

School, Township Futures Viewed

How long will it take before the new sewer and water authority can get a sewer under contract so that the school board can take bids on the proposed Sheldon road elementary school?

Appointments Fill Authority Board Posts

Appointment of the three men who will serve on the newly-formed Townships of Plymouth and Canton Water and Sewer Authority was made this week by boards of the two townships.

Named by the Canton township board was Albert Schrader, Jr., 3114 Denton road. The Plymouth township board has approved the appointments of Clark G. Finley, 4121 Wilcox, and John Weisher, 654 South Sheldon road.

Herold Hamill, Plymouth township board member and also engineer for the township sewer project, said that it will be a few weeks before he completes his estimates. It will then be necessary for voters in both the townships to approve "faith and credit" bonds.

This vote may come within 30 days, it was estimated by Walter A. Markin, financial consultant for the new authority. Bids for selling the bonds will then be taken, followed by bids by contractors.

It was pointed out by school officials that if bids on the school are not taken until four months or more, there is no chance that it can be completed by next September.

Superintendent Russell Isbister gave a brief outline of the school board's master plan, which includes construction of two elementary schools and the junior high. Besides the elementary building scheduled for Sheldon road, the board expects to build another in the northeast section of the township, somewhere near where the Wabash Land company last week announced they would build 1,200 homes within the next three years.

It was agreed by everyone present that the proposed sewers and water system will bring on great building projects. Louis Stein, supervisor of Canton township, said that about 75 per cent of the land between Joy and Warren roads has been optioned by builders. Building, however, will not come Schrader, whose appointment will expire in June 1958, is employed by the University of Michigan. An accountant by profession, he serves as assistant to the business manager of the Engineering Research Institute with offices at Willow Run airport. He is concerned with the financial and contractual aspects of the university's complex research activities there and supervises the purchasing, accounting and allied functions of the institute's Willow Run laboratories.

Schrader was recently re-elected as a member of the Canton township board of review. He moved to this area as a child, attended the University of Michigan and has two sons, one attending Ypsilanti high school and another attending college. He is a member of the Lions club and has been in Boy Scout work 30 years. He is a member of the Ann Arbor chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

Clark G. Finley is an accountant in the office of County Treasurer Harold E. Stoll and has been an employee of that office 23 years. Taxes and tax assessment have been his job throughout these years, working directly with taxes received from local governments and the school.

Finley has a son and daughter in the local schools. He has lived in the vicinity for the past five years, coming here from the Detroit area. He is a graduate of (Continued on Page 8)

Car Hits Train, Injuring Motorist

Although he will remain confined to Wayne County General hospital for at least a week more, Donald Huebler, 28, of 3945 Berry road, escaped critical injury early Friday morning when his car crashed into the side of a standing freight train at the Starkweather avenue crossing.

Huebler received broken ribs, and cuts on his legs and face in the accident. He was scheduled for release from the hospital Monday but complications will keep him there at least a week longer, relatives said. The motorist was driving his 1955 car south on Starkweather when it struck the 25th car of the standing train. Police said that the watchman was on the south side of the train. No skid marks were found, indicating that the driver failed to see the train or watchman. The accident occurred at 3:08 a.m.

ONE OF THE first signs of Christmas is the Salvation Army's Kettle, shown above receiving one of its first contributions from Perry W. Richwine of 790 Burroughs. Major and Mrs. Harliff Nicholls, above, said the Salvation Army will again provide Christmas gifts to a large number of families in the Plymouth area. The familiar kettle will be on Main street regularly beginning Saturday. Major Nicholls also urges persons knowing of needy families to report them to the Salvation Army so that all cases may be checked by December 15.

U of M Study of City Determines Those Most Successful in Working on Community Problems

Praise for Plymouth and its power to "get things done" has come from a University of Michigan consultant who has just completed a study of Plymouth and four other cities in the state.

Blue Carstenson, consultant in community organization and adult education of the U of M extension service, delivered his report Thursday noon at the Mayflower hotel before a group of businessmen, city and school officials.

Five representative types of communities in Michigan with populations between 7,500 and 25,000 were studied. Plymouth was considered as a "satellite city" with its own shopping center, residential areas, trade area and industries, which is located near a large metropolitan city.

Community leaders were asked to list the persons who they felt were the most active and successful in acting on problems in their community, the report declared. In Plymouth, it was the Chamber of Commerce.

In the other four cities, the No. 1 "power-to-get-things-done" were the superintendent of school, mayor, Chamber of Commerce and recreation committee. Plymouth, more than the other three communities, had its leadership spread wider, Carstenson reported. Power was not centered in the hands of a few, he said.

A compliment was paid The Plymouth Mail because it was the only newspaper in any of the five communities voted in first place as playing an important part in "communications." In Plymouth, more than the other three communities, had its leadership spread wider, Carstenson reported. Power was not centered in the hands of a few, he said.

Fund Donations Still Arriving

Another $390 received since last week has placed the Plymouth Community Fund total at $31,159.87, it was announced by the board treasurer, Mrs. Carl Caplin. Not until sometime in December are all contributions expected to be in and a final total made. The Community Fund board was able to announce last week that the contributions had soared over the $27,500 goal.

Added to the list of commercial, industry and professional donations are the following: Burgett's Service, $10; Diack-Brown company, $10; Dunning's, $25; Ted Maliks Oil Burner Service, $10; McLaren company, $35; McLaren company - Silkworth Oil company, $35; Plymouth Automatic Laundry, $10; Portable Welding Service, $20; Roberts Supply company, $35; Moms of America, Inc., $15; Dr. Wesley E. Lickfeldt, $20.

Special Church Services To Mark Thanksgiving

Routine Matters Move Swiftly For Commission

City commissioners waded through an agenda of routine business in speedy fashion Monday evening in a meeting witnessed by but four persons in addition to the official family.

Mayor Russell M. Daane sped through a roll call, reading and approval of minutes, bills and department reports and then sat back to listen to communications from the city manager.

Upon the recommendation of City Manager Al Glassford, the commissioners approved the first reading of ordinance 197. This calls for the re-zoning of a triangle of land between the railroad, Ann Arbor trail and Mill street from M-1 to M-2. This will allow above-ground position of oil tanks, desired by Roberts Supply company and also meets with recommendations of Fire Chief McAllister concerning position of oil tanks.

The commission then took a negative attitude to a letter from the city of Trenton asking the city of Plymouth to favor moving Willow Run airport to Wayne county airport. They gave approval to the city manager's request for permission to hire Attorney Clifford Manwaring to acquire sanitary sewer rights-of-way for the southern portion of the city.

The city manager then presented three methods for financing the sanitary sewer project for the south end of the city. He stated that the estimated cost of the project would be $600,000. Under plan one, the city would employ a revenue bond issue; plan two would be general obligation special assessment bonds; and plan three would be general obligation bonds which would require a vote of the electorate.

The commission weighed the pros and cons of all three plans discussing in particular interest rates, term of payment and ease with which the plan may be carried through. Commissioners then moved to postpone their decision until next Monday evening when they will hold a special meeting with Herald Hamill, consulting engineer on the project.

In his report City Manager Glassford pointed out that should the commission choose the general obligation bond method, they may wish to submit to the voters the question of issuing enough bonds to cover paving of all streets in the south end of the city, and in other sections where paving is needed.

Another new police car was also approved. A bid of $728.94 plus trade-in from Forest Motors Sales for a Plymouth Plaza V-8 was accepted. Police expect one new car this week, while the latest purchase has been promised within 30 days.

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher then reported to the commission his findings on a traffic signal study stemming from a petition submitted by Donald Ward, 711 Burroughs, and containing more than 100 signatures. The petition called for a signal light on South Main at Ross street where children cross to attend Smith elementary school.

Chief Fisher pointed out that a maximum of 36 children use this crossing which already has a watchman in attendance. "While we would not hesitate recommending a signal light regardless of cost if we thought it would save a single life, records show this is not true," said Fisher. "This crossing is one of our lightest and also offers the greatest amount of visibility to pedestrian and driver alike," he added. The Chief further noted that accidents have occurred in the past at crossings having both a watchman and signal light where there are much larger groups of children. He added that every precaution would be taken to train watchmen on duty so that they may safely conduct children across the streets.

Blessings will be counted throughout the community tonight and tomorrow - in churches where services of Thanksgiving will be attended by hundreds, and in homes where feasts will symbolize the abundance of these gifts.

Nine Protestant churches, members of the Plymouth Ministerial association, are joining Wednesday in a Union Service at First Baptist church. Several other church bodies will hold services Thursday.

All industry and practically all business will come to a standstill on Thanksgiving day. Highways are expected to be heavily traveled with carloads of families going to and from family gatherings. On the Thanksgiving tables, turkey will remain king for the day. The big bird is costing about four cents a pound more this year than last even though they are in abundance.

Although the feast is a part of the Thanksgiving celebration, church services are being provided to give the public a more significant observance. The nine churches participating in the Union Service tonight at 7:45 o'clock are St. John's Episcopal, Church of the Nazarene, First Methodist, Assembly of God, First Baptist, Church of God, First Presbyterian, Calvary Baptist and Salvation Army.

The Reverend E. T. Hadwin, pastor of Church of the Nazarene, will deliver the address. Also taking part are: Reverend Melbourne Johnson, pastor of First Methodist church, who will read the President's Proclamation; the Thanksgiving prayer will be given by the Reverend Henry Walch, pastor of First Presbyterian church; scripture reading by the Reverend Patrick Clifford, pastor of Calvary Baptist church; invocation by the Reverend John Walasky, pastor of Assembly of God; benediction by Senior Major H. J. Nicholls, Salvation Army; and presiding will be the Reverend David Rieder, pastor of First Baptist church.

Mrs. Hamilton Searfoss will be the organist and the chancel choir of First Baptist church will sing. The offering will be used to sponsor the complete adoption of a Korean orphan child, So Pok Soon, under the supervision of World Vision, Inc. St. Peter's Lutheran church will hold their first Thanksgiving service in their new edifice at 10 a.m. Thursday. The Reverend Edgar Hoenecke will preach from the text of Joel I, chapter III, concerning the freedoms inherited by our nation.

Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church will have a Thanksgiving Mass at 8 a.m. Thursday, it was announced by Father Francis Byrne. A special Thanksgiving service has also been announced for First Church of Christ, Scientist at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. The service will include voluntary testimonies of gratitude by members and a lesson-sermon for the day entitled "Thanksgiving."

The history of Thanksgiving hits a little "closer to home" here than in most places because of the name of Plymouth. Colonization of the city and names adopted from Pilgrim history have made Plymouth, Michigan somewhat mindful of the early Pilgrims. The Plymouth Pilgrims were puritan separatists from the Church of England, some living in Leyden, Holland, since 1609. They left Plymouth, England on September 16, 1620 and landed on November 9 at Cape Cod. Later, on December 21, they decided to locate their colony at a place they named Plymouth, so named for the Plymouth Company.

Half of the colony perished during the hard winter.

Interment was in Parkview cemetery, Livonia. Pallbearers were Ted Kletzka, Ed Walton, William Davis, Clyde Lasslett, Vern Kahler and John Robinson.

Before adjourning shortly after 9:00 p.m., the commission postponed appointments to Board of Electrical Examiners, Board of Review, Zoning Board of Appeals and Planning Commission.

Where but in Plymouth could we find a newspaper that goes all out in its public service? The Plymouth Mail not only kept its columns open for all news about the campaign, but its staff also gave most generously of its time and talents.

Isn't it wonderful that Plymouth has such hard-working groups as these: Service Clubs and their Fund Chairmen, Hi-Y Boys, Girl Scouts.

Tour of 4 Homes Highlights Bazaar

The "Cook's Tour," sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church for its annual bazaar this year, met with unusual success due to the unique manner in which Mrs. James Hardimon, chairman, and members of her committee had planned the event. Four outstanding Plymouth homes were selected for the Thursday afternoon tour where visitors could also purchase food and other items on display at the individual residences.

