

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER.

LAST WEEK in these columns Sterling Eaton explained the reasons why he had sold two of Wayne County's finest community newspapers. It is proper now that the new publisher outlines the thinking which he brings to the community.

It is well understood that the transfer of a newspaper is considerably more than a naked business transaction. It is the transfer of a trust. A newspaper is an absolutely indispensable service organization—it informs its people and it sells goods for its businessmen. It has the responsibility of telling the truth, regardless of how it might affect the annual balance sheet. An ethical newspaperman comes to a community dedicated to the idea that he will serve it in the best way he knows how. To anyone trained in journalism, that kind of work is an exhilarating and satisfying way of life. . . it is its own reward.

We embark on the job with that idea firmly in our heads.

In the particular case of Plymouth and Livonia at this moment, there is an additional thrill contained in operating the newspapers. Our communities are growing so rapidly that only agile minds are able to grasp the vastness of the thing. The steady rumble of the moving vans toward the suburbs is the most amazing social movement of the current era. Whole social units—with government, schools, homes, streets, sewers, stores, parks, and all the rest—are rising overnight on what before had been flat acreage. In some ways, there is a pioneer feel to the trend not unlike that of the infant days of our nation when the forefathers pounded westward, ultimately stopping to stake out the main street of their new home town.

The challenge of Plymouth and Livonia's growth today we take as our own. We are going to provide newspapers—growing newspapers—worthy of the citizens of these cities.

SO WHAT, specifically, is the policy?

It is to cram our newspapers, from front to back, with LOCAL news, news that no other paper or journal possibly can provide for our readers, but for which they hunger. Our readers desperately want to know what is happening in their school board, who is being married, who died, where the new pavement will be laid, how much taxes are rising, where the playgrounds will be located, how the city officials are behaving in office and who's running for office. . . and on and on. The desire for such information is most acute in the minds of these who only recently have moved to a strange place, one to which they wish to belong in every sense and as quickly as possible.

As a corollary, we aren't going to be much concerned with the events beyond our city limits, including politics. Others have those areas as their responsibility. In advertising, we have the weapons to help OUR advertisers in the earning of profits. This is their newspaper, going to the customers located closest to them, and mutually we are bound with one another. A community newspaper is a trusted messenger—an advertiser who places his message therein automatically gains intimate contact and personal confidence from his most logical customers.

Inevitably, the question arises about the publisher's politics. We are independent, in the purest sense of the word. We'll select our candidates as they come along. We are not pre-committed to persons or labels. But, fear not, there will be no fence-straddling.

AND NOW, let's let the mood go more jaunty.

We call your attention, and would like to put in a plug for, the announcement of Sterling Eaton which appears in this issue. He's running for his dad's old seat in the State legislature and if there's anybody who knows more about this area, or can be more trusted as a dogged representative, we haven't heard of him.

There are a couple of stories in this week's LIVONIAN which we take particular pride in playing up big on page one of our first edition. One tells (with pictures) the first real details of what might go into the big Livonia civic center that we've all heard discussed before, but heretofore only in the abstract. As a part of that, there are a couple of brand new stories about the plans for city playgrounds, which have a keen news interest for anyone with kids. Plus that, there is the first announcement by Kroger (a scoop in the Livonian) of a huge multi-million dollar warehouse that firm is about to raise on Middlebelt across from the race course.

We will close this narrative (as Alfred Hitchcock might say on TV) with an absorbing commercial message. When the new editor was examining the housing problem in Plymouth, he gave some thought at one time to renting a home. Though assured this was well-nigh impossible, because of shortage, he inserted a routine classified ad in the Mail. The response, was amazing—fourteen different phone calls, the first of them at 8:05 on the very morning of publication. The editor had purchased a home and never was able to take advantage of the offers.

But he's convinced that more people ought to be using these classified ads in the Mail and Livonian. They work, even in tough situations.

School Board Approves Teacher Salary Increases

Salary increases for the teaching staff of the Plymouth Community schools providing a maximum of $6,650 a year were approved by the board of education at a special meeting Monday night.

The finance committee of the Plymouth Education association and the school board have had several meetings to discuss pay hikes for the 1956-57 school year. The "compromise" salary schedule approved Monday night will probably be considered at a future meeting of the teachers' group.

Starting salary for a teacher holding a bachelor degree is now $4,000 a year, including $200 in supplemental pay granted by the state during this year only. Holder of a master degree receives a starting pay of $4,200. For those having nine or more years of service, the A. B. degree holder gets $6,000 and the M. A. degree holder receives $6,200.

The proposed schedule would enlarge differential between bachelor and master degree holders from $700 to $300. Starting salary (Continued on Page 8)

THE MAIL IS HOME OWNED — COMPLETELY PUBLISHED IN PLYMOUTH — BY PLYMOUTHITES — FOR PLYMOUTHITES

Mom Honors Go To Mrs. Minehart

Because 11-year-old Maureen Minehart knows her mother "is here when I need her," Mrs. Ralph Minehart, 90 Brush street, won the title of Plymouth's Mother of the Year for 1956 in the annual local Chamber of Commerce sponsored event.

Judged best was Maureen's entry, one of 57, which thereby showered her mother with an array of 31 various prizes from Plymouth stores. For her efforts Maureen will receive a $25 savings bond.

Maureen's complete entry was: "She is here when I need her. She helps me in my school work. She makes most of my clothes and even cuts my hair." Thus Mrs. Minehart becomes the third Plymouth Mother of the Year since the contest was originated in 1954.

A sixth grade pupil at Smith elementary school, Maureen had not entered the previous two Mother of the Year contests. She has two younger brothers who also tried their hand at the contest. They are Lee, 10, and Larry, 9.

Maureen plans to either save the bond or cash it and split the winnings with her brothers whom she defeated. Said Maureen on her success: "I couldn't believe it. I was very happy."

Mrs. Minehart, a life-long resident of Plymouth, had similar words on being judged the top Plymouth Mom of 1956. She added, "I feel pretty lucky." Mrs. Minehart explained that it was

City Appoints Group to Lead Airport Movement

A committee to lead the city's effort to purchase and expand Mettetal airport was appointed by the city commission Monday with Commissioner Harold Guenther being named chairman.

The appointment was the commission's first official recognition that they are interested in purchasing the privately-owned airport in Canton township. All work and talk until now has been between a few commissioners and a group of air-minded citizens.

Being asked to serve with Guenther are Commissioner Robert Sincock, Mrs. Lois Jensen, David Wood, Austin Pino, Ezra Rountner, Robert Nulty, Robert Mettetal, Frank Lodge, Donald Burleson, John McDonald and Art Myers.

A report on the April 30 meeting (reported in last week's Mail) was given by Nulty, who served as temporary chairman of the group.

The city would like to purchase the airport and expand it mainly for executive-type planes. Estimated cost of the purchase and reconstruction would be $683,000, of which the city's share would be $294,000 while the state and federal governments would provide the rest.

Kroger to Construct Livonia Food Center

Plans to construct the world's largest food distribution center in Livonia were revealed today by the Kroger company. The announcement was made by C. Olaf Talla, Detroit area general manager.

The huge center will be located on Middlebelt road between Schoolcraft and the C and O railroad. Construction will begin this summer.

The building will include general offices as well as "Michigan's largest bakery". Talla stated. The announcement also revealed plans for 80 new stores to be built in the next 46 months in southeastern Michigan by the national food store chain.

Infant Recovering from Accident Fatal to Family

The lone survivor of one of the Plymouth area's most violent auto crashes in recent years was reported out of critical condition yesterday afternoon at Wayne County General hospital.

Eighteen-month-old Sharon Kaplan, whose parents and baby brother were killed when their car struck a railroad bridge abutment on Ann Arbor road, was taken off the critical list yesterday and appears to be recovering, hospital authorities reported.

Killed were Frank A. Kaplan, 36, of 2735 Ridgeton, Detroit, his wife, Ann, 35, and son Leslie, 8 months.

There were no witnesses to the accident which occurred at 4:43 a.m., but several were able to describe the horror of the scene afterwards. It had been reported by relatives that the family had left early yesterday morning for a trip to visit relatives in the west, but sheriff's deputies said that the car was headed east when it struck the southwest corner of the abutment near the Elks home.

Kaplan, employed as a salesman for the Merchandise Mart's Detroit office, was thrown from the car while his wife and son Leslie were found inside. Sharon was thrown over 100 feet across the road to an embankment and was not found until she cried out.

George Schoeneman of the Plymouth fire department was called with the emergency truck to use an acetylene torch to cut away wreckage from around Mrs. Kaplan. With clothing strewn within the flattened car, it was considered too risky and the body later removed without the torch. Schoeneman then searched under a seat and through some clothing and found the youngest

Optimists Donate $300

City commissioners accepted a $300 donation Monday night from the Optimist club for use in purchasing equipment for a playground at Auburn and Junction streets.

With the money, a tot swing, swing set, and tot climber is expected to be purchased. The club is also furnishing a sandbox and in the future wants to donate money for a slide, and two picnic tables.

State Senator Speaks Before Chamber Saturday

Final arrangements have been made for an appearance of State Senator John B. Swainson before the state and national affairs committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. The announcement was made at the Mayflower hotel this Saturday at 9:30 a.m., is open to the public.

Swainson was elected to the state senate in 1954 and has been a solid supporter of Governor Williams' program.

City Sewer Gets Okay By County

Plymouth city has once again been given the green light by the Wayne County Road commission to move ahead with plans for a $600,000 sewer system for the southern third of the city.

A roadblock had been placed in the way of the sewer last month when Sanitary Engineer A. T. Kunze told local officials that he would not give approval to the plans unless there was a merger of city with water and sewer authority pumping facilities.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that City Attorney Harry Devo and consulting engineer Herald Hamill have met with Kunze several times to iron out the difficulty. As a result, a letter has been received here that Kunze sent to the Michigan Department of Health accompanying sewer plans.

Wall Wire Purchased By Tennessee Firm

Wall Wire Products company, employer of 175 office and shop personnel, has announced the sale of its equipment and machinery to a Newport, Tennessee firm.

Announcement of the sale was made simultaneously in Plymouth last Friday by John Goble, Wall Wire president, and in Tennessee by M. M. Bullard, president of Bullard Industries, Inc., the purchasers.

City Sewer Will Cut Production Slowly As Machines are Moved South

Wall Wire will continue to be responsible for the engineering and sales for Bullard and will maintain its offices at 1333 General drive as distributors of metal products. Production executives will become Bullard employees and will move to Newport.

Transfer of machinery and equipment to Tennessee will be gradual and employment here is expected to be maintained "for some time," according to the announcement.

Sterling Eaton Entering State Legislature Race

Petitions were in circulation today for Sterling Eaton, former publisher of The Plymouth Mail and The Livonian, as a candidate for the Michigan State Legislature.

In making his announcement, Eaton said he would like to recapture for the Republicans the seat in the Legislature that his father, the late Elton Eaton, "held so long and so honorably."

Eaton's statement said: "No one is better qualified to serve and no one knows the problems of this area better than I. This is probably the fastest growing section of America. There are problems for giant industry, small business and for the average man. I have been of service to them all."

"My 30-year record of performance in this area and its development is the platform upon which I stand. I am determined to continue to serve in one capacity or another. My past activities are proof that I am ready to aid any and all groups if it is of benefit for the overall area."

"This is my first serious political endeavor. I wish to continue to be of service to you and everyone else in this, the 21st legislative district, and I honestly believe you can cast your vote for me knowing that I will do that which is best for the majority of the people I would serve."

The candidate just last week sold the two newspapers. He has become the first to publicly toss his hat into the 21st district ring this year. No word has been heard from Leonard E. Wood, the present state representative, who was elected on the Republican ticket in 1954 but last year switched parties.

The letter states that he gives his approval to the plans with the condition that the pumps be changed from 1,000 gallons per minute to 500-gallons per minute and that as soon as a new trunk sewer outlet through the Tonquish Creek valley is available, the pumping station will be eliminated and a connection made to the new trunk.

Glassford told commissioners Monday night that the city is now free to again proceed with construction plans. Advertisements asking for bids will be run in about two weeks.

