Symphony to Present Full Opera Sunday

The Plymouth Symphony orchestra will give its Christmas present to children of the area early this year. On Sunday, boasting a cast of 180 performers, the orchestra will perform the complete opera "Hansel & Gretel."

Supporting the orchestra will be the voices of the First Presbyterian church Cherub Choir, directed by Mrs. Bernice Law, and Mrs. Lynn Schroder's junior chorus from Bird elementary school.

An all-professional cast in complete costume will create the characters of E. Humperdinck's famous fairy opera.

Heading the cast in the role of Gretel is Ana M. Martinez-Casado of Havana, Cuba. The beautiful soprano is well-known throughout Cuba for her television and stage performances. Symphony Orchestra Conductor Wayne Dunlap has hailed her rehearsals as "outstanding."

Joan Zapf Luecke, a graduate of the University of Michigan and well-known operatic performer in Ann Arbor, will take the part of Hansel. Baritone Robert Waterstripe, a member of the voice staff at Michigan State Normal college, will play the part of Peter, the broom-maker father of Hansel & Gretel. The role of Gertrude, Peter's wife, will be played by Carolyn Austin. A mezzo-soprano, Miss Austin toured for four years with the road company of "Oklahoma."

Mezzo-soprano Joyce Edgar will portray the witch (who eats children). A graduate of the University of Michigan, she has been a member of "World Wide" stage and other professional companies. The sleep fairy Sandman will be played by Soprano Anne Welch.

Results of Movie Poll Announced

Over 400 Plymouth theatre-goers took part in an audience awards election last month and picked the same best picture and promising new actress who won the national election.

Results of the national theatre contest were announced Tuesday night at a Hollywood ceremony. The best picture selected both nationally and in Plymouth was "Mr. Roberts." The star of that picture, Henry Fonda, was the local best actor selection but nationally it was the late James Dean ("East of Eden.")

Margaret Wilson, manager of the Penn Theatre, said that June Allyson (Strategic Air Command) and Doris Day (Love Me or Leave Me) tied in the local best actress contest. Jennifer Jones (Love is a Many Splendored Thing) won nationally.

The most promising new actress selected here and nationally was Peggy Lee (Pete Kelly's Blues). Tab Hunter (Battle Cry and Track of the Cat) was named national winner as the most promising new actor while locally it was Fess Parker (Davy Crockett). Hunter received one less vote here.

This was the first opportunity theatre patrons ever had to select best pictures and performances on a nationwide basis. There were 10,000 theatres participating in the poll.

Thirty-Two Year Separation Ends As Brother, Sister Meet Again

Otto Kipper, 30407 Five Mile road, had some trouble recognizing his younger sister, Margaret, when he met her last Sunday at Willow Run airport. It had been 32 years since their last meeting.

Margaret, 47, arrived from Germany Sunday to live in the United States. Otto, 57, had come over here in 1923. The two had not seen each other since he left Austria in that year to journey to America.

In the meantime, Margaret, the youngest of 11 children, had stayed at home and taken care of their mother. Margaret and her mother fled from Austria at the end of World War II and headed toward the American zone in Germany.

But when the definite national boundaries were finally laid out, the two were still in the Russian area. Margaret's mother made the trip to the U.S. in 1949, but Margaret was refused her bid to leave the Russian zone. Instead she was made to work in the Russian field camps.

Finally in 1952, Margaret was released to the American zone only to learn of her mother's death here. Her mother had made a last request that Otto see to it that Margaret was brought to this country.

Otto and his wife set out to do this in early 1952. It took nearly three years, but after numerous delays and interruptions, Margaret finally was given a visa.

Hoping to work in a hospital here, Margaret will stay with a sister in Detroit.

Death Strikes Early on Safe Driving Day

Safe-Driving day started with violence in the Plymouth area last Thursday when L. T. Bell, 22-year-old Plymouth motorist, lost control of his car on Canton Center road and became Michigan's first highway casualty of the day.

The fatal crash happened at 2:15 a.m., making it among the first in the nation on the day which motorists were challenged to avoid all accidents.

There was not a single accident in the city during the day, police reported.

Bell was driving north toward Plymouth when the accident occurred. Because he was traveling alone, it was impossible to determine exactly what happened. The car swerved across the road and plunged into a ditch. The demolished car was brought to Plymouth later that day and displayed downtown with the permission of his relatives.

Bell died instantly. Death was due to a fracture of the skull and an intercranial hemorrhage.

The victim was born on August 19, 1933, at Hornbeak, Tennessee where his body was returned for burial in Antioch cemetery. Services were held Saturday at Sambury, Tennessee.

Mr. Bell was a machine operator at the Ford Motor company Automatic Transmission division in Livonia. He leaves a wife, Norma Lee Baggett Bell; his mother, Mrs. Wilma James and a stepfather, John James of Plymouth; four brothers, Charles, Horace and Fred Bell, all of Plymouth and Roy Bell of Georgia; and a sister, Judy Bell of Plymouth.

Livonia police said that Jozwiak, driving south, started across the crossing after a westbound train had gone by. An eastbound train traveling 55 miles an hour struck the car, carrying it down the tracks three-quarters of a mile. The driver was killed instantly.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, aged four and eight, and a daughter, 13.

Nursery Worker Killed by Train

Martin E. Jozwiak, 39-year-old employee of the Plymouth Nurseries on Ann Arbor road was killed at 8 o'clock Friday morning when his car was struck by a C & O train on Farmington road in Livonia.

Funeral services were held Monday at Lakeview, Michigan for the father of three. He had worked at the nursery eight years and was in charge of digging operations. He was following his usual route to work from his home in Royal Oak when the mishap occurred.

Principal Bentley said that he counted 26 cars in the student parking lot Wednesday morning. Usually there are 50 or 60, he said.

The student parking lot is located just off Adams street. Some of those who have received permits will be driving only a few days of the week, the principal pointed out. There were about 17 applications rejected which will be given further study and there are probably a few more who have not yet made application.

"I would say that the attitude of the youngsters has changed quite a bit during the past week," Principal Bentley declared.

An editorial appearing this week in the high school newspaper, Pilgrim Prints, entitled "Rights or Responsibilities?" had this to say:

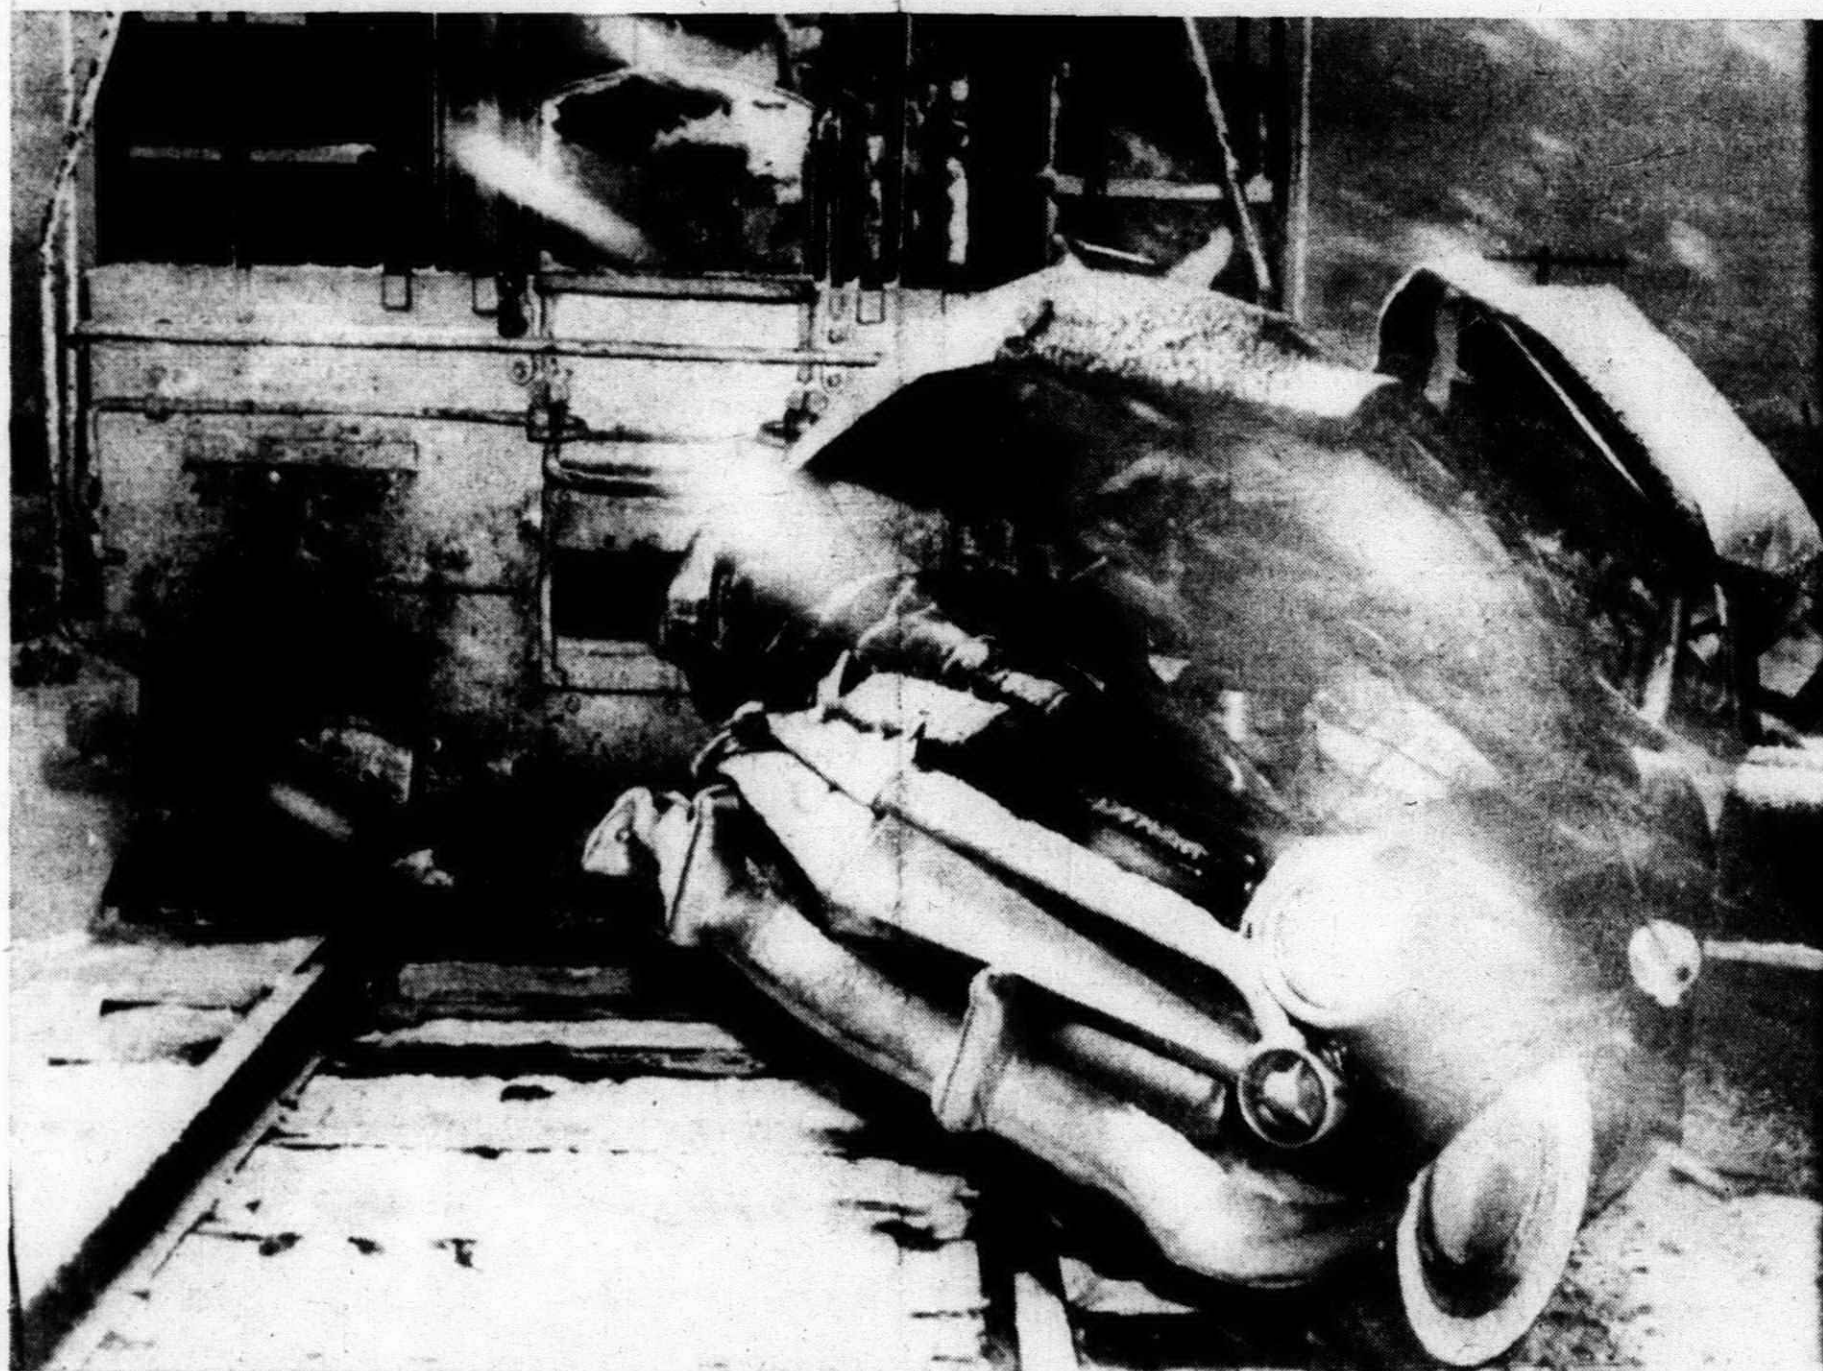

"Even if you do not agree with the program used to bring this about, you should try to understand that the city officials have the right to try to outlaw what they consider irresponsible teenage driving; you should also try to understand that they are not doing this to deny teenagers a privilege, but to make our community a better place in which to live."

A cartoon accompanies the editorial. It shows a girl riding a horse in front of Plymouth high school with a policeman on the corner asking, "Where is your horse permit?"

A letter was received by Superintendent Russell Isbister from M. W. Pletcher, assistant manager of the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit. It commended the officials for "a bold and forthright policy striking directly at the source of many student problems encountered in nearly every high school."

It added that apart from the elimination of social problems, it "may mean the difference between life and death or a crippling injury as the result of a teen-age accident."

Permits are being issued only to those who live more than a mile from school and who can show cause why a car is needed. Window stickers are given to those issued a permit.

DEATH WAS INEVITABLE for the driver of this car, Martin E. Jozwiak, employee of the Plymouth Nurseries. He was enroute to work Friday morning when the

C & O train struck the car, carrying it down the tracks three-fourths of a mile. Westbound trains through Plymouth were delayed an hour due to the crash.

29 Pupils Hold Permits As Driving Rules Begin

Driving restrictions for students during school hours went into effect Wednesday morning and 29 permits had been issued up until that time, Principal Carvel Bentley reported.

The student motoring restrictions which were announced last week have been a controversial subject among students and a few parents. Praise has been received by school officials and police from many parents, however, and school officials in other communities have shown their interest in the idea.

Principal Bentley said that he counted 26 cars in the student parking lot Wednesday morning. Usually there are 50 or 60, he said.

The Chamber is now accepting entries in the Christmas decorating contest for which five $50 U.S. Savings bonds will be given winners in five categories.

Stores Open Tonight

The Christmas season officially begins today in Plymouth with the turning on of Yule lights and the opening of stores in the evening.

Most stores will begin their Christmas hours tonight by remaining open until 9 o'clock. Hundreds of shoppers who are unable to get downtown in the daytime are expected to take advantage of the evening hours.

The Chamber is now accepting entries in the Christmas decorating contest for which five $50 U.S. Savings bonds will be given winners in five categories.

Authority Looks At Proposed Plan

Members of the Townships of Plymouth and Canton Sewer and Water Authority reviewed the proposed sewer system and long-range master plan at a regular meeting held Friday night at the Plymouth township hall.

Consulting Engineer Herald Hamill showed the plans to date which include main lines to the proposed Sheldon road elementary school and to the township's most populated areas. The plans are flexible enough, it was reported, for future expansion programs.

In addition, a tentative master plan was laid out which would provide for long-range planning for Canton township.

The plans were accepted by the board with instructions to the engineer to show them to proper county authorities for inspection. The next meeting will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Plymouth township hall. The financial consultant, Walter Marlin, will attend this meeting to discuss methods of financing.

Board Vacancies Of City Filled By Appointments

Appointment to fill vacancies on various city boards and commissions and more discussion about the proposed sewer system for the south and western parts of the city occupied most of the city commission's regular session Monday night.

The appointments were made to the planning commission, board of electrical examiners, board of review, and zoning board of appeals. Harry Larsen, assistant vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit office here, was only new appointee to any of the boards. He was named to the planning commission to replace Attorney Clifford Manwaring. Reappointed to the planning commission were Chairman Sidney Strong and Eber Readman. All three terms will expire December 1, 1958.

Warren L. Smith was renamed to the board of review with his term expiring December 1, 1959; Ada Murray was reappointed to the zoning board of appeals, her term expiring December 1, 1958; and Robert Gilles and James Honey were renamed to the board of electrical examiners, terms expiring December 1, 1956.

Commissioners have already found one resident opposed to the proposed sanitary sewer system. Henry R. Holmes, 1030 Harding, wrote a strong letter of protest to the commission point.

Dystrophy Drive Hits $1,300 Goal

Plymouth city's muscular dystrophy drive came to a successful end this week when the final report showed that the $1,300 goal had been met.

Lovell Fulton, chairman of the drive, said Tuesday that last-minute donations brought the fund from $878 reported last week to the $1,300 goal. Firemen and their volunteer helpers were unable to complete their porch-light drive on Thanksgiving eve so spent last Friday night visiting the remaining homes.

Several other large private donations rescued the drive from falling short of the amount received last year.

As was reported last week, Plymouth township firemen collected $245.63 by canvassing the more heavily populated areas and Salem township firemen received $218.

Assisting city firemen were some members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and police department.

Adventists Buy Site for Church

Purchase of a building site on East Ann Arbor trail on which they will begin construction in the spring of their first local church, was announced this week by the Plymouth Seventh-Day Adventists. The site purchase transaction was completed Monday night.

Location of the proposed church will be at 41221 East Ann Arbor trail, just west of Curmi's Feed store, on the south side of the road. Although construction plans have not yet been started Pastor Merton Henry states that the auditorium will probably seat about 150 people and the cost will be about $30,000.

"We as Seventh-Day Adventists are happy to join the large group of churches who are erecting new buildings or expanding at their present locations," the pastor declared. "We plan to build a church that will be a credit to the community."

The proposed church will be the third entirely new church built in the community in the past two years. The Church of the Nazarene completed the first unit of their church a year ago and St. Peter's Lutheran church was dedicated this fall.

It was in 1935 that the Plymouth Adventist group was organized into a Sabbath school, so called because as a denomination they believe in keeping the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath. They met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Heller (now deceased) at 630 South Main street and continued in this location for a year.

Because of the school's rapid growth, a more suitable building had to be found. The Jewell-Bleich hall, now occupied by the Michigan State Employment Security commission, was their place of worship for about two years. It was then thought advisable to secure a permanent building so property at 1059 South Main street was purchased and remodeled into a chapel.

It was here on May 13, 1950 that the Plymouth Seventh-Day Adventists were organized as a church with a charter membership of 16.

Their hopes, however, had always been to have a sanctuary that would do credit to the denomination. In November of last year the South Main street chapel was sold and meetings have been held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Elizabeth street every Saturday morning while a search for a church site continued.

Plymouth's church construction programs are keeping pace with national averages. Contract awards for religious structures in the first half of 1955 were 28 per cent ahead of last year in the United States. Economists predict the fast pace will continue for at least a decade. They forecast new buildings or major alterations for 70,000 churches and synagogues between now and 1965 at a cost of $6,000,000,000.

The American Institute of Public Opinion conducted by Dr. George Gallup has declared that the number of adults attending church in the United States has increased about 9,000,000 in the last four years and upwards of 13,000,000 in the past 15 years.

Goodfellows Man Corners Dec. 17

An attempt to brighten the Christmas for all children in the Plymouth area who Santa Claus might overlook is again being made by the Goodfellows who will hold their annual newspaper sale on Saturday, December 17.

Leading citizens will again take over street corners on that day to peddle several thousand newspapers to raise money to purchase toys, clothing, food or even fuel for homes where good fortune has not come easy.

Anyone knowing of deserving cases can report them to Fire Chief Robert McAllister, Frank Willard, president; James Davis, secretary; Fred Hadley, Ed Campbell or any other members. They will forward the reports to the proper committees. It is expected that because of fairly good employment this season, the newspaper sale will be a success.

On the investigating committee are John Lietz, John Jacobs, Robert McAllister and Mrs. Harold Stevens; emergency committee, John Jacobs, Robert McAllister; food committee, Loren Goodale; clothing committee, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schomberger; and toy committee, Fred Hadley.

Small Industry Nears Opening

A new small industry which will employ between 25 and 30 men and women will open sometime this month in Plymouth, according to an announcement this week.

Called the Brighton Products company, its new building is located at 605 Amelia street. Tubular manufacture and assembly for automotive and refrigeration uses will be carried on.

The concrete block building with a steel "clear-span joist" roof is 40 by 80 feet. It was constructed by Arthur R. Lafferty, 14725 Haggerty road.

Selling and engineering for the new company will be handled by the Whiting Tubular Products company of Detroit. It was reported that most of the employees will be recruited locally.

License Tag Sales Lag

Although the number of license plate sales is ahead of last year at this time, there are more automobiles today, placing sales actually behind last year.

That is the rather complicated but factual story told this week by Mrs. Doris Root, manager of the local license bureau. License plates for 1956 went on sale November 14 at the bureau's new location at 181 West Liberty street, just off Starkweather.

Although most people are more concerned with shopping for Christmas presents rather than license plates, Mrs. Root believes the public can do both. She suggests that a license plate be purchased as a Christmas gift.

Chamber Secretary Addresses Kiwanis

His work as training supervisor of European business, political and labor leaders studying in the United States was discussed Tuesday evening by Chamber of Commerce Secretary Ed Hart in a talk before the Plymouth Kiwanis club.

Hart revealed that for two years he worked for the Foreign Operations administration under the Marshall Plan. His work consisted of creating an education program and obtaining on-the-job training for the European trainees. "They were thoroughly indoctrinated in the American free enterprise system," Hart told the Kiwanians. All European countries with the exception of those behind the iron curtain were represented in the course. The course was conducted at Davenport, Iowa. Hart later entered chamber of commerce work in Independence, Iowa before coming to Plymouth.

Nelson Seeks Singers For Civic Chorus

Fred Nelson, director of the Plymouth Civic Chorus, this week appealed to persons in this area interested in singing to join rehearsals for "The Coronation Mass." The production, to be presented March 4 with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, requires 100 voices. 25 persons attended the first rehearsal held Monday evening.

Rehearsals are held at the junior high school in room 3 from 7:30 until 9:00 p.m. each Monday evening.

Midland, Michigan—An American Legion building here was recently spray-painted in one day by one man. He used 54 gallons of paint!

Local CAR Hosts Meeting Of State Board

Plymouth Corners society, Children of the American Revolution, was host to a luncheon meeting of the junior-senior state board of the CAR on Saturday, December 3, at the Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Harvey Maisner of Marshall, CAR state president. She was assisted by her daughter, Margaret, honorary junior state president, who presided for the junior group in the absence of their president Charles Goerner of East Lansing.

Honored guests were Mrs. Clarence W. Wacker of Birmingham, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Ralph W. Newland of St. Joseph, DAR honorary state regent who is candidate for the national office of librarian curator general. Also present was Marion Crammer of Highland Park, state president, Sons of the American Revolution.

Attending the meeting from the local area were Mrs. Kenneth Corey, new senior president, and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, honorary state president, both of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, DAR; and Gail Lawrence of Northville, junior president of Plymouth Corners society, CAR. Others from the local DAR chapter were Mrs. Claude A. Crusoe, regent; and Mrs. Harry N. Deyo, past regent.

Represented at the meeting were the CAR societies of East Lansing, Marshall, Highland Park, Grosse Pointe, Royal Oak and Redford. Table decorations for the luncheon carried out the Christmas theme.