Opening their homes to the hundreds of persons attending the event were the Edward W. Poraths of North Salem, Dr. and Mrs. John Vos of Plymouth Hills, the Lewis Goddards of Beck road and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strong of William street. At left are pictures taken during the "Cook's Tour."

Plymouth Boy Scouts Among 3,000 Cited at Rally

Local Boy Scouts and Explorers who completed their First Class rating during 1955 will be among the 3,000 Scouts to be honored at a mammoth rally at the State Fair Grounds Coliseum, Detroit, on Sunday afternoon, November 27.

Attending the event will be members of Troop P-1, sponsored by the Methodist church; Troop P-3, Rotary club; Troop P-4, Presbyterian church; Troop P-6, Lion's club; and Troop 298 of Canton Center. Members of P-3, Explorer post, will serve as ushers at the event.

Known as "Governor's Recognition Day", the ceremony will be highlighted by the presence of many civic and governmental dignitaries, including the Mayors, City Managers and other top civic officials from the more than 35 municipalities which make up the Detroit Area Council's service territory.

Guest of honor and main speaker will be Governor G. Mennen Williams. A highly-treasured memento will be personally presented by the Governor to each qualified Scout and Explorer in attendance. Letters of invitation from the Governor have been mailed to the 3,000 new "First's" and their families. Others invited are Unit leaders and ladies, also commissioners, board members and their ladies.

Groups have been requested to furnish hundreds of flags, with color bearers and color guards which will present the most spectacular "march past" ever witnessed. Presiding chairman of the program, starting promptly at 3:15 p.m. is Scout Board Member Lee R. J. Scott, who serves as Council Advancement Chairman.

With Plymouthites In Service

Ronald R. Pelley of Maxwell avenue, Plymouth, AEM, U. S. Naval Reserve recently completed a two-week's training cruise. Pelley's squadron left October 29 from the air base at Grosse Isle and landed at the Naval air station in Alameda, California. There the group studied electrical devices used in modern naval patrol bombers and how to service them. The resident returned Sunday, November 13. Pelley has served six years with the Naval Reserve.

PLANNING COMMITTEE for the Woman's club Christmas program on Friday, December 2, finds Chairman Mrs. Henry Walch (second from right) conferring with committee heads (l. to r.) Mrs. Robert Stewart, tea; and Mrs. Neal Bowen, decorations. Also working on the arrangements are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dunlap who will speak on "A Christmas in Austria" at the gathering. The event will be held at 1 p.m. in the VFW hall on Lilley road.

STUDYING MUNICIPAL finance administration are these city officials from Plymouth and three other communities. The course, one class of which was held here last week, is sponsored by the International City Managers association. Standing, from left, are Ruth Clark, Jean Johnson and Ray Wardell of Wayne, Stanford Besse of Plymouth, Patrick Cullen of Wayne and Kennedy Shaw of East Ann Arbor. Sitting, clockwise from girl in white, are Betty Jo Hill of Garden City, Kenneth Way and Joseph Near of Plymouth, Dallas Keller, Melvin Croton and Wallace Arrowsmith of Wayne, John Donaldson and Douglas Wadell of Garden City and Albert Glassford of Plymouth.

UCW Council Elects Officers

At 1 p.m. Wednesday, November 30, the Plymouth Council of United Church Women will elect new officers at its first annual meeting to be held in the Assembly of God church, Ann Arbor trail and Riverside drive.

Eight societies of church women have now become members of this council which was organized last May. The constitution adopted at that time gives voting privileges to all members of the participating churches who are in attendance at the meeting. Officers elected will begin to serve in January 1956.

Mrs. John Walasky, wife of the minister of the host church, is chairman of the nominating committee. Other members are Mrs. Hartliff J. Nicholls, Mrs. Miller Ross, Mrs. Sidney Strong and Mrs. Emerson Robinson.

Highlights of the recent national assembly of United Church Women, held in Cleveland November 7-10, will also be presented at this meeting.

Participating churches of the UCW council are First Methodist, St. John's Episcopal, Salvation Army, Presbyterian, First Baptist, Assembly of God, Church of the Nazarene and Reformed Church of Latter Day Saints.

Present officers of the organization are Miss Helen Beavers, president; Mrs. Walter Gemperline, vice president; Mrs. Albert Dayton, secretary; and Mrs. Claude Gebhardt, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stamper of Junction avenue will spend from Wednesday until Sunday with their parents in Beattyville, Kentucky.

Grange Cleanings

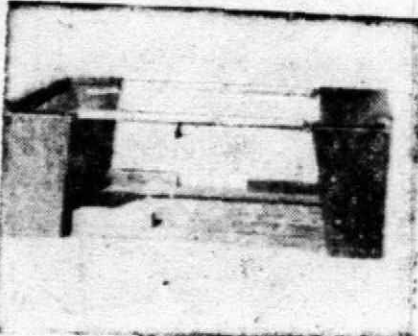

Our Grange meeting of November 17 was not very well attended but we were not too surprised at that because several of the members have gone hunting and several were in Cleveland at that time. Yes sir, we are proud to say that nine of our members journeyed to the National Grange convention in Cleveland where they were given the Seventh degree. They will have some very interesting things to tell us at our next meeting.

We are sorry to report that Amy Northrup is still in Atchison hospital.

the Wayne-Washtenaw Pomona Grange with members from Stony Creek, Pittsfield, Ann Arbor, Webster and Ypsilanti present. Our theatrical troupe put on the little play again and everyone enjoyed it, of course.

We hope that there will be a good crowd at our next meeting on December 1 as it will be of special interest. The installation of new officers will take place, also the report of the State Grange at Ludington will be given by Albert Groth, so you may be sure it will be good. Why not come and see and hear? That is our usual pot-luck supper night, too.

December 15 will be our Christmas party when everyone brings a 50c gift marked for man, woman or child. Further particulars next week.

Thanksgiving day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laible in their home on South Main street will be Mr. and Mrs. William Hartmann and son, Bill; Rolland Allenbaugh and son, Robert; Mrs. Ivah Bentley and Mrs. Martha Heft, of Plymouth; Miss Connie Kunkel of Livonia; and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Laible and daughters, Martha and Mary, of Ann Arbor. They will also celebrate the birthdays of Graham and Martha Ellen Laible and the thirty-first wedding anniversary of the Milton Laibles.

New Arrivals in the School Library

Several suggestions for delightful reading can be found in the new books that arrived at the Plymouth High School library this week.

Among them are "I Thought We'd Never Make It" by Ernest Haveman and George Love. This story is centered around the question "Who always came to pa's rescue, when he was in a fight or about to be killed or beaten up?" Yes, indeed, it was Mamma Love with a sawed-off baseball bat or her bare hands. When pa was out of work (which was quite often) Mama pitched the family tent. She told her friends that the only sensible thing to do was to pitch a tent, especially since they had six children. George Love, co-author of this book, is the oldest son of the Love family. He now is employed by Time, Inc.

Another interesting book is "The Benchley Round-Up" by Nathaniel Benchley, which is a selection of favorite pieces from the writings of humorist Robert Benchley.

Triple Trios Featured At Legislative Rally

The latest appearance of the Triple Trio's was last evening when the group presented several patriotic songs at the Legislative rally sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Martha Griffiths, congresswoman from Michigan, spoke on "Atoms for Peace," at the VFW hall event.

Members of the Triple Trio's are as follows: First soprano, Sonja Bench, Marilyn Fryman, Arlene Gobiel; second soprano, Beverly Harrison, Karla Herbold, Ann Hulsing; alto, Sharon Egluff, Eleanor Skaggs, Beverly Tacia. Mr. Fred Nelson is director.

The group appeared earlier on November 15 for the Girl's Athletic Association playday. They sang "The Best Things in Life Are Free" and "Stay as Sweet as You Are."

Hold Fellowship,

Thanksgiving Program

Highlighting the final meeting of the Y-Teens club before the Thanksgiving holiday, held Thursday, November 17, was a World Fellowship Week and Thanksgiving program.

Following the poem, "Communications," given by Margaret Pletcher was the introduction and speech presented by Karla Herbold on "World Fellowship." Next discussion on Thanksgiving and the Four Freedoms: freedom from want, fear, freedom of speech, and of religion—was held. At the closing of the meeting, Brenda Lickfeldt led in a prayer of Thanksgiving.

The program committee consisted of Karla Herbold, chairman; Ann Hulsing, Margaret Pletcher and Brenda Lickfeldt.

Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Burr of Sheridan avenue, will be their daughter, Margaret, who arrived home from Albion college for Thanksgiving vacation; Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Burr and son, Bobby, of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacGilvary and children, John and Debbie, of Ferndale; and Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Morrow and son, Andy, of Royal Oak.

Mrs. Blanche Daniels Johnson of Church street will spend Thanksgiving Day with her son, Elmer Daniels and family in Ann Arbor.

OBITUARIES

Robert K. Denman

Following a year's illness, Robert K. Denman of 9801 Merriam road, Livonia, died Friday, November 18, at University hospital in Ann Arbor.

The deceased was born December 10, 1922 in Wyandotte, the son of John A. and Sarah Knudsen Denman. He came to Livonia from Allen Park in 1951 and was employed as a purchasing agent for Aurora Gasoline company. He was a member of St. Andrews Episcopal church, Livonia.

Mr. Denman is survived by his widow, Theresa Hoss Denman; and two sons, R. Lane and J. Nelson Denman.

Services were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday, November 21, from St. Andrew's church with the Reverend Jay Coulton officiating. Pallbearers were R. Oleszko, S. Black, R. Sheets, A. Johnson, C. Zisman and J. Stewart. Interment was in Ferndale cemetery.

Joia M. Stanley

Services were held at 3 p.m. Saturday from the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Joia M. Stanley, age 96, who succumbed Wednesday evening, November 16, at her residence, 614 North Mill street.

Mrs. Stanley came to Plymouth 35 years ago. She was a member of the First Baptist church. She was preceded in death by her husband, Joseph, on July 24, 1934.

A sister, Mrs. Stella Honeywell of Plymouth, is the sole survivor.

The Reverend David L. Rieder officiated the funeral services. Pallbearers were George Humphries, Harold Compton, Frank Hammill, Harry E. Reed, Frank R. Reed and Walter T. Hayes. Interment was in Redford cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ebert of Farmer street are entertaining 19 guests at a family dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

American Legion News

Don't forget — tonight is the annual Porchlight drive for Muscular Dystrophy. It is their aim, with enough help, to complete this drive in one night this year. If you can't make it till later in the evening, someone at either firehouse will be able to direct you to one of the spots where firemen are collecting.

The Auxiliaries' Toy party, which was held Thursday, November 17, was a wonderful success. We thank all the girls and guests who attended. Prizes were won by Marilyn Gibbs and Maxine Kunz. Each guest was presented with a gift. Mrs. Florence Weiss presented the toys. Refreshments were served by Melva Gardner, Marie Thompson and Dorothy Knapp.

Don't forget the meeting at Lena Hammond's in Northville at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, November 28. Purpose of the meeting is to set up this year's Christmas gift program for the veterans at Maybury sanitarium.

Mrs. Bernard Kot is in the hospital. She would certainly appreciate cards which will reach her at Grace Branch hospital, 18700 Meyers rd., Detroit Mich.

The Post held their regular monthly Executive Committee meeting on Wednesday, November 15, at the Veteran's Community center.

"Peace Through Strength" is the theme of the American Legion Auxiliary in its work for increased security from war. Mrs. Melva Gardner, president, has announced, following adoption of the Auxiliary's national security program for the coming year at the national convention in Miami last month. The convention report stated: "Our only hope for peace today is to be so strong that an aggressor . . . will dare seek to impose tyranny and dictatorship upon our freedom-loving men who desire to live in dignity in the image of God."

Haiti will be the country studied by American Legion units throughout the country during 1955-56 in their program to improve understanding and friendship with other American republics. Mrs. Marie Thompson, Auxiliary Pan-American Study chairman, has announced. The study program will cover the geography and history of the country, customs, problems and aspirations of its people. Mrs. Thompson explained. Each year the Auxiliary studies a different country of South or Central America as part of its national program.

