

Mr. Gary Krumm Wins Baby Derby

The stork wasted little time this year in bringing to Plymouth a winning entry in The Mail's annual First Baby Derby...

This community's first arrival of 1956 made his debut at Ridgewood Osteopathic hospital at 9:09 p.m. on January 1.

Condemn Home, Father Sentenced

A Plymouth apartment with no heat, water or sewers was condemned by health officials Monday and the mother and her six children sent to Wayne County General hospital for treatment.

The family was that of Fred Turner, 644 Harold street. Turner was arrested by police and sentenced immediately on a non-support charge.

Police, firemen and Health Officer R. R. Barber, M. D., entered the home Monday. Although the temperature outside was 16 degrees above zero, there was no heat in the upstairs apartment.

An examination of the six children disclosed that most of them suffered various types of illnesses. The County Welfare department arranged that they and their mother be taken to the hospital for temporary lodging and treatment.

The father was sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction and fined $100. The investigation and Turner's arrest was the culmination of a series of complaints.

The 16 different prizes that the Krumms won from local stores by virtue of Gary Albert's arrival include: Layette set from Kresge store; baby's engraved silver cup.

The next closest new baby of 1956 entered in the First Baby Derby contest was a son, born to Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Daugherty, 19350 North Territorial, at 11:27 p.m. on January 1.

Seek Blind Exemptions

Persons who may qualify for the homestead and blind exemptions must make application during January, City Clerk-Assessor Kenneth Way stated this week.

Thompson Installs New Officers of Hi-12

The Hi-12 president's gavel was turned over to Raymond Brocklehurst, retiring head of the club, at installation ceremonies held in the Arbor-Lill restaurant.

Others taking office were Rexford M. Hoffman, first vice president; Roy N. Leemon, second vice president; Henry W. Grimm, treasurer; and Oral B. Rathbun, secretary.

When the day came that David could get out of bed, it was the National Foundation that provided a wheelchair complete with lap board and arm slings until he no longer needed it.

After this experience, we feel that anything we can do for the National Foundation is not too much. Mrs. N. T. Druce, 575 Simpson

We always believed that polio was something that could happen to others, never to us. When our 12-year-old son, David, was taken to the hospital October 3, 1955 we found out how wrong you can be — it can happen.

We didn't know which way to turn but it wasn't long before we realized there were a lot of willing and helpful people. The National Foundation contacted us expressing their willingness to help in any way possible.

The tremendous follow-up and personal attention given each individual is hard to believe. For instance, the occupational therapy, a favorite of David's, worked wonders in strengthening his muscles and also helped him to make articles such as a leather

Carnival Boosts Nankin, Patchen Districts May Soon 'Get the Word'

Entertainment for Plymouth residents and a booster to the drive for new band uniforms will be the goal of the Plymouth high school Band Carnival set for Saturday night, January 21, at the local school.

The event is being sponsored by the Band Parents association. Chairman is Mrs. Eber Readman. From 5:30 to 11 p.m. a host of activities has been planned.

The spaghetti or ham loaf dinner will be served cafeteria-style from 5:30 to 7 p.m. New arrangements, the chairman said, will guarantee prompt service to visitors.

Six new directors will be elected to membership of the Plymouth Community Fund board when the annual meeting is held next Tuesday night.

It pointed out that people living in the two districts do not consider Plymouth as part of their home area. Livonia and Wayne are much closer.

It was not decided how this discontinuance of enrollment should come about. One suggestion that met with some support was to deny enrollment of freshmen next fall, sophomores the following year, etc.

Outcome of the discussion was a decision to invite directors of the two districts to a meeting on January 30 to talk over the problem.

In other business before the board, members voted to lease from the city a plot of land located behind the high school between Blanche and Farmer streets.

The board had also asked to buy land from the city in front of Starkweather school. This parcel had originally been donated to the city for park purposes and City Attorney Harry Deyo, in an opinion, stated that it cannot be sold unless there is a favorable vote of the public.

A request from the city of Dearborn to rent school buses next summer to transport children to camp was read. Such use of buses is illegal, the superintendent told the board. The request was denied.

An increase of mileage allowance was granted to teachers who travel from school to school during the day. Formerly receiving seven cents a mile, the allowance was increased to nine cents.

Instead of closing at noon, the office will remain open Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., the same as the present Monday through Friday hours. Later hours will be announced in February to allow for the last-minute license buyers. The deadline is February 29.

The license bureau is located at 181 West Liberty street in Plymouth, just east of Starkweather avenue.

Parents of ninth and tenth grade children can learn what kind of behavior they can expect from their offspring from an expert on the subject. He is Dr. Warren Ketcham, University of Michigan education psychologist, who will speak to members of the 10th grade parents group on January 19 at 8:00 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

BACK TO SCHOOL last week for the first time since he contracted polio in October was David Druce 12, who is shown hanging his coat in his locker. Welcoming David back are three of his sixth grade classmates at Smith school. Bob Koers, left, Nancy Mettetal and Jeffrey Theobald.

Sewers Still Stymie School Construction

Board of education members dejectedly pondered the question Monday night of which way to turn next to hurry up the construction of their proposed schools—all of which cannot be started until the Wayne County Department of Health is assured that the buildings will have sewers.

City commissioners attended the meeting earlier in the evening and helped come up with a possible solution which may provide a sewer for the junior high building sooner than expected.

Police Spike Rumor About Bank Hold-up After police sped up to the Ann Arbor road-Harvey street branch of the National Bank of Detroit last Thursday, rumor spread quickly that it had been robbed.

It's true that the hold-up alarm had been received by police, but it was a false one. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher points out that police receive false alarms almost every week from the banks, jewelry stores, supermarkets and other establishments who are on the police alarm system.

Most of these false alarms are due to telephone lines which are used for the system, the chief said, and sometimes clerks push the wrong buttons.

In any case, police must respond to the call. Because of the distance to the Ann Arbor road office, more people than usual must have noticed the police, Chief Fisher stated, and the hold-up rumor spread rapidly and widely.

Expect Over 600 Dogs in Contest Over 600 pure bred dogs, representing 74 different breeds will invade the area Sunday, January 22, when the Oakland County Kennel Club stages their annual winter show at Northville.

The event will start at 8 p.m. in the Veteran's Community center, Main street, and is open to the public.

The polio campaign opened last week and will run through January. A goal of $5,000 has been set by local campaign workers headed by Mrs. Harry Bartel.

The Mothers March will be held on Thursday, January 26. Volunteers led by Mrs. Raymond Gardner will make house-to-house collections in the afternoon while city volunteers in charge of Mrs. Charles Olson will march that night.

Generosity of Firms Warms Junior Police A warmer headquarters for the Junior Police Organization is now a reality due to the generosity of several local contractors and suppliers.

Two overhead gas heating units have been installed to replace a highly inefficient conversion unit which had been used in the Junior Police's Central Parking Lot building.

Campbell Distributing corporation furnished the units at cost price. Als Heating installed the units free of charge and Plymouth Electric company made electrical connections at no cost.

The building's interior has been modified to accommodate 10 boys on the rifle range at one time and 18 positions on the archery range. There are 70 boys in the rifle club alone. About 150 boys are active in the organization.

Local License Bureau Extends Saturday Hours New Saturday hours will go into effect January 21 for the Plymouth license plate bureau, it was announced by Mrs. Doris Root, manager.

Psychologist to Address 10th Grade Parents Parents of ninth and tenth grade children can learn what kind of behavior they can expect from their offspring from an expert on the subject.

He is Dr. Warren Ketcham, University of Michigan education psychologist, who will speak to members of the 10th grade parents group on January 19 at 8:00 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

New Officers Preside At Kiwanis Meeting The Plymouth Kiwanis club held its first meeting under the direction of its new officers Tuesday evening at the Mayflower hotel.

The new slate of officers headed by President Fred Foust were installed last week at a special dinner meeting held at Arbor-Lill. Along with President Foust, who took over the gavel from Norman Atchinson, other officers taking up their 1956 duties are: Robert Lidgard and Harold Fischer, vice-presidents; Meredith Smith, treasurer; and Ernest Henry, club secretary for his thirteenth year.

Secretary Henry performed a double-duty at the Tuesday evening program by addressing club members as their newly elected lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis Division 3. Henry outlined the ten objectives of Kiwanis for the coming year and also lauded Kiwanis for its reputation as the "action" club among businessmen's groups.

Flames were confined to a bedroom and closet of the one-floor building. The cause was not determined. Plymouth township firemen were called on to bring their tank truck to the scene for extra water.

Fire Hits Canton Home A fire in a Canton township home last Saturday morning caused an estimated $800 in damage.

The home was occupied by William Bishop, 6196 Canton Center road, and is owned by Grady Hargrove. Firemen received the call at 10:23 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garchow

Methodist Church, Setting For Garchow - Wingard Rites

Miss Peggy Wingard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Wingard of 685 Starkweather, became the bride of Richard Garchow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Garchow, 15620 Bradner road, in a ceremony held at the First Methodist church on Friday evening, December 30.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the church, with white chrysanthemums and snapdragons arranged at the altar for the nuptial service. The doubling ceremony was read at 8 o'clock by the Reverend Melbourn I. Johnson.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a ballerina-length gown of pure silk. Iridescent sequins adorned the scooped neckline of chantilly lace, and the bodice was styled with long sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. A matching headpiece, trimmed with pearls, secured her fingertip veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of red and white roses.

Miss Dorothy Keen, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an aqua ballerina-length gown of crystalettes, styled with a deeper shade of aqua at the scooped neckline and large bow of this same shade at the neckline. Her headpiece was of matching color and she carried a colonial bouquet of deep red roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marlene Bassett, cousin of the bride, and Miss Susan Shoemaker, a friend of the bride. Their gowns were identical in style to that worn by the maid of honor. Miss Bassett's was of white crystalettes with green trim while Miss Shoemaker's was of the same color but with red trim. Both wore pearls, gifts of the bride and bridegroom. They carried colonial bouquets of red roses.

