

Chips from the ROCK

After thirty years in this area, five with the Northville Record and the last twenty-five here in Plymouth, this is a most difficult column to put on paper. Severing your routine activities with the people you love, and have attempted to serve so faithfully, is not easy to do.

But, be that as it may . . . it has been done, or should I say, at least partially so. This is my official notification to the residents of Plymouth and Livonia, our many business firms and our readers, that I have sold my two newspapers, The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian.

When the proper opportunity presented itself for a move of this magnitude, I had several choices to make and hundreds of serious things to consider. But, mainly my choice had to be in the light of the best thing I could do for the people my successors would serve, you, our neighbors and readers, our thousands of friends in the area and the business firms with whom we come in contact daily.

This is probably the fastest growing area in the whole United States. To continue to present the kind of newspapers and printing facilities needed for our standard of service demands many things: young, virile leadership, leadership backed by sufficient ability and capital to move beyond the daily demands of the growth of the area; a financial stability and background that could undertake giant expansions unmindful of costs; one that would also continue to offer courageous leadership and one that would be as willing to serve as I have tried to during my quarter of a century in this field.

During this period I have watched The Plymouth Mail grow from seven employees to its present 37, and gain national recognition for its excellence. I founded The Livonian 17 years ago, with the part time help of my wonderful "traveling secretary," and have watched it blossom from a four page tabloid to one of the largest weekly papers in the state . . . now, incidentally, crowding The Plymouth Mail with its list of subscribers.

These years have been good to us, and the people we have depended upon for our business have been most kind in every way. Perhaps we are sad that we will miss these daily contacts, but we shall continue to make our home in Plymouth and pledge a continuance of our efforts in things worthwhile for this community and the overall area. For your further enlightenment, I should state, this move in no way borders upon the thought of retirement. An announcement another week or so hence will inform of our future intentions, intentions which will call for your continued confidence in our actions and our judgment.

I should not overlook my most trusted employees who serve these communities so well. (Many who have been with me well over a dozen years and Walter Jendrycka the whole 25 years). They shall all continue in their present positions and maintain their unusually high standards in producing two of the finest newspapers and printed supplies in Michigan.

I am humbly grateful to them, and to all of you, for favors of the past. I assure you I stand ready to serve in the future, and I ask that you transfer your confidence to the new owners of The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian.

New Owners Publish Mail, The Livonian

Today the Plymouth Mail and The Livonian have a new editor, Paul M. Chandler.

He assumed direction of the two newspapers simultaneously with an announcement by Sterling Eaton that he had sold his complete ownership of The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian, including all newspaper publishing and job printing operations.

The two properties, both ranked among the finest weekly newspapers in the nation, were acquired from Eaton as of May 1, 1956 by The Mail Publishing Company and The Livonian Publishing Company. Chandler is president and William C. McKay, Detroit attorney is secretary and treasurer of the two purchasing companies.

Chandler said that the existing leadership and staffs of the papers would remain unchanged, except for the transfer of responsibility from Eaton to himself. William Sliger will continue as general manager of The Plymouth Mail; Walter Jendrycka as general superintendent; and Samuel K. Stephens as advertising manager. Bud Kirvan will continue in his management position with The Livonian and Lawrence Crane will supervise The Livonian mechanical facilities.

"We know that we are acquiring two outstanding newspapers in The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian. They have a long record of exceptional public service and public acceptance. Sterling Eaton has assembled a talented group of employees who have helped maintain the high quality of the newspapers. Our plan is to continue in the same high traditions," said Chandler.

The new editor is 36 years old and has spent most of his life in newspaper work. He was born in Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, the son of J. P. Chandler, a newspaper executive there, and while in high school began his journalistic training on the Sault Evening News. He graduated with a B. A. in political science from the University of Michigan in 1941, having also continued newspaper work for the Detroit News and as city editor of the Michigan Daily. Following graduation, he was employed by the Associated Press from 1941 through 1943. As an officer in the Navy he did public relations work ashore and afloat in 1944 and 1945, winning the Bronze Star while aboard an aircraft carrier. After World War II he served as sports writer for the Detroit News from 1946 through 1952 and was featured on a few sports television shows during that period.

Recently, Chandler has been employed as vice-president in charge of public relations for the Michigan Racing Association and also as associate editor of the D. A. C. (Detroit Athletic Club) News, a magazine. He announced his resignation from the M. R. A. effective May 1, stating: "The opportunity in Plymouth and Livonia represents a life-long ambition. My relationship with the MRA has been pleasant and fruitful and I leave with deep gratitude to President Dale Shaffer and Vice President George Haggarty of the MRA. I shall continue to help them in selecting a successor."

The new editor has been residing in Huntington Woods with his wife, Dorothy, and son, Thomas, eight. They will move to this area in the immediate future.

Mr. McKay, associate of Mr. Chandler, is 33 years old and a native of East Tawas, Michigan, where his father has been president of the bank in that city for a great number of years. After graduation from the University of Michigan law school in 1944 he served as an officer in the Navy during World War II. Since 1946 he has been actively associated with one of Detroit's best known law firms. Married, he is the father of two boys and one girl and lives in Grosse Pointe.

Four Hurt as Car Overtakes, Burns

Four youths escaped serious injury early last Thursday morning when the car in which they were riding turned over and was destroyed by flames. The accident occurred at 1:56 a.m.

The 1956 Pontiac, reported to be traveling south on Lilley road driven by William L. Bell, 20, of 7586 Chubb road, Northville. Sheriff's authorities quoted Bell as saying that he was driving 35 miles an hour when the car skidded on the wet pavement where the road turns onto Joy road.

Plunging into a ditch at the edge of Mettetal airport, the car rolled over with its wheels in the air and gasoline apparently ran into the car and burst into flames. The occupants escaped without burns but received other injuries.

Plymouth township firemen were called but the new car was already a loss. Firemen used 400 gallons of water extinguishing remnants of the fire and washing away gasoline.

Bell and his three passengers were all taken to Wayne County General hospital. The driver suffered a fractured shoulder while treated for cuts and bruises were his brother, Willard Bell, 18; Robert McCollum, 21, of 412 West Ann Arbor trail; and Melvin Killion, 18, of 41989 Joy road.

To Offer Cash Awards In Mystery Farm Contest

Readers of The Plymouth Mail will have an opportunity to prove their knowledge of farms in this area and win cash prizes with the publication of a new "Mystery Farm" feature starting this week.

Aerial photos have been taken of 52 farms in and around Plymouth recently and one picture will be published each week along with an invitation to readers to guess whose farm it is. Sponsors of the contest is Walter Beglinger of Beglinger Oldsmobile.

Prizes include ten dollars each week during the 52-week game to the first person who names the current farm correctly. Those persons recognizing the "mystery farm" must go to Beglinger Oldsmobile and have their decision recorded there.

In addition to the weekly cash prize, a grand prize of $250 will be awarded at the end of the contest to the person who had the best "average" over the period. Therefore it is imperative that contestants make an attempt at identifying the farm each week regardless of the fact that it may have already been

City Purchase, Expansion Of Mettetal Airport Asked

A movement to sell a half million dollars worth of city-issued bonds to industry in order to purchase and reconstruct Mettetal airport got underway Monday night at a meeting of interested factory and city officials.

Failure to turn the airport, one of Wayne county's remaining small airports, into a city-owned facility, will probably mean that the land will be sold to housing subdividers and Plymouth will be without an airport for all times, a spokesman declared. Mettetal airport is located in Canton township at Joy and Lilley roads.

General Lester Maitland, executive director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, has already announced that the airport should have "top priority" in obtaining matching funds from the state and federal governments if the city decides to make the purchase.

City commissioners have already expressed their enthusiasm for the "forward-looking project" but have not officially gone on record as approving it. Since the city has no money to spend on such a development, an attempt will be made to have bonds issued by the city offered to industry. It will be the industries, the airport supporters claim, that will take advantage of the facilities.

Temporary chairman for the meeting was Robert Nulty, 1385 Park Place, president of the Great Lakes Automotive company at Willow Run and Detroit City airports. He has been working with a skeleton committee for several months to obtain options on land for the enlarged airport, securing estimates of costs and revenue, investigating plane usage by industry and conferring with state and aeronautics board officials and engineers.

Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein told an airport delegation yesterday that he and his township board are definitely opposed to development of Mettetal airport. "It will blight a large part of the township for future development," the supervisor declared.

Stein told The Mail that the township has commitments to the

With entry blanks available at any of the participating stores, they must be filled out and returned to the Chamber of Commerce no later than 5 p.m. Monday. Boys and girls under 17 years of age are eligible to enter.

Most of the past winners in both the Mothers and Fathers day contests have submitted entries without the knowledge of their parents. They must complete in 25 words or less, "I think my mother should be selected Plymouth's Mother of the Year because . . ." The winner will be announced next week.

schools for the sewer and that if homes are discouraged, the entire sewer and water program will be jeopardized. "We are not even happy with the present airport," he added. He added that the F. H. A. will not give full guarantee for homes within a certain distance of runways. "Unless steps are taken immediately," he said.

Rumor of Daisy Manufacturing Move is Denied

A persistent and growing rumor that "the Daisy Manufacturing company is moving to Texas" has been denied by Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the 70-year-old firm.

He pointed out, however, that the company has been making a survey during the past two years relative to the advisability of locating in another part of the country, but that "there has been no decision if we will move or where we would go if we did."

"I have been here 30 years and every second or third year this rumor crops up," Hough added.

The executive vice-president asserted that he would not be doing a proper job of running the company if he did not always keep posted on things which could better the firm. Just because Daisy has been in Plymouth 70 years does not mean that it is still the best place to be, Hough indicated.

He added that when a firm is in a competitive field, it must strive to keep ahead, such as purchasing new and better machines. Making sure that the company is still in the best location for supply and distribution of its products is also a continuing process, he noted.

Daisy, which has been the leading air rifle manufacturer in the country, has added other toy product lines in recent years.

Bashful Hose Buries Self In Ground

A sly old garden hose at the Edward Lane home, 46501 West Ann Arbor trail, put on a "burrowing act" last Friday evening and caused considerable commotion. It dug its way seven feet down into the Lane's sandy yard and refused to be coaxed out again.

Even the efforts of a neighborhood tractor, tugging persistently on the hose's tail, were to no avail. The only response on the part of the 50-foot plastic hose was apparently to gain a more firm grasp in its slender foxhole.

It all came about when 12-year-old Leroy Lane started to blast a hole in the soft ground by using the pressured water spewing from the hose's nozzle. The hose went Leroy one further and began to excavate on its own. "It just kept going down," said Mrs. Lane afterward.

Deeper and deeper it burrowed into the sandy loam. Then Mr. Lane turned the water off, seemingly saving the day and the hose which was fast disappearing. And they pulled on the hose trying to free it. They tugged at it. Finally they halted with all their might. They took turns. They ganged up on it. They tried to surprise it.

But the hose remained firmly buried, resisting all pleas to return to the upper world. "We felt silly, trying to pull a garden hose out of the ground," explained Mrs. Lane.

It was suggested that a tractor be called into the tussle. They hitched the tractor up, started off. The hose resisted mightily. But the powerful tractor, struggling, managed to break off 43 feet of the hose that was still above the ground level. The rest stayed below.

Beaten but unbowed, the Lane family finally decided to dig the hose out. Said Mrs. Lane "I wouldn't have believed it, if it hadn't seen it."

City Files Petition With Supervisors

Burroughs corporation's Plymouth plant became the center of a new annexation move yesterday when a petition was filed by the city of Plymouth with the Wayne County Board of Supervisors asking that the area's biggest factory be taken into the city.

Petitions signed by 164 city and 20 township residents were taken to Detroit yesterday noon by City Manager Albert Glassford and placed on file with the board of supervisors.

The surprise move came almost a year to the day after the Western Electric controversy began. There is one big difference. Western Electric asked for annexation of the farmland on which it intended to build while Burroughs has taken the stand that they are satisfied at this time with their location in the township and can see no advantage in annexation.

There was a rumor Wednesday morning that a group of township residents had met Tuesday night to again consider turning the township into a city in order to forestall "land grabs" by the city. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay said, however, that he knew nothing of such a meeting.

A petition to incorporate the township was filed during the Western Electric controversy, but after township voters turned down the question asking for annexation of their entire township, the incorporation petition was dropped by the board of supervisors. Petitioners intended to call the new city "Charleston."

City officials said yesterday that they had met with Burroughs officers on Friday, April 20 at the company office here to present their annexation petition plans. Burroughs Vice-president and Secretary Sheldon F. Hall then sent a letter both to city and township officials received yesterday which presented the company's decision.

Supervisor Lindsay told The Mail that Burroughs has informed him in a conversation that they will have to hold up their own expansion program because of the proposed petitions. Burroughs had announced March 8 that they intend to build a 204,000 square foot addition.

Lindsay called the city's petition "a subterfuge proposition. . . sly, unethical." He said that the township isn't sure yet what the city is doing so "we can't take any steps until we know."

Petitions were filed in three days, according to Manager Glassford. The petition asks that the board of supervisors approve the petition so that the proposition can be placed on the ballot at the next general election or at

Audience of 400 Applauds Three-Day Guild Presentation

An enthusiastic audience of approximately 400 attended the Plymouth Theatre Guild's presentation of "Here Today," rollicking three-act comedy which brought to a close the local theatrical group's 1955-56 season, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the high school auditorium.

Not only were play viewers particularly impressed with the excellent performance given by the cast of eight, but with the stage setting as well, which many expressed to be the Guild's finest to date. A patio of a Nassau home with gateway leading to the garden, palm trees silhouetted against a blue backdrop giving the illusion of horizon terminating at the sea, lent an air of authenticity to the plot setting.

Professional performances were given by Jean and Jack Scott, husband-and-wife team which took the roles of the principal characters in the show, "Philip Graves," the novelist, and "Claire Windrew," romantic interest in the plot.