Those of you who plan on having an early Christmas tree, watch for next week's column as to the location of the American Legion Christmas tree lot. It is expected that we will have the same type of excellent trees as we did last year for the same reasonable price.

Youth, 10, Wins Final Grid Quiz With 13 Right Answers for $10

A 10-year-old Plymouth school boy last week matched football wits with the best of them — including his father, a former sports editor for The Mail — and came out on top in the final 1955 "Pick-the-Winners" grid game.

Byron Brown, 197 Amelia, captured the last $10 first place prize that The Mail will pass out this year. The youthful grid expert, with 13 correct answers, topped his father, Edgar, who had six miscues.

The victory was worth more to Byron than just the 10 dollars, although he admitted this added a great deal to his pleasure.

But, moreover, he managed to prove for the moment his prognosticating superiority over his father, with whom he has competed each week for the best crystal-gazing results. His father, a teacher at Plymouth high school, was sports editor at The Mail a couple of years ago.

The win also gave Byron the last word in their friendly dueling, where dad had either won all previous quizzes or else the two had tied for no decision.

Also getting in on the final cash this week was Howard Goodale, 47941 Powell road, who secured second place and seven dollars. Howard erred on three of the 15 games listed.

Third prize went to Ken Fuzell, 565 West Ann Arbor trail, who repeats from last week as the game's third-placer. Ken also had only three flaws in his entry, but figured the professional game score with less accuracy than did Howard.

The three winners were strikingly close in their respective pro game scores. Byron listed the Bears as 31-17 victors over the Detroit club, Howard pegged the Bears to win by a 32-16 count and Ken figured them as 38-20 conquerors over the Lions. The final was 24-14 favor the Chicagoans.

As to winning, Byron explained that he "just picked 'em." He said, "I knew the teams pretty well and made my choices." Needless to say it paid off. His father readily admitted that Byron was unaided in victory.

The youthful expert added that he would save the $10 first place prize toward a new bicycle, which he hopes to get soon.

This most recent grid quiz marks the end of the contest series for 1955. The mounting number of entries each week indicated that the contest met with full acceptance, which in turn would indicate that the quiz will return next fall as the football craze once again takes hold of grid fans. See you then.

BASKETBALL takes the spotlight at Plymouth high school Friday evening, December 2, when the Rocks open their cage battling against neighboring Northville here. In the meantime the locals are going through intense preparation readying themselves for the coming season. One of the possible starters on the current cage unit could be Tom Ferguson (leaping) while Ken Calhoun is another hopeful. Coach Charlie Ketterer, who lists 15 players on his varsity roster, recently described his squad's potential as "inch for inch we could have a respectable team."

Tips on Screens

Be sure to give adequate paint protection to galvanized screens to make them last as long as possible. Copper screening should also be painted to prevent the corrosive down-wash of the metal from staining light surfaces below. To facilitate the job of applying screen enamel, there are special applicators available that resemble blackboard erasers. Pour a little screen enamel into a shallow pan, dip your "eraser" and you can complete the job in short order. Paint both sides of the screening, of course. When you tackle a screened porch, it simplifies matters if there are two on the painting team — one to work inside; the other, out.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

On Sunday, November 13, Hospital Chairman Beverly Brown, Helen Bowring, Lucinda Archer, Dorothy Archer and Virginia Bartel took packages of Christmas cards to all the veterans at Maybury sanitarium. This was a V.F.W.-National Hospital trip and thanks to those girls who made the trip with Beverly!

Beverly wants to announce that she is still collecting old toys for the children at Maybury. Please bring such items to any of the regular business meetings so they can be presented to the children at Christmas time!

Our next regular hospital trip will be Sunday, December 18, which is our annual Christmas trip at which time we distribute gifts to all the veterans. We need your help on these trips. Call Beverly Brown, 1108, and volunteer your time to help make the holiday season a little more pleasant for those less fortunate than we.

Under the sponsorship of the Rehabilitation committee, the auxiliary is presenting its annual Thanksgiving basket to a needy family in the Plymouth area.

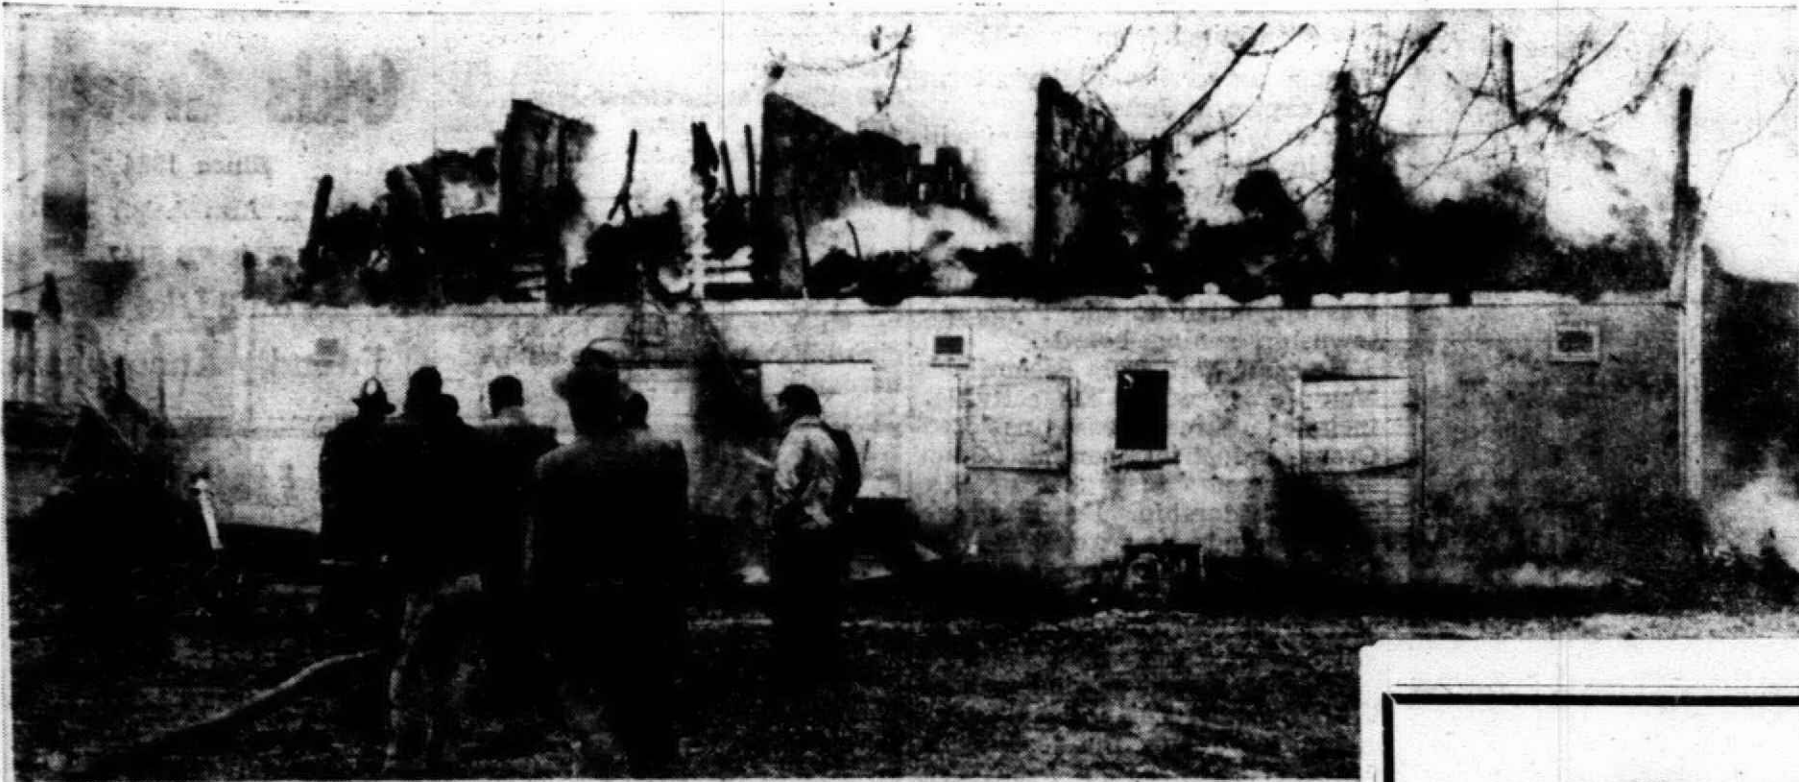

The Legislative rally took place on Monday evening, November 21, at the Post hall. Representative Martha Griffiths was the main speaker for the evening. Chairman Kay Coolman thanks all those members and friends who saw it their duty to attend this rally concerning veteran's survivors benefits.

On December 4, there will be a joint Post and Auxiliary meeting at the Post hall. This will take the place of our regular business meeting the first Tuesday in December. We urge all auxiliary and Post officers and members to try and attend this joint meeting so we can be informed on Post affairs!

Don't forget, also, the annual Children's Christmas Party on Sunday, December 18, at the hall. Plans are underway for all the Christmas trimmings, including a visit from Santa Claus, Christmas tree and fun for all the children! Call Chairman Bud Krumm for further information.

Hope Mildred Dely recovers rapidly from her recent misfortune. She is surviving from a fall which broke her wrist!

FIRE DEMOLISHED the Northville Riding Academy, 38100 Seven Mile road, Livonia, last Friday, causing an estimated $300,000 damage and burning to death six horses stabled there. Sixty-five other horses were rescued by workers. Above spectators and firemen gather around the smoldering main building, where the blaze supposedly began in a large haymow. Below two firemen battle the blaze. Plymouth and Plymouth township fire departments were among the seven units that answered the call. The nearby apartment home of the academy's manager, John Wallace, was also destroyed by the fire, which burned and billowed smoke late into the night. One man suffered facial burns while freeing the horses.

Bags Deer Early

A strong contestant for the first Plymouthite to bag his buck this year is the Reverend David L. Rieder, 494 North Mill. Hunting with his son, Duane, at Bois-blanc Island, Rev. Rieder shot his buck at 7:31 a.m. on opening day. It took Duane until Thursday to even the score. The pair returned Sunday.

Optimist Boys Night Scheduled for Monday

The Plymouth Optimist club will present a special Boys' Night program on Monday, November 28, 6:30 p.m. at Arbor-Lill Restaurant.

Ray Viau, club president, announced that Sgt. Lester Coykendall of the Michigan State Police will stage a shooting exhibition and program.

Mel Moles
Dies at 61

Services will be held Friday, November 25, at 1 o'clock from the Schrader Funeral home for Mel Moles of 621 Ann street, well-known resident of this area. Mr. Moles succumbed early Tuesday morning at University hospital, Ann Arbor, after an extended illness. He was 61 years of age.

The deceased, a mechanical engineer, came to Plymouth in 1922 from Jackson. He was a member of the Methodist church and Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F & AM.

Mr. Moles was born July 12, 1894 in Muncie, Indiana to John and Belle Campbell Moles, both of whom are deceased. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Clella A. Moles; two sisters, Mrs. O. K. Dawson and Mrs. George Grandstaff, both of Muncie, Indiana.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson will conduct the funeral services on Friday. Employees formerly associated with Mr. Moles will serve as pallbearers. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

School, Township

Supervisor Lindsay said that "there is tremendous potential growth here." He added that the township is bringing in its own plumbing and heating codes and still working on its new zoning laws and map. Unpaved streets are a thing of the past, he asserted. No longer will subdivisions be built with dirt streets and without sewers. He also noted that growth will not only come from Detroit, but from the Ann Arbor direction. The new North Campus will build up the U of M enrollment to 35,000 and many of those who will work there are already looking for dwellings in this area, Lindsay declared.

Getting back to the school problem, it was pointed out that the Sheldon road school cannot be started until the sewer contract is let because of a Wayne County Health department ruling. Howard Houghton, representing the department, told his group that his department is "holding the line" in that ruling because of past experiences. Many school boards, with best intentions, have asked to build schools with promise that sewer systems were being built.

