

Voters 'Ground' Airport Issue, Nominate Party Candidates

4-1 Margin Carries Proposal to Defeat

Plymouth's $500,000 bond issue for the purchase and expansion of Mettetal airport was resoundingly rejected by city voters at Tuesday's election, while another proposal to sell city-owned land to the school board was approved 833 to 332.

Final tabulations showed the airport proposal getting 196 votes of approval and 797 dissenting votes.

All five of the city's precincts were overwhelmingly against the airport issue. It was felt by many that those living in the northwest part of the city would be inclined to vote for the airport since they were farthest away from the landing field, but all sections of the city were equally opposed.

The most ardent opponents of the airport were Canton township officials. Supervisor Louis Stein, looking at the results at midnight Tuesday, declared, "We are very, very happy, and you can quote me on that." The present airport is located in Canton township.

Tuesday's decision by voters brings to an end the possibility of a municipal airport for Plymouth. Private subscription for purchase of the bonds was tried several months ago and failed.

City Manager Albert Glassford said yesterday that as far as he knows, the airport committee has no other avenues of approach to the proposal.

Meanwhile, planes still continue to take off and land at Mettetal airport today, but how long the airport will now last is still a question. Airport Manager Robert Mettetal said prior to the election that he would eventually be forced to close the field because of housing developments planned for the area. As a private airport owner, he could do nothing to regulate height and placement of structures adjacent to the airport.

As a municipally-owned air-zoning controls could be secured and funds received from the federal and state governments.

Precinct results were:

Precinct 1, city hall, 27 for, 167 against.

Precinct 2, Fire station, 21 for, 146 against.

Precinct 3, high school, 53 for, 135 against.

Precinct 4, Bronson building, 57 for, 220 against.

Precinct 5, Bronson building, 38 for, 129 against.

The strong opposition vote came as a surprise to most people. Feelings of those who lived around the airport was well known months ago. They voiced their objections on ground that the airport would be a nuisance and depreciate the value of their property.

But very little was heard from those living in the city, the people who were actually voting on the fate of the airport expansion. Repealers of Plymouth campaigned against it and so did one contractor.

Supporters of the proposal failed to meet the campaign of their opponents despite statements that the airport would be self-supporting and safer than before. The airport committee also warned that the field is the last remaining airport site in Wayne county and that when one is more badly needed in future years, taxpayers would be paying ransom prices for land.

Looking at the city property sale, the parcel proposed for sale is the front yard of Starkweather school. Although the school has been using the property for years, it actually belongs to the city. In order for the city to sell it, approval was needed from the voters.

Although approval has been given, the transaction is not far enough along to assure completion. No price for the sale has yet been discussed by the city and school board.

Students Show Art Work

Between 40 and 50 paintings done by members of the summer session art classes will be displayed in Plymouth starting today.

Oil, watercolors, pastels and charcoal works will be displayed at Pease Paint & Wallpaper store through August 18. There have been 40 students enrolled in the classes this summer at the high school. Heinz Dittmar was the instructor.

The classes contained students ranging from a first grader to several adults.

Scout Troop P-3 sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary club spent the week of July 21-July 28 at Camp Howell. The boys thoroughly enjoyed the boating, swimming, craftwork and Nature Grove. On Friday night, all troops at the camp attended a Court of Honor by the light of the big bonfire.

No Bids Received On Sewer Bonds; City Tries Again

Plymouth's proposed $600,000 sewer system for the south end of the city was given another setback last week when a special meeting was called by the city commission to open bids from bond buyers. No bids were received.

As a result, the city commission adopted a revised sewer bonding resolution Monday night which they feel bond buyers will find more attractive.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that the market is so swamped with municipal and school bonds now that buyers are becoming more particular than ever. He added that a syndicate of buyers that looked at Plymouth's offering failed to start work on them until the last moment and so the city could not revise its resolution in time for the bid openings.

One of the main objections made by the buyers was the recallable feature. The city had hoped to begin calling some of the late maturing bonds within five years. Buyers didn't want any recalled before 10 years.

J. Dean Stanley, the city's bond consultant, attended Monday's meeting to help with the resolution changes. The lengthy resolution was read through and adopted.

Another meeting to open bids is expected in about a month. A citizen whose basement has been flooded many times asked the commission Monday if they would now postpone start of the sewer construction until next year. Mayor Russell Daane replied that it is still the intention of the commission to get the sewer started as soon as possible, although the completion deadline of 270 days would carry construction into 1957.

Lightning accompanying last weekend's violent thunderstorms was blamed for fires that destroyed a large country home in Northville township and a sawmill in Plymouth township.

Burned was the homestead on the Farm Crest dairy farm, 42270 Six Mile road, and the mill belonging to C. W. Good, 40060 Ann Arbor road.

Firemen and equipment from six departments battled the house blaze from 9:35 p.m. Saturday until early Sunday morning. Occupied by the Robert Haass family, they did not know their home was on fire until a passerby noticed smoke and notified the owners.

Because there was no nearby water source, the Northville township called in other departments to bring water and equipment. Assembled at the fire was equipment from Plymouth and Northville townships, Canton township, Livonia and Novi departments.

Most of the downstairs furniture and appliances were carried from the house. The home, said to be about 100 years old, was located east of the well-known dairy store and barns.

Northville Fire Chief William McGee said that a preliminary and unofficial estimate of damage is $50,000. Although flames were confined mostly to the upper floors, the main floor was damaged by the tons of water used to extinguish the flames.

The walls of the home, constructed of brick with a stucco finish, still remain but the roof fell during the fire.

Chief McGee said that lightning was the cause of the fire. Hundreds of spectators came and went during the long night. The Plymouth city and township equipment returned at about 3 a.m. while the Northville department stayed until 5 a.m. to extinguish remnants of the fire that crept into walls of the well-constructed home.

Mr. Haass was treated for a cut foot when he kicked out a window of his home. Not injured by falling about 10 feet while descending on a ladder was Martin Schomberger of the Plymouth township department.

Plymouth 4-H Clubs Ready for County Fair

A downtown window display and completion of projects in local clubs mark last-minute preparations for the 10th annual Wayne County 4-H Fair to be held Tuesday through Sunday, August 14-19, at the Belleville Fairgrounds.

A window display will be set up at Davis and Lent Monday by members of the Green Thumb

4-H club directed by Mrs. Earl West and Mrs. Claude Eaton. Nearly all Plymouth 4-H clubs will have winter and summer projects entered for ribbon awards at the six-day county competition.

In addition to exhibits the county fair, which is open to the public, will offer such attractions as WJR's Casey Clark and his Lazy Ranch boys, jive combos, dance bands, talent shows, equestrian competition, parades and the Down River carnival show. The Home Demonstration Council will have charge of the dining hall where morning, noon and evening meals may be purchased by visitors.

Judging of exhibits starts at 10 a.m. daily, the fairground parades at 6:30 each evening. Entertainment programs begin at 8:30 p.m. closing about 11:30 p.m.

Schedule of activities is as follows: Tuesday-All exhibits displayed, judging of vegetables and flowers in evening.

Wednesday-All-day judging of handicraft, electrical, clothing and similar projects. Judging of most livestock in morning, dairy animals in evening. Town of Belleville in charge of day's program including evening talent show.

Thursday-All-day judging of horses. Evening talent show sponsored by Wayne Junior Chamber of Commerce, featuring Jaycee's (Continued on page 8)

Names of Four Streets Changed

As the first step is straightening out Plymouth's confusion in street naming, the city commission voted Monday night to drop the names of Garfield, Edison, Lincoln and Moreland avenue.

The changes were made at the recommendation of the city planning commission.

As an example of the confusion, a person driving on Penniman may notice Evergreen runs north from Penniman while Garfield runs south from the same intersection.

Garfield will be dropped from Penniman to Elm in favor of Evergreen.

Edison, from Main to Myron Beals will be changed to Hart-sough.

Lincoln, from Elmdale to Ann Arbor trail, and from Palmer to Byron, will be changed to McKinley.

Moreland avenue, from the C & O railroad to approximately the south end of Hough woods, will be changed to Sheldon road. The name of Moreland, however, has not been in use for many years.

A number of other streets are due for name changes, according to plans of the planning and city commissions.

200 Horses Enter Northville Show

There will be a record-sized event going on in Northville this weekend when some 200 horses compete in 26 contests at the eighth annual Junior Horse Show on Saturday and Sunday. Held at Northville Downs, events will start at 12:30 p.m. both days.

The Plymouth 4-H Horse Club will be among the 41 members of 4-H clubs entered in events.

Floyd Kline is leader of the local group. There are also 4-H entries from Inkster, Belleville and Northville and South Lyon combined.

Leading the entries are the 56 members of the Junior Olympic jumping teams in their three team events. Judges will come from Hinsdale, Illinois, Owosso and Jackson, Michigan.

The first team competition will take place Saturday morning. On Saturday afternoon will be the saddle seat equitation, Western horsemanship, Optimist club local class, lead rein class, 3-gaited horses, conies, junior trotting race, hunter seat equitation, hunter hacks and the second team jumping event, and junior "Prix Des Nations" nattered after the Olympic jumping contests.

Sunday's show will feature individual jumping event, 4-H horsemanship, 5-gaited saddle horses, Western pleasure horses, hunter seat equitation, junior stock horses trail horses and relay competition for teams and pacing race.

Climaxing the show will be the championship western horsemanship classes and the Michigan junior equitation championship event for the Harvey B. Clark Memorial Challenge trophy.

The show is sponsored by the Northville Optimist club with proceeds going for youth activities.

Shot Shatters Window Of Local Pastor's Car

Livonia police are still attempting to locate a person who shot some type of firearm at two passing cars on Middlebelt road last Thursday night—one of the shots shattering a rear back door window of a car driven by Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson of First Methodist church.

Reverend Johnson said that he was driving home from Roseville at about 9:15 p.m. when he heard a crunching of glass. Not until he got home did he discover a hole in the window.

Police said that a St. Clair Shores driver also had his car hit at about the same time and place. The incident happened near the Clarenceville high school. Police said that the hole could have been caused by a pellet gun.

To Visit Native Rumania

Mrs. Marie Covach, 551 Auburn, is leaving Willow Run tomorrow for a trip behind the iron curtain to visit her native Rumania. It will be her first visit to her former homeland in 43 years.

She came to America alone on the Prince Oscar, arriving here September 16, 1913. Mrs. Covach expects to stay in Rumania for about two months. She will visit in the Transilvania section with her sister and several nieces and nephews.

Rumania has been a Soviet satellite since World War II but travel restrictions have eased recently. Visitors may remain in the country up to 90 days.

City Studies Legal Aspects of Sewer Line for School

City commissioners received a request Monday night from the board of education for a cost estimate on extending a sewer from the city limits to the Gallimore elementary school on Sheldon road—but whether the city can legally do it without being reimbursed for its sewer tap allotment is a question that must first be answered.

Each community using the Middle Rouge interceptor sewer has been granted a maximum number of tap-ins by the Wayne County Road commission. Plymouth city has an allotment of 725.

It is not known how many tap-ins the school would use but at least one city commissioner and the city attorney questioned whether the commission could legally give away something that has been granted to the city.

Gallimore school is now under construction on Sheldon road, about a mile south of the city limits. Because it is scheduled for completion at the end of this year and the school board fears that the sewer and water authority of Plymouth and Canton townships will not have its sewer ready for the school, it is believed that the city sewer could be extended to the site.