The light-hearted playwright and her collaborator, "Mary Hilliard" and "Stanley Dale," were skillfully portrayed by Betty Demorest and Jack Wilcox. Effie Kusel gave an outstanding interpretation of the crocheter, independent Boston matron, "Mrs. Windrew," and her pre-occupation with the jig-saw puzzle.

Other supporting roles were excellently portrayed, Pete Aubrey as "Spencer Grant," the naive fiance caught up in a web of trickery, Jon Wolfe as the exuberant college sophomore, "Jeffrey Windrew" and Dorothy

Smith in the role of the bored, monosyllabic maid, "Gertrude." The show, which provided an evening of delightful entertainment for Plymouthites during its three-day run, was under the direction of William W. Merrill of Will-O-Way playhouse, Bloomfield Hills. Production manager was Adele Miller. Buane Branch, stage manager, was assisted by Russell Wallace. Music during intermission was provided by James Mitchell at the piano.

Mrs. Arnold Samuelson and Mrs. Paul Wiedman will attend all meetings of the State convention of the National Farm and Garden Association in Birmingham this weekend. Mr. Samuelson will attend the banquet with Mrs. Samuelson and Mrs. Wiedman.

Churches Announce Building, Dedication Plans

Nazarenes Open $200,000 Building Campaign Sunday

Starting their final phase of a building program which will include a new sanctuary, activities building and parsonage, members of the Church of the Nazarene will embark upon a $200,000 fund drive this Sunday morning.

Their present church located on East Ann Arbor trail, opened just two years ago, was constructed for the purpose of converting it to an educational unit when a new sanctuary is built. The Reverend E. T. Hadwin announced this week that the congregation has reached a point in growth where it must progress with the second phase of its long-range program.

The first part of their new program will be to build a basement unit, 37 by 76 feet, for immediate classroom use. This unit, over which the main church will eventually be constructed, is expected to be completed this summer.

Reverend Hadwin states that the second part of the plan will probably be the activities house. This will be used for recreational activities, social functions and as a meeting place. Its ground size will be 30 by 60 feet.

Similar in size and next in construction will be the parsonage, followed by the sanctuary construction. The sanctuary, which will be large enough to seat 500, will measure 52 by 104 feet. The present building will then be converted into Sunday school classrooms. All buildings will be similar in architecture.

Also on the grounds will be volleyball and shuffleboard courts, a fireplace and parking areas.

The church recently completed a telephone survey of the city to find people who would church homes. Of the 6,000 calls, there were 45 families expressing interest in joining or attending the church. If the present rate of growth continues into next year, the membership will have doubled since Reverend Hadwin came here in November 1953.

Former location of the Church of the Nazarene was at Pearl and Holbrook avenues.

To Dedicate Calvary Baptist Addition Sunday

Dedication of the new educational building of Calvary Baptist church will take place this Sunday afternoon at 2:45 p.m. with the congregation's first minister, the Reverend Richard Neale, returning to deliver the dedicatory address.

The new building and remodeling of the main structure cost $83,000. Ground for the educational unit was broken on Sunday, October 30.

Although the building will be formally dedicated Sunday, some work will still not be completed. It was recently voted to face both the old and new parts of the building with a brick coating. An open house will be held next fall.

A new front entrance has been constructed to the main building and numerous changes have been made inside. Two modern nursery rooms are being constructed downstairs and 10 classrooms partitioned by folding doors will be provided in the Sunday school meeting room. Classrooms are also being made on the stage and from area at the sides of the stage.

In the sanctuary upstairs, a glassed-in room for mothers with babies was included in the new construction. Part of the upstairs of the new building opens up into the sanctuary and is being divided ed by folding doors into Bible classrooms for adults. There is also a large room for young people and a new minister's office, the former office now a classroom.

One downstairs of the new building will contain a large Sunday school meeting room with classrooms and a kitchen. There is also a new gas-fired hot water furnace for the two units.

Reverend Patrick J. Clifford states that the congregation will probably continue to use the nearby Oddfellows hall for classroom space. There is an average Sunday school attendance of about 375.

The dedicatory speaker, Reverend Neale, is now director of the Young Gospel Crusade, a youth work with headquarters in Wheaton, Illinois. He will conduct five other services at Calvary Baptist church, including an open session of the Bible school at 9:45 Sunday morning and the 7 o'clock gospel service Sunday evening. A family-night service at 7:30 p.m. will be conducted next Monday through Wednesday.

Reverend Neale uses a blend of nature-film classics and Bible stories illustrated by oil painted Bible scenes under black light.

Church of Christ Starts $20,000 Church Addition

Work was started Monday on an addition to the Church of Christ building, 2541 South Main street, which will double the seating capacity of the sanctuary and the number of Sunday school classrooms.

Because a wall of the present building will be torn out, all services will take place at the Plymouth Grange hall on Union street for the next five weeks, it was announced by the Reverend W. H. Neill.

Doubled will be the present sanctuary seating capacity of 200 and the six Sunday school classrooms. In addition, the enlarged sanctuary will be provided with all new furnishings.

On the outside of the building, a cupola will be built atop the church, a front porch added and the roof will be faced with a brick veneer.

Reverend Neill states that the six present classrooms and the sanctuary are much too small to hold the growing membership. Chairs must be brought in each Sunday to hold the overflow.

Cost of the new project is expected to be at least $20,000. The new building will be constructed of cement block, the same as the present building.

There may be reason to complain of slow mail service, but bills have a way of arriving on time.

Films of Grand Rapids Tornado Being Shown

Weather bureau films of the tornado which struck the Grand Rapids area only a few weeks ago will be shown to the public this Friday night at the Plymouth township hall.

Ernest Williams, Plymouth township resident and chief meteorologist at the Willow Run weather station, is bringing the films here for a showing before the Plymouth Township Civil Defense unit and the general public.

CD Director Leo Flowers states that this is the first showing of these films. Starting time will be 8 p.m.

Clean-up Week Action Continues

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were set to scrub the downtown streets Sunday morning at the opening of Clean-up, Pick-up, Paint-up, Anti-Litterbug week, but three days of rain did the job for them.

But they will try again this Sunday morning with the hope that their example will stir other Plymouthites to action—perhaps not at scrubbing their streets, but at least to make their own properties more attractive.

The Garden club is also continuing their big role in battling litterbugs, those folks who toss litter onto the sidewalks, streets and highways. It is now impossible to go through the city without seeing the litterbug emblem painted either on signs, trash containers or on buttons being worn by school children.

Members of the Garden Club, with Mrs. Arnold Samuelson as president and Mrs. Paul Wiedman as campaign chairman, opened their litterbug drive last Sunday and will continue it through next week. Skits about the litterbug are being presented in most grade schools and before some clubs during the campaign period.

Mayor Calls Meeting

All local organizations have been urged to send representatives to this meeting to assist in the planning of the program. Reports will be given by last year's UN observance committee and the 1956 steering committee formed. Over 40 civic, educational, church and fraternal organizations were participants in the commemoration of the United Nation's 10th anniversary.

Seek to Annex Burroughs

A special election. Included in the proposition besides the Burroughs property is some land owned by Garling Realty next to the city boundary, city-owned land in Middle Rouge park and Riverside cemetery. Since annexed land must be connected with the annexing body of land, the Burroughs property can be reached by annexing the park area, and the cemetery, which lies across Plymouth road from Burroughs. It is believed that neither Burroughs nor Garling will have a vote in the election (if approved by the board of supervisors), since they are not residents of the land. The Burroughs letter to Mayor Russell M. Daane reads as follows: "Since your visit Friday, April 20, 1956, to our Plymouth plant, together with Commissioner Harold Guenther, City Manager Albert Glassford and City Attorney Harry Deyo, Burroughs management has carefully considered your request that we either join in or consent to your proposed petition to annex Burroughs property to the city of Plymouth. "They have come to the conclusion that we are satisfied at this time with our location in the township of Plymouth and can see no advantage therefore in either joining in or consenting to such a petition as that mentioned above.

"Changing circumstances in the future may alter our present position and if and when such a time arrives, consideration will again be given to such annexation."

"We wish to thank you and other members of the city government for your courtesy and for the consideration you have given Burroughs corporation in this matter."

Recognizing aerial photos is tricky business and the photographers further complicated the contest by taking the shots at random and a few from the back side of the farms so that it will be more interesting and require more skill. The pilot flew about 200 miles back and forth across the trade area of The Mail while taking the photos with professional aerial photography equipment.

Employees of The Plymouth Mail and Beglinger Oldsmobile are not eligible to compete in the contest. For the first series of the "Mystery Farm" contest see page 6, section 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaubien of Detroit were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tillotson of Morgan street on Monday of last week.

City Purchase, Expansion of Airport

Immediately to purchase the airport," Nulty stated, "it will be sold for homesites. The airport's manager, Robert Mettetal, cannot obtain matching funds because aid is given only to municipally-owned airports. If the city would take over the airport, state and federal aid would cover 50 per cent of the land acquisition and 75 per cent of construction costs. Aid also will not be granted unless the airport is expanded to meet aeronautical board requirements. Of the five present runways, only the north-south runway would be saved. It would be 3,500 feet long and paved, while an east-west runway would be 2,500 feet long and would be sod. These runways would handle planes as large as a DC-3. Nearly all business-type planes, however, are one and two engine makes, Nulty explained.

Frank Lodge, another spokesman during the evening, and head of Clark Aerial Survey corporation, said that at the end of World War II there were 2,500 business planes. Last year there were 30,000 and by next year there should be 5,000 to 8,000 more. Business planes travel more miles than commercial airlines, of which there are but 1,500 planes in the U. S., he added.

Eventually either Willow Run or Wayne Major airport will be taken over by military planes. The other will be strictly commercial, leaving little room for business and private operation," Nulty confirmed the fact that hanger space and services were already at capacity at Willow Run and Detroit City airports.

Lodge stated that the airport site being located close to the C & O railroad, would make an ideal location for light industry. Parts replacement and repair shops, for instance, like to locate close by an airport because replacement parts are usually flown to industries. Location of industry near the airport, he added, would be a benefit to Canton township's tax structure, as well as help pay school taxes in the local district.

Showing aerial photographs of the surrounding land, Lodge pointed out that the present airport has 160 acres. There would be 270 acres needed for the proposed field.

City Manager Albert Glassford explained the financing problems. The estimated total investment would be $685,000. Of this amount, $488,000 would be for land acquisition, $246,000 would be for runway construction and $30,000 for an administration building. The federal and state government will pay $389,000 while the remaining $294,000 would be the city's share.

The manager adds that the city must own the land before it can apply for the $244,000 from the federal and state agencies. This means that about $500,000 worth of bonds must be sold, and then all but $294,000 worth paid off when matching funds are received.

Because bond buying companies have had no experience in purchasing bonds for airport financing, Glassford said, they will need to be sold to private buyers—undoubtedly industry. Tentative plans call for issuing the bonds for 20 years at three per cent interest. Estimated revenue from the field is $36,000, which is believed enough to cover salaries, maintenance and bond interest. Revenue comes from rental of hanger and tie-down space, gasoline sales, land leases to private businesses and a proposed city appropriation of $5,000 a year.

Answering a question concerning "nuisance" complaints of residents in the area, Nulty said that nearly all business planes are of one and two motor makes and the present trend is to make them smaller. (There are now six business planes at the airport.) Unlike the pleasure fliers, Nulty added, business planes are piloted by professionals who fly when taking off or arriving from other parts of the state or nation. There is almost no business craft flying on weekends, he asserted.

Nine of the business and industrial men at the meeting volunteered to "spread the word" to other industrialists about the airport in hopes of arousing their interest. They estimate that there are 300 contracts to be made within a 20 minute drive of the airport. A meeting of all industrial representatives in the area is being scheduled for June 4 at the high school. General Merrill and other state and federal aviation representatives will be invited to speak.

Although it was noted that success of the project will depend upon the interest of industry, Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, stated that a criteria set up by industry for locating new plants lists nearby airports as the fourth-place necessity. He added that location of the local airport is unique because small plane owners prefer flying into small airports, but that it is close enough to two of the world's best "all-weather" airports that they would still be close to their destination.

In closing the meeting, the group decided to petition the city commission to name an individual who would serve as chairman for the effort to call on industry.

Considers Higher Teacher Salaries

A higher salary schedule with the emphasis given to those holding masters degrees is expected to be offered teachers in the Plymouth Community School system within the next month.

A meeting took place Monday night between the school board and members of the finance committee of the Plymouth Education association at which the salary schedule and the proposed "merit pay" were discussed.

At least two areas of agreement were reached. At present, the teacher with a master's degree gets only $200 a year more than the one with the bachelor's degree. It was agreed that the differential should be greater, perhaps $300, in order to encourage more teachers to seek further schooling.

It was also agreed that the merit plan idea should be studied for the remainder of the year by a committee composed of teachers, administrators, board members and citizens. Merit increases were suggested two weeks ago by a sub-committee of the school Community Planning group. Under the proposed plan, teachers doing outstanding work would be paid beyond the regular salary schedule.

Another meeting between the board and teacher committee is scheduled for next Monday. The board hopes to have a new salary schedule approved before 1956-57 contracts are distributed.

Miss Beverly Goodale was guest of honor at a personal shower on Monday evening, April 23 given by Mrs. Douglas Shaw and Mrs. Marge Scarpulla in the Shaw home in Birmingham. Twenty guests from Plymouth, Northville, Walled Lake, Northville and Wixom were present. Beverly is a May bride-elect.

Local Democrats Honor 'The Veep'

Local Democrats through the Plymouth Democratic club have joined the nation in paying tribute to the late Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky. The former vice-president, affectionately known as "The Veep", collapsed and died Monday while addressing a mock political convention at Washington and Lee university.

