

Burroughs Tells Why:

Annexation Being Opposed by Plant

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a report of an interview with Robert Niemi, manager of the Plymouth Division of Burroughs Corporation, on the subject of the city's petition to annex certain township property. The annexation would take in most of Burroughs' land. In this interview, Niemi suggests that certain "steps" have been, or are being taken, to thwart the city's petition, though he declined to describe them. Elsewhere on this page is reported a story about residents having been moved to the Burroughs property. This may be one of the "steps" the manager mentions.)

"The attitude of the Burroughs Corporation, if it could be put in a single phrase," said Robert A. Niemi, manager, "is that we would like to be a good citizen of the whole community. We would also wish to abide—in spirit and in fact—in accordance with the will of the majority of the people of the community in which we live.

"We feel that this will was expressed in a free and democratic election held a few months ago. At that time the voting citizens, by a large and conclusive vote, expressed themselves as being opposed to annexation of their community to the city of Plymouth for purposes of government.

"Consequently, we at Burroughs feel compelled to join with these voters, in any feasible way, to help them achieve what they voted for at the polls.

"We would have the same attitude if these voters should choose another course in this matter which they felt would be more desirable and would benefit the majority of the people in the community as well as ourselves.

"This, essentially, represents our position today. But in support of our position I would like to explain further.

"When the annexation (and incorporation) issue came up last year we decided to remain completely neutral until the citizens of our community had a chance to express themselves. We did remain neutral. Burroughs, as a corporation, made absolutely no statements and exerted no pressure on anyone in any direction.

"When the election was over and the results known, we felt that a clear-cut decision had been established. We settled back, expecting a period of peace during which patterns for city-township cooperation would be established and all old grudges forgotten. Annexation and incorporation seemed to be a dead issue. In general, the matter seemed to have been disposed of in a democratic way.

"Following the election, we at Burroughs continued our policy to take no public position, because we felt none was necessary. We continued to live as a responsible citizen, contributing to every community cause that seemed worthwhile, paying our taxes, and conducting our business.

"We would still be saying nothing and living quietly like any other citizen if we had not been thrust into a struggle against our will by the city's attempt to annex our property, and if successful, to wreck the township's tax base.

"We realize that if we did not occupy our particular geographic location, that we would not be involved at all. If the annexation statutes were not as they are, Burroughs would not be an unwilling participant in a tug of war between local branches of government. We have no desire to be so involved.

"But, since we are, we believe it is our duty to try to help, in such ways that we can, to see that the expressed will of the voters of our community is carried out.

"It would be naive, of course, to say that we had no financial interest in what happens. Naturally we are involved in how much our taxes will cost and so on. These are important business considerations.

"But there is something just as big as business considerations. That is, that the annexation statutes are being used to force something upon the people of this community they do not want.

"Therefore, any steps that we have taken, or will take, are entirely with the idea of preventing the results of the last election from being ignored.

"As a matter of tactics, we know that the city is attempting to utilize that portion of the annexation law which permits annexation of "vacant" township areas through a combined majority of the "yes" or "no" votes in both the city and township. It is obvious that the township people can be outvoted in any simple majority election.

2 Burroughs Employees Hold Election Cards

A comfortable apartment constructed within the Plymouth plant of the Burroughs corporation and occupied by a man and his wife who are registered Plymouth township voters may be a trump card held by the big company should its proposed annexation to the city come to a vote.

Although company officials will not admit that they are housing two voters for a possible election, it is common knowledge that the man and wife, both employees of the firm, are now permanent residents of the 41100 Plymouth road address.

They have been identified as Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Anderson. The Andersons moved into the apartment over a month ago, according to reports.

By having even one disapproving voter on the land to be annexed, the city plans to annex the property would appear to be halted. Previously, there were no residents on the Burroughs and other properties proposed for annexation. That meant that the land could be annexed by merely having the majority approval of city voters.

But by now having residents on the land and having them cast disapproving votes in an election, the proposal would be defeated.

There was a reverse situation last fall when annexation of the Roderick Cassidy farm was on the ballot. City voters voted to accept the property and the Cassidys, as the only residents, voted for annexation.

What the city can do about this new development is not known. City officials also had heard the rumor a month ago. Before going on his vacation this week, City Manager Albert Glassford was asked by The Mail what the city will do next. He replied that he did not know.

In a lighter vein, the city manager said that the city could move a number of voters into the mausoleum at Riverside cemetery to out-vote those living in the Burroughs plant. "But," he added, "that's carrying things to a ridiculous point."

The city filed its first petition to annex Burroughs and other land on May 2. This petition was ruled invalid because a deed for some of the city-owned land in-

CROWNED MISS PLYMOUTH of 1956 was Pat Anderson (Miss Clover Television). Last year's Miss Plymouth, Juanita Lee, is shown placing the crown. The two attendants are Marlene Watchko (Miss Stop & Shop) and Dee Brandel (Miss Army Recruiting).

Pat Anderson Named '56 Queen As Thousands Enjoy 4th Events

Money Taken from Purse

Over $100 was taken from a purse last Saturday night from the J & J Pizzeria, 109 West Ann Arbor trail.

Owner of the purse, Mrs. Joan Christie, told police that it was in the back room of the building while she was at work in the restaurant. Police have questioned several suspects.

It threatened rain all day and bathing beauties shivered in the cool of the evening—but thousands of people still attended Plymouth's day-long July 4th events and made it one of the most successful yet.

It was impossible to determine how many people attended the various events which opened with a morning parade and ended with the traditional fireworks display. But the Chamber of Commerce believes that many more people than last year attended the various events.

Perhaps one of the most popular activities was the Miss Plymouth contest which was won by Miss Pat Anderson (Miss Clover Television). It was hardly bathing suit weather when the 19 girls paraded across the stage before the overflow crowd at the football field. A light drizzle fell several times during the evening, but crowds stayed and everything went off as scheduled.

Because the holiday fell in the middle of the week, there were many who stayed at home this year instead of traveling. Governor G. Mennen Williams, speaking at the evening program, commended the community for again sponsoring an event to keep people safely at home.

Heading the 1956 program was Harold Young of Michigan Bell, Main street was heavily crowded with spectators as the parade started at 11 a.m. A contingent of Marines and sailors from Grosse Isle headed the parade, followed by a half hour of floats, antique automobiles, fire engines, mounted horses and marchers.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild (colonists in stocks) won first prize in the float competition. Second and third prizes went to Charles Guideau (World Peace) and Utilities Lines Construction company (Indians). Winning a special float prize was the 4-H club.

A horse show took place at noon at which ribbons were awarded riders in six classes. They were: Speed and action class, first, Ellen Cowgill; second, Charlene Moers; third, Phil Baker.

Barrel bending class, first, Charlene Moers; second, Charlotte Luker; third, Jim Greenan.

Mediators Attempt Settlement Tomorrow

State and federal mediators have called a meeting for 10 a.m. Friday in another attempt to settle the week-old strike which has shut down the Champion Containers, Incorporated, on Sheldon road and brought on an alleged moment of violence involving the union president and a plant engineer.

Seventy-five hourly employees walked off their jobs at 11 a.m. last Thursday as negotiations were going on. The walk-out had been authorized in an earlier strike vote but did not materialize until one of the company's customers took a truck to the plant in an attempt to remove dies used in printing on the containers.

Pickets were immediately stationed in front of the plant on Sheldon road and at its temporary office on Ann Arbor road. Six meetings have taken place between management and the union at the Mayflower hotel with two of them attended by mediators from the state and national governments.

The mediators will again attempt to reach an agreement tomorrow morning. Leonard D. Bennett is the state mediator while Harry Caton is representing the federal agency. It is apparent that no progress has been made to date.

The word "co-determination" has been the snag in the contract renewal agreement so far. In essence, the union, United Paper Workers of America, AFL-CIO, wants to maintain a right in making certain decisions. Company officials state that they should be able to manage their own business.

A spokesman for the union said that management is apparently "trying to clean house and break up the union. We want to be fair," he added, "but management thinks it has the sole right to run everything as it sees fit. We think that we should also have some say in working out things... as part of a team."

The alleged violence took place Friday afternoon when James Ryan, industrial engineer, was leaving the plant. Plant Manager Jack McFalda was quoted as saying that he was driving behind Ryan when pickets stopped the engineer's car and asked to search it for dies.

McFalda said that Ryan refused, stating that he had none. "They then reached in the car and turned off the ignition, pulled him out of the car, dragged him across the road and into a ditch," McFalda added.

The plant manager said that he then went to police and filed a complaint against the three people involved. A warrant has been issued against one of the three, Robert Fennimore of Northville, president of the union. Fennimore was placed under arrest yesterday morning on a charge of assault and battery.

Local police have maintained periodic checks at the struck plant.

Negotiations have not yet reached talk about pay. "If raises are in order," McFalda said, "we will follow the pattern of industry, but we can't do anything that will make us non-competitive."

Citing an example of the company's objections, McFalda said that before anyone is fired, a committee from the union must first be consulted and heard. "We feel it's our own right to discipline an employee and it's the union's right to sit in on any citizens seeking cooperation between all governmental agencies in the area. Invitations were sent to 64 organizations asking that representatives be present.

The group elected George Bowles and William Lyons as temporary co-chairmen and decided to re-issue invitations for another meeting Tuesday, July 24 at 8:00 p.m. at the high school. It was emphasized that annexation would not be an issue for the group to consider.

School Board Has $1,515,000 Bond - fire

There was a $1,515,000 fire at Plymouth high school Monday night but no one bothered to call the fire department. In fact, school officials were jubilant over the occasion.

Three boxloads of paid-up school bonds dating as far back as 1924 were burned in a cereheadaches and work go up in smoke. Destroyed was a $95,000 bond issue from 1924, a $150,000 bond issue from 1927, a $1,350,000 bond issue from 1949 and a $200,000 bond issue from Hough school sold in 1950.

School accountant Donald Sutherland of Sutherland and Robson said that there was no further need for the old bonds and coupons. It took over a half hour for the large pile of documents to burn.

The Plymouth Community School district now has three bond issues remaining. A 1951 issue for $245,000 is now down to $110,000 with $24,107 in reserve; a 1952 issue for $650,000 is reduced to $545,000 with $161,411 in reserve; and the $3,000,000 issue of 1955 has been reduced to $2,880,000 with $149,310 in reserve.

Approval was also given to have the entire roof at Truesdell school and part of the roof at Cherry Hill school repaired. The jobs, costing an estimated $608, will be done by school workmen.

The board also approved for the third year a group insurance plan for any school child desiring to participate. The Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents will recommend an insuring firm.

A special meeting has been called for Wednesday night, July 18, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be between the school board and the Plymouth township planning commission at the township hall.

Its purpose is to have township group inform the school board of new housing developments in relation to possible school sites.

PICKET-EMPLOYEES of Champion Containers, Incorporated are stationed in front of the plant along Sheldon road, shown here, and also at the temporary offices on Ann Arbor road. The strike started last Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wendland

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wendland Wed in Eastern Ceremony

White gladioli decorated the altar of Salem Lutheran Church, Springville, New York, at 7:00 o'clock Saturday, June 30, when Carolyn Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bond of Springville, New York, and Ronald Ernest Wendland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wendland of Plymouth, Michigan, were united in marriage. The Rev. Daniel J. Kneuppel performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, donned a white gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin fashioned with a lace bodice and long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. The deep lace peplum over the tulle skirt extended into a cathedral-length train. There were lace appliques decorated with seed pearls and sequins on the skirt matching those on the pointed collar. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a corsage of pale pink roses.

Miss Patricia Wendland, sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor, and Miss Janice Bond, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid, were dressed alike in floor length gowns of pale yellow crystalettes with matching head bands. Mrs. Richard Morris and Miss Jean Godert bridesmaids were gowned alike in pale green crystalettes with matching head bands. All the attendants carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and pink roses. Miss Carol Parsons, flower girl, wore a floor length gown of white crystalette. She carried a small bouquet of pink roses, with a band of pink flowers in her hair.

Allen Wagenschutz of Livonia, Michigan, served as best man; Ushers were Leroy Bond, cousin of the bride, of West Valley, New York; Gerald Wendland, cousin of the bridegroom, of Bonulus, Michigan; and Richard Lickfeldt of Plymouth, Michigan. Donald Day, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore a dior-blue lace dress with white accessories. Mrs. Bond wore a dusty-rose lace dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore a white orchid corsage. "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Daniel Kneuppel, soloist, accompanied on the organ by Kenneth Ahrens who also played appropriate wedding music.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Boston Fire Hall, Boston, New York, for about 300 guests.

For a trip through the New England States the bride wore a pale blue linen suit with white accessories.

A reception is being held July 14, in Livonia, Michigan, after which the couple will be at home at 743 Blunk Street, Plymouth, Michigan.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson To Head Opti-Mrs. Club

Mrs. Clarence Wilson was elected president of the newly-organized Opti-Mrs. Club, a group composed of wives of Optimist club members, at a meeting held Friday, July 6, at the Robert Carson home.

Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Wilson were Mrs. Matthew Fortney, vice president; Mrs. Charles Brosius, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Carson, treasurer.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Lake Orion Home Awaits Henry Knights

At a double ring ceremony in Evangelical church, Detroit, Adeline Claire Patton became the bride of Henry Vinson Knight, Elder Gerald Fitch officiated at the service, assisted by Elder Athol Packer, both of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper H. Langhman of Livonia, Michigan, and her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Knight of Plymouth.

For the afternoon ceremony, Claire chose a floorlength gown of white embroidered organdy with fitted bodice and three tiered skirt. She wore a fingertip length veil and carried a colonial arrangement of greens and baby breath.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Virginia Ade, of Muskegon, was maid of honor. She wore pastel pink taffeta under white nylon and carried pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Ann Penson of Northville and Verlyn Knight, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned in pastel green under white nylon and carried pale green carnations.

Jay Lively of Detroit was Henry's best man and seating the guests were Fred Patton, brother of the bride, James Lancaster and Richard Wilson.

After a trip through Canada and points of interest in New York and Ohio, the newlyweds will make their home at Lake Orion, Michigan.

5 YEARS OLD WHEN IT WAS BORN

By C. C. Wiltse
Registered Pharmacist

The other day we received a shipment of a new and highly-effective prescription product. Commercially, this product was just born — but it had been 5 years in the making.

From the birth of the idea for filling a medical need it is a long way to conception. Thousands of painstaking experiments must be done—chemists, pharmacologists, pharmacists, biologists, and many other scientists make sure that the new drug is safe and efficient in the laboratory.

Then a great number of doctors in clinics and private practice make certain of its worth in humans. Only when fully evaluated is the new drug released for use by your family.

We make it a point in our pharmacy to promptly stock new, meritorious prescription products so your doctor's orders can be filled quickly.

This is another in a series of informative advertisements appearing in this paper each week, presented by Community Pharmacy, 330 S. Main.

Crippled Again Find Happiness At Local Lodge

Plymouth again has become the pleasant daytime home for many of western Wayne county's crippled children and adults who are this month being brought to the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge on Plymouth road.

About 38 youngsters from four to 14 are brought daily to the lodge from Monday through Thursday where they are kept busy with individual and group projects and entertainment. They have suffered all kinds of crippling diseases.

Sponsored annually by the Wayne Out-County Chapter of Crippled Children and Adults, the program also includes two other groups who arrive here on alternate Fridays. They are the teen-age group called the Happy Friendship Club and the adults known as the Friendly Circle.

The youngest group was this week's guest of the J. L. Hudson company at their Northland Kiddyland. Two buses were sent to the lodge to transport the 38 youngsters.

A new addition to the lodge this year is a refrigerator purchased through the efforts of the Easter Seal society, Girl Scouts and Kiwanis club.

Plymouth Parolee Returned to Jail

A Plymouth parolee is back in Pontiac jail this week after exchanging gunfire with a patrolman early last Friday morning.

He is Robert McGinnis, 25, who resided here at 141 Holbrook. A noted escape artist, McGinnis was wanted for investigation of armed robbery when his car was spotted in Pontiac. While Detective James LaPonsie waited for help, McGinnis and four companions returned to the car.