Mrs. Wingard selected a pale blue sheath dress of satin brocade with blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. A darker shade of blue, in taffeta, with white accessories was the choice of the bridegroom's mother. Each wore a corsage of pink camelias.

Best man was Second Lieutenant William Garchow, cousin of the bridegroom, who came from Holloman Air base, New Mexico for the ceremony. Jack Wingard, brother of the bride, and Robert Danol, friend of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors. Those attending were from Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Clio, Royal Oak and Detroit.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise!

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods. But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe . . . the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above . . . costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride? You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built . . . the finest-performing Cadillac of all time . . . and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

Plymouth Humbled By Trenton

Overwhelmed by an extremely tall Trenton basketball squad last Friday evening by a 65-39 score, Plymouth's varsity cagers suffered their second defeat of the season and fell below a .500 average in Suburban Six league competition.

The Rocks were blasted by the high-scoring Trojans right from the starting buzzer as Plymouth's home team rang up an easy 24-8 lead in the initial eight minutes of play. Although Trenton failed to reach this point production in the last three periods, its command of the game never slackened.

It was Plymouth's second straight defeat and left the locals with a one-win and two-loss card in conference batting. The Rocks opened with conquests of Northville and Belleville before breaking to Bentley and then sufficing the most recent humiliation at the hands of Trenton.

With regard to the defeat Plymouth's Coach Charlie Ketterer explained, "On the whole, we didn't come up with the team effort that we were capable of producing."

Following the 24-8 deficit at the end of one quarter of play, Plymouth collected its wits and surged to within ten points, 24-14, during the second period before Trenton once again rose up and resumed its mauling of the Rocks.

From a half-time advantage of 39-21, the Trojans slammed to a 53-29 three-quarter mark bulge and added 12 points in the final frame to bring the score to its 26-point margin at the end.

Trenton simply exploited its height advantage in mustering the decisive nod over the Rocks. With a firing line that listed players at 6'5", 6'4" and 6'0", the Trojans had little trouble working the ball into the shooting area. Trenton also rebounded and cleared both backboards with ease.

Pacing the scoring for the Trojan club was Blanks (6'5") who poured in 23 points, while Ed Rushlow (6'4") and Mans (6'0") each contributed 15 tallies to the cause.

Plymouth's scoring column was headed by Ken Calhoun (5'8") who collected 14 points and Jack Carter (5'8") who bucketed seven counters. Jerry Steketee (6'2"), Tom Ferguson (6'2"), Jerry King (5'10") and Bob Jenkins (5'9") each garnered four more for the Rocks.

Statistics indicate just how completely outclassed Plymouth was in this battle, first game in three weeks for the Rocks due to the holiday lay-off.

Plymouth attempted 48 shots from the floor, hitting on 15. In contrast Trenton converted 23 of 64 field goal attempts, with 14 out of 30 coming in the first half. In the free throw department, the Trojans cashed 19 of 30 while the locals were bucketing nine of 16.

The Rocks lost possession of the ball 20 times through fumbles, bad passes, steps and other infraction of basic fundamentals. On the other hand, Trenton muffed the ball only seven times.

Tomorrow evening the Rocks play host to Redford Union, the team that appears on the right road to a 1955-56 conference championship. Redford Union previously slaughtered Trenton, 69-39, in the opening league battle, December 9. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Tripp's Lulfs Captures Recreation Scoring Lead

Dislodging the previous scoring leader in the men's recreation basketball league this week is Bob Lulfs, rapid-fire point producer for the Geo. Tripp cager squad. Lulfs, at center, blasted in 32 points last week against S. L. Brader and added another 14 against Bathey to list 115 tallies in six games in the scoring column.

Lulfs displaces Paul Strickland as the league's top scorer. Strickland, versatile center for Tait's Cleaners boasts 113 points as the result of 20 and eight point efforts last week. But Strickland no longer will be in the race for point honors having dropped off the Tait's team at the close of battling last week.

In third place in the scoring department is Don McMurray of the S. L. Brader squad. He has tallied 91 points to date hoisting himself two points above Max Allgood of the Trippsters with 89.

Other leaders are Duane Becker (74), Ed Hock (66), Mac Pierce (62), Dick Day (59), Bob Bruce (48), Bud Lanphear and Pat Robinson (both 43) and Bob Arlen (36).

Many wise parents are sending the Plymouth Mail to their sons in service and we know the boys are glad to get the news from home.

Tankers Rebound From Vacation With Easy 70-17 Win Over Trojans

A three week holiday vacation was of slight consequence to the Plymouth Tankers last Friday night as the local swimmers bounded back into action with a resounding victory over the visiting Trenton squad by a lop-sided score of 70-17. It was the Rocks second tank win as against as many losses.

In the process of walloping the Trojans, the Tankers set pool and team records with ease, while notching first places in all of the eight events. Captain Bill Brandell of the locals, who is having a record breaking year, wasted little time in swimming the 200-yard freestyle as he finished with a new pool and team record of 2:08.5. Brandell was followed by Jack Taylor who took second for the winning squad while Tom Coffey captured third for the Trojans.

Opening the meet was the 50-yard freestyle which saw Don Carney (Plymouth) hit the finish line with a winning time of 26 seconds. Teammate Dick Showers chased Carney in second place as Emory Cushing trailed Showers to take third for the one point award.

Winning the 100-yard breast stroke was Plymouth's Mike Todd with a time of 1:12.9. Capturing a close second for the locals was Bob Isbister who eked past Trenton's Bob Nelson by a stroke.

John Gregory, swimming the back stroke for his third successive year, was clocked in 1:07.4 while winning mark this 100-yard event, Jim Archer (Plymouth) received three points for second as he preceded Trenton's Don Hawn who picked up a single point for third.

Garry Wright gathered in first for the Rocks in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 57.3, breaking the team record formerly held by Dave Beegle. Taking a second in this event was Dennis Baker of the locals followed closely by Bob Polowske of the visiting team.

Arthur Losse, Plymouth's diving ace, continued his spring

Adult Ed. Card Begins Next Monday

Persons interested in any of the Plymouth adult education and recreation classes offered during the second semester still have ample time to register and enroll in the program, announced Director Herb Woolweaver this week.

He explained that although the semester's first classes get underway Monday evening, January 16, at 7:00, persons may enroll and register in organized classes any time during the course of the semester. Organized classes are those that have a minimum number of enrollees by Friday. At least ten class members are necessary for a class to be organized otherwise it is dropped from the program.

Woolweaver explained that registration and enrollment has been going strong during the early portion of the week. 1005 persons were participants in the adult education and recreation program over the past semester.

There are a total of 39 varied activities listed as potential organized classes in the coming semester's schedule. All depend on the minimum requirements as to whether they result in organized classes.

In addition, Woolweaver stated that nine new classes are being offered during the coming semester. They include photo-tinting, wood-refinishing, book-keeping, business English, advanced English for foreign born, piano, advanced Spanish and two other unique classes.

For additional information on the schedule of classes offered, fees required and the procedure to follow for registering and enrolling in classes, contact the adult education department, phone 895 (Plymouth high school.)

Tentative Plans Enlarge Summer Play Program

Three new play areas are tentatively being planned for the coming summer recreation playground program, announced the recreation department this week.

In addition two of last year's play areas possibly will have extended seasons. There are six regular major playgrounds located across the city.

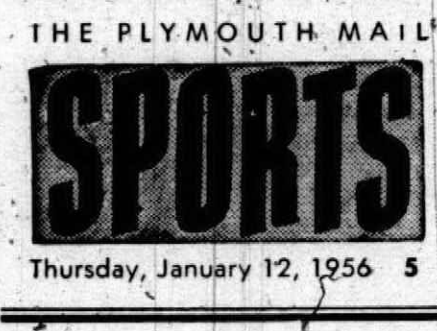

The three new playgrounds, called play-lots since they will not be as large as the major playgrounds, have possible locations at the corner of Auburn and Junction streets, on Hamilton street and east of Burroughs street.

The two old play areas that may have extended play periods are the Cherry Hill school and Truesdell school locations. The Hough school playground definitely will be open longer this summer.

Louise Cigile, Plymouth recreation playground director, explained that applications are now being accepted by the department for employees in various jobs in the program. She listed openings as playgrounds leaders, an arts and crafts director and a tennis instructor.

High school boys and girls, college boys and girls and men and women may file applications for these openings. Applications are being accepted at the recreation department, Plymouth high school. For further information, contact Louise Cigile or Herb Woolweaver at the recreation office, phone 895.

Tripp's Cagers Stretch Skein To 7 Straight

Following a 12 day Christmas holiday lay-off, the four basketball quintets in the local recreation men's cage league resumed play last week with four games played.

Highlighting the action was Tait's Cleaners' sudden rise from the cellar slot to second place in the loop. The Tait's five notched wins over S. L. Brader, 56-50, and Bathey Mig. Co., 53-35.

But, despite this showing the cleaner's squad still trails Geo. Tripp, who added two victories last week and now displays a perfect 7-0 record for hold on top place in the conference.

Tripp counted easy wins over Bathey, 60-43, and Brader 63-38. In the latter contest, Tripp's flashy center Bob Lulfs smashed the year's individual game scoring mark of 29 points when he pumped in 14 field goals and four free tosses for a total of 32 counters.

Opening game of the week was Tripp's win over Bathey, 60-43. Unable to collect their offensive wits sufficiently in the first half, the cagers from Tripp managed only a 29-23 bulge at the end of two quarters of play. But behind Mac Pierce's 14 points in the third and fourth stanzas, the Trippsters raced on to their final 17 point margin.

Pierce captured game scoring honors with 18 tallies, while Lulfs hit for 14 and Duane Becker added 13. High for Bathey was Dwight Eckler with 13 aided by Dick Day with 10.

In the second game that evening, Tait's surged into a three-way tie for second place by whipping up a 56-50 nod over Brader from Northville.

Entering the battle with a one-win and four-loss record, Tait's proceeded to scramble to its scant six point win. The Tait's five, although they never trailed Brader, failed to boost themselves to more than a five point margin until the closing minutes of play.