Orville Tungate, local party chairman, issued the following statement:

"With the passing of Senator Barkley, America has lost a strong voice of democracy. His concern for the rights of the individual and the dignity of mankind epitomized the principles of the Democratic party. The final words spoken by Senator Barkley before he died, 'I would rather be a servant in the house of the Lord than sit in the seats of the mighty, would be a fitting epitaph for this great human being.'"

Fire Chief Urges Field Clean-ups

Vacant lots, dry fields and yards cluttered up with trash and dried weeds and leaves are an ever-present danger to all dwellings and buildings nearby. These dirty places are fire breeders and must be cleaned up, Plymouth Township Fire Chief Howard Holmes urged today.

Three-quarters or better of the fire runs made by the Township fire department in the past 30 days were the direct result of just such situations. Chief Holmes quoted an estimate by the National Fire Protection association that nearly half of the country's 2,000,000 fires last year started in rubbish or dried grass and brush.

"As you value the safety of your family and property," the Chief pleaded, "organize a group in your neighborhood now to go in and eliminate the fire-breeder areas immediately. You can't afford to wait for someone else to do it for you."

Burning permits for brush, trash and grass on field fires other than general household purposes must be taken out from your fire department. These permits may be obtained from the Fire Department at any time between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. each day.

Driving Teacher Attends Sessions

With all Michigan schools next February being required to teach driver training, Plymouth high school's driver instructor, Robert Anderson, did some traveling last weekend to learn more about the requirements and listen to auto safety engineers.

The Michigan Driver and Safety Education association, of which he is a member, were guests of the Chrysler corporation's engineering laboratories in Detroit last Friday. Demonstrations were given to show how various parts of the automobile function and how safety devices are developed. It was pointed out to the group that doors on the late model cars should be locked from the inside to insure maximum efficiency from the safety door latches.

The fourth annual conference of Teachers in Driver Education was held Saturday at the U of M. Speaking were M. D. Whale, consultant in driver education of the State Department of Public Instruction; Phillip Mongeau, assistant deputy director of driver education and vehicle services section of the state department; and Lieutenant Shirley Curtis of the Michigan State Police traffic and safety bureau.

State police formed a panel to answer questions concerning the new driver training law. Later the conferences divided into discussion groups to discuss teaching techniques.

John S. Gamble of Junction avenue is recovering from surgery in Mt. Sinai hospital, Detroit, a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Melow and sons, Karl and David, spent the weekend in Cleveland, Ohio, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kalmbach and family.

60 Guests Attend 70th Birthday Party

Sixty guests attended the seventieth birthday party last week at Arbor-Lill honoring Gerald P. Rodrigo of Schoolcraft road.

Mr. Rodrigo has been employed for 25 years by the Precision Spring Corporation and has been an active member of numerous Masonic organizations. Friends from Texas, Ontario, Lapeer, Brighton and Detroit attended and enjoyed music and dancing.

It's Dog License Time in Township

Plymouth township will hold its annual dog clinic during the next two Saturdays with a deadline of June 1 set for all canines to be properly vaccinated and licensed.

Hours of the clinic at the township hall are from 9 a.m. until noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

It is estimated that there are 750 dogs in the township that will need 1956 tags, according to Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes. Penalty for not purchasing a license is $4. Last year there were more than 100 township dog owners receiving violation tickets.

Cost of the tags this year is $4 for females and $2 for male dogs. The rabies vaccination costs $2 more. The dog clinic gives an opportunity for the owner to purchase a license and have his dog vaccinated at the same time.

If the dog has been vaccinated by another veterinarian, a vaccination certificate must be shown to receive the license.

The Goodwill truck will be in the Northville-Plymouth area on Monday, May 7. Please call Mrs. Edith Sorenson at Northville 571 for pickup arrangements.

Most of us are happy to see that some clouds have a silver lining... especially when it's as unexpected as an open parking place. In the backwash of income tax news there is an indication that we're all getting more interested in our fellow men, or higher income taxes are stirring up charitable impulses. Every year more and more money is being given to charity.

Oddly enough, every time taxes go up, more money is donated for good works... which seems to indicate we don't mind giving it away so much if we can deduct it. As some sage once said, "It takes a heap of heaping to make a heap." And the heap of contributions in the U.S. ran up around 80 million last year. No matter what causes the giving... the results are all to the good.

A local fellow celebrating his Silver Wedding anniversary gives this advice to young couples: "Keep your eyes wide open before marriage... and half shut after." It's an open-and-shut case that you'll find everything you need for the baby's care here in our store... baby oils and powders, scales, medicinal supplies, etc. Shop at Plymouth's complete drug store.

Remember... "someone you know, knows me."

Two Daisy Products Win National Awards from Toy Council

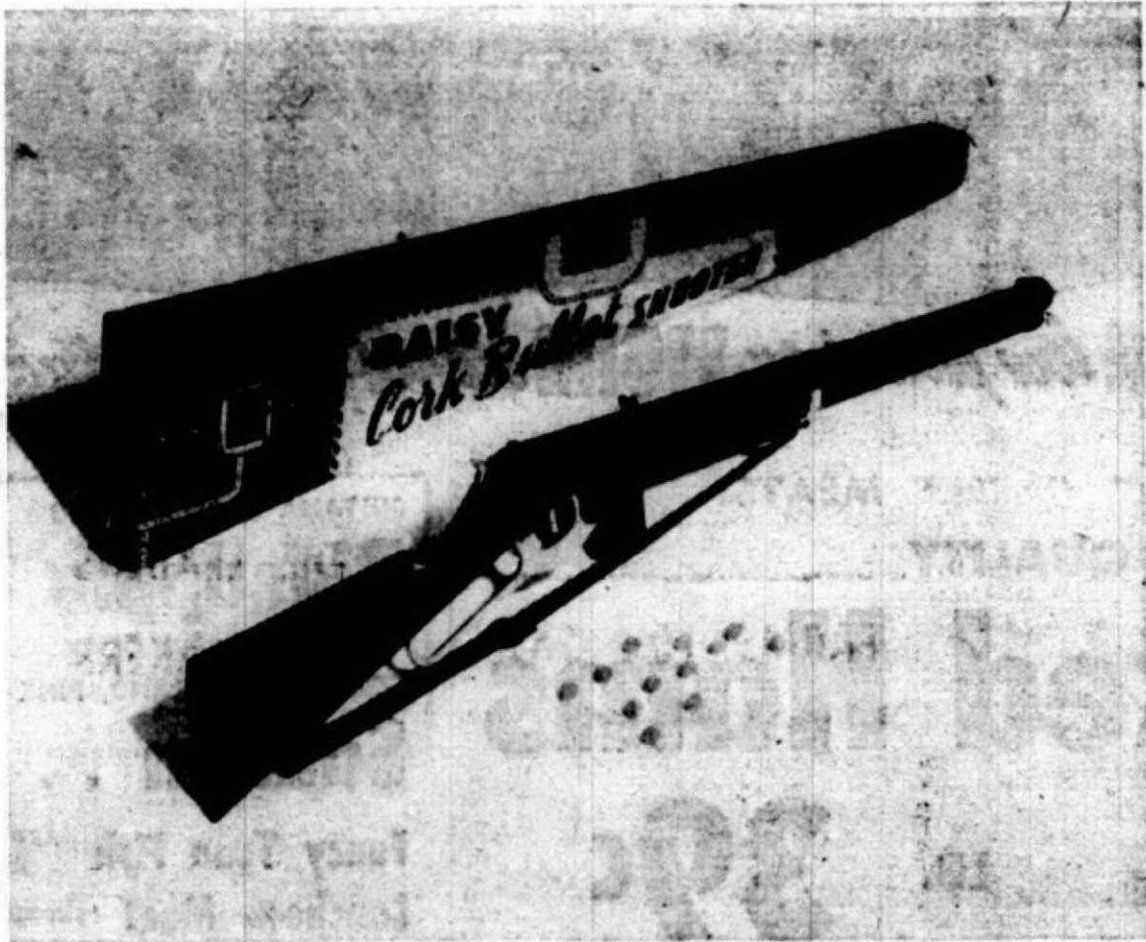

The Super Shooter Outfit and Cork Bullet Shooter made by Daisy Manufacturing company have been voted "outstanding" examples of American toy production for 1956 by Toy Guidance Council, Inc.

The voting took place at the Council's 18th Annual Selection Conference in New York City, amid scenes reminiscent of a miniature world's fair. Surrounded by thousands of toys submitted by hundreds of the nation's leading manufacturers, the experts, representing wholesalers, retailers, consumers and educators from all sections of the United States, screened and judged the toys, after impassioned speeches, heated floor debate and rigid testing of the safety, durability and play appeal qualities of each toy. Accepted toys were also judged for their ability to aid the development of children mentally, socially, physically and vocationally.

"We have made the method of selection so thorough," said Mel Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council, "because any toy that emerges successfully from this severe examination must deserve the national prestige it attains." The Super Shooter Outfit and Cork Bullet Shooter are among the 104 selections made by the committees and approved by Parents' Magazine and will be identified as "Educator-Approved" Prestige Toys for 1956.

Toy Guidance Council approval is more than just an honor to the manufacturer. Each toy voted "outstanding" by the experts receives non-cancellable orders from the nation's leading toy wholesalers and becomes part of the greatest cooperative operation in the history of the toy industry. This program, on both national and local levels, will cover newspapers, magazines, radio and television, and is expected to cost well over $1,500,000.

The public is pusillanimous and cowardly because it is weak. It knows itself to be a great dunce and that it has no opinions but upon suggestion. —William Havlitt.

Daisy Manufacturing company's "Cork Bullet Shooter" and "Super Shooter's Outfit" were voted outstanding examples of American toy production for 1956 by the national Toy Guidance Council in New York recently.

Interior Remodeling Job Enhances Saxton's Farm and Garden Supply

An extensive interior remodeling project, begun late last fall and completed in February, has greatly enhanced Saxton's Farm and Garden Supply, 587 West Ann Arbor trail, Owner Dean Saxton, by the simple use of rearranging his display counters and utilizing versatile pegboard, has been able to create the effect of much more room within the same floor space.

Saxton has provided spacious areas for patrons and employees alike by relocating counters and island booths nearer the walls and by displaying his goods more prominently on the pegboard lined walls. Additional shelves in the parts department have further lessened floor space congestion and eased customer and employee mobility.

The extent of Saxton's use of pegboard on three walls in the front display room, where garden equipment lines are handled, and in the larger back room on two walls and all supporting pillars has increased his display area. The front room is 15 feet by 40 feet and the back room is 50 feet square. The remodeling job was done by Saxton, his son Bill and two employees during the winter, the off season.

In addition to the rejuvenating of the building's interior, Saxton has added a new line of chain saws, enlarged the service counter in the parts department and now handles Reo lawnmower parts. Saxton's used to be entirely a feed business but has enlarged to the present time where it now handles light and heavy garden implements, barbecue items and power lawn equipment. Saxton has been in business in Plymouth since 1934, having occupied the building on West Ann Arbor trail since 1937. In about two years he plans to extend the length of the building for further customer-service space and hopes to construct a warehouse on the vacant lot west of the present store.

Explaining to Willie "Pa, what's the difference between a statesman and a politician?"

"A statesman my son, wants to do something for his country; a politician wants his country to do something for him."

Gives Y-Teens Tips On Applying Make-up

A demonstration of make-up techniques was given by Mrs. Melvin Fuelling, cosmetic firm representative for this district, at a meeting of the Y-Teens club on Thursday, April 26.

The guest speaker also gave helpful ideas and tips on keeping a healthy complexion. Due to shortage of time at the last meeting, Mrs. Fuelling is making a return visit to the club this afternoon when she will demonstrate proper application of eye make-up.

Elections for next year's officers will be held in the near future. This year's officers are president, Betty Worth; vice-president, Peggy Roberson; secretary, Carolyn Carpenter; treasurer, Judy Elliot; corresponding secretary, George Ann Bauer; Miss Gertrude Figel and Miss Moyra McNeill are the club advisors.

Face-Lifting for Press-Box

Those who are bored with Plymouth high school's brownish colored press-box can soon have a sigh of relief, thanks to the Variety club. When weather permits the boys will take their brushes in hand and convert the brown to the school colors, blue and white.

Headed by Athletic Director John Sandman, the organization also plans to travel to Briggs Stadium May 11, to witness the Tigers take on the Chicago White Sox under the lights.

Officers of this year's club are George Pine, president; Jim Parly, vice president; Tom Ferguson, secretary; and Jack Carter, treasurer.

Potluck, Square Dance In Store for Fortnighters

alternates were elected. Class slates were set up between April 11 and 13 for nomination of class officers and all-school slate. On April 16 was a joint nominating board meeting in which Mayor Ray Spigarelli presided. The final all-school slate was chosen.

Class caucuses were held April 17 when all-school and class slates were submitted for approval. This was a chance for additional names to be added through majority vote. April 18 to 20 were dates of registration for those planning to vote in the coming election which included persons new to the school or who had not registered in the two previous elections. Class secretaries were in charge of this activity.

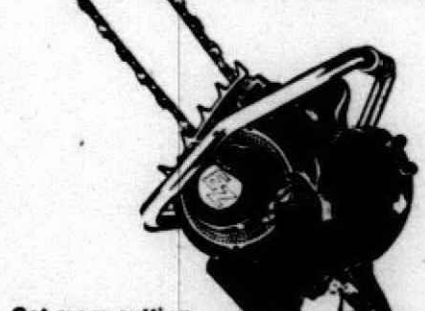

Petitions for class and all-school offices, each containing 25 per cent of the registered voters in their classification were due April 25.

Election procedure will close May 24 when new officers will be presented at the annual inaugural assembly.

Salem Church To Present Film Sunday Evening

Salem Federated church has announced the presentation of the color-sound film, "God Is My Landlord," featuring Perry Hayden, the "Quaker Miller" of Tecumseh, Michigan and the late Henry Ford, on Sunday evening, May 6, at 7:30.

