300 Acre Land Development Project Planned for Northeast Township Area

To Build 1200 Homes Within Next 3 Years

A multi-million dollar land development project covering 300 acres in the northeast section of Plymouth township was revealed this week by the president of the Wabash Land company, Jesse M. Cook. He told The Mail Tuesday morning that the land, bordered by Five Mile road, Haggerty highway and Wilcox road, would be subdivided over a three-year period beginning in 1956 and that a total of 1000 to 1200 homes would be constructed.

The development, largest of its kind ever to be undertaken in the Plymouth area, will include a sewer system, water mains, paved streets and a shopping center. Cook stated that 250 acres have already been purchased and negotiations for an additional 50 acres are nearly completed.

Xmas Club Checks Go in Mail Friday

Approximately $225,000 in Christmas club checks will be mailed out Friday to more than 1800 local members of the 1955 Christmas club, announced Walter Brown, in charge of the program at the Plymouth branch of the National Bank of Detroit.

The checks will go into the mails tomorrow evening and are due to start arriving at the members' homes Monday, Brown added.

The $225,000 total for this most recent club was estimated to be about $5,000 higher than last year's amount while no noticeable climb in memberships was noted. Nearly 1800 people also used the plan locally in 1954.

It was explained that memberships in the 1956 Christmas club are already being accepted at the Plymouth branch bank in anticipation of an even bigger membership and savings total next year.

Revelation of the project took place Monday evening when Cook and Roscoe E. Gustafson, Dearborn real estate agent who negotiated the land purchases, discussed possible school sites with members of the board of education. Board officials said the new area would be given second priority for elementary schools. The Sheldon road elementary school is next on the board's building agenda.

While no agreement was reached as to the exact locale of a school in the new area, it was agreed that at least one 10-acre site would be made available to the board for its future building program.

Cook, who heads several land development companies with offices in Oak Park, has promoted projects in Livonia, Nankin township, Farmington, Sterling township and Inkster. He stated that approximately 400 homes will be built each year during the next three years. A test well at Schoolcraft and Wilcox roads provided favorable results to indicate ample water to install a complete system, he said. Authorization has already been granted to hook in a sewer system to the Middle-Rouge interceptor.

The first step in the huge project will be to draw a proposed plat in cooperation with local and township authorities, he stated. If the township board approves, the sewer and water system will be turned over to the township. Cook indicated that all homes would be of brick construction ranging from $13,500 to $17,500 in price. The homes will be constructed under FHA regulations with Detroit contractors as builders. Nearly all lots will be 60 ft. by 120 ft.

While contracts for sewers and water will be let before the first of the year, Cook stated that the project will be carried on in stages. Most likely area to be developed first lies near the intersection of Schoolcraft and Wilcox roads. Last project of the development would be a shopping center, which first needs population to attract merchants, he said. The shopping area would provide approximately five stores of the grocery, drug variety, Cook said.

The purchase of the land, which was handled by Gustafson, represented 30 main parcels and several smaller tracts.

Windows Furnish Motive For 3 Minor Police Calls

Windows played a big part in three minor calls the local police department answered last weekend, in which approximately $90 in damages were incurred in addition to a breaking and entering attempt.

Leading off the proceedings late Friday night, vandals shattered all of the windows in the garage belonging to Elmer Reddeman, 334 Arthur. Also a window in the Reddeman car was broken as a result of the pummeling with cement clumps that the building underwent.

Damages to the broken windows in the garage were estimated to be from $50 to $75.

Early Sunday morning an attempt was made to break into Roberts Coal Supply, 639 South Mill. Owner Walter Roberts explained that a window had already been removed from its sash when a patrolman, making his routine check, apparently frightened away the would-be burglar.

Finally on Monday, windows in the oil-house at Eckles Coal company, 882 Holbrook, were smashed causing approximately $15 in damages.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY victim Richard Fulton is mighty happy to have the easy-to-manuever wheelchair which contributions brought last year. Pictured here with his father, Lovell Fulton of 246 Division, he's hoping local residents will give generously to this year's campaign. His father is chairman of the campaign and will be one of the firemen looking for your porchlight signal that "you want to give" next Wednesday evening.

Apprehend Three Youths

Three Detroit youths, two 17 years old and one 19, were apprehended by Plymouth police early Wednesday morning attempting to steal tires from an auto at Reese Motor Sales, 42280 Ann Arbor road. The trio was placed in the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff's department.

The youths will be charged with larceny from a building, according to Detective Edward Love of the Sheriff's patrol after questioning the three. He added that the youths admitted to stealing earlier three two-gallon cans of oil and some used tires from a gas station in the vicinity of 13 Mile road and Telegraph.

Found in their car at the time of their arrest were some empty beer cases in addition to the other articles. The car in which the three were traveling had a flat tire and the youths had apparently decided to exchange tires. They are being held in custody at the Wayne county road patrol station in Wayne, while further investigation is conducted.

Porchlight Drive Next Wednesday

A local drive to help fight the dread disease, muscular dystrophy, will be conducted next Wednesday evening under the leadership of Lovell Fulton, 246 Division, whose 12-year-old son, Richard is a victim of the disease.

Mr. Fulton will have plenty of help in the collection. Firemen from Plymouth, Plymouth township, Salem, along with off-duty policemen, mailmen and VFW and American Legion members will make door-to-door solicitations. They request that persons wishing to help the drive leave their porch lights on Wednesday, Thanksgiving eve, so that one of the volunteers may stop. Calls will be made between 6:30 and 9:00 p.m. Contributions may also be sent in care of your local fire department.

The local drive, which is annually conducted in conjunction with the national muscular dystrophy campaign, collected $1,300 last year. Fulton, whose son, Richard, received a wheelchair through contributions, says he is hopeful that the 1955 total will top this figure.

2nd Concert To Feature Solo Violinist

Violinist Nathalie Dale will be the featured soloist this Sunday afternoon as the Plymouth Symphony orchestra presents its second concert of the season. She will play Tchaikowsky's "Violin Concerto."

The 90-piece orchestra under the direction of Conductor Wayne Dunlap will present the "Brandenburg Concerto No. 1" by Bach and the ballet, "Appalachian Spring" by the contemporary American composer, Aaron Copland.

Mrs. Dale was born in Athens, Greece of Russian parents and began her violin studies in Athens under the guidance of Professor Schultze of the Conservatory of Music. Due to the second world war, she and her parents became displaced persons in Austria. She continued to study, however, under Professor Willy Schweyda at the Klagenfurt Conservatory of Music.

In 1948 she went to England where she married, and in 1949 she and her husband came to the United States where she resumed studies at the University of Michigan. Mrs. Dale plays in the recently formed Lyric Trio in Ann Arbor and has also performed for radio audiences.

Sunday's concert will be held at the Plymouth high school gymnasium at 4:00 p.m. The concerts are open to the public without charge.

Lay Water Mains To New School Site

Water mains for the proposed Sheldon road elementary school will be available by the end of next week, according to City Manager Albert Glassford. Actual laying of the mains has nearly been completed, he stated, but approval from the State Board of Health is still needed.

The eight-inch main was extended from Joy road approximately one-quarter of a mile to the Sheldon school site. In addition two blocks of 8-inch main was installed along Sheldon road from Ann Arbor road. Glassford stated that this would supply sufficient water for all the school's needs including fire protection.

The question of sewers still remains as the only block to construction of the school. Officials of Plymouth township have indicated, however, that sewers will be available under the newly formed Plymouth-Canton water and sewer authority.

While the results are not available at this time, Mr. Carstenson stated that Plymouth seems to have a greater number of men and women involved in working on community problems than the four other communities studied.

Community Study Group to Meet

In cooperation with 25 community leaders in Plymouth, the University of Michigan community adult education department has been making a study of how communities function. This group plans to meet this noon at the Mayflower hotel with Dr. Howard McCluskey, Blue Carstenson and Maurice Cave of the University to hear a progress report on the study.

As a part of a larger study of five Michigan communities, it is hoped that things may be found to help communities less successful in solving their community problems function more effectively.

The presidents of a number of leading organizations, public officials and other civic leaders were interviewed by Mr. Carstenson for opinions on how Plymouth has solved its problems.

While the results are not available at this time, Mr. Carstenson stated that Plymouth seems to have a greater number of men and women involved in working on community problems than the four other communities studied.

McAllister to Talk At Safety Meeting

City of Plymouth Fire Chief Robert McAllister will be the guest speaker at the 1955-56 kickoff dinner meeting for the Plymouth division of the Greater Detroit Safety Council this Monday evening, November 21 at 6:30 at Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Reservations for the program may be obtained no later than this evening by calling TRinity 2-6900.

$30,799.87! That's the figure that is causing this trio of Plymouth Community Fund officers to beam. Chairman George Witkowski points out the total to Co-Chairman Mrs. L. B. Rice as Board President Marvin Criger looks on. More dollars are expected as the biggest drive yet has zoomed past its $27,500 goal.

Red Feather Contribution Soars to Record $30,799

Broad smiles trademarked the faces of Plymouth Community Fund workers this week as the largest total ever collected in the annual drive, $30,799.87, was already on hand. The prospect of more monies to come made it anyone's guess as to how far over the $27,500 goal the drive would go.

Fund workers credited the increased flow of dollars through payroll savings' plans with bringing about the huge total. "Residential pledges remained about the same, but the payroll savings were far above normal," said Mrs. Carl Caplin, Community Fund board treasurer.

Campaign workers worried as the drive reached its tentatively planned closing date last week with approximately $8000 short of the goal. Business and industry reports put the total far beyond their expectations.

With the 1955 goal set at 12 per cent higher than last year the average donation for this year shows an increase of nearly 25 per cent.

Composed of 13 members, the 1955 Community Fund drive was headed by George Witkowski, chairman, and Mrs. L. B. Rice, co-chairman. Other members of the board are: Marvin Criger, president; Arch Vallier, vice president; Mrs. Caplin, treasurer; Sheldon Baker, H. Phillip Barney, Ruth Eriksson, John Gaffield, Sam Hudson, Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz, Robert Maurer and Harry Roberts.

About 84 per cent of the collection will be administered locally, board members pointed out. Ten local agencies including the Red Cross will be given funds. The remaining 16 per cent will be administered by the United Foundation and will go to 20 county, state and national agencies. Most of these agencies are for the research of cancer, heart disease, arthritis and rheumatism, hearing and mental health.

Board President Criger pointed out that among the notable donations to the drive was a 92 per cent subscription by the 173 employees of the Ford Waterford plant. Their donation totaled $2580. The plant drive was conducted by Nick Puscas, plant manager, and Don Lanning, chairman of the local union.

The following list of donations from business, industrial and professional sources was submitted by the board this week:

Arnold Auto Sales, 5.00; Beglinger Oldsmobile, Inc., 25.00; Beitner Jewelers, 10.00; Bill's Market, 25.00; Consumer's Power Co., 150.00; D & C Stores, Inc., 50.00; Ovid Deace, 10.00; Egloff Sand & Gravel Co., 10.00; Erdelyi & Sons, 15.00; Gould's Cleaners, 25.00; Herald Cleaners, 25.00; Hoffman & Holdsworth Implement Co., 5.00; Hubbs & Gilles, 25.00;

The 100th anniversary of the founding of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Felix (commonly known as the Felician Sisters) will be celebrated next Monday, the feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The Congregation of the Felician Sisters was founded in Warsaw, Poland, on November 21, 1855, by Mother Mary Angela Truszkowska, now the Servant of God, whose process of beatification is under consideration in Rome. In 1874, nineteen years after the founding, the Congregation began a foundation in America in Polonia, Wisconsin.

Today the Sisters serve God and humanity on three continents: Europe (Poland, Rome), North America (United States, Canada) and South America (Brazil). The Congregation numbers 4,000 Sisters, of whom 3,800 are in America.

Prior to the Jubilee Day, on Nov. 18, a Solemn High Mass will be celebrated at St. Albertus Church, Detroit, at 10 a.m. for the youth entrusted to the care of the Felician Sisters. Students of all Felician high schools in Detroit and the vicinity will attend together with teachers. On Nov. 19, a Jubilee religious concert will be presented at 2:30

Bishop Zaleski will also give the sermon for the occasion.

Music at the Mass will be provided by the Felician Sisters' choir, conducted by Sister M. Paulette at the organ. The choir will sing Griesbacher's "Mass in Honor of St. Raphael" with Victoria's "Duo Seraphim" for the Offertory Motet.

Attendance at the Mass will be limited to the clergy and sisters of other Congregations because of small chapel accommodations.

Elaine, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin for the wedding ceremony. The bodice of the gown was styled with scalloped neckline, outlined with pearls, and long fitted sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. The skirt terminated in a chapel-length train. Pearl earrings and choker, gift of the bridegroom, were worn by the bride. She carried orchids and a phanotis centered on a Bible.

Upon their return, the couple will reside at 14011 Riverview, Parkview Apartments, Livonia.

The bride was gowned in a ballerina-length dress fashioned with Chantilly lace bodice, wrist-point sleeves of lace and skirt of taffeta. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom. White fuji and pom pom chrysanthemums composed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Sally Wagenschutz of Northville, maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length dress of rust taffeta with headpiece of yellow fuji mums. Bridesmaid was Miss Marianne Ratliff, also of Northville, who was dressed in pale blue taffeta. Her headpiece was the same as the maid of honor's.

Mrs. Russell P. Hoffmann

Club Honors Bank Employee As "Woman of Achievement"

Mrs. Russell P. Hoffmann, supervisor of the Discount department at the Plymouth branch, National Bank of Detroit, has been selected by the Business and Professional Women's club as its "Woman of Achievement" for November.

The resident of 760 Burroughs will be honored at the organization's dinner meeting Monday night, November 21, at 6:30 in the Mayflower hotel. She was cited for her work in organizing the Historical Society at Beaver Island, which is located in upper Lake Michigan about 35 miles north of Charlevoix.

On their first trip to St. James, Beaver Island, in October, 1954, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffmann bought a home on the harbor. In exploring around the island they discovered the Morman Printing House.

It was here that the first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids, "The Northern Islander," was published 100 years ago during the days of the only king to reign in the U.S., James J. Strang.