McGinnis ran and exchanged a shot over his shoulder with LaPonsie. The others, three men and a girl, were taken into custody. After teletype messages were sent to surrounding areas, local police kept vigilance at McGinnis' address. He was arrested, however, at Drayton Plains the next day.

McGinnis escaped from Hillsdale jail in 1951, escaped Detroit police while being fingerprinted four months later, a few hours later was halted by Royal Oak police and broke away. The following June he got away from police who were taking him to jail. But a week later was caught and was sentenced to Jackson prison from where he was paroled last December.

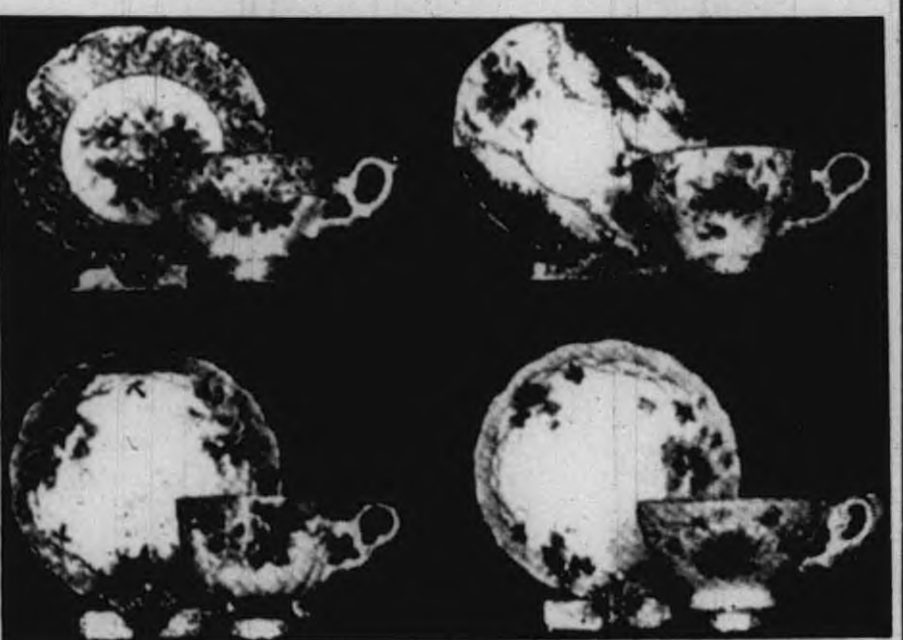

Mrs. Howard Salisbury of Sunset avenue entertained Mrs. Robert Harding, Mrs. Charles Wyse and Mrs. Ray Barber at luncheon Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Fries of Durand spent the last week with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenyon of North Territorial road.

Appears Before Senate Committee

An appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations committee is being made this week by R. Roy Pursell, 639 South Main street, who plans to tell why he is against a Senate resolution proposing a committee to study a union with other world democracies.

A staunch opponent of the United Nations, social security and other government control measures, Pursell left for Washington Tuesday and expected to go before the committee sometime yesterday. He had received notification from the committee clerk allotting him time for written and oral statements.

The resolution was presented by Senator Estes Kefauver, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee. The resolution asks that a presidential delegation meet in convention with other NATO and democratic delegates to "explore and to report to what extent their peoples might further unite within the framework of the United Nations, and agree to form, federally or otherwise, a defense, economic and political union."

Eighteen senators and 65 representatives have endorsed this resolution so far. Pursell pointed out, they include Senator Patrick McNamara of Michigan and Representative Martha Griffiths of the 17th district. Several other Michigan representatives have also expressed their approval.

Ticket Wagon Stolen

The Melody Circus Playhouse wagon that appeared in the July 4th parade was stolen sometime last Saturday night and later recovered.

Used by the Plymouth Rotary club to sell tickets for the July 16 production it is sponsoring at the playhouse, the converted milk wagon was parked behind the high school when stolen. Several boys reported the missing wagon to police the next day, finding it along McClumpha road.

Since the wagon is propelled by horses only, it is still a mystery how the thieves made away with the vehicle. It is now in custody at the police station.

Mrs. Mae Biederstadt of South Lyon was a luncheon guest of Mrs. A. M. Wileiden Friday. They were former neighbors and schoolmates and lived west of South Lyon.

Thomas Thompson
Funeral services were held Monday for Thomas Thompson, 61, of 853 Sutherland, who died at 9 a.m. July 5 at his home. His sudden death was caused by an acute coronary occlusion.

Mr. Thompson was employed as an industrial serviceman for Consumers Power company.

Born August 1, 1894 in Elk Rapids, Michigan, he was the son of Peter and Anna Christensen Thompson. He was united in marriage with the former Nellie Clement who survives with the following relatives:
Two sons, Frederick Thompson of Walla Walla, Washington; Floyd Thompson of Kellogg, Idaho; six daughters, Mrs. Elaine Milton of Bay City, Mrs. Joan Sullivan of Livonia; Mrs. Phyllis Wiley, Mrs. Clemence Malik and Mrs. Mary Mitchell of Plymouth and Mrs. Bonnie Tafalsky of Traverse City; two sisters, Mrs. Mantena Dennis of East Jordan and Mrs. Marie Oliver of Central Lake, Michigan; and 25 grandchildren.

Mr. Thompson moved here from Traverse City in 1929. He is a member of the Free and Accepted Masons.

Masonic services were held at the Schrader Funeral home under the auspices of the Plymouth Rock Lodge with Reverend Robert D. Richards officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Pallbearers were Ralph Nique, George Mayhew, James Crump, Lion Walker, Donald Messacar and Thomas Terry.

Harold Nelson

Harold Sherwood Nelson, an employee of the Burroughs corporation, died at his home at 4244 Parkhurst, on July 5 at 6 a.m. He was 61. Death was due to a heart condition.

Born January 18, 1895 in Calhoun county, Michigan, he was the son of Edwin and Isabelle Savary Nelson. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Hill of Berkeley, Michigan, and two grandchildren. Mr. Nelson came to Plymouth from Northville in 1945.

Funeral services were held Saturday, July 7 from the Schrader Funeral home at 3 p.m. The Reverend Henry J. Walch, D. D., officiated. Interment was in Acacia Park cemetery, Birmingham.

Pallbearers were Scott Smith, Larry Vuilemot, Jack Sweet, Melvin Krumm, Bill Stover and Howard Gilbert.

Charles E. Williamson, Jr.
Services will be held Friday, July 13, at 2:30 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Charles Edward Williamson, Jr., age two, who died Tuesday afternoon, July 10, at his home on 11350 Southworth, Plymouth township.

He was born May 20, 1954 in Plymouth to Charles Edward and Evalene Alder Williamson. In addition to the parents, the deceased is survived by a sister, Theota; and grandparents, Mr. Mrs. Walter T. Williamson and Mrs. Walter Alder, all of Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

The services will be conducted by the Reverend Patrick Clifford of Calvary Baptist church. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth V. Kukar

Elizabeth Victoria Kukar of 11815 Inkster road, Livonia, passed away Monday, July 9, at Ziegler Osteopathic hospital, Detroit, after a short illness. She was 55.

Born June 9, 1901 in Altus, Arkansas to William and Barbara Becker Denne, the deceased married George Kukar there on April 27, 1920. The couple had resided in Redford prior to moving to Livonia nine years ago.

Mrs. Kukar was a member of the Altar society of St. Robert's church, West Chicago boulevard and Inkster road, and the Christian Mothers. The rosary was recited Wednesday evening, July 11, at 8 p.m. in St. Peter's church followed by the funeral services at 9 the next morning with the Reverend Father George Stromske officiating. Interment was in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, Oakland county.

In addition to her husband, the deceased leaves three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Lillard of Livonia, Mrs. Pauline Schaible of Redford and Mrs. Rosetta Stevens of Fort Smith, Arkansas. Also, one brother, John Denne, Longmont, Colorado; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Hoffman, Quincy, Illinois; Mrs. Leo Framel, Fort Smith, Arkansas; Mrs. William Holloway, El Dorado, Arkansas; and eight grandchildren. Mrs. Kukar was preceded in death by two brothers and one sister.

Hugh Quee

Word has been received here of the death of Hugh Quee, former resident of Northville road and retired employee of the Detroit House of Correction.

Mr. Quee died suddenly July 9 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Huber, Concord, Michigan. He and his wife, Margaret, moved from Northville road to 1 Conover street, Leamington, Ontario, four years ago. Mr. Quee was 66 years old May 4.

Surviving with his wife and daughter are three grandchildren,

Roberta, Thomas and Maureen Huber.
Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today, Thursday, July 12, from the Hunter-Callender Funeral home, Terry at Schoolcraft roads.

Mrs. Helen Thayer

Mrs. Helen Thayer of Albion street, Farmington, former resident of Plymouth, succumbed Tuesday evening, July 10, at University hospital, Ann Arbor, after a lengthy illness.

The deceased was born March 3, 1918 in Alba, Michigan to Elmer and Almada Slater, now residents of Plymouth. She attended school in Plymouth and moved to Livonia following her marriage to Charles Thayer.

Besides the parents and husband, Mrs. Thayer is survived by a son, Charles, Jr., two brothers, Elmer Slater, Jr. of Ypsilanti; Delbert Slater of Garden City; and a sister, Mrs. Edna Allen, now living in Paris, France.

Funeral arrangements had not been made by press-time. Friends may call the Caldwell Funeral home in Garden City for additional information.

grievance covered in the contract. We've come to the point where employees are never wrong." Asked about the printing dies, McFada said that a truckload of dies were taken from the plant on July 4th. They are owned, he added, not by the company, but by the customers. "If the customers want them, they should be able to have them," the manager declared.

Champion was purchased earlier this year by the Ohio Boxboard company of Rittman, Ohio.

Governor Williams, Lieutenant Governor Phil Hart and other guests. The motorcade then sped to the athletic field where a large crowd awaited the start of the program. In a short address, the governor asked the audience to re-study the principles of the Declaration of Independence. Also speaking briefly were the lieutenant governor and State Senator John Swainson.

Disc jockey Don McLeod introduced each of the bathing beauties and conducted a short interview. Biggest laugh of the evening came when he asked Shirley Groom (Miss Beyer Rexall Drugs) where she worked. "Cunninghams," Shirley replied.

Picked as the five finalists besides Pat Anderson were Betty Mutchler (Miss Graham's), Ethyl Hartig (Miss D & C), Marlene Watch'o (Miss Stop & Shop), and Dee Brandel (Miss Army). From these, Pat was named Miss Plymouth and Marlene and Dee were named attendants.

A long list of gifts was presented the new queen after she was crowned by Miss Plymouth of 1955, Juanita Lee. Gifts also went to each contestant. A new feature this year was a trophy given to Miss Plymouth by Plymouth chiropractors.

Sagebrush Shorty and his pals, a favorite of most youngsters, presented his act which included some ventriloquism and magic. The WJBK-TV personality was also one of the beauty contest judges along with his wife-to-be,

Pat Anderson, Miss Plymouth of 1956, and her two attendants, Dee Brandel and Marlene Watch'o, will appear on the Sagebrush Shorty TV show this Sunday at 11 a.m. over Channel 2.

Marie Bauer; Don McLeod; and Pat and Ralph Harris, owners of Artists Research Bureau.

Firemen of Plymouth township and city, using a 1917 fire truck presented a comedy skit which delighted the crowd. A small building was set afire and every mishap imaginable happened to the old-time smoke-eaters as they attempted to extinguish the blaze. (The house burned down.)

Four high school boys from Ann Arbor calling themselves the Four Pantomimes joined in the entertainment, followed by Rew the Magician. Rew performed his famous trunk escape act. The Motor State Shows was toured by most of the thousands of people during the day. It remained in the city until the end of the week.

Fireworks were touched off at 10:30 p.m. by the Plymouth firemen.

Two Critically Hurt in Mishaps

Two Plymouthites were seriously injured in separate accidents last week, one as a passenger in an automobile and the other as a pedestrian.

In critical condition for several days after being struck by a car was Gerald Stace, 17, of 9244 Corinne. Going to work Thursday morning at a Wrigley Supermarket on Plymouth road near Asbury Park street, Gerald was struck while crossing the road by a car driven by Terry Danol, Gold Arbor road.

Thrown across the intersection, Gerald suffered a broken back, broken leg, deep cuts and bruises. He is in Mt. Carmel hospital in Detroit. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stace.

Forest White, 213 Union street, was seriously injured at 11 p.m. Friday night while riding as a passenger in his car driven by a friend, Peter Tischene. Tischene said that he apparently fell asleep while driving on Michigan avenue near Wayne County General hospital and the car struck a tree.

White is suffering a broken leg, fractured nose, head injury and other cuts and abrasions.

Sets Memorial Rites for Robert Koppen Saturday

Memorial funeral services for Robert Frederick Koppen, the 27-year-old Plymouthite who fell from the Mackinac bridge construction June 6, will be held this Saturday afternoon at the Schrader Funeral home.

Although planes still search the waters daily for his body, the family has about given up hope of its recovery. Robert had worked but two hours on the bridge when a mooring holding a catwalk snapped, sending Robert and a fellow worker to the water 540 feet below.

Divers have searched waters at the foot of the north tower without results.

Elder Herbert Lore of the Seventh Day Adventist church, Pontiac, will conduct the memorial service at 4 p.m.

Born October 23, 1928, in Dearborn, Robert was the son of Rudolph and Gertrude Wolff Koppen. He was married July 1, 1946. Surviving with his wife, Deloris, and parents are four children, Lynn Gail, Carol Ann, Robert William and Frederick.

Robert had just moved into a partially completed home at 46311 Ford road before his death. Fellow riggers have been donating labor and materials to complete the home on weekends. Some have come as far away as Mt. Clemons and Clarkston. The group expects to again work on the home this weekend.

tion because there are more city people. This cannot be considered fair when the economic future of the township is at issue.

"It may be possible that we can take steps to prevent certain legal manipulations from being used to by-pass the wishes of township voters.

"As a corporation, we have responsibilities to all portions of the community. And above all this, we are never going to take the position that just because we are a large taxpayer we would have the right to force people in this community into something against their will, because we might happen to think it is best for them.

"The finest theoretical ideas toward what constitutes proper government do not hold if the people do not like them or do not want them. That is the basic freedom behind all of the democratic processes in this country.

"Burroughs has no preconceived ideas of what should happen in our community. We try to do what is best for all parts of the community, city and township, as long as it is evident to us that our efforts are in keeping with the rights, desires, and traditions of people concerned. In this spirit we have, and will continue to support everything that is good.

"May I repeat, that any steps in this matter we may take, now or in the future, are directed only in the interest of helping to see the will of the people in our community carried out."

Kerry and Kristie Keehl were guests at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Davis of Livonia on the weekend of June 29 while their parents attended the Bond-Wendland wedding in Springville, New York.

Johnny Stace of Corinne street spent last week at the D-Bar-A ranch scout camp at Metamora.

Involved had never been recorded. Another petition was filed June 7 after the deed was properly recorded.

The latest development is the filing of a petition by township people to incorporate their 16 square miles into the "City of Plymouth Heights."

The Wayne County board of supervisors has not taken action on any of the petitions and probably will not see them until they readjourn in September.

You know, it takes quite a little time to change an attitude . . . but there are signs of hope that the old rocking chair may have to wait a little longer for today's senior workers. It used to be that a worker over 40 felt about as secure as a tightrope walker in a high wind. But a recent investigation report showed that workers over 45 are a better investment than young employees. They have less absenteeism, fewer accidents, they're more conscientious and cause less trouble.

As any employer can see, that's like money in the bank. So maybe in the not too distant future the senior worker will get all the attention of an heiress at a garden party . . . and a greater feeling of security to go with it. Maybe life does begin at 40 . . . and a little seasoning makes a man worth his salt.

Don't forget — we have available for your weekend reading pleasure the Sunday editions of the New York Times and Chicago Tribune.

A librarian in Indianapolis got a request from an 8-year old for a book "that will tell me how to hypnotize my brother into washing dishes every night." That's one answer to an old family problem. We've got the answer to your family's needs in vitamin preparations for added energy . . . nationally advertised vitamin supplements that you can rely on. For everything in health aids, see us. ### Girls Nation Keeps Local Delegates on the Move

An extensive tour of the nation's capitol to study the organization and processes of federal government has been made by two young ladies from Michigan—including Carol Clarke, 693 Burroughs.

