

Chamber Plans City-Wide Sweet Corn Festivities

With sweet corn being one of the main crops coming from the highly-productive truck farming Plymouth area, a new community-wide celebration—a Corn Roast Festival—is being planned by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce for Saturday, September 8.

Kellogg Park, located in the center of Plymouth's business section, will be the scene of the festival that will start at noon and end at 8 p.m.

And the big attraction of the day, of course, will be the serving of roasted sweet corn—buttered and salted.

Numerous other events are being planned for the day, some of which are still tentative. Merchants, for instance, all expect to decorate their windows depicting the old-fashioned or colonial days. Residents are also being urged to dress in the garb of yesteryear.

Youngsters will be competing in corn husking contests throughout the day and plans call for a group of Indians to appear.

The Retail Merchants committee headed by James Taylor is promoting the window display while Roy Rew will head the children's corn husking contest. Phil Barney, local restaurant operator, will be in charge of roasting the corn and Ralph Lorenz is securing entertainment for the day-long event. Robert Waldecker is chairman of a committee to secure the corn.

Plans call for soft drinks to be served along with the corn. Price of the corn will be 10 cents an ear or three for 25 cents. More details of the festival will be announced later, chamber manager Edward Hart said.

Tons of sweet corn raised in the Plymouth area are shipped to market each season. Although September will be near the end of the sweet corn season, plenty of good eating is still promised by the committee. Hart stated that the festival may prove popular enough to become an annual event.

Group to Seek Facts on Area's Sewer Problems

"Area Cooperation Group" was the name suggested for the new organization of city and township people whose aim is to "seek cooperative action in resolving area problems."

And the first problem to be tackled by the group will be the sewer situation and how it affects the building of schools.

Holding their third monthly meeting last Tuesday night, the group expects to approve a name, purpose and organization structure at its next meeting on September 4.

Co-chairmen William Lyons and George Bowles led the discussion which centered mainly on how the group may bring about closer cooperation between the area governments. Suggested purposes of the group are:

1. To encourage a discussion and understanding of area problems; 2. To provide a medium for exploring solutions to these problems on an area basis; 3. To seek cooperative action in resolving these area problems.

The area's sewer problem and how it affects the new James Gallimore school will be explored at the next meeting. The group expects to first bring in representatives from the Wayne County Road commission and Wayne County Department of Health.

With the group being composed of representatives of civic, service, professional, veteran, religious, fraternal, educational and cultural organizations, facts learned at the meetings are to be reported back to the parent organizations.

It was suggested that voting membership be limited to designated representatives of organizations, but that attendance by other interested citizens will be welcomed.

Meetings have tentatively been set for the first Tuesday of each month and are currently being held in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. Gustaf Lundquist, of this city, Mrs. Everett Wolfen of Saline, Mrs. Arthur Hogarth of Birmingham, Mrs. Jack Winn of Bay City and Mrs. Alvin Pearson of Detroit, Grand Committee members of the Grand Chapter of Michigan Order of Eastern Star, and their husbands were entertained the past week-end in the summer home of Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Glenn P. Hagel and Mr. Hagel on Walpool Island across from Algonac.

IT WAS CIRCUS TIME here last Monday when the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. show set up shop on Lilley road. Featured attraction were the elephants, who at noon-time strolled through downtown Plymouth to the surprised pleasure of youngsters and grownups alike. Waving confidently from his lofty perch provided by one of the pachyderms is 12-year-old George Harper (above) while the elephant, Tina, guzzles soda pop fed her by a trainer. Tina, 40 years old, is an Indian elephant and weighs 6500 pounds. She is one of 14 such animals with the show.

Circus Comes to Plymouth after Long Absence Local Youngsters Thrill to Elephants, Big Top

With elephants and a big top the circus came to town this week. It did much to restore belief for Plymouth's youngsters that there was still such an item. Another such show Saturday, August 25, should complete the restoration.

A capacity crowd stuffed the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. circus tent Monday night even as tickets were being sold for another circus on the same grounds only nine days from now. On Saturday, August 25, the Hagen Bros. circus will arrive.

There were afternoon and evening performances of the Monday how with the evening attraction trawling the largest house. Held on Lilley road opposite the school parking lot, the circus was the first in Plymouth in many years.

The city's small fry turned out early in the morning to view with awe the big top as it went up. The youngsters pulled on ropes, teagied stakes and lugged poles around with professional air. They gaped at camels, peered at a polar bear and were astounded by elephants.

Indeed peculiar to Plymouth was the sight of the patiently plodding elephants, ten of which strolled down Main street to take up a post in front of a local auto show room. Youngsters gathered quickly to see the sodapop sipping pachyderms. The children, wary of the wrinkled phenomths, gave the elephants plenty of room, however.

Plymouth's tiniest set was busy that evening, tugging parents from one exhibit to another on the circus grounds. Then came the floor show.

Parents and youngsters alike crammed the huge three-ring tent to see the activities. It was just like the old days.

There were the clowns and the band, the pretty girl on the trapeze, the juggling acts and the high-wire show. Animals and other such were paraded about. Cotton candy and pop-corn was the byword.

And best of all was the fact that there was more of the same in a few days. Sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber and the Optimist club, the Hagen Bros. circus will be erected on the same site.

Tickets are now available from members of the three organizations. Proceeds will go toward civic projects. For further details on this circus, turn to section 3, page 1.

Champion Strike Talks Begin Seventh Week

New Pupils To Register

Students who will be attending Plymouth high school for the first time next month are being asked to register beginning next Monday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The deadline will be 4 p.m. on Thursday, August 29.

Principal Carvel Bentley states that students in grades nine through 12 not already registered should contact Miss Ruth Butts in the counselor's office at the high school. If the new student is enrolling for the first time, they should bring their scholastic records from their previous school.

The principal also pointed out that students who were classified before school was dismissed in June but now want to change their schedules, should contact the counselor during the same hours and days.

By completing the registration and classifying before school starts, students will get a better choice of subjects, Principal Bentley added, and will receive more time to work out a satisfactory schedule.

The school bookstore will be open to high school students all day Friday, September 7 and Monday, September 10. The used-book store operated by the Pilgrim Prints staff will also be open on these dates.

School opens here Thursday, September 6.

Sewer Users Get Higher Water Bill

City water users whose homes and buildings now have sanitary sewer connections will pay a higher rate for water when their next water bill is due, City Manager Albert Glassford said this week.

The increase will amount to five cents per thousand gallons of water.

The new charge is due to the proposed sanitary sewer for the southern section of the city. Because plans call for the sewer to serve as "relief" for the present system, city commissioners felt that some benefit charge should be paid by those having sewers. Present sewer users already pay five cents a thousand gallons for sewer use.

As soon as homes and buildings are connected to the new sewer, the total charge of 10 cents per thousand gallons will be added to their bill, in addition to the benefit charges (similar to special assessments).

Glassford said that the additional charge must start now in order to guarantee to bond buyers that the city is acting in "good faith" and because the revenue bond ordinance states that July 1 is the effective date.

Plans have been completed for the sewer and a bid for construction approved. Bidding on the bonds, however, has not been completed. Bids were to be taken two weeks ago but no bids were received due to several objections.

Changes have now been made in the ordinance and bids are expected to be taken in a few weeks. Construction will start immediately.

Local Horsemen Win at Northville

Four Plymouth girls carried home trophies and ribbons from last weekend's Junior Horse Show at Northville, with four of the awards going to seventeen-year old Ellen Cowgill of 12713 Beek road.

Also listed among the 204 record entrants were Diane Diponio, 5697 Curtis road, Ginny Franklin, 47970 Gyde road, and Mary Foster, 1396 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

Ginny took a fourth place in the 13-under Western Seat Equitation, Mary won in the 13-under Western Seat Equitation and Diane captured three events including a second in 4-H Horsemanship, third in Western Championship class, and a fourth in Stock Horse class.

But the big winner for the locals was Ellen who besides taking a fourth in Western Seat Equitation, a first in Stock Horse class, and a first in 4-H Horsemanship, was crowned the Tricolor Western Champion for which she received a 15½-inch silver trophy and the tri-color first place ribbon. Ellen was a June graduate from Plymouth high school.

Mediators Report Agreement On Non-Economic Problems

Although much progress has been reported, mediators in the strike against Champion Containers, Inc., claim that there is still "a lot of ground to cover" in negotiations that have been going on periodically since the strike started six weeks ago.

Nearly all non-economic problems have been settled between the company and the union, according to Harry Caton, federal mediator. Wage hikes and vacations are two big areas that have been discussed but are still not settled, Caton added.

No Objections Heard on Amelia Street Project

There were no objections heard from property owners Monday night as the city commission held a public hearing of the proposed paving of Amelia street. A year ago when the proposal was first made, strong objections and a petition caused the commission to shelve the idea.

Commissioners also listened to plans for a $195,000 storm sewer for the southwest and northwest portions of the city for which a public hearing has been set.

Estimated cost of the Amelia street project is $70,824, of which business and industrial properties will pay the full pro-rata share for concrete pavement at $14.70 per front foot and residentially used properties will pay for asphalt pavement at $11.24 per foot.

It was pointed out by the commission that because of the truck traffic on the street, it should be paved with concrete, but that residences should pay only the cost of asphalt pavement.

The city clerk will prepare an assessment roll to be presented to the city commission this Monday night. The commission will then set a date for a public hearing on the roll.

Two projects known as the "southwest" and "northwest" area storm sewers moved a little bit closer to reality Monday night when the commission decided to set a public hearing for Monday, August 27.

The southwest project will cost an estimated $125,000 and will include Hough Park No. 1, part of Nash's Plymouth subdivision, the proposed Hough Park No. 2 and Park Lane subdivisions. Assessment is based on the area benefited and will be pro-rated per square foot.

The northwest storm sewer area involves about 21 property owners including the Western Electric plant site, Roderick Cassidy farm, and some properties along Farmer, Junction and Auburn. Estimated cost of this project is $74,646.

City Burns Down Condemned Home

Plymouth firemen got in some real-life practice and the city got rid of a condemned structure last Saturday afternoon when a Herald street home was burned to the ground.

The house at 644 Herald was owned by Joseph Bailey who was given the choice of either tearing down the structure himself or have the city do it for him. He recently moved from the home, indicating that he preferred the city to dispose of the property.

The quickest and cheapest way to get rid of the building, City Manager Albert Glassford said, was to burn it down. So firemen entered the home at 1:15 p.m. last Saturday and set it afire.

Rain fell during much of the afternoon session cutting down the crowd which usually accompanies fires. Firemen were repeatedly sent into the home to quench flames, which were later allowed to grow again. By the end of the afternoon the building was flattened.

The city will now clean off the ground and send a bill to the owner for all work performed. If the bill is not paid, it will be added to the tax roll.

The condemnation was the first such case in the city. Proceedings started last January when a family in an upstairs apartment was moved because of the lack of sanitary and heating facilities. Complaints on these accounts were made by the city health officer in 1946 and the Wayne County Department of Health in 1951.

Bailey appeared before the city commission last February to state his reasons why his home should not be condemned. He argued that his tenants failed to take proper care of the premises, so he never bothered to keep it in condition. Bailey himself lived in the downstairs of the home.

Ignoring Street Barricades Can Result in Ticket

Violation tickets are being promised by the police department for motorists found driving down newly-oiled streets which are still barricaded off to traffic.

Chief of Police Kenneth Fisher said that trouble has been encountered in the city's road oiling program with some motorists who insist on removing barricades in order to get down a street. He noted that the oiling crew first informs people living on the block that their street is to be oiled and that cars should be removed if they will be needed.

It takes about two hours for the oil to soak in and for "chips" to be applied. During that time, no traffic is permitted on the street. But the department of public works reports that three drivers removed barricades on one job last week alone.

Retired DeHoCo Warden A. Blake Gillies Succumbs

A. Blake Gillies of 14816 Prevost, Detroit, superintendent at the Detroit House of Correction for 15 years prior to his retirement in 1952, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon in Detroit Osteopathic hospital. He was 72.

Mr. Gillies had undergone an operation at the hospital two weeks ago. His condition was reportedly improving when he became suddenly worse, succumbing from a blood clot late Tuesday afternoon.

The deceased had been with DeHoCo 34 years at the time of his retirement on May 7, 1953. He started out as a guard, later becoming superintendent of the institution in 1938. He has been credited with the honor plan or trustee system at DeHoCo, regarded as a model penal institution by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Well liked by even inmates, Gillies was affectionately known as "Pop" during his years of service there.

A member of the Plymouth Rotary club, the deceased counted membership in the Masons, Shriners, Jesters and honorary membership in the Lion's club among his many affiliations.

He was born May 7, 1884 in Cass City, Michigan, the son of Andrew B. and Anna Gillies, both of whom are deceased. He married the former Mary Louise Goodman of Akron, Ohio nine years ago in July.

Mr. Gillies is survived by his wife and an aunt, Mrs. Belle Giles of New Jersey.