A follower of Mormon leader, Joseph Smith, Strang was crowned July 8, 1850 in his capital of St. James before 400 of the island inhabitants.

The site of the printing house was marked with a plaque on June 27, 1949 by the Michigan Historical Society and Michigan Press association. However, the Hoffmanns found that nothing further had been done since that time.

At Thanksgiving time in 1954,

Forty Attend Troop 1 Award Ceremony

A Court of Awards and Senior Fly-Up ceremony was held by members of Troop 1 at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout cabin on November 12. Forty members and guests witnessed the awarding of First Class rank to Judy Walsh and Curved Bar awards to Georgette Graham, Allison Scott, Ann Taylor, Carol North, Jean Russell and Susan Campbell.

All members of the Troop received their Senior pins indicating they had passed the senior requirements. Mrs. Jean Olson presented the pins following an impressive candle-light ceremony.

A new Senior flag was given to the troop by its sponsoring organization, the V.F.W. auxiliary, which also donated the pins. Mrs. Harold Young, president, made the flag presentation.

Following the program, William Edgar showed movies of the troop camp-out at Highland State Park and of their activities at Day Camp. Mrs. Sheldon Baker is the leader of this troop.

they decided that the Beaver Island Historical Society should be formed to preserve this building as one of the historic spots of the Island, which is rich in Mormon lore. They contacted the owner of the property and put a deposit on it with the idea of forming the Beaver Island Historical Society to raise money for restoration of the building, which would then be turned over to the Society.

With this ground-work laid, they made plans to form the Society. The first meeting was held in August of this year. Necessary legal matters were taken care of and the Society began to function.

The organization is now in full swing with a drive on to secure members in order to purchase the Printing Shop and restore it to its original state.

The Michigan Historical Society has offered to furnish a press of the same vintage as used at the time when the Northern Islander was printed, as the original press has disappeared and cannot be located.

The Michigan Historical Commission has stated that this is one of the seven historical sites in Michigan and it is vitally interested in seeing the printing shop restored so that the early history of Michigan is not lost.

July 1956 will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the last edition of "The Northern Islander," published the day after King Strang was assassinated by two of his own men. The Beaver Island Historical Society is striving to complete restoration of the Printing House by that time so that a celebration can be held.

Plans were also formulated at the meeting for the annual Christmas greens sale to be held December 16. Various committees were appointed for the annual event which will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Nelson.

Tea was served at the close of the program by Mrs. George Merryweather assisted by members of her committee.

Walker - Adams Rites Held at Orchard Lake

The marriage of Miss Greta Mae Adams of 2021 Scott Lake road, Pontiac and Oliver C. Walker of 15575 Maxwell, Plymouth was solemnized at a ceremony held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, October 29, in Orchard Lake Community church. The Reverend Barney Roepcke, church pastor, read the nuptial rites before an altar decorated with palms and candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Adams of Mackinac City and Mr. and Mrs. Clare O. Walker of Romeo, Michigan are the parents of the couple.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of lace over satin, terminating in a train of cathedral length. Her fingertip veil was secured by a coronet of lace hearts. A single strand of pearls with matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom, were worn by the bride. She carried white orchids centered on a Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harold Duckert of Romeo, Michigan. Miss Nancy Kay Smith and Miss Mary Joan Smith, both of Pontiac, were bridesmaids for the ceremony. Montane Walker of Royal Oak assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were John Parson of Plymouth, Charles Adams, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio and Gordon Davis of Pontiac.

Approximately 150 guests congratulated the couple at the reception held in the church parlors.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. have bought the birthplace in Savannah, Georgia, of the founder, Juliette Gordon Lowe. They are now raising $500,000 in funds to restore, furnish and equip it as a program center for the use of both girls and adults in Scouting.

The organization feels it is important to preserve the heritage of Girl Scouting so girls can see and feel the gracious way of living of a bygone era and recognize the traditions that have been passed down to the present generation.

To raise the needed funds each registered adult in Scouting is contributing $1 to the Birthplace fund. Plymouth's quota is $79.

Historical Society Spends Busy Evening

An election, presentation of photographs of early Plymouth, a guessing contest and the reading of a paper by Mrs. Roderick Cassidy were on the agenda for members of the Plymouth Historical Society at their meeting Thursday evening in the Veteran's Memorial center.

Mrs. Ada Murray was elected curator at the meeting to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Katharine Todd, who recently resigned from that position. Announcement was also made that photographs of early Plymouth had been presented to the society by Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Enterline.

In the guessing contest to identify members from youthful photographs, Mrs. Karl Starkweather was the winner. She correctly named more than half of the 40 pictures submitted for the event.

"The Fulfillment of a Childhood Dream" was the title of the paper prepared and read by Mrs. Cassidy. Her wish was to visit Concord, Massachusetts where her maternal great, great grandfather, Francis LeGross, had lived. This was fulfilled in July of this year when Mrs. Cassidy visited the house of the Antiquarian Society in Concord, where records of her ancestor and articles belonging to him are kept.

LeGross was one of the Concord Minutemen, who at the age of 14 fought in the Revolutionary War. He was born in 1764 on the Isle of Jersey. His parents, who were protestants, had fled from France to avoid religious persecution. When about 12 years of age and attending a boys school on the island, LeGross and some of his schoolmates were kidnapped by English officers. They were brought to the colonies in America to shine boots and to perform other personal services for the officers around the army camps at the beginning of the Revolution.

Although only 12, LeGross' sympathies were with the colonists and he decided to run away from the British. This he finally accomplished and joined the colonists' army. He served five years

Toy Party Set for Tonight

An opportunity to do some early Christmas shopping will be given residents of this area tonight at the Toy party sponsored by the Auxiliary to Passage-Gayde Post No. 391, American Legion.

The event will be held at the Veteran's Community center, starting at 8 p.m. An invitation to attend the party has been extended to the general public as well as Legion members and their friends.

with the Fifth Massachusetts regiment, received a merit badge for bravery and was honorably discharged June 10, 1783 at the age of 19. He died September 4, 1809.

At the Antiquarian society in Concord may be found the record of the birth, marriage and death of LeGross, and those of his five children. There is also a list of articles in the house which had belonged to him, such as smoker's tongs, "flip mug," and knee buckles.

Members paused in their meeting to pay tribute to Mrs. Howard Brown of Detroit, former Plymouth resident who died October 29. Mrs. Brown was a charter member of the Plymouth Historical Society and served as its second president during the years 1950-52. Special mention was made of the great deal of time and effort she had spent in behalf of the local organization and the papers she had contributed to the society.

The former resident succumbed at her home, 645 Merrick avenue, Detroit, following a short illness. She was 65.

At the close of the program it was announced that the December 8 meeting will feature an old-fashioned singing school. It will be conducted by Clarence Stevens, 90-year-old member of the Presbyterian church choir. Program chairman is Mrs. Arthur Todd.

The occasion was the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Wednesday, November 9 at the high school auditorium.

Chamber of Commerce Again Offers Prizes for Best Decorated Homes

Offering Plymouth area homeowners ample time to "go all out" in decorating their homes in keeping with the Yuletide spirit, the local chamber of commerce announced this week that as in previous years prizes would be presented to people with the most gaily decorated residences.

Prizes, according to Ed Hart, chamber secretary, will consist of Plymouth Community stamps plus various other cash and merchandise awards. The decisions will be made with regard to originality and theme.

Hart explained that tentative plans call for a decision as to the best decorated homes to be made on December 20. The judging will be handled by two members of the junior chamber of commerce and one woman from the Plymouth garden club. The house decorating plan is a portion of the Plymouth chamber's Christmas committee, which in previous meetings has made additional arrangements to dress the city in a gay Christmas theme.

Other portions of the city-wide decorating will include street lighting, five well-lit trees (four in Kellogg park and one at Mill and Starweather), the crib of the Christ child in the city park and the arrival of Santa Claus for the benefit of Plymouth's youngsters.

Madonna college coeds will decorate the five Christmas trees and also put up the Christ child's crib and arrange the accompanying figures around it. The BPO Elks will handle Santa's arrival. Hart added that most of the work involved should be completed by about November 25.

Social Security Rep Here on Wednesday

The Social Security representative of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office will not make the scheduled visit to Plymouth on Thursday, November 24 due to the Thanksgiving Day holiday. However, the representative will be at the Plymouth Post Office (basement) on Wednesday, November 23.

Residents of the Plymouth and Northville area who have social security matters to discuss should call at the Plymouth Post Office (basement) on Wednesday, November 23 between 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 Noon.

ALTHOUGH DISCLAIMING to be an artist, Marlene Skelt has received praise for her landscape painting which measures five by eight feet. The original scene in the First Baptist church had to be destroyed, despite sentimental value, but Miss Skelt was able to almost faithfully reproduce it on canvas. She is pictured giving her painting some final touches.

Sentimental Painting in Baptist Church Re-created by Young Bank Bookkeeper

An oil painted landscape which was destroyed when the First Baptist church enlarged their church auditorium has been re-created by a young woman who has had very little art experience. Miss Marlene Skelt, an employee of the National Bank of Detroit bookkeeping department here, is putting the final touches on the large landscape painting prior to dedicatory services in a few weeks.

The original painting was on a plaster wall in the front of the church over the baptistry. When the congregation made plans to tear out the front of their church for an extension of the main auditorium, it was evident that the already-crumbing painted surface could not be saved.

There was an alternative. Kodachrome slides were made of the original painting to preserve both the scene and colors. Next, an artist had to be found who could re-create the picture in colors.

Miss Skelt was approached by Reverend David Rieder and she at first disclaimed any ability to undertake such a project. Her father in Ypsilanti had done such work and she had taken art in school. After some coaxing, she agreed to give it a try.

Once started, it took her about five days to paint the scene of a five by eight foot canvass. Because she did the painting in her home, it was difficult to get back far enough to get a good perspective. But the results have brought high praise by Reverend Rieder and those who have seen it. The painting was hung last week in the church where she spent more hours giving it final touches. It will not be shown until dedicatory services are held.

R. Huebler Ends Year as State Master Councilor

Richard Huebler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huebler, 3945 Berry road, completed his year as State Master Councilor of the Order of DeMolay this week when he appeared with the Plymouth chapter at the state conference held November 11, 12 and 13 in Bay City.

The meeting, termed highly successful with some 900 DeMolay members, officials and other dignitaries in attendance, marked the close of Huebler's term, a post to which he was appointed last year. The Plymouth chapter acted as host for the gathering.

On the agenda was the initiation of a large class of new members, who were named in honor of Harold F. Koch, a DeMolay worker for more than 30 years. Also in attendance was Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams, who spoke before the members.

Attending from Plymouth were Robert Young, host master councilor; Jim Thorpe, general chairman; Dad Charles Huebler, advisor; Roderick Willard, Chairman of registration; Dad Erwin Ottensman, advisor; Elijah Moore, advisor; and assistants Virgil Norgrove, Bruce Campbell, William Rambo, Don Alsbro, Larry Wilson, Dennis Merchant, Stewart Papineau, William Fern and Jim Hardimon.

Peter Leemon, chairman of courtesies; Dad Roy Leemon, Alfred Wood and Dave Thompson, advisors; Assistants Paul Rimer, Gerald Wood and Wesley Thimerson.

Candidates for the degrees were Ronald Hubbs, David Wickens, William Patton and James Walker. Representing the Plymouth Rock lodge were Charles Chappel, Worshipful Master; Harold Mackinder, Senior Warden; and Al Hubbs.

Mrs. Elaine Haas of Mendon, Michigan, spent the weekend with her father, Coella Hamilton.

Letterbox

Scouts Thank Red Feather

To the Editor

Dear Mr. Eaton:
About a month ago Senior Girl Scout Troop One was busily engaged in assembling the material and stuffing 5,000 envelopes for our Plymouth Community Fund drive. Up until that time we hadn't given much thought to what the Community Fund meant to us as a troop and to our individual families.

Uppermost in our minds as we write this letter is our Girl Scout Lodge where we just spent a happy weekend and which the Girl Scouts of Plymouth maintain at a cost of several hundred dollars a year. There is probably not a Girl Scout or Brownie in Plymouth who has not enjoyed many happy times there.

We also attend Day Camp which is not entirely self-supporting and we are the proud owners of some very good camping equipment which we have used many times. These are only a few of the expenses which the money from the Community Fund to our Plymouth Girl Scout Council covers.

We also found that the Veterans Memorial Center which has been our meeting place for troop meetings for four years is supported by the fund.

Several of us have brothers who are Boy Scouts and brothers, sisters, mothers and fathers who along with us enjoy the many activities of the Recreation Dept.

There are several other agencies by which we benefit and we as a troop wish to thank the Plymouth Community Fund and the people who support it. We are proud to have been given the opportunity to help with some of the work and although our pride was a little hurt by the lack of response to these letters we will be happy to offer our services again next year.

Sincerely,
Senior Girl Scout Troop 1

Mrs. Harold Brisbois was hostess last Thursday afternoon in her home in Rocker subdivision to the members of her Birthday club. Guest of honor for the day was Mrs. Ernest Allison.

Felician Sisters to Celebrate

reception and Jubilee Dinner and Program for members of the hierarchy and clergy in De Sales Auditorium. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Szumal, rector of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, and Mr. Anthony J. Rathnam will address the assembly. Msgr. Szumal will also be the toastmaster for the dinner program.

Solemn Vespers in the mother-house chapel at 4:30 p.m. will conclude the ceremonies for the Jubilee Day.

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, will be a "Homecoming Day" for all sisters belonging to the Livonia Province. They will be present at another performance of the jubilee religious concert that afternoon at 2:30 p.m. On the evening of that day at 7:30 p.m. Thanksgiving Benediction Services will be held in the chapel followed by a presentation of the musical program for parents and relatives of the sisters.

A final performance, also for the sisters' parents, will take place in the evening of the following day, Nov. 25. Admission is by complimentary ticket for the specified date.

Similar centennial observances will be held in the 6 other Felician provinces in the United States and in the 3 provinces in Poland — with restrictions expected behind the Iron Curtain.

At the Central Motherhouse in Rome, a Mass of Thanksgiving on Nov. 21 will be celebrated on the tomb of St. Felix of Cantalice, special patron of the Felician Sisters. His Eminence, Clemens Cardinal Micara, protector of the Felician Sisters, will be the celebrant.