Several commissioners were angered by Kunze's first demands. They raised the question of how the city could merge its pumping station and outlet with the sewer and water authority's system when they have no system? The city intends to empty its sewerage into the Wayne County Interceptor at the foot of Park Entrance drive while the Plymouth and Canton township system would enter the interceptor a mile away, at the western end of Newburg lake.

Calvary Baptist Wedding Unites Ora Jean Nichols, Alfred Beaster

ing Ora Jean Nichols and Alfred A. Beaster.

Ora Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Nichols of Kellogg street, Plymouth, and the Anthony Beasters of Kingford, Michigan, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves extending to points over the wrists. The embroidered net skirt fell gracefully over a satin underskirt. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a crown of seedpearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with three white gardenias.

Miss Jeanette Beaster, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her lavender net gown was strapless with matching jacket and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Phyllis Gothe, niece of the bride, served as flower girl and wore a pink taffeta gown and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Salem School Districts Take Annexation Appeal to Chamber

Representatives from two Salem township school districts will meet with the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce next Monday to tell the story of why their districts should be annexed to the Plymouth Community School district.

Lapham School district No. 6 and South Salem Rock district No. 3, both operating one room schools, will have residents attending the meeting to explain why they consider their districts part of the Plymouth community. Lapham district submitted a petition to the local board last year asking for annexation, but Plymouth board members shelved it by announcing that they would not consider any more petitions at that time.

South Salem Rock district is located west of Lapham district, thus making it necessary for the Lapham district to be annexed first. Rock district board members have indicated that they favor annexation to the South Lyon district, but a spokesman for a citizens group said that the majority of residents favor annexation to the Plymouth schools.

"We are not in a great hurry about this," a Rock district spokesman said. "We're willing to wait."

Surveys have been made in both districts to point out that their people consider themselves a part of the Plymouth community. (The local school board has considered annexations on previous occasions based on how much the citizens participate in the Plymouth community.)

For instance, the survey shows that of the 64 families living in Lapham district, 95 per cent shop principally in Plymouth, 66 per cent take the Plymouth Mail, 75 per cent bank here and 38 per cent attend church here. Over half the families have school age and pre-school children.

Similar statistics are being shown by South Lyon Rock district people.

The one-room buildings take care of children up to the sixth grade while junior and senior high school students attend in Plymouth on a tuition basis.

Former Plymouthite, Kiwanian No. 2, Dies

A former resident of Plymouth, George Haas, died Sunday at his home in Miami, Florida.

Mr. Haas was well known as the number two member of Kiwanis International. He was a member of the first Kiwanis club, which was organized in Detroit. He joined the Plymouth club in the early 1940's when he moved to 243 North Main street. An architect, Mr. Haas maintained his friendships in Plymouth and visited the local Kiwanis club last year.

Busha-Gyde Speak Vows In Presbyterian Church

In one of the loveliest of early spring weddings, Sally Lee Gyde repeated her nuptial vows to Gale Busha. The service was read by the Reverend Henry Walch at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, May 5, in the First Presbyterian church, Plymouth.

Organist for the service was Fred C. Nelson. Soloist was Nat Sibbold who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Large baskets of white snapdragons, mums and gladioli and rows of lighted tapers formed a setting for the candlelight service.

Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gyde of Joy road and her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Busha of Beech street.

Sally, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a floorlength gown of white lace and nylon tulle. The bodice was of tulle with cap sleeves and sweetheart neckline over lace and the full skirt of tulle over satin had a wide band of the lace around the hemline. Her headpiece of the tulle and seedpearls held in place her fingertip length veil of illusion and she carried a spray of white carnations centered with a large white orchid. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of her bridegroom. Miss Patsy Gyde, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of white organdy in ballerina length embroidered in pink and wide pink satin sash with streamers extending to the hemline. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a spray of pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Schaufele and Miss Ardith Bassett. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor in light blue and they wore matching blue hats and carried cascades of blue carnations.

Gale asked his brother, Clifford Busha, to serve him as best man. Ushers were Patrick Robinson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and David Gyde, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Gyde wore a light blue silk dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Busha selected light blue crepe. Both mothers wore pink carnation corsages.

Following the wedding a reception for 250 was held at the Odd Fellow hall. Guests attended from California, Jackson, South Lyon, Pinckney, Detroit, Saline, Ann Arbor, Salem, Livonia and Plymouth.

Both Gale and his bride are graduates of Plymouth High school. They will make their

6 Plymouth Area Youths Held on Morals Charge

Six Plymouth area youths have been arrested on warrants issued by the county prosecutor's office charging them with a statutory rape of a 14-year-old Plymouth girl.

One of the boys is 17 years of age, one is 19 and the remainder 18 years old. They were arrested by Plymouth police and turned over to Wayne County sheriff's detectives.

The alleged act took place last Saturday, May 5, in the Canton township home of one of the boys. An attorney has been retained for their defense and they have made no admissions, detectives said.

Municipal Judge Nardino Perlongo will arraign the youths. Three of the boys live in the city, two in Plymouth township and one in Canton township.

Elks to Hold Installation Ball

The Plymouth Elks No. 1780 will be host to the officers, members and their wives at the annual Officer's Installation Ball Saturday at the Elks hall on Ann Arbor road. Music for dancing will be played by Don Barnard's orchestra. During the ball special recognition will be given to the mothers in attendance in observance of Mother's Day.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest and youngest mothers present, and for the mother with the most children. Tickets will be available at the hall.

The Elks also will sponsor a Father and Son banquet Thursday, May 17. Fred Huber of the Detroit Red Wings will show films of the Red Wing games of the past season.

Burroughs Gives No Reply To Petition

A spokesman for the Burroughs corporation announced yesterday that the company "will have no further statement to make at this time" concerning the petition filed by the city last week to annex the Burroughs Plymouth plant.

News that a petition had been filed to annex more Plymouth township land, including Burroughs, again stirred up the proverbial "hornet's nest" last week. Charges of "land grab" were made against the city and talk about incorporating the township into the city of Charleston was again heard.

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors will not get a look at the petition until next month. It must be filed with the clerk 30 days before being placed on the agenda. The board will then undoubtedly follow its usual practice and turn the petition over to the ways and means committee for study, which will in turn give the petition to the county prosecutor for legal inspection.

There was some speculation that the ways and means committee may turn it down if they follow past policy. In considering previous petitions, members have frowned upon annexations which nearly surround unannexed lands. Rumor and speculation has been running rampant. A privately-sponsored meeting in Plymouth township was said to have brought a suggestion to boycott city merchants.

Several city commissioners were quoted as saying that they would ask the petition withdrawn if Burroughs strenuously objected to annexation.

Last week the company's vice-president and secretary, Sheldon F. Hall, wrote the city that "we are satisfied at this time with our location in the township of Plymouth and can see no advantage therefore in joining in or consenting to such a petition."

It is the intention of the city to annex Riverside park land (which it owns but leases to the county), and Riverside cemetery to reach Burroughs land along Plymouth road. Also included in the petition is acreage owned by Garling Realty along Riverside drive, just east of the city limits.

BIRTHS

Because there are so many hospitals in the area which are utilized by Plymouth citizens, it is impossible for The Mail to accurately obtain reports of all births. We therefore must rely on parents or relatives to kindly supply us with this information as soon as possible.

City Adopts 1st Half Million Dollar Budget; Escapes Hike in Tax Rate

There's good news today! That proposal to hike the city taxes 8 1/2 per cent by adopting the state equalized valuation has been dropped.

Monday night's city commission meeting was the hour at which the city fathers were going to adopt the equalized valuation and the 1956-57 budget. But an 11th hour search through the budget by city officials showed that there would be enough money available to get by without raising taxes.

Trying to understand and explain budgets is a difficult task for even the experienced accountant, but it all boils down to the fact that the commission has had about $75,000 in working capital which it will place in a reserve for contingencies and part of which will be used in financing the city's share of this summer's sewer and paving programs.

That amount is more than enough to cover part of several paving projects which the city had included in the budget for the coming fiscal year. As a result of the $75,000 discovery, a budget was approved Monday night for a total of $328,485. For the first time in local history, the budget has exceeded a half million dollars.

Amounts appropriated to the various funds are:

General government, $70,885; building and structures, $10,740; public works, $129,080; public safety (police and fire), $144,255; health and welfare, $8,950; parks and recreation, $18,850; debt retirement, $14,857.

Sanitary sewer fund contribution, $14,000; cemetery fund contribution, $1,000; equipment fund contribution, $3,500; unappropriated reserve, $23,867.50; reserve for contingencies, $75,000; retirement system share, $14,100; civil defense, $1,000; and appeal board, $100.

Mrs. Milton Laible entertained members of her Mayflower contract bridge group Tuesday afternoon at dessert in her home on North Main street.

Group Holds Progressive Meal

Forty members of the Parkview Circle Homeowners association toured the neighborhood for their meal last Friday night when the group held a progressive dinner, followed by their regular monthly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stang, 765 Parkview, were hosts for the appetizer course. The group then moved across the street to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuhns, 740 Parkview, for a choice of soups.

Walking around the corner to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinlan, 210 Garling drive, the salad course was served. Last for the evening was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lake, 275 Garling drive, where the main casserole course was served. Dessert was offered following the business meeting.

It was announced during the meeting that Lester Upton, 195 Garling drive, will be a candidate for the board of education. Members voiced their support of the candidate and it was urged that all unregistered residents get registered as soon as possible.

The next meeting will be June 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzner, 625 Parkview.

ANDERSONVILLE

The Pulitzer Prize winner announced Monday!

This great history-novel by MacKinley Kantor of the most tragic episode in American Civil War history is now at Purcell's. This most glorious account of the heroic efforts of our Northern soldiers to stand up against the elements and brutal treatment in the blackest prison experiences of our nation makes this great novel a famous winner in every sense of the word.

No understanding of Civil war days could be even partially complete without the vision of what our Men in Blue suffered and memorialized in Andersonville prison. Fourteen thousand men died there in the struggle to keep America united under one flag. "Truth is stranger and more thrilling than any pulp story could ever be." To read it is to love our American Freedoms more.

House-to-House School Census Begins Friday

Census takers will be knocking on doors during the next three weeks—but all they will be interested in are youngsters.

The annual school census, in which names and ages of all children from 0 through 19 are wanted, will begin tomorrow in the Plymouth Community district. Last year there were 6,000 children counted. A 10 per cent increase, is predicted in this census.

Nine women have taken on the job of conducting the census. They must make a contact at each home and if the occupant is not home at the time, a return call will be made.

Asked by the census taker will be the name and address of the parents, names and ages of children between 0 and 19 and in what grade they are enrolled if in school. All handicapped children will also be noted.

Census takers will be Irene Anderson, Elma Banta, Nellie Johnson, Catherine Lamb, Adah Langmaid, Betty Mitchell, Helen Runge and Gladys Tillotson.

Mrs. Hauk of Warren road was hostess, Tuesday, at a pot-luck dinner for members of her sewing group.

Mayor Calls Meeting to Arrange 1956 United Nations Observance

Initial plans for the local observance of the United Nations birthday October 24 will be discussed at a special meeting called by Mayor Russell M. Daane for this evening at 7:30 in the commission chambers of the city hall.

Attending will be representatives of Plymouth business and service organizations in addition to observance committee members from last year. In 1955, the tenth anniversary of the UN, observance committee chairman was Miss Helen Beavers. Other committee members included Mrs. Thomas Bateman, Russell Isbister, Father Francis Byrne and Reverend M. I. Johnson.

At the meeting the group will review last year's observance activities held in coordination with the Rotary club and the Plymouth Symphony society, the latter which was also celebrating its tenth birthday.

Other items to be covered during the meeting will be an explanation of the growth of interest in the UN and a further discussion on how the local observance may be improved and enlarged.

Mayor Daane said Tuesday that tentatively an observance committee may also be named at the meeting. All Plymouth organizations are invited to send representatives to the meeting in addition to any other individuals who are interested in the UN observance.

Thanks, Mr. Latture

"It pays to advertise in The Mail". We've said that often, but to hear it from a customer, that's news.

Last Thursday morning, just 12 hours after The Mail came off the presses, Realtor James Latture called The Mail to report that his "Buy of the Week" had been sold. Nine prospects were disappointed, he said, because they called too late.

