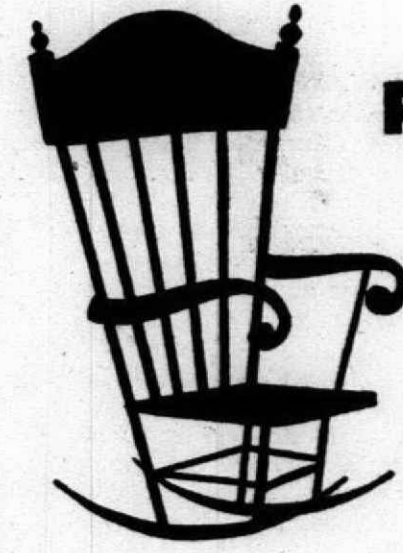

Trenton's Suburban Six league football team maintained its hold on fourth place in the Detroit Free Press's weekly class "B" prep grid poll this week by virtue of a 34-0 pasting of Belleville Friday evening.

The victory over hapless Belleville enabled the Trojans to stretch their win streak this season to six straight and at the same time made them Suburban Six league champs.

Plymouth, which wound up third in the loop, suffered an 18-7 defeat at the hands of Trenton earlier this fall when the Trojans arose to score two fourth-period touchdowns.

Dayton, Ohio, and its suburbs have produced 17,000,000 refrigeration units, including air conditioners since 1921.

Chips from the ROCK

Plymouth will host some thirty television experts this weekend at The Mayflower Hotel while the entire crew, who will televise the Michigan-Iowa color football game of the week, make this their headquarters.

The Mail's rambling photographer has always been lucky in snapping a picture of Daisy purchasing agent Floyd Reddeman in some unusual hunting position, and if his camera had been loaded the afternoon of the opening day he well might have had another. After a bag-less day, hunter Reddeman sat on the side of a hill to pass a few remarks to the cameraman to have a big cock pheasant sail not six feet over his head.

Two local brothers enjoyed pheasant dinners this week and both secured his bird without firing a shot. Returning from St. Joseph Hospital where he was making a second visit to see his new baby daughter a frustrated cock flew into the windshield of Chester Jendrycka's car. On Sunday, brother Walter, returning from Plymouth to his home in Livonia, had a similar experience with a bird that sailed into the side of his flashy Pontiac and provided the main course for Tuesday night's supper.

It usually takes a few Detroit hunters to bring up some unusual bags each year such as two or three of the farmers chickens, ducks or a cow or two, but this local farmer added his own oddity to the season. Robert Nichols of 7919 Ridge Road included in his Sunday bag, along with a nice cock pheasant, a 20 inch diamondback rattle snake which rattled a few inches in front of the hunter's gun. Hunting with Nichols were Arthur Novak and his son Dareld of Detroit.

Few are the men who would be devoted enough to do what Alex Gran, 9669 Gold Arbor, did one night last week. It was scheduled to frost Thursday night and Alex was to stop at Riverside Cemetery on his way home from work to cover potted plants on his father-in-law's grave. At midnight, Mrs. Gran asked about the plant and he confessed that he had forgotten to fulfill his job.

Getting out of bed and putting on a few clothes over his pajamas, Alex drove out to the cemetery during the cold and dark night and performed the task. On his way out of the cemetery a police car spotlight picked out Alex and he was confronted with the embarrassing question of what he was doing there at that hour. Needless to say, it took some explaining but patrolmen soon understood the situation and advised him that he had better get home and get a bathrobe on.

It would be interesting to take a poll among our male readers to see how many would travel to the cemetery at midnight to save a plant. In fact, how many wives would dare suggest it to their husbands?

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"A month ago there was an article in a national magazine which advocated that citizens voluntarily turn in their firearms because there are so many people killed and injured accidentally and because guns are too convenient for criminal use. Some people claim they need guns for protection against burglars. Do you think firearms should be surrendered by the public?"

FRED BECKER, Novi: "I believe that most firearms are registered for control, but there may be something to that idea. We have a family of four and I have never encouraged firearms in the home. If it would cut down crime, I would be for the idea."

SEVEREN FRANCIS, 9461 Brookline: "I think that they should turn them in. If you have kids, they will get into the guns sooner or later. People should leave it up to the police department to take care of the burglars. I do believe that guns get into wrong hands too often."

MRS. EDWIN REBER, 399 Auburn: "I'm afraid of them because of the children around home. I'd say turn them in. We don't have any in our home. As for burglars, they have guns too."

MRS. STANLEY HOUGH, 40106 Gilbert: "People who have them certainly should be more careful about keeping them out of the reach of children. We never have one in our home. I don't say that I would have them turned in but guns are a temptation. Gangsters can always get hold of them somehow. In England (her native land) policemen never carry guns, so few burglars do. It is a stiffer sentence if a burglar is caught carrying a gun."

WHAT 100 NEW FACTORY WORKERS MEANT TO THEIR COMMUNITY

296 more people	112 more households	51 more school children	$590,000 more personal income per year
$270,000 more bank deposits	107 more passenger cars registered	174 more workers employed	$360,000 more retail sales per year

This illustration taken from a national Chamber of Commerce magazine points out what a factory employing 100 can do for a community. The proposed Western Electric plant will employ 600.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday voters in the city and the township will go to the polls to determine three distinct issues. Though the results of the elections in each of our two municipalities will not completely change our way of life, regardless of their outcome, each are important to the future growth of this community.

We are not naive enough to think for one minute that this item will change your vote or anyone else's but we are compelled, however, to do two things. First, we must encourage every resident of our city and our township to cast their ballot at their regular polling place sometime during the day. If you don't vote, your own opinion will have no further value.

Secondly, we would like to go on record on the items as they will appear on the ballots and project our thoughts on each of them.

In the city, residents will have two proposals on which to vote. First is "Parcel A" which deals with the annexation of the entire township to the city of Plymouth. If, for no other reason than to show their township neighbors that they are decidedly interested in making this one progressive overall community, they should most certainly cast an affirmative, YES vote.

City residents should also cast an affirmative YES vote on "Parcel B", which deals only with the annexation of the Cassidy farm to the city proper. Only city residents and the Cassidy's themselves can vote on this specific question and this is the question, if passed, which will assure this city of a giant new industry, namely Western Electric, which will be erected on this site only if they are assured of Plymouth city water and sewers by your vote.

As we have stated before we are convinced that consolidation of the township and city is inevitable. If the area is to grow, and we know it will in spite of our actions today, master planning concerning the overall area is a must.

Former Supervisor Charles Rathbun made the same statement, and so has Supervisor Roy Lindsay. The question now resolves itself as to timing and perhaps a technicality regarding the sale of spirits if the township were to be annexed. It is our firm belief that the two fine eating places so affected should not be penalized because of a technicality arising on an issue entirely apart from the question at hand. Certainly their future operation should not be subject to speculation.

Whether the residents vote affirmatively now or not, the day is not far off when all traces of our former village existence will be lost. People will continue to move into the area, industry will locate close at hand and urban life will be a reality for all. This we cannot change, and it is for this reason that we should make it possible now for unified efforts on the development of water and sewer systems, etc. Demands for more services are bound to grow in the township as the days go by and taxes cannot remain at their present day levels no matter how much sacrifice is made.