Services will be held under the auspices of Friendship Lodge No. 417, F & AM at McCabe Funeral home, Grand River, Detroit at 10:30 Friday morning. The Rev-

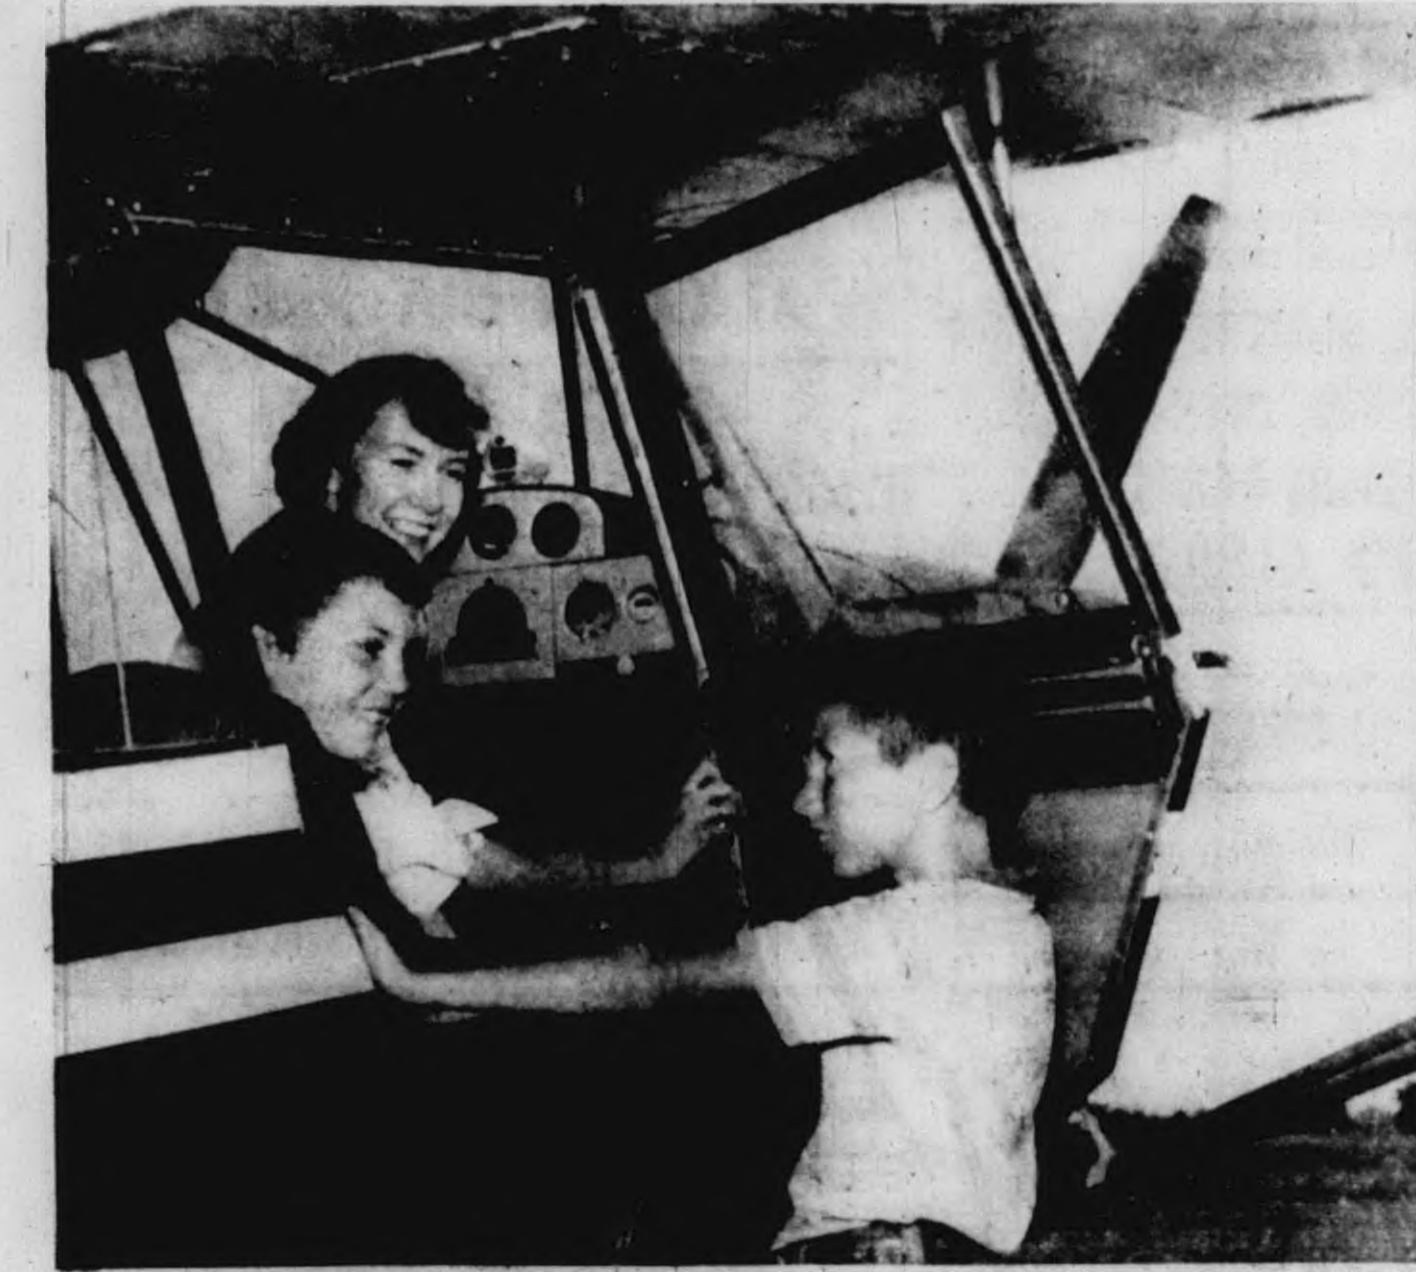

Retired Henry Walch of Plymouth will be officiating minister. Interment will be in the family plot at Cass City.

Boys in Stolen Car Picked Up in Ohio

Two youngsters who took a used car Monday night from the West Bros. Nash lot on Forest Avenue were picked up near Celina, Ohio the next morning and are now being turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said the two boys, ages 14 and 15, took the 1952 car and were arrested near Celina by the sheriff of that county.

Local police went to Celina Tuesday to return the boys. They have now been taken to the juvenile detention home in Detroit. Chief Fisher said that the youngest boy recently stole a tractor from the Burroughs plant construction job.

FLYING SCHOOLTEACHER Olivia Bell, teacher at Smith elementary, treated about 50 of her pupils to short flights over Plymouth last weekend. The youngsters, one or two at a time, viewed the city from Miss Bell's light plane, owned by Emory Monnier. He also helped in giving rides to children in another plane. Pictured here is Miss Bell with Bonnie Bowsman, 11, (at left) and Edward Sheppard, 9. Miss Bell, a pilot for three years, has about 300 flying hours.

Former Presbyterian Pastor, Wife Observe Golden Anniversary

A special service was held Sunday morning in the First Presbyterian church of Richmond, Indiana commemorating the 50th wedding anniversary of former Plymouth residents, Reverend and Mrs. Hugh N. Ronald of 41 South 21st street, Richmond.

Reverend Ronald, a minister of the Presbyterian church U. S. A. for 50 years, held his first pastorate in Plymouth during 1906-1910.

The couple were married August 15, 1906 in St. John's Episcopal church, Alma, Michigan. Both graduated from Alma college, where the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on Reverend Ronald in 1932.

The Ronalds have four sons and four daughters, all college graduates, 22 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Nearly all were expected for the Sunday morning service which was conducted by Dr. James R. Hines of McKinley Memorial church, Champaign, Illinois, son-in-law of the Ronalds, as guest speaker.

Anniversary plans also called for a dinner for the entire family Sunday and reception yesterday, August 15, in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, Portland, Indiana, where Dr. Ronald served as pastor for 17 years. His ministry has been largely in Indiana.

State Hospital Volunteers Slate Annual Patient Fair

On Tuesday, August 23, the Northville State Hospital Volunteer Service council will sponsor the Fourth Annual Patient Fair at the hospital. This is a recreational event, planned for the patients' pleasure, and consists of 18 booths, manned and sponsored by volunteers.

Games are arranged with each patient expected to win at least three or four prizes. Soft drinks and homemade cakes can be enjoyed while patients are being entertained by a clown band. Strolling troubadours will accompany volunteers to the hospital wards so that bed patients who cannot attend the Fair will also receive refreshments and prizes while being entertained.

The first Patient Fair was planned in 1953 as a substitute for the patients who were unable to attend the State Fair in Detroit. In keeping with the hospital's policy and depending upon available transportation, patients attend such functions as the State Fair, weekly swimming parties at Kensington Park, baseball games at Briggs' Stadium followed by a party at the American Red Cross, the Shrine Circus, and other such events. Because not all of the 1900 patients can attend, projects like the Patients' Fair are planned by volunteer groups.

This year, according to Mrs. Vivian Champion, chairman of the Volunteers at Northville State Hospital, between 1200 and 1400 patients will enjoy the Fair. Approximately 150 volunteers from 20 clubs, church groups and other organizations offering their services to the hospital, are sponsoring the Fair.

Volunteers from this area include Mrs. Jean Lature, Mrs. Ruth West, Mrs. Emma Lorenz, Mrs. Lucy McQuire, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Ruth Jones, Mrs. Evelyn Brocklehurst, and Mrs. Pearl undquist of the Plymouth Woman's club; and the following from the Plymouth Birthday Ladies: Mrs. Zaida Burrows, Mrs. Betty Packard, Mrs. Agnes Rollins, Mrs. Jessie Bake, Mrs. Ann Renhale, Mrs. Helen Teasel, Mrs. Irah Pint, Mrs. Lynette Griffith, Mrs. Hildagard Champ, Mrs. Mary Wilson, and Mrs. Mae Schuler.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beals and her mother, Mrs. Josephine Fish, left Saturday for Albany, New York, where they are visiting relatives. Mrs. Fish will remain for a few weeks but the Beals will only spend a week there.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

Dear Mr. Chandler and Staff:
Being new residents of Plymouth we had occasion to appear in your feature "Who Is New In Plymouth". I wish to take this opportunity to express both my wife's and my appreciation.

I think this is an excellent practice on the part of your paper and materially helps new residents become more rapidly acquainted than otherwise possible.

In addition I would like to commend Mr. Bob Young of your paper for the excellent manner in which he conducted our home interview and for the photograph he took.

Thanking you again, I think the Plymouth Mail exemplifies what a fine weekly paper a small town can have and how much good it can do in community affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Scott

Board Still Seeks New School Site In Subdivision

New schools, additions to old schools, transportation for parochial school children and insurance were a few of the varied topics discussed by the board of education at their regular meeting held Monday night.

Three representatives from the Fred Greenspan Building company, including Greenspan himself, attended the meeting to further discuss the sale of land to the school for a school site. The building company intends to construct 1,000 homes in the Schoolcraft road area and will sell a school site to the board.

The board, however, has been dissatisfied with the location of the site offered so far and has remained firm on their decision. Discussion between the board and construction men Monday night failed to resolve the question.

Board members are also still considering the possibility of making additions. A $3,000,000 bond issue approved last year was for new school construction and cannot be diverted unless approval is given by the voters.

It was decided Monday night to obtain more information before deciding if the question should go to voters.

A request from a citizen to have public school transportation offered to parochial school youngsters was another proposal that was discussed by the board. At present, public school buses do not transport parochial school children. It was decided to obtain costs of transporting a child and methods of reimbursement.

In other business before the board, Earl Merriman and A. K. Brocklehurst, representing the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents, discussed building risk insurance for the new junior high. No action was taken. The association also recommended the National Casualty Insurance company for handling the student accident insurance plan for the approaching school year. Students have been offered the insurance for the past two years.

Fencing for Canton Center and Starkweather elementary schools was approved. The Canton Center fence will be placed along the road in front of the school while the Starkweather fence will be placed along the south side to protect an adjoining residence.

Byron Becker of Wheeler & Becker, Architects, reported that construction on the James Gallimore school is progressing satisfactorily. Business Manager Melvin Blunk, who took Superintendent Russell Isbister's place at the meeting while the latter is on vacation, reported that the junior high work is also "well along".

The board requested that a report be made to evaluate the expanded summer school program that has now ended. In this connection, a letter was read signed by parents whose children attended a class for "special children." The parents praised the teacher, Miss Shirley Krueger, for her handling of the children, most of whom are mentally retarded. This was the first such class held for these children.

Mrs. Clarence Deloy and sons of Cheboygan and Mrs. William Ange of Pontiac were luncheon guests, Tuesday, of Mrs. Roy Lindsay in her home on McClumpha road.

When it comes to distributing the nation's life-saving, pain-relieving drugs and medicaments to the American people, no field or profession surpasses the drug trade in importance.

Proof of this statement is given in the following table. This table shows what percent of our country's total medicine supply is handled by the leading types of outlets:

Drug Stores	66.8%
Hospitals	22.1%
Physicians	3.7%
Government, and All Other	7.4%
	100.00%

Obviously, the drug field is more important—by far—than all the other outlets put together.

This is another in a series of informative advertisements appearing in this paper each week, presented by Community Pharmacy, 330 S. Main.