Latture's "Buy of the Week" was a $12,500 3-bedroom frame home. It ran just once as a small display ad in the classified section of The Mail.

Thanks for the kind words, Mr. Latture.

aries would be $4,100 and $4,400 and maximum service teachers would receive $4,400 and $6,650. In addition all teachers would receive a cost of living allowance of $100.

A salary schedule recommended by the teacher organization gave a pay range from $4,800 to $6,550 for those with A. B. degrees and $4,600 to $7,100 for M. A. degrees.

Superintendent Russell Isbister stated that the school board's approved schedule would place local teacher pay about in the middle of a country-wide comparison.

In other business before the board, it was voted to continue with plans for extending the educational opportunities during the summer by providing several courses.

Bids were considered for a new three-quarter ton truck. The winning and lowest bid of $1,492 was submitted by Forest Motors. Other bids were Paul Wiedman, $1,556; Berry and Atchinson, $1,575; Ernest J. Allison, $1,720 and West Bros. Nash, $1,725. A six-year-old truck was traded in.

A committee of teachers, administrators, board members and lay citizens will study the facts of merit for next year. The board voted to set aside $5,000 in the budget to implement the merit system if it is adopted.

The Thursday evening contract bridge group will meet tonight (Thursday) in the home of Mrs. Raymond Bachelder on Main street, south.

VFW to Show Tornado Film

A "first run" for public showing film, "Tornado" will be shown at the Veterans Of Foreign Wars post, corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley roads, Wednesday, May 16th at 9 o'clock sharp.

Ernest B. Williams, who is the chief meteorologist at Willow Run Airport, will introduce and comment on the film. The film will actually show the tornado cloud formation as it approaches camera range and actually "hitting" a small midwestern town—a town that could very well be Plymouth.

The damage shown will be a devastating scene, but not a life will be lost—the reason will be made clear, once the film is viewed.

A twin bill is in store for the evening as a Civilian Defense film will be shown in conjunction with the "H" Bomb. It is in technical. Wyatt Barnes will speak briefly on the latter film.

There will be no admission charge nor donations, entirely free of any obligations. The public is invited to attend.

Playground Readied for Community Picnic Barbecue on Sunday, May 20

EVEN AS city workman Ben Zelickman was installing the slide at the Wing and Pine street playground last week, kiddies stood around ready to start playing. Glenda Ferguson, 6, watches Zelickman level the slide while waiting for their first slide are Russell Maycock, 4, Phillip Denoyer, 5, and Matthew Denoyer, 3.

Revival of the "community picnic" of yesteryear figures to be something new for many Plymouthites when the affair gets underway here on Sunday afternoon, May 20.

Plymouth's Rotary club is sponsoring the event to raise money for playground equipment which has already been placed on the new playground site at Wing and Pine streets. That will also be the site of the picnic.

The Rotary club youth committee hopes to sell 2,000 tickets to citizens wanting a chicken barbecue dinner and an afternoon of entertainment.

Barbecuing a few thousand chickens is a little more than an amateur can tackle, so professional chefs are being brought in to take care of the cooking.

Then too, a few ordinary backyard barbecue grills won't do the job of preparing so many chickens either. So Michigan State university has offered some barbecue racks for the job which will handle over half a hundred chickens each and require a couple of men to turn.

Besides chicken, there will be cold slaw, potato chips, milk or coffee, ice cream and rolls. Soft drinks will also be available.

Picnic tables are being furnished by the Wayne County Road commission's parks and recreation department. There will be baseball, entertainment, contests and of course, playground equipment for the kids.

Dinners will be served starting at 2 p.m. and will continue through 6 p.m., making it possible to eat either a Sunday dinner or supper.

Don Lightfoot is chairman of the community picnic. Although equipment was placed on the playground only last week, hundreds of youngsters have already made use of the facilities, the chairman said.

Burt Boyar IN NEW YORK

OFF THE RECORD: Rocky Marciano's got $400,000 in the bank, in case you've been fretting about his future. . . . Debbie doesn't want Eddie to wear any more of that big, flashy jewelry, so she made him give it all away. . . . Elizabeth Taylor's physician told her to stop working like there's no tomorrow or there will be no tomorrow. . . . If Irving Berlin never writes another tune his ASCAP royalties will be $60,000 a year for ever and ever. . . . Nanette Fabray, who's said to have "split up" with best beau Marty Mills, threw a surprise party for him last Saturday. Hal March and a dozen celebs met at Nan's house at 7:15. Marty walked in to take her out for dinner and the party began. Nan had hired private busses which we took out to Marty's home on Long Island. Certainly looks like Nan and Marty "split up," doesn't it?

TAXIGABBING: H'wood's a funny place. Ernest Borgnine who won an Oscar as a guy who couldn't find any dates in "Tomy" marries the most beautiful girl in Wyoming in "Jubal" . . . Tony Curtis' psychiatrist told him: "Stop acting like a baby. Grow up." . . . Overheard at the Stork: "He has that devil won't care attitude." . . . Stripsy Rose Lee is negotiating with a major network for her own TV show. . . . A famed TV couple might as well not be married. They're waiting until June to make the divorce announcement when their child is out of school and won't be embarrassed. . . . The TV casting departments, when they want a regal, suave-type character now order, "One Prince Rainier!"

THE QUOTEBOOK: Vincent Sardi, Jr., owner of famed Sardi's Restaurant strolled into the Stage delicatessen for a sandwich. He was wearing a sport shirt with no necktie. "Hmhmhm!" snorted owner Max Asnas. "If I came into your place without a necktie whaddya think people would say?" Sardi thought a moment and told him, "Well, Max, I guess they'd say, 'where do you think you are, at the Stage Delicatessen?'"

BEAU BROADWAY: Rex Harrison says, "A cocktail party is where you spear olives and stab friends." . . . "The Vamp," a Broadway catastrophe, cost the angels $350,000. . . . Peggy Ann Garner and her Mr. Wonderful Albert Salmi will I do it on July 13. . . . Shelley Winters leaves "Hatful of Rain" June 30 to make a movie. . . . Andy Griffith of "No Time for Sgts" does ditto; he'll be back in the fall. . . . Columbia's new picture, "The Eddy Duchin Story" should be re-titled "With A Tear In My Eye." Wear a raincoat when you see it. It'll break your heart. . . . The Mark Goodsons are living apart. They'll split custody of the money. He's the TV producer. . . . Overheard at Sardi's: "Well, if it isn't Marjorie Morningstar!"

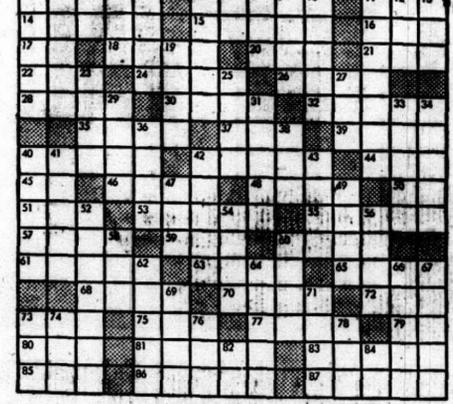

THE WORKING PRESS: Comedian Jack Carter sat around the Harwyn telling about his experience with a Philadelphia newspaper. "I remember," he says, "I was working there and I picked and saw they'd announced that I'd just died. Naturally, I was sick over the whole business so I called the paper and said, 'Hello, this is Jack Carter. I just want to tell you that I'm feeling fine. Never better in my life. I'm not dead.' The editor asked me, 'Where are you calling from?' I told him I was in a phone booth. 'Well,' said the editor, 'I'm glad to hear you're feeling so well and that you are not dead but I'm sorry to tell you that we can't run a retraction. It's against our policy.' Listen, I said, you've got to do something! Anything! The editor thought about it for awhile and finally said, 'Tell ya what. We'll run an announcement in the birth columns and give you a fresh start.'"

CEST LA TVIE: Comedian Don Adams (you'll be hearing a lot about him) tells about the TV comedian who calls his agent and says, "Now, look. I'll do the show, but I won't accept anything less than $50,000 a year, no more than four shows. I gotta have star billing and I absolutely refuse to go to their offices to discuss it." His agent asks, "Why won't you be reasonable and come down to their offices?" The comic replies, "Because if I leave here I'll get locked out of my hotel room."

THE BIG KLEIGES: Julie Harris, star of "The Lark" spends all her spare time hanging around the circus. Her life-long ambition is to be a circus clown. . . . Sugar Ray Robinson won't take an elevator if he can possibly avoid it. Recently climbed eight flights to keep an NBC appointment. . . . Weird cartoonist Charles Addams' favorite sport is watching big buildings being demolished. Spent an hour and a half looking at the destruction going on at 53rd and Fifth. Just stood there, smiling! . . . Frank Sinatra, who'll play Joe E. Lewis in "The Joker Is Wild" is studying a film of Lewis' night club act to learn the comedian's mannerisms, etc. Lewis says, "I don't know if it'll teach him to be a comedian but he'll turn out to be a heck of a good drunk."

PUZZLE No. 395

THE STARS

Bing Crosby's long awaited first full-length television movie, "High Tor" was finally shown on CBS recently, and while it was a pleasant fare one could not help wonder if anyone but the fabulous Crosby could have put it over successfully. . . . It was a flimsy, rather ridiculous plot but the music was really fine and that, together with Bing's easiness with a lyric or a spoken word made the viewer believe in its strength as entertainment. . . . Personally, we believe Julie Andrews and Hans Conrard stole the show. . . . Everett Sloane as the impish Dutch ghost deserves special mention also, if only because his role was so different from the staid and shrewd top business man he is so used to playing. . . . Laurence Olivier's "Richard III" was a wonderful spectacle and it was not difficult to sit through it for its entire three hours. . . . The man really gives himself to a role, but all the time we watched him with fascination as the murderous and determined Richard, we could not help but feel sorry that such a great talent could allow himself to co-star with Marilyn Monroe in a movie. . . . It seems such a waste of time and talent on his part. . . . There are many accomplished actresses (such as Audrey Hepburn) with whom he could make a comedy if it is a change of pace he seeks. . . . Monroe and Shakespeare seems a trifle uncomfortable together.

Much Too Much
A Latin-American colleague tells how a business man in one of the "banana republics" wrote a letter placing an order for an engine capable of a thousand revolutions a minute. The letter was intercepted by government agents, whereupon the business man was called before El Presidente who said:
"One revolution a day we can handle but a thousand revolutions a minute—too much."

Elect Margaret Hough Chairman Of Women's Symphony Group

The Women's Committee of the Plymouth Symphony society will be chairmanned next year by Mrs. Margaret Hough. Elected with Mrs. Hough to the executive board were Mrs. Roderick Cassidy, Mrs. Gerald Fischer, Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum and Mrs. James Warren.

The organization, which has functioned but one year, recently sponsored the Spring Symphony Ball and is devoted to the promotion and support of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra. Preparations are now being made for the annual potluck dinner of the Plymouth Symphony society on Monday, Mrs. Clifton Tillotson is food chairman and Mrs. Harold Kellogg is in charge of table decorations.

As a fund raising project, the Women's Committee is currently planning a geranium sale on Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26. Booths will be located throughout Plymouth's business district and at Sheldon Center in Livonia. Mrs. Ray Hulce is chairman of this event and may be contacted by those wishing to order geranium plants.

In its future plans the Women's Committee has the publishing of a cookbook composed of favorite recipes. The group is looking for new members and urges all women interested in supporting the orchestra to contact Mrs. Hough.

by Carl Peterson

We know that a lot of us have memories that are shorter than a broken chair leg... so we figured it was about time to drop in a little reminder that May 13th is Mother's Day. It's a custom that got nationwide recognition back in 1913 when Congress voted that the second Sunday in May be dedicated to Mom.

There's no reason why you shouldn't be nice to her any time... but May 13 is the climax. That's the one day in the year we try to make up for all the trouble we've caused in the other 364 days (365 this year). Maybe we don't quite balance the scales, but most mothers are delighted to think we tried. When you're used to being taken for granted, a little appreciation looks bigger than an Academy Award. So give the little lady a big hand!