Madonna to Hold Ring Ceremony

Amidst the many annually sponsored Christmas festivities, the most memorable for seniors of Madonna college will be the ring ceremony held Thursday, December 15. Rev. James T. Shannon, head of the Theology and Philosophy department at Madonna, will bless the rings and distribute them to the seniors. The rings are a symbol of the bond of union between the college and the students.

Preceding this, a solemn candlelight ceremony will take place. All students, dressed in academic cap and gown, will assemble in the student chapel where Leona Wisniewski, Student Association president, will light a candle from the sanctuary lamp.

A procession will then form to DeSales auditorium. Here greetings will be extended by class presidents: Gloria Laginess, senior; Theresa Sternicki, junior; Evelyn Pikulski, sophomore; and Mary Ann Wolny, freshman.

Feature Relative in New York Newspaper Spread

Kirby Culver, a former New York advertising executive and the brother-in-law of Harry Draper, 499 Evergreen, was featured in two pages of color pictures in the Sunday New York News recently. He is manager and partner in the New Hampton General Store, Bazaar and Emporium.

Culver and Elliott Bethlahmy, who still is a New York ad man, took over the 170-year-old store which had shut its doors in 1893 because of lack of business. It had been converted into a hotel.

Working from an 1890 photo, the two men re-converted the building into a general store in every detail. The candy department sells 26 varieties of licorice alone.

Mrs. Laverne Wilson returned to her home on Northville road, Wednesday, after convalescing from major surgery at Session's hospital, Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jackson of Kalamazoo will be the weekend houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sutherland of South Harvey street.

Sponsor Party For Handicapped

Approximately 35 handicapped teenagers will be entertained on Saturday, December 10, at a Christmas party sponsored by the Soroptimist club and members of Miss Neva Lovewell's sociology class at the high school.

The event has been set for 2 to 5 p.m. at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge. The special guests are all members of the Happy Service club, organization for handicapped teenagers sponsored through Easter Seal funds by the Wayne Out-County chapter, Michigan society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Refreshments for the event will be furnished by the Soroptimists while class members are in charge of entertainment. Along with a carol sing, conducted by the students, a gift exchange and other Yule activities will be featured. Each guest will be presented a box of candy by the class members. Party festivities will close with a supper served at 4 p.m.

MOMS News

The Mom's Christmas party will be held December 12 at the Veterans Memorial center. A potluck supper will be served at 6:30. A short business meeting will be called, after which there will be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The Mom's put on a party for 90 boys at the Ann Arbor V. A. hospital last week Thursday.

Christmas cookies, ice cream, and hot coffee were served. Please do not forget your gifts for Grand Rapids Facility hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Angell

Angell - Campbell Ceremony Read in Northville Church

A beautiful candlelight wedding was solemnized in the First Methodist church, Northville, on Saturday evening, November 26, at 7:30 p.m. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Ivan E. Hodgson, uniting Miss Margaret Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell of Wing court, Northville, and John S. Angell, son of Mrs. Russell Angell of West Cady street, Northville, and the late Mr. Angell.

The altar was banked with fig mums, palms and candelabra. Miss Campbell, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor-length gown of bridal satin with nylon tulle, over which was worn a redingote of chantilly lace, styled with Queen Anne collar and leg of mutton sleeves coming to a point at the wrist.

A queen's crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of French illusion edged with chantilly lace to match her gown. She carried a Rainbow Bible on which were centered two orchids surrounded by stephanotis and a sprig of white heather.

Maid of honor was Jean Polly of Plymouth. She was gowned in pale pink satin with nylon tulle skirt and headpiece to match. Her nose-tip veil was edged with tiny seed pearls and she carried a basket of pink mums.

The attendants were Donna Campbell, sister-in-law of the bride, and Betty Nagy of Livonia. They wore gowns of pale blue, styled the same as the maid of honor's and carried baskets of pale pink mums. Ring bearers were Joyce Stuckey of Detroit and Raymond Stuckey of Indiana, cousins of the bridegroom. Joyce was gowned in yellow taffeta with nylon tulle and wore a matching headpiece and mitts.

Best man was Thomas Campbell, brother of the bride. Ushers were Robert Campbell and Leslie Nagy of Livonia. The men wore boutonnières of white heather.

Mrs. Campbell chose a silver grey, lace dress over rose satin and Mrs. Angell, a dress of blue lace over blue satin. Both mothers wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The reception for over 200 guests followed in the church parlors. Guests were present from Toronto, and Windsor, Canada; Indiana; Three Rivers, Grosse Pointe, Grosse Isle, Highland Park, Allen Park, Cadillac, Dearborn, Plymouth, Northville and Detroit, Michigan.

The new Mrs. Angell chose a two-tone suit for going away with beige and brown accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The couple is honeymooning in Florida.

The bridal cake was made in Canada and decorated with heather. A box of white heather was flown from Scotland for her wedding.

Mrs. Lula Kincaid

Services were held at 3 p.m. Saturday, December 3, from the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Lula Kincaid, 604 Grange street, Roscommon, Michigan, a former resident of Plymouth.

Mrs. Kincaid, age 59, passed away Wednesday, November 30, at Mercy hospital in Grayling, Michigan. She had been ill three years.

Prior to moving to Roscommon on September 8, 1954, the deceased had lived in Plymouth 43 years. She was born February 20, 1896 in Salem, Michigan to William and Lottie Baker Shipley. On October 22, 1918 she became the bride of C. Emmett Kincaid.

Survivors include her husband, a son, C. Eddie Kincaid of Erie, Michigan; two brothers, Howard Shipley of Plymouth and Glenn Shipley of Northville; a sister, Mrs. Rachel Bennett of Salem; and three grandchildren. She was preceded in death by one sister.

Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson conducted the funeral services. Pallbearers were Jock Young, Robert Wood, Paul Jones, Donald Richard and Judd Green. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Gretchen M. Shekell

A sudden heart attack took the life of Mrs. Gretchen M. Shekell, age 48, who passed away Wednesday afternoon, November 30, at her residence, 45797 West Ann Arbor trail. She had lived in Plymouth for the past 18 years.

The deceased was born September 27, 1907 in Leonard, Missouri to James and Vernie Garnet Shoistal, both of whom are now residing in Plymouth. On December 17, 1929 she married William Shekell.

Survivors include her husband, William; a daughter, Mrs. Aleta Dawn Christie of Plymouth; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Davis and Mrs. Marian Slaughter, both of Detroit; a brother, Howard Shoistal of Wyandotte; and one grandchild.

The Reverend Henry J. Walch conducted the services which were held at 1 p.m. Saturday, December 3, from the Schrader Funeral home. Pallbearers were Jack, William and Thomas Sutton, Jess Sutton, Jr., Richard and Robert Slaughter. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Howard R. Gladman

Howard R. Gladman, age 61, of 11800 Newburg road, Livonia passed away Friday, December 2.

in New Grace hospital, Detroit, after a short illness.

Mr. Gladman, an equipment operator for Wayne County Road commission, had lived in Livonia since 1924, having moved to that community from Detroit. He was a member of Riverside Park Church of God. The deceased was born July 28, 1894 in Detroit, the son of Albert and Marie Kuebler Gladman.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Dema Gladman; mother, Mrs. Marie Gladman of Livonia; two sons, Howard of Leland, Michigan; Mathias of Detroit; and two stepchildren, Mrs. June Robinson of Markleville, Indiana and Phillip Truesdell of Plymouth.

Reverend E. B. Jones conducted the services which were held at 3:30 p.m. Monday, December 5, from the Schrader Funeral home. Pallbearers were Leo Bowler, Charles Willgues, George Teahan, Harry Rutenbar, Alfred Horn and Robert Chism. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Minnie B. Pankow

At the age of 75 years, Mrs. Minnie B. Pankow, well-known resident of this area, died Friday morning, December 2, at her residence, 249 Amelia street, Plymouth.

Mrs. Pankow had lived in Plymouth since 1900, having come to this community from Salem. She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The deceased was born January 14, 1880, in Washtenaw county to Christian and Caroline Seidelberg Buer. On November 30, 1921 she married William A. Pankow, who preceded her in death in 1935.

Two sisters and three brothers survive. They are Mrs. Lucy Wagenschutz and Mrs. Edith Sackett, both of Plymouth; Frank, Fred and Albert Buer, all of Salem.

Services were held at 1 p.m. Monday, December 5, from the Schrader Funeral home with Mrs. Roderick Cassidy as reader. Pallbearers were Elmer Austin, Peter Munster, Anthony Signorelli, Charles Rienes, Clarence Smith and Fred Pinnow. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Elmo F. Huff

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in Northville for Elmo F. Huff, 19203 Clement, Northville, who succumbed Friday, December 2, in Sessions hospital. The Reverend E. B. Jones of the Riverside Park Church of God, Livonia was officiating minister.

The deceased was 78 years of age, born March 15, 1877 in Daventport, Iowa to Isaac and Ella May Huff. He had been employed 37 years by the Ford Motor company, 30 of which were spent at the Northville plant.

Mr. Huff is survived by two brothers, William of Kingston, New York; Floyd B. of Bailey, Michigan; two sisters, Mrs. C. Oila Wilcox of Livonia, Mrs. Rena Blomaster of Waupaca, Wisconsin; and many nieces and nephews.

Interment was in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville.

Edgar Lee Taylor

Following a two months illness with a heart condition, Edgar Lee Taylor of 139 East Pearl street, Plymouth died at his residence Sunday afternoon, December 4. He was 76 years of age.

Mr. Taylor had come to Plymouth from Hickman, Kentucky on October 16 of this year. He was born November 23, 1879 in Lincoln, Georgia, the son of Wesley and Elizabeth Moore Taylor. The deceased was formerly employed as a crane operator for Smiley Sand and Gravel company in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Taylor's wife, Blanche, preceded him in death on December 31, 1948.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Conner, Mrs. Betty Jane McClure and Miss Peggy Taylor, all of Plymouth, a son, Joe Taylor of Hickman, Kentucky; and four grandchildren.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, December 6, from the Schrader Funeral home. Officiating minister was Reverend David L. Rieder. Pallbearers were O.B. Denson, Jr., Gilbert Roe, Crate Little, James Renton, Horace Bruff and George Davis. Riverside cemetery was the place of burial.

Daisy Employee 52 Years Dies

Frederick Wilhelm Kaiser, an employe of the Daisy Manufacturing company for over half a century, died Saturday morning at his home at 979 Penniman avenue. He was 68 years old.

Mr. Kaiser had planned to retire after the first of the year when he would have had 52 years with the firm. He had lived his entire life in Plymouth, being born here on February 16, 1887 to Gus and Caroline Kaiser.

He was united in marriage with the former Tina Luksche on October 12, 1911. She survives, along with a brother and two sisters, Will Kaiser and Mrs. Fred Rhead of Plymouth and Mrs. Katherine Pickell of Northville. A brother, Julius Kaiser, preceded him in death.

Police reported that Mr. Kaiser had taken his own life. He had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday from the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend James Roberts, pastor of South Lyon Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Pallbearers were Emerson Woods, Walter Kleinschmidt, Ernest Robinson, Leo Hollis, Orville Dunson and Paul Hockenberry.

Service Clubs Help Band Parents' Fund

Plymouth high school's Band Parents' association announced this week that two service clubs had contributed money towards new uniforms for the band. Latest contributors to the association's drive to provide new uniforms by next fall were the Kiwanis club with a $500 donation and the Optimist club, $150.

The association reported that the band carnival had added $1,100 to the fund.

A new water cooler dispenses hot water as well as cold water—supposedly so coffee "breakers" can make instant coffee at their desks.

Suicide Attempts Reported in City

Two suicide attempts were reported by police over the weekend, one of them almost proving fatal to a young Garden City man.

Donald G. Plowman, 8057 Middlebelt, was found by Chief of Police, Kenneth Fisher and several patrolmen in front of city hall at 8:40 p.m. Friday. Plowman appeared to be intoxicated and was taken into city hall where he muttered something about "pills" and passed out.

An ambulance was called and he was taken to Wayne County General hospital where he later was reported near death. It was reported that Plowman had taken several sleeping pills. A similar occurrence happened to him in Detroit several weeks ago, police said.

The other attempt happened Sunday when Beverly Carpenter of Liberty street, was reported to have slightly slashed her wrists. She too, was taken to Wayne County General hospital but was never in serious condition.

Every American is against monopoly unless he can get one.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Ethel Madeline Parsons
 Mrs. Ethel Madeline Parsons, 1127 Penniman avenue, succumbed at her home Saturday evening, December 3, following an illness of 14 years.

She was born March 16, 1886 in Fairview, Michigan, the daughter of John and Sarah Ward Weaver. She married Edward Eugene Parsons on April 20, 1906 and came to Plymouth in 1939 from Detroit. She was a member of the First Methodist church. Mrs. Parsons was preceded in death by a son, Robert N., who was killed over Hamburg, Germany while on an air man-ever during World War II. Surviving are her husband, Edward; two daughters, Mrs. Helen D. Cell of Plymouth and Mrs. Betty Jean Stevens, Garden City, Michigan; two sons, Harold L. Parsons, Rochester, New York; and Carl E. Parsons, Plymouth; a sister, Mrs. Ferne Esslinger, Sacramento, California; and 11 grandchildren.

Services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, December 6, from the Schrader Funeral home with Reverend Melburne I. Johnson officiating. Pallbearers were Harold Stevens, Carl E. and Harold Parsons, David S. Cell, Otto Hartwig and Cyril Gillin.

Elect C. L. Wilson to Presidency Of Michigan Automobile Club

Charles L. Wilson, who was born and grew up in the Livonia-Plymouth area, was elected Automobile Club of Michigan's president Tuesday at a meeting of the Club's Board of Directors at Detroit Athletic Club. (His home now is at 19291 Woodston road, Detroit.)

Wilson, president of Ira Wilson and Sons Dairy, succeeds Clarence E. Otter of Bloomfield Hills as head of the largest automobile club in the world.

He and other directors serve without remuneration as a civic duty to motorists. The Michigan AAA club, with 450,000 members, has almost 10 per cent of the entire AAA membership. The club now has 43 offices in Michigan cities.

Wilson's new office is the latest in a list of posts in which he has served the motoring public. His interest in roads began in 1908, when at the age of 17 he got $4 a day for running a team of horses grading roadbed for the world's first mile of concrete highway, on Woodward avenue from Six to Seven Mile road in Detroit. He has been an Auto Club director for 10 years, serving concurrently as a director of the American Automobile Association. He is on the following committees of the Michigan Club: Chairman of emergency road service and safety and traffic; member of Club divisions, finance and auditing, membership, new club services and roads and city planning.

Mr. Wilson is past chairman and a 17-year member of the Wayne County Road Commission. In this position, and with Auto Club and AAA, he has had a unique opportunity to use his highway building knowledge on both a county, state and national level in helping set Club and AAA policies.

Charles L. Wilson

Born April 30, 1891 on the Wilson family farm at West Chicago Boulevard and Middlebelt road (now within city of Livonia), Wilson grew up helping his father Ira in a variety of enterprises in the area. He worked on the farm and assisted in the family's old-fashioned general store along the C & O railroad track on Middlebelt road at Elm. His father ran the railroad ticket office and young Charles helped, for a percentage of the profit. The family also ran the railroad milk depot at Elm, where Charles also assisted.

In 1908 when he hired out as a contractor to work on the world's first mile of concrete road, Wilson lived in an old-fashioned boarding house above a saloon at Woodward and Seven Mile roads. For several winters later he cut ice on Nankin Mill pond. He stored the ice in ice houses and sold it to farmers and the railroad milk depot for keeping milk cool in summer months.

At age of 20 he married Carrie E. Place. Meanwhile, Charlie and his illustrious father Ira had begun to haul their own milk supply into the Detroit market area by horse and wagon. Soon they began to add their neighbors' milk supply to their hauling. Before long they had a growing bulk milk business.

Mr. Wilson has become one of the Detroit-area's most important executives in his field. But he is still proudest of the fact that the Wilson family were good, earthy folks who could cope with the land and the elements and make a success of farming.

Mr. Wilson comes by his energy and achievements honestly. Many Livonia and Plymouth area residents will remember his father, Ira, who was Sheriff of Wayne County in 1928 and one of the most colorful characters of southeast Michigan in the 1920's.

A 700-acre farm near Plymouth knows the Wilson farming technique, and another the same size near Fowlerville is the envy of neighboring farmers. Here "Charlie" still tries to visit once a week, unless an extra heavy hay crop or a bigger-than-average stand of corn calls for more hands to man the hay balers or the corn huskers. Then he's on duty 24 hours a day — not because he has to, but because he genuinely likes working with his hands.

Other Auto Club officers elected for 1956 were: Henry Hulbert, first vice-president; Frank J. Howlett, second vice-president; and Howard C. Baldwin, third vice-president. Directors re-elected for three year terms were Baldwin, Hulbert, Otter and William G. Walters. Roy M. Hood was re-elected an attorney in fact at the Club's Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange.

Historical Society to Hold Old-Time Program Tonight

The Veterans Community center will take on an old-fashioned look this evening as members of the Plymouth Historical Society recall the "old days" as the highlight of its Christmas program.

A singing school, patterned after one held in Plymouth in the 1880's will be conducted by Clarence E. Stevens. Mr. Stevens is 90 and still an active member of the First Presbyterian church choir. Costumes dating back to earlier days will be worn by members attending the party. The program begins at 7:45 p.m. Hosts and hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Millross.

Find Poem Writer Has Relative Here

A relative has been found in Plymouth of Alda Madison Wade, the man whose book of poems included one about Plymouth. The poem was printed last week in The Mail.

Mrs. Earl Fluelling, 8401 Joy road, is a niece of the poet and retired businessman who once lived in Plymouth and loved it so much he wrote a poem about it. Mrs. Fluelling said that her uncle had returned to Plymouth several times, once living here for a while about 15 years ago after his first wife died.

Wade, who is in his late 70's, lived on Adams street. His parents ran a small bakery on the site of the present Detroit Edison office. Very few people probably recall Uncle Alda, Mrs. Fluelling said. He now lives in Tampa, Florida.

ing out that he has invested much money in septic tanks which adequately fulfill the job and that tearing up his lawn for a sewer line would mean more work and added expense. The city manager was instructed by the commission to write Holmes the city's reasons for needing a sewer.

In a report on sewer financing, City Attorney Harry N. Deyo said that a financial consultant from Miller, Paddock & Stone has advised the issuance of general obligation bonds to cover the $600,000 sewer cost. This type of bonding would require the vote of the public. No action was taken by the commission after discussion.

In the citizens suggestions department, Commissioner Ernest Henry stated that as a citizen he wanted to commend the police and school officials for cooperating in obtaining student driving regulations. Most of the commissioners also voiced their approval.

At the request of Police Chief Kenneth Fisher, the "no parking" signs placed on the west side of Main street from Wing to Brush were made permanent.

DECORATIONS for the annual Symphony Ball, December 27, is the chief concern of this group. Meeting last Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium site of the dance, the committee began making plans for converting the room into an appropriate setting for the Holiday social event. Seated, left to right, are: Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. John Gaffield, Mrs. Merle Huntington, Mrs. R. E. Mills; and standing, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, decorations chairman; and Mrs. Michael Huber, general chairman of the ball. The dance will feature the music of Herbie Ross and his orchestra, well-known Detroit entertainers.

Junior Police Boys 'Shoot it Out' in Dearborn

Eight Plymouth Junior Police members tested their rifles into Dearborn last week and shot it out to a draw.

The eight, who hold the National Rifle association classification of "marksman" did their shooting at the Dearborn police department's pistol range in a match against the YMCA Rifle club. Both teams won a relay.

Rifle shooting is one of the activities functioning within the Junior Police organization. Purpose of the club is to give gun-minded youngsters a safe place to shoot and an opportunity to learn shooting and gun handling from instructors.

The Dearborn match was the first inter-city meet attended by the Plymouth youngsters. Dearborn had 16 boys with eight shooting in each relay while the eight Plymouth boys shot in both relays.

The Junior Police rifle range is located in the heart of Plymouth. It is in the building located in the Central Parking lot sometimes called the Bronson building. Police also use the range for practice.

The Division of Civilian Marksmanship in Washington recently furnished 10 Remington .22 caliber rifles for target use. There are now 50 active members in the local club with a total enrollment of 72. They continually work on awards provided by the National Rifle association ranging from pro marksman to distinguished rifleman. Future rifle match trips are being planned to Ann Arbor and Ferndale and Dearborn will come here for a contest.

Rifle practice goes on each Monday, Tuesday and Saturday. Boys 12 to 17 years of age are eligible to join the club. Traveling to Dearborn were Frank Roberts, Ted Lindroth, Hale Huber, Tommy Tucker, Jerry Smith, Bob Failing, Billy Chappel and Bruce Johnson. Opportunities for instructors are available by contacting the chief of police.

A REMINDER of the dangers of motoring was given Plymouthites last Thursday and Friday when the death car driven by L. T. Bell of Plymouth was displayed on Main street. Labeled "1st Death in Michigan, S-D Day", the car was viewed by hundreds. Permission for police to display the car was given by relatives.

Symphony Presents

The 80 voices of the children's choruses will compose the "Gingerbread Children." The three acts of the opera will take place in the home of Hansel & Gretel, the forest and the witch's house.

As in the case with all Symphony orchestra concerts, Hansel & Gretel will be presented at the Plymouth high school gymnasium at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend and encouraged to bring their children. There is no charge for admission. For pictures of cast members, see page two of this section.

Promotion
A proud 16-year-old turned into the family driveway at the wheel of the family car. His father sat beside him. Several younger brothers converged on the scene.

"Hey!" shouted the happy driver. "I passed my driving test. You guys can all move up one bike."

ANNUALLY at Christmas time Leo Flowers, 9055 Ball, makes for children numerous wooden toys and other playthings, giving them to various orphan homes and similar needy sources. This year, his 20th season of donating toys to youngsters, Flowers will give nearly 75 toys to Maybury sanatorium. During World War II Flowers, who is director of Plymouth township civil defense, donated toys to children in the Philippine islands. He is pictured here at work in his basement workshop.

State's Elk Herd Bothers Farmers

Michigan's elk herd, estimated at more than 600 animals, threatens to create a problem in game management. The herd, which started with the release of seven elk in the Pigeon River state forest near Vanderbilt in 1918, has grown rapidly in the last few years. Conservation workers sighted more than 200 in less than an hour last month.

Private landowners in the area have complained recently that elk are causing damage to pine, cherry and other trees with low branches. Game specialists think the mauling of the trees may be an effort by the elk to polish their antlers. In some cases, elk actually eat twigs although they are primarily grass-eating animals. Damage to trees with low-hanging branches also reduces the available supply of deer food. Michigan never has had an elk hunting season and there are no measures at present to restrict the growth of the herd. Game specialists say that some control of the herd must be exerted if tree damage continues. Possible solutions include: issuance of permits to landowners to kill damage-causing elk, a restricted hunting season with a limited number of elk taken, or trapping elk and transferring them to remote grassland areas to reduce concentrations in the Vanderbilt area.

This romantic picture of Mr. and Mrs. Esten Gray of Starkweather preceded them home by a couple of days from a three week's vacation deep in Mexico. Expected in the city Saturday or Sunday, the well known local barber and his wife are pictured on a sandy beach of the Pacific ocean where they leisurely relaxed a few days before starting their homeward trip. For several years now they have selected Mexico as their vacation headquarters.

LEGAL NOTICE

To the Supervisor and Highway Commissioner of the Township of Canton, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on November 17, 1955, decide and determine that the certain alley described in the minutes of said Board, heretofore taken over as a County road, should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as a public highway, reserving therein the easement set forth in said determination.

The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said alley is attached hereto and made a part of this notice, which is given under and by virtue of Act 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 23rd day of November, A.D. 1955.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN

Michael J. O'Brien, Chairman
William E. Kreger, Vice-Chairman
Charles L. Wilson, Commissioner
By Sylvester A. Noetzel
Secretary and Clerk of the Board

Commissioner Wilson moved the adoption of the following resolution: WHEREAS, pursuant to petition and in accordance with the provisions of Section 18, Chapter 4, Act No. 283, P.A. 1909, as amended, this Board has conducted a hearing to determine the advisability of absolutely abandoning and discontinuing:

The alley 20 feet wide in the rear of or adjacent to Lots 8, 9, 10 and 52, as dedicated for public use in Wayne Garden Park Sub'n, No. 1 of N.E. 1/4 of N.W. 1/4 of Sec. 36, also that part of S.E. 1/4 of S.W. 1/4 of Sec. 25 lying south of the center line of Michigan ave. T. 25, R. 8E, Canton township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 36 of Plats on Page 58, Wayne County Records.