Mrs. Gustie M. Cronkhite

Services were conducted by the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson Tuesday, August 14, at 2 p.m. in the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Gustie M. Cronkhite, 76-year-old resident of 304 West Ann Arbor trail, Plymouth.

Mrs. Cronkhite succumbed early Sunday morning at her home. She had been in ill health the past two years.

Born March 26, 1889 in Allegan county, Michigan, to John R. and Hannah Kelly Jones, the deceased came to Plymouth in 1925 from Allegan. She is survived by her husband, Carl; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Stanley of Plymouth and Mrs. Gladys Goulet of Muskegon Heights; and a son, George of Plymouth.

A sister, Mrs. Ellen Knowlton of Plainwell, and brother, Jeffery Jones of Allegan, eight grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren also survive.

Interment was in Riverside cemetery. Pallbearers were Carl Goulet, Douglas Bell, Raymond Burr, Richard Stanley, George and Donald Cronkhite.

Bowling Once Was Outlawed

Public documents going all the way back to Territorial days are in the archives of the Department of State, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"The oldest papers in the archives were too valuable for historical research for us just to leave them in the files," says Hare.

"So we gave them to the Michigan Historical Commission, which has taken steps to preserve and study them. Already some interesting facts have been dug out of these papers.

"For example, we learn that bowling was prohibited by the Territorial government which preceded the organization of the State of Michigan.

"It's hard to imagine Michigan nowadays without bowling. I wonder how much bootleg bowling there was in the days when it was forbidden."

Michigan has a tremendous historical heritage, Hare points out. Europeans were here several years before the Pilgrims landed in Massachusetts.

The Indians who lived here before Columbus were very active in mining copper and they traded it all over the Americas. The copper used by the highly developed civilizations of the Aztecs, Mayas and Incas came from Michigan.

To study and preserve this great historical heritage the Michigan Historical Commission was established. It is headed by Dr. Lewis Beeson and has a large collection of historical materials.

One of the most important of the commission's projects was the publication of a history book, "Michigan in Four Centuries" by Dr. F. Clever Bald. The Commission operates a museum at 505 N. Washington Avenue in Lansing which is one of the show spots of the capitol city.

"The more we learn about the past of Michigan the prouder we become of our state. We are happy to find that the archives of the state could yield such valuable historical material," Hare concludes.

Mrs. Roy Lindsay of McClumpha road spent a few days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sherwood at Lake Wixom near Midland and also visited relatives at Middleton on her way home.

If you have trouble being punctual for appointments, you may get some consolation out of discovering that even scientists don't really know the right time. Time is figured on the basis of the earth's rotation, and the other day the head of the Naval Observatory reported, "The rate of the earth's rotation in 1929 was faster than it had been in 1909. Since 1929 the earth has appeared to slow down again." We haven't noticed this change . . . but anyway it throws our clocks all off as compared to real time.

Since this fluctuation has been going on for centuries, today may be yesterday really . . . or tomorrow. However, we can see no reason for getting too excited . . . not until the scientists can figure a way to put more than 24 hours in a day. Then we'll all have time to do all the things we want to do.

ARRANGING a display of local Green Thumb 4-H club projects in the Davis and Lott window last Monday were these three local girls. From left: Nancy Eaton, Sally Jo Maihias and Pat Hauk, all junior leaders in the club. The window display promotes the 4-H fair which will be held from August 14 to 19 at the Wayne county 4-H fairgrounds in Belleville.

ABOUT 500 PEOPLE stopped at the John T. Maxwell farm over the course of Sunday afternoon to watch a group of local men conduct an old-time thrashing bee. With the aid of three steam engines, the oldest of which dated back to 1906, plus an ancient separator, the men thrashed about nine acres of oats. Pictured above August Schultz (left) and Wilford Bunyea watch one of the engines powering the separator as the thrashing takes place. The work required about three or four hours of time as compared to the hour needed with modern equipment.

ONE OF THE ACTS featured in the Hagen Bros. circus Saturday, August 25, will be this equestrian performance. The Hagen Bros. circus will be the second such show in Plymouth in two weeks after many years of absence.

NOT SAVED, but started by the Plymouth fire department last Saturday was the fire that consumed a Herald street house. Condemned by the city for health and safety reasons, the home was used for practice by firemen. Its remains are shown here.

YOUNGSTERS like a fire too and they may well be wondering what the friendly firemen are doing trying to burn a house down. Smoke is shown pouring from an upstairs window as firemen wait for the blaze to get going before extinguishing it.

IT MAY TAKE some guesswork to determine the make of this automobile, but foreign-car enthusiasts should have no difficulty in identifying the British "Consul." It's an English-built Ford and is on sale at Stadnik and Shekell used car lot here.

Burroughs Opens New Parking Lot

As work progressed this week on the 204,000 square foot addition to Plymouth division of Burroughs corporation, employees of the plant were utilizing the company's recently completed 1500-car parking lot on Haggerty road.

The huge 12-acre lot is designed to accommodate the autos of some 2000 new employees, jobs for which will be available by 1958, it was announced earlier by John S. Coleman, president of the company.

A spokesman for the corporation this week said that the foundation for the addition is already completed and that the concrete floor slabs are now being poured. The steel work for the walls is the next step, which should begin this fall.

The scheduled completion date of the addition has been set for March. The new construction will increase floor space by nearly a third to 840,000 square feet or nearly 19 acres of manufacturing area.

The parking lot, located West of the plant a few hundred yards, was begun in May and finished late last month. It is constructed of a crushed-stone base with an asphalt topping.

There are presently 3500 men and women employed at the Plymouth division.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

To The Editor:

Your fine editorial last week entitled "Replace Income Tax—How?" is very timely.

We agree with you 100% that the tax is bad and it "causes all sorts of ills".

No need to replace it with another tax. Here's why:

About one-half of all our foreign aid of $5.5 billion dollars has come back here as "hot" money buying control of our key industries. Mr. Arthur I. Bloomfield, senior economist of the Federal Reserve Bank, recently testified in Washington thus:

"It is evident that a significant part of the foreign aid of the U. S. government has in effect gone to finance hot money movement from the recipient countries to the United States and elsewhere."

This totals now 26.8 billion dollars—more than all the gold we now hold.

We can't even find out who owns this foreign investment because foreign banks buy the stock under an account number. They can then name directors who are position to gain top secret plans of our government.

A more understanding deal would be hard to realize. If the Federal government did not have the billions to give away we would not be losing control of our own industries today.

We could realize about 87 billion dollars on government businesses that we should not be operating. Then we would save hundreds of millions those enterprise are now losing.

Then states should pay their own expenses instead of begging "state aid" from the central government. This costs us twice what we get out of it so it would save all the way around.

We must repeal the income tax to save ourselves.

Presbyterians Welcome New Assistant Minister

The First Presbyterian church of Plymouth welcomed its new assistant minister this week. He is the Reverend Norman J. Stanhope, minister of Christian Education at Jefferson avenue Presbyterian church, Detroit for the past three years, who will be serving the local church in a similar capacity.

Reverend Stanhope, his wife Frances, and children Kathryn Jean and Dale Benedict are occupying the residence at 650 Simpson. The new assistant pastor assumed his official duties at the Presbyterian church yesterday, August 15. He replaces the Reverend W. Thomas Keefe who recently accepted a position in Buffalo, New York.

Reverend Stanhope was born May 10, 1925 in Winter, Wisconsin where he received his early education. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1948, receiving his Bachelor of Divinity degree from McCormick Theological seminary in 1951. During World War II he served two years with the U. S. Army, part of which was in Germany.

Prior to accepting his previous position with the Jefferson avenue church in 1953, Reverend Stanhope was pastor of Gashland Community church in Detroit. He has held the following Presbyterian offices:

Chicago, area advisor to Junior High Westminster fellowship; Kansas City permanent clerk, chairman, Social Education and Action; member, Christian Education committee (junior high work); Detroit, Sessional Records committee; board of Dodge Community House, board of St. John's Presbyterian Community school.

Serving the Council of Churches, he was Youth chairman for two years and instructor at Leadership Training schools in Clay County, Missouri. He has also instructed at Leadership Training schools in Detroit.

Reverend Stanhope was awarded the Bible Land Tour Association scholarship for travel in the Holy Land in 1955.

Mrs. Stanhope is the former Frances J. Benedict of Clinton, Iowa. She was educated at MacMurray college, receiving her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wisconsin.

AERIAL PHOTOGRAPH of nearby Burroughs corporation shows the company's new 12-acre, 1500-car parking lot (foreground) and also the location of the additional manufacturing area (lighter ground in upper left) which is now being constructed. ### City Canvasses Primary Returns

City commissioners officially "canvassed the votes" of the August 7 primary election at their special meeting Monday night and found the tallies in "apple pie order".

City charter requires the commission to meet within a week after the election to publicly canvass the returns and determine the vote on propositions and candidates.

Looking over the returns, commissioners noted that the proposition to sell city property in front of Starkweather school to the school board was approved by 833 voters but met objection from 332 others.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that there had been some complaints about the waiting in line to vote. Most of these complaints, however, came from those who waited until the last few hours. Since the airport issue could be voted upon only by city taxpayers, one machine was reserved for taxpayers and the other for non-taxpayers. The great majority of those voting during the day were city taxpayers.

Not previously reported was the total vote for precinct delegates. Each of the city's five precincts was required to elect a Republican and Democratic delegate. They were:

Precinct 1, Dem., Joseph Nagy, 1, (write-in); Rep., William Clark, 123.

Precinct 2, Dem., John Scott, 63; Rep., John Daoust, 86.

Precinct 3, Dem., Richard Wer-nette, 71; Gladys Tillotson, 170.

Precinct 4, Dem., George Onusko, 53; Harry Reeves, 184.

Precinct 5, Dem., Charles Wor-and, 84; Catherine Henderson, 85.

The $500,000 airport bond issue was rejected 196-797. A three-fifths majority was needed to approve the proposition.

It's a great time to buy a Buick!

Today you can have what other cars may not have for years

JUST BETWEEN US—don't you get a kick out of keeping a step ahead of the other fellow—especially when it comes to cars?

So wouldn't you find it fun to boss the newest thing in motordom—a car with the greatest advance in transmissions since the gearshift left the floor?

And wouldn't you like to have all this at a price that is right—and when the weather is right—and right when your car is at its top worth?

Well, sir, we've got that kind of situation for you—now.

Because this very day you can step into a 1956 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo* and drive away with a transmission so modern, so responsive, so smooth that you may not find its like in other cars for years to come.

You can have the thrill of split-second action from the merest nudge of the pedal—and with the good-news gas savings this economy range brings.

You can have the safety-surge of power that comes from pushing down on the pedal and switching the pitch.

All with the wallowing might of Buick's 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. All with the new luxury of a ride that's built on 4 brawny coil springs for buoyant levelness. A ride with new steering ease and sweeter handling.

Best of all, you can make the buy of a lifetime. For today's low prices have helped move Buick into America's best-selling 3 more firmly than ever.

That means we can come to terms on the trade-in value of your car in a way that's bound to tickle you pink.

Why not stop in and take us up on that—today?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear Mother, Bessie M. Smith, who passed away August 8, 1944.

Her loving daughter,
Marion L. Knapp

Tactful

"I've decided on a name for baby," said the young mother. "I shall call her Euphrosyne."

The husband did not care for the selection but he was tactful. "Splendid," he said, cheerfully. "The first girl I ever loved was called Euphrosyne."

There was a brief silence. Then: "We'll call her Elizabeth after my mother," the wife said sternly.

The Floor's the Thing

In today's room planning the floor is commanding major attention. Leading decorators and discriminating homemakers are displaying the beauty of their floors instead of concealing it. Especially well adapted to this new fashion trend is the rich natural beauty of gleaming oak, shown here in the popular strip style. Note how a true luxury look is achieved through strategic placement of handsome twin accent rugs. Aside from its eye appeal, the plan has much to recommend it from a strictly practical viewpoint. Famed for life-time service, fine oak floors stay clean and glistening with simple maintenance—dusting and occasional waxing and polishing.

Country home fine for large family. 5 bedrooms, gas hot water heat. House in good condition. Call Kenneth Harrison, Realtor, Plymouth 1451.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN recently became eligible for the Sealy posturepedic mattress contest grand prize of $20,000. They are Mrs. H. E. Manion, 681 Jener, and Mrs. Eugene Beeman, 14830 Sheldon. Both women suggested possible names for the Sealy posturepedic girl. For their efforts each received a mattress. Pictured here 15-month-old Diana Beeman tests one of the prize mattresses and apparently finds it to her liking. Looking on (from left) are Bert Wyse of Better Home Appliances; Mrs. Manion; Mrs. Beeman; and Dave Galin of D. Galin and Son Appliances.

Grange Cleanings

There was a really surprising attendance at the "Corn roast" at Brother Willoughby Wiselys on August 2. Forty-five of our Grange members were there. It was a lovely clear mild evening. A nice ride up there and a grand feed. We owe many thanks to Mr. Wisely for his thoughtful kindness, he cooked a lot of corn and everyone said it was "delectious."

The last Grange picnic of this season is scheduled for tonight at the usual place in the park. In case of rain or cold the supper will be at the Grange hall.

On Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. E. Vealey enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Vealey's two nieces from Oxford, Mrs. Leila Hauck and Miss Lillian Crawford.

