

Methodists Dedicate Sunday School Unit

Dedication of a new Sunday school unit with Bishop Marshall R. Reed delivering the dedicatory sermon will take place this Sunday morning at First Methodist church.

Some 700 members and guests are expected to attend the service which starts at 10:30 a.m. Two worship services are normally held on Sunday mornings but extra seating facilities are being provided so that the dedication can be confined to one service.

Ten modern Sunday school classrooms and a Fellowship hall are the result of reconstructing the interior of the church's former gymnasium. The main floor has been converted into a spacious Fellowship hall in which functions for large gatherings are anticipated.

By building a lower ceiling, a second floor was provided which was divided into 10 classrooms and rest rooms. Cost of the project was about $30,000. Expenses were pared considerably due to the donation of work and professional advice by some members of the congregation.

Philippine mahogany plywood was used for paneling the new classrooms and hallway. Fluorescent light fixtures in the classrooms also add the modern touch. In addition to the actual construction costs, another sum of about $6,000 has been spent for the heating system and furnishings.

Participating in Sunday morning's service besides Michigan's Methodist bishop, Marshall Reed, will be L. LaVerne Finch, district superintendent, and the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D. pastor.

Rapidly increasing enrollment in the Sunday school brought about the need for more classroom facilities. Average Sunday school attendance during the (Continued on Page 6)

Czar E. Penney, Lifetime Resident, Succumbs at 85

Czar E. Penney, age 85, one of Plymouth's oldest residents, died Saturday, January 21, at the Riverbank Convalescent home on Ann Arbor trail.

Mr. Penney lived at 957 Palmer, moving there last January from a residence he had built at 498 South Main, 61 years ago. The main street house and lot was purchased by the Paul J. Wiedman Ford agency for a used car area in January, 1955.

At one time Mr. Penney had owned a large parcel of land, including the property now occupied by the Wiedman garage, westward across what is now Forest avenue and as far south as Wing street in the Forest avenue area. On the site of the Wiedman building, Mr. Penney once operated a livery stable. The Penneys' cabbage patch was located where West Brothers Nash now stands.

When the horse and buggy went out of fashion and the property sold for the Wiedman auto garage, the Penneys turned to farming and operated a 40-acre farm on Joy road. They continued to live at their main street home however. Lot by lot, the land was sold until the Penney home was surrounded by commercial development and the residence itself eventually purchased in January of last year.

Mr. Penney was born January 12, 1870 in Canton township. For the past two years he had been in failing health, his condition becoming critical in the last four weeks.

The deceased leaves a wife, Mabel; one son, Russell S. of Plymouth and four grandchildren. A daughter preceded him in death.

Sunday Concert To Feature Junior Symphony

It will be "Family Day" at the fourth concert presentation of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra this Sunday afternoon. Conductor Wayne Dunlap will present a program of light Viennese music which will have the assistance of the Plymouth Youth Symphony conducted by Donald Morris. It will mark the first public performance of the newly organized 36-piece junior symphony.

In past years the family concert has been a highlight of the season. The program is composed of short, familiar selections that hold the attention of children.

This Sunday's program will include Schubert-Damrosch "Military March"; Mozart's Two German Dances, K. 605, Sleighride; Haydn's Symphony No. 94 in G Major, Surprise; Symphony No. 8 in F Major by Beethoven; Hungarian Dances No. 1, 3 and 10 by Brahms.

The junior symphony orchestra will present Marteau's Shadow Mountain and In a Glider Waltz by Adams. Conductor Dunlap will conclude the concert with Johann and Josef Strauss' Pizzicato Polka; Perpetual Motion, Tales from the Vienna Woods and Pleasure Train Polka by Johann Strauss, Jr.; and Radetzky March by Johann Strauss, Sr. Christian Baals, zither, will be featured soloist in the orchestra's presentation of Tales from the Vienna Woods.

All Plymouth Symphony orchestra concerts are held in the Plymouth high school gymnasium and begin at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend. There is no charge for admission.

Authority Board Meeting Weekly

The three-member Townships of Plymouth and Canton Water and Sewer Authority has been holding meetings each Saturday to work out more details of the big project.

John Welsher, chairman of the authority board, said that the three have met each week with the engineer and are passing on all available information to the bonding people. An election will be held in Plymouth and Canton townships to select public backing of bonds which must be issued. No date has yet been set for this election.

A number of builders who intend to open new subdivisions have been attempting to obtain information from the board relative to the location of the proposed sewers. Detailed plans still are not completed.

"We feel that we are doing everything possible we can and still do it right," Welsher declared. Also serving on the board are Clark Finley and Albert Schradler. Finley and Welsher represent Plymouth township and Schradler represents Canton township.

Kiwianians See Slides Of Canada Fishing

Plymouth Kiwanians took a color-slide trip to Canada Tuesday night for some trout and pickerel fishing that had every angler itching to get out the rod and reel. The slides were shown by Don Lightfoot, who along with Frank Terry, Charles Beagle, Gar Evans and Gus Lundquist, spend 10-days at Missinaba, Canada each year on an annual fishing trek.

Lightfoot's slides showed the local group of fishermen landing scores of brook and lake trout and walleyes and Great Northern pike. The fishermen usually go to Canada in late May. Lightfoot said, having made the trip for six years.

140 Mothers Stage March on Polio Today

WALLS OF the Warm Air Heating Supply company warehouse crumble and collapse as firemen battled the blaze yesterday morning which destroyed the large store house at 9800 Ann Arbor road. Within the building and also mostly consumed by the flames were stored heating supplies. Spectators gathered quickly at the scene to watch firemen from Plymouth, Plymouth township, Canton township and Superior township bring the blaze under control.

Huge Blaze Consumes Warehouse

A sudden and not immediately explainable fire turned a huge warehouse, belonging to the Warm Air Heating Supply company, 9800 West Ann Arbor road, into a blazing inferno Wednesday morning. The flames quickly gutted the 80'x100' building, destroying the heating supplies stored within.

Arno Harding, executive vice-president for the company and a spectator at the disaster, stated that the blaze would result in a complete loss of the building and stored goods. He would release no information as to the exact amount of damages until an inventory check had been made.

The building served as a wholesale supply outlet for heating contractors. The fire apparently originated along the 80-foot west wall, which is constructed of corrugated sheet-metal. A light prevailing wind carried the flames across the building, according to Harding. Cardboard storage containers throughout the warehouse helped to spread the blaze even more.

Answering the alarm were fire trucks and firemen from Plymouth and Plymouth township, Canton township and Superior township. The billowing plume of smoke could be readily seen from miles away.

A spectator explained this is the second time in less than a year that the company had suffered such a disaster. Last summer other buildings on the grounds were burned.

The blaze which began about 9:30, soon covered the entire building, destroying a second story cupola by 10:30. Walls on the first story were crumbling at the same time. Firemen were hindered by a shortage of water in battling the flames.

The owner, Gail Mason, is vacationing in Florida.

Achieve $6,000 Goal for Uniforms

A boost of approximately $825 in proceeds from Saturday night's Band Carnival has materialized a year-long dream of the Band Parents association to provide some 90 new uniforms for the high school band.

The drive began about a year ago with the sponsorship of a similar event. Mrs. Byron Becker, president of the Band Parents association, disclosed that the Carnival proceeds had met the organization's goal of close to $6,000 in cash and pledges for the purchase of the uniforms. Of this amount, cash donations have been received from the following: Rotary $250; Optimist, $150; Wheeler and Becker, $75. Kiwanians have pledged a minimum of $500, while the Lions club has made a pledge of $300 towards the fund.

It is expected that the uniforms will be purchased in the near future. According to Mrs. Eber Readman, chairman of the carnival, $200 of the $825 proceeds had been collected on the supper served at the event. The remaining amount came from the various concessions. Supper chairman was Mrs. O. H. Williams assisted by Mrs. Russell Isbister and members of their committee.

Recipient of the portable radio given away as a prize at the event was Linda Gillham, 636 Jener, a student in the eighth grade.

The carnival was held from 5:30 to 11 p.m. at the high school.

Proposed Junior High Already Wins Architectural Citation

Although the Plymouth Community School district's proposed junior high school is several months away from being started, its architects, Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., have already won one of the nation's most coveted awards for its design.

Progressive Architecture, national architectural magazine, presented the "Award Citation with Commendation" in the education category to the Detroit architects-engineers at an awards banquet held last Friday night in Detroit. Editor Thomas H. Creighton made the presentation.

One of the country's leading education magazines, "Nation's Schools," also will carry an article about the building.

The Progressive Architecture competition is the only national architectural competition based on projects in design stage rather than on completed buildings. The editors believe that good design ideas need recognition in order to give encouragement not only to the architect and clients but also to other individuals and communities concerned with similar problems. From more than 700 designs submitted by the country's leading architects, one First Design Award was selected, seven Design Awards and 42 Award Citations.

Principal speakers at last Friday's banquet were Pietro Beluschi, dean of the School of Architecture and Planning at Massachusetts Institute of Technol-

Two Lots Cleared For Businesses

Two lots on South Main street were recently cleared of the houses that stood on them in order to make way for further expansion of business.

Walter Beglinger, owner of Beglinger Oldsmobile Cadillac company, 705 South Main, explained that the lot directly south of his business location had been purchased by himself earlier and was cleared this week in preparation for the building of a new showroom and an additional service garage there.

The home and lot at 729 South Main belonged to John Reamer. The Reamer house was moved to 9304 South Main.

Beglinger stated that plans include breaking ground in the spring for the additional building. He hopes to have the project completed by this summer.

Meanwhile the building which formerly housed Dr. R. R. Barber's offices at 504 South Main has been moved to Fairground avenue in the second clearance project undertaken this week. That lot on Plymouth's main thoroughfare has been cleared for future business construction. Dr. Barber's office has been relocated at 864 South Main.

Amusement Page Starts This Week

An amusement page will become a regular feature of The Mail starting in this issue on page 2, section 3. The page will grow to include stories of screen, stage and TV personalities, crossword puzzles and other interesting reading.

The main feature of the page will be the week-long television listings of the four area stations which have been condensed for easy clipping and placing near your set. The listings start at noon on Saturdays and Sundays and from 5 p.m. on weekdays.

Here's How Your Dimes, Dollars Helped Plymouth Polio Victims

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of letters written by victims or parents of victims of polio. Their purpose is to tell Plymouth Mail readers of how their dimes and dollars are used to help their neighbors overcome the crippling effects of polio.

I shall always be grateful to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. It was like this — Last Labor Day I got bulbar and spinal polio. I was sent to the Isolation Ward at the University of Michigan hospital, later to the main ward.

Meanwhile, paralysis had set in my left arm, shoulders, back and neck, making it impossible for me to swallow. I was thankful for one thing, my legs, though very weak, were not paralyzed and I knew I would eventually walk.

Immediately, I was given physical therapy treatments. The equipment used, such as moist air cabinets, whirlpool baths, etc., was furnished by the National Foundation.

Not much could be done for my throat muscles, so I had intravenous feeding, then clear liquids, until I graduated to all liquids, then finally baby food. Now I can swallow nearly anything without much effort.

Later I was given a wheel chair (furnished by the National Foundation.) In this wheel chair I could go around and visit the polio patients in restorators and iron lungs, which were also furnished by the National Foundation. I also wheeled down to Occupational Therapy, which is a shop for patients to sew, play the piano or records, make things out of wood, leather, plastic, copper, and many other things. The National Foundation paid for all the materials I used in Occupational Therapy.

You see, the National Foundation just about covers everything. Although Blue Cross Insurance covered most of the bills, my parents received a very gracious letter just three days after we knew I had polio, offering to do anything they could and help in any way. I would like to add that to most people polio is defeated, thanks to the Salk vaccine, but it isn't. The vaccine will prevent polio, but it is not yet defeated, although I know someday with the help of Dr. Jonas Salk, the Almighty, all the doctors and therapists, and of course, the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, we will conquer polio.

Kay Davis 42728 Ford road

It was after August 17, 1954, that I learned personally what the "March of Dimes" means to our family. Within a few days after being removed from my home to University hospital I was taken to a polio clinic. The doctors told me that I could expect to be hospitalized about four months. I could expect to recover the use of my right leg, but the weakness in my left leg was too great for recovery. I was told to plan now for not returning to my sales manager's job. I was stunned, but they followed immediately with new hope by recommending that I should be rehabilitated.

My hospital bill was running more than $27 a day when we asked our Wayne County chapter of the March of Dimes for help. They immediately guaranteed us and University hospital

Will Visit Homes in Township This Afternoon, City Tonight

One hundred and forty women will stage their Mother's March on Polio today in Plymouth city and township in hopes of meeting or even surpassing the $5,000 goal that they have set for their month-long campaign.

The Mothers' March is the last big effort in the drive which opened January 3 and will close next Tuesday.

Name Twenty-Six Recipients of 4-H County Awards

Twenty-six residents of the Plymouth area received county awards last week at the 4-H Leaders banquet held at St. Paul's Evangelical church, Goddard and Telegraph roads in Dearborn.

Fred Korte of Warren road, civic leader and president of Wayne County 4-H Fair association, was presented an outstanding-service award for the many hours he has devoted to 4-H club work.

Awarded a 5-year-leadership pin was Mrs. Helen Moers. David Brinks was the recipient of an achievement award for his 4-H club program, projects and other activities.

Four members of the 4-H Green Thumb club, headed by Mrs. Claude Eaton, received beautification of home grounds awards. They are Pat Hauk, Sally Mathias, Nancy and Ray Eaton. Miss Eaton also received the soil conservation award.

Other county award winners were: Susan Campbell, dairy; Sharlene Moers, dairy foods demonstration, public speaking and soil conservation; Green Thumb members Mary Jane West, Paul Becker, Richard Snider and Norman Terry, entomology.

Dave Osborne, field crops; Pat Clixby and Ella Plant, food preparation; Janet Spigarelli and Ellen Travis, national garden medal; Judy Hough, health improvement; Jean Rowe, leadership.

Dave Wilkin, leadership and meat animal; Neal Pike, meat animal; Ernest Reddeman, poultry; Don Wilkin and Bob Truedell, tractor maintenance; Bob Franklin, horse club.

Banquet speaker was Paul Miller, director of the Cooperative Extension service, Michigan State university.

Reverend Edgar Hoenecke left Sunday by plane for a three weeks vacation in California, the gift of his congregation.

There will be 40 women knocking on doors in the township this afternoon and 100 others going from door-to-door tonight in the city. Distances between homes in the township hampers speedy solicitation but it is hoped that no home will be missed. Mrs. Raymond Gardner is chairman of the township drive.

The 100-woman city march tonight will last from 7 to 8 o'clock. Chaired by Mrs. Charles Olson, the city volunteers also expect to call at every house, whether the porchlight is burning or not. For the convenience and safety of workers, however, it is urged that porchlights are turned on.

Church bells of St. Peter's Lutheran and First Presbyterian churches will ring at 7 p.m. to remind city householders of the Mothers' March.

Workers can be identified by the Mason jars they will carry which will bear the March of Dimes sticker and scroll.

Following the march, women will return to the Veteran's Memorial home for refreshments served by Girl Scouts headed by Mrs. Sheldon Baker. Mrs. Harry Bartel is general chairman of this year's drive.

Canton township is also having its Mothers' March from 7 to 8 o'clock tonight with Wanda Rea as chairman. There are eight captains with each having a team of volunteers to cover the township.

The chairman announced that an envelope will be left at each home where no one answers the door. The householder will be able to mail his contribution to the Plymouth fund although the envelope contains a Detroit address. Similar envelopes were received by most householders several weeks ago and can be handed to solicitors today.

A total of $750 has been received in mail donations so far, according to Mrs. Bartel. Boy Scouts were able to gross $235 during their peanut drive two weeks ago.

Coffee drinkers also gave the fund a boost when they drank and ate $49 worth of coffee and doughnuts at Jack's Burgers last Saturday. Barney's Plymouth Grill will turn over its coffee proceeds of this Saturday to the fund.

Canisters will be collected next Wednesday.

Local Hotel Man Attends Workshop

Mavflower Hotel Manager Ralph Lorenz will attend Cornell university's second annual hotel management workshop January 30 through February 3 to be held in Ithaca, New York. Accompanying Lorenz will be his wife and the couple's son, Staton. They will leave Friday.

It will be a dual honor for Lorenz to attend the workshop inasmuch as he also was present at the initial gathering last year. Lorenz, as he did in 1955, will address the attending hotel men, who come from across the nation to take part in the workshop. He will speak on the subject of "Promoting the Small Hotel."

