

Field Re-visited

Oil, Gas Still Flow From Area Wells

There were visions of big and fast money a few years ago when oil drilling rigs dotted the landscape in the Plymouth-Northville-Salem township area. But few are the people today whose dreams have come even partially true.

Although some oil drilling rigs can still be found on farmlands northwest of here, they are few compared with two years ago when over a dozen wells at a time were being drilled.

Oilmen and speculators as far away as Texas invaded the area when news of the first successful well was announced in January 1954. Representatives went from house-to-house attempting to purchase oil and gas rights on properties. Nearly all land from Plymouth's western edge through Salem, Northville and Novi townships was placed under lease.

That spring, drillers couldn't get their rigs into the thawing and muddy fields fast enough.

But what has happened to the big "oil rush" since then?

The Plymouth Mail re-visited the area last weekend and found the scene much less exciting. But although the field is not in the "bonanza" class, much of the natural gas Plymouthites use today comes from wells in the area. And perhaps some of the gasoline their cars burn is refined from oil taken from the field.

Officially, the field is called the "Northville Trenton-Black River Field." Since the first well was started back on December 1, 1953, there have been 62 drillings into the Trenton formation which lies some 4,000 feet below the surface. Of this number, 35 were "dry holes."

Strangely, the first well drilled still remains the most productive of all. Located on the Roy LeMaster farm at Napier and Seven Mile roads, the well touched off the imagination of oilmen and novice investors alike. First tests showed that it was capable of producing 5,000 barrels a day.

Today, LeMaster No. 1 averages 137 barrels a day. The Michigan Department of Conservation, which maintains strict supervision of all gas and oil production, reports that a total of 219,604 barrels have been pumped from the well up until last June 1.

W. C. Taggart, Big Rapids wildcat oilman, is responsible for the LeMaster well, along with 12 other gas and oil wells that are still considered "productive." Following his strike, Plymouth and the Mayflower hotel became the headquarters for dozens of oilmen and speculators. Ten-gallon hats became a familiar sight in Plymouth. And some Plymouthites, most of whom never before had seen an oil rig close-up, became interested as investors.

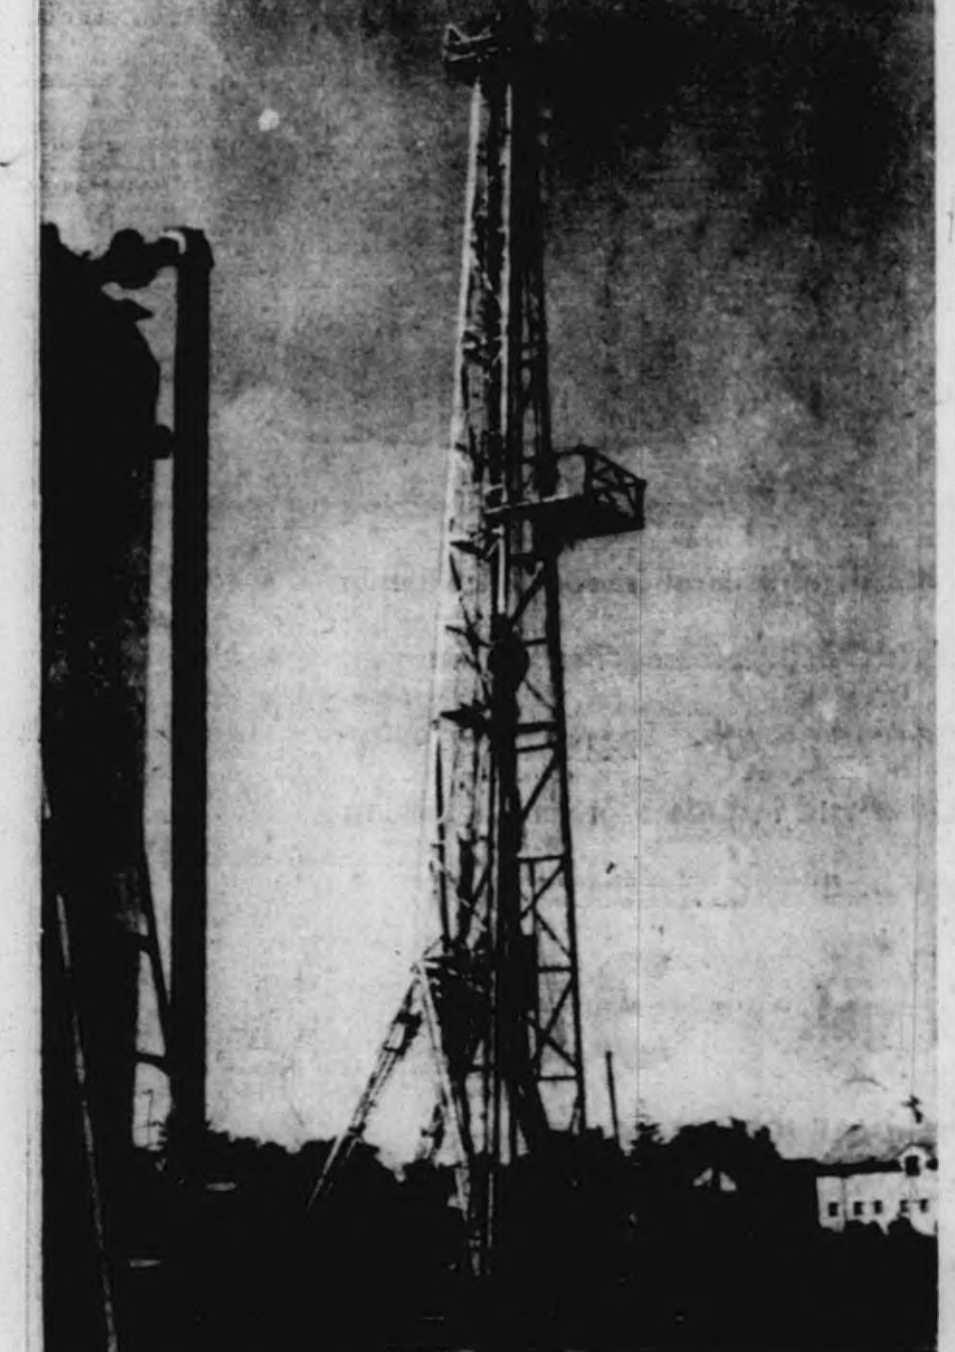

How many of the local investors made any money from their oil speculations is difficult to determine. Chances are that there were many more thousands of dollars lost than gained.

Despite the failure of the field to meet the dreams of some, it nevertheless is a producing area. Natural gas has long ago overtaken oil in importance. Consumers Power company purchases all the gas produced in the field and mixes it with gas piped in from other sources. Until July 1, there was 1,964,208,000 cubic feet of gas taken from the field.

There are 19 productive gas wells and nine productive oil wells. One gas well is reported "shut-in" or testing. Only six oil wells are actually pumping.

The Department of Conservation figures that 236,236 barrels of oil have been taken from the field since it opened until July 1.

John Q. Taxpayer himself is

ONE OF THE FEW wells being drilled today in the area is on the Wayne County Training School property along 5 Mile road. The engine on the rotary rig is powered by natural gas taken from other producing wells in the area.

getting some benefit from the discoveries. A gas well and an oil well drilled for Pure Oil are producing on Wayne County Training School property while

Police Seek Suspects In Safe Cracking

Police hope to have one or several suspects in custody this week in connection with a safe cracking last Saturday night at Roberts Coal & Supply company that netted the thieves over $1,800 in cash and checks.

The safe job was the first in many years within Plymouth's boundaries. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said that he would call the safe entry a "clean job," indicating that it was performed by someone who had experience.

There was no evidence found as to how many participated in the burglary. A high-speed electric drill, brought by the thieves, was used in drilling out the pin in the combination. The drill was left at the scene. Several punches and cold chisels taken from a hardware display in the office were also used, Chief Fisher said.

Missing from the safe was $700 in customer checks, $430 in cash and a sack ready for bank deposit that contained $657.22 worth of cash and checks. There was also an envelope containing $100 in cash missing.

Entry into the office was gained through a back door. A lock and two slide bolts, one at the top of the door and the other at the bottom, were forced open with a wrecking bar. A wheelbarrow was found on which the burglars apparently stood to reach the top of the door.

Chief Fisher said that a suspect is now being sought and should be in custody soon. The cracked safe was not discovered until Sunday morning when the office was being opened for business.

Roberts Coal & Supply, located at 639 South Mill, is open Sundays and has had several burglaries in recent years.

PRESENTING THE CITY with a check for $400 last Monday for the purchase of a ladder fire truck were members of the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents. The truck, 20 years old, formerly belonged to the Adrian department. From left, in foreground, are association President A. K. Brocklehurst, Mayor Russell

Daane, Jack Butterick of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, and Fire Chief Robert McAllister. On the truck are agents Mrs. Florence Wood, Earl Merriman, Charles Finlan, Roy Fisher and James Thornton, and City Manager Albert Glassford.

City Firemen Given Ladder Truck

A "new" ladder truck has been added to the Plymouth fire department—but it didn't cost taxpayers a cent.

Long in need of a ladder truck, the city gratefully accepted a check for $400 Monday from the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents for the purchase of a used truck.

It is a 1936 Seagrave and was formerly chasing fires for the Adrian department.

Despite its age, the truck is still a "hotrod" for its size and weight. It was built in Columbus, Ohio, and will replace a 1937 GMC truck that was built-up by city workmen from a chassis. The GMC will be relegated to the city sewer department.

A. K. Brocklehurst, president of the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents, presented the $400 check to Mayor Russell Daane in a brief ceremony Monday afternoon. The association presented $500 worth of equipment for the city's rescue truck a year ago. Money is derived from commissions from insurance premiums paid by the city.

"We've always been badly in need of ladders," Fire Chief Robert McAllister said. "A new ladder truck would cost between $17,000 and $20,000." Pointing to the 50-foot ladder, longest on the truck, the chief noted that it alone would cost $600 new.

Long ladders are needed mostly for such places as downtown buildings and the high school, but the chief plans to send the truck on every alarm, except to grass and car fires. It will be located at the city hall station.

Besides the one 50-foot ladder, there are also two ladders each of 40 foot, 30 foot, 20 foot and 12 foot. The longest ladder formerly owned by the department was a 36-foot, and had three sections.

Adrian decided to sell the truck after it purchased new aerial and pumper trucks. Looking at some of the other vital statistics, the truck engine is a Hercules 165-horsepower job, has a 565 cubic inch displacement, six cylinders with dual ignition. It came equipped with pike poles and all types of forcible entry tools.

Chief McAllister plans to mount a 150-gallon water tank and a 200 gallon-per-minute pump on the truck.

Business Observing Labor Day Monday

Plymouth's business and industry will close their doors next Monday to join the nation in the observance of Labor Day. Also closed will be the post office, banks, the city and township halls and other public agencies.

The long holiday weekend will find many Plymouthites on the highways. Odds are good that not all will return home safely. Two Labor Days ago there were two Plymouth area men fatally injured in auto accidents, a mother was drowned when she fell from a boat in Lake Erie and a Salem township girl drowned while swimming in a quarry.

National Guardsmen will join the state patrol and sheriff's departments in Michigan over the weekend to help patrol the highways.

The Plymouth Mail will be published as usual on Wednesday night next week but because of the holiday, advertisers and those with news items are being asked to submit copy today and tomorrow or early Tuesday morning.

Newburg Crash Injures Area Woman, 2 Others

A Maben road woman received serious injuries last Thursday when the car she was driving collided with another at Ann Arbor trail and Newburg roads.

Janice Lee Mitchell, 20, of 47320 Maben road, received a broken leg, broken wrist and a possible concussion, according to Livonia police.

She was driving east on Ann Arbor trail when struck by a car driven north on Newburg by Adam Horninger, Farmington. Livonia police indicated that Horninger failed to heed a stop sign.

Horninger and a companion, Harold Chapman, received internal injuries. A three-wheeler taken to Wayne County General hospital. The cars ran onto the lawn of the Newburg Methodist church.

Salem School Bells Ring Tuesday Morn

Approximately 115 youngsters are expected to enter the doors of Salem township schools Tuesday morning, according to school board estimates of enrollment for opening day.

Of the township's three schools, Salem Union will have about 50 pupils, Lapham, 25, and Salem Stone, 40.

At Salem Union will be two new teachers, Mrs. Ruth French, instructing kindergarten, first and second grades, and Mrs. Clara Mellross, teaching third and fourth. Lapham, one of the few remaining one-room schoolhouses in this area, will have Mrs. Carol Prenkert as its only instructor for the kindergarten through sixth grades taught there.

Miss M. Babcock has been announced as afternoon teacher for Salem Stone school's kindergarten through sixth-grade curriculum. Instructor for the morning session was unknown at press-time.

Corn Festival Site Changed To Penniman

More plans have been made by the Chamber of Commerce for Plymouth's Sweet Corn Festival, a new celebration coming to the city's downtown area on Saturday, September 8.

While previous plans called for the festival to be held in Kellogg park, the Chamber has moved the site a few feet to the north to Penniman avenue which runs beside the park.

Penniman, from Union street to Main street, will be blocked off from noon until 9 p.m. for the occasion. The corn roasting will be done in the front lawn of an old home located next to the Penn Theatre.

Roast corn, buttered and salted, will be available through the festival along with soft drinks. Plans also call for a small ride for kiddies, music and corn husking contests for children.

Retail merchants expect to stage special sales during the day. Sweet corn is one of the chief truck garden products in the Plymouth area. Much of the sweet corn on the Detroit market is grown in this area.

New Chamber Members Welcomed at Breakfast

New members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce gathered at the Mayflower hotel Tuesday morning for a "friendship breakfast." There were 14 new members attending and 14 former members.

This is the second annual friendship breakfast sponsored by the Chamber and its public relations committee. Russell Creel of Burroughs corporation is committee chairman.

Earl Demel, Attorney, Undergoes 2nd Operation

Earl J. Demel, Plymouth township attorney, Tuesday underwent a second operation for a gall bladder ailment at Grace hospital in Detroit. Demel, 46, was stricken earlier this month and was operated on at that time.

He lives at 13900 Beck road and has offices at 690 South Main.

2,900 See Hagen Bros.; Rash of Circuses Ends

Should any Plymouthite complain that he hasn't seen a circus in many a year, it will be his own fault.

The community's second circus in 12 days, Hagen Bros., folded up its big top after its evening performance last Saturday and moved on. On August 13, A. G. Kelley and Miller Bros. Circus played at the same spot on Mill street.

Hagen Bros., although it followed another circus so closely, had fairly good crowds at both its matinee and evening shows. Circus officials said that the afternoon show had a 75 per cent capacity audience while the evening performance was filled to 60 per cent of capacity. This would amount to about 2,900 people.

Three local organizations helped the Hagen Bros. attendance with advance ticket sales. They were the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, and Optimist club. The three made an estimated profit of $450 from the venture. The money will be used for their various civic projects.

There was considerable confusion and some wonderment among most Plymouth people about the two circuses and why they suddenly appeared in Plymouth so near each other. It can be said that there has been some rivalry between the shows. A

Sale of Bond Signals City Sewer Start

Detroit Firm is Only Bidder On $600,000 Revenue Issue

Approval of a bid on $600,000 worth of sewer bonds will make it possible for work to get started this week or early next week on the laying of nearly nine miles of sanitary sewers in Plymouth's southern section.

City commissioners approved the bid at a special meeting last Thursday night of the First of Michigan corporation, Detroit. First of Michigan headed an account with Braun,

Approves Storm Sewer Projects

Despite a few objections, Plymouth city commissioners passed resolutions Monday night declaring two storm sewer projects as a public necessity and called for the assessor to prepare an assessment roll.