We can only say in our own judgment consolidation should come now; what will happen depends on you the voters. In any case, if township residents feel the time is not now at hand, they of course will reject the proposal as well they may. It still remains in the hands of city voters to bring Western Electric to Plymouth and if this community is to have some 600 new jobs for our residents and some hundreds of thousands of tax revenue dollars it will take a majority of YES votes on Tuesday.

Washington Quiz

- Q—Is the support program for wool the same thing as the so-called Brannan Plan?
A—Yes, it is basically the same. Wool growers sell their product on the market in competition with imported wool. Then the Government pays them the difference to make a full parity return. The Brannan plan contemplated farmers selling their product on the open market at competitive prices, with the government making up the difference in direct payments for full parity.
- Q—Is the date now observed for Thanksgiving the traditional date?
A—No. There may be variations from tradition which set Thanksgiving as the last Thursday in November. In 1941, the Congress passed an act requiring the Federal Government to observe the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day. The fourth Thursday may not always be the last Thursday.
- Q—Also is there a nation-wide date set for Memorial Day?
A—No. In the north, most states observe May 30 as Memorial Day, the practice originating with Gen. John A. Logan in 1868. However in Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi, April 26 is Memorial Day. In North and South Carolina the date is May 10. In Kentucky, Louisiana and Tennessee, June 3.
- Q—How and why was the Eagle chosen as our national emblem?
A—The Continental Congress adopted the American bald Eagle as the national emblem on June 20, 1782. Many ancient nations chose the Eagle as symbolic of grandeur, sublimity, vigilance and courage. At the meeting, William Barton, a Philadelphian, insisted on a crested Eagle which is not found in the U. S. Benjamin Franklin recommended a turkey as the emblem. Final choice was the American bald eagle.
- Q—How many presidents have died in office?
A—Seven. William Henry Harrison, Taylor, Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, Harding and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Only two—Harrison and Taylor died in the White House.

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. The infringement of this right, whether by government or by groups, or by individuals, no matter in what small measure it may begin, will lead to tyranny and the death of liberty.

Republicans Chasing Hare All Over 14-Step Program

Political embarrassments have been taking the play away from the campaign to improve the chances for long life for those who drive cars on Michigan highways.

It's been a hectic autumn for Secretary of State James M. Hare. He proposed his "14 steps to highway safety" at a point when the public was generally concerned about the slaughter on the highways.

"This has got to be non-political," he said. Insiders figured Hare was sincere in his proposals. Many of them had been projects of Republican legislators in the past, but Hare had them in a package attractive enough to sell.

It contained a proposal for a state system of driver license examiners, supplanting local officers who for years have issued licenses.

Sheriffs, under fire before from reformers who believed a politician could never adequately enforce the law, were incensed.

At a meeting in the capitol, they pinned Hare's ears back, demanding that he prove that incompetence in licensing was killing people on the highways.

Hare worked for weeks and came up with statistics to prove the sheriffs and other local officers were ill-trained for issuing licenses to hurl a three-ton projectile across the highways.

At a second meeting with the sheriffs, Hare had them on the run with his statistics, case histories. His point was that with state control, Michigan would have better — or fewer — drivers.

At this point, Sheriff Ferris E. Lucas, secretary of the Michigan Sheriff's Association, said: "Maybe the state officials, too, have been doing out favors for their friends in licensing."

Sidney Woolner, Hare's deputy, insisted on proof and Lucas slowly pulled out of his pocket a photostatic copy of an order to report for a license hearing that was ignored.

It bore the name of Thomas M. Kavanagh, of Carson City, who now is the state's attorney-general, the chief law officer in Michigan.

Hare immediately ordered an investigation, another examination for Kavanagh. Republican politicians leaped on the episode, promising that Hare's program would be junked.

Hare was embarrassed.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Decker-ville) said that "in view of the disclosures of Kavanagh's driving record, you can be sure that Hare's program will never be enacted."

He admitted that Kavanagh was only one of 3,000,000 drivers in Michigan. Others said it would

Honesty Key to Success In Public Relations Job

Babson Park, Mass. — Yes, it is the old misnamed "public relations" job which is fast being built up into a new and distinctive "human relations" profession. Furthermore, it is open to both men and women — yes, even to "shut-ins." I forecast it is headed for a brilliant future.

Why A New Profession? Many lawyers are being used as "public relations" men; but it is not a work for lawyers. You yourself know that a lawyer's letterhead scares you! It is indicative of force. A good human relations man or woman cannot use force or, directly or indirectly, threaten. I may be wrong, but in my opinion, to be most successful a human relations expert should not be a lawyer and should never have taken a case to court.

Unfortunately, human relations work has got mixed up with advertising. Although I am a great believer in wise advertising, — yet it must be open and above-board. It must not be any part of secret propaganda. The human relations expert, whether man or woman, should frankly state he or she is in the employ, at the time, of certain corporations (one or more). But the terms "public" or "human" relations need not appear on his letterhead. If the corporation's letterhead is used, no reference should be made to a Public Relations Department or to such an office as "Vice President in charge of Public Relations." In fact, the terms should be avoided at all times in any public way.

Fundamental Rules For Success

1. Always be honest. 2. Handle cases only in the community in which you live and are known to be a person of excellent character and in which, preferably, you are connected with some church.
3. Avoid threatening, bribing, or being party to ultimatums. In case of labor troubles, "keep the ball in the air," so to speak. Unless a fire is constantly fed with fuel, it ultimately goes out.
4. Avoid using the words "never" or "always."
5. To use a slang phrase, a good public relations person will not "attempt to tell a father how to raise his children."
6. Avoid writing letters, except to the corporation which you are serving. Keep all work very informal and personal, without a secretary or other go-between.

To succeed in this new profession, a person must be patient, starting with only one corporation as a client; but the person MUST know more about said corporation than anyone else in the community. Of course this takes time, patience, and prayer; but think of the time and money which one who is training to be a doctor must spend before he gets his first patient. On the other hand, such a public relations man needs no office; but can operate from his home; in fact, an office might be a handicap. The work should be done either by telephone or through personal talks. Every such person should be a careful reader and indexer of the local newspaper and get the friendship of all local merchants.

Work Should be Informal. It does not harm and perhaps may help such persons to do other things for a corporation client, also. I, however, cannot overemphasize the importance of absolute integrity and the recognition by the entire community — bankers, merchants, labor leaders, and wageworkers — that you stand for such. As for income, your fee for each case must depend on the time consumed and the results achieved. I should say that these fees might run from $100 to $5,000. But let the corporation determine the fee. Your task is to have every one connected with the problem satisfied with the outcome.

The public relations group have a monthly publication called "Public Relations Journal." Several text books are available to those desiring to read about this new profession. The Babson Institute has none of these books for sale; but it has a course of study which helps men prepare for such work. Unfortunately its classes for 1955-56 are full and no more applicants can now be taken. Prof. Bertrand R. Canfield is at the head of the Department. Any reader may feel free to write him for a list of books on the subject, including one written by himself. Just address him at Babson Institute, Babson Park 57, Mass.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

"Supper Pie" Makes Tasty Family Dish

A delicious suggestion for the family dinner menu is "Supper Pie" recommended by Mrs. Cecil D. Packard of 1465 Penniman avenue.