The Felician Sisters have been rendering services to the city of Livonia and surrounding neighborhoods ever since 1936.

In that year the Sisters transferred their headquarters from Detroit to a new convent built on the 320-acre site facing Schoolcraft on the South and Five Mile rd. on the North, bounded by Levan and Newburg rds, on the East and West.

They conducted Saturday and Sunday religion classes at the three local Catholic parishes until each built a school; St. Michael's, Rosedale Gardens; Our Lady of Good Counsel, Plymouth and Our Lady of Victory, Northville. In 1942, the Sisters staffed the newly opened school at St. Michael's parish.

The opening of Madonna college in 1947 on the Sisters' premises on Schoolcraft was a unique opportunity for raising the cultural atmosphere and prestige of the locality. Young women of the vicinity can now easily avail themselves of a college education in their home town.

In addition to the College, the Felician Sisters have established a high school on their grounds. Ladywood High School for girls, the only one of its kind in the vicinity, was opened in the fall of 1950. The initial enrollment of 60 girls has mushroomed to 250 in this, its fifth year of existence.

The planned hospital, to be built on the Sisters' premises in the near future, will expand the possibilities of doing good to people of the neighborhood.

Brickner Speaks At Hi-12 Meeting

Abraham Brickner, public relations representative from Northville State hospital, was principal speaker for a meeting of Hi-12 Wednesday evening, November 9, at the Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Brickner discussed the work of the state hospital, its facilities and activities sponsored by volunteer women organizations. The institution, which has a capacity for 3500 patients, has 1600 at the present time. All of these, he pointed out, are either Wayne county residents or have formerly resided in this county. Slides of the hospital buildings, wards, patients and equipment were shown in conjunction with his talk.

During the question and answer period at the close of his discussion, Brickner said that 97 per cent of the patients were admitted through court action, with 3 per cent voluntarily admitted. He further emphasized that there were no criminally insane persons at the Northville institution. Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst was in charge of program arrangements.

Mrs. Earl Russell entertained the members of her bridge club Tuesday afternoon in her home on West Maple avenue.

Letter Requests State Aid For St. Mary's Hospital

According to Plymouth Township Civil Defense Coordinator Leo Flowers, a letter has been sent from his office to the Michigan State Hospital authority in Lansing appealing for funds for construction of the proposed St. Mary's hospital. Flowers said the letter requested state aid on the basis of need for a general hospital in this area.

Former Plymouth Rector Is Rotary Club Speaker

A message concerning Veterans' Day was delivered to Plymouth Rotarians last Friday by the Reverend Alexander Miller, former rector of St. John's Episcopal church here.

Reverend Miller is now serving Christ Episcopal church in Flint. The speaker emphasized the need for a continuous reminder about the effects of war and of the thousands of veterans who still remain in hospitals. An individual or group, he said, should try visiting these hospitals in order to remind these men that they are not forgotten.

Reverend Miller also pointed out the need for prayer in our everyday life — the most important thing we could do to preserve peace. He also urged a continued support of the United Nations, although it is sometimes exasperating to learn that the UN is unable to cope with many problems.

The speaker was introduced by Frank Henderson.

Polio Vaccine Available

Salk polio vaccine is now available for all local children between the ages of one and 14 years and also for all pre-natal women, announced Dr. R. H. Barber, city health officer, Tuesday.

He added that anyone wishing to receive the vaccine injections should contact a family physician for further details.

Legion Aids Drive For Retarded Children's School

In conjunction with National Retarded Children's Week, November 13-23, members of the Passage-Gayde post, American Legion, and its auxiliary are conducting a cannister drive to raise funds for the establishment of a school serving retarded children of the Wayne county area.

Cannisters have been placed in various business establishments this week. Local Legionnaires and auxiliary members will personally conduct the drive on Plymouth streets this Friday and Saturday. Chairmen of the campaign are Ernest Koi and Al Byrnes of the Legion post.

Funds raised will go towards the establishment of the school, its maintenance and hiring of competent teachers to instruct these children. Dennis D'Arcy of Wayne, supervisor of the county program, said there were some 25-50 retarded youngsters on record for the Wayne county area, with perhaps 100-150 other individuals not listed.

Although in some communities training of retarded children has been incorporated into the school system, Wayne county has made no provisions for this type of program. In Oakland county, he pointed out, school additions for this purpose have been financed through a half-mill levy on assessment of property.

The proposed school in this county will serve the communities of Plymouth, Livonia, Wayne, Inkster, Belleville and Romulus.

Letter Requests State Aid For St. Mary's Hospital

According to Plymouth Township Civil Defense Coordinator Leo Flowers, a letter has been sent from his office to the Michigan State Hospital authority in Lansing appealing for funds for construction of the proposed St. Mary's hospital. Flowers said the letter requested state aid on the basis of need for a general hospital in this area.

$75 Car Fire

A car fire amounting to $75 in damage was brought under control by Plymouth Township firemen Saturday at 3:36 p.m. at the corner of Eckles and Plymouth roads. Firemen stated that the fire began in the wiring of the overdrive. The car was owned by W. Baldwin of Dearborn.

Furnace Explodes

Plymouth firemen were called to Gould's Cleaners, 212 South Main street, at 6:15 a.m. Wednesday, when a furnace explosion blew the front door from the furnace. Only minor damage was incurred. Chief Robert McAllister reported.

CONDUCTING A DRIVE this week to aid retarded children of Wayne county are local Legionnaires and Auxiliary members. Chairman Ernest Koi hands one of the cannisters placed in numerous business establishments to Mrs. William Langmaid at Tail's Cleaners. Funds raised go toward the establishment of a school in Wayne county for retarded children.

Township CD Offers Two New Courses

Township Civil Defense Director Leo Flowers announced this week that two new courses will be offered in conjunction with the civil defense training program.

A special rescue course to have five one-hour sessions will begin in two weeks. A first aid course given by the American Red Cross will also begin soon, said Flowers. Both courses will be conducted at Plymouth Township Hall. Director Flowers urged interested parties to contact his office and enroll in either or both of the courses.

Bags 1st Deer Reported By Plymouth Hunters

The first deer-kill of the new season to be reported by a Plymouth hunter was shot by Louis Westfall, 840 Irwin street, at 9:05 Tuesday morning seven miles southwest of Atlanta.

Westfall bagged the buck, an eight-pointer weighing an estimated 170 pounds live, at a range of 125 yards using a .38-55 carbine. He had to drag the animal a quarter of a mile to his car.

This was the second time that Westfall, a member of the Plymouth police force, has reported the first deer to be shot by a Plymouthite. It was the third deer for Westfall in five trips.

Have you seen the new faced brick, ranch type home under construction on Jener? This house has a basement with all utilities on one side. Three bedrooms and tiled bath. Oh, yes, you may have any colors you choose. Mahogany cabinets in the kitchen with plenty of drawer space. Fan-hood over the stove — a pull down lamp over the eating space. Storms and screens. If you like rural living in half acre of woods, then you'll like this frame home with aluminum siding, breezeway and garage. This house is insulated, has storms and screens and plastered walls. $14,000.00.

For the home owner with a green thumb. Rose garden, perennials, shrubs and a garden plot in this house on 1115 Maple Avenue. Large lot with a story and a half brick and block house, picture window, large living room with a fireplace and a door out on to a screened porch. Dining room and kitchen with south windows, full basement with loads of built in storage space, roof cellar. Two large bedrooms and bath down stairs. Upstairs — an apartment with living room, bedroom, kitchen and full bath. One car garage with built in storage. The location is wonderful, close to school, churches and stores. Let us show this to you — priced $23,000, with five thousand down.

An ideal little home on Ross St. You will like the landscaping — new homes on the street. Two car garage, cement drive. The living room and hall are carpeted with foam rubber padding, picture window and dining ell. Three bedrooms and tiled bath, all in pretty colors. The Youngstown kitchen is a step saver, connects with a large utility room. Oil heat. Two blocks to grade schools.

Plymouth Deer Hunters

Northern Woods Are Full of 'Em!

If you were to take a walk through the northern woodlands this week, chances are very good that you'd meet someone from Plymouth. From the huge list of names on the deer license agenda it would be almost impossible not to run across an old friend.

Although our list is not complete, we've gathered most of the names of the local buck hunters. Some have promised to bring us camp pictures complete with deer! We won't hold our breath on this one, but just in case you're in the vicinity, why don't you look up one of the following. You can't miss him, he's wearing a red hat and matching coat and pants!

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Tuna, Chicken Go into This Casserole Dish

Suggestion for a tasty casserole dish comes this week from Mrs. Emerson Robinson of 1274 Penniman avenue.

"Chicken-Tuna Bake," she finds, meets with equal popularity whether she's serving it to members of the family or friends stopping by for Sunday night supper. Flowers of pimento strips and sprinkling of slivered almonds on top provide an attractive finish to the dish.

Procedure for making this favorite casserole follows:

Chicken-Tuna Bake

- 1 7-ounce package of cut spaghetti
- 1 cup of chopped onion
- 1/2 cup of chopped green pepper
- 6 tablespoons of fat
- 1/4 cup of flour
- 2 1/2 cups of milk
- 2 10 1/2- to 11-ounce cans of condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1/2 cup of chopped pimento
- 2 6 1/2- to 7-ounce cans of flaked tuna

slivered almonds, blanched
Cook spaghetti till tender in boiling, salted water. Drain. Cook the chopped onion and green pepper in hot fat until tender. Blend in the flour. Slowly add the milk and cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly.

Stir in soup, chopped pimento and flaked tuna. Pour into greased three-quart casserole. Garnish with almonds and flowers made of strips of pimento. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 35 minutes. Serves 8-10.

Suggested variations on the recipes are 2 cans of boned chicken in place of tuna or 2 cans of mushroom soup instead of chicken. Topping may be varied by using crushed potato chips, chopped nuts or chow mein noodles.

Measuring ingredients for her favorite casserole is Mrs. Emerson Robinson of 1274 Penniman.

U-M Film Offers Club Members Aid

Wrangles about who should do what, when and how at club meetings can now be settled with ease through the use of a cartoon film strip recently issued by the University of Michigan Audio-Visual Education Center.

Of value to women's clubs, service clubs, high school or college groups and other organizations, the film strip is designed to explain and review the most widely used and most necessary rules of parliamentary procedure.

It focuses on the necessity for rules of order, raises questions which stimulate further study, and emphasizes the need for practice in the proper use of parliamentary procedures. Inquiries about the filmstrip should be addressed to the U-M Audio-Visual Education Center, 4028 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

First Thanksgiving Dinner Was Some Affair! Ninety Unexpected Guests "Dropped In"

One thing today's homemakers can be thankful for is that they aren't living some 300 years ago!

Big as the job is today to get the turkey and all the fixin's ready for Thanksgiving, it's a snap compared with that 1621 feast. To whip up a comparable meal today, a housewife would have to get underway with preparations nearly a month ahead, so it looks from historical accounts of the big event.

Back in the days of the Pilgrim fathers, they really put on a spread — and, we must admit, a lot of credit goes to the Indian squaws who weren't stingy in passing on their culinary secrets to the Plymouth gals.

Of course, all this came after the Indian warriors had imparted their know-how to the men-folks of the colony on planting corn, catching lobsters, eels, and as to where the best oyster and clam beds were to be found.

But to go back to that historic feast, just a run-down on the Thanksgiving menu is enough to make a modern housewife cringe. She can breathe a sigh of relief that she isn't in on the preparation of roast geese, wild turkey, corn bread, hasty pudding ("Ye Indian Porridge," to those who are in the know), stewed eels, dian contingent gave forth with chants and staging of several tribal dances. It was truly merry. And even Captain Miles Standish and his Plymouth Musketees broke down and put on a drill or two, complete with drum and trumpet.

The food was so good and so plentiful, the company so congenial, that both parties decided to hold another such feast the following day. In fact, feasting almost became a habit, because they held a repeat performance the next day, too.

That must have been pretty rough on those Plymouth girls when you think of getting all those meals for so many people, that maybe for breakfast they had whipped up "Ye Indian Porridge" or rye pudding, bread, pea soup or stew (pork-flavored) and finished off the meal with salt fish.

Just take that one item of succotash (Thanksgiving menu), for instance. No, you don't make it with one can of corn and one of lima beans! Take an iron kettle, load it with fowl and corned beef. After brewing a while, add a large white turnip, eight large potatoes, sliced. Next, dump in six quarts of hulled corn and finally, thicken with sifted mush from a quart of cooked dry white beans.

Incidentally, the hulled corn was quite a trick in itself. They used to take the dried kernels, boil them in lye water until the hulls loosened, and then put them in cold water, rubbing the hulls off by hand. They'd finish off the process by boiling what was left of the kernels in fresh water until soft and floury.

It would be mean to close without giving you a real, honest-to-goodness recipe from the Pilgrim's files. So here's the one for that squash bread — experts say it's good, too. Take 1 cup of sifted squash, add two tablespoons of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1 1/2 cups scalded milk and a tablespoon of butter. When cool add half a yeast cake and flour enough to knead 15 minutes. When risen, knead again, shape into loaves and bake when light.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Upstairs - Downstairs ALL AROUND THE HOME

It Takes Only 12 Posies to Make Attractive, Floral Arrangement

A great deal can be done with a dozen roses, carnations or gladioli. By adding some unusual foliage, such as croton leaves, or fernbacia, you can create a very modern arrangement.

With twelve carnations and seven ti leaves, you would want to start with four flowers as the main center line and five to the right side of the center, leaving three for the left side.

Next place the leaves forming the same outline, leaving two of the slenderest leaves to be curled as a bow. Always place your smallest flowers to the outside, bringing your largest flowers to the center and base of the arrangement.

For an unusual effect with the dozen roses, do a take-off on the vertical shape or the logarithm curve. To make it more interesting, choose your container for its unusual qualities. You will need no foliage except the rose leaves.

With a dozen glads you can make two instead of one arrangements. Use seven for one arrangement and five for the other. Pick a pillow-type vase for the arrangement of seven. Use the natural foliage to fill the arrangement. A shallow bowl should be used for the five remaining.