But often, these systems never come to pass and it was necessary to pump sewerage and haul it away, he indicated.

Harold Fischer, school board member, suggested that local governments should perhaps do what a few others are doing — ask that developers provide school sites in their plans. It was suggested by the school board president, Carl Caplin, that the school board and township boards "keep their lines of communications open." He noted that sewer and water development and home building bring on more need for schools and that the townships, the authority and school board should know in advance what each other's plans are.

Another meeting was set for Monday, December 19.

Scouts Launch
"Good Turn Day"
This Saturday

Local Boy Scouts in conjunction with other troops in the Detroit Area Council have completed plans for a Good Turn Day for Goodwill Industries. On Saturday, November 26, they will distribute Boy Scouts bags to hundreds of homes in Plymouth and the surrounding area.

Unlike last year when the bags were picked up by the Boy Scouts a week after delivery, it was decided by the Boy Scout Council and Goodwill executives that it would be more feasible to have the contributor call Goodwill Industries when the bag is filled with usable discards. Local representative is Miss Edith Sorenson, Northville 571.

The Good Turn Day is not aimed at regular contributors to Goodwill Industries, but has as its purpose an attempt to get more people within this area acquainted with the work that Goodwill does in offering jobs to handicapped employees.

Miss Sorenson said, "Traditionally the winter months are slow at Goodwill Industries, endangering steady employment and an extra effort on the part of the public through the Boy Scout drive can insure jobs throughout the winter without cutbacks."

Mrs. George A. Smith entertained several ladies at a tea Tuesday afternoon in her home on Sheridan avenue honoring Mrs. Maude Cooper and Mrs. Aurtie Cranson who leave Sunday morning for California. Mrs. Cooper will make her home in California and Mrs. Cranson is accompanying her there and will return to Plymouth after the first of the year.

Local Hunters Keep On Bringing 'em Back

Deer hunters from the Plymouth area are still returning from the north woods with their kill. Dozens of deer have been seen returned here draped over fenders and in trailers, but what may be the biggest kill was brought back by Melvin Krumm, 42480 Parkhurst.

Krumm brought back an 11-point buck which he shot near Newberry at 8:30 a.m. on opening day. It weighed 200 pounds dressed. What's more, he dragged it three miles to get it out of the woods.

Among the few local women hunters was Mrs. Margaret Strope, 47857 Cherry Hill. She was able to get her buck at 8:48 a.m. on opening day near Marquette. This was her third deer in four years of hunting. It weighed 160 pounds dressed and had eight points.

Canon Matthews, Assembly of God Missionaries To Convene Here

Under the auspices of the men's organization of St. John's Episcopal church, the Reverend Canon Gordon Matthews, executive secretary of the Diocese of Michigan, will be the featured speaker for a dinner at the local church on Monday, November 28, starting at 6:45 p.m.
Canon Matthews, who was a delegate to the general convention of the Episcopal church held in Honolulu last September, will discuss some of his experiences and impressions of the convention.
Before his election to the office of executive secretary in 1943, he was rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Detroit. In 1948 he was appointed Honorary Canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, the

Rev. Canon Gordon Matthews

Cathedral of the Michigan Diocese.
As executive secretary, with headquarters in Detroit, Canon Matthews administers the details of a vast diocese reaching from Detroit to Hillsdale and from the Ohio line to Cheboygan. He maintains control of the diocesan budget, acts as secretary to all diocesan departments, and travels about the diocese familiarizing the people of the church with their diocesan program.
Canon Matthews was born in Cambridge, England, and came to the U.S. from Canada, where he had done missionary work in Saskatchewan and Alberta. He has served 44 years in the ministry. In 1952, as a token of their appreciation, the people of the Diocese presented Canon and Mrs. Matthews with a trip to the British Isles upon the completion of his 10 years of service to the Diocese.

The annual Missionary Convention of the Plymouth Assembly of God church will be held on November 27, 29 and 30. Missionaries representing four different countries will present the progress of mission work. Colored motion pictures, slides and curios will be used.
Reverend John C. Jackson, representing Chile, will speak at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning. Reverend Jackson has spent five years in Chile and prior to that spent three years in Cuba. He will return to Chile with his family upon completion of his furlough.
Reverend John Garlock will speak Sunday evening. Reverend Garlock, the son of Missionary parents, spent several years of his boyhood in the Gold Coast, West Africa. At the age of 17 years, he returned to this country to prepare for the ministry. Upon completion of his training he returned to South Africa as a missionary which country he now represents.
Speaking Tuesday evening, will be Reverend Anthony Giordano, missionary to Paraguay, S. A. Reverend Giordano has been under appointment by the Assembly of God to Paraguay since 1950 and is planning to return soon.
Reverend James E. Baker of Formosa will speak on Wednesday evening. Reverend Baker, the son of missionary parents, was born and raised in China. After completing his education in the U. S. he returned to China in 1946 and remained there until 1949 when he was driven out by the Communists. Since then, he has been engaged in missionary work in Formosa.
The Assemblies of God are currently supporting nearly 750 missionaries in 60 foreign countries.
The local Assembly of God church is located at Ann Arbor trail and Riverside drive. Evening services start at 7:30 p.m.

The Text

The family was having company for dinner. Julie, five, called her mother, and said: "Mommy, there is a hair in my soup."
"Hush dear," implored the embarrassed mother, trying to cover the situation, "it's just a crack in your plate."
Julie picked up her spoon stirred dubiously a few times. "Mommy," she insisted, "can a kwack move?"

NOTICE!

"It is unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money—that is all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot. It can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better."

In the rumor department . . . Many people have been under the impression that the J. L. Hudson Company have or are in the process of purchasing land on the west side of our fair city. Here is a statement from Foster Winter, treasurer of the Hudson store given us Tuesday morning . . . "The J. L. Hudson Company has no plans at this time for the purchase or development of any property in or near the vicinity of Plymouth."

We might add, however, that some large real estate transaction is in the making on the western limits of Plymouth but our best guess is that it will resolve itself into another thousand or two homes in another major housing development. Remember a couple of months ago we said for our residents not to be surprised if another three thousand homes might spring up here in the next year or two!

Changing Times published the following item titled "What 100 New Families Can Do To a City Budget." When one considers it along with The Mail's announcement last week of a new 1300 home project in the township it adds up to some startling figures, especially in regard to our schools.

"What happens when a hundred new families arrive in a medium-sized city? To begin with, it means about 450 new people, including 100 children, 67 in grammar school, 33 in high school. This calls for 2.2 new rooms in grade school and 1.65 new rooms in high school, which will cost about $120,000. Four new teachers will have to be hired. The 100 families will add about $30,000 a year to the school operating budget.

"Besides teachers, the city will need four-fifths of a new employee in the police department and two-thirds of a new fireman, upping the police budget by $4,510 and the fire department budget by $2,820. All sorts of extra jobs will have to be done from collecting taxes to collecting garbage. Add four new city employees at a total price of $12,000 to $15,000.

"The water department must pump 10,000 gallons more each day. Traffic will be increased by 140 cars and trucks. And the city may have to add 500 new volumes to the city library, part of a visiting nurse and, yes—a fraction of a cell in the town jail."

Another interesting observation made by a Rochester, N. Y., daily is worth repeating here regarding the ministry.

"Resolution of the Federation of Churches of Rochester and vicinity in favor of pay increases for teachers, policemen and firemen had some very wise admonitions, and a special interest.

"It warned against making the question a political issue. It pointed out that no sleight of hand will produce the money to pay the increases, that is, the people will have to raise it in taxes.

"This is realistic. It simply isn't true that the salary goals of these groups can be realized without paying for them in taxes.

"And then the federation went on to say that we should be less concerned about keeping tax rates unchanged than in "maintaining at high level the personnel who render services which are at the heart of our community life."

"Which should remind us: In the general shift of relative economic status of the last 50 years, ministers have fared no better than teachers or policemen, some of them not so well.

"Perhaps many of the things that have been said about making teaching attractive to young folk could be said about the ministry. Maintaining the ministry, at a high level is equally important. It, too, renders services which are at the heart of our community life."

"But in their selfless way ministers join with laymen in the federation to plug for teachers, policemen and firemen. This is a plug for the ministers."

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. Teaching Still in Horse & Buggy Days

Babson Discusses School Costs
Babson Park, Mass. So many letters come to me, from both teachers and taxpayers, that I would like this week to answer them all in this column in an impartial manner.

Teachers Deserve More Salaries
Let me start out by saying that my sympathies are distinctly with the school teachers and especially with the school principals. It is true that truck drivers are getting more pay than school teachers. Morally this seems unjust, but the fact is that the employers have substituted motors for horses and big trucks for wagons. These trucks carry as much in a day as the old horses and wagons carried in a week. In other words, the employers have adopted methods which enable the truck drivers to have increased wages.

Painters today are paid double what they were 20 years ago; but employers have adopted sprayers in place of hand brushes. Carpenters are getting double; but the employers are supplying them with electric saws instead of hand saws. The school committees and the city fathers, on the other hand, have not done much of anything to help the teachers do more efficient work. As an employer, I pay my typists double what I used to pay them; but with electric typewriters and other machinery they give me double the work. The doctor costs us more a visit; but he is making us live longer. Hard-covered books cost more; but we can get the same thing for half the price with paper covers. Radio, washing machines, and TVs have all improved in quality, and hence profit returns offset the wage increases.

Let us consider who benefits from the increased costs of modern school buildings. Twenty per cent of this increased cost is due to unnecessary classroom space, glass windows unused ventilation, and rule or regulations put through by the labor unions and similar associations. Fifty per cent of the increased cost is due to plumbing, electrical work, modern kitchens, fancy gymnasiums, auditoriums to please the voters, not to improve education. Thirty per cent has been due to the increased costs of materials, of which Uncle Sam takes fifty-two per cent in taxes. In a general way, this also explains the increased costs of most houses. School committees, by catering to the voter, are largely responsible for these high-cost school buildings. They should not make the teachers carry the burden of these costs by accepting low salaries.

The doctors are not only delivering better services for increased fees, but they are forming associations to conquer cancer, heart disease, and even polio. We, however, do not know of any PTA which is developing new systems of instruction to assure the teachers better salaries. We hear of very few cities where the classrooms are giving double service, with half of the students coming in the morning and the other half in the afternoon. We hear of experiments with radio and TV. Unfortunately, however, too few parents are interested in better teaching. Too many parents want to work outside the home, and use the schools for parking places for their children.

Unfortunately, the teachers' future probably awaits some very important research. The schools are spending billions a year to park and lunch children, but — unlike our large industries — are spending very little on fundamental research. We understand the psychology of a cow better than the psychology of a child. Those who control education do not know the difference between a "brain" and a "mind," to say nothing about the probabilities of extrasensory perception and the use of numbers rather than sentences. Possibilities of the mind are tremendous. But teachers may be obliged to supplement their teaching by giving pupils prescribed diets, or new undiscovered drugs, or electric impulses. Education also may take an active interest in eugenics. As Sir George Thompson is reported to say, "What the brain can foresee presents the greatest promise that lies ahead." Surely, the time required for a conventional education will be cut 75%, schools will graduate far more efficient pupils, and teachers will be paid what they are worth, or else they will be replaced by UNIVAC machines.

GOP Looks for Man to Stop Williams

Plight of state Republicans was outlined in Muskegon last week by D. Hale Brake, who spent more than 20 years as an elected official in government.

"It won't be easy to regain control of Michigan's government," he said. "It looks like Gov. Williams will seek a fifth term, and he'll be hard to beat," he continued. "The Republicans will have to put up a top flight candidate, and even then, it won't be easy."

Hoping for peace within the party, Brake warned that the GOP cannot stand a bitter primary battle next year. "There were no animosities among candidates after the 1954 primary," Brake pointed out, "but there was feeling among backers of the losing candidates, and the election campaigns lacked interest."

Recalling that "there hasn't been a majority candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket since 1938," Brake feels that it would be advantageous if Republicans could reach agreement on a gubernatorial candidate who could command support from a majority of Republicans.