An estimate of $60,000 was given a year ago for extension of the sewer, but it would have been of ample size to serve other users. The board is interested in a sewer just big enough for the school building.

Commissioner J. Rustling Cutler said that the commission is in favor of helping the school board all it can in its expansion program, but that before granting a sewer to the school, arrangement concerning the tap-in allotments should first be made with the road commission. The school is located in Canton township and the sewer would also need to run through Plymouth township.

City Attorney Harry Deyo declared that it is his opinion that "the city of Plymouth cannot give away any rights of the people of Plymouth." He added that not only should the city be reimbursed for its allocation, but that arrangements would need to be made through the county and state health departments, road commission and the townships of Plymouth and Canton.

As a result of the lengthy discussion, a motion was made to refer the matter to the city manager to have an estimate made and to discuss arrangements with Superintendent Russell Isbister.

Petitioners Seek Paved Entrance To Subdivision

A petition containing names of 51 residents asking the city to pave a dirt road leading to their subdivision was presented to the city commission Monday night.

The petitioners, all residing in Garling Subdivision No. 2 on Parkview and Garling drives, claim that Park Entrance drive that they must use to reach their subdivision is in constant disrepair. The drive is under the jurisdiction of the County Road commission.

Members of the Parkview Circle Homeowners association, circulators of the petition, said that the county has written them that they have no plans to pave the drive, but would keep it maintained by grading.

But the petition declares that "the county's periodic re-arrangement of dirt" has proved quite unsatisfactory. A spokesman at the subdivision said that the residents of the subdivision have paved streets, but ironically must drive down the dirt road to reach the subdivision.

City Manager Albert Glassford was instructed to contact the road commission to see what can be done about paving the drive. "If the county will do nothing, he said, perhaps the city can. A special assessment for residents was suggested as a possibility."

Eaton Edges Wood; Voter Turn-out Light

There were 1,424 Plymouth city and 641 township voters casting ballots in Tuesday's primary election and their choices followed closely the choices of Democrats and Republican in other communities. And like the light turn-out reported in most parts of the state, the local number of voters was also disappointing.

Of particular interest to Plymouthites was the race between Republicans Sterling Eaton and Leonard Wood for the nomination to the state legislature. Eaton, former publisher, nosed out the incumbent Wood by 262 votes.

Another Plymouth candidate running for the legislature but on the Democratic ballot was not as fortunate. He was Orville Tungate who ran last in a field of three. Harvey J. Beadle of Redford township won the Democratic nomination and will face Eaton on November 6.

In the 17th Congressional district representative race this fall will be incumbent Martha Griffiths (D), and George Smith (R).

Winning of the 16th state senatorial district nominations were incumbent John Swainson (D), and George Boos. (R).

Like most elections, voting was not brisk until after 5 p.m. At City Precinct 2 at the first station there was such a line at the 8 p.m. closing time that voting did not end until 9:30.

The 1,424 who voted in the city was a few more than the 1,409 turning out at the primary four years ago. But in the face of increased population and a controversial issue such as the $500,000 airport bond issue, a larger turn-out could have been expected.

Plymouth township with its 641 voters had considerably less than the 765 of two years ago. There were no issues on the township ballot.

Eaton attributed the success of his nomination to the "solid support of the people of Plymouth city and township." Wood, who was seeking his third term, received his support on home grounds in Redford with a 1,552-985 showing against Eaton.

Totals of the Republican 21st state representative district race were 3,526 for Eaton, 3,264 for Wood.

"The confidence of my friends and others in me is gratifying," Eaton declared yesterday.

Beadle, an insurance and real estate agent, gathered 2,431 votes while Charles Walker of Livonia came up with a close 2,118. Tungate had 724 votes.

Congresswoman Martha Griffiths received 23,771 complimentary votes in her unopposed nomination by Democrats. In the Republican camp, five candidates split up the voting with 11,228 going to Smith, ex-Tiger Dick Wakefield polled 5,871; Gregory Pillon, 4,880; Allen Bosworth, 4,143; and Walter Charlton, 2,095.

State Senator John Swainson had no trouble recapturing the Democratic nomination, despite union opposition. He had 10,338 votes, followed by Thomas Kavanaugh, 7,359; Alex Murphy, 3,754; and Roland Vandenberg, 3,704.

Three Republicans sought the state senate nomination. Former Secret Serviceman George Boos won easily with 12,074; Edson Reid, 8,232; and James Hague, 5,551.

Looking at other state and county races, local Republicans joined fellow voters in Michigan by giving Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit a 2-1 margin over Donald S. Leonard. Clarence A. Reid won the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor unopposed.

Republicans also nominated William Ferguson for prosecuting attorney. Paul "Dizzy" Trout, sheriff; Thomas Cotter, county clerk; William Lau, treasurer; George Isbell, register of deeds; Lula Bachman, county auditor and A. L. Meredith, drain commissioner.

Governor Williams and Lieutenant Governor Phil Hart were unopposed for Democratic nomination. (Continued on Page 8)

Electric Railway Crews to Reunite

Former employees of the Detroit-Jackson and Chicago Electric railway which served the people of Plymouth and Northville for many years will recall this by-gone era this Sunday when they hold their 19th annual picnic in Ypsilanti.

The branch running through Plymouth was built around 1900 and served until it ceased operation in 1928. A person could go into Detroit by going either through Northville, Farmington and Redford or the "southern" route through Wayne and Dearborn. It took two hours either way.

The ticket station and freight station was located on the site now occupied by The Plymouth Mail. Charles Thumm and Robert Ingersoll were on the day crew for many years and will be remembered by older residents of Plymouth.

According to records of Al Augustus of Ypsilanti, secretary of the Old Employees association, there were 365 employees working on the entire division when it stopped operation. His records also show that 186 have died and 32 have moved away, leaving no address. This leaves 143 active members.

There are about 25 still living in the Plymouth vicinity.

The potluck picnic will be held in Prospect park at 1 p.m. at the pavilion. Anyone having historical information about the Plymouth division is urged to contact Augustus. He is currently writing a history of the old electric road.

Walled Lake will be host this Saturday and Sunday for the Mid-western Tournament of the National Water Ski association. Competition will start at 9 a.m. on both days and run through until after 6 p.m.

Editorial

We are proud of, and grateful to, the voters of this district for the selection of Sterling Eaton over Leonard Wood in the Republican primary for state representative.

Some vicious things were said by the opponents about Eaton. This newspaper, completely, innocently and against its will, was dragged along into the fracas. The insinuations were untrue and undignified. Because of the nature of many of them, to have answered in kind would have breached good taste.

But we were hopeful always that the voters would see the truth through it all, and that the issue would be decided fairly at the polls. That is what happened.

The result was a vote of confidence for which we are deeply, almost emotionally, appreciative.

Reappoints City Heating Personnel Appeal Boards

Reappointment of members to the personnel service appeal board and the board of heating examiners was made Monday night by Mayor Russell Daane and confirmed by the city commission.

The term of Reverend Henry Walch, D. D., member of the personnel service appeal board, had expired and he was reappointed until June 1959.

All members of the board of heating examiners were also re-named. They are Ovid Deace, William Otwell, Harold Stevens and Elvin Taylor. Also named to the board was Don Lightfoot.

Hinshaw-Covell Ceremony Read at Presbyterian Church

Brenda Jane Covell and Leland Morden Hinshaw pledged their nuptial vows in a double-ring candlelight service performed at the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, Saturday, August 4, by the Reverend David T. Davies.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Covell of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hinshaw of East Lansing. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Nat Sibbold, soloist for the 8 o'clock ceremony, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridal gown of imported silk taffeta had a portrait neckline of Alecon lace continuing into a design on the bodice and into a point down the back. The skirt was bouffant with a chapel-length train. A veil of illusion fell from a cap of Alecon lace embroidered with seed pearls completing her gown. The bride wore a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

The bridal attendants were Judith French of Monroe, maid of honor, Rhoson Dobben of Jackson, Jeanne Rydholm of Grosse Pointe, all sorority sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Ralph Walch of Plymouth as bridesmaids.

Their gowns were identical, white nylon background with an over-all floral pattern of cotillion blue, with off-shoulder, wide-rolled collars and a bow with streamers extending to the hemline at the back. Their headbands were blue forget-me-nots with tiny matching veils. The bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of pink rosebuds while a colonial arrangement of dark red rosebuds was carried by the maid of honor.

Best man was Ralph Graper, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom. William Shepard, also a fraternity brother, Lloyd Butler, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and David Ehinger, all of Lansing, were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Covell selected a full skirted gown of moss rose silk and chanelly lace with a small flowered hat. An orchid was pinned to her corsage. Mrs. Hinshaw chose a blue silk sheath gown, accented with a white hat and an orchid corsage as her ensemble.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for relatives and friends. Many attended from out of state.

For a northern Michigan honeymoon, the new Mrs. Hinshaw wore a toast print sheath dress with linen coat lined in the matching print, a tiny feathered turquoise hat and brown accessories.

Both graduated from Michigan State university in June. They will make their home in Lansing.

THE GREATEST RESEARCHERS

By C. C. Wiltse Registered Pharmacist

Pharmacy has always been synonymous with research. Many famous men, all great thinkers, have started and carried on the tradition of research in Pharmacy. Dioscorides, the pharmacist to the conquering Romans, Galen, who invented cold cream 1700 years ago, Scheele, who discovered oxygen, Sertuerner, who discovered morphine, Long, who was the first to use ether anesthesia, Lloyd, one of the founders of colloid chemistry.

Today this is more obvious than ever before. In the interest of public health, the pharmaceutical industry supports proportionately more research than any other major private industry today. For example, the pharmaceutical industry spends 5 times more of its income for research any other major private industry.

Every time you have a prescription filled and patronize your pharmacist, you are supporting the research that ultimately is directly to your benefit or your children's benefit. It is a sound investment and practical insurance to provide the basis for a longer, happier and healthier life for each member of your family.

This is another in a series of informative advertisements appearing in this paper each week, presented by Community Pharmacy, 330 S. Main.

Playgrounds Close Summer Activities

The ten Plymouth playgrounds will ring down the curtain on the summer slate of activities this Friday, August 10, after several weeks of summer fun. The playgrounds have enjoyed such things as trips to the Detroit Tiger ball game, swimming parties at Kent Lake, operettas, plays, Olympics, cook outs, kool aid parties, splash parties, hiking, and many other such activities.

BIRD AND AUBURN PLAYGROUND

The Bird and Auburn playground combined talents and held a pet show last week with many children and dogs staying the entire two hours of parading. Joyce Allen, Vic Buttermore, Richard Beukema, were all grand prize winners; they each received a ribbon, a box of dog yummys for their dogs, and two sticks of bubble gum.

Other winners were: Best Kept—Kathy Calois, Best Trained—Ken and Keith Evans, Shaggiest—Bob Evans, Prettiest—Sandy Fielder, Cutest—Phyllis Lariby, Most Unusual—Mary Lynn Parsons, Curliest—Karen Kanesto, Longest Tail—Mary Donnelly, Shortest Tail—Tom Chandler, Longest Coat—Diane Allen, Shortest Coat—Maureen Yezbick, Oldest—Mike Yezbick, Youngest—Dick Brenicke, Noisiest—George Knapp, Biggest—Ruth Sheldon, Smallest—Kathy Kanesto, and Carol Otwell.