Cut all five stems at different lengths. Place your tallest stem in the center of a pin-point frog, then one about two-thirds its height to the right of the center line curving to the center. Then place the shortest stem in front of the center one, leaning forward a slight bit.

Next break the tips with five or six buds out of the remaining two and fill the bowl around the bases hiding the frog. Add a few sprigs of huckleberry around the frog, to break the straight line of the bowl.

Like in any other art, there is an untold amount of personal pride in creating with your own hands an arrangement of flowers for some special occasion.

"Peach Melba," Perfect Choice For Holidays

Have you planned your dessert for Thanksgiving dinner, that "something special" to serve with cups of fragrant coffee after the turkey is cleared away? Hot Peach Melba is a perfect choice. It's an elegant dessert, and it looks pretty as it comes to the table in a chafing dish, and it doesn't mean much work for a harried holiday cook.

Peach Melba has a glamorous history, too. Originally, it was created by the famous chef, Escoffier, in honor of the equally famous opera singer, Dame Nellie Melba. This version is much like Escoffier's: golden peaches nestling under snowy ice cream topped with a colorful raspberry sauce. But the peaches are canned ones and the raspberries are frozen for quick and easy preparation.

So fill the cups with your best coffee and bring on Peach Melba. Together, they will make this Thanksgiving dinner one to remember!

HOT PEACH MELBA

- 1 pkg. frozen raspberries, thawed
  - ½ cup currant jelly
  - 2 teaspoons cornstarch
  - 1 tablespoon cold water
  - ½ cup peach syrup
  - 8 canned peach halves
  - 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- In a saucepan mash the raspberries. Add jelly and bring to boil. Blend cornstarch and water and add raspberry mixture. Cook, stirring, until mixture is clear. Put through sieve or food mill. Add peach syrup from canned peach halves. (This can be done well ahead of serving time.) When ready to serve, place peach halves and syrup in chafing dish and heat. Place hot peach half, hollow side up, in each serving dish. Top with vanilla ice cream and spoon sauce over each helping. Makes 8 delicious servings.

New Books Teach Tots to Dress Selves

Two clever new books for children, called "All by Himself" and "All by Herself," can help youngsters learn to dress themselves. Attached to the pages of the books are working models of various parts of clothing — snaps, buttons, shoe laces, and such — that show young readers how to manage their own dressing. The pages of the little books are made of cotton cloth so that they will not tear easily.

You will get the most food value from fresh fruits and vegetables if you prepare them correctly. Cook quietly and only until tender. Cook vegetables in their skins whenever possible. Chop fresh foods for salads JUST before serving.

First Lady's Pumpkin Chiffon Pie Heads Congressional Club Recipes

In time for Thanksgiving and holiday festive menus is Mamie Doud Eisenhower's favorite recipe for pumpkin chifon pie. The First Lady contributed her pet recipe to the 1955 edition of the Congressional Club Cookbook.

The club in Washington, D. C. is an organization of congressional wives and women legislators. Their cookbook just off the press boasts personally handwritten favorites of almost 400 wives of senators, representatives, Supreme Court justices and cabinet members and of women legislators.

The cookbook recipes cover every section of the United States, Hawaii and Alaska. Priced at $2.50 plus 25 cents for mailing, the cookbook may be ordered from the Congressional Club, 2001 New Hampshire Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Here is Mrs. Eisenhower's pumpkin chifon pie contribution.

Pumpkin Chifon Pie

- 3 beaten egg yolks
  - ¾ cup brown sugar
  - 1½ cups cooked pumpkin
  - ½ cup milk
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
  - 1 envelope Knox gelatin
  - ¼ cup cold water
  - 3 stiffly beaten egg whites
  - ¼ cup granulated sugar
- Combine egg yolks, brown sugar, pumpkin, milk, salt and spice. Cook in double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Soak gelatin in cold water, stir into hot mixture. Chill until partly set. Beat egg whites, add granulated sugar, and beat stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and chill until set. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes one big pie or 8 individual pies.

Economist Helps Mom Plan Family Meals During Holidays

Every family knows the "Star Chef" around home during the holiday season is Mom. Between November and January, she is entertaining guests, cooking regular meals for the family and still trying to keep variety and change in her daily menus.

A noted home economist suggests Apple Meat Balls for those days immediately preceding holiday feasts. Easy to make, economical, and if Dad arrives home late, very easy to keep warm. It's a good idea to make plenty because you'll surely hear requests for seconds.

- ¾ pound ground beef
- ¼ pound ground pork
- 1 apple
- 1 small onion
- 2 stalks celery
- 5 crackers
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons lard
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup water.

Combine beef and pork. Core apple and grind with onion, celery and crackers. Add to meat.

Towels Take Beatings; Buy Durable Ones

Pulling and tugging seems to be part of life for every Turkish towel and washcloth. Because of this, homemakers should choose durable towels that can take the strain of family use and frequent laundering.

Along with being durable towels should also be absorbent, caution textile experts.

You can feel how absorbent a towel is by the loops. They increase the surface area and thereby the amount of moisture the towel can absorb. The loops, or pile, should be thickly packed and about ½ inch long. Shorter loops don't add much absorbency and longer ones are likely to catch and pull out.

The loops may be single or double. Double loops have two strands of yarn and, of course, are more absorbent. However, double loop towels should have a stronger background warp.

For durability the weave of a towel must be firm and close. A twill weave is stronger than the plain or basket weave; this can be checked by holding the towel up to a strong light. The selvege and hems are also an indication of a durable towel. Check for a good firm selvege on both sides and see that the raw edges are turned under at least ¼ inch and sewed with close stitches and fine, strong thread.

Authorities add that proper care can lengthen the life of your towels. Don't let them become too soiled. When washing, rinse them thoroughly and hang colored towels in the shade. Never iron them, but shake the towels before hanging to dry and again when folding. Distribute the wear by rotating the towels on your linen shelf. And, lastly, repair them as soon as they are torn.

Here's Way to Have Pie Mix Always Handy

During the holiday whirl of parties and dinners, make baking easy for yourself. Keep pie crust ingredients already mixed by combining 7 cups of flour, 4 teaspoons salt and 2 cups lard. Sift dry ingredients, cut lard into flour until crumbs are coarse and granular. Cover and store in refrigerator. Two-crust pies require 2½ cups of mix; one-crust pie requires 1½ cups of mix.

A cooling and nourishing summer drink can be made by shaking 1/3 cup crushed fresh or thawed raspberries (or substitute 2 tablespoons raspberry jam) with 1 cup milk and 1 drop red food coloring.

Fur Muffs Highlight Winter Fashion Pix

New fashion note is the importance of the large fur muffs to be shirtwaists and furry plateau worn with trim wool suits, Oriental shaped hats to be worn with tal lush fabrics for evening dresses, handsome-looking black satin coats of textured wool tailleurs.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

RANCH-TYPE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Blunk, 377 Arthur street, was only recently completed by local builders, Stewart Oldford and sons. The relatively low priced residence is finished in split face Roman brick and consists of five rooms and one and one-half baths. Heated by gas via unique General Electric gas wall registers, the home also features a beautiful fireplace of ledgerlog with a slate hearth. The home has a full size basement with ample storage and living space in addition to spacious garage facilities directly connected to the house for easy accessibility.

10 Year Old House Easy to Up-to-Date

A milestone in the country's record home-building boom will be celebrated in 1956. The first batch of post-war houses—a whole million of them, according to government figures—will become 10 years old. Unlike the first 10 years of marriage, reputed to be the hardest, the first 10 years of living in a new house should be the easiest. Most new homes have a moratorium on major repairs and improvements. The second decade, however, may be different. The home-owner will do well to set aside a neat egg for repairs and improvements. The house built shortly after World War II is likely to be dated today in a number of things. The average 1946 model was small, compact. It was built on the assumption that people no longer spent much time at home. But along came television and other inducements and most people didn't want to go out. A recent survey conducted by the U.S.

Federal Reserve System revealed that the most common dissatisfaction among home-owners today is lack of space. The 10-year-old house is due for expansion—a room in the attic, a playroom in the basement, or a new wing. Color styling is another change. The modern house is colorful. Ten years ago there was not much color variation in building materials. The average home-owner had to be satisfied, for example, with roof colors in darker hues. Today, asphalt shingles come in a whole gamut of different colors, light to dark. Roofing, in terms of most other improvements, is not expensive. Climate control has become part of the modern home. Its components are economical, efficient heating and air-conditioning apparatus plus improved insulation with mineral wool. Economical heating and air conditioning demands at least four inches of mineral wool in the ceiling and three inches in the wall. Resulting winter heat savings may range up to 40 per cent. To ascertain the number of feet of Northern hardwood flooring required to cover a given area, it is necessary to find the number of square feet of floor space to be covered and add thereto a certain percentage depending on the face width of the flooring. For the popular standard face width of 2 1/4-inch, add 33 1/3%; for 1 1/2-inch, add 50%; for 2-inch, add 37 1/2%. It is good practice to add also 3 to 5% for the customary waste in cutting and fitting. "packaged" methods include air distribution systems that are factory built, with flexibility to permit installation in any style and size of home. One of these new systems, made by Coleman, distributes warm air through 3/4-inch-diameter metal tubes instead of the usual big, rectangular ducts. An advantage of the 3/4-inch tube is that it is slim enough to fit within a standard wall framed with 2x4 lum-

With Installation Flexible to Any Style House, Prefabricated Systems Improve Home Heating

Completely factory-engineered heating systems—not just furnaces—are a coming thing in home heating. The present conventional method of heating requires that much of the actual fabrication work be done in the house to be heated. In a report on the warm-air furnace industry, the American Institute of Management points out that "the heating installation is, in effect, manufactured in the home." A few systems now on the market, however, are leading a trend toward complete manufacturing in the factory. These systems offer greater precision in manufacture and advantageous design concepts that are too involved for on-the-job work. Conventional forced warm-air heating requires that all ductwork, which carries the warm air from the furnace to the rooms, be individually designed and built for each house. Pre-engineered ber. A 2x4 actually measures only 1 1/2 inches by 3 1/2 inches, so that no pipe larger than 3 1/2 inches will fit. Despite their size, the small tubes carry the same amount of heat as larger ducts. The air is warmer than in conventional heating and it is moved at higher velocity. But when the warm air gets to the rooms, its temperature is decreased and its velocity is lowered in "blenders" that are used instead of conventional registers. In a blender, warm air is mixed with room-temperature air, so that when the air enters the room its velocity and temperature are well within the ranges set by heating engineers. An important advantage of the blending action is that it keeps room air in constant circulation, with minimum heat variation from floor to ceiling for balanced comfort conditions. All the air in each room in a house is circulated every seven to eight minutes. A system of this sort is designed so that summer air conditioning can easily be incorporated, either at the time of the heating installation or later. By using "add-on" cooling equipment, summer air conditioning can be supplied without taking any additional floor space. The floor space required by the furnace initially can be as little as 2 1/4 square feet.

Question: I am redecorating my dining room and would like to put in a chair rail. Can you tell me the height this should be from the floor, how it should be secured to the wall, and what size and kind of lumber I should use? Answer: Place one of your dining room chairs against the wall, and run a level line around the room at the height of the back of the chair and use this as a guide to placement of the rail. Depending on ceiling height, most rails are between 30 and 36 inches above the floor. Get a standard chair rail from your lumber dealer. He has these in stock, under such stock numbers as 223, 274, 275, 284 and 285. Attach to the wall with counter-sunk finishing nails set into wall studs, then fill nail holes with plastic wood. Question: I have completed a concrete block garage, the rear wall of which forms the rear wall of a porch. I am planning to cover this block wall with a smooth coat of waterproof cement and then apply a fabric-backed wall paper. Please advise what coating I would have to put on the wall first before using this paper. Answer: Even a smooth waterproof cement wall would be too rough for paper, which draws in tightly to the surface. All sand grains of the cement would show on the paper surface. A thin plaster wash over the cement would make it sufficiently smooth for application of paper. Apply the plaster of Paris wash

Difference in size between new and old heating ducts illustrates advances in heating system design. Modern 3 1/2-inch-diameter tube carries just as much heat as the big old-fashioned one and does a more efficient job of distributing the heat to the rooms where it's needed. Small tubes also give more headroom in basement, making floor space more usable. "packaged" methods include air distribution systems that are factory built, with flexibility to permit installation in any style and size of home. One of these new systems, made by Coleman, distributes warm air through 3/4-inch-diameter metal tubes instead of the usual big, rectangular ducts. ## HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: I have several bags of cement which have been stored in the basement all winter. The cement has hardened, even though the basement is not damp. Is there anything that can be done to make this cement usable? Answer: Unless waterproofed, most basement floors absorb moisture from the ground on which they rest, and this moisture is in turn absorbed by the air of the basement. Anything placed on the floor absorbs the moisture instead, and this is what happened to your cement. It may be that the portion of the bags farthest from the floor can be crumbled in the hand. If so, it would be rejected by professional standards. Question: I am building a cedar closet in my basement. Now that I have the cedar boards up, what is the proper procedure for conditioning the wood? Answer: Since the purpose of a cedar closet is exclusion of moths, and the repellent is the odor of the oil of cedar, the boards are left bare. This not only repels moths but gives the closet itself a clean, fresh odor. About every three or four years, it is necessary to sand the board surfaces lightly to renew the effect and permit the oils deeper in the wood to escape. Question: I am redecorating my dining room and would like to put in a chair rail. Can you tell me the height this should be from the floor, how it should be secured to the wall, and what size and kind of lumber I should use? Answer: Place one of your dining room chairs against the wall, and run a level line around the room at the height of the back of the chair and use this as a guide to placement of the rail. Depending on ceiling height, most rails are between 30 and 36 inches above the floor. Get a standard chair rail from your lumber dealer. ## Choose Color for House As You Pick Clothes Color

"Most home-owners today are no longer afraid of color," says Beatrice West, a leading decorator who has color-styled more than 100,000 houses. "In the past," she says, "it was customary to find most every house in a neighborhood painted just about the same. It didn't matter that each house was different in size, shape, architecture and setting. Owners were timid, afraid of their own color preferences." Miss West feels that in general women tend to be more sophisticated about color than men. "Stout women rarely wear light colors," she says. "They know that light colors make them appear larger while dark colors tend to make them look slimmer. They know that large, bold fabric patterns also emphasize bigness while small, conservative ones make a woman seem smaller. Vertical stripes give the impression of height while horizontal ones emphasize width. "Same with a house. Light colors make a small house look bigger. Dark colors make a big house look smaller. Color makes a top-heavy house seem lower and longer. Emphasis on vertical features, such as the roof, will make a low house look taller." Miss West suggests that because the roof has the largest visual area, it is very important to select an attractive roof color when redecorating. It is also important that the owner's liking for the roof is as durable as the long life an asphalt roof provides. Asphalt shingles come in a wide variety of colors to suit any color preference.