The running score found Tait's out in front 12-9 at the end of the first period, leading 26-21 at the half, ahead 39-35 at the three-quarter mark to pave the way to the final count. All but two of the 13 players that saw action scored points. Heading up the point-making was Tait's Paul Strickland with eight field goals and four charity tosses for 20 points, while Terry Brennan for Brader notched 16 tallies. Pat Robinson and Bob Bruce each contributed 14 for Tait's while Don Graham hit for 14 for Brader.

On Thursday evening Tait's clicked for another victory, this being an easy 53-35 edge over Bathey. Trailing 9-8 at the end of the first quarter, Tait's finally got underway in the second half to erupt for 35 points, more than enough to clinch the win.

Despite the loss of their high-scoring center Paul Strickland, who fouled out in the third period, the Tait's cagers were never threatened through the last two stanzas.

Tait's moved from an 18-14 lead at the half to a sudden 32-20 bulge at the three-quarter spot and then bucketed 21 points in the final frame to scuttle the Bathey quintet. Roger Bogen-schultz dumped in 15 points in a losing cause for Bathey, while Tait's scoring load was carried by Frank Nedry with 14 and Robinson with 12.

Final basketball battle of the week in the recreation loop was Tripp's 63-38 mauling of the hapless Brader quintet behind Lulfs' explosion of 32 points. The Trippsters stretched their win skein to seven straight to continue domination of the conference.

A 14-7 bulge at the end of the initial period was widened to 34-16 at the half by the men from Tripp. Brader outscored the Tripp five in the third period, 15-13, but were overwhelmed in the closing frame as the Trippsters garnered 17 points to Brader's seven.

Lulfs cashed 17 of his total in the first half and added 15 in the final two periods to blast the previous individual game scoring mark of 29 set by Don McMurray of the Brader team. Brennan led the Brader cagers with 10 points while Ed Hock bucketed eight.

The standings:

SPEND 15 MINUTES IN A 'PowerStyle' CHRYSLER

learn why it's today's biggest buy of all fine cars!

It doesn't take long to find out why Chrysler is winning the reputation as the performance leader of 1956. Just a few minutes behind the wheel of a big Chrysler Windsor V-8 like this one will show you why.
Suppose you are in the right-hand lane on an expressway . . . four lengths behind a big truck rolling along between 35 and 40 miles per hour. You want to pass. You toe the throttle and in eight seconds flat you're four lengths ahead of that moving truck and back in your own lane!
That's 1956 Chrysler performance. That's the kind of power only the "PowerStyle"

Chrysler can deliver . . . with its great airplane-type V-8 engine.
And that's not all. There's full-time PowerPilot Steering . . . Pushbutton PowerFlite, the ultimate in automatic transmissions . . . and the big PowerSmooth Brakes that outlast others 2 to 1.
These are just some of the exciting new things that await you the first time you pilot a "PowerStyle" Chrysler. If you're driving one of the other cars in Chrysler's price class, by all means make a direct comparison now. Just 15 minutes behind the wheel will show you why it's the biggest buy you can drive today!

ENJOY THE FINEST BEEF AT ARBOR - LILL

NOTE: The 4-H Grand Champion Black Angus "Blackie," purchased by Arbor-Lill at the Detroit Junior Livestock show, is now being served in the form of delicious beef in our dining room.

THE "BLACK ANGUS" is a highly specialized beef producing animal stemming from the Aberdeen-Angus breed of cattle. As the name implies the hides of these animals are a pure black. They are identified by their short legs, hornless heads and straight broad backs.

This breed, has gained steadily in demand by high quality beef cattle ranchers since its entrance into the country in 1873 from Scotland. It has proven to be the finest producer of prize beef known to cattle raisers in this country. The number of champion bulls, steers and cows which came from this breed are innumerable.

It goes without saying that it is our endeavor to serve you with the finest quality beef products that may be purchased in this country. Therefore, we have selected the champion in his class and we intend to serve only the choicest meats at the "ARBOR-LILL."

Club's Achievement Honors Awarded Local Musical Artist

"Woman of Achievement" honors, conferred each month by the Business and Professional Women's club upon some Plymouth-area resident for her outstanding accomplishments, will go this Monday evening to Mrs. Carl

Evelyn Woods

Groschke, professionally known as Evelyn Woods.
Miss Woods, who is staff pianist for the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, will be the club's honored guest for the 6:30 dinner meeting in the Mayflower hotel.
The local pianist began her musical career in Toledo, Ohio where she gave her first concert in the Art Institute at the age of five years. Her next few years were spent on personal appearance tours throughout the country, including engagements as far west as Los Angeles, California.
At the age of 13 Miss Woods became a scholarship student at the Institute of Musical Art of the Juilliard school in New York City, graduating five years later with a teacher's diploma and honors.

Through a competitive examination she was then awarded a scholarship in the Graduate school where she spent the next five years studying with two famous artists, Olga Samaroff Stokowski and Carl Friedberg.
In addition to her work with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, Miss Woods has established herself as a soloist and teacher. She has appeared in numerous concerts, clubs engagements, on radio programs as well as made solo appearances with symphony orchestras in other communities. She resides at 1051 North Mill, Odene Hitt of Westport, Conn., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hitt, on Sheridan avenue, over the weekend while on a business trip to Lansing and Detroit for the National Dairy Company of New York City.

Daisy Employees Split $383,000 Under Pioneer Profit-Sharing Plan

Profit-sharing is an old story at Daisy Manufacturing company. Together with such firms as Proctor & Gamble, Sears and Roebuck, and Hormel, Daisy is a pioneer member of the Council of Profit-Sharing Industries. In 1955

the plan yielded over $383,000 for Daisy folks.
Daisy's first profit "bonus" was paid in 1913, and at intervals in the years which followed. But the idea of a "bonus" was never entirely satisfactory, because there was no direct connection between employee performance and the success of the company's operation. There was a need to tie the interest and effort of every employee to the success of the business.

So in 1946, the company's present profit-sharing plan came into being. As Daisy nears the 10th anniversary of the plan, company records show that a total of over $2,300,000 has been distributed to employees since 1946.

Following the formula "half for retirement, half in cash" the company annually sets aside 30 per cent of its profits before Federal taxes for employees.
The 1955, yield of $383,000.00 was half paid out in cash in two installments. The first was paid in June for the first six months of the company's fiscal year, amounting to approximately seven cents per hour for each hour worked by each employee. The second payment, just before Christmas, amounted to 32.4 cents per hour worked by each employee. The largest checks were approximately $340.

Slightly over $191,000, representing the other half of profits set aside for employees, was also placed in trust in the Daisy Employees Retirement Fund, into which $1,115,000 has been poured since 1946.
Employees share in the retirement fund on a basis of seniority and annual earnings. When they decide to retire, shares are paid to them in a lump sum instead of a monthly pension. There is no required retirement age at Daisy, and 15 employees have now retired under the plan.

Rev. and Mrs. Barnhard Johnson

Former Resident Speaks at Local Assembly of God

Reverend and Mrs. Barnhard Johnson will be the guest speakers at the 7 p.m. service on Thursday, Friday and Sunday, January 12, 13 and 15, at the local Assembly of God church, Ann Arbor trail at Riverside drive, it was announced this week.

Mrs. Johnson is the former Doris Puckett of Haggerty highway. She is a graduate of Plymouth high school, class of 1947. Mrs. Johnson is also a graduate of Central Bible Institute, Springfield, Missouri. For the past three years, she and her husband have pastored churches in California preparatory to becoming missionaries to Brazil, South America.

Reverend and Mrs. Johnson plan to leave for Brazil during the latter part of this year.

Church Women Plan World Day of Prayer

With the approach of the Lenten season, plans for the local observance of World Day of Prayer on Friday, February 17, are being made by the Plymouth council of United Church Women.

The service is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal church, Harvey and Maple streets. Participating in the event are the eight churches represented on the U.C.W. council. World Day of Prayer chairman is Mrs. Sidney Strong of the Episcopal church, with Mrs. Gerald Fitch of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, serving as co-chairman.

World Day of Prayer, observed by different faiths throughout the world, will have as its theme this year, "One Flock, One Shepherd." The selection is based on the biblical passage found in John, 10:16: "And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: Them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one flock, and one shepherd."

Salvation Army Aiding Victims

Some 200 Salvation Army officers, plus hundreds of lay volunteers, are serving in some 54 communities of the 20 flood-stricken northern California counties, it was reported today by the Salvation Army territorial commander, Lt. Commissioner Holland French.

To aid evacuees and workers on dikes and levees in flood river areas, The Salvation Army has set up emergency feeding centers and mobile canteens serving coffee, sandwiches and hot meals. They have set up emergency shelters in Salvation Army buildings, schools, civic auditoriums, and National Guard armories, as well as clothing and food depots to distribute supplies lifted and conveyed by dozens of trucks from San Francisco and Oakland Disaster Relief Headquarters of The Salvation Army. Round the clock communications are being cleared through switchboards attended by relays of volunteers.

U. S. Army trucks have been placed at the disposal of Salvation Army Officer Captain George Duplain, in charge of the shipping operation. Dozens of American Legion volunteers labored to pick up, sort and load emergency supplies.

Throughout San Francisco and Oakland as well as in Salvation Army Men's Social Service Centers of other cities throughout the state, collection depots for food and clothing have been set up. In the Bay Area, depots have been established at all fire stations and in some 490 churches as well as offices of such agencies as the American Friends Service Committee, Councils of Churches and Lutheran League.

Working for the betterment of mankind is excellent, if you are really working for the betterment of mankind.

Good Counsel Altar Society Installs Officers

Mrs. James Hinckley was installed as president of the Rosary-Altar society of Our Lady of Good Counsel church, following her re-election to this post, at a meeting of the organization on Wednesday, January 4.

Mrs. James Hughes, also re-elected, was installed as first vice president of the society. New officers installed were Miss Elizabeth McDonald, second vice president and parish president of the local branch, National Council of Catholic Women; Mrs. Alphonse Huettner, secretary; and Mrs. James P. Murphy, treasurer.