Also that part of said 20 foot alley lying in the rear of that portion of Lot 11 lying Easterly of the northerly extension of the westerly line of Lot 52, as dedicated for public use in Wayne Garden Park Sub'n, No. 1, and

WHEREAS, a view of the premises above described was had in accordance with said statute.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that it is in the best interest of the public that the above-described county road or portion thereof be absolutely abandoned and discontinued and that said road or portion thereof is hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued reserving therein an easement for public utility purposes.

The motion was supported by Commissioner O'Brien and carried by the following vote:

Ayes, Commissioners O'Brien & Wilson, Nays, None.
Absent, Commissioner Kreger. 12-1-5-13-55

SNAPPER

After sitting up all night last Christmas Eve to get this shot of a surprised look on Santa's face, I found out it was the sight of my flash camera that made him look that way. He'd had trouble figuring what to bring for several well people and he suddenly realized cameras would be perfect. He thought he'd have to go all the way back to the North Pole after them but I got my boss to open up the store and fix him up. Give you any ideas? A man came in our store the other day and actually asked me what would be a good hobby for his boy. If you think I suggested deep diving you're off the beam. No fooling, though, photography is a lifetime hobby and you can't start too early. See me or the boss about some beginner's equipment. Here's some suggestions:

Ruth Norman, Serviceman United at Nazarene Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Ruth Norman of Plymouth and Private First Class Robert B. Manspecker of Detroit was solemnized in a double ring ceremony held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, November 12, in the Church of the Nazarene.

The Reverend E. T. Hadwin read the nuptial rites before an altar decorated with large white and bronze mums. Paul Hockenberry presided at the organ while Dylas Richards sang "With This Ring" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. and Mrs. John Norman of North Mill street, Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Manspecker of Burt road, Detroit, are the parents of the couple.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice had a portrait neckline of illusion which was adorned with sequins, and long fitted sleeves extending to a point at the wrist. The full skirt swept into a cathedral train and had a deep inset of pleated nylon extending down the front. Her fingertip veil fell gracefully from a tiara of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white baby mums, centered with three bronze orchids.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Burt Bryant of Six Mile road, Salem. She wore a floor-length gown of aqua lace and net over aqua satin and carried a bouquet of yellow baby mums.

The bridegroom chose as his best man Robert Feares of Trinity street, Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Norman chose a black taffeta dress, trimmed with rhinestones, and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Manspecker chose a black and pink dress, also accented with a corsage of red roses.

The reception for 150 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, Micol street, Plymouth.

The new Mrs. Manspecker will reside with her parents while her husband serves with the U.S. Army in Germany. She will join him later.

Guild Holds Xmas Party

Members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild will gather Saturday night, December 10, at the Robert Lawson home on Powell road for their annual Christmas party.

Starting time for the festivities is 8:30 p.m. Members of the refreshment committee are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Aubrey, Betty Mende and Judy Seehlin. Ruth Barney is in charge of the entertainment program.

Mr. and Mrs. Valbert Groth and two children of Hammond, Indiana, and Mrs. Oscar Lehman of Homewood, Illinois, mother of Mrs. Valbert Groth, were Thanksgiving weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth of North Harvey street. They were joined on Thanksgiving day for dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Gar Evans and sons, Kenneth and Keith, of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wood will be hosts to their dinner group, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Mr. and Mrs. David Mather, on Saturday evening in their home on Sheldon road.

The Thursday evening bridge club met last week with Mrs. William Hartmann on Blunk avenue.

Mrs. Dorothy Swope, who has sold her home on Garfield to Mr. and Mrs. Newell of Dearborn, is residing on Dewey street until her new home near Farmington is completed. Mr. and Mrs. Newell moved here from Dearborn last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rutherford of New London, Conn., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. Durward Jewell for ten days. Thomas is in the Navy.

Helen Balayan, who will become the bride of Robert Martin on Dec. 30, was honored, Friday evening of last week, with a miscellaneous wedding shower given by Mrs. Thurman Rodman and Molly Groth in the home of the latter on North Harvey street. The colors yellow and white were carried out in the dainty refreshments and table decorations. Guests were present from South Lyon, Livonia, Detroit and Plymouth.

Mrs. Charles Rathburn entertained the following guests at supper Sunday evening in her home on Haggerty highway, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Burton and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farrant of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cramer and little son have moved from Pacific avenue to the home they recently purchased on Ann street from Mrs. Jennie Scheafknocker. Mrs. Scheafknocker is now residing with her nephew and family in Pontiac.

The Christmas party of the Sunshine Club will be at the home of Mrs. Elaine Morap, 11346 Hemingway, Detroit, Wednesday 14, with Mrs. Lucy Wilson as co-hostess. Birthday guest of the month is Opal Carr.

On Thursday, December 8, the members and friends of The Plymouth Character Research Group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Readman of 298 Blunk street. Speaker for the evening will be Mr. George Bowles, attorney and chairman of the State Labor Mediation Board, whose topic will be Creative Conflict.

The Lapham Extension Group will meet Tuesday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Pressley, on Curtis road, for the annual Christmas party. Mrs. Nona Avis will be co-hostess. Members are reminded to bring handkerchiefs and cookies for the party to be given at the Northville State Hospital Thursday afternoon, December 15.

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church will hold its annual Christmas luncheon at 12:30 December 14. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Claude Murray, phone 1992 before Monday noon, December 12.

Club Readies For Greens, Bake Sale

An assortment of greens, wiring, ribbon and fancy trimming will be brought to the home of Mrs. Austin Stecker, 45455 North Territorial road, this Monday at 1 p.m. for arrangement into attractive Yuletide decorations by members of the Plymouth branch, Women's National Farm and Garden association.

Reason for all the activity is the approaching date of the club's annual Christmas Greens and Bake Sale — Friday, December 16. On the day of the big event, club members intend to have a wide assortment of wreaths, centerpieces, bird cages and other Yule decorations on display. In addition there'll be a variety of home-made cakes, pies, cookies and breads.

The 10-minute extra for the December 12 meeting will be a flower arrangement of narcissus by Mrs. Edwin A. Schrader.

Tea chairman will be Mrs. Roy Jacobus, assisted by: Mrs. Leroy Jewell, Mrs. C. J. Kershaw, Mrs. James Kincaid, Mrs. A.L. Lantz, Mrs. W. E. Lickfield and Mrs. Roy Lindsay.

Birthdays Celebrated

Some 50 friends and neighbors met at the Oddfellows hall Saturday night to help celebrate the birthdays of John R. Mastic, 489 Hamilton, and Harry Gottschalk, Sr., 186 East Liberty street. Mr. Mastic was 74 and Mr. Gottschalk was 65.

Old-time music was played and a quartet from First Baptist and Spring Street Baptist churches sang hymns. Cake, ice cream and coffee were served, as best wishes were offered the two men.

Lillian Bogenschutz, Maxwell street, entertained her Secret Pal Club at their annual Christmas party Sunday, December 4. Secret Pals came from Plymouth, Northville, Walled Lake, Livonia, Royal Oak, and Windsor, Canada.

Ernest Frank has been visiting his son and family, the Arthur Franks in Dexter, Michigan.

Roger Bogenschutz, Don Moyer and David Bogenschutz have returned from an unsuccessful deer hunting trip near Onaway, Michigan.

The Ex-Servicemen's Club Auxiliary will hold their annual Christmas luncheon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gardner, 10220 Ann Arbor road, December 16 at 12:30. Exchange of gifts as usual.

Martha Wesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley; Nancy Alford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alford; and Barbara Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Horton Booth, enjoyed last weekend at Albion college where they were guests at Northmont House's "young sister" weekend festivities. Martha was the guest of her sister, Sara; Nancy, the guest of her sister, Marjorie; and Barbara was the guest of Belinda Blanchard. Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Wesley accompanied the girls to Albion and they returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Alford.

Mrs. Henry Livrance of Bradner road entertained at a delightful one o'clock luncheon last Thursday. Guests present were Mrs. Atkins of Redford township; Mrs. Charles Livrance, Mrs. George Springer, Mrs. Etta Gerst, Mrs. Louise Hutton, Mrs. William Sutherland and Miss Elizabeth Sutherland.

Mrs. Harvey Lumley of Bickford, Ontario and Mrs. Clarence Sheper of Sombra, Ontario, spent the weekend with Mrs. George Keeping of Hartsough avenue.

The ladies of St. Peter's Lutheran church are again reminded that the bags of "Christmas Cheer" for Eloise will be packed on Friday evening, December 9 in the church and distributed at the hospital on Sunday, December 11, leaving the church at 1:30 p.m. Be sure to have cookies at the church early Friday evening.

The Get-Together Club will hold its Christmas party on Saturday, December 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Herrick on Bradner road.

THIS DISPLAY of Christmas gifts, made by the Community Civics classes of Miss Neva M. Lovewell, will shortly be on its way for distribution to Wayne county's crippled youngsters. At left is the Plymouth high school teacher with class representatives Gladys Bennett, center, and Marlene Basset. The project is sponsored each year by Miss Lovewell's classes. Mrs. Herma Taylor, executive secretary, Wayne-Out County chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults will direct distribution of gifts to the handicapped youngsters.

Donly Young, Jr. To Wed Livonia Girl

The engagement of Leslyn Keeth to Donly S. Young, Jr., whose parents reside at 499 Pacific avenue, Plymouth, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian G. Keeth of 11059 Milburn, Livonia.

March 24 has been set for the wedding date.

Parents of Ninth Graders Hold Meeting Tonight

Parents of ninth-grade students are holding a meeting at 7:45 tonight, December 8, in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

Purpose of the meeting is to establish an organization which will further better understanding among parents, teachers and students of this age group.

Anyone interested in this proposed organization is urged to attend.

Visit Convalescent Home

Thirteen members of the Plymouth DeMolay chapter, accompanied by Master Councilor Robert Young and James Thorpe, past head of the organization, recently visited the Riverbank Convalescent home in Livonia.

At the institution, composed solely of men patients, the group distributed gifts of fruit, candy and tobacco. Games of checkers, domino and pinocle were also played with the patients. While there they met Dr. Sharette, member of DeMolay. He is now confined to a wheelchair due to a spinal injury which left him almost completely paralyzed.

Before leaving the home, refreshments were served to all the patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hartom were Sunday callers at the Ernest Vealey home on Adams street.

Dunlaps Describe Austrian Christmas at Club Program

Seated at either side of an evergreen decorated in Austrian fashion, Plymouth Symphony Conductor Wayne Dunlap and his wife reminisced over their Christmas in Austria before 126 members and guests of the Plymouth Woman's club gathered at the VFW hall Friday afternoon for the organization's annual Yuletide program.

The Dunlaps and their two children spent Christmas 1954 in Vienna, where the orchestra conductor pursued a year's study at the Royal Academy on Fulbright funds.

In speaking of their Austrian Christmas, the couple recalled that on December 6, Saint Nicholas, Austria's north pole visitor who has achieved bishop status in that country, makes his annual rounds. In anticipation of his call, Viennese youngsters place shoes in the windows of their homes. The good ones know that St. Nicholas will fill their shoes with all kinds of sweets — chocolate boots brimming with candy figures wrapped in tin foil, nuts, fruits and gingerbread figures of the saint himself.

Those who haven't been on their best behavior are in danger of getting the gifts of Grampus, a devilish fellow with bundles of switches who makes the rounds with St. Nicholas. For downright delinquent youngsters, legend has it that Grampus will carry them away with him in his sack. As a precautionary measure, doors of Alpine homes are locked as men dressed as Grampus parade the streets.

Austrian Christmas decorations soon appear on the streets in the form of birch and other branches. In keeping with an old tradition, each Austrian home sports a fruit branch in a vase of water to serve as the family's private oracle. Belief is that if the twig blossoms by Christmas Day, happiness will come their way, but if it is barren on that date, tears are forthcoming.

Wreaths with candles, one of which is lit each week during Advent, are hung from chandeliers in the individual homes. Preparations for the creche or manger scene, set up at the beginning of Advent, are begun well in advance. In mountain villages, peasants carve new figures to add to those which have been in the family for generations. In kitchens, mothers are baking the special bread with nutmeat center which will be fed to the animals in the stable before the family has its "tea" around the creche on Christmas morning.

Throughout the Austrian capital, entertainment is at its height during the Christmas season. Traditional are performances of "Hansel and Gretel" presented an entire week before Christmas as well as puppet shows. Both events are popular with young and old alike, who crowd the halls for each performance. Presentations of the works of Johann Strauss are also a part of the Austrian Yuletide scene, particularly after Christmas when Strauss compositions are the main fare at New Year's concerts.

On Christmas eve all opera and concert halls are closed, with services in the churches and cathedrals becoming the focal point of interest. Each church has its own orchestra area in addition to the organ loft, which join with the choir in presentation of the traditional Austrian carols.

The Christ Child officially decorates the tree on Christmas eve and leaves gifts for all the youngsters of the household. Children, kept waiting in another room, know when He has completed His mission by the sight of a nut rolling underneath the door and tinkling of a Christmas bell. They rush out to find their evergreen decked with lighted tapers and edibles of every kind and description. Sparklers are then lit and placed on the boughs by the children.

Before the gifts can be opened, the entire family has its own entertainment program around the Christmas tree. Carols are sung and playlets given by young and old.

Right after Christmas, skiing holidays begin when Austrians in native costume go up to the mountains for a week or two of the sport. At this time, too, boys in mountain villages climb to the top of the crags where they light pine discs soaked in tar and send them rolling down the mountain-side. Height of the sport is to jump on skis and, carrying lighted torches, race the discs to the bottom of the slope.

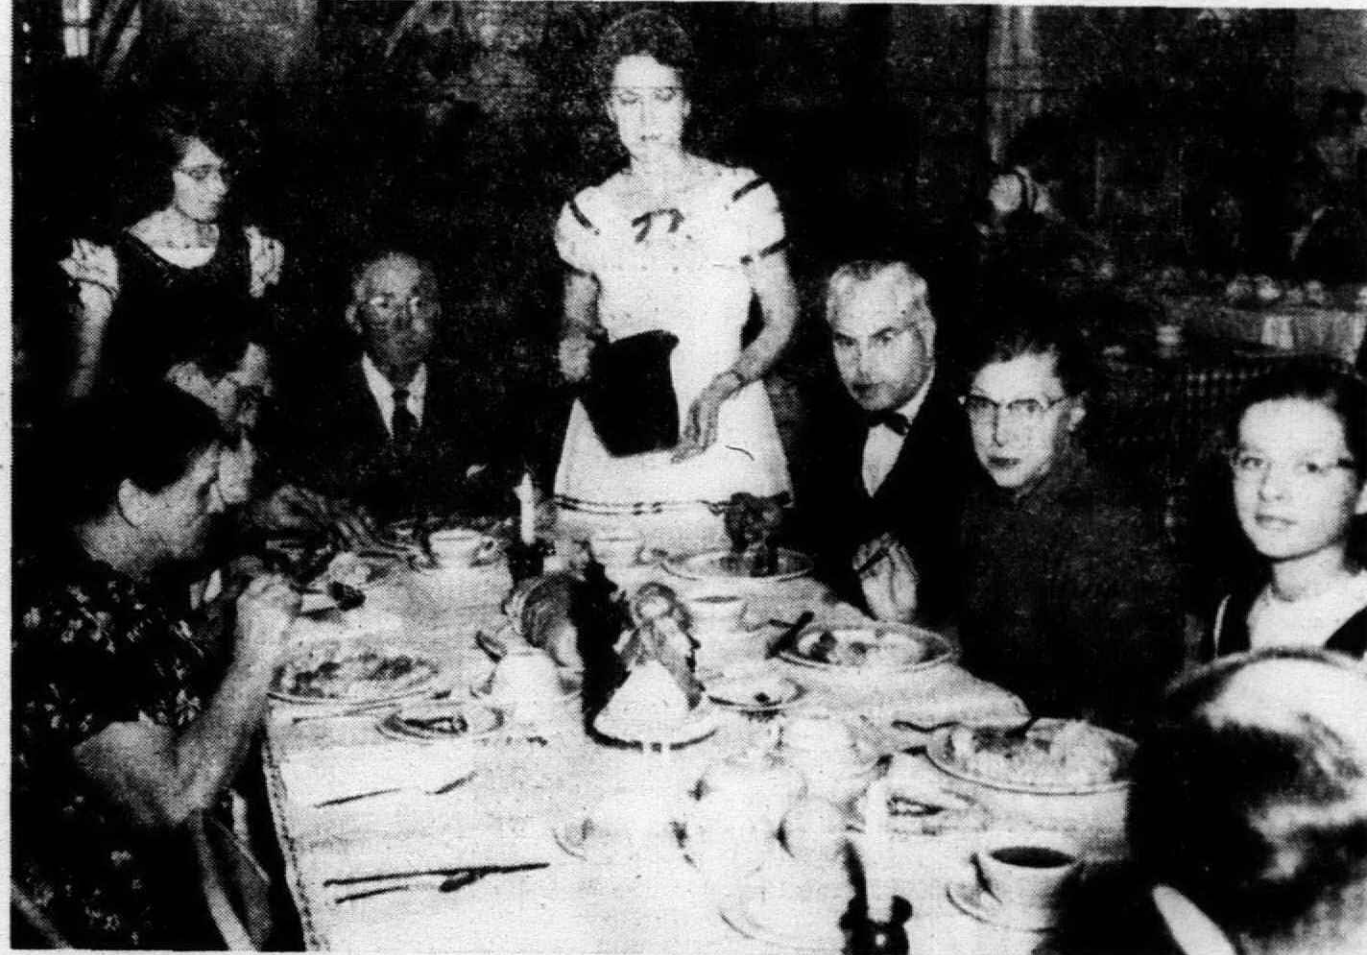

The Festival of Three Kings is celebrated on 12th Night, January 6, when youngsters impersonating the Magi go from farm to farm begging for food in "trick or treat" fashion. Finishing their visit with renditions of Christmas carols, they cross the threshold into the home. The owner then carries glowing coals of incense and herbs and marks C, M and B on each mantel to indicate that the three wise men have visited his home.

A tea was served at the close of the program in the VFW hall. Program chairman was Mrs. Henry Walch. Mrs. Robert Stewart was in charge of the tea with Mrs. Neal Bowen as decorations chairman.

THE ATTENDANCE was proof enough of the success of the first annual Christmas Fete of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church last Sunday. More than 500 persons tasted the traditional Christmas foods of Denmark, Holland, England, Germany, Hungary, Norway and Sweden. The dinner was held in the gaily decorated basement of the church and each booth representing a country was attended by waitresses dressed in the appropriate costume of that country. According to the Reverend Edgar Hoenecke, the event was planned to preserve the traditions of Christmas by each of the nationalities represented in the church.

The top left photo taken in front of the Danish booth (l. to r.) shows Miss Georgina Reed, Mrs. William Kreeger, Mr. Kreeger and C. Loyal Knappen. At top right, again at the popular Danish booth (l. to r.), Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke helps Mr. and Mrs. Howard Last while Rev. Hoenecke, holding little Jill Pedersen, looks on. In the foreground Tina Pedersen stands at right, while at left Mrs. Fred Schmidt, Sr. enjoys the dinner. In the picture at the right, a Hungarian menu has just been served. From left are: Mrs. Louis Ribar, Sr. and Mr. Ribar at the head of the table; seated on the right are Mr. Orin Scrimger, Mrs. Scrimger and Marlene Brown. Standing in the background are Diane Ribar and Mrs. Jessica Waara.

TB Christmas Seals Started 48 Years Ago

Forty-eight years ago on December 7, 1907, the Christmas Seals that fight tuberculosis throughout the United States were born, recalls the Tuberculosis and Health society.

Back in those days tuberculosis was the leading cause of death in this country, but little was done about this dreaded contagious disease. There were some who realized that the American people would never be free of this menace unless the entire nation combined to fight against it, each citizen contributing according to his ability. The Christmas Seal, which had been introduced in Europe several years earlier, was the answer.

So the fight of the American people against one of their chief disease enemies became associated with the Christmas season, the season of giving, of fellowship, of good will toward men. In millions of American homes, the annual arrival of the Christmas Seals traditionally heralds the coming of the joyous holiday season.

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Douglas Simpson
Airman Apprentice Douglas Simpson, 9045 Northern, has completed a 14-day leave spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Simpson, and has reported to Norfolk, Virginia to enter aviation mechanics school.

Douglas spent nine weeks in boot camp at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The airman was one of the first to be recruited at the Plymouth Navy recruiting office which re-opened about four months ago. The office, located in the post office basement, is open on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Harold D. Culp
Private First Class Harold D. Culp, 19, son of Burton M. Frost, 12931 Farmington road, Livonia, recently was graduated from the Third Army Food Service School's eight-week cooking course at Fort Benning, Georgia. The course, one of three taught at the school, covered the preparation of food in Army mess halls and in the field.

Culp, who entered the Army in August 1954, is a cook in Battery C of the 11th Airborne Division's 89th Airborne Field Artillery battalion at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Richard Blomberg
Private Richard Blomberg of the U.S. Army recently returned by plane from California to spend a furlough with his wife, the former Janice Depki, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg of Arthur street.

The couple were married prior to his entering the service in September. Private Blomberg will be stationed in El Paso, Texas.

Pretty soon the more conservative landlords will turn on the heat, if the heating system hasn't been frozen up in the meantime.

Church Women Re-Elect Helen Beavers as President

Miss Helen D. Beavers was re-elected president of the Plymouth Council of United Church Women by representatives of the eight churches composing the organization at a meeting Wednesday afternoon, November 30, in the Assembly of God church. Miss Beavers has served in this capacity since the council was first organized in May of this year.

Also elected to continue in their present offices were Mrs. Walter Gempferline, vice president; and Mrs. Claude Gebhardt, treasurer. Mrs. George Graham was elected secretary to replace Mrs. Albert Dayton who has moved from this community. Mrs. John Walsh, chairman of the nominating committee, was re-elected to that position.

Other chairmanship appointments were Mrs. Sidney Strong, Christian World Missions committee, in charge of World Day of Prayer; Mrs. Emerson Robinson, Christian Social Relations, May Fellowship Day; and Mrs. Kenneth R. Bisbee, Christian World Relations, World Community Day.

Mrs. Dean Saxton will hold the representative office of representative for the "Church Woman," monthly magazine published by the national organization of United Church Women. Mrs. Roy Jacobus was named publicity representative.

Composing the board are the officers, chairmen of the standing committees, president and one other member from each participating church society.

Three churches, not affiliated with the council at the time of its organization last May, were received at this meeting. The new participants and presidents of their women's societies are: First Baptist, Mrs. Dunbar Davis; Church of the Nazarene, Mrs. Lawrence B. Lucas; Reorganized

CORRECTION

An error occurred in the advertisement of Pease Paint and Wallpaper Co. which appeared in the Plymouth Community Stamp Gift Guide, distributed last week. The price of the Craftint Big 3 Paint Set should have been $3.95 or 1 1/2 filled books of stamps, not 3 1/2 books.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Mrs. Dale Parker.

The five churches represented on the Council since its organization and presidents of the respective societies are: Methodist, Mrs. Joseph B. Witwer; St. John's Episcopal, Mrs. James Hardimon; Salvation Army, Mrs. Hartliff J. Nicholls; Presbyterian, Mrs. Emerson Robinson; Assembly of God, Mrs. John Walasky.

Announcement was made that World Day of Prayer would be held February 17 at St. John's Episcopal church. A report on the recent national assembly of U.C.W. held November 7-10 in Cleveland, Ohio was given by Miss Beaver.

NEARLY 200 Plymouth Kiwanians and guests were entertained Saturday night by a somewhat exaggerated version of television's "I've Got a Secret" quiz show. The occasion was the annual Kiwanis Knite Klub dinner party held at Smith school. Above (far right) Harry (Garry Moore) Larsen interviews contestant Frank Terry. The panel, which was stumped by Baker Terry's secret (I hope I never see another biscuit), is composed of (l. to r.) Meredith Smith, Warren Worth, Mrs. Edwin Schrader and Mrs. Neil Davidson. At right, a surprise contestant gives Moderator Larsen some rough moments. Billed as "Mae West", the buxom contestant was a dead-ringer for Wendell Lent. Arrangements for the party were under the direction of Dr. Fred Foust. A buffet style dinner was served, while decorations included more than 2000 balloons and noisemakers and hats.