Americana

The ranch type house has pioneered new progress in American home building. It's a typically American style—open, frank, efficient and yet comfortable. Stairways and halls do not take up important space. Large window areas add the refreshing feeling of the outdoors. The interior is open, one room flowing into another. The theme is naturalness in design and materials. Such materials as ceramic tile, stone, wood are popular. Ceramic tile, for instance, is used to unite open-plan areas such as the living-dining-kitchen area. Durable and practical, tile's handsome variety is suitable in any decorative scheme. Modern homes on hilly terrain don't have to sacrifice outdoor living. If the rocky or hilly landscape prevents a terrace extension to your living room area, surface a roof with a durable, weatherproof material like quarry tile which blends well with the out-of-doors. A roof deck will give your family years of pleasure for generations.

Decorator's Notebook

Now that the holiday season is definitely on the way, the living and dining areas of your home are certain to get double and triple duty. If you plan them with furnishings like these, your holiday living and entertaining should be as enjoyable for you as it will be for your family and friends.

Furniture in Early American styling with a fine patina wood finish will set a warm mellow mood to any room. Both practical and fashionable are the louvered sliding doors on the buffet and chest pieces. At the same time, each has more than adequate drawer space. There are deep drawers under the storage section for linens, and shallow drawers above for silver and other miscellany. You'll appreciate, too, the variety of sizes and shapes of occasional tables in this group. There is the dainty square for a small corner, a circular for the center of a grouping, and a step table for chair-side use for still another variation. This surely is a furniture grouping designed to answer all the requirements for family and holiday living for you, your family and your friends.

This grouping is especially ideal for the living room with a fireplace. The seating pieces are loungy and comfortable. The lovely and attractive linen upholstery over foam rubber cushions is zippered along the sides for simple removal when cleaning is necessary. ## Safe-Driving Day Challenges Public to Keep Accident-Free

S-D Day is only two weeks away. For those who don't recall, the S-D stands for Safe Driving. Thursday, December 1 will be the second annual S-D Day and local police authorities are joining in the nationwide effort to educate the motoring public about the dangers of auto operation.

Its chief purpose is to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be greatly reduced when motorists and pedestrians fulfill their moral and civic responsibility for safety.

Safe-Driving Day is sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with many prominent organizations. The challenge to every community will be:

Not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period — in daylight or darkness!

Scorekeeping of fatalities will begin on November 21 — S-D Day minus 10 — and will continue through S-D Day plus 10. Reports on the cumulative results will be published by the President's Committee.

This year, as last, the purpose of S-D Day is to show that motorists and pedestrians can reduce traffic accidents by their own actions. The first S-D Day, last December, produced a reduction in the national toll of deaths and injuries, and in the number of accidents as against the comparable day in 1953.

For the second S-D Day, every-one in every state and community

At Last! A Tree With No Raking

Wanted: A tree to provide beauty and shade without providing leaves to rake.

There is no such tree, for into each home owner's life some leaves must fall. One of the closest things to it, however, is the thornless honeylocust.

The thornless honeylocust has a compound leaf made up of small leaflets only an inch or two in length. Leaflets are so small the litter is relatively light when autumnal shedding occurs.

The dark green foliage offers a light, lacy shade in summer; giving a unique effect. And the lightness of the shade is beneficial to lawns.

Other advantages are the tree's ability to withstand disease and its wind resistant branches. It also

Pursell UN Articles Draw Fire from U of M Professor

Editor of the Plymouth Mail
Dear Sir:

My attention has been called a series of articles in your columns by Mr. R. Roy Pursell. The cases he mentioned in support of his adverse opinion of the United Nations are such a wild jumble of military law, civil law, international law, and foreign municipal law that I fear they may spread only confusion in the minds of readers. From some of his statements one would even get the absurd impression that treaties still unratified were already being enforced by our courts.

To untangle some of this confusion, let me set down some plain statements that would be accepted by almost any student of constitutional law. (1) The statement of certain rights or liberties, as in the "Human Rights" covenant, does not limit a wider statement in our national constitution or any state constitution; it merely asserts a minimum standard. When our constitution was made there was, at first, no Bill of Rights; and some of its authors objected (as apparently Mr. Pursell does) that to define rights was to limit them. This objection has been answered, in law and in experience; in no single case have the first ten amendments to the federal constitution operated to decrease the liberties assured in any state constitution; in some cases, particularly in conjunction with the fourteenth amendment, the federal Bill of Rights has operated to increase them.

(2) Neither the "Human Rights" covenant nor the "Genocide convention" could, even if ratified, limit any freedom at present enjoyed. Until ratified, they cannot legally be taken into account by any American court. (3) Mr. Pursell's real fear seems to be that liberties may be increased, for he expresses alarm lest restrictions against the Negro and the Oriental in this country might be swept away. Unfortunately (in my opinion) this is impossible, for the United Nations as such possesses no means of enforcement. If we only could enforce a standard of rights and liberties, we could emancipate the millions who now groan in slavery behind the iron curtain. Any enforcement or treaties, covenants, or conventions, however, now rests with the nation itself. (4) No phrase in either the Human Rights covenant, nor the Genocide convention, annuls either trial by jury nor freedom of the press, nor could by any possibility do so. Hence Mr. Pursell's statements that you could be denied "a trial by a jury of your peers for merely expressing an opinion about kings, Communism, etc." and again "Under the Pact I could be hauled away to a foreign prison for writing this letter," rest either on sheer ignorance of the law or a deliberate desire to mislead others who may be ignorant.

(5) So far from it being true, as stated, that the "chairman of the Military Staff Committee . . . will always be a Communist," Russia is the one power which has prevented the establishment of a United Nations armed force, by use of its veto. No such armed force now exists; and, what is more, the only large scale military operation to date by the individual armies of the member states of the United Nations was in Korea against Communist aggression. (6) Every proposal, free from any quarter, for putting

Law Nabs Hunters

Double trouble descended on four Chicago hunters while visiting Michigan's Paw Paw area recently.

The four made off with towels from a motel. The motel operator called state police, who stopped the quartet en route to Chicago.

While checking the tow-nappers, the officers found not only the stolen property but also that the four had been hunting illegally on resident licenses.

For the miscues, a Paw Paw justice sent one of the four to jail for 15 days and collected $37.80 from each of the others.

"teeth" in the United Nations, has met Russian opposition. It is Russia, and Russia alone, which has made frequent use of the veto power. This is because Russia is usually in a minority in United Nations votes, and is unwilling to submit to majority rule. Mr. Pursell and Mr. Molotov are doubtless unlike in many ways, but they are both enemies of increasing the power of the United Nations!

So much for general principles of law. As for Mr. Pursell's "facts," many of them are completely irrelevant to the issue. The soldier who got five years imprisonment for stealing an automobile (an extremely serious crime, by the way) was tried by the law of France, not that of the United Nations. I hope that a Frenchman who stole an automobile in Plymouth would be duly sentenced for his crime. The main issue in the seizure of the steel plants was the extent of the president's war powers under our own constitution. Our courts do, it is true, enforce treaty rights of foreign residents; they have done so since the beginning of the nation. If certain unjust or restrictive land or marriage laws in certain states are nullified by treaty terms, that is not something new which started with the United Nations—we have had similar treaties before, of which the courts took proper cognizance. It is flatly untrue that in all, or even in most, foreign countries "one is guilty until he can prove himself to be innocent"; our American principle of assumption of innocence came from the British common law, and it applies today to most of the non-totalitarian countries. The pathetic illusion that we are the only free people in the world is not the least of Mr. Pursell's fallacies. A Swiss, a Dane, a New Zealander, to take three random instances, enjoys quite as wide a range of freedom as does Mr. Pursell or myself.

Yours sincerely,

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

THE NERVOUS MODERN CHILD

If this restless age does not soon come to an end, the world will be crowded with physical and mental wrecks.

Children were formerly kept comparatively quiet during infancy and childhood. They were also put to bed early at night. During the day they played with a few simple toys or romped in the gardens or under the trees.

Today, their nurseries are fitted up with every kind of contraption intended to amuse and interest them. Ambitious mothers try to teach them to fit maps and puzzles together at a very tender age. As soon as they begin to toddle, they play in the streets where life is a constant source of danger.

Poor little things dart back and forth on treacherous skates and scooters, escaping automobiles, looking and listening at every turn for the juggernauts of death that strike so swiftly, maiming or killing. They are tense and on the quiver every moment, for they cannot romp, skate and play where deadly machines dart back and forth without realizing that at any moment they may be crushed under a truck, automobile or motorcycle.

When they go to school, the work is of necessity under our public school system, so arranged that a certain amount must be covered in a given time. They are still further stimulated by the offering of various rewards or distinctions if they attain certain standards.

The result is that some children easily reach the coveted goal while others who may have tried equally as hard and failed, feel bitter and keen disappointment which is further aggravated into resentment against the teacher who was in no way to blame.

If you enter a moving picture theatre where there is a show of a character which is most exciting, filled with fighting and dangerous hair-breadth escapes, you will find the place packed with children of all ages, squealing, yelling and otherwise giving vent to their excited pent-up emotions.

Do you wonder that nervousness is increasing among children? It is a disease that is growing by leaps and bounds. The nervous child unless placed in the proper environment and treated as he should be, will grow up into a neuroathemic, delinquent or psycho-neurotic. He may ultimately land in an insane asylum. The latter institutions are becoming so overcrowded that at the present rate of increase in their population, in a few years the sane, normal people that are left will be unable to bear the burden of the unfit.

30 YEARS OF RESEARCH at the Bell Telephone Laboratories have resulted in a new type of cable that is actually a copper spring coiled inside a flexible covering. The new cable is called a "wave guide" and it can be run uphill or down and be bent around corners. Its most remarkable feature is the number of Long Distance conversations it can carry. In the future we may have "wave guides" no thicker than a fountain pen that will carry tens of thousands of Long Distance calls and many television programs at one time. Research such as this keeps Long Distance rates low. Call tonight and see!

THE OTHER DAY we heard of a little girl who wanted to call up and invite a playmate to come over. But Mary wasn't home, so she called June. She wasn't home either, so her mother suggested calling Phyllis. "Yes," said the little girl, "but first I'll wait a while because somebody else on the line might want to make a call."

Isn't it surprising how wonderful kids can be!

To Post Honor Rolls Only After End of Semesters

Publishing of the honor roll of high school students after each marking period has been discontinued upon recommendation of an honors committee composed of faculty members.

Principal Carvel Bentley said that honor rolls will be released for publication after each of the two semesters instead of after the six and seven-week marking periods.

In previous years, those having a B average or better were placed on the honor roll. The committee has ruled that a student must have no marks lower than B in order to rate the honor roll from now on.

The principal said that the posting of honor rolls every marking period often resulted in inconsistencies. Some students would make up work which placed them on the honor roll after it was released. Then too, the growing student population has resulted in extremely long lists which have caused room for error. The semester honor roll will be undoubtedly shorter and can be considered more of an honor, the principal pointed out.

High school students who are placed on the semester honor roll will be admitted to a National Honor Society which is being organized. To be placed on the honor roll, a student must also have four classes which meet five days a week.

It has been recommended that three award programs be planned at times outside the regular school program. These would include athletic awards in May, service honor awards in April and scholastic honors in February.

Here's Suggestion For Holiday Meals

Here is a delightful treat that will make the eyes of family and friends alike light up.

Served as a perfect accompaniment to any holiday meal, that's cranberry fritters. Combine 1 cup flour, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1/3 cup milk and 2 teaspoons melted lard for fritter batter.

Then cut cranberry sauce in 1/2 inch slices. Dry and dust with flour, dip in batter and slip into hot lard at 360° F. for deep-fat frying. Fry until batter is cooked and nicely browned.

Fall is a good time to spray your lawn with 2,4-D to get rid of dandelion, chickory, wild carrot and buckthorn plants.

Pumpkin Pie Has Competitor In This Dessert

The traditional favorite, pumpkin pie and whipped cream, has now found a competitor for the holiday season, Pumpkin Cake.

A well-known home economist, suggests you try this new dessert with your family. Just watch and hear what they have to say about it. When the children voice their approval, you know for sure this recipe is a headliner.

You'll like the fine flavor and texture of this cake made with lard. It's thrifty, too.

Pumpkin Cake

- 1/2 cup lard
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 3/4 cup strained stewed pumpkin
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2/3 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
- 1 1/3 cup sour milk

Line two 8-inch layer cake pans with waxed paper. Cream lard and sugar together. Add eggs and pumpkin. Sift dry ingredients and mix with nuts. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately to the creamed mixture. Pour into cake pans and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 minutes. Cool and frost with Spiced Whipped Cream.

Don't Trap Mink for Wife's Coat, Buy from Manufacturer, Urges Prof

If, by some slim chance, you had an idea of picking up a mink coat for the little woman this hunting season, forget it.

That's the advice of Associate Prof. Earl C. O'Roke of the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources, who can think of a whole host of reasons why you shouldn't go mink hunting or trapping, although the season for both is beginning.

What makes mink on the hoof a bad bet? First of all, says the professor, they're pretty smart and just wily enough to do a good job of avoiding you and your traps.

The females don't move around much anyway, he adds, but stay put and have half a dozen youngsters every spring—they're good mothers. As for the males, they roam, but are elusive, and hunters usually have to go after them with dogs.

Mink are similar to weasels but larger, slim, and about two feet long. They travel by leaps and bounds and naturally feed on mice and small mammals. Ranch mink, those bred in civilization for their fur, have a much more interesting diet of tomato puree, fish and horsemeat, Professor O'Roke describes.