At present three names pop up as possible candidates. Mayor Albert Cobo, Detroit; Representative Gerald R. Ford Jr., Grand Rapids; and Alvin M. Bentley, Owosso.

Cobo is given much attention on grounds he could pull a heavy Wayne County vote. Republicans hope to gain substantially there while polling usual majorities outstate. But it is also said that his health prevents him from running; that he wishes to retire.

Ford is considered a strong possibility with personality advantages. But he holds an office in Washington which might be lost to Democrats if he should win in Michigan. His financing is believed rather limited so that he would be hard pressed, should he lose.

Bentley, who announced that he would step aside if either of the other two entered the race, looks to many like the strongest possibility. Bentley's home area is more solidly Republican, reducing danger of a Democrat gaining his seat should he leave the House in the Nation's Capitol for the governor's desk in the State Capitol.

"The Republicans can't afford the luxury of a primary fight," commented Bentley.

The GOP spring convention will take place in Detroit May 5. In the fall they will meet in Grand Rapids on Sept. 1.

Primary election takes place Aug. 7 and the general election on Nov. 6.

This leaves time to do much rearranging. By Nov. 6, it can be judged how well this time was put to use.

Funds to bring more industry to the state will be sought by the Michigan Economic Development Commission. A request for $125,000 will be submitted to next year's legislature. Specifically the money will be used to advertise advantages of locating industry in Michigan. Biggest share of the sum, about $60,000, would be used for space in national business magazines. Smaller amounts will be budgeted for an industrial promotion television film, a Michigan supplement of the New York Times, exhibits at manufacturers' conventions and a national publicity campaign.

Other states are spending $3 million this year in attempts to lure Michigan industries to other localities. Dan Gerber, president of Gerber Baby Foods and Commission member, announced.

If granted, the $125,000 will become the first appropriation by the state to promote itself in this manner. Some promotion has taken place, but most of it was privately financed by power or transportation companies.

Recent figures show 234 plants in Michigan communities looking for new tenants. The fall edition of the Economic Development's Available Plant Summary, sent to 8,000 industrial realtors and manufacturers, showed this information.

It also showed that since the spring inventory of plant sites, 66 of the 255 then listed have been occupied. Of the 234 plants available now, 216 are in the Lower Peninsula.

Capitol landscaper architects lost a point to Senator Bert J. Storey (R-Belding).

Last year, he complained bitterly on the floor that shrubbery blocked off the inscription under the statue of Gov. Blair, the state's chief executive during the civil war.

It took a long time, but Storey finally won.

Workmen dug out the tall shrubs and put back some cushion yews, a small evergreen variety which look best when trimmed to knee height.

"Now people can read of the accomplishments of one of Michigan's great governors," said Storey.

Storey has a special interest in old wars and warriors — he is 76, and a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He played cornet in an army band, and was younger than the army thought.

Michigan will observe S-D Day Dec. 1.

It is one day during the year when police, motorists and the public generally attempt to live and let live for 24 hours with no accidents on the highways.

S-D Day? That's Safe Driving Day in Michigan.

G. BROMLEY OXNAM, Methodist Bishop of Washington:

"We must never forget that an ideology cannot be demolished by atomic bombs, nor suffocated by poison gas. It must be met by a better ideology, equally dynamic."

Two pies every housewife should master

Apple pies are easy to make, and the housewife who has mastered the art has a sure-fire method of raising family morale around dinner time.

Budget pies are a little more difficult, but the proper recipe is even more valuable to a good homemaker.

In setting up a well-planned budget, the household manager's main job is to make the right balance between necessary expenses (food, clothing, shelter, education, etc.), other expenditures (entertainment, gifts, luxury purchases, etc.) and savings.

Now, the detailed planning of the budget pie is pretty much an individual matter, but in one respect, general advice can be offered: make the slice marked "Savings at National Bank of Detroit" as big as possible. In many ways that is the most important slice of all, for it is the one that enables you to build security and plan for the future with confidence.

And the National Bank of Detroit helps with your budget-keeping in still other ways. A well maintained checking account, for instance, not only gives you the utmost in buying and bill-paying convenience, but also provides a continuing record of your financial transactions. And your cancelled checks serve as legal receipts for every payment you make.

Then, too, at National Bank you have available complete banking and trust services to help you solve almost every type of money problem.

Maybe your budget pie could use a new recipe. If so, you'll be able to find the principal ingredients at your neighborhood National Bank Office.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"If you could have any present you wanted this Christmas, what would you ask for?"

FARRIS McINTOSH, 212 South Main: "Well, a home would be my choice. It's been my biggest dream because I hope sometime to marry and retire in my own house."

MRS. VIRGINIA GEER, Northville: "As long as we're wishing, I would like a new automobile. Being very practical I would prefer a low priced model that would cost very little to maintain."

McIntosh Mrs. Geer Mrs. Holstein Carol Lee

MRS. GEORGE HOLSTEIN, 157 Rose: "I believe a new car. It would be quite expensive, however, as I am slightly handicapped and would have to have a specially equipped car."

CAROL LEE JOHNSON, Northville: "I'd like a new bicycle, a bird and some skirts. No reason, I would just like 'em."

Helping their Mom prepare pork steak for the family dinner are Johnny, 18 months, and three-year-old Janice Owens of 399 Sunset.

Soup Gives Pork Steak Delicious Flavor

Pork steak simmered in beef noodle soup rates tops in popularity at the Lee Owens household, 399 Sunset. The recipe is one which Mrs. Owens picked up from a friend several years ago and has liked so well she's served it many times since then.

The dish is especially easy on the cook as the soup not only gives the meat a delicious flavor, but at the same time makes a tasty gravy to serve over fluffy mashed potatoes. All that's needed to complete the meal is a salad and vegetable.

Here's the procedure for whipping up the dish:

Pork Steak Simmered In Beef Noodle Soup
2 to 4 pieces of pork steak, depending on size of family.
1 tablespoon of shortening
Mustard
Flour
Salt and pepper

1 can of beef or chicken noodle soup
1 can of water.
Spread each side of pork steak with mustard, then sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper to taste. Brown meat on both sides. Then add can of soup and can of water. Cover and cook over low burner for approximately 25 minutes or until meat is tender. If more gravy is desired, a little extra water may be added while meat is cooking.

Lester Kitchen, Jr., brother of the bride assisted Earl as best man. Seating the guests were Gaylord Blossom and George Demick.

Mrs. Kitchen selected a dress of steel blue lace over satin and wore grey accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Robertson wore champagne lace with navy accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Attending the reception following the ceremony, at the Masonic Temple in Plymouth were out of town guests from Utica, Olivet, Highland Park, Livonia and Detroit. Present also were guests from New York State, Connecticut and Illinois.

For traveling the new Mrs. Robertson chose a wool turquoise dress with which she wore black accessories. The young couple honeymooned at a cottage near Hamburg, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will reside with the bride's parents until their new home on Minehart drive is completed.

Glittering, Lame Outfits Suggest Return of "Flapper" Days

Perhaps the flapper age is returning. Lame is the high-style fabric of the coming winter season with the lame suit gleaming its way to the top of the after-dark fashion picture. Satins, tafetas, peau-de-soie, wool and many of the new materials, such as orlons, are being shot with silver and gold threads.

The outstanding colors for winter will be warm and bright. Burnt amber, red, clear green, reds, purple smoke gray, blue blazes, coke, green fire and coke green, and gold. Gold is being teamed with all the warm colors and gold shoes, bags and evening hats will be very smart.

Fur trim will be popular for evening and sport clothes. The latest shoulder-strap arrangement is detachable straps made of mink. Mink is used for bows on the skirts of long foamy chiffon dresses. Mink evening bags with rhinestone trim and matching mink-trimmed gloves for cocktail clothes will come in all colors of velvet and satin. The fur hat and bag will again be fashion news for sport events.

Figured materials and prints have long been popular for spring and summer dresses. This winter figured dresses in soft zephyr wools will be worn. Flower prints will be outstanding. One rose-print-on-black dress will feature a matching coat of black tafeta with immense red roses embroidered on the lining.

Convertible type necklines are found on many dresses. Worn one way the dress is suitable for the office. Do a bit of changing, and the dress is ready for dinner and dancing.

Cook beet greens in a small amount of water for greater food value and better taste. Raw beet greens add extra tang to a tossed salad.

SMOKY TURKEY CASSEROLE WITH RICE

Left-overs are fun when you plan a Smoky Turkey Casserole. You can add new variety to your menus by dressing up turkey—or chicken—in this brand new smoky-taste dish. Better make the full portion—everybody will be asking for more.

6 slices of bacon, diced
1/4 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 cups milk
1/2 pound smoke-flavored cheese, cubed
2 cups diced cooked turkey
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
3 cups cooked rice

Cook bacon until crisp. Measure off 1/4 cup of the drippings. Drain bacon on absorbent paper.

Stir flour, salt, and pepper into bacon drippings. Add milk all at once, stirring until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add cheese and stir until melted.

Stir in turkey and pimiento and heat thoroughly. Fold in rice and bacon. Pour into 6 individual 1-cup casseroles, or a 1 1/2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika, if desired.

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Yields six servings.

Hints for Those Who Wield Crochet Hooks

Do you crochet? If you do, you probably will welcome hints on crocheting — ideas on how to speed your progress or how to give an individual touch to your work.

It is a good thing to wash crochet hooks often in warm soapy water to keep them slick and easy to use. Be sure the water is not too hot and that you remove all traces of soap.

Keep your crochet hooks all in one place to keep from having to look for them when you need them. The little plastic cases that toothbrushes come in are perfect storage containers. The covers are usually transparent so you can see at a glance if the hook you need is inside.

A long, narrow olive bottle makes another convenient holder and will hold more hooks. Use a cork to stick the hook into as you put down your work. You can see at once where the hook is and the cork will keep the hook from causing any damage.

When you are crocheting while sitting in a chair, stick a long hat pin into the upholstery of the chair arm and slip the spool of thread over it. This will prevent the thread from rolling to the floor.

Make crocheted hairpins to match your crocheted head scarf. Use large head pins of a bone or plastic material with crinkled shanks. Crochet around the tops in single stitch.

A hat pin of crochet is just the thing for a crocheted hat. Glue narrow strips of cloth or absorbent cotton around a long-stemmed hat pin until it is a smooth oblong about two inches long. You can crochet around the tops in single stitch. These hat pins are easy to make and make attractive gifts. Make a set of hat pins, including several different colors. You can add a few sequins, beads or rhinestones if you wish.

Another inexpensive but attractive gift you can make in no time at all is a small tulip, rose or cluster of forget-me-nots. These may be touched with diluted clear shellac or clear nail polish to give a luster finish.

Sewing on that hat you are making over is just as important as the kind of trim you use. Bring a single or double thread. Bring the needle through from the inside, then back, just once, using the stab stitch. Michigan State home economists suggest tying the threads loosely so there is some give between the hat and trimmings.

TURKEY 'N CRANBERRIES

A peaceful day of Thanksgiving for continued prosperity and abundance we enjoy in our everyday living is indeed one to be thoughtfully observed. Traditionally, it is a day to feast on turkey, stuffing and cranberry sauce.

Modern foods, quick and easy to prepare, are certainly good cause for giving thanks by the homemaker.

Turkeys, fully dressed and free of pinfeathers, save many hours of painstaking work in the kitchen. Another time-saving practice is to prepare a turkey large enough for at least two meals.

There are large, medium and small turkeys for families of all sizes.

Figure on one and one-half pounds of turkey for each person to be served. This amount allows for some shrinkage during roasting and bones we cannot eat. It also means that the turkey is large enough to be carved graciously at the table by a not-so-expert carver. There should be enough turkey left for sandwiches or a hot casserole dish.

A new look for the turkey dinner may come with a change in the way you serve the cranberries. Rich cranberry ice, cool and tart, is refreshing served with the main course.

Boil cranberries in six cups water. When soft, press through sieve or food mill. Add sugar to cranberry puree. Bring to a brisk boil. Cool.

Add lemon juice. Place in refrigerator trays and freeze to soft mush. Fold in whipped cream.