Girl Scout News

Plymouth Girl Scouts attending the National Senior Round-up at Highland, Michigan in June will be Diane Beaver, Carol North, Christine Baker and Betty Edgar. Named by the committee as alternates are Georgette Graham, Joan Nagy, Ann Taylor and Susan Campbell.

An extensive testing program was held at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge over the Thanksgiving holiday. Girls were rated by six qualified adults on general program skills, personality, and in detail on primitive camping knowledge.

Plymouth girls will train and live in patrols with girls from Wayne, Ypsilanti, Milan, Flat Rock and Waltz. Training of the patrols is now underway with both delegates and alternates attending. The first four named delegates, subject to passing a satisfactory physical examination in June, will attend a two-week primitive camping session with senior Scouts from all over the U.S. Guests will include 40 Ranger Scouts from Europe. Alternates will attend a special two-week session at the Oakpark, Illinois Girl Scout camp at Three Rivers, Michigan to be held for all alternates of Region Seven who do not attend the Round-up. Diane Beaver is a member of Troop 5. Mrs. Henry Jensen, leader. All of the other Scouts are members of Troop 1, Mrs. Sheldon Baker, leader.

Brownie Troop 23 has recently elected officers. Chairman is Patty Page, treasurer, Grace Thompson; first aid, Linda Baughman; sunshine, Nancy Derr; and publicity, Betty Ann Erdelyi. All the Brownies received their pins at their investiture service. Mrs. James Steele is leader.

Members of Troop 14 visited Norma Cassidy's at their last regular meeting. Mrs. Cassidy spoke to the girls about proper planning of a wardrobe and care of clothing. A recent guest of the troop was Mrs. David Wood, who led a discussion on manners and behavior when traveling. Also in connection with a Travel badge, the Troop will visit the local office of the A.A.A. Mrs. Carl Wall and Mrs. George Bauer are leaders.

Troop 21 celebrated its birthday on Tuesday, November 27. A potluck dinner was held in the Earl West home. Special event at the party was the presentation to Elaine Calahan of her five-year pin. Mrs. Wayne Rubey and Mrs. Lloyd England are the leaders.

Circle 1 of the First Presbyterian church will hold its Christmas party at 12 o'clock noon, Thursday, December 15, in the Mimmack room of the church. Please bring your own table service for planned potluck and a gift wrapped and marked for boy or girl.

The members of the Priscilla sewing group will be luncheon guests Tuesday, of Mrs. John Vanhoy in her home on Sheldon road.

New Census of Agriculture Shows County Farming Decline

Farming is gradually waning in Wayne county, according to the 1954 census of agriculture conducted by the Department of Commerce. There are 2,221 farms reported in the county — 325 less than were counted in the 1950 census.

The new census lists hundreds of products and farm characteristics from the number of television sets owned by farmers to the number of maple trees tapped.

The average farm size in Wayne county is 44.5 acres; five years ago it was 48 acres. Total acreage of today's farms is 98,834, which is about a fourth of the county's acreage of 388,480.

Even vegetable farming has been on the skids. There were 99 vegetable farms in 1950 and only 70 found last year; dairy farms have decreased from 227 to 96, poultry farms have fallen from 160 to 95, livestock from 100 to 40 and general farms from 109 to 80.

Looking at the animal kingdom, horses or mules have decreased from 1,227 to 260; cattle and calves from 9,733 to 7,361; hogs and pigs from 10,120 to 8,900; sheep and lambs from 648 to 520 and chickens from 130,559 to 125,665.

Turkey raising is one field which has grown in the four years. There are 19,497 turkeys found today compared to 14,304 counted in 1950.

A comparison of the four years in grain production shows the following:

Corn acreage has increased from 20,097 to 21,997; winter wheat has decreased from 10,413 to 7,839; oats has decreased from 8,403 acres to 5,120 and soybeans has increased from 5,617 to 7,566.

Looking at vegetables, there were 5,198 acres harvested for sale in 1950 and only 3,937 acres last year. Sweet corn took but a small cut in acreage (2,383 acres to 2,253) while nearly every other vegetable suffered a much larger decline in acreage.

Tree fruits decreased in the county from 2,329 acres to 1,742. The number of apple trees, for instance, has fallen from 53,025 to 38,055. Peach tree numbers have decreased from 8,592 to 5,681.

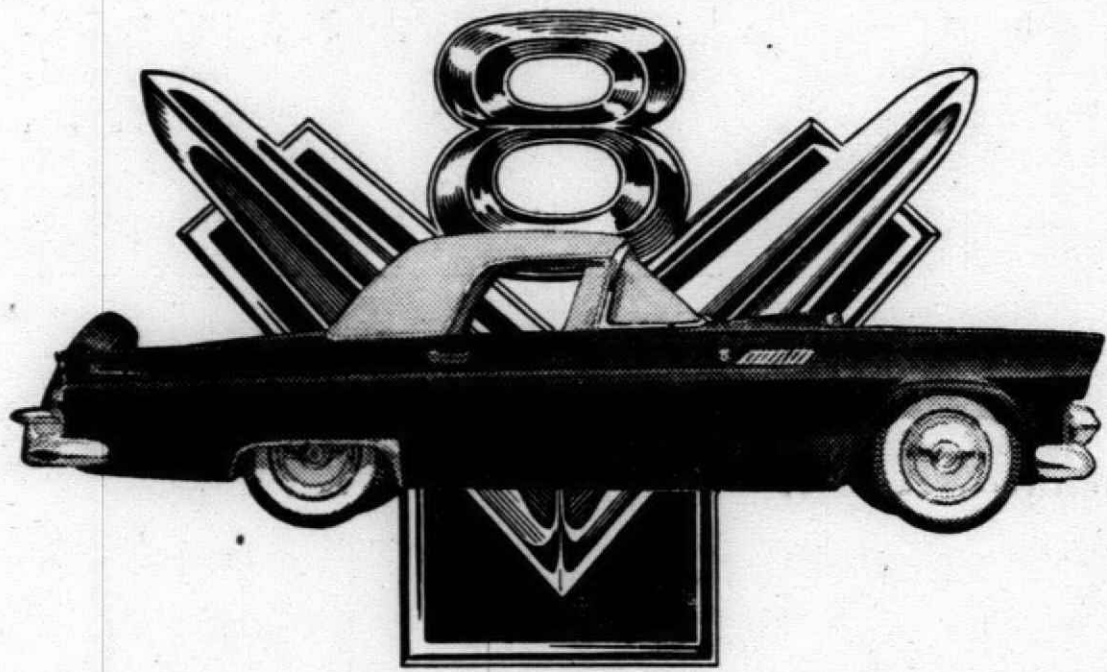

Farm Bureau Announces Plans for Yuletide Party

The Canton Center Farm Bureau will hold its Christmas festivities at 8 p.m. Friday, December 9, in the home of Floyde Fulton, 451 Lotz road.

A Yuletide party has been planned, and each member has been asked to bring a 10-cent item for the gift exchange.

Topic for the evening's discussion will be "Should Michigan Have a Highway Speed Control Program?"

Despite the tremors that shook the financial world when Ike had his heart attack, the business outlook for 1956 is good.

GROUND-BREAKING ceremony for the $275,000 addition to be built at St. Michael's school and convent, Rosedale Gardens, took place Friday morning, December 2. Principals at the event, center, are l. to r.: Benjamin Gagozzi, benefactor of the Livonia school; Father John E. Contway, pastor; his assistant, Father Norbert Chateau; and Livonia City Clerk Mrs. Marie Clark. The expansion program calls for eight new classrooms, library, offices and heating facilities at the school, and a 17-room addition, including sacristy, community room, refectory and living quarters, at the convent. St. Michael's parish was established in 1931 under the leadership of Father Contway. The school, staffed by the Felician Sisters, has an enrollment of 735 pupils.

Reader's Letterbox Opinion Railway Executive Praises

Dear Sir:
 May I commend Harry H. Newell for his recent letter in your Letter Box in which he understandingly and completely replies to one from an N. H. Hopkins who had criticized the railroads for crossing blockings in Plymouth and has indicated they should pay for grade separations to eliminate this problem.

Mr. Newell is right. The railroads built Plymouth as they did thousands of other cities, as they did America. He is also right when he indicates that the railroads did not create the grade crossings. Railroads in almost all instances were "there first" — folks who later built the highways that cross rail tracks created the crossings. Thus, separating rail-highway crossings is not a railroad duty or function.

Grade crossing separations benefit the railroads hardly at all; they greatly benefit vehicular traffic, especially the railroads' competitor, the for-hire trucker. Without him, separations adequate for the average car and typical truck would be simple and inexpensive; with him and his high vehicles, they are complex and costly. Every foot added to the height of a separation means 100 feet added to the grading to reach the top of the separation.

Three elements benefit, in varying degrees, from separations — the railroads, it is generally conceded, less than 15%; the public, considerably, the for-hire trucker excessively.

Folks like the writer of the earlier letter give insufficient thought to the crossing problem. They immediately blame the railroad for it when 99% of the time the reverse is true. They also give little thought to separation costs — "the railroads should pay all or at least half." How about the for-hire trucker, totally responsible for the expensive separations? He has no inherent right — he operates solely under privilege — to use the public highways as a place on which to conduct a private business for private profit; and he lightly charges the railroads with the separation problem, and asserts that his piddling gas and weight tax fully compensates the taxpayers for what they must put out for the bigger, wider, thicker, costlier highways his juggernaut trucks make necessary.

The railroads will always be with us; nothing in the foreseeable future will replace them as the backbone of transportation. Why then should we treat them as the catch-all for every problem in the transportation field or that arises at its point of impact with our individual or economic lives?

Very truly yours,

ROOB H. ALLIE

Executive Secretary and Director Public Relations Michigan Railroads Assoc.

get there first to turn it off. Don't you think it a shame to subject an innocent little dog to such antics as these characters perform? Besides — what busy reporter would have time to tizzie around with a pooch when on a "hot" mission?

I must, however, disagree with one of your statements. How could any "budding young journalist, just out of college" fall for such flimsy stuff? It would seem that if he had enough sense to "worm" his way through college (one way or another) he would be smart enough to know better.

Besides being famine-stricken for pleasure, there are other reasons for listening to the tales of TV. I have attempted to describe one of these in the following bit of verse — which has appeared in the Detroit News. Do you agree with me?

Tele-Tales is each tele-story
 That spills its chill of murder
 gory;
 Fills the air with eerie moans,
 and shrieks and wails.
 A victim am I, sitting, gazing
 At scenes insidious. Amazing
 Are the plots and the approaches each entails.

Despite my aptitudes in baking,
 When tragedies are in the making
 It is then my footsteps quickly flee from cooking.

For when these tales with malice
 smack
 Team up with tunes no less nerve-wracking

Who the heck can STAND to listen — unless looking!

Sincerely,
 Arne W. Manion

To the Editor:
 Well, really — Mistakes are made, but some are unforgivable!

You don't really think MSC is playing UCLA in the Rose Bowl on January 2, 1956, do you? Granted, MSC has played UCLA in the Pasadena contest, but that is history — a faction of which can never be repeated. At least, not if you are referring to a Big Ten school. You see, there is no longer a MSC in the Big Ten.

Schools belonging to the Big Ten include Ohio State University, Northwestern University, University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, University of Indiana, Purdue University, University of Ann Arbor, I mean, Michigan, University of Wisconsin and MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY.

This year's Rose Bowl contest will be played between the University of California at Los Angeles and MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY, not some school called MSC.

Sincerely,
 Cynthia Eaton

Goodfellows

Neighbors over the boundary line Good Fellows make good neighbors.

This last summer my neighbor's boy was severely cut on the foot by a rotary lawn mower. A telephone call brought Goodfellow Louis Westfall of Plymouth City Police who administered first aid and got him to the hospital thereby saving his life. On November 30 my neighbor on the other side suffered a heart attack. A telephone call brought Goodfellow Robert McAllister, Fire Chief of Plymouth City fire department, with the pulmotor he administered aid before the doctor arrived. Unfortunately a second attack proved fatal. We are mighty fortunate to live near such good neighbors. For my neighbors and myself, I say "Thank you, Lou and Bob, and we wish you a Happy Christmas and prosperous New Year."

Yours,
 Jim Gallimore

Realtors' Board to Hold Annual Christmas Party

The Western Wayne County Board of Realtors will hold its Annual Christmas party Monday, December 12, at Arbor-Lill restaurant at which time the organization's new officers will be installed.

Festivities will get underway at 5:30 p.m. with the turkey dinner slated to follow at 6:30. Guests will be introduced at 7:45 and a program of entertainment will begin at 8:00.

The installation of new officers was previously scheduled to be held at the January meeting, but has since been rescheduled for the Christmas party. Reservations for the party may be made through Gertrude Patton, secretary of the association. Phone Garfield 1-0550.

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Olsaver Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garlett and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cowgill will be guests Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Neale at a co-operative dinner in their home on Auburn avenue.

A family dinner party was held Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hartmann on Blunk street honoring their son, William, who will soon leave for the armed services. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. Graham Laible and daughters, Martha and Mary of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Martha Heft and Connie Kunkel.

Area Servicemen Now on Joint Military Exercise

Names of three Plymouth-area servicemen were added to the list of those participating in Exercise Sage Brush, joint Army-Air Force maneuver being held in Louisiana through December 15.

Participating are PFC Gary E. Sackow, 570 Kellogg street, Plymouth; PFC Robert I. Mulchi, Jr., 15030 Fairfield, Livonia; and Pvt. Edward V. Searles, 34026 Wadsworth, Livonia.

Somewhat 110,000 Army troops are engaged in testing the latest concepts of atomic, bacteriological, chemical and electronic warfare.

Sackow, a wrecker driver in the 782nd Airborne Ordnance battalion, is regularly stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. A 1951 graduate of Plymouth high school, he has been in the Army since January 1954.

Mulchi, a truck driver in the 32nd Airborne Division's 505th Infantry regiment, is also stationed at Fort Bragg. He entered the Army in March 1953.

A member of the 3rd Infantry Division's 7th Infantry battalion, Searles is regularly stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia. The former Bentley high school student entered the Army in December 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wick of Holbrook avenue left Wednesday for a visit with friends in Atlanta, Ga., and will also spend some time with his brother, Fred and family in Chattanooga, Tenn.

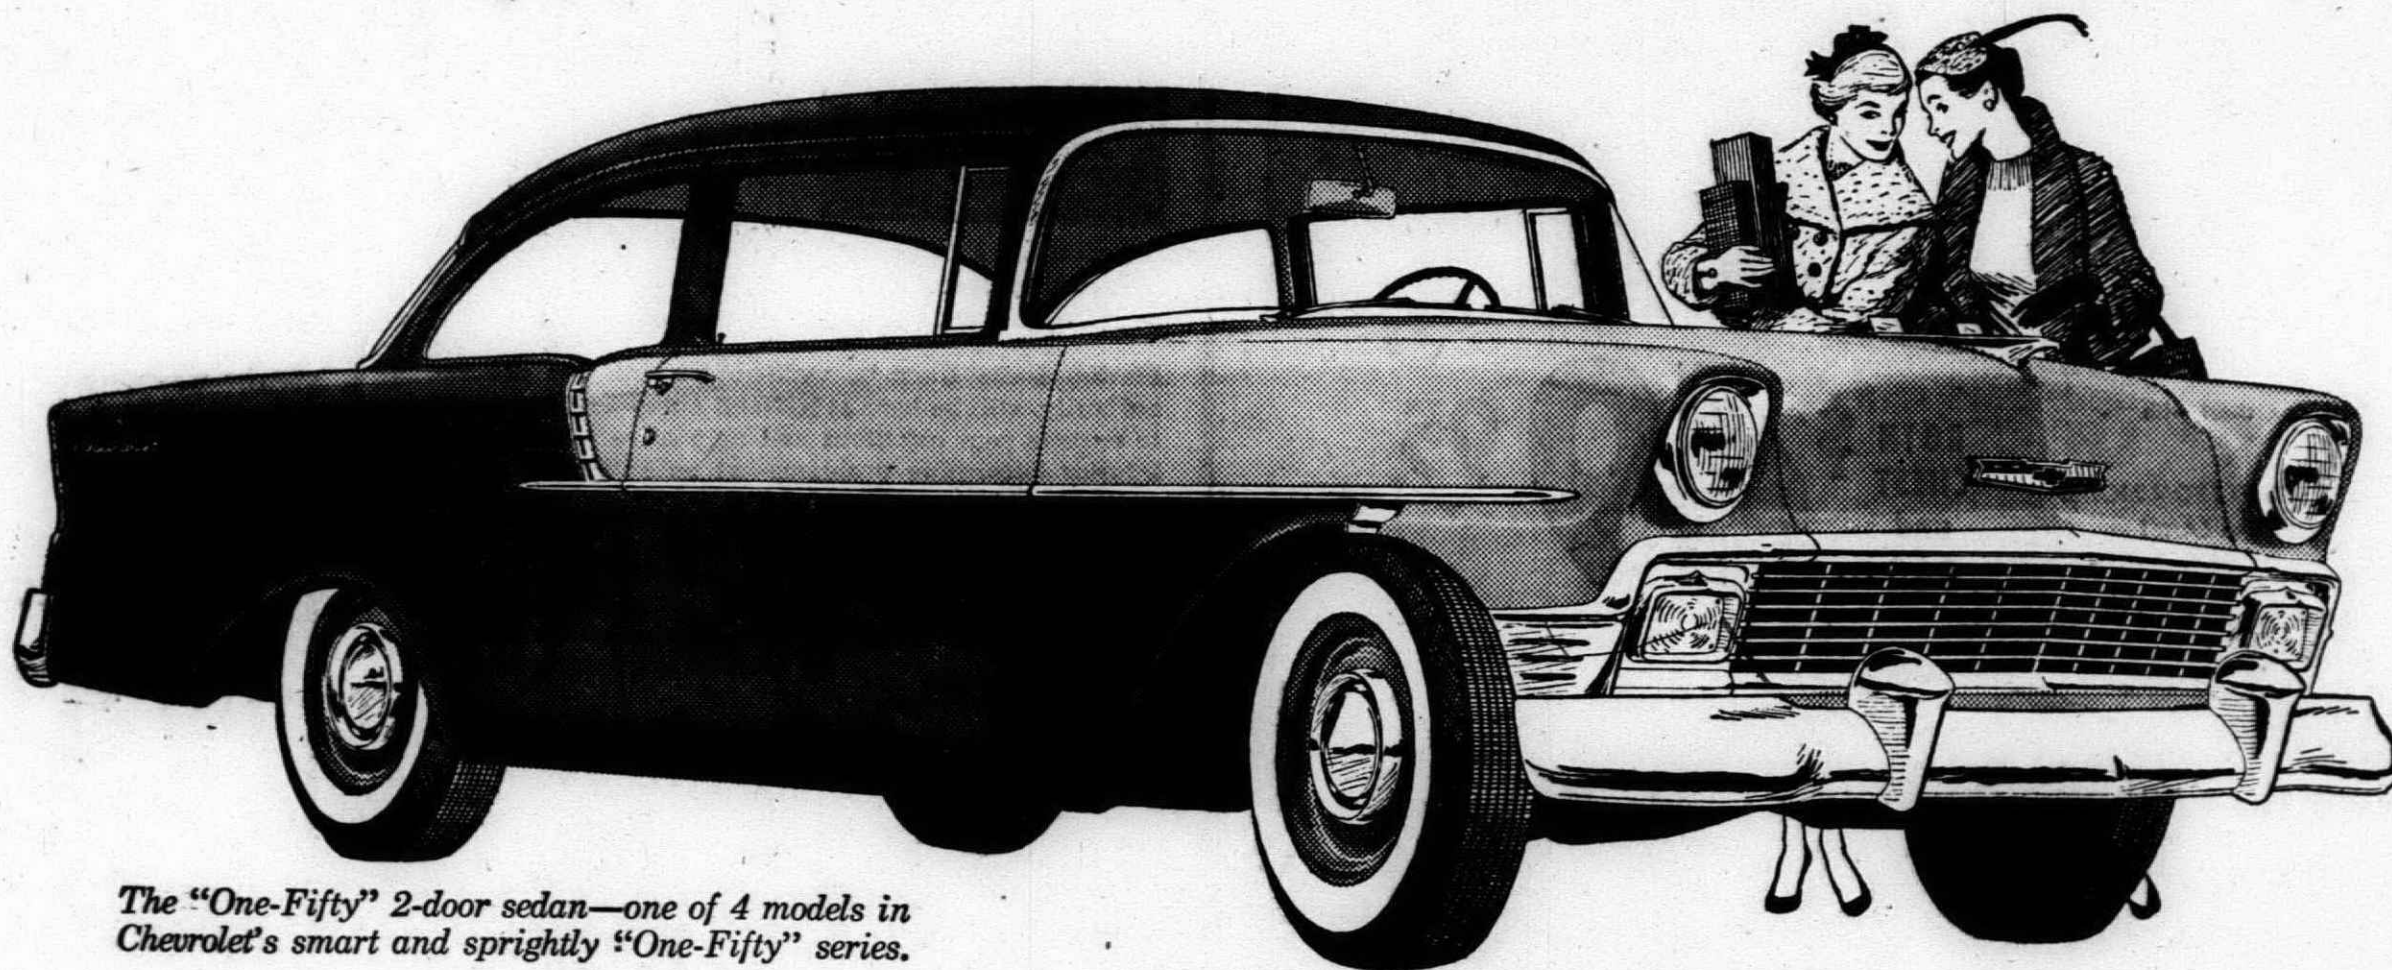

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Warner of Millakokia Lake, in the Upper Peninsula, are visiting in the home of their son, Roy, and family on Ann street until after the holidays. While here, they will also visit in Detroit.

SURROUNDED by shelves of gaily costumed dolls, all entries in the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond doll-dressing contest, are Mrs. Lillian Paine, nurse, (left) and Mrs. Rose Doughty, one of the winners. Employees and their wives dressed the dolls, which will be given to the Goodfellows. They in turn will put the dolls in Christmas baskets destined for needy families. Mrs. Isabel St. Louis of Plymouth and Mrs. Paine were in charge of BGR's contest, which was won by Irene Bonkowski, Detroit. Prizes included war bonds, gift certificates and cash awards. The dolls were donated by a Detroit department store.

This Chevrolet keeps a secret... beautifully!

The "One-Fifty" 2-door sedan—one of 4 models in Chevrolet's smart and sprightly "One-Fifty" series.

It's one of Chevrolet's New "ONE-FIFTY" series... the lowest priced of all the high-priced-looking Chevrolet series for '56. But you'd never know it to look at that speedline chrome treatment or to feel that new power ranging up to 205 H. P.

There's so much fresh new styling in the "One-Fifty" it's hard to believe the car costs so little. It has new chrome—including both windshield and back window reveals—and its own distinctive two-toning. It stretches long and clean from grille to taillights (the left one hides the gas cap). It offers new power, V8 or 6, steering and handling ease few cars can match, plus all of Chevrolet's great performance and safety features. Directional signals and safety door locks are standard equipment. Seat belts, with or without shoulder harnesses, and instrument panel padding are available at extra cost. Truly, the "One-Fifty" represents more quality than so few dollars ever bought before. Come in soon and let us tell you its big secret—its low price tag!

Ellen Travis Betrothed To Robert Wilson

Ellen Travis' engagement to Robert Wilson, son of Mrs. Robert Wilson of Six Mile road, Salem, and the late Mr. Wilson, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Travis of 8980 Canton Center road, Plymouth.

Date for the wedding has not been set.

The bridegroom-elect is a graduate of Michigan State university, where Miss Travis is presently enrolled as a freshman.

Mrs. Edward Robertson of Livonia was hostess for a recent meeting of the pinochle club. It was decided by the eight members at the gathering to name their group the "Sophisticates." Plans are now being made for a joint meeting and holiday housewarming party to be held December 29 at the home of Mrs. Mel Mitchell on Gyde road.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Widmaier of Gold Arbor are now nicely settled for the winter months in their Florida home in Summerfield near Ocala.

Frank Sanders Celebrate 50th Wedding Date

A 50th wedding celebration is in order for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanders of 651 Auburn this coming week. The couple were married December 12, 1905 in Muncie, Indiana.

In honor of the special occasion, the Sanders' two daughters, Mrs. Charles Terroux of Royal Oak and Mrs. Wendell Lent of Plymouth are hosting an open house at the Lent home, 594 Edison avenue, on Sunday, December 11. Many friends and neighbors are expected for the event which will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Also present for the occasion will be the couple's five grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders have lived in Plymouth 23 years, coming to this community from Hillsdale, Michigan. They are members of the First Methodist church. Prior to his retirement two years ago because of ill health, Mr. Sanders had been employed by Evans Products company for 10 years.