Our first meeting of the fall season will be September 6. It is Booster Night and is an open meeting, so guests may be invited. Of course it is our usual pot-luck supper night, too, so bring your dishes and a dish to share.

Let's have a big crowd at our first meeting.

As our first is an open meeting we shall not be able to take care of any business matters that night since we have had no meetings since June and there is some business that should be discussed. Worthy Master John Oldenburg is calling a special meeting for Monday, September 10. All members should be present.

And don't forget that most important date, September 15—the date of the Rummage sale. All donations of clothes, dishes, shoes, etc. will be appreciated. Further notice later.

An enjoyable time swimming, hiking, sleeping under the stars, was had last Monday night by Greta Jensen, Rita Beukema, Carolyn Scott, Sandy Fogo, and Clare Wilson, members of the "Chicks" Bird School softball team which joined the Starkweather team for an overnight at Island Lake recreation area.

Nine Explorer Scouts Leave Sunday for UP

Nine explorer scouts from post P-3, accompanied by their leader Ferris J. Mathias, will leave Sunday for a ten-day caribou trip into Northern Michigan. The group will return to Plymouth August 29.

In addition to Mackinac Island, the Soo locks and Tahquamenon Falls, the explorers will visit Castle Rock, the sand dunes at Grand Marais on Lake Superior, Picture Rock, Fort Wilkins at Copper Harbor and Laughing White Fish Falls.

The scouts taking the trip are: John Luther, Tom Ebersole, Tom Keeler, Stephen Johnston, Daryl Tonovich, Ronald Ernest, Kent Stanbury, Earl Fulton and Ross Willett. Fulton and Willett will assist Mathias in leading the trip.

On the tour the Plymouthites will camp at five state parks including Burt Lake, Brimley, Tahquamenon, Fort Wilkins and Indian Lake.

There is always a better way to do something.

"Do-It-Yourself" A Must For Early Americans

The current do-it-yourself fad is really only a revival of what was a necessary way of getting things done in the 1700's, notes the director of the University of Michigan Library of America.

Pointing to a collection which includes old-time do-it-yourself books, Howard H. Peckham remarks that these books were as important as tools for early Americans as were farm implements or kitchen utensils.

The range of their subject matter is wide, from "The Art of Making Common Salt" through "The American Vine-dresser's Guide" to "A New System of Husbandry."

In addition to these utilitarian guides there are such volumes as "A Treatise on Silk Worms," "The Art of Tying the Cravat: Demonstrated in Sixteen Lessons, including thirty-two different styles," and "A Sure Guide to Hell." The latter, purportedly written by "Belzebub Himself," is actually a satire in which the author advises the King to "oppress thy subjects at home, distress thy colonies abroad" and see where this road led! In the same negative fashion it gives advice to parents on educating their children.

"The Practical Distiller: or, An Introduction to Making Whiskey, Gin, Brandy, Spirits Etc.," includes recipes and methods from a self-taught distiller, and Peckham notes that "turning grains into whiskey was often a convenient way of transporting a crop to market on the frontier."

"The Family Physician: Comprising Rules for the Prevention and Cure of Diseases; calculated particularly for the inhabitants of the Western Country" was a boon for frontier folk in sparsely settled regions. "Those books omitting the numerous spurious Indian remedies were generally more reliable," Peckham observes, since "snake oil wasn't all it was cracked up to be."

The Dr. Spock of the late 18th century was a Dr. Hugh Smith who wrote "Letters to Married Women on Nursing, and the Management of Children." This tried to puncture old wives' tales about childbirth and infant care. The last chapter is on geriatrics: "Old Age—by virtue rendered truly honorable."

The authors of "The Citizen and Countryman's Experienced Farrier," a book on treatment of sick horses and cattle, are listed as "J. Markham, G. Jeffries and discreet Indians." The meaning of a "discreet" Indian is open for conjecture.

Men In Service

Dixie E. Dooley
Army Sergeant Dixie E. Dooley, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Dooley, 499 Pacific avenue, Plymouth, recently participated in a field training exercise with the 11th Airborne Division in Germany.

An assistant squad leader with Company C of the division's 370th Armored Infantry battalion, Sergeant Dooley entered the Army in 1948 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in October 1953.

Robert W. Danol
Private Robert W. Danol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Danol, 1052 Roosevelt, Plymouth, recently completed the intermediate speed radio operators course at the Army's Armor Training center, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The 12-week course trained him to receive and transmit by Morse code over various types of radio equipment and to service the equipment.

Danol entered the Army last February and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Business is like oil, it won't mix with anything but business.

ing, "a facetious young lady to her aunt, ridiculing her serious lover," and "to a young lady cautioning against keeping company with a gentleman of bad character."

Who's New in Plymouth

A RETIRED CONTRACTOR, C. W. Kinsey and his wife are enjoying their 1014 Dewey residence, having moved in mid-May from Lake Worth, Florida. "Plymouth is a beautiful place, about the most beautiful in Michigan," the couple declare. They formerly lived in Lapeer and have spent the last four years in Florida where they'll be returning for two months this winter. He is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 54, Lapeer. Mrs. Kinsey was active in the King's Daughters there and also served the Eastern Star as state officer. They have three children, a daughter and son in Oxford and Milford, their other son living in Worcester, Mass. Kinsey also has two brothers living outside Ypsilanti.

Hagen Bros. Circus Stops Here Saturday, Aug. 25

Hagen Bros. Circus sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees and Optimist club will move into Plymouth on Saturday, August 25 with a wide variety of acts and animals. Located on the Spicer property along Lilley road, north of Ann Arbor road, performances will be given at 2:15 and 8 p.m. Two convoys are used to transport the tented organization from city to city. Traveling with the circus are several hundred employees, including 20 advance men. It takes five acres of ground to house the transit city. The circus carries its own doctor, lawyer, postman, blacksmiths, carpenters, in fact every artisan in the average city.

Hagen Bros. will bring the only African tapir on tour in the nation today, as well as most other specimens of wild animals. Like most circuses, Hagen Bros. has its share of stars from foreign countries who are each champions in their own lines. The Bantas, a man and wife team, star in a high wire aerial act. Trained horses will also be a part of the show with the Newman family from England as the bareback riding attraction. Diana Allen from the Antipodes presents a daring aerial act and from England comes the Famous LeClairs, international jugglers. There will also be many clowns headed by Scotty Davis, king of the white face funsters.

Finds Grandson Of Early Local Businessman
 Grandsons of two pioneer Plymouth businessmen got together recently to talk over "old, old times."
 They were Karl Starkweather, 711 Starkweather avenue, and William B. Scattergood of Petosky, whose grandfathers were leading Plymouth citizens over 100 years ago. Joshua Scattergood came to Plymouth as a young man in 1836 and remained until 1866.
 During this period he became Plymouth's sixth postmaster, holding office from 1849 until 1853. (Our present postmaster is No. 24.)
 Scattergood, who conducted a general store here for many years and George A. Starkweather, Plymouth's first pioneer child to be born within the now present Plymouth, were associated in various ways.
 Scattergood suddenly left Plymouth and no present local citizen seems to recall his name. Karl Starkweather, however, through his grandparents, had always remembered the Scattergood name and had always wanted to know what became of the man.
 At long last, Starkweather reports, he found a Scattergood grandson in Petosky and made a trip there with a tape recorder to obtain information for a future report to the Plymouth Historical society. Starkweather is vice-president of the society.

Builders Back FHA Home Improvement

The record-breaking wave of home improvement now in progress across the country will be seriously retarded if Congress fails to extend FHA's Title I repair and modernization program which expires in September, according to H. R. Northup, executive vice president of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Lapsing of this thoroughly sound program is threatened because its extension, to which no one objects, is tied up in an omnibus housing bill containing other provisions which are highly controversial," Mr. Northup said.

Two Attend State FHA Camp Session

Two Plymouth high school girls are enjoying a week's stay at Lake Michigan near Montague as delegates to the 1956 Future Homemakers of America Leadership Training camp in session there.

August is Saving Season at your Ford Dealer's. Bag a deal while he clears his decks for the '57 models.

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis... the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford car pays off in your kind of driving; in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment... shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

More than 60 years ago the Portland fire department organized an inspection plan designed to eliminate fire hazards and thus save homes and lives.

That it has been highly successful is demonstrated by two facts: The number of home fires has been decreasing through the years, cities all over the state have adopted the plan.

The two-hour inspection by the fire companies and fire departments have followed the state-wide program will begin Monday. It is estimated that 30 days to 60 days to complete the inspections.

Post, Auxiliary At Legion Convention

Approximately 20 members of Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 and its Auxiliary attended the 38th annual state convention of the American Legion in Lansing, August 2-5, and participated in the convention parade witnessed by some 20,000 spectators in the state capitol Saturday afternoon.

The two-hour parade was headed by the Plymouth high school band and the American Legion's 17th district with which the local units are affiliated.

Climaxing the annual meeting was the election Sunday afternoon of the new state commander for 1956-57, William J. Claran of Detroit, retired businessman and World War I veteran. Claran won by a unanimous vote after withdrawal of the other candidates, Elton C. Knapp of Plymouth, Lewis C. Bricker of Coldwater and Harold L. Willard of Niles. Delegates to the Auxiliary convention, meeting at the same time, chose Mrs. Anne Gilman of Petoskey as president.

Elected Third Zone vice commander was Oscar Hammond of Northville with Marie Kiddle of Rosedale Park as Third Zone president. Local Department candidate for historian, Dorothy Koi, was defeated by 200 votes in favor of Ben Alber of the second district.

Mrs. Melva Gardner, Plymouth Auxiliary president, was presented an orchid corsage by Mrs. Ruby Ward, national Auxiliary president, as youngest president in the Department at a reception honoring Mrs. Ward, Thursday in the Olds Hotel.

Geraldine Mosher, local scholarship winner, was presented to convention delegates Friday when announcement was also made that Plymouth ninth-grader Sylvia Robertson, essay contest winner for unit and district, had won first in Department.

Conley and Kelly Membership trophies were won by the 17th District post, the Dorothy Schramm Membership trophy going to the auxiliary. The 17th District post was also awarded the American trophy for 100% reports in this category. Plymouthite Fern Burleson was presented a personal award of $5 for publicity scrapbook by Mrs. Elba Giberson, Department publicity chairman.

At the closing session, Sunday, Miss Mary Bobak, Girls State governor, gave an address on her stay and activities at Girls State, held on the University of Michigan campus, Ann Arbor, in July. Plymouthite Robert Wilson again served on the resolutions committee during the four-day convention. Adah Langmaid, 17th district president, was chairman of the district caucuses. Attending special meetings were Auxiliary President Melva Gardner, child welfare, and Maxine Kunz, legislative. State Adjutant Lisle Alexander also attended the convention sessions.

Porch, Windows Boxes Add Beauty to Modern Homes

There is no denying it, a modern functional type house is rather a "plain Jane" to look at from the street, compared with the attractively symmetrical and ornate facade of traditional design.

It may never have the dignity of a pillared southern mansion, but its informal air and spreading lines can be made home-like and inviting by growing flowers in window boxes and plantups such as the architects often provide.

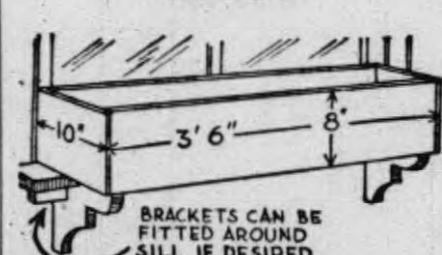

excellent, as are the tall nasturtiums, the giant morning glories. Dwarf petunias, marigolds, ageratum, calliopsis, annual pinks, lobelia, dwarf morning glories, phlox, and zinnias can be grown.

Boxes which spend most of the day in shade offer a special problem. If the shade is that of a building, perhaps only foliage plants can be grown, such as ferns, fancy leaved caladiums, crotons, rubber plants and other florists' subjects.

If your architect forgot this detail, it is a simple do-it-yourself job to make them and fill them with floral color during the summer, and evergreen boughs in winter.

For a standard single window, a box 3 1/2 feet long, 8 inches deep and 10 inches wide is a good size. But measure your windows and make boxes to fit. Even longer porch planters need not be deeper or wider for good results.

Think of the box as a decoration of the house; make it of a suitable size and color to match the house color or trim.

Rich soil, of the type which florists call potting soil, must be used for window boxes. Because there is so little of it to feed the flowers, it should be well fertilized. A tablespoonful of balanced plant food for each square foot of soil should be used.

For most annual flowers, at least six hours of sun a day is necessary and this requires a south exposure. The best subjects are those of dwarf or trailing habit, the latter drooping festoons of bloom from the boxes. Petunias of the balcony type are

Father
A small girl whose father is a judge would often say she was Judge Brown's daughter when someone asked her name. Her mother, thinking this might sound snobbish, told her not to make that sort of reply, but simply to say that she was Dorothy Brown.

Later someone asked her if she was Judge Brown's daughter. She replied, "Well, I thought I was, but Mother says not."

Playgrounds End Summer Session

CENTRAL

Central playground wound up its summer session on a high note last week when the youngsters attended a Detroit Tiger baseball game at Briggs Stadium on Wednesday and enjoyed a day at Kent lake Friday.