Following the workshop, the local family will spend a short vacation in New York City and will then return to Plymouth.

This 1956 management refreshment course will follow the format established during the previous successful effort, presenting as discussion leaders at round-table sessions faculty members in selected subjects, as well as bringing in the picture outstanding leaders in various professions serving the hotel industry.

Troop Six Scouts Slate Freeze-Out

Plymouth boy scout troop six, which is sponsored by the local Lions club, will hold a "freeze-out" on Sunday, January 29. This is a new activity, designed to test the ability of scouts in the use of scouting techniques under adverse weather conditions.

Questioned as to the reason for the name of the event, Scoutmaster E. T. Miller explained: "Why not? We have camp-outs and cook-outs. In the winter, why not a freeze-out?"

The six patrols of the troop will compete with each other on attendance, use of ropes, first aid, signaling, map reading, use of a compass and cooking. Participating will be the Black Hawk Patrol with Sam Barnes as leader; Wildcat patrol, Don Jordan, leader; Beaver patrol, David Green, leader; Badger patrol, Bill Rocker, leader; Wolf patrol, Peter Miller, leader; and Wolverine patrol, Aral Gribble, leader. At stake is an ice cream award for the winner.

Members of the troop committee and fathers of the scouts will serve as judges. Harger Green is Chief Judge, and he will be assisted by Claude Rocker, George Kenyon, James Ross, Charles Wolfe, James Steele, Forrest Morgeson, Homer Weirmiller and Assistant Scoutmaster E. L. Davis. The Explorer crew of the Troop, under the leadership of William Fehlig will serve as assistant to the judges.

Airman Second Class John Corwin was called home from Italy due to the serious illness and death of his mother, Mrs. Lester Corwin. John will remain at home until February 9 when he will return to Udine, Italy, for further service.

Mrs. Lester Burden of Union street entered University hospital, Ann Arbor, Monday where she will undergo observation and surgery in the near future. Mrs. Burden is in 5-E.

A joint public installation for the Plymouth Oddfellows and Rebekahs will be held on January 28 at 8 p.m. in the Oddfellow hall on Elizabeth street. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. The regular meeting for the Rebekahs will be on Friday, January 27. On the sick list are brother Melvin Krumm at Sessor's hospital, Northville, and sister Pansy Carey in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor. Members are urged to send them cards.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Friday of Roe street left last Wednesday for Florida and on entering Glass-cow, Kentucky, struck icy pavement causing a serious accident confining Mrs. Friday to the hospital. Last reports from Glasscow are that Mrs. Friday is seriously injured and their car was completely demolished.

Mrs. George Carey of Russell street was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor where she is undergoing treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brummel of Six Mile road plan to leave

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mathe

John Mathe, Lois Terpening, Married in Garden City Rites

Lois Yvonne Terpening was united in marriage to John Joseph Mathe at a three o'clock candlelight service Saturday, January 7, in the First Methodist church of Garden City, Michigan. Reverend Francis Wilson performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Terpening of Garden City. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Mathe of Garden City are parents of the groom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was waltz length. Her fingertip veil was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses centered by a white orchid with red throat.

The maid of honor, Janice Terpening, sister of the bride, wore a waltz-length gown of pink crystal and carried yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Patricia Magdi and Mrs. William Fulton, wore waltz-length gowns of turquoise crystal and carried yellow roses.

Neil Williamson, friend of the groom, was best man. Richard Terpening, brother of the bride and Robert Sinift were the ushers.

Miss Sharon Olive, friend of the bride sang "Always," "I Love You Truly" and the "Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Paul Nicholia.

The bride's mother wore a gown of navy blue lace with white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a gown of white and gold with white accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the church.

For her going-away outfit the bride wore a beige suit with brown and white accessories.

After a short honeymoon in Chicago, the young couple are making their home at 29705 Joy road, Garden City, Michigan.

Mrs. Mathe is a graduate of Bentley high school and is now employed at the Standard Tube company in Redford township. Mr. Mathe is a graduate of Plymouth high school and is now employed at Kelsey Hayes Wheel company in Detroit.

Troop 5 under the leadership of Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. E. P. Light held a cook-out and ice-skating party at Newburg lake on Saturday, January 21. The troop is planning a Court of Awards and party for the mothers next week. Susan Larkin is troop reporter.

Sandra Keefe, reporter for Troop 21, announces Nancy Houseman was recently elected president. Other officers are Ann West, vice president; Susie Phillips, secretary; Ann Thorpe, treasurer. Flag bearers are Karen Rank and Martha Bernash with Barbara Gooch and Marcia Rubey as color guards. Mrs. Wayne Rubey and Mrs. Lloyd England are leaders.

Troop 14 had as its guest speaker on January 16, Mrs. John Gaffney, who spoke to the junior high Scouts on personal grooming. On January 23 the troop invited Troops 2, 3, 4 and 15 to share their regular meeting. Speaker was Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra. Dunlap outlined the concert to be held on January 29 and explained the make-up of a symphony orchestra. Carl Wall and Mrs. George Bauer are leaders of Troop 14.

Seek Volunteers to Visit Homebound Handicapped

A need for local volunteers to visit the homebound handicapped was expressed by Mrs. Herma Taylor, executive secretary for the Wayne Out-County chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, in a talk before 35 Rotary Anns gathered Monday noon at a luncheon in the Hillside Inn.

Giving a brief case-history of the handicapped, Mrs. Taylor pointed out that there is a vital need for volunteers to pay friendly visits to some of the homebound handicapped whose most frequent complaint is that "the days are too long!"

She added that a short orientation course for volunteer visitors will be held at the office of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 31433 Ford road, just west of Merriman, on Monday, February 13, at 1 p.m. Anyone interested in making these visits and taking the orientation course may call Mrs. Harold Guenther, Rotary Anns chairman for Volunteer Services, or Mrs. Samuel Hudson.

Transportation will be provided if needed. This service is not confined to members of Rotary, any interested person is most welcome to volunteer and can teamed with someone who drives if necessary. Time of the visit will be at the convenience of the volunteers and as frequently as the themselves decide.

Mrs. Taylor also showed colored slides of handicapped children and adults and their camp-outs at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout camp during the day-camp last summer.

Mrs. Russell Isbister, chairman of the Easter Lily Tag sale announced that the date of the event this year would be March 24 from the Masonic Temple as in past years. Assistant chairman of the tag-sale is Mrs. Max Wachowiak of Livonia. The next regular meeting of Rotary Ann will be held Monday, March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs were hosts Monday evening at a dinner party honoring Mrs. William Arscott of Mesa, Arizona, formerly of this city. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Elmore Carney and sons, Jim and Don, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Williams and son, Carl, Mr. and Mrs. George Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wood and Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson.

PLYMOUTH'S ELUSIVE license plate bureau is pointed out in this picture with an arrow. Located at 181 West Liberty street, it is in the same building with the Plymouth Softener Service. The office moved to the new location last spring.

Republican Women Invited To Silver Tea in Detroit

Members of the Plymouth Woman's Republican club have been invited to the annual Silver Tea of the Wayne County Woman's Republican club.

The tea is being held Tuesday, February 14 at the Veteran's Memorial building in Detroit, starting at 1:30 p.m. The speaker will be Congressman Alvin W. Bentley.

An invitation has also been extended to attend the luncheon-card party at Kern's on Monday, March 19. Women able to attend either of these events are to contact Mrs. Catherine Henderson, phone 477.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson and son, Gary, plan to spend the weekend at her parent's home in Adrian.

Car Registration Card Not Needed

You don't need your car registration card in order to get your 1956 license, it was pointed out this week by Mrs. Doris Root, manager of the license plate bureau in Plymouth.

Many people have expressed their worries about not getting their registration card from Lansing, Mrs. Root said. If you haven't received it by now, chances are that you won't get it, she added.

Registration cards are available at the local office and can be filled out when obtaining the license. It is necessary to bring the car title which contains all information necessary for filling out the registration. The registration cards are sent to vehicle owners just as a convenience.

The license bureau is located at 181 West Liberty street. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Personal and unfamiliar company checks must be certified before the bureau will cash them, Mrs. Root said. Checks of well-known companies will be honored.

The license bureau office not only services Plymouth but also Livonia, Redford, Garden City and as far away as parts of Detroit.

BIRTHS

Because there are so many hospitals in the area which are utilized by Plymouth citizens, it is impossible for The Mail to accurately obtain reports of all births. We therefore must rely on parents or relatives to kindly supply us with this information as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Reinhold announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Lee, at Oakwood hospital on Tuesday, January 17. Mrs. Reinhold is the former Shirley Jacobson of Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olds of 194 South Holbrook avenue announce the arrival of a son, Gary Robert, weight seven pounds, 13 ounces, on January 22 in New Grace hospital, Detroit. Mrs. Olds is the former Lavern Rae.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Flint announce the arrival of a son, Steven Mark on Wednesday, January 18, weight six pounds, two and one-half ounces. Mrs. Thompson is the former Diane Arscott.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. David Spies of New Orleans, Louisiana, a daughter, Cathlyn Louise. Mrs. Spies is the former Patricia Isabella of Livonia.

UCW Board of Managers Plan Tuesday Meeting

The board of managers of the Plymouth council of United Church Women will meet at the home of the vice president, Mrs. Walter C. Gempferline, corner of Beck and Territorial roads, at 1 p.m. Tuesday, January 31.

This will be the first meeting at which the new-elected officers will preside. Miss Helen D. Beavers is president. Mrs. Claude Gebhardt and Mrs. George Graham, treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. LeMaster and daughter, Betty, of Napier road, are planning to leave soon for a vacation in Mexico. They will also visit their families in Oklahoma and go on to Arizona before returning home.

Madonna Offers One-Year Tuition Scholarships

Madonna College once again offers high school senior girls in the upper half of their class the opportunity to try out for one-year tuition scholarships in the field of their choice.

Selection will be based on competitive examinations which will be administered to applicants at three locations in Livonia, Detroit and Wyandotte.

Thursday, February 2, from 1-3 p.m. the tests will be administered at the Felician Academy, 2140 E. Canfield, Detroit, and at Mt. Carmel high school, 2609 Tenth, Wyandotte. Friday, February 3, the test will be given at Madonna College, 36800 Schoolcraft, Livonia, also from 1-3 p.m.

Students who live at a distance from any of these centers may take the examination in their own school under the supervision of their principal. Applications for scholarship examinations may be obtained from the registrar of Madonna College. Scholarships are renewable annually for four years upon maintenance of high scholastic standards and good character.

A Parents-Seniors Day will be held at the College Sunday, February 19 for all parents and high school senior girls interested in the College. Open house will last from 1 to 5 p.m. and will include a panel by Madonna students on the major fields of instruction at the College, a tour of the building and campus, and a social reception.

Cars, Fashions, Weekend Display At Ford Museum

A special shipment of spring sportswear from Saks Fifth Avenue, New York, will be modeled this weekend at the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, in conjunction with the "Sports Cars in Review" display of 50 European and American cars.

This year's show is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday evenings, January 28 and 29. It will be held in the 25,000 square foot sports car exhibition area, which this year features many outstanding cars never before seen in the U.S.

Seven models will give visitors a preview of the special early fashions arriving from New York designers. Resort and spring wear as well as the latest beachwear creations will be shown, along with a special group of leather accessories. Highlighting the fashions will be several Oleg Cassini creations. Each of the seven girls will model five complete outfits, making 35 different ensembles for the entire show.

The shows will be held at 8:30 Saturday and Sunday with regular Museum admission prices being observed.

Name Frank Henderson Chairman Of Local J.A. Finance Campaign

Frank Henderson has accepted the appointment of finance chairman for local Junior Achievement activities, it was announced by Robert A. Niemi, general manager of the Burroughs corporation's Plymouth Division and chairman of Junior Achievement for the Plymouth - Northville - Livonia area. Henderson is co-owner of the Plymouth Plating Works, 397 Farmer street.

Henderson's chief task will be to coordinate the 1956-57 subscription campaign to raise approximately $7,000 for the operation of the Junior Achievement Center in Plymouth which serves all of the above communities. The campaign starts January 26 and will close on February 23.

"There are 150 boys and girls from Plymouth, Bentley and

B. E. Brotherton, Burroughs' manager of purchases; R. K. Creel, supervisor of community relations for Burroughs; Sam Hudson, advertising manager, Evans Products company; James Mitchell, personnel manager, Barnes-Gibson-Raymond corporation; Mark Purple, general manager, Barnes-Gibson-Raymond; Tom Kent, personnel manager, Daisy Manufacturing company; Harry Simonton, Michigan Bell Telephone company; L. P. McGuire, superintendent, Pilgrim Drawn Steel corporation; Harry Christensen, general office manager, Dunn Steel Products company; Don Burleson, president, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce; and Ed Hart, executive secretary, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The committee met at the Mayflower hotel Tuesday to outline plans for the drive. These committees will contact business and industrial firms in this area beginning today to raise the necessary funds for the operation of the Junior Achievement Center.

Brown to Speak At State Hospital

For its first meeting of the new year on Thursday, February 2, the Citizen's Auxiliary committee for Northville state hospital will have as guest speaker Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent of the institution. The meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. in room 610 of the Veteran's Memorial building, 151 West Jefferson avenue, Detroit.

Dr. Brown's topic, "Administrative Aspects of the Northville State Hospital," was selected for its vital interest to those in the community concerned with the functioning of this new, progressive hospital for the treatment and rehabilitation of mentally ill patients. Visitors are cordially welcome to attend the meeting.

Arthur W. Gohle, CAC president, has announced plans for the first project of 1956, a luncheon-card party to be given March 26 in the fourth floor auditorium of the Ernst Kern department store. Proceeds will be used for direct benefit of the patients.

Last year, CAC donated a 32-passenger bus to Northville State hospital, for patients' use on outings and picnics.

Frank Henderson

Northville high schools using the center to operate their miniature corporations," Henderson said. "There are even a few from Garden City high school and Ladywood high school. With the expanding trend of interest, it is likely that an additional center will be needed in this tri-city area within a year or two."

Serving with Henderson on the committee are representatives from business firms which sponsor J. A. companies operating in the Plymouth Center and several other prominent local executives.

They include: John Walasky, administrative assistant to the manufacturing manager of the Burroughs Plymouth Division;

Retailers Seek More Parking

Members of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants committee met last week at the Mayflower hotel to outline a program of activities for the year.

Chairman by James Taylor of Blunk's, the committee made three proposals which they plan to prepare for the February 15 meeting of the complete merchants' membership.

Number one among the proposals is the recommendation that the merchants work closely with the Chamber's Parking Development committee to bring greater parking facilities to the downtown area. The committee was insistent that a program for parking development is most important, rather than city-wide promotions. Merchants were agreed that to attract more customers adequate parking must be provided.

A second idea brought forth is a combined mailing list compiled from customer lists in the files of local merchants. This aggregation of names would be used to promote city-wide events and to invite persons who had ever shopped in Plymouth to return. Thirdly, the committee discussed the possibility of an outstanding and more elaborate display at Christmastime for Kellogg Park. A display, patterned along the Ford Rotunda idea, would be an attraction to draw persons to Plymouth throughout the busy Christmas season and thus aid in the committee's plan to build Plymouth into a larger shopping area.

In addition to Chairman Taylor members attending the meeting were: Ralph Lorenz, Jack Selle, Miss Margaret Dunning, Roderick Cassidy, Edwin Schrader and Bill Sliger. The committee will meet again on Thursday, January 26 at 9 a.m. at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Ada Murray was hostess Tuesday evening to members of the Library Book club in her home on Mill street, North.

In spite of the poor weather conditions on Thursday, January 19, the Auxiliary's March of Dimes Card party was well attended and enjoyed. After several games, refreshments were served the guests. Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brehmer on the birth of a daughter.

With District Auxiliary officers Adah Langmaid and Maxine Kunz attended the Myron Beals auxiliary meeting on January 18 in Livonia. Three Bentley high school students, who toured foreign countries last summer during their vacation, gave a report of their experiences. The post held its regular bi-monthly business meeting on Wednesday, January 18. William F. Hansen was accepted into the membership of the post. Congratulations, Bill, hope to see you out real often. Announcement has been made that the Add Wagner banquet on May 10 will be held at the Livonia Bentley high school. Local Legionnaires are urged to plan to attend this function. It is not too early to make your ticket requests.