Hayden, head of a milling firm in Tecumseh, was inspired by a sermon on the text, John 12:24, concerning wheat. He decided to "take God at His word and see what would happen" by planting, harvesting and tithing wheat. In 1940 he planted one cubic inch of wheat seed, 360 kernels, on a tiny plot of land, 4' by 8', furnished by the late Henry Ford. He determined to pay a tithe of the crop and to plant the remaining nine-tenths, repeating this for six years. By 1946 it had grown to cover 2,666 acres of land, producing a harvest of 72,150 bushels of wheat, worth $150,000. Robert Ripley stated that if the project were continued until 1950, it would require all the land in the U. S. and by 1953 would cover the globe.

This film, taken over a six year period, is filled with human interest and graphically depicts what has been called the "greatest tithing demonstration in all history." There is no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited to attend the presentation.

Four-H to Conduct Inter-faith Service Sunday Morning

Four-H clubs from Plymouth and surrounding areas will participate in a non-denominational worship service to be conducted at 7 o'clock this Sunday morning at Sumac Point on Edward Hines parkway in observance of Wayne County 4-H Club Sunday.

The service is the first attempt of county 4-H to bring all beliefs together in such a program. Principal speakers will be Father Ramey of St. Mary's Catholic church in Wayne, Rabbi Fram from Temple Israel of northwest Detroit and Reverend Abbey of University Methodist church in Ann Arbor.

Richard Eccles, recreation director of metropolitan Methodist church in Detroit, will be master of ceremonies for the civic type program based on the theme "4-Hers, Under God, Working Together for World Understanding."

The following residents will participate in selections to be presented by the Wayne County 4-H Service Club choir: Pat Hauk, Pat Claby, Sharon E. Moers, Mary Travis and Ellen Frommhold. David Hauk, Paul Decker and Richard Schmidt will be flagbearers for the ceremony.

The congregation will be seated on bleachers, viewing a stage of natural vegetation enhanced by the addition of potted plants, with the beauty of Middle Rouge river as backdrop. Sumac Point is located just west of the intersection of Newburg and Plymouth roads.

The public is invited to attend this service.

U-M Glee Club To Give Concert

The Men's Glee club of the University of Michigan will present a concert this evening, May 3, at 8 p.m. in the Northville Community building under the auspices of the U of M Alumni club of Northville.

The 45-member group, representing 15 schools and colleges of the University, will be under the direction of Walter S. Collins.

"Laudes Atque Carmina," traditional tribute to the U of M, will be the opening number of the concert. Leading soloists for the program are Jim Berg, bass, a senior in the School of Music, and Second Tenor Dan Pressley, School of Music junior. Modern harmony as well as familiar barber shop melodies will be presented by the Friars, featured octet in the evening's presentation.

The U of M Men's Glee club were presented on a European tour last summer. For two weeks they were featured in nightly concerts from Netherlands to Austria, highlighted by a performance before Queen Juliana at the Hague. Other concerts, given in the major European cities, included appearances before university audiences, musical societies, military installations, U. S. embassy, night clubs and community-sponsored groups.

Grange Cleanings

There was an extremely good response to the request for help to make cancer pads. A fine group of our Grange women came to the hall in the afternoon and accomplished a job. Some of them cleaned the kitchen cabinets, and that was a good job too. Then the men came for a pot-luck supper and they did some of the necessary clean-up work in the back yard. After which a few games of Euchre followed—naturally.

Tonight is our usual supper night. We hope to see a fine crowd. Louise Tritten is in charge of the program. A review of the book, "Arthritis and Common Sense" will be given. Also there will be pictures of South America, shown by Mr. Stein of Wayne, and we are sure we shall enjoy those very much.

Ernie Vealey was at University hospital last Thursday for X-rays and is there again today for the same purpose. He is not at all well. He was made very happy by the many lovely cards he received for his birthday and wishes to thank everyone.

The meeting of May 17 is to be in two parts, one on safety, the other to be in the nature of a tribute to Mothers as it is near Mother's Day. Mr. Hartom will lead a discussion and he will choose his own topic.

Vivians Schedule Annual Meeting for This Evening
Plymouth Vivians will hold their annual meeting tonight, May 3, at 8 in the Elks Temple. All members have been urged to attend the event as election of officers will be held and a vote taken on the revision of the constitution and bi-laws. Members have also been asked to bring empty tuna fish and juice cans for use by Wayne County crippled children. Mrs. Robert McAllister is in charge of refreshments following the program.

Sparkling Performances Earn Thinclads 60-49 Victory over Bentley

Four Stroke Shortage Brings Golfers 4th Loss

A four-stroke shortage Monday afternoon resulted in Plymouth's fourth golfing defeat of the year when Redford Union edged out the Rocks' quartet, 181-185, in nine holes at Plymouth Country club. The locals have one win.

Once again Rocks' Tom Carmichael took down meet medalist honors as he fired a four-over-par 40 across the front nine layout. Carmichael's total was two strokes better than the 42 posted by Redford Union low scorer Al Newman.

Plymouth's scoring was completed by Bill Rambo with a 44, Gary Wilson at 50 and Staton Lorenz at 51. Al Sharp carded a 44 for the Panthers to match Rambo and the meet was decided by the third and fourth man tallies. Plymouth's total of 101 was offset successfully by a 95 wind-up by Redford Union's second division players.

The Rocks had a scheduled battle with Allen Park Wednesday at Plymouth Country club. Results were not available as The Mail approached presstime.

Ex-Plymouthite Sees Big Year At Race Course

A former Plymouthite is looking with anticipation toward the 40-night trotting meeting from May 9 through June 23 at Detroit Race Course, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt in Livonia. But not on the basis of how many winners he can pick.

He's Orlow G. Owen, who in the 1930's worked in Plymouth in a men's clothing store, then in a ladies lingerie shop and in 1937 was a partner in the Ken and Ork hamburger stand here. Now Owen is vice president and operational manager of the Wolverine Harness Raceway.

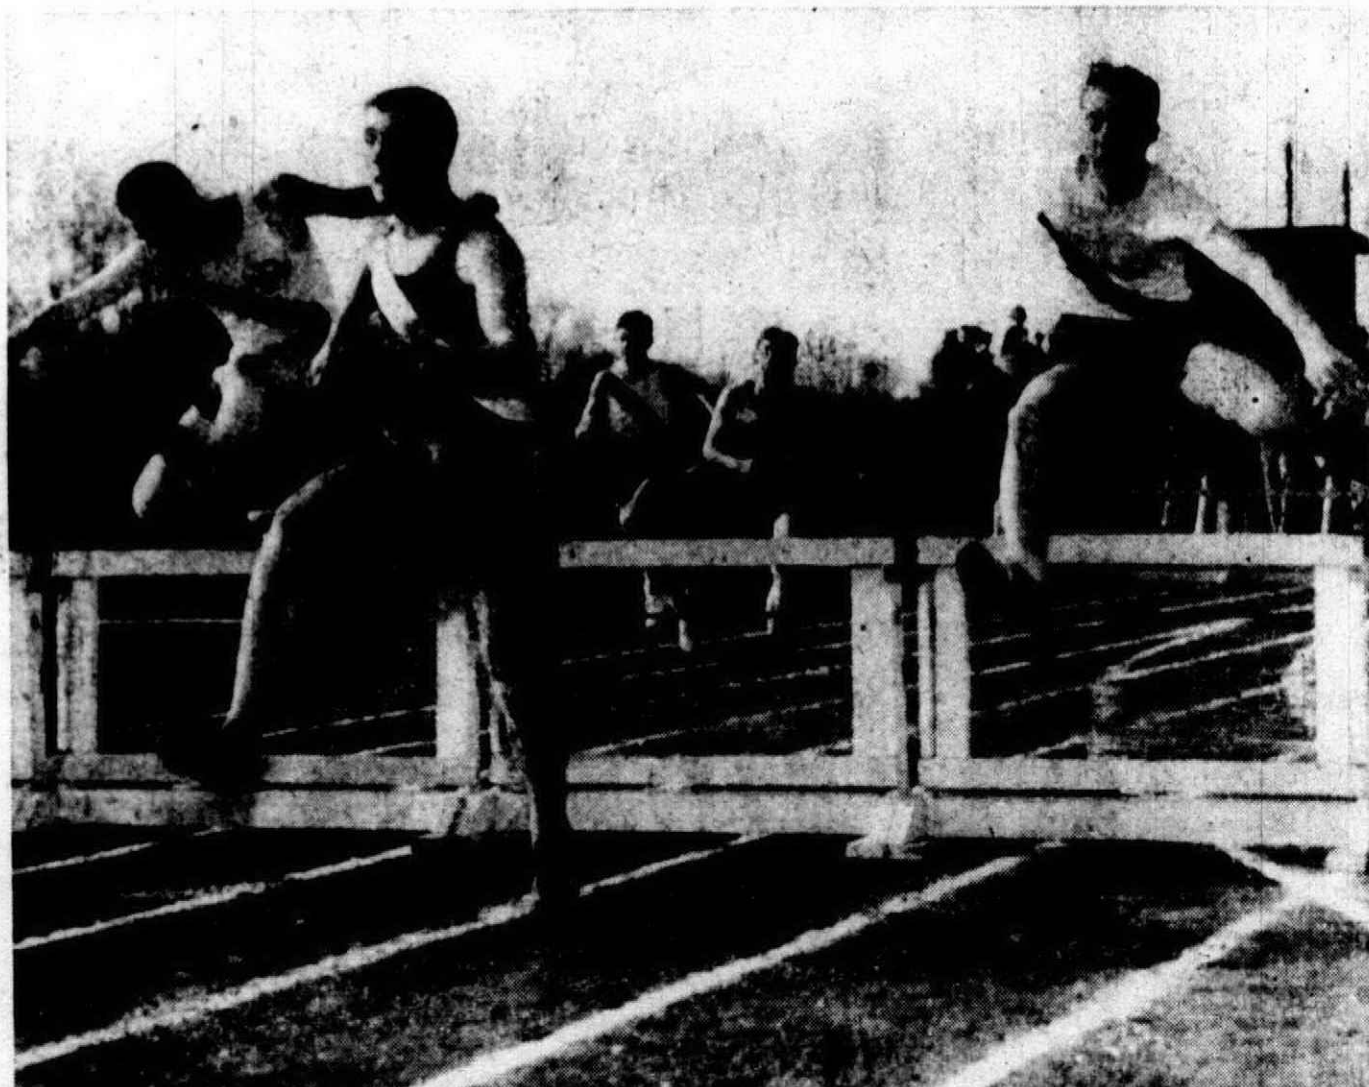

It is through Owen's vision and energy that big things are anticipated in the nearing meeting at the neighboring raceway. The 1956 harness season there promises to be reportedly the best ever. Response to the early closing events has been encouraging.

In addition the finest standard-breds, the ablest drivers and the best stables will take part in the meeting which kicks off the harness racing year in Michigan.

Owen became one of the pioneers in the establishment of pari-mutuel harness racing in Michigan at Northville Downs in 1945. He has been one of the primary architects of the amazing popularity climb achieved by harness racing in the state during the past decade.

In his first year at Northville Downs, Owen served as an assistant and track announcer. He rose steadily to the post of manager of the Downs. In 1952, Wolverine Raceway President Frederick Van Lennep offered Owen his present post. Owen accepted the position and quickly guided the track to its most successful season.

He lives at 50085 Stearns Mile road in Northville. Owen is a Michigan State Normal college graduate, majoring there in physical education.

HIGH-SPEED ACTION in the 180-yard low hurdles is displayed by these three hurdlers, (from left) Plymouth's Henry Mende, Bentley's Tim Snarey and Plymouth's Dick Manion. Snarey won in :23.5, Mende finished second in :23.7 and Manion was third with a :23.8 clocking. Manion's third here, coupled with his :18.9 win in the 120-yard highs, earned him a total of six points last Thursday and second highest individual honors for the Rocks. Tom Ferguson paced Plymouth with 10 points. The local thinclads won the dual meet, 60-49.

Sparked by several stand-out individual performances, Plymouth's varsity track team took a pleasing 60-49 win from league-champion Bentley high school on the local oval last Thursday afternoon in the Rocks' third thinclad outing of the new year.

The victory, which came on the heels of an opening day loss to Redford Union and then a conquest of Belleville two weeks ago, brought the Plymouth record for the young season to two successes and one setback in dual competition.

Win over Parkers Squares Net Card

With a sweep of the three doubles matches and a split of the four singles, Plymouth's tennis squad evaded its 1956 record last Thursday via an easy 5-2 victory over Allen Park. The Rocks' tennis card stood at one win and one defeat as of last week.

Highlighting the series of doubles conquests were the efforts of Lee Huber and Chuck Moisio, who teamed to whip Parkers Smith and Kreit, 6-0, 6-1, allowing only one point to the losers. Jim Gibson beat John Roberts, 6-2, 6-0, in the number two singles for Plymouth's other handy success. Gibson won Roberts down with a tiring succession of volleys.

Other singles scores included: Jerry Steele's decision over Tom Mathis, 7-5, 6-3; Bob Kennitz's loss to Joe Smith, 3-6, 6-2, 9-11; and George Losse's defeat at the hands of Roger Weideman, 1-6, 7-5, 5-7. In the doubles: Fred Tibbing and Doug Rowe came from a one set deficit to overtake Richardson and Takessian, 4-6, 6-1; 6-2; and Dave Titlston and Mike Stickney stopped Penoi and Bennie, 7-5, 6-3.

Plymouth piled six first place finishes on top of an equal number of seconds, seven thirds plus a win in the 880-yard relay to top the decision over a strong Bentley team. Along the way the Rocks' trio of Tom Ferguson, Paul Cummings and Bob Young swept all three slots in the high jump, only event either squad completely dominated.