For your convenience, we now have available the Sunday New York Times. Papers will go on sale at our newspaper & magazine counter every Sunday at about 5:30 p.m.

A Louisiana girl was arrested for cashing two checks she had made out as an arithmetic assignment. Is this what they call progressive education? It just takes simple arithmetic to add up to the conclusion that it takes a complete stock of drugs, plus a thoroughly experienced pharmacist, to guarantee accurate prescription service. We have the stock of pharmaceuticals, and the prescription experience, to give you service with safety.

Remember... "someone you know, knows me."

Extension Group Meets

The day long meeting included the awarding of achievement pins for five and ten year members. Michigan State university representatives, Miss Marjorie Eastman, Home Economics administration, spoke on the importance of home extension groups throughout the nation. A report on the National Home Demonstration Council meeting was given by Wayne County chairman, Mrs. Clarence Mortimer, Mrs. Lucille H. McCollough then spoke of women in present day politics. She referred to the April issue of McCall's magazine in which an article, "They do it, you can, too" appeared. It told of full-time wives and mothers, part-time legislators, across the nation, the hand that rocks the cradle rules in our state legislatures." Mrs. McCollough, was a key figure in the article. She is from Dearborn and is a representative in the state legislature. After luncheon, a fashion show was held, the theme of which was "Fads and Fancies"—clothing of long-ago era was modeled. He is quoted as saying, "present ratio, I believe, in Wayne County of teen age boy problems, ages 15 to 17 are one out of every eight will and have appeared before me in Juvenile court. Judge Kaufman reported that over half the cars stolen the past year have been stolen by teen age boys in Wayne county. He cited the "car" problem has been the most major problem at present. "Kids," he said, are no worse than in the olden days, it's just that present day living is too speeded up and cars are main source of trouble, and of course, over population and too few recreational facilities."

Sheldon 4-H Groups Lose in Demonstration

The Sheldon 4-H community club represented Wayne county at the model business meeting demonstration held at the Bloomfield township hall in Oakland county Wednesday, April 25, at 10 a.m. The four counties represented were Oakland, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Wayne.

It was a very educational affair and although it didn't win, the Sheldon group was reported to have profited by mistakes and will be trying even harder next year. Oakland county won the first place award with Wayne a close second. Washtenaw was third and Lenawee fourth. Clubs having already given their demonstrations were able to listen to the remaining clubs present their displays.

Several games were held by Del Dyer, Wayne county 4-H agent, while judges reached a decision as to the winner.

Those representing Wayne county were Sharnie Moers, president; Lee Black, vice-president; Joyce Hawkins, secretary; Mabel Hansen, treasurer; Pat Clixby; Peggy Russell; Joanne Jarras; Ellen Frommhold; Lewis McLaugh; Earl Threadgould and Mrs. Earl Threadgould, leader.

Nearly 60 per cent of American men aged 65-69 are still in the labor force, as well as 40 per cent of those in the 70-74 age bracket.

Russian Talks To Madonnites

"Mankind at the Crossroads of Destiny." This was the theme of Mrs. Catherine Doherty's talk to be given at Madonna college Tuesday.

Born in Russia in 1900, Mrs. Doherty was the daughter of Theodore de Kolyschkin, one of the czar's ablest diplomats and a colonel of hussars.

At an early age, she mastered twelve languages including Russian, Italian, French, Polish and English.

She was married in 1914 to Baron Boris de Hueck, one of the richest men in Russia. Together they served in the First World War. However, she was later captured and almost starved to death by the Communists. Escaping with her husband, she went to Canada and then came to the United States.

In 1930, Mrs. de Hueck began thinking of the poor she had seen during the war and in the following year, she opened the first Friendship House in Canada, in the slums of Toronto.

After the Roman Catholic church had annulled her previous marriage in 1943, she married the newspaperman, Eddie Doherty.

Today, she is still continuing her lecturing career, though on a smaller scale.

Very few participants in marriage ceremonies recall the "for poorer" phrase.

New Teen Recreation Ventures Successful

The junior high school dance last Friday evening in the junior high auditorium was termed a success by the Plymouth recreation department, sponsor of the event. Eighty-three youngsters turned out for the evening of dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gillham were parent-chaperones at the affair. The last junior high school dance of the current year will be held June 1 from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Another recreation department-sponsored event was likewise determined to be a successful venture this week by Richard Huebler, supervisor. Huebler said that more than 75 teen-agers attended the first two teen-age fun nights on the past two Wednesday evenings.

Included on the evening of entertainment are open gym gatherings for basketball, volley ball and table tennis for boys and girls. Also other games are on the list. The fun nights will continue to be held as long as sufficient response is indicated.

They are held every Wednesday evening at the Plymouth high school gymnasium from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Plans Meeting for Parents Of Boys Going to Camp

Local parents who are interested in having their boys attend the Ann Arbor YMCA camp this summer are to meet at Plymouth high school on Wednesday, May 16.

Camp Birkett, located at Big Silver lake, has been attended by many local boys in past summers. Parents are invited to ask questions at the meeting and see novies of the camp shown by Arnet J. Cole, camp director. Held in room 14, the meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. It will also be possible to make reservations for the outing.

IN THE SWING OF THINGS is Rocks' baseball player Harvey Wells as he takes a big cut at one of the pitches served him in a recent Plymouth battle. Wells had two of Plymouth's 17 hits at the end of last week. The locals owned a 1-2 record Monday.

Herb Woolweaver Elected to MSA Office

Herb Woolweaver, director of Plymouth adult education and recreation, was elected commissioner-at-large for the Michigan Softball association in this district at that organization's district meeting last Monday at Ann Arbor high school.

Walt Gillett of Ann Arbor was named commissioner of the organization. Softball rules and tournament arrangements were also discussed during the meeting. Representing the Plymouth recreation department was Richard Huebler, local supervisor of recreation.

Rocks Blasted By Trenton's Power, 67-42

The Rocks' two-in-a-row track victory string was snipped short last Thursday afternoon when a powerful Trenton team blasted Plymouth's thinclads, 67-42, on the Trojans' oval. It evened the Rocks' record to date at two wins and two-defeats.

Only first place points captured by the outclassed locals came on Tom Ferguson's first in the half mile, Paul Cummings' win in the high jump, Dick Showers' share of first in the 220, Steve Jewell's share of first in the pole vault and a victory by the Rocks' medley relay team.

Trenton earned eight outright first place finishes and six seconds. Plymouth, for little consolation, copped all but one of the thirds available.

In addition to his first in the half mile, Ferguson collected two points for his share of second and third place honors in the high jump to pace Plymouth individually with seven points. Trenton's Dick Saputo, with wins in the broad jump and low hurdles plus a tie for first in the pole vault, led both teams in scoring with 14.

The local high jumping trio of Cummings, Ferguson and Bob Young once again swept this event. Cummings cleared 5' 8" for the highest leap by a local this year. Ferguson and Young tied for second and third at 5' 6".

Myron Hopper earned a second in the broad jump with an 18' 9 1/2" jump. Chuck Westover garnered a second in the mile in 5:05. The rest of Plymouth's points came on its ten third place results.

They were: Lindy Mills in the hot put (40' 10 1/2"); LeRoy Schaaht in the broad jump (18' 4 1/2"); Dick Manion in the high and low hurdles; Showers in the 100 (10.9); Dick Stephensen in the pole vault; Tony Monte in the mile (5:09.7); Steve Veresh in the 220; and Bill Brandell in the half mile (2:17.1).

A few of Trenton's winning results were more than respectable as indicated by a 4:56 victory in the mile by Ed La Fluor, a 19' 4 1/2" first in the broad jump by Saputo and a 10.6 by Stan Workman in the 100.

Red Wing Hockey Star to Appear Here Tomorrow

Gordie Howe, star forward on the Detroit Red Wing hockey team, will make a personal appearance before a local Consumers Power Men's group at the VFW hall on Lilley road this Friday at 6:30 p.m.

Howe's presence here is part of a state-wide tour, sponsored by The Stroh Brewery company, designed to enlighten sports enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game. The tour will continue through the months of June and July.

Leon Walker, 390 Sunset, is chairman in charge of the arrangements for the special sports program. Also highlighting the evening will be films of the 1956 Red Wings vs. Montreal Canadiens Stanley Cup Playoff games plus interesting sidelights by Howe concerning the game of hockey.

Howe, this year became the third 300 goal scorer in all National Hockey League history. He holds all Detroit scoring records. Howe, now 28, began his career in NHL competition at 18, the youngest ever to enter the conference. He is the only player ever to lead the circuit three straight years in scoring.

Bad Weather Trims Rocks' Baseball Slate

Baseball action for the Rocks last week came to a sudden stand still following an 8-2 defeat at the hands of Redford Union on Monday, April 30. Plymouth had a pair of contests on the docket, one Wednesday, May 2, at Bentley and another Friday at Allen Park.

Both were postponed, the Allen Park tilt for the second time in a week, and both will be played at a later date. Consequently at the close of last week the local diamond contingent still displayed a mediocre record of one victory against two defeats.

Plymouth last Tuesday greeted Belleville's ballclub for the second time this season. Results were not available as The Mail neared presstime.

Muddy playing fields, as a result of torrential rains two weekends ago, brought about the postponement of the Bentley and Allen Park engagements. Rocks' athletic director John Sandmann said Friday that the Bentley battle was scheduled to be held Monday, May 23. He said that the Allen Park game also will be staged later this month.

The Allen Park contest, slated Friday, was a postponed game to begin with. It had originally been scheduled for April 27 but inclement weather caused its calling until a later date. Now it is set to go into this month, weather and circumstance allowing.

Plymouth opened its 1956 baseball campaign on April 20 with an easy 7-4 nod over hosting Belleville. It was the initial step toward the Rocks' defense of their diamond crown from last season. However Trenton and Redford Union threw stumbling blocks into Plymouth's path in the locals' next two tilts.

Trenton, via two unearned runs overturned the Rocks, April 24 by a 5-2 edge and Redford Union, who last Thursday was leading the league, came to town and tipped Plymouth 8-2 April 30.

In order to bring back the Suburban Six league baseball title in 1955, Plymouth had to put together an eight-win and two-loss card. To date in 1956 the locals have already lost their apparently allotted two games.

The standings in the Suburban Six circuit as of last Thursday compiled by the Plymouth athletic department were:

	W	L
Redford Union	3	0
Trenton	2	0
Allen Park	2	1
Plymouth	1	2
Bentley	0	2
Belleville	0	3

Women's Golf League In Organization Stage

A women's golf league, which will play each Tuesday afternoon at nearby Hilltop golf course, is now in the process of being organized, explained the circuit's president Monday.

Mrs. Harry Wiley said that about 35 women turned out for the initial afternoon of competition on Tuesday, May 1. She explained that plans call for a 12-week agenda with all of the features of a regular golf league. The Women's league will organize into teams according to handicaps by next week, said Mrs. Wiley.

Other officers of the circuit include Mrs. William Ramba as secretary and Miss Marlene Short as treasurer. Mrs. Wiley added that at the end of the season a banquet will be held at which time competing trophies will be awarded to the top team.

Rocks' Brandell Receives Prep All-American Title

Bill Brandell, Plymouth's diminutive 200-yard freestyle swimming artist, received one of the nation's highest high school athletic awards Tuesday when the National Interscholastic swimming coaches association announced that he had been placed on the All-American high school swimming team.

Brandell earned the coveted award when his 200-yard freestyle time of two minutes and two seconds was ranked among the top 20 clockings in the nation in this event in 1956. He posted his mark in the Michigan class "A" high school state meet in Ann Arbor on March 10.

The state record for the 200-yard freestyle race is 2:01, the national standard 1:55.5.

The NISCA will present Brandell with a certificate officially making him a member of the 1956 All-American swimming aggregate. He was the Rocks' team captain over the past season and was voted at the close of the year as the squad's most valuable player.

Plymouth's tank coach, John McFall, entered Brandell's name as a candidate for the honor in April. At the same time the rest of the nation's high school swim meets were doing likewise with their best competitors in respective events.

Thus Brandell, a 16-year-old junior, becomes the first athlete in Plymouth high school's history to gain a berth on any All-American athletic team. He is 5' 7" and weighs 130 pounds.