Continuing as chairmen of standing committees are Mrs. Matthew Krump, relief; Mrs. Dale Rittenhouse, literature; Mrs. Clifford Caldwell, cancer work; Mrs. Joseph Neault, volunteer service; and Miss Elizabeth McDonald, motion pictures.

The Rosary-Altar society, only women's organization of the local parish, has for its primary purpose the personal spiritual development of its members. Another work of the society is the care and upkeep of the altar linens and the sanctuary.

Meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month. All members are urged to receive Holy communion in a group on the first Sunday of the month and to perform the other spiritual works recommended.

As an affiliate of the Southwestern Deaconry of the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, the group participates in the work of the National Catholic Welfare services.

Baha'is to Observe World Religion Day

World Religion Day will be observed by public meetings by two Baha'i communities in this area on Sunday, January 15. In both meetings emphasis will be focused on religious liberty.

In Detroit, Robert Gaines, Ford engineer and director of the Ford proving ground at Romeo, Michigan will be the speaker. This meeting will be at the Veteran's Memorial building at 3 p.m. in the Polar Bear room.

In Ann Arbor the meeting will be at the Women's League on the U of M campus at 3 p.m. A panel of University students will discuss religious liberty.

This is the seventh annual observance of World Religion Day by the Baha'is, to testify to their conviction that the foundation of all true religions is one.

Registration Starts Jan. 16 For Livonia Adult Classes

Registration for Livonia Public Schools' second semester adult education classes will begin the week of January 16. Registrations will be held at Bentley high school Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, January 16, 18 and 20, from 7:30 to 9:30. Adults may also register during any day of this same week at the Board of Education offices, 15125 Farmington road, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Last semester it was reported that the enrollment was unusually large in cake decorating, driver training, sewing and typing. Adults interested in these courses are advised to register as early in the week as possible so that all sizes can be determined.

All courses offered during the first semester of this year will be reoffered during the second semester. These include: Bookkeeping, cake decorating, ceramics, driver training, furniture refinishing and woodworking, interior decorating, painting (oil and watercolor), public speaking, rug braiding, sewing (beginning and advanced), shorthand (beginning and advanced), tailoring, typing (beginning and advanced), upholstery and vocal music.

Several new courses will be offered for the first time in the second semester program. A course on sex education for parents of teen-age children, will be taught jointly by the Wayne County Health Department and the Livonia school staff. It will cover such topics as "Sex Education Within the Family," "Answering Children's Questions," "Understanding our Teen-Agers," "Understanding Ourselves as Parents."

A new course will also be offered in PTA leadership training. The instruction will be given jointly by Wayne University and the Livonia school administrative staff. The content of the course will include such topics as purposes and organization of PTA's.

Two other tentative new offerings include a home improvement course covering general carpentry work and simple home additions, and a course in investments for the home owner.

Other courses not offered during the first semester because of low enrollments will be reoffered, if sufficient interest is shown. These include mathematics, business machines and blue print reading.

Classes will start the week of January 23. Fees will be the same as during the first semester, $5 for each course except driver training, which is $10. Applications will be accepted for driver training, but the next classes will not begin until March.

keeping in touch

FROM THE Escape hotel in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida comes word of the W. W. Laurys of East Ann Arbor trail, enjoying the sunshine in the Sunshine State.

A WIFE WHO aims to please is Norma Schmeman, that's why you'll find a parakeet nicknamed "Thunderbird" flying around the George Schmeman home on Territorial road. Seems George had asked for a new Thunderbird (of the 4-wheel variety) for Christmas. Wife Norma obliged with the feathered friend. Real name of the bird thought up by Attorney George is "Res Ipsa Loquitur", a legal term which we're told means "the thing speaks for itself."

TODAY, the television show carried over channel 4, will originate today—January 12—from the Henry Ford Museum to show the famous "Sports Cars in Review" being featured at the museum through February 5.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Be as just and gracious unto me as I am confident and kind to thee. —Shakespeare.

Income Declaration Due by January 16

District Director A. M. Menninger states it's time to review your income for the year 1955. If you have filed a declaration previously or now find that you are required to file a declaration in the fourth quarter, due to change in your income or exemptions, now is the time to give this serious consideration. If you have to file a 1955 amended declaration or a declaration for the first time, it is due on or before January 16, 1956.

In lieu of filing this declaration or amended declaration, you may file your final income tax return on or before January 31, 1956. In the case of farmers, they may file their final return on or before February 15, 1956.

If you have any questions regarding the declaration of estimated income tax or any income tax problem, call or visit the Internal Revenue office nearest your home or place of business.

Historic Landmark of City, Topic for Society Meeting

A revised paper on the Lapham store, landmark of earlier Plymouth, written by Mrs. Paul Ware will be read by its author at a meeting of the Plymouth Historical society at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, January 12, in the Veteran's Memorial building, Main street.

Location of the Lapham store, a portion of which still remains, is at the end of Holbrook, near Schoolcraft. The former merchandising center ran a brisk business in satisfying the needs of Plymouth residents, housing everything from needles down to thrashing machines.

A social hour will follow the meeting when refreshments will be served by members of the organization.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A recently-completed controlled hunt at the Cusino wildlife station in the upper peninsula offers some comforting facts to deer hunters who didn't get their buck this year.

As many as 10 conservation officers and game biologists hunted a mile square enclosure containing more than 30 deer. At the end of 10 days of hunting, the total kill was only seven bucks, one adult doe and two fawns.

During the first nine days, only bucks were hunted and it took an average of more than 42 hunter-hours to bag an adult male, adding proof that whitetails are more crafty than many persons think.

The controlled hunt was designed to remove surplus deer from the enclosure and provide further information on the effect of a given hunting pressure on a known deer herd.

All deer shot were presented to public schools in Shingleton and Munising for use in their hot lunch programs.

The remaining deer in the enclosure will be live-trapped and some will be used to restock the enclosure for study while others will be released in open forests.

Rabbit hunting in southern Michigan promises to be even better than last year when hunters bagged more than 1,400,000 cottontails.

Reports from the Conservation Department's Rose Lake wildlife experiment station show an estimated 20 per cent increase in rabbit populations over last year. Rabbit kill at Rose Lake has increased this year although hunting pressure is down four per cent.

Moderate weather following December's cold spell promises better hunting for the remainder of the season which extends through January 31. Cold weather caused rabbits to hole-up and also kept hunting pressure down.

Conservation research in Michigan in 1956 will point to more accurate estimates of fish and game populations, improvement of fishing, better game cover and deer range, control of forest diseases and insects and continued advancement of all resource management methods.

Dr. Justin W. Leonard, in charge of research for the Conservation Department, says more accurate information is needed on numbers of deer, grouse, trout and bass that live in Michigan and the number of these creatures harvested each year by sportsmen.

Studies of warm-water fish will be stepped up in 1956 with the operation of a new experiment station at Hastings, in Barry county. Formerly a state fish hatchery, the Hastings site is being developed for exclusive study of non-trout species.

Investigations will continue on the possibility of being able to plant two-year-old rainbow trout near mouths of streams with some assurance they will return to those streams after growing up in the Great Lakes.

Selective breeding experiments are planned to improve trout brood stock and the quality of predatory game fish.

In game research, the otter will come in for some intensive study to determine his significance as a predator and furbearer. Last year's experimental re-introductions of wild turkeys also will be followed closely.

Flooding projects will be evaluated to predict their usefulness to waterfowl, furbearers and fish.

Pathologists will study parasites and diseases affecting fish and game. A new virus disease which killed some deer during the fall of 1955 will come in for intensive investigation.

Conservation research, said Dr. Leonard, will be kept flexible to meet unpredictable situations. "In management of fish, game, forests and other renewable resources, changes are inevitable and research must point to changes in management if we are to keep production of these resources in step with public demand."

Public use of the Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing in 1955 was the highest in 15 years, with more than 16,000 persons visiting the area.

Some 5,600 hunters, including 3,300 small game hunters; used the area. Firearm deer hunters totaled 1,635, archery deer hunters accounted for another 479 hunter-days and 216 waterfowl hunters registered.

The 1955 total use of the Rose Lake station was a 12 per cent increase over 1954 when about 13,000 persons made use of facilities. Annual usage has increased steadily since the station was opened in 1937. Attendance records have been kept since the area was opened to hunting in 1940.

Picknickers rolled up an estimated 3,200 days of use and 1,800 fishermen tried their luck. Nature study and hiking attracted another 1,200 visitors.

A field archery course at the Conservation Department establishment continued to arouse increased interest as more than 1,500 archery-days were recorded. Station biologists conducted tours for 961 visitors from schools, state universities, farm groups and scout units.

Oddities reported during the last deer season included an eight point buck that shed his antlers after he was dead. Mrs. Donna Swarthout of Harrison bagged the buck and said one antler dropped off before she got the animal home. She placed her seal on the other antler and dressed out the deer. Later, while she was dragging the deer, the other antler dropped off.

Mrs. Swarthout called Conservation officer Edward Beechem who checked both antlers and found they fitted the sockets perfectly. The antlers had just come off prematurely.

The Passage-Gayde Auxiliary will hold its first business meeting of the New Year at 8 p.m. this evening at the Veteran's Community Center. The Essay Contest program for this year will be discussed. All members are asked to attend this meeting.