Mr. and Mrs. Cody Savery are leaving sometime this week for a month's stay in Florida, planning to visit Fort Myers, Tampa and other places of interest.

It's Robins Already

Reports of seeing robins in the vicinity usually don't start coming in until February or March, but 1956 has started off with the orange-breasted birds being spotted in January.

Mrs. Jesse England, 390 Adams street, saw two robins two weeks ago in a tree across the street. A driver delivering oil to her home verified the breed.

While some may hail the sight of robins as a sure sign of early spring, some of the past years have come up with the winter's worst blizzards after robins were spied.

William Pruitt
Master Sergeant William G. Pruitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Moasum, 219 North Harvey street, Plymouth, is scheduled to leave Fort Bragg, North Carolina, for Fort Campbell, Kentucky, in February to become a member of the newly-activated 101st Airborne division.

Sergeant Pruitt is now assigned to the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat team at Fort Bragg, which will be integrated with other units into the "Screaming Eagle" division when it is activated as a combat unit at Fort Campbell.

Pruitt is first sergeant in the 674th Field Artillery Battalion's Battery C. He entered the Army in 1952.

Plymouth Area Civil Defense News

The Civil Defense fire plan for Wayne county was explained at a meeting of area firemen at the Plymouth township hall last Friday night. Explaining the plan was Wyatt E. Barnes, technical secretary to Major General Clyde E. Dougherty, Wayne county CD director.

Attending the meeting were firemen and officials from Plymouth township and city and Northville and Canton townships.

In the discussion it was pointed out that a statewide standard identification card should be issued firemen for times of disaster. When martial law is enforced, military civil government supersedes civil government. It is probable that the National Guard would take over if disaster occurred.

Plymouth Township Director Leo Flowers requested that the Wayne County office of CD should investigate the legal details of martial law and what can be done to cut red tape when Civil Defense is called upon to act but the National Guard is in command.

Arthur E. Plant

Services were held from the Schrader Funeral home at 3 p.m. Friday for Arthur E. Plant, former resident of this area, who succumbed Wednesday, January 18, at Calhoun County hospital in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Mr. Plant, who moved from this area 5 years ago, resided at 80 East Jackson street in Battle Creek. He had been ill the past eight months and passed away at the age of 53.

A self-employed truck driver, the deceased was also a member of the Battle Creek Lutheran church. He was born April 25, 1902 in Detroit to Frank F. and Ida B. Deering Plant.

Surviving are his mother, resident of Detroit; a brother, Harold E. Plant, Livonia; and a sister, Mrs. Adeline I. Wilson, Detroit.

Reverend Edgar Hoenecke conducted the funeral services. Pallbearers were Joe Brodie, Charles and Richard Huebler; Al Hubbs, Milford and Ford Anthony. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Troubled Youngsters Reported Doing Fine

A Plymouth youngster scalded by hot water and a baby who drank camphorated oil are both reported "doing fine" today.

Receiving first degree burns Tuesday was 3-year-old Robert Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, 1013 Holbrook. Mrs. Lee said that she was carrying hot water from a stove to the washing machine when she lost her balance and dropped some of the water on Robert who was at her feet.

The youngster was taken to Sessions hospital and is being treated for first degree burns of the back. He is expected to be hospitalized for some time.

Plymouth firemen received a call Tuesday afternoon to 8425 Haggerty road, Canton township, where Clyde Lynce, 17 months, had drunk camphorated oil. The baby had turned blue and as firemen stood by with the resuscitator, a doctor was able to get the baby to spit up the oil.

DEDICATION of the new Sunday school unit of First Methodist church will take place this Sunday morning. The photo above shows one of the 10 classrooms and its mahogany paneling.

Methodists

1951-52 year was 95. In the 1954-55 year the attendance averaged 211. Attendance has reached as high as 297 and there are 377 on the roll. There are 43 teachers and officers.

Looking at church membership figures, this has increased from 578 in 1948-49 to 1,044 on May 31, 1955. This doubling of church membership has come during the pastorate of Dr. Johnson who arrived in Plymouth in 1950.

First Methodist church of Plymouth has stood on its present location since the first frame building was constructed in 1848. The "audience room" was built on land purchased from E. J. Penniman for $75. Two years after remodeling took place in 1914, the building was destroyed by fire.

A new church of brick construction was dedicated in 1917 and it was in 1924 that the "Community House" was added to meet the social, recreational and educational needs of the church. In this Community House was located the gymnasium.

The congregation has purchased property to the intersection of Church and Adams street on which in the future they expect to expand their church auditorium.

140 Mothers

There was $1,956 collected during the Mother's March last year. Of this amount, $1,759 was collected in the city and $195 in the township. Hi-Y club members of Plymouth high school were in charge of township collections last year.

Mothers participating in today's March of Dimes are hoping for a better break on the weather than they had last year. The mercury during last year's evening Mother's March skidded to seven above zero, one of the coldest temperatures of the winter.

Fourth Graders Head for Circus

For the second consecutive year, Plymouth Shriners will take all fourth grade pupils to the Shrine Circus at the state fairgrounds.

With the help of the Recreation department which will furnish buses for the trip, the Shriners will have treats and tickets for the youngsters in fourth grades of the Catholic, Lutheran and Plymouth Community School district schools.

On Wednesday, February 1, Catholic, Lutheran, Smith and Truesdell fourth graders will make the trip, according to Walter Beglinger, chairman of the program.

The following day will see youngsters from Bird, Starkweather and Cherry Hill schools going. On Friday, the circus will be seen by fourth graders of Allen and Canton Center schools.

Barbara Lyle of Stockbridge was a weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyke on Farmer street.

Farm Re-Zoning Appears Assured

Re-zoning of the Roderick Cassidy farm seemed assured Monday night as the public hearing on the change came to a close. Although 10 neighbors of the newly-annexed 85 acres appeared at the meeting, their objections were not to the proposed Western Electric plant, but to a farm produce stand at North Territorial and Sheldon roads.

As Planning Commission Chairman Sidney Strogg asked for the public to express their views.

While the proposal asked that the northern 35 acres of the farm be zoned to M-2 (light manufacturing), the southern 50 acres is to be zoned R-1 (one-family residential).

As Planning Commission chairman Sidney Strogg asked for the public to express their views there were no voices raised against the Western Electric plant, but neighbors asked how long the fruit and vegetable stand would last.

The Cassidy have given the stand owner permission to operate through this year, it was reported.

Neighbors said that they objected to the stand because of dust, noise from a public address system and possible unsanitary conditions. They also expressed fears that the stand would expand.

The planning commission pointed out that it would be up to other city bodies to exercise police powers to handle objections. As for zoning, the stand would be listed as "non-conforming use" in an R-1 district. This means that the stand cannot be shut down just because of the new zoning designation unless it is abandoned one year. The neighbors were also told that the stand cannot build any additions or change its type of business.

David Wood, one of the planning commissioners, was instructed to submit a list of questions concerning the stand to the city attorney. The commission also went on record as favoring the zoning change but no official action can be taken until another meeting scheduled for February. The planners' recommendation will be submitted to the city commission on February 6.

PRELIMINARY DRAWING of the proposed junior high is shown here as reproduced in the Progressive Architecture magazine. Not to be constructed immediately are the swimming pool (rear part of building in foreground) and auditorium (round building). Remainder of wing in foreground is the gymnasium; main wing contains standard classrooms; wing in background will be "noisy area" for shops, cafeteria and music classes.

Proposed Junior High Building

ogy, and Walter Reuther, of the AFL-CIO and member of the Citizens' Redevelopment Corporation of Detroit.

The following is part of the text which accompanies the school sketch in the magazine: "This school for 1,000 seventh to ninth grade students has been designed for an ample and rather flat site in a residential area. The client wished to adapt the elementary school principle of 'home rooms' for this transitional age group. Home rooms are grouped in pairs sharing common storage and other non-teaching facilities. In one room of the pair, humanities will be taught, basic science in the other."

"After the first third of the day students in these two rooms will change places, then spend the last third in specialized areas such as homemaking, shops, music or gymnasium. These specialized areas, mostly for noisy activities are grouped to the west. Quiet functions occupy the central block in which each two-classroom unit has a court. Conior walls are to be either pallen construction or brick; interior walls of cinderblock. A steel space-frame with acoustical-steel deck roof has been specified for the gymnasium."

Associates of the architectural firm involved in the design of the school are Eberle M. Smith, Peter Tarapata and Mark Jaroszewicz.

Among the firm's other notable school projects are Abraham Lincoln Junior High school in Wyandotte and Derby Junior High school in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hondorp of Grand Rapids spent the weekend with their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs. On Sunday evening they with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hondorp attended the Toronto-Red Wing hockey game at the Olympia in Detroit.

The Priscilla Sewing group met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. A. Kirkpatrick on Auburn avenue for the afternoon and dessert.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

10:30 Sunday morning service.
10:30 Sunday school.

Classes for pupils up to 20 years of age.

How spiritual understanding of divine love enables mankind to make the Golden Rule practical in daily living will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" is the Golden Text from 1 John (4:12): "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us."

The spiritual basis for brotherhood is brought out in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (518:13-19): "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link to the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower. The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's powerful statement on brotherly love (Galatians 5:14): "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself."

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Melbourne Irvin Johnson, D.D., Minister
Mrs. Joyce Heeny Beglarlan, Organist
Urey Arnold, Choir Director
Robert Ingram, Church School Superintendent
Donald Tapp, Assistant Superintendent

Sunday, January 29, 1956
The Sunday school will be held at 9:30 a.m. and close at 10:10 a.m. due to the need of all available space for the "one" worship service which will begin at 10:30 a.m. next Sunday.

Mr. Randall Penhale will speak to the Sunday School on the meaning of the word "dedication" as it applies on this occasion.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed will preach for us next Sunday and lead in the dedicatory service of our new Sunday School unit. Our District Superintendent, the Reverend LaVern Finch, will also participate in this service. Our two choirs, under the leadership of Mr. Urey Arnold, will provide appropriate music.

A twenty page brochure which contains many pictures of interest will be given to each family.

The side room and the Fellowship Hall will be open so as to provide extra seating. We can seat over seven hundred in all. The public is invited to attend this outstanding service. Members and friends are urged to remember that there is just the "one" service next Sunday and that the time for it is 10:30 a.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D., Minister
Reverend Thomas Keeffe, Minister of Christian Education
Richard Daniel, Superintendent

Church School, 9:30 and 11:00 a.m.

New members will be received into the church on Tuesday evening, January 31st, at 8 o'clock in the parlor where they will meet with the Session.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday, February 5th, in both services.

The Sacrament of Infant Baptism will be celebrated on Sunday, February 12th, in the 11 o'clock service. All who have children to be baptized should contact the church office as soon as possible.

There will be two meetings of the Presbyterial for February. Mrs. H. G. Weidler will speak on "Evangelism Through Friendship" on Tuesday, January 31st, in Central Northwest Presbyterian Church, with dinner at 6:15, preceding the meeting. On Wednesday, February 1st, Presbyterial meets at Jefferson Avenue Church at 10:00 a.m. The Reverend Robert Young, Minister of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, will speak on "Overflowing in a Wealth of Liberty." The Highland Park Church was recently the subject of an extensive article in "Presbyterian Life." Reservations for both meetings must be made by 10:00 a.m. Friday, January 27th, with Mrs. Robinson, 2023-W.

The Minister's Bible Class will meet Sunday evening, at 7:15 p.m. in the parlor.

A special meeting of the Session will be held on Tuesday evening, January 31st, at 7 p.m. in the church. New members will be received into the church at this meeting at 8 p.m. in the parlor.

The World Day of Prayer Services, under the auspices of the Plymouth Council of United Church Women, will be held Friday, February 17th, 1:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal church. The service with the theme "One Flock, One Shepherd," was written by the Cook Training School for Indian-Christian leaders in Phoenix, Arizona.

New Books at Dunning Library

Fans of western and mystery novels are in luck this week as far as new books at the Dunning library go, since the majority in the latest shipment were of this category.

New westerns are: "Outlaw's Code" by Evan Evans, Peter Field's "Ride for Trinidad," "Dig the Spurs Deep," "War in the Painted Buttes" and "Guns Roaring West," "Renegade Sheriff" by W. C. Tuttle, "Start Brock's "Double Cross Ranch," "Mascara ad Pass" by William C. MacDonald, Leslie Cott's "Longhorn Empire."

"Bugles West" by Frank Gruber, Joseph Wayne's "Bunch Grass," "Powder Burns" by Al Cody, Will Ermine's "Iron Bronc," and "War on the Saddle Rock," "Cass Fire" by Louise Gilmore, Lew Smith's "Smoky River," "Silver Saddles" by Corcoran and Corey; Michael Garder's "Return for Trouble" by L. L. Foreman.

In the mystery line there are several by Eric Stanley Gardner, "The Case of the Curious Bride," "The Case of the Lucky Legs," and "The Case of the Sulky Girl." A Michael Shayne mystery, "What Really Happened" by Brett Halliday, was also added to the library collection.

The new shipment also contained "The Doors of Perception" by Aldous Huxley, Peter Marshall's "Mr. Jones Meets the Martini," "He Who Rides a Tiger," novel of modern India by Bhabani Bhattacharya; "The Pacific Area Travel Book."

"A Baby's First Year" by Benjamin Spock, M.D., John Reinhardt, M.D. with photos by Wayne Miller; Beth Meyers' "The Enchanted Land," "The Man in the Moonlight" by Cecile Gilmore, and second edition of Katherine Read's "The Nursery School, Human Relations Laboratory."

Other new additions are "Woodrow Wilson and the Progressive Era, 1910-17" Warren Howard's novel, "Tidewater," "Green Grow the Rushes" by Nelson and Shirley Wolford, historical tale set in the days of the Mexican War; Marion W. Flexner's "Cocktail-Supper Cookbook."

The McGraw-Hill pocket travel guide on Western Germany, Jennifer Ames' "Wagon to a Star," "Sweet Summer Love" by William Neubauer, Laura Saunders' "No Place for a Woman," Carol Holliston's "Two in Tampa," Frank G. Ashbrook's "Butcher, Processing and Preservation of Meat."

The library also received "I Passed for White," Reba Lee's story by Mary Hastings Bradley, a pocket-size edition of Tolstoy's "War and Peace," "Portrait of Terry" by Phyllis Yahnke, Mary Douglas Warren's "The High Road," "Don't You Cry For Me" by Mary F. Rosborough, Nell M. Dean's "Barbara Selby" and "Harbor Lights" by Anne Duffield.

JOHN GUNSOLLY'S carding mill built in Plymouth in the 1850's still stands, but not in Plymouth. Henry Ford had it taken to Greenfield Village in June 1929 where it is visited by thousands of people each year.

Once-Busy Plymouth Carding Mill Has Permanent Home in Greenfield Village

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles written by a member of the Plymouth Historical society concerning early Plymouth industry.)

THE CARDING MILL

Among the successful ventures of our hardy settlers who chose farming, we have been told, was the raising of wheat and sheep. It has been said that our rich virgin soil made our pioneers sizable fortunes from wheat and sheep, the end results of which are still felt in many successful local industries and commercial enterprises.

The elderly son of a carding mill owner once related that his father said wool was hauled here from all the surrounding territory, some from as far west as Chelsea and beyond and that the uncarded accumulation was three weeks ahead of the mill's capacity. One may be sure that the employees of this mill had no time for "woolgathering" during the rush nor any time for an afternoon coffee break.

Some of the farmers from a distance often stayed here waiting for their turn, boarding at the local hotel for about $3 a week for room and meals. If by any chance any had time hanging heavy on their hands and needed a little solace, "good whiskey" could be had for 25 cents per gallon. Gallon—not quart—was the right word.

This old mill is still standing.

sturdy and strong as ever but, not on its original site. Henry Ford acquired it as an example of early American industrial architecture and moved it, minus water-wheel and machinery, to Greenfield Village. The millwheel had fallen to pieces and the machinery long since sold as scrap. This writer, as a small boy, recalls it still standing sturdy and upright, lonely and disused, smelling pungently of that oily, wheezy odor, but with its water-wheel and machinery intact. It was an interesting place to explore and once with the help of other "juvenile delinquents" an attempt was made to start the creaking machinery. Much clutter and loud rumbling quickly put an end to this project and in a trice, a group of small boys could have been seen innocently catching frogs along the skummy water of the trail race.

Traces of this old trail race are still visible in what is now Middle Rouge park.