BIRD AND STARKWEATHER PLAYGROUND

The girls from the Bird and Starkweather playgrounds softball team went on an overnight hike at Island Lake State Park last Monday afternoon. The girls carried their own bed rolls, cooked for themselves, and used the buddy fire system.

The girls went on hikes, went swimming, and in all had a very good time as the reports came from the leaders who supervised the expedition.

SMITH PLAYGROUND

The Smith playground entered some of their members in the Davis & Lent art show this week. A basket weaved by Dale Counts, two pot holders by Larry Holland, and some clever paintings by Carol Conke, and Doug Sutherland.

CENTRAL PLAYGROUND

The boys softball team of the Central Playground are feeling pretty chipper this week after coming from behind in the father and son ball game last Thursday to tie up the odds at 16-16 in the bottom half of the last inning.

These dads roared off to a commanding lead in the early innings and coasted to long as the sons came up with better than half of their runs in the last innings. The poor aging dads had fielding trouble in the later innings with an average of two errors per play. A watermelon feast was enjoyed by the whole group including the Mothers after the game ended. There were about thirty two parents and thirty five kids in attendance. The Playground was also able to enjoy the facilities of the pool last Friday.

HAMILTON PLAYGROUND

The Hamilton playground beat the heat with a kool aid party last Monday, July 30, when little Nancy Kunkel carried a pitcher of kool-aid to the playground for all to enjoy.

The following is a small quote from the Hamilton playground supervisor, Dick Manion, Hamilton joined Greenmeadows playground last Thursday, August 2, to Kent Lake with a total of fifty children. The water wasn't the warmest this supervisor has seen but it didn't matter much as with twenty kids dunking me I was far too panicky to care one way or another regarding the water temperature.

ALLEN PLAYGROUND

The Allen playground participated in such events as a swim at Kensington Park, a kool aid party, and a cook out. The safety patrol for this summer was: Bill Brystup, Tommy Price, and Billy Price.

CHERRY HILL PLAYGROUND

John McLennan and Bob DeBenedict were firemen for the hot dog roast last Thursday, August 2. Jeannette Ridley, and Wilma Wright popped pop corn for the occasion.

GREENMEADOWS PLAYGROUND

Mrs. Dawn Burton, and Mrs. Mary Bauman accompanied the Greenmeadows playground to Kensington park last Thursday, August 2, the supervisors reported everyone enjoyed themselves.

Playoff Data Given

The Plymouth Elks, of the class D league, will play the winner of the Roseville-St. Claire Shootout game next Wednesday, August 15, at 5:00 on the home diamond. If Plymouth should win they would travel to Jackson for the state tournaments with four other teams competing.

The Class A champions, Beglinger Oldsmobile, will compete against 11 other teams from four other cities in the MRA, MSA tournaments starting this Wednesday, August 13, at the Anthony Park in Dearborn. They will play against P. L. A. V. team from Wyandotte.

Second place Livonia Office will meet Callipouri Bar B Q at the Hemlock Park diamond this Monday, August 13, in Dearborn. Twenty two teams are competing in this league.

Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the City Clerk and shall have the corporate seal of the City impressed thereon, and shall have interest coupons attached bearing the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and City Clerk.

Section 8. The rates to be charged for sewer service furnished by the System until July 1, 1956, shall be those in effect in the City on the effective date of this Ordinance, and commencing July 1, 1956, and until otherwise provided, shall be at the rates and shall be collected as follows:

SEWER RATES

A. RESIDENTIAL CONNECTION CHARGES

1. For all new houses or residential dwellings constructed or completed subsequent to the date of the adoption of this Ordinance, connecting directly to the sewers to be constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized, the sum of $400.00 shall be paid as a connection charge. Such charge shall be paid in full at the time permit is requested for a connection to the Sewage Disposal System.

2. For all houses or residential dwellings heretofore constructed or completed and occupied, connecting directly to the sewers to be constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized, the following shall be paid as a connection charge or charge: (a) The sum of $400.00 in cash prior to permit being issued for any connection, or (b) at the option of the applicant, in lieu of such cash payment, such connection rate or charge may be paid at the rate of $3.00 per bi-monthly (two-month) period until a total of $468.00 has been paid, said sums to be billed bi-monthly (each two months) at the same time as the consumption rates hereinafter set forth as a separate item in said bill.

3. For all houses or residential dwellings heretofore or hereafter constructed and completed, connecting directly to lateral sewers constructed by developers or constructed from the proceeds of special assessments on the property benefited but which use or are served by sewers constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds authorized herein as an outlet, the sum of $200.00 shall be paid as a connection charge or rate as set forth in this section in full at the time permit is requested for a connection to the System.

All connections to the System shall be made by and at the expense of the property owner or user so connecting, subject to any rules or regulations therefor now or hereafter established by the City, and subject to inspection and approval prior to use. Permit for such connection shall be obtained in advance from the City, and the property owner or user making such connection shall pay all inspection charges now or hereafter established by the City prior to the use thereof.

B. COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND SCHOOL CONNECTION CHARGES

All commercial, industrial and school users hereafter connecting, directly or indirectly, to sewers of the System constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized shall pay a connection charge or rate as follows:

(a) Commercial connections: $1.00 per front foot per year, payable in bi-monthly (each two months) installments, for a period of fifteen (15) years.

(b) Industrial and school connections: $100.00 per acre per year, payable in bi-monthly (each two months) installments, for a period of ten (10) years.

C. DEBT SERVICE CHARGES

Such charges shall be levied in addition to the connection charge set forth above, on each lot or parcel of land, building or premises now or hereafter having any connection with the System, on the basis of the quantity of water used therein or thereon, as the same is measured by the water meter installed therein, and shall apply to users connecting directly to the sewers of the System constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized and for users who make use of said sewers as an outlet.

Such debt service charge shall be $0.75 per 1,000 gallons.

D. SEWAGE CONSUMPTION CHARGE

Such charges shall be levied in addition to the connection charge and debt service charge set forth above, on each lot or parcel of land, building or premises now or hereafter having any connection with the System, on the basis of the quantity of water used therein or thereon, as the same is measured by the water meter installed therein.

Such consumption charge shall be $1.00 per 1,000 gallons. The minimum bi-monthly consumption charge shall be $1.50 per bi-monthly period.

II. BILLING

Bills for the connection rates and charges (where payable in installments), debt service charge and consumption charge, shall be made as separate items on the water bills for those

I am sure we all hope the occasion never arises when we will need a blood transfusion. Speaking from experience there is no greater comfort than to be able to call the American Red Cross Blood Bank for help. As in every "bank" the assets must cover the liabilities. You will have your chance to help build up your account on Thursday, September 20. On this date the American Red Cross will be at St. Michael's school from 3-9 p.m. You may designate when you give your blood just where you would like it credited. Whenever the blood-mobile has come to St. Michael's in the past, the people from this area have always filled the quota. Let's not forget to do our share this time.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Morris, 9605 Loveland, on the birth of a son, Ferrence Joseph.

Church of God Elects Sunday School Officers

At a business meeting conducted during the Sunday morning service, August 5, at Riverside Park Church of God, Newburg and Plymouth roads, Mrs. Carl Fox was elected superintendent of the church Sunday school, succeeding Gerald Elston.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Fox, who was assistant superintendent of the church school during the past year, was Robert Woods, secretary-treasurer. He replaces Harold Shaw.

It was also announced that several members of the church are attending a special camp meeting in St. Louis, Michigan this week. They are the Reverend and Mrs. E. B. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Funk, Mrs. Howard Gladman, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McMamara and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Freyman and family. The meeting started August 5 and will continue through August 12.

The graduates of 1956 are just about now finding that life in the schoolroom was pretty nice, after all.

There are people who stick to their guns even when they don't have any ammunition.

First Federal Ranks 5th
 First Federal Savings of Detroit has stepped up from sixth to fifth largest in total savings accounts among the country's 6,000 savings and loan associations. American Banker reported in its August 6 issue.
 First Federal savings accounts totalled $163,663,000 June 30, 1956, while total assets exceeded $180,000,000. First Federal is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, both permanent agencies of the United States Government.

Local Detroit Edison Manager Retires after 31 Years

After 31 years as manager of the Plymouth office of the Detroit Edison company, Norman Denne, 795 Grace, Northville, has gone into retirement.
 Denne's last day with the company was August 1. Some 80 fellow employees attended a farewell party on Friday, July 27 at Arbor Lill.
 Starting with Detroit Edison 33 years ago in Northville, Denne was mainly a serviceman and meter reader. He came to Plymouth as manager two years later. But the manager in those days was practically a one-man show.

 Denne recalls that he read meters, made out the bills, collected them and performed many other functions which are no longer a part of this office's function. Since he had already purchased a home in Northville, he maintained his residence there through the years. "But I've made a lot of friends in Plymouth," the former manager declared, "and I expect to keep them."

 He added that there was a time when he knew practically everyone in Plymouth when he read meters and dealt more directly with the public. Denne is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis club.
 "I guess I'll just take life easy," he replied in answer to a question about future plans. He now expects to find time to do all the fishing and hunting he wants, spend some winters in Florida and take a trip out west.

 Taking Denne's place as manager of the local office is Harry Wagenschutz, who has been manager of the Northville office of Detroit Edison for a number of years. Wagenschutz will manage both offices and will live in Northville.
 Keep some Masonite hardboard in the workshop for fix-up jobs.

4-H Entertains Mothers

On Saturday, August 4, girls of the Warren Road Workers 4-H club entertained their mothers at a breakfast held in the home of Club Leader Mrs. Ira Hauk, 48708 Warren road.
 The girls demonstrated skills they had learned during their first year of 4-H food preparation. Mrs. Hauk was also honored with the presentation of a cake for her birthday which occurred the same day.

DAN DURYEA, television's "China Smith," tops the entertainment popularity poll by a wide margin in the Wendell Lent home, 594 Edison. For five days of their recent month-long California vacation the Lents were neighbors of the Duryeas at Lake Arrowhead. The popular TV and motion picture star quickly won the admiration of the four Lent children, Linda, Karen, Julie and Jamie and gave each an autographed picture. The Duryeas entertained the Lent family showing feature-length color movies in their home.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

We welcome two new members into our Auxiliary, Ruth Dely and Lucille McKenzie. Hope you girls will enjoy your association with us.

Don't forget the National Home Trip on Sunday, August 26. Only two more meetings before that time so please bring canned goods to the next meeting so that we can take a nice supply of food to the children at the home on that day. Chairman for the trip is Beatrice Hessler.

Legislative chairman Marie Norman wishes to remind the girls to write to Washington in regard to Bill H. R. 7886 concerning pension rates for widows and orphans as well as an average 10% increase in compensation for the service disabled. As soon as you receive an answer, please give it to our Legislative chairman.

Hospital Chairman Mildred Dely has been busy collecting books, magazines, white shirts, etc. for the veterans at the sanitarium. She wishes to thank the kind citizens of Plymouth who donated these articles which mean so much to those who are shut-ins. On Saturday, August 4, the material was taken to Maybury sanitarium by Mildred Dely and President Helen Bowring.

National encampment dates are August 12-17 at Dallas, Texas. V. F. W. delegates will vote on Insurance Plan at National Encampment.

The Wayne County Council Drum and Bugle Corps picnic was held on Sunday, July 29, from 1 to 9 p.m. Those attending enjoyed dancing, prizes, games and gate prizes. There was also firing-squad competition.