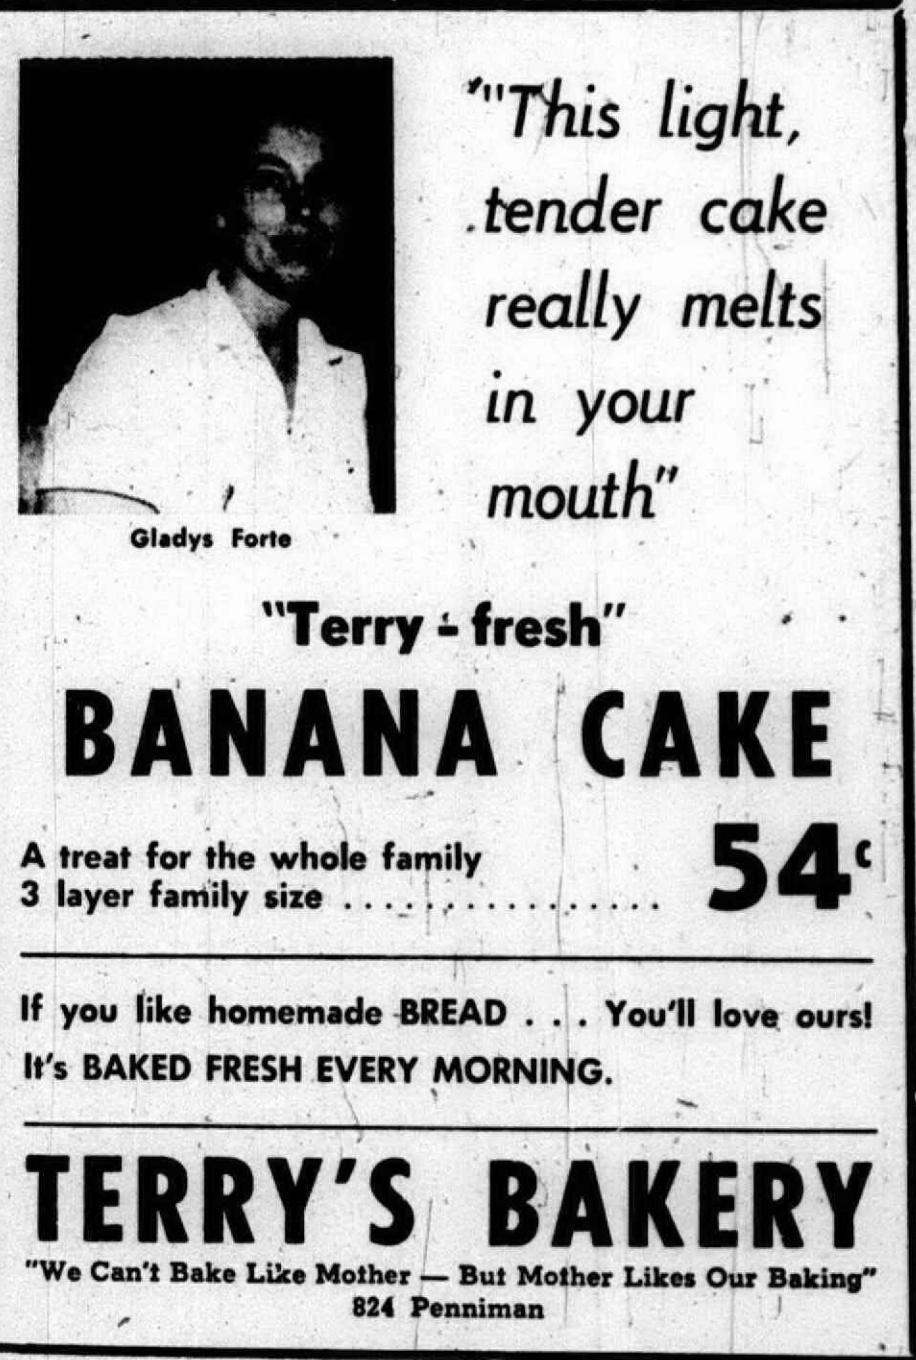

The Post held their first of the newly programmed bi-monthly business meetings on Wednesday, January 4. Plans for the Spring Carnival were discussed and tentative plans arranged. Next business meeting will be on Wednesday, January 18, when plans for the initiation ceremonies, scheduled for the February 1st meeting, must be completed.

The regular 17th District business meeting is at Redford-Detroit Post on Friday, January 13, at 8:30 p.m.

On January 19, the Auxiliary is holding a card party at the Veteran's Community Center at 8 p.m., proceeds of which will go to the March of Dimes.

There are four good reasons why we all should get behind the March of Dimes and help make it the usual success it is: 1) Thousands of polio patients are still being stricken; 2) Hundreds and hundreds of iron lungs must be kept going; 3) Vital polio research is still going on and 4) Hospitals and laboratories are in urgent need of trained manpower. We wish to quote a portion of a recent commentary by Helen Hayes, National Chairman of Women's Activities, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. "The new year brings us the wonderful news that every day, more and more vaccine is available to protect our children from crippling polio. As members of the American Legion Auxiliary, it is your privilege to share in the glow of accomplishment that comes with this good news, because your dimes and your dollars made possible the blessing of the Salk vaccine. The polio program for 1956 is vitally concerned with repairing lives—the lives of 68,000 patients already stricken and all those who will be felled before the fight against polio is truly over. You who have waged this war know how vital it is now to press on to complete victory through the March of Dimes."

Any Post member who is still interested in participating in the State Legion Bowling Tournament should contact Vern Miller right away so that he can get our entries and registrations in. The tournament is being held in Bay City this year.

Here's Recipe For Delicious Cinnamon Rolls

Famed in neighborhood circles for her delicious cinnamon rolls is Mrs. Walter Brown of 1437 Sheridan avenue, who shares with us this week her recipe for these scrumptious treats.

Originally from her sister-in-law's files, this recipe has become a favorite in the Brown household since it was first introduced there six or seven years ago. The rolls have a light and feathery dough, interspersed with pinwheels of a "gooey" cinnamon, butter and sugar mixture.

Here's the way to make them:

Cinnamon Rolls

1 yeast cake
4 tablespoons of lukewarm water
½ cup of shortening
1 teaspoon of salt
½ cup of sugar
1 cup of hot milk
2 eggs, beaten
4½ cups of flour, sifted before measuring

Crumble yeast in cup, add lukewarm water, let stand five minutes.

Mix shortening and milk, let stand until lukewarm, add yeast mixture. Then add sugar, salt, and eggs, and two cups of sifted flour. Beat three minutes. Add remainder of the flour and mix well. Cover dough with cloth, set in warm place until it doubles in size (about two hours).

Take out, roll on board ¼-inch thick, spread with filling and roll like jelly roll. Cut 1 ¼-inch slices, place on greased cookie sheet or pan. Let rise again about two hours, then bake in oven 425 to Placing her freshly-made cinnamon rolls in the oven is Mrs. Walter Brown, 1437 Sheridan.

450 degrees, 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 15 large rolls.

Filling:
4 tablespoons of butter
½ cup of sugar
1 teaspoon of cinnamon

When rolls are finished baking, they may be topped with powdered sugar.

Pork Cuts Get "Leaner Look"

Pork cuts are getting a "leaner look." Consumers are seeing more and more cuts of pork with a thinner fat trim, according to an extension specialist at Michigan State University.

Many packers are now leaving only one-quarter inch fat trim on pork cuts instead of one-half inch. This leaner look is particularly apparent on hams and loins, says the expert.

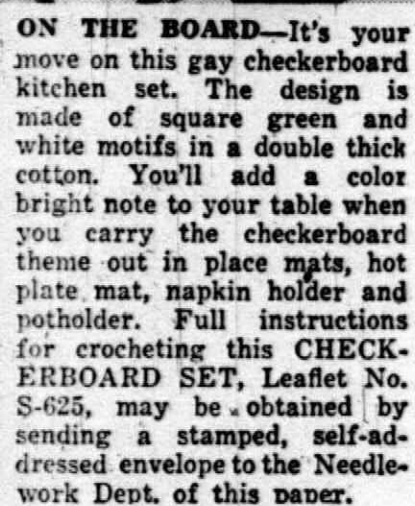

A producers' group, the National Swine Growers Council, helped initiate the closer trim of fat, it was reported. The council worked closely with packers and processors to start the leaner look fashion.

By providing a product more suited to consumer desires, the council hopes this closer trim will boost the use of pork.

The specialist points out that Michigan has a swine evaluation station in operation to locate strains of meat-type hogs within breeds. Cuts from meat-type hogs will not need trimming to achieve a leaner look.

Other council projects include making uniform standards for meat-type hogs in all states and developing uniform health standards for easier inter-state shipment of breeding stock.

Many a person eats away his insides being envious of others, and thereby destroys his own personality.

ON THE BOARD—It's your move on this gay checkerboard kitchen set. The design is made of square green and white motifs in a double thick cotton. You'll add a color bright note to your table when you carry the checkerboard theme out in place mats, hot plate mat, napkin holder and potholder. Full instructions for crocheting this CHECKERBOARD SET, Leaflet No. S-625, may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper.

Here's Guide For Purchase Of Sale Coat

Sales of winter clothes are in progress or will be soon. Buying a winter coat on sale is one way we can make a substantial saving in one of our most expensive clothing items, claims a Wayne County Home Agent.

What is a good buy the shopper should ask herself. A coat bought on sale should have all the qualities that make a coat a good buy at any time, says the specialist. It is a fact that each season certain colors and style features are high fashion. At the same time, the conservative classics may have just a few minor changes in the silhouette and in the fashion details. Drastic changes in styling or extremes in styling are usually introduced with a few garments to see how the public will accept them.

If the particular fashion is liked it will be good the second season. By the third season, this style will usually be on its way out. There are fashions in fabrics also. All of this makes it important to know something of the trends before buying a coat on sale. This is doubly important if you plan to wear the coat a number of seasons.

She quotes a saying that goes like this, "be not the first nor yet the last." This applies very well to the buying of coats—fashion-wise. If you select the unusual in line, color or of an untried new fashion, plan to get the maximum wear from your coat the first year.

Be cautious of buying the unusual coat on the sales rack if there are many like it hanging there. It may be an indication that the coat has not sold well. Finally, remember that buying the unusual in its third year out is a poor investment.

It's time to buy an

Pastel Shades, Elegant Fabrics Keynote Fashions for Spring

Five colors will take the fashion limelight this spring—grayed blue, soft pink, yellow and green and a bisque tone of pale beige. You will see these tones in light-weight jerseys, flannels, broadcloth, wool crepe, and light weight worsteds and silky floeces.

Another big hit will be crepe and silk print dresses with drapery detail at the tummy line. These are quite a change from the linen and rayon sheath dresses so popular for the last few seasons. They are softer and can be worn by more women with success.

Chiffon scarfs will be floating from double slit pockets in many dresses designed for morning. Surah silk is more important than ever before. Flattering side-swept draping at the bodice will be good.