Club Sponsors Greens Market

The Rosedale Gardens branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association will sponsor a two-day Christmas Greens Market on Monday and Tuesday of next week, December 12 and 13, in the basement of the Club house, 9611 Hubbard, Livonia.

Hours for the event are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Tuesday.

Those attending are asked to use the left-side basement entrance as the upstairs area is being used for school classrooms by the Board of Education.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wildeen of Pine street spent last week at Naperville, Illinois where they visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Fry.

Madonna College Students Celebrate Yule Season

Madonnites are celebrating the feast of the Nativity two weeks before the actual date since they will be leaving the campus on December 16.

The Christmas festivities at Madonna will be highlighted by the candlelight procession, Christmas dinner, and College Ring Ceremony on Thursday, December 15. All the students take part in the candlelight procession sponsored by the Student Association.

The social hall has already been transformed into a holiday wonderland as the seniors demonstrated their artistry with pine and tinsel.

The Santa Social, sponsored by the Apostolic Committee of the Sodality on December 13, will provide an opportunity for Madonnites to bring cheer to unfortunate youngsters and display their abilities in wrapping gifts. Prizes will be given for the two most beautifully wrapped toys, and the one wrapped most unusually.

The Apostolic Committee of Our Lady's Sodality at Madonna is sponsoring an old clothes drive throughout December and January. The collected clothing will be sent to war-torn Korean families.

A baby layette drive is now in progress. The drive will extend from December 1 to 24. Clothing for the baby as well as bottles, rattles and baby products will form the layette, which will be given to some needy expectant mother in the vicinity at Christmas time.

Every spare moment of the days when these activities are taking place, the choral group will spend in caroling throughout the vicinity. Madonnites' voices will ring in civic buildings, hotels, hospitals and sanatoriums.

The manger scene which stands near the College drive on Schoolcraft road will not be illuminated until after Madonnites have departed. On Dec. 18, Mother M. Annuncia, provincial superior, will pull the switch lighting the scene which will remind passers-by of the true reason for rejoicing: Christ.

Social Notes

Mrs. Merle Rorabacher will be hostess Tuesday to members of her sewing circle in her home on Rucker avenue, the occasion being the annual Christmas party with a potluck dinner at noon and exchange of gifts afterward.

Mrs. Fred Ballen was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a dessert bridge in her home on Burroughs avenue having as her guests members of the Mayflower bridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute were dinner hosts, Sunday entertaining Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garman, Mrs. Garman, Sr., and Mrs. F. Vedder of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph West have returned from a month's visit with their son, Robert and family in New Orleans, La.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hivesley of Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn and Mrs. Fred Stocken of this city will be dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn in their home on Dunn court in celebration of his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever, who a few years ago purchased the Verkirk property on Sheldon road, between Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor trail, west, have for the past several months, been modernizing same. First, they moved the original house further back from the road, allowing a spacious lawn, then remodeled the home completely. When finished and the work on the drive and yard is completed, it will be a very lovely added attraction to that section.

Rosedale Presbyterians To Observe 27th Year

Twenty-seventh anniversary services of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church will be observed this Sunday at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services. Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, executive secretary of the Synod of Michigan, will conduct the services.

Dr. Neigh was formerly vice-president of McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago and earlier was minister of the Allen Park Presbyterian church.

Services of the Rosedale Presbyterian church first began in Rosedale Gardens school of March 4, 1928 conducted by the Rev. John Snook. On December 11, 1928 the church was organized and the building dedicated on December 16. In December of 1951 a church school addition was dedicated. The church expects to build another church school addition within the next year. The Rev. Woodrow Wooley is pastor.

Dr. Glenn Frye Appointed To Pastorate at Jackson

Dr. Glenn M. Frye, Plymouth resident who has been assistant to the Methodist bishop of Michigan since 1951, will become pastor of Calvary Methodist church in Jackson as of January 8. His home here is at 1115 Maple.

Dr. Glenn M. Frye

The announcement was made by the Reverend Richard C. Miles, district superintendent of the Albion-Lansing district and the appointment was made by Bishop Marshall R. Reed.

Dr. Frye's position as assistant to the bishop has taken him on constant travels throughout the state. Last June he was the commencement speaker in Plymouth.

He was born in Jewett, Ohio. His father is a retired Methodist minister and his brother is a Methodist minister in Missouri.

Dr. Frye is married and has two children. Dr. Glenn M. Frye, Jr., who is a nuclear physicist in the government laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico, and Harriet Heath, wife of Dr. Douglas H. Heath, professor of psychology at Haverford College, Pennsylvania.

The Plymouth resident traveled in Egypt and Palestine in 1922, toured Europe and Scandinavia in 1935, China, Japan and the Philippines in 1948 and South America in 1952. He holds an A.B. degree from Harvard university, the S.T.B. degree from Boston university and studied at Cambridge university in England.

Dr. Frye has served the following churches in Michigan:

Musical Team To Appear Here

Charles Ohman, rated as an outstanding songleader, trumpeter and baritone soloist, will appear at Calvary Baptist church this Sunday at the 11 a.m. service.

While attending high school, Charles was winner of a state contest and studied with Louis Davidson, first trumpeter of the Cleveland Symphony orchestra and the NBC Symphony orchestra.

The performer is a graduate of the King's college. While there, he participated in the television program, "Youth on the March," a NBC network production viewed weekly by 10,000,000. When in college, Charles appeared in a movie, "Lord of All," starring Colleen Townsend, former Hollywood movie actress.

Charles Ohman

Charles is accompanied at the piano by Clayton Erb, one of America's most unusual piano and organ stylists. He also appeared on the "Youth on the March" TV program.

The team has assisted some of the outstanding evangelists of the day.

The best show on earth is the human race, and the performance is continuous, and free.

Grange Gleanings

We are very happy to report that our Grange meeting of December 1 was very well attended and was a splendid meeting.

The usual bountiful supper came first and one would wonder how such a variety and quantity of good food could be consumed in so short a time. Then came the adjournment to the lodge room for the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth were our delegates to the State Grange in October and they gave their reports at this time. Their reports were very good and showed that they had paid attention to and been interested in the various programs they had heard.

Next came the installation of new officers for 1956 which was done by Mr. and Mrs. Groth as the installing officers, assisted by Lloyd and Mary Fillmore as installing marshalls.

Our next meeting will be the usual Christmas party on December 15. There will be a program, a tree and maybe Santa Claus will drop in for a few minutes if he has time, and the usual exchange of 50-cent gifts marked for man or woman. Also, those who bring children should bring a gift for them to be put under the tree. Apples, candy and popcorn balls will be furnished as usual, so come and have a good time with your brothers and sisters of the Grange. Surely you can manage to come at Christmas time, the time of "Peace on Earth Goodwill Toward Men".

Now it is Blue Cross collection time again, so please come prepared and please pay by check if it is possible.

ROCKS WRESTLED to a 42-26 basketball victory over the Northville Mustangs last Friday in the opening cage tilt of the new season. Above Tom Ferguson, Plymouth's center, and Mustang Bill Yahne (31) stretch high for the ball. At left is Northville's Mac Burns (26). Ferguson at 6' 2" is the tallest member of the Plymouth quintet, which seems destined to suffer from its lack of height.

Rocks Corral Mustangs, 42 - 26, In Opening Basketball Encounter

Plymouth's varsity cagers scrapped and scrambled to a 42-26 victory over the visiting Northville Mustangs last Friday evening in the opening battle of the brand new basketball campaign here.

Despite the seeming ease of the win, the locals left much to be desired. The Rocks were aided considerably by weak floor generalship on the part of the neighboring Northville quintet.

With regard to his squad's initial decision, Coach Charlie Ketterer described the game as "a good team effort" on the part of Plymouth's cagers. But he added, "We have a long way to go if we're to be in any contention for league play."

The Rocks surged to an eight-point 13-5 bulge at the end of the first quarter of play and continued to command the action throughout the second stanza. At half-time Plymouth enjoyed a 25-12 edge.

But in the early moments of the third period, Northville trimmed this lead to 29-20 before the locals regained their victory march. The Rocks upped the margin to 31-20 before the onset of the fourth quarter, when they were able to coast home.

Eleven points in the final stanza, compared to Northville's six, rushed the Rocks to their first win under the wing of their new mentor.

The locals balanced their scoring attack fairly evenly between three of the five starters. Ken Calhoun paced the offense with 10 counters on four field goals and two free throws. Tom Ferguson, Plymouth's lanky center, netted eight points and Jerry King totaled eight more.

The other two starters, Bob Jenkins and Jack Carter, slipped in six and five tallies respectively.

Carrying the load for the Mustangs in the scoring column was Bud Bell who hit on three field goals and three free throws for nine points. Darwin Teskha bucketed five points and Dick Biery cashed four more.

From the free throw line the two teams differed considerably. The Rocks were able to convert only eight of 17 charity shots offered them, while Northville hooped six of seven free tosses.

Northville out-shot the locals from the floor, attempting 56 field goals, yet netting only 10 for an .18 shooting percentage. Plymouth cashed 17 buckets in 53 tries for a .32 average.

Ketterer opened his bid on the skill of Ferguson, Carter, Calhoun, Jenkins and King sprinkled with relief from Dick Davidson and Dave DeCoster plus several other reserves that gained action in the fourth period of play.

Only inconsistent point in the Rocks' quarterly attack occurred in the third period when the locals were able to hit for just six points as compared to the 13 in the first stanza, 12 in the second and 11 in the final quarter.

Tomorrow evening the Rocks travel to Belleville to kick off conference play there. The varsity game starts at about 8:30 p.m. following the junior varsity tilt which starts at 7:00.

Recreation Cage Program Ready

Recreational men's league basketball is expected to get underway late this week with a list of five teams signed up for a share of the action, according to Herb Woolweaver of the recreation department recently. A sixth quintet may be added shortly.

The five cage squads already under the fold of the league's supervisor, Dick Huebler, are George Tripp's Inc., Tait's Cleaners, Bathey Manufacturing company, S. L. Brader's from Northville and Northville recreation. The sixth team, a possible entry at this time, is LaFontaine Erection company.

Other local recreational basketball plans include four more leagues, consisting of boys 17 years and under, 15 and under and 13 and under. The elementary school league will form the remaining conference in this year's recreation cage program.

Managers of the teams thus far entered in the men's league this winter include Duane Becker for George Tripp's, Pat Robinson for Tait's, Neil Lanphear for Bathey, Milan George for Brader's and Jerry Heaton for Northville recreation.

Games in the 15 and 17 years and under leagues will be played on Wednesday evenings at the high school gym, the Wayne County training school floor or in Northville. The 13 years and under league and the elementary loop both will play their tilts on Saturdays at the high school. The 13 and under league swings into action Saturday, January 7, while the other three leagues will get started about that same time.

The elementary conference again will be comprised of the six grade schools in the area, Starkweather, Smith, Bird, Allen and Catholic plus a seventh quintet, new this year. The Canton-Cherry Hill-Truesdell recently consolidated school districts will combine to furnish a basketball squad in this loop.

THE MIDDLE GUARD by LES BINGAMAN

SAN FRANCISCO — Unquestionably the roughest road trip of each season for the Lions is the annual 10-day visit to the West Coast, where we play the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers, both always tough for us, on successive Sundays.

It was bad enough meeting the Rams and 49ers one after another at Briggs Stadium, but playing them in succession on their home grounds is doubly difficult.

Unlike trips to Eastern Cities, we must remain out here between games instead of returning to the friendlier atmosphere of Detroit, the cost of two West Coast trips in one season being prohibitive.

This creates a number of problems, chief among them being the eventual loneliness of many of the married men for their families. Then there is always the fear that some player might get a little too rambunctious so far away from home and land in trouble — though the Lions, fortunately, have little to worry about on that score.

Extra Dose of Film Just to make sure, however, and to keep the family men's minds on football instead of home, Coach Buddy Parker and his staff keep the Lions occupied with more practices and more team meetings than normally. One of their first tasks after checking in at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, following the seven-hour flight from Detroit Friday, was to view films of the Rams' game the preceding Sunday. Saturday morning was devoted to a brief workout.

Immediately after the game Sunday, the team was treated to a buffet at the hotel. Monday they were flown to San Francisco, but they're staying at a pretty motel near Palo Alto, home of the Stanford Indians, while preparing for the coming Sunday's clash with the 49ers. They will fly home the following day.

In between this moving about, the schedule is as I outlined it last week, studying game movies, practicing offense, more movies, practicing defense, more movies, trying out new plays and more movies.

Cards, Music and Movies Of course, not all the time is devoted to practice and studying films, and the Lions while away their idle hours in a number of pursuits.

Card playing is a big favorite, fellows like Bobby Layne, Jug Girard, Jim Cain, Jim Doran, Doak Walker, Leon Hart, Sonny Gandy and sometimes Dick Stanfel engaging in bridge or hearts or similar games.

Joe Schmidt likes to listen to popular music, and so do Jim Martin, Layne, Hart, Stanfel and Andy Miketa.

Virtually everybody enjoys going to the movies — sometimes the team is taken in a group — by and large you'll find the rookies are in the film houses more than the others. This would include Dave Middleton, Jim Salsbury, George Atkins and Lee Riley.

Sometimes the players visit the Hollywood movie sets, and this is an experience, though so far no one has been given a screen test — but I'm still hoping!

The other day we saw a man who did not have the answer to the major political questions of the day.

Lincoln Park Shocks Rocks In Tank Bow

Plymouth's varsity swimming squad was severely handled last Thursday by the Lincoln Park tankers, who tagged the Rocks with a 55-32 defeat in the opening dual-meet of the fledgling season.

Only first place points the locals captured came in the 200-yard medley relay as the four Plymouth team members, John Gregory, Mike Todd, Bill Brandell and Dennis Baker, nosed out the Parkers with a 2:06 clocking.

Points for the locals came on a cluster of second and third place finishes. The Rocks copped seven seconds and four third places, yet were unable to bolster this depth with sufficient first places.

Lincoln Park's Ray Martin set a pool record of 24.9 seconds in the 50-yard freestyle race, where Plymouth placed Don Carney and Dick Showers in the next two slots respectively.

Plymouth's additional points were earned by Mike Todd, who took second in the 100-yard breast-stroke, Brandell and Gary Wright, who teamed to place second and third respectively in the 200-yard freestyle, and Gregory, who netted second in the 100-yard backstroke.

Also Baker and Carney combined to capture second and third respectively in the 150-yard freestyle, Art Losse and John Walker wound up second and third respectively in the final diving results, and Showers placed second in the 150-yard individual medley.

Coach John McFall will pit his hopefuls against the Dearborn tankers this evening in the second dual-meet of the campaign. Action will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth pool.

Golf Lessons Offered In Recreation Program

Golf instructions are slated to be added to the variety of adult education and recreational activities at Plymouth high school during the second half of the season, which begins the third week of January. Doug Jetter, assistant golf pro at Pine Lake country club, Pontiac, will teach the class.

Jetter, 1951 graduate of Plymouth, is presently an assistant to Elmer Prieskorn at Pine Lake. Earlier, Jetter, who was a member of the Rocks' championship golf squad of 1949 and 50, was assistant to Henry Ransom.

People interested in the golf instruction will be scheduled for classes as follows: Monday, January 16, 6:00, 7:00 and 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, January 17, 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, January 18, 9:00 p.m. Thursday, January 19, 6:00 p.m.

Registration for the second semester of the adult education and recreation program will get underway the second week in January. For further information concerning the golf instructions and other activities, call Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver at 895.

Ice Fishing on Houghton First Bobcat Season To Open In Michigan

Ice fishing has started on Houghton Lake. Conservation Department field workers say the lake appears to be frozen over and that fishermen are out a mile from shore in some places.

Transport is limited to sleds and walking; the ice is not yet safe enough for car travel.

Usually, fishing on the popular northern lower peninsula lake doesn't get underway until well into December.

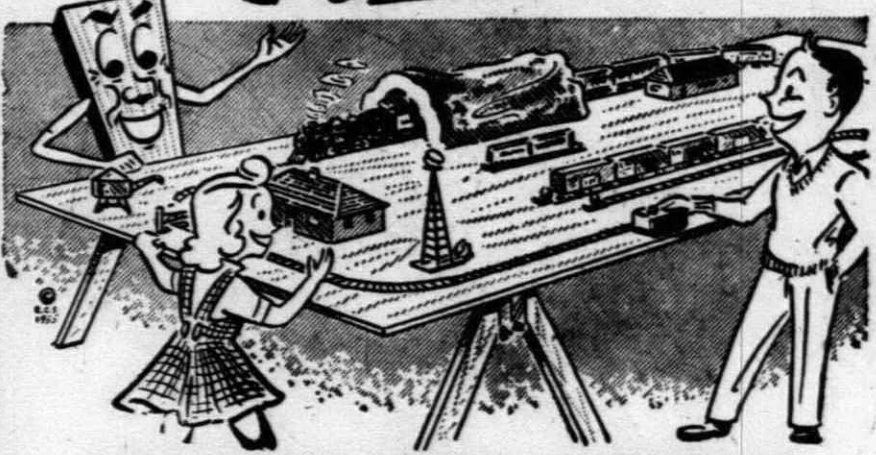

As yet, we haven't seen a do-it-yourself operating kit.

The first bobcat hunting season in Michigan history will open December 15 in the lower peninsula.

Bobcats, long regarded merely as predator, were given game animal status by act of the 1955 legislature and have been protected from trapping and hunting in the lower peninsula since October 15.

The hunting season on 'cats will close March 15. Meanwhile, bobcats still will be hunted as predators in the upper peninsula.

Local Delegates To Attend School Studies Meeting

Wednesday, December 14, marks the date of the ninth annual meeting of the Metropolitan Bureau of Cooperative School Studies. The meeting will be held at Allen Park high school at 3:30 p.m.

Russell Isbister, superintendent of schools, and Miss Elizabeth McDonald of the English department, will be Plymouth high school's representatives.

Main purpose of the meeting is to inform superintendents, committee members, and other representatives from Bureau schools and colleges, of the highlights of the Bureau's program during the past year. Proposals will be made for new directions which Bureau activities might take in the ensuing year.

James A. Lewis, vice-president of the University of Michigan will speak on the "Contributions of the Bureau to the Member Universities and Colleges."

Reports from the Bureau committee chairman, directors and secretary-treasurer will also be heard.

Entertainment will be provided by Holie Billingsley, noted in Western Conference A.A.U. competitions.

At 6 p.m. a dinner will be held in the Allen Park dining room. A vocal group from that school will present a program of dinner music.

At 7 Dr. Robert S. Fisk, Dean of the school of education, University of Buffalo, will speak on "The School Study Council Movement."

A guided tour of Allen Park high school, recently awarded an architectural award for excellence in design and functional arrangements, will close the conference.

Does anyone in Plymouth know what happened to the husband who forgot his wife's birthday recently?

Future Nurses Busy on Series Of Projects

The Future Nurses' Club has joined in the holiday spirit by giving to Hanlon's Rest Home a basket of fresh fruit made possible by hard work of all the girls. The presentation was made by Gail Foreman.

Making cancer pads, which are much needed by victims of the disease, is another project of the club. Pads are necessary for protection from germs and also to protect clothing. Clean cotton cloth used for these pads was collected by the club members in a recent drive.

A tea for the mothers is the next thing on the agenda with Arlene Kubick heading the planning committee. Girls have a trip to a nearby hospital on the list of future activities.

Officers of the club are Gail Foreman, president; Joyce Sackett, vice president; Silvia Pritchett, secretary; and Peggy Robertson, treasurer.

Students Learn To Note Design In Everyday Life

Art might easily be defined as frozen music. That is, it is something which creates a strong lasting feeling, whereas music drifts away and something else takes its place.

Students in the High School Art Department are now studying and experimenting with design. They have learned that design appears everywhere, in the clothes people wear, a man walking down the street, in everything of nature, photography, and even in books. For most people, design is overlooked because their eyes have not been trained to pick it out. The ability to recognize and appreciate design, adds to the pleasantness of life.

Design itself is nothing more than lines. They are the building blocks to a mood. Shape, outline, and space all create design.

Principals of design are rhythm and repetition of lines. They may vary in size or color, but the original design still remains. Naturally, if there is a picture there is a center of interest. To this, everything else must be subordinate and yet helpful to express what the artist wishes.

Balance and symmetry aid to make this expression of the artist's appealing to the observer. All of these elements help to unify the mood being created. Although sometimes they are abstracted beyond recognition, the original idea is still there. Design is merely one of many factors which make up "art."

Y-Teens Plan Bake Sale

The Y-Teens will sponsor a bake sale on Saturday, December 10, at Dunning's on Forest avenue.

Selling will begin at 10 o'clock with the baked goods to be sold supplied by members of the club. Proceeds of the sale will go to further the work of its service projects.

Faculty Advisory Board Meets

The Faculty Advisory board met last week at the home of Mrs. Virginia Calligari in Livonia to discuss school problems which affect the faculty. Recommendations were made at the general faculty meeting.

Problems discussed were clarification of rules at school dances, dropping of classes and rules governing transfer of classes. Carvel Bentley, principal, explained that money is now available for new display cases to replace the old ones by the front doors. This was made possible by the Plymouth Alumni association.

The Faculty Advisory board is a group of teachers who volunteer to discuss problems directly concerning the faculty. Mrs. Virginia Calligari is this year's chairman.

Senior News

Making senior news at present are plans for the class trip which will be a tour of New York and surrounding areas.

Much is planned for the trip in the way of sight-seeing: a stop at Niagara Falls, tour of the Empire State building, yacht cruise in New York harbor, guided tour of the United Nations and an optional evening at the Copacabana or Radio City Music Hall where there will be a stage show and movie. So far date for the trip has been set for May 30-June 2.

Jim Dyer is the trip chairman with Sue Anthony, Jack Carter, Jan Ponto, Lee Huber, and Lois Frye as the committee. Robert Smith is the faculty chairman.

Mixers are the thing now, the first being held last Tuesday night, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. They will be continued if the response is good.

Class pins are being ordered by the seniors. They are gold with the year "56" and any other three letters of the student's choice.

To keep the seniors informed on what is going on a Senior News bulletin is being issued, containing accurate news which has forgone inspection by Mrs. Virginia Calligari, chairman of senior advisors.

Class Studies French Christmas Tradition

"Joyeux Noel et Bonne Annee" (Merry Christmas and Happy New Year) will be heard in the French classes this Christmas season as students study the French Christmas tradition.

French carols to be learned are "Minuet Chretien" (Oh Holy Night) and "Sainte Nuit" (Silent Night). Students have noted that the French celebrate Christmas about the same as Americans do, but instead of Santa Claus, Pere Noel bestows presents on good boys and girls. Along with the Christmas festivities come fruit cake and fancy cookies in this country. The French have a pastry called "Mouche." The students may be able to sample some of this Christmas treat.

New Arrivals in the School Library

In the high school library are many religious, sports, mystery and romance stories. Several of the most interesting books along these lines are "The President's Lady" by Irving Stone, author of "Immortal Wife."

In this novel, Stone brings to life the deeply moving story of Rachel and Andrew Jackson. There is a tender and poignant love story, in which the reader will find that Rachel Jackson lived the most amazing melodrama that ever engulfed an American woman.

"A Man Called Peter" story of Peter Marshall, written by his wife, Catherine Marshall, is the luminous personal story of a man whose whole life was dedicated to God and his fellow man. Included are a number of Marshall's prayers and sermons never before published. Mrs. Marshall also edited her husband's extraordinary best seller, "Mr. Jones, Meet The Master."

The difference between attempted thought control today and a few hundred years ago is that people were burnt at the stake for witchcraft then — in New England!

High School Notes Enrollment Increase

Total enrollment of Plymouth high school has increased by five members in the 12-week period, September 8 to November 25.

The high school office reported that 16 students have dropped for various reasons while 10 transferred to other schools. Also, 25 students have been transferred to Plymouth from other schools.

The ninth-grade had 329 students and an average of 96.4 attendance. Ninety-five per cent was the average of the 239 students in the sophomore class. The 11th grade had 252 students and the lowest average attendance, 95 per cent. Total enrollment was 966 with an average attendance of 94.4 per cent.

Band Parents to Meet

The second meeting of the Band Parents association will be held Monday, December 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school.

The junior high school band will present a musical program, following which a short business meeting will be held.

All parents of band members are urged to attend this meeting.

Finding Men's $5 Christmas Gift Easy Task for Hustling Reporter

Well, the job of scouting out Christmas items to be given by the distaff side of the household fell to yours truly this week.