Carol and Martha Andrews of Howell arrived in Washington, D. C. Saturday to participate in the American Legion Auxiliary's tenth annual Girls Nation program with 98 other high school students from across the nation.

(A picture of Carol appearing in The Mail last week incorrectly identified Mrs. Albert Holcombe of the American Legion Auxiliary as Carol's mother.)

In a tightly-packed six-day schedule, the girls will take a turn at setting up their own model of federal government and then learn how to operate it in an efficient manner.

On Sunday the girls heard Martha Roundtree, renowned NBC moderator and Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee, member of the federal board of parole. Following a visit with their senators and congressmen on Monday, they were addressed by Mrs. Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee's Women's Division, and by Mrs. Bowden D. Ward, National president of the Legion Auxiliary.

Guest speaker Tuesday was Mrs. Norton H. Pearl, regional director of Civil Defense; and on Wednesday directors of four women's branches of the armed services spoke.

Highlights of the visit will be a trip to the White House this morning where they will be received by Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States; and an address by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at State Department headquarters. The girls will head for home tomorrow.

Sponsors Lawn Social

The Holy Name society of Our Lady of Good Counsel church will sponsor their annual lawn social Thursday evening, July 19.

Ice cream with homemade cake will be served under the lights on the parish lawn between 6 and 9 p.m. A donation will be accepted. The general public is being invited to attend.

The farmer is reminded, at this time of year, that he is the biggest gambler of all.

New Dentist Arrives

Donald J. Davis, formerly of Birmingham, has become an associate of Dr. A. E. VanOrnum in the practice of dentistry at 322 South Harvey street.

Dr. Davis was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1954 and for the past two years has been in the Army at Ft. Belvoir, Married. Dr. Davis has three children. The family now lives at 1432 West Ann Arbor trail.

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on April 23, 1956, in the homemaking room of the high school at 8:00 p.m.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Superintendent Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Smith.

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by the President, Mr. Caplin. It was moved by Mr. Booth and seconded by Mr. Fischer to approve the appointment of Mr. Melvin Blunk as the administrative assistant in charge of business affairs at an annual salary of $8,000 for the school year, 1956-1957.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer and Mrs. Hulsing.

Nays: None.

The recommendations of the Teachers Relations Committee were reviewed and studied in detail. After giving consideration to the recommendations contained in the report and before attempting to implement any of them, the Board felt it desirable to meet with the Teachers Committee of the Plymouth Education Association. Such a meeting was scheduled for Monday evening, April 30, at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m. at 8:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Eather L. Hulsing, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on April 30, 1956, in the homemaking room of the high school.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Isbister and Mr. Blunk.

Absent: Mr. Smith.

Also present from the Plymouth Education Association: Mr. Butler, Miss Bell, Mrs. Road, Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Smith, Mr. Foster, Mr. Elston, Mr. Lucas, Mr. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Krashinsky and Mrs. Rogers.

Mr. Caplin called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m. He pointed out that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems and issues relative to salaries, merit increases, and extending educational opportunities.

Mr. Robert Smith pointed out that the staff was ready and willing to work with the Board on these problems but that the basic salary needed an upward revision before giving consideration to merit increases. He urged the Board to change from $200 to $300—the differential between the A. B. and A. M. degree teachers. He also requested that teachers with an A. M. degree be given an extra increment of $250 on top of the salary schedule over teachers with an A. B. degree.

The schedule requested by the teachers was as follows:

Years of experience	A. B. Degree	A. M. Degree
0	4,100.00	4,400.00
1	4,350.00	4,650.00
2	4,600.00	4,900.00
3	4,850.00	5,150.00
4	5,100.00	5,400.00
5	5,350.00	5,650.00
6	5,600.00	5,900.00
7	5,850.00	6,150.00
8	6,100.00	6,400.00
9	6,350.00	6,650.00

A cost of living allowance of $100 for 1956-57 will be added to the basic salary schedule.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, and Mrs. Hulsing.

Nays: None.

Bids for the purchase of a new 3/4 ton stake-truck equipped with a six cylinder motor were read as follows:

1956 Dodge	1,492.72
Paul J. Wiedman, Inc.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to approve the following teachers salary schedule:

the teachers on some equitable salary adjustment.

It was mutually agreed that another meeting would be held on Monday evening, May 7, 1956 at 8:00 p.m. Respectfully submitted,
Eather L. Hulsing, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on Monday, May 7, 1956 in the homemaking room of the high school.

Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Blunk and Mr. Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Smith.

Also present were representatives of the Plymouth Education Association: Mr. R. Smith, Mrs. Read, Mr. Foster, Miss Bell, Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Elston and Mr. Ketterer.

President Caplin called the meeting to order at 8:30 p.m.

After considerable discussion, general agreement was reached on the following points:

- The differential between the A. B. and A. M. degree would be changed from $200 to $300.
- No immediate action would be taken on the merit increase proposal, but a committee composed of teachers, administrators, board members and lay citizens would be appointed this coming fall to study all facets of merit.
- The Board would set aside in next year's budget $5,000 which would be used to implement a merit plan, if adopted. If the merit plan were not adopted, the money would be given to

The minutes of the special meeting held on April 30, 1956 were discussed and approved as read. The agreements reached on the salary schedule at the last meeting were reviewed. It was noted that the differential between the A. B. and A. M. degree teachers would be changed from $200 to $300. It was further noted that $5,000 would be set aside in the budget to implement a merit plan next year, if adopted. The merit plan would be studied by a committee of teachers, administrators, board members and lay citizens. If the merit plan is not adopted, the $5,000 would be distributed on some equitable basis among the teachers. After considerable discussion a compromise was reached on the basic salary schedule for next year.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to approve the following teachers salary schedule:

1956 Ford 1,556.57
Berry and Atchinson 1,575.00
Ernest J. Allison 1,720.00
1956 Chevrolet 1,720.00
West Brothers Nash, Inc. 1,725.00
1956 International (Above prices include trading-in 1950 Chevrolet 1/2 ton pick up.)

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Fischer that the truck be purchased from the low bidder, Forest Motor Sales, for $1,492.72.

Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, and Mrs. Hulsing.
Nays: None.

The meeting adjourned at 10:50 p.m. Respectfully submitted,
Eather L. Hulsing, Secretary

Fears Move to Replace Old Glory

To The Editor:

Your editorial noting that the display of the flag in Plymouth was sadly neglected is too true. The Lions club noted it too and sold 2,000 flags at a special price.

This week the Senate Foreign Relations Committee starts hearings on the Atlantic Union Resolution signed by Senator McNamara, Representatives Griffiths, Lesinski, Machrowicz and Rabaut that in effect would haul down Old Glory and raise up some other flags instead.

Are we ready to ditch Old Glory and sign away 92 percent of the title to our property and income to other nations? Elmer Roper, speaking for the Atlantic Union Committee, which wrote the resolution says:

"These Governments would merge into a single Atlantic Federal Union. Such a nation would have the right to conduct foreign relations, maintain armed forces, issue currency, regulate commerce and communications between states in the Union, and grant Union citizenship. The Union must have the power to tax and to uphold its own Bill of Rights."

This is the path to World Government. Unthinking good folks are urging a super-government. They are blind to the certainty that the integrated world for which they agitate could be no other than a communistic world with its destruction of our liberties, the confiscation of our property, and the enslavement of our people in a Godless, irreligious vacuum.

The U. S. Constitution has protected us for 167 years. NOW it needs YOU and you to stand up and protect it. Will you?

R. R. Pursell

The Reader Speaks Up

Supports Annexation With Magazine Prediction

To the Editor:

More than 12 years ago FORTUNE magazine ran a series of articles pertaining to the planning of a city. The magazine FORTUNE, as most of us may know, is the nation's top magazine of big business. There are other magazines—many of them, in fact—and good ones too—devoted to big business—yet the magazine FORTUNE is in a class all by itself. It has no counterpart within the entire United States.

FORTUNE magazine is published by the same people who publish TIME and LIFE magazines. While most of its subscribers are presumably gleaned from among high income executives, any person who likes to keep himself well informed, or who wants to know how or what makes big business tick, can understand and enjoy reading FORTUNE. The subscription price, however, is $12 per year, or $1.25 the single copy.

But now let's get down to cases. Let's get down to the case of Plymouth. In the issue of FORTUNE for January 1944, our little Plymouth—the one Plymouth out of two dozen other Plymouths in these United States—was signally honored. Outside experts came to Plymouth to explore the possibilities for growth and expansion here. Then, after a careful study of all the factors involved, they reported the findings. Accompanying the report was illustrative material in color—maps, models and all that. The pictures visualized the city of Plymouth in the future—46 years into the future no less.

These charts and pictures, incidentally, were done under the direction of the famous architect, Eiel Saarinen. While we cannot here attempt a review of the article as it was published in the magazine, yet it may be well to point the big feature. The prediction then made was that the Plymouth for the year 1990, the year when the United States will be taking its 20th national census, would have a population of 90,000 people. The article did not specifically mention the township as such, but only the city.

When this prediction was made, however, it was presumed that the town would grow, expand, develop and mature in a sane, sensible, orderly and systematic manner. It did not recognize any idea that the predicted expansion and development could come within the limitations of the present city. The statisticians who prepared the FORTUNE article did not take into consideration the possibility that within our borders (and this included both township and city) there would ever develop any sufficient number of retainers to hold back the march of progress.

Except for the technical barrier of separate political divisions, Plymouth city and Plymouth township have long been one happy community. And who is there to deny that commercially, socially, morally—as well as in long other areas of human contact—we have practically always been one community. To be sure, 17 years ago we did lose the northern half of our revered Plymouth township to Northville and therefore have since been actually only half a township, but all that is another story and is outside the province of today's subject.

To expand now would establish no precedent. (And note that the word is "expand" and not "grab.") At least twice before the municipality of Plymouth has absorbed portions of the township. (And this does not include the recent Cassidy farm acquisition.) The people who lived in those portions then were hurt not in the least. Their lot was in fact improved. And in all probability they would not go back into the township today if they could. And today, more than ever, the city needs the township and the township needs the city. To be sure, if the township and the city were to become one united whole, several people would be destined to lose their jobs. There cannot be two mayors or two supervisors in any one given community.

The opposition is active and he opposition may win. But if he opposition wins their names will not go down in history as having sponsored the bigger and better Plymouth of the future. And for those who do believe in a bigger and better Plymouth for the future, this is no time for ethargy. But now for a word of caution. For any of us to become vitriolic or to start calling each other names is not going to get any of us anywhere. To say "You mind your own business and we'll mind ours" does not point the way to harmony. This note, however, is not designed to censure anyone. All of us sometimes erred in our judgements. No man should be condemned for doing his best.

The immortal Abraham Lincoln was not interested in the annexation of Texas. Daniel Webster, one of the greatest statesmen and orators this country ever knew (the God-like Daniel they called him) as a Senator voted against the annexation of Texas. Martin Van Buren, our eighth president, as well as Henry Clay and a lot of others, declared themselves against the annexation of Texas. But Texas was annexed, and who today would say that the action was a mistake? And what a grand howl went up when in 1879 some Detroit citizens proposed that the city purchase Belle Isle (Hog Island) they called it then) for $200,000. But after a big fight the island was purchased and who is there who would change things now?

But what has all this to do with little old Plymouth? Well, nothing. Nothing—except that the principle is the same. Every worthy cause has had its opponents. And among the opponents there have been some great and fertile minds. The issue before us today may not be so great, but it can be great for us. And by us is meant living citizens within the confines of the township, and this includes the city. We may differ in our politics, we may differ in our religion, we may differ in style of our socks and our shirts, but here is one issue where we all can—where we all should—stand on common ground.

For the first 105 years of Plymouth's political existence the village was part and parcel of the township. In the very beginning, of course, we had only the township. To take care of the needs of the early settlers, first one, and then more stores were set up. And the first stores were inside of peoples' homes. Within just a few years, however, the pattern for Plymouth's downtown business district had become definitely established. By 1856 a considerable row of wooden store buildings had been erected and a cluster of homes had sprung up around them. The village grew gradually. But it was still all the township. And the people all around wanted it that way. It afforded a central place for the pioneers to come and meet, to replenish their larders, to fraternize and to get the news and the mail as it was thrice weekly brought in from Detroit by stage coach. John Kynock, the shoemaker, was postmaster. Then in May of that year fire broke out and the downtown business district was completely wiped out. But the pioneer spirit still prevailed and everything was soon rebuilt—but this time stronger and better.

Then in 1867 the stores and the now laid out streets were incorporated as a sure enough village. But everything was still in the township. We were still definitely one people. The supervisor, as well as all other township officers, could be—and were—elected from within the confines of the now incorporated village just as well as from any other section of the township. Then finally, in 1932 the village was made a city and all this became changed. Many substantial citizens from out-township districts regretted the change and felt that they had been kicked out. But for the fact of one technical barrier, however, we are still one people.

But this one barrier can now be easily and logically removed. At least there can be a beginning in that direction. Put another way, all the links in the community chain have long been forged and made secure—just that is, save one. It is now time to forge and to make strong this one remaining needed link. And we'll improve our civic status and increase our prestige among neighbors and the nation by doing it. The name of this remaining link is TOTAL ANNEXATION. And God be with us.

To obtain maximum protection against moths when storing clothing and woolsens in a cedar closet, first make sure the articles are free of moth larvae when you put them away. A recommended procedure is to have them dry cleaned. If the garments are not soiled, however, it generally is safe merely to brush and air them in the sun.

K of C Re-elects Larry Zielasko As Grand Knight

For the first time in the history of Council 3292, Knights of Columbus, a Grand Knight was re-elected to serve a second term at their recent elections. On Monday evening July 9, Grand Knight Larry Zielasko and his fellow officers for the year 1956-57 were installed at the K of C Hall with District Deputy Ed Condon in charge of the ceremonies.

Other officers installed to serve with Zielasko were deputy grand knight, William Donovan; chancellor, Richard Waga; recorder, Frank Ross; warden, Tom Matthews; treasurer, Cliff Caldwell; advocate, Tom Eoyne; inside guard, Jake Spanier; outside guard, Jim Geary and Cliff LeFevre; and trustees, Esten Gray and Past Grand Knights Roland Francis and John Gilles, Jr.

Refreshments were served following the ceremonies. Plymouth Council 3292 has been transferred from the Ann Arbor District to a new District comprised of neighboring councils of Livonia, St. Paul and Redford, in addition to Plymouth. Ed Condon is deputy grand knight of this district.

Council members are reminded to meet at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday evening, July 14 at the council hall to go to Detroit to participate in the Radio Rosary over WJLB, Detroit. Knights may also bring along their teen-age sons to participate in this function.

The regular officers meeting is on Monday evening, July 16. Next regular Council meeting is on Monday evening, July 23. Council members are urged to attend the parish lawn social with their families on Thursday, July 19 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the parish grounds. Ice cream and cake will be served.

SUPERVISOR Roy Lindsay, left, is shown presenting the framed resolution to the former township clerk, Norman Miller, who retired due to ill health after 24 years of service.

Retired Township Clerk Norman Miller Honored for 24 Years of Loyal Service

Plymouth township officials gathered at the Ridge road home of Norman C. Miller last week to pay honor to the man who served nearly a quarter of a century as township clerk.

Failing health brought on his resignation in May. Serving 24 years in public office is an accomplishment reached by few. His record was pointed out in a framed resolution presented to him at the surprise affair held Tuesday night of last week.

The resolution reads as follows: "All too commonly, words of praise and commendation for long and devoted public service by one of our senior citizens, words of prideful congratulation for work well done and a life well lived, which would have struck the honored subject's ears with warmth and friendliness, and a joyous sense of fulfillment, are reserved until too late to be heard in person. It is with a special feeling of happiness, therefore, that the Township of Plymouth Board on which he served so long and ably, wishing to memorialize the recent retirement from public office of Norman Clarence Miller, does hereby recount for public record the salient features of his highly useful, deeply respected, and continuing career.