They're expert swimmers, making their homes in burrows along the banks of streams and lakes or under logs. Mink usually wander at night and many raid hen houses, says the professor.

If you did catch one what would you do with it? There's a law against keeping wild mink in captivity, and as for that fur—well . . .

What makes the pelts of these small animals so valuable? Nothing at all except that they're quite durable and make up into a beautiful-looking coat," says this expert on forest zoology. And the long hours of work in stretching, tanning and preparing the skins for the finished coat is what ups the price.

"You'd probably have to trap hundreds of mink before you'd find 40 whose pelts were a close enough match to make into a coat of uniform quality and color," he points out.

So if the wife wants one you'd better buy it, not trap it, he advises, even though you'll be paying seven times more than the manufacturer paid for the skins originally.

EVERYTHING YOU DO!

FROM THE MOMENT you awaken until you go to bed, almost everything you do is closely dependent upon the operation of trucks. In fact even while you're asleep, trucks are working for you. (Beds arrive by truck, too, of course.)

Without trucks, your favorite food market would have empty shelves. Without trucks, you wouldn't find gas stations located conveniently almost everywhere you turn. Without trucks, the building of new homes, factories and stores would slow to a walk and businesses of all kinds everywhere would suffer.

Sooner or later, everything you eat, wear, or use depends on trucks for transportation. Eventually, everything has to get to you—the consumer. So, when you consider that trucks haul three times the tonnage handled by all the other forms of transportation combined, you realize how very important they are to you!

To Create Small Lakes For Game Development

From 20 to 35 small lakes and marshes will be created in Holly, Ortonville and Bald Mountain recreation areas in the next few months.

The impoundments will be from one to 20 acres in size and are being developed for ducks, furbearers and other wildlife. Work is expected to begin next week.

This is the first time a number of impoundments have been focused in a small area. All three of the recreation areas are in southeastern Michigan.

Conservation Department biologists say they expect such an arrangement will provide a gathering place for waterfowl. The birds will move from marsh to marsh while resting on their north and south migrations.

Fittman-Robertson federal funds are being used to set up the project. All three of the areas are open to hunting.

The Sudan comprises nearly 1,600,000 square miles, an area one-third the size of the United States, yet its population is only 8,820,000, about the same as Ohio's.

He continued by stating that a vast majority of the employers in the Plymouth area are to be congratulated for co-operating with the Michigan State Department of Labor and the Plymouth high school during the past year in seeing that all minors who are working are legally employed.

Practically all Plymouth employers have taken a definite interest in these young workers by seeing that the work which they perform has not been injurious to their health, injurious to their morals, or that it has not been unduly hazardous. ## "Be Prepared," Extra Cooking Around Corner

With extra cooking duties required of the homemaker these next two holiday months, it is suggested by experts that additional meat cuts be kept in the freezer for unexpected guests.

Buy with the future in mind and when preparing the meat for the freezer, think of its future. Packaging of meat for freezing is an important step and should not be lightly overlooked by the homemaker. It can mean the difference between tender, fresh meat cuts and less desirable products.

Meat should be packaged in sizes and amounts to suit your family needs. Wrap the meat cuts in moisture vapor proof paper. In wrapping several small packages together, such as chops, place 2 pieces of moisture vapor proof paper between each cut for easy separation.

Irregular shaped pieces which might pierce the paper in handling or packaging may be wrapped in additional butcher paper or placed in a stockinette for added protection.

Ground meat should be packaged firmly and without salt. Salt has a tendency to encourage rancidity. Exclude all air possible while wrapping. If meat is to be used for hamburgers or meat loaf, it should be packaged in convenient sizes. This will facilitate handling when thawing.

Plymouth Dem Club To Hear Swainson

State Senator John B. Swainson will report on the special session of the Michigan Legislature at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Democratic club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schurmanway Rollins, 156 West Liberty st., Plymouth, Friday, November 18, at 8 p.m. It was announced by the club's newly elected president, Orville Tungate.

In addition to making this announcement at an executive board meeting in his home Tuesday evening, Tungate led a discussion on planning the Democratic club's activities for 1956.

Since Senator Swainson represents the Plymouth area, anyone is welcome to attend the meeting and ask questions, Tungate said.

State Police Hope To Recruit 200

In an effort to obtain 200 more men, as authorized at a session of the state legislature this year, the Michigan State Police will have a special recruiting team in Detroit from November 14 to 19 and November 21 to 26. The recruiting bureau will have offices all day at the Michigan State Police post located on Grand River at Seven Mile road. Its purpose will be to explain new increases in pay and assist applicants interested in joining the department.

In addition to this recruiting location, applicants may also visit any State Police post or talk to any State Police officer. Or they may write to the State Civil Service Commission or the Michigan State Police, Lansing.

Physical requirements include an age range of between 21 and 29, inclusive, not less than five feet, nine inches tall and in good physical condition. Applicants must have at least a high school education or its equivalent.

In addition to salaries, troopers receive approximately $75 a month in subsistence pay and their uniforms. While in training, recruits get the same pay as a first year trooper. The pay in the trooper rank ranges from $151 to $192 every two weeks.

Two State Park Camps Too Costly To Operate

Two state park group camps are being discontinued as being too expensive to operate.

The facilities to be discontinued are located at Muskegon state park and Waterloo recreation area.

The Muskegon state park camp, a converted CCC camp with a capacity of 120, will be removed this fall. The camp has been used for several years by 4-H clubs, Scouts and church groups.

Groups which normally used the camp will be transferred to facilities at Proud Lake recreation area and Ludington state park.

Burns Lodge, a small group camp at Waterloo recreation area, will be closed after February reservations have been fulfilled.

The lodge, with a capacity of 20, is a farmhouse which is too old for further use. The house was obtained by the state with the recreation area from the National Park Service in 1943.

"Excuse me," said the fat man, returning to his seat in the theater, "but wasn't it you whose feet I stepped on when I went out?" "Yes, but that's all —" "Then," interrupted the fat man squeezing by, "this is my row."

Albert S. Hazzard, director of the Conservation Department's institute for fisheries research, will become Assistant Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission December 1, it was announced today.

Dr. Hazzard had been in charge of the institute since 1935 when he came to Michigan from Salt Lake City where he had been associate aquatic biologist with the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries. He received his doctor's degree in zoology from Cornell University in 1931.

As head of the institute, a section of the Department's division of fish and fisheries with offices in Ann Arbor, Dr. Hazzard played an important role in shaping many of the policies governing the management of fish in Michigan. He gained national recognition for his work and is author of many technical and popular articles on fish and fishing.

The 1955 Yearbook of Agriculture is dedicated this year to water and contains a section on watershed improvement written in part by Michigan conservation officials.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture publication discusses at length present American policies and methods of water use and conservation. Publication is expected shortly.

Michigan's 1955 deer hunting season, set for November 15-30, is expected to attract some 425,000 hunters — about 25,000 less than the average turnout for the last three seasons.

The decrease is anticipated because no special season will be held this year in the northern lower peninsula. Special "any deer" seasons in the region in 1952-53-54 boosted the average annual deer hunter total to 450,000.

This fall's kill will be about the same as last year, when 65,000 deer were taken.

Pre-season snows in the northern deer range chronicled possible cold weather and good tracking conditions for the Tuesday opening.

As usual, the Conservation Department will make traffic surveys and biological checks during the season. In recent years, these studies have given quick,

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

accurate information for press and general public.

Duck and goose hunting prospects in the immediate future look good at the midway point in Michigan's 70-day season.

The total kill of 4,895 ducks and coots to date at Pointe Mouillee already has exceeded the total bag for the entire 1954 season at that game area.

Between 8,000 and 10,000 geese were reported in the Swan Creek-Fennville area with good kills all last week.

Some 690 geese have been bagged at Swan Creek this season, including a single day kill of 134 last week. The total is about even with the kill at this date last year.

Goose hunting at Fennville is slightly poorer than last year, but well above the 1953 level. Some 262 geese have been bagged this year, compared with 318 during the same period last year.

Major work on a $150,000 stream improvement project on the Cedar River in Clare and Gladwin counties was completed this fall by Conservation Department workers.

Maintenance work in the spring will complete the two-year project which is designed to improve fish conditions and to combat erosion.

Construction of dams, stream deflectors, fences and other structures was continued on four other major stream systems this year.

Half completed was a two-year, $140,000 project started this season on the White River in Newaygo county.

Stream programs also were well advanced on Pine Creek, Dickinson county; the Manistee River, Crawford county; and the Huron River, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

The first half of a two-year project on Pine Creek was completed last month. Another $24,000 is earmarked for work on the project during the next year.

The second unit of a long range program on the Manistee River was finished during the past season. Work on the two-year Huron River program was completed as far as present easements allowed.

Structures erected by stream improvement crews control water fowl to reduce both stagnation and rapid drainage of rain and stream waters.

Department workers are continuing survey operations for stream improvement programs on the Pilgrim River, Houghton county; the Sucker River, Alger and Luce counties; and the big west branch of the Escanaba River, Marquette county.

One small fire burned less than an acre of Michigan forests and grasslands last week moving the year's damage total to 7207 acres.

Christmas Seals Arriving In Local Homes this Week

Christmas seals will start their annual pilgrimage into 500,000 Wayne county homes beginning November 16 as the 49th annual Christmas Seal Sale opens here to raise money to fight tuberculosis.

The Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium have joined forces to present a strengthened fight against disease in Wayne county so funds from the sale of both the single bar cross seals and the double bar cross seals will go into one fund.

The campaign will continue to the end of the year.

A luncheon to kick-off the campaign was held Monday at the Hotel Statler as members of the board of directors and volunteer workers of both organizations gather.

The single bar cross seals, designed by Mel Birnkrant while a student at Mumford High School last year, feature one of the Wise Men on a blue background with the cross in red as the Christmas star.

The double bar cross seals of the TB and Health Society show happy children bearing gifts. While each seal is a design in itself, two of the seals make a complete picture. The dark blue and apple green stamps were conceived by Jean Simpson, a New York artist, in a national competition. They are used by 3,000 member organizations of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Tuberculosis is a disease which has persisted through the centuries. It has killed quietly or silently left its victims handicapped for life. It has destroyed family life and left children parentless. In some parts of the world today it destroys whole generations of families.

Scientific research through the past 100 years has found what causes TB, how it can be controlled, how it can be detected, but it has not yet found a way to rid the world of it.

Each week in Michigan 110 new cases of TB are reported. In 1954 there were 3,745 new cases discovered in Wayne county and there were 303 deaths here. Tuberculosis is still the No. One killer among the infectious diseases. TB is far from "licked."

More money is needed to continue to step up the control of TB so that its cost in dollars and in human misery can be further cut down. Money is needed for intensified research so that eventually a vaccine may be discovered that will "lick" this great public health problem.

Christmas Seals are the sole support of the services of both the Sanatorium and the TB Society. They provide free chest X-rays, operate the Christmas Seal Camp at North Lake, give rehabilitation services for TB patients in Herman Kiefer Hospital and Maybury Sanatorium, health education services for schools, teachers and organized adult groups in industrial plants. Christmas Seals also finance research projects throughout the country.

By the time the average politician is ready to lead, the people are several miles ahead.

Conventions Get Sisters' Attention

Journalism students will represent Madonna college at the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Detroit. The convention is being held at the Statler hotel this weekend. Beatrice Czenkusz, editor of the Madonna Herald, and Tillie Gresser, associate editor, and other staff members will also attend.

Sister M. Petronia, College Librarian, and Sister M. Bonifilia, Community superior of Felician schools, will attend the Fourth National Meeting of the Franciscan Teaching Sisterhoods held on Nov. 25-26 at Marian College, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The theme for the convention will be "Nature: the Mirror of God." The idea of nature as the mirror of God is the Franciscan approach to nature and the study of the natural sciences, an approach which should foster the spirit of God-consciousness.

The 55th Annual Convention of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers, Inc., will be held at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, on Nov. 25-26. Exhibits and outstanding papers in these fields will present materials pertinent to teaching problems.

Attending this convention will be Sister M. Aurelia and Madonna College faculty members, Sister M. Virgilia, mathematics instructor, and Sister M. Danutha, biology instructor. Also present will be a number of sisters students of Madonna College and Geraldine Sprywa, mathematics major.

The Plymouth Corners Society, Children of the American Revolution will meet on Wednesday, November 16. Betty Worth, 51000 North Territorial road will be hostess to the group.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Congratulations, Beatrice Walton, chairman, and her co-chairmen, LeMay Smith and Lucinda Archer, for a very successful and profitable Smorgasbord dinner. Over 700 dinners were served on Sunday, November 6, from 1 through 5 p.m. A lot of planning, working and calling go to make a successful dinner and our auxiliary is proud and grateful to everyone who takes part in these plans. An important part is the advance selling of tickets by members. Grace Burley, Lucinda Archer and Jennie Talmadge topped the ticket sales and we feel that this deserves special mention in our column. Chairman Bea Walton expresses her sincere appreciation to all those who donated, particularly the local business people, and to everyone who worked during the dinner and before. The auxiliary would like to thank Post members, Lee Coolman, Ken Gust, Ray Danol, who contributed their part toward the dinner's success. We hope to see all our friends who attended and enjoyed the dinner next year at the same time!

What purposeful living and intelligent consecration to God can mean for mankind will be explained at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon "Soul and Body" will include the following from I Peter (1:22, 23): "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever."
 From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (428:15-19): "We should consecrate existence, not 'to the unknown God' whom we ignorantly worship,' but to the eternal builder, the everlasting Father, to the Life which mortal sense cannot impair nor mortal belief destroy."

American Legion News

Maxine Kunz attended a meeting of the Girl's State committee at the Veteran's building in Detroit on November 6. She returned with lots of valuable information.

The girls in Junior Activities are making favors which will be distributed in a convalescent home on Thanksgiving Day. Next meeting of the Juniors is December 7.

Service packages were delivered to veterans at Maybury Sanitarium by several Legionnaires and Auxiliaries from Northville, Livonia, Redford Township, Redford Detroit, Rosedale Park and Passage-Gayde posts and units, Thursday evening, November 10, in honor of Veteran's Day. Cookies and ice cream were also presented to the vets. Mr. and Mrs. Al Holcombe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson and Mrs. Dorothy Koi represented the Plymouth delegation.