Problem was to find gifties $5 or under which would brighten the eyes of a hubby, boyfriend, father or brother come Christmas morning.

With 11 stores already out of running (see last week's article) and feeling that we couldn't repeat the same steps in all fairness to our readers, we were posed with a pretty problem. Undaunted, we left The Mail office on a blustery afternoon and seeing Jerry's Shoe Repair store right across the street as the nearest point of refuge, we ducked in there.

Lucky for us, because we routed out a host of items all under the $5 limit we had set. First of all there was a miniature edition of Dad's Johnson 25 Sea Horse outboard motor, just the thing for a kid brother at $4.95. This little device is run by battery and has clamps for mounting it on the stern of any pint-sized boat.

For the model airplane enthusiast, there's a complete engine and accessory kit at $4.45. We were almost ready to assemble it ourselves in the 15 minutes it takes to do the job, but lack of gasoline to get it in operation and nature of our mission forbade this deviation. Next we eyed plastic boat kits at $3.49 that Dad would get a kick out of putting together in his leisure moments, meanwhile giving the little woman a nice, decorative piece for the mantel or den. There are also B-29 Super fortresses and B-25 Mitchell Bombers at $2.59 and woodcarving sets for the hobbyist at $2.50.

Encouraged by the success of our first stop, we hustled down Penniman avenue and entered Huston and Company hardware. There we got them to haul down their display of fishing tackle boxes for our inspection. For $3.50 this is a mighty nice item for the sportsman who lack a central spot to stash the many small items of his fishing gear. In this rust-resistant metal container he can house all his sundry supplies. As the lid opens, two compartmented trays unfold for easy selection of flies, etc. by the fisherman.

On our way once again, we marched into Davis and Lent and turned up a number of nifty Christmas items. For the man who travels, there's a clever pair of travel slippers all done up in a bright plaid pouch bag with leather drawstring at $3.95. Slippers are of soft, tan leather, in moccasin styling.

For the college "Joe" who's been keeping his trousers in press by draping them from the drawers of the bureau, you can buy six trouser hangers for $3 which will do an even better job of keeping them pressed. We also saw suit hangers, shaped to hold the jacket in form, at $2.95. A tricky item which women-folks can give the man of the household as a gift and still get in on its advantages are these shoe shine holders at $3.50. They're made of molded aluminum and come with wall attachment. The stays for men's and women's shoes are then hooked on and adjusted to fit any shoe length. You can do a professional job of shoe-shining with this little gadget without getting polish all over your ankles or breaking your back in the process.

Stopping by Willoughby's a few doors down on Main street, we spied some wine-colored terry cloth scuff slippers, rubber soled, at $2.95. There was also an all-leather pair at $3.95. Both excellent gift suggestions.

Beitner's Jewelry was next on the itinerary. There we ran into a good-looking cigarette lighter, the Ronson "windlite," at $3.95. Another suggestion for Christmas giving was the lodge lapel pin we saw at $2.46. Right on the $5 price line we had set, but one we thought outstanding enough to mention, was the smartly-styled Shaeffer desk-pen set, which rests on a black crystal base.

Whisking over to Papes' House of Gifts on Ann Arbor trail, we ran into another nest of Christmas suggestions. A handsome addition to hubby's barroom equipment might be the "Gay Nineties" frosted glass decanters, $5 for a set of four, also sold individually. For his desk at the office or den at home, the cigarette box of jeweler's bronze with brass ornamentation, selling for $3.50 would be a nice gift. Also in this line were German beer steins at $3.95 and $4.95 or solid copper mugs at $1.75 each.

Bean-bag ashtrays of plaid at $1 would add a gay touch to the den or living room. For "cigarette forgetters" there's the pan-handle safety ashtray with its brass plate and wooden handle. Small size, scatter ashtrays, which safely snuff out forgotten "weeds," sell at two for $1.

At the Photographic Center on Ann Arbor trail, just up the street from Papes' we unearthed a host of Christmas suggestions.

For one, we were much impressed with a tan-colored gadget bag at $3.95 which will carry just about everything in the line of photographic equipment. The large space takes almost any camera, and a side pouch will hold film rolls, flashbulbs and what have you.

Slide magazines for use with film projectors are a nice suggestion at $2.25 for the metal, or two for $1.85 in the plastic. If the man of the household is currently using a slide viewer, why not give him a Scotch plaid, metal carrying case, numbered for his 35 m.m. slides. This sells for $2.95. Slide viewers, incidentally, are priced at $4.95.

Glancing over their wide selection of photo albums, we thought any one of these would make a nice gift. A large, green leatherette album, gold stamped, was priced at $3.50 while another, booksize, was of red leather, gold stamped, and priced at $1.25. A rectangular, scrapbook size, photo album which will take extra pages, was available at $1.49.

To top it all off, who wouldn't be delighted to wake up Christmas morning and find a Brownie Holiday Flash camera tagged with his name on it? They sell for $4.95. Flash attachment is extra, but may be purchased for only $3.20.

After our travels, we decided that we'd barely scratched the surface when it comes to totaling up the number of attractive Christmas gifts you can buy in Plymouth for under $5. Better get busy — remember there are only 14 shopping days left!

Chips from the ROCK

Having a hobby isn't all fun as Margaret Dunning found out last weekend. In the company of Irene Waldorf and Doris Bean she drove her fancy new Cadillac to Albany, New York, to purchase a 1928 Packard which she drove home. Proving that collecting old cars is more work than fun she recites the following incidents which happened on their trip back to Plymouth:

After filling the Packard up with 25 gallons of gas, some 226 miles later she found herself stranded on the highway and had to wait for a highway patrol car to refuel her gas tank. Shortly after she started again it became dark and the lights on her newest prize went out. The next morning, after a sleepless night in a nearby motel, she started again and soon got lost and was directed back to her route over a small dirt road where she promptly got her Packard stuck deep in the mud. As if this wasn't enough, she got herself stuck as well and completely covered with Pennsylvania clay. After getting back on the road several miles later the car stalled and it took a new battery to get her to the closest place to spend another unexpected night. She did get back, however, or we wouldn't have been able to tell you about the fun of having a hobby of collecting old automobiles.

Don Lightfoot asked us to inform our readers about the laws governing school buses. My first impression was that he thought, and so did we, that we would have to do much research to give an intelligent interpretation of those laws. To our amazement it will only take a very few words. First the law pertaining to school buses was written in 1927 and revised in 1929. All the state law provides is that drivers approaching a bus stopped on the highway, stop 10 feet behind the bus, then proceed with caution. There is no law on the state statute that requires anyone to wait for the bus to load or unload. That is the extent of the state law concerning school buses. In the City of Plymouth, and supposedly in other municipalities where new charters have been adopted, more stringent laws are on the books. In the City of Plymouth motorists must stop 10 feet behind the bus and wait for all of the children to be discharged. Actually the laws regarding school buses are inadequate and antiquated. According to school bus drivers, however, most people have the courtesy to take further precaution than the law requires. Local drivers say that our own residents are most thoughtful and careful about our children but that many times on the main state and county thoroughfares speeding tourists give little thought to the children boarding or leaving a bus. I strongly suspect Mr. Lightfoot might have been cognizant of the deficiency in the laws regarding school buses and would like, as would we, to see a new code affecting school bus operation introduced in the next session of the legislature. It certainly is needed.

Glenn Smith didn't shoot a deer this year at his Bitley retreat but on his first visit back to civilization after the season he did remember my better half's liking for drift wood. An avid collector of drift wood himself, some as a hobby and some for commercial purposes, he brought her two beautiful pieces he had found this fall.

Attorney J. Rusling Cutler says half of people's trouble in law could be eliminated if they would avail themselves of some lawyer's services when they enter into business transactions rather than waiting to hire an attorney to straighten out some costly mess at a later date. That's not bad advice.

Dr. Leonard Howard, medical director of the Maybury Sanatorium dropped the following interesting comment in our offices one day last week. More tuberculosis is being found today in youngsters two and three years old than ever before. Reason, he thinks, is that the decline in adults is because of the continuous chest X-ray program which has practically sifted out all adult population through factories, schools, etc. Probably the babies now stricken are infected by people in the homes who have little outside contact. One way to combat this problem, he says, is to go from door to door and X-ray all members of the household who have not been exposed to a chest X-ray.

Richard Chilson of Ann Arbor road has made an interesting study which we think may have great possibilities. He suggests a park authority from Michigan and Indiana with an eye to developing a huge parkway starting at Oxford, Michigan and ending in Angola, Indiana. He says he has traveled the whole area several times and is of the belief that a series of canals could be developed which would provide a waterway some 200 miles in length. The route he proposes would include the following present developments: Starting at Oxford the route would skirt Pontiac to the Highland Recreation area. From there through Kensington Metropolitan and into the Fenton area. South through the Brighton vacation lands to Pinckney and then on to the Waterloo Recreation area skirting Jackson to the state line and ending up in the vicinity of Angola.

Interesting observation. In last week's Plymouth Mail there appeared over 700 names of local residents. They say, "Names make the news," and we would welcome any items of interest for publication about you, your family, neighbors or friends. Just phone 1600, we'll do the rest.

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. The infringement of this right, whether by government or by groups, or by individuals, no matter in what small measure it may begin, will lead to tyranny and the death of liberty.

Lauds Insurance Stocks

Babson Park, Mass., Next to certain good chain store stocks, I believe that insurance stocks present the best opportunity to investors for a combination of security, growth and income, provided the government does not foolishly interfere with the business.

Growth and Equity Provided Fire and Casualty Insurance Stocks selling substantially below their estimated equity values should meet these three requirements. I do recognize that these stocks have gone up much during the past several years (along with the general run of good issues) because of their increased earnings, increased dividends and higher equity values. I also know of the unusual losses most of these companies have suffered as a result of hurricanes.

An examination of fire and casualty stocks, however, shows that, based upon the distribution of funds in their investment portfolios and that selected stocks in this group can now be bought at substantial discounts below their equity values, the risks are relatively small.

Different Insurance Stocks Compared As every reader of this column should have fire, casualty, and life insurance stock in some company, he should perhaps first buy the stock of the companies of which he holds a policy. Investors, however, who have surplus funds may like my ideas. Here are some suggestions:

Company	Some Div. Pd. Ea. Yr. Since	Ind. Div.	Price	6-30-35 Net Worth to Est. Per Share	Ratio: Price to Equity Investment	Price Earnings
Agricultural Ins.	1864	$1.60	37	$64	18 1/2	18 1/2
Fire Assoc. of Phil.	1858	2.20	58	89	16 1/2	12
Firemen's (Newark)	1937	1.20	41	69	12	16
Great American Ins.	1873	1.50	39	61	16 1/2	20 1/2
Hanover Fire Ins.	1353	2.00	48	75	16 1/2	16
Home Insurance	1874	2.00	51	78	16	16 1/2
Nat. Union Fire	1934	2.00	46	71	16 1/2	18 1/2
New Amsterdam Cas	1937	1.80	56	82	16 1/2	18 1/2
Springfield Fire & Ma.	1867	2.00	65	104	18 1/2

Insurance companies usually have the diversification and supervisory advantages of Investment Trusts or Mutual Funds; but in addition, have the insurance business profits. The funds of insurance companies consist of two major portions. First, there is the reserve which is set up against unearned premiums. This reserve is usually in highly liquid, high-grade assets which are quickly available on demand. The second part of the insurance companies' portfolio consists of what may be described as the stockholders equity, which serves as a kind of additional guarantee fund to protect policyholders and stockholders. How this fund is managed, as regards type of investment, depends somewhat upon the kind of insurance written. The longer the term of the contract and the greater the reliance upon the law of averages working out in a particular kind of insurance, the greater the term that the capital funds may be invested.

I have invested my hard-earned savings in the Home Insurance Company, of which I was once a director. I learned first-hand the high character of their officers and management.

Premium Rates and Earnings The long, unbroken dividend record of these stocks through periods of good times, depression, wars, great fires, and other national disasters appeals to me. This certainly attests to the soundness of the insurance business as well as to the soundness of the individual companies. The growth of equity values in insurance stocks over the years is evidence of the need for ever-increasing amounts of insurance sold. The increase in population could offset the unfavorable effect of inflation.

Fire insurance rates are established by state regulatory bodies on the basis of a continuing five-year average of the loss experience. Rates are set so that the insurance industry as a whole getting these municipal fire alarm systems in the country's leading cities, the fire chiefs turned their attention to Sprinkler Systems under the leadership of George I. Rockwood of Worcester, Mass., of which company Wm. J. Carroll is now president. As statistics were beginning to show that almost as many were being killed by automobiles (with corresponding losses to Insurance Companies) as by fires, the Gamewell laboratories worked upon traffic lights. With factories at Moline, Ill. they, under the leadership of Matthew Porosky, are spending millions to reduce life and accident losses from automobile accidents. Now the whole army of Fire Chiefs are urging the increased use of non-flammable furniture and textiles with the hope of preventing or stopping fires at their source.

Fire Losses Too High Notwithstanding the marvelous work that Gen. Mgr. Vincent of the National Board of Fire Underwriters is doing to lessen fire losses, these losses continue to climb. The official statistics show that over 26% of the fires reported from known causes are believed to be due to smoking and matches. This Board has a tremendous uphill task to compete with cigarette advertising.

Without interfering with this advertising, the Fire Insurance companies should supply the Board an equal amount of money to spend on newspaper advertising TO PREVENT FIRES, as the tobacco people spend on advertising. When the insurance companies provide such funds, you will see the fire losses begin to decline. The above hope is another reason why I am bullish on good fire and accident insurance stocks for the long pull, although these stocks may decline with the general market. Finally, the Insurance Business is basically a Christian co-operative enterprise where the fortunate people club together to help the unfortunate in case of fire, accident, or death.

Restrictions Often Result from Abuse by Minority

It was indeed a sad day for some high school students last week when it was announced that those accustomed to driving to school will be faced with a strict set of restrictions starting this Wednesday. Only those who have valid excuses will be able to drive during school hours. Naturally, there were some unhappy reactions and talk about "loss of freedoms."

We agree that it is a shame that such action had to be taken. School officials and police, too, probably wish that another solution could have been found. Evidently there was no other way.

The unfortunate results of such restrictions are that they penalize every student driver instead of only the hot rodders. There are many boys and girls who are careful drivers. Many have taken the driver training course given in the high school even though it offers no credit. Because a handful of youthful drivers enjoy demonstrating their horsepower at the risk of everyone's neck, including their own, all students must pay the price.

Such is the case in adult life too. There are many freedoms that we once enjoyed but that abuse by a few has caused the rest to suffer. A few careless hunters, for example, can provoke once friendly farmers into closing their land to other hunters forever. Nearly every law on the books is there because someone abused or took advantage of society to a point where it was hurting other people.

Many colleges have laws governing the use of automobiles by students, including the University of Michigan. Like Plymouth high school pupils we have seen college students highly disturbed when such provisions are first enforced. But somehow, the world keeps turning and the busy young people soon learn that life is livable even without a car.

Restrictions on student driving have been under discussion for a number of years. The school board, police department, court and parents each thought it was the other's responsibility to keep student drivers under control. Finally, they sat down together recently and came up with the set of regulations which each vowed to enforce.

Although the new regulation will minimize the possibility of youngsters crowding into cars and cruising around during school hours, it is not a method of making better drivers of them. The Mail's "Thinking Out Loud" column this fall asked four teen-agers what they thought about the proposed car restrictions for students. They felt that all teen-agers should not be blamed for the reckless driving of a few and also pointed out that many adult drivers were just as reckless.

To this the adult population must plead guilty. The new driver must be taught motoring manners from someone—and we adults sure can make learning difficult.

Williams Confuses Politicos

Politicians are trying to assess the attack by Gov. Williams on the "moderation" stand of Adlai Stevenson in the light of the 1956 conventions and presidential election.

Schools of thought vary with the political winds.

One figure Williams is picking up the fringe support around Estes Kefauver and Averill Harriman, of New York. Both have made the same charges against Stevenson.

If the theory is sound, Williams could enter the Democratic National Convention as an attractive darkhorse for (1) those who do not want to go with a previous loser, Stevenson, (2) those who split over Harriman and Kefauver and (3) those who want a fighting campaign.

The other side of the coin depicts Williams as a full-time Democrat who has never ducked a fight. He would rather go down swinging than win a half-victory without striking a blow.

Williams said Stevenson was suggesting a "national coffee break" in his Denver speech and repudiated the "breather" philosophy for the Democrats.

Williams denied it was his first move to move in as a candidate for the nomination for president next summer.

He fell back on his earlier statements that "any American would be proud" to be a candidate, but ignored previous statements that Stevenson appeared to be the most likely Democrat in 1956.

Republicans around the state still are convinced that Williams will try to make history again by going for a fifth term as the state's chief executive.

They feel he will wait until later when President Eisenhower has left the scene. This, Williams might consider a more opportune time to appear on the campaign trail.

Republicans, however, are still far apart on their choice for governor in 1956.

Rep. Bentley, of Owosso, and Mayor Cobo, of Detroit, both have said they preferred their present jobs but would take the GOP nomination for governor if they could avoid a primary fight.

Rep. Ford, of Grand Rapids is still a possibility and friends said that Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner, will try again after his defeat by Williams in 1954.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, nicknamed "Farmer Brown" by Democrats, is working on ideas to build up the dairy industry.

He has asked farm and dairy organizations to give him their views on sales of milk in gallon jugs.

Brown already has a report from Ohio that the use of the jugs has increased the per capita consumption of milk by 167 pounds and has created a savings to the household an average of six cents a quart.

Only fear, he said, was that the farmer might lose in the switch — getting less for his raw milk.

"But if we can work it out and increase the use of milk, while at the same time cutting the price without hurting the farmer, we will advocate it," Brown said.

Grass roots organization of Michigan's 83 counties to participate in Michigan Week next May 20-26 is underway.

Durward B. Varner, vice president of Michigan State University, has been appointed director of counties and Michigan's 600 communities for the observance.

Swaney said the state organization would provide help and coordination to all other groups.

"We want to prepare a significant statewide program in which all Michigan people will be working together and to promote in connection with Michigan Week all the recognition we can for Michigan outside the state," he said.

Working with Varner will be leading representatives of education, labor, industry and civic groups.

Christmas is now heralded at the state capital.

Workers have erected a giant Christmas tree at the entrance, having strung lights and have finished decorating the traditional tree, visible for several miles on the nights before Christmas.

Later, each of the major state offices will conduct Christmas receptions for their staffs, topped by the four-hour reception by Gov. Williams in the executive offices.

Quotes

ARNOLD J. TOYNBEE, British historian: "When man divorces his daily work from his religion, the results are invariably calamitous."

AVERILL HARRIMAN, Governor of New York deploring present farm situation: "The situation at the present time is much too reminiscent of the 1920's."

HARRY E. YARNELL, Admiral, U. S. Navy, retired, now 80: "One thing I do know. We can't survive another war... Not in this atomic age."

ARTHUR BREGSTEIN, kitchen equipment expert: "All the fantastic automatic devices in today's home have been suggested in the first place by women."

- Chill and serve in punch bowl over block of ice. Recipe treats 16 guests.

Social Notes

Mrs. Hattie White entertained her Birthday club last Monday evening at her home on Dewey street. Mrs. Josephine Fish was guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hobbs of Redford and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road were guests at dinner Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce at the Newburg Methodist church. Later the group were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Hobbs in Garden City.

Thirty students of the First Grade of the Newburg school with their teacher, Mrs. Evelyn Rody and several mothers, toured the Plymouth Mail on Wednesday, November 30, watching the big presses turn off papers.

Circle 2 of the First Presbyterian church will meet on Thursday, December 15, in the home of Mrs. Henry Walch for their meeting and Christmas luncheon. Members are asked to notice the change of day and also to bring a 50c gift to be exchanged at the party.

Miss Amelia Gayde and Mrs. Otto Beyer spent from Thursday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sullivan at White Lake.

Mrs. Florence Wood has returned to her office at the Wood Insurance Agency after being confined to Mt. Carmel hospital, Detroit, for two weeks.

Thanksgiving day dinner guests of Mrs. Hattie White of Dewey street were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strachen and family of Walled Lake, Mrs. Rose White and sons, Dick and Doug, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller, of Detroit.

The Warren Extension group met at the home of Mrs. August Hauk of Warren road on November 14. The lesson was on "Sewing on New Fabrics" and was given by Mrs. Harry Brown and Mrs. William Norman. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Hauk. The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mildred Foege on Joy road.

Russell Rudick of Ann Arbor road is in Session's hospital, Northville, convalescing from a recent appendectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Conn of Northville road and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Moss and daughter, Marilynne, attended the Bethany Baptist church services in Lansing on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Berlan Smith and two daughters of Pollard, Arkansas, visited with Mr. Smith's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road.

Fred Hines of Beck road is in Mt. Sinai hospital, Detroit, where he has undergone major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Miller of Middlebury, Indiana, spent Sunday with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Mabel Donahue, who is confined to University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Auxiliary Starts Re-Enrollment Campaign

Re-enrollment of the American Legion Auxiliary's nearly one million members for 1956 has begun in units of the Auxiliary throughout the country. Mrs. Marilyn Moore, membership chairman of the Auxiliary to Passage-Gayde unit, announced.

Complete re-enrollment of all 1955 members before the new year begins is the organization's goal. "Members of our own American Legion Auxiliary unit here in Plymouth have already re-enrolled for 1956," said Mrs. Moore. We feel sure we will qualify for a national citation by having our full membership re-enrolled before December 31.

"In addition to our old members, we are issuing invitations to other women and girls of war-service families and hope to be able to welcome many of them into the activities of the Auxiliary. Because of the expanding need for services the Auxiliary performs for war veterans and their families, for our community and for the nation, we need the help of new members to carry out our program."

Eligible for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Moore explained, are wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of American Legion members, and of deceased veterans of either World War or the Korean conflict. Women who themselves served in the armed forces during any of the three wars are eligible for membership in both the American Legion and Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary has an active program for its Junior members, girls under the age of 18, and also enrolls "Tiny Tots" under the age of six.

Public Invited to VFW Yuletide Dance, Party

The public has been invited to a Yuletide dance and Christmas party which will be sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars post and auxiliary on Saturday night, December 10, at the VFW hall on Lilley road.

Bill Thomas and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance which starts at 9 p.m. Refreshments will also be served.

Tickets are available from John Schwartz, chairman; any post member or at Linda Lee's.

Miss Bertha Anderson entertained, in her home on Blanche street, Saturday afternoon, at a tea honoring the mothers of her first grade pupils at Smith school.

American Legion News

Those attending the 17th District Annual Christmas dinner held at the Myron Beal's post in Livonia on Thursday, December 1, were Mr. and Mrs. W. Langmaid, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Burleson, Albert Holcombe, Maxine Kunz and son, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Koi.

The Auxiliary's regular business meeting is tonight, December 8, at the Veteran's Community center. All are urged to be in attendance to get details on the approaching Christmas party.

The Post held its regular business meeting last night at the Veteran's Community center. The forthcoming sale of Christmas trees was discussed. Chaplain Walter Hockelowski conducted a brief memorial ceremony in remembrance of those who died on December 7, 1941.

Don't forget, our Christmas party is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, December 18, at the Veteran's Community center. This will be in the form of a box social. You can get details from the "Colonist" and at our respective meetings.

Choice of Pattern Important In Sewing Man-Made Fabrics

Puckered seams will happen when sewing on some of the new man-made fabrics. In fact this is a problem when sewing on many firmly woven materials. Specialists explain that crosswise, curved and bias seams will turn out smooth when the lengthwise stitching on the same fabric will often look puckered. So, they advise choosing a pattern with the long seam cut on the bias or semi-bias when using this kind of fabric.

Another precaution for puckering is to always test the stitching on a double thickness of the fabric along the lengthwise grain.