"Norman Miller is a native and life-time resident of the Township of Plymouth, where he was born on July 28, 1878 in the old Miller homestead on Beck Road. His parents were Esther Ann Iverson and Benjamin Miller. His education was obtained in a one-room country school—the old Allen School, Plymouth High School, and the University of Michigan. After completing his education he took up agriculture, and ever since has been engaged in farming and gardening. For many years he was a successful orchardist, becoming famous in this district for his apples and cherries. In connection with apple growing he operated a cider mill which was widely known for the quality and flavor of its product. "Meanwhile, on May 9, 1900, Norm Miller was joined in marriage to Cornelia B. Whipple, and their union was blessed by two sons, Harry and Floyd. In addition there are at the present time five grand children and five great grandchildren.

"He is a long-time member and former elder of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, and a member of the Plymouth Rock Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons. "Norman C. Miller entered public service in 1932, campaigning for and winning the office of township clerk, and held this office for almost a quarter of a century until his retirement in May 1956. This outstanding governmental career in the service of his friends and neighbors and fellow citizens of Plymouth township should not be concluded without deserved accolade and acclaim."

Local Legionnaires Prepared for Convention

Los Angeles is making preparations to roll out the "red velvet carpet" for members of the American Legion and Auxiliary who attend the national convention in the California city, September 2 to 6, according to information received by President Melva Gardner and Commander Albert Holcombe, from the convention committee.

Arrangements are being made to facilitate visits by convention guests to all of the attractions of the Los Angeles area, including Hollywood's movieland, Chinatown, Disneyland, Mount Wilson Observatory, Santa Catalina Island, to citrus and date groves, and to Pacific Ocean beaches. Legion and Auxiliary members from every part of the country are expected to attend, many accompanying husbands or wives who are going on official business.

Mrs. Adah Langmaid, of Post-sage-Gayde Auxiliary and outgoing 17th district Auxiliary president is planning to attend in the capacity of district delegate.

Millross-Gaffin Rites in August

Mrs. Christine Gaffin of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Clara Mae, to Leonard Charles Millross, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Millross of Joy road, Plymouth.

The wedding will take place in Sioux Falls on August 10.

District Officers Elected at Legion Auxiliary Meet

Lena Hammond of Lloyd H. Greene Auxiliary, Northville was elected to serve as president of the 17th District Auxiliary at the annual election meeting on Friday June 29 at the Veterans Community Center.

Others elected to serve the district with Mrs. Hammond are: vice-president, Armeta Nevins, Redford Township; treasurer, Maxine Kunz, Plymouth; chaplain, Marie Thompson, Plymouth; and historian, Gwen Holcombe, Plymouth. Mrs. Holcombe was elected to serve a second term. Secretary and Sergeant-at-arms will be appointed at a later date by the president-elect.

Irene Albertson of Rosedale Park and Betty Wilcox and Dorothy Sitarski of Livonia were elected to serve on the district executive committee. Out-going President Adah Langmaid was elected to represent the district as delegate to the National Convention in Los Angeles with Mrs. Hammond to serve as her alternate.

Plymouth Auxiliary members attending the meeting were Gwen Holcombe, Adah Langmaid, Maxine Kunz, Marie Thompson, Gertrude Simonetti and Fern Burleson.

Next regular district meeting will be in September with the district installation of Officers to be held sometime in August.

Class of 1955 Holds 1st Reunion Saturday

Members of the Plymouth high school class of 1955 will have their first reunion this Saturday afternoon in Riverside park, it was announced by Wayne Smith, president of the class.

The reunion will begin with a picnic at 2 p.m. All food and table service will be furnished. The class will then go to Melody Circus in the evening to see "Annie Get Your Gun."

Garden is Setting For Bridal Shower

The lovely flower garden at the home of Mrs. Howard Harder was the setting of a bridal shower held for Miss Gloria DeFilippo, Saturday, July 7, 1956 was the date of the shower.

Mrs. Gerald Harder planned and led the group in several interesting games which were fitting for the occasion. The gifts were received and displayed in a wheelbarrow attractively decorated for the festivities.

Those in attendance were: Mrs. John Proctor, Mrs. Edward Benton, Mrs. Sterling Freyman, Mrs. E. B. Jones, Mrs. Fred Beitner, Mrs. Gilbert Fritzer, Mrs. Philip Truesdell, Mrs. Carl Fox, Miss Virginia Fox, Mrs. Harold Shaw, Mrs. Walter Majors, Mrs. Howard Gladman, Miss Sherry Elston, Mrs. Elmer Majors, Mrs. Gerald Harder, Mrs. Howard Harder, Miss Gloria DeFilippo, Mrs. Gerald Elston.

The hostesses were Mrs. Howard Harder, Mrs. Gerald Harder and Mrs. Gerald Elston. Several who could not attend, sent gifts. The date of the forth coming wedding is July 21.

A 1917 FIRE engine with firemen dressed to fit the year amused parade crowds. Both city and township firemen joined in a Keystone Kops type of comedy during the evening when they attempted to extinguish a burning building.

MARINES AND SAILORS from Grosse Ile led the parade down Main street and provided a smart new addition to the event. There were about 50 men in each unit.

SECOND PRIZE winner in the parade float competition was this six-foot globe depicting "World Peace" entered by Charles Guideau, Plymouth painter. Young Uncle Sam is Guideau's son.

JUDGED BEST float in the parade was that of the Plymouth Theatre Guild. It showed some "culprits" of early Plymouth town in the stocks paying for their crime of ogling the beauty queen, Carol Stratton, chained to the stake for her part in the misdemeanor. C. V. Sparks is the town crier, Lillian Dickinson is the wife of one of the oglers and John Lodge and Warren Worth are in the stocks.

A SMALL TRIBE of Indians, tepee and all, won third prize in the float contest. Sponsored by the Utilities Lines Construction company, the young Redskins appeared in real-like costume and head-dress.

STAND AT CONCORD BRIDGE was depicted in a float entered by the Burroughs corporation. Firing real muzzle-loaders at each other were the "British" and "Americans." Because other floats were entered by small business or organizations, Burroughs asked not to be entered in the competition.

TRUESDELL SCHOOL youngsters enrolled in the summers' playground activities provided an attractive float with a "Little Red Schoolhouse" and youngsters dressed in the garb of yesteryear.

Beglinger Regains Stride Unbeaten VFW Leads B

Beglinger roared to a commanding lead in the "A" softball league by picking up two straight victories as the second running Livonia Office dropped two in league play this week. Evans came up with two victories to tie with Cavalcade and Chevrolet Spr. and B. for third place in the loop.

V. F. W. took sole possession of the "B" softball league with a smashing 9-0 victory over the King Furniture team. Daisy dropped their second-straight game to the Main & Mill squad as Wall Wire crushed Evans 14-8 to lift their team into a two way tie for third place.

"A" LEAGUE

Beglinger, whose pride is still stinging from their first loss of the season, came through with a 2-0 victory over Chevy Spr. & B. in a pitchers battle between Thibodeau and Tilski. Each allowed only two hits to the opposition, but Beglinger teamed one of theirs with an error and a sacrifice for one of their two runs.

Beglinger trounced Cavalcade 10-4 for their seventh win in eight starts. The Oldsmen scored six runs in the fourth inning, one in the fifth, and three in the seventh. Stout and Wilkie collected three hits apiece to aid Thibodeau gain his second decision of the week. Second was charged with the loss.

Chevy Spr. & B. nipped second place Livonia office 1-0 with Chevy's Tilski pitching a disputed one hitter. Tilski pitched six innings with out allowing a hit when Wagenschutz, the lead off batter in the eighth, hit a ball and the fielder was charged with interference and Wagenschutz was awarded a single. The Livonia pitcher allowed only two hits to the winning Chevy team, both of them came in the fourth to shove across the lone run of the contest. The run was scored on a walk, a fielders choice, single, and the game winning single by Frank O'Brien. Tilski went the distance and struck out 11.

Evans, who started the season as the league spoilers, have come up with a strong contending team. Evidence of this new power was a 4-2 triumph over the previously strong Livonia Office. Stevens came across with another sparkling performance on the mound as he allowed only three hits to the Livonians. Evans crowded all four runs into the third inning on singles by Lakatos and Klatt, and doubles by McClarty and Bohn. Lowe was charged with the loss while Stevens got credit for the win.

Stevens turned in his second terrific mound performance of the week as he blanked the Box Bar team on a 1-0 shut out and near no hitter. Stevens had faced 18 batters and not allowed a hit when the lead off batter in the last inning bloomed a lazy Texas leaguer into centerfield. Kearney was the losing pitcher.

Cavalcade slammed out 11 hits good for eight runs and a win over the Box Bar nine. Box Bar scored single runs in the first, third, and fifth. Greenwood paced the winners with three hits in four trips, Lamphear and Litzberger each collected two in their four trips. Second was the winning pitcher.

"B" LEAGUE

The headline attraction in the "B" league was the matching of the two league leaders. But it turned out to be no battle as the visitors from Northville disgraced the King Furniture team with a 9-0 trouncing. The V. F. W. squad shoved across three runs in the second, two in the third, one in the fourth, two in the sixth, and one in the final to account for the nine tallies. Villorot, the losing pitcher, was also Kings big gun at the plate as he managed a single, and a double in three trips. Perry received credit for the triumph.

Wall Wire bombarded Evans Products to the tune of 14-8 for the team's fourth victory against one set back. Wall Wire broke a 7-7 tie in the top half of the third inning when they cashed in for seven big runs and coasted to an easy victory. Seafast was the winning pitcher and Allen the loser.

Main & Mill captured the lead from the once powerful Daisy team in the bottom of the third inning and dominated the play through out the rest of the game, scoring easily in the fourth and third innings to uphold their 13-6 score. Schwartz gained the win as Milz suffered the loss.

Price Bros. registered their first win with a 6-5 squeeze over Whitman & Barnes. Price Bros. erased a 5-5 tie in the bottom half of the last inning when they tallied their sixth and final run. Shepard was the winning pitcher with Nagy being charged with the loss.

Merchants Snap Losing Streak

The fourth of July brought no loud cheers from the Plymouth Merchants, at least not after they had suffered their third straight defeat to the Club Supino squad 4-1. Plymouths lone run came in the fourth inning on a single by Jack Dobbs, an error moved him to second, another error allowed him to reach third, and he scored easily from there on a sacrifice fly.

The visitors scored two runs in the second, one in the sixth and one in the eighth off from losing Eddie Hoch. Weipert was the winning pitcher.

The Merchants were able to rejoice after their double header sweep of Saline and the Al Rogers team Sunday, July 8. Their first game, with the Al Rogers squad was just a practice but reports say it was a hard fought battle, with Plymouth getting the nod 8-5 as the Merchants broke in a new pitcher. The second game was for real and the results meant something on paper, as the home team moved the boys from Saline under in a 12-9 romp.

An oddity in the game was the way the Merchants scored in every even inning. With runners crossing the plate three times in the second, once in the fourth, and four times each in the sixth and eighth.

Tom Shrake was holding an 8-5 edge on the visitors when he was relieved by Eddie Hoch, who after allowing four runs in the eighth inning settled down to get his third win of the season. Jack Dobbs led the Merchants attack knocking two singles and a home run in four times to the plate. Fred Hutchinson also clouted a circuit blow for the winners. Smith blasted out a home run for the losers.

Next week the merchants will play the River Rouge team on the home field.

Kids Receive Prizes After "Fourth" Races

Among the many activities during the fourth of July celebration were kiddies races. The races which included a shoe scramble, three legged race, balloon race, and a foot race, was open to all youngsters between the ages of 5-14. There were four age group classifications, 5-7, 8-9, 10-11, 12-14. The boys and girls were segregated into their own classes.

The first event was the shoe scramble. The children would run across the field to pick up their own shoe, get it on, and run back to the starting line. Winners in their respective classes were: 1st place in the 5-7 girls group, Janice Krumm; second place, Nancy Roberts; third place, Angela Lampton; Boys winners in the same age group were: John Shinn of Bird School, second place, Tommy Webber, third place, Louis Taylor.

In the 8-9 year old girl scramble, first-Toni Kay Osborne, second-Elaine Allen, third-Linda Taylor. Boys winners were: first-John Park of Smith, second-Randy Roberts Central, third-Bobby Brown.

The second event was a three legged race for the 10-11 and 12-14 classes. This was a comical race with two contestants tying their legs together and running down to the judges finish line. Winners for the 10-11 girls class were: first-Darlene Hind, and Bonnie Horn, second-Toni and Connie Shettleroe, third-Diana Allen and Mary Donnelly.

Boys winners in the 10-11 class in this event were: first-Byron Brown and Bill Signorelli, second-Doug Taylor and Harlen Bridman, third-Robert Maclees and Lon Hake.

Winning the three legged race for the 12-14 girls, first-Jean Schwartz and Kathleen Donnelly, second-Gale Donnelly and Joyce Allan, third place winners-Judy Bondie and Katherine Keil.

Copping honors for the boys in this class were: first-Tony Hunt and Bruce Austin, second place was taken by Brian Gillis and Tom Fletcher, taking third place was Bill Rew and Bill Schwartz.

The afternoons third event was the blowing up of balloons by the 5-7 year old group; first place in this class was won by Lynn Cash, second-Kathy Taylor, third-Joey Sousa.

First place winner in the boys 5-7 balloon race was Craig Gajd, with John Outman taking second, in the third place slot there was a tie between Billy Leonard and John Shinn.

In the same event of the 8-9 class Norma Wall grabbed up first place by being the first one to blow up her balloon and cause it to burst. Susan Thomas took second place, Linda Taylor received credit for third.

The last event of the afternoon was a straight foot race with the 10-11 class leading off; The blue ribbon was given to Bonnie Horn of Starkweather. The winner of the second place spot was Sally Gilles of Central, crossing the finish line in the third position was Sharon Stremick of Starkweather. In the boys foot races for the 10-11 class Chris Gaffield took first place, Bob Rew-second, and Marvin Soleau. The 12-14 year old took the same event with Judy Bondie, Ester Benney, and Brenda Bruce taking first, second and third respectively. Bill Schwartz took the coveted first place for the older boys foot race, with Mike Kelley taking second and Tony Hunt collecting third.

Playgrounds Enjoyed Many Of the Fourth Activities

The ten Plymouth playgrounds enjoyed an extra large slate of activity this week as the fourth parade allowed them to use the full extent of their imagination in building floats to be presented in front of their parents and friends. Winners in the contest were:

- First place—Auburn
- Second Place—Hough
- Third place—Starkweather
- Fourth place Truesdell
- Fifth place—Smith
- Sixth place—Bird
- Seventh place—Allen
- Eighth place—Central
- Ninth place—Green Meadows
- Tenth place—Hamilton

AUBURN PLAYGROUND

Theme for the Auburn playground was "The Winding Post." The playground wished to acknowledge their thanks for the use of Stan Clangsmith truck and Charles Pearsons for driving it.

HOUGH PLAYGROUND

The Hough playground has stayed with the contending mood by slating a "Handsome and Beauty Contest," a girls and boys baking contest, and a doll show. Mrs. Goerke has been a great help to supervisor Doris Rowe by supplying kool aid for the youngsters.

STARKWEATHER

The Starkweather playground held their zell ball championship and the competition was keen, but after about a half hour of hard play Dennis Robertson beat out Bruce Woods for the honored spot. DeWayne Stephenson and Mickey Horvath were also strong contenders.

In the girls playoffs Judy Vanervoot took first place, with Susan Vanervoot and Bonnie McMullen taking second, and third respectively.

Tuesday, July 10, the playground held a senior olympics with many different events comprising the games. Today the group is having a hot dog roast.

TRUESDELL PLAYGROUND

Rain halted a lot of the planned activity at the Truesdell playground. But supervisors, Marge Fotovich and Dee McLennan, popped corn and played bingo inside with the kids. The playground wished to thank George Fortovich for his help in building the fourth place float.

SMITH PLAYGROUND

The Smith playground float

which took fifth place was entirely in the spirit of the Independence day celebration. Their float, "The Spirit of '76" was decorated in red, white, and blue, and was pulled by the decorated jeep of Jim Abate. Paper hats decorated in red, white, and blue were passed out to people along the street by members of the Smith playground.

BIRD PLAYGROUND

Quote from the adviser of the Bird playground: "We had a real live crab race with fifteen crabs taking part. The audience numbered forty three young racing fans. Crabs were obtained from the Bird creek stables." Unquote.