Please keep your publicity chairman, Eileen Williams informed as to all activities of your particular committees. We wish to keep all our members in-

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The Conservation Commission, scheduled to meet August 9-10 at Higgins Lake, will consider the purchase of 505 acres of hunting lands and three fishing sites for public use.

The proposed hunting lands purchases include 160 acres at Hardwood state forest, Cheboygan county; 120 acres at Chippewa River state forest, Mecosta county; 60 acres at Allegan state forest, Allegan county; and 120 acres at Manistee national forest, Lake county. These purchases would be made with money from the Game Protection Fund.

Another 45 acres at Deford state game area would be purchased under the Pittman-Robertson program.

The proposed fishing site purchases are on Bass Lake, Leelanau county; Union Lake, Branch county; and Lower Herring Lake, Benzie county.

Two parks land purchases also will be considered, a seven-acre tract at Waterloo recreation area for lake level control structures on Big Portage Lake, Jackson county, and one platted plot at Aloha state park, Cheboygan county.

Revisions of the general regulations pertaining to oil, gas and natural gas wells will be considered for approval by the Conservation Commission at its August 9-10 meeting at Higgins Lake.

The regulations, governing the locating, drilling, completing, producing and plugging of wells, have been in the process of revision since September, 1955.

The revisions are necessary because of changes and new methods which have developed since the last review of the regulations in 1949. Revisions also have been made to clarify the intended meaning of some provisions of the regulations.

Game habitat development on Michigan farms continued to progress during the first half of this year as Conservation Department workers completed and processed wildlife development plans for 295 farms.

More than 1,035,000 seedlings were supplied for spring planting to some 922 farmers who are cooperating in the program. Of this group, 402 were new to the program and 520 were continuing cooperators.

The Department also provided wire, posts, and seed of grass, legumes and buckwheat to aid farmers in developing suitable habitat on their land.

During the 8½ years of the cooperative program, about 4700 wildlife plans have been processed for farms. The service and materials are provided without charge to farmers in the southern lower peninsula who wish to furnish cover and food for small game animals and birds.

Full information on the program can be obtained by writing the Conservation Department game division, Lansing 26.

Only five forest fires were reported in Michigan during the last week, with damage totaling less than one acre.

Three fires in the upper peninsula burned about one-third of an acre. Two fires in the lower peninsula damaged one-half acre.

The latest fires brought the season total to 415, with damage to date totaling 2259 acres.

Frequent rains have helped to hold fire losses down this year and the state's record for the 1956 season is well ahead of last year's rate. Damage to state and private forests and grasslands last year at this time amounted to almost 4500 acres.

Conservation Department game biologists are studying possible sites in the northern lower peninsula for wild turkey plantings scheduled to take place during the next month.

The plantings are part of an experimental program to restore the big birds to Michigan. Other releases under this program were made in Allegan state forest in 1954 and in Lake and Newaygo counties last year.

The turkeys to be released next month were hatched from 400 eggs obtained from Pennsylvania. The young turkeys will be placed in the wild when they are about 14 weeks old.

Suitable wild turkey habitat must include large, wild areas in hardwood forests, particularly those where oak trees are abundant. Acorns are a favorite food for the wild gobblers.

Because of the need for wild areas, plantings must be made north of the farm country in southern Michigan. The most suitable release sites are located in west-central portion of the lower peninsula.

Evaluation studies made earlier this year on previous releases indicate the wild turkeys are doing reasonably well in Allegan and Newaygo counties. Success in Lake county has been somewhat lower.

The latest group of young turkeys, hatched at the Department's game farm at Mason, will be released in one or two selected areas.

Game men hope the turkeys can be re-established on at least part of their former Michigan range. The big birds, once abundant in the state, were a top target for hunters, but disappeared 50 years ago.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST are shown in this photo taken at the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus, the show which will be in Plymouth on Monday, August 13. Miss Marlyn Medina is shown with two baby tigers named Joplin, Missouri and Paris, Texas in honor of the cities in which they were born. Traditionally, circus menagerie animals are named after towns where they are born.

Local Man Named New Club Officer

Organization of the Exchange club of Livonia has been effected with the election of a Plymouthite as treasurer.

George N. Kenyon, 1105 Ross, has been elected treasurer of the new club which will meet every Tuesday evening at the Livonia Inn on Plymouth road. The organization is operating under authority of the National Exchange club, oldest and largest of service clubs in the national field, until such time as it is formally chartered.

Edward E. Wild has been named president and Jack Spanich, secretary. Serving on the executive membership committee are Elbert M. Hartom, Richard Manning, Jr., Maurice Kelley and George Haller. On the constitution and by-laws committee are Roy McDougald and M. S. Carney.

The new club is one of more than 1,400 Exchange clubs located in the principal cities and towns of every state. It is an organization of business and professional men for the exchange of ideas, influence, and helpfulness, in which the individual members collectively exchange with the community their efforts toward the general welfare. Its slogan is "Unity for Service."

The first club was formed in 1911 at Detroit.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. William Morgan, vacationing homemaking teacher at the junior high school, serves a family favorite, "Mock Angel Food Cake."

Mrs. Morgan Gives Recipe For Tasty Cake

A "poor man's angel food cake" is the term Mrs. William Morgan of 659 Ann street applies to an economical and tasty dessert from her recipe file.

"Mock Angel Food Cake" is the suggestion, the recipe being one often used by Mrs. Morgan's mother back on their farm home. The dessert can be whipped up in a hurry, and although calling for egg whites in the cake ingredients, takes care of the yolks in the icing.

The recipe is given below:

Mock Angel Food Cake

1 cup sugar
1 cup all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 large egg whites

Sift dry ingredients together three times. Stir in milk which has been heated to a full, rolling boil. Add vanilla. Fold in beaten egg whites. Bake in an 8-inch tube pan at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

Icing

2 egg yolks
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup shredded coconut

Combine all ingredients and cook in a double boiler until thick and creamy.

Fav. Recipe CORRECTION

In Mrs. Dick Dooley's recipe for "Chocolate Fudge Cake," appearing in the August 2 issue of the Mail, two unbeaten eggs were omitted from the list of ingredients.

Returns from 33-Day Trip Through Europe

27-hour plane trip from Rome to Willow Run last week ended a tour through five European countries for Miss Elizabeth McDonald, high school English and journalism instructor.

Leaving June 29, her 33-day trip took her through Ireland, England, France, Switzerland and Italy. The trip was conducted by a travel bureau.

Miss McDonald considers an audience with Pope Pius XII the most thrilling part of her trip. As far as countries are concerned she rates Switzerland as the most beautiful.

Having never before flown, Miss McDonald was somewhat worried when the plane she was leaving on at Willow Run developed engine trouble while taxiing on the runway and flight was delayed an hour and a half.

But everything else went off on schedule. Another highlight of her trip was a three-day stay on the Ile of Capri. Her flight from Rome to Willow Run was made with short stops at Zurich, Paris Shannon, Gander and New York where she changed planes.

Couple Plans Open House Celebration of Anniversary

Celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house this Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagenschutz of 1180 Williams street.

Friends and neighbors have been invited to the event, which will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Wagenschutz residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagenschutz were married August 3, 1931 in Detroit. They have a daughter, Harriet Jean, living at home, and a son, Ralph Jr., who is stationed at Hamilton Air Force base in California.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County

New to the collection at the Plymouth branch, Wayne County library, this week were several former circuit editions as well as a number of books that came straight from the publishing houses.

A run-down of the list includes Ernest Von Salomon's "Fragebogen," a case history of post-war Germany's outlook styled on the Allied Military Government's 1954 questionnaire, Olaus Murie's "A Field Guide to Animal Tracks," "The Opposing Self," essays in criticism by Lionel Trilling; Bess Streeter Aldrich's novel of pioneer life, "A Lantern in Her Hand," "Tender Victory," novel by Taylor Caldwell;

Charles Foley's "Commando Extraordinary," exploits of Otto Skorzeny; "Red Design for the Americas: Guatemalan Prelude" by Daniel James, and John Dos Passos' "The Head and Heart of Thomas Jefferson."

Other newcomers included "Reflections at Fifty," critical essays by James T. Farrell, Paul McKee's "The Teaching of Reading," "Katherine Mansfield," biography by Anthony Alpers; George S. Brady's "Materials Handbook," encyclopedia for purchasing agents, engineers, executives and foremen; and "Light Frame House Construction," vocational division bulletin, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Concluding the list of library newcomers were "The Development of Modern Christianity since 1500" by Frederick A. Norwood, Davis, Troxell and Wiskocil's "Testing and Inspection of Engineering Materials," "New Hope for the Retarded" by Morris P. and Miriam Pollock, Eric Sloane's "American Barns and Covered Bridges," "An English Year" by Nan Fairbrother, and Sport's Afield's "1956 Boat Building Annual."

The following circuit books are also available to the public for the next three months: Bertrand Russell's "Nightmares of Eminent Persons and Other Stories," "The Retrial of Joan of Arc" by Regine Pernoud, and Calvin Hoffman's "The Murder of the Man Who Was Shakespeare."

Courthouse Stolen During Poker Game in Early Michigan History

It isn't often that the stake in a poker game is a county courthouse but it happened once in Michigan, writes Lewis C. Reimann in the current issue of "The Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review," published at The University of Michigan.

What at the beginning appeared to be a harmless contest between card sharks in a pioneer community ended up with the intended victims holding their guests' money and the visitors winning a courthouse and the county seat too.

Reimann, who hails from the north country, says that back in the early lumbering days Iron River and Crystal Falls were infant lumbering and mining towns of about the same size. Intense rivalry had sprung up between them.

It seems the government records were housed in Iron River in a small frame building which served as the meeting place for the county officials.

Crystal Falls was ranked by the legislature's choice of Iron River for the county seat, so the politicians of that town hatched a plot to stage a poker game as a blind to pilfering the records.

The Iron River gamblers fell for the trap and soon the click of poker chips accompanied the clink of whiskey glasses. Through the haze of cigar smoke the whole village of Iron River gathered to watch the red-hot game.

With the Crystal Falls intriguers were Frank Scadden, newspaper publisher, and Burt Huggitt, a lumberman. These top, Reimann states, had been elected to sneak off during the game to the temporary courthouse and steal the records.

The back door of the "courthouse" had been left unlocked, as had the safe; so the men quickly packed the books on a hand sled and headed for the railroad depot. They bribed the conductor, a Crystal Falls man, to allow them to ride in the caboose and stow the records and sled under a seat.

Upon reaching Stager, the pair got off the train, loaded their booty onto the hand sled again and set off for Crystal Falls, five miles away. There the sheriff placed the books in a jail cell and set a guard over them.

When the theft was discovered by the county clerk in Iron River, a mass meeting was held. But the angry citizens ran up against a vigilante committee which had set up a barricade in front of the jail where the books were cached.

Force was abandoned and a county election was planned. The day before the election, Iron River imported five hundred lumberjacks from neighboring Gogebic County. Crystal Falls in turn hired floaters from other sections. Irregularities were rampant.

Despite the fact that Iron River had more legal voters registered, Crystal Falls won by a five-vote lead.

The lemon-colored stone courthouse at Crystal Falls still remains as a reminder of one of the greatest hoaxes and one of the most skillfully planned thefts in the Great Lakes region.