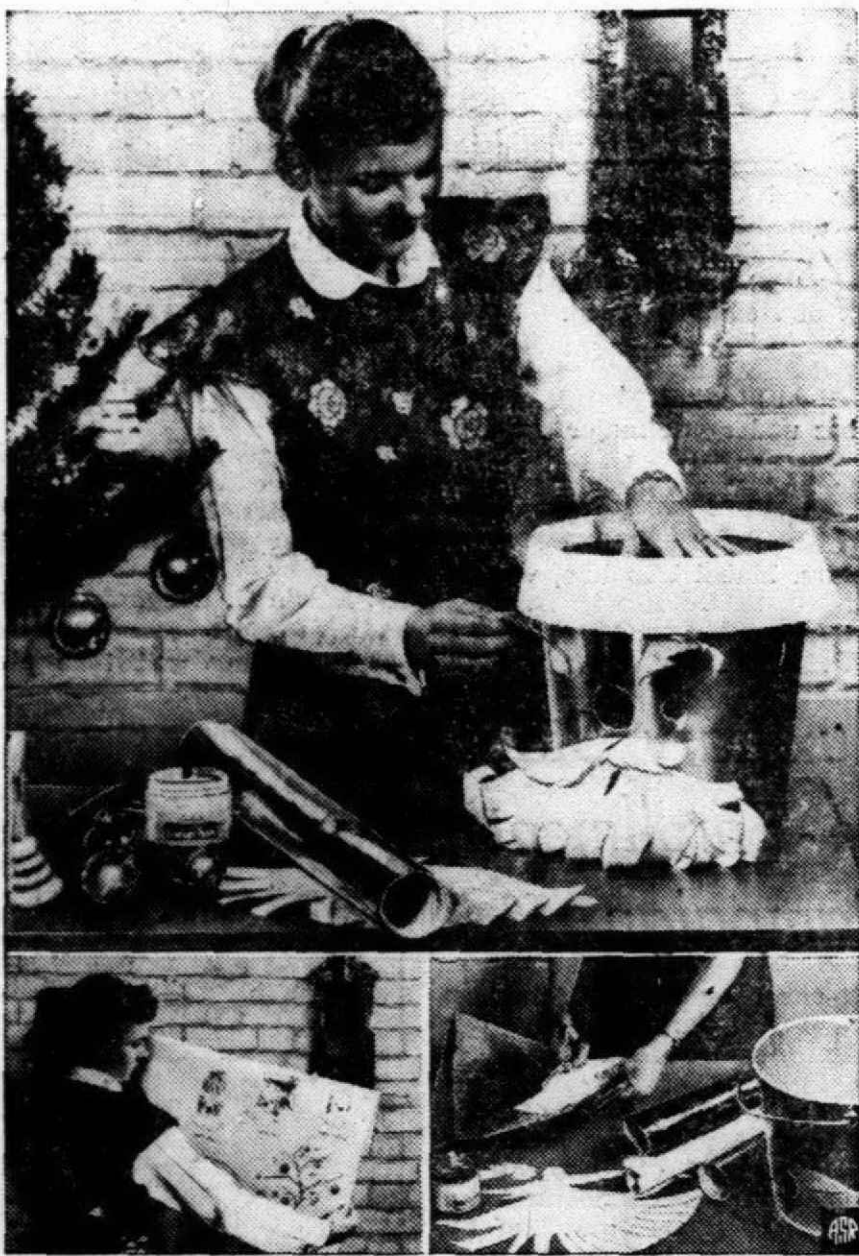

Often the adjustment of the machine can be helpful in preventing seam puckering. Many of the new fabrics require a loose tension for the best stitching. Try loosening the top tension first. Then, if lengthwise stitching is not smooth, loosen the bobbin tension too. Press the test stitching and allow it to "rest" for several hours. If there is still puckering, both tensions may need more adjusting. Stitching over tissue paper may also be helpful.

The length of stitches should also be adjusted to the thickness and texture of the fabric. On light-weight fabric, sheers and tricot, use 16 to 18 stitches per inch; on medium-weights such as jersey and crepe, use 12 to 15 stitches per inch; and on deep pile fabrics, use 10 to 12 stitches per inch.

Another help in sewing on man-made fabrics is to use synthetic thread that has been loosely wound on the bobbin. There should be no tension on the thread as it is being wound. In addition, be sure to use fine sharp needles for stitching on synthetic fabrics. You will probably need to replace the needle often because synthetics or special finishes dull needles quickly.

A Bucket Full Of Christmas Ideas

The whole family can "get in the act" to make this unusual and easy Christmas decoration. A pattern which comes with 25 pounds of a controlled suds detergent now contains a complete pattern-for-Santa. On one side of the sheet, 25 inches by 38 inches, are stamped the eight pattern pieces and complete directions for putting Santa together, and directions for pasting in eyes, eyebrows, nose, mouth, and beard are plainly marked. The pattern and pattern, some bright paper, scissors, and a pot of paste are all you need.

The reverse side of the sheet shows six specific ways Santa can be used as a cheery decoration. Here is a perfect container for a gift of fruit. What to do with Christmas cards? Use Santa. Need a bright new stand for your Christmas tree? Use Santa. The pattern sheet suggests a gold paper wrap-around, blue eyes, a red nose, white whiskers, eyebrows, and cap.

Christmas-spirited Big Sister or Junior home on vacation can join in the fun and have Santa ready in a jiffy. Even Dad-with-a-knack could help Mom with this decoration—and enjoy it.

Here's Latest Cereal Facts From Experts

When you buy cereals for your family, be sure to select those that are made from whole grain or those that are enriched.

Both the ready-to-cut and the to-be-cooked cereals are among today's best food buys, declares an instructor in foods and nutrition. As the main dish at breakfast they average only about 1 1/2 cents a serving. Used in recipes they often take the place of more expensive food without sacrificing nourishment or flavor.

She suggests several ways in which you can dress up that breakfast bowl of cereal. Try adding dark corn sirup (3/4 cup) to the water (2 1/2 cups) in which you cook whole wheat cereal or farina. Or cook the cereal in milk or chocolate milk instead of water.

For toppings, offer the family a choice of cinnamon-sugar mixture, brown sugar, corn or maple sirup, jam or preserves. These are equally good on hot or cold cereals. So are malted milk or eggnog, as a change from plain milk or cream.

An up-to-date version of old fashioned "fried mush" makes a wonderfully good lunch or supper dish. Pour cooked whole wheat cereal into a loaf pan and let it chill. For frying, slice it very thin — not quite 1/2 inch thick — and saute it until it is crisp and golden brown. Topped with maple sirup and served with bacon or sausages, the specialist exclaims it's a sure-fire hit.

Smoked Ham Takes Spotlight At Party Table

There's always that last-minute rush finding a centerpiece for the table when company is due. So at the party you're having next week, remember to keep your centerpiece simple.

You can allow your smoked ham to serve as the center of attention by decorating it with candied orange slices.

Purchase a 12 to 14 pound ham. Place the ham on a rack in an open roasting pan with fat side up. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches to the center of the thickest muscle. Be careful the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water or cover. Roast at 300° F. until the meat thermometer registers 160° F. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for roasting.

Candied Orange Slices
Cut orange peel petals; cook in hot water 10 minutes. Drain again and cover with hot water; simmer until tender. Cook in sirup of 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, until translucent. Arrange petals on ham. Fasten in place with cloves. Center orange petals with green gum drops.

Rubbers, galoshes and raincoats should be kept in a cool, dark place when not in use. Remove oil, grease and tar immediately because rubber is harmed by heat, light, oil and grease.

Simple Toys Boost Child's Imagination

Christmas for children is the time of toys. How to choose them is our problem as parents and relatives. Wayne County Home agent recommends choosing simple toys.

One qualification is that the toy must be adaptable to various uses. It should be one which the child can use himself and which calls upon his imagination.

Have you ever seen a three-year-old play with a pile of pebbles? They may not even catch our notice. But, the little tot can find infinite uses for them — he carries them to another place; he pockets them; clenches them in his fist; fills a bucket with them; drops them; he throws them against something to make a noise; or forms them into a nest-like shape.

From this observation we can see that it is better to give a child a toy or something which is closer to a raw material than a finished product. First — it holds his interest longer as it gives him a chance to experiment with many ideas. Another reason is — it leaves something to his imagination and thinking powers. In that way it can be more educational and satisfying.

Can the toy be used for several years — not just for the time-being? Blocks are a good example of this continued usefulness. An infant grasps and holds them. At the toddler stage he hushes them about — loads and unloads a cart with them. By the time he is three or four years old he can build structures with the blocks — and at five or six, he builds more elaborate structures. Dolls have this factor of continued usefulness, too.

Children are not limited by what they have seen done before. Give them opportunity to use their good ideas by the toys you select for them.

Clothing specialists suggest using well sharpened shears and fine sharp pins and needles when working with and cutting synthetics and fabric blends.

MONKEY BUSINESS — A spunky little monkey, all dressed up in his black oilcloth slicker and red fire-chief's hat, is ready for action at play-time. This colorful pet is crocheted of yellow cotton with pink for the ears, hands and face, and black for his boots. He's stuffed with cotton batting for lots of squeeze-appeal. Designers Already Conjuring Up Fashionable Beach Attire Swimwear designers are busy deciding what you will be wearing at the beach next summer. The California designers are out to create a land of make-believe on the beach.

One well-known designer is going in for the high-in-front, low-in-back strapped knit suits. Many have multi-striped kaftan coats with Middle East-inspired side slits.

Another line is called the "sphinx." This type suit has the Pharaoh's collar and apron skirt in swimmable lastex. Another version, complete with jewels, spangles and such that take to the water, will make a hit. This suit will sell for about $65.

Co-ordination has gone over so big with the ladies that the swimwear designers are applying this spirit to their line. A good many swim suits will have matching print bath towels, beach coats, hats, bags, and even shoes.

Skirts and jackets co-ordinated to make a street outfit will be the order of the day. European designers are going to town in this department. Some evening dresses will be actually a swim suit with a long skirt. These are suggested for evenings at the beach or around the pool — a popular way to entertain during the summer. Straplessness will not be smart this coming summer. All collections point up the fact that collars are meant to be more than just anchoring ideas. Many swim-suits have a sweater look inspired by tennis fashions. Many designs will feature detachable trim or a neckline that converts to halter or strapless summers with ease.

To protect window sills and furniture from scratches, dip the bottoms of flower pots in melted paraffin. This will also prevent dampness in the pots and soil from damaging the wood finishes.

BATH in the Harold Underwood home, 11731 Priscilla lane, consists of colored ceramic tile on lower belt area of walls and tiled basin and large vanity (left) counters. Tile matches blendingly with the upper walls. A double mirrored sliding door on the medicine chest is convenient to basin. Other features include handy inset soap dish and glass holder above basin. Curtains at window match the rest of the color scheme.

Building Another Closet Good Weekend Project

Keeping up with the Joneses next door can be mighty rough, especially if Mr. Jones is a natural Mr. Fix-It. All is not lost, though, for even the clumsiest male can now install a beautiful cedar closet. It is a perfect weekend project for the man whose morale needs boosting.

The only tools needed for this job are a saw and hammer. No special skill with either implement is necessary. Just enough skill is required to keep the fingers out from under the path of either weapon — oops, tool, that is.

Most lumber yards now stock aromatic red cedar closet lining in convenient packages. The packages can be carried right in the family car. Each package contains enough of the wood to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area. Just measure the closet wall area, including the ceiling, and the lumber dealer will produce the right number of cedar packages.

Each piece of cedar is tongued and grooved, and the amateur who has never worked with tongued and grooved wood has a treat in store. It is almost as easy as adding two and two. Just fit the pieces together, tongue in groove, and nail them to the existing closet walls and ceiling. In applying the cedar to a wall, work from the bottom up. Place the first pieces of cedar so that its grooved edge is down, flush against the floor and its grooved end is flush against the adjoining wall. Use small finishing nails to attach the piece of cedar to the wall. Hit studs whenever possible.

To fill out this course or first line of cedar, it probably will be necessary to cut a piece. Always saw off tongue ends, so that the groove end remains to be fitted snugly into the first piece of wood.

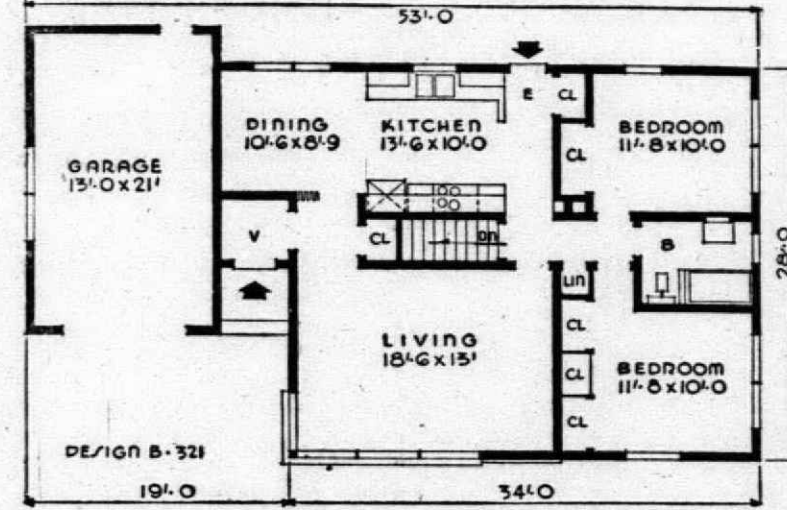

Repeat this process on one wall and then start work on another wall. After all walls are covered, do the ceiling in like manner.

After walls are covered, confidence will be running high, so plan to finish the job by applying quarter-round cedar moulding where the walls meet each other, the floor and the ceiling. There is a trick to mitering (angle-cutting) moulding, so ask the lumber dealer for a demonstration. After that, it's easy.

The nice part about this job in working with wood is that there is no painting or varnishing involved. Aromatic red cedar closet lining should not be painted, as this seals in that moth-repellent fragrance. The wood retains its moth-repellency and beauty without any special treatment. Long will it stand as a monument to the man who put it in his home's closet.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-321

DESIGN B-321

An attractive small house with low roof lines, wide overhanging eaves, large picture windows, an attached garage and full basement, except under garage. The exterior finish combines shingle wall siding with face brick in front and asphalt roof shingles. Excellent closet space and fine circulation between rooms are features of the floor plan, which also includes two bedrooms, bath, comfortable living room and an exceptionally fine combination kitchen-dinette. Floor area is 1032 sq. ft. without garage, and cubage is 19,608 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN B-321, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Use 'Peg-Board' Panel As Base For Toy Train

The fun of model railroading is and Dad — if there is a suitable base. Many hobbyists are using Masonite 1/4" "Peg-Board" panels successfully. These are the panels with scores of small holes in rows, evenly spaced one inch apart.

Since wiring is tricky on a solid board, the holes overcome this hazard and permit rapid changes in the location of various automatic devices without marring the surface of the board.

Like its sister board, Tempered Presdwood, the "Peg-Board" panel may be painted in any shade with any type of paint or enamel. It is available at lumber yards.

The perforated panel should be framed underneath with 1x2-inch lumber, and then set on saw horses of the height wanted. Tracks can be wired or bolted down through the holes. Again, the holes provide flexibility not possible with a solid sheet.

Because children are involved in model railroading, the "Peg-Board" base has another exclusive advantage: it's free of splinters. Besides, it wears indefinitely. It's best to use the 1/4" thickness where trains and equipment are involved. Where there are just a train and track, the 1/8" thickness will serve, providing there's a network of underframing having members not farther than one foot apart.

For the two or three-year-old, who's satisfied with a windup train, get a Masonite 1/8" "Peg-Board" panel and simply wire the track through the holes. The equipment will last longer.

Decorate Container Too!

A practical and effective container for holding this year's Christmas tree staunchly upright is a galvanized steel laundry tub painted with artist's water colors. Fill tub with sand and immerse the tree's trunk, braced with strips of wood, deeply into the center. Moisten sand with water

Moderately Priced Houses Now Offer Deluxe Features

Even comparatively moderately priced homes can have custom-built features. This is demonstrated in a new housing development in the Philadelphia area, described in a recent issue of the Correlator, official organ of the National Association of Home Builders.

The Lawrence Park development, to be built at a cost of $30,000,000, will have 1,200 homes. All will be air-conditioned. Lower levels of the split-level houses will have a spacious living room, dining room and modern kitchen. On the upper level there will be three large bedrooms and a ceramic tile bath. The accent, according to a builder, will be on "comfort and gracious living." The price — just under $15,000. The exteriors are a very attractive combination of brick and asbestos-cement siding shingles.

A typical home is finished with brick walls on the single level unit and on the lower portion of the two-level unit. The upper part of the two-level section has an attractive exterior finish of asbestos siding in smart new colors and designs.

Kitchens feature a built-in, eye-level oven and burner unit with a table-top range. Giving the kitchens a warm, natural look are cabinets of birch, trimmed with antique copper. The heating system is gas-fired forced air. To provide summer and winter air conditioning, units of two-ton capacity are supplied. Both air conditioning and heating are automatically controlled for fluctuating weather conditions. There is hardwood flooring throughout the home except in kitchen and bath.

Kitchen Picture Windows Win Favor

Picture windows and window walls in the kitchen are among the more popular innovations in new houses, according to building consultant of a glass company.

He said the emphasis on indoor-outdoor unity and with patios and play areas frequently opening off the kitchen, mothers want the larger windows to keep an eye on the youngsters at play and they like the feeling of spaciousness which larger kitchen windows provide.

In addition to the sliding glass doors which are steadily growing in popularity, housewives like a picture window right over the sink.

These windows frequently are glazed with Thermopane double insulating glass which collects far less condensation in winter than do single glass windows, and which retard heat gain in summer and heat loss in winter.

HOW MANY BATHROOMS?

There should be at least powder room facilities on each living level. In the sleeping area, there should be a bathroom for every two bedrooms. There ought to be a powder room near the entertainment area of the home, whether it be the living, room, family room or basement recreation area. And, ideally, the master bedroom deserves private bathroom facilities.

Architects, to save room in today's space-conscious homes, are turning from conventional doors to sliding doors of plate or patterned glass, says H. Creston Doner, design director for Libbey-Owens-Ford. Glass doors are favored in the "open plan" homes because they shut off draughts and sounds without blocking passage of light and sight.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Question: Just finished laying oak floors a few weeks ago, and noted there are several water spots on the bare wood. Will these come up when sanded? If not, what can I do about the marks? What is correct finishing method for floors?

Answer: Water spots will be removed by sanding. If oily spots are present, remove with alcohol and steel wool. An excellent finish is a plastic paint-on coating which will preserve floors for as long as twenty years without waxing. Standard treatment could be three coats of thinned shellac followed by one or two coats of high-grade varnish, then a coat of paste wax. Maintenance is with usual floor waxes.

Question: Would like to remodel a closet, 36x48 inches, into a bathroom. Water and sewer connections are nearby. I think it could be done, but await your advice.

Answer: That would be a very small bathroom, but might accommodate a toilet and small basin, or only a stall shower, whichever you require. By opening the wall and recessing a small basin between studs you'd gain a few inches. Also, an old style overhead toilet tank would give you a bit more floor space. Just be sure you have adequate slope on drains — minimum of 1/4-inch per foot — before going ahead.

Question: Is there any way beach sand can be made usable in concrete and cement? I believe that I read somewhere that by adding something it could be used for this purpose.

Answer: If there is any dirt, or decaying vegetable matter in the sand then it cannot be successfully used in concrete or cement. These foreign elements would make the concrete and cement crumble within a short while. A simultaneous washing and sifting might remove these elements, but it would be a hard job by hand. Also, sand for cement and concrete should be sharp, while many beach sands are round which would also weaken the final product.

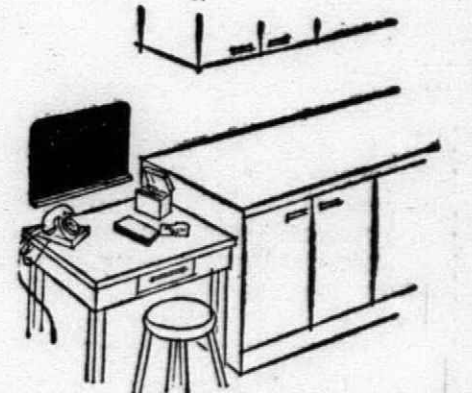

Question: Squirrels ate off all my crocus bulb shoots, therefore I have given these up as lost, but I would like to salvage tulip shoots coming up. Is there any way I can discourage these squirrels without resorting to violence or open war?

Answer: Squirrels won't tolerate camphor. Therefore you can spray the area around the bulbs with spirits of camphor without hurting the shoots. A cheaper way would be to dissolve camphor-type moth balls and spray this around. Heavy rains will remove the spray and you may have to repeat, but once discouraged, the squirrels are apt to go elsewhere to dine.

In these homes, a woman's activity center is the kitchen. Probably more time is spent in that room than any other. Since the kitchen often is considered the heart of the home, it should include a planning center for Mother.

Whether it is new or old, there is room for a desk or a small table with a drawer. With a stool or chair, this desk can be made Mother's business headquarters. With a telephone, or extension, perched at one corner, pencils and stationery handy, and a small blackboard on the wall nearby, Mother can have all the essential conveniences of an office secretary right in her kitchen.

She can ask Dad to make up the blackboard, which is a simple operation nowadays with the major paint companies making a chalkboard surfacing material that comes in cans. This should be applied with a brush, according to the directions, to a piece of wood, available at lumber yards. First, round the corners and lightly level the edges with a file or sandpaper.

Boiler heating of all types accounts for 35 per cent of heating installations in new residences, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Non-shaggy Dog

A man looked out the window to see his neighbor busily trying to get the dog to sit up.

"You aren't going to get any results from that animal," called the man. "That's the laziest dog I ever saw."

"Jus how lazy is he?" asked the neighbor.

"Why, he's so lazy that he waits for another dog to bark and then he nods his head."

VERSATILE CAR... The more spacious interior of the 1956 Rambler Cross Country station wagon provides 80 cubic feet of cargo space in addition to increased passenger room. The rear window lowers into the single tailgate by means of a combination crank and lock. Due to new design and styling, the Rambler now has big car advantages and appearance but is even more compact in outside measurements. A new 120 horsepower overhead valve engine boosts acceleration and power response in all speed ranges without loss of traditional Rambler fuel economy. New mechanical features include an improved suspension system, torque tube drive, power brakes and power steering, and 12-volt electrical system. The 1956 Rambler models go on display at Nash and Hudson dealers Dec. 15.

Details of New Lincoln Plant Near Novi Disclosed at Groundbreaking

Details of a "modern, efficient plant, including the lift-slab method of construction, were disclosed near Novi during groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Lincoln headquarters of the Ford Motor company.

Ben D. Mills, Ford vice president and Lincoln general manager, said the new plant would employ the latest mass production techniques.

Speaking before a group of company executives, Novi township officials, railroad officials and members of the press, Mills said construction of the new plant would begin "shortly after the first of the year," with completion expected within 18 months.

Mills pointed out that during the first 20 days of November, Lincoln dealers delivered 70 per cent more cars to the car buyer than they did in a similar period a year ago. At the conclusion of his remarks, Mills turned the first shovel of earth on the 325-acre site with a chromium-plated shovel.

The new headquarters, to be located on Wixom road, one-half mile north of Grand River avenue, include a three-story, 200,000 square foot office building and a one-story assembly plant covering more than 1,300,000 square feet.

The plant will have an annual payroll of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, a capacity of 90,000 cars a year on a straight time basis, and employ more than 5,000 persons.

Included in the facilities are three cafeterias, a fully-staffed hospital, an 800-line telephone switchboard and complete teletype and duplicating systems.

The lift-slab method of construction will be employed in the office building. In this method, pre-formed slabs of concrete will be raised by hydraulic jacks to provide roof and floor sections of the building.

The Lincoln Division, separated from the former Lincoln-Mercury Division in April, is now housed in the Riverfront offices of Ford Motor company's Rouge Plant in Dearborn.

Stark - Newburg PTA Postpones Division

The Stark-Newburg Parent Teachers association, meeting at the Newburg school Tuesday evening, November 22, voted to delay division of the organization into three separate units until after the election of officers in March. At that time PTA units will be established for the Stark, Newburg schools and for section 32.

Principal speakers for the meeting were Benton Yates, superintendent of Livonia public schools, and his assistant, Dr. Eino Michelson. A report was given on the progress of construction in the immediate vicinity of Stark and Newburg schools.

It is expected that the new addition to Stark school will be ready for occupancy by December 22. Construction of the new school, located between Levan and Wayne roads in section 32, should be complete by the latter part of January, the school officials said.

The average infant is 20 inches long at birth, smiles at four weeks, has first tooth at seven months, says first word at ten months.

Youth Bags 10-Pointer

Bringing home a 10-point buck would be a thrill to any seasoned hunter, but think what it meant to 16-year-old Robert Truesdell, 42863 Cherry Hill road.

Robert went deer hunting for the first time last year but failed to make a kill. So the 10-pointer he brought home during the first weekend of the current hunting season proved to be a prized possession in more ways than one.

The deer was shot at Bruce's Crossing in the Upper Peninsula. It weighed about 175 pounds dressed. Robert is a sophomore at Plymouth high school.