ALLEN PLAYGROUND

Winners in the doll show held at the Allen playground last week were: Funniest Doll—Joyce O'Brien; Biggest Doll—Susan Fulton; Prettiest Doll—Alice Graye; Prettiest Dress—Cheryl Bradley; Best Boy Doll—Joey Dyer; Oldest Doll—B. Adams; Youngest Doll—Janice Adams; Homeliest—Nancy Miller; Funniest Hands—Lynn Krell; Skinniest—Charlotte Hough; Smallest—Joan O'Brien.

The playground has also been active with cook outs.

Central playground enjoyed an unusual week long special event, a large carnival. Children from the carnival visited the playground and enjoyed their stay. The boys and girls ranged in age and from many different parts of the county.

Randy Egloff copped first place in the zell ball tournament, with Sally Gilles and Pete Lamona taking second and third respectively.

Rain halted activity momentarily at the Central playground too, but Mr. Sandmann and Ian Bonto the playground supervisors organized relays in the high school gym. Sally Gilles and Patty Behlig came up with the winning teams.

HAMILTON PLAYGROUND

Allen McAllister, Pat McKenna, Neil Box, Bob Steele, and Billy Manion took a bike hike under the supervision of Dick Manion Thursday, July 5.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP ORDINANCE NO. IX

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE INSTALLATION OF GARBAGE DISPOSAL EQUIPMENT AND THE DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE, PROVIDING FOR THE ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT THEREOF; AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. The comprehensive plan of this Ordinance is for the purpose of promoting the health, safety and general welfare of the Township of Plymouth by establishing requirements for on-site disposal of waste foods; facilitating the enforcement of sanitation and the elimination of breeding places for vermin, and removing the opportunity for the creation and maintenance of public nuisances which generally inhere in areas where such activity is not properly regulated.

Section 2. Hereafter no structure designed, arranged, or intended to be used for purposes which cause, result in, produce or develop food wastes shall be erected, and all structures converted or altered for such purposes on any land within the Township of Plymouth, which adjoins or abuts any road, highway, street, or easement in which there is a public sewer, unless the said structures shall be equipped with and provide adequate and approved food waste disposal equipment for such purposes within the premises thereof. It shall be unlawful for any person to use, permit, or cause to be used, any such structure that does not conform with the provisions of this section.

Section 3. The installation, operation and maintenance of any such equipment or method to be used for on-site disposal of food or garbage wastes, shall comply with the applicable provisions and regulations of the building, housing, plumbing, electrical, health and sanitation ordinances of the Township of Plymouth and shall be subject to the approval of the Building Inspector of the Township of Plymouth and proper Health Department officials.

Section 4. Any person, firm, corporation, or anyone violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or any rule or regulation lawfully promulgated hereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100) or imprisonment of not more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

Section 5. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, shall, for any reason, be adjudged by a Court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance and the application of such provisions to other persons or circumstances, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of the Township Board of the Township of Plymouth that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid provision not been included.

Section 6. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, to the extent only necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

Section 7. This Ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days after the final passage and publication thereof.

This Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Township of Plymouth, at a meeting thereof duly called and held on the 5th day of July, A.D. 1956, and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Signed:
Rosalind Broome—Township Clerk
Roy R. Lindsay—Township Supervisor

I, ROSALIND BROOME, Clerk of the Township of Plymouth, do hereby certify that the above Ordinance was approved and adopted by the Township Board of the Township of Plymouth, at a meeting thereof, held on the 5th day of July, A.D. 1956, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Rosalind Broome—Township Clerk

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr.
GARfield 1-5847

It has been brought to our attention that possibly we are missing some of the events that people would like noted in this column. It is human nature and also promotes better circulation if people are able to see their name in print. For example, a few weeks ago we congratulated new grandparents on the birth of their first grandchild. The item was clipped out of the paper and put in the baby's memory book and another copy was forwarded to the baby's other grandparents. Children love to read about their birthday parties or vacations. In the majority of cases what may seem trivial to you and not worth a call may be interesting reading for someone else. Remember my number, GA. 1-5847.

Laurel Spicer spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, 1140 Berkwick. Laurel lives with her parents and brothers and sisters on Grandville in Detroit.

Congratulations to Linda Kobane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kobane, 11320 Brookfield on winning the sub-novice girls free skating event at the U. S. Amateur Roller Skating meet in Chicago.

The annual 4th of July parade in Rosedale Gardens took place this year as usual. As in the past there were many clever and unusual costumes and it was a difficult decision to choose the winners. We were honored to have as judges this year Bud Kirvan of the Livonian and Dallas Hay, police commissioner, Mayor Bill Brashear also contributed to the success of the affair by presenting the prizes to the children. The lucky boys and girls who received the silver dollars for their costumes were:

Patriotic: 1. Susan Larson, 2. Roger Core.
Pretty: 1. Judy Jackson; 2. Kathy Pringle.
Comic: 1. Michael Clogg; 2. Ralph Davis.
Character: 1. Jennifer Jackman and Mary Kay Talbot; 2. Kathy Kawalski, Valerie Glynn and Lynn Ritter.
Original: 1. Priscilla, Robin and Cindy Jenkins; 2. Susy Linabury and Stephanie, Lannie and Mitche Miquelon.
Tricks: 1. Ricky Goodrich; 2. Beverly Mayo.
Bikes: 1. Jackie Trick; 2. Marilyn Shook.
Mrs. Henry Curle, President of Womens Club, wishes to publicly thank the men and women who carried the banners for the different groups in the parade and were so helpful to make it such a success. It is no small matter to keep small ones from being hot and disinterested after they have marched for about a block. Those who were especially helpful this year were Mr. and Mrs. William Poppenger, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heitner, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. John Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miquelon, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Day, Mrs. Charles Gamber and Mrs. Dick Milliman.

After the parade there was a ball game and the men from the East side of each street trimmed the West side residents by the score of 9 to 5.

At 2 p.m. the children gathered at the clubhouse grounds for the games. For the children five and under there was a penny scramble with each child keeping the pennies he or she found. There were prizes and games for both boys and girls in the various age groups from 6 to 15. Prizes included badminton sets, roller skates, games, baseball gloves and numerous other gifts.

After the games everyone went home for a quick supper but back again at 7:00 for the entertainment and finally the much anticipated fireworks.

Betty and Norma Rocheleau, Laurel Spicer, Cheryl Heitner and Mary Kay Talbot held a circus on Saturday afternoon for all the neighborhood children. It was held in Heitner's backyard and to show their appreciation to Mrs. Heitner for her patience the girls took the proceeds from the show and bought her a set of 6 glasses. Needless to say she was very surprised and thrilled to think that five young girls could be so thoughtful.

Happy Birthday to Madeline Stevenson and Marion Bourgon who are celebrating their birthdays on Friday, July 13th.

Congratulations to Pete Owston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Owston, 32629 W. Chicago on winning the Detroit News Carrier's Scholarship of $500 toward the college of his choice.

Miss Suzanne Gennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gennis of Detroit has been staying in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gennis of Joy road, for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gennis and daughters Kathy and Mary Ellen of Joy road visited in the home of Mrs. Gennis's mother, Mrs. Mary Watt in Mason, Michigan on Wednesday, July 4.

On Saturday, July 7 Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and children Bruce, David, Mark and Nan of Joy road were guests of Louis Alvarez and his daughter Angela of Walwit avenue, Dearborn, at beautiful Camp Dearborn.

The Daily Vacation Church school at the Newburg Methodist church on Ann Arbor trail and Newburg roads is still going full swing and will be until July 20. A fine group of boys and girls have attended every day and in the capable hands of the teachers of the school have been learning and doing many interesting things. It's not too late to join in for the remaining time. All are welcome. The school starts at 9:30 a.m. and closes at 11:30 a.m. Come and bring a friend.

On Wednesday, July 4, Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe along with their children David, Mark and Nan were privileged to visit at beautiful Madonna college on Schoolcraft and pay a friendly call on Sister Mary Vivien. Sister Vivien was a former teacher at St. Michael's school in Livonia, and had as one of her pupils the LaPointe's boy, David.

Here's What People Say About Shopping In Plymouth Community Stamp Stores:

"For service, stamps and values galore,
I shop at any Plymouth Stamp Store,
I watch their ads and windows, too,
Help budgets balance . . . cash accrue."

"This is the best profit sharing medium that I have yet to experience on a consumer level. One receives quality merchandise with a premium dividend."

"Shopping Centers I have tried
Back to Plymouth I always ride
To purchase anything from dresses to lamps
At stores who give Plymouth Community Stamps"

"Only through mutual help and cooperation among people in a community can we insure a healthier, happier and wealthier city for everyone."

"Their convenience bobtails time, diminishes trouble, insures
MORE frequent shopping with LESS uncertainty—all this PLUS stamps—a happy P.S. to every purchase!"

"The goods and services offered by these progressive merchants, earn our continued patronage, while creating in us the true spirit of community living and participation."

"I followed the 'Stampede' to the round-up of bargains in the Stamp Trading Post, and am one satisfied ranger who has crashed his 'Budget Barrier'."

"Their bonus stamps to me spell THRIFT;
every stamp filled book means a $3.00 GIFT."

"The combined resourcefulness of many merchants toward the common goal of good merchandising, offers me the most and best value for the least cost."

"By backing my merchants, I'm getting ahead with better valued products, and service instead.
Three dollars extra from every book
Superior shopping,—Anyway you look!"

"As Jiminy Cricket might put it:
the products are hot the prices are cool
the profit is now and 'I'm no fool!'"

"It puts luxury into my home without stretching my budget."

"When shopping today
We must make it pay,
So we shop in a store
That will give a bit more."

"S"—For Salesclerks who take ample time
"H"—For Hours spent selling things for . . . dimes
"O"—For Others who . . . Patiently wait
"P"—For Pleasures on Plymouth Shopping Date" . . . . .

"Budget trouble?
Don't try to hide it
Plymouth stores will help decide it."

"I've tried them all
Big and Small, but shopping
Local is best of all . . ."

"The profits of trading stamps are controlled by local merchants and a percentage payment of their gross sales to an outside parasitic stamp corporation is eliminated."

"Time is so short to fit in all the chores.
The selection and saving when shopping near home,
Cannot be beaten where ere you may roam."

"Their fashions project chicness with STRATEGIC FLAIR COMMAND, values make CENTS-ABLE budgets expand, subtle SERV-US woos patrons ethically as a SUPREME COURTSHIP."

"POLITE CLERKS
LEISURELY SERVE YOU,
YIELD IN SALES EQUAL
MONEY SAVED
ON FAMILY PURCHASES,
UNUSUAL VALUES
TIME SAVED AND
HONEST DEALERS MAKE SHOPPING A PLEASURE."

"I get the best buys from hometown guys, with an extra prize to realize, That's Why."

"Shop and Save is my motto,
And it works we all agree,
And hope that it will continue,
For its good for all you see!"

"Savings Stamps of every color — Red, Green, Gold, yes even yellor — are redeemed up state and down —
Plymouth Stamps are redeemed in our Home Town."

First Federal Increases Assets $17 Million

Assets of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit increased over $17 million during the six months ending June 30, and now total more than 180 million dollars, reports Hans G. Gieske, Jr., president. During this period savings are being accumulated at a rate of 15% per year. Federal currently pays 2 1/2% on savings.

New Operating District Formed By Michigan Bell

Michigan Bell Telephone Company has announced the formation of a new operational district embracing Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Northville, and Wayne. The new district is being organized to meet expanding service requirements of customers in this rapidly growing area. The new district will be headed by J. R. Huntley as head of commercial operations in the new district. Gilbert H. Selke as plant superintendent, and Robert T. Morris to direct traffic operations.

Selke Morris

Huntley

Huntley began his Michigan Bell career in Detroit in 1947 in the commercial department. A graduate of Duke University, he filled several training assignments before he was named commercial manager in 1950. He was named general staff supervisor in 1954, the position he held at the time of his present appointment. Selke joined the company in 1928 at Detroit where he received wide training in equipment installation and maintenance. A graduate of Detroit Institute of Technology, he was employed in plant training, sales, and personnel activities before being promoted to supervisor in 1940. He was general plant supervisor when named to his new Livonia district post. Morris is a veteran of 40 years service in telephone work. He began his career in Indianapolis, Ind., and five years later transferred to Michigan Bell where he has filled both line and staff assignments in many cities throughout the state. He has been district traffic superintendent at Wayne since 1954.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The latest upper peninsula mail carrier survey shows a marked increase in numbers of deer and other game over a similar survey made last year. The 1956 spring survey revealed an average of 15 birds per 10 carrier-days as compared with less than one bird sighted per 10 days last year.

The increase in deer numbers was even greater, with 5.5 animals counted per 10 carrier-days. The figure compares with 2.0 deer last year.

Growth of foliage was retarded this spring by colder weather, making visibility greater. Thus, the 1955 and 1956 surveys were made under somewhat different conditions which probably had an effect on the number of animals recorded.

However, other information indicates an increase in ruffed grouse populations since last year, which apparently was the low of the population cycle in most parts of the U.P.

The latest census was conducted by 34 R.F.D. and state route mail carriers representing every county in the U.P. These men contributed 1512 carrier-days of observations and counted 229 ruffed grouse and 332 deer.

State park visitors in western Michigan will welcome the news that Traverse City park will remain open throughout the summer. It previously was reported that the park would be closed at times because of highway construction work on US-31.

The change in plans should help to ease overcrowded conditions at other state parks in the area. Last season, the Traverse City park accommodated more than 150,000 visitors and some 3100 camping permits were issued.

The annual cleanup of a 48-mile stretch of the AuSable River has been completed by the Grayling explorer scouts. The boys, who volunteer their services for this project, gathered an estimated six tons of debris from the main stream and south branch of the river. The assorted refuse consisted mainly of cans and bottles, but included wire fencing, rubber tires, washbasins, bedsprings and frames, rope and other miscellaneous articles.

The scouts spent three days in completing the cleanup this year, using canoes donated by local boat rental agencies. The refuse was unloaded at access points on the river where it was picked up by Conservation trucks for disposal at county dumps.

Grayling merchants supplied food for the scouts while they were at work and local residents made donations to the boys' treasury in appreciation of the cleanup. The scouts use the money earned to purchase equipment and to finance an annual camping trip.

The debris, which is strewn about the river bottom near access points, comes from careless fishermen, picnickers, vacationists, canoeists and local inhabitants.

Forest fire damage last week was restricted to 44 acres throughout the state as 23 fires were reported. The latest fires brought the totals for the year to 396 fires and 2266 acres damaged.

Will-O-Way Offering 'The Happy Time' Next

"The Happy Time" that opens July 17 for a two-week stay at Will-O-Way Playhouse, will provide audiences at Michigan's senior "straw-hat" theatre with all the amusement that the title implies.

One of the most successful of the Rogers and Hammerstein productions, the plot of "The Happy Time" centers about an irresponsible and self-indulgent group of Frenchmen of the Bonnard family, who's answer to you can't like it with you, is simply "enjoy it while you're here."

The clan Bonnard is ruled by a level-headed, amiable Scottish man who is honestly at heart and in attempts to prevent her teen-age son from being ambled with their sometimes bizarre advice on affairs of the heart. The degree of success that her efforts meet with is the crux of this heart warming, enjoyable story.

It's Plymouth Night, Monday JULY 16 at Melody Circus Theatre

Plymouth Rotary Club will donate proceeds to building fund for crippled children of Western Wayne County.

Tickets available at: D. Galin & Son, Mayflower Hotel & National Bank of Detroit contributed as a community service by Wm. Wood Inc. Plymouth, Mich.

Hardest hit region during the week was the northern lower peninsula where 16 fires burned 7 acres. Two fires in the southern lower peninsula damaged four acres while five fires burned about three acres in the U.P.

Plans for a new classroom building at Higgins Lake training school on the site of a present classroom are well under way. The new building will have a large auditorium for meetings and a laboratory divided into committee rooms. Full construction work may begin in mid-summer.

The old building has been used as a clubhouse for several years and a building originally planned as a dormitory has been used as the main classroom.

The small building will be re-erected in sections and stored for future use and the present classroom will be converted to a dormitory.