This tasty dish can be whipped up in a jiffy and offers a nice variation along the line of ground beef recipes. The sprinkling of parsley and paprika on the top crust adds an attractive and colorful touch for table serving.

Here's the procedure for making Mrs. Packard's favorite recipe:

- Supper Pie (Serves 6)
1½ pounds of ground beef
4 tablespoons of minced onion
2 tablespoons of parsley
1 teaspoon of salt
1 tablespoon of chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons of olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons of flour
1 10½-ounce can of concentrated tomato soup.

Brown beef and onion in frying pan with oil. Add all above ingredients. Mix well. Line pie tin with your favorite pie crust. Add above mix. Top with crust as for any pie. Vent. Sprinkle with parsley and paprika. Bake one hour in 375-degree oven. Serve hot wedges with catsup.

Garry, 14, provides an audience of one as Mrs. Cecil Packard readies the top crust for her "Supper Pie."

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

The date has been set for the Legislative rally, sponsored by the Legislative committee of our Auxiliary, for Monday, November 21, at the Post hall at 8 p.m. Congresswoman Martha Griffiths will be the speaker for the evening. We would like to invite everyone interested in what is happening in Washington to benefit the veterans and also every veteran's organization in Plymouth and surrounding territories to attend this meeting. Further details will be announced at a later date!

Jeanette Thomas has been in Detroit Osteopathic hospital again for surgery on her back. We sincerely hope this will be the last time she is hospitalized. Get well soon, Jeanette!

Our Auxiliary made a trip to the Veteran's hospital in Ann Arbor on Monday, October 17, with the following girls attending: Lucinda Archer, Beatrice Walton, Loretta Young, Helen Bowring, Hilda Rorabacher and Marie Norman. They visited over 250 patients, some of which were former TB patients at Maybury. They gave out over 22 cartons of cigarettes, and every girl returned home well pleased with the way the patients accepted their efforts. Another National Hospital trip will be on Sunday, November 13!

After our next regular business meeting on Tuesday, November 1, Helen Bowring and her membership committee have planned a membership card party. Our 1956 dues are coming in very nicely, but we still need 100 per cent, so please send your dues to Treasurer Marion Dickie or Helen Bowring!

The Post is planning a "wing-ding" Halloween crowd at their Halloween Dance on Saturday, October 29. Hope you're planning on attending! We'd like to have you come in costume, but you are very much welcome even if you don't! Hope to see you there!

Our Auxiliary has purchased an American outdoor flag for the Cherry Hill school, and also a flag and the staff for the Brownie troop No. 18 of the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the Youth Activities committee.

Last, but not least, we want to remind everyone of our big Smorgasbord dinner to be held on Sunday, November 6, at the Post hall. We have plans all completed for the dinner and now we urge all members to get out and sell as many tickets as you can. Call Marion Dickie at 886 for dinner reservations for the hours, 1 thru 5 p.m. We are not distributing tickets in the mail to every member. Instead we are asking you to determine the reservation hours and to pick up the tickets from your ticket chairman! We are planning on serving approximately 130 dinners for each hour so there will be just as much food left at 5 o'clock as at 1. So let's get out and advertise this affair as it is always one of our largest functions of the year!

As a rule, those who never have to hustle for a living fail to appreciate the value of a dollar, or ten cents.

Set A Pretty Table For Pretty Manners

If you're trying to teach your youngster pretty table manners, set a pretty table! For how can Junior learn proper manners if the table setting is helter-skelter, and half the essential "tools" are missing? With all the new and inexpensive items available, you can arrange even his simple everyday lunch in an attractive "company" setting — with no additional effort or upkeep required.

The new plastic tablecloths and plastic place mats make a pretty background, and come clean with the wipe of a sudsy sponge; or a well-sudsed soft brush may be used if the surface is textured. Plastic dinnerware is another smart table topic. Recently improved functionally as well as style-wise, it's more resistant to food and acid stains, resists scratches, won't chip, and can be washed safely in the hot, hot soapsuds required to keep dishes sanitary. And don't overlook the virtues of stainless steel flatware that needs only simple sudsing, never polishing. Remember, too, that "linen" napkins are one of the little luxuries of a well-mannered table. They don't even have to be real linen; there are many fabrics that suds in a second and smooth out with the quick slick of an iron. So set a pretty table, promote good manners, and save time, too!

Extra Care Due Fur-Like Fabrics

Fur-like fabrics seen in so many of the new fall and winter coats are really orlon-dynel pile materials.

The fabric, which is on some yard goods counters, resembles sheared beaver or a high quality mouton, describes a clothing specialist. But it is entirely new and is not intended to be a substitute for fur, she declares.

The coats are available in full length,  $\frac{3}{4}$  length and shortie styles and come in color tones of beige, grey, brown and black. There are two types of fur-like fabrics in the orlon-dynel combination, explains the specialist. One has a knitted back; the other a woven back. The pile of the knitted back fabric is 65 per cent orlon and 35 percent dynel, and the backing is 100 per cent dynel. She describes the material as strikingly different with a deep rich pile and very light in weight. Because of dynel's extreme sensitivity to heat, the fabric should receive special care. She suggests that when such a garment is taken to be cleaned, the dry cleaner should be told the fiber content. Manufacturers advise a fur cleaning method to be used in the care of the orlon-dynel coats.

Another precaution given by the specialist is not to brush or try to smooth the pile of the fur-like fabric when it is wet or damp.

To bring honey which may have crystallized back to the liquid form, food specialists suggest placing the container in a pan of warm water until the crystals disappear. If further heating is necessary, set the container of honey on a rack off the bottom of the pan and set the pan over a low heat. Too much heat may cause flavor and color change in honey.

Cleaning Hints For Utensils

If you want to keep your cast iron utensils "seasoned" use only soap for washing them. If you regularly use a detergent for dish washing, keep some soap powder in a shaker top container to use on cast iron.

Scouring powder removes many stains from the sink, but yellowish discolorations must be bleached off. Sprinkle bleach over the sink and let stand for a while before rinsing off. Liquid or powdered bleaches may be used.

Save yourself a lot in cleaning time by putting the broiler pan to soak right after you take food from it. By the time you're ready to wash, the pan will be soaked almost clean.

Remember to grease casseroles before you put food in them to bake. Food doesn't stick to utensils which are greased, and this will save washing and scraping.

Color brings light into a room. The ceiling is usually made lightest in color so that it will reflect light. White, tinted with a little of the wall color, ties the ceiling to the color scheme. White alone may make the contrast too strong say specialists.

EASY DOES IT — Lounging clothes have gone glamorous, and these slippers, adorned with sequins and small glass beads, are right in step. As comfortable to wear as they are lovely to see, the slippers give ample protection against chills and drafts because they are built up high on the sides and instep. To assure a snug fit, elastic is drawn through stitches around the top. Directions for crocheting these AT EASE SLIPPERS are given for small, medium and large sizes. If you would like a copy, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. PC-7554.

Hamburger - Doughnut Combo, "Natural" for Halloween Party

Ask a teenager what to plan for a Halloween party and chances are they'll say, "Food!" And hamburgers and doughnuts are "naturals" for a party.