Return to trays and freeze until firm. Serve in sherbet glasses with main course of meal.

Yield: Ten to twelve servings.

Tips on Stuffing Thanksgiving Turkey

A word to those who are stuff- before roasting. And when storing Thanksgiving turkeys — If ing the left-over turkey and you prepare the stuffing ahead dressing, be sure to remove the of time, store it separately in the stuffing again and store them refrigerator. Stuff the turkey just separately.

True Meaning

The true meaning of Thanksgiving is not to be found in the traditional feast. Instead, the true meaning is evidenced by the prayerful thanks which we will offer to Him before the feast, just as the Pilgrim Fathers gave thanks to God on the first Thanksgiving Day.

SCHRADER Funeral Home

Let Us Be Truly Thankful

Use Care in Selecting Foods That Accompany Holiday Bird

This year the "horn of plenty" is spilling over with a variety of foods. Homemakers planning their Thanksgiving day menus are finding a wide selection of foods on the market.

While the Thanksgiving turkey, chicken or ham may seem to be the most important item on the menu, careful selection of foods that accompany your meat selection will give you the reputation of a successful hostess. An apple juice beverage makes a good appetizer. If you like a hot drink, heat the apple juice and serve it with cinnamon stick stirrers.

Cranberries are a must and they are in plentiful supply. They may be used in a variety of ways as a relish, salad, glaze for the ham, in hot muffins, or as colorful desserts to top a meal. Here are some recipe suggestions

Cranberry Glaze for Ham
(approx. 10 lbs.)
2 cups jellied cranberry sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 dozen long-stemmed cloves
Crush cranberry sauce with a fork; combine crushed cranberry sauce and brown sugar. Spread over ham. Bake one hour, basting occasionally. Spoon cranberry sauce from bottom of pan over ham just before serving. Variation: Chopped apricots may be added to the cranberry topping.

Cranberry Mince Relish
2 cups cranberry sauce (jellied)

or whole)
1/4 cup mincemeat
1/4 cup chopped walnuts.
If jellied cranberry sauce is used, crush with a fork. Stir in the mincemeat and nuts. Makes 1 pint relish.

Soft Leathers Become Top Fashion Medium

Soft, pliable leather is being fashioned into beautiful clothes for informal and formal living. Coats, jackets, slacks, full-length dinner skirts, suits and dresses are very smart and unusual looking made of a "skin you love to touch."

Leather is being combined with ribknit to create a slim dress of suede for the lady who wants a dress that is casual but different. Kidskin sport coats lined with alpaca and collared and cuffed with a contrasting color of suede, are expensive but will last and last.

Some of these lovely designs have an Oriental look and are trimmed and lined with linen or silk. The evening clothes are perhaps the most unusual looking of all. They offer simple elegance that is as much at home in the suburbs as in the city.

Sewing on plastic? A long stitch (about 7 stitches to the inch) and a fine needle (number 11) are recommended. Use mercerized cotton or nylon thread and adjust your machine for a light tension.

Serve cheese fingers with salads. Cut bread into finger shapes, and brush with a mixture of melted butter and a beaten egg. Roll them in grated American cheese and brown lightly under the broiler.

ANOTHER of the home features viewed by the St. John's Episcopal church "Cook's Tour" last Thursday was this curved fireplace in the Dr. and Mrs. John Vos residence, 11737 Amherst court. The fireplace is located in the Vos' living room, which is circular with a large picture window situated opposite the fireplace.

How to Color Style Your Home With a Minimum of Expense

When you select colors for your home's interior decor, consult your own taste and that of your family, rather than the dictates of fashion, advises the Construction Research Bureau, clearing house for building information.

More important to the home decorator than what is fashionable at the moment are balance, the proper limiting of color schemes, the keying of color to a few prized possessions, the ways in which colors combine to change the visual appearance and size of a room, and finally the choice of colors that will complement and reveal your own personality and that of the individual members of the household.

Here is a simple, safe and easy color wheel for beginning decorators:

Draw a circle and divide it into 12 equal sections, like the face of a clock. Write "blue" between 12:00 and 1:00 o'clock; "red" between 4:00 and 5:00 o'clock, and "yellow" between 8:00 and 9:00 o'clock. Between "blue" and "red" working clockwise, write in blue-violet, violet and red-violet; between "red" and "yellow," insert red-orange, orange and yellow-orange; and between "yellow" and "blue," write yellow-green, green and blue-green in that order.

Too many colors together create confusion. You need no more than three or four colors, in various values and intensities, to provide ample variety. Ornaments and accessories should conform to your basic color scheme, to avoid confusion and a haphazard cluttered appearance.

Color functions in terms of space — some colors seem to come forward while others recede. Color therefore, can change the apparent shape and size of a room, lower or raise the ceiling, push side walls farther apart or move them closer together, emphasize or minimize architectural features.

For a color scheme you can select a group of colors that lie side by side along your color wheel. This is an analogous, or harmonious, color plan. Your selection of colors will depend on the reactions you want to produce. Tones of blue, green and violet are cool colors which make things look smaller and farther away. They tend to "push" walls apart, and are restful, quiet soothing. Tones of red, orange and yellow are "warm" colors which make objects seem bigger and closer, and pull a group of furnishings together in a stimulating and cheerful fashion. For example, a charming family room with a Kenflex vinyl floor of Shannon Green, Lime Green and White Ivy, installed in basket-weave design would have accents of sharp yellow in curtains, picture mats, chair cushions and drawer fronts, with copper utensils ranged against a natural stone fireplace wall and staccato black touches appearing in a built-in wall oven and framed silhouettes.

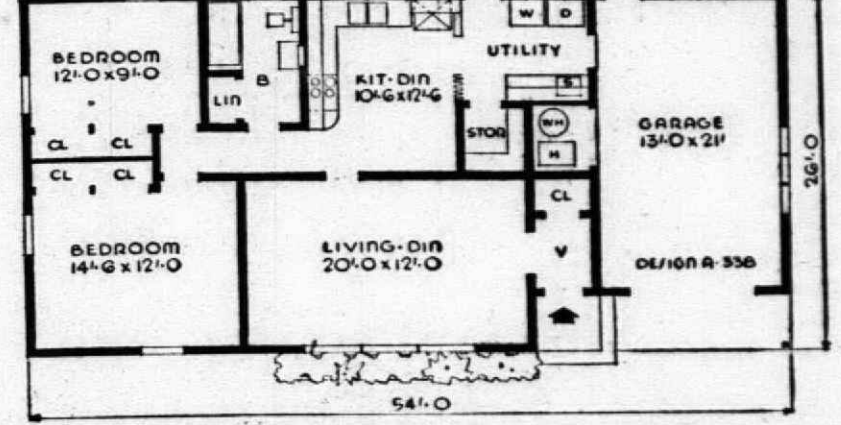

Complimentary colors are those which lie opposite one another. Pleasant in any climate would be a room with random design Cork-tone Kenflex floor of three natural cork colors with ceiling and walls in blue-oyster gray, furniture upholstered in deep blue and draperies and ornaments in shades of turquoise blue, sharply contrasted with stark white, black and red.

Split-complementary color schemes are one basic color plus the two shades on either side of its complementary, such as blue-green Carnivex Kenflex Coquette, mottled in shades of orange and red. A triad color scheme consists of three colors equally distant from one another around the wheel, such as Carnivex Kenflex Calliope, a soft gray dappled in red, blue and yellow.

Becoming noticeable now is a trend among owners of homes bought within the last five years to make additions of single rooms, whole wings or bigger garages to their homes. One of the most popular new rooms is the all-purpose family or game room. Usually it's added on to the kitchen side of the house. If the house has a quarry terrace the new game room is often constructed so it will have quick access to the terrace. New bedrooms, of course, get high priority by home owners with growing families. Garages are next in line, not necessarily because cars are getting bigger, but because more and more families are looking for extra storage space in the garage. New home additions during '55 helped substantially in keeping housing outlays high. It will be the same story — or more so — in '56.

Apartments Make Good "Training"

Young families still apartment-bound should count their blessings.

Samplings among young couples by the Tile Council of America reveal that those who take advantage of "apartment training" make better homes for themselves later on. They do this by experimenting now with furnishings, colors, materials and room arrangements.

Some families, the study shows, move into new homes before they are ready. Unfamiliar with color, the effects of textures and lighting, and unused to the needed practicalities of basic areas of kitchen and bath, such families can often spend years in new homes fumbling for good taste and efficiency.

If they had set about training themselves in their apartment days, it would be a different story now. For example, they should have given in to that urge for experimentation with a blue-white living room; or the dyed burlap room divider; or the juxtaposition of oil-finished with glossy-finished furniture.

By way of practicality, today's apartment couples should note the waterproof ceramic tiled bathroom, the stainproof ceramic tiled splashbacks in the kitchen. They certainly should observe the apartment building's quarry entrance. Some day, for their own home, they're going to want a handsome, life-lasting surface either for terrace or entranceway.

Above all, they should make thorough checks on kitchen appliances, learning the pro's and con's. When it comes time to buy appliances for their new house, they will have a good idea of what exactly they want and don't want. So, start learning now, apartment-bound!

Lighted Packages On Your Doorstep

Looking for a new idea for your doorway decoration this Christmas? Here's one that will delight the whole family because they'll have an opportunity to watch how it's put together.

Drape evergreen festooning, entwined with colored bulbs in graceful loops above the door. Hang long sprays of greens topped with bright red plastic bows at each side of the door.

Buy or make a huge red and white plaid stocking and stuff with newspaper which has been rolled into hard balls. Fill the top of the stocking with inexpensive toys.

Place two huge lighted packages at one side of the entrance step. Here's a tip from General Electric holiday lighting specialists for an easy way to make these effective lighted packages.

Use the end of an orange crate for the base. Fasten a porcelain socket in the center and insert a 60- or 100-watt bulb, depending on the size of the package.

Now, fashion a wire frame to the wooden base to form a box-like structure. Cover with plastic shower curtain-type material, available in yard goods departments, and trim with plastic "ribbon" in a contrasting color.

For additional highlights on the door, hide a 150-watt spotlight behind the large package and aim it at the Christmas stocking.

Nothing will add new life to a tired-out living room like a remodeling of your fireplace. It's usually the center of focus in the room and a handsome, fire-proof facing of colorful ceramic tile will give it a fresh, new appearance. There's a virtually limitless variety of designs, patterns, textures and shapes from which to select.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: What can you suggest to eliminate sweating of the water tank of a toilet? Water actually collects in pools on the floor. Because of the plumbing, a tray to catch the water is impractical.

Answer: There are several treatments which eliminate condensation of moisture on the cold tank surface. Coating the exterior of the tank with glycerine reduces condensation to a minimum, but needs to be washed off with ammonia and replaced at least every 6 months. Lining the interior walls of the tank with 1/2-inch foam rubber applied with a waterproof adhesive works very well. There is also a commercial liner for this purpose now on the market. It is also possible to introduce warmed water in to the tank by installing a mixing valve in the feed line to blend hot and cold water. Unless the tank is cold, no condensation takes place. Close into a powder room. I have put in an old wash basin but it isn't in character with the rest of this room. Is there any way I can modernize this sink, or enclose it? I have several power tools.

Question: I have converted a

Answer: You can convert the sink to a vanity — a sort of dressing table with a sink in one portion of it. Make the table top of 1/2 inch plywood covered with one of the waterproof plastic coverings applied with an adhesive. They are colorful. Cut out a hole for the sink and surround it with a chrome molding. Beneath this, and to support it, build a simple cabinet on a 1x2 frame using perforated hardboard sides for ventilation — the plumbing won't get too hot that way — and plywood doors. Plans for a similar treatment are available in the January issue of the Family Handyman magazine now on newsstands and in hardware stores. With power tools you can do an excellent job of cabinet work on such a project.

Question: I have creeping bent grass and have trouble keeping crabgrass out of it. I would like to know if there is something I can spray on the lawn to get rid of the crabgrass without injury to the bent grass.