Gold metallic fabrics will carry through the spring. Many linen and cotton suits and dresses are using gold trim. One lovely cocktail dress features a full skirt of surah silk and gold metallic cocktail pants showing through the slit skirt which is open from waist to hem. The bodice is fitted and the sleeves are three-fourths dolman design. This is not the type dress most of us will buy but it looks interesting in a fashion show.

Shirtwaist type dress wearers will be happy to know that top designers say that the shirtwaist style will be a big favorite this coming spring and summer. One designer has made a trench coat shirtwaist type dress that is destined for fashion fame. By inverting a pleat in a shirtwaist's sleeve the designer has come up with a new sleeve twist.

Lace is being coupled with nylon marquisette or chiffon for a new look in after-five clothes. The embroidered look will be smart for afternoon and evening clothes. Embroidered linen and failles and Swiss woven stripes and Persian prints will be outstanding.

Soft-spoken, yes! (One reason is the hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all Chevrolet engines—V8 or 6.) And this handsome traveler packs a horsepower wallop that ranges up to 205! It's charged with sheer concentrated action!

Early Plymouth Industrial History Recalled in Series

Ed. Note: A member of the Plymouth Historical society, who prefers to remain anonymous, has written a paper on the industrial history of Plymouth, which The Mail will present periodically. He writes of the sawmills in this issue. He will later tell of the flour mills, serghum mill, coppershop, the asney and the carding mill which is now in Greenfield Village.

Not so long ago a stranger from rock-ribbed New England asked your historian how it came about that Plymouth came to be situated in this particular location. To one with a native background to this site's potential as an early industrial community is obvious. Settled by westward migrating Yankees seeking virgin soil and resources of cheap water power for the mills necessary to their economy, this site appealed to them as ideal. Ample hardwood timber with which to build their houses, fashion their vehicles and many other items for their use were present almost for the mere taking. Easier working, less rocky soil and lower taxes could also have been inducements. My great grandfather's first year's taxes on five acres, house, barn and other buildings came to the princely sum of $1.43.

To be sure, the power resources were rather feeble, but not to the backs, brains and determination of our hardy pioneers to this new territory of Michigan. Thus it came to pass that the little stream which now placidly meanders through a purely recreational area of Riverside Park was promptly impounded and put to work supplying power to many small mills strung along its course.

This short series will attempt to describe some of these early industries established in and near Plymouth, thus beginning its era of industrial development. Some of these establishments may have been entirely forgotten by our older residents. Surely none would be known at all by the thousands of newcomers to whom millions of electric horsepower required by our present factories has been a commonplace. Perhaps the sketches will give them an added interest in the city of their choice.

THE SAWMILLS

Sawmills were probably the first of the water-powered mills to be built. Your historian recalls one which was still standing on Plymouth road about 100 yards west of the Edward Hines drive overpass, long since deserted and unused but taken over as a home for sparrows, mice, rats, bats and woodchucks and a group of small boys who used it as a retreat from parental supervision, in which they could play fireman by sliding down a verticle shaft which led from the upper level down to the waterwheel. So many slides were taken in the course of time that this shaft became polished to a glassy slickness. This is to say until their parents found out about this dangerous pastime of their "darlings." The polishing was then transferred to other "quarters."

The dam for this mill was about where the C & O railroad crosses the stream, the water being led to the back of the mill through a canal along the hillsides into a surgetank. This canal and tank had clay and rock banks and constituted no mean engineering feat to get the proper fall to give the water its power. Motion was given to the machinery by means of a cumbersome overshot waterwheel acting through gears and a large verticle shaft which led to the upper level where the sawing was done.

The saw was of the pit or drag-saw type (buzz or circular saws were not then in use). With imagination one might say that it was a Paul Bunyan handsaw. Its up and down progress through the log, as one can guess, was very slow. The story was told that the last owner and operator of this mill, Mr. Gumsolly, would set the machine in motion and then climb the hill to his home on Holbrook for his dinner and catnap —returning in time to remove the lumber before the finish of the cut.

It was strictly a one-man operation. The logs rolled down to the carriage by gravity and so there was no need for a professional sawyer at 24 cents an hour and fringe benefits. This building was ultra-modern in design, being two stories with ground level entrances to each. An addition housed a cidemill which was on the lower level. Thus it had two seasons of brisk business.

These periods were sandwiched between the busy season of yet another mill owned and operated by the same man. This mill was directly in line with the sawmill but south on the other side of Plymouth road and derived its power from the same stream which led through a stone aqueduct under the road.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

A few daily exercises will keep the figure firm. There are so many exercises for every defect in the human figure, beauty and posture that it is a wonder that all of us don't have a perfect shape. Some are of little use when compared to others and it is a good idea to know the good from the bad.

Because of the great number of exercises, women are as confused as to which ones to take as they are about what cosmetics to buy. Actually, you need to take only a few exercises each day. Fifteen or twenty minutes spent in exercises will greatly improve figure and health.

Each day the average woman should take a couple of abdominal exercises. These are beneficial to health, and of course, the abdomen is one of the spots which is apt to accumulate fatty deposits as we accumulate years. Two waist exercises, two for the thighs and inner upper leg line, two hip exercises, two postural exercises, two for whatever your personal figure problem might be.

These will tire you at first and make your muscles sore if you are not accustomed to exercise. For this reason it is a good idea to start with just a few exercises and work up to the fifteen or twenty minutes you plan to take as a regular thing. Don't let anything short of illness keep you from your exercises. It is the regular exercise that does you good.

Don't use the excuse that you are too old. There are exercises designed for more mature people. There are also exercises designed for the new mother that will not only help her to get her figure back in a hurry, but will make her feel better faster. These usually start in the hospital before the mother is out of bed. At this point they are very mild. The exercises are increased gradually until the new mother is taking regular exercises.

Physical Asset

The elderly clerk approached the personnel manager with some reluctance.

"I suppose I'd better retire soon," he began. "My doctor tells me my hearing is going fast and I notice I don't hear what some of the customers say to me."

"Retire?" beamed the executive. "Nonsense, I'll put you in the complaint department."

Done Enough

Elmer, age 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal Joe.

"I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe, and carried her books. I bought her an ice-cream soda twice. Now, do you think I ought to kiss her?"

"Naw, you don't need to," Joe decided after a moment of deep thought. "You have done enough for that girl already."

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-263-C

DESIGN B-263-C. The floor plan of this house is particularly interesting because of its well-distributed closets, the small hall serving all rooms and the compact grouping of the bathroom, kitchen and laundry plumbing. Working drawings call for exterior walls of concrete blocks with stucco finish, stone veneer in front, frame gable ends and asphalt shingles. There is a full basement, except under the garage, plus two bedrooms, eight closets, a bath, a combination kitchen-dinette and a living room. Also included is a fireplace, double-glazed picture window, attached garage and a covered entrance. The floor area is 976 square feet and the cube is 19,932 cubic feet, not including the garage. For further information about DESIGN B-263-C, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Lightweight Insulation Is Easiest to Install

Porous insulation for the home must be light in weight to be efficient at stopping heat, as well as easy to handle and quick to install. Low density insulations do not absorb and hold heat as do heavier materials.

One of the lightest of commercial insulating materials is the many-layer fiber blanket called Kimsul, which weighs only 1.3 pounds a cubic foot when installed. One grade has an aluminum foil cover, which adds the insulating advantages of a reflective surface while increasing the weight only slightly.

BUILDING AND REMODELING NEWS FOR FARM & HOME

Add Handy Storage Space to Bathroom For Linens, Toiletries, Cleaning Items

Adding storage space to a bathroom can put an end to such annoyances as having to walk dripping wet to a hall linen closet for a forgotten towel, seeing unsightly cleaning materials exposed, and lacking enough flat surface on which to lay toiletry articles.

An effective solution for these and other problems of convenience and appearance is to provide a built-in cabinet to fit around and below the lavatory. With a custom-made cabinet, you can be sure of getting the exact features and styling you prefer.

The enclosed space underneath the lavatory basin can afford ample storage for towels, wash cloths, soap, toilet and facial tissues, scouring powders, brushes and other bathroom supplies—all readily at hand but out of view.

The top of the cabinet, extending from the sides of the lavatory and perhaps along the front, serves as a counter. On it one can set out all the toilet articles needed at a particular time, without opening and closing the medicine chest repeatedly and without the risk of a bottle's dropping from a precarious perch.

If there is room, it will be a welcome favor to the woman of the house to extend the counter beyond the cabinet area at one side to form a built-in vanity stand. For resistance to nail polish, varnish, household solutions, cigarette butts and other punishment, an excellent material for surfacing the counter is Marlite, a decorated hardboard used widely for walls and ceilings.

The beauty of Marlite, available in marble patterns, wood grains and plain colors, is protected by a baked plastic finish, which means easy damp-wipe cleaning as well as durability. To apply to a counter top, a piece cut to size is bonded with wall-board adhesive to plywood or other solid base.

Similarly, doors and sides of the lavatory cabinet also may be covered with the same paneling material, to match or contrast with the top.

Few home improvement projects can add more satisfaction for daily living than a built-in bathroom storage cabinet planned to meet the family's particular needs and to give a distinctive flair in decor.

Today's Home Buyers Seek Good Equipment

Today's home buyers are as discriminating a lot of people as ever put a broker, builder or mortgage man to the test.

Twenty-five years ago, according to findings of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers' Association, buyers were attracted largely by exteriors. Most two-floor houses looked alike, and the slightest variation in outside construction got special attention and commanded a better price.

On the other hand, the present-day split-level Cape Cod and ranch homes offer a greater variety of room arrangements and tend to sharpen buyers' judgment as to the location, appearance and quality of interior equipment.

It is interesting to note that only ten years ago, young couples were concerned chiefly with the number of rooms or with the paint or location of switches and sockets. Nowadays, however, benefiting by the education in home buying provided by the press and radio as well as by builders' groups, people of the same age enquire about building materials, space-saving construction and energy-saving facilities.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For the Home

Instead of blowing out sawdust with the breath from blind holes and crevices, Popular Mechanics suggests the use of an empty plastic "squeeze" bottle, which will serve as a handy bellows.