The love songs couldn't have been as silly when we were young.

Rotarians Hear Mayor of Livonia

Livonia's problems of growth and what the administration is doing to meet them were explained to Plymouth Rotarians at their meeting last Friday by the neighboring city's mayor, William Brashear.

Tracing the community's history from its years as a township to its present city form, the mayor noted the opposite type of growth being experienced in Plymouth and Livonia.

Whereas Plymouth is attempting to grow from a core outward, he declared, Livonia is attempting to find a core. He expressed hope that a new large shopping center will soon be constructed that will form this core.

Brashear was township attorney when the incorporation took place six years ago. He noted that township officials favored the incorporation but had a five-mill limit placed on city taxes, unless a change in city charter is voted by the people. This limit has placed Livonia's tax rate lower than perhaps any city in the country, Brashear stated, and could lead to problems in the future.

At the present, the mayor asserted, the city has maintained a balance between new homes and industry which has allowed operation at the present tax selling. Livonia obtains three-fourths of its tax revenue from business and industry.

One of the reasons for incorporation of the entire township, the mayor noted, was the race track. The new city was entitled to 25 per cent of race track payments made to the state. This amounted to about $500,000 a year. As more industry and business moves in, the race track money has become less vital, he told Rotarians.

The mayor outlined the city's method of checking new subdivisions in order to assure sound vision in order to assure sound growth. He also told about the problems of sewer and water systems and the city's dependence upon Wayne county.

In the past six years Livonia's population has increased from about 15,000 to 50,000.

Who's New in Plymouth

FORMER DETROITERS are Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Leming, going over photos above that were taken with their polaroid camera. Originally from Dayton, Ohio they lived two years in Detroit before moving into their present home at 896 Penniman avenue on November 30. He is with the Detroit Air Procurement district on West Warren. Mrs. Leming, who previously worked as a secretary at Business Forms service, Detroit, hopes to locate in the Plymouth area this fall. She is a member of the Oakwood Business and Professional Women's club in Dayton. Her husband also holds membership in the masonic lodge of that city.

"Kissin' don't last . . . Cookin' do!"

An old Pennsylvania Dutch saying . . . with a "P.D." recipe to prove it.

Chicken Corn Pie, a Pennsylvania Dutch favorite, can be made the quick, easy way with condensed cream of chicken soup, canned boned chicken and canned whole kernel corn . . . even the pie crust can come from a package.

Dutch Style Chicken Corn Pie
1 small onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (1 1/2 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken (or 1 cup diced cooked chicken)
1 cup cooked whole kernel corn
1 package (3 ounces) pie crust mix or enough pastry for a 2-crust pie out chicken shaped pieces of the pastry and place on top of the filling and bake.

Serve this tasty bit of Pennsylvania Dutch cookery with spicy bread and butter pickles, tiny white onions and fresh bread.

Toss a salad of lettuce, carrot rounds, radish chips, a ripe olive here and there, and a "P.D." hot salad dressing.

Have a pitcher of nice cold milk ready for refilling the "milk mugs".

For dessert, dish up some almost thawed red raspberries and serve with cream; have the brim filled family cookie jar near by.

Now sit back and watch your family savor every mouthful down to the last crumb!

When you use a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner on small rugs, run the cleaner diagonally across the rug instead of lengthwise. The rug is less apt to wrinkle and get caught in the cleaner.

Ice cream-filled cream puffs complete many a summer meal in fine style. Make tiny cream puffs and fill them with two or three kinds of ice cream. Use three or four for a serving and top with chocolate sauce.

Children Go For Simple Play Equipment

Summertime is a time when youngsters like to be outdoors and play vigorously. It is through these experiences that a great deal of physical and other growth takes place, points out a family life specialist.

Children particularly like to climb and say "See how high I am." So, it may be well to provide climbing equipment in the backyard. Young children can have much fun with some sort of ladder or other climbing device.

Boxes and sturdy boards are good and simple objects for children to put together in various ways to climb on and walk across. Boxes can be wooden packing crates or apple or orange crates. Children enjoy imaginative play and the less structured the play situation and play materials, the more opportunity there is for using their imagination.

All that's needed for a good teeter-totter is a small wooden saw horse and a longer board with cleats in the middle to hold it from slipping off the saw horse. If you put cleats on the ends of the boards as well, you can prop one end up over the saw horse so the children can walk up the board and jump off the end. Another arrangement is to lean the boards on the larger wooden boxes in a way so the children can climb up them and slide down.

Children like to climb on ladders. An interesting one is a ropeladder. Or, just a strong rope with knots tied in it so the children can get a good holding place to climb up, can be lots of fun. You could fasten such a knotted rope for climbing to a tree or to a wooden bar between the clothes posts.

The specialists point out that simple equipment of this type is easy to make and takes little time and skill. The boards and boxes can be sanded and painted too, so they can be safe, attractive pieces of backyard equipment.

Even Small Homes Need Library Area

In our present day pattern of living the small and often crowded house cannot yield space for many book shelves or bookcases. Building a home library under present day conditions demands more advance planning, more rigid selection, and often a weeding out. Yet wise men and women will not permit congested housing to deny them the joy of reading for pleasure. Reading is a habit that grows with indulgence.

If there are children in a home, the need for an encyclopedia is even more important than for adults. If budgets of families restrict the number of books to be bought each year, the Bible, a good dictionary and a good encyclopedia make a basic foundation. There may be radio and television in the house, but books are one more of the fine things of life.

Cheesecake Pie with Apple Sauce Topping

When guests gather for laughter and talk, crown the occasion by bringing out this cheesecake pie. Or when you wish to offer a special treat to the family, trot out this pie. It's a golden, melt-in-the-mouth treat that will be welcome any time.

CHEESECAKE PIE

6-8 Servings
325° preheated oven, 60 minutes
9-inch pie plate
1/2 6-oz. package zwieback
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups creamed cottage cheese, sieved
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
Few grains salt
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups canned apple sauce
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3/4 cup chopped almonds
Whole salted almonds
Roll zwieback into fine crumbs with rolling pin. Combine crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar, cinnamon and melted butter. Mix well. Pack crumb mixture into 9" pie plate. To cottage cheese add eggs, one at a time, beating after each. Add 1/2 cup sugar, cream, salt, flour, 1 teaspoon lemon rind and 1 tablespoon juice. Beat until smooth. Pour into crumb lined pan. Bake in 325° preheated oven for 60 minutes, or until firm. Cool. Combine apple sauce, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and chopped almonds. Spread on top of cheese filling. Garnish with whole almonds.

Beware of "Harmless" Liquids In Reach of Thirsty Kiddies!

A child, when he's thirsty, may drink whatever liquid is nearest at hand. This is a fact to remember especially during the summer months, when children become thirsty more often.

A Wayne County Home Demonstration agent reminds us that small children, can't always reach the water faucet, or find someone to get them a drink. So, any liquid . . . poisonous or not . . . that is within his reach is a drink to a child when he's thirsty.

Here are some liquids that are commonly around the home and we, who are older, may be inclined to think harmless because we wouldn't think of drinking them. The list includes furniture polishes, laundry bleaches, cosmetics such as nail polish remover and hair lotions, as well as the more obvious ones like lye, ammonia and strong acids.

Youngsters, particularly under four years of age, can't read the labels, and even if they could,

More than One Use
Hamburger is so versatile and economical that it fits into many a meal. Using it with vegetables as we do in the following recipe makes a whole-meal dish.

Beefomato Pie
Melt two tablespoons butter or margarine. Add one clove garlic and saute. Remove garlic, add one pound hamburger and brown. Add one can (seventeen ounces) whole kernel corn, drained, and one can (one pound) tomatoes.

In another pan, melt one-fourth cup butter or margarine, and stir in one-third cup flour, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon brown sugar, and one-fourth teaspoon each chili powder and paprika. Add to meat.

Place in greased casserole. Top with six unbaked biscuits. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) twenty minutes.

Yield: Six servings.
For a slightly different flavor, substitute curry powder for the chili powder.

In making pastry, the shortening should be soft enough to measure easily, but firm enough that pieces about the size of small peas remain when the fat is cut into the flour. The flakiness of your pastry depends on these pieces of fat and on the lightness of the fat-flour mixture.

Clothes Close-ups

By D. C. P.

Better take a good look at the drapes in your home if a year or more has passed since they were last cleaned! Past Experience has shown that cleaned at least every nine months draperies should be thoroughly to a year, otherwise they will fade and the fabric becomes streaked with yellowish or brownish stains. The streaks are caused by dust, steam, moisture, and furnace heat which permeates the fabric and results in stains when exposed to the sun.

Remember, proper cleaning with the suggested period will make your drapes last two to three times as long as if they are neglected! Be careful of open windows in rainy weather. If the rain soaks your drapes or if they get too damp they are likely to become water damaged, and streaked. Water streaks can only be removed by wetcleaning which carries the possibility of shrinkage. And drapes which have been wet cleaned never seem to hang as well as they did before wetcleaning. This advertisement published as a service to Plymouth homemakers by the Dry Cleaners of Plymouth.

Good Wardrobe Starts With Flattering Color

Many of us find that there are only a few colors which we wear well. We should plan most of our wardrobe around these colors. This helps the clothing budget, too, by calling for fewer colors in accessories, and assures one of an ensemble that goes well together.

Black, brown, beige, gray, dark blue, dark green and wine are considered basic colors. Any one of these may be used as a foundation or basic color for the wardrobe.

The specialist sums it up, be careful of what liquids a youngster CAN reach on these hot summer days!

The fiberglass being used in new luggage, says M.S.U. clothing specialists, not only makes it lighter but also adds strength.

Store Left-Overs in Home Freezer for Future Treats

As any homemaker knows, it's almost an impossible trick to prepare food in amounts that exactly match the family's appetites. And since it has been found wiser to cook too much rather than too little, there arises the problem of left-overs.

Excess food on the table may find its way to the refrigerator, but since it can be held there for a relatively short time, it is likely to reappear on the table until it becomes monotonous or to sit forgotten in the refrigerator until no longer edible. In some homes, left-overs are never saved, but this practice adds unquity to food costs.

Concerns about left-overs are largely banished, however, with planned use of a home freezer. Many foods from the table can be successfully frozen and stored safely for long periods to be served again when they are treated more.

Any roast meat, poultry or meat loaf may be sliced and frozen for sandwiches or cold platters. Odd bits of meat from a roast or fowl can be packaged for later use in recipes or made into prepared dishes for freezing. Sliced meat should be packaged with cellophane between slices for easy separation.

Surplus soups or juice also may be frozen for future use, molded in ice cube trays and stored in meal-size portions for convenience.

Baked goods, from bread and rolls to pastries, pies, cakes and cookies, are among other foods that may be taken from the table and stored in the home freezer. Keep individual portions of baked desserts in see-through plastic "snack sacks" for ready selection.

All defrosted and reheated foods should be used at the current meal, it should be noted.

Plenty of Zip at a pip of a price

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

SERIOUSLY—where else can you get so much snap and ginger at such a peach of a price?

Where else can you get a big, high-powered, steady-riding hardtop like this '56 Buick Riviera—at a figure that's pretty close to what they're asking for similar models of the well-known smaller cars?

Nowhere else that we know of—which is one big reason why Buick outsells all others cars in America except two of those smaller cars.

BUT RIGHT ALONG with low price is something else behind Buick's big success: Buick is a lot more automobile for the money.