The work will greatly increase the capacity of the school system.

Dog owners must wait until after July 15 to train dogs in open fields. State law prohibits breaking, training, or practicing dogs in open fields from April 15 to July 15.

Game birds and animals are nesting during that period and should not be molested. A Berkley resident who broke this law was ordered to pay a $17 fine and $3 court costs in a Holly court.

He was among the 61 persons listed on the latest conservation law convictions report. Fines and court costs for the group included $732 in fines and $923 in court costs.

All fines assessed for conservation law violations go to the state library fund.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

We did exceptionally well in our work this past year and are very proud of the awards we received at the encampment at Bay City. We received four awards and one honorable mention. The awards are as follows:

A first for cancer work—a citation and leather brief case. A second for legislative work—a brief case.

A sixth for community service—a green leather bound scrap book. A first for national work—a traveling trophy.

Youth activities—honorable mention. We also made the honor roll again for membership and received a gold star for this.

Mildred Dely and Helen Bowring made a trip to Maybury Sanatorium June 30th. They took books and magazines which were to be distributed among the patients by the hospital librarian on the following Monday.

President Helen Bowring and Community Service Chairman Adele Stevens are going to attend the meeting Tuesday, July 10, at the Plymouth high school to discuss problems of common interest to the community.

Barbara Nash has replaced Irene Stroschen as color bearer in the auxiliary.

We are glad to hear Betty Marquis is home from the hospital and is progressing very nicely.

We are sorry to hear that Lee Coolman has been ill and that Hilda Rorabacher was in an automobile accident. It was with great regret that we learned that the mother of Ethel Gagner, Mrs. Josephine Liberty, had passed away.

Congratulations to John and Mary Schwartz for having won the trip to Florida in the recent Plymouth Community Service contest. As we understand it, they can take this trip at any time during the remainder of 1956. Nice work, John and Mary.

Congratulations are in order to Jim & Delores Shaw on the birth of a daughter, Roger and Joan Vanderveer, a daughter, and Bob and Ann Smith, a daughter.

American Legion News

The post held its regular business meeting on Wednesday, July 11 at the Veterans Community Center. Final plans for the installation of Officers on July 18 were made.

Thursday, July 19, is the regular business meeting of the Auxiliary. The girls are urged to attend this meeting as they also will discuss plans for the installation to take care of.

Post and unit members are asked not to forget that the junior activities are sponsoring a cookie sale. Place your orders with Gwen Holcombe—1759-M and allow one day for delivery. The juniors have done real proud of themselves for the short time they have been activated—so let's give them a helping hand.

The post extends a hearty welcome to their newest member Charles S. Lairy, who became a member at the June 20 meeting.

Myron H. Beals Post and Auxiliary will hold their joint installation of officers on Tuesday evening July 17 at their post home on Newburg road at 8:00 p.m.

Passage-Gayde members are asked to remember that our own installation program will be on Wednesday, July 18 at the Elk Clubrooms at 8:00 p.m. Everybody is welcome to attend. Refreshment will follow.

Post and auxiliary members are also asked to reserve the evening of Thursday, July 26 for a social evening when it is being planned. This will take the form similar to a program held last year when we had the students who were sent to Wolverton Girls State and Boys State by the various civic organizations of Plymouth, in addition to the one sent by the post and auxiliary.

The auxiliary wishes to remind all that they are still in the greeting card business and those wishing same may contact Gwen Holcombe.

Salem Republicans Plan Lawn Party Tomorrow American Legion Post To Install Officers

The Salem Republican club is having a lawn party tomorrow night at the grounds of Schumann for 1956-57 on Wednesday, July 18 at 8:00 p.m. in the Elk Clubrooms on Ann Arbor road. Purpose of the party is to acquaint people with the new County Republican and nominate candidates for nomination of the August 7th primary election.

The speaker will be Clarence Reed, candidate for lieutenant governor. The price of the dinner has been set at $1 per person and the public is invited.

Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary, the American Legion will hold their installation of Officers for 1956-57 on Wednesday, July 18 at 8:00 p.m. in the Elk Clubrooms on Ann Arbor road. Ritual work of Vantage 112 of the 3041st and 81st S.I. of the 3444th will be held in the installation ceremony.

Postmaster Albert Holbrook, 1759-M, and Mrs. Gardner will be present. The post will be served with refreshments.

Writer Tells of Camp Life With 5,000 Girl Scouts

By CAROLE ANNE NORTH
EDITOR'S NOTE: Four Plymouth girls attended the first national Girl Scout Roundup which opened two weeks ago and ended yesterday. Carole Anne North sent the following story to The Mail telling her impressions of the international event at Highland State Recreation Area.)

Camping with 4,999 other Girl Scouts is a wonderful experience and so much fun. Betsy Edgar, my tent partner from Plymouth, and I are participating in the first Senior Girl Scout Roundup now being held at the Highland Recreation Area near Milford. The camp's activities will end Wednesday, July 11.

There are delegates here from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Canal Zone, Mexico, Brazil, Columbia, Canada, Great Britain, Norway, and Denmark.

When Betsy and I arrived a week ago, one of the first things we noticed was how friendly everyone was. It seemed like we were joining the Army when we went through all the big circus-like tents to register, receive our dog tags, transfer our money into our Roundup scrip, deposit the rest of our money in the bank, and get rechecked at the medical tent. The staff was especially friendly during all of this.

One of the friendliest and most interesting persons that Betsy and I have met is Gene Robinson, a leader from Manchester, England. She has a delightful accent to which we could listen for hours.

Setting up our camp was fun though most of our equipment had to be carried up a very steep hill. Later, much to our surprise, our patrol discovered it was much easier to walk up the hill backwards.

At the very bottom of the hill our patrol was issued a pile of lumber which was a disassembled picnic table. We lifted the pile of lumber to our shoulders and started up the hill. One of the Army men who is guarding the camp, took our picture and he was sure the lumber wouldn't reach the top of the hill. But we fooled him, it did.

Swapping articles with other girls is a favorite past time. Several Plymouth girls gave us articles which have been traded for corn cobs dolls from Erie, Pennsylvania, cotton sacks from Missouri, chop sticks from San Francisco, soy bean dolls from Dexter, Missouri, and many other such items. We have a big "swapping tent" where we do most of our trading.

The camp boasts a trading post containing as much merchandise as a small department store. When a thousand girls are in there drinking soft drinks, laughing, and buying things it is quite a mess but loads of fun.

Steak broiled well over charcoal, fried potatoes, salad, and pound cake with chocolate sauce, is a typical meal. We are really fed well.

Many special programs such as evening campfires, trips to Greenfield Village, an American day pageant, and the color flag ceremonies. We had a big celebration for the Fourth of July.

Miss Eleanor Thomas led a group of 6,000 girls and leaders in singing our favorite songs. The sound of so many voices harmonizing is a sound to be long remembered.

We greeted Mrs. George S. Dunham chairman of the Roundup, Miss Dorothy C. Stratton, National Executive Director, and Mrs. Roy F. Layton our national president with a rousing cheer, and we sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The dream of the roundup seemed completed when the fire with five points was lit by five representatives from the same number of groups. Each point was lit simultaneously and the flames seem to unite in the center giving everyone a little lump in their throat.

The Roundup was divided into five large sections, each section was divided into camps, each camp divided into troops, each troop into patrol.

Even though the Roundup is filled with girls from many places we all wear the same uniforms, green bermudas, yellow seersucker blouses, green socks, and official Roundup ties, and sing together. It is really a wonderful experience.

British Parents Visit Association

The father of Mrs. John Cigan, 650 Jener, was the speaker at the last meeting of the Trans-Atlantic Brides and Parents association. He was Gordon Lewis, a member of the Wimbledon branch of the association in England.

There are a number of Plymouth area women who are members of the Garden City branch of the association, including some of its officers. Mrs. Cigan, the president, is soon moving to Wisconsin.

The speaker gave a report on the area meeting in England and presented the local branch with a goodwill token, a plaque of flags.

Several other parents of members were also visiting this country and attended the meeting. They were Mrs. Molly Beeby, mother of Mrs. Jean Trombley of Plymouth and Mrs. Batts, mother of Mrs. Violet Farmer, a resident of Ypsilanti and an employee of Daisy Manufacturing.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, July 17 at 8 p.m. in the Presbyterian church, Middlebelt south of Ford road. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Stephen Church, Logan 3-5906.

Mothers Hear Dental Hygenist as Speaker

The Riverside Park Church of God Nursery Mothers met at the home of Mrs. Robert Majors July 10 at 3 p.m. The director of the nursery department, Mrs. Fred Beitner planned a program which benefited the mothers greatly.

The guest speaker, Miss Carol McCarthy, a dental hygenist spoke to the group on care of the little teeth. Refreshments were served and a time of fellowship and sharing of ideas was enjoyed.

In attendance were: Mrs. William Rudick, Mrs. John Proctor, Mrs. Clayton McNamara, Mrs. William Jayaska, Mrs. Kenneth McMillan, Mrs. Robert Majors, Mrs. Marvin Newberry, Mrs. Joseph Fox, Mrs. E. B. Jones, Mrs. Fred Beitner and Mrs. Gerald Elston.

Handed down by her grandmother, the recipe for lemon pie presented here by Mrs. Wayne Dunlap, 676 Burroughs, has been a favorite in her family. As a small girl in Texas, Mrs. Dunlap relished lemon pie and has brought the recipe to Plymouth, much to the delight of her husband and two children. Mr. Dunlap is conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

Here is the recipe:
 1 cup sugar
 3 1/2 tablespoons flour few grains of salt

1 cup water
 3 egg yolks
 1 lemon, juice and rind
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 9-inch pie shell
 whipping cream

Mix flour, salt and sugar. Stir in one-third of water and mix until smooth. Cook over a low flame until it has thickened. Pour into baked pie shell and cool.

Put in rest of water, lemon juice and rind and butter into pan and mix. Cook over a low flame until it has thickened. Pour into baked pie shell and cool.

Cover with whipped cream before serving. It may be covered with meringue instead of whipped cream.

Some Tips on Packing for Vacation Travel

Planning a vacation? Here are some special travel tips from Anna Lou Baird, Wayne county home demonstration agent.

PLASTIC HELPS
A number of plastic bags of various sizes can be put to good use in packing lingerie, hose, gloves, shoes, purses and cosmetics. One yard of plastic will make any number of small bags. Simply cut plastic in sizes you want and fuse edges together with an iron—no stitching necessary. You may find a larger bag useful for bringing back soiled articles. Prevent spills and breakage—save empty plastic bottles to fill for the trip.

Instead of throwing a worn Turkish towel into the rag bag, put it into squares and use them as wash cloths in hotels and on trains. Discard them as you change to a new location.

PACKING TIPS
When you are packing sweaters for travel, fold in the sleeves and roll the sweaters to prevent wrinkles. They take less space this way, too. When packing dresses, pin pocket flaps and fancy collars and cuffs in place—they'll look neater when you take them out of your bag. Always use lots of tissue paper along the folds in the garments to prevent creases. Lingerie can also be put between folds in garments and in shoes, purses and hats. Careful planning is the secret. Sometimes a basic suit or dress and a simple hat like a pill box can be made to do double or triple duty. Vary this outfit with veils of different colors and jewelry, and an artificial flower or a neck scarf to match each veil. A hat box is a handy piece of luggage for articles like this which should not be crushed. Loosely fold veils inside hats.

Select fabrics that travel well. Dacron blouses and men's shirts can be worn without ironing after being packed for as much as two weeks. Dacron, orlon and nylon garments can be easily rinsed out between wearings. They dry rapidly. If drip dried (hung on hangers without wringing) they can be worn without ironing. If collars and cuffs need touching up, press with LOW TEMPERATURE iron.

LET CHILDREN HELP
It's usually up to Mother to make the decision of what clothes to take for the children. Mrs. Baird believes it is a good idea to let the children help plan what they want to take. Let them take some responsibility for getting their clothes together and seeing that they are packed. Probably Bobby will first think of his bathing suit. Mrs. Baird adds some other necessities to the list:

Sunsuits are fine for sunny days; but be sure to include overalls and shirts for chilly days and evenings. She points out that jersey T-shirts are easy to pack and launder. Include a pair of stout walking shoes besides a pair of the popular sneakers.

Don't forget those extras like needle and thread, solid cologne, emery boards, band-aids, a small clothes brush, cleansing tissue, scissors, shower cap, etc. Put some paste wax in a small empty jar and keep it in your bag in case you want to give leather shoes or purse a quick shine.

Give new luggage a protective coat of paste wax, too, and don't forget the metal fittings. If you need to do a cleaning job on your luggage, use a liquid cleaning and polishing wax.

SHORT ITEM
If you are planning a trip this summer, or will be driving anywhere in the distance, here's a suggestion that will help you to air-condition your car while you drive. Find a bucket or pail that is big enough to hold a fairly large cake of ice—yet small enough to fit under the dashboard of your car. Get a cake of ice to put in the bucket—ice cubes, chopped or crushed ice would melt too fast—and place bucket and ice under the dashboard, just beneath or in front of the vent openings.

Then roll up the windows of your car, open the vents, and that's all there is to it. The air entering the car through the vents will blow onto the ice and be cooled. If you keep the windows closed, you can prevent warm air from entering, thereby making your air-conditioning system almost 100% effective.

'Dunking' Foods Can Take Place Of Salad, Snack

Finger salads can be served right with the main course of the meal or served as snack foods. For finger salads you need an ample supply of crisp raw relishes and a variety of dressings, explains Robert Hershey, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. When serving them as a salad course of a meal, use individual salad plates. Place a mound of dressing on each one and surround it with one or more kinds of relishes. Each person dips his own.

Miss Hershey suggest some cheese dressings as being especially tasty with raw vegetables. Some are: cream cheese thinned with mayonnaise and seasoned with chopped pickle; cream cheese mixed with sour cream and then seasoned; sour cream, as it is or seasoned; cottage cheese thinned with cream and seasoned with garlic or onion salt. Another suggestion is mayonnaise or salad dressing mixed with curry, dill, catchup or horseradish.

Raw relishes, without any dressing, can double as a salad, too. For crisp raw vegetables try small romaine or lettuce leaves; carrot or celery sticks; small chunks of lettuce or Chinese cabbage; water-cress sprigs; cucumber sticks or slices; scallions; radishes; green pepper strips or rings; thick tomato wedges; or tiny cauliflowerets.

PICNIC MEXICANA

The egg goes to a picnic in Egg Sandwich Mexicana as an easy-to-pack glamour bun or as a toasted open-face sandwich with patio appeal. Served either way—cold or hot—the "Mexican" seasonings mean zippy eating of an old picnic favorite—egg salad.

Hamburger buns or hot dog rolls, split and scooped out to hold the egg filling, make a good, sturdy platform for the sandwich—very easy to handle even by small children. When the picnic is away from the backyard and the oven needed to serve hot sandwiches, omit the baking and wrap the sandwiches in aluminum foil. The versatility of eggs makes them delicious, served hot or cold.

EGG SANDWICH MEXICANA

- 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped coarsely
  - 1/2 cup mixed chopped green pepper, stuffed olives and onion
  - 1/2 cup (1/4 lb) sharp Cheddar cheese, grated
  - 1/4 cup chili sauce
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt, scant
  - 1/4 teaspoon chill powder
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
  - 4 large rolls or hamburger buns, split in half
- Combine all ingredients except butter or margarine and rolls. Hollow out the inside of the split rolls, leaving about a 1/4-inch shell. Spread with melted butter and heap egg mixture into hollows. Place shells on baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400° F) until cheese starts to melt and edges are delicately browned, about 20 minutes. Serve with pickles and olives. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Clothes Close-ups

By D. C. P.

"IT'S NOT THE HEAT... IT'S THE HUMIDITY!"

Humidity affects the appearance of your clothes, just as it affects your physical comfort.

Garments become limp or even dejected looking on hanging or in wear when the humidity is high. They need more frequent pressing.

Fabrics hold a natural amount of moisture even though they do not feel moist. Wool holds the greatest amount of moisture, followed by silk, rayon, acetate and cotton. Nylon, Orlon, Dacron, dynel and Acrilan do not absorb moisture readily.