Ferguson was one of four sparkling performers from the local cinder aggregate who made the job easier for coach Keith Baughman. Tall Tom totaled 10 points on victories in the high jump at 5' 7" and in the half mile with a 2:11.4 clocking. His 5' 7" leap in the high jump was his best this year. His 10 points paced the Rocks in individual scoring.

Lindy Mills broke 40 feet in the shot with a good heave of 41' 9 1/2". It was his best effort of the 1956 campaign and the furthest he has ever tossed the shot. But the most gaudy win of the afternoon for Plymouth was brought home by tiny Tony Monte, a 16-year-old sophomore, in the mile run. Monte, in the second attempt he had ever made at the distance race, carded a 5:02.6 for first place and five points. The five minute mile in high school circles is a respected mark.

Monte was determined a winner when Bentley's Dick Day was declared disqualified for being paced by a teammate on the infield during the last of four laps. Day finished in 4:58.6 but his result was scratched in favor of Monte.

Rocks' Chuck Westover battled Monte to the wire in the grueling march and was caught in 5:02.7 for second place. Bentley took a third.

Dick Manion listed six points for the Rocks with an 18.9 win in the 120-yard high hurdles and a 23.8 third place in the 180-yard lows. Henry Mende backed Manion solidly at the wire in both of these races as he finished third in the highs and second in the lows.

Plymouth's other individual first went to LeRoy Schacht with an 18' 2" leap in the broad jump. Steve Veresh took a third there with a 17' 8" heave.

The Rocks' 880-yard relay team of Jeff Yeoman, Don Alsbro, Dick Showers and Ed LaRoche garnered Plymouth four more tallies with a 2:44.4 win in that race. The local relay relay quartet was disqualified in the 380-yard medley.

Paul Cummings and Bob Young each hurled 5' 4" in the high jump to bring home second and third place points for Plymouth and complete the meet's only event-sweep by virtue of Ferguson's first.

Other local scorers included: Steve Jewell, second (9' 6") in the pole vault; Artur Losse, third (9' 0") in the pole vault; Jim Pardy, second (2:12.1) in the half mile; Virgil Norgrove, third (57.7) in the quarter-mile; Dick Showers, second (2:44) in the 220 and third (1:13) in the 100. On Wednesday before the varsity battle, the Plymouth freshmen track team carded a 31-19 decision over Bentley's frosh thinclads behind Plymouth high school.

The next varsity track engagement is at Trenton this afternoon.

ELATION AND WEARINESS show in faces of Plymouth's milers, Tony Monte (left) and Chuck Westover. Monte, against Bentley last Thursday, won the mile race in 5:02.6. Westover placed second one-tenth of a second back. It was only the second mile run by Monte, a 16-year-old sophomore. Bentley's Dick Day was disqualified in the same race when he was paced on the infield by a teammate. His time, scratched from the results, was 4:58.6.

2 Three-Run Innings Stop Plymouth, 8-2

Plymouth's baseball win average dwindled to .333 last Monday afternoon when Redford Union invaded the local diamond and pinned an 8-2 defeat on the Rocks. It was the second loss in three games this new campaign and considerably diminished any hopes for the Rocks of retaining their Suburban Six league crown held from last year.

Trenton's Two Unearned Runs Nip Rocks, 3-2

Two unearned runs, one coming in the third inning and the other in the fourth, gave Trenton high school a 3-2 gift decision over Plymouth on Tuesday, April 24, in the Rocks' second baseball battle of 1956. The defeat left the locals with a 1-1 record at the end of last week.

The Rocks got the pitching (Bob Clear allowed only four hits and struck out seven) and the batting (six hits including three triples) but never-the-less bowed to the Trojans when outfield flies in both the third and the fourth dropped for extra-base errors allowing Trenton all the margin necessary.

In both of those frames Trenton batters lofted easy flies to Plymouth's outfield with men on base at the time. And each were badly misjudged to give the baserunners ample opportunity to score.

Trenton's actual edge came in the fifth inning. A single by Ed Rushlow followed by Don Case's double, chasing home Rushlow, earned the Trojans their bulge of success.

The Rocks had a golden opportunity in the fourth when a walk to Harry Wells and singles by Ken Calhoun and Dave DeCoster loaded the sacks. But the needed punch to push across was lacking and the threat died as quickly as it began.

Plymouth finally solved the Trenton hurler in the seventh when it was too late. In the bottom of the final frame with their backs to the wall, the Rocks gained their two runs. Back-to-back three baggers by Clear and Jack Carter chased in one tally. Continued on Next Page

LINE DRIVE

By Mel Ott

A story in a national publication tells of an electronic "brain" which, when fed certain information pertaining to the abilities of major league baseball teams over the past three years, picked the Tigers to win the American League pennant.

The highly intricate machine picked Brooklyn in the National League, a more natural selection, but when doubters thought the machine had blown its fuse on the American League choice and fed it information again and again, the nod was always to the Tigers.

Curiously, the "brain" was 100 per cent correct on all four major league bowl selections last June 2, even calling the scores within a few points of the final figures.

No one in the Tiger organization, however, is putting that much stock in the "mechanical marvel" and predicting a pennant.

Human Factors Count
The Yankees, Indians, White Sox and Red Sox, the four teams that finished ahead of the Tigers last season, merely smile and point to more human factors than statistics, like power hitters, fast ball pitchers and strong reserves, all of which contribute mightily to winning ball games. They think they're lots more of them than the Tigers.

The experts, in fact, see Detroit doing no better than last year. They have some support for their appraisal in the team's dismal showing in spring training.

But where Manager Bucky Harris and his aides won't predict a pennant for the Tigers, neither do they expect to finish in the second division again this year. This is an honest conviction.

As one insider put it, "What do they expect us to do, lay down and play only as well as last year just because they expect it from us?"

The Tigers are confident that as the season wears on, their anticipated improvement in hitting and pitching will begin to tell and become a potent factor in the race. About their defensive abilities there is little question.

Mound Corps Strengthened
This writer, for one, is convinced that the Tigers are vastly improved in pitching. The trade that brought back Virgil Trucks and the increased skill of Frank Lary, Bill Hoft, Duke Maas and the rest, plus the prowess of such established veterans as Ned Garver and Steve Gromek, should help the team win many of the close ones that they had a habit of losing last year.

Coech Joe Gordon, who should know, feels that the team will have more punch at the plate and remain strong defensively. He looks for young Reno Bertoia to bat around .270 and hit 15 home runs if he plays at second base every day.

This would be a vast improvement over last season's results at the same position and could be the keynote for progress in the standings.

The Tigers' biggest problem is bench strength. If any of the regulars get hurt, look out.

Then after an out, Paul Cummings tripled sending home Carter.

With Cummings on third, Biff Tait scratched an infield hit that did not give Cummings a chance to score. The threat ended when Well's grounder to the shortstop sent Cummings home, where he was thrown out. With two men on bases and a slim chance left, Calhoun finished it when he flew out.

The game originally scheduled last Friday with Allen Park was postponed thereby giving the Rocks an extra full package this week. Monday Plymouth took on Redford Union. Wednesday Bentley provided the opposition and tomorrow afternoon Allen Park hosts the Rocks.

Burt Boyar IN NEW YORK

(Sammy Davis, Jr. and Jack Carter opened on Broadway in a new musical comedy "Mr. Wonderful." The drama critics thumbed their noses at it. They said it's not a fine play. They're right. But they forgot to mention that it's great entertainment. It's Broadway's Number One controversy. Can the public over-rule the experts? It looks like it will happen! Personally, we loved the show. Shortly after seeing it we met Sammy Davis, Jr., and Jack Carter for dinner.)

THE MESSRS. WONDERFUL!!! . . . SAMMY DAVIS JR. ordered a mixed green salad, broiled chicken and a side order of spaghetti and sipped a coke. . . . Jack Carter, Jane and I had sirlons. "Sure, we've had differences backstage," said Sammy, "but it's not like some of the things you read. It's something good. It's something that can only come when you're working with a cast of real pros. More than anything we want the show to be good, so when we get an idea we talk about it. Like I'll say to Jack, or he'll say to me, 'Whata matter with you? You did this all wrong, tonight.' Or something like that. Okay, so maybe for a few minutes one of our feelings suffers, but the show doesn't. And that's what we all care about. That's what's important. The show." . . . We had met for dinner at Sammy's "home" which is Danny's Hideaway. That's where he gets his "home" cooking every night, and all we can say is that lots of victims of baked beans cans should have it so good.

"ASIDE FROM the fact that Jack and I have a friendship that goes way back before 'Mr. Wonderful' and will continue way after it, it doesn't even make sense that we could have troubles backstage." He explained, "I know, if you have an 'Ah, Wilderness' book then you can hate the guts of the guy you're working onstage with and it won't matter 'cause the story's there, the lines are there. But, with us it's different. We're a musical. It's a happy show. It's all spirit. If we don't have that we don't have anything. . . . The critics made us feel pretty bad. It hurt. Not 'cause they rapped us, but WHY they rapped us. We never pretended to be 'My Fair Lady.' Ours is a loud, fun show. We never kidded ourselves. We're strictly for a good time. We want to entertain. And we do entertain. . . . Sammy added, almost philosophically, "It's like the old Variety joke. You know, where Variety covers a night club show and they say, 'So and so came on with ancient material, the usual stuff, been played a million times, did fair job, couldn't get off stage. Audience went wild.'"

JACK CARTER interrupted, chucking, "Hey, tell Burt about the woman at the matinee. . . . Sammy slapped the table and the two of them got hysterical. Jack explained, "Oh, it was great. Really great. It happened just this last Wednesday matinee. Sammy's introducing the cast for curtain calls and suddenly up pops this woman in about the eighth row. She's shouting at the top of her lungs, 'Hang the critics. Hang the critics.' . . . 'Well,' continued Carter, "she broke us up. The whole theatre was in an uproar. You never in your life saw anything like it. Fabulous, just fabulous." . . . We asked Sammy how "

The trip will be financed partly by troop funds and partly by individual members, money for which the Scouts hope to raise in bake sales and similar projects. The Safari includes round trip by bus from Detroit with overnights at hotels out and back, staying at cabins in Yellowstone, visits to Mammoth Hot Spring, Old Faithful, the canyon, Buffalo Bill scout camp in Cody and the annual Frontier Days rodeo in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

The Scouts will be accompanied on the trip by Troop Leader Mrs. A. M. Lawrence of Northville and three other adults. Their safari will close July 31.

Colonial Snack Shop Opens for Business

Newest addition to Plymouth's dining places is the Colonial Snack Shop, 575 South Lilley road, which was opened for business March 19. Open from 7 a.m. until 1 a.m., the Colonial is owned by Ducky Olds, a lifetime resident of Plymouth and the son of the late Kenyon "Doc" Olds.

Olds reported that he serves mainly breakfasts and sandwiches, specializing in cleanliness and quality. The building, 26 feet by 18 feet, was built by William Fehlig, local contractor. It is in keeping with the trend toward colonial styles in both exterior and interior appearances.

The interior consists of acoustical ceiling, marble chip floor, knotty cedar walls and a blending color combination of black, pink, green and gray. Included in the interior decorating are colonial styled light fixtures along other handsome accessories. The counters are entirely formica. The exterior is a cinder block brick front.

State Parties Square Off

Big battle of brains is developing over the "civic tours" by Democratic members of the State Administration Board. Republicans, who have no intention of ignoring these forays, are gleeful over their Kalamazoo results. This was the first of the Democrats "reports to the public." Republicans took radio and TV time earlier than the Democratic program to ask a series of questions. The step caught the Democrats unprepared. They had to handle the questions on a last minute basis, discarding their planned program. In fact, they were unable to secure a list of questions until their program was ready to start.

Both parties report enthusiasm over the outcome. Democrats say that Republicans are building up large audiences. Republicans say they are glad to do this because they can put across the "true" facts before more people. Democrats insist that the visits are non-political. They charge that the Republicans are forcing them into the realm of partisanship.

How is it that two members of the state ad board are not present to report to the public? This tour, say Democrat officials, is for the newly elected (last election) Democratic state officials—and the governor—to report their progress to the public.

"Most unusual" is the way Republican Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor described the tour. "Unless it is considered in terms of the fall election," he was quick to add. Mr. Taylor reported that he was not invited to join in the report of the people. He stated that his office reports each day to the people through regular news sources.

When asked if he would accept an invitation to join future tours, he replied he would like to look over "very carefully" the terms of an invitation.

"Absolutely they are not non-partisan," snorted Republican Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. He added he had not heard of the state's civic tours until he read about it in newspapers.

Mr. Ziegler stated flatly that any report about highways would most certainly be given more accurately if he were on hand to describe the situation. But he ventured he might be a little leery of joining such a reporting party under present circumstances.

Since more tours are planned, there are more opportunities for opposing party strategists to out-wit each other.

A civic report has three main ingredients:

1. The reporting party arrives in time for a large breakfast with local civic (no regard for party affiliation) leaders.
2. A radio or TV show of 15 to 30 minutes when Gov. Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Secretary of State, James M. Hare, Treasurer Sanford Brown, Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh and Auditor General Victor Targonski appear briefly.
3. An open public meeting with time allotted for questions from the audience.

Tentative schedule for future tours: Macomb County, May 2; Flint area, May 3; Oakland County, May 8; Traverse City, May 14; Bay City, May 18; Marquette, May 21; Cadillac, May 28. One thing is certain. The political aspects of the "non-political" reports to the public can stimulate loads of public interest—and could conceivably affect the voters frame of mind.

Wayne University has become a state institution. Its 18,000 metropolitan area students have been given the same prestige and financial backing in their search for knowledge enjoyed by those in other state colleges and universities.

The state is taking over the financial responsibility by one-third, with $3,239,000 this year, double that next year and the full budget when full control is achieved in 1960.

Two major problems still beset legislators despite their jubilation—and that in Detroit—at taking over Wayne.

First comes the financial question. Some legislators already are worried whether the budget can be balanced next year or whether the state will start writing bookkeeping entries in red ink.