Brandell's consistency in winning the 220-yard freestyle event helped the Rocks to a nine-win and three-loss dual meet record during the most recent campaign. Brandell compiled an impressive record of 11 wins in 12 dual meet 200-yard freestyle races. In the state meet he placed second in both the 200- and the 100-yard freestyle events for a total of ten points. By virtue of his spree the Rocks finished ninth.

Bill's time of 2:02 was the ninth fastest clocking during the 1955-56 season. The fastest race was a 1:59.2 mark set by Tony Pollett of Evanston, Illinois. Two other high school freestylers from nearby schools were also among the top ranked in the All-American list.

Seventh fastest freestyler in the nation was Henry Reest of Lincoln Park, who beat Brandell in the Rocks' opening dual meet this year. Eighth speediest was Andy Morrow, a former Plymouth student, now swimming for Royal Oak high school. Brandell beat Morrow in the state meet when Reest placed first, Brandell second and Morrow third.

Netters Squashed By Bentley, 5-2

The Rocks' tennis team managed to win only one singles match and a doubles match last Friday against Bentley high school's netters, thereby suffering a 5-2 defeat, the local's second loss of the season with one victory.

Only Fred Libbing and Doug Rowe, playing in the number two doubles, were able to score a match win for the Plymouth side of the ledger. Libbing and Rowe combined to turn back Bentley's Fulton and Watchko, 6-3 and 6-1. The Rocks other game point came via George Losse's default win when the Bulldogs were unable to provide him with an opponent.

Grade School Softball Standings

Bird elementary school won its fifth straight game in the grade school softball circuit last Monday when that team blasted Allen school 16-5. The same afternoon Smith whipped Catholic 11-7 and Starkweather pounded Lutheran 21-2.

Bird school's victory kept it high atop the little loop with a perfect five-win and no-loss record. Lutheran and Allen remained tied for possession of second place, each with 2-2 cards. Catholic at 2-3 is the only other member team with two wins.

On Thursday, May 3, Allen nipped Canton-Hill 8-7, Catholic beat Starkweather 8-4 and Bird defeated Lutheran 5-3.

The standings:

Team	W	L
Bird	5	0
Lutheran	2	2
Allen	2	2
Catholic	2	3
Smith	1	2
Starkweather	1	2
Canton-Hill	1	3

HEY, HOW DID THEY GET WAY BACK IN HERE?

THAT'S AN EvinRUDE LIGHTWIN... WEEDS AND ROCKS WON'T STOP IT... IT'LL GO ANYWHERE WE CAN!

SPORTS DEPARTMENT - DOWNSTAIRS - DAVIS & LENT

Batters assume as many different positions at the plate as there are ways to comb the hair. They rarely stand and swing exactly alike.

About all that good hitters have in common is the conclusion of their swing. They all finish with the weight shifted to front foot, back toe pointing into the dirt and the bat swung all the way around in an arc.

Other than that, they're all different.

TOE ON LINE He holds his thick-handled bat at the very end and keeps it cocked just off his shoulder.

Ray Boone assumes a similar stance, right toe on the inside line of the batter's box, left foot back toward the outside corner of the box so that he is in a six-inch open stance, swinging toward third base.

But Boone goes into a fairly deep crouch, leaning forward, and cocks his bat somewhat higher off his shoulder.

Al Kaline stands far back in the batter's box and holds his bat almost straight up. When he swings, he strides right into the ball.

FEET WIDE APART Earl Torgeson differs from Kaline in that he stands in the middle of the box for fast ball pitchers and even moves to the front for pitchers throwing sinking balls.

Torgy sets his feet fairly wide apart, and this is a complete departure from the position of Gene Woodling, of the Cleveland Indians, whose feet are so close together they almost touch.

In my years with the New York Giants, I stood deep in the batter's box but as close to the plate as I could, my left foot on the inside line. I didn't crouch much and kept swinging the bat so that the only time I actually cocked it was just as the pitcher started to throw.

I tried to figure what the pitcher would throw and get set for it, and so do players like Torgeson, Kaline and Woodling. However, Boone and Kuenn, among others, don't try to out-guess the pitcher and try to be ready for anything.

CARRIED TWO MODELS It's all a matter of opinion, and there are good batters representing both schools of thought.

Where Kuenn employs a thick-handled bat, more players use a thinner handle. I always carried two models, one with a fairly good sized handle, the other smaller.

Kuenn starts the season with a 34-ounce bat, switching to a 32-ounce model late in the campaign. Harvey says that when the weather is hot and he's a little tired after a whole summer of baseball, he finds it harder to come around as fast with the heavier bat, so he switches to the lighter model.

Kaline plays the whole season with a 33-ounce bat, Boone with a 34-ounce and Torgeson with a 35-ounce model.

P-3 Scouts Hold Trial Camp-Out

Members of Boy Scout Troop P-3 took part in a hike and trial camp set-up Saturday. The boys hiked from Starkweather school to the Jesse Tritton home on East Ann Arbor trail.

Following a cook-out, the boys set up their tents and underwent an inspection of all equipment. The trial was held in preparation for the annual "Spring Camp Out" to be held in the Waterloo area near Jackson on June 8, 9 and 10.

Golfers' 368 Earns Second In League Tilt

With a 368-stroke total Monday Plymouth's golf squad captured second place in the Suburban Six league golfing meet held at Idyl Wyld country club. Bentley high school took top honors with no trouble on a 338 card. The Bulldogs repeated as league champs, having hauled home the title in 1955.

Redford Union with 372 finished third as Allen Park trailed the field with 480. The meet was a four-player, 18-hole affair held on the par 72 Idyl Wyld layout on Five Mile road in Livonia.

Medalist for the meet was Bentley's Tom Unverzagt, who fired an eight-over-regulation 80 to lead his team to victory. Plymouth's Tom Carmichael was second low medalist with 81 while Bentley's Gary Whitener at 82 was third.

Other scores among the local contingent included Bill Rambo's 92, Staton Lorenz's 95 and Gary Wilson's 100.

The Friday earlier the Rocks hosted Allen Park in a six-man nine-hole dual match played over the par 36 front arrangement at Plymouth country club. The locals pounded the Parkers 271-354 to bring Plymouth's dual record to 2-4 at that time.

Carmichael continued to pace the Rocks and again took meet medalist honors on the strength of a 40. He was backed up by Rambo (43), Wilson (44), Lorenz (46), Kurt Atchinson (48) and Ken Thomas (58).

This Friday Plymouth will compete in the regional meet to be held on the Burroughs Farm course at Brighton. Fifteen class A schools will be on hand to do battle along with a number of class B schools and perhaps some from class C.

ADMIRING their winners checks are these three youths who wrote prize-winning essays in the American Legion auxiliary's recent contest. With them are two auxiliary representatives. From left: Mrs. Fern Burleson, local contest chairman; Paul Rimer, first in senior group; Sylvia Robertson, first in junior group; Lee Huber, second in senior group; and Mrs. Eleanor Geer, contest chairman for the 17th district. The two first place winners each won $10 and second placers were awarded two dollars. Not in the picture is Steve Hayskar, second in the junior group. The essays of Paul and Sylvia also won first places in their respective groups in the 17th district contest, each receiving five dollars there.

Grange Cleanings

There was a splendid attendance at our meeting of May 3 in fact the last three meetings have been well attended which is very encouraging to the officers.

The pictures shown by Mr. Stein were very interesting, showing what a vast difference there is between South America and our own United States. The talk and book review of "Arthritis and Common Sense" given by Mrs. Vealey was well received and may have done some good, who knows.

Don't forget the Lily Club on May 19 at Ray Mettels. Pot luck supper at seven o'clock. A nice drive up there and a pleasant evening forecast.

Our next on May 17 will be in two parts. The first part of the program is on Safety and it will be of special and unusual interest as we are to have one of the fireman for our speaker and he will explain the work of the rescue squad and how the rescuator works and that is well worth while to know. This part will come before Lodge convenes.

After the meeting during the lecture hour we are to have a tableau about Mother's Day which is very pretty, so don't miss it.

Uncle Sam's Army recruiting service is now being represented in Plymouth every Monday and Wednesday in the post office basement, it was announced this week by Sergeant First Class Henry J. Zalewski. Hours will be from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The Plymouth area is now being covered by a recruiting office at Grand River and Southfield. Sgt. Zalewski states that many opportunities for enlistment are open at the present time, including military, police, artillery, signal corps, quartermaster, and medical service. For a limited time, eligible young men can also enlist for assignments to the 8th and 10th divisions in Germany with those enlisting for the 10th division taking their basic training in California.

Sgt. Zalewski expects a rush of enlistments in the Army's "choice, not chance" program by high school graduates in the next few weeks.

We had a record turn out for our Mother and Daughter banquet. The committee in charge was given a hearty thank you. During the program, Commander Doris Curtis had a pleasant surprise by having 40 and 25 year pins to be presented. Lady Dora Nicholson, whom Plymouth has known for years had the honor of presenting the 40 year pins to Lady Jessie Leroy, Lady Dora Woods and Lady Myrtle Brown; the 25 year pins to Lady Gladys Baker, Lady Bessie McCullough, Lady Arbutis Killingsworth, and Lady Armita Hance. Everyone enjoyed the dinner.

As it was getting rather late there was just a short formal business meeting called to order by Commander Doris Curtis.

Sorry to report Lady Ethel Michl and Lady Mary Sackett are on the sick list. Lady Mable Dick is improving but still is a shut-in.

Our June sixth meeting will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. Please try to be on hand as it's our last meeting before summer vacation and we have several projects in mind which will be discussed.

Our sympathy goes to Lady Hazel Norgrove on the passing of her daughter, Eleanor, Wednesday night, May 2.

Plymouth Cancels '56 Senior Trip

The Senior Trip committee of Plymouth High School concluded its last meeting April 25, 1956 by moving that the Senior Trip be canceled because of lack of interest and the small number of students planning to go.

All Seniors planning to take the trip were asked to give their names to Jim Dyer, Senior, so that an accurate account could be made. Seventy students, which is not fifty per cent of the class, signed up for the trip. Approximately 185 Seniors are enrolled in Plymouth high and in order to make the trip a class project a reasonable number would be required to participate.

There will be no special vacation on the three days given to the trip but they can be salvaged for some individual or group activity. The five dollar refund will be returned to the students.

Final exams for Seniors will occur on Monday afternoon, June 4, and Tuesday morning, June 5. On Friday morning, June 8, Baccalaureate rehearsal will begin. Commencement will be held the following Thursday, June 14.

Sends Money To Aid Stricken

The Passage-Gayde Post, The American Legion of Plymouth at their regular business meeting on Wednesday, May 2 voted to forward a contribution of $150.00 to the Grand Rapids Council of the American Legion Child Welfare Disaster Fund. The Council, with 15 member posts, has established a fund from which to render aid and assistance to the numerous children who were victims of the tornado which struck communities bordering Grand Rapids on Tuesday, April 3.

Council President Wilbert Hudson states that as a Legionnaire and one of several hundred CD workers, "I have observed the unbelievable destruction. The loss is great and the need for Child Welfare assistance is urgent."

Passage-Gayde Welfare Chairman Ray Viau states that "it isn't often that a Post as small as ours receives the opportunity to do Child Welfare work on such a grand scale. We at this time extend the opportunity to help the rehabilitation of these children to the other organizations in Plymouth."

Chairman Viau stated that this money is drawn from the fund which is established from the yearly sale of Poppies during the Memorial Day period.

Supplied the Answer

The lecture was emphasizing the demoralizing effect of divorce. "Love," he said, "is a quest, a proposal, a request; the giving of a daughter in marriage, a bequest; and the marriage itself the conquest. But what is divorce?"

Voice from the audience: "The inquest!"

False Report Charged Against Local Youth

A charge of filing a false report has been filed by police against a 19-year-old Plymouth youth who claimed that two hubcaps had been taken from his car. Charles J. Whitmier, 189 Hamilton, reported Sunday that two spinner-type hubcaps were stolen from his car. He told police that he had chased two men across the Daisy Manufacturing company's baseball field and was unable to give their description. After a check of his car by police and under questioning, Whitmier admitted that he fabricated the story in order to claim insurance for the hubcaps. The charge, a misdemeanor, will be heard by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A court decision establishing the right of the public to boat and fish on Lake Ann in Presque Isle county is expected to set an important pattern for decisions in other cases involving public use of inland waters.