Watch your "blue jean" set go for a big platter of hamburgers with all the trimmings. Let each one take his choice by making some hamburgers stuffed with onion, some with grated American cheese, and others with bleu cheese. Cut small pumpkin shapes from orange paper, label them with the hamburger flavors and pin them to the hamburgers with wooden picks.

Cinnamon-Orange Doughnuts take on two party personalities when you roll half of them in the cinnamon-sugar mixture and frost the others with an orange-cinnamon icing.

To prepare orange-cinnamon icing, moisten confectioners' sugar with orange juice, then add a little cinnamon. Have the icing of thin consistency so it will be as a glaze on the doughnuts.

Cinnamon-Orange Doughnuts
4 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon baking soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lard
2 eggs, beaten
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup sugar
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
 $\frac{3}{4}$  cup orange juice
Lard for deep-fat frying
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup sugar

Sift flour with baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream thoroughly the lard and  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup sugar. Add the well-beaten eggs

Two new chemicals that could be superior raw materials for manufacturing cortisone have been discovered in the tubers of a rare Mexican yam by U. S. Department of Agriculture researchers. Cortisone is widely used in the treatment of arthritis.

Save your energy by sitting instead of standing whenever you can. Sit to pare vegetables, do dishes and iron.

Plan Talks On Sewing Technique

Do new fabrics and finishes require new methods of sewing? Do they make our work easier, or add to our problems?

Home Demonstration groups of Wayne county are looking forward to finding some answers to these questions.

Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne county Home Demonstration agent, announces that leaders of these groups will meet according to the following schedule for a lesson on "Sewing on Today's Fabrics."

Taylor Center, St. Paul's Evangelical church — Thursday, November 3, 9:30-3:00; Flat Rock Congregational church — Tuesday, November 8, 9:15-2:45; Harper Woods Library — Wednesday, November 9, 9:30-3:00;

Belleville groups at Wayne Extension office — Thursday, November 10, 9:15-2:45; Northville Library — Friday, November 11, 9:30-3:00; Wayne groups at Wayne Extension office — Tuesday, November 15, 9:15-2:45.

The first meeting will be conducted by Miss Florence Rann, clothing specialist from Michigan State university. The County Demonstration agent will conduct the remaining sessions.

New fabrics may require new sewing methods. Rules and techniques for sewing on fabrics of man-made fibers or fabrics treated with special finishes will be discussed and demonstrated at this meeting.

Rice is offered in the grocery stores in many forms. Regular polished white rice has the hull, bran and germ removed. Brown rice has a nutty flavor and more nutrients than white rice. With only the hull removed, brown rice doesn't keep as well and needs longer cooking time. Converted rice is regular white rice with B vitamins and minerals retained. Precoked rice is partially cooked before packaging, thus saving home cooking time.

Bulletin Offers Tips On Game Preparation

Want to know how the experts would prepare Hunter Hubby's pheasant or duck for a tasty treat?

The answers are in a bulletin, "Good Eating From Woods and Fields." It's free from county extension office. It tells about various tested methods of preparing pheasant, rabbit, grouse, wild duck, muskrats and other wild animals.

The publication, Extension Bulletin 252, was prepared jointly by Michigan State university and the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Be Particular About Comfort Results When You Buy Your Heating System

Wintertime comfort cannot be enjoyed in a house if: (1) the floors are cold, (2) there are drafts or perceptible movements of cold air in any part of the living area, (3) floor-to-sitting level temperatures vary more than five degrees, and floor-to-ceiling temperatures more than eight degrees and (4) if cold air can get into the house, or if inside air is chilled by cold walls and windows.

You may have suspected this as a result of having experienced some or all of these discomforting conditions in your own home. Now your suspicions are being substantiated by the heating engineers themselves.

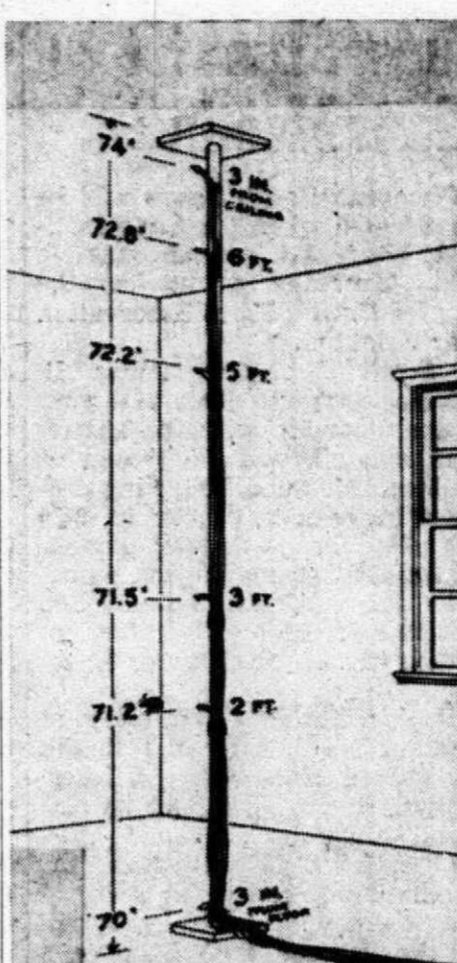

As a result of continuous testing in lived-in homes, research engineers of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association point the accusing finger at these four conditions as being prime evidences of a house that is not comfortably heated.

In fact, the formula for heat system comfort performance which they have prepared specifies that the modern warm air winter air conditioning systems can lick all these four flaws as well as several others which generally upset complete comfort enjoyment.

These engineers go so far as to recommend to householders who want modern, all-round comfort—something other than drafts on the ankles, flushes on the face, and shivers on the shoulder blades—that they demand full heating performance from the heating system which they may have installed in their houses some day.

The home owner who is negotiating for the installation of a heating system, says the Association, should score its merits as a comfort producer on the answers to the following questions which he gets from the heating contractor:

1. How warm will the floors be? A good comfort system will keep floor temperatures within two degrees of the thermostat setting.
2. Will the home be drafty? If the system is adjusted for Continuous Air Circulation, air in the house will be circulated continuously, but at a rate that is imperceptible to occupants.
3. Will there be a blanket of cold air on the floor? There will not be if the warm air registers are located at the base of the outside walls, under the windows.
4. Will the system produce a dollar's worth of comfort out of the heater and its fuel? It will, if the difference between floor and ceiling temperatures is not over 4½ degrees when the outdoor temperature is a 30, or eight degrees when the outdoor temperature is zero.
5. Will it eliminate stagnant air? Continuous circulation of air prevents formation of those unpleasant odor pockets of stale tobacco smoke, dank snow or rain-soaked clothes, slept-in scents.
6. Will temperatures in room corners be the same as in the center of the room and temperatures be the same from room to room? A well-designed modern warm air system can provide uniform heating throughout the house.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-352

DESIGN C-352. This plan will fit equally well on a narrow inside lot or on a corner lot. Considering the area, all rooms are good sized with plenty of closets and excellent wall space.