The special meeting drew about a dozen property owners and representatives of the Western Electric company whose proposed plant will be served by one of the sewers.

The two projects, termed the "northwest" and "southwest" area storm sewers, will cost an estimated $200,000. There was one strong objection to each of the proposed projects, but apparently not strong enough to change the commission's mind about the necessity of storm sewers and

Approves Storm Sewer Projects

Start of the sewer brings to an end many years of dreaming and more than a year of actual planning by the city. The city's southern end, because of its lack of sanitary sewers, has always been a challenge to city councils and commissions. Most of the streets have gone unimproved because the underground facilities were never completed.

But completion of the sanitary sewer is expected to mean a rapid development of the remaining vacant fields and the paving of more streets.

Interest on the $600,000 bond issue will be 3.97 per cent. This will amount to $389,853.37, issued in denominations of $1,000, the last bond payment will be due 30 years from now.

First of Michigan offered the only bid to the city, although a representative of Stranahan & Harris of Toledo was present to offer a bid below par value in case the city didn't receive another bid.

City commissioners found that the bond market today is at its worst. Municipal and school building bonds are flooding the market and only the most attractive offers are being considered by the bond buying firms. Commissioners were forced to alter their sewer bond ordinance three weeks ago because bond buyers were not interested in several of the features.

The sanitary sewer construction contract was awarded July 2 to George A. Odien, Inc. of Detroit. Engineer Herald Hamill said that the construction should be able to start either late this week or early next week. The contractor is awaiting permits from the Wayne County Road commission and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad.

Hamill added that the sewer will be started at its "mouth." This is where it will connect with the present system at Ann Arbor trail and Mill street. Work will then progress southward along Mill street and then westward. One pumping station will be required near Ann Arbor road and Tonquish creek.

The sewer extension had its birth over a year ago when Hamill drew plans for a system that included both the southern section of the city and Plymouth township and northern extremities of Canton township. The sewer would take a natural flow through the township into the county interceptor at the western end of Newburg lake.

To include the city and townships in one plan, it was necessary to form an authority. City commissioners rejected the idea of an authority and decided to "go it alone." This meant that a pumping station was needed to take care of the lack of gravity flow across the city.

Objections from the county road commission about the pump and from some citizens about location of the sewer line resulted in drag-out negotiations and hearings.

Because the $600,000 worth of bonds will be paid off on a revenue basis, there will be no debt incurred upon the "faith and credit" of the public. Law permits municipalities to issue general obligation bonds amounting to 10 per cent of the assessed valuation. This would allow Plymouth about $1,700,000 worth. The city so far has no general obligation bonds.

Whereas revenue bonds are paid off through revenue from the facility (such as the sale of water or toll from a highway), payments on general obligation bonds come from tax revenues and usually require an increase in the millage rate.

On Sunday, August 26, about 60 relatives gathered at the Levi Pankow home on Six Mile road to help celebrate the 80th birthday of Mrs. Pauline Pankow of North Main street. All her six children, their families and other relatives were present coming from Detroit, Northville, Livonia, Mt. Clemens and Plymouth. The group enjoyed potluck dinner and Mrs. Pankow received many lovely remembrances.

HAGEN BROS. Circus crowds are shown preparing for some "fancy" tricks to the delight of the Plymouth crowds last Saturday.

Both Sides Still Squawk

Some folks are bothered by dogs and others are pestered by cats, but in the Adams and Blanche street neighborhood residents have a different problem.

The people there are overrun by starlings. Thousands of the birds light in the trees there and squawk for all they're worth.

The residents have banded together against this common enemy and have made several attempts to rout the pesky birds. But so far it's been to no avail.

Black-bodied noisy birds, starlings are somewhat tolerable in twos and threes. But when they gang up they become a major disturbance. Their caws and cries grate on nerves. The hub-bub is terrible. It's a secret weapon.

Jack Miller, 45757 Five Mile, was called upon to try to frighten away the myriad of screeching starlings. He had been known to do so in other towns. He put to work his loud speaker apparatus and played a recording of the starling distress call.

It was a formidable sight to see the thousands of starlings take flight and circle in the air in a black swarm, all wary of danger. But the distress call only scared the birds off for a short time. Miller said that by playing the distress call three nights in a row the neighborhood should be cleared.

But the starlings thought differently. They're still there despite Miller's efforts. Residents have said that other towns took matters in hand and used shot-guns to dispense with the birds permanently.

The Richard Wernette family, 387 Adams, and the John Gilles family, 399 Adams, are particularly bothered by the pests. Two suggestions they made were the use of shot-guns or simply cutting down the trees. In the meantime the starlings continue to squawk.

Irene M. Amos Sets Date for October 6

The betrothal of Irene Mary Amos to James F. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Davis of 1653 Marlowe street has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Amos of 8330 Grace avenue.

The ceremony will take place October 6.

Mrs. Leonard C. Millross

Leonard Millrosses Return From Isle Royale Honeymoon

Now residing at 48564 West Seven Mile road, Northville are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Millross who recently returned from their honeymoon at Isle Royale National park in Lake Superior.

The bride is the former Clara Mae Gaffin, daughter of Mrs. Christine Gaffin of Harrisburg, South Dakota and the late Leonard Gaffin. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Millross of 10540 Joy road, Plymouth are parents of the bridegroom.

The couple were united at a candlelight ceremony performed Friday, August 10, in the Springdale Lutheran Church of Harrisburg. The Reverend Harold Bailey, church pastor, and Reverend Orlando Lee, uncle of the bride, read the 8 o'clock rites.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Richard A. Gaffin, wore a German silk gown styled with fitted waistline, scooped neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls and skirt encircled with three tiers of ruffling. Her headpiece was a crown of sequins and pearls. An arm bouquet of long-stemmed pink roses completed the bridal ensemble.

Identically dressed were Matron of Honor Mrs. Richard Gaffin and Mrs. Robert Sundvold, cousin of the bride, as the other attendant. They wore white lace ballerina-length dresses with mint green underskirts, white lace justers and picture hats of white net. Arm bouquets of pink roses were the floral accents.

Paula and Teresa Agee, flower girls, were dressed in mint green crystalline frocks with white lace apron effect. Keith Trowbridge was the ring bearer.

The services of best man were performed by Richard Gaffin. Guests were seated by Robert Sundvold. Sidney Trowbridge and Henry Quien.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gaffin wore a pink linen dress with blue accessories while the bridegroom's mother was dressed in navy linen with white accessories. Each wore a pink rose corsage.

Mrs. Dean Whitcomb sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love Thee" preceding the rites, altar decorations were white gladioli.

Approximately 200 attended the reception in the church annex following the ceremony.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose a white and lilac dress with white accessories.

The bride graduated from Canton (S. Dakota) high school and Augustana college in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. A graduate of Plymouth high school, the bridegroom recently completed two years of service with the U. S. Army.

Thomas E. Dudleys Feted on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dudley of 8910 Sheldon road were feted recently at a family party honoring their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event was Mrs. Lee Thompson of Ann Arbor road, Mr. Dudley's sister, assisted by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Blake. On hand for the festivities were the Dudley's three children and their families, the George Handysides, Richard Stanleys and Thomas Dudleys, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley were married August 15, 1931 in Our Lady of Victory church, Northville. He is employed at the General Motors plant at Willow Run while Mrs. Dudley works at Burroughs Plymouth plant.

Nazarene Ceremony Unites Stanley Roose, Joan Skaggs

Joan Skaggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skaggs of 47815 Powell road, and Stanley V. Roose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roose of 39240 Ann Arbor trail, Livonia were united in marriage at a ceremony performed in the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, August 25. The Reverend W. O. Welton of Flint performed the wedding rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with bodice of Chantilly lace over satin styled with scalloped neckline. Extending from the waistline was a full skirt of nylon tulle fashioned with Chantilly lace overskirt. The bride's fingertip veil was secured by a crown headpiece. White roses composed her bouquet.

Eleanor Skaggs, sister of the bride and maid of honor, was gowned in a ballerina-length dress of aqua crystalette with matching picture hat and white accessories. She carried a cascade arrangement of bronze daisy chrysanthemums and bronze roses.

Bridesmaids for the nuptial ceremony were Yvonne Ocker, cousin of the bride, and Jean Polley. Their gowns were styled identically to the maid of honor's but of coral shade, and they carried similar bouquets.

A navy lace dress with white accessories and corsage of pink roses was worn by Mrs. Skaggs for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother selected a light blue lace dress with white accessories and pink rose corsage.

John Roose assisted his brother as best man. Guests were seated by Jerry Swain and Carl Klopschinski.

Raymond Williams, accompanied by Mrs. Bart Connors at the organ, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony. Gladioli, ferns and candelabra decorated the church altar for the wedding ceremony.

Following the rites, a reception for 250 guests was held in the Masonic temple. Attending from out of town were residents of Cadillac, Detroit, Royal Oak, Fl. Rock, Traverse City, Livonia, Wayne and Garden City, as well as from Angola, Indiana and San Diego, California.

For a northern Michigan honeymoon, the new Mrs. Roose changed to a cocoa-brown rayon suit with pink accessories.

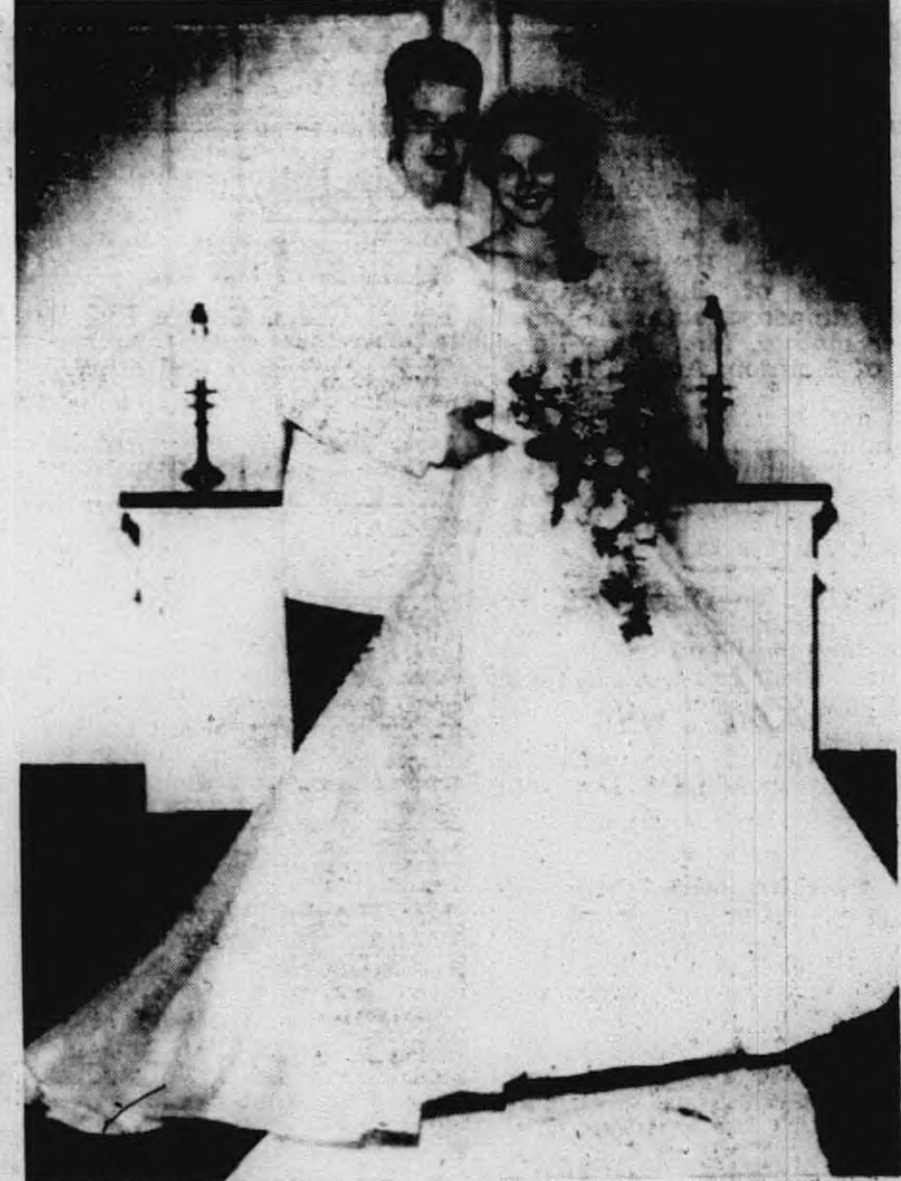

The bride, a 1933 graduate of Plymouth high school, is employed at the Plymouth branch, National Bank of Detroit. The bridegroom graduated from Bentley high school the same year and is presently enrolled as a senior at Wayne university. The couple will reside in Detroit.

Troop P-3 Holds Picnic

The fathers and sons of Troop P-3 sponsored by the Rotary Club enjoyed a real old fashioned hot-dog roast with the members of the Rotary members to a ball game, which was called because of darkness. The two opponents plan a later meeting.

The leaders all wished to express their appreciation for "the excellent and friendly co-operation in the scouting program."

Mr. and Mrs. John Hardy and daughter, Jane of Concord, California, were Wednesday afternoon callers of Mrs. George Keeping of Hartsoy and Mrs. George Trinka of Irvin street.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hollis, Jr.

Earl Hollis, Northville, Marries Wayne Girl

Candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the First Congregational Church of Wayne Saturday evening, August 18, for the marriage of Patricia Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Curtis of 4512 Williams, Wayne, and Earl Hollis, Jr., whose parents reside at 16933 Northville road in Northville.

The double-ring service was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Reverend Erwin Britton. Solo selections were "Ave Maria" and "Father, Son and Holy Ghost."

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the rites she chose a floor-length, chiffon taffeta gown with Chantilly lace inserts on bodice and skirt. The lace on the skirt dipped in back repeating the line of the chapel-length train, while the bodice was styled with long, pointed sleeves and circle neckline. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught by a seed pearl tiara. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, Stephanotis and ivy, centered with a white orchid.

Mary Ann Curtis of Perry, Florida, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in a pale yellow tissue taffeta dress with rounded neckline and bouffant skirt. A matching crown headpiece with face veiling completed the ensemble. She carried a cascade bouquet of bronze fuji mums and ivy.

Nile green gowns styled identically to the above were worn by Bridesmaids, Jane Maurer of Cleveland, Ohio, former roommate of the bride, Barbara Brennan and Pennie Robbins, both of Wayne. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow fuji mums and ivy.

Mrs. Curtis wore an aqua blue lace dress with white accessories while the bridegroom's mother was attired in pale blue chiffon with navy accessories. Each wore a corsage of tiny pink rosebuds.

The services of best man were performed by the bride's brother, Floyd Curtis of Perry, Florida. Ushers were Bob Lemmon of Northville, Bob Kirkey of Lansing and Lon Galbraith of Wayne.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Out-of-town guests came from Clinton, Birmingham, Detroit, Plymouth, Ann Arbor, Dexter, Royal Oak, Pontiac, Dearborn, Northville, Farmington, Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio and from Gross Point, Florida.

For traveling to northern Michigan, the bride chose a turquoise suit with black patent leather accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet.

The bridegroom attended Dearborn Junior college and is presently employed at Burroughs corporation. The bride attended Hillsdale college. They will make their home in Lansing where the bridegroom is enrolled at MSU for the fall term.

BE ALERT! YOUR CHILDREN ARE GOING . . .

Remember . . . School Begins Thursday, September 6th

DRIVE CAREFULLY — PLEASE!

School Time is Safe Driving Time— The Child You Save May Be Your Own!