Previous court decisions had established the right of the public to use of all navigable waters, but this case is the first in which a relatively small stream was involved.

Judge Phillip J. Glennie ruled April 26 that both Lake Ann and the unnamed stream connecting it with the Ocuquo River had been used for upwards of 65 years for boating and fishing and thus approved the issuance of an injunction ordering Henry M. Lucy and Naomi Lucy, his wife, to remove a barricade which they had installed to keep people out of lake Ann.

The injunction had been sought by the Presque Isle county Board of Supervisors and the Conservation Department. Assistant Attorney General Nicholas V. Olds represented the state in the case. The Lucys had claimed that, because of their property ownership of all the land surrounding the lake up to the point where the outlet stream begins, they had the right to place a barricade across the stream and keep people out of the lake.

State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh said several similar cases had been held up, pending the outcome of this court action.

"Despite repeated decisions by our Supreme Court, we still find many private owners who insist that the stretch of stream that runs through their property is not navigable and have obstructed the public from passing over it and, in fact, have built dams without securing approval of the Board of Supervisors," Kavanagh said. "In view of this decision (on Lake Ann), we feel that we can now proceed with these other cases."

Rural residents and others were reminded this week that a permit is required for anyone intending to burn brush, grass, or debris from land-clearing operations outside city and village limits.

It is unlawful when the ground is not snow-covered to start an open fire, except for domestic purposes, without obtaining a burning permit. Permits can be obtained from any Conservation Department field office, conservation office, fire officer, or forest fire lookout.

Grass fires are particularly dangerous during the forest fire season and fires set without proper precautions can result in destruction of forests and property.

Some precautions to observe are: (1) never set a fire during a high wind; (2) do not set fires during the day; wait until late afternoon or evening when the wind is down and the humidity high; (3) insure that hand tools and assistance are available for stopping a fire.

First to receive a certificate under Michigan's new forestry registration law is G. S. McIntire, chief of the Conservation Department's forestry division.

In a ceremony in his office April 27, McIntire received Certificate Number One from Robert E. Schmeling, Escanaba, chairman of the State Board of Registration for Foresters. Other board members present were T. D. Stevens, East Lansing; K. P. Davis, Ann Arbor; and U. J. Noblet, Houghton.

The law went into effect October 1, 1955, and sets up an official registry of foresters. Registered forester certificates are issued to those who meet one of three requirements: 1) college graduation in forestry and two years experience, 2) a combination of college and experience and a passing grade in an examination, 3) ten years of satisfactory experience in forestry within the last 15 years. The registration fee is $10.

Maps of 51 Michigan lakes were completed during the past winter by Conservation Department fish division workers.

Approximately 2400 inland lakes now have been mapped under the Department program.

Three mapping crews worked during the winter on lakes in several counties, including Barry, Crawford, Kalamazoo, Lake, Leapeer, Mecosta, Montcalm, Newaygo, Oakland, Osceola and Otsego.

Some lakes in these areas were remapped because of known or suspected errors in older maps.

Most of the 51 new maps will be available soon to interested persons. Available maps are listed by counties and all requests for listings should indicate the specific county desired. Requests and inquiries should be addressed to: Institute for Fisheries Research, University Museums Annex, Ann Arbor.

Sea lampreys, the predators that have wiped out lake trout in most of the Great Lakes, apparently have turned their attacks toward rainbow trout populations.

Fish division workers who have transferred 117 rainbows over Tippy Dam on the Manistee River say that about 90 percent of the fish bore lamprey scars.

Rainbow trout populations in the river also have fallen off during recent years. Last year, 255 were transferred over the dam for spawning upstream and that figure may not be reached this season.

The decrease in rainbows was evident as early as 1954 when only 192 fish were lifted over the dam. Between 1946 and 1953, an average of almost 700 rainbows were transported over the dam each year.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Ari Meyers starts preparations for "Hamburger Corn-Pone Pie" while three-year-old Winkie looks on from left.

Hamburger Corn-Pone Pie

A recipe for meat-pie with a different twist comes this week from Mrs. Art Meyers of 1115 Dewey.

Favorite menu item in the Meyers household is "Hamburger Corn-Pone Pie," a one-dish meal resembling chili with corn bread topping, recipe for which was handed down by Mrs. Meyers' grandmother. The present generation often enjoys the dish served outside at the picnic table, with relishes, salad and dessert for accompaniments.

Here's the way the recipe goes:

Hamburger Corn-Pone Pie (Serves 4)

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/3 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon shortening

Try Barbecued Lamb Riblets, Economical Family Dish

In many European countries lamb is the meat served most often. Lamb also stands high on the list of favorites in many American homes, comment meat experts.

There is a wide choice of cuts, prices and uses. The most demanded cuts are from the loin and rib sections, but other cuts are equally as flavorful and provide many gourmet-class dishes. For a change in flavor and a saving on the budget, try this economical lamb dish made from lamb riblets. This cut is taken from the breast section of the animal and has a thin layer of tender meat and usually a little fat.

Barbecued Lamb Riblets

3 pounds lamb riblets
Salt
Pepper
Brown the lamb riblets in own fat or a small amount of lard or drippings. Cover with barbecue sauce and cook slowly on top of range or in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ hours or until tender. Yield: 6 servings.

Barbecue Sauce

1 medium onion
2 tablespoons butter

2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup catchup
3 tablespoons Worcester-shire sauce
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains red pepper

Brown onion in butter and add remaining ingredients; mix thoroughly. Pour sauce over riblets and cook as described above.

Rhubarb, often called pie plant because it is used so frequently in pies, is very perishable and the flavor is easily lost if not properly cared for. If it must be kept a few days before it is to be used, cut off leaves, wash the stalks and dry them thoroughly. Wrap them in wax paper or place them in moisture-vapor-proof containers and store them in the refrigerator.

"Table Talk" Helps Develop Family Unity

Make the most of family mealtime; often it's the only time a family is all together.

Supper is an ideal time to develop a feeling of family unity, declare family life specialists.

According to some research done in home management, many families have only mealtime to share in family conversation and in the feeling of "togetherness."

Table conversation can do a lot for this family unity. Let children talk and feel free to express their opinions and ideas. Family specialists point out that the old adage, "a child should be seen and not heard," doesn't apply here. This is a time, they assert, when children can use their family as a "sounding board. What better place could they learn the fine art of conversation.

The experts also believe that the table talk should allow all members of the family to tell what they have done that day. Or, perhaps a joke or two might put the family in a jovial mood. Not only will this do wonders for the enjoyment of the meal, but will relax the family members so they digest their food much better.

Most important is to try to keep the conversation of interest and of concern to all: Mother, Father, Sis and Brother. As a rule, keep it light and jovial. And, she adds, don't try to solve the heaviest, most worrisome family problems at mealtime. There might be a more appropriate time to settle differences.

Vacant space in your freezer? Put it to use, suggest home economists, by freezing main dishes.

When the Crowd Drops In

Impromptu entertaining today is made far simpler and more gracious with the help of modern equipment such as the electric grill. Plugged in right at the table and ready for service, the grill is a wonderful convenience for cooking and serving such as today's "All-American Meal" of pancakes and syrup. The pancakes can be baked while you chat and served piping hot. To spark the conversation, try this very special, quick variation of ready-mix pancakes, served, of course, with butter and warmed maple-blended syrup.

Orange Griddle Cakes
1 cup ready-mix for pancakes 1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar 2 tablespoons shortening, melted
1 egg, well beaten 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Maple-blended syrup

To pancake ready-mix, add sugar; mix lightly. Combine egg, milk, shortening, and orange rind. Add to pancake mixture, beating until smooth. Bake on hot lightly greased griddle, turning only once. Serve hot with butter and maple-blended syrup. Makes about 12 or 14 griddle cakes.

DO YOU TAKE CHANCES WITH PIGMENT PRINTS?

What are pigment prints? Pigment printing is a method of applying a design to a fabric by one of these methods: EMULSION TYPE—Finely ground pigment is placed in a resin binder and this emulsion is printed on the fabric. LACQUER TYPE—The finely ground pigment is carried by nitrocellulose lacquer. CASEIN OR ALBUMIN TYPE—This substance is used in binding the pigment. The printed design is usually white.

Will pigment prints clean? Some pigment prints clean beautifully; others are removed partially or entirely in wear and cleaning. The degree of serviceability of pigment prints depends on: The fiber content and the construction of the fabric to which it is applied; The type of binder used to carry the pigment; The conditions of "curing" or "setting" of the binder and pigment during manufacture. We will take every precaution to minimize removal of pigment printed designs on your fabrics. We can't predict in advance how the pigment print will react to cleaning.

RICE-STUFFED FRANKS

Frankfurters are always a family favorite, but your family will find them a special treat when they're prepared with this unusual rice-and-cheese filling. For indoor or outdoor eating, winter or summer, these savory franks are sure to please—and they're inexpensive, too!

½ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon onion salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
8 cups cooked rice

2 cups grated American cheese
12 frankfurters

Warm the milk, add butter, salt, pepper, onion salt, and dry mustard. Stir until butter is melted. Stir in rice and one cup of the cheese; let stand until milk is absorbed.

Split frankfurters almost in half lengthwise. Place cut side down on broiler pan and brown lightly on both sides.

Fill frankfurters with seasoned rice. Sprinkle top with remaining cheese. Slip under broiler until cheese melts and browns slightly. Yields six servings.

Plan Adequate Mid-Day Meal

For the sake of health and beauty, homemakers should take time out to eat a good lunch, even though they are alone, claim nutrition authorities. It is not always a question of being too busy. Many wives and mothers spend the greater part of the day alone after the other members of the family have gone off to work and to school.

A bite of food snatched from the refrigerator isn't an adequate lunch, and it is surprising what damage can be done to the figure! Two jelly doughnuts and a cup of coffee with cream might be a quick and easy noontime snack, but, it will contribute more calories than a luncheon of lettuce, tomato and hard-cooked egg salad, a slice of buttered bread and a glass of milk. Yet none of these foods require much preparation, and they are so much more nutritious than the coffee-and-doughnut meal.

The noon meal allows for much ingenuity on your part. However there are two "musts" we can't forget. One is that the food you eat for lunch should give you enough energy to keep you going through the afternoon. Your lunch will be light or heavy, depending upon what you do after lunch. The other "must" for the mid-day meal is this: Be sure to include a good source of protein, a serving of meat, eggs, cheese or a combination of these foods with something else—macaroni and cheese casserole, for example.

"YOU CAN'T BEAT THE BEST"

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

No gift of nature has been more lavishly bestowed upon us than water. At least two-thirds of our bodies are composed of water. It is the largest constituent of every cell, and there are billions of them.

The hand bone cells are one-third water. Cells in all animal bodies must be perpetually bathed in fluid to perform their functions.

Food must be dissolved in liquid during the process of digestion. It must then be carried in a fluid state to all parts of the body to supply its nourishment.

Large amounts of liquid are constantly flushing out the poisons through the urinary system. Water is also leaving the body through the bowels, the lungs and the skin. On a cold day you can see your breath as vapor as it condenses on windows as water.

Animals must constantly take in enough water to carry on the functions of the body and supply all that is lost. Ancient civilizations were built near water.

Plenty of water inside and out is necessary to health, cleanliness, and comfort. On arising in the morning, it is an excellent plan to drink a glass or two of water. It helps the emunctories of the body to begin carrying out the poisons through the kidneys and the bowels.

Too little fluid in the body is often the cause of sluggish feelings, headaches, and various diseases.

Everything that has life must have water. Animals go out and seek it, but plants cannot. Yet they conserve it in many ingenious and wonderful ways.

When traveling or camping, unless you are positive that the water supply is pure, do not drink it until it has been boiled. It may be dangerous, no matter how clear and sparkling it appears.

When the children go to camp this summer, warn them against drinking any water that is not guaranteed by the camp authorities.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

For Top Quality, Keep New Crops Coming

How many carrots can a hungry, growing child eat? How many will you grow in your garden? How long will they stay tender and "just right for the table?"