A child welfare conference will be held at the Chateau 40et8, Saginaw street, Lansing at 3 p.m. on Sunday, November 20. Post and Auxiliary Child Welfare chairmen are Ray Viau and Mrs. Melva Gardner, respectively. This conference is open to all Legionnaires and Auxiliaries who are urged to attend. Several local members are planning to do so.

Commander Holcombe and Past Commander Burleson attended the Veteran's Day breakfast at the Lloyd H. Greene post on November 11. Reports are that the pancakes and sausages were excellent as was the attendance.

One member from each post and unit in the district is asked to be present at a meeting scheduled to be held at Lena Hammond's home in Northville at 7:30 p.m. November 28. Purpose of the meeting is to set up this year's Christmas gift program for the veterans at Maybury sanitarium.

The Veteran's Day parade on Friday evening was fortunate in having pleasant weather. Besides our own units, there were the VFW Firing Squad, their post and auxiliary, and Myron Beals post and auxiliary. It is hoped that next year this parade will grow to include other organizations.

There were 18 members from the local post and auxiliary and two from Livonia in attendance at the Veteran's dance held at the Elks club on Saturday evening, November 12.

Several interesting reports were given at the regular business meeting of the Auxiliary on November 10. Guests in attendance were Post Commander Dorothy Koi, 17th District Service Officer Harry Burleson and Adjutant Ernie Koi. Dorothy Koi, who is 17th District Blood Bank chairman, briefed the Auxiliaries on the proposed organization of a District Blood bank.

As in the past, Legionnaires and Auxiliaries have been asked again to aid the firemen in their annual Muscular Dystrophy drive. We ask as many as possible to turn out Wednesday evening, November 22, to help in this most worthy cause.

Thanksgiving Union Service Offering To Finance Korea Orphan Adoption

Plymouth's annual Union Thanksgiving Service, sponsored by the Plymouth Ministerial association, will be held next Wednesday at the First Baptist church.

Starting at 7:45 o'clock, the service will have the Reverend E. T. Hadwin, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, as the guest speaker. Other pastors will also participate in the program.

Nine Protestant churches are cooperating in the Union service. They are the Salvation Army, Calvary Baptist, First Presbyterian, Church of God, First Baptist, Assembly of God, First Methodist, Church of the Nazarene and St. John's Episcopal. People of all faiths are being invited to attend.

The offering will be used toward the sponsorship of a Korean orphan child, So Pok Soon.

World Vision, Inc. has taken over the complete adoption of the child and many others and Wednesday night's offering will help in their efforts to obtain sponsors.

So Pok Soon and her family were at the point of death during the Korean war but somehow survived. But in time, their happiness over survival ended in tragedy. So Pok Soon's father, mother and elder brother were killed. She and her younger brother were left to care for themselves.

Without food or shelter, they had to beg on the streets of Korea. They were slowly starving to death when someone brought So Pok Soon to the Yo Kwang Children's home.

Good food, rest and recreation soon began to bring a smile on her face. She has finished citizen school now and spends much of her time sewing. She has been left with a crippled left leg.

Here is a letter which she wrote to World Vision, Inc.: "How are you, my dear sponsor? I am now in warm love of God. I feel thankfulness for you who are my father I needed. I was so merry that frequently I make a song of enjoying my comfort from heaven who God is. I will try more and more to study my lesson and song. And I hope to be one of the greatest women. But my hope will be done by your help. I will pray for your welfare and the happier."

It is also possible for individuals or groups to send So Pok Soon a Christmas card or package. It can be addressed as follows:

So Pok Soon
 Home No. 2, Adoption No. 3925
 Yo Kwang Children's Home
 261 Kye-Li

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr. GARfield 1-5847

Welcome to Ernest Albin, Jr., son of Ernest Albin Hanson, Sr., and Mary Adams Hanson, 9921 Mayfield, Livonia, born in Detroit on October 4.

St. Michael's Altar society held their monthly Altar Society meeting in the Hall on Tuesday, November 15. Many activities came up for discussion and it was nice to note that the Altar society and the Men's club hope to join forces and sponsor a dance sometime in February. Details will be announced later. There were many new faces at the meeting and it is hoped they found it sufficiently interesting to return again next month. The December meeting will be a potluck dinner and each lady is to bring a $1 present wrapped for Christmas for a grab bag. We'll remind you again in a few weeks in this column.

If you live on a corner in the old section of Rosedale Gardens and have a pine tree in front of your house, you may have wondered why for the last few months a car has stopped, and a couple of women have jumped out to gather up the cones that have fallen. Upon inquiring you would find that these women are members of the Rosedale Gardens branch of the National Farm and Garden association and were gathering cones to paint for their Greens Market which will take place this year on Monday, December 12, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Tuesday, December 13 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. It will be held in the clubhouse basement at 9611 Hubbard.

On November 9 the women met at the home of Mrs. Phil Dupuis, 31540 West Chicago and painted eight bushels of pine cones. Each brought their own lunch and Mrs. Dupuis served plenty of wonderful coffee. Everyone entered into the Christmas spirit and really enjoyed what might have been a lot of work under different circumstances.

Among those present were Mrs. John Riggs, president; and co-chairmen Mrs. Henry Curle and Mrs. Harvey Anschuetz and their committee.

Anyone wishing to order greens, rope or bows may call either Mrs. Curle, GA. 2-3610 or Mrs. Anschuetz at GA. 2-3601.

The following boys received awards at the second annual Sports Award dinner held in St. Michael's hall on Thursday, November 10. Football letters: Paul Belky, Mike Hirko, Bill Thompson, Tom Grover, John Vaughn, Tom Carney, Joe Cote, Doug West, Mike Bremer, Pet Gdaniac, Phil Mularoni, Jim Kawal, Danny Prevo, Chet Pawloski, Tony Adamowicz, John Grimm, Ken Lynefesty, Dave Jones and Dan wal, Dick Levandowski, Jim Wright.

Basketball letters: Don Kaward, Tom Konkle, and Mike Harvey.

The four boys that served as managers through the baseball and football season, and though they didn't receive the glory they sure shined enough shoes and kept equipment in order, were Joe Zinger, Mike Talbot, Melbourne Livernoso and Dan Darrah. These boys also received letters with "manager" written on same.

Last, but not least, there were nine cheerleaders who were very loyal to the team and deserving of their letters. They were Carol LaBelle, Diane DeGrande, Carolyn Ammann, Geraldine Paliszewski, Joy Prout, Kathleen Chojnowski, Barbara Hopkins, Madelyn Johnston, and Linda Levandowski.

Trophies were presented to Bobby May, best back; Gary Prevo, best lineman; Bill Thompson, most loyal; and Tom Jehl, most improved. It is hoped that in the near future there will be a case in school to display the trophies but until such time the boys are allowed to take them home.

Grid Quiz Winner Harvey Esch Duplicates Son's Feat for $10

"Like father, like son" is the old quotation used when some similarity pops up between a boy and his dad. But Harvey Esch, 11045 Brownell, seems to have reversed the saying.

A couple of months ago, Harvey's nine-year-old boy, Jimmy, won 10 dollars as the winner of The Mail's weekly football quiz. So this week Harvey, himself, got into the act and copped the most recent title of grid expert. Harvey duplicated his son's feat by foreseeing winners in 13 of the 15 games listed last week in the big "Pick-the-Winners" grid quiz. He pegged the Lions to trim Pittsburgh by a 27-17 tune. Final there was 31-28.

For his efforts at crystal-gazing Harvey wound up 10 dollars richer this week as a result of the first place prize he hauled home-ward happily.

Close behind Harvey trailed Ken Fuzzell, 565 West Ann Arbor trail, who also missed only two predictions, but had the Lions listed as 25-15 victors. For second place Ken received seven dollars.

Last, but not least panted Bob Bruce, also 565 West Ann Arbor trail, who miscued on three battles and had the Lions finishing 35-26 over the Steelers. He garnered three dollars.

Oddly enough all three of the winners missed up on both the Illinois-Wisconsin game and the Yale-Princeton tilt. Bruce also erred on the California-Oregon State meeting.

Sadly enough there were two entries this week that also had only two wrong prognostications but were both submitted minus a name at the bottom. Alas, but how can the editors dish out cash to no one.

As a first-placer, Harvey confided that he was fortunate to win. He explained that his wife, who did not enter, had foreseen each game with the same winners as he, and she was even closer to the final result between Detroit and Pittsburgh.

He implied that she was due to get the end results from the 10 dollar prize since Harvey plans to use it toward the coat he's giving her for Christmas.

As for a technique to winning, Harvey just plugged away. He had come close in previous quizzes this year, but each time someone was a little more accurate. This time there was no denying him.

The contest this week marks the close of the 1955 "Pick-the-Winners" game allowing hopefuls one last chance to profit with their ability at predicting football winners.

Probably few players have ever been so underrated or so abused by Lions fans as blond Bobby Layne.

He received few cheers for leading Detroit to three successive Western Division titles and two straight World Championships. He has been given some uncalculated boos and unjust criticism for the Lions' downspin this year.

Yet Bobby is the heart and the guts of the Lions. I consider him the backbone of the team. Without him the Lions stutter and stall. With him they always have a fighting chance.

For Bobby is the kind of a player who holds a team together. He has great confidence in himself and it exudes to his teammates when the going gets tough. He keeps their spirits from flagging when they're trailing on the scoreboard.

More spectacular was his long Bobby thrives under pressure, as evidenced by his excellent come-from-behind direction of the victory over the Baltimore Colts in the last few minutes a couple of weeks ago.

pass that brought Detroit the world's title over the Cleveland Browns by a slender point in 1953.

I consider Layne the greatest quarterback I ever teamed with. While he may not be the most outstanding passer in the league, he's the best-running signal caller, being particularly adept on the option play.

He never gets rattled and, unlike so many other quarterbacks, he is not afraid to "cut" the ball if his receivers are covered and he cannot run. Whereas others will keep fading backwards before the onrushing linemen, losing valuable yardage when they're spilled, Bobby simply puts his head down, tucks the ball in and takes his medicine.

But the record speaks for itself. In seven and a half seasons of professional play, including his freshman season with the Chicago Bears and the next with the now defunct New York Bulldogs, Bobby has gained 1633 yards rushing in 391 attempts for an average of 4.1 per carry, quite a record for a passer.

Two Shy of Record In passing, he has completed 966 of 2068 attempts for 13,863 yards, an average of 6.9 yards per throw. He also has pitched 109 touchdown passes.

These figures, incidentally, are through the seventh game of the season only and do not include Sunday's tilt at Pittsburgh. In 1951, which seemingly was his best season, Layne gained 290 yards rushing in 61 attempts for a 4.8 average, and completed 152 of 352 passes for 2403 yards, an average of 7.2 per throw. His longest gain was for 63 yards, he had only 17 interceptions and he threw 26 touchdown passes, only two shy of the all-time record.

As a footnote, Bobby threw his 2,000th pass in the Baltimore game of two weeks ago, a mark exceeded only by the untouchable 3,000-plus of the great Sammy Baugh. Ironically, number 2000 was intercepted.

Four Returnees Shape Core Of Rocks' Current Cage Unit

Basketball practice at Plymouth high school began in earnest last week as 15 hopefuls on the varsity cage roster concentrated on simple offensive and defensive tactics during warm-up operations.

The group hustled through initial drills with an optimistic enthusiasm despite the fact that 10 of the 14 players from last year's co-champion unit are conspicuously absent this season.

Gone is the hard core shaped by All-League Center Bob Middleton and his cohorts, Lee Juve, Dick Day, Larry Wilhelm and Danny Clifford. This foursome, aided by depth from the bench, carried the Rocks to the peak of their basketball fortunes under the tutelage of John Sandmann.

Supplanting Sandmann, who this year becomes full-duty athletic director at Plymouth, is former football coach Charlie Ketterer, a stand-out eager on the University of Michigan's V-12 basketball program over a decade ago.

Diminutive Ketterer hopes to form the present Rocks' main force from last season. Tom Ferguson, braces around four returnees Lindy Mills, Dick Davidson and Jack Carter provide the foundation for an obvious reconstruction program at the Plymouth camp.

Although each of the four earned letters last year, they saw only limited action in varsity competition while shadowed by the versatile starting unit that powered its way to the second round of post-season district action.

Backing up the four veterans are nine members of the 1954-55 junior varsity team. These consist of Jerry Steele, Steve Jewell, Cliff Tait, Ken Calhoun, Jerry King, John Thomas, Paul Cummings, Bob Jenkins and Dave DeCoster. In addition two inexperienced players are also listed on the varsity. Jerry Foreman and Bob Anderson, to round out the Plymouth potential.

Ketterer, with conservatism, explained Plymouth's present set-up as "inch for inch we could have a respectable team."

The Rocks open their 1955-56 cage battling with a tilt here against Northville, December 2, and will wade into the defense of their share of the Suburban Six crown the following Friday, December 9, when they travel to Belleville.

Plymouth shared the league's championship last year with Trenton, which was sparked by the sharp-shooting of 6'6" Art Boyd. Each had a final card of eight wins and two losses.

The basketball schedule for Plymouth this year:

Date	Opponent	Place
Dec. 2	Northville	Here
9	Belleville	Away
16	Bentley	Here
Jan. 6	Trenton	Away
13	Redford Union	Here
20	Allen Park	Away
26	Belleville	Here
Feb. 3	Bentley	Away
10	Trenton	Here
17	Redford Union	Away

Mills, Davidson Head Grid Scorers As Plymouth Ave raged 276 Yards

Hauling down scoring honors for the Plymouth varsity football team this past season were Fullback-Captain Lindy Mills and Halfback Dick Davidson, who each garnered a total of 48 points over the course of the eight games in which the Rocks engaged.

Mills earned his share of the honors on the strength of eight touchdowns while Davidson netted 36 points on six TD's and added 12 points after touchdowns.

The entire Plymouth grid squad battled to 25 touchdowns and 14 extra points for an aggregate of 164 total points, while at the same time the Rocks' opponents managed 69 points on 10 TD's and nine extra points.

Swift Kennie Calhoun, who waited to the last three games of the year before breaking into the scoring column, listed 30 points on five trips into enemy end-zones. Quarterback Jackie Carter managed 13 points in two tallies and one extra point.