With the difference between surplus and deficit ranging within a very few million dollars they fear the need for a new source of revenue.

Second, there is promised a fight in 1959 when the state expects to take over permanently over whether the three major universities—University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne—will be operated under a single board of control. That was the major battle in the legislature over the Wayne bills last year.

JOHN B. HYNES, mayor, Boston, Mass. "Things are moving so fast that the survival plans of up to six months ago are outmoded."

BERNIE CAMP, Nebraska Farm Bureau official: "The word 'outdated' is cold, connoting 'druggery' and 'servitude'. It should be banished."

TRAINER TROUBLES

Roger Babson

Hope for Future Lies in Small Business

Babson Park, Mass. I was recently asked what was the most important thing I had learned during my fifty years in active business. The answer is what New England's famous surgeon, Dr. William Warren Babson, once said to me: "Remember, Roger, that no two people are alike,—what's food for one may be poison for another and vice versa." This was brought home to me only recently when reading in the Reader's Digest an article praising aspirin for arthritis.

After finishing my reading of the Digest, I picked up an ENCYCLOPEDIA OF HEALTH, by J. J. Rodale of Emmaus, Pennsylvania, who has systematically collected what are recognized as the best opinions on a hundred physical ailments. This book lists aspirin as a very dangerous product, fifty million tablets of which are being consumed daily. I have great respect for Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Wallace, editors of the Reader's Digest, but I wonder if they realize the tremendous risk they run as their circulation becomes bigger? My purpose, therefore, this week is to further the urge of my friend Ernest Gaunt, and appeal for a subsidy to the small publisher, the small businessman, and the unknown genius. These may be the hope of America, and not "big business," which assumes all people are alike.

EDUCATION AND LABOR UNIONS After spending many years and millions of dollars educating "young people," I am convinced of the great importance of small colleges, small schools and classrooms. Figures may show that costs of so-called education may be decreased by consolidated schools, state universities, and other attempts at mass education. Having learned, however, that all young people are different and are entitled to different instruction, I have concluded that the solution is to teach young people to educate themselves. When the "do-it-yourself" movement extends to education, we will begin to get good results and at very much less expense.

WHAT ABOUT RELIGION AND INVESTMENT It seems too bad that Protestantism should be divided into 250 denominations. I have great respect for the Holy Catholic Church. I often wish there were some way that the Roman Church and these 250 Protestant denominations could be combined. On the other hand, if religion is largely a matter of Spirit and Emotions, the next great HORIZON may be the study and harnessing of these spiritual powers which are now so divided. I have learned that the world is ruled by feelings rather than by figures; and that we have not given proper consideration to the feelings of different people.

SMALL BUSINESSMEN SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED

Some day the small businessman will have to be helped by a subsidy of some kind, especially to use for advertising. There is a demand for every product which has ever been found useful. More candles are sold today than ever before; more hard wood is sold for fireplaces; horses and sulkeys for racing sell at higher prices today than ever. There are buyers awaiting every product and service, if the public only knew where to get them.

The right of the people to know is basic to the preservation of our freedom, and fundamental to our American way of life. The infringement of this right, whether by government or by groups, or by individuals, no matter in what small measure it may begin, will lead to tyranny and the death of liberty.

On Guiding Children

An expert recently explained that parents should set a thoughtful example to their children as far as their own mistakes are concerned. In other words, admit your mistakes to your children and do not play the role of the perfect human being.

The idea behind this advice is that you are not perfect and that, therefore, you are going to make mistakes. Therefore, when you step out of your car door into a manhole, or slam the window sash down on your fingers, your child will soon enough get the idea that you didn't plan it that way.

Remember that your child is also learning, and he or she is also making many mistakes daily. Therefore, a thoughtful attitude on your part and a frank admission to your children that you also make mistakes, but are trying to do better, will bring about a paralleling attitude among them.

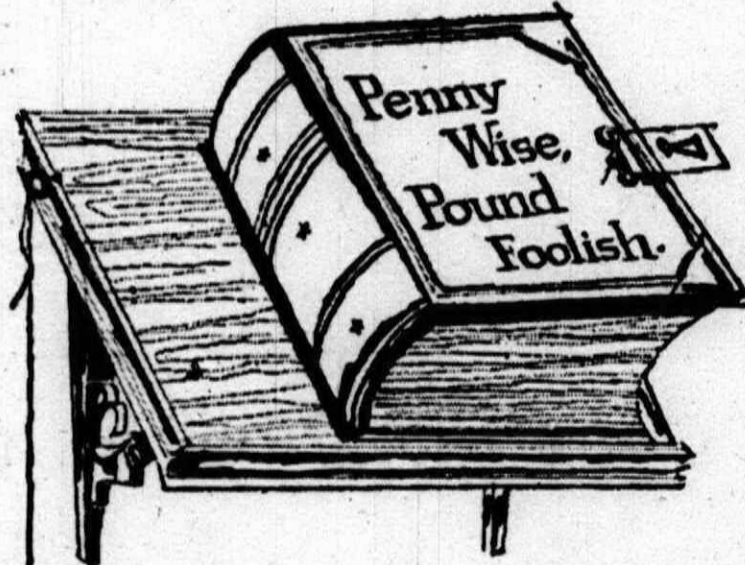

In other words, they will make mistakes and strive to do better themselves, and, more than that, both of you can laugh at each other's mistakes—as long as the person laughing at you doesn't laugh too much.

Quotes

JOHN W. FULTON, official, American Music Conference predicting 4-day work week by 1960: "Americans must learn to live in a society in which leisure time plays a more important role than working time."

DR. DWIGHT H. MURRAY, president-elect, American Medical Association: "We could salvage some of our most valuable business executives if we could get them to slow their pace from a gallop to a trot."

DR. W. W. FINLAY, business administration professor: "Man has a much greater capacity for inventing than for managing (the things invented)."

This proverb, a part of our language for three centuries, points up the danger of buying at a bargain price and discovering later that you have received only what you've paid for and sometimes not even that.

Certainly, it is absolutely true in the insurance field that you get what you pay for. Insurance is a science based upon unflinching statistics. Therefore, insurance which truly protects you is insurance against the hazards which you and your insurance agent believe to be a part of your circumstances and your daily activities.

To be "penny wise, pound foolish" in the matter of insurance is to be inadequately insured. You learn this, however, only AFTER you have a loss.

The facilities of this office are at your disposal for a cost-free analysis of your insurance position. Let us examine your policies and make sure that they are complete and fairly priced. We particularly urge this if you have ever purchased "bargain insurance" on your home or your car.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"There are several bills pending in Congress concerning pensions for war veterans. The V.F.W. wants pensions for just veterans of World War I while the American Legion proposes pensions for veterans of both World Wars. Do you believe veterans of these two wars should be granted old age pensions, regardless of need?"

STANLEY KAVA, 9811 Marlowe: "I don't know why not. I think it's a wonderful idea. If anyone deserves pensions, they do. Yes, I was in the Army during World War II."

FRED PATTON, 1017 Holbrook: "I'd say give the vets anything they've got coming and a little bit more. Pensions should be given to all, regardless of need, because it would be hard to draw the line. You would get a lot of loud noise from those not eligible and you would need committees of all kinds trying to determine who needed a pension."

Kava Patton Gooch Anderson

BURL GOOCH, 11191 McClumpha road: "Certainly. They deserve it. I think that the veterans did their duty when called upon and should be compensated for their time."

M. A. ANDERSON, Northville: "Naturally I would say yes. I receive a pension for disablement in World War II now, having lost the sight in one eye. I think World War I veterans deserve a pension even more than those of World War II because they had less medical attention and therefore did more suffering. Yes, they should give pensions to all veterans."

All eyes are on the "Chocolate Butter Cream Pie," favorite dessert of the Charles Ellis family, 45410 West Ann Arbor trail. Watching Mom as she starts the serving are (l to r.) Nancy, Dick, Polly and Chuck.

Ellis Family Recommends Delicious Pie

When four youngsters put the stamp of approval on a certain dish you can be sure it must have "something extra." Just so in the case of this "Chocolate Butter Cream Pie" which is undeniably the favorite of the Charles Ellis youngsters at 45410 West Ann Arbor trail. Mrs. Ellis recently put the question of the top dessert before the household and came up with the speedy and unanimous vote for this pie with its creamy smooth, nougat textured filling. A little on the rich side, the dessert is one not to be by-passed even if it comes to counting calories the morning after.

Here's the procedure for the Ellis youngsters' favorite which we're pretty sure will be yours, too, once you've tasted it!

Chocolate Butter Cream Pie
 1/2 cup butter
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 square (1 oz.) chocolate, melted and cooled
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 eggs
 Cream sugar gradually into butter. Blend in chocolate, add vanilla, then eggs, one at a time, and beat five minutes (medium speed on electric mixer) after each addition. Pour into cooled baked pie shell. Chill.

Here's Quiz to Reveal Wash-Day Efficiency

One of the greatest changes in the American home during recent years has been in the laundry equipment and cleaning products available to the average homemaker. The washboard and tub, the harsh soap, and to a certain extent, the clothes-line are no longer necessarily part of the back-breaking routine of "wash day". In their place, gleaming washers,

- dryers and ironers, coupled with the most advanced discoveries in the soap and detergent fields, have turned once dreaded chores into a comparative pleasure. Although great improvements have been made in equipment, some homemakers still cling to outmoded laundry habits. Test yourself with the questions below to establish your laundry knowledge and wash day efficiency:
1. Do you wash clothes more than once a week?
Yes No
 2. Do you use a detergent or soap especially designed for doing the laundry?
Yes No
 3. Do you purchase your laundry detergent in a large package?
Yes No
 4. Do you carefully read the instructions on a box of detergent before using?
Yes No
 5. Do you measure your detergent as recommended by the manufacturer?
Yes No
 6. Do you know that with slightly or moderately hard water, detergents usually make a water softener unnecessary?
Yes No
 7. Do you do your mending before washing to avoid musing freshly ironed clothes and to escape possible greater damage in your washing machine?
Yes No
 8. When planning to do several machine loads in a day, do you launder the pieces to be ironed first, so you can be ironing while the "rough dries" wash?
Yes No
 9. Do you have a table or counter of the proper height in your laundry room for storing, stacking ironed clothes, removing stubborn stains, etc?
Yes No
 10. Is your laundry room also well-planned as a family room so that it may be used for other purposes during the week—as well as tempting members of the household to keep you company as you work?

Yes No
If your answer to six or more of the above questions is "Yes," chances are that you are a fairly up-to-date homemaker, who no longer dreads the sight of a hamper full of soiled clothes. If you have answered "Yes" to less than six questions, perhaps you had better look into your laundry habits—you may find that you are making unnecessary work for yourself by not making proper use of the latest in wash day equipment.

Quick 'n Easy Bread For Morning Menu

Breakfast Cake
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg
½ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
½ cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Melt butter, cool slightly and mix with egg and milk. Sift flour, ½ cup sugar, baking powder and salt together several times. Pour the liquid ingredients into the sifted dry ingredients. Stir only long enough to smooth out the lumps. Pour into a greased 8 inch square pan. Mix 2 tablespoons sugar with ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Sprinkle over unbaked breakfast cake. Bake in an oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes.

When broiling meat, slash the edges of the fat on the meat in several places to prevent it from curling.

High Fashion Styles Reflect Era of "Roaring Twenties"

History is repeating itself in milady's fashions. The straight-line styles of the "roaring twenties" are very much back in the picture today.
Fashion magazines are sporting the straight dress line with almost no waist which is loosely fitting and the hip-length boxy jackets. Also reminiscent of the twenties, points out textiles and clothing specialists, is the idea of the ensemble such as a dress with a coat or jacket.
The trend is also making popular the wrap-around coat which in the 1920's was often fastened with one large loop at the hip level. Along with the straight slim style are the short hair cuts and the posture referred to in the twenties as the debutante slouch. This posture is today seen largely only in the high fashion magazines.
Helmet-looking hats and clothes which were also popular thirty years ago have been good style for the past couple years, say the authorities.
One difference in the two eras is the type of materials used. Today we are very conscious of textures and the vast variety of new fabrics; in the twenties, dresses were mostly silk and wool crepe, chiffon, georgette and broadcloth.
Why this trend back to the styles of 30 years ago? The experts explain that this trend is really quite unusual. Most fashions have gone in cycles, they point out; that is until the late 1930's. Then, fashions were dictated by the war. But, it is not time for styles to go back to the

Will You be a Skyrocket?

Or will you play safe? Home dry-cleaning is dangerous because: A pint of gasoline or cleaners' naphtha has the latent destructive power of a pound of dynamite. Most of the inflammable cleaning fluids sold today are gasoline or cleaners' naphtha. Fumes escaping from stored inflammable cleaning fluids may reach an explosive concentration. The friction created by rubbing a garment is often sufficient to produce a static spark that may cause an inflammable product to explode. The daily record of fires and deaths due to home drycleaning demonstrates the hazard of this practice.

Don't play with dynamite!
Let the drycleaner do your drycleaning. He has the special equipment and skilled workers necessary to thoroughly clean your garments, remove tenacious spots and stains, and reshape and finish them to their new-like appearance.

Springtime comes and springtime goes, of course—but the thrill of his Cadillac will go on and on—month after month and year after year.
And what a thrill it is!
First, there's the sheer satisfaction of owning the "Standard of the World"—the undisputed leader in all that makes a motor car a joy to possess and a pleasure to utilize.

The first cost of a Cadillac is surprisingly modest—upkeep, over the years, is unbelievably low—and operating costs rival those of any car.