College Plans Retreat

Following the semester holidays, Madonna college students will participate in the annual Student Retreat slated for this weekend. This year the Retreat will be conducted by Fr. Thomas C. Biecker, S. J., from John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio.

Prayer, meditation, instruction, spiritual direction, self-appraisal and resolution are the means which Madonna students will use to recede their lives to the fullness of Christian principles and to regain sense, security and inspiration.

Immediately after the Retreat, Madonnites will resume their classes for the second semester on Monday, January 30.

Salem Pastor Ordained

At services held in the Forest Avenue Baptist church in Ypsilanti last week, Richard S. Burgess, pastor of the Salem Federated church, was ordained.

Reverend Burgess has served the Salem congregation since August 1, 1955. Prior to that time he was assistant pastor at the Covenant Community church in Detroit. He is a graduate of Southland Bible Institute, Pikesville, Kentucky and Kings college, Delaware, now located in New York City.

Grange Cleanings

Owing to the snow storm and the slippery roads the Grange meeting of January 19 was not very well attended. However, those who were there enjoyed the meeting. The program was in charge of Mabel Loomis and provided a lot of amusement which is good to have occasionally.

Norman Miller is still a shut-in at his home and would appreciate callers to help pass the time away.

Our next Grange meeting is on February 2 and is expected to be a real treat. We are to have a speaker and several guests. The women who are on the kitchen committee have requested that the baskets of food be taken directly to the kitchen and they will take charge of the food from there. The program will take place at the tables. Mr. Hartom is to be toastmaster for the evening so be sure to be there as you know it will be good.

Sponsors Luncheon

A "Luncheon Is Served," program, similar to one sponsored by the organization last year, will be given Tuesday, January 31, by the Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mayflower post No. 6695, at 1 p.m. in the post hall on Lilley road.

The Legislative committee under the leadership of Kay Coolman is sponsoring the event. The luncheon, served by Auxiliary members, will be followed by a demonstration and talk on various brands of food.

Tickets are available at Linda Lee's, from the chairman or any Auxiliary member. The event is open to the public.

Time will reveal everything. It is a babblers, and speaks even when not asked. — Euripides.

On Thursday, January 19, the Rosedale Gardens Women's club held a meeting in the clubhouse. Perhaps it was fortunate that the guest speaker was ill and unable to attend because there were only 18 women present and it would have been a little embarrassing for all concerned had he come and noted the small attendance.

It is hard to say whether the weather or possibly other meetings were the cause of the small attendance but it would be nice if everyone would make a point of attending the next meeting, February 2, and bring one friend. It would show the officers and committee your appreciation for the time and effort they put forth to keep the organization functioning.

Buy Northville Funeral Home

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the Phillips-Bahnmler Funeral Home, 404 West Main, Northville, by Charles W. Bahnmler, formerly in partnership with Forrest F. Phillips.

The transaction was completed Wednesday, January 18, with subsequent change in the name of the undertaking establishment to the Charles W. Bahnmler Funeral Home. Phillips is owner of the Phillips Funeral home in South Lyon.

The partnership was formed three years ago when Phillips and Bahnmler purchased the funeral home from Nelson C. Schrader. Prior to this time, Bahnmler was manager of the Geer Funeral home in Ypsilanti. He was also associated for five years with the William R. Hamilton company, Detroit. Bahnmler, his wife and four children reside at the Main street location in Northville.

It doesn't take a genius to use big money and make money — at least in today's times, or in the last fifteen years for that matter.

Who's New in Plymouth

A DESIRE to live in a less congested area brought the Donald O. Kysers and family of four from West Dearborn to their present home at 7041 Canton center road. Seated above with the four-year-old twins, Darlene (left) and Arlene, are Mr. and Mrs. Kyser. 9-year-old Karen and Donald, 12, with the family pet, Susie. Since moving into the local residence in October, the Kysers have concentrated on remodeling and redecorating their home. He is employed at DeSoto Motor company in Detroit.

Professor Gives Views On Foreign Relations

"The average American does not realize the importance of Africa in terms of international relations and national security," said Assistant Professor Henry L. Bretton of the political science department, University of Michigan, in a current events speech given recently before the Plymouth Woman's club.

The statement was made in reference to one of several regions of the world directly affecting East-West relationships.

Citing the oppression of the African negro and attitude of contempt and arrogance towards them on the part of European colonists in the southern, eastern and northern areas of the Continent, Bretton stated that the African problem is "remedious and watched by the world as to the attitude that the U. S. will take towards this situation."

Bretton emphasized the importance of Kenya on the African east coast, site of the Mau Mau society. Kenya, he declared, was of particular interest to both the U. S. and Russia for its closeness to Arabia, the British colonies. The problem of the Mau Maus has not been solved and could become a serious threat in time of war to U. S. Anglo forces operating from strategic bases in this area.

he added. Moreover, the U. S. has become associated with the colonial powers, he said, making it hard to convince the peoples of Africa that the U. S. is on the side of the free and those who seek independence.

This affinity with the colonial powers is again a drawback in terms of U. S.-Asian relations, where its people have been oppressed for centuries by French, Dutch and English colonists.

Stressing the importance of Asia, the professor quoted Lenin, "The road to London and Paris leads through Singapore and Bombay." Russia is concentrating on this area, he stated, hoping that by weakening the French and British empires and thus the nations themselves, Germany will become isolated. Then the U. S. with weakened or nonexistent allies, must eventually fall to Russia.

The security pacts in the Middle East and Southeast Asia, he said, have largely been made with the elite of non-democratic countries and not with the people. The problem is to convince the masses that we are interested in their right to independence, racial equality and to provide aid benefiting them and not totalitarian heads. We must face up to the questions of race and color at home, he added, if we are to convince the outside world.

U. S. foreign policy, he concluded, should be guided by careful analysis of fact and not on the strength of domestic politics nor partisan politics.

Program chairman was Mrs. Thomas Phillips. Mrs. Gustaf Lundquist was dessert chairman for this meeting.

O. E. S. NEWS

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held at 7:30 on Tuesday, February 7. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

At the special meeting on February 21 it will be exchange night with Nankin Chapter of Wayne. There is a dinner at 6:30 and chapter will open at 8. Reservations for dinner can be made with Clara Todd, Telephone 75.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

On Sunday, January 15, Helen Bowring, Beverly Brown, Jane Deikman, Dorothy Archer, Grace Burley took cigarettes, candy, playing cards, toothpaste etc. to the veterans at Maybury sanitarium. They also took a donation of books and magazines to the Children's Ward at the hospital.

Thanks to all who were able to make this trip. Our apologies to Helen Bowring who made the important trip at Christmas time along with those mentioned in that particular column!

Our deepest sympathies to Lee and Kay Coolman, on the passing of Lee's mother in Ludington, Michigan.

Will the person who took a tan gabardine coat by mistake from the Post Christmas Dance please return the coat and receive his own from Max Stroehlein?

The Auxiliary girls, under the chairmanship of Helen Bowring and the assistance of Betty Marquis and Bea Walton, served dinner to over 200 members of the Daisy Credit union, on Monday, January 23, at the Post hall.

A reminder again of the "Luncheon is Served" program on Tuesday, January 31, at the Post hall at 1 p.m. The Legislative Committee is sponsoring the event under the leadership of Kay Coolman. We plan an afternoon of fun and refreshment and urge all the girls to sell as many tickets as they can, so that the affair will be as successful as it was last year.

Tonight, January 26, is our Polio March again. Chairman Geraldine Olson has the schedule arranged. The plans are that your particular route will be presented to you before the March, this evening. There is still a need for more workers in the Plymouth township during the day. Plymouth chairman Virginia Bartel would like the names of anyone who would be available to work today in the township. We feel it is the duty of those who reside in the township to take care of their own territory and the Plymouth residents to canvass their local area. This is only once a year and we don't think it is too much to ask everyone's full cooperation to donate an hour of their time during the day and evening! We all are aware how important the cause is and how valuable the money is to carry on the Polio work for the many polio cases, some of them right in our very own Auxiliary!

Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Jerome Lambda assisted by Mrs. William Swihart.

Well Baby Health Clinic Scheduled February 1

The Wayne County Health Department, with the help of the Livonia Health Guild, will hold its monthly Well Baby Clinic on Wednesday, February 1st, at 1 p.m.

The clinic will be held in the community room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association at Sheldon Center. This clinic is for the benefit of "well" children from three months to five years of age. Children will receive physical examinations at regular intervals and protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. In addition their mothers may discuss with the doctor any problems regarding diet, behavior or general care of her child.

There is a pediatrician at each clinic along with volunteer help from the local health guild. This clinic is not designed to treat sick children but to prevent healthy children from becoming ill. Appointments are necessary and may be made by calling Mrs. J. Reed, GA 2-1453.

By LYN CONNELLY
TELEVISION executives are never so happy as when they are ruining the public's opportunity of seeing two good programs... Competition is a great American institution but there must be a limit somewhere... Night after night two fine programs overlap... In fact, there are times when three overlap... The payoff came when William Faulkner's great play, "The Sound and the Fury" started a half hour before a pretty young psychologist was due to try for $64,000 on the quiz show by that name... We were obliged to miss the dramatic end of the play to lend our moral support to the young lady who repaid us by not letting us down, even though the questions she had to answer were clearly over and beyond the call to duty... She certainly earned $64,000.

There are six or seven parts to that last big question and the contestant has all of 30 seconds to collect her wits, stop wishing she had let well enough alone at $32,000 and figure out the answers to all the questions... Personally, we wouldn't even be able to remember all the questions standing in that isolation booth, which the marine who won $64,000 for his knowledge of cooking aptly termed the "pressure cooker"...

Standing in that hot little booth, with all that money at stake while the emcee is calmly shooting questions at you, and 30 seconds to think out the exact answer to each one—how can anyone say this is "easy money?"

AMONG THE MANY Plymouthites who are spending their vacations in the sunny South are Mr. and Mrs. James Stimpson and their children, Jimmy and Joyce. They spent a week at Ft. Lauderdale and have now returned home. Mr. Stimpson is associated with Champion Container corporation. Their home is at 592 Garfield.

Earth Nearer Sun Now Than Any Time of Year

Shivering on a street corner waiting for the bus it's hard to believe that the Earth is closer to the Sun now than at any other time in the year. But it is!

So says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh, who adds that the Sun is as much as one and a half million miles closer than the average of ninety-three million miles.

As the month progresses there will be a slight increase in the length of the day and by the end of January we'll have an hour more of daylight. However, Professor Losh points out, along with the increasing hours of sunshine we'll have colder weather.

"Heat is being radiated away from the Earth faster than it is being received. It's not till the rate of heating overtakes the rate of cooling that we may expect warmer weather," she explains. And this won't occur until the beginning of February.

"The brightest star in the sky, Sirius, will be out this month. Appearing in the constellation Canis Major, The Great Dog, this star can be seen in the southeast below Orion just after dark. The three stars in Orion's belt point downward to Sirius, says the astronomer.

This star is of great interest to persons all over the world, she declares, because it is visible from almost every habitable part of the earth. It's one of our nearest neighbors. Its light takes less than nine years to reach us.

"Interesting as Sirius is, it has a telescopic companion which is even more so," Professor Losh states. "This companion is no ordinary star! It has the mass of a star but a diameter more appropriate for a planet," she describes.

If a pint of the material which composes it were put on the surface of the Earth, it would weigh more than twenty-five tons.

Another constellation of interest in the January sky is Gemini, made up of two parallel lines of stars, extending in a north-easterly direction from Orion and ending in the two bright stars, Castor and Pollux, of legendary fame.

Seen through a small telescope Castor is a double star, and near this is another telescopic star. When light from these three is analyzed by means of the spectroscope each is found to be a binary (double star).

"So Castor turns out to be a truly multiple star with at least six components making up the system," says Professor Losh.

Ever Hear of the Local Credit Bureau? Chances are that They Know About You

There's a place of business in Plymouth which very few folks have frequented or even know exists — but it's a sure bet that almost every family in Plymouth is part of its operation.

Known as the Credit Bureau of Plymouth-Northville-Livonia, the small office located behind a home at 259 Elizabeth street is actually the hub of credit research for tens of thousands of people in 13 communities ranging from Farmington, Inkster and Romulus, to South Lyons, Novi and Belleville.

There are very few families who have never established credit in this day and age and if they live within range of the local credit bureau office, chances are that their names and credits are reported as in their extensive files.

Mrs. Grace Nicholas is owner and manager of the office here, having purchased it 10 years ago. Credit reporting here actually goes back to 1927 when the Merchants Credit Service helped Plymouth and Northville merchants obtain this information. It has been operated by the Chamber of Commerce and several individuals since its beginning here.

Today, while the Association of Credit Bureaus of America is celebrating its 50th anniversary, the Plymouth office has built its membership up to 72 members and expects to increase that number considerably when they begin to solicit business this spring.

James Davis, son-in-law of the owner, is collection manager for the operation and expects to call on businessmen to interest them in the credit bureau idea.

Once there was a time in credit bureau history when they had a negative function — to pass around information about bad risks. They issued "blacklists" about debtors who couldn't pay their bills.

But the modern credit bureau has a positive purpose. About 98 per cent of the information they pass along to merchants about potential credit customers is complimentary, according to Davis. "One of the most important assets a person can have nowadays is a good credit report," the collections manager added.

There was also a time when most merchants didn't believe in allowing credit. Davis asserted, "There are still a few old-timers who won't do it and they're taking a beating."

More merchants than ever are becoming interested in credit bureau services because of the great influx of new people to this area. No longer does the retailer know "everybody in town" and their ability to pay bills. By calling the credit bureau, he can have the information in 15 minutes.

The operation works like this: John Doe goes into a Plymouth appliance store and decides to buy a TV set on credit. He must fill out a credit application, listing all previous places where he had credit. If he wants to take the TV set home with him, the merchant calls the local credit bureau immediately and tells them that John Doe had credit in Plymouth and Lansing.

The Plymouth credit listing is easily found in a nearby file, but a long distance phone call has to be placed to the Lansing credit bureau office. If the merchant had not been in a hurry, a telegram would have been sent. Lansing replies with their record on Mr. Doe and all information is then phoned back to the applicant dealer.

It is not up to the credit bureau to recommend if the customer's credit is excellent, average or poor. It is up to the merchant to make up his own mind. If John Doe has had three good credit experiences and one bad one, the merchant then has a problem of judgement. A person with no previous credit experience, having paid all his bills in cash, sometimes has a tough time getting credit, Davis explained.

Like most credit bureaus, the local office also collects delinquent accounts. That's where Davis comes in. It is his job to find stray debtors and politely ask for payment. If that doesn't work, the debtor may eventually end up in court. There are a few people who never pay a bill until they receive a summons, Davis pointed out.

Even if the debtor is known to have moved to California, he stands a good chance of being found. Davis turns the collection job over to a credit bureau there for a percentage of the collection. Expense of catching up with these people may cost the merchant a third or half of the bill, but they consider any return well worth it.

Not all inquiries come from merchants. Professional people, banks, loan companies and even industries seek information. Some industries ask for credit information about key personnel they are hiring just to find out what kind of person he is. No one needs to belong to the credit bureau to use its services, but they must have a purpose. An individual, for instance, won't get away with just being nosy about someone else's credit. If they are selling someone a house or car, they have a justifiable reason.

When a member calls for a credit reference, they must state their code number so that impersonators cannot receive the information which is held in strict confidence. Much business is performed by mail. When a Plymouthite opens a charge account at Hudson's for instance, the local credit bureau is always called upon by mail to list information. The local bureau attempts to clear all phone inquiries in 15 minutes and mail inquiries in 24 hours.

With phone calls being made to all parts of the nation, the bureau's bill here might come to $300 a month. Phone and telegram tolls, however, are charged to the firm making the inquiry. A staff of four now keep the local bureau in operation. A bulletin is prepared each month for members which lists a wide variety of information which might be helpful to them. Listed are births, deaths, mortgages, marriages, judgements, chattel and real estate mortgages, bankruptcies, a list of delinquent debtors and "not responsible for debt" notices.

Year's Education For Five Dollars

"A year's education for five dollars!"

That's what it costs to keep a Korean orphan in school for one year, according to Mrs. Melva Gardner, Child Welfare chairman of the Passage-Gayde Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, who reports that auxiliary units throughout the area are being asked to contribute $5 or more for education of unfortunate children in Korea. The movement was begun by a contribution of $500 from the auxiliary's national organization, enough to provide school for one year for 100 children.