A treasure hunt Tuesday evening was a lot of fun for the Central playground children. Tom Lockwood's team found its treasure after only twenty minutes of searching. The team was composed of Dave Fehlig, Dick Schryer, Marv Solcau, Art Perry, Roger Wilhelm, Becky Lyons and George Drennan.

Placing second in the hunt was Dick Egloff's team of Brian Gilles, Sally Gilles, Eddy Solcau, Dave Schoenemann, Richard Martin, Patty Fehlig, Bill West and Judy Kisabeth. After the treasure hunt everyone was treated to ice cream.

AUBURN

As Auburn play area closed out its final week, the youngsters were treated to a Detroit Tiger ballgame and later to an ice cream party on the last day. The Auburn playground director joined with the city's other play area supervisors in thanking parents for their cooperation in holding cool-air parties and helping with the various other events during the summer.

SMITH

Thirty-one members of Smith playground watched the Detroit Tigers defeat Kansas City's Athletics on Wednesday, August 8, as the summer play session here drew to a close. Friday, the last day, the youngsters traveled to Kent lake for a final outing until next year.

CHERRY-HILL

Thursday's farewell party until next summer was highlighted by cookies and lemonade as the Cherry Hill play area members closed their 1956 season. Elizabeth Gustin played the accordion while refreshments were served. Bob Bowman played a few selections on his bugle and Janice Nagy and Carol Bosman entertained as a duet at the piano. Debby Gill ended the program with a ballet dance.

ALLEN SCHOOL

A cool-air party, treasure hunt, a trip to the Detroit Tiger baseball game Wednesday and a corn roast topped off the Allen play area summer session last week. Mrs. Juve sponsored the cool-air party Tuesday. Mrs. Price donated watermelon and corn for the youngsters to feast upon later in the week.

GREENMEADOWS

Another watermelon party, this time at Green Meadows, brought to a close the play session there last week. In addition to the watermelon treat Friday, the youngsters Tuesday enjoyed a movie about Daniel Boone.

HAMILTON

The Hamilton playground held a croquet tournament Tuesday, August 7, with five boys and the same number of girls taking part.

Since making the switch from defensive tackle to linebacker, Gil Mains of the Detroit Lions has acquired a new nickname among his mates. The "Wild Hoss" now is called the "Flying Red Hoss."

The winners of this tournament were as follows: 1st. Pat McKenna, 2nd. Mike Hively, and 3rd. Marsha Rubey. The Hamilton Playground enjoyed a fare-well party Friday, August 10, as the supervisors treated the kids to ice-cream as a good-by gift. This was in appreciation for their wonderful citizenship while on the play-area.

Livonia to Meet Beglinger In The Class A Final Playoffs

Tension will be high when Beglinger meets Livonia in the final and deciding game of the Class A playoffs. The game which was scheduled for last Friday, August 10, has now been postponed until after the state tournaments are completed, which will be about two weeks.

The Oldsmen toppled Chevy 5-2 as Street twirled a two hitter while striking out eight. Beglinger was trailing 2-0 as they went to bat in the last inning. Tiliski who had been a demon on the mound suddenly lost his charm to the league leaders and the champs crossed the plate with all five runs.

tion they stopped Evans Products 7-5 as Lowe received credit for the win. Livonia was trailing 5-2 in the sixth inning when they exploded for four big tallies to take the lead which they maintained through out the rest of the game.

Seasons Softball Sidelights . . . .

Home Run Record for Class B Softball

The Plymouth Merchants ran their winning streak to five straight with a 10-2 romp of second place Northville. Eddie Hoch went the distance allowing the visitors only four hits and striking out nine. McIntyre, Kisabeth, and Pethers were on the mound for the Northville squad. Kisabeth, a local lad, was hit in the shoulder by a line drive off the bat of Jack Dobbs and was retired from the game.

WAITING BEHIND THE PLATE is Howard Schryer who was denied of a catch when his son, Dick connected for a basehit to aid the sons in their late inning resurgence. The game, which was played at the Central playground, ended in a 16-16 tie with members of both teams enjoying a watermelon feast following the game.

YOUNG AND OLD alike celebrate after a recent father and son ball game ended in a 16-16 deadlock. The watermelon was well appreciated by all following a game which saw the sons come from behind to tie the pops in the bottom half of the last inning. The night was chilly but that didn't alter any of these Central playground appetities.

DETROIT—End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 663 yards in his rookie season with the Detroit Lions in 1955.

EVER HAPPEN to you? You drive about fifty miles on your vacation trip and suddenly think of something you forgot to do. Happily in most cases you don't have to turn back. Just stop at a convenient Public Telephone and set things right with a telephone call. And if you're going to arrive later or earlier than expected, Public Telephones make it easy for you to call ahead and tell your host. Outdoor phone booths are open 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

ACCORDING to old records, back in 1902 people were charged for the first 15 seconds of a Long Distance call, with an extra charge for each additional two seconds. Over the years the price of Long Distance calls has come down and down. After 6 P.M. or any time Sundays you can make a three-minute call clear across the country for about $2. A three-minute call that far in 1915 (when transcontinental service began) would have cost you over $20.

IF YOU OR SOMEONE you know plays a clarinet, listen to C two octaves above middle C. This is one of eight musical tones being tried out in a test in 300 homes near Chicago as a possible successor to the familiar telephone bell. The tone comes from a small loud-speaker in the phone and is interrupted about fourteen times a second to give an attention-getting but pleasant "chirp-chirp" effect. Don't call and ask for one now because the "tone ringer," as it is called, is still in the testing stage and isn't available except in the trial area.

Line Drive

by MEL OTT

HARVEY EDWARD KUENN'S quest for his third 200-hit season in four full campaigns with Detroit received a serious setback when the blond shortstop was forced to leave the line-up for 16 days after injuring his foot in Boston.

Despite this loss of opportunity to fashion hits, plus the limitation of succeeding days when he served only as a part-time player while the injury continued to hamper him, the aggressive Mr. Kuenn is as determined as ever to regain all his lost ground.

Knowing Harvey, I'd be the last one to discount his efforts. If he doesn't make the charmed 200 circle, it won't be by much. I'd guess he'll wind up with between 190 and his hoped-for 200 hits.

Exactly 190 hits is what the big, raw-boned young fellow with the crew cut and twinkling blue eyes achieved last year. But he wasn't satisfied.

Hit Mark First Season

Harvey looked to his first full year with the Tigers in 1953, when he connected safely 209 times, and to the following season, when he rapped out 201 hits, and he was determined to return to the 200 mark this year.

Energetic young Harvey was going along at a good clip, too, connecting safely 68 times by around a third of the schedule, when the bad break upset his plans. Sliding into second base at Boston last June 7, he injured his instep so severely that he still is not back to peak performance on the base paths or at shortstop.

But the painful disability failed to slow down measurably the smoking Kuenn bat. Once Harvey returned to full duty, he began hitting to all fields again and by All-Star game time, the half-way mark on the schedule, he had reached 91 hits.

Of course, this sets him behind the pace in his ambitious effort, but records of other years disclose that Harvey is a strong finisher and does better in the second half of the campaign than in the first.

Three-Way Race

Naturally, as his hit output rises, so does his batting average, and Kuenn is batting around .350 as of this writing. He's in a three-way race for the American League batting title with Charley Maxwell and Mickey Mantle, and not a few of the Tigers privately believe that Harvey will win the crown.

This 350 figure is considerably above Kuenn's best in previous campaigns in the majors, the strong right-hander having turned in .308 - .306 - .306 in his other three years, but Harvey is still learning and there's no telling how far he'll go before he reaches his peak in baseball.

In his only season in the minors, Kuenn hit 340 in 63 games with Davenport of the Three-I League. Finishing the year with Detroit, he hit .325 in 19 games.

Not Practical
"Arithmetic is a science of truth" said the professor earnestly. "Figures can't lie. For instance, if one man can build a house in 12 days, 12 men can build it in one day."
"Yes," interrupted a quick-brained student. "Then 285 would build it in one hour, 17,280 in one minute, and 1,936,800 in one second. And I don't believe they could lay one brick in that time."
While the professor was still gasping, the smart "ready reckoner" went on: "Again, if one ship can cross the Atlantic in six days, six ships can cross it in one day, so I don't believe that either; so where's the truth in arithmetic?"

The white collar class is usually the first to feel the pinch of the high cost of living; this was so in the twenties but the white collar class hasn't done much about it.

Muscle Movements and Coincidence Simplify Mind Reading, Says Prof.

There is no such thing as "mind reading."
There are people who claim to read minds—some of them make a living at it in public performances—but their skill is based usually on perception of muscle movements and other tricks, according to a Michigan State University psychology professor.
"Much of mind reading actually is muscle reading," says Professor Milton Rokeach. "Barely noticeable muscle movements account for many tricks that pass for mind reading or 'extrasensory' perception."
One of history's most outstanding muscle readers was Clever Hans, a German horse who amazed many people at the turn of the century.
Clever Hans was schooled by his owner—who believed the horse had near-human intelligence—in arithmetic, spelling, music and other subjects. The horse could tap out correct answers to questions with his hoofs.
Long and careful inspection by interested scientists finally revealed that the horse had learned to watch for small movements usually of the head, which told the horse when he had arrived at the correct answer. Even the owner had not known he made them.
In the same way, a person concentrating on a letter of the alphabet may, in spite of himself, form the letter with his lips unconsciously. The trained observer may read it easily.
A parlor trick done by skilled mind readers is to guess the location of a secretly hidden object while holding a handkerchief tied to his subject's wrist.
Told to concentrate on the hiding place, the subject literally leads the mind reader to the hiding place by imperceptible movements.
Coincidence is involved in the dreams which foretell real tragedy. Most people have dreams regularly, but the only ones talked about are those which, by coincidence, depict something which later does happen. The millions of unverified dreams are forgotten.

Stage performers who "read minds" often obtain information about their subjects through such things as simple observation, secretly made carbon copies of submitted questions and information contained in ticket requests.
"Do you believe in metempsychosis—transmigration of souls, you know?"
"I'm half inclined to credit the idea. I read the other day that there are birds in Africa with bills a yard long."
"Well?"
It started me wondering if those birds are not the spirits of departed plumbers.

Summer is Time For Automatic Heating

August as Plumbing - Heating-Cooling Month is expected to set a new high record in automatic heating installations, according to the All-Industry Plumbing and Heating Modernization Committee.
Summer is the ideal time to convert to automatic heating. By making arrangements to have the work started now, the new automatic heating system can be ready long before the snow flies.
The Committee calls attention to the many advantages of automatic heating. Controlled heat is more healthful heat. With manual firing, there are ups and downs in the heating curve. Rooms are either overheated or underheated. Automatic heating, with oil, on the other hand, provides even heating.
When teamed with a clock thermostat, automatic heating provides the ultimate in comfort in that at night-time temperatures are reduced to a comfortable level for sleeping while daytime temperatures are raised before the family is ready for breakfast.

Another advantage of heating with oil is cleanliness which makes it possible to utilize all basement space for recreation purposes.
Delivery of fuel, like the production of heat, is automatic.

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.
Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.
Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Why people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevrolet

Sales and official registration figures show that the higher priced cars are losing more and more buyers to Chevrolet. And it isn't just because a Chevrolet costs less, either!

If you buy a higher priced car instead of a Chevrolet, what do you get in return for those extra hundreds of dollars?
More room? No, because the difference in room is usually measured in fractions of inches—often in Chevrolet's favor!
Better roadability? Not with Chevrolet's welded-to-the-road stability and sure-footed cornering ability. Better performance? Well, Tom McCahill, automotive expert for Mechanix Illustrated, called Chevrolet "the greatest performance buy ever offered at any time in America!"

Smarter styling? A matter of opinion, of course. But Chevrolet shares Fisher Body styling with some of the most expensive cars. So it comes down to this. More and more buyers are deciding they'd rather drive a frisky, sweet-handling Chevrolet even if it didn't cost less! Wouldn't you?

Burt Boyar IN NEW YORK

CALLING ALL STARS!!! Caught Dick Haymes in over at the Ritz Tower where he's been living recently. "I'm just staying here for a little while," he said. "I'm having an apartment decorated at 86th and Park. I'm planning to make New York my headquarters. It's a better town for me. If I were making pictures all the time California'd be better, but there's more doing here for me. I'm really lovin' New York. I'm catching on to it. Getting to know how to live here." He explained, "I used to come in from the Coast and ball it up and think 'Gee, I couldn't stand this pace here. But, now, things have changed. Now, I do a five day week and take off for the country for week-ends. I find myself leading a very normal life here, and that's not normal."

"What's doing with you professionally?" we asked. "My album 'Rain or Shine' is in its third order, which is good." We asked just what that meant, how many records it indicated were sold. "That's hard to say," he explained, "it only means that the dealers have ordered it for the third time."

"Do people bother you much with questions about Rita Hayworth?"

Haymes was silent for a minute and then murmured, like the torch was lighting up again, "Not any more." Haymes answered our question about whether the autograph hounds are still after him, now that he hasn't been too active for a while. "Yeah," he said, "they're relentless. Y'know, it's a funny thing about them. I have never yet in my life ever stopped to sign autographs for a group of them without one of them slipping me a blank check instead of the usual pad or paper. It's never failed. And every single one of them figures it's a brand new gag that he originated." He paused. "I guess they want to get me a laugh—or some recognition."