First, remove any remaining contents from the bottle. Then rinse it thoroughly with water or a solvent, being sure that it is permitted to dry thoroughly before it is used.

The magazine warns that eyes should be protected against flying particles when using a bellows of any type.

A common problem in any household is how to pull a nail without damaging finished wood surfaces. Popular Mechanics suggests the following solution, as illustrated.

Take a rubber plate scraper and slot it as shown.

When a nail is pulled, the hammer head is rested on the scraper blade.

For a larger shield, the home craftsman can cut a section from an old rubber sink pad or car floor mat.

Teletalk is the safe, up-to-date way to insure quick identification of callers at the front door. Simply relay your questions and receive replies through this two-way communication system. It saves many unnecessary steps and time, too.

New Oil Valve Gives Quieter Home Heating

Operation of the oil burner on home heating systems can be made quieter and cleaner by use of a unique valve assembly, recently developed, which attaches directly to the fuel unit or at any point along the nozzle line. Called the Delay-trol, the unit can be installed in only a few minutes at a cost of less than $10, plus installation costs.

The unit is a delayed opening valve which, on cold starts, holds back the delivery of oil to the nozzle for 6 to 8 seconds. This permits the oil burner motor to come to full speed and establish adequate draft, thus assuring complete atomization and the proper amount of air for combustion. On the shut-down, the unit cuts off the fuel supply instantly, extinguishing the flame while the draft fan is still operating at full speed.

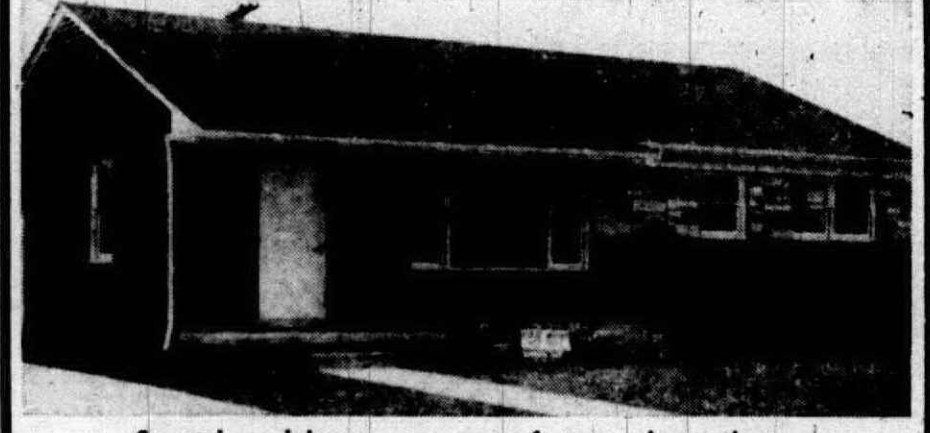

Advantages of the unit through its delaying control are elimination of rumbles, puff-back and flutter on starts and stops of the oil burner, and reduction of soot- ing of flue passages, nozzle tips and electrodes.

More than ever, young homeowners favor basically one-fuel houses, showing a preference for either gas or oil because of the economies resulting from multiple usage on the one hand or perhaps much readier availability and cheaper usage on the other.

Another trend in recent years has been toward shorter-term mortgages on new home purchases and the use of open-end mortgages to finance installation of the new appliances and equipment.

Mother no longer need resort to frequent check-ups on the baby while the family enjoys television in a downstairs "rec" room. An inexpensive new intercommunication system for homes, called the "Comette," is now on the market which makes a wonderfully reliable "sitter." All you do is plug in one small, smartly designed unit in the "relaxation" room and plug in the second unit in an electrical outlet in the nursery, where the slightest infant sounds will be picked up.

Here's How to Get Help of Internal Revenue Experts

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Russell C. Harrington has announced revised plans for assisting taxpayers in preparing their income tax forms during the coming filing period.

Outlining the plan, Commissioner Harrington said that Internal Revenue field offices will maintain expanded telephone service on all working days and will encourage taxpayers to call when tax questions arise. By this means, the service hopes to save many taxpayers the trouble of making personal visits to revenue offices.

For taxpayers who want more help than can be given over the telephone, the Revenue Service will designate special "taxpayer assistance days" throughout the filing period. On these days a full staff of employees will render assistance. Taxpayers should visit on designated "assistance days," but will be given all possible help on other working days, Commissioner Harrington said. On non-designated days, however, taxpayers may have to wait longer.

The offices will use a number of time-saving techniques to speed up service. In past years, most revenue offices simply made out each person's return for him. This slow method resulted in long lines of taxpayers with consequent waits for service.

This year, every office will assign an employee to ask each person what kind of assistance he wants. Those who simply want forms, or have a question to ask, will be separated from those who want full assistance. All offices will adopt "self-help" methods, and will provide tables, pencils and forms so that taxpayers may fill out their own returns. When a taxpayer reaches an item that causes him difficulty, one of the revenue employees will advise him. By this means the service hopes to save time for taxpayers and its own employees.

Finally the Scientist Discovers Truth About Housework for Men

At long last science has come up with a good excuse for men who hate to help their wives around the house.

Prolonged, monotonous work—and washing the dishes would seem to fit in that category—is done better by women than it is by men, according to results of psychological tests conducted by a Michigan State University professor.

Unfortunately for the men, however, the results do not indicate that they are completely unqualified for domestic chores, only that they tend to become bored and less perceptive than their wives while doing monotonous tasks.

The research also has implications for workers in many industries where monotonous work still must be done by hand.

Dr. Paul Bakan, assistant professor of psychology at Michigan State, did part of his experimentation for the U.S. Air Force which wants to learn more about vigilance as it applies to such things as radar, requiring long sessions of alert watching.

Dr. Bakan had his subjects, 10 men and 10 women between the ages of 16 and 35, watch a light for 1 1/2 hours and note changes in its brightness. At first, the subjects could notice a 16 per cent change in brightness. But at the end of the time, the light had to be stepped up about 45 per cent for perception.

At the present time "verbal" vigilance is being tested. Veteran husbands, used to the sound of their wife's voice, should fall more easily into what Dr. Bakan described as the usual state of a person engaged in a lengthy, monotonous task: "a state somewhere between wakefulness and sleep."

Social Security Question Column

The Plymouth Mail is continuing its service of answering questions on Social Security. Readers are invited to send their Social Security questions to the Mail. Questions not answered in this column will be answered directly by the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan.

1. I have a dependent daughter over 21. She will never be able to work. The only income I have is my social security. Can I get social security for her too? J.S.H.
Answer: No. Payments cannot be made to children after they become 18 regardless of whether or not they are dependent upon you.
2. My wife is past 65 but I won't be 65 for two more years. Can she get her social security now? A.D.B.
Answer: If your wife has been working in employment under the social security law, she may file on her own account. However, if she has never worked outside the home, she will have to wait until you become 65 and eligible for payments.
3. How can I find out how much I have on my social security record? H. C. C.
Answer: You may write to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland for this information. Be sure to give your name, social security number, and date of birth.

BIGGEST OF THE BIG 3

-and mighty proud of it!

You certainly should look at the '56 Buick SPECIAL!

We've said it before, and we'll say it again:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick — and the sales figures make the proof of that stronger and stronger.

Just ask yourself: which cars would normally be in the top 3 of America's best sellers? The well-known smaller cars — naturally.

But which cars are in that Big 3? Two of the well-known smaller cars, and Buick — for over two years running now.

That means Buick prices are well within reach of more and more people — thanks primarily to the budget-tagged Buick SPECIAL, like the one pictured above.

And that's the whole point of the matter.

For this low-priced Buick SPECIAL — so close in cost to the smaller cars — is so much more automobile for the money, it's the stand-out buy of its field.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in power, thrill, in comfort, in size and breadth and luxury and sheer roadability.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in the solidity and softness of its all-coil-spring ride — in the sweep of its styling — and in the pure thrill of its performance.

For where else but in Buick can you get the nimble getaway, the gas-saving mileage, the electrifying switch-pitch action and the absolute smoothness of the new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Come in to see and drive the biggest bundle of high-powered beauty and energy ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

It's proud we certainly are to be able to offer so much car for the money — but nothing to how proud you'll be when you boss a new SPECIAL. Can you come in tomorrow?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

JACK SELLE BUICK

200 Ann Arbor Road Plymouth, Mich.

It takes a real husky individual to brave the crowds and excitement of a New Year's Day in Pasadena. There is no question but what it certainly is a thrilling spectacle and a most worthwhile experience. To battle your way through a throng of 1,750,000 people, however, is something one never forgets. Literally thousands of local residents arrive on Colorado avenue early in the evening before the parade with camp cots, old automobile seats, chairs, all kinds of food, and cans filled with charcoal to keep them warm. These people have the prize seats and when they leave after the parade most of them just leave their possessions for the City of Pasadena to haul to the dump the next day.

We wondered why it was necessary to have breakfast at five a.m. but it didn't take us long to find out. Never have we seen such traffic jams, and though only a few miles from our parade seats at the Elks Temple, it took us two hours to arrive by chartered car and another hour to battle our way on foot three blocks to our reserved section.

We were entranced by the $3.00 parking lot signs and the long lines of people at gas stations standing in line ready to pay a dime to visit the lavatory. Small paper cups of hot coffee sold for 35 cents, as did hot dogs for a half dollar even though they had never been near a fire.

Directly after the parade, which takes about three hours, 100,809 of the participants rush a mile distant, or about a two hour drive, to the stadium to get in their seats in time for the game at two o'clock. Traffic experts could sure take a lesson at Ann Arbor. But we were told tradition keeps the Rose Bowl game in the Rose Bowl and there is no way to improve the traffic situation as the crowds grow bigger each year. At any rate the parade is a parade to stop all parades and is simply breathtaking. The floats are truly a sight to see and the color is unbelievable.