"Korea is the only reliable ally the free world has on the Asia mainland," said Mrs. Gardner. "If the Korean orphans are to grow into capable guardians of democracy in that part of the world, they must have education. It is the American Legion Auxiliary's hope to help bring educational opportunity to thousands of these little victims of their country's gallant fight for freedom."

Nothing without wings climbs like a '56 Chevrolet!

The new '56 Chevrolet handles hills like they aren't even there! Aim it up a steep grade . . . and you'll see why it's the Pikes Peak record breaker!

Ever level off a mountain with your foot? Nothing to it. Just point this new '56 Chevy uphill and ease down on the gas.

In the merest fraction of a second you sense that big bore V8 lengthening out its stride. And up you go with a quiet rush of power (hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all engines—V8 or 6) that makes a mountain seem as flat as a road-map!

For nothing without wings climbs like a '56 Chevrolet! This is the car, you know, that broke the Pikes Peak record. The car that conquered towering grades and vicious switchback turns to prove its superior performance, handling ease and cornering ability.

These are built-in qualities that mean more driving pleasure and safety for you. You can also have such safety features as seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

You've a choice of 19 frisky new Chevrolets all with Fisher Body and with horsepower ranging up to 205. Drop in, when you have a chance, and drive the new record breaker!

Bathey Upsets Tripp In Recreation Action

The complete league supremacy displayed by the Geo. Tripp cagers in the local men's recreation basketball conference came to a sudden end last Thursday evening as a fired-up Bathey Mfg. quintet tagged the listless Trippsters with a 40-39 defeat.

The loss was league-leading Tripp's first of the current campaign and snipped its win skein at 10 straight. Bathey's win, its second of the week, boosted the Mfg. five to a 5-6 season card, good for a share of second place in the loop.

Bathey's win over Tripp came exactly a week after the same Bathey squad wrestled the league-toppers to a 20-20 halftime tie and seemed on the way to an upset. However Tripp came back in the second half to card a 49-36 decision. But it was a different story last week.

Sparked by Dick Day and Bob Houghton, plus brilliant rebounding by the entire Bathey team, the winners numbed their opponent in the early moments, building an 8-2 lead in the first three minutes and closing the initial quarter in command, 12-6. At the half, Bathey held a similar six-point bulge, 23-17.

Although the first half provided Bathey with its opportunity to shape a leading edge, it was the final minute of play in the fourth quarter that earned the winners their decision. Following Tripp's third-quarter surge which deadlocked the score at 31-31 at the start of the fourth period, Bathey had its hands full holding back the threatening Tripp cagers.

But with the aid of five free throws in the closing moments, Bathey stepped out in front, 40-37. Then Tripp's Bob Lulfs meshed a long shot, 53 seconds from the end, to bring the score to 40-39.

Attempting to freeze the ball on the return, Bathey lost possession and Tripp raced upcourt. A pass to Lulfs, beneath the Bathey net, looked like a sure two points, but Lulfs was fouled in the try and missed the basket.

Only four seconds remained as Lulfs stepped to the free throw line with two charity attempts and the opportunity to pull Tripp off the coals. Surprisingly, he missed them both and Bathey gathered in the final rebound as the game ended.

Pacing the winners' scoring attack was Houghton who totaled 15 points on seven field goals and one free toss. He was backed by Day's 12-point effort, as Roger Bogenschultz added six and Arlen cashed four, including two free throws in the final period that shaped the winning margin.

Lulfs headed Tripp's point-making production with 15 counters, Mac Pierce collected 10 and Jim Bloomhuff netted eight.

That same evening Tai's registered its fifth win of the season as against six defeats by turning back Brader, 52-51, in another thriller. Pat Robinson's field goal with less than a minute remaining earned the Cleanersmen their slender edge.

Tai's raced to a 15-11 first-quarter score and built a 27-21 bulge at the half only to have Brader erupt for 19 points in the third frame and trim the difference to 42-40. Brader went out in front with a minute and twenty seconds left on Jim Rambeau's free throw setting the stage for Robinson who cashed his goal seconds later, winning the contest.

Bud Nedry's 19 points, 10 in the first period, took game scoring honors as Robinson listed 12 tallies and Ron Pagenkopf garnered 10. A newcomer to the Brader's roster, Jerry Heaton, paced the losers with 17.

Other action in the men's cage league last week found Tripp mauling Brader, 85-49, behind Lulfs' 20-point splurge and Bathey notched another win, a 46-40 nod over Tai's, as Day pumped in 16.

Facing the precision-like Trippsters, Brader never was in contention. Tripp tallied 21 points in the first period and 29 in the third, sufficient scoring to turn back the Northville team without including the second and fourth frames.

Backing up Lulfs' contribution were Bud Lanphear and Don Huebler, each with 13, Bloomhuff with 12 and Duane Becker with 10. Don McMurray hit for 18 and Larry Brennan added 16 for the losers.

In its win over Tai's, Bathey held leads from five to nine points. Pat Robinson held up Tai's scoring with 14, while Bathey banked on Day's 16, Houghton's nine and Dwight Eckler's seven.

The standings:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Tripp	10	1
Tai's	5	6
Bathey	5	6
Brader	2	9

Swimmers Tumble to Third Loss As Ann Arbor Earns 50-37 Win

Tumbling to their third defeat of the current season, the Plymouth tank squad was submerged by invading Ann Arbor high school last Friday evening to a 50-37 tune.

Placing five first and six seconds in the meet, the visitors proved well synchronized in all of the nine events. Their initial victory came early in the contest as Rolf Clark splashed out a time of 1:05.2 in the 100-yard breaststroke for a first place finish and a new pool record. Following Clark was Dean Flower, also of the victors, who nipped the locals' Mike Todd for second.

Capturing one of Plymouth's four firsts of the evening was Don Carney. Falling short of setting a new pool and team record by one-tenth of a second, Carney walked off with the meet's opening event, the 50-yard freestyle, as he was clocked in a winning time of :25.7. Following Carney was Peter Gail who eked out a second for Ann Arbor when he defeated Plymouth's John Williams by a narrow margin in the race for the runner-up position.

Continuing his success in the 200-yard freestyle, Bill Brandell, the locals' diminutive captain, captured first in the freestyle with a time of 2:06.9, for a new pool and team record. Albert Root of Ann Arbor trailed Brandell in second while Dick Ellis, also of the visiting squad, captured third.

Setting a new team record for the locals was John Gregory who, with the time of 1:06.1, finished the 100-yard backstroke far ahead of Ann Arbor's Ed Argeringer. David Nutt, also of Ann Arbor, wound up in the third place slot.

Aiding the visiting squad in victory was Peter Gail who took second in the 50-yard freestyle and returned to haunt the locals with a time of :56.1 and first place in the 100-yard freestyle.

Plymouth Teams Boast Identical Won-Loss Cards

Managing to compile a mediocre three-win and three-loss record to date in overall play, Plymouth's varsity cagers have completed nearly half of their 13-game schedule. They rest on the third rung in Suburban Six league action with a two-win and three-loss mark.

Heading the composite scoring in the six games for Plymouth thus far is tall Tom Ferguson with 75 points. He is trailed in the point-production department by Ken Calhoun with 66, Dick Davidson with 51, including one 27-point effort, and Jack Carter with 34.

The Rocks from a statistical standpoint have scored an aggregate of 301 tallies in six games while watching their opponents ring up 293 counters against them. Plymouth's game scoring average is 50.1 while opponents have averaged 48.0.

The Rocks have mustered wins over Northville, Belleville and highly-touted Redford Union and have suffered losses to Allen Park, Bentley and Trenton.

In the meantime, the local varsity swimmers have been struggling their way through an exact won-lost replica of the basketball squad. Plymouth's tankers have notched three wins and lost three in dual-meet competition. They have six contests to come this season.

The tank team has compiled a total of 280 points in the six meets for an average of 46.0 while the combined scoring of opponents totals 242 for a scoring mark of 40.0. The tankers defeated Dearborn, Trenton and Ypsilanti while bowing to Lincoln Park, Birmingham and Ann Arbor.

Two Badminton Players Gain Novice Meet Finals

Entered in the Michigan Novice Badminton tourney held at the Lasky Recreation Center in Detroit on January 7 and 14 were nine Plymouth Badminton club players, two of whom gained the finals only to lose there and finish as runners-up.

Battling their way to the last two out of three series of matches were Plymouthites Jerry Vettese and Tom Carmichael who were turned back by the resulting champions, an entry from Monroe and one from Detroit.

Others from the local club that participated in the tourney were: Don Alsbro, Tom Locke, Bill Rambo, Fred Libbing, Jim Gibson, Jim Cresman and Lee Huber. The Plymouth Badminton club, a portion of the local recreation program, is coached by Bill Baker and meets every Monday evening at the high school at 7:30.

Tripp Cards Win In 'Dimes' Meet

Participating in the Wayne March of Dimes basketball tournament last Saturday evening, Geo. Tripp scored a first-round win over the Ford All-Stars from Wayne by a 65-63 count. The Trippsters are the local mens recreation league leaders.

Playing at St. Mary's gym in Wayne, the cagers from Tripp managed a 31-26 halftime edge and bucketed 34 more points in the final frames to card the decision. Shouldering the scoring for Tripp was Bob Lulfs with 21, high for the night, and Mac Pierce with 18. Ted Osada with 16 and Mike Lynch with 13 headed the losers' scoring.

In the other game, Van Meter whipped up a 55-48 nod over the 30th Air Force from Willow Run behind Geboski's 17-point contribution and Moseley's 16. Cantwell listed 20 for the Air Force and teammate Nissen hit for 15.

This Saturday evening in the final round of play, Tripp will battle Van Meter Insurance to determine the tourney's winner. Ford All-Stars face the 30th Air Force in the consolation game. The contests will be held either at the new Wayne high school gymnasium or at the old high school court.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to the current March of Dimes campaign.

PERFORMANCE made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742	.....
Car C-V-8	634,376	..... 607,366
Car P-V-8	262,870	..... 978,872
Car C-Six	845,153	..... 396,589
Car P-Six	334,540	..... 907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than bought the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! They even bought 396,589 more Ford V-8's than the next competitive Six!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile! Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up! Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in... try it today!

Recreation Cage Scoring Headed by Lulfs' 169

With a total of 35 points in two games last week in the mens recreation basketball league, Geo. Tripp center Bob Lulfs continued to widen his pace-setting margin over runner-up Don McMurray in the race for season scoring honors.

Lulfs lists an aggregate of 169 counters in ten games for a 16.9 game scoring average. Although his team, league-leading Geo. Tripp, has had 11 battles, Lulfs has played in only ten. He also did not score any points in one contest in which he saw action.

In second place, with a wide edge over the next top-scorer, is Brader's McMurray with 141 points in 11 games for a 12.8 game average. Tait's Bud Nedry holds down third place in the scoring race with 119 points, closely followed by Bathey's Dick Day with 112 and Tripp's Duane Becker with 111.

Other current leaders, their respective teams and totals are: Tripp's Mac Pierce (103); Tait's Pat Robinson (93); Brader's Ed Hock and Larry Brennan (both with 92); Bathey's Bob Houghton (87); Tait's Bob Bruce (84); Bathey's Bob Arlen (74); Tripp's Bud Lanphear (69); and Bathey's Dwight Eckler (68).

Cagers Hopes Sliced Thinner By Allen Park

Unable to take advantage of a good thing, Plymouth's varsity cagers were humiliated last Friday as cellar-dwelling Allen Park upset the favored Rocks 42-41.

It was the Parkers' first conference decision in five games while the defeat was number three for the local basketball team as against two wins in the Suburban Six race.

In addition, the loss all but erased Plymouth's chances of retaining its share of the loop crown captured last year (with Trenton). At the half-way mark in the league schedule, the Rocks apparently would have to win all of their remaining five battles just to stay in contention.

Plymouth's humbled state at the game's end was due to Allen Park's sudden and shattering start, which found the hosting squad ring up a first-quarter lead of 17-6 over the Rocks. Allen Park continued its domination

Rocks Third In Suburban League Play

In the topsy-turvy Suburban Six league basketball scramble, where top-ranked teams lose to lower division clubs and then win over even higher-ranked squads, Plymouth managed to gain sole possession of third place last week.

But it was a step down and not a step up that brought the Rocks to their present situation. Friday Plymouth suffered a 42-41 reversal at the hands of lowly Allen Park while Trenton (who was previously tied with the Rocks for third) pummeled Belleville. At the same time, precision-like Redford Union stopped league-leading Bentley.

Redford Union, appearing like the vaunted machine it is, eased to a wide margin of victory over the Bentley five only a week after mixed-up Plymouth had tagged the Unionites with a 69-68 loss.

As a result both Redford Union and Bentley hold shares on the conference lead with four wins and one loss to their credits at the half-way point in the 10-game slate.

Trenton, by virtue of its win over Belleville, hoisted itself to second place on the ladder with a 2-2 record. Plymouth, who was tagged with its third defeat Friday, has won two and is precariously settled on the third rung, ready to go either way depending upon its collective fancy.

And vying with each other for the bottom step on the conference stair are Belleville and Allen Park, each with one win and four defeats.

throughout the second frame, shaping a 30-19 half-way advantage, a deficit the locals found too much to overcome.

Although catching fire sufficiently in the last half to more than meet the Parkers on even terms, Plymouth only succeeded in working itself to a 38-30 shortage at the close of the third quarter. Then the Rocks tried hard to overrun the eventual winners with an 11-point burst in the final period.

But Allen Park, its scoring frenzy ended, still managed to tab four more counters, just enough to eke out the victory.

Scoring honors for Plymouth went to Tom Ferguson with 17, while Ken Calhoun added seven, Jerry King marked six and Dick Davidson chipped in with five. Allen Park's Robb bucketed 13 to lead the victors. Tresh and Smith each added eight on the way.

Tonight Plymouth greets Belleville on the local court. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

High School Starts Class in Wrestling

A wrestling champ of the future might be among the 35 boys participating in Plymouth high school's new wrestling class, held Monday through Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:30 in the high school gym.

After about two months of conditioning and learning basic holds, the boys will compete with nearby schools on an intra-mural basis. The instructor, John "Mike" Hoben, junior varsity basketball coach and math teacher, is a recent addition to the high school faculty.

The class is mainly for boys not on the swimming and football teams. It is the first of its kind in Plymouth high school. Boys interested in joining need not sign up, but may start coming to class.

Tech Carnival Being Planned By Local Youths

Two Plymouth men, students at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton are busy working on plans for the school's 1956 Winter Carnival, February 6 through 11.

Stewart C. Oldford, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Oldford, 9825 Beck road, and Ronald M. Krump, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Krump, 11429 Gold Arbor road, have both been named to the publicity committee for the carnival. Both are members of Blue Key fraternity, which sponsors this yearly event.

Oldford is a senior at Michigan Tech and is majoring in chemical engineering. In addition to his membership in Blue Key, he is active in Phi Eta Sigma, a national honorary scholastic society, Phi Lambda Upsilon, an honorary chemical and chemical engineering group, the student branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, and Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineering society. He is serving as president of Tau Beta Pi during his senior year.

Krump is a junior at Tech and is also majoring in chemical engineering. A member of the Army ROTC program, he recently attained the rank of cadet sergeant first class. He is active on the Army ROTC drill team and is serving as secretary of the military council. Krump is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma fraternity and is a representative of the junior class on the Tech Student Council. His fraternity is Kappa Delta Psi.

Both young men are graduates of the Plymouth high school.

Sponsors Annual Essay Contest

The Auxiliary to Passage-Gayde post No. 391, American Legion, has announced that the national organization is again sponsoring its annual essay contest among students of the seventh through 12th grades.

Mrs. Fern Burleson, Americanism chairman of the local Auxiliary, stated that contest rules and general information have been delivered to Superintendent of Schools, Cary Bentley, and Arthur Alford, junior high school principal. Title of this year's essay is "The Lamp and our Doorway — The Statue of Liberty."

Local contestants will be eligible for a first prize of $10 and a second of $2 in each senior and junior group. The 17th district awards a first-place prize of $5 to each winner on the local level. In the statewide competition, first prize is $50; second, $25; and third, $15, in each group. Local contestants will also be eligible for national honors.

Madonna Paper Receives Honors From CP Critics

The Madonna Herald again has been awarded an All-American honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press in its fifty-third national newspaper critical service. The rating was based on the second semester 1954-55 issues of the campus newspaper.