More and more children are on the streets again—some of them going to school for the first time. Children will be crossing the streets, walking along country roads, waiting for school busses. Children are sometimes unpredictable, and it is up to drivers to stay alert and in full command of their vehicles in case an emergency arises. PLEASE drive extra carefully. Watch for children at crossings and on the streets. Give the right of way to school busses. Be alert. The children may not see you — be sure you see them!

BE SURE!

- ✓ Check Tires
- ✓ Check Brakes
- ✓ Check Horn
- ✓ Check Lights
- ✓ Wheel Alignment

If you find that your present car is not up to your standard—stop in to any of the dealers below—they may have that good used car you're looking for or will make you a good deal on your new car.

FOLLOW THESE RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

- Be doubly careful near schools or where children play. Children don't realize the danger and may take chances. That's why you, the driver, must take extra care.
- Slow down. Speed is dangerous at any time—doubly dangerous when visibility is cut by rain, fog, or darkness.
- Keep lights and windshield wipers in good condition during rainy or snowy weather. You have to see danger to avoid it.
- Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Use chains when roads are slippery.
- Obey traffic laws. Know the traffic laws wherever you travel and don't break them.
- If you drive, don't drink — if you drink, don't drive. Remember, death takes no holiday.
- Be a courteous driver. Yield right-of-way, even when it should be yours. It's better to stay alive than to be dead right.

STOP and WAIT when school busses are taking on or discharging passengers.

KEEP ALERT for children walking to school in the city or on country roads.

GIVE RIGHT-OF-WAY to children at cross-walks. Be sure they arrive safely.

Wins New Suit

Winner of a new suit last week in Davis and Lent's semi-annual sale contest was H. F. Grant of Belleville. He was given a Hart-Schaffner & Marx suit by the store owners. Also a winner in the contest was Craig Horvath, 671 South Harvey, who was awarded a boys' tent. This second prize was innovated this year. An estimated 3000 persons entered.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reeves of West Ann Arbor trail who have been on an extended trip to the East Coast returned home by way of the White Mountains and Green Mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Clark-Dowling Nuptials Read at Good Counsel

Marriage vows were spoken by Arlene Anna Dowling, daughter of Mrs. Patrick J. Dowling of South Harvey and the late Mr. Dowling, and Richard Ellsworth Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clark of Buchanan, Michigan, Saturday morning, August 25, at a 10:30 mass in Our Lady of Good Counsel church. The Reverend Father Francis Byrne officiated.

For her wedding ensemble, the bride chose a white, embroidered gown of imported organdy with scalloped, five-tiered skirt. The short-sleeved bodice, styled with scalloped neckline, buttoned down the back creating a five-pointed effect. The bride wore organdy gauntlets. White cultured pearls and earrings, gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry. She carried happiness and garnet roses and foramour. She was given in marriage by her brother, Patrick J. Dowling, Jr.

Large baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar and pews for the nuptial rites. Mrs. Felix Cyk was organist for the selection of "Ave Maria."

Kathleen Edna Dowling, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white organdy, waltz-length gown with four-tiered skirt and scalloped neckline, accented with light green cummerbund, picture hat of the same shade and white nylon gloves. She carried an arm basket of yellow mums and roses.

Gowns of identical styling in shades of pink, yellow and lavender were worn respectively by Bridesmaids Betsy Dowling, sister-in-law of the bride, Delores Spanier and Marilyn Walsh. Their accessories matched the color of their gowns. All carried arm baskets of bronze, mums and roses.

Donald Clark assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Albert Wesner, Phillip Hanks and Robert Pfeil, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a sequin-trimmed toast and pink dress of Italian silk taffeta with toast accessories and corsage of pink and lavender cymbidium orchids. A light blue, lace dress with matching jacket, pink accessories and white orchid corsage was the choice of the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Richard E. Clark

Two hundred gathered at the Warren Valley Country club for the reception following the ceremony. Out-of-state guests included those from Rochester and Pittsford, New York; Washington, D.C.; Wisconsin and Kansas. Also attending were friends and relatives from Flint, Buchanan, Plymouth, Kalamazoo and Niles. Larry Livingston provided the dinner and dancing music.

For traveling to the Upper Peninsula, the new Mrs. Clark changed to a pink suit with brown accessories and brown cymbidium orchid corsage. The couple will reside at 37157 Ann Arbor road, Livonia. A graduate of Western Michigan college, the bride will teach at Newburg school in Livonia this fall. The bridegroom will continue his studies in engineering at the University of Michigan.

Local Serviceman Home On Two Weeks Leave

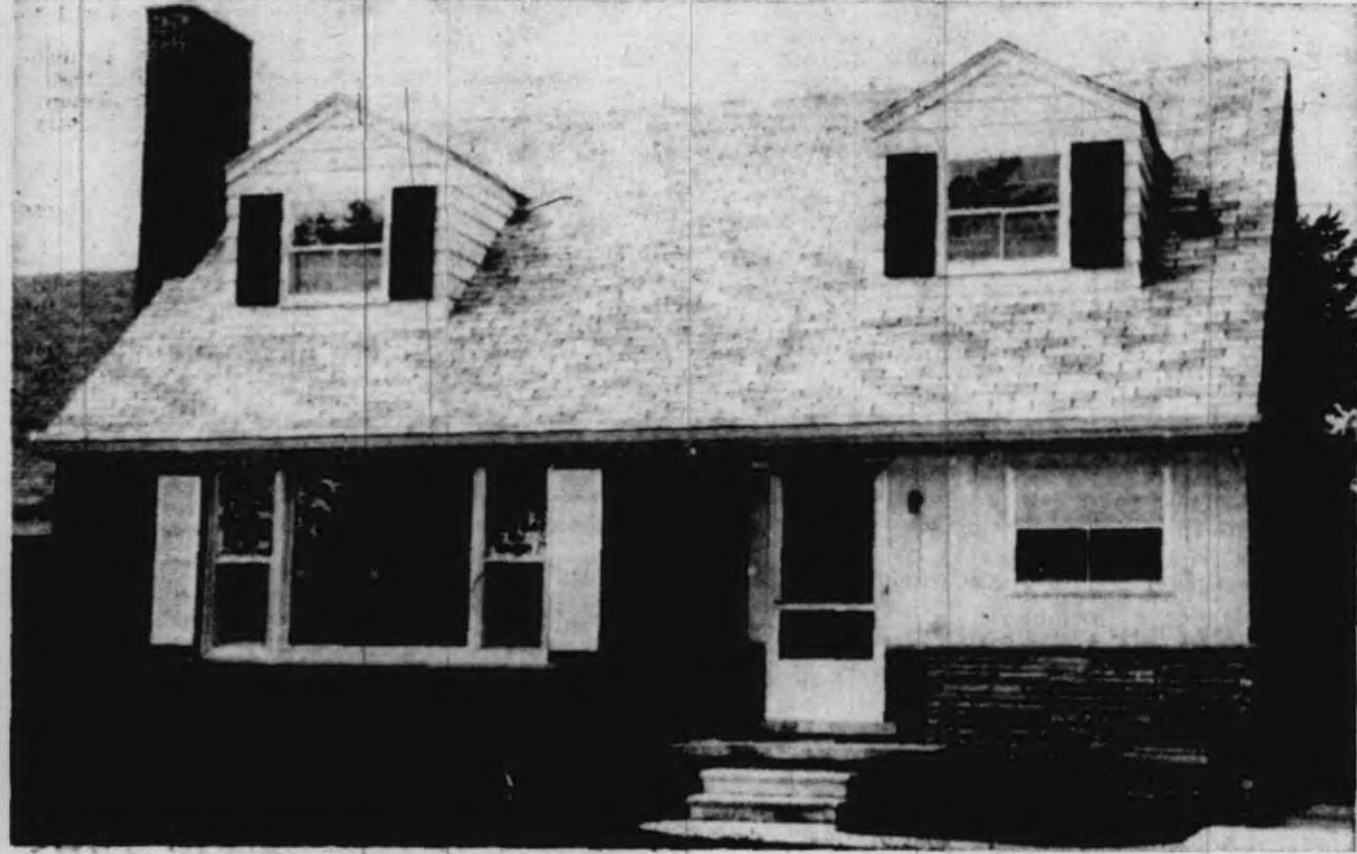

Arriving home Monday for two-weeks leave following completion of Navy boot training at Great Lakes, Illinois, was Steve Jewell, son of Kenneth Jewell of 873 North Mill.

Jewell entered service following graduation from Plymouth high school in June. He will be sent to Norman, Oklahoma, for eight weeks of specialized training at the electronics school, followed by further training at a similar school in Key West, Florida.

Gridders Prepare for Northville in Opener

Plymouth high school's grid-ers, some 100 strong, initiated their 1956 football season Monday with opening practices consisting of blocking drills and other basic fundamentals. The hopefuls under the tutelage of Mike Hoben, coach, will work out twice daily until school starts.

Hoben will have the job of shaping up a team in time for the first game on September 14 with Northville here. The Rocks' slate consists of four home games and four away.

Following the Northville tilt the locals wade into their Suburban Six schedule with the five conference contests coming on successive Friday nights, Garden City on October 26 and Ypsilanti on November 2 cap the eight-game list.

Ypsilanti, formal arch-rival of Plymouth, is a new addition to the opponents which the Rocks will face in 1956. Five years ago the Plymouth-Ypsi rivalry was cut short when the Braves were boosted to a class A team and began to play in reportedly faster company.

Since that time the local school has also made the step up to the big time and now the rivalry will be renewed this fall.

Hoben has at his side one new face to help him build a grid eleven. Bill Brown, recent Michigan State Normal graduate and football player, there, joins the ranks of Plymouth coaches to handle the duties of end coach. Brown lives nearby Plymouth.

Then, of course, there are the old standbys at the local camp, John McFall, awaiting his swimming season later in the year, will coach the line.

Roger Smithling and Frank Sullivan will head up the fortunes of the reserve and freshmen teams, respectively. Smithling plans to get his reserve hopefuls on the field today.

Nine returning lettermen shape the core of the unit presently readying itself for the coming campaign. They are: Ken Calhoun, Don Alsbro, Ed Ward, Bob Drobeck, Biff Tait, Bob Clear, Jim Grabowski, Jerry Hearl and Jerry King.

Hoben has a substantial list of candidates from which to support this group. Depth and strength should come through the ranks of last year's reserve and freshmen squads.

Despite the loss of 14 performers from last year, Hoben is optimistic with regard to his current crew. Among those who graduated are backfield yeoman workers Lindy Mills and Dick Davidson, along with George Pine and Jack Carter.

With these four and plenty of hard work from a good line, Plymouth managed a 6-2 record and third in the league in 1955. The two defeats, both in conference play, crushed Plymouth's hopes of retaining its 1954 grid championship.

Both losses, however, were respectable ones which failed to tarnish the outstanding job Hoben did in his first year. The initial loss was a slender 13-0 affair at the hands of Allen Park, while the other defeat was a 14-7 setback from Trenton, one of the better teams in Michigan last year.

OPENING FOOTBALL drills for Plymouth last Monday featured work on blocking and other basic fundamentals. Shown here two linemen, Bob Drobeck (left) and Biff Tait, prepare to bowl over blocking dummies.

Watching critically is line coach John McFall and other team members. Nine returning lettermen will shape the core of the Rocks' 1956 squad. First game is with Northville here on Friday, September 14.

Merchants Claim Second on Points

The Plymouth Merchants took sole possession of second place in the Inter-County baseball league last Sunday as Eddie Hoch blanked Saline on a neat three-hitter. The Merchants now hold a .052 point edge over Northville.

Hoch was hurling no hit ball till the lead off batter in the seventh inning singled to break his spell over the visitors. Eddie then preceded to halt the Saline nine till two were out in the ninth, when two men singled and advanced to second and third where they stayed as the last batter retired on a grounder to second.

Plymouth picked up their first run in the first inning as Johnny Schwartz, Merchants manager, singled, Bassett singled, and Doug Fairbanks doubled to drive in Plymouth's first run. The single for Schwartz was his first of the season he is now batting at a blazing .500 with one hit in two times to the plate, Johnny who was participating in his second game of the season, was fulfilling a league rule which states that all managers must take an active part in at least two contests per season.

Norm Marhley reached first on a walk in the eighth and scored all the way on a double by Jack Dobbs. Seven men shared honors in the hitting department on the Plymouth squad. The locals, who are generally pretty lucky with their squeeze play, were foiled in two attempts against the alert Saline team.

Hoch, who went the distance, got credit for the win as Chuck Drake was charged for the loss. Drake allowed the winners seven hits.

The Merchants travel to River Rouge next Sunday to play their last regular season game. A win would assure the Merchants of a first division slot on the league for the first time in three years. Lincoln Park, who had been a contender all season, has been dropped from league play due to lack of interest. The managers of league squads will meet Tuesday to discuss playoff games and set up the schedule. Plymouth met the Blue Front team from Ann Arbor last week and racked up their 2nd straight win against the highly acclaimed squad 3-2 in five innings. The game was called due to rain.

Action in the rest of the league this week found River Rouge tying Northville 5-5 at the end of regulation nine innings where the game was called because of rain. Club Supino defeated the Pressler Club although the score was unknown.

4 Represent Plymouth At State 4-H Show

Four members of the local Peppy 4-H club, directed by Mrs. Heloise Campbell, 45110 Joy road, will either attend or be represented by exhibits at the state 4-H show at Michigan State university this week.

Marge Reddeman will present a demonstration on aluminum etching during the show while three other local girls will have exhibits on display there.

They are: Susan Campbell and Ann West, whose outdoor cooking exhibit will be shown, and Rosemary Richardson, whose sewing exhibit will be displayed. Susan also will have a heifer jersey on display at the show which ends tomorrow.

Mail's Error Has Manager Jumping

Ooops! We made a boo-boo. The Mail's sports desk last week made an error which was quickly brought to our attention by the manager of the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper softball team. The Mail stated that the Chevy team was slaughtered by Chrysler Motors 13-0 in four innings. Actually the score was reversed with Chrysler on the short end of the 13-0 tilt.

Manager, Doug Flowers, stated he was not sour on the idea of being beaten, even had it been a pizza palace or a girls school, but to be beaten so badly by a team who is a competitor in the automotive field was humiliating.

The Mail sincerely hopes that the team's feet make a speedy recovery from being stepped on, mutilated, and ground into dust.

Despite the error, Flowers complimented the sports desk for its coverage of games in the past—to which we answer, with heads bowed in shame, "thank you Mr. Flowers."

Golf Test (Walsh's) Draws 32

At least 32 entrants have thus far signed up to play in the Plymouth-Northville golf tournament to be held next month at Brae-Burn, stated tourney chairman Jerry Walsh Monday. He added, "By this Thursday (today) we'll have over a hundred entrants signed."

Among the early applying contestants are former champs Tom Lock and Ralph Lorenz. Lock is a three-time winner. Lorenz was 1954 titlist and runner-up last year.

Sponsored by Plymouth and Northville merchants, the contest apparently is due to be a successful venture, Walsh indicated. Deadline for entering the tourney is midnight of Monday, September 10. The entrants are limited to those persons living within the "Plymouth" and Northville area.

The calendar of competition for the tourney, as proposed by Walsh, slates 18 holes of qualification play on Saturday, September 15. The 54 holes of medal play will be held on Sunday, September 16 (18 holes) and Sunday, September 23 (36 holes), Walsh said.

Entry forms may be obtained at the offices of The Plymouth Mail and The Northville Record and also at the McAllister Bros. grocery on Northville road.

Walsh, with the assistance of Bill Gaab and Bruce Turnbull, has been collecting various prizes from local merchants. Thus far, he said, $75 in cash and prizes have been donated. "I haven't really started to see all the merchants," Walsh said Monday.