The game was a thriller, as you all know, which brought about a perfect climax to an exciting day, but there were a couple of things that added color to our first Rose Bowl visit. Our seats were next to Mr. and Mrs. Max Wachowiak and their business associates and friends the C. E. Littles of San Marino, California, all pictured below.

No more interested spectators were in the Rose Bowl than the Wall Wire Wachowiaks. Left to right are Mrs. Wachowiak, Mrs. Little, Mr. Little and Mr. Wachowiak.

Four rows behind us sat Bing Crosby and his party and slightly to our right were Governor and Mrs. Williams. It was interesting to note the Governor was no different than any of the rest of the spectators at the game in that he spent as much of his time photographing Crosby as he did the half time ceremonies. Another casual observation was the fact that the Governor rose to his feet many times to wave to the crowds, but Crosby didn't seem the least bit interested in making his attendance any better known than it was. William Gargan sat in the row in front of the Wachowiaks and us and during the half went down to bring back hot dogs and coffee, as did Crosby. Bing further took time to pose for many of the students in our section and when asked which team he was rooting for answered by saying he wasn't really sure.

Our wandering camera also found the Peter Millers, previous to the game, who had driven to the coast with their son Keith for the big event.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were visiting at the home of Mr. Miller's mother and other relatives in Perris.

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. Also at the game from home, in addition to the many State students, were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Corey of Plymouth. The Coreys came out for the parade and game and were making their headquarters with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis of Redondo Beach, California, the parents of Mrs. Corey. Tom stated that he was certainly taken with California and wouldn't mind making a permanent home here.

I had hoped to snap several of our local young people who were here for the game but soon gave up after I found the entire 4,600 had scattered from one end of the state to the other, sight-seeing before they left for home right after the game. The students I did talk to, however, all said they were having a most wonderful time, and we knew they did as we watched them sing off the field after the game. It was a thrilling climax to a wonderful trip for them all.

Today's Tots Worry Colleges

Educators and legislators are looking for space and money for college students who have not yet enrolled in kindergarten. They are the 100,000 students expected to flood college campuses by 1970, doubling enrollments and throwing extra strains on already crowded buildings and programs.

That is the sobering fact behind an 18-month study planned by a special legislative committee, expected to cost $150,000.

"It will be the most complete study of higher education ever made in Michigan, said Senator Don Vander Werp. (R-Fremont.)

Enthusiasm generated behind the proposal interested prominent labor leaders, businessmen, industrial executives and educators who will serve as a special advisory committee.

There is still some doubt where the money will come from to finance the study, though everything else is ready. Vander Werp's committee is prepared to hire an outside expert to direct the inquiry.

Vander Werp was allowed $5,000 by the legislature to conduct a study. This is partially spent.

He said the rest would come: $75,000 from a private foundation, probably the W. K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, and the same from the state.

After the announcement, Kellogg executives said they knew of the study plan planned but were not yet committed to making the grant. Legislators are shy about such things, too.

While the committee figures the cost will be $150,000. A budget for the first year calls for something over $94,000.

An item for $10,000 is earmarked to pay for part-time work by Dr. John B. Ivey of Atlanta, Ga., an educational expert who has directed similar studies in a number of southern states.

Next is a $15,000 item for an assistant who will be on the job fulltime and direct operations. He will have a staff, two of whom will get $10,000 a year.

"That may be all right if we're going to set up something permanent, but how about this other stuff?" asked another lawmaker.

Some of the other items call for cash to pay consultants — all experts in their fields — $100 a day, plus transportation and other expenses.

Vander Werp and others on his committee admitted this might be a tough one to sell to the legislature, despite the justification of the expenditures that he hopes to make.

For the investment, Vander

Werp hopes to get a complete analysis of the present effectiveness and cost of higher education in Michigan with a superimposed picture of what is to come.

Ivey has prepared a plan for the study.

It will consider operations of all state colleges and universities; their potential for expansion and financing; the prospects for enrollment and how the flood of new students can be accommodated.

Vander Werp already thinks he has the answer in "decentralization."

He figures to expand smaller junior and community colleges to handle the first two years, turning the four-year colleges and universities into advanced schools.

The plan to take over Wayne University as a state institution also is in the picture.

The whole issue developed last year when college presidents told Governor Williams of the enrollment expectations and said it would cost $200 million in new buildings.

Legislators, who abhor new taxes and deficits, are really working on this one. Vander Werp said his decentralization plan could save the state "at least $50 million" of the figure.

Michigan will probably have the answers in 1957 when the study is completed.

Motorists will see Michigan's new speed limit signs along the highway before the new laws become effective.

Highway department crews already are posting the roads with speed limit signs, reading 65 in the daytime and 55 when the headlights strike the same sign at night.

It is a money-saving and confusion-saving device, putting both speed limits on one sign.

Roscoe Heiron, of the state highway department's traffic analysis staff, said the signs will be in place "as a reminder" weeks before the law becomes effective next Feb. 2.

Already Gov. Williams has asked motorists to observe the speed limits on a voluntary basis — an attempt to cut down on the holiday traffic slaughter.

On Feb. 2, it will stop being a voluntary thing, and speeders will get tickets for speeding.

Presidential Possibilities

Washington, D. C. — The most important comment in my last week's Forecast for 1956 was this statement of mine: "If no unforeseen event happens, President Eisenhower will be re-nominated and re-elected in 1956."

I am no politician, but I do try to be an honest statistician. Hence, first let me dispose of the question of age. The President will be 66 in 1956. This would make him 70 by the close of his second term. His rivals, in both the Republican and Democratic parties, say he is "too old to run again." Yet, Warren of California is 64.

Let us discuss first the possible Republican candidates. My first choice would be Vice President Nixon, who is an ideal man, at an ideal age of 42. Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, my second personal choice, is 65, but because of his success as a constructive businessman, I doubt if he could be elected. Next in order I would select Thomas E. Dewey, former governor of New York. He probably is the ideal age, namely 53; but the party would be loath to nominate one who had been defeated twice, even though he is an excellent administrator. My fourth choice would be Secretary of State Dulles; but he is two years older than Mr. Eisenhower! The other active Republican aspirants are Senator William Knowland of California, 47, Presidential Assistant Harold Stassen of Pennsylvania, who is 48, and Governor Christian Herter of Massachusetts, who is 60.

What About Democratic Statistics?

Now let us apply statistics to the possible Democratic rivals. If the nominating convention were to be held this month, I am sure that ex-governor Stevenson of Illinois (55 years old), candidate four years ago, would get the Democratic nomination. If Eisenhower should not run again, Stevenson would have a good chance of election; but not against Eisenhower as a candidate. This is in my humble opinion. As for Governor Harriman of New York, he surely could be featured as a "malefactor of great wealth" more than could Mr. Humphrey. Harriman probably never "earned a dollar in his life." He inherited his millions from his father, who was America's greatest railroad giant; while Humphrey started with nothing and earned his present wealth through developing coal, iron, and other mines. Let me say, however, that Harriman has probably had the best training and experience for the Presidency of any possible Democratic candidate. I have great respect for his knowledge and for his contacts in national and world politics. He is a "New Dealer," which would help him with labor and probably with the great American public. Statistically, the country is Democratic. Republicans should not forget this in their enthusiasm for Ike.

Among others commonly suggested, irrespective of party, are Kefauver (52), and Clement (35), both of Tennessee, Dirksen (60) of Illinois, Meyner (47) of New Jersey, Stratton (41) of Illinois, Symington (34) of Missouri, and Willingham (44) of Michigan. I will also add that Ex-President Truman, at 71, may be a candidate. So much for statistics.

Consider Photography

This is an age of photographs. The successful magazines — such as Life and Look — are almost 85% photographs. Television is 96% the movies are 98% photographs. Ike takes wonderful photos and his smile alone is worth millions of votes. But, photography is even used by us statisticians to forecast conditions. We can often predict what a man will do by studying the "setting" in which he allows his photo to be taken. Consider the following as evidence that Ike and Mrs. Dowd want to be in the White House four more years, irrespective of what Mammie may want.

If Ike did not want to run again, he would have been wheeled onto the airplane which took him from Depuev to Washington in a wheel chair. This would have helped him in his desire for four years of quiet life at Gettysburg. But no, he ran up the airplane ramp like a young colt and waved to the people. He did the same upon arrival at Washington and Gettysburg. The plan of his managers is to have the voters entirely forget his illness. Watch the photos of him from now on. They will tell the story.

Washington Quiz

- Q—I am a Korean veteran and have $10,000 in insurance with a private firm. Will this bar me from getting GI insurance?
- A—No. Insurance held with a private company has no bearing on amount of GI insurance you can get. A veteran may get up to $10,000 in Korean GI term insurance, minus only whatever other forms of GI insurance he might have.
- Q—I bought a house with my GI loan a few years ago. My family has grown since. My wife is a veteran too. Would she be entitled to use her GI loan benefit to buy a larger house?
- A—Yes. The fact you used your GI loan benefit would not deny your wife the right to use hers.
- Q—Can you tell me how much of a drop there has been in hog prices? Is overproduction the cause of the price drop?
- A—As of mid-December top price for hogs in Chicago was $12.25 a hundred. A year ago the price was $28.75. Estimated pork production for 1955 is 10.9 billion pounds. It was 9.9 billion pounds in 1954; 10.1 in 1953; 11.5 billion in both 1952 and 1951 and 10.7 billion in 1950.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union Message, again declared that no tax relief is in sight during 1956 until the budget is balanced. Today we are asking how you feel about this policy."

GERRIT KRAMER, 879 Forest: "If we expect to get things from the government, we will have to pay for them. I would like to see the present taxes continued until the budget is balanced."

JOHN ZITTEL, 40490 Plymouth road: "Certainly I think it's a good idea. As long as this country is as prosperous as it is, we can afford to pay these taxes. With business remaining good, I have no complaint about the taxes I pay."

RUSS ANDERSON, 287 Blunk: "I'm no expert but I feel that they need money to run the country and the only way to get it is through taxes. You can't get blood out of a stone."

LEONARD KELLER, Detroit House of Correction employee: "I think we should stick with the balanced budget. We need national defense. However, taxes are a little high. Now that there is no war, you would think they could drop some."