Fabrics absorb and hold more moisture on a day when the relative humidity is high. On such days, the moisture does not evaporate readily.

What about relative humidity?

It is a term used to tell us the amount of water held in the air in relation to a given temperature. It is very high on a foggy or rainy day. It does not stay constant. It may vary within a day. It varies from one section of the country to another. It varies from season to season. It affects the rate of evaporation. It causes our clothes to wrinkle very easily.

Don't let the humidity get you down! For that well-groomed look have your clothes pressed frequently.

MEAT SANDWICHES FOR A PICNIC

By MADELINE HOLLAND
Director of Home Economics
American Meat Institute

You can have a picnic without sunshine; you can even have a picnic without a crowd; but somehow it isn't a real picnic without sandwiches. Heartily filled, well-wrapped sandwiches are one of the most convenient forms in which solid nourishment can be found.

Meat sandwiches are an especially good choice for picnicking. The neat little packages carry well, and are easily prepared. They are equally appropriate for a picnic on a sandy stretch beside the favorite swimming hole, a roadside picnic table in the country, or even the back seat of the family station wagon!

Cold cuts are ideal for picnic sandwiches. Frankfurters and canned luncheon meats are, too. Franks, the luncheon meat, and the more than 100 varieties of cold cuts now available, are always good buys for they are all meat, no bone, no waste, and ready-to-eat.

For our picnic basket, we've chosen frankfurters, canned meat, and a variety of cold cuts including pimiento loaf, liver sausage, ham sausage, salami, bologna, and summer sausage. We've also selected a variety of breads—white, rye, crisp-crusted, and rolls of assorted sizes.

INSECTICIDES

Housewives are expected to spend a total of $1,000,000 on insecticides during the coming garden season. The bug killers are proving to be some of the most profitable items on non-food shelves of the country's supermarkets.

Success of Egg Desserts Depend on Temperature

Are your baked custards and rice and bread puddings smooth or are they watery when they are cut into? It might be your baking technique that makes the difference.

Using a low enough baking temperature is essential to prevent watery puddings, says Mary Coleman, foods instructor at Michigan State University. The best oven temperature is about 325 degrees. Then be sure the custard or pudding is baked only until it is set enough so that when a silver knife is inserted in the center of the mixture, it comes out clean with no traces of the food.

Prolonged baking or baking at too high a temperature will cause the eggs to shrink away from the liquid in the mixture that makes it watery.

To help prevent this, Miss Coleman suggests, set the dish of custard or pudding in a pan of water before placing it in the oven.

Citrus Cools Political Tempers

With the shouting and the tumult of the political conventions coming up, you'll want plenty of refreshment to soothe television and radio audiences' tempers. Canned Florida grapefruit juice is a favorite easy-to-serve thirst-quencher and is good to have on hand for making refreshing ades and punches. Iced tea is a bracing drink and remember all coolers will look and taste better if you serve them with ice cubes made from fruit juices.

Lime cubes are easy to make; simply combine juice of two Florida persian limes with 3 cups of water, or use the lime concentrate reconstituted. Pour into refrigerator ice cube tray and freeze. For other flavor combinations, freeze juice of No. 2 cans of Florida grapefruit juice, or blended orange and grapefruit juice. Pour beverage over regular ice cubes to chill and then add 2 citrus cubes of desired flavor to each glass.

Convention Cooler

- 1 46-ounce can Florida grapefruit juice
  - 1 pint ginger ale
  - 2 No. 2 cans Florida tangerine juice
- Chill all ingredients thoroughly. Combine citrus juices with ginger ale in big pitcher. Serve with lime ice cubes. Yield: 12 tall glasses.

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty... its matchless luxury... and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar.

There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling... its magnificent power and performance... and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

Soil Bank Agreement Forms Now Available

Agreement forms for the new Soil Bank program are now available to farmers at the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Wayne. They must be signed not later than July 20 if the farmer wishes to take part during the 1956 crop year, according to ASC Chairman, Arthur Monks.

The Soil Bank is a new feature of the national farm program authorized under the farm bill recently enacted. Its objective is to encourage farmers to reduce crop acreages and thus help overcome farm surpluses that are depressing the market.

Of particular concern in this area is the program for corn, which applies to the Nation's 840 commercial corn-producing counties and to 35 counties in Michigan. Even though 1956 corn planting is completed, producers can make adjustments and earn Soil Bank payments this year, Monks said. He emphasized, however, that no farmer should attempt to comply without checking at the county office and signing an official agreement with the Department of Agriculture.

U of M Professor's Research Tells Why People Enjoy Reading Mystery

Most people don't read detective stories just to experience a cold thrill on a hot summer day, according to Richard C. Boys, associate professor of English at The University of Michigan.

"Probably most people read detective stories for relaxation, though this does not necessarily mean that no thought is involved. Many look on them as a puzzle, an intellectual game," Professor Boys says.

He points out that until fairly recent years the reading of detective stories was a vice indulged in by many but admitted openly by few. "In our own day the detective story has established itself as an honest literary form with many respectable followers," he states.

"We know that President Wilson read J. S. Fletcher at night before going to bed, and that the late President Roosevelt was an avid fan."

The charge is often brought that most detective stories are poor in quality and that the good ones are rare. "But good ones are written just the same," the English professor asserts. "A few writers of detective stories could hold their heads up in any literary circle. Dorothy Sayers, for example, writes detective stories which approach our best novels. And Eric Ambler, Graham Greene and Raymond Chandler at their best are good indeed."

Professor Boys explains that he term "mystery story" is usually used loosely to include all branches of this literary form, the adventure story, the spy story, tales of terror, tales of the supernatural, and the "pure" detective story. "Some of the best writing is found in tales of international intrigue, particularly in the works of John Buchan and Eric Ambler," he says.

He continues, "Another kind of mystery story, the ghost story, is considered by most fans to be an inferior sort, and a similar judgement is usually made about tales of sheer terror, though Dracula and Boris Karloff will always have some admirers."

Professor Boys points out that the tale of mental terror is very much in the foreground these days, in part because of Hollywood's preoccupation with the type. "The real master of this school is Graham Greene, who has turned out several first rate books."

"Another trend today is that detectives have become more human," he says. "In the hands of such writers as Raymond Chandler the detective has become a social hero, protective of the rights of common man. He may be unscrupulous, he is often immoral. But inasmuch as he is a social benefactor, he has become more human," he concludes.

New Flush Door Quality Guide

A trend to use of high quality hardwood plywood flush doors, the most popular door style in America in postwar years, has been sparked by appearance of a new commercial standard which serves as a readily understood "quality guide" for buyers.

The standard, CS 200-55, was recently promulgated by the U. S. Department of Commerce. It was brought about by three years of intensive work by the National Woodwork Manufacturers Association and other interested parties.

The standard sets general requirements of materials and construction, and prescribes methods of test to assure that hardwood plywood flush doors fulfill the requirements. Additional requirements are spelled out for exterior and interior doors in each of the three NWMA grades—Premium, Good and Paint.

The NWMA grades parallel the top three grades set by the Hardwood Plywood Institute—Custom, Good and Sound—which are to be the subject of another new standard forthcoming early in 1956.

It is surprising how much trash one gets in the mails, if he opens his mail.

Kitchen Needs Well-Planned Wall Storage

Because cabinets in the kitchen occupy so much wall space, they play a different role in decoration than they do in any other room. Kitchen cabinets are the walls themselves from a decorative point of view.

Laboratory white, popular some years back, now has been banished from the kitchen by what one color stylist calls "spirited and light-hearted" colors.

Cabinets that can be decorated and redecorated, such as the easy-to-paint ponderosa pine cabinets stocked by most local lumber dealers, are preferable to cabinets with built-in color. Wood cabinets offer flexibility for new decorative schemes in the future, as well as an unlimited variety of paint or stain finishes initially.

In terms of efficiency and convenience, according to the University of Illinois Small Homes Council, cabinets should be placed close to the point where the stored articles are first used. Canned foods that require only heat before serving should be stored near the stove. Items used in dishwashing should be stored close to the sink.

Supplies should be stored so it's possible to identify and grasp individual items without emptying a whole shelf. Also, no shelf should be higher than 72 inches from the floor, the maximum reach for the average woman.

The average family of four has about 250 separate items to be stored in the kitchen. This requires about seven lineal feet of upper-wall cabinets and 13 lineal feet of base cabinets.

Charm Divider

Room dividers like this one, made of beautifully-grained Douglas fir, add charm and utility. Dishes used every day are stored in upper cupboard, handy to dining table on one side and kitchen on other. Pass through space adds final distinctive touch. Fir lumber has been finished with clear var to bring out texture and soft golden tones.

FOR EVERY HOME

Consider Quality, Strength and Use of Lumber When Selecting for House Construction Needs

(This is the first of two articles to appear on these Building Pages concerning the problem of selecting lumber for house construction needs.)

Lumber should be selected to serve the particular purpose for which it is to be used. To buy lumber of insufficient strength and quality is, of course, unwise; to buy lumber of a better quality than is needed is extravagant.

Lumber, like many commodities, is graded according to quality and strength. While this is of considerable help to the purchaser, the many species of wood and the several grades of quality complicate the task of buying lumber.

Softwoods are cut from trees having needle-like or scale-like leaves (fir, pine, cedar). Hardwoods are cut from trees that have broader leaves (gum, oak, willow).

Lumber comes from many species of trees, all of which have certain common characteristics such as growth rings and grain. These characteristics vary from species to species and determine the suitability of particular woods for particular uses.

Of all the demands placed on wood in house construction, strength is the most important. The strength required of each piece of lumber depends not only on the purpose it is to serve, but also the way the load (or stress) is distributed on the piece, and the length of time the piece must support the load. In turn, the strength of each piece of lumber itself depends on 1) the kind and quality of wood, 2) the way the piece is loaded in relation to the direction of its grain, and 3) its size.

Quality and strength of wood are affected by grain, by defects and indirectly by moisture content.

In addition to knowing and appreciating the physical properties and the limitations of lumber, prospective homeowners find that an understanding of lumber merchandising terms is helpful. Many persons describe their needs in words which, to a dealer, mean lumber in excess of the grade actually needed. For instance, if a homeowner who needs a set of shelves in the basement merely states that he wants a "good-looking board," this may mean to the dealer a top-grade board. Actually, one of the lower grades could serve just as well at less cost.

To help the homeowner in purchasing lumber, this circular describes the properties of wood, and the grades and uses of lumber for houses and lawn accessories. (It is assumed that lumber will be used in accordance with good building techniques.) Emphasis is given to the softwoods since these are used most for construction; the hardwoods are generally remanufactured into items such as flooring and furniture.

Although wood is classified as softwood or hardwood, these terms have no reference to the softness or hardness of the wood. Softwoods are cut from trees having needle-like or scale-like leaves (fir, pine, cedar). Hardwoods are cut from trees that have broader leaves (gum, oak, willow).

Lumber comes from many species of trees, all of which have certain common characteristics such as growth rings and grain. These characteristics vary from species to species and determine the suitability of particular woods for particular uses.

Of all the demands placed on wood in house construction, strength is the most important. The strength required of each piece of lumber depends not only on the purpose it is to serve, but also the way the load (or stress) is distributed on the piece, and the length of time the piece must support the load. In turn, the strength of each piece of lumber itself depends on 1) the kind and quality of wood, 2) the way the piece is loaded in relation to the direction of its grain, and 3) its size.

Quality and strength of wood are affected by grain, by defects and indirectly by moisture content.

Grain—the arrangement of fibers or cells in the wood—is sometimes the basis for selecting lumber. Boards chosen for beauty often have fibers arranged in a wavy or curly pattern. In some woods, the fibers form a pronounced pattern due to differences in the size of the cells.

For strength, boards should have a grain that is straight—that is, the wood fibers should run nearly parallel to the sides of the board.

When the fibers deviate from the parallel, the board is said to have cross grain. A small amount of cross grain is generally acceptable. Cross grain is the result of 1) the fibers following a spiral pattern in the tree's growth, or 2) the sawmill operator not sawing the board parallel to the bark surface.

The grain pattern varies according to the way the board is sawn—flat-sawn or quarter-sawn (vertical grained). Flat-sawn boards are more apt to warp or shrink than quarter-sawn boards and, thus, are less desirable for some uses.

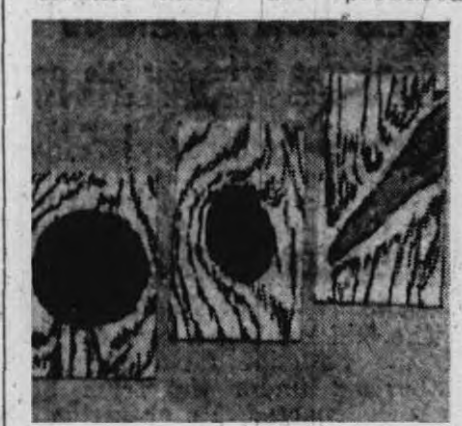

Hardwoods are porous woods. Those woods with large pores (cell openings), such as oak, are called open-grained woods. Woods which have smaller pores scattered over the surface of the annual growth rings are described as close-grained woods. Walnut, gum and maple are examples. Because knots, checks, splits, shakes, and pitch pockets weaken a piece of lumber, the lumber and size of these defects are specified for the various grades.

A knot is a part of a branch which has become incorporated into the body of a tree. Although the knot itself is as strong as the rest of the wood, the cross grain which develops around the knot weakens the lumber. Furthermore, when the lumber is being dried, checks and cracks often develop in this irregular grain.

Knots can be tight or loose. Loose knots, formed when the wood grows around a dead branch, are apt to fall out when the log is cut into lumber.

Round knots are produced when the limb is crosscut; spike knots when the limb is sawn lengthwise.

Checks and splits are separations of the wood along the grain. A split extends through lumber; a check does not. Checks and splits usually develop as a result of unequal shrinkage in a piece of lumber. How much they weaken lumber depends on 1) their size, and 2) where they are located in the piece.

Shakes differ from splits inasmuch as they are a separation between two growth rings; a split runs across growth rings.

Pitch pockets are openings which contain solid or liquid pitch. They are found in pine, spruce, Douglas fir, tamarack and western larch.

RUBBER-BASE PAINTS FOR MASONRY

Rubber-base paints are often being used these days for masonry surfaces because of their alkali-resistant qualities. They can be applied to asbestos, shingle, stone, brick, concrete and cinder block.

Summer Market Shows Variety of Styles And Finishes in Home Furnishings

Again the latest in home furnishings has been displayed at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago. A Lincoln Lantz, Walter Rensel and James Taylor, buyers' representatives from Blunk's Incorporated, have selected lamps, carpets, and furniture for fall showing in their local store. Never has there been a wider selection... ranging from European provincial reproductions to items which are unmistakably Oriental in feeling.

The most recent traditional influence, particularly in fabric designing, stems from the Persian. As to furniture, along with the current interest in Italian, French and American provincial, there is a strong, steady demand for good, well-designed Modern. This is easy to understand because modern, as always, features compactness of arrangement, flexibility of use, and durability of finish. Along with such practical worth, modern furniture in the current displays is boldly imaginative in appearance. There is lightness of scale which is accentuated by slender legs which lift the pieces well off the floor. Contrast in facing materials vary the appearance of correlated groups so that any number of pieces may be placed together without risk of monotony.

One such group of modern furniture called "Linear" is the work of the brilliant young designer, Paul McCobb. Designed with today's smaller living quarters in mind, a grouping of these pieces provides much needed extra storage space. The cases are 34" high, in modular sizes, so many combinations are possible, either vertical or horizontal. Also there is one unit, finished all round with sliding doors on either side which can be used as a corner piece or as a room divider. In contrast to this angular pattern, the coffee tables in this group are low and round.

"Linear," made of American walnut, is banded with a pewter-like metal and, for a more subtle contrast, some of the sliding panel doors are covered with a plastic fabric the same color as the wood. The finish itself is a soft transparent brown. However, the tone is intentionally uniform since, as Mr. McCobb explains, a too-prominent, random wood pattern can be highly distracting. So, in the finishing, after the first clear filler is applied, a sap-stain is hand-painted into the wood to achieve desired uniformity of color.