The Herald received 1,740 points out of a minimum of 1,600 points necessary for an All-American award in its classification.

According to the analysis rating for the coverage of news, the Herald scored excellent for such items as: interpretative articles on education, timely features on classwork, interviews and student, faculty and alumnae interest.

The newspaper was judged on its style, news stories, leads, feature articles and copyreading. Other commendations were based on the physical properties of the paper: page makeup, headlines, printing, typography and photography.

In department pages, editorial page features were rated as excellent columns. The calibre of the Herald's editorials were slated as high because original approaches are used. Sports coverage was noted to be unusually good for a women's college.

The publication was also commended for a good, clean-cut style, interesting, crisp and descriptive.

Guiding the Herald as editor during the semester was Beatrice Czgnkusz, senior.

June Opening Set For M.S.U.'s New Music Addition

A wider range of music department activities at Michigan State university in East Lansing will be apparent with the June opening of a new music building addition.

A main portion of the attractive matching addition is a choral room to be used by glee clubs and other singing groups. It seats 250. Its facilities for radio and television transmission will give the music department its first chance to broadcast performances of singing groups, according to Roy Underwood, department head.

Six large classrooms also are built into the addition, equipped with audio-visual aids facilities and light-proof drapes. Other rooms include six offices and seven studios. Basement space provides 44 sound-proof practice rooms and lockers. Also in the basement is a new piano technician's room, reached by a freight elevator. Repairs on music department pianos will be made here.

A student lounge is being made available in the main building, a feature formerly lacking because of limited space.

Two classrooms in addition to the choral room will be equipped to handle television cameras, including color equipment. The MSU band plans to use the choral room for television appearances, and classroom techniques will be seen.

Don't just hope that everything's going to be all right. Be sure. Act now, insure to protect yourself and your family. A well-planned, well-balanced insurance program assures proper care in case of accident or illness. . . prevents financial loss from fire or annuity benefits. Check with us for full details.

State Politicians Prepare Campaign Ammo

POLITICIANS ARE WINDING UP for the Battle of the Ballots in 1956. Both sides are carefully polishing issues and grooming slates of candidates, the better to put together a campaign machine sometime in the spring and summer.

Republicans, convinced he will try for a fifth term, are still hoping for a candidate to go against Gov. Williams. At a kickoff dinner in Lansing some weeks ago, Mayor Albert E. Cobo, of Detroit, a favorite of many party leaders, got a standing ovation when he started and ended his speech.

Rep. Bentley was on hand and received polite applause when he was introduced. Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner who lost to Williams in 1954, also attended.

Behind the scenes works the party organization, headed by State Chairman John Feikens. Feikens has been criticized by some elements for not putting a Republican in the executive office and for letting Democrats out in a full slate in 1954.

Observers around the Capitol and the state believe Feikens has been doing a good job. Without a governor, a party tends to lack unity on a number of issues. A thousand ideas are hard to crystallize against a party of colorful one from the governor's office. Friends of Feikens also point to the fact of Williams and the Democrats: No one has beaten them since 1946, even before Feikens was state chairman. The story of the Democrats for 1956 is pretty well known and politicians are awaiting the final, climactic developments before making a move.

It will be either Williams or Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart for governor and the same slate now holding office. Some believe Williams will try in 1956 for national office because of his speechmaking on national issues and his travels. But he made similar trips and talks before announcing in 1953 for governor.

The issues will be finely drawn this time, bearing overtones of the last campaign. There will be highways (Last time, Republicans accused Williams of running against Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler), mental health, higher education, and others.

Republicans would like to bear down on the campaign contributions battle which started after the last election. At that time, Feikens said a number of CIO union members complained that their union dues were being used for Democratic campaigns against their own political beliefs as Republicans.

Feikens and the State Central Committee asked for an investigation, which still is in progress. Some information has been made public, and Republicans are promising much more.

August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, counters with the statement that each local union must vote under a democratic process before money is turned over to a candidate.

"They vote to make the money available to a party or candidate before it is used that way," he said. "That would be all right," Feikens replies, "if a worker were not forced to join a union to keep his job."

Carefully pointing out this is not an issue against unions, Feikens stresses the issue is for individual rights. He tells the story of a rural union member who ran for county office on the GOP ticket. Not only did he fail to receive union support, but his money which he was forced under union rules to pay in dues, was used against him.

Feikens says that union support is a desirable thing for any party, but it must come from individual donations. Republicans have gone a step farther to organize a Republican Labor Committee, composed of a number of CIO members in southeastern Michigan.

Republicans, whose support has long come from outstate Michigan, insist that they are not opposed to organized labor.

Democrats, who have had the power of labor unions behind them for years, claim they are the only political friends the working man has and that is why they continue to be elected.

The situation has given rise to an interesting switch: Democrats have taken a keen interest in the farmer and plan to push for a better marketing system. They are plumping for help for small business, networks of highways and other ideas.

Republicans are taking a coveted look at the jammed precincts around Detroit and are working on ways to make the party more attractive to labor.

Feikens has a monumental job cut out for himself in 1956. Three of the candidates arrived for the kickoff dinner in Lansing. Counting on the shock of a quick question, a reporter asked Feikens who would be the party candidate in 1956.

Not blinking an eye or faltering, Feikens answered: "He'll be here tonight." Over in the capitol a half block away, Democrats don't have that problem. It will be either Williams or Hart.

Quotes

DOUGLAS MCKAY, Interior Secretary, announcing his desire to retire in 1956: "I've been active in business and government for a long time. Now I'd like to take it easy..."

MRS. MARIE HOFELDT, on how she lived to be 100: "I like to eat pretty well... I've always been contented."

CLIFFORD R. HOPE, senior Republican on House Agriculture Committee: "There will be a farm bill at the coming session, and the soil bank will be an essential part of it."

DR. HART E. VAN RIPER, medical director, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reporting on Salk vaccine inoculations: "Man has dented the nationwide pattern of polio attack with respect to different age groups."

ALEXANDER WILEY, U. S. Senator from Wisconsin: "The time is overdue to get this (farm) surplus disposal program rolling in high gear and to quit slow and halfway measures."

LESTER B. PEARSON, Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs: "We can negotiate with Peiping when necessary and desirable without implying approval of that regime or without weakening our opposition to Communism."

Oxnard Air Force Base, some sixty miles north of Los Angeles, boasts of a first class supply and weapons officer in the person of Cass S. (Kit) Hough, Jr. Although he and his pretty wife, Joan, are happy at Oxnard, both are looking forward to next September when they can return to Michigan, after Kit's discharge, and again get settled in civilian life. Kit says he will return to Kalamazoo and pick up where he left off with the Upjohn Company in that city. Both were looking extremely well as the picture shows and California climate has been kind to them both.

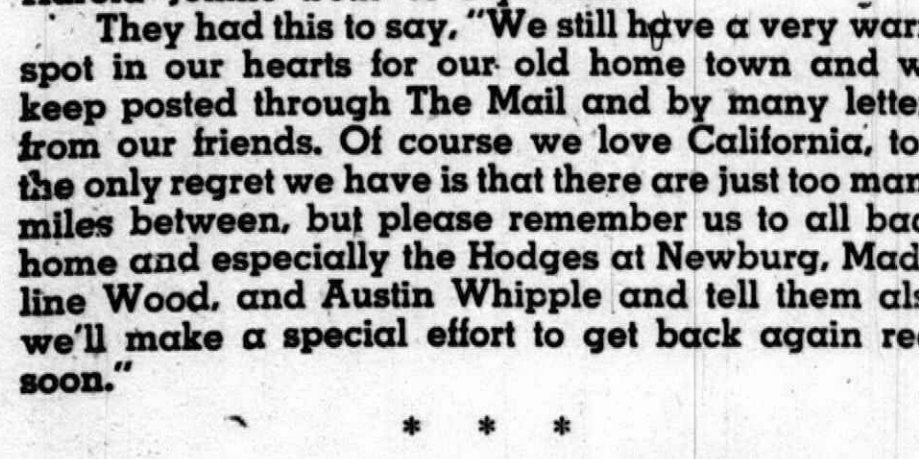

Here are two well known former Plymouthites. On the left is Mrs. Fannie S. Pitts the sister of our old friend in the Township, Sam Spicer. On the right is Mrs. Martha McLaren, sister-in-law of the John McLarens of Ann Arbor Trail.

Also had a short note from one of the Donnelly girls, now Mrs. Herman Erke, from St. Luke Hospital in Pasadena, where she and her new son, Ernest Herman, spent the arrival of the New Year. We were sorry to have missed her but by the time she and her son arrived home we were headed south.

Mrs. Pitts, who was Mrs. Henry Doerr when she resided in Plymouth, has been in California since 1945. Her former husband was in the implement business on Harvey street for many years in the old West Brothers warehouse across from the Episcopal church. Mrs. McLaren was a Plymouth resident for 15 years before making her home here in the land of the sun. The two have a large circle of friends with which they do many things and are frequently together though they do live quite some distance apart. Both said they were perfectly satisfied with California climate and would recommend it to all of their friends back east.

Here are two former Plymouth girls, now sisters-in-law, that still have a host of friends back home and queried us at great length about many of them. Left to right in the picture are Mrs. Helen Kellenberger, Ted Kellenberger, and Mrs. Florence Giegler Van De Car. Mrs. Kellenberger grew up in the residence now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beals on Mill street, and Mrs. Van De Car lived at 494 Starkweather. Mrs. Kellenberger and Mr. Van De Car were brother and sister and both Mr. Kellenberger and Mr. Van De Car owned and operated the Los Angeles Gasket Company for a number of years which was managed under their ownership, and now for the new owners by Victor (Pat) Jolliffe, a brother of our own Evered and Harold Jolliffe both of Plymouth. They had this to say, "We still have a very warm spot in our hearts for our old home town and we keep posted through The Mail and by many letters from our friends. Of course we love California, too, the only regret we have is that there are just too many miles between, but please remember us to all back home and especially the Hodges at Newburg, Madeline Wood, and Austin Whipple and tell them also we'll make a special effort to get back again real soon."

was high and dry and they hadn't been affected by the disaster. He asked we especially remember them to their former joy room friends and say that a visit home was in the offing.

Also had a short note from one of the Donnelly girls, now Mrs. Herman Erke, from St. Luke Hospital in Pasadena, where she and her new son, Ernest Herman, spent the arrival of the New Year. We were sorry to have missed her but by the time she and her son arrived home we were headed south.

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question: "It seems like tipping of those who offer services has become more widespread through the years. While some people have accepted it, others still believe that tipping should not be necessary. What is your opinion?"

MRS. F. J. OSTER, 294 Irvin, "I rather enjoy the way the Mayflower hotel does it. They add 10 per cent to the bill for the tip. In some places, waiters make you feel like you should tip up to 25 per cent by dropping little hints."

MRS. HOWARD CARPENTER, Livonia: "Nobody has to tip but we always have. Tipping shows your appreciation for their service. I have never resented having to give a tip."

FELIX CYLK, 29219 Plymouth road: "I don't believe in tipping. The employer should pay help enough to pay for their salary. If you don't tip enough they think you are a cheapskate and you don't get the service."

RODERICK CASSADY, 44622 North Territorial: "Tipping is so well established that it would be a boon if it could be changed so that everyone could get their proper wages without it. There are certain people who expect special services and are cheerfully willing to pay for it. Others feel that service should not cost extra."

Q—Did President Lincoln ever advocate Federal Aid to the States, or grants-in-aid to the states?
A—Lincoln advocated Federal Aid to States in principle, when on March 6, 1862, he recommended to Congress the adoption of a resolution which provided the United States give pecuniary aid to States which adopted gradual abolition of slavery, such pecuniary aid "to be used by such State, in its discretion to compensate for inconveniences, public and private, produced by such change in system." Congress adopted the resolution on April 10, 1862, and on April 16, Congress passed an act abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia, providing for payment to former slave owners not to exceed $300 for each slave so freed. In Sept., 1862, Lincoln again declared by proclamation compensation to loyal citizens for loss of slaves, calling for a maximum of $400 for each slave freed. But Congress never carried out the pledge, although in 1864 Congress provided by statute a payment of not more than $300 to loyal slave owners for each slave enrolled in the army. Lincoln suggested a draft law to the State of Delaware, calling for $400 for each slave freed, but the Delaware legislature turned it down.
Q—What public offices did Lincoln hold before becoming President?
A—Four terms in the Illinois legislature, one term in the House of Representatives. He was a candidate for the United States Senate in 1855 and again in 1858, but lost both times. He unsuccessfully sought the nomination for vice-president with John C. Fremont in 1856.

Roger Babson Prohibition Could Return

Babson Park, Mass. — My father used to say to me: "Roger, avoid the words NEVER and ALWAYS, also do not put dates on your forecasts." In discussing this unpopular subject of Prohibition, I will now observe his advice.

Prohibition Could Return First, let me say I am not forecasting the success of the Prohibition Party as a political factor. Rather, I am forecasting that one, or both, of the major parties will put some form of Prohibition in their platforms. The curse of the liquor traffic may be no different now than 25 years ago; but there is one great difference. In 1933 when Prohibition was overwhelmingly defeated, there were no great industries to put up the funds to continue Prohibition, while the great brewers, distillers, and other liquor interests supplied the funds to kill it. Then, however, there were only 20 1/2 million automobiles. Today with 50 million automobiles — the situation is very different. In the next fight over Prohibition, the automobile industry (now the second largest) which includes manufacturers, sales agencies, the great gasoline industry, as well as the owners of property rented by these interests, should heavily support the Prohibition cause. And this group is increasing every year as more cars go on the roads. There are now over 225,000 filling stations earning nearly a billion dollars annually.

Methods of Preventing Accidents Safety belts, compulsory car inspections, canceling of licenses, and even jailing offenders should help prevent accidents or make them less serious. However, none of these things seem to be effective. The main cause of accidents is with the brain of the driver. Hence, the great importance of insisting upon drivers keeping in line and not passing except where specifically permitted.

The basic reason why drivers disobey traffic rules, crossing lines, driving fast, ignoring intersections and signs, is lack of mental control. People are all too willing to take chances. But civilization has progressed by a constant tempering of this instinct to risk by education, religion, and laws working toward the development of self-control. This is a very important fact which parents and teachers should recognize.

Liquor and Self-Control There are three biological effects of drinking. 1. Drinks "pep" one up. Liquor, even in very small amounts, gives people temporary courage to do and say things they otherwise would not. 2. Drinks enable people to forget, — but this means forgetting driving rules as well as troubles. 3. Drinks are habit-forming. No one ever expected to become a slave to drink when he started simple social drinking. Not only are automobiles increasing every year by several million and the population by about 3 million, but the age when young people start to drink has lowered. The cocktail party, along with the above-mentioned factors, has made liquor a national problem which must be conquered. It may get worse before Prohibition, in some form, returns; but it is a sure forecast that it will return. Perhaps one plan would be to prohibit sales to those holding drivers' licenses. Even the new four-lane turnpikes do not solve the difficulty, as they develop a "sleepitis."

New Prohibition will be Different How the liquor curse will be handled, I do not know. As my friend Deleware King says, it is a problem of the three E's: — Education, Engineering, and Enforcement. The most common suggestion is that we all have a license either to buy liquor or to drive a car. This, however, will not alone solve the cocktail-party danger and the fact that the self-control and judgment of many individuals are not affected by a little liquor — while others are affected almost by the smell of it!

I hope readers will not take this column as propaganda for Prohibition, a I believe the person who does not drive a car has a right to drink. However, with 99 being killed each day and one seriously injured every 25 seconds, and these figures constantly increasing, something radical must be done. Also, unless the brewers and distillers themselves "see the handwriting on the wall" and help solve the problem, the securities of such companies face a terrific decline, as happened when Prohibition went into effect in 1919.

Quotes ROBERT FROST, great and aging poet: "We're notably a nation over-anxious to be decent." BERNARD BARUCH, elder statesman: "A bargain today is anything you can buy at yesterday's prices."

"Delights" Make Scrumptious Tea-time Cookie

A delicious cookie to serve at tea-time is Chocolate-Marshmallow Delights, recommended this week by Mrs. Raymond Bachelord of 157 South Main.

Rich and gooey, these treats have a brownie-like texture, over which there's a layer of melted marshmallows topped with a chocolate frosting. The recipe is one given Mrs. Bachelord by her sister in Chatham, Ontario and has been a favorite ever since. It yields approximately 24 cookies.