The kitchen, which also provides a fine dining space, is located in front, leaving three large bedrooms and the bath grouped around a small hall. There is a full basement, covered front entrance, vestibule, brick planter and picture windows. Finish includes siding or wood shingles on frame construction with asphalt shingles. High windows in the rear add to available wall space. Floor area is 1052 square feet; cubage is 19,988 cubic feet, including basement. For further information about DESIGN C-352, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Regular Heat System Maintenance Assures Continued Home Comfort

Wise home owners do not neglect heating system any more than they would buy an automobile, padlock the engine hood and expect perfect performance for 10 or 20 years.

Modern—or modernized—home heating systems can now deliver solid comfort during the entire heating season. They don't need as much attention as do automobiles, though heating systems work more hours during the winter. However, furnaces need annual check-ups if they are to provide the most comfort for the good dollars.

Now is a good time to think about your furnace. Is it giving the exact kind of comfort performance you want?

If not, it can be made to do so. Now, when you can easily get the answer, is the time to ask yourself: "Am I getting as much comfort out of my heating system as I am paying for?"

Today, any home can be heated comfortably in ALL rooms. There is no longer any need to endure cold floors or cold drafts while waiting for spring.

There should be no need to move chairs and davenport to inside walls in winter, because of any chilled areas along outside walls.

Indoor temperatures should remain constant, hour after hour, regardless of whether the sun shines or the day is cloudy. There should be no hot rooms when the house is too hot or too cold.

No matter which way the winds may blow, your home should be comfortable.

Research and experience have provided furnace-firm heating engineers with know-how, equipment and materials to beat any heating problem. (Often it is just a matter of balancing heat flow to the different rooms.)

If the heating system is designed to fit the house, Mother does not have to worry about babies playing on the floor or the foot of the stairway. Mother, herself, can enjoy television without tucking her feet under her because of cold-floor draft.

If the system is doing a modern job of heating, there need never be a feeling that the air is "too dry" or "too stuffy". There need never be any lingering tobacco smoke or cooking odors left in the house the "morning after the night before." No need for dirt streaks on walls around warm air registers, either.

All such discomfort factors are outmoded experiences in the light of present-day heating standards. Ways to overcome them are known and are in practice, according to spokesmen for the warm air heating industry. Accredited furnace dealers know what to do.

You don't have to be a furnace nursemaid. You don't have to get up early in the morning to feed the furnace. No need to worry about coming home to a cold house after having been away for a few hours or a few days.

The furnace of today does its job automatically. It turns itself on and off as required. It serves as its own policeman, with safeguards against overheating.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: We have a flat roof over a garage which we would like to convert to a sundeck. The roof material will not permit walking on without leaking. The deck is 8x28 feet and has a 5 inch fall in 8 feet. Have heard about canvas, painted and glued to the roof; also about aluminum. What would be the best and most economical?

Answer: That might be a sharp slope for comfortable walking over. Usual slope is ¼ inch per foot. An economical decking, one that would overcome that slope, and also protect the softer roofing beneath would be a system of "duck walks." These consist of small individual platforms, about three feet square, composed of a series of 1x2 or 1x3 slats nailed to cleats on the underside. Slat are spaced ½ inch apart for drainage. Platforms are laid side by side to entirely cover the roof. Another method, more expensive, would be to cover your roof with waterproof plywood, then cover it with fiberglass and the dope used to apply this material to boat hulls. Can be painted with deck paint to suit your color taste. If you use canvas, it is applied over waterproof plywood which is first painted with lead paste and the canvas rolled into the paste. Add another coat of lead paste, let dry, then varnish with spar varnish. You have to renew the varnish every few years.

Question: Can you tell me what causes my varnished living room floor to chip? I removed the old varnish, washed with turpentine, then put on 1 coat of shellac and three of very varnish.

Answer: Shellac is the trouble was in the shellac coat. Unless thinned at least 50 per cent when obtained in a 4 or 5 pound cut, shellac becomes brittle and cracks and this defect would likewise cause the varnish over it to crack. You'd do better to apply two coats of thinned shellac, then the varnish.

Question: I recently purchased a lake-side cottage, no basement, resting on 15 cement block pillars along the sides and through the center. One side of the cottage has settled about 4 to 6 inches. How can I even up the floor without cracking the plaster of the walls?

Answer: If the plaster of the house was applied after the house settled, or if cracks in the plaster resulting from such settling have been fully patched, then there isn't much hope of raising the floor without damage to the walls. However, that much settling indicates a serious condition, and we'd advise going ahead with blocking up the cottage regardless of wall injury. Your footing has probably been undermined on one side and should be attended to. Try cutting a groove—easily patched later—along the ceiling-wall joints, and vertically in room corners, and you will reduce the damage considerably. The wall of the low side should not be damaged at all, and adjacent side walls only slightly.

Question: I have a shower with a cement floor. This cement extends up the sides 12 inches, and above that I have Congo-Wall. The cement gets grimy and is hard to clean. Would it be a good idea to paint this cement, or is there some cement coating I can put on it?

Answer: Regardless of what you apply later, first scour the cement with strong lye or ammonia to remove all grease and removable dirt. Let dry thoroughly. Then you may apply one of the following: ceramic tiles in a thin cement mixture, metal or plastic tiles set in a waterproof mastic, liquid rubber paint, phenolic resin (plastic) paint. No ordinary paint will stand up well under the constant action of hot and cold water and soap. The above mentioned products will.

HERE'S HOW . . . MAKE CLOSET DOOR SHELVES

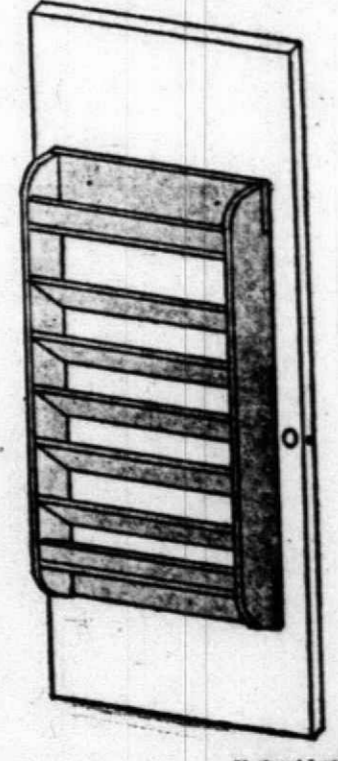

Handy door shelves are also space savers.

The shelf frame is 50 inches long; its width depends upon the width of the door. Use 1-inch or ¾-inch lumber for all parts.

The sides and back supports are 5½ inches wide, fastened with glue and No. 10 flathead wood screws, 1½ inches long.

Mark the positions of the shelves and fasten them in place with glue and 6-penny finishing nails. Fit them flush with the back of the frame, and bevel the front of the slanting shelves with a block plane after the glue has set. Add a 2½-inch lip to each horizontal shelf.

Finish the shelves to match the door, and fasten the top member of the frame to the door with flathead wood screws.

Former Local Banker Gets West Coast Job

Raymond J. Williams, former vice-president of the United Savings Bank of Plymouth, has been named as manager of the Lompoc, California branch of the Security-First National bank.

Williams was vice-president of the United Savings bank here from 1946 to 1951. He moved to California in October 15 where he became associated with Security-First National the following month as a loan department assistant on the placement staff. He was transferred to Vista, California in February 1952 and was elected an assistant manager there the following June.