The tourney will be played at Brae-Burn golf club, 10860 West Five Mile road. It is an 18-hole, par-63 arrangement with the front nine boasting a regulation of 35 and the back nine set at 33.

56 Enter Casey's Tourney

Named the Plymouth Amateur Golf Championship tournament, Casey Partridge's golf tourney is reported rolling along in fine fashion. Partridge, pro-manager of Plymouth Country club, said Tuesday that 56 persons have already signed up for his contest.

Partridge's tournament is scheduled to be played at Country Club on September 9, 16 and 23. It will consist of 18 holes of medal play for qualifications on Sunday, September 9, and 18 holes of title competition on both Sunday, September 16, and Sunday, September 23.

Entrants are limited to the area bounded by Middlebelt road on the east, Cherry Hill road on the south, Earhart road on the west and Eight Mile road on the north, according to a circular that was sent out this week to local golfers.

The circular further explained that three flights will be formed with regard to scores posted in the qualification round. The championship flight will be the low one-third scores, first flight will be shaped by the middle one-third qualifying scores and second flight will be the contestants who qualify within the remaining one-third.

Partridge said that the winners of each of the three flights will receive a trophy, and a $40 dollar golf bag. He said that he hopes to give prizes to all contestants, regardless of their finish. He also mentioned the possibility of a women's division if sufficient interest is shown.

The $2 entry fee will be added to the fund for prizes. No deadline has been set for entries.

Co-sponsored by Plymouth Merchants and Plymouth Country club, Partridge's tourney may be entered by calling phone 9181 and leaving your name and preferred starting time. Prizes will be displayed in Davis and Lent's window starting today.

The tournament's committee is made up of Partridge, Chuck Wolfe, Bill Morgan, Max Todd and Gordon Moe.

High Finishes Earn Seventh For Tankers

A number of the Plymouth swimmers who competed in the Michigan Recreation association meet Saturday, August 18 at Saginaw, captured high-ranking positions, thus enabling the local contingent to finish seventh in a field of 12.

Tops among the local scorers was Bill Brandell, flashy high school tanker, who broke the meet and pool record in the 200-yard freestyle race. Brandell was clocked in 2:08.5, good for first place and seven points. Plymouth totaled 84 in the contest. Brandell competed in the open age group.

Susan Dunn, in the girls' 14-and-under class, placed second in the diving competition, with 64.5 points. She took five of Plymouth's points. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dunn, 345 West Ann Arbor trail.

In the 16-and-under group, Mike Todd and Jim Archer, veterans from Plymouth high school's tank team, each captured second place finishes in their respective races. Todd's time of 1:16 in the 100-yard butterfly breaststroke earned him second place honors while Archer's 1:12.1 in the 100-yard backstroke earned him a runner-up slot there.

Byron Williams, in the boys' 14-and-under, captured a second in the 75-yard individual medley in 53 seconds.

BIRTHS

Joyce Kubick Speaks Vows at Good Counsel

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee Kimbrough of 607 South Harvey street announce the birth of a son, Edwin Lee Jr. on August 2 in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor. Weight six pounds eight ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Luttermoser of 481 Sunset avenue are the proud parents of a daughter, Julie Kay born August 13 in Garden City hospital, weight seven-pounds eight ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ziel of Main street announce the birth of a son, Jeffrey Bryan in Ridgewood hospital, Ypsilanti, August 24, weight nine pounds 1-ounce.

A floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin was Joyce Lydia Kubick's selection for her marriage to Frank J. Kasper, Jr. of Dearborn on Saturday morning, August 18.

The rites were read at 10 o'clock in Our Lady of Good Counsel church by the bride's cousin, the Reverend John Blaska from St. Mary's of Redford.

The bridal gown was fashioned with 14 tiers of lace and ruffled net extending down the sides of the skirt which was panelled in front and back with lace. The chapel-length train was styled to form a butterfly pattern when arranged for the wedding reception. A net insert was placed between the pointed, lace collar and heart shaped bodice of the yellow dotted Swiss gowns with satin underskirts. Alfreda Wilks of Bellaire, maid of honor, carried a cascade bouquet of baby blue and white carnations. Bridesmaids were Patricia Kaszyk of Detroit, former classmate of the bride's at Madonna college, Arlene and Carol Kubick, sisters of the bride. They carried cascade bouquets of baby blue carnations.

Christine Maltby of Bellaire, flower girl, was dressed in a yellow and mint green frock of dotted Swiss. The bride's nephew, Kurt Richard Kubick, was ring-bearer for the ceremony.

Mrs. Kubick chose a navy blue chiffon dress with pink accessories and pink and white carnation corsage as her ensemble for the wedding rites. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue lace dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Best man for the ceremony was William Kasper, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Frank Scheuer, the bridegroom's cousin, Donald Moore and Robert Scheher, friends of the bridegroom.

"Ave Maria," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus" were sung by Phyllis Mitchell preceding the ceremony. White gladioli bouquets at each side of the railings formed the setting for the nuptial rites.

Immediately following the ceremony a breakfast was served members of the bridal party and approximately 60 guests at 12 o'clock in the VFW hall. The reception took place at 7 that evening in the VFW hall with 275 persons attending. Out-of-town guests came from Alpena, Detroit, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Flint, Dearborn, Redford, Ferndale, Livonia and Bellaire.

For going-away on a two weeks trip to Washington, D. C., New York City and Niagara Falls, the bride wore a light blue suit with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet.

The couple will reside in a home they have bought at 6817 Theisen, Dearborn.

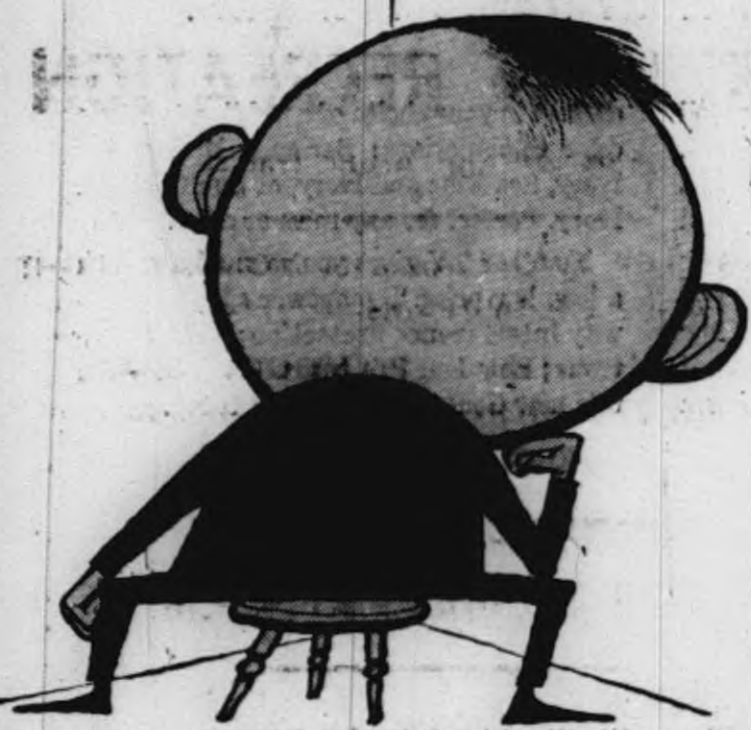

A graduate of Plymouth high school and Madonna college, the bride will teach at Allen school this fall. The bridegroom graduated from Fordson high school and is attending Henry Ford Community college.

Davis & Lent Sporting Goods Manager Returns

William Keefe, manager of Davis and Lent's sporting goods store in Wayne since last March, has returned to the local store where he will manage the sporting goods department. Keefe, who lives at 9423 Corrine, was manager here until March when he was transferred to the neighboring city.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kleinschmidt of Northville road were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Watson of Dunn Court.

SULKY?

Early symptoms are usually mild enough. Sad and sulky disposition, soon complicated by that "cornered" feeling. It's all caused by worry, about tight-rope walking from paycheck to paycheck, with no cushion to fall back on. Medicine can't cure it—but money can—in either a regular savings account that you can open at any of our 53 friendly offices, or with National Bank's new Savings Certificates that pay 2 1/2% interest. Regular saving is the perfect prescription for money worries. Try it. You'll be footloose and frenzy-free in no time.

how they should be assessed. Included in the northwest project are some 21 property owners, including Western Electric, the Cassidy farm and some lots along Farmer, Junction and Auburn. It will have an estimated cost of $74,646.

The southwest project will include Hough Park Subdivisions 1 and 2, part of Plymouth Subdivision and the proposed Park Lane Subdivision. Hough Park No. 1 already has a storm sewer but it is considered too small to adequately handle runoff water. This project will cost an estimated $125,000.

Clerk-Assessor Kenneth Way will present the assessment roll to the commission on Tuesday, September 4.

Oil, Gas Wells

an oil, a gas and a combination oil-gas well are on Detroit House of Correction land.

The LeMaster well is also a combination well, having produced some 102,651,700 cubic feet of gas along with the oil.

While it is impossible to determine the future of the field, there are a few oil firms still interested in the speculative business. Taggart is reported starting another well on Eight Mile road.

Closer to Plymouth on Five Mile road is another well being drilled for Pure Oil on Training School land. Echoing across the fields is the loud grinding of the engine turning the rotary drilling rig. But in place of the regular fuel, the engine uses natural gas produced by other wells in the Northville field.

"Right now we meter gas going into the engine," Manager Bill Whitfield of the local Consumers Power office said. "Soon we may be metering the gas coming out of the well."

Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Kirby of Penniman avenue have returned from a stay in Toledo, Ohio, with the Arthur Starks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brinks of Rochester spent Monday with Mrs. Alice Keeth of Jener Place.

The many neighbors and friends of Mrs. Harry Bucon of Clemons drive were saddened to hear of the sudden death of her father, a doctor, in Bombay, India.

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Pearl Kemnitz, September bride-elect was guest of honor on Tuesday, August 21, when Barbara Nelson, Mrs. Clarke Smith, Jr. and Jacqueline Langmaid entertained several of her former schoolmates at a miscellaneous shower in the Langmaid home on Koppernick road.

Miss Mary Lou Foote was honored last Saturday evening, August 25, at a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Jack Gage, Jr. in Garden City. Twenty-one guests were invited from Redford, Wyandotte, Livonia and Plymouth. Mary Lou will become the bride of Jim Gage on September 22.

Rod Willard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willard of Junction avenue left August 15 for San Diego, California, as a recruit with the United States Marine Corp.

Lutheran pastor, Reverend Edgar Hoencke and family recently returned from a vacation trip which took them to Quebec and Montreal, Canada and the New England states. Their daughter, Paula, who has been teaching at San Diego State college in California, also accompanied them. She will leave September 4 for Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where she will be supervising nurse with the City's Health Department.

Following a lengthy illness, Arthur J. Goodhue, 80, died August 23 at his residence at 278 Blunk street. The funeral was held Saturday, August 25, at the Schrader Funeral home with the Reverend Henry J. Walch officiating. Interment was at Oak Hill cemetery in Owosso.

Surviving are: one step son, R. Sanford Shattuck and one step daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Garrett, both of Plymouth; two nieces Mrs. Elizabeth Curry and Mrs. Jeanette Field, both of Lansing.

The late Mr. Goodhue was born January 21, 1876, in Bath, Michigan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore Goodhue. His wife Nelly preceded him in death.

He came to this community in 1954 from Florida where he had been residing for the previous 15 years. He was a retired federal post office employee in Lansing.

He was a life member of the Lansing Lodge No. 33 F. & A. M., a life member of capital chapter No. 9; member of Royal Arch Masons; and also a member of Lake Worth Consistory. A portion of the funeral included Masonic services under the auspices of Lansing Lodge No. 33.

Mrs. Caroline Evans Services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Caroline Evans, 84-year-old resident of 45560 Ann Arbor trail. Mrs. Evans succumbed yesterday, August 29, at her home after a lengthy illness.

OBITUARIES

John T. Eidson

A Plymouth resident for approximately 10 years, John T. Eidson of 1320 Ross succumbed Wednesday, August 22, in Atchinson Memorial hospital, Northville, at the age of 48.

Mr. Eidson had been employed at Wilson's Emporium at Maybury sanitarium, retiring about a year and a half ago because of ill health. He was a member of the First Methodist church here, Lodge 186, Free and Accepted Masons, Commandery No. 39, Knights Templar and Order of Eastern Star, Orient chapter No. 77, in Northville.

The deceased was born April 1, 1908 in Turner county, Georgia to Samuel and Donna Eidson. He is survived by his mother, now residing in Sycamore, Georgia; his wife, Arith; two sons, Arthur and Thomas; and the following sisters and brothers in Georgia: Mrs. R. E. Brown, Unadilla; Mrs. J. H. Denham, Sycamore; O. C. Eidson, Vidalia, S. R. Eidson, Sycamore; G. C. Eidson, Atlanta; and Drew Eidson, Decatur.

Services were held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Casterline Funeral home, Northville under the auspices of the Northville masonic lodge. Reverend M. I. Johnson of Plymouth officiated. The body was sent to Ashburn, Georgia where funeral services were held in the Prospect church Sunday afternoon followed by interment in the church cemetery.

She was born July 17, 1872 in London, England to John and Harriet Morgan White. The deceased came to this community from Canada in 1912. Surviving are her husband, Wesley Garfield Evans; three sisters, Mrs. Alice Evans of Plymouth, Mrs. Eunice Laurain of New Boston; Mrs. Amy Mayhew of England; and a brother, Reuben White of Inkster.

The Reverend David T. Davies will conduct funeral services. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

The last few weeks have been wild and woolly for the natives and visitors in San Francisco and Chicago. With the national conventions settling off their oratorical skyrockets, political interest is really coming to a boil all over the country (to mix metaphors a little). No matter whom you're for, an election always packs plenty of drama.

In spite of Harold Stassen's surprise move for Gov. Herter to take V.P. Nixon's place, the Republicans have had an easier decision than the Democrats. The Dems came up with more candidates than you can shake a ballot at. With Ringling Bros. and all the other tent shows folding, the political conventions are the last of the circuses left. But instead of a circus band, the background noises you hear will be presidential timber being cut down to kindling size.

Grange Gleanings

Vacation is coming to the end and on September 6, Thursday of next week, we will all be happy to be on our way to Grange again. Pot-luck—supper, you know, and "Booster night," so you may bring a friend with you. Perhaps you may know of some one who would like to become a member of our Grange, just needs a bit of inviting. Have you ever thought of how fortunate we are here in Plymouth to have this splendid group or lodge to attend, a fine group of honest, sober, high-minded citizens whose influence is for the best. It is a privilege to be one of its members.
 On August 16 the Grange held the last picnic of this season, in Riverside Park, and report has it that the mosquitoes had a wonderful time.
 Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn spent a few days up north at Indian River two weeks ago. They also checked up on the progress the Mackinac bridge is making.
 As our first meeting is Booster night and is an open meeting, there will be no formal business transacted. The Worthy Master is calling a special meeting on September 10. All members are invited to attend.
 On September 20 we are to have a very special and important meeting. Pittsfield degree team is coming over to confer the Third and Fourth degrees on all new members who have come into the Grange since March. All who have never seen the degree work are urged to be there because it is very lovely and interesting to watch. So be sure to be there—you will enjoy it.

 Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten and the boys spent several days at Brethren the home of Jesse's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer came home after a few days, the Trittens staying about 10 days.
 Blue Cross collections come in September, you know, so you may bring your payments to the September 20 meeting. Please pay by check if possible. Application cards will be available at that time too.