Here's the procedure:
Chocolate-Marshmallow Delights
1 cup of white sugar
3/4 cup of flour
1/2 teaspoon of baking powder
1/3 cup of butter or pastry shortening
2 squares of unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon of vanilla
1/2 cup of chopped nuts
Marshmallows

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, vanilla and gradually the flour and baking powder. Add melted chocolate, nuts, and pour mixture into an 8x8 buttered pan. Bake at 330 degrees for 1/2 hour. Remove pan from oven and place marshmallows over top of mixture, covering the surface evenly. Place back in oven until marshmallows are slightly melted. (Do not brown.) Remove and top with favorite cocoa or chocolate icing.

Adding flour to ingredients for Chocolate-Marshmallow Delights is Mrs. Raymond Bachelord of 157 South Main.

Slate Leap Year Dance

The Junior class of Madonna College will sponsor a "Leap Year Dance" on January 28 in the Rainbow Room of the Veteran's Memorial Building. The Patter-aude Quartet will furnish music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission is $1.25 per person, and the public is invited to attend. Martha Benito is chairman of the dance.

Library Takes Year-End View Of Circulation, Best Sellers

Glancing back over the records for the year 1955, Dunning library found a gain of 9,149 in its book circulation over the previous year, engagements in numerous services to the community beyond bookending and a list of 10 books which made the best-seller list as far as local patrons were concerned.

Despite some inconvenience caused by the Main street rewidening project and revamping of the parking lot behind the library, the reading public managed to frequent the local branch sufficiently during 1955 to boost the 108,246 book circulation recorded during 1954 to a peak 117,395. Distinction of having the highest circulation in December among the 25 branches of the Wayne County library, went to the Plymouth branch for its total of 9,204.

Much of this brisk business, it was noted, was due to greater use of the library by Plymouth patrons and in part to the city's growing population.

Throughout 1955 the library made available to the community film programs for adults and teenagers in addition to a story hour for children. The branch also cooperated with local schools by instructing classes on use of the library and assisting them with special projects. Loans were also made to grade schools to supplement their library material. Dunning librarians, headed by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, helped residents and organizations in formulating programs, giving book reviews, in addition to story-telling for special groups and day camps. Boy Scouts were passed on merit badge tests for reading and book binding.

Although almost all of the library's books saw a lot of use over the past year, the following 10, based on popularity among local readers, made Plymouth's best-seller list: "Edge of the Sea," Carson; "Tontine," Costain; "Why Johnny Can't Read," Flesch; "Andersonville," Kantor; "Onions in the Stew," MacDonald; "Gift From the Sea," Lindbergh; "Power of Positive Thinking," Peale; "Something of Value," Ruark; "How to Live 365 Days a Year," Schindler; "Marjorie Morning Star," Wolk.

With book circulation on the upward trend, librarians anticipate completion of the library building so that greater use may be made of the library collection and its facilities.

Seek Adults to Further Junior Police Work

A need for adults to help with the Junior Police program has been expressed by the Plymouth Gun club, which supervises activities of the younger organization. The club seeks both men and women members interested in revolver and rifle shooting. Range fees, dues and other funds are used to help maintain the Junior Police headquarters in the central parking lot. Gun club members supervise Junior Police activities in addition to their own marksmanship and other air-range practice.

The Plymouth Gun club meets Tuesday and Friday at 8 p.m. at its headquarters behind the P-A theatre in the central parking lot. Those interested in joining the membership are urged to contact Alvin Collins, vice president, at Western Auto on Penniman avenue.

pudding With Cake Texture Has Fragrant Molasses Touch

Reminiscent of gingerbread in flavor, yet with a more moist texture, is wonderful old-fashioned molasses pudding. This early-American dessert, championed by every generation, continues to be a specialty at many fine restaurants featuring American recipe classics. Superb of flavor, it's truly simple to make. The dry ingredients (flour, sugar and spices) have the butter "cut in" as for a crumb-type topping. As step two, combine delicate unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate layers of the crumb mixture and the liquid in a square pan, and the pudding is ready for baking. The dessert can be cut into squares or spooned into serving dishes, and you'll have a moist gingerbread cake marbled with spicy crumb mixture. Serve hot or cold with a favorite fruit sauce.

Old Fashioned Molasses Pudding

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar	1 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup water	1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg	1 teaspoon baking soda
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon	2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt	2 tablespoons milk

Sift together flour, sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt. Add butter; cut with two knives or pastry blender to resemble coarse meal. Combine unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate crumbs and liquid in a greased 8 x 8 x 2 inch square pan, beginning and ending with crumbs. Stir gently only 2 or 3 times with a fork. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour. When ready to serve, blend together cream cheese and milk. Cut cake into squares; place spoonful cream cheese on top of each square. Top each serving with "Orange Sauce".
YIELD: 9 servings.

Orange Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch	1 cup orange juice
1/4 cup sugar	2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/4 teaspoon salt	1 orange, sectioned

Mix together cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Blend in orange juice gradually; add orange rind. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Add orange sections; heat.
YIELD: Approximately 1 1/4 cups.

Makes Delicious Swiss Steak

For just plain good eating, have a round or arm steak cut 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick. Season with salt and pepper and pound flour well into the steak. Brown in hot lard or drippings. Add 2 slices of onion, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup sour cream, and 2 tablespoons grated cheese. Cover closely and cook gently for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Jan. 30 - Feb. 3

Much that has been gained over the years by Michigan's farmers is the result of the co-operative research, experimental and educational work of the College of Agriculture of Michigan State University.

During Farmers' Week, Jan. 30 to Feb. 3, thousands of farmers will meet with the faculty and extension staff of the University to learn about and discuss new developments and improved methods in the production and marketing of Agricultural products. There will be many dairy-farmer members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association on hand.

Spruce Up Wintertime Box Lunch

Winter is the time of year when packed lunches seem to bog down with "the same old thing." Whether the children or the father of the family carries them, there are some basic A. B. C.'s to follow in making packed lunches, declares an instructor in foods and nutrition at Michigan State university.

First of all, a good lunch is fresh. You can keep supplies of fresh sandwich fillings in the refrigerator—even the bread can be kept in the freezer to insure freshness. She suggests you keep the butter or margarine out at room temperature for easy spreading.

Second, a good lunch is attractive. Wrap sandwiches neatly in waxed paper or cellophane. Use waxed cups for salads or desserts, and a thermos bottle for hot or cold liquids. A glass screw-top jar for a hot stew or main dish is often a good idea. Paper towels can be wrapped around the jar to keep the food hot.

Third, the lunch should be nutritionally well balanced. The one serving of vegetable, which should be in every lunch, may be lettuce, remain or watercress in the sandwich or a vegetable filling such as lettuce and tomato. Celery curls, radish roses, and carrot sticks can also be enclosed as relishes.

The lunch should have at least one serving of protein. The easiest way to do this, says the specialist, is to fill the sandwich with meat, cheese or eggs. Or, without sandwiches, many hot meat dishes pack well. Also included should be at least one fruit as a salad or dessert. A baked fruit, turnover, dumpling or tart can be an interesting surprise instead of the unpeeled orange or tangerine that is so often brought home uneaten.

A nutritional lunch should also have milk either as the beverage, or for the adult, as a creamed soup or custard or pudding dessert. Scalloped or cream dishes include a good supply of milk, too.

Treat Family to This Tasty Chinese Dish!

Family surprise, that's homemade Egg Foo Yung. Drain 1 No. 2 can bean sprouts and mix with 1 cup finely diced cooked meat and 1/2 cup chopped onion. Beat 6 eggs slightly and add to meat mixture. Drop by spoonfuls into 1/2 cup hot lard or drippings in a large frying-pan to make patties about 3 inches in diameter. Brown on both sides. Serve immediately on hot platter with gravy.

The ideal way to cook hamburgers is to pan-broil them. Heat a heavy skillet until fairly hot. Sprinkle the pan lightly with salt and place the patties in the skillet (the salt helps to keep them from sticking). Brown on both sides, then reduce heat and cook until done — rare, medium, or well done. An added reminder—never pat hard to pack them down.

CORN on the cob is good. But corn off the cob... in chowder... is terrific! When you've a cup of cooked corn in the refrigerator and a can of frozen cream of potato soup, you're set for a meal. A few slices of bacon are finishing touches.

Country-Style Corn Chowder

2 bacon slices, diced
1 can (1 1/4 cups) frozen condensed cream of potato soup
1 soup-can water
1 cup cooked whole kernel corn

Cook bacon until crisp; pour off drippings; add potato soup and water to bacon; heat slowly until soup is thawed. Add corn; bring soup to a boil; serve. 4 servings.

Big bowls of corn chowder, a platter with several kinds of cheeses and crackers, and a freshly mixed vegetable salad. That's a meal worth whistling about! And whistles are just what you'll hear when that man of yours gets a glimpse of the supper-table. Pamper him a bit more with a luscious apple pie, warm from the oven, and topped with gobs of ice cream. The stage is set for a pleasant evening! FHS

Common Sense Can Eliminate Majority of Wash-Day Chores

Wash day need not be such a chore in your home. Lots of hot water, a good washing machine, and the right laundry accessories should add up to satisfactory laundering results. They should, but too many times they fail. There is only one thing that can prevent this failure—common sense.

For example—it makes sense to sort laundry into three piles — white, colored, and hand-washable. White wash responds best to very hot water. Fast-colored cottons, linens and nylons do better if washed in 110-degree water and thus do better if washed separately.

Before washing any new colored garment, always check the manufacturer's tag for washing instructions. You may find that the garment should not be washed in the machine but by hand.

Be sure to empty all the pockets and treat stains before washing. A clipping torn from a magazine with colored illustrations can work havoc with your wash. Remember that hot water and soapsuds will set untreated stains.

The best way to wash white cottons and linens effectively by hand is to use water as hot as your hands will stand. This will be approximately 120-degrees. Ten degrees less is just right for fast-colored cottons, linens and nylons.

Rayons demand lukewarm water—about 100 degrees. Silks and wools wash best in 95 to 100-degree water. When using a bleach of any kind, make sure it is safe for the fabric. Read the directions carefully. Nylon and other man-made fabrics require special bleaches and, sometimes, when the water is hard, a water-softener is necessary.

Cures "Droopy" Nylon Curtains

If your nylon curtains have begun to droop, try starching them with permanent starch and pressing them lightly with a steam iron. This will work wonders. When you are ready to store these curtains, it is very important to remove all starch.

Some housewives have had a good deal of trouble with their new "wonder fabric" curtains and drapes falling into holes. Manufacturers tell us this is because we have not had the drapes or curtains cleaned or washed often enough. It is recommended that you have them dry cleaned or washed, depending on the fabric, at least twice each year. House dust is most harmful to these wonder fabrics.

Offers Facts and Tips To Aid In Preventing Home Accidents

Every 18 minutes someone dies in a home accident. According to studies made by safety officials, 29,000 persons are killed each year by accidents in homes.

Some of the major causes of injuries and deaths in the home are home fires, littered stairways, poorly lighted halls, faulty electrical wiring and defective chimneys and heating equipment.

Frequently home fires are caused by defective chimneys and heating equipment. A competent serviceman should check every part of the furnace, air ducts and chimney for deadly gas leaks.

Safe fire-tending equipment is as vital as safe heating equipment. Safety authorities say combustible containers should be replaced by galvanized steel ash cans or steel baskets to hold hot ashes and cinders from the furnace.

Accumulated rubbish in attics and basements cause many more fires. This rubbish should be cleared out and safely burned out of doors away from the house and garage.

Many explosions in the home occur from the igniting of leaking gas from space heaters, ranges, refrigerators and other household appliances. Appliances should be examined for leaky connections and fittings.

Many persons are severely burned each year through improper use of flammable cleaning fluids. If such fluids must be used, be certain no open flame is allowed nearby and that the fluid is stored in an airtight container, preferably a galvanized steel fuel can.

Other home safety checks should include electric wiring, shaky stair rails or no hand rails at all, and loose stairway carpeting. Faulty wiring should be repaired by an able electrician. Loose stairway carpeting should be tacked down firmly and scattered rugs kept away from the top or bottom of stairways. Shaky stair hand rails should be braced. If there is no hand railing in each stairway, they should be installed.

Be certain all used areas of the home are properly lighted to prevent stumbling over unseen objects or walking into a wall or doorway. If home entryways are not lighted, have lighting fixtures installed. Check light bulbs to be sure they are in order and are of sufficient power to give adequate light for the area they serve.

Too often basement or attic stairs are littered with boxes, stacks of magazines and rubbish. Stairways should be cleared of all litter to prevent someone from taking a bad fall.

Burns received in cooking are common injuries, with children frequently the victims. All hot pots and pans on the range should have their handles toward the back of the range so that the children cannot reach them and dump hot food or scalding water on themselves.

Children should be instructed upon the importance of storing toys out of the way of a careless foot. The old joke in which somebody steps on a roller skate at the top of a flight of stairs and bounces all the way down isn't so funny when it happens to a member of the family.

These are just a few of the causes and cures of home accidents. Each family should inspect its own home for other danger zones. A safe home is a happy home.

Title 1 Loan Is Big Boon To Home Owner

A growing demand for adequate housing and home improvement throughout the country is revealed in a recent Federal Reserve Board survey.

The findings show that one-third more non-farm families now own homes than in 1948 and that home-owners are expanding their living space. Over 15 per cent of those surveyed complained of lack of space and modern conveniences in their present homes.

The same report also pointed out that eight per cent of the homeowners spent $1,000 or more on general improvements in 1955.

Many of the home-owners took advantage of the benefits of Title I of the Housing Act. Title I permits borrowing as much as $2,500 for home improvements. The money can be repaid over a three-year period.

Such loans make it easier to remodel older homes — and particularly to bring old-fashioned kitchens or bathrooms up-to-date.

New fixtures, modern space savers and built-ins would give more comfort, convenience and beauty... and will also add value to a home.

Such improvements pay for themselves over the years and the future of your home and family.

How to Protect Wood When Pulling a Nail

A common problem in any household is how to pull a nail without damaging finished wood surfaces. Popular Mechanics suggests the following solution, as illustrated:

Take a rubber plate scraper and slot it as shown. When a nail is pulled, the hammer head is rested on the scraper blade.

For a larger shield, the home craftsman can cut a section from an old rubber sink pad or car floor mat.

Reminder to both the amateur and professional floor-layer: There's very little more work to good workmanship than to poor workmanship — it's lack of care more often than lack of skill that's responsible for bad floor-laying jobs. A fine hardwood floor deserves the little extra care it takes to lay it right.

Small Homes Guide Offers Modern Planning at Its Best

Many Ways to Make Old Kitchen Bright With Beauty and Utility

High on the list of projects for home improvements this year is kitchen remodeling.

The kitchen rates top attention because a "new look" to the most important room in the home does a great deal to make an older home take on a modern appearance.

In line with the trend to make the kitchen a family living room — wood once again is favored for kitchen cabinets. Wood gives a note of warmth, and takes minimum care.

The most important news for home remodelers is that attractive natural wood cabinets and base units, as well as the popular metal styles, are available in a great variety of sizes and shapes to fit almost every conceivable space need in the kitchen.

The cabinets and base units can be obtained in knock-down kits which are simple for the home craftsman to assemble.

One phase of kitchen remodeling in the "do-it-yourself" category is kitchen planning. The homeowner will want to make sure that personal preferences are accounted for in the design of the new kitchen.

Kitchens can be enlarged by elimination of the old-fashioned pantry in favor of modern wall cabinets and base units. The "open plan" may be achieved by removal of part of a wall between kitchen and adjoining room. A breakfast bar or pass-through can be installed in place of the wall.

Measure the kitchen wall space, taking into account the location of doors and windows, to determine which basic plan to use — the U-shape (three walls), the L-shape (two walls, or simply lining one wall with cabinets and base units.

Special cabinets available in wood or metal, are revolving Lazy Susans, for corners, broom closets, multi-drawer base units, cabinets with special bins for staples and vegetables and sliding tray racks.

For a truly modern kitchen, the homeowner will want to consider installing built-in cooking units — a wall oven and a surface range.

Particularly with wood your kitchen can be given a new appearance anytime you want. The cabinets can be re-finished in a new color tone or they can be painted. However, naturally-finished cabinets will always tastefully set off any colors used in flooring, curtains or walls.

Modern planning makes this house by Architect Walter T. Anicks, which appears in the current edition of Small Homes Guide, as comfortable on the inside as it is attractive on the outside.