The former Plymouthite is a member of the Visalia Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife, Gladys, have five children. Before coming to Plymouth he was assistant cashier at the First National Bank of Lapeer and cashier of the People's State Bank in Belleville.

Social Security Question Column

The Plymouth Mail is continuing its service of answering questions on Social Security. Readers may send their social security question to the Mail. The full name and address should be included, although only initials will be used for this column.

1. My mother will be 65 soon. She has been a widow since 1935. What must she do to get Social Security? E. G.

Answer: Your mother is not entitled to receive any Social Security payments as your father died before the enactment of the Social Security law. Payments cannot be made to survivors of anyone who died before December 31, 1939.

2. If I earn $1,300 this year, will I lose all of my social security checks? H. I.

Answer: No, you are not entitled to payments for two months of the year. You should notify the Social Security office promptly that you expect to earn over $1,200 for the year.

3. I am unable to work because of a bad heart. I thought I was able to get social security payments because I filed a freeze claim several months ago. When do I get these checks? A. R.

Answer: Payments are not made to any worker who is not age 65 or over. Your disability freeze application protects your benefit rate during the period you are unable to work.

4. I cannot get a birth certificate. All the records were burned in the town where I was born. How can I claim my Social Security without a birth certificate to prove that I am 65? L. L.

Answer: There are many good documents that are acceptable for proof of age. Go to the Social Security office for a list of the types of documents which can be used to prove your date of birth.

Lesson Finally Learned

The word "gotten" was the professor's pet abomination, but one of the students persisted in using it. The instructor hoped the boy would learn better. He did, but it was many years later.

It happened when the one-time student dispatched a telegram to his wife, reading: "Have gotten tickets for the show tonight." When he reached the theatre he found his wife waiting in the lobby with eight eager friends! When the astonished gentleman whispered a surreptitious "What's the big idea?" to his wife, she slipped him telegram reading: "Have got ten tickets for the show tonight."

It's about time to start planning that winter vacation.

A Shame

"I'm sorry, madam," said the attendant at the movie, "but you can't take the dog into the theater."

"How absurd," protested the woman, "What harm can pictures do a little dog like this?"

Americans have much to be thankful for this fall, 1955.

BALDNESS

Baldness seems to run in families and affects both males and females. Many men are bald, especially those advanced in years. The follicles from which the hair grows become destroyed. In such conditions there is no hope of improvement. Those who do bring work and lead sedentary lives usually become bald earlier than those who exercise vigorously and are more exposed to the open air.

We have all seen people who lost their hair as a result of sickness, especially prolonged fevers such as typhoid, intermittent malarial, etc. It is quite common for the hair to fall out during a severe illness from any cause.

Nervous conditions often produce baldness. The hair has frequently turned snow-white as the result of grief, or from a severe shock. As a rule the color is never restored.

Where the baldness is due to a temporary condition, the hair can sometimes be induced to grow back as the health of the patient improves.

Many conditions of the scalp cause the hair to fall out. Some skin diseases are particularly prone to attack the scalp and cause baldness. X-ray will cause the hair to fall out. If the exposures are not too long continued, the hair grows again.

Ringworm of the scalp and other parasitic diseases are very hard to cure and cause a patchy form of baldness. This kind of Alopecia (baldness) is very common, especially in Europe.

In order to cure baldness, the cause must be discovered and removed. We do not know the cause of hereditary alopecia but members of the same family are often afflicted with dandruff. This is easily spread by using the same combs and brushes or even the same towels.

Scrupulous cleanliness is necessary to hair health. Vigorous brushing improves the circulation and brings the blood to the roots, where it flourishes the hair follicles and makes the hair grow. Consequently, anything that tends to bring blood to the scalp helps to cure or prevent dandruff.

When the patient is suffering from the result of illness or wasting diseases, he must be built up by food and proper tonics. The scalp should also be treated by vigorous massage, and exposure to air and light rays.

If the hair is dry, a suitable emollient should be well rubbed in each day. Crude oil or yellow vaseline is excellent and brings good results.

If the hair is annoyingly oily, some tonic containing alcohol is excellent for stimulating the scalp and removing some of the oiliness. This treatment helps the nerves that control nutrition, and brings blood to nourish the scalp. It will often induce a new growth of hair.

Farmers Get Better Price On Turkeys

Michigan turkey growers likely will receive two to five cents a pound more for their live birds during the holiday market period than they did last year.

That's the outlook now, reports Henry E. Larzelere, extension poultry marketing economist at Michigan State University.

He says the New York price for ready-to-cook turkeys seems to reflect the overall market situation best. And for the holiday period, he indicates, New York prices for fryer-roasters and young heavy hens are likely to average 55 to 56 cents and the young toms 42 to 50 cents.

Larzelere bases his predictions on the reduced numbers of turkeys reportedly grown this year as compared with last and the usual seasonal price change between September and the holiday market period.

The same number of heavy breed turkeys are being raised this year as last and about 15 per cent fewer of the light breeds, the latest national figures indicate.

Watch the New York prices, Larzelere advises, to keep the best tab on the overall market situation.

U-M Study Finds Farm Families Similar to Those in City Areas

There's not so much difference between farm and city families after all, according to a recent University of Michigan survey on rural family relations.

Although farm families are on the whole much older — a quarter of the wives in the families studied had been married more than 40 years — some of the family problems, their patterns of decision-making, and their ideas about children are very much alike.

For answers to their questions the U-M sociology researchers interviewed 178 southeastern Michigan farm families, and compared their findings with those of a similar study made in the Detroit area.

Because the farm families turned out to be much older 31 per cent of the farm women already had four or more children, and only 18 per cent of the urban women reported as many. But in their ideas about the number of children desired, both replied "three or four."

And despite popular notions about huge farm families vs. small city families, only 6 per cent of the farm husbands and wives have as many as six children, and the highest number of children reported — by only one family — was 12. Figures for city parents are almost exactly the same!

When asked the "good" things about having children, the farm wives tended to stress "strengthening the home," or "giving purpose and meaning to life" rather than "emotional satisfaction."

On the "bad" side, both rural and urban parents mentioned children's health problems but a vast majority in both groups emphasized that there was "nothing bad!" Less than 10 per cent in either group were disturbed by problems of discipline or limitations on their own freedom.

As regards internal structure of the family, farm wives are apt to have a little more power and take an active part in making more decisions than city wives, the studies indicate.

In both groups the husbands most typically decide what cars to buy, and what jobs to take, and both groups of wives usually decide how much should be spent on food. Decisions on vacations, doctors, homes to rent or buy, health and life insurance, are generally shared equally by husbands and wives in both cases.

As might be expected the farm families raise more of their own food, do more of their own baking, canning and dressmaking. But despite their many occupations at home, the farmers tend to have just as many or more formal outside group memberships.

This social participation was also the biggest bone of contention among farm husbands and wives, with more than twice as many farm as city families reporting this their major disagreement.

When urbanites were questioned on how well they got along in the family 60 per cent of them said "better than most." Farmers, say the researchers, tended to be more realistic and said "about the same as others." However, most families of both groups reported that they "are closer than other families."