Local Witnesses Attend Jackson Bible Conference

Approximately 80 persons from the Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a three-day Bible meeting, August 31-September 2 in the Jackson county building, C. Harold Coorice, presiding minister of the local congregation, reported this week.
 Delegates from 18 congregations representing Michigan Circuit Number 8 will attend the event. Attendance is expected to exceed 1700.
 Purpose of the meeting will be to expand the denomination's ministry through emphasis on application of Bible knowledge gained at the 14,400 Lansing get-together in late July. Stressed there was attainment and proper evaluation of biblical truths.
 Talks, symposiums and animated demonstrations will highlight the meeting. A public showing of the motion picture, "Happiness in the New World Society" will be featured Saturday.
 A. E. Manera, Jr., district minister from Providence, R. I., will be principal speaker, climaxing the meeting Sunday with his lecture on "Consulting God on World Affairs." All sessions will be open to the public.

Cherry Hill Minister Accepts New Position

A 20-year pastorate at the Cherry Hill Methodist church was brought to a close Sunday for the Reverend George T. Nevin who leaves this week to take over the ministry of the Brighton and Novi Methodist congregations.
 The transfer, effective September 1, was brought about through the recent death of the Reverend John McLucas, pastor of the Brighton and Novi churches. Reverend Nevin came to the oultip of the Cherry Hill church in June 1936. The Nevins will make their home at the Methodist parsonage on Grand River in Brighton.
 Replacing Reverend Nevin at the Cherry Hill church is the Reverend S. Richards of Napoleon.

At The Church Keyboard

ORGANIST at the First Presbyterian church is Fred Nelson, 1168 Ross, who for nine years has been providing music for churchgoers here. Nelson, organist and director of music at the local church, is also a vocal music instructor at the high school. He has a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and a Master's degree in music from the University of Michigan.

Here's Way to Prolong Life Of Garden Posey Bouquets

To get the full beauty of cut blooms it is important to know the time and method of cutting summer flowers. Practically all flowers should be cut in early morning while wet with dew. At this time the petals and stems are filled with moisture—thus the flowers are at their maximum freshness. The length of time flowers keep their freshness depends largely on keeping their water absorbing capacity at its height.

When this capacity declines, the flower wilts. There are a number of tricks that will help in this respect. Cut flower stems tend to heal over and close the moisture tubes, so it's a good idea to shorten the stems a half inch every day. This doesn't apply to flowers like poinsettias and oriental poppies, whose stems should be searched or boiled for two minutes to keep in the juices. Strip the leaves from the part of the stem that is to be submerged for flowers like dahlias, zinnias, and marigolds. Crush the stems of chrysanthemums and break off the thorns on the lower part of rose stems to increase water absorption. The life of cut flowers can also be prolonged by changing the water and washing the vase each day, thus keeping down the growth of bacteria. When it's necessary to keep flowers out of water for some time after cutting, it is best to shorten the stems at once and place them in cold water up to their blooms for an hour or two. Never crowd the stems into a vase when arranging your flowers and don't place your bouquet of flowers near a heat outlet, or an oil or gas heater—since the fumes will put the flowers to sleep. Place your cut flowers in a cool damp place during the night.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

September 28 and 29 are the dates of our fall rummage sale. The hall will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. on these days. Chairman of the rummage sale will be Geraldine Olson. Please start collecting material for this event. Anyone unable to deliver and wishing a pickup on rummage goods, please contact Geraldine at 3279.

The Youth Activities committee, under the chairmanship of Beverly Brown, will sponsor a bake sale on September 15. You will be contacted by committee members before that date for your donation to the sale. Remember that September 1 is Veterans Day at the State Fair. Be sure to visit the booth sponsored by the Disabled Veterans at the Rehabilitation center. Now that vacations are over, we begin to think of meetings that we have been unable to attend, of Post dances, of Smorgasbord dinners, and of other activities that pertain to a good, active Post and Auxiliary. If you have news of any kind that you wish published, please contact your publicity chairman.

KELLOGG PARK, long-time landmark in Plymouth, is a gathering place for young and old alike. The youngsters romp and play. The older residents, two of whom are shown here, sit patiently and reminisce. At left is Jay Pinckney, 66, who talks with Art Ray, 61.

Century-Old Kellogg Park Scenic Plymouth Landmark

Standing as serenely today as it has for perhaps a century, Kellogg Park, located in the heart of Plymouth, is one of this community's most scenic landmarks. Its beautifully landscaped grounds and towering trees, plus several tributes to history, offer passers-by a pleasant moment of relaxation. The park also provides a central location for Memorial Day and Fourth of July celebrations.

Furthermore, Plymouth's oldest sits in the shade there during the summer and swap tales while the youngsters romp and play on soft grass.

The facts regarding Kellogg Park over the years have remained quite slim. Few folks care to take time to recall a park... rather they remember the big fire or the death of an elder citizen.

But, nevertheless, a bit of research on the part of The Mail turned up a few items that provide a bit of history for the attractive triangular park. Kellogg Park has been a part of Plymouth right from the beginning, apparently.

About 1830 the land belonged to John Kellogg, great grandfather of Walter Kellogg Sumner, 15070 Bradner road. Kellogg donated the land to the town, at the same time possibly designating its triangular shape.

The triangle idea was similar to the park in the little Massachusetts town where Kellogg had grown up. Kellogg, who was born in Westfield, Mass., in 1786 was one of the founders of Plymouth. He died in 1871 at the age of 85.

From the files of the Plymouth Historical Society, preserved at the Dunning Wayne county library here, came further remarks about the park. A typewritten history of the city by Mrs. Nettie

L. Dibble, compiled in 1930-31, provided reflections.

Mrs. Dibble was the wife of the early owner of a shoe store in Plymouth. She was active in many civic projects and well-known in the area. She died in 1944.

She wrote that before the "big fire" of 1856, there were no trees in the park. (Reasons for this are numerous but foremost would be the supposition that all trees had been cleared when Plymouth was being settled 30 years earlier.)

Mrs. Dibble explained that a large fence surrounded the park and within it circuses were held. She added that the fire of 1856, which destroyed $60,000 worth of buildings on Main street, caused a furor with circus animals that were being housed in the park at that time.

Circus workers, living in a hotel where the D and C dime store is now, hastened to move the animals from the park. Merchandise from the burning stores was moved to the park grounds.

Mrs. Dibble added that in 1858 trees were planted in the park. Hitching posts were prominently located along the edges of the park during the second half of the 19th century. Plymouth folks had to park their horses in those days.

Not until June 7, 1909, was the park officially named, at which time Kellogg's name was attached to it. Mrs. Dibble noted that Kellogg was an early settler of Plymouth who had at one time considered living in Detroit, but changed his mind when he decided "that city had no future."

In more recent years the city has further landscaped the park, adding shrubbery and more trees. Gravel walks extend out from the center in the manner of the hours of a clock.

(Next week The Mail will feature more on Kellogg Park, a landmark here for many years. Included will be items of interest regarding the cannon that stands there along with the other tributes erected over the years.)

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ramsey of Amherst Court had the pleasure of entertaining his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ramsey of Cincinnati, Ohio, all of last week. They came to attend the Toastmaster's convention held at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel in Detroit. On Thursday evening Don Ramsey had the honor of being elected on the board of directors. They returned to Cincinnati on Sunday.

On Sunday Mrs. Ethel Parmelee of Sheridan avenue had all the members of her family for a get-together. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Foley, of Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parmelee and daughters of Niles, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Felton and family of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Robinson and families of Detroit and Wilford Robinson, Sr., of Plymouth. Patricia Foley, who had spent the past six weeks with her grandmother returned Wednesday with her parents to Atlanta.

Judge and Mrs. Harry Dingeman and two sons, Tom and Dick, of Detroit were dinner guests Saturday evening in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Russell, on John Alden in Plymouth Colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Marlowe avenue were hosts at a family dinner Sunday when the engagement of their grandson, Arthur White, son of Mrs. Rose White of Detroit and Joan Slaherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Slaherty, also of Detroit, was announced. Their wedding will take place on November 3 in St. Mary's church in Redford. The other guests were Sergeant Gaylord White of the Army based at Tennessee, brother of the bridegroom-to-be, Mrs. C. Slaherty of Detroit, grandmother of the bride-to-be, Kirk Krefit, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strachan of Walled Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson and son, Jerry, of this city.

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Olaver returned home Friday from Wheeling, Illinois, where they had visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Showalter for a few days.

Jim Hill and Alton Smith of Adrian, former classmates of Gary Wilson of Dewey street were entertained at dinner, Sunday, in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson, coming as a surprise to Gary. On Tuesday Gary visited his friends in Adrian.

Mrs. Ann Sargent, of Boston, Massachusetts, Mrs. Laura McKinney, Mrs. Jean Hodge, Mrs. Betty Murray of Detroit and Mrs. Raymond Bachelor of this city were entertained at dinner Friday at the Hotel Mayflower when their hostess was Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Marlowe avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Ann street were in Ypsilanti Saturday afternoon, to attend the wedding of Barbara Kiessel, and Fred Rafferty of Cherry Hill road.

Mrs. Elmore Carney was hostess, Tuesday, to members of her contract bridge group at her summer home at Little Silver lake with the following ladies present: Mrs. Samuel Hudson, Mrs. Guy Higley, Mrs. O. H. Williams, Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mrs. Robert Harding, Mrs. S. Hubert and Mrs. Samuel Knapp.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst of Wing street were dinner hosts Saturday evening when they entertained at canasta for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. James Warren and son, Jimmy, returned to their home on Pacific avenue Saturday from a three week's vacation spent at a cottage on Lake Superior near Ashland, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Straub, sons, Phillip and Robert and daughter, Sandra, are spending the week at a cottage near Traverse City.

Mrs. William Shirey, daughter, Gay, and son, Robert, returned Sunday from the Sunday school conference held all last week at Alma College sponsored by the Michigan Presbyterian churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson entertained at dinner Saturday in their home on Dewey street for Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stagnoli and family of Adrian.

The many friends of Arthur Alford, principal of the junior High school of Plymouth, regret to learn of his illness having suffered a heart attack a week ago. He is a patient in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor. He is not allowed visitors.

CAPTAIN ROBERT LENG, skipper of the new Great Lakes superliner, Aquarama, was the supper guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ruland, 640 Parkview drive. The captain is Mrs. Ruland's uncle. The hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzner of Parkview were guests of Captain Leng for the Sunday evening cruise. The captain, who has been on the Great Lakes as skipper of some of the biggest ships, expects to retire after this season.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits.—Thomas A. Edison.

THIS QUARTET of "Guys and Dolls." Marlon Brando, Jean Simmons, Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine, will be seen at the Penn Theatre starting Sunday. The filmed version of the Broadway musical is based on Damon Runyon's fabulous characters.

SMALL children probably are not much interested in hearing about orange juice as a rich source of Vitamin C. They might be more interested if you tell them that oranges, like themselves, are highly susceptible to cold, being unable to withstand any but the lightest frosts. Orange trees are very prolific—or fruitful. A yield of from 3,000 to 4,000 oranges per tree each year is not unusual. Individual trees have been known to bear 10,000 oranges in a single season. The trees begin to bear fruit three years after planting, and may live 100 to 150 years.

The women who wear a Persian lamb coat, made from the fur of the karakul or Arabi sheep of Bokhara, may be somewhat unhappy to know, that for the furriers' purposes, the lambs must be killed when not older than 10 days. After that, the lustrous wool closely curled, opens up. The practice of using the skin of the unborn lamb, which necessitated killing both lamb and mother, no longer prevails.

Even the inveterate gambler doesn't know when the first deck of playing cards was manufactured. The origin of playing cards is cloaked in uncertainty, but some contend with the Chinese in the 12th Century. Odd facts: There are 52 weeks in the year as there are 52 cards in the deck. There are 13 cards in a suit as there are 13 lunar months in the year.

We have no idea where one can enjoy a vacation best but for all-around living we suggest Plymouth.

A man writes to ask who runs the average American home. Evidently, the gentleman has no teen-age children.

Why not make up your mind to do something every day to improve yourself? It will pay handsome dividends.

Over-cautious people are almost as worthless as those who are too careless.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

All license fees for Michigan's 1956 hunting seasons remain unchanged from last year. Proposed increases in fees would not effect licenses for the upcoming hunting seasons or the 1957 fishing seasons.

The state Conservation Commission voted at its June meeting to ask the legislature to boost license fees to meet rising costs of operation. If the legislature approves the proposed increases early in 1957, the new fees would be in effect on hunting licenses in fall, 1957 and on fishing licenses December 1, 1957 when the 1958 fishing permits go on sale.

Resident license fees for the upcoming hunting seasons are: small game, $2; deer and bear, $3.50; and camp permit for deer, $3.50. These fees apply to firearm or archery licenses. Nonresident hunting fees are: small game, $15; deer and bear (firearm), $35; and deer and bear (archery), $10.

Normal operations were resumed at Harrietta hatchery after damage from recent floods was repaired.

The hatchery, located in Wexford county, was hit by heavy rains during the August 4-5 weekend. The water caused erosion below a new dam, washed around the end of another dam, took out a foot bridge and flooded all hatchery ponds.

Construction workers completed repairs of the erosion damage this week. Flooding also occurred the same weekend at Bear Creek and Platte River rearing stations, with heavy fish losses expected.

Fish division workers will not be able to estimate the extent of fish losses at the flooded installations until inventories are taken this fall. At that time, the annual grading, sorting and counting of fish will be done.

Possibility of shifting forest fire activities of the Conservation Department to its forestry division will be studied by a special committee to be appointed soon by Department director Gerald E. Eddy.

The division of field administration, in which all law enforcement work of the Department is centered, is now responsible for the Department's fire control program.

The study will extend over a 60-day period, according to the director.

An after-dark swim on a hot night can be refreshing—and surprising—according to William Seppala of Covington.

Seppala, who owns a summer home at Three Lakes, recently decided to take a cooling dip in the lake about a half hour after dark. While in the water, he heard splashing in front of an adjoining cottage. Thinking it was his neighbor, Seppala shouted a friendly greeting and then gasped in surprise as a large bear charged out of the water, across the beach and into the woods.

The idea of a leisurely swim apparently had appealed to the bear also. Seppala reported the incident to conservation officer C. F. Delene.

Michigan's appeal to hunters certainly isn't limited to any special group. A spot check of license purchasers during the last year shows a wide range of ages.

Among resident hunters, the oldest small game hunter found was William Northgrame, 88, of Fennville. The youngest hunter found in this category was nine-year-old Edmund Phillipson of AuTrain.

Among archery deer hunters, 76-year-old Clyde Gibbs of Lake Odessa was the oldest to show up in the spot check. The youngest bow and arrow hunter found was Gary Nokarado, 6, of Trout Lake.

Game workers at Cusino wildlife experiment station in the upper peninsula have live-trapped and tagged 11 bears so far this summer.

Under the bear research program at Cusino, 30 traps are placed at various points to catch the bears for tagging, study and release by game biologists. One of this year's trapped bears had been trapped and tagged in the past.

Last year, 31 bears were taken in this manner at Cusino. Once the bruin has been trapped, game workers quickly apply an anesthetic so the bear can be handled safely. The bear is then weighed and tagged and his statistics are recorded.

Hugh Black, who is working on his Ph. D. in game management at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., recently visited at Cusino to study methods of live-trapping bears. He is conducting a similar project in the Appalachian Mountains of New York.

A report on a banded evening grosbeak reveals an interesting record of travel for the bird, recovered early this year near Sanford.

The bird apparently was injured and was recovered March 2. The band on his leg was turned over to conservation officer Carl Hermann of Midland.

The band was then sent to the federal Fish and Wildlife Service research refuge at Laurel, Maryland, for identification. The report from the refuge shows the bird was banded January 12.

Burt Boyar IN NEW YORK

OFF THE RECORD: Mrs. FDR flew here from Chicago to see her chiropractor and then dashed out again feelin' much better than when she left.