Rounding out the scorers for the Plymouth team were: End Tom Ferguson with 12 points, Jerry Hearl and George Pine with six each and Don Alsbro with one point via an extra point pass reception.

The Rocks, who finished the campaign in third place in the Suburban Six league with a 3-2 record, compiled an over-all card of six wins and two defeats.

Other statistics under the offensive scoring column show that Carter knifed out a total of five aeriats that went for touchdowns. In addition Davidson heaved one scoring toss.

Over the course of the 1955 action Plymouth's passers enjoyed one of their most productive years from an aerial standpoint.

Averaging eight tosses per game (64 total) the Rocks connected on 29 for 465 yards during the season. They averaged 58 yards via the air lanes per game.

But it was the smashing ground game that sent the locals toward their opponents' goals. Amassing 1747 yards for the year, the Rocks averaged better than 218 yards each battle. Their total yardage gain was 2212 yards for an average of 276 yards air-ground attack per game.

On their way to this impressive figure in yardage gained, Plymouth listed a total of 109 first downs or better than 13 first downs each contest.

43 Hopefuls Seek Swim Team Berths

A total of 43 hopefuls, including 12 returning lettermen, opened initial swimming practice at Plymouth last week in preparation for the nearing tank season which the Rocks will kick into action December 1 at Lincoln Park.

With eyes on improving the outstanding card compiled by his swimmers last year, Coach John McFall viewed the turnout happily. During the course of the 1954-55 tank battling, Plymouth racked up an over-all record of nine wins, three losses and two ties.

In addition to the fact that his team is nearly as impressive in numbers this year as the tank record was last year, McFall announced that the Rocks will be competing in a Suburban Six swimming league by next year. At that time, he explained, there ought to be enough member schools with swim squads to warrant a league.

At the starting drills last week, emmeshed among the swarm of hopefuls, McFall counted an even dozen returnees from last year. These are: Art Losse, Dennis Baker, Bill Brandell, Don Carney, Paul Daoust, John Gregory, Dick Showers, Gary Strassen, Jack Taylor, John Walker, John Williams and Gary Wright.

Ready to give assistance to these pillars are an adequate list of 31 fledglings, whom McFall described as promising prospects. Captain of this year's squad is Bill Brandell.

Nevertheless, Plymouth appears as if it will be wanting at a few positions where graduation depleted the ranks. Absent this year will be Mike Conrad, in the breast stroke, and Dave Beegle and Chuck McKenna missing from the four-man team in the freestyle relay.

Seen Monk's "Better Half"?

Monk McCarthy's latest creation has the town talking again. You can see it parked in front of Monk's auto repair shop on Maple.

Remember last year Monk cut two cars in half, and put their front ends together? You couldn't tell if the thing was coming or going. Sure attracted attention.

Now Monk's taken Tog Morgan's old sedan and completely restored one half of it. One side is as good as new, the other looks like—well, Tog's old car. "Sort of a before-and-after demonstration," Monk told me, "shows folks the kind of work I do."

From where I sit, some of Monk's ideas may look a little wild sometimes... but I wouldn't want to tell him how to run his business any more than I'd like him to tell me what beverage to enjoy. He always keeps a hot pot of tea in his garage—I'd rather have a cold glass of beer—but respect for each other's opinion is "auto"-matic with us both.

School Officials Win Jack Pot

Locally-elected school officials have won the fight to determine how a $13,500,000 bonanza in sales tax money will be divided into salaries for teachers and other employees.

But it was a long fight, pitting Republicans and Democrats on opposite sides of the arena.

It was discovered that the money had piled up from record sales tax collections. Law requires that two thirds of these funds go to schools.

So, as part of the special legislative session, there was the question of how it would be divided into teacher salaries — a proposal in different forms pushed by both parties.

Then came the scramble. Gov. Williams wanted it specifically earmarked for $200 raises for each of Michigan's 51,000 teachers. Republicans wanted to turn it over to local boards with instructions to use it for wage hikes.

Then came the teacher organizations, which claimed that a $7 per pupil earlier increase in state money intended for raises was in some instances spent for other purposes, and pay increases ignored.

"We know that in Hamtramck, teachers got nothing and some areas in Detroit the increases were uneven," said Williams.

Non-teaching employees also asked for a raise from the latest chunk of cash. Republicans included them, and Williams said he would go along at $145 each if the legislature accepted his version.

Republicans flatly rejected the idea. "I think it is improper for me to come down here and assume I know more about local school conditions than the men elected to run them," said Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville).

GOP men argued that local boards could put the money to best use, rewarding teachers with experience — without putting all teachers on the same level regardless of training or talent.

Williams figured the teachers wouldn't get it at all. Also that districts operating inefficiently — with large classes — would benefit more from the $9 per pupil distribution than those who had a smaller teacher to pupil ratio.

Republicans won the battle in the legislature and Williams indicated he would accept it.

Fighting about toll roads in Michigan is a continuous process, and may be for some time. There are those who think the most telling blows about the Toledo-Saginaw proposal have got to be struck.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has been cussed and discussed in the toll road picture, for the most part because he had been most reluctant to endorse the proposed plan. There is much to be said for his position.

Many critics of the Commissioner do not seem to realize the tremendously complicated factors involved in a state road system. Laws, some of them passed years ago, provide that fixed percentages of the commission's income from certain sources be spent in certain places. These are not necessarily in accordance with most serious needs. In fact, there is little correlation.

Ziegler's position in the toll road hassle may prove to be a very sound one when all the facts are known. At present the commissioner feels he will be "cursed if he does and cursed if he doesn't." So he is holding out for what makes sense to him.

Main argument will also make sense to many people who use north-south highways in eastern Michigan. The point is taken from a report written by an engineering firm. In short, it amounts to this: In order for the proposed toll road to pay its way, Ziegler must not improve roads which might be conceived to compete with it. This includes as far west as US 27. It also includes routes 10, 15, 16, 23, 24, 83 and 150.

Ziegler says he cannot become involved in such a plan. If the toll road were built, and if improvements already planned for highways on the "competitive list" were completed, if the predicted financial difficulty came into balance, Ziegler could get the blame.

If he did not provide improvements he could suffer much abuse too. In the meantime, he is just waiting and watching.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs is wasting no time recruiting men to fill 200 new trooper's uniforms. He started the night that the legislature, in special session, approved 200 new troopers as part of a package plan to step up highway safety in Michigan.

Childs is going to divide up the recruit school, giving mass instruction to the entire group in the first steps, then separating them into two sections for the final six weeks of advanced work.

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. The infringement of this right, whether by government or by groups, or by individuals, no matter in what small measure it may begin, will lead to tyranny and the death of liberty.

troopers on highway patrols before the next big summer driving push on Memorial Day.

He urged that young men apply and said they could get information at any Michigan State Police post.

Recruits have been hard to get since World War II when candidates marched away to war. Some came back to the ranks, but, with the Korean conflict, the pickings have been slim.

Because of high State Police standards, Childs said that he would be forced to recruit many more than the 200 he needs as finished, polished law enforcement officers.

Appointees of Gov. Williams to state jobs will get a close check during the interim by Senate committee members.

The Senate Business Committee asked for the right to operate between sessions to look into the qualifications of appointees so that the Senate could make a better judgment on confirmations.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) denied it would be an inquisition or a sub-rosa method of disposing of political pals of the governor who were appointed to positions in government.

"We feel this will be as much a benefit to the appointee as to the Senate, he said. "Often we hear disparaging remarks about an appointee, and we would either prove them or set them at rest."

Hutchinson's committee must pass on the qualifications of appointees before they are taken before the full Senate for a vote of confirmation.

He said the committee would hold no public hearings or announce results.

Over the Top Again!

Citizens should take pride in the fact that they have again put the Plymouth Community Fund over the top despite a goal which was $3,000 higher than last year. There's no better feeling than belonging to a winning team and our Community Fund has had the wonderful experience of batting 1.000 for many years now.

Unfortunately, there are many who cannot share in this pride because they neglected to donate. Human nature sometimes makes it difficult for people to write a check without personally getting something tangible in return. It is true that some of us will never get a direct return on our investment. We may not have youngsters in Scouting or the Junior Police, or need the services of the Red Cross or Cancer society or appreciate the foundations which benefit from research conducted by the various foundations.

But there is no doubt that if we should some day ever come in contact with these agencies, we will have the comforting feeling that we have supported them through the Community Chest in years past.

As our population in the Plymouth area grows, it is certain that we will need to face larger goals. Perhaps there will be more agencies joining the appeal. As in years past, we feel that the community will meet this obligation because they realize the value of its cause.

Larger fund campaigns will also mean that it will take more people to work. Campaign workers donate their time—there is no pay. One is sometimes surprised to learn that some workers return year after year. Why do they do it?

Although there are no wages, there is some greater compensation. There is the feeling one gets that he has worked for the good of someone else instead of for his own selfish purposes and that he has made his community, his state and his nation perhaps a little bit better.

Overseas Packages

With just a few weeks remaining until Christmas, the post office department is urging everyone to mail overseas-bound parcels now. This is the only way postal officials can promise delivery by Christmas.

If you missed the November 15 deadline with a Christmas parcel, you may mail it air parcel post and it is believed such packages will arrive by Christmas even if mailed as late as November 30.

It is advisable to mail parcels scheduled for delivery in Japan, Korea and the Pacific islands as early as possible and if these parcels are destined for members of the Navy or Marine Corps, they should be mailed immediately.

Postal officials suggest you refrain from sending food, since servicemen are well supplied with food overseas and since spoilage is apt to result because of the long delay often encountered in transit. By mailing early for Christmas, you will speed the delivery of mail and make it easier for postal workers everywhere.

Q—Will I lose my Korean GI training if I interrupt it to go back into service?
A—No. Veteran Administration has recently issued a ruling that if GI training is interrupted for the reason the veteran goes back into the armed services, he will be permitted to resume his course after discharge, even though the starting cut-off date has passed, so long as he does so within a reasonable period of time after his discharge.

Executives Should Receive Character Audits

Babson Park, Mass., We have approached the stage where we must consume our reserves of natural resources with more caution and wisdom. Unfortunately, too many of us have looked upon these vast resources as nature's gifts, to be used as desired. Our minerals and forests have therefore been used too freely, although we have achieved one of the highest standards of living.

Through our skillful utilization of coal, iron, aluminum, copper, and other raw materials, our work has been made easier. We have more leisure, so that we may follow cultural pursuits. However, this leisure, to be meaningful, should include pursuits which add to our spiritual values and not just those which further our pleasures or promote more technical achievements.

The Ultimate Goal

The ultimate goal of the wise use of natural resources is to raise the standard-of-living, and it is important to keep this goal in mind. Moreover, it is just as important to emphasize the building up of spiritual resources as of physical resources. Our nation's true power is in its spiritual strength.

Therefore, in our attempt to conserve natural resources in order to attain material well-being, we must emphasize the dignity of the individual. This country has become the richest nation in the world. We have proved our leadership in industry. We must now show our leadership by building up our spiritual and other human resources.

Natural Resources May Be Depleted

The wisest industrial leaders have begun to look to the time when some of our precious natural resources will be depleted. With plans for solar, atomic, and gravity power still only in development stages, for war or peacetime uses, we especially need to conserve our resources so that we may make the best possible use of them. We should, therefore, be more careful of our ore, forest, and oil reserves. We are already replenishing our woodlands by reforestation, and are using better methods of soil enrichment, fertilization, and cultivation so that each acre of farm land will yield more efficient crops.

We have also realized that we must search for new and additional reserves of natural resources, not only here, but also all over the world. More countries will then be able to develop their own industries and agriculture, so that more people may benefit therefrom. Each country will produce those items which it is able to turn out most efficiently. Then, these products will be exchanged so that all industries may be used to the best advantage of everyone, everywhere.

"Soul of the Bible," or "Reeve's Brief Bible."

When admitting students to Babson Institute, we do not ask whether they are Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Hindu, or Moslem, but we are greatly interested in their character and hope they pray to the Universal Father. The nation must, however, go even further; we must see that our corporations are led by men of character. I forecast the day when auditors of corporations will report statistics to stockholders indicating the character and health of the leading executives just as they now give financial statistics. This is perhaps the most important thing we could do to assure continued prosperity and avoid a severe business depression.

Quotes

GEN. SIR JOHN WHITELEY, high British officer:
"I don't believe the Soviets want war and they will probably try to avoid it if there's an adequate deterrent."

AVERELL HARRIMAN, Governor of New York:
"I have said I was for Adlai but I never said I was going to support him at the convention."

GROVER W. ENSLEY, staff director, Senate-House Economic Committee:
"The lack of a real school program to match our economic, security and cultural needs has been characterized as a national disgrace."

DR. LESTER G. CROCKER, Goucher College Professor, back from year in France:
"Although France is the country where the mind is still freest, she is economically and politically in desperate trouble."

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Some drivers have complained that Plymouth's 25-mile-an-hour speed limit is much too slow. Do you think that the city's speed limit should be raised?"

WESLEY DUNN, 743 Wing: "Under the conditions, I don't think it's too slow. There are bottlenecks on Main street at the hotel and at Mill street and cars shouldn't go any faster. I drive at 22 and 23 miles an hour and cars zoom right around me. Lots of these drivers always have the urge to get around the guy ahead. But I often get someplace the same time as they do."

DOUGLAS ECKLES, 14400 Haggerty: "I think 25 is fast enough, especially in the residential areas around town. I try to drive it and haven't had a speeding ticket yet. It seems like most drivers try to hold to the limit except on Main street where they like to go faster."

Dunn Eckles Kowalcik Bachelidor

LEO KOWALCIK, 412 North Main: "In the city limit, 25 miles an hour is just right. The people who enforce the law should know what is best for us. If you go any faster, it's almost impossible to stop for the children who might run into the street. Grown-ups can take care of themselves but we got to think of the children. Yes, 25 is perfect."

JOHN BACHELDOR, 157 South Main: "I never had any trouble sticking to 25. I do think that it would help to move traffic on main streets if it were raised to 30. But 25 is a pretty good speed. Homes along some of these streets are loaded with children and some of the mothers who see speeders will turn them in. I think 25 is fast enough."