"What do you do when they hand you the check?"

"What do I do?" he asked. "What would YOU do? I sign it, 'Eddie Fisher'."

BARBARA BRITTON SAID, "Wait a minute till I turn off the children." She left the phone and picked it up in another room so that Chris, aged four and a half and Teddy, nine, could watch Superman without being drowned out by our conversation.

Miss Britton is otherwise known as Mrs. Eugene J. Czukor. Dr. Czukor practices psychosomatic medicine in California but came up here for a visit with Barbara and brought the children with him. He decided to stay for the summer after being in a serious crash en-route from the airport to his wife last Christmas.

Barbara's is a face you've seen many times on TV busily promoting Revlon's products. She's also appeared on many other TV shows as an actress, including Mr. & Mrs. North in which she appropriately played the latter.

"Do you have problems bringing up children and being a famous face at the same time?"

"Not a bit," was the answer. "The children just accept it all as part of the way we live, and talking to them you'd think that everyone was in television." She thought for a moment, "of course, it has a few problems. You know, you hope extra hard that your kids behave themselves in public because you know that when an actress' children misbehave someone's sure to stick her nose in the air and say, 'Well, an actress' children! It figures!"

"But, they're wonderful and it works out fine. Teddy isn't as impressed as Chris. He takes it in stride. Sometimes, however, in an elevator Chris will turn to someone else and say, 'My mommy is Barbara Britton,' but that's about as tough as it ever gets."

"Speaking of Chris," she said, "It's very funny, really. Revlon told me that they thought they'd use her on television as a model when they came out with their Satin Set for Children. So, I told Chris about it and she was all excited. Then they called me and told me it was impossible because children under seven could not appear on live TV. So, I had to break the bad news to her. She was a little upset and asked, 'But you used to take me to the studio.' I assured her that I still will. That satisfied her, so now my little four and a half-year-old daughter explains to her friends. 'The only way I could do it if it was on film.'"

We asked what's it's like to do commercials as compared to regular roles on dramatic shows. "It's a real acting problem," said Barbara. "You see, you've got to remember that a dramatic show is written like it's real life. But a commercial is very often sort of stilted and can sound like it was part of a magazine ad. You've got to say a lot of things that aren't too natural and make them come out like they're the most natural thing in the world. I'm very lucky, though, 'cause I'm really sold on Revlon's products, so it's easy for me. I mean what I say."

Barbara Britton's fan mail includes her share of the usual proposals, requests for dealers who stock Revlon, etc. "I get beauty hints, too," she said, "and then there was one from a woman who bawled me out something terrible and accused me of swiping Wendy Barrie's job, which, as you know, wasn't the case at all. (It wasn't.) But, the nicest was from someone who wrote that they look forward to the commercials. How's that for a switch?"

ENEMY OF CORROSION
Special plastic now replaces metal in the dip tube of automatic gas water heaters. This is the pipe that conducts cold water into the heater. By preventing the electrolytic action caused by dissimilar metals, the plastic dip tube eliminates a previous source of corrosion, lengthens heater life and bars discoloration, taste or odor which otherwise might be in the water.

How to Increase Child's Reading

Reading material for children must be made more attractive to the eye if it is to compete with television and other forms of communication, the Michigan Optometric Association said today.

"Two qualities stand out in reading material that is popular with children," the Association said. One is large type, and the other is effective use of color.

"Concentration is difficult for the grade school child. The smaller the child the larger the type needed. Color has far more appeal to a young child than to an adult."

The Association said that a revolution is taking place in textbook publishing as a result of the competition of television, films and other visual forms of communication and a better understanding of visual requirements.

GAS... Helps A Community Grow!

Natural Gas service helps community expansion by attracting industrial firms. The location of new industry is often dependent upon the availability of Natural Gas for industrial processing. Therefore, the community with Natural Gas service is an attractive one to industry.

As industry grows, there are bigger payrolls, more jobs and more homeowners. Everyone benefits from this community expansion.

There are many reasons why industries prefer Natural Gas service. It is delivered through well-built mains—underground—safe, silent and out of sight. It is the perfect fuel—speedy, clean and easily controlled. These same factors make it a perfect fuel for the home too.

Favorite Recipes

From
Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Harold Shirey starts preparations for a favorite casserole dish. Looking on are Robert, 8, 12-year-old Gay and Virginia, 15.

Try This Recipe for Quick, Economical Dish

School's out and Mrs. Harold Shirey of 605 Ann Arbor road, girls' swimming instructor at the high school, finds herself busily engaged in the family summer schedule.

For a speedy meal which she can wisk together without interruption in activities, a casserole fills the bill—and more particularly, "American Chop Suey" which stands high on the list of family favorites. Served with a salad and rolls, it makes a quick and economical dinner.

Here's her version of this popular dish:

- American Chop Suey
- 1/2 of 8 or 9 oz. package noodles
  - 2 1/2 cups tomatoes, stewed or canned
  - 1/4 pound, grated mild cheese
  - 1/2 cup salad oil
  - 1/2 cup celery finely-cut
  - 1/2 cup finely-chopped onion
  - 1/4 cup finely-chopped green pepper
  - 3/4 pound ground beef
  - 1 to 2 tablespoons soy sauce
  - 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
  - 1 tablespoon salt

- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Cook, drain and rinse the noodles; return to cooking kettle. Add tomatoes and grated cheese. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Heat fat in heavy skillet; add onion, celery and green pepper. Simmer over low heat until soft and lightly browned.
- Add meat and continue cooking until it is browned. Add seasonings and combine with noodle mixture.

Miss Lori Jean Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson of Virginia avenue was guest of honor at a birthday party at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ellwood of Evergreen avenue. Lori was 3 years old on August 4.

Ten-Year-Olds Conducting

A unique nursery school is marking its second year of operation in Plymouth this summer. Two enterprising 10-year-old Scouts, Sally Phillips of 334 Evergreen and Barbara Diekman, 265

Evergreen, hit upon the idea last year of starting a nursery school for neighborhood youngsters as their hobby project. Enthusiastically received by mothers and children alike, the school caught on and now boasts 11 pupils, ages 2 to 5, from the area of Evergreen between Penniman and Blanche. The Scouts personally escort their charges to and from the school located at the Diekman home, giving them lessons on safety as they cross the street. The youngsters are taught poems, songs and cooperation in games during the daily sessions from 3 to 5 p.m.

Miss Barthel to Give Concert in Colorado

Margaret Barthel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barthel of Halstead Road, has been granted the honor of presenting the Artist concert at the national conference of Delta Omicron, national professional music fraternity.

The conference is being held August 14-17, at Troutdale-in-the-Pines, Evergreen, Colorado.

Miss Barthel, a former Detroit pianist now living in Minneapolis, was charter member of Delta Theta chapter of Delta Omicron at Wayne university. She has won many awards, climaxing her successes by winning the Naumburg award, one of the highest musical prizes offered in this country.

Dr. Marie Marti of Detroit, national president of Delta Omicron, will preside at the conference.

Plans for the summer program are started in May, the Scouts working out their schedule with the mothers and setting the opening date, usually the latter part of June.

Offered reimbursement for their unique service, the Scouts' answer is always the same, "we just want to do it on our own... as a hobby and past-time." The neighborhood reaps the benefits from the project, a friendlier atmosphere and better acquainted children.

A truly modern child complains because Santa's operations at the chimney top interfere with television reception.

YES, DRYCLEANING CLEANS COTTONS THOROUGHLY!

Many persons ask, "Does dry-cleaning really clean cottons?" The answer is, "Cotton fabrics respond beautifully to drycleaning." Modern equipment, scientific methods of cleaning, result in bright, clear, clean cottons.

Nancy Reveals Secret Of Time Management

No, Nancy's not a mythical person. A Wayne County Home Demonstration agent tells us about Nancy who is the mother of three young children. And she still manages free time.

You ask how Nancy manages to make every curtain in her new home, also cushions for the living room and porch. You wonder when she found time to make professional looking slipcovers. If you live in her community you notice her activity in parent-teacher meetings, her church and the library.

Nancy reads a great deal. She is a dynamic person but very calm and gentle. She makes an ideal home for her husband and three children.

WHAT'S HER SECRET?

On inquiring, Nancy tells us her secret of time management is quantity cookery. She actually cooks only one day a week because she cooks in quantities and stores the cooked food in the freezer. The other days are mostly free from the kitchen except the short time needed for heating the meals she removes from the freezer.

"I never cook just one chicken at a time," she says. "I usually roast three and stew three. That takes care of the poultry for my menus for several weeks. It saves washing so many pots and pans and it takes just about as much fuel to roast one chicken as three. I stew the other three chickens in one pot."

HOMEMADE BREAD AND PASTRY, TOO!

While the chickens are cooking Nancy starts preparing for making rolls and pies. She makes up a basic roll recipe. From this she makes many different rolls, parkerhouse, cloverleaf, and butter horns. To some of the dough she adds sugar and spices for coffee cake and cinnamon rolls.

Next Nancy makes up a quantity of pastry and rolls, many die shells to be baked ready for fillings. Then she makes several fruit pies. Often she makes a large basic cake recipe for sheet cakes and layer cakes. Finally, she adds spice and a bit of applesauce to some of the batter for applesauce cakes.

You remember, don't you, that chickens have been roasting in the oven while she worked. Out come the chickens and in go the pastry shells, pies and cakes! Meantime the stewed chickens are ready to have the meat removed from the bones.

FEWER DISHES LATER

While all this good food is cooling she washes the utensils and cleans up the kitchen. Now she is ready to package and label the food for her freezer. She uses regular freezer paper, and adds gummed labels showing the item, amount and date. Yes, you guessed it! She serves one of the roasted chickens this same day. With all of this food in her freezer she certainly will have free time for her husband and children. Her secret is quantity cookery on ONE day of the week. Why don't you buy some free time by doing quantity cookery?

YOUNG ACCESSORIES

The pre-teen-age girl, who is quickly developing her style sense, adores having pretty accessories to wear with her frocks. She likes beanie hats that fit securely atop her locks and drawstring bags that safely hold her few belongings. The crocheted set on the left, in white with pink picot trim circling round and round, should catch her eye. The other beanie, with a pigtail attached to the center of the crown, will please her girlish heart. As a further attraction, these beanies and drawstring bag are made of sturdy cotton, star-studded with metallic strands. You may obtain the instructions for crocheting the BEANIES AND BAG by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and asking for Leaflet No. S-652.

It's Brushing Not Toothpaste That Counts!

For years beauty and health experts have stressed the need for frequent brushing to maintain healthy teeth and a beautiful smile.

Today, because of the great emphasis given new types of dentifrices in advertising and promotion, some of us may be apt to think that we can get by with less brushing. Not so!

We won't question the value of our modern toothpastes and powders, but dental authorities maintain that no dentifrice is so good that it eliminates the need for brushing at least twice a day.

Dentists will tell you that it is the act of brushing, and not a quality within a toothpaste, that prevents decay.

So, with this in mind, let's brush up on the proper steps to follow in brushing the teeth:

1. First brush the chewing surfaces of the upper and lower teeth.
2. Then brush the inside surfaces of the upper and lower back teeth.
3. Next brush the inside surfaces of the upper front teeth.
4. Now brush the inside surfaces of the lower front teeth.
5. Move the brush to the outside surfaces of the upper and lower back teeth, brushing vigorously.
6. Finally, brush the outside surfaces of the upper and lower front teeth.

Allow at least three minutes for the brushing job, experts say, brushing the lower teeth up and the upper teeth down.

And, most important, always be sure that your toothbrush is clean and has firm, undamaged bristles.

A final reminder: Regular and proper brushing is the best preventive against tooth decay and the finest insurance for an attractive and healthy smile.

Try Eggplant Stackups For Menu Variation

EGGPLANT

12 1/2 inch slices of eggplant peeled

- Salt
- 1 beaten egg
- 1 tablespoon milk
- Fine cracker crumbs
- Butter
- 6 slices American cheese
- 6 slices peeled tomato

Sprinkle eggplant slices with salt. Combine egg and milk. Dip eggplant slices in mixture, roll in crumbs and fry in butter. Cut cheese slices in half. Arrange half of the eggplant slices on a baking sheet. Top each with a slice of tomato and cover with 1/2 slice of cheese. Toothpick together. Add another eggplant slice to each and cover with half slice of cheese. Bake in an oven 350 degrees about 10 to 15 minutes, or until cheese melts. Serve immediately.

Anyone can write a book. The trick is getting someone to read the darn thing, and pay for it.

A Punch Party

Some like it sweet, some like it tart... so when you're planning your next Punch Party, why not serve two kinds of punch. Have a bowl of Tart Pink Punch at one end of the table and Spicy Minted Punch at the other.

Cookie mixes, baker's cookies and assorted tidbits from the grocers will take care of the "with" department... paper cups and plates dispose of the dish washing chore.

Select paper place mats to go under the punch bowls. They will give an elegant look to your table. Choose paper plates, cold drink cups and napkins in harmonizing shades. Fresh flowers can contrast or match the paper service.

Here are two punch recipes which go together.