And now, in all modesty, may we speak of one other satisfaction he enjoys as a Cadillac owner?
We believe that, throughout the years of his ownership, he will be as pleased with us, as his dealer, as he is with the wonderful car itself. It is our constant endeavor to treat our customers as they are entitled to be treated as owners of the world's most distinguished car.
Why not come in some day quite soon—take a demonstration drive at the wheel—and arrange to greet the spring in a Cadillac of your own?
We think you'll be surprised and delighted to learn how much your present car is worth in trade—and to find how quickly you can obtain delivery on the Cadillac of your choice.

Compact Desk With Its Own Lighted Shelf Is Product of Handyman's Workshop

So you've always wanted to try your hand at building something? Well then get out your carpenter's rule and saw and build one of these compact little desks. Lighting concealed in the useful shelf above is designed in accordance with General Electric light-conditioning recipes.

Whoever said you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear obviously hadn't seen the clever built-in desk pictured above.

Not long ago, friends of mine decided to use one of their bedrooms for a hobby room. High on their list of purposes which the room must accomplish was that it must have a "place-to-figure."

Well, obviously, the place to figure is at a desk. However, ready-made desks that harmonized with knotty pine walls all seemed too over-sized for the tiny corner where they hoped to work in a desk.

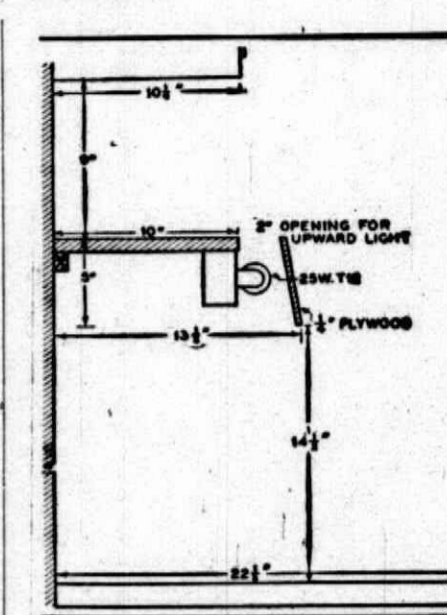

Before the choice of ready-made desks was narrowed down, the man of the house decided to make his own. Nothing fancy—just a set of drawers flush against the wall on one side and a flat top, covered with linoleum and a curved corner.

Then he hung double curbs of knotty pine above it. Even in its very earliest stages this unique desk arrangement seemed to call for something special by way of lighting.

And, that's where I come in mighty handy to my friends sometimes. Just when they expected me to suggest a pair of wall lamps hung 30 inches apart as specified in one of the light-conditioning recipes, I surprised them with the lighted shelf idea.

The shelf, built from scraps of knotty pine, concealed a 35-watt fluorescent tube behind its gently sloping front return.

As shown in the "how-to" drawing inset above, a two-inch opening above the fluorescent tube allows generous upward lighting for added eye comfort and visual interest.

When duplicating this lighted desk follow measurements exactly to assure all the light you need for close work at your desk. It is extra wide, between nine and 11 inches, for extra convenience and also to bring the fluorescent lamp far enough forward to eliminate annoying reflections.

For longer areas, use a 40-watt fluorescent tube which is 48 inches long.

To protect their brightly-painted crafts and keep them safe, fishermen paint dragons "eyes" on the prows of their vessels to enable them to "see" their way through hazardous waters and shallow reefs.

BUILDING and REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

New Package Program Will Simplify Your Remodeling Plans

A "package" home remodeling program is now being promoted by plumbing and heating contractors to simplify modernization projects and make it easier to pay for them in one complete installment plan.

Because a large percentage of home modernization costs are for plumbing and heating, The National Assn. of Plumbing Contractors with 12,000 members is organizing a system to include the services of carpenters, electricians, plasterers, painters and all the other trades involved in increasing the value and convenience of older houses.

The general objective is to arrange all financing for materials and labor on the installment plan, to give the homeowner a guide in solving his individual modernization problem and to guarantee the complete job.

Most home modernization projects can be classified under two major needs:

1. Replacement of worn out equipment with new or better units.
2. Expanding existing facilities to meet the needs of the family more effectively.

Replacing old units of equipment is comparatively simple. Meeting the needs of a growing or changing family requires much more planning.

Two Rooms in Limelight The reason the plumbing contractors are concerned is that the kitchen and bathrooms of a house bear the greatest burden of traffic and become the focal points of most modernization.

Most kitchens are so poorly arranged that the housewife is faced with constant annoyances.

Arrangements of cabinets and appliances should permit a smooth work flow. The three basic service areas—refrigerator, sink and range—have been found to be best located in a triangle, roughly equidistant and away from any main artery of house traffic.

Kitchen studies have shown that a refrigerator should be nearest to a rear or side service entrance to a house. This saves needless steps after shopping for food.

Importance of Counters Counter space running from the refrigerator to the sink should be opposite the hinge side of the refrigerator. You can get refrigerators with doors opening either from the right or left.

At the sink about 18 inches of counter space on each side in addition to the drainboard, is considered a minimum.

The last preparation center, the range area, has been found to be the most convenient when located near the entrance to the dining area. The range should be flanked by 15 to 24 inches of counter space.

BATHROOM IDEA

The all-tiled modern bathroom can be cleaned without effort in a matter of minutes. Because the tile's ceramic body is waterproof and impervious to standing, only a quick swish with a damp cloth or mop is necessary. Some homemakers have even thought of the idea of using a small shower hose to spray the entire room at one time, following with a dry cloth to polish up the tiles.

— NEWS — FOR EVERY HOME

To Enhance Beauty, Utility and Value Paint Inside and Outside of Your Home

For many homeowners, "Operation Home Improvement" will begin with a new paint job for the house.

Outside, as well as inside, fresh new paint color can do much to make the house look charming and pleasant. Good painting can either accent or minimize the architectural flaws or good points of a house.

In general light colors make a small house look larger. A house that has lots of old-fashioned detail can take on a more modern look by painting the trim and the house all one color.

If doors, windows and shutters are in good proportion to the house, they make a pleasing picture when painted with bright trim colors.

When it comes to improving your home and increasing its value, it's good to know that you can "up" its market value at least 12 per cent with a new coat of paint inside and outside. That is the careful estimate of real estate specialists. Furthermore, the clean, eye-delighting colors give you more pleasure and increased pride in your dwelling.

Mid-spring and fall are excellent times for painting the outside. When thermometer registers above 40 degrees—and you're reasonably sure that it will not go below that point after the paint is applied—it's safe to go ahead with outdoor painting. When temperatures go below 40 degrees, the paint coating may stay soft and collect soot.

It's important to apply paint under the proper conditions; to have all surfaces properly prepared so the new paint can give you the best possible service. If the surface is cracked and peeled... all the roughness will have to be carefully removed before the new coating can be applied.

It's also advisable to use products of the best quality—and especially devised for the surface on which you use them. Properly chosen and properly applied, they will give you the longest service, thus keeping your cost of annual "paint insurance" at a minimum.

Proper Tools Make Gardening Chores Easier And Much Less Tiring

After the long winter months—at last—Spring! And as the early bulbs begin to bloom—homeowners' thoughts turn to the many fix-up tasks ahead.

And—that encompasses the many chores attendant to gardening. It is important to put the "spade work" in as early as possible. Speaking of spade work, chores will go faster and easier with the proper tools at your command.

Some of the most important implements for spring gardening are long-handled shovels, hoes and spading forks.

Down-to-the-earth hand tools are trowels for general garden work, transplanting trowels, cultivators for weeding, mulching and cultivating. Multi-tined garden forks make it easier to break the sod before transplanting.

For reviving old lawns or putting in new ones, such labor-saving devices as seed and fertilizer spreaders, hand carts or wheelbarrows come in handy.

Such "growth promoters" as bone meal for bulbs... lime for lawns, peat moss, humus, rose foods, soil conditioners and root feeders are designed for specific purposes and should be used only upon qualified advice from nurseryman or garden expert.

Assorted pest sprays and easy-to-use sprayers help keep a garden growing well.

For hedges and light pruning tasks, there are available a wide variety of shears and clippers in electric and hand-operated types.

To keep lawns in a good condition, select from fine power or manual-type mowers, edgers and trimmers—many of them designed for either multi-purpose or specific tasks.

Plenty of garden hose and sprinklers for watering... plenty of "elbow grease" and application—these too—are important necessities to a more beautiful home garden.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

Everlastings, Source of Lovely Winter Bouquets

Everlasting flowers, which were favorites in grandmother's day, are returning to popularity. These are the blossoms so often seen in florists' windows in the autumn, arranged in bouquets of dazzling colors, for decorating the home during winter.

Although they are natural flowers, with beauty and delicacy of form which no artificial flower could equal, their beauty is un fading; and in a vase or bowl they will retain form and color as long as though they were artificial.

There are many varieties which have the ability to retain form and color when dried. This is a special quality, since the petals of most flowers turn brown and drop off as they age. Everlastings thus give two displays, one in the garden, where they are as beautiful as other flowers, and a second one in the home, where they last indefinitely.

Groups or small gardens of everlastings thus give double service, and will always attract special interest from garden visitors, who will welcome bouquets of these long lasting beauties.

The five varieties used in the garden which is illustrated, are among the finest everlastings. Helichrysum, sometimes called the straw flower, is the most popular, being a close cousin of the French immortelle. The plants grow vigorously, sometimes four feet tall, and the flowers will average two inches in diameter, under good culture. Colors include red, rose, salmon, gold and violet.

Gilia flowers are thimble shaped, one inch across, of lavender blue. Statice sinuata flowers are small, arranged along branching stems, in blue, white, rose and lavender. Gomphrena flowers resemble clover heads or strawberries in shape, up to an inch in diameter. The colors are chiefly in tones of red and orange. Acroclium flowers are daisy-like, averaging an inch in diameter, in pastel colors which include chamois, flesh pink and bright rose as well as white.

To dry everlasting flowers they should be cut before the centers open and hung up with blossoms down to dry in a dark closet. The foliage is stripped, and the flowers are not used in the room until cool weather comes, and the house heated. In an unheated house the stems may absorb water and become limp.

Boxelder Bugs Back Again After Wintertime Rest

Chances are good that you will find some of those little black and red bugs crawling about your home this spring known as boxelder bugs.

According to P. R. Biebesheimer, Wayne County agricultural agent, they like to stay over the winter in protected places and buildings. Since they do not feed in winter, they do no damage except to stain curtains, clothing and wallpaper.

Adult boxelder bugs are a half inch long, narrow, flat-topped and red and black. Young bugs are bright red. They prefer flowers and seed pods of female boxelder trees but will live on male boxelder, ash, maple and many fruit trees.

In the fall and spring, they appear in swarms or clusters on tree trunks and buildings. The best way to control the bug is to eliminate boxelder trees, especially the female trees, Biebesheimer states. If this is not possible, chemical treatment is partially effective.

The best spraying time is just after the young have hatched, in July, the agricultural agent claims. Young bugs will kill much easier than adults. You should spray the entire tree with four level tablespoons of 40 per cent wettable powder chlordane in one gallon of water (one pound in 25 gallons). Repeat in two weeks.

In the fall, it is recommended that spray be applied to tree trunks, walls, fences and openings into the house. The formula is 2½ teaspoons of 72 per cent chlordane emulsion in one gallon of water or six tablespoons of 18 per cent dieldrin emulsion in one gallon of spray. Dieldrin is preferred if available.

Tough Situation
A man went to a physician, complaining of prolonged headaches. The doctor told him to stop smoking.

"I have never used tobacco in any form."
"Well, then, stop drinking."
"I am a total abstainer."
"Late hours, then and fast women."

"I am always in bed by nine, I am a bachelor and live with my old maiden aunt. No, seriously what caused my headaches?"
"I don't know," said the balked doctor, "I guess your halo's pinching."

Know Mushrooms Before Hunting

Want to collect some succulent mushrooms to decorate a sizzling steak?

Chances are you can locate just what you want since Michigan can boast over a thousand different kinds of mushrooms growing wild in the woods, fields and bogs, says Alexander H. Smith, University of Michigan professor of botany.

"A word of warning. Always learn to know the species before you eat any of it. Never—but never—rely on any rule of thumb such as whether the cap peels or whether the gills are pink," the botanist warns. "All such rules are dangerous."

"You should learn to recognize both the edible and poisonous kinds," Professor Smith says. "Best way to do this is to obtain a book or pamphlet on the subject and acquaint yourself thoroughly with the general characters of the plants, and the terms used to describe them. Then apply this information to the specimens you collect."

"Try particularly," he adds, "to locate those which are highly recommended in your pamphlet and also those marked poisonous. After you have learned to recognize an edible species beyond any shadow of doubt, you can begin to think about eating it."

The University mycologist explains that mushrooms are seasonal in their fruiting habits. "By learning to recognize about a dozen edible species, you can collect wild mushrooms from about the middle of May almost to cold weather in the fall."

"I see you've advertised your saxophone for sale."
"Yes, I heard that my neighbor had bought a gun."

Sure starts a lot of Torque —

Buick Super 6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera, Model 5CR

even before you Switch the Pitch

Torque is for take-off—and there's plenty of it here.

You just apply a puny bit of pressure on the pedal—and you're off and away. Never has such quick acceleration been so smooth.

It's the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—and it gives a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

The second is for real zoom service. Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflo serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing—and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's Buick styling. Its flair and sweep alone have started many a conversation. On lines that are daring, but not reckless. On colors and interiors that are gay and stunning, but never garish.

And there's the Buick ride. Unlike any other. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screen you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels. And there are new stabilizers and a new torque tube, to snub out any swing or sway.

In short, there's so much excitement from stem to stern—in any Buick you can buy—that Buick owners have a whale of a lot to talk about.

So why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? Don't say you can't afford it until you hear us talk price. We're ready whenever you are.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

THIS MINIATURE CASTLE, complete with intricate moving parts and other realistic accompanying items, was built in four months by Donn Kelly, a 12-year-old sixth grader at Smith school. Donn (foreground) is shown here with two of his classmates who helped work on the model. They are Tom McGuffie (at left) and Philip Bender, both 12. Although Donn did most of the actual building of the castle, the model, with its backdrop of mountains and a tiny village, was a class project of all the members of Miss Kathryn Bock's room. Interesting features in the model include a working drawbridge, stained glass windows, a lighting system, a blacksmith shop and other tiny interior buildings.