Paddy Chayefsky, who writes about poor folk like "Marty," lives it up here in a $40 a day hotel suite, limousine, etc., etc. Sid Caesar got mad at his psychiatrist. The mind sweeper joshed him with "Aww, y're nuts!"

Paul Douglas will rehearse "Born Yesterday" for three weeks, do it once on TV and make more money than he earned playing it half a year on Broadway (where it made him a star). Agnes Moorehead and singer Frank Parker are listed in Who's New.

Bob Hope read our column in TV Guide (next one is in the September 1-7 issue) and wired congrats. So did a dozen others like Gleason, Fabray, Sinatra, DiMaggio, etc., etc., to whom we give thanxxxxxxx.

BEAU BROADWAY: The ticket brokers (the best judges in the biz) figure the three top musicals of this season will be Judy Holiday's "The Bell's Are Ringing," Roz Russell's "Auntie Mame" and Ethel Merman's "Happy Hunting." They're gobbling up seats of tickets.

The Four Lads are currently playing the Copa. Personally, we can take 'em or leave 'em, with a slight tendency toward the latter. Milton Berle will get paid a mere $70,000 for the month he plays Miami's Eden Roc hotel. (January) Poor Budd Schulberg. He authored on "The Waterfront." The picture's made a fortune. Everyone's collected their dough except him. Every cent is tied up by a lawsuit for $2,000,000 brought against him by a New Jersey-ite who claims it's his life story. Schulberg can't touch a dime of it till the case is settled.

FRANKIE BOY: The town's been pretty dead this summer. Only shock treatment we've had is Frank Sinatra's personal appearance at the Paramount Theater with his picture "Johnny Concho."

Sinatra's a strange one. The first day he was so thrilled over the fabulous business he did that he could hardly talk about it. The next day he was bored to death. Lots of celebs showed up to needle him. Jackie Gleason broke up one performance by suddenly racing down the aisle clad in western boots, ten-gallon hat and drawn pistols (loaded with blanks) with which he shot up Sinatra Johnny Concho style.

Jack E. Leonard was called onstage by Frank. Leonard looked around at the packed house, a tribute to Sinatra's return in glory, looked at Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey's band onstage and said, "Well, Frank, it's certainly good to see you working for your old boss again." Wonder if Frank remembers what he sobbed to a certain reporter a few years back: "I'll never play the Paramount again. Too tough a grind. They lock the door on you and shove the food under." That was after his last appearance when no one came to see him. He feels different, now.

TAXIGABBING: Sure wish Deborah Kerr would come back here and do another B'way show. Darryl Zanuck's quote: "Don't you believe those stories about me dropping a lot of gambling dough in Cannes. Actually I only lost about twelve million francs." Ed Murrow was so thrilled about doing the prologue for "Around World in 80 Days" that he did it for free.

Went to the world premiere of "War & Peace" starring Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer and Henry Fonda. Don't miss it if you have to walk a mile on a camel. Fonda is sensational, Hepburn's in a class by herself, Ferrer is excellent. The picture (it lasts three and a half hours) is one of the most exciting and beautiful we've ever seen. We're thrilled that someday we'll tell our grandchildren that we saw it first. And, that a big plug for us to give. As you know, we usually believe if you can't say something nice / don't say anything!

THE MYSTERY GUEST: The very famed Broadway character who is noted for appearing everywhere with one beautiful dish after another. Recently, he showed up around town with a stranger on his arm. The inhabitants of all the joints nudged one another and asked, "Who's the babe he's with?" No one recognized her, not even his best pals. It was his wife!!!

THE QUOTEBOOK: Marlene Dietrich in the current Look magazine: "The way men look at me reminds me of spectators at a tennis match, only with this difference: Instead of looking from right to left they look up and down."

PENNY ARCADE: If you order champagne in a Broadway dive make sure you see them open the bottle. Otherwise you're likely to get a few drops of dry vermouth in quinine water. DiMaggio's become a big disc fan. Bought a hi-fi set and about 100 albums right off the bat (if you'll pod'n the pun). With all the publicity Warner Bros. have been getting on the late James Dean (to plug his final picture "Giant") it's a shock they haven't announced that he'll be at the premier. Local show gals' new fad is sky blue hair. (fad heads!!!) Bette Davis is getting kinda plumpy and dumpy. Recently got a box of Atlatic City salt.

"Munch on water taffy from NBC with a caucular 'Atlantic this while watching our spectacular 'Atlantic the Solid Gold Cadillac'." "Tephouse of the Solid Gold Cadillac" is expected to be the Radio City Music Hall's Xmas feature. It's not definite yet. This fellow was stranded on a desert island for ten years. Finally a giant-sized Coke bottle got washed ashore. "Good hevvin's," he groaned, "I must've shrunk!"

Looking for a dessert or salad to serve when you're doing some large-scale entertaining?

Mrs. W. A. Palmer, Jr. of Beck road, wife of the Spring Street Baptist church pastor, comes up this week with a recipe to fill the bill. It's "24 Hour Salad," which because of its richness doubles equally well as a delicious dessert. Hostesses will welcome its beforehand preparation, leaving them free to attend to last-minute details before guests arrive. The recipe was given Mrs. Palmer by a friend in east Tennessee.

- Here's the way it goes:
- 24 Hour Salad
 - 1 pint whipping cream
 - 1 large size can sliced pineapple (cut into small pieces)
 - 3/4 lb. marshmallows (cut into small pieces)
 - 1/4 lb. almonds or pecans (chopped)

- Dressing
- 4 egg yolks
 - 5 tablespoons flour
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/4 cups pineapple juice
 - 1 teaspoon vinegar
 - juice of one lemon

Method:
Beat egg yolks, add pineapple juice and flour, cook until very thick. Cool slightly, add butter, lemon juice, vinegar and salt. Beat until free from lumps. Add to pineapple, nuts and marshmallows. Mix thoroughly, then fold in whipped cream and let stand for 24 hours in refrigerator. Serves 16.

Lavishness Keynotes Autumn Look "Ahead"

Topping the season's look of grandeur, is a flurry of feathers, furs and furry felts! Yes, lavishness keynotes the look "ahead" with elegant handlings of ostrich plumes, mink, white ermine and beavers, too!

Felts make a bright showing in high luster and polish—and fabrics come to the fore in shiny, velvety and textured surfaces.

Drape and shape are the important keywords in the millinery story—as hats stand out in larger forms to spell a "hat bountiful" look.

Height is expressed in new towering crowns, in upturned brims, in high-rising turbans and overgrown dome-shapes.

The turban and the toque tower overhead echoing the Orient and gaining inspiration from Egyptian princesses. The new cloche styles are deep-set and bloused, reminiscent of the Empire dandy days.

Berets are tilted, bloused, draped and "terraced."

Bonnets set way back—with ripple and cup-brims—smartened with ostrich curls, side-mounted trims and other adornment to point up the profile look.

Look for Mouse—silky and long-haired—that'll star everywhere in bloused-crown rollers, the dome cloche, tambours and deep toques.

Trims for the new lavish stylings range from simple ribbons, to jeweled bands and ornaments, to braids, flowers, bows, feather fancies and beads.

Felts, velours, velvets and furs will add that finished look to twined ensembles. Feathers will go with everything, silk and wool jerseys will lend drama to the slim silhouettes of the season. Nylon net and delicately patterned veiling will be draped and manipulated to give smart excitement to every feminine styling.

All sorts of velvets, satins, chiffons, used alone or together, are also pointed up with a new fashion flair in exciting color treatments.

And, my fair lady will welcome the return of the "dinner hat"—especially the wide, wide velvet hat literally dripping with plumes—to cast soft shadows for elegant moments.

Color-wise, millinery favors the romance shades of rich greens, winey reds, vibrant blues, beguiling mauves, and a wide range of subtle tints from champagne to dulcet gold—as well as blacks, blacks with white, lustrous blacks with colors.

A bloused beret of gleaming capucine napped felt, tilted far to one side is accented with a glittering "aurora borealis" cluster pin, creating dramatic interest to any costume.

Evening drama in a striking wide, wide brimmed design of black velvet, bedecked with luxurious black ostrich. A wonderful foil for white shoulders and equally striking jewels.

Here's Nine Ways to Serve Frankfurters

Frankfurters can be a part of menus all the way from the lunch and dinner table to the picnic basket. To further reveal the versatility of frankfurters, there are nine serving suggestions given by home economists.

(1) Slit franks lengthwise almost, but not quite through. Fill with thin strips of American cheese, wrap with bacon and broil.

(2) Cut franks in slices and heat in bacon drippings. Add to favorite hot potato salad mixture.

(3) Alternate layers of frankfurter slices with tomato-seasoned cooked spaghetti in casserole. Sprinkle top with grated cheddar cheese and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

(4) Stuff tomato cases with franks. Brown slices, then mix with tomato pulp, whole kernel corn, bread crumbs, chopped onion. Season. Fill tomato cups with mixture. Place tomatoes in greased baking dish. Pour 1/4 cup water around tomatoes and bake at 350° F. for 30-40 minutes.

(5) Prepare your favorite barbecue sauce. Add franks and simmer for 10 minutes. Serve on rolls topped with sauce.

(6) Season baked beans with Worcestershire sauce, prepared mustard, catchup and brown sugar. Place in casserole, top with frankfurters and bake in moderate oven 20-25 minutes.

(7) Follow directions on packaged roll mix and let rise. Roll to 1/4-inch and cut into 12 squares. Place frankfurter diagonally on each square. Overlap corners. Let dough double in size and bake in hot oven, 450° F. for 15 minutes.

(8) Cut franks lengthwise and grill, spread with prepared mustard. Serve in rolls topped with crisp cabbage salad.

(9) Chill frank slices in French dressing, then toss with raw vegetable for a main dish salad.

In the romantic mood, a high-crowned white velour bonnet is wreathed with snowy white fox fur. A huge jewel is pinned just above one curving edge of the brim. A white fox muff is added.

The beginner's tendency in cooking chicken outdoors is to try to cook it too quickly and with a fire much too hot. This results in the skin becoming blistered, hard and leathery, while the meat next to the bone is often undercooked. Michigan State University poultry specialists remind that chicken must be cooked slowly and thoroughly.

Serve Cinnamon Crunches, Kiddies Favorite Snack Treat

Children will clean their plates and call for more when you serve their favorite foods. Remember, children like food that is fun to eat and cookies are always a favorite.

Summer, winter, spring or fall, home economists recommend Cinnamon Crunches. The children ask for them and for the head chef in the family... well, they're easy to make. Made with lard, they have a delicious, crunchiness texture.

Cinnamon Crunches
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/3 cup lard
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, separated
2 tablespoons milk
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, salt and cinnamon. Cream lard; add sugar gradually and cream well. Blend in egg yolk, milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients gradually and mix well. Spread mixture in ungreased 7 x 11-inch pan. Beat egg white slightly and spread over surface of dough. Combine sugar, cinnamon and nuts. Sprinkle evenly over the Charcoal is used as an outdoor cooking fuel because it gives off little or no smoke and does not discolor the food. Either lump or briquette charcoal takes a considerable time to ignite. So many beginners, not realizing how hot their fires will become, continue to add more charcoal before the first lot has really started to function. The result is a fire which is too hot and burned food.

Clothes Close-ups

Fashion Dictates
Buttons

FUNCTIONAL BUTTONS
are used as a form of closure. They are simple in shape and design and usually are very serviceable. Many functional buttons are subjected to tests in order to determine their serviceability and durability.

DECORATIVE BUTTONS
are made for fashion appeal. Some do carry approvals, such as replacement or refunds of money, by commercial testing laboratories.

Consider these buying tips...
Is the dyestuff or surface applied colors colorfast to drycleaning, wetcleaning, laundering & light?
Will the button itself or the finish applied to the surface dissolve in drycleaning solvent?
Will the button crack, peel, or craze in wear?
Will the button warp out of shape, blister or melt with heat?
Will the paper filler stain the fabric of which the button is made?
With wear, will the button become whiter, darker, cloudy or even rust?
Will the irregular shape or surface cause abrasion to the fabric of the garment?
And what about the shank? Some break very easily.

School Lunches Can Provide Foods Vital to Good Nutrition

Many youngsters today—eat a lot—but aren't necessarily "well fed!"

Signs of good nutrition are bright eyes, good color, alertness and firm strong muscles. A child's diet may be poor—too much ice cream and not enough vegetables, for example.

So whether your child comes home for lunch—or carries it—a good well-balanced meal is important. Especially important too, is a good, balanced stick-to-the-ribs breakfast to start the day.

For breakfast—try this treat:

COCOANUT MAPLE PANCAKES

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg well beaten
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tabsp. maple-flavored syrup
1 cup milk
1/2 cup flaked cocoanut

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt; sift again. Combine syrup, egg, milk; add gradually to flour; beating until smooth. Add shortening and cocoanut. Bake on hot, greased griddle. Makes 10 large pancakes. Serve with syrup.

If your youngster takes lunch to school, it's wise to keep a supply of packaged soup mixes on hand. It's a wonderful trick for augmenting the usual sandwich lunch.

FOR THE LUNCHBOX

Thermos of beef-vegetable soup with bite size noodles... (prepared in a jiffy from the familiar little package of soup mix.) A hamburger roll sandwich with sliced hardboiled eggs and lettuce.

A whole tomato
Carrots and Radishes
Cookies Apple Chocolate milk

For an energy-packed treat, serve the youngsters cocoa and cookies. And be sure to tuck some of these into school-going lunch kits.

CHOCOLATE PINWHEELS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
2/3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg unbeaten
1 square unsweetened chocolate melted

Sift flour, measure; add baking powder, and salt; sift again. cream til light and fluffy; add milk and eggs; beat well. Add flour a little at a time, mixing well; divide dough into two parts.

To one part add chocolate and blend. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll each half on floured waxed paper into 1/8" thick rectangle. Turn plain sheet over chocolate; remove waxed paper; Roll as for jelly roll. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in 1/4 inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degree F.) 10 minutes or until done. Makes about 5 dozen pinwheels.

A delicious anytime treat for the teen set is zesty pizza—a delicious one-dish meal that can be fixed in a half-hour thanks to a popular ready-mix and its easy-to-follow directions.

After preparing dough-mix for the crust—spread the prepared pizza sauce over the dough—then top with cheeses, or meat or mushrooms or combine the three for an extra taste thrill.

Eye Check-Up - Top Student Prerequisite

A wise student or conscientious parent will have young eyes checked regularly by professional optical people—doctors, opticians, optometrists—before school starts and during the school term. He should also tell his oculist about studying conditions that may be unfavorable to the eyes and get the proper advice from him.

The eyes are the most powerful yet most fragile human organ, but most people too often neglect them. Before they realize it their eyes are weakened permanently and they're stuck with thick glasses.

Check the glare of the light under which your child studies at home, and you will have taken the first step toward guarding the future strength and health of his eyes.

FLOWER FANCIES—Bright white petals with raised centers in yellow adorn the edges of this yellow organdy vanity set. Each crocheted narcissus blossom is attached to the fabric with green stems. The pretty centerpiece measures 11 1/2 x 17 inches; its companion pieces are 10 inches square. Full instructions for making this NARCISSUS VANITY SET, Leaflet No. EI-290 may be obtained from the Needlework Department of this paper. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

A certain Moscow citizen stood in so well with the party that he was granted a permit which, among other things, allowed him to buy a railroad ticket without having to stand in line for it. One day he went to the railroad station and presented his precious permit.

"Get in that line over there," he was told.

"But," protested the privileged citizen, "this permit allows me to buy a ticket without standing in line!"

"I know that comrade," rejoined the station agent, "and that is the line for people who don't have to stand in line to buy tickets."