Rural and urban wives want the same things from marriage: companionship, the chance to have children, understanding from their husbands, and the husbands' expression of love and affection — in that order.

A big difference did show up in percentages relating to the wives' abilities or inability to help their husbands get ahead. Twenty-seven per cent of the city wives felt they could do nothing at all, while only 2 per cent of the farm wives felt this way. Naturally enough, 40 per cent of the farm wives said they could most help their husbands by working on the farm.

Researchers, headed by U-M Assistant Prof. Robert O. Blood, Jr., with operations financed by a grant from the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, theorize that farm and city families are so much alike in interpersonal relations because mass media, like newspapers and radio, allow both groups to have similar experiences in learning what other people are doing.

Accident Report - Social Security May Forms Available Affect Farm Credit

Motorists involved in accidents where there is property damage of more than $100 or where there is a personal injury or death must file an accident report form which is now available at several places in Plymouth.

The Secretary of State's office, 181 West Liberty street, and the Plymouth police department are two agencies which have the report forms available. Most local insurance agents also expect to have the forms when they become plentiful.

A 50-day period is given the motorist to file the report. After another 10 days, failure to report will constitute a misdemeanor and the person's license shall be suspended.

What does the report form ask? It asks the date and place of the mishap, number of people killed and injured, number of vehicles damaged and whether your car was parked or standing at a traffic signal.

It then goes on to ask your name, address, driver license number and owner's name, address, make of vehicle and license plate number. A listing must then be made of all other drivers in the accident, their address and license plate number; name, address of all persons injured or killed; if you had insurance, name of insurance company, policy number and name of policyholder.

The report is then sent to the Michigan Department of State.

Mrs. Doris Root, manager of the local license bureau, states that there have been new regulations made concerning special license plates for amateur radio operators. The information can be secured by going to the bureau's new office on West Liberty street.

Social security may have a profound effect on credit rating for farmers.

The fact that the value of social security benefits will be considerable for his family after a farmer dies can now be taken into account by bankers when they lend money.

So spoke Dr. E. B. Hill, a Michigan State University farm economist, during the recent Agricultural Finance Clinic on the campus.

Hill also said that social security means that farmers in the southern third of Michigan probably will retire earlier than before and pass the farm operation on to their sons.

But in the northern portion of the state social security may have the opposite effect, according to Hill. Where their income is considerably smaller — in many cases less than $1,200 a year — farmers will stay on the land as long as possible because it gives them a cheaper and better living than would a life in town.

Plymouth Area Civil Defense News

A home warning signal device priced under $10 and using a negligible amount of electrical power is being developed with funds supplied by the Federal Civil Defense administration. Engineers are now convinced that within the next few years, 99 per cent of American homes can be equipped with a signal to alert families of enemy attack.

The CD administration does not envision the indoor signal system as supplanting other warning methods. Instead, it is thinking along the lines of a signal to call attention to the possibility of impending danger and to make sure that everyone gets the information which is being transmitted by radio or other means.

A home signal could be used to alert the public in time of immediate danger and send those at home to their radios where they could hear bulletins and receive instructions. By reaching families in suburban and rural areas, now beyond the range of sirens, the home warning devices would make the Civil Defense warning system almost 100 per cent effective.

360 SO. MAIN — IN PLYMOUTH

Library Presents Film On Williamsburg, Nov. 1

"Williamsburg Restored" has been designated for presentation at the Dunning library's adult film program on Tuesday, November 1.

The film, which is 44 minutes in length, emphasizes research and attention to detail involved in the restoration of the historic Virginia landmark to its 18th century appearance. The presentation will be in color.

Starting time for the program is 7 p.m.

The annual flurry of worldwide congressional investigations is now grinding on.

Start New System For Money Orders

A new system for obtaining money orders went into effect at the Plymouth post office this month, it was announced by Postmaster George Timpona. It will no longer be necessary to fill out an application form as in the past.

Here are the steps now necessary to obtain the money order:

1. Go to the clerk at the money order window and upon request he will give you a money order with the amount stamped on it.
2. You will then fill out the name of the firm or person to whom it will be paid.
3. Write your name and complete address to insure proper care.
4. Tear stub from your money order; this is your receipt.
5. Write name of payee on back of your stub or receipt.
6. Receipt must be presented if inquiry is filed.

Sale of Timber Goods Nets State $591,124

Michigan's public received a record $591,124 during fiscal 1954-55 for sale of timber products from its state forests.

Conservation Department summaries show that 87,922,000 board feet of timber products were removed from state forests during the year. This includes everything, but mainly pulp, sawlogs, posts and ties.

In the previous fiscal year, $474,200 went into public coffers from the sale of 69,657,000 board feet of wood products.

Better forest management methods have increased sales volume so the public can gain more from its forests. Sound conservation uses timber as it matures, as a farmer harvests his ripe crops. Modern survey, thinning and other production methods make this possible.

At the same time, Michigan's forests and wildlife are benefited by the practice. Without proper use, forest growth is wasted. Fire hazards, disease and other troubles develop if timber is not harvested properly.

SEDAN DE VILLE: Cadillac's Sedan de Ville, a four-door hardtop presented for the first time for 1956, preserves the graceful Florentine window styling of two-door hardtops yet provides the roominess and four-door convenience of sedan models. Rear seat head and leg room in the Sedan de Ville is greater than in two-door hardtop models. The car features a new power train consisting of a new 285 horsepower engine and a "controlled coupling" Hydra-Matic transmission which is completely new in principle and mechanical parts.

Clean, of Course

Is it a big firm where you are a clerk?

Rather! It takes a good fortnight before a joke goes from the general office to the chief.

MICHIGAN BELL

STARTING TO WONDER about family Christmas gifts? Additional telephones are wonderful to give, because they do so much for everyone. Installed in the bedroom, kitchen, basement, living room, they save hours of time and countless steps.

You needn't run when the phone rings . . . just reach! In solid or two-tone colors, they will brighten up your home, harmonize with your decorations. The cost? You can have three additional telephones in your home for about 11 cents a day. Order your gift telephones from our Business Office today.

PERHAPS YOU'VE HEARD that the Bell System has started installation of a new telephone cable under the Atlantic to the British Isles. The amplifiers (which keep voices strong and clear) are being built right into the cable and must last for years without repairs. It's vital to keep lint and dust out of the amplifiers so they are built in pressurized workrooms where employees wear special orlon work clothes, get their shoes vacuum-cleaned before going to work, and wear no cosmetics. They also get special fiber-free tissues if they get a cold in the head!

NOW THE BUSINESSMAN can hire an efficient, attractive secretary that his wife can't possibly be jealous of. It's an electronic telephone answering device called "Amanda." Here's what it does: Answers your telephone, gives the caller your recorded message, asks him to leave a message, then records what he has to say. You play back the calls when you return. Amanda is a "hot" item, but if you want one, we'll get it for you as soon as possible. Call us for full information.

CADILLAC for 1956

Top to bottom—Eldorado Seville, Sedan de Ville, Sixty Special

Presenting the Most Inspiring Motor Cars the World Has Ever Seen!

You are looking at three of the most magnificent and inspiring creations ever to issue from the drawing boards of Cadillac's designers and engineers.