Answer: There are a number of brand-name products available for your purpose, most of them indicating the formula, or portions of it, on the containers. Most are designed for spray use, or dusting. Among the chemicals to look for on labels, or ask for by name, are potassium cyanate, or a group of chemicals with the basic element of dinitro-O, with supplementary elements of cresol, cyclohexylphenol, anylphenol, or butyl phenol. These are selective killers — they destroy broad-leaf grass, broad-leaf weeds, but do not permanently injure narrow-leaf grasses. Lead arsenate may be used in the earlier part of the year.

1955 Homes Cost More, Worth More

The average home built during 1955 cost about $2,500 more than five years ago, but the higher price has been more than offset by the increase in quality.

Although private residential construction may fall some 50,000 homes short of the record year of 1950, the generally larger prices this year will set an all-time record for total dollar volume spent on new homes. Building authorities say the total will probably reach $14.6 billion, or $3 billion higher than the 1950 record.

Today's home is bigger and better. The typical home is nearing the 1,300 square foot mark in floor space, not including space for garage, porch and basement. Six years ago, 65 per cent of new homes had less than 1,000 square feet of floor space.

Most noticeable in the upgrading of private homes have been the improvements in modern kitchens and bathrooms. Without space-saving built-in appliances in the kitchen, a new home today stands ownerless a long time. And the same goes for a home without at least a bathroom plus a powder room.

Both rooms are the key to home value. Materials such as ceramic or quarry tile which are durable, waterproof, scratch-proof and yet decorative are tops on the list of desired features. Ceramic tile, incidentally, found greatly increased use over counterparts both in the bath and kitchen.

Certain trends in home design which were firmly established during the year will be carried into 1956. Among these, of course, are the use of built-in kitchen appliances, higher tiled wainscots in the bathroom, quarry terraces for outdoor living, and "freer" interiors in which rooms flow naturally one into the other without the obstruction of extensive wall areas.

HERE'S HOW... MAKE STANDS FOR POWER EQUIPMENT

Equipment stands are made of 2 by 4-inch lumber. Dimensions will vary with the type and size of equipment. Height from floor to working level is 39 inches for circular saws; 42 for bandsaw or jigsaw; jointer, 22; lathe or sander, 36. Allow room for motor and belts.

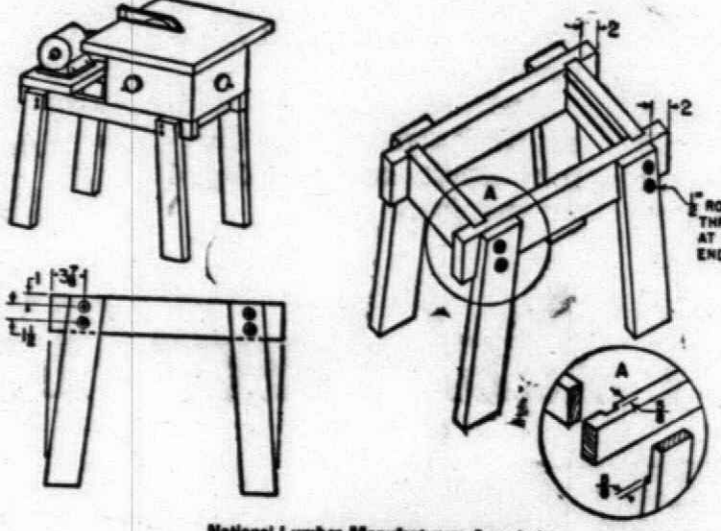

Cut the side and end rails to length, and make slots in the side rails for the dado joints.

To make the legs, lay two 2 by 4's on the floor at the approximate leg angles. Lay one side rail across the 2 by 4's in approximate top position. Use the other side rail to simulate the floor line.

Then, adjust the leg members to the proper angles and mark the lines of the leg base, leg top and lap joint. Each leg will be cut to the same pattern.

Bore 1/2-inch holes for the 1/2-inch rods, so that the rods go next to the inside faces of the end rails. Join the side rails and end rails with two 20-penny nails at each joint. Attach the legs, using the threaded rods, washers and nuts. Draw the assembly together tightly.

If a platform is needed, attach it to the rails with 4-inch No. 12 wood screws. A shelf may be added, beneath the rails.

Deer Season For Archers Called Success

Conservation Department workers said this week that Michigan's recently-ended archery deer season was a success, as good or better than last year.

Spot checks support their statement. At Swan Creek wildlife station, where archers must report kills, 11 whitetails were taken through November 5 where seven were bagged last year. The Allegan season continues into December, but the general Michigan season closed November 5.

At Rose Lake station near Lansing, archers bagged two deer this year, first in the history of the station.

On Drummond Island, archers took 37 deer last year. This year, they passed that total nine days before the end of the season.

Also, an estimated 33,000 archers were afield during the season where last year the total was 30,000.

General impressions from conservation officers and other field workers also indicate the season was a success.

Delicate Shrubs Need Protection

Setting up buffer states on home properties can prevent sneak attacks from Old Man Winter on delicate trees and shrubs.

These buffers are easy-to-make wind breaks of stout stakes and burlap. They can be elaborate or not, as occasion demands, providing protection from the wind on the north and west sides and screening from the afternoon sun. Inexpensive burlap has enough porosity to admit air and light and endures the elements for at least one season.

Windbreaks should be constructed strong enough to support heavy weights of wet snow. Such plantings as prized boxwoods, some varieties of azaleas, rhododendrons, holly, barberry, abelias and some other less than hardy varieties, will do better in colder climates with this protection.

A different kind of protection is called for to help evergreens of upright form thwart icy blasts. Hicks yews, Irish juniper and other elongated landscaping can be laced spirally with binder twine or stout cord. This will serve to keep wet snow from breaking branches and ruining the symmetry of the plantings. For further protection, a wooden stake or piece of pipe may be driven deep into the ground close enough to the trunk to keep the plant from crashing under a tortuous load of ice or wet snow. Newly planted deciduous trees should have trunks wrapped in heavy burlap or crepe paper. Wrapping should be in good condition and securely tied.

A friend is someone who doesn't expect any favors.

U-M Finds Uses For Radioactivity

University of Michigan scientists use many forms of radioactivity in their research here.

Two bundles of radioactive cobalt, each more powerful than all the radium in the world, are used behind heavy shielding to pasteurize foods, sterilize bones and other materials, and to trigger chemical reactions.

Radiation from a smaller cobalt source is focussed on deep-seated tumors and cancer in medical treatment, and weak radioactive solutions are invaluable "tracers" for investigating the functions of plants and animals and the composition of matter.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

You cannot keep beauty long if you break the laws of health, even though nature bestowed it upon you at birth.

In order that creams and powders may do effective work, they must have as a foundation a good skin. The hair must be glossy, the eyes sparkling and the teeth clean and white. The person must be neat and well-groomed.

Above all, no one can possess a charming personality who is not kind, unselfish and thoughtful. Goodness is the crowning glory that cannot be worn as a garment to be put off and on at will. Pretense never deceives anyone. The counterfeit will always be discovered, and disgust will take the place of admiration.

Three things are necessary for the beauty-seeker — plenty of sleep, sufficient exercise and the right diet.

The list requires knowledge which you may acquire by earnest study. It is most unfortunate, even tragic, that the American diet has been so denatured and devitalized by milling processes that most of the calcium, vitamins and minerals have been removed from our breads and cereals.

For example, people are paying large prices for vitamins in pills and tablets, because they contain vitamins that are lacking in many foods besides the white flour, bread, and polished rice that constitute such a large part of their diet.

True, the claim is made that some vitamins are put back into the flour. This, they say, makes fortified bread, but you'd better beware. It is much safer to eat bread of all kinds in which the whole grains have been merely ground up, and from which nothing has been removed, than to risk making bread from which practically everything has been taken except starch, even though the claim is made that some vitamins have been added to the flour. Why not do your cooking with whole wheat flour that contains the proteins, the minerals and all the vitamins? Why serve denatured foods from which the most necessary body builders have been removed?

We should eat vegetables, both raw and cooked, as well as fruits. People who refuse to eat such food daily, suffer from constipation and its train of ills.

Iron is a mineral that is essential to life itself. It is the iron in the blood that produces the red coloring matter. It carries the life-giving, essential oxygen to the various parts of the body. If a person is deficient in iron he is anemic. An anemic person has a pale sickly color. He is listless and has indigestion.

The sufferer from anemia must eat foods that are rich in iron.

Field Director Speaks At Local ACS Meeting

Clarification of the American Cancer society's aims and purposes on national, state and local levels will be discussed as well as the society's program designed for occupational framework, occupational committees and various projects.

A short film on cancer will be shown. Literature of many types will be displayed and made available to those attending. Refreshments will be served.

The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Name "Ben-Ply" Junior Achievers As Area "Company of the Week"

A company of very busy teenagers was named Plymouth's Junior Achievement "Company of the Week" today by area JA headquarters.

Ben-Ply Products, a JA firm sponsored by the Burrough's Corp., was singled out as the most outstanding of this city's eight JA firms.

Heading the firm is President Larry Taylor, 17, of 861 Penniman. The company is manufacturing a night lamp of wood, in the shape of a Scottie dog.

Serving with Larry as officers of the busy firm are:

Cameron Hudson, 16, of 37530 Plymouth rd., vice-president; Paul F. Pelelet, 17, of 11040 Hubbell, Bentley, treasurer and Claire Travers, 16, of 7659 Inkster rd., Garden City.

In all there are 22 members in the firm—and aside from JA, six members are on high school track teams, nine hold part-time jobs, three hold office in church youth groups and one, Jim Mulla, 16, of 9627 Mayfield, has his own dance band.

Ben-Ply was founded on October 10th, and the Achievers raised operating capital for their firm through the sale of stock, at fifty cents a share, to 87 people. Total investment of stockholders in the firm is $110.

"We hope to pay them a healthy dividend when we go out of business next May," says President Larry. "We are turning out a dozen units a week now, and have orders for thirty."

Their company operations take place every Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. at JA's Plymouth business center, located at 204 So. Main St.

Like all JA firms, Ben-Ply is designed as a practical business experience operation for teenagers. In operating the company the boys and girls will face most of the same problems of real businesses; problems of production, management, sales, taxation, overhead costs, payroll, etc.

In May, when they go out of business, the Achievers of Ben-Ply will have to pay taxes on their firm's earnings, and issue reports to their stockholders on how the company fared. If possible, they will also issue dividends to their stockholders.

Helping the firm as Advisers in management, production and sales are three Burrough's Corp. executives:

Howard Marburger, of 586 Pine st., business advisor; Harry Pomrenke, of 11140 Halter, Livonia, sales advisor; and Cliff Parker, of 19560 Meadowbrook, Northville, production advisor.

U. S. Agricultural Research Failing To Provide Necessary Information

American agricultural research is failing to provide the information needed to maintain large future gains in food production, says a University of Michigan botanist.

Prof. A. G. Norman states that present research programs are overpressing short-range projects that "rarely are stepping stones to further advances in knowledge."

Although of immediate economic value, this short-range research is not the soil from which the great agricultural advances of the next ten to fifteen years will spring, Professor Norman maintains.

He points out that the current favorable food position of this country is based on research accomplishments of long ago.

What is needed is long-range research on a host of fundamental problems, he indicates.

"There are great gaps in our knowledge about the basic characteristics of plants and plant growth," he says, "and the scale of effort being directed toward these problems is not commensurate with the long-range importance of this missing information."

It is in these areas of limited knowledge that real breakthroughs are likely to occur, Professor Norman adds.

He specifically mentioned the need for basic research on the "physiology of adaptation" — the ability or inability of a plant to make the most of different sites and environments.

The speaker also urges fundamental studies of inherent differences in the yield of plants, of their tolerance to heat and drought, and of the "great possibilities" in applying chemicals to modify the normal sequence of development of crops or to circumvent environmental limitations.

Until vital questions in these relatively unexplored regions are answered, Professor Norman states, "the rate and extent of advance is likely to be limited."

"The strategy which is needed therefore is a reorientation of much of our agricultural research, a redeployment of some of the troops already in the field, a willingness to spend more of the funds available on longer-range projects and a determination to end up with logical explanations for phenomena established empirically," he concluded.