It gives you more room and luxury—more zip and power thrill—fine handling and sure-footed stability.

And it gives you something you can get in no other car—today's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the only transmission in the world with the cruising thrift and the switch-pitch safety-surge taken from the modern plane's propeller.

So WHY WAIT any longer—when the time to take action is now, so you can start enjoying all the golden months of summer and fall in a new '56 Buick?

Now—when Buick prices are as low as—perhaps lower than—they'll ever be again.

Now—when your present car is at its peak of worth—and when today's high volume '56 Buick sales permit us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.

Come see us—and look into the car that puts you years ahead right now.

Come see us today—and discover the dilly of a deal that will make you wonder why on earth you waited as long as you did.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

One of the newest additions to Plymouth's industrial scene, the Barnes, Gibson Raymond Division of the Associated Spring Corporation, will begin operation on September 4, at their new plant at 40300 Plymouth road.

According to a statement just issued by the Burroughs Adding Machine company, the big addition being built at the Plymouth plant will be completed and ready for use early in 1952.

A new chapter has begun in the lives of six-German youths brought to Plymouth by the local Rotarians. The four boys and two girls and their new families are: Sophie Agnes Niemeyer, who will be staying with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick of Northville road; Hans Christian Kruger with Mr.

and Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman of Territorial road; Hans Eduard Rosenplenter with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine of Burroughs avenue; Guenther Damm with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gardiner of Phoenix road; Gerold Schmidt with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiloughby of Ann Arbor Trail and Trandel Breims who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton of Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hearn were Sunday guests last week in the Arthur Wheeler home in Salem.

Mrs. E. Paul entertained at a luncheon Thursday in her home on Newburg road for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hugel of Phoenix, Arizona, Mrs. Otto Kipper of Plymouth and Mrs. Frank Smardus of Livonia.

Mrs. Walter Sippell entertained at a kitchen shower last Friday evening in the home of her mother, Mrs. Edward Ebert on North Mill street honoring her cousin, Miss Lessie Lou Hosmer who will become the bride of Robert Major of Detroit on August 25. Twenty-five guests were present from Detroit and Plymouth.

Norman Koch and Karl Meighan and Karl's cocker puppy, Bussy, were interviewed on the "Flying Start" television program from Willow Run Airport last Thursday morning.

SCHOOL BOARD MINUTES

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held in the homemaker room on May 14, 1956. Present: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Blunk, and Mr. Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Smith. Also, Mr. Hess, Mr. Mason and Mr. Hank of Geer School District were present.

The minutes of the last regular and intervening special meetings were approved.

Mr. Mason urged the Board to consider annexation of the Geer School District of Superior Township, Wash-tenaw County. He pointed out that at present there are 26 children in grades kindergarten through six enrolled in the school and 14 students in grades seven through twelve from the district who are attending Plymouth-High school. He noted, also, that the district had $16,000 of state equalized valuation back of each child in school.

Mr. Caplin indicated that the Board was sensitive to the needs of all children in the larger Plymouth Community and was willing at all times to study, with the neighbors to the West, the educational problems of the area. It was pointed out that a study of the assessed valuations of real and personal properties in the various political subdivisions in the present school district and any proposed annexed areas should be made. This has a bearing on the problem.

A letter from Jane F. Mack, Corresponding Secretary of the Plymouth Education Association, expressing appreciation for the way the Board disussed the salary schedule with the teachers, was read.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to approve payment of the following bills: Paid Bills - April 13, April 27 and May 11 - Vouchers Nos. 8679, 8680, and 8681 - $142,080.43 Unpaid Bills - Vouchers Nos. 8682 through 8628 - 20,789.55 Hough Debt Retirement Fund 5,750.28 Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, and Mrs. Hulsing. Nays: None.

It was moved by Mr. Booth and seconded by Mr. Fischer to approve Mr. Gibson's recommendation for establishing a kindergarten at the Canton Center School to serve the outlying areas of Canton Township and thereby provide full day sessions for all grades in the outlying schools. Ayes: Mr. Booth, Mr. Caplin, Mr. Fischer, and Mrs. Hulsing. Nays: None.

The meeting adjourned at 10:45 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary.

Once Not Enough On going into the cowshed, the farmer was surprised to find his new hand, a town girl, giving one of the cows a drink from her milking pail.

"What are you doin' that for?" he demanded. "Well," explained the girl, "the milk seemed pretty thin to me, so I thought I'd better put it through the process again."

Boys Room Gets Change

This snug, comfortable boys room was changed very simply from a small boys room to an older boys paradise. It is a simple, uncluttered affair with the bed set back in the wall where the boy can enjoy some seclusion. The light over the bed is very useful for night reading, the space under the bed has been left very wisely for dresser room, and the fall down desk is a space saver with room above for books and information.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—Why should an attic be ventilated and what's the best way to do it?
A—One important reason is to guard against condensation damage to the roof. Asphalt shingles, the roofing material generally used, are long-lasting and durable, but the entire roof assembly must be well constructed if the roofing material is to give the full service of which it is capable. To insure proper ventilation and prevent condensation which might lead to warped roof deck boards, construct louvered openings high up under the eaves in the gable ends of the building. For each square foot of attic floor space, there should be half a square inch of louvered opening.

Q—The walls below my windows show water stains. Water has condensed on the inside of the metal window sash and has run down onto the wallpaper. How can I prevent this?

A—The best remedy is to install windows made of wood. Ponderosa pine sash has a natural insulating value, which reduces condensation to a minimum. Condensation occurs when warm, moist air strikes cold sash. When the outside temperature is low enough, ice can form on the inside of the metal. Wood sash remains warm in a warm room regardless of outside temperature, and condensation is no problem.

Q—How should a frozen water pipe be thawed?

A—All faucets connected to the pipe should be opened, and heat, preferably from an electric source, should be applied to the pipe at the end near the fixtures. Thawing will not crack pipes. Freezing causes cracks and thawing simply discloses them.

Q—A bathtub apparently has pulled away from the wall, leaving a crack as wide as a quarter of an inch in places. How can this be fixed?

A—If the crack with caulking compound. If the wall is dark in color, use a light color caulking compound and then paint it with enamel to match the wall.

Paying Too Much?

The price of most new U. S. homes can be reduced as much as $500 to $1000 if builders would be more careful in buying the right grade of lumber for each job in the home. The West Coast Lumbermen's Association says that less expensive grades of framing, construction and finish lumber will outlast the life of a home and should be used where practical. The lumbermen say that utility grades of Douglas fir and west coast hemlock are available in ample supply at real savings to the home buyer.

Space House Gets Top Prize from Small Homes Guide

Dramatic utilization of space in this plan by Architect Rudolph A. Matern won for it the Small Homes Guide award of first prize for excellence of design. In addition, the home is featured on the front cover of the magazine's current edition.

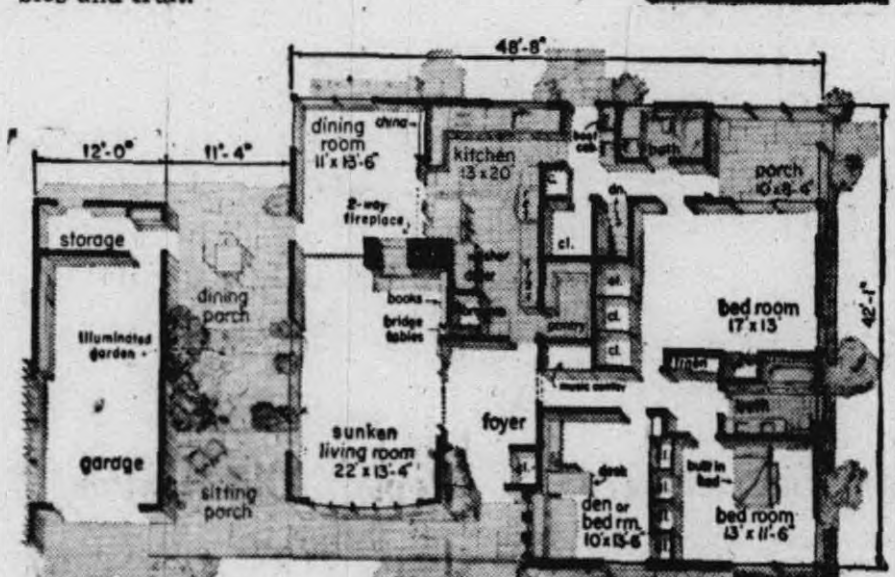

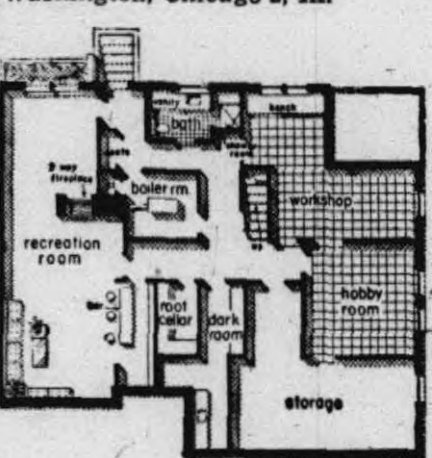

Because of its many unique space-saving features and the provision of space for many special purposes, it has been called "the space house."

The plan offers special space, either in the basement (at right below) or on the main floor, for: garden tools, outdoor toys, furniture, potting bench, seeds, car tools and cleaners; china and glassware; books, magazines, games, folding chairs and card tables; informal snacks, breakfasts and dining; a fresh-up corner; bad-weather gear and in-and-out storage; canned goods and vegetable bins; semi-permanent storage, trunks and baggage; brooms and mops; records, record player, recorder, central radio, amplifier and speaker controls; a home-office; folding bed; blankets and pillows; extra linens; outdoor relaxing; entertaining; refreshments; workshop, with power tools; hobbies and games; dead storage; darkroom, and storage of garden bulbs, vegetables and fruit.

Construction details of many of these features are also shown in the magazine.

The plan calls for extensive use of glass; note the sliding glass walls between the living room and breezeway-patio and between the largest bedroom and the enclosed porch at the rear. Bathroom facilities are extremely luxurious—with three full baths, two with showers, plus a lavatory at the rear entrance. Area is 1,800 sq. ft., exclusive of the porches and garage.

For information on blueprints and their cost, write to Small Homes Guide, Dept. 1301, 82 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Ill.

PAINT AND WOODWORK

On woodwork that is new and that is to be given an opaque coating, an under-coater is required. For a finishing coat, you can use semi-gloss, enamel or flat oil paint. Keep it in mind, however, finger-marked and are unsatisfactory flat oil paints are easily factory for window sills. Emulsion and rubber-base paints are suitable, too, for woodwork. Most of these coatings can also be used to refinish woods that have been varnished or shellacked.

A large and ornate gold frame which contains an undesirable picture can serve as a starting point for a most attractive dressing table. With the picture replaced by a mirror and the frame painted in a velvety flat pink paint it becomes a glamorous asset to a bedroom. A mirrored shelf below can be skirted in a quilted chintz fabric that repeats the pink. A bench, painted to match the mirror frame—and cushioned with a pad of the same material as the dressing table skirt—

Rebuilt Porches Mean Relaxation

With the onset of summer and warmer weather, many home owners are planning to convert a porch or half-completed room into a snug "relaxation" area—a room that in many ways is the counterpart of the old back parlor.