These spectacular new Cadillacs—in company with the other Cadillac models for 1956—introduce a standard of excellence that will find no counterpart on the world's highways.

Where, for instance, could you find anything to match them for beauty and elegance? Their long, low, sweeping lines . . . their jewel-like grille and rear-fender designs . . . their brilliant new color combinations . . . their sparkling highlights of chrome and gold . . . all combine to create a beauty that is truly unique.

Where could you find anything to equal them in luxury? Their new interiors offer fabrics and leathers of rare richness and quality . . . together with features of comfort and convenience that will delight even the most experienced Cadillac owner.

And where could you find anything to rival them in performance? There's a completely redesigned Cadillac engine developing 285 and 305 horsepower . . . an entirely new, controlled-coupling Hydra-Matic Drive . . . advanced Cadillac Power Steering . . . and improved Cadillac Power Braking.

This extraordinary new beauty . . . and this brilliant new luxury . . . and this dynamic new performance . . . have been interpreted in four separate series and in nine individual body styles.

We sincerely urge you to stop in for a personal inspection and demonstration at your earliest convenience.

We know you will agree that these are the most inspiring Cadillacs of all time. And that, of course, means that they are the most inspiring motor cars the world has ever seen!

Speeding Tickets Flowing Freely

Been caught speeding lately? If you have, you're not alone. The Plymouth police department issued its September report Monday night to city commissioners and it was found that 244 tickets for speeding were issued during that 30-day period. In September of the previous year, there were but 35 tickets issued for the same offense.

Many of the tickets were issued through use of the electric speed measuring device which has been set up on some main thoroughfare nearly every day. The three "hot spots" in the police drive to slow down traffic have been on Penniman avenue, North and South Main street and Mill street.

Commissioners agreed that the crack-down on speeders has generally proven effective in slowing down traffic. They also agreed that the police department should continue its effort. Commissioner Robert Sincok said that he has noticed a considerable reduction of speeding cars on Penniman avenue where the parochial schools are located.

A total of 346 tickets were issued during September. Besides the 244 speeding violations, motorists were ticketed for such things as cutting in and out of traffic, reckless driving, arm around passenger, no stop lights, following too closely, excessive noise, no license and no license on person, no corrective glasses, disobeying stop signs and traffic signals, parked on wrong side of street and broken muffler.

Sonny: "Pop, what do they mean by stable government?"
Pop: "I'd say it's one that's running with horse sense, son."

Postal Pamphlet Tells of Wrapping

Helpful facts about wrapping and shipping packages are contained in a new and profusely illustrated pamphlet entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" available free at all post offices. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

The pamphlet, excerpted from the Postal Manual, describes the types and sizes of cartons best suited for outer and inner shipping containers; gives details for the internal protection for goods being shipped; lists hints on wrapping chinaware, stemware, framed pictures, books, and other goods; and gives instructions for marking various types of parcels to insure the quickest possible delivery.

Written instructions are highlighted by numerous illustrations showing how to wrap and tie packages securely. Drawings of various types of containers and boxes and the best way to use protective material to guard goods against breakage are also used.

"This free pamphlet," Summerfield pointed out, "if used in conjunction with the department's free pamphlet entitled 'Domestic Postage Rates and Fees' which was issued a few months ago, should answer practically all questions any user of the mails might have on fees, rates, special services, and protection of parcels in transit."

Washington State, always thought of as a source of lumber, fish and farm produce, has had a coal mining industry since 1860. Estimated original reserves of 63,878,000,000 tons have hardly been touched, although 146,38,000 tons of Washington coal have been mined in the last 95 years.

The Navy is now able to reduce weight in large aircraft carriers by an estimated 30 to 45 tons, through re-design and changes from metal to nylon resin for one type of electrical fittings alone.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The Conservation Commission recently approved plans for purchase of 460 acres of state forests, game lands and three fishing sites.

A total of 161 acres of hunting lands was added to the Fife Lake state forest in Grand Traverse county. Another 144 acres were added to the Pigeon River state forest in Charlevoix county.

Four parcels of land, totaling 155 acres, were added to state game areas under the Pittman-Robertson program. The additions were: 80 acres to the Shiawassee River area, 40 acres to the LaPeer area, 20 acres to the Crane Pond area, and 15 acres to the Manistee River area.

Fishing site purchases were approved on the Little South Branch of the Pere Marquette River, Lake county; Jordan River, Antrim River; and Otter Lake, Benzie county.

Michigan will have a new and sorely needed state park on Saginaw Bay — when funds become available.

The Conservation Commission approved and dedicated Port Crescent state park site at its October meeting and authorized that land be purchased "as funds become available."

It was the second such use area dedicated this year and points up the Commission's belief that the public is going to demand more and more outdoor recreation. The other approval this year was Sherman Hills recreation area in southwestern Michigan, also to be developed as funds become available.

The Port Crescent state park site, with a beach on the Bay, is located between Bay Park and Port Austin.

That area has developed rapidly in recent years. Sleeper, the single park in the area, is jammed each year with campers and picnickers.

Timber on 8000 acres of Au-Sable state forest will be auctioned this winter to make way for a projected Air Force jet base a few miles west of Kalkaska.

The Conservation Commission approved the auction, together with $54,000 in sales on 10 other state forests, at its October meeting at Gull Lake.

Department director Gerald E. Eddy said if the base is approved he will retain fishing rights for the public on the Boardman River, south boundary of the proposed base, and that the land will be leased to the Air Force for 99 years with the proviso that it return to the state if no longer being used.

Basic oil and gas leases were changed from five years to 10. Reasons listed for the change were that deeper drilling and more thorough exploration methods take longer in development.

The Commission also ruled on land exchanges, flowage easements, general land matters and other routine business. Its next meeting is slated in Lansing, November 9-10.

Nineteen fires burned 67 acres of Michigan forest lands last week, hiking the year's total to 7145 acres damaged in 1126 fires.

The City of Cedar Springs on Cedar Creek in Kent county faces possible legal action as a result of a pollution fish kill in the creek this summer.

An estimated 1000 trout, mostly fingerlings, were killed by alleged waste discharges from the city sewage plant.

Conservation Department director Gerald E. Eddy asked that the city voluntarily restock the creek, but to date no action has been taken.

Eddy has referred the problem to the state's attorney general, Thomas M. Kavanagh, for legal action.

Michigan accepted with thanks a gift of 1405 acres of wild land given by George W. Mason, late president of Nash-Kelvinator corporation.

The Conservation Commission, acting for the people of Michigan, accepted the gift last week during its October meeting at Gull Lake.

Acceptance was held up pending an attorney general's opinion of the term "game preserve" as written in Mason's will. The term was defined to mean that the Department can administer the land using modern fish and game conservation principles — in short, that hunting and fishing will be governed by the same regulations that cover other state land.

The gift is strung out on both sides of eight miles of the Au-Sable River's south branch a few miles northeast of Roscommon.

Mason also left $25,000 in a trust fund for stocking the stream with trout during the coming years.

He stipulated that the area never be sold.

Last year advertising book matches and wooden matches used 18 million pounds of paraffin produced by the petroleum industry. The paraffin helps transfer the flame from the head of the match to the "stick."