Next comes a spray stain for color value, very close to natural walnut. As a further step in equalizing the tone, a bleach lacquer follows. Then comes the hand rubbing between coats of clear lacquer, and also the final application of wax, all of which gives a softly glowing yet durable finish.

Indeed, the age-old design concept of repetition and contrast is perfectly exemplified by the close relationship of these modular units on the one hand, and the charming contrast in the structural materials on the other. It may be said in passing that its eye appeal is due to its simplicity and perfection of scale, which is typical of all McCobb furniture.

All in all, upon viewing the current display here in Chicago, one has the feeling that good taste has no price tag. There is distinctive furniture in every price range—in traditional, transitional and modern styles; for snug apartments as well as for town and country houses both large and small.

The United States is building fifty new hamlets in the Canadian Arctic. They are the main radar sites in the Distant Early Warning radar line being built by this country across 3,000 miles from Frobisher Bay in southern Baffin Island to Tuktoyaktuk on the Beaufort Sea near the Alaskan border. They will be managed by a civilian contractor the United States will select to operate the DEW line.

BUILDING AND REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

Good Kitchen to Be Kept Modern Must Be Designed for Multiple Use

Designing kitchens in many modern homes involves a great deal more than merely figuring where to put the sink, range and refrigerator, according to leading home designers. Good kitchen planning, they point out, will make multiple use of available space.

In addition to serving as the food preparation and housekeeping center of the home, the kitchen may have to provide dining space. Other space needs often linked to the kitchen, the designers say, are a laundry, a family room, a large share of household storage, a beverage and snack bar, and a traffic path to an attached breezeway, garage or porch.

The key to multiple use of the kitchen area is intelligent storage planning. The more compact and efficient the storage is, the more room will be available for dual uses. Kitchen planners have been aided in this respect by advances in the design and manufacturing of kitchen cabinets.

Wood wall cabinets and base units are now produced in a wide variety of sizes. Many special purpose cabinets are available, such as multi-drawer units for dinnerware and linens, cabinets with built-in racks for trays and with bins for vegetables and staples, revolving lazy Susans for the corner, and special units for storing food mixers, toasters and other small appliances.

Makers of wood cabinets also produce island and peninsula units which have become excellent tools for kitchen designers. These units not only partition kitchen space efficiently, but they free several kitchen functions from the wall, leaving more room for standard storage cabinets. A typical island unit may have a utilitarian function on one side, such as a counter top range or double bowl sink, and serve as a breakfast bar on the other side. There will be added storage space below on both sides. Similarly, wood cabinets for housing built-in appliances such as wall ovens and refrigerators are favored space-savers.

Compact kitchen design, achieved by wise selection and placement of cabinets, can make room for adding a luxury function to the kitchen. This could be a beverage and snack bar for the convenience of the man of the house in hosting friends, or a desk for the homemaker where menus can be planned and accounts kept.

The trend to well-designed multipurpose kitchens is one of the factors that have led to the unparalleled popularity of wood kitchen cabinets in postwar years. A multipurpose kitchen tends to become a family center, and it may be visible from other rooms. Attractive wood cabinets add the note of beauty and cheer desirable in a family center, as well as keeping the area in harmony with furnishings elsewhere in the home.

Check Split-Level Dwellings For Complete-Insulation Needs

If you own or are planning to buy a split-level house, you can be sure of greater comfort and enjoyment in your home if you make certain it has no insulation flaws.

Skimpy or non-existent insulation is to blame in many split-level homes where owners have reported some rooms are like ovens in summer and ice boxes in winter.

That's one of the major things learned about split-levels in a widespread survey undertaken by the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association after many split-level owners complained of discomfort. Much of the trouble in split-levels has been traced to three special areas that don't always exist in other types of houses. These areas are:

1. The ceiling separating the garage from the sleeping area.
2. The wall section between the garage and the living area.
3. The wall section separating the lower attic and upper-level rooms.

At these points in many split-levels, insulation was not used or was too thin. Summer heat came in and winter heat escaped. Mineral wool insulation can remedy these faults. Split-level house owners can install batts or blankets where joints or studs are exposed. Enclosed walls can be insulated with blown wool by a trained installer.

Split level homes need adequate insulation in conventional areas, too—attic floors, walls, and at the edge of the concrete slab under a finished basement.

For walls and attic floors, architects recommend insulation of three-inch-thick mineral wool batts or blankets or an adequate thickness of blown or poured mineral wool in an existing house.

A special type of mineral wool edge insulation is produced for concrete slabs to help keep heat from escaping. This insulation should be installed when the house is under construction.

Here's How to Get the Most for Your 1956 Modernization Dollar

Early reports from the Federal Housing Administration show that the volume of home improvement loans is running well ahead of last year.

Sponsors of "Operation Home Improvement" point to this increase as positive evidence of their campaign's success. Actually, even greater success may be on the way since the summer season is the boom time for modernization projects, according to the Insulating Siding Association.

With the long range trend in real estate prices indicating still higher levels, improvement of property is one of the best possible investments the average family can make. In fact, the Insulating Siding Association has found that every dollar spent on modernization increases value by two to three dollars depending on the work done.

Many people buy older homes and then develop a long-range plan for remodeling them, maintaining it's cheaper than buying a new home. This is often true. Nevertheless, there can be pitfalls in remodeling, too. Here are some things the insulating siding people ask you to consider.

Is the home basically suited or adaptable to modern living? Space alone isn't the final criterion. Rooms should be located in the right relationship to fit the desired living pattern. And the lot itself should be large enough to permit carrying out the modernization projects.

Is the house structurally sound? Many remodeling jobs can be done by the homeowner. But hardly anyone can remedy basic faults in the construction of the building, if they are serious. If they can be remedied the remedies often cost more than building new. So take a good look at such basic things as plumbing, wiring, foundation, condition of plaster, and of outside walls.

Also ask what modernization projects give the most value and living comfort for the money. A home modernized with insulating siding, for example, offers several year-round benefits... fuel savings in winter, more even temperature in both winter and summer, freedom from maintenance worries, modern decoration. Few improvements have the real value that a new siding job offers.

WISE PRECAUTION

When you're painting a wall, remove the electrical switch and outlet plates and paint them separately on a newspaper. If you paint the plates on the wall, they'll stick and possibly disfigure the surrounding area the next time you take them off.

Besides the condition of the house and its suitability to remodeling, consider the condition of the neighborhood. It's foolish to modernize extensively in a neighborhood that is declining rapidly. But if new homes are built in the area and old ones are in good repair, then your modernization money will be well invested.

Special Paints Now Made for Asbestos Siding

If you are planning to join Operation Home Improvement and "fix in '56," as are countless families throughout the country, you may wish to paint your asbestos-cement siding to suit a new color scheme.

If so, go right ahead with your plans. Authorities on home maintenance point out that although such siding never requires painting for preservation, it does take paint readily.

Before painting, however, be sure to check with your building materials hardware or paint dealer. The siding, like other asbestos-cement products, actually is a form of reinforced concrete. As such it calls for a special type of paint, which is produced by various companies. Follow the manufacturer's directions closely.

Painting an asbestos-sided home can be well justified from an investment viewpoint since the siding lasts indefinitely. Moreover, the material's incombustibility offers an important bonus feature of fire-safety throughout the life of the house.

Ordinarily, painting is not associated with asbestos siding because the material is immune to deterioration from weather exposure and other customary causes of rust and decay. No protective coating is needed. The siding comes permanently predecorated in a choice of attractive colors.

Look Out! It's Vacation Time

Now that the summer vacation season is upon us, it may not be amiss for us to repeat the old warning that careful driving is what the nation needs if it is to reduce the horrible cost of speed on our highways.

One hundred, or more, Americans die every day in payment of the price for modern, high-speed transportation. It is strange that the public is so apathetic to this loss of life, and that the injured are hardly noticed by the people generally.

Plymouth, like every other community, furnishes its quota of victims to the automobile-highway toll every year. With the best of intentions, we continue to permit drunken drivers to operate cars and get off relatively free when apprehended.

Rigid enforcement of every traffic regulation, with stiff fines imposed for minor violations, would do much to make the average automobile driver more safety-conscious. Let's support the work of our traffic officers and give them the satisfaction of knowing that we are behind them when they arrest careless and reckless drivers.

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Last week we asked people's opinion about girls wearing shorts downtown. This week we want to ask how you feel about men wearing Bermuda shorts in public places."

MRS. CAROL MERRITT, 8923 Corrine: "I don't see anything wrong with men wearing them to the beach or park, but not downtown. And I don't like to see women wearing them downtown, for that matter. They are all right in their own back yard—but that's all."

KARL HARGRAVE, Wayne: "To me it's rather absurd for men to wear shorts other than at home. I don't think I'd wear them myself. It's all right for others if they want to, but not for myself."

EINO HAYSKAR, 1434 Penniman: "Yes, they should. I come downtown myself to shop in them. The trend is definitely toward more casual wear for men. They are even worn to some formal affairs. It takes a certain amount of courage to start wearing them—or maybe it's aggressiveness or indifference. Anyway, they are something cool and they will be seen more in the future."

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, 245 West Ann Arbor Trail: "It should be up to the individual. There is a time and a place where they should be worn. I am not for seeing them worn every place. My husband wears them around home but I wouldn't want to see him downtown in them. They are comfortable and are becoming more common. Men are getting away from this uncomfortable type of dress on hot days. Wouldn't you rather be wearing them right now?" (Editor's Note: With legs looking like this: (... no!))

"Keep The Change"

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard: "Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special—and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert. Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister—you've sure earned it more than I have," she said.

To Advocate Law Ousting Bad Drivers

A law to "save your life" will be advocated by Secretary of State James M. Hare to state legislators when they reconvene on July 17. Designed to remove "bad drivers" from Michigan highways, this legislation will deny license renewals to proven poor driving risks.

During the last 12 months 25,000 licenses were denied drivers applying for renewals according to the Secretary of State. About 15,000 rejections were based on bad driving records.

The apocryphal was upset last month when Judge Marvin Salmon of Ingham County ruled that at present, the Department of State does not have power to deny license renewals because of "bad driving" records. Hare now hopes to widen the scope of the law to cover these persons.

There's no shortage of candidates for the 1957 Legislature. Some 623 men and women are running in the primary election. From this group 288 will emerge as nominees in fall balloting for the 144 available seats.

There are 476 candidates for the 110 seats in the House, averaging four to a seat. The 34 seats in the Senate have 147 contestants—again making the odds four to one.

Automatic defeat will be handed to 335 aspirants on Aug. 7 when the primaries are held.

No opposition has materialized for 18 Republicans and 15 Democrats in the Senate. In the House, 48 Republicans and 49 Democrats are unopposed and assured of nomination.

Some familiar faces will be missing in the 1957 Legislature. Four Senators are vacating their seats to run for other public positions. Creighton R. Colman (R-Battle Creek), Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) and William S. Bloomfield (R-Royal Oak) are seeking Congressional nominations. Fred Nicholson (D-Warren)

Does your community need help in securing industry for future expansion? One of the services offered by the Michigan Department of Economic Development provides expert assistance in surveying community facilities and evaluating them for industry.

"Community service is an important phase of their job," says Director Don C. Weeks. "We want to show Michigan towns and cities how to help themselves. Our industrial agents are experts in surveying facilities and aiding in setting up local industrial development programs."

Another aspect of the industrial agent's activity is contacting manufacturers throughout the nation to secure new industry for Michigan. A list of Michigan

Air Conditioning a 'Must' for Merchants

Babson Park, Mass. The recent hot weather suggests a column on air conditioning. Since we use it here in my office, I can speak freely regarding it. Any reader, however, who is interested should consult his local agent or plumber. Prices and needs vary for different sections of the country.

ADVICE TO MERCHANTS I am convinced that merchants, in order to hold their trade, must universally adopt air conditioning. This especially applies to downtown "Main Street" merchants who must compete with the new shopping centers. I am fully convinced that the downtown stores have a distinct opportunity; but they must modernize as to lighting and air conditioning. They may also gradually shift over to men's clothing, underwear, office supplies, hardware, etc. which appeal to men rather than to women. Women can go to the shopping center any day, but men cannot.

HOMES AND AUTOS

Many of the new homes are now offering complete air conditioning. It will soon be fairly economical to buy a new heating arrangement which will provide also for air conditioning. At present, such complete installations are rather expensive, but I am sure that the prices of these combination units will be reduced, especially in the sections which are enjoying natural gas. As a practical matter, most homes desire only one or two bedrooms, a living room, and kitchen air conditioned. (There certainly is no reason for air conditioning the bedrooms of children.) These few rooms, can be air conditioned with individual machines attached to windows. Almost every home will have at least one room air conditioned. Probably the new generation will insist upon more.

THOUGHTS FOR INVESTORS It is probably too late in this season to buy good air conditioning stocks. Investors had better wait until next winter before doing so. If too many investors do not try the same trick, it might be smart, whatever the trend of the market, to buy air conditioning stocks during snowstorms and sell them during the hot summer weather! Air conditioning products offered by General Electric, Westinghouse, Chrysler, Philco, and others of the big electric appliance companies are to be recommended. The air conditioning

DR. VLADIMIR POREMSKY, leader of an underground movement in Russia: "The mood of unrest is growing stronger and stronger, which makes possible a major upheaval at practically any time."

VISCOUNT EARL MONTGOMERY, British Field Marshal: "We are advancing toward the day when the principal vehicle for the delivery of firepower will be the guided missile."

ARTHUR HAYES SULZBERGER, president and publisher of The New York Times: "The second phase of Communist attack on the free world is being fought, not with guns, but with trade and technicians, not by direct challenge, but by indirect subversion."

WILLIAM J. HARRIS, Child guidance expert: "If boys and girls could be brought under the right influence during the first six years of their life, juvenile delinquency would be partially solved."

PRESIDENT SUKARNO of Indonesia, addressing the World Affairs Council and the Asia Foundation: "Our nations (Asian) are weary of being the dispossessed—the voiceless—the underprivileged."

METROPOLITAN NIKOLAI, Russian clergyman, head of group visiting U. S.: "The ordinary people of the Soviet Union are friendly to the people of the United States, and we are glad of the opportunity to tell them so."

DR. VIRGIL D. REED, research director: "Any of us who are guilty of singing the blues about our present and future outlook should truly be ashamed of ourselves."

BRIG. GEN. CARLOS P. ROMULO, Philippine Ambassador to the United States: "Neutrality between the free world and the Soviet world is impossible."

business of these big companies, however, is small compared with their total sales. Therefore, such companies as Admiral Corp., Borg-Warner, Carrier Corp., Fedders-Quigan, Trane Company, York, Holland Furnace, and Worthington Corp., which specialize in air conditioning, might be better to buy or sell at the above suggested times. In closing, let me forecast that air conditioning will be very helpful to your local electric power company. The day will come when its peak load will be in the summer from air conditioning and gravity neutralizers rather than from lighting as at present.

Michigan Bell Aids Fund

The largest single payment in its history has been made to the state's primary school fund. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has turned over the first half of nearly $10 million in state taxes. Topping 1955's record levy by $1.5 million, the company's 1955 tax of $9,792,322 again makes it the largest single contributor to the fund.

The first-year payment of $4,896,161 was turned over to the state by Herbert F. Lange, the company's vice president and treasurer. Another check for a like amount will be received by state revenue commissioner Louis M. Nims on October 31.

The 1956 payments will bring Michigan Bell's total contribution to the primary school fund to more than $138 million since the company's organization in 1904.

Under law, the company's state tax is levied in lieu of all other local property taxes, and is earmarked for the school fund.

Can you tell me how much money the United States has paid out in foreign aid funds during the post-war period. According to reliable sources grants paid out from July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1955 total $41,842,000,000. There is $8.7 billion unexpended, as of June 30, 1955 and $2.7 billion available for fiscal 1956, less returns on grants up to June 30, 1955 date of $1.4 billion, making a total of $51,752 billions. In addition there are loans made and authorized totalling some $16.8 billions, less collections of $3.3 billion, which added to the grants makes a total of some $65.1 billion in net aid in both grants and loans. What is the duty of the Comptroller General of the United States? His duty is to approve all expenditures of money after the Congress has made money available for expenditure. He heads the General Accounting Office, an independent agency, which is the auditor of all the books of the government.