Tart Pink Punch

Boil 1/2 cup sugar with 1 cup water for 3 minutes. Add 3 cups cold water, 1 6-ounce can frozen lemonade, 1 pint cranberry juice, 1 cup pineapple juice and chill. When ready to serve add 1 7-ounce bottle lemon-flavored carbonated beverage. Serve with ice cubes in paper cold drink cups. Garnish with lemon slices. Makes 2 1/4 quarts or about 18 servings.

Spicy Minted Punch

Boil 1 1/2 cups sugar with 2 cups water, 16 whole cloves, 2 2-inch sticks cinnamon for 3 minutes. Add 12 sprigs fresh mint and cool. Strain and combine with 5 cups orange juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice. Tint pale green with green food coloring, if desired. Serve with ice cubes in paper cold drink cups. Garnish with orange slices and fresh mint. Makes 2 quarts or about 15 servings.

Basic Garnishing Rules

If you enjoy making food look pretty you'll be interested in these basic garnishing rules. Garnishes should always be edible. They should complement the flavor and color of the food they are accompanying.

Garnishes should never be overhanded or allowed to crowd a platter or other serving dish. Odd numbers of garnishes are usually the most effective. Garnishes should be placed so that the food they accompany can be served easily.

Here's Tips On Cleaning Refrigerator

It will help you keep the refrigerator clean if you make extensive use of refrigerator containers, bags, and wrappings home economists point out.

They explain that when food is thus enclosed, food juices and fluids are kept from contact with the refrigerator parts, and it is simpler to wash the containers or other materials as the food is used up than to remove the same food stains from the refrigerator interior. The removable storage compartments with which some refrigerators are equipped help in the same way.

Spilled foods should be wiped up at once, both to save more effort later and to prevent food acid from affecting certain types of enamel finish.

All compartments, shelves and interior parts of a refrigerator should be thoroughly washed periodically to keep the cabinet clean and fresh. Home economists recommend using soap and warm water. You may want to add baking soda, a tablespoon or less to the quart, but don't use soda solution on rubber parts.

After each part is washed, it should be rinsed with a cloth wrung from clear water and then wiped dry.

To keep the outside of the refrigerator attractive, wash it with soap and warm water, rinse, dry and then apply kitchen wax polish.

Pick Rayon, Cotton, Blended Duds - For Coolness' Sake!

The way a fabric is made has much to do with its wearing comfort, especially in warm weather.

Clothing specialists at Michigan State university say the comfort of a shirt or blouse may depend considerably on whether the fabric is porous enough to permit air to move freely through it.

Fabrics made from fibers that don't absorb moisture, such as some of the new synthetics, need to be constructed so that air can circulate through. Otherwise, moisture on the skin will not evaporate and the wearer will be uncomfortable.

The specialists cite research which was done in Minnesota and South Dakota comparing cotton with the newer fibers for shirting. Used for the study were two cotton fabrics, one rayon, two blends of cotton and synthetic and ten of various synthetics.

The fabrics were all of medium to good quality and looked similar in general. Closer examination showed important differences in weaves.

For cotton or rayon fabric an open weave is not essential because these fabrics absorb moisture which the movement of air on the outside of the material can evaporate.

For comfort in warm weather, the all-cotton, the all-rayon and the cotton-synthetic blends, were found best, because they absorb moisture. The most porous of the 15 fabrics studied were an "open" type lengthwise rib weave and a basket weave of dacron. Four other shirting fabrics which were neither porous nor absorbent were rated low for summer comfort.

A youthful figure is something you get when you ask an older woman her age.

Timely Tips For The Lawn

Ever since fine lawns first beautified American homes, the number one nuisance has been Crabgrass—a wild country cousin of good grass.

In the early stages of growth one can hardly tell Crabgrass from other grasses. As temperatures soar, good grasses slow down, but Crabgrass gains energy from the sun, robs moisture from the soil and stretches out with Herculean vigor.

Crabgrass is very prolific. A single plant produces more seeds than even hated Dandelion or Buckhorn. With such abundant seeding, soils become polluted and these seeds keep sprouting as long as the hot summer sun shines.

Crabgrass presents a serious threat to any investment in good turf. In the coming weeks, thousands of dollars of valuable lawns will be ruined by Crabgrass invasion. Other thousands will be saved by the prompt use of modern scientific Crabgrass controls.

Newest weapon in the Crabgrass war is CLOUT—developed by Scotts Lawn Care Research. CLOUT is additional to the already popular SCUTL. Scuti is subtle. Clout is drastic. These two products give you a choice of attack against the Crabgrass menace. Which one is for you? Take a look at your lawn and quickly decide.

If your summer lawn over-run with octopus-like clumps of Crabgrass? Have the spreading tentacles smothered large sections? Do you want quick, dramatic destruction of Crabgrass? You get it with hard-hitting CLOUT newest of potent dry granular materials in the Scotts family. Good grass may temporarily brown during treatment, but will recover.

Possibly you have no Crabgrass, because you wisely prevented it earlier with SCUTL. Or maybe you have more of an infiltration than an invasion. If your lawn is good, with Crabgrass showing only here and there, SCUTL is your easy answer. It's easy on the eye, too, because you can enjoy good green grass while you stop Crabgrass. As a bonus, Scuti gives you control of grass-harming fungi, as well as obnoxious Chickweed and Speedwell.

CLOUT and SCUTL are ready to use; no mixing or fussing. Application should be made a day or two after mowing so the grass is not over a couple inches tall. The granules stick better to offensive Crabgrass if the lawn is damp from dew or sprinkling.

Application with a Scotts Spreader is just a matter of minutes—in fact about 6 minutes per 1,000 square feet or half an hour to treat an average lawn 50 x 100 feet.

Many first-year lawns are subject to severe competition from Crabgrass and other weedy grasses which develop from seeds in the soil. If good grasses are to survive and your lawn investment be saved, the competition of Crabgrass must be controlled. CLOUT is suggested. It will save turf that might otherwise be smothered with Crabgrass.

The Detroit Water Supply Department publishes excellent advice on lawns. They bring out a fact often overlooked, namely, that trees need large amounts of water and that the area under trees may need twice as much as where the soil does not have to provide moisture for both grass and trees.

Their bulletin urges folks to sprinkle their lawns either early in the day or late, when there is not nearly so much demand upon the city water supply.

Check List for New Lawns

Plan your goal (see next column) Prepare soil as far in advance as possible

Seed in late August or as early in September as possible

Unless yours is definitely a lime soil, apply Soil Improver in last cultivation

Use Double Rate Turf Builder just before seeding

Avoid pulverizing surface to a dust. Have moderately coarse aggregates from pea to grape size

Capitol Gets Facelift In Advance of Inaugural

Washington, D. C.—The exterior of the United States Capitol is undergoing a $65,000 beauty treatment. Necessary every four years for preservation and appearance, the treatment is, by custom, administered the year prior to Presidential inauguration. Thus it is completed and out of the way before construction work must begin in preparation for the Inaugural ceremonies.

Only the cast iron Dome, completed in 1863, and the historic sandstone building it surmounts receive this pre-election facelift. The Aquia Creek Virginia sandstone used in 1800 in constructing the central or original part of the Capitol, is brownish in color and crumbly with age and must be carefully preserved as well as kept matched in color the marble of the outer wings.

On top of the Dome, the 19-foot bronze Statue of Freedom will be re-calked at the base, but Freedom's controversial feathered helmet receives no refurbishing. However, the 10 lightning rods are removed, 5 at a time, for resharping of points that have been burned.

Work begins on the Dome by chipping off old paint with hammers. A metal primer is applied to exposed metal to prevent rust, then a first coat, and finally a second or finishing coat. Off-white paint is used to show up as warm gray against the daytime sun and still be dazzling white under floodlights at night. Approximately 2,000 gallons of paint are required for the entire job.

The contractors are given 150 days to complete the work and normally keep 20 to 30 workmen on the job. Painters use bo'n chairs, and never to the knowledge of Carl Fogle, Assistant Superintendent of Engineering for the Capitol, has there been a serious accident during one of these exterior repainting jobs.

And so the "great building on the Hill"—the world symbol of American democracy—is painted and spruced for grandeur and beauty in its proudest welcome to another four years of history-in-the-making.

Bar Brightens Rec Room

Recreation room parties can be lots more fun with a semi-circular snack bar. American Builder advises hiring a carpenter or building contractor to build it, but if a home handyman wants to tackle the job himself, he should get professional advice from his building materials dealer. The bar is basically a simple framework (left) covered with untempered hardboard. Hardboard comes in large flexible sheets which can be bent to fit the curve of the bar, then decorated with thin strips of molding. The bar has a hard, glazed plastic top. A steel column was left in place and put to use as a support for bric-a-brac shelves.

August is Bathroom Modernizing Month

A cold war is being fought every morning in front of thousands of bathroom doors.

If you have a single-bathroom house with a two-bathroom family, August is the time to do something about it.

August is Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Month. The All-Industry Plumbing and Heating Modernization Committee has designated this special emphasis period to call attention to the ease with which an additional bathroom can be installed and the convenience in making improvements in heating equipment and installing air conditioning.

Families have a habit of outgrowing homes. This is particularly true of the one-bathroom home. As families expand, and as children become older, the disadvantages of the single-bathroom standard become, acutely apparent, particularly during the morning and evening rush hours.

Since most families are reluctant to tear up tasks and change neighborhoods, modernization is the answer. Sometimes a hallway can be utilized for an extra bathroom. Many additional bathrooms have been made out of large clothes closets and out of corners of large bedrooms.

To aid householders in their plans for additional bathrooms, contractors are offering free home surveys during August.

Citizens, Take Heed

One good-sized Indiana town recently lost its chance for thriving prosperity because of its shabby, unpainted appearance and apparent lack of progress. In turning thumbs down on the town as a site for a multi-million dollar assembly plant employing 3,500, an automotive official-scout said that one of his company's reasons for rejection was that many of the town's properties had not been painted in 25 years—a scorching commentary on the town's civic pride.

Explains Social Security Changes

Harry Batluck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security District Office, explained today the important new social security amendments signed into law by the president early this month.

The amendments contain the following major provisions:

1. Beginning November 1956, retired women workers, the wives of men receiving old-age insurance payments and the widows of insured workers can start getting monthly benefits at age 62.
2. The dependent mother of an insured worker who dies leaving no spouse or child eligible for benefits may also receive payments at age 62 as of November 1956.
3. The above payments will be at reduced rates.
4. Disabled workers, age 50 and over, who meet the disability freeze requirements may receive benefits beginning July 1957. Application for benefits cannot be accepted before October 1, 1956.
5. Children 18 or over who were disabled before they were age 18 may receive payments effective January 1957.
6. Social Security coverage is extended to self-employed lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, osteopaths and optometrists for taxable years that end after 1955. Doctors of Medicine are now the only self-employed people who as a group are not covered by Social Security.
7. Beginning January 1957 the tax rate will be increased 3/4 of 1 per cent for the employer and the employee. Each one will pay 2 1/4 percent on earnings up to $4,200.00.
8. Beginning January 1957 the tax rate for self-employed persons will be increased by 3/4 of 1 percent or a total of 3 1/2 percent.

With her are Susan Campbell, Pat Clixby and Marjorie Redde man. Approximately 15 girls and boys mowed the grass and trimmed around stones and fences of the cemetery on Tuesday and Wednesday.

HEALTH & BEAUTY

Do you know your ideal weight? The desirable weight for different builds can be determined to a large extent by height. To determine stature, consider the size of your hands. Women who wear gloves smaller than size six are generally of small frame. Gloves larger than size seven mark the large frame. In between, ranging, from sizes six to seven, will be of medium frame.

Basal metabolism tests on individuals at different ages, show that the body just to keep alive from age thirty, needs daily about ten calories per pound of ideal body weight. Under thirty years of age, the need is slightly greater—about twelve calories per pound.

If you feel you would like to do something to improve your figure, it is well to know that exercise molds and beautifies the body. While you must watch your diet in order to control the pounds, it is exercise that helps to whittle down inches or build up a curve.

If you are going to start a regular set of exercises, to start allow yourself about ten minutes a day for exercising. It is not important whether you do it in the morning or evening, just so long as you do it every day without fail. You should wait until at least an hour and a half after eating before you exercise. Taken too soon before going to bed may keep you from sleeping.

If you are interested in sports—tennis, golf, skating, archery, swimming—find some time for these activities. This is a wonderful way to stay young and graceful—and slender.

Sports may not be your dish. However, almost everyone enjoys a walk—even if it is just a couple of turns around the block. Working in your garden is a good way to keep trim and fit. Fresh air and sun are good for the whole general body tone—and body tone is important if you want to stay young-looking.

If you work hard in an office all day long and come home beat, you will find that a round of mild exercise or a brisk walk will make you feel much less worn. Don't get into the habit of coming home from work—falling into a comfortable chair, getting up only to go to the dinner table to eat a large meal and then to bed. If you work at a desk all day, this kind of "resting" is the worst possible thing you could do.

Labor Day Stamp Due

G.I. Bill Winds Up Big Success

The G. I. Bill of Rights, set up for veterans of World War II on June 22, 1944, has expired. During the twelve years of its existence, nearly 8,000,000 ex-servicemen attended school and college, took on-the-job training or worked on farms.