Evans Earnings Sales Increase

Sales and earnings of Evans Products Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended March 31, 1956 were the highest for any three-month period in the history of the company, Edward S. Evans, Jr., president, reported. With the exception of finished lumber, all major products contributed to the rise.

Consolidated net sales for the three months ended March 31, 1956 were $10,242,615 as compared with $9,093,934 for the corresponding months of 1955. Profit before taxes amounted to $2,021,463 for the 1956 first quarter as compared with pre-tax earnings of $1,683,584 for the same period of the preceding year.

Consolidated net income, after Federal, State and Canadian taxes on income, totaled $1,075,065, equal to $1.26 per share on the 854,782 shares of common stock outstanding as of March 31. This compared with $991,284, or $1.16 per share a year earlier, calculated on the same basis.

Sales of the Railroad Loading & Equipment Division have increased and should remain at a satisfactory level during the second quarter, Evans said.

Truck heater and ventilating equipment volume is above that of the 1955 period. In view of the current rate of truck production, management believes that sales of these products during the second quarter should compare favorably with those of a year ago.

The 1956 sales of bicycles and velocipedes were slightly ahead of 1955, and indications are that second quarter sales will exceed those of the first quarter.

The increase in plywood sales in 1956 over those of the 1955 first quarter primarily reflects added volume contributed by the Vancouver, B. C. plant of the wholly-owned subsidiary, Evans Products Company, Limited, which began production in the latter half of the year 1955.

Volume of lumber and plywood for subsequent quarters will depend largely upon the rate of building construction, which is currently below that of a year ago.

"In view of anticipated volume for the company's many varied products, as well as of the continuing high level of general business and industrial activity," Evans said, "second quarter sales and earnings should remain good."

The distinguished service award of the Crusade for Freedom was presented to J. Addington Wagner, national commander of the American Legion. Wagner and the Legion were cited for "supporting the crusade's efforts to transmit the spirit of freedom to captive peoples." The Crusade supports Radio Free Europe Press.

Those in attendance at the Testimonial Banquet for Department Auxiliary President Viola Starkey on Saturday, April 28, at the Tuller hotel in Detroit were Ada Langmaid, Marie Thompson, Dorothy Koi and Fern Burleson, Oscar and Lena Hammond and Margaret Corey from Northville also attended.

Peter Trudell is hospitalized at Detroit Memorial Hospital. Cards may be sent to him there. Seventeenth District Commander Irving Geer is now up and around again.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank all who attended the Linen Party. It was a grand success and was for a worthy cause, as all proceeds go to the American Cancer Society. Thanks to the girls who helped.

Remember at our business meeting tonight the Essay Winners will receive their awards so let's have a good attendance. Our Essay winners have also won in district and has been sent on to Department and we wish them luck. State Senator John B. Swainson of the 18th district will be the guest speaker on Saturday, May 12 at the meeting of the state and national affairs committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be at the Mayflower hotel starting at 9:30 a.m. The general public is invited.

Senator Swainson, a resident of Redford, was elected to his post in 1954.

IT'S TORQUE THAT MAKES THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND!

... And the High-Torque Output of Oldsmobile's Famous Rocket Engine is Instantly Translated into Outstanding Performance at the Rear Wheels!

LET'S TALK TORQUE! In plain language, torque is "twist"—like turning a door knob. It's the force that makes the wheels go 'round.

So it follows . . . the more torque your engine has, the more go power your car has . . . the more getaway at the light . . . the more action on the open road!

That's why, when it comes to power, there's nothing like Oldsmobile's Rocket T-350 Engine—because the Rocket is torque TNT! Figures prove it: 350 pound-feet at 2800 rpm (340 pound-feet at 2400 rpm in "88" models).

OLDS CHASSIS IS ENGINEERED TO HANDLE HIGHER TORQUE!

Oldsmobile has the chassis to take Rocket torque . . . a skillfully engineered Oldsmobile chassis with an extra-sturdy, dynamically balanced drive shaft, and an extra-rigid frame that resists twisting and weaving.

What's more, the Rocket's got horsepower

—to spare! * And with Oldsmobile, it's high, usable horsepower . . . a by-product of engine design aimed straight at the wheels—design that translates horsepower into terrific torque at normal engine rpm's.

TOP TORQUE MEANS TIP-TOP PERFORMANCE!

The result is higher torque—silkier, responsive Rocket action. Touch the accelerator, ever so gently, you "go" . . . and we do mean "GO!" You thrill to smoother, swifter bursts of power in medium speed ranges—tip-top performance for everyday use—spectacular performance when you need it . . . when you want it.

Any way you look at it, you can't top the Rocket for thrills for the money—or for top return when it's time to trade. Stop by soon. Rocket 'round the block . . . or around the town if you like!

OLDSMOBILE'S ROCKET—a double winner in 1956 Mobilgas Economy Run. Get the feel of top horsepower, top torque in the engine that's an economy champion, too!

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED L. Brewer of 11637 Morgan returned recently from Pampa, Texas where they visited for one week with Mr. Brewer's father. While enroute the Brewers stayed at a motel in Richland, Missouri and found several discarded trading stamps had been left in the cabin. The oddity, of course, was that the stamps were Plymouth's own "Community Stamps".

FROM NEW SMYRNA Beach, Florida comes word that Stanley Corbett, former Plymouth electrical contractor, is recovering from a successful eye operation. Retired, Corbett now resides in Florida the year around.

TOP MAN in March among several hundred representatives of the Woodmen Accident and Life company who were February graduates of the company's special training course was Jerry Walsh, local district manager. Announcement of the citation was made by Fabe A. Mirto, southeastern agency manager and also a resident of Plymouth.

AMONG THOSE HONORED May 1 at Michigan State university for having all "A" academic averages was Kay F. Ingram, sophomore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingram of 248 Union street. Kay was one of 156 students saluted at a dinner given by University President John A. Hannah.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Try to do to others as you would have them do to you, and do not be discouraged if they sometimes fail.—Dickens.

Timpona Supports Rate Increase

Postmaster George Timpona this week joined fellow postal employees and many other Americans in declaring that postal rates should be raised to meet the yearly deficit of the Post Office department.

According to recent testimony before a congressional hearing, the postmaster noted, the present yearly postal deficit will be close to $500 million. Taxes to pay for this deficit come out of each paycheck in the form of withholding taxes.

As I understand it, various figures have shown that the average family's share of the postal deficit of half a billion dollars a year will be about $7. This is an estimated cost which must be borne by each of the 43.5 million families in the United States.

But if they are not raised, we will continue to pay $7 in taxes to help meet the postal deficit.

Although there must be many complications and arguments involved, the fundamental arithmetic should be obvious to anyone who has the responsibility of making ends meet for the family.

It seems to me that a postage rate increase not only is desirable, but is absolutely necessary in the interest of justice for the average taxpayer. Let those who use the mails the most pay the most!

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Lake and stream improvements totaling $378,833 for the 1956-57 fiscal year were approved by the Conservation Commission.

Significant in the over-all program is a greater emphasis on projects designed to improve warm-water fishing. Heretofore almost all of the Conservation Department's lake and stream work was geared to demands for improvement of stream fishing.

Next year's program calls for an expenditure of $50,000 in Lake development.

Bulk of the work however, will continue on development and maintenance of watersheds. Projects will include Pine Creek, Pilgrim and Sucker Rivers in the upper peninsula and the Manistee, White, Cedar and Little Manistee rivers in the lower peninsula.

In other action at its April meeting, the Commission approved acquisition of 80 acres of hunting land in the Fife Lake

State Forest, 27 acres in the Pigeon River State Forest, and 80 acres in the Houghton Lake State Forest. Acquisition of 637 acres in four game areas and 236 acres of additional parks lands also was approved.

Timber sales from nine state forests were approved. They include 53,000 cords of pulpwood and 319,000 board feet of sawlogs for a total of $61,155.

A half-mile stretch upstream from the mouth of the Boardman River was ordered closed to fishing during June to protect planted rainbow trout.

The Commission approved the leasing of the boat concession in the Pointe Mouillee State Game Area to Ed Lezotte who has operated the concession for the past ten years.

Purchase of approximately five acres for a public fishing site on Engman's Lake in Marquette County was approved.

The Conservation Commission approved the setting aside of several parcels of land in the Houghton Lake State Forest for management of prairie chickens in an attempt to reverse the downward trend among these game birds.

The parcels would vary from 40 to 120 acres and would be located in eastern Missaukee county. Total acreage probably would not exceed 500.

At its April meeting, the Commission also approved expenditure of $750 for development of a wildlife flooding project in the Haymarsh state game area, Mecosta county.

The Conservation Department's geological survey offices in the upper peninsula are now located in the new state office building at Escanaba.

Arthur E. Slaughter, geologist at Escanaba, says information pertaining to geology matters can be obtained at room 203 of the new office building, Ludington avenue and Fourth street.

U. P. geology headquarters formerly were located in the Webster Annex in Escanaba.

The first severe fire losses of Michigan's critical spring forest fire season were reported last week as 60 fires damaged 928 acres of public and private forests and grasslands.

Prior to last week's fires, only 127 acres had been burned this year.

Hardest hit during the last week was district 12, which includes the extreme southeastern part of Michigan and the thumb area. Eleven fires in the district damaged 458 acres.

Fires damaged 592 acres in the southern half of the lower peninsula, 191 acres in the northern lower peninsula and 145 acres in the upper peninsula.

Michigan sportsmen turned out in force April 15 for their annual inspection of deer conditions in northern parts of the state.

Some 450 persons, including sportsmen, outdoor writers, photographers and other interested persons, took part in inspection tours of Grayling, Mio, Baldwin and Manistee.

The inspection tours, requested by sportsmen, offered a first hand look at the effects of winter on the state's deer herd. Conservation Department workers pointed out and explained the effect and extent of deer browsing.

Dead deer were autopsied and sportsmen were shown how starvation losses are identified.

Most persons on the tours expressed concern over range conditions in the more critical areas where over-browsing and deer starvation were noted.

Conservation Department photographers were on hand to film tours for the Department's weekly television show and private photographers also took pictures for newspaper and television use.

National Legion Head to Address 17th District Banquet in Livonia

J. Addington Wagner, national commander of The American Legion and an attorney-at-law in Battle Creek, will be the guest of honor at a testimonial banquet sponsored by the 17th District Association of The American Legion on Thursday, May 10th at the Bentley high school auditorium in Livonia.

Commander Wagner has had a colorful career, beginning with his high school days when he captained the swimming team to state championship in 1931-1932. He attended Hillsdale college for three years and graduated from Law School at Washington and Lee. He was commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Navy in 1942 and after serving in the Pacific, was discharged as a Lt. Commander. Earlier this year, he was elevated to the rank of Commander.

Commander Wagner has held many offices and chairmanships in The American Legion, chiefly Post Commander of Custer Post in Battle Creek in 1947-48. Department Commander in 1950-51 and National Americanism Chairman in 1954.

Banquet Chairman, Oscar Hammond of Northville states that anyone wishing to make ticket reservations may do so by contacting the commander of their local Legion Post or by writing or calling George Shannon, 16945 Burt road, Detroit 19, phone Kenwood 1-7525. More than 500 are expected to attend and ticket reservations are on a first come-first serve basis.

Miller, 287 Arthur street, Miller not only heads the district which covers Macomb, Oakland, Wayne, Washtenaw, Monroe and Lenawee counties, but is also national chairman of the Clubs council which directs activities of the 260 U of M Alumni clubs spread all over the world.

Also attending today's conference are Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister of the board of governors, Clifford E. Fishbeck, 4080 Berry road, and George M. Chute, 546 Garfield.

Regents and other officials of the university will be in attendance at today's meetings. Subjects for discussion at this year's conference is "The Public Relations of our University."

Auxiliary Urges Reserve Service

Young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ should investigate the opportunities offered by the Reserve Force of 1955. Mrs. Melva Gardner, National Security chairman of the Passage-Gayle Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, told the unit at its last meeting.

Under this act, she explained, they can discharge their military liabilities by taking six month's active training and spending seven and one-half years in the Reserves.

"This new concept of service offers opportunity for a young man to start his military service early, serve most of it at home and minimize its disruption of his civilian career," she said. "As most young men of this age are still in high school, the law permits those who enlist to finish school before taking the six months of active training. If war should come, every young man, trained or untrained, would face the prospect of fighting in it. Those trained would have a much better chance of coming back unharmed."

Social Security Question Column

Readers may send their social security questions to the Plymouth Mail. The full name and address should be included, and the initials will be used for those answered in this column.

Letters are answered through the cooperation of the Mail and the social security district office at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan. All letters will be treated confidentially.

1. I worked for the railroad for 3½ years. I'll soon be ready to draw social security. Will I get a pension from the railroad? I heard that I won't but what happens to all the money I paid in? D. O. A.

Answer: If your railroad service was after 1936, the railroad compensation can be used with all your other wages in determining your social security benefit.

2. My husband died recently and I have taken over the business and expect to keep running it. Will I need a new social security number or will I use his? We always filed a joint return. E. A. W.

Answer: If you are in business for yourself you will need your own social security number. You may apply for a number at any social security office. If you have had your own social security card from some previous employment you will use the number you had.

3. I have had an estimate on how much social security I will get when I'm 65. Is there any way I can find out how this is figured? S. S. L.

Answer: You may contact the social security office for this information or ask for the free booklet No. 35 which explains how to estimate your payment.

Publicity is a dangerous habit, some people make fools of themselves over a little bit of it. There is nothing wrong with the motion picture industry that good pictures will not correct.