Secretary Hart Warns Of Fake Furnacemen

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, Hart said that the racket is most active during the summer and early fall, when furnaces are not in use. Quoting from the bulletin, he stated:

"In a typical version of the racket, the unscrupulous repairmen will ring the homeowner's doorbell—frequently during the daytime when the man of the house is away—and state that 'he just happens to be in the neighborhood' and has just completed some other furnace repair work nearby. He states that, while he and his associates are in the area, they are willing to undertake a complete inspection of the homeowner's furnace, with absolutely no obligation of any sort to the homeowner."

"Once the repairman secures access to the basement, Hart explained, he dismantles the entire furnace, and then states that it is in extremely dangerous condition and is unrepairable. By the use of such 'scare' tactics, the gyps frequently succeed in getting the homeowner to sign a contract for an entire new heating plant.

"In some instances gyp furnace repairmen may pose as 'official inspectors' or representatives of governmental or civic groups, in order to secure access to the homeowner's furnace for the purpose of dismantling it. In other instances, the gyps will take the furnace apart for the purpose of 'cleaning' it, and will then call in a fake 'heating engineer,' who is in reality a party to the hoax, to look over a defect they have allegedly discovered. This fake engineer will give his opinion that the furnace is dangerous and unrepairable. Pointing out that most homeowners are not qualified to diagnose accurately the problems that may arise in connection with their heating equipment, Hart cited the following rules as guides to the homeowners in taking proper care of heating equipment and avoiding the small minority of gyp artists in the field:

- (1) Establish contact with a dealer in whose reliability and integrity you have complete confidence. If in doubt, a check should be made with the Chamber of Commerce.
 - (2) Have your furnace serviced regularly by a serviceman of known reliability. Have your servicing done when the furnace is not needed so as to avoid hasty decisions later on when you cannot get along without your furnace.
 - (3) Request the credentials of anyone who represents himself as a "furnace inspector." Governmental and civic authorities will carry complete identification.

Color Stylist Follows Own Advice

How does a professional color consultant and interior decorator go about "doing" her own house? "In exactly the same way I advise other people," says consultant Beatrice West. "When I got my new house, I decorated it from the roof down and from the outside in."

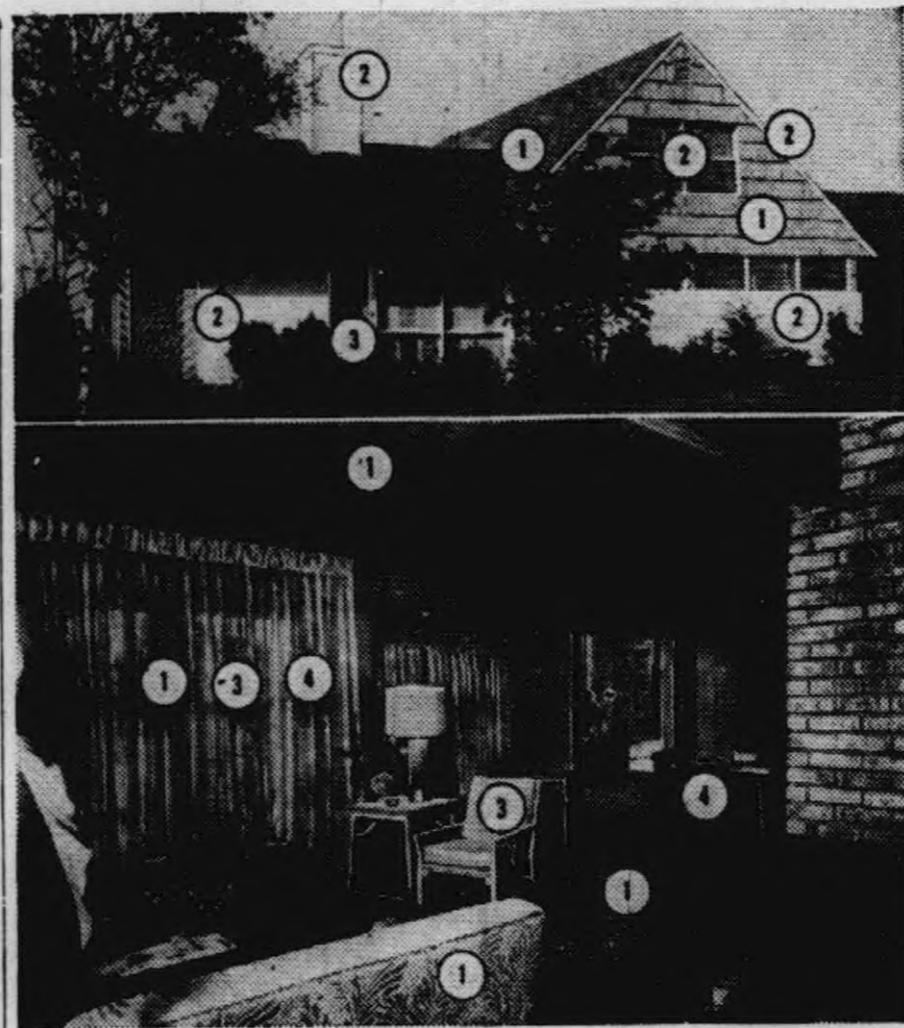

"As in many new houses, my draperies, inside walls, some lamps and furniture are quite visible from outside, so their colors should harmonize with the exterior colors. Large window areas and open floor planning call for color harmony between outside and inside, and between one room and another."

For her home in Roslyn, N. Y., on Long Island's fashionable north shore, Miss West selected a roof of asphalt shingles in a subdued gray blend. The large roof area, easily visible from the ground, sets the key for the entire color plan, both exterior and interior.

Miss West chose asphalt shingles, because that material, she says, offers the color stylist an exceptionally wide variety of colors to work with.

The siding shingles are in a lighter gray, giving the exterior harmony without monotony. Still lighter grays were selected for the living-room walls, ceiling, wall-to-wall carpet, sofa and Oriental draperies.

White was used on the brick siding of the one-story house. The frame and sash of the windows are also painted white, as is the trim along the eaves. As on all homes color-styled by Miss West, the door is painted a vivid "accent" color, to give the color scheme a striking focal point. In this case the accent color is Ming yellow, which is repeated in a living-room chair and in some of the floral patterns on the draperies.

Here's how an expert does it for herself. Color consultant Beatrice West's own home illustrates her decorating principles. Her four main colors are numbered in both pictures: gray (1), white (2), yellow (3), and coral (4). The gray blend asphalt shingle roof is the color key, harmoniously carried out in lighter gray siding shingles, living-room walls, ceiling, carpet, and draperies. White is used on brick siding and chimney, eaves trim, and window trim. Ming yellow appears outside on the door, and inside on the draperies and one chair. The Chinese coral of the dining chairs is repeated in the draperies.

Operation Home Improvement Boosts Kitchen Modernization

Wood kitchen cabinets work like a magic wand in transforming old, outdated kitchens into sparkling new ones, according to home remodeling experts, who are predicting a big step-up in kitchen modernizing this year due to the interest in the nationwide "Operation Home Improvement" campaign.

Two essential qualities of factory-made wood cabinets—variety and workability—make wood ideal for remodeled kitchens, the experts say.

They point out that modernizing an older kitchen is far different from installing a kitchen in a new home. In a new home, the kitchen is architecturally integrated into the over-all plan. The plumbing and wiring are situated in the right places, and the kitchen cabinets and appliances are prescribed by the architects to fit into precisely-measured areas.

Wood Solves Problems

In an old home, there are space and installation problems that a remodeler might encounter. The kitchen may be too small, calling for inclusion of a pantry or adjoining room into the kitchen scheme. There may be a recess in the wall or a jog for a chimney. The doors and windows may be badly-situated, or there may be too many of them, dating from the days before modern wall cabinets and base units necessitated ample wall space. In most cases, the plumbing or wiring cannot be relocated because of the expense, so the new kitchen plan must begin with the existing facilities.

The remodeler's first tool in attacking the problems on a given job is the variety of factory-produced wood cabinets. There are dozens of cabinet styles manufactured today, each available in a choice of sizes. Some of the cabinets serve special needs as in the case of a broom closet or mixer cabinet, while others, appearing like standard base units, actually have "engineered insides" for added special storage, such as for utensils, linens, staples, vegetables, and so on.

The variety of cabinets solves most space and storage problems, but when problems still remain, the workability of wood becomes the remodeler's other major aid.

SELF-LIQUIDATING LUXURY

Replacement of a worn or inadequate refrigerator may pay bigger cash dividends than any other home improvement project, states the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. The modern gas refrigerator, with its abundant supply of ice cubes and other luxury features, is a real money-saver, too. It not only prevents wasteful food spoilage, but adds the economies possible with the purchase of larger quantities or bigger-size containers.

Most ambitious boy in school is the one who plans to get rich by writing poetry.

If a foot or so of space must be filled, a filler unit can always be made to fit exactly, possibly having vertical racks for storing trays. If the old wall is irregular, wood cabinets can always be installed on furring-strips.

Fits All Oven Sizes

Another good example of wood's workability is in the case of wall ovens. With more than 40 different types of wall ovens on the market, the majority of problems are solved in the wood kitchen factory by production of a number of "common denominator" sizes into which the ovens fit. But, for the rare case that is not covered, the fact that wood can be shaped on the job for an accurate fit saves the day.

Another strong advantage of wood in remodeled kitchens is the warmth and beauty of the natural grain. This is especially important because of the modern trends of centering more family attention on the kitchen and developing an "open plan" arrangement by building a pass-through to an adjoining dining room or actually removing a section of wall. When the kitchen is visible from other areas of the home, the furniture-like appearance of wood cabinets rates even higher.

Bright Colors Used in Steel Furniture

Introduction of a wide selection of bright, modern colors in the upholstery materials is one of the reasons for the growing popularity of modern steel furniture, designers believe.

Today's metal furniture is highlighted by such upholstery hues as burgundy, navy blue, salmon rose, chartreuse, bottle green, maroon, western brown, and a host of other shades to blend with any room decor. The upholstery material should be selected to fit the use the chairs and settees are likely to receive.

A luxurious appearance can be achieved by using a material such as royalpoint cloth fabric, a boucle frieze weave of mohair and rayon.

Long-wearing super-tuftex supported vinyl plastic or top grain genuine leather can be utilized for areas receiving hard daily use. Any of these upholstery materials blends beautifully with the new square tubular steel design popular in modern steel furniture, with the metal frame finished either in a pastel shade of plastic enamel or in soft-lustrous satin chrome.

Steel Kitchen Handy Addition To "Rec" Room

In homes equipped with a large recreation room in the basement or a considerable distance from the kitchen, some owners have installed a second steel kitchen in the "rec" room.

A small steel sink cabinet combination, apartment size range and refrigerator, and a few steel cabinets provide a comparatively inexpensive kitchen handy for preparing snacks or even complete dinners.

A steel base cabinet between range and sink provides sufficient work surface for such a second kitchen and combined with a few steel wall cabinets gives plenty of room for storing utensils, glasses, and dishes for the recreation room arrangement. And even in a basement, where dampness may be greater than in the rest of the house, the steel cabinets will not warp, crack, or lose their original sturdiness and operating efficiency.

Local Patrolman Taking MSU Traffic Course

Officer Gail Stanbury of the Plymouth police department will be among the Michigan policemen enrolled next month in a one-week police traffic course at Michigan State university.

Stanbury and 21 other patrolmen will be attending the school under a $75 scholarship made available by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The one-week course will be held September 10-14 at Kellogg Center on the campus. It is limited to 20 members. It is aimed to provide police officials the opportunity to have their officers receive training in traffic police operations. This is the first time that a Plymouth patrolman has taken the course.

American Legion News

Barney Kot, Bill Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Koi made the first of a series of visits planned for the year to the Veterans hospital in Ann Arbor. Commander Koi and Service Officer Kot made extensive inquiries and plans in setting up the program of visiting patients.

Officer Kot points out that most organizations present programs of a pre-arranged nature in auditoriums which only ambulatory patients may participate in and enjoy. The program of the local organization is to visit with bed patients unable to take advantage of these auditorium programs.

It is the hope of the officers that this will become a weekly affair. Homemade cookies made by the ladies of the Auxiliary proved to be one of the biggest hits of the evening.

The post held its regular monthly executive board meeting at the Veterans Memorial home last night. Programs for the coming year were discussed. The next regular monthly meeting will be Wednesday, September 5, at the Veterans Memorial home.

The members who made the trip to the VA Hospital Thursday were all agreed that it should be more often than once a month. Several members are planning to go this evening and others wishing to do so can meet them at the Memorial home at 7:30 p.m. Bring homemade cookies—the boys like them.

ASSISTING TEACHERS with supplementary classroom collections is part of Plymouth library's annual "back to school" preparations. At left, Miss Carolyn Smart of Lutheran Day School glances over the recommendations of Mrs. James Richards, new children's librarian. Added to the Lutheran teaching staff this fall, Miss Smart will teach kindergarten, first and second grades.

"Back to School" Preparations In Full Swing at Library

Plymouth branch of Wayne County library is readying its 17,000 book collection, numerous magazines and pamphlets for the onslaught of business that comes with the start of each new school year.

Besides John Q. Public, its most regular customer, public and parochial schools, teachers and general student population will be making extensive use of the library's services come the first week in September.

In preparation for this brisk business, books are being sorted for re-arranging and repair at the binderies, bindery returns and vacation loan books recorded and returned to their home location, and material sorted for school loans and supplementary classroom collections.

In connection with the latter, librarians will pay visits to public elementary and parochial schools to determine reading needs. Not a few of the teachers will stop by to have special collections drawn up for fall and winter classroom projects.

During these reciprocal stops, arrangements will be made for grade school teachers to bring classes to the library, where after a general tour of the building and book collection a story hour or film program will be presented. Librarians will also be ordering special films for individual groups, such as home economics classes, and for individual classroom projects.

Reference books, catalogue system and arrangement of the library collection will be shown to junior high school groups as an aid to their studies. The new bilingual record albums of Spanish, French, German and Italian will see much use by students and general public alike.

Community-wise, librarians are setting up a fall activities schedule. Already signed up for a Great Books course starting October 1 are 40 adults with more to come. Resuming in October will be the story hour for children which has just completed a successful summer run. Librarians throughout the year will serve as counselors to Girl and Boy Scouts, passing them on merit badges in book binding, reading and international relations.

Predicted is a busy season ahead for the Plymouth library, a consistent topper in book circulation among Wayne County library's 27 branches. The local staff is headed by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, who is assisted by Mrs. James Richards, children's librarian, Mrs. Wallace Osgood and Mrs. Warren Worth.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Most medicines for use in illnesses are currently being prepared in a special form for children. Most of these are pleasant to take. A problem may arise when parents unconsciously act as though the taking of medicine were an ordeal which has to be endured by the child.

These pleasant tasting medicines must be locked away well out of reach of the child who has likely decided after the second dose that it is a form of candy. A child is much more apt to raid the medicine chest today than ten years ago. However, the results can be just as dreadful.

The fact that the family medicine chest is out of reach of the children is not enough. There should be a lock on all the children's medicine in a home. A small inexpensive cash box and lock from the dime store will do nicely.

Store it well out of sight and reach of the children. Not quite all medicines can be made completely palatable. The taste may be disguised and the potency of the medicine unaffected by mixing a small amount of jelly or jam with the bad tasting medicine.

Another good trick is to allow the child to suck on a piece of ice for a few minutes before taking an unpleasant medicine. This may numb the tongue so that it is less noticeable.

It is best not to use fruit juice that is important in the diet to help hide the flavor of medicines. It is possible to turn a child against a necessary food this way. Always tell a child that he is taking medicine. Talk to him about it, explaining that it is necessary to make him feel good again.

To Represent District At Legion Convention

Three members of the 17th District association of the American Legion will attend their national organization's convention in Los Angeles, California, Monday through Thursday of next week.