Postmaster Asks Early Mailing

"It's time to start those Christmas mailings!" Postmaster Timpona warned today, launching his 1955 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign.

"On the calendar it's a month away but here in the Post Office it's Christmas today — and every day until December 25th," he said. Extra mail carriers and office help have been secured, the delivery trucks serviced, Post Office inkwells filled and in fact everything is ready for the mammoth flood of Christmas mail that is expected to smash all records.

The post office has already dispatched a tremendous quantity of gift packages headed for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Christmas cards for service personnel can still be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail before December 1st. In the U.S.A., smart people are now mailing gifts to friends and relatives living in other states.

Postmaster Timpona especially calls on housewives to help in his effort to deliver every package and Christmas card before December 25th. "The lady of the house," he emphasized, is really in charge of each family's Christmas mailing program. She selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the mailing list of friends and loved-ones is up-to-date.

"Actually, success in having all Christmas gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is largely a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done this week," Postmaster Timpona pointed out.

He urges that you take the following steps at once: Get out your Christmas-card list and carefully check through it. Make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Then, pay a visit to the Post Office, stock up on stamps (use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards for first-class mail service) and ask any questions you may have about mailing regulations.

You can do this in a leisurely way if you will come to the Post Office before 10:30 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. thus missing the rush hours. On your way home pick up a supply of heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and kraft paper adhesive tape. A modest investment in these necessities will pay big dividends in safe delivery of your cherished Christmas gifts.

After your gift wrapping and packing is complete, plan your mailings so that those for the most distant points go first. Try to get all long-distance mailings into the Post Office before December 5th and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 10th. You'll be glad you did.

Social Security Question Column

In cooperation with the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office, the Plymouth Mail will answer social security questions sent in by our readers. Letters not answered in this column will receive an answer directly from the Detroit-Northwest social security office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27. All letters will be treated confidentially.

1. I have been keeping house for my son for ten years since my husband died. He gives me my board and room and pays for whatever I need. Can I get social security?

Answer: No. First of all a mother working for a son or daughter is not included under the Social Security law. Secondly, for domestic coverage only cash wages are counted.

2. I was in service for two years. I have been told it is too late now to get social security credits for this time. What can I do to have this put on my social security account?

Answer: It is not necessary to establish military service credits before a claim for benefits is filed.

3. My husband is getting social security payments. I am 63. I understand now I am to get a social security check too. So far, I haven't received any. What should I do?

Answer: Women are not eligible for social security payments until age 65 or unless they have minor children under 18. There has been no change in the law.

TO AID VISION IN OFFICE

In a dark office that needs the maximum aid that light reflecting surfaces can give — where all desk workers face the same way — it is sometimes advisable to paint the wall they face in a restful tint of blue-green. The other three walls and the ceiling may then be coated in a color with high light reflectance.

Still another means of bringing the greatest amount of natural light into a dark office is to carry the white of the ceiling down onto the upper wall areas.

Says Newspaper Aids Decisions

The community newspaper can perform a valuable service by helping its home community make sound judgments.

That's the belief of Paul A. Miller, director of the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service. He spoke at the 4th Annual Community Newspaper Editorial Conference at Michigan State University recently. Miller pointed out that many American communities often pay more attention to their feelings than they do to the facts in making decisions.

Because people move often and sometimes far, community living has changed drastically. It's up to the newspaper, he declared, to help the community and its many new citizens interpret their problems.

The newspaper can help, Miller said, by encouraging the community to fully consider possible results of projects under consideration. Teaching and interpreting are as much a part of the newspaper's job as describing, according to Miller.

By encouraging people to take part in the many activities of the community, newspapers can do their part to keep the right of decision-making in public affairs in the hands of the people.

He cautioned that because many people go to a community activity doesn't mean its going to be conducted wisely. The community must have an informed and active interest in its affairs. Newspapers can help the community make sound decisions by informing and encouraging.

Half its Horsepower is for Safety!

A pretty steep hill, you'd say?

Well, not so far as this gentleman is concerned. He just gave the accelerator a little encouragement with his toe . . . and swept from bottom to top so effortlessly he was scarcely aware of it.

For he's at the wheel of a beautiful new 1956 Cadillac. And beneath that long, sleek, graceful hood rests the smoothest, most powerful engine in Cadillac history.

The fact is that this great new Cadillac engine is powerful and dynamic far beyond the requirements of normal usage. In the course of ordinary motoring, it is entirely possible that the driver will never have to put the accelerator down to the floor board.

But how wonderful that extra length of throttle will be if he does need it!

It will be there to give him that extra burst of speed that can carry him free from a difficult driving situation.

It will be there in case he needs it for safety in passing . . . or to answer the challenge of a mountain road.

And even when not in active use, it will add to his motoring pleasure.

It will bring him confidence and contentment and peace of mind . . .

. . . and it will provide the kind of operating economy and dependability that can come only from a motor car that literally loafs at the legal limits of the highway.

Of course, Cadillac's magnificent performance is only part of the exciting Cadillac story for 1956. There is inspiring beauty . . . and extraordinary luxury . . . and superlative craftsmanship. For this is, literally, the Cadillac of Cadillacs.

Why not stop in soon and let us show you what we mean?

We've got the keys and the car—all you have to provide is an hour of your time.

We can promise you . . . it will be the most revealing sixty minutes you ever spent at the wheel of a motor car.

Also added to the library collection were Albert Vanderkugel and Rex Lardner's "Underwater Sport," containing information of equipment and techniques of spearfishing, skin diving and underwater photography. High School Class Hears Talk on Russia

Fred Van Dyke of 9585 Joy road, who visited Russia in 1932 as metallurgist for the Ford Motor company, recently addressed the 12th grade economics class of Harry E. Reeves at Plymouth high school.

Van Dyke told the students of his experiences in Russia and of the country's economy at the time of his visit. As a metallurgist for Ford, the resident was sent with other representatives of the automotive firm to establish factories for the production of model A automobiles. He recalled seeing the Russian people going to work barefoot in the snow to safeguard their shoes.

In describing the standard of living in Russia during the 30's Van Dyke pointed out that he had been offered 600 rubles, equivalent of $300 in U.S. money at that time, for a suit of clothes he was wearing. In another instance, he had been offered as much as 8,000 rubles for his typewriter.

Harold Douglas, student in the class, made arrangements for the program.

Plenty of EXTRA in this SPECIAL

The 1956 Buick SPECIAL 4-Door Riviera

THIS one is the news-maker that's front-page big.

This one is the new Buick SPECIAL for 1956 — the biggest bundle of high-powered energy and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Just a quick listing of some certain facts will give you the picture.

First—its engine is a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with an all-time high in horsepower for this Series—and an engine that hits the record book at a neat 8.9 to 1 compression ratio.

Second—its getaway—with the double-action take-off of the new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—is spectacular even at only part throttle—and comes with a new boost in gas mileage to boot.

Third—on ride, this new SPECIAL is more than great — what with all-coil springing, and torque-tube stability, and a new deep-oil cushioning, and a whole new front-end geometry that adds a wonderful "sense of direction" to the car's travel.

Fourth—on room, luxury, interior finish — there's never been a Buick SPECIAL like this before. From the big, broad seats to the stunning new instrument panel—there's new decorator smartness and quality throughout.

But get the picture on price, and you have the biggest reason why this sizable automobile is so extra special a buy.

For this Buick comes to you at a figure so close to those of the most widely known smaller cars, the difference in price is small change.

So—come in and see and sample this beauty. You'll find it, we firmly believe, the biggest package of automobile at anywhere near its budget price.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Colleges Face Bulging Future

Only four of every 100 college youths actually undertook higher education in 1900.

Today more than 30 of every 100 youths of the same age attend colleges and universities.

Meanwhile the population has grown tremendously and promises to keep doing so.

These facts and figures, presented at the recent Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities convention at Michigan State University, tell as well as any the enrollment problem to be faced by institutions of higher learning.

They are part of a presentation entitled "The Impending Tidal Wave of Students," given by American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. Assuming there will be no further increase in the percentage of college-age youth attending colleges and universities, that only increases will be caused by larger population, we may look forward to an enrollment of more than 4 million by 1970, compared with 2½ million this year, the report stated.

If the attendance rate continues its average one per cent increase per year until 1962, following the pattern of the past 20 years, enrollment in colleges and universities will reach 5½ million by 1970 — more than double today's enrollment.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The 8,000-acre Air Force base at Kalkaska will be closed to all hunting, according to terms of the federal application accepted by the Conservation Commission. The Commission, which agreed at its November meeting to lease the land to the Air Force for a 99-year period, adjusted the southern boundary of the area to keep most of the Boardman river open to public fishing. About 1½ miles of the river near the end of runways will be closed for safety reasons.

The hunting ban also applies to military personnel, but men assigned to the base will be permitted to fish on two small lakes within the area.

The land, now owned by the state, reverts to public use at the lease period unless the base is still in use.

Michigan's Conservation Commission is going to ask the 1956 Legislature to restore the Commission's authority to manage the state deer herd.

At the November meeting, the Commission voted unanimously to make the request. The 1955 Legislature did not extend the Commission's discretionary power.

In other business, the Commission approved a slate of regulations for administration of the submerged lands act passed by the 1955 Legislature.

Also approved was the sale of $19,200 worth of timber from nine state forests.

The next monthly meeting of the Commission is set for December 8-9 at Detroit.

Three fires last week burned 0.4 of an acre of state and private forests and grasslands. The latest fires brought the year's total to 1,151 and the damage total to 7,204 acres.

"Better than last year" is the summary of Michigan's 1955 pheasant season which closed November 10.

Higher bird populations, increased kill, good weather and improved farm conditions were all cited as factors contributing to a better hunting season.

Ralph Blouch, Conservation Department pheasant specialist, said early crop harvests made more land available for hunting, especially in south-central counties.

Hunters generally were happier with conditions and successes, Blouch said.

Some 500,000 hunters took an estimated 1,250,000 ring-necked pheasants during the 22-day season. Despite the heavy kill, good stocks are left for production next year, Blouch reported.

He said pheasant populations have been increasing since 1947.

The parks committee of the Conservation Commission is studying the proposed Sherman Hills recreation area in St. Joseph county following objections to establishment of the area by a 40-member delegation from Sherman township.

The delegation presented a petition signed by 443 local residents who oppose the move to create a 4,500-acre recreation area in the township.

A delegation appeared at the Commission's July meeting and requested the state to dedicate the area for badly-needed recreation facilities in southwestern Michigan.

The Commission had studied possibilities of the area for several years and at its August meeting formally dedicated the new park.

The group opposing Sherman Hills argued that the proposed action would take 4,500 acres off the township tax rolls and that the land is now in farm production.

The Conservation Commission took steps toward adding 78 acres of land to Sterling-Monroe state park at its November meeting.

The Commission agreed to purchase 32 acres immediately and approved an option to purchase another 46-acre tract later.

Other land purchases included 45 acres of hunting lands and three fishing sites. Two parcels of game land, totaling 161 acres, also were approved under the Pittman-Robertson program.

The hunting land purchases add 20 acres each to Iron Range state forest and Gregory state game area and five acres to Quincassaw wildlife area on Saginaw Bay.

The new fishing sites are on Armstrong Lake and the Leland river in Leelanau county and Lawton Creek, Van Buren county.

Pittman-Robertson purchases add 121 acres to Muskegon state game area and 40 acres to Middleville state game area in Barry county.

Some 1,056,000 lake trout eggs are being processed at Marquette hatchery following a recent spawn-collection operation on Lake Superior.

Commercial fishermen cooperating with Conservation Department workers gathered the spawn after the commercial season opened on November 5.

The eggs will be hatched and raised for three years before being released into Michigan waters.

In addition, 80,000 eggs were taken from 48 seven-year-old brood stock lake trout reared at the hatchery.

Spawn has been taken in this manner and the young fish released since 1937.

What I would most desire would be the separation of the white and black races.
—Abraham Lincoln.