Top quality vegetables from your home garden (and food for family health and fun) should be the key to your planting schedule. You'll want young crops at the peak of tenderness and flavor spread over as long a period as possible.

of all short-harvest vegetables, you can figure out the number of sowings and the length of row for each from the data in the accompanying table.

Column 1 gives the time each harvest lasts from one sowing.

Sow Each of These Vegetables Several Times

Vegetable	Harvest from one sowing lasts	Grow for family serving
Beets	6 weeks	1 foot
Beans, snap	4 weeks	1 foot
Carrots	8 weeks	2 feet
Cucumbers	4 weeks	2 feet
Endive	6 weeks	1 foot
Lettuce	6 weeks	1 foot
Kohlrabi	3 weeks	2 feet
Spinach	2 weeks	1 1/2 feet
Spinach	2 weeks	3 feet
Sweet Corn	10 days	4 feet
Onion Sets	4 weeks	1 foot
Peas	2 weeks	3 feet
Radish, early summer	1 week	1 foot
Radish, winter	2 weeks	1 foot
	6 weeks	1 foot

Fast growing vegetables—the early ones—all have short seasons when they are tastiest and of best quality. You'll want tender fresh ones coming along all summer. That's not hard to do if you take an hour or so and plan a spring and summer planting schedule. Keep your whole garden busy growing something without getting too much of one, too little of another.

Make several plantings, but smaller ones. That way you use minimum space yet get the most of the fresh vegetables to eat. And you save work, seed, plant food and water. Water can be most important of all if you expect summer restrictions. All it takes is a simple schedule based on how much you expect your family to eat.

What vegetables do you need and how much of each? The harvest of carrots from a single sowing will last in top condition at least eight weeks. A row of carrots two feet long will provide an ample serving for the average family. So a first sowing of carrots 32 feet long will provide 16 servings or two per week.

This should be followed by a second sowing, timed to mature when the first crop has been harvested; and three sowings should see you through the season so far as table use is concerned.

and in column 2, the space to plant in the garden row to provide one serving for a family of four.

Data on days to table size is given in most seed catalogs for every vegetable variety. Early varieties of lettuce will be ready in 40 days; while late head lettuce may take 90 days to mature. By sowing early and late varieties at the same time, you can have a longer harvest. This may be advisable for sweet corn because late varieties do better in late summer and early fall weather. But this practice requires more space, since the slow maturing varieties occupy soil which could be used for something else, if a succession of quick growing crops were sown.

Peas, lettuce, radishes and spinach will not do well in July and early August, so do not plant these crops to yield in hot weather, but sow them for early summer and fall harvests only.

Do not follow a leaf crop, seed crop, or root crop with one of the same class; but use a different type, to avoid diseases and soil exhaustion.

Before sowing a second crop, dig up the soil and apply plant food again, 2 pounds to 100 square feet, or 100 feet of row.

Fox Uses Bag of Tricks To Outwit Dogs, Hunters

What's in Reynard's bag of tricks? "Plenty besides an occasional barnyard hen," says George Hunt, instructor in wildlife management at The University of Michigan.

"Many are the wiles the Michigan red fox uses to mislead the dogs the farmer sets yelping at his heels.

"One of his tricks is to run in a circle, probably so as not to get too far from home. If there are young in the den, father fox will lead the hounds far away. Often he retraces his own steps for a few yards and then makes a long sidewise jump. The dogs, having gone on to the end of the trail, try in vain to get the scent from that point," Hunt says.

"Again," he continues, Reynard will walk along the top rails of fences or the dry ridge where his scent will not remain. Or he will go round and round in the midst of a herd of cattle or sheep so his scent is hidden. He will even cross streams on logs.

"He often outwits even that inveterate trapper—man. To accomplish this he will scratch underneath the steel contraption, turn it over and then spring it so that it is harmless against him."

Hunt points out that although the farmer and the fox are such unrelenting enemies, they actually manage to benefit each other in a great many ways—quite unintentionally, of course.

"The fox destroys numberless field mice and woodchucks for the farmer. In return, the farmer supplies hens for our poultry-snatching friend. We might even say that the fox is grateful for those convenient bridges the farmer has made for his as finicky as a cat about getting wet feet. And he probably laughs with sly appreciation at seeing how the farmer has cleared the land of wolves and panthers," Hunt says.

Although occasionally a fox will raid a hen-roost, if he can force entrance, it seems it's quite unfair to consider him a hopeless rascal. Hunt declares that, as with man, it's the individual who is the outlaw. "It's unfair to blame the species."

Hunt says that in the past several years an estimated average of 20,000 to 25,000 red foxes a year have been taken in Michigan. "In spite of the bounty placed on their hides their number have increased.

"But the pelts, which were once prized by furriers for their beauty are no longer in the fashion show as are the short-haired fur of mink, muskrat and otter," he says.

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

—but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:
Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.
So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here—and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.
And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too—and nowhere else—you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.

This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Concrete Offers Variety of Uses For Improvement

Enhance the beauty and value of your property with concrete. You'll find that concrete improvements are economical, durable, rot-proof, fireproof and practically carefree.

There are many useful and decorative items that can be made with concrete. Perhaps the most common and practical are sidewalks. They are durable, smooth (but not slippery), easy to clean and neat appearing.

Concrete curb walks will preserve the grass and prevent muddy shoes in rainy weather.

In the garden it is often desirable to construct a flag-stone or stepping-stone type of walk. Many color pigments are often introduced into the concrete mixture to produce stones of different shades.

An attractive concrete driveway adds much to the appearance of the grounds and provides a year round passage to the street or highway.

Concrete porches and steps are attractive, safe and will last indefinitely. There are many styles and finishes for steps.

Foundation walls of concrete or concrete masonry not only give needed stability to new and old structures, but they are essential to dry, watertight basements.

Ornamental garden walls and retaining walls of concrete will add to the beauty of the grounds and give a sense of privacy. Textures and colors may be chosen to harmonize with the home and surroundings.

Outdoor fireplaces and barbecue pits are becoming increasingly popular and provide many happy hours out of doors. A yard need not be large to set off effectively any style of fireplace and it is surprising how economically they can be built out of concrete.

Concrete garbage and refuse burners are sanitary conveniences and are inexpensive to make.

Concrete is ideally suited for lawn and garden pools because it is easy to mold and lends itself to a wide diversity of designs. Improve your home and garden now the economical, versatile concrete way.

The public have an insatiable curiosity to know everything except what is worth knowing. —Oscar Wilde.

Enthusiasm frequently has led do-it-yourself home owners into starting projects they are unable to finish. Yet there are innumerable home improvement activities which the average adult can do with professional looking results, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Here are some of the around the house jobs that require only simple skill and ordinary tools.

Building shelves, storage walls and storage cabinets that will solve the family's where-to-put-it problems. Added storage space in the home also can be made by building under-the-eaves bins and wall racks.

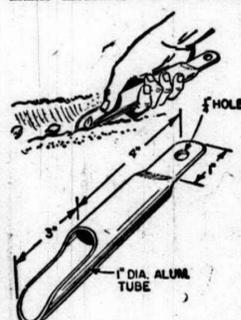

Painting, both interior and exterior, from outside siding, trim and shingles stain to interior walls, doors and woodwork.

Refurbishing interior walls, from patching plaster to hanging wallpaper or installing wood wall paneling.

Give new underfoot comfort

Seed Planter Easily Made From Aluminum Tubing

Planting small seeds by hand can be a speedy job with the help of this planter tube. The tube stores the seeds and the thumb measures out the seeds.

Use either end for furrowing a trough for the seeds.

Cut a 7" length of 1" O.D. Do-It-Yourself aluminum tubing. Mark 3" back from one end and cut half of the tubing away as shown. Smooth the edges with a file or emery cloth.

At the opposite end, compress about 1" of the tube tightly together in a vise. Drill a 1/4" dia. hole in the center of the flat end for hanging the planter when not in use.

and beauty to floors throughout the house by installing colorful resilient asphalt tile, such as Kentile. Insure slip-proof safety by tiling treads of stairways, and install this fire-resistant flooring on basement, attic and bedroom floors, too.

Save on fuel costs and increase cold weather comfort by weather stripping windows and outside doors with metal, felt or wood strips.

Repair and refinish furniture. Here you have a choice of finishes that include bleached wood, stain, shellac, varnish, lacquer and paint.

Re-tie sagging springs, replace worn webbing and reupholster furniture that has lost its trim appearance.

Add outdoor living to your home by building a terrace.

Provide privacy by building a fence or planting a hedge.

Build a low cost outdoor fireplace for new outdoor family living pleasure. It need not be elaborate and costly, and it doesn't require special talents or tools.

Larger Families Result in Trend Toward Building Larger Homes

The most popular homes in 1956 will have three or four bedrooms, reversing the trend of a few years ago when smaller houses were the first choice of home buyers throughout the country, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Homes with a larger number of bedrooms lead in popularity today because American families are growing larger. Last year's birth rate, estimated at an all-time high of 4,100,000, made 1955 the fifth successive record-breaking year. 19,743,850 babies were born during the five year period from 1951 through 1955.

Much of the increase in our national birth rate can be attributed to a continuing rise in the number of third, fourth and fifth children in American families. According to the latest available figures, from 1948 through 1952 the birth rate for third children rose by 34.5%; for fourth children by 42.2%; and for fifth children by 31.4%.

In 1950 the average size of the American family, including all ages, was 3.35 persons. By the end of 1954 this average had increased to 3.59 persons, and continues to rise.

With personal income at an all-time high, these larger families need and can afford larger homes. Between 1951 and 1954 the ratio of three bedroom houses rose from 45% to 67% of total new construction, while the proportion of two bedroom houses dropped significantly. There also was a noticeable gain in the number of new houses with four or more bedrooms.

Architects and builders, recognizing this trend toward larger houses with additional children's bedrooms and play areas are designing new homes with flexible features which enable a family to save on costs by finishing off an expansion attic or basement area as a leisure time project. These new home plans specify the most modern construction methods and building materials such as Kentile asphalt tile, which any adult can install.

This resilient asphalt tile is available in a wide range of smart decorator colors. It can be installed in any room of the home, on any smooth floor above or below grade, and is kept clean with a minimum of effort. In addition to resisting dampness and cold, the asbestos fibers of this tile do not support flames, thus increasing the safety of the house.

While the number of rooms in American homes has grown larger, the total floor area also has increased about 38%. As a result today's most popular home has a floor area of 980 square feet or more. This increased size, together with the popularity of open planning and integration of daytime living areas, provides a new and greater spaciousness for family living.

Nurserymen Urge Attention To Importance of Landscaping

As outdoor living swings into high gear all over the country, a more emphasis is placed on landscaping as millions recognize the pleasanter aspects of living, the beauty and higher property values that landscaping achieves, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Today's landscaping is beautiful and functional and serves multiple purposes in providing more privacy, comfort and higher real estate values. Whole neighborhoods are upgraded in their real estate values when neighborhood group landscaping is engaged in.

An investment in landscaping of 3 to 4 per cent of the total value of a property is increased up to 20 per cent when the property is sold. The increased privacy, comfortable living and greater pride in the home are a bonus as the planting grows and matures.

Tax officials consider landscaping a permanent improvement to the property, its costs to be deducted from the selling price, thus lowering the capital gains tax, when the property is sold.

Landscaping helps make outdoor living more satisfactory... hedges for privacy... shade trees for coolness... grass for a carpet underfoot... flowers for the table as well as a home fruit tree or two, when properly planned and planted—all create beauty spots at home.

Five Tips from VA for Veterans Asking Home Loan

Five tips for veterans with the Spring urge to buy homes under the GI loan program were offered today by Lloyd H. Jameson, Manager of Veterans Administration Regional Office at Detroit.

The tips are:
1. Make sure your home is near enough to transportation, schools and shopping to suit the needs of you and your family.

2. Be sure your income is large enough to pay all costs of home ownership, including loan principal and interest, taxes and insurance, utilities and maintenance, and anything you are buying on installments.

3. Make certain your interests in such matters as deposits, purchase agreements, and sales contracts are fully protected before you make a deposit or sign any document.

4. Be sure you understand the important legal documents you have to sign when you make "final settlement" or "close the loan."