Though the space may be small, a "relaxation" room can provide an excellent place for the youngsters to play games, spin records, or watch television. And it can mean hours of comfort and relaxation for adults of the family, too, if careful attention is given to the details of the conversion project.

For instance, small-space planning requires, above all, a smart, uncluttered decorative scheme. That especially means heat distribution units that won't usurp much-needed floor area while giving an even warmth that makes the "relaxation" room comfortable and enjoyable.

Because it meets requirements on those and many other scores, one of the most popular heat distribution units for such remodeling projects is the modern convector, which fits ideally into any hot water or steam heating system.

Streamlined convectors can be recessed into walls beneath windows, forming an unbroken decorative pattern, or may be semi-recessed or installed flush against the walls. Convectors blend unobtrusively with any decorating style. Available in prime neutral finish, the units may be painted to match plaster walls or may be given a wood-grain finish to harmonize with the wood-paneled walls and cornices favored in many of the new "relaxation" rooms.

Streamlined convectors can be no floor space and give a gentle, even flow of warmth that won't scorch nearby furnishings, wide flexibility of furniture arrangement and drapery stylings are possible even in a small room. The convector heating element is hidden inside a metal enclosure that never becomes too hot to touch, so there's no danger of children burning themselves on these new heat distribution units, either.

Handy manual damper controls—handle, chain, or toe-plate—permit adjustment of convector heat output beyond the usual thermostatic regulation, too.

New Steel Cabinet Installation Easy

With steel cabinets styled today in modular sizes to fit virtually any wall or floor space, kitchen design and installation has become almost as easy as stacking blocks.

In fact, any man who can use a few tools and read a tape measurer can hang steel wall cabinets. And installation of steel base cabinets and sink combinations is primarily a case of sliding them into position.

The person who is modernizing with extremely high quality steel kitchen cabinets, possibly custom built, no doubt will have the installation done for him. But for the person who can't afford the most luxurious kitchen and to whom the installation cost may be the difference between having or not having a new steel kitchen, "do it yourself" definitely is worth consideration.

Steel cabinet manufacturers provide detailed instruction sheets for putting in their sink combination, base, and wall cabinets. Their dealers also can give you installation tips, whether you are buying a single unit, a group of cabinets, or a complete kitchen.

There are a few essentials to keep in mind in installing your own steel cabinets. The baseboard should be removed before the cabinet sink combination and base cabinets are put in place, so the sink and cabinets can be fitted flush against the wall and secured to studs or furring strips. Rows of base cabinets can be joined tightly with small connecting bolts.

In hanging wall cabinets, it is important to determine the height at which you want the units and to be sure they are vertically straight and horizontally level. This is a simple matter, of course, if you know how to use a carpenter's level. Some wall cabinet installations require fastening hanger bars into the wall studs, then hanging the cabinets over the bars and anchoring in place. Other wall cabinets are attached directly to the wall studs or to furring strips fastened to the studs.

Wide Roof Overhang Helps Houses Beat Summer Heat

Architects and builders throughout the country recognize the value of a wide roof overhang in combatting summer heat in the home.

An overhang of sufficient width shades walls and windows in mid-summer when the sun is highest and hottest.

Because maximum protection from mid-summer heat is important to the entire family, the value of a wide roof overhang is worth remembering if you are planning to buy, build or remodel a home.

Equally important weapons in the battle against summer heat are:

1. Ventilation. A roof should be pitched high enough to permit installation of louvers in the gable ends. The louvers allow hot air to escape and help keep air circulating freely above the living areas of the house.

2. Insulation. Properly-installed insulation in the attic is an effective barrier against summer heat coming into living areas below. In winter, insulation helps keep heat inside.

Tricks With Color

Many leading architects recommend combining wide roof overhangs with light colored asphalt shingles to combat summer heat as well as to make small houses look larger and more dramatic.

Specialists in color styling point out that a roof of lighter and brighter color draws the eye upward, making a low house appear taller. In much the same way, a dark colored roof has the effect of making a tall house look lower.

Asphalt shingles come in a broad range of colors, light and dark. Many architects and home remodelers use a roof as the "color key," choosing the roof color first and selecting the trim paint in a related shade.

Attic Needs Insulation

To gain the full advantages of roof overhangs and light colored asphalt shingles in combatting

The wide roof overhang (top) shades windows and walls, the light colored roof reflects sun rays, and insulation in walls and attic minimizes the transfer of heat. The poorly-constructed house has none of these features and heat enters freely.

heat, the attic should be fully-insulated. In most homes, this can be a project for a husband-and-wife team.

If they want to use the attic for living space, they can install mineral wool batts or blankets, stapling them between the rafters under the roof up to and across the "collar joists." These are the overhead beams in most attics which tie the rafters together. This method of installation leaves an open space above the attic ceiling, permitting air to circulate freely.

Attics too small for expansion, or which the home-owner doesn't need except for storage, can be insulated with mineral wool in the floor. If the floor joints are open, the husband-and-wife team can install batts or blankets. If flooring has been laid, it's more economical to have the wool blown in pneumatically.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Is there any way to remove squeaks from stairs?
A—Yes, usually one or more nails through the tread into the riser will stop the squeaking. Screws will do a more permanent job.
Q—How can I replace old windows and still maintain the authenticity of an early-American house?
A—Ponderosa pine double hung windows come in a wide variety of different styles. Among these are a number of early-American type windows, with small "mul-tioned" panes. All ponderosa pine windows are chemically treated to keep them from sticking and warping.
Q—How can I prevent cold water pipes from "sweating"?
A—Cover them with insulation. Insulating warm water pipes gives another benefit. It prevents heat loss and protects adjacent wood-work.
Q—The lights in my kitchen occasionally dim. What does this mean?

A—This probably means there is not enough electricity coming into the kitchen. When the lights dim, this indicates that an appliance is taking some of the electricity needed for keeping the lights bright. The remedy is to have an electrician install an additional electric circuit in the kitchen.
Q—Is there any reason a thermostat must always be in the living room? I'd like to move mine somewhere else, where it won't be so noticeable.
A—The room that is most frequently occupied by the family is recommended by the Coleman Heating and Air Conditioning Institute, Wichita, Kan. The living room, dining room, or den might be equally satisfactory places. The thermostat should be at least two feet away from an outside wall and not more than four feet above the floor. Don't put it in the kitchen, for heat from the range or oven might affect it. Keep it away from lamps, the radio, or the television set.

Plain Design Replaces 'Gingerbread' Styling

Elimination of so-called "gingerbread" fanciness in favor of plain lined design in home modernizing is evident, even in today's heat distribution units. In homes which are heated by hot water or steam systems, for instance, smooth-surfaced convectors have become popular replacements for the old-style, dust-catching cast iron radiator. The new convectors have attracted considerable attention among remodelers because of their adaptability to the overall interior design of the home.

Streamlined convector heating units can be installed flush against the wall, beneath windows, so they take up but a few inches of floor space. Or if an extensive modernizing job is being undertaken, recesses can be made and the convectors actually sunk in the wall, completely out of the way, if desired. Delivered in a prime neutral finish, convectors can be painted to match or blend with the room décor.

L-Shaped Cottage

There's something appealing and durable about America's justly famous Cape Cod home designs, and here is a plan that incorporates the best from Cape Cod architecture with the convenience and comfort of the newest ranch designs. All the features traditionally found in the best of America's homes can be found here—the separate dining room, only a step from kitchen and living rooms, the staircase in the center hall; the two main floor bedrooms each with double exposure; the thoughtfully-engineered L-shaped kitchen with its delightful breakfast nook. Much of the appeal of this house derives from its marvelous expansion possibilities. You can finish two more bedrooms upstairs and an extra bathroom. Truly, this is a home to grow in—a home keyed to your future.

Heating Modernization With New Convector

When the heavy garden work is done and time permits attention to summer-time modernization projects inside the house, spend some time looking over the heating system with a critical eye. Summer is the time to take care of necessary repairs and replacements while the system is "resting" and you will be ahead of the game by doing the work now. Modernization of the system can be a decorative gain as well as insurance of more comfort and satisfaction next winter if replacement of old-fashioned heating units is included in the facelift plan. Nothing detracts more from the tasteful, fresh appearance of rooms than ponderous old-fashioned radiators and it is relatively simple and inexpensive today to remove them in favor of newer, streamlined convectors. If this modernization is undertaken, however, it's best to do the whole house at one time rather than on a room-to-room basis, heating experts say. By doing the work in the summer-time while the heat is off, it can be completed quickly. Among the many advancements in design since the hey-day of the old cast iron radiator, the new convector units seem to blend most effectively with modern interiors. Convectors, like radiators, are used on hot water and steam systems. They differ from radiators in heating performance in that most of their heat is by convection rather than radiation. They have smooth surfaces and rounded corners which are easy to keep clean in contrast to the wide open spaces between and behind the tubes of old radiators and, thanks to their unbroken surfaces, are easy to paint to match the color of adjacent walls. Unless you are a heating expert, it's best to enlist the aid of your heating and plumbing man in this project. It is possible that you can do some of the preliminary work and thus save money, but the final installation and connections should be under the direction of a man trained in this field.

Music Lovers' Space Problems Can Be Solved With Compact Music Wall

Music hath charms, for most homeowners. But unfortunately, musical equipment takes up space that few homes of today can afford to lose. That is a problem, according to Home Modernizing magazine, that is best answered with a music wall. The music wall is a built-in series of compartments providing places, in the most elaborate setups, for radio and phonograph (often high-fidelity equipment), television set, movie screen and equipment, wire or tape-recording equipment and storage of records, music and other items, such as books.

No matter whether the homeowner has all of these items or only a few to provide for, he should make sure the home music wall is located for best visibility and comfort of the viewers and listeners; acoustics should be good; air circulation should be provided around the TV set to avoid overheating, and there should be enough electrical outlets to handle the numerous pieces of equipment. The music wall, especially if it is a complete home entertainment center, may require a separate electrical circuit.

Out of the line of traffic, but easily visible and audible throughout the room are the TV-phonograph-radio components of this music wall, beautifully encased behind tall doors in a storage wall. Here the television set is high enough that viewers at the far side of the room can see despite furniture between them and the set.

Modern Homes Wanted

A growing demand for adequate housing and home improvement throughout the country is revealed in a recent Federal Reserve Board survey. The findings show that one-third more non-farm families now own homes than in 1948 and that home-owners are expanding their living space. Over 15 per cent of those surveyed complained of lack of space and modern conveniences in their present homes. The same report also pointed out that eight per cent of the home-owners spent $1,000 or more on general improvements in 1954. Many of the home-owners took advantage of the benefits of Title I of the Housing Act. Title I permits borrowing as much as $2,500 for home improvements. The money can be repaid over a three-year period. Such loans make it easier to remodel older homes and bring old-fashioned kitchens or bathrooms up-to-date. A home-improvement loan, for instance, could provide money to add comfort, convenience and beauty to a family's most important room — the bathroom. New, colored fixtures would give the more beauty and comfort. Fixtures might even be relocated or fit into compartments to provide more bathroom space and privacy to more people.

Health and Beauty

Ascorbic acid, which is one of the main nutrients provided by fresh fruits and vegetables, has a very prominent part to play in therapeutic nutrition. It has an important function in the healing of wounds.

Prolonged ascorbic acid deficiency leads to increased fragility of blood vessel capillaries, and impairment of the tissue reparative powers. It is very important to maintain adequate body stores of ascorbic acid at all times.