A person cannot take his money with him, but he can take the satisfaction of having used it to help other people with him.

Rash Preacher
A young man and woman were thinking of getting married. They finally decided that right after the church service on a certain Sunday would be all right. They informed the minister, so at the close of his service he announced that those who wished to get married should come forward at this time. He was embarrassed to see 15 women and one man coming up the aisles.

It's OIL CHANGE TIME! But this year don't just change oil...
Change now to Gulf's New Super-Refined GAS-OIL TEAM

GULF
No gasoline alone can give you today's finest performance. No oil alone can give you today's finest protection. You need Gulf's GAS-OIL TEAM.

Gulf's New Super-Refined Gas-Oil Team gives you more miles per gallon more miles per quart

Gulf No-Nox Gasoline burns clean. Note the black deposit, on plate at left, caused by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the part which Gulf refines out in making New Super-Refined NO-NOX. But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right. Now—in your own car—see how new NO-NOX can give you more miles per gallon in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

Gulfpride Select Oil works clean. Here's why: Most conventional oils are refined only to the stage shown in A. But New Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process—removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, in B... C contains the new super-refined oil that gives you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

State Wildlife Provides $8 Million In Edible Meat During Past Year

Michigan wildlife provided an $8,000,000 supply of edible meat last year, according to a recent study by a Conservation Department game biologist.

Hunters and trappers harvested almost 6,000 tons of edible meat in the state during 1954, valued at $8,298,878. In addition, pelts of animals taken were worth $1,174,128.

Charles Shick, extension specialist in game management, points out that the aesthetic value of wildlife cannot be measured in terms of money.

The evaluations used in this study "do not give consideration to the value of the recreation and enjoyment wildlife affords to hunters, trappers, picnickers, campers, tourists, photographers, naturalists and others," Shick said.

Deer provided the bulk of the game meat supply — 4,671,000 pounds, valued at $3,503,325.

Most of the game meat, including deer, rabbit, squirrel and game birds was evaluated at $.75 per pound in the study. Woodchuck, beaver, raccoon, muskrat and opossum meat values were computed at $.25 per pound.

Pheasants accounted for $1,600,000 worth of meat and rabbits added $1,400,000.

Highest pelt values were: muskrat, $388,000; mink, $356,000; raccoon, $157,000; and beaver, $135,000.

"Wildlife should be thought of as a crop since surplus game and fur-bearing animals are raised each year," Shick said. "In instances, a larger harvest of some animals will result in good management of a valuable Michigan natural resource."

Branches, Roots Can Turn Drives Into Auto Traps

Beware of nature's wrecking crews when planning a tree or shrub screen for your driveway. The wreckers can be trees that develop low hanging branches or those with large surface roots that can turn the best laid driveway into a roller coaster. It is well to examine the nature of the trees before planting them.

Uprightness is a characteristic to look for in trees and shrubs, as well as in people. Trees, such as the popular pin oak, owe their distinctive beauty to their drooping branches. The beauty will be lost on the driver who backs into a branch when coming out of his driveway.

And low-hanging limbs will have to be pruned away, destroying the symmetric beauty of the tree.

Even an upright tree, such as the sugar maple, can damage your driveway if planted too close. Strongly growing surface roots will in time heave up the surface. Repairs will require root cutting and removal, both damaging to tree health.

In these days of modern one-story houses, small or medium-sized trees are desirable for planting along walks and driveways. Care should be taken to space them far enough apart so they don't interfere with each other when fully grown.

Among the trees especially recommended are wide assortments of flowering crabs, some of the Japanese cherries, hawthorns, goldenrain and even the native ironwood.

Attend School Board, Superintendent Meeting

Local school officials are among the Michigan superintendents and school board members who are attending the third annual joint meeting at Kellogg Center at Michigan State university, Tuesday through Thursday of this week. Theme of the conference, which has attracted 300, is "The Faculty — Community Team — For Better Education."

Superintendent Russell Isbister is attending each day while board members, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Carl Caplin and Harold Fischer are attending some of the sessions.

Discussion topics during the three days are "Team Approach", "Interservice Education", and "Community Responsibility."

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

If you are thinking about going on a diet, there are several important facts you should consider before choosing the kind of diet for yourself. Your age has a lot to do with the amount of food and the kind of food you should eat.

The fad type of diet is not recommended for any age group. However, much less harm will result to a young person on a diet of bananas and cottage cheese than to a more mature person. The principle of any good reducing diet is to cut down your daily fuel supply or number of calories without cutting too short the needed supply of vitamins and minerals.

A good reducing diet gives you just enough calories to keep your body machinery running properly and just enough additional to take care of your extra activities. Children are still growing and generally are far more active than older persons. They need more energy and can eat a great deal of food without adding unwanted weight. It is very seldom that a doctor will recommend a strict diet for a child. He usually tells the mother to cut down on the child's between-meal snacks and to cut down on soft drinks and candy.

Women in the 20 to 40 age bracket are in the safest stage of life to diet because they use food with the greatest economy during this period. However, they are also in the reproductive period and must keep their bodies well supplied with important minerals.

The middle-aged should be careful because they are approaching the time when their bodies will begin to show wear. If you are over 40, your diet should be geared to a slower pace, because you can't burn fat too fast without putting a strain on both your heart and your kidneys.

The best advice in the world is to consult your family doctor if you want to lose over five pounds. He will tell you how fast it will be safe for you to lose the desired weight, the best type of diet for your own system and if you should supplement your diet with vitamins and minerals.

Plymouth Area Civil Defense News

CD directors, officials and doctors attended a joint meeting recently at which they urged that the first aid station at St. Johns Seminary be immediately equipped with first aid supplies.

Attending the meeting were Flowers, Ernest Henry, Roy Lindsay, Elizabeth Holmes, Ashley Coburn, Jack Ruland, Dr. Berry Alford, and Dean McClue.

It was agreed that the CD officials should meet once a month in rotation at the city of Plymouth, Canton township and Plymouth township halls.

The feeding of those evacuating Detroit was discussed. Mrs. Holmes stated that most all homes could feed 20 persons until help came. To police the thousands of people from Detroit would be impossible, Ernest Henry stated. It was pointed out that Plymouth could care only for the urgent first aid cases.

Last year American motorists and truckers used more than 44 billion gallons of gasoline.

Livonia Police Chief Addresses Hi-12

George Harmon, chief of the Livonia police force, was principal speaker for the Hi-12 meeting at 6:30 last evening at the Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Harmon discussed Michigan's program for speed and accident control illustrating his talk with slides.

Speaker for the Hi-12 meeting on December 14 will be the Reverend Henry Walch. The Presbyterian church pastor will relate his trip to the Holy Land during the summer of 1954.

Smart people do not do all the talking.

Gas Mileage goes up AGAIN

And so does the thrill — with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

WITH ALL the big excitement of Buick's 1956 styling and power and ride and handling — it's easy to overlook this fact: Gas mileage in the '56 Buicks takes a big step upward. One reason, of course, is the new power plant itself. Every new Buick cradles an advanced 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest horsepower, Series for Series, in all Buick history. Yet every engine delivers more efficiency, and more usable power to the rear wheels—because each one has a new double "Y" manifold, and a new high in compression ratio.

But the major reason for the happy news in gas mileage—and for the new step-up in safety and thrills—is Buick's latest version of Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

In this airplane-principled transmission, you always had a gas-saving cruising range—and, at a switch of the pitch, a full-power getaway range.

Now Buick engineers have brought to this cruising range what they call "double regeneration." It simply means a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity to build up driving force.

So now, you merely nudge the pedal to part throttle and get new breakaway getaway. And since you get this quicker, safer response in your normal cruising range—where you don't use full power—you get plenty more miles from every tankful of gas.

But when you do need sudden safety-surge for emergencies, you just floor the pedal to switch the pitch. Instantly, you're at full-power acceleration—and it's the most thrilling safety measure in the land.

How about coming in to try the most modern transmission yet? The absolute smoothness of this new Dynaflo is worth a visit in itself. So you can be sure you're in for a wealth of wonderful surprises—for that's just the start of the best Buick yet. Can you make it this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

It's the '56 Buick—

Best Buick yet

Should Let Environment Govern Education of Students, Says Prof.

Education for rural youth should not follow exactly the same pattern that education for city children follows.

This is the conviction of Robert S. Fox, associate professor of education and director of the University School at The University of Michigan.

"A good educational program should capitalize on the rural background of the child rather than superimpose an urban education that doesn't fit his needs," he declares.

Professor Fox asserts, "This business of using the environment with which the child is familiar should permeate every subject and class activity. Take arithmetic. Problems could be suited to the rural situation. Social studies ought to emphasize rural needs and might include study of the community, conservation, and changes in the community. For young children the teacher could introduce social studies relating to the immediate community — home and school.

"Probably we need in some way to encourage our teachers who come from rural areas, and have some understanding and appreciation of rural problems to stay there," he continues.

"School can and should provide effective leadership in setting up home gardens, improving diets, developing community canneries and freezer units. All these activities should be an integral part of the school program for both elementary and high school children."

"And apart from providing for the children from 8 to 5, the school plant should be open evenings during the summer and should be the focus for furnishing leadership for a variety of social problems and activities," he says.

Professor Fox recently concluded a five-year term as chairman of the Committee on Publications and Constructive Studies of the Department of Rural Education in the National Education Association. The committee has just released its 1955 Yearbook, "Rural Education—a Forward Look."

Unexcitable

Grandpappy Morgan, a hill-billy of the Ozarks, had wandered off into the woods and failed to return for supper. So young Toller was sent to look for him. He found him standing in the bushes.

"Gettin' dark, Grandpap," the tot ventured.

"Yep."

"Supper time, Grandpap."

"Well, are you comin' home?"

"Nope."

"Well, why ain't you?"

"Standin' in a bar trap."

As a rule, local people know how to settle local problems best.

Legion Auxiliary Urges Pensions for Widows

Pensions for widows and orphans of World War II and Korean War veterans on the same basis as now provided for widows and orphans of World War I veterans, will be urged by the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming session of Congress, Mrs. Melva Gardner, legislative chairman of Passage-Gayde Auxiliary unit, announced.

Present pension rates for widows of World War I veterans are: Widows with no children, $50.40 per month; widow with one child, $63, with $7.56 additional for each child. To be eligible, widows without dependents must not have more than $1,400 year other income, and those with dependents not more than $2,700.

New Books from Dunning Library

Along with two best sellers, this week's shipment of new books to the Dunning library brought with it a number of interesting novels as well as non-fiction reading material.

Heading the list are Harnett T. Kane's best seller, "The Smiling Rebel," story of Belle Boyd, spy of the Civil War; and "The African Giant" by Stuart Cloete, impressions of his journey from the Cape to the northern desert regions of Africa.

Other new books were Isabel Smith's "Wish I Might," account of her battle with tuberculosis; "Midpoint," Isabella Holt's novel set in the midwest of 1920-30; Marian Castle's "Roxana," story of life in Colorado, 1879.

In addition, the library received Howard Breslin's historical novel, "Shad Run," about the Hudson River valley; a pictorial survey of "What Is Communism," edited by Richard M. Ketchum with introduction by Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia University president; Kathleen B. Hester's "Teaching Every Child to Read," "The Chosen People of the Bible: Christianity and Race" by Gerald W. Broomfield; Emilie Loring's murder mystery, "The Shadow of Suspicion"; "The Plums Hang High," Gertrude E. Finney's novel set in Indiana, 1868.

Others added to the library collection were Francis I. Gwaltney's war story, "The Day the Century Ended"; "The Lost Wagon," Jim Kjelgaard's novel concerning pioneers on the Oregon trail; Davis Grubb's Civil War novel, "A Dream of Kings," "My Son, Johnny," by John McNulty, writer for New Yorker magazine; "Never Plead Guilty," story of Jake Ehrlich, criminal lawyer, by John Noble and Bernard Averbuch, San Francisco newspapermen.

Cadillac

Strangers—with a Mutual Friend!

Anyone who owns and drives a Cadillac will find this a familiar scene.

For it is not at all unusual for Cadillac owners to salute one another as they pass on the highway . . . or to exchange approving nods as they wait at the traffic light.

Cadillac owners, you see, know that they have at least one mutual friend . . . in the Cadillac car.

And the chances are that if they were to meet, they would find they had a great deal more in common than just their affection for the "car of cars."

For Cadillac owners, taking them by and large, are people who share a keen appreciation for the finer things in life.

And, generally speaking, they are people of sound judgment and unusual practical wisdom.

They have learned, for instance, how reasonable a new Cadillac can be insofar as original cost is concerned.

They have seen for themselves how economical a Cadillac is to operate through the miles . . . and how dependable it is through the months.

And they have savored that final reward for choosing the "car of cars"—Cadillac's extraordinary resale value.

Perhaps, in view of these remarkable facts, the time has come for you to meet this wonderful friend of America's most demanding motorists.

We'll be delighted to introduce you at any time you find convenient—and to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

Why not come in today?

Prof Says Doodle Bug Won't Locate Oil

If you're looking for oil on your property don't rely on "doodle bugs" or "doodle buggers," says a University of Michigan geologist.

Prof. Kenneth K. Landes says a "doodle bug" is an entirely spurious gadget and that it can't locate oil. He states there is no known gadget except the drill which will actually help find the precious substance.

First call in a geologist, he suggests, who knows how and where to look for oil. If you don't get help from one of these gentlemen, Professor Landes indicates, you have only one chance in 32 of being successful.

And remember, he adds, actual drilling of a 3,000-foot hole in Michigan may cost $12,000, plus lease acquisition, geological cost and the expense of casing and testing.

Plymouth Couple To Attend Annual State Hospital Tea

On Tuesday, December 13, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. John Denske of 5775 Lilley road will attend with 20 other community citizens the Second Annual Tea held for Family Home Care therapists at Northville State hospital.

From 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. the group will discuss with Mrs. E. Findling, psychiatric social work supervisor of Family Home Care at Northville, some of the aspects of the program, following which tea will be served in the hospital's cafeteria.

In discussing the Family Care program, Dr. R. R. Yoder, assistant medical superintendent at Northville, states, "Through our Family Care program we are able to place patients, who can be directly benefited from living in the community, with a family who accepts them and helps in this important adjustment process. Those citizens, like Mr. and Mrs. John Denske, are to be commended for their efforts in this very important phase in the care and treatment of the mentally ill."

Mrs. Findling indicated that she is expanding the program and would be interested in having citizens who want to participate in the Family Care program, contact her at the hospital, 41001 West Seven Mile road, or phone Northville 1290.

Instructions Given For Constructing Storage Cabinet

For enclosed storage in a basement or utility room, a cabinet can be built inexpensively of used lumber and Masonite 3/16" Presdwood.

Important considerations in determining the size, of course, are the location, storage requirement and dimensions likely to give the least cutting waste. Presdwood panels come four feet wide and in lengths ranging from three to 16'.

For projects of this type, used lumber can be obtained at low cost from demolition sites. Some lumber dealers have "specials" on lumber from time to time.

For moderate sized cabinets, 2x2-inch or 2x4 lumber will serve adequately for corners, with shelf supports of 1x2-inch stock. Sides, top and bottom may be Presdwood. Make the doors, too, using 1x2-inch lumber for framing and covering it with the hardboard. Shelves may be lumber or plywood.

A couple of handles and cabinet hardware to hold the door closed will complete the project. For an easy-to-follow free plan showing cabinet construction, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan AE-259.

Lack of Funds Stalls Numerous U of M Medical Research Projects

At least 60 research projects at the University of Michigan Medical School have been stymied for lack of funds.

These projects include investigations of leukemia, heart disease, alcoholism, high blood pressure, cancer, and many others, Dean A. C. Furstenberg reports. However, the U-M medical Dean noted that these projects have not been developed beyond the drawing board stage, largely because medical research depends upon the unpredictable donations of wealthy sponsors.

"Medical research is too essential to be dependent solely on support from public spirited citizens or private foundations," declared Dean Furstenberg. He estimated that at least $600,000 was needed annually to sustain a complete research program at the U-M Medical Center, and he declared that this sum was above and beyond present contributions to the program.

Commenting on the report, Dean Furstenberg said he believed that the public, although keenly interested in medical and health problems, does not fully appreciate what is involved financially in medical investigations. He said, for example, that a single, typical medical project costs approximately $7,000 to $10,000 a year.

"Actually," said Dean Furstenberg, "we medical people have been more at fault in not using opportunities to explain what medical research really involves."

The resources and personnel for at least sixty medical projects are currently available at the Medical Center, but they have not been able to proceed for lack of funds for other essentials required for these projects. For example, the Dean declared that for approximately $3000 oxygen studies could be made in the Pediatrics Department on children who suffer from congenital heart disease.

"Research is more than a matter of physical determination and moral conviction," said Dean Furstenberg. "It involves technical assistants, apparatus, equipment, experimental animals and overhead."

Some of the projects which have been planned at the U-M Medical Center but which have been deferred due to lack of funds are:

- 1) A thorough investigation of the action of ACTH and cortisone, miracle compounds which appear to work but no one yet actually knows why;
 - 2) A project of special interest to Michigan residents who live in the "goiter district," who often suffer eye disturbances, sometimes blindness.
 - 3) The apparent increase in "cancer of the blood," which could be more thoroughly investigated at the U-M Simpson Memorial Institute.
 - 4) Infant diarrhea, which continues to baffle pediatricians;
 - 5) And, the connection of hormone deficiency with virus infections.
- Dean Furstenberg concluded, "It should not be necessary to have to go out and sell good health to the public. Yet it is sad to note that so much effort goes into fund raising for medical research that the investigator has little time and energy left for the more important work."

Sewage Listed As One of Seven Modern Wonders

Sewage is associated with one of the seven wonders of American engineering.

Sound strange? Not at all, according to the Michigan Department of Health, which today said that modern sewage treatment, especially in Michigan, "exerts a tremendous influence upon the lives of the people and the economy of the state."

Perhaps the importance of modern sewage treatment, the department said, is one reason the American Society of Civil Engineers recently selected the huge Chicago sewage treatment plant as one of the seven wonders of American engineering.

The Chicago plant hailed by the society of engineers, "differs from Michigan plants chiefly in size," according to Willard Shephard, director of the health department's engineering division.

He said: "Michigan has the longest coastline of any state and with only four exceptions, all of our streams run their entire courses within state boundaries. That means we have a great deal at stake in controlling water pollution. And the best solution to polluted waters is adequate sewage treatment plants in our towns and cities — plants as modern as the Chicago one which has been given national acclaim.

"Pollution," Shephard explained, "not only endangers our health, it costs industry millions of dollars, kills fish, degrades property values, endangers wild life, and reduces recreational facilities."

With rapid residential and industrial expansion in Michigan, Shephard said there is "an unprecedented demand" for sewers and sewage treatment plants. In many areas, he said, growth has become so extensive that sewer systems have been overloaded.

"Although the millennium of clean waters has not arrived yet," Shephard said, "the fact that a sewage treatment plant was picked as one of the engineering wonders of this country is a good indication that we are becoming more 'clean water' conscious."

Social Security Question Column

You may send your Social Security questions directly to the Plymouth Mail. They will be answered in this column or directly by the Detroit-Northwest Social Security district office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan.

1. Do I have to pay Social Security for a baby sitter? S.R.

Answer: If you pay your baby sitter $50 or more in cash wages in a calendar quarter, you are required to do so. The calendar quarters begin January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1. At the end of each quarter you send the tax with a report of the wages paid to the Director of Internal Revenue.

2. How do I go about paying up back Social Security? I am a painter and decorator and didn't know that I was supposed to pay my own F.C.W.

Answer: If you have had net earnings of $400 or more a year from your trade or business, you should get in touch with the Director of Internal Revenue, Detroit 31, Michigan to file a report of your earnings and to pay the Social Security tax.

3. I am a widow and plan to marry a man who gets Social Security. Will I be able to keep my widow's Social Security pension and also get a new check as his wife? M.M.C.

Answer: Your Social Security payments as a widow will end with the month before the month in which you remarry. Before you will get Social Security payments as a wife, you must be married to your husband not less than three years.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A rare Canada lynx was shot late last week in the upper peninsula's Delta county, 14 miles west of Rock.

The animal, a female, weighed 18 pounds and was bagged by Richard Ossewaarde of Coopersville. Conservation Department biologists at the Straits of Mackinac identified the animal when Ossewaarde was returning from a deer hunting trip.

Lynxes are almost never seen in Michigan and have never been common. One was shot last year near Dunbar in the eastern upper peninsula and probably migrated from Canada, where the animals are a bit more plentiful.

They have black-tipped ears, big feet and longer legs than the Michigan bobcat. Generally they grow to about the same weight as the bobcat.

Waterfowl hunters at the Pointe Mouillee marshes south of Detroit are enjoying one of their best seasons in years.

Hunter numbers are up only seven percent from last year, but hunting success is 39 percent above 1954.

A Conservation Department summary through November 24, the date the season closed last year, showed that 8661 hunters took 6291 birds, mostly ducks and coots. Last year, 8093 hunters bagged 4539.

At the Swan Creek-Fennville goose hunting area, over-all totals for the year are close to those for 1954. Last year, hunters took 2242 geese. Through November 24 this year, they took 2288.

The season this year runs through December 9.

Fisheries research crews completed inventories on 31 Michigan lakes during the past summer in addition to survey work on 26 streams and river systems.

Part of the lake inventory program was a three-month survey of Burt Lake in Cheboygan county, including temperature-chemistry tests and a study of lake bottom composition. This work on Burt Lake's 16,700 acres was in addition to the regular fishery inventory of the lake.

Conservation Department workers also completed inventories of 15 other Lower peninsula lakes and 15 in the U.P.

Some of the larger lakes inventoried included Manistee Lake, Kalkaska county; Fenton Lake, Genesee county; Otter Lake, Houghton county; and Upper and Lower Herring Lakes, Benzie county.

Inventories included studies of fish populations, scale samples and brush shelters. Underwater observations with the aid of diving equipment were made on some of the lakes.

Some 22 more lakes were mapped with echo sounder equipment and 32 others were checked for mapping possibilities.

Stream study work consisted of biological and physical surveys, fish collections and sea lamprey surveys.

Herbert J. Miller, the Conservation Department's waterfowl specialist, bagged four mallard ducks with one shot while hunting with his son last weekend in the Fennville marshes.

Miller, who was trying to hit a Canada goose, said ducks were thick in the marsh at the time and several whirled into the line of fire as he shot.

The pellets winged the goose also, but the bird escaped into the nearby sanctuary.

He was using a 12-gauge shotgun with No. 2 shot.

Small game and archery deer kills on Drummond Island during the October 1-November 5 season this year showed an increase over 1954, according to a hunter check at the island ferry.

Conservation Department workers are polling island residents to complete a summary of hunting successes.

A total of 51 deer were taken by 281 visiting archery hunters, compared with 37 bagged last year by 226 hunters.

Small game kill totaled 1178, including 737 ducks. The 1954 total bag was 1213. Hunter numbers increased from 390 last year to 511 this season.

More than 600 rural mail carriers will be on the lookout for pheasants during Christmastime deliveries in the southern half of the lower peninsula.

The reason for the extra-curricular activity is the annual post-season count of pheasant populations December 5-17.

Rural mail carriers voluntarily assist the Conservation Department in checking the proportion of cock pheasants to hens.

Ralph Blouch, game biologist, says information from counts made by rural postmen is an important factor in long-range management of the popular Michigan game bird.

A public hearing "to afford interested persons chance to submit data or views on the proposed rules and regulations for the administration of the Great Lakes submerged lands act" will be held at Lansing on December 16.

The hearing will be held in room 337 of the Mason building, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Copies of the proposed rules and regulations are available upon request from the Conservation Department's lands division at Lansing.

Clinic Serves Area Youngsters

Approximately 25 children of this area are receiving valuable health services at the monthly Child Health conferences sponsored by the Wayne County Health department and Livonia Health Guild.

Held the first Wednesday of each month at First Federal Savings and Loan bank, Sheldon Center, Livonia, the clinics provide physical examinations at regular intervals for "well children" between the ages of 3 months to 5 years.

Youngsters receive protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Dr. Muriel Bagshaw of the University of Michigan, in charge of the well-baby conferences, will discuss with each mother any problems regarding diet, behavior or general care of her child.

Appointments are necessary and may be made by calling Garfield 2-1453. If the child is ill, mothers are asked to cancel their appointment and take the child to a private physician.

Arrangements for transportation can be made at the time of the appointment for those who do not have a car.

Experts on such things say that the average blonde may have 140,000 hairs in her head, the average brunette, 108,000.