While the whole program cost the Government a total of $14,000,000,000, it is agreed that the project was an outstanding success. A total of 2,200,000 veterans took advantage of the G. I. bill to go to college or graduate school, with up to $500 in tuition fees, and subsistence grants ranging from $75 to $110 a month from the Government.

While there were considerable misgivings about the wisdom of the program at first, educators soon found that the G. I.'s who took advantage of the opportunity to further their education were characterized by maturity and strong motivation. Contrary to expectations, few veteran students gave up before completing their educational objectives, and thousands went on to graduate studies.

In its early years, some unscrupulous promoters made financial killings by organizing phony trade schools or other institutes to get a share of the free tuition funds. Some G. I.'s in these schools spent Government money on such things as ballroom dancing, toying with photography or taking up horseback riding. But the Government cracked down in 1948 and the Veterans Administration tightened up its requirements.

While the G. I. Bill for World War II has come to an end, the Korean veterans, 350,000 strong, are on the nation's campuses and in the classrooms. While this is not a large number, in comparison with the 8,000,000 World War II veterans who took advantage of the opportunities offered by the program, they are being made welcome by educators, who have been impressed with the success, the seriousness and the deeper sense of values demonstrated by their predecessors.

Enough Money For Straits Bridge

Insured loss caused by Michigan's 196,812 traffic accidents in 1955 would have built the Mackinac Straits Bridge, with two millions to spare.

Or it could have provided the most modern, four-lane, divided, limited-access highway from Detroit to Bay City, or from Lansing to Muskegon.

Just the increase in loss in 1955 over that of 1954 would have paid the past year's operating cost of the Michigan State Police.

These comparisons are based on a computation by the Michigan Insurance Information Service which estimates 1955 automobile accident losses in Michigan at $101,734,000, an increase of $7,306,000 over those of 1954.

The figures represent application of average paid losses of the Michigan casualty insurance companies, in each category of automobile insurance coverage, to the totals of each type of accident to which various combinations of the coverages apply. The total, therefore, is a close approximation of actual insurance losses paid, in contrast to National Safety Council figures which estimate all aspects of economic loss, whether or not insured. The insured losses very largely determine automobile insurance rates.

The increase in Michigan losses in 1955 resulted primarily from 11,278 more accidents.

Since the latter part of 1955, however, loss averages also have risen steadily in every category: Bodily injury, property damage, collision, medical payment and comprehensive coverage. Only comprehensive is not a factor in traffic accident cost computations. This is vehicle loss occasioned by damage other than collision or upset.

The 196,812 accidents reported to state police in 1955 included 1,730 in which 2,004 persons died, and 41,191 in which 62,234 were injured.

In 1954, accidents totalled 185,534, with 1,542 causing death to 1,793 persons, and 37,879 bringing injury to 56,444. There is a moral to all these figures. It should be evident.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

What's Your Attitude on Tickets?

HOW TO MAKE PEOPLE AWARE that their support is vital in combating traffic deaths was the key question posed to 500 delegates from all parts of the state at the Governor's Safety Conference held at Michigan State University.

Reaching to the core of the problem, Schuyler Marshall, former publisher of the Clinton County Republican News and an authority on traffic safety, told the conference, "Until people stop feeling sorry for those receiving tickets and realize that every moving violation can cause an accident, no program can be fully effective."

Stressing the importance of "public attitude," Governor Williams, whose views agree with Marshall, proposed a goal: "Every Michigan community shall have its own safety council; 50% of these to be organized by Labor Day—the balance by year's end."

The all-day session gave delegates from rural and metropolitan areas the opportunity to exchange safety ideas. They heard General George C. Stewart, general manager of the National Safety Council, and other experts discuss means to combat traffic accidents.

Again and again the most important point stressed was public support—"without which," said General Stewart, "there can be no success for any safety program."

Resolutions supporting compulsory inspection and mandatory insurance laws were adopted by a majority of the delegates as other means to insure highway safety. They proposed that some consideration should be given to the "good" driver through lowered insurance rates.

But all agreed that the local resident is the only one who can affect a final solution to the problem.

"EXCELLENT CO-OPERATION from Michigan employers marks the first six months of activities for the infant Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC), in the opinion of director John G. Feild.

"We credit many of our accomplishments to the employers themselves," Feild says. "Their response is very gratifying."

The FEPC was born under a menacing cloud. One of the longest legislative battles in Michigan's history was fought before the commission was finally established in the spring of 1955. Legislators approving FEPC said it would eliminate discrimination against minority and religious groups. Opposing lawmakers said the commission could accomplish nothing.

Considering the first period of operation, Feild is pleased with the accomplishments during the first six months. But he believes there is still much to be done.

Less than 10 per cent of the 97 complaints processed by the commission have come from the outstate area Feild reports. "We hope that in outstate areas our most effective weapon against discrimination will be education of our society."

INCREASED FEES FOR HUNTING AND FISHING licenses is the current aim of the Michigan Department of Conservation. Asking increases for most licenses, the commission contends that since 1947 when cost of resident licenses was last raised, costs of operation have skyrocketed.

In the words of the commission, the situation is "critical."

Increases asked include a raise from $1.50 to $2 for resident fishing licenses; from $1 to $3 for a trout stamp; from $2 to $3 for small game; and from $3.50 to $5 for deer licenses.

If the program were adopted the commission anticipates an additional $2,762,000 in new revenue.

Explaining the sharp increase in the cost of a trout stamp, commission spokesmen explain that the trout fisherman has never financed his full share of the cost of trout management. If the proposed increase to $3 is approved, the trout fisherman will pay for the actual program cost.

Largest increase asked in resident license costs is the boost for camp permits—from $3.50 to $10. However, spokesmen point out, this particular raise will only increase revenue by approximately $6,500 because of the limited number issued.

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"What do you think of Rock 'n Roll and the guy who is noted for the stuff—Elvis Presley? Do most of the kids like it?"

EARLENE PEARSON, 43229 Shearer drive: "I love it. I've danced to it at school dances. I have heard Elvis Presley on records but I don't know if I like his singing or not. Most of my friends like Rock 'n Roll."

MARGARET HOLLAND, 311 Ross: "Oh, it's okay, but I don't like it too well. If it's played slow, I like it a little better. As for Elvis Presley, I don't like him or his style. I guess most kids like the music though."

Earlene Margaret Mary Tess Diane

MARY TESS NEWINGHAM, 402 Arthur: "I usually like it except the style in which some play it. Elvis Presley's style I don't like at all. I prefer the Gaylords. Some kids like Rock 'n Roll and some don't."

DIANE McGHEE, 11687 Francis: "I like it. It's fun to dance to as long as you don't get carried away like some kids do. Elvis Presley? I like the songs he sings but his singing makes me sick. I don't think Rock 'n Roll will last—it's just a fad."

Religion would have more converts if it didn't interfere with the way some people want to live.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Mrs. Clarence J. Fortescue, South Norfolk, Va: I remember when as a little girl my grandfather used to drive to church in a buggy pulled by old "Prince" the horse. I used to sit at the foot of the buggy on a little stool and every once in a while the horse would switch his tail in my face.

My grandmother had a four poster bed with a feather mattress and you had to climb steps to get up into it. It had a big white ruffle all around and there was a trundle bed that went under it in the daytime.

My grandmother always baked me a cake on my birthday. It had about ten little thin layers and plenty of filling.

We kids used to go behind our grandfather in the field. He would pick up the big Irish potatoes to ship away and we had to pick up the little ones for home use.

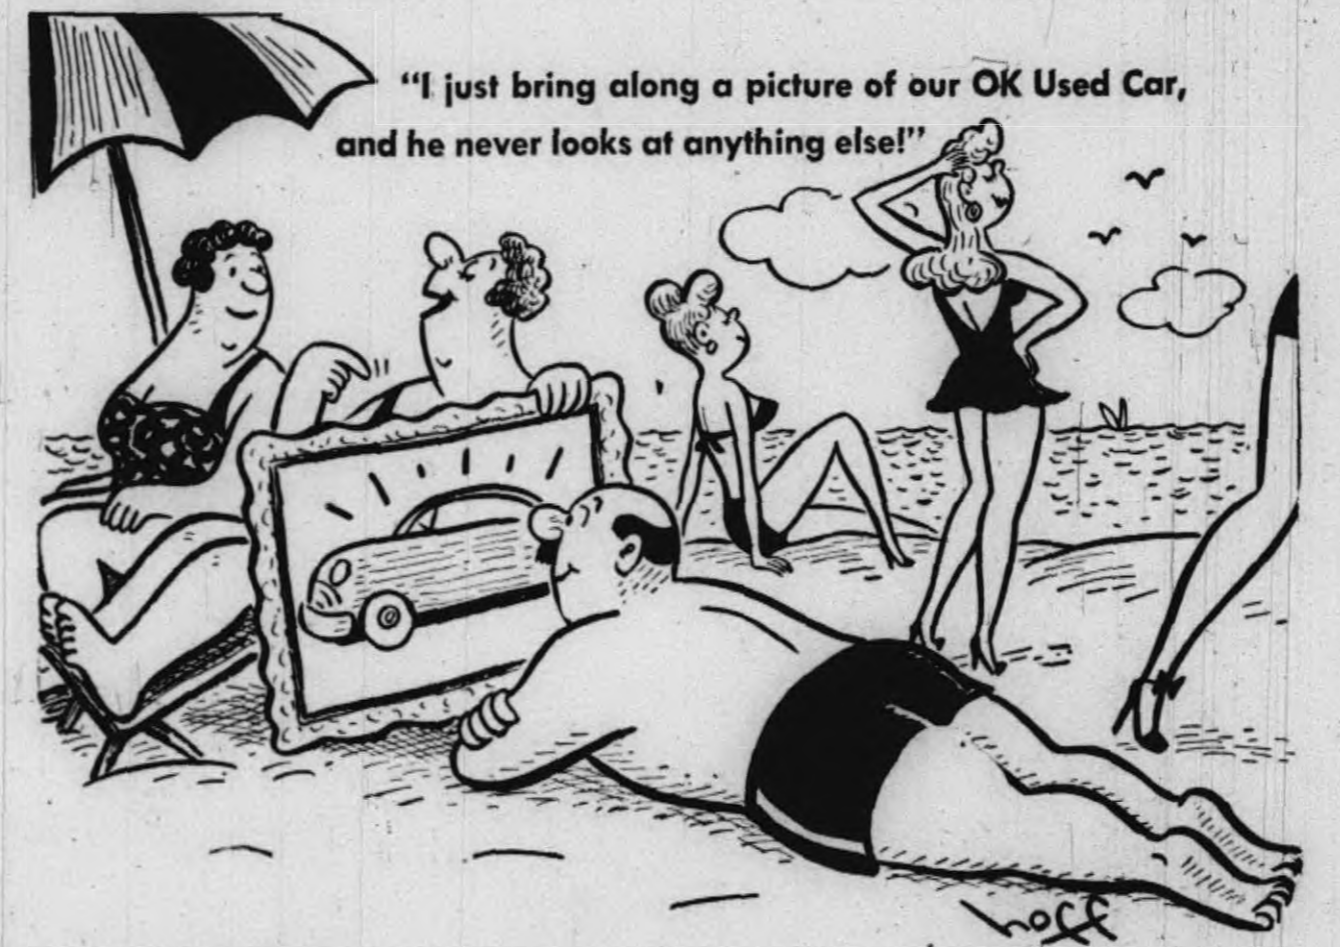

We had one job that we all hated, and that was to go out every afternoon and fill up the express wagon with the apples that fell on the ground during the day and haul them out to the hogs.

From Marion Hamilton, Frenchburg, Ky.: I can remember when there were no noisy cars or trucks on the highways, no noisy tractors on the farms and no noisy airplanes in the air.

And in the quietness we could go out onto the hills on a cold, still morning and all around us hear the wood cutter's axes and the rail splitter's wooden mauls.

GEN. ALFRED M. GRUENTHER, retiring Supreme Allied Commander in Europe: "What the allies are trying to develop (through NATO) is a land-air shield which would be strong enough to force any enemy to concentrate."

EDITORIAL, British Daily Mirror: "Harry S. Truman is one of the reasons why some of the icicles on the Kremlin have thawed."

Dale Carnegie

Competition Important

Here is what J. C. Penny, famous chain-store executive, considers one of the most important factors in business life—and, I add, in any life: Competition.

Mr. Penny believes that one isolated merchandising shop will not do as much business as another which has competitors up and down the street or somewhere in the neighborhood. Strange? Not when you think it over.

CARNEGIE

Mr. Penny explains it thus: More than twice as many people will come to a neighborhood where there are two or more stores. It's up to the merchant then to get his share of the trade. That this is true must have occurred to those many merchants who establish themselves in popular merchandising centers such as are being grouped in both city and country areas all over the United States.

A merchant-manager who knows his business will then work out his own individual methods for getting his share of the business.

What is the best method? Well, every customer, man or woman, if a moment is taken to consider it, knows the answer to that. Customers go first to where they have been attracted by clear advertising and good displays. BUT, they go the second and third and fourth times to the place where they are treated courteously, and where they get value for their money. It's the second and third and fourth shopping expedition to the same store that counts, for after a fourth visit a HABIT is established.