Other vitamins and minerals play an important role in healing. Improvements in the mortality rates and in the time required for convalescence can be achieved by attention to the nutritional requirements of patients.

It is true that good nutrition is important for the maintenance of optimum health in all normal individuals. It is all-important in the restoration of good health in the sick and wounded. The type diet you eat affects the resistance you have to disease and the capacity of tissue repair.

Other than general nutritional needs of the sick, many fruits and vegetables contribute specific substances that are used in treatment of specific illnesses. The following are interesting examples: Watermelon juice has been used for treating certain kidney ailments. Raw cabbage juice has been tried to speed up healing of peptic ulcers. Bananas are used for various therapeutic diets: soft diets, gland diets and in the diabetic treatment disease. Apple pulp is used in the treatment of diarrhea. Various fruits and vegetables are recommended in the treatment of constipation. Fruits and vegetables provide pectin which is beneficial in digestion.

The average person needs to eat more fresh fruits and vegetables. Estimates have been made that people should be eating an extra hundred pounds of fresh fruits and vegetables a year. Some doctors rate this figure as conservative.

Since what we eat determines to a very large extent whether or not we are healthy and happy, proper nutrition should be taught throughout the school period. Educators say instruction should begin in the home and be continued in the lowest grades.

Homeowner Remedies Electrical Violations

A Plymouth homeowner who was warned in court last April to either comply with electrical and heating ordinances or go to jail was given a breathing spell last week when he appeared before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo.

John Wiggins, 150 Fair street, was found to have complied with the electrical violations, but will not be able to start up the oil furnace in his apartment building next fall until those violations are remedied.

Inspector Charles Thompson said that Wiggins had met the electrical requirements. But besides the heating code which he still must fulfill, the judge said that the roof on his building must meet the fire marshal's code, weeds must be cut to meet city ordinance and outside arc welding without visual protection must be stopped.

No man knows as much as he thinks he knows, and few are as ignorant as they think they are.

What Merchants Should Know

(From the Royal Oak Tribune) A LOT OF PEOPLE are spending time these days trying to figure out what the customer likes and wants. They call it "market research" and some very interesting results have come out in some recent market surveys.

turnover. Out of 100 customers lost, one died, three moved, four were floater purchasers, five were switched by friends or recommendations, nine said that they can buy for less elsewhere, and 10 were chronic complainers. But 58 per cent of customers who don't stay are indifferent. They would just as soon shop somewhere else and don't have particular brand or store loyalty.

The survey proves that the merchant who doesn't use newspaper advertising regularly and consistently, just doesn't keep up with today's mobile consumer.

WHAT DO PEOPLE LIKE TO KNOW ABOUT PRODUCTS?

An interesting survey was made by Richard Manville Research to determine what customers like on a label of a can of paint. It seems that a company wanted to change its label to make its product look more luxurious and important. But when they started asking potential customers, these customers much preferred labels which told them how best to use the paint, rather than how good it was.

That's a point that is helpful for any kind of advertiser, small or large. People want things because they feel that these will do something for them. The more you can tell your customers what your products will do for them, the more likely they are to buy.

HOW MUCH DO HUSBANDS HELP?

Another survey has disclosed that women who work tend to get more household help from their husbands. Two-thirds of working wives get regular household help from their husbands, but less than one-third of full-time housewives get his aid. From what I hear around, I imagine the percentage in our South Oakland area is considerably higher in the last category.

WHAT FABRICS DO WOMEN LIKE BEST?

A recent survey on wearing apparel showed that women prefer cotton for ten out of fifteen times. First preference for winter dresses and skirts was wool, but cotton was preferred for most other wearing apparel, except for some underthings. Nylon was preferred for those, especially for stand-out petticoats or crinolines. Teen-agers, however, liked cotton slips because they don't cling—and cotton petticoats because they wear well.

WHY DO CUSTOMERS LEAVE?

It isn't safe for a merchant to assume that his customers will come back to him automatically. He has to do a continuous job of selling. Jeweler's Circular has made a survey which shows the reasons for customer

Replace Income Tax — How?

Agitation has grown recently for elimination of the Federal income tax. There are those who believe that it is a bad tax, that it induces Americans to cheat, promotes dishonesty and causes all sorts of ills.

We agree with these attacks, to some extent, but we believe Congressman Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of a House committee studying the income tax, has made it fairly clear that the income tax will have to remain on the books for a while — at least until the United States does not require anything like $67,000,000,000 to operate on.

Mills, answering reporters' questions recently, revealed that if the income tax were to be repealed—and there is some question about its legality—a retail tax, exempting food and medicine, of fifty per cent would have to be levied to bring in the necessary

$6.8 billion dollars the Government now realizes from income taxes.

If food and medicine were not to be exempt, a thirty-three per cent tax on everything bought could be levied, and the bill paid. That is, if you are buying a new car for $3,000, you would then pay $4,000. If you were buying a new car for $6,000, you would pay $8,000 for the same automobile.

One can see that the necessity for raising the funds to replace income tax monies would run into heavy criticism. So would every other proposal to raise $56,000,000,000. Therefore, the proper solution is to make the income tax as fair as possible. Right now, the tax is not fair and certain groups are allowed many loopholes through which they annually milk the government for several billion dollars, and which loopholes also cost the government the respect of many tax-paying citizens.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING

MRS. ALICE FERGUSON MURDOCH, 78-year-old grandmother: "Young wives are killing their husbands by expecting them to do too much work when they get home from their jobs."

SAMUEL G. KING, author of several books on marriage: "Fifty years ago marriage was for life. Today, the average duration of marriage is about ten years."

ARTHUR W. RADFORD, Admiral, chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff: "Defense is not the monopoly of any one service."

THEODORE R. McKELDIN, Governor of Maryland: "The alarm expressed over the school situation is alarmingly exaggerated—by deliberate intent in some instances — by mistaken emphasis in others."

GATE FREGA, jazz musician, recently ordained a Roman Catholic priest: "I don't believe that music and God are ever very far apart."

HARRY S. TRUMAN, referring to his conversation with Sir Winston Churchill recently: "Oh, we won the war all over again, took credit for doing it and, like two old men, had a good time reminiscing."

MARK VAN DOREN, author and professor: "Freedom of the mind means the privilege of being unlike everyone else and the privilege of being like everybody else. Without the first we are mice, without the second we are monsters."

'Unexpected' Hurts

Last night I finished Burton Crane's Guide to National Economics, entitled GETTING AND SPENDING. It contains valuable statistics and notes. His conclusion is that if we will build up foreign markets "to keep the world safe," prosperity should continue, with an occasional dip now and then, for an indefinite period. He does not, however, mention "unexpected events."

The very next day after I read this book, there occurred the great Wanamaker fire in New York City, which crippled its subway system. The following day Ringling Brothers announced the suspension at Pittsburgh, in the middle of its season, of the "Greatest Show on Earth." Certainly these were unexpected events, although perhaps not great enough to disturb stock markets. However, these events made me interested in studying anew the action of the stock market for the past one hundred years.

BUSINESS WAS PROSPEROUS during the Civil War and started to boom directly afterward. The sudden death of President Lincoln, however, caused stocks to tumble and a year of depression followed.

Again business began to boom until 1869 saw the famous "Black Friday" come very suddenly due to the corner on the gold market. Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in November, 1872. These caused another panic.

The market had just about recovered when the failure of the great banking house of Jay Cooke and Company was suddenly announced. Then for the first time, the leading Stock Exchange closed for several weeks. This unexpected failure brought on the great depression beginning in 1873 and extending for some years.

Suddenly, on July 3, 1881, President Garfield was shot. This started a chain of reaction of selling. During this second period, the great banking house of Grant and Ward, plus the two leading "bulls," namely Henry Villard and James R. Keene, announced their failures. Depression, as usual, followed these unexpected events.

The year 1892 was recorded as one of great prosperity, when suddenly the failure of the National Cordage Company was announced in May, 1893. This was then one of the ten largest corporations and its stock would today be included in the "Blue Chip" group.

The following year the great Pullman Strike occurred. This was the first serious strike and it cast great fear and gloom over the country. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

AGAIN IN 1897 BUSINESS steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings. Suddenly, in 1903, there came another panic due to the still more unexpected cause of "undigested securities." This panic resulted in the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies which were then very popular.

The final crash came with the San Francisco earthquake which dragged prices way down. Up to this time the national government had been friendly to business, with no commissions or other retarding factors. The Supreme Court had been content to decide questions between the states. Suddenly in the early 1900's it issued a decision forbidding the consolidation of the Great Northern Railroad and the Northern Pacific.

HEALTH Word is New, Allergy Old

The word allergy is comparatively a new-comer to medical nomenclature, though its effects have tormented the human race since the dawn of history.

Only 10 or 15 per cent of mankind suffer from allergies, or idiosyncrasies, to certain foods. These people are made sick by eating, or coming into contact with articles of food that are wholesome and necessary to the vast majority of human beings.

Some people inherit their allergies. The whole subject is wrapped in mystery, which the medical profession has never succeeded in fully clarifying.

Even nursing babies are sometimes made sick, if their mothers eat foods to which they are sensitive. Just as soon as the mother finds out what she has eaten that disagreed with the baby, and leaves it strictly alone, the child recovers and has no more attacks unless the mother again yields to the baby's undoing.

There are many different symptoms of allergy manifested by the sufferers.

Many baffling diseases, particularly in infants, such as eczema, asthma, stomach and bowel disorders, are due to milk or other articles of food. It is often extremely difficult to determine the course of certain alarming symptoms, or sudden, or even chronic illness.

Making Sure Quizzing a bunch of rookies, the sergeant asked, "Johnson, when you clean a rifle, what's the first thing you do?" "Look at the number," the private answered promptly. "Now what on earth has that got to do with anything?" the sergeant demanded. "Just want to make sure," explained Johnson, "that I'm cleaning my own gun."

THINKING OUT LOUD

"Aside from the tragedy which took place when Sergeant Matthew McKeon led his men into the Paris Island swamp, do you feel that this type of discipline should be part of the training of military recruits?"

MELVIN GRIFFITH, Garden City: "It is difficult to see why such a march was needed in the night. At first I felt that the sergeant was entirely to blame but now I'm beginning to wonder if he hadn't been ordered to take the march and that he now is taking the full blame in order to protect his branch of the service."

SIEGFRIED ZIELKE, 405 Starkweather: "I was a second lieutenant in the German army during the last war and we never had any discipline like that. I don't think it right to go into a swamp at night unless accompanied by qualified officers or on maneuvers. I would say that he was guilty of second degree murder, not manslaughter. He should have no mercy. We had a lot of tough training but we never had to go into a swamp, even during combat."

Griffith Zielke Roberts Krause

FINCH ROBERTS, 42531 Lakeland: "Discipline is what makes the Marine Corps. They call it 'Esprit de Corps.' He did nothing that hasn't been done before except there was a mistake in judgement. I was in the Marines from 1940 to 1944 and did similar things many times. In California we had to run to the ocean across the sand and bring back a full pail of water. If we dropped any, we would have to go again."

JOE KRAUSE, Livonia: "I was in the Air Force and was never on a forced march, but it seems like the Marines have a reputation for tough discipline. Personally I don't think it is necessary. There must be other ways to have discipline. In peace time where there is more time to work with the men, the training should not need to be so rugged."