They are Adah Langmaid and Hubert Morgan of the local post and auxiliary, and Milton Reading of Rosedale Park. Mrs. Langmaid is immediate past president of the 17th district auxiliary. Morgan, former resident, is already in California, having moved there with his family last month.

Highlights of the four-day convention will be the national parade on Monday, the traditional States dinner at which Legion national and state officers will be guests of the auxiliary, national music contests in which state championship choruses, quartettes and trios of the auxiliary will compete for national honors. National officers for the coming year will be elected at the closing session, September 6.

WIN $250.00 CASH AT THE END OF THE CONTEST, WITH THE MOST RIGHT ANSWERS

This aerial photo is the eighteenth in a series taken of various farms within a ten mile radius of Plymouth for the BEGLINGER OLDSMOBILE-CADILLAC Agency, Inc.

The identity of the farms in this aerial-photo series is completely unknown to anyone, including ourselves . . . so it's up to you, the readers of this paper, to identify the "Mystery Farm."

A series of 52 farm photographs will appear in The Plymouth Mail during the ensuing 52 weeks. The FIRST person to correctly identify the "Mystery Farm" each week, and sign the register at Beglinger's, will receive $10 CASH, plus points toward the Grand Prize at the end of the contest.

First 20 persons to correctly identify the mystery farm each week will receive an appropriate number of points toward the grand prize at the conclusion of the contest.

Highest total accumulated points for the 52 weeks of the contest will decide the winner of the GRAND PRIZE regardless of how many times the final grand prize winner may have placed first during the contest.

Everyone 18 years of age, or older, is eligible to win, except Beglinger Oldsmobile and Plymouth Mail employees and their families.

EDITORIAL

More About Our 'Moral Climate'

Maybe it's because its an election year and the politicians are digging into bags of tricks, and again maybe it's just that our people happen to be thinking about such things at this time.

It's impossible to overstress the importance of the problem. In this community, in this state and in this nation there is a discouraging faith today in a philosophy of expediency.

That thinking was seen recently in a "compromise" civil rights plank at a national convention. Hardly anybody in the auditorium had any personal respect for the finished statement, but it was adopted out of "expediency" and a lot of politicians thought the tactics were rather cute.

It was seen in a local government where builders are denied a refund ordered given them by the courts; the refund being withheld by the authorities as leverage on the builders to make them repair any complaints that may be forthcoming from the home purchasers.

We've seen it in a group of clergymen, where a couple of men acted without the authority of their body, without a meeting or any kind of parliamentary procedure, to take action they thought desirable against an individual.

The subject comes up regularly in our colleges, where athletes are paid or rewarded in unpermissible ways.

In each such case, the actions are well-intentioned, but in each, one kind of rule or another has to be by-passed by the individuals to do the job.

An editorial that mildly deplored what the income tax is doing to American scruples was printed in these columns recently. It evoked an unusual amount of reader response, confirming the notion that this one law is bothering the conscience of a lot of citizens.

He points out that many men, who are otherwise honest and ethical in their business dealings, experience a progressive moral deterioration when they face up to the problem of determining what deductions to take from their tax, and Hawley adds:

"As almost invariably happens when you have a bad law, there is an almost inescapable tendency to look upon it as a challenge to ingenuity, a game to be played, a game to be won by cleverness and guile. In that circumstance, the very unfairness of the law becomes an accepted moral justification to break it, evade it, or avoid it.

"If I may presume to speak for thousands of old-fashioned Americans, we would like some leadership in a movement to start something doing about it. We would like to restore personal integrity to this nation we love. We would like to return to the guidance of ethics and morality that has always been, and always must be the cornerstone of a workable American Democracy . . ."

Today we don't mean to harp on the income tax subject again, but it is mentioned because that law alone may explain a great deal of the current disrespect for moral rules. Income tax is one thing that affects every adult in the nation in a common way.

America was founded and settled by men and women whose entire motives were those of moral principle. The Declaration of Independence is a statement of moral rights, as the writers conceived them to be. Throughout our history, our nation has pledged itself in moments of stress to be fighting for the moral aspects of Christianity.

Always we have professed to be totally opposed to cynical philosophies from abroad that placed the end above the means.

Our national strength in every hard test is said to have been victorious because we, rather than opponent, had moral right on our side.

That kind of strength comes from people who believe in something, make laws, and who live by the laws in daily deeds, large and small. But when a majority of individuals compromises with beliefs, then a nation is compromising with them. Then it becomes international, and all diplomacy becomes cynical hypocrisy. And once the rules are in disrepute, government easily falls into the hands of dictators, all of whom think they are benevolent and can do a better job outside the moral laws than within them.

The process starts at the bottom, with the common citizens of this community, and of the community next door.

State Toll Roads' Future Dim

A LONG BATTLE seemed nearly over when the Michigan Turnpike Authority conceded at its August meeting that it has no buyers for revenue bonds and that there is little likelihood for state toll roads in the near future.

The Authority announced decisions to cut its staff to a skeleton crew, and adjourned without fixing a date for another session. These moves greatly reduced the group's ability to continue its fight for "pay as you drive" roads.

A climax came to the conflict between the Authority and its opponents, which include State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. The decision also ends a policy fight that cut across party lines.

The argument between the two groups started with the organization of the Authority on a bi-partisan basis in 1953. Ziegler and his supporters claimed that the State Highway Department could build the same roads as the Turnpike Authority with existing funds.

Charges of obstruction were leveled at Ziegler in return by the Authority. They contended that the major block in issuing revenue bonds was Ziegler's refusal to cancel plans for highways parallel to proposed toll roads.

No bonding firm was willing to risk the needed capital against revenue bond security when it feared that a free road might be constructed along the same general route as a toll highway, even though the roads were many miles apart.

Meanwhile, it could be many years before the Highway Department would have enough funds to complete such a task, they contended.

New state and federal highway programs boosted Ziegler's arguments recently.

"The biggest factor in the decline of the Turnpike Authority's power is the great increase in money available for regular highway construction," says Gerald Graves, executive director of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

Prior to 1951 the largest amount available for highways never exceeded $28 million in any year. In 1955, Michigan increased gasoline taxes to finance specific routes, giving priority to the interstate system. The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 greatly increased federal aid to states for interstate trunkline construction.

"With these two programs Michigan will have more than $304 million available during the calendar years 1956-7 for highways. We anticipate that funds from federal sources alone will be $1 1/4 billion for the next 13 years," Graves states.

Under these circumstances it is extremely unlikely that any bonding company will ever provide capital secured only by the anticipated revenue that a toll road will collect," he concludes.

What is the purpose of maintaining the Authority and its reduced staff?

"We will be here on a stand-by basis until the highways on the Highway Department's program are either built or we see they cannot be built," Authority Chairman George N. Higgins says.

A NEW STATE PARK is in the making at Laughing Whitefish Falls, located in Alger County in the Upper Peninsula.

O. S. Mansell, president of Celotex Corporation, which recently acquired 240,000 acres for lumbering purposes says he will recommend to the company's directors that the falls and 100 surrounding acres be given to Michigan.

Governor Williams first broached the idea of ownership for the falls a few weeks ago. After meeting with Mansell, Williams praised the company's generous attitude. "It is evident that Michigan has acquired a good and useful citizen," Williams says.

Eventually the state hopes to acquire 800 acres for park and recreational purposes. Negotiations are underway for a possible swap of 700 additional acres around the falls for 700 acres of state owned land adjoining Celotex property.

MODERN ISAAC WALTONS know the important of their bait when going after the "big one." It seems that minnows are becoming scarce in Michigan, and the Conservation officials aren't sure of the cause.

Dr. Ralph Hile, biologist of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, says that the shortage could be due to one of several of three factors: a poor hatch of minnow eggs, unusual weather conditions, or a long-term downward trend in minnow population.

A gradual depletion of minnow population by fishermen could be the cause, says Dr. Gerald P. Cooper, director of the fisheries institute of the Department of Conservation. All admit there are not many records on minnow habits to indicate a trend, and too little is known about the little fish.

A "minnow-reciprocity" bill, allowing an exchange of minnows between Michigan and Ohio was considered as a partial solution. However it was discarded when officials in the Department of Conservation expressed their disapproval.

Such a step would open the uncontrolled introduction of carp, suckers and other rough fish into inland lakes.

Meanwhile, the "minnow mystery" continues to plague most bait dealers as they scramble to supply the demands of their customers.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

What sort of effect does the change of "back-to-school," which occurs at this time every year, have on you?

MRS. DONALD BARRES, 36663 Richland, Livonia: "I'm glad to see school start again. They're getting restless. They're constantly getting into things and striving to find something new to do. I have one boy."

SHIRLEY PLANT, Ann Arbor: "It has a big effect on me as a school teacher. It makes me want to do bigger and better things."

Mrs. Barres Miss Plant Bonnie Fritz

BONNIE GIBSON, 1022 Penniman: "It means there's more things to do. It's just a lot of fun, 'cause you can get back with your friends. I'm in the sixth grade. Summer vacations are fun for a little while."

KENNETH FRITZ, Redford township: "It doesn't affect me too much. I'm the father of a little girl not old enough to go to school yet. But we have to handle our daughter differently, because she can't go outside as much during the school year because of the colder weather."

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. J. A. Riles, Kirbyville, Texas: I remember 60 years ago when pine wood was cut 4 feet long, in ricks 4 feet high and 8 feet long and stacked along the log track to fire the engine that went out into the piney woods to haul logs to the saw mill.

I also remember when we went to the company store with a stone jug to get syrup and they filled the jug from a large wooden barrel with a bung in the side. We took an empty bucket with us, as the syrup would run over when it got warm and it was necessary to pour part of it in the bucket to avoid wasting it.

We never saw any ice in the summer, yet we all grew up strong and healthy.

From William R. Smith, Sidney, Ohio: About 67 years ago I began going to school in Breathitt County, Ky. The best I remember, our teacher was Dan Cardwell, the schoolhouse was made of logs and the cracks were dobbed with clay. The seats were made of logs split in two and the flat side was hewn down with a broad ax. They put legs on them, but they didn't have any backs, and one would get pretty tired sitting there until noon or recess.

Advice to Motorists: Drive carefully, and then remember to watch out for the other driver, who may not be careful.

Business will improve when the public applauds a man for not making profits his sole aim in all transactions.

Life should not be all work. Everybody is entitled to recreation and amusement, whether everybody gets it or not.

Most of the worries that afflict our minds never exist outside of our heads.

TELL US YOUR PROBLEM. AND LET US PASS IT ON TO HELP OTHERS IN SOLVING THEIRS. BY JOHN AND JANE STRICKLAND.

It may hardly seem possible, but America's richest men have their petty problems, too. Problems that can't be solved with money. One of the problems of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. concerned his children and the publicity showered on them because their grandfather created a fortune and their own father added to it.

As Mr. Rockefeller stepped out of a limousine one day with two of his young sons, newsmen flocked around him. "Will you give us a picture of you holding each little fellow by the hand," asked a photographer.

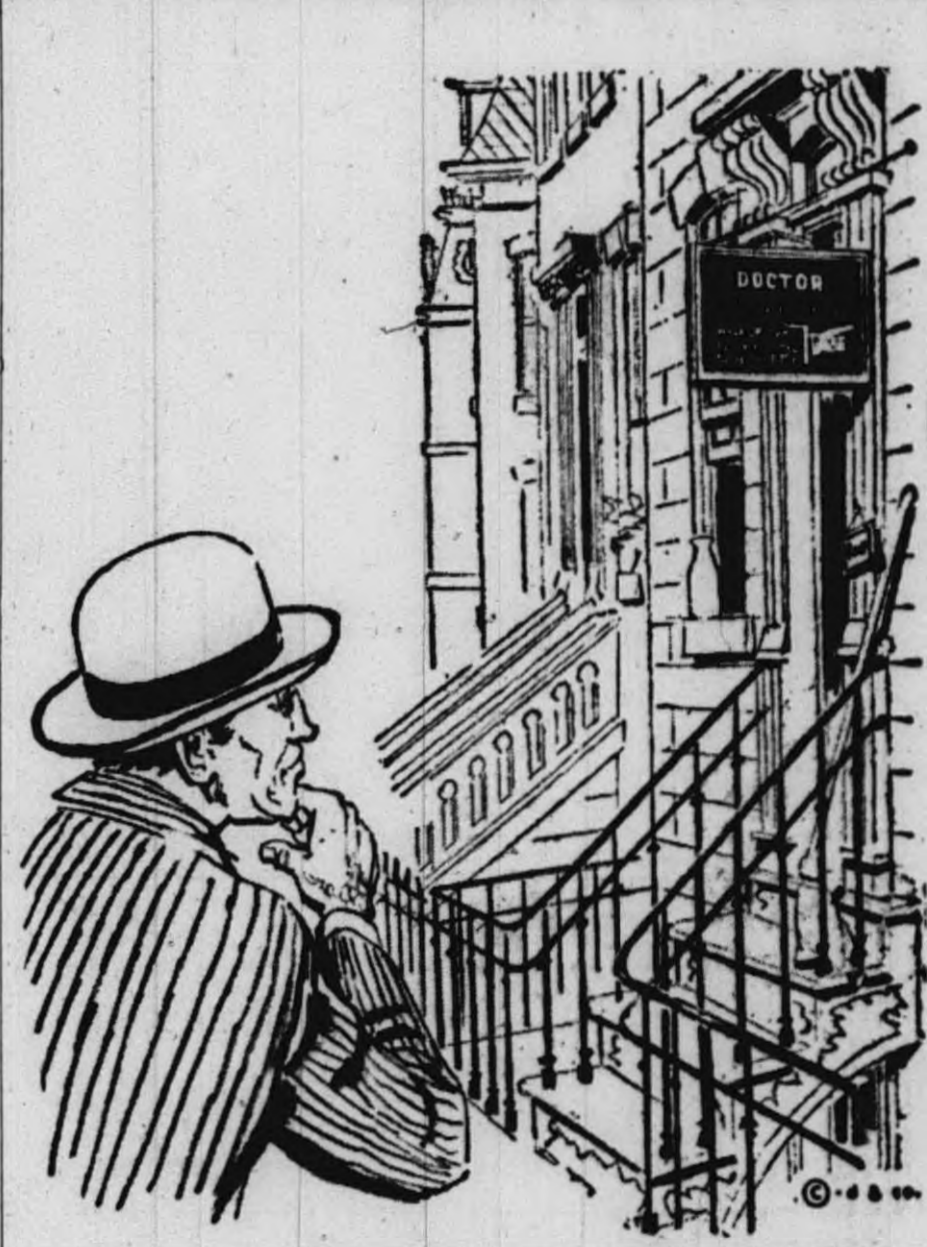

That was exactly what Mr. Rockefeller did not want to do. But those men were in a position to get pictures whether he liked it or not. He had great experience in handling problems and now he applied a bit of what he had learned.

"Boys," he said, "I'd rather not. Publicity is bad for children. Some of you have children of your own and you understand how it is. Would you mind just not taking any pictures of the children?"

Not a shutter clicked; not a word was spoken. With a smile and a friendly wave of the hand, Mr. Rockefeller disappeared into his own door and the men sauntered on.

Mr. Rockefeller had solved his problem not with bribes or commands or threats, but with fourteen little words that placed the men in his own category.

Years ago, American cities had many signs reading: "Dr. Blank - walk up two flights and save money". Why is it that these "doctors" are a rarity today? The answer is that we, as a nation, are more intelligent - too intelligent to hire cut-rate medical men. We know we are safe only with the ethical medical practitioners.

Similarly, when you buy insurance, make sure that it is prescribed on a PROFESSIONAL LEVEL by a qualified, independent insurance agent.