5. And, remember, a GI loan must be repaid. GI loans offer you many advantages, but like any other debt, they must be paid back on schedule.

Details on these five tips and many other helpful hints for veterans thinking about buying a home with the aid of a GI loan are contained in the 30-page VA pamphlet, "To the Home-Buying Veteran," available at any VA office.

Mr. Jameson said veterans may obtain a copy of "To the Home-Buying Veteran" by writing or visiting the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 310 East Jefferson Avenue, Detroit 31, Michigan.

If you want to take the welcome oil your doormat to night-flying insects, replace bulbs in front door lights with yellow enameled bulbs for the spring and summer months. Whether you use the 60-watt or 100-watt size, insects will be less attracted to yellow than to white light. Try yellow bulbs in other outdoor spots where insects are apt to intrude on outdoor fun.

If you are buying new shades for your dresser or dressing table lamp, confine your favorite color to the trimmings. White, near white or pastel tints will give true, uncolored light. G-E lighting specialists remind you for make-up, shades should have nine and one-half-inch bottom diameters. Top distance should be seven inches and the depth of the shade, seven inches. Choose shades that are translucent enough to let light flow through to your face.

Lighted valances over windows or on walls is becoming an increasingly popular way to give overall lighting in living rooms, bedrooms and dining rooms.

The use of such finishing materials as Firzite and Satinlac for the treatment of all types of fine decorative hard woods, Samara, Korina, birch, oak, walnut and knotty pine, is carefully spelled out and should be helpful to the "do-it-yourself" addict.

Clear-Cut Separation of Water and Sewerage Urged by Michigan Department of Health

If you're a suburban or country home owner, make sure that the water pump is located at least 50 feet to one side or the other of the septic tank, the Michigan Department of Health urged today. In a series of Spring tips for homeowners and builders, the health department emphasized that, "The separation of water supply from sewage disposal isn't just an arbitrary recommendation, but is based on long years of experience. Unless there is clear-cut separation of water from sewage, there is a danger that you will end up drinking contaminated water."

Willard F. Shephard, department engineering division chief, added that the distance between the water and sewage, not the depth of the well, is the chief protection against water-carried infections. Shephard said that while most water-carried diseases are under control in Michigan, they are not eliminated. "Michigan has had six cases of typhoid fever already this year," he said, "which tells us that all we have to do is drop our guard and typhoid and other water-carried diseases may take the advantage to strike out at some member of the family."

The health department said new plumbing installed in any home should be treated with a chlorine solution to clean out any contaminating materials in the pipes.

It was also recommended that most septic tanks should be cleaned at three-year intervals, and that homeowners should hire only those septic tank cleaners who are licensed by the Michigan Department of Health.

The department said that city homeowners who have trouble with drains plugged by tree roots may find that copper sulphate will help prevent roots from entering the drain, and clean out roots which have already made entry. Shephard added that both state and local health departments have instruction sheets on the use of copper sulphate to help keep drains running free.

All-Season Sundeck

Sundecks like this set the stage for dozens of outdoor family activities all during the warm season. They're also good cool weather spots for the kiddies to play outdoors, for the elevated floor is free from dampness. Douglas fir 2x8s form the floor and banister seats, with boards spaced a quarter-inch to allow moisture to run through. Weather-resistant fir or western red cedar picnic tables and benches can stay out all year.

Variety of Gable Ends Panels, rather than lumber, make the most satisfactory gable ends in residences, builders have found. Favorites nowadays are plain, factory-primed and patterned panels of Masonite hardboard.

A variety of styles, pictured here, are possible with the use of these materials. All have the characteristics of the hardboard itself; they are quickly installed, easy to paint, rigid and strong. Meeting any taste are the styles shown. Panelgroove has clean-cut vertical grooves at intervals of four inches. An appealing design is panel and batten, with wood strips punctuating the wide expanse of Tempered Presdwood. Ridgeline has a combed texture appearance that harmonizes with any style of siding. It comes in strips for lap siding, in large panels or in shingle sizes. Plain panels, lower right illustration, take paint easily and hold it long. Factory-primed panels, of course, require only one or two coats, saving in labor cost. All the products for gable ends may be used also for exterior siding or interior wall treatments.

VARNISHING TIPS

Varnish should be flowed on. First, apply it in the direction of the wood grain, then cross-brush it and, finally, brush in the original direction again. Remember that brushmarks will level out by themselves.

Changing Scene

Some may wonder why the circus keeps coming back year after year. After all, the acts and the animals and the clowns and all the rest of it are pretty much the same.

One reason is that a great new audience comes into being in this country each year. Last year, for instance, 4,000,000 babies were born—and none had seen an elephant!

In other words, the circus comes back because the American scene is forever changing. There's a lesson in that for merchants and all other business people. They must keep on selling their wares and attractions to their new customers as well as their old. And they must help sell, too, the philosophies and ideals, based on freedom, that have made this country what it is. For the new faces need to learn about them—and all the rest of us need to be constantly reminded.

Grass Roots Opinion

GREENSBURG, KAN., SIGNAL: "There is a paradox in this thing called newspapering. Newspaper people meet deadlines if they have to go without sleep and meals. Occasionally, however, a breakdown makes it impossible to meet the deadline. It is then the phone starts ringing, and impatient, even angry voices inquire, 'What's going on down there? Can't you get a paper out on time?' At the moment it seems unreasonable to people who have been working around the clock. But it is also a warming thought. The town is waiting for the newspaper."

SAN DIEGO, TEXAS, FACTS: "New sources of financial support must be found for our country's private elementary and secondary schools. The high standards of the independent schools are threatened because of inadequate income to meet rising costs of operation. The independent school does not generally receive direct support from government—local, state or federal. This is as it should be."

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., JEFFERSONIAN: "The choice seems to us to be plain, we can have socialism (an opening wedge for communism), with government in the saddle to over-govern and inhibit us all, to the point of destroying initiative and ambition—or we can have free enterprise, and such other freedoms destined to live or die with it."

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"This Sunday being Mothers day, we stopped at Smith school to ask a few questions about mothers. Do you think she is always right when she asks you to do something and are there things she asks you to do that you don't like to do?"

DAVE BEGLINGER, 1115 Roosevelt (5th grade): "What she wants me to do is always right. Most of the time I do the things she asks, but I don't like to clean up the basement. I have to do that every Saturday."

DENNIS WHITE, 8834 Sheldon (3rd grade): "If your mother tells you to do something you should say yes instead of no because when your mother tells you something to do, it's the right thing. I always do what she asks—except sometimes I don't. I don't like to clean the house because it's too hard of work for me. I've got a brother who helps though."

JUDY OLDS, 9211 Ball (3rd grade): "Everything she asks me to do I do because it always comes out all right. Things I don't like to do are making beds and washing dishes. I don't do it every day—just when she asks me. Mama says I might as well get used to it because when I get grown up I'll have to do it all the time."

NANCY DERR, 1076 Simpson: "Yes, she is always right. I was playing with my bearcraft set and got goofed up and then she told me what was wrong and everything came out all right. Something I don't like to do is get my hair washed because I get soap in my eyes and water down my neck—it's all messy. And I don't like to go to school. But I think she's right in making me go cause when I'm home I get in trouble with my two brothers and sister."

Circulate Petition to Replace Office of Public Instruction

Organized schoolmen are pounding the pavements to get 300,000 signatures on a petition abolishing the state department of public instruction. They need 218,703 to place the issue on the ballot but solicitors are working for 300,000 signatures.

The plan would expand the size of the State Board of Education (which now governs six teachers' colleges) from four to eight members.

The board then would appoint a superintendent of public instruction.

Thus, the board would continue its direction of the teachers' colleges in addition to getting the new power to direct the entire elementary and secondary school system.

Petitions are being circulated by the Michigan Education Association (MEA) with the support of the Farm Bureau and other major organizations in the state. Aim of the plan is to "take the office of education out of politics" by having the superintendent appointed rather than elected.

Outstate communities have received an invitation to take advantage of a new law empowering them to create a water or sewerage district to help answer their own problems.

The legislature approved a bill giving the Michigan Water Resources Commission authority to help.

The law was inspired by the crisis in southeastern Michigan which annually goes through a water shortage and where communities lack the money and authority for individual action.

After Aug. 10 when it becomes effective, communities may get authority for their district from the commission by making application and proving the need in a hearing.

The original bill would have given the commission power to force action upon local areas and a companion proposal would have released $600,000 in state money to help.

These extended powers were whacked out of the proposals as they went through the legislature. The commission also was named in the law as the fiscal agent for the state, releasing state and federal money to local districts when it becomes available.

"That's what the law reads, but there just isn't any money available," said Milton P. Adams, the commission's executive secretary.

Official Lansing buzzed with the news that Secretary of State James M. Hare was applying to have his 221 fee-paid branch office managers brought under civil service.

Hare said his request was prompted by the embezzlement of $74,000 by Mrs. Anna Thorpe, former branch manager at St. Clair Shores, who later fled to Mexico.

He said the same sort of thing had plagued his predecessors and pointed to two embezzlements of $14,000 and $12,000 for which two branch managers were sent to prison.

"I'm complaining against the system of appointment which can lead to trouble," he said.

Republicans pointed out that placing the managers under

Sees No Danger in Government Debt

Babson Park, Mass. So much appears in the newspapers today about stock split-ups, I believe readers will be interested to know why they occur.

LARGE STOCKHOLDERS WILL DIE

Most of the split-ups are due to the fact that some very large stockholder has died and his stock must be sold to help the executors pay the estate taxes, which may approximate fifty per cent. As investors are much more willing to buy stocks at a low price, the brokers strongly advise split-ups in such cases to help the marketing of the stock. There is nothing unethical about this. No stockholder should basically be harmed or helped by such action. If it's a "two for one" split-up, and if you have ten shares of stock, you are sent, without cost, ten shares more. The capitalization is doubled, but the assets are the same. Hence, theoretically the value of your share after the split-up should be only one half what it was before.

However, owing to the gullibility of investors and to their desire for low-priced stocks, the sum total of the "split-up" stock for a while is usually worth more than before there was any talk of a split. In addition, new investors in a split-up stock may be misled by the price of the shares. For instance, just before General Electric was split, it sold at about 125. It is now quoted at a price of around 60, which looks lower to most people. However, because the stock was split 3-for-1, this really represents a

WHAT PROMINENT STOCKS HAVE DONE SINCE 1929

Without taking any position as to whether you should now buy stocks, or put your money into Government Bonds and await much lower stock prices, I submit the following interesting table, using stocks which have not been split since 1929, so as not to mislead you.

SECURITY FOR GOVERNMENT BONDS

Many prominent bankers and businessmen believe that the government debt should be cut down. They may be right; but I see no vital reason for this. The U. S. Government is a corporation with definite assets, including about one fourth of all the real estate in the United States! I understand that an inventory of these federal holdings can be secured from Senator Hayden of Arizona. This report shows that the government has over 400,000,000 acres of land, about 400,000 buildings which cost over $14,000,000,000, very valuable mineral rights, undeveloped water powers, and many other assets.

Furthermore, there are various ways of figuring the government debt. Also, in addition to its power to tax and the right to print money, which no other corporation has, the Federal Government keeps books in a very conservative manner. For instance, if a new Post Office is built in your community, it is not listed in the Capital Account, as every private corporation would do, but it is charged to Operating Expenses.

"THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT"

Although there is no lack of security for Government Bonds and no fear of present outstanding U. S. Government Bonds defaulting on their coupons, such bonds could suffer from inflation. I refer to the fact that the interest payment on Government Bonds is fixed. Hence, if the value of the dollar declines, the price of long-term Government Bonds might decline correspondingly. This danger can largely be offset, however, by buying short-term Government Bonds.

Inflation is a danger which all investors should carefully watch and fight. This is especially true in a democracy like ours, where Congressmen and Senators vote for inflationary measures just to get reelected. Such politicians are selling our country "down the river," or, as the Bible says, "for a mess of pottage." I know nothing about the possibilities of World War III; but if it comes, I forecast that our dollar will go to thirty cents. In that case, most Government Bond holders, yes—investors, employers, wageworkers, and housewives, too—will suffer.