The living room, with generous window areas facing to the rear, is completely out of traffic to other parts of the house, yet is convenient to the front entrance. Bedroom area is secluded from the rest of the house. Area is 1,457 sq. ft. For information on blueprints and their cost, write to Small Homes Guide, Dept. 1352, 82 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Ill.

Sales of oil burners continue to show gains over 1954. Sales for April, 1955, were 13 per cent above April, 1954. The first third of the year 1954 accounted for 23 per cent of that year's total of 755,000 units. If the pattern of last year is followed in 1955, a total of 930,000 units would be the projection for the year, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Plan Organization Of Scout Troop In Newburg-Area

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Possibilities of organizing a Boy Scout troop and perhaps an explorer post were discussed last week by a committee of 15 volunteers from the Newburg Methodist-Men's club.

Frank Ayres, a former scoutmaster, was acting chairman. Guests were Don Stewart, organizer and extension committeeman for District 7, and G. H. Wiegand, district commissioner for District 7. A film on "What is Scouting" was presented along with facts and basic needs in the organization and running of troops.

It was decided that survey cards would be distributed through Sunday schools, public schools and to individuals to determine the number of boys interested in joining the proposed troop. Cards are available from Ayres or Edward Reid in Parkville section. Others will be distributed through the schools by Fred Bird.

Ayres said the Scout movement was not confined to members of the Newburg Methodist church, but includes all boys in the area, particularly those in the Slakin development, Parkville, south of Ann Arbor trail and north to Five Mile.

Others attending the meeting were Clark Norris, Wallace Savage, Robert Moreau, Arthur Frost, William Schmidt, Bert Halloran, Eric Nyman, Edward Norris, Wesley Thompson, James McIntyre and Elex Zukosky.

Private First Class Ronald Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of 600 Ann street, recently graduated from the Airborne school at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. He is a member of Support company, 169th Airborne Infantry Regiment of the 11th Airborne division. Johnson is assigned to a 4.2 Inch Mortar Platoon of his present organization.

Donald P. Salmon Emery D. Reitzel

Donald P. Salmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Salmon of 718 Pine street, and Emery D. Reitzel, son of Mrs. Ada G. Reitzel of 724 Arthur street, both of Plymouth, are scheduled to graduate from recruit training January 21 at the Naval Training center, Great Lakes Illinois.

The nine weeks of "Boot Camp" includes drill and instruction in seamanship, gunnery, life saving, sea survival, boat handling, and the use of small arms. Following two weeks leave, graduates will be assigned to shipboard duties or service schools depending on the qualifications each has demonstrated.

Douglas Simpson

Serving with Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 30 at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Virginia, is Douglas M. Simpson, airman apprentice, USN. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Simpson of 9045 Northern street, Plymouth.

Official Proceedings
Plymouth City Commission

Tuesday, January 8, 1956
A regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Tuesday, January 3, 1956 at 8:00 p.m.

PRESENT: Comms. Cutler, Guenther, Sincok and Mayor Daane.

ABSENT: Comms. Henry, Roberts and Terry.

Since Comm. Terry was out of town, his absence was excused by the Commission.

Moved by Comm. Sincok and supported by Comm. Cutler that the minutes of the regular meeting of December 19, 1955 be approved as written. Carried unanimously.

Supervisor Marquis presented his report for the month of December, 1955.

The Clerk opened a bid from Champion Containers, Inc. for Lots 20, 21 and Lots 40 through 44, both inclusive, Auburn Addition to Plymouth Heights, at a total bid of $13,000.

Moved by Comm. Sincok and supported by Comm. Cutler that the bid of Champion Containers, Inc. for the above lots, in the amount of $13,000 be accepted and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute a deed for said lots. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager stated that a meeting will be held with the School Board on Tuesday, January 10, 1956 at 8:00 p.m. relative to selling city owned parks to the school.

The City Manager reported relative to an offer from Haller, Inc. to purchase Lots 22, 23 and 24, Auburn Addition to Plymouth Heights. The report was ordered filed.

The City Manager presented a report from City Attorney Devo relative to employing a member of the County Health Department as the City Health Officer, stating that before said action can be taken, the charter must be amended. The report was ordered accepted and placed on file.

Moved by Comm. Cutler and supported by Comm. Sincok that the plans of the Rotary Club for the erection of a shelter in Kellogg Park be approved in principle, and when the structural plans have been approved by the building department, they shall be submitted again to the commission for final approval. Carried unanimously.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Guenther and supported by Comm. Sincok:

WHEREAS, the City of Plymouth has benefited from the civic-minded action of certain of its citizens and friends, and

WHEREAS, this City Commission wishes to give recognition to the thoughtfulness and generosity of these citizens and friends,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Mr. Herbert Woolweaver, who arranged through the Adult Education Program to obtain for the city, without charge, instructors to handle the course in Leadership Techniques for city employees, be recognized for his civic-mindedness.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Mr. Russell Isbister, Mr. Fred Linsell, Mr. Melvin Blunk and Mr. Thomas Kent, who volunteered as instructors for the leadership technique course, and who gave generously of their time, both in classroom and in preparation, be commended by this City Commission for their civic-minded donation of time and talents, without thought of remuneration.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Mr. Dunbar Davis, who conducted a course for Plymouth police officers consisting of the legal aspects of police work, be recognized by this City Commission for his most valuable contribution to the welfare and safety of this community.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Mr. George Merryweather be publicly thanked for his contribution to the cemetery of tulip bulbs and mausoleum landscaping service.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this City Commission acknowledge the cash donation for the acquisition of property in the East Central Parking Lot from the Fisher's Shoe Store, Perry Richwine, National Bank of Detroit and the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that as a token of its appreciation of the interest and contributions by these men and firms, this City Commission directs that a copy of this resolution, certified by the clerk, under the seal of the City of Plymouth, be presented to each. Carried unanimously.

A discussion was held relative to methods of financing the proposed sewer project and the City Manager was instructed to arrange for a special meeting with Mr. Louis Schimmel to advise the commission concerning rates and methods of special assessments.

Moved by Comm. Sincok and supported by Comm. Cutler that the meeting be adjourned. Carried unanimously.

Time of adjournment was 10:07 p.m.

Russell M. Daane, Mayor
Kenneth Way, Clerk

Speeding Tickets
Multiply 4 Times
During Past Year

Citizens who have been hoping that police would crack-down on speeders should be happy with the year-end report of 1955 issued by the police department.

There were 699 speeding tickets issued, almost four times more than the previous year.

In the preceding year there were 177 speeding tickets. Last month alone there were 110 speeders ticketed, compared with only four in December 1954.

Speeding wasn't the only department which showed increased business. Not so happy to report was the slight increase in accidents. There were 251 mishaps of all degrees within the city limits during the past year, compared with 243 in 1954. There were no vehicle or pedestrian fatalities during the year.

One of the few declines during the year was overtime parking. These tickets dropped from 1,615 in 1954 to 1,231.

Here are other activities of the police department comparing 1955 (first figure with 1954 (second figure given):

Reckless driving tickets, 53, 46; drunk driving tickets, 9, 18; stop street and stop light violations, 97, 76; prohibited parking tickets, 197, 324; miscellaneous tickets, 311, 81.

Breaking and entering, 21, 33; larceny, 84, 75; auto thefts, 4, 6; prowler calls, 43, 63; doors found open, 416, 372; dog complaints, 352, 348; dogs killed, 84, 100.

Lodgers, 49, 39; miscellaneous complaints, 2,115, 2,064; operator licenses issued, 1,610, 1,346; chauffeur licenses issued, 248, 314; beginner licenses issued, 123, 121; change of address on license, 977, 1,029.

One take-off for traffic -and- two for the road

You ought to try Variable Pitch Dynaflo Now!

The light is red and you're ready. It flashes green and you go—but quick. And that's when you discover the Number One news about Buick's new Dynaflo...

That it gives you brilliant new getaway response for city traffic at only part throttle—even before you switch the pitch of this airplane-principled transmission. (And think of the big gas savings that means!)

Next comes the Number Two discovery—out on the road. For here—still without switching the pitch—you have plenty more nimble acceleration to surge or spurt ahead, to climb hills, to do with almost effortless ease all the things normally called for by highway driving.

But comes an emergency—the need to get out of a tight spot—and you discover the Number Three news...

That you can do what a pilot does. That you can switch the pitch of your Dynaflo blades—just by flooring the pedal. And that you get, instantly, a full-power take-off from cruising pace—an electrifying burst of acceleration—the most thrilling safety measure on four wheels today.

This is performance too good to pass up—and you really ought to try it. It's performance sparked by the whispered might of big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engines raised to record highs in power and compression.

It's performance that goes with the best ride yet, the best handling yet, the best interiors yet, the best styling yet—and, literally, with the best Buick yet.

Come in and see—and be shown—and learn, in the doing, about prices that make these '56 Buicks the best buy yet.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

†Standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Recital Scheduled For January 29

The Fine Arts society of Madonna college is sponsoring a Shakespearean recital by Edward Brigham of Steinway and Sons of New York City. The recital will be held in De Sales auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, January 29. An invitation is cordially extended to the general public. The program will consist of the following selections: Cardinal Wolsey's Farewell from "King Henry the Eighth"; Soliloquy, Act I, Scene VII taken from "Macbeth"; The Mercy Speech and the scene between Borezo and Jessica both selected from "Borezo and Jessica"; a number from Act I, Scene I of the "Twelfth Night"; Soliloquy of Friar Lawrence from "Romeo and Juliet"; a selection from "King Henry the Fifth"; and the Funeral Oration of Mark Anthony taken from "Julius Caesar." The Shakespearean presentation is being sponsored by the society to further interest in literature and drama.

State May Set Marks

Michigan probably set new U.S. records in 1955 in production of salt and gypsum and limestone for steelmaking. In addition to leading the nation in production of the three materials, the state also ranked high nationally — and may have set new state records — in production of portland cement and sand and gravel. Final state figures won't be available for several months, but Conservation Department geologists say they expect new records when the totals are computed. The state totals contributed heavily to a new U.S. mineral production record of $15.8 billion.

Social Security Question Column

Readers may send their social security questions directly to the Plymouth Mail. These questions will be answered in this column with the cooperation of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan. Only the writer's initials will be used to identify his question.

1. I retired last June and have been getting social security checks. Now I received a paper to fill out about my last year's earnings. What's this all about and do I have to answer it? E.J.P.

Answer: Yes, you should fill out the report. All persons who worked and have filed a claim for payments must file an annual report no later than March 15, 1956. If you need help or more information, get in touch with your Social Security District Office.

2. My husband gets social security and I will be 62 next month. Some people tell me I can get social security then and others tell me I'll have to wait until I'm 65. Who's right? J.E.S.

Answer: Benefits cannot be paid to you until you become 65. I have been working under social security ever since it started. In April I will be 65 and will have to retire. Will I get $108.50 which I hear is the highest payment? M.S.I.

Answer: If you had earnings of $4,200 in 1955, and will earn at least $2,100 anytime before July 1, 1956, you can expect to receive $108.50 per month. Contact your Social Security office for a detailed explanation on this question.

Got to Make a Profit

Householder: "Put all that stuff back in the sideboard at once, d'you hear?"

Burglar: "Lumme, gov'nor, not all of it; be fair, 'arf of it belongs next door."

To Ask Boost of Hunting, Fishing License Fees

The Conservation Commission voted unanimously last week to ask the Michigan legislature for higher fishing, small game and deer license fees.

Department director Gerald Eddy asked that the fishing licenses be increased from $1.50 to $2, that the small game license be hiked from $2 or $3 and that the deer license be moved from $3.50 to $4.50.

The increases would produce $1,250,000 to $1,500,000 annually, enough to offset recent increased operation costs. Present financial reserves can carry the Department to mid-1957, but new revenue will be needed after that date.

In other matters at last week's meeting, the commission approved timber sales from seven state forests, totaling $12,500, and authorized the sale of 52 acres of lake bottom lands in Thunder Bay, at Alpena.

The lake bottom lands, which had been filled-in over a period of years, will be sold to the Atbitibi Corporation which is building a pulpwood processing plant at Alpena.

The commission also approved leases to concession operators at five state parks. Leases were granted at Interlochen, Mukegon, Burt Lake, Hartwick Pines and Sterling state parks.

The commission voted to continue the transfer of wall-eyed muskie over Newaygo dam on the Muskegon River in 1956. Fifteen nights of netting or the lifting of 10,000 walleyes will be permitted, whichever maximum is reached first. The lift allows up-stream spawning.

Director Eddy was given authority to take part in setting lake levels where the public interest is involved. Under special consideration is Portage Lake in the Waterloo Recreation Area.

The Natural Areas Council is scheduled to meet with the commission at its next meeting, slated February 9-10 in Lansing.

Michigan's 1956 beaver and otter trapping regulations, approved last week by the Conservation Commission, are essentially the same as last year's laws.

In the upper peninsula, an April 1-19 season was established in western counties and in the northern part of eastern areas. An April 1-13 season will be in effect in the remainder of the U.P.

Lower peninsula trappers will have a March 25-April 7 season in northeastern counties and a March 20-31 season in other parts of the peninsula open to trapping.

Season bag limits of six beaver and three otter again were set for the upper peninsula, with lower peninsula season limits of four beaver and three otter.

The state has been divided into areas with different seasons to fit weather conditions and beaver populations. Saginaw, Gratiot, Wexford and Manistee counties will be closed to trapping, plus areas already closed by Commission orders.

Last season, 16,700 beaver and 609 otter were bagged in the state by some 4700 trappers.

The Conservation Department placed 14,000,000 young trees on sale this week and orders for the spring shipping season are now being accepted.

The pine seedlings and transplants are sold for reforestation and Christmas tree production only, not for ornamental plantings.

Red, white, jack and Scotch pines are included. Scotch pines are limited to 5,000 per order.

The trees will be shipped from the department's three state nurseries when planting season arrives in the spring.

A post card to the department's forestry division at Lansing will bring order blanks and full details.

A six-month training program for 41 conservation officers candidates is scheduled to get under way in May at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake training school.

The recruits will be selected from the more than 800 men who have applied for the positions. Selection will be based on written and oral examinations after preliminary qualifications have been satisfied.

Trainees will receive classroom and field training in various law enforcement techniques before being assigned to posts throughout the state. The recruits will for 41 conservation officer candidate to 200.

Two more fishing sites and 734 additional acres of hunting land will be made available to the people of Michigan, following action by the Conservation Commission late last week.

The commission approved purchase of fishing sites on Sheffer Lake, Allegan county and Wilson Lake, Antrim county.

Commission approval also was given to the purchase of 360 acres of land for addition to Chippewa River state forest in Midland county. Another 374 acres will be added to four state game areas under the Pittman-Robertson program.

The P-R acquisitions include addition of 160 acres to Grand Pond game area, 80 acres to Middleville game area, 76 acres to acres to Lapeer game area and 58 acres to Gratiot-Saginaw game area.

A fishing site access problem at Fletcher Floodwaters was resolved by the Commission through a land exchange. The commission formally accepted a deed that conveys hunting rights on 10,600 acres of wild land in Crawford county to the people of Michigan under terms of the will of the late George W. Mason.

MICHIGAN BELL

TELEPHONE lines

READ A GOOD BOOK lately? Here's one we think you'll enjoy, as will all the family. It's the new edition of the Telephone Almanac. It's chock-full of interesting, informative reading. Wonderful drawings, too. Kit Carson, the opening of the Erie Canal, the ringing of the Liberty Bell, and, of course, the story of the beginning of telephone service. Contains many tips for farmers, businessmen, housewives, students and other telephone users. Pick up your free copy at our Business Office.

WHAT'S THE WORST part about running a home? Many housewives will tell you it's the "running." There ought to be some way to cut out all those unnecessary steps. Fortunately, there is—additional telephones. Installed in the bedroom, the living room, kitchen and basement, they save countless steps and a lot of time for the home "manager." And, of course, they make possible better service for everyone in the family. The cost? Less than four cents a day, plus a one-time installation charge. Order your additional telephones from the Business Office today.

MORE AND MORE people are using Conference Calls to hold family meetings. Conference Calls used to be made chiefly for business purposes, but the word is getting around that they're wonderful experiences, too, for families whose members are miles apart. All you do, you know, is tell the Long Distance operator, "I want to make a Conference Call." You give her the names and telephone numbers. She'll get all the folks on the line at whatever time you specify. Then everyone can speak to and hear each of the others.
